

'Lowest Possible' Budget May Exceed $100 Billion

By WALTER R. MEARS Associated Press Staff Writer WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson sets his sights to-day on a federal budget blueprint he sends Congress...

THE REPORT OF THE SOUTHERN ASSOCIATION OF Colleges and Secondary Schools brought smiles all around Tuesday evening when it was given to members of the Snyder school board and administrators of the schools here.

Evaluation Report Heard By Snyder School Board

The Snyder school board met in a special called session Tuesday night to hear the report of the accreditation survey team of the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

The report was the climax to two years of self-evaluation and the recent survey by 14 members of the association of the local high school.

The report was presented by Dr. Emmitt D. Smith, chairman of the evaluating team, and director of program development and research at West Texas State University in Canyon.

In part the report stated "High commendations for the faculty and student body of Snyder High School came from every member of the Visiting Committee for the sincere and intensive self-evaluation and improvement program which preceded the visit of the team."

Dr. Smith stressed to the board that the team does not sit in judgment nor recommend membership in the association. He said that the visiting teams take an objective approach to the schools they evaluate, and their only purpose is to see if the local self-evaluation was accurate.

"Actually," said Dr. Smith, "by being strangers, we can more easily mention weakness or strengths which might be overlooked by local personnel who are too close to them to see them objectively."

Some 1,100 different items are checked by the evaluation teams, Dr. Smith said. He added that the teams do not take just a general look, but rather a specific look at everything that goes on in the school.

The visitors in Snyder High School had special praise for the faculty members here who "go beyond the call of duty in helping the boys and girls" of Snyder High School.

In the area of recommendations for Snyder schools, Dr. Smith cautioned the board members to follow their published guide lines and conform to the board's role as a policy making body only.

Dr. Smith said, in any field, business, church, school and so on, become involved in administrative or executive functions. If a board fails to do this, Dr. Smith said, it becomes a dividing factor.

Goodfellows Open Office

The Goodfellow office in Snyder will open Thursday.

Families who will need help from the Goodfellows to make theirs a merry Christmas, may apply beginning tomorrow.

The office, which is located at 2606 Avenue S, will be open from 9 to 12 a.m. and from 1 to 4 p.m. daily except Sunday through Dec. 18.

Mrs. J. Nelson Dunn and other members of the Twentieth Century Club have accepted the responsibility for the application phase of the Goodfellow program.

Applications will not be received by telephone, and all persons requesting Christmas aid from the Goodfellows who need clothing should have the correct sizes and the clothing written down so that they may be given to the Goodfellow office workers.

Other Goodfellow activities include the opening of the booths in each of Snyder's banks.

These booths, at which donations to the Goodfellows may be made, are staffed by members of the Cosmorama and Acacia clubs.

The Goodfellow program is designed to serve the needy people in this county with material Christmas gifts, toys for the children, clothing for the poor, and food for Christmas dinner. The Goodfellows operate on un solicited money. In previous years the desire of local people to help the needy during the Christmas season has been enough.

These personal donations can be made at either bank or by sending a check or money order to the Goodfellows, Box 4661, Snyder. Publication of the donor's names will start in the Daily News, unless the person requests anonymity.

THREE OF THE VOLUNTEERS who are donating their time to soliciting for the United Fund drive are pictured as the drive got underway Tuesday afternoon. Gene Thompson, right, chairman of the Special Division, is showing given the workers kits and assignments to two of his workers, Doug McLaughlin and Bill Dryden.

Leoni May Meet Stiff Opposition

By PAUL FINCH

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—Raul Leoni, apparent winner of the Venezuelan presidential election, may face fewer problems than outgoing President Romulo Betancourt, but Communist terrorism and inadequate strength in Congress will hamper his "consolidation of democracy" program.

Leoni, 58, the candidate of Betancourt's Democratic Action party, probably will begin talks soon with Rafael Caldera of the Social Christian party to renew the governing alliance Betancourt had formed.

Caldera was the runnerup in the seven-man presidential race. In a surprising show of strength in Sunday's elections, Caldera's Social Christians climbed from third place in the mass communications and then recused the council until September.

But Pope Paul made clear that the nine-month recess would not be an idle period. He told the council's drafting commission to rework all pending documents so that they might be completed at the assembly's next session.

All three actions by Pope Paul today contained implications for Christian unity.

The decree on liturgical reform, permitting the use of modern languages instead of Latin in the Mass and sacraments, set ultimate Christian unity as one goal of the revision.

Pope Paul's eloquent appeal to human Catholicism to share with him, and under him, in Church government obviously will be reflected in the impression that Roman Catholics often have contended that the papacy has too much authority.

The Pope's announcement of his visit to the Holy Land, an unprecedented voyage to Christ's birthplace never made by a previous Pope, included an expression of hope that his pilgrimage would help Christian unity.

Vast Reforms Are Decreed

By EUGENE LEVIN

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Paul VI decreed a vast reform of Roman Catholic worship today, called on the bishops of his church to share with him in its government, and then announced he would make an historic trip to the Holy Land next month.

The 66-year-old Roman Catholic ruler, in office scarcely five months, took the actions at a momentous closing meeting in St. Peter's Basilica of the second session of his Ecumenical Council.

He and his bishops gave Roman Catholicism its first two council decrees in 93 years—one on liturgy, the other on communications and then recused the council until September.

But Pope Paul made clear that the nine-month recess would not be an idle period. He told the council's drafting commission to rework all pending documents so that they might be completed at the assembly's next session.

The assembled prelates voted 2,147 to 4 to promulgate the liturgical decree. The Pope then promulgated it.

Although it deals only with Catholic worship, it emphasizes the importance of Scripture in liturgy and advocates more preaching. Many Protestants have said in the past that Catholicism did not pay sufficient attention to the Scripture and preaching.

The Pope himself said today the decree was an invitation to all Christians to pray for the council's work.

tion—were on the White House agenda today.

To discuss the health of the economy—and also to make an appeal for support—the President summoned representatives of labor and big business to the White House.

Meetings were scheduled for late afternoon with members of the AFL-CIO Executive Committee and representatives of the Business Advisory Council.

Johnson also planned to talk with James Farmer, director of the Congress of Racial Equality, and to attend a ceremony honoring Secret Service agent Rufus Youngblood.

Youngblood, who shielded Johnson with his body after the shots rang out that killed John F. Kennedy, will be cited for bravery.

Pressing his economy drive, Johnson conferred again Tuesday with Budget Director Kermit Gordon and his deputy, Elmer Staats.

White House press secretary Pierre Salinger said the Budget Bureau is launching "an agency by agency, department by department examination of the budget."

Salinger said Johnson will hear the appeals of any federal department heads who protest they are not getting enough money in the new budget, which will cover the fiscal year beginning July 1.

Kennedy had sliced the budget from requests submitted by federal agencies, Salinger said, and President Johnson is attempting to cut that budget further.

"The attempt is to arrive at a budget between $98 billion and $103 billion," Salinger said.

While trying to reduce the gap between spending and revenue, Johnson was also setting his administration's tone in the matter of government regulation of business and industry.

Little Warmer In Texas

By The Associated Press

Most of Texas had nippy weather again Wednesday but the early morning temperatures were generally a few degrees higher than the day before.

Readings before dawn ranged from 26 degrees at Dalhart and Wink up to 47 at Galveston.

Skies were clear everywhere in the state and expected to stay that way.

Looking as far ahead as the first part of next week, one-day forecasts called for temperatures from around normal to as much as five degrees below and practically no moisture. Another cool spell is in prospect about the first of the week.

WEATHER

SNYDER TEMPERATURES: High 48, low 25. Forecast: Partly cloudy, 25 to 48. Wind: Light and variable. Precip: None. Humidity: 65%. Visibility: 10 miles. Barometer: 30.1. Sunrise: 7:58 a.m. Sunset: 5:15 p.m. Moon: 1st quarter. High tide: 10:15 a.m. Low tide: 4:30 p.m.

Trial Facts Will Be No Surprise

DALLAS (AP) — People prospect today on the heels of an eight-week postponement of the Ruby case.

The new date is Feb. 3, fixed Tuesday by District Judge Joe B. Brown because the prosecution and defense said they needed more time.

Fresh information came to light, meanwhile, about Lee H. Oswald, the 24-year-old Marxist charged with the Kennedy assassination, and Ruby, 32, a Dallas night spot owner who gunned down Oswald before national television viewers just two days later.

In Washington, a former Marine Corps lieutenant in whose unit Oswald served for a time, John E. Donovan, said Oswald's military discharge and departure for Russia in 1959 caused a stir.

To speed up House action on the bill, Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass., said Tuesday plans are going ahead to have a discharge petition filed Monday. Democratic leaders are hoping to have a large number of Democrats sign up at once.

They would like to get as many as 150 signatures by Tuesday, in which case they feel Republicans would be under heavy public pressure to supply the rest of the names needed to reach 218—a majority.

Such a strategy is almost certain to produce resentment among Republicans who support the civil rights bill, but who have never signed a discharge petition and never plan to.

There was a single winner for first place, but three entrants tied for second in last week's Snyder Daily News Football Contest.

Last week's event concluded the season.

First place winner in the final contest was Hazel Berry, 601 Twenty-ninth Street. She missed five selections in the 28-game line-up.

Tied for second place, with six misses each, were Dan Cotton, 3774 Dalton; Darrell Haney, Rt. 1, Box 129; and Steve Burney, 311 Thirty-sixth Street.

Epilogue For John Kennedy Written By Close Friend

NEW YORK (AP)—Theodore H. White, a close friend of President and Mrs. John F. Kennedy and author of "The Making of the President" wrote an "Epilogue" in the current issue of Life magazine.

The full article, copyrighted by Life magazine and made available to The Associated Press follows:

HYANIS PORT — She remembers how hot the sun was in Dallas, and the crowds — greater and wider than the crowds in Mexico or in Vienna. The sun was blinding, streaming down, yet she could not put on sunglasses for she had to wave to the crowd.

And up ahead she remembers seeing a tunnel around a turn and thinking that there would be a moment of coolness under the tunnel. There was the sound of the motorcycle, as always in a parade, and the occasional backfire of a motorcycle. The sound of the shot came at that moment. Like the sound of a backfire and she remembers Connally saying, "No, no, no, no, no."

She remembers the roses. Three times that day in Texas they had been greeted with the bouquets of yellow-roses of Texas. Only, at Dallas they had given her red roses. She remembers thinking, how funny — red roses for me, and then the car was full of blood and red roses.

