

Lubbock Morning Avalanche

FIFTH YEAR, NO. 283.

LUBBOCK, TEXAS, TUESDAY, NOV. 1, 1927.

MEANS "BY ASSOCIATED PRESS"

MOODY HINTS CUT OF MILLIONS IN STATE TAXES CITY OFFICIALS MOVE TO PROTECT LUBBOCK FROM DIPHTHERIA

TRAGIC ENDING OF ONLY CASE IN CITY CAUSE

THREE-YEAR-OLD BABY
DIES; QUARANTINE
PLACES NEARBY

MANY VACCINATED

CITY HEALTH OFFICER
GIVES WARNING; NO
EPIDEMIC HERE

Stirred by the report that a diphtheria epidemic is prevalent over several sections of the state, and by the death of three-year-old Earl Newton Bowley, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Bowley, 2101 Avenue K, early yesterday as a result of the disease, city officials late Monday evening authorized the quarantine of three places of public gathering, and two homes and saw to the inoculation of approximately 50 persons here. The buildings and families quarantined are all located in the section surrounding the Bowley home, and all persons inoculated reside in the neighborhood, given out last night as the west side of Avenue J; the east side of Avenue L; both sides of Avenue K, between 19th and 21st streets.

A Lubbock physician, called to the Bowley home after the child had passed away, told the Avalanche last night that no medical advice had been sought during the illness but that efforts had been made to save the boy's life through faith healing. He pronounced death due to diphtheria.

Is Only Case Reported.

Although the death of the Bowley baby ended the only case of diphtheria reported here, members of the city commission in regular session Monday morning took cognizance of the report that the disease is prevalent over the state, and declined that immediate action should be taken to prevent any spread of the disease. In the absence of Dr. J. W. Hollis, city health officer, they appointed Dr. Sam J. Dunn, in charge of public health during the time Dr. Hollis is out of the city.

In compliance with the ordinance affecting communicable diseases, Doctor Dunn quarantined all public places within the prescribed area; ordered inoculation of all children under the age of 15 years.

See DIPHTHERIA, Page 8

PERKINSON BACK

City Manager Returns from Three Weeks Visit in Arkansas and Oklahoma Towns

City Manager W. H. Perkins returned to his duties Monday after an absence of three weeks spent in Durant, Okla., and Hot Springs, Ark. He returned to Lubbock Sunday.

Mr. Perkins went to Durant for dental attention, and then went to Hot Springs to attend the Southern Waterworks association convention. While in the Arkansas resort he took a course of hot baths.

He declared that he is in much better health now than when he left.

TELLS OF CLUB WORK

Station Used by Shallowater Lad Brings Big Dividends in Feeding of Baby Beavers

An interesting insight on the value of work done by members of the Four-H club is thrown by the report of Harold Burley, member of the Shallowater club, of baby beavers fed by him. The report was made public today by County Agent K. P. Parson.

Young Smully fed three calves on the following ration: 35 pounds of milk, 25 pounds of oats, 15 pounds of cotton seed meal and five pounds of bran.

On calf, which weighed 315 when bought, gained 750 pounds in 10 1/2 months, and brought a profit of $18.50, and an additional $18.50 premium at the Panhandle and South Plains fair.

The second calf gained only 220 pounds, and brought a profit of only $7.75; but the third gained 425 pounds and brought a profit of $26, and a premium of $4.

Many other members of the Four-H club who fed calves earned a similar profit.

Wm. Penn—4 cents—A Good Cigar

High Court Pondering Utility Rate Hike Of Two Billion Dollars

Action of Water Group Blocked

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 31.—Failure of the All-Texas water rights commission to secure a quorum Monday temporarily blocked formal protests against changes in the present state water laws with the five representatives present adopting a resolution calling on J. A. Kemp, chairman pro tem of the committee, to set a second meeting date for November 1 in San Antonio.

State Senator A. J. Wirtz, of Seguin, presided at the meeting Monday. R. H. South, executive vice president of the South Texas Chamber of Commerce, acted as secretary.

The meeting was held Monday despite a rain storm which caused the cancellation of the meeting at the hotel where it was to be held.

SMITH DRAWS FIRE FROM ROOSEVELT

IS CALLED "BELLWETHER" OF TAMMANY HALL
DURING ADDRESS

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—Governor Alfred E. Smith was characterized as "bellwether of Tammany Hall" by Col. Theodore Roosevelt tonight in an address amplifying the keynote speech at the republican state convention in Rochester. At the end of his address, Col. Roosevelt summarized his charges against the governor as follows:

"For eleven years in the assembly Albany he represented Charles E. Murphy (late Tammany chief) and sponsored the Tammany legislation."

"As a reward for his work at Albany he was made sheriff of New York county in 1918."

"For seven years he supported Mayor Hylan."

"For many years he was party to the delay in putting in voting machines in New York City."

"He refused to institute and push proper non-partisan inquiry into the milk scandal."

"He pretends to believe in a non-partisan judiciary, but refused to interfere in behalf of upright republican municipal court judges endorsed by the bar associations, who are running this year in New York City."

"He has investigated every case SEE SMITH ATTACKED, Page 8"

COMPLAINT COSTLY

Story of "Fleeing" Brings Arrest of Man On Charge of Drunkenness as Police Probe His Tale

A complaint that he had been fleeced of $18.50 led to the arrest yesterday of the man who made the complaint and one other man.

When questioned by the officers to whom he made the complaint the man asserted that he had paid a debt of $15.00 with a $20 bill, and had received no change.

"Who was the man?" he was asked.

"I don't know," was the reply. "Where were you at the time?" was the second question.

"Again it was, 'I don't know.'"

"How does it happen you pay a debt to a man you don't know, and in a place you can't remember?" the officers asked.

"Well, maybe I had been drinking," the man confessed.

Investigation found the other man, and both were arrested for drunkenness.

Wm. Penn—4 cents—A Good Cigar

RATES OF GAS RAIL AND ELECTRICITY SERVICE PRICES MAY SOAR

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Avalanche Washington Correspondent and NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—If we were to wake up some day and discover that the entire European war debt had been saddled upon us and that with high interest rates, we would have to pay some $2,000,000,000 a year forever and ever—

Well, probably we would holler. Yet, with hardly a whisper, the country is confronted with a problem, the solution of which includes the possibility that we might have to pay the $2,000,000,000 in increased rates to railroads, telephone companies, gas and electric light concerns, street car lines and other public utilities.

Rates Would Soar.

The fact that this tremendous sum would be paid for the use of the utilities which would theoretically take $100 from the head of every family in the United States, should not be lightly to be brushed off as a mere possibility. It is some possibility. But it is better that we should be spared the full burden rests only on the likelihood that the national business structure would crack under the strain.

And if the railroads and other utilities are granted the compensation which they have asked for, the country is assuredly in for a hard time. It is assuredly in for a hard time. It is assuredly in for a hard time.

Both in committee and House prolonged discussion is certain. Heavy democrats and some republicans disagreeing with the treasury secretary in his proposal to limit the rate to $125,000,000.

Mr. Mellon's request for such a limitation was based on a treasury estimate that the surplus for 1927 would amount to only $274,000,000, far under that which has been available in previous years.

He made five specific suggestions as to the means by which the reductions should be accomplished. He would make the corporation tax 12 per cent in place of the 15 per cent.

See TAX REDUCTION, Page 8

BUILD HUGE DAM

Work on Million Dollar Project Is Begun on Devil's River Near Del Rio; Will Give Power.

DEL RIO, Tex., Oct. 31.—Work of placing the foundation of a dam, costing a million dollars to supply power for cities and industries in South and Southwest Texas, permission for which was granted Monday by the board of water engineers at Austin, already has been started on Devil's River 18 miles from here, by the Central Power and Light company.

Two engineering crews are here to survey north and east for a high voltage power line.

SHALLOWATER GINNING

Total of 2425 Bales Turned Out Up To Monday Morning; Total Believed Best in Section.

The gins at Shallowater, continuing to get a merry pace, are rolling out bales after bales of cotton. Reports issued there last night stated that 2425 bales had been ginned when the count was tallied Saturday night.

As far as the Avalanche has been able to discover this total is the largest thus far on the South Plains.

George C. Crump, killed by Man Who Shoots Through Window of Home at St. Joe

HARRISON, Ark., Oct. 31.—George C. Crump, 47, was shot to death Sunday night, a bullet fired through a window of his home near St. Joe, Ark., going through his heart. Crump was the husband of the widow of Dave Lockhart, alleged to have taken part in the attempted robbery in 1918 of the Peoples National Bank of Harrison when Henry Starr was fatally wounded.

Testimony at the coroner's inquest showed that Crump was propped up in bed reading when the shot was fired. His wife, who was in bed, said she was startled by the report of two shots and that she started to run, but later found a bullet had grazed her breast.

A coroner's jury decided Crump came to his death at the hands of some unknown party or parties.

PECOS PLAN CONTINUED

Producers of Pecos County To Maintain Present System Despite Gulf Withdrawal

FORT WORTH, Oct. 31.—Producers of Pecos county will continue to operate under present arrangements of the pro rata plan, despite nonparticipation of the Gulf Company. It was announced today after a meeting of operators here.

The announcement was made by W. A. Moncrief, vice president of the Marland Oil Company, of Texas, chairman of the producers' committee. The capacity of the recently completed line of the Illinois Pipe Line Company to 240,000 bbls. was placed at 18,000 barrels daily and was taken into consideration in figuring each producer's equitable part of the available output.

Section of the line, which was completed in 1926, is now being operated by the Illinois Pipe Line Company. The line is now being operated by the Illinois Pipe Line Company.

Wm. Penn—4 cents—A Good Cigar

OVERHAULING OF COUNTRY'S TAX LAWS IS BEGUN

MELLON RECOMMENDS A
CUT OF $225,000,000
FOR NEXT YEAR

ARGUMENT CERTAIN

BOTH PARTIES ARE SURE TO DISAGREE ON SOME POINTS OF PLAN

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—Another overhauling of the nation's tax law was begun today, the Coolidge administration leading off with a proposal to pare down the annual tax bar by $225,000,000.

Under the administration plan most of this reduction will be accomplished by lowering the corporation tax one and one half per cent, although the program also includes among other things repeal of the estate inheritance tax and revision of power of the brackets of the income surtax. It provides for no change in the income tax rates of the great bulk of tax payers.

The program was presented by Secretary Mellon at the first session of a ten day hearing before the House ways and means committee, which had been called to look to the revision of the brackets of the income surtax. It provides for no change in the income tax rates of the great bulk of tax payers.

The program was presented by Secretary Mellon at the first session of a ten day hearing before the House ways and means committee, which had been called to look to the revision of the brackets of the income surtax. It provides for no change in the income tax rates of the great bulk of tax payers.

Both in committee and House prolonged discussion is certain. Heavy democrats and some republicans disagreeing with the treasury secretary in his proposal to limit the rate to $125,000,000.

Mr. Mellon's request for such a limitation was based on a treasury estimate that the surplus for 1927 would amount to only $274,000,000, far under that which has been available in previous years.

He made five specific suggestions as to the means by which the reductions should be accomplished. He would make the corporation tax 12 per cent in place of the 15 per cent.

See TAX REDUCTION, Page 8

BUILD HUGE DAM

Work on Million Dollar Project Is Begun on Devil's River Near Del Rio; Will Give Power.

DEL RIO, Tex., Oct. 31.—Work of placing the foundation of a dam, costing a million dollars to supply power for cities and industries in South and Southwest Texas, permission for which was granted Monday by the board of water engineers at Austin, already has been started on Devil's River 18 miles from here, by the Central Power and Light company.

Two engineering crews are here to survey north and east for a high voltage power line.

SHALLOWATER GINNING

Total of 2425 Bales Turned Out Up To Monday Morning; Total Believed Best in Section.

The gins at Shallowater, continuing to get a merry pace, are rolling out bales after bales of cotton. Reports issued there last night stated that 2425 bales had been ginned when the count was tallied Saturday night.

As far as the Avalanche has been able to discover this total is the largest thus far on the South Plains.

George C. Crump, killed by Man Who Shoots Through Window of Home at St. Joe

HARRISON, Ark., Oct. 31.—George C. Crump, 47, was shot to death Sunday night, a bullet fired through a window of his home near St. Joe, Ark., going through his heart. Crump was the husband of the widow of Dave Lockhart, alleged to have taken part in the attempted robbery in 1918 of the Peoples National Bank of Harrison when Henry Starr was fatally wounded.

Testimony at the coroner's inquest showed that Crump was propped up in bed reading when the shot was fired. His wife, who was in bed, said she was startled by the report of two shots and that she started to run, but later found a bullet had grazed her breast.

A coroner's jury decided Crump came to his death at the hands of some unknown party or parties.

PECOS PLAN CONTINUED

Producers of Pecos County To Maintain Present System Despite Gulf Withdrawal

FORT WORTH, Oct. 31.—Producers of Pecos county will continue to operate under present arrangements of the pro rata plan, despite nonparticipation of the Gulf Company. It was announced today after a meeting of operators here.

The announcement was made by W. A. Moncrief, vice president of the Marland Oil Company, of Texas, chairman of the producers' committee. The capacity of the recently completed line of the Illinois Pipe Line Company to 240,000 bbls. was placed at 18,000 barrels daily and was taken into consideration in figuring each producer's equitable part of the available output.

Section of the line, which was completed in 1926, is now being operated by the Illinois Pipe Line Company. The line is now being operated by the Illinois Pipe Line Company.

Wm. Penn—4 cents—A Good Cigar

Aged Millionaire Faces Heavy Suit

GUNLEIK BERGLAND, 81

Mrs. Ardis Pederson, 27, picturesque daughter of Bergland, Mich., has been named in a $450,000 breach of promise suit by Mrs. Ardis Pederson, 27, of South Milwaukee. Mrs. Pederson charges the rich lumber man twice promised to marry her. The two are pictured above.

MILLIKIN'S FATE RESTS WITH JURY

VERDICT IMPOSSIBLE BEFORE
TUESDAY AS 12 MEN IN CASE PUT TO BED

(By Associated Press)
LOCKHART, Tex., Oct. 31.—A district court jury took A. V. Millikin's fate into its hands at 10:30 p. m. Monday night, after nearly two weeks of trial of his claim of insanity, which if established would save him from scheduled execution next Friday for murder of Mrs. Virginia Petty.

