Steel Firms Scolded For Price Hikes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House labeled as "irresponsible" today the moves of price-boosting steel producers, complaining they acted without talking over the situation with the government beforehand.

A statement was put out at the White House in the name of Gardner Ackley, chairman of President Johnson's Council of Economic Advisers.

In response to a question, press secretary Bill D. Moyers said it would be fair to assume that Johnson discussed the matter with Ackley before the statement was issued.

A short time earlier, U.S. Steel, the giant of the industry, and Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co. had joined the parade of other firms which have announced price increases since Tuesday.

Then right on the heels of the White House denunciation of the move, Bethlehem Steel joined in the increase. That made it unanimous among the producers.

Ackley's statement did not flatly put an inflationary tag on the announced price increases. Moyers, when asked if the administration did deem it inflationary, insisted that Ackley is "very concerned about the impact of these increases on the economy and on the goods that utilize steel."

Ackley said that immediately after Inland Steel announced on Tuesday its plans to raise prices, he wired each of the other 12 largest steel companies to "urgently request that your company take no action prior to discussion with the government."

The economist said the first four firms to follow Inland's lead acted "without the prior discussion which I requested."

"In my view, the action of these companies can only be characterized as irresponsible. They were unwilling even to hear the government state the public interest in this matter," he said.

Inland's action was followed Wednesday by Jones & Laughlin and Armco. Then Pittsburgh Steel Co. and National Steel Corp. acted earlier today.

Ackley said, in words reminiscent of President John F. Kennedy's denunciation of a price increase by U.S. Steel several years ago, "This is not an hour in which this business leadership of America can take pride."

All the increases were essentially the same $3 fer prime grade hot and cold rolled sheet and strip and $2 for secondary grades of the same products.

All the White House had to say up to the time of the increases today was that it still opposes any inflationary price rises. It would not say what — if anything—it might do about a rollback effort.

The President's Council of Economic Advisers was known to have sent out messages to producers after Inland started the parade and a Pittsburgh Steel Co. spokesman confirmed that the firm got one of the messages.

Another of them was known to have gone to U.S. Steel.

The Pittsburgh spokesman would not disclose the contents of the communications, but they were reported to have asked that the price line be held until the council could complete a study on whether the increases would add too heavily to inflation pressures.

Bandit Hunted In Holdup, Slaying

A bandit who took $2 at gunpoint from Henry Whitehurst, owner of the Big Dipper Donut Shop on the East Highway, at 2:47 a.m. today also is a suspect in the killing of Lewis Thomas Snyder, 65 - year - old nightwatchman for the City of Roscoe.

A .45 caliber pistol believed to be used in the holdup was found near Snyder's body. A trucker, Mullin McDonald of Plainview, discovered the nightwatchman about 5 o'clock this morning. He had been shot once in the neck and twice in the back with his own gun, also a .45 caliber pistol, according to law enforcement officers. The body was in the street at the corner of Main and Broadway between Winn's Grocery and the Kerby Smith Magnolia Station. Officers believe Snyder may have surprised the killer during an attempted robbery.

Police said Whitehurst, owner of the donut shop told them a blond-haried man wearing a yellow shirt with tan western pants and armed with a .45 caliber pistol and a knife entered the shop early this morning and demanded "the money." Whitehurst, who was making doughnuts at the time, handed the armed robber $2 from his shirt pocket. Officers later recovered $1 which was found behind the doughut shop.

Officers said the bandit may have walked north across the railroad tracks of the Santa Fe to a car following the robbery. The getaway car is believed to be a 1964 Model white Ford which reportedly was stolen this morning from the Travelodge on the East Highway. Owner of the vehicle is A. G. Johnson, a night clerk at the motel.

The bandit may have driven to Snyder in a pickup which was stolen from Forrest Chevrolet Co. last night in Sweetwater. The pickup was discovered by officers abandoned at the west side of Key Brothers Implement Co. here.

A knife matching the description of one used in the robbery also was recovered near the body in Roscoe along with the gun believed to have been used in the holdup. The nightwatchman's gun still is missing as well as the car stolen in Snyder.

Officers put out a statewide alert for the suspect. City Police, Sheriff's authorities and other area law enforcement officers were up most of the night investigating the armed robbery and the killing.

A man wearing clothing similar to that worn by the man in the holdup was seen earlier last night at the 66 Truck Stop on the East Highway. He was questioned but no arrest was made.

The armed bandit and suspected killer was described as being about 5-feet, 10-inches in height and about 18 years of age. The gun taken from the slain watchman is a chrome-plated, pearl-handled .45 pistol.

Funeral for Snyder is pending at Wells Funeral Home is Roscoe. Born Oct. 24, 1900, in Falls County, he was a resident of Roscoe for over 60 years. He married Mavis Witherspoon Aug. 5, 1921, in Roscoe and worked for the Roscoe, Snyder and Pacific Railway from the age of 17 until his retirement two years ago. Snyder had been a watchman for the City of Roscoe since his retirement. He was a member of the Church of Christ.

Surviving are the widow of the home; five daughters, Mrs. Wilda Mae Dixon and Mrs. Edna Kinnard, both of Pecos, Mrs. Martha Rae Kidd, Hobbs, N.M., Mrs. Melba Boyd, Hurst, and Mrs. Ethel Champion, Roscoe; one son, Durwood Snyder, Roscoe; three brothers, Joe Snyder, Crane, David Snyder, Sweetwater, and Otho Snyder, Loraine; two sisters, Mrs. Tom Turk, Sweetwater, and Mrs. Inez Britton, Saxie; and 10 grandchildren.

Snyder would have observed his 45th wedding anniversary Friday.

Both Parties Back Airline Strike Bill

By WALTER R. MEARS

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate's Democratic and Republican leaders joined today in backing a compromise plan that would have Congress send striking airline mechanics back to work for a month, and empower President Johnson to keep them there for five more.

Sen. Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., and Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, R-Ill., said they will be among the sponsors of that proposal.

Mansfield said he hopes the Senate will decide before the day is out what Congress should do about the four-week airline walkout.

A major alternataive awaiting a Senate decision is legislation that would leave to Johnson the task of forcing an end to the strike.

There was talk also of foregoing any kind of legislation to end the strike.

"There are some people who don't want any legislation but I don't think they'll drag it on," Mansfield said as the Senate opened its third day of debate on strike measures.

