Daniel Denies Charge He Is A 'Moonlighter'

By CARLTON WILSON
United Press International
Atty. Gen. Will Wilson charged in a statewide television speech Tuesday night that Gov. Price Daniel is a "moonlighter." Wilson said Daniel and his brother have accumulated $5 million worth of property during Daniel's 15 years in public office.

Wilson made it clear he is not accusing the governor of any unlawful activity. However, he said there is a "serious question of conflict of interest," and called for a "full disclosure" of the financial affairs of all candidates for governor.

Daniel immediately denied the charge. "I would rather Will Wilson attempt to assassinate me by a hired gunman than to attempt the character assassination contained in the false, distorted and libelous charges," Daniel said.

Daniel said Wilson was the first opponent who has ever questioned the governor's personal integrity in all of his campaigns.

"For more than a year, this desperate man has been making false, bitter personal attacks upon me and others over whose bodies he would like to climb to the governor's chair. Remember his earlier charge that I had made a deal to support another candidate for governor and run myself for lieutenant governor?"

"Time has proved that to have been false... but no more false than the bulk of his latest personal attack."

"...This man has lumped together a residue of jands left me by my deceased father and mother, all of my own earnings during 11 years of law practice, and the inflated values of these (See DANIEL, Page 3)

Brazilian President In Talk Before Congress

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Brazilian President Joao Goulart told Congress today he is confident peaceful competition with communism "will show representative democracy is the most perfect form of government for the preservation of individual liberty."

Progress, but warned Congress not to expect "rigorously technical global planning" and "prior elimination of instability" by Latin American nations.

He said Brazil offers "ample possibilities for foreign private enterprise that wants to cooperate loyally for the development of the country."

In the field of public utilities, he said, "there are certain areas of friction that should be eliminated, since, by a natural phenomenon, they generate not only misunderstandings between the government and the franchised companies, but not infrequently misunderstandings between friendly nations."

Addressing a joint session in Portuguese, Goulart reaffirmed Brazil's support of "the democratic principles which united the peoples of the West."

44 Members Of OAS Are Captured

ALGIERS, Algeria (UPI) — Tough French soldiers supported by helicopters, searched an area southwest of this city today for ex-Cof. Jean Gardes and the remnants of his band of Secret Army Organization (OAS) commandos.

Foreign-owned telephone companies in Rio de Janeiro and in 18 smaller cities in southern Brazil have been expropriated by state governments in the past two months, Goulart's government has sought to bring about friendly settlements with the owners.

Goulart said inflation in Brazil stemmed from sharp changes in the economy provoked by World War II.

"We know that victory over our present difficulties depends on our own work, our own energy, our own sacrifice," Goulart said. "The Brazilian people have not made every possible sacrifice to conquer backwardness and underdevelopment. We are trying to establish a harmonious development of the country to correct regional inequalities."

Goulart said that during World War II the prices of Brazil's export products remained frozen at levels below real value. After the war, more advanced countries were able to eliminate inflation and restore prosperity, he said.

These nations, Goulart said, had the massive aid of the U.S. economy while the Latin American countries remained without any plan for international cooperation for the recuperation of agriculture and development of industry.

Gardes, 46, is one of the leaders of the European extremists who have vowed to keep Algeria French. Forty-four of his men were captured in action against the French Thursday 100 miles from Algiers. Gardes and an estimated 50 men fled.

The intensified search followed reports from Moslem villagers near the Chelif Valley that some of the OAS men were still in the region.

French troops, reinforced by armored cars and half-tracks, stood guard along roads and highways. Authorities said the OAS men split up into groups of two and three in trying to return to their hideouts. Two were spotted near the town of Rouiba, 30 miles east of Orleansville.

The latest troop action followed a day in which OAS terrorists killed 19 persons and wounded 25, bringing the casualty toll since Jan. 1 across Algeria to 3,391 dead and 7,256 wounded.

Estes estimates he is $32 million in debt, but has vowed his creditors will not lose a dime. Besides the federal charges against him, creditors have filed a number of civil suits in the past few days totaling almost $10 million.

Estes, 37, termed the "boy wonder of West Texas," has been in almost constant conferences with business associates since he was released from jail in El Paso Monday night in a reduced $100,000 bond.

Tuesday he announced he has turned over to Anderson Clayton Co., the world's largest cotton broker, about 15,000 acres of his estimated 25,000-acre farm holdings.

At Anderson Clayton's headquarters in Houston, a spokesman said the company did not demand control of the operations, but took it over on a voluntary trust agreement. The takeover amounted to about $500,000.

Estes was also known to be negotiating with other creditors in an attempt to write off more of his huge debt in a similar manner.

Preston Hawks, publisher of the Pecos News in which Estes also has an interest, said he understood that Commercial Solvent Co. of New York has agreed to meet the payroll at Farmers Company, a fertilizer firm Estes operates.

Request for an overall picture of Pampa's health department operation and recommendations for modernizing city health regulations were asked by the City Commission at its meeting late yesterday afternoon in the Palm Room of City Hall.

The commission went into the health situation following its setting of a recall election on Mayor E. C. Sidwell for Tuesday, April 17.

Billie Sol is trying to save an empire. He is a multi-million dollar agricultural empire, ordered his associates today to dispose of everything not absolutely essential to the many businesses he operates.

One of the first items to go up for sale was a $10,000 (Cadillac) limousine, one of two owned by the Colonial Funeral Home in which Estes has an interest.

Reservist's Parents Ask JFK's Help

SEADRIFT, Tex. (UPI) — The parents of Pfc. Bernis Owen sought help from President Kennedy today in freeing their son from an Army stockade where he is serving six months for criticizing a general.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Owen charged Tuesday that their son, a member of the 49th (Texas) Armored Division, had been made a "goat" in order for officers to get more control over troops.

Owen, 23, was imprisoned at Ft. Polk, La., and sentenced to lose $50 per month pay on March 26 because he called an order by Maj. Gen. Harley B. West, banning Reservists' "we want out" demonstrations, "a hilarious climax to a chain of injustices."

"He was standing up for the right of all American citizens," his parents said they told Kennedy in a letter.

Owen is a Reservist in the 49th, which was ordered to active duty by Kennedy last fall because of the Berlin crisis. West is commander of the 49th, and also commander of Ft. Polk, where the division is training.

The parents said they asked Kennedy to grant their son executive clemency, and permit him to return to duty "until such time as it is safe to release all Reservists from duty."

Unwritten 'No-Win' Policy Is Proclaimed By Walker

Miller Proposes Medical Care For Aged Plan

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Republican National Chairman William E. Miller today brushed aside Republican grumbling about the medical care for the aged plan he put forth under a GOP party label.

"We have to be for something," the New York congressman said. "If we waited to try to get unanimous agreement we'd never do anything. And as far as the public is concerned, we'd be negative."

Without the approval of the House GOP leadership, Miller advanced the proposal as the Republicans' election-year answer to President Kennedy's plan to provide medical care for the elderly through higher Social Security taxes.

The GOP plan would make available free to all persons over 65 medical-hospitalization insurance policies now sold by private firms for $125 a year. The estimated cost of $1.5 billion a year would be borne by the Treasury through income tax rebates or direct subsidies to the aged.

Other congressional news: Bonds: Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., said surprise grumblings from some Republicans over the compromise U.N. bond bill would cost only the proposal about five votes. He said it would pass the Senate anyway by a "substantial vote."

159 Vote Absentee In School Race

County Clerk Charlie Thut reported today that 159 absentee votes had been cast as the deadline fell last night for absentee balloting in Saturday's Pampa school board election.

Voters in the Pampa Independent School District will go to the polls Saturday to elect two board members. There are three candidates. They are Elmer D. Wilson, who is seeking re-election; Floyd F. Watson and H. Creel Grady Jr.

The voting place will be in the gymnasium building on the Pampa Junior High School campus at Browning and N. Cuyler Sts.

Homer Craig, school business manager, said voters may park on the junior high school grounds while casting their ballots.

The polls will be open from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. Saturday.

E. O. Pulliam will be election manager and Arthur Rankin and N. Park Brown will serve as election judges.

HOAX... OR REAL THING? — If this pigeon, which Robert Sears, 1950 N. Faulkner, said had been "hanging around" his horse barns for two or three weeks, really did what the note tied to his leg said, he's a fast-flying bird. Sears caught the pigeon Monday. Attached to its leg with a rubber band was this message: "We turned this pigeon loose today, Feb. 26, 1962, from Los Angeles, California. Leave this message on his foot. P.S. His name is John Glenn." If the bird was turned loose in Los Angeles on Feb. 26, and has been here since about the middle of March, he travelled the distance... across the Great American Desert, through snow, wind, rain and other assorted inclement weather... at a speed of about 150 miles a day. Four Voting Places In Mayor Recall Election

There will be four voting places, one in each ward, for Pampans who go to the polls Tuesday, April 17, to decide whether E. C. Sidwell shall be removed from the office of mayor.

The recall election was ordered yesterday by the Pampa City Commission on petitions seeking the recall filed March 26 by the Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The voting places and election judges will be as follows:

Ward 1 — City Hall. Mrs. Kenneth Dunn, judge.

Ward 2 — North Fire Station, 17th and Aspen. Mrs. Henry Thut, judge.

Ward 3 — Ward's Cabinet Shop, 323 S. Starkweather. Bill Watson, judge.

Ward 4 — South Fire Substation, 1010 S. Barnes. H. H. Boynton, judge.

"FOR the recall of E. C. Sidwell."

"AGAINST the recall of E. C. Sidwell."

City Secretary Edwin Vicars said today ballots are being printed and should be ready by tomorrow. Absentee balloting will start as soon as the ballots are ready and will continue until April 14, three days before the election.

So far as could be learned up until noon today, no further action has been taken on the city commission's refusal to grant a recall election on the four ward commissioners.

The request was denied by the commission yesterday on advice of counsel that there were not enough signatures on the petitions to authorize an election. The opinion held that only the petition for recall of the mayor contained sufficient signatures.

Recall proponents were reportedly considering legal action to question this opinion given by Attorney Sidwell.

Former Major General Says He Was Victim Of Collusion With Commies

By JOHN A. GOLDSMITH
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Former Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker today told senators investigating alleged military muzzling that he was "a scapegoat of an unwritten policy of collaboration and collusion with the international Communist conspiracy."

Walker, removed last year as head of an infantry division in Germany, said that civilian control of the military "has been perverted and extended into a commissar-like system of control at all major echelons."

"Behind this unprecedented move to undermine our American way and convince the military that they must support collusion, are individuals whose actions endanger the security of our country," the former general said.

Walker, who resigned from the Army and now is seeking the Democratic gubernatorial nomination in Texas, made the charges in a statement which he read at the start of his testimony in the Senate muzzling study.

The general's removal from command in Germany, following a controversy over his "pro-blue" troop indoctrination program, sparked demands for the Senate study. The senators currently are looking into military troop indoctrination programs.

Walker was given a free hand by Chairman John C. Stennis to say what he wanted in his opening statement.

