During the campaign Mr. Hoover promised an extra session to tackle the farm problem if it should not be disposed of this winter and a number of house members and senators are in favor of leaving the question to the Hoover administration.

The bride's gown was of dark-embroidered crepe trimmed in pink and blue and she wore a corsage of pink rose buds. Her hat and coat for going away were in harmonizing colors.

Miss Glidewell Mullins played the wedding march to announce the arrival of the bride and groom. Rooms of the house were prettily decked with roses, palms and ferns.

Mr. Ashby is a former student of Tech and he has attended Kansas University at Lawrence, Kansas, where he was a member of Delta Epsilon fraternity. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Ashby of McLean. The bride's uncle, G. C. Beard, and family, of Fort Worth, were out-of-town guests at the wedding.

Just what does it mean when a Prince insists on almost daily cables regarding the health of a girl? That's what the Prince of Wales has been doing since he has been in Africa. The girl is Lady Anne Maud Wesley, 18, daughter of the Marquis Dora. The girl's family "neither confirms nor denies" the report that the two are engaged.

Denials of the prince's engagement to first this and then that damsel are so taken-for-granted that even when it's the real stuff nobody'll believe it. "Wolf, wolf!" too often.

While not many wives let their pity lead them to such lengths that they help a husband in his sloth, hundreds and thousands of

"I've been up in the attic today looking in the old packing chest and I came across that old blue coat of yours, Anne. Do you remember—the one with the squirrel collar?"

"Do I! Say, Mother, I began to think it would grow to my back."

"It's as good as new," said her mother, "and Julia can step into it right now."

"Say, Mother, you know what I want for Christmas, don't you? I want that pony coat. If you don't have to buy Julia a coat mayn't I have it? Oh, please, Mother. I'm just crazy for a fur coat."

"Here's Julia now," said Mrs. Brown as the thirteen-year-old came in. "Julia, go up to my room and bring down that coat on my bed. I think I can fix it up for you to wear. It's perfectly good."

Julia disappeared suspiciously. Her fears were verified and in a minute she came tearing downstairs with, "That old rag! Why I wouldn't wear that to a dog fight! It's got holes in the elbows and the collar looks like a drowned cat. I wore out Anne's old brown coat, and I'm not going to begin an another. I'm a regular old-lady-home for Anne's coats so I am. She just gets everything."

"I'm sorry we're poor," was Mrs. Brown's reply to this. "We just have to manage the best we can."

It was her stock in trade, that sympathy, whenever Julia stormed about wearing Anne's cast-offs and made-overs. It always shut Julia up.

That day Anne's mother had been down street. She had made the first payment on the pony coat. It was to be Anne's Christmas gift. She figured that by having a woman's one instead of two days a week, cutting down on meat, to every other day, crossing the out-of-town counts off her Christmas list, postponing Julia's new coat another season and staying at home from movies (that was Dad's one extravagance) she could pay for the coat by April.

The whole family will do without things all winter on account of that covered coat. And will Anne appreciate it? Not she. She'll stand for all the sacrificing she can do and then some.

When she marries she will go on thinking that her husband should sacrifice for her as her mother, father and sister have done.

And will it be her fault? No—her mother's.

There are many lapsed families like the Browns—one child getting all the favors. Is yours one?

How to Achieve Beauty

BY MISS HELENA RUBINSTEIN

BEAUTY'S NEW YEAR RESOLUTIONS

I've just been thinking what a shame it is that so many women are blind to the opportunities this wonderful new freedom offers them.

Just think how few years ago it was when the social world frowned alarmingly at golf and tennis, when swimming was hampered by hideous, binding costumes, and when no girl who cared anything about her reputation indulged to any extent in good, wholesome outdoor exercise. Now, thanks to the commonsense view of life which pervades our generation, every woman from 15 to 30 is expected to take some interest in playing. Golf clubs have come into being everywhere that a breadth of rolling land appears on the map. Tennis courts are stationed at regular intervals, even in the city, and swimming pools with elastic hours are to be found in hotels and clubs all over the country.

No girl who is keen at sports will ever be a wallflower. She is too wholesome, too splendidly capable. Her popularity is tried and true. So do determine this year to subscribe to golf or tennis or swimming classes. Learn the infinite pleasure of being able to do things with that fine young body of yours. It is a fine resolution to make and a better one to keep!

