

The Gay Philosopher

By J. W. S.

MR. ROBERT Kamon, local geologist, is on the high seas these days en route to Australia. His mother, Mrs. Rudolph Kamon, tells us that she took him to Houston last week and after a 5-day delay his ship sailed. They enjoyed the 5-day waiting period by visiting many points of interest and seeing old friends. The ship will make only one stop en route to Australia. It will put in at an island in the South Pacific in about two weeks. Robert will be in Australia in something like a month. He figures to be gone several months and to kind of seek his fortune. He took along some of his equipment to look for oil. Its summer time down Australia way right now, so Robert took along his sports shirts and his sun helmet.

MOST OF THE credit for the publicity work in connection with the Red Cross Bloodmobile Clinic belongs to Mrs. R. H. Cutting of our town. She kept us plenty of good material to write about and did most of the writing herself. We've received a lot of compliments on account of her good work.

Mrs. W. W. Wallace, the chairman, has asked us to add that the leaders certainly appreciated the work of the church and club groups that provided sandwiches, milk and cookies served during clinic day.

COMES A NOTE from Mr. Joy Dean Laws from Temple to report that "my mother, Mrs. Grady Laws, underwent a major operation at 11 a. m. Monday. She is doing just fine. She was allowed to sit up in a chair Wednesday. If every thing goes along O.K., she will be home in two weeks." Mrs. Laws is in Room 209, Scott and White Hospital, Temple.

THE MAIL BRINGS an interesting letter from Mr. Leonard L. Parish of Sacramento, California, who writes as follows: "As a former resident of Cisco through boyhood from 1906 to 1923, I enjoy receiving the paper, although few names mentioned mean much to one so long removed but one always hopes that the next edition will give something that ties with the past. This is the primary reason for wanting the paper as is the case, I suspect, with others away from Cisco."

