Water, sewer, garbage rate increases discussed

The rates and fees which are charged for services are being investigated as the city councilmen are faced with looming landfill costs.

At Tuesday nights meeting the water usage rates, sewer rates and garbage pick-up rates were all discussed as possible ways to combat the increasing expenses of the city.

The following proposals were mentioned by City Manager Buddy Foster as methods to raise revenue:

-Water usage rates: Raising the rate after the minimum bill from $1.50 to $2 per 1000 gallons in town and from $1.60 to $2.10 per 1000 gallons outside the city limits.

This rate increase was estimated to raise revenue of approximately $132,000.

Budget hearing held

A public hearing on the City of Colorado City's $3.1 budget for the coming fiscal year was held on Tuesday evening at City Hall.

City Manager Buddy Foster told the councilmen and a group of citizens who came to the meeting that the city's budget was estimated to have revenues of $3,155,419 with projected expenses of $3,102,928.

These figures indicate that the city will have excess funds at the end of the year of $52,491.

Projections for the general fund show revenues at $1,521,339 and expenses in the amount of $1,521,339. See BUDGET, page 2

High school campus to enter building project

The trustees of the Colorado Independent School District (ISD) approved a plan and will seek bids on an estimated $216,000 project to provide a lab addition to be constructed at the Colorado High School campus.

Engineer designs of the project have been made to provide for a 24-student biology lab to be built adjoining the building which houses the band/homemaking sections of instruction.

Tommy Huckabee and Paul Svacek of the engineering firm Huckabee and Donham, met with school board members and high school science instructors Walt Staats and Joanne Sanderson to discuss the plans for the project.

The trustees of the Colorado ISD have been told that the need for more science classroom space has become necessary because:

-The number of freshmen which will be coming to the high school campus in the near future is increasing. Next year there are projected to be 108 freshmen at the campus.

High speed chase leads to one arrest

Colorado City Police Department officers were involved in a high-speed chase that occurred early Saturday morning and ended in Robert Lee with the arrest of a Sweetwater man.

Errbay Galindo, Jr., 19, of Sweetwater, was charged with driving while intoxicated and evading arrest and the two passengers of the vehicle were given citations for public intoxication and released to their parents.

The Police Department received a call at 1:04 a.m. on Saturday morning, notifying them of a suspicious car at the G-Kell Building, said Sergeant Tim Atkins.

Officers George Oliver and Jeff Dever responded to the call and came across a vehicle on the interstate 20 access road, near the Wood's Boot location.

The chase started from that point and turned with the 1970 GMC pickup turning around and heading down through town at speeds

Scheduling changes will be discussed by CISD personnel

The parents of Colorado Independent School District (ISD) students in grades 5 through 11 are invited to attend a community meeting to discuss the 'block' schedule at 7 p.m. on Tuesday, April 21, in the CHS auditorium.

Curriculum Facilitator Kitten Arthur has provided the following information on the proposed scheduling change.

The scheduling changes for the 1992-1993 school year proposed by the Colorado Middle School (CMS) and Colorado High School (CHS) are innovative and progressive and are aimed at improving student/teacher morale and student retention rates.

The many Texas schools which have adopted the 'block' schedule record higher test scores, lower failure rates, lower absenteeism and increased student/teacher morale. None of the schools have returned to the former schedules after piloting the block schedule.

The proposed new schedule has been thoroughly researched by committees from both schools comprised of teachers, administrators, students, parents and board members since last fall.

Recently, a delegation from CMS visited Elgin Middle School near Austin and a committee from CHS visited Tahoka High School near Lubbock. Both visiting teams returned to their prospective schools enthused and confident that a block schedule would enhance education in the Colorado ISD.

What is a block schedule? Basically the block schedule offers four one-hour-and-twenty-five minute classes on a rotating basis.

A student would have eight total classes, but would meet in only four per day on alternate days. The entire block rotation would complete its cycle in two weeks, then it would begin again.

