Four Die In Highway Wreck

Autos Collide Near Houston; Three Injured

Nearly 500 Killed Over U. S. During Holiday Weekend

(By The United Press)

HOUSTON, Sept. 6—Four persons died early today in a mass of twisted steel when two cars crashed head-on on a dark highway seven miles northeast of here.

It was Harris county's only tragic highway accident of the Labor day week-end, but was the worst highway disaster in the county this year.

Dead were two Port Arthur resident, Daniel Leon Green, 27, and Peggy O'Reilley, 24, and Bobby Frank Mason, 21, and June Hope Hemphill, 18, both of Houston.

Passengers Are Hurt

The Port Arthur couple was heading home on Highway 90 after a brief vacation trip to Monterrey. Asleep on the back seat of Green's car was a 19-year-old hitch-hiker, Ray H. Barkley of Zanesville, Ohio.

In the other car with Mason at the wheel was Miss Hemphill, Donald Lusky, 18; Roy Davis, 20, and V. P. Roach, a 16-year-old sailor ,all of Houston.

Passengers in both cars were hospitalized with serious injuries.

Car Veers Off

State Highway Patrolmen R. E. Scholl and Leon Wilson said Green's car veered off the highway after the crash, somersaulted and then came to rest upright in a ditch. Patrolman Scholl believed Green and Mason died instantly. Miss Hemphill was dead on arrival at a hospital, and Miss O'Reilley died two hours later.

Mason's car overturned and apparently skidded along the highway on its crushed top for 100 yards, the officers said.

The cars met where the highway stretches along flat coastal plains

Showers Forecast For Area Tonight

Scattered Rainstorms Are Reported Over South Plains; Mercury Drops

Scattered rainstorms Monday night were due to be followed by partly cloudy to cloudy weather today and more thundershowers tonight on the South Plains, the Weather bureau station at Municipal airport said today.

The station recorded .36 inch of moisture during the night, of which .22 fell before midnight and .14 early this morning. It brought the month's rainfall to .42 inch.

The thunderstorm was accompanied by a minimum temperature of 65 degrees early this morning. The maximum this afternoon was expected to be in the upper 80's.

The station received rain reports of .05 at Amarillo, .02 at Roswell, N. M., 1.14 at Clarendon, 1.02 at Childress. No rain fell at Big Spring, Midland or Hobbs.

Last night's rainfall on the South Plains ranged from none to reports of one inch.

Localities receiving one-inch rainfall were Lehman in Cochran county, Kress, Floydada, Tulia and Happy. Canyon was said to have received 1.5 inches in a small section.

Abernathy received .80, Hale Center .75 and Plainview .50 inch, Santa Fe railroad observers reported. Muleshoe received .61 inch during the night.

Areas which received .50 inch of moisture were Shallowater, Littlefield, Amherst, Levelland, Slaton and Wilson.

Showers were reported at Idalou, Lorenzo, Tahoka, Meadow and Seagraves.

Ropesville reported .20 inch.

Negro Singer Says Dewey Sent Storm Troopers To Scene

(By The Associated Press)

PEEKSKILL, N. Y., Sept. 6 — Paul Robeson supporters, protesting the violence that swept the countryside after his concert near here Sunday, have called on President Truman to help "restore law and order in New York state."

But Westchester County District Attorney George M. Fanelli, who had over-all command of a force of 900 law enforcement officers, says they did a "magnificent job."

Impeachment Asked

The left-wing negro singer's sympathizers also have demanded the impeachment of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey and Westchester county officials for not preventing the five-hour rioting.

More than 100 persons were injured as anti-leftist demonstrators hurled rocks and other missiles at autos and buses carrying the concert crowd home.

Windows of hundreds of vehicles were smashed in scattered attacks spread over many miles of roads in the suburbs 40 miles north of New York City. At least eight autos and an empty bus were overturned.

Robeson charged yesterday that many of the 10,000 concert-goers were "attacked by arms of the state and local government." He called the concert crowd "peacefully assembled American citizens."

Sent Storm Troopers

Referring to Gov. Dewey's order to Westchester county officials to furnish all available police protection for the concert, Robeson said at a news conference in New York City:

"He sent the storm troopers. He gave the illusion they'd be there to defend us, but they were really there to beat our brains out."

Robeson demanded that New York state pay for property damage and reimburse those injured.

LOW-FLYING SPEEDSTERS THREAT

Air Race Protested Following Accident

(By The Associated Press)

CLEVELAND, Sept. 6 — Sport flying's richest and toughest race faced a new threat to continuance today with the death of distance flier Bill Odom and two suburban residents.

Odom's death plunge into a Berea home during the second lap of the Thompson trophy event yesterday revived the protests of area residents against the low-flying speedsters, shrieking over their homes at 400 miles an hour. The dark green racer, a converted fighter, ripped through the house, killing Mrs. Jeanne Laird, 24, and her year-old son, Craig.

Odom was flying an F-51 Mustang owned by aviatrix Jacqueline Cochran.

Cook Cleland of Cleveland, former navy fighter pilot, took the Thompson trophy and $19,100 with a new record speed of 397 miles an hour. He also won in 1947 with a record 396 mph that stood until yesterday.

Cleland's new mark was the last of a series established during three days of competition. Records were pushed up in both the propeller and jet divisions of the Bendix cross-country races, the Goodyear races for midget planes, the Sohio and Tinnerman trophy races, and the jet division of the Thompson.

Protest Being Drafted

The Thompson, a free-for-all, is the traditional classic of air races. But complaints about the noise and danger came from Berea residents even before the resumption of the race in 1946 after seven years' interruption for the war. Eventually the course was revised to make a rough circle around the community of 6,000 which lies south of the airport and southwest of Cleveland.

The Labor day tragedy, killing one of the nation's best known fliers and two persons unconnected with the sport, brought an emergency meeting of the Berea Progressive Citizens league to draft a protest to state, county and nearby city officials.

Cleland was trailed across the finish line by Ron Puckett of Lans-

INCREASE OF 778 OVER 1948

Opening Day Enrollment For Lubbock Schools Hits 9,784

Opening day enrollment of 9,784 in Lubbock public schools was indicated by figures announced early this afternoon by Supts R. W. Matthews.

That figure represented an increase of 778 over the opening day enrollment of 9,006 last year.

The total included exact enrollment figures for all 21 schools conducting enrollment today. Last year's enrollment figure of 817 was used as estimate for the opening day enrollment at the 22nd school, Carroll Thompson Junior High school, which will not open until Sept. 19.

928 New Students

Of the total enrolling today, 928 are new students entering Lubbock public schools for the first time.

The enrollment was approximately what had been expected, between 9,500 and 10,000 students having been expected to enter on the first day.

A. F. Rasor, school attendance officer, has predicted on basis of school census figures that total enrollment will reach 12,000 by close of the fourth of fifth month of school.

Classes Not Opened

George Wolffarth school and Central Ward school conducted enrollment today but did not open classwork.

Superintendent Matthews said that Wolffarth school would open classes Wednesday, earlier than had been anticipated since classwork had been postponed because sewer connections had not been installed. Two outdoor toilets had

Damaged Flying Boat Lands In Honolulu

HONOLULU, Sept. 6. (AP)—The huge flying boat Philippine Mars landed safely here today with its 54 passengers and crew after dropping an engine 440 miles out to sea.

The Hawaii sea frontier said the four-engine craft landed at Keehi lagoon, Honolulu.

It was convoyed by an air-sea rescue Flying Fortress from Hawaii and a Pan-American stratocruiser. The strato-cruiser sighted the Mars after the big ship sent an urgent message to Hawaii.

Two Firemen Injured In Explosion

Fire Razes Four Buildings In Texas Town; Two Damaged

(By The Associated Press)

ROYSE CITY, Sept. 6—Four business buildings were destroyed and two heavily damaged by fire that roared unchecked more than two hours last night. An explosion injured two firemen, and a spectator was hurt during the confusion of the blaze.

Damage was estimated unofficially at from $100,000 to $150,000. Mayor Roy Cookston's estimate was $125,000.

The fire began about 7:30 p. m. in the Clockwise dress factory. Firemen from three neighboring towns helped this North Texas community's volunteer crew bring the blaze under control about 9:45 p. m.

R. M. (Bob) Robison, editor of the Royse City American, said "Pandemonium hit this town" when about "five thousand people came from every place within 20 miles" to see the fire.

"We don't have any police," Robison said. 'We'd just pick out a man and say 'you help keep 'em back'."

The fire destroyed a blacksmith shop on the east side

WILLIAM J. MURRAY

William J. Murray Hurt In Car Crash

AUSTIN, Sept. 6 (AP)—Texas Railroad Commissioner William J. Murray, injured in a car-cab collision, is in critical condition in an Austin hospital.

Murray suffered a fractured hip, back injury and head injuries in the collision here last night, hospital attendants said.

Two daughters, Marsha, 5, and Janice, 2, were admitted to the hospital for observation. Attendants said they were not seriously hurt.

His wife was not hurt, and the Murrays' eight-year-old daughter suffered only a black eye.

The Murrays, returning from a plane trip to Houston had caught a cab and were en route to their home. The accident occurred about 200 yards from the airport.

Police listed the driver of the cab as Harold Grady of Austin. He was uninjured. The driver of the other car was Joe Swain of route 3, Austin, who was treated for a severe gash on his forehead.

Men, Women And Children Are Cut Down

Maniac Captured With Tear Gas; Four Others Wounded; Police Hold Off Mob

(By The Associated Press)

CAMDEN, N. J., Sept. 6—A 28-year-old army veteran on a maniacal rampage today killed 12 persons on a busy Camden street.

Four others were wounded.

Detective Marshal Thompson identified the killer as Howard Unruh. A quiet, well-dressed young man, his neighbors said they knew little about him.

The street "looked like a battlefield," Thompson said. "He (Unruh) turned that German Luger loose on those people like ducks in a pond."

Killed in the 45-minute hail of bullets were five men, five women and two boys, aged two and five.

Police authorities here said they believe it was the worst mass slaughter on a city street in the nation's history.

It all began quietly enough.

Unruh walked out of his house, nattily dressed in a light suit and white shirt with bow tie.

Without warning he whipped out his gun and began firing. Before he was finished, he had raced in and out of a half a dozen business establishments, cutting down men, women and children right and left.

Then he barricaded himself in the second floor room where he lived.

For a time he shot it out with 50 policemen while men and women milled in the streets.

POLICE CUT LOOSE WITH TEAR GAS

"They gave us a hell of a time," Thompson said. "They wouldn't get out of the way.

"Men would stop for a traffic light," Thompson added. "Then they got out."

Coughing and choking, Unruh emerged from his room. He was unhurt.

A howling mob of men and women in the streets lunged for the police screaming:

"Lynch him!"

But they didn't crash the line of police.

Thompson said Unruh served with the army in an artillery unit in Austria during World War two. He then took a pharmacy course at Temple university, Philadelphia, under the GI bill of rights.

WILD STORIES FLEW THICK AND FAST

Thompson said the shootings began at 8:20 a. m., Eastern Standard time.

Unruh surrendered at 9:15 a. m.

For a time, wild stories flew thick and fast about what happened.

But when the smoke of battle cleared and Unruh had been quizzed for several hours by detectives, Thompson gave this version of what happened:

Unruh's house at 3202 River Road was next door to a drug store operated by 40-year-old Maurice Cohen. There is no front entrance to Unruh's house.

Cohen at one time permitted Unruh to cross his yeard when leaving or entering his own house from the rear.

Was Stopped From Crossing Yard

But recently Cohen stopped Unruh from crossing the yard by building a fence and a gate.

Today Unruh walked—detectives said he never ran during all the shooting—from his house into the drug store, tramped upstairs and shot Cohen's mother, Minnie, 63, as she lay in bed.

Cohen's wife, Rose, 38, heard the shot and ran into a bedroom where she locked her 12-year-old son Harold in a closet.

Unruh tracked her down and shot her on the stairway of her home.

Then he walked out the rear of the drug store.

Cohen chased after him.

Unruh turned on him and shot. Cohen staggered through the gate he had built to keep Unruh out, collapsed in a gutter, dead.

Killed By Single Shot

James J. Hutton, 45, a Westmont (N. J.) insurance collector, was entering the drug store as Unruh rounded a corner after leaving the Cohen yard.

A single shot killed Hutton.

Then Unruh paraded up and down River Road entering one business establishment after another. A single shot killed each of his victims.

Finally he walked quietly back through the Cohen yard into his own house and barricaded himself in his room.

On his shop-to-shop killing spree, Unruh walked into a barber shop and shot down Clark Hoover, 33-year-old barber and two-year-old Thomas Hamilton, who was sitting in a chair getting a haircut.

A car crossed the street as Unruh emeged from a shop. A shot resounded and the driver slumped in his seat. The car climbed a sidewalk.

Three Women Fell

Another car stopped for a light. Unruh fired three times. Three women fell.

Witnesses said they saw Unruh reload the fatal weapon at least three times during the shooting.

Thompson said Unruh was an

Matthews Asks Revenue Boost

The city of Lubbock needs additional revenue for expansion in the immediate future to keep up with the phenomenal growth of the city, City Manager Steve Matthews told Lions at their regular noon luncheon at the Hilton Tuesday.

Matthews told the Lions that sewage extensions needed in the immediate future would total $1,200,000, and that $485,000 would be needed for right-of-ways for the highway dispersal system, which would include (1) extension of Nineteenth from Texas Ave. east to the city limits, (2) widening of Ave. A from Broadway to Nineteenth, with the installation of an underpass at the railroad tracks near Fourteenth, and (3) construction of an underpass on Fourth near Ave. J.

Taxes For Present Services

The city needs an additional $500,000 to carry on its street paving program, funds for which are rapidly being depleted in keeping up with the expansion of the city.

He explained the 1949-50 city budget, showing that the $1,120,562 in taxes collected plus revenue from the city's utility plants and other sources totalling $962,000, covered budget items only, with no money left over to cover the improvements.

He pointed out that many people

Child Is Rescued From Water Well

ADA, Okla., Sept. 6 (AP) — Two-year-old Bud West went exploring, and fell down a water well yesterday.

His father, Louis West, heard the child's cries and scrambled down the well to the rescue.

When he got to the water, he found his son floating safely on his back. The water was 15 feet deep.

Bud suffered no injuries.

Shirley May Forced To Quit

American Girl Fails To Conquer Channel

(By The Associated Press)

IN THE ENGLISH CHANNEL, Sept. 6.—Shirley May France failed in a gallant attempt to swim the English channel today after battling her way through swirling tides to within less than six miles of her goal—the white cliffs of Dover.

Robbed of all her strength by the icy water and swift currents of the channel, the Somerset, Mass., schoolgirl was dragged moaning from the water. She struggled to keep from being pulled into the boat. In tears she pleaded for a chance to keep on.

In Water 10½ Hours

The end came at 4:05 p. m. (10:05 a. m. EST) after she had been in the icy water 10½ hours. Observers estimated she had swum more than 30 miles on a zig-zagging course.

"Please—please—leave me in," the pretty 17-year-old swimmer pleaded with her coach, Harry Boudakian.

She had fought to keep up the battle, spurred on by a message from her mother and by the shouted encouragement of her father, J. Walter France, who was on one of the boats accompanying her.

Cliffs Shining In Sun

The Dover cliffs, shining in the sun, had been within her view for two and a half hours. "Look how near it is," she cried hysterically when she sought to fight off attempts to make her give up.

It is 19 miles across the English channel but the flow of tides force swimmers to travel a much greater distance.

Men swimmers from an accompanying launch jumped into the water and held her against the side of a rowboat as she tried to get away.

Shirley May's father, J. Walter France, was in tears too.

"Never mind, baby, never mind," he admonished her.

He had tried to talk her into giving up several hours before, when the tides were running against her. A sudden shift in the tide's flow had boosted her chances then.

Wrapped In Father's Arms

"We can come another year, sweetheart," her father said.

When Shirley May was pulled into the escort boat she sat on the floor. Her father knelt beside her and wrapped her in his arms.

"There they are," she shouted when a wave carried her up and she spotted the cliffs for the first time.

Spurning suggestions that she

Leftist Claims U. S. Is Using Hitler Tactics

"Peace Congress" In Mexico Lauding Stand Of Russians

(By The United Press)

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 6 — An angry Canadian leftist warned the Continental Peace congress today that the United State is "deliberately fostering war psychology" throughout the world and adopting "Hitler tactics."

Dr. Joseph Endicott told 3,500 cheering delegates to the "liberal" meeting that the four years of postwar "Yankee imperialism" was causing an "increasing loss of civil liberties" for many nations.

Spying Charged

Attacking what he called "Yankee imperialist atom-madmen, Endicott charged that the "so-called undefended border between Canada and the United States is beginning to swarm with secret service and political stool pigeons."

"The difference in ideology between this vast organized police network and the ideology of Hitler and Mussolini is hard to understand," he declared.

Endicott led off the second day of the peace congress which has an avowed program of "exposing war mongers," and which has attacked United States imperialism and praised Soviet Russia as a "lover of peace."

Visa Refusals Resented

Angry over the refusal of U. S. authorities to grant passport visas permitting the Canadian delegation to travel across the United States en route to the conference, Endicott shouted that "here is no good-neighbor policy for those who opposed the National Asociation of Manufacturers."

"The real Canadians are not the Canadian bankers," he added, "but the Canadian seamen who struck all over the world to defend their rights. Canadians are not 'yes men' to the Yankee imperialist atom-madmen."

Endicott charged that the U. S. dollar is "firmly in the way [illegible] world trade," and urged free exchange of goods among Great Britain, China, Czechoslovakia, Russia and Canada.

LUMBERING GIANT MOVES SLOWLY

Bermuda's Honeymoon Islands In Path Of Mighty Hurricane

(By The Associated Press)

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 6 — A ponderous Atlantic hurricane with winds up to 120 miles an hour pushed its way toward Bermuda's honeymoon isles today.

The lumbering giant was about 400 miles south southwest of the island resort last night, drifting north northeastward at about six miles an hour. It passed about 800 miles east of Miami.

Winds Extend Outward

Hurrican force winds extend outward nearly 100 miles to the east and 50 miles to the west of center. Gales are about 300 miles in diameter around the disturbance, the weather bureau said.

Hurricane precautions were advised in the Bermuda area. Planes were evacuated from bases at Hamilton and all military personnel recalled to bases in the British-owned resort colony.

Chief Storm Forecaster Grady Norton said the hurricane apparently turned to a north northeasterly course yesterday after spinning almost stationary Sunday night.

Keep Close Watch

He said close watch was being maintained for a possible change in course or for erratic movement.

Bermuda lies about 600 miles off the South Carolina coast and 677 miles southeast of New York. It includes about 360 small coral islands, 20 of them inhabited. It is famed as a honeymoon resort, with horsedrawn vehicles, shaded paths and a tranquil tropical existence.

LISBON, Portugal, Sept. 6 (AP)—Capt. John Brondello, 36, Italian pilot, plans to start tomorrow on his bid to fly the Atlantic in a single-engine American plane, he said today.

Seven Transferred To State's Prison

The prison transfer bus let Lubbock this morning with seven prisoners, three of whom were convicted in Dawson county for robbery of a service station; two from Lubbock; one from Lamb county.

The other was an escaped "lifer" who was sent to the prison three years ago from Wichita county.

Seab Lee, 45, a negro who was sentenced to 15 years for murder, and L. F. Kelly, 46, two years for swindling, were those from Lubbock county.

Earl S. Abbott, 21, Roy Gene Brown, 23, and L. E. Ables, 26, were sentenced to five years each from Dawson county for armed robbery.

Leroy Wingfield, 37, is the lifer, and Tex Whitehead, 20, of Portales, N. M., had been brought here from Lamb county for transfer on a forgery conviction.

TWO MAKE ESCAPE

AMARILLO, Sept. 6 (AP)—Potter county officers were still hunting today two prisoners who got away from a county jail work detail Sunday. They were J. W. Atkinson, 27, under seven-year sentence for bad checks, and John B. Dillon, serving a burglary sentence.

"Aggressor Army" Hits First Division

American Armed Forces Open Big Mock Battle In Germany

(By The Associated Press)

NUERNBERG, Germany, Sept. 6—America's fighting strength was unleashed at dawn today in the greatest postwar display of military power against a mythical foe from the east.

It was the first maneuver under the unified command of the three services, with more than 110,000 U. S. soldiers, sailors and airmen taking part.

The "aggressor army" launched an attack at daybreak from the east with a striking force of 18,000 men bent on plowing through the First division to the Rhine river. The offensive forces are made up of U. S. constabulary.

The maneuvers, known as "Exercise Harvest," were planned to simulate actual wartime conditions, with planes strafing the ground forces and artillery and infantry following through.

Maj. Gen. I. D. White, U. S. constabulary chief commanding the "aggressor army," boasted he would have dinner behind the First divis-

COMMUNISM IS GIVEN NEW TWIST

Russia Accused Of Selfishly Exploiting Satellite Nations

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, Sept. 6. (AP)—Te secretary of the Yugoslav politburo yesterday accused Russia of "exploiting the weak" by squeezing big profits from industries jointly owned with its satellites.

The "exploitation" charge has usually been levelled only against capitalist countries. It ran counter to world-wide orthodox Communist dogma that exploitation of one Communist country by another is impossible.

Slav Firms Dissolved

Milovan Djilas, polituburo secretary, made the accusation in an article written for Borba, organ of the Communist party. It was printed while tension was at its height in the Balkan war of nerves being waged by Russia against Yugoslavia.

The article asserted Yugoslavia had been milked by Russia through the agency of joint shipping and airline companies set up after the war. The two companies were dissolved last week.

Djilas tossed a scornful barb at other eastern European countries. He said they are still being exploited by similar "mixed" companies.

(On July 5 it was announced that Russia had assumed a half interest in the Romanian steel, coal and construction industries. Russia previously had taken over 50 per cent interest in the Romanian airlines, ground transport, oil, natural gas, timber and banking industries. What contribution the Soviet Union made to these firms in return has never been made public.)

Russian Dictation Resented

Marshal Tito's "Yugoslavia for the Yugoslavs" policy has emerged more and more as the root cause of the break between the marshal and Russia and Cominform countries.

Djilas emphasized in his article that the Cominfosm (Communist International Information bureau) has no right to speak for all Communist countries and that no Communist party is obliged to accept its dictates.

When the Cominform was organized it was set up ostensibly as a propaganda agency but, Djilas contended, the Cominform, and its weekly newspaper, have become a weapon used by Russia to subordinate other Communist states.

UN Delegation Chosen

Djilas will accompany Foreign Minister Edvard Kardelj to the United Nations general assembly in New York.

This is the strongest delegation Yugoslavia has ever sent and indicates the country's loss of confidence in Russia's position as spokesman for Communism.

Yesterday's blast against the Soviet Union coincided with the disclosure that Marshal Tito has been consulting with officials of the World bank on possibilities of getting a big dollar loan for the development of Yugoslav resources. He had previously counted on the Soviet Union for the necessary funds.

Reburial Rites Set For Levelland Vet

Mr. and Mrs. B. D. Carter of Levelland left Saturday for Arlington National cemetery to attend reburial services for their son, Patt W. Carter, who was killed March 23, 1945, while on his 33rd flying mission over Formosa.

Services will be conducted at 10:30 a.m. Sept. 12 for Carter, whose body recently arrived from the Philippines. He was an only son, a graduate of Levelland high school, and had attended Texas Tech a year and a half and Hardin-Simmons university one year. He was a football and basketball star at Levelland and a basketball star at Hardin-Simmons.

