Weak Front Is Drifting Southward

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A series of severe weather alerts expired in Northeast Texas early Monday without reports of the turbulence that had been forecast.

The most recent severe thunderstorm forecasts were for an area along a 120-mile line from 40 miles south of Dallas to 20 miles north-west of Little Rock. Ark. It was in effect until 3 a. m. Monday.

However, the Weather Bureau reported that there were moderate to heavy thunderstorms early in the day in Navarro, Henderson and Freestone counties, in East Central Texas.

A weak cold front was drifting slowly southward from along a line from Ardmore, Okla., to Midland, Tex. The Weather Bureau said it would continue to weaken during the day.

The scattered showers and thunderstorms were moving southward from southeast of the Fort Worth-Dallas area.

Patches of clouds were reported over East and South Texas but skies were generally fair elsewhere.

Early morning temperatures were in the middle 50s in the Panhandle, and ranged up to 76 degrees at Brownsville and Corpus Christi.

Trees were uprooted in Gainesville Sunday night by winds up to 70 miles per hour. Half the size of marbles fell at Archer City while Wichita Falls had up to 42 of an inch of rain with some pea-size hail.

Welch Denies Accounting Is Refused

WASHINGTON (AP)—The founder and president of the John Birch Society has denied his organization refused to make an accounting of its funds, desires an authoritarian U.S. government or is semiserious.

Robert Welch, retired Belmont, Mass., candy manufacturer, said Saturday night the aims of the militantly conservative organization were well known and that auditors now are preparing a complete report on its finances.

In a radio session with the press, Welch was asked about accusations his group was authoritarian and moonlighting and whether he wanted this type of government in the United States.

"No," he replied. "I have said the best form of government is a republic and the worst is a democracy. Our purpose is to inform our fellow citizens so they do the right things politically."

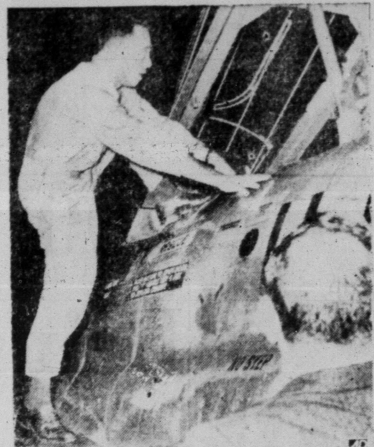

He told a television news panel NBC—Street the Press that the accounting of society finances would be made to the organization's governing council, not to individual members.

And Welch refused to say how many members the society had, commenting only that it is growing "very rapidly in strength and numbers."

He said such precautions were necessary to prevent giving the Communists too much information.

However, Rep. Edgar W. Heistand, R-Calif., said the society had about 40,000 men and 20,000 women members. Heistand, a society member, asked the House Rules Committee for an investigation of the society.

The society is named after a former missionary in China who became a U.S. Army captain and was killed by the Chinese Communists shortly after the end of World War II.

Both Candidates 'Beating Bushes'

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Republican John G. Tower and Democrat William A. Blakley were beating the bushes for votes in South and East Texas Monday in the last week of the U.S. senatorial campaign.

Tower will be joined in San Antonio by the Republican National chairman, Thurston Morton, for a dollar-a-plate barbecue. The GOP candidate will go from San Antonio into East Texas.

Morton is a senator from Kentucky. Bexar County GOP Chairman John Goodie Jr. said at least 150 persons are expected to attend.

Blakley opens the final week of the campaign in Lufkin then he will fly to Bryan, Galveston, La-Marque, Texas City and Houston. He plans to be in the Beaumont-Orange area Wednesday in the Amarillo-Lubbock region Thursday and in Dallas for a statewide television appearance Friday night.

Texas voters will decide next Saturday whether Blakley, the interim senator from Dallas, or Tower, the former Wichita Falls professor, will get the seat vacated by Vice President Lyndon Johnson.

At El Campo, in South Texas, Democratic Congressman Jim Wright and former GOP State Chairman Thad Hutcheon staged a hot debate in 95-degree weather before 5,000 visitors at the annual splash day celebration.

Sponsors said they believed it was the first time in many years that a public Republican-Democratic debate was held in Texas.

Hutcheon traced Republican politics in Texas and said "We are losing a few, winning a few. But we are going to keep running and win a lot more."

The former state GOP chairman referred to Sen. Blakley as "that millionaire of Dallas who took time off from the Senate to sell $12½ million of Braniff stock."

"Texans are not electing a corporation executive. We are electing a man with experience in politics," Hutcheon said.

BEHIND THE SCENES OF YOUR TELEPHONE SERVICE

An interview with Richard A. Goodson, Southwestern Bell Vice President and General Manager for Texas

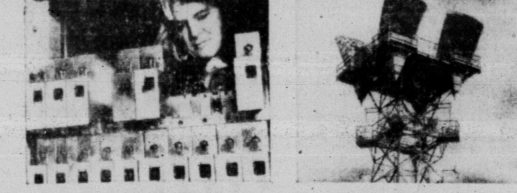

BY DON DAVIS, TELEPHONE NEWS WRITER

How Texas telephone people, modern science will keep improving your service in 1961

As you talk on the phone, you don't see the amazing technical wonders shown here. But they—and a whole lot of other things—work "behind the scenes" to make telephone service in Texas better year after year.

Where do these technical advances come from?

"The great majority result from full-time research by telephone scientists in laboratories," Richard A. Goodson, Southwestern Bell vice president and general manager for Texas, told me in an interview. "But," he added, "tele-

State School Employees Suspended

AUSTIN (AP)—The State Hospital Board voted unanimously today to suspend permanently eight employees of the Abilene State School accused of mistreating inmates.

The full board took action after hearing a report backing the charges.

The report, signed by Dr. Ralph White, chairman of the Hospital Board's personnel committee, backed up the action of the board's executive committee temporarily suspending the employees involved in the alleged mistreatment of patients.

