Oklahoma Has Real Blue Eagle

THIS PAWNEE BRAVE has suddenly found his name in the papers in his type all over the country. He's the Blue Eagle of Wainwright, Okla., who is shown at the left in ordinary dress, and at right as he looks in ceremonial costume for the Blue Eagle dance. "One of the most beautiful and graceful of all the Indian dances." Also shown is his own Blue Eagle emblem, of Indian design.

Jim Ferguson is 62 and, at last, attaining his age.

A Gray county farmer remarks that the gasoline tax on motor fuel used by farmers in running about trying to fill out their wheat plant blanks ought to be sufficient to pay off the war debt.

A new code is coming out for small daily and weekly newspapers. But we have to work just as hard, though.

OUR CONTEMPORARIES

THOS. T. WAGGONER, milder than usual in the "Claude News," pauses to remark that "there is some good in every man—no matter what his reputation is or may have been. Let us keep that in mind constantly and quit some of our fault-finding. The only way we can help bring out and develop the good in the other man is to believe in him."

FRED STORY declares in the "Champion News" that "after the horror of four years of depression, the recovery of economic security will mean much to the average man; a more lasting assurance to the employer, whose old embarrassing problem of cost and distribution will be solved through cooperation; to the worker, to the housewife this recovery will give every man a chance to call his soul his own."

TRAFFIC WILL BE SLOWED IN PAMPA AGAIN

Opening of School Causes Police Department To Begin Drive on Speeders.

With school opening tomorrow, traffic's new era begins.

Chief of Police John V. Andrews asked THE NEWS to warn motorists that speeding and running through stop signs must stop. The safety of the children is at stake.

Beginning tomorrow, the streets will be crowded with children and motorists will be hazardous. Because it will require some time to train the youngsters to observe traffic laws, drivers must give the pupils the benefit of extreme caution.

Policemen will watch motorists carefully and fines will result from infractions. Chief Andrews also warned those given "tickets" to report to the police station. Several persons ticketed for driving with one headlight have neglected to report as directed. The traffic officer will begin seeking such numbers and taking the drivers to the station, where explanations will be difficult, it was pointed out.

Baseball Game On Program For Labor Day Here

A baseball game between the Pampa-Danciger Road Runners and the Put and Take grocers of Amarillo, scheduled for 3:30 o'clock today at Danciger park east of the city, headed the sports program today as Pampans observed Labor day by closing most stores.

Hunting called many from the city. Others were going to rodeos at Canadian and Sayre, Okla., and to the horse races at Panhandle. Tennis, golf, and swimming claimed the attention of others. Movies and dancing were diversions for others in planning the day's program.

The city was quiet over the weekend. A few arrests were made for traffic violations.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Boyd returned home yesterday after a two-week vacation trip to San Francisco and other points in California, with stops in Arizona and New Mexico. They were accompanied by their daughter, Mrs. B. F. Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Ramon Wilson and Mrs. Gertrude Arnold spent the weekend in Oklahoma.

High School Tennis Star Wins City Singles Championship

GREGORY HAS HARD THREE-SET STRUGGLE

FORREST McSKIMMING IN USUAL STEADY FORM

By OLIN E. HINKLE
Managing Editor, THE NEWS
A 16-year-old youth of medium build who was good enough to become Pampa high school singles champion last term yesterday became the city champion by defeating Forrest McSkimming, winner of the senior division of the tournament sponsored by The Pampa Daily News.

The city champion is Harold Gregory, who won in straight sets, 6-3, 7-5, 6-4, in 1 hour and 45 minutes of gruelling, cautious play on the fast Cabot court. Gregory's points by sets were 37-47-32-116 and McSkimming's were 28-43-26-97, in the 213-point match. The points by games were:

First set, Gregory—3-3-4-4-7-3-4-4-5-37.
First set, McSkimming—5-5-0-2-5-5-2-1-3-28.

Second set, Gregory—2-11-1-4-1-4-2-4-6-1-4-7-47.
Second set, McSkimming—4-9-4-1-4-0-4-2-4-4-2-5-43.

Third set, Gregory—4-2-4-3-1-2-4-4-4-32.
Third set, McSkimming—1-4-1-5-4-4-2-2-1-2-26.