Defense Counsel Clarence Ginn of Houston, closed the six hours argument by the opposing counsel and while Millikin's celebratory, departed themselves outside, the case was given to the 12 Caldwell county citizens, mostly farmers, who heard Millikin testify to a variety of things last week.

Ginn had followed District Attorney Blumfeld, making an eloquent plea for the condemned man. Before Blumfeld was County Attorney Tom Gambrell, who was preceded by defense counsel W. E. Hawkins. The jury was put to bed at 11:15 o'clock, forecasting a verdict before Tuesday.

Wm. Penn—4 cents—A Good Cigar

STATE AND MINE WORKERS FIGHT OVER PICKETING

INDECISION IS MARKED
AS HOURS OF GRACE GLIDE BY

ULTIMATUM GIVEN

NUMEROUS ARRESTS OF AGITATORS ARE MADE
AS CRISIS NEARS

(By Associated Press)
DENVER, Colo., Oct. 31.—As the 30 hours grace, granted by Governor Adams to I. W. W. strikers to guarantee to him that picketing would be discontinued in the Colorado coal strike rolled away, I. W. W. leaders seemed unable to agree on the matter.

With 15 of the 30 hours gone by and the entry of national guardsmen into the situation, Byron Kitto, publicity agent for the I. W. W., stated just before his arrest for picketing that pickets would be maintained at any cost. Roger Frankson, leader of the I. W. W. in the United States, at the same time in addressing meeting at Aguilar, asked that picketing cease. Kitto was one of 24 men arrested today by Sheriff J. J. Martz in Las Animas county officials also arrested Amelia Babish, the girl in the red dress who was injured when strikers' demonstrations as various mines in the vicinity of Trinidad. She was arrested on a warrant charging picketing and lodged in the county jail.

Amelia led a group of picketers at the mine last night and today and was injured when struck by a mine guard's bullet.

Not a single coal mine operator appeared at the meeting in the executive committee rooms at the state capital here which was planned by the striking miners with the consent of Governor Adams. Invitations were addressed last Saturday to all operators in the state, but none responded to the invitations sent by the miners.

K. Clemens, La. Fayette, Colo., chairman of the general strike committee spoke to the miners who assembled. He attacked the "capitalist class" and deplored the fact that the miners "could not buy off the newspapers to present their case fully."

He insisted the miners would continue the strike until they were granted the Jacksonville settlement, setting $7.75 a day as the basic wage.

In New Mexico the situation is quiet.

PAMPA BONDS ARE SOLD

Premium of $21,000 on $40,000 Is Paid for Road Bonds Issued in Gray County Monday

PAMPA, Texas, Oct. 31.—(AP)—Special road district bonds in Gray county Monday brought a price of $105.25 or a premium of $15,000 on the $40,000 issue. Fifteen bond buyers took part in the bid bidding for the issue. The bonds are 20 year serials bearing 5 1/2 per cent interest.

The successful bidder was the Brown Cramer Company of Wichita, Kan.

Funds from the sale will be used toward surfacing roads in six divisions of old territory in which Pampa is the operating nucleus.

JARDINE DEFENDS PLAN

Says Relief to Farmers Will Not Come Through Legislation Or Federal Regulations

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—(AP)—Farm relief is not likely to be accomplished by a single legislative measure, nor are federal laws sufficient to cover the whole field of farm legislation, in the opinion of Secretary Jardine.

Federal laws, he believes, have been so emphasized in recent years that state farm legislation has been overlooked.

Expressing his views in an article published today in the Oklahoma Stockman and Farmer, the agriculture secretary defended his own plan for farm relief through stabilization corporations under the direction of a federal farm loan board.

Replying to critics who have termed his plan "A raid on the treasury and a shameless subsidy," because of its proposed revolving fund advanced by the government to set up in operation, he said there was precedent for the fund in the federal farm loan and federal reserve systems.

TOO MANY PICKERS

800 Arrive During Week-end and Demand Is Swallowed Up by an Over-Supply

More pickers than jobs was the problem which yesterday confronted R. F. Nelson, special employment agent of the United States Labor Bureau, who is stationed here at this time. Nelson of cease directing workers to this region.

Five hundred pickers came in over the week-end, according to Mr. Nelson, who voices a plea for more co-operation on part of the farmers, who he says, have not been reporting their needs to him. Adams and other pickers east have been ordered by Mr. Nelson to cease directing workers to this region.

FAMED PLAYWRIGHT IS DEAD IN NEW YORK

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 31.—(AP)—John Luther Long, author and playwright, whose story of "Madame Butterfly" was the basis for Puccini's famous opera by the name, died today in a sanitarium at Sleepy Hollow, N. Y. He was 65 years old and had been ill for some time. His death followed upon an operation performed last Saturday.

Legality Of Move By Tax Board Is Only Condition

(By The Associated Press)
AUSTIN, Oct. 31.—State taxes may be reduced 20 per cent, making a saving of several millions of dollars for property owners, if the state automatic tax board can meet again legally and cut the rate set last July, Governor Moody said late Monday.

GRAND JURY IS CHOSEN FOR TERM

S. C. WILSON OF LUBBOCK
NAMED FOREMAN AS PROBERS BEGIN

Selection of the grand jury for the October term of court in the Ninety-ninth district court was made in the opening session of the October term held yesterday morning.

S. C. Wilson of Lubbock was selected as foreman of the jury. The others are Ed Strasser of Slalom, S. W. Mahan of Idalou, J. W. Nesbitt of Slalom, J. W. Gamit of Lubbock, T. R. Kincaid of Shallowater, Pete Hardy of Shallowater, Eugene Emery of Lubbock, L. W. Wilkie of Lubbock, H. A. Sullivan of Wolffarth, J. L. Strube of Slalom, and Dr. S. E. Barr of Lubbock.

This jury will serve until December 24.

Yesterday afternoon the jury docket of the Ninety-ninth court was called, and 24 cases set for the sixth, seventh, and eighth weeks of the October term. The present week will be taken up with non-jury cases. Next week and the three weeks following will be used for trial of criminal cases.

See STATE TAX CUT, Page 8

PLAN NEW PIPE LINE

10-Inch Line From Pecos County In West Texas to Houston Ship Canal Is Company Plan

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—(AP)—Transcontinental Oil company shortly is expected to announce plans for construction of a 425 mile ten-inch pipe line from Pecos county, West Texas, to the ship canal at Houston, which will be built by a subsidiary, United Producers Pipe Line company having daily capacity of between $1,500 and $2,000 barrels. The project will involve about $12,500,000, including terminal storage, and will connect with the topping plant at the coast.

The outlet to the coast would afford a world market, with a wider range of prices.

MILL MOVES SOUTH

Wage Cut Made in Another Lowell, Massachusetts Textile Plant As Business Drops Off

BOSTON, Oct. 31.—(AP)—A wage cut in one Lowell textile plant and decision to close another and remove part of its machinery to the south were announced today.

The Massachusetts mills put into effect a ten per cent wage reduction affecting 1,400 employees including the office staff. Stockholders of the Appleton Company, meeting in Boston, authorized the directors to expend $785,000 to move a part of the mill machinery from Lowell to Anderson S. C., and to erect new buildings at Anderson.

Km. Penn—5 cents—A Good Cigar

The Weather

LONG AFFAIRS OF THE PAST ARE OFTEN WHAT CAUSE A FELLOW TO BUY A PRESENT IN THE FUTURE

West Texas—Tuesday morning cloudiness; Wednesday probably rain in north portion; Friday—

Yesterday's temperature: Maximum 77, Minimum 54.

Wm. Penn—4 cents—A Good Cigar

BLANCHE E. BEAN, EDITOR

Milady's dress purse of beige silk has for its fastening an antique cameo of pink and blue flowers and black, matching her cameo set.

The R. L. Ellison home, 1921 11th street, was decorated to represent a cornfield and every game and version of the evening carried out the Halloween theme. Saturday evening when Mrs. Ellison was hostess at a party from 7 until 9 o'clock for her children and their friends.

The BRIDE
Leila Hyams
CLYDE COOK

1

Dr. Han Shyn, graduate of the Tokio Women's Medical College, abandoned her kimono and geta for a modern outfit when she journeyed from Japan's capital to Washington to see President Coolidge.

For Best Results in Your Baking

use

KC BAKING POWDER

Same Price for over 35 years
25 ounces for 25¢

MILLIONS OF POUNDS USED BY THE GOVERNMENT

Guaranteed Pure

STRING BEADS

Pearls and other beads which, because of their weight, have a tendency to break their strings should be strung on either a violin string or dental floss.

COLLEGE STATION, Oct. 31.—The ticket booth which is being erected by contractors at the entrance of 1925 of the A. & M. College of Texas at the entrance of the Memorial Gymnasium on Kyle field is rapidly nearing completion and will be ready for use on November 5, the day of the game between the Texas Aggies and the S. M. U. Mustangs.

The booth will be eight feet square, and will contain four ticket windows over which will be placed bronze tablets showing it was erected by the class of 1925. The sides will be of white stucco and the roof of red slate, carrying out the effect of the school colors, maroon and white. A copper final ornament will be placed in the top and around the feet of the tower.

LYRIC

MONDAY and TUESDAY

W. RAY JOHNSON presents
A TIGH CAROL PRODUCTION

"A BOY OF THE STREETS"

BY CHARL. VINCENT

—Also—

JOHNNY WALKER
MICHEY BENNETT
HENRY SEDGWICK
BETTY FRANCISCO

A "FAMOUS AUTHORS" PICTURE

DIRECTED BY CHARLES ROBERT

—Also—

"COMEDY AND NEWS"

MATINEE 10c and 25c
NIGHT SHOW 10c and 30c

REX

MONDAY and TUESDAY

WALLY WALES

—in—

"Skeddadle Gold"

—and—

"COMEDY"

WEDNESDAY & THURS.

"WHITE STAR"

THE WONDER HORSE

—in—

"A Horse on Broadway"

—Also—

"Comedy"

FRIDAY & SATURDAY

"Slow Dynamite"

A BIG WESTERN

"Comedy"

—and—

"Perils of the Jungle"

NO. 5

Admission
10c and 25c

The Best Costs
No More

Recognition of the superiority of BUTTER-NUT bread has made it favorite on the North Plains as well as the South Plains and today Lubbock's modern Bakery is running nearer capacity than ever before.

Why not get the best?

Ask for Butter-Nut
BREAD

COMING WEDNESDAY
The Collegians

A Stirring Heart Drama
of Simple Folk
With a
Most Unusual Climax.

JETTA GOUDAL
*in White
Gold*

Starting WEDNESDAY
Raymond Navaro
STAR OF BEN HUR
—in—
"The Road to Romance"
A conflict of Love amid Warring Pirates

HAGEN LEADS PRO GOLFERS IN DALLAS TILT

LEADS NEAREST RIVAL BY 3 STROKES

(By Associated Press)
CEDAR CREST COUNTRY CLUB, DALLAS, Oct. 31.—Walter Hagen, four times professional champion of the United States, proved his right to contend for the title this year by scoring a 43 here this afternoon to lead a field of 65 professionals in the qualifying round of the Professional Golfers' Tournament.

Hagen was three strokes ahead of his nearest competitors, Albert Alcott, of Yonkers, N. Y., and Joe Turney, of New York, who finished with 144. Al Espinosa, of Chicago, was two strokes behind them with 146.

Johnny Farrell, of Mamaronock, N. Y., tied Espinosa at 146, and Harry Cooper, of Los Angeles, Frances Gallet, of Mawwata, Wis., and Jack Farrell, of New York, scored 147.

After this field strung out until six players tied at 154 for the last five players in tournament play. Because darkness was falling over the course it was necessary to postpone the playoff until tomorrow. Hagen scored his brilliant total after he had had some tough luck in a trap on the first nine of the morning round and some 2 over par. He was by far the steadiest man on the course, however, and came home in one under par to give him a 72 for the morning.

In the afternoon he assaulted the first nine again and scored two birdies for a 32, two under par. The last nine he negotiated in a par 36. John Farrell, of Panther River, Ind., gave the gallery one of its biggest thrills when he negotiated his morning trip out and came back in 36 for a par 71. Farrell is 31 years old and is playing to his first big tournament. He attracted a gallery in the afternoon but rewarded it with a 44 on the first nine, but shot a par 36 on the final nine for an aggregate of 131 and a place among the qualifiers.

Harry Hampton, of Memphis, was the only one among the leading favorites to fail to qualify. Hampton's putts played him false all day and he was forced to take an 18 and a 18 for an aggregate of 134.

Friends of Tommy Armour, the open champion, almost gave him up when he took a 17 in the morning and then started poorly in the afternoon, but he shot a 75 to get under the wire easily. Match play will start tomorrow at 9 o'clock and each match will go 18 holes. Hagen, because of his exhibition today was a heavy favorite tonight.

Gene Ross, who is noted for his ability to get the masters' gun in match competition was equally well backed.

CEDAR CREST COUNTRY CLUB, DALLAS, Oct. 31 (P)—Pairings for the first round matches of the Professional Golfers' Association tournament here tomorrow follow:

Johnny Farrell 146; vs. Tommy Armour 152.
John Farrell 151; vs. Tom Harmon 155.
Tony Manero 154; vs. Bobby Cruikshank 149.
Jack Farrell 148; vs. Walter Hagen 141.
Albert Alcott 144; vs. Motre Durra 139.
Charles Gest 149; vs. Hancock 153.
Al Espinosa 146; vs. Mel Smith 148.
Eddie Murphy 154; vs. Harry Cooper 147.
James Gillies 152; vs. Ed Dudley 150.
Gene Benjamin 144; vs. Eddie Loos 153.
William Klein 152; vs. Bill Mohr 150.
Charles McKenna 151; vs. Joe Turney 144.
John Golden 151; vs. Charles Koonz 151.
Willie Kidd 154; vs. Harold Long 152.
Frances Gallet 147; vs. Bob Shave 152.
Fred Baroni 154; vs. Ralph Ross 153.
Tony Manero, Eddie Murphy, Fred Baroni, Eddie Loos, Willie Kidd and J. C. Curley, all of whom scored 154, will meet before the matches in a playoff. Curley, if not eliminated himself, will take the place of the first man eliminated in the playoffs.

