MAKING WAY FOR NEW BUILDING

The house being moved down Twenty - fifth Street just west of the square in the above picture did sit on a lot at the intersection of Twenty-fifth Street and the East Highway. It was brick venered before being moved Friday. J. C. Williamson, owner of the house, sold the lot to the D & D Auto Parts Co., which will erect a new building there. The V. W. Johnson House Moving Co., moved the house to a new location on the north side of Thirty-seventh Street just east of the school administration building. (Lee Watson Photograph)

Few Developments In Murder Of Valley Politician's Son

ALICE, Sept. 13 (AP)—A tense air of waiting settled today over the investigation of the bungled assassination plot aimed at a South Texas political leader and a district judge. Silent Texas Rangers went about their duties expectantly as if a break in the case might be near.

Two men accused in the plot that went awry and proved fatal to Jake (Buddy) Floyd Jr. sweated in the hot, tiny Jim Wells County jail.

Officers awaited the arrest of Alfredo Cervantes, third person charged in the plot.

These other developments hung fire:

1. Filing of new, detailed murder charges by Dist. Atty. Homer Dean.

2. Acceptance by Spurgeon Bell of Houston of a request he act as special prosecutor.

3. Habeas corpus hearings Monday for Mario Sapet and Nago Alaniz, dapper Alice lawyer who at a rendezvous told Jake Floyd Sr. that he and Judge Sam Reams were marked for death. Alaniz is charged with murder.

Floyd, prominent lawyer, said he was told that two professional killers had been imported from Mexico to do the killing and that politics was the reason. He said his son was slain by mistake.

Reams today postponed until Monday a hearing on a writ of habeas corpus for Alaniz, law partner of Dist. Atty.-Elect Raeburn Norris, over the bitter objections of Charlie Lyman, Alaniz's attorney.

Floyd was an adviser to Reams in the judge's unsuccessful campaign for re-election against a candidate supported by Sheriff George Parr of Duval County, long a South Texas political power.

The attorney said his son was shot Monday night when the youth decided to follow him after Floyd received a telephone call from Alaniz making the rendezvous.

Floyd said he had been warned not to go near his garage but to take a taxicab to a drive-in cafe where the men met.

Young Floyd was shot as he went to the garage to get his car.

The University of Texas student, 22, died Tuesday.

Rumors were as free as the dust that whipped over the streets of this city of 20,000 persons. Man-in-the-street opinion was that neither Alaniz nor Sapet was the trigger man.

Texas Rangers and Sheriff Halsey Wright were tight-lipped about the hunt for Cervantes.

Worth Seaman of the Department of Public Safety, a finger print expert, flew here today. Presumably he was to check a 1952 Packard sedan belonging to Sapet. It was recovered in Nuevo Laredo, Mexico, Thursday.

Neighbors of the Floyds identified the car as one they had seen in the vicinity during the daytime Monday but said they could not be sure it was the same car they saw Monday night.

Alaniz' attorney refused to allow Alaniz to make a statement to reporters.

Louis W. Schlesinger, San Antonio, attorney for Sapet, has said his man was on a bus bound from Corpus Christi to San Antonio at the time young Floyd was shot.

Incumbent Senate Members Are Doing Well In State Elections

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13 (AP) — If it's true that the voters are demanding new faces in Washington, most members of the Senate who are up for re-election have successfully bucked that trend—so far at least.

Of 31 senators seeking another term, only two have failed to win re-nomination in the primary elections—Kenneth D. McKellar of Tennessee, dean of the Senate, and Owen Brewster of Maine.

For some of the 29 successful candidates, of course, there may be a different outcome in November.

Most politicians also concede privately that primaries do not always indicate the voting trends in an election year. For one thing, the man in office normally has a bigger advantage in a primary election than he does when he's bucking a candidate from another party.

Most politicians also concede privately that odds favor Democrats to retain their Senate majority unless there is a great Republican sweep in November.

Democrats now hold 49 of the 96 Senate seats to 47 for Republicans. Of the 35 at stake this year, Republicans now hold 21 and Democrats 14.

That means Republicans must capture at least 23 of the 35 contests to obtain minimum control and organize the Senate through a majority leader and committee chairmen. Another way of figuring it is the GOP needs a net gain of only two seats compared with its present strength.

Because many of the Senate contests are in the normally Democratic South or in border states that barely went Republican six years ago, the Republicans face an uphill battle.

If Dwight D. Eisnhower, the GOP presidential candidate, can pull a large number of votes to the Republican column in states now classed as politically doubtful, this might give his party control of both the Senate and House.

Senate nominations by Democrats and Republicans now are decided in all states except Rhode Island and Massachusetts.

And some candidates already are certain of serving in the Senate when Congress assembles in January.

Gov. Frederick G. Payne of Maine, who defeated Brewster in the primary, won his election Sept. 8.

Big War Games Upset USSR

GOUROCK, Scotland, Sept. 13 (AP)—A powerful fleet of 160 warships moved out today to battle stations in the North Sea for the Atlantic Pact's first big war games and promptly drew the fire of Moscow's editors.

The Soviet Army newspaper Red Star charged that the exercise, "Operation Mainbrace," was aggressively aimed by the Pentagon at clamping control over the Baltic to the detriment of Russia and other Baltic powers. Moscow dispatches said the tone of the vitriolic attack indicated Russia may protest officially to Norway and Denmark, among the eight nations taking part.

The large U. S. naval force involved had orders to stay out of the Baltic in order not to invite an incident with Russia. But the 13-day exercise includes an amphibious landing in Denmark and a counterattack against "enemy" invaders of Northern Norway. Norway's northern frontier touches Russia.

Justice Department Probers Have Full Week Ahead Of Them

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13 (AP)—The Justice Department is in line during the coming week for more probing at the hands of House investigators, with two former top men on call to answer questions at a public hearing.

J. Howard McGrath, ousted last spring from his Cabinet post as attorney general, is booked to testify before a judiciary subcommittee on Wednesday.

And one of his trusted aides, T. Lamar Caudle, who was fired by President Truman last November for "outside activities," gets the spotlight on Thursday, assuming McGrath finishes in one day.

The ranking Republican member of the House judiciary subcommittee, meanwhile, made a quick visit amid much secrecy to an unnamed Eastern city.

Rep. Keating (R-NY) declined to say anything about the trip except that it was (1) to a city "in the general direction of New York" and (2) to interview a key witness in a case previously untouched by the House investigators.

Keating and Daniel G. Kennedy, a subcommittee counsel, made the trip by train. On the way to the station from the Senate office building, they talked with a man Keating described as "another witness."

In addition to these developments another subcommittee member, Rep. Bakewell (R-Mo), planned to examine department files on a 1946 Kansas City vote fraud case.

The committee got Atty. Gen. McGranery's permission for Bakewell and Counsel Robert A. Collier to dig into the department's records concerning the Kansas City investigation.

Bakewell wants to know if any higher-up interfered with an FBI investigation of the theft of evidence in the 1946 Missouri Democratic primary. That was when Enos Axtell, with Truman's support, won over Rep. Slaughter in a congressional nomination race. Axtell was not elected.

McGrath will get a chance to tell what he recalls about the 1951 St. Louis grand jury investigation of tax scandals.

The committee has heard testimony that a grand jury submitted "a whitewash" of the tax case handling in St. Louis while McGrath was top man.

Dies Before He Can Prove Self Alive In Court

NORMAN, Okla., Sept. 13 (AP)—A 58-year-old Texan, declared legally dead more than a year ago, lost his chance yesterday to prove in court he was alive.

Reno L. Hawkins of Ft. Worth was killed in an automobile accident on U. S. Highway 75 near Calvin, Okla. while enroute to Norman to appear in district court. Hawkins filed suit here last July, asking the court to set aside an earlier ruling he was legally dead.

Hawkins' sister, Mrs. Martha Martin, in 1951 successfully petitioned the court to declare her brother dead and to give her full title to the estate of their mother, Mrs. Lucy J. Hawkins, who died in 1943.

Mrs. Martin said then she had not heard from her brother in seven years and didn't know his whereabouts.

Hawkins stated in his petition he had worked out of the state and hadn't been in touch with his family. He contended he was very much alive and wanted the court to clear up the matter so he could share in his mother's estate.

But Hawkins didn't live to prove himself alive.

Lewis Shoots For Increases

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13 (AP)—John L. Lewis was reported today to be shooting for new welfare fund royalty boosts in both the soft coal and hard coal industries.

It has been known for some time that Lewis was concentrating on a 20-cent increase in the hard coal, or anthracite, industry royalty, but it was believed he might forego an increase in the soft coal royalty.

Both branches of the coal industry now pay 30 cents a ton on all production into union-operated funds to provide pensions and other benefits for miners and their families.

The hard coal welfare fund is reported to be about bankrupt, but the separate soft coal welfare fund has a 100-million-dollar balance.

While this is a lot of money, Lewis is reported worried that declining soft coal production won't bring in enough royalty revenues at the 30-cent tax to pay for the present scale of benefits. This means he eventually would either have to get a larger royalty, reduce the amount of benefits, or dig into the 100-million-dollar balance.

Contract negotiations, conducted in unusual secrecy, have been proceeding on three fronts. Lewis has been talking separately with the anthracite producers, with Southern soft coal owners and with Northern soft coal producers.

The contract talks are entering the showdown stage. A strike in Northern soft coal mines may come a week from Monday, on Sept. 2. That is the first day the miners could fail to report for work after an agreement expires on Saturday, Sept. 20.

The agreements between Lewis' United Mine Workers and Southern soft coal mines, and between the union and the anthracite producers end 10 days later on Sept. 30.

El Paso Times Supports Ike

EL PASO, Sept. 13 (AP)—The El Paso Times, traditionally a Democratic newspaper which supported the late Franklin D. Roosevelt four times and Harry S. Truman in 1948, came out editorially, in its Sunday edition for the election of Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The Times announced it had had enough of Trumanism and was convinced Eisenhower could do a better job of cleaning up the "mess in Washington" than Gov. Adlai Stevenson.

The Times said it believed Stevenson had too many obligations to certain elements within the Democratic Party to be able to straighten out the "unsavory situation" in Washington.

The Times said that it it had been convinced Stevenson could do a better job of straightening out the federal government than Eisenhower it would have endorsed him without a moment's hesitation.

"The Times has had enough of creeping socialism, influence peddling, mink coats, tax frauds, Communist infiltration in high places, etc., which have hit a new high since 1948," the editorial said.

The Times further says it looks upon the wide difference of political opinion now sweeping the nation as portending a national realignment of political affiliation, which it would welcome.

Temporary Injuction Issued To Keep Ike In GOP Column

AUSTIN, Sept. 13 (AP) —Feuding Texas Democrats went to court today to decide whether Republican Dwight Eisenhower gets on the Texas ballot as a Democratic presidential nominee.

Backers of Adlai Stevenson, the national Democratic hopeful, won a quick but indecisive first-round victory when a district judge issued a temporary restraining order to keep the new, pro-Eisenhower Texas Democratic Party off the ballot.

The Stevenson lawyers said the new party is trying to steal the "Democratic" name.

Dist. Judge Jack Roberts granted the order, which keeps Secretary of State Jack Ross from certifying the new party and its candidates until the judge hears arguments Tuesday and reaches a decision.

Attorneys filed the suit on behalf of Stevenson and his running mate, John Sparkman, this morning after telephone conferences throughout yesterday and last night with House Speaker Sam Rayburn, national Democratic Chairman Stephen Mitchell and other pro-administration Democrats.

Austin lawyers John Cofer and Fagan Dickson, two top leaders of the self-styled "Loyal Democrats," accused the hastily organized Texas Democratic Party of attempting to steal the name of the traditional Democratic Party.

The plaintiffs said the attempt to put two Democratic columns on the ballot was an effort on the part of "disgruntled Democrats" to confuse voters and to cause "an unfair decision in the general election to be held in November."

Another Eisenhower movement will be initiated in Austin.

Tom Sealy, Midland attorney, University of Texas regent and close political friend of Gov. Shivers, called a meeting for Tuesday morning to organize a "Texas Democrats for Eisenhower movement."

A meeting of pro-Democrats also is scheduled in Austin next week but Rayburn has not announced the date.

Sealy sided with the governor at the State Democratic Convention at Amarillo last Tuesday to insist that Stevenson be certified as the nominee on the Democratic ticket. But Sealy said then that he personally opposed Stevenson and would support Eisenhower.

The convention, by two-to-one majority, supported Shivers' demand that Stevenson be put on the ballot as the Democratic nominee as a matter of legal right and political morality.

However, the convention adopted a resolution urging Democrats to work for Eisenhower's election.

Following the convention's refusal to put Eisenhower on the ballot as a Democrat, a group of about 10 Dallas citizens met Wednesday in a private office and organized the Texas Democratic Party.

Adlai Is Well Pleased With Results Of His Latest Western Swing

—Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson returned to his presidential campaign headquarters today, "well pleased" with his prospects in 10 Western states and looking forward to a swing into New England, Virginia and Iowa.

The Democratic candidate for the White House arrived here by plane from Albuquerque, N.M., at 5:50 p.m. (EST) after a nine-day hour of the West in a bid for November votes.

Just before departing from Albuquerque, Stevenson's campaign manager, Wilson Wyatt, announced plans for a foray into New England starting next Thursday.

From there, the Illinois governor will travel to a traditionally Democratic stronghold, Richmond, Va., for a major address Sept. 20. On Oct. 4, Wyatt announced, Stevenson will talk on farm policy at Ft. Dodge, Ia.

As he set out for home from Albuquerque, Stevenson issued this statement on his 7,600-mile, nine-day swing through the West:

"I am delighted with my journey through 10 states. Everywhere the crowds exceeded my expectations and their warmth and friendliness even surprised the local political leaders.

"This trip enabled me to set forth my views on a number of issues not previously covered, in accordance with my plan of expressing as clearly as I can my hopes and ideas about our future.

"It would be bold and foolish to express any conclusions as to the political destiny of these states in November.

"But I am well pleased with the political situation in each of these state. Everywhere I found the Democratic party unified and enthusiastic — more so, I was informed, in some cities than it has been for many years.

"And the development of independent support for Sen. Sparkman and myself in the major centers was perhaps the most reassuring circumstance of all."

Sen. John J. Sparkman of Alabama is Stevenson's vice presidential running mate.

Man Pleads Guilty To Selling Oleo As Butter; Little Here

Fines and costs of $257.80 were levied against a man and his wife yesterday in a Sweetwater justice court for selling oleomargarine as "country butter."

This action climaxed two-week's sleuthing by state health officers and city sanitarians in Snyder, Big Spring, Colorado City, San Angelo and Sweetwater.

The man, who gave his name as Thomas Earl Berry of San Angelo, was charged as an accomplice, and his wife, who gave her name as Mrs. C. E. Browning, alias Wanda Berry, was charged with repackaging oleomargarine and selling it as butter.

Berry appeared before Justice of Peace M. C. Manroe and said that he would plead guilty and that he had permission of his wife to plead her guilty. Fines totaling $200 were paid by Berry in addition to court costs of $57.80 which included $16.50 for "oleo-butter" bought in Sweetwater groceries.

J. E. Craven, Jr., city-county sanitarian, said yesterday that the oleo had shown up in only one Snyder store. That store has since stopped buying country butter locally.

It was brought out in the Sweetwater trial that some of the oleo had a small amount of whole cream mixed with it. It was said that many customers complained when the "butter" was taken off the shelves there. It sold for 75 cents per pound.

Tests by the state health department showed that products ranged from 0 to 20 per cent butter fat.

In Big Spring, Colorado City and San Angelo the oleo was being sold under four different names. Charges have not been brought in any of these cities or in Snyder.

The San Angelo addresses given by the couple all proved to be vacant lots when checked by authorities. Berry said yesterday that he and his wife were moving to Midland.

UN Claims 14 MIGs Downed To No Sabres

SEOUL, Sunday, Sept. 14 (AP)—Allied war planes pounded targets deep in North Korea Saturday—from the big Suiho power plant on the south bank of the Yalu to the forewarned city of Sohung, a large supply center.

On the battlefront, South Korean troops smashed assaults by two Chinese companies on Capitol Hill, the sensitive central sector hotspot.

And, in its weekly assessment of Communist losses, the U. S. Fifth Air Force announced American Sabre jet pilots destroyed 14 MIGs between Sept. 6 and 12th—the biggest kill for a week in nearly six months. The Air Force said no Sabres were lost.

The big raid on the Suiho hydroelectric plant, which the Reds have been repairing since it was knocked out by fighter-bombers June 23, was the northernmost penetration by U. S. B29 Superforts. Thirty-five bombers dumped 350 tons of explosives on the plant despite heavy antiaircraft fire.

American carrier-based planes struck at a troop concentration center at Hoeryong, a few miles south of the Yalu River boundary between Korea and Red Manchuria and 41 miles southwest of Soviet Siberia.

The U. S. Eighth Army said the new attacks on Capitol Hill were made by Chinese wearing white headbands. There was no ready explanation.

