NO SPOT UNTURNED—The ceiling was not excepted when youthful Conrad N. (Nick) Hilton, jr., whose father founded Hilton Hotels, Inc., visited the Lubbock Hilton hotel Thursday to inspect each room and its furnishings. Conrad Hilton, Jr., Visitor In City

Hotel Magnate's Son On Inspection Here

By OPAL DIXON
Avalanche Staff Writer

THE son of one of the world's greatest "inn keepers" arrived in Lubbock Thursday, bent on an inspection tour which will take him to every room in every Hilton hotel in the United States.

He is 22-year-old Conrad N. (Nick) Hilton, jr., whose father, C. N. (Connie) Hilton, founded the chain of hotels bearing his name and which now includes 11 hotels in the United States, three in Bermuda, one in Chihuahua, Mexico, and one which is being built in San Juan, Puerto Rico.

Young Nick Hilton, so far the only one of the Hilton sons to express an interest in following his father in the hotel business, may himself, some day, go to the top in this hotel dynasty.

Picks Tough Job

At any rate, being the son of the president of Hilton Hotels, Inc., does not prevent his attacking the unusual and extensive inspection of approximately 10,000 hotel rooms — every room in the 11 hotels in the Hilton hotel chain in the United States.

Not one to speak in uncertain terms, he leaves no doubt that "I'm going to" visit every room, without exception. The condition of the carpet, furniture, walls, draperies, blinds, plumbing and lamps is noted on sheets of paper, which will be used in determining hotel budgets.

Young Hilton arrived in Lubbock by airplane Thursday morning, after arising at 5:15 a. m. in El Paso to catch the plane. "No one would believe it if I told them," he said. He will leave tonight for Albuquerque, N. M., to inspect the Hilton hotel there.

Missed Rose Bowl Game

Last week, he started his inspection at the Tower House on Wiltshire boulevard in Los Angeles. He did not see the Rose Bowl game, because he was working that day.

Hilton finds himself traveling so often that home is likely to be "wherever my coat hangs." He considers his home to be in Los Angeles, but he has been there only about three months in the last two years.

He has spent five months of the last two years abroad, visiting continental hotels and attending Ecole Hoteliere, a school in Switzerland. He spent eight months in Chicago, where headquarters of Hilton Hotels, Inc., are located, and he spent part of the time in the Navy.

Comparing hotels in this country to those he visited in Europe, he said, "Our hotels are much better over here—much better."

Ministers Group Installs Officers

Approximately 50 ministers, their wives, and church staff members attended the annual banquet of the Lubbock Ministers association last night at First Christian church.

The Young Matrons club of First Christian church decorated the dining hall and served the meal.

Dr. J. M. Lewis, pastor of First Presbyterian church, gave the invocation. Dr. H. I. Robinson, pastor of First Methodist church, was toastmaster.

Ministers Introduced

Ministers and their church staff members were introduced in the order of their length of service in Lubbock. Dr. Lewis was the first to be introduced.

Dr. Robinson introduced Dr. J. R. Grant, pastor of First Baptist church, who is retiring president of the association.

Dr. Grant stressed the value of fellowship in the Ministers association as well as the good it has done this past year.

"I do not wish to review the accomplishments of our group this past year, but I do believe we have brought about greater law enforcement and civic righteousness," Dr. Grant said.

Officers Installed

Dr. Robinson then presented Rev. T. A. White, pastor of First Christian church, who is the newly-elected president of the association.

After expressing his appreciation to his fellow ministers for the honor they had bestowed upon him, Mr. White said, "I sincerely hope that the Ministers association will continue to do consructive work and worthwhile things for the City of Lubbock and the cause of Jesus Christ."

Other officers installed were Rev. J. Lewis Ingle, pastor of Williams Memorial Church of the Nazarene, vice president; and Rev. Cecil Matthews, director of the Methodist Student center, who was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

Dr. Robinson concluded the program with a prayer.

Mrs. Pauline Henderson, Former Editor At O'Donnell, Claimed

Last rites for Mrs. Pauline Campbell Henderson, 45, former editor of the O'Donnell Index and more recently assistant editor of a paper at Sulphur Springs, will be held at 4 p. m. today at O'Donnell Methodist church with Dr. C. A. Bickley, pastor of Asbury Methodist church here, officiating.

Mrs. Henderson died at her residence, 1316 Seventeenth, Thursday morning after a long illness. She moved to Lubbock from Surphur Springs in March 1948. Burial will be in O'Donnell cemetery with Rix Funeral home in charge of arrangements.

Survivors include her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Veazey, Lovington, N. M.; a daughter, Mrs. Leo Lightfoot, Lovington, N. M.; a sister, Mrs. Paul Raley, Wichita Falls, and a brother, Jack Veazey, Lubbock.

Demos Rush Bills On 'Fair Deal' Setup

By ROGER D. GREENE
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—Democratic leaders in Congress began to jam the legislative hoppers today with bills to carry out President Truman's "fair deal" program, but fights were brewing in every corner.

Republican cries of "socialism" and "bankruptcy" still echoed on Capitol Hill as the lawmakers awaited a new set of blueprints from the White House tomorrow: The President's annual economic message.

Mr. Truman is not expected to deliver the report in person—as he did his controversial tax-welfare-labor program yesterday — since it customarily runs to great length. The message is based on recommendations from the President's Economic Advisory Council, headed by Dr. Edwin G. Nourse.

Quick Action Sought

Meanwhile, administration Democrats hastened to write Mr. Truman's sweeping proposals into bill form, hoping to capitalize on the "first 100 days" of comparative harmony they expect in the new Democrat-controlled 81st Congress.

Democratic chiefs hoped to whip the President's many legislative proposals into shape before the Republicans, thrust back into their old minority role after two years in the saddle, could rally and perhaps form a powerful coalition with anti-administration southern Democrats.

As Senator Lucas (D-Ill) phrased it, leaders will "proceed with all convenient speed."

Bills Are Prepared

Already blocked out for action on Mr. Truman's program were bills for pre-paid medical care, housing, repeal of the Taft-Hartley act, increased minimum wages, social security expansion, and a measure which might put the government into the steel business.

Bills on these matters were either introduced, ready for committee hearings, or being written.

Somewhat less urgency, if not actual coolness, was displayed toward other major proposals by the President; Notably his call for a $4,000,000,000 tax boost, civil rights laws, universal mili-

Solons Split On Price Supports

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6 (AP)—The Senate Agriculture committee split wide open today over farm price supports—whether they should be fixed at 90 percent of parity, or be flexible.

President Truman uncovered the disagreement with his request to Congress to aim at farm abundance and parity through price supports.

He didn't give a formula. He just said supports should prevent "out of line" farm price declines, and promote good land use. He observed that present laws "must be adapted" to the objectives.

Senator Anderson (D-NM), who was close to Mr. Truman as his secretary of agriculture, said the President "left it completely and properly up to the Congress to determine."

Three-Way Split Revealed

A poll of 12 members of the committee showed a three-way split.

Four southern Democrats on the committee, led by Chairman Elmer Thomas (Okla), claimed Mr. Truman backed their demands for continuing government price props at 90 per cent of parity.

Four Republicans, headed by Senator Aiken (Ct), said the Chief Executive was backing a flexible

Two Egyptian Trains Blasted

By BENN FELLER
INS Staff Correspondent

TEL AVIV, Jan. 6—An Israeli spokesman announced tonight the dynamiting or capture of three Egyptian troop trains and seizure of hundreds of captives as a climax to an expected cease-fire tomorrow.

The military spokesman said Egypt now is moving toward peace and that hostilities continued tonight only because an 8 a.m. CST cease-fire deadline set by the Jews was not answered in time by the Egyptians.

New Deadline Set

(Acting UN mediator Dr. Ralph Bunche announced at Lake Success, N. Y., that a new cease-fire deadline has been set for 6 a.m. CST tomorrow, because faulty communications prevented the Jews and Egyptians from carrying out the 8 a. m. Thursday order.

(Bunche said Israel and Egypt will enter into direct settlement negotiations under UN sponsorship).

(An Egyptian war ministry spokesman in Cairo charged that Jewish planes killed and wounded an unspecified number of persons in bombing refugee camps.

Jews Claimed Repulsed

(The Egyptian spokesman claimed Egyptian artillery and cavalry inflicted "considerable losses in men and armored vehicles" in repulsing Jewish attacks at Gaza and Falusa in southern Palestine).

Fighting, meanwhile, rolled throughout much of the Negev desert area in the fourth week of

Dr. Krueger Resting After Heart Attack

Dr. J. T. Krueger, 53, one of the most widely known surgeons in Texas and president of Lubbock Memorial hospital, Thursday night was reported in "satisfactory" condition.

Dr. Krueger, chief surgeon at the hospital, suffered a heart attack in his office about 6 p.m. Wednesday. An attending physician said the doctor's condition "has not changed very much today (Thursday), but I think he is doing very well."

Earlier hospital authorities indicated that while Dr. Krueger's condition was not considered critical, he will be confined to bed for rest for a indefinite period. He is not able to receive visitors.

Tommy Krueger, a son, a student at Tulane university, New Orleans, arrived in Lubbock at 6:40 p. m. yesterday by Braniff airlines plane. A daughter, Mrs. Bobby Layne, and her husband returned Wednesday from a holiday trip.

The doctor came to Lubbock July 1, 1919, and joined the staff of the hospital, then known as Lubbock sanitarium.

Herbert H. Culp, 49, Lubbock Carpenter, Dies At Levelland

Herbert H. Culp, 49, of 1613 Ave. E, died of a heart attack Thursday in Levelland where he was working as a carpenter, Sanders Funeral home, of Lubbock, announced.

Culp had been a resident of Lubbock for 18 years. Funeral arrangements are pending word from relatives, but burial will be in Lubbock cemetery.

He is survived by his wife; two sons, Herbert Jr. and J. T.; two stepchildren, Jimmy and Dolores Adams; two sisters, Mrs. G. N. Hodge of Missouri, and Mrs. George Butler of Lubbock; and one brother, Dean H. Culp, of Crane.

Communists Ignore Chiang's Peace Offer

Red Leader Claimed Killed In China War

By PETER LIU
INS Staff Correspondent

NANKING, Jan. 6.—The commander in chief of Communist armies in central China was reported today to have been killed in action.

The Chinese central government announced that Gen. Liu Po Cheng was killed in an attack by a Nationalist B-24 bomber in his headquarters at Taoyuanchi, southwest of Suchow, on Dec. 13.

Death of Gen. Liu, one of the top Communist military commanders, was claimed as China's civil war erupted into renewed fighting in north China where Tientsin was reported under heavy Communist bombardment.

Shells from Red batteries were reported to have hit several Tientsin factories after advance Communist spearheads drove into Tientsin's southeast suburb of Huitui.

The renewed fighting was reported simultaneously with an official government announcement that no formal reply had been received from the Communists to President Chiang Kai-Shek's qualified peace proposal made on New Year's day.

Teng Wen-Yi, spokesman for the national defense ministry, announced the death in action of Communist Gen. Liu who personally commanded the series of Red victories on the Suchow front, 125 miles northwest of Nanking.

Teng credited the fallen Communist hero with all of the strategic planning in the victorious Communist offensive which resulted in the fall of the key Nationalist bastion of Suchow.

Liu Russian-Trained

The defense ministry official said that Gen. Liu was about 50 years old, received his military training in Russia and had served for more than 20 years with the Communist army.

The government spokesman said he presumed that Gen. Liu has been succeeded as field commander of the Red armies in central China by Gen. Chen Keng, another top flight Communist military chief.

The renewed outbreak of fighting in north China ended a general lull in the civil war.

Austin Pastor Is Kiwanis Speaker

By ROGER SOUTHALL
Avalanche Staff Writer

Asserting that "America has taken its place among the great civilizations because of its system of mass production," Rev. Walter K. Kerr, Austin minister and immediate past president of the Austin Kiwanis club, last night told assembled members of the Lubbock Kiwanis club, their wives and guests, that "the next great civilization in ascendency will be the one that answers satisfactorily the question of distribution."

The occasion was the Lubbock club's annual ladies night banquet, combined with installation of newly-elected club officers, which was held in Hotel Lubbock.

Each Made Contribution

Mr. Kerr, pastor of the Central Methodist church of Austin, said historians have pointed out that there have been 26 distinct great civilizations on earth in the course of time. Each rose to supremacy in its time by making one par-

Continued Warmup Forecast For Area

South Plains residents can look forward to fairly good weather today and Saturday. A little cloudy, and a little warmer, and that is all.

Nothing is in sight either. Bad weather, that is, the Weather station decided last night. There are no low pressure areas up north, there isn't any threatening front anywhere except off the Pacific coast, and between here and there is a high pressure area. It all looks mighty good right now, the weatherman believes.

Temperatures will moderate even more today and tomorrow, he said, with lows of 18 to 20 expected both days, and highs running about 55 degrees. Thursday the minimum was 14 and the maximum 53 degrees.

The cloudiness holds no promise of rain, the weatherman added.

FRUIT GROWERS LOSE MILLIONS

Vegetable, Citrus Prices Soar In Wake Of California Freeze

(By The Associated Press)

VEGETABLE and citrus fruit prices skyrocketed Thursday after a disastrous freeze wiped out huge sections of the crop in California Tuesday and Wednesday.

In the lower Rio Grande valley, lettuce doubled in price. Cabbage was up 60 per cent. Oranges were up there from 25 to 50 cents a box.

Cold weather and snow, which slowed down the movement of vegetables to the east, contributed to big gains on the eastern markets.

The gains were spectacular for California fruit. The California Fruit Growers Exchange in New York said today that oranges advanced from $6.31 a crate Monday to $7.41 Thursday. Lemons were up from about $6.66 Monday to $10.30 Thursday.

However, eastern market sources said weather damage to California citrus fruits would not be reflected on a large scale in prices in the east until two weeks from now. These increases were blamed on cold weather which held up movement to market.

On the San Antonio wholesale market, cucumbers went from

14 Persons Dead As Midwest Digs Out

More Victims Feared In Hundreds Of Snowbound Cars; Rivers On Rampage

(By International News Service)

THE DEATH toll in the great Rocky Mountain blizzard mounted to 14 Thursday with ground-air rescue crews intensifying efforts to penetrate snow-bound communities.

Rescue operations, moving slowly against record snow drifts, uncovered six victims in Colorado, five in Wyoming, two in Nebraska and one in South Dakota.

Meantime, rampaging flood waters forced thousands to abandon their homes in four southern states.

3,000 Forced From Homes

(By The International News Service)

SOME three thousand persons were sheltered by Red Cross and other relief agencies Thursday night in four southern states where rain-swollen rivers and streams continued to rise.

Two persons were missing and feared drowned when a highway bridge collapsed and fell into a flooding river in Tennessee.

Weather experts predicted major rivers in Mississippi, Alabama, Tennessee and Georgia would crest late today.

Town Inundated

The worst flood spot was at Columbus, Miss., where an unusual "twin" flooding of the Tombigbee and Luxapalila rivers inundated the town from east and west.

The Red Cross reported 2,200 persons evacuated from lowland homes at Columbus—by far the largest number of evacuees at any point.

Other badly hit areas were at Huntsville, Ala., Aberdeen, Miss., and Shelbyville, Tenn.

Two Feared Drowned

A flash flood at Huntsville drove 100 families from their homes, leaving many buildings under four feet of water.

While most of the lowland region around Huntsville was drained by dynamiting, the weather bureau said the Tennessee river still was rising.

A bridge spanning the flooding Hiwassee river near Etowah, Tenn., collapsed late Thursday and two men were listed as missing.

Three other persons narrowly escaped being swept away in the floodwaters. They managed to cling to the downed bridge and were rescued.

Dam Gives Way

The two men were aboard a big red truck loaded with oranges. The cab of the truck is missing, and authorities fear it was swept into the rampaging waters when the two sections of the bridge on U. S. highway 11 collapsed.

At Aberdeen, Miss., 100 persons were in emergency shelters.

Fifty to 75 families fled the flood threat at Shelbyville, Tenn., where more than 90 buildings were under water.

A coal mine dam gave away at White river, Ala., causing early fear of possible high fatalities. The Red Cross said, howover, no serious injuries were reported. Ten

FLIER SET FOR TRIP

NEW YORK, Jan. 6 (INS) — Round-the-world flyer Bill Odom will take off from Honolulu Saturday on his projected non-stop flight to New York in a single-engine plane. A spokesman for the Beech Aircraft Corp. announced in New York today that Odom will attempt to make the 5,010 mile hop in about 32 hours.

Thousands Flee Waters

Some 2,000 persons were evacuated at Columbus, Miss., hardest hit community when the Tombigbee and Luxapalila rivers spilled over their banks.

The Red Cross estimated 50,000 acres of land were under water in the area.

More than a thousand persons were forced from their homes in Alabama and Tennessee. The Coosa river flooded over in low areas around Rome, Ga., covering the Rome-Chattanooga highway.

Family Wiped Out

In southern California, officials estimated that the severe cold wave left damage of $20 million to citrus, vegetable and cut flower crops.

The tragic side of the Rocky mountain region's severe blizzard predominated Thursday, as report followed report of deaths by freezing throughout the storm-whipped area.

The blizzard, which began on Sunday and gripped the area three days, has moved out leaving an undetermined number of human deaths, expected heavy livestock losses, and immense property damage.

The blizzard wiped out an entire family in Rockport, Colo., scene of the storm's most spectacular rescue. Frozen to death were a rancher, his wife and their two children.

Authorities in Colorado, Wyoming, Nebraska, South Dakota and western Kansas expressed fears that hundreds of automobiles stalled in the huge drifts might yield additional dead.

Rescue Plane Readied

In Hemingford, Neb., emergency medical instructions were being relayed by telephone by a physician to a farm house eight miles away where Francis

Criminal Attack Suspect Is Held

A charge of rape by force was filed about 10 p. m. Thursday against Joseph D. Hegdal, 29, of Lubbock, after the complaining witness, a 28-year-old woman who lives in the west part of town, had given statements to assistant District Attorney A. W. Salyars at a local hospital.

Salyars, who filed the charge in the justice court of D. W. Robertson, said that the girl had been unable to talk with investigators until late in the afternoon, although the alleged offense was reported to have occurred prior to 3:30 a. m. Thursday.

Asked To Be Taken Home

The woman told the following story to Salyars:

She and the defendant had gone out on a date about 8:30 p. m. Wednesday, leaving the former's home in a taxi. They then went to a local night club, where she said, they had a few drinks. She emphasized that neither had enough to drink to become intoxicated.

She asked to be taken to her home about 10:30 p. m., she told Salyars, and the defendant called a taxi—the same cab and driver, it happened, that had taken them to the club.

From the night club, she was driven to a tourist court on west Nineteenth street, and was asked to get out of the cab with Hegdal. She did not know or suspect his purpose, she stated, and did not know he was taking her to a cabin.

Inside, she was offered a drink and refused, she said, adding that he then "made passes" at her. When she failed to reciprocate his

AIR ARM NEEDS MORE RESERVE

Difference In Safety Standards For CAA, Air Force Are Scored

By BOB CONSIDINE
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6 — Now that the armed forces are so unified that top-ranking officers have been seen actually nodding to one another in the Mayflower lounge, let's hope we can get the Air Force and Civil Aeronautics Administration together.

That's a pretty snafu which is costing the taxpayers a lot of money, menacing the reserve strength of the Air Force, keeping the prices of certain new passenger and cargo planes wholly out of reach of private enterprise and thus curdling the general development.

Take the Boeing Stratocruiser, for instance. You've been seeing advertisements on this two-story monster for a long time. Its prototype, the C-97, flew across the country in six hours 'way back in the middle of the war. But not one of the fancy crates is yet in operation with an airline.

The company says that the CAA changes its mind so often, about what should go into a plane before people or cargo are allowed to be taken aboard, that it is now hopeless to attempt standardization of design.

Without such standardization, the company argues, prices must remain astronomical and delivery so slow that if a war came along we'd be caught with our transport planes down.

The CAA says it just wants to be certain for safety's sake, and one must presume that that's the reason it demanded recent last-minute changes in stratocruisers intended for ocean-flying. As Calvin Coolidge might have written in his two-fisted, crusading way, safety is verily a laudible thing.

But here's the rub:

The Air Force has enthusiastically approved the same plane as an Air Ambulance. Tests have shown that it can fly 89 litter cases to the U. S. from the far corners of the earth, with ample room left over for doctors, nurses, hospital equipment, double crew, etc., etc.

CAA Objects

But the CAA would not permit a commercial airline to sell a single seat on such a plane, though the craft has abundantly demonstrated its air-worthiness.

Nor would the CAA permit a keg of bolts or any other freight to be loaded into same. The Air Force and CAA just don't see eye to eye on what constitutes a good airplane.

There the matter stands and will continue to stand until somebody with enough authority can order the boys to get together.

Defense authorities readily agree that the Air Force must find a way to secure, within easy reach in case of war, a big auxiliary air transport fleet — immeasurably larger and longer-ranged than the one it requisitioned in the last war. Patently, it must be a standardized fleet, more or less.

The Air Force, however, spends most of its money on bombers, fighters and research. It must depend on the commercial airlines to stock up with planes which can be impounded or bought in a pinch.

Airlines Can't Pay

The airlines, on the other hand can't afford to pay the prices being asked—though some of them are doing the next best, or worst, thing: buying planes anyway and swimming in red ink.

Prices can't come down, the builders swear, because the CAA can't make up its mind long enough to enable the builders to lay in a wholesale order of burlap, piano wire and other ingredients that go into planes. There's inflation in plane costs, too.

