

Rodeo's First Night A 'Rousing Success'

Good Crowd Is On Hand

A near-capacity crowd of upwards of 3,000 persons crammed the local rodeo arena here last night, and were treated to an outstanding array of competition on the part of cowboys and cowgirls from over much of the southwest.

The occasion: opening night of the twenty-fifth annual Scurry County Rodeo.

Three more big nights are on tap, with starting times for each being 8 p. m., Thursday through Saturday.

A wide cross-section of events bulged the slate of action of the evening, with the normal run of events being supplemented by several of the "specialty" type.

Last night's competition composed only a portion of the first round of competition, with times and performances of tonight serving to round it out.

Early leaders in the races against time, animals, and cowpoke competitors include those of R. E. Josey in the yearling tie-down event, 15.3 second; Josey in the calf roping event with his 11.7; Billy Bradbury in bull riding with a score of 121; Cotton Barrington in saddle bronc competition with 173 points; Dick Hart with 145 points in the cutting horse vying, mounted on Peppy's Cowboy; Ed Workman in the bareback bronc riding with a compilation of 175; and Linda Merriotti and Betty Frye, tied with 18.3 seconds in the sponsors contest (barrel racing).

Miss Merriotti, a Stamford girl rode Gene Hambo, and Miss Frye, of Abilene, performed on Texas Bug.

In a special event open to anybody willing to give it a whirl, Joe Baxter wrestled a twenty-dollar bill from the tail of a double-ornery Brahma bull following a merry chase which ranged from man-chases-bull to bull-chases-man. Baxter is a familiar figure to local football fans, having played high school ball here and since having performed with the McMurry College Indians.

Another highlight of the night centered around the wild mare race in which teams of three had the dubious task of "taming," saddling, and riding across a designated finish line a number of rambunctious mares. Included in the lineup was one long-eared mule, also.

Larry Reeder of Snyder mastered the situation in that event atop Red Dog.

Tops in the goat sacking contest was Craig Alexander, whose team was one of a host of frolicking youngsters attempting to chase down, sufficiently corral and sack their bleating prizes.

Announcement was made of the sheriff's posse traveling the greatest distance to ride in the rodeo parade, with the trophy for same going to the Lynn County delegation.

In the parade, which circled the square yesterday afternoon, riding group winners included the Fisher County Posse, followed by the Dawson County Posse and Big Spring Riding Club, respectively.

Winners in the 11 o'clock competition—the first three of which were awarded cash prizes—include Lucky 13 Sports Club first, Scurry County Posse Anne second, Snyder Jaycee-ettes third, and Northside Baptist fourth.

A re-cap on times and events as posted during the first night follows:

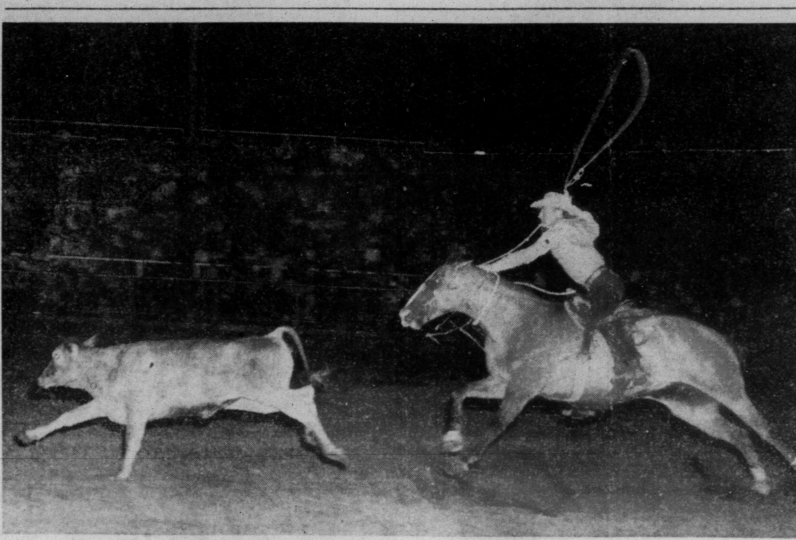

Yearling Tie-Downs: R. E. Josey 15.3; Sonny Phillips 24.4; J. D. Armstrong 22.6; Herb Wood 21.2; Robert Koonce 24.8; Bob Johnson 28.1; J. L. Hedrick 28.8; Donnie Gibbs 27.5; O. C. Jackson 26.5; Peyton Whitaker 40.3; Bob Miller 40.9; Connie Mac Gibbs 40.8; Harold Pella 37.9; Toster Swan 72.3; Connie Gibbs 80.2; Those taking part, but having "no time" inside Sheep Morrow, Bill Flowers, Jack Kirkpatrick, Kenneth Thomas, Horace Gibbs, Tommie Buckner, and La Roy Hodges.

BY STATE OFFICIALS

Cancer Society Is Recognized

Leaders of the 1961 Cancer Crusade in Scurry County have been commended by officials of the Texas Division of the American Cancer Society for their part in what appears to be a record-breaking year for cancer control education and fund-raising in Texas.

Crusade Chairman Mr. Cecil Boren has been notified by the Society that an all-time high for Texas is now within reach before this year's activity concludes in August.

Scurry County has reported total Crusade funds raised of $5,623.57. The county's assigned minimum share of state goal was $5,000.00. It is one of 112 counties in Texas which have already gone over the top.

With more than $1,100,000 already reported, Texas has in prospect a new record contribution to the control of cancer. The highest year previously was 1959, when Texans put $1,169,363 into the fight.

These funds from the Crusade will be put to work immediately in the Society's program of research, education and service.

Sixteen scientists and three medical institutions in Texas are currently working under grants of the Society. Total grants by the American Cancer Society for current research projects in Texas amount to $572,537.

Tunisian Barricades Attacked

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

TUNIS (AP)—Radio Tunis said the French launched a coordinated attack by land, sea and air today against Tunisian barricades surrounding the French naval base at Bizerte.

The broadcast reported the city of Bizerte badly damaged in the attacks and its water and electricity supplies cut.

The French were silent on this latest report from the undeclared war aimed at forcing the French out of the big North African base.

But President Habib Bourguiba mounted a diplomatic offensive to back up his civilian-military show of force. He took the case to the United Nations and broke diplomatic, but not consular relations with France over the issue.

A bone of contention between France and its former protectorate long before violence broke out Wednesday.

Tunisian troops and civilian volunteers resisted the French attack "heroically," the radio said, and they suffered numerous dead and wounded.

Radio Tunis said French planes from the carrier, Arromanches, fired rockets in low-level attacks on the barricades. It added that the planes were backed up by the big guns of the cruisers Colbert, Bouvet and Chevalier Paul.

This reported artillery barrage appeared to be a cover for thrusts Radio Tunis said were being made by French armored cars and tanks.

JFK Mulling Over Next Berlin Move

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States was expected today to begin immediate consultation with the Allied powers on President Kennedy's decision for reinforcing Allied military power to meet the Soviet threat over Berlin.

Kennedy met with his top diplomatic and military advisers in a session of the National Security Council at the White House late Wednesday.

Press secretary Pierre Salinger said after the meeting "there were decisions made." He said that the administration now enters into "the phase of consultation with our allies."

Kennedy's specific decisions were not disclosed, but it is believed that he made a basic policy determination to increase the size of U.S. armed forces to meet the Berlin crisis. He made clear at his news conference Wednesday he considers the threat to be worldwide.

Present U.S. regular Army and Marine Corps ground strength totals about 1,032,000, of which 856,000 is Army. In the reservoir of ground forces are about 399,000 national Guard troops, 300,999 trained Army reserves and 208,000 in the ready reserve of the Marine Corps.

Administration officials had been saying privately for several weeks that the developing threats against Berlin by Soviet Premier Khrushchev provide the focal point of danger at present but that the peril to U.S. interest in such distant places as Southeast Asia, which Kennedy himself had mentioned at the news conference, must be taken into account.

Another security council meeting was scheduled for today. But it was understood to have been called to deal with problems other than Berlin.

Mobilization Setup Could Affect Air Support Units

By ELTON C. FAY AP Military Affairs Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—Any mobilization of National Guard and reserve ground forces may be matched by action to increase correspondingly the tactical air support and airlift transport for foot soldiers.

And this could mean that some Air Force Reserve and Air National Guard men would be called to active duty.

Final details of President Kennedy's over-all plan for augmenting conventional war capabilities in the face of the Berlin crisis and other world tensions were assembled in a long White House session Wednesday.

Earlier, in his news conference Kennedy declined to indicate how much the plan would cost. Speculation has ranged widely, up to as high as $5 billion.

At the White House meeting were the President, members of the National Security Council, and Pentagon military advisers. The session intensified speculation that, among other things, Kennedy would declare a state of limited emergency, under which he could summon some National Guard divisions to federal service and call in reserves, either as individuals or small, specialized units.

