Removal of Court House Phones Ordered

The Commissioners Court devoted its Monday, October 8, meeting to the passage of economy measures and discussion of others.

An order was passed by the court that all telephones in the court house that are paid for by the county be removed, with the exception of the telephone in the sheriff's office, Judge R. L. Templeton said.

Offices affected by this measure include the county judge, county clerk, district clerk, justice of the peace, county attorney, county agent and the extension into the office of the county home demonstration agent, and the welfare department.

Judge Templeton estimated that telephone service to these offices has been costing around $100 per month.

There are six other telephones in the court house that are not paid for by the county, Judge Templeton pointed out. These are in the county library, the office of the county superintendent, Veterans vocational school, ASC, Soil Conservation Service, and Farmers Home Administration.

Another order was passed that federal agencies with offices in the court house be asked to pay an amount each month adequate to cover the cost of their utilities and janitor service. This was set at $25 for the veterans vocational school; and $50 for the ASC; SCS; and FHA.

The court discussed two other economy measures but did not take action on either, Judge Templeton said. The first was relative to putting county officers back on a fee basis. They have been on a straight salary since 1948.

Also discussed was the elimination of certain county offices, including the county agent, county home demonstration agent, county service officer and the secretary to the county judge.

After discussion, the court agreed to wait until after the general election to appoint a county attorney, the county judge reported.

I am a widow and my only means of support is by working. I respectfully solicit the support and vote of the people of Collingsworth County for the office of County Clerk. I am confident that I can handle the duties of this office in a courteous and efficient manner, and it will be my purpose to do the work promptly and faithfully as it should be done.

Your support will be deeply and sincerely appreciated.

Rotary Sponsored Project

UNICEF Trick or Treat Hallowe'en Planned for Wellington Youngsters

Ghosts that walk in Wellington Hallowe'en will ask tricks or treet —but thy will not be asking for themselves. They'll seek pennies and nickles to go into a fund to help ill and hungry children throughout the world.

The Wellington Rotary Club is sponsoring this move, known nationally as the UNICEF Trick or Treet Hallowe'en.

An organization meeting has been called by Rotary for Thursday, October 11, at 3:30 p. m., according to Dr. Chas. B. Jones, to set up plans and explain how these children throughout the world can be helped to a healthier and happier future through the work of UNICEF.

UNICEF, the United Nations Children's Fund, is an international co-operative effort dedicated to the welfare of children everywhere who would otherwise be deprived of the privileges which most American children take for granted, it was explained.

Bennett Goodloe, superintendent of the Wellington schools, is general chairman of the UNICEF Trick or Treat Hallowe'en; Doyle McElroy is educational chairman; Dr. Jones publicity chairman; O.C. McMinn, collection chairman; M. L. Burks party chairman.

On Hallowe'en night, approximately 100 elementary and junior high children will travel over town asking for tricks or treats in the form of small coins to be turned over to UNICEF. Each child will wear an identifying badge and head band, but he may wear any kind of Hallowe'en costume he wishes.

These children will forego the usual treats, but they will be guests at a party at the community building later in the evening.

The organization meeting Thursday, to which any person interested is invited, will describe the work of UNICEF on behalf of the 600,000,000 of the world's less fortunate children who still need milk, food and medical care.

Of almost equal importance, it will describe how Wellington townspeople can help their children share their Hallowe'en tricks or treats with others, and have a fun-packed Hallowe'en at the same time.

"This is where our people can help. Even if you are not a member of Rotary, come anyway," Dr. Jones declared. "Wellington residents who would like to know how simple it can be to re-direct juvenile energies away from traditional pranks of Hallowe'en in order to treat 'all the world's children' to a holiday from hunger and disease are welcome, too."

A year ago deposits were $4,840,512, or $229,447 less than the current figure. Demand deopsits this year are $4,045,985.

Farmers May File Social Security Each January

Farmers are no longer required to file Social Security returns on a quarterly basis, according to Mr. J. Z. Pearce, Administrative Officer of the Amarillo, Texas office. During 1955 farmers were required to file a quarterly Social Security return with the District Director of Internal Revenue. Due to a change in procedure, farmers now file one return in January covering all taxable wages paid to farm employees during the preceding calendar year.

A farmer must file a Social Security return during the year when he quits farming before the end of the year and has paid taxable wages during the year.

Dollars for Democrats Drive Opens Saturday

The kick-off meeting in the Dollars for Democrats drive will be held Saturday night, October 13, in the county court room, beginning at 8 p. m., L. B. Bratten, county Democratic Executive Chairman, has announced.

The County Executive Committee will head the drive in the various precincts, Bratten said.

"Our goal is $1 from each Democrat who voted in the primary elections," the chairman declared.

To make this easy, two kegs will be set up on the square on Saturday October 13 and 20, where contributions may be made. Iindividual canvassing is also planned.

"Everyone is welcome to the kick-off meeting who is interested in helping us," Bratten said.

The chairman also cited the contributions of this county to the auction sale at the Sudan Festival recently, totaling $527.05.

A bale of cotton, provided by a group headed by Ed Crowder of Dodson was bought by F.O. Masten of Wellington and Sudan at 50c per pound. A case of eggs contributed by Superior Egg Company brought $25 and a pig donated by Zook Thomas $14. A number of smaller items contributed locally were auctioned.

Since then, a group from north of Salt Fork River, headed by W. R. Breeding, has provided sorghum almum seed which will be sold and the money go to the Dollar for Democrats fund, Bratten said.

Frank Hajek, 66, Dies Sunday In Amarillo Hospital

Frank Hajek, 66, owner of the City Shoe Shop and a Wellington resident 32 years, died in an Amarillo Hospital Sunday, October 7, about 11 p. m. He had been in failing health for several months.

Funeral service were held at Our Lady of Mercy Catholic Church Wednesday, at 10 a. m., with the Rev. Charles A. Knapp officiating. Rosary services were recited at Kelso Funeral Chapel Tuesday evening.

Pall bearers were Clark Anderson, Ernest Lewis, John Forbis, John Justice, Joe Thompson, and Bill Miller.

Burial was in the North Wellington cemetery under the direction of Kelso Funeral Home.