With Allied artillery lending thunderous support the South Koreans hurled back the Reds and killed an estimated 15 and wounded many more.

On Finger Ridge, other elements of the South Korean Capitol Division failed again to dislodge the Chinese from the crest. The division lost that ridge top shortly after it had recaptured Capitol Hill.

Only Two Gins Open This Year

Scurry County has ginned 20 bales of cotton this season in the only two gins open for operation, the Planters Gin and Paymaster Gin.

The ginners stated they believed the county would gin 1,000 to 1,500 bales of cotton this year. This is a drastic cut from the approximately 12,000 bales they turned out last season.

The cotton averages 7 - 8 staple and is mostly middling or strict middling grades, the ginners reported. About 90 per cent of the Paymaster Gin is Western Prolific which was grown in irrigated fields, according to Ovid Lawlis, manager.

D. V. Merritt, manager of the Planters Gin, said the same percentage of Western Prolific has come through his mill with the remaining 10 per cent being Lockett stormproof. Nine bales were off irrigated farms and the other eight off dry land, he said.

The Snyder Co-op Gin officials voted not to open their gin this season, Bill Davidson, manager, announced.

Church To Defy Italian Order

ROME, Sept. 13 (AP) — A determined handful of American-led Church of Christ worshipers announced tonight they will hold regular services here tomorrow in open defiance of an Italian police ban.

Cline Paden of Brownfield Tex., who heads the church in Rome, said the ban was part of a "completely unexpected" nationwide crackdown against the small Protestant group under laws of the Fascist era.

The Alessandria church was closed "by force" last Sunday, the Rome church was ordered to close, a third church was given one month to shutter and the other 19 Church of Christ congregations are probably to be closed, Paden declared.

In Alessandria's police headquarters, Dr. Michele Lomazzo said police had prevented "an unauthorized gathering for religious practices" by the Church of Christ last Sunday. He denied the use of force.

One of Paden's fellow missionaries, Carl Mitchell of Los Angeles, Calif., said the Alessandria police forcefully prevented 5 members of the congregation from entering the church, tore down the church sign and roughly handled four Church of Christ representatives in an effort to make them stop singing hymns.

Ike Takes His Crusade Into Midwestern States On Tour

NEW YORK, Sept. 13 (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower rallied his workers behind him today for the beginning tomorrow of a circuit-riding "peace" crusade through the politically-vital Midwest.

Describing himself as only the spearhead of a movement for "honesty and integrity" in government, the Republican presidential nominee told volunteer supporters that a crusading spirit will go much further than political organization toward winning a victory in November.

"I believe in organization but I believe more in spirit and that is what I see here today," Eisenhower told about 250 members of Citizens for Eisenhower-Nixon, who had gathered from all sections of the country to plan a get-out-the-vote drive.

Preparing to depart tomorrow on a 12-day, 12-state train tour, Eisenhower cast himself in the role of a missionary taking the political gospel of peace and honesty in government to the people at wayside stops.

He will make 56 of these stops, besides major appearances in St. Paul, Minn., Des Moines, Ia., Omaha, Neb., Kansas City, Mo., St. Louis, Mo., Louisville, Ky., Cincinnati, Columbus and Cleveland, O., Wheeling, W. Va., Baltimore, Md., and Richmond, Va.

The GOP nominee told the volunteer workmen he is only the symbol of a crusade aimed at restoring world peace and "honesty, integrity and decency" in government.

He said that he sometimes shudders as he sees the Republican case overstated.

As a specific instance, he took the slogan of the volunteer organization that Eisenhower is "the man who will bring durable peace."

Instead of this, he said it ought to be "the man who will work for peace, who will work, who will pledge to you energy and devotion to that cause that could take me literally down to the bones of my fingers."

Eisenhower's excursion into the Midwest will be broken after his St. Paul appearance Tuesday to fly back to New York to address the American Federation of Labor Convention on Wednesday.

At that time his refreshed alliance with Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio will be tested by what he says about the Taft-Hartley Act. Taft has offered in the Senate some revisions to the act but has said that its main features should stand.

Eisenhower will fly back that same day to rejoin his campaign train at Moline, Ill. Stevenson will address the AFL convention here Sept. 22.

Eisenhower's trip will take him into Indiana, where he already has been enthusiastically embraced by Sen. William E. Jenner. The latter called Eisenhower's great friend, Gen. George C. Marshall, a "front for traitors."

But the GOP nominee completely avoiding Wisconsin. Where Sen. Joseph McCarthy, another severe critic of Marshall, won renomination by a smashing margin last Tuesday.

Now That Floods Are Gone Ranchers Look At Full Tanks

(By The Associated Press)

The Gulf of Mexico Saturday swallowed up the muddy left-over of floods that cost South Texas at least eight lives and $10,800,000 in three days.

Army engineers estimated the cost in dollars while crests on the Guadalupe and Colorado Rivers still were chasing cattle from lowlands in their paths to the sea.

The sun shone on the grimy work of cleaning up mud-caked Hill Country towns and farms.

There was some good to the credit of the cloudbursts that measured up to 23 inches and sent rivers and creeks roaring from their banks. The rains broke the long and costly drought in the Hill Country. They filled lakes and stock tanks, revived pastures, raised the level in wells and soaked into underground reservoir in Central Texas.

But the downpours and floods might have finished the destruction of cotton and corn crops started by long summer months of drought.

Col. H. R. Hallock, district engineer, estimated the cost in damaged property and interrupted travel, trade and communications at five million dollars in the Colorado watershed, where 74,000 acres were flooded. His figure for the Guadalupe watershed was $5,800,000.

He said two proposed dams—the Canyon Dam near New Braunfels and the Gonzales Dam near that town—might have prevented four million dollar damage in the Guadalupe watershed. The Canyon Dam was authorized by Congress in 1945 but funds have not been made available. The Gonzales dam has only been proposed.

Most damage was to crops. But the floods drove hundreds from their homes and damaged many businesses.

The Guadalupe's flood crest posed a slight threat Saturday to Cuero, near the river's mouth. But there was no alarm—few Cuero residents live near the river and farmers moved livestock to safe ground.

Some highways still were closed by high water. State 218 south of Blanco and north of Johnson City will be out some time because of washed-out bridges. State 290 on both sides of Johnson City still was closed.

TAFT SUPPORT PLEDGED

Senator Robert A. Taft and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower clasp hands as they say goodbye in front of Ike's Columbia University home in New York. Taft pledged his support to his successful rival for the Republican presidental nomination after they held a breakfast table conference.

Some Snyder Patients Show Fear Of New Kind Of Drug

One of the newest "miracle" drugs out, chloromycetin, is being refused by some Snyder patients on the grounds that the drug has been known to cause death.

Life magazine printed about four lines telling of the deaths of some persons that had been definitely traced to the drug. Upon reading this some persons refused to take their doctor's prescription if they knew chloromycetin was in it, a local pharmacist explained.

The Federal Food and Drug commission investigated the deaths caused by the drug and did not restrict its use in any way. Dr Robert Wasson, Snyder physician, said.

"Out of the millions of people that have taken the drug there have been only four deaths traced to it. There are probably 100 commonly used drugs that sometimes cause death. Taking any drug is a calculated risk. For example, even penecillin has caused death from extreme allergic reactions, but the cases are rare," Wasson pointed out.

The disease caused by the chloromycetin was aplastic anemia which results from the bone marrow discontinuing the making of the red blood cells, Wasson said. There is no known cure for the disease. However, propyl thiouracil which is commonly given for hyperthyroidism has been known to stop the manufacture of white blood cells, he says. Chloromycetin is now being produced synthetically instead of from a soil bacteria so that now it sells for about one-half the original price.

Wasson said he doesn't use the drug much "but not because I'm afraid of it. I still prescribe it readily for typhoid since chloromycetin is definitely a cure for it."

The two rules restricting the use of the drug are that it be used only when there is a definite indication that Chloromycetin is needed and that it not be used over a long period of time, Wasson stated. The patients that had died from using the drug had been taking it over a long period of time, he adds.

Almost every drug has caused some type of adverse reaction, he said. If about one in 20,000 die from some form of anesthesia, doctors wouldn't refuse to take out tonsils because of that risk, he added.

"A good rule to follow in taking any prescription is not to indiscriminately get it filled six months later when they think they have the same ailment as they previously did. I've had patients who did that and their trouble wasn't at all like what they had the first time," he said.

Indian Princes May Lose Their Fat Pensions

NEW DELHI, Sept. 13 (AP) — India's 284 pensioned princes are listening in gloom while politicians publicly argue their fate in a darkening future.

Popular clamor against privileges won by the princes when the new Indian government took over their domains in 1947 has increased since announcement of the recent agreement between India and Kashmir.

Hereditary rule by the Kashmir maharajah will end under the pact signed by Prime Minister Nehru and Sheikh Abdullah. The Kashmir Constituent Assembly will elect the state's head.

Obviously referring to the seven other princes besides the Kashmir maharajah who now act as rajapramukhs, or constitutional heads of Indian states, Nehru told Parliament last month, "Undoubtedly, what is happening in Kashmir must have its reactions elsewhere."

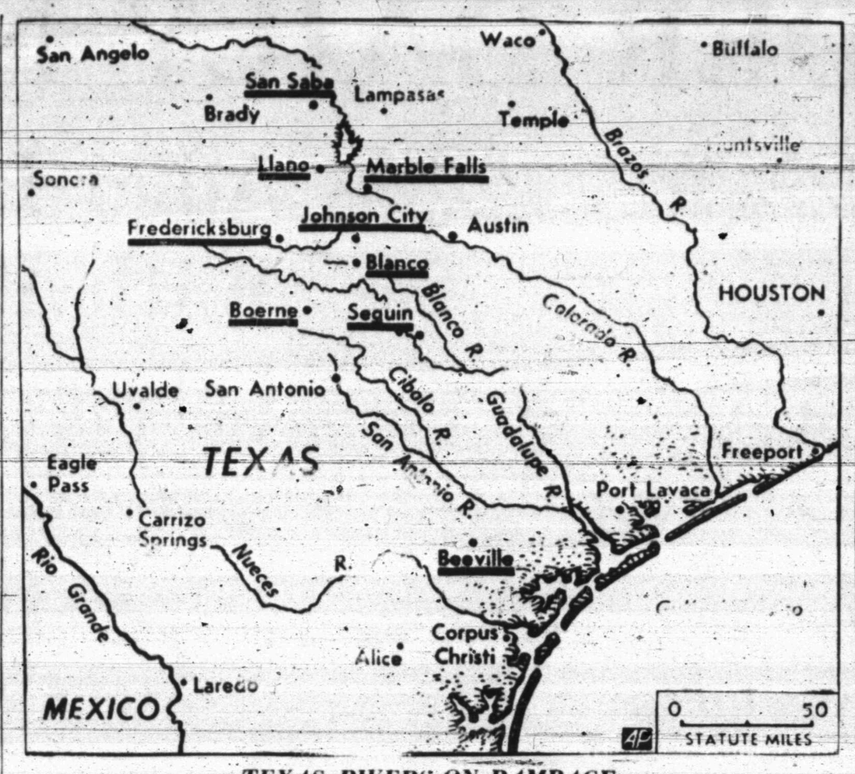

He dismissed the life term appointments of the rajaramukhs with the comment that "this decision to give life tenure to anybody in a particular office is . . . not in keeping with either modern thought or intelligent thought."

Then Nehru took a swipe at the government's annual 58-million-rupees ($12,050,000) per year to the to the princes, terming them "very large, unnecessarily large."

Raid By Burma Rebels Leaves Some Dead

RANGOON, Burma, Sept. 13 (AP)—Approximately 350 rebels of unidentified affiliation attacked the central Burma town of Pakokku last night. Unable to overcome the garrison, the rebels broke into the hospital, killed some soldiers there, and raided the houses of wealthy merchants, taking two children as hostages. Burma is plagued by many varities of rebels, including at least two Communist groups—Stalinist and Trotskyite.

In former times, many African tribes kept cattle for use as a form of currency and seldom slaughtered them for food.

TEXAS RIVERS ON RAMPAGE

Underlined towns mark areas worst hit as central Texas rivers, fed by near-record torrential rains and broken dams, went on record rampages, taking at least five lives and sending 100 or more families fleeing from their homes.

Private B. H. Newnham, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Newnham Humble Camp, left Thursday for San Francisco, whence he is to be sent to Kojo, Korea with the 187th Airborne Regimental Combat Team. Pvt. Newnham, a paratrooper, has been in military service seven months, having been stationed last at Fort Benning, Ga. The former student of Texas Technoloical College was here 12 days before leaving for the West Coast.

Accidents In Memphis Bring Goat Around

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Sept. 13 (AP)—Goat, goat, who's got the goat?

That's a real concern for employes of one Memphis industry, the Fischer Lime and Cement Co. who are being "urged" to eliminate accidents on the job.

The goat, a real bewhiskered fellow that goes by the name of "Lost Time Accidents," is the dubious and unwanted "prize" promptly presented any department that has slipped in its safety manners.

Property damage or personal injury that causes lost time are two offenses that bring on the goat to live with the offending department for three weeks.

The department — and the employe responsible for the accident as soon as he is able — must feed and care for the animal during work hours.

Safety director Charles E. Nichols says the goat must be kept where it can be seen — and smelled — to remind employes to be safety-conscious. It works, too, Nichols says.

Inventions Will Be Exhibited In Paris Contest

PARIS, Sept. 13 (AP)—The International Inventors Contest opened here today, with entries ranging from a one-man string band to revolutionary designs for transatlantic steamships.

G. Ranvial of Paris displayed the instrument that he sees as a boon to players of string instruments. It has a banjo-like sounding box, with four finger boards extending like spokes from a wheel.

With this instrument, Ranvidl explained, a musician can duplicate the tones of a guitar, Hawaiian guitar, banjo mandolin, banio alto and violin. The instrument isn't ready for commercial use yet.

Prizes for the best invention include 150,000 francs ($425) in cash.

Gaston Eichacker, who lists Algeria as his birthplace, showed a design for a proposed new transatlantic steamer. The drawing looked like a hotel or apartment house with propellers on the bottom.

A legend explained that the ship would run on sea water and air and utilize five new methods of propulsion. The idea seemed to be that water would be compressed as a means of generating electricity which would operate the ship.

Marcel Legros of France showed an ocean-going vessel shaped like a whale, with [illegible] extended downward from near the front of the ship.

French inventions turn naturally to food and beauty. There was a salad shaker with concealed sponge which enables the housewife to clean her salad without shaking drops of water on the kitchen floor.

A device for housewives cuts cake in mathematically exact parts for any number from five to 12.

The tiny principality of Monaco displays a "micromap" for the dashboard of an automobile. It unrolls behind magnifying glass to show the route chosen.

Britain offers a bicycle which can be ridden from a semi-reclining position. The pedals are mounted on a small front wheel and a hammock-type seat with a back is provided over the back wheel.

Bobcats are so secretive in their movements that they are seldom seen by men, even in places where there are many of them.

Although bobcats can grow to weigh 40 pounds, their usual weight is 15 to 25 pounds.

Speakers For Fort Worth Baptist Meet

FORT WORTH, Sept. 13 (AP)—The presidents of the Baptist World Alliance and the Southern Baptist Convention head the list of speakers for the Baptist General Convention of Texas meeting in Fort Worth, Oct. 21-23.

The seven sessions of the 104th annual meeting of the convention will be devoted to the departments through which the denomination carries on its work in missions education, benevolences, stewardship and evangelism.

Dr. F. Townley Lord, London, president of the Baptist World Alliance, and Dr. J. D. Grey, New Orleans, president of the SBC, will be heard at the afternoon session of the closing day.

Several other speakers prominent in the denomination's work also will be heard. They include Dr. Baker James Cauthen, secretary for the Orient of the Foreign Mission Board of the SBC; Dr. M. T. Rankin, executive secretary of the Foreign Mission Board; Rev. J. Howard Williams, executive secretary of the state convention's executive board; Rev. C. E. Matthews, secretary for evangelism of the Home Mission Board, and Rev. W. A. Criswell, Dallas.

Rev. Forrest C. Feezor, Waco BCGT president, in announcing the program, said several other speakers are to be added.

The opening session will be devoted to foreign missions with the woman's missionary union joining in the program. Several missionaries will speak during the program.

Rev. Perry F. Webb, San Antonio, will delivery the annual sermon at the morning session, Oct. 22, which will be devoted to Christian education. Each of the nine Baptist state schools will make reports. Hospitals and orphanages will be featured at an afternoon session.

Rev. Mr. Williams will be the featured speaker at the state missions program the night of Oct. 22. A speaker for the stewardship program on Oct. 23 is to be announced.

Home missions and evangelism will, as in the past, be featured the closing night, Oct. 23, with Rev. Mr. Criswell closing the convention program with an address on "Even Our Faith."

Two auxiliaries, womans missionary union and men's brotherhood, will hold their state conventions preceding the BGCT sessions.