Much later, accompanying the body from the Dallas hospital to the airport, she was alone with Clint Hill — the first Secret Service man to come to their rescue — and with Dr. Burkley, the White House physician. Burkley gave her two roses that had slipped under the President's shirt when he fell, his head in her lap.

All through the night they tried to separate him from her, to sedate her, and take care of her — and she would not let them. She wanted to be with him. She remembered that Jack had said of his father, when his father suffered the stroke, that he could not live like that. "Don't let that happen to me," he had said, when I have to go.

Now, in her hand she was holding a gold St. Christopher's medal.

She had given him a St. Christopher's medal when they were married, but when Patrick died this summer, they had wanted to put something in the coffin with Patrick that was from them both, and so he had put in the St. Christopher's medal.

Then he had asked her to give him a new one to mark their 10th wedding anniversary, a month after Patrick's death. He was carrying it when he died and she had found it. But it belonged to him — so she could not put that in the coffin with him. She wanted to give him something that was hers, something that she loved. So she had slipped off her wedding ring and put it on his finger. When she came out of the room in the hospital in Dallas, she asked: "Do you think it was right? Now I have nothing left."

Johnson Says Youngblood 'Most Noble'

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson described Secret Service agent Rufus W. Youngblood today as "one of the most noble and able public servants I have ever known."

Johnson spoke in the White House garden during a ceremony in which Youngblood, 39, received the Treasury Department's exceptional service award for his life to save another — Johnson's.

The award is the Treasury's highest for exceptional bravery. The Secret Service is an arm of the Treasury.

It was the second such award presented to a Secret Service agent for actions on the day of the assassination of President John F. Kennedy in Dallas. One was presented Tuesday to agent Clinton J. Hill who ran to the presidential limousine and shielded Mrs. Kennedy after the shots were fired.

Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon read the citation to Youngblood as the agent wife and four children watched proudly.

The citation said: "Mr. Youngblood was riding in the front seat of the vice president's limousine when the assassination occurred. Upon hearing the first shot, Mr. Youngblood instantly vaulted across the front seat of the car, pushed the vice president to the floor, and shielded the vice president's body with his own. His prompt response in the face of great danger and his readiness to sacrifice his life to save the president were in the highest traditions of the secret service."

Youngblood had been assigned to guard Johnson when he served as vice president. The President said today that James J. Rowley, the Secret Service chief, now has assigned Youngblood to the presidential protection force.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My mother-in-law, who is otherwise a very decent and moral person, reads trashy literature. She gets all the confessional-type magazines, illustrated with pictures of passionate kissing, or a drunken man ripping the nightgown off his wife. (You know the kind!) What she reads is her business and I really don't hold it against her, but I take my children to visit her often, and I don't want my 10- and 12-year-old daughters getting interested in trash like that. Lately when we go to Grandma's the girls head right for the magazine pile. They adore their Grandmother and I wouldn't have it otherwise, but what can I do?

IN BETWEEN
DEAR IN BETWEEN: Tell your Grandma that you would rather not expose your daughters to such "sophisticated" literature at their impressionable ages, and ask her kindly to ditch her collection when you visit.

DEAR ABBY: There's a very cute girl in my room, but I am sorta shy. Should I wait for her to drop a book or something before I give her any encouragement?
DEAR D. D.: Wait until she drops a LOOK. She could be "sorda" shy, too.
DEAR ABBY: It grieves me to see a wonderful woman like my stepmother treated the way she is. Abby, she has done things for my father that my real mother never did. He was a drunk when she married him (my mother divorced him) and he hasn't had a drink in over two years. She has worked by his side fixing up his little

Police Search For Suspect In Car Theft

FORT WORTH (AP)—A man stopped for questioning fired wildly at a policeman and later took a pistol and car from another in Fort Worth before dawn.

Officers searched for the man throughout the city. Patrolman J. R. Clayton spotted two couples inside a car halted in a Southeast Fort Worth park. He herded the two men into his own auto to inquire about ownership of the other vehicle—which turned out to be one reported stolen in Dallas.

One of the men jumped out, thrust a pistol against Clayton's back and then to his chest, demanding the officer's gun. Clayton refused to hand it over.

Ordered to alight, the policeman quickly thrust the car door open. The man fired three shots as he fled. One hit the top of Clayton's car but all the bullets missed him.

Ten minutes later patrolman C. C. Eagle stopped the same man downtown. Again the man produced a pistol, forced Eagle to leave his police car and took the officer's pistol and flashlight.

He ordered Eagle to start run-

Council Expected To OK Embargo

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The U.N. Security Council is expected to approve today a Norwegian resolution calling for a worldwide arms embargo aimed at forcing South Africa to abandon its racial policies.

Norway's proposal reportedly won reluctant support from the African bloc after behind-the-scenes bargaining showed that the African demand for a total trade boycott of South Africa would run the risk of a Western power veto.

The Soviet Union complained that the Norwegian proposal did not go far enough, but indicated it would support it.

The resolution calls for the toughest action by U.N. members since South Africa's apartheid policy of racial segregation was attacked in the U.N. 17 years ago. Designed to paralyze South Africa's arms industry, it goes considerably beyond a council resolution in August calling for a limited arms embargo.

The Norwegian resolution calls on all nations to observe the previous resolution and also to halt at once sale and shipment of equipment and materials for the manufacture and maintenance of arms and ammunition in South Africa.

Soviet Ambassador Nikolai T. Fedorenko told the council appeal to South Africa for moderation had proved useless. "The time for half measures is over," he said.

Fedorenko said the council should call for a general trade embargo and asserted South Africa "is unworthy of being a member of the United Nations."

The South African government has ignored more than two dozen resolutions against apartheid and there has been no indication its policy will be any more affected by an arms boycott.

The Snyder (Texas) Daily News, Wed., Dec. 4, 1963 3

Howard Co. Choir Here Friday

The Howard County Choir of Big Spring, Texas, which will appear at the Martha Ann Woman's Club on December 6 at 8:00 p.m. under the sponsorship of the Musical Coterie has gained a well-deserved reputation during the past few years for the outstanding quality of its musical presentations. The choir, which has been under the direction of Ira Schantz since the fall of 1957, has so consistently grown in performing ability and musical stature that some critics now consider it one of the very finest junior college choral organizations in the entire Southwest.

The Howard County Junior College Choir has often appeared at civic functions and high school assembly programs in the West Texas area. In addition, it has recently been invited to the State Fair of Texas in Dallas and before the State Junior College Convention in Fort Worth. After its appearance at the Junior College Convention it was frequently spoken of as "one of the finest choirs to appear before the Convention in its entire history."

Under the strict discipline of its director, Ira Schantz, former member of the famous Robert Shaw Choral and a well-known tenor soloist in the Southwest, the choir has performed much great choral music ranging from the early contrapuntal school of composition, represented by such composers as Heinrich Schütz and Hans Heister, to the more modern choral music of contemporary composers and such tunes of the Broadway stage. Among the presentations of oratorios in which the choir has recently taken part have been "A German Requiem" (Brahms), "Mass in G" (Schubert), "The Mount of Olives" (Beethoven), "The Messiah" (Handel), and "Christmas Oratorio" (Saint-Saens).

Accompanist for the choir is Jack Hendrix, head of the Department of Music at the Howard County Junior College. Mr. Hendrix has an outstanding reputation as an organist, pianist and teacher, his students having often won competitions up to, and including, the national level.

Among the numbers to be presented by the Howard County Snyder Musical Coterie are the following:

Fanfare for Christmas Day—Martin Shaw, O Come, O Come Emmanuel—Gregorian Chant: Arr. Shaw-Parker; While Shepherds Watched Their Sheep—Jungst-Dickinson; Gesu Bambino—Pietro Von; Shepherds Awake!—Katherine K. Davis; As it Fell Upon a Night—Arr. Katherine K. Davis; Psalms: Michael Praetorius; Walking in a Winter Wonderland—Felix Bernard; The Holly and the Ivy—Arr. Shaw-Parker; Ho-Ho-Ho—Carol—Arr. Wentworth; Silver Bells—Livingston—Evans-Naylor; and We Wish You a Merry Christmas—Arr. Kirk. The public is invited.

Maestro's In The Kitchen

Norman Luboff, the dynamic and immensely popular choral conductor and arranger, makes his first "in person" appearance here directing his Choir on Dec. 7, at the high school auditorium, under the auspices of Snyder Jaycees. As Luboff fans know, his programs feature an extraordinary variety of style, and are apt to include anything from Bach to Cowboy ballads. And speaking of Cowboy songs, Maestro Luboff is at "Home on the Range" in more ways than one—he's an excellent and imaginative chef. Mr. Luboff's menus are as varied as his musical fare, but when pressed he'll admit that the Frenchman style is his specialtie.

Many summers in the south of France has inspired this knowledge of and admiration for Mediterranean cuisine—garlic and all—and he gives much credit for his education in this field to one of the family's summer cooks. "She was a strange little woman," he recalls. "She looked like a real truck driver, but she did the most incredibly delicate cooking. Every meal was a gastronomic delight, as a matter of fact, after a couple of weeks my wife and I had to ask her to give a little easy, at least for one meal a day. Because, as you can imagine, it is practically impossible to resist a lobster souffle at dinner time, even though one may have had an indescribably delicious bouillabaisse for lunch! "Actually," the bearded conductor chuckles, "I later found out that although she created all these colorful fantasies for my wife, our kids, our guests, and me, our cook herself was on a strict diet of Metrecal!"

This rich and hearty dish is excellent for Sunday brunch, for luncheon with a green salad, or for a first course of dinner.

Line a deep pie shell with a good pastry dough.

Slice 4 medium-sized onions and saute in butter until golden. Sprinkle over bottom of pie shell.

Do the same with one cup of finely chopped Gruyere cheese and about 4 strips of partially-cooked bacon, which should be broken or cut up into small pieces.

Next, blend together with a fork two cups of scalded heavy cream, four eggs, finely chopped tarragon, finely chopped chives, salt and freshly ground black pepper to taste; than pour mixture into pie shell. Bake in hot oven (around 450 degrees) for ten minutes. Then reduce the heat to slow oven (300) and continue baking until custard is set—about another half hour. (To test doneness, insert a fork; if custard does not adhere, it is ready.)

Quiche can be served either hot or cold. The above makes 4 to 6 luncheon servings; eight when used as the first course of a dinner.

You can prepare the speediest of sweet sauces by heating caramels with light or heavy cream. Serve over ice cream, pudding or cake, or use in a caramel milk shake.

4-H Club Achievement Program Held

More than 100 Scurry County 4-H club boys and girls received awards at the annual 4-H Achievement Program Saturday night.