Endurance Contest

It was a peculiar contest of remarkably consistent but not speedy returns, spurts of good placing, erratic work probably caused by extreme caution. McSkimming, the senior champion, used his footwork constantly to get in position for his forehead chop-returns, while Gregory side-stepped regularly almost in front of the ball for his easy backhand drive in which he brings the racket from low left to right for a lift well to the back of his opponent's court. The high schooler led can return the ball in- definitely from his favorite backhand position, but is not so secure with his forehead drive. McSkimming is the reverse, and points almost invariably were the result of errors by the players drawn out of position. Occasionally a brilliant placement would bring cheers from the more than one hundred persons in the gallery. Gregory attempted moving to the net but lost many easy chances netting hard-hit volleys. Nearly every point necessitated half a dozen or more exchanges.

Two Double-Faults

The caution used by the finalists is indicated by the fact that only two double-faults were served during the long battle. Both were by McSkimming, one in the first and one in the second set. Each had a service ace. Gregory seldom was

ADMINISTRATION THROUGH NRA ALLIES ITS HUGE POWERS FOR BENEFIT OF LABOR MOVEMENT

All Workers Benefit From Terms Of Codes

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4.—The American labor movement, crippled by the depression, has suddenly become a potentially powerful force.

It has gained great new strength through the National Recovery Act and through official action and policies compelled both by the act and the logic of events.

Whether labor's leaders are competent to take advantage of their guaranteed opportunities for collective bargaining and union organization remains to be seen.

But numerous tangible improvements in labor's status—since it was formally admitted as a "part-

Today is the last day of operation of the municipal swimming pool this season. Cold nights and frequently cold days have reduced the income below cost of operation.

CHANGES ARE MADE HERE IN FACULTY ROLL

Miss O'Keefe Weds, Will Stay in Memphis—Moore Stays in Washington.

RESIGNATIONS from the high school faculty which have necessitated replacements were announced today by Supt. R. B. Fisher.

Miss Ariess O'Keefe of the English and speech arts department has resigned because of her marriage to Carl Pettiman of Memphis, a former classmate at West Texas Teachers college. Her place will be taken by Ben Guill of the same college, who taught last year in the Hopkins school.

Warren Moore, Gorilla coach and teacher of history, has obtained a teaching position in Washington, D. C., where he spent the summer, and he will be replaced by E. N. Denard of Palmer Texas, who has an A. B. degree, has specialized in history, and has coached athletics. Harry Kelley will coach the Gorillas.

WEST TEXAS: Partly cloudy except rain in southeast portion tonight; Tuesday mostly cloudy, occasional rains.

T. E. Parks was admitted to Worley hospital Saturday.

HURRICANE IS ADVANCING ON TEXAS COAST

Storm Scheduled to Strike Near Corpus Christi About 9:30 Tonight.

CORPUS CHRISTI, Sept. 4 (AP)—The first squall of the tropical disturbance moving in from the Gulf of Mexico struck Corpus Christi at 11:20 a. m. today with a wind of 38 miles an hour and a torrential rain which lasted for five minutes.

By The Associated Press.
One hurricane smote Florida today and another shrieked toward Texas after killing more than 100 people in Cuba and injured thousands.

From lowland homes in the everglades, residents fled by the hundreds, fearful of floods in the wake of the winds. A 75-mile strip of Florida coast north of West Palm Beach lay lost to the world, all communications slashed.

The storm that roared out of the Caribbean and apparently was due to hit Texas today was called the most devastating of the season one that few ships could withstand. It sent craft scurrying to port.

HOUSTON, Sept. 4 (AP)—Texas coastal cities and towns today were fearfully awaiting the arrival of a hurricane blowing in from the Gulf of Mexico with intense fury.

The hurricane reportedly had a velocity in excess of 100 miles an hour and was covering a wide area.

Weather bureau reports at 9:30 a. m., located the hurricane center 160 miles east of Corpus Christi. It was reported moving west, north-west about 13 miles an hour.

It was anticipated by the bureau the hurricane would strike near or north of Corpus Christi and that winds of hurricane force would hit the Corpus Christi-Matagorda Bay sector.

Heavy gales will be felt all along the coast line from Port Arthur to Brownsville, the report said.

Barometer readings all along the coast continued to drop as the storm neared the coast. Business houses in virtually all the cities had been boarded up and shore fronts were empty.

The area between Corpus Christi and Freeport was expected to bear the brunt of the hurricane. In this sector many towns and villages had been evacuated, residents moving inland.

At Corpus Christi the water front was deserted and ships had been moved into the turning basin. Much of the population had moved to higher territory behind the water front, reports said. The barometer at Corpus Christi was 16 points below normal and was continuing to fall. A high tide was running. A 26-mile wind was blowing from the northeast.

