

Pope John's Condition Is Still Grave

By BENNETT M. BOLTON
VATICAN CITY (AP)—Death brushed close to Pope John XXIII today, but he weathered the crisis.

After receiving blood transfusions and blood clotting agents, apprehension was relieved only in part by the departure of Gasparri and Valdoni. It was believed that the hemorrhaging may have been at least temporarily controlled. But it was noted the attacks were becoming more frequent.

Through tense hours this morning, three doctors were at the Pope's bedside and worked to stem hemorrhaging. Vatican sources reported.

It was the worst crisis of the illness which felled him briefly last fall and has since recurred intermittently.

Medical personnel rushed in and out of the papal apartment. It is possible the doctors have not determined the exact kind of growth involved. In the past, surgery had been considered for exploratory purposes and been rejected as too dangerous for the pontiff because of his age and condition.

Until today, the Vatican had said only that the Pope had a stomach disorder. Observers said the hemorrhages, caused by the gastric heteroplasia, which has affected the Holy Father for about a year, after being arrested for several months had an accentuated resumption in recent days.

They have now been attenuated, and the organic consequences linked to them are through today, limited and compensated by the curative measures adopted, it added.

Aside from disclosing the growth, the statement also disclosed for the first time that the Pope had been ill for a year. Until now, his illness had been dated to last November.

The doctors were Piero Mazzoni of Rome, who has remained almost constantly at the apostolic palace for a week, Antonio Gasbarri, the Pope's personal physician, and Pietro Valdoni, one of Italy's leading surgeons.

Mazzoni went to the Pope's bedside at 9:35 a.m. An hour later Gasbarri was ushered into the papal apartment. Then Valdoni was called in.

A Vatican source said the difficulty in halting the internal bleeding brought dire concern. Shortly after noon, Gasbarri and Valdoni departed. Mazzoni apparently was continuing to stand by the Pope for seven days and nights.

Living Costs Remain Unchanged In April

WASHINGTON (AP)—The cost of living remained unchanged during April at its record March level, the Labor Department said today.

The consumer price index rose 0.1 per cent in April from 106.2 per cent in March, the department said. This was one per cent above the level of April 1962.

The figure means it costs $10.62 now to buy what $10 would buy in the 1957-59 period in the average family's budget.

Evan Clague, director of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, said that a reduction in food and gasoline during April was offset by price increases for housing, used cars, newspapers and clothing.

Prices for meat, poultry and fish dropped 2.4 per cent during April to the lowest level since 1957.

Clague said this was mainly due to a dip in prices for beef and pork. Both went down 3.5 per cent.

So far, Clague said, there has been no major effect on the consumer price index from the soaring price of sugar. He said this price rise probably would have a gradual effect over a period of months.

Offsetting the low prices for meat, eggs and dairy products to some extent during April were higher prices for fruits and vegetables.

So far, Clague said, there has been no major effect on the consumer price index from the soaring price of sugar. He said this price rise probably would have a gradual effect over a period of months.

Clague said, for example, that as a result of hot weather in Florida and California the price of frozen orange juice concentrate has increased 50 per cent since last December to the highest level since December 1958.

In the months ahead, Clague predicted that the consumer price index will rise to 106.5 by the end of the year.

Integration Order Is Denied By Judge

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—A federal judge refused today to order city schools integrated until the good faith of school officials has been tested.

U.S. Dist. Judge Seymour H. Lynne warned the officials they must apply a state public places law without discrimination.

Despite clear evidence of a segregated school system, Lynne said Sup. Thos. B. Wright and board members had assured him they stood ready to comply with the law.

This court will not sanction discrimination by them in the name of the placement law, but it is unwilling to grant injunctive relief until their good faith has been tested, Lynne held.

Adequate time remains before the fall term for the processing of assignment or transfer applications in behalf of interested individuals, he said.

Lynne ruled in the case of James Armstrong's four children. He dismissed from the same suit two other parents and threw out a 1962 suit of similar nature by the Rev. T. N. Nelson because their children no longer attended Birmingham schools.

Denying a requested injunction against segregated schools, Lynne ruled that Negro complaints in a 1960 suit had not exhausted remedies under the 1962 Statute which gives school boards wide authority in assigning pupils to schools.

An appeal probably will be made to the 5th U.S. Circuit Court, said attorney Peter A. Hall, who represented one of the complainants.

Despite clear evidence of a segregated school system, Lynne said Sup. Thos. B. Wright and board members had assured him they stood ready to comply with the law.

This court will not sanction discrimination by them in the name of the placement law, but it is unwilling to grant injunctive relief until their good faith has been tested, Lynne held.

Adequate time remains before the fall term for the processing of assignment or transfer applications in behalf of interested individuals, he said.

Relying on decisions of the 4th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals upholding a similar North Carolina law, Lynne held that the Alabama statute must be tested. It has been upheld on its face by the U.S. Supreme Court, which warned it could be unconstitutional.

Judges of the 4th Circuit, which includes Alabama, have never considered the Alabama law, Lynne said.

He said the initiative in integration lies with the pupil, not school authorities. The uncontroverted evidence, Lynne said, was that no Negro child has sought transfer to a white school and pursued the remedies afforded by such statute.

Lynne said his course had been staked out by a 1963 decision of a federal judge panel which held the law "furnishes the legal machinery for an orderly administration of the public schools in a constitutional manner by the admission of qualified pupils upon a basis of individual merit without regard to their race or color."

Originally aimed at preserving segregation, the law was drafted by former Lt. Gov. Albert B. Robertson, now mayor of Birmingham. The U.S. Supreme 4th Cir. 112, 143.

Lynne said he retained jurisdiction to receive any supplemental complaint about application of the law or other action by school authorities. Any complaint, he said, will be heard on five days notice to the defendants.

The judge said there was no dispute of the fact that a Negro pupil has never been assigned to a white school or a white pupil to a Negro school.

To summarize, it graphically appears that rights and the Birmingham Board of Education have operated a segregated system based upon race in the past, are doing so now, and have forbidden the Board from discontinuing such an operation.

Lynne said he obviously was bound by the 1954 Supreme Court decision striking down separate schools as inherently unequal.

But the measure does not end there," Lynne said, "for district courts have been invested with and are expected honestly and fairly to enforce the law in the enormous task of desegregating public schools."