For example: A student might attend band, English, math and art on 'A' schedule, which would meet on Monday, Wednesday and Friday of the first week and then Tuesday and Thursday of the following week. That same student would then meet for science, history, athletics and fine arts on 'B' schedule days, which would be Tuesday and Thursday of the first week and then Monday, Wednesday and Friday of the following week.

The proposed bell schedule for the CMS and CHS campuses is: See CHANGES, page 2

"Career Day" is successful

The inaugural 'Career Day' event, that gives Colorado High School (CHS) students the opportunity to spend two half-days as part of the work force has been deemed a success.

Colorado Independent School District, the Colorado City Area Chamber of Commerce and the community sponsored the program and presented the opportunity to the high school seniors.

Fifty-nine CHS students were assigned business sponsors to find out more about the employment fields which they are interested in pursuing after the completion of their schooling.

Initial comments received from the businesses who participated in the program reported positive comments, noting the students attitudes and enthusiasm for what they were learning.

Students filled out information sheets listing their employment goals and were assigned to one of the 32 businesses which represented a total of 15 different professions including: automotive, business offices, child psychology, church, communications, computer, construction, criminal justice, funeral industry, game warden, government, law practise, medical, social work and technical engineering.

The program was designed to allow students to work at a business in the field of their first career goal, said Colorado ISD curriculum facilitator Kitten Arthur.

With the response that the business community made, she said, all the seniors were placed in a business that matched what they chose as their first career goal.

The support of the local business was commended, "We had more businesses volunteer to let students come into their work-place than we had a demand for," said Chamber executive director Jay McCollum.

3:10-3:40 p.m.	Free Private Lessons	3:10-3:40 p.m.	Free Private Lessons

The following is a list of probable questions and answers which concern the block scheduling:

- How do athletics and band fit into this schedule?
Tentatively 7th grade athletics, boys and girls, will be during 3rd period; 8th grade athletics will be during 7th period. Freshman athletics at the high school will be first period; and junior varsity and varsity at 8th period.
This schedule provides several advantages: (1) there will be no facility conflicts, especially during basketball season, (2) several coaches from high school will be available to work with the two middle school coaches during the CMS athletic periods, thus reducing the student/coach ratio, and (3) there will be no early morning practice for 7th grade athletics.
Band will be basically the same format, with CMS band offered 8th period and the CHS band offered 4th period. Both band directors will work with both bands.
This arrangement will strengthen athletic and band programs by increasing the number of instructors and providing continuity from 7th to 12th grades.
- Aren't the classes rather long?
Yes, they are longer, but the length allows more flexibility in teaching strategies to be utilized. More field trips, labs, video presentations and 'think time' are provided by this schedule.
- Won't my child forget if he/she doesn't go every day?
No research from any district supports this concern. Students willingly adjust because they have two nights to complete assignments and if they are absent one day, they have missed lessons for only 4 classes rather than 7 or 8.
- What about skills classes like beginning Spanish or typing, which need every-day practice?
Those teachers contacted from other districts expressed little concern in this area. Student retention did not decrease.
- What about credits for graduation? Will this hurt my child who has been under the old system?
No change in credits for graduation will take place this year. By adding an additional class (from 7 to 8), however, those students who need more credits will be able to get them.
- How will this affect elective courses?
The eight-period block schedule will only strengthen our elective courses, because students will have much greater flexibility with their schedule.
- What are 'free private lessons' (FPL)?
The FPL period (from 3:10-3:40 p.m.) will be a required time for those students who are failing any subject. Any student who needs to conference with a teacher, catch up on homework, or work on a class project, could utilize this time if the student chooses. The actual instructional day will end at 3:05 p.m. if a student is passing all classes.
- What about bus schedules?
No change will be made in bus schedules.
- What does a bus student do if they do not need to attend FPL from 3:10-3:40 p.m.?
Students who do not go home at 3:05 p.m., may attend a supervised study hall or remain outside under supervision.

-Sewer rates: Raising the residential rates from $8 to $10 and commercial rates from $10 to $12 would raise revenue in the amount of approximately $22,000.

--Garbage pick-up rates: Raising the fee from $12 to $15 would increase revenue by approximately $72,000.

