Barton Named To City Council

Gus Barton, Wellington farmer, was named to the City Council in a meeting Monday night, July 15. He succeeds Lynn Jenkins, who has moved from here, and his term will run until May 1975.

To clear the way for Mr. Barton's election by the council, the place was declared vacant in a resolution which was approved by unanimous vote.

Mr. Barton was called and attended the remainder of the meeting.

In another appointment,

Watson, Gilmore To Attend Fire Fighting School

Bob Watson and Mike Gilmore will attend the fire fighting school at Texas A&M July 21-26.

Watson will receive instruction in rescue operations while Gilmore will take a fire marsh course.

About 16,000 men from Texas and other states will attend.

The Collingsworth County Farm Bureau will pay the tuition of one man to this school, a community service it has rendered for many years.

Swim Party for Little League

There will be a swimming party for boys who participated in Little League Baseball play at Marian Airpark Pool Saturday, July 20, from 7:00 to 10:00 p.m.

Plans were announced by Charles Darter, Little League president. This includes boys 9 through 12 years who were on the four Little League teams.

Enrollment Schedule for Wellington Schools Given

Wellington Schools will open Monday, August 19, Sept. E.W. Clement announced at the same time listing the school calendar for the 1974-75 school year.

Registration will be Thursday and Friday August 15 and 16, and when the students report on Monday, the opening date, classes will be held.

Teachers will report for a general faculty meeting Tuesday, August 13, and on the following day, Wednesday, August 14, they will attend an inservice meeting at Canyon, Mr. Clement said.

Power Lost for Short Time Tues.

The electrical blackout Tuesday, July 16, shortly before noon came during the switching of a power load, a routine operation, West Texas Utilities Co. manager Jack Kennedy said.

He was en route from Childress to Wellington at the time, but Mr. Kennedy said he understood a switch was lost in the operation.

It was then necessary to reset all relays, one circuit at a time, by hand at the substation. This required around one-half hour. The work was completed by Jerry Settle and Leon Martin.

Wilson Porter, night watchman, was named to the police department. His salary and duties remain the same, but the council felt that the work he was doing was more in line with those of a police officer.

The makeup of the City Council now includes two farmers, Mr. Barton and Earl Lynn Bartlett; a trucking company co-owner, Wayne Cudd; a furniture store owner, Tom Wilkins; and a restaurant-motel owner, Bob Goforth.

The budget hearing was set for Monday, August 19, and the council members again discussed the proposed budget, this time citing those parts about which more information was desired.

It was brought out that the tax rate will be set at the time the budget is approved.

County Hires Memphis CPA To Audit Books

Gordon D. Maddox, young certified public accountant from Memphis, was hired Thursday, July 11, as auditor for the county books, Judge Zook Thomas reported.

The action was taken in a called meeting.

This will be Mr. Maddox first time to audit the Collingsworth County books, Mr. Thomas said. He audits the Hall County books, and it is understood he is auditor for other political subdivisions in Hall County, the commissioners were told.

Also in this meeting, the commissioners finished signing the request to Panhandle Regional Planning Commission for a feasibility study of the proposed combined county-city law enforcement.

"We are announcing these opening dates now in order that parents may plan family vacations with the beginning of school in mind," Mr. Clement said.

Kindergarten pre-enrollment will be Thursday, August 1, from 9:00 to 11:30 a.m. at the elementary school, Mr. Clement said.

It is necessary, by state law, that parents bring the child's birth certificate and immunization record.

If they bring the original birth certificate, a copy will be made and the original returned. "It is necessary that parents bring the child to enroll, so that a division on the type of kindergarten can be arrived at," Mr. Clement said.

The enrollment schedule for elementary school will include: Grades one through three: Thursday, August 15, 9:00 to 11:30 a.m.

Grades four and five: Friday, August 16, 9:00 to 11:30 a.m. In Junior High, the eighth grade will register from 9:00 to 11:30 a.m. Thursday, August 15, and the seventh grade from 1:00 to 3:00 p.m. that day.

Sixth grade students will register from 9:00 to 11:30 a.m. Friday, August 16.

A small registration fee will be collected at the time junior high students register, Mr. Clement said.

High School students also

1974 FARM BUREAU QUEEN

Angie Mitchell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Mitchell, was crowned Collingsworth County Farm Bureau Queen Saturday evening, July 13. She will represent the county in the District I contest. The runner up was Linda Coffee, while Connie Lewis is the retiring queen.

WHS Ex-Students To Make Final Plans

A meeting of the Wellington Ex-Students Association has been called for Monday, July 22, in the directors room of Greenbelt Electric Co-operative, Inc., by Mrs. Calvin Mitchell, president. It will begin at 7:45 p.m.

"Anyone interested in helping with final arrangements is cordially invited to meet with us and we will appreciate their work," Mrs. Mitchell (Patsy Harper) said. "We can give everyone a job."

Volunteers are especially needed to hang the Welcome to Wellington banners, which are due to go up the week of July 27 to 29, and remain through Reunion week. These will be placed in front of each business house which owns one of the banners.