Homer Covey of Fort Worth heads the general arrangements committee for the convention, which last met here in 1950. Some talk has been heard of making Fort Worth the permanent meeting place because of the excellent facilaties in Will Rogers Memorial Colliseum and auditorium, with their adequate parking facilities.

J. R. Pinkerton, 1208 Twenty sixth Street, was taken to a Snyder Hospital Friday by a Bell ambulance after he fell in the yard of his home and fractured a hip. Mr. Pinkerton is 91 years old.

Circus Comes Here Thursday

The Clyde Beatty Circus will be in Snyder Thursday to present a matinee performance at 3 o'clock and a night performance at 8 o'clock.

The tents will be set up at the city limits on the Lubbock highway. A menagerie will be open one hour before each performance.

The show has over 300 performers including over 40 clowns. Other acts included in the show are 50 ballet dancers and Con Colleano, who claims to be the only man to master a forward sommersault on a tight wire.

Dam Completed By Tomorrow

The dam across the Colorado River in Southwest Scurry County which will impound Lake Thomas will be completed Monday, if construction proceeds as planned, Lyle Deffebach, a director of the project, said yesterday.

Deffebach said the contractor reported at the last meeting of the board of directors of the Colorado River Municipal Water District about two weeks ago that only 14 feet more fill was necessary to complete the job.

Offices and most of the machinery of the J. W. Moorman & Sons Contracting Co., have been moved from Snyder.

A new road has been built to replace the one south of the Murphy school house. The old road and river bridge will be inundated when the lake fills. The new road turns up river and makes a 10-mile swing through Borden County. It goes up stream four miles, two miles south to across the river, then back four miles to connect with the Murphy - Vincent road.

Deffebach said that the water district board has not been asked to accept the dam as completed yet, but that the request will probably come from Moorman very soon.

Water backed up in the river bed has already been serving as a place for motor boat races on Sunday afternoons.

ELEPHANT GETS A SHAVE

An elephant trainer of the Clyde Beaty Circus which will be in Snyder Thursday gives old Lucy her twice-yearly blow torch shave. Lucy is leader of the circus elephant herds and is a veteran of over 30 years under the big top. It is said that she knows the route from the railroad yards to the circus lot in every city in which she has appeared

Childishness Causes Nervous Tension, Scientist Claims

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Editor

NEW YORK, Sept. 13 —Are you nervous?

Most people probably think they are, says Dr. G. Margery Allen of New York.

Some even pride themselves on being high-strung, sort of superior, like race horses over work horses.

But actually nervousness or neuroticism of the high-strung feeling really comes from acting pretty much like a baby, she writes. You can do better, she says in a report to the New York County Medical Society.

"Every relatively normal person is nervous," and Americans are perhaps more nervous than other people, always being in a hurry, on their toes, keyed-up.

By a nervous person, we mean "an ambitious tense person, in a hurry to get what he wants. Or an ambitious tense person, in a rage because he didn't get what he wants. Or an ambitious, tense person afraid to move in a hurry or in anger, a person who stands pat, complaining that he can't get what he wants."

We consider people normal if they act so they conceivably could get what they want, Dr. Allen says. But if they use methods that are pretty useless, they're not well adjusted, and are ineffectual or "nervous."

Nervousness is not caused by any underlying disease of the nerves or brain, she says.

Nervousness is based mainly on attitudes of fear or anger, toward people, our jobs, our houses or towns, or even against ourselves.

These attitudes usually date back to childhood.

A baby, she explains, has only one way of getting what he wants —by crying. He soon learns that crying worked well in getting attention. Later the baby may have to develop better ways of putting things over on his parents.

The baby may try holding his breath, kicking, banging his head on the floor. Or try to control his parents through weakness, such as not eating, refusing to sleep alone, lisping, or other tactics.

"It's normal for an intelligent child to use childish means of getting what he wants," Dr. Allen continues.

He grows up in a world that looks awfully big and forbidding. He's told constantly about the dangers in the world — warned not to catch cold, not to get hit by an auto, not to get sick.

If the world looks too tough, he loses hope of controlling the world and getting what he wants. He keeps using childish methods.

If he hears his parents say that he has a terrible temper like his father, or that he is delicate and nervous, he accepts the words as gospel, and becomes all the more set in his ways and attitudes.

He may keep on doing it as an adult. Then he becomes the kind of person who is unhappy, discontented, often a poor eater, a poor sleeper, never feeling vital, usually vaguely uneasy about things in general, often feeling physically low with vague aches and pains."

He's grown up in every way except in feelings. He feels insecure, and uses childish reactions when he meets difficulties of adult life.

The only answer, says Dr. Allen, is that he must grow up emotionally, and realize he has the ability to direct his own actions.

Boy Snatches County Fair's Prize Melon

MCALESTER, Okla., Sept. 13 (AP) —Pittsburg County Agent William D. Davis decided not to take any chances with thieves at this year's county free fair.

Because of his 200-pound frame that prevents him from moving too fast, he installed big mirrors at each end of the exhibition building so that he could stand in one spot and keep an eye on proceedings.

However, when he wasn't looking a youth snatched the first prize watermelon.

Davis spotted him running out the door and yelled.

The juicy 50-pound prize winning melon fell and splattered.

Don Cathey of Crowder had only a blue ribbon to take back home for his prize.

Davis is looking for a watermelon-splattered youth that has Olympic track possibilities.

Man Files Answer To Suit Of Fifth Wife

DALLAS, Sept. 13 (AP)—Victor E. Pereira filed a general denial yesterday to a law suit in which a former wife seeks $35,286.78.

The lawsuit was filed Aug. 8 by Mrs. Gertrude Joyce, Roswell, N. M., Pereira's fifth wife, for a 1951 loan she says he never repaid.

In his answer, filed through an attorney, Pereira said that while married to Mrs. Joyce, she gave him certain sums of money and he is no way indebted to her.

He has been convicted of embezzling $48,000 from Mrs. Joyce and is free on appeal. He was married to a wealthy Dallas widow this summer and they are reported to be out of the city.

Military Voters Apply For Vote

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13 (AP) — Monday every serviceman in the U. S. will be handed a small buff card which will offer him the opportunity to vote on whether he wants a general for president.

It's a printed postcard form on which he can ask for an absentee ballot to vote in his home state in the Nov. 4 general election starring Gov. Adlai Stevenson and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Federal law says each serviceman must be handed the card personally. The armed forces chose Monday as "postcard Day" for men in the U. S. For men overseas it was Aug. 15.

Of the present 3½ million servicemen, more than two million are eligible to vote Nov. 4.

The Defense Department has been working hard since last November to turn out the maximum service vote. It has been following Congress' orders to give every man — overseas or in the U. S. — information on how he can vote.

Whether a serviceman does vote depends to a degree on his home state's absentee voting laws. Each state controls its own voting procedure.

Although President Truman pleaded earlier this year with Congress and the states to make absentee voting laws uniform, little was done. They're still a never-never land and in many cases completely bar service voting.

Two states — New Mexico and South Carolina — permit no absentee balloting. No serviceman can vote unless he's home on leave.

Four states — Alabama, Delaware, Florida, Louisiana — don't allow absente evoting if the man hasn't registered in person to vote. This stops many thousands of servicemen.

Merchants Meeting On Christmas Decorations

Christmas activities of the Chamber of Commerce will be discussed at a merchants' committee meeting at 7:30 Monday night, Harold Bennett, chairman of the committee, said today.

Bennett urged that all committee members attend. Final plans must be made Monday night, he said, and unless at least 50 merchants attend plans for Christmas activities will be dropped.

Rapidly Multiplying Insect Is Man's Biggest Competitor

By ROBERT E. GEIGER

TRUE OR FALSE?

1. An ant the size of a wolf once roamed the world, mining gold and guarding it so passionately it slashed men to death.

2. A locust so huge its hind legs could be cut off, dried and used for saws once lived in China.

3. An insect used gas warfare on its enemies long before man ever thought of the idea.

4. In Africa there are beetles so huge they sound like B29s in the air.

Not only a five-star genius but anybody with the 1952 yearbook of the U. S. department of Agriculture may hit the jackpot on this quiz.

The book is a thick, handsome volume called simply "Insects." In it leading experts point up the oddities and seriousness of the bug problem.

Not all experts are quite sure that man is holding his own in competition with insects for the privilige of living on earth, and Charles F. Branman, the secretary of agriculture, estimates in a foreword that insects cost Americans four billion dollars a year.

One of mankind's fears has been that insects may multiply so rapidly that they will someday crowd man from earth. One reason is the simple fact that 70 to 80 per cent of all known animals are insects.

Curtis Sabrosky, a department authority on flies, says recent guesses by scientists on how many kinds of insects there may be in the world range up to 10 million. And many of them reproduce at an amazing rate.

Sabrosky says one thing that saves mankind is the fact that other insects, birds, diseases, insecticides and weather cut down the birth rate of insects that might otherwise compete too successfully with man.

The yearbook estimates around 36,500 species of insects in the U. S. were in the public enemy class some years ago but that now there may be around 10,000. In all North America north of Mexico an estimated 82,500 kinds of insects have been named.

Pliny, the Roman naturalist, told about the ant with the passion for gold. People are pretty sure now that it never really existed. None has ever been reported seen since Pliny's time, anyway.

Edwin Way Teale, the authority who writes about the gold-mining ants, also tells about the saw-leg locusts. He credits this story to Pliny too but says nobody now believes there ever were such locusts.

However, he tells about other insects that are pretty fantastic. For instance, there is the bluish-backed bombardier beetle brachinus fumans.

"When pursued by an enemy (he) emits a little cloud of offensive gas," says Teale. "This takes the pursuer by surprise. It stops, and the pause often is sufficient to permit the beetle to escape."

LOST 33 POUNDS WITH THIS HOME RECIPE

Barcentrate is the original grapefruit juice recipe for taking off ugly fat. It's simple. Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Barcentrate. Pour into a pint bottle. Add 12 ounces of grapefruit juice. Then take just two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it. If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves—if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back. No starvation diet the Barcentrate way.

LOST 33 POUNDS

"I cannot praise Barcentrate enough," writes Mrs. Lela Butler, 816 Washington Ave., Waco, Texas. "It has done wonders for me. I don't have that tired, worn-out feeling any more. I weighed 170 pounds when I started to take Barcentrate. I now weigh 137."

Huge Drilling Project Planned In California Offshore Lands

By JACK QUIGG

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 13 (AP)—An oil company is risking more than a million dollars on a new wildcatting technique designed to tap vast petroleum pools under the sea.

Monterey Oil Company plans to drill from a man-made island in the ocean—first of its type on the Pacific Coast.

An estimated four billion barrels of oil, more than a tenth of the nation's estimated reserves, underlie California's tideland waters.

Small portions of this fabulous deposit can be reached by drilling out under the sea from rigs on shore. How to tap the rest is a problem under intense study by the industry.

Volume production from undersea pools would be a tremendous asset for state and nation. It could make California—which now has to import nearly a million barrels of crude oil a month—self sufficient. It would insure defense planners an adequate supply on the West Coast—a strategic frontier.

WATER 42 FEET DEEP

Monterey believes the answer to reaching some subsea deposits is artificial islands. Other possible answers are drilling platforms supported by pilings or anchored barges large enough to support the weight of oil rigs.

Industry spokesmen say it may someday be possible to drill at points where the water is as much as 500 feet deep.

Monterey's pioneering project, however, is in water only 42 feet deep. The firm believes 100 feet is probably the practical limit for island drilling.

The firm has already driven pilings at the site of its island-to-be, a mile and a half off nearby Seal Beach. If construction proceeds on schedule drilling will begin in October.

The island will be a circular steel structure 75 feet in diameter, filled with sand and clay and capped with a cement deck. Giant boulders around the base will bolster it against sea action. The installation will include a platform dock for loading and unloading equipment.

The drilling rig, supported by wooden pilings, will be located over a vertical access hole in the island's center.

DRILLERS OPTIMISTIC

The site is supplied by barge. Should the proposed wells prove productive, plans call for construction of a pipeline to shore.

The island is on a 1,255-acre state tidelands lease held jointly by Monterey and the Texas Company, with Monterey as the operator. Monterey, one of the larger independents, is successor to the Jergins Oil Company, and operates in Texas and Oklahoma as well as in California.

There is never a "sure thing" in the oil drilling business, but the Monterey people discuss their project with a confidence indicating they don't consider it a great gamble.

The firm has been working on the idea of island drilling since 1944. It applied for a drilling permit in 1947, but got the go-ahead from federal and state agencies only this year. The delay, the company says, was due to the dispute between the federal government and the states over tidelands oil.

THREE OTHER WELLS

To test its lease, Monterey angled three exploratory wells out under the sea in the director of the proposed island.

E. E. Pyles, vice president and director of the firm, says the first was abandoned. The second produced oil and gas for a short period. The third is the one that encouraged Monterey to go ahead with plans for the island.

Pyles declines to disclose what was learned from well No. 3, what little he will say of it is said with the air of a man who has a potentially good thing and knows it.

The oil industry, which is watching the island operation with intense interest, knows this much: the well has produced oil, although not in large quantities; it was drilled directionally more than 1,000 feet—to what may be a record distance for undersea holes.

TO GO 7,000 FEET

Pyles says Monterey doesn't know whether it will strike a new pool from the island or hit an undersea extension of the Wilmington deposit already extensively tapped on shore. Maps of the area indicate it is not unlikely that the island overlies a seaward extension of the Wilmington pool.

The island operation, Pyles says, will be in the beginning of a pioneering operation. Thorough tests are planned for every stage of drilling.

The first hole will go straight down to the bottom of potential oil bearing strata — probably about 7,000 feet. If it indicates further drilling is warranted, other wells will be angled out directionally.

Completions Still Low But Over Last Week

AUSTIN, Sept. 13 (AP)—Oil well completions remained at a low level this week, the Texas Railroad Commission reporting 160.

This was a slight increase over last week's 127 and left the year's total at 7,840 compared with 7,687 a year ago.

There were 13 gas wells brought in. The year's total is 923 against 610 for the comparable 1951 period.

The total average calendar day allowable as of today was 3,258,901, an all-time record as the result of the week's normal increase of 8,771 barrels.

New records probably will be set each successive week this month because of normal increases following the establishment of a record allowable at the start of September.

Operators drilled 106 dry holes last week.

Wildcatting produced 11 oil wells and 59 dry holes.

Plugged were 106 dry wells, 5 gassers and 67 oil wells.

Oilmen Watch For Effects Of New Oil Importing Program

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13 (AP) — Domestic oil producers are watching closely for effects of the newly signed U. S.-Venezuela trade agreement slashing duties on crude imports.

A spokesman for the Independent Petroleum Association of America, which opposed the new pact, said little effect on imports could be expected before the middle of October.

The agreements proclaimed Thursday to take effect Oct. 11, makes the duty 5¼ cents a barrel on oil with an American Petroleum Institue (API) rating of less than 25 degrees and 10½ cents on oil rating above that. The old duty was 10½ cents on all imports amounting to less than five per cent of U. S. production and 21 cents on imports exceeding that amount.

The cut applies to all oil exporting countries sharing in the most-favored-nation policy.

GAIN FOR IMPORTERS

With current demand heavy for petroleum products because of the national defense program, the IPAA declared it in reality constitutes a gain of some 30 million dollars yearly to importing companies.

Russell B. Brown, IPAA general counsel, said:

"The price increase to the importing companies discriminates against the domestic producer whose crude oil price has been frozen at the 1947 level.

Brown's group has long been trying to get the OPS to remove price ceilings from crude. Brown contended that the tariff cut won't be passed on to consumers, who instead will have to pay more taxes to make up the 30 million dollar loss to the U. S. treasury.

Imports of foreign oil into the U. S. averaged 856,400 barrels per day during the four weeks ended Sept.6, up 121,000 barrels over the same period of 1951, according to API figures.

Daily domestic production of crude averaged 6,322,100 barrels during the month ended Sept. 6, while for the single week ending on that date it averaged 6,441,550 barrels daily, as compared with 6,278,00 during the week ended Sept. 8, 1951.

WARNED OF PROMOTERS

The average runs to stills in this country in the week ended Sept. 6 amounted to 7,002,000 barrels of crude. Daily products from this included : 23,220,000 barrels of gasoline; 2,591,00 barrels of kerosene; 10,612,000 barrels of distillate fuel oil and 8,822,000 barrels of residual fuel oil.

The Petroleum Administration for Defense (PAD) warns oil operators to beware of fast talking promoters who offer to get them oil country tubular goods for a fee

The PAD said it has heard reports that propositions have been made to get fast delivery on tubular goods if the operator would pool his PAD allocation with others the promoter has rounded up. The idea set forth is that for a five per cent fee the operator can get the order fabricated from conversion steel which the promoter has learned is available.

Trying to by-pass PAD procedures for getting tubular goods, an agency spokesman said, might lead to loss of the down payment demanded by the promoter as well as failure to get the goods.

