C-City Nips Panthers, 50-49, On Black's Last-Minute Score game. Wolves' Don Black calmly dropped in two free throws to give Colorado High basketball team a 50-49 win over the Abilene Christian High School quintet Tuesday night.

The victory climaxed a nip-and-tuck battle that kept the meager crowd in an uproar at the Junior High Gym.

The ACHS Panthers heavily favored after their second place finish last weekend in the Reagan County Tourney, trailed the Wolves the entire first half but came back strong the third quarter to jump to the front.

The last quarter was indeed a thriller.

Barton Smith, high scorer for the Wolves with 14 points, dropped in a one-hand push shot just as the buzzer sounded ending the third quarter to give the Wolves a 40-38 lead.

Jimmy Richardson, who has been improving every game after an early season ankle injury, popped in a field goal to start fourth quarter action and send the Wolves ahead 42-38.

But Roland Pollard, the Panthers' smooth-as-silk left-handed scorer, scooted through the Wolves for a field goal and followed up several seconds later with two charity tosses to tie the game at 42-42.

The Panthers' center, John Decker, and Black exchanged goals to make it 44-44.

Ken Bloeser, the Panthers' tubby guard, skittered down the line for a lay-up to give his team a 46-44 lead.

With two minutes left on the clock, Pollard fouled Smith and the lanky junior-forward gave the Wolves a 46-46 tie with his two free tosses.

But the pesky, Pollard came through again with two free throws to take the lead 48-46.

With tension high on both sides, Marion Flippin, Wolves' 6-5 center, was fouled with 45 seconds left.

He fired in both tries to tie the game again—48-48.

Eleven seconds later, Black was awarded a free throw. He con- nected on the first—and then on the second as the Wolves took a 50-48 advantage.

For the next 32 seconds the Wolves fought savagely to keep the Panthers from scoring with several shots rimming off the basket.

But with two seconds left on the clock, Pollard was fouled in action under his basket.

The crowd moaned as he took his position at the free-throw line.

His two free throws could send the game into overtime.

But he connected with only one shot and the game belonged to the Wolves.

Wolves appeared to have more fire and desire than in previous contests.

Black played an outstanding defensive game in the Wolves' zone defense, hampering the Panther guards all night long.

Wolves played three quarters without their top scorer, Richard Compton.

Compton committed three personal fouls in the first four minutes and went to the showers with his fifth foul two minutes deep in the second quarter.

Sophomore Joe Merritt took over for Compton and played a fine game.

It was Smith who kept the Wolves in the game the first quarter, hitting six points from his forward slot.

Wolves led 15-10 at the end of the first quarter.

Wolves maintained around a six-point advantage throughout the entire second quarter with Richardson scoring six of the Wolves' 12 points in the stanza.

Wolves led 27-20 at half time.

Pollard was the Panther that pulled his team closer as the third quarter got underway.

He fired in one of his unusual one-hand push shots and was fouled at the same time.

He scored both free tosses to cut the Wolves' lead to two points—29-27.

Gary Vegett stole the ball as the Panthers put on a full-court press to tie the count at 29-29.

Decker whizzed in a crisp shot to send the Panthers ahead 31-29.

ACHS kept the lead until two minutes was left in the quarter.

Merritt dropped in a two-point shot and Flippin hit a long one-hander to tie the score at 33-33.

Then Smith hit his goal as the buzzer sounded for a 40-38 lead and the Wolves were on their way to victory.

The Consequences

Sin is to be found in every community but how many ever think of the consequences of sin? Man can receive forgiveness for his sins, but the consequences of his sins may live for many years.

Tech to Play Phillips 66 In Lubbock

Plenty of good tickets to the Phillips 66-Texas Tech game in the Lubbock Municipal Coliseum Jan. 19 are available according to Jimmie Wilcox, business manager of athletics.

Since the double header, which also matches the Wayland College Flying Queens and Nashville Business College, is not included on the season ticket, these seats are being sold to the general public.

Texas Tech's great Jim Reed of Brownfield and Pine Bluff, Ark., is in the star-studded Phillips lineup that also includes four players who helped win the Olympics championship for the United States in Australia.