A coast guard station crew of five men remained on Mustang Island. A seven foot tide was running at Freeport. A gusty northeast wind having a velocity of 27 miles an hour was blowing. Patients in the Freeport hospital had been removed to Houston and the city virtually has been evacuated.

A 35 mile northeast wind was blowing at Galveston and the lower part of the Island, with the exception of a coast guard crew of nine men, had been cleared. Water was reported running over the lower end of the island near San Luis Pass.

The barometer at Galveston stood at 28.80, a drop of 15 points below normal. The barometer had been stationary for the past 12 hours.

High combers were pounding the seawall, throwing spray high up on the boulevard.

The Missouri-Kansas-Texas railroad was moving its loaded rolling stock out of Galveston. Only cars loaded with live stock and perishables were being moved into the island, H. R. Christian general yardmaster, said.

Heavy seas were pounding the entire coast line.

Hurricane warnings were raised last night between Corpus Christi and Freeport.

National guard officers were watching the situation closely and were prepared to mobilize relief details.

Mrs. R. M. Bellamy entered Worley hospital for a major operation yesterday.

USES GUN TO ESCAPE FROM DALLAS JAIL

PISTOL SMUGGLED TO DESPERADO; JAILER IS KIDNAPED

ARDMORE, Okla., Sept. 4 (AP)—Harvey Bailey, outlaw charged with kidnaping Charles Urschel, Oklahoma City oil man, was captured on the north edge of Ardmore about 11 a. m. today several hours after he escaped from the Dallas county jail. His offer of no resistance, Nick Tresp, turnkey of the Dallas jail, kidnaped by Bailey, was with the outlaw.

The four Ardmore officers who made the capture were Hale Dunn, chief of police; Ray Shoemaker, city detective; B. Wallace, another detective; and H. Riddle, deputy sheriff.

The fugitive's car, belonging to the Dallas jailer, was chased from Marietta, Love county, south of Ardmore, by Sheriff Randolph. Word of the chase reached the local officers and when Bailey saw he was being closed in on, he attempted to cut through the residence section of Ardmore, but was overtaken on highway 70 at the north edge of town.

The desperado apparently was heading for the wilds of eastern Oklahoma when he was captured. In that section a number of desperadoes have kept safe from the hands of the law for months, among them Charles Arthur Floyd.

Several of the fugitive convicts who escaped with Bailey last Memorial day from the state prison at Lansing, Kan., also have been reported in hiding in the wooded hills of eastern Oklahoma.

Tresp was not harmed by his dangerous companion, who only last week boasted that he would "beat" the law. Bailey was jailed here pending word from federal authorities at Dallas and Oklahoma City. His trial in the Urschel kidnaping is scheduled for September 18.

At Oklahoma City, R. H. Colvin, chief of the United States bureau of investigation there, made immediate arrangements to take Bailey into custody.

It was understood federal operatives would be assigned to guard Bailey day and night until after the trial at Oklahoma City.

Colvin prepared to go to Ardmore immediately and take Bailey into custody. It was thought he might be rushed to state's prison for safe-keeping.

DALLAS, Sept. 4 (AP)—At pistol point Harvey Bailey today held up a jailer who brought his breakfast, kidnaped Nick Tresp, another

Tickets Selling Well Here for "Heads Up"

Tickets for "Heads Up", the musical show and Century of Fashion revue to be given tomorrow night at the city auditorium under the auspices of THE NEWS and local merchants, are selling well at the city drug store and Dorner drug store.

Admission will be 55 cents, tax included, for a show which ordinarily would cost much more. In fact, tickets are selling higher in other cities where "Heads Up" is shown.

The Century of Fashion, topped by latest fashions from Pampa's big stores, will be given between acts.

Jimmie Jefferies of WFAP will be master of ceremonies. Ligon Smith and his famous orchestra will furnish the music and after the stage show, play for dancing at the Pla-Mor. Normi Norman, Lois Nixon, and Myrtle Fritts, musical comedy stars; Fred Lowrey, throat whistler, and Arthur Barton, "chickiee hick", will be included in the great stage show cast.

"Heads Up" will begin at 8 o'clock at the auditorium.

THE LITTLE FELLOW GETS A CHANCE

There came to this desk the other day a copy of a Slovak newspaper, printed in McKeesport, Pa., for circulation among Slovaks in American industrial cities.

