Speeding through the night, the driver of this car was momentarily blinded by approaching headlights. Because he was going too fast to control his car instantly, he swerved off the highway and crashed into a telephone pole with such force that the car was almost broken in two. He was dead when help arrived. National Conservation Bureau advises night-drivers to keep their eyes focused on the side of the road, never to look directly into headlights and—most important of all—to drive at moderate speed.

paid back. Two ideas pervade the plan: the humanitarian and political. It is felt that if at possible we should not allow people of Europe to starve to death if we are able to prevent it. It is believed from the political angle that the aid will vent Europe from turning to Asia and that billions of gift now will be cheaper than a later might be. The list of items included in the aid program first, food. Then comes petroleum, coal, lumber and timber, iron, steel farm machinery, electrical equipment, petro equipment, railroad and high equipment, mining machinery, steel plant equipment, saw equipment. The result in country will be that the employment will continue at high level for the next four years at least. Many items will continue as a result of the large expenditures of needed items. The cost run into the billions, but deemed by those who have made much study to conditions, the prudent thing to do.

The United States produces more petroleum than any country in the world, produces three times as much as Germany, Russia, Venezuela, Iran and Rumania combined.

Winter Diseases

Harmful to Children

Austin.—Seasonal health hazards for young children are to be guarded against in the winter-time just as carefully as they are in the summertime in the opinion of Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

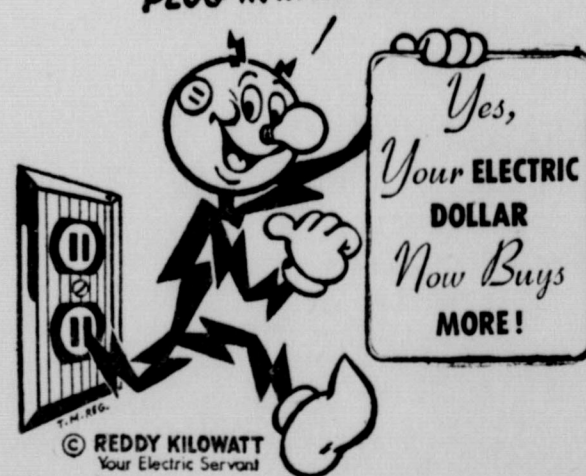

"Every mother is familiar with so-called summer complaints which affect small children but certain winter diseases can be just as harmful and are just as likely to make their appearance unless proper precautions are used during the approaching season," Dr. Cox said.

In the group of winter diseases Dr. Cox included influenza, tonsillitis, pneumonia, bronchitis, asthma, and even diphtheria when a child has not had diphtheria immunization. Any such disease affecting a child's respiratory or breathing system is apt to be very serious and often develops from a neglected cold or may follow a severe case of measles or whooping cough. Bronchitis conditions may also prove to be an after effect of such diseases and these respiratory ailments are much more difficult to combat successfully than the digestive ailments which are prevalent in the summertime, and known as summer complaints.

"These winter diseases are especially dangerous to babies and very young children," Dr. Cox stated. "Nearly all of them are spread from the secretions of the nose and mouth. Children not in vigorous health are naturally more susceptible to these complaint and the first line of defense against them is to build up the child's general health, as a power of resistance against disease," Dr. Cox advised. "The second step is to keep them under medical supervision and the third is to make sure that they avoid contact with those who have coughs, colds, or fevers."

There will be a few basic changes in the 1948 car models. The changes will for the greater part be confined to body lines. Production is so far behind demand that model changes to stimulate sales are not necessary.

No man, that entering into him can defile him; but the things which come out of him, those are they that defile the men. — Mark 7:15.

When I started out as a boy to learn a trade, a local man said recently, I did not receive any pay at all for the first three months. The next three months I received fifty cents a week. I have reached the point where I receive many times fifty cents a week, but regardless of what I receive I have never felt as rich or well to do as I did when I received my first week's salary of fifty cents a week.

Did you ever notice that one seldom hears of some cities with a population of as many as a hundred thousand, while towns of ten thousand and less are in the news nearly every day?

Students of birds tell us that the male humming birds desert the nest as soon as the young hatch out and leave the mother bird to bring up the family. Be-bird too much we might try to feature what would happen among humans if the whole family had to live in one too small and too crowded room. Knowing what we know about such things our suspicion is that father humming bird doesn't just pick up and leave. He is crowded and kicked out, and being the perfect gentleman that he is he keeps his silence and leaves mother and the children the home and all his worldly possessions, and eats his heart out with some piquant blond in another part of the orchard.