Other Oilers are Chuck Darling of Iowa, Burdy Halderson of Colorado, Bill Hougland of Kansas, Jim Walsh of Stanford, Olympic members; Jim Buchanan of Nebraska, Joe Dean of Louisiana State, Jerry Harper of Alabama, George Linn of Oklahoma, Bob Mattick of Oklahoma, Dick Miller of Wisconsin, Jim Rathjens of Colorado, and Ray Steiner of St. Louis.

The Wayland Flying Queens, in meeting Nashville Business College, will be playing the team they defeated for the national AAU championship last year.

Besides playing Phillips, the Red Raiders meet Arizona State here Saturday night, Jan. 12 and Baylor University here Jan. 30.

The Tech freshmen meet Frank Phillips College Jan. 12.

Wolves Lose Two Games At Big Lake

Colorado High basketball team lost two close contests in the Reagan County tournament last weekend at Big Lake.

Rankin High took the measure of the Wolves in the first game 47-45.

In the consolation semi-finals, Uvalde edged past the Wolves 40-35.

In the Rankin game, Rankin Red Devils jumped ahead at halftime by 27-17, but the Wolves came back strong in the third quarter to score 12 points to Rankin's nine, making the score 36-29.

Wolves also outscored the Devils in the final stanza, 16-11, but could never overcome that early lead built up by Rankin.

Richard Compton and Barton Smith paced the Wolves with 12 points each.

Uvalde jumped out ahead of the Wolves as Rankin had done earlier.

The South Texas school led 14-5 at first quarter mark and 22-3 at halftime as the Wolves scored only three points in the second quarter.

Wolves came alive in the third period to score 15 points to Uvalde's eight, but it was too late then.

Reagan County High won the tournament, defeating Abilene Christian High in the finals.

LONE STAR FARMER

Egg Buckets Are On the Way Out

By JOHN C. WHITE, Agriculture-Columnist
The egg bucket is on its way out. The once common sight of the farm boy using "egg wampus" as a means of bartering for groceries and occasionally "show money" is on the wane.

The agricultural revolution of the last 20 years has taken its toll of this and other farm traditions as farming has become less diversified and more specialized. The common reason is that it simply is not worth the time, labor and feed involved in keeping a few hens on the side and bringing the fruits of their labor to town on Saturday.

Yet a great many Texas farmers may be missing a bet for supplemental income by overlooking the possibility of using egg production as a specialized sideline.

While the old "hen house" with a few old tottering birds is an unlikely profit maker, modern facilities and improved handling operations can be made to turn in a nice profit. There is always a market for top-quality eggs, and Texas consumes several times more eggs than it produces.

Best way to get into a profitable egg business is to install an assembly line operation, providing for cooling, proper cleaning and regular marketing. Eggs from such a caged layer plant are not only in constant demand, but usually bring a nice premium in the market place.

For a great many of those Texas farmers who have gone out of the broiler business due to low prices, their empty houses might well be put to profitable use in egg production.

As added incentive for premium egg quality, on-farm grading and candling are certain to up the profit margin. Accurate grading facilities can be obtained at little cost, and free instruction on grading and candling processes will be given on request for the Texas Department of Agriculture or U. S. D. A. extension workers.

Egg producers who provide for adequate grading and standards now will also be getting in on the ground floor of the proposed Texas law which will make grading mandatory.

Texas is the only state which does not already have such a law, and its inauguration is certain to boost Texas' possibilities as a major egg producer.

BIBLE COMMENT

Humility, Service Highest in Values

Jesus was the guest in the home of a prominent Pharisee on the Sabbath.

Present were others who were spying on Him. And among the company was a man who had the dropsy.

Jesus realized that these narrow-minded people, knowing His reputation for healing, were wondering whether or not He would heal the sick man.

So Jesus took the initiative and asked them, "Is it lawful to heal on the Sabbath Day or not?" They ignored His question, but Jesus went ahead and healed the man anyway.

Jesus, realizing the thoughts of the company at the time, asked them a further question, "Which of you shall have an ass or an ox fall into a well, and will not straightway draw him up?" Again, they did not answer. But silence evidently did not indicate consent or approval of the fine act of healing Jesus had done.