And right on the heels of that, let me suggest a resolution that will help to keep you keen during your play time. Namely, to give a little regular attention to the care of your feet. Feet have a way of being neglected, and it is a mighty bad thing. A weekly pedicure, a little Pasteurized cream rubbed well into the soles, these simple little preservatives can do a lot to keep you feeling healthy and fit.

RESOLVED: TO PARTICIPATE IN OUR DOOR SPORTS.

RESOLVED: TO GIVE MY NAILS A GOOD MANICURE EACH WEEK—AND A LITTLE ATTENTION EACH DAY.

RESOLVED: TO GIVE MY FEET 15 TO 30 MINUTES ATTENTION PER WEEK.

The Woman's Day

By Alice Sumner

Alice Sumner

The Cleveland judge who sentenced a couple, applying before him for a divorce to "three years of birth control" under contempt of court, and who bawled them out for their baby a year to the tune of three, has certainly reaped his publicity if that's what he wanted.

He fired the shot heard round the social and judicial world, all right. He nand women of affairs north and south and east and west have commented, upon his action.

FERMENTING YEAST. Regardless of his legal rights in this decision, he certainly took the cap off the bottle of fermenting opinion on this subject. The very vehemence of the opinions of those who think he was all wrong, and the equal vehemence of those who think he was all right, indicates that this is a very vital issue in this country, bound to blow out in real steam some day. Maybe not until people actually begin to go hungry because of over-population and under-production of natural resources. But—some day!

AT HOME AND ABROAD. It's one thing to be a successful diplomat, internationally and publicly speaking, and quite another thing to be a successful private and domestic diplomat. That's what Madame Pedro De Almeida, wife of the Spanish consul at Boston, for many years a member of the diplomatic service, told the court in asking for a divorce.

She isn't the world's first wife to learn that a husband rarely carries over into private life those peculiar capacities which make him successful outside. Comic strip artists wince, for instance, are always suing their husbands on the grounds of temper and grouches at home.

HELPED HUSBAND ALONG. A wife who helps her husband to slope, seeing that he sets forth on the elopement well groomed, gives him some money, and even attends his wedding, is surely a unique character. That's just what Mrs. Ethel Leighmanuelle of New York did when her husband eloped with 17-year-old Martha Jacoba Van Weyn. The man was a church organist, the girl one of his pupils.

His wife explained that her husband's temperament demanded this action—that he and the girl understood one another—that she pitched him and couldn't bear to see him suffer.

While not many wives let their pity lead them to such lengths that they help a husband in his sloth, hundreds and thousands of

Waifs To Play Four Little Negroes Called To East

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 26. (P)—The orchestra of four little negro street waifs, who make music upon pots, pans and bottles, has been called for an eastern premiere at a Philadelphia millionaire's new year's party.

The millionaire, who guards his identity, has designated Flo Field, New Orleans author, to pilot the ragged little negroes to Philadelphia, and today she was busy buying the small, white-eyed darkeys their first overcoats.

They leave tonight, still wearing the rags familiar to the boulevards of the Vieux Carre, where they coked out a living.

Mexicans Plan Two Big Air Journeys

Mexico City-New York Hop Is Proposed In Flier's Memory; Buenos Aires Flight Planned Also

(By Associated Press) MEXICO CITY, Dec. 26.—Two ambitious air journeys have been projected by Mexican aviators for the near future.

A committee of army aviators today petitioned President Portes Gil to lend his support for a proposed non-stop flight from Mexico City to New York. The pilot would be Antonio Cardenas and he would make the journey to honor the memory of Captain Emilio Carranza, the Mexican pilot who was killed several months ago when he crashed in New Jersey.

The other flight also brings in Carranza's name as Jacquin Gonzales Pacheco proposes to use a machine named after Carranza for a tour from Mexico City to Buenos Aires. Pacheco, who several months ago made a non-stop flight from Canada to Tampico, said today that he hoped to get away within a month. He will be accompanied by a relief pilot and a mechanic.