To the eyes of a native American it had a strange, foreign appearance. It bore the name of "Samostatnost," it was printed in an incomprehensible tongue, and it seemed to be just the sort of publication that sometimes makes a 100-per cent wonder if the national melting pot is ever going to Americanize our foreign-born citizens.

But the editorial page proudly bore a large NRA eagle; and under it, in English, there was a double-column editorial which summed up the aims and policies of the NRA program as well as the most devout patriot could wish.

In it the editor undertakes to tell American Slovaks what they can do to make the program a success. His remarks are worth quoting.

"First," he says, "Franklin D. Roosevelt is set to re-establish a truly fair balance again between American employer and American employee, but it stands to reason that such tremendous readjustment cannot be done overnight. Therefore, let us give him our faith and confidence that in due process he will do so, and our understanding that it must be done gradually.

"Second, the least we can give to a daring fighter, like our president, is our confidence and trust that he will win, and what he helps us to earn, let us throw it back into circulation, that more and more of the little fellows like we are, shall have a chance to earn and spend again and in so doing this nation might go full speed anew, in full production and in full consumption.

"So we print today in our mast-head the sacred insignia of the NRA."

If our foreign-language newspapers are printing advice of that kind, the 100-per cent can stop worrying right now. You might be able to smooth out the wording of that editorial a little, but you couldn't improve on the general spirit of it if you tried all week.

The HIDDEN DOOR

BY FRANK L. PACKARD

SYNOPSIS: Colin Hewitt, writer, at last had picked up the trail of the Mask, czar of New York's underworld. The Mask had threatened Colin's life; now by luck Colin finds himself, disguised as Charlie Lunn, a crook, admitted into one of the Mask's own gangs. He learned from Buck O'Mara, in command of Colin's group, that the gang will be used against the Canadian rum runner who was responsible for wrecking the Mask's huge counterfeiting plant on the St. Lawrence. Buck does not know that Colin saw the fight on the St. Lawrence, and rescued Joe LaSalle, one of the Mask's men, in the hope that he would prove useful. But he did not, and Colin had been forced to leave him.

Chapter 37. SURPRISE FOR DOLLARE

The storm, though still hesitant, was threatening as ever. The banked clouds, with no sign of moon or stars, were like a dead black ceiling overhead. There was a slight sea on, but not enough to impede progress—the boat was making near to thirty knots.

To port and to starboard one on either side, were the dark shapes of two other boats, running without lights, and mostly discernible by reason of the flying spray flung from their bows as they cleaved through the water.

Colin stood in the shelter of the wheelhouse out the sweep of the wind—the only superstructure that the craft possessed. There was a small cabin at bow deck where some seven or eight men were gathered—several of whom had been engaged in assembling a number of sub-machine guns, while the rest, with blasphemous and obscene comments, looked on. It had been stuffy and hot in the cabin—and something about it, a foulness not merely of feld air, had driven him on deck. His face was hard and set. He was in a situation that revolted him, in every fiber of his being, that turned his heart sick with dread—but from which there was no escape. As Benny Malone had said: "You got the okay today. You said you wanted it. Well, you're in. You're on the payroll now."

It was quite true. He had asked for it—and he had got it. Where had he expected Charlie Lunn to draw the line? Nowhere—if he harbored any hope of running down the Mask! Well, the end justified the means, didn't it? His hands tightened, clenched. He was not so sure. For the moment he was mentally off balance.

Tonight it was murder and pillage—at thought of which his soul recoiled. And tonight he was sailing under the Mask's colors, one of

At the speed the boats were traveling, it could not take long for them to reach their objective unless the Alouette was at some considerable distance up or down the coast from the point of their departure—which was not likely.

Colin drew his hand across his forehead. It came away wet—not with spray. The other two boats, carrying Helmie Schwarm's experience run runners, were to look after the disposal of the Alouette's cargo and the schooner itself; this boat that he was on carried the Mask's murder squad, of which he was one, with Buck O'Mara in command.

The businesslike, snub-nosed automatic with which he had been supplied bulged in his pocket. The job of Buck O'Mara's mob had nothing to do with the disposal of the cargo—their job was merely to put Dollaire and all his crew on the spot and then return to shore Hide-out—even if it were by way of retaliation!

Dollaire, suspecting nothing, would be taken by surprise, and he and his men moved down. And he, Colin, must appeal to take an active part in the killings. There was no way out of that. No bullet of his, of course, would find its mark anywhere; but if he were caught at that sort of thing, or the slightest suspicion was aroused that he was playing a passive role, his life would not be worth a second purchase.