These three ordinances would increase the city's revenue by about $150,000, said Mayor Jim Baum, who noted that the city was facing rate increases mainly in an effort to cover rising mandated landfill regulations.

The councilmen approved raising the fees charged at Fisher Park, in an effort to make the park self-sufficient.

Costs charged for use of the park will now be $20 for the annual fee, $1 daily fee, $4 camping fee and $10 for camp-site with electricity.

▶ BUDGET

$1,521,091 and the water and sewer fund report calculates revenue of $1,030,200 and expenses of $965,537.

The council compared the budget of the previous year with the proposed budget and noted that the revenue went up $62 thousand while expenses rose $82 thousand in the general fund; revenue went up $64 thousand and expenses went up $35 thousand in the water and sewer fund.

Foster told the council that the revenue figures were calculated by using the fee increases which have been studied by the council as a method to raise money for the needed expenses of the city's departments.

No official action was taken in regards to the implementation of the budget at Tuesday's meeting.

CHS one-act play to compete at regionals

Colorado High School's 1992 one act play, PICNIC by William Inge, is continuing the school's winning theatrical tradition. After having won at the district level (on March 28), for a fifth consecutive year, this year's production won again at the area competition last Saturday in Kermit. This is the fourth year in a row that a Colorado High School play will compete at the regional meet in Odessa.

Besides winning at the area contest, the cast of PICNIC brought home the top acting honors of the contest. Of the eight members of all the All Star Cast, five are from the cast of Picnic. They are Elizabeth Pratt Walker, Jay Kay, Nedra Shonia Walthall, Austin Barber, and Ruben Hurt. Colorado High's Julie Hammond was named Best Actress of the contest.

The other play to advance with Colorado High was Sonora High School's production of THE MARRIAE OF FIGARO by Beaumarchais. Sonora's production garnered the Best Actor award, two All Star Cast members, and three Honorable Mention acting awards.

San Elizario High School presented Edmond Rostand's THE ROMANCERS and was awarded three Honorable Mentions for acting. ASHES, ASHES, ALL FALL DOWN was Alpine High School's offering and earned one member on the All Star Cast and two Honorable Mentions.

Colorado High and Sonora High will compete at the Regional contest on Friday, April 24 at Odessa High School. The other four plays will be TARTUFFE from Canyon High School, HAMLET presented by Muleshoe High School, THE FOREIGNER produced by Graham High School, and a second presentation of TARTUFFE comes from Dripping Springs High School near Austin. Colorado High's PICNIC will be the first of the six plays to be presented with a curtain time of 10:00 a.m.

Carl Moore is directing PICNIC, and the cast includes Julie Hammond as Madge Owens; Jay Kay as Hal Carter; Christopher Sanchez as Bomber Gutzel; Angela Ornelas as Millie Owens; Elizabeth Pratt Walker as Flo Owens; Nedra Shonia Walthall as Rosemary Sydney; Austin Barber as Alan Seymour; Julie McElvaney as Helen Potts; Audra McAnally as Irma Kronkite; Cretia Caye Carpenter as Christine Schoenwalder, and Ruben Hurt as Howard Bevans. Tammy Ceballos is the Assistant Director and Stage Manager, Chris Payne is the Technical Director, and the stage crew consists of Christopher Lynch, Cindy Newman, Sally Cain, Dylan Moore, Crystal Crawford, and Talva Hurt.

CONVERSATION CORNER

...BY BARBIE LELEK, 728-8051

I saw Auta Doss being interviewed by KTXS TV the other day. I wonder who else in C-City made the news?

Anita Howell has several beautiful grandchildren, of whom she is very proud. Ask her about her newest grandson.

Yea!!! Hooray!!! We got the prison! I asked my husband, Tim if that meant we would grow so much that we would have to be put into a higher class in sports. He said, No, but doesn't it feel so good to think about Colorado City growing!

Delores Gilstrap had a booth at the B & PW Spring Arts and Crafts Fair, she was selling crocheted BARBIE gowns that were really gorgeous.

