NEW AIRBORNE BRIGADE, 500 MORE MEN, 67 FEWER COMPANY UNITS

Streamlining Announced For Texas National Guard

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas' National Guard will begin reorganizing Dec. 15 into a streamlined structure with 67 fewer company-sized units, about 500 more men and brand-new airborne infantry brigade, state Adjutant General Thomas S. Bishop announced today.

Bishop, a major general, said Congress has approved the reorganization and provided necessary funds for it.

The typical guardsman will find his routine little changed, except for the designation of his unit, Bishop said. Officers and enlisted men who become surplus because of unit changes will be retained for up to three years, he said.

Texas will no longer have any division-sized units, but will have three brigades—units commanded by brigadier generals. These will be the 72nd Mechanized Infantry Brigade in North Texas, with headquarters in Dallas; the 71st Airborne Infantry Brigade, extending from the Louisiana line into Central Texas, with headquarters in Houston, and the present 36th Infantry Brigade of South Texas, headquartered in San Antonio.

There also will be emergency operations headquarters in Fort Worth and Odessa, with a separate artillery battalion with headquarters in El Paso, an engineer battalion in the Abilene area, a tank battalion in the Brownwood-San Angelo area and a separate armored group in Fort Worth.

State National Guard headquarters will remain in Austin, which will have a number of "state base units" such as medical, signal, transportation, military police and aviation companies and detachments in the Austin area.

Bishop said the number of company-size units will be reduced from 189 to 122 but the new units will have authorized strengths of 93 per cent of full wartime manpower, compared with about half in many present units.

He said the guard will have a total authorized strength of 17,375 or about 500 more than the present program.

He said there are 17,040 in the guard now, but many of these are in some stage of processing or transfer.

Bishop said the reorganization concentrates more manpower in large urban areas, improving the guard's riot control potential and its ability to recruit Negroes.

"In my judgment, the realignment will result in better operational capability to cope with any type of domestic disturbance," he said at a news conference.

Six communities will lose units, consolidating them with those in other nearby cities.

These are Canyon and Dumas which will consolidate with Amarillo units; Clarksville whose guardsmen now will train in Paris; New Boston, combining with Texarkana; Rusk, which will consolidate with Jacksonville; and Belton, whose guardsmen already train with Temple.

The general said 11 high-priority companies will begin their reorganization Dec. 15 with

SUPREME COURT

Law Barring Commies Ruled Out

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court declared unconstitutional today a section of federal law that bars members of Communist action groups from working in defense plants.

The provision, a section of the Subversive Activities Control Act of 1950, "is an unconstitutional abridgment of the right of association protected by the First Amendment," said Chief Justice Earl Warren.

Continuing in the 6-2 decision, Warren wrote: "The statute quite literally establishes guilt by association alone, without any need to establish that an individual's association poses the threat feared by the government in prescribing it. The inhibiting effect on the exercise of First Amendment rights is clear."

Justices Byron R. White and John M. Harlan dissented. Justice Thurgood Marshall did not participate. Justice William J. Brennan Jr. concurred in the ruling, but on grounds the federal provision was unduly broad.

BOCHUM, Germany (AP) — The Bochum satellite observatory announced that the Soviet Cosmos 194 had made a soft-landing in the Soviet Union today. The launching of the unmanned satellite was announced Dec. 3.

Houston Rate High

WASHINGTON (AP) — Houston was first in Texas and fifth in the nation in the number of homicides recorded during the first nine months of this year, the FBI reported today.

Houston counted 178 murders in the period, compared with 157 for the comparable period last year. Dallas was second with 105 and Fort Worth was third with 62. In fourth and fifth place in the state were San Antonio with 59 and Austin with 16.

Nationwide, New York was first in homicides with 544, followed by Chicago 409, Los Angeles 202, Detroit 197 and Houston, Philadelphia was sixth with 174.

Cong Troops Badly Mauled Trying A Suicidal Assault

SAIGON (AP) — Viet Cong troops were badly mauled in a suicide assault Sunday on a fortified U.S. artillery post 50 miles north of Saigon while other guerrilla units made three sharp attacks on outposts within 25 miles of the capital.

The enemy death toll in major actions over the past week climbed past 1,200, according to U.S. and South Vietnamese calculations.

An estimated 400 Communists charged out of the predawn darkness toward bunkers in the American artillery post but were caught in a heavy crossfire of machine guns, grenade launchers, 40mm cannon and 105mm howitzers leveled for point-blank fire.

GIs found 124 enemy bodies on the battlefield and said many were only teenagers. One American was killed and 31 wounded in the two-hour battle for the 120-man post.

Two of the attacks closer to Saigon were apparently diversions but in the third a wave of guerrillas broke the perimeter at a U.S. 9th Infantry Division camp at Nhut Tan before being thrown out in hand-to-hand fighting.

The U.S. Command reported that seven Americans were killed and 46 were wounded in the three skirmishes around Saigon, with almost all the casualties at Nhut Tan.

Renewed skirmishing also was reported along the central coastal plains, where 30 Viet Cong died in one action. But guerrilla fire brought down a U.S. Air Force Phantom jet, and the two crewmen parachuted into the middle of a firefight between the American ground troops and the Viet Cong. A helicopter pulled the airmen to safety.

Washkansky Reported Making Good Progress

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP) — Louis Washkansky, the history-making heart transplant patient, underwent cobalt treatment today for the third time since the operation Dec. 2 and was described as making satisfactory progress.

Cobalt treatments and drugs are being used on Washkansky to counter the natural tendency of the body to reject foreign tissues, such as the new heart. A spokesman at Grootte Schuur Hospital said there are no signs that his body is trying to reject the heart, and no infection has occurred.

COMFORTABLE
"Mr. Washkansky had a comfortable night," said a bulletin issued by the hospital today. "He enjoyed a meal of steak and eggs Sunday night and porridge, two soft boiled eggs, toast and coffee for breakfast." It added that his doctors saw him this morning and were satisfied with his progress.

Since they are dealing with the unknown, the doctors said there may be complications they had not foreseen. But one said privately: "We think we've got our problems licked."

"I am very confident he will pull through," said Dr. Christian N. Barnard, leader of the team which replaced the 53-year-old wholesale grocer's failing heart on Dec. 3 with the healthy heart of a 25-year-old woman killed in an auto crash.

Congregation Thwarts Pair Of Church Robbers Sunday

GARLAND, Tex. (AP) — An alert worshiper and a husky minister thwarted a holdup of the New Liberty Missionary Baptist Church during the evening service Sunday.

One member of the congregation, James Morris, 28, was seized with a coughing spell and as he stepped out of the rear door, he was confronted by a man and woman, both wearing woolen ski masks. The man shoved a pistol against Morris' head, cursed him and marched him down an aisle to the front of the church.

SERMON

"The cause of Christ is in the church. Surely the love of God abides there," the minister, the Rev. Ken Ashlock, was saying. "The love of the Lord is nowhere! Don't say another word, Preacher," the gunman said loudly.

The congregation of about 100 sat stunned, watching the outlaws and Morris step up on the platform to the pulpit. The woman whispered to the minister "We want all the take."

"The money's not here. It's in the office," replied the minister, stepping out of the pulpit to point the way.

Then the woman marched the pastor up one aisle. The gunman, still holding the cocked pistol to Morris' head, paraded up the other aisle with his hostage. As they passed the last pew, the gunman lowered the pistol for a moment.

Worshiper Hugh English leaped out of his seat in the back pew, grabbed the outlaw's gun arm and hurried him backward. The minister sprinted across the church from the other aisle and tackled the brawny bandit.

A shot rang out and a bullet glanced off the floor and crashed into the back of a pew.

As other members of the congregation swarmed over the gunman, English jammed his right hand between the hammer and cylinder of the pistol. The bandit snapped the pistol repeatedly but it failed to fire.

Across the church, meanwhile, treasurer Clell Driskell grabbed the woman bandit and pinned her arms behind her.

When police arrived, the congregation had both bandits well in hand.

WENT HOME

The robbery attempt, arrival of the police and their investigation stopped the service and most in the congregation went home. Enough remained, however, for a benediction by the Rev. Mr. Ashlock. His benediction included a prayer for the reformation of the would-be robbers.

Florida Twisters Pile Up Wreckage

PANAMA CITY, Fla. (AP) — A new tornado watch was issued today for the Florida Panhandle, ravaged Sunday morning by roaring twisters which leveled hundreds of homes, killed two and caused more than $7 million in damages.

Ten Florida Panhandle cities were hit Sunday morning and residents spent a restless night as tornado watches were posted and then lifted at 7 a.m. today. The second watch was put in effect at 9 a.m. The Weather Bureau said the threat of twisters would last until 3 p.m., EST.

220 HOMES

At Fort Walton Beach, a community 60 miles west of here, 220 homes suffered extensive damage.

More than 200 persons were injured in Florida, several critically, and a watchman at a wrecked shopping center in Fort Walton Beach was reported missing.

Most of the injured lived in a housing area at Tyndall Air Force Base and at Fort Walton Beach. Officials estimated damages at more than $7 million. Gov. Claude Kirk asked federal help for what he termed a disaster area.

Helmeted National Guardsmen toting rifles patrolled the cities and highways to prevent looting, turned back sightseers and helped in the massive cleanup.

Kirk toured the Bayou Wood section of Fort Walton Beach Sunday hours after a twister spun off from a violent thunderstorm had smashed 50 homes at 3 a.m.

As the storm bounced over a lake and tore a five-mile long swath it left 220 homes wrecked.

AIR FORCE

Five hours later another funnel ripped into a row of duplex homes at the housing area for Air Force families, flattening 30 of them and damaging 24 others, leaving one dead, nine seriously hurt and about 400 persons homeless. That tornado touched down five more times before fizzling out.

Damage was estimated in the Fort Walton Beach area at more than $5 million by Okaloosa County Sheriff Ray Wilson and at $1.5 million to housing at Tyndall by public information officer Hank Harsham. Water, gas, electricity and telephone service was cut off in the northwest section of Fort Walton Beach.

Tornadoes also hit at small towns between Panama City and Pensacola 150 miles west.

One twister smashed into the Alabama coastline, damaging homes at Miflin and raking a backyard in Bon Secour, Ala., where the uninsured loss was estimated at $20,000.

Battered Body Of Baylor Coed Found

WACO, Tex. (AP) — The battered, nude body of a 19-year-old Baylor University co-ed, Jill Brown of Crawford, was found Sunday near a marina on Lake Waco.

MASSIVE SEARCH
The discovery of her body, concealed by cedar brush on the north shore of the lake, ended a massive search for the girl by hundreds of volunteers. The girl had been missing since Friday night.

Officers said the young woman had been slashed repeatedly and her throat had been cut. Only a watch was on the body when it was found.

Justice of the Peace Joe Johnson said that both a blunt instrument and a sharp instrument had been used in killing the girl. He said she had not been raped.

Waco Police Capt. T. L. Bennett said Lubbock police had been contacted about a possible connection between the slaying of the Baylor co-ed and a recent campus murder at Texas Tech. She was last seen when she had lunch with her father in Waco Friday noon. The search was started after the girl, who planned a shopping tour during the afternoon, failed to return to her home in Crawford Friday night.

