Carter says victory in Maryland not crucial

Reagan's favorite target fading

By The Associated Press

One of Ronald Reagan's favorite campaign issues may have lost a bit of its edge on the eve of his crucial primary contest with President Ford in Michigan. Democrat Jimmy Carter says, meanwhile, that victory in the Maryland primary is not crucial to his campaign.

Republican challenger Reagan has made Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger's conduct of foreign policy the basis for attacks on Ford. Now, Kissinger has indicated he will quit even if Ford wins in November.

In an interview on NBC's "Today" show, Kissinger said he would prefer not to remain in office if Ford is elected to a full term.

Kissinger's comment came as Ford returned from a weekend trip through his home state of Michigan, where the primary is crucial for the President. Ford has lost five of the last six primaries, and a loss in his home state would deal a severe blow to his chances.

The Democrats also have primaries on Tuesday. Front-runner Carter is the target of California Gov. Edmund G. Brown Jr., making his primary debut, in Maryland and of Rep. Morris K. Udall in Michigan.

In Baltimore, Carter said today that a defeat to Brown in Maryland's primary would not be a fatal blow to his bid for the nomination.

"It would be better to win but a loss to Gov. Brown would not be seriously damaging," the former Georgia governor said. "Brown will have to go all out to win in California as I won in Georgia."

In Detroit, meanwhile, Udall demanded that Carter and Detroit Mayor Coleman Young apologize for Young's statements accusing the Arizona congressman of supporting policies of the Mormon Church relating to race.

Udall said his parents were leaders of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints (Mormon) but that he rejected the church's doctrine on race 30 years ago. "I paid the price of doing so in my own family and among my friends," he said, adding that Young either "deliberately distorted the record or he doesn't care whether he did or not."

The Mormon church denies blacks the rank of priest, which is given to every other faithful male member.

Ehrlichman, Liddy convictions upheld

WASHINGTON (AP) — The convictions of former White House aides John D. Ehrlichman and G. Gordon Liddy for their parts in the 1971 break-in at the office of Daniel Ellsberg's psychiatrist were upheld today by the U.S. Court of Appeals.

Severe quake strikes Soviet Central Asia

MOSCOW (AP) — A severe earthquake struck a wide area of Soviet Central Asia today and caused "serious damage in a number of places," officials reported.

The three largest cities in the region — Tashkent, Bukhara and Samarkand — reported no casualties and virtually no damage, but communications were cut with the town of Gazli and some other small communities that received the brunt of the quake's force.

The earthquake, centered in the sparsely populated Kulzhuktau mountain range some 300 miles west of Tashkent, was much more powerful than the one which devastated parts of northern Italy early this month.

The Tass news agency said "prompt measures are being taken to eliminate the aftermath of the quake and to give relief to the quake victims."

The jolt had a force of 9 on the 12-point Soviet Medvedev scale.

In Washington, the U.S. Geological Survey reported the tremor reached 7.2 on the open-ended Richter scale, which would be "several times bigger than the Italian earthquake in terms of energy." A quake with a reading of 7 on the Richter scale is capable of widespread, heavy damage.

The Italian quake, in which more than 900 are known dead, registered between 6.5 and 6.9 on the Richter.

Seismology officials in Tashkent said Gazli, which has a population of about 8,000, was unreachable by telephone and the Tashkent seismic station said communications with Gazli were cut off when the quake struck.

Residents and visitors to Tashkent told friends in Moscow by phone they felt the tremor but there was no apparent damage in the city, which was devastated by a quake 10 years ago. Buildings in Tashkent were heavily reinforced in the rebuilding after that quake.

A duty officer in the Bukhara mayor's office said the only sign of today's quake there were cracks in some buildings.

The first official report came over Moscow radio some six hours after the tremor was recorded. Tass later issued two brief items on an urgent basis, mentioning victims for the first time. The Soviet press usually plays down natural calamities, so the report of heavy damage and victims hinted at the seriousness of the situation.

The quake was centered about 1,500 miles southeast of Moscow and 530 miles south of the super-secret Baikonur space center.

French president streaks to America

WASHINGTON (AP) — French President Valery Giscard d'Estaing, who streaked across the Atlantic in a Concorde jet, told President Ford today: "The France of 1976 is as much committed to the struggle in defense of liberty as she was at your side two centuries ago."

Ford welcomed Giscard on his Bicentennial visit to the White House with a 21-gun salute and an honor guard of U.S. servicemen holding the flags of the 50 states whipping in the wind. An Army band played marching music.

Thousands of spectators ringed the back fence of the White House to watch the ceremony.

Giscard set the tone for his six-day visit by evoking memories of the longstanding alliance between France and the United States. He expressed gratitude for the role this country played in defense of French liberty.

"The French people have not forgotten," he declared.

Ford, in turn, thanked France for having sent "its sons as well as its treasure to help an infant republic win its independence."

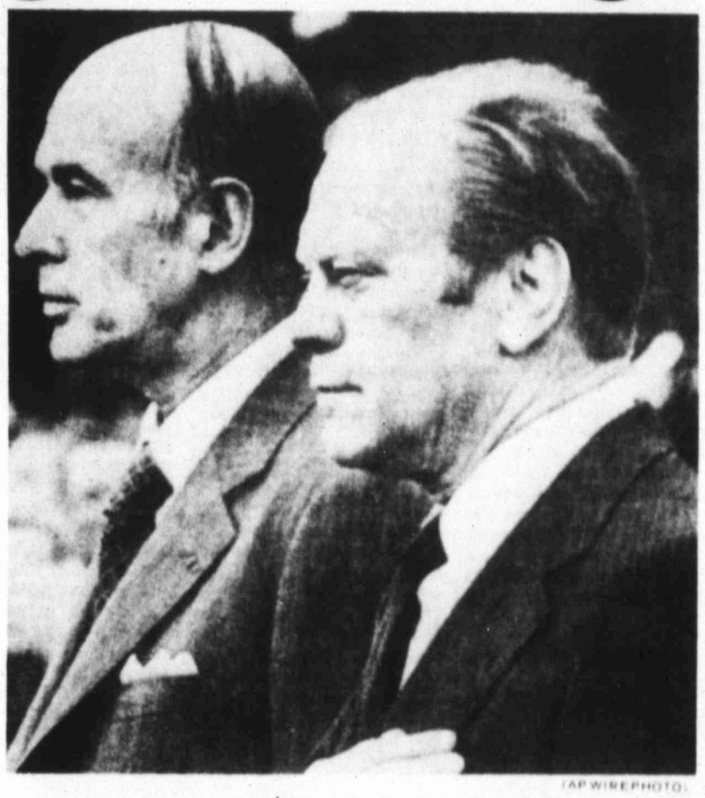

Giscard is the first French president to come to the United States since Georges Pompidou in 1970.

The French president arrived at the White House from Andrews Air Force Base, where he landed after a three-hour, 37-minute flight from Paris aboard a Concorde supersonic jet.

His also was to meet with Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger.

Giscard's plane landed at 9:48 a.m. EDT under heavily clouded skies. Thousands of Washingtonians turned out to see the arrival.

The flight presaged the start of commercial Concorde service from Paris and London to Washington's Dulles International Airport, scheduled to begin a week from today unless court orders intervene.

Demo platform action

Chairman resigns to stymie critics

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Democratic party's platform committee today elected Minnesota Gov. Wendell Anderson as permanent chairman and began a final series of hearings on issues facing the nation.

Anderson's election came after Gov. Philip Noel of Rhode Island stepped down as temporary chairman because of criticism stemming from a statement he made about ghetto life.

"I thought I should not bring that issue and that controversy to the remaining days of the work of this committee," Noel said. He received a standing ovation from committee members when he announced his withdrawal from consideration as permanent chairman.

The panel will hear four days of testimony from some 85 witnesses, including politicians, union officials and civil rights leaders.

Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace, a presidential candidate, was scheduled to testify, along with Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., and the party's chairman, Robert Strauss.

Jimmy Carter, the frontrunner for the nomination, canceled his appearance to campaign in California, a committee spokeswoman said.

Others on the witness list include former U.N. Ambassador Daniel P. Moynihan, consumer advocate Ralph Nader, United Auto Workers President Leonard Woodcock, and representatives of the Urban League and National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

AFL-CIO President George Meany urged the party to adopt economic programs that would give voters a choice between prosperity and Republican policies that he said foster unemployment.

In prepared remarks, the labor leader said, "The economic choice confronting America in this election year is between a continuation of the disastrous 'trickle-down' economics of the past seven years ... and the creation of a balanced, full-employment economy built on mass producing power, full production and general prosperity."

Picking jury for trial of lobbyist Jacobsen

SAN ANGELO, Tex. (AP) — Jury selection is to get underway today for the trial of Austin lawyer Jake Jacobsen, the former milk lobbyist accused of misapplying funds from a savings and loan firm of which he was a director.

Jacobsen's state court trial originally was set for November 1975, but was postponed three times.

State prosecutors will attempt to prove that Jacobsen misapplied an $825,000 loan in 1970 from the First Savings and Loan Co. of San Angelo. The company is now under new management.

The indictment claims Jacobsen profited from the loan made to Abilene director Roy Herring.

Jacobsen was the main government witness against former Texas Gov. John Connally in Connally's bribery trial in Washington, D.C. in April 1975.

A federal jury found Connally innocent after Jacobsen testified he gave Connally money to influence the Nixon administration. Jacobsen was lobbyist for the Associated Milk Producers Inc. of San Antonio at the time of the alleged bribe.

The U.S. Justice Department dropped federal charges against Jacobsen concerning the alleged savings and loan misapplication in return for his testimony against Connally.

Jacobsen was then indicted by a state grand jury on similar charges.

His business partner at the time of the loan, Ray Cowan, pleaded guilty to the federal charges in August 1974 and was sentenced to five years in prison.

The proceedings against Jacobsen have been clouded by a Dallas federal judge's refusal to accept the Justice Department's motion to dismiss the federal charges against Jacobsen.

The judge appointed three special prosecutors to pursue the federal charges against Jacobsen. A New Orleans appeals court, however, overruled the judge's action. The issue is now pending before the U.S. Supreme Court.

Jacobsen has been free on a $30,000 bond pending his state trial.

Negotiate airport lease, FAA tells county official

The Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) has mailed a letter to County Judge Bill Tune, setting a June 1 deadline for negotiating an airport lease with Louis Rosenbaum, El Paso.

Rosenbaum, the president of Trans Regional Airlines, was denied a fixed-base operator's (FBO) lease at Howard County Airport in December 1975. The businessman protested that Howard County Commissioners Court had granted Big Spring Aircraft, the only present FBO, "exclusive rights."

Bill Howard of the FAA noted the federal agency had been informed of "no facts or circumstances that would justify the county refusing to permit Mr. Rosenbaum to operate on the airport."

Failure to negotiate a FBO lease with Rosenbaum would constitute noncompliance with FAA grant regulations, Howard informed the county judge.

Maj. Freeman faces Air Force inquiry

Court-martial charges have been preferred against Air Force Maj. Harold R. Freeman, 39, Sand Springs.

The offenses charged occurred in the Republic of the Philippines in 1973 and are said to consist of sexual offenses within the family, a Webb Air Force Base spokesman said.

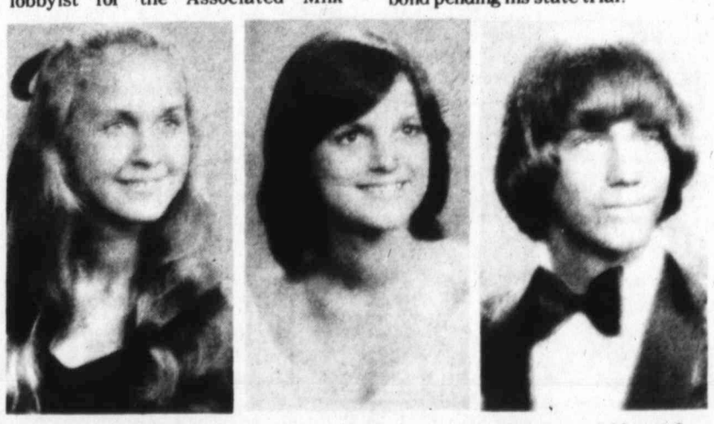

These charges are expected to be investigated pursuant to an article of the Uniform Code of Military Justice on June 1, 1976.

A jury trial of Freeman or his wife, 33, for sex offenses in Howard County is scheduled in 118th District Court June 21.

Since District Judge Ralph W. Caton scheduled the Freeman trial, the murder trial of Witmer Jean Ballard, 50, has been slated the same date in San Angelo before another judge.

District Attorney Robert H. (Bob) Moore III said Ballard will be tried then instead of one of the Freemans, unless the murder trial is delayed for another reason.

The Texas Court of Criminal Appeals reversed a trial held for Ballard in Alpine for the December 1970 shotgun slaying of Steve Currie, a Glasscock County.

HONOR STUDENTS — Annabeth Louise Deats, left, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Deats, was named valedictorian of the Class of 1976 at Big Spring High School with a four-year average of 97.27. In the center is Angela Dawn Hodnett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Hodnett, who was named salutatorian with an average of 95.86. High point boy in the class is Ben Patrick Carroll, right, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sherrill Carroll, with an average of 93.77.

Action/reaction: Parents liable

Q. If juveniles who commit vandalism are apprehended can their parents be held responsible for the cost of the damage they cause?

A. The Texas Family Code, one body of state laws, provides that their parents are responsible for actual damages up to $5,000 plus court costs and attorneys's fees.

The law states:

"A parent or other person who has the duty of control and reasonable discipline of a child is liable for any property damage proximately caused by:

"1. the negligent conduct of the child if the conduct is reasonably attributable to the negligent failure of the parent or other person to exercise that duty; or

"2. the wilful malicious conduct of a child who is at least 12 years of age but under 18 years of age.

The next section continues:

"Recovery for damages caused by wilful and malicious conduct is limited to actual damages, not to exceed $5,000, plus court costs and reasonable attorneys' fees.

Offbeat: 'New hope' springs . . .

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — Connecticut Gov. Ella Grasso has updated her vision for the state and has chosen to express that change with a frog's name.

When Mrs. Grasso was asked last spring to name the Connecticut entry in the Calaveras County, Calif., frog jumping contest she named it "'Austerity,' in view of the temper of the times."

She has been asked to name this year's entry.

"The temper of the times has improved in the past year, so our entry will be named 'New Hope,'" Mrs. Grasso said.

It's Emmy awards time

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The National Academy of Television Arts and Sciences hopes less will mean more at its 28th annual Emmy Awards tonight.

Academy officials, embarrassed by a steady decline in the show's TV audience over the past five years, have streamlined the program and are guessing that by presenting fewer awards than in years past they will attract more viewers.

The emphasis instead will be on entertainment at the Emmy presentations, which will be nationally televised from the Shubert Theater beginning at 9 p.m. EDT on ABC-TV.

Mary Tyler Moore and John Denver are the hosts and entertainment will be provided by George Burns, Lola Falana, John Sebastian, Marvin Hamlisch and 24 dancers.

Actually, the academy is handing out more awards than ever this year but tonight's telecast covers only those for the top nighttime and sports programs and individual writing, directing and acting honors.

Awards for daytime and craft categories were presented in separate ceremonies last week. No date has been set for news and documentary awards — indeed, they may not be handed out at all because of a continuing controversy over the categorizing and judging procedures.

Much interest will be focused tonight on "Rich Man, Poor Man," the ABC mini series which garnered a record 23 nominations. Nine of its actors are up for Emmys and the show itself is nominated for best limited series, competing against "Upstairs, Downstairs," "The Law," "The Adams Chronicles" and "Jennie: Lady Randolph Churchill."

In the competition for best actress in a comedy series, Mary Tyler Moore finds herself competing against two actresses who used to be supporting players in her cast, Valerie Harper of "Rhoda" and Cloris Leachman of "Phyllis." Also nominated are Beatrice Arthur of "Maude" and Academy Award winner Lee Grant of the short-lived "Fay."

Among the prominent nonnominees this year are three former Emmy winners — Carroll O'Connor and Jean Stapelton of "All in the Family" and Robert Blake of "Baretta." A foul-up in the mail prevented them — and a number of other well-known actors — from being entered on the Academy's preliminary nominating ballot.

