Berry Wins Round On Horse Race Measure

By GARTH JONES

AUSTIN (AP) — Rep. V. E. (Red) Berry won a round today in his fight for a statewide vote on legalization of horse race gambling.

The House tabled, 68-58, a motion by Rep. W. S. Heatly of Paducah that would have sent Berry's bill back to a committee and probably legislative oblivion.

The bill calling for a public opinion referendum in November, 1962, has been approved by the House Elections Committee and is ready for floor debate.

"We've only got 44 days left and our No. 1 problem is taxes," said Heatly. "We should devote our full time to that. We have spent too many hours of time on this horse race gambling and it is time we put this little matter in a resting place."

Berry's bill calls only for a public opinion poll and would have no binding effect on the Legislature. In March another Berry proposal to allow parimutuels in certain Texas counties was killed by House vote.

The head of the House Appropriations Committee, Rep. James Cotten of Weatherford, said a Senate - House compromise has been reached on job classification procedure for state employes. This means, he says, that the House Appropriations Bill will be ready by Saturday or Monday.

The Senate spending bill was approved several weeks ago.

The Senate settled back after an armistice halted its first filibuster of the session.

For almost four hours Tuesday, Sen. Wardlow Lane of Center discussed a proposal (SB2) to make the University of Houston a fully state supported school. Sen. Robert Baker of Houston, the author, finally made a parliamentary compromise that will keep the bill pending but not up for debate until Friday or Monday.

The House also has pending for debate Friday or Monday its version of the same bill (HB11).

Speaker James Turman indicated, however, he has different plans. He told the House Tuesday morning that if the House Tax committee recommended any more tax bills, they could be set for top priority debate Friday or Monday. In the afternoon the committee turned out two tax measures—a straight 2 per cent retails sales tax with several exemptions (HB27) a so-called "business excise tax" (HB590) levying 2 per cent on the cost of goods to dealers.

Most representatives pick Monday for the debate. Friday is San Jacinto Day, a state holiday.

A subcommittee of the Senate State Affairs Committee was scheduled to start work today rewriting the House-approved version of a bill (HB334) designed to plug tax loopholes and erase up to $43 million of the state deficit.

Lane centered delaying tactics Tuesday on his amendment that would not make the University of Houston fully tax supported until 1973. After a chat with Baker, Lane withdrew his amendment and Baker offered a substitute for the pending bill.

The substitute would bring Houston into the state higher education system Sept. 1, 1963. It would require the Commission on Higher Education to determine the curriculum and would fix tuition at $200 a year. No state aid would be spent for any graduate course.

Baker's substitute bill will be pending business if the Senate meets Friday, or on Monday.

At times Lane was joined in his discussion by Sen. Hubert Hudson of Brownsville.

Lane said he could take the money proposed for appropriation to the University of Houston and make "a university at Tenaha the finest in the country." Hudson talked at length about a course in French cuisine now taught at Houston.

The two estimated Baker's bill would cost an additional $20 million every two years. Baker estimated $11 million.

"This bill will help the deficit not only this year but for years to come," Lane said. "If there is anything we like to do here it is to make the deficit bigger and juicier and we have been doing an excellent job."

The House spent much of Tuesday afternoon debating a bill (HB156) to change rate making powers of the Railroad Commission, and then knocked it down, 65-71. The bill, to let railroads and motor carriers set their own rates unless challenged, can be brought up for another vote.

Gov. Price Daniel said he would be willing to help rewrite the bill that drew his first veto of this session Tuesday morning.

Daniel vetoed a measure (HB59) exempting farm trailers up to 12,000 pounds capacity from state vehicle registration. He said it was too broad and would let such vehicles as logging trailers and water well drilling equipment escape registration.

FEELS REBELS WILL WIN—Dr. Teresa Casuso, who quit as U. N. representative of the Castro government last year, said she feels the invasion of Cuba will succeed. Little News Trickles Out

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Rebel air raiders struck at Cuban air force headquarters and Havana during the night, bringing the conflict to the capital for the first time since invaders stormed ashore last weekend, the Cuban radio said today.

The radio reported a twin-engine B26 dropped a bomb on the air force headquarters at San Antonio de los Banos, 25 miles from Havana, then wounded three persons in a strafing run on Havana.

A diplomat in Havana reported a plane that swept over Havana was met by heavy antiaircraft fire. He mentioned no strafing. A Cuban rebel radio station on Swan Island off Guatemala claimed Havana was bombed twice by three planes. It asserted one of the planes attacked Camp Libertad, army headquarters on Havana's outskirts.

The diplomat talked by telephone with an Associated Press correspondent at the big U. S. naval base on Guantanamo Bay in eastern Cuba.

He said the plane passed over the city at 8:15 p.m. Tuesday but otherwise "all is quiet for the present." He had no information about the situation elsewhere in Cuba. The situation was quiet around the naval base.

There was little news on the progress of the invasion force on the coastal front southeast and east of Havana.

The government put its firing squads to work, sending two Americans to their deaths. The Castro radio said five men who landed in Pinar del Rio Province of western Cuba to join the rebels were executed, and another group of four was shot for transporting weapons.

In the first group was August Jack McNair of Miami, Fla. The broadcast said the second group included Howard F. Anderson, a Havana resident from Seattle, Wash., an ex-Marine who once was the commander of Havana's American Legion post. He was arrested last month.

A Cuban broadcast denied rebel claims of new landings in northern Matanzas and Oriente Province and said an attack against the Isle of Pines had failed. Rebel leaders had asserted earlier this week that the prison island off the south coast had fallen and its 10,000 political prisoners had joined the insurgents.

Information on the progress of the invasion and Castro's defense against it continued sketchy, with neither the government nor the rebel command announcing much and communications with Western newsmen in Havana still cut.

The Cuban government radio said fight is continuing in Las Villas Province, where the rebels are believed to have made their main invasion stab.

A correspondent for the Yugoslav newspaper Politka reported from Havana that an invasion force of about 5,000, "armed with tanks and guns, light arms of American production and under protection of airplanes are now without success trying to broaden the original bridgehead in the province of Las Villas, on the southern coast of Cuba."

Cubans Say U. S. Flier Shot Down

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The Cuban army said, in a communique broadcast today by the Havana radio, that a U.S. military aircraft flown by a U.S. citizen was shot down over Cuba this morning.

The broadcast identified the pilot as Leo Francis Bell, but gave no military data. It listed numbers copied from personal papers, none of which were military papers, however.

"United States participation in the aggression against Cuba was dramatically proved" by the incident, the broadcast said.

The pilot was said to be carrying documents including Social Security card No. 014-07-6921.

The broadcast said the pilot was killed when his plane was shot down by Cuban antiaircraft batteries.

His home was said to be 48 Beacon St., Boston.

The announcement said the plane was one of four shot down today.

The communique, identified as No. 3, said nine aircraft have been shot down since the start of the Cuban invasion Monday.

Help Asked By Laotian Government

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Laotian government decided today to ask its "friends and neighbors" for help, declaring four new rebel offensives backed by Communist troops from North Viet Nam threaten Laos and all Southeast Asia.

Foreign Minister Tiao Sopsaisana said Laos wants more and better arms and a full-fledged U. S. Military Assistance Group to replace the civilian body now training royal troops.

He asserted Laos is thinking of asking for foreign troops if the situation worsens.

The foreign minister did not say who besides the United States would be asked for help but indicated it would be neighboring Thailand and South Viet Nam.

There was no confirmation from Western sources in Laos of any massive rebel attacks, but the decision to seek more aid, including troops if necessary, was interpreted as an indication the situation is worsening.

Britain launched another diplomatic move to end the fighting. Foreign Secretary Lord Home announced in London that Britain has asked the Soviet Union to join in issuing a call for a cease-fire Thursday.

Sir Frank Roberts, Britain's ambassador in Moscow, was instructed to try to get an immediate cease - fire, Lord Home said, and conferred with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko.

Lord Home said Britain wants a 14-nation conference on Laos to open May 5, after an international commission has verified the fighting has stopped. The United States also insists on a cease-fire before a conference.

In Bangkok, Thailand's Premier Marshal Sarit Thanarat said the Soviet Union has suggested May 5 as the date for the 14-nation conference. But he said the Soviets insist on recognition of neutralist ex-Premier Souvanna Phouma as Laos' chief of state.