The Levelland Oil Belt league baseball park was named for the war hero in 1946.

Pioneer Ranchman Claimed By Death

PECOS, Sept. 6 (AP) — Charles Splittgarber, 73, pioneer ranchman of the Toyahvale community died Sunday following a brief illness. He and his wife celebrated their 51st wedding anniversary last June 23 with a barbecue and dance which were attended by hundreds of West Texans.

Splittgarber had lived in the Toyahvale area for 60 years. He is survived by his wife; one daughter, Mrs. Coro More of Balmorhea; a half-brother, W. L. Kingston, sr., of Balmorhea; eight grandchildren and six great grandchildren.

Funeral services were scheduled for 6 p. m. today.

Klan Unmasked In Georgia City After Fights With Mayor

IRON CITY, Ga., Sept. 6 (AP)—This little southwest Georgia town's one-armed, klan-fighting mayor got his anti-masking ordinance approved last night, but the town council stripped the mayor of his three special policemen.

Mayor C. L. Drake, who has twice reported shooting battle with the Ku Klux Klan, had been pushing the ban against masks and hoods in public for more than a month.

Police Authority Revoked

The five-man council approved it unanimously, but at the same session revoked Drake's authoricersty to hire special police. All officers must be under direct control of the police chief, it ordered.

No Klansmen appeared to protest the mask ban. Bill Hendrix of Tallahassee, Fla., spokesman for a klan group fired on here several weeks ago, said he was not opposed to the ordinance.

Three men Drake said he hired as special officers are under $1,000 bonds on charges of shooting across a highway at a klan parade. The warrants were issued during a hearing on assault charges the mayor filed against klansman Hendrix.

Prior to the parade incident, Drake reported he foiled a klan kidnap attempt on him by opening fire with an automatic shotgun. Hendrix denied his ku kluxers were involved.

Amvets Chief Handless Vet

DES MOINES, Ia., Sept. 6. (AP)—Harold Russell, the handless war veteran who owns a motion picture academy award, is the new commander of the Amvets.

The national convention of the Amvets (American Veterans of World War II) yesterday elected Russell, 32, of Watertown, Mass., as the organization's chief officer. He holds an "Oscar" for the film, "Best Years of Our Lives," showing how he overcame the handicap of the loss of both hands.

Mrs. Cliff Lairitson of Waterloo, Iowa, was elected president of the Amvets auxiliary. She was unopposed.

Leaders Oppose Bonus

In a final business session yesterday, the Amvets refused to reconsider a resolution passed Sunday asking a federal bonus up to $4,500. The bonus had been opposed by the Amvets leadership.

The convention also adopted resolutions asking Congress to boost GI home loan guarantee from $4,000 to $7,500; urging a Pacific pact; asking that shipments of all goods from this country to Russia and her satellites be prohibited, and calling for registration of all Communists in the United States.

The convention concluded with an address by President Truman at the state fairgrounds. During his three hour and 19 minute stay in Des Moines, the President gave his written approval to the Amvets offer to install carillon bells at the Arlington, Va., cemetery as a memorial to the World War II dead.

Motley Farm Queen Chosen

MATADOR, Sept. 6. (Special)—Wanda Pearl Fisher was named queen of the Motley County Farm Bureau last night at the organization's gathering in the new Motley county courthouse.

The gathering, incidentally, was the first public meeting to be held in the new $250,000 courthouse.

Miss Fisher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Fisher of Flomont, won the Farm Bureau queen honor for the second consecutive year. Runner-up was Miss Wanda Graham. There were a total of eight contestants.

Contest At Plainview

Miss Fisher, who is employed by the First State bank of Matador, will compete in the district Farm Bureau queen contest at Plainview on Sept. 13. Winner of that contest will participate in a state contest.

Attendance at last night's gathering was reported to have been good. Part of the program was held in darkness, since electrical storms in the area cut off the power for several minutes.

Ben Edwards is president of the Motley county bureau. Elbert Reeves is secretary.

Newspapermen Will Tour United States

LONDON, Sept. 6 (U.P.) — Fifty European newspaper executives and editors left for the United States today for a two-week tour as guests of American Overseas airlines.

They will visit New York, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Fort Worth, Detroit and Washington.

RAILROAD TO USE TRUCKS

SPRINGFIELD, O., (U.P.) — The New York Central Railroad announced that trucks will supplant trains for a new type of service. The co-ordinating rail-truck service will be used for transporting small packages or shipments known as "less than carload freight."

GERHART EISLER ESCAPE CITED

Congressman Is Against Bill To Permit Jailing Of Aliens

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6 (AP) — Chairman Sabath (D-Ill) of the House rules committee today lit into a bill to permit the jailing of deportable aliens as a "concentration camp" measure.

"I'm against concentration camps," he said.

But Rep. Hobbs (D-Ala), author of the bill, predicted it will go to the floor for an early vote after the House gets back on the job Sept. 21.

Eisler Escape Recalled

The measure has received extra impetus as a result of the escape of Communist leader Gerhart Eisler to Germany last spring. Eisler fled the country while at liberty on bail after convictions for passport fraud and contempt of Congress.

Hobbs' bill would empower the attorney general to keep a deportable alien in jail until he could be expelled from the country.

The bill was approved by the House judiciary committee by a big margin. But Chairman Celler (D-NY) is against it on much the same grounds as Sabath.

Between them, Sabath and Celler are in a position to erect some formidable barricades. But neither has shown much of an inclination to do so.

Restrictions Opposed

Major bills are routed through Sabath's committee on the way to the House floor. Celler, bowing to the views of a majority of his own committee, asked the rules committee for clearance.

And Sabath told reporters "of course" he will schedule rules committee hearings after the House returns to work.

"But I don't think conditions justify enactment of such far-reaching legislation," Sabath said. "I oppose unfair restrictions on humans. I'm for liberty and freedom.

"We have enough laws to punish anybody for any transgressions, any violations. If they are guilty, they can be prosecuted and sent to jail, but I wouldn't want to hold them in camps."

Position Clarified

Celler's position is that the bill could mean life imprisonment in some cases for persons who are unable to obtain passports to another country through no fault of their own.

He says it "contemplates the creation of detention camps in this country, release from which becomes dependent entirely upon the whim of an administrative officer."

The justice department is for the bill. And Hobbs says it is reasonable to put some extra restrictions on deportable aliens such as criminals, dope peddlers, or those who are immoral or subversive.

Furthermore, he says, the bill would be an inducement for such aliens to make their own arrangements to get out of the country.

Officials Question Confessed Slayer

BUTTE, Mont., Sept. 6 (INS) — Ray Dempsey Gardner, 29-year-old confessed killer and suspect in two other murders in the Rocky Mountain region was questioned in Butte today in connection with a fourth possible victim.

Gardner was placed in Silver Bow county jail last night after he directed officers to the body of Miss Sue Horn, 39, of Butte, hidden under a green coat and a pile of rocks 40 miles south of Butte.

The ex-convict confessed Saturday that he shot the woman to death Aug. 9 when she attempted to flee from the stolen car he was driving.

Gardner was arrested in Ogden, Utah, as a car thief. Evidence found in the auto linked him to the vicious murder of Shirley Gretzinger. The 17-year-old school girl was slain when she left her Ogden home to answer an ad for a babysitter July 20.

He was brought to Montana yesterday to point out the spot where he buried the Butte woman. Sheriff Al McCloud said Gardner will be questioned in connection with the death of an unidentified woman whose decomposed body was found near Helena June 29.

Ogden officers will then return Gardner to Utah for further investigation in the babysitter slaying.

Meanwhile, authorities in Boulder, Colo., were checking to to determine if Gardner is the mystrious assailant who clubbed a young Colorado university student to death June 9.

Tickets Going Fast For Farm Gathering

HALE CENTER, Sept. 6 (Spl.)— Wm. P. Shannon, service officer for the Hale County Farm bureau, said this week that almost all of the 400 tickets available for the second annual county-wide bureau banquet here Monday night, Sept. 12, have been sold.

Three outstanding personalities have been invited to appear on the program that night and two of them have definitely sent word they will be here, Raymond Akin, chairman of the program, has said. Wes Izzard, managing editor of the Amarillo Globe-News, will report on his recent tour of Europe, and J. Walter Hammond, president of the Texas Farm bureau, will be called on for a talk. Congressman George Mahon of the 19th Texas district, who was principal speaker at the 1948 banquet, has been invited again for the 1949 fete, but does not know if he can be here as yet, Akin said.

An important feature of the banquet will be selection of a Hale county farm queen from among young ladies entered in a contest from 14 rural communities in the county. The winner will compete in a district contest the next day, then a state contest, if lucky. The state winner will enter a national contest.

Portuguese Colony May Be The Answer

Mussolini's Daughter Thinks She Has Finally Found Refuge

BY MICHAEL CHINIGO
INS Staff Correspondent

ISCHIA ISLAND, Italy, Sept. 6 —Countess Edda Ciano hopes to solve her "escape complex" in Portuguese Mozambique where she can "live in the past" with Fascist friends.

The widowed daughter of the late Benito Mussolini, now in full possession of her executed husband's vast wealth, has searched ceaselessly since the end of the war for a refuge where she could start a new life.

Fascist Leader There

The couness admitted today she has "finally" found the "ideal spot" as she prepared excitedly for a tri pto Mozambique later this month.

She said she had been "invited" to visit the Portuguese colony by Tullio Cianetti, the Fascist labor leader.

Like Count Ciano, Edda's husband, Cianetti had voted for Mussolini's overthrow at the fateful meeting of the Fascist grand council on July 24, 1943.

But unlike Ciano, who was executed on orders of Mussolini, his father-in-law, Cianetti was spared because he wrote a letter of apology to the Fascist leader the very next day.

Concessions Rumored

Cianetti, who is married and has two children, has been given an agricultural concession and it is reported that the Portuguese have given Countess Edda a similar concession. She refuses to talk about this.

Edda, who has up to now staunchly defended her husband's anti-Axis stand which cost him his life, now does not hesitate to declared that Mussolini perhaps was right after all.

Countess Ciano has admitted to friends on Ischia island that before the Cianetti invitation she had contemplated going to the United States and subsequently to South America.

She had decided against the U. S. because "the idea of American speed makes me dizzy." South America was ruled out, too, because she still remembers the press attacks on her last pre-war trip when she was charged with seeking war funds through marriages of titled Italian women to wealthy Latin Americans.

Venezuela is studying plans to increase the use of fish in inland sections.

Woman Wounded In Hunting Accident

Mrs. Betsy Shytles, 30, of 2422 Thirty-second street, was taken to West Texas hospital Monday afternoon after being accidentally shot in the left leg while dove hunting about 10 miles east of Petersburg with Dale Walker, 32, of Lubbock route 7.

Hospital attendants indicated that her injury was minor and said her condition was good. Several shotgun pellets reportedly hit Mrs. Shytles.

According to Lubbock police who investigated after the hospital reported the case, Walker got out of his car and went around an old school house. As he raised the gun to fire at doves, Mrs. Shytles walked around the corner of the building and was hit.

Korean Attack Plan Rumored

SEOUL, Sept. 6. (AP)—The Rev. John Kang, a Roman Catholic priest who left Communist North Korea Sept. 1, said today the northern regime had postponed purported plans to invade South Korea until October.

The priest did not say how he obtained his information. The northern regime, the priest said at a news conference, had decided not to hold its announced unification election, originally set for Sept. 20, until after it has carried out plans to invade the United Nations sponsored southern republic.

Previous Reports Cited

An American assigned to the U. S. embassy and Korean authorities said last week they had heard reports Russians had told the Reds of North Korea to attack South Korea this month or return weapons supplied them.

Only a minority among North Koreans support the Communist regime, the priest said. He said they were party workers who enjoy ration cards and are well fed. Farmers in general resent having to turn over more than half of their produce to the North Korean government, he said.

The Rev. Kang said he walked 150 miles to escape from the Communist north. He said he had been arrested and released.

ZOO GETS NICE PETS

SAN DIEGO (UP)—This city's famous zoo has added two rhinoceros iguanas. The rare animal is a dragon-like lizard and these two were brought from Haiti. It is approximately three feet long and has three sharp horns on its snout and a row of sharp spines along its back. It is vicious by nature, continually lashing its tail from side to side.

Syria has imposed extraordinary taxes on salaries and wages, "for national defense."

Elliott-Kirkpatrick Vows Read In Stamford Church

STAMFORD, Sept. 6. (Special)—Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Earl Elliott, married Sunday at 4 p. m. at the First Baptist church, will go to Lubbock following their honeymoon trop to make their home at 2008 Eighteenth. The bridegroom will continue his studies in Texas Tech, where he is a second semester junior student.

The bride is the former Anna Kirkpatrick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Kirkpatrick of this city. Mr. Elliott is the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin E. Elliott.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. M. C. Turpin, pastor of the Central Christian church. Musicians were Jo Ann Humphrey, organist, Paula Duncan of Stamford and Wilton Davis of Austin, soloists. Miss Humphrey played "To a Wild Rose" while candles were lighted by two of the ushers. She played the accompaniments for Miss Duncan, who sang "Through the Years" and "With This Ring I Thee Wed," and for Mr. Davis, who sang "Wedding Prayer." She also played the traditional wedding marches.

MRS. T. E. ELLIOTT

In All White Motif

The church decorations were in all-white with an arch and prayer bench and background of candelebra with silver candles and arrangements of gladioli, asters and chrysanthemums. The flowers of the bride's attendants were in all-white and their dresses were in American Beauty rose taffeta fashioned on identical lines.

The maid of honor was Eddie Fouts of Haskell and matron of honor was Mrs. Bob Kirkpatrick, wife of the bride's twin brother. The bridesmaids were Jeanean Lemon of Hobart, Okla., niece of the bride, Thynell Thompson, Mary Kee, Ethylene Kelley, Gloria Pace and Marda Carlile. Junior bridesmaids were Barbara Ann and Nita Gayle Kirkpatrick, nieces of the bride. Little Sandra Ellen Olson was flower girl and Marvin Dewane Elliott, nephew of the groom, was ring bearer. He carried the rings on a white satin pollow.

Dresses of the bride's attendants were fashioned with molded bodice extending to a pointed waistline with tiny covered buttons down the front. Peter Pan collar, cap sleeves and full skirts. Braided white net with tiny American Beauty rosebuds at either side formed the headdresses and the maid of honor and the matron of honor wore shoulder-length veils. Each wore white net mitts with double ruffles and carried nosegays of white Crown asters.

Bride Wears White

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a traditional wedding gown of white Duchess satin with Peter Pan collar. The drop shoulder effect was edged with Chantilly lace. Tiny rhinestone buttons were down the front of the bodice. Panniers of Chantilly lace were on each side of the hip line of the full gathered skirt which fell into a cathedral length train.

Her double-tiered finger-tip veil of illusion was attached to a headdress of braided white satin embroidered in seed pearls. Her cascaded bouquet held a white orchid nestled among glamelias showered with white satin ribbons.

Johnny Bell served as best man and the groomsmen were Bob Kirkpatrick, Herschel Kelley, Bill Campbell, Bill Cannon, Charlie Johnson and Durwood Miller, who also served as ushers.

A reception followed the wedding ceremony and was held at the home of the bride's parents.

For her going-away attire, the bride wore a navy blue two piece double-brested dress with gray feathered hat, navy shoes and gray kid bag and gloves. Her orchid from her bridal bouquet formed her corsage.

The bride graduated from Stamford High school this spring, where she held numerous student honors. The groom is also a graduate of Stamford High school.

Vows Read In Slaton

SLATON, Sept. 5.—Miss Irma Lou Gregory, daughter of Mrs. Celeste Gregory, and Glenn Howard Scroggins, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Scroggins, all of Slaton, were married Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the First Baptist church with Rev. J. T. Bolding officiating. Palms, candelabra and an archway of pink and white gladioli formed the altar decorations.

Mrs. Lowell Merrell, organist, provided traditional marches and accompanied Miss Anna Doris Phillips as she sang "Because," "Always" and "The Wedding Prayer."

Has Illusion Veil

Given in marriage by her brother, Arthur J. Gregory, the bride wore a mauve crepe dress designed with a sweetheart neckline, cap sleeves and a ballerina skirt accented with tucked panels. Her veil of illusion was attached to a rolled hat of matching crepe trimmed with lilies of the valley. She wore long mitts and a strand of pearls, gift from the bridegroom. Her colonial nosegay of orchids was showered with satin streamers, and with it she carried a handkerchief borrowed from Miss Mary Ann Suits of Alvord.

The maid of honor, Miss Nancy Teague, wor a cider crepe dress styled with a sweetheart neckline and an overskirt. She wore a matching hat and mitts and carried a nosegay of asters. The bridesmaids, Mrs. R. J. Fondy, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Daunita Dowell, wore dresses identical to Miss Teague's in colors of blue green and gold.

Green taffeta dresses were worn by the candlelighters, Nancy Dean of Lubbock and Helen Ann Norris.

Carlton Scroggins, brother of the bridegroom, was best man and R. J. Fondy and W. T. Gregory, brother of the bride, were ushers.

At the reception given in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Holt following the ceremony, the refreshment table was laid with white lace over pink and decorated with pink gladioli and candles. A three-tiered wedding cake was served. Those assisting with hospitalities were Mesdames S. T. Teague, F. A. Drewry, Bill Layne, Sam Phillips, jr., and Bob Fondy.

For a wedding trip to the Gulf coast, the bride wore a navy blue faille taffeta dress with an orchid corsage. The couple will be at home in Slaton where Mr. Scroggins is employed by the Santa Fe Railroad company. Both the bride and bridegroom are graduates of Slaton High school. Mrs. Scroggins has served as worthy advisor of the Rainbow Girls and as president of the Sub-Deb club. Mr. Scroggins served 18 months in the Navy.

Bride-Elect Is Honored

A coke party given in the backyard at the C. W. York home, 3305 Twentieth Monday night continued a party series being given to compliment a bride-elect, Miss Rebecca Bradshaw. Miss Carlyne York, the hostess, presented the honoree a silver tray.

On the list were Mesdames Monte Staniforth, Lucian Moore, Dan Alford, Gene Perry, Eldridge Rayburn, T. G. Waldrip, jr., Betty Jo Hendryx, Thad Edwards, Julian Fairly, Austin Blakemore, Wade Eller, jr., Burton Crosson, R. P. Brown, Jack York, and Misses Robbie Clemmons, Mary Lu Jobson, Sara Woods, Gladys Ruth Parnell, Mary Jane Kinard, Jane Hiatt, Yvonne Olds, Marguerite Harris, Norma Skinner, Betsy Chapman and Joan Smith.

There were 30 guests at a kitchen shower given in Miss Bradshaw's honor Saturday morning at the home of Mrs. Allen T. Stewart, 3120 Twenty-first. Mesdames Stewart, D. D. Cross, David Morrison and James Morris were hostesses.

Pink asters decorated the serving table.

Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Clark have returned from Fort Worth where they attended the Kemas club reunion.

Mr. and Mrs. Sid Clark are leaving today for a visit in Galveston and Houston.

Luncheon Guests Wear "Grown Up" Costumes

Wearing their favorite "dress up" clothes, little girls were guests when Mrs. Maple Wilson gave a luncheon at the Lubbock Country club Saturday to compliment her granddaughter, Joy Elizabeth Bucy.

The other "little women" were Jean Ann Oliver, Jane Adamson, Cindy Becker, Linda Kay Hawkins, Linda Troian, Nancy Gwen Fulghum and Diane Bucy.

How To Play Canasta: 4

At Least One Canasta Must Be Made Before Melding

By WILLIAM E. McKENNEY
America's Card Authority
Written For NEA Service

SCORING in Canasta is done in several steps. First, score all bonuses as per the following table:

Melding out	100 points
Melding out concealed	An additional 100 points
Each natural Canasta (no wild cards)	500 points
Each mixed Canasta (1 to 3 wild cards)	300 points
Each red trey	100 points
4 red treys for one partnership	800 points

A side cannot meld out unless it has at least one Canasta. This may be a natural or a mixed Canasta.

Red treys on the table do not count as melds. As a matter of fact, if your side fails to make a legal minimum meld before the other side goes out, the red treys of your side become a minus value.

When it is your turn to play, if you fail to remove a red trey from your hand and place it face up on the table, and the other side melds out and catches you with one or more red treys, your side is subject to a penalty of 500 points for each red trey.

However, if a player melds out before it has became your turn to play, then you are only subject to a 100-point penalty for each red trey. These points are deducted from your score.

AFTER scoring bonuses, do not mix the cards together, as these cards have additional scoring values.

The next step is to add the value of each card left in the hand of the partner of the player who went out, and for the opponents to add the value of each card left in their hands. The cards are valued according to the following table:

Each joker	50 points
Each deuce and each ace	20 points
Each king, queen, jack, ten, nine, eight	10 points
Each seven, six, five, four	5 points

The total points left in the hands of the partner of the player who went out and of the opponents are a minus value for their respective sides.

Next, each side adds the value of all their cards that have been melded on the table. These cards are a plus value for the respective sides. Subtract the minum value from the plus value to determine the net score.

Points required for game are 5000. There is no extra game bonus.

Minimum points required for first meld:

Each black three	5 points
PREVIOUS SCORE TOWARD GAME	MINIMUM POINTS
Minus	15
0 to 1495	50
1500 to 2995	90
3000 or more	120

FOR the purpose of making an initial meld, the values of the cards are added together. And meld of there nines would be 30; two nines and a deuce would be 40; two nines and a joker would be 70.

For the purpose of getting the required minimum count for your initial meld, you may make two or more different melds at the same time. For example, if you need 90 points, you could put down a joker and two sevens, which counts (50-5-5) 60 points, and three eight - spots, which counts (10-10-10) 30 points, giving you a total for both melds of 90.

After a side has made its initial legal meld, either partner may add to their melds or make any other legal meld without reference to any minimum count.

TOMORROW: Canasta's irregularities.

Sports Dance Is To Be Held For Young People

An informal, back to school dance will be staged at the Lubbock Country club Wednesday night, beginning at 8:30 o'clock.

Mary Haworth's Mail

While Toting Girl On His Bike, Boy Lapsed In Coma And Died; She Has Sense Of Guilt

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: My girl friend Edith and I met two boys at a garden party and they suggested that we make a date to go bicycle riding.

I was eager to go but Edith refused because her bicycle needed repairs. One of the boys, I'll call him Buck, offered to carry Edith on his bike—she as the extra passenger, he doing the wheeling. After hours of persuading, Edith finally agreed; and the following day we set off on a two hours' jaunt.

We rode down to the waterfront along the bay, not far from our home, and there Buck began complaining of a headache. We thought he was joking and went on with the ride. Then suddenly he parked his wheel and ran towards the water and before we could reach him he had fainted.

GIRL IS AFRAID OF FATHER'S IRE

We called an ambulance and he was taken to the hospital, where the doctor said he was in a coma; and two hours later he died, never having regained consciousness. Since that day Edith has locked herself away, refuses to go out with anyone and blames herself for Buck's death.

When I plead with her not to feel that way she keeps repeating, "I killed him and I am no good for anyone." The other boy tries to reason with her, too, by repeatedly insisting that he is mostly to blame, for he knew Buck was ill and therefore he shouldn't have taken us out so far.

We've done our best to help her, without success; and I hope you can give some advice that will straighten her out. She is afraid to tell her parents what happened, for fear of punishment from her father. Please answer soon.

Signed: A. A.