Veteran Riders of Plains Meet After Long Separation

AUSTIN, Dec. 26. (P)—This was a Christmas of reminiscences for three veteran riders of the Texas Staked Plains, who assembled in Austin for their first meeting in 38 years.

They were Frank Hoffer, stock farmer of Miami and John Bracken and Tom Platt, of Austin, last surviving members of a scouting party of Texas rangers who rode across the Plains with Captain S. A. B. Murray in Company B.

Hoffer recently heard that Bracken and Platt were alive and lived in Austin and he came here to spend Christmas with them. All of them are near 70 years of age.

There are two kinds of balance in the rotating part of a machine—static and dynamic.

Bible Named Head Grid Coach At Nebraska University

Turn To Professionalism Among Nation's Athletes Increasing Rapidly

Aggie Mentor To Lead Cornhuskers In Big Six Loop

Pilot of Texas Aggies For Past Eleven Years Goes To Northern School To Succeed Ernie Beary

Lincoln, Neb., Dec. 26.—Coach Dana E. Bible of Texas A. and M. today accepted a three-year contract as head football coach at the University of Nebraska. He succeeds Coach Ernest E. Beary who goes to Washburn College, Topeka, Kansas, as director of athletics.

Coach Bible has been at Texas A. and M. for the last eleven years. During that period his teams have won the Southwestern Conference championship five times. He went to that school as freshman coach in 1918. Later he was offered the head coaching at Louisiana State University. On arriving here from A. and M. he accepted that position and went to the Louisiana institutions for the remainder of the season.

Offered the head coaching of both L. S. U. and A. and M. after his first season at the former institution, Bible elected to return to A. and M. Thus in 1917 he began his regime as head coach at A. and M. a regime that continued "unbroken" for 11 seasons. The school's success during the world war when he was in the army.

His 1927 team at A. and M. clinched that all victorious season with a victory over the famous Cornhusker team that had defeated the University of California at Berkeley, Colgate University, the University of Chicago, Davidson, Ky., and the University of North Carolina.

Open Attack Coach Selection of Bible will bring to Nebraska that style of "open play" which Coach Bible has favored since 1917. The school's record in the last five years, the school's success during the world war when he was in the army.

Dispatches from Lincoln today announcing acquisition of the veteran Aggie coach were confirmed by Bible and school authorities. Salary matters did not influence Bible to take the Cornhusker post, it was disclosed by Bible in an interview offered to meet the financial advancement offered by the Nebraska school.

Explains Move In explaining his decision to leave the school he has joined to a great many of his former championship in the last 11 years, the interview, 38-year-old mentor said: "It is in my opinion that I am offered a greater opportunity to advance in my profession, I realize that while I gain in a football way I will suffer a reputation from many quarters that I have abandoned duty for my years at A. and M. I could have had no more cooperation than has been given me by A. and M. authorities, students and ex-students. The efforts of President Walton and the athletic council in moving the terms of the Nebraska offer have made it doubly hard for me to leave."

Strolling Down Sports Lane

With Allan Carney, Avalanche Sports Editor

A strange but undoubtedly successful theory has been adopted by Coach Koenig, Notre Dame basketball coach, whose business it is to make the Irish, once known as famous as Koenig's football team. Koenig's pet theory about the indoor sport is that any time you can hold your opponents to 20 points in one game, you should get that game down on the victory side of the ledger.

This must be accepted as a very sound theory when one considers how his teams at South Bend have been winning ball games during his administration. It may be seen that Notre Dame basketball teams rate just as much in their own particular sport as Mr. Koenig's football teams do in the grid world. Koenig has never the doubtless attack in work, in other games, the slow, methodical type of play, generally known as the delayed offense is used. Again he used the fast-breaking offense typical of Indiana basketball. Then comes a light defense. This is the basic fundamental of his 19-point theory. If your opponents don't score 20 points, you ought to win; if they score 20 or more points, you have only a 20-20 chance to win.

Notre Dame teams are familiar with and employ three general styles of play. In some games, the short pass, pivot and dribble attack is used; in other games, the slow, methodical type of play, generally known as the delayed offense is used. Again he used the fast-breaking offense typical of Indiana basketball. Then comes a light defense. This is the basic fundamental of his 19-point theory. If your opponents don't score 20 points, you ought to win; if they score 20 or more points, you have only a 20-20 chance to win.