The students in town got to breathe a short sigh of relief as the Achievement Testing was over, but following too soon were their six weeks tests which they have been taking all week.

The children of Mothers Day Out took a field trip to the Museum last week. I know they enjoyed seeing all the interesting things on display. The high point of their visit came when Mable Merritt took each child inside the caboose. They were impressed at seeing where the people used to sleep, sit and eat. I think I might need to visit our Museum sometime soon.

Chris Chambers had some huge shoes to fill as he portrayed Jesus in the pageant which was presented at the park.

First Baptist Church of Westbrook presented a play entitled His Wonderous Love. The cast was filled by the Acteens, G A's and R A's who made the death, burial, resurrection and ascension of Jesus Christ very real and touching to those who were in attendance.

The Holy Week services have been very good. There are still a couple of days left (if you are reading this Wednesday) if you haven't gotten a chance to go. If you work you can take advantage of a free lunch at 11:30 or at 12:30. There is a short service beginning at noon that I'm sure you will find interesting, as it pertains to the week before Jesus' death.

As you drive to and from work, or you are out and about this week take a moment to see all the beautiful Bluebonnets that are everywhere. They are really pretty this year!

My sister Lanna Reeves had some good words of wisdom that I'm sure many of you can agree with. "Where two or more are gathered there is a coffee pot!"

My apologies to Cheryl Hoyle whose name I misspelled last week!

Words of Wisdom: Life is valleys and peaks so you have to enjoy the peaks to get you through the valleys.

LORAINE PERSONALS

...BY LOIS PHILLIPS

Spring is really on hand now with all the yard work going on, such as weed hoeing, mowing, green grass and flowers blooming. Everything is beautiful. Our park is really pretty this time of year and lots of people especially kids really do enjoy it. Parents come late in the afternoon to bring their kids for ball practice then stay and help train the kids how to catch a ball, use the bat and run the bases. I really like the idea of people helping each other.

I don't want to forget the prison we are getting with all the jobs it will open up in our county. It will help us a lot since a lot of other business have closed down. We need to thank all the people who worked so hard on it. Especially those from our end of the county. They are Chrystene Hall, Dorothy Fowler, Bill and Ann Preston who represented Loraine in a good way. We are very proud of you. I hope everybody who needs a job gets one.

Be sure to vote in November and represent our part of the county. We need to be alert as to what is going on in government as much as we can. So be sure you have your say in what happens, then maybe things will get better. We know, of course we live in the best county already so lets make it better and not let it slide backward.

Mildred Sartain of Georgia had open heart surgery last week and is doing fine. You will remember her as Mildred Little wife of the late Roy Little. They lived here several years before Roy died. She then moved to Georgia to be close to her daughter. She is Mrs. Virgil Parnell's sister also sister of the Herm brothers.

Mr. and Mrs. Parvin Scarbrough and daughter Wanda Jean of Artesia, New Mexico, came last Thursday to visit his sister Gladys Payne. Otho Scarbrough of Colorado City also came to visit with them. He is also a brother.

Mara Lee Nickels of West Texas came last week to visit her mother Mary Coffee. She brought a couple of daughters with her, they are Sally Carson of Terry, Texas, and Debbie Bridgeford of Hewitt, Texas.

The Mayes sisters and their company dined at the Cree Mee for lunch. They are Mattie, Mary, Jennie and Hazel of Loraine.

Saw Liz Mayes with a little boy who looked just like his dad at his age. He's so cute and his dad is Tommy Brown.

The next day I saw her with a beautiful little girl so you know Doyle and Liz had fun last week.

I told you about getting a note asking that Robert Bruce's birthday be put in the paper and I did just that. Last Saturday, Bob called to thank me and the "Little Bird" who told me. He said he got cards and letters, flowers and phone calls from a lot of people, some he had not heard from for years. He was simply delighted over this and so was I. I really enjoy making folks happy.

Bob's wife is not well. He says she had a stroke a while back and requires a lot of attention.

Mr. T.L. Holman had a stroke last week, but I failed to get a report on him. I hope he is much better. He needs your prayers.