A quiet man who was wholly devoted to the United States, his adopted country, he seldom spoke of his life before he came from Czechoslavakia 42 years ago, and only those who were close to him knew of his life of more than usual interest.

He was born in Hovezesyn, Moravia, then a state belonging to Austria, on October 4, 1890. He grew up in that quiet farming town, attended school there, and learned the skilled trade of a shoe maker. He completed three years compulsory military training in the highly disciplined Austrian Army just before World War I.

In the spring of 1914, there was a general feeling that war was coming and Mr. Hajek determined to come to the United States. Men of miiltary age were not supposed to leave the country, and he was able to enter Germany only by telling border authorities that he was going to visit a friend. "I had nothing with me, but I kept going," he once said.

He reached the United States June 15, 1914, six weeks before war was declared.

Unable to speak a word of English and not knowing a single person, he went to work in the shipyards in Galveston. When war came he had not been here long enough to join the labor unions as was required.

He contacted a man from his own country who lived at Harrold and came there. His first job was picking cotton, which he had never seen growing before.

He joined the 36th division in Wichita Falls and returned to Europe for service both before and after the Armistice.

Mr. Hajek continued living in the Wichita Falls area and he and Mrs. Hajek were married there June 17, 1925. Later they lived at Walters before moving to Wellington.

He established the City Shoe Shop, where through the years he used the skill learned in his native land to serve the people of this area. He added a men's shoe department, which he had continued to operate.

A man with a keen sense of civic responsibility, he entered into various phases of the town's life during his more active years. He was a member of the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars, and he was a charter member of the Wellington Rotary Club.

He was a member of Our Lady of Mercy Catholic Church.

Mr. Hajek is survived by his wife and three sons, Charles Hajek of Midland; Bill Hajek of Memphis; and Edward Hajek of Harlingen. There is one granddaughter, Theresa Hajek of Memphis.

October 15 Soil Bank Deadline

October 15 is the deadline for farmers to sign up under the conservation reserve program of the 1956 Soil Bank Plan, Millard Brown, ASC secretary, has reminded farmers.

This is the long range program.

Mr. Brown said that farmers with grain sorghum which they do not intend to harvest, and which have not been cut or grazed, may put this in the 1956 program.

Under this program, a farmer will draw $10 per acre, plus 80 per cent of the cost of establishing the cover crop, which must be planted to conform to the program.

Mr. Brown said Wednesday morning he had received no official notice of the extension of this date.

George Henry, captain, and Durant McInnis, James Sullivan, Sandy Parsons Jr., Charles Allen and Herbert Bearden.

Fred Squyres, captain, and I.G. Vaden, M. L. Burks, John Coleman, R. L. Templeton, Douglas Bevers, H. L. Duncan Rufus Sweat and John Ben Castleberry.

These workers, with Deskins Wells, editor of The Wellington Leader as a guest, attended the breakfast Tuesday morning.

"Scouting is playing an increasingly important role in our community," Mr. Thomas said.

"It is the best possible way to develop leadership ability and personal growth in our boys between the ages of eight and eighteen."

"Our 1957 budget will support the present Scouting program and provide for the enrollment of additional boys. The more boys we have in Scouting the better it will be for the boys and for the community."

Scouting. Mr. Thomas pointed out, offer a boy the opportunity for fellowship, personal progress, adventure and a chance to serve others.

"We are confident that this fund campaign will be successful," Mr. Thomas said, "because Scouting deserves the wholehearted support of every civic-minded person."

High Court Reverses Telephone Decision

An opinion on the temporary injunction asked by the General Telephone Company against the City of Wellington has been handed down by the Texas Supreme Court, in which it reversed the action of the district court and the court of criminal appeals and ordered the temporary injunction granted, Paul Spillman, city attorney, has been notified.

This is in regard to the telephone rate increase asked by General Telephone Company and opposed by the city.

Spillman said Wednesday he is preparing a motion for rehearing, asking the Supreme Court to set aside this action and affirm the action of the trial court and the court of civil appeals.

Hiram Cudd Re-Elected Chief

Fire Department Names Officers for 1956-57

Members of the Wellington Fire Department held their annual election of officers Monday evening, October 8 and re-elected Hiram Cudd their chief for the coming one-year term.

Lawrence Warrick was re-elected first assistant chief.

Other officers are V. H. Breedlove, second assistant; Wayne Cudd president; J. H. Williams, secretary; Howard Fike, hose captain No. 1; and Jimmy Thompson, hose captain No. 2.

The Rev. John R. Ferguson, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene is chaplain and Dr. Carter Holcomb is department doctor. Ted Bailey was chosen mascot.

This annual election falls in Fire Prevention week, and as one of the department activities, Chief Cudd was guest speaker at the Rotary Club Tuesday at noon.

Cudd cited national statistics regarding fire losses, then pointed out that while cigarettes are regarded as the most deadly from the standpoint of causes of fires, this is true only because there are so many of them. Fires caused by electricity rank second.

In the election meeting, firemen also reviewed their record for the past year and found that approximately 55 per cent of the calls answered by the department were outside the city limits, Cudd said. This percentage has been about th same for the past two or three years, he added.

Mrs. Cathy Irwen Dies Recently Of Accident Injuries

Mrs. George Boyd Irwen, 23, died September 24 in an Amarillo hospital from injuries received in a head-on auto crash near Dalhart August 6. Her husband and 17-months-old daughter, Jo Ann were killed in the accident, as were two young men riding in the car that crashed into their car in the Irwen's traffic lane.

The Irwen family had lived near Dalhart for about ten years, and Mrs. George Boyd Irwen is the former Catherine Kirklin of Samnorwood.

Funeral services were held at the First Baptist Church in Dalhart, with the Rev. W. R. Lawrence officiating, and burial was beside her husband and baby in Memorial Park, Dalhart.

Mrs. Irwen's condition had been critical since the time of the accident, in which she received a brain injury, a broken arm and leg. She had undergone brain surgery three times, and her condition was thought to be improving when she took a turn for the worse.

Mrs. Billie Catherine Annie Irwen, best known to her friends as Cathy, was born at Texico, N. M., October 24, 1932, and was reared in the Samnorwood area, graduating from high school in 1951. Something New in Tactics

Rockets Play McLean There Friday Night

Wellington Skyrockets will meet the Class A McLean Tigers at McLean Friday night, October 12, and on Tiger field, they'll meet something new in football tactics, Coach John Hurley reports.