Dallas Firm Stakes Central Runnels Try

Barney Hillburn Drilling Co. of Dallas will drill a 5,150-foot test one location southwest of Humphrey No. 1 Lee, indicated Caddo discovery in Central - West Runnels County.

It is the No. 1 L. V. Jones, 2,534 feet from northeast and 330 feet from northwest lines of section 68, Joseph Farwell survey No. 313.

Elevation at drillsite is 1,758 feet. Operations will begin immediately.

Moncrief Buys 15 More Wells

W. A. Moncrief, Jr., of Fort Worth is reported to have purchased the producing properties of L. M. Lockhart in the Kelley - Snyder field for $5,600,000.

The sale was effective Aug. 1, and includes 15 producing wells with a total daily allowable of 1,500 barrels along with Lockhart's interest in the Snyder Gasoline Plant leases.

Moncrief is also listed as the operator of 30 other wells in the same pool.

Moncrief is chairman of a group which opposes unitization in the field.

Borden Wildcat Drills Deeper

Lawton Oil No. 1-A G. W. Martin, Southeast Dawson wildcat, is preparing to drill deeper following tests in the lower Permian.

On a test from 6,974 - 7,088 feet, recovery was 240 feet of drilling mud. Test tool was open 90 minutes. A two and one-half hour test from 7,089 - 185 feet recovered 180 feet of drilling mud with a slight show of oil and an additional 180 feet of salt water.

A third test, from 7,080-235 feet, recovered 600 feet of salt water, and 120 feet of drilling mud. The tool was open six hours.

The No. 1-A Martin is located in section 41-34-t4n-T&P.

Ellenburger Discovery Testing In Andrews

Anderson - Prichard Oil Corp. was preparing to drillstem test the No. 1-24 Fasken, flowing discovery from the Ellenburger in Southeast Andrews County, on total depth of 12,740 feet.

After flowing oil on a drillstem test from 12,618 - 700 feet was developed, operator drilled to present bottom of 12,740 feet. Drilling samples had good shows of oil and no water.

On the flowing test, tool was open one and one-half hours. The 2,950-foot water blanket started flowing out in 50 minutes. Gas surfaced in 55 minutes, oil in 3h started flowing at the top in 60 minutes. The oil was flowed to tanks 30 minutes. The flow totaled 56.84 barrels of 48-gravity oil. There was no formation water.

Location is in the southeast quarter of section 24-42-t-1-n, G&MMB-&A.

Reports From Area Projects

R. S. Anderson has a San Andres discovery in prospect at his No. 1-39 Clyde Miller in extreme South-Central Garza County.

The project is now at total depth of 3,076 feet in the San Andres and installing a pump to begin testing for completion.

Texaco No. 1 M. A. Fuller, North Scurry wildcat, is waiting for cement to cure on casing after plugging back for tests.

George S. Hammonds No. 1 Cebulske, North Borden wildcat, is drilling in anhydrite below 3,085 feet.

Stephens Petroleum No. 1 Simpson in Howard County is drilling below 7,372 feet in shale.

East Borden Project Fails In Ellenburger

C. I. Herring No. 1 Mack, Central - East Borden County wildcat, has been plugged and abandoned in the Ellenburger on total depth of 8,480 feet.

Last drillstem test taken was from 8,450 - 480 feet. Tool was open three hours. Gas surfaced in 36 minutes. The gas volume was not gauged or estimated. No fluid came to the top while the tester was open.

The drillpipe unloaded 6,200 feet of free oil. Additional recovery was 1,80 feet of salty, sulphur water.

The Ellenburger was topped at 8,456 feet on a datum of minus 6,060 feet.

Location was 660 feet from south and west lines of section 139-25-H&TC, about 15 miles southeast of Gail and 18 miles west of Snyder.

Wildcats Set In 2 Counties

Two wildcat locations, one in Dawson and one in Garza, have been staked for immediate drilling.

W. A. Moncrief of Fort Worth will drill the Dawson project as his No. 1-89 Scanlan. It is to be 1,980 feet from south and 660 feet from west lines of section 89-M-EL&RR, about 18 miles northwest of Lamesa. It is also one mile southwest of the nearest production in the Welch field, which produces from the San Andres above 5,000 feet, and seven miles north of the Mungerville - Pennsylvanian field. Contract depth is 9,000 feet.

Duncan Drilling Co. of Big Spring will drill the No. 1 John A. Davis 12 miles east of Post in Garza County. Location has been made 330 feet from north and west lines of the northeast quarter of section 80-5-GH&HR survey. It will drill to 3,000 feet to test the San Andres.

Nolan Wildcat Drills Further in Reef Lime

United States Smelting, Refining & Mining Co. was drilling ahead in Pennsylvanian lime below 5,119 feet at the No. 1 Hicks, wildcat in Southeast Nolan County, after a drillstem test from 3,103 to 5,119 feet.

Tool was open three hours. No fluid or gas surfaced. Recovery was 50 feet of oil and gas-cut mud and 90 feet of heavily oil and gas-cut mud. Open flowing bottomhole pressure was zero and 20-minute shutin pressure was 225 pounds. The test was taken in an unidentified section of the Pennsylvanian.

Location is in section 187-64-H&TC.

Discovery Allowable Asked By Sinclair Oil For Borden Producer

Sinclair Oil & Gas Co. has asked the Railroad Commission for a discovery allowable on the No. 1 producer completed recently in Borden County.

The No. 1 Williams was originally completed in the Ellenburger. In June of this year, the hole perforations at 9,815-870 feet. There it made a potential of 98.6 barrels of 39.9 gravity oil.

George H. Gray, engineer for Sinclair, has told the commission that the No. 1 Williams is surrounded by dry holes.

New Project Staked In Sharon Ridge 1700

S. C. Herring of Abilene No. 2 H. D. Beakley is to be a new project in the Sharon Ridge 1700 field 10 miles south of Snyder.

Location is 330 feet from west and 990 feet from south lines of section 143-3-H&GN on an 80-acre lease. Drilling will begin immediately.

Tom Green Test Fails

Union Oil Co. of California is preparing to plug and abandon the No. 1 John Y. Rust, Sr., wildcat Green County.

Drilled to total depth of 5,435 feet in an unidentified formation, the project did not develop shows for commercial production in any formation drilled.

Location is in block 965, San Saba County school land survey.

A number of signers of the American Declaration of Independence received their legal training at the Inns of Court, famous British law schools that date back to the 13th Century.

FIRST SCORE OF FRIDAY NIGTH'S GAME

Jackie Grimmett, Tiger fullback pictured in the center with the ball, plunged through the line two yards to the first score of Friday night's win over Thomas Jefferson after setting up his own touchdown. Jimmy Rodgers, 253-pound tackle shown just to the right of Grimmett and below the El Paso gridder, threw the block that opened the hole for the scorer. Robert Hagin, center, is No. 52 at left of photo. Curly Hays, umpire, is at the right.

UNFAMILIAR SIGHT HERE

Here's a welcome sight to football fans of the Snyder Tigers, who saw Friday night's game end in a 21-0 victory for the home-town gridders. This was the first time the scoreboard had held such a score in many moons. Scorekeepers did not keep up with quarters, and touchdowns were scored in the first, second, and last periods.

Tigers Off On Right Foot As They Trounce Jefferson 21-0

The fast and spirited Snyder Tigers started off in their football season on the right foot Friday night by running over the Thomas Jefferson Silver Foxes of El Paso 21-0.

The game, which was seen by a crowd of about 2,500 persons, was the first of the season for both Snyder, which is making its debut into District 1-3A, and Jefferson, member of District 2-4A.

The first score was set up and made by Jackie Grimmett, 148-pound sophomore fullback. Grimmett booted a 30-yard punt, which a pile of Tigers recovered for themselves on the El Paso 26. Grimmett and Halfback Dan Burns made several short jabs to a first down on the two-yard line, then Grimmett took a handoff from Quarterback Burney Hagin and plunged through the line for a touchdown in mid first quarter.

Royce Pierce, guard, made a good kick for the point.

In the latter part of the second period, Jefferson punted out on a fourth down to the Tiger 32. The Tigers began a long drive, beginning with a 13-yard run by Halfback Gerald Crawford, short runs by Grimmett, two completed passes from Hagin to Ends Reagan White and Ned Underwood, and finally a 30-yard off-tackle run by Burns, who took the ball into the end zone. Pierce's kick was good again.

SECOND HALF

The second half, the larger Silver Foxes appeared refreshed and ready to go, and they started out by gaining a couple of first downs. But their fire soon died down, and the Tigers kept them on the defensive most of the night.

Juan Rodriguez, 160 - pound El Paso halfback, churned and twisted to take most of Jefferson's yardage, gaining about 50 yards during the game. El Paso's downfield blocking was good, but Rodriguez seldom could get far enough to use it. Joaquin Rubio, 190-pound tackle, led El Paso's defensive play.

During the third quarter, the two teams rocked back and forth on the field, Snyder gaining three first downs and El Paso securing one, but little heavy action came until late in the fourth period. Yardage gains were halted on practically all El Paso plays by the alertness of Center Robert Hagins, who was in on more than half the tackles, Guards Pierce and Steve Blair, and Tackle Curtis Tate.

FUMBLE BRINGS TD

The Tigers recovered a Silver Fox fumble on El Paso's 16 late in the fourth quarter. Burns took the ball to the three-yard line on a handoff from Hagin to set up a score. Hagin then passed into the end zone to Underwood. Pierce made another good kick for the point to make his night's record perfect.

During the entire game, seven passes by Hagin were completed for a total of 45 yards gain, and Underwood was the receiver on all but one which was caught by White. Alan Snead, freshman quarterback and halfback, completed one pass to Burns for 12 yards. Hagin attempted 16, Snead attempted two, and Burns and Joe Baxter, another frosh quarterback, tried one each.

Burns led the Tiger game on the ground with a total of 95 yards, while Grimmett tallied 27, Crawford 18, and Hagin 14.

Grimmett took care of kickoffs and most punts, and he and Jack Spikes, frosh back, punted far down the field, averaging 36 yards.

Next Thursday night the Tigers will be in Fort Worth to meet another 4A squad, Northside.

Hermleigh Romps On Seagraves To Start Season Off Right

Hermleigh, one of the top contenders of the District 5B and champion last year, played its first game of the season to a 12-6 victory over Seagraves Friday night in Hermleigh.

Playing with an outstanding offensive and good defensive squad, Coach Charlie White's squad scored both its touchdowns in the first half.

Seagraves took the first kickoff and returned it to the Hermleigh 45, finally driving to the 20 to threaten the Hermleigh squad, but Hermleigh then gained possession of the ball and made a series of first downs to the Seagraves 10, where Halfback Charles Rinehart made a 10-yard plunge to score. Kick for point was bad.

In the second quarter, Hermleigh took to its aerial offense. Floyd Hacker, quarterback, flung a 20-yard pass to Jimmy Cooper, end, who carried it another 15 to score. Kick was bad.

In the fourth quarter, Seagraves struck back with a 35-yard pass from Quarterback Smith to End Cain, who drove 15 yards to touchdown. A faulty snap muffed the extra point try.

Hacker completed eight out of nine pass attempts for a gain of about 150 yards.

Divide, another 5B squad, lost to Loraine 21-0, while Bronte and Robert Lee, playing a non-conference game, tied Coahoma, another contender for the district title, defeated Grand Falls 13-6.

Next Friday, Hermleigh will go to Aspermont, which lost to Wylie 25-13 last night and defeated Trent 27-6 two weeks ago.

Red Sox Beat Indians 4-3

CLEVELAND, Sept. 13 (AP)—Ted Lepcio's 10th inning homer gave the Boston Red Sox a 4-3 victory over the Cleveland Indians today and dropped the Tribe a game and a half behind first place New York in the hot American League pennant race.

The Boston victory, coming as the Yankees defeated the Chicago White Sox 6-5, snapped Cleveland's winning streak at nine games.

Lepcio, who also scored two other runs, belted Bob Lemon's 3-1 pitch over the left field fence with two outs in the top of the 10th after the Tribe had scrambled from behind to tie the game at three-all in the seventh.

There was no doubt about Lepcio's fourth homer of the season. But his two previous runs were aided by less than perfect fielding.

In the second, he doubled to the barrier in left field and scored on two flys. The ball hit the barrier low enough so that possibly it could have been caught had Dale Mitchell decided to take a chance.

His other run—in the sixth—was helped by the wind. His high popper got away from Al Rosen in back of third and went for a double. From there he scored on Sam White's double down the left field line.

Tom DiMaggio singled off Lemon's glove in the third and scored the other Sox run. Billy Goodman singled him to third and then Al Zarilla grounded to Luke Easter at first. Easter elected to touch first before trying to cut off the run and the throw was late to the plate.

Ellis Kinder, who pitched perfect ball for 4 2-3 innings, held the Tribe masterfully in check until the seventh. But then Larry Doby singled over second and big Luke Eatser slugged Kinder's next throw 335 feet into the right field stands.

It was Easter's 30th homer of the year and tied him with Doby for the league lead.

Still in that inning, Rosen lined a single to left and scored on a bunt and a fly out.

Dodgers Drop Game To Cards

BROOKLYN, Sept. 13 (AP) — Stu Miller, precocious rookie right-hander of the St. Louis Cardinals, stalled Brooklyn's National League pennant drive today as he pitched the Redbirds to a 5-2 victory over the Dodgers.

The defeat cut Brooklyn's lead over the runner-up New York Giants to three games. The Giants advanced by nosing out the Cincinnati Reds, 3-2.

Miller also played a leading role in the Cards' 11-hit attack against recruit lefthander Ken Lehman and two relief pitchers, driving in three runs on a single and ground ball.

The youngster's vast assortment of pitches completely baffled the Dodgers who managed to solve his offerings for only four hits. Miller walked only two and fanned eight in gaining his fifth victory of his brief major league career.

The Cards forged ahead for keeps in the second inning when Miller singled with the bases loaded ad two out to drive in two runs.

Early Sellout Predicted For Walcott - Marciano Title Bout

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 13 (AP)—A booming sale of $40 ringside tickets reflects the intense nation-wide interest in the Sept. 23 heavyweight title bout between Champion Jersey Joe Walcott and Rocky Marciano, the unbeaten challenger.

Orders for the top price tickets are flooding the offices of Co-Promoters Jim Norris and Herman Taylor. And they are coming from every section of the country.

"We'll do better than $600,000 said Norris. "I don't know how much better. But it may surprise everybody. It's the biggest heavyweight promotion since the Joe Louis- Walcott return, a real old fashion heavyweight championship promotion.

"It looks like the old days when people from all over the country felt they had to be on hand for a title fight. Maybe it's because there will be no home television. Or maybe it's because of Marciano. Or maybe Walcott finally has caught on as the champ. Whatever the reason, it looks big."

Theater television outlets already are hanging out the sellout signs and some are charging as much as $4.80 per copy. The Theater-TV chain will extend to California. For the first time even drive-in theaters will be included. Motion pictures of the fight will be available the next day.

While the promoters greet the harvest of greenbacks, the two fighters step through their paces at widely separated points Walcott, the 38 - year - old champ, does his stuff at Atlantic City where he trained for his successful defense against Ezzard Charles. Marciano, just past his 28th birthday, works out at Grossinger, N. Y.

After watching both boys drill, ex-champ Jack Dempsey predicted "another Dempsey-Firpo bout." He wouldn't pick a winner. Others have not been so bashful about declaring themselves.

Although the odds have wavered slightly below the original 2 to 1 price favoring Marciano, there is strong support among the boxing folks for the old gaffer from Camden, N. J.

"A man is as old as he feels," said Walcott at a recent training session. "I feel young and I act young. When a man has an incentive for winning, as I have since wining the title, there's nothing going to stop him except a knock-out punch. I don't think Marciano can knock me out. I thing I can knock him out. We'll see."

Marciano isn't popping off much, just quietly working his way toward the big chance of his life.

"I've seen him fight at least five times," he said. "He's a tough guy and a cutie. I'm not making any prediction. But I wouldn't be much of a fighter if I didn't think I could win."

Rocky, never beaten or dropped in 42 fights, is confident he can lick anybody in the world. That includes Walcott.

Texans Out For Blood

DALLAS, Sept. 13 (AP)—When the Dallas Texans open the National Football League season here Sept. 28 against the New York Giants they'll be playing for wounded American soldiers in Korea.

The Dallas professional team will give one reserved seat ticket to the game to each person donating blood to the Red Cross.

A's Beat Out Tigers

DETROIT, Sept. 13 (AP)—The Philadelphia Athletics crushed rookie pitcher Bud Black of the Detroit Tigers with five runs in the first inning and then scored six more runs in the eighth to break a deadlock and gain an 11-5 victory today.

OPEN SEASON

By DALE WALTON

Seems you who shied away from Friday night's game, in which the Tigers slaughtered the Silver Foxes of El Paso, really missed something.

