Little Interest In Budget Hearing

Registration for the 1958-59 school term will begin next Thursday.

This information came this week from Joe Harper, superintendent of Olton Public Schools.

Mr. Harper said school will start Sept. 1. He said the faculty is complete with the exception of one first grade teacher.

High school seniors will register next Thursday morning, beginning at 9 o'clock.

Registration

Teachers assisting will be A. R. Bostick, mathematics, drivers education and science; Mrs. Ruth Ford, English, history and speech; Fred Stockdale, band, commercial, chorus and Spanish; Calvin Horn, vocational agriculture and study hall; and Mrs. Rosalyn Sorley, home economics and activities.

Juniors will register at 1 o'clock Thursday afternoon, reporting to the same teachers.

Sophomores will register Friday.

Teachers assisting will be Harry Ford, mathematics; Fred Mullinax, English I, Spanish, speech and physical education; James Caley, science and history; Mrs. Jayne Harper, English and chorus; David Howton, all commercial and band; Max Malone, vocational agriculture and study hall; Mrs. Evelyn Maxey, homemaking and activity.

Freshmen will register at 1:00 Friday afternoon, reporting to the same teachers.

Junior High

Junior high school principal Robert Fisher said students in the sixth, seventh and eighth grades who were not in school here last year should report to the elementary school office Thursday or Friday.

Students in the grades mentioned who attended school here last term will be registered and their names posted on the doors of their rooms.

Elementary

Fred Gordon, elementary principal, said all children starting to school for the first time this year should be registered at the primary building next Wednesday.

He explained that it would be advisable for children to have small pox shots before starting to school. Primary children new in the district, other than first graders, should register Friday or Saturday.

Little Interest

In other school activity this week the school board approved a $965,376 budget for the forthcoming school year. Of that figure, $550,000 was from sale of bonds for construction of new school buildings.

There was little interest in a budget hearing held Tuesday night of this week. The only person to attend the hearing, other than board members and school personnel, was an Olton Enterprise staffer assigned to cover the hearing.

Enroll Children In Kindergarten Soon As Possible

"Enroll your children now if you wish for them to be in kindergarten this year," Mrs. Calvin Horn made this plea this week.

She emphasized that the kindergarten will have to have limited enrollment. Mrs. Horn, wife of the new Agriculture teacher and who has taught other kindergartens in the past years, is opening a kindergarten in Olton.

School will begin September 1. Mrs. Horn's phone number is 5931.

30 Enter Band For Beginners

Beginners band practice began Monday with 30 pupils, according to Fred Stockdale, band director. The practice will be held for two weeks each morning from 10:45 to 11:45.

Mr. Gilbert has two shoe shops in Lubbock and has had 30 years of experience in boot and shoe making and repair. His wife will move here in November.

Gilbert will sell boots, leather goods and specialize in all kinds of repair work.

Patzer Chiropractic Clinic is located across the street south of Andy Stroebel's office. Dr. Keith C. Patzer is a graduate of Palmer School of Chiropractic in Davenport, Iowa. He has maintained an office in Floydada for the past four years and will maintain his Floydada office as usual and run the Olton office part time.

Little Interest Shown In Run-off

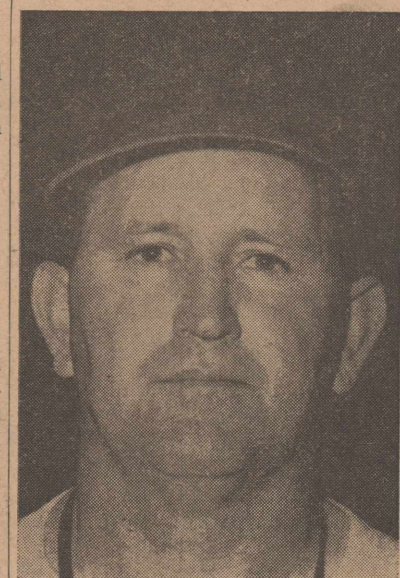

Little interest has been shown in the Democratic run-off election to be held here this week.

Those who do vote—and indications are that very few will—will do so in the school lunch room between the hours of 8 o'clock in the morning and 7 o'clock in the evening.

There is only one contested office on the county level and only one in the state level. A supreme court place is in the balance on the state level.

Mrs. Lucy Moreland of Amherst is challenging the incumbent, Mrs. Bill Pass, for the office of county treasurer.

