Ford dealership has new owners

NEW OWNERS OF LONE WOLF AUTOPLEX Donald Vest (left) and George Walker completed the purchase of the new car dealership Friday, August 1.

Hutchins Ford, Colorado City's only new car dealership, was sold last week to Don Vest and George Walker.

Former owner Dave Hutchins has been in the car business here for 30 years and said he decided to sell the dealership due to age and health reasons.

"During the past 30 years we've met a lot of fine people here," said Hutchins. "If something were to happen to me or my wife, Lee, this dealership would have probably closed. Selling the dealership means it will be here. The town needs this dealership."

Dave and Lee have both been involved in the business for 30 years.

Vest is a 1961 graduate of Colorado High School. His parents, Pasco and Juanita Vest, are Colorado City residents. Vest is a pilot for Southwest Airlines and lives in Dallas. He said Friday that he plans to fly a small plane back and forth between Dallas and Colorado City and possibly relocate here in the future.

"I've always loved Colorado City, had an ambition to own my own dealership and this was a great opportunity. I'm looking forward to it," Vest said.

W. Anderson appointed chairman of Farm Service Agency committee

Woody Anderson

Congressman Charles Stenholm announced this week the appointment of Woody Anderson of Colorado City as chairman of the State Committee of the Texas Farm Service Agency (FSA).

Anderson is a native Colorado City resident, a graduate of Colorado High School and the University of Texas in Austin. The local cotton producer is active in many agriculture and civic activities, including serving as chairman of the Boll Weevil Eradication Foundation Board.

"I'm pleased with the appointment and grateful to Congressman Stenholm for asking me to serve on the State Committee. I'm excited about the opportunity to have input on agricultural interests," Anderson said Tuesday.

Anderson was one of two individuals appointed to the five member State Committee from Stenholm's 17th Congressional District.

Bob Traweek, a dairyman and peanut producer from Dublin will also serve on the committee.

"Woody and Bob are well-respected within the agricultural community and I believe they will provide the committee with the strong leadership needed to guide Texas agriculture in the future," said Stenholm, ranking Democrat for the House Agriculture Committee.

Election draws 204 early votes

A total of 204 voters in Mitchell County cast their votes during the early voting period for the constitutional amendment election.

Early voting for the special election ended at 5 p.m. Tuesday, Aug. 5.

On election day Saturday, Aug. 9, polling places will be open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Voters in Mitchell County will cast their votes at one of six locations:

Pct. 1 - CISD Administration Building, Colorado City;
Pct. 2 - Westbrook School Tax Office, Westbrook;
Pct. 3 - Courthouse, Colorado City;
Pct. 4 - Senior Citizens Center, Loraine
Pct. 2-5 - Oak Street Baptist Church, Colorado City; constitutional amendment of a $10,000 increase in the homestead exemption for school property taxes and authorizing the transfer of the 65 years and over school tax freeze to an alternate residence.

Under current law, the state mandated homestead exemption for school property taxes is $5,000.

The passage of proposition 1 would increase that amount to

Commissioners approve plan to help with airport renovation

Mitchell County Commissioners agreed Tuesday to help pay for some of the Municipal Airport renovations, but they want something in return from the City for their help.

The County wants the City of Colorado City to sign an interlocal agreement, trading city services for the approximately $15,000 cash contribution to the airport project. City services could include landfill use, water or sewer.

"We'll trade them x amount of dollars for x amount of services," said Commissioner Bill Preston.

Board of Economic Development members Bobby Lemons and Nancy Sullivan attended Tuesday morning's commissioner's court meeting and told the commissioners that the city asked for a county contribution of $12,000 to $15,000 to help pay for the airport repairs.

The city has received a $514,000 Texas Department of Transportation grant to completely renovate the Colorado City Airport. The city must put in $65,000 of its money for the project.

Commissioner Carl Guelker said he knew that the county had agreed to pay for some of the renovations.

Commissioners Ed Roach and Preston said they were especially interested in trading for landfill services.

"We need to have some kind of understanding with the City," said Preston. "We're not asking for anything free. We'd just like something in trade."

COACH DOUG BOONE CHECKS TO MAKE SURE SENIOR Tight End Adam Wood's helmet fits just right. Two-a-day work outs began Wednesday in shorts and headgear. The leather begins to pop next Monday when the Wolves get to don the pads. The Wolves will practice from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. with a break midway through the practice session.

Kelley construction will continue after school starts

When school opens August 14, renovations at Kelley Elementary School will still be underway.

However, the work is expected to be completed in September.

"It will look great," said Kelley Principal Kitten Arthur.

During registration today, Thursday, parents are asked to enter the school on the Walnut Street side of the building.

Work is in progress on both the outside and the inside of the school. Besides handicapped accessible sidewalks, the outside of the building is receiving new stucco and paint.

New carpeting and tile is being laid inside the building and all the bathrooms are being completely renovated with new fixtures. Renovations in the teacher's bathroom will bring it into ADA compliance.

The upper half of the tall windows at Kelley and Hutchinson Elementary have been closed off, leaving the bottom panes for looking out. The new window treatments are expected to make the buildings more energy efficient.

However, Kelley students are most likely to notice the murals in each wing of the school. Middle school art students began the project in the spring and will finish the art work by the end of the first semester of this school year.

The individual interests and personalities of Kelley teachers are reflected in the section of the mural outside their classrooms. The student artists asked the teachers what they liked. The not-yet-completed pictures show that one teacher enjoys sunflowers, another is especially interested in weather and will have a tornado scene outside her room while another teacher likes dalmatians.

COOK'S CORNER

Jessie Damborsky

Jessie Damborsky admitted, "I couldn't cook when I married, but my husband could. He swore I could burn water." Jessie learned a lot of cooking techniques from her husband and, of course, by trial and error.

Her late husband Albert made it a point to teach their daughter to cook before she married. According to Jessie, she now is a very good cook.

When asked about her favorite thing to eat, Jessie quickly declared chocolate to be her all time favorite. She reasoned that her affinity for chocolate contributed to making her a good baker.

Besides baking sweets, Jessie likes to bake homemade bread and share it with others.

Albert was a diabetic which sometimes made cooking a tricky situation. Jessie stressed that it isn't only sugar that diabetics need to stay away from but also fatty foods. Since she focused on cooking healthy meal for her husband for many years, she still finds herself eating mostly low-fat foods. She said she loves salads and the trick to keeping a salad low in fat is to watch the dressing.

Jessie and Albert moved to Colorado City from South Texas in 1960. She said that at first she thought it was the end of the Earth. She quickly adapted to the dry climate and now she is quite fond of West Texas.

Jessie has two sons, James from Sugarland and Larry from West Columbia, both in the Houston area. She also has one daughter, Nancy Stevens who lives in Sterling City and 12 grandchildren. Jessie is an active member of Oak Street Baptist Church.

Webb, Dowell united June 28

Mrs. Randale Lynn (Sheryl) Dowell

Sheryl Robin Webb became the wife of Randale Lynn Dowell on June 28.