Scholarships Are Awarded To Seniors

Presentation of scholarships highlighted the annual Snyder High School Commencement program Monday night in the school auditorium.

The commencement program was limited to presentation of awards and addresses by the valedictorian and salutatorian, Stuart Long and Tommy Shelburne, respectively.

In addition to the scholarships for which the two top students qualify, several scholarships controlled by local and area organizations were presented.

The Lion's Club awarded $200 for two scholarships to Mary Hamlin, for four years, and Josephine Lyndle, for one year, and Lynn Walker was awarded a $200 scholarship by the American Business Women's Assn. from a Mrs. Norma Lee Allen received the $400 scholarship of the Registered Nurses Association and Medical Surgical Clinic, while Thomas Lee Hill received the scholarship of the Snyder Classroom Teachers Association.

Jurist Named To RRC Post

AUSTIN (AP)—Gov. Jim Connally appointed Judge John C. Langdon of El Paso today to the Railroad Commission, which regulates Texas' $7.5 million-a-day oil industry.

Langdon, chief justice of the Court of Civil Appeals at El Paso, succeeds William Murray Jr., who resigned April 10 after publicity on a West Texas oil venture in which Murray said he profited while a commissioner.

The grand jury here is studying data on Murray presented by ATU, Tim Waggoner, chair of the grand jury, and by U.S. Dist. Atty. Tom Blackwell.

The appointment expires in November, 1964. Voters then must elect a successor.

Langdon is a member of the executive committee of the judicial section of the State Bar. He is now a member of the State Bar committee on administration of justice.

Between 1940 and 1946 he was on FBI staff. He had Navy experience in both the Atlantic and Pacific.

From 1947 to 1954 he practiced law at McCombs.

Langdon, 48, and his wife, Jean Eleanor, have four sons and a daughter.

Postal Funds Are Restored

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Senate Finance committee reported today that mail services might be cut back, agreed today to restore $40 million of the $92 million the House trimmed from the Post Office budget.

Sen. A. Willis Robertson, D-Va., who led Senate negotiators, said the extra funds should assure adequate postal service for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

Postmaster General J. Edward Day had warned that Saturday mail delivery would be suspended if the House approved a six-month pay raise.

The Senate had voted $20 million more for postal operations and $10 million more for new postal equipment than the House had approved.

The committee agreed up with an increase of one billion $1 billion for the Post Office and Treasury departments. Of this amount, about $15 billion is for the Post Office Department.

Damaging Wind, Hail Storm Hits Vice President's Ranch

Johnson City, Tex. (AP)—A severe hail and wind storm caused severe damage Monday night to the ranch home near Stonehall of Vice President Lyndon Johnson, a showplace well known to the United States, leaders and foreign diplomats.

The Johnson home and the fountain's home, about 200 yards away, were damaged.

The vice president's house suffered roof damage and most of the windows on the east side of the house were knocked out by the hail.

Hail stripped the paint off the barns and stalks the hail ranged in size from golf balls to hen eggs.

The ranch was isolated from ground travel for a time by a deluge of hail.

She said the hail treated the ground like a hammer on the ground. When the hail melted, a thick mat of leaves from the oaks covered the area, reported thousands of turkeys and some livestock were killed by the storm in the Johnson Ranch area.

Martin Lindig at Albert reported a loss of 200 turkeys to the hail. Another farmer lost 250, some as large as haseoals.

Thousands of peach trees, grapes, promise of one of the best crops in years, were denuded.

Reminder On Parking Is Issued Here

The same reminder given to the use of public streets by motorists for each thing as the washing, greasing or repair of vehicles in practice, Chief Simmons said.

Chief Simmons said that the department would begin towing off and impounding vehicles which do not have current licenses, and have been standing unused for months on city streets.

However, the chief did say that he has no objection to the use of private property for the parking of vehicles.

An unlicensed vehicle actually has no more right on the road than one with a license, he said.

Enforcement of the ordinance will probably start next month, the chief said.

Fugitives From Dallas Are Hunted

SAINT JO, TEX. — A house-to-house search and a five-mile sweep by a posse on horses failed today to flush two men who broke out of jail in Dallas Monday night.

The men escaped by holding razor blades and a bomb-made knife to a jailer's throat, stole a post-office station wagon, abandoned the wagon and stole another vehicle, wrecking it here and fleeing on foot.

The men apparently were trying to reach Oklahoma where one lives. Oklahoma officers kept watch on their side of the line.

Several hundred armed men made a house-to-house search of the 230 to 300 residences in this town near the Oklahoma border.

A posse of about 25 horsemen swept through rough areas in a five-mile radius of Saint Jo at daylight without turning up the fugitives.

Officers called in a helicopter from the Dallas Naval Air Station and another from the Bell Aircraft Co. at Fort Worth to help search.

Montague Sheriff Howard Middleton said in late morning, "I don't think they are out of this area — meaning he believed they still were within five miles of Saint Jo."

Mishaps Are Logged Here; Three Hurt

The Snyder police department reported a two-car mishap at 12:10 this morning at the corner of Twenty-fourth and Avenue S.

Involved were a 1957 Chevrolet driven by Jerry Kruse, and a 1961 Chevrolet driven by Ray Watson.

Passengers in the Kruse car were Lynda Lyson and Mr. and Mrs. Davine Lee. They were returning from a party given for graduating seniors at the Snyder Country Club.

The passengers in the Kruse car were injured, although none were believed seriously hurt. Miss Lyson suffered a cut below the knee. Lee suffered a cut ear, and Mrs. Lee was admitted to the hospital with a leg injury. All were taken to the hospital by Bolger Ambulance Services.

Damage to the Watson car was estimated at $100 to the Kruse car at $700.

The Snyder police department also investigated a minor mishap at 4:13 p. m. Monday at Thirty-seventh Street and Avenue S.

Involved was a 1963 Plymouth driven by Gordon Easter, 210 Third Street, and a 1960 Ford driven by J. B. Brown of Abilene. Damage to the Easter car was estimated at $40 and to the Brown car at $5. There were no injuries.

Monday morning at 9:10 a. m. the Texas Highway Patrol investigated a two-car mishap at the Colorado River bridge south of Ira.