The general devoted about half his statement to a review of what he called "the Walker case." He had sharp criticism for Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara and of the publication Overseas Weekly, which first criticized his program.

Walker called himself a victim of a "no-win" policy in the cold war. The term is one which has been widely used by Sen. Strom Thurmond, D - S.C., principal sponsor of the subcommittee study.

"I was charged with nothing, I have been found guilty of nothing, I have been punished for nothing," Walker said.

He identified himself to the committee as "Mr. Edwin A. Walker," heavily emphasizing the "mister" and stating that he would be glad to be addressed this way.

Walker first asked to appear before the committee last September, shortly before he quit the Army in a huff. He had been removed from command of the 24th Infantry Division in Germany for attempting to influence his troops' votes in the 1960 elections.

He also was admonished for calling prominent Americans, such as Eleanor Roosevelt, "pink." But the Army found Walker's indoctrination program was unassociated with the principles of the John Birch Society.

In a 10-page statement to the subcommittee when he resigned Nov. 2, Walker said "I must be free from the power of little men who, in the name of my country, punish loyal service to it."

The current Senate inquiry was started as a result of the furor that arose around his case.

ROME (UPI) — Elizabeth Taylor stayed away from the Cinecitta studio set today while her leading man, Richard Burton, finished a wild banquet scene for the film "Cleopatra" with a dozen scantily clad dancing girls.

A spokesman for 20th Century-Fox said Miss Taylor was not scheduled to work today and did not show up.

The Italian press, which has had Miss Taylor on the front page for weeks, was showing signs that it was becoming disillusioned with her.

Many of the articles printed Tuesday were less than enthusiastic about the activities of the modern-day Cleopatra, who has broken up with her husband, singer Eddie Fisher.

Mrs. Sybil Burton, 32, who has been staying in London with their two daughters, remained behind closed doors at the home of Burton's brother, Ivor Jenkins, and refused to discuss the situation.

The Daily Mirror said that Burton was telephoning his wife daily from Rome.

The Mirror quoted a family friend, Mrs. Molly Williams, 55, saying: "He rings and assures Sybil there is nothing to fret about. Sybil is not at all worried by this business in Rome. She told me she is flying to Rome."

The Mirror also reported Burton's statement that rumors linking him to Miss Taylor were "bloody nonsense."

Now Astronauts Turn Down The Houston Homes

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The seven Mercury astronauts, at the suggestion of the national space agency, have declined an offer of free homes from the Houston, Tex., Homebuilders Association.

The astronauts' attorney, C. Leo De Orsey, had accepted the $24,000 houses last week for the spacemen. But the offer brought inquiries from the White House and a difference of opinion in Congress as to whether it should be accepted.

Announcement of the rejection was made by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) after a conference with astronaut John H. Glenn, De Orsey and NASA Deputy Administrator Hugh L. Dryden.

NASA said there was no legal bar, but as a matter of policy "acceptance of the houses is not considered to be in the best interests of all concerned."

"The astronauts are grateful to the people of Houston for their wonderful hospitality and for this very generous offer," NASA's statement said. "They believe the offer was made in good faith. They now feel, however, that the motives of the people who made the offer and their acceptance might be misunderstood."

"I was charged with nothing, I have been found guilty of nothing, I have been punished for nothing," Walker said.

He identified himself to the committee as "Mr. Edwin A. Walker," heavily emphasizing the "mister" and stating that he would be glad to be addressed this way.

At Yesterday's City Commission Meeting...

They Also Discussed The Health Department

Request for an overall picture of Pampa's health department operation and recommendations for modernizing city health regulations were asked by the City Commission at its meeting late yesterday afternoon in the Palm Room of City Hall.

The commission went into the health situation following its setting of a recall election on Mayor E. C. Sidwell for Tuesday, April 17.

The commission, at its morning session, had voted to deny the petitions for recall of Pampa's four ward commissioners on the grounds of insufficient signatures.

This action was taken on the advice of Clayton Heare, Amarillo attorney employed by the commission to assist City Attorney Bob Gordon in legal interpretations of the recall move.

The commission also ordered ballots printed immediately so that absentee votes can be cast. The last day for absentee balloting in the city secretary's office at City Hall will be Friday, April 13.

Commissioner L. P. Fort was the only one to vote against the acceptance and setting of a date for a recall election on Mayor Sidwell.

"I don't think the mayor ought to have to take it alone," Fort said. "I wouldn't object if I could go along with him in the election. I cannot bring myself to lending aid and comfort to the enemy."

In connection with the health situation, the mayor and commission discussed health department problems with City Health Officer Dr. Malcolm Brown, Dr. T. J. Worrell, Lawrence E. West, chief city sanitarian; Albert N. Thorne, city dairy inspector, and E. D. DeVoll, meat inspector.

By way of leading into the health discussion, Mayor Sidwell said that a number of problems face the city commission in the city's overall picture but that one of the greatest of these problems is the city health department. "The health department is very important to the people of Pampa in the overall city operation," the mayor stated.

The mayor pointed out that he believed the health department had been neglected and that it hasn't, during the years, kept up with the pace of progress as it should.

Mayor Sidwell said that the current yearly appropriation for operation of the health department is $15,821. There are five employees in the department, he said.

"We have an appropriation of $17,875 for the city's three public swimming pools," the mayor said,

"It would seem to me we have been a little negligent of our health department."

The mayor also stated that there are literally hundreds of outdoor toilets and cesspools adjacent to the city limits and inside the city limits in many instances.

"I think this is a tragic situation," the mayor said, "and one that needs to be remedied."

The mayor added that the entire city health setup needed to come in for modernization and improvement. He said he thought the present health department employees and the city manager should make a study of their needs and give their findings to the city commission at the earliest possible date.

The city manager and the health department inspectors were asked to take an overall look at the department.

City Manager R. B. Cooke said he concurred with the mayor that there were a number of city ordinances, including the one governing city health regulations, which need to be brought up to date.

Mayor Sidwell also brought up a point about the dog situation in Pampa. He said a veterinarian had told him that only about one-hundredth of the dogs in Pampa are licensed.

"We have a very serious dog problem," the mayor said, "and we need to do something about it."

He said he thought the city manager should make a study of their needs and give their findings to the city commission at the earliest possible date.

Television In Review

By RICK DUBROW
United Press International
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — It is a safe bet President Kennedy's wartime exploits did not exactly discourage the creation of Ernest Borgnine's new fall series about a PT-boat commander, a preview of which was offered Wednesday night on ABC-TV.

The "Alcoa Premiere" story, a mixture of "Mc Roberts," "South Pacific" and plain old-fashioned action, is not likely to win any Pulitzer prizes for drama. But on its own simple terms, it was an entertaining hour that Fred Astaire hosted.

There was the same old plot about the fresh young lieutenant and the seasoned commander (Borgnine), who in this case is stranded with his men on a small Pacific island under Japanese siege.

The difference was the grizzled Borgnine, a refreshing relief from our pretty-boy heroes. This viewer will be greatly surprised if the same average 6.7 appeal that won Borgnine an Oscar for "Marty" does not make him and his series popular television attractions come fall.

Borgnine made his debut Tuesday night in a homemade bathtub, a cigar at the ready, reminiscent of the famed Edward G. Robinson scene in "Key Largo." It came off well, as did a funny sequence in which the motley crew looked on unbelieving, motionless, as a superior went through daily exercises, trying to get them to follow.

Ron Foster was competent as the lieutenant, who is aghast that the men have constructed a homemade laundry and whisky still, but who finds out they can still handle a torpedo boat. And Juano Hernandez was a standout as a drunk native chief who tries to get everyone to take baths.

Footnote: There will be more series next season in military settings. It's a subtle way of presenting violence without having it accused of being unnecessary. But it did seem strange Tuesday night to be fighting the Japanese again.

Minus Jack Paar, NBC-TV this week began trying to salvage the "Tonight" show. Art Linkletter is the host this week and next, and others will follow until Johnny Carson assumes full control in October.

Linkletter was understandably nervous at the start of his debut, reverting to coy winks. But an amiable group of guests—William Bendix, Carolyn Jones, Ronald Reagan and Lee Marvin—helped him turn the insomniac special into a surprisingly pleasant, if not stimulating, 1 hour 45 minutes of chit-chat, backed by Woody Herman's fine band.

Missing was the past expectation of emotional moods by the host. To this viewer, such a lack is not lamentable. But there is no doubt this fact of Paar is what attracted a good part of his audience. The question is whether the show can survive without such an approach.

Linkletter tried to make Paar's old sidekick, Hugh Downs, feel at home. "Your being here gets me two credits at UCLA," said Linkletter.

But Downs seemed a little ill at ease. He didn't have much to do.

The Channel Swim: CBS-TV will present a same-day broadcast of President Kennedy's review of Atlantic Fleet maneuvers April 14 with Walter Cronkite as anchor man. Sir Ralph Richardson will costar with Ingrid Bergman and Sir Michael Redgrave in next season's adaptation of "Red, White and Blue" on CBS-TV.

Plans for the first live television broadcast between Europe and America will be outlined next week in Seville, Spain, at a meeting called by members of the European Broadcasting Union... Japanese viewers will see a four-part NBC-TV "Catholic Hour" series, "Rome Eternal," starting this month.

STEEL TALKS CONTINUE

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Representatives of the Nation's "big 11" steel companies continued efforts today to sign a contract with the United Steelworkers by Friday amid reports the union will soon start bargaining with the aluminum industry.

The steel contract was agreed to Saturday by the USW and is expected to be finalized within the next three days. Smaller firms across the country are expected to follow the pattern.

GUEST MISSIONARIES — These three young men will be guest speakers at a special missionary meeting to be held at 8 p.m. Thursday in the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, 731 Sloan. Guest missionaries are, left to right, Elder Owen C. Despain, presently supervising the missionary activities in the Panhandle area; Elder Terry J. Sanders, area missionary; and Elder Harvey D. Rasmussen, representative of the Texas mission.

Research On Labor Pains At Galveston

CHICAGO (UPI)—The possibility that unusual or prolonged labor pains might cause childbirth deaths or infant brain damage has triggered research at the University of Texas Medical Center in Galveston.

Dr. Alois Vasicka, a University of Texas professor in an address Monday before a meeting of the American College of Obstetrics and Gynecologists in Chicago, described the school's electronic monitoring system. It compares the strength of labor pains to the amount of oxygen reaching the baby.

If labor pains last for an abnormal length of time, there is a possibility that oxygen-carrying blood will be cut off long enough to damage the baby's brain. The medical center, using specially-designed recording devices built with grants from the National Institutes of Health and the Sandoz Drug Co., is experimenting on women in late stages of pregnancy.

W. F. Wall Mayor Of Lefors

LEFORS (Sp) — Mayor W. F. Wall was re-elected mayor of Lefors for a third term yesterday by a margin of 98 votes over Ray Chastaine, a write-in candidate.

Wall received 158 votes and Chastaine, 60.

Three city council posts were filled by Ray Dickerson, Jim Hannon, and W. F. Presley who were elected from a list of eight candidates.