The bride is the daughter of Almaz and Linton Ray Webb. She is the granddaughter of Ruby Nayfa of Sweetwater. The groom is the son of Brenda and Billy Dowell and the grandson of Harty Lee Dowell and Imogene and Hoyt Hale all of Stephenville.

The double ring ceremony was held at 7:00 p.m. at the First Baptist Church of Loraine, with the Rev. Dan Marshall officiating. Van Christian held communion for the couple after they were pronounced husband and wife.

Musicians were Deb and Lynn McLarty of Snyder and Beau Brewer, cousin of the bride, of Sweetwater. Vocalists were Martha Anderson of Colorado City and Dan Marshall and Almaz Webb both of Loraine. Selections were "You Light Up My Life," "Wind Beneath My Wings," "Everything I Do, I Do It For You," "Ice Castles," "Butterfly Kisses," "The Lord's Prayer," "Can You Feel the Love Tonight," "Wedding March" and "Wedding Reccessional".

The bride was escorted by her father, Linton Ray Webb. She wore a white bridal gown of delicately beaded satin embroidered battenburg and schiffle style lace. The bodice featured a Sweetheart neckline set in basque. The bride's headpiece was a pearl battenburg open tiara with a delicately beaded rouché. The single layer waltz length veil of beaded illusion completely the headpiece. A matching pearl necklace and earrings completed her bridal attire.

The bride carried a cascading bouquet of gardenias surrounded by white roses and flowing English ivy tied with love knots of satin and lace streamers encrusted with seed pearls. The bouquet also held a handkerchief which is a family heirloom.

Maid of honor was Shell Webb of Grandbury and the matron of honor was Sherri Webb-Barton of Midland, both sisters of the bride. The bridesmaids were Lagenea Dowell of Stephenville and Lynette Sears of Snyder. The women wore ankle length, straight black crepe dresses featuring a scooped neckline which was enhanced with a pearl necklace and matching earrings. They carried a magnolia accented by a bow and streamers.

Best men were Bill and Andy Dowell of Stephenville, brothers of the groom. Groomsmen were Shane Stegall of Stephenville, brother-in-law of the groom and Chad Hale of Stephenville, cousin of the groom.

The groom and his attendants wore black tuxedos with boutonnieres of white roses.

Flowers girls were Kelci Frost of Stephenville, cousin of the bride and Morgan Stegall, of Stephenville, niece of the groom. They wore black and white backless princess-style dresses. Their hair was decorated with a halo of white flowers and they carried a basket of white rose petals. The ringbearer was Brady Dowell of Stephenville, nephew of the groom. He was dressed identical to the groomsmen.

Candlelighters were Brittany Frost of Stephenville, and Ronald Michael Dement of Odessa, both cousins of the bride. Their attire was identical to the bridesmaids and groomsmen.

Ushers were John Barton of Midland, brother-in-law of the bride, Tyson Hale of Stephenville, cousin of the groom, and Pepper Nix of El Dorado, cousin of the bride.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church fellowship hall.

The bride's table held a traditional three-tiered wedding cake topped with white roses, and baby's breath. A silver candelabrum with white tapers held the brides bouquet. Almond punch was served from a silver punch bowl. A fresh fruit and cheese table was provided for the guest.

The bride and groom toasted each other from crystal glasses belonging to the bride's grandmother, the late, Inez Webb, which were given to her as a wedding gift 70 years ago.

Members of the houseparty were Karen Pinkerton, Della Merket, Sheena Christian, Amber Blair, Susan Farr, and Karen Roberts. Mikka Hale and Ciara Hale of Stephenville passed out birdseed lace bags. Guest registry was done by Kaci Nix of Midland, bride's cousin and programs were handed out by Lauren Hackfeld of Loraine. Greetings to everyone!

Lula Leach called Tuesday to let us know that the Westbrook Golden Age Club annual barbeque will be held Saturday, Aug. 9 at the club's headquarters in Westbrook.

If you are hungry for some good barbeque with all the trimmings, head that way between 11 a.m. and 8 p.m. Brisket, sausage, chicken and hot links, along with pinto beans, potato salad, coleslaw and fruit cobbler will be sold.

Plates will be $4.50 for adults and $3.00 for children.

Doris and Tharon Henderson celebrated their 50th anniversary on August 5. A little family celebration is being planned for later. What is different about this special event from other 50th anniversary celebrations is the fact that Doris's mother, Pauline Smiley, is getting to help plan her daughter's golden wedding anniversary party.

Pauline doesn't look old enough or act old enough to have a daughter celebrating her 50th anniversary.

Congratulations to all involved!

The staff and residents of Valley Fair Lodge have already planned their project for "Make A Difference Day". They will be selling their resident-made quilts and earmarking the money to buy school supplies for needy students.

Juanita and L.O. Schafer have been busy attending family reunions. They haven't missed a reunion in the last twelve years!

George Walker, the new co-owner of Lone Wolf Autoplex was in San Diego attending the 1998 new car show this week. George said he hopes to keep about fifty new cars and trucks in stock at the former Hutchins Ford. Watch for his grand opening soon!

The TDCJ Day in the Park was a huge success and a lot of fun for all involved. The funniest thing happened during the tug-of-war! If you weren't there, you'll just have to ask Assistant Warden Mohr about it! He was the anchor man on the Wallace Unit team and he had a little trouble keeping his feet and his pants in the right place! I've said enough!

Gayle Cooper told me about some really easy ice cream you can make with just two ingredients! Pour one can sweetened condensed milk into your freezer. Fill freezer with your favorite soda...Big Red, orange, Coke, Dr. Pepper, etc. and freeze according to directions.

She said it was very good...and it can't get much easier.

I had a nice visit with Odie Wise Tuesday morning. You may remember him from the Chief Lone Wolf article that ran the first of July. It was about looking for gold close to where Mr. Wise used to live.

He said, Tuesday, he knows it's still there and he's going to look again when the weeds die down.

Not a bad ambition for an 85-year-old man with only one lung (he lost his other in the war).

Emily, Janice and Cecil Oursbourn, former residents of Colorado City, stopped by Sunday on their way home to Lonoke, Ark.

The Oursbourns were on their way back from a visit with Cecil's parents, who live in Olton, Texas.

Special thanks to Ginny Harmon for the wonderful peanut butter and chocolate fudge she brought us. The staff enjoyed fighting over it!

Call us with your news! Our number is 728-3413, ask for Sheila or Sylvia.

Lone Star Gas extends due date for bills

Lone Star Gas customers will soon have a longer grace period to pay their gas bills on time.

Beginning August 1, 1997, the due date for customers gas bills will be extended from 10 days to 15 days. This extension should give customers greater flexibility in paying their bills on time and should be particularly helpful to those on fixed incomes.

It is also anticipated that the extension will reduce the number of related calls to the company phone centers making it easier for other customers to obtain faster service.