In speaking of the recent suggestion of President John Heiler of the National League concerning the 19 men baseball rule, Billy Evans, major league umpire and manager, claims that the plan would eliminate straight sports in the lineup, but adds that it would undoubtedly react to the detriment of the game in other directions.

"Bunched drives on unorthodox" Evans says, "is the basic fundamental for the great ball game has on the American public. To remove the pitcher from the offense would eliminate many features of uncertainty that have always been important parts of the game."

Fort Worth Team Arrives On Coast Central High Eleven Goes Through First Workout At Scene of Tilt With California All-Stars

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 26.—Twenty-five eager young football players from Central High school of Fort Worth, Texas, obtained here today and headed to the coliseum for their first workout in preparation for Saturday's important contest with a squad of Southern California All-Stars.

Georgia Tech And California Teams Are Nearing Peak

Football Elevens To Lighten Work In Training For The Rose Bowl Classic On New Year's Day

PARADISE, Cal., Dec. 26.—Indications that the Yellow Jackets of Georgia Tech and the Bears of California are near the peak of physical shape and teamwork for the New Year's Day clash at the Rose Bowl here, stood out today as the two sectional representative elevens swung into a steady training stride. Having crowded workouts into a period of six days, Coach Nils Price has decided to lighten the grueling drudgery of his Golden Bear footballers.

The California mentor announced that starting tomorrow the Bears would have but one workout a day. The Yellowjackets have had three workouts on Southern California soil and will continue their conditioning a day program. They will alternate with the Bears in the use of the Rose Bowl as a training turf.

Slight colds which have handicapped Durant, quarterback, and Myre, tackle, of the Tech squad, have disappeared, and Coach Bill Alexander had all of his main linemen in shape. The Bears had two drills today as usual with Price giving each department of the game as much attention as time permitted. The afternoon session included scrimmage against Georgia Tech players, who received drilled for several days in the Southern team's formation, backing the regulars.

Big Six Mentor Respects Football But Is Confident Of Victory

DALLAS, Dec. 26.—Rumbling threats of "wild" plays against through the closed gates of Cowboy Stadium here today as Coach Ernie Beary of Nebraska put his 18 football stars through a preliminary signal practice for their New Year's Day game here with Southwest Conference.

Only four of Beary's 22 men players for the game had not arrived in time for the afternoon drill. But at a meeting "skull practice" session before a blackboard, the boys, eight of whom were all-Big Six Conference selections, got their first direct instructions from Beary and his co-workers. The former Center College star and Texas all-American quarterback, who now is a member at Kansas A. & M.

"My boys know they play powerful football in the Southwest Conference, so they are 'wired' to go, as you say 'down here,'" Coach Beary said. "McWhorter and I worked out a few trick plays which we expect will better Bill and Lindfield. Another, we're going to do our best, and the boys believe they will win."

Held Enemy to Few Runs

Gardner Swain, veteran Washington southpaw, rained first among the American League pitchers in 1928 in low average runs scored against him. He appeared in 35 games, winning 13 and losing 11, but he held the enemy batters to 2.52 runs per game. Herb Pennington, Yankee, was second with 2.34 and Lefty Grove, Athletics, was third with 2.37.

East - West Teams Working Hard For Battle On Dec. 29

Offensive Tactics Of West Forces Being Built Around "Bill" Hoffman; Starting Lineup Uncertain

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 26.—The eastern and western football stars, preparing for the East-West charity game here December 29, went through their hardest workouts today.

Long scrimmages featured the practice and every play that has been learned came up for drilling. It was the first real scrimmage for the western players and they performed satisfactorily in view of the short time for practice this far. Coach Orr E. Hollingsby used several half-field combinations and watched his line around enough times to indicate that he has not yet hit upon a starting eleven. The offensive tactics, however, are being built around "Bill" Hoffman, Stanford fullback, and he is expected to see service most of the game.

The eastern squad, several days ahead of its rival in practice, also did through a vigorous scrimmage session. Both teams will have heavy training again tomorrow and will taper off Friday with light practice.