Her car was found Friday night in a Waco shopping center. Officers said they found a pool of blood in the car and all the clothing that Miss Brown was wearing was in the car. Her purse was missing. In the car were blood-stained packages containing Christmas presents she had bought for her parents.

Approximately 275 persons took part in the Sunday search. They included 100 National Guardsmen, firemen, riding clubs and two Baptist Church groups. Two Ft. Hood helicopters joined in an aerial search of area lakes and reservoirs.

Miss Brown lived with her parents on a farm about two miles from Crawford, a little town of some 500 population near Waco.

At Least 65 Die In Indian Quake

BOMBAY (AP) — A severe earthquake shook a large stretch of western India before dawn today, and the Maharashtra state government said 65 persons were killed in the Koyana area 200 miles south of Bombay.

Bombay newspapers received a report from the area that more than 100 persons were killed, most of them when their homes collapsed on them as they slept.

The government said 1,000 persons were injured and 5,000 were homeless.

The report from the state government, said most of the casualties occurred near Koyanagar, a town of 10,000 built for workers at the giant Koyana hydroelectric dam and plant.

The government said the Koyana dam was not damaged but another hydroelectric plant at Khopoli, between Bombay and Poona, was put out of commission.

This knocked out electric service to several thousand square miles, including Bombay and its population of 4.5 million. In the metropolis hundreds of thousands poured into the streets and spent the rest of the night in the open.

An area from Sura, 150 miles north of Bombay, to Goa, 300 miles to the south, and to Poona, 120 miles to the east, was rocked by three tremors.

Scientists To Eye Gasbuggy Blast

FARMINGTON, N.M. (AP)—Scientists seek today to determine whether the first industrial nuclear explosion will render new wealth from the bowels of the earth.

A thermonuclear device was exploded 4,240 feet below the earth's crust Sunday. Preliminary indications were that the explosion, called Project Gasbuggy, had done its job by creating a huge subterranean chamber from which natural gas can be recovered, spokesmen said.

NO ESCAPE

Dr. Robert H. Thalgott, Gasbuggy deputy project manager for the Atomic Energy Commission, told newsmen at a briefing after the blast that no radioactive gas had escaped from the ground and none was expected to.

Dr. Harry Reynolds, a scientific advisor for Gasbuggy, said there was reason to believe that an underground chamber 100 feet in diameter and as tall as 35-story building had been created 3,500 feet below ground zero.

The AEC said drilling into the chamber begins today, although no substantial evidence on whether the nuclear stimulation concept really worked is expected for several weeks or months.

Scientists estimate the nation's natural gas reserves will be doubled if nuclear blasts are found to be a feasible way to free gas from underground rock formations.

WINDOWS RATTLE

The nuclear device, which had an explosive punch estimated as equivalent to 20,000 to 30,000 tons of TNT, was detonated in the Picture Cliffs formation of the gas-bearing San Juan Basin.

Windows rattled in Farmington, 55 miles to the west. Newsmen and others, at an observation site five miles from the detonation point, felt the sharp shock wave which thundered under the northwest New Mexico hills.

Telephone service at the site was interrupted when equipment was shaken out of place. AEC spokesman said the ground at the observation site heaved one-third of an inch, while the shock was described as far more severe at Gasbuggy control complex 2 1/2 miles from the detonation point.

"We were rising in the air," one scientist at the complex reported.

Joint sponsors, who have been working four years on the $4.7 million Gasbuggy Project include the AEC, El Paso Natural Gas Co. and the U.S. Bureau of Mines.

Her husband of seven months, James Hutchins, a Port Arthur policeman, told state troopers his car had broken down and that he and his wife had walked to a farm home to call a wrecker.

As they returned to the car, Hutchins said he saw the truck swerve toward them and grabbed for his wife in an unsuccessful attempt to save her.

Several hours later, officers arrested London Wesley, 46, of Houma, La. He was charged with hit-and-run and negligent homicide.

Far West Tex Snow Melts; Mercury Dips

By The Associated Press

A slush of cold rain and snow chilled a huge chunk of North Texas early today before skies began to clear and a slight warming trend set in.

The snow melted as it fell. Temperatures dipped to the 20s in far West Texas during the night. A new and burly cold front sent readings into the 30s in south Texas under clear skies.

College Station had 22 inches of rain in the six hours ending at midnight.

MORE FROST

Some ice formed on bridges in the Wichita Falls area and in the Red River Country during the night and early morning hours, but no major traffic hazards developed.

A ridge of high pressure was stalking slowly to the east across Texas, clearing skies as it moved. The Weather Bureau said temperatures would slide to the mid 20s in the Panhandle tonight, with freezing readings in prospect for all but South-east Texas and the Lower Rio Grande Valley section of South Central Texas.

More frost was in prospect for most of South Texas during the night.

Sunday's rains were general over most of the eastern half of Texas, but amounts were generally lighter than those of Saturday when multi-inch deluges slammed into the Big Thicket area of Southeast Texas.

No snow was left on the ground.

Some snowflakes during light showers were reported as far to the east as Paris during the early morning and an extensive rain and snow system was centered south of Wichita Falls before dissipating.

Small craft warnings were hoisted along the coast during the night, but winds died down during the early morning.

The cold front that caused the new unsettled weather moved out into the Gulf of Mexico early Sunday.

The Weather Bureau said a warming trend in the state still would result in temperatures with below seasonal norms. A five-day forecast for the period through Saturday called for readings averaging as much as 14 degrees below normal in South Texas. Scattered rain and snow were predicted for mid-week in North Texas with moderate to heavy showers anticipated for southern regions.

Justice Agency Puts Heat On Draft Law Violators

WASHINGTON (AP)—In putting the heat on draft law violators the Justice Department may also be re-establishing the line between criminal prosecution and administrative enforcement—a line which critics of draft chief Lewis B. Hershey say he tried to erase.

Hershey and Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark announced jointly Saturday the Justice Department has directed all U.S. attorneys to speed up draft law prosecutions and has set up a special coordinating unit to help them.

In an Oct. 26 letter to local draft boards, Lt. Gen. Hershey recommended—he is not legally authorized to order—that the boards lift the deferment of anyone interfering with the draft or military recruiting and put such persons at the top of the induction list. The rule was felt to be aimed principally at college students.

Hershey said at a Nov. 8 news conference: "If the Department of Justice wants to prosecute him we'll certainly yield jurisdiction."

That is what the Justice Department says it now intends to do, as quickly as possible.

Daniel O. Omer, deputy director and general counsel of the Selective Service System, said in a Sunday telephone interview that once the Justice Department takes an alleged violation to court, the case would be out of the hands of the draft board.

"Once a violator is convicted," Omer said, "he's classified 4-F—unqualified for military service—until he's finished his prison sentence, then his classification is reopened and he is put in any class he's eligible for."

"I don't see how you could possibly run a guy both ways," Omer said. "Either you try him or you put him through the delinquency process."

"Either one of the channels are open to the government," said Hershey in a separate interview.

The two channels, however, stem from different parts of the draft law and Saturday's joint statement spelled out each of them separately.

FALSE INFO
"It has long been the law," the statement said, "that a registrant who violates any duty affecting his own status (for example, giving false information, failing to appear for examination or failing to have a draft card) may be declared a 'delinquent' registrant by his local draft board."

Such a delinquency statement means priority induction into the military for the violator. That sanction is authorized by Selective Service regulations issued by the President to carry out provisions of the Military Selective Service Act of 1967.

JUDGE AND JURY
That basic law deals directly with certain other offenses including altering or destroying draft cards, interfering with the draft system, and influencing others not to serve. It provides for up to five years' imprisonment and a $10,000 fine on con-violate the draft law in any way.

Critics charged Hershey was trying to use the draft to punish demonstrators and was overstepping his authority.

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., said Hershey's recommendation would let draft boards "sit as both judge and jury." Supreme Court Justice Abe Fortas said, "Hershey is a law unto himself."

Wealthy Hoosier Supports Reagan

WASHINGTON (AP)—A "Reagan for President" headquarters is being set up here by an Indiana millionaire who says he's never seen Reagan except on television.

Walter J. Dilbeck Jr., who as an Army private was cited for turning back a German charge singlehandedly, aims at turning the course of American politics with a national campaign to gather petitions supporting California Gov. Ronald Reagan for the Republican presidential nomination.

BACKED ADLAI
"I think if he gets enough backing he'll come out. I think that's what he's waiting for," said Dilbeck. "I find the interest underneath everywhere is for Reagan."

The campaign center is a six-room suite in a distant corner of a 50-year-old hotel at the far end of Washington's Embassy Row. Dilbeck, 49, is a former campaign worker for liberal Democrat Adlai Stevenson. He says that until last year he voted a straight Democratic ticket and actively opposed conservative Republican nominee Barry Goldwater, who had Reagan's backing, in the 1964 presidential election.

He distributes to visitors a copy of a Dun & Bradstreet report that lists his assets at $3 million and his net worth at $1.6 million.

IT'S A SHAME

In his lapel he wears a pin for the Distinguished Service Cross. A citation he displays to callers says that on April 6, 1945, Dilbeck stood in the open atop a hill in Germany and, by himself, stopped an infantry charge, shooting 60 enemy soldiers.

Vietnam and American morality worry him now.

City Sales Tax Due Rio Test

By The Associated Press

Twenty-one Texas cities, including most of the larger ones in the Lower Rio Grande Valley, vote Tuesday on the optional one per cent municipal sales tax.

Scheduling special elections are Breckenridge, Donna, Edinburg, Harlingen, Karnes City, Kenedy, Kerens, La Feria, Lamesa, McAllen, Mercedes, Mission, Port Isabel, Raymondville, Roma, San Benito, Santa Rosa, Mansfield, Seminole, Springtown, Weslaco.

III OKAYS

Ten of the 12 cities that votes Saturday on the issue approved the new tax. They were San Angelo, Denton, Duncanville, Balch Springs, Farmers Branch, Merkel, Alvin, Van Alstyne, Gilmer and Beeville. Del Rio and Rockwall rejected the levy by narrow margins.

So far, a total of 111 Texas municipalities have put their stamp of approval on the levy. A total of 17 have rejected it.

MONTHLY CHECKS

The state's four largest cities—Houston, Dallas, San Antonio and Fort Worth have approved the tax.

Cities which have approved the measure must pass ordinances to make the tax collectible. For those now approving the tax the earliest date it can become effective is April 1, 1968. The levy is to be collected on the same items taxable under the state's two per cent tax. Excluded are prescription drugs, housing, groceries, autos, alcohol and tobacco.

The state comptroller will make the collections, remitting monthly checks to the cities.

ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ

Q. 1—North-South vulnerable. As South you hold:
♠K87532 ♥63 ♦KJ974 ♣A

The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
1 ♦ Pass 1 ♠ Pass
2 ♠ Pass ?

What do you bid now?
A—Four spades. Now that spades have been raised your hand has become worth 14 points (counting one for the fifth spade and two for the sixth). No further pressure should be placed on partner.

Q. 2—North-South vulnerable. As South you hold:
♠AK103 ♥5 ♦AJ1094 ♣A86

The bidding has proceeded:
South East North West
1 ♦ Pass 1 NT Pass
2 ♠ Pass ?