Shortly after the close of the war the Army-Navy munitions board embarked upon a program to accumulate in this country a stock pile of critical and scarce metals. Although some $300,000,000 was appropriated for the purpose but little progress has been made. The critical materials are scarce the world over, and the price is considered too high. The committee to date is a full year behind its schedule.

The farmer, if he employs help these days, has to compete in the matter of wages with industry. fast as it becomes to be that as far as it becomes available the farmers will equip their farms with power equipment. This is also true, as long as farmers have to compete with industry in the matter of wages, the price of farm products will remain high.

We feel that the proper and best punishment for the Communists that are attempting to institute their government in this country, would be to sentence them to spend the rest of their lives under a Communistic government.

What We Think
(By Frank Dixon)

The biggest question before the American people today is the question of whether or not the Marshall plan of aid to Europe shall be carried out. Briefly here is what the plan provides:

The aid deemed necessary for Europe for the next four years totals 25 billion. This is to be composed of 19 billions to be appropriated by Congress, plus 3 billions from the U. S. Treasury plus 3 billions for the World Bank from U. S. investors.

The Marshall plan provides that this be given in goods, food, farm machinery, etc., over a period of four years as follows: next year 6 billions, in 1949, 5 billions, in 1950 and 1951, 4 1/2 billions, shipping costs, etc., 2 billions. The money is to be spent in this country and only the finished products will be sent to Europe. For the most part the entire amount will be a gift. There is no note signed, no pledge to pay back.

By supplying the aid to Europe certain effects are going to be produced in this country. We are going to be assured full employment for the next four years at least. Prices are going to continue high because there will continue to be a scarcity of a good many items. Enough will be exported to take up all the surplus and a little more. This is going to delay the arrival of the time when scarcities will disappear from the local markets.

Normally one-third of our exports go to Europe, but Europe is broke and can't pay. So in effect we stake our European customers hoping that they will get back on their feet and become paying customers again.

It is not expected, unless a special session of Congress is called that the aid will be voted upon before next spring.

The public is not unanimously in favor of the plan. There are those who believe that we should do nothing at all for stricken Europe beyond what they can pay cash for. This group believes that the people should be permitted to starve to death and freeze to death during the coming winter. They believe that no steps should be taken and no money spent to re-equip European industry and agriculture to the point where they can get back on their feet and become self-sustaining. This group recognizing that a great many of the people of Europe, without this aid cannot live through the winter and that those who do may develop into a highly unsocial group, willing victims of communism or any other form that offers a scrap of food. Hungry and freezing humans do not act like humans, but are motivated wholly by primal instincts.

The other group of people in this country believes that aid should be extended Europe sufficient to save her from starvation and sufficient to put her on her feet and make her self-sustaining. This group believes that this is the wise and humanitarian and the Christian thing to do. They believe that it will be an insurance policy against a greater disaster.

They feel that failure to lend such a hand at such a time would be indefensible on the part of a Christian nation. They also believe that the extension of help to a stricken people is a must if we of his country would preserve peace in our own conscience.

We have reached a point in this country where the taxpayer has become the forgotten man. Most any sort of a scheme to permit some one to dip a hand in the public treasury can be crammed through most any law making body in the land. No one seems to think that the bill will have to be paid by those who work and who practice thrift and self-denial. Notwithstanding the apparent belief of some, money does not yet grow on trees or bushes.