Dickerson and Hannon were re-elected and Presley will be a new member of the council.

Ray Dickerson 149
W. F. Presley 120
Jim Hannon 104
Eli Radabough 83
R. W. Beck 77
L. W. Gates 67
Roy Jordan 44
H. A. Rollins 19

Election officials report that a total of 262 votes were cast, which was considered a good turnout for the city election.

Foreign Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

As communism advanced in Southeast Asia, the only truly successful military operation against it came in Malaya.

It took 10 years and required ruthless application but it worked. Communist terrorism began in Malaya in 1948, and for the next four years a handful of jungle guerrillas estimated at less than 6,000 men tied up more than 250,000 British troops, home guards and police.

Terrorists murdered Sir Henry Gurney, the British high commissioner. It was a seemingly hopeless situation. The Reds struck at will at targets of their own choosing and then melted back into the jungle. Despite heavy losses, they were able to retain their numbers through new recruits.

Through blackmail or persuasion, every peasant farmer became a potential informer or guerrilla. Then the British sent in Sir Gerald Templer, a tough soldier, to act in the dual role of high commissioner and commander-in-chief of the military and police forces.

Templer operated on the theory that guerrilla forces could exist only on the land, exacting food, intelligence and recruits from the inhabitants of terrorized, isolated villages.

Hence he instituted a ruthless policy of scorched earth. At the same time, 423,000 Chinese "squatters" were removed from isolated jungle areas and resettled in 410 new villages.

The harshness of the British tactics was criticized widely, but they halted the Communist advance.

Last week, UPI correspondent Merton D. Perry visited the village of Ven Tuong, a pilot project some 40 miles northeast of Saigon in South Viet Nam.

It is a village of oldsters and children, for most of the youths of fighting age had disappeared, either to join the guerrillas or out of fear of being drafted into the South Vietnamese army.

The half-dozen villages from which the new residents of Ben Tuong came, either peacefully or by force, were put to the torch.

Ben Tuong will have its own security forces and each resident will hold an identity card. The "strategic" village idea is part of a two-pronged campaign which seems gradually to be relieving a situation rapidly approached the same hopelessness as once existed in Malaya.

One phase is the adoption, under American teachers, of the same guerrilla tactics employed by the Communists.

The other is a social rehabilitation program which seeks not only to offer safety to South Viet Nam's 14 million inhabitants but the advantages of schools and hospitals as well.

Attorney General Says Hiss Claims Of Innocence Not Backed By Facts

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy said today that new claims of innocence by convicted perjurer Alger Hiss are not supported by the facts.

Kennedy issued a statement through his office on the controversy stirred up by former Vice President Richard M. Nixon's comments on the Hiss case in his book "Six Crises."

Hiss has expressed hope that a statement in the book that the FBI in late 1948 had possession of a typewriter which figured prominently in the case would help vindicate his position. Nixon said that was a researcher's error.

The government contended that Hiss' wife used the typewriter to copy State Department documents which were slipped to the late Whitaker Chambers, a self-confessed Soviet spy courier.

Kennedy's statement said the files and records in the Hiss case have been reviewed carefully since the controversy broke out last week.

"This review confirmed that the FBI never had possession of the disputed typewriter," Kennedy said.

Recall

Attorney Clayton Heare, employed by the commission to give legal advice on the recall petitions.

According to the recall section of the City Charter, the County Judge would be the next court of appeal in event the petitions were denied by the commission.

County Judge Bill Craig said shortly before noon no action had been requested of him by any source.

Under charter provisions the question of recall of Mayor Sidwell will be the only issue on the April 17 election ballot.

There will be no other names of candidates.

The slate of candidates recently submitted for election was only in the event the entire commission was placed on the ballot for recall.

There will be no candidate for mayor on the ballot. The charter provides that in the event the present governing body, made up of the present city commissioners, one of whom would be the mayor pro-tem, would set a date for the election of a new mayor.

Names of candidates for the office of mayor would then appear on the special election ballot.

Also, under the City Charter, Mayor Sidwell, even though the recall election has been set, will continue to perform the duties of mayor unless he is removed from office April 17.

fourth as many dogs are licensed in Pampa as are registered in Borger.

Following the discussion of various health problems, City Manager Cooke was asked to work with the health department employees in an effort to bring recommendations for improving the city's health law enforcement and bringing recommendations for increased efficiency in health department operations.

The commission yesterday afternoon opened bids for three new police cars. The award was given to the Barrett Ford Co. for a total price of $4,737.03, the lowest of five bids. Three used cars were traded in on the deal.

In other business, Commissioner Fort read a letter from the Negro Chamber of Commerce asking that it be given ten percent of the $18,000 appropriated to the Pampa Board of City Development.

The letter stated that the Negro C. of C. funds had been depleted by contributions to a paving project in South Pampa and by a Christmas party given for indigent children. The matter was referred to the Board of City Development. The letter was signed by Samuel Motley, president, and W. M. Windham, secretary of the Negro Chamber of Commerce.

In other business yesterday the commission approved payment of a bill totaling $963.41 to Continental Oil Co., re-appointed the city tax equalization board comprising E. J. Lewis, Billie Davis and E. E. Simmons, and approved a 30 by 30 feet easement for Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., for a building site in Section 109.

The commission also received a quarterly report from the city tax assessor - collector showing that $158,243.35 in current taxes had been collected for the three-month period, or $1.22 per cent of the total.

Delinquent taxes collected in the quarter ending March 31 totaled $7,343.82.

Mayor Sidwell commented that he thought this was an excellent report from the tax department. The figures included both personal and real estate taxes.

About 15,000 License Tags Issued Here

County Tax Assessor - Collector Jack Back reported today that approximately 15,000 1962 vehicle license plates have been issued by his office so far in 1962.

Of this number, Back said, 12,224 were for passenger cars and the remainder for other types of vehicles, including trucks, motorcycles, etc.

Back also issued a report for 1961 showing that 22,008 receipts were issued for licenses to operate motor vehicles of all types.

While the deadline for buying 1962 licenses without penalty fell on April 1, Back said motorists still were buying the 1962 plates.

3 Elected To McLean Posts

McLEAN (Spl) — Sixty-six ballots were cast in yesterday's election with three men being elected to serve two-year terms as city councilmen.

Seeking second terms were Joe Burroughs, who received 64 votes, and Creed Lamb Jr., who received 65 votes. Jack Shelton was elected with 65 votes and is a new man on the council.

Election officials said all three candidates were unopposed in the election.

Mayor John C. Haynes and councilmen Boyd Meador and Ruel Smith were not candidates this year.

Hobby Class Is Slated At Youth Center

An organizational meeting for the April course in Creative Hobbies will be held at the Pampa Youth and Community Center on Thursday from one to three p.m.

Mrs. David Gantz, art co-ordinator for the center and instructor for the course, will be present to show samples of the work offered and list supplies needed. She will demonstrate the basic techniques of watercolor painting and creative embroidery; the two courses to be offered this session.

Anyone interested in enrolling in either class should register with Doug Halley at the center or at the meeting Thursday. The class will meet every Thursday in April from one to three p.m. at the center.

The fee for the course will be $1 per class meeting for non-members. No fee will be charged for members of the center. No supplies will be needed at the first meeting. Participants, however, should bring pencil and paper to take notes.

Drama Campaign Group Slates Meet Thursday

A joint meeting of the development committee of the Texas Panhandle Heritage Foundation, and members of the Amarillo Area Foundation will be held at 7 p.m. Thursday in the Vic Mon Motel in Amarillo.

Lawrence Hagy, chairman of the Development Committee of the symphonic drama campaign will preside at the meeting.

Plans for the outdoor amphitheater and symphonic drama in Palo Duro Canyon will be discussed.

The Texas Panhandle Heritage Foundation, affiliated with the Amarillo Area Foundation, will develop the program for symphonic drama. The project will be the first step by the Amarillo Area Foundation to develop the area arts.

Dr. N. J. Ellis is chairman of the Pampa area and M. K. Brown and C. P. Buckler, also of Pampa, are members of the area board.

Estes was arrested last Thursday on a charge of conspiring to transport fraudulent chattel (personal property) mortgages from Texas to California. The charges involved anhydrous ammonia (fertilizer) tanks built by a firm in Amarillo.

Three associates were also arrested and released in $25,000 bond. Tuesday, a federal grand jury in El Paso began investigating Estes' operations.

A total of 247 votes were cast in the election.

Perryton Has Record Turnout

PERRYTON (Spl) — An all-time record turnout for a city election was announced here yesterday with 1,717 votes cast.

Voters defeated a controversial zoning ordinance, with 945 against and 720 in favor of city zoning.

Spencer P. Whippo was elected mayor of the city with 879 votes. His opponent, Clint Ragsdale, received 813 votes.

Two Aldermen were elected to serve two-year terms. They were Walter LaMaster, incumbent, with 929 votes, and Alton Witt with 839 votes.

George Clennan and B. R. Coon were defeated in their bid for the aldermen positions. Clennan received 794 votes and Coon received 783.

The zoning ordinance election was on a separate ballot and was a "straw vote" - not binding on city officials.

and subsequent purchases to leave the impression that my accumulation of property has been since election to state office and in neglect thereof."

Also attacking another opponent in the race for governor, Wilson said his 30 minute speech on 23 television stations did not allow enough time "to go more fully into the career of John Connally as a lobbyist for the oil and gas industry in Washington and as a hatchet man for Lyndon Johnson at political conventions."

"I wish I had the time to tell you of some of the sources of money for the expensive campaign now being waged to buy your vote," Wilson said.

"The conflicts of interest involving Mr. Connally raised on the floor of the U. S. Senate 14 months ago cannot compare with the conflict of interest that would result by his control of Texas government," Wilson added.

Wilson said an investigation by his staff in response to complaints from Gov. Daniel's neighbors in Liberty County disclosed that the governor bought 14,000 acres of Liberty County land and now owns 11,000 acres there.

Wilson said the land was worth $2 million, while another 20,000 acres bought by the governor's brother Bill Daniel during the period was worth $3 million. Bill Daniel is now appointed governor of Guam.

Three Aldermen Elected In Miami

MIAMI (Spl) — Three Aldermen were elected here yesterday to serve two-year terms.

Those elected were Royce Bailey, 30 votes; Burl Benge, 29 votes; and R. A. Flowers, 29 votes. All three candidates were unopposed.

A total of 31 votes were cast in the city election yesterday.

R. J. Bean, mayor, and two Aldermen, Ellis Locke and Bill Tolbert, were not up for election.

Joe Sinches Rites Friday

Services for Joe Sinches, 638 S. Sperryville, will be held at 3 p.m. Friday in the Progressive Baptist Church with the Rev. L. B. Davis, pastor, officiating.

Mr. Sinches died at 6:55 a.m. today in Highland General Hospital, where he had been a patient since Monday.

He was born March 14, 1888, in Minneola, Wood County, and moved to Pampa from San Angelo in 1938.