By law, Kennedy can bring up to a million men into active federal duty under a state of limited emergency. More than that would require congressional action.

Most public attention has focused on the possibility that Kennedy would decide to beef up readiness for conventional war by calling up more ground troops. However, Pentagon officials have emphasized that the review made by the Joint Chiefs of Staff as guidance for Kennedy was for across the board—air and naval as well as ground forces.

Military doctrine calls for a fairly constant ratio of tactical air power and ground forces. During the past three years, the size of the Tactical Air Force has been reduced gradually, now standing at 32 wings. The first military budget submitted by the Eisenhower administration for the new fiscal year proposed again clipping the Tactical Air Force, to a 31-wing total for the year ending next June 30.

Benson Backs Down On Statement

HENDERSON, Tex. (AP)—William Benson did an about-face today and declared, "I had nothing to do with the explosion" that killed 296 persons 24 years ago at the New London school.

The Oklahoma ex-convict thus repudiated a declaration made in Oklahoma City Monday that he loosened gas pipes at the school and caused the blast that almost wiped out a generation of children in New London.

Benson, 41, spoke clearly and calmly to newsmen after he was escorted into the Rusk County courtroom by Sheriff Pete Gibson.

Today's retraction is backed up by lie detector tests given Benson Wednesday in Dallas, said Dist. Atty. William Ferguson, who sat with Benson at the news conference.

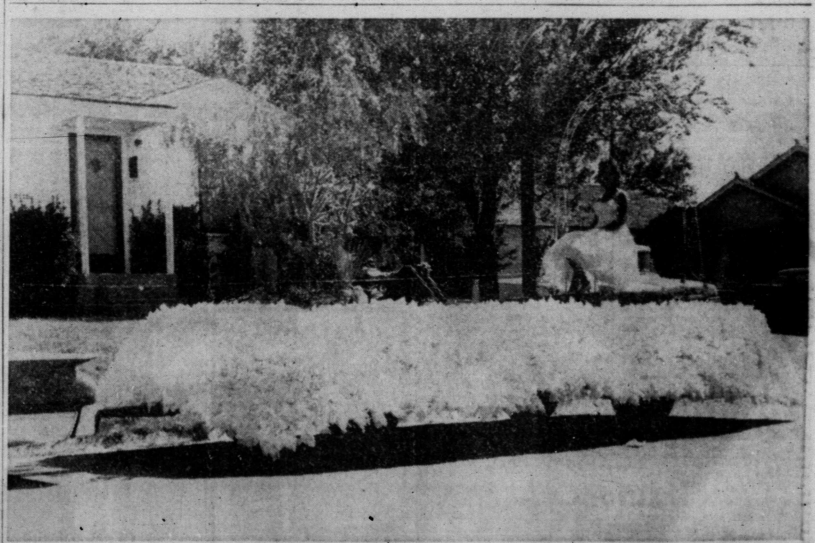

Why did he make a fake confession? "Well, I just told them that."

Officers escorted Benson here Wednesday night from Oklahoma City.

WINNING FLOAT—The two clowns give a big 'howdy' as they ride the Lucky 13 Sports Club's first-place float in Wednesday's rodeo parade. The girls are, left to right, Sandra Brinner and Charlotte Stewart. The bull which carries the float is shown making a surprise attack from behind.

A COWBOY'S DREAM—Nothing like a mesquite shade tree and a beautiful girl, with cactus around to add flavor. This float, entitled "A Cowboy's Dream," took second place in Wednesday's parade. The cowboy is Tim Farmer and the girl is Linda Maule. Third place in the float contest went to the Jaycee-ette entry, a large tan-gallon, white hat.

HEAD 'EM UP, MOVE 'EM OUT!—These girls prepare for Friday morning's bicycle rides in connection with the Girls' Recreation program. The girls are, left to right, Beverly Bell, Dion Heard and Ginger Howell. Approximately 60 girls are expected to participate in the ride. The girls are to meet at the high school and Travis High gymnasiums at 7:30 Friday morning. The two groups will then congregate at the 'Y' of the Claremont and Lubbock Highways and continue to the Newton farm for games and lunch. The girls will ride back and should arrive back in town by 12 noon or 1:30 p. m. Girls are to bring their own lunches, and drinks will be furnished by the Girls' Recreation program. Only members of the Girls' Recreation are eligible to make the trip.

IT'S LINE OF DUTY

Secret Service Men Know How To Protect Kennedys

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL
 WASHINGTON (AP)—Thirty-five men around the President constantly turn their backs on him—and get away with it. These aren't ordinary men. They watch the people who watch the President. Carefully picked, rigorously trained, they are Secret Service agents responsible for the life and safety of the chief executive and his family.

What is a typical agent like? What tempts him into a job that keeps him away from home a year, costs him money out of his own pocket for expenses, and expects him to put his own life on the line, if need be, to protect the man in the White House?

U. E. Baughman, chief of the U. S. Secret Service, took a reporter in tow, looked around, spotted Charles Hall as a rather typical agent, and even started the interviewing himself. Since Baughman doesn't want names and pictures of his agents printed widely, the name is fiction but the initials are right.

Hall is a well-knit chap with nose-cropped, curly brown hair. He carries 185 pounds on a 5-foot-11 frame—and a 38 revolver in his left hip. He looks as if he could have turned in a pretty fair performance as a halfback in college. But he was an end instead at Centralia College in western Minnesota.

"How old are you?" the chief asked.

"Twenty-nine."

"Married?"

"Yes, and he has a son 4½ and another baby due in October. He rents a semi-detached house in the suburbs."

Never while he is on duty is Hall without that gun on his hip. The matter of evening clothes points up a problem. Since Secret Service agents accompany the President and Mrs. Kennedy everywhere they go in public, all sorts of official and social functions, they need a varied wardrobe. It's a uniform in effect, but they get no clothing allowance.

Hall invested $55 in a tuxedo. When he has to turn out in white tie and tails, for state dinners or receptions, for example, he rents them for $12.50 an evening—$12.50 of his own money.

When the First Family goes out of town to Middleburg, Va., New York, Palm Beach, Cape Cod, Hall goes along. But he and the Jefferson County

Jefferson County Seeks Graveyard

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Jefferson County is seeking to purchase the church site and graveyard where former President Lincoln's grandfather and the forebears of former President Truman are buried.

Fiscal Court Wednesday called for negotiations to purchase the site of Long Run Baptist church near Eastwood and to put up a memorial after a suggestion from the church pastor.

"The church burned several months ago."

Borgerite Among Teaching Aspirants

WASHINGTON (AP)—E. Norman Gary, 22, of Borger, Tex., was among 43 candidates the Peace Corps announced will begin training at Harvard University next month for possible teaching assignments in Nigeria.

The volunteers will wind up training Sept. 7. They are scheduled to begin training in Nigerian secondary schools at the opening of the school year there in late January.

Bring On The Sunshine

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—Tropical storm Brenda dumped more than 12 inches of rain on Florida the last time the St. Petersburg Independent gave away its "sunshine" edition of the paper.

That was July 29, 1960. The Independent gave another edition, the 212th, away Wednesday when the rain failed to show up. The Independent building for 24 hours. The paper started the practice in 1910 to promote St. Petersburg as the "Sunshine City."

other agents don't live in the style of a president. They can't afford it, not on $12 a day to cover room, food, laundry, odds and ends—everything but transportation.

Hall is in Civil Service Grade 10. That pays $6,795 a year. In October he will have been in the SS three years and should go up to Grade 11 and $7,560. In time he might work up to $14,000 or $15,000 a year.

The job has rewards for Hall, even though he must be away from his wife and son frequently.

"Partly," he said, "it's the wide experience you get and the type and variety of people you meet."

"You get a lot of satisfaction out of knowing the First Family appreciates the protection you give them. You sense it even when they don't come right on and say so."

What are his orders if somebody tries to attack the President or one of the family?

"I would automatically respond and protect them at all costs, no matter what the cost to myself might be."

"One of the understandings we have is that we'd give our lives if necessary. We aren't told that. It's just one of the things we understand when we get the job."

Regardless of that unspoken requirement, there are men lined up waiting to get into the SS.

"We don't have to go out recruiting," Chief Baughman said.

A few agents at the White House have fixed assignments—with Mrs. Kennedy or with daughter Caroline, for example. Most of them are assigned to the President and are split up into three eight-hour shifts.

Sleepy Hitchhiker Is Dead Today

LEBANON, Mo. (AP)—A 17-year-old hitchhiker from Muskogee, Mich., caught a ride on U. S. 66 Wednesday.

Wearily, he fell asleep—so soundly that he toppled over against the driver, causing the car to swerve off the road and overturn. The youth, Frank Kimbel Murphy, was killed.