What do you bid now?
A—Two spades. This hand is technically a shade short of the requirements for a reverse which normally shows 15 points, but all your points are of "top drawer" quality and you have very good intermediate cards. Furthermore, there is no satisfactory alternative rebid.

Q. 3—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠A32 ♥KQ2 ♦J107 ♣K1032

The bidding has proceeded:
East South West North
1 ♠ Pass Pass 2 ♦ Pass ?

What do you bid now?
A—Two no trump. Any stronger bid would be highly indiscreet. Partner has merely reopened the bidding and his action may have been dictated by a reluctance to permit the opposition to buy the contract at such a bargain price. If he does hold sound values your call will induce him to bid further.

Q. 4—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠J ♣AKQ109 ♦AJ87652

The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
1 ♦ Pass 1 NT Pass
2 ♠ Pass 3 NT Pass ?

What do you bid now?
A—The normal procedure at this point would be to rebid the hearts thus showing five hearts and at least six diamonds. However, we feel that a rebid of four diamonds may produce better results on this particular hand for, if partner is able to raise to five, we can bid a slam with a reasonable assurance of making it. A rebid of four hearts may induce partner to pass with some mediocre hand containing fair diamond support.

Q. 5—East-West vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠K105 ♥63 ♦A5432 ♣J102

The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
1 ♥ Pass 1 ♠ Pass
2 ♠ Pass ?

What do you bid?
A—One no trump. On hands of this type, it is advisable to get into the bidding while it is convenient to show partner that you are in possession of moderate values. This may enable him to continue the fight if the opposition offers further competition.

Q. 6—Neither vulnerable. The opponents have a 40-part score, and as South you hold:
♠K2 ♥A102 ♦AQ432 ♣10865

Your right hand opponent opens with one spade. What do you bid?

A—Double. This department does not normally induce a take-out double of one spade on such meager values, since you are forcing partner to show his suit at the two level. However, considerations of score dictate a strategic bid at this point. While there is a definite risk in doubling, if you pass and West raises to two spades, you will then be faced with the dilemma of either permitting the opponents to get vulnerable very cheaply or of forcing partner to bid at the three level.

Q. 7—North-South vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠J10763 ♥Q10754 ♦6 ♣K8

The bidding has proceeded:
West North East South
3 ♦ 3 NT Pass ?

What do you bid?
A—Pass. Don't be a suremaid. Partner's overcall puts him strictly on his own. Had he been interested in hearing about the majors, he would have doubled.

Q. 8—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:
♥K73 ♦AJ1063 ♣A9865

The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
1 ♦ Pass 1 ♠ Pass
2 ♠ Pass 3 ♠ Pass ?

What do you bid now?
A—Three no trump. While this call is somewhat awkward with a void in partner's suit, no other bid will quite serve the purpose. An 11-trick contract should not be suggested with this minimum opening and a pass, of course, is out of the question since partner's bid is forcing.

Cost Of Christmas Kiss Is Going Up

LONDON (AP) — The price of a Christmas kiss is going up in Britain.

Devaluation of the pound has increased the price of imported French mistletoe six cents a bunch, a London wholesaler said today.

Klans Using Terror Tool

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Ku Klux Klan continues to use terror as a tool to achieve white supremacy and remains "a vehicle of death, destruction and fear," says the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

Summarizing a two-year investigation in a 371-page report, the committee said Klans "operate today as in the past—as conspiracies to deprive certain citizens of rights guaranteed by the Constitution."

"Klans moreover have continued to rely on terrorism as an instrument for achieving so-called white supremacy and other objectives," the committee said.

"Klan involvement in kidnappings, beatings, arson, bombings and outright murder in recent years compels the committee to view a Klan as a vehicle for death, destruction and fear."

The committee said 16,810 Klansmen were members of 14 Klan groups operating in 18 states with the heaviest membership in the United Klans of America headed by Robert Shelton of Tuscaloosa, Ala. The report traces the history of the Klans and lists the 714 individual units, or Klaverns, it found in operation. The total includes 56 women's auxiliaries.

Rhymes Banned

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — The rhymes Argentine postmen composed and circulated to remind their public of the Christmas season have been banned by the government. It held they amounted to begging for gratuities.

Demo Meeting May Lure Don

Sources said here today that Don Yarbrough, frequently mentioned gubernatorial candidate, may attend tonight's meeting of the Howard County Democratic Club at 8 p.m. in the District courtroom of the courthouse, according to John Ferguson, club president.

Pro and con discussion on proposals pending before county and city voters is the main topic to be discussed at the meeting. Ferguson said the club has not taken a stand on either the city sales tax or the airport improvement propositions, but invited proponents and opponents of the issues to attend.

"We are doing this just to help get the people fully acquainted with the issues," he said. Howard County voters will decide Dec. 16 on the creation of an Airport Authority and permitting it to issue bonds for improvements. Voters in the city limits will decide the fate of a permissive one-cent city sales tax.

Absentee Votes Deadline Nears

Only three absentee votes had been cast to noon Monday bringing the total cast in the Howard County Airport Authority election of next Saturday to 34.

Deadline for absentee voting is 5 p.m. Tuesday.

The election boxes will be closed and ready for the precinct judges as soon as the deadline for absentee voting is reached.

Mrs. Pauline Petty, Howard County clerk, said that all precinct judges were invited to pick up their boxes and supplies anytime after Tuesday. Most will probably do so Friday, it was said.

The polls open at 8 a.m. and close at 7 p.m. Saturday.

Boosters Meet

The Big Spring Choir Boosters will meet today in the Theory Room of Big Spring High School, with the Runnels choir providing the entertainment. An executive committee meeting is set for 7 p.m. and the regular meeting begins at 7:30 p.m.

County Jurors Take Holiday

The one case which had held out some promise of being ready for a jury to consider this week terminated by agreement at 9 a.m. Monday.

Judge Ralph Caton, 118th District Court, qualified the jurors who had reported and then excused them from further duty this week.

The judge said he planned no other dockets of any kind in his court until after the holiday.

He said that he must be in Martin County on Jan. 8 for a jury docket and for the empanelling of a grand jury. Until then, other than for matters which will be handled by the judge, no activities are planned in the 118th District Court.

Timely Theft

Police are investigating a theft reported early this morning. Jerry Sanders, Park Hill Terrace Apartments, reported a tachometer and clock had been taken from his car Sunday night.

Two More Bids On Pumps Filed

Two bids on pumps for proposed improvements in the city's water system have been added to the nine opened Friday afternoon in City Hall, according to public works director Ernest Lillard.

"These bids were received by the city's mail clerk before the 2 p.m. deadline but were not delivered to the city manager until later that afternoon," he said.

Dallas Peerless Pump Co. bid $19,421 for the pumps; Goulds U. S. Pump, Lubbock, offered $17,794.

Hood Baby Named

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Hood, Big Spring, are the parents of a 7-lb., 15-oz. daughter born Saturday at the Clinic Hospital in San Angelo. The baby has been named Kimberly Kay.

DESPITE CUBA'S PROCLAMATION

Female Sex Prejudices Exist

HAVANA (AP) — A commission of intellectuals says that despite Cuba's proclamation of equal rights for women "a mass of prejudices" about female sexual behavior still exists.

"It is not justifiable that the prejudices which prevail in our society should condemn as immoral the conduct of a woman who has premarital sex relations," the report declares.

"This does not mean that we approve of licentiousness."

MENTAL BLOCKS

The intellectuals blame "irrational mental blocks" on a "reactionary ideology" and the Roman Catholic church.

The report makes no reference to extramarital affairs or the soaring divorce rate that has accompanied social changes of the Cuban revolution.

Saying "the concept of 'good' and 'bad' women still exists in our society," the report attacks the church for "the dogma of original sin."

AFFECTION

Sexual relations, the report adds, "must be understood as the consequence of a deep, affectionate communication."

It notes that a theme that "alludes to intimate, very deep-rooted customs is a risky one" but said "it is necessary to combat these prejudices" to avoid warping personality or possibly bringing on homosexuality.

The commission also notes that "in boldly breaking down sexual prohibition" it is possible to leave the male-female relationship without "natural affection."

"For this reason we consider it necessary to set youth right with an adequate sex education that will value love feelings," it says.

The commission says the Cuban woman should be the final judge on the number of children she has, thus continuing her right to legal abortion. It asserts that this right should not be confused with birth control, which it denounced as "the neo-malthusian policy of North American imperialism."

City Folks Buy More Firewood

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Dick Cramer of Dallas says modern life is helping and hurting his business—which is selling firewood.

"Sales get better every year," Cramer says. "They're building more and more fireplaces. And folks, well, they let it rip."

Cramer says the first cold snap of the season usually brings some repeat business in January and February because fire place owners go through their first 30 half-cord of wood.

One problem he has, however, is getting someone to cut the wood. Cramer says he believes all the woodcutters have moved to town and taken good jobs.

The report urges, however, that as a part of sex education "the policy on the use of contraceptives be generalized and simply disclosed by competent organizations."

One current problem is a recurring shortage of contraceptives at state pharmacies. Most come from Red China.

The commission made no mention of "the pill," which is not readily available in Cuba.

The government's position on birth control is that a Communist society can provide all the food necessary for its population, thus controls on the population are unnecessary.

Cuba has an annual growth rate in her population of almost eight million people, or 2.6 per cent, a government figure.

IN SHAPING GOP POLICIES

Governors Hope To Play Big Part

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican governors, so far reluctant to put themselves behind any single presidential hopeful, are determined to make themselves a force in shaping the issues on which the GOP candidate will run.

Rhode Island Gov. John H. Chafee fixed that goal today as the party leadership conferred at a session of the Republican coordinating committee.

The governors' three-day conference in Palm Beach, Fla., turned out to be another gathering of the presidentially nonaligned. That left the state executives with national policy-making efforts as their current avenue to influence the 1968 campaign.

Their priority target now is a share of the leadership of the

Postal Peak Plans Mapped

Frank Hardesty, postmaster, and 20 employees of the Big Spring Post Office met at breakfast today to discuss plans for the Christmas rush.

Hardesty said that the postal workers anticipate that the flood of Christmas mail will begin to peak starting this week.

He said that the pressure is already making itself felt, particularly in the parcel post field. The post office has arranged for five extra trucks to handle parcels from now through Dec. 26. The post office has to move parcels as rapidly as they arrive, he said, because of lack of storage space in the post office building.

The post office will not hire extra help this year. Instead, he said, the department has authorized the use of overtime for its regular crew. Hardesty said that the post office staff will work 11½ hours a day from now until the holiday ends. The 11½ hour day is the maximum the department will permit a worker to stay on the job.

Hardesty sounded an urgent plea to all Big Spring patrons who have not done so to get their Christmas mail in the post office at once. The time, he warned, is at hand for quick action if the holiday shipments are to reach their destination on time.

Band Banquet To Lure Crowd

An estimated 270 persons are expected to attend the Hi-Noon Optimist Club band banquet Thursday at 7:30 p.m. at Cosden Country Club, said club president Bob Knight today.

The John Philip Sousa award, and others for 10 best marchers in the high school band and one in each of the junior high bands will be presented at the banquet. Jim Baum will serve as master of ceremonies and the invocation will be given by the Rev. R. Gage Lloyd, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church.