CASE OF CHRONIC ANXIETY NEUROSIS

DEAR A. A.: It seems to me that you and Buck's friend don't know the half of what's worrying Edith, and that she feels a face-saving need to keep secrets from her friends as well as her parents.

If we could uncover the primary causes of her phobic conviction of guilt since Buck's death, I think we would find that she has been forbidden by her parents to make friends with boys whom they haven't met or don't approve. Also, that she went on the bicycle ride without telling her parents where she was going or with whom. maybe indeed she told them a fib about her plans for the day.

Moreover, we might discover that her parents have often and strictly said that she is too young to date any boys yet, and that she will be punished if she goes against that edict, or in any way acts contrary to their ideas of "good" teen-age behavior. Possibly, too, her parents privately grumble about you, as being an "undesirable" influence from their viewpoint.

ASSOCIATES DATES WITH WRONG-DOING

IN all probability Edith lives in a chronic state of anxious suspense, trying to act "normal" in relation to youngsters her age, and also "model" in her parents eyes, —hence always afraid that her sham will come out, on one side or the other, and that she will be "in dutch" with her parents, or ridiculed and by-passed by the younger crowd, etc.

Indeed it occurs to me that her grave reluctance to be Buck's "date" wasn't so much due to the condition of her bicycle as to misgivings about her parents' views; but she didn't want the boys (or you) to guess the truth. And when she surrendered to your pleading, it was with a nervous sense of wrong-doing and "trouble brewing." Thus Buck's mortal collapse enroute shocked her into a serious depression and she implicated herself as the criminal chiefly because all her feelings about the excursion were full to guilt.

Understanding is half of cure, the saying goes; and perhaps if Edith can grasp the connection between her long-time difficulties with her parents and her present panic-state, she will begin to see the sense of your factual statement that she's not to blame for Buck's death. But she ought to unburden her personal trials to a good reliable adult—say her pastor—and ask his guidance in coming to better terms with her family.—M. H.

Personal Appearances By HST Will Feature 1950 Campaign

(By The Associated Press)

INDEPENDENCE, Mo., Sept. 6 Top ranking advisers said today President Truman will spearhead the Democratic campaign in next year's congressional elections by personal appearances in key states.

These presidential associates, unquotable by name, said Mr. Truman's Labor day speeches yesterday were just a sample of the technique he will use in a rear platform stumping tour in 1950.

Most of them were agreed that Mr. Truman is undecided whether he will seek re-election in 1952. They also felt that he will make no decision until after the returns are in from next November's voting on senators and representatives.

Special Interests Attacked

The President started his 1950 campaigning early by lashing "organized special interests" in speeches at Pittsburgh and Des Moines.

He sought to drum up support for enactment of the Brannan production payment plan and for repeal of the Taft-Hartly labor act.

He defended the Democratic-controlled 81st Congress for repairing "most of the damage" he said the GOP-dominated 80th did, but he added:

"There are still many reactionary senators and representatives in Congress, but they are no longer in control as they were last year and the year before.

"They are still doing all they can to slow up our progress, but they are not able to stop it."

Visits Missouri

The President flew into Missouri last night immediately after his address to the American Veterans of World War II (Amvets) at Des Moines.

He is flying back to Washington today with Mrs. Truman after a visit with his sister, Miss Mary Jane Truman, and his brother, J. Vivian Truman at their homes in nearby Grandview, Mo.

The presidential plane, the "Independence," is due to take off at noon (EST) on the four hour flight to the capital, completing a 2,000-mile trip.

Mr. Truman eyed a tighter farm labor coalition in 1950 in his Des Moines speech and in an earlier one at Pittsburgh. In Pittsburgh he spoke at the Allegheny county free fair grounds before a police estimated crowd of 100,000.

Scare Campaign Charged

There, the President accused his opposition of trying to block the "fair deal" program with a "scare word campaign."

He announced a fight to the finish for the "progressive" measures and a battle for repeal of the "repressive" Taft-Hartley act until it is "wiped off the statute books."

He contended the current Congress had made progress with his proposals in the teeth of "trumped up slogans" like statism, welfare state, collectivism and socialism.

Dallas Firms Build Los Alamos "City"

WHITE ROCK, N. Y., Sept. 6 —Finishing touches have been put on a complete city built by two Texas firms. Winfield Morten, Dallas real estate developer, and Shaw and Estes, Dallas contracting firm, built in less than eight months the suburb to the Los Alamos atomic energy project community.

White Rock houses 3,112 persons and was constructed at a cost of $3,591,494. It was covered a year ago to provide living quarters for skilled construction workers at Los Alamos.

Union Printers Fail To Report For Work

LAS VEGAS, Nev., Sept. 6. (AP) —Union printers failed to appear for work today at the Las Vegas Review-Journal amid a dispute over teletype-setting machines, as well as wages and other benefits, said publication schedules would be maintained. Approximately 25 members of the typograpjhical union are involved.

A management statement said:

"Members of the typographical union manning the composing room of the Review-Journal failed to report for work this morning when negotiations over a new contract involving jurisdiction over modern teletypesetter equipment broke down.

"In addtion to jurisdiction over teletype perforators, now operated by qualified stenographers, the union demands included $100 a week for 35 hours work, double time pay for all over 35 hours, six paid holidays, two and three weeks paid vacations, depending on years in the organization; severance pay, hospital benefits, sick leave and a closed shop.

"Management refused to grant jurisdiction over the perforators and, after desultory discussion on other points, the negotiations terminated last night. Typographical union members now receive $93.75 a week for 37½ hours, five paid holidays, two weeks paid vacation after one year's service, one week after six months."

Hockley Tour Set Thursday

LEVELLAND, Sept. 6 (Special) —Plans for the Hockley county conservation tour were completed at a meeting of the Board of Supervisors last week. The tour has been set for 9:30 a. m., Thursday. It will be assembled on the south side of the Levelland square, according to B. Forman, chairman of the board.

There will be eight stops on the tour. Beginning with the Leon Lawson farm, the group will see reseeded pastures and terraces; 2, Lee Smallwood farm, six miles northwest of Levelland, underground pipe for permanent irrigation ditch; 3, Johnnie Miller farm, effects of deep breaking on sandy soil; 4, Roy Taylor, two miles north of Whitharral, deep breaking; 5, J. M. Horton, lunch and bench levelling demonstrations; 6, John Morton farm, one mile north Levelland, irrigated cotton on level land with underground water transportation system; 7, Don Turner and Sarvis Long place, terrace maintenance with sorghums. Cotton planted between terraces; 8, John Blair farm, alfalfa and irrigated pastures.

To Furnish Watermelons

At 1 p. m. a stop will be made at the J. M. Horton farm near Whitharral. Horton will furnish watermelons to go with a lunch to be provided by individuals making the tour. Those who do not wish to carry their lunch will eat in Whitharral.

A special feature of the tour will be a demonstration on 42 acres being bench leveled. A grass seed drill, recently purchased by the supervisors, will be in operation on this project.

The tour will end about 4 p. m. on the Blair farm.

Members of the Hockley county Soil Conservation District board are: Forman, Anton; H. T. Harrell, secretary, Levelland; C. D. Boyd, Ropesville; Leon Lawson, Pettit; and, P. C. Caddell, Sundown.

Also accompanying the tour will be Artie Forehand, Hockley county agent and Marshall Howard of the Soil Conservation Service. All interested farmers and landowners are invited to go along.

Roger Kuykendall Is Named As Operating Manager Of Chevrolet Firm In Lubbock

G. P. Kuykendall, owner of Kuykendall Chevrolet company, has announced a complete list of department heads for the firm which became effective Sept. 1.

Roger L. Kuykendall, his son, has become operating manager of the company and is placed in general charge of the business.

Reared In Lubbock

Young Kuykendall was reared in Lubbock, attended Lubbock High school, Texas Technological college and the University of Texas. He served three and a half years in the Army Air Corps as pilot of B-17's, and when he received his release as a captain in 1945 he went to the Chevrolet School of Modern Merchandising.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger L. Kuykendall live at 2810 Twenty-second. They have two children, Karol Jane, 3½, and Don R., two months old.

Dan K. Sandifer has been named sales manager for the company. He came to Lubbock from Columbia, S. C., where he was with the Central Chevrolet company, one of the largest East Coast dealers, for eight years.

Home Is Purchased

"Mr. Sandifer was selected from a field of more than 25 applicants," G. P. Kuykendall said. "He comes to the organization with a wide experience in automobile selling."

Mr. and Mrs. Sandifer have purchased a home at 2009 Twenty-third. They have three daughters, Lila Ann, 10, Leslie Kay, 6, and Rose Marie, 3.

As in the past, J. O. Kuykendall will remain as business manager, Holland L. Graves as service manager and Hugh Hazelwood as parts manager. These men will direct the Kuykendall organization of 75 persons.

Dead Baby Penguin Grows Six Inches

MALVERN, Australia, Sept. 6 (AP)—Alan Campbell-Drury, radio operator and official photographer with the Australian Antarctic expedition, after 12 months' duty on Heard Island, returned with a stuffed baby penguin a foot high.

Some time after his return the creature had grown six inches, yet had been dead several months.

It had been stuffed with glass wool—as used by the expedition to insulate huts. Fred Jacka, cosmic ray scientist with the expedition, stuffed an adult penguin on Heard Island, brought it home, and it grew 12 inches. No explanation of the change has been made.

Prison Record Change Urged

HUNTSVILLE, Sept. 6 (AP) — A complete revamping of the Texas prison system's records and bookkeeping set-up, termed a "country store operation," was recommended by General Manager O. B. Ellis at the regular bimonthly prison board meeting here today.

Ellis asked the board to mechanize the bookkeeping system in order to increase efficiency and keep a more permanent set of records of inmates and prison operations.

"The system we have been using is that abandoned by country stores," he told the board.

System Called Outmoded

Prison board members agreed that the system is as outmoded as some of the century-old buildings which are being razed here to make way for the new modern structures which were approved earlier this year in a $4 million prison improvement appropriation.

With the installation of the proposed mechanized bookkeeping and records system, prison officials will be better able to select qualified inmates for particular jobs as they are needed.

"If we need a carpenter for some job, or an electrician for another, sometimes it takes several days to shuffle through the inmate index cards to locate the man we think is best suited for the job," Ellis said.

New Employes Approved

"Under the mechanized system, each man's card is mechanically recorded and when we need a carpenter, we just push a button for that classification and the cards of all those qualified are separated for us to consult," he added.

The complicated machinery will cost about $1100 per month, under a lease-rental agreement. It has been recommended by the state auditing department and is similar to those used in a number of other state agencies.

The board approved the employment of Byron W. Frierson as assistant general manager in charge of agriculture. Frierson will have charge of all farming operations at the system's 11 penal farms.

The board also authorized the employment of eight additional construction foremen to help supervise the huge building program now under way.

Marion Sanford To Head C Of C Groun

Marion Sanford was reelected chairman of the chamber of commerce to arrange for Lubbock participation in national fire prevention week Oct. 9-15.

Announcement also was made at the organization meeting, held in the chamber of commerce, that Lubbock Insurance exchange has offered $115 in prizes in a poster and slogan contest for school students of the city.

Members of the arrangements committee are Fire Chief W. E. Twitty, Gordon Sanders, Harry Delaney, J. W. Reid, Thord Dockray, W. E. Larmer and Horace Gearhart.

Sanford appointed the following subcommittee: schools — Reid, Gearhart and Delaney; service clubs—Larmer, Sanders and Dockray; fire equipment demonstration —Twitty and Black, and publicity —Thompson.

REMAINS ARE REMOVED

SHANGHAI, Sept. 6 (AP)—The Communist Central News agency said today the remains of Genghis Khan, 13th century Mongolian conqueror of China, have been removed from their Yuchung tomb in north Shensi province by retreating Nationalist troops.

Negro Is Held In Slaying Of Officer

TEXARKANA, Sept. 6 (AP) — A 21-year-old negro was held today in the fatal shooting of peace officer Charlie Adams, 69, of Tom, Okla.

Adams died yesterday of neck and chest wounds inflicted when he tried to arrest a negro Saturday night on a charge of drunkenness. The negro was tracked down by bloodhounds early yesterday.

India's shipping goal is a merchant marine of 2,000,000 tons within five years.

BODY IS FOUND

DALLAS, Sept. 6 (AP)—Body of a man tentatively identified as William Wesley Massey, address and age not known, was found on a railroad spur near Irving early today. A train crew which found the body said the man probably was run over by a night freight train.

GLOBAL FLIER HAS LAST RACE WITH TIME

Bill Odom Runs Out Of Luck Flying More Than 400 MPH

CLEVELAND, Sept. 6 (AP)—William . Odom, 30, who flew "The Hump" and the Atlantic in wartime, rounded the world alone and without rest, crossed ocean and continent in a little plane, ran out of flying luck at 400-odd miles an hour.

Odom—"Bill" to everyone who met him—died in a screeching plunge that sent his green racing plane through a suburban home and killed a mother and her son yesterday.

The other victims of the tragedy that marred the final big event of the National Air races were Mrs. Jeanne Laird, 24, and her year-old son, Craig. They were caught in the fire that destroyed the house after the F-51 Mustang had roared through it from roof to basement.

First Try In Race

It was Odom's first try at the $40,000 Thompson trophy free-for-all race. He won a preliminary event Saturday without pushing his expensive speedster bought not long before by Jacqueline Cochran, wife of financier Floyd B. Odlum and one of the nation's most famous women pilots.

Miss Cochran chose Odom for his demonstrated skill and courage. He had twice set a round-the-world speed record, the second time making it alone in just over 73 hours. He held the world distance record for light planes at nearly 5,000 miles, flying from Honolulu to Teterboro, N. J., his home port, on his second attempt. And he had numerous lesser achievements in log book.

Cross Wind Strong

Odom was in the second lap of the race having just passed the grandstand, when he went down within sight of two competitors. They said he appeared to have swerved to correct a course error when his plane flipped on its bank and dived virtually straight down.

Government aviation officials began seeking the cause of the accident immediately ,but had no answer after a preliminary look at the wreckage.

One possible cause appeared to be turbulence in the wake of the two large racers ahead of Odom, coupled with a strong cross wind and his turn to head for the number 3 pylon.

It was possible that he had over-controlled the plane in an effort to save seconds by getting back quickly on course, and flipped over because of the tremendous speed.

The plane was a magnificently engineered modification of the war-famous North American F-51 Mustang. The belly air scoop had been removed and the radiators put in nacelles on the wing tips, giving the plane the appearance of a jet fighter. Odom flew it at an average of 405 miles an hour to qualify for the race, and said he did not have it wide open.

Odom was divorced a year ago, his wife obtaining custody of their two children.

NEWS BRIEFS

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Coffman and sons, Wilburn, Eldon, Jack and Wayne, 320 Ave. U, have returned from Weatherford where they attended the funeral of Coffman's mother, Mrs. C. W. Messer, Saturday. Mrs. Messer, 75, had been suffering from a heart ailment for several months.

Four speakers, Wm. R. Sewell, Dr. Mina Watkins, Tom Murphey and Cecil Hollingsworth, presented talks at the regular meeting of the Toastmasters' club at the Hilton hotel Monday night. Plans for installation of new officers on Oct. 1 were discussed. New officers are: A. B. Watkins, president; Lou Walker, vice president; W. D. Rogers, secretary-treasurer; and Warren Faller, sergeant-at-arms. Dr. O. W. English, who is retiring president, presided at last night's meeting. Lonnie Langston was toastmaster for the program and Walker was topic master for extemporaneous talks by club members at the outset of the program.

Postman Tells How To Handle Hounds

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., Sept. 6 (AP) — Postman Johnny Jones, who has been carrying the mail 14 years, has a few observations on dogs:

"I have no trouble with big ones. People are just scared of their size. It's the little ones that are yappiest and which will chase you.

"Ninety percent of the dogs I've met are friendly; the others are the reserved type, not necessarily mean but stand-offish. First thing I do when I meet a new dog is whistle and talk to him in a friendly voice. The thing to do is be friendly, but don't push it.

"If you're riding a bicycle, remember it's the bike the dog is barking at. Get off and walk until the animal gets to know you. Never act afraid; don't threaten a dog. Don't pick up a stick because you may startle him into attacking you. Troubles with dogs are mostly caused by humans, anyway. Handle a dog right and he'll respond in a friendly way.

Hobbs Bank Halts Payment On Checks

HOBBS, N. M., Sept. 6 (INS) — Hobbs city employes will just have to shop around for credit until Thursday, at least.

The Lea county bank announced today it will not accept the signature of suspended Mayor J. Paul Heard on payroll checks for city employes.

Four of the city's councilmen authorized the mayor, who was suspended from office by the state comptroller, to go ahead and sign the checks. But the bank said the city attorney advised it not to pay on Heard's signature.

So city employes will just have to wait until District Judge David Carmody rules Thursday on a court order aimed at preventing the suspension of Mayor Heard by the state comptroller.

Congressman To Be Married To Teacher

WILKES-BTRRE, Pa., Sept. 6 (AP)— Rep. Daniel J. F. Flood (D-Pa.), and Catherine H. Swank, a teacher at Coughlin High school in Wilkes-Barre, will be married here Sept. 24. it was disclosed today.

Flood is serving his second term in the U. S. House of Representatives. He is 45 years old. The congressman was born in Hazleton, Pa., and was graduated from Syracuse university later studying law at Harvard and at Dickinson in Carlisle, Pa.

Among the ushers at the wedding in St. John the Evangelist church will be Sen. Francis J. Myers (D.-Pa.), Democratic whip.

Reds Held In Canton Drive

CANTON, Sept. 6 (AP)—The Chinese Nationalists said today they were holding their own against a Communist drive to cut the Canton-Hankow railway 170 miles north of this provisional capital.

The ministry of national defense said Red Gen. Liu Po-Cheng's forces had split into small groups which were probing the government defenses for weak spots.

The Reds were attacking from Jucheng, 30 miles east of the rail line which links Canton with the main south China defense force under Gen. Pai Chung-Hsi. The main base for these Nationalist troops is Hengyang, 265 air miles north of Canton.

Revolt City Tense

Meanwhile, Pai moved a strong force to Tzehing, 30 miles northwest of Jucheng, with the apparent intention of attacking the flank of the Reds jabbing at the railway.

Reports from Kunming described that southwestern China city as quiet but tense after a bloodless seizure of power by Gov. Lu Han of Yunan province Saturday.

Earlier reports said he had proclaimed the independence of Yunan and was taking over all Nationalist government agencies. Today's reports said no Nationalist officials had been molested and all government banks were open.

Chiang Appears Confident

In Chungking, Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek told guests at a tea party yesterday "as long as I breathe I shall never give up my task of making the revolution a success." He was speaking of the Nationalist revolution under the leadership of Dr. Sun Yat-Sen which overthrew the Manchu dynasty in 1911. Chiang took over the leadership in 1925 after Sun's death.

Referring to the Communists only "bandits." Chiang said he would fight them to the end as only this would achieve China's independence and freedom.

"I am quite confident that in the not too distant future we shall attain victory," Chiang said, "and I am determined to come to Chungking to celebrate it."

Chungking was the Chinese provisional capital during World War II and is destined to be again if Canton falls.

Pheasant Survival Ability Is Tested

SEATTLE, Sept. 6 (U.P) — The attention of a good many pheasant experts is being turned to the state game department's experimental bird farm in the Colville Valley of Washington.

Two thousand young pheasants are being raised on an eight-acre tract in such a way that they have been shifting for themselves much as wild birds do.

The pheasant chicks, obtained from the Deer Park farm, are reared by domestic hens. They are raised as on the game farm except there are no fences to confine them.

The idea behind the experiment is to determine whether bird survival is better when they are raised where they are to be hunted. All bird sraised on farms are transplanted, while birds raised on this project will not be moved.

France and Britain will exchange television programs under a new agreement.

Military Rites Set For General Short

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6 (U.P) — The late Maj. Gen. Walter C. Short, once accused of being partially responsible for the Pearl Harbor disaster, will be buried with full military honors at Arlington National cemetery.

Gen. Short died at the age of 69 Saturday at his Dallas home.

The Department of Defense said that the funeral services will be conducted at Fort Myer chapel, near Arlington, Va., at 1 p. m., CST, Wednesday.

Gen. Short's widew and his son, Maj. Walter Dean Short, are expected to arrive in Washington today from Dallas. They are accompanying the body of the retired general.

Before leaving Dallas, Maj. Short said that his father died without showing any of the bitterness he felt toward his accusers. Although Gen. Short was cleared by a congressional investigation in 1946, he was relieved of his command at Pearl Harbor shortly after the Japanese attack.

"My father was too big a man to let anyone know," Maj. Short said. "He must have been bitter, of course, but no one ever knew. Being a soldier, he kept it to himself."

Maj. Short said that his father never discussed the case even with him. "He never told anyone more than the facts about Pearl Harbor. He never, as you might say, let down his hair—even to me."

Maj. Short is an instructor at the United States Military academy.

Snyder Is Planning Celebration Oct. 10

SNYDER, Sept. 6 (Special) — Three Snyder men have been named on a general assignments committee to make plans for a "welcome newcomer" celebration to be held here Oct. 10.

Dr. H. G. Towle, R. A. Schooling and A. L. Lieb will head a citizens' group to make plans for the affair, which will feature an address by Gov. Allan Shivers.

"We plan to give Gov. Shivers a royal welcome," Bill Schiebel and C. T. McLaughlin of the Snyder Chamber of Commerce reported today. McLaughlin and French Robertson of Abilene personally invited the governor to speak here Oct. 10 at 7 p.m.

Planners expect thousands of newcomers to mingle with pioneer citizens of Scurry county in the festivities at Snyder high school football stadium. An old-fashioned western barbecue with all the trimmings is slated to climax the roundup.

The Scurry county chamber of commerce is sponsoring the newcomers party, which is designed to recognize the growth of Snyder because of deep oil developments. Oil company officials will be honored guests for the occasion.

ALLIES FACE MAJOR PROBLEMS

Need For Peace Treaty With Japan Emphasized By General

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press Staff Writer

General Douglas MacArthur's renewed call for negotiation of a peace treaty with Japan is couched in such laudatory terms regarding that defeated country's progress as to demand careful consideration by the allied powers.

There are, however, stubborn complications to be overcome before headway can be made toward implementing the general's recommendation. Divergence of views among the allies thus far have precluded a settlement.

MacArthur first advocated a peace treaty more than two years ago. Subsequently the Far Eastern big four (America, Britain, Russia and China) considered ways and means but couldn't agree on the method of procedure.

Compromise Is Sought

Russia wanted a treaty drafted by the four powers; America and Britain thought it should be done by the Far Eastern commission comprising the 11 nations which fought against Japan—the United States, Russia, Britain, France, China, the Philippines, the Netherlands, Canada, Australia, India and New Zealand. China offered an unsuccessful compromise that the Far Eastern commission draft the treaty but that decisions be subject to the unanimity of the big four.

Since then the situation has become immeasurably complicated by the success of the Chinese Communists against Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's Nationalist government. Should the Chinese Reds establish a stable regime it would split the Far Eastern big four into two equal camps—Russia and Communist China on one side and the Anglo-American pair on the other. It would be Communism versus democracy again.

Despite the difficulties, however, the time is rapidly approaching when action will have to be taken. MacArthur says the Japanese have "fully and faithfully observed their surrender commitments" and "have well earned freedom and dignity and the opportunity which alone can come with the restoration of peace."