Books on Parade

by mardema ogletree

Many of you will remember Mrs. Marjorie Brewer, who formerly lived here and now teaches in the Tulia Public Schools. She has had a book published which features facts and ideas about our country in verse form. It is called Our American Heritage and will be published soon by The Exposition Press and will sell for $2.50.

From an advance copy of the attractive jacket of the book I read "Our American Heritage, Poems by Marjorie Lindsey Brewer." To help children organize the wealth of fascinating ideas and important facts they learn about their country, Texas poet and educator Marjorie Lindsey Brewer has created this unique history in verse form.

"Our American Heritage captures the reader's imagination through poetic dramatizations of the creation of the Earth, the New World's most important explorations and discoveries, and the colorful history of the thirteen original colonies. Such historically significant occurrences as the first Thanksgiving, the Boston Tea Party, Daniel Boone's exploits, and Johnny Appleseed's philanthropic journeyings are portrayed in an engaging style."

And from the preface—"Though this little book was written to meet the needs of school children, it is quite suitable for general reading. All of it, with the exception of a very few pieces which were later added, was given completely by memory as choral readings by two different groups in school assembly programs on two different occasions. The first program was tape-recorded and given over radio station KTUE."

Last year Mrs. Brewer received the "Freedom Foundation at Valley Forge Award" for an essay entitled "Why We Teach."

If you would like an author autographed copy of the book (when available), please call 3241 to reserve your copy.

How You Can Be Better Student by Rudolf Flesch, Paul Witty and others, published by Sterling Publishing Co., $2.95.

The author of Why Johnny Can't Read and other authorities on the subject have collaborated to make a "study how to study" book for teen-agers that is informative, easily read, amusingly illustrated, and most helpful.

"If you want to know how to—streamline your reading, add easily to your vocabulary, keep helpful notebooks, make your own ready reference review book, organize and outline material, jog your memory, have your own 'flash card' system, write anything from a 'short story' to a doctor's thesis, make your writing come alive, eliminate the drudgery of studying—then this is the book for you," says the book blurb. (Highly recommended)

I once heard the late Dr. Walter Campbell of the University of Oklahoma faculty say, "A bore is a person who talks about himself so much that you don't have opportunity to talk about yourself."

One way to avoid being a bore is to develop a fascinating hobby. And it is more—it's therapy for what ails you—boredom, depression, or an inferiority complex.

Vivian Brown in her column says "A hobby is a road to beauty. . . The way to choose a hobby is (1) ask yourself what you are interested in above everything else and (2) make a point of concentrating on the hobby you have selected, improving your knowledge with books and other educational media."

Sonny Bryant . . . without something to say about everything?

Co-Captains of our Mustang team this fall are Royce Bodkin and Arno Hall. Here's hoping that with these boys' leadership and the cooperation of both players and fans, Olton will win no less than district championship!!

News Of Interest To Women

New Fall Fashions Modeled In New Century's "Autumn Leaves" Style Showing Fri. Night

A garden scene depicting Autumn, was the setting for the New Century Study Club's third annual fall fashion show. Theme for the show was "Autumn Leaves."

Mrs. Louie Mack Hardy acted as mistress of ceremonies.

Approximately $150 was netted from the show. Proceeds will go in assisting other civic clubs in re-decorating the American Legion Hall and in helping with the new tennis courts.

The stage was decorated with white trees, a pink brick fence with a vine of leaves growing on it, a yellow mailbox with autumn leaves on it, and a white lacy garden table and chair, belonging to Mrs. O. B. LaFrance. The leaves, nuts and mailbox were from Hemphill Wells.

Ushering the audience to their seats were Lana and Phyllis Hair, Pat LaFrance, Cecilia Galloway, Judy Lacey and Koenia Schenck. Background music during the style show was furnished on the piano by Misses Gaylan Graham, Linda Kemp and Sandie Loveless.

Models were Debbie Wells, Jane McGill, Donna Carlisle, Allan Carson, Sissy Smith, Joellen Spain, Buttons Carlisle, Steve Spain, Terry Fite, Cleo Smith, Mark Smith.

Robert Struve, Cherry Langford, Darlene Langford, Lana George, Diane Smith, Yvonne Pinkerton, Tommy Wilson, Mrs. R. V. Alcorn, Melvin Hines, Cheryl Poteet, Glenda Hall, Judith Chester, Lonnie Thomas.