In addition to over 200 band members, special guests include Superintendent Sam Anderson, high school principal John Smith, business manager Don Crockett, band booster president Vernon Knous and the cheerleaders.

Two Girls Nabbed In Stolen Auto

A 1965 model car belonging to Mrs. Bob Grimes, Lamesa Highway in Big Spring, stolen from the parking lot at Malone and Hogan Foundation Hospital, 811 Main, Saturday morning, was recovered in Fort Worth Sunday afternoon and the two juveniles, both age 15, from Big Spring who were allegedly driving the car, were being held by juvenile authorities.

The two girls will be returned to Big Spring and placed in the custody of local juvenile authorities.

Unit Will Close Friday Afternoon

The Howard County Health Unit, 201 Lancaster, will be closed Friday afternoon, Dec. 15. Health units of Midland, Odessa, Andrews and Big Spring will hold their Christmas party in the Midland Health Unit on Friday Afternoon.

Minor Mishaps

Two minor accidents were reported to the police Sunday. Phillip D. Gressette, 2714 Lynn Drive, and Wayne Parker, 1607 E. 17th, were in collision in the 300 block of East Third. Cumcico M. Deanda, 507 N.W. 8th, and Carlos Warren Wagner, Lubbock, were in an accident at Northwest Eighth and Lamesa Drive.

platform committee at the next national convention. The governors' candidate for that role is Pennsylvania Gov. Raymond P. Shafer.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen is in line to be the platform chairman, Chafee, the chairman of the Republican Governors Association, acknowledged there is little the governors can do beyond asking National Chairman Ray C. Bliss to give Shafer a share of the platform job.

DRIVER HOSPITALIZED

Postal Van Flip Snags Christmas Greetings

A big trailer-truck load of Christmas mail will be delayed somewhat as result of a mishap on IS 20 at 5:20 a.m. today.

The truck mishap was one of three one-vehicle incidents investigated by the state highway patrol Saturday, Sunday and Monday.

The driver of the mail truck, Herbert Carel Piel, 35, El Paso, is in the Hall-Bennett Memorial Hospital. He is complaining of back pains.

The patrol said the accident occurred 7 mile west of Coahoma on IS 20. The driver, the patrol said, dozed off. The tractor crashed into a culvert, which stripped its wheels and the big mail-van flipped over on its side. The post office was busy Monday noon straightening out the mail and sending it on its belated way.

Shortly after midnight Sunday, Wilson Sy Lee, 26, Big Spring, rolled his car on Wild Horse Creek hill on the Snyder Highway 11.9 miles west of Snyder. Although the car was damaged extensively, Lee was not injured. Patrol officers said the fact the driver was wearing a seat belt probably saved him from serious injury.

Ronald Babb, 20, Webb AFB, collided with a calf during Saturday night's snowstorm. The patrol said this accident occurred between Lake Thomas and Vincent. The calf was killed and the car was damaged.

Commissioners Open Car Bids

Howard County Commissioners Court Monday opened bids from two car dealers to supply the sheriff's department with two new automobiles and until delayed decision on the bids until Thursday.

Judge Lee Porter, who is out of the state will be back in town on Thursday, the commissioners said.

The two dealers who bid for the two cars were Farris Pontiac, with a bid of $4,532.50 with trade-in vehicles from the department and Bob Brock Ford with a bid of $4,290.50 with trade-in cars.

Palbearers were Clifton Harrison, Harold Harrington Jr., Marion Hays, Ted Fowler, George Turner and C. E. Dodson.

Mr. Thomas, who worked as a pumper for Basin Oil Co., was born April 29, 1905, in Comanche County. He married Miss Laura Mitchell, Feb. 22, 1931, in Roscoe. They lived in Colorado City before moving to Coahoma in 1943. He was a member of the Primitive Baptist Church.

Tolley D. Havins, Services Pending

Tolley Don Havins, 45, a former resident of Big Spring, died Sunday at 6:30 p.m. at his home at 611 Upton in San Angelo after a long illness. Robert Massie Chapel is in charge of arrangements, but time for services was pending.

Mr. Havins was born March 13, 1932, in Phoenix, Ariz., and was married to Marguerita Cross in 1941 in Robert Lee. He was an engineer with National Iranian Oil Co. in Tehran, Iran, for four years, before returning to San Angelo in June of this year. He was a member of

DISCONTENT

They expressed discontent with what they considered congressional dominance of the party policy-making machinery.

New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller contended in Palm Beach that the administrative know-how of the state house should be blended with legislative experience in shaping party policy. And Arizona's Jack Williams complained congressional Republicans tend to become "national-minded" and lose touch with state problems.

While the governors contended themselves with talk of policy, not of candidates, Colorado's John A. Love said they will still be a potent force when the time arrives to select a nominee.

TOO SOON

Love, who has not stated a presidential preference, said timing will be a key factor in exerting gubernatorial influence. He said that's why most of the governors are unwilling now to align themselves with any candidate. "I think to jump too soon is going to be a disadvantage," he said.

Cathey Wins House Seat

Big Spring delegates didn't share in the top state offices but they took an active part in the Youth in Government project of the YMCA in Austin during the weekend.

Steve Watson, Beaumont, was named governor of the 21st annual youth government; Jay Ann Graham, Irving, was elected lieutenant governor; Steve Davis, Lubbock, was named attorney general; Jack Cathey, Big Spring gubernatorial candidate, was named to the House.

In all, 840 young people took part in a record number. Justice Zolite Steadley, House Speaker Ben Barnes, and Secretary of State John Hill all addressed the group.

This year the young people named a supreme court with Jesse English, Beaumont, as chief justice, and went through the motions of a trial as well as engaging in the mechanics of the Senate and House. One of the most impressive presentations was by four young inmates — with an aggregate of 246 years term — from the state prison in Huntsville. They each gave their life story, noting they had made a poor exchange.

Accompanying the 13 young delegates from the Big Spring YMCA were Mrs. Harrold Jones and Curt Mullins, general secretary of the Y.

all remaining units reorganizing on Jan. 15 along with the National Guard in all 50 states.

Bishop said he had received a waiver from the Pentagon of its recent ban on recruiting guardsmen with no prior military experience so that the new airborne brigade may start building its strength. He said the unit with an authorized strength of 4,000 men will take as many qualified men as will accept jump training.

Men in units absorbed into the airborne brigade may stay on without jump training, he said, although he expressed confidence that many will volunteer for such training.

Texas already has scheduled jump training for 763 men Aug. 4-25 at Ft. Bragg, N.C.; Ft. Benning, Ga.; and Ft. Campbell, Mo. — the Army's chief parachute training installations.

Once a guardsman is airborne-qualified, he must jump at least once each 90 days to keep his jump qualification. Bishop said he has asked the Army to reduce this requirement.

"We never have had a brigade-sized airborne unit in the reserve structure before," he said. Asked why Texas was picked, he cited, "Good record, manpower on board, good training facilities and a good reputation nationwide."

He stressed that airborne training is voluntary and no man would be forced against his will to take it.

The 49th Armored Division and the 36th Infantry Division will be abolished in the reorganization, as expected for some time.

Brig. Gen. Thomas D. Blackwell, Austin, Travis County district attorney, will command the 71st Airborne Brigade, and Brig. Gen. D. A. Thompson, Fort Worth, will command the 72nd Mechanized Infantry Brigade. Brig. Gen. Ross B. Ayers, Friona, will continue as commander of the 36th Infantry Brigade.

lage, as well as to go too late," he said.

Chafee, who wants Michigan Gov. George Romney nominated for president, blamed political problems at home for the governors' inability to mass their power behind any single candidate now. "Many of them feel that by choosing one candidate they would be a decisive force," Chafee said.

GOOD ODDS

Chafee said there is "a good chance that a majority of the governors" will be publicly aligned with one of the presidential candidates by the time they confer again early in June.

In other political developments: —It was learned that former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, who still hasn't announced his expected candidacy for the GOP nomination, has made tentative reservations for 100 rooms in a Miami Beach, Fla., hotel during the week the Republican national convention will be held there.

—Mrs. John F. Kennedy ended the self-imposed political exile that began with the assassination of her husband to attend a New York Democratic fundraising dinner. Mrs. Kennedy, who received a standing tribute from those attending the $500-a-plate dinner, said later of the affair: "I loved it."

GARY WELLS

Third Wells On Police Force

Gary Verna Wells, 27, joined the Big Spring Police Department effective Sunday, Dec. 10, according to Chief of Police Jay Banks. He qualified for the position through a written examination.

Wells was born in Mountain Air, N. M., and graduated from Ysleta High School. He is married to the former Betty Sharp, and they have two children. He holds a pilot's license and has had mechanics training. His family will be moving to Big Spring soon from Fort Worth.

He has two brothers already working with the Big Spring police department. Jim Wells joined the police department, May, 1966, and Robert Wells in April, 1967.

Court To Study 'Freedom' Choice

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court agreed today to decide the constitutionality of school desegregation by "freedom of choice."

It said it would review a ruling by the U.S. Circuit Court in Richmond that validated a freedom-of-choice plan for schools in New Kent County, Virginia. The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People Legal Defense and Educational Fund had appealed.

ALL-NEGRO

There are two combined elementary-high schools in the county and the fund said, one of the schools remains all-Negro.

According to fund figures, 111 of the 739 Negro students in the county last school year entered the previously all-white New Kent school.

With the Watkins school still all-Negro, the fund said, 85 percent of the Negro students in the county attended school last year only with other Negroes.

The appeal said that since there is no residential segregation in the county "logic and reason would seem to dictate" that the two schools be desegregated by establishment of geographic school zones.

Arick Faces New Warrant

Mandate from the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals finally affirming the conviction of Jerry Arick, charged with DWI second offense, arrived at the office of Fern Cox, district court clerk, Monday.

The office immediately prepared the records in the case and Judge Ralph Caton, 118th District Court, was to draw up the warrant for the arrest of the defendant today.

Arick was charged with having operated a motor vehicle while intoxicated on March 19, 1966. Indicted for the offense, he was tried by a jury in 118th District Court and his punishment set at nine months in the county jail. This was on July 20, last year.

He appealed and the criminal court of appeals denied the appeal for the first time on Oct. 18, 1967. He filed a petition for a rehearing which was denied on Dec. 6.

Bat Hunt Bullet Wounds Woman

OSHKOSH, Wis. (AP) — An Oshkosh woman told police the bullet wound in her foot was the result of a bat hunt in the apartment in which she and her 20-year-old son live.

Mrs. Jennie Oshkosh said she and her son, Fred, 20, saw bats flying in the apartment when they arrived home early Sunday.

They saw one hiding under a stuffed chair and the plan, she said, was that she would lift the chair while her son shot the bat with a .22-caliber pistol. He missed.

United Fund Drive Will End Friday

The United Fund drive has $103,961.99 reported and will officially close the drive Friday, Dec. 15, according to Harold Davis, general chairman.

Davis requested all workers to return their cards to their division chairman by Friday. It is hoped that all cards will be worked by the closing date.

Three Killed In Inferno During Fraternity Dance

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — "It was like everything was soaked with gas... A wave of flame came across the ceiling and the whole place went up."