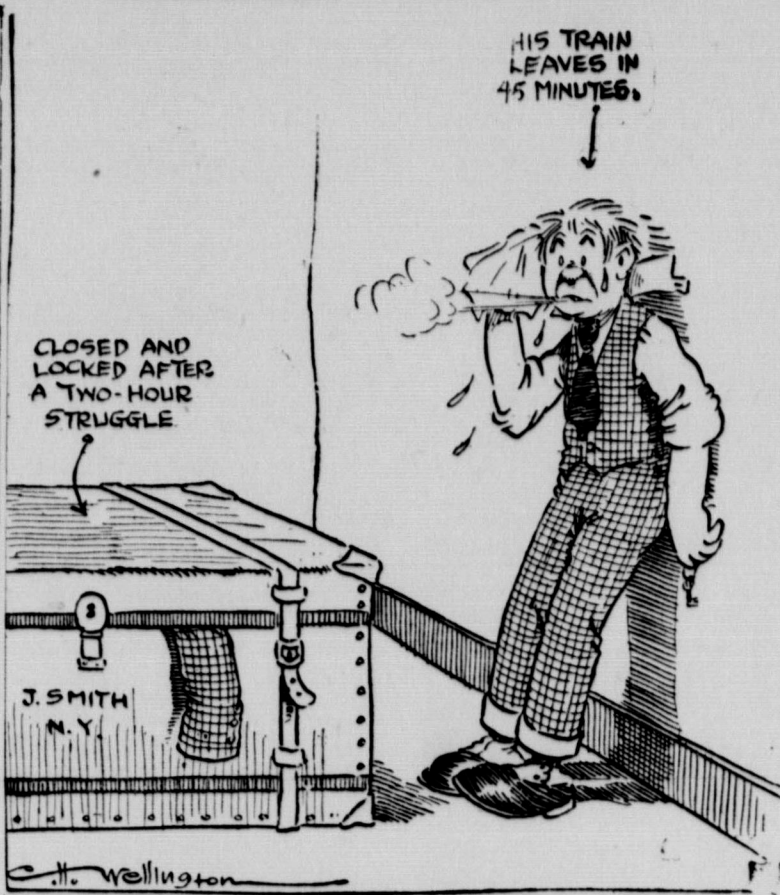

Remember in the good old days when boys would run errands and do small odd jobs for a nickel? A nickel won't tempt a boy to work today because dad and mother dish out to him the dollars. There is no incentive for many boys to work. Adults submitted to the same short sighted policy would soon lose their taste for work.

The scholars and thinkers of the land are always telling us that happiness consists not in things, but in the attitude of the mind. If you want to know how little attention we pay to our scholars and thinkers just notice how everyone is working and hustling to get more money to buy more things. Not much effort is being spent on acquiring an attitude of mind.

There is a lot of buyers strikes going on that are not heard about. A lot of people have made up their minds that they are not going to pay the present high prices and will do without first. They are not talking about it but it is just as effective as though they were.

The time is near at hand when the women are going to have to decide on whether they are going to wear enough underwear to keep warm or to dress according to the style books and suffer from the cold.

With every passing day we derive new satisfaction from the fact that we didn't share our atomic secret with anyone.

HISTORY

Hallowe'en—October 31: Authorities disagree as to the exact origin of the mystic rites of the ancients from which the observation of Hallowe'en began. Some authorities believe that many of the customs of Hallowe'en had their origin in the mystic rites of the Druids centuries before the Christian era. Others believe that at least part of the customs had their origin among the Romans. Singularly enough these customs, handed down from the Druids, though lightly regarded as they enter into the observance of Hallowe'en today, were not so lightly regarded by the Druids. They were a part of a serious ritual. The Druids inhabited Britain and Ireland and were at the height of their power when Caesar marched through Europe. The only authentic written account of the sect was written by Caesar and even he wrote little of them. They were supposed to be made up of the educated persons of their day. They ruled the religious and civil life of the land. The central theme of their religious teaching was the idea of life after death. They taught that the soul upon death was transmitted to another body not physical and continued to roam the world and especially the areas where the departed had formerly lived. A good many of the customs now observed in a light and party manner by present day observers of Hallowe'en had in the days of the Druids a serious mystic meaning in which the transmitted soul of those departed played an important part. With this as a basis there has come into being many beliefs and customs regarding Hallowe'en which remain to this day with modifications and changes to suit the needs of the time and the place.

PROCLAMATION

(By the Governor of the State of Texas.)

To All To Whom These Presents Shall Come:

Whereas, motor vehicle accidents in Texas last year cost the lives of 273 children under the age of fifteen and 644 children died as the result of other types of accidents; and,

Whereas, it is imperative that our children be instilled with the necessity of being careful at home, careful at play, careful at school and on the way to and from school; and,

Whereas, our adult citizenship must be impressed with the need for careful driving at all times and in particular wherever there may be child traffic; and,

Whereas, this week offers an opportunity for particular training of children in the ways of safety to the end that they may learn the rules of safety every day and every week; parents by their own safe habits can set examples that mean much to their children in the development of their habits;

Whereas, the time of school reopening is most advantageous for emphasizing these objectives:

Now, Therefore, I, Beauford H. Jester, as Governor of Texas, do hereby proclaim the week of September 22, 1947, to September 29, 1947, as Child Safety Week and do urge the full co-operation of all citizens and organizations in the support of all efforts for a Safer Texas for our children.

In Testimony Whereof I have hereunto signed my name officially and caused the Seal of State to be affixed hereto at Austin, this 11th day of September, A. D., 1947.

(Signed: Beauford H. Jester), Governor of Texas.

By the Governor: (Signed: Paul H. Brown), Secretary of State.