Mrs. Truitt Sides, Betty Williams, Juanelle Hatley, Mrs. Tom Carlisle, Thelma Fay Findley, Sidney Hair, Mrs. Denny Barnett, Linda Franks, Mrs. Cleo Smith, Bettie Lois Daniel.

Mrs. Lucy Worrell of Springlake, Mrs. Nell Crawford, Mrs. Elmo Bryant, Mrs. Wilton Bodkin, Nancy Brown, Mrs. Fred George, Mrs. Glen Exter and Mrs. Ed Thompson.

In between acts were given by Misses Cheryl Poteet and Tommie Witten, who sang and danced, "Dearie" and Jerry Meyer, who played two trumpet solos.

The new band uniforms were modeled during the show by Sue Witten, Harvey Jordan, Nickey Redinger, Pat LaFrance and Sylvia Nicholas. Richard Hall showed the new cadet band uniform.

Mrs. Cleo Smith donned the night's most outstanding new outfit for women—a real show stopper. Had the clock turned back to the 1920's, no one would have known the difference. Definitely fashioned from the "flapper" days.

Another very smart new "chemise" suit was modeled by Mrs. Lucy Worrell of Springlake. It was a brown wool suit, lined with insulated milium. The coat fullness was caught a few inches from the hemline by a band accented by a bow in the back—and the coat was only a few inches shorter than the skirt.

Sissy Smith, in the children's department, wore a chemise touch to her wardrobe with a jumper. It was styled to wear a sweater or blouse or without either. It was plaid and very "sackish". And little Allan Carson was attired in a corduroy suit for little men. The coat was black and white plaid—very boxy—and his pants were black.

Glenda Hall looked striking in a lipstick red sweater and skirt ensemble—the ever fashionable and stylish skirt and sweater. Lonnie Thomas looked even darker in his black leather jacket and university striped, ivy-league trousers.

Juanelle Hatley modeled an after-five dress of pink, fashioned of a blend of silk and cotton. The fitted bodice was enhanced by the pleated trim at the bust line. The skirt was nipped at the hemline and held with self-bows.

In the men's department, Cleo looked handsome in a fall sports coat of wool mohair and silk in a black and brown combination of colors. He also chose a pair of black flannel slacks.

As for fashions for the fall of '58, as reviewed at New Century's showing, men and little boys will dress much as in recent years, but young ladies and little girls and women will wear the ever-popular skirt and sweater; slim tapered trousers and long bulky sweaters; chemise or non-fitting dresses and coats; and the usual, lovely after-five fitted frocks. The accessories are hardly changed from last year's and the long slender look will continue to be popular this fall.

Styles were provided by Ann's Flower and What-Not; Two Brothers; Kelley's Men's Shop; Whittington's, Inc.; and Ware's and Little's of Littlefield.

Committees for the show include Mesdames Fred George, Glen Exter, Brent Burrow, Bill Kelley, Ed Thompson and Louie Mack Hardy, planning; Don Spain, Frank Struve and Major James, Script; Elmer McGill, Gilbert Robertson and Lester Thompson, decorations; and Elmo Bryant, entertainment.

Bettie Daniel Is Complimented

Blue and white were the featured colors at a pre-nuptial courtesy in honor of Miss Bettie Lois Daniel, fiancée of Ronald Perry Curtis of Lubbock, Tuesday.

Scene for the party was the home of Mrs. Basil Sherman.

Mrs. Edward Featherhill registered 110 gifts. Presiding at the punch service were Misses Thelma Findley and Barbara Jo Roberts.

Laid with a white cutwork cloth over blue, with white streamers written with blue glitter, "Bettie and Ronnie", down the center, the bride's table was centered with a bouquet of blue and white gladioli.

The receiving rooms were decorated with arrangements of gladioli and large floating mums.

The hostess gift was an electric skillet, electric juicer mixer, and a set of stainless steel cooking-ware.

Assisting with hospitalities were Mesdames Edward Featherhill, C. S. Silcott, Jim Williams, Marshall Stone, Jack Straw, Eldon Franks, Leamon Bryant, D. M. Granbery, Krueger Johnson, Paul Burrus, Merrill Brigrance, W. B. Dickenson, Alton Cure, Duane Eby, John Campbell, G. T. Sides, A. B. Adams, D. Y. Ray, C. C. Curry, Basil Sherman and B. C. Cooner.