The compromise proposal would divide strike-stopping responsibility between Congress and the President in these three steps:

1. Congress would order the strikers back to their jobs for 30 days.

2. The President could appoint a special airlines dispute panel to serve as mediators in contract bargaining. This action would freeze the situation and keep the men on their jobs for another 60 days.

3. If an agreement is not worked out in that period, the President could extend the panel's efforts and the back-to-work freeze for another 90 days.

"This is a proposal that seems to have the greatest amount of support," said Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., who helped turn it out Wednesday in a hectic series of cloakroom conferences and later described the compromise to newsmen.

The Senate was to meet earlier than usual, in an effort to act before the day is out.

"It will be the duty of the members to labor with this matter until we complete it," said Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen.

El Paso Area Has Heavy Downpours

By The Associated Press

Arroyo-filling downpours inflicted damage in El Paso but much of the usually dry ranching country elsewhere in far West Texas soaked up beneficial rains Wednesday.

Deluges also fell near Austin in the state's midsection.

Water up to five feet deep tumbled down some arroyos into El Paso and rose into a number of homes on the heels of rainfall gauged unofficially at 1.5 to 2 inches on the city's west side. The official measurement at the Weather Bureau was only .21 inch.

The gushing torrents likewise washed out a U.S. 85 bridge and blocked parts of that route for hours in the El Paso vicinity, left some stretches of railroad track impassable and disrupted electrical service for a time.

Outside El Paso the water also covered some cotton and vegetable fields. One grower said silt covered at least three acres of his cotton and he lost several acres of tomatoes.

Elsewhere in far West Texas, private gauges on ranches around Sierra Blanca recorded up to 3 inches of rain. Official measurements included Alpine 2.32 and Presidio 1.47.

The heaviest downpour reported, however, was 5.66 inches at Bergstrom Air Force Base, eight miles southeast of Austin —the first appreciable rain in that area in a month. Austin itself received 2.43.

Smaller amounts fell at scattered other points, mostly in southern sections of the state, as a fading cool front stalled over Southwest Texas.

The cooling spread into all parts of the state. Although readings climbed into the 90s at many points, it was one of the coolest days in several weeks.

Presidio, which has been baking in temperatures well above 100, registered a high of 99 degrees. Top marks elsewhere ranged from 98 at Laredo, San Angelo and Victoria down to 79 at Alpine.

The moisture tapered off by this morning into a few showers over Southeast Texas.

Forecasts promised a gradual warming through Friday with rainfall limited to widely scattered showers in South and West Texas.

FALMOUTH, England (AP)—The Falmouth and Fowey lifeboats recovered three bodies today believed to be from the missing excursion boat Darlwin.

They were the first bodies recovered since the 45-foot boat disappeared Sunday off the Cornish coast of southern England with 31 persons aboard.

Doctor Says Brain Tumor Not A Factor

AUSTIN (AP)—Medical officials said today a pecan-size tumor in the brain of Charles J. Whitman, the University of Texas tower sniper, could not have influenced his thinking Monday when he killed 15 in a bloody rampage.

"It was a small, very slow growing, blood vessel type tumor, not destructive," Dr. C. de Chenar said today at a news conference, concerning the autopsy he performed on Whitman's body. "It could not have any influence on the psychic behaviour."

Dr. de Chenar applied the medical term "astrocytoma" to the tumor. He said it was in its initial stages, "from half year to a year" and was benign (not malignant).

The pathologist said the tumor could not have been detected by a normal physical examination. He said eventually it might have grown to the size of a "fist" and caused death.

Asked what the first symptom Whitman might recognize of the tumor, de Chenar said it would probably destroy motor pathways and cause paralysis in the arms and legs.

"The tumor was not in that part of the brain that causes explosive reactions," he said.

Asked if the autopsy showed anything else, he said:

"Most important of all, all the organs were in perfect health."

De Chenar also said the autopsy showed "two equally fatal wounds" in Whitman.

He said the wounds were:

1. "Several (shotgun) pellets entering the skull and destroying the base of the skull, including large blood vessels and part of the brain, and,

2. "A penetrating (shotgun) pellet into the heart hitting it right in the middle."

The pathologist said Whitman's body bore dozens of wounds about the face, chest and arms including three large ones. He said pistol bullets, not shotgun pellets, largely destroyed the left side of Whitman's chest and part of his left arm.

De Chenar said he is preparing Whitman's brain to be taken to the M. D. Anderson Hospital and Tumor Institute in Houston for a conference of state and national psychiataric and other medical experts "organized by Gov. John Connally."

Connally Ponders Closing Insanity Door For Killers

By JACK KEEVER

AUSTIN (AP) — To Texas Gov. John Connally, 5,000 miles from the scene, the news of the University of Texas mass sniper slayings was like a flashback of President Kennedy's assassination 2½ years ago.

And, upset by crimes like those, Connally said he was considering asking the Legislature for a law to seal off the escape route of insanity pleas some killers use to avoid punishment.

He told his thoughts Wednesday to an audience of newsmen and top state officials and law enforcement officers, less than 24 hours after cutting short a Latin American trip for Hemis-Fair 1968 to return home.

Connally was in Rio de Janiero, chatting about tourism in the comfortable office of the Brazilian minister of foreign affairs, when the news reached South America about the brutal slaying of 15 persons—13 with powerful rifle slugs—by Charles J. Whitman, 25.

"Did you have a flashback of Lee Harvey Oswald (accused presidential assassin)?" a newsman asked.

"Yes sir," replied Connally, who was critically wounded by Kennedy's assassin on a downtown Dallas street Nov. 22, 1963.

Blinking in the bright television lights, Connally said, "I was extremely saddened by the tragedy that occurred here in Austin on the campus of the university.

"I—like everyone else—was shocked and grieved beyond my ability to express."

Connally spoke after a 1½-hour closed conference with the Police Chief Robert A. Miles; Col. Homer Garrison, director of the Texas Department of Public Safety; John Peace of San Antonio, chairman of the Texas Public Safety Commission; Mayor Lester Palmer, and W. W. Heath, chairman of the university regents.

"We're here to express our sorrow and grief, to commend people for some jobs well done, and to evaluate medical information. . .beyond that, we don't know what to do and we have no specific recommendations at this time," the governor said.

Buffer Zone Bombed Again

By ROBERT TUCKMAN

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. B52s rained explosives on North Vietnamese positions in the buffer zone between North and South Viet Nam today for the third time in six days.

