HUNTOON NEWS

The bad roads and weather of the latter part of last week almost prevented having the track meet at Perryton Saturday. However, several from our community attended, returning home Saturday with three first places and many second and third places. We were sorry not to have won more, but satisfied our school won second in the highest number of points. Now that the meet is over we will turn our attention to baseball, where we seem to have good prospects for a team.

AGED LADY WANDERS FAR FROM HOME

Mrs. Grover Butler, wife of Grover Butler and mother of Fred Butler of this city was lost on the prairie near her home in the west part of the county on Monday night of this week and was found by Guy E. Holt and Frank Dodson of this city after a several hours search by at least two hundred people. Mrs. Butler left her home about sundown to go out in a pasture after the milk cows. She was last seen just about dusk driving the cows toward the house, by her son, Findley, who was plowing in a nearby field. Findley after putting up his teams went to the house expecting to find his mother there and when she had not returned he immediately started the search. Not finding her, he gave the alarm and soon the entire countryside was scouring the country in that section, many from Perryton going out to assist. Mrs. Butler was found on the road to Perryton, about five miles from her home, at about three o'clock in the morning and was apparently none the worse for her experience. Fortunately it was a warm night and she did not suffer from the cold.

SCHOOL TRUSTEE ELECTION VERY QUIET

At the election held on last Saturday for the election of four trustees for the Perryton Independent School District, W. B. LaMaster, D. D. Taliaferro, and A. C. Witt were reelected and David D. Shanks was selected as the new member of the board replacing A. A. Johnson. The election went off very quietly, a light vote being cast. A number of good parties received a number of votes. The new member of the board, Mr. Shanks, is a very competent man and we feel that he will make an excellent trustee. The board is now composed of Mrs. H. C. Coffee, Miss Nellie Perry, G. C. Brillhart, W. B. LaMaster, David D. Shanks, A. C. Witt and D. D. Taliaferro.

TRIPLETS BORN TO MR. AND MRS. RAHUNKAMP

Mr. and Mrs. George Rahenkamp, who live 15 miles west of this city are the proud parents of triplets, two girls and a boy, born last Sunday morning. Dr. J. C. May of this city was the attending physician. The little tots have been named Pearl, Myrl and Burl. So far as we have been able to ascertain, these are the first triplets ever born in this county. They all weighed six and one-half pounds at birth and seem to be in the best of health. Mr. and Mrs. Rahenkamp are now the parents of eleven children. They have been residents of this county for about a year, moving here from near Hooker, Oklahoma.

FORD RETAIL SALES BREAK RECORD AGAIN

"Retail deliveries of Ford Cars and Trucks in the United States during the Month of March reached the record breaking total of two hundred five thousand seven hundred thirty five, it was announced here today.

"Nothing in the history of the automobile industry compares with this remarkable record.

"A significant feature developed during the last ten days of the month when sales averaged ten thousand eight hundred four cars and trucks a day indicate that the spring buying rush has begun and that under this enormous demand production of the company will be taxed to the limit in an endeavor to meet the heavy flood of orders."

Mrs. Adelaide Rogers of Farnsworth has received word from the Amarillo News that she is leading her district in the subscription contest for the automobile which the above paper is giving away. She is also at the head of the list for the special prize.

Mr. and Mrs. Linas Taylor of the Farnsworth neighborhood are the proud parents of a baby boy, born last Monday. Dr. W. J. Brewer of this city was the attending physician.

Harry Barlow who lives northeast of town was trading here last Monday.

BEAVER ODD FELLOWS VISIT LOCAL BROTHERS

The bad weather and muddy roads almost put the big doin's which the Perryton Odd Fellows and Rebekah lodges had arranged for Thursday evening of last week. The degree team of both the Beaver and the Balko Odd Fellow and Rebekah lodges were to be here. The work of the subordinate lodge was to be conferred on several candidates at the school building followed by the Rebekah drills and a of the county. Postmaster Beever bowed their backs and came right on through the mud getting in here at a late hour but they conferred the work just the same and in a very creditable manner. About twenty from Beaver came down. Among them were W. L. Stranathan, H. G. Purdy, D. C. Fisher, V. E. Raff, J. B. Krone, J. L. Hendricks, Chester P. Baker, H. D. Bowling, A. L. Kimball and Wm. Tetter. The visiting team conferred the first degree on the following candidates from this city, O. C. Shearer, Chas. Pryor and L. T. Tucker. After the lodge work was over a fine banquet was served by Rebekah ladies, the Perryton orchestra playing during the serving hour.