The post-war successors to the revered but now obsolete twin-engined DC-3—Martin's 2-0-2 and Consolidated Vultee's Convair—cost somewhere between $300,000 and $400,000 apiece. The DC-3's price got down to $90.000 just before the war.

Incidentally, speaking of Boeing, its XB-47 has been ordered into production. It is, as you perhaps know, a dart-winged bomber as big as a B-29 but jet propelled by six G-E engines developing the equivalent of 30,000 horsepower.

Assisted Take Off

They are mounted intricately on out-riggers, and the whole apparition—especially when it takes off with the assistance of huge, plume-spewing jatos—is enough to stop your breath.

The XB-47 was flown for the first time just a year ago. To keep it from the prying eyes of friendly and hostile foreign representatives it was given an airfield of its own—the otherwise abandoned Moses Lake (Cal.) base.

One fine day, during a test high over a forlorn stretch of California desert, the XB-47 reached the incredible speed of 600 MPH. Twice since then, in legitimate contests, it has out-raced jet fighters.

It, or something just as huge, will soon be able to carry two or maybe three A-bombs to a target faster than the speed of sound. ..ahead, indeed, of the noise it makes as it approaches.

Boy, my aspirin.

LIFE-PROLONGING GRASS

MOSCOW, (AP)—"Evening Moscow" reports a detachment of botanical workers has found the "famous Maral grass for which certain explorers have searched in vain." The Maral grass is said to contain certain oils that prolong life. It was found in the Altai mountains in southeast USSR.

Russia Voted Down In Move To Condemn Strike Ban In Japan

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—(AP)—Russia was outvoted 9 to 1 today on a Soviet move to condemn General Douglas MacArthurs' no-strike order for government workers in Japan.

The action came at a heated session of the 11-nation Far Eastern commission.

Russia called MacArthur's action "un-Democratic."

Ambassador Carlos Romulo of the Philippines reported Russia was making a "malicious distortion" of the case and seeking to exploit the commission as a "springboard for propaganda."

Only Soviet Ambassador Alexander S. Panyushkin voted for the Russian resolution. Nine other governments voted against it. China abstained.

The Soviet envoy had demanded the commission instruct MacArthur to withdraw a directive he issued to the Japanese cabinet last July 22, banning strikes by several million Japanese government employes.

At that time, it was explained MacArthur took the same position as the United States government: i. e.: strikes against the government are illegal.

Immediately, after today's vote, the Soviet envoy pulled a prepared statement from his pocket and read it. He said the other nations, by their votes, had "thus entered the road of approving these anti-Democratic measures of General MacArthur and the Japanese government."

HI-V-I FLOWS FREELY!

Silence the cold "whoosh" of January winds with the comforting sound of a motor that turns over instantly. HI-V-I bathes car and tractor motors in a protective film of lubrication. It cleans as it lubricates, freeing motors of corrosion and sludge. This cuts fuel consumption to a new low . . . keeps motors ready for the "go" signal on the coldest January days.

For faster starts and better lubrication in zero weather, use HI-V-I the free-flowing oil.

GLAMOR TALK

IF YOU would toe the glamor line in 1949, then take a few hints from Betty Clark, Associated Press newsfeatures beauty editor. Here are some beauty resolutions she suggests for the next twelve months:

1. Wear the short hairdo—only if it looks well on you. If it doesn't, year any other style that suits you, regardless of fashion.

2. There is a new look—but so what, if you can't wear it! Wear your skirt at a becoming length, not too short of course, and don't hide pretty ankles. If you are bow-legged or knock-kneed take advantage of the long look to hide these defects.

3. Don't hibernate during the winter. Get outdoors and get some fresh air.

4. Take an inventory of your figure after a shower or bath. Tab places that need whittling and don't wait until summer to do it. It's not really such a long time until bathing suit time, but those rolls of fat will get bigger and bigger.

5. NEVER wait until your resistance is lowered and you catch cold to eat vegetables or take vitamins if they are necessary. Eat for beauty today.

6. When you see circles under your eyes, try to figure out why they are there, instead of trying to erase them externally. Diet, fatigue and late hours are contributing factors.

7. Your face really does mirror your soul. You can keep in youthful by never holding a grudge. Remember, too, you can always get more with honey than vinegar.

8. BE AN OPTIMIST. It is better to say the jar is half-full than to be a pessimist and say it is half-empty.

9. Soap and water is cheap. Use it freely. It is the only thing that can make you sparkle from head to foot.

10. Use makeup in good taste. A little used sparingly can make you look pretty; use it with a heavy hand and you will be stamped a nobody.

IN THE MAIL

MRS. HARRY LEWIS of Lubbock, who sent a letter of appeal shortly before Christmas, writes of her deep gratitude to the readers of this who came to the rescue.

"Not more than three hours after most people were reading their paper, a woman was at my door with a basket of groceries. To her and to all the others who helped make my Christmas, go my great thanks. Amidst all the nice things word came through that I will be able to go to Dallas within a few days for an operation on my foot.

"As soon as I can walk again, I hope to do some little things in life for my fellow man to repay all of the wonderful things that have been done for me and my children.

Again I say thanks."

DEAR Mrs. Lewis;

Thanks for your letter. We believe you have the right idea in wanting to help someone else in order to pay back the kindness that have been shown you. What greater thing can any one wish for his life than to help his fellow man through acts and words?

FEDERAL SPY PROBE CONTINUED

Math Experts Who Worked On Bombsight Appear At Hearing

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
INS Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Jan. 6. — Two university mathmaticians who helped develop the top-secret Norden bombsight during the war testified today before the New York Federal grand jury investigating Communist spy activities.

The men were employed as mathematicians at the Aberdeen, Md., proving grounds on the super-accurate bombsight and guided missile research.

They are Professors Edward J. McShane, 44, of the University of Virginia, and John L. Kelley, 32, of the University of California.

Engineer Also Testifies

Another witness, appearing for the fourth straight day, was Felix August Inslerman, a former guided missile engineer.

The professors told newsmen, after emerging from the grand jury rooms, that they were summoned to "give technical information on exterior ballistics" and character information about one of their co-workers on the project, Franklin Reno.

Prof. Kelley, who laughingly described himself, McShane and Reno as members of a "two bit brain trust" at Aberdeen, disclosed the trio had made up the tables for the bombsight.

He declared that Reno was "clean," because "otherwise we would not have associated with him."

McShane also defended Reno as a good friend of good character, whom he first met in 1942 at Aberdeen.

The University of Virginia professor said they had collaborated on a book on "exterior ballistics."

He told newsmen they had discussed politics many times but Reno at no time ever advocated Communism.

To Meet Again

McShane added:

"I have no evidence that he was a Communist."

He explained that exterior ballistics consists of determining how a projectile moves through the air before reaching its target.

The role of Reno in the spy probe has not been disclosed by the attorney general's office, or the House Un-American Activities committee.

The mathematicians appeared before the jury for 45 minutes.

Inslerman, who was employed by the Glenn L. Martin and Republic Aviation companies from 1938 to 1946, and now works for the General Electric Co., testified for an hour and 15 minutes.

The grand jury recessed until next Tuesday after questioning Inslerman and ordering him to reappear then.

'Keeping Up With The Joneses' Might Solve Texas Dust Problem

AUSTIN, Jan. 6. (INS)—If we could "keep up with the Joneses" the dust situation would be whipped.

Mrs. J. L. Jones is a landscape demonstrator who was disturbed by clouds of dust that rolled in on her every time a car or bus passed south of her home in Rochelle community—six miles from Brady.

Mr. and Mrs. Jones have a two-acre windbreak out back of their house that is planted in ornamental trees. On the back row is Russian Mulberry; next is Locust. Then there is a row of Desert Willow, and the last too rows are Arizona Cypress and Red Cedar.

The first three rows are made up of the bigger trees. The Cypres and the Cedars haven't grown much since they were planted, but Mr. Jones believes "that's the way they grow."

When Mrs. Jones saw her first windbreak, she said that the wind just "didn't seem to blow at all." This windbreak has worked so well that the Joneses want to plant another windbreak on the west side of the house.

Southern Demos Ready To Fight President's Civil Rights Plan

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.— (AP) — Southern Democrats served notice today they are ready to fight President Truman's civil rights program in the 81st Congress.

Their leaders said they were unmoved by the President's call for civil rights legislation in his State of the Union message on Congress yesterday.

Mr. Truman's proposals for an anti-poll tax bill, an anti-lynching bill and a Fair Employment practices act already are heading for a showdown vote expected soon.

Hill Opposes Plan

The test of strength will be on a rules change designed to wipe out the Senate's ancient practice of filibustering. This is the practice of killing a bill by non-stop talking.

Southern Democrats have used the filibuster for years to block Civil Rights legislation—and they say they will fight any move to take this weapon from them.

"The purpose of the rules change," said Senator Ellender (D-La.), "is directed at enacting a Civil Rights program. That's the sole reason for it. And I'm going to oppose it because of that."

Senator Hill (D-Ala.), said he could go along with Mr. Truman on most of his proposals — but I can't go along with him on the Civil Rights issue."

Curbs On Debate Sought

Hill said he will fight any move to end the right of unlimited debate as an abridgement of free speech.

Under present rules, the Senate may shut off debate on a bill by a two-thirds vote. This meneuver is known as the cloture (limit on debate) rule.

There are no rules to keep senators from talking as long as they witsh on motions, resolutions, or other matters. And by talking they prevent the Senate from voting.

Senator Morse (R-Ore.), tried to get a vote on an anti-filibuster amendment late yesterday. But his move was blocked by Senator Russell (D-Ga.). It was referred to the Senate Rules committee.

The Morse amendment would give the Senate the right to shut off debate by a majority vote instead of two-thirds vote. It would apply to debate on motions and other matters as well as bills.

Grain Stockpiling Plan Is Revealed

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6. (U.P.)— The administration is rushing plans to build a huge government storage system for stockpiling surplus grains, it was revealed today.

Administration sources said the project calls for rebuilding on a mammoth scale a system similar to the "ever-normal granary" developed in the 1930's by former secretary of agriculture Henry A. Wallace.

This would provide a place for the government to hide away price-depressing grain surpluses and hold them against the day of grain shortages from crop failures.

Administration sources said President Truman soon, probably within the next few days, will ask Congress to approve the idea.

At present, the government owns storage for only 50,000,000 bushels of grain. This compares with its prewar storage potential of 300,000,000 bushels.

With 50,000 people waiting for phones, the British Post Office recently recruited 250 sales representatives—to sell more telephones.

Texas Projects Are Given Funds By REA

Two Texas projects totaling $350,000 were among total loans of $5,567,000 to 11 borrowers approved by the Rural Electrification administration (REA) during the week of Dec. 27-31, for extention of power lines to rural consumers, the U. S. Department of Agriculture has announced.

The Texas projects were: Stamford Electric co-operative, Stamford, $315,000 for 167 miles of line to serve 293 rural consumers, for system improvements, and completion of previously approved construction; and to Jackson Electric co-operative, LaWard, $15,000 for re-lending to members to finance farmstead wiring, and purchase and installation of plumbing and electrical equipment.

The 11 systems for which the $5,567,000 in loans were approved are in eight states. Funds are to be used to finance 1,333 miles of distribution lines to serve 3,980 farms and other rural establishments, generation facilities, 91 miles of transmission lines, system improvements including 94 miles of new tie lines, headquarters facilities, two-way radio communication systems and completion of previously approved construction.

Houston Sets $137,000 Goal In Battle Against Polio

HOUSTON, Jan. 6. — (U.P.) — Houston set a $137,000 goal today for the 1949 battle against polio, the disease that killed or crippled 317 persons in the city and Harris county last year.

At a kickoff breakfast to go over the 1949 March of Dimes campaign, Chairman W. Stewart Boyle stressed the obligation of Houston and the county to persons stricken with polio last year.

"Remember, we have an obligation to 317 persons who were stricken when polio hit us last year. We spent $136,500 fighting the disiease in 1948. We must raise the equivalent of that amount this year," Boyle said.

The March of Dimes campaign opens Jan. 14 and ends Jan. 31.

Tech Drops Road Trip Opener To Texas Mines, 57-53

Perez Is Star Of Orediggers Attack

EL PASO, Jan. 6. (Special)—Texas Tech opened a three-day road trip here tonight with a 57-53 licking at the hands of an accomplished Texas College of Mines quintet.

The Miners took a 6-5 lead after the end of four minutes of jockeying at the start of the game and never were headed again. They roared to a 32-21 lead at the intermission and while Tech lowered the count to 53-51 with three and a half minutes to play, the Orediggers had enough to stall them off.

Little Santos Perez, the ball-handling wizard of the Miners, fought the Red Raiders away from the basket by himself, dribbling for two whole minutes in the closing stanza of the game. He also took time out during the game to collect six field goals and five free throws for 17 points, high of the game.

Grove Aids Tech

Center Don Grove and Guard Wimpy Hill attempted to keep Tech in the game, the latter potting 10 points and the former winding up with 13. But the Miners were not to be denied.

The Raiders definitely were off form in the first half, missing innumerable shots. Only the torrid shooting of Grove and Chet Jackson kept the Raiders in the game, with Perez and Nelson Ohlemacher hitting consistently. Ohlemacher, particularly, gave the Raiders trouble and Grove could do little with his opposing center.

Perez actually broke the Raiders' backs, hitting long shot after long shot. With 12 minutes of the first half gone, Mines held a 24-11 advantage and began to coast. Tech rallied slightly, but the home club matched shot for shot.

Kept Ball From Tech

The visitors roared back in the first four minutes of the closing canto to lower the count to 32-27. Hill began hitting from just outside the keyhole slot, set shots that brought him 14 of his 16 points in the last half. But with the score down to 53-51, Perez went into his dribble act.

The little Miner successfully kept the ball away from the Raiders for two minutes and then passed to Ventura Irraball, who converted. That put the game out of reach, although Tech kept pressing.

Tomorrow night the Raiders play New Mexico Aggies in Las Cruces.

Lubbock, Big Spring To Play Shuffleboard

An exhibition shuffleboard match between Lubbock and Big Spring players will be held at 8 o'clock tonight at the Sportsman, located at 805 College Ave.

Dick Clifton and Lucky Lloyd of Big Spring, who are recognized as two of the leading West Texas experts of table shuffleboard—not to be confused with the old deck or gym floor shuffleboard, will tangle in an interesting exhibition tussle.

Other visiting players, in addition to Clifton and Lloyd, will be Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Dozier. The couple will oppose two Texas Tech students, Wayne Housser and Arthur Rampy. Jim Buckner and other Tech students are also slated to compete in the match.

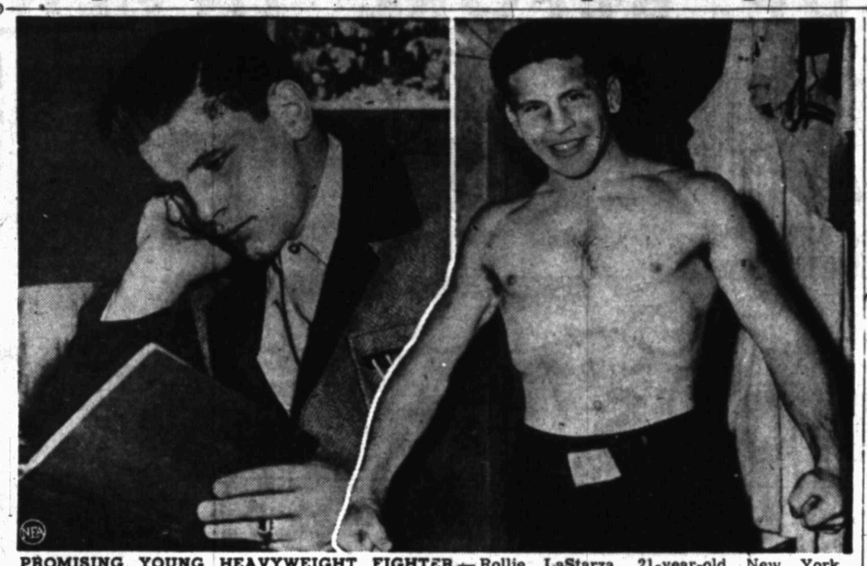

The public is invited to attend the match.

ANTON LEGION WINS

Horace Bane's 15 points paced the Anton American Legion quint to a narrow 46-43 victory over the 132nd Field Artillery team here Thursday night at the J. T. Hutchinson Junior High gym. Bobby Close scored 18 points for the losers.

TULSA HIRES IBA

TULSA, Okla., Jan. 6. (AP)—The University of Tulsa today hired Clarence V. Iba, as its first full-time cage instructor.

PROMISING YOUNG HEAVYWEIGHT FIGHTER—Rollie LaStarza, 21-year-old New York heavy, has spent a year in the pro ring now, but still attends college. LaStarza is a B plus student at City College of New York and regarded as one of the most likely candidates for the heavyweight crown. LaStarza won the eastern heavyweight title in the Golden Gloves and then won his bout for New York in the inter-city card against Chicago. His opponent in that scrap was Dolph Quijano, well known in Texas boxing circles. Quijano actually gained the decision, but was disqualified when it was discovered that he had been fighting pro for four years.

Card Will Be Golden Gloves 'Tune Up'

Top Amateur West Texas Boxers Meet In Plainview Tournament

PLAINVIEW, Jan. 6. (Special)—A 15-bout dual meet between the Plainview Jaycee boxing team and the Amarillo Junior college sluggers will be unreeled here at 8 o'clock Friday night at the city auditorium.

Some of the top amateur boxers of West Texas are scheduled to see action on the card, which will be a Golden Gloves "tune-up" for many of the fighters. Winners in several of the bouts will be favored to cop regional Gloves titles and make a strong bid for state crowns.

Probably the most important battle of the night will be the middleweight clash of Willis Hawkins, former Amarillo Gloves champion and present Plains AAU title-holder, and Plainview's Leonard Duncan. Hawkins is a dangerous puncher and a wily veteran, but Duncan is expected to give the Amarillo representative a tough fight.

Fans are also eagerly awaiting the light-heavy scrap pairing Amarillo's Buddy Wilkinson and Plainview's Doug Beedy. Wilkinson won the New Mexico state championship in 1947, while Beedy has a reputation as one of the most dangerous sluggers in Texas amateur ranks. Beedy will probably be the top candidate for the light-heavy crown at the Lubbock regional Gloves tournament.

Another crowd-pleasing tussle will be a middleweight match between Calvin Pyle, Lockney High's smooth puncher, and veteran J. Roy Henry of Amarillo. Pyle has won 18 straight ring triumphs and is hailed by South Plains fans as one of the best young prospects of the southwest.

Ducats Going Good

Don Evans, Amarillo heavyweight, will have plenty of competition in Dub Bruington, the former Petersburg High star. Winfred Johnson, another Petersburg boxer fighting under Jaycee colors, tangles with Amarillo's R. T. Abrahmason in a lightweight bout.

Other contestants will include Jackie and Jerry Johnson of Plainview; Jimmy and Bill Harris of Amarillo; Harlan Martin, Ted Livesay, Lavon Samples, G. D. Jeffcoat, Bill Thompson and Pat Bailey of Plainview.

Advance ticket sales have been described as "very satisfactory" by meet officials, and a near-capacity crowd is expected for the card.

LaVern Roach, Plainview's professional middleweight contender, will serve as referee for the bouts, with Doug Graham of Amarillo and Claude Hutcherson of Plainview as judges.

MATADOR EDGES FLOMOT

MATADOR, Jan. 6. (Special)—Matador High's quint chalked up a 23-18 non-conference triumph over Flomot here tonight, with Thompson hitting the loop for five points. Martin topped Flomot with six points. Matador won the girls' game, 19-15.

LITTRELL DROPS DERRICK

IDALOU, Jan. 6 (Special)—Littrell service of Lubbock pounded out an 86-45 victory over Derrick of Idalou here tonight in an independent cage tilt. Verdell Turner scored 30 points for Littrell.

AILING MIKE CHAFING AT BIT

Venerable Mike Jacobs Itching To Resume Post As Fight Czar

By PAT ROBINSON
INS Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Jan. 6 — Mike Jacobs is determined to resume his post as czar of the fight racket.

A growing stream of red ink in his ledgers has forced the old boy to override the doctors and get back into action. And he promises to make the fur fly in all directions.

The man who ran a few shoestrings into several million dollars has been chafing in idleness for two years while watching his underlings attempt to fill his shoes.

Dwindling gate receipts brought Mike to a slow boil during his enforced vacation. And it didn't help his temperature when the Tournament of Champions, Inc., stepped in and grabbed off the middleweight champion from Mike's hired hands.

Recuperating In Miami

Rocky Graziano's suspension was another item that might have been avoided if Mike had been on hand to do a little maneuvering.

Mike still is recuperating in Miami but he will be back on Broadway within two months. He recently sent for Sol Strauss, his attorney, and told Sol something of his plans for the year.

We are violating no confidence in stating that Mike intends to corral all the title holders again. This means that he intends to bring middleweight champion Marcel Cerdan and light-heavyweight boss Freddie Mills into the fold.

Mike is wasting no time in getting action. He is going to see Joe Louis in Miami Jan. 22 to discuss Joe's next defense of the heavyweight title.

Planning Top Bout

Mike plans to stage an elimination bout between Lee Savold and Ezzard Charles, with the winner to meet Louis. Despite some reports to the contrary, Louis still bars nobody.

Joe used to fight anybody he was told to fight and asked no questions. He still will fight anybody but now he always asks: "Which one will draw most money?"

That's the kind of reaction that appeals to Mike because Mike's chief concern also is the size of the gate.

Strauss brings back word from Miami that Mike looks well and his mind is still sharp.