What is the highest thing in personality? Jesus here suggests that a very high thing—if not the highest—is humility. The more a man feels the height of great standards, the more the glow of the moral law appears to him, the less he will be disposed to overvalue himself. The finer a man's spirit, the keener his perceptions, the more inevitable is it that his attitude is one of humility toward God and toward his fellowmen.

So, along with this lesson of humility, Jesus taught the lesson of kindness and service to others.

Blessedness in life, according to Jesus, comes not from what we do for those who can recompense us, but in what we do for those who are in need. It is the things we do without hope of reward that constitute our real expression of what we are and what we value most.

Legislative Session, Inaugural Ceremony Puts Austin in Every-Other-Winter Whirl

By VERN SANFORD, Texas Press Association
Austin is in its every-other-January whirl.

Inaugural festivities on the 15th will climax two weeks of fanfare traditional to the premiere of a new state administration.

Stepped-up tempo in the capitol began New Year's Day when scores of new officials took the oath of office. It redoubled this week as gavel banged in another Legislature.

Next week thousands more will arrive to "dance in the new governor's" 1957 inaugural celebrations are unusually elaborate. Forty thousand were printed.

Other arrangements are similarly lavish. An hour-long parade will precede the high noon swearing-in ceremony in front of the Capitol. In the afternoon there'll be a band concert, then a reception at the Capitol.

That evening Gov. and Mrs. Price Daniel and Lt. Gov. and Mrs. Ben Ramsey will lead the grand march of state officials and their wives at the chief inaugural ball at Gregory Gymnasium. From there the official party will make a round of the four other balls over town.

Citizens of Austin pick up the check for this biannual spree. Estimated cost this year: $15,000.

New Land Board
Land Commr. Earl Rudder begins his first elective term with a re-organized board.

Sworn in with Rudder were William Gossett, El Campo banker, and L. E. Page of Carthage, former state commander of the American Legion.

A new constitutional amendment dropped the governor and attorney general as ex-officio board members. Instead, the governor is required to appoint two "citizens at large," one versed in finance, the other in veterans affairs.

Board members immediately went to work on the new $100,000,000 bond issue for veterans land buying as authorized in the same amendment.

Support Promised
New Attorney General Will Wilson promised to "consistently support state sovereignty" in cases where federal-state authority is at issue.

State Capitol NEWS

Wilson said his office would seek to protect school officials and students from violence and intimidation stemming from de-segregation efforts.

He also promised to push completion of the Duval County and veterans and cases begun by his predecessor, John Ben Shepperd.

Court Change

Will Wilson's resignation, as Supreme Court justice last summer touched off a chain reaction. Results: James R. Norvell, of San Antonio is the new Supreme Court justice. He was elected, H. D. Barrow, of Jourdanton was appointed by Gov. Shivers to succeed Norvell as associate justice of the Fourth Court of Civil Appeals at San Antonio.

John F. May of Karnes City was appointed by Shivers to succeed Barrow as judge of the 81st district court.

Richard L. Dobie Jr. of Cotulla was appointed to succeed May as 81st district attorney. Gov. Shivers also named L. D. Ratliff of Spur as judge of the 110th District Court. And more than a score of others were appointed to state agencies, commissions and college boards.

Another appointee, John Osorio of Austin, was elected chairman of the Board of Insurance Commissioners immediately after taking office as a member.

Also in the swearing-in news, through a novel coincidence, were two old hands. Supreme Court Justice Robert Galvett administered the oath to State Comptroller Robert Galvett, No kin.

Shepperd Bows Out

He will be general counsel for extensive West Texas and New Mexico oil and banking interests. And definitely no more politics, said Shepperd, who didn't run for re-election. He said he returned more than $12,000 sent him in one day only, for a U. S. Senate campaign.

Change Sought
A separate department to oversee sale of securities has been recommended to Gov. Allan Shivers.

revenue was figured at nearly $2,000,000 annually. Senator Parkhouse said he would also seek diversion of about $5,000,000 a year from farm-to-market road funds.

Short Shorts

President Eisenhower, slated to visit West Texas on his "drought tour" next week likely will find plenty of dust. U. S. Dept. of Agriculture reports improved pasture due to rains in the eastern two-thirds of the state, but downhill conditions in the west. Texas Railroad Commission set the state's January oil allowable at 3,421,058 barrels a day, same as for December. Statewide production remains at 46 days. Texas hunting fatalities dropped from 37 in 1955 to 18 in 1956, reports the Game and Fish Commission. Of the 1956 deaths, six were self-inflicted, 11 involved teenagers.