Southwest Stars Begin Drill For Benefit Saturday

Twenty-Five Seniors From Southwest Conference To Oppose 17 From Texas, T. I. A. Conference

(By Associated Press) FORT WORTH, Dec. 26.—More than 40 athletes, cream of the football players of the Southwest, assembled here today for first drills in preparation for an all-star game benefit Saturday, sponsored by Moah Temple Shrine.

One group of 25 seniors from Southwest Conference teams, coached by Clyde Littlefield of Texas University and Marty Bell of T. C. U., worked out at T. C. U. the other 17 players from the Texas Conference, T. I. A. and from Coe College, under Frank Bridges and Potts Anderson of Simmons, worked out at Wurtman Field.

Beginning Thursday, each squad will take two workouts daily. One player, Tommy Hughes of Texas, was missing from the Southwest team. Bridges' squad had two men, Bear Alford of Cotnam, McCarter of Howard Payne, yet to report. Both are due Thursday.

Rufus King of Texas was named captain of the Littlefield-Bell machine. Bridges' squad had two men, Bear Alford of Cotnam, McCarter of Howard Payne, yet to report. Both are due Thursday.

Eight captains are listed on the Littlefield-Bell crew while Bridges has nearly the same number. The former worked out openly but Bridges worked out behind closed doors. He wants to get his players lined up before letting in the press. He says his group takes its last workout before the game.

TURN IN A 13

PINEBURST, N. C., Dec. 26.—William C. Foran, Jr., Oklahoma County Club, Pineburgh, turned in a card of 13 today to lead the field in the qualifying round of 18 holes in the 26th mid winter golf tournament of Pinehurst Country Club.

The Nut Cracker

By Joe Williams

Today's interesting item, Babe Ruth says he's going to retire at the end of next season. Another something for Col. Ruppert to worry about.

The Babe's contract expires next fall. This retirement talk may play some nasty pranks on the Colonel's dime bank.

You can almost hear the colored beginning to sigh as he takes out the fountain pen and autograph book and writes a cute little notation in six figures.

The Babe doesn't want to play on as a creaking old man. But the last world series didn't look as though his whippersnappers would get tangled up in his cup for a long time yet.

Babe is very busy with his pay checks, however, and he may want to play a few years longer to keep himself in shirt studs.

It would be a quaint and interesting note if the Babe were noted as a master mind, really would fool everybody and stop while the stopping's good.

Situation Likely To Be Main Topic Of Sport In 1929

Swimmer Has Drawn Latest Recruit For "Pro" Ranks; Practically Every Sport Is Interested

By ALAN J. GOULD Associated Press Sports Editor NEW YORK, Dec. 26.—Put down the amateur-professional situation among the main topics of sport to be well aired in 1929.

Remaining has drawn the latest recruit for the "pro" ranks in Johnny Weissmuller and there is hardly a sport now that isn't interested in some feature of the situation—either in making amateur competition safe for the amateur, fixing the status of various well-known stars or in finding a clear dividing line between pro and simon pure.

"I am getting to an age where I must look to the future and try to earn some money, something an athlete in constant training finds hard to do," says Weissmuller, the fastest human fish.

Joe Ray, after quite a few years of medal collecting, expressed somewhat similar sentiments recently when he forsook amateur ranks to go barnstorming for the gate receipts with El Quail, another foot-racer to yield to commercial persuasion.

"I have a family to support and I must do something about it," commented Vincent Richards, in effect, about two years ago when he took the step into professional tennis, along with such other stars as Howard Kinsley, Mary K. Browne and Suzanne Lenglen.

The intimation was that Richards could do very little about it by playing amateur tennis virtually the year around, especially where the Davis Cup campaign alone may now keep its participants engaged from April to August.

A Fresh Agreement Thus there seems to be a fresh agreement as to the basic reason for turning pro. Whatever the competing causes or complications, it is a fact that the turn-over has been increasingly large in the past few years.

