Over 400 Register As City Schools Prepare To Open

Colorado City high and junior high schools began registration for the 1962-63 school year Wednesday.

Through Friday, about 240 high school students had registered. According to high school principal E. M. Findley, 117 sophomores, 63 juniors, and 58 seniors had registered through Friday. He said there were some absentees, and that some late registrations were expected. The total should be about 290-300 students, he said.

Approximately 214 junior high school students — including the 9th graders, who are high school freshmen, but attend the junior high building — had registered through 10 o'clock Friday morning.

Junior high principal James Trammell said registration at his school would probably be nearly the same, numberwise, as last year — slightly over 400 students.

This final registration checkup was high school and junior high school pupils only. Primary, and elementary schools will register August 28. Wallace school — all grades — will also register that day.

On the higher level, high school seniors and freshmen registered Wednesday. Juniors, and 8th graders, had their checkups Thursday, while sophomores and 7th graders "signed in" Friday, each in their respective buildings.

No one suffered the back-to-school agonies for too long — except the mentors, who had to stay the full day, each day, explaining course-cards, counseling, and counting. The students came, signed, and left, not to return 'till school starts August 29.

High school will have new faces this year, teachers as well as the annual student change-over.

Alan Halliday will teach World History, head coaching in baseball and assist with football. The new teacher is originally from Lubbock.

American History, basketball coaching, and "B" football coaching will be the main tasks for Caddo Matthews.

Miss Gladys Miller will, as usual, teach English IV, and Speech — which usually includes directing the senior play each year.

Mrs. Gerald Gordon will have Junior English, and Journalism, again this year, as in the past.

Sam Christy will be head coach for the Wolves' football squad, and in addition will have various other duties.

Curtis Baker will have the choir and other musical duties, and double in social studies. He will also teach a 7th grade history course.

Dwight Tomb Wolf Band director, will aid the lower grades' musical studies, along with his regular duties.

Mike Burt will have Industrial Arts.

J. Peck will teach some of the high school math.

Some of the names and positions are not yet available.

Orientation for teachers and administrators of the schools will be August 27 and 28, according to Frank R. Wilson, superintendant of schools.

From 8:30 to 9:30 August 27, coffee and donuts, courtesy the education committee of the Chamber of Commerce, will be served the officials.

At 9:30 that morning, the general faculty meeting will be opened.

Musical prelude will be by Mrs. Ruth Hightower.

Curtis Baker will lead the groun in "America," which

Local Artists Show 60 Paintings Today

Exhibition To Be At Baker Hotel

Local art enthusiasts will have an opportunity to see the accomplishments of Colorado City artists today.

The Brush and Palette art club presents an exhibition of paintings of art club member's works — 60 oil, pastel, and charcoal paintings — at the Baker Hotel this afternoon.

The show will be from 1 to 5 o'clock p. m. in the hotel lobby, and Terrace Room.

The local exhibit will not be a competitive show. There will be no prizes or awards given. It will merely exhibit the fruits of local artists' talents, and give the public an opportunity to examine the paintings and meet their authors.

Visitors to the show may register in the Terrace Room, near the door, in the art club's guest book.

The show was arranged by art club members.

These are the committeemen and women:

General Chairman — Mrs. Chester Hart.

Buried 10,000 Years

The giant bone above was unearthed last week in the gravel pits south of Colorado City. It has been tentatively identified as the upper fore leg bone and knee joint of an imperial mammoth. The huge (46 inches long, 40 inches in diameter) bone is on display at the Colorado City Historical Museum, along with other prehistoric mammoth remains. The flat stones beneath the bone are manos, used by Texas Indians to grind corn into meal. They support the broken bone. The hands belong to H. W. Reynolds, of the museum's archaeology department.

LIVED 10,000 YEARS AGO

Prehistoric Elephant's Bones Are Discovered

The Colorado Sand and Gravel Company's pit has released another prehistoric relic.

This time, it was legbones, ribs, and what appeared to be ivory, once encased by several tons of imperial mammoth. The bones were found by the drag-line operator at the gravel pit last week.