On the ground, North Vietnamese regulars broke contact with a force of 10,000 U.S. infantrymen and air cavalrymen 235 miles north of Saigon. After three days of short, running fights, there were no reports of new clashes in the central plateau region 10 miles east of the Cambodian frontier.

A U.S. military spokesman said the North Vietnamese were still in the area, scene of a major battle last year. For th emoment at least, the North Vietnamese apparently chose not to fight.

Several brigades of the U.S. 25th Infantry Division and the U.S. 1st Cavalry, Airmobile, Division were deployed in the highlands, ready to launch a "spoiling operation" to blunt the expected Communist drive.

The Saigon spokesman said at least 81 Communists had been killed against light U.S. casualties, but AP correspondent Peter Arnett reported from the field that one infantry company of 68 men was badly mauled Tuesday afternoon when the North Vietnamese lured it into the jungle and pounced on it. The company commander and several others were killed and most of the rest were wounded.

The B52s, flying in from Guam, hit suspected North Vietnamese infiltration routes, gun positions and supply dumps in the southern half of the demilitarized zone. The U.S. cmmand said the eight-engine bmbers struck 30 miles inland in the same general area where they attacked last Saturday and Sunday.

U.S. officers report that elements of North Viet Nam's 324B Division which fought American Marines late in July just to the south had pulled back into the buffer zone.

The Marines, together with South Vietnamese troops, had been in the field since July 15 in heavily jungled mountains one to two miles south of the zone, but Wednesday ended their Operation Hastings. The Marines and South Vietnamese reported killing 882 North Vietnamese and possibly nearly 1,000 more, capturing 15 and seizing 25 weapons.

American casualties were officially described as moderate, but unofficially estimated at about 10 per cent killed or wounded of the 5,000 Marines involved.

U.S. pilots flew 1,209 sorites in support of Hastings, the highest number of strikes for any operation in the war.

In addition to hitting the demilitarized zone, B52s also struck a suspected Viet Cong troop concentration and base camp 30 miles northwest of Saigon.

American pilots flew 103 missions over North Viet Nam Wednesday but continuing bad weather limited raids to the coastal area and the southern panhandle. The fliers hit 11 oil storage areas or fuel-carrying barges and said they damaged four of them.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I know that according to the ook of etiquet the man is supposed to treat the girl to dinners, movies and in fact—everything. I say these rules were made before women went to work and earned money. Now that times have changed, the rules should be changed.

Why should a working woman bank her whole paycheck while the man pays for everything? I once said to a girl who earned more than I did, "I have treated you quite a bit, when are you going to take ME out to dinner?" And her answer was, "You must be nuts or something." What do you think?

ON THE LEVEL

DEAR ON: I think you have a point. A working woman should occasionally "treat" a man who has entertained her. She could suggest a picnic and provide the goodies.

Or surprise him with tickets to some special entertainment. Or invite him to dinner. Or knit him a sweater. And the wise ones do.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: My parents were divorced when I was 5, and I lived with my mother until I was married last year. I hadn't seen my father in 12 years, but I found out where he was living two months ago, so I called him and invited him and his wife to visit us. They stayed the week-end. Now they call almost every week and ask if they can come up. (We live in Long Beach and they live in San Diego.)

We have a one-bedroom apartment, so my husband and I give them our bedroom and we sleep on the living room sofa. I put the cushions on the floor for my husband and I sleep on the frame of the sofa.

My husband doesn't like this arrangement, but I'd feel just awful asking my dad and stepmother to sleep that way. Is my husband fair in asking that dad visits be cut down? We have a lot of catching up to do.

"CATCHING UP"

DEAR "CATCHING": You had better reshuffle your values. Your husband's comfort is more important than the comfort of a father who disappeared for the twelve most important years of your life, and a stepmother whom you owe nothing.

If you want to "catch up," let them rent a motel for their visits, and you and your husband sleep in your bedroom where you belong.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: The daughter of some friends of ours is having a church wedding. My sister attends the church where the wedding is to be held and she said the minister issued a blanket invitation from the pulpit "to all who cared to attend." Since I do not attend this church I don't feel that this is a proper invitation.

My sister said the bride's family are too busy to call people and this is the way they are inviting folks. I just don't think I'd feel comfortable attending a wedding under those circumstances even though we have known the family for years. What do you think?

"???" IN LAWSON, MO.

DEAR "???": If you want to attend and this is the only kind of invitation they are issuing, go. You'll be as welcome as every other guest.

Says U. S. Is Winning

CINCINNATI (AP) — Back from an 18-day tour of Viet Nam and Southeast Asia, former Rep. Robert Taft Jr. says "We're winning the war, both militarily and psychologically."

Taft, a Republican, said he found "the morale of the American fighting man the highest."

The Viet Cong supply lines are being cut off, Taft said. When asked for an assessment of America's over-all military situation, he described it as "generally good. Our logistics are tremendous."

"But" he added, "this does not imply that additional troops and supplies would not be welcome, especially from countries such as Australia, New Zealand and the Philippines."

Taft, seeking to return to Congress, is running against Rep. John Gilligan in Ohio's 1st District in November. Taft ran for the Senate in 1964 but lost narrowly to Stephen Young.

Steels Pace Market Rally

NEW YORK (AP)—U.S. Steel jumped aboard the steel price boost bangwagon and the stock market rallied today on the heaviest trading in weeks. Prices were at their peaks early this afternoon.

As "Big Steel" went along with price increases already announced by such lesser companies as Inland, Armco, Jones & Laughlin, National and Pittsburgh Steel, Wall Street seemed to lose its doubt about the permanence of the price hikes.

The action of the nation's biggest steel producer "ratified" action by the smaller companies.

The steel stocks racked up gains running from fractions to more than 2 points.

Agree On Space Rules

GENEVA (AP)—The United States and the Soviet Union reached broad agreement today on a framework of ground rules to govern man's activities in space, on the moon and on other celestial bodies.

They agreed that space and the planets should be freely accessible to all without distinction, that no state should appropriate any part of them, and that man's conduct in space should be reserved to peaceful purposes and ruled by the concepts of international law and the United Nations Charter.

The accord was reached during four weeks of discussions in the 28-nation legal subcommittee of the U.N. Committee on the Peaceful Use of Outer Space, which went into recess here today.

The committee meets again in New York next month.

An Author To Read About

MR. CLEMENS AND MARK TWAIN. By Justin Kaplan.

Time has dated much of the work of Mark Twain, whom William Dean Howells called "the Lincoln of literature," but his controversial personality is still timeless.