BREAK JAIL

WILLIAM RUSSELL CLARK in the Memphis Democrat advises us to "measure a man's brain capacity and classify him as a mental dullard unworthy of the notice of respectable people—a man woefully unbalanced—who carries a chip on both shoulders and whose medulla

W. MAX WADE adds in the Groom News that "good times produce boosters galore but many of them are insincere, merely hopping on the band wagon to take a ride."

JOSEPH M. NOBLE points out that "teachers' salaries have never been as high as those of persons in other walks of life," and regrets that they are being lowered now.

HOMER STEEN says in his Floydada Hesperian that "those who would destroy the plan of the national recovery administration will get little sympathy from those millions who will most reluctantly have to go back into 14 and 16-hour days at a dollar a day if the plan fails."

Homer adds that "more than half the men and women in Floyd county who were 'entitled' to vote August 26 did not get a chance to express themselves at the polls, so really we do not know yet what would have been the decision of all the people of the county on the issues which were decided."

CHESTER E. CLARK in the Childress Index introduces to his readers "Dee Blythe of Pampa, who came to Childress in a sort of exchange for Sue Vinson, whom the Pampa Daily News stole from the Index. Besides having a 'moven' picture name he's tall and semi-blond, and while not an Agonis, can get by in that way better than most of the Index staff."

W. W. HALCOMB of the Castro County News at Dimmitt, formerly the World's Worst Hick at Dumas, says: "I left Moore county on account of my belief. I believed that if I did not leave I would starve and that if I didn't I would be shot."

JOHN W. WHITE asks in the Friona Star if readers knew how to mark their ballot on the 18th amendment. "Many voters cast their ballots just the reverse of their intentions," he learned and added that the wording seemed to have been made confusing "on purpose."

T. A. LANDERS says in his McLean News that "the beer business was put over as a tax-raising measure; let us hope that there will be no movement started to lower licenses."

Asks R. B. HAYNES in his Miami Chief: "Do you know that the shortest thing in the world is not a gnat's eyelash or a mosquito's whisker? It's the public memory. That's the reason why every merchant should present his sales message often."

A. W. ANDERSON makes the timely observation in the Clovis Times that "if business circles don't show a considerable increase in activity during the next few days, it won't be the fault of millions of boys and girls who are starting to school. Dads and mothers are digging up the small change for every variety of school need, and it's certain that

ANNOUNCEMENT OF RECENT PERRIMAN-O'KEEFE WEDDING MADE

COUPLE MARRY IN CHICAGO ON AUGUST 14TH

AT HOME THIS WEEK AFTER RETURN TO MEMPHIS

ANNOUNCEMENT of the marriage of Miss Arless O'Keefe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. O'Keefe of Pampa and Panhandle, and Carl C. Perriman of Memphis, has been made on the return of the couple from a honeymoon spent in Chicago.

The marriage was solemnized in Chicago, August 14. Miss O'Keefe spent her vacation there with her brother, Winston O'Keefe, and was joined there by Mr. Perriman.

They are at home now in Memphis, where Mr. Perriman is stationed as district superintendent for the Draper-Ross produce houses, and Mrs. Perriman will teach Spanish in the high school this winter.

The bride has taught in Pampa high school the past four years, and has participated in social and club activities of younger Pampa women. She is a graduate of West Texas Teachers college, Canyon.

Mr. Perriman also holds a degree from that college, has attended law school in Kentucky, and has been admitted to the bar in Texas. He has been connected with the Draper-Ross company several years, and was stationed in Pampa for several months at one time.

Chatterbox Club Is Entertained

Three guests were included in the three tables of players entertained when Mrs. Roy Hankins was hostess to the Chatterbox bridge club last week at her home in North Phillips camp.

Mrs. Frank Roach scored high and Mrs. Dallas Culwell second high for club members, and Mrs. J. T. Grogan-high for guests. Mrs. W. D. Champion held the traveling prize, and Mrs. Ray Chastain received consolation.

Angel food cake, pineapple fluff, and coffee were served after the games.

Mrs. Mesdames Grogan, S. B. Senter, and H. L. Nellis were the special guests. Club members playing were Mesdames Fred Bozeman, J. H. Turner, F. P. Boyd, C. W. Walters, R. F. Watson, Roach, Culwell, Chastain, and Champion.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. Roach on Sept. 14.

R. S. (Bob) Brashears, publisher of the Childress Daily Index, and D. C. Blythe, reporter on the same paper, visited in Pampa yesterday.