Involved were a 1958 Chevrolet driven by Michael Frank Mayo, 209 Chestnut Street, and a 1963 Ford pickup driven by James Willard Brown of Colorado City.

The car suffered an estimated $100 damage. There was no damage in the pickup or the trailer. It was pulling, and there were no injuries.

Many Shrubs Will Need No Care

Everyone, depending on his climate, has seen lovely Forsythia, Viburnum, Hibiscus, Oleanders, Penstemon, azaleas and many others.
There are all kinds of such plants - daphne, magnolias, philodendrons, geraniums, and many others.
Shrubs that require no care can be found at any nursery, who will advise the home owner on this score. The secret of no "after care" usually is to "plant right" in the first place so the plant becomes well established at the start of its long career in supplying beauty to the home property.

Washday Wisdom

"Spare the rinse and you may spoil the wash." It is very important to make sure that the wash water is at the proper temperature for washing. The first rinse should be just as hot as the washing water because cooler water is said to harden soap. This causes it to cling to the fibers, making them yellow and causing premature wear.

ALL ABOUT BABIES...

A Public Service of the National Baby Care Council

by Kenneth S. Shepard, M.D., Pediatrician, St. Francis Hospital, Evanston, Ill.
Babies are born into a world that is friendly, but sometimes hostile. They have enemies, and their parents have to protect them until they can protect themselves.
One of a baby's chief enemies is diaper rash, which is very uncomfortable. It is caused by moisture, heat, injury to the skin or a chemical irritation. Moisture is present because of urine, stool or excessive sweating.
It may be that a child generates too much heat; but in many cases, excessive heat may be caused by an impervious diaper covering such as rubber, plastic, or treated silk.
Injury to the skin, otherwise known as Trauma is the result of rubbing by a wet diaper, sometimes pinned too tightly.
Another of the baby's subsidiary enemies is chemical irritation due mostly to ammonia produced by urea-splitting bacteria acting on the urine. In some cases, highly acid stools may be a factor.
But baby has his allies in these preliminary battles with life. The principal ally is his mother.

Moisture and heat are decreased by changing the diaper more frequently, and by stopping use of water-repellent diaper covering. Injury to the skin can be halted by pinning the diaper less tightly, and by leaving the diaper open for a few minutes.
If a mother uses a professional diaper service, she is assured the baby's diapers are processed scientifically, with strict laboratory control.
The use of powders and ointments is of limited value in preventing and treating diaper rash. However, inflamed, excoriated, fissured areas can be treated with starch or a mild powder to absorb some moisture.
Very dry diaper rashes can be treated with a mild lubricant such as Vaseline Petroleum Jelly.
Powders and ointments should not be used on "weeping" or infected rashes. Soap and water to keep the area clean, and then exposure to the air. The use of mild, dry heat is of value.
Infected diaper rashes should be treated with non-sensitizing antibiotic ointments prescribed by a physician.

British Dog Getting His Teeth Fixed

LONDON (AP)—A British dog named Charlie is getting his teeth repaired at the expense of the U.S. Air Force.

"Charlie is a remarkable dog," said a spokesman for the "Air Force." "He's a guard dog and the best guard dog at the Alconbury base. This means he's the toughest and the fiercest."

Alconbury is a U.S. air base in Huntingdonshire.

Charlie may be as fierce as ever, but he has taken the bite out of four of his sharpest teeth.

"Most dogs strengthen their teeth on bones," said the spokesman, "but Charlie prefers concrete or steel. We can't have a toothless guard dog so we're having Charlie's capped."

A spokesman at headquarters of the 3rd Air Force explained: "Guard dogs are on loan from the Royal Air Force, and the U.S. Air Force is obliged to keep the dogs in good health and in good shape."

"The dogs are examined monthly and on Charlie's examination it was decided he'd better have four teeth capped."

"This isn't the first time a dog's teeth have been capped but as far as we can tell this is the first time that four teeth are being capped."

The work is being carried out by Air Force dental technicians.

The Air Force gave no estimate of the cost of Charlie's capped teeth, but indicate such a job is not cheap.

Chandler's Fate Rides On Ballot

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Kentucky voters choose their nominees for governor today and decide simultaneously the fate of the political career of A. B. "Happy" Chandler.

Chandler voiced confidence. Edward T. Breathitt Jr., an attorney, was equally sure he would win the democratic nomination over Chandler, who seeks a third term as governor.

The contest was viewed as a toss-up.

Louie B. Nunn, virtually certain to win the nomination in the Republican primary, hoped a recent Republican upsurge in Kentucky would carry him to victory in November.

The weather forecast was for scattered showers and the voter turnout was expected to be around 55,000. The record, set in the 1959 primary, is 58,700.

No Kentucky has been elected governor three times. Chandler held the office in 1935-39 and in 1959-59. In between he was a U.S. senator and baseball commissioner.

Under state law, a governor cannot succeed himself.

Breathitt, virtually a political unknown until a year ago although he served three terms in the state legislature, has the backing of Gov. Bert Condit, a foe of Chandler.

Breathitt, 35, hammered at the contention that it is time to end what he called the political domination of Chandler, 64, and Chandler's chief ally, former governor and U.S. Senator Earle Clements.

Chandler's big gun was a pledge to take the 3 per cent sales tax off food, clothing and medicines—a promise who a strong appeal. The former governor dismissed Breathitt as a stooge of Condit.

Nunn, 38, an attorney, faced to

Penalty Softened For Homeowners

By MARSHALL COMERER

DALLAS (AP)—Texas' 5th Court of Civil Appeals has softened the penalty for some of the 86 homeowners held in contempt for pressing lawsuits against building a jet runway at Love Field.

Chief Justice Dick Dixon announced Monday the contempt citations would stand but 25 of the homeowners would not have to pay $200 fines.

He said the court was considering pleas of mitigating circumstances by 13 other defendants and had wended their deadline for paying the fines until 5 p.m. Wednesday.

The remaining 48 homeowners paid their 200 fines prior to Monday's 5 p.m. deadline.

James P. Donovan, lawyer for the homeowners who also was cited for contempt and sentenced to 20 days in jail, asked the U.S. 5th circuit Court Monday to release him on a writ of habeas corpus. The court took no immediate action.