Twain—as Ernest Hemingway seems to be becoming—is one of those authors who is as interesting to read about as to read.

Suffering the gas-ironic fate as befell that other master satirist, Jonathan Swift, Twain today is studied chiefly by children and scholars.

But what an endlessly fascinating human being he was, far more lifelike than any of the characters he drew. Perhaps more than any other American, he symbolized the growing - up of the nation from a sprawling frontier giant to an industrial power.

In the heyday of his youth Mark Twain was a printer, river boat pilot, roistering gold miner. In old age he hobnobbed with financial titans such as Andrew Carnegie and was honored throughout the civilized world.

At 31, broke in San Francisco, he put a pistol to his head but didn't have the courage to pull the trigger. Nearing 60, bankrupt and $107,000 in debt, he started all over again. Four years later he had $100,000 in the bank.

Assailed by his own soul's demons, Twain was a complex person, vain and humble, generous and greedy, kindly and cantankerous. Howard Mumford Jones has hailed this massive and detailed study of him as "a great book, one of the grestest analyses of an American personality done in this century."

But it still leaves Mark Twain a mystery. Describing his funeral, his present biographer concludes reluctantly:

"To the end he remained as much an enigma and prodigy to himself as he was to the thousands. . .who filed past the casket, topped with a single wreath of laurel, where he lay in a white suit."

Wheel Deals

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

This is the season of fun on wheels — bicycles, jalopies, motor bikes. But any encounter with road traffic calls for precautions if we'd have a carefree summer.

Even a simple vehicle like a bicycle should be checked out carefully before it is again put into service.

Experts offer a do-it-yourself check-up that includes replacing worn handle grips and pedal grips, tightening nuts on saddle, wheels and oil bearing, checking chain for damaged links, cleaning and lubrication of pedals and forkbearings.

Tires should be checked for imbedded metal, glass, cinders and pedal bearings and spindle should be tightened. Be sure the warning device works and that the reflector is visible at 300 feet. If in any doubt have a serviceman check coaster break and crank hanger.

Observe traffic regulations — ride in single file on right, use a signaling device to warn of approach, never hitch to other vehicles, stunt or race in traffic.

Use proper hand signals. Give pedestrians right of way. Never carry other riders or packages that obstruct vision.

Traffic regulations apply also to motorcycles, and these can be very dangerous, if not kept in good repair because of the temptation to speed. The simplest accidents can involve some pretty nasty skinning of legs that can leave scars. Knee injuries are among the most prolonged agonies. One 19-year-old girl is wearing a permanent scar, the result of misjudging a curve. She was going about five miles an hour.

Car traffic safety statistics are very gloomy, points out the Automotive Safety Foundation. Their recent figures show that 9.5 percent of all drivers are under 20 and that these drivers are involved in 14.0 per cent of fatal accidents and 14.0 per cent of all accidents. Young people who have had the approved minimum driver education course in high school (30 hours in classroom and 6 hours of in-car instruction) are said to have better driving records.

New freedoms such as driving a car for the first time require emotional maturity in self - understanding and the acceptance of responsibilities, this foundation points out.

That's one reason why graduates of approved driver training courses receive lower rates for liability insurance and in some states are eligible for licenses sooner than untrained youths. Last year more than a million youths took driver education courses in high school.

Mr. K's Career

KHRUSHCHEV—A CAREER. By Edward Crankshaw.

The author is concerned with only one aspect of the Russian ex-premier's life—his career as a politician.

His aim has been to tell "the sort of man he was, his background, his changing environment, his path to the top," and then "how he ruled, how he himself was ruled by the combination of his own past and the forces engendered by a changing world, and how he fell."

Serious students of contemporary Russia may or may not approve of Crankshaw's highly detailed history of the Khrushchev career, but to a lay reader it is a thorough and impressive study.

For the early part of the premier's life, Crankshaw—or any other writer—is faced with an almost complete lack of verifiable information. So he has played the detective in making deductions, and has dug out a few references that Khrushchev made in later life to those early years.

Once the young Bolshevik had started his political climb, his trail could be followed more closely. Crankshaw delves diligently into the tricky means through which Khrushchev shrewdly made his way to Stalin's inner circle, and always managed to line up on the right side when there were Kremlin conflicts. He traces the maneuvering after Stalin's death and Khrushchev's tactics in ousting Malenkov. There is much more in his account about Khrushchev's rise than his fall.

Crankshaw is not a detached recorder of the events he is describing. He uses comment, interpretation and analysis throughout the book, and he has a penchant for broad generalizations. Such as: "The conflict between his natural humanity and the corruption which bit deeply into him during the years of his rise to the top was to be the great drama of the last 10 years of his career."

This is not the techniques of the academic historian, but it does enliven the book.

Read this study of a dictator's career and you will have a better understanding, not only of Khrushchev, but of Russia as well.

Stamps In The News

By SYD KRONISH
AP Newsfeatures

An Associated Press Newsphoto has been immortalized on a Congolese postage stamp.

The new 15-franc (10 cent) stamp was issued in Leopoldville May 1. It shows a profile of President Joseph D. Mobutu. It is the first stamp depicting the new President since he took over in a military coup last November.

At the side of the stamp is a small figure rolling up his right sleeve with his left hand. He stands in front of a large group of men, also rolling up their sleeves.

George Finkelstein, cabinet chief of the Congolese Postal Ministry, says that the figure is not Gen. Mobutu, but the stamp's designer, Rodolphe T'Scharner of Brussels, acknowledged that an AP photo of the general was used in the design.

The picture was taken by The AP Dec. 12 while Gen. Mobutu addressed a crowd at Baudouin Stadium.

Near the end of his speech the President exhorted the Congolese to 'roll up our sleeves and get to work."

As he said that he reached his left hand to his right cuff and rolled up his sleeve. The cabinet ministers behind him did likewise.

The AP shot the picture, and the sleeve roller, although a civilian on the stamp, is based on Gen. Mobutu, right to the last turn of the cloth.

Canada has issued a new 5-cent stamp in support of its national campaign to reduce traffic accidents. The design features signs and symbols in blue and yellow on a black background. The Canadian postmaster general announced that this stamp is the first to use a new type of gum on the back which is tasteless, virtually invisible and with better adhesive qualities than previous Canadian stamps.