Just Like An Ostrich

A medical authority says that a person who tries to cover up skin blemishes and pimples with toilet cream and powder is just as foolish as an ostrich that buries its head in the sand to avoid danger. Skin eruptions are nature's warning that contamination is throwing poisons into your blood stream and weakening your body constitution. Exposure to the open air and sunlight will strengthen your system against disease and clear up your blemished skin. "Dear, wait till we get out to the apartment—only a minute more. Then we'll have a good long talk. . . . Look, Ash—how do you like my suit? It's the grandest thing! And soft—say, try that on your chest."
She slipped the thing off and tossed it aside.
"I got a lot, too," she boasted. "A real silver one. Oh, see, Ash, pickings were good—while they lasted."
She sighed profoundly and in a caress.
"A girl's got to coga across these days," she lamented. "And I'm the dam-pestest—my own good."
She inhaled luxuriously.
"Here we are, Ash. Throw that fur around your neck. Got any change, dear?"
Ashwater's coursed the fare from a handful of meager silver. The tip took her last dime.
"I'm sorry," apologized Sadie. "I haven't anything smaller than a $50 bill."
She ran ahead to the steps and held the door open. The wrap whipped her about so that the frosty clasp of her underthings whirled about like a swirl of color. Her eyes were red, like the day before, and her cheeks were flushed with her jealous gaiting. She

An Eternal Triangle Hubby, Wife and Ex-Wife Together

WICHITA, Kas., Dec. 26. (AP)—George J. Dooley of Wichita, is the head of a peaceful household consisting of his wife, his former wife and his five year old daughter, Katharine.
When Mrs. Daisy Dooley received her divorce from Dooley the court ruled Katharine should be in the custody of her mother three days out of each five, the father caring for his daughter two-fifths of the time. Dooley re-married and now all live happily in the same house.
The two Mrs. Dooleys decline the year out in the least jealousy of each other. Katharine receives the loving attentions of both her mother and her step-mother, who co-operated in bringing Santa Claus to the home Christmas day.
The two Mrs. Dooleys declined them down cordially, like a little girl with truant populoats and laughed gaily.
"A great life," she cried, "while it lasts! Come on—Ash—and get the dirt."
Ashwater inspects dadie's apartment. And tells dadie her story in the next chapter.

Oklahoma Fields Have Production Drop During Week

West Texas Oil Increases 6,000 Barrels; Decrease in Grand Total Daily Average Is 1,000 Barrels

(By Associated Press) TULSA, Okla., Dec. 26.—Continuing the downward trend in oil production, Oklahoma fields during the week ending December 23 showed a drop in production of approximately 1,000 barrels daily below the production of the week ending December 15, according to the Oil and Gas Journal.

Virtually all other fields in the United States showed either a trend toward constancy or noticeable increase in daily production during the week.

West Texas fields reported a total approximate increase of 6,000 barrels in light oil.

Mid-Continent Constant The mid-continent fields production was virtually constant with an approximate 1,000 barrel increase in light oil and approximately 1,000 decrease in heavy oil.

The Gulf coast field heavy oil production dropped approximately 4,000 barrels; southwest Texas fields heavy oil increased approximately 3,000; eastern fields light oil remained constant and Rocky Mountain areas decreased approximately 1,000 barrels while California fields increased approximately 2,000 barrels.

The grand total estimated daily average production for the week was approximately 3,341,194 as compared to 3,342,209 barrels for the week ending December 15. The total decrease during the week was 1,000 barrels daily. Light oil alone, however, increased approximately 1,584 barrels.

SUMMARY

Market lost a few points today after opening steady with an advance of three to five points from Monday's close. There was no Liverpool market due to the observance of a holiday. Today was first notice day for January contracts in both New York and New Orleans exchanges. The close, however, was steady. Norman Mayer & Co. wired at 10:30: "Heavy tenders in New York but only about five thousand bales here. Market inclined to sag."

TEXTILE TRADE IMPROVES

The National City Bank of New York, in its December review, notes the improvement in the textile trade as follows: "The gain noted a month ago in textiles has continued, affording hope for the further recovery of this important industry. One of the most encouraging symptoms has been the definite improvement in the cotton spinning branch, the October mill consumption of raw cotton amounting to 618,786 bales, the largest for the month on record, and a big increase since the low point of last July, when 428,743 bales were consumed. Measured in terms of spindle activity, the month's statistics showed the industry to be operating at the rate of 103.3 percent of single shift capacity, compared with 90.6 percent for September, with New England as well as Southern mills sharing in the increased business. From Manchester, N. H., for example, comes word that employment at the big Amoskeag plant is the largest since 1922, with some departments running on night shifts in the mill."