The Texas Supreme Court has refused twice and the U.S. District Court in Dallas has refused once to free Donovan.

Dixon said fines for 25 homeowners were cancelled after they informed the court that they had not joined in the federal court suits or had withdrawn from them.

He said the 13 cases under consideration listed such circumstances as being parties in only one of the two suits, the defendants had been misinformed, or were unable to pay the fines because

Tribe, Giants Triumph In FL Dueling

The Farm League Indians disposed of the Athletics here Monday night, 11-1, for their inaugural triumph of the young campaign, as Rubby Dicus pitched a no-hitter for the victorious nine.

Athletic shortstop Robert Pharris scored the only run his mates were able to muster, as Dicus after drawing a free ticket to first in the third inning.

Tribe right fielder James Huntington was the only player in the game managing more than one safety. He rapped out two singles while center fielder John Handy chipped in with a fourth inning double to aid the winning cause. Bill Bibbery went down to the defeat for the A's.

The second game of the evening saw the Giants knocking the Braves off the unbeaten pedestal with a narrow 6-4 win.

Catcher Bruce Kenner and second baseman Randy Barnett were the sparkplugs in that one. Kenner glouted a triple, double and single in three trips, while Barnett rang out a tattoo of four consecutive singles in any appearances.

Losing hurler Dennis Wolfe paced his team at the plate with a pair of doubles. First sacker Joe Bass and shortstop Roger Hartman each lashed out two singles in support of the losing cause, also.

Donald Grant received credit for the pitching victory.

Sox Halt Yanks; Buffs Biff Braves

Ramon Valdez turned in a three-hit mound job here last night to lift the Von Hoover Seed Farms Red Sox to the top of the Colt League standings with a 5-2 thumping of the Wilson Motors Yankers.

The triumph was the third of the year for the Sox, who have yet to taste defeat.

Billy Atwood sparked the Red Sox at the plate with a double and a single, while Tom Hall drove in a pair of runs with a double and a sacrifice fly. Jimmy Featherston also landed a two-bagger for the winners, and Tom Kincaid lashed out a pair of singles.

All the Yankee hits off Valdez went for one base, and no one player connected for more than a single safety.

Loser Andrew Ramirez was on the mound the entire game with the exception of the final out, when Larry Jones came in to mop up. Ramirez was touched for a total of nine hits during his hit-top tenure.

The nightcap belonged to the Snyder Savings and Loan Buffs, who gloined to their second win without defeat by submerging the Optimist Club Braves, 6-2, in a Pony League battle.

The victors got to loser Bobby Clardy for only five singles, but seven fielding miscues helped him played a big hand in sending him down to the defeat.

Delbert Force came out of the game as the leading hitter. The

Giants, Athletics Post LL Victories

It was just one of those nights in Little League Monday, when practically everything that could conceivably happen did.

First of all, the Giants outlasted the Braves, 12-11, in an eight-inning game which had no less than four home runs unloosed. Two of those roundtrippers were bases-empty affairs off the bat of Braves catcher Jackie Weaver.

The Giants accounted for the other two—a two-run blast by center fielder Neil Robinson and a solo smash by first sacker Gary Bailey.

Bailey's blow proved to be the deciding one, as he led off the eighth by parking it, after which the side was retired on three consecutive strikeouts. The Braves came back in their half of the inning to land two singles and be granted a base on balls, but were unable to push over the tying run.

Rickey Thompson won the game in relief, while Lee McNair, also in relief, went down to the loss.

The nightcap was of the same caliber as the opener, as the Athletics pushed over 10 runs in a big first inning, then held on for dear life in taking a 10-7 decision from a resurgent Indians nine.

Eloy Benitez, the A's center fielder, pounded out the most resounding blow of that game, a grand slam blast. Not to be denied, the Indians' first baseman, Wesley Bishop, powered out a pair of homers—both also smashes in the first and fifth frames.

Bishop and Charles Browning accounted for all four hits garnered by the Tribesmen. Benitez, in addition to his roundtripper, lashed out three singles for a perfect night at the plate.

Crucial Tilt On Tap Today For Bengals

Snyder's Tazas, says to have met the Dumas Demons in Dumas today at 3 o'clock in the second game of their regional baseball playoff, with a victory at that time being essential to the Bengals' well-being.

The Demons won the series opener in Snyder, 2-0, and need only a win today to earn for themselves a state tournament berth.

A Snyder victory today would bring on a showdown battle tomorrow at 3 o'clock also in Dumas.

Dalton Walton is Coach Speedy Moffett's announced.

Tiger mound choice for today's crucial battle, Vernon Stratford, who blanked the Snyder nine on one hit in the Saturday opener, is expected to toil once again for the Demons.

KSNV of Snyder will air the series action.

Ingo Quits Fight Game

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP)—Ingemar Johansson says he's sticking strictly to business from now on. And the business isn't boxing.

Johansson, the 32-year-old Swede with the "Cinder and lightning" right who once held the world heavyweight championship, has reaffirmed his decision to retire from boxing and concentrate on his varied business interests.

"I quit," he said emphatically Sunday in a television interview. "And I won't change my mind."

ABLENE (AP)—Hardin-Simmons had as its new football coach, Floyd Huggins, who was promoted Monday from backfield coach to the position vacated by Jack Thomas.

Huggins came here as Assistant last year. He coached in Florida high schools and at Pratt, Kan., Junior College for nine years after playing football at Scott Junior College and the University of Florida.

Two teams—Fort Worth Castleberry and Jasper—are in the state schoolboy baseball tournament. Six more are due to make the grade by Thursday.

Castleberry beat Kilgore 12-4 Monday for a second straight time and qualified in Class AAA. Jasper joined Castleberry with a 9-4 victory over Alvin that wound up their regional series 2-0.

Snyder was at Dumas Tuesday for a doubleheader to decide another Class AAA spot. Dumas leads 1-0.

Laveaga beat South San Antonio 4-3 to even their series. They will play it off at Austin Wednesday. In Class AAAA, San Antonio Lee beat Corpus Christi Carroll 4-2. This threw the series into a third game, scheduled at Victoria Thursday.

Lubbock Monterey and El Paso Jefferson will play the second game of their series Tuesday night at El Paso. If Lubbock wins, it's all over. If not, there will be a third game at El Paso Wednesday night.