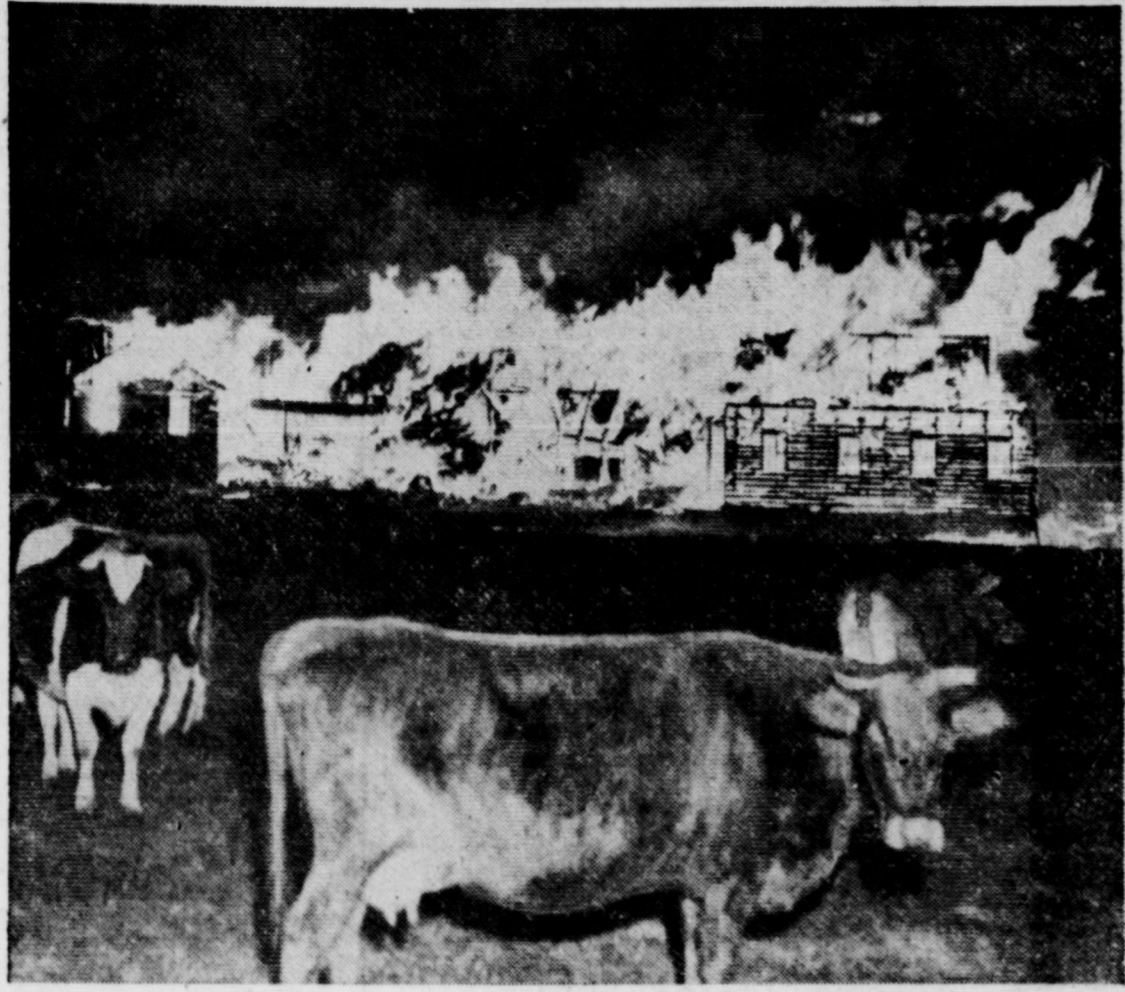

"I accumulate the papers and usually pass them to an old friend of mine, Ira Hamby, who also grew up in Cisco and now lives in Bakersfield, Calif. I also have an interest in your paper as I served a few weeks as a printer's devil on the old Cisco Roundup which was published weekly at the time by Greenleaf Lisk, ably assisted by Floyd Shepard and Arnold Brown and someone else I can't remember. We were certainly pleased when the issue was out and all piled and stacked on Friday nights."

"If possible I would like to say hello to anyone who might remember me."

Mr. Parish's address is 1320 Macio Lane, Sacramento, Calif.

Desk And Derrick Club For Women To Be Organized

A membership meeting of the newly organized "Desk and Derrick Club of Breckenridge" will be held at the Woman's Forum, December 1, 1952, at 7:30 p. m. The Woman's Forum is located at 1804 West Walker Street.

The purpose of the Desk & Derrick Club is to promote among women employed in the petroleum and allied industries a clearer understanding of the oil industry through instructive programs and field trips.

The Desk and Derrick Club is open to women actively engaged in all branches of the petroleum industry and organizations who directly supply and serve the oil industry.

All Desk & Derrick programs, with the exception of occasional business sessions, are devoted to some phase of the complex petroleum industry. Members hear prominent speakers on topics ranging from drilling to marketing, see oil industry movies and participate in discussion groups.

Officers for the coming year are: Jean Bunker, President; Celia Weatherford, Vice President; Marlene Mills, Recording Secretary; Fern Hart, Corresponding Secretary; Louise Athey, Treasurer; Eugenia Power, Director; Kathleen Isbell, Director; Trannie M. Buchanan, Director; Jeanne Fort, Director.

An invitation is issued to all women of the area, who are eligible, to attend the December 1, 1952 meeting of the Desk & Derrick Club. Anyone who would like more information about the Desk & Derrick Club may contact the Club officers.

Delphian Club Has Meeting At Townsend Home

Mrs. Garland Shelton was hostess in the home of her mother, Mrs. J. M. Townsend, Tuesday, November 25, for the regular meeting of the Delphian Club.

During the business session, the resignation of Mrs. Carl Lummus was accepted with regrets and Mrs. Floyd Pool was elected to fill the unexpired term of Parliamentarian. Mrs. James Cottle was welcomed as a new member.

An invitation was extended to the club by Mrs. R. A. Elliott to attend a book review to be given in her home by Mrs. Dudley, first vice president.

In presenting the program, Mrs. J. D. Meredith discussed "Origin and Nature of Government;" Mrs. J. M. Townsend, "What is a Republic?" and Mrs. Ford Green, "This American People." A round table discussion on "Is The American Doctrine Still Valid?" followed.

Members and guests attending the meeting were: Mesdames C. S. Barrows, R. Brooks, Ray Elliott, Floyd Hamilton, R. A. Elliott, James Cottle, Homer McDonald, J. D. Meredith, Brit Pippen, Floyd Pool, J. M. Townsend, Laford Green, R. E. Weber, Wiley Williams, H. R. Roberts, Jack Taylor, B. A. Elliott, and the hostess, Mrs. Shelton.

The Moran Luncheon Club met Wednesday for their regular meeting and turkey dinner. Sanford Tune of Moran Church of Christ brought the Thanksgiving address and W. R. Karkalis, the new toastmaster, presided and gave the invocation. L. L. Walker was in charge of the program.

The table decorations carried out the Thanksgiving theme. Eighty five members and guests attended. Guests were present from Cisco, Albany, and Eastland.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Brewster were honored on their 61st wedding anniversary at a dinner at the home of Mrs. Ida Leftwich with Mrs. Leftwich and Mrs. Nora Lee as hostess, November 22.