Cobb Undecided About Retirement

DETROIT, Oct. 31 (P)—Ty Cobb may be thinking about retiring from the baseball diamond but he is not yet ready to announce such a decision. He so informed the Associated Press today when his attention was called to his retirement announcement from the game would be forthcoming shortly.

Cobb, here today, enroute to Philadelphia, following a three day hunting trip in Wyoming, said that he was "thinking about retiring, of course," but declared that no decision had yet been made.

The veteran of the diamond will confer with Manager Connie Mack of the Philadelphia Athletics tomorrow, he said, but even then he will not be able to announce his plans.

FANCY BEETS
Battered beets make one of the loveliest garnishes in the world when sliced in odd shapes with some of the fancy potato slices.

Missouri Stars Come Back After S. M. U. Defeat To Win From Northwestern University Eleven By 34-19 Margin!

COACH GWYNN HENRY, ROBERT BYARS, CHARLES TUTTLE, GEO. FLAMANK

When Is A Ball Out Of Bounds?

BY E. J. O'BRIEN
Famous Football Referee.
You have often heard people say that the referee called the ball out of bounds when in their opinion the ball was dead, probably a foot or more from the side line.

According to the rules, this is possible, because, in order for it to be declared out of bounds, it is not necessary for the ball to be on or outside the side line.

The rule states that the ball is "out of bounds" when either the ball or any part is "out of bounds" when either the ball or any part of the player who holds it touches the ground on or outside the side line, the side line extended, or the end line.

Never talk to the good wife about the "Big Ten." She might ask you to give her half of it.

Looks like a lot of gridiron babies are gonna be back'd in the cradle of the deep this season.

Somebody told us most of Michigan's games are going to be played in an arbor this year.

It's a wonder some prohibition agent didn't bother when the Yankees took it straight.

A lot of fighters sign up for a battle and then crawl out of it after the sight's over.

Miners Cancel Sul Ross Game

EL PASO, Tex., Oct. 31 (P)—Cancellation of the football game Saturday at Alpine with Sul Ross State Teachers' College on account of failure to agree on officials one week in advance was announced here Monday by the athletic council of the Texas College of Mines.

Coach E. J. (Doc) Stewart of the Miners, is seeking another game here on a date, which has been left open. Agreement on officials a week in advance was stipulated in the contract between the two schools, it was stated.

Wing Of Ill-Fated Airplane Is Found
A piece of airplane wing, identified as a part of the "Dallas Spirit" plane in which Captain William P. Egan and Albert E. Eichenlaub started out for Hawaii on October 19, has been washed ashore near Los Angeles. The story of the wing was clipped from the Los Angeles paper by Miss Mary Bellah, formerly of Lubbock but now of the postal service in California, and sent to her sister here, Miss Adeline Bellah, who was a personal friend of Capt. Egan.

SLATON PLANS ARMISTICE DAY

ALL DAY CELEBRATION TO BE HELD BY PEOPLE OF THE TOWN

(Special To The Avalanche)
SLATON, Oct. 31.—Definite plans for an all-day Armistice celebration here Nov. 11 are taking shape rapidly. Leaders in making arrangements for the event include L. M. Brower, R. A. Bakwin, Ernest Pogue, C. L. Stone, J. B. Caldwell, R. A. Brinker and others.

A public school parade in the morning will be a colorful feature of the day, participated in by 1,200 school children, 40 teachers, 60 Boy Scouts of the two local troops and the Slaton Band directed by Ernest Pogue.

In the afternoon, the Slaton Tigers, will oppose the Lamona high school football team on the local gridiron in a game which promises to be attended by one of the largest crowds of fans ever assembled for a high school tilt on the South Plains.

A public speaking program and a band concert will be held in the high school auditorium in the evening. Ex-service men and their families and many others will attend all the events. The former doughboys will be in their uniforms.

Large numbers of visitors are expected here from nearby communities and surrounding towns. The occasion bears promise of being the largest Armistice celebration ever staged here.

Seventeen Answer Charge of 'Drunk'

Seventeen persons Monday morning answered charges of alleged inebriety over the week-end. The city captured nine, while the county jail proved the "sobering up" site for eight. Fines ranging from $15 to $20 were assessed in city court.

NEW $30,000 HIGH SCHOOL IS BEING BUILT AT CROWELL

CROWELL, Oct. 31.—Rapid construction is taking place on Crowell's new $30,000 high school and C. I. Kugler, contractor, states that construction will be completed by December 15th. Ideal weather conditions have aided greatly in the construction of the building which will be completed earlier than was at first expected.

The Lubbock high school Westerners will rest this week while the other members of the district No. 1 will continue through the conference schedule. Possibly the Plainview-Amarillo game will have more bearing on the conference standing than any other game on the schedule. The Westerners meet with the Bulldogs at Plainview. Another game of much interest to the high school followers will be the outcome of the Electro-Wichita Falls game which will be played in Wichita Falls, Vernon will meet with the Quads, Chiefs, this week, but it is the consensus of opinion that the Lions will have no trouble in getting over the Chiefs.

The changes of the last week standing in the Class A conference were only slight changes. The 12th game between the Lubbock and Wichita Falls teams did not alter their standings; while the Vernon Lions fattered their standing defeating the Electro-Tigers 19 to 6; and Plainview left the Chiefs in the cellar defeating them by a score of 25 to 0.

The standing is:
CLUB W. L. T. Pct.
Amarillo 3 0 3 .1000
Wichita Falls 1 0 1 .1000
Vernon 2 1 0 .667
Lubbock 1 1 1 .500
Plainview 1 2 0 .333

The Westerners' next game will be on Armistice Day with the Plainview Bulldogs. Although the Westerners and the Bulldogs have been weaker this season than previous years on material both clubs have come into the light of the district with fighting and battling combinations. As the Bulldogs come to Lubbock this year for the high school's annual classic a scene of ancient and honored rivalry will be prevalent.

The high school athletic officials are planning to make the Armistice affair one of Lubbock's biggest football days. Former lettermen of the Lubbock high school will be called to the scene of the Lubbock-Plainview game and elaborate plans are being made for the entertainment of the former Westerners players.

Barnard Boosted For Johnson's Job

CHICAGO, Oct. 31 (P)—E. E. Barnard, president and secretary of the Cleveland American League club appeared tonight to be the logical choice of the American League club owners to succeed Dan Johnson as president of the circuit.

Barnard, it is reported, is moving to Chicago tomorrow to assume his duties at the head of the league, and as the official announcement of his election is made.

It was also said he will be offered a four-year contract at $40,000 a year, the same figure Johnson received after 16 years of building up the league.

In addition to naming Johnson's successor, the league probably will arrange for a suitable memorial to Johnson, who is at present at Excelsior Springs, Mo., attempting to regain his health.

Police Court Gets $1,113.60 In Month

The city of Lubbock profited to the extent of $1,113.60 during the past month through the channels of the city police department, the monthly report as made out by Desk Sergeant J. T. Immon yesterday showed. Drunkenness and gaming were the most prevalent violations during the month.

37 Marriages, 15 Divorces In Month

A score of 37 to 15, in favor of Cupid, resulted for October in the perennial conflict between the forces of love and discord, the records of County Clerk Amos W. Howard and District Clerk Flora Green show.

Three Couples Heed Cupid Call

Three marriage licenses were issued from the office of County Clerk Amos Howard yesterday. There were issued to Harold Youngblood and May Johnson, Carl Jones and Lorene Massey, and Refugio Penn and Anna Penn.

Three licenses were also issued last Saturday afternoon. These were taken out by Tine Shepherd and Fay Brandon, Harry F. O'Hearn and Lulu McLendon, and Samuel and Adelia Jones.

Masons Attend El Paso Meeting

Masons from Lubbock and other South Plains towns were in El Paso yesterday to attend the 44th reunion of the Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite of Freemasonry. The Masons will return about Thursday. Among those attending are John Dalrymple, Rev. Jack M. Lewis, Dean James M. Gordon, R. H. Martin, R. D. Moxley, L. A. Howard and others.

Wm. Penn—5 cents—A Good Clear

HUNDREDS VIEW ARTILLERY FIRE

ACCURACY OF GUNNERS IN LOCAL BATTERY GETS OFFICERS' PRAISE

Accuracy of the gunners in Battery "C" of the 131st field artillery, the local unit, was highly praised by visiting officers who, along with about 400 residents of Lubbock and nearby cities, witnessed the annual firing exhibit of this group on the Bud Johnston ranch, south of the city Sunday.

The firing lasted from 9:30 until 12:00 o'clock, and during the exhibition a total of 200 rounds of French 75's were fired, together with about a thousand rounds of machine gun ammunition.

After the firing an army lunch was fed to the visitors whose cars were parked on the hills surrounding the site of targets.

Visiting officers present included: Capt. W. G. Jennings and Capt. A. W. P. Dowden, of Plainview, and Lt. Snow, of Amarillo. Mrs. John B. Golding, widow of the late Col. Wm. Penn—5 cents—A Good Clear

FOXY PHANN Horseshoes is one game where it's fair to run in a finger.

INQUISITIVE IZZY
WANTS TO KNOW:
IF THE WRESTLER FELT
THE TIE HOLD, WOULD
HE HEAD SPIN?
THANKS TO H. E. DABBS JR.,
MERCEDIAN, MISS.

STUFFED PLUMS

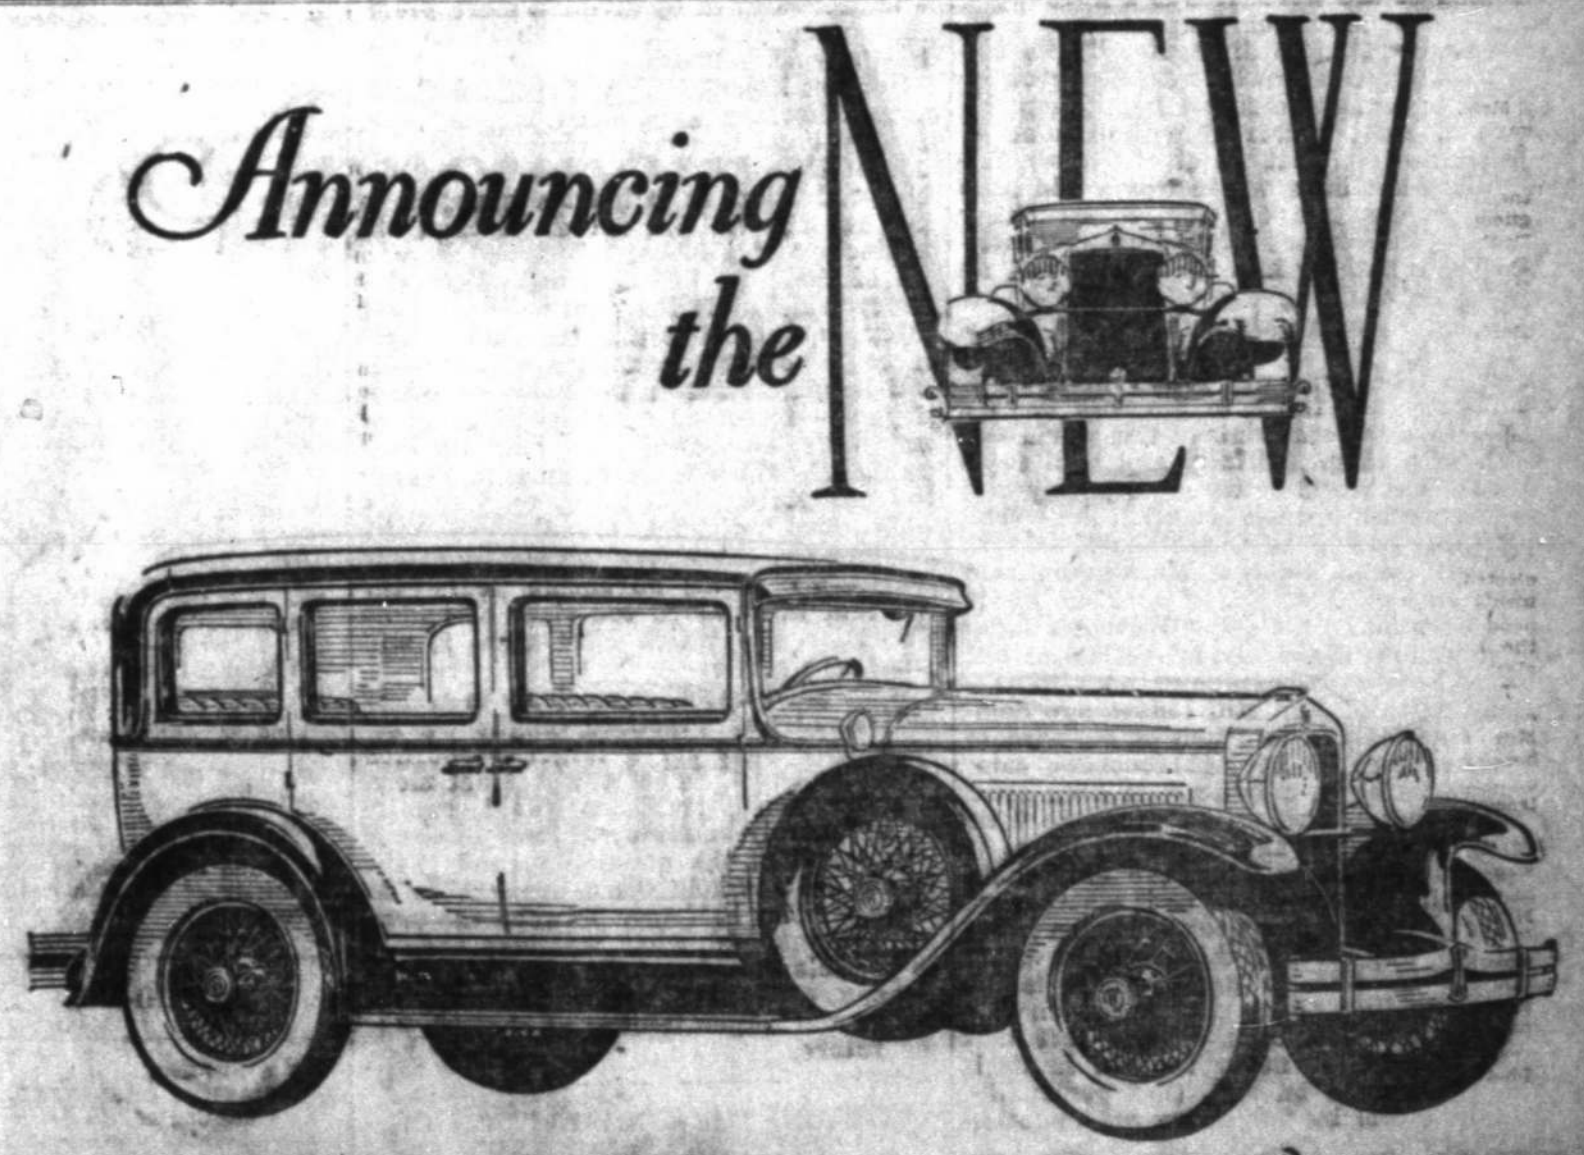

Big blue German plums, called "German," make a most delicious salad when stuffed with cheese, nut and plums. Serve with French dressing.