The Tigers have a good Class A ball club, run from the single wing and TCU spread formations.

"That last one has us worried," Coach Hurley declared. "It's unusual and our kids haven't seen it before this year, and to adapt our defense to that kind of offense in one week is pretty hard to do. It's completely different from anything we've seen this year."

Hurley described it as "deceptive".

"They have a pretty well rounded, well balanced club, and they are the type of ball club that is dangerous to our situation," he continued.

The Tigers record to date includes a 25-6 win over Shamrock, and losses to Wheeler 32 to 7; to Panhandle 20-0; Stinnett 53-14 and White Deer, 25 to 18.

The Rockets still have a few injuries, but Don Hood, out last week, is all right again and will play in the McLean game, Hurley said.

Game time is 8 p. m.

Complete Land Purchase For Housing Units

Purchase of land for Wellington's housing project has been completed and the former owners have been paid, N. M. Higdon, Housing Authority chairman, has announced.

Five thousand dollars was paid for the five parcels owned by Homer McGarry, O. K. Loving, the Lone Pilgrim Primitive Baptist Church, Jack Gibson and B. F. Evans.

Included in the purchase were blocks 19 and 20 in the Rude addition, between 13th and 14th Streets west of Haskell, and lots 7 to 12 in Block 3, where the colored housing unit will be built.

The next step will be the approval of preliminary plans, Higdon said. Plans were presented the Housing Authority on August 6, and are now in Washington for approval.

He estimated the date for construction to begin as January 1, 1957.

Crackers-B Team Play Irish Here

The Firecrackers and Skyrocket B football teams will play the Shamrock teams in a double header at Powell Field Thursday night October 11, in what coaches expect to be the best game of the year for the younger teams.

The Skyrocket band, under the direction of Doyle McElroy, will play between the halves of the junior high game.

This is a non-conference game for the Firecrackers. An earlier game with the Shamrock team was a conference game, which the Crackers lost 21 to 0. The "B" teams do not play a conference schedule.

Ike Can't Make It Rain, But He's Still Best Man

The other day I asked a farmer if it was dry out his way. He said it sure was. "Looks like we just can't get any rain," he said. "Why, when Noah had his 40-day flood, we didn't get over half an inch."

There's no mistake about it, Texas is having itself a real drouth. Some of the farmers and ranchers in our county are in such bad shape that they may vote for Stevenson.

Old Man Jones, from across the river, said he wasn't going to go to any such extreme. He said he needed rain as bad as anybody else. He claimed water was so scarce in his community that the preacher was baptizing new members with a wet handkerchief. But he was holding out awhile longer, anyway.

"I may be stubborn," said Old Man Jones, "but I just ain't been convinced that President Eisenhower is keeping it from raining."

He said he knew that Stevenson and Kefauver acted like they thought so, and they had a right to their opinion. Lyndon Johnson, he figured, knew better, but he was sticking with Adlai and Estes for the sake of unity. He said he didn't figure Mr. Sam Rayburn had known whether it was raining or not for the last 25 years.

"I hate not to go along with such a widely known crowd of weather observers," Old Man Jones said. "If there's anybody who keeps up with which way the wind is blowing, generally speaking, it's Stevenson, Kefauver and Johnson."

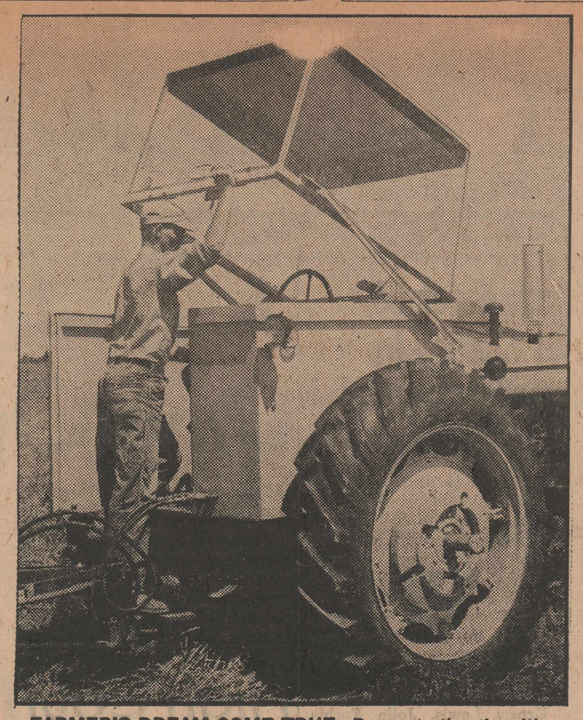

Then he went on to say that he realized the national farm program hadn't pleased everybody—including him. If he was in the White House, he would do things different, at least in our county. He allowed that the $61,000,000 spent by the Eisenhower administration for drought relief in Texas could have been doubled and still not made all the farmers happy and prosperous.

"But," said Old Man Jones, "I keep remembering that the main reason for our troubles, besides the drouth, is the fact that we are not at war. Now, if Adlai and Estes really want to jump on President Eisenhower, there is a real issue. They've sure got the goods on Ike in that respect. If he hadn't stopped that Korean War, farm prices would be higher, no doubt. I wonder why they never mention that."

Old Man Jones was kidding a little, of course, in his usual way, but I think he had something there. We have got to adjust to peace-time, which is taking awhile but President Eisenhower is working at it. And meanwhile our boys aren't fighting and dying on foreign soil. It's worth thinking about.

Yours truly,
Jex

WORKERS REJECT "PUBLIC" POWER

One of the objectives of the first Freedom Forum, conducted by the National Education Program at Harding College seven years ago, was to plan a program of ecenomic education for men and women in American industry — the hourly-wage people, the white collar workers and the executives. Reperesentatives of all were present at the Forum. Much economic education material was developed at the first Forum and much more has been developed in subsequent Forums. Among the most active companies in bringing the true facts about our American economic system to their employees has been the electric power industries. Fifteen major electric companies sent people to the first Forum.