W. H. Brewster, Mrs. Leftwich, and Mrs. Lee are the only survivors of a large pioneer family of Brewsters.

Those attending the celebration were Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Brewster, Mr. and Mrs. Sammy Brewster, Mrs. Ida Leftwich, and Mrs. Nora Lee of Fort Worth.

Mrs. J. C. Chambers is visiting her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Rose in Oklahoma City over the holidays.

Bert Brooks is recovering at his home from a recent operation.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Brooks spent Thanksgiving Day in Fort Worth with relatives.

Hunt To Usher In Christmas Shopping Season

An electric sandwich grill and a saw and hammer were added Friday to the growing list of valuable prizes offered by Cisco merchants for the fourth annual Treasure Hunt which is scheduled to be held in Cisco Monday night. The hunt will usher in the official opening of the Christmas shopping season in Cisco.

The hunt will begin at 6:30 p. m. Monday and placards bearing the winning number will be in the show window of each of the participating merchants. The numbers on the placards will match some of the numbers on the tickets given to the participants.

The Christmas lights were being tested Friday and will be turned on Monday night for the Treasure hunt. They will remain on each evening until after the first of 1953.

The Western Auto Associate Store has offered the sandwich grill and Rockwell Bros. & Co. has offered the saw and hammer. Other gifts are: Curry Grocery, a gift item; Lemore Pharmacy, a two pound box of Norris chocolates; Maye's Cafe, dinner for two; Savoy Cafe, dinner for two; Smallwood Electric Company, a small appliance; Garrett and Speir, a gallon of outside house paint; Whites Cafe, dinner for two; Tennyson Radio Sales and Service, $5 in merchandise; Walton Electric Company, an electric windshield defroster; Don's Service, 10 gallons Texaco gasoline; Yardley Service Station, 10 gallons Conoco Ethyl gasoline; J. SOIL CONSERVATION IN DANGER

Dr. Hugh H. Bennett, former Chief of the Soil Conservation Service, warned today that soil conservation progress in this country is in "serious danger" because of a reorganization program now underway in the Agriculture Department.

Writing in the December issue of Country Gentleman, Dr. Bennett says the "power hungry, politically-motivated" Production and Marketing Administration is stripping the Soil Conservation Service of its essential functions, under a reorganization to coordinate the Department's conservation programs.

The Production and Marketing Administration operates the Agricultural Conservation Program which, by order of Secretary of Agriculture Brannan, is being coordinated with the work in the Soil Conservation Service.

Dr. Bennett says he favors a single conservation program but claims that under the present reorganization the permanent, long-range program of the SCS is being weakened in favor of the "shotgun" type of conservation which the ACP administers.

Under the reorganization the SCS is to lose its job of research in soils, crop management and water management and is being loaded down with responsibility for national soil surveys, Dr. Bennett says. The result, will be to slow down "practical soil conservation," whereas this program should be accelerated.

"To strip SCS of research would be like taking the tools out of a farmer's shop on the grounds that he should take all of his repair and maintenance work to the factories that made his machines," Dr. Bennett says. "The first need of SCS was special research—in fact before soil conservation work started, there weren't even any applicable data on the rate of soil loss from different slopes and soils under various conditions of rainfall and cropping. A progressive soil-conservation program will always have need for a closely geared research division to get answers to the special problems that constantly come up in field work."

Dr. Bennett, known as the "father" of the Soil Conservation Service which was established in 1935, retired from the Agriculture Department last April after nearly 50 years of service.

GM Opens $194,000 Highway Contest

FROM DETROIT headquarters, thousands of entry blanks and rule books were being mailed out this week to contestants in the General Motors Better Highways Awards Contest. The contest is the largest of its kind ever attempted and GM is offering 162 prizes, totaling $194,000 for the best essays on the subject, "How to Plan and Pay for the Safe and Adequate Roads We Need."

Open to every man and woman in the United States, the contest offers a first national award of $25,000; second place nationally, $10,000; third place, $5,000; and three national honorable mentions of $3,000 each. In addition, there will be nine separate regional awards of $2,500 each. Finally, first place winners in each of the 48 states plus the District of Columbia will receive $1,500 each. Two honorable mention awards for each state and the District of Columbia will be $500 each, a total of 98 state honorable mentions.

GM is sponsoring the essay writing contest, which closes on March 1, 1953, in an effort to stimulate "more nation-wide thinking, discussion and understanding of the facts of our current highways requirements."