H. W. Reynolds, of the Colorado City Historical Museum's Archaeology Department, made the identifications.

The latest finds are not "petrified," but are still mainly bone material, Reynolds thinks. The largest bone — probably an upper foreleg bone and knee joint — weighs 35-40 pounds, and is 46 inches long, and 40 inches in circumference at the joint.

The new finds were made about 2,000 yards southeast of the largest previous find, which was calcified ("petrified"). The bones were disinterred from fine, wet gravel. Reynolds said the area of the pits was probably a swamp-land surrounded by forests, when the huge beasts roamed over Texas.

He speculated that the big animals could have been slaughtered by "pre-Indians" who could have surrounded and beaten the beasts to death with clubs and stone spears. probably have camped at the site of the kill until the Mammoth was consumed.

He said the main interest of the museum lies in proving that human life existed in this area 8-10 thousand years ago.

What appears to be a piece of flint is imbedded in the petrified jaw-bone found earlier, but no detailed studies have been made so far.

After the big leg bone was found, Reynolds, R. H. (Harry) Ratliff, president of the museum, and a Record reporter went to the site of the find, and dug about in the gravel, finding some ribs, and what seemed to be ivory. Several more pieces were found near the sand company's large sieve. All pieces seemed to be in a state of good preservation.

The day before the leg bone was found, a knee joint about 20 inches long, and 30-odd inches around was found near the place where the larger piece was discovered.

The leg bone broke at the small end of the joint when it was removed, but no other damage was caused.

Reynolds sprayed the bones with a plastic, to prevent hardening or deterioration.

All the bones are on display at Colorado City Historical Museum.

The Imperial Mammoth was one of the last of the big hairy elephants. Archaeologists think it died out when the glacier that covered most of North America receded north. That was 8 to 11 thousand years ago.

The big pachyderm was somewhat larger than the present Indian and African elephants. It stood around 13 feet high at the shoulder. Reynolds said the Imperial probably was a bit more rangily built than the modern elephant, and weighed a bit less.

Crown Bowl Closed—But To Re-open

H. D. Kendrick, manager of Crown Bowl bowling lanes in north Colorado City, said Saturday that the establishment will be closed temporarily.

He said the closing was due to "legal technicalities."

The bowling alley should be open beginning either Thursday or Friday, he said, under the present management.

Village Adds Air Cooling

Village Food Store has completed installation of new refrigerated air-conditioning.

The super market is cooled now by four 5-ton air-conditioners manufactured in Texas and installed by Otis Refrigeration of Fort Worth and Crabtree Electric of Colorado City.

Temperature within the store will be maintained at a constant temperature between 70 and 72 degrees, according to Earl Brock, Village manager.

NEW SERVICE HERE

Exchange Speeds City Doctor Calls

A Doctor's Exchange Service to assist citizens in contacting medical doctors, is a new service at Root Memorial Hospital.

The service will be maintained on a 24-hour basis and will be available free to the public through phone number RA 8-3435.

"It is anticipated that this service will be beneficial to both the public and doctors," said Charles Root, hospital administrator.

"Doctors will keep Doctor's Exchange informed at all times of their schedules and locations," he emphasized, "and this will enable the exchange to contact a doctor within moments."

ANNUAL FUND PROJECT

Band Marches in Subscription Sale

Colorado High School Band, already busy with rehearsals for their football appearances, takes on another big job this week.

It will be the band's annual sale of Colorado City Record 1-year subscriptions — event that has become one of the major money raising projects of the band.

Members of the Wolf Band will begin their sales campaign Tuesday, calling at local homes — confining their march to the residential areas, thus not appearing in business firms.

They will be selling new 1-year subscriptions and 1-year renewal subscriptions to The Colorado City Record.

Each subscription — new or renewal — sold by a band member will earn a generous commission for the band's special fund that buys special music and equipment and pays for special study trips for the band.

Last year cash raised in the Record subscription sales helped to pay for special band equipment and assisted the band financially for its trip to the Enid, Okla., band festival.

In recent years the Wolf Band has raised more than a thousand dollars through this annual subscription sale.

The 1962 sale is scheduled for Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

In addition to the cash commission paid on each subscription, the band also will receive a special cash bonus for volume sales.

And special cash prizes will be awarded each of the 3 days to the individual band members leading in sales.