Neckwear that Belongs to your best Suit of Clothes

Nearly every morning these doors open there is something new in neckwear. But, when Thanksgiving comes—we raise the limit—also the roof and let the cravats pour in. You'll see Scarfs here this week that you will marvel at. Gorgeous silks, hand tailored into unusual four-in-hands.

THE TIES—
$1 TO $5
McWHORTER-ROBERTS
Next to Bowen's Drug Store.

HUPMOBILE 1928 SIX

A Complete New Line of Sixes

Hupmobile Through and Through, but how Wonderfully Transformed to the Eye! New Bodies. New Colors. New Hupmobile-Midland (Steeldraulic) Brakes

Astounding Low Prices!
24 standard and custom body styles

WEST TEXAS MOTOR CO.
1312-14 BROADWAY
PHONE 1191

WE BELIEVE THE HUPMOBILE TO BE THE BEST CAR OF ITS CLASS IN THE WORLD

NORFLEET

The Manhunter's Own True Story

is told to Gordon Lines

WHAT HAS BEEN TOLD:

Frank Norfleet, a Texas rancher, swindled out of $45,000 resolves to destroy the confidence ring. His search for his men leads him to Florida where he is amazed by the duplicity of some of the police who seem to be standing in with the swindlers. Finding as a sucker, he is taken up by an outpost of the confidence ring and has a narrow escape from a club house near Daytona Beach, when a mysterious note is received that quickly changes the attitude of the chief wire-tapper. Norfleet escapes and succeeds in forcing two of the swindlers to go with him. Finding to take them to jail because it would reveal his own identity and handicap his efforts at locating his own swindlers. Norfleet allows the two crooks to keep their lives on their benched knees before he finally turns them loose. Norfleet procures the mysterious note which came to the Club House and when he reads it, he realizes it says, "That is Norfleet himself. Don't get him started. If you do he will kill every one of you. Don't let him get away, boys, don't let him get away—Joe." Norfleet goes to Palm Beach and on to Miami where he meets Charles Rackin, mayor of a small city in Ontario, Canada, who had been swindled that day out of a large sum. Norfleet shows him the picture of Joe Furey and he quickly identifies it as that of the man who robbed him. Norfleet rushes to the place where Furey had stayed while executing the trimming and finds that the swindler has flown.

Chapter Twenty

"That's the man! He's the one who got my money," he heard the real excited and could hardly tell what he knew about the swindlers. Finally, he gave me the address where Furey had stayed while executing the trimming. I went to that place as fast as taxi could take me. It was a little, inconspicuous bungalow in the heart of a pine forest. I saw a man in a dark suit and a woman in a dark dress. The husband's deafness added to the advantage. She identified Furey's picture as that of the man who had left her place the day before. That was that!

I had gone to Miami to look out for both Furey and Spencer and now I felt that, with Furey gone, Spencer would be likely to have gone also. I left it a hopeless task, but I remained a few days to see what I might dig up in the way of information.

I became friendly with some of the Federal authorities and learned from them, of another job the gang had put over. A farmer from Illinois had been swindled at Key West by the old, old stock exchange game which had trimmed me so nicely. They must have tried to trap him for a second amount, as they had me, for he started home to get more money to "reform his hide". On the way home, he must have done some thinking, for he became suspicious and got off the train at Miami, where he notified the Federal authorities. They wired the farmer's son in Illinois asking him to wire the crooks, in the father's name asking for advice as to sending the money to them instead of bringing it himself.

It was hoped that the crooks would reply and it was upon their answer that the Federal men hoped to base a charge. The wise ones, however, did not answer the wire, and the Federal had to drop the matter.

I secured the farmer's name and his Key West address and boarded the first train. I arrived barely in time to see him before he left for home. He had returned to Key West to collect his belongings and was ready to leave. When he had come back from Miami, he had been seized at the Key West station by a gang of swindlers and taken to the outskirts of the town where he was badly beaten and warned to leave.

I asked him where the "Stock Exchange" was located. He showed me, then said a hasty good-by as he rushed off to his train. Four swindlers, the "exchange" was a long building of three stories, apparently a combination of offices and studios. I shadowed it for twenty-four hours. It was a windy, stormy, day and the task was not pleasant. I wondered where I might shelter myself for the night's vigil. It should have been during the day. Darkness lends mystery to a startling figure and I was anxious to station myself where I would not arouse suspicion or curiosity.

Nature came to my rescue. The wind fell a full, thick fog, fogged from the water, across a fence directly opposite the entrance to the building. In this three-cornered pen, I would be safe from prying eyes.

to look at my watch. Then time began to really drag. I've often wondered how many eternities I passed in the branches of that fallen tree. One by one, the lights in the building were extinguished. For every light that went out, a man left shortly after. But none resembled Furey.

At dawn, stiff from enforced bending and chilled to the bone, I crept out. I was afraid to desert the watch but I knew I could not stay there indefinitely. I decided to leave and get back as quickly as possible.

I sought out the sheriff, explained the situation to him and asked for assistance in searching the building. He was very sorry that he could not go alone personally, but he had just run a rusty nail in his foot and was lame; he would gladly send a good man or two along with me, however. He said they would be the best men on the island for the purpose and that I could depend absolutely upon them.

I arranged to meet the men at the building and rushed back to watch. After two hours, they appeared. Both were in uniform, advertising their official capacities, and they were dressed as awkwardly as if they had never had them on before. Possibly they hadn't. The uniforms certainly looked like they had been borrowed from Tom, Dick and Harry for a hasty outfitting. The larger of the two men was a spokesman, shifting uncomfortably in his clothes as he gave his orders. "Now you guard the two avenues of escape," he commanded me, in a deep, officious voice.

The two entrances he referred to were both in front of the building. "Let your assistant take care of these," I agreed, "and I'll go through the building with you."

"No, he's got to watch the side," he replied curtly. "You take care of the front, he'll watch the side and I'll go through the place. If he can't catch him I'll scare him out of one of you." He smiled knowingly as if he were the brains and the hero of the occasion.

There was nothing to do but obey his instructions. I would be helpless without him and his partner. The other fellow ambled to the side of the building and the General went inside.

I watched the front, very industriously, for a few minutes. Suddenly, I heard a commotion at the rear of the building and, leaving my post, I hurried around to see what it was all about. Before I could reach the back, I heard the chug, chug, chug, of a motor boat.

The rear of the building backed up to a sea wall and, as I raced to its edge, I saw Furey and my two police officers in the boat, putting out to sea. They were already out of pistol range, though I was tempted to fire a shot or two, just on a wild chance.

It was a hard hand to draw so early in the morning, after so bitter a night's vigil, but I was determined not to let anything slip. I was still in Joe Furey's that I lost no time in guessing. I set out to conjecture as to where the trio would land and how I might be on hand to receive them. They had set out toward the Cuban coast and I reasoned that this would be their destination. I was to be there first, I would have to make it snappy.

I rushed to town and chartered a hydroplane and, with the pilot, slid down the skids, gathered speed over the water, and, after a breathless moment, took the air. We swept the water's surface with binoculars but could see nothing of the little craft we were seeking.

We circled all the coral keys, then flew to Cuba, but there was not a trace of the three men in the boat, who had put off from the shore but a few minutes before.

The search on the Cuban shore was fruitless. The sea had washed out the trail of Joe Furey and the two "officers." I hope, if that sheriff who had run the rusty nail in his foot ever reads this, he will drop me a line of explanation.

The next day I went back to Miami and conferred with the Canadian mayor, Mr. Rackin. While we were talking, I bought a paper and scanned the headlines. Nothing of note met my eyes and I was about to cast the sheet aside, when I noticed that the magnificent estate of William Jennings Bryan was to be thrown open that afternoon to entertain the general public. Once a year, the Bryans were accustomed to invite the public to visit the estate and to feast their eyes upon the beautiful, rare shrubs and blooms which were carefully fenced in during the remainder of the year.

"Thousands of persons usually throng the winding paths and wander among the fragrant flowers on this day of days," the paper stated.

I was always wishing for crowds. Much of the information I got was gleaned from casual acquaintances and it was very easy to scrape up nonchalant conversations with persons in a large crowd. I could stroll among them and "howdy" here and "howdy" there until I found a congenial soul who was seeking company.

I also knew that the con men used the same reasoning and that many of their "business deals" were begun with acquaintances started in such places. There were, however, good reasons for mingling with crowds and keeping my eyes open. I decided to go to the Bryan estate early and to stay late.

People thronged through great bronze gates at the entrance to the estate and, shortly after these were thrown open, I stationed myself there, assuming the role of "gate-keeper" to the Bryan family. It was one of the most interesting jobs I ever had.

People thronged through great bronze gates at the entrance to the estate and, shortly after these were thrown open, I stationed myself there, assuming the role of "gate-keeper" to the Bryan family. It was one of the most interesting jobs I ever had.

"Let your assistant take care of these," I agreed, "and I'll go through the building with you."

"No, he's got to watch the side," he replied curtly. "You take care of the front, he'll watch the side and I'll go through the place. If he can't catch him I'll scare him out of one of you." He smiled knowingly as if he were the brains and the hero of the occasion.

There was nothing to do but obey his instructions. I would be helpless without him and his partner. The other fellow ambled to the side of the building and the General went inside.

I watched the front, very industriously, for a few minutes. Suddenly, I heard a commotion at the rear of the building and, leaving my post, I hurried around to see what it was all about. Before I could reach the back, I heard the chug, chug, chug, of a motor boat.

The rear of the building backed up to a sea wall and, as I raced to its edge, I saw Furey and my two police officers in the boat, putting out to sea. They were already out of pistol range, though I was tempted to fire a shot or two, just on a wild chance.

It was a hard hand to draw so early in the morning, after so bitter a night's vigil, but I was determined not to let anything slip. I was still in Joe Furey's that I lost no time in guessing. I set out to conjecture as to where the trio would land and how I might be on hand to receive them. They had set out toward the Cuban coast and I reasoned that this would be their destination. I was to be there first, I would have to make it snappy.

I rushed to town and chartered a hydroplane and, with the pilot, slid down the skids, gathered speed over the water, and, after a breathless moment, took the air. We swept the water's surface with binoculars but could see nothing of the little craft we were seeking.

We circled all the coral keys, then flew to Cuba, but there was not a trace of the three men in the boat, who had put off from the shore but a few minutes before.

The search on the Cuban shore was fruitless. The sea had washed out the trail of Joe Furey and the two "officers." I hope, if that sheriff who had run the rusty nail in his foot ever reads this, he will drop me a line of explanation.

The next day I went back to Miami and conferred with the Canadian mayor, Mr. Rackin. While we were talking, I bought a paper and scanned the headlines. Nothing of note met my eyes and I was about to cast the sheet aside, when I noticed that the magnificent estate of William Jennings Bryan was to be thrown open that afternoon to entertain the general public. Once a year, the Bryans were accustomed to invite the public to visit the estate and to feast their eyes upon the beautiful, rare shrubs and blooms which were carefully fenced in during the remainder of the year.

"Thousands of persons usually throng the winding paths and wander among the fragrant flowers on this day of days," the paper stated.

I was always wishing for crowds. Much of the information I got was gleaned from casual acquaintances and it was very easy to scrape up nonchalant conversations with persons in a large crowd. I could stroll among them and "howdy" here and "howdy" there until I found a congenial soul who was seeking company.

I also knew that the con men used the same reasoning and that many of their "business deals" were begun with acquaintances started in such places. There were, however, good reasons for mingling with crowds and keeping my eyes open. I decided to go to the Bryan estate early and to stay late.

People thronged through great bronze gates at the entrance to the estate and, shortly after these were thrown open, I stationed myself there, assuming the role of "gate-keeper" to the Bryan family. It was one of the most interesting jobs I ever had.

"Let your assistant take care of these," I agreed, "and I'll go through the building with you."

"No, he's got to watch the side," he replied curtly. "You take care of the front, he'll watch the side and I'll go through the place. If he can't catch him I'll scare him out of one of you." He smiled knowingly as if he were the brains and the hero of the occasion.

There was nothing to do but obey his instructions. I would be helpless without him and his partner. The other fellow ambled to the side of the building and the General went inside.

I watched the front, very industriously, for a few minutes. Suddenly, I heard a commotion at the rear of the building and, leaving my post, I hurried around to see what it was all about. Before I could reach the back, I heard the chug, chug, chug, of a motor boat.

The rear of the building backed up to a sea wall and, as I raced to its edge, I saw Furey and my two police officers in the boat, putting out to sea. They were already out of pistol range, though I was tempted to fire a shot or two, just on a wild chance.

It was a hard hand to draw so early in the morning, after so bitter a night's vigil, but I was determined not to let anything slip. I was still in Joe Furey's that I lost no time in guessing. I set out to conjecture as to where the trio would land and how I might be on hand to receive them. They had set out toward the Cuban coast and I reasoned that this would be their destination. I was to be there first, I would have to make it snappy.

I rushed to town and chartered a hydroplane and, with the pilot, slid down the skids, gathered speed over the water, and, after a breathless moment, took the air. We swept the water's surface with binoculars but could see nothing of the little craft we were seeking.

