Improve Baseball Field at Marian Airpark

Improvements have started at Marian Airpark field in preparation for next summer's Little League baseball program, according to Bob Crawford, president of the town's kid-baseball program.

A water line will be laid so the infield can be seeded to grass and watered.

On the east side of the field, a new chain-link fence is being completed ,and repairs will be made on the grandstand.

Crawford said it is expected more boys will participate in the Little League, Pony League and Peewee programs than last year.

He will be introduced by a fellow Wichitan, J. C. Porter, right, executive vice-president of the First-Wichita National Bank. More than 200 are expected to attend this event.

Collingsworth's Chamber of Commerce banquet will be held Thursday, Feb. 6 when Dr. Travis A. White, president of Midwestern University, Wichita Falls, will be the guest speaker.

The banquet will be in the community building, beginning at 7:15 p.m., according to N. M. Higdon, C-C manager.

The distinguished educator, also widely known as an after dinner speaker, will be introduced by a fellow citizen, J. C. Porter, executive vice president of the First Wichita National Bank, Wichita Falls. Porter is already well known here, having appeared at agricultural meetings and banquets in the past.

The subject of Dr. White's address is "Up."

Tickets to the Chamber of Commerce banquet are still available at the C-C office and the local drug stores. N. M. Higdon, manager, said the number is limited, and those interested in attending should buy theirs as early as possible.

Approximately 200 Collingsworth county residents and visitors from a number of nearby towns will attend.

The Rev. L. P. Durham, pastor of the Nazarene Church, will be the master of ceremonies and welcome the guests.

Grandol Forehand, minister of the Bowie Street Church of Christ, will give the invocation.

Before he entered the field of education, Dr. White was a successful minister of the Christian Church, with which he now maintains his ministerial standing.

His diverse interests are revealed in his Wichita Falls activities—membership in the Rotary Club and on the Salvation Army advisory board, and the boards of directors of the Boys Club, United Fund, and Wichita Falls Symphony Orchestra. In 1960 he was chosen for recognition by the Altrusa Club for service rendered his city.

Dr. White believes in young people and in this lies part of his success as an educator. It is his belief that a well-rounded university education should help the student achieve personal stability, adequate social adjustment, vocational competence and spiritual awareness.

Only 1215 Paid

Poll Tax Payments Continue to Lag With Friday the Deadline

With only 1215 poll tax receipts issued up to Tuesday evening, Jan. 28, the remaining Collingsworth voters have only until Friday night, Jan. 31 to get theirs, Louise Fulcher, county tax assessor-collector warned.

Miss Fulcher said that her office will be open as late Friday as is necessary.

A major change moved into the poll tax picture with the closing days of the payment period.

South Dakota on Thursday, Jan. 23, ratified the amendment to the United States Constitution to outlaw the poll tax as a requisite to voting on federal candidates.

The federal enactment outlawing poll tax in federal elections means Texas will operate under a dual voting system this year.

A poll tax is still required to vote in all local, county and state elections, just as it always has been.

The Texas Legislature, seeing the possibility of a federal law barring poll tax payments as a requisite to voting, had passed a stand-by law at its last session setting up a registration system for voters who will vote only in federal elections.

Under the terms of that law which now will be activated automatically, persons who do not pay poll taxes will be issued poll tax receipts stamped "not paid." The receipts will permit voting for congressional, presidential and vice presidential candidates, but will not be valid for city, county or state elections.

Under the Texas law, the "not paid" receipts will be available for 30 days after the effective date of the federal amendment. Secretary of State Dean Rusk has not certified the new amendment, but receipts good for voting in federal elections only, may be obtained for one month after Rusk has certified it.

The new double system of voting is expected to hike election costs considerably.

However, county and civic leaders are urging all persons who have not paid their poll taxes to do so, and thereby be eligible to vote in the school district, water district, city, county and state elections, and any special elections that may come up during the next year.

A new ruling announced by the Comptroller early this week concerning the registration of those over 60 years does not apply to counties of this size, according to information received here, Miss Fulcher said.