Now that the Snyder gridders have a 21-0 win behind them, they are ready to go through the whole season, and some of them already have their eye on one of the top rungs in the district ladder.

It's time that you who stayed away from games only because the locals had a bad year last season take our word that Coach Speedy Moffett has something in his light, inexperienced squad this year.

The team from Thomas Jefferson was definitely not one of the top—the game was played sloppy but the Tigers did not get sloppy with them.

Here's evidence that Moffett's crew will better their record this year — so far, they have scrimmaged twice and played one game. In their first scrimmage, when they met Class A O'Donnell, they ran away with the game. In scrimmage with San Angelo, which is not a top team but a bigger one, they tied 13 - 13. Then when they went onto the field Friday night and took an easy victory against another 4A squad.

That is a much better start than they got playing Class A and AA teams last year. What more proof do you want?

While only a few fans are expected to go to Fort Worth to see the Tigers meet Northside next Thursday night, a large delegation from here will go to Levelland the followjng week. The next home game will be with Bowie, another 4A and [illegible]her than El Paso school, Oct. 10.

School officials are predicting a larger turnout for the Bowie game than the 2,500 who saw the tilt Friday night, and Art Nicholas, school business administrator, has put reserved seat tickets for the remaining four home games on sale for $4.80. He will sell them at his office in the school administration building on Thirty seventh Street.

* * *

Jack Dillon, assistant coach who scouted Northside's game with Gene Gibson, another assistant, said yesterday that the Tigers won't have an easy time with the Fort Worth school's squad next week.

Weatherford beat Northside 13-0, but Gibson declares the team was lucky to come out on top.

Weatherford pulled a pass play for one score, and another resulted when the Northside center made a bad snap and Weatherford recovered the ball on Northside's six yard line. From there they had four downs to take the ball over.

The assistant said Northside threatened scoring several times and looks like good material.

* * *

The Tigers escaped their first game with only one slight injury. Gerald Crawford, halfback, got a cleat above his eye, then later went back into the game and was hit hard once. But Crawford is still ready to go.

Sweetwater, Snyder Show In District

Snyder and Sweetwater were the only elevens in District 1-3A to score victories in Friday night's football tilts.

Sweetwater, meeting the Class AA Levelland Lobos, won 26 - 6, gaining almost as much on passes as on the ground. Joe Feagan, back, was the pass flinger for the Mustangs, completing seven for 146 yards.

Snyder, which finished 21 - 0 over Thomas Jefferson, will meet Levelland away in a non-conference tilt Sept. 26 and Sweetwater in a district game Nov. 14.

Big Spring lost its battle with Breckenridge 33-0, with Breckenridge beginning its scoring the first time the squad got its hands on the ball. Snyder will meet Big Spring in a district tilt at Big Spring Nov. 21.

Gisco, which will come here for a non-district match Oct 17, tallied a 26-6 win over Eastland, scoring once a quarter.

Vernon, which will come here for a district bout Oct. 24, lost to Class 4A Wichita Falls 27-6.

Yankees Nose Ahead Again

CHICAGO, Sept. 13 (AP)—The New York Yankees nosed a game and a half ahead of the Cleveland Indians in their torrid pennant scrap today by shading the Chicago White Sox, 6-5, on the masterful relief pitching of Allie Reynolds and Billy Martin's sharp hitting.

The victory, coupled with Cleveland's 4-3 loss to Boston, gained a full game for the Yankees, whose ace Reynolds came in with Sox on second and first in the ninth with none out and cleaned up things with only one score and not a ball hit out of the infield.

Luckless loser Marv Grissom, 35-year-old righthander, struck out 13 to tie the American League's season high, but gave up 12 hits.

Reynolds came in after Johnny Sain, who had replaced starter and victor Vic Raschi at the start of the sixth, weakened in the last two innings and nearly drained away a 6-3 lead.

Second sacker Billy Martin, for the second straight day, belted across three runs. He singled across the third Yankee run in the fourth for a 3-1 New York lead and settled the issue in the eighth by punching a two-run single through the box to make it 6-3.

Jim Rivera singled to open the White Sox ninth and when Sherman Lollar poked another single the crowd of 25,542 began to roar. Reynolds came in to supplant Sain.

Plays In Every Game Of Season And Bats .321

DALLAS, Sept. 13 (AP)—Speaking of valuable men, consider Harry Elliott of Shreveport. He played in every game in the Texas League race got 2?? hits, scored 90 runs and clouted 48 two-baggers.

Elliott, in playing in all of the club's 164 games, went to bat 635 times and hit .321.

He is the only multiple leader of the year in the league. His teammate, Grant Dunlap, topped the circuit in batting with .333 on 154 hits in 46 appearances at the plate. Jim Greengrass of Beaumont led in triples with 15, Harry Heslet of San Antonio in home runs with 31 and Russ Burns of Oklahoma City in runs batted in with 120.

Only two other players appeared in all their club's games—Frank Kellert of Oklahoma City and Bill Hunter of Fort Worth. None played every inning, however, Elliot pinch-hit in one game and missed parts of two others. Kellert pinch-hit in one game and missed part of another. Hunter missed part of one game.

The pitcher with the best average was Bill Greason of Oklahoma City, who won nine and lost one for .900. But the winningest pitcher was Dave Hoskins of Dallas, who compiled a 2-10 record. Only one other pitcher won as many as 20 games—Hal Erickson of Dallas, who had a 2-14 record. The strike-out leader was John Gray of Beaumont, who fanned 151 before he was sold out of the league before the season ended.

Hunter topped all in stolen bases. The Fort Worth shortstop, named the league's outstanding player, thefted 24.

Oklahoma City led in club batting with .265. Shreveport was second with .263. Dallas was third with .260.

It is estimated that less than 20 per cent of American Negroes are of pure African descent.

Jackie Robinson of the Brooklyn Dodgers sprints toward third base in Ebbets Field, New York, as Chicago Cubs shortstop Roy Smalley skids along the outfield grass in a futile effort to grab the single from the bat of Roy Capanella, Dodger catcher, in the fifth inning. Robinson scored a Dodger hit in a five-run Dodger uprising. Cubs won game 11 to 7, dropping Brooklyn within 3½ games of the New York Giants.

Ticket Sales Boom As Major Football Games Draw Near

NEW YORK, Sept. 19 (AP)—One game that likely will have an important bearing on the Pacific Coast Conference championship and one that will be watched by televiewers from coast to coast will be played next week-end as college football sets out to prove that the game, not the chatter about codes and controls, is the thing.

It is a crucial season that is coming up for the great college sport. Since the end of the 1951 season, the educators and athletic leaders, from college presidents on down, have been trying to formulate workable rules to control the abuses they feel have crept into college sports. They have been worrying and bickering about television and wondering what reaction their troubles and squabbles will have on the general public.

Advance ticket sales at the bigger institutions which have strong teams and attractive schedules indicate that the football-going public is more interested in a good game than administrative problems. Now they're going to find out, wasting no time getting into the "big game" phase of the season.

So far there have been a few minor preliminaries, but on Friday night at Los Angeles Southern California and Washington State will play what is undoubtedly the first "major" game of 1952.

Washington State, with a potent passing combination of Bob Burkhart to Ed Barker and Don Steinbrunner is regarded as one of the biggest threats to California's supremacy in the coast conference. Southern California, a straight single wing team this year, figures to be stronger than last season. If the lads from the Northwest can get past this game, they'll be right on the path to the Rose Bowl at least until late in the season.

Saturday brings about a dozen games between well-matched rivals of major calibre, but for casual observers, there's probably just one that counts. That is the inter - conference tussle between Texas Christian of the Southwest and Kansas of the Big Seven.

It is the first game to go on the nationwide television network under the new National Collegiate A. A. Control Program, which provides one big game each week for the home viewers. In addition, it sends TCU, 1951 Southwest champion and one of this year's favorites, against Kansas, which is ranked second only to Oklahoma in its league. Kansas may prove even better than expected if the backfield combine of Charlie Hoag and the 1950 Army quarterback, Al Reich, works out well.

In other games of more than passing interest, UCLA travels to Columbia, Mo., to meet Missouri; Villanova, which may prove to be a powerhouse in the East, plays Kentucky in a night game at Lexington, Ky., Texas meets sub-par Louisiana State in another night affair at Baton Rouge and Georgia tackles Vanderbilt in a Southeastern Conference game.

On Saturday it is California vs. College of the Pacific; Idaho at Washington, Santa Clara at Stanford, Oregon State at Utah, San Jose State at Colorado, Utah State at Montana, Hawaii at Arizona, Arizona State (Tempe) at Hardin-Simmons, Wake Forrest at Baylor, Texas A. and M. at Houston, Oklahoma A. and M. vs. Arkansas at Little Rock, Bradley at Kansas State, South Dakota at Nebraska, South Dakota State at Iowa State and Boston University at Wichita.

Swinging into the Deep South, Georgia Tech, favorite to take the Southeastern Conference title, opens with a comparatively easy one against The Citadel and Florida plays little Stetson. Three Southern Conference games — Washington and Lee at Duke, Virginia Tech at Davidson and William and Mary vs. Virginia Military at Roanoke—are listed while two other conference members, South Carolina and Richmond, open against Wofford and Randolph-Macon, respectively. Clemson plays Presbyterian.

There's no important action scheduled in the Midwest, where the Big Ten teams and major independents don't open until Sept. 27. The East's best games are Penn State against Temple, Yale against Connecticut and Syracuse against Bolling Air Force Base of Virginia.

Natural gas is less poisonous than manufactured gas because manufactured gas contains carbon monoxide.

Five Teams Favorites As SW Conference Opens Saturday

(By The Associated Press)

Another Southwest Conference football campaign with its glittering Saturday afternoons and its jarring upsets opens next Saturday.

This, the thirty-eighth race in the history of the storied circuit, is as wide-open as a barn door when the horses are out to graze. Five teams are in the favorite class, either one of which could win the championship without an eyebrow bein glifted.

Three of those five—Texas Christian, Arkansas and Texas—are among those obening the race this week. The other two, Southern Methodist and Rice, wait another week.

Texas Christian faces the toughest opener. The Horned Frogs, defending champions of the conference, play Kansas at Lawrence Saturday afternoon. Kansas is loaded with talent and ready to repeat the victory ft won last season in breaking a long TCU stranglehold.

Texas tackles a well-rated Louisiana State team at Baton Rouge Saturday night and won't find the opposition easy. And there's also a jinx: Texas never has beaten LSU on its home field in a period of more than 50 years.

Other openers have Texas A&M playing University of Houston at Houston, Arkansas battling Oklahoma, A&M at Little Rock and Baylor engaging Wake Forest at Waco.

The Aggies will have trouble with a vastly improved University of Houston and might take a trimming. Arkansas should roll over Oklahoma A&M and Baylor should beat Wake Forest although nothing like the 42-0 debacle of 1951.

Arkansas beat Oklahoma A&M 42-7 last year but probably won't make it that bad this time. A&M never has played University of Houston before.

All of Texas' 8 senior colleges that play football will be in action this week. Texas Lutheran starts out Thursday night, meeting Tyler Junior College at Tyler. Friday night Abilene Christian College engages East Texas State at Abilene and Austin College plays Southeastern Oklahoma State at Denison.

Games scheduled Saturday night: Trinity vs Southwest Texas State at San Antonio, Midwestern vs McMurry at Wichita Falls, North Texas State vs Texas Western at Odessa, Howard Payne vs New Mexico A&M at Las Cruces, N. M., Texas A&M vs Stephen F. Ausain at Nacogdoches, California Poly vs Sul Ross at Alpine, Sam Houston vs Louisiana College at Huntsville, Lamar Tech vs Southwestern Louisiana Institute at LaFayette, La., Texas Tech vs West Texas State at Lubbock, Hardin-Simmons vs Arizona State of Tempe at Abilene.

Sixth Grade Incident Began Football Career For Walker

(By The Associated Press)

YPSILANTI, Mich. — Doak Walker of the Detroit Lions will go into the records as one of football's all - time great backs—along with Jim Thorpe, Red Grange and others.

But oddly, Doak might have remained a guard instead of booming into the headlines as a high-scoring backfield sensation.

An obscure incident in the sixth grade proved the turning point.

Doak was in elementary school in football - conscious Dallas. They start playing football there almost as soon as babies learn how, to say the word.

In the kids' informal sandlot games Doak usually played in the backfield.

Then came the day he reported for his first official session of football practice—in the sixth grade.

At home that night after the first practice, Doak didn't show his usual enthusiasm for football.

After a while his dad spoke.

"How did practice go, son?"

"All right, dad."

"Where did they play you?"

"Guard.'

"How did you like it?"

"It was okay."

"Wouldnt you rather play in the backfield?"

"Oh, I suppose so."

"Did you tell the coach that?"

"He didn't ask me."

"Do you want me to say something to him?"

"Dad, you stay out of this. This is for me to take care of."

And Doak, a quiet, modest fellow, took care of it. But in an unexpected way.

The coach continued to use him at guard. Then came the first full-scale workout.

The other team had the ball and called a pass play.

Guard Doak came from nowhere, leaped in the air to intercept the ball and sped and twisted to the goal line many yards away.

That ball - carrying exhibition was enough to convince his amazed coach. Doak became a back pronto.

He went on to stardom in junior high, Dallas Highland Park High, Southern Methodist University, and now the pro Detroit Lions.

Doak is most-headlined player in the Lions' training camp. And although he's only 25, Doak is starting his 15th season playing on an organized team.

And thanks to an intercepted pass in that first season, he's a back and not a lineman.

Giants Move Up Full Game

NEW YORK, Sept. 13 (AP)—Young Hoyt Wilhelm saved the day again today and the New York Giants shaved their deficit in the National League race to three games by overcoming the Cincinnati Reds, 3-2, before a crowd of 8,843 at the Polo Grounds.

Combined with the league-leading Brooklyn Dodgers 5-2 defeat at the hands of the St. Louis Cardinals, the Giants' victory gained Leo Durocher's men a full game in the red-hot pennant chase.

But for the second day in a row the story was Wilhelm, the remarkable youngster who made his 64th appearance of the year for the New Yorkers.

After Monte Kennedy began to feel the pace, Wilhelm strode to the mound in the seventh with one Redleg out and Johnny Temple, who had singled, on first.

He proceeded to put down the threat by forcing Bobby Adams to ground out to Bob Elliott, who was filling in at third base for injured Hank Thompson. Wilhelm then struck out Willard Marshall.

That ended any hopes the Reds may have had of overcoming the Giants, and they wound up the day's proceedings with just four hits.

The Giants scored the winning run in the sixth when Alvin Dark opened with a scratch single, went to second on Whitey Lockman's sacrifice and held up when Monte Irvin flied out. Bobby Thomson was passed intentionally and Elliott singled to left sending Dark across and that was it.

The two starters, Joe Nuxhall of the Reds and Bill Connelly of the Giants, hardly stayed around long enough to get up a good perspiration.

Strikeout King Wins

BOSTON, Sept. 13 (AP)—Lefty Warren Spahn, the major league's strikeout king, fanned the last-place Pittsburgh Pirates 13 times today while turning in an 8-0 shutout for the Boston Braves. He now has a season's total of 170.

Union, General Electric Agree

SCRANTON, Pa., Sept. 13 (AP)—The United Electric, Radio and Machine Workers of America and the General Electric Company have reached agreement on a new contract, John Chernesky, president of the union's Scranton, Pa., local said today.

Chernesky said he had received a telegram from Joseph Dermody, UE international representative, stating that the union negotiating committee had reached an agreement on contract wages and insurance.

The local president said he had received the following telegram from Dermody:

"Negotiating committee reached agreement with company subject to ratification by conference board and local membership on contract wages and insurance. Conference board meeting to take place in Cleveland during convention."

Chernesky said, the meeting would be in Cleveland next week. He said he had been advised that the details of the new contract would follow by mail.

Boy Killed In Crash

LONGVIEW, Sept. 13 (AP)—Patrick Henry Cannon, 16, was killed last night when his motor scooter and a log truck collided.

Two passengers on the scooter, Al Foster, 14, and Charles Smith 15, were injured.

The truck was driven by J. C. Gatewood of Longview.

These are fundamental questions which we ask in many, many forms:

The school-boy wonders how to prepare for his chosen profession . . . and how long it will take him.

The romantic swain wonders which girl to marry . . . and when he will be able to afford to marry.

The ailing business man wonders how to regain his health . . . and how long before he can return to work.

And millions of folks, troubled with a sense of the futility of life, ask "how can we find happiness . . . and when will we ever attain it?"

The experience of the Christian Church answers clearly: We find happiness by believing the truth Jesus Christ revealed to men . . . and that happiness begins as soon as we have faith in Him.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Mexico City Sinking; Causes Major Water, Sewer Problems

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 13 — This ancient Aztec capital, third largest city on the continent, is sinking at the rate of 18 inches a year.

The sinking is due to lack of water in the clay subsoil. Paradoxically, the same lack of water is causing the floods which have cost merchants millions of pesos so far this year.