It amused Sol to note that Mike is already figuring on what he loves to call the "angles." By angles Mike always means little maneuverings to outsmart somebody or bring somebody into line, or maybe a little stunt to help the ballyhoo.

One of the little angles Mike first introduced to the fight racket was the ringside seats with growing pains. If Mike sold out all his ringside pews from row A to row Z, say, at $50 a copy, he had another set of $50 ringside tickets which ran from row AA to row ZZ. If he could, Mike would have sold those "ringsiders" all the way out to the ball park fence.

Anton Girls Win Tourney Opener

ANTON, Jan. 6. (Special) — First round games in the Anton High school girls basketball tournament got underway here last night, with two victories on the court and one by way of forfeit.

The host Anton girls turned back Muleshoe 32-22 and New Deal had little trouble winning over Smyer 40-22. Pettit was unable to reach the school in time to play and had to forfeit to Amherst, 2-0.

In an exhibition game by boys teams played during the tourney tonight, Anton edged the New Deal quintet 27-22.

Myrtle Brown scored 15 points to spark the Anton girls to victory tonight, while Truelock hit 11 points for Muleshoe. It was a good game with which to open the tourney and Anton never was in trouble.

Marie Wales, the oustanding New Deal player, led her team to victory over Smyer. New Deal outclassed Smyer all the way.

In the boys game, Billy Ray Glascock, high - scoring Anton player, sparked his team to victory with 13 points. Christie scored seven points to top the losers. The game was close most of the way, with Anton finally pulling out in front.

Tomorrow night three more games are carded in the girls tournament, with another exhibition game by the boys. Three-Way is scheduled to meet Whitharral in a first-round clash. Amherst meets Anton and Muleshoe plays Pettit, providing the latter can reach the tourney.

The Anton boys team will play Whitharral in an exhibition contest.

FURR'S BEATS LORENZO

LORENZO, Jan. 6. (Special) — Furr Food of Lubbock rolled to an easy 49-34 win over the Lorenzo Independents here tonight, as Jack Barnes tallied 19 points. Wilbur Gray scored 14 points for the Lorenzo five.

Teams Advance In Sundown Meet

New Home Girls Drub Post Team

SUNDOWN, Jan. 6. (Special)—Seven first round and two second round games in the Sundown invitational basketball tournament were unreeled here this afternoon and tonight, with New Home, Levelland and Sundown chalking up victories in the girls' bracket.

The New Home girls gained a second round berth by drubbing Post, 47-30, in a feature clash this afternoon. Robbins tallied 18 points for New Home, while Fluitt hit the loop for 13 for Post.

Levelland's girls nosed out Idalou, 26-25, as Tipton scored 13 points. Lawson topped Idalou with 15 points. In the other initial round clash in the girls' division Sundown rolled past Littlefield, 34-26.

In the boys' division Sundown, Idalou, Sudan and Levelland chalked up first round triumphs, while Tahoka and Lubbock "B" stayed in the race for championship honors with one victory and one defeat. Littlefield and Brownfield were dropped from the double elimination tournament following two defeats.

'B' Quint Downed

The Lubbock "B" quint provided most of the surprises in opening day play in the boys' bracket. The Hub city schoolboys absorbed a 32-9 defeat by Levelland's Lobos this afternoon, but bounced back tonight to hand the Brownfield Cubs of District 1-AA a stunning 41-22 defeat. Mack Taylor paced the Lubbock quint with 11 points, while Jim Billings and Glenn Gorby each tallied six for Brownfield.

Sundown's Roughnecks chalked up an easy 52-22 win over Littlefield this afternoon, as Pearcy notched 14 points. Currin swished the net for seven for Littlefield.

The Idalou boys, paced by Don Seale's 13 points, edged by Tahoka's Bulldogs, 37-35. Duane Carter collected 13 points for Tahoka.

Bob Lance's 16-point shooting gave Sudan a 37-32 first round win over Brownfield this afternoon. Gorby hit the loop for 14 points for the Cubs.

Eight Tilts Friday

Eight games are scheduled Friday afternoon and night, as teams complete second round play. The Sundown and Idalou boys will lead off in a tilt at noon, then the Meadow and Sudan girls tangle at 1 o'clock. Sudan's boys battle Levelland at 2 and Littlefield's girls meet Idalou in a consolation tussle at 3 to complete the afternoon slate.

Friday night at 6 the Tahoka boys will clash with the loser of the Sudan-Levelland setto, then the Sundown and Levelland girls meet at 7. Lubbock B tests the loser of the Idalou-Sundown tilt at 8, then the winner of the Sudan-Levelland game meets the winner of the Sundown-Idalou tilt at 9 o'clock.

Championships in both divisions will be determined Saturday.

Packers Call Kelley, Lewis, Williams

Tech Grid Stars Are Drafted By Pro Club

Bill Kelley of Idalou, Glenn Lewis of Quitaque and Bobby Williams of Phillips, all members of the Texas Tech football squad, champions of the Border Conference, have been drafted by the Green Bay Packers of the National Professional Football league.

Coach Sends Telegram

Announcement of their draft by the Packers, who already own Walter Schlinkman and Ralph Earhart, former Red Raider players, was made yesterday.

Kelley received a personal telegram from Curly Lambeau, Packer coach, several days ago in which Lambeau urged him not to make any other commitment. He is almost certain to try the pro ranks for one year, while Lewis also may go to the training camp in August.

Williams, who spent some time in the Army, has another year of eligibility left and says that he is planning on keeping it.

All three players were outstanding on the 1948 Red Raider eleven. Kelley played right end, Williams was first string center and Lewis was the usual starting right halfback.

Kelley never played high school football, but gained some experience in summer football workouts while in high school. He gained his forth football letter this past season, during which he turned in consistently outstanding performances. He was named to the All-Conference eleven and the coaches voted him the best defensive end in the loop. He also lettered in basketball one year and in track two years.

Lewis Played For Navy

Lewis played only six-man ball in high school at Quitaque, but turned in some brilliant performances for Tech during his four seasons. He lettered in 1944, 1946, 1947 and 1948, taking one year out for Navy duty.

While in the Navy, Lewis played for the San Diego Naval base in 1945 and was a star back. He was co-captain of the Raiders during the 1947 season.

Williams is one of a long line of outstanding Williams' who have starred at center for Phillips High school. This is his third year to make a Raider football letter and after the late season closed, he was named co-captain with Ernest Hawkins for 1948.

Williams has another year of eligibility left under Border Conference rules and intends to make use of it, returning to Tech next year for his fourth and final season on the gridiron.

DECREASE IN VIOLATIONS NOTED

President Of NCAA Says 'Sanity Code' Making Definite Progress

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 6. (AP)—Dr. Karl E. Leib, president of the National Collegiate Athletic Association, declared today the so-called "sanity code" to clean up proselyting and other evils was making definite progress.

Dr. Leib, professor of the University of Iowa, spoke at the San Francisco press club. He said there are still many violations of the code, which was adopted a year ago, but maintained a steady decrease had been noted.

"The code was not born with the primary purpose of punitive action. We only wanted to get the institutions under the control of the NCAA in a mood for compliance with our beliefs. . . ." he said.

Most Cases Untrue

"We have sent private detectives into the field to investigate institutions allegedly not complying. Most of the allegations were untrue or greatly exaggerated. . ."

Today's meeting was the first one this week in which Dr. Leib had been able to muster a quorum to conduct official business. Some of the members had been snowbound in Nebraska.

The top officials approved dates and sites for 1949 national championships including:

Tennis — University of Texas, Austin, June 20-25.

Texas Lumber Bin Gains 76-72 Victory Over Abernathy Quint

ABERNATHY, Jan. 6 (Special)—Texas Lumber Bin of Lubbock hung up a thrilling 76-72 victory over the Abernathy Independents here tonight.

The score was tied at the half, 40-40, and the last 20 minutes had the spectators cheering. Both teams put on spectacular scoring exhibitions in the final stanza. Wayne Covey of Lubbock led all scorers with 34 points, but was pressed by Harold Rhodes of the losers, who had 32.

Lubbock, Lamesa Meet In New Gym

Lubbock High's non-conference basketball clash with the Lamesa Golden Tornadoes here Saturday night will definitely be played at the new gymnasium and field house at Chapman field, school officials announced Thursday night.

Work on both backboards has been completed and the game clock was moved to the new gym Thursday afternoon, removing the last obstacle to the plan for using the new court Saturday night. All light fixtures have been mounted, both permanent and temporary bleacher seats have been erected on all four sides of the court and officials have announced that the gym is "ready for use."

The gym, although numerous improvements and changes are planned during the next two or three years, will provide the Westerner cagers with one of the best gym setups in West Texas. The gym has plenty of locker room space for the teams and the gym will seat approximately 2,000 persons under the present arrangement. Later the "folding type" permanent seats, now installed on only one side of the court, will replace the temporary bleachers to boost the seating capacity to more than 2,500.

More Improvements Slated

The gym is now equipped with fan-shaped metal backboards, but Lubbock High athletic officials have revealed that new glass backboards will be ordered in time for use next season. Other improvements to be made in the next few months include plastering and other finishing of the interior.

Although the Lubbock tilt with Lamesa will be the first game on the new floor, officials revealed that the formal dedication of the building will not take place until the Westerners' District 1-AA clash with Borger here Jan. 21.

Tickets for the game will be on sale starting at 6 o'clock Saturday night at the gymnasium, located at Twenty-third and Ave. W, and will be priced at 30 cents for students and 60 cents for adults.

The tilt with Lamesa will also give Lubbock fans a final opportunity to see the Westerners in action before they open the district race Jan. 14 at Amarillo. The Westerners invade Pampa the following night, Jan. 15, then travel to Brownfield Jan. 18. The Lubbock five will not be at home until the Borger game Jan. 21.

The rabbit matures at six months and frequently bears as many as four litters a year.

Monahans' mighty Lobos, Texas Class A schoolboy grid champions, have announced an all-opponent eleven that we think will interest South Plains fans. R. D. Lee, superintendent of schools at Monahans, emphasizes that the selections are the results of voting by the boys and not the result of high-pressure publicity. Here's the all-opponent lineup as voted by the Lobos:

Tackles — Rienshager of New Braunfels and Pevehouse of New London.

Center—Williams, Phillips.

Backs—Hill of Ballinger, Shipp of Rotan, Magouirk of New London and Rollins of Wink.

The Monahans gridders also selected Williams of Phillips and Hill of Ballinger as the "best sports," and voted Phillips as the best defensive team faced this season. Ballinger was the best offensive team faced this year by Monahans, the boys revealed.

On the subject of all-star teams, Jinx Tucker of Waco—one of the top sports scribes of the state—has named the Westerners' Bobby Brown to his third team all-state lineup. We are glad that the downstate grid experts are "getting warm." Bobby was named to only the fourth team by a Fort Worth sports writer, and was given honorable mention by a Dallas scribe. We had hoped that Bobby would receive recognition on the "official" all-state team which will be announced this weekend, but there now seems little opportunity for such a development. The Class AA team was selected under the supervision of Harry Gilstrap of Amarillo, sports editor of the Globe-News, and while Gilstrap is a top sports writer and extremely fair it is doubtful if he ever saw the Westerners and/or Bobby in action. And the Westerners' record of games won and lost does not indicate the amazing performance that Brown, a 16-year-old junior playing his first year in AA competition, turned in this season.

We feel that if Harry had known that Brown carried the ball 135 times this season for a net gain of 1,003 yards, against such teams as Austin, Amarillo and Odessa, he might have done a little "plugging" for him. Or, perhaps, if he had known that Bobby passed 27 times this season for a net gain of 276 yards and three touchdowns. Then, of course, there was the minor matter of punting. In the third quarter of the Lubbock-Odessa game here this season Bobby quick-kicked 60 yards to get the Westerners out of a hole and protect a 7-7 deadlock. Then the following week, when Lubbock was battling North Side at Fort Worth, Brown got off another quick-kick from his own 35-yard line that was finally picked up on the North Side 10.

But, on the other hand, we guess Bobby's running was not good enough to attract attention from other sports writers. Take that 73-yard touchdown sprint by Brown in the fourth quarter of the Lubbock-North Side game. Or take those touchdown runs of 40 and 54 yards against Plainview. Bulldog Coach Dub Harris says Brown showed more broken-field running ability in that clash than any other back Plainview faced all season. But Dub has just been watching—and coaching—some of the best schoolboy performers of the state for the last 15 years.

We can probably sympathize with some of our area Class A grid stars when the all-state elevens are announced, although we don't have the slightest idea of who gained recognition. We feel that the South Plains and entire West Texas area has probably 50 or 60 per cent of the outstanding Class A gridders of the state this year, but we'll feel lucky if West Texas gets 25 per cent of the places on the all-state team. However, even the Central and South Texas scribes and mentors can't overlook the Monahans boys who proved how tough competition in this part of the state is!

Leonard Duncan Enters Open Division

Three More Entries Received For Golden Gloves Tournament

Three more entries were received yesterday in the open division of the Lubbock regional Golden Gloves tournament, with one—the first—entry in the novice class.

Clint Formby, a 24-year old Texas Tech student from Hereford, checked into the tournament in the novice division. Formby has had eight ring bouts over two years of fighting, winning five of his fights. He fought in the Golden Gloves at Hereford.

But Formby will have to enter the championship class, since the rules this year state that the age limit for the novice class is 18 years of age. Since he has had experience as a middleweight, Formby should have little trouble holding his own in the open division.

Perkins, Witt Enter

The other three entries contained two middleweights and a light heavyweight. John C. Perkins of Doak Hall at Texas Tech and Leonard Duncan of Hale Center have entered the middleweight open division and James Witt of Lubbock Route 6 entered the light heavyweight class.

Duncan, a 21-year old fighter, will be flying the colors of the Plainview team in the Lubbock tourney Jan. 31, Feb. 1 and Feb. 2. He has had 31 ring bouts so far, winning 28 of them, and will be on the Plainview team opposing Amarillo in Plainview tonight.

This married war veteran, who won the 11th Airborne Division's middleweight title during the war, is working for the Center Implement company of Hale Center. During his career, Duncan had a string of seven successive knockouts. He intends to parlay his strong right hand and his left jab into a Golden Gloves title.

Witt Has Good Record

Jimmy Witt is no newcomer to Lubbock fight fans. Last year, his first in the organized ring game, he fought as a novice and made a good showing. Later he appeared on a fight card at Plainview and on the Lubbock Jaycee amateur card.

Witt gained valuable experience through his fights and since then has sparred with J. D. Kirkpatrick, picking up more knowledge. Daily workouts with Gene James, the heavyweight, didn't hurt him and he is a more polished fighter now, more sure of himself.

Perkins indicates that he has had 77 bouts over four years of fighting, during which time he says he won only two. He also indicates that he has appeared in the Golden Gloves at Fort Worth. He was not available last night for comment.

Odds About Even On Villemain Battle

NEW YORK, Jan. 6. (INS)—Betting odds dropped sharply during the day to virtually even money and "take your choice" on tomorrow night's international middleweight match between Steve Belloise, New York, and Robert Villemain, rugged Frenchman.

Belloise, with a record of 42 knockouts in 95 fights, had been a pronounced favorite early in the week. But reports of Villemain's sharpness in training brought about a late tightening of the odds.

The invader, undefeated in 34 professional fights, was represented as being so keen that manager Jean Bretonnel vetoed further boxing following Monday's workout at the C Y O gymnasium.

Official forecasts placed the expected crowd between 12,000 and 15,000 and the receipts at $50,000, for the French champion's 10-round debut at Madison Square Garden.

Boys Club Senior Cagers Nose Out College Club, 32 To 28

Senior cagers of the Lubbock Boys club nosed out the College club, 32-28, Thursday night at the club gymnasium. Jackie Cook tallied 11 points for the Boys club, while J. A. McWhorter clicked up eight for the college quint.

A Boys club team will clash with the American Society of Civil Engineers in another exhibition tussle at 7:30 o'clock tonight.

Rice, Baylor Open SWC Fight Saturday

HOUSTON, Jan. 6 (AP) — Rice basketball coach Joe Davis today said he will use a new starting lineup Saturday when the Owls open their Southwest Conference campaign against Baylor at Waco.

He said two sophomores and a non-letterman who showed great improvement during the team's holiday swing into the midwest and east will join veterans Warren Switzer and Bill Tom in the starting lineup.

They are Joe McDermott and Charley Tighe, sophomores, and Jack Wolcott, football player who got a late start for basketball practice.

Rice lost all four games on the trip.

"We didn't look so bad on offense," Davis commented, "but the defense was terrible most of the time."

Los Angeles Open To Start Today

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 6 (AP)—Golfers, ready for the $15,000 Los Angeles Open starting tomorrow, say the winner will take 280 or more strokes to conquer the tough Riviera course, tournament-tested battleground of many of the 22 Los Angeles championships.

Riviera's par is 71, or 284 for the tournament distance of 72 holes. The home pro, Willie Hunter, said tonight weather is going to play a big factor; that rain and cold have made the greens tricky "and there's going to be a lot of three-putting."

Ben Hogan won the championship last year with a 275.

"Not this year," says Hunter. "I believe the winner will get first money of $2,600 by bettering par by about four strokes."

Hogan, Lloyd Mangrum and Jimmy Demaret were being tabbed by the players themselves as the trio to beat. Hogan claims he is not playing so well now, but he admits he loves the Riviera course.

Ben had a 36-36-72 round yesterday while playing with Sammy Snead, the 1945 winner. Snead had a 32-38-70.

Lloyd Mangrum, decidedly on his putting, came up with the best practice round in the pre-tournament going—a 68.

Fundamental Premillennial Baptist Minister

INVITATION TO LUBBOCK MINISTERS
MY DEAR FELLOW CLERGYMEN:
I accepted an invitation in 1948 from my very good friend and yours, Rev. Albert F. Laing, whose vision is city-wide, to conduct a Bible Conference for 28 days, beginning Sunday afternoon 2:30, January 9th, for the benefit of all citizens in Lubbock—Born Again and otherwise, the general theme of which will be the Second Coming of Christ.
This is, as you know, "THE MEAT IN DUE SEASON." It's importance is stressed by John in his second Epistle, by the fact that he says:
"For many deceivers are gone forth unto mankind, who confess not that Jesus Christ is coming in flesh . . . If there come any unto you, and bring not this doctrine, receive him not into your home, neither greet him: for he that greeteth him is partaker of evil deeds." II John, Verses 7 to 11.
I am not personally acquainted with any of you; but, I believe you to be, naturally, men of God, called and ordained by our heavenly Father.
I therefore, take this opportunity to invite you to cooperate to the fullest of your ability, in order to make this city-wide Bible Conference a success, that is, as far as human ability is concerned, for Christ's sake.
Hoping to meet you in person this coming Sunday afternoon, if it is at all convenient for you, and praying God's richest blessing upon this city-wide, combined effort, for the Kingdom's sake, I remain.
YOUR BROTHER IN THE LORD,
WILLIAM S. McBIRNIE, SR. (REV.).

SUBJECTS TO BE DISCUSSED
"DON'T WORRY ABOUT THE FUTURE—WHY?"
We are living in times of uncertainty. War can easily break out. The situation with regard to Russia, Palestine, Greece, Spain, Italy, etc., is very touchy.
But we know this, every Christian-born-again person, is provided for. Be sure to hear this comforting Bible-informing message.
"WHERE ARE THE DEAD?"
Are they conscious? Have they a memory? Do they suffer? Are they happy? What are they doing? Hear these convincing, informing, startling Bible facts for yourself.
"STARTLING PHOTOGRAPHED FACTS FROM PALESTINE . . . PICTURES"

"THE MIDNIGHT CRY"
Be sure to hear this message tonight, as it contains an overflowing wealth of Bible knowledge, which you need.
"THE WHOLE WORLD IS TO BE CAUGHT IN A TRAP SOON"
When the door of the Ark shut, everybody on the outside perished. Christ says, "As it was in the day of Noah, so shall it be in the coming of the Son of Man."
"1,000 year reign of Christ on the earth."—Scripture.