Today the people in the electric power industries are notably well informed on the principles of the American economic system, the great comparative advantages which they bring about, and how those advantages are created and developed through the functioning of the system. A dramatic illustration of the value these people place on the basic principle of private owenship, which is the keystone of our American system, an advertisement which appeared recently in the New York TIMES.

PAID FOR BY WORKERS

The full-page ad was entitled: "Labor Fears Government Development of Niagra Power." It was paid for by the New York State Association of Electrical Workers, a union with 80,000 members; and the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, with 550,000 members throughout America. The ad took sides in the issue of who is to build and operate additional power facilities on the Niagara River — private enterprise, the New York State Government, or the Federal Government. The electrical workers said in effect: "We are afraid of government control of this power resource."

The 10 reasons why the union employees oppose "public" or Government development of the Niagara River power are worthy of careful attention by every citizen everywhere. Here they are, as they appeared in the advertisement:

THE 10 REASONS

1. The Niagara project does not involve any legitimate government function — only the generation of power.

2. Private utility companies are ready, willing and able to do the job.

3. If government is authorized to develop water for electric power as a natural resource, other natural resources will eventually be taken over by government.

4. Private power companies pay taxes; government projects do not. The taxes so evaded would have to be made up later by all taxpayers.

5. The rates charged by private companies are regulated by the New York State Public Service Commission: There is no regulation of political operation.

6. Fair and lasting labor agreements are almost impossible with government agencies; business-managed utilities are easier to do business with and the union wants to continue this way.

7. Private development of Niagara is supported overwhelmingly by the people of the area; only extremists who want to impose their philosophy on other favor public development.

8. Free enterprise in the power industry deserves to be protected on its record.

9. Government ownership of industry would bring labor under bureaucrats control and tend to make the American worker a servant to his government.

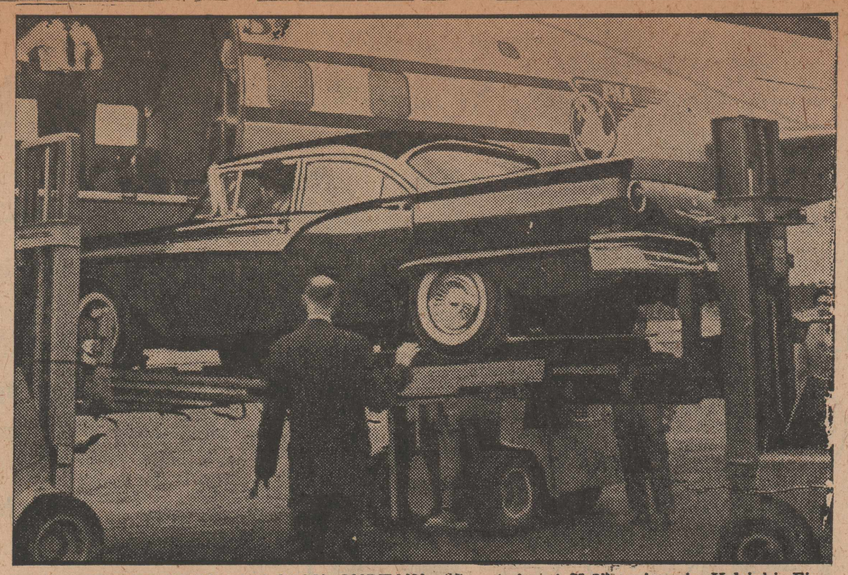

10. The New York State Federation of Labor, with 1,300,000 members, has endorsed private development of Niagara.

The electric workers who put up their own money thus to have their say, added these powerful words: "We like the free enterprise system that has made America great and labor the life of the American labor man the envy of the world. Our American system of getting things done makes sense—we want to retain it."

This wholesome attitude is born out of a clear, penetrating knowledge of the economic facts of life, and a common-sense appraisal of what's best for all Americans.

Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Barker and Sherry and Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Derryberry and Keith and Lynn, spent the week end in Dallas attending the State Fair of Texas.

Recent visitors in Wellington were Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Harris and son of Amarillo.

DRIVING THROUGH THE IRON CURTAIN—"Secret Agent V-8" arrives in Helsinki, Finland, ready to move on to Moscow. The "agent" is a 1957 Ford car. State Department officials, working with the Ford Motor Company, came up with the idea of unveiling the new model auto in Russia the same time American shoppers were seeing it in this country. The purpose is to show the economic goods available to the average worker in the United States.

YOU DRAW DIVIDENDS

from every business enterprise in the community where you live

If some good neighbor with a popcorn stand was giving you part of his profits every day...

. . . you would probably give him ALL of your popcorn business . . . you might even try to influence other neighbors to take up popcorn . . . and to buy it at home.

Actually, you DO share in the profits of EVERY business in your home community, because a BIG PART of the gross margin on every local business transaction goes toward the support of things that benefit YOU and everyone else who lives here.

Such as schools, churches, roads and streets, fire and police protection, jobs for more people so that we can keep among us MORE good teachers and preachers and doctors and other skilled folks. And so we can have more stores that are better stocked for our convenience and for our EMERGENCY needs.

Because we don't get these benefits in cash, we sometimes forget that ALL home business is really OUR BUSINESS. And some of us even forget . . . and trade somewhere else . . . when OUR OWN PAYCHECK depends on keeping this community prosperous.

Nell Trew Weds Marion Eugene Burrous In Home Ceremony Saturday Evening

Miss Nell Trew of Amarillo was married to Staff Sergeant Marion Eugene Burrous of Amarillo Air Force Base Saturday evening, October 5, in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Trew, 209 Ninth Street.

Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Burrous of Lufkin.

White gladiolas and carnations banked the mantel and on either side were arrangements of gladiolas and carnations in standards, entwined with greenery, and candelabra holding lighted blue tapers. Recorded organ music was played softly during the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a blue nylon lace dress over satin. The sleeveless fitted bodice had a low square neckline and over it she wore a matching bolero designed with short sleeves and a peter pan collar. The full circular skirt was waltz length. Her headpiece was of lace and satin, and she wore a corsage of white carnations.

Mrs. Dan Trew of Borger, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor. Her dress of blue velvet was made along lines like that of the bride, and her headpiece was of blue velvet. Her corsage was of white carnations.