We circled all the coral keys, then flew to Cuba, but there was not a trace of the three men in the boat, who had put off from the shore but a few minutes before.

The search on the Cuban shore was fruitless. The sea had washed out the trail of Joe Furey and the two "officers." I hope, if that sheriff who had run the rusty nail in his foot ever reads this, he will drop me a line of explanation.

The next day I went back to Miami and conferred with the Canadian mayor, Mr. Rackin. While we were talking, I bought a paper and scanned the headlines. Nothing of note met my eyes and I was about to cast the sheet aside, when I noticed that the magnificent estate of William Jennings Bryan was to be thrown open that afternoon to entertain the general public. Once a year, the Bryans were accustomed to invite the public to visit the estate and to feast their eyes upon the beautiful, rare shrubs and blooms which were carefully fenced in during the remainder of the year.

"Thousands of persons usually throng the winding paths and wander among the fragrant flowers on this day of days," the paper stated.

I was always wishing for crowds. Much of the information I got was gleaned from casual acquaintances and it was very easy to scrape up nonchalant conversations with persons in a large crowd. I could stroll among them and "howdy" here and "howdy" there until I found a congenial soul who was seeking company.

I also knew that the con men used the same reasoning and that many of their "business deals" were begun with acquaintances started in such places. There were, however, good reasons for mingling with crowds and keeping my eyes open. I decided to go to the Bryan estate early and to stay late.

People thronged through great bronze gates at the entrance to the estate and, shortly after these were thrown open, I stationed myself there, assuming the role of "gate-keeper" to the Bryan family. It was one of the most interesting jobs I ever had.

"Let your assistant take care of these," I agreed, "and I'll go through the building with you."

"No, he's got to watch the side," he replied curtly. "You take care of the front, he'll watch the side and I'll go through the place. If he can't catch him I'll scare him out of one of you." He smiled knowingly as if he were the brains and the hero of the occasion.

There was nothing to do but obey his instructions. I would be helpless without him and his partner. The other fellow ambled to the side of the building and the General went inside.

I watched the front, very industriously, for a few minutes. Suddenly, I heard a commotion at the rear of the building and, leaving my post, I hurried around to see what it was all about. Before I could reach the back, I heard the chug, chug, chug, of a motor boat.

The rear of the building backed up to a sea wall and, as I raced to its edge, I saw Furey and my two police officers in the boat, putting out to sea. They were already out of pistol range, though I was tempted to fire a shot or two, just on a wild chance.

It was a hard hand to draw so early in the morning, after so bitter a night's vigil, but I was determined not to let anything slip. I was still in Joe Furey's that I lost no time in guessing. I set out to conjecture as to where the trio would land and how I might be on hand to receive them. They had set out toward the Cuban coast and I reasoned that this would be their destination. I was to be there first, I would have to make it snappy.

I rushed to town and chartered a hydroplane and, with the pilot, slid down the skids, gathered speed over the water, and, after a breathless moment, took the air. We swept the water's surface with binoculars but could see nothing of the little craft we were seeking.

We circled all the coral keys, then flew to Cuba, but there was not a trace of the three men in the boat, who had put off from the shore but a few minutes before.

The search on the Cuban shore was fruitless. The sea had washed out the trail of Joe Furey and the two "officers." I hope, if that sheriff who had run the rusty nail in his foot ever reads this, he will drop me a line of explanation.

The next day I went back to Miami and conferred with the Canadian mayor, Mr. Rackin. While we were talking, I bought a paper and scanned the headlines. Nothing of note met my eyes and I was about to cast the sheet aside, when I noticed that the magnificent estate of William Jennings Bryan was to be thrown open that afternoon to entertain the general public. Once a year, the Bryans were accustomed to invite the public to visit the estate and to feast their eyes upon the beautiful, rare shrubs and blooms which were carefully fenced in during the remainder of the year.

"Thousands of persons usually throng the winding paths and wander among the fragrant flowers on this day of days," the paper stated.

I was always wishing for crowds. Much of the information I got was gleaned from casual acquaintances and it was very easy to scrape up nonchalant conversations with persons in a large crowd. I could stroll among them and "howdy" here and "howdy" there until I found a congenial soul who was seeking company.

I also knew that the con men used the same reasoning and that many of their "business deals" were begun with acquaintances started in such places. There were, however, good reasons for mingling with crowds and keeping my eyes open. I decided to go to the Bryan estate early and to stay late.

People thronged through great bronze gates at the entrance to the estate and, shortly after these were thrown open, I stationed myself there, assuming the role of "gate-keeper" to the Bryan family. It was one of the most interesting jobs I ever had.

"Let your assistant take care of these," I agreed, "and I'll go through the building with you."

"No, he's got to watch the side," he replied curtly. "You take care of the front, he'll watch the side and I'll go through the place. If he can't catch him I'll scare him out of one of you." He smiled knowingly as if he were the brains and the hero of the occasion.

There was nothing to do but obey his instructions. I would be helpless without him and his partner. The other fellow ambled to the side of the building and the General went inside.

I watched the front, very industriously, for a few minutes. Suddenly, I heard a commotion at the rear of the building and, leaving my post, I hurried around to see what it was all about. Before I could reach the back, I heard the chug, chug, chug, of a motor boat.

The rear of the building backed up to a sea wall and, as I raced to its edge, I saw Furey and my two police officers in the boat, putting out to sea. They were already out of pistol range, though I was tempted to fire a shot or two, just on a wild chance.

It was a hard hand to draw so early in the morning, after so bitter a night's vigil, but I was determined not to let anything slip. I was still in Joe Furey's that I lost no time in guessing. I set out to conjecture as to where the trio would land and how I might be on hand to receive them. They had set out toward the Cuban coast and I reasoned that this would be their destination. I was to be there first, I would have to make it snappy.

I rushed to town and chartered a hydroplane and, with the pilot, slid down the skids, gathered speed over the water, and, after a breathless moment, took the air. We swept the water's surface with binoculars but could see nothing of the little craft we were seeking.

We circled all the coral keys, then flew to Cuba, but there was not a trace of the three men in the boat, who had put off from the shore but a few minutes before.

The search on the Cuban shore was fruitless. The sea had washed out the trail of Joe Furey and the two "officers." I hope, if that sheriff who had run the rusty nail in his foot ever reads this, he will drop me a line of explanation.

The next day I went back to Miami and conferred with the Canadian mayor, Mr. Rackin. While we were talking, I bought a paper and scanned the headlines. Nothing of note met my eyes and I was about to cast the sheet aside, when I noticed that the magnificent estate of William Jennings Bryan was to be thrown open that afternoon to entertain the general public. Once a year, the Bryans were accustomed to invite the public to visit the estate and to feast their eyes upon the beautiful, rare shrubs and blooms which were carefully fenced in during the remainder of the year.

"Thousands of persons usually throng the winding paths and wander among the fragrant flowers on this day of days," the paper stated.

I was always wishing for crowds. Much of the information I got was gleaned from casual acquaintances and it was very easy to scrape up nonchalant conversations with persons in a large crowd. I could stroll among them and "howdy" here and "howdy" there until I found a congenial soul who was seeking company.

I also knew that the con men used the same reasoning and that many of their "business deals" were begun with acquaintances started in such places. There were, however, good reasons for mingling with crowds and keeping my eyes open. I decided to go to the Bryan estate early and to stay late.

People thronged through great bronze gates at the entrance to the estate and, shortly after these were thrown open, I stationed myself there, assuming the role of "gate-keeper" to the Bryan family. It was one of the most interesting jobs I ever had.

"Let your assistant take care of these," I agreed, "and I'll go through the building with you."

"No, he's got to watch the side," he replied curtly. "You take care of the front, he'll watch the side and I'll go through the place. If he can't catch him I'll scare him out of one of you." He smiled knowingly as if he were the brains and the hero of the occasion.

There was nothing to do but obey his instructions. I would be helpless without him and his partner. The other fellow ambled to the side of the building and the General went inside.

I watched the front, very industriously, for a few minutes. Suddenly, I heard a commotion at the rear of the building and, leaving my post, I hurried around to see what it was all about. Before I could reach the back, I heard the chug, chug, chug, of a motor boat.

The rear of the building backed up to a sea wall and, as I raced to its edge, I saw Furey and my two police officers in the boat, putting out to sea. They were already out of pistol range, though I was tempted to fire a shot or two, just on a wild chance.

It was a hard hand to draw so early in the morning, after so bitter a night's vigil, but I was determined not to let anything slip. I was still in Joe Furey's that I lost no time in guessing. I set out to conjecture as to where the trio would land and how I might be on hand to receive them. They had set out toward the Cuban coast and I reasoned that this would be their destination. I was to be there first, I would have to make it snappy.

I rushed to town and chartered a hydroplane and, with the pilot, slid down the skids, gathered speed over the water, and, after a breathless moment, took the air. We swept the water's surface with binoculars but could see nothing of the little craft we were seeking.

We circled all the coral keys, then flew to Cuba, but there was not a trace of the three men in the boat, who had put off from the shore but a few minutes before.

The search on the Cuban shore was fruitless. The sea had washed out the trail of Joe Furey and the two "officers." I hope, if that sheriff who had run the rusty nail in his foot ever reads this, he will drop me a line of explanation.

The next day I went back to Miami and conferred with the Canadian mayor, Mr. Rackin. While we were talking, I bought a paper and scanned the headlines. Nothing of note met my eyes and I was about to cast the sheet aside, when I noticed that the magnificent estate of William Jennings Bryan was to be thrown open that afternoon to entertain the general public. Once a year, the Bryans were accustomed to invite the public to visit the estate and to feast their eyes upon the beautiful, rare shrubs and blooms which were carefully fenced in during the remainder of the year.

"Thousands of persons usually throng the winding paths and wander among the fragrant flowers on this day of days," the paper stated.

I was always wishing for crowds. Much of the information I got was gleaned from casual acquaintances and it was very easy to scrape up nonchalant conversations with persons in a large crowd. I could stroll among them and "howdy" here and "howdy" there until I found a congenial soul who was seeking company.

I also knew that the con men used the same reasoning and that many of their "business deals" were begun with acquaintances started in such places. There were, however, good reasons for mingling with crowds and keeping my eyes open. I decided to go to the Bryan estate early and to stay late.

People thronged through great bronze gates at the entrance to the estate and, shortly after these were thrown open, I stationed myself there, assuming the role of "gate-keeper" to the Bryan family. It was one of the most interesting jobs I ever had.

"Let your assistant take care of these," I agreed, "and I'll go through the building with you."

"No, he's got to watch the side," he replied curtly. "You take care of the front, he'll watch the side and I'll go through the place. If he can't catch him I'll scare him out of one of you." He smiled knowingly as if he were the brains and the hero of the occasion.

There was nothing to do but obey his instructions. I would be helpless without him and his partner. The other fellow ambled to the side of the building and the General went inside.

I watched the front, very industriously, for a few minutes. Suddenly, I heard a commotion at the rear of the building and, leaving my post, I hurried around to see what it was all about. Before I could reach the back, I heard the chug, chug, chug, of a motor boat.

The rear of the building backed up to a sea wall and, as I raced to its edge, I saw Furey and my two police officers in the boat, putting out to sea. They were already out of pistol range, though I was tempted to fire a shot or two, just on a wild chance.

It was a hard hand to draw so early in the morning, after so bitter a night's vigil, but I was determined not to let anything slip. I was still in Joe Furey's that I lost no time in guessing. I set out to conjecture as to where the trio would land and how I might be on hand to receive them. They had set out toward the Cuban coast and I reasoned that this would be their destination. I was to be there first, I would have to make it snappy.

I rushed to town and chartered a hydroplane and, with the pilot, slid down the skids, gathered speed over the water, and, after a breathless moment, took the air. We swept the water's surface with binoculars but could see nothing of the little craft we were seeking.

We circled all the coral keys, then flew to Cuba, but there was not a trace of the three men in the boat, who had put off from the shore but a few minutes before.

The search on the Cuban shore was fruitless. The sea had washed out the trail of Joe Furey and the two "officers." I hope, if that sheriff who had run the rusty nail in his foot ever reads this, he will drop me a line of explanation.

The next day I went back to Miami and conferred with the Canadian mayor, Mr. Rackin. While we were talking, I bought a paper and scanned the headlines. Nothing of note met my eyes and I was about to cast the sheet aside, when I noticed that the magnificent estate of William Jennings Bryan was to be thrown open that afternoon to entertain the general public. Once a year, the Bryans were accustomed to invite the public to visit the estate and to feast their eyes upon the beautiful, rare shrubs and blooms which were carefully fenced in during the remainder of the year.

"Thousands of persons usually throng the winding paths and wander among the fragrant flowers on this day of days," the paper stated.

I was always wishing for crowds. Much of the information I got was gleaned from casual acquaintances and it was very easy to scrape up nonchalant conversations with persons in a large crowd. I could stroll among them and "howdy" here and "howdy" there until I found a congenial soul who was seeking company.

I also knew that the con men used the same reasoning and that many of their "business deals" were begun with acquaintances started in such places. There were, however, good reasons for mingling with crowds and keeping my eyes open. I decided to go to the Bryan estate early and to stay late.

People thronged through great bronze gates at the entrance to the estate and, shortly after these were thrown open, I stationed myself there, assuming the role of "gate-keeper" to the Bryan family. It was one of the most interesting jobs I ever had.

"Let your assistant take care of these," I agreed, "and I'll go through the building with you."

"No, he's got to watch the side," he replied curtly. "You take care of the front, he'll watch the side and I'll go through the place. If he can't catch him I'll scare him out of one of you." He smiled knowingly as if he were the brains and the hero of the occasion.

There was nothing to do but obey his instructions. I would be helpless without him and his partner. The other fellow ambled to the side of the building and the General went inside.

I watched the front, very industriously, for a few minutes. Suddenly, I heard a commotion at the rear of the building and, leaving my post, I hurried around to see what it was all about. Before I could reach the back, I heard the chug, chug, chug, of a motor boat.

The rear of the building backed up to a sea wall and, as I raced to its edge, I saw Furey and my two police officers in the boat, putting out to sea. They were already out of pistol range, though I was tempted to fire a shot or two, just on a wild chance.