Academy officials said they encounter this problem with a few people every year but admitted they suffered a public relations disaster because so many big names were involved this time. They plan to explain the mishap during the show tonight.

Also on tap is a tribute to the late Rod Serling, featuring clips from some of the many television dramas he wrote.

Bail set at $3 million in 'guns for sale' plot

NEW YORK (AP) — Bail was set at $3 million for El Salvador's military chief of staff after his arrest in an alleged plot to sell $2.55 million in Tommy guns to "underworld buyers" — at least one of them a U.S. Treasury agent.

Col. Manuel Alfonso Rodriguez, No. 3 man in the military government of the Central American republic, was arrested at a Westchester County motel late Saturday night.

In Washington, El Salvador's ambassador, Francisco Bertrand Galindo, said Sunday his government had no connection with the alleged conspiracy. But he said he would secure a lawyer for Rodriguez today.

"We think he is innocent," Galindo said. "We are not sure but we think so."

Two other men from El Salvador and three U.S. citizens were also arrested in the alleged plot and held in lieu of bail ranging from $300,000 to $1 million. A seventh man was sought, authorities said.

U.S. Atty. Robert Fiske Jr. said Rodriguez, who ranks behind the president and the defense minister of El Salvador, was among those who went to the Holiday Inn at Mt. Kisco, N.Y., Saturday night to collect a $100,000 down payment for the 10,000 submachine guns to be purchased by unidentified mobsters.

Rodriguez' role in the plot, Fiske said, was to sign a certificate seeking State Department permission to buy the guns from a Bronx exporter, falsely attesting that the guns were for export to El Salvador.

The guns were never to have left the United States, Fiske said, and Rodriguez was to get a $75,000 payoff for his part in the deal.

Fiske said the conspirators had plans to fill "larger multimillion dollar orders if the initial venture proved successful." No guns were ever actually delivered, he said.

Fiske said the $100,000 payment at the Holiday Inn followed a series of meetings beginning March 1, held at Mt. Kisco and in the Bronx.

Among those attending the various meetings was an agent for the Treasury Department's Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms, Fiske said.

The Americans accused in the plot were Frank G. Alvarez, 55, of Dix Hills, N.Y., Latin Amrican marketing director of an exporting firm; Robert Michaelson, 45, of Plainview, N.Y., who runs an importing firm in Great Neck, N.Y., and Irwin Tobocman, of Manhattan, a food broker.

All three were held in $300,000 bail at their Sunday arraignment.

Others arrested were Raymond Geraldo, 48, a native of El Salvador now living in Fort Lee, N.J., and Miguel D. Celis, 39, of El Salvador, said by Fiske to have been Rodriguez' emissary in the gun deal.

Bail was set at $1 million for Celis and $500,000 for Geraldo.

Authorities said they are looking for Dominick Cagianese, identified only as living on Long Island.

Melon farms picketing due

HIDALGO, Tex. (AP) — Picketing and demonstrations at South Texas melon farms are expected to get under way Wednesday, a spokesman for the Texas Farm Workers Union said today.

Antonio Orendain, leader of the fledgling union, said demonstrators would concentrate on three farming operations in their attempt to persuade the Texas Legislature to pass a law extending collective bargaining rights to farm workers. Similar legislation is in effect in California.

Orendain told a rally here Sunday the union would concentrate its efforts against El Texanos Farms near Hidalgo, La Casita Farms near Rio Grande City and the Griffin and Brand operations in both Hidalgo and Starr counties.

The Texas Farm Workers Union was organized last year after Orendain split with United Farm Workers leader Cesar Chavez.

The split with Chavez' union reportedly came after melon season demonstrations that resulted in violent confrontations between union supporters and South Texas farmers. A Hidalgo area farmer wounded 10 persons by gunfire after he said they came on his farm and attacked field workers.

Union leaders have said they will concentrate efforts this year during the harvest of cantaloupes and honey dew melons because those crops are the most perishable.

The United Farm Workers Union has sought for almost a decade to organize the mostly Mexican-American field hands in South Texas but no contract has been signed.

Police beat

Two women escape assault tries

Two Big Spring women narrowly avoided assaults over the weekend.

One attempt occurred at 9:25 p.m. Saturday in a stalled car at 6th and Douglas.

When the vehicle failed to start, an unidentified man jumped into the front passenger seat, grabbing the woman driver.

As he attempted to pull her blouse off, she managed to escape and ran toward her home. The man followed, but turned and ran away when the woman reached her residence.

Another assault occurred at 2:25 p.m. Sunday in the parking lot of Giant Food Store, 611 Lamesa Highway.

A woman was leaving the parking lot when several male juveniles began to curse at her and threatened to kill her. The juveniles chased the woman's car as she drove from the lot, and one of them threw a brick at the vehicle.

Big Spring police came in second in a high speed race with a light blue Corvette at 1:45 a.m. Sunday.

Officers observed the vehicle going at a high rate of speed on E. 4th. As the police gave chase, the car turned onto the south service road of IS 20 East "sliding sideways along the roadway," according to reports.

Following the car, officers clocked it at speeds exceeding 100 miles per hour in the 35 mile per hour zone. Unable to apprehend the vehicle, police notified Texas Highway Patrol and Stanton and Midland Department of Public Safety officials to be on the lookout.

A case of vandalism was reported about 8 p.m. Saturday at Security State Bank, 1401 Gregg.

According to reports, vandals painted "SR '76" on the wall of a drive-in window at the bank, and "Big Red" on its parking lot. Two light fixtures were damaged and beer bottles were found on top of the bank.

At 1:18 p.m. Sunday, Howard Shivers Jr., 1109 Runnels, reported the burglary of his car parked at his residence.

Burglars entered through the right vent window and took an eight-track tape player, 16 tapes and a carrying case. Total value was estimated at $234.

Ronnie Bussey, 1207 W. 3rd, reported the burglary of his apartment between 4:30 and 6 p.m. Sunday.

According to reports, a section of the door to the residence had been broken to gain entry. Missing was a woman's diamond ring valued at $1,200.

Billy Carroll Teague, a Robert Lee man, reported the burglary of his vehicle which was parked at the American Legion Club between 8:30 and 11:45 p.m. Sunday.

The driver's window in the vehicle had been broken and a CB radio, a power microphone, a tape player, several tapes, and a tool box were missing. Total value was estimated at $813.

A Big Spring Police Officer called for assistance 11:23 p.m. Sunday in handling a disturbance at the carnival in the Highland South Shopping Center.

Upon arrival of two more officers, four Big Spring men were arrested for disorderly conduct and public intoxication.

In a hit and run accident at 5:36 p.m. Sunday, a parked vehicle belonging to Richard McGowan was struck in front of his residence at 704 E. 3rd.

In another minor accident, vehicles driven by Jimmy William Puckett, 1217 W. 6th, and Calbert E. Owens, Selquick, collided at 4th and Gregg, 10:16 Sunday.

Police received nine calls Sunday regarding a man attempting to stop traffic in the middle of Gregg. He was picked up by officers and returned to Big Spring State Hospital.

Wildlife preserve oil drilling hinted

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — Gov. Edwin Edwards may be thinking about drilling for oil on the Ward-McIlheny wildlife preserve, thus putting Louisiana directly into the petroleum business in a big way.

State officials estimate as much as $600 million worth of oil and gas may be trapped beneath the refuge.

The 15,000-acre tract was donated to the state in 1911. But heirs of the donors fought a lengthy court battle to regain at least the mineral rights to the Vermillion Bay property. They quit that 17-year fight last year.

In an address to the legislature last Tuesday, Edwards said he is considering recommending that the state hire someone to develop some of its newly attained oil lands, rather than following the traditional course of leasing them to private developers.

The governor acknowledged that such a plan would be a "radical departure" and promised to get back to the legislature before taking firm steps.

Edwards would not say whether the wildlife preserve is among the areas he had in mind. He added that it would be "irresponsible" for him or the news media to indulge in "rough speculation."

"I'm not prepared to make any further disclosures on that," he said. "It's no use for me to comment one way or the other on any site until I've made a firm decision."

The state recently obtained title to more than 60,000 acres in offshore tracts as a result of a U.S. Supreme Court decision, and Edwards specifically mentioned those as possibilities in his address to the legislature.

Laws dating back to 1940 apparently give the Mineral Board the power to, in effect, put the state directly in the oil and gas business. The state has hired several contractors on a small scale to develop oil and gas land for the state.

In most of those cases, however, the area involved was so small that it had semed unlikely that private developers would bother with leasing them.

The significance of the new talk is that it involves potentially rich areas that the private oil companies are expected to be eager to lease.

Edwards reaffirmed in an interview Friday that, although the technical legal authority already exists, he doesn't want to move on his own.

"I don't want to take that responsibility by myself, although I have that authority, because it's just too important a venture," he said.

Glasscock's nine rigs leads area count

Glasscock County is fifth highest in West Texas in the rig count last week with 205 rigs tabulated in the Permian Basin by Reed Drilling Equipment.

Glasscock has nine, behind Pecos County around Fort Stockton with 24, Ward County around Monahans with 14, Andrews County with 13, and Reeves County around Pecos with 9.

Others in this area include one in Borden; two in Coke; five in Dawson, five in Martin; three in Howard; and one in Mitchell. Scurry County has five, and Sterling reports two.

Fisher-Webb Inc. of Abilene and Cabot Corp. of Midland will drill No. 3 N. H. Reed Estate as a proposed 8,400 foot wildcat in Sterling County.

Location is 15 miles northwest of Sterling City, spotting 660 feet from the south and east lines of Section 93, Block 2, H&TC Survey.

Texaco, Inc: will plug back to 5,200 feet, wildcat depth at No. 1-E Sterling Fee. Location is 12 miles southwest of Sterling City. Site is 1,280 feet from the south and 1,516 feet from the east lines of section 13, Block 31, T-5-S, T&P Survey.

It is a former dual Cisco and Canyon producer in the Conger Field.

Jameson Field four miles southwest of Silver in Coke County has gained a new well.

The oiler is Sun Oil Co., No. 52-K Jameson Reef Unit, spotting 1,334 feet from the south and 2,163 feet from the east lines of Section 459, Block 1-A, H&TC Survey.

Daily potential was 54 barrels of 43 gravity oil, plus two barrels of water. Flow was through a 20-64 inch choke with packer set on the casing and 150 pounds tubing pressure.

Production is from perforations at 7,394 to 6,400 feet treated with 500 gallons of acid. Operator set the 7-inch casing at 6,510 feet, total depth. Gas-oil ratio was 9,093-1.

Sun Oil Co. filed application to plug back to 5,832 feet to test the Strawn at a project in the Jameson Field four miles southwest of Silver.

It is No. 7 H. H. Jameson, located on an 804-acre lease. Site is 1,980 feet from the north and east lines of Section 316, Block 1-A, H&TC Survey.

The project was originally drilled to a total depth of 5,915 feet as No. 7-B Jameson Reef Unit.

Garden City Lions Club charter date

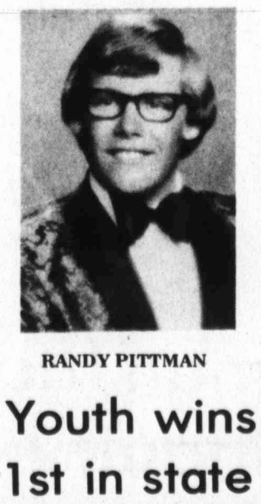

The Garden City Lions Club will hold its charter banquet on June 4, at 8 p.m. in the school gymnasium.

The club is still taking applications for charter members, but the organization has set Thursday as cutoff date for these.

The club has organized with the following members: president, Hubert Frerich; vice president, Jack Livingston; second vice president, Richard Light; third vice president, Wayne Cypert; secretary, John J. Jones; and treasurer, Royce Pruit.

Other members include Tail Twister, Larry Wheat; Lion Tamer, Larry Bradford; two-year director, Charles Beasley; two-year director, Wilburn Bednar; one-year director, Roy Flournoy; and one-year director, Alex Fry.

Further information may be obtained from Homer Putman, chairman of the charter night activities, in Garden City.

Deaths

Vollie Sawyers

Vollie Mable Sawyers, 90, of Borger, a former longtime Big Spring resident, died Sunday at her home. Services will be at 2 p.m. Tuesday in Nalley-Pickle Rosewood Chapel.

The Rev. William H. Smythe, pastor of First Christian Church, will officiate. Burial will be at Trinity Memorial Park.

Born Nov. 6, 1885, in Sweetwater, she was married to Pruitt L. Sawyers in 1901 in Sweetwater, and they moved to Big Spring in 1942. Mr. Sawyers died in February 1970.

Mrs. Sawyers was a member of Spur Church of Christ.

Survivors include a son, L. L. Sawyers of Mesquite; four daughters, Mrs. J. B. Short of Amarillo, Mrs. Buddie Collins of Lubbock, Mrs. Ernest Matsler of Plainview and Mrs. Mark A. Fahler of Borger; a sister, Carrie Busby of Kerrville, 10 grandchildren, and 30 great-grandchildren.

Francis Brown

Francis Brown, 31, complained of chest pains about 8:45 p.m. Saturday and died before the ambulance arrived, Justice of the Peace Bob West said.

West ruled the death due to natural causes.

She died in her residence, Northcrest Apartment 67, with her daughter, Mary K. Brown, present, West said.

The family is flying in tonight and services are pending at River-Welch Funeral Home.

Mrs. Bynum

ODESSA — Mrs. O. B. Bynum, 73, died Thursday in a local hospital after an illness.

Services were held today at 2 p.m. at the First Methodist Church in Odessa. Burial will be in Odessa.

Mrs. Bynum is survived by one sister, Mrs. Bob Wren of Big Spring. Other relatives and friends attending services are Mr. and Mrs. Don Wren of Ft. Worth; Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Steward of Ft. Worth; and Mrs. Stanley Hess and her daughter, Nancy from San Antonio.

Sam Rust

Funeral services for Sam Rust, 83, under the direction of Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home were held at 4 p.m. today at the graveside in Trinity Memorial Park. Mike Dennis, minister of the Carl Street Church of Christ will officiate.

Mr. Rust was born Feb. 6, 1893 in Quincey, Ill. He was a retired machinist and worked for Southwest Tool Company of Big Spring.

He married Adeline Virgie Carnahan on April 29, 1920. She preceded him in death on Aug. 27, 1970.

Mr. Rust moved to Big Spring in 1926, and then to McAllen in 1970.

He was a member of the Carl Street Church of Christ.

Survivors include one daughter, Mrs. June Adams of McAllen, three grandchildren, and one great-grandchild.

Alva V. Lewis

COLORADO CITY — Alva V. Lewis, 69, of Colorado City died at 4:45 p.m. Sunday in Root Memorial Hospital after a brief illness. Services are pending with Kiker-Seale Funeral Home.

Born Dec. 28, 1906, in Rocksprings, he came to Mitchell County in 1919. He married Lizzie Riggsfield May 2, 1925, in Colorado City.

He had lived in Colorado City since 1944 and worked with his son in the grocery business.

Survivors include his widow; a daughter, Floy Robertson of Andrews; two sons, Vernon Lewis of Colorado City and Delbert Lewis of Atlanta, Ga.; two sisters, Minnie Lambright of Lamesa and Mrs. Glenn McCord of Eden; a brother, Richard Lewis Davis of Weatherford, seven grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Sanford Stanton

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Funeral services for Sanford E. Stanton, a New York City newspaperman and Broadway theater figure, will be held here at 3 p.m. Tuesday. Burial will be at Norwalk, Conn.

Local woman honor grad

Mrs. Maria Benitez Smart, a 1968 graduate of Big Spring High School, graduated from Ringling School of Art in Sarasota, Fla., May 15 with a major in interior design.

She was an honor graduate and member of American Society of Interior Design. She also received a gold seal in historical and modern design.

Mrs. Smart is the sister of Mrs. Danny Valdes, 2506 Carol, and was raised in the Valdes home after she remained on an extended visa and eventually became a citizen in 1971. She became a citizen the day Fidel Castro suspended the twice-daily freedom flights that were creating a "brain drain" of skilled and professional workers fleeing Cuba.

Nell was sweet

with Marj Carpenter

"I never was pretty, but I was sweet," Nell Hatch, 88-year-old Big Springer quipped this week while she was showing early pictures of her family and came across one of herself.

Then she died laughing and proudly showed a picture of her three brothers and five of their cousins, saying "There were a bunch of the Hatch menfolks."