"MISS ARIZONA" visit world's fair on Arizona day. Miss Margaret Boyd, 17 Phoenix, Ariz., chosen "Miss Arizona" in a statewide popularity contest, reviewed the world's fair guard drum and bagpipe corps on her arrival at the exposition on Arizona day. "The fair is marvelous," declared Miss Boyd.

Baptist Bethany Class Elects Mrs. Steele President

Mrs. A. A. Steele was elected president of Bethany class of First Baptist church Friday, when a business and social meeting was conducted at the church.

Other officers elected for the next year were Mrs. T. B. Rogers, first vice president; Mrs. J. A. Rush, second vice president; Mrs. Alice Whyte, third vice president; and Mrs. McFarlin, stewardship chairman.

Reports of members for the past month showed 218 visits, 71 telephone calls, 30 cards, 58 trays, and 54 bouquets. Mrs. Whyte entertained with a reading.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mesdames Rush, Carlson, J. E. Seitz, and J. P. Reynolds. Present were Mrs. Reynolds, teacher of the class, and the following members: Mesdames L. L. Ladd, T. B. Solomon, T. W. Jamison, T. B. Rogers, L. H. Davis, W. R. Cagle, John Kaiser, O. K. McKee, M. Davenport, Whyte, L. Baxter, Steele, H. K. Spear, Seitz, A. A. Noel, O. A. Davis, G. D. Stockton, W. E. Howe, C. J. Barnes, Reynolds, Rush.

Guests were Mrs. C. McCaughy, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Lancaster, little Misses Betty Frances Hunter and Lillian Rogers.

Mrs. Hugh Isbell Is Club Hostess

Mrs. Hugh Isbell was hostess to Gay Friday club at her home in one of the parties of the week-end. Three tables of players were entertained.

Fresh peaches and cream and cookies were served to Mesdames E. L. Reid and Dunlap, club guests, and Mesdames W. G. Irving, O. L. Palmer, E. W. Hogan, Paul Caylor, Robert Montgomery, Bert Isbell, Cora Kolb, Robert Woodward, and Ethel West.

Mrs. Dunlap scored high for guests and Mrs. Irving for club members, while consolation went to Mrs. Reid and Mrs. Palmer. Out prizes at the tables were awarded to Mesdames Hogan, Montgomery, and Bert Isbell.

MOTHERS AND DAUGHTERS OF THE METHODIST CHURCH WILL BANQUET TOGETHER FRIDAY

TWO CLASSES SPONSOR EVENT, INVITE ALL CHURCH WOMEN

A mother-daughter banquet for women and girls of the Methodist church will be sponsored Friday evening in the church dining room by members of the Clara Hill and Fidelity classes.

Every mother and daughter in the church is being invited to attend. Members of the ticket committee headed by Mrs. C. H. Whitte and Miss Geraldine Ragdale are attempting to reach all this week.

Reservations must be made by noon Wednesday, Mrs. H. O. Roberts, chairman of the banquet committee, has announced. They may be made with Mrs. Whitte or Miss Ragdale of any member of the classes. Tickets admitting two are priced at a dollar.

Women of the church who have no daughters are being invited to accompany young women whose mothers are not here.

A program featuring musical numbers is being arranged by the Clara Hill class, and table decorations are in charge of the Fidelity class.

—TENNIS—

In with his hard, slicing first serve, but he twisted the second ball in without exception. Instead of "killing" the easy serves, McKimling chopped them to back court, Gregory back-handed them in an oblong back-court return and the exchanges would continue until spectators' necks were aching from the back-and-forth movement. Nine of the 31 games went to deuce with the first game of the second set decided for Gregory at 11-9 points. The same set was deuced at 4-all. Gregory bore down to take the next game at 4-2 points and the deciding game of the set at 7-5 points.

The game sequence, using M for McKimling and G for Gregory, was as follows: First set—M-G-G-G-G-M-G-G-G, or 6-3. Second set—M-G-M-G-M-G-M-G-G-G, or 7-5. Third set—M-G-M-M-M-G-G-G-G-G, or 6-4.

Wins Four Straight As this graphic illustration shows, McKimling had Gregory down 4-2 in the third set before the school boy called on his reserve strength to foot the older, tiring Empire employee. Gregory seemed handicapped at first by lack of practice occasioned by his week at Harvester camp, where he was described as a "promising" grinder by Coach Odus Mitchell. Gregory weighs about 148 pounds.