FIVE NEW FORD glamour wagons long, low and loaded with Go!

Leave it to the station wagon leader to make the big news for '57! And what news! Wagons so big, so full of fine car prestige that you'll wonder how it can be done at low Ford prices.

If your choice is the Country Squire, you'll be proud to pull up at the finest places in this new glamour wagon with its wood-like trim.

If you need call for a 6-passenger wagon with four doors, you'll love the new Country Sedan. It has almost nine feet of loadspace—nearly a foot more than ever before.

There's still another 4-door Country Sedan. It has the extra third seat for 9 passengers. And, as in all Ford wagons for '57, you have the new single-control handle which opens both the wrap-around liftgate and tailgate with one motion. And they can't be opened from inside!

There's good news, too, about Ford's popular Ranch Wagon. This 6-passenger, 2-door model features Ford's new subdued tones, and smart interiors which defy muddy little shoes and drippy chocolate cones.

New '57 Fords have toughest shakedown cruise in history! The '57 Ford broke 158 national and international records from 1 kilometer to 50,000 miles at Bonneville, Utah. For 50,000 miles, two '57 Fords averaged over 107 and 108 mph respectively. The time included all pit stops... the greatest endurance test of all time!

Agent Reports Shipping Rule Now in Effect

Interstate movement of all cattle — except steers, stayed heifers and calves under eight months old — is now under federal control.

The control measures, instituted Jan. 1, are a curb against spread of brucellosis (Bang's disease).

County Agent Jack Burkhalter said the new rules, as announced by U. S. Department of Agriculture, are aimed primarily at strengthening and unifying control of interstate movement of cattle relative to brucellosis under the eradication program.

The regulations include: Slaughtered cattle not known to have brucellosis can be shipped interstate to slaughter plants or to a public stockyard or one approved by the USDA. They must be accompanied by a waybill on similar document signed by the owner or shipper.

Cattle from brucellosis-free herds and areas require only an official certificate. Officially vaccinated animals under 60 months can be shipped with an official certificate except those being shipped into a modified-certified brucellosis free area. They must have, in addition, a permit from the livestock sanitary official of the state of destination.

Any vehicle, which includes trucks, used to transport reactors must be cleaned under the supervision of a federal or state inspector immediately after the animals have been unloaded.

As in the past, ear tagged and branded reactors can move to slaughter plants under Federal inspection or federally approved slaughter plants if they have an official certificate for slaughter.

Beef bulls and females shipped for feeding or grazing can move under official certificate and permit from the State of destination if that state legally requires segregating and quarantining such cattle.

Interested persons are advised by Burkhalter to secure further details by a copy of the regulations from state or federal live-

Higher Unit Yield Is More Essential

High acre yields are more important than ever, especially for Mitchell County's irrigated acres. Grain and forage supplies on most Texas farms and ranches are at a very low level because of the prolonged drought.

Top yields are needed from next year's crops and pastures not only to replenish these supplies but also to help whip the cost-price squeeze, says County Agent Jack Burkhalter.

To get the best possible production from crops and pastures, Burkhalter points out that a lot of cooperation will be needed from "mother nature" in the form of favorable weather conditions which includes a lot of rain.

But, he also says, producers can aid the cause by supplying fertilizer to make the land produce as it should. And that goes double, so to speak, for irrigated production.

Soil-testing is the one sure way to find the answer to the question, how much and what kind of fertilizer is needed to get top production. Burkhalter suggests that soil samples be taken and submitted now to the Soils Testing Laboratory.

He can promise much faster service now and the soil analysis and recommendations which he will send back to the farmer will enable him to make his fertilizer purchases early.

When the spring rush hits, returns will be slower and little time may be left for getting the recommendations into use.

Pastures, in fact, as good as they should, will also need plant food. Soil samples taken from run-down pastures, when analyzed, will show how much fertilizer will be required to get the grazing areas back into top production.

Burkhalter says the county agent's office says local county agents can supply detailed information on how soil samples should be taken and mailed.