Liberia has issued three new stamps to honor Sir Winston Churchill. The values are 15, 20 and 25 cents. The main designs feature portarits of Sir Winston in various and familiar war-time poses. One of these poses shows the famous 'V for Victory" sign of the Prime Minister. A souvenir sheet bearing a 50-cent airmail stamp also was issued on the same date.

Veale Continues Mastery Over Los Angeles Dodgers

By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Bob Veale has a pain in the back. And he's giving the Dodgers one in the neck.

Los Angeles has faced the big Pirate pitcher twice this season and has collected a grand total of one unearned run, 12 hits and two walks off him. In beating the Dodgers 3-1 Wednesday night, Veale struck out 11, just as he did when he beat them back in May.

It was Veale's first game in more than two weeks and the first complete game by a Pirate pitcher in 16 attempts. Veale's back, the cause of his disappearance from Manager Harry Walker's starting rotation, still bothered him a little Wednesday, he said, particularly when he ran or bent down to field a grounder.

But when he pitched, the pain was inflicted mainly on the Dodgers. Veale said he felt "real strong all the way" and now he wants to throw every three or four games for the rest of the season.

Los Angeles, in the meantime, would like to forget all about Veale, the Pirates and the whole city of Pittsburgh. When the current series between the two pennant contenders began, the Dodgers were leading the league.

Now they're in third place, a game behind the Pirates and two in back of the league-leading Giants, who have been fattening up on the Mets.

San Francisco took its third straight from New York by an 11-1 score. In other National League games, Philadelphia beat Houston 7-6, Atlanta blanked Chicago 2-0, and Cincinnati won a 16-inning marathon over St. Louis 3-1.

In the American League, Detroit split a pair with Chicago, 3-1 and 3-6, Cleveland beat Baltimore, 9-6, Washington edged Kansas City 4-3, Minnesota bombed Boston 7-2 and New York crushed California 9-0.

Roberto Clemente's two-run homer in the first inning gave Veale all the room he needed to put down the Dodgers. His earned-run average is now a sprightly 2.04, best on the club, as are his 12 victories, 156 strikeouts and nine complete games.

A grand-slam home run by Jim Ray Hart and two solo shots by Tom Haller gave Gaylord Perry nine runs more than he needed for his 16th victory. The Giants scored seven times in the seventh inning against the Mets, who had previously been giving them fits this season. Ollie Brown collected four hits in San Francisco's fourth triumph in a row.

John Callison, who says he owes it all to his new glasses, rapped out four hits and Bill White contributed a grand-slammer as the Phillies made their way past Houston. Larry Jackson won his 11th game of the season and the Phils captured their sixth in a row.

Ken Johnson threw a five-hitter at Chicago and Felipe Alou scored both runs in Atlanta's victory. Johnson struck out 10 and allowed only one Cub as far as second base.

Pete Rose's sacrifice fly marked the beginning of the end of the overtime contest in St. Louis as he drove in Mel Queen running for Gordy Coleman, who had singled. A moment later, Dick Simpson hit a single scoring Tommy Harper, who had bunted safely.

Brodie Signs For $750,000!

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Tom Matte was all but forced into retirement as a professional quarterback Wednesday night and John Brodie emerged from his self-imposed layoff, leaving the Baltimore Colts and San Francisco 49ers looking foward hopefully to the National Football League season.

Matte, a halfback, forced into the signal-calling spot late last season when injuries sidelined first Johnny Unitas anad then Gary Guozzo, was on the sidelines Wednesday night as Unitas and Cuozzo returned to action.

The pair ruined the pro coaching debut of Otto Graham as they led the Colts to a crushing 35-0 exhibition victory over Washington before a sellout 45,805 that included President Johnson.

Unitas, showing no ill effects from a knee injury suffered last season, threw for two touchdowns and set up another score with his tosses.

Then Cuozzo took over and threw 34 yards ti Willie Richardson for another score as the Colts built a 35-0 halftime lead.

The defense completely stopped a trimmed-down Sonny Jurgensen and Dick Siner of the Redskins.

Brodie was the man of the hour for the 49ers when he ended a two-week holdout and signed a contracat reportedly for $50,000 for four years.

The 10-year NFL veteran, who led the league last year in most passing departments, was reported in May ready to jump to the American Football League for $750,000 before the merger of the two leagues killed the deal.

In the AFL, veteran tackle Eldon Danenhauer of Denver suffered a broken arm after returning from retirement and will be out indefinitely, and guard John Nisby will be lost to the Oakland Raiders because of a torn cord in his right heel.

The New York Jets released flanker Jim Evans while the Cleveland Browns dropped halfback Jamie Caleb.

The Atlanta Falcons cut loose veterans Ken Kirk, a center, and John Contoulis, a tackle, and rookies Martin Kahn, a tackle, and guaard Kent Francisco.

The Falcons claimed on waivers guard Mike Tabor from Los Angeles and defensive back Sam Montgomery from Green Bay.

College Team Seems Ready For Packers

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — With six exceptional runners ready as shock troops, the College All-Stars seem to be preparing for an infantry attack against the Green Bay Packers Friday night.

But not even the pros have been very successful on the ground against the Packers, the National Football League champions, and the running strength of the All-Stars may prove to be just a diversionary attempt.

Short passes by Alabama's Steve Sloan, Missouri's Gary Lane and Tulsa's Bill Anderson, the nation's leading aerialist last season, may provide the main tonic for the upset wanted by head Coach John Sauer.

And, too, anything past midfield seems to be field goal range for side-foot kicker Charles Gogolak of Princeton. His boots could make a difference, just like the two field goals by Bob Jencks that nudged the collegians to their last victory in the series—20-17 over the Packers in 1963.

The football classic in Soldier Field will be televised by ABC starting at 10 p.m., EDT, and the expected arena crowd is 65,000. The pros hold a 21-9-1 edge in the rivalry. The Packers rule a 13-15 point favorite.

Donny Anderson of Texas Tech and Jim Grabowski of Illinois, who have been signed by the Packers for a total reportedly more than $900,000, are among the All-Stars' big guns.

Others are Roy Shivers of Utah State, Walt Garrison of Oklahoma State, Heisman Trophy winner Mike Garrett of South California and Johnny Roland of Missouri.

The Packers arrive Thursday and will have a night limbering up drill in Soldier Field.

In all 15 trophies will be awarded during the two day affair. Eleven trophies will be given to members selected to an all-tournament team which will be announced after the championship game Saturday night. This is always the highlight of the tournament.