McKimling's back court game and steadiness carried him through the tournament and gave the high school champ a scare. His play is eloquent proof of the value of consistent practice through having access to a court several times a week. His hardest previous struggle was a four-set affair with Dr. R. M. Johnson.

Becomes Gridder Gregory is the most promising of the Harvester netters but he will turn his attention to football now, although playing tennis in spare moments. His game ranges from brilliant to poor in the manner of most talented players, and his best work has been in practices. His greatest need is for a dependable, speedy first-serve.

The city champion and his doubles partner, Roy Webb, will meet V. C. Potts and McKimling for the city doubles championship.

Satin Signs on the Dotted Line

Satin is back—and simply dotted with chic this season! White dots on dark grounds for your simple town frocks; dark dots on light grounds for more formal wear. Both types are smart, look expensive, and have that "exclusive" look that every woman loves.

We've chosen a design that's a perfect one for dotted satin—slim and fitted and distinctive in cut. You may make it with the short puffed sleeves so popular this year, or with long sleeves and tailored bands that widen your shoulders; or, if you prefer, with just the shoulder bands and no sleeves!

Notice how easily this frock can be made. Size 16 requires, for the puffed sleeve style, 4 yards 39-inch material. Width about 2 1/4 yards.

Our large new Fall Fashion Book contains many other Easy-to-Make styles for home or business, sports, afternoon and evening wear; also models for the children, and interesting articles on dressmaking.

Pattern No. 5292 is designed for sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, 20 years, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 bust.

ner" with government and industry—offer an amazing contrast with its position last spring, after years of wage cuts and mounting unemployment.

Establishment of a National Labor Board to settle industrial disputes means that Uncle Sam will see to it that labor receives the collective bargaining rights guaranteed by the Act.

When employers refuse to bargain with employees, the latter can bargain before the board. Hard-boiled corporations can't interfere with union organization or force employees into controlled company unions.

Already, in ending several strikes the board has established collective bargaining under its own supervision. Secret elections are held under authority of NRA, whose representatives can watch to see that there is no intimidation.

Summary of Gains Here is a summary showing some of labor's other gains. The act was based on one of labor's cherished theories—that the first requisite to prosperity is purchasing power, which must be maintained by adequate wages and full employment. Labor for years had urged the shorter working week, which became a vital part of the new national plan.

The NRA set-up placed outstanding labor leaders on a Labor Advisory board—on a par with an industrial board—and gave them a voice in the final integration of all industry's codes of fair competition.

Labor has partly put its own house in order since it was compelled to present a united front here. NRA machinery enabled it to settle the 20-year jurisdictional fight between the Amalgamated Clothing Workers and the United Garment Workers—an event of great significance. The American Federation of Labor was crowded into reversing its policy against the dual union.

Several NRA codes have the names of unions written into them and some provide that whatever collective bargaining agreement is arrived at shall be considered part of the code. Some code authorities—governing boards on code matters—include union men, who can look at the books of the employers and check up on their reports.

Child labor has been doomed in industry through its prohibition in all codes.

Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins appeared as a champion of labor when she publicly urged the higher wages, shorter hours and better conditions than were provided in the steel code.

Sunday School Attendance Up

Attendance at Pampa Sunday schools moved upward yesterday, the first fall Sunday. Churches all had services conducted by their pastors, but the day marked beginning of a revival at Central Baptist church, and First Baptist church had the Simmons university male quartet as guests for the morning.

The pastor, the Rev. W. O. Cooley, started revival services at Central Baptist church. Evangelist T. J. Doss will begin preaching this evening.

First Baptist church reported 704 in Sunday school and 163 in the training service. Methodist Sunday school was attended by 473. First Christian by 377. Presbyterian by 116. At the church of Christ, 164 were in Sunday school and six additions to the church were reported.

Henry Will (Hoot) Fullingim left last night for Terrell where he will attend Texas Military college during the coming term. He will visit at Decatur en route, and arrive at the college during the week-end. Football practice will begin Monday.

Mrs. C. B. Lane was able to leave Worley hospital today.

PAYS UP TO $100 A MONTH FOR LESS THAN 1 A DAY

More than 30 per cent of all accidents are caused by automobiles. Everyone is exposed by injury—even death—by accidents of this nature. Recognizing this, the Postal Life & Casualty Insurance Co., 2377 Dierks building, Kansas City, Mo., has perfected a new accident policy so low in cost that now everyone can secure financial protection against this great danger.