It was a hard hand to draw so early in the morning, after so bitter a night's vigil, but I was determined not to let anything slip. I was still in Joe Furey's that I lost no time in guessing. I set out to conjecture as to where the trio would land and how I might be on hand to receive them. They had set out toward the Cuban coast and I reasoned that this would be their destination. I was to be there first, I would have to make it snappy.

I rushed to town and chartered a hydroplane and, with the pilot, slid down the skids, gathered speed over the water, and, after a breathless moment, took the air. We swept the water's surface with binoculars but could see nothing of the little craft we were seeking.

We circled all the coral keys, then flew to Cuba, but there was not a trace of the three men in the boat, who had put off from the shore but a few minutes before.

The search on the Cuban shore was fruitless. The sea had washed out the trail of Joe Furey and the two "officers." I hope, if that sheriff who had run the rusty nail in his foot ever reads this, he will drop me a line of explanation.

The next day I went back to Miami and conferred with the Canadian mayor, Mr. Rackin. While we were talking, I bought a paper and scanned the headlines. Nothing of note met my eyes and I was about to cast the sheet aside, when I noticed that the magnificent estate of William Jennings Bryan was to be thrown open that afternoon to entertain the general public. Once a year, the Bryans were accustomed to invite the public to visit the estate and to feast their eyes upon the beautiful, rare shrubs and blooms which were carefully fenced in during the remainder of the year.

"Thousands of persons usually throng the winding paths and wander among the fragrant flowers on this day of days," the paper stated.

I was always wishing for crowds. Much of the information I got was gleaned from casual acquaintances and it was very easy to scrape up nonchalant conversations with persons in a large crowd. I could stroll among them and "howdy" here and "howdy" there until I found a congenial soul who was seeking company.

I also knew that the con men used the same reasoning and that many of their "business deals" were begun with acquaintances started in such places. There were, however, good reasons for mingling with crowds and keeping my eyes open. I decided to go to the Bryan estate early and to stay late.

People thronged through great bronze gates at the entrance to the estate and, shortly after these were thrown open, I stationed myself there, assuming the role of "gate-keeper" to the Bryan family. It was one of the most interesting jobs I ever had.

TEXAS TECH TOPICS

By C. W. Ratliff, Phones 13 and 14

"BRINK OF SILENCE" TO BE PRESENTED TONIGHT

"The Brink of Silence," a well known play, will be presented by a cast of the Stock and Buskin club tonight in their regular meeting in room 202. Following the play, try-outs for new members in the club will be held.

PRESIDENT HORN WILL TALK TO TEACHERS AT SNYDER

President Paul W. Horn will go to Snyder today, where he will speak before the district teachers meeting which is in session there this week. Five counties surrounding Snyder county are cooperating in the institute.

FACULTY TO HOLD REGULAR MEETING WEDNESDAY

Regular faculty meeting will be held Wednesday afternoon at four-fifteen instead of today. President Paul W. Horn announced yesterday. The meeting will be held in room 202 and routine matters will occupy the hour.

CORRESPONDENCE WORK HAS EXCELLENT ENROLLMENT

Showing an increase at the close of each week, the correspondence work at the college continues to be of much interest to out-of-town students and teachers according to information given out from the office of Prof. J. P. McDonald, director of the work. One hundred and twenty students are now enrolled for the work.

MISS HARRISON IS NEW SECRETARY TO PRESIDENT

Miss Pearl Harrison, of Roswell, New Mexico, has been selected to succeed Miss Mary Shackelford as secretary to President Horn. Miss Shackelford left to accept a position in the comptroller's office. Miss Harrison has been connected with the college for several months, having worked in the business office.

TECH PEOPLE TO ATTEND TEACHERS MEETING SOON

Quite a number of the Tech faculty members, including President Paul W. Horn are making plans to attend the meeting.

DR. HORN TO ENTERTAIN CLASS WITH RECEPTION

The members of Dr. Horn's Sunday school class of the Methodist church will be entertained with a reception at the President's home Thursday night. A large number of guests will be present.

SPINACH NEST

Sliced, hard-boiled eggs, entirely surrounded with boiled spinach, and covered with white sauce and bread crumbs make a delicious baked luncheon dish.

A Child may be nervous because of hereditary tendencies. But more than likely, the nervous child can't see well. Every victim of "nerves" should have a thorough eye examination.

Millard F. Swart

UNION BUS TERMINAL SCHEDULES

LUBBOCK TO AMARILLO
NORTH BOUND—READ DOWN		LUBBOCK	SOUTH BOUND—READ UP
8:00AM	10:00AM	2:00PM	5:00PM
8:00AM	11:00AM	3:00PM	6:00PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:00PM	7:00PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:30PM
9:00AM	12:00PM	4:10PM	6:3

Lubbock Real Estate Is A Good Investment-Look Over The Values Listed Below-Phone 13

Rates-Information CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING

An accommodation account will be carried for those who telephone their ads in. All wanted ads are strictly cash and are accepted over the telephone with the positive understanding that the account is to be paid when our collector calls the following day.

PHONE YOUR WANT AD TO 13 or 14

Our courteous Ad-Taker will receive your Want-Ad, helping you word it, then our collector will present the bid the following day.

All ads for situations, wanted are cash with order and will not be accepted over telephone. Out-of-town advertising cash with order.

The Lubbock-Journal reserves the right to classify wanted ads under appropriate headings, and to revise or withhold from publication any copy deemed objectionable.

Notice of any error must be given in time for correction before second insertion. Obituaries and cards of thanks at regular classified advertising rates.

RATES

3 cents per word each for the first three insertions, and two cents per word for each insertion thereafter. No ad accepted for less than 30 cents.

1. LOST & FOUND

LOST-Black felt hat on Y between 18th and 19th. Also shell rim glasses. Phone 1644-J.

FOUND-Glasses brown pocket book or hand bag containing 20c, handkerchief and pair of brown gloves. Can be obtained by calling at Lubbock office and paying for ad.

LOST-Valuable Beluchistan 18k38 inch rug. October 17th. Between Ave R on 19th street and El Camino Ave. Finder return to Avallanche for reward.

CALL 335 FOR A BOOKKEEPER, A
STENOGRAPHER, A TYPE-WRITER, MULTIGRAPH-
ING OR TYPING.
LUBBOCK
BUSINESS COLLEGE

2. MALE HELP WANTED

Wanted at once man and wife "without children" to work on ranch near Slaton. Steady employment to right parties. Call Telephone 905-F-2, Slaton.

WANTED-All the people that will drive out from Lubbock and pick cotton, my place is 1 1/2 miles from west end of pavement on main, 1 mile southeast of Northwest Ward school building, 225 acres of cotton. J. H. Goodpasture.

3. FEMALE HELP WANTED

Home laundries call 1134-J and quote prices.

WANTED-Cook and housekeeper, must be efficient, no laundry, convenient home, close in, 3 adults, good salary and permanent place to white woman capable of taking charge of home. Phone 1111-W or 604 for appointment for interview. Mrs. B. T. Thomas, 312 Ave. R.

WANTED ONE OR TWO GIRLS TO SHARE AN APARTMENT. CLOSE IN - EVERYTHING VERY REASONABLE. WRITE P. O. BOX 1684.

LADIES WANTED - To paint handkerchiefs. We furnish silk, patterns, instructions free. Excellent pay. Write for particulars and samples. Beaudart Co., 2225 Irving street, San Francisco.

4. SITUATION WANTED

WANTED-Family washing at 5c a pound or 5c a dozen. Phone 1232-R.

5. HOUSES FOR RENT

FOR RENT-Nice house, close in. Phone 1447.

FOR RENT-Modern 5 room cottage. 1201 17th street by the first of November.

FOR RENT-4 room store with garage, modern, on 5th west of Q. Write Mrs. Emory Butler, Route A, Box 115.

FOR RENT-4 room house, 1625 15th. Call J. C. Sanders, 85.

Four-room house, close in, cheap. 15th St. and Ave. D. Phone 1249-W.

HOUSE FOR RENT-Unfurnished or partly furnished. Call 1414-R.

6. UNFURNISHED HOUSE-KEEPING ROOMS

FOR RENT-Housekeeping rooms at a price you can afford to pay, working girls preferred or couple without children. 1416 8th street. Call 1429-J.

Three unfurnished rooms, light and water furnished, $12.50 per month. Ave. O. Phone 235-W.

Try an Avallanche-Journal want ad and watch the results.

10. FURNISHED HOUSE-KEEPING ROOMS

FOR RENT-Two furnished housekeeping rooms, convenient to bath, private entrance, close in. Phone 1289-J.

FOR RENT-Housekeeping rooms at a price you can afford to pay, working girls preferred or couple without children. 1416 8th St. Call 1429-J.

Light housekeeping rooms and bedrooms at 1415 Ave. L. Phone 1184.

FOR RENT-Two furnished light housekeeping rooms, brick house, garage, gas. 1815 18th.

Two furnished light housekeeping rooms. 1412 Ave. T. Phone 648-J.

FOR RENT-Nice furnished housekeeping rooms, cheap. Phone 621.

Half brick duplex, large rooms, close to schools and town. Best to be had. 1713 14th street.

FOR RENT-Nov. 15th, south half of duplex, east front, brick, all modern conveniences including Murphy bed, shades, and linoleum, wired for stove, piped for gas, finished with weather strips, hardwood floors, basement and brick garage, must be seen to be appreciated. Not the cheapest, but the best. $45.00 per mo. Apply 916 Ave. R. Phone 574 or 864.

FOR RENT-Half duplex, large rooms, corner lot, best location. 1713 14th street.

11. UNFURNISHED APARTMENTS FOR RENT

Two unfurnished rooms, front and back entrance, sink and bath, vacant the first. $15.00 month. Couple only. 1704 Ave. J.

12. FURNISHED APARTMENTS FOR RENT

Nicely furnished apartment, next to bath, hot and cold water, no children. Garage available. 1808 10th street.

FOR RENT-Four room furnished apartment, modern. Call 322.

Furnished apartment, couples only. 1201 17th.

Modern apartment for rent. 620 Ave. M. Phone 1114-W.

FOR RENT-3 room apartment, nicely furnished, modern, close in, no children. 1514 G.

Furnished apartment for rent. 2 rooms, private bath, garage, electric cook stove, gas heater, price $25.00. Phone 1296-W. Albert Darby.

Two room apartment, clean and modern, gas, to adults. 704 Ave. L.

13. BED ROOMS FOR RENT

Desirable bedroom, hot water and furnace heat. 1719 Main.

FOR RENT-Attractive bed room. Garage. Private entrance. 1208 Avenue O. Phone 522.

FOR RENT-Two bedrooms with kitchen privileges. Mrs. H. O. Waters. 3421 Broadway. Phone 684.

FOR RENT-Corner bedroom, modern conveniences, 1 block from Texas Ave. Phone 154.

NICELY furnished bedroom, next to bath, furnace heat, private entrance. Phone 1123-W.

FOR RENT-Close in, nice bedroom. Phone 979-J. 716 Ave. L.

FOR RENT-3 unfurnished rooms, free access to bath. 1917 7th street. Phone 1132-J.

Nice bedroom, all conveniences, gas, also garage. Phone 137.

BED ROOM FOR RENT, PRIVATE HOME GAS OR FURNACE HEAT. ADJOINING BATH. GENTLEMAN ONLY. 1218 9TH STREET.

Front bedroom in modern home, breakfast room privileges, employed couple preferred. 1905 Dixie Drive.

To couple or ladies, front bedroom, convenient to bath. 1704 Ave. J.

FOR RENT-Furnished room, private entrance. 2408 9th street.

Bedroom for rent, gas heat. 1509 Ave. M. Phone 1069-J.

Bedroom in private home, bath and hot water in room, close in. 1115 14th street. Phone 595.

14. BOARD AND ROOM

BOARD AND ROOM - STEAM HEAT. 1319 - 19 TH ST. PHONE 1125R

15. OFFICE SPACE

Office office in Temple Ellis building with lease at 35¢ per month. Call 157-J.

17. WANTED TO BUY

WANTED
5,000 Sacks
Will pay 3 1-2c
No Holes
THOMAS GRAIN COMPANY
Phone 324

WANTED TO BUY-Will pay cash for all classes of home and auto. McDonald Packing Co.

WANTED TO BUY-30 or 100 ton mule heads. See Lubbock Grain & Coal.

SELL US YOUR SECOND-HAND FURNITURE. WE DO REPAIRING OF ALL KINDS. SPEKERS BROS. PHONE 599 1215 AVE. E.

PHONES 335 F-2 W-3E SAMMONS & HOLT 1025 BROADWAY

221 acres, well improved, to sell on crop payment plan. 160 acres clear, undisturbed. Close in. Will trade for improved place and assume or pay different.

221 acres, well improved, to sell on crop payment plan. 160 acres clear, undisturbed. Close in. Will trade for improved place and assume or pay different.

18. BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES

FOR SALE
FILLING STATION AND GROCERY, ONLY ONE CLOSE TO HIGH SCHOOL. GOOD BUSINESS. INQUIRE AT AVALLANCHE OR SEE J. B. HANKINS. LOCATED 1900 9TH, BOX 134. SLATON, TEXAS.

20 FOR SALE OR TRADE
FOR SALE OR TRADE - New brick home on pavement, 19th St., double garage and servant house, will trade for farm or clear city property. Also a two room house for rent. This house has a garage. All new. Call 116.

FOR SALE-Meat market, up-to-date fixtures, good cash business, best location in Slaton. Write box 78. Avallanche for information.

Five room house for sale or trade. Apply Goodyear Shoe Shop.

1926 Ford Coupe to trade for your equity in larger car. Phone 653-W.

FOR SALE OR TRADE - New brick house in pavement, 19th street. Double garage and servant house, will trade for farm or clear city property; also two room house for rent. This house has a garage, all new. Call 116.

12 ROOM BRICK BOARDING HOUSE FURNISHED. SERVANT'S ROOM. PHONE 1187

FOR SALE-AT ACTUAL COST 4-ROOM STUCCO BETWEEN TECH AND HIGH SCHOOL. AFTER 6 O'CLOCK CALL 331-J.