Members of the band, when calling at homes, will have receipt books with them so that persons buying new subscriptions or purchasing renewal subscriptions can receive receipts on the spot.

GOES TO MIDLAND SCS

Penny Transferred

W. L. Penny, soil conservationist at the Soil Conservation Service office here since 1957, has been transferred to the Midland office.

He will be Work Unit Conservationist there.

Penny said the transfer will take place early in September.

Don McClennen, present Soil Scientist here, will replace Penny.

Penny, who has been with the soil service for 15 years, is a native Oklahoman. He was an all-state guard on his high school's basketball team, and was on the varsity basketball squad at Oklahoma A. & M. (now Oklahoma State University).

Penny has not always been a soil conservationist. He taught school — as a coach, and work-shop instructor — for 17 years, and has been a carpenter, and a farmer.

He, and his wife Ruth, who live at 925 Cedar St., have two children. Marylin, who will soon be married, and Larry, who is with the U. S. Navy, on submarine duty.

McClennen, Penny's replacement, has been with the Soil Conservation Service 3 years. He came to Colorado City one year ago.

A native Texan, he was born in Nocona, in North Central Texas. He holds a degree in Agronomy from Texas Technological College (1959).

He and his wife, Freda, who reside at 1479 Watson St., have one child, Marsha Kay, who is 6 months old.

WOLF-PACK RETAINS 13 LETTERMEN

Footballers To Battle For Positions Monday

Football practice begins for the Colorado High School Wolves on Monday, August 20 at 7:00 A. M.

Approximately 55 boys are expected to battle for starting positions on the "A" and "B" Teams.

Thirteen lettermen will be returning from last year's team. These boys are:

Bill Boren, Joe Dean, Don Free, Don Hairston, Larry Hamner, Charles Houston — CoCaptain, David Lewis — Co-Captain, Bill McGuire, Melvin Morgan, Stanley Post, Lee Schafer, Dickie Summers, and Dale Walker.

Others who are expected to vie for starting positions on the varsity are: Pat Barber T. J. Davis, and Tiger Davis at guard; Jimmy Magill and Larry Johnson at tackle; Leon Sweatt at center; Mike Burson and Danny Kennemur at ends; Richard Smith at quarterback; and Roger Stephens, Adron Welch, Raymon Kincaid, Denzil Pendergrass and Terry Redwine as backs.

The Wolves will have two practice sessions a day until the opening day of school, August 29. They will work-out once or twice with Hamlin, as they have done for the past several years. The dates of these work-outs will be announced later, according to head coach Sam Christy.

The Junior High Wolves will begin work-outs when school starts.

The first game for the varsity will be with Winters at 8:00 P. M. Friday, September 7 in Colorado City.

Winters defeated the Wolves 8 to 0 last year.

Eighth grade football coach H. F. Wineyard and 9th grade coach Bill Everett announced Saturday that all football equipment for the two teams they coach will be issued Saturday, August 25.

The equipment will be issued at Junior High School field house.

Practice sessions for both the 8th and 9th graders will begin August 29 — the day school starts, Vineyard said.

Terrys Visit

Mr. and Mrs. Les Terry, of Colorado City, had guests in their home during the annual Junior Rodeo here.

Mr. and Mrs. Bit Terry and sons, of Del Rio, were here to enter their son Steve in the rodeo.

Steve, 10, took part in pole bending, and flag racing on both nights.

BELTS SOLD NEARLY AT COST

Jaycees Installing Safety Belts Now

Colorado City Jaycees are selling, and installing, automobile seat belts prior to the official sale dates, August 24 through August 26. The early sales will be made to those residents who cannot be in the City during the official dates, according to Drew Ballard, Jaycee Seat Belt Clinic publicity head.

Contact any Jaycee, or the Chamber of Commerce office, for installation.

The Jaycee clinic will be in front of Civic House.

The approved seat belts they sell will cost $6.00 the belt, $12.00 for the pair. Belts can also be installed in the back seats of cars.

The belts are to be sold almost on an at cost basis, Ballard said.

Installation of the belts, according to Cornell University statistics, will greatly reduce the possibility of injury in traffic accidents.

The statistics indicate that, if every U. S. car were to be equipped with the safety devices, there would be 35 percent fewer fatal and serious injuries, 5,000 fewer deaths, per year.