Five individual class reunions will be held. The years, and those who are in charge of plans are:

1943: B.M. Sims.
1954: Mrs. Virgil Patterson (Genevieve Bartlett) and Mrs. Earl Patterson (Delores Ward).
1955: Dr. John G. Thomas of Bryan.

1964: Mrs. Dan Langford (Anne Henard) and Mrs. Glenn Thomas (Jane Orr).
1965: Mrs. George Porter (Vickie Mayhugh) and Jan Glenn of Houston.

Childress All-Stars Blank Wellington

An experienced Childress Little League All Star Team brought to a close the first year of Wellington Little League Baseball by defeating the Wellington All Stars, 21-0 at Childress on Monday July 15, 1974.

The Wellington batters were shut out by S. Morren. He permitted one walk to Marty Warrick and singles by Hasel Bonaparte, Craig Darter and a double by Clint Cleveland. Morren also had 16 strike outs in the six inning game and was 4 for 4 including 3 home runs.

Robert Powell was the starting and losing pitcher for Wellington with Dane Dodge pitching the final inning.

Wellington had a chance to score in the first inning when Bonaparte singled with one out, went to 2nd on a wild pitch, and stole third base, however, after a walk to Warrick, the following two batters were struck out to retire the side.

In the 6th inning, Clint Cleveland doubled and stole third base with none out. However, it wasn't Wellington's night when the next two batters were struck out and Cleveland was tagged out at the plate trying to steal home.

Other members of the All-Stars participating in the game were Kevin Needham, Craig Neeley, Richard Archer, Joe Saldana, Timmy DeVoss, Darrell Vernon, and Darrell Thomas.

According to Charles Darter, the officers and directors wish to thank again the sponsors of the Little League teams: City State Bank, Cudd Brothers, Wellington State Bank and Wellington VFW, for their financial

Feasibility Study Approved for County-City Law Enforcement

City and county officials met with the representatives of the Criminal Justice Department of the Governor's Office and Panhandle Regional Planning Commission Tuesday, July 16, to hear further discussion of a combination law enforcement program for Wellington and Collingsworth County.

Informal approval was given by the city council and commissioners court for a feasibility study by the CJD to determine the law enforcement need and to work out a proposed consolidation law enforcement plan. The city and county may accept this plan as it is presented, or they may modify it, Mayor Bill Hatch explained.

"The county and city will determine the kind of protection we want. We will work out the consolidation details," the mayor continued.

Bill Corbett of the Criminal Justice Department of Governor Bircscoe's office and John Scott of the PRPC stressed that it is up to the county and city to set up the program they want.

"Their program is to try to cut down crime in Texas and to do what it takes to cut down crime. They stressed they are not telling us what to do," Mayor Hatch emphasized.

The Commissioners Court and City Council will meet again Friday to take formal action on what they agreed to Tuesday. This meeting was called hurriedly and there was not time to post notice of an official meeting, as required by law.

It was pointed out to the commissioners and council members that they will put no more into the program in money than their last year's budget for their separate law enforcement operations. The difference will be made up through the CJD grant.

An application for $45,000 per year for a two year period will be filed. The program itself is funded for a year at a time. If it is working at the end of the first year, and if the county and city are still in agreement, the program will be funded for the second year.

Mr. Corbett stressed that counties all over the state are wanting feasibility studies for programs of this type. A number are already in operation.

Judge Zook Thomas chaired the meeting. All four commissioners were present, including Pat O'Hair, Melvin Seale, Buck Breeding and Cliff Hartman.

Bonnie and Clyde Due Revival Here

The path Bonnie Parker and Clyde Barrow followed from the bed of Salt Fork River at the Highway 83 bridge, up a small hill to a farm house where they held a family hostage, may become a well-traveled area-by tourists.

The Collingsworth Chamber of Commerce directors have proposed to see if the building now vacant and on private property, is available for lease. If it can be secured, it will be set up as a Collingsworth point of interest to tourists. It is the more important because it lies almost directly across US 83 from the new county park.

The park itself is in the early stages of development, but it is open to public use. Care is urged during bridge construction hours.

Many towns, it was pointed out in the meeting of C-C directors Thursday evening, July 11, have capitalized on and built recognition for themselves with much less to start with.

It has been 40 years since the incident occurred, at another bridge construction project across Salt Fork.

Bonnie Parker was a teen-ager, about the age, in fact, of the girls who graduated from county high schools this spring, when the incident at the bridge occurred.

Clyde Barrow had ranged into Collingsworth earlier, while living across the state line in Oklahoma. He was arrested here by the late Sheriff Claude McKinney for chicken stealing.

In brief, the night they came through Collingsworth, with a companion, they traveled at a high rate of speed down US 83 from the south and crashed through the barricade set up at the abutment edge. Their car hurtled out over Salt Fork and landed on its wheels in the river bed.

However shaken they may have been, the occupants were

Renewal of RC&D Sought at Meeting

A revival of the North Rolling Plains Resource Conservation and Development will be sought in a meeting at Pampa Thursday, July 18.

It will begin at 2:00 p.m. and several representatives from this county are due to attend.