He is survived by his wife, Mary of the home; six sons, Leroy and Arthur Lee, both of San Angelo, John L. and Lee C. of Pampa, Clinnie Lee of Los Angeles, Calif., and Oneal, who resides in New Jersey; three daughters, Mrs. Ada May Murray of Pampa, Mrs. Jo Eital Johnson of San Angelo, Mrs. Mary M. Dean of El Campo; two sisters, Mrs. Ruthie Griffen of Dallas, Mrs. Bella Snelgrew of Lubbock; two brothers, Claud and Mason Deacon, both of Dallas.

Interment will be in Fairview Cemetery under the direction of Duenkel - Carmichael Funeral Home.

Commies Charge Arrival Of Ships Was 'Blackmail'

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Communist party charged today that the arrival of warships of the U.S. 6th Fleet in Beirut, Lebanon, constituted interference in Syrian affairs and amounted to "arrogant blackmail."

(It was reported in Beirut Tuesday that seven American vessels, including the aircraft carrier Saratoga, arrived on a visit which had been planned two months ago. There was no indication the visit had anything to do with a revolt by Syrian army officers against the military government in Damascus.)

McBroom Mayor Of Skellytown

SKELLYTOWN (Spl) — Neal McBroom won the mayor's race with 98 votes against E. J. Hunt, who received 29 votes in yesterday's city election.

A total of 137 votes were cast in the mayor's election and the winner will serve a two-year term.

In the city commissioner race, Ray Lowe was elected to serve a two-year term. He received 118 of the 122 votes cast in the election. There were four write-in votes for three men. E. E. Crawford received one vote; Frank Hewitt, one vote; and J. C. Jarvis, two votes.

Lowe will serve on the two-man commission with Y. A. Knutson, whose term will expire next spring.

No Opposition In Wheeler Race

WHEELER (Spl) — Incumbent Mayor Tom Daughtry was unopposed on the ballot for mayor here yesterday. He received 53 votes.

In the race for city councilmen, W. D. Mitchell, incumbent, was elected with 53 votes. Luther Parks, who was seeking a first-year term, received 48 votes. Both men were unopposed for two-year terms.

Councilmen for a one-year (unexpired) term, Cecil Martin and Dorsey Hutchison each received 27 votes. Election officials said the tie will be broken one of the three following ways: a drawing, one of the candidates withdrawing, or calling of another election.

There were a total of 34 votes cast in the election.

Eastham Mayor Of White Deer

WHITE DEER (Spl) — Bob Eastham was re-elected for a second term as mayor with 58 votes in yesterday's city election. He was unopposed.

Basil Pettit and Bernard Shield were elected to fill two openings of Aldermen on the city council. Pettit received 58 votes and Shield received 54 votes. Both candidates were unopposed and will serve two-year terms.

A total of 58 votes were cast in the election.

New Selma Hallock Circle Formed By First Baptist Church WMU

A new circle, to be named the Selma Hallock Circle, was formed by members of the Woman's Missionary Union of First Baptist Church at a meeting held recently in the church parlor.

The circle name was selected in honor of a missionary serving in Brazil, who is a personal friend of one of the members.

Mrs. L. V. Hopp, general enlistment chairman for the WMU and Mrs. Owen Johnson WMU president, assisted with the organization.

New officers elected for the circle are Mmes. Erlene Crow, chairman; Dorothy Stafford, co-chairman; Yvonne Quick, secretary and treasurer; Betty Langford, program; June Gilpatrick, Bible; Twila Harrison, prayer; Carole Greene, publication and publicity.

Plans were made for circle meetings to be held each Thursday at 2 p.m. in the church parlor. A nursery will be provided for the younger children. Women who have not heretofore been members of the WMU, as well as all other women, who are interested, are invited to become members of this circle.

Circle members will meet Wednesday, April 4 with the regular WMU for the monthly Royal Service program at 10:15 a.m. to be followed by a covered-dish luncheon. The next regular circle meeting will be April 12 at 2 p.m. in the church parlor.

Attending the organizational meeting were Mmes. Erlene Crow, Dorothy Stafford, Betty Langford, June Gilpatrick, Twila Harrison, Carol Grene, LaJuana Mayer, I. V. Hopp and Owen Johnson.

Conference Announcements, Book Reviewed At WSCS April Meeting

Woman's Society of Christian Service held a general meeting on Wednesday morning in the First Methodist Chapel with Mrs. J. L. Colville, president, presiding.

Mrs. Weldon Carter, secretary, read a letter from one of the conference daughters, Miss Patricia Dillon in Buenos Aires, Argentina, to the WSCS expressing appreciation for the books and literature, which were helpful in her work.

Mrs. R. E. Hamm, conference treasurer, announced that all pledges have not been paid. "The fourth quarter commitment must be sent in by April 10," she stated.

Mrs. Bob Echols, nominating committee chairman, presented a slate of officers for the new year, which was approved and elected.

Mrs. Colville, announced that the corrected date of the general meeting in May is on the 23 instead of the 30 as listed in the yearbook. "This will be the last general meeting for the current year," she said.

"At this time," Mrs. Colville announced, "the life membership and scholarship awards will be given. All members should be present."

As a delegate to the conference in Lubbock, Mrs. Colville stated the 28 churches of the Pampa district have 100 per cent organized WSCS societies and that Pampa ranks highest in per capita giving.

"Borger will be the host city for the WSCS 1963 conference," Mrs. Colville announced.

Mrs. Duane Bartee gave the devotion from Matthew in which she said "we are observing Lent with prayer and dedication." She stressed the importance of day-by-day living.

The program for the day was a review of "The Listener" by Traylor Caldwell, author, also, of "The Great and Glorious Physician," given by Mrs. Weldon Carter, who was introduced by Mrs. W. H. Nichols.

Mrs. Carter gave a stirring review of the book, which has an important message for today.

In reviewing, Mrs. Carter emphasized the need throughout the world for "someone to listen soul to soul, but who can listen? In the study of history, it shows the rise and fall of nations because of the lack of individuals to bring their agonized cries and needs to Christ, the Listener."

Following the program, refreshments were served in the church parlor with Circles One and Two as hostesses.

Provocative Program On Teenagers Presented At Lefors HD Club Meet

LEFORS (Spl) — Mrs. Charles Roberts presented an interesting and provocative program on teenagers at a recent meeting of the Lefors Home Demonstration Club held in her home.

In the business meeting, conducted by Mrs. A. J. Rollins, president, roll call was answered with "advice to a teenager."

Mrs. O. O. Bishop reported on specifications a young man faces, when inducted into the air force in the aerospace age.

Frank Harkcom and Glenda Shirley, members of the Future Homemakers Ass'n, were welcomed as guests.

Mrs. Bishop reported on the progress of work now being done in Leforian Park.

Members approved a donation of $10 toward an Easter Egg Hunt to be sponsored by the Lions Club.

Attending were Mmes. B. J. Diehl, John Lantz, F. M. Cox, Floyd Chittwood O. O. Bishop, A. J. Rollins.

We must convince them that there's nothing shameful in being different," she continued and added, "I don't mean they should be different just to attract attention, but they should know that every person is different; that you can't do extraordinary things and be like everyone else."

To add interest to the discussion, Mrs. Roberts quoted from a recent nationwide poll taken re-

Nautical Theme Highlights Study Of Paraguay At First Christian Meeting

A nautical theme was carried out in the Christian Women's Fellowship meeting of the First Christian Church recently, when they met for mission study of Paraguay.

Mrs. R. K. Swanson, CWF vice president, presided at the executive board and general meeting sessions.

The Ross Group "registered" guests as they "boarded" the ship for "a cruise" to Paraguay.

Opening prayer was given by Mrs. Glynn Adsit.

Mrs. John Gill led the luncheon discussion by pointing out interesting facts about Paraguay.

To further enhance the fantasy of sailing to Paraguay, Mrs. Gill, pianist, accompanied the group as they sang "Row, Row, Row Your Boat," "Wonderful Worlds of Life," "Count Your Blessings," "Help Me Find My Place," and "Stepping In the Light."

Upon embarking from "the boat," members visited a family through discussion and learned of the things missionaries are doing at the Friendship Mission in Asencion, Paraguay.

Mrs. B. R. Cantell, after reading scripture, offered the dedication prayer. Singing of "Oh Master Let Me Walk With Thee" concluded the program.

During the business meeting, names of college students were distributed to members in order that the students may be remembered with a card or small gift at Easter.

Members were reminded to bring tea towels to the April meeting for Ceta Glen Christian Camp.

It was announced that the Hobbard Group will be hostess for

Deu. Abby... Love Can't Be Killed Has To Die By Itself

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: First I'll tell you about me. Then her. Then him. I am considered a pretty stable guy. I am 33, own my own business, have a car, a boat and money in the bank. And I am helplessly in love. She is in her twenties. Beautiful, intelligent and goofy about another guy. He is a good-looking, penniless, drunken bum. She has me call him in bars all over town, because she's afraid he won't answer if it's a woman's voice. She admits she picks up the tab when she's with him. I met this bum, and can see right through him. Why can't she? I would marry this girl in a minute, but she thinks of me as a Big Brother. She is the most beautiful creature on this earth. I want to scream in frustration and kill that bum. Should I lay it on the line to her and make her see that he doesn't want her, but I do?

DAVID: You could "lay it on the line," but that wouldn't change her feelings for you—or the "bum." When a woman is "in love" with a character she knows to be worthless, she isn't thinking—she is feeling—so she has no use for logic. If she comes to her senses on her own, you might have a chance. But you can't kill love. It has to die by itself.

DEAR ABBY: What would you have done if you were a boy and you took a girl to a formal and this girl you took was very pretty except for a lot of freckles on her back? And during the evening you noticed your white jacket was all full of orange stuff which turned out to be the make-up this girl covered her back with to hide her freckles?

ALL MESSED UP: DEAR ALL: I would have my jacket cleaned and forget it.

DEAR ABBY: I am a working wife. My husband works a different shift than I and this is giving me a problem. He comes to where I work and hangs around until I get fired. This has happened to me three times and I don't want to lose the job I now have.

I have told him not to call for me "early" or else to wait in the car, but he doesn't pay any attention to me. He you any suggestions?

ASKING WIFE: DEAR WORKING: Evidently your husband isn't convinced that you mean what you say. Or else he is deliberately trying to get you fired. Find out what's on his mind, if he has one.

CONFIDENTIAL TO DAN H.: I'd rather send you the dollar. For he who sells what isn't his must give it back or go to prison.

Stop worrying. Let Abby help you with that problem. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

St. Louis Staying On Win Spree

United Press International
What's with the St. Louis Cardinals?
Nothing, brother, except that they keep right on winning baseball games, and it doesn't make much difference what kind of a lineup Manager Johnny Keane dreams up.

Earlier this spring Keane said that he would open the season with his veteran players and go with them as far as he could. That didn't seem so surprising since it is exactly what he did last summer when he took over for the fired Solly Hemus.

This spring he has been mixing 'em up with the youngsters, and it seems that he now is faced with the pleasant dilemma of having to decide what to do with youngsters such as Carl Warwick, Doug Clemes, Julio Gotay and Gene Oliver.