When the Spaniards came, they found Mexico City built on an island in a lake. Gradually the lake was drained and the city spread over its former bed. All the city except a few suburbs is built on the lake bottom.

This is a layer of clay some 200 feet thick. Clay shrinks to about two thirds of its normal volume when it is dried. For centuries the clay stayed wet.

But Mexico City's quick growth, from 250,000 inhabitants only 50 years ago to three million today, strained her normal water supplies. These came from springs beside the former lake bed. To make up for the water shortage, some 9,000 wells were drilled. These brought up the water from the subsoil, drying it and making the surface shrink as the clay contracted.

The sinking would not be so bad if it were even. But it is greater under and around heavy buildings. The big marble Fine Arts Palace has sunk 10 feet since it was started in 1940. Doorways once at the head of majestic flights of steps are now at ground level.

More serious is what their regular sinking has done to the drainage and water systems. The water department estimates only two-thirds of the water pumped into the main lines ever reaches the consumer. Leakage from sewers to water lines poses a serious health problem.

The floods are due to two principal causes. The broken lines permit clay to be washed into the pipes and block them. On top of that, the city has sunk below the level of the main drainage canal.

The temporary cure has been expensive and ineffective. During the dry season, city employes empty the sewers of tons of clay around the manholes. The city has put earthern walls around big ponds where the sewers empty into the drainage canal. Emergency pumps ordered from the U. S. last spring now lift storm waters into the ponds and then into the canal during dry periods.

This has not been enough to halt the floods in a city where an inch of rain may fall in 15 minutes.

When the floods started last spring, the government hastily named a board of engineers to draft a long-range plan. The board said the first step should be to build three new deep-level trunk sewers. Work on these has started but water will still have to be pumped up from the sewer outfalls to the main drainage canal.

The board's final report is due this fall.

OFF TO CANARIES — French scientist Dr. Alain Bombard hopes to live on raw fish and sea water during his ocean-current voyage from Casablanca to Canary Islands on this raft.

THE LAW IN TEXAS

Intersection Right of Way Can Be Confusing At Times

Misunderstanding of simple driving rules by numerous motorists is one factor which places Texas right at the top in number of traffic deaths. Possibly the most mystifying of all traffic rules to the average driver are those relating to "Right of Way" at an intersection.

In trying to understand the laws regulating intersecting traffic, it is best to start off with the premise that all streets are of equal dignity, legally speaking. Traffic signs and signals may vary this rule somewhat, but when in doubt it is safest to assume that all drivers crossing your path have a claim to the right of way equal to your own.

Obviously, however, in many cases one driver or the other will be legally entitled to the right of way. When it becomes necessary to determine right of way in a particular situation, the driver who reaches the intersection first, or who is going to get there first, is ordinarily favored.

But when two automobiles are in equal distance from the intersection, that one approaching from the other driver's right normally has the right of way.

Some intersections are known as "courtesy corners," having a stop sign or a flashing red signal facing each direction of approach. The first driver reaching the corner and coming to a complete stop will normally have the right of way over other vehicles not already in the intersection. However, don't depend too much on the other fellow's courtesy, and be sure to keep a "proper look-out" and your car under "proper control."

At intersections involving one through street and another street having a stop sign, a driver approaching the stop sign and coming to a full stop is ordinarily said to have the right of way over vehicles approaching on the through street but not already in the intersection.

However, this last rule must be qualified by saying that you should not proceed, cross or turn onto the through street until you can do so without interfering with oncoming traffic. In other words, if an approaching car will arrive within the intersection before you are completely clear, wait just a little longer. The same rules apply to entering a highway from a side road containing a stop sign.

Many drivers violate the rules of right of way covering left-hand turns at intersections. When turning left, you should always be on the inside (or center) lane, displaying the proper hand signal. You must allow all cars coming from the opposite direction, already in the intersection, to pass through before completing your turn. Even when the intersection is cleared, do not proceed unless other oncoming traffic is far enough away to be able to see your signal and slow down to allow you to turn with safety to all concerned.

Stay in the inside lane until your left-hand turn is entirely completed, and only then move gradually over to the right-hand lane if you wish. When turning right, stay in the right-hand lane at all times. Do not swing wide into the center lane, as to do so is unnecessary, unlawful and dangerous.

Many detailed rules and suggestions for safe driving are included in the official "Texas Driving Handbook" which is available to any person requesting same from the Texas Department of Public Safety, Drivers License Division, Austin, Texas.

BOYLE'S COLUMN

Oysters Differ With People On Population Problems

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK, Sept. 13 (AP)—Every time I meet Royal Toner, the noted sea farmer, he says:

"If all the offspring of two oysters survived for five generations, they'd make a mass as big as the whole earth—and then where would you be?"

This always makes me so uneasy that I rush to the nearest restaurant and swallow a half dozen oysters raw. If these little living pearl factories think they can gang up and crowd me out of my world—well, I can live by the law of the fang, too.

This year, however, Toner, who operates 6,000 acres of underwater agriculture in Long Island Sound and Delaware Bay, said I could worry about something else. The oyster is no longer a threat.

WEATHER TOO HOT

"The supply of oysters has been very slim lately—much below normal," said Toner, a big, booming-voiced man who is board chairman of the National Fisheries Institute, an organization of the nation's leading commercial fishing firms.

"It's all part of the balance of nature. The weather conditions at the time of spawning have been unfortunate for the last few seasons—hot without a breath of wind."

As he explained it, the baby oyster is a free-swimming miniature tadpole for a few days, then sinks to the bottom and anchors its tail to an old piece of shell or rock. But if the sun is too hot and the sea too calm, the temperature rises, the oxygen level of the water falls, and the little oyster—called a sprat—peels off and dies.

HE'S AMBISEXTROUS

As a result of bad weather and overfishing, the bivalve, far from being a villainous menace to mankind, right now is fighting hard for self-preservation.

"We've only had a 6 to 7 million bushel oyster crop the last two years," said Toner. "Forty years ago Maryland alone produced that many, and oysters were the No. 1 seafood crop.

"Now they have been passed by the salmon, the cod, the halibut, the tuna, and the shrimp.

"But don't sell the oyster short. He isn't done. He's millions of years old—you can find petrified oyster beds on top of the Rocky Mountains—and hasn't changed in all the time. He'll come back."

An oyster has one advantage over most other living things in the population struggle—he's ambisextrous.

"If he gets tired of being a male one year, he can turn into a female the next season and enjoy the pleasure of laying eggs," Toner said. "We don't know which they like best, as no oyster ever complains."

TOO MANY PEOPLE

There is an old superstition that oysters aren't good to eat during the summer months, when they spawn.

"Actually they are better then—they taste sweeter," said Toner. He believes the legend arose because one variety of North Sea oyster, when bitten into in the spawning period "tastes like a spoonful of sand."

But commercial growers would just as soon have their customers consume oysters on the shell only during the months with an 'R' in them.

"Every time you swallow a spawning oyster," said Toner sternly, "you are destroying between 25,000,000 to 50,000,000 future little baby oysters."

People may think right now there are too few oysters. But an oyster feels the other way: there always have been too many people.

THE SNYDER DAILY NEWS

VOL. 3, No. 116 SNYDER, TEXAS, SUNDAY, SEPTEMBER 14, 1952

What This Country Needs Is --

This being an election year, there are hundreds of politicians, ears to the ground, straining to hear the murmurings of "grass roots" America, and especially the dry Southland.

Politico would have heard the story which follows had they accompanied the roving photographer in his rounds in Snyder last week.

Unanimously everyone agrees that what this particular section of the country needs more than anything else is adequate rain to cool the blistered countryside, and to give prospect of good crops next year, but their opinions of what the country as a whole needs is a widely divergent story.

According to the answers of the persons shown on this page, what the country needs most is to measure up to the Golden Rule, something they feel the country falls far short of doing now, although it was the measuring stick on which this country was founded.

Some of the politicians ears must be burning because of some of the things said to the reporter which this newspaper refrains from printing. The look of smug indifference on the faces of many aspiriant politicians may change to a look at the help-wanted columns after Nov. 4, if the predominance of thinking which exists now is carried to the polls.

Si Steinberg, owner of Highland Park Cleaners on the Big Spring highway, said what this country needs is "more local enterprise, and better breaks for the working man. Snyder, in particular, needs more local enterprise to continue its growth and to take advantage of the big opportunity offered here by the prolific oilfields. More local enterprise wouldn't hurt any community in the nation, either."

Steinberg continued that "it is the working man who's making this country, not the big shot, and the working man deserves a little more consideration than he is getting. But initative and resourcefulness is the answer to the working man's problems, however."

Wade Pipkin, owner of Wade Pipkin Motor Co., Ford agency, said that the question offers an opportunity for many answers, but he believes the one thing most needed in this country is a return to the "Will Rogers type of humor which seems to have been lost in the hurly - burly decades since the wit who could ease the tension of almost any situation died on the wilds of the frozen tundra near Fairbanks, Alaska."

"There's not enough good humor, and too much bad humor in nearly everything that's done in he political and business world today," Pipkin said.

The old adage of "laughter is the best medicine" could very easily be the laxative needed to clean the filth from the American political system, he said. "Especially in the South we need to laugh at the old idea of voting like our forefathers did, and vote for ideas that will improve the country instead," he said.

Walter T. Clark, Jr., district geologist for Standard Oil Co. of Texas, says what this country needs is a stabilization of the prices of commodities used in this country in relation to the wages paid for labor so that the seemingly unending series of strikes and price increases could be stopped at an ideal point without reversing the spiral bringing another depression to the country.

"Every time labor strikes for higher wages, industry ups the prices of its commodities to meet the increased labor costs, then labor strikes again so as to be able to pay the higher prices," Clark said. "What I would like most to see is an end to the spiral before another depression is forced upon us," he said.

Corruption in government was the topic forcefully talked about when Ilar Lewis, partner in the Lewis & Burney Service Station on the East Highway, was asked what this country needs.

"The country could stand to have a purge of dishonest public officials on the national, state, and local levels," Lewis believes.

Two moving picture projectionists interviewed on the subject agree that the juvenile problem is one of the biggest facing the country.

"Juveniles who get off on the wrong foot while they are young grow up to be the criminals, bribers, and dishonest officials of tomorrow," Daniel E. Crady, 1112 Thirty - second Street, projection-

Less corruption in government, from top to bottom, is what Ilar V. Lewis, above, partner in the Lewis & Burney Service Station on the East Highway, thinks this country needs most. A purge of dishonest officials is needed on the national, state, and local levels, Lewis said.

SI Steinberg shown above with Mrs. Steinberg at the counter of their dry cleaning establishment, thinks what this country needs is more local enterprise, and better breaks for the working man. "However, the working man makes his own breaks by initiative and resourcefulness," Steinberg said.

Walter T. Clark, Jr., district geologist for Standard Oil Co.Texas, said he would like to see a stabilization of the influences which control prices and wages in this country so that both could be fixed at an ideal level, rather than having a continuation of the spiral of price-wage increases we now have. "Prices and wages are going up, but someday they may start down again and we will end up with another depression," he said.

Daniel E. Grady, right above, projectionist for the Texas Theater, and Eldon Price, assistant operator of the machines, agree that what this country needs is an answer to the juvenille delinquency problem. One solution they offer as an aid in solving the problem is more shows that display the inevitable result of disobeying the laws of the land—crime does not pay.

"More humor of the Will Rogers type is what this country needs," Wade Pipkin, owner of Pipkin Motor Co., said. A good laugh is often the right solution to tense situations. "Will Rogers could make the important and common people of the land laugh with his wit," Pipkin said

VINCENT MONTE SANO

Vincent Monte Sano has styled this suit to perfection for your dressy occasions. Make it in lightweight textured wool and trim it in velvet or satin for a sure-fire hit. A touch of fur at the collar and cuffs would make it even more luxurious. Size 12 requires three and one - quarter yards of 54-inch material with five-eighths of a yard of 35-inch fabric for the contrast. The pattern comes in sizes 12-20. To order, send $1 to Spadea Syndicate, Inc., Box 535, General Post Office, New York 1, New York. For air mail handling enclose an additional 25 cents. New patterns are pictured in the pattern booklet, 15 cents.

25 YEARS AGO

SCURRY COUNTY TIMES for Sept. 15, 1927.)

No school in all Texas — no school in the entire nation could have had a finer and more auspicious opening than that of the Snyder public schools at the City Tabernacle Monday morning.

With the rostrum seating County Judge Horace Holley, in charge of ceremonies, with the new superintendent, C. Wedgeworth, the board of education composed of T. E. Jenkins, J. S. Bradbury, C. E. Ross, Hugh Taylor, J. C. Dorward, Joe Stinson and Oscar Jones, Revs. W. F. Ferguson and H. J. Manley, singer Lee A. Stulce, County Superintendent A. A. Bullock, and the high school [illegible] the 1927-28 school year started out in a big way.

• • •

Miss Tommie Jenkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Jenkins, will act as "The Spirit of Snyder" at the reception to Col. Charles Lindbergh at Abilene Monday. Miss Jenkins will be accompanied by a large motorcade of boosters who will assist in making it known at Abilene that Snyder is another livewire West Texas city.

Head Coach Oliver and Assistant Coach Crouch have been whipping the Snyder High Tigers into shape for their first game of the season tomorrow when they meet a fast team from Idalou.

Letter men reporting to the squad this year include Bythel Martin, captain, and Herman Trigg, A. D. Dodson, Captain, Cleve Blackard, Glen Wilsford, Gordon May and Sykes Curry. Men who were on the squad last year and who are ready to jump in this year are Stanfield Cooper, Hugh Boren, Dave Morgan, Armor McFarland, Max Brownfield, and G. L. Heidus.

New men reporting for the first time are Herman Doak, Fred Yoder N. R. Clements, Ben Weathers, Darrel Grogan, Dan Trice, J. T. Trice, Bill Popnoe, Elmo Crowder, Bryan Moore, Nibs Warren, and Hubert Karnes.

Miss McGaw Returns To Baylor University

Miss Rose Marie McGaw, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. McGaw, 608 Twenty-fifth Street, will return to Baylor University at Waco today where she will be a senior majoring in business education.

She will be joined there by her brother, Clarence E. McGaw, Jr., who is returning to Baylor after four years in the Air Force. He was on the Baylor football team from 1945-47 as guard and tackle and is working out with the team now. He will also be a senior majoring in general business.

Gene Knight, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Knight, route No. 3, has entrolled in Tarleton State College in Stephenville. His sister, Mrs. J. B. Davidson, and Mr. Davidson, 1206 Nineteenth Street, took him to the school last week end.

Miss Jane Gilmore, 2511 Avenue V, left Friday for Lubbock where she has been awarded a teaching fellowship at Texas Tech. She will begin work on her doctor of philosophy degree.

Huddlestons Honored At Gift Shower

Mr. and Mrs. Billy Don Huddleston, who were married during the summer, were honored at a gift shower Thursday night at Knapp Baptist Church.

Hostesses were Mrs. Frank Strom, Mrs. Wright Huddleston, Mrs. H. H. Carey and Miss Billie Alford.

Gifts were arranged on a lace covered table. Following games led by Mrs. Strom, refreshments were served to 60 guests. Napkins were embossed with the couple's names. During the evening, Mrs. Carey played piano selections.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Stoker, parents of Mrs. Huddleston, were present. Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Max Coffee and daughter of Big Spring.

The afternoon's program was to include a ball game, barbecue and dance.

Safety Quiz For Parents— Compiled By Counselor

(By The Associated Press)

How much do you, as a parent, know about safety in the home for children?

Mrs. Ellen McAinsh, who is Counselor for Women's Safety of the American Mutual Liability Insurance Company and an expert on safety with children, particularly around the house, says that you know very little.

In a "Safe At Home" quiz which her company conducted among 1,800 adults, the average score was only 52.3 per cent, hardly a passing grade in school. Yet, she says, the people who make such low scores are in effect given license to run a home and supervise the safety of their children.

For example, how would you answer the following questions:

1. Name three precautions that you should take in storing in the home such poisons as iodine, lye, insecticides, etc.

2. If you found your child unconscious because of electric shock and still in contact with a live wire, how would you break that contact?

3. If Junior suffered a minor burn, would you use butter or a salve?

4. Assume it's bath time for a youngster under three. What do you feel are the most important precautions to be observed?

Knowing what to do in each instance may spell the difference between safety and tragedy, she says.

The three precautions to take with poisons are (a) to lock them up, or put a pin in the cork or label; (b) store out of children's reach and (c) destroy all empty poison bottles and poisons no longer to be used.

To break an electric contact, she suggests you move the wire away from the body with a dry stick, or heavy garment then shut off the current.

For minor burns salve should be use since butter contains salt, which irritates burns.

Finally, while bathing a youngster under three always have someone stay with him to prevent drowning and make sure the water is not too hot.

Simple, aren't they? Yet there is a child injured every eight seconds and one death every 19 minutes, caused by a home accident, she says.