The executive committee said April 22 "Some things have happened at the Abilene State School that could not be condoned as humane treatment."

The board announcement said the employees were suspended for "gross mistreatment of patients, misconduct or violation of board policies."

The personnel committee approved the action of the executive committee in suspending certain employees of the Abilene State School, recommended that the board make the suspensions final, except for those who have resigned.

Missing Pickup Found Abandoned

A pickup truck reported stolen Sunday was found abandoned and out of gasoline this morning at Thirty-third Street and Avenue G, the police department reported.

The theft was reported Sunday morning by W. A. Mayfield, 3106 Avenue A, the owner. A call reporting an abandoned pickup was received this morning by the Sheriff's Department, who in turn notified police.

Mrs. Parker Speaker At P-TA Meet

By G. K. HODENFIELD

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—"Many Americans are so bemused by the creature comforts that they seem to have forgotten the spirit of personal sacrifice that made this nation great," the national president of the Parent Teachers Association said today.

Mrs. James C. Parker, Grand Rapids, Mich., added, "There is nothing wrong with the creature comforts as such, it is the unnumbered place they hold in relation to the things that are really important."

"And it is time, past time, for this country to recognize those things that are really important," Mrs. Parker, finishing a three-year term as president of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, said in an interview.

"The great concern in this country with the creature comforts is perfectly evident in many cases where school bond issues are voted down. Many of the voters could afford the higher taxes to build schools, but they refuse to pay this most necessary of all their bills."

In a prepared speech marking the formal opening of the sixth annual convention of the national congress today, Mrs. Parker posed these questions for Americans:

"Are we a people whose only devotion is to comfort, convenience and the consumption of luxuries?"

"Have we put possessing a no-shift automobile ahead of abolishing the two-shift school?"

"Do we pinch pennies on slum clearance, public services, and delinquency control in order to spend them on milder cigarettes, softer mattresses and easier driving cars?"

"Have we put private wants above public needs? "Have we abandoned the goals that give our nation vigor and purpose in its youth?" Mrs. Parker told the convention that the image of America begins in the home, and that "perhaps the home has no task so important as giving concrete meaning to the idea of human dignity."

"As we treat people, so will our children," she said.

Preparing Cottage For Easy Living

By VIVIAN BROWN

AP Newsletters Writer — IF YOU ARE sprucing up a summer cottage or a weekend haven, don't let your desire to keep up with the permanent residents get the best of you.

A summer cottage should be a fun place where everyone can take it easy—and that includes the lady of the house.

You can make the summer cottage a joy with economical foresight, however, by putting into it only what you can take out of it, unless you own it. What you put into it should be cheerful and easily maintained.

Few rented cottages ever look cozy for the reason that they lack the warmth of color. There must be an unwritten law among cottage landlords that summer cottages should be furnished in muddy brown, inky blue and very dusty pink to withstand summer traffic.

That wall must be covered with art from the bleak period, and that rug should look as if they'd been steamed rolled with moldy Swiss cheese.

If you walk into one of those dreary vacationland set-ups, remedy the situation before the place gets the entire family steamed and astringent.

Strip windows of heavy draperies. Let in the light. Put up bright white or colorful sheets at the windows by sliding a curtain rod through hems or hanging them on curtain clips. If windows are better suited to cafe curtains, use pillow cases, opening the side seam. Hem and hang them on curtain clips.

What to do about a messy sofa? Drape a washable solid color or striped, wable cloth over it. Two may be required. Pin them in place behind the sofa and under the cushions.

If you own the place, summer furniture may be perked up with paint and new cushions. Rattan should be cleaned with mineral spirits to remove dirt, wax and polish. Sand lightly. If the original color is darker than the enamel to be applied, two coats will probably be necessary. Load the brush, flow on following the wood grain, and then, without reloading the brush, cross stroke. Follow the grain again with long, free strokes to insure even coverage.

Spraying is the best method for wicker furniture. The aerosol self-spraying enamels are fine, but are not meant for larger jobs. Before enameling wrought iron furniture, clean it, and sand away any traces of rust. Touch up bare metal spots with metal primer and spray or use a small brush to paint.

Leather paint may be used on beat-up lighting fixtures and lamp bases. These should be cleaned first and coated with zinc chromate to provide adhesion for enamel.

Carduroy or inexpensive cotton may be used for cushions. One summer cottage resident uses a yellow and white color scheme. She paints the wicker furniture white, uses yellow carduroy cushions, yellow cotton table cover with white ball fringe. White pillow cases are at the window and are kept white with dry chlorine bleach.

Turquoise, yellow and vivid colors such as orange and brilliant pink are gay colors for shore homes. One may prefer quieter colors at a mountain retreat — pale yellow, French blue and the earth tones — sand and clay are contrasts with some of the greens. Decorative items could include objects made of wicker, carduroy, cushions, yellow cotton table cover with white ball fringe. White pillow cases are at the window and are kept white with dry chlorine bleach.

A dreary cottage may take you by surprise. You can get instant cheer with geraniums. Buy the quantity you can afford, paint the pots white, and place the geraniums everywhere. A porch may be livened up that way also at little cost. Choose geraniums in oversized clay pots and place them around steps and porch railings.

PROGRESS REPORT

Red Cabbage Is Fine In Its Place, Salad Not Included

BY INEZ ROBB

The inflamed question today is no longer "Which subversive threw the overalls in Mrs. Murphy's chowder?" This deed most foul has passed into history, although an official investigation of the coup would make absorbing reading.

"La. I can see the shrewd investigator now asking such foxy questions as 'What kind of chowder?' 'Clam?'"

"If the answer is yes, was it New England or Manhattan?" "Do you regard the introduction of tomatoes in clam chowder as un-American?"

"When was the presence of foreign material, i.e., overalls, first noted in the chowder?" "When Mr. Murphy missed his overalls?"

"When Mrs. Murphy couldn't find her blue jeans?" "When the boarders agreed the Little Necka were tougher than usual?"