All four plus the ageless Minnie Minofo figured prominently Tuesday in the Cardinals' 13th victory of the exhibition season—a 7-6 win over the Detroit Tigers.

After the Tigers moved in front by three runs off reliever Lindy McDaniel in the top half of the ninth, the Cards went to work on reliever Terry Fox in their half. Singles by Warwick, Clemes, Ken Boyer and pinch-hitter Bill White accounted for two runs.

A walk to Oliver filled the bases with two out. Then Gotay grounded slowly to second baseman Jake Wood's left. When Gotay beat the relay to first, Boyer scored the tying run and White raced over with the winner.

Two days ago, Minofo and Oliver ganged up on the New York Mets in the 10th inning to help the Cards beat the fledgling NL club, 7-4, and on Monday, it was Gotay and catcher Carl Sawatski, plus Minofo, who figured in St. Louis' 7-3 win over the Philadelphia Phillies.

Minofo, off to the finest spring of his long major league career, led the St. Louis attack Tuesday with a pair of run-scoring doubles.

Meanwhile, the Pittsburgh Pirates, with rookie Alvin McBean and the veteran Tom Sturdivant pitching nine-hit ball, beat the New York Yankees, 4-1. Reserve catcher Don Leppert's two-run single in the seventh inning broke up a 1-1 tie and the Pirates added an insurance marker in the eighth off Robin Roberts. Sturdivant, a former Yankee, pitched shutout ball over the last four innings.

Roger Craig, who has been picked to pitch the opener next Tuesday, went all the way for the first time this spring to pace the New York Mets to a 5-4 victory over the Chicago White Sox. Bob by Gene Smith was the Mets' hitting hero with two singles and a triple. Joe Cunningham hit a three-run homer for the White Sox.

Elsewhere, the Philadelphia Phillies beat the Kansas City A's, 2-1; Washington edged the Baltimore Orioles, 8-4; the Minnesota Twins shutout the Cincinnati Reds, 5-0; the Los Angeles Angels nipped the Houston Colt 45s, 10-9; Milwaukee beat the Chicago Cubs, 8-8; Sa Francisco defeated Cleveland, 8-3; and the Los Angeles Dodgers edged the Boston Red Sox, 2-1.

Ten Lefors Cinder Stars Finish First Or Second In Loop Meet

LEFORS (Sp) — Ten Lefors boys placed either first or second in the District 2A Track and Field events held in Lefors recently and were entered in the Amarillo invitational events last weekend accompanied by Coaches Dunn, Goode, Dale Prescott, and Eddy Clemmons.

In the Amarillo events, Ronny Line qualified for the finals in the hurdles.

The ten boys making the first and second class in the events will represent Lefors in the Regional contests in Lubbock on the 12th and 14th of April. They are Jerry Nichols, Ronny Line, Coleman, Larry Ables, Rodney Arrington, Phil Woodring, Scott Dunham, Harrington, Mickey Archer, and Richard Bull.

Canadian gained 145 team points in the events in Lefors, with Lefors running a close second with 131½. Clarendon stacked up 83½, Memphis, 56½, and McLean 57½.

Lefors won first on the 440 yd. Relay team with a time of 46.3. Memphis won second. Clarendon, third; McLean, 4th; and Canadian, 5th.

In the 880 Yd. Dash, Welch of Clarendon won first with a time of 2:13.3; Rivers, Canadian, 2nd; Williams, McLean, 3rd; Ray, Clarendon, 4th; Harvey, Lefors, 5th; and Kelton, Canadian, 6th.

For 120 H. H. Lewis, Canadian, placed first with a time of 16.5 with Prater of Canadian, second; Woodring, Lefors, 3rd; Gibbs, Clarendon, 4th; Bromlow, Lefors, 5th; and Woods, McLean, 6th.

Windom of McLean won the 100 Yd Dash with a time of 10.9; Muir, Canadian, was second; Jones, Memphis, 3rd; Dunnam, Lefors, 4th; Crooks, Memphis, 5th; and Arrington, Lefors, 6th.

Jerry Nichols, Lefors, was first in the 440 Yd. Dash with a time of 56.2; Hermesmeyer, Clarendon, was 2nd; Watson, McLean, 3rd; Elmore, Clarendon, 4th; Graham, Clarendon, 5th; C. Crosies and W. Crosies tied for 6th.

Lewis of Canadian was first with 20.7 in the 180 L. H.; Ronny Line, Lefors, 2nd; Dunnam, Lefors, 3rd; Canadian's Prater, 4th; Gibbs of Clarendon 5th; and Rivers of Canadian and Jones of Memphis tied for 6th.

In the 220 Relay, Muir of Canadian was first; Thomas, Canadian, 2nd; Harrington, Lefors, 3rd; Watson, McLean, 4th; Cearley, Clarendon, 5th; and Robinson, Clarendon, 6th.

In the Mile Relay, Schaefer of Canadian was first with 8:19.8;

Senators Manager Believes Team Will Start Moving Up This Year

(EDITORS NOTE: This is another in a series of dispatches on the 1962 prospects of the major league baseball clubs).

ORLANDO, Fla. (UPI)—Manager Mickey Vernon believes his Washington Senators will start moving up, in the American League this year because of a couple of kids and Jimmy Piersall.

The kids are shortstop Bob Johnson and pitcher Jim Hannan. The Senators obtained the temperamental Piersall in a big off-season deal with the Cleveland Indians.

"We'll win more games this year than last with those three to help us out," vows Vernon. "And with Piersall's bat we aren't going to lose 38 games by one run like we did last season."

Vernon was disappointed in the club's showing last season when it won 61 games and lost 100, winding up in a tie with the Athletics for ninth and tenth places. He thought he had a shot at sixth place.

"I'm not predicting where we will finish this year," says Vernon, "but I'm convinced better times are ahead."

That may be, but it is doubtful so far as 1962 is concerned.

To back up the two kids and Piersall, Vernon has such veterans as Dale Long, Gene Woodring, Willie Tasby, Bob Schmidt and Danny O'Connell. Most of them, however, appear over the hill although Long has been hitting the ball at a better than .400 clip in spring training exhibition games.

At the moment, Long figures to be the regular first baseman although Bub Zipfel is out of the picture.

Zipfel hit .312 at Houston last season before the Senators called him up. He hit only .200 during his term with the Senators, but Vernon said he showed him enough to convince him that he would become the Senators' first baseman of the future. But so long as the 36-year-old Long, who hit .249 in 1961 with 17 home runs and 49 runs batted in, keeps hitting the ball he will stay on first base.

Chuck Cottier, who hit only .234 will be at second with Johnson at short and the 33-year-old O'Connell at third.

Vernon displays one of his rare smiles when he talks about Johnson. Johnson hit .295 with six HRs and 28 RBIs for the Senators in 61 games after they brought him up from Rochester.

"He has a great chance of becoming one of the outstanding shortstops," insists Vernon, who feared he would lose Johnson to the armed forces. Johnson was due to be called up when the Defense Department decided to slow up the draft calls.

O'Connell, whom the Senators picked up for nothing last season, batted .260. The infield reserves probably will be shortstop Ken Hamlin and Harry Bright, who also can catch.

Piersall, who hit .322 with the Indians, will be in centerfield with the 39-year-old Woodring in right and either Chuck Hinton or Tasby in left. Woodring played in 110 games last year, batted .313 with 10 HRs and RBIs, and figures he's good for at least 100 games this season.

Vernon looks for Hinton, who hit only .260 for the Senators last season, to become a good hitter. Tasby batted .251. Outfield reserves will be holdover Jim King (.270) and Joe Hicks, who hit .278 at Indianapolis.

Schmidt is the former Giant catcher whom Vernon feels will recover from his knee operation and take over as the team's No. 1 receiver. Schmidt hit only .132 in the little action he saw with the Giants and Reds in 1961.

Back of Schmidt will be Ken Retzer, who hit .340 in 16 games with the Senators after they brought him up from San Diego, where he had batted .282, and Bright.

For starting pitchers Vernon has Joe McClain (8-18), Bennie Daniels (12-11), Pete Burnside (6-5), Hannan and either Claude Osteen, Dave Stenhouse or Ray Rippelmeyer.

Hannan, a 22-year-old right hander, won 17 games while losing seven at Olean last season, but Vernon thinks he can make the jump from class D to the majors like Roland Sheldon did last year for the Yankees.

Osteen, who started the season with the Reds and then went to Indianapolis where he won 15 and lost 11, was 1-1 with the Senators late in the season. Stenhouse won 14 at Jersey City, Rippelmeyer 13 at Indianapolis.

Marty Kutyna (6-8) and Fred Green, the former Pirate who won seven at Columbus, will head the relief pitching corps.

Other hurling possibilities include Ed Hobaugh (7-9) and Tom Cheney (1-3).

Those two kids and Piersall better be good or that upward movement Vernon predicts may not materialize.

Hatcher Wins First In Four Events

LEFORS (Sp) — Jack Hatcher won first in four out of eight events in the District 2A Track and Field Elementary Division recently. He was high point man with 22 points bringing the Lefors team standing up to 25½.

Canadian had high team standings with 41½; Clarendon was third with 14½; McLean, 5; and Memphis 1.

Canadian placed first in the 440 Yd. Relay with 51.3; McLean second, Clarendon third and Memphis fourth.

Hatcher was first in the 100 yd. dash with 11.8; Cullender, Canadian, 2nd; Hyatt, Canadian, 3rd; Thompson, Clarendon, 4th; and McCabe, McLean, tied for 4th place.

Hatcher ran the 75 yd. Dash in 8.4 Cullender was second from Canadian; Hyatt, Canadian, 3rd; and Nicholson, Canadian, 4th.

Cullender of Canadian was first in the Broad Jump with 16 feet 7 inches; Steine, Canadian, 2nd; Hatcher, Lefors, 3rd; and Thompson, Clarendon, 4th.

Sandies Shutout Harvesters, 4-0

By DICK RABE
News Sports Editor

AMARILLO — Pampa's Harvesters, flying high and enjoying a three-game winning streak, ran into an old familiar sandstorm on Tuesday afternoon, falling before the Sandies, 4-0.

The loss, the first for the locals after a three-game winning streak had catapulted their record to 6-3, was also their first loss in loop play. The Sandies edged past the 500 mark with a 6-5 record overall and 1-0 in district play.

Mike Clark, the Harvester stalwart was given anything but a rousing welcome by the Sandies as the Amarillo nine struck for three big runs in the first inning to pack their initial victory away.

The Harvesters, on the other hand could only muster four singles off the servings of Jim Carrigan, all scattered out in four different innings. Pampa had a runner as far as third in the third inning, but that's as far as things went.

In the first inning, Allan Lyons unloaded a two-run shot over the left field fence which was the blow which sent the Harvesters down to his second loss of the season. He has won four.

Clark settled down after the initial uprising, however and ended up with a creditable nine strikeouts to his credit and allowing a total of eight hits.

Gerrel Owens, Mike Clark, Mill Stewart and pinch-hitter Jerry Glover each picked up a single to account for the Harvesters' four hits.