U. N. Assembly Expected To Reject Plea To Censure U.S.

By TOM HOGE

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. General Assembly is expected to reject a demand by the Soviet Union that it condemn the United States as an aggressor masterminding the invasion of Cuba.

The assembly instead is believed certain to adopt a rival proposal by seven Latin - American nations appealing to all U.N. members to refrain from any action that might aggravate existing tensions.

The Soviet proposal, introduced Tuesday night by Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian Zorin after a new assault on the United States in the assembly's 99-nation political committee, calls for cessation of all assistance to the forces invading Cuba and urges U.N. members to give aid to Fidel Castro.

The Latin - American resolution was expected to win wide support from member states openly concerned over President Kennedy's warning to Soviet Premier Khrushchev that the United States would take action if the Soviets intervene militarily in Cuba.

Kennedy's warning was read to the committee by chief U.S. delegate Adlai E. Stevenson, who delivered a blistering attack on the Castro government and rejected its charges against the United States.

Stevenson declared that Cuban Foreign Minister Raul Roa had not presented one shred of evidence to support his claims that the invasion Monday had been launched from Florida. Stevenson said Roa and the Soviet bloc representatives had reached a new low in trying to smear the United States with every innuendo and epithet in the book.

He called for a settlement of the Cuban situation by Cubans themselves and denied that the United States had played a role in the invasion.

Zorin termed Stevenson's denials too ridiculous for comment. If both the United States and Guatemala deny that the invaders came from their soil, he said, "Where have these people come from, outer space?"

Roa denied Stevenson's contention that Cuba was seething with discontent under Castro. He asserted that not a single person inside Cuba had joined the invading forces and predicted that Castro's forces would be victorious.

Recording Reveals Eichmann Is Expecting Death Penalty

JERUSALEM (AP)—In his own words replayed today from a tape recording, Adolf Eichmann said he expects the death penalty and is "ready to atone."

"I know that I can expect the death sentence and I don't ask for clemency," the former Gestapo colonel told Israeli police who questioned him after his capture of Argentina last year.

"I cannot claim mercy because I know I am not worthy of it," Eichmann said in the statement.

In support of its charges that Eichmann was the operational director of the Nazi plan to exterminate Europe's Jews, the prosecution began replaying extended excerpts from 77 cartons of tape recordings of the pretrial interrogation.

His voice echoing hoarsely through the Jerusalem courtroom while he himself sat listening in the prisoner's dock, Eichmann said that before his death he would like to write a book. He said he wanted the younger generation to know what happened in Nazi Germany and the reasons for it.

Eichmann said he had been told in January 1960 that "I would be brought to trial and that I would not live beyond my 56th year."

He is 55 now. He did not identify the prophet.

"The first part of this prophecy already has come to pass," he said in the recorded statement.

"This case finds me in complete readiness and without any regard for my personality to tell everything that I know.

"I have always been accustomed to discipline from my childhood right through 1945—unreserved discipline.

"I knew what disobedience would have meant for me. But matters of planning until 1945 were not handed to me at any time during the preceding 10 years. I was in a lower rank than the policy makers and planners.

"I cannot claim that I had clean hands. Those who planned and gave instructions, however, got off cheaply by suicide. Others are now dying or are not to be found.

"I know I should have hanged myself in public so that all the anti-Semites in the world would have had these terrible events stressed for them."

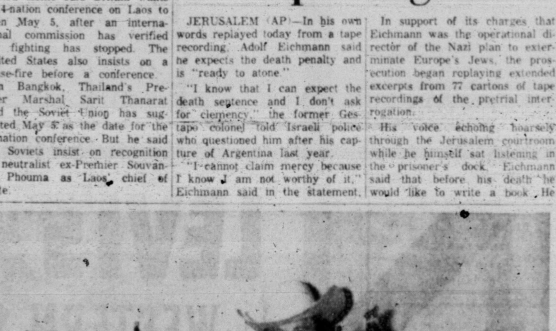

Eichmann pictured himself as a man who recoiled from the sight of blood and nearly fainted when he was forced to witness Jews being gassed to death in the Nazi extermination camps.

"I couldn't look. I tried to avert my eyes from the sight. I was too appalled to look," he said in describing his reactions the reactions the first time he saw Jews put to death.

Eichmann also said:

1. The order for the physical extermination of the Jews during World War II came directly from Adolf Hitler. They were transmitted to him, he said, by Reinhard Heydrich, chief of the secu-

Bank Deposits Steady Here

Snyder bank deposits were holding at about the same level as a year ago, reports issued today in response to a call for statements of condition indicated.

The Comptroller of Currency and the State banking department issued calls for statements of condition as of April 12.

Deposits in the two Snyder banks aggregated $22,075,457.31. This compared to $22,555,588.72 for a similar call last year which came one month earlier in the year.

Loans totalled $10,630,601.39, compared to $9,586,164.57 for the first quarter report of last year.

The West Texas State Bank reported deposits totalling $8,060,192.92 and loans of $4,026,046.84.

The Snyder National Bank's deposits totalled $14,015,264.39, and listed loans of $6,604,554.55.

8-Day Crude Flow Pattern Set For State Next Month

By ED OVERHOLSER

AUSTIN (AP) — The Railroad Commission slashed the May statewide oil allowable today by 233,794 barrels daily, setting a daily allowable figure of 2,636,562.

Texas oil wells will be allowed to operate only 8 days during the 31-day month. The current production schedule calls for 9 days.

Oil companies representing 72 per cent of the total nominated at the proration hearing of the oil regulatory body recommended the eight day order.

This schedule also was backed by several independent oil associations.

Only three companies recommended a nine day pattern. Nine asked for eight days. Phillips nominated seven days.

Commission Chairman William Murray noted that when Texas' oil production went on a 10-day pattern in March, crude oil stocks increased by 14 million barrels. Murray said that at the end of the first week in April under the current nine day pattern, these stocks had been reduced by 2 million barrels.

One independent oil operator from Houston, Wesley West, told the commission that "You are not acting in the public interest when you only consider waste" in fixing the statewide allowable.

"Texas oil people are dying a slow death," West said.

He said the reason the independent oil associations are requesting a cutback in production is to keep the price from dropping. West said he could see no reason "why the state should have its entire financial structure jeopardized" by the low production orders.

"If the independent oil producers continue to live in fear they will dry up and disintegrate like the autumn leaves," the oil operator said.

Bootleg Oil Leg Operation Raided

HOUSTON (AP)—Two Dallas men were arrested early today at a swank motel in the break-up of what officers said was the largest bootleg oil map operation in the nation.

The oil operator and a manufacturer's representative were seized at 2:30 a.m. after police found over 1,000 oil exploration maps in the trunk of a Houston geologist's Cadillac.

Hundreds of other maps, believed lifted from Texas and national oil firms, were taken by officers in three car loads from the geologist's home in Houston's fashionable West University Place.

Investigators said the Dallas men were suspected of selling nearly 300 "hot" oil maps to the geologist. No charges were filed at once.

The arrests were linked by investigators to the apprehension of two men in Corpus Christi in March for stealing an oil exploration map valued at $100,000 from Tennessee Gas Transmission Co. of Houston.

Two private investigators who posed as New York gamblers looking for a quick money oil deal kept hearing the name of the Houston geologist while working on the Corpus Christi case, officials said.

Investigators said the private detectives, two Harris County deputy sheriffs and a city police detective spotted the geologist Tuesday night and had his car searched when patrolmen took him into custody for drunk driving.

Two trunks and five map cases were discovered in the trunk of the car. Inside them were maps from at least nine oil companies, describing oil exploration properties in 16 states, officials said.

Among the companies represented were Gulf, Standard of Texas, Continental, Pure Oil, Sunray, Anderson Pritchard, Lario and others.

Three companies had identified some of the maps, police reported. Investigators said the geologist orally admitted bootlegging oil maps by making duplicate copies from company maps.

Four Children Die In Maine Blaze

LIMESTONE, Maine (AP) — Four children of an Air Force couple perished in a fire at their quarters on the giant Loring Air Force Base early today.

The Air Force said the victims were: Michael P., 4; Nicholas J., 2; and twins Anthony W. and Mary M., 5 months, children of Lt. and Mrs. William R. Haskett.

The parents were admitted to the base hospital. Mrs. Haskett suffered minor shock and her husband minor cuts.

Capt. J. B. Cother, Air Force medical officer, said the four children died of asphyxiation from smoke.