Galyean Inks With RJC

Jack Allen, baseball coach at Ranger Junior College, announces that four more outstanding high school baseball players have signed letters of intent to attend Ranger Junior College this fall. They are Leon Abbott and Joey Parten, Fort Worth, Mack Galyean, Snyder, and Larry Currie, Colorado City.

Abbott, an outfielder, hit .292 for Brewer High School, Fort Worth, from which he was a graduate in 1966. He is a left-hander all the way.

A pitcher from Brewer High School, Parten had a record of 11-3 as a senior. He was named on the all - district team in 5-AAA last year. Also a left-hander, he is a "A" student scholastically.

Outfielder Mack Galyeana comes from Snyder High School, where he made all-district in 3-AAA. He is a switch hitter, he hit .387 through 36 games, had 23 stolen bases, and went 11 for 16 or a .688 clip.

Currie, a graduate from Colorado City High School, is a first baseman He hit .479 for Colorado City and made five home runs in 17 ball games. He is currently playing amatuer ball for Loraine, hitting .531 through 11 games. He too is a left-hander all the way.

Kahn Dropped From Falcons New Roster

BLACK MOUNTAIN, N. C. (AP) — Martin Kahn, former North Texas State tackle, was placed on waivers Wednesday by the Atlanta Falcons of the National Football League.

Kahn, the new NFL team's fifth round draft choice, was one of four players dropped from the Falcon's roster Wednesday by Coach Norb Hecker.

Bob Greenlee, shot putter from Daytona Beach, will captain Yale's indoor and outdoor track teams next year. He will also captain the Eli football team next fall.

North Favored Over South In Schoolboy Grid Game

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The North is a four-to-one favorite to make it five victories in a row in the 32nd annual all-star football game of the Texas Coaching School tonight.

The South's running game was badly crippled by loss of its two mainsprings, Pat Sheahan of San Antonio Lee and Jack Woodward of Crockett—and it was rated only a narrow choice before that.

Writers here to report the game promptly voted 16 to 4 in favor of the North, which was deemed to have the toughest line and strongest defense and to have an adequate offense hinging around James Street, the talented Longview quarterback.

The North has built an alarming domination over the South in the 32 years the all-star game has been played. It now leads 18 to 10, with three games resulting in ties. The South has won only once and tied once over the past 13 years.

The game is expected to draw around 30,000, which would surpass anything in Houston but would be far short of the record of 39,100 set at Fort Worth two years ago.

The kickoff is at 7:45 p.m. with these starting offensive lineups:

South—Tommy Frazer, Nederland and Jim Adams, Houston Waltrip, ends; Calvin Hunt, Edna, and John Rumsey, West Orange, tackles; Robert Hall, Port Neches, and Tommy Rohrer, Austin McCallum guards; Bill Gilliam Del Rio, center; Dickie Phillips, Galena Park North Shore, quarterback; Barney Harris San Antonio MacArthur, and Sonny Heckendorn, Dickinson, halfbacks; Bill Allison, Corsicana, fullback.

North—Robert Davis, Dumas, and Deryl Comer, Highland Park, ends; Trent Phipps, South Garland, and Joe Shaw, Brownwood, tackles; Glen Halsell, Odessa Permian, and Dennis Lane, Brady, guards; Bill Bridges, Carrollton, center; James Street, Longview, quarterback; James Vanderslice, Wichita Falls Rider, and Jim Bennett, Amarillo Tascosa, halfbacak; Randy Beck, Hurst Bell, fullback.

Forney Is Added To State Champion List

HOUSTON (AP)—San Angelo, Dumas, Plano and Forney will win Texas schoolboy football championships this fall, according to predictions.

These teams were picked by coaches interviewed at the Texas Coaching School.

San Angelo was selected for Class AAAA, Dumas for Class AAA, Plano for Class A and Forney for Class A.

Forney was the last to be put on the spot. This school was figured to reach the semifinals against White Deer while Weimar and Three Rivers were considered to be the strongest teams of the lower bracket. They will, however, have to meet in the quarterfinals, thus the loser would have no chance at the semifinals.

Wills Point, the defending champion, was selected to win its district

Texas Football League To Begin On Aug. 13

DALLAS (AP)—Action in the newly-organized Texas Professional Football League begins Aug. 13 when the Burkburnett Kings meet Sherman-Denison at Gainesville in an exhibition game, league officials said Wednesday.

Other action on Aug. 13 has Tulsa of the six-team league at Omaha for a game with that city's Midwest Football League entry.

On Aug. 20, the Dallas Rockets meet Burkburnett at Hereford in a pre-season game and Tulsa visits Sherman-Denison at Denison. Odessa-Midland and Burkburnett wind up pre-season activity on Aug. 27 at Uvalde.

First league game will be at Denison on Aug. 27 with the Dallas club furnishing the competition.

Pasadena has not slated an exhibition game at this time, officials said.

Guns Have Long Been A Big Problem For This Country

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — When the early Americans wrote into the Constitution's Second Amendment the right of the people to bear arms, they could hardly have imagined what was going to happen.

The FBI reports that 56 per cent of the 278 police officers killed in line of duty since 1960 were killed with firearms and that of the 9,850 homicides last year, 57 per cent, or 5,614, were committed with firearms.

Shortly before Charles Joseph Whitman was killed by police Monday in Austin, Tex. — after he had killed 15 people and wounded 31, all but one of them with guns — a book was published on the problem of firearms.

In this book, "The Right to Bear Arms," the author, Carl Bakal, wrote: "A strange and peculiarly American plague has long swept our land — a plague of guns. Every year firearms claim more and more lives in this country.

"Since the turn of the century this plague has brought death to the astonishing total of more than 750,000 Americans — men, women and children — a figure based on official though incomplete government figures."

A year ago Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach, speaking for President Johnson's administration, called for a law putting some federal controls on the sale of firearms.

He gave a congressional committee some figures, saying More than half the 9,300 murders in 1964 were committed with firearms, many of them obtained through the mails, as were many of the guns used in half the 20,000 suicides in 1963. And he said the "vast majority" of the 64,000 armed robberies in 1964 were carried out with firearms.

He pointed out that four presidents were killed by assassins' bullets.

But it would be misleading to get the impression that American killings were the work of adults, sane or otherwise. Last year, testifying before a congressional committee, Carl K. Miller, director of records in the Chicago Police Department, told this story.

In 1963 and 1964 Chicago police confiscated over 12,000 guns; of the 391 murders in Chicago in 1964, firearms were used in 191 of them; and in these 191 murders in which guns were used there were three 13-year-old juveniles involved, two 14-year-olds, seven 15-year-olds, and 11 16-year olds.