PIONEER CELEBRATES SIXTIETH ANNIVERSARY

The children of Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Jackson gathered at the Jackson home on last Sunday around the festal board in honor of the sixtieth birthday anniversary of Mr. Jackson. The children present were Chester Jackson and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Cudd and family and Myrl Jackson. Mr. Jackson came to this country twenty-four years ago from his native state of Indiana and has ever since been active in the building of this country to the high state of agricultural development which it now enjoys. Mr. and Mrs. Jackson came in the days when the nearest neighbor was miles away. They stayed on during the good and bad years, improving their land and bringing up their children to be progressive, honored and respected citizens. May Mr. Jackson have many more birthdays, just a senjoyable as this, is our sincere wish.

BOYS AND GIRLS CLUB HOLD MEETING

The members of the Girls and Boys Clubs of the Fairview and Fulton Creek Schools met at the Fulton School on Tuesday afternoon of last week. County Agent Handley and Demonstration Agent Ferris were scheduled to attend the joint meeting but for unavoidable reasons were unable to come. Both the boys and the girls did so good work though. Professors Colvard and Smith took the boys to the Gift farm where they did some stock judging. The girls under the able instruction of their mothers and teachers put in several hours club work while the boys were visiting the farm. The members of the Mothers Club, who were holding their regular meeting on the same day assisted the girls in pattern work. It was a very pleasant meeting and much benefit was derived by all present.

G. C. Nall, operator of the North Side Cream Station went to Amarillo the fore part of this week to get Andy Myers who will assist his mother, Mrs. Nall, in the operation of the Denver Trail Cafe. Mr. Myers is a chef of many years experience and he will have charge of the kitchen at the Denver Trail. This cafe, which was recently re-opened by Mrs. Nall is now enjoying a very liberal patronage, which it justly deserves. The new manageress knows the business and is giving Perryton a real cafe service.

R. H. Moore of the Wolf Creek country was a Perryton visitor last Monday. Mr. Moore who is engaged principally in the cattle business tells us that it will be several weeks yet before the cattle can be turned to the grass without any feed. He also said that this March was harder on cattle than any other March since he has been in the cattle business in this country.

R. Cornelius of Kansas is visiting in the home of his son, Ralph Cornelius, who lives northeast of Perryton.

PERRYTON'S FIRST RURAL ROUTE STARTS SOON

Postmaster J. C. Beever has received word from the Postal authorities to hold a civil service examination in this city on Friday, April 25 for the purpose of selecting a carrier for the first rural route ever to be established in Ochiltree County. This route which is designated by the department as Route "A" runs from this city and covers a large part of the south and west part of the county. It is to be motor route, 67.8 miles in length and is ordered to be put in operation on May 16th.

The securing of this route is a sure sign of the rapid development which is now under way in this community. It is a sign that the government has recognized the fact that there are now sufficient people here to justify the operation of the rural free delivery. It is a sign that the officers of this county have seen fit to establish and build good roads. The two essential things that a community has to have before they can get rural routes is lots of people and good roads. With this route soon to be put in operation, we predict that it will not be many months before we see rural routes extending out from Perryton covering every part of the county. Post master Beever has been very zealous in his work in getting the farmers this free delivery of their mails and they should co-operate with him in every way. What we want is free delivery of our mails and good roads and neither goal can be attained unless everyone co-operates. One clique pulling one way and the other bunch doing all they can to hold back will get neither of us anywhere.