Reds Not Threat

The general asserts that the "threat of Communism as a major issue in Japanese life is past. . . . The basic causes of social unrest throughout Asia have largely been eradicated in Japan by a re-design of the social structure to permit equalization of individual opportunity and personal privilege." The budget has been balanced.

Of course this doesn't mean that Japan's misdeeds will be forgotten. She has sinned greatly and must expect the allies to insist that safeguards be taken against further transgression. However, Europe would seem to provide an object lesson in the matter of delaying too long in making peace treaties with Germany and Austria.

One of the manifestations of the cold war in Europe has been the failure to make treaties in the shooting war. The cold war which is being waged in the Far East won't be concluded until a peace treaty is made with Japan.

General MacArthur didn't indicate his idea of what the peace treaty should provide. One would expect that it would contain full safeguards against further agression. These would include continued military occupation over a long period.

However, such restrictions need not interfere in any way with the new Japan taking her rightful place among nations of good will.

European Unity Is Step Closer

STRASBOURG, France, Sept. 6 (AP)—The Council of Europe's assembly voted by a show of hands yesterday for creation of a European union with definite powers over the governments of member countries.

The 12-nation assembly voted overwhelmingly for a resolution declaring that the new Council of Europe should be expanded into a genuine federal authority.

The measure now must go to the ministerial committee, the upper house of the council of Europe. The council can only make recommendations to the member governments and has no real power.

The vote came after the assembly had learned that Winston Churchill, in a secret memorandum in October, 1942, while Russia was a wartime ally, had urged the unification of Europe as a barrier against "Russian barbarism."

Other Measures Approved

Details of the powers the proposed federal authority would hold were left to be worked out later.

The resolution was on a report by the general affairs committee calling for real power. The resolution said the governments should undertake systematic "instruction of the great mass of the people, pointing out to them the undeniable advantages of union for Europe and at the same time the dangers inherent in national isolation."

The assembly also established a 28-man steering committee, or little assembly, under Belgium's Paul-Henri Spaak as chairman to conduct its business on a permanent year-round basis. It further voted for a series of resolutions enlarging its own authority and approved the economic program it had adopted point by point over the weekend.

Churchill's 1942 memorandum to the British war cabinet was read by Harold MacMillan, British Conservative. In it Churchill declared it would be a "measureless disaster if Russian barbarism overlaid the culture and independence of the ancient states of Europe."

Boulter Seeks Post On Education Board

E. H. Boulter, 2604 Twenty-second, regional supervisor for the National Educators Life Insurance company, has announced his candidacy for the newly-created post of representative on the State Board of Education from the 19th Congressional district.

For eight years, Boulter was deputy state school superintendent with offices at Texas Tech before he became associated with the insurance company. He is a native of Brownwood.

He was nominated for the post by a district school committee of members of the West Texas State Teachers association at a meeting July 5.

The committee secured petitions for his nomination from the 24 counties of the district. The election will be held Nov. 8.

Crater Is Enlarged By Wild Gas Well

MARSHALL, Sept. 6 (AP) — A wild gas well continued to spew water, mud and sand high into the air today, enlarging its crater which already has swallowed $65,000 worth of drilling equipment.

The test well, in a river bed 18 miles north of here, blew out about 8:30 a. m. Sunday.

Ed Stanley, chief engineer of the oil and gas division of the Texas Railroad commission field office at Kilgore, said he would visit the well today to determin what could be done.

Sheriff Joe Riggs of Marion county said the well continued to roar with unabated activity, deepening its big crater.

Highway patrolmen have blockaded the area.

The gas test is the Dallas No. 1 black cypress. It is on a 67.93-acre state lease about two miles northeast of Jefferson. The geysering gas broke loose when the gas test reached 380 feet. Drilling of the gas test began last Friday. It was supposed to go to 11,500 feet.

30 Injured In Auto Crashes

Two accidents Monday night resulted in injuries to three and brought the area's injured toll for the three-day Labor Day holiday to 30 from a total of 31 wrecks.

Stuart Vassery, 21, of 3901 Twenty-first, was treated for cuts and bruises at West Texas hospital Monday night after the car in which he was riding collided with another car at College Ave. and Nineteenth.

Collision At Post

W. R. Longshore, 83, and Mrs. Glenn Norman, about 25, were treated for minor injuries at the Post clinic shortly after 6 p. m. when their automobiles collided head-on in front of the Post High school building.

Meanwhile, two Lubbock Latin Americans remained in hospitals today recovering from injuries sustained Sunday night when the car they were riding smashed into the rear of a parked truck on Ave. Q near College.

St. Mary's hospital attendants said Patsy Olalde, 19, of 119 Ave. R, was recovering satisfactorily after undergoing an operation to raise a piece of her skull to relieve pressure on the brain.

Victims Improving

Manuella Rodriguez, 19, whose throat was cut from ear to ear in the accident, was reported to be resting well today at Lubbock Memorial hospital.

Denver City hospital attendants today reported Mrs. M. A. Powell and Ralph Weed were showing improvement of injuries suffered Saturday night in an accident five miles west of Denver City. Powell and Weed's wife were reported in "good" condition.

The car in which the two couples were riding collided with an automobile driven by I. H. Hill of Wellman. His condition was said to be satisfactory.

Two Lubbock Officials Join Group In Dam Project Talks

Two Lubbock officials took off this morning for Albuquerque, N. M., to join officials of three other cities in urging Sen. Clinton P. Anderson, of New Mexico, to withdraw his opposition to U. S. Senate action on the proposed Canadian river water conservation project.

City Commissioners Clarence Whiteside and E. K. Hufstedler will represent Lubbock. Whiteside is chairman of the committee representing 11 South Plains-Panhandle cities urging construction of the project.

Officials Are Listed

Others scheduled to confer with Senator Anderson are Mayor C. A. Huff, of Pampa, vice chairman of the committee; Joe Cooley, manager of the Borger chamber of commerce, secretary, and Judge Marvin Jones, former congressman and chief justice of the U. S. court of claims, Washington, D. C., Rex Baxter, manager of the chamber of commerce, and Lawrence Hagy, former mayor, all of Amarillo.

The bill authorizing the Canadian project has been approved by the U. S. House of Representatives but has been bottled in committee in the U. S. Senate by the refusal of Senator Anderson to join in the unanimous consent necessary to secure its consideration there. He said he wanted to be sure New Mexico's interests would be portected if the proposed project should be authorized.

Passage Is Seen

Supporters of the undertaking have expressed confidence that Senate passage of the bill is assured if Senator Anderson can be persuaded to withdraw his opposition.

The $85,000,000 project includes a dam and reservoir on the Canadian river at Sanford, northeast of Amarillo, and a pipeline system to supply water to 11 Plains-Panhandle cities.

Hubs Split Pair At Amarillo

Lamesa Holds Fourth Spot

(By The Associated Press)

A flip of a coin today will decide who wins second place in the West Texas-New Mexico baseball league as the teams prepare for the play-offs.

The Abilene Blue Sox dropped a double-header to the first-place Albuquerque Dukes last night in the final games of the regular season. The scores were 8-4 and 5-4. The losses skidded Abilene into a tie with Amarillo.

Amarillo won one and lost one against Lubbock. The Hubbers took the first game 13-3. Amarillo won the nightcap 15-12. Lamesa finished in fourth place after spliting a twin bill with Clovis. Lamesa won the opener 12-2. Clovis copped the second 7-6 after one extra frame.

Borger and Pampa split. Pampa won the first round 12-11. Borger won the nightcap 14-8. Jack Venable hit three homers for Borger in the first game.

At Amarillo, Gold Sox Hurler Eddie Jacome won one and lost one. Jacome was loser in the opener, then came in to relieve Paul Halter in the second game to get the win credit.

Scrimmage Features Hard Session Monday

Westerners Speed Workouts For Opening Clash Sept. 16

A hard drill Monday marked the continuation of football workouts for the Lubbock Westerner football squad, and daily practices will be held in the afternoon now that school is in session.

The squad is expected to speed drills in preparation for the first game here on September 16, against Childress, under the direction of Coaches Pat Pattison, Bill Floyd and Fred Taylor.

The injured members of the team — Douglas Wienke and Wayne Noland — were back at work and seemed to be in good shape. Noland's nose appears to be mending nicely, and Wienke was able to move around much better on his ankle which was sprained. A few minor ailments failed to slow up the team as a whole.

Following a period of exercises, the team ran dummy scrimmage for a while and boned up on some new plays that have been introduced to speed up the offensive.

Still rated as the number one backfield is the combination composed of Bob Brown, quarterback; Wayne Stroud, left halfback; and Charlie Williams, right halfback; and Malcolm Young, fullback.

All are speedy boys, and Stroud is particularly adept at finding his way through a defensive backfield, following blockers well and sidestepping nicely. Young and Williams rely on speed more than anything else, but each of the boys is hard to stop.

Brown has taken the T-formation in stride, and is very deceptive on handoffs and faking, handling the ball like a veteran. His passes still need a little polish, but they are hard and to the point on most occasions.

In the line Monday afternoon Dean White and Billy Wright were looking good on defense, and Bob Newell was a hard man to move from his guard post. He and Deverle Henslee were in on many tackles.

The team will continue its workout after school the remainder of the season, with practices around 4 p. m. All practice sessions are closed to the public.

Longview Is Winner In East Texas Loop

(By The Associated Press)

The Longview Texans are the first place winners in the 1949 East Texas league baseball race as the teams rest up today for the play-offs opening tomorrow.

Longview clinched first place in the standings last night by winning the second game of a day-night twin bill from the Marshall Browns 5-4. Marshall won the opener 6-5.

Marshall won the opener with a squeeze play in the ninth. A single by Lew Morton in the sixth gave Longview the nightcap.

Gladwater and Paris split a double-header, the Bears winning the opener 7-6 and the Panthers copping the second game 7-5. L. D. Meyer tallied the winning run in the final frame of the opener for Gladewater. Bill Sunblad's long fly scored Bill Weeks with the winning counter for Paris in the second game.

Kilgore defeated Henderson 6-3 in the first game yesterday. A. B. Cross' homer with one aboard in the ninth gave Henderson the second game 7-6.

Tyler and Bryan also split a double-header yesterday. Tyler won the first game 8-5. Bryan copped the nightcap 12-7. Al Kaiser hit a three-run homer for Bryan in the opener and a home run in the fourth frame of the second game.

Al Allison Winner In Levelland Meet

LEVELLAND, Sept. 6 (Special) —Al Allison today held the championship of the first annual Levelland Country club golf tournament.

Allison defeated Dub Nance, 2 and 1, Monday in the 18-hole finals of the three-day meet, the first golf tourney staged here since a 1931 sand greens tournament which also was won by Allison.

In this year's tournament, Sam Wood and Leon Long were co-medalists, each firing a 74 in the qualifying round.

The California Bears went through 54 football games during 1920-25 without a defeat. There were four ties in the string.

PLAYER SUSPENDED

DALLAS, Sept. 6 (AP) — Austin Shortstop Fred Campbell was out $50 and indefinitely suspended from baseball today. Big State League President J. Walter Morris punished Campbell yesterday, saying the player pushed an umpire in the Austin-Temple game at Temple Sunday night.

In 1916, Georgia Tech eked out a 222-0 decision over Cumberland, largest score ever made in a collegiate football game.

WILLIAMS WINS MEET

BIG SPRING, Sept. 6 (AP) — Plainview's Jack Williams won the 18th annual Big Spring invitational golf tournament yesterday, defeating Marion Pflueger of Austin, 4 and 3. Williams succeeds Bill (Red) Roden of Odessa, who didn't play this year.

Forest Peters, playing for Montana State in 1924, dropkicking 17 field goals in one game.

Lamesa Fight Card Re-Set

LAMESA, Sept. 6 (Special) — Lamesa Junior Chamber of Commerce officials will try again tonight to hold their 32-round boxing card at the Lamesa Rodeo grounds.

Rain washed out the scheduled fight card Labor Day night, but it was scheduled immediately for Tuesday night at 8 and an even larger crowd is expected tonight than was on hand last night.

Bouts Held Up

The card never had a chance to get started. Rain began half an hour before fight time and continued intermittently for over an hour. With boxers ready to go, officials held up all bouts with the hope that the clouds would clear.

But when an hour passed and there was no sign of a break, the fights, headlined by Bill Henderson and Trinidad Perez in the 10-round main event, were postponed. Ten minutes after the arena had been cleared, the moon came out.

James To Fight

There will be no change in the card tonight, with Henderson and Perez paired in the main event. The former is a fine young lightweight from Levelland and Texas Tech. The latter is a good scrapper from Mexico City, Mexico. In the semi-final, a six-rounder, Gene James of Lubbock will face Al Sullivan of Dallas. It should be a good heavyweight scrap.

Three four-round fights are scheduled before the main vents. Billy Brackeen of Slaton goes against Charley Neff of Petersburg in a South Plains scrap between featherweights. Leonard Duncan of Hale Center, a promising middleweight, faces Al Wall of Dallas. And Don Livingston of Borger, another lightweight, will meet an opponent as yet not named.

Meet For Second Time

Henderson and Perez will be meeting for the second time. In a recent Lubbock bout, Henderson scored a unanimous decision and had Perez on the canvas, but could not get a knockout. Both fighters feel that the second meeting will be better. Henderson is looking for a knockout, while Perez is equally sure that he can whip Henderson.

James has scored nine consecutive knockout victories and will be seeking his tenth against Sullivan. Sullivan is another promising heavy and will be in better condition than most of the fighters James has been meeting. It should be one of the best scraps on the card.

The other fighters are mainly boys from the South Plains and are capable of giving crowd-pleasing performances.

Tickets still are on sale at drug stores in Lamesa and drive in restaurants in Lubbock. Ringside tickets sell for $3.60 each, reserved seats for $2.40 and general admission for $1.50.

Midland Nine Splits Bill With Ballinger

(By The Associated Press)

The Midland Indians and the San Angelo Colts are locked in a bitter battle for third and fourth places in the Longhorn league baseball race as the season draws to a close.

Midland split a double-header last night with Ballinger. Midland won the first game 6-4. Ballinger took the second 4-0. Ernie Nelson hurled both games for the Cats.

San Angelo and Odessa also split. Odessa whitewashed the Colts in the opener 6-0. The Colts won the second contest 6-5. Frank Mormino hit a home run in each game for Odessa.

Vernon and Roswell also divided a twin bill. Roswell trounced the Dusters in the opener 13-1. Vernon won the nightcap in ten innings with a five-run rally in the final frame.

Big Spring broke even with Sweetwater. The Swatters copped the first game 6-3. The Broncs won the second 3-2.

Big Spring maintained its 18 game lead over Vernon. Midland and San Angelo are tied for third and fourth places, 22 games behind Big Spring.

Lubbock Team Loses

Beamers Lose Tourney Tilt

GREELEY, Colo., Sept. 6 (Spl.) —Members of the Lubbock Blue-bonnet-Sunbeamer softball team will watch other National Softball Congress teams play today, the Texans drawing a rest until Wednesday night at 8:30.

When they do return to the diamond, it will be like old times. They will play the winner of the Crane-Stamford game. All three are members of the Texas Softball League. Lubbock beat Stamford in the playoffs, but lost to Crane, a team that has beaten them nine times this year.

Drop First Game

Last night the Blue-Beamers dropped their first game in this double elimination tournament. The loss dropped them into the loser's bracket along with Crane, Stamford and El Paso, as well as other teams.

Salt Lake City was the villain in the piece, A team that has lost only two games in the past four years turned in a 2-0 whitewash over Kenny Scott and the Blue-Beamers, despite the fact that the Lubbock entry had meen on base in almost every inning.

Salt Lake City won the game in the fifth stanza. Rod Knight and Doug Borg, the latter the winning pitcher, singled in succession. An infield out moved them up a base and Knight came in on John Gee's single and Borg scored on Floyd Moss' bingle.

That was all the scoring in a tight game. Both Scott and Borg fanned six men in weather that was cool on the cold side.

Last night Toronto, Can., bumped Crane 6-0, with Red Denham failing to be much of a mystery to the Canadians. El Paso followed with a heartbreaking 1-0 loss to Taft, Calif., the defending champions, in a 13-inning contest. Sunday, Salt Lake City sent Stamford into the loser's bracket with a 4-0 licking.

Spudders Finish In First In Big State

(By The Associated Press)

The Wichita Falls Spudders wound up on top of the Big State baseball league standings as the season ended last night.

Texarkana finished second, Austin third and Waco fourth, rounding out the play-off brackets.

Wichita Falls won both ends of a double-header last night against Gainesville 9-3 and 12-0. The Spudders tallied six runs in the fourth and won handily in the first contest. Six Spudder tallies in the fifth frame of the second game iced that contest.

Texarkana clinched second place by winning a double-header from Sherman-Denison 5-3 and 19-2. Jim Matthews hit a three-run homer to spark the Bears to the opening victory. Bill Sinton hit a three-ply homer in the second frame of the nightcap for the Bears.

Austin dumped Temple twice 2-1 and 11-10. Jim Godfrey won a tight pitchers duel from Bill Bohne in the opener. Wade Tate's homer and a timely grounder by Al Lawrence gave the Pioneers their runs. Austin scored ten runs in the first three frames of the second game.

Waco and Greenville split. Greenville took the first game 8-6, while Waco won the second 12-7. Ira Glass' double in the sixth won the opener for Greenville. Waco tallied six runs in the eighth to take the second game.

TECH GRIDDERS IMPRESSIVE

Red Raiders Hold Rough Scrimmage

Abilene Christian college had better be ready for action Saturday night, if the Texas Tech football drill yesterday was any indication of things to come.

The Red Raiders, under a glowering sky that eventually sprinkled the players lightly, turned in their most impressive showing to date — and on the fourth day of practice. Coach Dell Morgan watched two offensive squads rip defensive teams apart to stage marches down the field for touchdowns.

Blocking Is Improved

Bill Lyman and Milton Rathbone sparked the clubs from the quarterback position, mixing running plays with passes, both of which were clicking. Most encouraging thing to sideline observors was the improvement in blocking, while the tackling remained sharp.

There were occasional blocking lapses, lapses that allowed ball carrier's to be thrown either on the lone or behind it, but the linemen recovered to open up wide holes on succeeding plays to regain any lost ground with room to spare.

Other players not getting into the scrimmage brushed up on offensive drills at one end of the field, running dummy scrimmage. They are expected to be tested in more scrimmage today.

Players Are Listed

Working on one offensive team were J. B. Mahler at center; Dan Pursel and Milburn Haydon, guards; Marshall Gettys and Jerrell Price, tackles; and Luke Thompson and Elbert Johnson, ends; Rathbone, quarterback; Ike Stuver and Bobby Close, halfbacks; and J. W. Thompson, fullback.

One defensive team consisted of Bob Hix, center; Cotton Martin and Walt Edrington, guards; Henry DeFord and Bobby Broyles, tackles; Bill Sharpley and Lewis Crossley, ends; Eural Ramsey, quarterback; J. O. McClellan and Judson Brawner, halfbacks; and George Worrell, fullback.

The second offensive team consisted of Bobby Williams, center; Bobby Garner and Don Williams, guards; Doug McSwane and Rex Pinson, tackles; Hugh and Dick Jackson, ends; Lyman, quarterback; Tim Hatch and Cal Steveson, halfbacks; and Earl Jackson, fullback.

The second defensive team consisted of Mahler, center; Don Anthony and Dick Cavazos, guards; Jackie Cockburn and DeFord, tackles; Dick Pirtle and Bud Henderson, ends; Ossie Salem, quarterback; Walter Maloney and Bill Barbee, halfbacks; and Thompson, fullback.

Broyles Gains Tennis Crown

AMARILLO, Sept. 6 (Special)— A. J. (Jake) Broyles, of Lamesa and Texas Tech, today was the new men's singles champion of the annual Tri-State tennis tournament.

Broyles won the title Monday by downing R. G. DeBerry, Texas A. and M. netter from San Angelo, in the finals, 6-0, 6-4, 0-6, 6-1.

Broyles In Control

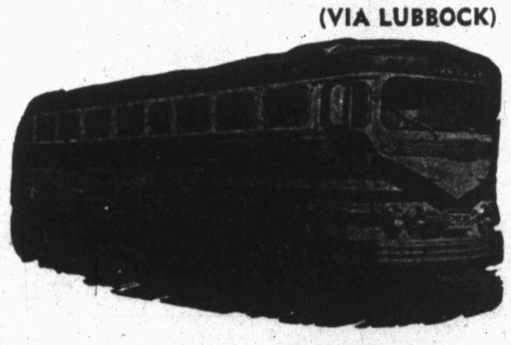

Except for the third set, when DeBerry mustered all his energy in an all-out offensive, Broyles was in command all the way. After the San Angeloan spent himself in his third-set effort, Broyles easily captured the fourth and final set.

Tennis stars from five states participated in the tourney, which is the largest tennis meet held in Northwest Texas.

Cards Split Twin Bill

Dodgers Beat Boston Twice

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

Down the stretch come the New York Yankees and St. Louis Cardinals, clinging desperately to 1½ game leads that tradition says they should hold.

Only five of the last 20 Labor day leaders have failed to make the World Series in the last 10 years . . . But maybe the runnerup Boston Red Sox and Brooklyn Dodgers don't read the record books.

St. Louis lost a game of its lead to the Dodgers yesterday when they split with Pittsburgh while Brooklyn was thumping Boston twice, 7-2 and 13-2.

Munger Gets Win

Red Munger breezed to his 13th win in the Cards' opener as Enos Slaughter drove in five runs in the rout of Murry Dickson, 9-1.

Brooklyn turned the power loose on the weary Braves who now are only one game above the .500 mark. After Joe Hatten was knocked out in the first inning of the morning game, Carl Erskine and Paul Minner contributed 8 2-3 innings of no-hit relief pitching for the edge over Warren Spahn. Preacher Roe tied the National league strikeout high for the year whiffing 11 in the lopsided second game 13-2.

The soaring Phillies extended their win streak to six games by dumping the New York Giants, 9-7 and 4-2. Del Ennis' homer and three singles helped Dutch Meyer best Dave Koslo in the second game after a four-run rally in the ninth gave Ken Heintzelman the nod over reliefer Adrian Zabala in the opener.

Cincinnati trimmed Chicago, 7-3, in the first game with a four-run knockout blast against Dutch Leonard in the ninth. Johnny Schmitz stopped the Reds in the second, 7-2.

All Leaders Win

All four first divison clubs swept doubles in the American, leaving the Yanks' lead safe at 1½ games. New York blasted Philadelphia, 13-4 and 5-2, while the Red Sox ran over Washington 5-2 and 12-2.

Mel Parnell earned his 21st win in Boston's 5-2 opening triumph, although nicked for 11 hits. Bobby Doerr's 17th homer off Sid Hudson started the Sox on their way. They cut loose with a 16-hit attack in the second, including Vern Stephens 36th homer. Walt. Masterson, an ex-Senator, silenced his old mates with seven hits.

Cleveland took a pair from Chicago, 5-3 and 6-4.

Dallas Downs Indians, 10-5

(By The Associated Press)

The home run king of the Texas league, Jerry Witte of Dallas, slammed his 48th circuit wallop of the year last night as Dallas downed Oklahoma City 10-5. But Shreveport swept a twin bill from San Antonio 2-0 and 7-2 and moved into a fourth-place tie with the Eagles.

Six More Games

Witte has six more games in which to hit seven homers that would tie him with Clarence Kraft's Texas league record. Kraft hit 55 homers for Fort Worth in 1924.