Romantic Action Film Zestful Frontier Drama

Heralded as one of the most beautifully photographed, as well as one of the most exciting romantic action pictures of the year, Rex Beach's "Michigan Kid" in Cinecolor will open Sunday and Monday at the Rialto Theatre. The Universal production, lensed by the veteran photographer, Virgil Miller, was filmed in the glorious new Cinecolor process in the seldom seen mountain country of Northern California's famed High Sierras.

The drama is said to be unusually outstanding for its abundance of whirlwind riding and daredevil action sequences, which are doubly pleasing when photographed against a scenic background of such breathtaking beauty.

With Jon Hall in the title role of the Kid, the story concerns the hair-raising adventures of a gunsure peace officer, who is forced out of retirement to pit himself against a ruthless frontier underworld headed by Victor MacLaglen and Andy Devine.

Beauteous Rita Johnson portrays the Kid's determined sweetheart, who gets her man with the aid of his comrades, played by Milburn Stone, Leonard East and William Brooks.

of the Mississippi, the new construction makes possible the elimination of all ceiling beams and projections. Foundations for the Robertson cellular floors are hollow, hexagonal steel shapes, joined together, with concrete poured on the top and bottom.

An innovation in the bank proper is the elimination of all teller's cages. Employees will greet customers from behind counters, and steel carts will be employed to contain the teller's funds. These carts are rolled into the vaults at night.

Architect Alfred C. Finn and Robert J. Cummings, consulting engineer, were associated architect and engineer on the project; the contractor was Warren S. Bellows; and the mechanical engineer designing the air conditioning system was Seg F. Taylor.

HIGH SCHOOL RECORD IMPORTANT

Has it ever occurred to you that your high school record is an important one? Every year Supt. Grady Graves receives questionnaires from large companies who are planning to employ a CHS graduate. These questions are asked: Is his appearance attractive, pleasing, neat, or untidy? Is his health excellent, generally good, normal, or poor? Is his ability to learn unusually bright, normal, with effort, or fails to grasp ideas? Does he have a good command of English, hesitant or poor? In industry does he do more than is required, willing to work, is he interested, or indifferent? In co-operation is he highly co-operative, good team worker, difficult to handle, or unwilling to work with others. In initiative is he a leader, does he need some supervision, is he easily discouraged, or does he wait to be directed? In dependability is he exceptionally reliable, rarely disappointed, often fails to deliver, or undependable? Is his voice well modulated, easily heard, weak or nasal. In scholarship, is he well informed, competent, adequate, or poorly informed? Is his interest in people sincere, limited, self-centered, or annoyed at others problems?

Are you satisfied with your test grades at end of this six weeks? Have you co-operated with your teachers and your fellow students to the best of your ability? You have exactly 30 more weeks and two days? What are you going to do about it?

CHS STUDENT LOAN FUND

A student loan fund for any graduate of CHS was started last year with the proceeds of the Ex-seniors. Hubert Brown and Mrs. Henry Borchardt are counselors of the movement. The rest of the fund was contributed by the Ex-Student Organization. Leslie Thomas, president; Mrs. Moody Bursley, secretary; Henry Black, treasurer, are the officers of the organization. We hope that each class in the future will contribute to this worthy while movement. The fund which is available to any CHS graduate, at the present is one hundred dollars—May it increase.

"SNAZZY" PEP UNIFORMS

The Wildcat Pep Squad will soon be seen in their dashing new uniforms. The uniforms are black bottle jackets and black skirts. The bottle jackets will all be alike but the skirts may be made any way from a swishing circular skirt to a plain, straight skirt. The only requirement of the uniforms is that the material be black.

On the backs of the bottle jackets will be large gold C's and the C's are five inch high Chenille letters. If any girl who wishes one of these letters will see Mrs. Davenport, she will tell you more about them.

The genius behind the idea for the uniform is none other than Montez Laquay, a vivacious blue-eyed sophomore. Montez first wore her suit to the Paducah game. The girls liked it and began talking about a uniform. Thus you have the history of the Pep Squad uniforms.

"SLOPPY" SWEATERS BATTLE NEW STYLES

"Outnumbered two to one on the campus, the 'sloppy-joe' sweater is disfavored but not obsolete. It is fighting a losing battle.

The "sloppy" is worn with pearls as accessories, bobby-soxers and loafers giving the young, carefree, casual appearance that held good in past years. The style for high school girls now is longer skirts and no socks due to the hose shortage.

Another decided 1947 change is the switch from pearls to scarves at neck lines. Although pearls are still popular, many girls now wear bright or soft shaded scarves which blend with or set off the color of their sweaters. Unlike pearls, fashion leaders say that scarves are a vital part of the costume, not an accessory!