"Did the introduction of the overalls to the chowder materially change the flavor of Mrs. Murphy's masterpiece?"

"When did the Murphy Chowder and Marching Club disband, before or after the overall incident?" Well, enough of this. After all Mrs. Murphy's chowder is past redemption. My plea today is to keep the subversives out of the salad bowl into which they have made alarming infiltrations as to salad ingredients, running salads all across the land, in red cabbage, sublime when properly cooked but unfit for man or beast in its raw state.

"Who but a fiend would mix B.B. shot with the caviar? Who but a public enemy would toss red cabbage into the salad?"

Yet, unless America is alerted, red cabbage in the salad bowl will be here to stay from coast to coast. With growing concern, I have discovered that it is almost impossible, when ordering a table d'hôte

Mexico Eyes Tourists

LAREDO, Tex. (AP)—A drive is under way to boost Mexico's tourist trade which dropped sharply in April because of anti-American demonstrations.

A Laredo customs broker, Renato Zapal, went to Mexico City on a fact-finding mission and reported Sunday that the "American tourist has no reason to worry about a thing while traveling in Mexico."

Zapala said he was told by Manuel Aguilar, undersecretary of the Federal Tourist Bureau in Mexico, that the agency plans the biggest travel promotion drive in the history of the country this summer.

The Mexican Chamber of Commerce in Laredo is printing thousands of English-Spanish tourist folders to mail to U.S. tourist agencies.

Miss Vella E. Uribe, manager of the American Automobile Association here, said that Laredo, with 7,842 tourist crossings, had the heaviest volume and only a 17 per cent decline from April, 1960.

The population center of the United States in 1790, the first year of the census, was 28 miles east of Baltimore. The population of the nation that year was 3,929,412.

luncheon or dinner ("choice of soup or salad" to come by an honest salad unpolluted by red cabbage, a tough, coarse offshore of the mustard family that in its natural state would even be scorned by Elsie, the cow.

Why is the greatest preoccupation of the average American in dining the picking of red cabbage out of salad? Look around you at any restaurant and watch the cabbage-pickin' Americans at work. Well, I'll tell you why it's the greatest single indoor sport as of now. Because it is impossible to get that table d'hôte salad without it.

It is useless to ask the waiter or waitress to bring a mixed green salad "without red cabbage." Salad greens are all pre-mixed and no waiter or waitress has the time or patience to hand-pick the cabbage from the edible greens.

So the diner has his choice of not eating the offensive mixture or cotton-pickin' his way through the bowl before he wades in with a fork.

It is my fervent hope that all those fine upstanding Americans who joined me in my crusade against lettuce in sandwiches—an unspeakable barbarity—and supported me in my fight against red lava disguised as salad dressing will now arm against the introduction of red cabbage in salad.

Frankly, I haven't won either one of these crusades, but I'm still in there pitching.

The red menace in the salad bowl may have me licked, too. Perhaps the infiltration is later than I think. But I am determined to forge ahead. Nothing risks, nothing gained except heroism.

Industry Is Wooing Scientists

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—Wooing is more intense this spring in that triangle—industry, science and education.

Industry is spending more in recruiting likely skills with many top companies saying that the mild recession dampened their ardor not one whit. Universities confirm that the added interest in the burgeoning nuclear and space age and in science in general has made seniors in technical fields more sought after than ever.

Many companies are working more closely with colleges in outlining and underwriting studies in fields that industry is entering and in putting more cash into their own post college training programs.

And many firms are looking carefully at nearby education facilities before locating their research laboratories or specialized plants.

A General Electric official says that his company is increasing education facilities within the company and that more such facilities in nearby colleges and universities are being made available to GE technicians.

A Jersey Standard official says although the petroleum industry may have "oil running out of its ears" right now. "We need chemists and chemical engineers and physicists and mathematicians and the time and expense to continue this need indefinitely."

Schools reporting to Northwestern National Life Insurance Co. in Minneapolis that the demand for the engineering and scientific grads is excellent and often better than a year ago include: University of Pennsylvania, Georgia Institute of Technology, Michigan State, University of Minnesota, University of Washington, University of California at Los Angeles.

Scott Hill, manager of engineering services recruiting for GE says "The current swing is toward electrical, engineers and solid state physicists."

New specialties develop. He mentions bionics, the science of adapting nature's processes to engineering.

"In many cases," he adds, "GE plants have developed their own educational courses or made special arrangements with neighboring colleges and universities to provide the kind of education needed for technical people."

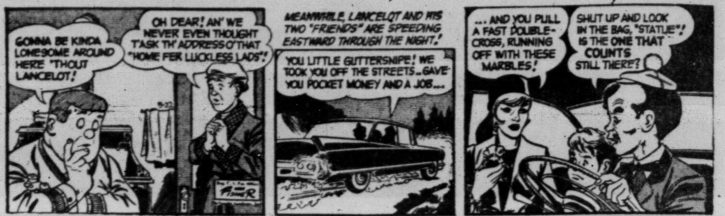

Hill thinks this is why the electronics industry has settled plants "near highly regarded educational institutions in the Boston, Los Angeles and San Francisco Bay areas."

The need for more scientists in the oil industry has not been crimped by the current excess of drilling facilities over demand.

David A. Shepard, an executive vice president of Jersey Standard Oil, says. The industry is branching out into many technical fields. He notes that "oil companies currently are building or expanding around 50 petrochemical plants and will go on breaking into new markets with new products."

"Oil scientists are devoting a great deal of time to fundamental research," Shepard says, but "even the research scientist has to be aware of the economic stakes involved." He says the need is for "more, not fewer people with a taste for new ideas and with solid economic sense."

Reef Bowmen Shine In League Shoot

Snyder's hosting Canyon Reef Archery Club members copped four "firsts" here yesterday in West Texas Archery League competition, which was the local team's finest showing of the year to date.

The matches were run off on the range located just to the south and east of Winston Park, with a large number of teams taking part in a run for the honors of the day.