Doctor Does Quick Surgery

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP)—"I didn't know what the trouble was when Sgt. Fritz said to hurry."

"But when I saw the man on the ground, not breathing, I knew the only thing to do was to open his chest and try to get his heart beating again."

In these measured words, still carrying a strong accent, Dr. Jay Jedryzewski, a Polish refugee who spent three years in Hitler's concentration camps, told how he calmly made a 4-inch incision in the chest of Earl Butler, felled on contact with 7,200 volts of electricity.

Butler, 42, sinking a well in the yard of his suburban Fridley home late Wednesday, had been shocked unconscious when an extension of a posthole digger came in contact with a power line.

"Seeing him without any signs of life and learning he had been electrocuted," the doctor said, "I thought there was still a chance to work on him and bring him back to life."

"Yes, for all purposes he was dead. But maybe there was a 25 per cent chance to save him."

The 41-year-old doctor borrowed a pocketknife from Police Sgt. Lynus Fritz and opened Butler's chest cavity, inserting his right hand to massage the organ.

"Dr. Jay went in and kept working for more than an hour," said a policeman. "We kept wiping the sweat from his head as he worked." Fridley firemen administered oxygen.

"With the help of adrenalin into the heart the organ showed more and more signs of functioning," said the doctor.

"You could hardly call the heart self-sufficient, but after about an hour of massaging he started gasping for breath. This gave me the thought he might be saved; also his pupils, which at the beginning were completely dilated, showed signs of activity."

While Jay kept his hand in Butler's chest, firemen and police helped lift Butler into an emergency wagon.

IN KOREA

US Accused Of Blocking Power

By ALAN CLINE
 SEOUL, Korea (AP)—Retired Gen. James A. Van Fleet today criticized American officials here for trying to block the South Korean military from seizing power.

Terming the May coup "the finest thing that has happened to Korea in 1,000 years," the former commander of U.S. and U.N. forces in Korea said if the army had not taken over the government, the United States would have been forced to step in.

"The military witnessed a lot of inefficiency and corruption and the American colony witnessed the same thing," said Van Fleet in an interview. "We criticized this, but we did not correct it."

Van Fleet, who commanded the 8th Army in Korea from 1951 to 1953, is often called the "father" of the South Korean army, which he had a major hand in training.

He said the U.S.-U.N. commander at the time of the coup, Lt. Gen. Carter B. Magruder, and U.S. Charge d'Affairs Marshall Green "elected wrong" in supporting the ousted government of Premier John M. Chang against the military rebels.

Van Fleet said Magruder, since retired, "illegally ordered" top South Korean army officers to remain neutral at the time of the coup. He declared that Magruder himself "should have stayed neutral unless there was chaos and violence."

Van Fleet, emphasizing he was speaking as "an individual out here on my own," said it "all right to talk about representative government, but such a system, except in great nations like the United States and Great Britain, lets elements get into the government and destroy it."

"You cannot make a mistake in undeveloped countries where the enemy is lurking," he said.

A U.S. Embassy spokesman, informed of Van Fleet's criticism, referred to a previous State Department statement that Magruder and Green had acted in line with the "traditional position" of the U.S. government... (in supporting) the freely elected, constitutionally established government with which we had friendly relations."

Watch That Menu

ATLANTA (AP)—The Georgia States' Rights council today dropped orange juice from the menu of a fund raising dinner the segregation-minded organization will hold at a downtown hotel Monday night.

Georgia and Florida are engaged in a retaliatory tax war involving citrus fruits and chickens.

"The menu originally featured steak and orange juice," a council spokesman said. "It has been changed to chicken and Georgia fruit juices because of the CCC."

He explained that mean "chicken-Citrus Controversy." Peach, apple and berry juice will be served.

SWISS STEAK is simmered in a delicious sauce made with the new tomato soup mix. It demonstrates the great versatility of this packaged soup mix which first of all makes a tomato soup that tastes unlike any other one you've ever eaten.

Swiss Steak Made With Soup Mix Is Delicious

For the ingenious cook seeking something new and different, here is an original way to prepare the ever-popular Swiss steak. A sturdy dish, aptly named after the natives of Switzerland who like their food good and substantial, it is made in this recipe with a package of tomato soup mix.

The tomato soup mix, delicately seasoned with celery, parsley, onions and spices, makes a delicious base for the sauce in which the steak is simmered.

The smart homemaker should keep a couple of packages handy on her pantry shelf at all time.

They don't take up much room and she will find them very convenient for cooking up a pot of delicious old-fashioned tomato soup in a matter of minutes. In addition, a package of tomato soup mix is a remarkably easy way to make quick, mouth-watering sauces at a moment's notice and serves as well as a flavorful ingredient in all sorts of main dishes.

Towel Care Can Prolong Durability

Tugging and pulling, and seessaw rubbing are everyday occurrences in the life of a towel. Although most towels are made to resist this rough treatment, they will eventually wear out. Additional rough treatment given to towels will cause them to wear out long before their time. Here are some practical hints for the homemaker who wants to prolong the life of her towels.

Have plenty of cleaning cloths or rags on hand in the bathroom and the kitchen so that when something spills you aren't tempted to wipe it up with a bath towel. Provide the men of the family with a special cloth for drying their razor blades, many mysterious cuts and tears in towels can be traced to inadvertent slitting while cleaning razor blades.

Do not use good towels for removing make-up. Some beauty aids, particularly lipstick, can leave damaging stains in the fabric and even the professional laundry-man might find them difficult to remove.

Avoid using the same towels over and over again. Distribute wear evenly by rotating them.

Replenish your towel supply at regular intervals. This avoids having all the towels wear out at the same time. With plenty of towels in the household, wear is spread over all instead of being concentrated on a few. Have enough to allow for several sets in use, several at the laundry and some ready to use.

Check bathroom and kitchen hamper, towel bars and linen closet shelves to insure that towels from sharp points and splinters. If a towel does become snagged, the snagged thread should be cut at the surface; never pull the thread. Mend selvages, ravel, or breaks immediately. Quick repairs may add months of wear.

Terry towels and wash cloths last longer if laundered before becoming too soiled. For that soft, fluffy finish, you'll need soft water and plenty of suds, plus several changes of fresh water. For example "professional laundries use from eleven to thirteen complete changes of fresh water to be sure the articles are clean. Inadequately rinsed terry is often stiff and rough. But by proper washing and rinsing, that terrible result is a soft, luxurious finish.

1 cup butter or margarine
2 teaspoons vanilla
5 large eggs
1 1/2 cups sugar

Sift together the flour, baking powder and salt. Cream butter and vanilla; gradually beat in sifted flour mixture. Beat eggs until thick and ivory colored; beat in sugar a little at a time. Gradually beat egg-sugar mixture into butter-flour mixture so that batter is fluffy and smooth. Turn into two greased and floured metal loaf pans (each about 8 by 4 by 3 inches); bake in slow (325 degrees) oven 1 hour or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean. Allow cakes in pans to stand on wire rack for 10 minutes; turn out and cool.

How To Make Non-Skid Mitt

If you're the type who loses her washcloth—and her temper—in the tub or shower, why not try a bath mitt which will stay right on your hand.

It isn't even necessary to buy one. Just fold any washcloth in half, and machine-stitch or overcast along one long and one short edge of the cloth. Such a mitt is as easy to lather up and use as it is to make.

D&D Club Has Unusual Speaker

Mr. C. Bronce Bristol, District Superintendent for J. P. (Bum) Gibbins, was the speaker Tuesday night at the Snyder Desk and Derrick Club meeting. "A Philosophy for Living in a Technical Age" was the fascinating subject of the talk.

Bronce Bristol was born in Tulsa, Oklahoma and attended the University of Oklahoma, graduating with a degree in Chemical Engineering. During World War II he served as a pilot in the U. S. Air Force. In addition he has been a member of the Alpha Chi Sigma Fraternity, Snyder Chamber of Commerce, A.P.I., N. A. C. E., Masonic Lodge, Methodist Churchified as a speaker and his subject is one in which he is avidly interested.

Mr. Bristol's interest in extrasensory perception, clairvoyance and telepathy has become his hobby, and he had many interesting instances to relate including the familiar Bridie Murphy tales and newer studies now being conducted at Duke University. The club members were challenged with the idea, whether they believe in extrasensory perception, the "id," etc., to have the power of relaxation, the desire to succeed and the faith that such could be—and it would be.

Frustration Fills Detention Camp

By IRWIN FRANK
 MCALLEN (AP) — Rolls of barbed wire hang from the top of the tall iron mesh fence that surrounds the alien detention camp.

Inside about 150 men await deportation.

Some are criminals from New York, Chicago or Kansas City. Some are seamen who jumped ship. Most are Mexicans who entered the United States illegally in search of jobs.