Pampa's biggest threat occurred in the first inning. Owens opened with a single. After Butch Crossland fanned, Howard Rees walked, John Arthur then struck out, but Mike Stewart walked to load the bases. Dee Wright then went down on strikes to retire the side and end the threat.

In other district results, Booger downed Palo Duro, 5-3; Monterey blanked Tascosa, 7-0; and Lubbock pounded Plainview, 11-0.

Pampa hosts Plainview at 7 p.m. Friday in their next outing.

Wilkinson Stresses Keen Competition

A silvery-haired master of the gridiron told an audience full of athletes and adults Tuesday night that competition is a wonderful thing and is so very necessary to the making and molding of a team man.

Bud Wilkinson, the head coach and athletic director at the University of Oklahoma told an almost packed house at the Robert E. Lee junior high cafeteria that without striving to better one's self on the playing field one cannot achieve true greatness.

Wilkinson spoke at the annual All-Sports banquet, sponsored by the White Deer-Skellytown Lions club honoring both boys and girls on the various athletic teams at White Deer high school this year.

The Sooner coach, delayed by a brisk wind which slowed his flight from Oklahoma, gave a short but poignant speech in the manner of a real orator.

Wilkinson stressed the fact that "man's shortcomings are recorded on the front page while man's victories in life are recorded on the sports page."

Wilkinson also stated that the old adage of "It's not if you won or lost but how you played the game," doesn't always hold true.

"If an athlete is honest with himself and gives it his all, he can't help but be a winner at all times," the Sooner coach commented.

Wilkinson was introduced by Colie Huffman, A. E. Rhoads presented the two basketball coaches, Roy Tipton and Roy Simmons, with watches.

The invocation was given by Rev. Edgar Hubbard.

Palmer Installed As Favorite In Masters Golf Tournament

AUGUSTA, Ga. (UPI)—Arnold Palmer, although scrambling and putting poorly in practice rounds, was installed the 4-1 favorite to win the 26th Masters golf tournament starting Thursday.

Jack Nicklaus, the two-time U.S. amateur champion in January, and the unorthodox-swinging Doug Sanders, were made co-second choices at 5-1.

Defending champion Gary Player was quoted at 7-1 followed by Tommy Bolt, Billy Casper, Bob Rosburg and Ken Venturi at 9-1, and Jay Hebert, the former PGA champion; Kel Nagel, the British Open champion and Gene Littler, the U.S. Open champion, at 10-1.

Grouped at 15-1 were two veterans of the fairways, Sam Snead and Ben Hogan.

In the 20-1 bracket were Jimmy Demaret, Art Wall, Byron Nelson, Frank Phillips of Australia, Bob Goalby, Stan Leonard, Don January, Jackie Burke and Doug Ford.

The betting was 50-1 against an amateur winning the Masters although Charley Coe finished only one stroke behind Player last year.

Most of the pros picked Palmer as the man to beat, but named Nicklaus as the player who might beat him. They think that Palmer still has too many outside business interests on his mind to concentrate on playing golf.

Palmer denies that, however.

Pampa Will Host Memphis Today At 4

Pampa's netmen host Memphis today at 4 p.m. on their home courts in preparation for the annual District 3-AAAA net meet this weekend in Lubbock.

The Pampa netters, who are 2-2-2 thus far, had a pretty rough time of things in the Amarillo relays last weekend, but are hoping that their two top netters, Jerry Thomas and Don Collins, can regain their top flight play and bring the local crew victory today.

Elaine Hawkins and Jerry Edmondson are also two of the mainstays among the girl netters for coach Roy Kieval's crew.

Arcaro Rides Last Race As Greatest Of Jockeys

NEW YORK (UPI)—"I always wanted to bow out while I was on top. . . I didn't want to be picked up on a mat."

That was the way George Edward Arcaro, better known as "Banana Nose" in most sports circles, today explained his sudden decision to retire as America's greatest stakes jockey and accept a new position in the business world.

Arcaro, who piloted 4,779 winners and accounted for $30,039,543 in purses in 30 years of riding, announced Tuesday night that he was joining the American Totalizator Co. as a field representative and consultant.

The 46-year-old jockey admitted he had been mulling over "for quite a while" an offer to join American Totalizator, which makes and operates the electronic betting equipment used at 165 horse tracks, dog tracks and jai alai frontons.

"Last summer, it was getting harder and harder to ride day after day," he told newsmen at a press conference held in a midtown New York restaurant. "I was dissatisfied with my performance but, after all, if you don't ride during the week you aren't fit to ride the celebrities on Saturdays."

"Only last Saturday, I said I wasn't going to quit and I meant it. I had a great year last year and I was set for another big year with horses like Kelso, Jai-pur and Bowl of Flowers this year. But Monday I decided to accept the offer from the American Tote People."

White Deer won the District 1-A track title Tuesday by rolling up a total of 162½ points.

Gruver was second with 93 points.

'The Party's Over' For Eddie Fisher

(EDITORS NOTE: This is the first of three dispatches on the Elizabeth Taylor-Eddie Fisher separation by UPI Hollywood Correspondent Vernon Scott who knows them both well. The first deals with the tragedy of Eddie, the second with Miss Taylor's ruthless flaunting of her private life, and the third with their calamitous marriage.)

By VERNON SCOTT
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Eddie Fisher could sing "the party's over" today following announcement that his three-year marriage to Elizabeth Taylor had ended just as it began—scandalously.

The party was indeed over for the 33-year-old singer. Entirely over.

At the peak of his popularity as a television and recording star the curly haired Fisher gave up his "dream marriage" to Debbie Reynolds, left his two young children one of them still in diapers, abandoned his video career and ceased making records—all for Elizabeth Taylor.

It was a great deal to throw away.

But Eddie, an introverted, almost shy individual for an entertainer, could not help himself. He was wildly in love with the widow of his best friend, showman Mike Todd.

It was an all-consuming emotional involvement with Elizabeth Taylor, believed by many to be the most beautiful woman in the world.

If the term "love slave" were ever applicable it suited Eddie to a "T." Basically Eddie, as I know him, is a decent man though perhaps not biased with the best of judgment. Leaving Debbie and his children cost him dearly. But he was powerless to resist his Elizabeth's charms.

Almost as if hypnotized he fell under her spell.

We talked in his Las Vegas hotel room on May 12, 1959, as he dressed for his Jewish wedding ceremony to Elizabeth. He appeared to be overwhelmed by the fact that he would soon be marrying the fabulous glamour girl.

It was different with Debbie. When they were married Eddie was the big star and Debbie a fresh-scrubbed girl-next-door actress.

But now the tables were turned. Elizabeth was a super-star whose brilliance eclipsed Eddie's accomplishments. The light was so bright it blinded him to the realization that his fans, faithful for 10 years, would be repelled by his decision to leave Debbie in favor of the thrice-married-brunette charmer.

As he adjusted his necktie for the ceremony Eddie said, "I've never been so excited in my life. I can't remember when I've been so tired either. But we're in love, and that's what counts."

Eddie was in love with Elizabeth. He continues to be.

But almost from the minute the marriage ceremony was completed Eddie began to learn that he was the husband of a movie star. The euphonious "Debbie and Eddie" quickly gave way to "Elizabeth Taylor and her husband, Eddie Fisher." There was a world of difference.

On their honeymoon in London during a press conference Eddie repeatedly reminded newsmen, "Her name is Mrs. Fisher now."

Not then nor at any time since was Miss Taylor ever referred to by her husband's name. And Liz did nothing to change the situation. A small thing? Maybe. But to a proud man it was an infinitely demeaning symptom of what he had become. A consort.

As man and wife the couple traveled where Elizabeth's work took them, with time out only twice for Eddie's nightclub appearances in Las Vegas. But even in this there was a wrenching difference.

When he worked Eddie had to sing for his supper; a night club entertainer. When Liz worked it was on a huge soundstage with dozens of functionaries waiting on her like willing slaves. She was a queen in her own make-believe world. He was a gentleman of the court.

Eddie's position in their relationship began to etch changes in his appearance.

The boyish grin gave way to thoughtful self-doubt. His alacrity to speak up diminished as he looked to Elizabeth to take the lead. He stood corrected in public, covering self-consciousness with adoring eyes for his wife.

Professionally he formed a producing company to make movies starring his wife. None were made.

There were no television offers, no recording dates set, no movies in the offing. But Elizabeth helped a little bit. She threw him a crumb, a "bit part" in "Butterfield 8" in which she played a woman-of-easy-virtue.

It won Liz an Academy Award last year. It won Eddie critical abuse. However, the film was only his second screen appearance—the first being a costar role with Debbie in "Bundle of Joy."

A brief flash of usefulness came into Eddie's life little more than a year ago when Elizabeth was near death from pneumonia in a London hospital. At last she needed him, even if only for his bedside vigil.

But it was comforting to Eddie, who lost 15 pounds during his wife's illness, to be the spokesman for the family for the first time.

Then came Rome and "Cleopatra"—and Richard Burton. Eddie and I discussed the romance rumors by telephone only last month. He denied them, refusing to believe his marriage was foundering. After all, he had little else in life. No career, no immediate prospects and worse, for him, no one who cared.

Now he stands almost where he did a dozen years or more ago, at a threshold. He married two movie stars, became a singing sensation and a toast of show biz. But Eddie cannot be sure he has failed altogether climbing the ladder from poor and humble circumstances in Philadelphia.

Yet he suffered a final humiliation last week when he announced all was well with his marriage and placed a call from New York to Rome asking his wife to vouchsafe his word, hoping at least for a dignified ending.