"EIGHT KINDS OF DEVILS"
This Will Explain How We Are Tempted.
"WORLD PREPARATION FOR COMING OF ANTICHRIST"
Pictures
What is the necessary preparation which the world must make before the Antichrist can come? Is it being made? Let me give you actual facts—Let me show you actual photographs on the screen. They are not vulgar but they are awful. Children are not to come to this service.
"THE SUPERNATURAL WORLD"
Let me take you behind the clouds and show you how much God thinks of you by giving the astounding evidence of His care through the aid of a ministering angels
"THE MINISTRY OF TEARS"
Why do we cry? Animals do not cry.
The tear is only temporary. The day is coming when cheeks will never be stained anymore with tears. "For God shall wipe away all tears from our eyes." What is the purpose of the tear?
"THE MARK OF THE BEAST"
The mark will be given by the False Prophet. The Bible tells us plainly what it is, when it will be given. If you don't take it, you'll not "buy or sell." If you do take it, God says he will "damn your soul." There's a way of escape. Be sure to hear this:
"THEN SHALL BE GREAT TRIBULATION"
This Tribulation is coming as punishment upon the earth. You do not need to be here for it. But, if you are, the Bible says, "Except those days should be shortened there should be no flesh be saved." Matt. 24:22.
"THE FOUR JERUSALEMS THE TWO ADAMS THE TWELVE PEARLY GATES."
For people who are living on the earth now, if you have not entered through the Pearly Gates, here and now, in this life, it is because you are not Born Again.
Let me show you "The City Four-square." Don't, please let anything stop you from hearing this eye-opening, factual message.
"DESTRUCTION OF RUSSIA"
The Bible says most clearly and emphatically that the destruction of Russia will be brought about by the Atomic Bomb, which will be placed in the hands of the Antichrist by the Ten Nations now being formed in Europe, five of whom have already been joined together. The appearing of the Antichrist and the destruction of Russia in Palestine are very, very near. Don't believe me. Hear these amazing Bible facts for yourself.
"20 Million U. S. Soldiers to Fight in Europe. None to Return."—Scripture
"WHY IS SATAN IN HEAVEN NOW?"
Is there such a person? Or is he an influence? Did he create himself or did God bring him into being? Why? What is the origin of sin? Why is Satan in HEAVEN now? Has he a job there? What is it? If he is in Heaven, how can he tempt you?
"THE FIVE CROWNS"
These are five rewards given by Christ at the Rapture to Christians for five particular jobs. Take advice Hear this message.
"THE RAPTURE"
Just as God saved people in Noah's day from the flood, so God is going to save people in our day from the Great Tribulation. That's why living people are going to be caught up at a certain time, just like Enoch and Elijah. The Bible says we're to be ready.
"A LIVING SACRIFICE"
This message will search your heart. You will leave the Church Tent with your eyes opened. I dare you to hear this message and not be different.
"THE INSIDE RIGHT"
Why does the Bible say "Get right with God?" What does that mean? Why does the Bible say "Forgive us our trespasses as we forgive those trespass against us?" Do you? Do you believe—I mean actually believe there's a God, a heaven, a hell, that Christ died? What happened to the man to whom Christ said, "One thing thou lackest?" Everybody should hear this message.
"AS IN THE DAYS OF NOAH"
Only eight people in that whole world escaped the flood. Christ says the same conditions will be in existence when He comes—Therefore, I'm asking you, how many people, church or otherwise, in the great city, will escape the Great Tribulation, which follows the Rapture of the Church? I Thes. 4:15-18. Luke 21:34-36. The coming of the Lord, according to the signs as stated in the Bible, is very near. Do your dead level best to hear this soul-stirring, gripping message.
"THE SECOND COMING OF CHRIST"
Christ says: "I will come again." . . . "Be ye also ready." . . . "Pray always that you may escape all these things." . . . "Except those days should be shortened no flesh should be saved." . . . "Then shall be great tribulation such as was not since the beginning of the world." This is not in the Bible for fun.
"THE TWO VINES"
Many ministers, who have heard this message declare it to be Dr. McBirnie's Finest.

Planning Board Okays Change

One zone change was approved, subdivision plats okayed, and several requests rejected by Lubbock Planning commission at last night's regular monthly meeting in City hall.

On recommendation of the zoning committee, a request of J. H. Dillard to change lots 22, 23, and 24, block 10, and lots 1, 2, 3, 21, 22, 23 and 24, block 11, original town of Lubbock, from an "E" to an "F" zone was approved.

Recommendation Made

Coupled with the approval of Dillard's request was a recommendation by the Planning commission to the City commission that a building line be established on Fourth street between Ave. A and Ave. H in order that off-street parking might be established when deemed advisable.

The commission rejected a request by Mrs. Earl C. Scott to change the north half of block 49, Overton addition, from a "B" to an "E" zone on the basis that such spot zoning is illegal.

Rejected on a like basis was the request of C. E. Donnell to change lot 28, block 30, Roberts & McWhorter addition from a residential to a business zone.

Several Plats Approved

Plats approved by the commission included: Casey subdivision between Ellwood street and Twenty-fourth street at Hayes avenue; The Pace & Stokes addition between Fortieth and Forty-second streets from Jefferson to Monroe avenues; and Park Terrace addition between Pierce and Garfield avenues and Twenty-sixth and Thirty-fourth streets.

A request from Hugh Anderson to re-adopt a part of the original F. R. Friend addition as an addition to Parks addition was approved contingent upon his submitting a plat meeting the approval of the city engineering department.

Commission members present at the meeting included K. N. Clapp, chairman; Homer D. Grant, W. L. Bradshaw, J. H. Murdough and R. L. Oldham.

Attack Suspect Held

advances, he struck her several times and attempted to choke her, she told Salyars.

She indicated that she escaped the man at one time, but was caught and struck "a severe blow." She knew no more, she said, until she found herself in the hospital.

Statements of the cab driver, who again answered a call at the tourist court, indicated that the girl was taken home about 3:30 a. m. and placed inside the door of her home. Her mother, who came down to see the daughter, reportedly found her slumped in a chair.

Theft Charge Filed

The attending physician at the hospital said the woman had bruises about the face, neck and back, and a possible broken jaw, Salyars said. X-rays are to be taken today to determine full extent of her injuries.

Hegdal, arrested early Thursday after the mother had reported her daughter's condition to officers, was held on an aggravated assault charge until the girl's statement to Salyars warranted filing of the more serious charge.

J. H. Lemley, 30, who gave his address as Crosbyton, was charged Thursday with car theft in the justice court of Robertson. He was arrested that morning on a farm near Posey.

He was treated in the hospital ward of county jail for minor injuries believed suffered when he turned over the car several times near his place of arrest.

He was wearing a shoe which matched one found near the wrecked car, officials said. The car, owned by J. E. White of Slaton, was badly damaged, it was reported.

Third Charge Filed

A third charge of embezzlement was filed Thursday against Richard A. Woodring, 26, of Texhoma, Okla., who was returned here this week from Pawhuska, Okla., on a charge that produced a Monday indictment.

He is accused in the latest charge of embezzlement of a $91.77 check drawn on the account of Bryant's taxi, by Homer A. Bryant, and payable to the order of Hub Lee Tire Co. H. A. Lee was complainant, as in the other two instances.

Woodring is charged in the three complaints with having embezzled $5,572.18 in money and checks totaling $265.55.

Fine Is Assessed

Thurston W. Isbell, 41, of Wolfforth, was fined $100 and county court costs this morning when he pleaded guilty before County Judge Walter Davies of drunk driving, and, as is required by law in drunk driving convictions, his driver's license was suspended six months.

Ray Williams, 17, was fined $1 and county court costs on a plea of guilty of state check law violation.

Bond Is Posted

Cecil A. Trammel, jr., 32, of Lubbock, was arrested Thursday on a warrant charging desertion of five minor children, officials of the sheriff's department said. He posted $1,000 bond on the charge, filed in justice court of C. E. Lynn.

Hipolito Lopez, 46, of eight miles south of Lubbock, was placed under $250 peace bond after a jury in county court found him guilty of a charge of threatening to do bodily injury Dec. 25 to Felipe Estrada, County Attorney Waggoner Carr said. He reportedly threatened Estrada with his fists and a knife.

Theft reports to police Thursday included $100 taken from the residence of Ruby Thompson of 2313 Fourteenth, and a tire and wheel valued at $25 from the parked car of Elton Rogers of 2605 Ave. S.

respect, that of personal service, he said. Guests in European hotels "can have somebody at the door at anytime," he said. Valets, maids, waiters are on call. Hotels have more personnel and the payrolls are lower, he said.

It is just a matter of being able to get someone there faster, however, he added, because once there the European personnel cannot produce service as fast as can personnel in the United States hotels. Heating, lighting, water, tailoring service, drug service and other services are not as good as in hotels in this country, he said.

More Rooms Needed Here

He believes the shortage of hotel rooms in this country has eased. "There isn't any shortage right now, unless you run into a convention," he said. "Here in Lubbock, you still have an acute shortage. They're in need of another hotel."

Hilton hotels would not try to monopolize the business, he said. "We're just going to give them the best," he added confidently, smiling.

He said he likes the hotel business because, "I love to meet people." Art Griffith, manager of the Hilton hotel in Lubbock, added that to him it is the "most fascinating" business there is. Young Hilton agreed and said, "Something new and unexpected is happening all the time."

He explained that, "I've lived in hotels all my life and started working in them when I was very young."

Most Hotels Now Full

He expects to spend two to three months visiting all hotels in the Hilton hotel chain in this country. He cannot be sure of the length of time, because "We can go through a hotel that's empty a lot faster than we can go through one that's full and at the present time they're all fil." Those in New York, he said, "are going to be tough."

Hotels he will visit in addition to the Town House in Los Angeles and Hilton hotels in Lubbock and El Paso, are the Hilton hotel in Albuquerque, Stevens and Palmer House in Chicago, Dayton Biltmore in Dayton, O., Mayflower in Washington, D. C., Roosevelt and Plaza in New York and Palm Beach Biltmore in Palm Beach, Fla. He will not go to hotels in Bermuda, Puerto Rico or Mexico.

Hilton praised the Hilton hotel in Lubbock as "well built, clean, well run, well kept and well managed."

Several men formerly connected with Hilton hotel in Lubbock still are associated with Hilton Hotels, Inc. J. B. Herndon, now vice president and treasurer of Hilton hotels, with headquarters in Chicago, had headquarters in Dallas while the Hilton hotel here was being built and visited here frequently. Vernon Herndon, former manager, now is manager of the Palmer House in Chicago. Porter Parris, formerly a clerk here, is manager of Hilton hotel in El Paso. Don Burger, former manager here, now lives in California and is not associated with the Hilton organization. Jack Drown, formerly employed at the hotel here, lives in San Diego and is not connected with the Hilton hotels.

Young Hilton's father started his hotel business in San Antonio, N. M., where he began by packing bags. Conrad N. Hilton, jr., was born in Dallas and later lived in El Paso. He attended New Mexico Military Institute, Loyola university and DePaul university.

He has a younger brother, William Barron, who is president of an orange juice business in California, and another, Erick Michael, who lives with his mother in Washington and at 14 is interested in football.

Fruit Prices Jump

$3.50 to $8 a bushel. Tomatoes climbed $1 a lug to $5 and carrots brought 40 cents a dozen bunches compared to a previous 25 cents.

While California's losses running into millions were being tabulated, Mayor James Pettit of Pomona, one of the richest citrus communities pleaded for a three-year mortorium to give freeze-stricken growers from California to Florida a chance to recoup their losses.

Mayor Pettit said he had wired President Truman and other national and state leaders urging "a three-year moratorium on accumulated farm debts incurred."

Two Men Treated Here For Oil Field Mishap Injuries

Two men, Dave Kinney III, 20, and Charles L. Dickey, both reported to be residents of Denver City, remained in West Texas hospital last night for treatment of injuries received in an oil field accident Thursday.

Kinney's condition was reported to be "good." His hurts consisted of a broken rib, bruises and a gash over his left eye. Dickey's condition was reported "only fair." He suffered loss of several teeth, a severed left ear, broken hand, and possible brain concussion.

According to reports the accident happened about 18 miles north of Plains during a drillstem test, when the backlash caused chain tongs to swing around and hit Kinney in the back. At about the same time the hose struck Dickey in the face. They were employes of Noble Drilling company, of Hobbs, N. M.

Lubbock Salesman Recovering After Auto Mishap At Slaton

Tommy Morrow, 23, Lubbock auto salesman injured in an auto accident Thursday, was reported resting comfortably in Slaton Mercy hospital today.

Morrow suffered a chipped right hip bone and shock when his car overturned on "Compress curve" at Slaton. Morrow was reported to have formerly lived in Fort Worth.

NEW OFFICERS INSTALLED—Installed as new Lubbock Kiwanis club officers Thursday night were, above, left to right, W. C. Rylander, secretary, O. L. tary training, federal aid to education, and standby price-wage controls.

Republican leaders were reported working on statistics to show that if Mr. Truman's entire social program is enacted, it would jeopardize if not bankrupt the national economy.

Discords Arise

Senator Holland (D-Fla) told a reporter that proper presentation of the President's program to Congress will result in a "long honeymoon," but even as he spoke, signs of discord were cropping up in the Senate and House corridors.

Southern Democrats openly flung down the gauntlet heralding a bitter all-out fight against the Truman civil rights program —anti-lynch, poll tax repeal and fair employment practices legislation.

Senators Ellender (D-La) and Hill (D-Ala) served notice they will combat any move to kill the Senate filibuster — and other southerners were prepared to back them to the hilt.

Hill said he could go along on most of Mr. Truman's proposals "but I can't go along with him on the civil rights issue."

Labor Bill Introduced

Senator Elbert Thomas (D-Utah) chairman of the Senate Labor committee, led off the Senate attack on the Taft-Hartley labor law, introducing a repealer bill and proposing restoration of the old Wagner Labor Relations act.

Thomas told the Senate his measure would retain only one feature of the Taft-Hartley law—the section increasing the National Labor Relations board from three members to five. But he said other new labor legislation will be needed, and noted that Mr. Truman yesterday suggested that certain strike-curbing measures are required to safeguard the nation's economy.

In this connection, Mr. Truman urged a ban on jurisdictional strikes and "unjustifiable" secondary boycotts, along with methods to settle or prevent strikes in vital industries.

A sequel to the bitter 1948 battle over housing was also in the offing, with Senator Taft (R-Ohio) and Senator Flanders (R-Vt) declaring that Mr. Truman's program for 1,000,000 government-financed low-rent dwellings in seven years is "too big."

However, seven Democratic senators put their names on a bill designed to give Mr. Truman just what he wants.

Farm Price Supports

price support plan enacted by the GOP Congress but not yet in operation. It would lower price floors if farmers produce surplus crops.

Four other Democrats—including Senator Lucas (Ill)., soon to become majority leader, and Senator Anderson—adopted a compromise position.

They say they lean toward flexible price supports but may want to revise those now on the books.

GOP Plan Attacked

During the war the Democratic administration asked and got a support program of 90 per cent of parity to encourage an all-out production effort by farmers. Parity is a computed price intended to give a farm product the same purchasing power it had during a past favorable period.

Most farm products soared well above the government price support level during the war and have remained there.

Last year President Truman and the administration asked for a long range farm program that would include flexible supports.

Instead the GOP Congress in its closing moments last summer gave him a patchwork combination that continued the wartime price support levels during this year and provided for a flexible support plan thereafter.

Officers Installed

ticular significant contribution to the need of man.

If a civilization could not or did not make a second significant contribution, it would begin to wane and another civilization would rise to ascendency.

"America is the epitomy of such civilizations," the minister declared. It made its contribution, he said, not in religion, government, philosophy, art and literature, or medicine, but in mass production. America has taken its place among the great civilizations because of its ability to produce.

Distribution Problem Rises

"The upsurge of Christian, democratic spirit has put America in its high place," Mr. Kerr declared.

But, he continued, although America is able to produce in quantity for man, the question now is, can America make the next significant contribution, that of distribution?

"America, in its Christian, democratic way, can attack this problem of distribution to all mankind, and is beginning to do it.

"If it can do it, America will have established the greatest civilization and made the greatest contribution," he said.

Speaking of Kiwanis clubs and members in America, Mr. Kerr said that Kiwanis members, in speech and thought, seek to preserve our heritage, and through its strength aid others who are in need.

Officers Are Installed

Contrary to those who hold that luncheon service clubs (Kiwanis included) actually do little good in social work, are little interested in doing such good, and seek to preserve the status quo, Mr. Kerr pointed out that even more important than its local good deeds is the Kiwanis attitude, which seeks to "spread out" and influence others to join in such work on an ever larger scale.

Mr. Kerr's address was punctuated with keen wit and humor which was subtle at times and direct at others, but always appreciated by his audience.

Rev. Hubert Bratcher, minister of St. John's Methodist church, who acted as toastmaster at the banquet, introduced Rev. Kerr.

Ray C. Mowery presided at the installation of the new officers, which included Fred Sparks, president; Roy Bass, first vice president; O. Larry Byrd, second vice president; and W. C. Rylander, secretary-treasurer.

The president's button was pinned on Sparks by L. E. Davis, outgoing president. In turn, Davis was presented the past president's button by Sparks.

Directors Recognized

Club directors for 1949 were recognized after the installation. They include L. E. Davis, ex-officio; Robert J. Allen, James Atcheson, Homer L. Cain, Fred H. Childress, Walter G. Clayton, J. D. Hassell, jr., Louie F. Moore, O. J. (Bo) Sexton, and C. W. (Bill) Tatum.

Gerre Hancock presented piano music during the dinner. Preceding Rev. Kerr's address, Bill Harrod presented a number of violin selections, with piano accompaniment by Roy Bass.

Sparks, who presided at the gathering, presented Rev. Kerr a certificate of honorary membership in the Lubbock Kiwanis club.

New members to the Lubbock club who had transferred from Kiwanis clubs elsewhere were introduced, including B. S. Mills, Samuel H. Lindsey, and George Bunton.

Planes Drop Supplies

Army officials declared the air operation was one of the biggest ever attempted.

Planes dropped food, blankets and medical supplies.

Ground operations also were in full swing as Army "weasels" and huge rotary plows ripped at mountainous drifts in northern Colorado and southern Wyoming to reach snow-bound communities.

Fifth Army headquarters in Chicago ordered out a platoon of ski troops, 10 medical corpsmen and four radio operators from Camp Carson, Colo., to assist in rescue work.

Planes from Lowry field in Denver also aided in the supply work.

Planes concentrated their food and fuel dropping operations in the North Platte, Neb., area which was called a disaster district by the Red Cross.

Lowry field planes dropped supplies at Sidney, Neb., where 1,000 isolated persons sent out distress signals.

Lubbock Man, Hurt In Auto Accident, Is 'Holding Own'

Paul Watkins, 30, of Lubbock route 2, remained in a serious condition at St. Mary's hospital Thursday night as a result of injuries received in an automobile accident about 3 a. m. yesterday.

Hospital attendants said that Watkins was "holding his own," but that he was still unconscious from a fractured vertabrae in the neck and serious head injuries.

The automobile accident occurred on the Shallowater highway about four miles northwest of Lubbock.

BULLITT SAYS NATIONALISTS NEED U. S. AID QUICKLY

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6. (AP)—William C. Bullitt reported to Congress today that Nationalist China's forces will require "American direction and control, exercised by a fighting general" to defeat the Communists.

He said "it is very late" but "not yet too late" to save China from the Communists.

Bullitt, a former U. S. diplomat, made his report to the joint Senate-House Committee on Foreign Economic Cooperation. The group sent him to the Far East as a special representative last November.

After reporting to the committee at a closed door session, Bullitt told reporters he thought an American general with a staff of 600 officers should be sent to China. He said: "I believe General MacArthur could do the job in less time than any other general."

Chairman Bridges (R-NC) told a news conference Bullitt was sent to China to ascertain the latest economic and military conditions and the "necessity for further American help."

Bullitt said the Chinese have no single government general with the military training and technical skill to meet the attack of a Communist army of more than 2,000,000 men.

New Legislature To Have About $318 Millions In Spending Fund

By DAVE CHEAVENS
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, Jan. 6.—The 51st Legislature will have about 318 million dollars in General fund spending money when it meets next week.

This is approximately 133 million more new money than the 50th session had two years ago.

These figures come from Comptroller George Sheppard's biennial revenue estimate filed today by Gov. Beauford H. Jester and the Legislature, as the law requires.

They are all in terms of General revenue — the fund from which most operating expenses for state government is drawn. Many other expenditures are allocated by the constitution and by the statutes, and are not included.

In round numbers, this is how it looks from the comptroller's report:

Estimated General fund revenue for the next two fiscal years, 218 million dollars.

Approximate General revenue fund balance, 100 million. Total 318 million.

Two years ago, the comptroller estimated General fund revenue for the next two year fiscal period would be 140 million. The difference between 218 and 140 is 78 million, or the increase in anticipated revenues.

Two years ago, the Legislature had a General fund balance of 45 million dollars to start with. The current balance is 55 million more.

Add the 78 and 55 million and you get the 133 million more in new money.

All the Legislature has to do is figure out where to spend it.

Los Angeles City Officials Discharge Seven Employes

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 6. (INS)—The city of Los Angeles today summarily discharged seven health department employees for refusing to comply fully with a loyalty oath ordinance.

Three doctors were among those dismissed. They were Drs. Samuel Rosenthal, David M. Goldstein and Sanford Ulman.

The others ousted from their jobs were nurses Olga Pacifico and Frances Schwartz, photograper Harry N. Beckerman and Clark Vera S. Mann.

The Civil Service commission announced that the nurses took the oath of allegiance to the United States, but refused to sign affidavits declaring they had not been members of the Communist party within the last five years.

Marital Tangle Is Straightened Out

CHICAGO, Jan. 6.—(INS)—Claude Koch, who became the third husband of his first wife, married again today — but not Mrs. Millicent Koch Oberg Koch Oberg.

The new Mrs. Koch is the former Miss Julia Stankunas, 26, who said she was on the verge of advertising for a husband when she met Koch.

Mrs. Koch said she wrote Koch last November after she saw his picture in a newspaper standing up as best man at his first and third wife's wedding to her second and fourth husband.

Dove At First Sight

"When he didn't answer the letter," the present Mrs. Koch said, "I called him on the telephone, and we made a date. It was love at first sight." She added:

"I came to Chicago from West Frankfort seven years ago and have been very lonely. I was just about to advertise for a husband when Claude's picture was in the paper."

Koch and his first wife were divorced March 15, 1947. Five days later she married Raymond Oberg. They were divorced April 9, 1948, and she re-married Koch the same day. She then divorced Koch for the second time last Nov. 26, and re-married Oberg the following day, with Koch as best man.

House Speaker Rivals Deny 'Compromise'

AUSTIN, Jan. 6. —(AP)— Both Rep. Durwood Manford of Smiley and Rep. Joe Kilgore of McAllen today denied they were planning a compromise in their hot race for the speakership of the house.

"Right now, I definitely plan to fight it out," said Kilgore shortly after reaching Austin this evening. "If he (Manford) wants to see me and talk to me, I'm perfectly willing."

"I haven't seen or talked with Kilgore," said Manford, who reportedly holds an edge in the number of pledged votes in the speakership race. "I don't know anything about a compromise. If he wants to withdraw, that's all right with me."