COMPACT CAR—The driver of the crashed auto, involved in an accident with a 45-ton earth mover in Baltimore, Md., escaped with minor injuries. Charles L. Smith, 67, was pinned in the wreckage for 45 minutes before firemen used a saw to cut him free. Earlier attempts with hydraulic jacks and a 10-ton crane failed to move the giant vehicle off the car. Smith was released from the hospital after treated for injuries. (AP Wirephoto)

Welch Sets Speech In Shreveport

By CHARLES GREEN

HOUSTON (AP)—Robert Welch, founder of the John Birch Society, said his tour of the Southwest would take him to Shreveport for another speech tonight.

Welch told a Houston crowd of about 3,000 Tuesday night there are more Communists in the upper classes than in the lower classes.

"I can find you a lot more Harvard accents in Communist circles in America today than you can find me overalls," he said in a copyrighted speech.

He said the "hungry belly" theory about communism is wrong because people in high places, people with money and influential people are Communist sympathizers more often than those of other classes.

While Welch was here the Houston Chronicle obtained a copyrighted interview which the newspaper said is the first published since the John Birch Society became the center of a national controversy.

In the interview Welch said the Birch Society is more than an anti-Communist organization or it would have "fallen to pieces long ago under all this attack."

In his speech, he asserted attacks like those against the late Sen. Joseph McCarthy are good for communism.

He said the phrase "I like what McCarthy is trying to do but I can't stand his methods" was the type of catch phrase the Communists like.

"McCarthy decided the right way to stop communism is to expose communism," Welch said.

Welch said Communists, in their drive for world domination, pick their weakest spot and bluff until it seems their strongest.

Castro Regime's Nerves Suffering

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press News Analyst

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Cuban anti-Castro rebels can claim one victory today. Their activities have given the Castro regime a bad case of frayed nerves.

It is clear from the sparse reports from the embattled island that the regime is taking desperate measures to prevent the fever of revolt from spreading among Cubans.

That would be according to the rebel plan. It means there is some hope for the ultimate success of the invasion if the preliminary landings at various points on the island are followed up by other stabs intended to keep the Castro regime constantly off balance.

Nuisance air strikes, infiltrations and appeals to the anti-Castro underground have caused the regime to turn to terror tactics in its fear of the enemy within.

Obviously the Castro government is attempting to round up and eliminate all possible internal enemies. The effort bespeaks fear that the rebels will accomplish one of their main purposes, to lure defectors to the rebel cause and rally a large sector of the Cuban people to the anti-Castro banner.

The invaders already are battling against fearful odds but, in one respect, they have the initiative. They are the attackers and they choose the time and place for th attacks.

If the invaders make significant progress, there will be indications of it in a wave of sabotage by the underground inside Cuba, such as attacks on electric power installations, communications and other nerve centers.

There has been and still is fear that the invasion may have been triggered ahead of time and have exposed too many of Castro's potential underground to his police state forces. But even if that is the case, the Castro regime still is in deep trouble, and its activities in the last 24 hours give strong evidence of it.

3. He begged Mueller not to send him to the death camps for further reports. He said that when he did go, he saw as little as possible.

Eichmann spoke in a deep, halting voice. There were many long pauses, and many times he told his interrogators, "I don't know. I can't remember exactly about that."

As he listened to the playback, Eichmann's expression changed. Heretofore it had been wooden, impassive, showing nothing.

Today, he leaned back with what appeared to be a satisfied air. A small, almost benign smile played around the edges of his thin lips.

Before the playing of the tapes began, Capt. Avner Less read to the court a transcript of an interrogation session in which Eichmann said he was testifying freely into the recording machines.

McCall Is Named Baylor President

DALLAS (AP)—Abner McCall, for the past two years executive vice president of Baylor University, has been named 11th president of the 115-year-old Baptist institution.

He succeeds Dr. W. R. White, who relinquished the post he has held the past 13 years to accept a newly created job of chancellor.

Both changes came Tuesday as the university's board of trustees held their semi-annual meeting at Baylor Medical Center here.

Machinery for the moves was set up two years ago, but the plan was held in abeyance after a battle developed over who the new president would be.

Speculation then was that he would be Stanley Olson, dean of Baylor's College of Medicine in Houston.

The situation was resolved for the time being, however, when McCall was made executive vice president after 11 years as dean of the Baylor school of law.

He assumed administrative direction of the university although White retained the title of president.

The chancellorship goes to White for two years. His primary function will be in the area of securing endowment and other funds for the university.

McCall, 44 and a native of Perrin, in Jack County, said he foresees no sweeping changes.

"We'll just be following through on several ideas and recommendations formulated during the past two years," he said.

Observers expect there will be some personnel changes, especially at the faculty level. McCall is known to want more academic "names" at the university.

The new president was reared at the Masonic Home and School in Fort Worth. His father died in the 1917 influenza epidemic.

He earned both bachelor of arts and law degrees at Baylor. In 1943, he won a master of laws degree from the University of Michigan.

McCall was admitted to the Texas bar in 1938. He practiced in Longview four years and spent three more as a special agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

He was professor of law at Baylor for several years before becoming dean in 1948.

The trustees recommended creation of a five-member academic council to act as an advisory council to the president.

They also approved a doctorate program in religion, bringing to five the number of Ph.D. degrees offered. Other fields include English, chemistry, psychology and education.

New members of the Board's general executive committee are Dr. W. M. Shamburger of Tyler, Ross Sams and Harlon Fentress of Waco.

All officers of the board were re-elected. Hilton Howell, Waco lawyer, is president.

Cubans Hold AP Staffer

GUANTANAMO BAY, Cuba (AP)—Word from Havana reaching the U.S. naval base here indicates that Robert Berrellez, Arizona-born correspondent for The Associated Press, has been under arrest for the last three days.

A diplomat in Havana said by telephone that Harold K. Milks, stationed at Havana as chief of the AP's Caribbean services, was free as of 11 p.m. Tuesday.

A dispatch to the New York Times from Guantanamo said the Times' Havana correspondent, Mrs. R. Hart Phillips, was not accounted for. Harry Raymont of United Press International was reported under arrest. Richard Valeriani of NBC, formerly of the AP Havana staff, was said to have taken refuge in the Italian Embassy.

All American correspondents in Havana have been unable to transmit news since about 4 a.m. Monday.

Cars Damaged, One Injured In Mishap

Two vehicles were damaged and one person was injured in a two-car traffic mishap here Tuesday afternoon.

City police reported that a 1960 Ford driven by Paul Eugene Sheppard of Sweetwater and owned by Sinclair Oil and Gas Co., and 1953 Ford driven by H. O. G[...], Route 1, Snyder, were involved in a collision at 2 p. m. at Twenty-fifth Street and Avenue M.

Gill was taken to Cogdell Memorial Hospital by Bell Ambulance for treatment of injuries. He suffered lacerations about the back of the head.

Damage to the 1960 Ford was estimated at $350 and to the 1953 Ford, $300.

Comedian's Wife On School Board

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—Mrs. Harpo Marx, wife of the comedian, is a new member of the school board.

Unofficial returns Tuesday night showed Susan Marx, 48, former Ziegfield Follies girl, and Harden M. Hart Jr., were elected to the Palm Springs unified school district's trustees. They won over seven candidates for the two seats.

IN A CASSEROLE, hot salmon sandwiches featuring toasted bread slices topped with hard-cooked eggs, sprinkled with cheddar cheese and baked in a delicious sauce made with a convenient package of mushroom soup mix.

Sandwich Made With Soup Mix, Ideal Supper Menu

The youngsters in your family who consider sandwiches the most delectable food in the world will particularly go for this intriguing hot salmon sandwich that is baked in a casserole.

The sandwich features toasted bread slices topped with wedges of hard-cooked eggs and sprinkled with cheddar cheese. A delicious sauce made in easy fashion with a handy package of mushroom soup mix and a can of flaked salmon is then poured over each sandwich. Sprinkle crushed potato chips over all and then pop into the oven and bake until bubbling hot.

Served with crisp celery and carrot sticks, this sandwich makes a taste-tempting, eye-catching Saturday night supper dish.

HOT SALMON SANDWICH

4 slices toasted bread
4 hard-cooked eggs, quartered
½ cup grated cheddar cheese
1 package mushroom soup mix
2 cups milk
1 (7 oz.) can salmon, drained and flaked
½ cup crushed potato chips

Place toast in square shallow casserole dish or in individual casseroles. Arrange egg wedges on toast and sprinkle with cheese. Empty soup mix into saucepan. Gradually stir in milk. Heat and continue stirring until soup just comes to a boil. Reduce heat and stir in salmon. Pour sauce over toast slices. Sprinkle with crushed potato chips. Bake 10-15 minutes in a moderately hot oven, 425 degrees F. Making 4 servings.