Dan Trew of Borger, brother of the bride, was best man, while Phil Trew of Fort Worth, a cousin, was usher and lighted the candles.

An informal reception followed the ceremony. Mrs. Bill Tarter and Mrs. E. M. Trew, aunts of the bride, were in the house party.

As the couple left on a short wedding trip, the bride wore a black velvet dress with grograin trim and black and white accessories. Upon returning, the couple will be at home at 1216 West 10th Street, Amarillo.

Mrs. Burrous was reared at Wellington and graduated from high school here. She was graduated from St. Joseph's Hospital School of Nursing in Fort Worth, and after working at the Wichita Falls Clinic-Hospital, she continued her study at the University of Texas School of Medicine, Galveston, where she received a degree in nursing education. She is now a member of the teaching staff of Northwest Texas Hospital School of Nursing in Amarillo.

The groom was graduated from high school in Lufkin and attended business college. He entered the United States Army in 1940 and served through World War II, with three years in the European theatre. He then transferred to the Air Force, and is now stationed as an inspector at Amarillo Air Force Base.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Fike ore the parents of a daughter, Renda Leonna, born October 2 in St. Joseph's Hospital. Her weight was eight pounds and two ounces. They have one other daughter, Trina.

A son, Joe Neil, was born to Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Holliman in St. Joseph's Hospital September 28. He weighed seven pounds and seven oz.

Debra Kay is the name Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Kersten have chosen for their daughter, born at St. Joseph's Hospital September 29. Her weight was eight pounds, fourteen and three-fourths ounces.

Bible Comment:

Early Christians Set Example for Bickering Sects

EVEN in the realm of religion and the church, success brings its problems and difficulties.

As Christianity spread and grew, these problems were twofold. There was the problem of mingling races in a religion that, like its founder, was no respecter of persons. The Gospel had power to change the outlooks and lives of men, regardless of their color and their habitat.

And there was the additional problem of a religion that rose among one race, with its roots and foundations in one religion becoming worldwide in its scope and application.

One is impressed with the way in which these early Christians went about solving their problems. They faced the plain fact that where the Gospel was preached, Gentiles as well as Jews benefited from it.

Many converts had not been brought up in the Jewish way. They did not understand the significance or the need of rites to which the Jews had been accustomed. Jewish Christians continued to practice these rites along with what they deemed their newer and larger experience.

Should these practices be enjoined on the Gentile Christians? The wise leaders among the Jews said that they should not.

It was agreed that the Gentiles should practice the Christian way, that they should not give offense to their Jewish brethren by obtrusive disregard of Jewish customs. Neither, however, should the Gentiles be under obligation to adopt these customs except as their own consciences direct.

Would it not be well if all the problems of worldwide Christianity could be settled today upon so wise and practical a basis, and with such courtcous consideration for the ideas and rights of all?

FASHIONS WITH AN ORIENTAL TOUCH—Japanese-designed fashions have reached the United States. They were introduced by Max Hess, nationally noted Allentown, Pa., department store executive. Hess believes that Japanese fashions will make an impact on the world's haute couture in the near future, sharing the field with the Paris-Madrid-Florence - Rome - London circuit. Left, a design known as Tanabata Matburi, by Kazuko Koyoma, was inspired by a Japanese bridal gown. The coat in white brocade features a standaway collar and full kimono sleeves. The hat is a large pillbox type. Koyoma also designed the Awa Odori, right. A formal evening ensemble, it features a floor sweeping coat of white and gold brocade which can be transformed, through hidden hooks, into a tight wrap-around coat for an off-the-shoulder effect.

Dressing Dolls Is Creative

BY EDNA MILES

IN recent years, American women have been lectured endlessly about the fact that they're not "creative" as their grandmothers were. "Creative" here means that they no longer bake their own bread, churn their own butter or weave their own cloth. Electrical appliances have freed them from much of this drudgery.

And that, actually, is what it was. New England cemeteries are full of women who were "creative" as all get out until the age of thirty-five and just as dead as doornails thereafter.

What's happening is this: with their new leisure, American women are finding time to do things they really want to do, things that are truly creative and give them a sense of satisfaction.

In the past year, dressing dolls has caught on as a creative pastime. It allows women to work with beautiful fabrics, to use imagination, to do interesting historical research in order to find costumes to copy.

One of the chief reasons for dressing dolls is to use them as gifts, either for children or for doll collectors. Many groups of women use them for fund-raising in church or charitable activities. They also make fine door prizes or they can be auctioned off.

Dolls are easily dressed, starting with inexpensive doll bodies called Lingerie Lou. When the theme for a costume has been decided upon, the public library will yield colored costume plates and descriptions.

"Denmark Girl" wears taffeta dress with velvet bodice over lace petticoat. Apron is of lawn, with embroidered edging and sequins.

Since the doll's hair must be done in keeping with the costume, the best plan is to dress the hair, then spray it with a liquid spray in order to keep it in place.

Deck's DIDACTICS

—By Deskins Wells

The Wellington area needs about a thousand more pickers and it has been needing them for two weeks. Some farmers have defoliated and are planning to use mechanical harvesters; but many others were hoping to get pullers to go over the cotton at least once. Ginners report that quite a bit of the dry land cotton is turning out much better than was first expected.

The county is taking out all phones except the one in the sheriff's office. However, there will still be several phones in the building. The one in the library is paid for by the Red Cross, and others are paid for by agricultural agencies.

Football fans feel that if the Rockets can just get by Perryton they may have a good chance of winning the district title. Perryton made a better showing against Phillips than did Wellington; but that is not too indicative of the outcome. Childress and Quanah are not up to their usual strength in the opinion of many.

The little story about Walt Winters being attacked by a bobcat while testing his wolf whistle not only made the dailies and the wire services, it has finally made the pages of Time Magazine. Walt has been reciving fan mail from various parts of the United States, one is from a trapper who invited him to go on a trapping expedition in New Mexico this fall.

The mayor of Leonard, Texas, noted that the city had quite a grou of delinquent tax payers. He ran a display ad in the paper saying that the names of all delinquents would be published if the taxes were not paid by a certain date. He did not have to run the second ad.