22. FOR SALE MISCELLANEOUS

1,000 POUNDS GREEN TOMATOES, 2 1-2 CENTS PER POUND. CHEAP AS DIRT. HAY DAVIDSON

Fresh Country Eggs
(Come and Get Yours)
Lubbock Feed & Hatchery
316 Main St. Phone 1334

SAND and GRAVEL
Phone 324
Thomas Sand and Gravel Co.

STORAGE WANTED
ANY KIND-BONDED
WAREHOUSE-1205 AVE. H.
PHONE 678.

23. MISCELLANEOUS

C. M. HAWES MATTRESS AND UPHOLSTERING CO. NEW MATTRESS TO ORDER; ALSO RENOVATING OLDEST PLANT ON THE PLAINS. PHONE 363-509 BROADWAY.

FOR RENT-3 room apartment, nicely furnished, modern, close in, no children. 1514 G.

Furnished apartment for rent. 2 rooms, private bath, garage, electric cook stove, gas heater, price $25.00. Phone 1296-W. Albert Darby.

Two room apartment, clean and modern, gas, to adults. 704 Ave. L.

Desirable bedroom, hot water and furnace heat. 1719 Main.

FOR RENT-Attractive bed room. Garage. Private entrance. 1208 Avenue O. Phone 522.

FOR RENT-Two bedrooms with kitchen privileges. Mrs. H. O. Waters. 3421 Broadway. Phone 684.

FOR RENT-Corner bedroom, modern conveniences, 1 block from Texas Ave. Phone 154.

NICELY furnished bedroom, next to bath, furnace heat, private entrance. Phone 1123-W.

FOR RENT-Close in, nice bedroom. Phone 979-J. 716 Ave. L.

FOR RENT-3 unfurnished rooms, free access to bath. 1917 7th street. Phone 1132-J.

Nice bedroom, all conveniences, gas, also garage. Phone 137.

BED ROOM FOR RENT, PRIVATE HOME GAS OR FURNACE HEAT. ADJOINING BATH. GENTLEMAN ONLY. 1218 9TH STREET.

Front bedroom in modern home, breakfast room privileges, employed couple preferred. 1905 Dixie Drive.

To couple or ladies, front bedroom, convenient to bath. 1704 Ave. J.

FOR RENT-Furnished room, private entrance. 2408 9th street.

Bedroom for rent, gas heat. 1509 Ave. M. Phone 1069-J.

Bedroom in private home, bath and hot water in room, close in. 1115 14th street. Phone 595.

24. FURNITURE FOR SALE

WANTED
Your old stove in trade for a New Process GAS RANGE! NEW PROCESS APPLIANCE CO. Conley Bldg. Phone 115

FOR SALE-A nice large cabinet, painted heater. Good as new. A bargain. 1421 Broadway.

26. HOUSES FOR SALE

FOR SALE-New five room modern residence at actual cost. Good terms. Phone 1854-W.

27. REAL ESTATE

MR. PROSPECTOR
We maintain quite an extensive farm and land agency-and concentrate on city property-we have some real bargains. See us before you buy.

LEWELLIN & LEWELLIN
Phone 711-M Brown Bldg

221 acres, well improved, to sell on crop payment plan. 160 acres clear, undisturbed. Close in. Will trade for improved place and assume or pay different.

221 acres, well improved, to sell on crop payment plan. 160 acres clear, undisturbed. Close in. Will trade for improved place and assume or pay different.

221 acres, well improved, to sell on crop payment plan. 160 acres clear, undisturbed. Close in. Will trade for improved place and assume or pay different.

221 acres, well improved, to sell on crop payment plan. 160 acres clear, undisturbed. Close in. Will trade for improved place and assume or pay different.

221 acres, well improved, to sell on crop payment plan. 160 acres clear, undisturbed. Close in. Will trade for improved place and assume or pay different.

27. REAL ESTATE

BARGAINS
Five room cottage, 18th St. north front, or trade, $2750; Dodge roadster, 5 good tires, 1925 model, terms, or lot; 5 room brick veneer, near Tech, new, modern, terms, $4750; 10 acres, Plainview highway, close in, $1200; $8,500, with 6 room house, corner 15th and Broadway and a good buy; 5 room brick home, Ellwood Place, terms or some trade, $4000. A. H. Martin, or Chas. P. O'Neill, Realtor. Phone 236.

SIX ROOM HOME EASY TERMS
This may be the one you have been waiting for, a good six room frame cottage, situated on one of Lubbock's paved streets, paving paid, the lot is 75x127.4 ft. is a north front and easy walking distance to high, junior high, and town, a real bargain at $5,500, on very easy terms.

R. A. MCKINNEY
Phone 886

ONLY $550, EASY TERMS
Buys this beautiful 50x150 foot lot, actually worth $750, situated between two good brick homes, south side. More money has been invested in fine homes in this block than any one-half block from pavement in Lubbock. See it Monday, it won't last.

R. A. MCKINNEY
Phone 886

BARGAIN BEAUTIFUL 2 1-2 ACRES
Tract, just 600 feet south of Tech grounds, lights, its a north front on 21st, would consider good lot, or sell on easy terms.

R. A. MCKINNEY
Phone 886

IF YOU WANT to buy a lease around the Tabbot and Shumans well, on the Ellwood and in Lamb county, see us.

TOM JONES REALTY CO.
Office Lubbock Hotel

FOR SALE
Modern five room bungalow, close in, only one-half block from pavement, 75 foot lot, priced to sell, small cash payment, balance like rent.

Cliff Lindsey
At Palace Theatre.

FARMS ARE NOW SELLING, REASON, COTTON, 20c

320 acres improved 8 miles from Lubbock. Price $42.50 per acre.

320 acres cat claw raw. Lays perfect. 2 miles good town. 12 miles Lubbock. Price $35 per acre.

620 acres 10 miles Lubbock, 1 mile of gin and town. Owner says get best offer. 80 acres on good road, fine soil, no improvements. 60 acres in crop. 5 miles from Lubbock. Owner non resident, says submit bid.

320 acres improved 8 miles Tech college. Price $45.00 per acre.

177 acres cat claw $35.00 per acre. Terms $5.00 acre down, balance 10 years 6 per cent.

104 acres raw near town and gin, $40.00 per acre, easy terms.

SEE P. F. MURRAY
202 LEADER BLDG.

WE ARE AGENTS FOR COTTON, CORN, AND WHEAT LANDS

300,000 acres raw land selling from $1.00 to $4.00 per acre. Easy terms. From $1.00 to $7.50 down payment an acre. Come in, write or see.

P. F. MURRAY
202 Leader Bldg.

A good home, clear of debt, to trade, this home is in Athens, five blocks of Simonson College, and two blocks of the Breckenridge highway, six large rooms first floor and apartment on second floor; lot 100 feet by 140 feet, on paved street, will trade for Lubbock property or small acreage. Raleigh Martin, Avallanche Bldg. Phone 1223.

We have one half section farm at real bargain, can sell quarter section separate, good homes for sale or trade, can take used car on first payment. We solicit your listings.

HALLS & BARTON
1213 Avallanche Bldg. Phone 1423

FOR SALE CHEAP
Two modern houses, 4 rooms each, garages, water, lights, gas, 25 foot lot, can keep chickens and cows; 35 lots in Ellwood Addition. Call 923-W or 206.

28. WANTED TO RENT
Want to rent furnished house in vicinity of new city standpipe, adults. Phone 584-W ask for Mr. Powell.

WANTED TO RENT - Furnished bungalow with gas, couple, no children. Call Mrs. Tom Hoescher, 456

YOUR CHANGES are better of having good results if you can rent ad from three to six times. It costs little more.

WANTED TO RENT - Five room unfurnished house - must be piped for gas - close in - on paved street and rent reasonable. Adults. Write and state location and price per month. Address -

XXX
LUBBOCK AVALLANCHE

29. FINANCIAL

CITY LOANS
Payments semi-annual, average only $12.25 per month. No commissions or attorney fees.

CHAS. H. READ
Bush Building Phone 524

FARM LOANS
Lowest interest rates. No commissions and no stock to buy. The only contract permitting payment of part any time during year without penalty. We make inspections.

CHAS. H. READ
Bush Building Phone 524

CITY LOANS
New or refinanced monthly loans at $12.50 per $1000. Annual loans on residences at 8 per cent and 7 per cent on business property; 60 percent valuation and quick commitments.

INSURANCE AND BONDS ALL KINDS
J. A. McELVEY, AGENCY
223 Ellis Bldg. Phone 1111

INSURANCE - BONDS
GILLON & McAFEE
415 Ellis Bldg. Phone 234

FRANK JONES, AGENT
LOANS-INSURANCE, OIL INVESTMENTS
CITIZENS NAT'L BANK
PHONE 886

CITY LOANS
NEW OR RE-FINANCED
Quick service, convenient monthly payments, home capital. Exceptional repayment privileges.
LUBBOCK BUILDING AND LOAN ASSOCIATION
Ground floor Lub. Nat'l Bank Bldg. Phone 208

FARM & CITY LOANS
CITY LOANS $13.35 PER $1,000.00. FARM LOANS AT 6% AND UP. PROMPT SERVICE.
SCROGGIN & FERGUSON
208 Leader Bldg. Phone 707

CITY LOANS
Let us refinance that old high priced loan into cheaper rate at $12.50 per thousand and per month. We will make you a five year loan at 7 per cent. Cannot be beat in Lubbock.

GREEN BROS.
205 Leader Bldg. Phone 1187

SAM J. CULWELL
INSURANCE
Lands, Loans and City Loans.
220 TEMPLE ELLIS BLDG.
Phone 1461

33. LIVE STOCK
WANTED TO BUY
Will pay highest cash price for fat cattle and hogs. M. System Markets. Phone 168.

FOR SALE-Good Jersey cow. 1603 23rd street.

NOTICES
REMOVAL NOTICE
To my friends and customers C. C. HOLT, Watchmaker Formerly with G. K. Watkins will be located at MEYERS JEWELRY AND MUSIC STORE 1005 Broadway

WILSON ABSTRACT CO.
Plant Established 1902
One of the best equipped abstract plants in Texas covering every foot of land in Lubbock, Hockley and Cochran counties.
(In Our Own Home)
364 Wilson Bldg. Phone 1181
Notary Work

Lubbock Nursery opened by Mrs. Hargett at 1919 9th street. Satisfaction guaranteed.

</

DIPHTHERIA

(Continued from Page 1)

According to a statement issued last night by Dr. H. H. Dunn, superintendent of the city school system, the municipal department of education will co-operate 100 per cent with Doctor Dunn and the city officials in the effort to prevent a diphtheria epidemic in Lubbock. No school child registered from any district where the disease is reported, will be permitted to enter school without a certificate of vaccination, he said, and faculty members will keep close watch upon all pupils who appear to be ailing.

The quarantine affecting the public gathering places and the private homes will be maintained for one week, when it will be lifted, provided no other cases are reported in the section, Doctor Dunn stated last night. Should other cases arise in the area the quarantine will be spread to include all homes affected and the present cases under ban will then be kept closed until all cases nearby disappear, he said. Large placards, bearing the word "Quarantined," have been placed upon buildings closed.

Dunn Issues Warning.

Speaking in his capacity of health officer, Doctor Dunn last night broadcast a warning to the parents of Lubbock to watch their children closely until it is certain that diphtheria will not get a foothold here. He advised that all school children have their throats and noses swabbed daily with a mild antiseptic solution and that parents of children complaining of sore throats take the youngsters to physicians for examination.

The period of incubation (meaning from the time the disease germ begins working until the case develops) in diphtheria is usually seven days," Doctor Dunn said, "and it is particularly prevalent among children between the ages of two and seven." Parents of children of these ages are urged to be particularly watchful. Physicians of Lubbock have plenty of immunizing serum, Doctor Dunn reports, and more has been ordered in preparation for a possible reappearance of the malady.

Funeral services for the Bowley baby will be held this afternoon. Interment will be made in the cemetery here.

SHOE BLACK

A good shoeblack can be built into your closet by slanting the shoeboard outward and putting a cloth on it high enough to hold the shoes.

A thin soft shoe custard makes a delightful treat for bread, rice, steamed fruit, cocoa or other puddings.

SMITH ATTACKED

(Continued From Page 1)

republicans, but he has not investigated either the counties of the greater city, or Albany, which all know were subject to investigation and where he could have found matters of all sorts in need of correction.

"There is one conclusion and only one, that fair-minded citizens of this nation can draw—Governor Smith is a Tammany man, and there is no such thing as a new Tammany."

"I saw at Rochester that a man must be judged by the company he keeps, and though we do not question the personal integrity of Governor Smith, he is sponsored and backed by Tammany Hall."

"There are no two ways about it, Governor Smith was bred in the Tammany fold and is the bellwether of his flock."

Col. Roosevelt said that since his Rochester speech there had been no attempt to meet any of the Smith and Tammany.

BUTTERED POPCORN

Crisp, brown, buttered popcorn sprinkled in small quantity on top of cream of corn soup, adds an appetizing touch.

TAX REDUCTION

(Continued from Page 1)

present 13 1-2; repeal the estate tax outright; revise surtax rates on individual incomes between $16,000 and $30,000; exempt from taxation income derived from American bankers, acceptances held by foreign central banks of issue, and permit corporations with net income of no more than $25,000, and having no more than ten stockholders, to file returns as partnerships instead of as corporations, if they so desired.

Urges Taxes Be Kept

He argued against abolition of reduction of war time excises and miscellaneous taxes, declaring these should be kept "in the interest of a well balanced tax system."

The surplus of only $274,000,000 estimated for 1929 compares a prospective surplus of $455,000,000 for 1928 and an actual surplus of $435,000,000 for the fiscal year 1927. Upon this basis and assuming that a tax revision bill becomes a law prior to next March 15, Mr. Mellon said, the reductions will only effect the revenue for the last six months of 1928, but will apply to the full twelve months of 1929, and therefore it is the surplus for 1929 that must be considered.

While Mr. Mellon admitted the treasury in recent years had erred in estimating prospective surpluses, he argued this had resulted from revenue derived from non-recurring sources.

Same Receipts

He explained that treasury estimates that the same current receipts would be available in 1929 as in 1928 and as were actually collected in 1927, adding that "there is no evidence available to justify the assumption that it will be larger, but there are certain definite indications that they may be smaller."