Entry blanks, rule books and further information about the contest may be obtained at any GM passenger car or truck dealer in the U. S. or by writing to General Motors Better Highways Awards Contest, General Motors Building, Detroit 2, Mich.

Pilgrims Offered Thanks For Good Health, Cox Says

AUSTIN, Nov. 28.—A primary reason for the institution of Thanksgiving Day was health. The Pilgrims, the few of them left after that terrible first year of death and disease, wanted to publicly thank God for all his mercies. And so was born the tradition of Thanksgiving.

We have come a long way since that time in the matter of health said Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. Today few people think of Thanksgiving in connection with the health they enjoy. We are so accustomed to good health that we hardly give it a thought—until illness strikes.

The Texas State Department of Health, city and county health organizations have labored for years to secure the measure of health protection that the public now enjoys. Their thanks are to medical science for the strides it has made in preventive medicine, enabling thousands of lives to be saved annually.

Since that first Thanksgiving, the mode of transmission of many diseases has been discovered and the known preventives of diseases have become common knowledge. Yellow fever, plague, and cholera have almost ceased to exist. Smallpox, diphtheria, and typhoid fever can be eliminated as a cause of death if a person takes advantage of immunization. Malaria and other diseases can be controlled if the public demand for their control, as a part of every day activities of the government, be insistent enough.

We have much more to be thankful for, in the matter of health, than did our Pilgrim forefathers, so let us in our individual Thanksgiving be reminded of the strides preventive medicine is making in improving health conditions in Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Starr were to leave Saturday morning for Fort Worth where they will spend the week end with their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Higgins, Jr., and children. While there they will attend the Ted Lewis show.

Mrs. L. B. Lipsey and Mrs. V. H. Bosworth attended the Callahan Associational W. M. U. Leadership Clinic in Putnam Tuesday. Mrs. Lipsey was leader of the Sunbeam conference and Mrs. Bosworth led the G. A. conference.

May 30 is not observed as Memorial Day in all states.

Emergency care for the injured can be helpful or it can be extremely harmful. It pays to know a few "do's" and "don't's" to insure that first aid is exactly right.

An important thing to remember is that a foreign body which gets in the ear canal until the doctor can safely remove it will do much less harm than immediate but clumsy efforts to take it out. If the ear is washed out with water after a bean or pea is gotten in, for instance, the pea of vegetable is likely to swell and make removal much harder.

If an insect flies into the ear, however, something can be done. The noise caused by beating wings, scratching claws, or pain from the claws themselves which may get into the walls of the ear or drum, can make the patient almost frantic. He should be told to lie down with the ear holding the insect uppermost, and any irritating liquid at hand preferably oil, but soda pop, milk, syrup, or water have been used should be poured into the ear canal to drown or force the insect out. If the bug is killed or not seen to escape, no effort should be made to remove it. Once the patient has obtained relief from pain and noise, it is safe enough to wait until he can be taken to the doctor's office, where the bug can be removed with gentle irrigations and the light equipment.

Injuries to the part of the ear that sticks out from the head (the tricle or pinna) may be seen. Bruises, bites, cuts, and stabs in the ear and around the ear are common injuries. The outer ear is protected to some extent by its fleshy nature, which makes it stand away from anything hitting to soften the blow. Except for slight protection, however, it is exposed to almost any kind of wound which may affect other parts of the body.

When an ear is cut, crushed, or burned, it should be promptly treated by a doctor, because the right kind of care usually can prevent deformity. Any pieces of wax which are torn should be kept attached and clean, if possible, to give the ear a better chance to heal or in case they are needed later to repair the ear.

UP AND AT 'EM—Farmers near Tokyo are gathering persimmons and mandarin oranges for shipment to market. While a companion uses a pronged stick to gather fruit from lower branches, left, one man goes aloft to gather persimmons. When full-grown, the trees are 60 feet or more in height. Whole families pitch in when the newly-picked fruit is hung in a drying shed, center photo. In between chores at a giant mandarin orange orchard, some girls can't resist the urge to crawl into a bin-full and let fly with a few, right. These oranges, known in the western world as tangerines, have been grown in Japan for centuries, although they originated in southeastern Asia. This year's harvest has been particularly good in the Orient.

What's the Use of an Abstract . . . if it doesn't cure the title? is another puzzling question to some abstractors, but we have never worried much about this one. Neither does the doctor's prescription cure human ills in all cases, but it may help. The abstract never was designed to cure anybody's title, but the better type of abstract will reveal the condition of the title and place it in position where it may be perfected, if necessary, by the examining attorney.