First Hillcrest Addition house to be ready soon

The first Hillcrest Addition house is expected to be set up by the middle of August, followed by three more manufactured homes.

"A pre-grand opening will be held Aug. 16 or sooner to let the community and prospective home buyers know we are here," said Dell Toelkes, project manager for Covenant Communities.

Speaking before the Noon Lions Club Friday, Toelkes said that the first house will be used as a marketing office. The model homes will show three floor plans ranging from 1,049 square feet to 1,400 square feet.

The engineering firm will have plans for the complete development ready by next week, August 12, around the same time as the final plans are approved, said Toelkes.

Home buyers will be able to move into their homes within 30 to 45 days.

The $40,000 to $50,000 homes are intended to provide affordable homes for moderate income people. The state of Texas, in a push for affordable homes, will pay the $5,000 downpayment for those who qualify.

People who make $20,000 to $25,000 per year can usually make their monthly payments all right but have a hard time coming up with the down payment, said Toelkes. He pointed out that anyone can buy the homes but only qualified homebuyers can receive the down payment assistance.

The Hillcrest Addition has been a joint effort that includes county donation of the land and a $492,136 grant from the Department of Housing and Community Affairs to help the city cover water, sewage, paving and drainage costs.

Inmates work on city project

Wallace and Ware Unit inmates are cleaning lots throughout Colorado City for a joint city, county and Christmas In April beautification effort.

The on-going project began about three weeks ago and involves an extensive area, largely west of Cherry Street to the Wallace Unit.

Eighty to 100 inmates are working five days a week on the project, clearing underbrush, stumps and debris but leaving the trees except in right-of-ways.

Land owners with property east and southeast of the Wallace Unit have been contacted for permission to have the land cleared of debris and cleaned up at no cost.

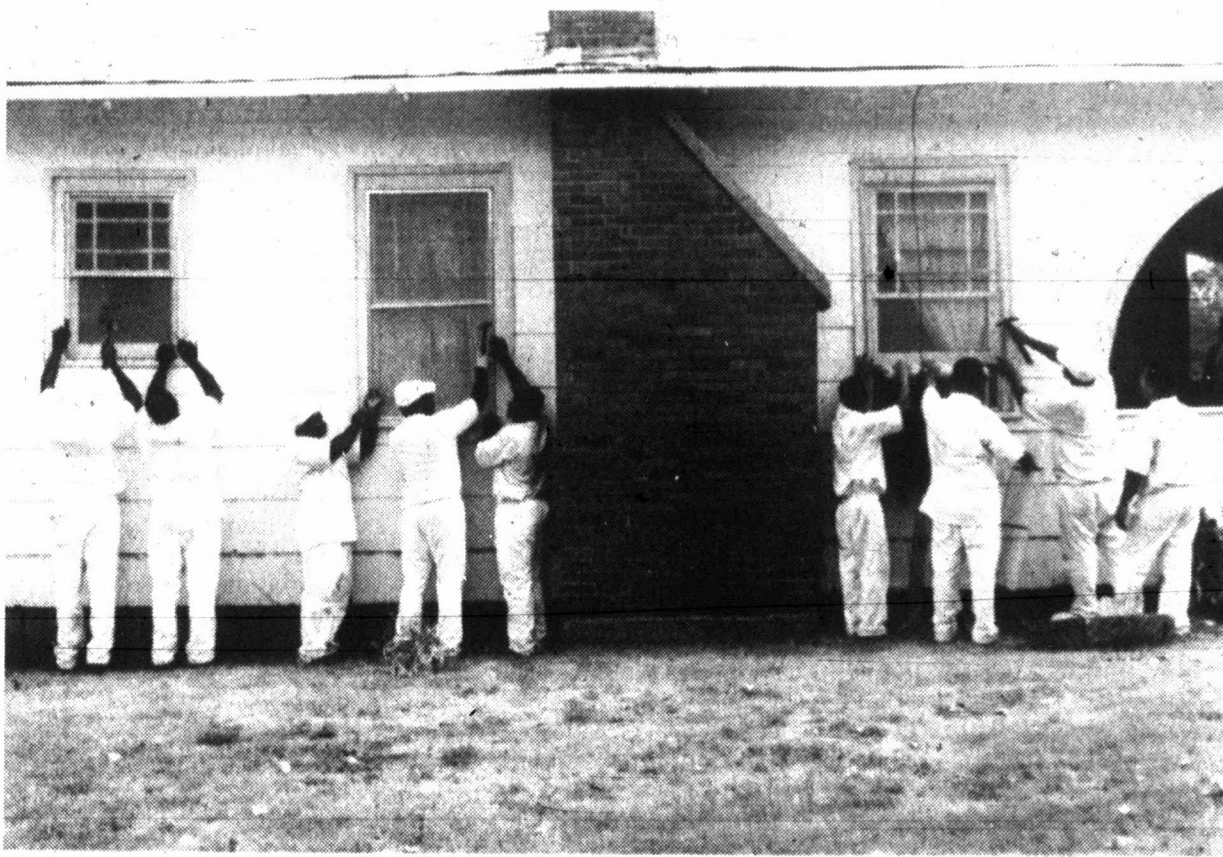

"If anyone has not returned their signed permission form, please do so as soon as possible," said Jan Lemons, Christmas In April coordinator.

Christmas In April is a volunteer program to repair and rehabilitate homes of low income and disabled owners. In Mitchell County, the program has evolved into a beautification program operating throughout the year.

CHRISTMAS IN APRIL/AUGUST: TDCJ inmates put up screens on a house on 8th Street Monday, one of the last projects to be completed for the Christmas In April effort.

TDCJ INMATES clear land west of Cherry Street for a joint city, county and Christmas In April beautification project. A few weeks ago this land that stretches from 8th Street and Cherry to the Wallace Unit was covered in brush. A pile of brush to the front right of the picture contains rusted buckets and cans that appear to have been there for many years.

TDCJ PICNIC: Wallace Unit staff, with Assistant Warden Gary Mohr at the front, struggle and strain to keep from being pulled into Lone Wolf Creek. The Wallace Unit crew's efforts paid off as they were the victors in the tug-of-war contest with Ware Unit staff during Saturday's TDCJ Appreciation Day Picnic at Ruddick Park.

C-City warns citizens against stealing water

The city manager of Colorado City sent a clear message last week that the city won't tolerate stealing of water.

City officials are filing misdemeanor charges on two people for theft of water. In one case, the person's water had been cut off and the resident hooked the water connection back up. In the other, the homeowner used a jumper pipe, hooking up to the line on his neighboring lot.

The city chose to charge the two with municipal offenses rather than on a state level which has the possibility of state jail prison time, City Manager Steve Shutt said. The municipal offense is a class C misdemeanor which carries a fine up to $500.

The city's new water meter reader, Clay McMillan, discovered the unauthorized water usage.

Teenager headed for TYC facility

The young Colorado City teenager, charged with desecration of the United Methodist Church this year, is headed to Texas Youth Commission after his probation was revoked Friday.