Fort Worth Arlington Heights, which took the first game 9-2, plays at Lufkin Wednesday. It'll be a twin bill if a third game is needed.

Defending state champion Houston Bellaire and Galveston are tied at one game apiece and meet Tuesday night at Houston for the right to go to the state tournament next week.

It Would Be Interesting To Read Current Twain Comment

BY RICHARD STARNES

When I became Director of Public Safety, and note well that I said "when" not "if," it is my intention first to burn down all post offices, and then to enact orders in council making it a violation of the law to those of forward pass ever again within the continental limits of the United States.

My third official act will be to require that every American child pass oral examinations in "Life on the Mississippi" before being graduated to long pants.

Mark Twain was a great reporter, which is why he kept getting into trouble with the uptighters. The latter species believes that can't and hypocrisy will solve all human woes. Old Sam knew better. People are mostly ornerly, as he once had Huckleberry Finn observe, but Twain still managed to enjoy most of the 75 years he spent on this earth. He had a great passion for his country, which is why "Life on the Mississippi" will be required reading when I take things over, and offhand I can call to mind only MacKinlay Kantor when I try to think of a modern writer who can approach him in understanding what this country was like before the night thinkers got hold of it.

There are not many books a man can turn to when he has been beaten to a frazzle by various groups of earnest people marching or railing on behalf of various righteous causes. "Life on the Mississippi" is one of course, and so is "The Wind in the Willows," but there are precious few others with any demonstrable therapeutic value. Come to think about it, I may require working knowledge of "The Wind in the Willows" as a condition of draft exemption. American boys used to fight for the fun of it, but nowadays they will do anything, including going to school and/or getting married to avoid following the flag.

That is a sad circumstance all by itself, particularly so when you know they don't know what they are missing. Why are young men would want to smoke coffin nails or a corner in front of a candy store when he could be enjoying the class and sting of battle in South Vietnam, for example—beyond me. Their values are all wrong, for one thing, which is why they all need to be physicked with large doses of Twain.

Look at the one from "Life on the Mississippi" which starts out as follows:

Stack Island I remember Stack Island, also Lake Providence, Louisiana — which is the first distinctly Southern-looking town you come to, downward bound; lies level and low, shade trees hung with venerable gray-beards of Spanish moss; 'restful, peaceful, Sunday aspect about the place' comments Uncle Mumford with feeling — also with truth.

There is no slink of the nomenclature machine about that paragraph; you can see the place as it must have appeared to Sam, and except help come, they would scribble the Lake Providence mosquitoes. He said that two of them could whip a dog, and that four of them could hold a man down, and he might have been mistaken as to that particular, but he knew he had seen them around the polls canvassing.

You want to know what it was like at Vicksburg, where the grandfathers' portrait hangs over the fireplace dead leading a gallant, futile charge? You'll never get a better description of the place than the one old Sam committed to paper in "Life on the Mississippi."

Reporters nowadays are expected to have doctorates in sociology, or some other such dismal pseudo-science. Twain had a great eye and a greater ear, and it would be wonderful to see what he would write about some of the madnesses we are surrounded by now. Among others, he might have been interested in the one old Sam committed to paper in "Life on the Mississippi."

Desire To Retire Fades With Age

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—The retirement of a Pavement Planer. Are you afraid of retirement? The desirability of life on a pension seems to vary inversely with a man's age.

"I'm a young man of 22 or 23, 3 years or so out of college. I'm sure that retirement is the real boon of existence. Before I die, I'll really work up a sweat, or perhaps faint like the cat—he is ready to jump in his work collar, but on a short shift, and start looking at easy."

"If I had the money, I'd quit at 25 or 30 at the latest," he says. "I'd find plenty to occupy my mind. I wouldn't be bored."

The thought that bores him is going to work 40 or 45 days for another 40 years. He feels he has turned older men into mere plow-horses—and doesn't want that to happen to him.

But many are a man of 63 or 64, the prospect of enforced retirement looms almost as a death penalty. Has job that seems such a rat to younger men has become to him his only life. Then a man of dream. He dreads the thought of hanging up his lunch box forever.

It is hard for him to be told that at 63 he may emerge from his long career of labor and take up the freedom of a butterfly. He has long ago lost the desire to live like a butterfly. His only remaining desire is to stay on the job with his fellows until he dies.

Geriatricians are becoming increasingly aware of this problem as society is forcing more and more men to quit at 65. Since they still have a life expectancy of 13 or more years, what can be done to keep those years from becoming lonely, burdensome, and full of self-pity?

One way would be to gradually start lengthening the vacation period, and shortening the work week in middle age. Then a man would have the free time and energy to acquire the outside interests that could bolster him in his age, and turn him into a cheerful retiree.

A man can learn to enjoy golf at 40, but try to teach him that at 65 and he is inclined to think it useless and a waste of time.

Here's the way such a plan might operate:

At 40 you give a man a five-week vacation, at 45 a six-week vacation, at 50 a seven-week vacation, at 55 an eight-week vacation, at 60 a nine-week vacation.

At 40 you also put a man on a four-day week, at 50, a three-day week, and at 60 a two-day week. Starting at 65, he'd come into the office only to pick up his paycheck.

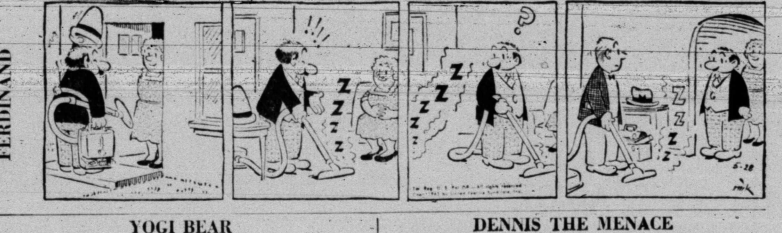

At 65, such a fellow would no longer be too dependent on his job. He'd have learned to do most of his work around the home, and be full of enthusiasms for a long career life on a pension.

Since the work of society must be done by someone, however, such a plan would mean young people might have to work harder than the old—perhaps might have to work six days a week, and take only one or two weeks of vacation a year, until they had reached 40 themselves.