Barbecue Grill Cheery Guest At Skating Parties

A portable grill goes along with silver skates these days for pep-ups. When teens or a family skate on country pond or lake, it's energizing to have a grill handy with wood charcoal briquets, franks, buns and coffee pot. No danger then that hunger will send skaters home early. A food break warms up the crowd. A slow burning but glowing charcoal fire is welcome to warm hands, too, when typing and untying skates.

Polls of teens show that next to franks a second favorite is a "her sandwich wrapped in foil and heated on the coals along with hot water for instant cocoa.

Make the "heroes" ahead of time by slicing crusty buns or a whole loaf of french bread, then filling with sliced tomatoes, salami, green pepper rings, cheese, and heat on demand. After skating the charcoal can be safely doused with snow.

Awards Offered In 3 Areas Of 4-H Club Work

CHICAGO — Three sponsors of 4-H projects, representing a combined program background of nearly a half century, again are providing 4-H awards on a national scale.

For the 24th year Mrs. Charles R. Walgreen of Chicago is arranging for awards in the 4-H home grounds beautification project. In addition to engraved 19-jewel wrist watches for state winners, she offers medals to county winners and expense-paid trips to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago for national champions.

The main goal is to make home surroundings more attractive, and to develop a feeling of pride and joy in the home.

The project sponsor also hopes that the club members will learn to appreciate the artistic use of plants and acquire a knowledge to correctly care for lawn, flowers, shrubs and trees.

This is the 10th anniversary for the Pure Oil Company in the 4-H public speaking field in 24 states. And as the company again sponsors awards for this program, it will maintain the usual state awards of 19-jewel wrist watches for boys and beautiful chests of silverware for girls. Two expense-paid trips to the Chicago congress and two $400 scholarships will be offered at the national level. County winners will receive gold-filled medals of honor.

This is the 14th year of 4-H award sponsorship for American Forest Products Industries, Inc., in the forestry program.

The awards setup spans diversified areas, including six $400 scholarships on a national scale; 12 expense-paid trips to the 4-H Club Congress on a sectional basis; fountain pen and pencil sets for state winners; and gold-filled medals of honor for county victors.

Through its 4-H sponsorship, the forest industries hope to develop desirable attitudes of conserving forest resources for the public welfare and the importance of farm woodland as a source of income. Learning good forestry practices and skills in executing them, and developing leadership in forestry are major aims of the program.

TWU To Offer Four Workshops

DENTON — Bonnie Prudden, well-known physical fitness expert and president of the Institute of Physical Fitness in New York City, will be guest instructor at a workshop in physical fitness to be sponsored July 24-28 by the Texas Woman's University College of Health, Physical Education and Recreation.

The workshop will be the first Miss Prudden has conducted in a college or university in the Southwest, though she has been in charge of many in the East. She is fitness editor of the magazine "Sports Illustrated" and directs the American Veterans Fitness Program.

The week-long workshop, which may be taken for one semester hour of undergraduate or graduate credit, will be devoted to specific means for the development and maintenance of physical fitness.

Three other summer workshops have been planned by the College of Health, Physical Education and Recreation, according to Dr. Anne Schley Duggan, college dean.

They include a three-week workshop for the enrichment of experience in modern dance, with Dr. Duggan and guest instructor Ted Shawn and Harriette Ann Gray each teach for a week. It is scheduled from June 5-23.

Two faculty members, Dr. Evelyn K. Dillon and Miss Joyce Lawson, will conduct a workshop on officiating in swimming, volleyball and track and field events from June 26-July 14. Dr. Laura E. Kratz will be in charge of a workshop in recreation for the handicapped July 31-Aug. 4.

Each of the workshops offers credit on either the undergraduate or the graduate level.

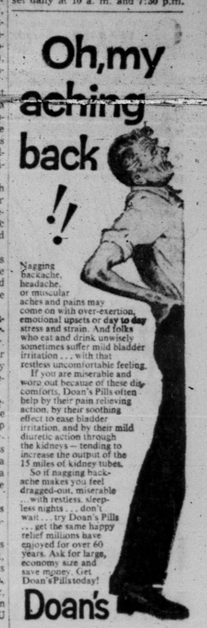

Several other summer workshops will be offered by TWU in art, education, household arts and sciences, speech, sciences, English, foreign languages, music, and nursing. A summer bulletin may be obtained from the TWU Registrar's Office.

THE OTHER MAN IN ORBIT

Republican Leaders May Yet Make Martyr Of Dick Nixon

BY INEZ ROBB

"Pity is sworn servant unto love," says the poet, which is something the Grand Old Party should paste in its hat in reference to Richard Milhous Nixon.

If the Republican leaders and wheel horses don't quit pickin' on Dick, a lot of us who never thought to love the man are going to be so filled with pity for his unhappy position in the party that tender passion can but ensue.

We Americans are notorious sympathizers with the underdog. We dote on Orphan Annie, Little Nell, the Match Girl, Oliver Twist, Jean Valjean and Quasimodo. The GOP is running the risk of putting Nixon in this category if it don't stop putting all the blame for the lost election of '60 on his shoulders and then snubbing him in the bargain.

The party undignified party hassle, with Sen. Barry Goldwater doing all the talking (who and what else?), as to whether Nixon will be invited to introduce former President Eisenhower at a $100-a-plate dinner in Washington, D. C., on June 1 is monotonous and a mite embarrassing.

Lo' I never before envisioned myself as consoler to Dick Nixon. But, as one who was brought up on the Horatio Alger classics, Dick Stover at Yale and the Little Colonel series, I believe firmly in fair play and, above all, in good sportsmanship. And, at this point, I am a little weary, not to say shocked, at the Republican party eternally crying into its beer, after it loses a national election, and declaring, 'We wuz robbed by our own candidate."

I have been watching politics in this country for a considerable span of time and it will probably be no consolation to Dick Nixon to tell him that he is getting the same rough treatment from party chieftains that was meted out to Wendell L. Willkie after his defeat in 1940 and to Thomas F. Dewey after he was beaten by that pushover, Harry Truman, in 1948.

When Willkie lost to Roosevelt and Dewey to Truman both men were subjected to the outraged slings and arrows of their party leadership. Anyone who doubts this has only to go back to the publications of the periods to refresh his memory. Both men were sullenly accused by the GOP of waging the wrong kind of campaigns although Willkie eventually died from the effects of the man-killing fight he had put up and with being an insuperable drag on the party.

In both instances, this was monstrously unfair. Both Willkie and Dewey fought hard and tenaciously for the Presidency. The party leadership did not look or sound pretty in either case when it declared both men could have won IF they had fought a different kind of campaign, if they had listened to advisers, if they had been truebluer Republicans, if, if, if - - -

Not only did both men fight hard for the Presidency, but both men were the choice of GOP conventions. It is useless to say that the nomination of either was an accident. I was there, Sharlie! The 1940 GOP convention stampeded? Come now! The boys couldn't wait to nominate Willkie.

It is disconcerting, mainly because of its poor sportsmanship, that every time the party has been defeated in a national election in the past 20 years, the Republican leaders have turned on their candidate and proceeded to rend him limb from limb. Apparently, party soul-searching is not to be tolerated when a handy scapegoat is tethered just outside the door. It is far easier to blame the fall guy than to analyze the deeper causes.

So now Nixon is getting the works to such an extent that if the GOP bosses aren't careful, they run the risk of making him as popular as cotton candy. I cannot help but wonder if some Republican leader, at the national convention in 1964, will turn on Nixon and knife him with the savagery that marked the attack of that peerless leader, Sen. Everett McKinley Dirksen, on Dewey in the 1952 convention that nominated Eisenhower (Dewey's candidate) and not Senator Taft, who was Dirksen's.

The Grand Old Party has already gone a long way toward making their '60 candidate an authentic martyr and public hero when an old Democrat like myself begins to bleed for Dick Nixon.

California Has Day Without Road Death

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Monday, April 17, was the first day in nearly seven years without a traffic fatality in California.

The last previous deathless day on the state's highways was May 29, 1954, said Bradford Crittenden, Highway Patrol commissioner. The state's 1961 traffic toll stood at 1,050.