The camp is one of three operated by the Border Patrol. Others are in El Paso and El Centro, Calif.

The cluster of pale green concrete block of plywood buildings with white shingle roofs is about 100 yards from the McAllen city limits, about 10 miles from the Rio Grande.

Few know where the camp is. Citrus groves and tall palms surround the camp.

Most men stay in the camp 15 days before being deported. None stay more than 6 months. The law says if they are not deported in that time they must be released.

Responsibility Increases For Women

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP) — Women today have greatly increased responsibilities, the president of the International Christian Women's Fellowship said Wednesday night.

Mrs. William Evans of Austin, Minn., told the 3,200 delegates at the opening session of the group's quadrennial assembly.

"The time has passed that we can blame men for war, for crime, for poor legislation and all the other evils of our day," she said.

Women leaders in the Disciples of Christ demonstration from Asia, Africa, South and Central America, Great Britain and the United States are attending the five-day convention at Purdue University.

More than 200 women are from Texas. They included Mrs. Pauline Thomas, Fort Worth, executive secretary, Texas Christian Women's Fellowship; Mrs. John Hackley, Jacksboro, president of the group; Mrs. E. G. Titus, Dallas, president department of CWF of Texas Christian Missionary Convention; and Mrs. W. R. Neal, Dallas, and Mrs. C. S. Schoverling, Houston, representatives to international CWF.

Mrs. E. V. Rowland Jr., Dallas, is chairman of a series of study groups. Mrs. R. O. Pearson, Abilene, is in charge of exhibits.

Two special train cars carried 74 of Texas delegates to the convention. Forty-one others traveled by bus chartered by the First Christian Church of Abilene. The bus tour stopped at colleges and home mission service centers enroute. The tour is headed by Mrs. Norman Conner, Abilene.

Some survivors of the ill-fated attempt to invade Cuba spent time in this camp while the Justice Department checked them.

Men who fought in the army of ousted Cuban President Batista against present Cuban dictator Fidel Castro have been held here, as have Turks, Canadians, Chinese, Norwegians, Danes and men from dozens of other countries.

The feeling of the 35 Border Patrol guards toward the Mexicans at the camp was expressed by one official who said:

"You can't blame these men. If I had a wife and kids who were hungry I'd be swimming that river right now."

Chief Border Patrol Inspector T. L. Ball said that "in almost all cases economic necessity makes Mexicans cross the border illegally. They seek higher wages in the United States. They find work not only in states bordering on Mexico but also as far north as Chicago and New York."

Beaumont Trial To Jury Friday

BEAUMONT (AP) — Testimony has ended in the ouster trial of suspended District Attorney Ramon Griffin and preparation of the court's charge to the jury was set for today.

Both state and defense rested Wednesday in the trial that started July 12.

District Judge Harold Clayton dismissed jurors until Friday while he and attorneys for both sides confer on the court's charge to the jury.

Attorney General Will Wilson initiated the suit to oust Griffin from office on allegations of misconduct, incompetence and acceptance of bribes.

One of the last witnesses was an admitted ex-prostitute from New Orleans. She identified herself as Mrs. Lillian Haager, alias Lee Morris, 34. She said she once worked in a Beaumont house of prostitution.

She testified as a state's rebuttal witness on the objection of Question Keith, chief defense counsel.

The well-dressed brunette testified that she saw Griffin several times in the front parlor of the house talking with the woman operator.

Acting District Attorney W. G. Walley Jr. asked that her testimony be permitted to show that Griffin had information of alleged houses of prostitution in Beaumont and made no move to close them before January of this year.

County Clerk L. R. Blakeman, called by the defense, testified Griffin filed 16 injunction suits seeking to stop gambling and prostitution in Jefferson County.

The witness said they were filed last January, about the time the Texas House General Investigating Committee exposed widespread vice in Jefferson County.

The defense called five character witnesses who testified Griffin's reputation for truth is good. Two were ministers, the Rev. Herman Andy Radke, pastor of the Evangelist Assembly of God Church in nearby Vidor, and the Rev. O. B. Brent, pastor of Fellowship Baptist Church in Beaumont.

Union Leader Ousted Wednesday

CHICAGO (AP) — A Teamsters Union local given solid support by President James R. Hoffa and whose president once was accused by a Senate committee of running the nation's most corrupt union, was ousted Wednesday as bargaining agent for Chicago's two major taxicab companies.

A reform union, headed by Weonim Abata, the local's first president who lost his job in 1952 to Joseph P. (Joey) Gimco, won the right to represent about 3,200 organized cab drivers and cab garage employees.

The results of the election, ordered and supervised by the National Labor Relations Board, were a resounding defeat for Hoffa. The Teamsters president made a special trip to Chicago from San Francisco earlier this week to campaign for the election of Gimco's union, Teamsters Local 777, Chicago Taxicab Drivers Union.

The NLRB said the election, which climaxed a bitter 2½-year fight between Gimco and Abata, was won by the union headed by Abata, Local 777 Democratic Union Organizing Committee.

The final count was announced as 2,220 for DMOC to 1,760 for Gimco's local. The NLRB said 4,980 of the 5,186 eligible voters marked ballots. Voting was orderly.

In ordering the election, the NLRB said Gimco and the Yellow and Checker Cab companies had engaged in unfair labor practices. The board said Gimco used threats, intimidation and violence to retain his job as president.

Frequent incidents of violence marked the fight between Gimco and Abata, who has been under 24-hour police guard for several months as the result of threats against his life. Gimco has a Chicago police record dating back 30 years and has a record of 35 arrests.

GRISSOM WAS READY—WEATHER WASN'T—Carrying his portable air conditioner, Astronaut Virgil Grissom emerges from Hanger S at Cape Canaveral for the ride to the launching pad to board the rocket which was to have carried him on America's second manned space flight. Bad weather postponed the flight at the last minute. (AP Wirephoto)

Odds Now For Space Ride Friday

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
 Associated Press Science Writer
 CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — For the third time astronaut Virgil I. Gus. Grissom and 5,000 men giving direct support—gambled today against tricky weather to permit his ride into space Friday.

Early weather odds indicated a 6-to-4 chance skies would be clear enough at 6 a.m., Eastern Standard Time, Friday for a go-ahead.

The gamble now is apparently all on weather.

Cloudy weather postponed Grissom's first attempt Tuesday and again Wednesday after he spent 3½ hours lying in his space capsule atop a fully-fueled rocket.

Grissom's pulse raced up to 120 counts a minute during the countdown that fell 10½ minutes short of blastoff.

But his doctor called that expectable in the excitement, and said Grissom always was in fine shape.

Grissom will spend the day in seclusion resting and continuing training for his trip designed to gain additional information in the wake of Cmdr. Alan B. Shepard's May 5 flight.

A new countdown began this morning to ready the Friday launching. Liquid oxygen was removed from the rocket, but the

THE STORY OF OUR CIVILIZATION

Buttons, Knobs, Switches

By SAM DAWSON
 AP Business News Analyst
 NEW YORK (AP)—You set a gadget that keeps the roast from burning in the oven.

In troubled Kuwait or serene Aruba you would adjust an instrument to make sure that desalinated sea water gets just the right amount of soda ash added, as needed, to make it tasty.

The power generating plant that supplies you with electricity has a device that assures a steady pulsing speed—otherwise your electric clock would never be dependable.

Oilmen use automatic gadgets to move widely differing products through the same complex pipeline networks without mixing.

Huge factories start or stop intricate industrial processes, such as your thermostat turns the oven on and off to cook the roast to a turn.

It may be a simple switching device to regulate your furnace heat or the most complicated of electronic automation—it's known as process control. And the making of controls grows steadily and their variety multiplies—so does the list of firms making them.

There are now controls to ride herd on other controls as automation spreads through more industries.

Annual sales of control devices are estimated at around $200 million. And this doesn't include the cost of computers that may be checking up on or improving the operation of these mechanization devices.

"Computer control of processes is rounding out the industrial evolution which began when man discovered the principles of the lever and the wheel," says George E. Beggs Jr. He is executive vice president of Leeds & Northrup of Philadelphia, a veteran maker of control instruments.

During World War I, L.&N. patented an experimental automatic control equipment, forerunner of the refined controls it now makes for industry.

Many automatic controls are involved in the space flights capturing today's headlines.

But they have many down to earth uses, too. They regulate not only temperatures, but humidity, pressure, air pollution, acidity, concentration of flow of gas or liquid, radiation, light intensity, mechanical load, weight, size and speed.

Plants such as in Aruba use a control instrument to measure the alkalinity of the desalinated water, and if it falls below the standards of human taste the device signals a valve which adds enough soda ash to bring it up to the desired flavor.

Relatively small gadgets can do some mighty big jobs.