P-TA Delegates Return

Delegates to the 54th annual State Convention of the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers in San Antonio returned here recently.

Those attending from Snyder were: Mrs. James Lowe, Mrs. Charles Sutton, Mrs. Bill Campbell, Mrs. J. C. Massingill, Mr. Pat Falls, Mr. R. E. Cooper, Mr. Joel Griffin and Mr. Bob Smith. From Ira were Mrs. J. L. Byars and Mrs. Warren Sterling.

Mrs. W. J. Danforth of Fort Worth, state president, presided at the first convention of her administration and gave the keynote address on the P-T-A: Seek to Understand the Family Story, the convention theme.

Mrs. Jennelle Moorhead of Eugene, Oregon, first vice-president of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, addressed the convention the first afternoon and made the following point: "Each of us, as adults, is the kind of person we are because of the kind of home we grew up in."

Newspaper women, lecturer and author, Mrs. Edith Deen of Fort Worth was guest speaker the first evening. Her latest book is "Family Living in the Bible." She spoke on "Family Story in Bible Times."

The second day was taken up with conferences under the general direction of James T. Ogg, superintendent of Gladewater Public Schools and state workshop chairman.

Four state vice presidents were elected: Mrs. Carey Snyder of Snyder, Mrs. Edith Deen of Fort Worth, Mrs. Jennelle Moorhead of Eugene, Oregon, and Mrs. W. J. Danforth of Fort Worth.

LET HIM COOL HIS HEELS AWHILE

Not All Americans Believe In The Brotherhood Of Man

BY INEZ ROBB

The United Press International reports that on November 27, in Jackson, Miss., a "group of housewives charged in a bitter hearing today that their children were being subjected to braimwashing textbooks that teach that prejudice is wrong, but decried it as atheistic."

The women also contended that the schoolbooks introduced examples of bad grammar and invited Gov. Ross Barnett, who made such a show of flying to Washington to attend the funeral of President Kennedy in New York to deny. His rush to the moment he stepped had not, somehow, been a misprint. In part of his unabashed perded, the women had gone on to formance.

It seemed to many that the ism and communism, and to exercise of even a modicum of proebity that both would be good taste would have kept Gov. uph if brotherhood was toler error Barnett and Gov. George Wallace of Alabama occupied Up to this point, I had clung in their home states during the o the belief that this nation funerals.

Governor Barnett is chairman ood of God and the brotherhood of the Mississippi's Textbook "man." On Thanksgiving Day, Purchasing Board, before whom "resident Johnson, in his ad-the swam, testified in loudness to the nation phrased it of prejudice and agant brot- equeently when he said, "Godhood. Flowers Can Express All Sentiments

By EDDY GILMORE

LONDON (AP)—You love the girl? Then send her a rose. You're sick of the guy? Then send him a bouquet of Michaelmas daisies. Want her to marry you? Send her sprigs of ivy.

Those and dozens of other sentiments and declarations—which can be expressed by flowers—are the subject of a book published here. It's called "The Language of Flowers."

Explaining it, the publishers said: "To express gratitude or affection by the gift of flowers is common enough, but nowadays few people make use of the opportunities provided by this pleasant custom to express other and more specific sentiments."

"For instance, how nice and delightfully simple, to be able to express one's constancy with a bunch of bluebells, or to declare war with a sprig of wild tansy," they said.

The book, with illustrations, has 88 pages. The author is a Mrs. L. Harris.

It has two easy indexes. One explains what the various flowers, fruits and plants mean. The other explains numerous sentiments—and what to send to express them.

Here are a few:

Admiration—amethyst. Ardor—the cuckoo plant. Beware—oleander. Coldheartedness—lettuce. Dangerous pleasures—tuberoses. Disgust—frog ophrys. Falsehood—yellow lilly. Fascination—fern. Hopeless love—yellow tulip.

There are three ways to express horror—by sending mandrakes, dragonswort, snakes-foot.

If you want to say "I'm worthy of you" you send a white rose.

Should you want to say "My best days are past" send colchicum or meadow saffron.

Should you want to say that someone's absolutely perfect—the pineapple is the answer.

Stage Set Once More For Kirby

By ROGER LANE

AP Business News Writer

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP)—The stage was set today for Allan P. Kirby, 71-year-old Eastern financier, to grasp once more the reins of giant Allegheny Corp., wrested from him more than 30 months ago.

Nowhere in sight for the Allegheny stockholders' meeting, convened to restore Kirby to power, where the oil-rich Marchion brothers of Texas who toppled him from command of the vast railroad and investment company empire in May 1951.

John D. Murchison, 41, captain of the successful dissident forces of 2 1/2 years ago, was reported inspecting his investments in a Colorado ski resort. Clint W. Murchison Jr., 39, was said to be in Dallas looking after other Murchison interests.

A $18.8-million stock-purchase transaction arranged early last July and executed Oct. 31 sealed the victory for Kirby and his allies.

The intervening time was required to tie together loose ends and for procedural steps, climaxed today with election of a new slate of Allegheny directors, headed by Kirby and including his sons, Fred M. and Allan Jr.

Kirby was expected to resume direction as chairman of the board.

As a New York holding company buffeted by litigation and quagmire shifts of individual fortunes in its 3 years, Allegheny overseas assets of about $7 billion.

Its prime holdings are effective control of Investors Diversified Services, a $4-billion Minneapolis-based investment company complex, and the $2.5-billion New York Central Railroad, the nation's third largest.

Mexican Exports Drop In Coffee, Cotton

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Mexican coffee and cotton exports dropped $38.8 million from January to September, an official spokesman said Tuesday.

Ricardo Zavada, director of the National Bank for Foreign Trade, said this loss in what are considered Mexico's main export products was offset by larger foreign sales of iron and manufactured steel, sisal fiber, pipes, shrimps, beef and other goods.

The over-all export figure for the year, Zavada said, may top $1 billion.

"Let us pray for His divine wisdom in banishing from our land any injustice or intolerance or oppression to any of our fellow Americans, whatever their opinion, whatever the color of their skins, for God made all of us, not some of us, not His image, all of us, not just some of us, are His children."

Amen!

Junior Editors Quiz on REPTILES

QUESTION: Are there any flying reptiles?

ANSWER: If by flying, you mean the ability to rise in the air as a bird can, the answer is no. But if you include the ability to glide down through the air from a higher position to a lower one, the answer is yes. Our upper picture shows the fascinating "Flying Dragons" of Malaysia, small lizards with large flaps of skin stretched between ribs which can be extended to allow them to sail down to some lower part of the trees in which they live. The "wings" are orange with black bars and the "dragons" really look more like large butterflies. These animals are the closest thing to a present day flying reptile.

The bottom picture shows a remarkable creature which lived between 150 and 60 million years ago—the Pterosaur, one of a group of now extinct soaring reptiles called Pterosaurs or Pterodactyls. Pteranodon was a giant, with a wing spread up to 25 feet. The wings were webs of skin stretched from the arm to a greatly enlarged fourth finger and back to the body. Some experts think they scooped up fish. Others think they couldn't fly well enough to do this and believe they lived in trees.

FOR YOU TO DO: Look for pictures of Pterodactyls in books and museums and form your own opinion as to whether they could soar upward after grabbing a fish. Their bodies were very light; maybe they could soar on upward moving currents of air.

(Tony Corroza of Santa Rosa, Calif., wins today's grand prize of a 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of this newspaper, and you may win a set too.)

Tigers Edged By Longhorns

BIG SPRING — The Snyder Tigers basketballers, half of them with only three workouts under their belts, gave the Big Spring Steers a battle here Tuesday night before edging, 63-56.

The Tigers held behind early in the game, but cut the margin in the fourth period. The Steers held a lead of 18-11 at the end of the first quarter and had increased it to 38-23 by halftime and 53-36 by the end of the third period.

The Snyder team did better than expected in rebounding, actually leading the Steers in that department during the first half when they grabbed 27 of the board while Big Spring got only 24. Jerry Vestal a 10 and Billy Stewart had eight rebounds apiece for the Bengals.

Brew Bullard hit five field goals and three free shots for 13 points to pace the Tiger scorers. Also in double figures were Leslie Brown, who hit six field goals for 12 points.

Mike Peters hit 10 field goals for 20 points to pace the Steers. Simon Terrazas had 14 points and Albert Fierro had 11.

In the B game which preceded the varsity encounter, the Big Spring team took a 66-32 decision. Big Spring B leaped out to a 39-7 halftime lead, but Snyder B came back to make a game of it in the second half. David Holt scored six points to lead Snyder B scorers, while Paul Thomas had 15 for Big Spring B.

The Tiger varsity will meet Monterey of Lubbock at 7 p.m. Friday in its first game of the Seminole Tournament. Snyder B will face Monterey here at 7 p. m. Friday in the first round of the local B team tournament.

Ideal Trade Completed

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

SAN DIEGO (AP)—“The perfect trade.”

This is what baseball observers called the seven-player swap that sent Milwaukee catcher Del Crandall and pitchers Bob Hendley and Bob Shaw to the San Francisco Giants for star outfielder Felipe Alou, catcher, Ed Bailey, pitcher Billy Hoelt and a fourth player to be named later.

The transaction completed Tuesday night was the second major trade made at the winter baseball meetings, which moves from the present minor league headquarters here to Los Angeles, Thursday for the major league seasons.

Giants and Braves officials expressed complete satisfaction with the trade, which they claimed filled in all the spots.

The rival managers were less enthusiastic.

“We’ve got a more versatile club than any time since I’ve been a manager,” said the Braves’ Bobby Bragan.

“This really gives us some punch. We picked up 150 RBIs and 41 home runs. Now I think we’ve got the best 1-2 catcher combination in baseball with Joe Torre and Bailey.”

“It gave up a good ball player (Shaw) to get two pitchers, Hendley and Shaw are the heart of the deal. But now, with Crandall, we’ve also got left (Tom Haller) and right-handed hitting catchers,” said Giants’ skipper Alvin Dark.

Alou was the big man in the deal.

2 Linemen Share Honor

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

The best lineman in college football last week turned out to be twins.

In a rare occurrence, Lineman of the Week honors are shared today by a pair of behemoths from the Big Ten Conference—linebacker Dick Butkus of Illinois and tackle Carl Eller of Minnesota.

Both were so outstanding in leading their teams to important Thanksgiving Day victories that it was impossible to award one the edge. So for the first time this season they were selected by The Associated Press to share jointly the mythical laurel wreath that goes to the normal, unsung defensible.