The youth will go to TYC's State Reception Center in Marlin before being sent to a TYC facility.

Mitchell County Judge Ray Mayo presided at a hearing concerning the teen's probation Friday morning.

Juvenile Probation Officer David Maner recommended that the youth's probation be terminated because of technical violations of his probation and new offenses that included putting graffiti on the Austin Street Bridge and a private residence.

"He was convicted of four out of five new charges," said Maner.

TYC officials will determine the youth's sentence. The minimum sentence is nine months while the maximum would be until the young teen reaches the age of 21.

Earlier this year the youth was given a probationary sentence after being charged with desecrating the United Methodist Church in Colorado City.

His partner, George Walker, has lived in Colorado City since 1980. He has been in the automobile business 16 years, the past eight years with Toliver Autoplex in Sweetwater.

"This is a great opportunity for Don and I and we look forward to serving the people of Mitchell County," Walker said.

George's wife, Pam, is an elementary school teacher at Kelley and they have one daughter, Elizabeth.

The initial step in buying the automobile business was taken in December when Walker and Vest visited and discussed the possibility of purchasing the dealership. In January they met with Ford Motor Company officials and the sale was completed Friday, August 1.

Besides a business name change to "Lone Wolf Autoplex", the partners said the biggest change will be expanding the business hours.

Lone Wolf Autoplex will be open from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday through Friday and open Saturday from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m.

"We'll be where you can shop for cars on Saturday," Walker said.

$15,000, saving the average homeowner an estimated $140 per year in property taxes, based on an average school tax rate of $1.40.

The amendment was submitted by the 75th Texas Legislature in the regular session. The Senate and the House agreed to use a $1 billion surplus in state revenue to fund the increased property tax exemption.

State officials expect a low voter turnout despite a massive multimedia effort to increase voter turnout Aug. 9.

According to the secretary of state's office, statewide turnout for constitutional elections generally is about 15 percent.

Homeowners and teachers both have a stake in the outcome of the Aug. 9 referendum. The state legislature mandated raises for teachers this school year but the pay raises are tied directly to the referendum's passage.

Governor George Bush has said school districts will be reimbursed dollar for dollar. However, superintendents around the state say they are concerned that the state-mandated raise is not fully funded, will not be funded after the first year, leaving districts to pick up part of the cost at local taxpayer expense.

Chris Anzaldua participates in U.S. Navy training exercise

Chris Anzaldua

When your job is to maintain freedom of the seas and help prevent conflicts from occurring throughout the world, you can't afford to amble through the water in a ship with an idle and untrained crew.

The U.S. Navy and Marine Corps have a tremendous responsibility. They must be on the scene of a humanitarian crisis or conflict in a moment's notice, and, if called upon, provide a flawless, swift and decisive action.

Recently, Navy Airman Christopher M. Anzaldua, the 20-year-old grandson of Antonett and the late Leon Molina of Colorado City and the 1995 graduate of Colorado High, and the rest of the crew of the amphibious assault ship USS Peleliu, put months of intense training to the test during Exercise Kernel Blitz. The massive training exercise held off the coast of Southern California demonstrated the capability of the Navy and Marine Corps to work together during a simulated overseas crisis.

"Kernel Blitz gave us practice for a war time situation," said Anzaldua, a 1995 graduate of Colorado City High School.

The two-week exercise held in late June and early July involved more than 12,000 Sailors and Marines and provided an opportunity to improve operating procedures and techniques. Anzaldua knows it's important for the Navy and Marine Corps to train together in order to maintain a high level of operational readiness for both branches.

"We train with the Marine Corps so we can communicate better," Anzaldua said.

Anzaldua, an aircraft handler aboard the Peleliu, plays a major role in launching and recovering naval aircraft.

The San Diego-based Peleliu is part of a three-ship amphibious ready group (ARG) that includes the amphibious warfare ships USS Comstock and USS Anchorage. The entire group of ships is scheduled to deploy to the Arabian Gulf with more than 2,000 Marines from the 15th Marine Expeditionary Unit (MEU) in late August.

The admiral in charge of all naval amphibious ships based in San Diego had nothing but praise for the Sailors and Marines that participated in the exercise.

"Kernel Blitz demonstrated quite clearly that our amphibious Sailors and Marines are the best trained and combat-ready forces the nation deploys, and I was thoroughly impressed by the warfighting prowess they displayed," said Rear Adm. David Brewer, commander of Amphibious Group Three in San Diego. "The exercise proved our amphibious ready group is ready, and can rapidly and effectively respond to the full spectrum of crises the force could face during its deployment."

The Peleliu ARG is uniquely designed to conduct assault missions from the sea while operating near coastal regions. During an amphibious assault, the 820-foot ship is able to land hundreds of Marines on a beach and then serve as a command and control station; providing logistic and communication support to Marine forces ashore.

With dozens of volatile regions throughout the world, Anzaldua believes it's imperative for his ship to make routine six-month deployments overseas.

"We deploy to protect and keep the peace," said Anzaldua, a two-year Navy veteran.

Kernel Blitz was a "warm up" for the Peleliu. Once the 39,000-ton assault ship is on station in the Arabian Gulf, it will enforce U.N. sanctions against Iraq as part of Operation Southern Watch. Anzaldua feels the training received during the exercise will serve him and the Peleliu's crew well when deployed overseas.

"This exercise has helped me become more effective," Anzaldua said.

The United States Navy and Marine Corps must be able to respond quickly to a multitude of crises around the world. Joint training exercises like Kernel Blitz ensure that Sailors and Marines can successfully project power and take decisive action in any situation.

Becky Rich, owner of the Merle Norman Cosmetic Studio located at 1928 Austin St., recently traveled to Los Angeles to attend an intensive two-week training course at Merle Norman Cosmetics' corporate headquarters. Joining a nationwide network of more than 2,000 Merle Norman cosmetic Studios, Becky successfully completed the rigorous certification program required of all Merle Norman Cosmetic Studio Owners.

According to Sharon Smiley, Director of Education for Merle Norman cosmetics, the two-week course included product knowledge, trends in and application of color cosmetics and business management. Becky was also trained in advanced skin care technology, including Alpha Hydroxy Acids, anti-oxidants and SPF and the roles they play in today's preventive skin care products.

Personalized customer service was emphasized—the ability to work one-on-one with each customer, helping them select and learn to use products that fit their look and lifestyle—was key. Cosmetic trends, determined by fashion statements being made on the runways of Paris, Milan and New York each season, were also an integral part of the training as was the Company's signature "Before and After Makeover."

Becky also learned advanced business management techniques, including strategies for co-op advertising, market-

Texas Utilities finalizes merger with ENSERCH Corporation

Texas Utilities Company announced Tuesday that it completed its merger with ENSERCH Corporation at 9 a.m. Tuesday.

The two Dallas-based energy services companies agreed to combine operations last year. ENSERCH is an integrated natural gas company with established operations in natural gas distribution, transmission, processing, and electric power generation.