The treasury hoped, however, he continued, that the unfavorable factor will be offset by the normal growth of the country.

Apparently taking cognizance of the already announced democratic plan for tax reduction of between $400,000,000 and $500,000,000 and also of statements by democratic leaders that in past years treasury estimates always have been too low, Mr. Mellon said that underestimates were not the result of deliberate intention or policy.

"Every effort to avoid a repetition of this result," he declared, "has been made in preparation of the estimates presented here. It would be unwarranted and unwise in these figures, the treasury has not consciously nor as a matter of policy played safe."

STATE TAX CUT

(Continued from Page 1)

said, "could be partially foreseen at the time the board met in July, but then we could not take these matters into account because of the terms of the statute."

"But I know that the six million people of Texas will be ruled by common sense and the uttermost economy and if the state government were a private business, I am quite sure the managers of the business would reduce the tax rate by approximately 15 to 20 per cent. I believe the other members of the tax board are of the same mind."

"If the law prohibits the tax board from making this reduction, inevitable millions of surplus cash will be in the treasury next fall. I propose to take whatever steps may be available to bring about a saving of the payment of these taxes and the cost of their collection."

"Obviously the legislature intended to limit the board to consideration of the matters mentioned in the statute and to prevent the consideration of possible changes in conditions in order to avoid the disastrous results if such changes were taken into account in fixing the rate and then the anticipated change did not take place."

"See Large Surplus."

"It is estimated from the comptroller's report at the time of the meeting of the tax board that the general revenue fund would have to its credit $201,687,311 on September 1. Of course, Mr. Terrell could not accurately estimate on July 15 the balance which would be on the credit of the general fund on September 1. It now appears that the balance was $214,212,75, or more than $12,500,000 in excess of the estimated balance furnished to be used in computing the rate.

"The books of the comptroller's department disclosed that from sources other than the penitentiary system, $2,235,250 more money was received into the general revenue fund during July, August and September of this year than was received during the corresponding months of last year."

"It is now apparent that the state ad valorem tax rate could be reduced four or five cents and furnish sufficient income to meet all legislative appropriations and other obligations of the government. This would mean a saving of from $16 to $20 of each $100 of state ad valorem taxes to the tax paying public of this state."

"The books of the comptroller's department disclosed that from sources other than the penitentiary system, $2,235,250 more money was received into the general revenue fund during July, August and September of this year than was received during the corresponding months of last year."

"It is now apparent that the state ad valorem tax rate could be reduced four or five cents and furnish sufficient income to meet all legislative appropriations and other obligations of the government. This would mean a saving of from $16 to $20 of each $100 of state ad valorem taxes to the tax paying public of this state."

"The books of the comptroller's department disclosed that from sources other than the penitentiary system, $2,235,250 more money was received into the general revenue fund during July, August and September of this year than was received during the corresponding months of last year."

"It is now apparent that the state ad valorem tax rate could be reduced four or five cents and furnish sufficient income to meet all legislative appropriations and other obligations of the government. This would mean a saving of from $16 to $20 of each $100 of state ad valorem taxes to the tax paying public of this state."

"The books of the comptroller's department disclosed that from sources other than the penitentiary system, $2,235,250 more money was received into the general revenue fund during July, August and September of this year than was received during the corresponding months of last year."

AUDIENCE LIKES

COSSACK CHORUS

RUSSIAN MALE SINGERS ARE FIRST PRESENTATION OF TECH ARTIST COURSE

Initiating the Technological college artist course for this year, a Russian Cossack chorus, composed of 11 male singers, sang last evening at the college gymnasium.

Dressed in the costume of their country and singing in their native language, these singers brought music that carried, in addition to its harmony, an enchantment that held the audience. A wild and unusual rhythm, a melody and the military trend that was echoed through many of the songs, caught the fancy of the audience.

As encores, popular American songs and ballads were with Mr. Frjkin, baritone, singing the solo parts. In conclusion, the group sang "Dixie" to which the listeners responded with rousing applause.

Sergeant Scofield, directed this band of singers, who appeared with instrumental accompaniment, and the humming of the men for the solos, attracted considerable pleased comment.

One of the more popular of the singers was Mr. Kolesnikoff, whose voice was of extreme depth and tenor solos of Mr. Zentseff, were well received.

The next artist course number for this year is to be an organ recital at the First Methodist church on the evening of November 14, W. R. Wagborne, announced last evening.

Slaton Items

BY MRS. L. C. ODUM Slaton, Phone 257-4

Mr. and Mrs. Edw. Seely and children of Amarillo spent the week end here as guests of F. C. Jackson and family.

Mrs. Lipscomb Sexton and little daughter, Elizabeth, of Brownwood are visiting at the home of Mrs. Sexton's sister, Mrs. E. H. Hendrick.

Mr. and Mrs. Hickel of Crosbyton are visiting at the home of their daughter here, Mrs. O. V. Sims.

Rev. Perry of Clovis, N. M. is filling the pulpit at the First Christian church here now, and preaching some very fine sermons.

Mrs. W. M. Lane spent Monday in Lubbock visiting at the home of Mrs. Okard.

Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Wooten and daughter, Minnie, and little Miss Marion, spent the week end here as guests of Mrs. W. H. Rogers in Lubbock Sunday.

Miss Luby Carey and Mr. Bob Johnson of Lubbock visited the former sister, Miss Iva Carey here Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Tom Blair and small son Tommy returned home Saturday morning from Amarillo where they visited Mr. Blair's sister, Mrs. E. W. Walter.

Mrs. W. R. Galner and children, spent the week end in Lubbock visiting Mrs. Galner's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Poney.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Howard of Lubbock visited Mrs. Howard's aunt Mrs. R. H. Todd, here Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. S. W. Hall of Amarillo is spending the week here as guests of her sister, Mrs. K. C. Scott and George Evelyn.

Mrs. David Tudor left the last of the week for Pecos where she will visit friends and relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Kimbro of Lubbock spent the week end with Mrs. Kimbro's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. I. Robertson.

R. A. DeLong has left for Riverside, California, after receiving a telegram that his mother, Mrs. George had just died there.

Sam Robertson left Friday for Kansas City with a load of cattle for market. He will return the latter part of this week.

The Sunbeams and Y. W. A. girls of the Baptist church went to Pleasant Valley Sunday afternoon and put on a program.

Mr. T. O. Petty of this place and his sister, Mrs. R. C. Morgan, of Amarillo were called to Houston last Wednesday on account of the death of their father, W. A. Petty. He was survived by his wife and five sons and daughters. All were present at the funeral.

Rev. Baker, Presbyterian Field Missionary of the Amarillo district, preached at the Presbyterian church here Sunday evening.

WOMAN IS DROWNED

Body of Laura M. Purvis, Formerly of Galveston, Is Found Floating in Potomac River

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31 (AP)—The body of a woman found floating in the Potomac river yesterday near Mathias Point, Va., was identified today by her son as that of Mrs. Laura M. Purvis, 48 years old, of Washington and Galveston, Texas, who is believed to have jumped from a Norfolk and Washington steamer Saturday night.

Friends of Mrs. Beatrice Poe, who disappeared from the same boat two weeks ago, made no effort to view the body as the description received here did not tally with that of the 35-year-old Washington widow.

Wm. Penn—A Good Cigar

STOCK MARKET RALLIES

Wall Street Quiet Again After Two Weeks of Active Turnout On Stock Boards in Gotham

NEW YORK, Oct. 31 (AP)—The stock market, after two weeks of turmoil, quieted down today when moderate rallies were scored by most of the active issues. Advances, which were largely in the way of technical corrections, ranged from 11 to 23 a share, with a few extreme gains of 45 to 50.

The outstanding individual feature of the market, however, was a break of 49 a share by American Sugar Refining, which sold at a new low price for the year at 470 a share.

EXTRA SPECIAL

Black Silk

Heavy Satin Faced Crepe

$1.98

Regular $3.50, real fine grade, 40 inches wide. This is an exceptionally fine quality and is the best value you have ever had the opportunity to buy.

Black is Good---

It is more in demand than ever before in our business career.

We have been receiving every day of this fine silk but would sell out before night. Monday we opened up the biggest quantity of black silk we ever received at one time and we believe we have enough to last several days. But you better get yours soon for we bought all of it there is available at this time.

Barrier Bros.
DEPENDABLE MERCHANDISE

FALL DEFENSE FIGHTS

Seek to Block Government's Giving of Testimony to Show Trading of Sinclair's Oil Firm.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31 (AP)—Defense counsel in the Fall-Sinclair conspiracy trial fought strenuously today to block the government in the presentation of testimony showing the wide ramifications of oil deals involving the Continental Trading Company Ltd., of Canada and the Sinclair company in which the Standard Oil company of Indiana holds a half interest.

They were successful in keeping from the jury what companies were named in the skeleton draft of the final contract under which the Continental concern agreed to purchase thirty odd million barrels of oil from the late A. E. Humphreys' companies and also figures showing that H. L. Phillips, president of the Sinclair Crude Oil Purchasing company, had been in error in his testimony as to the amount of oil delivered under that contract.

Despite these setbacks, special oil counsel presented evidence designed to show the Indiana Standard guaranteed the Continental contract for the directors of the Sinclair Purchasing company, although they were not themselves directors of that company, which is owned jointly by the Standard and the Sinclair Consolidated companies.

GOVERNOR PLANS FIGHT

Oklahoma Executive To Make Written Answer to Charges used in Asking for Special Legislature

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 31 (AP)—When Governor Henry S. Johnston replies to allegations brought to light in a petition asking for a special investigating session of the legislature he will do so in writing he said today.

The petition, prepared by H. Tom Knight, of Claremore, chairman of the House appropriations committee in the eleventh session of the legislature, was made public last night, but has not been presented to the governor.

Knight said it probably would be presented with names of 49 members of the legislature appended, within a week.

ELDER "BOOM" QUIETER

PARIS, Oct. 31 (AP)—Ruth Elder slipped a little farther out of the Parisian limelight today by spending the All Souls' holiday resting and doing a little sight seeing.

On her frequent excursions from her hotel, the American aviatrix got no more notice than ordinarily is given to an extremely well dressed young woman.

The sole official occasion of the American girl whom the French have nicknamed "The Happy Midwife," was a visit with her cousin, George Haldeman, to the Sorbonne's radio institute, where the two broadcast greetings to the French republic. They spent a little time looking over the city's points of interest and the rest of the time luxuriatingly doing nothing, or answering some of the several hundred letters and telegrams that have piled up since their arrival.

See SINCERITY

MOVIE

Wallace Berry

See SINCERITY

DALLAS

See SINCERITY

MOVIE

Wallace Berry

See SINCERITY

DALLAS

See SINCERITY

MOVIE

Wallace Berry

See SINCERITY

DALLAS

See SINCERITY

MOVIE

Wallace Berry

See SINCERITY

DALLAS

See SINCERITY

MOVIE

Wallace Berry

See SINCERITY

DALLAS

See SINCERITY

Now for the greatest week in the history of our store. The goods are here and the values are exceedingly attractive!

in every city—in every town there is one store that undersells—in LUBBOCK it's

Grollman's

BROADWAY at AVENUE J

Anticipate Your Winter Costume Desires all this Week in Our

HARVEST SALE!

of LOVELY FABRICS

Bolts and bolts of crisp new fabrics in host of lovely Fall designs that will afford you many pleasant hours of indoor preparation of your winter wardrobe.

Especially do we call your attention to further reduction in our Woolens.

Woolens

COATING—beautiful assortment of rich browns in 54-inch widths. Harvest Sale Price $2.95

COATING—wonderful quality in 54-in. width of Sport Patterns, yard $1.79

WOOL FLANNELS—54-inch widths in a variety of good patterns, yd. $2.19 to $3.85

SUITING—Beautiful wool tweed suiting in mixed grey and mixed tans—54-inch width $3.49

Silks

40-inch spe de Chene—wonderful assortment, colors in good quality at yd. $1.69

40-inch spe de Chenes—lovely colors at yard $1.29

40-inch spe Back Satins in a good quality 1 beautiful Fall colors, yd. $2.59

54-inch and Wool mixture, sport patterned good assortment, yard $2.85

Ginghams

32-inch Dress Ginghams 19¢

21 per yard 39¢

French Ginghams and Soisette prints, per yard 9¢

32-inch Dress Ginghams, one lot at per yard

Percales

36-inch sales, wonderful variety of new patterns, guaranteed fast colors, yard 19¢

32-inch fine, Tinker Belle quality at per yard 19¢

Harvest Sale Reductions on the largest stock of Union Mills' Towels ever shown on the South Plains

Huck

16x30 Huck Towels with fancy border each 15¢

Turkish

Large 18 double Thread Turkish Towels, h 22½¢

Luggage

Wardrobe trunks, Ladies Hat Boxes, small lockers, Gladstones and Suit Cases all reduced as much as 15%

Shoes!

The reason this store is selling more Shoes than any other South Plains store is because we are offering wide choice of selection and LOWER PRICES in every instance.

Miscellaneous Items From Various Department at Unusual Values!

PART WOOL BLANKETS

Soft, fluffy, Plaid Blankets, wide binding with matching color. All colors (66x80) standard, Double, at pair $3.95

ALL WOOL BLANKETS

100 percent all Wool Blankets very finely woven, block patterns in wanted colors (66x80) Double Blankets at pair $9.95

NASHUA PART WOOL

A single Blanket Size 66x80, block pattern with silk binding to match each $5

NASHUA PART WOOL

A double Blanket Size 72x90, in Blue, Pink, Grey, Lavender and Gold. Fluffy, warm and durable—pair $5

WARMLY PLAID BLANKET

A double Blanket, 66x90—with Selected assorted block patterns in wanted colors—at pair $5

BED SPREADS

Krinkled Bed Spreads—50x105 in colors of Blue and Gold—at each $9

HOSIERY

Ladies' All Silk Chiffon Hcse, fall colors—Silk top to toe at pair 88¢

Full fashioned, All Silk Chiffon Hose, fall colors, some are substandard—at pair 98¢

Wayne knit Hose—No. 702—Full fashioned, Silk Chiffon, Silk top to toe—fall colors $1.33 at pair