Butkus, 6-foot-3, 234-pound junior center from Chicago, was described as a “One Man Gang” in Illinois’ 13-0 triumph over Michigan State at East Lansing.

Don Kimbrell 15, Melvin Crawford and Bill Alexander 4 each, Jack Payne 3 and Norman Turner 2.

Ira’s Pat Jones was top scorer in the girls game with 19 points, while Janice Bishop had 9, Wanda Payne 7 and Renoka Hooker and Muffett Kimbrell 3 each.

For Klondike, Carlene Benson had 12, Linda Neill 11, Lana Archer 6 and Mary McInte 1.

Grissom had 8 points for Ira Boys B team, while Garcia had 12 to pace Klondike B.

Ex-Braves Doing Well

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Half the clubs in the major leagues probably would be better off today if they could exchange their pitching staffs for one of the pitchers the Milwaukee Braves have traded or sold in recent years.

The list includes such starters as Juan Pizarro, now with the Chicago White Sox, Bob Buhl of the Cincinnati Reds, Bob Hendley of the San Francisco Giants, Lew Burdette of the St. Louis Cardinals, Don Nottbart of the Houston Colts and Carl Willey of the New York Mets.

Burdette and some of the other also could be used in relief, along with such other ex-Braves as Bob Shaw of San Francisco and Don McMahon of Houston.

Hendley and Shaw, of course, are among the newest members of the Milwaukee alumni association, having been traded Tuesday to San Francisco, along with catcher Del Crandall, for outfielder Felipe Alou, catcher, Ed Bailey, pitcher Billy Hoelt and another player to be named later.

Fluvanna Drops Pair

O'DONNELL — Fluvanna basketball teams dropped two decisions to O'Donnell here Tuesday night, with O'Donnell boys winning, 64-59, and O'Donnell girls gaining a 53-36 triumph.

Bobby Stansell paced the Fluvanna boys—scorers with 20 points, but high man in the game was O'Donnell's Jerry Utecht with 24.

Sherry White had 22 points for O'Donnell girls, while Ynguanzo had 17 for Fluvanna girls.

Fluvanna girls — Ynguanzo 57-17; Rinda Bruner 3-9-13; Kelly Kever 13-4; Totals 9-10-36.

O'Donnell girls — Sherry White 32-4; Elaine Clayton 5-2-12; Carol Moore 1-0-1; Gwen Lane 7-1-15; Katie Garrett 1-1-3; Kathy York 0-1-1; Totals 24-7-65.

Fluvanna boys — Bobby Hall 3-0-4; Joe Beaver 2-1-5; Richard Coners 3-2-8; Tommy Henry Conteras 0-1-1; Bobby Stansell 8-4-20; Totals 18-13-49.

O'Donnell boys — Ellis Freywall 3-2-4; Jerry Utecht 9-6-24; Marvin Utecht 5-0-10; Ben Taylor 5-0-10; Bob Moore 5-3-13; Totals 27-11-65.

Navy Near Top Mark

NEW YORK (AP)—Navy already has scored more points than any Annapolis team before, but needs 25 points against Army Saturday to take the national scoring title for the first time.

NCAA statistics today show Navy with a 32.6-point average in nine games. Utah State has 31.7 for second, but has finished the season The Middies need 25 points to stay on top.

Tulsa has broken the record of 176 pass completions set by Stanford in 1958, with the game with Louisville Saturday left to play.

Navy leads in passing accuracy with .655 per cent, better than the .612 record of Washington State in 1958.

Texas Western, with one game left leads in pass defense. Only 90 passes have been thrown against Texas Western all season.

The total of 315 field goals kicked is already a record, surpassing the 279 of 1961.

Orioles, Indians Trade Outfielders

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—The Baltimore Orioles traded outfielder Al Smith to the Cleveland Indians for outfielder Willie Kirkland today. The Orioles also paid an undisclosed amount of cash.

Smith, 35, batted .272 last season, with 10 home runs and 39 runs batted in.

Kirkland, 28, hit .230, with 15 home runs and 47 RBI.

He is also the second leading scorer with 50 points.

The 1963 edition of the Tigers gained a total of 3029 yards. The team gained 1899 of these on the ground and 1140 in the air. Snyder outclassed its opponents in nearly every category.

The Tigers have just completed their best season since 1956. The 234 point total this year was the best since 1957.

Timing Rule Hikes Scores

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

No, they haven't lowered the basket, widened the hoop or streamlined the ball, but college basketball's new timing rule may have served the same purpose—ushering in an era of the 100-point game.

Where 100-point games used to be fairly rare, they have become rather common in the first few days of the 1963-64 season. All as it was before, the teams, the players, the arenas and the equipment. Only the rules have been changed.

The new rule dictates that the clock will stop automatically when the ball goes out-of-bounds. This apparently is adding actual playing time, and providing more time to score.

Even against the usual, early-season opposition, witness Tuesday night's proceedings: —Sixth-ranked Arizona State, admittedly strong, rolled up 121 points to 79 for a New Mexico Western team not in the same class, but hardly considered a weak opponent.

—Miami of Florida whipped Tampa 101-85, Auburn walked Howard 102-44 and Oklahoma thumped South Dakota 100-79, with the Sooners getting a school record.

—Baylor missed the 100-mark by two points in beating Arlington State 98-74, but ran up its highest point total in history.

—And Oklahoma State, Hank Diba's slow-down types for whom 99 is a harvest, defeated Southern Illinois 83-64 for their fifth highest score in history.

—For three days of action, 16 major college teams have hit 100 or more points. West Texas State is tops so far, with 126.

They weren't all like that Tuesday.

Tenth-ranked Oregon State defeated Washington State 75-58, Minnesota needed a second half rally to down Iowa State 61-50, Vanderbilt came with a closing rush to subdue SMU 79-60 and Stanford downed Oregon 83-45 as Tom Dose collected 26 points.

Clemson went into double overtime before edging North Carolina 66-64 in an Atlantic Coast Conference game on Mike Bohanon's jump shot with two seconds left. Willie Somers' 28 points and final two foul shots with 19 seconds left carried Duquesne to an 83-79 decision over St. Francis Pa., and Seton Hall edged Catholic U. 69-67 in overtime on Richie Dek's tap in at the buzzer.

In other games, it was Kansas State 87, South Dakota State 59; Marquette 74, North Dakota 65; Florida 78, Florida State 55; Kirkland, 28, hit 230, with 15 home runs and 47 RBI.

Washington 64; Navy 77, Baltimore 60; Montana State 68, Nevada 54; Creighton 72, Hardin-Simmons 58; Richmond 71, East Carolina 67; William and Mary 81, Hampden-Sydney 49 and Holy Cross 87, St. Michael's, Vt., 69.

YAT, Brown Nip Records

NEW YORK (AP) — Y. A. Title and Jimmy Brown each snatched one of the more coveted records in the National Football League book Sunday, and retained their leads in NFL passing and rushing.

Johnny Unitas of Baltimore made the biggest advance in the statistical tables, released today. He jumped from fourth to second among the passers on a fine performance against the Washington Redskins.

Old Y. A. threw two touchdown passes as the New York Giants scratched out a comeback victory over the Dallas Cowboys, and set a career record in that department. He now has 197, one more than Bobby Layne threw in a long career at New York, Detroit and Pittsburgh.

Brown ran for 179 yards in the big Cleveland victory over St. Louis, and made his season total 1,677, with two games left. He set the old record, 1,527 yards in 1958.

Brown also scored twice to take over the scoring lead with 90 points on 15 touchdowns.

Bobby Joe Conrad of St. Louis remained the leading pass receiver with 60 for 763 yards. Bobby Mitchell of Washington has the most yardage, 1,140 and Terry Barr of Detroit leads in touchdown passes with 11.

Cage Tourney Set At Ira

IRA — Ira's Basketball Tournament will get underway here at 2:30 p.m. Thursday, with the Sands Girls B team meeting Fluvanna girls in the opener.

The boys teams of the same aggregations will tangle immediately thereafter in the second action in the tournament.

Ira and Highland girls will square off at 5:15 p.m. and the boys teams of the same two schools will play each other at 6:30 p.m.

Says FPC Not Immune To Pressure

HOUSTON (AP) — An investment firm president says political pressures often affect the kind of treatment a gas pipeline transmission firm gets from the Federal Power Commission.

A. R. Laforce, president of the Central Securities Corp. of New York, made this charge Tuesday at the 56th annual meeting of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers.

"Moreover, FPC decisions and policies have been highly inconsistent in that similarly situated pipelines have been accorded vastly different treatment according to the intensity of the political pressures in the individual cases," he said.

Laforce, a former pipeline company official, also said the FPC is handing down "arbitrary decisions" which are undermining the companies' financial positions and chasing away investors.

He said in the past the commission in his opinion treated the gas pipeline industry very fairly.

"However, in the past six or seven years I believe the FPC decisions and policies have resulted in a constant chipping away of allowable earnings," he said. "And more recently this chipping away process has become a chopping process."

"The result has been that the rate of return and allowable earnings for many pipelines have been reduced below the level necessary to maintain financial integrity and to attract capital."

RR Commission To Hear Testimony

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Railroad Commission will hear testimony Jan. 27 on salt water disposal in the Sour Lake Oil Field in Hardin County.

The commission ordered the hearing in line with its decision after one held April 11 to defer action pending a check within six months.

The April 11 hearing was called on a complaint by the Neches River Authority that salt water was being released into Pine Island Bayou. Operators said at the hearing they had begun an injection program.

NORWEGIAN FREIGHTER BURNS—Tugs and fireboats stand by to lend assistance as the 4,400-ton Norwegian freighter Lionel burns following a collision in the St. Lawrence River off Montreal. The Lionel fire was extinguished after three hours. Involved in collision with the Lionel was the 9,790-ton British ship Manchester Merchant which was towed to a berth with her crew of 35 still aboard. Twenty-eight seamen from the Lionel were taken to safety by tugs. One sailor suffered a minor arm injury. (AP Wirephoto)

Bracero Import Showdown Today

By G. MILTON KELLY
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate scheduled a showdown vote today on a proposed final one-year extension of the law which permits the importation of farm labor from Mexico.

The central issue is whether the Senate should reverse itself and knock out of the bill language the House has refused to accept.

The hotly disputed program is due to expire at midnight Dec. 31. Stakeholders are seeking to avert a stalemate on the bill between the two chambers.

Sen. Allen Ellender, D-La., the bill's floor manager, promised his colleagues in a Senate speech Tues. This was the last extension he would seek. He is chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee.

Foes of the program contend it breeds exploitation of both domestic and foreign farm workers by playing one group against the other.