Shreveport now sports a schedule advantage over Dallas in the battle for the last place in the play-offs. Dallas moves to Fort Worth for three games with the first-place Cats, while the Sports begin a three-game series with the lowly Houston Buffs tonight.

Dallas' second game with Oklahoma City last night was called at the end of the ninth frame, because of darkness, with the score tied 0-0. Ben Guintini of Dallas and Grant Dunlap and Randy Jackson of the Indians also homered in the opener.

Wyse Gets Win

Hank Wyse hurled three-hit ball for Shreveport to whitewash the Missions in the opener. Les Burge's home run was the big blow in the Sports' attack in the nightcap.

Fort Worth and second-place Tulsa split a twin bill. Fort Worth won the opener, 3-2. The Oilers won the second game 17-4. The split clinched first and second place in the final standings for the teams.

Beaumont and Houston split a double-header. Houston won the first game 6-2. Beaumont came back to take the nightcap 4-1.

Los Angeles Eleven Beats Bulldog Team

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 6 (U.P.) — Bobby Layne came back to Texas last night, but his famous passes were not quite enough to offset the power of the Los Angeles Rams.

The Rams defeated Layne and the New York Bulldogs, 21 to 14, in an exhibition game witnessed by 18,452 fans last night at Alamo Stadium.

Layne, former University of Texas All-America, hit his receivers often enough but the Californians' were strong near the goal line and New York had to score both touchdowns on the ground.

Bob Waterfield passed for two Ram touchdowns and kicked all three extra points. Tommy Kalmanir scored the other Los Angeles touchdown on a 102-yard run.

SELBY WINS TITLE

TYLER, Sept. 6 (AP) — Raleigh Selby took the Willowbrook Country club invitational golf title to Kilgore yesterday. He beat Mike DeCesaro, of Houston, 5 and 4, yesterday.

Between the Lines
by Joe Kelly

It's all over in the West Texas-New Mexico League race except for the Shaughnessy Playoffs. And for the first time in aeons, Lubbock fans are free to forget baseball and get busy on football. It's a new experience for Hubber followers. They aren't used to having an also-ran club here and the experience is a little trying. It seems strange not to have the playoffs to look forward to, but at least Lamesa is in and fans can journey there in a matter of minutes. For that matter, there probably will be a lot of fans taking the junket to our neighbors south of here. Manager Jay Haney has the Loboes playing good ball and they should be interesting to watch.

Right now we'd like to take time off to pay tribute to Haney for the way he has handled his ball club. He has brought along some players who did not look promising and he has evened the unsettled temperment of others. Of course, Dallas has helped him considerably with some choice players, but he had to mold them into a winning unit. He did it, keeping the Loboes just about the .500 mark the better part of the season. And when it came time to make their bid, the Loboes responded. They climbed over Lubbock, Amarillo and Abilene to get into challinging position. Even though they eventually slipped back to fourth, there was plenty of room between them and the second division. It was a nice job and we believe it only fair to give credit where credit is due.

It's been a season of thrills and excitement, of a race that was good right down to the wire. Until Amarillo beat Pampa Sunday, there was doubt that either Pampa or Lubbock would finish out of the first division. And the race wound up with six teams playing .500 or better ball. That's unusual and shows the high intensity of play. The fans won't soon forget those three home runs by Nelson Davis, nor the three in a row earlier in the year by three Hubber players, or Royce Mills' home run that tied up a game against Borger in the last of the ninth, or the 1,000 and one spectacular catches of Al Duarte, the lightening throws of Mike Dooley to second, or a number of other fine performances during the year. We can forget 1949 in whole; M. L. Wilkison and Harry Faulkner will see to it that 1950 is different. Bring on April!

J. C. Bumpass called from Greeley, Colo., last night to give us the results of the Blue-Beamer softball game. In passing, he mentioned that it was cold in Colorado and that the air was a good deal thinner there than here. Queried about the pitchers, he said it was obvious that they couldn't get the breaks on the ball that they got here. He wasn't attempting to alibi the loss. Kenny Scott gave up only four hits, the same number Lubbock collected off Doug Borg, so that had nothing to do with it. But we thought that it was interesting to note that pitchers complained about the rarefied atmosphere in Colorado, for that's the same story you hear when they come from a lower altitude to the West Texas-New Mexico League.

Coach Dell Morgan must have accomplished a lot in the chalk talk Sunday afternoon, for the Red Raider gridmen looked a lot different yesterday. They were starting to do some blocking for the backs and the results were apparent. Earl Jackson, J. W. Thompson, Ike Stuver and several other backs were romping for good gains through the line. And Bill Lyman and Milton Rathbone were chunking some good passes. Both offensive units looked sharper than anything seen so far and the results were pleasing. The important thing is that both offensive units had a sprinkling of less seasoned men in the lineup, while the defensive units also had some old heads to go along with the newer ones. That kind of performance indicates that the Raiders will be hard to beat this fall.

A warning was issued the other day to baseball leagues and clubs by Commissioner A. B. "Happy" Chandler. It all came up over Charles F. Lucas, manager of the Lumberton, N. C., club, who was fired in mid-season. Lucas sued for pay from the day he was cut off through the end of the season. The management denied it and he appealed to George Trautman, president of the National Association, Trautman ruled against him. In a stern letter of rebuke, Chandler proceeded to rule against Trautman and the club. The gist of his remarks was that people have great confidence in baseball and that it is part of baseball's code of integrity to treat men right. Therefore, club owners had best think twice before firing managers because they don't think they're doing a good job—unless they treat them right when they fire them. It was a fair summary and a timely warning. We think that Chandler, for once, hit the nail on the head.

There may be more livewire organizations on the South Plains than the Seminole Booster's club, but we haven't run across them yet. Now there's a group of businessmen who really get what they start out to do done. Their latest venture was the purchase of a $2,400 electric scoreboard for the high school. It will go into operation with the first football game this fall and should serve for many years to come. There was no question in the minds of the club members that they could get the scoreboard. They quietly reached down in their pockets and dug up enough to buy it. Now they're going to have a variety show to five others a chance to help with the expense. If you want real entertainment Wednesday night, you might go to Seminole for the show. It will be held at the football field and the seats are all good.

THE ROUNDUP: The Hubbers wound up with their season for the year exactly—35 victories at home and on the road and the same number of losses at home and on the road . . . Floyd Walker, playing in 54 games, wound up with the best batting average . . . It must have been a riot at Borber last night when Grover Seitz and Ken Sears went to the mound in opposition . . . Waldo Young, told that ticket sales had fallen off while he was in Wichita Falls, replied that "Well, I'm back. Now they'll go up again!" . . . That was a lovely drive we had to Lamesa last night, but no fights! . . . You people having Tech ticket reservations had better hurry and get them before Friday night at 6 . . . Del Morgan picks Hardin-Simmons to finish first, Texas Western second, Arizona third and Tech fourth in the Border Conference football race. Wanna bet?

BORGER GOLFER WINS

PAMPA, Sept. 6 (AP) — Bill Houck of Borger yesterday won the 13th annual Top O'Texas golf championship with a 20-hole 1-up victory over Clary Freeman of Shamrock, Tex.

Several new cement companies have been financed, and are being built, in Spain.

New Rule Will Aid Long Punt Returns

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, Sept. 6—It won't happen often—probably won't happen at all—but this fall it will be possible for a punt-receiver to carry that pigskin more than 109 yards for a touchdown.

Under a new rule a punt can be taken behind the goal line and run out. The safety man doesn't have to do it; he can let it go and it will be a touchback. But he does have the option of carrying it out.

From the goal line to the end zone is 10 yards. The punt-receiver would have to take the ball inside the end zone. So he could be an inch inside and still run the punt out. If he went all the way it would be a run of 109 yards, two feet and 11 inches.

SWC Gridders In Workouts

(By The Associated Press)

Labor day was just another practice day for Southwest conference football teams.

Texas A&M began three-a-day sessions yesterday, with the addition of a night workout.

Will Test Knee

Co-Captain Bobby Goff, senior right halfback who underwent a knee operation last month, rejoined the squad. The knee will be tested in scrimmage this week.

Southern Methodist lost a promising tackle for several days, at least. Jack Adkisson hurt his ankle running through plays yesterday, Coach Matty Bell put the Ponies through two long drills, partly to work out muscle soreness.

Baylor Bears Pose

The Baylor Bears spent part of the day posing for photographers and looking tough for reporters.

Two workouts kept the Texas Longhorns puffing. Coach Blair Cherry kept them concentrating on offensive drills. Meanwhile, Cherry was feeling cheerful about an unexpected find—Newell Kane, a junior from Palestine who looks like he might make a first-class fullback. Cherry said Kane looked fine to him in Saturday's drills.

Fort Wayne To Clash With Colorado Team

WICHITA, Kan., Sept. 6 (U.P.) — The Fort Wayne, Ind., General Electrics will meet the undefeated Golden, Colo. Coors Brewers tonight in the finals of the 15th national baseball congress here.

Fort Wayne, the defending champion, moved into the finals last night with a 4 to 0 shutout of the Elk City, Okla. Elks.

The 1947 and 1948 titalists capitalized on two singles, a triple a walk and an error to go into a four run lead in the second inning of the semi-final contest and southpaw Frank Ververka held the Elks scoreless with a four-hit pitching performance.

Gonzales Tops Ted Schroeder

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Sept. (AP)—Richard (Pancho) Gonzales of Los Angeles still is the amateur tennis champion of the United States—but it is extremely doubtful that Pancho will remain an amateur very long.

At the moment, Pancho isn't talking. He's too happy over the amazing comeback he made in the finals of the national tournament yesterday to discuss his plans for the future.

Pancho Stages Rally

Two sets down and facing what appeared to be certain defeat, the 21-year-old champion brought his game to a peak and overhauled Ted Schroeder of La Crescenta, Calif., 16-18, 2-6, 6-1, 6-2, 6-4.

That uphill triumph, achieved before a screaming throng of 13,000, probably will be worth a great many thousand dollars to Pancho in the years to come.

In the stands, watching his every move, were Jack Kramer and Bobby Riggs, who have made no secret of the fact they want new blood for the professional tour they will undertake next year.

Even if he never comes back to Forest Hills as an amateur, the folks hereabouts will remember Pancho's battle with Schroeder for a long time.

Gil Hall Wins

The two Californians fought through 32 games of the opening set without a service break. Then Schroeder cracked through in the 33rd and held on in the 34th to wrap it up.

The set, which lasted an hour and 18 minutes and required a total of 205 points, was the longest ever played in a U.S. championship final.

When Schroeder raced through the second set in 16 minutes most of those looking on wouldn't have given a plugged nickel for Pancho's chances, but when Ted chose to relax in the third set Gonzales got his foot in the door. And the 28-year-old Wimbledon titlist never got the jump again.

Mrs. Margaret Osborne Dupont of Wilmington, Del., completed a successful defense of the women's title by whipping Doris Hart of Jacksonville, Fla., 6-4, 6-1, in the final.

The veterans' title went to Gil Hall of New York for the sixth straight year. He defeated Wilmer Allison of Austin, Tex., 6-3, 6-2.

OFFICERS SEARCH FOR WOMAN

Bride-To-Be's Disappearance In Kansas Remains A Mystery

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 6 (U.P.) — The whereabouts of Miss Ratha Nixon of Ogallah, Kan., who was to be married at Buckner, Mo., Saturday night, remained a mystery today, more than 24 hours after she disappeared from a train which was bringing her to Kansas City.

At her home at Ogallah, a small community 10 miles west of Ellis, her father, Francis E. Nixon, said shortly before noon today that he had heard nothing from her.

Officers Searching

"She had about $50 in her purse," Nixon said.

The father said that Miss Nixon, a 22-year-old University of Missouri journalism student, had been extremely happy about her forthcoming marriage to Russell Johnson, 23, of near Independence, Mo., an agriculture student at the University of Missouri.

The city police of Kansas City, Topeka and Lawrence, railroad officers and the Kansas state highway patrol were aiding in the search. Young Johnson was driving the roads in eastern Kansas in the slim hope of finding a trace of Miss Nixon.

Was With Sister

But none of the law agencies had even a vague hint as to her whereabouts. At the Johnson home, it was said no word had been received there, either.

Miss Nixon disappeared with an overnight zippered bag from her luggage and with her purse. Miss Pauline Nixon, sister of the bride-to-be, arrived on the Union Pacific train yesterday morning, to report that her sister had disappeared. They boarded the train at Ellis at 3 a. m. It arrived here at 8:55 a. m., more than an hour late.

The sister said that Ratha appeared undisturbed when she last saw her, sitting in the women's compartment reading a magazine.

RECORD-BREAKING DEATH TOLL REPORTED IN U. S.

(By The Associated Press)

The nation today grimly counted a record-breaking accidental death toll for the three-day Labor day holliday.

The full count of fatalities was not yet tabulated but the nearly 500 persons who lost their lives in accidents over the extended holiday was the largest for any Labor day weekend in history.

Above Council Estimates

The highways took the heaviest toll. Of the 499 persons killed in violent accidents, 374 lost their lives in automobile mishaps. The traffic total was nearly 100 above the estimated 280 probable death toll made by the National Safety council. Forty five persons drowned and 80 died in accidents of miscellaneous causes.

The fatalities in an Associated Press survey covered the period from 6 p. m. (local time) Friday to midnight Monday.

This year's Labor day total compared with te previous high of 428 over the 1937 Labor day holiday. The record-breaking toll for a Labor day weekend followed the all-time high in accidental deaths over the 1949 Fourth of July when 711 persons died violently. The all -time mark is the 761 fatalities over the four-day Christmas period of 1936.

Deaths By States Listed

Some 30,000,000 automobiles crowded the nation's highways, the safety council estimated, as the nation observed the final holiday weekend of the summer season. Weather generally was fair.

Plane crashes figured in the fatalities. Included in the plane deaths was Bill Odom, the famous round-the-world flier, who crashed in the Thompson trophy air race at Cleveland. Four persons were killed in a plane crash in Arizona.

Shirley May

give up, the plucky American girl conquered a brief spell of nausea and kept right on swimming with her long methodical strokes.

Six miles out the tide which had been buffeting her changed giving her a boost toward the English coast. When she reached the eight-mile point, observers estimated she still had four more hours of favorable tide ahead of her.

Channel boats tooted encouragement as she ploughed ahead. Occasionally she looked up and smiled at the watchers in the boats beside her.

Message From Mother

Shirley's mother in Massachusetts sent her this message:

"Don't give up. I know you'll make it. We're all listening, waiting and wishing you the best of luck. And we're praying for you." The message was relayed to her by the Associated Press which has a boat accompanying the swimmer.

Earlier her father, J. Walter France, asked her if she wanted to give up. Shirley May replied with a brief "na-a" and continued churning the water. She used an Australian crawl making 24 strokes to the minute.

Fatigue and the cold chanel waters make the last part of the crossing the hardest. In all 28 distance swimmers have spanned this treacherous stretch of water separating France and England.

America's Gertrude Ederle holds the speed record for women. She crossed in 14 hours and 34 minutes on Aug. 6, 1926.

Shirley May entered the channel of Cap Gris Nez at 5:25 a. m. (11:25 p. m. EST Monday). Her first battle was with adverse tides.

Daily MARKETS

Stock Market

MARKET ON DECLINE

NEW YORK, Sept. 6 (AP) — The stock market went into a slow and orderly decline today.

Final prices were bottom for the day in most cases.

In only a few cases did losses exceed a full point. Selling orders were never very urgent and a liberal sprinkling of leading shares remained at last week's final levels or improved a bit.

Barnsdall Oil was a weak spot, as it was Friday. The price dropped after announcement of plans to merge the company with Ogden Corp., a subsidiary of Atlas Corp., both of them investment trusts.

American Telephone was a little more active than usual, with sales made at a gain of around ⅜ point.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Sept. 6 (AP) — Cotton futures, following a hesitant but steady start, improved in subsequent dealings today. The firm undertone was attributed to trade price fixing some of which was said to be for textile mill account. Hedging pressure was light and part of this was associated with a return of unfavorable weather to the eastern cotton belt where it was interferring with the movement of new crop cotton.

Cotton futures closed strong at the day's best levels. Textile mill buying was aggrassive encountering only limited offers. Short covering was also attracted and moving the market higher. Futures closed 60 cents to $1.30 a bale higher than the previous close.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Sept. 6 (AP) — Grains pushed higher today under the leadership of the nearby contracts in wheat and corn. Wheat advanced a better cash basis at Minneapolis and buying of cash wheat by mills. Some short covering also aided the advance.

Corn also was affected by the cash market. Spot dealers reported bookings on a to-arrive basis at 56,000 bushels, and said that the bulk of the receipts today applied on previous contracts. Offerings of old and new crop corn are said to be very light.

At the close wheat was 1¾ higher to ⅜ lower, September $2.05. Corn was unchanged to 2½ higher, September $1.24¾-⅞. Oats were ½ higher to ⅛ lower, September 68½.

Westerners Sized Up For Optimists By Coach Pattison

Westerner Coach Pat Pattison today told members of the Optimist club that the Fort Worth Star-Telegram has "given us the kiss of death by labeling Lubbock for the number spot in the state high school Class AA football race."

Referring to George Kellam's article in Tuesday morning's edition of the Fort Worth newspaper, Pattison said he hoped his team can live up to the advance billing.

Backfield Tops

"But how could Kellam pick us for the top spot when he hasn't even seen us," asked Pattison in his informal talk at the luncheon meeting in Hotel Lubbock.

"Of course, he did talk to Joe Coleman at Odessa about us," Pattison said, "and I bet Joe is rolling in the deep grass laughing his head off."

But Coach Pattison does believe the Westerners rate the top spot in two departments—"spirit and enthusiasm."

In referring to his backfield, Pattison said it was above average in speed, passing and punting "and can hold its own with any backfield in the state."

Line Short On Speed

However, in describing his big line, he put a damper on Mr. Kellam's predictions. "The line is below average in speed," he commented without moaning, "and some of our linemen are too big. But we do have an abundance of extra large boys," he added.

Pattison predicted that a better brand of football will witnessed by District 3-AA fans this year. "Not a team in the district is a pushover," he said. He also warned that Lamesa has a powerful line this year.

G. C. Stewart presided and Bill Davis was program chairman.

Paul Robeson

second anti-Robeson riot in the area within eight days.

The dsitrict attorney, commenting on the fact that the heavy police force prevented any serious disorder before and during the concert on an abandoned golf course, said:

"There would have been mass killing if they hadn't kept control at the danger center in the concert area. Even with 200 more officers, we couldn't have protected all the roads."

Officers took more than 200 baseball bats from Robeson sympathizers before the concert, Fanelli said.

Police also seized some bayonets and rifle bolts from among 4,000 veterans and other anti-Robersonites who staged a noisy protest parade in front of the concert grounds.

Vincent J. Boyle, head of the Associated Veterans committee which sponsored the portest demonstration, said yesterday that Robeson "storm troopers" were to blame for the disorders.

Boyle said Robeson had promised in advance that he would provide his own portection, and that he brought along 3,000 persons for that purpose.

No Racial Issues

"The Ku Klux Klan was not active in either riot," Boyle said. And there were no racial issues involved."

One of those injured Sunday was on the danger list at New Haven, Conn., hospital today. He is Daniel Fine, 25, of New York City, a Yale medical school student. The hospital reported, however, that his condition was "fair."

Fine suffered a broken upper jaw and severe facial cuts and bruises when hit by a hurled stone as he was attending the concert. He was taken to the hospital in an ambulance early yesterday after treatment by a doctor near the riot scene.

Author Howard Fast, chairman of the concert, said at the singer's news conference that Robeson would sing again in the Peekskill area "whenever the people desire." No new concert has been scheduled, however.

Robeson announced formation of an "Emergency Committee to Protest the Peekskill Riot" by his followers. He said the group will be formed "all through the United States."

Sundown Man Dies At Fort Worth Hospital

FORT WORTH, Sept. 6 (Special) —Frederick H. White, 75, of Sundown, died of a heart ailment here Monday in a Fort Worth hospital.

He became ill while visiting a daughter, Mrs. E. B. Ramfield.

Survivors include three other daughters, Mmes. S. W. Cade and James Griggs of Sundown and B. F. Knutson of Fort Worth, and a son, Edwin B. White of Albany, Calif.

White was a retired farmer, formerly of Bonham.

Dentist Testifies In Unusual Case

Oklahoma Man Successfully Defends His False Teeth Against Neighbors' Claims

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 6 (U.P.) —False teeth belong where they fit.

So ruled a justice of the peace today in the case of Fred Humphrey, 75, who went to court in defense of his dentures, upper and lower.

The decision was a kick in the teeth to Mr. and Mrs. William Ledick, who claimed the choppers in a replevin action. They said they were trying to sell them to Humphrey last month, but he put them in his mouth and wouldn't open up again.

Couldn't Identify Teeth

The bite went out of the Ledick's argument when they couldn't identify the teeth. Humphrey had 'em in his mouth anyway.

The grey-haired defendant pulled out his plates and flashed them before the judge, Willis Stark.

"I've got a mark on the uppers—right here," he showed Stark. "And the lowers go with 'em." He clicked them together for proof.

Humphrey said his teeth were stolen from his room last month. A few days later, he said, the Ledicks, who are neighbors, came up and tried to sell him his own biters for $50. He picked them out of a dozen sets, he told the judge —'I know my own teeth."

Dentist Aids Case

He had good support from Dr. John A. Lewis, the dentist who made the teeth.

"They're made for each other," Lewis testified. 'Anybody could see that. I remember the impression—every mouth looks different."

"They're his teeth or he couldn't wear them," the dentist insisted. "Nobody can wear anybody else's teeth."

Lewis qualified as an expert on false uppers and lowers. He wears some himself. The judge, who doesn't, took his word for it.

"If they're his teeth, we'll have to let him keep them," he ruled.

Weather

Sudan .25 and Lockney .35.

No rain was reported at Anton, Crosbyton, Lamesa, Post or Snyder. Only a light sprinkle was received at Tahoka.

Summer was making a brave September stand over Texas today and the weather bureau in Dallas foresaw more heat for at least the next 24 hours, the United Press said.

Skies Generally Fair

There were a few scattered showers in Northwest Texas and along the coast last night and early this morning. However, by mid-morning skies generally were fair over the state.

The forecast indicated partly cloudy with scattered thundershowers in the south portion of East Texas this afternoon and in the south and west portions tonight and tomorrow. Partly cloudy was forecast for West Texas for the next 24 hours with scattered thundershowers tomorrow.

Some of the rainfall reports included Corpus Christi .96 inch; Clarendon .92; and Amarillo .05.

Yesterday's highs included 99 degrees at Laredo and 95 at Dallas with the low maximum of 81 reported at Marfa. Overnight, the low was 62 at Marfa and the high minimum 79 at Galveston.

The big race climaxed a day of record performance. Bill Brennand of Oshkosh, Wis., started it by winning $7,000 and the Goodyear trophy in the midget plane races at an average of 177.3 mph.

Lt. Walter C. Rew of the California Air National Guard followed with a 594.8 mph victory in the Allison trophy dash for air force jets from Indianapolis to Cleveland.

Capt. Bruce Cunningham of the 334th fighter group based at Andrews airbase, Md., then turned the 15-mile Thompson course at an average of 586.1 mph. He last part of his tail assembly near the finish, however, cut one pylong and made an emergency landing.

The three-day show drew an officially reported attendance of more than 170,000 persons.