How To Tire Bohemian Of Village

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Remarks a Greenwich Village Bohemian gets tired of hearing:

"Algernon isn't really afraid of work. He can lie down right down anywhere and fall asleep."

"After all, Algernon's got everything Shakespeare has — except fame, fortune, talent and a tomb."

"He used to read his poetry at a coffee house until, after business began to fall off, the proprietor suspected Algernon was being subsidized by the tea people."

"Algernon believes in free love —as long as the girl buys the dinner."

"What you need is to do something spectacular to get public attention. How about going into Grant's Tomb and reciting your poems by candlelight? There must be an old candle around here someplace."

"I know you are careless about what the world thinks, Algernon, but would you please quit scratching? It looks so plebian."

"If you want to take a bath, come over to my studio tonight. This is the day we have hot water."

"Don't speak to him now. He's heartbroken. He finally decided to prostitute his art by writing a television soap jingle, and they turned it down. They said it was too commercial."

"His real trouble is he paints like Edgar Guest and writes like the fellows who draw mustaches on subway posters."

"Algernon started off by being a character. Now he's just a lack of character."

"He's been nervous all week. It started when the State Unemployment Office offered him a steady job."

"No, I wouldn't call Algernon a beatnik. How could you? He never was beaten. He never put up a fight."

"Algernon, you had the cot last night. Tonight it's your turn to sleep on the floor."

"Hide the gin. That sounds like Algernon knocking at the door."

"Gee, I'd just love to stay and hear you recite your poetry, Algernon, but I'm already late to another wake."

Returns His White Cane

YPSALANTI, Mich. (AP)—William O. Broy, 41, has returned the white cane that helped him "see" during four years of blindness to the Ypsilanti Lions Club. He no longer needs it.

Broy received the cane after a corneal disease in both eyes forced him into early retirement from his job as an assistant signal foreman for the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad.

Last July doctors at the University of Michigan Medical Center replaced Broy's left eye with one from an anonymous donor to the Michigan Eye Collection Center.

At a dinner here Tuesday night, Dr. John W. Henderson, director of the eye bank, announced the operation succeeded in restoring 90 per cent of sight in Broy's eye.

A dozen nations, including the United States, Australia, France, Britain, Japan and Russia, are participating in a four-year program to fish the Indian Ocean for scientific data.

Tigers Outlast Wolves

Free, Dyer Slam Homers

By Jerry Jackson
News Sports Editor

COLORADO CITY — Amidst a carnival of slugging the Snyder Tigers embarked on their 3-3A title chase here yesterday, as they upended Colorado City's Wolves, 17-13, in a game which lasted from 4:10 p. m. 'till who-lasts-the-longest.

Other district action involving the remaining two competing teams saw Lamesa putting the stoppers to Sweetwater by a score of 6-1 to ease into an early share of the district ladder's top rung along with Snyder.

The Tigers were ahead all the way in yesterday's topsy-turvy tilt, but suffered some shaky moments before a five-run seventh inning surge iced the game away. It was strictly a day for the hitters, as none of the four hurlers who toiled were able to stem the flow of base hits, a total of 35 of which were landed during the course of the afternoon. Tiger starter Freddy Miller worked the first four innings and was credited with the win, while southpaw Bennie Greenfield tossed the remaining three. Steve Hillhouse, plagued from the outset by a sluggish brand of support on the part of his mates, never recovered from three unearned runs in the initial inning, as he went the first five frames on the hill and absorbed the loss prior to being relieved by Charles Houston, who came in to hurl the sixth and seventh cantos.

Snyder scored in every inning in rolling to the win. A single to deep short by Spencer Dyer initiated play in the game, after which a grand total of four Wolf fielding miscues allowed him and teammates Steve Free and Charlie Gladson to put the Tigers out in front to stay.

With two gone and nobody on in the second Free picked on a 2-2 Hillhouse offering and sent it screaming over the left centerfield barricade. Dyer also lofted one over the left field fence in the sixth, a bases-empty affair. Oddly enough, those two innings were the only ones in which the Bengals were held to only one run during the prolonged slugfest.

Ware Delivers

Snyder picked up two in the third, as Weldon Ware led off by pushing a looping two-bagger into left, then tripping home by virtue of a line double to right center as delivered by Greenfield. Miller then landed the third double of the inning down the left field line to plate Greenfield from second.

After the first two batsmen in the fourth went down things began to liven up for the Tigers once again. Gladson beat out an infield single to ignite the festivities and came all the way home as Greenfield laced a scorcher to left that hit the fence on the fly, the hit being his second two-bagger in as many innings. Miller next drove another double to left, his second in a row also, to score Greenfield, and came in himself with the third and final run of the frame on a one-baser through the box by Ronnie Wylie.

Free led off the fifth by bouncing a scratch single to third, after which he pilfered second and tallied on a Wolf error on a ball hit to second by Ware. Ware then advanced to third on a Gladson single and scored as Greenfield lined a single sharply over short.

Dyer's rob-circuit smash in the sixth provided the boost which put Snyder into a shaky 12-11 lead going into the final frame, and set the stage for the final outpouring of runs as garnered in the seventh. Gladson and Greenfield started the ball rolling by gaining base on a pair of C-City boots, Miller next drew a pass, following which Gladson tallied via error and Greenfield and Miller stormed home by the grace of a lined double to left by Wylie. Dyer singled to plate Wylie, took second on the late throw to the plate, stole third and scored on a sacrifice fly to center by Free.

Wolves Retaliate

C-City batsmen were far from dormant, as they took to the deliveries of both Miller and Greenfield like ducks to water in a surprising display of stickery. They proceeded to bunch all their scoring into four innings, with their sixth frame outburst of five runs tending to push them to within a single run of the Tiger nine.

Miller succeeded in shutting them out the first two innings, but got touched for three tallies in both the third and fourth frames. Bobby Stewart and Jim Womack each singled in the third and eventually came in on a Texas League single to left by Mike Andrews, who went on to second on the peg to the plate. He scored easily on a disputed call in left field, as Houston lofted a high popper to Gladson, who caught it but dropped it as he made his motion to relay it back into the infield, the plate ump ruling it an error rather than a put-out.

The first three Wolves to come to the plate in the fourth managed to score. Leadoff man Mike Hart dropped a bunt single to trigger the rally. Jimmy Palmer next dribbled a double play grounder to Jerry Franks at second, who threw it away in an attempt to cut down the lead runner, with Hart scoring on the error and Palmer taking second. Richard Rogers rapped a double to deep left to plate Palmer, then came home himself on another two-bagger to left off the bat of Andrews.

Greenfield Peppered

Greenfield took the hill to start the fifth and came out of that inning unscathed, but got himself jostled up the frame following as the Wolves exploded for five big runs.

Rogers led off the fifth by beating out an infield single to short and advanced as Stewart was nipped by a pitched ball. Womack bounced a single over hurler Greenfield's fingertips to load the bases, after which Andrews and Don Vest popped up meekly to the infield to temporarily stymie the proceedings. Houston singled to bring in Rogers and Hillhouse looped another of the same into short right to score Stewart and Womack, and tallied the final run of the inning himself on an error by Tiger shortstop Free.

The never-say-die Wolves marked up two additional runs in the seventh as Womack got on by scratch single and came in ahead of Houston, who poled a four-bagger to left in a final but abortive attempt to close the gap.

The Tigers next see action Saturday in Towle Park when they entertain co-leader Lamesa in a 2 o'clock battle. Colorado City travels to Sweetwater on the same date in the remaining 3-3A joust of the weekend.

Brown Whips Charnley In 10th Defense

LONDON (AP) — Have crown, will travel, was lightweight champion Joe Brown's pledge today after whipping Dave Charnley in his record 10th title defense.

"I am ready to travel anywhere in the world to defend my crown," said the 35-year-old American with the elegant touch, who outpointed the British and European champion in 15 brisling rounds before 18,000 at London's Earls Court Stadium Tuesday night.

Even two sets of swollen knuckles and the actions of spectators who jeered the decision couldn't dampen the spirits of the Baton Rouge, La., Negro, who may pocket as much as $50,000 from the bout.

He'll go anywhere to fight, he said, and that might mean the Philippines, where he has an offer to defend against either Flash Elorde or Bert Somodio.

Filipino promoter Lope Sarreal made the bid to Brown and his manager, Lou Viscusi, within minutes of the final bell.