Eighteen others involved in these murders were under 20.

Then Miller explained what showed up in a search of the records of 4,069 persons who had purchased guns from three California mail-order firms.

Of those 4,069 persons, 948 had an arrest record of some kind. Thirteen of the 948 had been arrested for murder, 58 for robbery, 42 for burglary, 111 for various types of assault, 83 for carrying concealed weapons, 426 for disorderly conduct and over 200 had been arrested for other crimes, including larceny, gambling, resisting arrest, causing a disturbance with a gun, narcotics investigation and sex offenses.

In his study of crime and guns Bakal said the United States can "claim the dubious distinction of being perhaps the most lawless nation on earth."

A very mild — some would call it feeble — bill to put some controls on the sale of firearms, particularly by mail, has been approved by a Senate subcommittee.

But, although Johnson has called on Congress for a strong control bill, it has a long and tough way to go before Congress does anything about it.

Tuesday's Primaries Leave GOP Governors Leaderless

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Republican Governors Association, the only effective sponsor of efforts to restore moderates to power in the Republican party, is losing its chairman and principal dynamo.

The defeat of Idaho Gov. Robert E. Smylie in his bid for renomination for a fourth term will leave GOP governors all but leaderless in their efforts to remold the party's conservative image.

They could suffer further damage in this respect if GOP Gov. George Romney of Michigan should be upset in November. The nomination of former Gov. G. Mennen Williams for the Senate in Tuesday's primary strengthens the Democratic ticket and could make it more difficult for Romney to "win big" and thus step to the front ranks of contenders for the 1968 GOP presidential nomination.

Among the GOP moderates, there is recognition that Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller is fighting for political survival in New York. They already have lost out in California with the nomination of Ronald Reagan, a 1964 supporter of Barry Goldwater, as the party's candidate for governor.

Another star in their particular firmament, Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania, ends his tenure in January. And Gov. Mark O. Hatfield of Oregon is trying to transfer to the U.S. Senate.

These actual and potential changes, combined with Smylie's defeat, could result in a complete breakdown in organized efforts to oust conservatives from the positions of local party power they still retain two years after Goldwater's landslide loss.

Smylie, who took the lead in getting the Republican Policy Coordinating Committee to adopt a resolution denouncing extremism — although it did not name the John Birch Society as he proposed — was the primary election victim of the conservatives he was fighting.

At a Los Angeles meeting of the GOP governors in July, Smylie was urged to call them together even before the election to solidify their anticonservative camapaign within the party. But he said there was no use having the Republican executives meet until it was certain which ones would have "a ticket to the main tent" after the election.

Having been denied such a ticket himself, he may leave it to others to decide whether the Republican state executives get together in December, as planned, to organize for the 1968 presidential campaign.

Because of the actual and potential gaps in the ranks of the moderataes, any such meeting conceivably could produce a surge toward conservatism by the GOP governors instead of breathing new life into the moderate cause.

Junior Editors Quiz on HORSE BATHS

QUESTION: How do horses take baths?

• • •

ANSWER: They certainly don't take them in the manner suggested in our upper picture. It's there only for the fun of it. Our artist tells us that he got the idea of drawing a horse in a bathtub, and couldn't resist drawing it. As a regular thing, horses are kept clean by a daily grooming, which means going over their coats with a rubber curry comb and a body brush. This takes out dirt and benefits the horse's health by stimulating the blood. However, horses are often washed with water and soap, especially in warm weather. The horse may be tied up, as in the bottom picture, or held on a lead strap by another person. The horse is then soaped from head to foot, and all the soap removed with warm water. It is important not to wash your horse with soap too often, as it removes the natural oils from his coat. Horses are often cooled off in hot weather by being bathed with warm water without soap. They are sponged all over at first and then the excess water is removed with a body scraper.

FOR YOU TO DO: We can't all have horses, but we all have hair. Be as good to your own hair as Mary is to her horse. 8-4

Worm Diggers Go Out On Strike

WISCASSET, Maine (AP) — Wiscasset's 100 worm diggers were on strike today.

There was no indication of any move toward a meeting of the diggers and the dealers.

The diggers reportedly are demanding 50 cents more per hundred marine blood worms than the going price of $2.25 per hundred.

Frank Hammond, a wholesale worm dealer, said Wiscasset accounts for about 20 per cent of the marine worms shipped out of Maine. The diggers went out on strike Wednesday.

Man Lives Better If He Owns Less

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Curbstone comments of a pavement Plato:

The only sure way to avoid slavery in a civilized world is to avoid owning things.

The less a man owns the freer he can live.

Modern man has been oversold on the prestige of ownership and the supposed security it brings, and there are signs he is in rebellion against it.

It can be argued that the only things worth owning today, aside from personal clothing and a few souvenirs, are a good credit rating and your own soul. Ownership of anything else puts you in bondage, sometimes for life.

The pleasures of owning things are far outweighed by the pleasures of not owning things.

Man is divided into two types — the owner and the renter. Show me an owner and I'll show you a fearful, burdened man. Show me a renoter, and I'll show you a liberated man.

The man who thinks he owns things is kidding himself. They own him. He is their slave.

If a man owns a home, that is where he must live, no matter how he may come to hate his neighbors. He fights crabgrass and termites, worries about the vagaries of hurricanes and tax assessors. Everything is a possible threat the value of his property.

He owns the phonograph records and paintings in his own home, those are the ones he must listen to or look at, though in time they may bore him utterly.

If he owns his car, that is the kind of car he must drive until he can afford a new one. He must insure it, paint it, buy it a license, protect its fenders from scratches and keep it in repair. It is as much trouble as having a child—except that he doesn't have to fret about sending it through college.

Now let us consider the happy renter.

If the neighborhood he lives in runs down, he can pack up and move away. As a matter of fact, he can wreck the neighborhood himself, if he feels like it, and then move away.

Every weekend he can rent a different model car, and if it breaks down he can pocket the key, go back to the agency and rent another. Upkeep problems don't annoy him.

Does his wife want to stun the other guests at a fancy dress ball? Well, what if she doesn't own a diamond necklace? He can rent one for the evening, and if thieves steal it, what does he care? It doesn't belong to him. He's not out of pocket.

Yep, the more you analyze the so-called joys of ownership the more you realize they may be large spurious.