Local Soldier Member Of 'Gold Patriots'

HANAU, GERMANY.—Army PFC Jesse N. Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse A. Johnson, Route 3, Snyder, Tex., recently became a member of the Seventh U.S. Army's Order of Gold Patriots while serving with the 32d Artillery in Germany.

Members of this voluntary movement have pledged their support of President John F. Kennedy in reducing the outflow of gold from the U. S. In so doing they have agreed to save a certain percentage of their pay each month. Chapters of the Order are being established in all units throughout the Seventh Army.

Johnson, a radio-teletype operator in the artillery's Headquarters and Service Battery in Hanau, entered the Army in June 1959 and arrived overseas in March 1960.

The 18-year-old soldier attended Snyder High School.

WITH BLANKET OF LIES

Eichmann Confesses Covering Up Killings

By THOMAS A. REEDY
JERUSALEM (AP)—Atty. Gen. Gideon Hausner concluded his cross-examination of Adolf Eichmann today, forcing a final confession from the ex-Gestapo officer that he was part of a Nazi conspiracy to camouflage the mass slaughter of the Jews behind a blanket of lies.

But after two weeks of blistering attack, the former head of Jewish affairs for the SS maintained to the end that his actions were done on orders from his superior officers.

Hausner took Eichmann back to an incident in Slovakia when the defendant blocked an appeal of local authorities to visit the death camps to see if Slovakian Jews were all right.

"You signed the letter to the Slovakian authorities, saying that there was no need for them to visit the camps," Hausner asked.

"Yes, I was ordered (by SS chief Heinrich Himmler) to use that language," Eichmann answered.

"You said stories of extermination were only grueling tales?" Hausner asked.

"Yes, I was ordered to say that too," Eichmann answered.

"And the Red Cross was allowed only to go to Theresienstadt?" the prosecutor continued.

"Yes, that's why Himmler created it."

"This was the apparatus of camouflage in dealing with foreign nations. Inside the German Reich and even with the Jews themselves?"

"Yes," Eichmann said, "with one reservation. I discussed frankly and openly with the Jewish functionaries . . . No, no, I must correct that, with only one Jewish functionary."

Hausner went on: "You promised the Jews in Budapest in March 1944 that after the war things would be back to normal, and you promised they would not be deported to Auschwitz?"

"Yes, I had orders to do that," Eichmann said.

"And you are the person who says he never uttered a false word?"

Eichmann grimaced. "I did not have to decide these things myself," he responded. "I was forced and pressed by my superiors."

In the final hours of the cross-examination, Eichmann admitted he helped organize the march of 25,000 Jews from Budapest to Austria in 1944, but he blamed the Hungarian Fascists for turning it into a death march.

Police said Shackleford suddenly jumped up from a seat, snatched Marshall's revolver from its holster, ran to the outer door, turned and began firing wildly.

Page and Oberlin were hit and went down.

Shackleford ran outside and Williams pursued him. The officer fired five times with his revolver and Shackleford fell dead.

Hospital attendants said they didn't know why the man apparently went berserk.

Police said the dead man, Richard Shackleford, about 26, was identified by a relative as a former mental patient. The relative didn't know why Shackleford was at the hospital.

Cpl. Raymond Oberlin, 45, shot in the groin, was reported in critical condition. Patrolman Virgil Page, 31, was wounded in a leg.

At least four policemen were among the 15 persons in the receiving room of the North St. Louis Hospital when the shooting began at 12:30 a.m.

Patrolman Earl Marshall and Roland Williams, 31, were sitting at desks writing reports on persons they had brought to the hospital.

FOR SCHOOLS

Education Aid Supporters Demand Separate Program

By JOE HALL
WASHINGTON (AP)—The congressional pilots of the frozen general federal aid to education bill tried to bring it back to life today through demands for continuation of a popular, separate school program.

The program involves about $300 million of annual aid to school districts whose enrollments are swollen because of federal installations. It expired June 30.

The aid, known as the impacted areas program, would be revived by provisions in the general $2.55 billion public school grant bill shelved in the House Rules Committee Tuesday.

Many House members and senators have been demanding that, if the general education bill is dead, a separate impacted areas extension bill be put through before Congress quits for the year.

However, Rep. Frank Thompson Jr., D-N.J., chief sponsor of the general bill in the House, said "It is my considered judgment that the President would veto any separate impacted-area legislation unless it was cut well below the current level."

Thompson noted that 319 Congressmen—far more than a majority—represent districts where schools receive help under the 10-year-old impacted areas program.

Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., the chairman of the Senate Education subcommittee which would have to handle any separate Senate extension bill, told newsmen flatly he would do nothing to get such legislation enacted.

"It is my opinion," he said, "that the aid provided in the im-acted areas laws will and should come to an end unless the Congress proceeds to pass a general education bill."

Morse, who piloted a $2.55-billion general grade and high school bill through the Senate in May, noted that more than one-third of the nation's children are educated in districts which benefit from the impacted areas program.

His subcommittee, in acting on the general measure, rejected a Kennedy recommendation that this aid be cut down.

President Kennedy told a news conference Wednesday that the two issues should be kept in one bill. Congress would not meet its responsibilities, he said, if it passed only impacted areas legislation.

Kennedy also gave heart to supporters of the general bill at the Capitol with his assertion the general school bill is "probably the most important piece of domestic legislation I have requested."

Shortly after his news conference, the Senate Labor Committee approved 11-4 another piece of school legislation on which the President had put an urgent tag—extension of the 1958 National Defense Education Act.

The committee voted to broaden this law to cover some Kennedy recommendations as well as to include several new features of its own.

The authorizations in the bill for the current fiscal year would total $475 million as compared with about $225 million under present law.

Most controversial feature of the measure is a provision for $125 million in loans each year to parochial and other private schools to build classrooms for teaching of mathematics, science, foreign languages and physical fitness.

The operation was performed Wednesday and a spokesman said the actress is expected to leave Cedars of Lebanon Hospital in about four days.

How about a Fair Break for Railroads?

we're asking your support for equal treatment by government of all carriers, including the railroads

The Association of American Railroads has drawn up a document called "Magna Carta for Transportation."

We're asking for public support of this common-sense statement on public transportation policy, hoping citizens will recognize that an entire industry that serves them is being deprived of its natural rights—and will want to help.

What to do? Ask your congressman to help restore to the railroads these "four freedoms":

- Freedom from discriminatory regulation
- Freedom from discriminatory taxation
- Freedom from subsidized competition
- Freedom to provide a diversified transportation service

Yank Tracksters Off For London

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
STUTTGART, Germany (AP)—With the hospital list growing by leaps and bounds, the battle-weary United States track team headed for London today and a two-day meet with Britain Friday and Saturday.

Coach Jumbo Jim Elliott's squad wound up winners 148 in events and 129.91 in points, over West Germany here Wednesday with two additions to the sick bay squad—miler Jim Grellie and javelin thrower John Fromm.

The U.S. women's team may have lost its ace—Wilma Rudolph, who complained of a pain in her right leg after flashing to a world record of 11.2 seconds in a special 100-meter race during the men's meet Wednesday night. Wilma shares the listed mark of 11.3 with two others. Her injury is a pull in the hamstring muscle but team physician, Dr. Dan Hanley, said he thought she would be able to compete in the remaining two meets.

Grellie, who was scheduled to run the 1,500 meters against West Germany, had a sore throat, and Fromm complained of a muscle pull. Both were scratched.

Paul Drayton, No. 2 sprinter, was kept out of the West German meet because of a muscle pull. Pole vaulter John Uelses is getting over a leg infection.

Against the West Germans, it looked as though the upset of the year was in the making, especially when Manfred Gerner beat Frank Budd in a 20.7 for the 200-meter title.

Budd had been beaten only once in 25 races this year. Gerner is one of the top sprinters in Europe.

The Americans collected two unexpected victories when Dean Jones won the 3,000-meter steeplechase in 8:47.4, and John Gulikowich took the 10,000 meters in 29:46.8.

Dwight Burleson won the 1,500 meters in a routine 3:50.3. High jumper John Thomas cleared 7'4". He missed at 7'2 1/2. Ralph Boston, the world record-holder, coasted to a 26-3 1/4 victory in the broad jump.

Cliff Cushman of Grand Forks, N.D., fought off Helmut Janz, an old Olympic rival, in the 400-meter hurdles. Cushman won in the last stride, and both were caught in 50.4.

Jay Silvester, an Army Lieutenant from Trenton, Utah, won the shot put with a 60.5 heave to become the only double winner. He captured the discus the first day.

The final United States triumph was in the 1,600-meter relay which Adolph Plummer, Jerry Schubert, Earl Young and Ullis Williams won in 3:06.1.

For the second straight night Texas League clubs, playing on their home diamonds, bounded out of action with the Mexican League in fine fashion Wednesday—capturing all six hits.