Fashions come and fashions go, and, like everything else, sweaters have definitely changed. However, "sloppy" sweaters have found a place in the heart of the high school girl. Just how long it will be before we strip our wardrobes of at least one "sloppy joe" is a question without any answer.

THEY EARN THEIR MONEY

How would you like to go to school half a day and then go to work? This is the program of Marion Bailey. He works fifty hours a week and gets twenty-one dollars a week as a soda jerk.

Bobby Hord is a soda jerk too. He works at Shirley Drug after school and on week-ends.

Ham Tاملen, Charles Wishon, Joe Glover, Wayne Shultz, Alan Hinkle, Sawdust Lindsey, Charlie Reynolds, Jack Murphy and W. L. Barnett work for their fathers and on the farm. They get worth while experience and wages. "Do you like to work?" Yeah, if I get paid enough for it. That was their answer to that question.

Joe Seiff is a grocery boy at Mac's Food Market.

Have you ever wondered who swept the floors so clean after school? It's Alton Johnson. He also works at the Johnson's Produce on Saturdays.

Wanda Spears, Christine Hanks, Josephine Halecnek, Ruby Jean Odle and Joann Nichols do housework for their mothers and neighbors. They have ways to use their spare time and enjoy having some extra money.

Raymond Carter plows for Arthur Bell for two dollars after school and six dollars Saturday. J. C. Thompson plows for his Dad on Walter Thomson's land. Do you boys need someone to help you spend that money?

Mary Norman plays "Ma" to Joy and Karon Davis after school and on Saturdays.

Everyone likes his work. Who can't use more money?

CHS POINTS WITH PRIDE

"Red headed" Garland Denton is five feet, seven inches high and sixteen years young. Garland states that he prefers brunettes to blondes. Biology is his favorite subject, while English and some girls are his chief pet peeves. His blue eyes light up with interest when "Peg of My Heart" is played. He had rather play basketball than anything except eat fried chicken. He chooses Van Johnson and Jane Powell as his favorite movie stars. Garland didn't mention his plans after graduation, but you'll be seeing him around.

FRESHMEN FAVOR FARMING

When the Freshman boys in Mrs. Sloan's English class get to thinking about the future, they above all want to be happy while going the joss they like best.

Gordon Wood Bell, Doyle Sparks, Joe Williams and Wayne Brown want to raise horses and be ranchers. While they are raising their horses, Jimmie Rasberry will be a practicing veterinarian and Buster Laquay will be up on of Strawberry Roan trying to be a brone buster instead of getting ousted.

Glen Jones wants to be a doctor. Glen, please don't get arsenic mixed up with anything else. We would hate for Jimmie Tom Cates, a veterinarian to get all your practice.

H. L. Ayers will be there in the air with his head in the clouds as a pilot. Harold Ribble will be hauling things like jeeps and cows in an airplane. Hope you boys live to be old enough to vote anyhow.

Hack Norman, Joe Glover and Charles Pittillo want to be farmers and ranchers. They want farms with grass land to raise cattle and horses.

Bruce Benham, Billy Caddel, Mark Taylor, Charles Reynolds and Donald Reynolds will be farmers. Bruce wants an irrigated farm and Donald may be a mechanic, too.

Wayne LaMond would like to be a scientist. E. W. Kidd would like to be an interior decorator or football coach (he doesn't know what he's letting himself in for, does he, Coach?) and Wayne Shultz is interested in radio.

Kenneth Polk may be a mechanic. It will come in handy even if you change your mind, Kenneth.

Let's see what these boys are doing ten years from now!

PLAYER OF THE WEEK

Walter Caddell captures the spot light in this week's Player of the Week column.

Walter stands 5 ft. 7 in. high and weighs 145 lbs. He is 16 years young and is classified as a Junior.

Caddell started his football career in 1946 when he came out for guard on the "B" team. Even then he was making life miserable for his opponents by his hard blocking and tackling.

This year he is on the "A" string playing the left guard position. Walter has still one year left in which to play for the Black and Gold.

WILDCATS AND WARRIORS BATTLE TO 7-7 DEADLOCK

The Crowell Wildcats and the Valley View Warriors fought it out only to end in a 7-7 tie. With the Wildcats taking the kickoff and marching downfield to the five-yard line, the odds looked bad for the Warriors. Then the Wildcats were penalized for holding back to the twenty yard line where they lost the ball on downs. This caused the Wildcats to lose their fighting hearts, and the Warriors scored.