NEW FALL FASHIONS

Modeling the new fall fashions in the recent New Century Study Club style show, "Autumn Leaves", are from left, Yvonne Pinkerton, Sydney Hair, and Bettie Lois Daniel. Yvonne is wearing a fitted skirt along with the ease and comfort of the blouse. The sweater knit adds interest to the '58 jersey. Her accessories are of velvet. Attired in a ruby-red suit of wool, is Sydney. The suit is created especially for the petite figure and is double-breasted. Her hat is of black feathers. Bettie Lois is ready for dress or sports in this chic new chemise jumper. The new silhouette is superbly tailored in fine all-wool plaid. The solid color blouse, dyed to match, is of cotton and silk.

Sandstorm Would Be Welcome Sight To Texans In Canada

By Sue May

"We don't like Canada!"

This statement was made both by Pearl and Hugh Bledsoe recently, while telling of living in Canada.

Pearl explained further, "I think the things I don't like about Canada are the people (they aren't friendly like Americans are) and the cold weather."

Pearl and Hugh Bledsoe, who own a farm north of Circle, formerly lived at Olton before moving to Canada about three years ago. Their son, Danny, graduated from Olton High School in 1953.

In telling about the people not being friendly, Pearl said that the Canadians wouldn't even bother to speak to her—"and I wasn't used to that after living around Olton"—when they first moved there. Later she said, she learned that they just weren't friendly and didn't drink coffee together like we do in America.

GETS COLD

Pearl said, "Boy, it really gets cold up there! I nearly froze to death one day when I decided to walk three blocks to a store. I had been noticing everyone else walking everywhere, so I decided to go get some dog food."

"Well," she went on, "I got outside and it was 37 degrees below zero and the wind was blowing. Before I got to the store, I thought I just couldn't make it, that I'd have to turn back, but I thought to myself, 'you silly thing—it's closer to the store!'"

She said she finally made it but that before she got there, her nose nostrils had frozen closed. "That's the truth, girl! That is the craziest feeling in the world—but everybody's does, if they don't wear a scarf tied around their nose or something."

"We got so tired of seeing snow," Hugh said. "The first year we were there, it snowed on October 2—4 inches—and we didn't see the ground again until it melted off the third week in April." Pearl said that after it had melted off pretty well, that it came another big snow on May 3. They said that it just keeps snowing on top of the old snow.

"I tell you, we saw so much snow and ice that Hugh wished we could see a good old west Texas sandstorm!" Pearl exclaimed.

GOOD CROPS

In spite of the long, cold winters, they (the Canadians) raise some good crops of wheat, oats and barley, she said. "Well, their days are so long in the summer, it makes up for the short growing season. And too, they say the soil is so much softer and easier to plant because it freezes so deep in the winters."

She said the sun comes up at 4 in the morning and sets about 9.

The Bledsoes live in Edmonton, Alberta, Canada. "It is a pretty town. Population, 282,000. It has the Saskatchewan River running through it—it looks like a river with Amarillo on one side and Lubbock on the other," Pearl said.

She went on, "There's baseball parks, swimming, ice skating, etc., along the river banks. Edmonton is the cleanest town and has the most beautiful flowers—flowers are planted on every vacant spot. You are required to keep your yard or vacant lot looking clean and if you don't, the city will send a crew to clean it and charge you for their labor. It's a good idea, because you don't see vacant lots with weeds growing all over them."

Hugh, who is a mechanic on drilling rigs (oil wells) for big companies like Sinclair and Phillips, has to drive or fly "all over" Canada. Hugh said, "I keep the motors running!"

PEARL GOES, TOO

Pearl goes with Hugh on his long trips, as well as the short ones. "When Hugh goes on a new rig, it's likely to be way up in a mountain. They push trees off and set up their trailers and make a big camp. Then drill the oil well—sometimes it takes as long as eight months or sometimes only two or three."

She said, "The company hires a caterer outfit that keeps groceries in there and the company buys them and charges the single men so much a day for meals." The central office is in Edmonton and Pearl said that there were oil well rigs "all over" Canada!

"Sometimes," she declared, "when it is about 600 miles up in the mountains, Hugh will fly in a plane with skis and they can land in the snow."

"They're (the camps) are tickled to death to see us!" Pearl exclaimed, "because many times they've been there for about six months without seeing anyone. They call us Uncle Hugh and Aunt Pearl." She explained that they (she and Hugh) don't stay at the camps—Hugh just gets the motors going and leaves or he goes up to fix some motor that isn't working, and so on.