Retaliating from a 2-6 loss to the Mexico City Reds Tuesday night, San Antonio slugged the Reds with a 17-hit attack and an 11-1 victory.

Amarillo, the Texas League leader, slammed out 19 hits off five Monterrey hurlers to capture a 12-5 triumph.

Dennis Loudenback, who clubbed a home run in the ninth to give Ardmore a victory over Puebla Tuesday night, made another fine showing by drying in five runs with a homer, triple and single. He led the Rosebuds to a 13-1 decision.

Larry Maxie, one of the Texas League's top pitchers, continued to profit against his favorite Mexican League team as he hurled the Austin Senators past Poso Rica's Oilers 7-1.

Maxie, who threw a no-hitter against the Oilers his last time out, stopped his foes with a fourth performance for his eleven-hit victory of the season.

Low Vickers tossed a three-hit game, assisted by a four-for-five night at the plate by Jack Damaska, to sweep a two-game series for Tulsa from the Mexico City Tigers 7-1.

Pitching was the story at Victoria also. Dan Rivas gave up only six hits and the Giants breezed to a 6-1 decision over the Veracruz Eagles.

The Pan American Association interlocking schedule continues in Texas and Oklahoma Thursday.

Poso Rica will be at Victoria, Monterrey at Tulsa, Mexico City Tigers at Ardmore, Mexico City Reds at Austin, Veracruz at San Antonio for a double header, and Puebla at Amarillo.

Cobb Laid To Rest

ROYSTON, Ga. (AP)—Ty Cobb has reached his final resting place.

The body of the fiery Georgia peach of baseball was entombed in the white marble family mausoleum Wednesday beside his parents and his sister, Florence.

About 200 uniformed Little League baseball players, heads bared, lined the roadway leading from the cemetery entrance to the mausoleum as the long procession of automobiles arrived here from Cornelia, site of the funeral services 28 miles to the north.

Cobb spent most of his last years in Cornelia.

Among those at the last rites were Mickey Cochrane and Ray catcher and personal friends of Cobb; and Nap Rucker, onetime National League pitching star and Cobb's roommate when they played no baseball together, at Augusta.

A died Monday in an Atlanta hospital after a two-year battle with cancer.

By pounding out a 5-2 victory over Omaha, Indianapolis maintained its 1 1/2-game advantage over Louisville, a 5-4 conqueror of Houston.

Playoff Games Here Tonight

A pair of important playoff games will be reeled off here tonight, both with starting times of 7:30.

Snyder's All-Star Colt League nine, with its back to the wall after dropping the playoff opener to the Abilene All-Stars, face the same team in a do-or-die battle on Towle Park's Colt League diamond. A Snyder victory would place the deciding contest here tomorrow at 7:30. On the other hand, should Abilene win, that team would thus advance against the winner of the Lovington, New Mexico, and Juarez, Mexico Colt victor.

Tuesday action saw Snyder lose the opener by 4-3 on a late rally by the Abilene nine, with a three-run sixth frame telling the tale.

Also to be played tonight is the opening Little League playoff contest matching the all-stars of the American and National leagues.

That tilt will unfold on the Little League diamond, and the winner will advance in the playoff picture tomorrow night in Rotan at 7:30, meeting the winner of the Rotan-Harlin game being played tonight, also. The two losers are slated to meet in Rotan tomorrow at 5 p. m. in a consolation clash.

Less than three weeks away is the start of the football season. No, it won't be training or playing but it will be the Texas coaching school and that's when they start thinking about football and begin preparations for it.

The twenty-ninth annual clinic will be at San Antonio Aug. 7-10. It's returning to the place where it first saw the light of day—in 1933. Sixty-five coaches gathered in the Alamo city for this new venture. D. X. Bible, then coach of Nebraska, was the first instructor. In fact, he was the only one.

When this year's coaching school is held at San Antonio 3,100 coaches are expected to enroll. That will be seven more than the all-time record set last year at Dallas.

The coaching school is sponsored by the Texas High School Coaches Association, which was founded at Houston in 1930, with the late Johnnie Pierce of Corsicana as the guiding light. It was three years later that the coaches got up enough nerve to put on a school. Two years after that they started the all-star football game in 1946 the all-star basketball game was inaugurated.

Today the Texas coaching school is the largest in the world. It has a "faculty" of top football, basketball and track coaches of the country. And this year it returns to the clinic on Thursday instead of Friday, as usual, the coaches will get a chance to return home and have Saturday and Sunday to prepare for the start of training.

Lecturing on football will be John Bridgers of Baylor, Frank Broyles of Arkansas, Blanton Col-have a baseball expert show up to lecture, and nobody come out to hear him. But the coaches decided they had been missing something that should be important to them, and they returned the diamond sport to the curriculum.

With more than 600 schools playing baseball in Texas it is a wonder it was dropped from the school's courses in the first place. It is hoped that with its return there will be sufficient interest to warrant an all-star game.

Golf had been put on the coaching school schedule but it will not be this year because the clinic was cut to four days. The reason for this was that most of the high schools start golf practice on Monday Aug. 15, and by closing the clinic on Thursday instead of Friday, as usual, the coaches will get a chance to return home and have Saturday and Sunday to prepare for the start of training.

Lecturing on football will be John Bridgers of Baylor, Frank Broyles of Arkansas, Blanton Collier of Kentucky and Claude Gilstrap of Arlington State. Harold Bradley of Texas and Frank McGuire of North Carolina will handle basketball. Johnny Morris of University of Houston will lecture on track and Weaver Jordan of Baylor will discuss athletic training.

The all-star squads will arrive in San Antonio on Saturday, Aug. 5, and begin workouts on Monday. The seventeenth annual basketball game will be on Wednesday night, Aug. 9, with O. W. Falls Lamesa coaching the North and Hal Lambert of Spring Branch handling the South. The South won last year at Dallas but still is well behind in the series. The North has ten victories to six for the South.

The twenty-seventh all-star football game is scheduled Thursday, Aug. 10, with Joe Golding of Wichita Falls coaching the North and Pete Ragus of Corpus Christi Miller the South. Here, too, the South could use a victory. The series now stands fourteen victories for the North, nine for the South and three ties. The South hasn't won one since 1953.

MIWAUKEE (AP) — Most of the nation's top touring pros — with British Open champion Arnold Palmer and U.S. Open king Gene Littler the notable exceptions — were down to tee off today in the opening round of the $30,000 Milwaukee Open.

In the absence of Palmer and Littler, Masters champion Gary Player of South Africa and two-time Milwaukee winner Ken Venturi headed a field of 145 in the four-day, 72-hole test at the North Hills Country Club.

Palmer decided to pass up the Milwaukee to sharpen his game for the PGA, one of the few championships which has eluded him in recent years. Littler had to cancel out because of a previous television match commitment.

Lack of recent heavy rain has left the 6,410-yard course in excellent playing shape and par 70 may be in for a wholesale beating.

Memo to the Washington Senators: No, no! You guys got it wrong. The New York Yankees are supposed to murder YOU!

Well, the Senators are 5-5 for the season against New York after making off with an 8-4 and 12-2 sweep Wednesday night that left the Yanks holding first place by only three percentage points.

The Detroit Tigers—the only outfit that's done better (6-5) against New York—blew a chance to pass the Yankees, losing 4-2 to the third-place Baltimore Orioles.

Cleveland took two from Boston, 4-1 and 9-8; the Chicago White Sox beat Kansas City 6-5.

A DAMMED SHAME

Let's Don't Punish Children For Parents' Irresponsibility

By INEZ ROBB
The attempt of Newburgh, N. Y., to put its economic house in order by adopting new and firmer policies for welfare, relief or public assistance has produced volumes of sound and fury but very little hard sense.

Of Newburgh's 13 suggested reforms, the one on which professional welfare and social workers, as well as ready weepers, have fastened with the loudest anguish is a foolish proviso that welfare relief be withheld from women who repeatedly bear children out of wedlock.

Granted, it is unconscionable to punish, deprive or maltreat helpless children who are in no way to blame for their parentage. But all the howl and cry that has followed Newburgh's attempt to shake the grafters and the malingerers out of the relief rolls, the above proviso has been leaped upon as the handiest scourge to lay the little city up the Hudson. Welfare and social workers have been particularly voluble.

Now, I have been waiting for years, and particularly in the Newburgh case, for these self-admitted experts in "human engineering" to say an intelligent word or offer a loving and humane solution to the very real problem of the children of women who continue to be habitually bear infants without blessing of bell, book and candle.

That is a problem older than welfare and one that plagues communities of the East, West, North and South alike. In the past quarter century, it has roused more real anger and criticism in communities all over the nation than any other aspect of welfare, although it has always been really minor compared with the bulk of welfare problems.