DISTRICT COURT CONVENES HERE NEXT MONDAY

The regular spring term of the District Court of Ochiltree County will convene in this city on Monday morning of next week and a full two week's docket awaits the court. As usual the majority of the cases are civil. There are few counties in the United States that can boast of as low a record as Ochiltree County when it comes to crime. We should be thankful that our citizenship is composed of such a high grade type of American law abiding people.

The grand jurors have been summoned to report on Monday morning and one panel of the petit will report on Tuesday and the other panel, the Tuesday following. It is expected that this term of court will attract a large number of people to this city during the two weeks term.

PANHANDLE INTERESTED IN CROSSING AT PLEMONS

An article in this issue of the Herald reproduced from the Ochiltree County Herald, gives an account of a highway meeting held last week at Perryton in which Panhandle should be very much interested. The meeting had under consideration the Memorial Highway routed out of Kansas to Perryton and then via Spearman, Ple-mons, and Panhandle to Amarillo.

If this can be made a link in the system of State highways it means the building of a bridge across the Canadian at Plemons and will bring a large tourist travel through the Carson-Hutchinson County oil field, as well as to connect the people on both sides of the river in a social and business way that will mean so much to all of us.

To bridge the Canadian River means a considerable financial investment, but if such an arrangement can be made as will enable the people to meet it without entailing too much of a burden it should be done. One of the finest sections of the Panhandle lies north of the Canadian River and it is very desirable from both sides of the River that a substantial crossing be installed if it be within the bounds of a reasonable cost. Let Panhandle not overlook this important possibility.—Panhandle Herald.

Now they are proposing a universal language just when most of us were becoming half-way proficient in English.

People who do their Christmas saving early will have fewer regrets at the end of 1924.

If it's true that Henry Ford gets 1,500 letters a day asking for money, he ought to have a nice stamp collection.

Men who fail and lose heart were never cast for the part of being leading citizens.

A man has been lynched in Italy.
There's one, least, that can't be blamed on the southern states.

It doesn't make so much difference how an automobile looks, so long as all four wheels are turning.

ANDREW CARNEGIE SAID

"If a business is worth any of your time it is worth all of it.

"Many people have passed up a golden opportunity by putting their minds to one thing and their money to another.

"The time to invest in your business is when its future is before it, not behind it. Here lies the secret of success.

"Nowadays business is service.
"It requires an understanding of human ways and the acquisition of studied knowledge.

"It requires the cultivation of public opinion by liberal, broadminded policies.

"It requires the thinking of thinkers, the doing of doers, and the elimination of the gambling instinct.

"The average person puts 25 percent of his energy and ability into his work. The world takes off its hat to those who put in more than 50 percent of their capacity, and stands on its head for those few and far between souls who devote 100 per cent.

Boston man conducted a contest to get a word that would "fit" the "lawless scoffing drinker." Can't be done because he's a misfit.

Very few things turned out as badly as the chronic pessimists expected in 1923, but that happens every year.

Now they're talking about simplifying the income tax blanks. What the average Perryton man who has to pay one wants is a simpler way of raising the money.

NEW COACH USED ON
GOLDEN STATE

A new modern coach is now being used from Chicago to Los Angeles, California, on the Golden State Limited. This coach is a wonder in science and is said to be one of the best ever operated west of Chicago. This car costs $11,000.00. It is equipped with a bath room, barber shop, three drawing rooms that will accommodate five passengers, smoking room, lounging room, and in fact every thing is there for the comfort of the traveler.
The Rock Island is bound to give the best possible service and in this car it has reached the peak in perfection.

Train 3 and 4 are soon to be entirely a De Luxe train, it was announced Monday and when that occurs a smoking parlor will be on the train together with every comfort that any train now in operation has.—
Pratt Republican.

It's too bad some of the railroad
"flyers," which kill a batch of motorists every now and then, don't really fly.

Maybe they could improve the political platforms this year if each party would include a fence for the candidate to straddle.

Next to changing a ten-dollar bill, nothing disappears as quickly as a political platform the day after the election.

The man who can bottle up his wrath at all times is a corker.