That was how collegian Lance Kollmer, 19, of Deerfield, Ill., described the way a fire turned decorations at a pre-Christmas college fraternity dance into an inferno, killing three persons Sunday.

Nine others at the Delta Tau Delta house party in the heart of the University of Pennsylvania campus were injured — mostly from jumping for their lives from second-story windows.

Five firemen also suffered minor injuries fighting the blaze week.

Dear Abby

Many Faithful Husbands

DEAR ABBY: I suspected my husband of being untrue to me, so I went to a lawyer about a separation or divorce. My husband denies any unfaithfulness and he wants us back together again. (We have children.)

My lawyer told me that every man is untrue to his wife at one time or another, and my husband is no exception. He said the more trusting a wife is, the better it is for her husband. It makes cheating easier.

Is this true, Abby? I just can't believe it. My husband is a good father, and he said he was happy with me in every way. My lawyer says I have two choices. Go back to my husband for the children's sake and put up with his cheating, or divorce him and raise my children alone. Please say something to help me. I love my husband, but I am so confused.

DEAR M: There are plenty of faithful married men, and your husband could be one of them. The only thing you can be sure of is that your lawyer cheats on his wife. Give your husband another chance.

DEAR ABBY: I work, and

McCarthy Suggests U.S. Yield Areas To Commies

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy suggests the United States should concede some areas of South Vietnam to the Viet Cong in a bid to generate peace talks.

The proposal by McCarthy, the Minnesota Democrat who plans an antiwar campaign challenge to President Johnson in four 1968 primaries, drew immediate fire Sunday from the administration.

SURPRISE

Eugenie M. Anderson, a U.S. representative to the U.N. General Assembly, said of McCarthy's proposal:

"I was surprised to hear him say that because I think that anyone who understands the Communists understands that you don't begin negotiating with Communists from a position of weakness if you want to negotiate seriously and expect to achieve anything by negotiations."

In an interview, Mrs. Anderson predicted ultimate U.S. success in Vietnam if the public shows the same perseverance

"that the South Vietnamese are showing."

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey also ruled out yielding to the Viet Cong control of land in South Vietnam.

"I think this struggle will be won in the countryside," he said. "This is why I have never believed in enclaves. And this is why I think that some of these gimmicks that have been devised have not really had much merit to them."

McCarthy said the Viet Cong has strongholds in some areas of South Vietnam, and suggested there are other areas the United States need not control. "You let the Viet Cong come

Hiking Traffic Fines Big Flop

NEW YORK (AP) — City Traffic Commissioner Henry A. Barnes says hiking the fines for traffic violations here just isn't working, explaining that "it has been common practice in New York for many years to just ignore traffic tickets."

Another Record Year Shown By Pearl Brewery

SAN ANTONIO — Cliff "Slim" Proffitt, Pearl Beer distributor for the Big Spring-Lubbock area, attended the 1968 Pearl Brewing Co. convention, held last week in San Antonio. It was the largest convention ever held for Pearl Beer and Country Club Malt Liquor distributors and Judson Candies brokers from throughout the nation.

Otto A. Koehler, president and chairman of the board, expressed appreciation to all brewery workers for making 1967 another record-breaking year for the 82-year-old Pearl Brewing Co.

Based on results from the first nine months of the year, total Pearl sales for the year are projected to 1,800,000 barrels, a dollar volume increase of more than $1,500,000.

Net sales for the first nine months reflected an increase of $1,240,141, up nearly 3 per cent over 1966. Gross profit of $15,009,947 is up more than 3 per cent. Net profits for the same period are up approximately 11 per cent. For the 14th consecutive year, Pearl continues to be the number one selling beer in Texas, leading the nearest competitor by 62,000 barrels at this date.

In Princeton, N.J., the Gallup Poll said its November survey of 1,583 households indicated a growing number of Americans believe Red China would intervene in the war if the United States showed signs of winning. Gallup said nearly 49 per cent of those polled in November feared Chinese intervention, as compared with 40 per cent in August and 38 per cent in June.

Government Employees Due Christmas Bonus

WASHINGTON (AP) — Final congressional action raising postal rates and the pay of federal workers is expected in time to give government employees a Christmas bonus: Salary boosts retroactive to Oct. 1.

Similar increases are in line for members of the military services under separate legislation.

POSTAL HIKES

The postal rate increases, affecting all classes of mail and increasing to six cents the cost of mailing a first-class letter, will not take effect until Jan. 7. Two bills containing the increases—one covering postal rates and civilian employees and the other covering the military—are scheduled for House action today.

The Senate approved the military pay bill Friday, shortly after a compromise was reached. It is expected to move quickly on the postal measure so President Johnson's signature can put the machinery into motion to include the retroactive increases in the next paychecks of government workers.

NEPOTISM BAN

The postal-pay bill, glued together by the House Post Office Committee in an effort to make it veto-proof, exceeds Johnson's recommendations, both in the cost of the pay boosts and in the revenue expected from new postal rates.

But the President is expected to sign it.

It also contains the latest form of a bill vetoed by the President last summer to increase life insurance coverage for federal workers, and it has a stiff ban on future nepotism applying to all employees of the executive, legislative and judiciary branches.

SECOND SWAP SCHEDULED

Describes Human Heart Transplant

Editor's Note: The following article has been specially written for The Associated Press by Prof. Christian Barnard of Groote Schuur Hospital, Cape Town, who on Dec. 3 led a team of surgeons performing the world's first human heart transplant. It describes the operation and tells about the future of heart transplants.

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP) — At the beginning of November, 1967, following a successful kidney transplant operation some weeks earlier (at Groote Schuur Hospital) a decision was taken to attempt a human heart transplant operation. Ten years of experience in open heart surgery and a four-year research program on organ transplantation had given us the background for confidence of a successful outcome to this undertaking.

It did not take long to find a patient suitable for cardiac transplant, and Mr. Louis Washkansky was considered to have heart disease incurable by any known treatment other than cardiac transplantation.

MORAL COURAGE
He also had the correct mental approach and moral courage to submit himself to this new operation.

His blood was examined to determine the pattern of antigens on his red cells and white cells, as this would help us to select a suitable cardiac donor at a subsequent stage by a comparison of a similar antigenic analysis in the prospective donor.

A suitable donor would be a young person with an inevitably fatal disease or injury but having an undamaged heart.

Suitable young people in this category are almost exclusively patients involved in severe accidents.

As so little time is usually available between the time of the accident and the time of death of a severely injured patient, all possible preparations were made for the proposed operation beforehand.

The entire team to be involved in the transplant operation was on continuous stand-by.

FRESH BLOOD
Twelve units of fresh blood were drawn from 12 fresh volunteers and crossmatched daily in case they should be needed for this proposed operation.

On Saturday, Dec. 2, a young lady, Miss Denise Ann Darvall, was admitted to Groote Schuur Hospital having suffered severe injuries in an (auto) accident shortly before.

Intensive resuscitation was commenced immediately after she was admitted, but when seen shortly afterwards by a neurosurgeon she was declared to have inevitably fatal brain damage.

Intensive resuscitation was continued and permission was obtained from the girl's father to remove her heart and kidneys after death for use in transplant operations.

The team was alerted, and the injured girl and Mr. Washkansky were taken to adjoining operating theaters where preparations were continued for two simultaneous open-heart operations.

PARALYSIS
The blood tests of the injured girl showed both the red cells and the white cells to be almost perfectly compatible with those of Mr. Washkansky, a great encouragement to us.

It became obvious that our treatment of the injured girl was rapidly failing to avert the fatal outcome, and Mr. Washkansky was anesthetized about 1:30 a.m. Sunday.

The operation commenced. Within half an hour of the commencement of the open-heart operation, when Mr. Washkansky's body had been cooled to protect his vital organs, the injured girl died, and the electrocardiograph showed complete paralysis of her heart.

The heart of the girl was exposed, connected to a heart-lung machine, and cardiopulmonary bypass was commenced with cooling of the blood in the bypass (heart-lung) machine.

MACHINE
When her heart was cooled sufficiently, it was removed by dividing the major veins and arteries and disconnected from the heart-lung machine in the first operating theater.

Her heart was transferred to the second operating theater, where it was reconnected within minutes to the second heart-lung machine and perfused (fed) with cold blood.

The perfusion continued during implantation of the heart. Mr. Washkansky's aorta was clamped to isolate his heart from the blood circulating in the body and his severely damaged heart was excised (cut out), leaving portions of both atrial chambers to serve as the sternum to which the new heart would be grafted.

silks sutures to join the atria and main arteries of the new heart to those of Mr. Washkansky. Firstly, the left atria of the patient and the new heart were joined to each other, and following this the right atria were similarly united. Next, the divided ends of the pulmonary arteries were sutured together, and lastly the two aortas were joined, the cannula (tube) which perfused the new grafted heart being removed during the final stages of the suturing of the aorta.

The clamp of Mr. Washkansky's aorta was released, and the new heart was perfused by blood pumped into the aorta from the heart-lung machine.

Air was excluded from all chambers of the heart, and the rewarming of the blood in the heart-lung machine was commenced. When the correct temperature had been reached, the new heart was given an electric shock through paddles placed on either side of the heart, and some 2 1/2 hours after it had stopped it started beating once more.

The rewarming of Mr. Washkansky's body continued, and some 20 minutes later the flow from the heart-lung machine was reduced, and little by little the heart took over the circulation.

Ten minutes later the heart-lung machine was switched off finally, and the new heart was beating strongly and supporting abundant life in its new body.

The tubes connecting the patient to the heart-lung machine were removed, and his chest was closed.

X-RAY
An X-ray picture of his chest showed all to be functioning well, and the electrocardiogram was satisfactory.

He was allowed to recover consciousness and then returned to the sterile postoperative intensive-care room some 6 1/2 hours after the operation commenced.

He was still on assisted mechanical ventilation, largely as

FLASHLIGHT
The operation was performed in the dirt by flashlight. There was no chance to clean the patient, and Kalush and his medical assistants were crawling in and out of their bunks. Kalush didn't have the time or means to wash his hands. His instruments were right out of his field kit and unsterilized.

At the time, infection was the least of anyone's concern. Antibiotics could take care of that if it developed, and the chances were better than 50-50 that it would.

"Unless a man is hit in the brain, the heart, both lungs or loses a limb, we can usually save him," Sgt. Harold Hickman of Koshkonong, Mo., said. "With the critical ones, it often is a question of how fast we can get them out of here by chopper."

Less than an hour after the main attack on Bu Dop, two helicopters had come in for the wounded. Night medical evacuations are considered extremely hazardous.

TO SAVE GIs

Doctor Must Select Fast

BU DOP, Vietnam (AP) — Mortar shells were still slamming into the American positions when the first wounded GIs began arriving at the battalion aid station.

A grim doctor stood in the flare light and divided the men into three categories: Those who would die no matter what was done for them, those who would live even if nothing were done at once, and those who could be saved if something were done quickly.

DROWNING
The last category got the attention. A man mortally wounded in the chest got a few shots of morphine, then the doctor and medics closed their ears and minds to the dying man and went to work rapidly on those they could save.