When I asked a number of young men whether they would be willing to make this sacrifice in order to create a happier senior citizenry, they replied unanimously:

"NO."

It's hard to change the rules of the game and please everybody, isn't it?

Junior Editors Quiz on THE OCEANS

QUESTION: How can you tell an ocean from a sea?

ANSWER: To the ancient peoples from whom our Western civilization developed, the Mediterranean Sea was the center of their world. Such countries as Egypt, Greece and Rome were bathed by its waters. The word "Mediterranean" means "center of the earth" and the Romans liked to refer to this body of water as "Mare Nostrum," or "Our Sea." As our small picture suggests, this is a lovely region, bordered by palm and flowers. The Romans knew there was more salt water outside their world, but they thought of it as an unknown, fathomless, tempestuous kind of sea which they called "oceans," from one of their gods. So people got to speak of a smaller body of salt water as a "sea" and a larger one as an "ocean," and this is the most correct way to speak of them today and is the answer to your question. Five huge bodies of water, though connected with each other, are usually spoken of as oceans: the Pacific, the Atlantic, the Indian, the Arctic and the Antarctic Oceans—although the last is often not considered as a separate ocean. When, instead of thinking of separate oceans as the Atlantic or Pacific, we speak of the ocean, all this outer mass of water is thought of as one. It is also quite correct to speak of this as the sea.

FOR YOU TO DO: In case you're still confused, think of Jerry and Jane in our picture, looking eastward from the coast of Maine. Would you call what they are looking at the Atlantic Sea? Of course not; nor would you speak of the Mediterranean Ocean. Just remember, the natural way we think of these names is also the correct one.

Brenda Sue Myers of Marion, Ohio, wins $10 for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of this newspaper, and we may give you a copy of the new set of Britannica Junior Encyclopedias.

Triple Squeeze Applied To Racial Segregation In South

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—Racial segregation in the South is being smashed in a triple squeeze by the Supreme Court, the Kennedy administration and Negroes themselves demonstrating against discrimination.

The court Monday dealt a deadly blow to exclusion of Negroes from parks, playgrounds or other public facilities. And it clearly showed it is getting tougher about delays in desegregating public schools.

Only a week ago the court banned any attempt to exclude Negroes from places catering to the public—like restaurants or department stores—when the exclusion is imposed by state or city law or official orders.

LIGHTEST MEXICO

BY JOHN ABNEY

MALINALCO, Mexico — The men of letters tell us this was a sort of West Point for the Aztecs and possibly the young braves used to come over with a letter from their congressman to enter the war college.

Back around 1487, when Christopher Columbus was studying a set of National Geographic maps, Malinalco was ruled as an Aztec fief by a gentleman named Citlalcoatl.

And Mr. Citlalcoatl decided there wasn't enough activity so he called in the head of the stone cutters guild (themselves, it was known as the "teletanque" for a conference, "Waldo," Citlalcoatl said, "we need a good public works program so how about getting your men to chisel some new buildings?")

"You mean carve a few rocks and put things together like a pyramid?"

And Mr. Citlalcoatl said, "Some of the little ones, Waldo. We got some big stone formations so you guys can hollow 'em out and make a few moonlit buildings."

Waldo looked at the floor and said, "Oh well, who wants to do anything for the next twenty or thirty years?"

The Aztec emperors were mad about this idea and every time one would die, the next one would send a message, "Keep the work going." Emperor Motecuhzoma the Younger (no relation to Cato the Elder) sent a telegram every year from 1503 to 1515 saying the project must continue without interruption.

One of the buildings which was a big room carved out of solid rock became a sort of military school. And although the historians are a bit vague about this situation, we assume it is where the young warriors were sent to become officers and gentlemen.

An instructor would walk in at 7 p.m. sharp and the class sniped to attention and say, "Gentlemen, today we study the function of the squad, company, battalion and regiment. What steps are taken when you sight the enemy?" And the class would chorus, "Now the bums down!"

The instructor would then say, "Excellent. Now let's take up some fine points of artillery action." In those days, the artillery used to squat on house tops and high points beside roads where they could drop rocks on the heads of the opposition.

Aztec warriors were also taught that odds were not even unless one of the emperor's men was up against 10 or 12 from the enemy. This resulted in some pretty fierce struggles and for a number of centuries the neighboring tribes wore all sorts of bruses. In 1512 Hernan Cortes and the Aztecs were hammering away at each other in Tenochtitlan (Mexico City). Cortes heard about Malinalco and decided it might as well be included in hostilities.

So he sent a detachment commanded by a gentleman named Andres de Tapia to shut down the war college. Mr. de Tapia and his troops took Malinalco by assault and the fine old buildings carved by the union men became museum pieces, although slightly damaged.

The Spanish soldiers looked the place over and inspected the workmanship when the battle was over. "Gee," one of them said, "These guys carved nothing but snake heads to ornament their buildings. They must have a whooping stand hid out here somewhere to see so many snakes."

After that the padres moved in and several of the Aztec structures were decommissioned and used for building a convent.

The Mexican government began some scientific research and reconstruction of the ancient installations in 1936. But the war college never got back into operation.

Artificial Calls May Lure Fish Into Nets
LONDON (AP)—Artificial mating calls may one day tempt fish into the nets, the second world fishing gear congress was told Monday.

Dr. Donovan B. Finn, fisheries director of the United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization, said much still had to be learned about behavior patterns of fish.

Discovering the sounds that fish make when they are feeding or mating is an aspect now under study. Dr. Finn suggested that tactics similar to the use of artificial mating calls in wild game hunting might one day be used in fishing.

Then, he said, it might well be possible to detect fish by unmanned apparatus, to herd them like cattle, to fence them in and harvest them at will.

Rather than staggering pictures up a stairwell, arrange them in several groups.

Settlement Near In Border Dispute

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Informed sources say a settlement in the El Paso border dispute will be announced within a few days.

Negotiations have been going on for months between Mexico and the United States.

It was reported Monday that settlement would be based on an agreement to reroute the Rio Grande north of its present channel.

The newspaper Excelsior said a solution may come next month.

The reported Foreign Minister Manuel Tello and U. S. Ambassador Thomas Mann have been holding frequent talks on the matter for almost a month.

The dispute stems from a shift in the Rio Grande channel more than a century ago.