First place winners received medals, white red and white ribbons, respectively, went to second and third placers.

Robert Martin, Joe Fattig, Mike Poe, and Wayne Finley, constituted the victorious medal-winning Snyder quartet.

STILL THE SAME OLD SENS

No Matter How You Slice It...

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Even a change in uniforms and a switch to another city haven't helped the Minnesota Twins who were the Washington Senators last year. They're still mesmerized by the slants of Cleveland's Jim (Mudcat) Grant.

For the 17th time in 19 decisions in the last four seasons, Cookie Lavagetto's charges were beaten by Grant Sunday. They made only three hits against the Indians' righthander. At that, they got one more hit than they did in the opener, against Wynn Hawley, as Cleveland swept the doubleheader 9-0 and 2-0.

Grant added insult to injury, driving in one of Cleveland's two runs off lower single for his third second-inning lead by his third victory without a defeat.

The double triumph before 30,999 Minnesotans put the Indians alone in second place, 3 1/2 games behind the American League leader, Detroit Tigers, who defeated Kansas City 5-3 in the first game of a scheduled doubleheader.

Rain washed out the second game which was rescheduled for tonight.

The double loss dropped the Twins into fourth place, behind the New York Yankees who split a doubleheader with Baltimore. The Yankees won the opener 4-2 and the Orioles took the second game 3-2.

Washington's new Senators sputter a pair from Los Angeles 6-2 and 7-2. Chicago and Boston divided a pair, the White Sox winning the first game in 10 innings 6-5 and the Red Sox the second 4-1.

In the National League, Los Angeles defeated San Francisco 3-2 to move into a virtual tie with the Giants for first place. Pittsburgh outslugged Philadelphia 13-11. St. Louis whipped Chicago twice 6-3 and 3-0. Milwaukee and Cincinnati split. The Braves won the second game 3-2 after the Reds had taken the opener 6-3.

You have to go a long way back to find a pitcher who has so completely victimized a team as Grant has the Lavagetto outfit.

Carl Mays, the old Red Sox and Yankee submarine pitcher of four decades ago, once defeated the Philadelphia Athletics 23 times in succession and Pete Donohue, the old Cincinnati right-hander, once shipped the Phillies 20 straight times.

The five hits made by Minnesota were only two more than the fewest made by an American League club in a doubleheader.

The Indians collected 28 in the twin bill, six by Johnny Temple, who took over the league's batting lead with 360. The only thing Minnesota fans had to cheer about was Lennie Green, who hit safely in each game to extend his hitting streak through 18 games.

Steve Boros, rookie third baseman, drove in four Detroit runs with a single, double and home run to help Larry win his seventh game in eight decisions. Kansas City southpaw Bud Daley lost his fifth.

Whitey Ford, helped by Roger Maris' fourth home run in 48 many games, and seventh of the season, won his fifth game for the Yankees in the opener against Baltimore. Steve Barver, Baltimore southpaw, helped win his own game with a two-run single in the seventh after Yankee reliever John Blanchard dropped Gene Stephens' two-out foul pop.

Art Schwall, a 23-year-old, 6-6 right-hander summoned from Seattle, made his major league debut by winning one as he pitched the Red Sox to a 4-1 triumph over the White Sox. Guy Gerner's two-run homer and a couple of snafu catches featured the Red Sox victory. The White Sox won the opener on Jim Landis' two-run homer in the 10th inning.

Alex LeFevre and Tony Amos shared pitching duties for the Cubs, with LeFevre gaining credit for the win. Mike Shearburn was the loser.

David Casey and Larry Coward each collected three base knocks for the Cubs, including a first-inning double on the part of Coward. Lloyd Allen doubled for the Braves.

The American League action, the Athletics got past the White Sox by 10-4, with Mike Todd chucking the win. Rick Merick was the loser.

First sacker Lennie Gleason collected the only extra-base hit of the game, a first-inning run-producing two-bagger.

In the other AL contest, the Indians edged the Yankees, 11-7. Clay Landon was the winning hurler in that one and Wesley Bishop the loser.

Bases on balls figured predominantly in the scoring, as each team gained 13 of same.

Pitchers' Duel? Giants Win, 41-6

Weekend Farm League action was abundant, with there being four games—including a pair of matinees—played.

In a comedy of baseballs the Giants rang up what will probably rank as the largest run total of the year when they whopped the Cardinals by a margin of 41-6.

Randy Owens, Giant shortstop, led the onslaught with four singles and a double in six trips to the plate. Randy Barnett and Bill Taylor each rapped out four safeties, including a two-bagger apiece. Donald Copeland doubled twice, and Jerry Boyd laced three singles to complete the bulk of the pitcher's effort for the night.

Terry Stirling hurled for the winners, giving up six singles in his three-inning stint on the hill.

In a makeup contest, the Cubs applied the pressure to the Braves for an easy 17-3 victory, with a 14-run fourth frame paving the way.

Triple Crown Probable For Carry Back

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP)—As Carry Back began a week's rest at Garden State Park today, even his severest critics admitted the Kentucky Derby and Preakness winner has a good chance to capture the final leg of racing's triple crown.

If he wins the $125,000-added Belmont Stakes in New York June 3, Carry Back will become only the ninth 3-year-old ever to win all three races. The last horse to do it was Calumet Farm's Citation in 1948.

Carry Back is supposed to be unambiguously bred. His dam, the maiden mare Joppy, once was barred for refusing to run.

But there was nothing odd about the come-from-behind colt Saturday as he staged another late rush to win the $178,700-Preakness. The victory was worth $126,200 to his owner, Mrs. Katherine Price, and made her Dorchester Farm the leading money-winning stable so far this year with $459,123 in purses.

Carry Back started his charge as the nine 3-year-olds went into the final turn with less than a half a mile to go. He grabbed up ground with long strides, his black tail flying in the breeze, and reached the wire three-quarters of a length in front of Globemaster.