At the beginning of the second half the Wildcats showed the fans that they had not given up yet. They took the ball with Biggerstaff and Tاملen tearing through the Warrior line for long gains. Biggerstaff took the ball and crashed over for the touchdown. Taylor kicked the extra point to put Crowell back on even odds with the Warriors. The Warriors were not yet ready to go down in defeat as they pushed the ball deep into Crowell territory with short and long passes. Rouse Todd, Wildcat half-back, broke up this attack as he knifed in between two pass receivers and intercepted the ball near the Wildcat goal line.

Dalton Biggerstaff did most of the ball carrying for the Wildcats. Clifford Orr, Ray Black, Ham Tاملen and Marvin Brisco were outstanding on defense.

VETERANS'

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q. Can I get wartime compensation rate paid for disabilities I incurred in peacetime service?

A. No. If your disability was incurred in peacetime service, you will not be entitled to wartime benefits unless your service falls under PL 359-77th Congress which provides wartime rates if the disability was the direct result of armed conflict or was received while you were engaged in extra hazardous service.

Q. How can I show that my parents are dependent on me for support?

A. Dependency will be held to exist if your parents do not have an income sufficient to provide reasonable maintenance for themselves and members of their family under legal age, or members of the family otherwise dependent by reason of mental or physical condition.

Q. If I accept the compensation check VA has sent me, does that mean I am satisfied with the rating given me?

A. No. The acceptance of a check does not waive any rights you may have in claiming greater compensation or pension than that which has been awarded you.

Q. What identification data should I give in writing about my claim for benefits administered by the Veterans Administration?

A. If you are making application you should give your full name, grade, organization, serial number, date of entrance into service, date of discharge, and date and place of birth. After the claim is filed it will be assigned a claim number which should be mentioned in all subsequent communications.

Two Minute Sermon (By Thomas Hastwell)

Creating Our Own World:

There once lived in our town a man, who it seemed, always chose to think the worst of everyone. For some reason or other he never saw the good in anyone. When there wasn't an obvious or major fault to pick upon and magnify he took a minor fault such as everyone has and proceeded to magnify it all out of proportion. The practice grew upon him until he habitually looked for the faults and the low points in everyone he came to know. His habit surrounded him with a world of people all of whom fell short of his self-imposed standards. How obviously foolish. True, no one is perfect. Everyone has one or more faults or weaknesses or failings, but in like measure everyone has high points, points of excellence, strong, worthy points of character. How much better to look upon these and think of them in connection with the individual.

to magnify them until they shadow all the low spots, doing we create about us a false world of good folks, live in a better and a more some atmosphere.

THIS lesson takes us to the Westminster Abbey of the Bible—Hebrews, eleven through the thirteenth chapters—to meditate for a season upon the valiant souls in the long ago who obtained a good report as they stood at the passage of destiny and sound the trumpets of triumph, even the trumpets of faith.

The reader will be richly rewarded to stop right here and open his or her Bible and read these three chapters. Your attention will be riveted to the word faith.

"Now faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen. For by it the elders obtained a good report. Through faith we understand that the worlds were framed by the word of God so that things which are seen were not made of 'things which do appear.'" Hebrews 11:1-3.

A Journey to a New Land

I want the boys and girls to look at the passage which describes how Abraham, "when he was called to go out into a place which he should after receive for an inheritance, obeyed; and he went out, not knowing whither he went."

How could Abraham leave his pleasant situation in Ur? Through faith in God, and that alone. A memory verse is here suggested: "I will trust, and will not be afraid," Isaiah 12:2. Abraham might well have been afraid of unknown enemies, of disease, of poverty. Men do become afraid of these things, unless their faith is in God. But Abraham believed in God—had faith in God. And he went forth, holding the hand of God.

There is creative power in such a faith. Abraham discovered that every step he took was accompanied by God. He built altars. He talked with God, and God talked with him. Such will be the experience of every boy and girl who stakes his or her all upon implicit faith in God.

What Faith Can Do

Intermediates are considering what they will do with their lives. It is the vitally important period when they are wisely considering a life career. This lesson would seem to clearly indicate that God has a purpose and plan for each life. He will reveal that plan to those who trust him for guidance. Faith in God at this point is absolutely essential if we are to live victoriously.

Read again the eleventh chapter of Hebrews and see how these heroes of faith in the long ago cast themselves wholly into the will of God for their lives. We can have no doubt about their ultimate success.

Parents and teachers are here reminded of their solemn responsibility in pointing intermediate boys and girls to the truth of Sunday's lesson. Life is too valuable, too fleeting, to be frittered away in purposeless drifting.

Faith is the bright shaft of God's presence and power to guide young people into his will. It is the unfailing light to direct their steps daily. It is the creative power to sustain them each step of the way.