But Police Refuse To Believe Story

Woman 'Confesses' That She Is Slayer Of Tex Thornton

FORT WORTH, Sept. 6 (U.P.) — A 45-year-old woman who "confessed" to the June 22 Amarillo tourist court slaying of W. A. (Tex) Thornton, today threatened to "go to the next town and confess" after police refused to believe her story.

The woman, an ex-waitress who gave her home as Joplin, Mo., was arrested yesterday on an intoxication charge for the third time in a week.

She called officers to her cell and "confessed" she bludgeoned to death the widely-known oil well explosive expert with an iron pipe because of jealousy.

When police here and at Amarillo refused to believe her story, she promised to go to the next town and "confess."

"It isn't every day that I will kill someone," she retored.

Amarillo officers informed police here that the woman had been booked there many times for drunkenness and they didn't want her.

Federal Court Hears Motions

Motions were being heard by Federal Judge Joseph B. Dooley in a number of cases in U. S. District court here today.

Included in judgments to be taken were four automobiles involved in liquor law violation seizures.

Judge Dooley announced he would hand down a decision later in the term in the motion to dismiss the civil suit of Tighe Woods, housing expediter, versus Miss Erma Pryor and others, a rent control case. Frank Murray, defense attorney, presented a defense plea that the house involved in the case was new construction and had so been classed as such by rent control officials prior to beginning of the construction. The house involved was one moved from the site of the new First Baptist church.

Other motions heard this morning was that of Mrs. Opal F. Brown and others for summary judgment in her suit against the Employers Re-Insurance Corp.

Heard Monday afternoon were:

Wayne D. Howell versus Texas General Indemnity Co. (Defendant's motion to strike certain allegations.)

C. E. Clancy versus B. J. Alsup. (Motion to join Aetna Insurance Co., as party plaintiff.)

J. D. Kee versus George W. Tucker and West Texas Gas Co. (George W. Tucker's motion to remand.)

J. J. Blanchard versus American Automobile Insurance Co. (Defendant's motion to strike.)

Chemical Delinting Co., versus S. B. Jackson and others. (Hearing on several motions, further hearing on continuance.)

The following are set for today's session, which convened at 2 p.m.

Alvin A. Taylor, individually and as next friend versus Ernest B. Featherstone. (Motion to make additional parties and other motions.)

Seminole Boosters Set Show Tonight

SEMINOLE, Sept. 6 (Special)—The Seminole Boosters Club will stage an open air show tonight at 8 o'clock to raise money for an electric score board. The show will take place in the Ted Edwards stadium in an effort to raise $2,400. The funds will be used to purchase a scoreboard for the stadium.

The program will feature the Notables barber shop quartet from Lubbock; Charles McReynolds, Seminole magician; Lola Fay Ervin, Monahans, in a "Betty Hutton" sketch; Lew Lewellyn, Lamesa, piano artist; and, the Slum Town Symphony, a humorous 5-piece band from Lamesa.

The Odessa Boosters Club will present a sketch entitled, "The Girl on the Magazine Cover." This half hour production will be under the direction of Cotton Clover.

"Ox" Jameson, president of the Seminole Chamber of Commerce, anticipates a larg crowd for the performance.

Half Naked Body Of Woman Found On Drifting Boat

CHICAGO, Sept. 6. (U.P.)—The half naked body of a pretty young woman was found lashed to the rigging of a drifting sailboat in Lake Michigan today.

She was identified as Laurel Neitzel, 22, Chicago. Her mother, who made the identification, said that Miss Neitzel left Sunday with three other persons on a sailing vessel. She became hysterical when police sought to learn identity of the others aboard.

Guardsmen said the drifting craft bore the numerals 38-M-477. At Cleveland, Coast Guard headquarters said the number was issued to George A. Vin Sickle of Mt. Clemens, Mich.

Kenneth Foster, chief boatswain's mate at the Coast Guard station here, said the girl was drowned. He said her body was battered badly, apparently by high waves. She wore a striped sweater, but was naked below the waist.

Her body was brought to shore by one of two guard vessels which went to the craft. Foster said the vessel was a 26-foot yawl or ketch.

News Briefs

There they visited Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Ricketts, their son-in-law and daughter who became parents Aug. 29 of a 7-pound 15-ounce daughter they named Mary Helen. Lake and creek fishing was "just so-so." Norris is a turnkey of the police department.

Mass Slayings

"incredible shot."

He said police found an "arsenal of weapons" in the basement of Unruh's home. Knives, guns and other weapons were there "by the dozens" Thompson said.

Little was known of Unruh in the River Road neighborhood. Residents described him as a quiet, rather handsome young man who lived alone and always dressed well in good taste.

After the shootings, police thew a cordon around the neighborhood and undertook a house-to-house search for any dead or wounded who might have been overlooked in the excitement.

"It was just like a battle," said Dominic Latela, 34, who runs a frozen food business at 3216 River Road.

Heard More Shots

"I was in my shop when I heard shots and saw a bunch of children run out of the barber shop," Latela said. "Then one woman came out carrying a child. I took the child from her and rushed him to the hospita. Before I left I heard at least ten more shots."

The child, Thomas Hamilton, died at Cooper hospital.

Eyewitnesses—and there were hundreds of them — likened the peaceful neighborhood to a "scene of war."

And one of those who watched the shootings related how Unruh calmly took time off from his wild barrage to lean from the window of his room and spit.

Thompson said Unruh was regarded as a "Bible bug" and that "he often walked the streets carrying a Bible."

In Unruh's room, police found a well-woren Bible opened at chapter 24 of the Gospel according to St. Matthew, which reads in part:

"And ye shall hear of wars and rumors of wars: see that ye be not troubled; for all these things must come to pass but the end is not yet."

been installed at the Wolffarth school as a temporary measure so that classwork could open. The City Health service will cooperate with the school by inspecting and spraying the outdoor toilets each day.

Installed By Friday

School officials anticipate that the plumbing connections will be installed by Friday, the outdoor toilets being used no more than two or three days.

Classwork will not be conducted in Central Ward school Wednesday, but the superintendent said he expected work to open there Thursday. Opening of classwork there was postponed because steel fire escapes had not been installed.

Classwork opened today in 19 schools.

Figures by schools, with today's enrollment listed first for each school and the first day enrollment last year listed next, follow:

Senior High, 1,318 today, 1,222 last year; O. L. Slaton Junior High, 645 today, 603 last year; J. T. of the dress factory and the Polar Bear ice cream plant on the west side. It burned down an empty, newly remodeled theater, next to the ice cream plant.

The blaze caused heavy damage to the Citizens State bank on the west end of the block and to a garage adjoining the blacksmith shop. Important papers were saved from the bank.

Royse City Fire Chief Cap Dinsmore suffered a badly cut right arm muscle and back injuries when ammonia exploded in the ice cream plant. Volunteer Fireman Welby Sherrill also was hurt in the blast. Dinsmore was sent to a hospital in Dallas, about 34 miles southwest of here.

Mrs. Lloyd Hicks, a spectator, received a hip injury during the confusion. She was sent to a hospital in Greenville, about 20 miles east of here.

Home To Mama Not Like The Old Days

In this marital tiff, the woman ran home to mother, all right—but she came running back with a gun.

Police and the district attorney's office were told that James Carney, a negro of 2106 East Ave. E, narrowly missed death, as a result.

The woman, they were informed, fired two shots from a .45 caliber "thumb-buster" at her husband.

"No telling hat would have happened, but there were no more cartridges in the weapon," the police said.

Jewelry Theft Probe Pushed

Further investigation will be directed today into the recovery Sunday of a large quantity of jewelry at a tourist court near Lubbock, officials said.

The case ties in with the recent arrest of three suspects in the Palace Drug store burglary at 502 East Twenty-fourth, it was related.

Arrested Aug. 20 on charges of that burglary were three men who are still held in jail: Earl Laughry, 24, of 805 College; J. A. Avery, 20, of 3301 Ave. A, and Osby Lois James, 31, of 3308 Ave. H.

Jewelry Found In Cab

Announcement of the jewelry's recovery was belatedly announced Monday night. Sheriff Grady Harrist confirmed reports that it had been recovered in the Berry motel, a half-mile east of Lubbock on the Slaton highway.

The three men held in the Palace Drug store burglary were in a taxicab in which another quantity of jewelry was found.

The latest find—rings, watch bands, fountain pens, and other items,—was wrapped in a towel and stuffed under a wash basin. A pistol previously reported stolen in the burglary was found under the mattress of a bed.

Safe Also Found

Frank Husted, husband of the store owner, had reported then that not all the missing jewelry had been recovered. He estimated rings, watches, clothing and drug sundries taken were valued at $1,000. Value of the latest haul was not known.

Harrist also reported recovery of a 350-pound safe taken from the store. The safe had contained some of the jewelry and the gun found in the tourist court.

The sheriff's department hauled the battered safe from a shallow spot of water in Buffalo Lakes Monday after locating it earlier in the day.

Newsmen, seeking additional information on the case, contacted E. G. Pharr, assistant district attorney.

Pharr said that Laughry, one of the trio charged with the burglary, had given him a signed statement with Laugiry's version of the robbery and the location of the additional loot and the safe.

Laughry, a cab driver, told Pharr that he answered a call on the night of Aug. 19 and was directed by James and Avery to go to the drug store. They broke into the place, he said, and took some of the loot to the tourist court, later returning for another load.

A Saturday night burglary of the Higginbotham-Bartlett Lumber company in Ropesville was rounded up in short order Monday after H. W. Blake, manager, discovered approximately $100 in merchandise had been taken.

Earl Horton and George Eubank, deputy sheriffs, located Thomas Cox, 18, and Nathan Cox, 21, Lubbock brothers, on Nineteenth street after being informed of their location.

Horton and Eubank recovered a quantity of .22 caliber shells and shotgun shells, in addition to several wrenches and screwdrivers taken from the lumber yard. The youths also had a .22 caliber pistol and a rifle, but it was learned the guns had been borrowed.

Charges Are Filed

At Ropesville, Constable Bob Whitlock, arrested Raymond Jones, 17, and Phillips Jones, also 17, no relation, and turned them over to Charlie Bullock, Hockley county sheriff at Levelland.

Burglary complaints were filed in the office of A. F. Odell, Levelland justice of the peace, by Bill Boedeker, Hockley county attorney.

Two of the youths, Thomas Cox and Raymond Jones, signed written statements admitting the burglary. The loot had been hidden in a field near Ropesville, but later was moved to Lubbock, officers said.

Levelland was the scene of the apprehension of the escaped convict from Colorado, Charles Cecil Carter, 40, who was found working as a cook in a cafe at 8 p.m. Monday.

He was taken into custody by Floyd Humphreys, chief deputy sheriff for Hockley county; Raymond Waters, Texas Ranger; and Frank Mitchell, Lubbock county deputy sheriff. Mitchell took Carter to the Lubbock county jail to await return to Colorado.

Lubbock police investigated a breakin reported by Woodrow C. Cates, of 2205 Ave. V, in which $2.95 in change was taken. Cates said their upstairs apartment had been entered by cutting a hole in the screen and opening a window. He fixed time of the burglary between 1:30 and 2:30 p.m.

Loot Found In Yard

Mrs. E. A. Rampy, of 1719 Twenty-first street, gave police a collection of jewelry found in her front yard Monday morning by children playing.

Detectives identified the jewelry as part of loot taken Sunday night from the room of La Nell Workman at 1920 Ave. Q. The items found were six ear screws, a locket and chain, a bracelet, three pens and an honor award.

Poise, Beauty, And Talent Are Required

Miss America Contest Opens With 52 Beauties Signed Up

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 6, (AP)—Fifty-two blondes and brunettes—but no redheads—today begin the annual battle for the Miss America crown and all that goes with it.

For a week the girls will compete in various phases of the contest. And the final judgment on beauty must be on the up and up—no "falsies" or padding in the bathing suits is allowed.

Contestants cannot drink intoxicating liquors or see their boy friends during the contest under the Miss America rules. Each will be chaperoned by a local hostess.

Opens Today

The girls represent 45 states, four big cities, Hawaii, Puerto Rico and Canada. Only three states—Delaware, Idaho and Rhode Island—don't have an entry. New York, Chicago, Philadelphia and Washington each sent an entry.

The pageant opens this afternoon at 3 p. m. with a Mardi Gras parade on the boardwalk. The first preliminary contest is set for tomorrow night at Convention hall. The field will be narrowed to 15 on Saturday night, and from these the new Miss America will be chosen.

During three nights of preliminaries the girls will be judged on their figures in bathing suits, their poise in evening gowns and their talent. Personalities will be assessed by the judges at breakfasts each morning.

Prizes Listed

A $5,000 scholarship goes with the proud title of Miss America. Last year's queen—Bebe Shopp of Hopkins, Minn.,—netted a reported $50,000 during the year for personal appearances. She recently returned from a European tour.

The 14 runners-up will share another $20,000 in scholarships.

Many of the girls gave a preview of their curves yesterday for the benefit of photographers. Some posed with Miss Shopp.

Carol Diane Lampe of Reno, "Miss Nevada," and June Elizabeth Barlow of Bountiful, "Miss Utah," tied for the honor of being the tallest contestant. Both measured five feet, 10 inches.

Miss Barlow, along with Margaret Lynne Munn of Toronto, "Miss Canada," rated as the oldest. Both are 24.

Johnson Will Fly Aboard A Carrier

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6 (U.P.) — Defense Secretary Louis Johnson plans to fly aboard a carrier in a helicopter and to take off in the Navy's land-based P2-V Neptune, it was disclosed today.

It will mark the first time that either a Secretary of defense or a Secretary of navy has made such a flight. It also will be the first time Johnson has been on a carrier at sea.

The secretary will go aboard the carrier off Norfolk, Va., in a "flying windmill" Sept. 26 at the conclusion of the fourth joint civilian orientation conference. The conference will be attended by representatives from industry, education, the press, religion, labor and other walks of civilian life.

The carrier exercises will be the first of three phases of orientation for the top brass of the Army, Navy and Air Force.

Johnson has invited the secretaries of the three armed services and the joint chiefs of staff to go along. However, they will board the carrier by gangplank at the dock.

It will be the first time any of the high command of either the Army or Air Force—except Gen. J. Lawton Collins, Army chief of staff—has been aboard a carrier at sea and watched it conduct operations with combat planes.

Johnson intends later to have the secretaries and chiefs of staff of the three services take rides in a B-36 bomber and a Sherman tank so that the top brass of each service can see what the others' weapons can do.

Champion Is Named By Rivet-Throwers

HARRISBURG, Pa., Sept. 6 (AP) —Get out the record books, boys, here's a new one—and with rivets yet.

Eddie Derr of Middletown, Pa., and Clarence Price, Pittsburgh, teamed up yesterday to win the "national rivet-throwing championship" with heaves of 125 feet.

Derr acted as the pitcher, tossing red-hot rivets to Price, who caught them in a funnel while standing on a four-inch wide steel girder atop a metal tower.

The event was sponsored by the Structural Iron workers (AFL), local 104.

Cab Rate Sky High For Chicago Woman

CHICAGO, Sept. 6 (INS)—Mrs. Marie Pierce, 31, who grandiosely permitted a cab driver to take his pay from her purse, complained to police today that she was out $9,600.

Mrs. Pierce said the money disappeared from her purse when she handed it to an unidentified cab driver with instructions to "take out what I owe you."

She said she had been on a tavern tour.

Mrs. Pierce reported she and her husband own hamburger stands in Chicago. Piece is in Texas on business.

Police Lt. John Cogger said Mrs. Pierce reported she took $12,000 from a safe at her home, and placed it in her purse. She could not remember clearly what happened after she said she allowed the cabbie to take his own fare.

Services Are Held For Slaying Victim

DALLAS, Sept. 6 (AP)—Carolyn Schofield, 20, killed by a spurned suitor, was buried yesterday — three days before she was to have been married.

The pretty brunette secretary was shot to death Friday in the downtown office where she worked. Keith Peterson, 21, Southern Methodist university journalism student, surrendered and said he killed Carolyn after she told him she was going to marry another man.

She was to have been married Wednesday to Eugene Scott, jr.

Peterson, who said he loved Carolyn "so very much," was charged with murder and placed in county jail. The district attorney has asked that he be held without bail.

Ballad Singer Burl Ives Gets Chance To Do Dramatic Role In New Movie "Sierra"

By HOWARD C. HEYN
Associate dPress Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 6—Bearded ballad singer Burl Ives nas added dramatic film roles to his sundry activities as an entertainer. He is also on a diet, which may or may not have anything to do with his new yen to be a serious actor.

Ives has been working days in "Sierra" and flying each night to nearby Lagunda Beach to play the lead in a summer stock presentation of "The Man Who Came to Dinner." He did this part once before, in an upstate New York Straw-hat house, and he's good, too.

Wants Real Parts

Heretofore Ives' film appearances have been as a singer of folk songs. "But I don't want to be just a vaudeville act in a movie," he said. "I want real parts."

He got one, in "Sierra," but Universal-International decided he'd better sing a little also; the picture might sell better.

An Illinois farm boy, Ives got his start in "The Boys From Syracuse" on the New York stage in 1937. He spends three months each year on concert tour, another three months on the nightclub circuit, and the rest of the time in summer stock, radio shows and record sessions. He has made several television auditions, and is looking for a sponsor.

He lives in New York and raises Great Danes and goats in California. The diet has cut him down from over 300 to about 280 pounds. Every day fresh goat's milk is flown to his six-months-old son in New York. And he says his Danes are the biggest of breed.

"They get goat's milk too," he explained.

Has Unusual Role

Edmond O'Brien, in "Dead On Arrival," described his role: "I play a dead man. And the reason I look so dead now is, I'm in every scene. I get poisoned, then I solve my own murder before the poison takes effect. That's a workout."

Songs aren't born in the twinkling of an eye, says Hoagy Carmichael. But he makes it sound almost that easy. "You find a few notes that go together," he said on the "Young Man With a Horn" set, "and the rest gradually fall into place."

"The really good tunes practically write themselves. 'Stardus' was written in a day. That's a good example." Then, after a thoughful moment, he added: "The words, though, didn't come for months."

Actress Has Problem

Phyllis Calvert, the British actress who makes one picture a year in Hollywood, says that as soon as she gets here she stops drinking tea and starts drinking coffee. Doesn't like tea bags.

"But just as soon as I board a ship for England I have to have a cup of tea," she said. "The last time, I asked the stewardess if I could get any tea made without tea bags. She was quite curt. 'Madam,' she said, 'this is an English ship'!"

Keg-shaped Thomas Gomez, for a scene in "The Eagle and the Hawk," tried repeatedly to mount a horse. "I can ride once I'm on the beast," Gomez cried petulanty, "but I need a ladder to climb aboard."

Psychological movies are going to the dogs. Dope at Metro is that Lassie is being readied for a good-dog, bad-dog, Jekyll Hyde role. The collie's stand-in, Laddie, will have to double for him, however, in scenes showing Lassie snarling and biting. Seems Lassie is too well adjusted; he's never been trained to be anything but refined.

Compulsory Teaching Of Religion Banned

BUDAPEST, Hungary, Sept. 6 (AP)—Compulsory teaching of religion in Hungarian schools was abolished by a decree of Hungary's presidential council today. The decree referred to the new constitution of this country which calls for separation of church and state.

A supplemental order of the minister of religion and public instruction said that those parents who still wish religion instruction for their children should notify school authorities before Sept. 15, 1949.

American Military Police In Clashes

FRANKFURT, Germany, Sept. 6 (AP)—American military police exchanged fire with unknown assailants in an apparently bloodless skirmish during the weekend on the Czechoslovakia border.

Constabulary oficers, said an armed vehicle of the U. S. zone border patrol was fired on Friday night. Then an American patrol found itself in what appeared to be an ambush, with heavy fire coming from points near the Czechoslovakia border. The Americans fired back with pistols and machine guns. About 600 shots were exchanged.

The assailants were hidden in a wood inside the American zone. Another American patrol reinforced the first and forced the attackers to flee into Czechoslovakia. The skirmish occurred in the village of Rehau on the border near Hof. German police said that as far as they knew no one was hurt.

Two American Boys Captured By Russians To Get Release

FRANKFURT, Germany, Sept. 6 (AP)—Two American boys seized in the Russian occupation zone of Germany late in July will be released today, it was learned here.

The youths are Warren Oelsner, 20, of Oyster Bay, N. Y., and Peter H. Sellers, 18, of Philadelphia. They were on a bicycle tour of Germany when they were reported seized in a Russian zone town for taking pictures.

Demands Are Made

Oelsner is the son of Edward G. Oelsner, sr., of the U. S. Navigation company. Sellers is the son of socially prominent Lester H. Sellers of Philadelphia.

The Russians have promised to turn the youths over to Amreican officers at Helmstedt, on the British-Soviet zonal frontier west of Berlin.

It was two weeks after the boys disappeared on July 30 that American authorities finally determined they had been arrested by the Russians.

Maj. Gen. George P. Hays, deputy U. S. military governor, wrote twice to Russian authorities demanding the Americans be released.

To Be Sent Home

It had been reported the Russians had attempted to compel American authorities to turn over three Soviet army deserters who fled to western Germany in exchange for the release of Oelsner and Sellers.

American sources here said the boys would be sent home immediately by the U. S. military government.

These sources said they would be reprimanded for their attempt to cross the Russian zone without proper papers and their permits to tour Germany as visitors will be taken away from them.

Oelsner and Sellers arrived in Germany in July after visiting London and Paris. They were to have sailed for home Aug. 2.

They decided on the bicycle tour instead. They set out for the Russian zone after British authorities told them they could not give them a pass to enter Russian-occupied territory.

Leader Of Revolt In Bolivia Is Captured

LA PAZ, Bolivia, Sept. 6 (AP) — The government radio said yesterday Carlos Torres, leader of the fast-collapsing right-wing revolt, had been captured at Sucre.

An Army communique said loyal troops and planes are pursuing remnants of the rebel forces as they flee through the countryside from their fallen strongholds of Potosi and Sucre.

THE QUESTION

THE ANSWERS

MRS. F. R. PICKENS, Robertson, Methodist pastor's wife: "Be economical in all things. I think that what has brought on depressions is spending too much so the individual doesn't have any reserve. It goes into the hands of the financiers when people spend too much and the others are left helpless."

F. J. SNYDER, Wilson, farmer: "Just work. We all have to do our part and if we all do our part and keep working, we can keep earning a living and not have a depression."

MRS. CHESTER HUBBARD, 1815 Ave. K, sculpturer: "By not talking. People are talking themselves into a depression. It would help to avoid one if we wouldn't talk about it."

A. J. RUSHING, 1516 Twenty-sixth, manager of Furr Super market No. 2: "They should watch their spending—be economical—and, too, they should be optimistic in their views, especially in their talk with the public. They should take into consideration that a depression is not necessary. It is more in the opinion of the individual and the individual can prevent it."

MRS. STELLA HEROD, 2817 N. Second, employe at Texas Tech library: "I'll say when things are out of reason, do without them. Just learn to economize. If each individual takes care of his own economy we're not going to have a depression. We should keep buying, but not wastefully."

MRS. C. W. LEVERETT, Hale Center route 1, housewife: "I'll tell you what I think about the farming class. Too few farmers have cows to milk. That is an income every week or two weeks. You not only have milk, but you need a calf crop to dispose of. That would help keep away a depression by giving milk at home and an income from milk and calves. If you can buy your food and pay for your incidentals out of your weekly or monthly income, you will have no depression."

Mothers Advised On Deaf Children

EVANSTON, Ill., Sept. 6 (U.P.)—Experts at Northwestern University say mothers of deaf children should talk to them just as though they could hear.