Mexico claims an international boundary commission turned the Rio Grande north of its present channel.

The United States claimed the verdict was vague and has held onto the land.

Negotiators reportedly have reached an agreement whereby Mexico would receive a little more than 600 acres on the El Paso side of the present river bed, while the United States would receive nearly 200 acres of Mexican land in an area north of the river called Cordova Island which juts into the United States.

Informed sources have estimated the transaction would cost the United States $30 million, including payment to owners for land on the El Paso side which would be transferred to Mexico.

Actor Must Pay Damages

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A Superior Court jury has ordered actor Dana Andrews to pay $5,000 damages to a blind girl injured in a traffic accident involving Andrews' car.

Diane Ward, 18, of Woodland Hills, Calif., had sued Andrews for $100,000.

She said she suffered head injuries Dec. 28, 1956, when a car in which she was riding was struck by Andrews' auto in suburban North Hollywood.

Andrews admitted liability and did not appear during the trial. He had pleaded guilty to a drunken driving charge arising from the accident. He was fined $263 for the offense.

Candlelight Dinners Lead To Divorce

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Actress Sierece North and her husband won divorces from each other after testifying she liked candlelight dinners and he didn't.

Superior Court Judge Walter H. Oldemar granted the separate decrees Monday to Mike North, 30, and Dr. Gerhart R. Sommer, 35, a Beverly Hills psychologist, each on grounds of cruelty.

The actress was granted custody of their daughter, Erica, 3. Sommer was ordered to pay $150 monthly child support and $250 monthly alimony.

Man Dies After Liver Transplant

DENVER (AP)—William Grigsby, 47, a janitor, died Monday night, 22 days after he received the liver of a dead man in a rare transplant operation.

Physicians said Grigsby contracted pneumonia Sunday but the exact cause of death has not been determined.

Grigsby, who had cancer of the liver, received X-ray treatments and drugs to aid his body in accepting the substitute organ.

Actor In Mishap

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Actor Peter Lorre, 38, escaped with only a nose bleed Monday when his car sideswiped a parked truck on Sunset Boulevard in the West Hollywood area, sheriff's deputies reported. He went to a private physician for treatment.

Wycliffe Organization Has Operations Circling Globe

By GENE HANDSAKER
SANTA ANA, Calif. (AP) — In three U.S. universities they learn how to put strange, unwritten tribal languages into writing. In far-off lands they make friends and learn to converse with natives who have no written word. They transcribe the language into symbols and teach the natives to read, then in books, pamphlets, grammars, dictionaries, hygiene and agriculture treatises—and the Bible.

They are emissaries of a quiet, far-flung organization — the Wycliffe Bible Translators, Inc. — which in 29 years has sent forth about 5,000 workers.

Last March 4, two Wycliffe missionaries were shot down by Communist guerrillas before their wives and children in the rice paddies of Viet Nam.

"I don't know why they fired," Mrs. Vurnell Jacobsen said afterward.

At a roadblock, the guerrillas killed her husband, Elwood W. Foreman, Minn., and a Filipino, Gaspar Alfonso Makil, each 35. Makil's 4-month-old twin daughter, closed in her arms, was fatally wounded. A South Vietnamese soldier also was killed. A bullet shattered a leg of the Makils' 3-year-old son.

Wycliffe, with headquarters in the Los Angeles suburb of Santa Ana, has more than 1,000 emissaries in 15 countries.

They use 310 languages and work among U.S. Indian tribes and the natives of Mexico, Central and South America, Africa, the Philippines and New Guinea.

They operate 20 planes and keep in touch with outpost headquarters by radio. The linguist missionaries arrange their own financial backing, usually from some church, and support themselves on an average pay of $50 a month.

They are on long-term contracts with their Oiler children are sent back to the states to attend school. Jacobsen and Makil were among 44 Wycliffe emissaries in South Viet Nam, operating in 11 tribal languages. They are there by government invitation as they are in all countries. In Peru their arrangements are with the Ministry of Education, in Brazil with the National Museum.

The organization is named for John Wycliffe 14th-century English reformer and theologian who began the first English translation of the Bible.

The founder is William Cameron Townsend, a Southern Californian who went to Guatemala as a Bible salesman for the American Bible Society in 1917. He translated the Bible into Catechiquel, the language of a large Mayan tribe. Townsend is still active in the organization.

"We work principally through a sister organization called the Summer Institute of Linguistics," said spokesman Dale Kietzman, 38, a former Wycliffe linguist in Peru, Mexico and Brazil.

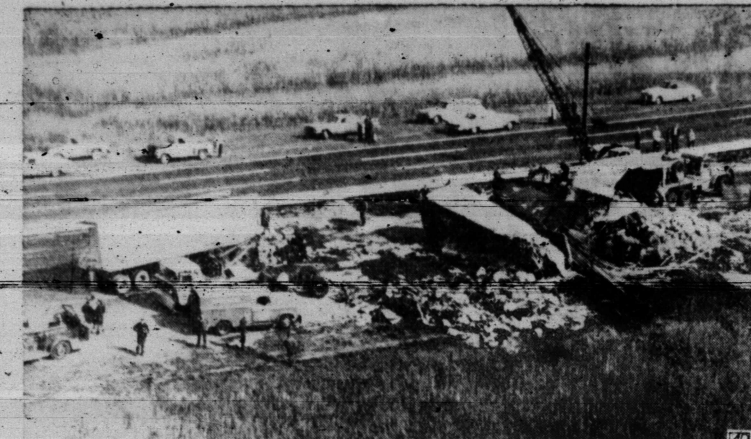

"It's a series of summer insti-

Guests Stay Despite Dysentery Outbreak

TOKYO (AP) — About 350 guests, mostly Americans, refused to leave the swank Imperial Hotel today despite an outbreak of dysentery among the hotel's employees. The hotel has shut down food, beverage and room services.

A hotel spokesman said 750 cases of dysentery among the hotel's 1,700 employees.

Among the guests is President Sukarno of Indonesia. An aide said Sukarno won't leave either.

Market Outlook Still Uncertain

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market observed today the first anniversary of its second worst crash of the century with many investors — but far from all — having recovered the ground lost then.