His time for the mile and three seconds was 1:37.3-5, three seconds off the Pimlico record. Jockey Johnny Sellers, the nation's leading rider, said he didn't try to force Carry Back, but waited until he was ready to make his run.

"I talked to him on the back side, and I whipped him some at the half-mile pole to make him move," said Sellers. "We were a little farther back than we had planned."

The $2,211-fans made up the largest Preakness crowd since another come-from-behind horse, Silky Sullivan of California, lost to Tim Tam in 1956.

If there was an upset in the Preakness, it was Leonard P. Sasso's Globemaster finishing second instead of Fred W. Hooper's Crozier. The No. 2 horse helped Carry Back in the Derby.

Elusive Open On Slammin' Sam's Agenda

WHITE SULPHUR SPRING, W. Va. (AP)—Life would begin at 49 for Sam Snead if he could just win the U.S. Open golf tournament.

The West Virginia slammer, riding the crest of a two-tournament winning streak, stays around home this week to celebrate his 49th birthday on Saturday. Then he heads for San Juan, P.R., and the International Cup matches.

After that he will take a shot at the Open, being held next month at Oakland Hills in Detroit.

"I have to qualify first, though," Snead reminded.

The Slammer plans to try to qualify in Detroit June 6. He shudders when he recalls what happened to him two years ago during the qualifying trial at Washington, D.C. there he just did get under the wire with a 142—and needed to can a 12-foot putt at that to keep from going into a playoff for a berth in the Open.

Oakland Hills holds a special place in Snead's memories. He finished with a 283 in the U.S. Open there in 1937 and was being congratulated for winning it when along came Ralph Guldahl, who got hot on the last 18 holes, with a 281.

That was the beginning of his never-ending chase for the U.S. Open championship—the one man who did get under the wire with a 142—and needed to can a 12-foot putt at that to keep from going into a playoff for a berth in the Open.

Snead finished runnerup on the Open on two other occasions. In 1947, he lost to Lew Worsham in a playoff at St. Louis. And in 1939 there was his famous bloupp at Philadelphia. Snead needed only a five in the last hole to win. He was 20 in all kinds of Golubch, and struggled in with an eight to finish fifth in the standings.

"Some people say I've been washed up since 1939," Snead declared.

Harris And Cleroux Sitting And Waiting

HOUSTON, AP—Bob Cleroux of Toronto and Roy Harris of Cal and Shoot, Tex., rested today for their 10-round heavyweight fight Tuesday night.

The boxers stopped pre-fight work Sunday after a Cleroux sparred three rounds in a Houston gym and Harris did light work at his backwoods home.

Cleroux, fanned 10 among heavyweights, knocked out Harris in the fifth round of their only other meeting. The Canadian has won 25 fights, lost two and had one draw.

Harris has a record of 31 wins and four losses.

Graduation Awaits Ham

FORT WORTH, May — Milton B. Ham, Snyder student, is a candidate to receive a bachelor of science in physical education in spring commencement exercises at Texas Christian University Wednesday evening, May 31, when an all-time record of 639 students will be graduated. This is sharply up from 1960's total of 606, the previous high mark.

The university will confer more degrees this spring than it did during the entire first 48 years of its history. From 1873, when it was founded as "Adrian Male and Female College" at Thorp Spring, through the school year of 1920, the university conferred 597 degrees.

He earned three letters as an end on the Texas Christian football team, also.

Ham's address is 2296 Sunset. While attending Snyder High School he was a standout in football, basketball, and baseball, lettering three years in each of those sports.

McMillan In 1-Hit Effort For Giants

Lane McMillan had things "going his way" here Saturday night in a Little League makeup contest, as he twirled a one-hitter at the expense of the Cardinals in pacing his Giant mates to a 5-2 win.

Card centerfielder Jeff Brown spoiled his no-hit effort on the strength of a second inning double. He advanced no further than second, however, as the two runs as scored by the Cards were chased over in the fourth and sixth frames by runners who had gotten on base by walks.

McMillan belted himself to the win by pounding out a double and a single, also, driving in a pair of runs in the process.

He was in hot water through much of the game, issuing free tickets to 13 Card hitters, but consistently came through in the clutch to set them down when the chips were on the line.

Losing hurler Roy Hunter relinquished six hits and walked only four in taking the loss. Ernie hurt the Card cause, also, resulting in three unearned runs for the Giant nine.

The Giants and Braves are now tied for first, and meet in an early showdown battle tomorrow night.

In the American, the Indians whacked the Athletics by 17-3 in another makeup fray of the night, as Bobby Clardy pitched his way to victory in allowing five base knocks. Athletic catcher Don Laster was the only hitter landing an extra base blow off him, a third-inning double.

Meanwhile, the Indians crawled on Larry Stokes and Terry Holt for an even dozen base hits, with three of each being blasted by Indian shortstop James Jones and second sacker Tommy Woodridge. Two of the safeties as hit by Woodridge were good for two bases, as he pounded out doubles in both the first and fifth frames.

Athletics 003 000-3
Indians 205 010-17
Larry Stokes, Terry Holt and Don Laster, Bobby Clardy and Alton Patterson.

Warren E. Swartz, 86, of Whittier, Calif., scored a hole-in-one at the Alhambra Country Club, Alhambra, Calif., last year. He was the oldest man to get an ace in 1960.

Youthful Jay Hook of the Cincinnati Reds and veteran Robin Roberts of the Philadelphia Phillies each gave up a total of 31 home runs during the 1960 National League season.

Junior Editors Quiz on SCIENCE

QUESTION: What was the gyroscope invented?

ANSWER: The gyroscope was first described—although not by that name—in 1816. A German scientist, G. C. Bohnenberger, made one in 1810 as a sort of toy. Then in 1852, a French physicist, Jean Foucault, built a similar contrivance to demonstrate that the world rotates on its axis. He selected the name gyroscope taking it from two Greek words, "gyro" for revolution, and "skopos," meaning to see. But the gyroscope is a very important device with many uses. The spinning gyroscope resists the force of gravity, is not affected by magnetic forces and the wheel spins in the same plane even though its base tilts. Basically, the gyroscope is a spinning, weighted wheel, mounted so that its frame may be moved in any direction. It is used to guide and control ships and planes, as well as stabilize ocean vessels or aid in oil well drilling. The gyroscope compass, which is so important to aviation and navigation, was invented by Hermann Anschütz in 1906.