Dr. Alexander W. G. Ewing and his wife, Dr. Irene Ewing, England's best known authorities on the training of the deaf, visited Northwestern to instruct mothers in the early education of deaf children.

The Ewings, faculty members of Manchester University say the mother of a deaf child should stretch out her arms and say, "Come to Mommy," just as the mother of a normal child would do.

But the deaf child's mother should make sure the child can see her lips.

Plight Of Britain Is Gloomy

Top Diplomats Are To Gather

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6 (AP)—Britain will ask permission to spend Marshall plan dollars anywhere she likes—not just in the United States—as one way out of her financial crisis, officials said today.

Diplomatic authorities said British Foreign Minister Bevin—on his way here for three-power talks on Britain's economic plight—is convinced his country shortly will have to dip into her dwindling reserves for millions of dollars unless Marshall plan policies are relaxed.

Bevin and Sir Stafford Cripps, chancellor of the exchequer, are due in New York tonight aboard the British liner Mauretania for the critical British-American-Canadian financial conference opening tomorrow at the State department.

Leaders Pessimistic

Top diplomats of the three govtnments hope to devise a series of stop-gap measures at these discussions to keep Britain's condition from getting worse. But they are reported pessimistic about finding an immediate formula for solving Britain's long-range problem.

Former Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau, jr., said Britain's basic trouble is that "American industry has achieved such a phenomenal peak of efficiency and productivity" that no country in western Europe can compete with it.

In an article appearing in the Washington Post, Morgenthau said: "It is not that they are less efficient than before, but simply that we have so tremendously increased our own efficiency that they have been outdistanced."

He added that no real solution will be found for Britain's problems until that "fundamental maladiustment which has been developed for many years" has been solved.

Criticism Brushed Off

The former cabinet official brushed off criticism of the British Socialist government as "superficial." The Socialists didn't increase Britain's consumption of goods, he said; all they did was "cut the same pie into a larger number of pieces."

His belief that no simple solution could be found for the situation was echoed by officials planning to take part in the three-power talks.

Canadian Minister of Finance Douglas Abbott—who arrived last night with Minister for External Affairs Lester B. Pearson—told newsmen he hopes "we will be abel to achieve some useful work."

Plumbers' Local Awarded Cup For Best Parade Float

Levelland Girl Crowned Queen Of Labor Day As Hundreds Attend Ceremonies In Lubbock

Doris Laseman of Levelland was crowned Queen of Labor Day here Monday, and reigned over the union holiday celebration which included a mid-morning parade, a barbecue at Mackenzie State park, and a dance Monday night.

The attractive 16-year-old Levelland high school junior was crowned in ceremonies at the barbecue, after enthusiastic plumbers and steamfitters, whom she represented, gave her 3,764 votes, over twice as many as her nearest opponent, Mrs. Opal Pruitt, Electrical queen, who placed second.

Wiggins, Corbin Speak

The Plumbers local also was awarded the silver cup for the best union float in the morning parade. The Ladies Auxiliary to the Electrical local won the gold cup for the best decorated of the non-union floats. The Painters local float placed second and the Typographical union float took third in union competition. No second and third awards were made in the non-union competition.

Almost 2,000 persons attended the barbecue where Dr. D. M. Wiggins, president of Texas Tech, and State Sen. Kilmer B. Corbin of Lamesa, spoke briefly.

Huge Crowd Watches Parade

In addition to the coronation, Garrett Fox, master of ceremonies, announced that the Sherrod Hardware company had been judged winner of the merchant's union label display contest, in which 23 local merchants had entered windows displaying union-made goods. J. C. Penney company and Mallory's tied for second.

An estimated 20,000 thronged downtown streets Monday morning to view the traditional Labor Day parade in which over a dozen different floats were entered.

The Plumbers local float, which won the union contest, had a plumber threading pipe and using a welding machine against a backdrop of household plumbing fixtures. The Electrical Auxiliary float, which won the non-union award, portrayed a colonial garden with Mrs. Dick Lindley, dressed in a white colonial-style costume, sitting in an arbor.

Queen Presented Award

The queen was awarded a $100 merchandise certificate purchased from Sherrod Hardware company, winner of the union label display contest. Mrs. Pruitt, runner-up to the queen, received two $25 certificates, one each from

Labor Holiday Highlighted By Top Speakers

(By The Associated Press)

Americans went back to work today from a Labor day holiday highlighted by President Truman's double-barreled attack on "special interests" who oppose his "fair deal" program.

The President, after spending the night at his home in Independence, Mo., prepared to return to the capital from Labor day speaking dates at Pittsburgh and Des Moines.

Two Scrappy Speeches

In two scrappy speeches reminiscent of his "give 'em hell" campaign of 1948, Mr. Truman:

1. Pledged to continue the battle against the Taft-Hartley law uptil it is "wiped off the statute books," and accused "organized special interests" of trying to block his program with a "scare word campaign."

The President's two speeches—directed primarily to labor and agriculture—possibly set the pattern for the 1950 congressional elections and thus commanded the attention of Republicans and Democrats alike.

Worst Traffic Toll

Meanwhile, millions of homeward bound citizens jammed highways in the usual holiday-end rush.

Annual Labor day oratory was furnished by a legion of speakers.

While Mr. Truman scorned such "trumped up slogans" as "collectiveism" and "statism" at Pittsburgh, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower got "statism" into a speech at St. Louis in which he spoke of the "even expanding federal government."

Eisenhower, himself considered a potential presidential figure in 1952, told the American Bar association:

"The straight path to America's future lies down the middle of the road between the unfettered powers of concentrated wealth on one flank, and the unbridled power of statism on the other."

Murray Hurls Charge

CIO President Philip Murray, whose United Steel Workers are nearing the crucial point in their campaign for fourth-round wage increases, charged the steel industry with taking the lead in saying "no" to what he termed labor's legisimate demands.

Murray, whose speech was broadcast from Pittsburgh, also said that a "man made recession" has been delivered "by the small and greedy group of men who direct the destinies of our vast poli-

DEMO LEADER AGAINST PROPOSAL

Senator May Renew Fight To Give Truman Budget Cut Job

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6 (AP) — Senator McClellan (D-Ark) hinted today that he will renew his fight to hand President Truman the job of slashing federal spending.

A proposal to direct Mr. Truman to save five to 10 per cent of whatever funds Congress appropriates for the fiscal year that began July 1 was defeated by only three votes in the Senate last week.

McClellan, chief sponsor of the economy move, blamed the setback on the absence of senators who jumped the gun on the Senate's week-long Labor day recess.

Prolonged Session Seen

The President later told a news conference the Senate had done the right thing. But McClellan indicated he will try for another showdown on the issue.

"If this is going to be a prolonged session," he told a reporter, "I think the Senate will have an opportunity to vote on it again."

Present signs point to the session dragging on for some time, with a 10-day to two-week battle over reciprocal trade legislation immediately ahead when the Senate returns to work Wednesday.

Action on a foreign arms program, form legislation, various pay raise bills and other items on the administration program promises to keep things going after that.

McClellan declined to say how he might go about forcing another test on his economy resolution.

He could offer it as a rider to a supplemental money bill still to come before the Senate or he could move to call it up as a separate resolution. Either way he would have to buck administration leaders.

Democratic Leader Lucas of Illinois told a reporter he could see "no point in raising all that fuss again" but if economy advocates want to do it he is ready to fight back.

"They know it doesn't have a chance," he said.

Lucas has called the proposal "an act of political cowardice"—an attempt by law-makers to "pass the buck" to the President instead of making spending cuts themselves.

But McClellan argued in Senate debate on the issue that the President must share equal responsibility with Congress for keeping the government in sound shape financially.

He tried to attach his economy proposal to a $14,800,000,000 military appropriation bill passed by the Senate last week. To do so required a two-thirds majority in favor of suspension of a Senate rule against legislation in an appropriation measure. The move won an easy majority, 49 to 28, but fell three votes short of the necessary two-thirds margin.

Former Resident Of Lubbock Is Claimed

Lubbock friends have received word of the death Monday of Mrs. A. T. Biggers, former Lubbock club, church, and civic worker, in Seattle, Wash.

According to information from Mrs. Biggers' son, J. U. Biggers, the former Lubbock woman died very suddenly in her Seattle home. The son was in Montana at the time of her death.

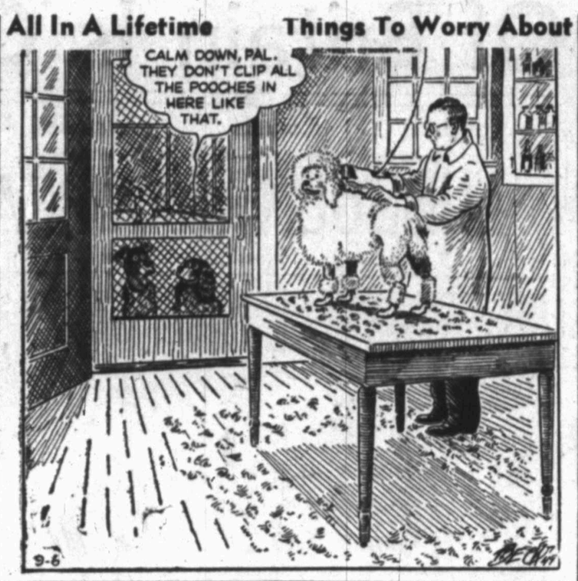

Mrs. Biggers was a long-time resident of Lubbock before moving to Seattle with her husband Dec. 24, 1945. Mr. Biggers died in 1946.

Funeral services have been tentatively set today in the Seattle First Methodist church, according to the message received here from the son. Friends here thought interment probably would be in a Seattle cemetery.

Mrs. Biggers held membership in the First Christian church of Lubbock. She had served as president of the City Federation of Women's clubs, the County Federation, and the Church Women's Federation.

J. U. Biggers, the son, is her only close survivor.

Amnesia Victim At Post Is Recovering

POST, Sept. 6 (Special)—A half-starved man believed to be an amnesia victim "came to" in Garza county jail here late Monday afternoon to tell county Sheriff E. M. Bass he "remembered everything."

The man identified himself as Harvey Hobart Powers and said he was an employe of Hamlin Supply company, now working on the railroad between Southland and Slaton. Papers on his person carried that name.

Sheriff Bass contacted Hamlin headquarters in Newton, Kan., and learned they had a man on their payrolls by that name. The amnesia victim was brought to the sheriff's office Saturday afternoon by a farm couple from whom he had asked food.

According to the victim's statement, the last he remembered he became sick and went into town to get some medicine. After taking it, he "blacked out" and knew nothing else until Monday afternoon.

He said the same thing had happened to him before. A doctor who examined him told sheriff's officers that the man was half-starved, indicating he may have been wandering about the countryside for three or four days before he approached a farm house to ask for food.

Color TV Test Is Scheduled

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6 (AP)—Thirty color television sets are being prepared by the Columbia Broadcasting company for a series of demonstrations here starting Sept. 26.

The demonstrations were called for by the Federal Communications commission as part of its hearings on color TV opening that day.

The FCC asked Columbia, the Radio Corporation of America and the Color Broadcasting system "to be fully prepared at the hearing to present the most complete tests and demonstrations possible with respect to their respective systems."

"In this connection," the FCC added, "the commission hopes and expects that the tests and demonstrations presented shall include reception by receivers located under varying typical conditions."

Sets To Be Built

CBS said yesterday it plans to consult with the commission before placing its sets in the Washington area for the demonstration. Some of its equipment, it said, will be rushed to Washington from Denver for the tests. Other sets, still being built, will be ready by Oct. 15.

Columbia said the demonstrations will include 25 which can receive color signals in color, color signals in black and white, and regular black and white signals. The other five will receive color alone. They will be the only ones available for the initial tests.

FCC members have said the demonstrations are intended to show whether the average person can operate a color set, as well as which system is best.

'A new vitamin has been discovered, but as yet we're not certain what it is good for," says a chemist.

THE many sided real estate deal now cooking through options on Thirteenth and Fourteenth streets will, when finally completed, exert a tremendous influence on the Lubbock business community. It will make Thirteenth street the city's second major business thoroughfare and it will also make areas on intersecting streets jam-up business property.

Ever since Hemphill-Wells followed Sears in heavy investment on Thirteenth street, it has been apparent that Thirteenth was going to "make" in a great big way. With the Citizens National, Dunlap's, First Federal—and, perhaps, Montgomery Ward — going over there, the big shift now is assured.

With Citizens National already marking up plans for an office building at the present, temporary site of Hemphill-Wells and with adjacent parking space tied up, the new major business area is set as tight as concrete.

Citizens National expects its project to get under way early in the Spring, shortly after Hemphill-Wells moves, in January, to its new home and the Dunlap shift will be started somewhat later.

While the shift to Thirteenth doubtless will slow down the westward march on Broadway, and while it undoubtedly will pull tremendous buying traffic a block southward from what so long has been the Main Stem, it will not, as many may think, "kill" Broadway.

Downtown Broadway is overlaid with many successful, big business enterprises tied down with longtime leases. It will continue to be a very important business artery for as long as anybody can foresee.

So don't worry about property owners on downtown Broadway. Most of them already have made a prince's fortune out of their investments and will continue to do so for a long time to come—probably as long as anybody here now is around and kicking.

The shift to Thirteenth may result, eventually, in some topheavy Broadway rents going down, but even so, Broadway will continue to be very, very good for business and property owners.

LUBBOCK simply has gotten too big to hold most of the major retail businesses on one street and the trend toward Thirteenth will rescue the city from the fate of having "one long street," a la Amarillo, Borger and many another community.

Getting away from the "one long street" setup will be much easier on shoppers and also will stabilize downtown property values to a very appreciable extent.

From a standpoint of the community as a whole, the new development on Thirteenth will be very good — a generally stabilizer.

Incidentally, the community owes a rousing cheer, plus three sis-boom-bahs, to George Benson and his associates at Citizens National who, in addition to giving the city another handsome banking house, also will answer a long-felt need for additional, modern office space in downtown Lubbock.

The bank and office building where Hemphill's is now will be of tremendous advantage to the city and for some time at least, will leave additional modern hotel space Lubbock's only major need.

All in all, the Thirteenth street deal will be a very good thing for Lubbock and the best thing about it is that it wasn't "promoted."

RUMORS persist that Lubbock will have two, not just one, announcements of candidacy for lieutenant governor in 1950.

With Hop Halsey coming out in a surprise announcement which caught everybody napping last week, the word is now that Rep. Preston Smith will go on down the line with his original plans to seek that office.

Nobody seems to know including Representative Smith, when he will make his announcement—which is not unusual since such announcements usually are not made so early in the game.

But regardless of the timing of the announcement, Mr. Smith's friends say he will run and that Mr. Halsey's entrance in the race will not deter him from plans he has had in motion for some months.

BY DREW PEARSON: GEN. VAUGHAN AND PUPPIES INTERRUPTED CALIFORNIA VACATION

FBI Found Maragon Pled Guilty Of Bootlegging

WASHINGTON—About the middle of August I finally succumbed to Mrs. P's erroneous and unreasonable idea that Washington is hot in the summertime and we went out to California on an alleged vacation.

Usually I have the excuse of filling the silo to stay right on the farm which is the best place in the world to relax. But by August my resistance against Mrs. P's arguments had completely broken down. In the first place we filled the silo early, using alfalfa instead of corn. In the second place I wanted to see my grandson who lives in California, and who either because of the California sunshine or the fact that his mother requires a lot of 3-cornered accounterments and trappings for him when he travels, was not inclined to come to see me. So we departed.

PEARSON

Well, we had a nice time in California. I spoiled the baby only a little bit, we met a lot of nice folks, I didn't get too lonesome for the constant ringing of the telephone, and in fact got almost reconciled to leaving Washington—when suldenly the office called up to report on a number of things.

Mrs. P's dog, they said, had had puppies. The kitten had become unhousebroken. The painter who was supposed to redo the kitchen in our absence had got drunk and insisted on working at midnight. Also the bacteria count on the cows went up so high that I will never be able to win any more dairying arguments with Governor Dewey.

However, at least the pigs didn't get out. But, added the office, Gen. Harry Vaughan was also tapping my wires, feeding information derived therefrom to Westbrook Pegler and doing his best to put me in jail. Otherwise, said the office, everything was fine.

Vaughan Asked Prosecution

Of course, the fact that General Vaughan was trying to put me in jail wasn't exactly new. He tried to do that rather vigorously once before, at the time I wrote the first columns exposing the amazing Mr. Maragon back in March 1947.

I had then reported that Vaughan and Maragon were as thick as an unmasked syrup pitcher on its saucer, but I didn't realize how really close they were until the good general appeared in the office of the U. S. district attorney in Washington to demand that I be prosecuted for criminal libel.

General Vaughan, it seemed, was inked because I had reported various things about Maragon, many of which the Senate committee has since brought out under oath. Among other things, I stated that "he once pleaded guilty of transporting liquor illegally (7/17/20), was three times arrested for disorderly conduct but never prosecuted, once as recently as last Nov. 29, and got into a brawl in the locker room of the Washington Senators where some of the ball players beat him up."

General Vaughan, appearing before the district attorney, claimed this was not true. His "lovable" friend, he said, had been maligned and he demanded prosecution of the guilty columnist.

Mr. Morris Fay, the district attorney, was a little flabbergasted at seeing the top military aide to the President of the United States turn up on an errand of this kind, but he replied that he would be glad to talk to Mr. Maragon.

However, he subsequently made it clear that there had been no criminal libel case brought in the District of Columbia since about the time of the Civil war, and that he had instructions from the Justice department to bring none without prior consultation.

This was because, in a criminal libel case, the government of the United States becomes the prosecutor, and undertakes to convict and jail the offending editor or newspaperman without any expense or effort on the part of the party supposedly libeled—in this case Maragon.

THIS explanation, conveyed to General Vaughan, did not dampen his persistency. It merely increased his efforts on behalf of his "loveable" friend.

With the question of prosecuting Pearson referred by the district attorney to the Justice department, the good general transferred his pressure higher up, and tried to bulldoze J. Edgar Hoover.

"I thought when orders were given in this government, they were carried out," he stormed.

Hoover told him that his job was to investigate, not to prosecute, and that if orders were given him by the attorney general to investigate the Pearson charges against Marathon, he would certainly do so.

Shortly before this, Vaughan had lifted no audible voice of protest when Maragon violated the customs laws by smuggling perfume into the U. S. A. In fact, Vaughan had continued to give him White House credentials, even though Maragon had used them in attempted smuggling and had wantonly violated their use.

And, thanks to Vaughan's persistency, the Justice department did order the FBI to investigate. The investigation cost the taxpayers a few extra dollars, plus the time of busy FBI agents needed for loyalty tests.

Maragon had claimed that the man guilty of bootlegging on July 17, 1920, was a "John F. Margon," not the "lovable" friend of General Vaughan, "John F. Maragon." so after a lot of work, including a search for fingerprints which were not taken at that time, the FBI finally located the handwriting on the bondsman's records back in 1920. This handwriting of "John F. Margon" they found to be the very same handwriting of "John F. Maragon," the "lovable" friend.

Whereupon the criminal case against this writer was dropped.

Sequel came just the other day when Maragon publicly admitted in a press interview that he hid plead guilty to transporting liquor in 1920. But in March and April 1947, the President's military aide, claiming just the contrary, wasted a lot of FBI time plus the taxpayers' money by his persistent demand that the newsman making this statement should be jailed.

Well, as I said, the office called me up on the beach at Santa Barbara, Calif., to report on the puppies, the kitten, the midnight-painted kitchen, the cows' bacteria count and General Vaughan. So finally we came home—not to check on General Vaughan, but to see the puppies.

Weevils—there are a billion of them to a ton—can hiss, according to the Australian council for scientific and industrial research.

Maragon Is Claimed Former Narcotics "Stool-Pigeon"

WE Have With Us—Among the mass moochers on the New York relief rolls are its gypsies. They are not conspicuous in the city's life. Few ever stop to think of them or realize we have a permanent population here of thousands of these utterly unproductive perennial rovers, who put the slang word, "gyp," into the language. They live mostly in what a half-century ago was part of the ghetto during the high tide of immigration. Often 30 or more of these tziganes live in a family-size cold-water flat—and these are in five and six-story walkups. They sing, fiddle, they fight, they breed—but they rarely work. Some of the women scatter to unoccupied stores where they set up fortune-telling booths until the cops rout them out. Their weddings and funerals are orgies, and for important ones their kinfolk flock in from the whole Eastern seaboard. Those who have rooted themselves here are citizens, almost all natives, and they vote en bloc in a machine-ridden locality, one of the few Tammany can still deliver with advance certainty. For that reason the gypsies are guided onto the dole lists. They are "unemployed." Most of them always have been, and can prove they have no means of support and can't muster any. Family numbers are a factor in adding up welfare allotments, so these traditional transients who no longer roam have found the good life and lost their wanderlust.

John Maragon was a paid stool-pigeon for the U. S. Narcotics Bureau in Kansas City years ago. Records proving this have been removed from the files. He was also a fixer for a brand of whisky owned by mobsters there, in New Orleans and New York. Cases of it were sent gratis to homes of the mightly in Washington . . . The Kansas City underworld is now a satrapy of the Chicago syndicate. Tony Gizzo, K. C. resident "vice president," is now in Chicago, visiting Charlie Fishetti in his palatial triplex penthouse on Sheridan Road. Joe Bignani, tied in with the combination, is master-minding the remains of the old Pendergast political machine.

ELLA FITZPATRICK, 21-year-old daughter of Paul Fitzpatrick, Democratic State Chairman of New York, when she was graduated from college, declined the easy life in Buffalo, would not let her father use any influence toward getting her preferentially placed. Instead, the beautiful brunette came to New York, answered classified ads, trudged from place to place, and landed a job on her own as a salesroom model in a wholesale dress house on Seventh Avenue. This will probably be the first inkling to her employer and fellow-workers that her dad is one of the most potent figures in American affairs.

El Morocco and the Stork Club are being solicited for ads by the Bowery News . . . The certified, original "Spanky" MacFarland, fat boy of "Our Gang," is an airplane painter with Chance Vought Aircraft, Dallas, Tex. . . . Marjorie Hassett, onetime model with "the world's most beautiful hands," confesses a romantic interest in Dennis Van Upp, a Harvard professor . . . Hugo Belardin, rich Egyptian, and Mary Sadler, described as a Michigan heiress, appear serious . . . June Cooper will give Jackie his freedom, so he can wed Hildy Parks . . . Edith Fellows may land the immortal Maude Adams role in the musical version of Barrie's "The Little Minister."

THE East Side, especially in the middle 40's, has gradually become a favorite center. John Ganzi's Palm, on Second Avenue, near 45th Street, attracts a following from the whole nation. Colombo's, Cella's, Danny's and others on 45th Street, a bit east or west, pull carriage trade in ocations which after nightfall are otherwise dark and desolate. The meat shortage, when all these cafes managed to be well supplied (I nicknamed them "steak-easies" then), established several and made sawdust floors and plaid tablecloths fashionable . . . Of late, one of the favorite bar-grill-cafes is Barbara Kelly's Tiger Lily Lounge, at 141 East 45th Street, an intimate spot frequentel by newspapermen, artists, Park Avenue executives and a sprinkling of society seekers of atmosphere and informality. Barbara was born a graceful hostess. Any kind reader who would like to take a sock at me will find me in her cozy intimate bistro as likely as not.