NEW LAW LENGTHENS
TERMS OF COUNTY OFFICERS

Governor Trapp last week signed the bill raising the terms of county officers. The new law is divided into three sections. They are:

A—County attorneys, sheriffs, treasurers and superintendents shall at the November, 1924 election, be elected for four years.

B—County surveyors, assessors and weighers elected in November, 1924 shall be for two years and then those elected in November, 1926, shall be for four years.

C—County commissioners elected in November, 1924, shall be from the first district for two years; the second district for four years, the third district commissioner for six years, and their terms begin July 1 after election. Thereafter, one is elected every two years for a term of six years.—Beaver Herald.

Now and then a Perryton man will admit to his wife that he's a fool, but he never wants it to go any farther.

BEANS BROOM CORN INDUSTRY GROWING

By Stuart McGregor.

There is a fiber crop of which Texas is a leading producer, the raising of which involves much manual labor. It must undergo a seed-separating process, must be dried for market and is sold largely on the street from wagons. This product is graded by the buyer by sampling from the bale and classifying according to length and color of fiber and amount of trash in it. It is non-perishable. It is often held for better prices, is subject to the weather and is sometimes damaged. The product is usually shipped out of the State for manufacture, although there are some manufacturers in Texas with this crop as a basis.

Now what crop is this? "Cotton," a native Texan will answer, confidently. But he would be wrong in this particular instance, for the reference is to broom corn.

But if some budding economist wished to study the commercial operations of the cotton industry or any other big commercial crop, he could do well to select broom corn as a miniature example. It is a "right little, tight little" agricultural industry with all the problems of the most complex crop. Like cotton, and unlike most crops, it is grown entirely for market to the manufacturer. But it is a small crop with a limited demand; its "law of diminishing returns" operates rather abruptly, and economic aspects generally react sensitively to trade conditions; hence it is a good laboratory subject for the economist.

And it is a good crop for the Texas student because it is one of the one Star State's twenty odd "million dollar" crops, doing its bit for the prosperity of the State each year, despite the fact that very few Texans know anything about it.

As broom corn producer, Texas ordinarily ranks third among the States with Oklahoma first, and Illinois second. Kansas, New Mexico, Colorado and Missouri are other principal producers. The production in Texas is confined chiefly to the extreme northern and extreme southern counties, though there are scattered producers in other portions of the State, Dallas County being one of them.

The chief producers of broom corn in 1923 were Cameron and Hidalgo counties in the Rio Grande Valley, 50 cars; Bee and Jim Wells counties, 100 cars; Medina County, 40 cars; Dimmit County, 40 cars. All of this production was in South Texas. The other section comprised the extreme north tier of the Panhandle counties, including Dallam, Hansford, Amarillo, Ochiltree and Sherman, which shipped about 100 cars. With scattered shipments from other points the State produced about 750 cars, which at twelve tons a car meant about 9,000 tons. The value was near 1,000,000.

This product comes on the market shortly after July 1 in the Rio Grande Valley, which, as in cotton, leads the country in early production. The New Mexico, Oklahoma, Texas Panhandle, Kansas, Illinois and Colorado crops come on the market in succession, and marketing continues until the end of the year. The last shipment made from Texas, in 1923 was from Perryton, Ochiltree County, shortly before Christmas.

There are two varieties, standard and dwarf; the high dry altitudes usually grow the dwarf broom corn, while the lower areas produce the standard. The production is usually from 300 to 400 pounds an acre. Many hazards attend the growing, not the least of which is cutting and curing it at the right time in order to obtain the uniform pea-green color, which brings the best price.

In the dry climates curing is often done in the field by "ricking" or by placing in frames, constructed something like old-fashioned V shaped chicken coops. In rainy territory curing is usually done under sheds. In recent years artificial heat has been used in a kiln drying process in the Rio Grande Valley.

The seed are separated from the straw, or fiber as it is usually called by small power-driven machines with revolving spiked cylinders something like the wheat thresher. The fiber is pressed into a bale about 2x3x4 feet, weighing from 300 to 425 pounds. Since it is necessary not to break the fiber, the threshing and baling process entail much more hand work in placing in the machines than is necessary for threshing grain or baling hay or cotton.