The belts are attached to metal plates secured to the floorboard, feature metal-to-metal buckling, and a wide selection of colors. They surpass all minimum specifications set for such devices, according to Ballard.

Mr. and Mrs. Bo Merket, Rodney and Craig, of Colorado City, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd W. Merket, and Lucky, recently.

Almost an Orchid

This iris is a gorgeous flower, so beautiful that one feels that it is almost an orchid. But on the flower market the iris brings no premium; it is no substitute for an orchid. There are substitutes for many things in life, but as there is none for the orchid, just so is there none for Christianity. Only the real thing gives life and that abundantly. Go to Church this week and partake of the blessing God offers to you.

Is something wrong with your life—an inner restless dissatisfaction? The answer to every human problem comes only from God our Maker. He alone can forgive and reassure.
Through the church God has committed the provision and proclamation of His forgiveness and redeeming love. Without a church relation no one is securely related to God.

CONVERSATION CORNER

By RUTH COFFEY

ABOUT THE TIME us lame-brains decide "They've gone about as fur as they go" in this space age of science, somebody comes along and predicts in print how, and we quote, "Electrical impulses from the brain may be amplified to turn motors on and off!"

Furthermore, the little prediction from an illustrated-syndicated bit called "Our New Age," goes on to say "In the future, you may simply THINK about work to be done—and machinery will do it!"

* * *

GLORY BE. That anybody should live so long! 'Course it's always been our lifelong, refined sort of talent to refuse to think about work if thinking about it could possibly be avoided. But we herewith plan to think about it all time, the minute some genius figures out how to harness latent and lazy impulses, and then let the impulses do all the work! That's the finest idea since can openers.

* * *

COME THE DAY when just THINKING about work gets it done, just may stop trying NOT to think about dishes in the sink.

And after we concentrate the venetian blinds spotless, the woodwork clean, silver polished, meals planned and cooked to a turn, why then we intend to just THINK a series of wonderfully fine columns to be written by those magic impulses while we, personally, find some darkly cool and elegant spot with upholstered booths. Right there, we'll sit and sip—sasparilla or something — while this corner THINKS itself to fame and fortune. Can't wait!

* * *

WAY THINGS STAND right now, we're trying to think the house clean—which it isn't since the Big D jaunt left our man a sorta sloppy bachelor—think bread-and-butter letters written, think tardy library books returned, while the column gets done the old-fashioned, do-it-yourself way. The one people used to refer to as the "Do it and then talk about it."

Proving, of course, that youth, vitality, and zest for living are actually a state of mind. That's one mental impulse which works. Mrs. Jarman must THINK young.

Wedding Of Donna Reeves, Jerry Jameson Solemnized

In an afternoon ceremony here at First Baptist Church, Saturday, August 18, Miss Donna Lee Reeves became the bride of Jerry Myrle Jameson. Double ring vows were repeated at four o'clock.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Reeves, 2125 Vine St. Groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Myrle Jameson of 1429 Walnut St.

The Rev. Ray Sparks, of San Angelo, officiated for the wedding as the bridal couple stood before an altar archway decorated with greenery and white wedding bells. Flanking the altar were twin baskets of white gladioluses.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore brocaded white taffeta fashioned with a fitted, lowered waistline, scalloped bateau neckline, long sleeves which tapered to a point at the wrists, and a gathered bouffant skirt. Her elbow length veil was edged in Alencon lace.

Her flowers were white roses centered with a single white orchid topping a white Bible.

Her attendants, Mrs. Jimmie Don Petty, matron of honor, and Miss Jennifer Reeves, bridesmaid, wore identical dresses of ice blue cotton satin designed with a scoop neck, gathered skirt and matching overskirt of net. They carried colonial bouquets of blue pom-pom chrysanthemums, and wore white accessories.

Attending the bridegroom as best man was Myrle Jameson, his father. Groomsman was Leon Colley of Forsan, uncle of the groom. Ushers were Robert Glen Jameson of Silver, cousin of the groom; David Sanders, and Bobby Gregg of Houston.

Wedding music, played by Mrs. Lester Biggs at the organ included "The Lord's Prayer" and "I Love You Truly." Mrs. David Sanders was wedding soloist.