Smith Asks Second Term as Lt. Governor

AUSTIN.—Preston Smith of Lubbock today announced his candidacy for a second term as Lieutenant Governor. He called for "an intelligent and determined effort" to trim non-essentials from the state's 1965-66 budget.

"Texas is spending $3.2 billion this biennium, and the pressure will be on the legislature to go much higher next session," Lt. Gov. Smith said. "If this happens. it will mean a tax increase. This we should make all reasonable efforts to avoid."

He cited President Johnson's economy drive at the federal level as a good example for state and local governments to follow.

"A dollar saved at the statehouse or courthouse adds just as much to the private economy as one saved at Washington," he said.

Smith said he realized that necessary functions of state government must be adequately financed. A rapidly increasing population, he noted, places a growing load on both state and local governments, particularly for education.

He suggested, as examples, three areas in which legislation might help solve critical problems, without adding perceptibly to the state's tax burden:

1. A review of state laws relating to municipalities, aimed at bringing old laws up to date and possibly opening up additoinal revenue sources for hard-pressed city governments.

2. Cooperation of the Texas Employment Commission, Texas Youth Council, and possibly other state agencies with local authorities and private citizens in creating special employment opportunities for young people. He cited the successful "Youth, Inc." program at Wichita Falls as a sample of what can be done by interested businessmen to solve a community problem.

3. Passage of legislation to permit the formation of multi-county junior colleges, and other moves to make it simpler for eligible counties to use this means of alleviating the higher education crisis.

"We are rightfully concerned with the high standards and quality programs at state senior colleges and universities," Smith said, "but let's not forget the 80 to 90 per cent of our young people who for one reason or another will not be able to get a college degree."

Preston Smith

* * *

Smith commented on responses to a questionnaire he sent to thousands of Texas citizens, asking them what issues they considered most pressing at the state and local levels. The most frequently mentioned areas were: water. local control, fiscal responsibility, industrial development, education and employment.

The lieutenant governor recalled that the 1963 session of the legislature was notable for harmonious relations between the two houses and with Gov. John Connally's office. He said he expected this healthy relationship to continue.

Smith served six years in the House and six in the Senate before winning the Democratic nomination for lieutenant governor in 1962 and defeating the Republican nominee in the general election.

He and his wife Ima have two children, Mickey, 22, and Jan, 18, both Texas Tech students.

Mitchell-Brandenberger Vows Spoken Friday in Spade Church

SPADE.—In a double ring ceremony Friday in the First Baptist Church, Miss Patricia Sue Mitchell became the bride of Kenneth Max Brandenberger. The Rev. Delbert Serratt read the vows.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Mitchell of Spade, formerly of Quail. She is the granddaughter of Mrs. H. G. Mitchell of Quail. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Nila Brandenberger of San Saba and Dayton Brandenberger of San Angelo.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her gown was a formal-length snowy cloud of organza fashioned with a tightly fitted bodice, sweetheart neckline and short sleeves, accented by elbow length gloves. Touches of re-embroidered lace sprinkled with seed pearls and frosted sequins enhanced the midriff, sleeve edge and accented the bell skirt front. The drape folds at the sides of the skirt flowed into a chapel train. A double crown of seed pearls and sequins caught her finger tip veil of silk illusion. She carried a bouquet of white roses enhanced by white frenched carnations.

Miss Ann Morris attended as maid of honor. Bridesmaid was Miss Glenda Johnson. They were attired in mist green satin dresses featuring slightly scooped necklines, elbow length sleeves, fitted waistlines and street-length bell skirts. Matching mist green satin headpieces enhanced by a circle of matching silk illusion and white wrist gloves completed their ensembles. They carried a single long stem white rose.

Todd Oliver was best man. Max Stapleton served as groomsman and ushers were Mike Bogard and Bruce Brandenberger, brother of the bridegroom. Dean Palmer, cousin of the bride, served as ring bearer.

Mrs. Joyce Caldwell, pianist, furnished traditional wedding music.

A reception in the church educational building followed the ceremony.

After a honeymoon trip to Fort Worth, the couple will be at home in Lubbock, where the bride is a candidate for January graduation from Texas Tech with a BS degree in home economics education. The bridegroom is a senior animal husbandry major at Tech, where he is also president of the Block and Bridle Club.