The Rio Grande acreage varies greatly according to the carryover from the preceding season. If the preceding season falls short of demand the valley growers rush into the early succeeding market and usually get good prices, but a heavy carry-over makes them "gun shy" of this product and the acreage is usually small.

Market prices vary greatly. During 1921 quotations were around $7.50 during a large part of the season. A short crop in 1922 boosted the price to $300 a ton before the season was closed. This caused a tremendous jump in the South Texas acreage for 1923 growers thinking to get in on the $300 market. It looked like a big early price with declining market thereafter as later areas came into production.

But an unprecedented thing happened which exactly reversed such an expected market course. American manufacturers found an available supply of corn in Czechoslovakia, Argentina and Germany and imported about 7,000 tons during the early part of the year. This, together with predictions of a big crop, caused a rapid decline in the early market and valley growers sold largely at poor prices. Then drought and other weather damage set in and the market rose rapidly, giving the more northerly growers a fair price. Texas growers received an average of $150 a ton, while Illinois growers got $235. However, an early crop is usually a paying crop, and South Texas will probably continue to produce much broom corn.

After it is seeded, cured and baled, broom corn is hauled to local market and sold on the street much like cotton. Some buyers purchase on commission, some directly for factories they represent, some buy for themselves as speculators. When prices are unsatisfactory growers often ship to terminal markets on consignment. Again, when the demand is good buyers often go to the fields and make the farmer a bid before the crop is harvested. In some instances, too, factories grow their own corn; such is said to be true of a large broom factory near Dallas. Co-operative marketing organizations have been formed among the growers in some places, particularly in the Rio Grande Valley.

The chief local markets of Texas are McAllen, Beeville, Devine, Alice Big Wells, Texline, Perryton, Darroter and Booker. Lindsay, Ok., is the largest local market in the United States, and Elk City, Fairview, Guymon, Laverne and Shattuck are other shipping points in that State. Oklahoma City, Ok., Wichita, Kans.; Chicago, Ill.; Lincoln, Neb., and Philadelphia, Pa., are among the larger terminal markets.

There are about forty-five factories in Texas large and small, making brooms, mops and brushes from broom corn. The average number of persons employed is about 325, and the annual value of products is about $1,225,000. Several of the larger of these plants are in and near Dallas and Fort Worth.

The broom corn growing industry could be expanded greatly in Texas if demand should warrant, according to G. B. Aiguire, specialist of the United States Department of Agriculture, at Kansas City who is considered one of the foremost authorities on this crop. The useful of broom corn for broom making was not discovered until about 1850 and it was first grown on a commercial scale in Illinois. Spread of the industry to Oklahoma and other States was largely through the migration of farmers from the original home of broom corn culture. Though its use has been limited largely in the past to the manufacture of brooms, brushes and mops, it seems probable that this strong straw fiber will find other uses which will greatly strengthen the demand, in which event it might become a major crop in Texas.—Dallas News.

CANDIED "SWEETS" IN THE REAL OLD SOUTHERN STYLE

The Southern housewife is the one who knows how to prepare sweet potatoes so beautifully golden brown and so deliciously candied that they fairly melt in your mouth. Here is the way to cook them: Boil three or four medium sized potatoes; peel and slice them and place the slices in an enameled ware baking dish. In a sauce pan put half a cup of water, a cup of brown sugar and two tablespoons of butter and cook this mixture until it forms a thick syrup. Add barely a pinch of salt and pour this over the sliced potatoes in the baking dish. Cover and put in a moderate oven for fifteen minutes; then take off the cover and bake a few minutes longer to brown the potatoes on top. Serve from the enameled ware baking dish, which is sturdy enough for the kitchen and attractive enough for the dining room.

L. B. Connor of Farnsworth was a Perryton visitor last Saturday.

Joe Willie was a Perryton visitor last Saturday.