When the Legislature convents next Tuesday, election of the speaker will be the first order of business.

BIG RUINS FOUND

MOSCOW —(AP)— The ancient city of Ulurat mentioned by Ptolmy has been discovered. "Evening Moscow" said the Bosporsk Archeological Expedition, using the writings of Ptolmy, unearthed the remains of the city about 10 feet below the surface in a hilly area not far from Kerch, in the Crimea. The ruins of Ulurat are now being talked of as a "Kerch Pompei." The discoveries are said to be the most historically significant found in many years in Russia.

Texan Paid Tribute On 67th Birthday

Truman Visits Capitol For Dinner Honoring Rayburn

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6. (AP) — The President of the United States and other friends of Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas helped Rayburn celebrate his 67th birthday today.

President Truman paid a surprise visit to the capitol to share honors with Rayburn at a luncheon. The luncheon was arranged by longtime friends of the Texan and by high government officials.

And, as usual for the last 30 years, the speaker was to eat his birthday dinner as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Aston, his intimate friends.

Friends Attend

Mrs. Aston, now nearing 80, cooks the birthday dinner. A few close friends of the speaker are usually invited. Aston served in the Texas state legislature with Rayburn.

Before the speaker's dinner with the Astons he was a guest for a reception in his honor given by Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson, wife of Texas' new senator.

Majority Leader McCormack (D-Mass) called attention on the House floor to the fact that it was Rayburn's birthday. He wished the speaker at least 50 more such anniversaries. Both Democrats and Republicans applauded.

The President was accompanied to the luncheon by Jack Cowart of Dallas, now an Agriculture department official. Cowart was host at a luncheon in Rayburn's honor a year ago, when the President was also a guest.

Attorney General Tom Clark, Senators Anderson (D-New Mex) and Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex); House Majority Leader McCormack, and Texas Reps. Patman and Worley were among others at the luncheon.

Rayburn was born Jan. 6, 1882, near Kingston, Tenn. He moved to Texas when he was five years old. He served in the Texas legislature from 1907 to 1912. He entered Congress March 4, 1913.

Survey Shows Bootlegging On Increase In Southern States

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 6. (INS)—Bootlegging is booming in Texas.

The alcohol tax unit for the San Antonio district reports that the bootlegging is increasing in Texas, Mississippi and Louisiana.

The unit's most recent monthly report shows 42 stills confiscated in the three states. The same month last year, only 28 stills were destroyed. Some 15,800 gallons of mash, three times as much as last year, was seized in the raids.

100 Cases Of Contraband Whisky Leave Lubbock For Legal Sale

One hundred cases of whiskey that had been seized over the last three months in his 23-county district were shipped from Lubbock Thursday to a Galveston liquor retailer, it was announced by Charley Fuller, deputy supervisor of the Texas Liquor Control board.

Another 100 cases are in storage and will be shipped after the contraband is labeled, boxed and, some of it, stamped with Texas stamps, Fuller said.

Bids for contraband liquor are made to the state office of the board. Beer, hundreds of cases of which are sold from this district each year, is sold after bids are submitted by Fuller.

Hope Loses First Round With Vodka

U.S. Comedian On German Tour Feels Crowded By Russians

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When you see how the German people are paying for their mistakes you feel like praying that the United States never will have any "ism" but Americanism. So says screen, stage and radio star Bob Hope in the following article giving his impressions of Germany during a recent 10-day tour. This is the second of these articles.)

o o o

By BOB HOPE
(Written Expressly For INS)

A week or so ago we slept in Goering's private hunting lodge just a few miles from Fassberg, Germany, and 17 miles from the Russian zone.

Our Air Force boys now use it for a rest center—as much as you can rest that close to the Russians.

It's pretty hard to go anywhere in Germany today without being crowded by the Russians.

We got off the beam in our plane in the corridor one night for a few minutes and when the pilot radioed "where am I?" a gruff voice answered "just out of range, comrade."

These are the hazards the air lift guys are facing on every errand of mercy keeping those two and a half million Germans in Berlin supplied with the necessary.

Gives Airmen Show

On Christmas Eve we played several hot spots in and around Wiesbaden, the Air Force base in central Germany, and celebrated with about 3,500 of our guys.

We had a couple of drinks of vodka with them.

It's quite an experience.

You know how Pepsi Cola hits the spot. Well, with vodka the spot hits you.

After getting a glimpse of the German people and how they are paying for the mistakes of an overambitious military madman you feel like praying that we will never have any "ism" except Americanism in our country.

Our vice-president elect, Sen. Alben Barkley, gave the boys quite a thrill by appearing with us for a few shows and he turned out to be a great story teller.

About the recent elections he said:

"This is the first time in history that the polls ever went to the dogs."

Doolittle In Caravan

Gen. Jimmy Doolittle also flew across with us on our Christmas caravan.

We were flying at about 18,000 feet and I said to the general "how near are we to heaven?"

He took one look at the gas gauge and said "nearer than you think."

Irving Berlin also came over on the plane with us. He didn't help our morale any. All the way across he kept singing "How Deep Is The Ocean?"

They have a tremendous coal shortage in Germany.

A lump came up in my throat the other day and before I could stop them two Germans were dragging me into their kitchen.

And the meat shortage is another problem.

When you hear that a family is putting on the dog they're not kidding.

That's why Gen. "Tonnage" Tunner is keeping the air lift lifeline going at top speed in spite of the constant Russian menace.

West Texas Oil Man, Land Owner Claimed By Death At Cisco

CISCO, Jan. 6. (U.P.)—Charles J. Kleiner, West Texas oil man and land owner who drilled the first well in Callahan county in 1924 and later opened a new field in Young county, died last night.

Community Chest Still Short Of Goal With $83,425.83 Collected

A total of $83,425.83 had been contributed for the 1949 budget of the Lubbock Community Chest, Earl Kerr, manager of the chest, said Thursday.

Since the chest campaign was reorganized and recalls made to firms recently, 7$,418 has been received.

The fund is about $14,000 short of the goal of $97,500. Kerr estimated that possibly $500 to $600 may still be added to the total.

Moscow Papers Print 49-Word Story On President's Talk

MOSCOW, Jan. 6. (AP)—Moscow newspapers printed a 49-word item today on President Truman's State of the Union message.

The item, a Tass dispatch from Washington, said the speech was devoted basically to domestic problems, but also contained "most important foreign policy questions."

Russian readers were told also that Congress does not intend to drop the House- Un-American activities committee.

Sen. Lucas (D-Ill) and Rep. McCormack (D-Mass) were quoted by Tass as saying changes would be sought in Rules governing the committee work.

"This bears witness to the fact the government does not intend to liquidate the committee in answer to demands of the public," the Soviet news agency said, "but is only looking for better appearing methods of persecuting Democratic elements."

Rep. Marcantonio (ALP-N. Y.) then was quoted at length on the same subject.

FALSE TEETH

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped of wabbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Washington Family Loses In Fight To Keep Small Daughter

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 6. (INS)—Mr. and Mrs. John Braget of Tocoma, Wash., today lost their fight to keep the young mother's 3-year-old daughter, Vicki, and were ordered to appear Feb. 4 for their extradition hearing on a complaint that they are fugitives from Pennsylvania.

The Bragets surrendered to authorities in Pomona, Cal., when they learned that they were wanted in Pennsylvania for kidnaping Mrs. Braget's daughter by a previous marriage.

At a child custody hearing in juvenile court, Judge A. A. Scott returned the child to her paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Snyder of Harrisburg, Pa.

The jurist held that Snyder, who appeared in court, had presented sufficient evidence to show that he and his wife had legally adopted the tot.

Former Dallas Police Officer Defends Fixing Traffic Tickets

DALLAS, Jan. 6. (AP)—Former Dallas police Capt. T. P. Garretson says that fixing traffic tickets and illegally shortening traffic fines is "a proper function of government."

During his 1924-1935 tenure of office, he told a three-man city council board last night, he fixed inunmerable tickets.

"And a lot of them I fixed, I got the orders to do it from upstairs," he said, apparently referring to higher civil authorities.

The board met to consider the case of former corporation court Clerk L. Engledow, 59, who was suspended last November following disclosure of a traffic ticket fixing scheme whereby violators were falsely recorded as having served jail sentences in lieu of paying fines. The board put Engledow back on the payroll in view of his "age, service, and because no money passed hands."

While Better Mouse Trap Waits Inventor, Old Style Does Fine

MADISON, Wis., Jan. 6.—(U.P.) Some day the world may beat a path to the door of the man who invents a better mouse trop.

But until then, University of Wisconsin zoologists say, the old-fashioned snap trap is still the best mouse catcher.

A team of zoologists studying rodent habits found that poisons don't do too good a job in eliminating mice. The reason is that mice are "intermittent feeders" and seldom stop in one place long enough to eat a lethal dose of poison bait.

PRESIDENT RECEIVES 303 VOTES TO DEWEY'S 189

HST Makes Unusual Visit To House To Watch As Ballot Count Officially Makes Him Next President

By DARRELL GARWOOD
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—President Truman was elected officially to another White House term today at a joint Senate-House ceremony that recorded the ballots of the electoral college.

The President made a precedent breaking visit to the House chamber during the session and watched with interest. He remarked upon leaving:

"It looks as though I'm ahead."

Mr. Truman made his surprise visit to attend a luncheon honoring House Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex) on his 67th birthday.

Greeted By Solons

After the luncheon the President went first to the Democratic cloakroom. Next he entered the rear of the chamber and leaned nonchalantly over a railing, listening with smiling fascination to the counting of the 531 ballots.

The presence of the chief executive delayed the count. As soon as senators and representatives spotted him, they hurried to his side and shook hands.

Then the count went on, with Sens. Green (D-RI) and Wherry (R-Neb) and Reps Norton (D-NJ) and Graham (R-Pa) as tellers, while Senate President Pro Tempore McKellar (D-Tenn) and Rayburn presided.

The count of course was as decreed by the voters last Nov. 2—303 for Mr. Truman, 189 for defeated GOP Candidate Thomas E. Dewey and 39 for States Rights Candidate J. Strom Thurmond. One Tennesse elector voted for Thurmond despite his state's action in going for the Truman-Barkley ticket.

Veterans in Congress could remember no other instance in modern history when a President has been on hand at the official tabulation of the electoral college vote.

In counting the ballots, Mrs. Norton made two mistakes. She erroneously gave Connecticut's six votes to the President and Barkley instead of Dewey and Warren. Later she gave New York's 47 votes to the Democratic standard bearers.

'Missing' Senator, Actress Linked In Romance Reports

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6. (INS)—The nation's capital speculated tonight as to the whereabouts of Sen. Warren Magnuson (D-Wash) listed as "necessarily absent" from the Senate and reported romancing with a west coast movie actress.

Magnuson, who informed colleagues that he would miss the opening session of the 81st Congress, still was absent today.

Democratic sources in the upper chamber said that Magnuson was taking care of some matters in his home state.

Whereabouts Unknown

Published reports which said that the handsome, 43-year-old senator was involved in a romance with June Millarde, 25-year-old, golden-haired actress, known as Toni Seven, lacked confirmation.

Magnuson's apartment in Washington's fashionable Shoreham hotel was unoccupied. The management reported:

"The senator is keeping his apartment, but he has not been here for some time."

Hollywood was unable to shed any light on Magnuson's whereabouts, and no one in the movie capital was able to locate the actress. Intimates of the two said they had no idea where either might be.

Some quarters in Washington heard that Magnuson was on his way to Washington by plane or train—and there were rumors that he and Miss Millarde had been married in a secret ceremony.

The speculation about the senator ranged from the capitol to the dwellings of the socially-prominent, where Magnuson is in high favor.

Stripling Resigns As Chief Investigator Of Committee

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—(AP)—Robert E. Stripling has resigned formally as chief investigator of the House Un-American Activities committee.

The 36-year-old Texan has played a major part in spectacular committee investigations into Red operations, spying and Communist activity in Hollywood. Now he plans to return to Texas, take a "long rest," and then "accept a position offered me in the oil industry."

The resolution was effective last Monday, when the 80th Congress went out of business. But Stripling has stayed on to help get out a final report on what the committee has done in the last two years.

400,000 Pounds Of Meat Is Condemned In Fort Worth

FORT WORTH, Jan. 6. (U.P.)—Some 400,000 pounds of meat were condemned during 1948 by city sanitarians in Fort Worth, it was disclosed today.

In addition to the meat, the 20 men working out of the office of city sanitary engineer Ralph Hardy condemned some 350,000 pounds of other foodstuffs last year.

Russia To Return 12 British Ships Borrowed During The War

LONDON, Jan. 6.—(AP)—Twelve British warships loaned to the Soviet Union during the war will be returned to England starting Jan. 15, the admiralty said tonight.

When the ships were loaned to Russia in 1944, she agreed to return them after receiving her share of the Italian war fleet.

SPRING GETS THE BIRD

SYDNEY, Australia —(AP)— An early bird got two yards of the wrong sort of worm recently in northeastern Victoria, Australia. The bird, a magpie, was discovered on its side and gasping. A tug at what looked like a worm protruding from its mouth pulled out two yards of stout twine which the magpie had almost succeeded in swallowing. After this the bird got up and flew away.

Oklahoma May Vote On Liquor

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 6. (U.P.)—Prohibition repeal may be submitted to a vote of the people during a recess of the current law-making session.

If repeal is approved by the people, the legislature can count on an extra $10,000,000 to $15,000,000 in liquor revenue to solve financial problems hanging heavy over the session.

Backers Are Sought

There is no certainty at this moment that a repeal measure can be pushed through both Houses. But the men who bear the responsibility of writing the legislative program will do their part in advancing submission.

Nothing will be done until an initiative petition now being circulated by the Oklahoma economic institute is filed with the secretary of state. A goal of 200,000 by Feb. 1 has been set by the institute.

(OEI leaders said in Tulsa that 75,000 signers had been obtained up to yesterday.)

The institute's proposed amendment is not necessarily the one that will be advocated by legislative leaders for the special election. The institute's amendment does not state whether liquor should be sold through private dealers or a state monopoly. There is some sentiment among legislators to make liquor selling a state monopoly.

From a revenue-raising standpoint, the monopoly would produce far more money, they believe.

One legislative leader said it would require at least two to three weeks to get the repeal resolution passed in both houses. This would throw the special election probably into late February or March.

There is ample precedent for a special election in the middle of a legislative session. In 1941 the legislature took time out for the people to vote on the budget-balancing amendment and the amendment setting up the state regents for higher education.

Legislative leaders could draft their bill merely by amending one of those already submitted

U. S. Official Takes New Slap At Dutch Tactics In Indonesia

By GEORGE DURNO
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.— The U. S. government, through acting Secretary of State Lovett, today re-emphasized its disapproval of aggressive Dutch military tactics in Indonesia.

Apprehension was expressed that armed Dutch envelopment of the anti-Communist nationalist government of Indonesia might in the end play directly into the hands of the Communists in the Far East.

Hope was held that the Netherlands government immediately would give "concrete demonstration of its intention to satisfy the legitimate aspirations of the Indonesians for self-rule."

Policy Outlined In Letter

This expression of U. S. policy was made known, not through customary diplomatic channels, but in a letter from Lovett to CIO President Philip Murray. It was a reply to the American labor leader's earlier expression of hope that the U. S. government could be instrumental in stopping Indonesian hostilities.

Wednesday night, the U. S. officially made another gesture of disapproval of Dutch operations by recalling H. Merle Cochran for "consultation." Cochran is the U. S. representative on the United Nations Security Council's Good Offices committee which tried unsuccessfully for months to settle the Dutch East Indies dispute.

Lovett wrote to Murray:

"The United States cannot, of course, endorse or condone a solution by force of such a problem as that in Indonesia. Insofar as further action by the (Security) Council is concerned, that will depend upon the ability of at least seven members to reach agreement."

Anti-Red Stand Recalled

Referring to the unsuccessful efforts of the Good Offices committee — Australia and Belgium are the other members—to end the current bloodshed in Indonesia, the acting state secretary continued:

"This government was mindful of the proved nationalist character of the republican government of President Sukarno and Prime Minister Hatta, which, laboring under signal difficulties, has resolutely taken action against and eliminated a Communist revolt against its authority, engineered by a Moscow-trained and disciplined Communist agent."

(Sukarno, Hatta and other Republican leaders were taken prisoners when the Dutch first started their "police action" which has resulted in seizure of all keypoints in Indonesia.) Continuing, Lovett declared:

"In deciding to oppose the Communist drive rather than to attempt to compromise with it, the Republican government indicated its appreciation of what is so well understood by all independent peoples; that is, that in paying lip service to the nationalist ideal in any country, international Communist forces have no other end in view but the subversion of that idea, the rigorous suppression of nationalism in the future and the institution of allen controls of far-reaching and tyrannical character.

"Had there ever been any doubt on this score, the fate of such formerly independent countries as Poland and Czechoslovakia should have dispelled it."

Two Men Die Of Gas Fumes Near Odessa

ODESSA, Jan. 6. (AP)—Two persons died of gas fumes near here late yesterday and a man who tried to rescue them was in a critical condition today.

The men were overcome by gas in an empty oil tank five miles south of Penwell.

Dead were Robert Grayum McKinight, 18, and Ray Wakefield, 34, both employes of Bradberry and Sasser, contractors, Wink.

They were cleaning the tank when one of them was overcome. The other went to his rescue. Obie L. Binnicker, 25, also of Wink, went to the rescue and also was overcome. He was in a serious condition today in a hospital.

Shell Oil company workers found the three and tore a plate off the tank to remove them.

Indications Of Production Are Shown In Yoakum County Test

An indication of production from the Devonian lime and chert in Southwest Yoakum County, has been developed at the Denver Producing & Refining Company No. 17-C Elliott, deep wildcat in the southwest side of the Wasson 5,100 field.

This prospector took a drillstem test in the Devonian at 9,670-9,716 feet. The tool was open for two hours. Recovery was 30 feet of 30-gravity oil, and 700 feet of oil cut drilling mud. No signs of formation water were reported.

The venture has drilled ahead to 9,767 feet, and was due to run another drillstem test.

These reports are from unofficial sources. Some geologists have picked a tentative, unofficial top of the Devonian to be at 9,670 feet. Elevation is 3,618 feet. If that mark is correct the Denver wildcat is extra high to the nearest dry explorations which have penetrated into the Devonian.

The project is 1,312 feet from south and 1,070 feet from east lines of section 832, block D, John H. Gibson survey.

Wildcat Drilling Ahead

Cooper-Hemphill Company No. 1 Alley, Central Hale County wildcat to around 8,000 feet, located 660 feet from north and west lines of section 10, block A-3, EL&RR survey, had reached 3,870 feet in lower San Andres-Permian dolomite, and was drilling ahead.

Top of the San Andres was called at 2,710 feet. Elevation is 3,452 feet. No signs of oil have been logged in this venture up to now.

Basement Complex Found

The basement complex has apparently been found at Shell Oil Company, Inc., No. 1 Hawkins, South-Central Gaines County discovery from the Ellenburger, the Devonian and the Wolfcamp.

It has drilled ahead to 12,289 feet in chert, quartz and dolomite after proving production in the top of the Ellenburger. Bottomed on that depth, the wildcat was fishing for three bit cones.

When the current fishing job is cleaned up, the venture is expected to drill ahead to solid granite. It is then due to plug back and complete from the Ellenburger.

Location is 1,983 feet from north and 665 feet from east lines of section 8, block A-23, psl survey. Nearest production is two and one-half miles to the northeast in the Robertson field.

Sun Oil Company and The Ohio Oil Company No. 1 Helms, Northeast Scurry County wildcat, 20 miles northeast of Snyder, and 660 feet from south and west lines of section 636, block 97, H&TC survey was swabbing on section at 7,140-7,237 feet in the Ellenburger.

After the venture had been shutin for several hours, operator went in with the swab and found the fluid at 1,000 feet from bottom. The swab was pulled three times and the hole swabbed dry.

Recovery on those three pulls was a slight amount of oil and gas cut drilling water and drilling mud.

The project was allowed to stand for one hour and filled up with 75 feet of fluid. It then stood overnight. When opened at daylight 900 feet of fluid was found in the well. Two runs of the swab recovered 500 feet of oil and gas cut mud. There was no free oil. Swabbing was continuing.

Top of the Ellenburger is at 7,185 feet, according to some geologists.

Ralls Editor Named Director Of South Plains Press Association

LEVELLAND, Jan. 6 (Special)—Ernest Joiner, editor of the Ralls Banner, has been named a director of the South Plains Press association. Joiner was selected by E. I. Hill, Tahoka, president of the group.

Lois H. Vestal, of Levelland, secretary-treasurer of the organization and editor of the South Plains Press, monthly magazine, made the announcement.

Many San Antonio Killings Blamed On Music In 'Joints'

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 6. (INS)—San Antonio homicide detective Johnny Barrera has his doubts about the peaceful charms of music.

Barrera estimates about 70 per cent of San Antonio's 46 killings this year are directly attributable to music — in West Side "Polka joints."

Barrera says the "Polka Joints" are establishments which boast two or three musicians instead of the conventional juke box.

He says the "hot licks" of the bands inflame the intoxicated patrons and cause long-smoldering quarrels to burst into violence.

43 Negro And White Students Picket Oklahoma State Capitol

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 6. (U.P.)—Forty Langston university negroes and three white students from the University of Oklahoma picketed the state capitol in an hour-long, peaceful demonstration today.

They protested segregation in state colleges and demanded that "old Jim Crow must go."

The white students were Maurice Ogden, St. Louis, Okla., Don Stearman, Oklahoma City, and Miss Mary Katherine Kickman, Pauls Valley.