Pearl described the camps as about 7 or 8 trailers besides the cook shack and little trailers for single men. She said they have picture shows every night and have a recreation hall.

"A lot of the men let their beards grow all the time they are at the camp. You should see them—they look so terrible!" she smiled.

LOVE ICE SKATING

One funny remark Pearl made when telling how the Canadians love ice skating was "They don't ask you if your baby can walk, they just say, 'Is you baby ice skating yet?'" She said that the little kids there are the cutest things on skates. "They learn in their back yards."

"They seem to be sport crazy there!" declared Pearl. They ice skate, ski, golf, swim, play ice hockey and play curley." Curley is played on ice—looks like a bowling alley. The "rocks" look like tea kettles and you catch them by the handles and shove them down the alley towards these numbers at the end. Two people push the rock and two people stand close to the end with brooms and sweep real hard to keep the ice smooth and the rocks going to the end.

She said she wondered what in the world was happening for a while after she moved to Canada when she saw all the people going to Curley practice with a broom over their shoulder.

"Canada has the United States beat on pretty hats," Pearl declared. "Their hats are very beautiful, but it has always seemed ugly to me that a lady will dress up in a pretty hat, beautiful $200 suit, shoes, gloves and all—and then put on old overshoes. Just ruins the effect but everyone has to wear them there!"

They pull their overshoes off at the church and restaurant and hospital entrances, she said.

LANGUAGE DIFFERENCE

Hugh is fascinated by the difference the Canadians use the English language. For instance, he said, they say "frig" for refrigerator; "chesterfield" for a car; "na bob" for coffee; "iced tea on the rocks"; tea; "zed" for the letter z in the alphabet; etc.

It is a law in Canada, Pearl pointed out, that the employees have a coffee break at 10 in the morning and 3 PM, each day.

"Most everyone in Canada are Catholics", they said, "and Canada is made up of all kinds of nationalities." They declared that the Canadians look down on people from the United States. "They call us who are with the oil companies 'oil patch people,'" Hugh said. "They call people from US—'dumb Americans!'"

Hugh said that the cold gets almost too cold for him—"that's why I wish to see a good old West Texas sandstorm!" Last winter he said it snowed 128 inches and that the mercury drops so far below zero that "you'd freeze to death" if the wind blew—(however, they said, the wind rarely ever blows there).

One thing about Canada that brought a gleam to Pearl's eyes was when she told of the Northern Lights. "They're just beautiful! We see them real often—they light up the whole northern sky. So pretty."

Pearl and Hugh say that they are going to move back here after this year. As for now, they're seeing a lot of country (they travel different routes going to and from Canada from here), and they're learning a lot about other peoples.

"It's interesting but our hearts belong to Texas and the United States!" Pearl exclaimed.

It used to be that when a woman was in the Family Way, the first her husband knew about it was when he came home from work a bit early one day and caught her knitting "little things."

Nowadays, a husband and wife plan and scheme together to increase their family, and the husband is definitely aware of the goings-on.

It used to be that a woman never saw a doctor during the process until time for the blessed appearance, unless something went wrong. And then oftentimes the doctor didn't make it.

Nowadays, the hopeful wife hurries to the doctor on her first suspicion for confirmation, and then makes regular check-up trips during the waiting months.

It used to be that a woman, once her suspicions were confirmed, kept the news a deep dark secret as long as visibly possible, and then when it became obvious, she confined herself to the home like a hermit.

Nowadays, she can't wait to "confide" in half a dozen or more friends, and long before tell-tale evidence appears, she has gleefully told everyone she's talked with. And stay at home? Indeed not! She continues to live a normal, healthy life with regular contacts with her friends and unabashed appearances in public.

It used to be that one of the reasons a woman did confine herself was that she had to don garments near to sack cloth and ashes, least of all becoming in any way.

Nowadays, she can spend any amount on fashionable, attractive maternity frocks and go right on feeling well-dressed. In fact, the 1958 fashions were just MADE for the lady in waiting, and she might not even look any different from her friends.

It used to be that the modest, embarrassed mother-to-be told her children everything but the truth about the expectancy and event.

Nowadays, children accept the simplicity of the development and birth of their baby sister or brother, and are allowed to enjoy the anticipation and excitement with the rest of the family.

It used to be that the hardship-ridden woman was ill and close to danger many of the months she was in the Family Way, and the birth of her expected one was a horrible, dreaded nightmare.