TAXES PAID BY PEOPLE OF TEXAS ARE HEAVY

In an address delivered in Dallas last Sunday John G. Willacy, state tax commissioner of Texas, said:

"For the fiscal year ending 1923, income and other taxes paid the Federal Government out of Texas industry amounted to $34,634,081."

"During this same year our total State ad valorem tax assessment on a valuation of $3,423,103,371 amounted to $25,673,275, of which amount, including poll, occupation and inheritance taxes, there was paid $24,809,617."

"To this must be added cost of assessing and collecting, approximately $700,000."

"In gross receipts, including insurance, taxes, there was paid $5,518,110."

"Departmental revenues, including franchise taxes amounted to $1,711,035."

"Upon a conservatively estimated average of 70 cents levied by counties there was assessed in the local counties $23,961,000."

"District and county common school tax amounted to $4,024,441."

"Independent school district taxes amounted to $11,123,434."

"The total enumerated is $106,481,718."

"The figures given do not include taxes levied to pay interest and provide a sinking fund against road, drainage and other district bond issues, each of them calling for an additional annual tax of not less than $6,000,000."

"Nor do they include the new automobile and gasoline taxes of approximately $10,000,000, which will bring our total annual tax burden to $122,481,718."

"Add to this sum the total of city taxes paid and we have a tax burden perilously close to $150,000,000 annually. This must be paid out of our earnings before and as we provide for food, shelter and clothing. When, with an intelligent understanding, we contemplate these figures in the aggregate, is it any wonder that we look with suspicion upon a philosophy that teaches the way to prosperity by way of more and greater taxes."

ALL KINDS OF PEOPLE

It takes all kinds of people to make a community, but some are more indispensable than others.

There are those who go through life with a smooth serenity that is seldom if ever disturbed. They are never ruffled because they do not exert themselves enough to go thoroughly into any condition of affairs that demands their attention. They scarcely ever do any harm in the world and rarely trouble themselves enough to do any good. They are generally popular, but they command little admiration.

Then there is a second kind who never hesitate to speak their mind when the occasion demands it. As a rule, they are fair students of men and affairs, they are willing to make an effort to get the facts, reach a conclusion after a careful study of the situation, and then stand by their convictions, whatever the consequences. They give praise where it is due and they are not afraid to criticize where criticism is necessary. They are the constructive citizens of the community, and right or wrong, they are very much to be desired, because they are honest in their opinions.

And the third kind—need we mention him at all—the chronic kickers who see no good in anything, who question others motives and who never were known to compliment any good deed or any public-spirited movement. They came into the world kicking, go through life with one perpetual kick and raise an awful kick when they have to leave. They are a destructive force in society, but more destructive to themselves.

The calm and placid citizens are not undesirable the chronic grouches are very undesirable, but most desirable of all are the citizens who are a constructive force for good.

Where do you belong?

Miss Olive Black of Eureka Springs Arkansas came in last Friday for a visit in the home of her sister, Mrs. J. B. Cartwright.

FAST AGE

So much is going on these days that children are quitting school to see it.—Ed. Howe.

That sounds like an Abe Martin paragraph. It has a whole, sermon boiled down.

School children in town don't usually advance in their books as rapidly as school children in the country, and this is probably the reason. There are so many things to keep the child excited over; so many places to go; so many activities to take part in.

The country boy, if he's lucky, may go to school half the time, or a third of the time, and when he becomes a man he goes to town and takes the place of the boy who had to go to school from the time he was six till he is grown. Hence the country boys are running the big industries, the big institutions, and holding the big political jobs.

There is always a lot of discussion about who saw the first robin, but no body ever raises a fuss about the person who saw the second one.

NATIONAL INDUSTRIAL WEAKNESS

Secretary Davis of U. S. Department of Labor says the old apprentice system can never be revived in our country with labor organizations and divisions of labor into specialties. Too few trades offer young men an opportunity to learn by direct contact.

Our entire educational system is tending toward producing professional classes, with almost no relation to industry and production. Secretary Davis, speaking before the National Society for Vocational Education, said it was a mistake to turn out 90 per cent of the young people equipped only for "white collar" occupations.