Everybody who wants a Wildcat, please stand up.
Everybody who wants a Skylark, please stand up.
Everybody who wants a Riviera, please stand up.

Now that everybody's standing, let's all go to the Buick Sports Car Rally.

Really.

It would be a shame to waste this chance to drive one of Buick's lively sport models, wouldn't it? Especially considering your Buick dealer's so close, and the price is so nice. That's what the Sports Car Rally is all about. And they're all luxurious enough to make you wonder why anybody'd settle for a two-seater. A finely tuned production 340 hp Wildcat with a skilled driver scored the highest miles per gallon in the economy test of Class I—high performance V-8's—at the Pure Oil Performance Trials at Daytona Beach, Florida. (So who's surprised? Not Wildcat owners.)

IN MEMORIAM

Our Mother

Mrs. N. C. Tennison

Our Mother is at rest, asleep in Jesus, today,
She has crossed over on the other shore, as she would say.
She is with all of her loved ones, that have gone on before,
I know she was so happy to see them, as she entered Heaven's door.

On this earth she lived a long good life,
Now Heaven she has gained, where there is no strife.
Our Mother never failed to tell us of Jesus and His love,
And faithful should we be to our Father up above.

Those, who stood by the bedside until death,
Knew that her prayer had been answered as she peacefully went to rest.
I know she would not have us so sad and grieved,
She, so happy and waiting, for the day when we will be received.

—by Thelma McEachern.

A Word to Juniors (and Younger) Who Want to Go to College

Seniors of the county are going into the second semester—the last lap of their high school years and the point where they'll do most of their thinking about college and work toward getting in.

This paper has always maintained that any student who wants to go to college badly enough can go—in spite of skyrocketing costs of a college education.

It may be a little late for seniors to start, so this editorial is directed to juniors and those below. However, there are opportunities still open for seniors.

Financially, more and more doors are opening to the boys and girls who seriously want to go to college, but it still isn't easy. Scholastically, it is getting harder and harder to be accepted.

Scholarships always have been the backbone of help through college, and every college has its own program of scholarships, loans and grants. Information may be had for the asking and school administrators and counselors can help. There are publications listing all scholarships available in U. S. Colleges. It also remains that every year in September there are scholarships available that were not taken. One of these may be in your field.

There is a correlary, however, that the student is going to have to produce something in the way of scholastic achievement and performance to convince the college it wants him as a student.

Nor does it mean you can go to the college you have your heart set on. But there are other fine colleges and once you are part of their life, you'll be proud indeed to go there.

This has been the case all through the years.

The most elaborate scholarship program is the National Merit Scholarship Program, which each year offers scholarships to 1,500 students ranging in value from $100 to $1,500 per year based on individual need. Besides this 175 sponsors currently award additional scholarships.

The 10th annual merit tests come up March 10 and 14, and are open to high school juniors. A student interested should tell his principal or counselor and get things started.

Besides the finalists and 14,000 semi-finalists, an additional 35,000 boys and girls in October will receive letters of commendation and become eligible for certain services available through the merit program. The mere fact that a student is on one of these three lists will help him get into college or get another scholarship grant. Both white and Negro students participate.

In the last few years, banks have set up college loan programs that are most liberal and which are made either to the student or his parents, and may cover up to four years of college work.

The provisions of other scholarships, including the popular athletic scholarships, vary with the school and the donor of the grant, and have to be checked on.

This barely skims the surface. There still remains that most effective method of using your own God-given ingenuity and getting yourself a job to pay your way through school.

The main thing is that you can't start too early. It is not a matter for the senior year alone.

Let's Hope for a Cloudy Day

CROSSROADS REPORT

Dear Editor:

I see where some of the fellows in Washington are saying the old Panama Canal is obsolete.

This is probably a smart move, because if Khrushchev sends some armed technicians to Panama, we can show that we said all the time the old ditch is worn out and not worth fighting for.

But the talk about digging a new canal may give us a little breathing spell, while the world predators wait to see whether they want the new one or the old one, or both.

I see where the Federal Trade Commission is talking about making the cigarette companies print a warning on the packages, saying that smoking is dangerous.