Sen. Eugene McCarthy, D-Minn., one of the measure's opponents, hailed Ellender's death as at least an ultimate death knell for the mass importation of farm labor.

McCarthy told a reporter he would neither claim victory nor concede defeat in his fight to keep language in the measure which the House rejected.

This was a McCarthy amendment adopted 44 to 43 last Aug. 15 declaring that no farm could employ foreign labor without first offering at least as good wages, working conditions and benefits as those required by the agreement with Mexico.

Ellender said the House would not accept this because it "would have the effect of more or less killing the bill." McCarthy did

Norman Luboff Choir Is Making First Road Tour

Norman Luboff, the brilliant and popular conductor-arranger, makes his debut here on Dec. 7 at the High School Auditorium under the auspices of The Snyder Jaycees, leading his crack "troops" of virtuoso singers known internationally as the Norman Luboff Choir.

Although this is the Choir's very first "in person" tour, its unique reputation has long since been established on the basis of its many splendid and many-splendored recordings. The group has made over twenty LP albums for RCA Victor and Columbia, ranging from Cowboy ballads to show tunes, and from Bach to the Blues. Varied in style and content though they are, the records have one important thing in common: they're all best sellers!

Tickets are priced at $1.50 for adults and $1 for students. Advance tickets may be purchased at Snyder Athletic Supply and Toyland, Rogers, Inc., Thompson's Shoe Store, and Dryden's Shoe Store.

Curtain time for the choir's concert is 8 p.m.

Mario Pat, the noted linguist, calls Swahili "the worthiest and most dignified of all African Negro tongues." He recommends it as a national language for African nations south of the Sahara.

Fees Sells Oil Holdings

IOLA, Kan. (AP)—Walter S. Fees, a major Iola oil operator for more than 40 years, announced today he has sold his oil properties to James E. Russell of Abilene, Tex., and is retiring from the business.

The amount involved was not announced.

Sale of Fees' properties included about 3,000 acres of oil producing leases in the Colony and Weida areas of Anderson County, with 140 oil producing wells and 84 water input wells.

Ike May Lead GOP Quest For Presidential Nominee

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP)—The political upheaval caused by the assassination of President Kennedy may project former President Eisenhower actively into the search for a 1964 GOP presidential nominee.

Eisenhower has disclaimed any desire to become a kingmaker. But associates who have talked to him since Kennedy's death say the former president recognizes that the Republican situation has changed so rapidly as to invite efforts to get the kind of moderate candidate he believes can win.

Eisenhower has opposed public discussion of political matters at this time. He was reported to have suggested it might be well for Republicans to preserve an air of bipartisanship longer into the new year than they had planned by postponing a series of scheduled Jan. 29 closed-circuit television fund-raising dinners here.

With his frassary bare, however, national chairman William E. Miller ruled that the dinners will go on as scheduled.

Eisenhower, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon are to be among the speakers.

Before Kennedy's death, the Republican nomination scramble was developing rapidly into a two-man contest between Goldwater and Rockefeller. It was a poorly kept secret that Eisenhower didn't view this prospect with any enthusiasm, but there wasn't much he could do about it.

The death of Kennedy and the elevation of Lyndon B. Johnson to the presidency changed things. Goldwater supporters had figured their man had a chance of beating Kennedy by carrying the South and some of the more conservative states in the Midwest and West. Now he would be facing a Texas president with an image more conservative than Kennedy's.

If Goldwater decides to get into the race—and there now is some doubt that he will — it probably would take him time to work up the same head of steam against Johnson that he maintained in falling away at Kennedy's policies.

The substitution of Johnson for Kennedy weakened Goldwater's position in the South, where he was strongest. Ordinarily the Democratic change would have been expected to help Rockefeller, promising Republicans a better chance of carrying New York.

But even some of the governor's supporters concede privately that his political fortunes do not seem to be recovering from his divorce and remarriage.

In such a situation there is a feeling that if Eisenhower and his friends of the National Republican Citizens Committee can find a suitable candidate in the next couple of months the way would be open for the type of buildup that made Wendell T. Willkie the nominee in 1940.

Nixon, of course, remains in the forefront of possible contenders. While he has raised Nixon as well qualified, the impression remains that Eisenhower would rather turn to another for the 1964 race.

Soldiers Are Home

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has brought home about 31,000 soldiers who were sent to strengthen the Army in West Germany during the Berlin crisis two years ago, it was learned today.

This represents about 75 percent of the 41,000 troops, mostly rear echelon elements shipped overseas during late 1961 when the Russians were threatening to try to push the allies out of West Berlin.

The remaining 10,000 reinforcements probably will stay with the U.S. 7th Army for some time.

This places the 7th Army's current strength at about 242,000 men whose fighting power is concentrated in five divisions and a number of miscellaneous combat units adding up to a sixth division.

New Facts Show Smoker's Risk

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—The American Cancer Society, in what it says is the broadest study yet made of the subject, reported today that death rates are far higher among cigarette smokers than among non-smokers and that the rates increase with the amount of smoking.

The report came on the heels of a proposal by the American Medical Association's Board of Trustees for a research program on tobacco and health "beyond statistical evidence."

The American Cancer Society's report was based on 422,494 men who filled out detailed questionnaires and then were traced for an average of 34.3 months.

Dr. E. Cuyler Hammond, the society's director of statistical research, outlined the new findings at the 17th annual clinical meeting of the American Medical Association. The figures confirm previous findings and go further, he said.

Pipe-smoking Dr. Hammond reported death rates were far higher among cigarette smokers than non-smokers, they increased with amount of smoking, and they were lower among ex-smokers of a year or longer than among current smokers.

The latest study, aimed at refuting challenges to six earlier ones, includes many new factors. One part of it compares death rates of 36,975 matched pairs (one smoker and one non-smoker).

The "twins" were matched for age, race, height, urban or rural residence, and numerous other characteristics—even degree of baldness and frequency of eating fried foods. The smoker in each pair used a pack of cigarettes a day or more.

Of the 36,975 matched pairs, 185 of the smokers died during the study compared with 662 of the non-smokers.

Lung cancer killed 110 of the smokers, 12 of the non-smokers. Fifteen smokers died of emphysema, another lung disease, compared with 1 non-smoker. More than twice as many smokers as non-smokers (694 and 312) died of two arterial diseases. Other causes felled 576 smokers compared with 329 of the non-smoking "twins."

Among smokers age 40 to 69 who started before age 15 the death rate was 2.9 as high as among those who never smoked regularly.

Lung cancer death rates of current cigarette smokers were 11 times as high as non-smokers—18 times as high among very heavy smokers.

The American Tobacco Institute has said conclusive scientific evidence is lacking to show connection between cancer and smoking.

Dr. Hammond said other diseases found related to cigarette smoking included cancer of the mouth, throat and bladder, and gastric ulcers.

FOURTEEN YEARS OF SERVICE to the Texas Board of Pharmacy were recognized when the large plaque was presented to Lee Stinson recently at a special meeting of the board in Houston. The meeting was called for the purpose of making the presentation. The smaller plaque was also presented to Mr. Stinson by the Lone Star State Pharmaceutical Association and Texas Southern University for his "outstanding and unselfish service" to the association.

Moment Without A Leader Makes Nation Vulnerable

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—The assassination of President Kennedy raises some grisly questions which were not a problem when John Wilkes Booth planned to kill President Lincoln and some of the highest officials around him.

There were no intercontinental ballistic missiles in Lincoln's day. At that time the nation could not be in immediate danger if someone were not found within a matter of minutes to become president and commander-in-chief.

Now a few moments—the time between the start of an enemy nuclear attack and the order to make a nuclear counter-attack—could mean the difference between annihilation and some survival if not victory.

Officials have said American nuclear missiles are so well scattered and protected and could reply so fast that an enemy beginning an attack would be equally devastated.

Such statements, a discouragement to an enemy, are based on the assumption that at the moment of attack there would be someone in supreme authority to order, and very quickly, a counter-blow.

As commander-in-chief, the president would give the order.

If the president were killed, the vice president, by becoming president and commander-in-chief, would give the order.

Under a 1947 law, if there is no president or vice president, then next in line of succession to the presidency are the speaker of the house, the speaker pro tempore of the Senate, and then the Cabinet officers, starting with the secretary of state.

So the line of succession, spelled out this way, looks clear and simple. If the enemy began an attack by dropping nuclear bombs on Washington, the president and all those next in line might be wiped out.

Since time then would be so precious, the highest military officers would have to give the counter-attack order.

But suppose an enemy decided, before beginning an attack, it would be shrewd first to create such confusion and chaos in America that a counter-attack might be fatally delayed after the barrage on this country began.

Such a foe might think in terms of assassination, not of the president alone, but those in the immediate line of succession: The vice president and the two congressional leaders.

It isn't hard to imagine the dismay and confusion after four such assassinations if they all occurred within a few minutes. The telephone lines would be a mess. And how could anyone be sure who was dead and who was alive?

In short, then, who would be sure for some time that he was the next in line to take the oath of president and become commander-in-chief? And suppose right then the enemy began the attack.

Who could order the retaliatory nuclear blow if there were no president?

This writer asked the question around Washington and was told, although not officially, that undoubtedly the secretary of defense would take it on himself to issue the counter-attack order, since every second counted.

Any secretary of defense in such a situation would probably do that even though he was exceeding his prescribed authority. If anyone was left to dig himself out of the American ruins, he wouldn't be thinking about fine and unprecedented constitutional questions.

But suppose, in the general assassination plot, the secretary of defense was also killed. What then?

This can be said on excellent authority: There is a secret procedure in the government for action in case of an emergency. Maybe it answers the questions raised here, but it isn't likely to be made public.

Bill Passed For Brazos

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate passed and sent back to the House Tuesday a bill authorizing spending an additional $30 million for the Brazos River Basin.

Altogether, the Senate bill authorized spending $950 million in 10 river basins for the 1964 and 1965 fiscal years. The House bill is limited to one year and applies only to those basins which faced possible work stoppages on previously authorized projects.

The House Public Works Committee said it would try to win unanimous House consent to send the measure to a conference committee to adjust differences in the Senate and House-passed versions.

If an objection is raised on the House floor, the committee will ask the Rules Committee next week to draft a resolution sending the bill to conference. Such a resolution requires only a majority vote.

Krush Happy With Vows

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev expressed satisfaction Tuesday night with President Johnson's promises to work for peace and better relations with the Soviet Union.

"We note with satisfaction," said Khrushchev, "that Lyndon Johnson, the new President of the United States, speaking of his intentions to continue President Kennedy's policy, emphasized he would strive for a peaceful solution of international relations and for better relations between the Soviet Union and all countries."