The Aaron Clark family have moved to Loraine to the Trout house. I believe they have two children in school.

Lou and Carrie Sanderson have bought the Hershell Williams house North of town and moved there. They both work at Hendrick Memorial Hospital in Abilene. I have been told. They also have children in school. Both of the ladies are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Epperson.

Gus & Iva Armstrong had company Sunday. They were old time friends from work years ago. In fact they were neighbors of the Armstrongs for a long time and are still good friends. Nice don't you think.

Some friends of the late Mr. and Mrs. Schwimers found out that their daughter Dorothy, was coming to Loraine for a visit and was real thrilled about it. Loree Cranfil Musick, of Midland arranged to see that she has friends on hand to visit. She called the right people. When she called Junior and Dorothy Green. They got it all together with cake, punch and flowers on a very lovely table.

Dorothy now lives in Golden of Gishie Hazin, Isreal. Her parents are both buried in Isreal. Dorothy still lives there and was on her way to visit a daughter in Florida. Dorothy's husband was with her.

This event took place in the Lions Club. Former class mates, with their spouses and friends came to the party and enjoyed it very much, taking pictures and visiting with old and new friends, doing what friends when they see each other after all these years.

Mr. and Mrs. Schwimer had a grocery store in our town when Dorothy was small and in school. I don't remember how long they lived here. This story is exciting just thinking about it if you knew those very nice Jewish family. They had lots of friends.

Those attending were Grady and Elnora Mitchell, Helen Faulkenberry Griffin of Roscoe, Mary L. Beights Lanfried of Roscoe, Loree Cranfil Music of Midland, Royce and Meysa Lefevre Beights of Loraine.

Also Hubert and Nina Meadows, Doyce Lee, T.J. and Dorothy Green, Margaret Mahon and Julia Tart Green of Loraine.

Thanks Julia for the story and Lorie Cranfill and a special thanks to Jr. and Dorothy Green. It was a good deed well done to make Dorothy's dreams and memories come true from Isreal back to the growing up years here. I hope Dorothy will come back soon and stay longer.

National Lab Week Apr. 12-18

"We'll have to send this to the lab."

Those words are heard over and over, every hour of every day, at every hospital, medical and physician's office in the country. And the truth is, before there was such a place as a "lab" where medical personnel could send tissue, cell, or fluid samples for analysis, much medical diagnosis had to be done on the basis of an educated guess.

Medical personnel now depend on the intricate, sophisticated detective work performed by trained laboratory personnel, not only to determine the exact cause of a patient's illness, but also to determine the extent to which a prescribed medication is helping to alleviate the problem. The quality of medical care would be far below its current standard if it were not for the dedicated personnel who make up the medical laboratory staff, and yet, often their efforts seem unappreciated and unrecognized.

Despite these drawbacks, however, the vast majority of the special breed of people who choose a career in the medical laboratory are dedicated, conscientious professionals who are quietly content in their own awareness of the importance of their role in the battle against pain and illness.

Laboratory personnel perform tests and interpret results involving varying degrees of difficulty and responsibility, partly according to the size of facility where they are employed, and partly according to their level of education.

Medical Technologists, for example, have a four-year college degree in medical technology or a related field. In a large hospital, they might specialize in clinical chemistry, blood bank technology, cytotechnology, hematology, histology, microbiology, or immunology. In a smaller hospital, however, the medical technologist might require sufficient skill and knowledge to perform in all these fields.

Some medical technologists perform and analyze physician-ordered tests. Others conduct research, supervise and manage laboratories, teach, or provide consultation for physicians regarding their own office laboratories.

Mitchell County Hospital can boast of the very best and most highly qualified members of the medical laboratory profession, and during National Medical Laboratory Week, April 12 through 18, a special salute goes out to all of them.

Margaret Munoz of Loraine is the current laboratory supervisor. She has been part of the team of Mitchell County Hospital since 1985, when she earned her degree from Shannon West Texas Memorial School of Medical Technology.