The proposed renewal of activities was discussed by Tommy Powell, unit conservationist, Soil Conservation Service. Sponsors due to attend

Mayor Hatch, City Manager, Lyman Daniel, city legal representative Paul Spillman, and council members Bob Goforth, Tom Wilkins, and Gus Barton. Wayne Cudd had left following the city council meeting Monday night on a business trip to Corpus Christi, and Earl Lynn Bartlett was irrigating cotton at his farms.

Representing law enforcement agencies were Sheriff John Rainey, Deputy Henry Hobbs and Policeman Mike Gilmore.

Both the commissioners court and city council have discussed the law enforcement a number of times separately since the proposal was revived, but the Tuesday meeting was the first joint meeting the two bodies have held. One had been planned, but the CJD and PRPC representatives arrived before it could be called.

from here are Mr. Powell, representing Soil Conservation Services; Dan Henard, Jr. representing Salt Fork Soil and Water Conservation District; Billy Hatch, mayor of Wellington; and Pat McAnister, representing Greenbelt Electric Co-operative, Inc.

Other sponsors are Dodson Mayor T.E. Lennon and County Commissioner W.R. Breeding, representing the county.

Church Barbecue to Net Around $1,600

Approximately four hundred were served at the old-time beef barbecue staged by First United Methodist Church Friday evening, July 12. This could add at least $1,600 to the church building fund, said Mrs. Cal Hurst, overall chairman.

Three hundred and fifty persons were present at Ellison Park for the evening of eating and good fellowship, and the remaining 50 were served by barbecue sent to Thomas Nursing Center.

Musical entertainment was presented by Bobby Saied, who played his guitar and sang.

Mrs. Hurst said that all bills are not yet in, but those working with the barbecue believe it will be $1,600 or more.

Besides this amount, United Methodist Women have conducted a flea market in downtown Wellington for several weeks, and it is estimated the two events together now have brought in around $3,500 to the building fund.

"The community has been wonderful in supporting our fund-raising projects," said Mrs. Hurst.

Street Marking Due This Week

City street employees will begin this week repainting the stripes remarking parking spaces around the square, City Manager Lyman Daniel said.

The city had enough yellow brick paint on hand for part of the work and the remainder of the paint is on order. It is due to arrive this week, the city manager said.

He also announced that the public hydrant is ready for use and is located on city lots north of Warrick's Inc.

CC Names New Directors, Hears Airport Program

Four new directors have been named to the board of the Collingsworth Chamber of Commerce, President Charles Floyd announced following a board meeting Thursday, July 11.

Jack Kennedy, local manager of the West Texas Utilities Company, was appointed to fill the unexpired term of Lynn Jenkins, who has moved from Wellington. His term will run until January 1, 1975.

Two directors were re-elected and a new one named in the regular election canvassed at the meeting.

Mayor Bill Hatch and Pat McAlister were re-elected and Truett Holland of Dodson was named to the board. They take office immediately and their terms expire July 1, 1976.

In another meeting highlight, Mayor Hatch reported on the proposed Marian Airpark improvement.

Mr. Kennedy came to Wellington about a year ago from Spur, where he served as director, vice president and president of the Merchant's Association, that town's equivalent of the Chamber. He is also the treasurer of the Wellington Kiwanis Club, and a past president of both the Spur Lions and Spur Rotary Club.

With West Texas Utilities Company 27 years, he also was with the Stamford office.

Mr. Holland, life long county resident and a breeder of registered Herefords, he retired July 1 after more than 20 years with

Groves Sounds the Opening of 'Texas'

It is the trumpet of a Wellington man, David Groves, that is heard at the beginning of "Texas" each evening this summer.

Mr. Groves is sound director for the production and is one of three persons associated with the musical drama who have close connections with Wellington.

The musical drama of the Texas Panhandle written by Paul Green, plays in the Palo Duro Canyon State Park nightly except Sunday through August 24. This is the spectacular story of the area in the 1880's which has played to more than 600,000 people. The members of the company with roots in area are: Carol Coleman of the Box Office Crew is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. J.D. Coleman. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. John D. Coleman. Born at McLean, her family has lived in Collingsworth for four generations. Carol lived on the family ranch several years before moving to Canyon, where she has won honors in dramatics.

Groves is the son of the Claude Groves of Wellington. He is in charge of sound for "TEXAS" and designed and supervised the construction of the sound control board which is in use this summer for the first time. He received a Master of Music Degree from West Texas State University this spring. This is his fourth season in the "Texas" sound booth.

Virginia Raillard, manager of the gift shop for "Texas" is a member of the Fortenberry family of Wellington. Her husband, Raymond Raillard, is the executive-vice-president and is in charge of all of the management of the production. She has three sons, who are former "Texas" cast members.

All of these people gave many hours of their time to make the program a success and provide the boys in the Wellington area with an opportunity to play official little league baseball.

We also wish to thank Emmitt Bobbitt and Tommy Thomas for managing the Pee-wee teams; Polly Cozad and Vikki Saunders managing the 10-11 girls softball teams; Mrs. Alton Belew and Mrs. Rodney Porter for managing the 6-9 girls softball teams; and Mrs. Dennie Marcum for managing the 12-15 girls softball teams. Their efforts and time in helping these young people were greatly appreciated.