Nowadays, medical science has eliminated most all the dangers involved in pregnancy, and has made it possible for the woman to actually feel better than usual, with the prospect of an easy and safe delivery when the time is up.

And on and on and on—all of which facts make me very glad I was born 20 years too late!

Of course, everytime there is an addition to this Martin family, there are many changes that take place.

Just one phase of these is the juggling of furniture that becomes necessary to make room for diapers and blankets.

So, for the last two weeks, this lady in waiting has been occupied with rearranging furniture and repainting chests of drawers, toy boxes, and what-have-you.

And believe me, it almost becomes catastrophic. When I get my hands on a brush and can of paint, anything can happen. I keep on painting until the paint runs out or I run out of elbow grease. Just about everything in sight becomes vulnerable to my touch.

I'm just like my Daddy, I guess. I remember so well when I was at home, that when Daddy got the paint out, Mother started hiding certain things, because nothing in sight escaped as long as the paint held out, including the house itself. And it didn't matter to him whether the colors matched. If he ran out of white paint half way around the picket fence, he'd finish in green.

One time he was on a varnishing spree, and coated all our luggage! Of course, I haven't done enough of it to know how to keep it out of my hair and off the floor, so the cleaning process is much more arduous than the application. But that's true in most things, isn't it?

Anyhow, if anybody wants something painted a laurel green or appleblossom pink, speak up quick before I empty the cans. I'm still at it!

P. S. How do you think pink kemglo blends with henna on brown hair?

ATTEND CHURCH SUNDAY!

Olton Mission Wins Banner & Second Place

Young People of the Baptist Mexican Mission met at Hale Center Sunday, for the meeting of the South Plains Young People's Association.

Olton won the high attendance banner with 12 present and also won a red ribbon in the Bible drill. Participating in the drill were Paul and Raymond Hernandez and Joe Alcorta. Rev. Glen Godsey accompanied the youth to the meeting.

Seventy-eight youths were in attendance and 30 sponsors.

This Preacher Gets Up Steam

While his wife, Mary, was away at the laundry one day last week, Rev. Glen Godsey was cooking beans in a pressure cooker.

He was busy at his typewriter when an explosion rocked the house. A build-up of pressure blew out the safety valve.

There was no serious damage. "Also there were no beans for dinner," Rev. Godsey observed.

NOTE OF THANKS

We would like to take this means of thanking those who we may have missed with personal notes, who sent flowers, brought food, and did other sweet and lovely things during our sorrow. We wish to thank you from the bottom of our hearts.

Saunter With Sue

BY SUE MAY

Was very impressed when Pearl and Hugh Bledsoe told me of the way of Edmonton, Alberta, Canada, keeps their city looking neat and beautiful. They said it is the cleanest town, they've seen. It seems the City plants flowers on all the vacant places in town—"they are the most beautiful flowers!"

It seems that each person is expected to keep his or her yard pretty and if they don't, the city will send a crew down to clean and pretty it up and charge you for their services!

Goes the same for vacant lots. "You just don't see vacant lots with weeds and trash all over them!" Pearl said.

Sound hard? I don't think so!

If the city cleans your yard or vacant lot and charges you for it—I think you'd think twice 'fore letting it 'go' again!

And just imagine how lovely our city would look in the summer with flowers or grass growing on vacant lots and on vacant spots in town.

Something to think about—anyway, by the looks of our town, we need to get a "clean-up" campaign started.

And wouldn't it be pleasant to drive about?

I can just visualize our vacant lots as "little parks" with weeping willows, grass, flowers, etc.. Be nice places for picnicking and recreation. Of course, we'd need trash cans on every other corner.

I'll bet there's a lot of folks who wouldn't mind dividing their glads, cannas, irises, etc. . . . with others for the spots that need beautifying.

How about it? Anyone interested enough to Do Something instead of just read this, nod your head, and say, "It does need to be done, but I'll wait until someone else starts it!"

Mrs. Franks One Of Two To Climb Mt.

Mrs. Eldon Franks and another lady were the first ladies to ever climb a mountain at Pagosa Springs, Colo., because it was so rugged.

Mrs. Franks did her mountain climbing when the Franks', Howard Halls, and Truitt Sides' were at Pagosa Springs, on a fishing trip recently.

Mrs. Truitt Sides, who told of Mrs. Franks' hike, said the mountain was steep and bad travel and that the ones making the climb had to tie their equipment around their necks to leave their hands and arms and legs free for the steep climbing.