"As regards the Soviet Union, it will not relax its efforts in search of a solution to major international problems and will press for the further consolidation of relations with other countries."

Khrushchev made his comment at a farewell dinner given by President Urho Kekkonen of Finland, who was ending an unofficial visit with Khrushchev.

Banquet Set For Scout Executive

An appreciation banquet for retiring Boy Scout Council Executive P. V. Thorson will be held Thursday, Dec. 5, at the Permian High School in Odessa.

The banquet will begin at 7 p.m.

Thorson has served on the Buffalo Trail Council for the past 18 years.

All past scouters who have not received an invitation but would like to attend the farewell dinner are invited. Further information on the appreciation banquet may be had by contacting Lyle Deffebach, HI 3-5452 or Larry Smith, HI 3-9894.

To Discuss US Loan

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Gov. Manuel Gonzalez de Cosio of the state of Queretaro is en route to Washington, where he will meet with President Johnson to discuss a $22 million loan. The money would be used to plant large areas in grass for grazing in Queretaro and four other states in Central Mexico, Gonzalez de Cosio said.

Mrs. Kennedy's New Home Abounds In Fine Art Work

By FRANCES LEWINE
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—A home with a history and a warmth, filled with the art she loves, will greet Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy when she walks into her borrowed Georgetown residence Friday.

The new address for the former First Lady—3038 N St.—is a three-story red brick dwelling with plenty of room. Undersecretary of State and Mrs. W. Averell Harriman, who own the house, have turned it over to the former First Lady and her children and have moved into a hotel.

From the entrance hallway, with etchings by Picasso and Matisse in the stairwell, to the picturesque dormered third floor bedrooms, it is furnished for elegant and comfortable living.

The dining room seats up to 18 comfortably.

There are fireplaces in all but one room and the house contains a collection of French, English and Chinese lacquer furniture and Lowestoft china. And the art collection would be the pride of a museum.

In the rear is a spacious, blue-long walled and terraced garden, with boxwood and magnificent magnolia trees and a swimming pool.

As she walks over the two Iranian rugs (gift of the shah) in the entrance hallway, past a Louis XV console with a big carved mirror of the same period of France's grandeur, Mrs. Kennedy will be in an atmosphere not unlike what she created in the White House.

The history books of Georgetown indicate this house dates back to the same period as the mansion at 1600 Pennsylvania Ave. which Mrs. Kennedy is vacating after almost three years.

It is said to have been built in 1800, the same year President John Adams moved into the unfinished White House.

It was announced Tuesday that Mrs. Kennedy will move on Friday. There is no indication when President Johnson and his family will take occupancy of the White House, but probably soon.

The Harrimans, who once occupied the governor's mansion in Albany, N.Y., bought the Georgetown home last spring. Its prior owner was William Scranton, now governor of Pennsylvania.

Oct. Deaths Set Record

CHICAGO (AP)—The nation's traffic deaths in the first 10 months in 1963, with a record high for October, totaled more than 35,000, the National Safety Council reports.

Highway fatalities in October totaled 4,000, topping the previous October high of 3,965 in 1956. The toll, the third highest ever recorded for one month, compared with 3,880 in October last year.

The council said 35,170 persons lost their lives in traffic accidents from Jan. 1 to Nov. 1, an increase of 5 per cent over the 33,420 for the corresponding period last year.

Ambassador Due

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Israel's new ambassador to Mexico, Simcha Pratt, was due here today from New York, where he was a member of his country's delegation to the United Nations.

Pratt, a former minister to South Africa, succeeds Mordechai Schneerson, who left in May to become ambassador to Japan.

Trustees Hold LBJ Wealth

WASHINGTON (AP)—Almost all of President Johnson's personal wealth has been placed in the hands of trustees, the Washington Post said today.

It also said he has put his Washington house up for sale.

According to the newspaper, the new President had put most of his stockholdings under trusteeship when he assumed the vice presidency in 1961. It said most of these have been liquidated.

Since becoming President Nov. 22, the Post said, Johnson has placed some 5,000 acres of unimproved Texas grazing land under trusteeship. He owns the land jointly with Mrs. Johnson.

Under the agreement, the trustee may not apply for any provision federal farm or land subsidy under any circumstances. The trust lasts until Johnson is not President or dies, whichever comes first.

The trustee is A. W. Moursland, a Johnson City, Tex., attorney who is co-trustee for Mrs. Johnson's holdings, which include the LBJ Co., which had an interest in several Texas and Oklahoma radio stations. Mrs. Johnson was majority stockholder and chairman of the LBJ Co.

The President continues to hold his ranch house near Johnson City and some 40 surrounding acres, the Post reported. He will also retain control of his municipal bonds.

The house the Johnsons plan to sell is known as "The Elms"—is located in the exclusive Spring Valley section of Northwest Washington. It was estimated they paid between $100,000 and $200,000 when they bought it from Mrs. Perle Mesta in June 1961.

Van Cliburn At Home

KILGORE (AP)—Van Cliburn returned to his hometown Tuesday night and received an ovation from a capacity audience of 1,650 after playing a benefit recital for the East Texas Treatment Center for the physically handicapped.

It was his first concert appearance here since December, 1958. That was the year he won the Tchaikovsky International Piano Competition in Moscow, a triumph which brought him worldwide acclaim.

Cliburn 29, received numerous curtain calls and played four encores after completing his program, consisting of numbers by Brahms, Beethoven, Barber and Chopin.

On behalf of the treatment center, Bob Schlier, president, presented a scroll to Cliburn for "the generous gift of his time and talent for the benefit of handicapped children and adults."

Cliburn's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Cliburn, were present.

Kidnaped Colonel Released Today

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — The U.S. Embassy said Che-nault's kidnappers took him to a point a few blocks from his home and he walked from there.

Che-nault, 47, was unharmed. He is deputy chief of the U.S. military mission in Venezuela. The pro-communist Armed Forces for National Liberation (FALN) kidnaped him in front of his home last Wednesday in an attempt to focus international headlines on its campaign to sabotage the presidential election last Sunday.

The terrorist campaign was a failure. A record number of Venezuelans turned out to vote. The FALN in telephone calls to Caracas newspapers had said it would not harm the American officer and would release him on Saturday, the day before the election.

Group Beginning Report Inquiry

WASHINGTON (AP) — A member of the presidential commission investigating President Kennedy's assassination said today the bipartisan body should leave "a detailed report for the people behind us."

The commission, headed by Chief Justice Earl Warren, held its first meeting today to set up machinery and procedures for its top-level inquiry.

Murder Trial Goes To Jury

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — The trial of Eugene Thompson on a charge of first-degree murder goes to the jury, probably late today, after closing arguments and the judge's instructions.

The 36-year-old St. Paul attorney could get life imprisonment, Minnesota does not have the death penalty. Thompson is accused of arranging the slaying of his wife, Carol, 31, last March 6.

Connally Is Released; Prepares To Go Home

Pope's Trip Planned For January

By JAMES M. LONG VATICAN CITY (AP) — The unprecedented pilgrimage to the Holy Land by Pope Paul VI will be made in the first 10 days of January, a Vatican spokesman said today.

The Pope is expected to break a second precedent by making the trip by plane. No pontiff has flown before, although as a cardinal Pope Paul frequently used planes.

Christian and Jewish leaders around the world praised the Pope's decision to make the pilgrimage, coming at a time when the Catholic Church has taken steps toward Christian unity.

The pontiff will be visiting a Holy Land long divided by the hostility of Arabs and Jews. In his surprise announcement, at the end of the Vatican Ecumenical Council's second session Wednesday, Pope Paul said he wanted to make the pilgrimage "on behalf of peace among men."

The 2,200 cardinals, archbishops, and patriarchs hastened back to their dioceses after the council's second two-month session.

The third session of the council will be held in September 1964.

Mrs. Webb Dies Today; Rites Friday

Funeral services will be held at 2:30 Friday afternoon for Mrs. Margaret E. Webb, 73. Mrs. Webb died at her home on the Lubbock Highway at 7:15 a.m. Thursday.

Born March 15, 1890 in Falls County, Tex., she had been a resident of Scurry County for the past 48 years. She was married on Thanksgiving Day, 1919, to R. W. (Dick) Webb, a practicing attorney here.

HONOR GUARD OFFICER DIES—Capt. Michael D. Groves, above, who commanded the ceremonial troops in President Kennedy's funeral, collapsed and died at his home in nearby Ft. Myer, Va.

Groves was commanding officer of the Honor Guard Company, 1st Battalion, 3rd Infantry and his men served as the death watch, casket bearers, caisson escorts and grave-side sentries for Kennedy's funeral. (AP Wirephoto).

Cast Still On Wrist

DALLAS (AP) — Gov. John Connally prepared to fly home to Austin today to continue his recovery from wounds suffered during the assassination of President Kennedy. He said he does not yet know if he will regain full use of his right hand and wrist.

Before leaving Parkland hospital, Connally told a crowd of doctors and nurses "I literally owe my life to you here at Parkland."

Connally was wounded at the time President Kennedy was assassinated in Dallas Nov. 22. He was hit by one shot that passed through his chest, through his right wrist and lodged in a thigh.

"I wanted to take this opportunity to tell all of you who are eternally grateful. Although you have been wonderful to us, I am ready to go home."

The governor said he did not anticipate returning to his office at the Capitol this month. He said doctors told him his chest was in excellent shape.

"However, my wrist looks like it will be a long, suffering thing. It will be in a cast for 90 days and it will be six months before it will be finally determined whether I will have full use of my right hand and wrist."

Answering questions from newsmen, Connally said that a court of inquiry proposed by Texas Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr "can and perhaps will shed great light on many details now unknown to the public."

The governor said he still does not know if he will call a special session of the legislature to redistrict the states congressional boundary lines. He made no further comment on that point.

"We need a political atmosphere that would permit people who want to unselfishly give of their time and talents a means or forum to express themselves," said the governor.

"Unfortunately, in times of stress and strain the voices of extremists are heard the loudest," Connally added.

Mrs. Connally said, "I want to thank Texas, the nation and the world for the beautiful messages and letters we have received while John has been in the hospital."

Connally's general appearance was good. Other than the use of the wheel chair and the arm in a cast, the only noticeable difference from the time before he was shot was that his voice seemed more husky.

Law officers wheeled the governor's chair out the front door of the hospital en route to the airport.

New Government Assumes Duties

ROME (AP) — Italy's new center-left government takes office today, bringing the Socialists into the Cabinet for the first time in 16 years.