Take any one of the characters portrayed in these chapters of Hebrews and see how faith in God produced men and women who changed the course of history.

Young people are interested in biography. I would commend to you the lives of the great men and women of modern times, who lived in the creative power of faith in God.

John Wesley, for example. There was a man whose life, when strangely warmed by the spirit of God, lifted England from the depths of secularism and set her feet once more on the highway of worthy achievement.

Martha Berry is another splendid example. Miss Berry devoted her life to God's will and purpose to open doors of opportunity to the underprivileged boys and girls of the southern mountain areas. Today, at Mt. Berry, stands a school with the largest campus in the world—a school which reveals what one life can accomplish when that life is built by the creative power of faith in the Living God.

"Take my life and let it be, Consecrated, Lord, to Thee."

Weekly Sermon

By B. J. Prah, Moody Bible Institute, Chicago.

Straight Thinking

"O send forth thy light and thy truth: let them lead me, let them bring me unto thy holy hill, and to thy tabernacles." (Ps. 43:3).

"Oh, but there is really no sin, you know," a woman said to me. "Evil is only an absence of good. You only think that evil exists." Yet a short while later the same woman threw down a newspaper account of some political chicanery and exposé, "Those men will be punished for their sins!"

Such inconsistency seems laughable, yet we might find equally incompatible beliefs in our own minds. A frequent evaluation of our personal credo is necessary from confusion in Christian living. What we believe is determined by our intellect and emotions, and we must keep a proper balance. Unaided, human reason is fallible and can take many wrong turnings. Most of us, however, are not tempted to err in the direction of intellect. It is easier to let someone do our thinking for us, or to take the quicker road of religious feeling, or mysticism, to reach the truth.

If the Sunday sermon is plausible, well-worded, and apparently backed by a few Scripture passages, we say, Amen. If the message affects us deeply and rouses conflict, we are afraid to weigh its truth lest we stifle the voice of God. Yet we need to examine each concept in all its aspects or we may accept a half-truth, one mixed with error, or a statement which may prove false when tested by the standard of God's complete revelation, the Bible.

In our evaluating, God has not left us unaided, but promises wisdom when we ask for it. And He has given us the best Teacher, the Holy Spirit, to enlighten our darkness and lead us into His truth.

Weekly SURPLUS NEWS WAA

If the government cannot sell war time industrial plants at a satisfactory price by leaving them on location, it is recommended that the plants be sold for removal from plant sites. This suggestion grew out of a meeting of leading financiers, bankers and civic leaders held recently at the Grand Prairie zone office of War Assets Administration. It is admitted that some difficulty has been met in receiving offers satisfactory to the government, to the would-be purchasers and to the communities involved. As a result, an invitation was sent out to important financial and industrial leaders in the Southwest to lend of their business experience in advice to WAA in disposing of these war plants.

The recommendation for sale for removal from premises resulted specifically to four plants. These are (with their original cost to the government) as follows: Magnolia Petroleum Company toluene distillation plant at Beaumont, $3,200,000; Kelly-Springfield Tire Company at Houston, $2,000,000; Cardox Corporation potassium perchlorate plant at Claremore, Okla., $1,100,000; and Aluminum Company of America, Sinter plant, $4,000,000. All of these plants had previously been advertised for sale in place. It was declared negotiations may still be made for purchase "in place" with attendant acreage provided suitable offers are made to the government.

Farmers of the agricultural Southwest are being encouraged to contact Customer Service Centers of the War Assets Administration for such limited farm equipment and supplies as are offered from time to time. They are asked to make these contacts whether or not wanted items have been advertised, stated R. G. Berle, newly appointed agricultural representative of the Grand Prairie Zone office of WAA. Customer Service Centers in the Southwest area are located at Grand Prairie, Houston and San Antonio, Texas; New Orleans, La.; Tulsa and Oklahoma City, Okla., and at Jackson, Miss.

Plans for the biggest surplus government building sale ever held in the five states of the Southwest have been announced by War Assets Administration. The sale will be an informal bid offering of 4,490 buildings at Camp Livingston, Alexandria, Louisiana. The public is invited to visit Camp Livingston for inspection of the

It may be caused by disorder of kidney function that permits poisonous waste to accumulate. For truly many people feel tired, weak and miserable when the kidneys fail to remove excess acids and other waste matter from the blood.

You may suffer nagging backache, rheumatic pains, headaches, dizziness, getting up nights, leg pains, swelling. Sometimes frequent and scanty urination with smarting and burning is another sign that something is wrong with the kidneys or bladder.