Ogden, who was active in the Henry Wallace movement before the election, said university officials warned them they would be subject to disciplinary action if any violence occurred.

"They did not refuse to let us come," he said.

The negro students are members of the Oklahoma joint equal education committee, formed to promote better education opportunities for Oklahoma negroes.

Dallas Symphony Leader Quits To Conduct Minneapolis Group

DALLAS, Jan. 6—(U.P.)—The Dallas Symphony society will meet Friday to discuss its choice of a successor to Antal Dorati, brilliant young conductor of the Dallas Symphony orchestra.

Dorati announced yesterday that he had accepted an offer to conduct the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra at a salary exceeding the $22,500 he received here annually.

In accepting the Minneapolis baton, Dorati will succeed Dmitri Mitropoulos, who will become co-conductor of the New York Philharmonic-Symphony orchestra.

The 42-year-old Dallas maestro declined to discuss his new salary after the Minneapolis Orchestra association refused to disclose the terms of the new contract. It was reported in Dallas music circles that he would receive $2,500 more per year.

Woman, Two Children Hurt At Bus And Ancient Car Collide

DALLAS, Jan. 6. (U.P.)—A Texas Motor coach bus, Dallas-bound, and an ancient model Ford collided at the city's edge this afternoon and three persons were injured.

They were identified as Mrs. Lee Richardson and her two young sons, George and Walter. Parkland hospital attendants said none of them was critically hurt. Their car, however, was virtually destroyed by the impact of the crash.

None of the 25 passengers or the driver of the bus, Norman Havenhill of Fort Worth, was hurt.

Five Men Fined For Selling Horse Meat

HOUSTON, Jan. 6.—(AP)—Five Houston packing house and meat company operators charged with selling horse meat for human consumption have been fined $4,825.

County Court at Law Judge John Snell assessed the fines after receiving pleas of guilty from the operators, also charged with selling sulphite treated meat and with violating the Texas assumed name statute.

Largest fine assessed by Snell was $2,525 against Leon Boeker, former owner of the B and C Meat company which held a contract to supply meant to Houston school cafeterias last year.

L. A. Harris was fined a total of $650 on seven counts, while V. A. Wilborn, Harry Silverman and William Siros each were fined a total of $550 for three counts each.

Ban Against Enlisted Men At Berlin Club Is Lifted

BERLIN, Jan. 6. (U.P.)—Harnack house, Berlin's fashionable club for American officers and civilians, today took down freshly-posted signs that proclaimed, "no enlisted men allowed."

The club manager said the ban on enlisted guests had been suspended temporarily until it can be discussed at an open membership meeting next Tuesday. The ban had been approved Tuesday night by the club's board of governors.

It was believed Army authorities exerted behind-the-scenes pressure to get the ban lifted.

European Nations Indicate New Faith In Foreign Policy Of U. S.

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
Associated Press Staff Writer

Early European reaction to President Truman's State of the Union message centers around its domestic import, indicating they are fairly confident that foreign policy is now fixed and dependable.

For many years Europe's chancelleries felt that relations with the United States were subject to the variables of political winds over here, and that our foreign policy was subject to change without notice. An important factor in persuading western European countries to cooperate with us and among themselves for unity against Communism has been to convince them that we are really in the fight to the finish.

Europe Not Alarmed

If that had not been accomplished the President's kiss-off of foreign affairs in his speech of Wednesday might have caused some alarm abroad, even though he promised to take up the subject fully later on.

As it is, Europe seems to accept the President's program as definitely lessening the distance between our system and their own under their socialistic regimes, and to await complacently his more detailed view on foreign policy.

He gave them enough to let them know that the administration intends to carry through and solidify its efforts abroad. He says general policy is the same, to strengthen Democratic nations against aggression, further international cooperation, and throw both our reseources and our honor behind the United Nations. He wants universal military training to buttress both our diplomatic and military positions. He asks for removal of the restrictions placed on our reciprocal trade program by the last Congress.

He is expected to ask Congress within the next fortnight to approve a military alliance with western Europe, and for direct military aid, as well as for continued appropriations under the Truman doctrine and the Marshall Plan.

One of the great obstacles encountered by the European recovery program is a widespread fear of early war. European capital needed for reconstruction and production is being kept in hiding. Initiative is being crippled. That is one of Russia's principal objectives in the cold war, and it is being partially achieved.

Until western European countries can really begin to do something for themselves, their chief reliance must be on the strength and determination of the United States. It is of tremendous psychological as well as material importance that they have assurance of protection while they work.

ALREADY FILLED UP

SANTA CRUZ, Cal. (U.P.)—Highway patrol officers asked the woman who drove them into their station what they could do for her. "Fill 'er up," the woman said, motioning toward the gas tank. So Elinor L. Larsen, 45, was arrested on a drunken driving charge.

Littlefield Veteran And Dutch Fiancee Are United Again

Miss Margaret Kayser, of Vaals, Holland, arrived by plane in Lubbock Thursday morning to be greeted at Municipal airport by J. C. Stovall, of Littlefield, her fiance whom she met in Europe.

Miss Kayser barely beat the Dec. 31 deadline for entry of European war brides-elect into this country, arriving in New York Dec. 30. She spent four days on Ellis island before continuing her trip to Lubbock.

Asked her opinion of this country, Miss Kayser said, "Oh, I like America so far."

The couple's wedding plans are indefinite, but they probably will be married within a few days, they indicated.

They first met when Stovall, serving with the Second Armored division of the U. S. Army, was quartered in the home of Miss Kayser's parents in Holland.

Funeral Services Set Friday For J. F. Boles, Lubbock Trucker

Funeral services for J. F. Boles, 61, of Lubbock route 7, will be conducted at 2 p. m. today in Rix Funeral home chapel.

Rev. Jeff Welch, pastor of the Central Baptist church, is to officiate.

Burial will be in Tech Memorial park, under direction of Rix Funeral home.

Boles, who was in the trucking business here, died Wednesday afternoon in West Texas hospital.

Hollywood's Friars Club Plans For Annual Show To Aid Motion Picture Relief Fund

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS
INS Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 5.—The biggest show on earth is being planned for April 16 by the Friars club, proceeds to go to the Motion Picture Relief fund. It's not generally known that the fund has been badly in need of money to care for the many cases—more than double this year.

So, it's high time, I say, that the industry does something for its own. George Jessel and Jack Benny will be masters of ceremony, which ought to guarantee a great evening. George Burns, and practically every big name in town (male, of course) will be there on the program.

Harry Cohn, who is chairman of the big event, and William Perlberg, who is chairman for the fund, have started the ball rolling.

Gets New Rule

Barry Sullivan is jumping and jiving over the way 1949 has started for him. After a long run of cowboy and heavy roles, he steps out in the big league as Clark Gable's sidekick in "Any Number Can Play."

Barry is the second player not on the MGM roster, signed for the "King's" new movie — Alexis Smith is the other.

As news of these new contracts keeps coming into my office, I am convinced that Hollywood is recovering from its 1948 jitters. After all the moaning, when the count was in, the box office was only a little off 1947's good record.

Simple Wedding

There were no fancy frills at the wedding of Barbara Stanwyck's nephew, Eugene Vaslett, to pretty Barbara Bacon. It was just a simple family affair because that is the way Barbara likes things.

But, her eyes certainly shone with pride. Barbara manages to keep most of her private affairs so private that I didn't even know she had a nephew until news came of his marriage on Tuesday.

"I certainly don't mind if you say I'm proud of him," Barbara said. "Eugene is a graduate of Notre Dame and he went into the service as an enlisted man. He came out a major in the Army—and I think that speaks for itself."

Anyway, no one had a better time at the home ceremony than "Aunt" Stanny—who was the second prettiest girl to the bride.

Random Snapshots

Attention all producers—here's good news! Montgomery Clift has sent his agent word he will return home and is ready to listen to movie offers.

Rita Hayworth hasn't drawn one cent since she left home, which amazed her manager and business representative. She is a girl who usually spends money.

Dinah Shore and George Montgomery's daughter gave a party for the diaper set.

Maria Montez has her Hollywood house up for sale, which seems to indicate that she and Jean Pierre Aumont will not return to Hollywood for a long time.

Salary increases sought by members of the moving picture union workers closed four motion picture theaters in Mexico City recently.

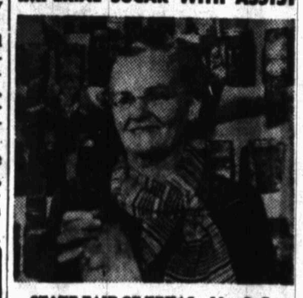

Bogus Check Passer Leaves Tip For Obliging Store Clerks

ST LOUIS, Jan. 6.—(U.P.)—Jimmie Louis likes to see courtesy rewarded.

Employes of the Lynn Food market cashed $555 worth of bogus checks for Jimmie in a three-day period. On the fourth day, police were on hand when the 25-year-old Negro tried to pass another check for $125.

Before he was led away, Jimmie tossed $2 into the cashier's cage, saying he wanted to buy the employes a box of candy as a token of his appreciation.

PATIENTS IN HOSPITALS AIDED

Report On Lubbock County Blood Bank Made; Cost Of Setup Low

In its first six months of operation, the Lubbock county blood bank has drawn 445 pints of blood for use in transfusions for patients in hospitals in the county.

Figures announced Thursday showed the cost attributed directly to the blood bank had been $3,160.63, but use of the Red Cross car, time of Red Cross personnel and additional expense for a building large enough for the blood bank as well as other Red Cross services would increase the total to approximately $4,000, it was estimated.

The cost to the blood bank was estimated to be about $10 per pint of blood drawn. Initial expenses included cost of equipment, and over a long period is expected to diminish.

Patients Given Aid

The blood has been furnished to patients in Lubbock Memorial, West Texas and St. Mary's hospitals in Lubbock and Mercy hospital at Slaton. The blood bank receives no money in return for furnishing blood. The patient pays an administration charge, not exceeding $5, to the hospital. If the patient were paying an individual donor, cost would be from $25 to $50, depending on type of blood, blood bank representatives said.

The total cost announced did not include the salary for the blood bank technician, the only member of the blood bank personnel on a salary. The salary is paid by hospitals rather than the blood bank.

At least one registered nurse and a member of the Lubbock-Crosby County Medical society are present at all times when blood is drawn at the blood bank.

The bank is open at 4:45 p. m. Mondays and Thursdays at Red Cross headquarters, 1513 Ave. K. Volunteer blood donors from 21 years to 60 years of age or those from 18 to 21 with permission from parents or mates furnish blood.

The blood bank has emphasized its efforts to obtain replacements of blood. A request is made to patients receiving blood that friends or relatives replenish the supply.

Volunteers who have aided in work at the blood bank include Mesdames Robert J. Allen, S. C. Arnett, jr., W. B. Agee, J. L. Barstow, E. M. Blake, A. G. Barsh, Earl Collins, U. B. Chambers, Bueford Crawford, J. D. Donaldson, R. C. Douglas, Clarence E. Davis, M. M. Ewing, O. P. Guthrie, C. R. Gallagher, Wm. H. Gordon, J. R. Harris, jr., W. J. Howard, Ben B. Battered Yacht With Five On Board Saved By Coast Guard

PEORIA, Ill., Jan. 6—(INS)—Five Milwaukeeans ended a harrowing 20-hour battle against treacherous Illinois river ice today when the Coast Guard cutter Oleander towed their battered 75-foot yacht into the U. S. Army engineer's depot at Peoria.

The five were Dr. N. D. Tingley, 48, owner and skipper; his son, Charles, 20; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Vinecore, and Vinecore's mother, Mrs. Maureen Vinecore.

The Coast Guard cutter brought the crippled vessel to port with three holes in its hull and both its diesel motors out after a five-hour battle against the river during which the rescue craft itself was threatened.

WAR ASSETS WORK DONE

HONOLULU (AP)—The War Assets Administration's Hawaii office is closing after having sold for $72,000,000 materials which originally cost $360,000,000. Glen Taylor, regional director who supplied the figures, said only $750,000 was still owing the WAA for goods sold and that the local offices had taken in $6 for every dollar spent.

News Briefs

Regular second Sunday community singing is to be held from 2 to 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the First Central Baptist church, 1309 Eighteenth street, it was announced yesterday by Rev. Jeff D. Welch, pastor, who extended an invitation to the public.

This week's cold wave played havoc with transportation in some parts of the nation, and brought general discomfort here and elsewhere, but for the wintertime outdoor enthusiast, it has set an almost ideal stage in the mountains of New Mexico, according to information received here yesterday from Albert Vaughn of Lubbock and Ruidoso, who said that ski tracks and the weather are fine in the Ruidoso area, and that improved tows will add to the general pleasure of those who enjoy skiing.

A regular weekly service is to be conducted at 8 o'clock tonight at Congregation Shaareth Israel, Twenty-third and Ave. Q, Rabbi Julius Kerman announced Thursday. The service will be in the form of a layman's service. A. L. Kornfeld will be in charge of the program and will speak on "The Synagogue—Its Growth and Development."

Firemen reported slight damage after fire broke out in the kitchen of the ABC cafe, at 1629 College, about 1:40 a. m. Thursday. It was reported that grease on the stove caused the fire.

A 24-year-old Latin-American who said he could not pay a $10 negligent collision fine was jailed by corporation court officials to "lay out" the assessment, officials said Thursday. A tire and wheel valued at $18 were reported stolen from Harold Rhew of 810 Ave. O yesterday in another case, officials said.

Lubbock Woman Has Spent One Day A Week For 15 Years Visiting Hospital Patients

Thousands of hospital patients in Lubbock in the last 15 years have heard the light tap on the door that heralds a visit from Mrs. Ola Nordyke, 1312 Sixteenth.

The light tap is followed by the appearance of the 68-year-old woman with her cheerful smile.

"If I sit down, I will stay too long," she tells sick persons. She nearly always stands, chatting a few minutes, before she makes her way to another room.

Missed Calling

For 15 years, Mrs. Nordyke has been visiting patients at least one day a week. She visited occasionally prior to that, but not every week.

"If I didn't have to work, I could spend all my time visiting," she said. "I guess I missed by calling in not being a nurse."

She is a member of the Broadway Church of Christ and visits many Church of Christ members of Lubbock and from out of the city, but does not limit her visits to Church of Christ members.

She finds that out-of-town patients seem especially happy when she visits them. "When they begin to get better and their folks go home and leave them, I like to go to see them," she said. "When you're alone and among strangers, you appreciate it," she said.

Was Hospital Patient

Years ago, Mrs. Nordyke was a hospital patient several months and she sometimes thinks back to her appreciation of visits. "Then I realized how much it meant for people hospitalized to have visitors," she said.

She frequently buys flowers for patients. During the war, she would visit women whose soldier husbands had gone overseas and who were in the hospital with a sick baby or to give birth to a baby. She would take money she had earned taking care of children and buy flowers. Sometimes, she buys books for children. In the summer she sometimes takes flowers from her yard.

Mrs. Nordyke once went to a hospital operating room to watch while surgery was performed on a little boy. The mother of the child had a heart ailment and asked Mrs. Nordyke to substitute for her in the operating room. Mrs. Nordyke began her regular visits to patients after that.

A girl once stopped Mrs. Nordyke on the street and said, "Mrs. Nordyke, we looked and looked for you at the hospital. We thought sure you would come when my daddy died." Mrs. Nordyke had not known of the illness of the girl's father. "I resolved then that if it would make them feel that much better for me to visit them, I'd do it."

One patient told Mrs. Nordyke, "I know you. You came to see me 11 years ago and brought me flowers."

Visits Are Regular

She formerly had a spare bedroom which she invited out-of-town patients to use when leaving the hospital.

Sometimes in the middle of the night, she goes to a hospital after receiving a telephoned message that, "My daughter's dying" or "My grandmother's dying" or "Can you come."

She formerly visited one or more hospitals regularly on Mondays. Now, she goes to Lubbock Memorial hospital almost every Tuesday and goes by the business office to obtain a list of Church of Christ members who are patients. Sometimes, she accepts an engagement to take care of children on Tuesdays and goes to the hospital another day.

"I still do it and I'm going to do it is long as I can get down there," Mrs. Nordyke said.

Milwaukee Transit Strike Ends As 2,700 Men Return To Jobs

MILWAUKEE, WIS., Jan. 6—(INS)—Public transportation service in Milwaukee returned to normal today when nearly 2,700 striking streetcar and bus operators went back to work.

The strikers, members of division 998, AFL Streetcar and Busmen's union, returned to their jobs at the behest of their leaders.

The workers struck yesterday and later in the day defied an order of their union president to return to work.

Termination of the strike came through the efforts of Prof. Nathan Feinseinger of the University of Wisconsin who was appointed conciliator in the dispute.

Texas Solon Says HST's Plan Would Aid State's Industry

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.— (AP) — Rep. Patman (D-Tex.), said today President Truman's attitude toward development of natural resources, as expressed in his State of the Union message, paves the way for expansion of Texas' iron and steel industry.

"President Truman's message should be very heartening to the people of Texas, who have been trying for 75 years to develop our great iron ore resources," Patman said in a statement.

Would Provide Funds

The Texan said the President's proposal that the government provide any necessary financial backing for natural resource developments was right in line with his own recently expressed ideas on the subject.

The congressman recently advocated construction of six iron ore furnaces and steel mills in Texas. He asserted that Lone Star steel company of Dallas, which operates the Daingerfield blast furnace, should spearhead the drive for expanding the state's iron and steel industry.

Commenting on Mr. Truman's message to Congress yesterday, Patman said:

"This commendable attitude on President Truman's part paves the way for this establishment of several blast furnaces, steel mills and batteries of coke ovens in East Texas.

"It is time to act. The drive for these valuable facilities should commence at once."

Other Prospects Boosted

Patman said the President's views on development of water resources should mean much earlier completion of the Texarkana dam on the Sulphur river than was contemplated. This flood control project, estimated to cost between $25,000,000 and $30,000,000, will cover a surface area of 9,000 acres. Congress has appropriated $3,000,000 to start work on it.

Referring to the President's remark that Congress must "push forward" with flood control projects, Patman added:

"This supports our position in trying to get the Texarkana dam completed in two years instead of five years, in view of the shortage of water for industrial purposes in that area. The prospects are good for getting the dam finished in less than three years.

"It will create a huge body of water adjacent to valuable iron ore deposits, which could be developed with the aid of that water."

U. S. Judge Refuses To Dismiss Indictment Against Amarilloan

BOSTON, Jan. 6. (U.P.)—Federal Judge Francis J. W. Ford today refused to dismiss an indictment against Louis Bob Conley, Amarillo, Tex., charged with beating his mother-in-law at Brockton, Mass., and unlawfully taking her daughter to Texas.

Conley, through his attorney, had sought to dismiss the indictment charging him with unlawful flight to avoid prosecution for assault with a dangerous weapon on his mother-in-law, Mrs. Bertha La Croix.

As result of Judge Ford's decision, the government will have to renew extradition proceedings with a hearing at Amarillo in April authorities said.

Record $100,000,000 Of Road Construction Completed During '48

AUSTIN, Jan. 6. (AP)—Last year was the biggest road building year in Texas history, but don't look for a repeat in 1949.

The state poured about 100 million dollars into nearly 4,000 miles of new and old highways, state highway department figures show.

Officials see little prospect for a new peak in 1949—even if the Legislature generously tosses into the new road program an extra 20 million dollars Gov. Beauford H. Jester seeks.

This year the state started construction of 3,990 miles of roads costing $83,091,004 and completed 4,369 miles (some of which were begun last year). Work actually paid for during the year cost $77,894,714.

Another $19,672,369 was spent maintaining old highways.

At year's end the state finds itself caretaker over some 33,500 miles of roads, including 1,285 miles of city streets on highway routes and 8,700 miles of farm-to-market highways.

Of the farm roads, a little more than 2,000 miles were completed this year.

In sight for the coming year, says State Highway Engineer D. C. Greer, is some 51 million dollars for new construction. State and federal funds are to be matched equally to provide that total for primary and secondary highways and urban expressways.

Greer estimates it will buy about 393 miles of primary highways and 1,500 miles of farm-to-market highways.

Another 15 million dollars is available for maintaining the roads already built.

Decrease In Air Transportation Prices Is Claimed Necessary

FORT WORTH, Jan. 6. (INS)—An official of the Civil Aeronautics board believes air transportation prices will have to come out of the "wild blue yonder"—if there is ever to be mass transportation.

Oswald Ryan, vice chairman of the CAB, told the Fort Worth Rotary club recently that present increased air rates must be regarded as temporary expedient and not as a long-range policy.

Ryan said the industry, mighty as it is, has barely scratched the surface of potential passenger traffic.

He termed the air mail subsidies from the government a "sound government investment" and pointed out that railroads received five times and water carriers 12 times more aid than the airlines received.

EX-JURORS SPEAK

Ideas Worth Study

ANYONE with jury experience is likely to agree unreservedly with at least two of the conclusions revealed by a recent poll of men who rendered such service in Tarrant county (Fort Worth) last year.

The former jurors were reported as being "overwhelmingly" in agreement that oratory seldom wins law suits and that defendants in criminal cases have advantages which often defeat the ends of justice.

Most of the better lawyers learn quickly that the silver tongue rarely swings a jury verdict. A few instances have been reported of juries having been hypnotized by some attorney's oratorical eloquence. But it is safe to say that, for every such instance, dozens have been lost because long-winded, time-wasting lawyers haven't known when to shut up.

Argument that the criminal code and court procedure now are heavily stacked in favor of the person accused would be a waste of time and space. Everyone of experience knows the conditions exist. No one of experience is likely to challenge the statement that present conditions often do more to protect the criminal in his crime than to help determine his guilt, or innocence.