The decision touched off an outburst of booing by many in the hometown crowd. Brawling broke out in some parts of the hall. A bottle conked one fan on the head. Police escorted referee Tommy Little, the sole official from the ring through a line of jeering fans.

Brown shrugged off the demonstration.

"Man, you get to expect this kind of thing when you're fighting away from home," he said. "After all, this isn't Houston."

Most observers agreed that Brown had all the class and deserved the decision after leaving the blood-soaked Charnley with nothing but his fighting heart.

Brown, who stopped Charnley on cuts in five rounds in their first title bout in Houston 16 months ago, opened a cut on the bridge of the Briton's nose in the first round that bled freely the rest of the way. He fought back gamely in the last four rounds but Brown stayed in control.

After the bout Charnley's right eye was swollen shut and he had a cut under his left eye as well as on the nose. The blow that opened the nose cut also damaged Brown's knuckles on his right hand.

"That was the turning point," said Brown. "In the fifth, when I caught him smack on the nose with my right. I knew it was a good punch. I saw his nose split open and I felt my knuckles go. "I hurt my left hand right after that, so I was forced to take it a little easy. But this Charnley is a real good fighter. A tough guy, and he gave me trouble all the way."

NEW YORK (AP) — Charley Conerly, a gray-haired scrapper who has fought off a host of youthful challengers in the last several years, is ready for round 14 as the No. 1 quarterback of the New York Giants.

The dean of active National Football League players—he will be 40 two days after the season opens—ended rumors about his retirement Tuesday by signing for his 14th year of pro grid action with the Giants.

Terms of the one-year contract were not disclosed by President Jack Mara, who would only say Conerly was one of the NFL's highest-salaried stars. It is estimated the former University of Mississippi standout will receive $25,000 to $30,000.

As is his usual practice, Conerly told Mara as he agreed to terms: "I guess this will be my last time."

As is his usual practice, Mara smiled and replied: "Yes, Charlie."

Call Issued To Colt-Pony Boys, Parents

Colt and Pony League contractural arrangements were arrived at here last night, as a sparse turnout of parents of boys of that age group met in the high school cafeteria.

League contracts were passed out today to all boys desirin, them in the high school, junior highs, and grade schools, with registration having been set for this Thursday night, April 20, from 7 until 9 p.m. in the high school gym here.

Both Colt aspirants (15-16 years) and Pony prospects (13-14 years) have been requested fill out their contracts completely, along with their parents' signatures, and to present them during the registration period along with a copy of their birth certificates.

It is also urged that any and all parents and-or other interested parties who would be able to assist in the operation of the leagues attend Thursday night's registration session.

Lamar Girls Upend Travis

Lamar's girls dealt crosstown rival Travis a double volleyball licking in the Lamar gym Monday night, the varsity winning out by 34-31 and the Lamar "B" reigning supreme to a 57-40 refrain.

Gail Mullins was tops for the winning "A" girls with 9 points, but was forced to relinquish high scoring honors to Barbara Savage of Travis, who marked up 13 for the night. Anne Littlefield and Susan Cartwright each tallied 6 for Lamar to aid the effort, while Travis' Sherry Kee notched 7.

Diann Foster powered her "B" mates to their victory with 16 points, followed by Hazel Williams and her 11.

Pacing the Travis "B" were Maria Matinez, Billie Jo Carr, and Brenda Sharpe with 8 each.

Second baseman Luke Urban of Fall River, Mass., is captain of Columbia University's baseball team. He led the team in hitting last season.

THEY'RE TALKING 'PURKEY' NOW

Reds Climb Into Loop's Top Spot

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Bob Purkey apparently wasn't listening when Fred Hutchinson, the Cincinnati manager, declared at the season's start that the team's fate this year was in the hands of the young pitchers.

The veteran right-hander, who will be 31 in July, pitched his second straight victory Tuesday night, a 9-1 triumph over San Francisco, and boosted the Reds into first place in the National League.

It was Cincinnati's fourth success in six starts and Purkey's second complete game. The rest of the staff, which includes Jim O'Toole, Jay Hook, Jim Maloney and Joey Jay, all in their early 20s, have only one complete game among them.

The Reds own a half game lead over the St. Louis Cards, Giants and Pittsburgh Pirates, all tied for second. Los Angeles dropped St. Louis out of a first-place tie with a 5-4 night victory over the Cards and Pittsburgh moved up by beating the Chicago Cubs 5-3 in the only game played in daylight. Rain washed out the Milwaukee-Philadelphia game with the Braves leading 3-1 at the end of an inning and a half.

The elements played havoc with the American League schedule. Rain, snow and cold weather postponed all games but the one in Boston. Minnesota solidified its hold on first place, shading the Red Sox 3-2.

Purkey, Cincinnati's leading pitcher last season with a 17-11 record, permitted the Giants only six hits and lost his bid for a shutout when Willie Mays led off the last of the seventh with his second home run of the season. That was the Knuckleballer's only troublesome inning. The Giants loaded the bases but Purkey retired pinch hitter Jim Marshall to end the threat.

Wally Post, Gene Freese and Gordon Coleman led a 10-hit attack on starter Billy Loes and two relievers. Post got a double and two singles, Freese drove in three runs with a pair of singles and Coleman clouted a three-run homer, his second of the campaign.

Home runs, by Frank Howard, Wally Moon and Johnny Roseboro accounted for the first four Dodger runs but the last and winning tally, in the sixth, was unearned. Pitcher Roger Craig, who went 6 2-3 innings and got the victory, opened the sixth with a single and moved to third when Bill White threw wild after fielding Maury Wills' sacrifice bunt. An infield out scored Craig.

Ken Boyer drove in two Cardinal runs with a pair of home runs. Stan Musial batted in the other two. Rookie left-hander Ron Perranoski preserved Craig's first triumph of the season, disposing of White with two out and the bases full in the eighth.

Dancers From Russia Are Hit In U. S.

By HENRIETTA LEITH

NEW YORK (AP)—American-Soviet relations fared much better on Broadway Tuesday night than over on the East River or in Washington.

It was tense as at the United Nations building and in Washington, where the diplomats exchanged notes, it was grim and gloomy.

But on Broadway, at the Metropolitan Opera House, it was joy unrefined as 100 Russian members of the Moiseyev Dance Company and 3,700 Americans beamed at each other across the footlights.

The moiseyev troupe, famed for its precision chorus dances and individual acrobatics, was paying its second visit to the United States, just three years after they made their American debut at the Metropolitan.

Two Soviet ambassadors—Mikhail Menshikov from Washington and Valerian Zorin from the United Nations—were to have sat above the Soviet flag draped beside a United States flag from the center boxes. But the ambassadors didn't show up.

The dancers were too busy dancing—and you have to see the Moiseyev dancers to believe how busy they can be—and the audience was too busy gasping, laughing and applauding to notice anyone's absence.

The audience started applauding seconds after the show started, when the "Snow Maiden" drifted across the stage with her handmaidens doing a favorite Moiseyev trick of seeming to dance on the air a few inches above the floor.

They laughed at the courting Estonian who dances the polka to flat-on-his-face exhaustion, at the pigeon-toed shimmies of the Halmik dancers, and at the hops, whistles, struts and hat-doffing of a Moldavian dance.

The Moiseyev dancers seemed to want to convince their audience that every Russian is a very funny fellow who likes to play the buffoon.

Even romance is always amusing to the Moiseyev dancers.

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Robert C. Martin observed his 100th birthday today by reading the scripture.

"The end of time ain't far off," he said. "The Russians have gone too far in sending a man into space. They're trying to outwit the Lord."

"If the news don't suit me, I turn it off," he said.

Man Gets Vision Back

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Vision returned to Clifford Blumburg, 44, with bright flashes of light Tuesday.

"This is really a thrilling experience," said Blumburg, an aircraft plant employe in Fort Worth, as news photographers popped flash bulbs while bandages were removed.

His doctor said a March 22 transplant into the patient's left eye of the cornea from a dead person was a success. Blumburg will undergo a like operation on his right eye as soon as another cornea is available.

Blumburg and his wife both have willed their eyes to the Dallas Eye Bank, which supplied the cornea for his surgery.

"I'd like to reassure anyone waiting to undergo this operation," he said. "It was positively the most painless operation I've ever had."

Submarine Defenses Are Reported Good

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP)— Radio-controlled drone helicopters armed with homing torpedoes. Search devices that can bounce a sub-seeking signal off the ocean floor. Missiles able to kill nuclear submarines at ranges up to about eight miles.