Which seems like in the public interest, as people ought to be entitled to know it when they are taking a chance.

My luck-pushing neighbor says the people-wardens will likely get around some day to seeing to it that warning labels are put on all the other items that are hazardous when misused, such as cars and women.

I see where a prominent football coach and a renowned astronaut are fixing to run for the U. S. Senate.

Some folks say these skills don't qualify a man to be a Senator, but others say years of experience in the Senatoring business doesn't always qualify a fellow, either.

And it could be the Senate has been needing members like an astronaut who knows how to go around in circles to some useful purpose, and a football coach who can see that you've got to win a game now and then to stay in the league.

I see some big headlines in the papers about how it's said that an insurance salesman once gave President Johnson a stereo set free when he bought a big policy.

My power-itchy neighbor says he has thought about running for President, but guesses he had better not because it would be such a big job to clean up his past.

Says he never would be able to find and pay back all of the selling-class people who have conflicted his interest by slipping free stuff to him on the side via trading stamps.

Baptist Expand Missionary Work

The Southern Baptist Convention, Nashville, Tenn., has voted to establish missionary work in Iceland, Luxembourg, and Austria.

An officer of the Convention explains that in each of the three countries the work would begin with an English-language ministry but that "efforts will also be made to extend Baptist witness beyond this."

The National Church of Iceland has been Lutheran since the 16th century Reformation. and nearly the entire population is counted in its membership.

Austria and the Grand Duchy of Luxembourg are overwhelmingly Roman Catholic countries with Protestant minorities that are mostly Lutheran.

INCOME TAX RULE REVIEW NOW WILL SAVE MONEY

COLLEGE STATION.—Soon it will be time to start to work on your income tax report, says Mrs. Wanda B. Meyer, home management specialist with the Agricultural Extension Service at Texas A&M University.

You may want to review some of the rules which may help you save—if they apply in your case. Here is a checklist:

A portion of a dividend payment on stock that is designated as return of investment is not subject to tax, although it reduces the cost basis on which you figure your profit when you later sell the stock.

A mutual-fund dividend, the portion that is designated as capital gain, is taxable, in effect, at only one-half of your ordinary rate.

Capital gains allotted to you on mutual-fund shares, but not paid, have to be reported as capital gains on your return But you can claim credit of 25% of the amount as taxes you have paid, as that's the sum paid by the company.

A child who finished college in June, 1963, can be claimed as an exemption, under the rule for full-time student of 19 years or over, provided you furnished more than half of his support for the entire year.

Scholarship payments received by a child in college aren't counted in calculating whether you furnished more than half of his support.

Social security and other tax exempt income received by a dependent doesn't count toward the income test that has to be met for an exemption. But any such income spent by the dependent for his own support has to be included in estimating whether you furnished more than half.

Other rules to consider are: A couple married at any time during the year, as late as Dec. 31, can get the benefit of a lower rate for 1963 on a joint return; a dependent who died during the year, even the first week, can be claimed as an exemption if you were furnishing more than half of his support; people who reached age 65 on Jan. 1, 1963 are entitled to an extra exemption and larger medical deduction.

LETTERS from the People

The Choice family has moved again. The first of December we moved to Pinellas Park, Florida. It is a subdivision of St. Petersburg and we are near the beach on the Gulf of Mexico.

Bob is working in the aeronautical division of Honeywell Regulator Co. He is making guidance systems for the Minuteman missile. Also he starts back to school soon to finish that degree.

We are enjoying it here but miss Wellington more since we are even farther away. The weather has been warm and sunny, Chris and Susan play outside most of the time and love it. They have a wonderful time at the beach. which is close and is all white sand.

If any of you Texans get down here to Florida, please call us and tell us all the news from there. That is if anything has been missed in The Wellington Leader. We read the paper from cover to cover and feel a little closer to all of you.

Please change the address on our subscription so we won't miss any issues. I don't mind paying the 5 cents to have it forwarded from Stillwater but I am running out of nickels and don't want to get in the piggy bank.

Give everyone our best wishes and take care.