FOR YOU TO DO: Get a toy size gyroscope, which is inexpensive, and you can see for yourself how it operates. You spin the wheel with a short length of string.

Weekend Violence Claims 23 Lives

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Weekend violence claimed the lives of 23 persons in Texas. Traffic accidents claimed 14 victims. Seven persons drowned. One man was shot to death and another committed suicide.

The Associated Press count covered the period from 6 p.m. Friday until Sunday midnight.
William Elliott Smith, 31, was drowned Sunday in the Lions Club Swimming Pool near Waco.
Robert E. Anderson, 24, Fort Worth, drowned Sunday at Lake Arlington near Fort Worth.
Homer Barker, 24, Childress, was killed in a car crash Sunday at San Angelo Sunday night.
Janice Mitchell, 15, of the Fort Worth suburb of White Settlement drowned Sunday in Benbrook Lake when she stepped in deep water about 20 feet from shore.
A Negro, Herman Brown, 16, drowned Sunday in Adams Bayou near Flores.
Joe Flores, 23, of McAllen was fatally injured Sunday when his car ran off a road near McAllen and overturned.

Frank M. Pynhall, 35, Carthage, plumber, was found dead Sunday in his automobile. A loose extension cord from the vehicle's exhaust into the interior. A suicide verdict was returned.
Larry Simmons, 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Simmons of Buna, was killed Sunday when his bicycle was struck by an automobile near Buna.
Two men died Sunday when a chase of a speeding automobile ended with the pursued vehicle overturning.
A Corsicana, killed were Joel Dean Neal, 25, Corsicana, and John Scott, 26, Dallas. Highway Patrolman Boyd Turner who was chasing the car said it was traveling in excess of 100 miles per hour.

Mrs. Leonard H. Lawless, Beaumont, was killed in a two-car collision in Beaumont Saturday.
Tommy Clay Edgar, 20, University of Texas student who was skin-diving in Lake Travis, near Austin.
Rickey Don Dudley, 5, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dudley Elmo, drowned at the Lake Terrell Saturday when his parents' cruiser sank and trapped him in the cabin.

Charles Parker Mathews, 25, Electra, Ala., and Douglas Jack Cochran, Snyder, were killed Sunday when their auto overturned near a city bus in the Snyder area.
Mrs. Patric Bealy, 16, Killeen, drowned Sunday when she stepped into deep water and was carried away by a swift Brazos River current west of Weatherford.
Matt Owens, 18, and Clarence Robinson, 45, both of Houston died in a two-car collision on the north side of Houston Saturday.

A crash of a station wagon and a city bus killed J. C. Knight, 26, in Houston Saturday.
Earl D. Truss, 25, a soldier at Ft. Hood, was killed Saturday near Temple when his car hit a guardrail.

A car struck and killed Val Gene Kinkle, 34, Burton, Friday night as he was crossing U.S. 290 north of Burton, in South Central Texas.

Kelly Jean McNeil, 18, a McAllen High School student, died in a McAllen hospital Saturday of injuries received in a two-car smashup Friday night.

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A proposal to establish liaison between the Southern Baptist Convention and the Boy Scouts might become the hottest issue before the annual meeting opening Tuesday night.
More than 15,000 delegates—20,000 churches with 9.7 million members will attend the four-day meeting.

The executive committee of the Convention will recommend that it approve the proposal that the Brotherhood Commission in Memphis, an agency of the Convention, act as liaison between the SBC and the Scout organization.

Opposition started forming long ago. Opponents fear an official tie between the SBC and Scouting would prompt Scouting and hurt the Baptist's own youth work—the Royal Ambassador program, a missionary group for Baptist boys ended with the Southern Baptist Convention at Houston rejected a proposal to connect the church with the God and Country A-1 in the Scout movement.

Both organized labor and the auto industry have former representatives in the President's Cabinet. Arthur J. Goldberg, secretary of labor, resigned as an AFL-CIO legal counsel, Robert S. McNamara, secretary of defense, quit the presidency of the Ford Motor Co. to join the Cabinet.

Both sides have the President's ear at another level. Top Henry Ford chairman of Ford Motor Co., and Reuther are members of the President's Advisory Committee on Labor-Management Policies.

Bargaining in Shadow Of White House

By A. F. MARAN
DETROIT (AP)—A shadow of the White House will loom above the bargaining table when the United Auto Workers Union and the automaker jingpins sit down next month to begin negotiations on new wage contracts.

Labor union President John F. Kennedy and his friends, UAW President Walter P. Reuther plumped strenuously for his election.
The question is: If the going gets tougher, will Reuther, who can or will be asked the administration to intervene?

Auto industry spokesmen point out the Kennedy administration has stepped into virtually every major strike-producing dispute since it took office.
Time and again, the automakers have opposed bringing outside influences into what they regard as the process of free, collective bargaining.

Reuther, on the other hand, has expressed willingness and eagerness in the past to submit demands for what he terms "economic justice" to public mediation or even arbitration. A case in point was profit-sharing, which he sought and lost in 1958, when the now expiring contracts were written.

While at Reuther's prodding the UAW has adopted a set of objectives, rather than rigid demands for this year's bargaining, the UAW made a shorter work week its No. 1 objective—to preserve jobs, make more of them.
Kennedy, however, is on record against less than a 40-hour work week. He contends 40-hour production is needed to promote economic growth.

Cold Reuther press for government intervention to win his No. 1 goal—to which the President had objected in advance.
"Maybe not," a union spokesman says, "but remember we are flexible and willing to go in any one or several directions to increase job security and job opportunity."