Duckworth Heads Crowley Police

Delmer Duckworth, member of the Fort Worth Police Department for about 7 years, has been named chief of the Crowley police department.

This is a town of about 8,000 near Ft. Worth. Duckworth, the son of Mrs. Sid Bell, graduated from Wellington High School in 1962 and recently was graduated from Tarrant County Junior College.

But on reaching the house, the sheriff and his deputy were kidnapped, and their car taken. Some hours later, the two officers were found, tied up but uninjured.

As for the bridge then under construction, it lasted only 5 years, until some of the highest floodwaters Salt Fork ever carried washed out both it and the Ft. Worth and Denver Railway bridge.

The saga of Bonnie and Clyde, revived in a motion picture by that name, became more than a nine-day wonder—and interest in these two young hoodlums from out of the deep depression years goes on.

#5—continued from page 1 dormant due to lack of funding, however, it now appears that the project can be funded and it is in anticipation of this that the Thursday meeting will be held.

Resource Conservation and Development Projects are locally initiated and sponsored projects designed to carry out a program of conservation, utilization and development of natural resources in an area where acceleration of the current conservation activities plus the use of new authorities will provide a better environment and additional economic opportunities to the people, it was pointed out.

Among the counties in the North Rolling Plains project are Collingsworth, Wheeler, Hemphill, Hall, Donley, Gray, Lipscomb, part of Briscoe.

A RC&D project may cross county lines or it may be wholly within one county.

A new president will be elected in the Pampa meeting to succeed O.R. Stark, Quitaque banker, who has told the group that business interests make it impossible for him to give the necessary time to the RC&D work.

Dan Henard Jr., who represents Salt Fork Soil and Water Conservation district on the board of directors, is vice president, while the secretary-treasurer is Larry Parks, Memphis banker.

Revision of the Constitution and By-laws is on the agenda, and various projects and activities will be discussed.

He has been a community leader and is active in the Masonic Lodge.

Mayor Hatch, who owns Hatch Dry Goods has long been associated with the Chamber of Commerce and has held offices prior to this.

Mr. McAlister is with Greenbelt Electric Co-operative, Inc. and is president of the Wellington Cycle Club and Kiwanis Club.

Directors received enthusiastically the report of Mayor Hatch on the proposed airport improvement.

Total improvements, he said would amount to $277,000, and of this, the city of Wellington would pay only 12½ per cent, $34,625.00.

This is made possible, it was explained, through a Federal Aviation Agency Program passed by Congress in 1973, which will, if approved, finance 75 per cent of the cost. State funding of 12½ per cent will be available through the Texas Aeronautics Commission.

Mr. Hatch said approval of the project has been given by PRPC and it is now in a waiting period.

Wellington is the only town in the eastern Panhandle to seek this type of airport improvement.

He explained what the improvements would cover:

- Purchase of 183.02 acres and air easements for landing the approach zones

- Construction and marking a 4,000x60 ft. north-south runway.

- Install medium intensity runway lighting for the north-south runway, complete with VASI and junior beacon.

- Construct fencing around the land to be purchased.

- Construct stub taxiway to connect north-south runway with present parking apron.

In answer to questioning, Mr. Hatch said:

"If we turn this down now, we will never get another chance at it (airport improvement)."

New Program Offers State Airport Aid

Charles Murphy, Executive Director, announced today that a review will start of Request for Aid which have been received and those that will be received before September 1, 1974, which marks the beginning of the state's new fiscal year.

The 63rd Legislature appropriated $600,000 to match up to 50% city and county cost of developing airports. All cities and counties whose population does not exceed 75,000 are eligible to receive cash grants.

Added emphasis will again be given this year to those towns, cities, and counties most ready to proceed with their projects. Every effort will be made to expedite construction on approved projects in order to assure their completion within the same fiscal year. Cities and towns not prepared for immediate action will be encouraged to think in terms of programming for the following year or years.

Those cities and counties which have already filed a formal Request for Aid may revise their request or confirm by letter that their application is still valid and that they want it considered without change.

As in previous programs, Murphy said, the construction of new airports will be given emphasis, although many of the projects to be approved will undoubtedly be in the nature of the paving and lighting of existing airports.

As funds will be limited, communities contemplating airport development during the first year are encouraged to make early application. The necessary form will be furnished upon request and if an advisory visit is necessary, every effort will be made to provide this service.

L. J. Driskill Dies in Colo.

A former Wellington man, Lawrence J. Driskill, 74, of Arvada, Colorado, died there Monday, July 1, after a lengthy illness.

His sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. W.O. Vaughan, were with him.

Students Attending Music Camp at WTSU

Amarillo, Tex. — Junior and senior high school musicians numbering over 1100, are attending the 22nd West Texas Instrumental Music Camp at West Texas State University July 14-26.

One thousand one hundred eighty-five (1185) students from Arizona, Kansas, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Texas are on the WTSU campus for the 13-day music camp.

The camp is "regarded as one of the largest of its kind in the United States," says Dr. George Umberson, head of the WTSU Music Department and camp director.

"Many directors have told me that students who attend are at least one semester ahead of where they would have been in the fall without the intense effort of two weeks' at camp, says Umberson.