Students See Graphic Highway Safety Film

Wellington high school and junior high students felt the impact of death on the highways through a film and frank discussion given Monday, Jan. 27 by Gilbert Ray, safety officer of the Department of Public Safety, Amarillo.

Safety Officer Gilbert Ray

* * *

Still a subject for discussion by the local teen-agers, the film was "Mechanized Death," taken in color on-the-scene of actual vehicle accidents.

"This film is not retouched," Ray pointed out.

In another session, Ray spoke to children of the elementary school and showed two safety cartoons, Jimminy Crickets in "I'm No Fool on a Bicycle," and Peter and the Whifflehound in a general safety film.

To the older group, Ray told graphically of the seven-tenths of a second it takes for a person to die in a crash into a tree at 55 miles per hour.

"In the first tenth of that fatal second, your front bumper and grill collapse, with slivers of steel penetrating the tree to depths of one and half inches or more," Ray said.

"In the second tenth of a second your hood crumples as it rises, smashing into the windshield, and spinning rear wheels leave the ground. Fenders begin wrapping themselves around the tree, forcing the rear parts to splay out over the front doors. The car frame is being braked powerfully, but your body is still moving at 55 miles an hour. This means a force of 20 times gravity, your body now weighs 3200 pounds.

"Instinctively, you stiffen your legs for the jolt, but they snap at the knee joints.

"During the third tenth of a second, your torso upright leaves the seat and broken knees ram into the dashboard. The steering wheel begins to collapse under your death grip, the steering column drives toward your chest.

"In the deadly second's fourth tenth, the car's front two feet are totally demolished, but the rear end is still coming on at 35 miles an hour. YOU are still doing 55. Halt a ton of motor plunges into the tree. The car's rear, like a bucking horse, rises high enough to scrape bark off low branches.

"In the fifth tenth, you are impaled on the steering column. Jagged steel punctures lung and intercoastal arteries. Blood spurts into your lungs.

"In the sixth tenth, the force of impact has built up so great that your feet are ripped out of tightly laced shoes. The brake pedal shears off at the floorboard. The car frame buckles in the middle. Your head banks into the windshield. The rear wheels, still spinning, fall back, digging into the earth.

"And in the seventh tenth of the second, the whole car is distorted. Hinges rip. Doors open. In one last convulsion the seat rams forward, pinning you against the cruel steel of the steering shaft. Blood spurts from your mouth. But it doesn't matter . . . you are already dead.

"No need to go into the final three-tenths of this horrible second, you won't be around to know them. And, of course, neither are your passengers. They have succumbed to their own troubles."

70 on Junior High 6-Weeks Honor Roll

Seventy students were listed on the honor roll of Wellington junior high school late last week, according to A. A. McQueary, principal. Twenty of these were on the A roll.

Rockettes Win, Too

Two Victories Keep Rockets at 2-A Top

The district-leading Skyrockets took victories over Canadian and Lefors last week to bring their record to four wins and no losses.

At the same time the Rockettes won their first two conference games over the Canadian Kittens and Lefors Pirattes.

The Rockets defeated Canadian 68 to 50 Tuesday night, Jan. 21, then squeaked by Lefors 40 to 39 Friday, Jan. 24.

The Rockettes had little difficulty winning 48-36 from the Kittens and 55-25 from Lefors.

Lefors-Rockets

The Lefors game for the boys was slated by sports writers as one of the best on the Friday night schedule and it turned out to be just that.

The lead changed hands several times and the score was tied several times. It was a different kind of playing than the Rockets were used to, as the Pirates' tactics are to hold down the opponents' score rather than to run up a big score for themselves.

Considering the difference, the Rockets played a good defensive game and hustled well.

Terry Bromlow of the Pirates was high scorer with 21 points; Roger Weems and Bill Spillman tied for the Rockets with 13 each.

The game by quarters:

| | | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| Wellington | 8 | 17 | 29 | 40 |
| Lefors | 7 | 17 | 28 | 39 |

Rockette-Lefors

The Rockettes had little trouble taking the 55-25 victory over the Lefors girls.

Nancy McCool was high scorer with 14 points, while Jane Orr and Jan Glenn tied for 12 each.