These are a few of the detection instruments and weapons, some with a lethal atomic punch which the Navy says it can use—or soon will have ready—if called on to repel the Communist world's 450-submarine force.

Rear Adm. Lloyd M. Mustin, head man in Navy Antisubmarine Warfare (ASW), claims U. S. antisub capability is very good. He says there are some new "dramatic" means, still cloaked in secrecy.

Some others in the Navy and industry which supplies the Navy disagree with Mustin's estimate.

A destroyer-minded officer wrote recently there is room for grave doubt that U. S. destroyer forces are currently capable of disposing of the Soviet sub threat. He questioned the effectiveness of most present weapons against high-speeding nuclear subs which can stay submerged indefinitely.

Some industry sources have complained progress in ASW is too slow, that the nation's capability in this field does not appear to have advanced in proportion to the growth of the threat.

But Mustin dissents, saying: "We have the stuff; we have the know-how."

The admiral contends "the quality of this equipment is more than adequate" to deal with the greatly increased problem that will develop when the Soviets add a sizeable number of nuclear craft to their already potent sub fleet powered by conventional fuels.

To date the Soviets have shown no nuclear subs, but U. S. Navy officials are taking for granted that such Soviet craft will be operational in the near future.

To prepare for that day, U. S. Antisubmarine Warfare teams have been testing hunt-and-kill techniques against U. S. atomic subs.

As Mustin views it, the pressing need is to acquire new ASW tools in quantity—"there is no substitute for numbers in antisubmarine warfare," he argues.

The Eisenhower administration's farewell military budget proposed about $1.6 billion for ASW readiness in the fiscal year starting July 1. President Kennedy has recommended increasing this by about $35 million.

Of the total, $236.2 million was earmarked for research and development on still more advanced ASW methods, equipment and weapons.

More than $100 million was allotted for remodeling 53 World War II destroyers, submarines and other types, most of them for antisub work. This modernization program, begun in 1959, involves installing the very latest search gear, missile-fired torpedoes and depth charges and other devices expected to add from five to eight years to the effective lives of these aging vessels.

The Navy has an active fleet of 817 ships—the great bulk of them remaining from World War II—and more than 6,900 planes. Forty-five per cent of the ships and 14 per cent of the planes are primarily devoted to ASW combatant tasks.

The control ship of a hunter-killer task force is a carrier fitted with complicated electronic equipment enabling the commander to coordinate and direct the attack. The United States has 9 ASW carriers and 14 attack carriers that can be used for operations against subs.

Joining in the hunt are twin-engine carrier-borne tracker planes which can search thousands of square miles of open sea, watching for telltale signs of a snorkel poking above the waves or dropping sonar buoys to detect the sounds of subs running submerged.

Also brought into play are helicopters, often operating in teams of two. Navy experts say one chopper can locate a lurking sub by means of a sonar ball dipped through sound-distorting temperature variations in the water, while the other moves in with a depth charge or torpedo.

The real work horses are high-speed destroyers with long-range sonar and a variety of torpedoes and depth charges, some rocket-fired for greater range.

Submarines with sensitive search gear also have an important role in the sea-air operations to find and sink enemy underwater boats.

The task force commander can call on land-based planes, like the Neptune which is packed with more than 4,000 pounds of electronic equipment and carries nuclear depth charges and homing torpedoes.

The Navy has high hopes for a new turbine-powered drone helicopter called Dash (for destroyer antisub helicopter). This small chopper can be sent out after a fix is obtained on a sub and ordered by radio to drop a pattern of torpedoes on the quarry. It can carry 1,000 pounds of payload. The first of this model are due to fly this summer.

Then there is ASROC, which is a four-part system including underwater sonar, an electronic fire control computer, an eight-missile launcher and the solid-fuel missiles themselves.

The 15-foot missiles, designed for firing from either destroyers or cruisers, contain either acoustic homing torpedoes with high explosive warheads or depth charges with nuclear warheads.

They are estimated to be capable of destroying a nuclear sub at ranges up to about eight miles.

A total of 150 ships is due to be armed with ASROC systems within the next few years.

Another powerful weapon, still in development, is the SUBROC, a guided missile designed to be fired from torpedo tubes of a submerged submarine, or from the surface. It travels through the air to re-enter the water for the kill.

SUBROC can detect another sub at long range, compute its course and speed before the missile is fired. The spent rocket falls away and the warhead — either conventional or nuclear — races on to the target. Its kill range is described as "an area of many square miles around the launching sub."

Now in use in the "Betty," an airborne atomic depth charge with a kill potential up to several miles from the point of detonation. The Navy says it virtually can eliminate wolf pack concentrations of submarines, like those used by the Germans in World War II.

Critics' Citation Saves Play Again

By WILLIAM GLOVER
Associated Press Drama Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — They've taken down the closing notice on Broadway's "All the Way Home" —for the umpteenth time.

Picked as the best American play of the 1960-61 season by the New York Drama Critics' Circle Tuesday, the production nearly folded the week it opened. It has been on the verge of departure ever since.

"We were going to put up the notice for this Saturday," said co-producer Arthur Cantor. Citation by the press reviewers is usually followed by a lusty upturn in boxoffice business.

The Critics Circle completed its season selections by naming "Carnival!" as the best musical and "A Taste of Honey" as the top drama from abroad.

"All the Way Home," written by Tad Mosel, a TV veteran in his first stage outing, is based upon the James Agee Pulitzer Prize novel, "A Death in the Family."

It describes, with touching detail, a small-town Southern family and a small boy's loss of his father.

Main roles are performed by Lillian Gish and Colleen Dewhurst, who last Sunday was cited by the American Theater Wing as the outstanding feature actress of the season.

Although generally endorsed by the critics when it opened last Nov. 30 at the Belasco, the play's quiet mood failed to win audience response—until the following Saturday when a lobby scramble for tickets suddenly erupted.

Reprieved by producers Cantor and Arthur Coe, the play has never hit solid sell-out stature and has operated on a week-to-week basis.

"We'll see what happens now," said Cantor.

By contrast, an immediate stampede for tickets developed when "Carnival!" arrived last week to virtually unanimous critical cheers.

Starring Anna Maria Alberghetti, the show describes the adventures of a young girl in a small-time European circus. The show's book is by Michael Stewart with score by Bob Merrill. It was directed by Gower Champion.

The third winner, "A Taste of Honey," was written by Shelagh Delaney, a 19-year-old English girl in her first effort at playwriting. Set in a north Britain factory town, the theme is rather downbeat with its principals a raucous mother and a girl in her first romance.

Joan Plowright, enacting the daughter, received the Theater Wing medallion as the feminine star of the season.

Runoffs Held In Several Texas Cities

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Voters in several Texas cities finished choosing city councilmen in runoff elections Tuesday.

Residents of at least two cities balloted on other issues.

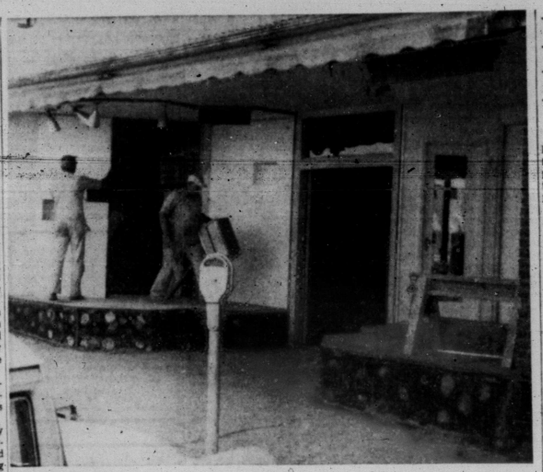

At Marshall, voters defeated, 1,299 to 641, a 10 per cent increase in ad valorem taxes to finance a proposed purchase of the old Bishop College campus for use as a civic center. The Negro college will move to Dallas in September.

Odessa voters approved a $270,000 bond issue to pay for improving the library facilities at the city junior college. The vote was 3,502 to 1,646.

In Fort Worth, voters elected three new city councilmen in a runoff election. Six others won council seats April 4. Gene Moore defeated incumbent Ce B. Williams, 7,891 to 7,527. Elected with Moore were George Thompson III and J. Frank Keeton.

The Good Government League completed a council sweep in San Antonio by electing two candidates to serve with seven others named April 4. Dr. Gerald Parker, a veterinarian, defeated Mrs. Wanda Ford, an independent, 18,425 to 15,024. George de la Garza won over Thomas Guardia Jr., backed by the Better Government League, 20,398 to 12,350.