Evidently Yogi Berra does not read the sports pages. Don Newcomb was and is the best pitcher in the National League; but Yogi walked up and hit a four run homer in one game and two two-run homers in the last. And that was the last of Mr. Newcomb in both games. Mickey Mantle must read the sport pages. He struck out three times right in front of Yogi.

Austins Tour South, Southwest

Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Austin have returned from a 3200 mile vacation trip . They went first to Wichita Falls, Ft. Worth, Dallas, Garland and Mt. Pleasant in Texas, then east to Texarkana, Ark., and on to Greenville, Miss.

They reported this to be a beautiful drive from Texarkana to Greenville, with beautiful roadside parks, where they often stopped to cook a meal and make coffee. They especially enjoyed the very large shade trees making that part of the country cool and pleasant.

The Austins traveled on up the Mississippi Valley to Memphis, Tenn., where they saw many fields of cotton making two and three bales per acre. They reported the mechanical pickers are used very successfully in that section of the country, and they stopped and watched one machine operating. The cost of picking a bale by machine is about $1.50 while cost of hand picking a bale is about $30.00, Mr. Austin stated.

Traveling west to Little Rock, and through Clarksville, Ark., they passed through the part of the section where fruit is raised, especially peaches. There was an adbundant fruit crop this year, with much being wasted or fed to hogs.

Going through the state of Arkansas, the Austins passed through the scetion where rice is raised, and saw thousands of acres ready to harvest, some being combined and some of it shocked.

Fort Smith, Arkansas, was another stop for Mr. and Mrs. Austin, and although they had enjoyed their tour through the state very much, and had seen much beautiful country and good crops, they reported that many of the towns were not as pretty and as clean as Texas towns. As they came on to Oklahoma City, they began to see th crops badly damaged by drouth, and to meet the hot winds again.

After returning home and a day or two of rest, the Austins went on to visit some of their children, traveling west and in the Southwest, this time. They visited in Amarillo, Olton, Morton, Lubbock, and Wink. They visited with Dan Austin and family in Wink, where he has a nice drug store and the only prescripton service in that town.

From Wink, Mr. and Mrs. Austin went to El Paso, and then on into Old Mexico, where they enjoyed some sightseeing, but found many unpleasant things, and degrading conditions. They reported they enjoyed their trip very much, but were very glad to be at home again.

NAVY ROCK 'N' ROLL—Submarine trainees have an opportunity for dockside seasickness in the Navy's newest electronic device—the Universal Submarine Simulator. The operator, right, has fed a problem into a computer whose signals have actuated the Simulator into making a pronounced pitch—such as might take place in heavy seas or in making a high-speed turn. The operator can rock 'n' roll the Simulator to angles of 45 degrees, and can duplicate sea conditions from dead calm to hurricane force. Student submariners thus run the gamut of submarine operating conditions before they ever step aboard one of the Navy's undersea vessels.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to express my sincere thanks to everyone for their visits, cards, flowers, prayers, and many kind deeds during my recent illness. Your thoughtfulness will always be remembered.

Shamrock Concert Drive Planned

Interested persons in Wellington will have an opportunity to take out memberships in Shamrock's Community Concert Association, which has scheduled its annual membership drive during the week of October 8 through the 13th, Mrs. M. W. Yarbrough, association membership chairman for the 1956-57 season, announced today.

"Widespread support of the association for a number of years has assured the people of this area an opportunity to hear some of the world's best music," Mrs. Yarbrough said.

At a called meeting of the officers and members of the Board of Directors at the Country Club in Shamrock last Thursday night for the purpose of planning the 1956-57 membership campaign, Dr. D. E. Blackketter, association president, expressed his appreciation to all of those people who have agreed to work during the drive and said that he felt certain that membership in the association would reach an all-time high this season.

Discussing the advantages that reciprocity with the associations in nearby cities offers members, President Blackketter called attention to the fine program scheduled in Pampa for the 1956-57 season: Nadine Connor, Oct. 15; The Teltshinks, Nov. 1; the Songmasters, Feb. 7; The Longines Symphonette, March 12; Ballet and Ballads, March 29.

Tentatively scheduled by the Shamrock association for the 1956-57 season is the Tanglewood Opera Quartet, featuring four brilliant young American artists who are destined to become the stars of tomorrop. They are: Sarah Fleming, soprano; Janice Moudry, mezzo-soprano; Marvin Worden, tenor; and Marshall Heinbaugh, baritone.

The association's membership kick-off dinner is scheduled Monday night, October 8, 7:30 o'clock, at Shamrock's First Christian Church.

Skyrockets Subdue Clarendon Bronchos 25-13 in Tough Battle

By Lyndon Crelia

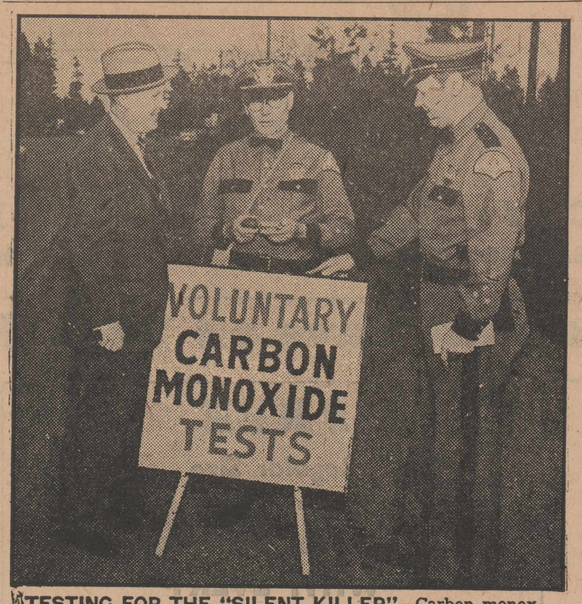

Wellington's Skyrockets defeated the Clarendon Broncos 25-13 in a thriller Friday night at Powell Field. The Rockets led in the game all the way except the second quarter, when the Broncos edged past them 6-7, but the latter could not hold the lead as the Rockets came back in the 3rd frame to jump out front with two TDs. The Rockets continued to lead in the rest of the game despite repeated desperate pass attempts and plays by the Broncos.