Still, it has been as irritating as a grain of sand in the public eye. Even so, the welfare experts have never attempted to cope with the problem of illegitimacy in a realistic, or intelligent, or kind way.

Not, to be truthful, has the public looked at this problem intelligently, either. The welfare workers, though they deny it, have viewed it as a purely materialistic problem, to be solved by giving the unwed mother more money to support each additional child. And the public has indignantly looked at it as a moral, or rather, immoral problem.

In point of fact, it is neither. The problem is not a question of either materialism or morality. It is, 99 times out of a 100, a question of mentality. The woman who continues to have children out of wedlock does so not because she is immoral or because she wants more money, but because in almost every instance she is a morose. She should be protected from herself no less than society should be protected from her.

The very real and shocking immorality in such cases is the sublime belief of welfare agencies and workers that such women, so completely lacking in intelligence that they cannot order their own lives, can, with a little more money, order the lives of helpless children.

The woman who bears one child out of wedlock is almost always more to be pitied than scorned. But the woman who bears a half dozen children outside the married state is indeed to be pitied, for she is probably a cretin. But, in this context, the most pitiful victims are the children themselves.

To leave children at the mercy of such a woman is cruel and inhuman. That our welfare agencies have done this so far so long is the most shocking aspect of the problem. The children of a woman who habitually bears children out of wedlock should be put in decent homes where they will know love and kindness. They should be taken out of the sordid and degraded atmosphere in which the mother lives and given a chance to grow into maturity amid a decent environment.

The unforgivably cruel and vicious act on the part of public and welfare agencies alike is to leave such children at the mercies of mothers who are mindless. It is little short of criminal to leave such children to the tender mercies of such mothers and the atrophied theories of professional welfare.

A few years ago I recommended that such children be put in proper, loving homes, and the mothers be sterilized, as well as the man or men responsible. I still stand by that.

It Never Happens Like That

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—More fragments from letters—some people would like to get—but rarely do—"It is with real pleasure we inform you your recipe for making chocolate-flavored peanut butter patties has won first prize in our national contest. You and your husband can pick up the $10,000 check—and the two round trip tickets to Paris—at our office whenever you."

"Your boy's feat in pitching a no-hit victory for his kindergarten baseball team has come to the attention of our organization. In keeping with the program of the New York Yankees for long-term player development, we are willing to give you a $60,000 bonus to sign with us now. Naturally, before reporting to us, we would prefer that he go on with his schooling—as his next class will be for him to autograph baseballs."

"We are returning your check for $75, covering the latest installment due on your loan. When Bascom G. Goodheart, our president, died last month, he left a provision in his will that all our outstanding loans be canceled. So you owe us nothing. Would you like to start all over, and borrow some more?"

"And so, in recognition of the fact that you are the millionth customer of our new cars this year, the manufacturer is pleased to offer you the model of your choice with our compliments, plus free repairs for the life of the vehicle."

"No wonder you can't grow anything for your retirement years! The soil sample you sent is heavily saturated with ground oil. Our advice to you: Quit planting and start drilling—and then buy a home in Palm Beach. You ought to be able to bring in 10 gubers an acre."

"It was one of those unfortunate mix-ups which I'm sure you'll understand. But the fact is we had the wrong X-rays. It is not your wife who is going to have triplets."

"The President was so impressed with your proposal to reduce income taxes that he is placing a special plane at your disposal so that you can fly to Washington to explain it to him in person. While all the cabinet posts are presently filled, there is always the opportunity that..."

New Balloon Record

FARIBAUT, Minn. (AP)—Picard, of the famous ballooning and deepsea diving family, claimed a new record for class IV balloons after going to 35,800 feet Wednesday night in a two-hour flight.

Picard made the ascent in a 21,000-cubic-foot plastic balloon fabricated by the Schejdel Co. of Faribault, which also designed and built the still orbiting satellite Echo I. The firm employees Picard.

Taking off from Faribault about 8 p.m., Picard brought the balloon down near Zumbro Falls, Minn., 40 miles to the east about 10 p.m.

Junior Editors Quiz on SCIENCE

QUESTION: Why is the grass green?

ANSWER: Do you realize that leaves are just about the most important things in the world? They alone possess the secret of turning nature's raw materials, air, water and earth, into food on which all plants and animals depend. An almost magic substance in the leaf called chlorophyll does this by absorbing energy from sunlight. With the help of this energy it pulls chemicals apart and recombines them into sugar and starch, from which all other foods are made. This magic stuff, chlorophyll, is colored a bright green and whenever you see green in a blade of grass or any other leaf, you will know a tiny food factory is at work. But why is the chlorophyll green? Because in its job of making food, it uses only the red, yellow, violet and blue part of the ray, which contains all the colors. Since chlorophyll does not use the green part of the ray it does not absorb it, but throws it away. As we look at it, we see only the rejected color, and that is why the grass looks green.

FOR YOU TO DO: Find a bit of grass or a plant which has been covered by a board or some solid object. What is its color? A sticky white, the poor plant, deprived of the sunlight, has no energy for its green chlorophyll to work with. With its life giving chlorophyll gone, the plant will soon die.

(Gosme Canlife of Zion, Ill. wins $10 for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of this paper.)

San Antonio Judge Named To Tribunal

By TEX EASLEY
WASHINGTON (AP)—The man who looks most like a judge among the 24 Texas congressmen is going on the bench.

When the U.S. Court of Military Appeals meets again in September, Rep. Paul Kilday of San Antonio will be seated as a member of the three-judge tribunal, created 10 years ago.

Kilday, 61, friendly but not effusive, is the fifth person appointed to the court—final arbiter in life and death or lesser issues for the armed forces.

Formerly an authority on military affairs, is ranking Democrat on the House Armed Services Committee. As a member of the group he was instrumental in rewriting the articles of war as they applied to administration of justice in the armed forces.

The reforms were prompted in the light of World War II experience and because of the unification of the armed services and establishment of the Air Force as a co-equal branch with the Army and Navy.

Formerly separate courts martial for the Army and Navy were the last recourse for military men on trial. The Court of Military Appeals hears appeals of decisions of any courts martial.

Military personnel tried in courts martial and sentenced to death or life imprisonment or given dishonorable discharges are entitled without question to have the decisions reviewed by the appeals court.

The judges receive $25,000 a year—$2,500 more than a congressman or a federal district judge. Thus, in this socially conscious city, a member of the Military Appeals Court ranks ahead of a U.S. district court judge in matters involving protocol.

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—Americans have a big stake in the current wheeling and dealing in Europe. A whole series of critical decisions are being made. Some are near the deadline for decision.

Whether Europe's two trading blocks turn to fighting each other or to joining in a united European front against the rest of the world, American business interests will have to adjust to new conditions. The outcome will have repercussions not only there, but in other world markets and right here at home.

How Britain resolves the current crisis in its foreign trade and the value of its pound sterling is almost sure to have dollars and cents effect on American export and import trade.

The slow rise in the price of gold on the London market also holds a warning, if only a muted one now, that the gold and dollar crisis of last fall isn't an issue completely set to rest.

And American companies that have been increasing their stake in the European economy by establishing overseas plants or taking on European partners may have to reassess their investment policies.

American exporters and investors have profited pleasantly from the European industrial boom. Our exports to Western Europe last year went up 41 per cent to a record $6.8 billion. Europe took 71 per cent of our exports of copper, 40 per cent of the metalworking machinery and machine tools exports, 69 per cent of the tobacco and 48 per cent of the cotton exports.

Direct American investments in Europe rose from $2 billion in 1950 to more than $6 billion in 1960. These investments paid returns in income and fees but also opened up markets for our exports—materials, machinery and services used by the overseas American-owned plants. Also these European branches sent their products to the American market—to the dismay of some American producers.

Current European economic crises center on Britain. It is trying to make up its mind whether to form some sort of union with the Common Market nations—France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands, Luxembourg.

If England stays aloof—as many of the British Commonwealth partners want her to—she may lead the other European industrial nations, known as the Outer Seven, into a trade war with the Common Market. Americans could suffer, just as bystanders suffer when two domestic firms start a price-cutting war and upset the market.

England's problem with the pound is that its exports are well below its imports, and so the value of the pound has been slipping. England seems ready to put in strict austerity measures at home to correct this. The prospect has sent the stock market tumbling of late.

For Americans the stake is in the restrictions Britain may put on the importation of American goods and services—and in the

Choir Boy Wounds Stepfather

FORT WORTH (AP)—A 15-year-old church choir boy was held by juvenile authorities today after he shot and wounded his stepfather.

Don E. Miller told police and newsmen he intended to kill his stepfather, David Miller Jr., 45, who escaped with only a minor flesh wound in the chest.

The teen-ager was turned over to juvenile officials. No formal charges were filed because of his age.

"The pressure's been building up for five years," the youth told officers.