Reuther's flexibility is not shared by General Motors, Ford and Chrysler. Bargaining talks began the last week in June.
There is no doubt Reuther expects a tough fight. Reuther's bargaining table there are more than 300,000 unsold new cars in dealer lots and showrooms. Unemployment is high in the auto industry.

These are among major reasons for flexible union goals this time. There is no all-out drive for profit-sharing, as in 1958, or guaranteed annual wage, as in 1955.
While the new car market still is flattered, sales have picked up in the talks knowledge that the United Rubber Workers won a 15-cent hourly wage increase this year that the Ladies' Garment Workers and the United Duesless Clerical Workers 20 cents over two years.

The automakers can counter "economic justice" with the loss by the International Union of Electrical Workers last year of the annual improvement factor, which gives auto workers an automatic 2 1/2 per cent raise each year.
The union's submission of a 15-cent hourly increase, compared with GM's last public offer of 15 cents. The union demanded the submission of another 15-cent increase to the committee's recommendation, but finally settled for 10 cents.

Nathan P. Feinsinger, a law professor at the University of Wisconsin, heads both the presidential commission studying the flight engineers' dispute and the arbitration board hearing the National argument.

Auto industry spokesmen recall Feinsinger said in the steel strike last year that the Korean War that he was far more interested in keeping steel moving to defense plants than in preserving integrity of the dollar.

The automakers agree there are some color professors who have reversed in labor and its problems, but insist most are theorists and that theories often break down in actual practice.

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—Gov. John M. Patterson's political career was born in martial law.
Seven years later, taking over the office led him to call on National Guardsmen to help federal and local civilian officers maintain order in the capital of his state.

It was the pistol slaying of his father, a school teacher, turned lawyer, that launched the slightly holding ex-fighter officer on the road to the governor's chair.
Patterson and his father, Albert, were law partners in Phenix City when the Patterson attorney was shot down in 1904. Albert Patterson had just won the Democratic nomination for state attorney general on a promise to clean up the lawless town which had made Phenix City a wide-open gambling town.

That slaying led then-Gov. Gordon Persons to proclaim limited martial law in Phenix City, with National Guardsmen taking over city and county law enforcement.
Young Patterson succeeded his father as the Democratic nominee and was elected attorney general on the same vice cleanup platform.

Three years ago he ran for governor, led 13 opponents in the first primary, and won by a wide margin in the runoff.
At 37, he was the youngest man ever elected governor of Alabama. As governor he has continued a vigorous assault against organized crime.

Just a few weeks ago he accompanied state and local officials on a midnight raid on a gambling house near Birmingham.
Though often at odds with the state government on civil rights and other issues, Patterson is an early supporter of President John F. Kennedy.

Married 17 years and, with two children, Patterson is a sign-distributor on his future political plans.
Only last month he said emphatically that he doesn't plan to run for congress.
He did not state when he ran every 100 years," he said.
Alabama governors cannot succeed themselves. But what about the 1966 race?

When you do a good job, he said recently, "the people will know it, and they might reward you again some day."

Fort Worth Thief In For Surprise

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—"Drop your money bag and lie down," a gunman told Bill Bruce as he closed his restaurant Sunday.
Bruce did and the gunman fled with the money bag—filled with money Bruce was taking home to his dog.

LINDY CLARK stands beside a vehicle used in servicing water wells. His firm sells and services pumps and does any other type of work required to keep water wells in top production.

Clark Firm Specializes In Servicing Area Water Wells

Clark Well Servicing, located on the Lamesa Highway, specializes in servicing all types of water wells.

Lindy Clark, owner and operator of the firm, makes certain that he has the equipment and available parts to do almost any type of servicing or repair job.

The modern equipment used by Clark enables him to do a well servicing job efficiently and economically. He offers a complete service job, but in cases where the well owner wants to do part of the job himself, Clark offers his service for the portion of the job which cannot be accomplished without proper equipment.

Says Censorship Not Needed Now

DALLAS (AP) — The president of the American Society of Newspaper Editors says "it is the consensus of the organized newspaper groups and wire services that no censorship of any kind is imperative at the moment."

The prize for community service resulted from the newspaper's investigation into corruption in Randall County.

Patix R. McKnight, executive editor of the Dallas Times Herald, made this report to about 100 newspapermen at the spring meeting of the Texas Associated Press Managing Editors Association Sunday.

Thompson said the investigation started after one James Chandompet called and asked Thompson to meet him in a bar.

McKnight, newly elected president of the ASNE, and a group of other leading newspaper executives recently discussed with President Kennedy comments, the President had made about publication of what he considered might be classified information.

"He had information that sort of shook us — he came to us in fear—he wanted to trade information for protection—protection from Roy Joe Stevens, former Randall County judge," Thompson continued.

McKnight said that when the times come for restrictions on the press, the American people, the press will be the first to assume full responsibility. The framework for voluntary censorship of news that worked so superbly in World War II could be instantly reactivated if the President and the Congress declare a national emergency.

Don Boyette, Amarillo Globe-Times and News managing editor, helped Thompson provide background information on the campaign to expose corruption in the Panhandle area.

The framework for voluntary censorship of news that worked so superbly in World War II could be instantly reactivated if the President and the Congress declare a national emergency.

The newspaper investigation and expose resulted in Stevens' disbarment, the jailing of two gamblers and a life term for a cohort who murdered his wife.

McKnight said that when the times come for restrictions on the press, the American people, the press will be the first to assume full responsibility. The framework for voluntary censorship of news that worked so superbly in World War II could be instantly reactivated if the President and the Congress declare a national emergency.

Thompson's suggestions for legislative reforms to prevent further corruption of county officials included: A law to laws permitting district courts to form special grand juries and prescribe their areas of inquiry and another law providing that personal misconduct shall be cause for removal from office of district and county officials.

McKnight said that when the times come for restrictions on the press, the American people, the press will be the first to assume full responsibility. The framework for voluntary censorship of news that worked so superbly in World War II could be instantly reactivated if the President and the Congress declare a national emergency.