Controversial Comedian Is Found Dead

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Hip-talking, irreverent comedian Lennie Bruce, often charged with on-stage obscenity and off-stage use of narcotics, has been found dead in his Hollywood Boulevard apartment.

Bruce, 40, was found Wednesday in his bathroom. On the sink nearby, officers said, were a syringe, a blackened bottle cap and burnt matches. The cap contained a white crystalline residue.

The Los Angeles County coroner's office listed an overdose of narcotics as the probable cause of death. An autopsy has been ordered.

Bruce once said: "People should be taught what is, not what should be."

With that premise and a glossary of hip and four-letter words, he sallied forth into saloons, offbeat clubs and the recording world, bringing a humor branded as "sick."

His brushes with the law included: arrests on a battery charge in 1962; narcotics arrests in January, February, October and November of 1962, and October 1963; obscenity arrests in 1962, twice in 1963, and again in 1964. He was sued by his mother, striptease choreographer Sally Marr and his stepfather in 1963 for $50,000 for injuries allegedly suffered while entering Bruce's house; and in September 1963 he was banned from England.

"I don't have agents, just lawyers," he said. A California Supreme Court decision reversed one conviction, saying Bruce was not a narcotics addict.

Bruce was born Leonard Alfred Schneider on Oct. 13, 1925, in Mineola, N.Y.

Last October, the U.S. District Court in San Francisco, in support of a bankruptcy action, declared him a pauper.

His marriage to striptease dancer Honey Harlow ended in divorce in 1957. They had one child, a daughter.

Producer Ignores Ban Of Beatles

By EDDY GILMORE

LONDON (AP) — The American producer of the Beatles movie said today the banning of Beatle records by U.S. radio stations will have no effect on his plans to star the mophead musicians again.

"I know all of the boys well," said Walter Shenson. "I also know them as not irreverent and not irreligious. But I also know them to be honest unto themselves."

A number of American radio stations banned the quartet's records after Beatle John Lennon, 25, was quoted as saying:

"Christianity will go. It will vanish and shrink. We're more popular than Jesus now. Jesus was all right, but his disciples were thick and ordinary."

Shenson, a native of San Francisco who lives in London, said he will make the third Beatle film in London in January.

The Beatles are scheduled to open a U.S. tour in Chicago Aug. 12.

Maureen Cleave of the London Evening Standard first published Lennon's comment on Jesus and Christianity on March 4. It was ignored until an American magazine picked it up for its September issue.

Dozens of radio stations throughout the United States are banning records by the Beatles because of Lennon's remark.

A disc jockey in Birmingham, Ala., heart of the South's "Bible Belt," sparked the drive by publicly announcing that his radio station was no longer playing the Beatles, who grew wealthy as the music idols of the younger set in recent years.

Other stations followed suit Wednesday, removing Beatle records from their programs and stripping their libraries of Beatle platters. Some, however, reported they would continue to play the British group's music despite the furor.

Several radio stations scheduled bonfires for the burning of Beatle records and pictures.

Says Books Not Obscene

HOUSTON (AP)—A former Kinsey Institute sex researcher has testified that seven paperback novels the government contends are obscene do not exceed present day standards in their descriptions of sexual behavior in this country.

Seven persons and four firms are on trial in federal court charged with interstate shipment of the allegedly obscene books.

Dr. Wardell B. Pomeroy, now a New York City marriage counselor, testified Wednesday each of the books have some worth because they make known to the less educated that various types of sexual activity exists in today's community.

"As a scientist, I believe knowledge is valuable, no matter the type," he said.

The seven books listed in the indictments include "Orgy Club", "Swap Sect", "Sin Summer", "Shame Hunger", "Temple of Shame", "Passion Carrousel", and "Virgins, Inc."

The seven books were silently read by the jury last week.

All seven individuals and one of the firms rested their cases Wednesday without presenting any witnesses.

Probers Wonder If Sniper Read Novel About Shooting

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Investigators sought to determine today whether Charles J. Whitman had read a 1962 novel about a student climbing atop a college building and shooting at anything that moved.

The volume is "The Open Square" by Ford Clark and its story contains striking parallels to what happened Monday, when Whitman mounted the University of Texas tower and laid down a deadly hail of rifle bullets.

Maj. K. R. Herbert of the Austin police department said examination of the slain ex-Marine's belongings did not produce a copy of the novel. Officers then started checking libraries and book stores here.

Two callers told the Dallas Morning News they were reminded of Clark's book on reading how Whitman killed 15 persons and wounded 31 others before two policemen outshot him on the observation platform above the tower's 27th floor.

A borrowed copy of "The Open Square" was forwarded to Herbert by the Dallas newspaper.

In the novel, a sniper named Ted Weekes climbed into the dome of a Midwest campus administration building. Like the Austin tower, the storybook dome reached well above neighboring structures and afforded a clear field for rifle fire.

With Weekes into the dome went two suitcases full of supplies—canned goods, kerosene cooker, four jugs of water, coffee, flashlight, roll of toilet tissue, rifle with telescopic sight and 50 boxes of ammuntion.

After killing Whitman, officers found he took along a footlocker in addition to an arsenal of guns and ammunition. In the footlocker were canned foods, a three-gallon jug of water, a vacuum jar of coffee, toilet tissue and a flashlight.

For motivataion, author Clark had Weekes unhappy with his father because of a disciplinary problem. Austin Police Chief R. A. Miles quoted a note left by Whitman as stating he hated his father "with a passion."

The novel tells about Weekes shooting down through ventilation slits in the sides of the dome. Whitman fired over a safety ledge and then, as he drew answering gunfire from the ground, poked his weapon through portholes designed to drain off rainfall.

In "The Open Square," however, Weekes gave warning of what he was about to do. One victim after another fell in Austin before witnesses learned what was taking place.

Homicide, Suicide Ruled In Deaths

JEFFERSON, Ohio (AP)—A woman apparently threw her four children into a farm pond, drowning them, then drowned herself, coroner J. R. Higerd said today.

The tragedy, ruled homicide and suicide by Dr. Higerd, occurred Wednesday night on a farm about six miles south of Geneva-on-the-Lake.

The body of Mrs. Patricia Smith, 25, was pulled from the 18-foot-deep pond after the bodies of her four children were found floating on the water. The children were Kevin, 4, Kathy, 3, Kasandra, 1, and Keith, 2 months.

Mrs. Smith had been separated from her husband, Wilbert, since January, Higerd said. A relative said she had been despondent.