He said he decided to kill his stepfather two weeks ago. He planned for the slaying to occur on the banks of a country club pond.

The youth said he purchased a scope for his .22 rifle Wednesday to carry out the plot. He said the scope didn't fit and he decided to shoot the elder Miller at home.

The boy, about the same size as his stepfather, told of standing at the door to his room and, with a red crayon, marked an X where his heart would be.

He said he then sat down in a chair, propped the rifle on a chest of drawers and aimed in the general direction of the X and called out:

"Dad, come here."
"When he opened the door, I pulled the trigger," the boy said. He added that his stepfather backed out of the door.

The youth told newsmen he had lived with his stepfather since he was four and began to dislike the elder Miller because of "little things."

Sergeant T. Walls of the juvenile office said "the boy apparently needs psychiatric help."
"He's terribly sick," his mother said.

Medals Given On Goodwill Mission

BRASILIA, Brazil (AP)—President Janio Quadros received a Soviet goodwill mission in this new capital Wednesday and handed its members Southern Cross medals. There were indications the mission, which brought a personal message from Soviet Premier Khrushchev, approached Quadros on re-establishing diplomatic relations.

Badéau In Egypt

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—U.S. Ambassador John Badéau presented his credentials to President Gamel Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic Wednesday and conveyed President Kennedy's "most warm and cordial greetings."

JFK Ends First Six Months In Office

Editor's Note— President Kennedy today turns the corner on his first half year in the White House. What's the record of his administration? Political writer Jack Bell and diplomatic writer John M. Hightower, veteran Associated Press newsmen, have joined in preparing this comprehensive analysis of Kennedy's first six months as president.

By JACK BELL and JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP)— President Kennedy is completing perhaps the most nerve-racking first six months any new chief executive has encountered since Abraham Lincoln plunged into the task of saving the Union 100 years ago.

With only a razor-thin mandate from the electorate, Kennedy has swept in his first half year in office into the vortex of world events he could not control. Crisis has tripped over crisis as he has sought to adjust his theories to the hard, practical realities of day-by-day operation of the presidency.

Lincoln and for that matter, Franklin D. Roosevelt in the depression—were presented with tangible problems with which they could deal directly.

Kennedy has an oversupply of these and has made vigorous efforts to grapple with them. But he has greater and graver demands upon him in international areas—the toughening policies of the Soviet Union, for example—where he alone cannot call the shots and where his decision alone cannot be compelling.

The Congo, Cuba, Laos, Berlin... these crises have flashed across the screen. Kennedy has met all with ringing declarations. But his performance has not always matched his talk.

In the Congo, he made it abundantly clear that U.S. forces would be committed to prevent a Soviet takeover. With the aid of the United Nations, this plan worked.

In Laos his talk was not backed up with troops. He found that some SEATO allies, when consulted, had little urge to fight. He faced almost insurmountable supply difficulties. He had to resign himself to the vague hope that a neutralist government might somehow materialize from interminable talks in Geneva.

In Cuba there was fiasco and disaster. The American-trained invaders had no air cover and were defeated. Somebody in the administration slipped up, it is not quite clear just who, but Kennedy took all the blame.

Open talk of the danger of war has caused Kennedy, meanwhile, to start developing plans for redeployment of U.S. armed forces.

In the late spring, as East-West tensions mounted, the President traveled to Europe for talks with two allies—French President Charles de Gaulle and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan—and a somber conference at Vienna with Khrushchev. At that session in the Austrian capital Kennedy and the Kremlin boss took each other's measure, but the deadlock appeared to harden.

In the transition of the government from the Eisenhower administration, the new chief executive has evidenced greater determination to regain the initiative from the Communists by cultivation of the neutrals and expanding international economic planning. He has put fresh stress on disarmament and a ban on nuclear testing.

But the Kennedy administration has yet to evolve any clear new policies for dealing with recurring crises. The style may have changed, but the policies scarcely differ from those followed by Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Emmeshed in international affairs, Kennedy has not had the time nor freedom of action he felt he needed to devote to all of the domestic problems pressing upon him.

made to the American people in the 1960 campaign in which he won the presidency by a whisker appear likely to go unfulfilled, at least in 1961.

Unless the signs fail, there will be no action in this Congress on medical care for the elderly, to be linked to Social Security. The chance for enactment of an aid to education bill supplying grants for school construction and teachers' salaries is almost nil.

Outside the legislative field, Kennedy has found no solution for the problem of increasing unemployment at a time when employment is reaching record levels.

He has had to accept a lowering of U.S. prestige—about which he talked much in the campaign—because of the fiasco of the Cuban invasion.

On the credit side of the ledger however, he has been able to stop, at least temporarily, the dangerous flow of gold abroad. Without much help from his administration, the economy has turned upward, eliminating the possibility of deficit-breeding tax cuts or any mammoth spending program.

Democracy. The House Republican Policy Committee recently came up with a $11.8-billion tag on the increased cost of the Kennedy program over the estimates made by the Eisenhower administration for the current fiscal year.

More and more will be heard from the Republicans on this issue as the 1962 congressional elections approach.

Thus far, however, Kennedy has been able to chart a political course that has not given the Republicans much they could put their teeth into. He has got along rather well with Congress on the whole.

As he turned the corner on his first half year, Kennedy appeared to be shaking out some of the kinks in his staff organization.

Highway financing and housing, not on the original list, were passed. Tax revision is moving forward slowly.

Kennedy currently is engaged in the most intensive personal campaigns put on by a president in a long time to get approval of his foreign aid program, including the long-range loan provision.

Republicans are beginning to make their voices heard on administration spending programs with support from conservative

Nine Drown In Charleston Flood

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)— Thundering skies dumped a record cloudburst into suburban Charleston Wednesday night. Authorities confirmed that at least nine persons drowned and others were missing today.

Rainfall of 5.14 inches between 8 p.m. and midnight fed the flash flood. Small streams swelled and overflowed through narrow valleys on the fringes of the hill-rimmed city of 85,000.

Hardest hit was a narrow ravine called Magazine Hollow. Four bodies were pulled from there.

Wreckage of flimsy frame houses and trees piled into a heap 20 feet high at a street intersection near the hollow's mouth.

The known dead were three men, two women and four children. The identities of most were not immediately established.

Rescue parties still searched for other possible victims in the houses smashed against the hillsides.

National Guard trucks equipped with winches pulled down the wrecked dwellings while searchers looked beneath them for victims.

Hospitals and funeral homes identified these dead:

Sherri Lynn Givens, 9; Mrs. Helen Givens, 38; Frank Sayre, 38; Carolyn Thompson, about 5; and Alex Vores.

A woman and two children—a boy and a girl—still were unidentified.

Sayre stepped from his car into a flooded street on the city's West Side. The current swept him under the car, and he drowned.

Mayor John Shanklin called for the city to be declared a disaster area.

One National Guard company was mobilized for rescue work. Refugee centers were set up in two high schools, the Salvation Army and the Union Mission to care for families driven from their homes.

The Fire Department ordered the gas company to cut off fuel to some sections of the city to minimize fire hazards.

The pre-dawn scene at Magazine Hollow was one of devastation. Uprooted trees were crazily propped against piles of torn and twisted house sidings.

College Registrar On Narcotics Charge

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Narcotics agents disclosed Wednesday that the assistant registrar of Hastings College of Law was arrested and charged with forging narcotics prescriptions.

Matt O'Connor, supervising state narcotics agent, said Richard P. Timm, 35, of nearby Belmont, had students pick up prescriptions for pain killers and habit-forming sleeping pills.

Timm, married and the father of three, is a law graduate of Golden Gate College and was scheduled to take his bar examination next month. He was released on $500 bail—and promptly discharged from his job as assistant registrar at the law college.

Famed Man Leaves Little In Will

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Dr. Lee de Forest, whose invention of the three-element vacuum tube helped span the vast electronics industry, left only $1,250 in cash.

Dr. De Forest's will was filed for probate Wednesday by his fourth wife, former actress Marie Mosquini. The famed inventor died June 30 at 87.

Mrs. De Forest's attorney said her husband held patents which could yield further income, but they are not doing so now.

The will, signed in 1954, left all property to Mrs. De Forest except for bequests of $1 each to three daughters.

USS Submarine On Patrol Duty

CHARLESTON, S.C. (AP)—The USS Theodore Roosevelt, the nation's fourth nuclear-powered, polaris-armed submarine, left the Charleston harbor Wednesday for global patrol duty.

The 390-foot sub took aboard 16 thermonuclear warheads, Polaris missiles at the arming base, then sailed under secret orders.

The other three Polaris subs now armed for action already are at sea. They are the George Washington, the Patrick Henry and the Robert E. Lee. Together with the Theodore Roosevelt, they carry 60 nuclear missiles.