The game by quarters:

| | | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| Wellington | 17 | 24 | 39 | 55 |
| Lefors | 6 | 15 | 21 | 25 |

Rockets-Wildcats

After the first quarter, the Rockets didn't let the Wildcats narrow the score enough to worry about, and the distance between the two grew as the game progressed.

Roger Weems was high scorer with 20 points, while the Rockets' Gary White and the Wildcats' Willis tied with 18 each.

The game by quarters:

| | | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| Wellington | 18 | 35 | 54 | 68 |
| Canadian | 15 | 23 | 32 | 50 |

Rockettes-Kittens

The Rockettes played without Betty Courtney, ace scorer, but still ran up a 48-36 victory over the Kittens.

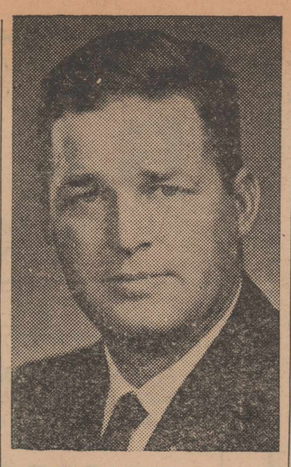

Dixie Petree of Canadian was high scorer with 23 points, and Jane Orr scored 14 and Frances Warrick 12.

The game by quarters:

| | | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| Wellington | 19 | 27 | 41 | 48 |
| Canadian | 5 | 13 | 28 | 36 |

As the third quarter progressed the Eagles were 1 point behind as the whistle blew, the score being 21-22.

For Classroom Teachers

TSTA Head Outlines Teacher Responsibility

Mrs. J. B. Little of Corpus Christi, president of the Texas State Teachers Association, was guest speaker at the annual public relations dinner of the Wellington Classroom Teachers Association Saturday evening, Jan. 25, to which community leaders were invited.

This is her second visit to Wellington, the first being two years ago when she was president of the Texas Classroom Teachers Association.

Mrs. Little first related humorous incidents from the early years of her own career. She spoke of her "enormous" salary of $70 per month, and predicted that the future teachers would see the time when they receive a salary in keeping with their profession.

Three "abilities" of the teaching profession she named as responsibility, flexibility and professional ability.

"Teachers have a responsibility to keep the public informed as to teaching needs and accomplishments," Mrs. Little said. "The public will help in needed improvements if we as teachers are responsible. The teacher and the community share a joint responsibility.

"Flexibility of the teacher and community are essential if we are to go forward. Each must adjust to change, even encourage it."

Mrs. Little cited instances in many schools of teachers being relieved of clerical duties so they can give more time to teaching. She predicted a year's "internship" for teachers following their graduation from college.

"Teachers must be ever alert, ever learning. Those who dare to teach must never cease to learn," she continued.

"Professional ability is a must if the teaching profession is to continue free from unionization" Mrs. Little declared, and told the group that the National Education Association, controlled by teachers, already has been replaced by unions in New York and that teachers in Philadelphia are fighting unionization now.

Mrs. Bernice Welch, president of the Classroom Teachers Association, presided at the meeting, dinner music was by Karen Richardson, while Patti Overton, a member of Wellington Future Teachers, gave two vocal numbers.

The Rev. L. P. Durham gave the invocation.

Special guests at this year's banquet were school board members and their wives, the school administrators, retired teachers, substitute teachers and senior members of the Wellington Future Teachers,

Other guests were Mary Graham, who received the first scholarship given by the Classroom Teachers, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Grover Graham, B. W. Beaird, county superintendent; Mrs. Louis Hill, Texas State Teachers Association board member; Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Nunnelley and Mr. and Mrs. Denzil Lacy.

Future Teachers Hear Panel

The Wellington chapter of Future Teachers of America met Monday, Jan. 20 in the high school library.

Approximately 40 members were present and heard a panel made up of Aleta Owens, Jan Glenn and Beverly Singley discuss "Look Back to '63 and Forward to '64," pointing out the interesting past and facts for the future.

During the business session, directed by Aleta Owens, president, plans were made for the annual Valentine party the chapter gives for faculty members.

Connie Null led the group in singing the FTA song.