You know, if you've lived in Big Spring very long, Nell and if you have missed knowing her, you have missed a wonderful friend.

Her statement that she was no beauty may be false, because her early pictures make a liar out of her and at one time, she was "Miss Big Spring" and led a local parade.

She worked for Texas Electric for a number of years and later became the first woman that was secretary of a Chamber of Commerce in the entire state of Texas.

There still aren't too many chamber managers that are women and in those days, secretary of the chamber meant manager.

Her parents, Dell and Helen Hatch came out to Big Spring in 1909. One of the items they brought with them still stands on the piano at Nell's house.

It is a calendar clock brought from New England to McClelland County back in the 1880s by her grandfather.

"That was really a thing to behold," Nell laughingly recalls. "The clock would jump to the next day right at midnight and people used to come over the Grandpa's at 12 a.m. and stand around in front of the clock waiting for it to jump." Then Nell laughed about all of the modern-day watches that also tell the date. "They're just like that clock," she chuckled.

Nell's dad was a cotton buyer. When he came out here, he picked up the dirt and held it in his hands. "This is good dirt for cotton," he told his family. When his wife came out and saw the blowing sand, she wasn't too thrilled over the prospects, but told him that "if that's where you want to live, we'll live there."

NELL HATCH

One of the memories for which Nell Hatch is famous is the charter train that took a group to Shine Phillips' wedding. He later wrote a book about Big Spring.

On the side of the chartered train car was a huge sign, "In God we trust, to Shine's wedding or bust."

Nowadays, Nell says her main concerns are "sitting close enough to hear what everybody is saying and getting up out of the chair and gettin' going."

"Let's have some coffee and some cake or something. If I haven't got anything else, I'll find some pepper sauce and crackers," she quips as she walks about the kitchen being sure everything is all right.

Nell sure had no idea she might become the subject of a column. But she wouldn't care much one way or the other. Her main concerns are her family, her friends, and Big Spring, a city which she has long loved and often served.

And that's the way it was out ridin' fence in Nell Hatch's kitchen this week.

Warm air flowing into Texas

By The Associated Press

Warm air flowed damply from Mexico into Texas today, spreading occasional showers into the Rio Grande Valley. A few showers also fell farther north in West Texas.

Skies were mostly clear in other parts of the state and temperatures were generally mild to unusually warm.

Most of the forenoon showers centered around Eagle Pass, Cotulla and Laredo, also extending across the border into Mexico. Another patch of moisture dotted the extreme west part of the state from close to Marfa toward Sanderson, and there were occasional showers in the area from Seymour and Mineral Wells to near Fort Worth.

Clouds dwindled elsewhere as remnants of a weak cool front broke up after pushing across the state Sunday into South Texas.

Warming weather was promised in most areas along with showers here and there in West and South Texas and clear skies elsewhere.

Early morning temperatures ranged from 74 degrees at Del Rio on the Mexican border down to 42 at Amarillo and Dalhart.

Lawyer says grand jury will probe raid on jail

DALLAS (AP) — That raid on the Piedras Negras, Mexico, jail by two Americans to free drug prisoners may come under scrutiny by a federal grand jury in San Antonio, according to a lawyer involved in the case.

One of those charged last week in connection with the raid was William Hill. His lawyer, Mike Aranson, said:

"We were discussing his case because he had been summoned to appear before a federal grand jury in San Antonio next week when the (U.S. Customs) agents came into my office and arrested Hill.".

Federal officials in San Antonio would not comment on the possible grand jury investigation.

Hill, 32, was charged with violations of the Munitions Control Act for exporting guns into a foreign country without proper authorization. He was released on a $1,000 bond.

Hill and former Marine sergeant Don Fielden have said they were the two armed men who entered the Piedras Negras jail just across the Rio Grande from Eagle Pass, Tex., March 12 and freed the American prisoners.

Fielden, 31, an unemployed Dallas truckdriver, was charged last week with violating neutrality laws by taking unregistered weapons into Mexico. He posted a $5,000 bond.

Fielden said the raid was financed by Dr. Sterling Davis, a Dallas psychologist whose son was in the prison on Mexican charges of possessing over 160 pounds of marijuana.

The Mexican government asked on Friday that the 14 prisoners released in the raid be returned to complete their sentences.

With the exception of Sterling Davis Jr., all of the escapees were released when they returned to this country because there were no charges against them here. Davis is now in the El Reno, Okla., federal penitentiary for parole violation.

The extradition request does not cover Fielden and Hill because they have not been convicted of a crime in Mexico. Mexican officials say, however, arrest warrants for the two have been issued in that country.

A U.S. State Department spokesman has confirmed the extradition request and said the request was passed to the U.S. Justice Department.

In Dallas last week, Mexican Asst. Atty. Gen. Salvador Del Toro said the released prisoners "are not heroes; they are criminals, nothing else. And we hope the U.S. government sees fit to send them back to serve their just terms."

Prom draws 200 students

A crowd of 200 attended the first banquet held in connection with the junior-senior prom at Big Spring High School cafeteria Saturday night.

"Color My World" was the theme, and for the first time in Big Spring High history, the senior will was read at the banquet.

The group grew even larger as they moved to the Dora Roberts Community Center for the traditional prom.

Colorful springlike formals and the pastels of the tuxedos and ruffled shirts outdid the color schemes of the multicolored flowers used in decorations at the center.

Mrs. Gene Currie expressed appreciation to the officers and mothers of the junior class who helped with the traditional event.

Publisher, area editor, quizzed

A question-and-answer session about the local newspaper was held at the regular meeting of the American Businessman's Club at the Settles Hotel at noon Friday.

J. Tom Graham, Herald publisher, and Mrs. Marj Carpenter, area editor, answered questions asked by the group following a short talk by the publisher in connection with the responsibility of a newspaper in a community.

A little lower

Parting is such sweet sorrow!!!

WILFRID M. CALNAN,
Director
Howard County Family Service Center

Separations from those we love, from the things we care about, are inescapable episodes in the process of life. To try to escape them brings pain even greater than the grief we try to avoid. To experience grief is essential to our survival. Each of us needs to love and to be loved. When we are separated from those we love we feel the gamut of emotions: sorrow, anger, and eventually, the sweetness of memory.

The full force of these emotions is felt when the separation is because of death. There are discernible stages of grieving: the denial that death has taken place, the attempt to recover the lost one, and then the restoration of oneself. I remember the young woman who told me of losing her father when she was thirteen years of age. She lived again with me the agony of that experience.

At first she could not admit that she had lost this stanchion of her troubled childhood existence. Her mother reinforced her disbelief. Several hours after the death when she walked out into the night and looked up into the sky, her eyes fastened on a star and she saw the image of her father there.

In the oppressed atmosphere of her home, she could not tell anyone of her vision or any of the other feelings she felt — anger, frustration, even some unreasonable sense of guilt. Life got mixed up after that. Troubled teen years, resort to "speed," unproductive social relationships. I hope that her visits to our office in that "other" city helped her at last to express her grief and to begin the road to restoration.

Perhaps as hard as anything else to tolerate in grief can be our intense feelings of anger. There is a story that has helped me with this. Two ministers were colleagues in the same city. After one accepted a call to another city, they remained friends. One night news came from the first city to the second. The three-year-old son of the first minister had died.

The second minister wired the first. "Please tell the Lord that when I see Him, He will have to give me a full accounting for this action." This minister was comfortable in his knowledge that a loving Father can and does accept the anger of His children. In the moment of hearing this story, I began to fully comprehend the nature of my own grief when my preschool son slipped away.

Individuals and families must suffer grief at the appropriate time. So must communities. When a major source of life is threatened, it is natural for citizens to deny that this could happen, to seek to recover their security, to wax angry at those who would so thoughtlessly bring this threat.

Such expressions are signs of vitality and strength. The community, having vented its grief, like the individual or family, then can begin the restorative process.

Do you think enough of your employees to provide the best?

UFO site, believe it or not

Did you hear the latest rumor?

The Air Force is doing a feasibility study on a proposed federal government project to lease Webb Air Force Base to parties yet unknown as a UFO landing site.

A usually unreliable source which has taken to calling me at home about midnight swears that he personally saw with his own eyes an official document suggesting that Webb might eventually become a flying saucer assembly plant, providing, of course, the environmental impact statement was favorable.

The State Department, in a soon-to-be released white paper report, has concluded that Webb might be particularly conducive to extraterrestrial life and that UFOs could take off here without disturbing the flight patterns of the Goodyear blimps.

Do you believe that?

Of course not. I just made it up sitting right here at my typewriter. I made it as far-fetched as I could, but . . .

. . . Somewhere in this town there is someone who will believe even that rumor and retell it for truth. I have heard scores of rumors only slightly less imaginative and twice as improbable.

THE RUMORS involving Webb fly at truly incredible speeds. I had always heard that military bases, like many big organizations, have their grapevines which generate rumors, but I had never heard so many rumors with so little substance as I have over the proposed closing of Webb.

At the Herald our editors consider it our semiofficial duty to check as many of them out as time allows. We pay special attention to any that might appear to have the tiniest chance of containing even a hint of truth.

The batting average for rumors is not good. Only about one in 100 seems to have originated from something as factual as a misunderstanding. The other 99 could have been made up by me at my typewriter, except mine might be more believable.

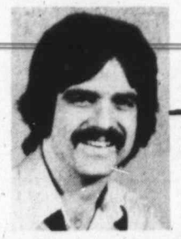

OUR EDITORS appreciate hearing about rumors. After being checked out, rumors make good jokes for the bulletin board. Our reporters might even make a news story out of some if they are as much as 20 per cent fact, but few are.

So when you hear the latest honest, sworn and eye-witnessed rumor over the backyard fence from your neighbor, remember the Graham odds on it being true 99 to 1.

That means if you hear 100 rumors, one might be partially true. And I think even that long-shot odds are stacked in favor of me, the house.

You'll hear somebody tell that UFO landing site rumor.

Just remember it was started by some never-informed ignoramus who only read the first three or four paragraphs of this editorial before rushing off to spread it. —J. TOM GRAHAM

History of beer

Around the rim

Danny Reagan

There is a local restaurant featuring Mexican food in town that has a very unique placemat at its tables. The mats detail an intriguing story about the history of beer.

SO, AS YOU drop bits of chile con queso and green enchiladas on the table around you, you can read all about beer, from ancient times to the present.

For your edification and enjoyment, I present the entire placemat (sans chile rellenos stains).

Beer has always been part of man's diet. It is as old and as universal as bread. In fact, there is some doubt about which was discovered first — beer or bread, since the making of the two paralleled each other so closely that housewives of ancient times practiced these two arts side by side.

The first recipe for grain fermentation was inscribed on stone tablets in Mesopotamia about 7,000 years before Christ. Beer was the national drink of Egypt in early times and pharoahs levied taxes on that beer, executing any tax-evading tavern keepers by drowning.

Home brews were made by women, 4,000 years ago by mashing baked bread with water, allowing it to ferment and then separating the grain from the liquid by filtering. "Home brewing" was later replaced by commercial breweries. One of the first was Weihenstepan Brewery in Freising, West Germany. Founded in 1040, it is probably the oldest brewery in Europe.

Historically, the term beer came into common use only after the introduction of hops into the beverage. Monks of Northern Gaul are given credit for using the first hops in beer, calling it beor.

BEER MAKING IS not only timeless, but worldwide. When Columbus arrived on the shores of the New World for his fourth voyage in 1502, he discovered the natives of Central America making a beer " . . . of maize, resembling English beer."

It has often been reported that the Mayflower voyagers originally intended to settle farther south but were forced to land at what became Plymouth because as one adventurer explained in his diary, "Our victuals being much spente, especially our beere . . ."

Many famous men in early America had their own breweries at home, including William Penn, who built the first brewery in Pennsylvania in 1638.

When the country "went dry" Oct. 28, 1919, several infamous men became attracted to beer for huge personal profits such as Al Capone and Legs Diamond. By 1921 Congress was granting the Prohibition Bureau more than $16 million to pay agents to eliminate the rum-runners, speakeasies, illicit stills, bootleggers and gangsters. The unpopular National Prohibition law was repealed April 7, 1933.

THE FIRST FEDERAL tax of $1 per barrel was imposed on beer in 1862 to defray the cost of the Civil War. Today the American brewing industry is the fourth largest federal excise taxpayer, giving the government about $9 on each barrel of beer. State and federal taxes on beer now total more than $2 billion yearly.

Beer drinking is on the increase too. In 1863 the per capita consumption was estimated at 1.7 gallons per year. That figure is now 21 gallons per year.

Today, the more than 100 U.S. breweries buy about $750 billion in farm products yearly in order to produce more than 150 million barrels of beer each year. The brewing industry employes about 51,000 people who earn more than $800 million in wages every year.

Israeli settlements

Robert Novak

WASHINGTON — Despite the fuzzy decision of the Israeli government last week to block a new Jewish settlement on the Arab West Bank of the Jordan, Middle East experts here predict major new controversy between the U.S. and Israel over Israel's policy of creeping annexation.

Vivid testimony to this came late last month when Republican Sen. Jacob K. Javits of New York, perhaps Israel's strongest benefactor in American politics, issued this confidential warning to Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin:

The U.S. government does not and will not allow old or new "settlements" — on territory that belonged to Arab states before the six-day war of 1967 — to influence in any way a final political settlement between Israel and its Arab neighbors.

THAT WORD, which Javits passed privately to Rabin and, separately, to Defense Minister Shimon Peres, the cabinet's leading hawk, and Foreign Minister Yigal Allon, its leading dove, would have been extraordinary in any other time. But in April 1976, when Javits made his trip to Israel and the Middle East, it was simply the latest in a series of warnings from prominent Americans underlining the grave political crisis now building between the U.S. and Israel.

Indeed, the mere itinerary of Javits's tour dramatized the change now threatening what until recently has been 99 per cent approval by the American Jewish community of everything Israel chose to do.

For the first time since the Nasser revolution in Egypt 23 years ago, Javits went to Egypt, Syria and Jordan. According to confidential reports received by diplomats here, he informed the rulers of Israel that all the Arab leaders he talked to now accept the existence of Israel.

Accordingly, he warned, there may be an irresistible movement in the U.S. to impose a political settlement if the parties to the conflict don't settle it themselves. For that reason, Javits sternly advised his old friends that Israel itself should move toward a more flexible negotiating position. Otherwise, he said, growing impatience in the U.S. — which is keeping Israel alive with annual aid of close to $2 billion — might take a nasty turn toward high-pressuring Israel.

THE IMPACT of this careful warning from Israel's friend was questionable, to say the least. Within a few days of his departure, the feuding Israeli cabinet, over which Rabin has minimum control, reached its alarming decision on the settlements question.

Bravely, in the face of fanatical opposition from religious Zionists, the cabinet voted to expel the Jewish settlement of Kaddum, located in the heart of the Arab-Palestinian West Bank population. But at the same time it voted — not bravely — both to let the Kaddum settlers move their settlement closer to the Jordan River and to establish other settlements in the Arab West Bank, along with the 17 already there.

Such a "compromise" of one of the most inflammatory political issues in Israel guarantees confrontation with the U.S. Indeed, it flies in the face of repeated warnings from high American officials (most recently William W. Scranton, U.S. ambassador at the United Nations).

THE FAILURE of those warnings to have the slightest effect on the Israeli government shows the impotence of American policymakers up to now in dealing with Israel. It has been a diplomatic truism for years that whenever the U.S. ambassador in Tel Aviv is asked to raise the settlements issue he invariably cables back that the moment would not be "opportune."

"I've gotta hand it to you, Ronnie, you're truly a gutsy guy."

What does doc mean by 'nerves'?

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have friends who have gone to doctors with various complaints and have come away saying, "My doctor says it's my nerves."

I have always understood that the nerves were a complicated communication system between the brain and various parts of the body. Apart from an injury, or a disease such as shingles, is there any complaint that can be called "nerves"? — B.R.

That's a difficult question.

I agree with your brief description of the nervous system. You wisely distinguish between nerve injury or disease and what doctors perhaps too often "diagnose" as "nerves."

True neural ailments are those like Parkinson's disease, Bell's palsy, shingles, sciatica and such. So why the confusion?