What is even more indicative of improvement in the industry is the fact that, despite the large production for October, sales of cotton goods, as reported by the Association of Cotton Textile Merchants of New York, were still larger, and that for the first time in months the unfilled orders were in excess of stocks on hand, totalling at the end of the month 98,000,000 yards above the average on hand.

With domestic consumption of cotton showing such a marked increase, with reports from textile centers abroad also indicating a better movement, and with exports for the first three months of the crop season 10 percent above those for the same period of last year, it now appears reasonably certain that tests for increased carry-over of raw cotton at the end of the crop year were needless, and that instead of an increase there is now the possibility of a decrease, a strengthening of the statistical position which has been reflected in an advance in the price of about a cent a pound to 30.4 cents.

Call money rose to 12 percent today. Stock losses were registered in some stocks, gains were shown in others.

Cotton experts all poets thus far this season, 4,573,246 bales versus 3,999,113 last year.

The New Orleans Cotton Exchange semi-weekly statement shows receipts 43,283 bales vs. 28,091 last year and 44,093 year before last, shipments 28,822 bales vs. 28,392 last year and 32,812 the year before last.

524; Houston 23,257 bales vs. 23,594.

Trent, Texas: Not much cotton left in fields and ginning well up. No plowing. Examination of fields show weevils numerous.

Macon, Miss.: Ginning of cotton almost completed. While soil is in good shape little plowing has been done.

WEATHER

The weather map early was dry and cold over the cotton region. At noon the western belt was mostly clear, the central belt was generally fair and the eastern belt ranged from clear to cloudy. Forecast: Eastern: Partly cloudy and somewhat warmer in general. Western: Cloudy and somewhat warmer in Louisiana; cloudy, unsettled, and somewhat colder in Arkansas, Oklahoma and East Texas, generally fair and somewhat colder in West Texas.

LUBBOCK LIVESTOCK

The following report furnished by McDonald Packing company: Cattle: calves, choice white face 9.00@9.50; good medium 8.00@9.00; common and doxies 5.00@7.00. Yearlings and heavy heifers: choice 7.50@8.50; good medium 7.00@7.50; common 3.00@7.00. Hogs: choice butchers 7.25@7.50; choice light weights 6.50@7.25; choice heavies 7.25@7.50; packing sows 6.00@7.00.

FORT WORTH LIVESTOCK

FORT WORTH, Dec. 26.—(U. S. D. A.)—Cattle and calf receipts extremely light; volume were posted for today's trade at Fort Worth. The small supply of cattle consisted largely of steers and yearlings and a few calves on sale were weighty averages, quality very plain. Several cars of steers sold at 10.35 and 10.60, about in line with recent values. Slaughter yearlings reported at 9.75 to 11.00, two carloads of heifers yearlings selling at 7.5 and 10.00. A small lot of choice fat yearlings made a top of 13.50. All yearling sales appeared steady and values applicable to their classes of cattle remained nominal. The single load of slaughter calves exhibited sold at 2.50, with small lots of good to choice heifers reported up to 13.00, quotably steady. Some cull sorts peddled at 5.00.

Prices paid for hogs today scored a sharp advance of about 30 cents. The day's carlot to choice 211 pound butchers. Most of the medium to good 175-220 pound truck hogs 8.50 to 8.35. Packing sows sold at 7.50 to 8.00 and appeared a quarter higher. The receipts of sheep and lambs today limited to a deck of good fat woolled yearlings that sold at 11.25 and a few medium to good woolled fat lambs reported at 12.00. These sales considered steady to strong.

KANSAS CITY LIVESTOCK

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 26.—(U. S. D. A.)—Moderate activity prevailed around the 11-market circuit on fat lambs; prices were steady to unsightly higher; the maximum advance of 50 cents at Omaha; best fat lambs at Chicago scored 13.25; aged stock ruled firm to higher with several points reporting fat ewes up to 8.00; the supply approximated 345,000, a decrease of 10,000 from a week ago and 17,000 short of the corresponding day last year.