The editor of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, John Ellis, presided at the luncheon meeting.

Dave Cheavens, head of the Associated Press bureau in Austin, discussed tax and loan shark legislation now before the Texas Legislature.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

To The Daily News: (Directed to the Snyder Public School Board.)

In eliminating the public school milk program, you have not lightened your community tax burden by one cent. You have not diminished the grip of governmental control of your school.

What you have done is to deny milk to many children who would otherwise be able to obtain it.

I submit that an immediate reevaluation of your action is in order, with a more detailed study of the various advantages and disadvantages influencing your final decision.

"Firing a few shots" at the federal government by foregoing the surplus commodity contract for the school cafeteria is nothing short of ridiculous. Certainly the federal government will lose no sleep over whether we participate or not. We use surplus commodities, we pay taxes to support the program. We do not use surplus commodities, we pay taxes to support the program AND to provide storage for what we do not use.

I call upon you, the school board, to let no misguided idea of "federal aid to education" come between you and the people who have to pay for such an obviously impractical move as this.

Old Dispute Seen In Summit Talks

By DORIAN FALK
GENEVA (AP)—The perennial dispute between the West and the Soviet Union on the issue of controls to enforce international agreements is expected to throw its long shadow over the meeting and Premier Khrushchev.

The West feels the policing of any agreement between the two camps is vital to Western security. Communist leaders contend that the Western governments will use international control machinery as a front for legalized spying on the Communist countries.

Western diplomats in Geneva feel that this stumbling block of virtually all East-West negotiations is a central theme of the Kennedy-Khrushchev talks in Vienna next month.

Arthur H. Dean, the U.S. delegate to the three-power nuclear test ban talks, returned to Washington Sunday to report to President Kennedy on the Soviet intransigence on the matter of test ban controls.

The Western idea that in the absence of mutual confidence, East and West must provide for safeguards to prevent violations of accords, has dominated all attempts to end the cold war.

Before his departure Dean once again criticized the new Soviet demand for a veto over the day-to-day operation of the proposed test ban control system.

The issue of controls has prevented progress in 13 years of disarmament negotiations. It has slowed down the three-power test ban talks here. It cropped up again at the start of the conference in Laos.

Sir Michael Wright, the British delegate, said in a news conference the talks will fail unless Soviet negotiator Semyon K. Tsarapkin withdraws the "totally unacceptable" proposal. It provides that the control organization be run by an administrative council of one Westerner, one Communist and one neutral, directly responsible to their governments and acting only when they can agree unanimously.

In Vienna, Western diplomats believe, Kennedy will seek a clearer answer from Premier Khrushchev on the issue of international control and inspection. They expect the President to sound out Khrushchev on whether there is any chance the Kremlin will ever agree to the Western concept of veto-free controls.

One of the writers told Sheriff Ralph Lamb that a car smashup prevented the trio from carrying out the kidnap plan. The informant feared that the other two men planned a new kidnap attempt during the current visit of Miss Taylor and her husband, singer Eddie Fisher.

Not Enough Evidence In Kidnap Plot

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — A sheriff's detective says there is insufficient evidence to jail three writers allegedly involved in a plot two years ago to kidnap two of Elizabeth Taylor's children.

Brown said the plot was to kidnap the youngsters while Miss Taylor was living in Las Vegas in 1959. At that time, Fisher was completing his residence requirements for a Nevada divorce from actress Debbie Reynolds.

Among the services offered by Clark are the repairing of windmills; pulling, repairing and replacing pumps; pulling rod and pipe to replace and repair damage, and practically any other type of service that might be necessary for efficient production from a water well.

Miss Taylor and Fisher issued this statement: "We don't understand how these three men are walking around free even after we were told by the FBI and the sheriff's office that one of them has confessed."

Storms Hit In Oklahoma

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Waves of thunderstorms left hail, rain and tornado damage across Oklahoma Sunday. There were no deaths or serious injuries.

Chandler Off Critical List

CULVER CITY, Calif. (AP) — Actor Jeff Chandler, 42, who underwent an emergency operation last week, has been taken off the critical list at Culver City Hospital.

Five twisters were sighted around Cushing where the heaviest damage occurred. Halfstones, slashed homes and houses in Shawnee causing damage in the thousands of dollars. Both towns are in central Oklahoma.

Chandler underwent 7 1/2 hours of emergency surgery for a ruptured artery last Thursday. He received 55 points of blood by transfusion.

Three homes about two miles south of Cushing were destroyed. None of the families was at home. An oil company warehouse was unroofed.

His physician described his illness as a complication which developed from an operation last May 13 to correct a slipped spinal disk.

Lightning and floods also took a toll.

The largest city of Spitsbergen, the Arctic island group 400 miles north of Norway, is called Longyearbyen, which means Longyear City.

Rain at Cushing totalled 4 inches and sent a creek in the town out of its banks causing some damage to right homes.

Band Session Set Tonight

The first of two meetings for prospective band students who will be entering junior high schools next fall, and their parents, has been set for tonight at Lamar Junior High.

The prospective seventh graders and their parents have been asked to attend at their convenience between the hours of 7:30 p.m. and 9:30 p.m.

A similar session will be held tomorrow night at Travis Junior High.

The band program will be outlined and parents will be informed on the various methods of acquiring instruments during the sessions, said Melvin Montgomery, head of the school's instrumental music department.

Man Buried Inside Well

NAMPA, Idaho (AP)—Rescuers said it would take many more hours today to remove the body of a farmer buried five days ago at the 100-foot level of a 200-foot deep irrigation well near his southwestern Idaho community.

The body of Herbert A. Tieg, 55, was found Sunday night after workers had dug through 15 feet of rock, sand and debris. Tieg was buried in a cave-in last Wednesday as he was plastering the inside of the well.

Workers had to remove sand from the well by hand after two attempts to blow it out with compressed air failed. They were forced to use a bent shovel and a gallon can in the two-foot wide hole.