It arises because man is often beset by emotional factors — tension, anxiety, fear, love, hate. These, of course, can exist without any physical ailment. But patients turn to doctors with unexplainable headaches, assorted aches and pains, digestive problems. We know the nervous system you speak of controls the various organs and glands, and that these organs can be affected by those emotional factors.

If an outwardly healthy patient complains of symptoms, but examination fails to come up with a physical cause (as, for example, a bowel disease as a cause of constipation) then emotional factors may be suspected. The patient is told, "It's your nerves," or "It's all in your head." That doesn't mean the symtoms aren't real; it's just that the cause may be emotional.

Granted, that is not a satisfying diagnosis, at least not for the patient. Sometimes a mild tranquilizer is the best "treatment." And often, persistent examination and tests will either reveal a physical cause or at least assure the patient that everything is being done.

Patients with no obvious ailment may launch long and expensive searches for a doctor to "find" something wrong. These are called hypochondriacs. They suffer from that chronic all-purpose ailment called "nerves."

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Can you tell me why I get deathly sick about an hour after eating oysters? It lasts several hours. First I vomit, then I have diarrhea. I can eat anything as a rule, but the last three times I have become terribly sick and had cramps. — Mrs. M.W.

You should be convinced by now that you are allergic to oysters, or perhaps to whatever is used for cooking or for dipping them in. Usually a person allergic to a specific food cannot eat that food at any time. If you can eat oysters sometimes and then not at other times, you might suspect a sauce. These can vary from restaurant to restaurant.

Another possible factor is contamination.

"Isolated" allergies are common among food groups such as sellfish. This means a person may be able to eat clams, but become violently ill after eating, say, lobsters. Fish can cause particularly violent reactions among those sensitive to it.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: What is vitamin B-12 used for, and what does it do? Can it be taken in any way other than by injection? I mean in tablet form? — J.F.

It helps in the makiing of blood cells and in keeping the nervous system healthy. A lack of it, either because the body can't absorb it or because it is missing in the diet, can lead to pernicious anemia.

Injections are preferred in pernicious anemia because the vitamin is not absorbed easily from the intestine. It is available, however, in tablet form.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have a worried mind. I have to have a hysterectomy soon. Now I hear that you can get high blood pressure from this and also gain weight. Is it true? — Mrs. J.P.

Not true.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: What is happening on your insides when you have hot flashes? I know how it feels on the outside, but what is taking place in there? Mrs. T. H.

I assume you're speaking of the flashes connected with menopause.

The fact is we're not absolutely sure what is taking place.

There is some relationship between hormone production (estrogen) and what is called the "automatic nervous system." That's the system of nerves which controls things like vessel dilation and constriction (opening and closing). A lack of estrogen during menopause is thought to cause these sudden rushes of blood to the skin surface. The cool outer air makes this rush of blood seem even warmer.

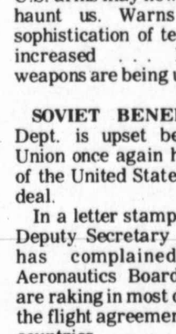

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Should a 75-year-old man with a groin hernia have surgery or not? — T. E.

Can't answer. Such surgery can be quite taxing at your age. However, we are finding that oldsters can take a lot more these days than we used to think. Better surgical techniques, anesthetics and recovery methods are involved. I suppose, as well, that oldsters on average are just in better shape than in past years. The decision is based on all of these factors, and whether or not the hernia can be controlled by trusses.

You can lose weight if you really want to! Dr. Thosteson's booklet, "Lost Secrets of Reducing," tells you how — naturally and without gimmicks — to the level best suited to your individual needs. For a copy write to him in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 35 cents.

There's an old saying — if your feet hurt, you hurt all over. Dr. Thosteson's new booklet, "Relief and Care of Your Feet," shows you how to avoid and take care of foot problems. To get your copy, write to Dr. Thosteson in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents.

Dr. Thosteson welcomes reader mail but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume receive daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Heat-seeking missiles

Jack Anderson, Les Whitten

WASHINGTON — The weapons we poured into South Vietnam may now be turned against us. It is known that abandoned U.S. arms have fallen into the hands of worldwide terrorists.

Terror groups have been able to get everything from handguns to recoilless rifles, all spanking new, from Vietnam. The most dangerous are shoulder-fired Redeye missiles, which can knock aircraft out of the air or destroy them on the runways.

The U.S. Customs Service has quietly alerted police across the country to be on the lookout for terrorists with Vietnam War weapons.

"REDEYE MISSILES are available for sale to terrorist groups," Customs has warned. "The compactness of these missiles poses a problem to Customs officers attempting to stop the illegal import of arms and explosives."

Not only do the heat-seeking Redeye missiles demolish aircraft by literally zooming up their tailpipes, but they can also be used against motor vehicles and factories.

Intelligence sources have traced the shipment of U.S.-made arms from Vietnam to Libya whose reckless leader, Col. Muammar el-Qaddafi, has become the terrorists' chief supplier.

The Customs alert is the first solid evidence, however, that the captured U.S. arms may now be coming back to haunt us. Warns Customs: "The sophistication of terrorist groups has increased . . . Modern military weapons are being used regularly."

SOVIET BENEFITS: The State Dept. is upset because the Soviet Union once again has gotten the best of the United States in a commercial deal.

In a letter stamped "Confidential," Deputy Secretary Charles Robinson has complained to the Civil Aeronautics Board that the Soviets are raking in most of the benefits from the flight agreements between the two countries.

Pan American Airlines' share of the business has dropped from 60 to a meager 27 per cent, while the Soviet Aeroflot's share has shot up from 40 to 73 per cent.

Wrote Robinson bluntly: "The Department believes that it is essential, from a foreign policy viewpoint and overall U.S. national interests, that our agreements with the Soviet Union produce an equitable balance of benefits.

"The current US-USSR Civil Air Transport Agreement, while balanced in concept, has resulted in significantly greater economic benefits for the Soviet Union than for the United States. Some improvements have been achieved, but this imbalance has not been satisfactorily resolved."

Robinson urged a "revenue pooling agreement to redress the imbalance." Our sources say the Soviets are amenable to revenue pooling if they are permitied to operate more flights to the United States than Pan Am is granted to Russia.

Footnote: A CAB spokesman said the board had rejected a draft agreement between Pan Am and Aeroflot because it was unfavorable to Pan Am.

URANIUM WINDFALL: The Ford Administration is pushing legislation which would give three companies the right virtually to dictate uranium enrichment prices. The move could cost potential users of nuclear energy a staggering $1 billion over a five-year period.

At present, prices are determined independently by the government. But under the legislation that the Administration wants, an industrial troika would be able to set the prices.

The lead firm in the deal is the Bechtel Corp., which hired President Ford's Health, Education and Welfare Secretary Caspar Weinberger and ex-President Nixon's Treasury Secretary George Shultz. The other two companies are Goodyear Tire and Rubber and the William Co.

SHOOTING IN YEMEN: Our associate, Joe Spear, reports from North Yemen that bomb explosions and random shootings occur every night in this remote but strategic country at the tip of the Arabian peninsula.

"No one is sure," writes Spear, "whether the violence is instigated by tribal Arabs who want to return North Yemen to a sheikdom or Arab revolutionaries with close ties to the Soviet Union."

But there is evidence that the Soviets, operating from South Yemen across the border, are trying to infiltrate the media and organize secret Communist cells in North Yemen.

EXPROPRIATED ELEVATOR: Some congressmen have been flattered into believing that the process of election has somehow lifted them above other Americans and has made them more worthy and less subject to reproach than the people who elect them.

At one House elevator bank, for example, two out of three elevators are reserved for members during roll call. The tourists are obliged to crowd aboard the third.

Rep. Paul Rogers, D-Fla., found both reserved elevators in use when he showed up. He barged through the crowd, commandeered the public elevator, held the tourists back with his hands and rode up to the House floor in lone splendor.

"This happens occasionally," he explained to us, when the congressmen are in a hurry to make a vote.

What others say

It's interesting, to say the least, that a Birmingham, Mich., minister has established a new non-stop preaching record by holding forth for 60 hours, 31 minutes.

The minister is to be congratulated for his stamina, if not for the effectiveness of his sermon.

We just hope that local ministers won't read of his achievement and try to emulate him in their Sunday lessons.

The news stories about the record-setting performance were deficient in one respect. They left unanswered one question which everybody would like to know about and which could involve a different kind of record.

Did anyone sit through the entire 60-hour-31-minute sermon?

My answer

Billy Graham

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: Someone came to my door the other day claiming that his church is the only true church. Is there any basis for this? — MRS. A.M.

DEAR MRS. M.: The Bible teaches that no human organization can claim to be the true church exclusively. In the New Testament; "the church" refers to all believers in Jesus Christ, who are united together through faith in Him. While the first century did not have as many denominations as we have today, it is clear that mere membership in an organization does not save a man. Only by repenting of our sins and personally trusting Jesus Christ, God's Son, as our Lord and Savior, can we be saved. "Neither is there salvation in any other: for there is none other name under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved" (Acts 4:12).

I have personally found sincere followers of Christ from all backgrounds. This does not mean that all groups are alike, for some may even seriously distort what the Bible says. We must, however, be careful in passing judgment on other believers.

I believe it is important for us to be active in a church where Christ is preached. However, always remember that it is Christ who saves us, and not the mere listing of our names on a church roll.

Tighten security on West Bank

Enraged Arab demonstrators shout 'Death to the Jews'

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — The military command said Israeli soldiers shot and killed another Arab youth today as army patrols clamped tight security on the occupied West Bank, where an Arab girl was slain Sunday.

He was the ninth Arab to be killed since anti-Israeli disturbances erupted in the occupied West Bank of the Jordan River nearly three months ago.

The command said two soldiers were inside a truck near Jerusalem airport when Palestinian refugees began "smashing its windows and threatening passengers." It reported the soldiers fired "in self-defense," fatally wounding Abdullah Mustafa Hawas, 20.

Officials said the Palestinians, from a camp near the airport, had barricaded the road from Jerusalem to Ramallah with burning tires.

A 17-year-old girl was shot and killed Sunday by an Israeli soldier in the West Bank city of Nablus during renewed rioting.

"Death to the Jews," shouted mourners waving clenched fists in the girl's funeral procession hours after her death. About 8,000 persons marched behind the coffin, which was draped in a Palestiian flag.

Many Nablus shopkeepers shuttered their stores in a twoday shutdown to protest the killing.

Arab residents claimed the girl, Lina Hassan Nabulsi, was shot down as she fled into a house to escape Israeli soldiers. An Israeli military communique said "a bullet was accidentally discharged from a rifle" and struck the girl as she ran up some stairs in the building.

The victim was the daughter of a leading Nablus merchant and a relative of former Jordanian Prime Minister Suleiman Nabulsi.

The West Bank area was part of Palestine until Jordan won it in the 1948 war that followed Israeli statehood. Israel captured it from Jordan in the 1967 Middle East war.

Security was heavy in the West Bank over the weekend because of the anniversary of Israeli independence on Saturday.

The Israeli communique said "a routine patrol was attacked by boys in the lanes and on the rooftops who threw stones at them," and the shooting occurred as the soldiers pursued the demonstrators.

But the Israeli military command said it was investigating the charges that she was deliberately shot.

Abducted by 'Joe' two weeks ago

Indian girl, 4, kidnaped in Big D found unharmed

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — A 4-year-old Indian girl abducted by a man she knew only as "Joe" two weeks ago in Dallas was to be reunited with her mother today.

Police predicted a few court hassles, however, before the mother, Linda Moore, could return to their Dallas home with her daughter Nicole.

Nicole was last seen by playmates being forced into a station wagon near her apartment complex May 3. She turned up Sunday dazed but apparently none the worse for wear near a downtown medical center.

"That's her! That's her!" an ecstatic Ms. Moore exclaimed, hugging and kissing the picture shown her by police shortly after she flew in early today.

But the mother spent the night without seeing Nicole, who remained legally in the custody of the welfare deparment. The child was kept at an undisclosed location pending a juvenile court hearing today.

Nicole, wearing boy's clothes and with her formerly long brown hair shorn by her abductor, was found by puzzled officers who thought at first she was a boy.

A note on a paper napkin was pinned to her clothes. It advised, "My name is Nicole Moore. I am from Dallas. For Jesus, help me get home."

A quick check with Dallas police revealed the kidnaping to New Orleans officers.

"He didn't hurt me," a yawning Nicole said hours later of the man she said lured her away with promises of a puppy, a cat and a swim. The coroner's office said she was in good condition.

(AP WIREPHOTO)

HAPPY ENDING — Four-year-old Indian girl, Nicole Moore, speaks with her mother by telephone from the New Orleans police headquarters just hours after a two-week journey that began when she was abducted in Dallas May 3 ended. Nicole said the man she called Joe who abducted her didn't hurt her. The bright child was the object of an intense FBI and police search, which has shifted its attention now to "Joe."

Police said they do not know how the man and bright-eyed child eluded an FBI and Texas dragnet to travel 500 miles to this port city.

Nicole remembered riding at times in a car, and at other times in a truck. She said she also was sometimes left with a woman whose name she didn't know.

She said Joe was neither a family member nor a friend.

"He said he take me away cause I was a pretty girl," Nicole said.

But she said she was scared of Joe and several times hit him when he refused to take her home.

Police said a court order would have to be obtained in Dallas and delivered to New Orleans assigning custody to Ms. Moore.

An intensive search was mounted after the girl disappeared and volunteers searched dense areas and river bottoms fearing she had been killed. An anonymous donor and the child's school, the Montessori Creative Learning Center, raised a $1,500 reward.

Ms. Moore, a beautician, had sobbed uncontrollably and hugged friends, neighbors and family members before flying to New Orleans.

"I went to church today and prayed, 'Please help me, God. I'm so desperate,'" she said.

Family members said the mother had a premonition the girl might be found Sunday.

Wreckage of plane discovered

WASHINGTON (AP) — The wreckage of a small plane carrying two U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration agents and a Mexican federal policeman was discovered Sunday by Mexican army troops in the Sierra Madre mountains 50 miles northwest of Acapulco, the DEA said.

The troops said there were no survivors.

The plane had crashed into the side of a 12,000-foot mountain peak, a DEA spokesman said.

The single-engine six-seat plane had been missing since Friday, when it departed Acapulco International Airport on a "routine liaison flight" reviewing the Mexican eradication program designed to eliminate heroin-producing poppy fields.

The victims were two DEA special agents, James Lunn, 35, of Mission, Kan., and Ralph Shaw, 41, of El Centro, Calif., and a Mexican federal judicial police agent, Noe Inchaustequi.

Mexican Atty. Gen. Pedro Ojada-Paullada has arranged for a thorough investigation of the crash by Mexican authorities, the DEA said.

The intensive air and ground search had been hampered by a heavy haze hanging over the mountains since the plane was reported missing.

The haze had limited the use of all aircraft except helicopters on Friday and most of Saturday.

221 persons killed

Epidemics, hunger threaten Lebanon

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Moslems and Christians fought one of the most savage rocket and artillery duels of the 13-month-long civil war late Sunday and early today.

Police reported 221 persons killed and 383 wounded overnight, pushing the war's death toll to more than 19,000.

Hospitals issued urgent appeals for blood and said the wounded were being placed on bare floors.

Scores of high-rise apartment buildings were ablaze in downtown Beirut and the suburbs.

On Sunday, about 50 moviegoers in a Moslem area were killed or wounded as they walked out of a theater and into a mortar battle. A spokesman at Barbir hospital said 34 bodies were brought there but some of the victims might have been killed elsewhere.

The over-all death toll included journalist Edouard Saab, editor of the French-language newspaper L'Orient le Jour, who was fatally wounded by a sniper bullet as drove his car in Beirut.

A police spokesman said the Moslem and Christian militias fired more than 1,000 rounds of Soviet-made rockets and 155mm artillery shells in the duel.

Police said fighting continued for a sixth day for control of ski resort villages on the edge of the Christian enclave on Mount Lebanon, 20 miles northeast of Beirut.

Palestinian leader Yasir Arafat was meeting in Damascus with Syrian President Hafez Assad.

In Beirut, Christian President Suleiman Franjieh announced that he had made no commitment to resign quickly and turn over the government to Elias Sarkis, elected by parliament 10 days ago with Syrian backing.

Moslem leftists had made Franjieh's resignation a key condition for ending the civil war.