The first to get attention was an infantryman hit in the mouth and chest by shrapnel. The shredded cheek and tongue were bleeding freely, and the young GI was drowning in his own blood.

The doctor, Capt. Samuel Kalush of Lockport, N.Y., knelt beside the man, slit his throat and inserted a plastic tube that would permit him to breathe.

shown that man-made devices used in cardiac surgery are at best a poor substitute for a normally functioning organ. The vast majority of human hearts function perfectly for up to 30 years, and few if any machines can match this continuous performance. Consideration must also be given to the criteria used in determining the most suitable patients for heart replacement, and it seems likely that this is a problem that will assume great importance in the very near future. Factors such as age, the existence of other diseases and the importance to society of the individual involved may have to be taken into account.

A Devotional For The Day

The spirit of man is the candle of the Lord.
PRAYER: O Christ, set aglow our spirit that we may shine for Thee wherever we are. Help us to bear Thy light to those walking a darksome way that they may find Thee as their Savior. We pray in Thy name the prayer Thou hast taught us, "Our Father who art in heaven . . . Amen."

Best Answer Now For Cities

Last Tuesday's voting set the pattern for Texas cities financing for a decade or more. All the state's largest cities, and most of its medium-sized ones, have now adopted the optional one per cent municipal sales tax. More will before the year's end, and a steady addition to the number of adoptions can now be expected in the years just ahead.

State political leaders, and many city officials who rather warily urged the new tax, have been surprised at the lopsided popular favor for it. But given the state-local tax structure in Texas, the municipal sales tax was the most logical solution for the cities' financial plight. The only doubt was whether Texans really wanted to pay the bill for better communities; that doubt has now been largely resolved.

Texas cities are more dependent on property taxation, and less benefited by state aid, than cities in most other states. The resistance to higher municipal property taxation is high, because the counties, school and special districts are wholly dependent on that source, which is also tapped by the state.

The Texas state government is also hard-pressed financially, especially to support soaring educational demands. The cities could not count on much more in state aid, and federal aid—leveling off under wartime pressures—could never be more than supplemental at best.

Thus, Texas cities had to have a broad-based new tax source, from which revenue will increase as the cities grow and municipal governmental costs rise. The city sales tax, considering its exemptions, seemed the fairest levy available not already overburdened by other levels of government.

Those cities which have rejected the city sales tax, particularly suburban incorporations like the dozen in the Fort Worth-Dallas area, are likely to change their minds later. They will find that foregoing the tax will not divert much business from the central cities, and as their communities age and need more works and services, they will either have to levy the sales tax or raise property taxation painfully.

For the foreseeable future, the tax is the main hope in this state for improving urban living and providing the essential public works and services for growing populations.

Hubert Declines

Vice President Hubert Humphrey has politely declined to contribute to the Nixon for President Committee. He wants four more years of Humphrey-Johnson.

The strange request for a contribution, one of a million sent out, was addressed to "H. Humphrey, Senate Office Building, Washington, D.C." It began with the greeting — "Fellow American: Do you want another four years of Humphrey-Johnson administration?"

Equally strange was the explanation of Drew Mason, the Nixon committee's treasurer, who said that the addressee either bought Nixon's book, "Six Crises," or else contributed to Barry Goldwater's campaign in 1964. "I know that doesn't sound reasonable," Mason said. "I wish he'd send us some money."

Since Humphrey can scarcely be counted among the contributors to Goldwater's campaign (he was against massive U. S. troop campaign (he must have gotten on the list because he bought Nixon's book. The moral obviously is to buy books anonymously).

John Cuniff Executives Aid Foreign Firms

NEW YORK (AP) — Soon after the New Year, Everett H. Huntoon, a 66-year-old resident of Sun City, Ariz., interrupts the retirement he worked decades for in order to handle the problems of some strangers in far-off Cyprus.

As payment for uprooting himself from the serenity of retirement, Huntoon and his wife will receive a daily living allowance, exposure to a foreign culture and the satisfaction of helping others. Nothing more.

HUNTOON, who spent 27 years with Montgomery Ward and on retirement was manager of merchandising and purchasing in New York, will lend his knowledge and advice to a Cypriot drygoods wholesaler and retailer.

The job, to last about three months, will cost the wholesaler about $1,000 a month, but Huntoon will get none of it. Instead it will go to the International Executive Service Corps, which made the arrangement.

THE CORPS, which most people know as the Executive Peace Corps or by the even more familiar term of Paumotu Corps, already has completed 361 foreign-assistance projects in less than three years and is expanding steadily.

In addition, 90 projects are under way, 69 are about to begin and many more are now being arranged in communications between Madison Avenue headquarters and private enterprises in 40 foreign nations.

All this has been accomplished on an annual budget of about $2 million, 40 per cent of which is donated by American corporations or received in service fees, and 60 per cent of which comes from the U. S. government.

A SKILLS BANK of 3,500 names is now maintained and added to as the result of personal applications, recommendations and more recently from recruiting drives among corporations.

From this bank the corps attempts to fill requests such as these: —A records production manager to spend three or four months assisting a recording and tape manufacturer in Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia.

—A production executive with experience in the manufacture of sewing machine needles to spend three months in Taipei, Taiwan.

—A GLASS technologist to help an Istanbul, Turkey firm go into the manufacture of windshields.

When the requests come in — and that is the only way in which the corps agrees to get involved — the following questions are asked:

—Is the requesting firm willing to pay a fee for assistance, a fee which amounts to only a small percentage of what would be charged by a private consultant, were he available?

—Is the client firm sound enough to profit from the help and advice?

—Will the firm's success be of probable benefit not only to itself but to the free enterprise system of its country?

WHAT OTHERS SAY

The decision to force draft protesters into the military service is wrong on so many counts that it's difficult to believe a responsible official actually could have made it.

Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, the Director of Selective Service, is right when he says that those who violate the law in opposing the war should be prosecuted. Since plenty of laws exist to deal with illegal demonstrations, however, it's hard to see why the general needs the draft as an additional weapon.

For one thing, using the draft in that way is an insult to men now in uniform. They presumably feel they are fulfilling their military obligation to their country, not absorbing criminal punishment.

Drafting protesters, moreover, can lead to an unequal justice. A lot of the people who take part in antiwar demonstrations, after all, are not subject to the draft. The general himself concedes there may be some question about drafting persons who impede the work of military recruiters, but he intends to push ahead anyway.

The proposed distortion of Selective Service would be no service to the nation, its armed forces or any of its citizens. —WALL STREET JOURNAL

BABY DOCTOR

James Marlow Gold, Dollar Snip Looms

WASHINGTON (AP) — It's only a matter of time before the federal government must cut the last remaining domestic link between gold and the dollar. The final snip could come next year.

Most Americans, however, will hardly notice the change. Business will go on as usual. Dollar bills will still be dollar bills to be spent for groceries, drugs, gasoline and thousands of other everyday items.

Internationally, the cut will free more than $10 billion in gold to defend the dollar abroad.

WORSE consequences would confront consumers if nothing were done and the U.S. gold price continued to shrink. Higher interest rates plus weakened confidence in the dollar abroad are two potential results.

Examine a dollar bill closely and you'll see the words "Federal Reserve Note" above George Washington's portrait.

THIS TYPE of bill is the only kind now placed in circulation and each dollar must be backed under law by 25 cents in gold—the 25 per cent gold cover.

When the United States had plenty of gold this gold cover was well in excess of the 25 per cent ratio. It's still beyond it but not by much.

Last week's switch of $475 million in gold to a special fund to cover, in part, the U.S. share of gold sold on the London market following devaluation of the British pound put more pressure on the gold cover.

The $475 million was taken from supplies available to back paper money.

BEFORE the switch, the available gold stock equaled 29.9 per cent of all federal reserve notes in circulation — more than $40 billion. After the switch the ratio was 28.5 per cent. The supply of gold available for backing paper money is now $12.4 billion, lowest in 30 years, and more than $10 billion of this is already being used.

Chairman William McChesney

Martin Jr. of the Federal Reserve Board has repeatedly called for quick removal of the gold cover to end any remaining doubts and uncertainty about U.S. policy.

(James Marlow, who usually writes this column, is on vacation.)

Hal Boyle Seven Deadly Sins

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

During the first week of life a baby cries an average of 2½ hours a day—or about half the time a grownup yowls about having to go back to work on Mondays.

A FLEA can leap 200 times its own length. If you could do that, you could jump four times the length of a football field. Coach Vince Lombardi of the Green Bay Packers would probably be glad to sign you up for $100,000 a year.

Transplantation of human kidneys and hearts has made big news in medical circles in the Western world. But in the Soviet Union, where it has long been dangerous for a fellow to stick his chin out too far, doctors have concentrated on lower jaws. They've successfully transplanted 169 of them. The operations have restored a normal look to the faces of patients and enabled them to chew successfully.

EVEN if you are a pauper, lawyers say, you should still make out a will. Why? Well, for example, should you be killed in an accident, the heirs named in your will might be able to file a lawsuit and collect enough dough to make them remember you with gratitude. Lawyers do think of everything, don't they?

Feet look simple, but they aren't. And it's no wonder they ache. They contain a fourth of all the bones in the human body.

Quotable notables: "One cannot be deeply responsive to the world without being saddened very often." —Dr. Eric Fromm.

BRACE UP: A good posture may help you to get ahead on your job. Psychologists say that posture often mirrors emotions, and a droopy head and sagging shoulders may reveal a defeated, worried mind. Your boss is less likely to promote you if you look like you can't cut the mustard.

Test: We are so complacent in our prosperity that probably 95 out of 100 Americans no longer can list the seven deadly sins. In case you want to paste them in your hat as a guide to better living, here they are: lust, envy, anger, gluttony, sloth, avarice and vanity. How many are you guilty of in any 24-hour period?

Bereft: Science has confirmed the old romantic idea that people can die of a broken heart. A study reported by the Canadian Medical Journal found that widowers are far more likely to suffer coronary attacks than married men the same age whose wives are still alive.

Worth remembering: "There are two kinds of men who never amount to much—those who cannot do what they are told and those who can do nothing else."

Around The Rim 'One Man's Meat ...'

Don't be alarmed if the toddler around your house starts eating solids — like erasers, paper clips and pie tins.

Reuters reports that a Greek strongman named Leon Samson has set about to eat an automobile, piece by piece, in Australia.

SAMSON (Does that name have a familiar ring?) expects the undertaking to take up to four years but he is confident he can consume the whole car — rubber, upholstery, engine, bolts and batteries.

Recently the 30-year-old man, who weighs 210 pounds, has been on a training diet of electric lamps, iron nails and razor blades.

Samson was inspired to sink a tooth into the tasty morsel when a Darwin, Australia, businessman offered to bet him $24,400 that it couldn't be done.

A LEGAL contract was drawn up, specifying that three people must witness the eating of each piece of automobile. If he succeeds, Samson will have eaten over a ton of metal.

Doctors insist the feat is impossible but he says the secret of his metal eating is that he does not digest the pieces — they just pass right on through his system.

Samson, no doubt, knows how it feels to have a hubcap on his stomach — he once had a car driven over him.

A FRIEND of mine swears he once rode on an airlines so cheap that the co-pilot's home movies were shown for entertainment.