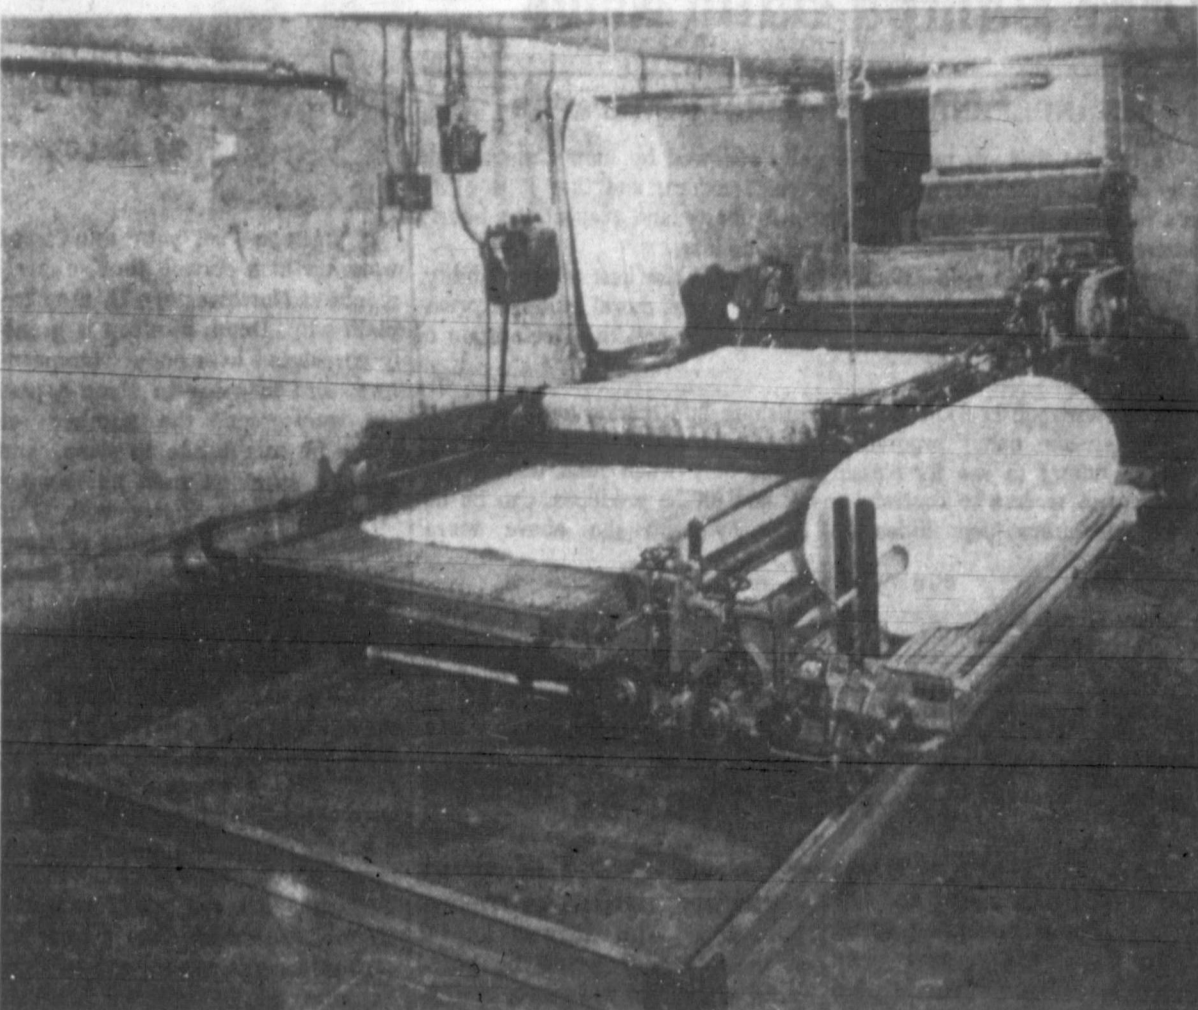

Even this was denied him when he was forced to tell newsmen his wife would not back him up.

There are those who say, "It serves him right. Look what he did to Debbie."

Others blame Liz, saying, "She ruined that boy's life."

Still others shrug and observe, "The poor slob."

But for good natured, sad-eyed Eddie Fisher there is only the realization that he must begin anew. Where and how he isn't sure. But at least for the first time in three years he is his own man.

Acme Works Wonders With Old Mattresses

Acme Mattress Company, 817 W. Foster, is a unique place that's in business to serve you. You can get what ever you want at Acme, whether it's a reconditioned mattress or a custom job.

In one day Acme can work wonders with your old mattress. You can have your lumpy cotton mattress reconditioned and have it built into an innerspring. You can also save when you have your old mattress converted to an orthopedic. This is even better than an innerspring.

By adding cotton and a new covering, Acme gives you an orthopedic mattress in which you'll never feel the springs. On reconditioning jobs the original cotton is used. This not only saves you money but guarantees you continued quality as the cotton in your old mattress is very often of a higher quality than you can buy in a new mattress.

Acme's main selling point is that, with its factory machines, it can give you a new mattress at less than it will cost to buy a new one.

In another operation, Acme will make you a mattress to fit your own specifications. You can place your order and get an Acme mattress in any size you desire.

You can also get the latest patterns in mattress covering plus the latest in a long line of mattresses from 180 through 312 coil. Other good buys are roll away beds, bed springs and Hollywood sets.

Located in Pampa's low rent district, Acme passes its savings along to you in increased quality and low cost of mattresses made or rebuilt. Acme has all the fac-

Wall Street In Review

NEW YORK (UPI)—There still is no change in our conviction that the market is on the threshold of a mild spring rally that will see new all-time highs around 750 in the Dow-Jones industrials by the end of April, says James Dmes of A. M. Kidder & Co.

Joseph E. Granville, writing for E. F. Hutton & Co. says he does not see any steel stock that could not make an impressive forward move. He states that with this group offering the best opportunities since 1958, it would be quite difficult for him to anticipate any important downside action in the market at this time.

L. Palmer of J. W. Sparks & Co. says the impressive fundamental position of the paper group at present spotlights several situations which might prove to be attractive as trading media.

AN INDEPENDENT FREEDOM NEWSPAPER

We believe that all men are equally endowed by their Creator, and not by any government, with the gift of freedom, and that it is every man's duty to God to preserve his own liberty and respect the liberty of others. Freedom is self-control, no more, no less.

To discharge this responsibility, free men, to the best of their ability, must understand and apply to daily living the great moral guides expressed in the Ten Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

This newspaper is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessings. For only when man understands Freedom and is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities in harmony with the above moral principles.

Past Brings Headaches

Congress will be confronted with major questions of public and legislative policy if the United States and the Soviet Union ever work out details of the "general and complete disarmament" both nations advocate.

The problems are pinpointed in a report, "Economic Impacts of Disarmament," submitted by a panel of experts to the new United States Arms Control and Disarmament Agency, and recently made available to the public. The nine-member panel representing business, labor and government was headed by Emile Benoit, an associate professor of international business at Columbia University.

The prosperity of many congressional districts is increasingly tied to military procurement and related defense activities.

The panel, for example, found that 22 states and the District of Columbia were "likely to experience a relatively heavy economic impact from disarmament." Texas was one of the jurisdictions so identified.

According to the panel, 10 per cent of Texas' total manufacturing employment is in major defense industries, and 5.5 per cent of Texas' personal income is in Defense Department payrolls. During the first six months of fiscal 1962, Texans received $560 million worth of Defense Department military procurement contracts, or 3 per cent of the national total of $12.2 billion in procurements.

In all, the defense program of the United States absorbs nearly a tenth of the total American production in goods and services (G.N.P.) and employs, directly and indirectly, a like percentage of the labor force.

Nevertheless, the panel's conclusion is that disarmament of the type and at the pace formally proposed by President Kennedy at the United Nations last September "should create small danger of provoking immediate depression" in the nation's economy.

High Value

The person who places love of liberty and respect for human beings at a high point on his scale of values will not betray liberty simply because he dislikes someone who disagrees with him.

Toward A Free Market

The Wall Street Journal published a prophetic utterance on the 26th of January this year.

"...if Congress succumbs to the local and marginal pleas of the protectionists... it will... be taking the nation behind a wall without having deciphered the handwriting on it. Many another nation has discovered it, and it is still the same old message—trade or die."

The statement has to do with tariffs and to the age-old debate over their use to "protect" domestic industries or businesses.

It is encouraging to note this strong voice for free enterprise taking a stand so completely correct. And yet there are voices still echoing about the land which prophesy nothing less than a disaster occurring as a result of a lowering of the tariff barriers.

Of course, the recent revisions in trade relations occasioned by what could be called "common-market" thinking, will not do the job.

All that has happened in this area is a better working relationship between the U.S. and certain favored European countries. But free trade has not resulted. Rather, the power of the state to regulate trade has been confirmed. Thus, even the marginal benefits might accrue, firm in the center of the philosophy employed is that government knows best and will manage our affairs for us.

This is not our affair and never has been.

A lowering of tariff barriers will, in all probability, have a profound effect upon labor-management relations. Tariffs, in point of fact, have been one of the best devices ever employed to protect labor bosses in their unbridled demands for larger and larger wages. And so long as businessmen could turn to the government demanding tariff protection, they could afford to boost wages, thus nullifying the impact of imported goods made with labor that was more realistically priced.

However, if government were to abandon the tariff concept entirely, this protection to labor unionism would vanish.

Of course, the claim would be made at once that this would mean that American workers with their higher standards of living would have to compete with foreign workers with their lower standards of living.

But this conclusion is predicated upon dollar thinking and not upon economic fact. Dollars do not determine value and cannot be considered as wealth.

It is what the dollar will buy that matters. And the dollar will buy goods in relation to the amount of goods available as well as the numbers of dollars available for exchange.

If wages are permitted to adjust in a free market, wage rates will go down and production will go up. Competition will force prices down.

The end result will be more goods for Americans at lowered prices. Thus, the smaller number of dollars in the possession of workers will be able to be exchanged for a larger amount of goods. Everyone will benefit. Standards of living will go up.

Once a nation embarks on the protectionist route thru tariffs, the result will always be reciprocal. Since a tariff barrier always hurts the economy of the nation which assumes senseless adjustment policies and vigorous government leadership." The biggest impact on the economy would be posed by an estimated reduction in U.S. security expenditures of about $5 billion a year during the crucial introductory three-year period of graduated disarmament.

On the face of it, disarmament—or, more precisely, a reduction in spending for armament—would be a moral and economic blessing. The wealth now being spent to build expendable military machines, quickly destroyed or become obsolete, would be available for consumer goods and services.

But the joker is in the committee's recommendation that the government should assume "vigorous leadership" to prevent a depression resulting from shut-down arms plants.

Vigorous government leadership is more dangerous than building warheads and stockpiling bombs. The panel recommends that the government be prepared for "expanded and improved programs in the field of education, and research, transportation, urban renewal, public health, et cetera."

Instead of building bombs, we'd expand the control of government over the lives and fortunes of the individual.

This, of course, is destructive of our freedom. The maintenance of a sufficient military establishment at least theoretically insures our safety from conquest by a foreign government; but the continuous and deliberate extension of the size and scope of our own government has no purpose but to reduce our freedom. It is not reasonable to endorse the theory that we must accept one of two things—domination by a foreign government or by our own. This simply is a choice between two masters and it does not occur to us that this is man's destiny, and his hope.

Pull Up A Chair

By Neal O'Hara

If you can "set your mind" to wake up at a certain time, experiments at Northwestern U. may explain why. Depth of sleep is greatly correlated with body temperature, and in going to sleep a person may "set" the number of hours he might like to sleep, and when a stimulus such as body temperature associated with this number of hours or depth of sleep occurs, there is a downward firing of electrical impulses from the outer layer of the brain to the wakefulness center.

With the Finnish custom of sauna bathing spreading in the U.S., you may as well know that, essentially, a sauna consists of a wood-lined chamber, a bench and a heater which can push temperatures above 200 degrees. Unlike Turkish baths, the humidity in the chamber averages only 4 to 8 per cent making it easier to bear the extreme heat. Ordinary showers are adequate for cooling off between sessions.

News item in the New York Herald Tribune: "The detective drew his gun and forced a dozen citizens."