Libyan Prime Minister Abdul Jalloud arrived from Damascus where he met with Assad and Arafat. Jalloud conferred here with Moslems leaders in another mediation effort.

Food shortages are acute among an estimate 100,000 Lebanese living in temporary quarters, U.N. officials said.

Vaccine for half a million persons is being rushed to Lebanon this week to head off potential epidemics of cholera, polio, diphtheria and typhoid, according to James McDougall, Middle East director of the United Nations Children's Fund (UNICEF).

He announced that UNICEF plans to distribute insecticides and chlorination kits.

"The accumulation of garbage and rubble, the pollution of the air, the contamination of water sources, the breakdown in sewage disposal and increasing swarms of flies and insects are all potential sources of epidemics," McDougall told the weekly Monday Morning.

Saab, 47, died at Barbir Hospital after he was shot in the head as he drove his car across the no-man's land between Moslem and Christian sectors.

Moslem Premier Rashid Karami broadcast a plea for peace and an end to clashes between Moslem militiamen and Syrian-based Palestinians trying to police the ineffective cease-fire. He called the battles "bloody fighting among brothers."

Karami defended the Syrian intervention to halt the war, saying Syria's only interest was Lebanon's welfare.

Several thousand Saiqa Palestinian guerrillas controlled by Syria were sent into Lebanon by Syrian President Hafez Assad, who is trying to mediate an end to the war between Moslems and Christians that has claimed more than 18,000 lives.

The Moslems, with a 60 per cent majority of Lebanon's population, are demanding a greater share of the political and economic power that rests with the Christian minority. The Christians, in turn, want assurances that the government will exert greater control over the Palestinian refugees and their guerrilla armies living in Lebanon.

Tornado, hail reported in northern Florida

By The Associated Press

Scattered showers and thunderstorms dampened the Atlantic coast states early today and spread moisture over the Great Lakes and the Ohio and mid-Mississippi valleys.

Northern Florida had the heaviest thunderstorm activity. A tornado and hail was reported about 60 miles north of Tampa on the Gulf Coast.

A vigorous Pacific cold front pushed through the Northwest. At Pendleton, Ore., winds gusted to 60 miles per hour Sunday night.

Widely scattered showers, with snow in the western mountains, lingered in Washington and northwest Oregon, spreading into northern Idaho.

Fair skies prevailed over the central Gulf Coast states although patches of fog developed.

Fair skies domed the northern Great Plains, Minnesota, Nebraska, western Kansas, much of the central Rockies and the central and southern intermountain region. Some low clouds hovered over the California coast.

Some other reports: Anchorage 42 partly cloudy, Atlanta 60 clear, Boston 58 rain, Buffalo 60 partly cloudy, Chicago 51 cloudy, Cincinnati 57 cloudy, Cleveland 57 cloudy, Dallas 63 clear, Denver 42 partly cloudy, Detroit 57 rain; Honolulu 71 partly cloudy, Indianapolis 55 cloudy, Kansas City 49 clear, Los Angeles 59 partly cloudy, Louisville 58 partly cloudy, Miami 71 partly cloudy, Minneapolis-St. Paul 54 clear, Nashville 63 rain, New York 60 fog, Philadelphia 68 partly cloudy, Phoenix 84 clear, Pittsburgh 55 partly cloudy, St. Louis 57 partly cloudy, San Francisco 49 clear, Seattle 47 partly cloudy, Washington 68 partly cloudy.

Bicentennial due salute from choirs

Big Spring school choirs will hold a Salute to the Bicentennial concert at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the high school auditorium.

Patriotic selections and American songs will be furnished by the Meistersingers, as well as all other high school choirs and the junior high choirs.

Admission for the end-of-the-year event for the vocal music department is $1.

Eight gain aggie degrees

COLLEGE STATION — Eight students from Big Spring are centennial graduates of Texas A&M University.

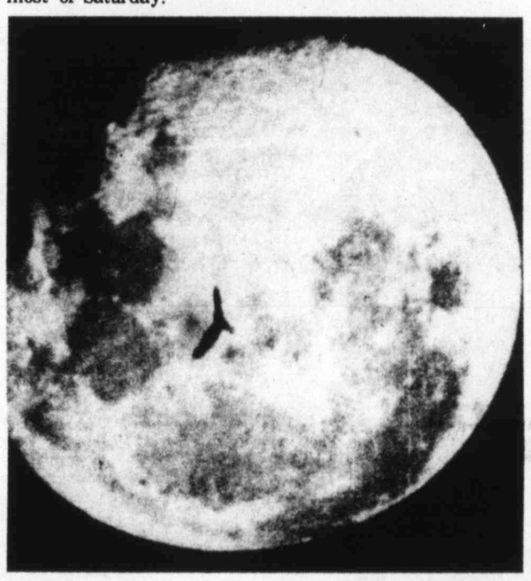

Texas A&M had a total of 2,466 spring graduates, a record for the state's first public institution of higher learning which is now in the midst of its centennial.

Graduating summa cum laude was Billy M. Priebe, mechanical engineering.

Receiving the honors of magna cum laude were Nancy C. Dunnam, educational curriculum and instruction and Bennett W. Fletcher, psychology.

Receiving his master's degree in animal science was Kelly J. Gaskins.

Also receiving undergraduate degrees were Jose G. Arguello, civil engineering; Terry L. Mitchell, entomology; Gregory E. Parnell, physics, and Bobby W. Price, civil engineering.

Cincinnati Enquirer names managing editor

CINCINNATI (AP) — James Schottelkotte has been named managing editor of The Cincinnati Enquirer by William J. Keating, president and editor.

Schottelkotte, named to the new post on Saturday, had been sports editor at The Enquirer since 1967. His sports section was voted best in the state by the Ohio Associated Press Sports Writers Association in 1974 and 1975.

A graduate of Xavier University, Schottelkotte joined the newspaper in 1948 as a copy boy, and later held positions as general assignment reporter and sports writer. He was the first president of the sports writers association and is regional vice chairman of the Associated Press Sports Editors.

Keating also named James Montgomery, former assistant to Schottelkotte, to the sports editor position. Montgomery joined The Enquirer in 1970 after serving as sports editor of the Colorodo Springs, Colo., Free Press.

A graduate of the University of Texas, Montgomery was a reporter and sports columnist for newspapers in Houston and Waco, Texas.

In other changes effective May 25, Keating appointed news editor Robert Webb to editoral writer and columnist, and city editor James H. Myers to news editor.

Webb had been political reporter before becoming news editor, and served five years as The Enquirer's Washington bureau chief ending in July 1975.

Myers joined The Enquirer from the Dayton Daily News in 1963 and worked as an editorial writer and city editor.

Politicians buy 'kinky' sex

'Power brokers' habitual customers of prostitutes

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — High-ranking politicians and corporate officials make up a majority of the clients of a group of elite prostitutes, and most are habitual customers, a report to the American Psychiatric Association maintains.

Two assistant professors of psychiatry at the New York Medical College said here their survey of high-priced call girls determined that the corporate chieftains, or "power brokers," and high federal, state and local officials usually prefer "kinky" sex.

"Through prostitution, politicians and power brokers get unusual sexual needs gratified," Drs. Samuel S. Janus and Barbara Bess said. "The arrangement provides a convenience in that neither the powerful figure will expose the call girl nor the reverse. Confidentiality is assured."

Janus and Dr. Bess said 50 per cent of the federal and state officials discussed in the report, 62 per cent of the local officials and 68 per cent of the corporate executives are habitual call girl customers.

That compares to 20 per cent of the other customers — theatrical and sports figures, clergymen and average citizens, they said.

They described the politicians as members of Congress, federal and state judges, appointed department heads, governors, state legislators, mayors, city councilmen and district attorneys.

Eighty per cent of the customers are married and in their 40s or 50s, the report said.

Janus and Dr. Bess said they interviewed 42 call girls and 10 madams in New York City, California and Las Vegas for the study. All had been subjects in previous research and had developed a "trust relationship" with the researchers, they said.

The names of the prostitutes and their customers were not disclosed.

Janus and Dr. Bess said 60 per cent of the sexual encounters occur in the call girls' apartments. The prostitutes' minimum fees range from $50 an hour to $750 a week plus expenses.

BRIEF CAREER — Miami college student Evelyn Young gestures as she talks to prostitutes and tells them that street walking is a short-lived career. She's earning college credit for the program she set up for hookers.

Help us find a way to spend $1,000,000.

Here's a great idea.
Go to England. Buy an old castle, preferrably haunted. Ship it back and reconstruct it exactly as it was with everything intact, including the ghosts. You'll never have to worry about pesky neighbors again.
Or you can be a little more conventional. Go pick out the house your family's always wanted, and we'll loan you the money to buy it.
As a matter of fact, between now and June 30, we'll loan you money for just about anything. Home improvement loans, and loans for cars, boats and all kinds of personal things.
Before this, you couldn't get all these kinds of loans just anywhere. Now, we've fixed it so you can.
There's an idea that's worth a million. Because we're loan specialists, too.

LEGAL NOTICE

NOTICE AFFORDING OPPORTUNITY FOR PUBLIC HEARING PROPOSED BRIDGE ON MOSS LAKE ROAD AT BEALS CREEK

The State Department of Highways and Public Transportation is planning the construction of a bridge and its approaches on Moss Lake Road at Beals Creek east of Big Spring.

The proposed bridge is to be a concrete slab and girder span type structure 200 feet long and 26 feet wide between rails. The approaches will have an asphalt paved surface 20 feet wide. Additional right of way will be needed to provide a right of way width of about 100 feet near the bridge. Total length of the project will be approximately 0.6 mile.

Maps and other drawings showing the proposed location and geometric design, environmental studies and any other information about the proposed project are on file and available for inspection and copying at the Resident Engineer's Office at the intersection of State Highway 350 and I-20 in Big Spring. Also, the drawings showing the proposed geometric design have been placed on file with Howard County.

Information about the State's Relocation Assistance Program, the benefits and services for displacees, and the relocation assistance office as well as information about the tentative schedules for acquisition of right of way and construction, can be obtained at the Resident Engineer's Office.

Any interested citizen may request that a public hearing be held covering the social, economic and environmental effects of the proposed location and design for this highway project by delivering a written request to the Resident Engineer's Office, P.O. Box 511, Big Spring, Texas, 79720, on or before June 16, 1976.

In the event such a request is received, a public hearing will be scheduled and adequate notice will be publicized about the date and location of the hearing.

Two drownings, two shootings

Texas records light violence toll

By The Associated Press

Although mild weather throughout the state encouraged outdoor activities, Texas recorded an unusually light death toll from traffic or other violent causes during the weekend.

The Associated Press gathered reports between 6 p.m. Friday and midnight Sunday of 10 fatalities — five on streets and highways, two drownings, two shootings and one crushed to death.

Among the victims were:.

Roy Lee Jones, 18, of Gainesville, drowned Sunday afternoon at a small lake two miles south of Gainesville while swimming with two others.

A 50-year-old woman was killed Saturday night in Edinburg as another car struck hers broadside at an Edinburg intersection, police reported. They withheld her name until relatives could be notified.

A hitchhiker, Daniel Dale Daniels, 21, of Chicago was killed Saturday when a car carrying him hit an Interstate 10 median west of Beaumont. Officers said Elias Robles, 50, of LaFeria was crushed to death tween two cars there Saturday while checking transmission fluid in a car. They said he asked a daughter, 12, to hold her foot on the brake pedal while the engine was running and it slipped to the accelerator by accident.

Diana R. Fields, 16, of Mesquite was killed early Saturday when she attempted to cross Interstate 30 near an intersection. She was struck in the westbound portion of the freeway by a pickup driven by a woman who left the scene, officers said but later surrendered to Mesquite police.

Doug Rampy of Groesbeck was killed Saturday in a collision just outside Mart in Central Texas. One other person was injured.

An East Dallas apartment owner was found shot to death Friday night in his bedroom. Police said tenants discovered the body of John W. Hughes, 85, who had been shot in the chest. The victim's billfold was missing.

Shower is given for Miss Snell

Miss Becky Snell was honored Tuesday evening with a gift shower given in the home of Mrs. E. W. Patterson. Miss Snell is the bride-elect of Randy Key.

Hostesses for the event were Mrs. Ronnie Walker, Mrs. E. W. Patterson, Mrs. Glyn Mitchel, Mrs. James Cook, Mrs. Lori Shirley, Mrs. Bert Smith, Miss Dale Mitchel, Mrs. Burnel Bayes, and Miss Janette Brooks. Other hostesses were Mrs. Charles Rupard, Mrs. Roland Beal, Mrs. J. B. Hall, Mrs. Marshall Day, Mrs. C. D. Martin, and Mrs. Jarrell Barbee.

Corsages were given to the mothers of the couple, Mrs. Clois Snell and Mrs. Connie Key, and to the grandmothers, Mrs. Ernest Key and Mrs. C. E. Tomme.

The couple will be married June 6.

Miss Best honored

Miss Valrae Best, bride-elect of Ralph Sides, was honored with a bridal shower May 8 in the home of Mrs. J. H. Shelburne.

Hostesses for the shower included Mrs. Shelburne, Mrs. Eddie Engels, Mrs. Frank Loveless, Mrs. Bill Tinner, Mrs. Rod Tiller, Mrs. Charles Murphy, Mrs. Rex Shive, and Mrs. Wendell Shive. Others were Mrs. Jack Cauble, Mrs. Ray Echols, Mrs. Butch Hodnett, Mrs. Bill Walker, Mrs. Bob Read, Mrs. Melvin Brown, and Mrs. Johnny Zitterkopf.

Mrs. Bill Best, Mrs. Charter Hale, and Mrs. Delmer Powell were presented with corsages.

The couple will be married May 29 in the First Presbyterian Church in Coahoma.

Chapter hears two programs

Texas Beta Omicron chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met at 7 p.m. Thursday in the Barcelona club room. Mrs. Pam Carroll, president, presided at the meeting.

Two representatives, Mrs. Jo Broadrick and Mrs. Mary Ruth Robertson, from the Community Blood Center were guests. They explained the working routine in the new blood center and answered questions from the members. Telephoning Big Spring citizens to ask for blood donors is one of the service projects of Beta Omicron. The Community Blood Center is open on Wednesday afternoons from 12 p.m. to 6 p.m. in the Malone-Hogan emergency room.

Mrs. Pat Radcliffe, service chairwoman, thanked all the members for the cookies they baked for the state hospital.

Congratulations were given to Mrs. Normal Friesen, who was installed as treasurer at the last City Council meeting.

A program "Never Underestimate The Power Of A Woman" was presented by Mrs. Mary Alligood and Mrs. Mary Adams. All the members participated in a debate on the subject of whether or not the American people are ready for the first female president.

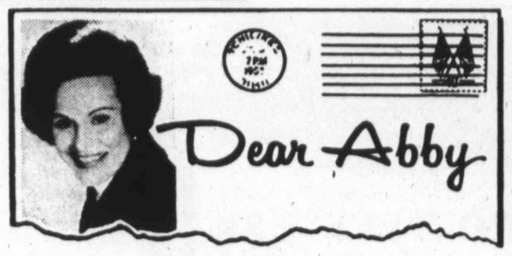

The program concluded with an Eastern dance performed in full costume by Mrs. Alligood.

A second program presented by Mrs. Doris Arcand and Mrs. Normal Friesen summarized all of the programs from the Beta Sigma Phi program book for 1975-76 — "Heritage and The Woman."

Friday was the date set for Husbands Appreciation Night. All the husbands were treated to dinner at La Posada.

The closing of the meeting included a farewell ritual for Mrs. Connie Scasny, who is moving to Omaha, Nebraska, at the end of this month.

The hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. Alligood and Mrs. Scasny. The next meeting will be at 7:30 p.m. May 27 in the Barcelona club room.

Don't blame all kids for faults of few

DEAR ABBY: I have to comment on your recent reply to a letter complaining about the "no children" request on wedding invitations.

The sad part is that the great majority of today's children are undisciplined, ill-bred, ill-mannered, uncivilized, noisy, rude, destructive, dirty little horrors whom even their parents don't want anything to do with. When they become teenagers, they add dirty clothes and filthy living habits to their repertoire. If their own parents can't stand them, why should others have to put up with them?

That's what two decades of liberal, modern upbringing and education have accomplished!