Crossing the mountain were Mr. and Mrs. Franks. On the other side was a stream that was "excellent for fishing."

"Ruth and Eldon brought back a lot of fish after the day's experience," Mrs. Sides said.

"RICH TALK"

BY MAMIE RICH

Hart's annual irrigation rodeo is Saturday, August 23, at the American Legion grounds.

Every year this affair grows larger and the community looks forward to this particular day.

The people of the community get together to discuss crops, politics, sports, and recent vacations or coming vacations. It is entertainment for the entire family.

The ladies will have sandwiches and soft drinks and local farmers will furnish watermelons.

So be sure you remember August 23, and bring the family for a day of good local entertainment.

Barney Campbell went fishing at Concho and had to return home unexpectedly, so left his boat and motor at the lake in the rented accommodations which the lake furnishes. Later when he returned to the lake his boat motor was missing and unfortunately he was unable to locate the motor.

Fathers and Mothers, the time is here again and it probably just seems like yesterday when you were getting the children off to school on time, helping them with their lessons, giving them their lunch money and the million other jobs that go with children in school. If you have not participated in the school activities in the past, make your New Year's resolution early and participate this year.

Monday night the regular board meeting of the Co-Op Gin was held with Sherd Davis, Dean Sanders, Ed Bennett, Rodney Smith and S. R. Hutto present.

The entire board are very optimistic on the cotton outlook for 1958.

The completion of the library is coming along fine, but the need for volunteer typists and helpers are needed and would be greatly appreciated. Call Al Goodin or J. V. Wescott.

During the early part of August the faculty of the Hart ISD has been distributed over a large area of Texas, with one aim in mind: to improve the facilities of the Hart ISD.

This week also found Mr. Lanny Tucker attending a state meeting for the vocational agriculture teachers, this meeting being held in Dallas. The purpose of this meeting is to distribute those experiences, that have been found to be successful both in the teaching and the actual application, to the teachers of the state so that they in turn may pass that knowledge on to the Future Farmers of America and to the people interested in agriculture in the teachers respective districts.

Mr. Paul L. Kennedy was in Austin attending to business of the Hart ISD, during the past week. Mrs. Paul L. Kennedy and Mona Jean accompanied Mr. Kennedy.

Last week in Amarillo at the Stephen F. Austin High School, the annual "Miss Texas" contest was held.

This organization was started in 1921. Since that time there have been two girls from Hart who have been crowned.

In 1942 Miss Jo Carol Dennison, a past resident of Hart, was crowned "Miss Texas" and later on received top honor as "Miss America." She has been the only girl from Texas given this honor. In 1952, Miss Delsey Keeton, who was born and resided in

LET'S TAKE A TRIP

Olton's first travel bureau has been established in City Hall by Chamber of Commerce manager Joe Wood. Joe has assembled information and maps of almost every part of North America. Here picking a place she'd like to go is a charming high school student, Jean Avon Harper.

Hart until she was eight was crowned "Miss California".

Those attending this annual contest were: Mrs. M. M. Smitherman, Mrs. Ralph Futrell, Miss Rue Smitherman, Miss Royce Lynn Pycatt, and Mrs. E. L. Brooks.

In the future it is very probable that these women may have daughters who will bring honors to the town of Hart such as has happened in the past.

The latest pest to plague the crops is the chinch bug.

Though this is the first year, this section of farmland has been invaded with this particular insect, this bug has been known in the United States since 1831. The chinch bug has been known to cause damage to crops amounting to 79 million dollars in one year.

Originally this bug fed upon wild grasses, but as more land was put into cultivation the bug began to feed on the crops.

This insect is black and white and very small. The adult bugs lay their eggs behind the lower blades of the grain or in the ground around the plants. The young when hatched are bright red.

The chinch bug thrives in dry weather and attacks the plants as the grain is in the dough. They multiply in vast numbers and can do serious damage in a matter of hours. Maize fields should be inspected closely every day.

Hi-Point Fertilizer is supplying the insecticide, parathion which destroys the chinch bug. There are two flying services located in Hart to accommodate the farmers: Lulu McWilliams of Oklahoma and E. C. Whitaker of Kansas.

We are very happy to see Mrs. Roland Shepard (Rosa, as everyone knows her) up and around after her very serious operation.