As a matter of fact in almost any community, by actual count, only 10 per cent of jobs are the "white collar" class. Mr. Davis himself a product of the workshop, warns us that our country cannot be kept in lead as industrial nation under this system.

Labor organizations shutting young men out from learning trades, and schools and colleges turning out nine professionals when only one is needed, will not maintain our hold upon the trade of the world.

Our country will have to learn the lesson once more that labor and productive industry are the foundation of prosperity and our boys and girls must be made to realize that it is not undignified to toil with one's hands.

We hope they will not wait so long the next time to visit our school. We would like for more of the parents to visit our school.

Mrs. George Fletcher and daughter have been visiting at the Holderman and Fletcher homes this week.

We had our declamation contest last Tuesday. Mr. Price brought out Mrs. Castleman, Miss Allen and Mr. Bray to do the judging. Ella May Fletcher won in the sub-junior girls. Frank Holderman the sub-junior boy; Blanche Rogers in the junior girls; Wood Taliaferro in the junior boys, and Fay Taliaferro, Senior girls.

Misses Alice Short, Bessie Gossett, Laura Gossett, Mary Wagner; Messrs. Carol Gossett, Waldon Gossett, Mart Wagner and Lewis Wagner attended the party at the McLanahan home Saturday night. They all report a very nice time.

We are working on our play and expect to give it Friday, April 11th. Everybody is invited to come and bring a pie.

R. H. Gamel and Alfred McAfee motored to Canadian last Monday.

WILL ADVERTISING PAY THE FARMER?

Thousands of farmers have not yet waked up to one opportunity that awaits them—the opportunity to use the advertising columns of local and farm papers.

The type of publication to be used depends on the product and the quantity of stuff to be sold. If it is only a half dozen settings of eggs or a few bushels of improved planting seed, then make use of the county paper. If any considerable quantity is to be disposed of, the farm paper should be used.

One farmer may have a few hundred bushels of soy beans, cowpeas, or cotton seed; another a surplus of seed corn, hay, etc. By advertising, one can usually dispose of such a surplus profitably. At the same time one will be giving other farmers what they need at a reasonable price. Therefore we have no hesitation in saying that thousands of farmers who do not yet realize the value of printer's ink can make profitable use of the advertising columns of farm papers.

It will be worth any farmer's while to look at the classified advertising columns of The Progressive Farmer and see the great variety of products that are offered for sale. Let him study them carefully and see if there aren't some things advertised which he might also advertise to advantage. It may be a farm, a piece of machinery, some plants, flowers, fruit trees, hatching eggs, breeding stock, fruits, vegetables, honey, peaches, poultry supplies, syrup, apples, or a number of other things. There are not many farms where $25 to $50 worth of surplus produce cannot be located and then advertised and sold through one or two insertions of a small advertisement.

There is still another form of advertising that many farmers can make use of profitably. That is the classified columns of the daily papers in the large towns and cities. This is especially true where one has a surplus of produce which could be mailed into the cities by parcel post such as eggs, butter, vegetables, fruits, etc. If a farmer has five or ten dozen fresh eggs that could be sent into the nearby towns or cities each week, a little advertisement in one of the daily papers offering the eggs at a reasonable price (guaranteeing them fresh and of high quality) will nearly always bring orders. This is true not only of fresh eggs, but of various other kinds of farm produce.

By studying the advertising columns of the Progressive Farmer and of your newspapers, you will probably find that you have a surplus of some of the very things that other farmers are already advertising with profit. Why not become a "business farmer" as they are by doing about the first thing every successful business man does nowadays—that is to say, by advertising to let folks know that you truly want to sell something?—The Progressive Farmer.

A soft answer may turn away wrath, but there are occasions when a good swift kick answers the purpose better than anything.

The Bible still heads the list of best sellers; but even so, we wouldn't offer much for the exclusive agency in some places we might mention.

The law provides that cats in Berlin shall be muzzled. Fortunately, no such law is enforced here or lots of us would be wearing muzzles.

The great difficulty with ignorance is that it shuts its eyes and goes ahead in the belief that it is right.