Karen Childress and Jeanie Antoon served refreshments.

FORMER CITY MAN PROMOTES TEXAS IN CALIFORNIA, ARIZ.

The Texas "Good Neighbor" delegation left Dallas on Saturday for a whirlwind 9-day tour of ten major cities in California and Arizona.

The delegation, composed of Jaycees from the Dallas area, is making the tour to promote tourism in Texas and attendance by out-of-state Jaycees to their national convention which will be held in Dallas in June.

The group, officially designated "Goodwill Ambassadors" by Gov. John Connally, is traveling aboard a Dodge Motor Home nicknamed "The Texas Roadrunner." Dodge Division of Chrysler Motor Corporation is furnishing the motor unit, which includes full living facilities, to carry the men along with numerous colorful displays and literature about Texas.

The "Good Neighbor" delegation is composed of Joe Ratcliff, Mark Hall, and Don Raburn. Ratcliff, a former Dallas legislator who has been very active in promotion of tourism in Texas for several years, organized the tour. Two years ago Ratcliff represented Texas as a "Goodwill Ambassador" to Mexico to develop a joint tourism program between that country and Texas. Hall, a Dallas insurance man, is active in trade promotion in the Jaycess. Raburn is manager of the Chamber of Commerce at Farmers Branch, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Raburn of Wellington. All three men are directors of the Jaycees.

In each city the delegation is being met by local Jaycees and city officials. Each Mayor will be presented with a certificate from Gov. Connally making him an Honorary Texan.

The president of the Jaycee Club will be proclaimed an Honorary Citizen of Dallas.

The Texas delegation will meet with the press and other news media, travel editors and the general public. The mobile display unit will be open to the public and over a quarter of a million pieces of tourist literature has been prepared to be handed out.

A letter of personal invitation for Californians to visit Texas from Gov. Connally to Gov. Pat Brown will be delivered by the group. They will also represent Gov. Connally when they present certificates to Steve Allen, national entertainment star, and Dick Headlee, national Jaycee president, proclaiming them Admirals in the Texas Navy.

Cities included in the tour are Phoenix, Ariz., and in California, Sacremento, Oakland, San Francisco, San Jose, Fresno, San Diego, Long Beach, Compton (L.A.), and Santa Monica.

The tour concludes in Santa Monica where the National Jaycees are holding the 1964 Ten Outstanding Young Men Congress. The delegation will be joined there by 18 other Dallas Jaycees who will use the Dodge Motor Home as a base of operations to promote Dallas and Texans as the site of the 1964 National Jaycee Convention. Over 3000 persons are expected for the Jaycee program in Santa Monica.

Sponsors for the tour—besides Dodge Division of Chrysler Motors—include Six Flags Over Texas, Humble Oil and Refining Company, Aquarena in San Marcos, Southwestern Wax Museum of Dallas, Texas Travel Association, Texas Tourist Development Agency, Travel and Information Division of the Texas Highway Department, and Chambers of Commerce in Dallas, San Antonio, Farmers Branch, and the Convention and Tourist Bureaus in Houston and Corpus Christi.

Additional cities and tourist facilities will be included in a tourist and convention promotion tour which is planned for early spring to the Eastern Coast. California and Arizona were selected as the first area to be visited because it is the prime tourist source for Texas. The two states send over one and a half million visitors to Texas annually. More Californians visit Texas each year than tourists from any other state, representing approximately 14 per cent of the total tourists to Texas.

The tour is being made at this particular time to promote the National Jaycee Program at Santa Monica and this National Jaycee Week — plus focus attention on the National Convention for Jaycees in Dallas this coming June.

Deck's DIDACTICS

—By Deskins Wells

Up to last week only half of those who could be eligible to vote had paid their poll taxes in this county. This is surprising in view of the amount of advertising and publicity that has been given to the need of a poll tax if a citizen wants to vote in the local, district and state areas. Or is a person a citizen if he doesn't vote? The fact that he disfranchised himself has little bearing on the question.