The camp is of value to the students both "musically and personally."

Nine bands, a symphony orchestra, and twirling and drum majoring techniques are features of the summer workshop. Dr. Ralph Laycock of Brigham Young University conducts the Honors Band and J.R. McEntyre of Odessa the Symphonic Band.

The Honors and Symphonic Bands are made up of the most advanced instrumental players in camp, selected by audition.

Eighty-five string players make up the nucleus of the Symphony Orchestra. The most advanced wind and percussion players use orchestra as an elective class. Harry Lantz of the Peabody Conservatory, Nashville, Tenn., leads the orchestra.

Campers spend from "five to six hours a day in work," says Umberson. In addition to required membership in one of the bands or orchestra, students may take instruction in choir, music theory, baton twirling, drum majoring, conducting, solo preparation, improvisation and beginning piano.

Other elective organizations are stage band, reading band, brass choir, marching band and various ensembles.

Friday (July 19) the Camp will present a concert beginning at 1:30 p.m. in the Branding Iron Theatre on campus. The Final Concert is scheduled Friday July 26.

The West Texas Instrumental Music Camp was first held in 1953 and was attended by 75 students. The camp is now one of the largest of its kind in the United States. We are "pleased that students and directors from throughout the Southwest feel it is of such quality that they turn out" for the camp, says Umberson.

Jean Owens of Wellington is attending the camp. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G.T. Owens, Jr. of 1800 Graham.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Ford returned home last Wednesday after spending several days in Denver with her brother, Mr. and Mrs. J.L. Burt.

Mrs. Jim Cabell of Los Alamos, New Mexico, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Obie White, last week.

Pall bearers were Robert Posey, Hubert Leach, Gilroy Rummel, A.L. Elliott, C.O. Wilkerson and Paul Bell.

Survivors are his wife, Mrs. Jewell Estes; a son, Reuel D. Estes, of Arroyo Grande, Calif.; two stepsons, Jack Mitchell of Phoenix, Arizona, and Dale Mitchell of Amarillo; his mother, Mrs. Edith Estes; a sister, Mrs. Jeff Martin of Ralls; a brother, Virgil Estes, of Wellington, and 9 grandchildren.

Social Planned For Ambulance Service Workers

An ice cream supper will entertain members of the Collingsworth Volunteer Ambulance Service and their families Thursday, July 25, at 7:30 p.m. in Ellison Park.

After the summer, ambulance service personnel will hold a training session in the ambulance building on the grounds of Collingsworth General Hospital, said Mrs. Margaret Vines, secretary.

The volunteer ambulance service has three new members, she reported. They are Johnny Brown, Johnny Green and Ralph Owens.

One member has resigned, Randy Amonette, who is moving to Lubbock with his family. He is a pre-medical student in Texas Tech University.

Senator Appeals For Ruling On Aircraft

Senator Jack Hightower of Vernon has asked the attorney general for a ruling to "clear up" the confusion surrounding the use of charter aircraft by delegates to the Constitutional Convention.

Hightower is chairman of the Convention's Committee on Administration.

"The Committee, using guidelines set down by the Comptroller's office, had been approving all travel vouchers early in the convention," Hightower pointed out.

He noted the Convention's pay commission recently has refused to honor vouchers turned in by some delegates because they have been using chartered planes.

Hightower asked Attorney General John Hill to clear up "the legality of a delegate receiving reimbursement for chartering an airplane for travel to and from Austin for the purpose of attending the Convention and returning home."

The Vernon senator said "the Administration Committee always has followed the letter and spirit of the law, and now that this question has arisen, we are simply seeking a ruling from the Attorney General as to what actually is the law."

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Gray and children, Debbie and Sherri, of Grandview, Mo. visited Mrs. Gray's grandmother, Mrs. Ray Scott, last weekend.

MR. AND MRS. EMIL KERSTEN

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Kersten Honored On Fiftieth Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Kersten who were married here and have called Wellington home most of the time since, were honored on their 50th wedding anniversary Sunday, July 7, in the Heritage room.

Hosts were their two sons and daughters-in-law and their grandchildren, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Kersten and Mark of St. Louis, Mo., Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Kersten and Kathy, also Mr. and Mrs. Sam J. Rutkowski of Borger, Mr. and Mrs. David Beech of St. Louis, Mo., and Mr. and Mrs. Don Martin of Weatherford, Oklahoma.

Guests were greeted by Mr. and Mrs. Kersten, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Kersten and Ronald Kersten. Mrs. Ronald Kersten was at the registry table, which was laid with a white cloth and centered with a framed copy of the anniversary invitation and a gold candle.

The reception table, covered with a white lace cloth over gold, had a centerpiece of yellow roses. Crystal appointments were used. Gold candles decorated the entertaining room.

Guests were served by granddaughters, Mrs. Rutkowski, Mrs. Beech, Mrs. Martin, and Miss Kersten.

Approximately 150 friends called during the afternoon. Mr. Kersten and the former Erma Fay Childress were married in Wellington July 8, 1924, only a few years after he had come here.