Clarendon fielded a much stronger team than the score might indicate and it was only the aggressive follow through of the entire Rocket team that prevented possible disaster in the first half. Wellington once recovered three of its own fumbles for a gain of 20 yards. As it was Clarendon led 7 to 6 at the end of the half. The Rockets passing attack was functioning smoothly and their pass defense was extra wood against the very able throwing of John Payne. In the person of Jerry Behrens the Rockets went up against one of the hardest running backs they have met all season.

Wellington's first score came with only 2 minutes and 45 seconds gone in the ball game when the Rockets linesmen jarred the ball loose from the Bronco carrier and pounced on it for a recovery on the Bronco's 51 yard line. On the first play Pat Wilkins fired a 20 yard pass to Jrry Elbert, who then romped 31 yards for the touchdown. The attempt to run the ball over on conversion failed. The rest of the quarter saw plays going back and forth between the two teams, with neither one driving deep enough to score.

The second quarter got under way with the Broncos taking over the ball on the 45 after a Rocket fumble. This started a drive which racked up three first downs for the Broncos and marched them down to the 6 yard line where fullback Jerry Behren sneaked across for the tally.. The conversion attempt by halfback Robert Mills was good. The score then stood 6-7.

The last few minutes of the second quarter saw some great action plays, highlighted by Wellington's Carrol Nunnelley, who made a beautiful pass interception on the Rocket 35 and proceeded to run it back to the 45 before a swarm of Broncos piled on him. Time ran out for the half before the Rockets could get off another play.

TESTING FOR THE "SILENT KILLER"—Carbon monoxide—the "silent killer"—is the real cause of many traffic accidents. That's the theory the Washington State Patrol is trying to prove. Acting Patrol Chief Roy F. Carlson says, "It is a known fact that a small percentage of CO present in a vehicle for 35 minutes to one hour can slow a driver's reaction time, affect his vision, and give him a general feeling of drowsiness." The State Patrol, therefore, has inaugurated a voluntary testing campaign. A motorist merely stops at one of the patrol's testing posts. A patrolman holds a CO tester inside the car to take an air sample and then withdraws it to make the reading. Left, Gov. Arthur B. Langlie visits a testing station, manned by Lt. D. B. Rigg, center, and Chief Roy F. Carlson.

Third quarter saw Wellington grind out 120 yards rushing on the ground, and some good pass plays, to rack up two touchdowns, and get out in front again with a score of 18-7. The Rockets next touchdown was set up when the ball was recovered on the Broncos 15, after a punt return from Wellington. Hoot Gibson, Wellington fullback, came charging down the field, hitting the Bronco carrier, and jarring him loose from the, and Maxie Tarver quickly pounced on the pigskin for the recovery. It only took 3 more plays for the Rockets to carry across in the end zone, although they were backed up 5 yards in a penalty. Pat Wilkins was the Rocket carrier, going over from the 5 yard line. The Rockets again attempted to run the ball over for the extra point, but failed.

The second score climaxed a Wellington drive which started on the Wellington 25 yard line, when the Rockets took over on a punt return . They marched up the field in short order, making 6 first downs and 1 pass completion, to move the ball down to the Bronco's 6 yard line. There Jerry Elbert drove through the line, and over for the T. D. Attempt to run the ball across for extra point failed.

After the last score in the third quarter the Rockets kicked to the Broncos, and they took over on their 30. Then they attempted a pass on the first play, and Wellington's Charlie Welch out raced the Bronco receiver to snag the ball and return it back up to the 46. The Rockets moved the ball down to the 33, and on the first play in the fourth quarter, Jerry Elbert threw a 20 yard pass to Farris Woods, to move the ball down to the 13 yard line. Fullback Charlie Welch then swung wide around right end for a 14-yard run into the end-zone on the next play. The extra point attempt was good with Tarver passing to Elbert in the end-zone.

Clarendon's Bronco's, in a desperate attempt to come from behind, took the ball on a kick return, and moved it all the way from their 22 downfield in to Rockets territory to score. The scoring play was set up after halfback Robert Mills ground out 22 yards on a run around end. The next play, fullback Jerry Behrens went over from the 20 for the touchdown. The kick for point was blocked. This brought the score to 25-13.

The rest of the game saw the ball going back and forth between the teams, but neither going deep enough to score. The Rocket linesmen played a brillant defensive game, as usual. Some of the outstanding linesmen were Sambo Morris, Tank Forrester, R. W. Warren, Larry Johnson, Richard Carter and Don Hood. All of these boys played a fine game, both offensively and defensively.

Crossroads Report

Dear Editor:

I see where some eager-beaver cops down in Dallas sort of arrested three young men here the other day, for knocking down and stomping and kicking an elderly citizen who tried to cross their picket line to get to his job.

* * *

But it was necessary for them to hold these boys on some odd charge like interfering with the old man's right to work, being as it is seemingly not illegal to assault and batter a member of the non-union caste.

* * *

Lots of trouble is being caused these days by hard-headed characters who just will not think right until you get them educated with a boot or a bayonet.

★★★

I note in the newspapers that drought is getting worse over the country and the government has set up aonther $5 million to buy hay for the farmers.

* * *

This will do considerable drought-relieving, I guess, especially if they can manage a little cream and sugar to go on it. And hay skirts relieve a clothing deficiency, even if a bit breezy in winter.

* * *

But I don't think the drought-sufferers are going to be entirely satsfied on just hay, until somebody brings out a line of hay-burning automobiles and TV sets.

★★★

I see where the idea has been thought up, to bring a committee of Communists over to the U.S. so they can see how real experts run elections.

* * *

This happy little excursion is going to be financed by U. S. taxpayers, as a part of our government's world-wide cultural program.

* * *

And I don't guess we ought to kick about the expense of this project, as long as it shows the Reds how much beter ettiquete it is to have two-machine-picked candidates on a ballot instead on just one, and teaches them the finer points of cultured mud-slinging.

★★★

My cowraising neighbor is worrying considerable over all of this talk about integration, desegregation, and removal of color barriers.

* * *

But it isn't the enforced mingling of vari-colored humanity in the schools that is really dithering him.

* * *

What he's afraid of is that the Supreme Court may notice where the Constitution says the civil rights of a Black Angus bull are being interfered with when you fence him out of a Hereford pasture.