Under the terms of the agreement announced on April 15, 1996, ENSERCH becomes a wholly owned subsidiary of TU. ENSERCH includes Lone Star Gas Company, the largest natural gas distribution company in Texas and one of the largest in the nation, Lone Star Pipeline Company, and other related energy services companies.

ENSERCH's exploration and production company, Enserch Exploration Inc., will be spun off by ENSERCH just prior to closing. The alliance will create a comprehensive energy services company serving more than 2.8 million customers in north and central Texas.

Customers will continue to contact both TU Electric and Lone Star Gas in the same way. In the coming months, customers can expect gradual changes in daily operations. Teams of TU and ENSERCH employees have identified numerous ways the merger can be translated into better customer service and increased shareholder value.

Erle Nye, chairman and chief executive of TU Company, will head the new organization. He was elected chairman on May 23, 1997, succeeding Jerry Farrington, who was named chairman emeritus. David Biegler, former chairman, president and chief executive office of ENSERCH Corporation, will be president and chief operating officer of TU Company.

Prior to his election to chairman, Nye served as president and chief executive of TU Company. An electrical engineer and attorney, Nye serves on the boards of civic, professional, educational and industry associations throughout the state. The graduate of Texas A&M University was appointed by Governor George W. Bush to serve a six-year term on the Board of Regents of the Texas A&M University System.

In June, Nye was selected by President Bill Clinton to serve on a five-member advisory committee studying the security of the nations infrastructures. He is the only electric utility executive appointed to the Advisory Committee to the President's Commission on Critical Infrastructure Protection. Nye is also a member of the U.S. Department of Energy Electric System Reliability Task Force convened last year.

Nye is chairman of the North American Electric Reliability Council, a member of the Nuclear Energy Institute executive committee and board, and a director of the Edison Electric Institute.

His charitable interests include serving as a director of the Dallas Foundation, The Nature Conservancy of Texas, Boys & Girls Clubs of America, and The Science Place.

Biegler, who will have responsibility for the company's generation, distribution, pipeline and transmission groups, is a 30-year veteran of the energy industry. He has held management positions in the exploration, production, oil field services, transmission pipeline, and distribution areas of the natural gas industry. Biegler was named chairman, president and chief executive officer of ENSERCH Corporation in 1993.

Also active in professional and community affairs, Biegler is first vice chairman of the American Gas Association and a member of the National Petroleum Council. In Texas, Biegler is either a director or trustee for the Texas Business & Education Coalition, Texas Taxpayers & Research League, and St. Mary's University. His civic and charitable causes include the Circle Ten Council of the Boy Scouts of America, Children's Health Services of Texas, Southwestern Medical Foundation, and United Way of Metropolitan Dallas. He is chairman of the Dallas Citizens Council and an immediate past-chairman of the Greater Dallas Chamber of Commerce.

Texas Utilities Company is an investor-owner holding company headquartered in Dallas, Texas. It includes companies engaged in electric utility services, international electric distribution, natural gas transmission and storage, lignite coal mining, telecommunications and other energy-related businesses.

Ranch horse contestants sought for fair

Contestants are being sought to enter the Ranch Horse Competition to be held during this year's Mitchell County Fair. The event will be held during the last night of the fair, Sept. 20. During a ranch horse competition, a cowboy demonstrates a ranch horse's ability to work cattle.

Local ranches are urged to participate. Local ranch hands are asked to contact Officer Charles Rice, ranch horse competition organizer, at the Colorado City Police Department by Thursday, Aug. 14 if they plan to enter the contest.

The entry fee is $50. Prize money will be awarded to first, second and third place winners.

Contest rules specify that:

- The horse entered in the contest must be used on the ranch as a ranch horse.
- The horse must be a gelding and be owned by the ranch or an employee of the ranch.
- The contest rules define "ranches" as a working cattle operation whose main source of income is cattle.

NEW MURALS AT KELLEY ELEMENTARY: Colorado Middle School art students, under the direction of art teacher Tom Kelly, began murals on the walls outside the classrooms last spring. The murals will be completed this school year. Individual mural pictures reflect things that the teachers especially like. This picture of dalmatians is outside teacher Jodi Darr's classroom.

LAUNCH PROGRAM AT KELLEY: Kelley Elementary teacher Leah Daves reads the book "This Is The House That Jack Built" to Launch Program students Monday. The Launch Program at Kelley began July 21 and ended Aug. 5. Designed for kindergarten, first and second graders, the program gave students a jump start before the actual beginning of school.

Kelley students get jump start

Around 50 Kelley Elementary students got a jump start on learning by taking part in the recent Launch program.

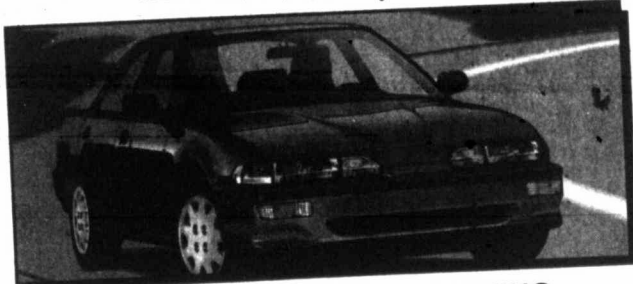

The Launch Program, named after Kelley's logo "Launching The Future", was funded by Academics 2000. It began July 21 and ended Aug. 5, a little more than a week before school officially begins.

Students in kindergarten, first and second grade attended 12 days of intensive instruction that included everything from letter recognition to computer work to a field trip to the park.

Although the special summer school was open to all students in the lower grades, the district sent invitations to students who would benefit the most from the "just before school" school.

Kindergarten students who had never been in regular school before, got a preview of school and learned some skills that will help launch them to academic success.

Sport leaner, meaner look...

Wolves ready for district run!

Ask Coach Bill Grissom how he expects to improve on last year's 8-3, district runner-up play-off team and he'll tell you. You win district and take the play-offs to a higher level.

"We will be a smaller football team this year size wise but we will have much more speed and quickness," said Coach Grissom.

Coach Grissom had reason to be optimistic about the prospect of fielding a championship team. All-State running back Arian Emerson, (6-0, 170), will be returning for his senior year. He rushed for 1,841 yards mark this year.

Colorado City will once again operate out of the I formation on offense with Emerson at the tailback slot and Chris Fambro opening up holes from his fullback position. On defense they will employ a split 6 look with all-district linebacker Fambro and all-district defensive tackle Jeffrey Anzaldua leading the way. Defensive back Bingo Nelson and free safety Terry Green will help patrol the airways.

Expected to lead the team at quarterback this season will be Armando Rocha. He kept his arm busy this summer tossing passes in the 7 on 7 summer league.