Many of these East Side cafe-owners are ex-bootleggers and speak-easy operators. They are the survivors of hundreds in the vicinity. They came through and grew because they had something—something more than the booze which was common to that era. There never was a more intensely competitive field. When legitimate liquor came back, thousands of the roughnecks who had fattened on Prohibition, no longer "protected" by bribed Federal agents and slugger-partners, tried to stay in business but faded and failed. The New York on-premises drinking law requires full facilities for feeding and serving not less than 30 people at one time—meals, not sandwiches. Saloon-keepers therefore had to be restauranteurs. That was an avocation few of the hootch-peddlers understood.

This will be remembered as the era during which all countries not fighting a war were fighting to keep peace.

WHEN the Shaughnessy playoff begins in the West Texas-New Mexico league this year not a single Lamesan will be any hotter for his team than The Plains man will be for the Loboes.

If ever a city in organized baseball deserved a pennant, Lamesa deserves it this year. The Dawson county capital undoubtedly is the hottest baseball city in the whole cockeyed country and its fans are the most loyal we know of.

As the Loboes pounded down the stretch this year, they played before more home fans—in ratio to population—than any team in the circuit and, probably, than any team in organized baseball.

Lamesa had a winner this year and the folks really went to town for it.

The people of Lamesa have gone through a lot of baseball "drouths" since the WT-NM started. But they have been dead game all the way through—even as the Fates blew against them in '47 when, with their team in the playoffs for the first time, elimination was as rapid as mathematically possible.

Now they're "in" this year with at least a fair chance of winning, the Lamesa folks are beginning to get their just dues.

JUST as all the world loves a lover, all sportsmen love good sportsmanship and Lamesa fandom doesn't have to bow to any collection of baseball supporters in that category.

Year after year, with break after break going against them, Lamesa fans have "stayed in there" when a less doughty crew would have given up the ship and let the league go to pot in-so-far as they were concerned.

The season of 1949 may be the "pay-off" year for Lamesa.

It may wipe out the heartaches and the financial headaches of years gone by and produce a champion for our negihboring city.

We hope so—and we can't think of anything that would be better for the league.

A COUPLE of months ago, the chamber of commerce here laid two grand on the line to get a needed hotel survey for Lubbock. A firm of expert surveyors did the surveying, spending considerable time talking and checking the situation.

Results of the survey now are in and the chamber of commerce is "sitting on the report." However, we can report this much:

The results of the survey are being kept secret until Connie Hilton gets first crack at them, which is logical because Mr. Hilton thus far has shown more interest in Lubbock's hotel needs than anyone else.

We shall see what we shall see.

Just Knock Twice And Ask For Joe

BY RUTH MILLETT: TO THE LADIES

The Feminine Viewpoint

DO young couples owe it to their parents to spend their vacation time each year visiting first one set of parents and then the other?

That's what a wife asks me who says she and her husband have done that for the past five summers.

She writes: "I think my husband and I both need a different sort of vacation this year. If we could just go off to some place we'd never seen and have the refreshing experience of seeing new sights and doing new things.

"But we both know that if we write our folks that we aren't going to spend our vacation with them, they'll be disappointed and hurt."

They shouldn't be. And if they are, perhaps you should be strong enough to go ahead and take the kind of vacation you want anyhow.

A man and his wife owe it to themselves and to their marriage to do something new and exciting and different once in a while. And vacation time is the ready-made time for having some new experiences.

Benefit From Change

IT'S good for a husband and wife once in a while to get away from family and friends and share some new experiences that are theirs alone.

Your parents should understand this, but if they don't perhaps you can explain to your parents and your husband can explain to his why it is that you are planning a different sort of vacation this year.

Now and then someone (usually a man) comes out with the statement that husbands and wives should take separate vacations.

But what most couples need now and then is not a vacation from each other, but a vacation together from the "dailyness" of their existence.

You and your husband are forfeiting that experience if year after year you spend your whole vacation time visiting your parents.

By Bennett Cerf

"Try And Stop Me"

IN LONDON, shortly before the war began, the literary set turned out en masse for a banquet in honor of a distinguished American publisher, just then winding up his twenty-fifth annual visit to the shores of Albion.

Numerous British luminaries felt that the occasion demanded elaborate expressions of esteeem for the guest of honor but, while they went on and on orating, the object of their encomiums unfortunately went on and on imbibing whiskies and soda. When he finally was called upon to speak himself, only a herculean effort enabled him to get to his feet. He swayed dizzily, blinked at his audience, and suddenly remarked very clearly, "Gentlemen, as I was saying—" With this he sat down and promptly fell asleep.

FRANKLIN Pierce Adams, who professes to be a garden lover, reported to the singularly uninterested members of the Thanatopsis Poker club that his peonies required special care. Bernie Hart, a conversation lover, asked. "How, about your dahlias?" "They're thriving," enthused Adams. "It proves that if you take care of your peonies, the dahlias will take care of themselves." Shortly thereafter the club was raided.

Soft Treatment, Short Jail Terms For Draft Dodger Hit

NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—It is with great pleasure that one notes that Mr. Sander Katz, the militant draft-dodger, is at large again, after doing an eight months trick in Lewisburg jail on his ear, as the thieves say.

RUARK

This absolves the artistic Mr. Katz from his responsibility to the state, and since he now wears a forcefully donated draft registration card, I assume he is safe from further raids by the Selective service act.

It has really been a short war for Mr. Katz, whose principles are so stout that he has twice visited the clink as a gesture of disdain to the draft. On emerging from his latest long weekend, of which he served only two thirds of his sentence, he was met at the train by a delegation of young men who form a committee for "non-violent revolution."

"Refuses To Go"

Addressing the press, Mr. Katz allowed as how he hopes all the other young men will do as he does, and says, quote "I will continue to counsel and abet them, and if drafted I will refuse to go."

I suggest that the manipulators of our non-warring draft print this comment into the general orders of the soldier camps, and read it to the boys at morning muster. Many of the men who were literally blackmailed into enlistment are still following the hay-foot, straw-foot routine, and might be interested in what an outsider has to say about beating forcible impressment into the military services.

Mr. Katz, lest you forget, is an objector of the draft on "social, political and philosophic" grounds, which might make him one with about 14 milloin young men who stored their serge and took up khaki as a steady costume. The only difference is that while Mr. Katz mulled over his philosophy in a snug calaboose, some of the other lads swapped their khaki for a shroud.

IT IS of some importance that this Katz was a wartime dodger as well as a peace-time recalcitrant. He has, as a result, become a hero to the odd cliques which fatten off purposeful martyrdom, and he has been abetted—his word—by our own law and order, which sometimes seems to deal so gently with some dissenters.

When Katz came up to trial under Judge Harold Medina, he of the nonstop sedition trials of the 11 Communists, the judge left the boy a beautiful out. He stated at the time that if Katz came back repentant, bearing a registration card, it was possible that some of the harshness of his sentence might be stroked away.

Katz was not repentant. He stood by his social, political and philosophic principles, and was stricken by the horrid penalty of eight whole months in what is called the cosiest clink in the United States, Lewisburg. This is the same jug that is known as the country club, and boasts such distinguished alumni as Serge Rubenstein, another hero who is currently on the town.

Light Penalty Hit

The time in service for the handcuff volunteers of our current peace draft is 18 months, and the time for the draftees is 21 months. By simple addition I do not find that eight months of sitting in a can is as long as either 18 months or 21 months. By the same addition I do not find that 19 months of wartime penal service is as long as the time from Dec. 7 to to the discharge dates in the fall of 1945.

It seems highly peculiar to me that the laws of this land are so shaped that they may wrest a civilian loose from his private life and ship him off to play soldier at a time when his country is not at war, but when penalties for non-conformation are passed out the penalty is less than the alloted time for compliance with the regulation.

The postwar administration of Selective service has been weird, at best, and I suggest now that the weirdness continue and all the brave lads who are heeding a sergeant's whim be released from their bondage. Katz is out, home free, and I see no reason to discriminate against the other thousands who merely went when they were called. Or else we might toss Mr. K. back in the brig again, against the expiration of the act on June 24, 1950.

Today's Journal Editorial

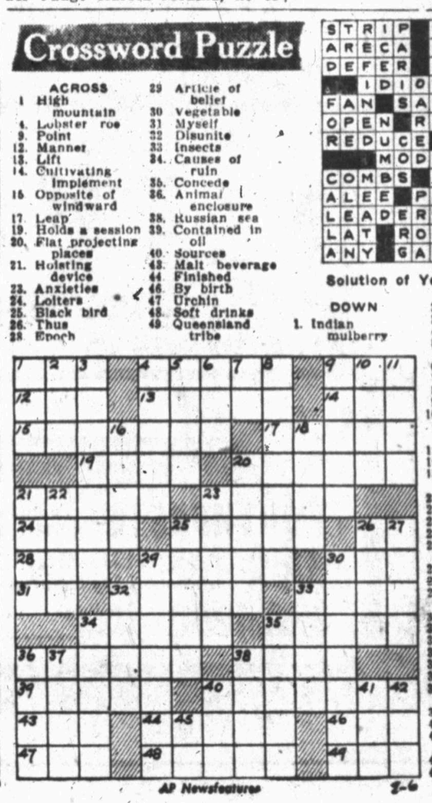

THE GOOD FINNS

Finland continues to provide evidence that it is one apple which is likely to remain sound despite proximity to rotten ones.

The Finns retained the respect and goodwill of Americans as did no nation in Europe by their unfailing payments of World War I debts when all other debtors defaulted. They have resisted with great courage the attempts of Russia to force them to become a full-fledged Soviet satellite. And they still are making payments of debts incurred during the first war, while nearly all other nations are screaming for more handouts.

They are a people to be admired and have set examples which will cause most Americans to endorse unreservedly the announcement that all future Finnish debt payments will be used for an exchange of scholars and technical knowledge between them and the U. S. They have demonstrated the qualities which are worth cultivating by this or any nation.

Woman Is Fatally Injured At Hobbs

SANTA FE, Sept. 6 (INS)—Fatal traffic accidents occurred at Tucumcari and at Hobbs over the Labor day weekend.

State police said today Douglas Allen, 32, of Bellview, died early yesterday, when his automobile overturned 10 miles east of Tucumcari on highway 66.

Florence M. Chapman, 50, was fatally injured when she struck by a car at Hobbs late yesterday. State police said the driver failed to stop after running down the woman.

Hay Fever RELIEF AT LAST! with Superfan HAY FEVER ATTACHMENT

READ WHAT A TYPICAL USER SAYS

After the SUPERFAN with "Hay Fever Attachment" was installed in the window of my bedroom, I would come home from work and after being in the room for 2 to 3 hours I would start to get relief. The sneezing spells would practically stop. Instead of having 3 or 4 sneezing spells during the night and losing a good deal of sleep, I would get a complete night's sleep and rest. It also brought me complete relief from burning and itching eyes, and also the constant pain that one has in the face and teeth.

After the third day I could go anywhere from 8 to 10 hours the next day before I would start sneezing again and my nose running. I have used several different types of window filters, masks, and nostril filters, but I have never received the quick relief that I encountered while using the SUPERFAN with "Hay Fever Attachment."

MEN
READ CAREFULLY
I want to talk to ten men who are really ambitious in securing a position that will gave them steady year around employment. In other words there are no laying off periods. Consistent income is the income that really counts.

It doesn't matter what your past employment has been. We teach you our work. It will be necessary that you be willing to get along on $75 to $85 per week for the first four to six weeks while learning our work.

If you are mechanically inclined or can handle men in a supervisory capacity, or your present income is not satisfactory, answer this now. You must be able to give the names of three persons who will vouch for your honesty and integrity.

We prefer men who are married or who have some sense of responsibility and have a car.

We will present our plan only if your wife accompanies you. Her happiness is continent upon your success, and we feel that she should know completely from the first what you will be offered.

Therefore, if you are honest and of good character, a willing worker and neat in appearance apply—

Doctors Suffer In Britain's Program

(EDITOR'S NOTE: L. R. Blanchard is general executive editor of the 21 metropolitan papers—mostly in the East—in the Gannett chain. As one of the nation's most widely known and respected editors, Mr. Blanchard has often traveled the world for his papers, informing himself, first-hand, on what is going on. Recently he went to England to look at Socialism and the series of articles he wrote while on the trip are highly revealing. Because some politicians urge that the U. S. follow England in experimenting with Socialism, The Journal asked—and received—permission of the Gannett papers and Mr. Blanchard to present the series in Texas. We consider Mr. Blanchard's articles to be more significant, especially since Britain, largely supported by American tax dollars will seek from us next month more aid to be used in carrying on socialistic aims.)

By L. R. BLANCHARD
Executive Editor, Gannett Newspapers

LONDON—What does the doctor say about Britain's new health service?

Some practitioners, particularly opticians and dentists, are reported earning as high as $50,000 a year.

That's because people, who under the old system could not afford teeth and glasses, are now flockin' to obtain them free.

On the other hand, there are general practitioners who complain they have to take in too many patients in order to make a satisfactory income.

They say that after working long hours they have little to show for their efforts, because of high taxes.

Here is the gist of the opinion of one general practitioner:

The waiting room is always full and there is not enough time to do a thorough job on any one patient.

Too Many Fakers

There are too many patients who have nothing wrong with them but take up my time with trivialities. I have to listen to them, too, because I could be reported for gruffness and get into a peck of trouble.

Most of my patients think they are getting something for nothing, that is a delusion. They are paying more right now than they ever did for medical treatment. Most of them never did anything but buy patent medicines from the chemist. Now they are paying 5 shillings a week. And on top of that they are paying more taxes and higher prices.

The worst feature of the whole mess is the building of class hatreds. Where there used to be some jealousy and ill feeling, there now is absolute hatred. The government thrives on such ill feeling.

OF course there is cheating. I often feel it best to give a prescription to someone for a standard remedy. He takes the order to the chemist, gets the preparation, then walks over to another chemist, sells it to him at reduced price and goes out for another beer.

The doctor has wide authority in ordering for his patient. He can even order coal if he finds a warm house is necessary to a recovery. He can order girdles, although they are supposed to be surgical girdles. He can order any sort of medicine. And I suppose he could order wigs, although I haven't done that myself.

There's no doubt that the new system has increased the use of hospitals to a point where it is difficult to get entry for a patient, even for emergency treatment. It has resulted in a much wider use of X-ray for examination and treatments.

In fact, it is easy to pass along a patient for laboratory examination, and to call in specialists.

Much of this would have been passed over in other times.

It's "Mass Medicine"

To make an income now, a doctor must accept more patients than he would have dared to take in private practice. I must admit that I can't give the attention to each patient that I did before.

In our small community we have had five doctors, each making a comfortable, if not spectacular living. Now I have been fortunate and am signed up by more than 2,000 patients. That means I have taken over some people who were patients of my colleagues. They are decent and capable chaps. Yet by some freak they find their income cut. My own income remains about steady, but with twice the patients and a daily headache in paper work.

The new doctor will not be able to select an area in which he would like to live. Regardless of his wishes or abilities, he must take an area where the ministry thinks more doctors are needed.

The doctor is in the health scheme, too. He signs up as his own patient.

He has lived to see the fountain pen become the most important instrument in his kit. As a mark of his profession it is in use far more than the thermometer or the stethoscope.

Tomorrow: False teeth and spectacles—all "free."

M-P Train Service Employes To Strike

WASHINGTON ,Sept. 6 (AP)—(AP)—Missouri Pacific train and engine service employes have called a strike for 2 p. m. (CST) Friday, P. J. Neff, chief executive of the line, said yesterday.

Neff said the strike, if it takes place, would cause discontinuance of through service on the Missouri Pacific and its southern lines, the International Great Northern and the Gulf Coast lines. The latter two lines will not be struck.

The independent unions are seeking setlement of more than 300 grievances. Neff called the strike "entirely unjustified" and offered to arbitrate the issue.

Mallory's and J. C. Penney company, runners-up in the union label display contest.

Guests at the barbecue, besides Dr. Wiggins and Sen. Corbin, included Mayor W. H. Rodgers; City Commissioner Clarence Whiteside; Miss Amelia Anthony, founder of Girls' Town; County Commissioners George Green of Slaton, and R. O. Short of Lubbock; W. Earl Creel, local VFW commander; Judge G. V. Pardue, Rep. Preston Smith and others.

Accepting the gold cup for the Electrical Auxiliary was Mrs. Garrett Fox, chairman of the float committee. R. G. Scott accepted the silver cup on behalf of the Plumbers local for their winning float.

Dance Ends Festivities

Fox expressed the appreciation of the Central Labor union for the help and co-operation afforded by individuals and unions connected with making the day's celebration a success.

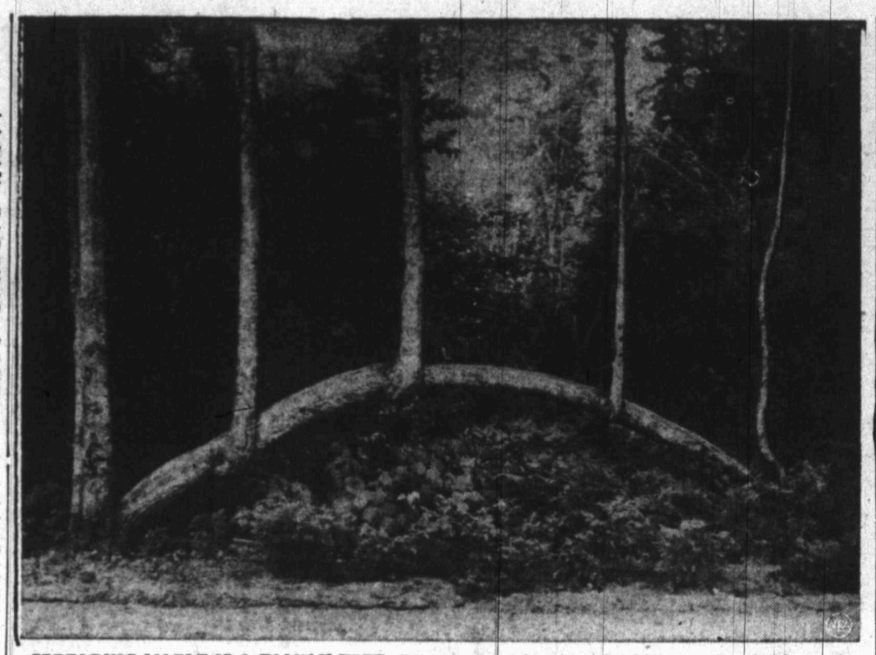

Culmination of the day's activities was a dance Monday night at the new post home of the VFW. Bailey Ireland and his orchestra played.

Other queens of local unions were Miss Laura Lou Bailey, Mrs. Sylvia Gafford, Miss Jane DeWald, Miss Jean Somers and Miss Claudette Sims.

Unions entering floats were Painters, Electrical, Plumbers, Laborers, Carpenters, Plasterers, Lathers, Teamsters, Typographical, Sheetmetal workers, Roofers, and Electrical, Typographical, and Carpenters auxiliaries.

Float judges were W. C. O'Mara, H. L. Allen, George Dale, Miss Margaret Turner, Mrs. Chester Hubbard, and Mrs. W. L. Sasser. Members of the steering committee, responsible for arranging most of the day's activities were Garrett Fox, R. P. Raney, and Mrs. Jerry Holleman.

SPREADING MAPLE IS A FAMILY TREE—The woods of Northern Michigan produced this maple tree that is nature's counterpart of the famous Dionne quintuplets. Five village smithies could find work under the auxiliary trunks which shoot up from the main trunk. The main trunk of the maple, growing near Munising, Mich., rises from the ground on the left and goes into the earth again at the right, forming a perfect loop. Both ends have a complete root system which helps nourish the five junior trunks on top.

Veteran Held For Shooting

AZUSA, Calif., Sept. 6 (INS) — A 30-year-old Marine corps veteran who shot and wounded his estranged wife's parents and then set a series of brush fires to cover his retreat, was captured today after an all night police hunt in the brush of the San Gabriel mountains.

Lloyd Greenhagen was booked at Azusa police station on attempted murder and arson charges after officers picked him up this morning in a mountain cabin. He offered no resistance.

Victims of the shooting, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Kirtland, 55 and 53, of Eagle Rock, Calif., were recovering from arm wounds.

Suddenly, Kirtland continued, Greenhagen strode up carrying a rifle and without saying a word fired point blank at Mrs. Kirtland.

Kirtland said he was wounded while struggling with Greenhagen for possession of the gun.

Escaped Prisoner Attempts Suicide

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 6 (AP)—A 44-year-old escaped prisoner from the Oregon state penitentiary was being held under police guard today at St. Francis hospital after attempting last night to commit suicide by poisoning, police reported.

Det. Sgt. M. L. Canada said the man was William P. Benson and that he had been going under the alias of Lowell Cotton.

Canada said Benson was found last night lying in a downtown alley and was taken to the hospital. He told police he had taken poison and was wanted by Oregon police for the prison escape, Canada said.

The detective said Oregon authorities had notified Columbus police Benson escaped from the Oregon state penitentiary on May 30. He had been serving a term of five years for armed robbery.

Police reported a charge of being a fugitive from justice had been filed against Benson. A date for a hearing before a judge will not be set until Benson recovers.

The hospital reported Benson was in "fair" condition.

Labor Holiday

tical machine."

William Green, the president of the AFL, lit into "Tories" and Communism in a speech at San Diego. He spoke of "Toryism promoted by a reactionary combination in Congress," and mentioned "the Tafts and the Byrds" in that connection.

And at Chicago, Secretary of Agriculture Brannan keynoted the theme that labor and agriculture must cooperate in the coming year's congressional elections.

"From the economic standpoint," Brannan told an AFL dinner, "farmers and workers have every reason for unity . . . wages and farm income go down together when there is a depression."

British Crisis

"One should not expect miracles."

Bevin is reported keenly interested in the Marshall plan phase of the discussions because it may provide a way for Britain to buy Canadian wheat, flour, cheese, bacon and eggs, woodpulp and paper with American dollars.

Has Refused Permission

Paul Hoffman, the Economic Cooperation administrator, has refused in the past to permit Marshall plan money to be used for this purpose because virtually all these commodities are available in the United States.

As a result, Britain has been forced to use its own dollars to buy Canadian products. Last year, diplomatic officials said, Britain spent about $110,000,000 of its reserves in this fashion.

Bevin is reported to believe Hoffman must now change his attitude on that point. The British foreign minister also feels Britain could save at least another $100,000 of its gold if Hoffman allows Marshall plan money to be spent for:

(1) Equipment needed to expand British petroleum production; (2) some Canadian raw materials, machinery and manufactured goods; (3) those shipping costs not affected by the law requiring 50 per cent of all Marshall plan shipments to be sent to American ships.

Hoffman's answer to this British request is certain to be influenced by the attitude of congressmen anxious to see ECA funds spent in American markets.

To Play Big Part

The Canadian official yesterday expressed approval of reports that British Ambassador Sir Oliver Franks wants reporters covering the meetings to be briefed after each closed session.

Abbott told newsmen who met him at the airport that such an arrangement should be "fairly helpful."

Secretary of the Treasury Snyder, who heads the American negotiators, probably will make the final decision on this plan.

As U. S. and Canadian officials awaited the arrival of the British delegates, the Population Reference Bureau—a non-profit organization set up to study population trends—offered its own solution to Britain's difficulties.

The bureau said the island is overpopulated and can't healthfully support its people. It suggested that some 15,0000,000 Britons emigrate to Canada and Australia.

Possibly as an anti-communist gesture, the red fire station at Bungay, England, is being repainted cream color.