You can vote in the congressional races and for president and vice president without paying a poll tax; but this must be done within a few weeks. The simple solution is to pay your poll tax by Friday and that is Friday of this week. Oh well, there are over 1,200 of us oldsters who do not have to pay a poll tax to vote. I paid mine both last year and this year because I prefer to do so rather than stand around waiting to sign my name on a list. Besides I don't want people to know that I am so old that there is no longer any need for paying the tax.

Went out Tuesday evening to take a look at Echo No. 2; but I suppose I stayed in the kitchen too long talking for I missed the first view in the Panhandle of this man made satellite. The satellite would probably have been a puny spectacle compared to the brilliant full moon shining through the naked branches of the pecan trees in the east and a glittering Venus and fiery red Mars glowing in the west awesome and mysterious as they have been through aeons of time.

---

For Christmas my daughter sent me a new book on the heavenly bodies. It is titled "The Stars—a new way to see them" and is an ideal work for amateur star-gazers like myself. I wish I had owned such a book forty years ago when this column was started. The significant difference in this book and the old texts on astronomy is that Mr. Rey makes no effort to use the drawings of a bull, bear and horse to depict the familiar constellations of the universe that are visible with the naked eye. Instead he uses straight lines to connect the various stars that go to make up the constellations and their lesser asterisms making it much easier for a beginner to step out on a clear night and identify the suns in the firmament.

The Big Dipper with its pointers always in line with the North Star and the Little Dipper are the best known group of stars because they are visible throughout the year. From this book you learn that the Big Dipper is not a constellation in itself but is part of that giant constellation known as the Great Bear.

---

From now through March is the best time of the year to observe Orion, the mighty hunter, that dominates the southern sky when he is up. It is a brighter constellation than the Big Dipper in the north, but it cannot be seen at just any hour of the night. The right shoulder of Orion is the giant sun Betelgeuse which is 400 times as large as our sun, 3600 times as luminous and is 300 light years away from the earth. A light year is a measure of space and not of time and is about 600 million million miles.

When you start thinking of the utter vastness of the semi-known universe and realize this—all this—is only a little part of the heavens stretching into infinity, the launching of a man-made balloon that glows like a star seems small indeed.

Dodson Splits Twin Bill

Dodson freshmen boys defeated a team from Centralvue, Okla., 29 to 23 Monday night at Dodson, while the girls lost to the Oklahomans 20 to 2.

The boys played a fast game during the first half, then pulled away sufficiently for Coach Bill Lackey to play his second string.

John Hightower, with 11 points, was high scorer for the Mustang freshmen. James Riley made 6, Mike Gulley and Cody Crosnoe 3 each, Mike Teutsch 5 and Avon Harris 1.

Two Rocket Teams Meet Memphis Friday

The Skyrocket A and B boys teams go to Memphis for a double header Friday night, Jan. 31.

Memphis does not have a girls team.

"We expect to have a hard time, as the Cyclone is a good club," Coach James Stavenhagen said.

"We know we will have harder games at home on the second round and we'll have a better chance to win at home than on the road," the coach continued.

The Clarendon Bronchos and Bronchoettes come here Tuesday, Feb. 4 for a double header.

"I am now serving, and have served since Jan. 1, 1957, as City Attorney of Childress. I am 53 years of age and have been engaged in the practice of law since April 1947. Prior to being elected State Representative, I taught school in the rural schools of this area, and during World War II, I served in both the Army and the Navy.

My wife, Muriel, and I are graduates of Abilene Christian College and were married in 1935. Educational-wise, I have also attended several law schools and a business school. We have a son, Robert, and a daughter, Marilyn. Marilyn is enrolled in Abilene Christian College. Robert and his wife, Dorothy, have been attending Texas Tech and now have a son. In common with all grandparents, Muriel and I tend to spoil the little fellow.

Some of the organizations of which I am a member and the position held therein are as follows: Past Chancellor Commander of the Knights of Pythias, Past President of Childress County Old Settlers Association, Past Post Commander of the American Legion, Past Chef de Gare of the 40 and 8, Past Post Commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, and Past Director of the Childress Chamber of Commerce.

If I am elected, all who come before me in the court will be given equal and fair consideration, and I will make a conscientious effort to apply the law to all legal questions presented.

In the event I am unable to see each of you individually, please consider this my personal request for your vote.