Zack Love and Marcus Sanchez have departed to play college ball leaving a leaner but quicker offensive line. Expected to line up at center this year will newcomer Javier Quintero who comes off the ball real quick. Flanking him at the guard position will be Abel Bonilla and possibly Rashad Walthall. The tackle slots will probably be manned by Jeffrey Anzaldua and Ricky Molina. Adam Wood is the leading candidate for the tight end position although there are several good receivers out there.

"Sophomore John McSpadden will move up to the varsity this year and he should add some much need depth to our backfield," said Coach Grissom. "Though not as fast as Emerson, he can be very deceptive at times."

A pleasant surprise for Coach Grissom this year was the addition of kicker/receiver Randy Byington to his squad. Byington is a junior transfer from Westbrook and will have to adapt to playing 11-man ball. He has field goal range of 45 to 50 yards according to some observers. "I observed him in summer league play and he has good hands so we may use him some at a wide out," said Grissom. Other folks expected to help out this year will be Philip Castro, Chris Valenzuela, and Jesse Rios.

"Our schedule will be a lot tougher than last year," said Coach Grissom. "We open on the road against Stanton and Stamford in our first two games and they are both pre-season favorites to win their district this year. In fact Stamford is ranked in the pre-season poll top ten. Both of these teams will give us a very good test early."

Ballinger will be the opponent in the third game and although they are only picked seventh in district they are always known to be very competitive.

Calvary Baptist hosting B-T-S lock-in Aug. 8

Calvary Baptist Church is having a "Back to School Youth Lock-In. On August 8th, they will be going to Midland, Texas. Such events as basketball, volleyball, water balloon volleyball, human football, ping-pong, and football will be just a few of the events that are planned for the evening. They will be ordering pizza in Midland."

If you are going into the seventh through twelfth grades

"We finish our non-district schedule with Clint at Odessa's Ratliff Stadium and then play Lamesa for our Homecoming," said Grissom. Both teams will be much improved over last year. Our district schedule will also be tougher and more balanced than in previous years. If we stay healthy we will definitely compete for the district championship."

The "fighting Wolves" open two-a-days on Wednesday, August 6th at 7:30 a.m.

The first real look at the Wolves in action will be on Thursday August 21st when they host Wall in a scrimmage game. The following week the Wolves travel to Winters to do battle against the always tough "Blizzards" in their final scrimmage.

Coach Grissom predicts the top 3 finishers in district 4-3A to be Colorado City, Crane and Midland Greenwood.

"We are real excited about our chances this year and we are ready to get started," said Grissom. "We are entering our third year here now and the kids know what I expect from them. Our entire coaching staff has returned intact and I feel we have a great group of players and coaches."

Gentlemen, start your engines. The race is on!

7-A six-man preview...

Loraine Bulldogs face rebuilding year

Despite the fact that there are only two returning lettermen from a 3-7 squad of last year, Loraine's new head football Coach Ronn Langthorn is optimistic about the upcoming season.

"We could do well depending on how our kids respond," said Coach Langthorn. "I do believe we will be competitive and win some games along the way."

Loraine lost eight senior lettermen off last year's team and numbers could pose a problem this year. "I'm looking at 14 and 15 coming out this year," said Langthorn. "We will definitely be young and inexperienced."

Loraine will be operating out of a multiple set offense this year utilizing the I, wing, and slot formations. On defense Coach Langthorn will use a 3-2-1 front or 2-3-1. "It's going to depend on our opponent as to what defense we will employ," said Coach Langthorn.

Expected to lead the young bulldogs this year will be seniors Marcus Garcia and Greg Limones. Despite leading the team with 98 tackles last year, Garcia was completely snubbed in the All-District voting by area coaches. Greg Limones will be heavily counted on at defensive end and in the offensive backfield. Junior Josh Woodell is expected to anchor the offensive line at center. Senior Dee Givens will be up from the JV team and could also play a key role in Loraine's future.

"I'm expecting big things from Dee," said Coach Langthorn. "He may be one of our best newcomers."

Hampered by injuries, Leonard "Bubba" Williams

did not play a game last year but will be heavily used if healthy this year. Williams has speed to burn if able to get in the open. He will be a junior this year.

Also expected to help out in the backfield will be Chris Morris and sophomore Mike Rico. "Those two could battle it out for the quarterback job," said assistant Coach Victor Garcia.

Help could also come in the way of sophomores Edward Carrington, T.J. Aguilar, Pablo Alfaro and Jesse McDaniel. "Because of lack of depth these guys could get a lot of play," said Coach Langthorn. "We'll have a better idea of what to expect once two-a-days start this week."

One thing Coach Langthorn will be starting that should pay dividends is a "Foundation Program" for all athletes. "We will lift weights two or three days a week and run on opposite days," said Langthorn. "Our running will consist of running ropes, backwards running, and hurdles. It should add strength and agility to our kids."

Two-a-days will start on Wednesday, August 6, at 7:30 a.m. They will play host to Abilene Christian on Thursday, August 21 at a time to be announced later. Abilene is a perennial district champion and should prove to be a good test for the Bulldogs. Of Loraine's non-district foes, only one (Sidney) is not picked first or second in their district and they were a 9-2 playoff team last year.

"I am anxious to get started this year and I hope the community will come out and support us," said Coach Langthorn. "It's very vital in a rebuilding program like we have this year."

Can Your Child See Well Enough To Learn?

When your children enter school this fall, about 80% of what they learn will come through sight. Yet 4 out of 10 children have vision problems that can inhibit school achievement. Most vision problems cannot be detected by the familiar eye chart test for 20/20 vision. Help make your child's future crystal clear.

DOES YOUR CHILD...

- Avoid close work?
- Hold reading material too close?
- Show excessive head movement while reading?
- Lose his place while reading?
- Rub eyes frequently?
- Make reversals while reading?
- Often have headaches?
- Uses a finger to maintain his place while reading?

If so, we recommend having your child's vision tested.

FROM: THE STAFF OF THE "80 JOHN" WALLACE UNIT AND DICK WARE TRANSFER FACILITY

We would like to express our sincere appreciation for the "TDCJ APPRECIATION DAY IN THE PARK".

The staff and their families had a wonderful time participating in all the scheduled activities.

We would like to express a special thanks to all the sponsors of the event and all the people who worked so hard all day Saturday to make the event successful.

We are very proud to be part of such a fine community and hope to be good neighbors for many years to come.

THANKS AGAIN FOR ALL YOU DO FOR TDCJ!

CHIEF LONE WOLF

BY JIM BAUM

Their memories are a little hazy now, but that's understandable. It's been 50 years or so since they were a dynamic bunch known as the Colorado City Jaycees, the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

"We started the Jaycees before World War II," Pete Warren recalled. But, America's involvement overseas brought local projects to a quick halt.

"After the war, we started up again," Warren continued. He credits Charles Root with being one of the driving forces behind the re-organization effort.

"The Jaycee president was a lawyer," Warren told us, "and after just two or three months he was transferred to Lubbock." Warren, who was vice president, then assumed the presidency and filled out the unexpired term.