But it faces many uncertainties and there is little sign yet that it has regained the full confidence of the public with a few dollars to invest, or with a few to risk on a fast in-and-out try for a quick profit.

Gleaming which way the economy — and the market — is heading has changed markedly since that gloomy May 28, 1962. But today's guesses still are far apart.

The Kennedy administration is reported as seeing no change now of a recession in the foreseeable future. The big market crash had set back last May and June had added demands for tax cuts as a preventative.

The real optimists are insisting that the U.S. economy today stands on the brink of a boom.

The cautious souls — especially many stock traders — are still holding that rising operating costs will bring earnings down, a squeeze on profits to make dividend rates moderate. It thus means that at today's high prices for many stocks, their yields will be less than tempting.

And the even more cautious ones are warning that the much touted economic indicators have been wrong before. A year ago they were pointing toward a possible recession. It didn't develop now they are pointing toward continued and accelerated growth. Will they be right this time?

Much of today's optimism about the stock market centers on the performance of popular stock averages. These chart the movements of selected stocks held by a large part of the market as a whole. Most of these popular gauges have recovered all of the loss since last May and many are set for near new highs. Most set their previous highs in December 1962 or January 1963. They had been in a long slide before the May crash.

But many of the individual stocks in the popular averages had hit their highs well before December 1962 peak. And some of them are selling below these peaks today.

Many of the big performers in the 1962 stock boom were growth stocks — newcomers to the market and to the public's fancy. Some of these are the biggest droop in 1963 — some well before the big crash in May. And many are still far below their spectacular highs.

The overall recovery since May 1962 has been encouraging. But it isn't as general as many think. Nor is the future a nicely wrapped package of certain prosperity.

Camporee Set By Explorer Scout Post

The 1963 Scoutmanship and Fitness Camporee, sponsored by the Colorado City Explorer Scout Post, will be held May 31, June 1 at Cooper's Cove located south of Colorado City on Lake Colorado City.

To find the camping area, one should go south from Colorado City on the Sterling City Highway No. 101 for one and a half miles. Then turn right and follow the Camporee signs.

Each unit will be requested to present a song, skit or yell for the Camporee Program Friday evening. This will count toward total points when judged for awards.

A list of rules for each event will be available upon arrival at camp. Life guards will be on hand for all swimming activities.

The Scout Oath and Law are the Rules of the Camp.

Border Treaty Due

TOKYO (AP) — Foreign Minister Chen Yi of Communist China said Monday night that Afghanistan and Red China will soon hold talks in Kabul aimed at concluding a border treaty, the New China News Agency reported. The two countries have about 20 miles of common border, north of Kashmir.

Hearings On Sinking Of Tanker End

NEW YORK (AP) — A Coast Guard board of inquiry has ended 37 days of public hearings stemming in its effort to find out how the tanker Marine Sulphur Queen disappeared with 29 crewmen.

The ship, carrying molten sulphur, was last heard from on Feb. 4, off the coast of Florida in rough seas. There was no distress signal.

Rear Adm. James D. Craik, who headed the board of inquiry, said Monday that in the absence of any survivors or conclusive evidence, the exact cause for the disappearance could not be ascertained.

He said the only conclusion that could be drawn was that the ship sank in or near the Straits of Florida. Study of evidence and testimony will continue.

The Marine Sulphur Queen sailed Feb. 2 from Beaumont, Texas bound for Norfolk, Va. She was a converted tanker fitted with special tanks for sulphur, kept hot by steam pipes.

The testimony dealt mainly on construction details of the ship and analysis of the debris found some time after the disappeared tanker was reported missing. There was no indication of any fire or explosion. She was found in 100 fathoms of water.

The sulphur is not normally considered dangerously explosive.

The testimony also considered whether there was a structural breakdown. The sulphur tanks were attached to the hull with bolts that slid back and forth to allow for expansion and contraction of the tanks as the temperature varied.

Cdr. Albert S. Frevola, recorder of the inquiry board, noted that another sulphur tanker, not identified, experienced an "explosive-like report" last June 27 and its tanks bulged about 10 inches on each side.

Witnesses testified that the condition of Marine Sulphur Queen wreckage found later indicated that some of the men may have left the ship alive. The jackets had been used, they said, and some were torn as if a shark had bitten them.

Thirty-seven witnesses testified here and in Beaumont, Tex.

Only One Of Triplets Left

FRAMINGHAM, Mass. (AP) — Only Faith, one of the famed Faith, Hope and Charity triplets, survived today.

Charity died at Cushing Hospital Monday, following her sister, Hope, in death by little more than a year.

The three sisters, once were the nation's oldest living triplets.

Faith is Annie Faith McDonnell, 67, of Framingham. Her husband, Edward, died in 1958. She is the widow of Edward Murphy, a former Boston and Worcester newspaperman. Hope was Ellen Hope Daniels.

The triplets were born in 1906 at North Brookfield to Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Coughlin, natives of Cork County, Ireland. Their father began early at the age of a few weeks when they won a baby show prize.

Over the years they received birthday greetings from all parts of the world. Presidents, royalty and church leaders had extended congratulations to them.

Three Men Hurt In Houston Blast

HOUSTON (AP) — Three men suffered severe burns as an explosion sent flames leaping through a plant Monday.

The blast was in the main part of the Phoenix plant, a firm which makes oil field equipment.

Attendants said burns covered 90 per cent of the bodies of Richard Gern, 72, Clyde Barnes, 43, and Jim Allen, 45. They were in critical conditions.

One workman said it was possible that fumes ignited as someone lit a cigarette.

Looking Back

10 Years Ago
From The Snyder Daily News

Members of the advance party of the National Guard left this morning to go to summer camp at North Fort Hood. The group of 18 men under command of Maj. Bill Scheibel, left at 9 o'clock.

Prisoner Leaves Jail Prematurely

EUREKA, Calif. (AP) — When jailer Tom Macdonald came around to Robert Winsor Robinson's cell in the Humboldt County jail on Sunday and said, "Your time's up. You can go now," he got a speedy response.

Robinson was dressed in an instant and checked out in the wink of an eye.

It wasn't until later in the day Macdonald recalled that the 28-year-old Yurok Indian still had over four months to serve for his part in a conviction. Robinson was sentenced on April 8 to serve 18 months.