In the 1-5 year age group, accidents killed as many children as did contagious diseases, including polio, scarlet fever, whooping cough, measles, etc. And for every accident that killed a child, there were between 90 and 150 severe injuries.

Mrs. McAinsh points out that mechanical suffocation accounted for 1,400 accidents last year in the under-four-years-old age bracket. It includes suffocation by such means as bedclothes and pillows, harnesses and sleeping garments. Many suffocations are actually due to the failure of a parent to recognize that their child is suffering from an acute respiratory infection, she says. Also, many children suffer suffocation from swallowing objects such as nipples, of pacifiers, safety pins, buttons, marbles, and trimmings such as belts, buttons used for eyes on dolls, etc.

All these carelessly left within the reach of the child are causes for deaths and injuries. Mothers can prevent such situations by taking the proper precautions, she says.

Another major cause of home accidents among children are falls. They fall out of unprotected chairs or beds, or from tables which are left unattended. Many fall from top - heavy or unbalanced highchairs. Unprotected windows, stairs and cellars are a great danger. In the country, children have been killed falling down unprotected old wells, she points out.

Mrs. McAinsh stresses the need for mothers to make sure that the textiles in children's clothes are non-flammable. Playsuits, such as cowboys or indian suits, and children's party dresses of flimsy material should all be flameproofed.

The time spent in setting up safeguards is worth more than the tragedy of having to say, "I only left the baby for a minute," she says.

Mrs. Stanfield Honored Sunday On Birthday

Mrs. W. B. Stanfield, a pioneer Snyder resident, was honored at a surprise birthday party last Sunday at her home, 2400 Thirty-second Street.

Mrs. John W. Leftwich and Mrs. Stanfield's daughter, Mrs. Gertie Smith, were hostesses. Assisting in hospitalities were Mrs. Joyce Smith, grand daughter of the honor guest, and Debrah and Shelby Smith, great-grand daughters.

Readings were given by Mrs. J. W. W. Patterson, Miss Margarette Miller and Mrs. Rachel Lawrence.

About 25 guests called.

African Colony Has More White Citizens

LUANDA, Angola, Portuguese West Africa — The Portuguese Angola Colony in Africa will soon register its 100,000th white citizen. In 191 only 3,000 whites lived here.

World War II speeded Angola's development tremendously. The population rose to 83,000 in 1950 with 17,000 white births in the colony and 22,000 new immigrants. Angola has now outgrown the stage of a tropical colony where the white man does no manual work and goes back to Europe after a number of years.

Agriculture has become a white man's business and white labor is also being used increasingly in the cement factories, tobacco manufactures, breweries and other industries.

There is no color bar in Angola. But the Angolan tribes show little disposition to follow the new pace of development. It is frequently cheaper to hire a more efficient white man who is better paid, than a cheaply paid native who is less efficient.

PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Roddy, 1505 Twenty - first Street, returned Thursday night from a two-week visit with relatives in Honey Grove and Dallas. In Dallas they visited their son, Robert Roddy, and family and with their daughter, Mrs. F. O. Stark, of San Antonio.

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Soles, Clairemont Road, have been her sister, Mrs. Ben Anger, and Mr. Anger of Detroit, Mich. The visitors will go from here to Juarez, Mexico.

Mr. and Mrs. Gus McClinton, 2707½ Avenue T, and Mrs. Ola McClammy, 2211 Avenue Z, returned this week from New Mexico where they visited relatives in Eunice, Hobbs and Carlsbad. In Carlsbad they visited Mrs. McClinton's sister and nephew Mrs. Grace Meador, and Dale Meador, and with her brother, Wymon McClammy and Mrs. McClammy.

Would you please tell me again the remedy for aluminum pans which have a gray look?? N. L.

Treat your aluminum ware with boiling water to which has been added 2 tablespoons of cream of tartar or vinegar per quart. The dull, film-like stain is caused by water, which is naturally alkaline, or certain foods that are alkaline.

STARS

Could you give me a simple sauce recipe to use on fruits and puddings? Something must be done to jazz up the quick dishes I've been fixing. Mrs. K.

You might like Creamy Dessert Sauce which is best served hot. You need ¼ cup butter or margarine, ½ cup sugar and 1-3 cup light cream, plus a dash of salt.

Melt butter in 1-quart saucepan on medium heat. Add sugar, cream and salt, and bring to boiling point. Lower heat and cook for 10 minutes.

Another recipe you might like requires more time but can be stored in the refrigerator for a week. This is how you make Orange Tang Custard Sauce: 3 teaspoons all-purpose flour; ½ cup sugar; dash of salt; 2 eggs slightly beaten; thin outside peel of one thick-skinned orange; 2 cups milk; 1 teaspoon vanilla extract.

Mix flour, sugar and salt in mixing bowl; add eggs and blend. Place orange peel with milk in 1-quart saucepan. Scald at high heat; remove peel. Gradually add scalded milk to egg mixture. Cook on medium heat, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens and coats spoon. Remove from heat, cool; add vanilla extract, and chill thoroughly in refrigerator before serving. Makes almost 3 cups sauce.

Junior High Patrons Plan Social Hour

Junior high school parents and teachers are invited to a social at 8 o'clock tomorrow night to be held in the Central Elementary cafeteria in the high school building.

Cecil Yarbrough, superintendent of Schools, will be guest speaker and refreshments are planned by the hospitality committee.

Mrs. James Melton is general chairman of arrangements.

Eldon Price, relief operator of the moving picture projection machines agrees with Crady.

"I believe the moving picture industry could do a good turn for the country if they showed training films free about once every two weeks to display the inevitable result of disobeying the laws of the land," Crady said.

UNIVERSITY WOMEN HONORED

Shown at the lawn party honoring members of the American Association of University Women Friday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Nolan von Roeder are, left to right, Mrs. O. M. Fowler, first vice president; Mrs. Von Roeder; Mrs. Lindy Clark, second vice president and co-hostess for the affair; Mrs. Charles Gregory, Mrs. Charles Crowson and Mrs. Charles Rogers. Mrs. Gregory, who was in charge of arrangements, and Mrs. Clark poured coffee from the camp fire. Tables were laid with dark green burlap clothes. Centerpiece featured deer antlers, pine and wild thistle, carrying out the camping theme. Mrs. Von Roeder showed movies of a Canadian hunt, after which guests were taken on a tour of his study where game trophies are displayed. (Staff Photograph.)

UN Delegates Startled Over Bootlegging Charges Brought

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Sept. 13 (AP)—U. N. diplomats, accustomed to hurling assorted brickbats at each other, were startled this week by a charge that large quantities of their tax-free liquor were being bootlegged to non-members of the international cocktail set.

The charge came from officials at a liquor dealers' convention in New York and was promptly denied by the diplomats. It served, however, to focus attention on two facets of diplomacy which have never been too popular with the man-in-the-street: privileges and entertainment.

One of the privileges granted diplomats everywhere is the right to import without taxation all the wines and liquors they need for entertainment purposes. It was in connection with the exercise of this privilege by U. N. delegates and top-ranking members of the U. N. Secretariat that the bootlegging charges arose.

The liquor dealers asserted the diplomats and U. N. officials could not possibly have used all the liquor they had bought — at least without being soused from morning until night. The Diplomats retorted they didn't drink it all themselves, that most of it was consumed by the many guests they entertained.

Secretary-General Trygve Lie commented:

"The United Nations has tax-free wines and liquors only for official receptions, luncheons, dinners, cocktail parties and other official entertainment given by the organization itself or by authorized officials as part of their duties on behalf of the organization.

"Out of more than 3,000 United Nations employees at headquarters, only 45 top-ranking officials may draw tax-free liquor for these purposes from the United Nations stock. Full taxes are paid on all alcoholic beverages sold by the bars in the Security Council and General Assembly lounges and the press bar. The whole system is carefully administered and I do not think it has been abused."

The 60 U. N. delegations get their liquor independently. Like the embassies in Washington, members with diplomatic privileges may buy tax-free wines and liquors once they are certified by the State Department to do so. They do not get their liquor through the United Nations, but from bonded warehouses of the New York State Liquor Authority.

The volume of such purchases varies from month to month, but figures for two recent months are typical. In July, 406 cases were issued to the U. N. and to 28 delegations. In August, 304 cases went to the U. N. and 26 delegations. These figures included both wines and liquors. A case holds two to three gallons, depending on bottle sizes.

There are no statistics available as to the entertaining done by individual delegations receiving this liquor, but some idea can be obtained from the amount spent by the U. S. delegation. A spokesman estimated that the average entertainment expense of the U. S. delegation for a year was about $15,000, not including any entertainment done by the delegation to the general Assembly. This amount covers luncheons and dinners as well as liquor costs. Incidentally, the U.S. delegation, being on its home grounds, does not get tax free liquor.

The U. N. budget for 1953 sets aside $162,000 for entertainment by individual officials and $20,000 more for the organization itself.

On the basis of these figures, the tax exemption on liquor runs into a substantial sum. The tax savings on wines vary, but on liquor the delegates and U. N. officials save federal and state levies totaling $9 to $12 a gallon, depending on potency.

These are the only tax exemptions granted to U. N. diplomats. U. S. officials say this country comes out ahead in the long run because the United States has more diplomats abroad than all these countries combined. Under reciprocal treatment, they are allowed to buy their entertainment liquors tax free. This, of course, is bought with taxpayers' money and it is thus the taxpayer who saves just as it is the taxpayer who loses through the tax exemptions granted foreign diplomats in ths country.

Mrs. Sweet Hostess For Tally Bridge Club

Mrs. Lester Sweet entertained the Tally Bridge Club Thursday at the Village.

Guests were Mrs. Doak Criss, Mrs. Waldeck and Mrs. W. W. Watts.

North, East P-TA Units Hold Open House, Meetings

East Elementary and North Elementary Parent - Teacher Associations met Thursday, and members of the East group honored parents and teachers at an open house and reception that night.

At the East school's open house, Ralph Wesson played the vibraharp. The Mother Singers presented musical numbers. G. Edward Bolger was master of ceremonies.

A tour of the building was conducted by O. S. Clark, principal of the school, after which refreshments were served to more than 150 guests in the school cafeteria. Cornucopia arrangements of nuts, fruits and leaves were on the yellow tables.

Special guests at the reception were Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Baker, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Boren, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Keaton and the Rev. and Mrs. Ronald Hubbard.

Earlier in the afternoon, Dr. Cecil Yarbrough, superintendent of schools, spoke to the association. His subject was "The Good World," and he named the P-TA as a milestone on the road of civilization. The membership drive was extended until next Friday. Prize for the classroom with most members present went to Miss Bess Johnston's room. Mrs. Amon Weaver presided, and Mrs. G. Edward Bolger was hospitality chairman.

Seventy members attended the North school's meeting when W. T. Falls, principal, gave the welcoming address and introduced teachers. Two numbers were sung by the Mother Singers, and readings were given by Miss Jane Hardin. Following group singing, refreshments were served in the school cafeteria. Gold chrysanthemums were arranged on a lace-covered table.

GALLUP POLL

Poll Finds One Democrat In Four For Eisenhower Today

By GEORGE GALLUP
Director, American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N.J., Sept. 13 — Besides holding virtually all of the regular Republican vote, General Eisenhower at this stage of the campaign is attracting a substantial number of Democrats to his camp.

One-fourth of the persons who say they voted for Truman, Wallace or Thurmond four years ago now say they are supporting the Eisenhower ticket rather than the Stevenson ticket, judging by reports from Institute interviewers throughout the country.

On the other hand, only about 6 per cent of those who say they voted for Dewey last time say they are planning to switch this year and support the Stevenson ticket.

While the Eisenhower managers will undoubtedly find comfort in this survey, a note of caution must be sounded:

Whether the 1948 Democratic voters who are now for Ike will stick with him to Election day is an open question.

Past experience indicates that a substantial number may return to the party they have habitually favored. Their final decision will undoubtedly depend on whether Eisenhower's campaign during the next six or seven weeks is more effective than Stevenson's with this group.

In conducting the survey the Institute asked all persons:

"If the presidential election were being held TODAY, which political party would you like to see win—the Republican party or the Democratic party?"

Here is the vote of those persons who four years ago cast their ballots for Truman, Wallace or Thurmond:

VOTING PREFERENCE OF 1948 DEMOCRATIC VOTERS

Supporting Democratic ticket today	69
Switching to Republican ticket today	25
Undecided	6

(Including those who voted for Truman, Wallace or Thurmond.)

These results include voters who either expressed a definite choice or indicated which side they "lean" toward today.

Division of Dewy Vote

The following table shows how people who voted for Dewey four years ago divide today:

VOTING PREFERENCE OF 1948 DEWEY VOTERS

Supporting Republican ticket today	90½
Switching to Democratic ticket today	6½
Undecided	3

The present opinions of a third group—those who did not vote in 1948 or who supported minor party candidates — were also analyzed.

They divide 43 per cent in favor of the Republican ticket today, 47 per cent in favor of the Democrats and 10 per cent undecided.

That so many former Democrats now lean toward Ike may be due to the fact that the General has been before the public eye for more than 10 years whereas Stevenson's personality and his views are still an unknown quantity to many voters. Intensive campaigning on Stevenson's part will undoubtedly chan this situation.

NATIONAL SCORE

For the nation as a whole, the Institute, as reported earlier, is finding Eisenhower slightly in the lead at present.

The last report gave him 51 per cent, to 43 per cent for Stevenson and 6 per cent undecided.

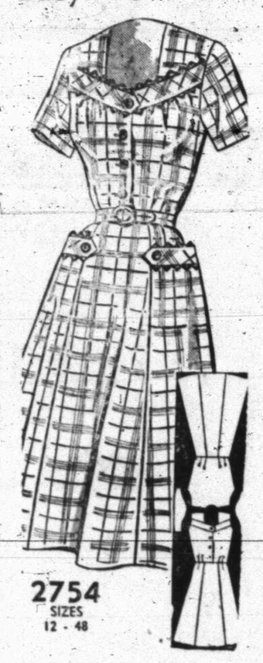

However, the majority of the undecided have been Democratic in the past.

If ALL 6 per cent of them end up in Stevenson's camp the present figures would be 51 per cent for Ike, 49 per cent for Stevenson.

Graft Banned In Dayton for Thirty Years

By RICHARD S. CHILDS
Chairman of the Council, National Municipal League

The first large city to adopt the Council-Manager plan of municipal government was Dayton, Ohio (pop. 10,000). When the new Dayton commission (council) took office in 1914, the members sought the man of outstanding ability for the manager's job. They chose City Engineer H. M. Waite of Cincinnati, who declined a $15,000 offer from a private corporation and went to Dayton for $12,500.

Many municipal services now taken for granted were pioneered by Dayton. Free nursing, free legal aid, a free employment bureau for women, a crime prevention bureau and other services were launched.

The manager found many ways to cut costs. Gas consumers found their bills halved when the city got natural gas at 34 cents to replace artificial gas at 85 cents. Unit costs were reduced all along the line through adequate controls. Garbage collection, for example was cut from $2.60 a ton to $1.60, a saving of 38 per cent. Another item cut was the work - day. Dayton's employees got the 8 - hour day long before other cities and private industry adopted it.

BENEFITS HAVE LASTED

All that happened in the first five years.

But the striking fact is that that standard of good government still persists in Dayton after 18 successive municipal elections without a lapse or interruption in 34 years.

Last year the city employed Griffenhagen Associates to survey the city services and suggest better techniques. Griffenhagen experts ransacked all departments for six months and offered some ideas. They also picked up one for themselves, for they volunteered this:

NO SIGN OF GRAFT

"The city has an honest administration. Not once in the course of our studies here has the staff encountered even the slightest indication to the contrary."

Few cities are as free of what is best understood under the label of political pressure."

During most of those 34 years Dayton has had as city manager Fred O. Eichelberger, promoted in 1921 from a job on his predecessor's staff. One day in 1946 he started for his office and discovered that Dayton was starting to celebrate "Eichelberger Day," the 25th anniversary of his induction as city manager. At flower-banked City Hall he was given a watch, a scroll, a handsome volume of letters of praise collected by the Chamber of Commerce and, of course, an earful of speeches.

What has happened in Dayton to the old cynical saying that a reform administration is never re-elected?

Here's the story: Each two years a citizens' committee of 10 to 50 persons with a gradually shifting membership gets together and sees to it that good candidates are brought into the field. The best men like to be asked to run. Then the committee signs and publishes its recommendations of candidates to the voters of Dayton, commonly supporting renewed terms for experienced incumbents if the latter can be induced to serve again.

A scatteration of other individual candidates appear and occasionaly get elected. Although the successive citizens' committees have disbanded promptly after each election and have never become a machine, their candidates have constituted a majority of the council for 34 years.

Next: The best governed city in America. For full information about the Council-Manager plan write the National Municipal League, 299 Broadway, New York 7, N.Y.

Suit Filed Here Over Death In Car Crash Killing G. C. Spence

A damage suit was filed in civil district court Friday for $158,116.44 plus cost of suit against the Canyon Trucking Corp. of Snyder.