Connie Simpson has been a Mitchell County Hospital laboratory technician for the past seven years. Prior to that she was employed at Colorado City's Doctor's Clinic, and she had 17 years of experience as a laboratory and X-ray technician in the panhandle area before moving to Colorado City.

Medical Technologists Janet Carter is employed on a part-time basis at the Mitchell County Hospital Laboratory. Her bachelor of science degree was earned from the University of Texas Medical Branch in Galveston, and she has worked in a big city hospital, a reference laboratory, a research lab, a physician's allergy laboratory, and even as a laboratory supply sales representative. She enjoys Mitchell County Hospital's laboratory because she is not limited to a single field, but can become involved in all aspects of the laboratory.

Ben Bell, the previous laboratory supervisor, retired in January, 1992 after working at Mitchell County Hospital since July, 1969. Since his retirement he has been providing his services as a consultant, assisting laboratory personnel with the preparation for a Medicare inspection covering the more numerous and stringent laboratory regulations which have been recently adopted. The laboratory, thanks to Bell and all the other dedicated personnel, has recently passed that very detailed and difficult inspection.

This year's theme for National Medical Laboratory Week is "Our Mission: Your Good Health." Those fortunate enough to have access to Mitchell County Hospital can certainly rest assured that the personnel in the laboratory, faceless no more, we hope, are quite competent and qualified to achieve that mission.

MOST ATHLETIC: Colorado High School seniors Rosemary Rosas and Mark Monroe were recognized by the student body as the 'Most Athletic.' The awards were presented as part of the annual 'Howl Night' ceremonies.

CHIEF LONE WOLF

You never had a chance to meet James Townsend. He lived around Colorado City in the 1880's.

He was a stagecoach robber!

Back in December of 1886, there was a morning stage that ran from Colorado, Texas, to San Angelo. It was known as the San Angelo Mail Stage and it was not known to carry strongboxes of money.

In fact, the stage didn't even have an armed guard. And that's probably why the stagecoach driver (his name is lost to posterity, unfortunately), was caught flatfooted.

Just a mile south of Colorado City, Townsend suddenly appeared and ordered the driver to stop. (If the driver had disobeyed the highwayman, we might know his name).

Alas, then, as now, men preferred to save their own skin, rather than be dead heroes.

Townsend made the driver climb down from his vehicle and lie down on the ground. Then, after tying the unnamed victim hand and foot, the bandit clamored aboard the stage and drove it off a short distance. That's when he decided to open his mail.

History didn't record if James Townsend found any money, or if he did, what his haul amounted to.

However, we do know this: the driver was soon able to work loose from being hogtied, and he didn't waste anytime picking up envelopes. The embarrassed stagecoach hand hustled back into town where he sounded the alarm.

A posse was soon organized, the San Angelo Standard Times stated, "a large part of the population started in a chase." (Sound like a wild west show?)

Meanwhile, Townsend must have thought with so many folks out looking for him, it would be safe to come back to Colorado City. This he did and that was a mistake.

Apparently the stage driver had recognized the holdup man and identified him when he returned on foot to town.

At any rate, town Marshall "Doc" Gooch spotted Townsend and promptly threw him in the hoose-gow. Next time you're a mile south of town, on the way to Angelo, remember this little bit of Mitchell County history.

There were numerous other incidents involving lawlessness in early Colorado City.

You never had a chance to meet C. A. Davis. He was the agent for the Texas and Pacific Railroad here in 1884.

Davis was not a stagecoach robber. However, he did have sticky fingers. Authorities say $8000 stuck to his paws. Naturally Davis disappeared from the local scene.

He later surfaced, in June of 1884, in Galveston. He was arrested, and it's safe to assume, brought back to Colorado City to face trial.

The T. and P. was so glad to see Davis, they probably gave him a free ride back home.

When it comes to law and order, Colorado City has tales that match Dodge City and Deadwood.

'WHAT WONDEROUS LOVE': Rehearsing for the presentation of the Easter pageant, which was presented April 12 and 15, at the amphitheatre in Ruddick Park, are members of the First Baptist Church of Westbrook.