Opening trade of hogs was fairly active at steady to 25c higher figures but the close was slow with some points weak to slightly lower; the day's top of 2.15 was paid both at Chicago and St. Louis; total offerings were around 50,000 as compared with 137,042 last Wednesday and 114,050 a year ago.

The cattle supply uncovered large numbers of short fed steers at most all-market; well conditioned steers of medium and heavy weights were in especially large quota; packers erased Monday's sharp upturn and spots on weighty steers were considered slightly lower than last week's close; the distribution of the receipts this week indicate that many feeders are ready to ship when they see a chance to break even or realize a slight profit; other killing classes maintained the moderate advance of Monday, stocker and feeder classes were in limited supply, and no material change was registered; best and medium weights and heavy slaughter steers at Chicago realized 13.50; aggregate receipts were estimated at 41,150 an increase of 7,500 over a week ago and 9,000 more than a year ago.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Dec. 26.—(U. S. D. A.)—With contracts outstanding for delivery of a huge amount of corn here before January 1, the corn market ruled decidedly active and much higher today. Latest figures available showed that by the last of December 14, 726,000 bushels of corn would either have to be handled over to new owners here, or that existing bargain would call for equivalent cash instead of at whatever the prevailing quotations may be at the year end.

Faced by this dilemma, corn today closed strong at the day's foremost figures scoring 1-1/8 to 2-1/8c a bushel net advance. Wheat finished unchanged to 1-4c higher, oats 1-1 to 1-2c up, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 1/2c.

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, Dec. 26.—The long predicted year-end credit strain began in earnest today, and blocked bullish operations on the stock market. Pools succeeded in pushing up half a dozen issues from about 10 to 22 points, but a call loan rate of 12 percent in the last half hour precipitated heavy liquidation which reduced the widest gains and carried a long list of issues off 3 to 15 points.

Operations for the advance were fairly successful during the forenoon, despite a call money general rate of 9 percent. Stepping up of the rate to 11 percent at midday caused considerable irregularity, but the bulls again got control of the market in the early afternoon, and kept prices moving upward in the face of 11 percent Monday. When the rate returned to 9 percent, equaling the year's record high of Dec. 6, which halted the post election boom, confidence waned.

Total sales were 3,614,900 shares, just under Monday's aggregate. A number of pivotal issues maintained fair gains, and the Associated Press average of 20 industrials lost little more than 1-1/2 points, in contrast to the gain of about 2-1/2 on Monday. The rails withstood the selling better than most groups, and the average of 20 leaders improved fractionally.

While commission houses have been planning for large reinvestment business as result of the Jan. 1 disbursements, estimated at more than $1,000,000,000, the credit outlook for the early part of the new year is somewhat marred by continued firmness of time money rates, indicating that bankers are not looking for especially easy money during the next few months. The rate for 60 to 90 day loans held from 7-1/2 to 7-3/4 percent.

McDonald Packing Bellas Hess was the spectacular performer of the session, shooting up 32 points to a peak price at 249 2-4, more than 200 points above the year's low. It later fell back to 220. Burroughs-Adding Machine and International Harvester mounted 17 and 20 points, respectively, and closed 11 and 13 points higher.

Doctors Disagree

When children are irritable and peevish, grind their teeth and sleep restlessly, have croupy rales and diarrhoeas, lack of appetite, and have itching eyes, nose and fingers, doctors will not always agree that they are suffering from worms. Many mothers, too, will not believe that their carefully brought up children can have worms. The fact remains that these symptoms will yield, in a great majority of cases, to a few doses of White's Cream Vermifuge, the sure expellant of round and pin worms. If your child has any of these symptoms, try this harmless, "old fashioned" remedy, which you can get at 35c per bottle from Lubbock Drug Company

A Great Discovery When Pasteur discovered, in 1852, that the infection of wounds was caused by malignant bacteria, he performed a service of incalculable value to mankind. Since then medical science has been producing better and better antiseptics, to kill these germs that enter the smallest cut and give us diseases such as typhoid, tuberculosis and lockjaw. Now, all you have to do to be sure that these dreadful germs will not infect a wound, is to wash that wound, however small, thoroughly with Liquid Borozone, the modern antiseptic. You can get Liquid Borozone, in a size to fit your needs and ours, from LUBBOCK DRUG CO.