I've always had a burning desire to find out how many students in Brutus, Ky., and Hamlet, N.C., study Shakespeare.

THIS IS THE era of dissenters but perhaps we don't field enough of them at election time.

Recent elections here rallied their share of opposition. The best way to defeat a bond issue, perhaps, is to laugh it into limbo.

Not long ago, the idea of a tomb-like municipal building was projected for voters in a distant community and that element which reasons that everything comes free if the public treasury pays for it had things going their own way until a member of the loyal opposition, a firebrand with a flair for comedy, arose to say:

"We need that building like a tomcat needs a marriage license."

Holmes Alexander The Poetry Of Economics

WASHINGTON — "The dismal science," Carlyle called political economy and "the stupid party" is what John Stuart Mill called the conservatives.

They should have been around last month for the Rational Debates Seminar at George Washington University when two economists ad-libbed their closing rebuttals in poetry, and the British conservative overwhelmed the American liberal.

ENOCH POWELL, the Tory M. P. who commenced as a professor of Greek, was asked how he succeeded as a politician in Laborite Britain. "I sit in the hedge and sing," said Powell. He then broke into his own rendition of Martin Luther's Reformation hymn, saying:

"One day the dawn comes perhaps, and perhaps I am the bird that heralded the dawn."

"But it is not for me to know. Only for me to know that it is the song — not the dawn's, but mine."

"The song which is in my heart and this I must sit in the hedge and sing. — If per chance the dawn might be — I shall not cause the dawn."

"I shall simply be one of the many twitters and trills that herald the coming of the dawn."

AS A TORY intellectual, from across the railroad tracks, the handsome, chisel-featured Powell keeps winning elections by singing his creed from the hedge and letting Nature take its course. He believed that people much prefer to buy their own welfare, as much of education or as little of health-insurance as they need, and that they detest to have the State lade it out with all the irritating restrictions and gaudy extravagances. The dawn of this freedom of expression has already come to Powell's own constituency and he believes it will come all over Britain. He thinks of conservatives as the "herald," but not the "cause" of such a dawn.

POWELL'S OPPONENT of the evening was the gentle giant, former Senator Paul Douglas, also a professional in the "dismal science" of political economy. Not to be outdone in poetry, though badly out-debated, Douglas responded with his own extemporized rendition of William Blake's lines.

"I shall not rest from mental sleep, Nor shall my sword sleep in my hand, Till we have built Jerusalem In England's green and pleasant land."

ALL EVENING the mighty Douglas had been slugging away with his liberal doctrine. The State was the do-all and the be-all. Private industrialists were scoundrels. The people were incapable of free choice in the market place. Only Federalism, the Bourgeois Bureaucracy, can read the people's minds and prescribe for their needs. Only militant, punitive, legislative force — "the sword" — can build the promised Zion.

NEVER, I'M SURE, was there such a tell-tale contrast. The conservative with a "song" but the liberal with a "sword." The conservative's faith that dawn would come in God's good time, but the liberal's sleepless vigil and armed doctrine. The conservative in lyrical celebration of the people's awakening, but taking no credit for it; and the liberal's trumpeting demand that the sun rise and shine upon his wisdom.

David Lawrence Stopping The Wage-Price Spiral

WASHINGTON—President Johnson hasn't reached a decision yet as to whether he should recommend wage-and-price controls to Congress. But he doesn't mind letting both businessmen and labor unions know that he might feel compelled to do so later.

Mr. Johnson at his press conference last Monday, when asked whether he would ask Congress for emergency authority to enact wage-and-price controls, replied:

"NO SUCH PROPOSALS are under consideration at this time. I say nothing at this time."

Then, on Wednesday, when the President was to address the Business Council—a group of the nation's top executives—the speech as issued to the press beforehand read as follows:

"For the first time, America is fighting for freedom abroad without resorting to wage-and-price controls at home. Voluntary restraint has made involuntary curbs unnecessary. This is the way it should be done."

WHEN MR. JOHNSON actually delivered his talk, however, he said that "voluntary restraint has made involuntary curbs to this point unnecessary." The insertion of the phrase "to this point" is regarded as significant because this same qualification was thus made twice in the same week.

Some businessmen, on the other hand, have derived the impression that probably Mr. Johnson is talking about wage-and-price controls as a threat and doesn't really intend seriously to press for them.

ALFRED EISENPREIS, vice president of the Allied Stores Corporation, said in a broadcast released by the U.S. Chamber of Commerce Thursday morning:

"I think it is also very important to remember that the talking about it, the process of talking about it, the branding of controls as a threat, with little intention of really taking the step—this is a very serious game. And I think we should be very careful, at all levels, in discussing the imposition thereof."

THE PRESIDENT in his remarks to the Business Council made a fervent plea for "voluntary" restraints. He declared:

"Nobody benefits from a wage-price spiral. Labor knows that it does not. You know that business does not. And surely the American people do not."

"Yet business says it is labor's responsibility to break the spiral, and labor says it is yours. I say it is everyone's responsibility. It is the responsibility of government, of labor, and of business."

"I intend to urge labor to restrain its demands for excessive wage increases. I am urging business tonight to refrain from avoidable price increases, and to intensify its competitive efforts."

WAGE-AND-PRICE controls would be more difficult to administer this time than ever before. Certainly Congress would have to give to wage-stabilization boards and price-control agencies more authority than was exercised during World War I, World War II or the Korean war. For the country's business is far more complex than it was a decade ago, and there is an added complication this time in connection with exports and imports.

So all in all, wage-and-price controls, though distasteful to almost everybody, could turn out to be the only remedy the government can use.

Pills To Fool Silk Worms

TOKYO (AP) — The Agriculture-Forestry Ministry is experimenting with pills to substitute for mulberry leaves as food for silk worms.

The ministry says it has been experimenting for one year and the results appear promising. The pills contain powdered mulberry leaves, pulverized soybean, glucose, organic acid, yeast and minerals.

The ministry says the pills would be safe against destruction by typhoons, frost or drought.

Less Violence Reported

By The Associated Press

The weekend in Texas was less violent than usual, with 15 persons losing their lives. Traffic claimed nine victims.

An Associated Press survey of weekend violent deaths began at 6 p.m. Friday and ended at midnight Sunday.

Mike Pecoraro, 29, an ex-Marine, was killed Sunday night in a shooting that climaxed a family argument at a home in the Fort Worth suburb of Sansom Park.

Two San Antonio men were shot to death Sunday night. John Schmuckle, 55, assistant manager of a drive-in ice house in southeast San Antonio, was found dead early today. The cash register had been rifled. Schmuckle had been shot three times.

Jesus Trevino Jr., 25, was shot to death late Sunday at a bar and grill. Police said Trevino was killed by one of three youths in the bar. The killer fled.

Jill Brown, 19, was slain Friday night by a killer who slashed her throat and inflicted numerous cuts about her body. The nude body was found Sunday afternoon in cedar brush near a marina on the north shore of Lake Waco. Search for the young Baylor coed began Friday night after her blood-soaked car was found on a Waco parking lot.

Two cars collided head-on late Saturday, killing three members of a Houston family. They were identified as Mere Jones, 31, his son Jay, 8, and his daughter, 4 years-old. The accident happened 4.5 miles south of Cleveland, on US 59.

Planes Present

KAMPALA, Uganda (AP) — Israel gave the Uganda air force four Piper observer-type aircraft in a weekend ceremony at Entebbe Airport presided over by Uganda Defense Minister Felix Onama. The Israeli director-general of defense, L. Kashti, said Israeli instructors are training Uganda air force pilots to promote peace and development here.

El Paso Pastor Accepts Key Post

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — Dr. Woodson Armes has resigned as pastor of the 4,600-member First Baptist Church of El Paso to accept the top administrative position with the Christian Education Commission for Texas Baptists.

A former Baylor University faculty member, Armes has served churches in Waco and Fort Worth.

Armes, pastor of the El Paso church for nearly four years, was elected Friday by the 192-member executive board of the Baptist General Convention of Texas.

Japan Introduced To Deviled Eggs

WASHINGTON (AP) — The deviled egg is being introduced to Japanese consumers by American exporters in an effort to keep a big volume of U.S. feed grains moving across the Pacific.

Japan's egg industry — for the last decade one of the fastest growing users of American corn and other feed grains — has lately leveled off its feed-grain purchases and reduced its dependence on the United States as virtually its sole supplier.

The United States Grain Council, a trade organization, and the Agriculture Department's foreign service have been promoting American grains in Japan, including the introduction of the deviled egg.

The department said this food delicacy is being received favorably by Japanese consumers. This may increase the demand for eggs in Japan with a consequent increase in that country's purchase of feed grains. The United States supplied Japan with 1.9 million tons of feed grains during the marketing year ended Oct. 1, about 45 percent of its feed grain imports.

Pact Confirmed

KINSHASA, the Congo (AP) — Radio Kinshasa confirmed this weekend that the Congo and the Soviet Union will renew diplomatic relations and exchange ambassadors. The Soviet news agency Tass announced Moscow's agreement a week ago but the Congo said at that time more "exploratory conversations" were needed. The two countries broke for the second time in 1964.

One Battle Left For NFL Titles

By The Associated Press

Jim Houston, Cleveland's 25-year-old super-star, has picked the lock to the Century throne, leaving only one divisional battle still pending in the National Football League—the clash between the Browns and the Colts in the AFC Central.

The Browns, who have won 10 of their last 11 games, are the only team in the AFC Central to have a winning record. The Colts, who have won 7 of their last 11 games, are the only team in the AFC Central to have a losing record.

The Browns' victory over the Colts on Sunday will give them a 12-4 record, while the Colts will have a 7-9 record.

Griese, Blanda Blend For Title

By ED SCHUYLER JR.

An accurate toe and a good passing arm are a tough combination to beat in football—even when they belong to different men who are of different generations.

This was the case Sunday when the kicking of George Blanda and the passing of Earl Griese combined to give Oakland the Western Division championship of the American Football League.

Blanda, who broke in professionally with the Chicago Bears in 1946, booted four field goals in five tries in leading Oakland to a 13-7 victory over Houston.

Griese, who was barely starting enough to hold a football in 1960, passed for two touchdowns as Oakland upset San Diego 41-24.

Oakland's victory gave the Raiders an 11-1 record and a 7½-game lead over San Diego.

RAIDERS GET TITLE

Blanda's Toe Stumps Former Oiler Mates

HOUSTON (AP) — It was like a 3-picture. Grizzled and bitter, George Blanda booted out Sunday and kicked four field goals for Oakland against Houston, the team that turned him out last spring as a has-been.

The 13-7 victory assured the American Football League's Western Division title for the Raiders, and it demoralized the Houston Oilers, who were leading the Eastern Division.

The old hometown crowd that cheered when Blanda signed with the Oilers last year, now booed him.

"This was fantastic," he said. "The best day of my career. To come back here and show all those rude fans that the home doesn't bother the old man."

Exhibiting a vast grin, Blanda went on, "I went out there. All those boys kind of shocked me. I thought maybe—just maybe—the fans would respect me a little more than that."

Fickle Houston had forgotten 1960 and 1961 when he guided the Oilers to AFL championships, but no matter. Sunday's game made him the league's 1967 scoring leader with 47 points after and 18 of 20 field goals for another 27, total 104.