To thumb through Jaycee scrapbooks and monthly reports is to begin to realize the vast scope of their involvement in community projects. Most of the Exalted Roosters, as Jaycees past the age of 35 were known, remembered helping build the community in a variety of ways. Like when the city needed some assistance.

"When the city needed a water line in the north part of town," former Jaycee Bill Carter told us, "we laid it for 'em. We laid the water line."

Carter also remembers the Jaycees sponsored city wide clean up campaigns. "More often than once a year," he added. "I had an old flat bed truck and we used it. We had 15 or 20 Jaycees on a truck and we would hit this town on a Saturday morning and get after it."

Jimmy Harrison, a charter member of the Jaycees, says the club's activities were endless. "We were involved in getting an iron lung (during the fearful days of polio)," Harrison stated. "And we built a softball field." The Jaycees also sponsored a popular softball league which was a real money maker for the organization.

The Jaycees were active on many other fronts; they joined the debate over the use of DDT, sponsored voter registration drives, and threw their support behind the new museum.

Another function of the club in the late '40's and early 1950's was to welcome newcomers to Colorado City. The person who represented the Jaycees was the personable Janie Hamrick (Henderson).

"I graduated from high school in 1949 and started to work for the Jaycees as secretary," she recalled. Her job included typing the Jaycee newsletter, The Echo, as well as serving as the official greeter to newcomers.

"This was during the oil boom," Henderson recalled, "and I went around to the newcomers. We made up this book of gifts and discounts form the merchants."

During this time, the Jaycee offices were located upstairs in the building south of Corky's Tru-Value. One copy of the Echo makes it obvious Mrs. Henderson was a good emissary for the Jaycees and the community.

In a story written by the late Tom Goss, also a Jaycee, he tells about a lady asking him at the post office for directions.

"Can you tell me where I can find the Junior Chamber of Commerce office?" she asked. Then Goss said the lady explained. "The sweetest little girl called on me and greeted me to Colorado City. Her name was Janie something. I just wanted to go up to their office and thank them!"

(Just another friendly service of your local Jaycees, ma'am). But, back to the Jaycee projects. Jimmy Harrison mentioned building a softball field. It was on Chestnut Street. Bill Carter also worked on that project.

"It was built entirely with Jaycee labor," he told us. "Bill Craddock ran the concrete mixer and I pushed the wheel barrow. REA and Texas Electric helped us with the lights."

Jaycee meetings were held in the Baker Hotel, then later, in the National Guard armory, which was given to the club.

"We met there for years and years," Carter recalled. Harrison says the facility was remodeled by Jaycees and meals were "out of this world."

(The cooks were identified by various Jaycees we talked to as "Porter Richardson's mother," "Howard Bynum's mother," and "Roy Smith's mother").

Make no mistake about it; it was an honor to be in the Jaycees, Dr. Jene Steakley told us. "We would have as many as 60, 80, even a hundred at our meetings."

The Jaycees kept meticulous records on all of their projects and record books were submitted for state and national honors. Dr. Steakley recalls an agricultural project which was headed by Jaycee Elmer Martin (who worked for the U.S. Soil and Conservation Service).

"We had this plot of land over on the southside, by the cities sewer treatment plant. I think it was about five acres," Steakley added. Cotton was planted and, Steakley says, "it seems like we made 6 or 7 bales to the acre."

The land was irrigated and as you may have already imagined, the Jaycees were hooking on to the city's sewer water to cultivate the crop.

"We had to wear hip boots to work over there," Steakley continued, "and pretty soon that cotton was nearly as tall as we were."

And pretty soon the neighbors in that area were complaining about the odor coming from the Jaycees cotton field.

"Some residents turned us in and we had to stop," Steakley concluded.

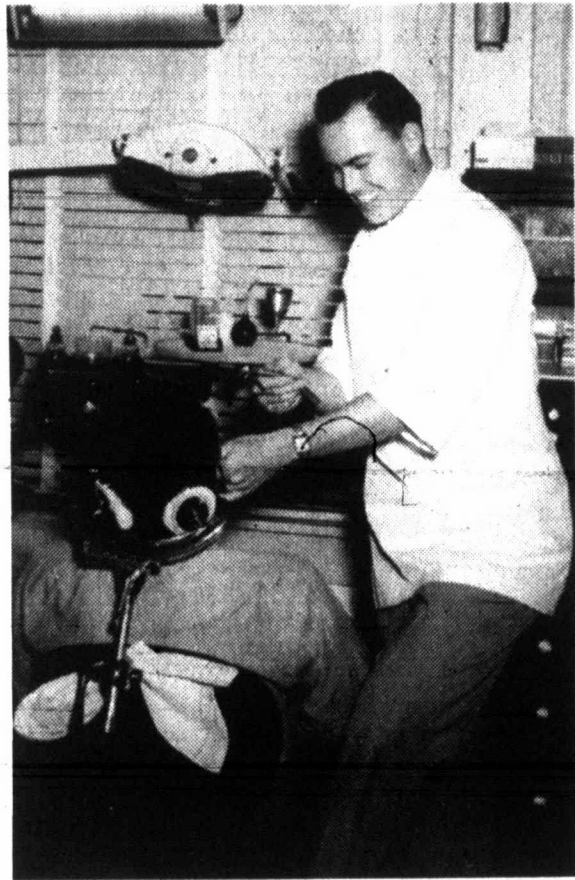

Bob Ratliff, another Jaycee, worked with Martin on the project. "He and I put the agricultural part of the scrapbook together," Ratliff laughed. "I think we won first in the state with it."

That was the first year the Jaycees grew cotton. The project was disbanded midway through the second crop.

(More on the Jaycees next week).

TU Electric sets record last week

With recent temperatures hovering around the 100 degree mark, TU Electric set a record last week for peak electrical usage.

The record 20,334,000 kilowatts of electrical usage occurred Tuesday, July 29 at 4 p.m.

The record was a 3.3 percent increase over last year's 19,668,000 kilowatts.

The peak electric load for 1994 was 18.17 million and increased to 19.2 million kilowatts in 1995.

"With the cooler temperatures this week, this could be our record for the year. We still have an opportunity to break that record but typically temperatures start declining in August," Dale Higgenbotham, TU plant manager, said Tuesday.

All units were online and functioning at the TU plant in Colorado City when usage peaked last week. Units four, five, six and all six combustion turbines were operating, said Higgenbotham.

To help customers control the effects of hot weather on their electric use, TU Electric's home page on the Internet includes a Home Energy Efficiency Tour (HEET). HEET is designed to show consumers where their energy dollar goes, some simple ways to conserve electricity year-round and which new homes are the most energy efficient.

Internet users may access TU Connections Web Site at <http://www.tu.com/heet>.

Loraine News

Greetings from Loraine

For sure, it's a smart thing to leave one's car window down an inch or so in this hot weather when it is left unattended. The only problem I have with this action is that little things with wings fly in and forget to fly out.