For most of the time that he has lived here, Mr. Kersten owned and operated a blacksmith and welding shop, turning it over to a son a few years ago. He did not, however, lose interest in the business and its customers or any of his skill in this field of work.

Mr. Kersten was born at Bonham and grew up at Ashdown, Arkansas, where he attended school. His parents were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kersten, his father having been born in Germany and his mother near Waldron, Arkansas.

He started working during World War I, when men were scarce and he, a 14-year-old boy, did a man's work.

"Except for time out to complete my high school, I have worked steady for over 58 years," says Mr. Kersten. During World War II, he volunteered for Army duty but was rejected.

Determined to serve his country, he served the Ordinance as manager of the Welding Shop at Lone Star, near Texarkana. He was transferred to Borger just before the war ended, and then came back to Wellington to go into business.

"We take pleasure in knowing and talking to people. Some of them we have known for over 50 years. Some families we have served for four generations," he recalled on the occasion of the anniversary.

Born in Denton County, Mrs. Kersten is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. J.R. Childress and came to Wellington in 1916, when she was a child.

Foremost in her married life has been the care of her home and children. It was in keeping with this, that she worked for many years in Home Demonstration Club.

More recently, her interest in flowers has resulted in her work with Strong's Flowers, where she is a regular employee.

Mr. and Mrs. Kersten are members of First Christian Church and active in its work.

He also was a long time member of Rotary Club and the Lions Club.

Out of town guests here for the anniversary celebration were R.L. Childress of Baytown, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Carder and Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Waller

Wellingtonites Attend Reunion

The family of the late Mr. and Mrs. W.E. Leach gathered for a reunion July 12-14 at the R&L Ranch near Kendaia.

The weekend was spent visiting, hunting and playing games.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. John D. Priest with Amy and Andy of San Antonio, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Leach with Lori and Christi of Waco, Mr. and Mrs. Jake Leach of Wellington, and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Leach of Abilene.

Also Mr. and Mrs. Don Leach of Andrews, Mrs. Geo Christy and Kirk of Seminole, Jim Leach and Sherri Mills of Andrews, and Harold Leach of Lubbock.

Questions People Ask About the Catholic Church

Q. Is it true that a black man was appointed a Bishop in South Africa lately?

A. Happily, yes. Father Peter Butelezi, a Zulu, was appointed assistant Bishop of Johannesburg. In that bigoted and racially mad country, that is quite a victory for Our Lord's Catholic Church, which he ordered to teach all nations without exception.

Q. When you talk about the Catholic Church, do you mean the Church of Rome?

A. There is only one Catholic Church; the one founded by Jesus Christ, Our Lord, in Jerusalem, on the Apostles, 2,000 years ago. The central government of the Church happens to be in Rome, where St. Peter died, and hence the name Roman. I dislike that term, as it limits Our Lord's Church to one area, whereas it really covers all the nations of the earth for all time, as Jesus wished and ordered it to do. It contains about 3/4 of a billion souls, the largest organization of any kind in the world.

Younger Set Prefers Small Town, Rural Life

Today's younger set would rather live and work in rural and smalltown neighborhoods! True or false?

True, at least for some of them, believes the United States Department of Agriculture. Were it not true, the 30-year floodtide of country youth moving to the big cities would not be slowing down the way it is.

There is evidence of this trend in Collingsworth. There is a sizable upswing in nonfarm rural job opportunities, and every new job adds to the economic tempo of the community, bringing additional jobs and business to it.

"Smalltown and rural people are increasingly organizing to hammer out a master plan for their community," said Will Erwin, assistant Secretary of Agriculture for rural development, recently.

The aim of rural development is to increase the vitality of existing business, create new job-producing and tax-sharing enterprises, and add to opportunities for a fuller and richer life of the people.

It makes possible community facilities, activities and services -- a chance for better schools, and for rewarding experiences that only an up-and-coming community can offer.

All this is available for Collingsworth. Our people have the ability. We have the resources. Besides local funding, there are federal sources of money to be investigated.

They just don't make convertibles like they used to. Not as many anyhow. Time was when the convertible was the way to be fully free on the open road. A dozen years ago, a half million convertibles rolled off the assembly lines. Last year's total was a tenth that number. The auto air conditioner, the "hardtop," the changing 'shes of the auto buyer are driving them out of ex . . .

So, next time you happen upon a convertible, take a good look. For the convertible is going, going and soon may be gone.

Of Milk and Funnies

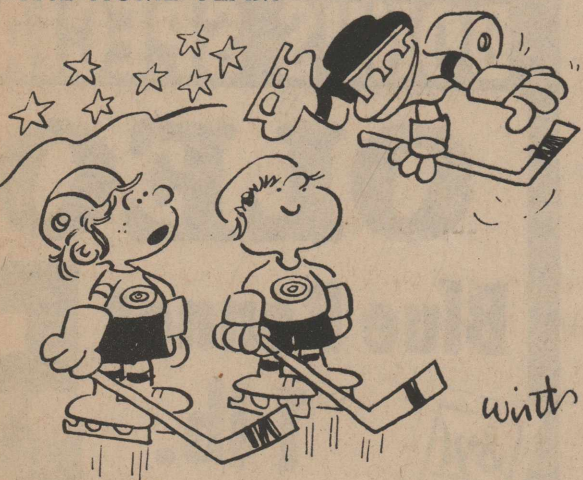

IT HAS always been a little depressing to newspaper journalists to think about what people might be using their newspapers for after they are a day or two old. The thought of all those lovingly crafted sentences being wrapped around what's left of the fish, or pushed hurriedly under the puppy, was just too dismaying to contemplate.