These two circumstances probably help to explain another conclusion of last year's Tarrant county jurors: That so many capable men of unquestioned integrity make such strenuous efforts to avoid jury service as to threaten the impartial dispensation of justice. Most such men might be less allergic to serving on juries if court procedures involved fewer wastes of time, and if fewer loopholes existed through which guilty offenders now escape penalties for their crimes.

The results of the poll are worthy of the study of Texas legislators who are scheduled to convene next week, and of all others interested in improving the enforcement and administration of laws. They obviously supply ideas straight from the grass-roots which could be applied with benefit to the criminal code and the courts of Texas.

No Tears For Tito

MOST Americans will hope there is no exaggeration in recent reports that hard and perilous times have beset the Yugoslavian dictator, Tito, since his purported falling out with Josef Stalin and the Soviet.

The claim is that he no longer can get critical supplies from Russia. So an obvious propaganda campaign has been in progress for some time to restore him to the good graces of the democracies—particularly the United States. He unquestionably is missing those huge shipments of "relief" supplies which finally were shut off, with difficulty, after he had murdered five American airmen and otherwise had kicked Uncle Sam in the teeth.

It may be that Tito's reported break with the Soviet is on the up and up. Most observers seem to think it is, and that Tito's position is becoming increasingly critical as a result. Few Americans have any love for Russia. But they also share the conviction that the worst that can happen to Tito will be far short of justice for him.

We wish we could catch up on our worrying about serious matters long enough to spend a few minutes worrying about something trivial.

Fairy tale: "If you elect me this time, I won't run for another term."

Waltz Into Darkness

XLII

THEY floundered out into the backyard of their house, and out through the gate that led into it, from the lane that ran behind the backs of all these houses; down that to its mouth, and from there onto the sideward street. Then along that, and around the turn, and into the street that ran behind the one their house had faced upon.

"The station," she kept saying. "The station— Oh try, Lou. It's just a few short streets ahead. We'll be safe, if we can only reach it."

On and on and on, two lurching figures, breaths sobbing in their throats.

It was in sight already, across the open square ahead, the station square, the hub of the town—or so she told him, he could no longer see that far before him—when suddenly the combination of their overtaxed strengths gave out, her arms, her will, could do no more, and he fell flat there in the dust beside her.

She tried desperately to bring him up again, but she'd weakened so that his inertness could only bring her own half recumbent beside him, instead.

"Don't waste time," he sighed. "I can't— Not a step further."

She struggled upright again, drove fingers distractedly through her hair, looked this way, that.

Then bending to his face, to give him courage with a kiss, ran on and left him there where he was. She disappeared into a building fronting on the square, with a lighted gas bowl over its doorway and the legend: "Furnished Rooms for Travelers."

In a moment she returned to view again, beckoning to someone within to hasten out after her.

"Here," she cried. "Over this way. Here he is. Help me get him to one of your rooms."

A shirt-sleeved man lifted him bodily in his arms.

THE black sky over the station square, pocked with stars, eddied this way and that just over Durand's upturned eyes. Then it changed to gaslight pallor on a plaster ceiling. Then this slanted off upward, gradually dimming, and he was being borne up stairs.

"I'm sorry it's so high up," the man said, "but that's all I have."

"No matter," she answered. "Anything. Anything."

They passed through a doorway, the ceiling dark at first, then gradually brightening to tarnished silver following the soft, spongy fluff of an ignited gas flow.

"Shall I get you a doctor, madam?" the man asked, as he gently laid Durand on the bed.

"No, not yet. Leave us alone together. I'll let you know later. Here, take this for now." She thrust some money at him through the door. "I'll sign the registry book later."

She locked it, came running back to Durand. She dropped down beside the bed in an imploring attitude.

"Louis, Louis, did I once want money, did I once want fine clothes and jewels? I'd give them all at this minute to have you stand strong and upright on your legs before me. I'd give my very looks themselves—" she clawed at her own face, dragging its supple cheeks forward as if seeking to transfer it toward him, "—and what more have I to give?"

The tears were streaming in reckless profusion from her eyes, she who had never wept in all her life.

His fingers reached tremulously to trace their course" Don't weep any more," he whispered. "Don't speak. Just put your lips to mine. Tell me goodby with that."

Kiss of farewell. Their very souls seemed to flow together. To try to blend forever into one. Then, despairing, failed and were separated, and one slipped down into darkness and one remained in the light.

She drew her lips from his, for sheer necessity of breathing. There was a smile of ineffable contentment left on his, there where her lips had been.

"And that was my reward," he sighed.

His eyes closed, and there was death.

A SHUDDER ran through her, as though the throes of dying were in her herself. She pleaded with him, called to him. She even tried to make a bargain with death itself, win a delay.

"No, wait! Oh, just one minute more; One minute give me, and then I'll let him go! Oh, God! Oh, Someone! Anyone at all! Just one more minute! I have something I want to tell him"

She flung herself downward over him, and her hair, coming unbound, flowed over him, covering his face. The golden hair that he had loved so, made a shroud for him.

Her lips sought his ear, and she tried to whisper into it, for him alone to hear. "I love you. I love you. Can't you hear me? Where are you? That is what you always wanted. Don't you want it now?"

In the background of her grief, distant, dim, unheeded, echoes seemed to rise around her. A muffled pounding on the door, clamoring voices backing it, conjured there now, at just this place, this moment, who knows how?

"Open, in there! This is a police order! Open this door, do you hear?"

Their meaning could not impress, their threat could not affright. For she was somebody else's prisoner now. She had escaped them.

Moaning anguished into a heedless ear: "Oh, Louis, Louis! I have loved you too late. Too late I have loved you."

"And this is my punishment."

THE END

Looking At Life -- By Erich Brandeis

SOMEHOW I don't seem to be able to get away from Christmas.

But shucks, after all, Christmas comes only once a year — so why be in a hurry to get that beautiful, but oh so short-lived spirit out of your system?

I want to tell you of a little incident that happened in our town last month.

BRANDIES

We have a lot of the country's best artists here, and one of them had made a beautiful reproduction of that famous Nativity scene, usually called "The Creche."

He took it to a local store for sale, and the storekeeper put it in his show window.

The storekeeper quoted the price and the woman sadly shook her head.

"I wanted it badly," she said. "My husband comes by here as often as he can and admires it. He has talked about it time and again, and I wanted to buy it for him as a Christmas present. But I'm afraid I'll never be able to save up enough money."

But, with the usual ingenuity of women, which originated with Eve, she did manage to save up enough and just a couple of days before Christmas she came into the store, counted out the necessary amount in dollar bills, half-dollars, quarters, nickels and dimes, had her masterpiece carefully wrapped up and put into her little car and proudly drove off with it.

The storekeeper, busy with his Christmas trade, gave the woman no more thought.

BUT on Christmas Eve he remembered.

A man came in.

"What happened to that Creche you had out in the window for so long? My wife wanted it so badly. I know because she came in here and priced it. But it was away beyond our means.

"And I wanted it, too. So I went without cigarets and without lunch and I saved up enough to buy it for her. Here is the money—see, nickels and dimes and quarters and half-dollars and dollar bills. That's the way I had to save to be able to get it for my wife."

"I am sorry," the storekeeper said. "But I sold it. If I had known you wanted it so badly, I would have held it for you."

The man went out, disappointed. But the storekeeper smiled to himself.

That woman, who bought the Creche—hadn't he seen her with that same man a few days ago—longingly looking at his window?

I wish I could have peeked into their home on Christmas morning when the wife saw the expression on the face of her husband when he discovered the Creche under their tree.

The moral of this story? Does the story of Christmas need a moral?

Stalin May Be 'Key'

By RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON — Important documents in the files of the State Department and special Congressional committees support the theory that President Truman had had "Uncle Joe" Stalin himself in mind when he said that there were Russian leader who would like to negotiate an amicable settlement on the major issues which divide the western and eastern powers and threaten another world conflict.

In addition to this documentary data, there is the known fact that such men as Secretary Marshall, Ambassador Walter Bedell Smith, Harold E. Stassen and General "Ike" Eisenhower have always been impressed with Stalin's expressions of friendship for the United States and for improvement of relations between the only two nations which can mount and maintain a major war within the next decade.

TUCKER

If this theory is correct, it means that there is substance to Mr. Truman's other suggestion—namely, that Stalin is the "prisoner of the politburo" and that revolutionary extremists are gaining the upper hand at Moscow.

SEECHES: A careful study of the dictator's speeches and writings reveals that he has never spoken unkindly of the United States during or since World War II. On the contrary, he has been outspoken in expressions of gratitude for our lend-lease assistance and has frequently mentioned the historical friendship between the two countries.

The warmongers and trouble-makers, by their speeches and behaviour at all postwar conferences and United Nations meetings, have been Molotov, Vishinsky and Andre Zhdanov, who has frequently been mentioned as a successor to the head man.

Although he does not repudiate their haranguing, it is noteworthy that Stalin has not as yet echoed their attacks on our alleged "imperialism," "exploitation of Europe" through the Marshall Plan and our supposedly warlike intentions against Russia.

Whenever he has spoken, as in interviews with President Truman. Mr. Stassen and General Eisenhower, he has argued that capitalism and Communism can coexist.

REVOLUTION: A survey of Stalin's references to the United States shows that it was almost twenty years ago that he last voiced a desire for a Communist revolution in this country. Speaking in May of 1929 to a delegation of American Communists, he forecast the October crash of that year and expressed the belief that it might lead to an uprising here.

At that time the Jay Lovestone and William Z. Foster factions were engaged in a bitter feud for control of the Communist movement in the U.S. Mr. Lovestone was eventually expelled, and has since renounced and denounced Communist philosophy. Referring to 'economic conditions here in the spring of 1929, Stalin uttered these fateful words:

CRISIS: "I think the moment is not far off when a revolutionary crisis will develop in America. And when a revolutionary crisis develops in America, that will be the beginning of the end of world capitalism as a whole.

"It is essential that the American Communist Party should be capable of meeting that historical moment, fully prepared to assume leadership of the impending class struggle in America. Every effort and every means must be employed in preparing for that, comrades . .

"For that end we must work for the re-establishment of unity in the Communist Farty of America. For that end we must work in order to forge real revolutionary cadres and a real revolutionary leadership of the proletariat, capable of leading the many millions of the American working class toward the revolutionary class struggles.

RECOVERY: Although that is pretty "strong stuff," it is also "pretty old stuff.", Moreover at that time the dictator was not too sure that he could retain supremacy over Trotskyite factions which argued that a Communist system in Russia could not survive as an isolated state in a capitalistic world. Just like candidates for the presidency, dictators have to talk for home consumption.

This country's recovery from the 1929-1939 depression, as well as the industrial and military strength the U.S. displayed in World War II, is understood to have had a deep effect on Stalin.

PROJECT: President Truman obviously had these considerations in mind when he made his sensational remark. It was not an off-the-cuff statement, as has been suggested. He spoke seriously, slowly, almost solemnly. And, indeed, he has made the same observation several time. in private conversations. It was his trust in Stalin which inspired him to suggest sending Chief Justice Vinson to Moscow for a tete-a-tete with the Soviet boss.

Nor will it be surprising if Mr. Truman revives this project, depending, of course, on how the Kremlin, including the imprisoned and the prison keepers, react to his diplomatic thrust.

OUTLOOK: The end of the year has naturally brought many questions from all sections of the country on the economic, business, employment and price prospects for 1949. Readers are eager to know whether today's fairly good conditions will improve even more or deteriorate.

Answer: Based on the information I can obtain from federal and private economists at the Capital, 1949 should continue on a fairly good level. There are no serious storm signals in the economic sky.

UNEMPLOYMENT: There have been signs of unemployment in certain lines because supply is beginning to catch up with demand, especially in the light goods industries—textiles, clothing, leather, shoes etc. But it is still necessary to wait weeks and months for certain heavy articles, especially household goods, home repairs, mechanical items and all kinds of building material.

Two factors seem likely to stave off any serious employment. In many fields there is a tremendaous scarcity of workers, particularly clerical and service people. The newspapers are full of ads offering good wages for jobs which once paid only so-so. These readjustments may work individual hardships, but there is work to be had.

WOMEN: The second factor is the great number of married women still at work in industry, business and the service trades. Some statisticians here place the figure as high as 7,000,000. They consist of women who started to work during the war, and now find it difficult to return to household routine.

While some may have to earn money to eke out the family income, it is possible that many could quit without too great an economic loss, thus making jobs for others who have to depend on a regular pay envelope.

The PLAINSMAN Says:

(NOTE TO READERS: The Plainsman racked up 25 years of residence in Lubbock on last Tuesday. Since he has been exercising his newly-won prerogative as an Oldtimer—the right to "recollect." Tomorrow, he will wind up his recollecting of the days that used to be with one more set of memories and comparisons).

NEWCOMERS to Lubbock whisk through the Avenue H and Broadway underpass with never a thought of what they mean, but we Oldtimers (harrumph), rarely run through either of the tunnels without recollecting how bad the crossings used to be in the days of Auld Lang Syne.

To be sure, our underpasses are too narrow to fully care for today's traffic. They should be widened.

The center supports are an ever-present danger and people bang into them on an average of almost once a week.

But as outdated as the underpasses are, they beat the old system, which not only made for frequent and irritating traffic tieups due to train movements, but also caused countless people to suffer back ailments.

The Broadway crossing of 25 years ago was bad enough. It was rough and treacherous. But by far the worst of the two was the crossing on Avenue H, which tossed the passengers of automobiles up to the cartops because it was located atop a hump that was the closest thing to a mountain the South Plains has ever seen.

It would be interesting if anyone could furnish figures on how much wear and tear those rough old crossings caused on automobiles, before city, county and John Santa Fe finally were prodded sufficiently to get the underpasses built.

For many years those underpasses represented one of this community's greatest forward steps—believe it, or not.

A QUARTER century ago today our present City Hall, now overcrowded and due for expansion, was barely on the planning board. The offices of the City of Lubbock were located on the second floor of the courthouse, on the Northwest corner.

They were only temporary quarters, to be sure, in use while the new City Hall was being planned and constructed. But the city's offices were three in number; its workers totaled about a half dozen.

Where the Central Fire department is located today there was a rambling frame building, inelegantly referred to as the "cow barn," but more formally called "the auditorium."

It was Lubbock's chief gathering place, although when crammed to the eaves it wouldn't hold over 500 souls.

Fortunately, the "cow barn" was torn down to make way for the City Hall before it fell in on more or less enthusiastic listeners to political speeches, or attendants at some sort of small convention.

So far as we can recollect, there are only about a dozen major commercial concerns doing business today at the same locations they occupied 25 years ago.

Citizens National and First National banks were in their present buildings, but the Lubbock National was one location west of its present home, where the gas company's offices are now.

Lubbock Memorial hospital, about one-fourth of its present size, was on the east end of the half-block it now occupies. West Texas hospital, also greatly expanded over the years, stood then where its main structure stands now.

The Morning Avalanche occupied the 25 north feet of the present Avalanche-Journal location and was all on one floor. Hay Davidson's feed business; Hodges Bros. store; the Western Windmill company; the Lubbock Inn (now St. Francis hotel) and Lubbock Auto are the only concerns we can think of which are still doing business at the same old stand.

The old R&R-Lindsey theater stood where the Lindsey is now, but the main similarity between the two is in name.

THE postoffice, in early 1924, was located across the street from today's Avalanche-Journal, about where Wyatt Hester's business is now. The courthouse hasn't changed in appearance, but an old brick jail and sheriff's quarters sat on the northeast corner of the "square."

As for Lubbock's principal mercantile locations, only three of today's larger downtown department stores are located where department stores were a quarter century ago. J. C. Penny has the old stand of Claude Grollman; Montgomery Ward is where Hemphill-Wells was then, and Levine is in the location then occupied by Barrier Brothers.

The A. B. Conley, Jr., department store was where the Hub is now, but the Hub is a men's store.

Some of us kick now about an occasional rough spot in the paving, but back in the "dark ages" folks put up with conditions 1,000 times worse and thought little about it.

Most people living west of the downtown area insisted on driving to and from home by way of Broadway, which then, undoubtedly, was the roughest street in civilization.

It's chugholes ran Carlsbad Caverns a close second and, of course, there was no paving west of Avenue K.

BACK in what some may think of as the antediluvian days, there was only one all-night restaurant between Amarillo and Abilene. It was the Elk Cafe, then owned and operated by Harve Hicks. It was located just east of the Lubbock National bank, then on the corner of Avenue I (now Texas) and Broadway.

Lubbock's downtown eateries were few and devoid of swank. But the table d'hote menu at the Lubbock Inn, then run by Clark Smith, was a wonderful thing to behold.

Traveling men used to drive 100 more miles out of their way to week-end at the Lubbock Inn and get around the very marvelous food served there.

Prices were "awfully high" at the Lubbock Inn. Four-bits for breakfast, six-bits for lunch and a buck for supper. But nobody ever went away without a stuffed feeling around the middle and better food never was served anywhere in the West.

The Merrill hotel, a three-story, brick affair where the Hilton stands now, had a dining room that was strictly ho-hum. Sled Allen had a little doughnut shop, with counter only, in a 15-foot location just south of First National bank; and there were dining rooms of sorts in the old Broadway hotel, where Dunlap's now is at Broadway and H; and at another place where the Chief theater is on Avenue H. That was about "the crop" in downtown eating places.

Drugstores were paying more attention to pills then, than to sandwiches, but R. H. Martin had a bakery on Broadway, just west of the Citizens bank, that did the biggest confectionery and lunch business in town.

But very few people had lunch downtown in those days. Nearly everybody went "home to dinner."

THE CITY'S one and only fire station was on Main street, between Avenues J and K. It was housed in a sheet iron building and was presided over by Ed Twitty, then, like now, as chief. Maybe Ed had a half-dozen full-time firemen then, but that figure may be a shade high.

When a fellow drove to Plainview, or Amarillo, he went straight north on Avenue H, just like he's going to do again before long. Between here and the Potter county capital, the "highway" wandered snakily along, due to the necessity of bypassing lakes which, when full or wet, were impassable.

Twenty-five years ago there was no long-running traffic to the due west. Hockley and Cochran counties still were unorganized; there wasn't a Morton, and Levelland consisted of a couple of stores, a frame hotel and an abstractor's office on the northeast corner of what now is the courthouse square.

Some changes everywhere, hey?

British Health Plan Reveals Flaws During First Six Months

LONDON, Jan. 6. (AP) — Britain's national health service — the world's biggest experiment in socialized medicine — is undergoing a strain.

Health Minister Aneurin Bevan says too many are demanding too much. But he doesn't think now —as he did in October — that the plan may break down because of the exorbitant demands made upon it.

All the bills are paid out of general taxation.

To ease the load, the health ministry announced today that, beginning Feb. 1, each dentist taking part will be paid only half of anything he earns over £4,800 ($19,200) a year.

Bevan said a fifth of the dentists in the program are now earning money at that rate. S. Donald Cox, assistant secretary of the British Dental association, said abuses should be proved before any limit is placed.

"Don't let us become a nation of hypochondriacs," Bevan pleaded in a recent statement. "I ask the public to use their doctors wisely and only when they really need them. Then, before very long, we shall have a health service of which we can be exceedingly proud."

The loudest complaint from many of the doctors under the plan is that they're underpaid and overworked. To that, the ministry replies that the question of the number of patients for each doctor and the question of the fees paid is under review.

John Edwards, parliamentary secretary to the ministry, says: "Certainly, there have been many cases where frivolous and unnecessary use of the service has been made. But overall, its working has been smooth and much according to our expectations. This new conception of health care has come to stay."

Started Last Year

The national health service started last July 5. It is designed to give the men and women of Britain "free" medical, dental and optical care.

Providing the care — and collecting fees from the ministry — are 18,165 of the nation's 22,900 doctors, 8,753 of the 11,000 dentists, nearly all of the 7,000 opticians and 14,000 of the 16,000 drug stores which fill the prescriptions. All are in the scheme voluntarily. Ultimately, all Britain's hospitals will be taken over under the plan; already 2,587 have been purchased by the government. Others are to be built.

The government's original estimate of the yearly cost of the plan was £150,000,000 ($600,000,000). The British Medical association, which is cooperating now, although it first fought the proposal, says the annual cost will exceed $350,000,000.

The most vocal—but by no means the only—opponent of the plan is a group of largely anti-socialist doctors who have organized the "Fellowship of Freedom in Medicine." Lord Horder, physician in ordinary to the royal family, is head of the group and its principal spokesman. It claims a membership of 700.

Here is what Horder has to say: "Medicine in Britain has become a branch of the civil service. We are no longer medical experts; we sit and sign forms. We have no time to diagnose our patients' diseases, but pass them on to other persons and institutions, knowing full well that they cannot dispense the health benefits which may or may not be needed."

The Horder group, the British Medical association and members of the medical practitioners union —a socialist organization—say that doctors are being overworked under the plan, and that to make an "adequate" living each doctor must have 4,000 patients.

"Four thousand patients implies inadequacy of personal care," says "The Lancet," authoritative medical weekly.

A doctor with 4,000 patients would gross almost £4,000 ($16,000) annually in fees. The medical association says taxes and operating expenses would take at least half of that.

The health ministry expects to solve the pay complaint with an authoritative review of the fee system. Now, each doctor receives an average of 18 shillings $3.80) annually for each patient on his books.

ECA Replaces Army In Administration Of Korean Aid Program

SEOUL, Jan. 6.—(AP)—Transfer of the Korean aid program from the U. S. Army to the Economic Cooperation Administration closes one of the major phases in the Army's three year occupation of Korea.