I was on the interstate before I knew I was not alone and I had to fight off two wasps with an unopened envelope from Allstate Insurance Co. (Most assuredly wanting money). At that moment, I was an accident waiting to happen so at least if I died with two wasps, my insurance was still valid.

Before long the wasps flew up under my dash board and have yet to come out. (I expect them at any moment to show). Do you think snakes can crawl up a car door? Have mercy!

Rev. Glenda Johnson is on a vacation at this time. She took two of her grandsons with her, going to Lake Brownwood. Glenda's daughter and her husband live there. Mr. and Mrs. Ross Smith.

Robert Fowler and family from Chicago are expected to be here this week. Robert is D.C. and Dorothy Fowler's son and he and his wife have three children.

Joan Long told me that Narl continues to do well. Monday, August 4th, he went to back to Lubbock for a stress test and to see his cardiologist.

Lisa Mitchell will be working all week this week starting Monday, August 4th in the post office again. She told me Mandy had gone to Houston and Galveston for the Thompson reunion.

To help Bea Lee celebrate her 87th birthday in July were Billie Rutherford from Lubbock; Jean Johnson from Spur; Bobbie and Milburn Knox; Shirley Clifton with Jennifer; Gerrie Roeover and three girls from New Mexico; Jennifer and Kolby from Amarillo; Teresa and son from Levelland; along with Melissa and Lynn O'pine and son from Lubbock.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Sealy of Snyder visited in the home of Annie Belle Jones Sunday.

Richard and Barbara Blair from Richland Hills, Ft Worth were here Saturday and part of Sunday visiting with Richard's mother, Ruth Richburg.

Eva Wells spent last weekend with Cecil and Katrina Robinson and all their children from Abilene. The crowd celebrated Katrina's birthday eating outdoors doing grill cooking and a lot of good visiting.

D.C. and Dorothy Fowler along with granddaughter, Donnica, recently attended a Wiley and Johnson family reunion centering in and around Tyler, Texas. Attending church services, plus a lot of visiting and eating took place. Dorothy said somewhere between 200 to 300 people attended. While there they toured other places including visiting the oil museum in Kilgore. This reunion was a three day affair so they did get to see a lot of people and tour different places. In 1850A community was started with the descendents of the people that congregated there this year. Hometowns represented were in Texas, California, Colorado, Illinois, Kansas, Oklahoma and Michigan.

Tharon and Doris Henderson have become well acquainted with the animals at Abilene zoo lately as they took granddaughter Morgan for a visit one recent Tuesday and on the next Tuesday took granddaughter Ashley. They found the giraffes to be the most friendly and social animals there. The girls are from Midland.

Henry Garza told me Friday with a big smile on his face that he has a new grandson. A tiny 4 lb. 1 1/2 oz. baby boy. Israel Enrique Beltran was born July 30. Parents are Juan and Maria Beltran. Maternal grandparents are Manuel and Marie Beltran and paternal grandparents are Henry and Epifania Garza. Congratulations to all.

Chaplain Eddie Riley was the speaker for Sunday morning service at 11 a.m. and again for evening service at 6 pm at United Methodist Church this past Sunday, August 3.

We still have concerns for Rudy Bauman. Our most recent information about him is that he had a pacemaker implanted and is now back in Mitchell County Hospital.

Beverly Johnson has been in town visiting with her mother, Dorothy Johnson, for the past several days.

Voncel Muse from Dallas has been here spending most of the summer with her sister and brother-in-law. Her family is Elaine and Alfred McMichael.

Bea Lee told me that she recently had five grandsons, Cobe, Cliff, Eddie, Terry and Iburn plus two daughters that came to her house, rolled up their sleeves and painted the exterior of her house. Then the workers, trimmed trees, mowed and hauled away trash. Talk about nice children! Isn't that great!

On August 8th a picnic at Ruddick park is planned.

Members having birthdays in August are Hazel Pratt, Ollie Gale, Effie Stevens, and Top Lucas. The party will be on the 25th at 2:30.

On August 12 and 26th members will receive either a small coke or small ice cream cone free of charge at Burger King. Isn't that great!

Senior Center Before the noon meal last Friday, all members, guests and employees took part in a fire drill. In the absence of fire chief Bowen, Rick Bailey conducted the drill. Everyone left the premises in an orderly manner and it took only 45 seconds to vacate the building. "We did good," fireman Bailey said.

Millie Rose is back after a week's vacation. She said she had a good time resting, going and visiting. Maxine Pierson worked Millie's job in her absence and she did a great job as well as Millie and Nora always do.

On Wednesday, August 6th, Mildred and Curtis Jarratt will come over and entertain us. We are looking forward to it. They are both so good with their music.

The Snyder Kitchen band will be here Friday, August 8th. Come over... they are good!

"Funny Bones" A lady was praying at church and she thought she had received a divine message which said, "Because you have lived a good life. I'm going to give you 40 more years to live."

In order to make the most of her extra time, she had a face lift and other parts of her anatomy tucked and raised as well. She looked fantastic.

Months later she was killed while crossing the street by a big truck.

When she got to heaven she asked the Lord, why did you take me so soon after giving me 40 more years? The Lord replied, "My dear lady, I didn't recognize you..."

1997 PROPERTY TAX RATES IN MITCHELL COUNTY

THIS NOTICE CONCERNS 1997 PROPERTY TAX RATES FOR MITCHELL COUNTY. It presents information about three tax rates. Last year's tax rate is the actual rate the taxing unit used to determine property taxes last year. This year's EFFECTIVE tax rate would impose the same total taxes as last year if you compare properties taxed in both years. This year's ROLLBACK tax rate is the highest tax rate the taxing unit can set before taxpayers can start tax rollback procedures. In each case, these rates are found by dividing the total amount of taxes by the tax base (the total value of taxable property) with adjustments as required by state law. The rates are given per $100 of property value.

CARD OF THANKS

Thank You

I would like to express our many thanks to Kiker-Seale & Nicole for the wonderful service and especially to Valley Fair Lodge. Thanks also to our family, neighbors & friends for all the ways you've shown your love. We are grateful for the visits, prayers, phone calls, cards & flowers. Thank You

Administrator, Board and Mitchell County Hospital District Employees:
Words are somewhat inadequate when they are used to express one's gratitude for the benevolent gestures on your part during the loss of my husband, Leon Molina. Thank you so much for your concern for me and my family.
Many thanks, Toni Molina

Thank You
The Leon Molina family would like to thank the many friends who expressed their condolence by sending cards, flowers, and food at this very crucial time. Our hearts were warmed by these friendly gestures of love. It is very difficult to express just how much each of you meant during this time. Colorado City is a special place; the people are even more special. During our moments of loss, you did not forget our need for consolation. Again, thank you and may God continue to keep you aware of the adversities of others.
The Molina family

Thank You
Words are inadequate to express our sincere thanks to friends for all the ways you showed your concern during my recent surgery. We appreciate your cards, visits, food, flowers and especially all the prayers more than you will ever know. May God bless each of you.