But in this dairy state of Wisconsin it cannot go without comment that government researchers in Japan have come up with a new wrinkle for old newspapers. They pour molasses over them and feed the mess to four Holstein milk cows to provide a sixth of the animals' daily food. So far the cows are still yielding good milk.

Of course. How could anyone have expected otherwise?

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Lyndell Williams

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, Tex.—Fitting together an acceptable constitutional revision package proved to be fully as thorny a job as the most pessimistic forecasters maintained.

Constitutional Convention delegates limped back to Austin this week to try again for a showdown two-thirds majority vote after rejecting 91-86 the initial submission proposal which they had stitched together piece-by-piece earlier.

Hang-ups ranged over a wide area—from the separate right-to-work proposition (which is bitterly opposed by organized labor) to internal provisions of the basic revision document.

Some persistent critics argued special interests had too big a hand in drafting the revision. Members of all factions disagreed over sections of the education article—including guaranteed equal opportunity and earmarked college building funds.

First approaches at compromise centered on efforts to eliminate some of the five "separate submission" items—that is, proposals not included in the basic revision.

$72 MILLION TEXAS SHARE—Texas received $72 million in federal revenue-sharing funds for the final quarter of fiscal 1974.

The state government's share is $24,260,347—the same as third quarter of fiscal '74.

Checks will go to all levels of government which are eligible for revenue-sharing funds. About $48 million will benefit cities, counties and other local units.

TEXAS DOMINANT — Texas still dominates the livestock industry on the basis of 1973 statistics.

Texas Agriculture Commissioner John C. White said Texas last year produced more than twice as many cattle and calves as the second place state, Iowa — 16,250,000 head, compared to Iowa's 7,660,000.

Sheep and lamb production in Texas also topped the nation, and Texas ranked among the nation's top 10 dairy cattle states. Hog production in the state totalled 1,050,000 head in 1973.

HEARINGS BEGIN — First of 14 Texas Water Quality Board hearings began in Fort Worth and Dallas last week in an effort to find a suitable way to dispose of toxic industrial wastes.

Testimony will also be taken in Beaumont, Port Arthur, Mexia, San Antonio, Pasadena, Corpus Christi, Brownsville, El Paso, Midland, Amarillo, Longview and Austin.

APPOINTMENTS—Gov. Dolph Briscoe appointed Jerry W. Woodcock of Gainesville district attorney of the 235th district replacing Jim J. Hatcher of Gainesville who resigned. The district includes Jack, Wise and Cooke counties.

Briscoe named Sister Austin Cusimano of Waco and David A. Garrett of San Antonio to the Advisory Hospital Council and reappointed four present members.

AG OPINIONS — Financial records and information plies only to commercial enterprises.

Two San Antonio lawyers shouldn't be reprimanded by the State Bar for writing letters to a newspaper editor criticizing a district judge and each other.

A contested 4,500 acres including a large part of Pleasure Island and part of Lake Sabine's bottom belong to Port Arthur (surface rights) and the state (mineral rights).

Its May 29 decision that radio evangelist Lester Roloff can operate homes for teenagers 16 and over without a license will stand in spite of a challenge by Hill.

SHORT SNORTS

Alabama Gov. George Wallace is soliciting funds from Texans for the new "Wallace Campaign," and polling as to how voters would cast their ballots if 1972 presidential candidates (including himself) were running today.

A poll by a state representative showed legislators don't really want a special session on school finance and other matters, although many are calling for one publicly.

on employees' salaries in a school district are subject to public disclosure. Atty. Gen. John Hill held.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded:

• The public has a right to examine and duplicate lists of registered voters who participated in a school board election.

• Hospitals will not lose their tax-exempt status due to incidental operation of a blood bank for public charity where no rent is charged.

• Information provided by banks to local tax assessor-collectors identifying stock-owners and size and value of their holdings is public record.

• State employees must complete 15 or 20 years of employment to qualify for 10 and 14 hours vacation time for each month on the job. Sick leave can be accumulated without limitation.

• Surplus maintenance tax receipts of school districts and junior colleges may be pledged as payment for certificates of indebtedness under law, whether or not the tax election occurred before or after effective date of the act.

• How student service fees are to be charged is decision for governing boards of each institution of higher education.

COURTS SPEAK—The Third Court of Civil Appeals, upholding an Austin district court, said the Railroad Commission can force Lovaca Gathering Company to apportion gas to Austin, San Antonio and Lower Colorado River Authority in the public interest.

Courts can enjoin picketing by strikers only where there is violence or a threat to order, the Supreme Court held.

In other new cases, the High Court held:

- Denied right of a Dallas developer to build a high rise apartment building on Swiss Ave.
- The doctrine by which negligence can be shifted from one party to another ap-

Attorney General Hill has been called on to write an opinion on whether Constitutional Convention delegates can legally draw reimbursement for chartering airplanes for official travel.