Dallas residents named two independents in preference to candidates of the Citizens Charter Association, whose representatives claimed six council posts April 4 but lost the mayor's office to Earle Cabell. Joe Moody, a machinery salesman and avowed anti-, defeated councilman N. E. McKinney, 10,134 to 9,195. Mrs. Elizabeth Blessing won over B. A. Ellis, 12,607 to 7,179.

REMODELLING PROJECT—Workers are busy remodelling this building on the west side of the square in Snyder in preparation for a new tenant. The structure, one of the largest on the square, has been vacant since McDonald's Department Store moved out several weeks ago.

Building Prepared For A New Tenant

One of the largest buildings on the Snyder square is being remodelled in preparation for occupancy by a new tenant.

Workers started this week on a major project at the building formerly occupied by McDonald's Department Store on the west side of the square, which has been vacant for several weeks. The structure is owned by J. M. Newton and Alvin Koonsman.

Newton said negotiations have been completed for a major firm to occupy the building, but a formal announcement has not been authorized yet.

However, the building will undergo extensive reconditioning within the next few weeks, with the project scheduled to be completed by June 1.

Newton said the owners will spend some $10,000 on remodeling and repairing the structure.

"It will improve the appearance, both inside and outside," he said.

The ceiling will be lowered, interior walls and floors will be redone, and the front of the building will be remodelled.

Newton said the building's new tenant will use all of the space on the ground floor of the two-story structure.

Republicans Show Signs Of Recovering From Big Defeat

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans gave some signs today they are beginning to pick up the pieces of their presidential election defeat and fit together a new pattern of unity.

An invitation for Richard M. Nixon to confer with GOP congressional leaders Thursday was interpreted generally as signaling a decline in criticism by many Republicans of the former vice president for losing the election.

Senate liberals expressed satisfaction over a pledge their views will be heard before the weekly "Ev and Charli" television program is put on by Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois and House GOP Leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana.

Chairman Thruston B. Morton told Republican National Committee members they are going to get the opportunity to pick their own head man as his successor.

The committee dutifully elected the men former President Dwight D. Eisenhower tapped when he occupied the White House.

Morton said he expects the party's executive committee, meeting here Friday, to come up with a formula for a nominating committee of sorts. The chairman has declined to name such a committee himself or to recommend a successor.

Because some committee members have been grumbling against any effort to handpick a new chairman, the executive group may set up a committee on a geographical basis to list several names that might be voted on at a June 2 session of the national committee.

In this connection, three new names have been tossed into the speculation over Morton's successor. They are Walter Williams, former undersecretary of commerce and a 1952 Citizens-for-Eisenhower official; former Secretary of Interior Fred Seaton, and former Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield.

However, Rep. William E. Miller of New York, chairman of the Republican Congressional Campaign Committee, still is looked upon as the most likely choice to succeed Morton.

Miller said in an interview that Nixon had written many Republicans asking for their advice on the political issues they think he ought to explore in a 10-day speaking tour he has arranged early in May. He said that when the leaders learned Nixon planned to be in Washington, they invited him to sit in with them. The leaders will visit Gettysburg, Pa., May 1 to confer with Eisenhower.

Dirksen said Nixon had indicated "he would like to have our estimate of the legislative picture and I gathered he wanted to make some political soundings, too."

Liberals won an agreement Tuesday that the Senate Republican Policy Committee will be called into session frequently for an expression of views on issues that may be touched on by Dirksen and Halleck in their program taped weekly for television.

Chairman Styles Bridges of New Hampshire said he thinks these sessions will result in more harmony among the Republicans.

Has Plenty Of Remedies

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Criminal Court Judge L. A. Grayson, who recently denied he had any occult powers to banish warts, now has a large enough stock of home remedies to write a book on the subject.

Remedies started pouring in from all over the country after an elementary school teacher asked the judge's help in getting rid of warts on one of her students.

She said she heard the judge could remove warts by "just looking at them."

Grayson said he'd be out removing warts instead of judging criminals if he had that type of power.

Grayson said he will give the whole batch of suggested cures over to the teacher.

Time Hangs Heavy For Kentucky Man

HARLAN, Ky. (AP) — Time hangs heavy for Milt Rankin. He's been in the Harlan County jail nearly four years and might stay four more.

"I've never bothered to figure the day I'm supposed to get out," says Rankin, 53, a former coal miner serving out a $5,000 fine at the legal rate of $2 a day.

The jury that convicted Rankin of running a disorderly house also sentenced him to a year in jail.

Mistake Is Costly Event

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP) — A young man went to the police station intent on helping officers clear up a mistake. It cost him $50.

Peter Joseph Haden, 24, told the police he was not in jail on a charge of driving while intoxicated, but that it was a friend who had been using Haden's name.

"How did it happen?" inquired Lt. Luther Legette.

Haden said the jailed man had borrowed Haden's car, which had Haden's driver's license in the glove compartment. In response to another question, Haden admitted he knew his friend had no driver's license.

Legette replied: "You are under arrest for allowing an unlicensed driver to operate a motor vehicle. Bond will be $50.

Exploding Stars And Life Bricks

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Exploding stars, the pulse of a volcano, and a building brick of life are topics of scientific news:

Cooked Worlds?

Astronomers recently detected two novas—two stars which suddenly exploded in glowing light and heat and other energy. A nova later subsides to its former faintness.

But the sudden, rapid expansion could well have burned or cooked any nearby planets and all their living things or "people." Whether this happened in the case of the two stars can only be a matter of speculation, since no one can know if they ever had planets. The novae were detected by Drs. Jason J. Nassau and Charles B. Stephenson of Case Institute of Technology.

Ready to Blow

Taking the pulse of a volcano, experts predict that Kilauea volcano in Hawaii is building up to another major eruption.

It has been re-inflating itself with magma or molten material from deep in the earth. Another sign is swarms of tiny, shallow earthquakes similar to those preceding major eruptions in 1955 and 1960.

But the exact date for an eruption cannot be foretold, say scientists at the Geological Survey Hawaiian Volcano Observatory.

Raindrop Barrage

The biggest raindrops usually fall at the start of a storm. Winds are the main reason. The larger drops are less affected by winds, hence fall more vertically, while smaller drops are blown out of vertical path, explain Prof. A. Nelson Dingle and Kenneth R. Hardy, University of Michigan Meteorological Laboratory.

They add it takes about a million cloud droplets of average size to form one raindrop.

Brick of Life

Proteins of living bodies the flesh, nerves, hair and tendons—are composed of building bricks known as amino acids. Generally some 20 of them, arranged in specific fashion, make up the different proteins.

Now a new amino acid has been discovered in collagen, the tendon material, by University of Cincinnati researchers. They report it is the first new amino acid found since 1925. The finding opens new fields for research, including the question whether certain collagen diseases depend upon presence or absence of this amino acid.

Color TV

Watching color TV is usually easier on a person's eyes than a black-and white screen, says the Vision Conservation Institute.

But color TV helps spot some eye troubles which might otherwise pass unnoticed. For example, far-sighted persons usually can see blues and greens more clearly than red colors, and a blurring or distortion while viewing red colors could signal the need for an eye examination.

Hollywood Speculates On Cooper's Health

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—This question buzzed through Hollywood today: Is Gary Cooper seriously ill?

Rumors about Cooper's health arose after actor Jimmy Stewart, near tears, accepted an honorary Academy Award for the lean actor Monday night, saying: "We're proud of you, Coop, all of us are tremendously proud." Cooper was presented an Oscar for his 30 years in movies.

Cooper's wife said her husband couldn't appear at the ceremony because he was in traction for a pinched nerve in the neck.

Cooper's doctor refused to comment on the actor's condition.

Cooper underwent prostate gland surgery last April and the following month he was operated on for an intestinal disorder.

The Collahuaya Indians of South America are known as the drug gists of the Amazon. They make excellent cough medicine from tree barks, a tonic from sarsaparilla roots and a powerful poison, curare, from plants of the stychnos family.

Cuban Resigns His Position Hastily

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A Cuban left a note of resignation for his employer, saying, "Sorry to do it this way."

"Please forgive me for not giving you notice beforehand but I didn't know it either," his note read.

"I have to go. I am leaving today to fight for my country and my church. It's hard for me to leave all of you, but there is nothing else I can do while thousands of my countrymen are under Communist dictatorship."