Mrs. Edgar Jones Announces Daughter's Marriage Date at Tea

At the ranch home of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Jones near Truscott, Mrs. Jones honored her daughter, Miss Evelyn Joyce, who is the bride-elect of Quinon O'Neil Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Williams, of Cisco, with a lovely tea Saturday afternoon.

The guests were greeted in the entrance hall by Mrs. Seth Woods, who directed them to the living room where they were introduced to the receiving line which included the hostess, the honoree, and her two sisters, Misses Clara and Norma Jones. Mrs. Dud Ellis registered the guests at the white and gold covered guest book.

In the dining room, Mrs. Albert Jones of Dumas, aunt of the bride-elect, Mrs. Byron Smith of Dumas and Mrs. Tom Masterson Jr. presided at the beautifully appointed tea table. They were assisted by Mrs. C. R. Jones of Vernon, Miss Betty Lou Cobb of Lubbock, Mrs. Jack Brown and Miss Mary Lou Woods.

Tiny cakes, iced in blue and yellow, tea sandwiches, salted nuts and pineapple punch were served. Centering the table was a miniature bronze quarter horse and a crystal bowl holding an arrangement of yellow and white carnations. Dainty blue and white napkins, lettered in gold, announced the wedding date, November 3rd.

Adding to the prettiness of the party were the younger members of the house party who were dressed in formal gowns. A gardenia corsage was worn by the honoree and all members of the house party wore corsages of white carnations. They were tied with blue and gold ribbons, the chosen colors of the bride-elect.

Mrs. Curtis Casey provided a soft piano musical background during the tea hours. Misses Winnie Sue Turner, Rachel Hickman and Gaye Chilcoat sang selected popular songs.

Approximately sixty guests called during the afternoon.

One in every five World War II veterans holding National Service Life Insurance policies has converted to one or more of the half-dozen available permanent plans, the Veterans Administration reports.

A lovely meal was served, buffet style, at quartet tables. The meal featured "son-of-a-gun," an old dish to the western people but new to the honoree.

Following the supper, games of 42 were played. A guest prize was presented to Mrs. Eckholm. The guest list follows: Mrs. Eckholm, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. E. Wells, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Brooks and daughter, Elaine, Mrs. B. F. Ringgold, Mrs. Belle McKown, Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Bell, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Mrs. M. J. Girsch was leader for the afternoon. The meeting was opened by singing "The Kingdom is Coming" after which Mrs. H. E. Thomson led in prayer.

The first chapter of Ruth was used as the scripture lesson and the thought emphasized in the lesson was "Personal Missionary Work."

Under the leadership of Mrs. M. S. Henry, the society has been studying the mission book "Committed Unto Us" and on this afternoon, Mrs. Clint White gave the fourth chapter of the book and brought out many interesting thoughts.

FOARD CITY W. S. C. S. MEETS

Mrs. Luther Marlow was hostess to the Foard City Woman's Society of Christian Service on Monday, October 13. After singing "There's Power in the Blood," Mrs. J. M. Glover of Medina, Tenn., and the founder of the present Foard City society, led in prayer. Mrs. Virgil Johnson acted as presiding officer in the absence of Mrs. W. L. Johnson, the president.

"Today," an article by Angelo Patri, was given by Mrs. Grady Halbert. The article stressed the need of putting the past behind one, giving thought to the morrow, but laying the greatest stress, energy and interest on today.

The second chapter of "World Evangelism" was given by Mrs. Virgil Johnson. She stated that the missionary movement, in the modern sense, is only about a century and a half old and, in view of time, the movement has made great strides. One cannot help but wonder what great things could have been wrought had the business of carrying Christ's message been as well supported as some of our industrial businesses. Since 1928 there has been a decline in both missionary funds and in life dedications. In this day of higher incomes, less is given to missions than during the days of economic depression. Many foreign fields have a pitiable lack of opportunity of hearing the Christian word. When a mere handful of missionaries have a million souls unsaved about them, the joy of their work is burdened with the immensity of the task. Mrs. Johnson stressed again the necessity of making mission work an interdenominational work.

The devotional for the day was brought by Mrs. Glover, who based her talk on a prayer by Wallace Friday. One needs to pray for strength to use that which he has, courage that cannot be shaken and faith, both in God and in ourselves. Each person has a talent, however small. Each tiny spark of ability which is God-given, should be used and, who knows but a great light may be kindled. It is hoped that all may aim higher and do better each tomorrow and the time to begin is today.

The hostess served a refreshment plate to two guests, Mrs. J. M. Glover and Mrs. Lawrence Glover and to eight members.