Four top candidates for House Speaker have spent nearly $100,000 in their quest for the magic 76 votes needed for election.

Secretary of State Mark White Jr. estimates up to a million names probably should be stricken from voter registration lists due to changes of address.

Nineteen minority business loans totalling $286,677 and 12 grants and contracts worth $1,419,605 were approved by the Texas Office of Minority Business Enterprise.

Common Cause charges lobbyists with "flagrant contempt" for a new disclosure law on the their financial outlays for influencing legislation.

Deck's DIDACTICS

—by Deskins Wells

IF THE delegates to the Texas Constitutional Convention can't agree on the provisions of the new constitution, the ratifications by the people is also doubtful.

THE delegates have voted down the suggested revision of the constitution on two occasions. Now they are trying to write, before the end of the month, a basic law on which they can agree.

SOME TEACHERS say that the State Teachers Association will defeat the new constitution. Union leaders say labor will defeat it. There are also the hard core liberals and the rock ribbed conservatives who have their own objections to some provisions that are included in the present draft.

ANOTHER obstacle to a favorable vote on the new constitution is that great body of people who as individuals are in the same position as this writer — we do not know yet what the final document will contain. Anytime we do not know what is in the package, what the horse looks like with the saddle off or how the steer will weigh without all that water in his belly — our vote will be negative.

MRS. TEMPLE SLAY says the crops still look good and seem to be growing from Clarendon on to Wellington. I told her they still seemed promising from here to Dodson and eastward. The dry conditions southwest and west of us are too near to be comfortable. There has never been a time when a good rain would mean as much in dollars to this region as it would right now.

THIS is that anxious season we go through each year. We have had crops this good in July and have seen some of them dry up and more of them turn into bumper yields. With the exception of last year, we have never seen a crop that had such a potential price tag on each ton of milo and each bale of cotton.

THE METHODIST'S did well in their barbecue serving over 350 people and sending a large amount of food to the rest home. It is estimated that the affair raised over $1,500 for the building fund of the church. The beef was cooked underground and it was tender and delicious. The extras were prepared by the ladies of the church. Together they made a feast to be remembered.

ANGIE MITCHELL has been named Farm Bureau Queen and will represent Collingsworth County in the district-meeting. Angie is another one of those lovely girls who have brought recognition to Collingsworth County for their pulchritude. Angie has a gracious charm and a cheerful smile that should help now and later in life. People like the friendly way in which she greets them.

IT IS refreshing to drive out in the cool of the morning before the heat of the day begins to take its toll on the energy of man and beasts and plants. There is a freshness that is invigorating. Auburn Keller says he saw some dew on plants in the early morning which is a good sign, moisture may come in plenty of time.

THE OTHER morning I drove out in the country to get a breath and a feeling that comes only in the early morning in July. Within a short distance I saw a ground squirrel, a cottontail rabbit, a road runner, fluttering field lark trying to lure the car away from her young, a pair of blue quail, two graceful hawks soaring and dipping for rodents, a scissor tail hovering over the back of a frantic crow, many doves, countless birds rising from the maize and a coyote turning to look at me after sliding into the tall grass.

my article about missing the fresh cut okra grown by Mrs. Henry Stall and brought me a whole sack. My friend Mickey Seale read the article also and she brought some fresh tender okra that was in the perfect stage. But I have some news for anyone else who is thinking of giving me more okra. My own okra plants must have read the paper or became jealous by sunlight telepathy. They have started producing more than we can gather.

"Farmers, ranchers and cattle feeders are tired of being the whipping boys for this administration's disastrous economic policy," stated Mr. Long in making the announcement of the committee composed of agricultural producers in the 13th Congressional District.

"Our Congressman is a man who has consistently supported and defended this administration's farm policies," he continued. "This district gets its economic life blood from agriculture yet the incumbent hasn't authorized and passed a single bill to aid the rural areas, Long declared.

Cotton, Inc. President to Visit Lubbock

J. Dukes Wooters, President of Cotton, Inc., New York and seven top executives of the firm will be in Lubbock July 24, at the South Park Inn to present a program on the marketing and research programs of Cotton, Inc.

Cotton, Inc., with offices in Raleigh, N.C. and New York, is the dollar-per-bale program to which 98 per cent of all cotton farmers throughout the cotton producing states are contributing. The dollar-per-bale goes into research and marketing activities aimed at increasing cotton producer profits.

The program, which is open to the public at no charge, is sponsored locally by the District Women's Cotton Promotion Association, with representation in ten counties on the High Plains and Rolling Plains.

According to Mrs. L.E. McDowell, publicity chairman of the women's group, the program is to give the West Texas cotton producer a better understanding of how the dollar-per-bale contributed to Cotton, Inc., is spent.

Visiting Mrs. A.L. Elliot recently was her son-in-law, Don Crawford of Austin. She had been visited previously by her daughter and children, Mrs. Crawford, Beverly and Don D. Her other daughter, Mrs. Jack Parkhouse, of Dallas has also been a recent visitor.