Premier Aldo Moro and his Cabinet were to be sworn in by President Antonio Segni to become Italy's 25th post-Fascist government.

Formation of the four-party coalition ended a political crisis that began in April when the ruling Christian Democrats suffered a setback and the Communists gained a million votes in the election of a new Parliament.

For 13 months before the election, Christian Democratic Premier Amintore Fanfani headed a center-left government supported by the Socialists, but the latter stayed out of the Cabinet. The election results strengthened a Socialist faction that wanted the party to return to its traditional alliance with Italy's big-Communist party.

But Socialist leader Pietro Nenni finally brought the party back into alliance with the Christian Democrats.

Other parties in the coalition are Giuseppe Saragat's Democratic Socialists and the Republicans. They were the other two members of Fanfani's coalition.

The new government is pledged to support the North Atlantic Treaty Organization in foreign affairs and to begin new economic planning.

HOUSTON (AP) — A federal judge has refused to order immediate integration of kindergarten classes in Houston public schools.

Federal Judge Ben C. Connelly said Wednesday that President Kennedy was killed Nov. 22.

Moro, a 47-year-old law professor and Christian Democratic leader, is expected to survive his first parliamentary test when he seeks a vote of confidence next week.

The four parties hold 385 of the 629 seats in the Chamber of Deputies, a majority of 141. But Socialist defections may reduce the majority.

The Christian Democrats — Italy's largest party—dominate the 26-member Cabinet with 16 posts, including the premiership. The Socialists have six members, the Democratic Socialists three and the Republicans one.

Nenni, who returned his Stalin Peace Prize to the Russian after they crushed the 1956 Hungarian revolt, was named deputy premier.

One key economic post, budget minister, went to Socialist Antonio Giolitti, a former Communist party functionary.

Tippit Donations Still Uncounted

DALLAS (AP) — Dallas police predict donations to the family of slain policeman J. D. Tippit may reach $200,000 when the mountain-sized stack of mail received is processed.

"It's getting more amazing every day," Police Lt. V. K. Hipskind says.

And thirty miles west, a young Fort Worth housewife says her fund for the widow and small daughters of accused presidential assassin, Lee Harvey Oswald, has grown to more than $6,000.

Tippit was killed while trying to arrest Oswald shortly after President Kennedy was killed Nov. 22.

Mrs. Shirley B. Williamson, said she has never met Marina Oswald, the blonde Russian-speaking widow of Oswald, but communicates with her through the Secret Service.

When night club owner Jack Ruby shot Oswald, Mrs. Williamson said she looked at her own four children and thought, "What will happen to his little kids?" After consulting a Fort Worth funeral home, she decided to start a fund for the Oswalds.

Very few letters have been critical of her decision, the brunette Mrs. Williamson said. "I've received a lot of encouragement and a lot of letters. Not everybody is heartless; I guess few really are."

Old Unemployment Problem Challenges New President

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson has just butted heads with a dilemma which haunted his predecessors in the White House. They couldn't solve it except in wartime.

It's how to create more jobs for people, or at least enough jobs. Right now about 70 million people are employed and another 35 million are out of jobs. And the population keeps on growing every year.

Johnson, meeting with labor and business leaders Wednesday, set as a goal a 5 million increase in jobs. He didn't set a date which was probably wise since unemployment has a habit of going up as well as down.

In short Johnson is talking of 75 million jobs. There will be that many in time, unless the economy collapses, but by then there may be so many more people in the labor market that millions may still be unemployed.

No one is reported to have blinked at Johnson's goal, which can be understood as meaning it is now taken for granted, although it has never been a secret, that the population is going up.

Yet, back in the 1940s when Henry A. Wallace, former vice president, talked of a post-war goal of 60 million jobs, there seemed to be some who thought he had a hole in his head.

Shortly after he took office April 12, 1945, with the war coming to an end, which meant reversion to peacetime and millions of soldiers coming home for jobs, President Truman said: "I am for full employment." And after the Japanese surrender he asked Congress Sept. 6, 1945 for full employment legislation. But Congress was skittish about putting that kind of label on a law.

It finally passed one-called the Employment Act of 1946—which said the government had a responsibility for the general welfare but stopped a long way short of guaranteeing everyone a job.

When Truman signed it Feb. 20, 1946, he said: "It is not the government's duty to supplant the efforts of private enterprise to find markets, or of individuals to find their own efforts."

The people do, however, expect the government to create and maintain conditions in which the individual businessman and the individual job-seeker have a chance to succeed by their own efforts.

That is the objective of the Employment Act of 1946. The Congress has placed on the President the duty of formulating programs designed to accomplish the purpose of the act.

To help him out, Congress created a Council of Economic Advisers. And that's the way it has been ever since. And there hasn't been full employment since.

When President Eisenhower took office Jan. 20, 1953, the employed were 61.5 million and the unemployed 1,398,000. The years passed, the population grew, the number of jobs increased. So did the number of people holding jobs and the number of unemployed.

team of psychologists to rural areas of Mexico and have them perform a dedicated study of why people are like they are there.

The team arrives in a village and the inhabitants gather around with laughter and smiles and a psychologist with horns rums stares intently at them and asks, "What's wrong here?"

Everyone looks at each other while the investigators make notes and the doctor with the horns rums says, "Speak up, speak up. You with the cheerful look over there, what's the matter?"

And the cheerful fellow says, "Gee, I dunno. How come something is the matter?"

So one of the more understanding psychologists pushes forward and says, "Now friend, you don't have to be afraid. We are conducting a study of human nature and want to know all about your problems."

The fellow looks puzzled and asks, "What's problems?"

Then several of the doctors become terribly worried and one of them asks, "What positive experiences do you people anticipate for the immediate future?"

And everyone choruses, "The big party. Tonight we're holding the Festival of the Quarter Moon. Why'n't you guys stick around and have some fun with us?"

Of course the psychologists fold up their notebooks and begin muttering, "Hopeless case. Obviously covering their depressed feelings by trying to appear happy. How do people like this stand it?"

I've often wondered the same thing but they seem to make out in a hearty fashion.

Church Assembly Gets Resolutions

By GEORGE ESPER

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Two strong civil rights resolutions were placed before the general assembly of the National Council of Churches today.

The Rev. Dr. Robert W. Spike, executive director of the council's commission on religion and race said in an interview that he felt both resolutions would be debated but would be approved by the 3,000 delegates.

Dr. Spike, an officer of the United Church of Christ, said one resolution called on the assembly to support President Johnson in his campaign to win passage of the late President's civil rights bill. The other urged complete desegregation of churches.

Dr. Spike said the first resolution urged members of the assembly to urge their congressmen to sign a discharge petition, a rare parliamentary maneuver, which would force the civil rights legislation to the House floor for action.

House Democratic leaders are planning to introduce the petition Monday. It requires the signatures of 218 congressmen, or half the House membership. The bill is stalled in the House Rules Committee.

"If this resolution is passed," said Dr. Spike, "I will go before the assembly and urge everyone present to go home by way of Washington and to call on their congressmen to urge him to sign the discharge petition."

The council is the cooperative federation of 31 Protestant, Anglican and Eastern Orthodox denominations with a total of 40 million members in the United States.

WHAT CAN WE EXPECT?

Cat Almost Never Tells True Age

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Cats, like women, rarely reveal their age. They wouldn't tell the truth even if you put their paw on the Bible.

So it is I don't know for certain how old Lady Dottie is. She was in an advanced stage of kittenhood when she adopted our family some years back, and began to rule us with her iron whisks.

I would guess she is now in the equivalent of early middle age. Certainly she acts more like a spinster every day. She has developed a bad case of xenophobia, or fear of strangers. Unlike a spinster, she doesn't look under her bed for strange men before retiring. She merely runs and hides under the sofa when a strange man enters the apartment, and usually stays there until he leaves.

Formerly she liked to escort me into the hall when I went to work, and stand there gravely waiting until the elevator had whisked me down. Looking at her I sometimes had the eerie feeling she was a kind of fur-covered, four-toed wife, silently telling me, "Now work hard all day like a nice little husband, earn me a good living, and be sure to get home early."

Lately, however, Lady Dottie has declined to go into the hall. She merely follows me to the door, gives a farewell rub against my legs and walks away.

Apparently she has lost nearly all curiosity about the outside world. Now and then she is stirred to a tail-lashing jungle excitement when an impertinent sparrow perches on our window-sill. But for the most part she seems content to be an indoor cat, taking our apartment as her placid place of empire.

She used to reach out and bat or bite our daughter, Tracy Ann, or the two children down the hall if they teased her or tried to fondle her too much. Now she nips up with their petting with a regal air of resignation.

Most cat lovers like to brag about their pets' tricks. The only trick Lady Dottie ever learned was, when accidentally shut into the bathroom to leap up on the washstand and turn the doorknob with both paws, sometimes opening it.

When we try to get her to do this trick for friends, however, she merely stands behind the door and plaintively meows for release. Cats, like children, never show off when you want them to.

My wife, Frances, sometimes wearies of preparing Lady Dottie's meals.

"I must have cut up and warmed enough beef kidney and rozen codfish for that cat to fill a freight car," she says.

But I remark that cats are more trouble than husbands Frances replies. "Yes, in some ways. But on the other hand, they are more intelligent conversationalists. When I talk to Lady Dottie, I at least know she hears me. That's more than I can say for some husbands."

I guess she must have been referring to one of the neighbors. I hear that guy never listens to his wife.

Oswald's Mother Denies Son's Guilt; Accepts Responsibility For Character

By BERNARD GAVZER
Associated Press Staff Writer
FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—

Perhaps one day in the year 1963, a school boy will open a history book and read of the Black Friday 100 years before which President John Fitzgerald Kennedy was assassinated.

His study will bring him to Lee Harvey Oswald, a 24-year-old malcontent, who was accused of the assassination, but was murdered before being brought to trial.

If he goes deeper into the story, he may come across the name of Mrs. Marguerite Claverie Oswald.

Mrs. Oswald, a grey-haired, 66-year-old practical nurse, is the mother of Lee Harvey Oswald.

She, too, may become the subject of history because any inquiry into the nature of her son must turn to the person who played the greatest role in shaping him. That person is Mrs. Oswald.

"Any guilt I have for making him what he was, I will accept," she says. "But this is not for the assassination. I do not care what the FBI says, or what any special commission or court may say. He did not have a trial. He did not have his day in court. I heard him say on television, the same as millions of others heard him, 'I did not kill anyone. I know he never did it. I know my son.'"

The death of her son is another burden in a life littered with milestones, according to her recounting.