It is not entirely the fault of the young people; the parents will have to share the blame for allowing them to grow up like animals and permitting the kind of educational system we now have.

HERBERT E. GORDON: S. EASTON, MASS.

DEAR MR. GORDON: The dictionary defines a "jeremiad" as "a lamentation, a lugubrious complaint." You've delivered a beaut. You conspicuously ignore some admirable qualities and praiseworthy contributions of today's young people while stigmatizing all of them for the acknowledged faults of a few. And I object!

DEAR ABBY: After 14 years of marriage, Howard asked for a divorce. I had a feeling that he had been fooling around, but then nobody's perfect.

He said he fell in love with a woman he had met at work. She is 44 and divorced. Howard is 38.

I told Howard I wanted to meet the woman, and if I thought she was good enough for him, I'd sign the papers.

Well, I met her and she was a mess, so I told Howard that I wasn't going to sign any papers so he could marry THAT. I didn't forbid him from seeing her; I just let the affair burn itself out. Sure enough, in three months it was dead as a doornail.

Now Howard is thanking me for being so sensible. Maybe other women with the same problem can use my solution.

SMART MAMA

DEAR SMART: What will cure some patients will kill others. All generalizations are worthless, including this one.

DEAR ABBY: May I second your excellent recommendation to NERVOUS WRECK, whose bull-headed husband refused marriage counseling, was walking all over her and was teaching her son to do the same.

We had a similar situation at our house. I finally sought counseling alone because my husband not only refused to go with me but also tried to talk me out of it.

Several sessions with a psychiatrist relieved my depression, and at the doctor's suggestion I signed up for a course in assertiveness at a nearby mental health clinic.

Well, Abby, our marriage is on an entirely different footing now. In counseling I was treated as a rational, sensitive person whose feelings are important, and I came to view myself that way.

Because I changed, my family's reactions toward me did, too. They found that I would firmly reject disrespectful attitudes and actions and that I demanded my rights in any situation.

My husband now seems like a different man, and we are both 100 per cent happier. As for me, I'm...

NO LONGER A WRECK

DEAR NO LONGER: Thank you for supporting my constant recommendation to "get counseling." To some it may sound like a broken record. To others, a cop-out. But the mental health clinics across the nation continue to provide life-saving support for troubled people at a price everyone can afford to pay. If your marriage is in trouble and your mate refuses counseling—go alone!

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Modern Woman's Forum conducts installation

Members of the Modern Woman's Forum met Friday afternoon in Kentwood Center for the final meeting of the club year.

A salad luncheon was served at noon. Tables were decorated with bouquets of red roses.

Mrs. John D. Latham was welcomed as a guest.

Mrs. B. M. Keese and Mrs. B. F. Yandell were introduced as new members.

Mrs. Hugh Duncan evaluated the year's work including the Bicentennial programs conducted during the year. Officers gave the yearly reports.

Mrs. Fred Whitaker gave a program entitled "What Kind of Future For America?"

Mrs. W. E. Singleton, retiring president, conducted the installation ceremony.

She installed Mrs. Cass Hill as president with Mrs. Hugh Duncan as first vice president and Mrs. S. R. Nobles as second vice president.

Mrs. C. A. Holcomb was installed as secretary with Mrs. W. E. Moren as corresponding secretary. Other officers installed were Mrs. Bert Affleck, treasurer; Mrs. P. G. Adams, historian; Mrs. H. M. Rowe, federation counselor; and Mrs. Fred Whitaker, parliamentarian.

Mrs. Moad presented Mrs. Singleton with a certificate denoting that her name had been placed in the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs Golden Book in Austin.

The Modern Woman's Forum will meet again on Sept. 10.

Society meets at HC library

The Genealogical Society of Big Spring met Thursday evening at the Howard County library.

Bill Steagald presided.

The society agreed to keep a supply of four generation ancestor charts for use by members or others who wish to purchase them.

Mrs. June Williams offered the society a two-drawer filing cabinet.

Steagald gave a demonstration using his daughter, Debbie, to illustrate how errors creep into research of family history.

Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Dorothy Musick and Mrs. Marie Hale were visitors.

Officers were elected during the meeting, and will be installed during the next meeting, June 10 at the Howard County Library. Elected to serve are Ms. Margaret Barnett, president; Mrs. Stella Arnold, secretary, A. A. Porter, treasurer, Steagald, vice president; Mrs. Linda Atkins, librarian, Mrs. Glynora Wall, reporter-historian; and Albert Watkins, editor.

All members are urged to attend the installation.

Can't keep a secret?

Go ahead, tell them you read about it in the Big Spring Herald. Tell them to start their subscription they should call 263-7331.

IN RECITAL — Tammy Butts, Toni Hale and Carmen Halmen are three of the dance students of Ms. Ora Burson who will appear in a recital at 7:30 p.m. Friday night in the city auditorium. Approximately 100 of Ms. Burson's students from the YMCA and the Webb Youth Center are scheduled to perform. Several bicentennial numbers will be presented during the evening. The public is invited to attend.

B&PW officers elected Tuesday

Members of the Business and Professional Women's Club held a business meeting Tuesday evening in the Flame Room of the Pioneer Gas Company.

Officers were elected for the coming year. Elected are Miss Edith Gay, president; Miss Frances Kelly, first vice president; Ms. Rozelle Dohoney, second vice president; Ms. Marie Affleck, secretary; Ms. Mamie Roberts, corresponding secretary; and Ms. Delphia Gordon, treasurer. Mrs. Alpha Morrison was elected to serve as parliamentarian.

Officers are to be installed the second Tuesday in June. After the installation, the club will discontinue meeting until August.

In other business conducted, the club voted to continue its recognition of an outstanding woman member of the business community at each quarter of the Bicentennial year.

Plans were made for delegates to the state convention in Brownsville to travel as passengers on a chartered bus. Delegates to the convention are Mrs. Morrison, Ms. Dohoney, and alternates Miss Kelly and Ms. Affleck. The convention is slated for June 25 and 26.

Students in recital

Students performing were Amy Paredez, Glenna Kohl, Esther Strain, Stephen Strain, Karen Boyett, and Sheri Graham.

Others were Judy Tanner, Natalie Fulgham, Ginger Gray, Kama Minchew, Kristi Haynes and Helen Ewing.

Sorority meets in Cantrell home

Members of the Texas Delta Delta sorority met Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. Clyde Cantrell.

Mrs. W. W. Warden, vice president, presided.

Officers were elected. Mrs. Warden was elected to serve as president. Mrs. Jimmie Mason will serve as vice president, with Mrs. M. R. Erhardt as treasurer. Other officers elected are Mrs. Cantrell, secretary; Mrs. Ernest Bauch, corresponding secretary and Mrs. Mason and Mrs. Johnnie Winham, historians.

Mrs. Jean House, Odessa, director of the Permian Basin area assembly of Phi Sigma Alpha, gave the program. She spoke on methods of gaining new members.

Next meeting for the group will be June 10 in the home of Mrs. Winham.

International evening is planned

The International Women's Club met Wednesday evening in the home of Mrs. Janetta Jackson, 183A Fairchild.

Guests included Mrs. Geneva Fickins, Mrs. Sybil Octec, and Mrs. Angeliki Coutoumanon. Mrs. Coutoumanon is from Greece. She is the mother of Mrs. Jackson.

Other guests were Mrs. Suphattra Sowards, Thailand, and Ms. Jung Hui, Korea.

Mrs. Jackson served a Greek meal consisting of stuffed grape leaves, Greek meatballs, and Greek macaroni pie topped with cinnamon.

The group made plans for International Evening. It is slated for the July 14 meeting in the home of Mrs. Francis Loftis, 1707 Aylford. Meeting time is 8 p.m.

Members will bring a dish from their country. Members will also bring music from their countries by tapes, records, and singing.

Next meeting for the group will be June 9 in the home of Mrs. Johanna Gilbert, 1101 Lamar.

Miss Mary Ann Wallace given bridal showers

Miss Mary Ann Wallace, bride-elect of Reagan Hammett, Austin, was given a bridal shower recently in the home of Mrs. Raymond Smith, Austin.

Mrs. Roy Bartlett and Mrs. Olive Judd also served as hostesses.

Miss Wallace is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Wallace of Ackerly. Hammett is the son of Mrs. Alene Hammett.

Mrs. Wallace attended the shower. The honoree and her mother were presented carnation corsages.

Miss Wallace was honored with a shower in the home of Mrs. Bill Etchison, Ackerly, on May 8.

Miss Wallace and the mothers of the couple were presented with corsages.

The refreshment table was covered with a lace table cloth over an underlay of white. The bride's chosen color of red was carried out in the centerpiece of red and white carnations accented with baby's breath and greenery. Crystal and silver appointments were used. Mrs. Jerry Hall and Mrs. Chris Boyd served the guests cake and punch.

Hostesses were Mrs. Etchison, Mrs. Chris Boyd, Mrs. Covie Williams, Mrs. Bill Hambrick, Mrs. Auda Vee Graham, Mrs. Donn Long, Mrs. Earl Newcomer, Mrs. Jerry Hall, Mrs. M. E. Dyer, Jr., Mrs. Cartis White, Mrs. J. C. Ingram, Mrs. Joe Gillespie, Mrs. Jack Archer, Mrs. Martin Snell, Mrs. Tommy Horton, Mrs. Ross Mahaney, Mrs. Edgar Herm and Mrs. Leon Bodine.

The couple will be married June 12 in the home of the bride's parents.

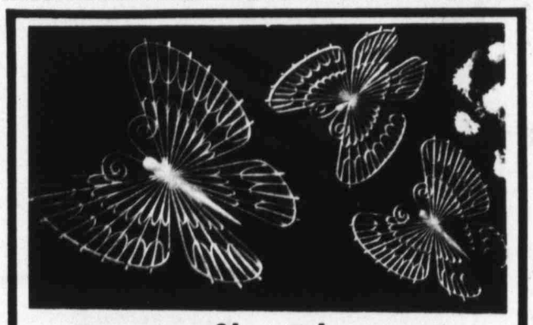

Clever designs aid children

Clever ribbons, braids, appliques and iron-on embroideries that feature novel designs such as animals, cartoons, or graphics lend interest to sewing for children. Large buttons, buckles and zipper ring tabs assist young children when learning to dress and undress themselves, Mrs. Becky Culp, area clothing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, notes.

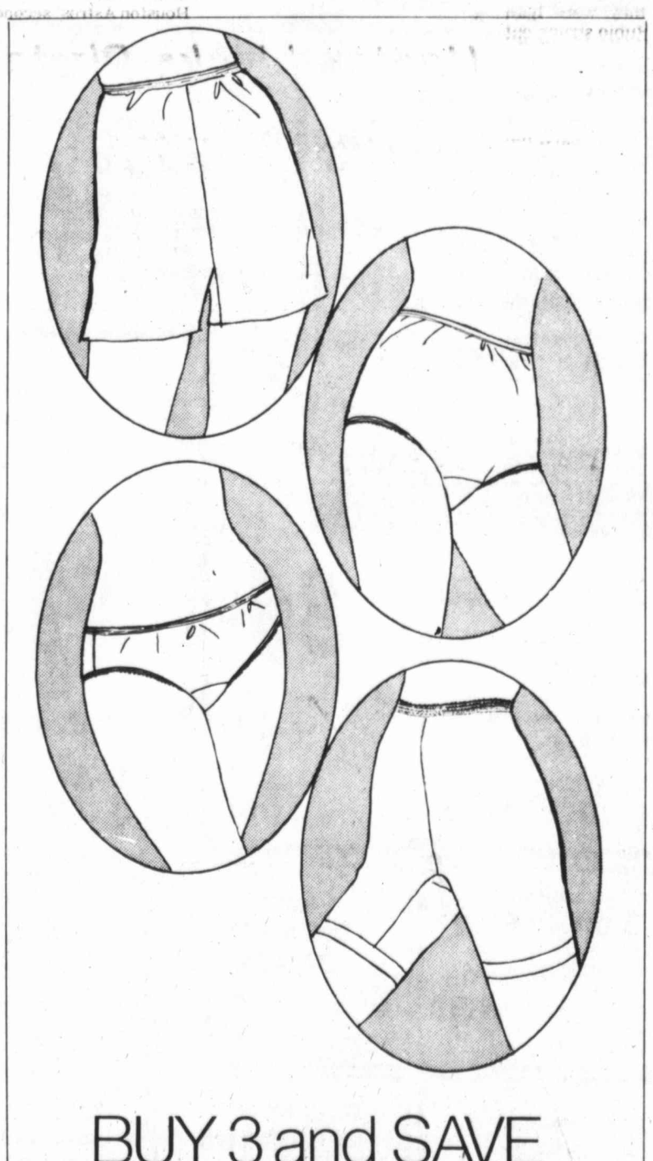

To clean percolator

To clean an electric percolator, fill it up with water as if to make coffee and add one tablespoon of liquid detergent. Plug it in and go through the whole cycle. This cleans all the main parts of the percolator, Mrs. Lillian Chenoweth, family resource management specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, says.

Classic Trevino match

Super Mex wins in Tex

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — The madcap Mex is back, a winner again, hugging cops and caddies and scorekeepers and drawing suspicious glances from a puzzled swan.

"You don't know how happy I am," bubbled Lee Trevino. "I'm still in shock. I thought I'd lost the tournemtn. I really did."

It was classic Trevino.

Squandering a three-shot lead, Super Mex rode a "crazy kick" to a clutch birdie in a head-to-head duel with Mike Morley and won the $200,000 Colonial National Invitation by a single stroke.

Trevino closed with a 3-over-par 73 on the Trinity River course he contends is "the toughest in the world when the wind is blowing."

It blew a little Sunday.

His 72-hole card of 68-64-68-73—273 was seven under par and netted him $40,000. More importantly, it broke a 14-month victory drought and provided him a cherished goal: victory in his beloved Texas.

Moments after Morley, a non-winner, put the finishing strokes to a 69 for 274, Trevino tapped in a short part putt to secure his first title ever

LEE TREVINO
I'm still in shock

in his home state.

He hugged his caddy. He hugged a Mexican cop. He headed for a scorekeeper, then hugged his silver trophy.

He thanked anyone vaguely connected with golf, overlooking only a swan watching warily from Crampton's Lake, so named for Bruce Crampton's assorted misfortunes therein.

Then, finally, grinning from ear to ear, he exclaimed: "I want to to thank everybody. To hell with it."

Trevino opened the sun-splashed final round 10 under par, three shots ahead of Miller Barber, five ahead of Morley and Don January, six ahead of Tom Weiskopf and seven in front of Marty Fleckman.

All but Morley shot themselves out of contention while Trevino, with the first of two double bogeys, was floundering to a 3-over-par 38 on the front nine. Morley fired a 34. The race was on.

"I thought I had a chance," Morley said later.

Incredibly, Trevino took a second double bogey, at the par 4 12th hole, and suddenly Morley had a one-stroke lead.

"To tell you the truth, I was kind of relieved," Lee admitted. "The pressure had now reverted to Mike ... I'm not the greatest golfer in the world when I'm way ahead. I play too conservatively."

An errant 3-iron to the par 3 13th cost Morley a bogey and, moving into range of the national television cameras, it was simply Trevino vs. Morley at six under.

The tell-tale shot came at the 16th, a picturesque par 3 which Homer Blancas birdied six years ago to beat Trevino in a similar duel.

"The ball hit on the fringe, took a crazy-looking kick dead left. It stopped about 10 feet from the cup and I made it for a birdie," sighed Trevino.

Steers inter-squad battle Saturday

The Big Spring Steers, with probably the biggest turnout they've ever had for spring football practice, will hold their inter-squad game this Saturday 7:30 in Memorial Stadium.

The game is sponsored by the Big Spring Quarterback Club. There will be a $1 admission charge which helps the quarterback club with its athletic programs and school functions. The band will be at the game.

Coach Don Robbins said the players have shown a lot of enthusiasm and are working hard. "They're way behind in football knowledge," Robbins said. "We have to go back and learn the fundamentals — how to block — keep your head up, how to run — everything."

More than 120 players turned out at the beginning and there are still more than 100 trying to make the squad.

"We're two-platooning it right now," Robbins said. "Right now we're teaching them how to play one position — right. Maybe later — the last couple of days — we might see if some players can go both ways.

"We're putting them where we think we need them. We're going to play defense to keep from getting beat. Once we have that down we'll work on offense to win."