It was learned authoritatively today that Army headquarters here is now known officially as "the United States Army Forces in Korea," although there has been no official announcement that the 24th Corps headquarters has been dissolved. Some corps members are leaving tomorrow for Japan and the United States.

Maj. Gen. John B. Coulter is still the commander but there is speculation in Army circles whether he will remain. A high Korean source indicated that the government would like for General Coulter to remain. The present task force is made up of elements of the corps' two divisions and the Korean military advisory group which is helpg train and equip the Korean army and navy.

During the past three years the Army has spent approximately $300,000,000 on the Korean aid program. This includes approximately $125,000,000 for goods the current fiscal year ending on July 1. Most of these goods have been delivered or are on order. Food and fertilizer were the chief imports.

Eric H. Biddle, acting ECA chief in Korea, said that future aid will be directed toward placing Korea's economy "on a self sustaining basis within the shortest possible time" whereas the Army program gave priority to "alleviating hunger and disease." This has been accomplised "to a gratifying degree," Biddle said.

Biddle said a survey by the Korean government with ECA advice will guide long range plans for industrial and agricultural rehabilitation.

Bonham Man Robbed Of $1,700 After Just Selling His Farm

BONHAM, Jan. 6. (U.P.)—Virgil Whaley, a junk dealer who had just sold his farm, was robbed of $1,700 late yesterday by two armed men.

When Whaley, who operates a store a mile west of Bonham, resisted the bandits, they fired a shot through the roof of the store, whacked him over the head with a sand bag, hauled him some distance from the store and left him tied to a fence post.

A passing motorist, Joe Sellers, released Whaley and brought him here for first aid treatment.

Whaley said the men entered his store, asked for cigarettes. Then one whipped out a pistol saying "This is a holdup." A woman drove the car which carried the bandits.

Sheriff Milam Anderson said the car apparently was a 1947 model. The cash drawer, which the bandits had jerked out of the cash register, and an empty billfold, were found on the highway a short distance from the store.

Although Whaley said the car went west from Bonham, members of his family said it doubled back east.

Three Die In Pecos Car-Train Collision

PECOS, Jan. 6. (AP)—Three persons were killed instantly in a train-auto collision here shortly after noon today.

Those dead were Dan W. Warwick, 36 and Wesley King Ulmer, 25, both of Anthony, N. M., and Flora Mae Hamilton, 30, of Pecos.

The automobile was cut in half by a east-bound freight and wreckage of both train and automobile was scattered along the track for a half a mile.

Conductor of the Texas and Pacific freight was H. O. Sanlin and the engineer was J. F. Skalicky.

WAR BIRTHS TABULATED

LONDON (AP) — Britain, slowly catching up on war-interrupted records of vital statistics, reports its birthrate reached in 1943 its highest level in 13 years. A general statistical review said the birthrate during that wartime year amounted to 16.2 per 1,000 population as compared with 16.3 in 1930. Simultaneously, there were 296,432 marriages during that year—the lowest number since 1926 when they totalled 279,860.

Texas Educators Assail Gilmer-Aiken Plan

Amateur Potter Gets Valuable Results From West Texas Soil

By COTTON FANNING
Avalanche Staff Writer

Beautiful and valuable pottery made exclusively from clay and pigments gathered from West Texas soil is creating a great deal of interest at Texas Technological college, since the pioneer work shows that the area is abundant in materials for a highly diversified ceramic industry.

The pottery was made without the use of commercial materials, formal instruction or any previous knowledge of pottery-making techniques.

Dr. Cyrus N. Ray, an osteopathic physician of Abilene, who has an active interest in botany, archeology, and recently in ceramics, picked up mineral pigments and clay while treking over Coke county making an archeological reconnaissance for, Texas Tech, and it was his home-spun experiments with these that produced the delicately colored, highly durable, decorative pottery.

Pieces Are Displayed

The results of 70-year-old Dr. Ray's experiments in a field more-or-less foreign to him will go on display Sunday in the West Texas Museum on the campus at Tech, where they will remain for several days, Dr. W. C. Holden, head of history and anthropology at the college, said. The pottery was sent to Dr. Holden for observation at his request and will be returned to to Dr. Ray.

Illustrating a few of the numerous shades of pigment Dr. Ray has formed from heretofore unexploited West Texas minerals is a single cup-like pot with 15 separate colors woven into this intricate design. Many of the pieces have been so treated as to make them appear as glazed and shiny as chinaware. The finished products of Dr. Ray's work were all as new to him as to anyone else in this area, since he had no idea what color any particular pigment would become when heated.

Designs Are Interesting

Not to be overlooked in the pottery are the designs, some of which conform to Japanese, Indian and Russian styles. One of the more interesting of the group, however, is a design taken from the same soil as were the ingredients, the mesquite leaf. Dr. Ray broke several connected leaves from a mesquite bush and traced them perfectly in the interior of

Speakers Claim 'Interests' Aided

By MAC ROY RASOR
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, Jan. 6 — A storm of criticism drenched the Gilmer-Aiken education plan here today.

While legislators gathered early for the 51st session for which the plan was prepared, five speakers at the 16th annual mid-winter conference of Texas school administrators, teacher educators and supervisors poured criticism on the proposal.

The Gilmer-Aiken committee's 33 recommendations for revising the Texas school system were lamabsted as "a most despicable scheme by special interests" . . . "utter lack of Democratic thinking" . . . "whacking out the foundation of Texas education."

Lone defender of the plan on the conference program was Senator James Taylor of Kerens, chairman of the Gilmer-Aiken committee.

Backer Defends Plan

"When the bill is submitted to the Legislature, get a copy and see if it doesn't help your own school district. Don't condemn the bill before you see it," he urged the educators.

Baylor law professor Caso March, twice contender for the governorship, lashed at Taylor's affiliation as public relations counsel for the Texas Manufacturers' association.

"The special interests of this state have here one of the cleverest, most camouflaged, despicable schemes that was ever perpetrated upon the taxpayers of Texas," he said.

"It is a plan which a special interest has designed to not let the people of Texas govern their school system but would saddle them with the burden of financing it with taxes on real property."

State Superintendent of Public Instruction L. A. Woods, general chairman of today's conference, whose elective job would be made appointive under the Gilmer-Aiken plan, told the educators.

"There is practically no difference between Senator Taylor and myself over an education program in Texas except the method."

Texas Education Improves

Dr. Woods cited that Texas had risen from 39th among the states to 15th in the 16 years of his administration.

R. P. Ward, superintendent of Edinburg schools, called for a tax on eight billion gallons of gasoline exported annually from Texas free of the tax paid on gasoline sold in Texas.

W. V. Harrison, superintendent of Frost schools, also called for "the natural resource boys" to bear "a just share of the taxes" to finance education.

Dr. W. B. Irving, superintendent of Higland Park schools, described

Taxpayers May Speed Up Filing

Many income taxpayers can "kill two birds with one stone" by filing their final 1948 income tax returns by mid-January, instead of waiting until March, it was revealed in a notice received yesterday at the office of Louis B. Barkley, division chief of the internal revenue collector's office here, from John B. Dunlap, of Dallas, acting collector of internal revenue in the northern portion of Texas.

Those involved are taxpayers who are required to file declarations of estimated income for 1948, such as farmers, or business men desiring to file an amended declaration.

Deadline Is Set

They are permitted under the revised procedure to substitute the regular return on Form 1040 that might otherwise be filed on March 15, for the declaration or amendment, provided the return is filed and paid in full not later than Jan. 17, the notice set out.

The announcement emphasized that Jan. 17 will be the deadline this year, instead of the usual Jan. 15, because Jan. 15 falls on Saturday and the filing period is automatically extended to the next official workday.

Dunlap said the date is especially important to farmers, since they were excused by law from filing their 1948 declarations until this time, and is of interest to many business and professional persons, investors, self-employed, and similar taxpayers who were required to file declarations last spring, but who now want to change their estimates by filing amended declarations.

All these can avoid the declaration or amendment by filing their final 1948 returns not later than the Jan. 17 deadline, it was explained, thus saving the task of preparing and filing the declaration or amendment due then.

It was set out that most wage earners whose pay is subject to withholding are not required to file declarations, since the withholding substantially covers their income tax, although some wage earners with large salaries or supplemental non-salary income are required to file declarations. The latter can also use the plan outlined above, it was said.

Commission To Be Named By Legislature Urged

Changes In Constitution Studied

By BO BYERS
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, Jan. 6. — A citizens' committee took the first big step today toward possible writing of a new or revised constitution of Texas.

Told that the present constitution — the fifth in Texas' 100-plus years of sovereignty and statehood — is as out of date as the horse and buggy, the committee called for the Legislature to create a commisssion on the constitution.

Legislature To Get Plan

Gov. Beauford H. Jester was asked to present the citizens' committee proposal to the 51st Legislature. He agreed to do so.

The suggested 24-man commission would be organized along the lines of the present Gilmer-Aiken Committee on Education. The speaker of the House of Representatives and the lieutenant governor would appoint three representatives and and three senators, respectively, plus three additional commission members each. The governor and the chief justice of the Supreme Court would each appoint six members.

Paul Carrington, Dallas attorney, presented the proposed resolution by which the Legislature would establish the commission.

Would Make Study

The commission would be authorized to study and make recommendations as to the desirability and the procedure for revision of the constitution. It would do research work and prepare material to facilitate consideration of new constitutional provisions by either the Legislature or a constitutional convention.

A $75,000 appropriation was suggested to take care of the expenses of such a study.

To give the public an opportunity to study proposals of the commission, the resolution calls for distribution of the final report to the press three months before it is submitted to the Legislature which would act on the report.

Robert G. Storey of Dallas, dean of Southern Methodist university's law school and president of the Texas Bar association, said the commission should study the constitution of 1876 to "see if a horse-and-buggy fits the atomic age."

The citizens' committee, made up of some 160 laymen and lawyers, elected an organization committee to adopt by-laws for the group and to appoint an executive committee.

Officers of the organizing committee are Virgil Seaberry, Eastland, chairman; Carrington, vice-chairman; John P. Keith, Austin, secretary; and L. H. Gross, Corpus Christi, treasurer.

Other members include: Charles E. Coombs, Stamford; Raymond Dillard, Mexia; and John Ben Shepperd, Gladewater.

INCREASE REPORTED FOR 1948

81,288 Licenses Are Issued To Drivers In Lubbock District

By ROGER SOUTHALL
Avalanche Staff Writer

The Lubbock district of the Department of Public Safety's drivers' license division issued a total of 81,288 drivers' license during 1948, thereby reflecting an increase of approxpimately 10 per cent over the previous year, although exact figures for 1947 were not available.

So reported Capt. R. L. Castleberry, new supervisor of the 57-county Lubbock district, whose headquarters are housed with the Texas Highway patrol at 1909 Broadway.

13,792 Issued Here

This increase tends to align with reports from the Highway patrol that 1948 saw increased driving mileage and increased numbers of automobiles in this area. In effect, then, the year's increased driving and larger number of automobiles probably affected, to some extent at least, the number of license issued.

Of the total number issued in 1948, 13,792 license were from the Lubbock office; the balance were issued from other full-time officers in the district and from county-seat towns in each of the counties within the jurisdiction of this district which are visited regularly by district examiners and other personnel.

A further breakdown shows that 36,813 license were first-time issuances; that is, persons to whom they were issued had never before been licensed to drive. Renewals, the largest group, totaled 44,456 while 19 duplicates were issued.

Four full-time offices are maintained in the district and are open daily except Sundays from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. Included are offices in Amarillo, Borger, Wichita Falls, and Lubbock.

CAPT. CASTLEBERRY

A number of other offices, known as schedules, are maintained in Pampa, Vernon, Haskell, Plainview, Dumas, Brownfield, and Childress. A schedule man has one of these towns as his headquarters, and he works in surrounding towns on designated days.

Issuance Of Drivers' Licenses In Lubbock District Shows Sharp Hike During 1948

schedule calls for work in Plainview every Monday; Floydada every Tuesday; Muleshoe every Wednesday; Dimmitt every first third, and fifth Thursday; Farwell every second and fourth Thursday; and Plainview every Friday and Saturday. Other schedule men with other headquarters work their towns in a similar manner.

At each of the designated towns, as well at the district's full-time offices, driving examinations (both book tests and driving tests) may be taken and temporary driving license issued.

Many Renew By Mail

With the present number of examiners in the district and in the state, it is impossible to examine every driver every two years. Thus, many people who for some reason or other are not actually qualified to drive but who hold valid license renew them each time shortly before they expire, and are enabled to continue driving fully licensed, however hazardous it may be for themselves, other drivers, and pedestrians.

In this category are persons who have become too old to drive safely and those with physical defects. The remedy the drivers' license division has adopted is to call in those drivers who have compiled bad driving records, give them special examinations, and take steps to revoke or suspend their license if necessary.

Capt. Castleberry estimates that approximately 14 per cent of the new license issued after an examination carry restrictions, while the remaining 86 per cent are unrestricted.

Restrictions most frequently imposed on drivers include driving with glasses, driving with a licensed operator in the front seat of the vehicle (beginners' license) driving in day time only, driving a particular type or make of vehicle, driving only in certain places (such as in small towns or on back roads only), and driving with special equipment.

Supervisor Change Effective

Capt. Castleberry, who arrived this week to assume his duties as supervisor of the Lubbock district, succeeds Capt. H. B. Matthews, who was transferred in December to San Angelo as supervisor of the San Angelo district.

Capt. Castleberry joined the Department of Public Safety in 1942, and has worked in the license division in Houston, Corpus Christi, Taylor, Dallas, and Waco. He was promoted from the rank of sergeant to that of captain at the time of his transfer from Waco to Lubbock.

In addition to Capt. Castleberry, 15 men make up the personnel of the Lubbock district, and are stationed at various places throughout. Included are R. L. Greaves, Holloway Shelton, and Sgt. S. B. Lee, Lubbock; O. L. Brimhall and Joe Powell, Wichita Falls; H. E. Reynolds and W. H. Smith, Amarillo; R. L. Tabor, Borger, C. L. Brown, Vernon; J. T. Daws, Haskett; W. L. Roberts, Pampa; M McMurtrey, Plainview; C. B. Jones, Dumas; H. B. Patterson, Childress; and C. G. Pruitt, Brownfield.

Counties within the jurisdiction of the Lubbock district are Dallas, Sherman, Hansford, Ochiltree, Lipscomb, Hartley, Moore, Hutchison, Roberts, Hemphill, Oldham, Potter, Carson, Gray, Wheeler, Deaf Smith, Randall, Armstrong, Donley, Collingsworth, Parmer, Castro, Swisher, Briscoe, Hall, Childress, Hardeman, Bailey, Lamb, Hale, Floyd, Motley, Cottle, Foard, Wilbarger, Wichita, Clay, Montague, Cochran, Hockley, Lubbock, Crosby, Dickens, King, Knox, Baylor, Archer, Yoakum, Terry, Lynn, Garza, Kent, Stonewall, Haskell, Throckmorton, Gaines, and Jones

one of the pieces, and a local decorator has said she would not hesitate to place a $75 price tag on it. Different types of fir branches, cherry blossoms and some geometric designs were also used for decorations.

Dr. Ray, who does such work as this, along with botanical and archeological work, in his spare time, was described by Dr. Holden as a "home-made genius." In addition to this recent contribution to Tech's research, he has also made some valuable donations of historical artifacts. He was president of the Texas Archeological and Paleontological society for 20 years and editor of that organizations annual bulletin for 17 years. He resigned both positions in 1948, and Dr. Holden was chosen as editor of the annual bulletin at that time.

The ingenious doctor is also known for much of his research in development of new plants, especially Iris, and has written several articles for botanical publications and for Scientific Monthly.

Pecos River Pact To Be Signed Today

AUSTIN, Jan. 6.—(AP)—The Pecos River Compact commission meets here tomorrow to formally sign an agreement between Texas and New Mexico equitably dividing the waters of the Pecos river.

The agreement was reached Dec. 3. The compact must be ratified by the legislatures of both states and by Congress, after it is signed.

Father And Son Classmates; Both Work For College Degrees

PHOENIXVILLE, Pa., Jan. 6 (U.P.)—Like father, like son can be said truly of Frederick A. Bowen and his son, Frederick, Jr.

They are classmates at Ursinus college with the same goal in mind, a degree.

The elder Bowen retired from the U. S. Army two years ago with the rank of major. He said he was going to college to rehabilitate himself from three years of Japanese internment.

His son, who also had been interned by the Japanese during the war, is majoring in mathematics in preparation for a teaching career.

The conference was attended by approximately 1,500 educators from throughout the state. Sessions will continue through Saturday.

Town's Lavish School Building May Be Lost For Want Of Pupils

CHITTENDEN, Vt., Jan. 6 (U.P.)—At a time when most communities are worried about overcrowded school buildings, Chittenden has an even more pressing problem for the opposite reason.

There aren't enough pupils to fill the lavish $500,000 Frederic Duclos Barstow memorial school. Upkeep of the structure strains the town budget each year. With 379 residents, the town can fill but 89 of the school's 200 classroom seats.

Under the will of multimillionaire William S. Barstow, the school may go by default to Middlebury college "if it does not fulfill its purpose."

Small Coin Shortage Is Boon To Czechoslovak Charity Drives

PRAGUE, Jan. 6. (U.P.)—Charity funds will benefit from the current shortage of small coins in Czechoslovakia under a proposed plan.

Coin-short tradesmen will give change in slips of paper attesting that they have donated 10, 20 or 50 hellers (one U. S. cent) to the Czech social aid. They will do it instead of shrugging their shoulders and turning the buyer away, or thrusting on him boxes of matches or other small objects in place of coins.

Opinions differ as to the reason for the shortage, which fluctuates from month to month but has existed for more than two years. The most likely explanation is that many people, especially peasants, have hoarded the coins in the belief they would escape devaluation in case of another currency reform.

They are due for a shock, however. The government has been armed for about a year now with power to devalue coins as well as bank notes by decree, and has threatened several times lately to halve the value of small coins if hoarding did not cease.

GIRLS' EDUCATION VITAL

NORTH WALSHAM, England (AP)—Educating girls is more important than teaching boys, local education officer W. O. Bell says—because girls run things later on. He told high school girls here the happiness and standards of life—not to mention the character—of British husbands and children depend on the mother.

Tree Where Cortez Wept After Defeat Is Under Surgeon's Care

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 6. (U.P.)— A 450-year-old tree under which conquistador Hernan Cortes once sat and cried is receiving the best of modern tree surgery in an attempt to save its life.

Cortes supposedly sat under the tree, a Mexican swamp cypress, and wept bitter tears over the bloody defeat of his troops by a resurgent force of Aztecs. But he came back and eventually conquered Mexico for the Spanish crown. The tree has had its place in Mexican history and legend ever since.

The tree surgeons are not optimistic over chances to save the old patriarch.

Wall Street

MARKET GETS NEW BOOST

NEW YORK, Jan. 6 (AP)—A strong buying movement pushed the stock market higher today in an advance equal to the best in ten months.

Wall Street took a long second look at the text of President Truman's message to Congress and decided that the real test of its effect on business would come when Congress starts to put its promises into law.

The best advances were made by oils, motors, rails, rubbers, steels, and some chemicals and aircrafts.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced 1.1, equal to the wildest gain since March 14. At 65.4 the average stood at its best level since Nov. 8 in the middle of the post-election decline.

The volume of 1,150,000 shares for the day doesn't tell the whole story. In the early part of the day there was a marked dullness as prices moved narrowly with a slight upward tilt. Volume expanded later as prices rose. In late trading some steam was taken out of the forward movement momentarily by profit taking.

Advances were general, and of the 1,016 individual issues appearing on the quotation tape, 824 advanced and only 60 declined.

Among the best performers of the day were Gulf Oil up 2¾, Standard Oil (NJ) up 2⅛, Du Pont up 4, Santa Fe up 3, Nickel Plate up 1⅞, U. S. Steel up 1, Bethlehem Steel up 1⅛, National Steel up 1¾, General Motors up 1¼, Chrysler up 1⅞, (which after the market closed declared a dividend of $1.25 as against a previous $1 quarterly payment) Goodrich up 2⅞, U. S. Rubber up 2½, Montgomery Ward up 1½, Oliver Corp., up 1½, Douglas Aircraft up 2½, American Tobacco up 1⅝, U. S. Gypsum up 2⅛, American Smelting up 2, and Electric Power and Light up 1⅜.

Utilities advanced on average but some leaders fell back a little. American Telephone and Telegraph was off ¼, and Consolidated Natural Gas was off ⅜.

American Airlines, the most active stock of the day, fell back under pressure but recovered for a net gain of ⅛. Radio Corp., the second most active stock added ⅜. Of the fifteen most active, only one was up more than a point.

Cotton

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Jan. 6 (AP) — Cotton future price movements were narrow today in slow dealings. Traders were hesitant, pending fresh developments on the farm program in Congress and the export situation. Shippers awaited wards on the recent Korean inquiry for some 30,000 bales and it was expected that Japan will soon re-enter the market to purchase cotton at the rate of about 50,000 bales a month. The market was supported by mill buying against textile sales and local covering. Hedging was light.

The distant March delivery was lower on a few liquidating orders.

A private survey estimated that farmers will plant about 8 per cent more acreage to cotton this year than in 1948 with the intended acreage placed around 25,237,000 acres.

Late afternoon prices were 25 cents a bale higher to 10 cents lower than the previous close. March $2.27, May $2.06 and July $1.10.

Cotton futures rallied into new high ground for the day in late dealings on trade buying and short covering. Some commission house buying appeared influenced by firmness in securities.