Blanda's first three field goals Sunday, 12, 22 and 31 yards, took Oakland past the seven points Houston got in the closing seconds of the first half on George Webster's interception and Pete Beathard's efficient job of 22 yards to Woody Campbell and 24 yards to Boyle Granger, for the score.

Blanda's last field goal was a 46-yard followup to Steven Dunne's 27-yard touchdown run which broke whatever remained of the Oilers' spirit.

Stanton Girls Win Consolation At Lakeview

STANTON — With the consolation title at the Lakeview tournament behind them, the Stanton girls go to Coahoma Tuesday for a break test. The boys' A and B teams also will play 11½ games starting at 5:30 p.m.

Stanton defeated Martin 41-40 for the consolation title after falling off in the first round to Iran 22-27. Stanton was leading 28-27 at the end of the third, and it appeared that it might be heading for a repeat of its 50-48 win over Iran in a double overtime in their previous meeting. But what must qualify as the coldest shooting spell of any team for the season came on the fourth period when Stanton could hit only one of 23 field goal attempts. Iran was as hot as Stanton was cold.

Kay Harrell made forward and Sherry Avery guard for Stanton on the all-tournament team.

Stanton Seeks Football Game

Stanton High School is looking for a football opponent for Nov. 1, 1967.

Coach Bryan Boyd had booked Midland Carver for that date, but Carver has been merged with Midland High and Midland Lee, leaving the Stanton Buffaloes with no place to roam on Nov. 1.

Stanton will be willing to book any team from its classification (AA) on up to a AAAA B team. Coaches with open dates on Nov. 1 are asked to call or write to Coach Boyd.

Lamesa Wins

ANDREWS — Lamesa won the Andrews Invitational Basketball tournament by beating Cleveland, 73-54, in the championship game. Andrews placed third by turning back Monahans, 74-54. The win over Cleveland was Lamesa's ninth in 11 starts this season.

Wooden Looking Toward Houston, And Sees Hazards

By The Associated Press

Johnny Wooden didn't say so, but he may have been thinking of Houston.

"Although I feel the Bruins would win over any opponent in a series of games on a neutral court," said the coach of top-ranked and unbeaten UCLA, "I know quite well the hazards that often befall visiting teams and the possibility of good teams coming up with great nights."

Wooden's juggernaut rolled over Iowa State 121-80 Saturday night, making the Bruins' 37th consecutive victory and their third this year. And it left Iowa State Coach Glen Anderson shaking his head in bewilderment.

"They're the finest college basketball team I've ever seen," he said.

Low Alcindor tossed in 46 points and five other Bruins scored in double figures.

Houston, ranked No. 2 in the nation, scored its fourth straight victory, beating Illinois 54-46 at Champaign on Saturday.

Jackson On All-Tourney

Robert Jackson, Howard County Junior College, playing outstanding offense and defense, captured a place on the all-tournament team at Odessa Junior College Saturday evening.

Robert was one of three freshmen to make the team in the tournament that saw Odessa Junior College sack up New Mexico Junior College 10-0.

Christian beat Odessa 10-0 for third place. Other teams entered included Christian College of Dallas, Odessa, St. Phillips, Carey and Lakeland Christian College.

Forsan Girls Win Tourney

GARDEN CITY — Blackwell boys nipped Forsan 66-49 for the Garden City Invitational basketball crown Saturday evening.

Forsan girls made up for it by beating Sands 63-39 in the title game.

Sands won third place in the boys' division and Flower Grove consolation. Westbrook took third place in the girls' division while Flower Grove also won the consolation.

Harris To Face Barreto Tonight

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Upright Copy Joe Harris, boxing's latest economic, takes off his mask how he and mink cuffs, links and darts his flaming red trunks and red shoes tonight in a bid for his 22nd straight victory.

Harris is slated to go 10 rounds against Miguel Barreto, of Puerto Rico, in a fight Copy's manager says is a preliminary to a well-weight title shot at champion Carlos Cooks in Dallas next month.

Lee Splits Pair

MIDLAND — El Paso Jefferson and Midland Lee broke even in a two-game basketball series here the past weekend.

Jefferson, winner of the recent Odessa tournament, came back to topple Lee Saturday night, 40-41, after the Rebels had upset the Silver Foxes Friday evening.

Dallas Defense Wallops Eagles

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — The Dallas Cowboys used their Domesday Defense to beat the Philadelphia Eagles 30-7 Sunday but the victory may have been pyrrhic. Ace quarterback Don Meredith got a broken nose and will have to play the rest of the season with a mask.

"I am concerned that the mask may be a handicap to his passing and also with the fact that he had to miss most of the Philadelphia game when he needed the work to finally round into shape from a previous injury," said Coach Tom Landry.

POTENT PUG

NORM SHAD, the talented Philadelphia quarterback, didn't come off so well. He was trapped seven times for 33 yards in losses and had three of his passes intercepted.

Jeffrey Pugh, the huge Dallas defensive tackle, led a defense that held Philadelphia to 102 yards total offense, giving up only 27 on the ground.

"We were two behind in quarterback traps and we wanted to make it up and win the rushing defense title," said Pugh, in explaining his somewhat fantastic game when he broke up a pass, recovered two fumbles, got Stated for 14 yards in losses and led the Dallas defense that dropped runners for losses seven times and on three other occasions held them to 10 gain.

Dallas now has 43 quarterback traps—17 behind last year's league-leading 60—with a game to go before meeting Cleveland in the playoff for the Eastern Conference championship. The Cowboys close the regular season Saturday at San Francisco. The playoff game is Dec. 24 in Dallas.

Farm Leader Gigs Johnson

CHICAGO (AP) — Charles B. Shuman, head of the nation's largest general farm organization, criticized the Johnson administration's agriculture policy today as a failure in virtually all respects.

"We are completing the harvest of the largest crop in history, produced at the highest cost on record, and selling at the lowest prices in a decade," Shuman told the annual meeting of the American Farm Bureau Federation.

He said government farm control, direct payments and price support programs are being used to hold farm prices down and to force farmers to accept payments in lieu of the full market price.

"Approximately 20 per cent of net farm income," Shuman said, "now comes from direct subsidy payments from the federal treasury and cotton farmers get almost half of their total crop returns from this source."

Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Lewis M. Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Orme, Mr. and Mrs. William D. Harris Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Vern H. Maxwell and Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Phillips Jr., all of Dallas; Mr. and Mrs. Dan Krausse and Lyle R. Sproles, all of Fort Worth; Mr. and Mrs. Joe McShane and Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Sudderth, all of Monahan; and Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Perry, Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Perry, Mr. and Mrs. James R. Perry and Mr. and Mrs. Winston Harper, all of Odessa; William K. Jackson of Mexico City, Mexico, and Mr. and Mrs. Joe P. Liberty of Midland.

Tribute was paid to Tollett by Orme who presented a brief biographical sketch of the honoree and introduced former associates and long-time friends who were here for the special occasion. Introduced and speaking briefly of their association with Tollett were Sproles, Jackson, Krausse, Phillips and Marvin Miller.

Mrs. Tollett was attired in a street-length ice blue satin, two-piece dress with jeweled adornment circling the neckline and short sleeves. She was presented an orchid, and her husband wore a carnation boutonniere.

Blue, green and silver were the colors for festive holiday decorations which were placed throughout the entertaining area. Green felt cloths covered tables which held a champagne fountain and silver service for hot spiced tea, while matching candelabra illuminated the long buffet table.

Music for dancing was by the Dean Baker orchestra of Odessa.

Highlighting the evening was the presentation of a large cake as the assembled guests joined in expressing birthday wishes to Tollett.

Approximately 300 guests attended.

BSP Unit Has Party

Mrs. George Dawson, 605 Colgate, was hostess for the Thursday evening meeting of Preceptor Mu Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, and served dinner to the 20 attending.

Mrs. John Rouche presided and announced that the chapter's Christmas party will be held Dec. 22 in the home of Mrs. Stanley Reed. The chapter will also be delivering gifts to 25 elderly people and will provide a food and gift basket for a needy family.

In line with the program theme, "Turn the Key to New Discoveries," Mrs. Dawson gave a program on the recognition and care of antiques, showing furniture, glass and silver from her collection.

Lace cloths covered the quarter tables where guests were seated and serving was from a buffet covered with red linen and overlaid with lace. An orange and red floral arrangement was used with red candles and brass and silver appointments. The hostess was assisted by her mother, Mrs. C. F. Huling, and her daughter, Catherine.

The chapter will serve a banquet for the Stanton Chamber of Commerce on Feb. 22, and will buy two cases of glasses for the Physicians Hospital in Stanton. They will assist with a party for patients at the Big Spring State Hospital which will be held in the Cap Rock Electric Building. A donation will also be made to Girls Town.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Pine Cones Need Curing

Dear Heloise:

You know those sticky pine cones that we like to decorate early so they will be ready for Christmas, but they are still too green? Here's how to speed up their "curing process."

Place them on a foil-lined cookie sheet and bake them in your oven at 225 degrees for about 10 minutes to dry out the sap and juice. Then take the cookie sheet out and place it on top of the stove to cool.

All you have to do is take that bottle of white shoe polish with its applicator and "pfft!" The outside of the cone is painted.

Absolutely beautiful for Christmas decorations and centerpieces.

It works! You can also put sparkles on these cones for an added glitter and beauty. Just spray the cones with any hair spray, then roll them in those sparkleties.

The damp hair spray will make them stick. Respray slightly after the glitter is added.

The best way to get a thick coating of sparkles on them is to use good glue. Pour it in a saucer, dip a brush in it and paint QUICKLY around the outside of the cone. Then roll it in the sparkles and let it thoroughly dry.

These add a gay, festive look to the holidays and they can be reused for years and years.

Heloise

Dear Heloise:

I make lots of applesauce and have discovered an easy way to do it.

Quarter and core the apples (don't peel). Put them in a pan with water and a bit of salt. Cover tightly and cook until tender. Then just run them through your colander!

Add sugar and spice to taste. Real good and so simple to make.

Dear Heloise:

When I'm sewing and have to rip a seam, there are always those little cut thread ends to pick out.

I found a SOFT (not pencil type) eraser will rub them out easily. So now I keep one on the point of my seam ripper (when not in use) so it's always handy.

Grandma

Dear Heloise:

I made my baby's bath pad by sewing two squares of flannel together with a piece of plastic between, and bound it with colored tape. After baby's bath, I just put her on the pad until dry and powdered.

Real handy... Nova Buchanan

Dear Heloise:

If you run out of long matches for lighting a fire in the fireplace... don't despair!

Just insert a book match in the end of a drinking straw and light the match with another match... then light the fire. It will save you a few singed fingers.

Sue James

Dear Heloise:

I am a working mother with two school age children. We live near the school and they like to come home for lunch occasionally.

On these days, I have always prepared sandwiches in the morning for them, but felt bad that I couldn't be home to make them some good hot soup.

So now I prepare the soup in the morning and pour it into vacuum bottles. I set the bottles on the table with bowls and spoons and all they do is pour. No danger of them getting burned at the stove trying to heat the soup.

The vacuum bottles they have hold one bowlful — just right to go along with a sandwich and milk.