★★★

I note that politicians and commentators are bothered no end on account of nobody much but the candidates are what you would call fired up over the election.

* * *

It seems that each side is afraid this apathy will keep a lot of people from going to the trouble to vote for them.

* * *

But my fence-straddling neighbor says it's mighty hard for him to work up much of a lather over the need to dcide whether he would rather be tax-clobbered by the Democrats or the Republicans.

★★★

I see whre Agriculture Secretary Benson reports that the farm problem is now under contorl, and President Ike has no complaints about the way his farm is getting along.

* * *

My caustic neighbor says his farm life would be happier, too, if new farm machinery, ets., was being donated to his operation from time to time by hopeful stangers.

* * *

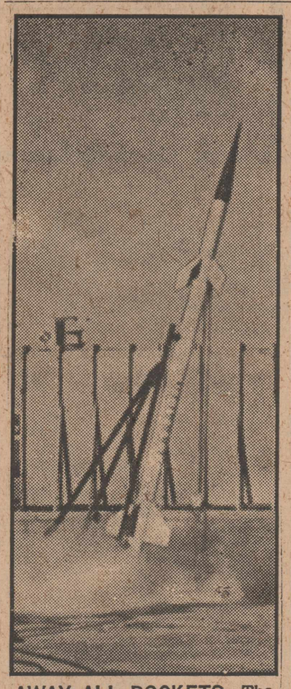

Says he has thought some of trying to get on the good side of the President himself, by sending a pair of his prime jackrabbits to Gettysburg, but hesitates on account of it looks like he is going to need them for table meat this winter.

Tax Refund Checks Awaiting 3,000

The Internal Revenue Service is diligently looking for 3,000 North Texans who have tax refund checks awaiting them, according to J. Z. Pearce, Administrative Officer of the Amarillo office. The Dallas office has an employee who spends full time finding taxpayers due a refund check. A very large part of the taxpayers due a refund check have moved and failed to give Internal Revenue a forwarding address. In quite a few cases, the taxpayers plain forgot to put their address on their tax return. Mr. Pearce stated the checks ranged in size from a few dollars to some amounting to several thousand dollars.

A Dallas newspaper recently printed 600 names and addresses of Dallas taxpayers due refund checks. Within three days, 400 of these taxpayers had claimed their checks. Others are claiming their checks daily. Mr. Pearce advised Collingsworth County taxpayers who are due a refund check to send their correct name and address to Miss Bonnie Reed, Claims Examiner, District Director of Internal Revenue, 2101 Pacific Avenue, Dallas, Texas. Miss Reed is as glad to hear from the taxpayers who have refund checks in her file as the taxpayers are glad to get the checks.

A few taxpayers have been notified that their returns are being audited before their refund can be made, Mr. Pearce explained. These taxpayers will be individually advised concerning their refunds. They should not contact Miss Reed.

WHO HAS THE "RIGHT OF WAY"

Possibly the most mystifying of all traffic rules to the average driver are those relating to "Right of Way" at an intersection. In reality, however, these rules are quite simple.

In trying to understand the laws regulating intersecting traffic, it is best to start off with the premise that all streets are of equal dignity, legally speaking. Traffic signs and signals may vary this rule somewhat, but when in doubt it is safest to assume that all drivers crossing your path have a claim to the right of way equal to your own.

Obviously, however, in many cases one driver or the other will be legally entitled to the right of way. When it becomes necessary to determine right of way in a particular situation, the driver who reaches the intersection first, or who is going to get there first, is ordinarily favored.

But when two automobiles are an equal distance from the intersection, that one approaching from the other driver's right normally has the right of way.

Some intersections are known as "courtesy corners", having a stop sign or a flashing red signal facing each direction of approach. The first driver reaching the corner and coming to a complete stop will normally have the right of way over the other vehicles not already in the intersection. However, dont depend too much on the other fellow's courtesy, and be sure to keep a "proper look-out" and your car under "proper control", as explained in a previous column.

At intersections involving one through street and another street having a stop sign, a driver approaching the stop sign and coming to a full stop is ordinarily said to have the right of way over vehicles approaching on the through street but not already in the intersection.

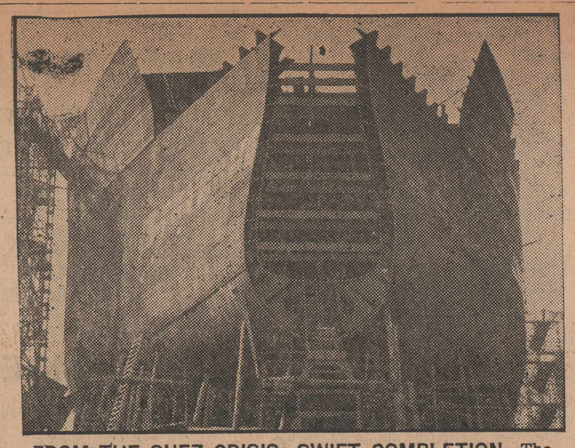

However, this last rule must be qualified by saying that you should not proceed, cross or turn onto the street until you can do so without interfering with oncoming traffic. In other words, if an approaching car will arrive within the intersection before you are completely clear, wait just a little longer. The same rules apply to entering a highway from a side road containing a stop sign.

Many drivers violate the rules of right of way covering left-hand turns at intersections. When turning left, you should always be on the inside (or center) lane, displaying the proper hand signal. You must allow all cars coming from the opposite direction, already in the intersection, to pass through before completing your turn. Even when the intersection is cleared, do not proceed unless other oncoming traffic is far enough away to be able to see your signal and slow down to allow you to turn with safety to all concerned.

Stay in the inside lane until your left-hand turn is entirely completed, and only then move gradually over to the right-hand lane if you wish. When turning right, stay in the right-hand lane at all times. Do not swing wide into the center lane, as to do so is unnecessary, unlawful and dangerous.

Many detailed rules and suggestions for safe driving are included in the official "Texas Driving Handbook" which is available to any person requesting same from the Texas Departemnt of Public Safety, Drivers License Division, Austin, Texas.

(This column, based on Texas law, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts, because the facts may change the application of the law.)