"He's awfully worried about his wife," JONES — "Is that so? What's she got?" SMITH — "The car." When a shark is captured by commercial fishers, every particle of the vicious fish is used thus: The fins are trimmed off for New York's Chinese fish markets, the liver goes for tanning oil, the pancreas is made into insulin by chemists, the head boiled down to glue stock, the hide sold to shoe manufacturers, and what's left is made into fertilizer.

Thoughts while shaving: 1. One goal of current research in the food and beverage field is to improve instant coffee's aroma, which has been more or less nonexistent. Since the human olfactory system is intimately connected with the sense of taste, almost odorless instant coffee since its introduction has been at a distinct disadvantage compared with regular coffee, most of which is highly aromatic. 2. The German word for "millionaire" is the same as ours, and spelled the same, as why shouldn't it be? We Americans were the first to use it. But in Germany a millionaire is one who has 1,000,000 marks, or $250,000 in our money. (The French, though, spell the word with two n's, thus: "millionnaire"). 3. It's a transplanted Yankee from New England who wryly observes that once upon a time, when he was a lad, skim milk was used mainly as slop for the pigs; but nowadays it's put into a fancy package and sold to women in search of a sylphlike figure. 4. And on the economic side of food purchasing, one housewife remarks that most women like herself would rather pay $1.69 for a package of frozen food and have it really serve four than to pay 89 cents for a package that says "feeds four" when it really only adequately serves two.

Country editor speaking: "Violence on television is becoming more realistic all the time. Just the other night there was a Western fist fight from which the hero emerged with his hair mussed."

is trying to import into the country with the barrier, it is normal procedure for that country, in turn, to put up a tariff in retaliation. Economic warfare via the tariff route is the result.

All that actually happens in the process is the raising of prices and labor costs, the development of shortages all the way around and a diminution of the standard of living which is principally noted in the nation with the highest tariff.

America gained its pre-eminence in business, industry and trade because it had, at the beginning, the lowest tariffs and the largest territory in the world without any tariffs at all (between states). Compared with other countries, American tariff barriers have always been lower and this is largely responsible for our continued success in spite of tax inroads and the current amount of regimentation.

A further lowering of tariffs, particularly as these lowerings are now reciprocal, is an excellent thing. But tariffs should be abandoned totally thus permitting the market place to expand and flourish without government restraints and harassments.

U.S. Sale of Grain to Red China Blocked By Opposition of McCormack and Kitchin

ROBERT ALLEN

PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — The vigorous opposition of two influential members of Congress played a major role in stopping the sale of $400 million worth of grain to Communist China and North Korea.

The huge grain shipment was barred by President Kennedy after he learned that Speaker John McCormack, D-Mass., and Representative A. Paul Kitchin, D-N.C., chairman of a special House investigating subcommittee were opposed to the sale and were ready to light a congressional bonfire if it was approved.

Word of this explosive legislative opposition was given the President by Commerce Secretary Luther H. Hodges during a White House meeting called to determine whether a private export license for shipment of the grain should be granted.

International Trade Corporation, a Seattle, Wash., firm, had applied for the license to ship six million tons of wheat and barley to Red China and 4.5 million tons to North Korea over a three-year period.

The refusal of the license was announced by the Commerce Department in a two-sentence statement issued last Friday. It made no mention of the following dramatic White House meeting during which the legislators' intervention tipped the scales against the sale.

Undersecretary of State George Ball and Dr. Walt Rostow, chairman of the State Department's Planning Commission, had just finished a vigorous argument supporting the grain sale when the President, turning to Secretary Hodges, asked for his views, stating:

"Luther, since it is your responsibility to grant or deny this license, let's hear from you."

"Before giving you my own position," Hodges replied, "I would like to present the views of Speaker McCormack and Representative Kitchin who is chairman of a House subcommittee investigating the sale of strategic materials to the Communist bloc."

TAKING A STAND — "Have they expressed themselves?" inquired the President.

"Quite vigorously," said Secretary Hodges. "They called me personally and expressed very strong objections to the sale. They requested that I make their views known to you."

"On what grounds are they opposed?" asked the President.

"Speaker McCormack took the position that the sales would serve to bolster a sinking Communist government at a time when we should be taking steps to hasten its downfall," reported Hodges. "He warned that approval of the shipment of grain to Peiping would touch off a major foreign policy debate in Congress that could easily endanger passage of your trade program."

"What did Representative Kitchin say?" questioned the President.

"Kitchin was very blunt," replied Hodges. "He threatened a full-scale investigation."

"What is your recommendation?" the President asked.

"As you know," said Hodges, "I have been opposed to granting the license from the outset unless you should rule it in the national interest to permit such sales. This legislative opposition reinforces my position."

"There are good arguments on both sides," said the President in summing up. "However, my decision is that we do nothing to jeopardize the trade bill. We can't afford to have that important leg-

The Doctor

Says:

Normal Life Is Possible For Epilepsy Victims By DR. HAROLD T. HYMAN

The word "epilepsy" means a seizure or a fit. Epileptic fits were as familiar to our pre-biblical ancestors as they are to us in this modern era.

Actually we know little more about the "falling sickness" than our forefathers did.

We can't prevent it or we wouldn't have almost a million of the afflicted in our present day population.

We can detect it with great accuracy through tracings of brain waves (electro-encephalograms or EEG's). We can control the seizures with so great a measure of success that an estimated 85 per cent of the epileptic population attend schools and colleges, hold responsible jobs, contract good marriages and raise healthy children.

Here are some suggestions that may help you to join the huge army of those who refuse to let their condition handicap them in their careers, social lives or domestic relationships:

Place yourself under the care of a physician-friend who will first assure himself and you that your seizures are not the result of some organic brain disease that may be responsive to more direct forms of treatment such as surgery. He then will confirm the nature of your affliction by referring you for an EEG.

Next, co-operate with your doctor as he tries out several drugs, alone or in combination, to see which drug or combination is best for you.

Don't make matters more difficult for him and yourself by becoming depressed when control is not achieved as fast as you would like it to be. Don't add to your own burden by indulgence in self-pity. And don't try to make a secret of your condition.

Carry a card or wear a locket that states your condition and the fact that you are under treatment. Acquaint your relatives, friends, associates and employer of the nature of your affliction, so they'll party finally ended. President Kennedy is really serious about his drink - more - milk campaign. Milk is now regularly listed on the daily White House menu.

Cameron President Ahmadou Ahidjo was frankly entranced by the gilded decorations of the fashionable hotel ballroom in which a reception was held in his honor by his embassy. Attired in a blue toga-like robe embroidered in jonqui yellow thread, the Moslem leader, who speaks French and English fluently, looked frequently up and admired the gilt ornamentation. When a foreign ambassador asked him about this interest, Ahidjo said smilingly, "All that bright gold, it's very handsome and I like it very much."

Only about one-fifth of the foreign diplomatic corps attended the cabinet concert of noted singer Marian Anderson. Among the many absentees diplomats were representatives of countries that frequently criticize the U.S. for race discrimination.

Mrs. John Tower, chic wife of Texas' Republican Senator, declined to give a formal talk at a reception in her honor by the Republican Capital Hill Club, but she made a big hit by relating some amusing incidents of her husband's spectacular election campaign. The story that brought down the house was as follows: During Towers' barnstorming through the Panhandle, a "regular-sized Texan" (6' 4") shook hands with the 5'4" candidate and then remarked, "Son, you are the shortest candidate I have ever encountered. I sure wish there was a way to get you elected without anyone seeing you."

A beautiful engraved Steuben glass bowl was presented to Mrs. Lyndon Johnson at a luncheon for her by the 86th Congress Club. The Vice President's wife told her hostesses, "It's so much fun to be among old friends from Congress; to rewalk old paths and to renew old friendships." Menu consisted of "L.B.J. fruit cup, tenderloin (Texas, that is) tips, chuckwagon salad, Lone Star par-fait, and Lady Bird mints."

Representative Marguerite Stitt Church, R-Ill., who is quitting Congress after 12 years' service, told a party of old friends that she had come to this decision "before Washington became a way of life and while there is time to enjoy other things." Mrs. Church says she has made no plans as yet for her "retirement," but is confident she will find plenty to keep her busy: Among the guests were Mrs. James Hamilton Lewis, widow of an Illinois Senator, former Italian Ambassador and Signora Augusto Rosso, Jacobo Beam, former U.S. Ambassador to Poland reported slated to be the next Ambassador to Moscow, and Madame Sze, widow of a Chinese Ambassador.

Pegler Says:

We Asked Too Much Of Those Who Went To Korea

We Asked Too Much Of Those Who Went To Korea

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

It has never been any puzzle to me that some of the American soldiers in Korea wilted and went over to the enemy. Because few of us even knew a Korean from a Siamese or where Korea was except that it was in the Orient. Most of us know a little more now, but all we know we learned by the horrible experience of the few who found themselves in a dirty, primitive country fighting an enemy who looked exactly the same as their dubious friends and allies of South Korea. It is a great testimonial to the quality of our professional soldiers, MacArthur, Mark Clark, Ridgeway, Almond, Stratemeyer and Van Fleet, that they were able to fight as well in that hopeless situation as though they had been defending their own country. They knew they were sacrificing themselves and thousands of bewildered kids to a political nightmare from the frenzied brains of the cult of the United Nations. They also knew, as the combat soldiers did not, that the real enemy was Red Russia, and finally that the conditions imposed on them made it absolutely impossible for the American side to win.

There has been long resentment of late against rebellious men called up to retrieve the surrender at Potsdam by beeping up Berlin, whose garrison is only nominal any way. The Democrats and Eisenhower's Administration, which was a link, not an interim, in that long program of national dissolution, failed to maintain the "army," meaning all services, in a tight, efficient condition to anticipate further crises in Berlin. President Kennedy was in a bad position having to call up the reserves to confront Khrushchev again. The impudence of party columnists and others in berating men and their families needlessly jumbled to meet this emergency will not subdue people with enough spirit to be worth a dam in the crisis itself.

The report of the Jenner Committee of the Senate, entitled "The Korean War and Related Matters," is a small, almost unknown document, but a damned spot which will not out. After hearing testimony by all the great commanders and Admiral Joy, who had the heartache of negotiation without definite instructions or confidence of support back home, the committee wrote in 1955:

"The senior military commanders in the Korean War theatre believe victory was possible. That the action required to achieve victory would not have resulted in World War III. That political considerations were permitted to overrule the military necessities. They expressed grave concern over the conduct of this first U.N. 'police action' and hoped we would never hazard our troops again under similar circumstances. They believe that possible subversion, wishful thinking, European orientation and allied pressure denied them victory. That failure to win jeopardized our position in the Far East. They supplied some clues to possible subversion in government departments but were unable to make specific charges." (Subversion in this sense means treason if not treason in the legal sense.)

All this and the terrible testimony considered, were the wavering soldiers who gave up to a barbarian enemy as guilty as the politicians who threw them into their disaster?

Our people were not professional fighters but patriots. Survivors will remember the sight and the voices of comrades lost in that desperate folly who had no feeling for the Korean people and carried on only to sell their lives individually as dearly as possible. It was asking altogether too much of the American young man off the campus or called from his wife and baby in any typical neighborhood.