Sun rises in West, Celtics lead East

By The Associated Press

The Phoenix Suns are just one step away from donning the glass slipper.

The Suns, a collection of rookies and trade acquisitions who were given little chance in their semifinal playoff series against the powerful Golden State Warriors, wrote another chapter in their Cinderella story Sunday by knocking out the defending National Basketball Association champions 94-86.

The stunning victory, achieved on the Warriors' home court in Oakland, gave the suprising Suns a 4-3 victory in the best-of-seven series and a berth in the NBA finals.

Boston, meanwhile, put a crimp in Cleveland's hope of duplicating Phoenix' success story by beating the Cavaliers 99-94 to take a 3-2 lead in the other NBA semifinal series. The Cavaliers, making their first playoff appearance ever, must win Tuesday night to stay alive.

Paul Westphal and Gar Heard led Phoenix with 21 points apiece and Alvan Adams, the fine young center who won Rookie of the Year honors, added 18 points and grabbed a career-high 20 rebounds.

Rick Barry was high for Golden State with 20 points but had only six in the second half and said, "You can't score when you don't have the ball. It's very disappointing, but it's too late now. We had enough chances to win, but we just didn't take advantage of them."

Phoenix trailed by eight points early in the third period. But baskets by Adams and Westphal snapped a 70-70 tie in the opening moments of the fourth quarter and started the Suns on a 10-2 burst that put them ahead to stay.

Cleveland, meanwhile, battled the Celtics all the way to the wire before bowing in the nationally-televised game at Boston Garden. With the Celtics leading by just one point, 93-92, in the final two minutes, rugged Paul Silas tipped in a missed shot by Dave Cowens to give them some breathing room and the Cavs never caught up.

"The difference from being a hero and a bum was the great play by Paul Silas," said assistant coach John Killilea, who guided the Celtics after Tommy Heinsohn was ejected in the third period.

Cowens led the Celtics with 26 points, playing the entire 48 minutes, and Jo Jo White added 22. Jim Cleamons topped the Cavs with 18 points and Campy Russell had 17.

Boston can move into the finals against Phoenix with a victory at the Coliseum Tuesday night. Should Cleveland win, it will go down to Game Seven at Boston Friday night.

Tiger-Cubs sweep two from Odessa

Larry Marshall and Willie Williams supplied the lumber and John Morelion and Williams the arms to lead the Big Spring Tiger-Cubs to a doubleheader sweep Sunday of the Odessa Orioles 8-4 in the first game and 13-7 in the second.

Marshall went 3-for-4 in the first game and 4-for-4 in the second. He got on on an error the other time he batted giving him a perfect day for getting on base. Morelion, who registered the win in his first decision, also had three hits in the first game. Joe Cadenhead and Ernie Garcia had two apiece.

Ursuelo Llanez (2-1) was charged with his first loss. Danny Pineda led the Oriole attack with three hits and George Llanez had a triple.

Williams had quite a game in the second fray going 4-for-4, blasting a home run and coming in as relief to pick up the win. Williams came in when starter Ismael Hernandez had a home run.

Felix Arrebondo was charged with the loss in his first decision. Pineda had two more hits giving him five for the day. Jamie Salgado also had two hits for the Orioles in the second game.

The Tiger-Cubs are now 4-2 for the season while the Orioles record dropped to 3-3.

Midland crushes Cards

The Big Spring Cardinals lost a squeaker in the first game to the Midland Colts Sunday 2-1, but were really thumped 10-5 in the second.

Frank Rubio, making his first start for the Cardinals, surrendered only two hits to the Colts in the opening game, but they were both home runs. Rubio struck out 12.

Randy Blanchett (3-0), the winning hurler, blasted one of the homers for the Colts and Mike Hurt smacked the other. A single by Billy Pineda broke up Blanchett's no-hitter in his 10 strikeout performance.

The Colts took a big lead early in the second game and coasted to a 10-5 victory. Roy Bermea (2-1) pitched a 5-hitter to pick up the win. Louis Perez supplied him with an early cushion when he blasted a 3-run homer over the rightfield fence in the second inning.

All the Card runs came on homers. Sammy Rodriquez smacked one with two on and Jessie Zapata cracked one with one on. The Cards other three hits were turned in by Pineda, Joe Fierro and Orlando Olague (2-1), who was charged with his first loss.

The Cards record dropped to 5-3 while the Colts increased their's to 5-1.

ROLLING FORCE — Philadelphia Phillies' third baseman Mike Schmidt (20) forced at second base Sunday at Houston as teammate Greg Luzinaki (19) grounded to third in the fourth inning. Schmidt tried to break up the double play as he rolled into Houston Astros' second baseman Rob Andrews. Phillies took the game 12-2.

Hooton blanks Pirates

New jackets, old Tigers

By The Associated Press

The Detroit Tigers gave away free jackets. They should have handed out blindfolds.

"This was probably the least exciting game we played all year," said Detroit Manager Ralph Houk. "Too bad we couldn't give them a real good ball game."

A sellout crowd of 51,650 jammed Tiger Stadium Sunday, looking for free jackets and a look at the new-look Tigers.

But the Tigers the fans saw Sunday bore a close resemblance to the caged pussycats of last year. Jackie Brown of the Cleveland Indians, a refugee from the bullpen, fired a four-hitter in taming the Tigers 4-0. Alan Ashby knocked in three runs for the Indians.

Brewers 11, Red Sox 5

Alex Grammas switched Don Money from the leadoff spot to the No. 2 position and the Milwaukee third baseman responded with four hits, including a two-run homer and a two-run double, as the Brewers ended a seven-game losing spell.

White Sox 4, Royals 3

Veteran Clay Carroll smothered Kansas City on five hits in 6 1-3 innings of relief but the Royals said he was smothering the ball with spit.

"No, it's just the way I hold my fastball," said Carroll. "But I don't mind letting the hitters think I throw one."

Orioles 7, Yankees 0

Baltimore pitcher Ken Holtzman, formerly of Oakland, tossed a five-hitter at the Yankees. Mark Belanger stroked two singles and two doubles, driving in a pair of runs.

Angels 5, Twins 1

Don Kirkwood pitched a seven-hitter for his first victory of the year and Bobby Bonds drove in two California runs.

Bonds was held hitless but knocked in one run with a sacrifice fly. The other scored when he was hit by a pitch with the bases loaded. Bonds has 15 RBIs in his last 11 games and 20 for the season.

Dodgers 6, Pirates 0

Steve Garvey and Joe Ferguson each doubled in a three-run sixth inning that carried Hooton and the Dodgers past Pittsburgh and Jerry Reuss.

Expos 5, Braves 4

Third baseman Jerry Royster helped throw away a possible Atlanta victory by giving the Expos one run outright in the ninth inning and giving Pete Mackanin the chance to double home Montreal's winner.

Larry Parrish led off the ninth with a walk and Tim Foli beat out an infield single to third. And when Royster's throw sailed over first base, Parrish scored, Foli went to second, then Mackanin doubled him home.

Cardinals 9, Giants 3

Falcone gave up a couple of first-inning runs before settling down to beat San Francisco. Reggie Smith's three-run homer, ending an 0-for-29 slump, and two RBI each by Lou Brock and Ron Fairly provided more than enough support.

Cubs 6, Padres 5

Rick Monday wasn't in Chicago's starting lineup because he had the flu. So he saved his energy for one swing of the bat, a three-run pinch homer in the sixth inning that catapulted the Cubs past San Diego.

Mets 7-1, Reds 5-8

Cincinnati Manager Sparky Anderson got his 600th career victory, thanks to Dave Concepcion's four runs batted in and Cesar Geronimo's three in the nightcap that gave the Reds a split with the Mets.

Two-run homers by Ed Kranepool and Joe Torre helped unbeaten Jon Matlack chalk up his fourth victory with a sevenhitter in the opener. Matlack also drove in two runs with a double and an infield single.

Phillies thump Astros 12-2

HOUSTON (AP) — Steve Carleton finally broke his silence Sunday and Philadelphia bats rang out with 15 hits leading the Phillies to a 12-2 victory over the Houston Astros.

Carleton, who had remained untalkative throughout a recent pitching slump, went the distance in picking up his third victory over the year against one loss.

Astros righthander Tom Griffin, making his first start in almost one year, surrendered six runs in the first 1 1-3 innings and was charged with the loss.

"It's always nice to pitch with a big lead," said Carleton. "They were really hitting them today.

"The Phillies wasted little time in building up a 6-0 lead by the second inning. A pair of sacrifice flies, two RBI singles and Greg Luzinski's two-run base hit off Griffin boosted the Phils to their twelfth win intheir last 14 games.

"We're a much better club then we were last year," Carleton said. "I think I'll have a better season than I did last year.

We have the ability. The one thing we have to do is win more games than anybody else. It's just that simple."

Leon Roberts scored both Astros runs, the first coming in the fifth on a triple and an error by Philadelphia second baseman Dave Cash. The other run came in the seventh when Roberts blasted a solo homer off Carleton for his third homer of the season.

Philadelphia increased its lead with a pair of runs off reliever Mike Barlow in the seventh inning. Another run-scoring single by Luzinski, coupled with Garry Maddox' RBI hit provided the Eastern Division leaders with an 8-1 lead before Roberts cracked his homer in the bottom of the inning.

Little League

Pirates plank Cabots

The undefeated Pirates of the American Major Little League continued to ride their galleon of hitters on the crests of triumph as they ran the jolly roger up the Cabots' mast 5-0.

The winning pitcher for the Corsairs was Adam Rodriguez (2-0). Losing hurler for the Cabots was Jamie Thompson. Rodriguez combined with John Wilson for a one-hit shutout of the Cabots.

Top buccaneers were Tracy Spence, who hit three for three, and Adam Rodriguez, who went two for four. The two slammin' freebooters also hit for doubles.

The Pirates' record now stands 8-0 and their next game will be with the Oilers.

Cards exorcise Devils

Kip McLaughlin, Mark Johnson and Randy Johnson of the red-hot Cardinals limited the "saintly" Devils to three hits and four runs to beat the demons 13-4.

Chris Teer got three hits for the Cards, and Cavin McMahon had two hits for the "trumpers."

Preston Daniels, Dee Cagle and Bryan Raney had the three hits for the dehorned satans.

"Blastin' Bill" Pollard of the Cardinals beat the leather off the ball, hitting for three home runs.

Records for the two teams are Cardinals 3-1, and Devils 2-3.

Local golf tournies

Two golf tournaments are scheduled for the Big Spring area during the latter half of this month. The Big Spring Golf Association is holding a Selective Putt Tournament this Sunday, May 23 and in a coordinated effort with Webb and the Country Club they are holding the City Championship Tournament the final three days of the month May 29, 30, and 31.

As with all BSGA tournaments this Sunday's Selective Putt will commence at 1:30. All entries must be in by noon and fees paid by 12:30. This will be the fifth of the eight tourneys a member must play four of to qualify for the Grand Tournament Sept. 26 through Oct. 3.

THE CITY CHAMPIONSHIP TOURNAMENT will be flighted-medal play for golfers residing in Howard County. The entry fee is $15 (includes green fees). Gift certificates will be awarded.

Each start will be shotgun. The tournament will begin Saturday morning May 29 at 9:00 on the Country Club course. There will be two starts at the Webb course on Sunday, one at 9:00 a.m. and another at 2:00 p.m. The tourney will conclude on Monday, May 31 on the Muny course with the start at 1:00 p.m.

SPORTS BRIEFS

TENNIS

LAS VEGAS, Nev. — Top-seeded Jimmy Connors continued his domination of Ken Rosewall by posting a 6-1, 6-3 triumph to capture the $150,000 Alan King Tennis Classic.

Miss Softball America

Mixers forfeit to Gals

The Gibson Gals were credited with a 7-0 win over the Mixers when the Mixers had to forfeit the game. The Gibson Gals are now 2-0.

Supers rout Rooters

The ABC Supers and the Rotary Rooters played five bruising innings of softball last Friday night with the Supers coming out on top. No score was given.

Laura Baum (1) was the winning pitcher and Tracy Williams (0) was the losing hurler. Leading hitters were Laura Baum and Andy Burns.

Kimberly Jones and Laura Baum combined in the game to make an incredible two double plays.

The Supers' season record now stands 2-1 and the Rooters a surprising 0-0.

Redhots burn Paddies

The Optimist "Redhots" of the Mini-Minor League of the Miss Softball America rolled over competition on two consecutive nights last week.

In the first game the Redhots, on the strength of eight hits, and the only one-hit output by their foes, beat the Price Pavers "Peppermint Paddies" 16-7.

The winning pitcher was Alice Lopez (1-0), and the loser was Gloria Bustamante (1-1). Dawn Ditto and Monette Wise for the blazing Redhots hit three for four. And Ditto also had three home runs as well.

In the second game, the Redhots steamed the Kiwanians 11-9. Three errors by the Kiwanians outfielders were very costly in the contest as the big "K" outhit the big Red 8-6.

The winning pitcher was Monette Wise (2-0), and losing hurler was Dana Cannon (1-1).

Dana Cannon for the "K's" was the big gun. She hit three for three for a home run. Her teammate, "Marchin' Marlina" Fierro also hit three for three.

Monette Wise hit two fo three for one out-of-the-parker for the victors.

Oakland speed burns Rangers

OAKLAND (AP) — Speed has replaced power as a means of victory for the Oakland A's.

Pinchrunner Larry Lintz scored the winning run on a wild pitch in the seventh inninng as the A's edged the Texas Rangers 3-2 at Oakland Coliseum Sunday. The victory prevented the Rangers from sweeping the series after they won 6-4 in 12 innings Saturday and 4-3 in 10 on Friday.

"We have won at least half our games with speed this season," Manager Chuck Tanner of the A's said. "It gives the other pitcher something else to worry about."

With two outs in the seventh inning, Phil Garner singled, and Lintz ran for him. Barr attempted to pick Lintz off first, but threw the ball wild and Lintz went to third base. He scored on a wild pitch.

Earlier in the game Bill North tripled and scored on a balk by Barr which also could have been the result of North's threat to steal.

Manager Frank Lucchesi of the Rangers admitted that base-running can be a factor in winning baseball games.

"Maybe it's psychological, but it does keep the pitcher from concentrating on the batter. The A's may have more speed than any team in the American League."

Lucchesi found a bright spot in the weekend series, however. "Any time you beat Oakland two out of three in their park, you have to be happy."

Vida Blue survived a shaky start Sunday to pick up his third victory of the year. He gave up four hits in the first, including a two-run triple by Jeff Burroughs.

The A's tied the score with two runs in the fourth. North tripled and scored on the balk, then Joe Rudi singled and eventually scored on a single by Billy Williams.

The A's, now 15-15 for the season, open an eight-game road trip at Minnesota tonight. Mike Norris, 0-1 will pitch for Oakland against Joe Decker, 2-3, of the Twins.

Summer school dates set

Summer school plans have been announced for Big Spring High School and elementary schools.

High school students can register from 1-4 p.m. Thursday, June 3, and 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Friday, June 14.

High school summer school begins Tuesday, June 8, and extends through Thursday, July 22, with a holiday on Monday, July 5.

A course will be taught when a sufficient number of students register, according to John Smith, principal. The tuition is $20 per quarter unit, payable at the time of registration.

No refunds are made except where not enough students registered and a course is not taught.

Class times are to 8:40 a.m., first period; 8:50 to 10:20 a.m., second period; and 10:30 to noon, third period.

Classes are Monday through Friday with one quarter credit to be earned for each period enrolled.

Any student desiring to register before June 3 should do so in the office of Craig Fischer, assistant principal.

Elementary summer school registration is at local schools during school hours from May 17 to May 27.

Late registration will be Friday, May 28, at 9 a.m. to noon at Moss Elementary School.

Participation in summer school does not alter the school district policy regarding the promotion or rentention of students, officials said.

However, math and reading courses are offered at Moss Elementary for all elementary students from May 31 to July 9 with a holiday, July 5.

Charge is $35 per course. Checks should be made payable to the Big Spring Independent School District. Reading is taught from 8 to 10 a.m. and math from 10 a.m. to 12 noon.

Americans years ahead, says Cleaver

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Eldridge Cleaver has been quoted as saying the American people "are several generations ahead of the rest of the world" in race relations.