Willis A. Hawkins Jr., and family were the lucky winners of a Ford car given by the American Legion at a drawing in Dimmitt on Saturday night. They still cannot believe it happened to them!

Have you ever walked up a wall? Have you ever stood balanced at a forty-five degree angle? Have you ever seen a ball roll up a board? Well, you can see and do all these impossibilities at Ruidoso, NM, in the "Mystery Spot".

Several parties from Hart and near-by communities have witnessed this great optical illusion recently while vacationing in Ruidoso.

The "Mystery Spot" is a small area on the side of a mountain, in which the law of gravity is quite upset. It is a one hundred and fifty foot tour, and takes only fifteen minutes of your time. Every minute is worth it, believe me, and also your fifty cents.

In order to really understand "The Mystery Spot" you just have to visit it. One cannot explain to the other the feeling it gives you.

By Geneva Brooks

Monday, Mrs. Eddie Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Loman was taken to the hospital in Dimmitt. She was in need of blood transfusions. Many of the Hart citizens went over to donate blood and to be of any help they possibly could. I know this gesture was greatly appreciated

NOTE OF THANKS

Thanks to each of you for turning me your news, while I was your correspondent for the Hart Beat. Will you please be just as cooperative with Mamie Rich at the bank? Since she was kind enough to relieve me for at least a period of three months. It became necessary for me to be with my daughter. Mrs. Rich can be reached at the bank and you will find her a very lovely person to deal with.

Another BIG THANKS to you, who had our home all ready for us to bring our daughter home. The house was cleaned, the washing and ironing done, food cooked, and flowers in her room. Jimmy wanted to come to Hart for it is OUR HOME and she said no better people live than those at Hart. And how well she said it was proved the day we arrived. I needed a morale lift that day and received it in such a wonderful way.

The company is very limited for our daughter. She is always glad to know that someone has called or been to the back door to ask about her. She has enjoyed the fresh vegetables and flowers so much from your garden and yards. They help to make the path by the patient and by Mr. and Mrs. Loman.

The Hart American Legion has their business meeting the first Tuesday of each month and social meeting the third Tuesday of each month. Legionnaires and their wives are invited to attend all the meetings and socials they possibly can.

HD Agent Speaks To Sr. Club

Mrs. Howie Parker was hostess for the Senior Home Demonstration Club, Tuesday, August 5. Mrs. Sybil Stringer, County Home Demonstration Agent, presented a survey of HD work in Texas.

One fact that Mrs. Stringer pointed out was that "72 percent of children under 20 years of age drink less milk than is recommended for good nutrition."

Those present were Mesdames Paul Brooks, president; Percy Hart, secretary-treasurer; Cox; Hawkins; Claude Ray; Ione Garrett; Hamm; and the hostess.

TO DALLAS

Lanny Tucker, Hart vocational agriculture instructor, has returned from a Dallas meeting of the state's agriculture teachers.

a little brighter, and we covet your prayers, that God's will be done.

It is impossible for me to thank each of you for the many cards and gifts I received last Saturday in honor of another Mile Stone turned.

They are coming pretty fast now. (Think Jack Benny and I are the same age—39.) Anyway when so many cakes, pies and salads came in, I knew if I ate all I wanted of each—it would remind me of fattening the hog to be butchered. Thanks again for making it a pleasant day.

Hart Coaches Attend School

The 26th annual Texas High School Coaches' Association Coaching School was held in Houston August 4-9. Attending from Hart were Coaches Bill Shelby, Al Goodin, and wives.

Principal lecturers were Nelson of Delaware and Neely of Rice. Daily demonstrations by the All-Star teams, Regional and General meetings, taping demonstrations, sporting goods displays, and films of last years outstanding games along with rules interpretation and discussion filled out the busy schedule for the coaches.

The Houston Coaches' Wives provided entertainment for the visiting ladies. Included was a tour to Gulfgate, a newtype shopping center built on the mall plan, a tea and style show, lectures on figure control, make up, hats and bags, jewelry accessories, and a coffee. A hospitality room was maintained in the Rice Hotel all week and here games such as bridge, bingo, etc., were in progress at all times and provided a place for visiting or just resting following the shopping tours all embarked upon.

The major rule change for the coming season will involve conversion after touchdown. If the ball is passed or run from the three

VBS Ends With Commencement

There were more than 100 at the VBS each day. Thirty helpers and teachers were also present.

At the commencement exercise, each department presented a short program. Afterwards, the parents and visitors viewed the children's projects.