"Lee was such a fine, high class boy," she says. "He didn't waste time with comic books and trashy things. On Sundays, I'd take him to church and then we'd have lunch somewhere, and go to the zoo, he knew the names of every animal there, and to the planetarium, he just knew everything about stars, and to the museums."

This idyllic picture of mother-son relationship jars with less romantic official documents which said that 13-year-old Lee had schizophrenic tendencies and was potentially dangerous.

Nor does it agree with the recollection of John Carro, who was Lee's probation officer from April 1953 to January 1954. Carro said Mrs. Oswald refused to consider her son anything more than a truant, balked at aid from welfare agencies, ignored a court order that Lee receive psychiatric treatment.

What does she say to this now?

She doesn't have a direct comment. The answer is contained in her conviction that as a mother she, and only she, could know her son.

"I have to face this alone," she says, "but I will do it. I have always faced life. I have been exploited since childhood. But there has been no turning away. I have faith. I do not question the will of God."

And yet there is something about her demeanor that suggests she has been cast in a role that despite its tragic overtones and its tragic cost has had an importance for her.

The television set in her living room was on as she talked, and she became anxious as a program came to an end. The news came on then and after some reporting of Washington and international events, the scene turned to Fort Worth, and a previous interview with her.

Ida, Apple Cider Are Not What They Were Long Ago

BY INEZ ROBB

Ida, Ida, sweet as apple cider, isn't the same girl who married dear old dad. The modern Ida is still sweet, all right. But that's about the only characteristic she still shares with the Ida who inspired that song in the sweet long ago.

Today's Ida, based on the cider smile, is a sweet, bland girl, colorless and to be honest, a nice girl, all right, but characterless. "Blah" is probably the word that best describes the updated Ida, based on her updated cider counterpart.

Even 25 years ago Ida used to be a sparkling girl. There was tang and zest to her, as well as sweetness. She was a nice girl, all right, but she also was lively. She added something to a party. She had zip; that was it. That was cider, also.

You can't imagine the old Ida being anything but the life of the party — a real personality girl: just as you can't visualize the new Ida being anything but a wallflower, a sad sack without enough spirit to play tag, much less post office.

What has happened to country cider in recent years is what happened much earlier to homemade bread — just — like-moth-er — used to — make. Commercialization, that's what happened to cider and to Ida who was sweet as.

Cider, at least the cider we know, has been pasteurized and homogenized, and a preservative added. In all probability it's the preservative that has tamed cider and taken the flavor out of it, just as a comparable preservative has extended the life of a loaf of bread while extracting its old-time texture and savor.

The supermarket cider we buy every year at Thanksgiving has been getting progressively more bland and tasteless until it is years if not a decade like cider, smells a bit like cider but doesn't bear a kissin' resemblance to the delicious autumn drink that once came from country cider presses.

Now, by no stretch of the imagination am I referring to hard cider. What I am hymning is the old-time delicious but innocuous drink of autumn, innocent of any or all alcoholic content. In my salad days, when the cider started to age, it had two ways in which to go: it either wound up as cider vinegar or as hard cider, or applejack or apple brandy.

The cider we traditionally drank with Thanksgiving dinner ended as cider vinegar, if it was not drunk within a reasonable length of time.

Fresh, innocent cider required an entirely different treatment if it was to end up as hard cider or applejack. The menfolks in the family tended to that, and if I remember rightly it required a stout wooden keg and certain abracadabra of which I have no knowledge.

But the cider we drank with Thanksgiving dinner was as pure as Carrie Nation. It was a lovely golden drink that turned the goblets to topaz and matched the chrysanthemums in the center of the table. It was a noble drink, worthy of the turkey and the pumpkin pie, with a little bubble or two in the glass, a tang on the tongue and a tinkle as it went down the throat.

It had nothing in common with today's insipid cider. The truth is that we as a nation have gotten too sanitary for our own good. Probably the apples at a modern cider plant are sterilized before being pressed or dipped in a sterile solution of something or other.

There was none of this nonsense when I was a child. Apples were just dumped into the press. There was even a general feeling that any worms in the fruit lent the liquid either a meaty or a nutty flavor. There were two schools of thought on this problem!

What mattered was the end result — delicious, foamy and packed full of flavor. Who needed vitamins? Or antiseptic seals of approval? The product tasted good and that was what counted.

Doubtless if one had time to gumshoe through the country, he could still find an old-fashioned cider press operated by a farmer more intent on flavor than sterility. And today's colorless Ida would, for the moment, be-

Junior Editors Quiz on STARS

QUESTION: Why do stars twinkle?

ANSWER: In our picture, Joe, Jerry, and their dog Wags, have taken up star watching as a hobby. Joe is pointing to a spot of light which behaves differently from the others; as these seem to flicker slightly or "twinkle," this light glows steadily, without flickering. Joe knows the reason. "See, Jerry, that light comes from a planet, a member of our own solar system. The others are real stars, way out beyond our solar system. They're so far away only one pinpoint of light at a time gets through to us. As it passes through the moving layers of our earth's atmosphere, it gets jiggled back and forth; that's why stars seem to twinkle. But planets are so much nearer that even if the reflected light of the sun, a lot of such rays get through to us — enough of them so that there's no jiggling effect — the planet's light shines steadily."

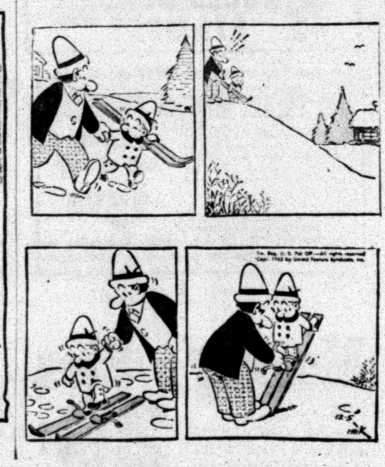

FOR YOU TO DO: Go outside on a fine clear night when the stars are shining brilliantly and look them over carefully. Try to spot a planet with its steady light. It may take effort, but you'll get a thrill when you find it. Then find out from star charts which of the planets you have found. 12-5

(William L. Cicero of Youngstown, Ohio wins today's grand prize of a 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of this newspaper, and you may win a set too.)

Money from the club project will go to the Goodfellows.

Service Agents Cause 'Stir' In Lynda Bird's Dormitory

EDITOR'S NOTE—What happens when an attractive girl in the University of Texas suddenly becomes one of the most publicized, and best guarded, coeds in the nation? Here is a report from a classmate who is an occupant of the same dormitory and a part-time newspaper reporter.

Dormitory think of Lynda Bird's friend just before they passed the counseling office. "You can't just whiz past there," he said, "you have to report to those Secret Service agents."

With a surprised and startled expression the co-ed entered the office. "I have come to report to you, sir, that I am here," she said timidly.

"Sit down, please," the agent said sternly, playing his part of the game. It was not until he laughed that the co-ed realized she had been tricked by her date.

"It is just good to have a man around this place," one co-ed said.

The girls, however, do not exactly envy Lynda. "I wouldn't want to be shadowed," one co-ed remarked. "That would drive me wild, especially on dates. What fun could that be?"

Lynda seems to be making the most of the agents' company. She keeps them busy. On her first day of classes with the new protection she rushed into the lobby with just enough time to make her class.

"Come on, sir," she said to the Secret Service agent on duty. "We are late."

The Kinsolving residents have some adjustments to make themselves. They have been accustomed to slipping down to the soft drink machine in the late hours.

One embarrassed co-ed shrieked when she realized she had made her appearance before the Secret Service men in nightgown and hair curlers.

Refunds Are Mailed Out By Midwest

For the sixth straight year, Midwest Electric Cooperative has made a cash refund to its membership.

Johnnie Ammons, manager of the Roby-based cooperative, has announced that checks totaling $115,921.40 were mailed Wednesday. The checks are going to Midwest members and former members who were receiving service from the co-op during the years of 1943, 1944 and 1957.

The refunds are made under what is known as "the capital credit plan." Under this plan, all "margins" (money taken in above the actual cost of operation) are set up as emergency reserve funds. These funds are held to finance reconstruction of the co-op's electric system in the event it is damaged or destroyed by such natural disasters as ice storms, etc.

The reserves are held until margins from later years are sufficient to meet such possible emergencies. The older margins are then returned to the members of the cooperative. This creates a revolving system which provides the cooperative with its necessary reserves and then systematically returns the money to its owners.

The combined refunds for the past six years total $403,149.40.

Suspended For Remarks

NEW YORK (AP)—Elijah Muhammad, leader of the Black Muslim movement, has suspended his heir apparent, Minister Malcolm Shabazz, for statements he made about the assassination of President Kennedy.

Malcolm X told a Black Muslim rally Sunday the assassination was an instance of "the chickens coming home to roost."

"Being an old farm boy myself," Malcolm said, "chickens coming home to roost never did make me sad, they've always made me glad."

Muhammad said Malcolm X did not speak for him or the "Nation of Islam."

"We, with the world, are very shocked at the assassination of our President," Muhammad said.

Record Vote Expected

MEXICO CITY (AP)—A record number of Mexicans will vote in next July's presidential election—possibly eighteen million out of Mexico's estimated 35 million population, a government official says.

Luis Echeverria, secretary of the Interior Ministry who has taken over the key post on the resignation of presidential candidate Gustavo Diaz Ordaz, made the prediction.

Diaz Ordaz already has launched his campaign under the sponsorship of the dominant Party of Revolutionary Institutions (PRI) and is almost certain to win the election. The PRI has never lost.

AFS Student Shocked By Assassination

Marta Burly, American Field Service Exchange Student from Brazil who attended Snyder High School during the 1962-63 term, has written friends here of her shock over the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

She expressed a desire to express deepest sympathy in the name of the Brazilian people.

Text of her letter follows:

Dear Friends from Snyder: Yesterday the World lost one of the greatest men of this century. I was profoundly shocked when I had the notice that Mr. John Kennedy was dead.

Probably you don't know, but Mr. Kennedy was the man who I always had in mind when I wanted to talk about a perfect man, because he had everything a man must have.

Now that he is dead, I just can't believe it, and I remember so well our meeting at the White House, at about four months ago, and his words are fixed in my mind as if I had listened to him yesterday. He was so simple and friendly, as one of us, boys and girls, who went to the White House that morning to see him and listen to his words.

I am crying now as I never did before, and I feel that the only thing I can do now is to pray and, doing this, I'm doing something for a great man, who did so much, not just to the American Nation, but also to the whole Free World.

I want to present, in the name of the Brazilian people, and in name of my country, our deepest sympathy.