Cleaver said in an article Sunday in The Sacramento Union that black people in white-ruled South Africa and Rhodesia have more freedom than blacks in dictatorial Uganda.

"Everywhere I've gone I've found that the whole sticky, problematic question of race relations is much more evolved and progressive in the United States than anywhere else," Cleaver said.

The Union said it communicated recently with Cleaver, former Black Panther information minister now being in jail in Oakland.

Cleaver left the United States in 1968 while on parole from a sentence for assault with intent to commit murder. His parole status was threatened after a shootout with Oakland police.

Life insurance

NEW YORK (AP) — Two out of every three workers in the United States are protected by group life insurance, says the Institute of Life Insurance.

It says these plans provided an estimated $930 billion of protection at the start of 1976.

She will carry torch

DALLAS (AP) — Three days before her police officer husband died of cancer last January, Sandra Maxey, 30, sat next to him in his hospital room and told him she had been accepted as a police recruit.

"I knew you could do it," he told her. The next day he went into a coma and died 48 hours later.

On June 3, Mrs. Maxey, mother of two, will graduate from the 17-week cadet training course and will begin her career in law enforcement.

Mrs. Maxey said she first applied to the Dallas Police Department in 1972, about a year after her husband, Robert, joined the police force. But she withdrew the application after she became pregnant with her second son.

"It was something I had always wanted to do and, after my husband's death, the work helped keep me going," she said.

Educating young people going up

DALLAS (AP) — Southern Methodist University must raise an additional $71 million in endowments in the next five years "just to stand still," President J.H. Zumberge told SMU trustees here.

This would more than double the university's current endowment of $55 million.

Zumberge, attending his first semi-annual meeting of th school's trustees, said the university will have a $5 million deficit by May 31, most of which has occurred in the last 10 years.

DAV to pick officers

The local chapter 47 of the Disabled American Veterans will select officers tonight when the chapter and the auxiliary meet at 7:30 p.m. in the VFW Hall on Driver Road in the Silver Heels addition.

All members are urged to attend. The chapter has recently made its quota of new members.

Region I Commander C. B. O'Neal and Region I public relations man George Kunkle, along with Albert Meeker and Jewel Taylor, attended the Chapter 7 meeting in San Angelo last Thursday.

At that meeting, Commander O'Neal presented Lynn B. Owen with a certificate placing Commander Owen on the national scroll. He was also presented a recruiting bar, plus a bronze, gold and silver star for bringing new members into the D.A.V.

Mayor off to security seminar

Mayor Wade Choate has been chosen by Webb AFB to represent Big Spring at a National Security Seminar at Maxwell AFB in Alabama.

Choate is one of 70 representing a cross section of the United States who will attend the seminar today through Friday.

The purpose of the seminar is to increase understanding of national security problems confronting the U.S. as well as the influence of aerospace power on the formulation and execution of national strategy.

By an exchange of ideas with distinguished civilians, students in the Air War College (AWC) broaden their professional background. Civilian guests gain an increased understanding of national security problems through the discussion of vital issues.

During the forum, which concludes the AWC school year, the world situation will be reviewed. U.S. objectives for the future and their impact on the political, economic and military elements of power will be discussed.

Also probed will be the spectrum of war from subversive aggression to nuclear holocaust.

Mayor Choate is the manager of the Webb Credit Union. He is chairman of the Legislative Action Committee of the Big Spring Century Club as well as a member of numerous civic, school and charity groups.

Your alternative to the nonsense and expense of replacing compressors.
Arkla/Servel Gas air conditioners don't even have compressors.

Quality air conditioning is your best bargain.

In fact, there are only 3 moving parts in the entire cooling cycle. Less to wear out means less to replace. Greater dependability. Lower maintenance costs. Arkla/Servel Gas air conditioning units are designed to operate economically. Built to last longer with more quality materials, like stainless steel. Arkla/Servel can save you money in other ways, too. But then QUALITY air conditioning is always your best bargain.

ASTROLOGICAL RESEARCH NEWS BULLETIN

The Secret Of Having Good Luck

Newest Discovery By I.A.A. May Be Biggest In The History Of Astrology

By J. C. Riley - Astrological Writer

"I am presenting here the most interesting story I have ever covered as an astrological writer. Read my story and find out how to become a luckier person. Yes, as a result of an astrological research discovery, you can actually increase your good luck. How? Find out in the following interview I had with Cary Franks, Chief Astrologer for the International Astrological Association. The interview was conducted at the Association's research center in the northern part of Canton, Ohio." (Canton, OH)

Question: "Cary, what is this luck project you are working on all about?"

Answer: "Very simply, we have uncovered the secret of having good luck. That is, we have found out why some people are so much luckier than others; why certain people get rich by being in the right place at the right time; how that certain person in everyone's circle of acquaintances (you know the guy) seems to always win door prizes, raffles, lotteries, cards and you name it; and why certain people are always lucky in love, careers and business ventures."

Question: "How did you discover the secret of good luck?"

Answer: "The whole project is called the Life-Luck Project."

"This project was commissioned by the board of directors over four years ago on March 7, 1971. Research data was gathered by: 1) Investigating historically famous, fortunate people, 2) Investigating famous fortunate people of today, 3) Observation of research test subjects (half of which were known to be lucky), 4) Analysis of more than 198,000 research questionnaires gathered from all over the country through I.A.A.'s nationally famous feature "ASTROLOGY TODAY" which has run in nearly every major publication in the country. Total number of people submitting birth information through "ASTROLOGY TODAY" was over 1.2 million. Total capital outlay for the Life-Luck Project was over $192,000.00."

Question: "What did you find out as a result of your investigation of fortunate people?" I asked.

Answer: "We confirmed what we had already suspected—that most fortunate people get that way by using astrology. Professional astrologers will tell you that nearly all rich and famous people, past and present, use astrologers. Even present and historic world leaders use or have used astrology."

"But, although the fact that rich and famous people use astrology is news to laymen, it is obvious to professional astrologers. What we were really after was exactly HOW did these fortunate people use astrology. Astrology is a science of infinite scope. Few people know that an astrologer could spend a life time ON JUST ONE HOROSCOPE. You must use specific areas for the specific things you want to accomplish with it. Also, you must know in detail how to APPLY astrological knowledge."

"Famous American tycoon J.P. Morgan used astrology to aquire his fortune. This was discovered early in our research and this fact was cited in "ASTROLOGY TODAY." J.P. Morgan's astrologer was none other than Evangeline Adams, grand-daughter of famed President John Quincy Adams. The trick? She concentrated and expanded the luck area of astrology only. J.P. Morgan invested in things dictated to be best by his horoscope. But, he would only make investments at the exact time prescribed by Miss Adams."

Question: "I understand you have combined astrology with numerology (a related field to astrology) as a result of your research. That's a first, isn't it?"

Answer: "Yes. We found that numerology is a very useful tool in producing good luck."

"For example, the letters in the alphabet have assigned numbers. Singer Dionne Warwicke took the advice from her numerologist and added an 'e' to the end of her name. Her numerologist told her this would bring about the correct, fortunate combination."

"She immediately skyrocketed to fame. She has revealed this fact on the Johnny Carson show twice."

Question: "So, what was the result of all your research?"

Answer: "The end result of our four years of research is a special horoscope which is revolutionary in the field of astrology. This horoscope is called THE LIFE-LUCK HOROSCOPE. It expands and concentrates on only the luck areas of astrology. It also uses NUMEROLOGY and even PSYCHOLOGY. (It was discovered in Germany that the psychology of color has a profound effect on luck). We tested this horoscope using our in-house research subjects in real life situations."

Question: "How did the LIFE-LUCK HOROSCOPE do in this "acid test?"

Answer: "The results were astounding! And, I'm not exaggerating when I say that. We were able to turn people into winners who had never won anything in their lives."

"But, let me qualify that statement. We also found out something else during this final test. And, that is that all people are not equally lucky. If it isn't in their horoscope; that is, if they were not born at the right time and place, they have only so much luck potential."

"But, why I am so thrilled about the results and why they are significant is this: WE WERE ABLE TO INCREASE THE GOOD LUCK IN OVER 95% OF OUR RESEARCH SUBJECTS. In other words, I will go out on the limb and say that although some people are luckier than others, there is a 95% chance that their luck horoscope will guarantee that they get all the potential luck that they have coming."

"Now, I don't want to tell you some of the amazing things that happened to our research subjects, myself, because I already sound like I'm bragging. Let me make a quick phone call and get two typical research subjects up here. I say typical because many subjects were much luckier and many were much less lucky. They are the average. But, I want to use them because they had never won anything in their lives until they used the LIFE-LUCK HOROSCOPE."

"Cary summoned two of the research subjects who had taken part in the final tests of the LIFE-LUCK HOROSCOPE. She said I was free to print their testimony. This really impressed me. Few people know that trade regulations are hard on testimonials from people. If an organization prints a testimonial with a person's name, it had better be true. Bear this in mind as you read the following testimonials from Ken Fronk and Rose Lineman."

"The two people entered the room and sat down. I first asked for the testimony of Ken Fronk of Canton, Ohio."

Question: "Ken, tell me your experience while using the LIFE-LUCK HOROSCOPE that was prepared for you."

Answer: "My LIFE-LUCK HOROSCOPE was prepared for me on March 1, 1974. The horoscope was in great detail and covered all areas of my life. But we, as research subjects, were told to concentrate on games so we could get the quickest test."

"My horoscope listed games in order, from those which I would be luckiest, to those that I would be the least lucky. It listed dates and times that I would be most lucky. It also listed what my lucky number, colors and combination of lucky colors and numbers were. I had never won anything in my life. In fact, I used to think of myself as a born loser. But, and I still can't believe it, here are the results of using my LIFE-LUCK HOROSCOPE."

"The first day my horoscope told me I would be lucky was March 16 to March 20. On March 17, I played the horses because that was listed high on my lucky area chart. I used the color and number information once I got to the track. And, that night I won $506.00!"

"Now, I will just leave out the smaller winning nights and give you the highlights."

"I was told I was going to be very lucky May 19 to May 20. Using the same procedure: On May 19, I played bingo and won a $10.00 door prize and $60.00 in bingo. On May 20, I played bingo at my Moose Club and won the $500.00 jackpot. On May 21, I played bingo again and won $50.00. On May 22, I won $525.00 on the horses and $45.00 playing bingo."

LADY LUCK

Cary Franks—Famous Chief Astrologer for I.A.A.—Director of the Life-Luck Research Project. Cary was born and educated in Cleveland, Ohio. She received a B.S. in psychology and chemistry from Case-Western Reserve University and a masters in polymer chemistry from Akron University. After graduating, she became interested in astrology. She studied the subject for 10 years and earned the highest certification given to professional astrologers. She has studied astrology in London and around the world. The mere fact that Cary is associated with this project may be lucky in itself. Many of her clients say that just being associated with her in any way seems to bring a person good luck.

"In October, the 6th to the 11th was a lucky period. But, I was told that October 9 was an especially hot day for me and I was to bet heavy. I played the horses and won the daily double and $1,040.00."

Question: "I then asked for the testimony of Rose Lineman of Fredonia, Pennsylvania."

Answer: "Well, my testimony will be much shorter than Ken's was because the only game I am interested in is bingo. I got my LIFE-LUCK HOROSCOPE on May 1, 1974."

"Prior to that time, I never won at bingo over a period of a month. I would keep monthly records. They would usually come out on the loss side with a few break-even months and a very few slight winning months. Overall, I was way in the red."

"Now compare this. By following the advice in my LIFE-LUCK HOROSCOPE, from May 1 to December 31, 1974, I had won $2,219.00 over that eight-month period. I played on the average of once a week depending on my lucky periods, averaging about $70.00 a night."

"But, there are two things that impressed me about this horoscope more than my own experience. As a favor, I had the I.A.A. do a horoscope for each of two friends of mine."

"My first friend's horoscope told her to buy an Ohio lottery ticket on December 5. She soon found out that her ticket was a winner!"

"My second friend had a spicy experience. Her horoscope told her that she would have extremely good luck in her love-life in July. It told her to be active socially that month. She had more affairs that month than I think I had in my entire life. She came out of it with a lasting one—a guy that you couldn't have tailor made any better for her."

Question: "At this point, I have only one request from you people." I pleaded, "I want my LIFE-LUCK HOROSCOPE!" "Everyone laughed at this point as though I had just made a request that a million other people had made before me."

Answer: "Yes, there is quite a demand for the LIFE-LUCK HOROSCOPE since word has leaked out. And, we are now prepared to offer it to the public now—ON A SPECIAL BASIS. But, let me show you a sample LIFE-LUCK HOROSCOPE first so you know exactly what it is."

Question: "I was shown a copy of this special horoscope. I can tell you it is something else. It is 31 pages long and contains things that you would never dream existed in a horoscope. To go into a complete description will take up too much space, so listed next are the highlights of the contents of the LIFE-LUCK HOROSCOPE."

- The LIFE-LUCK HOROSCOPE reveals the following:
  1. WHERE, WHEN and HOW you will be lucky (including a 15-year, hand prepared, future forecast).
  2. How to take advantage of your lucky opportunities.
  3. How to increase your good luck.
  4. How to avoid bad luck.
- The horoscope covers how you can be lucky, depending on your horoscope, in the following areas:
  Love - Job - Career - Investments - Stocks - Commodities - Oil Wells - Bingo - Lotteries - Cards: Poker, Black Jack, Baccarat - Inheritance - Football and Baseball Pools - Horse Racing - Dog Racing - General Games - Keno - Sports - Tip Boards - Contests - Raffles - Sweepstakes - Roulette - Slot Machines - Dice - Parlays - Legal Matters
- The LIFE-LUCK HOROSCOPE also defines the following items:
  Your Lucky: Years, Months, Days, Hours, Numbers, Colors, Metals, Stones, People (Their Signs And When They Were Born). How to Create Lucky Vibrations, How To Create A Lucky Attitude.

Question: "This is really a super product. Now what is the special condition under which it is offered here?"

Answer: "First, we would like to test our horoscope on the general public. In the past, we have found we get many letters on the success of our horoscope from people who use it. So, we know that we will get feedback from people who order their LIFE-LUCK HOROSCOPE."

"Second, we want to do more advance research on color and luck, therefore, we are willing to make the similar offer we did in our famous ASTROLOGY TODAY feature."

"We don't know what we will charge for this product when the LIFE-LUCK HOROSCOPE finally goes to market, however, I can tell you that an astrologer could charge up to $200.00 for this horoscope—if he knew how. But, those who order here through this special "TEST SUBJECT" offer and submit their birth information and their favorite color will only pay a $9.95 charge to make a duplicate copy of their horoscope."

"At this point, I would like to present this public message: IMPORTANT—PUBLIC BEWARE. The founder of The INTERNATIONAL Astrological Association is the originator of the famous research project ASTROLOGY TODAY. Again, under penalty of law, we could not print this if it were not true. There are presently many imitations of our horoscope and research projects. Some of these companies have names similar to The INTERNATIONAL Astrological Association. These same companies will probably try to imitate the LIFE-LUCK HOROSCOPE. It took I.A.A. a great deal of time and money to develop the LIFE-LUCK HOROSCOPE. We do not believe it can be matched in detail and quality by a hurriedly prepared imitation. To insure you are getting the true LIFE-LUCK HOROSCOPE, be sure the astrology organization is The INTERNATIONAL Astrological Association with the endorsement of certified Astrologer Cary Franks."

"We concluded the interview and Cary gave me the following information to pass on to those who wish to participate in this special project and receive their 31 page, special LIFE-LUCK HOROSCOPE prepared for them personally from their exact birth information."

1) Get a blank piece of paper. 2) At the top of the paper, print the words "LIFE-LUCK HOROSCOPE". 3) Print your name and address. 4) Print your date, time and place of birth (if you don't know the exact time, just put 12 noon). 5) Write down your favorite color. 6) Mail this along with $9.95 in cash, check or money order to: I.A.A.; Dept. L-366; 4626 CLEVELAND AVE. N.; CANTON, OHIO 44709.

Two persons from one household may order through this special "TEST SUBJECT" offer. Simply include $19.90 if two are ordered—BUT, THE LIMIT IS TWO (NO EXCEPTIONS, PLEASE). This product carries a full and unconditional money-back guarantee. If anyone has any questions on this project, feel free to phone The INTERNATIONAL Astrological Association at (216) 494-4282.