The suit was filed by the law firm of Sentell, Rosser, and Willbern for Mrs. G. C. Spence and others in connection with a collision May 31 between a 1949 Plymouth sedan driven by the late G. C. Spence, manager of the Forrest Builders Supply, and a truck owned by the Canyon Trucking Corp. The accident which was two miles south of Ira on the Big Spring Highway, was fatal to Spence.

Guests Thursday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Graham, 407 Avenue L, were her sister, Mrs. John A. Roberts, Mr. Roberts and daughter, Margaret Sue, of Tahoka.

'The Last Supper' Is Slowly Decaying In Italian Monastery

(By The Associated Pr...)

MILAN — The life of Leonardo's famed "Last Supper" is going to be a short one, Prof. Luigi Crema, superintendent of monuments of Lombardy, has announced.

Some 150,000 persons every year ring the bell at the monastery of Santa Maria delle Grazie in Milan to see Leonardo's great masterpiece.

It is commonly called a fresco, but any art expert will tell you it is a tempera. The difference is that frescos are painted on damp mortar and the colors penetrate deep. Tempera is painted on a day wall. Its colors fade much faster.

Every attempt to preserve the painting for as long as possible is being made but very little is left of the beautiful work. The fifth centenary this year of Leonardo's birth has marked the beginning of the painting's last period.

The painting has decayed through the centuries. World War II gave it another blow. A group of bombs completely destroyed the roof and one of the walls of the dining hall of the monastery. When the friars inspected the damage and saw the wall of the "Last Supper" covered with dust and the roof's beams hanging down, they thought the painting was destroyed.

The painting, exposed to open air, absorbed humidity and dust for several seasons, and was covered by a thin and harmful layer of dirt. The wall itself, soaked in dampness, caused some concern.

While technicians and experts were trying to decide what to do, an extraordinary thing happened. After masons had rebuilt the roof and the wall, "The Last Supper" wall slowly dried up. The experts decided that the wall was not very damp after all, and the humidity had been absorbed by the 350-year-old painting when exposed to open air.

"The Last Supper" was then submitted to a first cleaning by restorer Prof. Mario Pelliccioli, and later, after an inspection by experts from the Education Ministry, to a second and more accurate cleaning.

The cleaning consists mostly in removing the dust from the numberless cracks produced by the centuries and the humidity, so that the painting will show its original colors—those which Leonardo painted.

To guarantee a dry temperature in the hall, the floor is fitted with insulating panels.

The "Last Supper" represents the most dramatic moment in Christ's last supper with his 12 disciples. It is the moment in which Christ says with lowered eyelids: "One of you will betray me."

To these words all the Apostles express indignation and astonishment. Only one withdraws as though struck by a thunderbolt—Judas.

From the expression of Christ's infinite resignation to the varying expressions of the Apostles and the landscape beyond them, everything was painted with utmost care.

But, ironically, this masterpiece of art and thought was born with a flaw. And because of that its life will be shorter than if it had been made according to rule.

The plaster used by Leonardo in Santa Maria delle Grazie began to shift soon after it was completed for unknown causes. The result was a continued cracking of the colors.

Toward the middle of the 16th century the painters noted this and started a work of restoration. It was useless. In addition, all remedies used by ancient painters appeared to be more harmful than beneficient.

Finally, the "Last Supper" was restored with oil paints. The drawing and the original colors by Leonardo were respected faithfully but the oil, which Leonardo did not use in his tempera, made the painting heavier.

In 1908 Cavenaghi restored the painting completely. He worked for over one year during which he removed all the oil which had been put over the painting and revealed Leonardo's original tempera. Unfortunately, it was seriously cracked and had disappeared completely in some parts.

But technicians and connoisseurs agreed that it was much better to see the original painting, even if incomplete rather than a complete retouching by scores of unknown artists. The same idea guides the present cleaning work.

Building Drops In State

AUSTIN, Sept. 13 (AP)—Texas construction awards plummetted to $8,531,909 this week, a drop of more than 18 million dollars from the previous week.

The Texas Contractor, building trade magazine, reported residential lettings totaling $3,693,500 nonresidential, $2,270,533, and engineering, $1,557,876.

Isolated from the United States by land, this is part of a six-square-mile area that adjoins Canada but is separated from the rest of the state of Washington by water.

Isolated Community Gets Both Canadian and U. S. Dollars

(By The Associated Press)

POINT ROBERTS, Wash. — The Icelandic people of this geographically freak community — 6 square miles cut off altogether by land from the United States — are strong supporters of Uncle Sam.

But their pockets are lined with Canadian dollars as the population this summer has been largely Canadian. And merchants and resort owners rejoice, exchangewise, as Dominion greenbacks are worth more than United States dollars for the first time in many years.

Geography and an old treaty created this unusual Northwestern Washington community. When the United States - British treaty of 1850 settled the boundary dispute between the two countries along the 49 th parallel, Point Roberts, a little nubbin of land sticking down into the Strait of Georgia below the parallel, was cut off. Canada lies adjacent to the north.

But loyalty to the United States remains. Community leaders say that if you suggest substituting Canada's maple leaf for the bald eagle you'll get told off in a hurry.

Community boosters such as Egbert A. Bruns, store and restaurant proprietor, also pooh-pooh what many call handicaps to Point Roberts.

Her 15 school children above the fourth grade must travel more than 60 miles a day through Canada to attend classes in Blaine, in Washington State.

Her 16 miles of roads haven't received Washington state funds. They can't be tied in with the rest of the state highway system.

Freight rates and customs restrictions prohibit farm prosperity. Food and other supplies come by bonded truck over the round-about 56-4-mile route from Bellingham, Wash.

And finally, although some of the richest fishing grounds in northwest waters lie just off shore in the path of the big sockeye salmon runs to Canada's Fraser River, Point Roberts benefits little. There is no harbor, and seiners are supplied and relieved of their fish by tenders from Belingham or Anacortes.

It was the fishing which first attracted the Icelanders—many of whom had settled in Canada—to the point almost 60 years ago. Today nine out of 10 of the approximately 260 year - round residents are of Icelandic descent. One of them, Asta Norman, 69-year-old farmwoman, is a painter of note. She has studied in Germany and received medals.

In an old cemetery, whose graves are appropriately covered with Iceland poppies, are stones bearing names of old Icelandic families such as Linbjorg Simundson, Groa Magnusdotter and Gustav J. T. Iwerson.

A glance at the map shows how available Point Roberts is to Canadians. The Vancouver area is only 18 air miles away and Ladner and New Westminister are closer. On a recent Sunday, Deputy Walter C. Davis at the U.S. port of customs entry, reported 2,596 cars brought 11,196 persons across the boundary line. Of some 250 or more cabins and summer homes, about 70 per cent are Canadian owned.

As an added attraction, a new horse-racing oval built last year now has well - attended thoroughbred racing every Sunday during the summer.

More Hay Ordered, None Has Arrived Here Yet

Orders for hay from the Production and Marketing Administration office are still slacking off as only three carloads of the feed was ordered from the state PMA office yesterday.

Up to date the tons total 444 for Snyder and 83 for Hermleigh with the large majority of the orders requesting legume hay. The first carload is expected "certainly by the first of next week," according to Irelan Finley, PMA officer.

Biggest Budget In County's History Is Planned For 1953

The largest budget ever drawn for Scurry County, listing proposed expenditures to total $1,530,091.96, was adopted by the commissioners court Monday.

This budget is for 1953 and exceeds the current budget by about $19,000. The new budget is based on a county-wide valuaton estimate of $120 million although the exact valuation has not yet been determined, whereas the current budget was based on an estimated valuation of $110 million. The 1952 valuation was later determined at $114,207,131.

TAX RATE

The tax rate on which the 1953 budget is based is $1.10 per each $100 of the county's valuation. The new rate is five cents lower than the present rate. This tax rate will give the county an assessment total estimated at $1,320,000, of which it is estimated that 90 per cent will be collected, this amounting to $1,188,000. Other monies for the $1,530,091 budget are to come from partial collection of more than $75,000 in delinquent taxes, balances expected to be in the funds at the close of the present year, court fines, fees, and about $4,000 in oil production from the county's two wells. Balances expected in the various funds at the end of 1953 are listed to total $123,903.80, making a total of $1,653,995.77 in expenditures and balances for the new year.

TAX ALLOCATION

Of each $1.10 the taxpayer pays the county, 58 cents will go for operation of the county, and 52 cents will be used for retirement of bonded indebtedness. Of the 58 cents for operation, the jury fund will get two cents, road and bridge funds 20 cents, general fund 24 cents, and the permanent improvement fund 12 cents. Receipts for the officers salary fund are to come from fees.

Of the $1,188.00 estimated to be collected from the tax assessment, $537,945 is to be used for retirement of bonded indebtedness. On the principal of the indebtedness, $446,500 of that amount will be applied, and $97,445 will be paid in interest during the year. Other receipts and balances expected to be carried over from the present year are to furnish additional amounts sufficient for the interest and sinking fund expenditures which are listed at a total of $564,107.

JURY FUND

Jury fund expenditures are budgeted to total $21,436.2[illegible] a vast decrease from the estimated $85,488.25 of this year, but this year's figure includes a [illegible],000 from the fund for the county hospital project. The budget also lists $10,000 as estimated expenditure for tax valuations from this fund for the 1952 year, whereas none is listed in this column for the 1953 year. The largest figure in the jury fund expense is a total of $1[illegible],236 for district court.

Road and bridge funds are budgeted to total $382,400 in expenditures and $[illegible],264 in balances at the end of the budget year. There are five funds: a special road and bridge fund and four commissioner precinct road and bridge funds, but ficures of the special fund are included in budgeting the funds of the precincts.

PRECINCT FUNDS

Resources for precinct No. 1 road fund are estimated at $91,294.90 [illegible] the estimated balance at the beginning of the year. Expenditures are estimated at $89,600, and the balance estimated for the end of 1953 is listed at $1,694.90.

The balance expected in the fund of precinct No. 2, at the start of the year is $956.52, bringing the total resources expected to $91,956.52. Expenditures are budgeted at $91,000, leaving an expected balance of $976.52 at the end of the budget year.

Precinct No. 3 resources are estimated at $91,612.61, including the $612.61 expected to be carried over from the present year. The budget provides for expenditures totaling $91,200 and a balance of $412.[illegible] at the end of 1953.

The biggest road and bridge figures are for precinct No. 4. Total resources are expected to be $110,779.99 with $779.99 of this the beginning balance. Expenditures are estimated at $110,600, leaving $179.99 as an expected balance.

Expenditures estimated for three of the four precincts are increases over the amounts estimated to have been spent in 1952. Precinct No. 1 jumps from $72,000 to $89,600, No. 2 from $65,680 to $91,000, No. 4 from $92,830 to $110,600, but No. 3 decreases from $93,627 to $91,200.

GENERAL FUND

Total resources for the general fund are to total $289,590.96, of which $4,115.96 is expected to be carried over from this year. County clerk fees are to provide $20,000 and taxes $259,200, the rest from other fees. Expenses through this fund are $85,030 for commissioners court, the biggest of its items being $65,000 valuation engineering fee; $9,405 county clerk's office, $[illegible],225 for the auditor's office, $10,218 for assessor - collector's office, $705 for the treasurer's office, $56,345 for building maintenance, $1,495 for miscellaneous, $7,700 for court expense, $13,400 for the sheriff's office, $7,675 for jail maintenance, $5,840 for pauper care, $13,426 for health and sanitation, $1,500 for agriculture, and $50,000 for capital outlay. The capital outlay total is [illegible] over the present year, but other figures of the general fund are virtually the same as those for this year. None of these include salaries in the offices.

Expenses to be paid from the permanent improvement fund are to total $134,060 and the balance expected at the end of next year is $326.66, the total of both equaling the resources estimated at $134,386.66, of which $4,786.66 is expected to be carried over from this year.

SALARIES

Resources for the officers salary fund are to total $161,738.80, including the expected balance of $54,634.19 to be carried over from this year. Expenditures are to amount to $159,123.82, leaving a balance of $2,614.98 at the end of next year.

Totals of all salaries in the various county offices are: assessor-collector, $31,201.20; district clerk $[illegible],537.20; county clerk, $21,795.64; sheriff, $21,072.68; county judge, $9,936.90; county attorney, $9,475.40; justices of peace, $7,688.40; treasurer, $9,475.40; commissioners court, $18,343.40; auditor's office, $10,306.80; home demonstration office, $1,781.04; county agent, $5,[illegible]; district attorney, $2,719.92. These figures include expenses paid some officers with their salaries and also include salaries of all clerks and deputies. For a few of the offices, the figures include the county's portion of their pay, the rest coming either from federal or state sources. Practically all figures of this fund are the same as this year's.

REPORT TO PARENTS

Recovering From Polio Is Long, Trying Process

By Dr. MARTHA M. ELIOT

Now that the summer is almost over, the annual upward spiral of new cases of poliomyletis soon will begin to level off again.

When we no longer see the frightening headlines which report new outbreaks of infantile paralysis, we tend to forget the long period of convalescence which polio sufferers must undergo before they can regain at least partial use of muscles which may have been weakened by the onslaughts of the disease.

It is during this period that doctors, nurses, therapist, medical social workers, parents—all those who have a share in caring for the polio patient—are doing their utmost to help him attain the maximum rehabilitation of which he is capable.

Naturally, the doctor has a continuing role to play in helping a child regain the use of his body after an attack of polio. But much of the care of such a convalescent child will be by allied professional workers in the health field, in cooperation with the child's parents.

The nurse may help plan the child's schedule so that not only does he get needed physical care, but also develops interests which he can follow while his body grows strong again.

The physical therapist can train the child in such things as walking, climbing stairs, or in any other activity that will give him a feeling of physicial independence. The physical therapist undertakes this training on the basis of an evaluation of the child's progress in using his muscles and his ability to move around.

The occupational therapist also can help the child develop better use of his muscles, primarily his hands, by such activities as leatherwork or weaving.

While the child recovering from poliomyletis is in a hospital or convalescent home, the medical social worker keep a flow of information going between the child and his parents, reassures the anxious and unhappy child, answers the parents' questions and helps them to secure needed services from community agencies, and to plan for the further care and rehabilitation of the child when the doctor decides he may return to his own home.

Any one of these professional workers may be called upon either by the child or his parents to help them understand what is being done, or to explain such a thing as why a brace, or some other supporting appliance, is needed in order either to help the child move about or regain use of his muscles more speedily.

Through all this process, of course, the parents can give the child the warm feeling that he is wanted, and the security he needs to pass through an experience which is bound to have its irksome and anxious aspects.

Recovering from poliomyletis is not a simple process. Certainly, enough trained workers in a number of professional fields to help children with these and other crippling conditions are needed in every community.

Cosmic Ray Water Pistols Are Hot Items On Dealer Toy Lists

You can sell an adult a car that may not be exactly what he wants, but you can't sell a kid a toy gun with a barrel that isn't just the right length.

The Roy Rogers fan will shop all over town or order the gun before he will take one that wasn't built exactly to Roy's specifications. Guns still outsell dolls and marbles, according to the Snyder dealers. As a result more are being ordered for Christmas, but the smallfry have already bought out a "cosmic ray" water pistol.

Something new is toothbrush and toothpaste sets for kids that have been selling like mad, "but mostly to the mothers," the saleslady emphasizes.

TRAIN ANNOUNCER

Electric trains seem to be a favorite every year, and Snyder merchants, anticipating this, have doubled their orders for the 1951 Christmas season. Likewise, they also expect a large supply of train accessories. One new accessory is a station from which a gravel-voiced announcer yells the departure of trains.

Aluminum and steel toys are coming into their own, although the initial price is much higher than the plastic ones cost. However, plastic is being incorporated more into all toy making. It has even been substituted for wood in the stocks of air guns that shoot B-B pellets.

The consumer will get more for his money in toys this Christmas. Better materials are being put into the playthings, or prices have been slightly cut.

SCIENTIFIC

Even selling toys is becoming scientific. The manufacturers figure what age the largest percentage of children are and divert most toy making toward that age group. The toys for kids from one to three years old sell the most consistently all year around, a Snyder merchant states.

The newest toys out are the dolls that are dressed like nursery rhyme characters. These don't laugh, cry or walk but just look pretty, which is what most little girls demand, the dealers say.

Manufacturers are evidently realizing the importance of personal grooming for every doll this year. Most dolls come equipped with plastic curlers or other methods of beautification. A dealer here noted that one of his little plastic girls was getting a bit shopworn and promptly took her to the hairdressers for a new wave set.

The toy oil derricks aren't expected to be the favorites they were two years ago when the drillers were in Snyder, one dealer reports. But no doubt the toy that unloads 5-minute barrels will be just as popular with the younger crowd.

A former Snyderite, Miss Kay Weber, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Weber of Abilene, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Kerby Tatum at their home in Parkway Addition.