This new policy pays up to $100 a month for two years for injury by automobile or any type of moving vehicle and up to $1000 for death. More than 150,000 have already been issued. Men, women and children are eligible. No examination required.

The Postal Company is so sure that this policy provides more for the money than any accident insurance ever offered that they will send you a policy for 10 days FREE examination. The policy speaks for itself. Satisfy yourself thoroughly before you buy. If it isn't the greatest insurance value for the lowest cost you ever saw, don't pay for it. Send no money. Just send name, age, address and name and relationship of beneficiary. The policy will be sent at once for your free inspection. You are not obligated in any way. Write the company today as this offer is limited. (Adv.)

PAMPANS ROUT BORGER CLUB TEN TO FIVE

LOCALS AND AMARILLO TO PLAY HERE TODAY

The Borger-Phillips "66" baseball team today is about as popular as a case of smallpox with Pampa fans and officials of the Danziger Roadrunner baseball team. Manager Earl Roff charged that Borger yesterday sent a weak lineup to Pampa so that an excuse would be available if Pampa won.

Pampa's Roadrunners defeated Borger 10 to 5 at Danziger park yesterday afternoon before a crowd of more than 350 howling fans, who used as their chant, "turn on the lights." Borger's nine has played most of their games the last two years under artificial lights and when forced to play in the daytime usually give a poor exhibition of baseball.

The Roadrunners opened yesterday's game with a run in the first inning when Wilson, first man up, walked, was advanced to second on an error and scored on another. Four batters crossed the plate in the second inning on three clean hits and an error which saw Whitely, second baseman, hit into a double play. He hit through first and made second when the Borger rightfielder overthrew second, then raced to third and rounded it for home without stopping, to slide under Catcher Francis safely.

The Pampans put the game on ice with three runs in the fourth as a result of a walk, error and double. Two more were added in the fifth on an error and three singles.

Borger scored in the fifth on a two bagger by Ellis and an error by Faudree. Three were added in the eighth on a walk, error, single and triple by Mulroney. The last Borger counter came in the ninth on a single and double.

The Roadrunners made nine hits to eight for Borger but the "66" nine made six errors to three for the Roadrunners. Carroll made three of the Borger errors at second base. Baccus, Leggett, Cox and Faudree got two each while the odd ball went to Bulla. Ellis made three of Borger's eight hits. The rest were scattered.

Mulroney of Borger hit a triple in the eighth to score two runs. Baccus, Faudree for Pampa and Ellis and Squires for Borger made hit doubles. Cox led the scoring for Pampa with three runs and Baccus followed with two. Wilson and Ward each fanned twice and failed to get a hit.

Bulla started the game for the Roadrunners and had Borger out of his hand. He allowed only one run and three hits in the five innings he worked. He also fanned five. Johnson finished the game to be nicked for four runs and five hits but had three strikeouts.

Lefty Squires, outfielder, started the game for Borger and lasted six innings. He allowed the 10 runs on eight hits. Lefty Bass finished, allowing the Roadrunners only one hit, a double by Cox.

The prettiest play of the game was made by Holland, Borger shortstop, when he made a one-handed stab of McLary's grounder while going with the ball and threw to get the Danziger player at first. Dock played a nice game in center field for Borger.

The Roadrunners had their usual bad inning, this time in the eighth when three runs crossed the plate.

A team representing the Put and Take Grocery stores of Amarillo will meet the Roadrunners here at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon at Roadrunner park. The Amarillo team will be composed of the best players of the three Amarillo teams and should be able to give the Roadrunners plenty of trouble. Stewart will probably be sent to the mound by Manager Aaron Ward.

ARMY HAS NEW TEAM. A NEW COACH AND HEAVY SCHEDULE

Brown Is Only Regular in Backfield; Eight Regulars Lost by Graduation.

(This is the first of a series dealing with prospects of major college football teams this season.)

BY EDWARD J. NEIL.

Associated Press Sports Writer. WEST POINT, N. Y.—As Lt. Garrison H. Davidson, late of the engineers corps scratches his head and puzzles over a football roll conspicuous chiefly for its absences, he has one remark that fits the situation perfectly:

"No matter what happens," he said, "it will give me gray hairs." No matter what happens to Army's football team this fall, and to "Gar" Davidson, successor to Major Ralph I. Sasse as head coach, it can't give him gray hair. It's already gray and has been for years.

Davidson has no particular problem in this, his first head coaching venture, because his entire eleven is a problem. If any one problem is smaller than another, Joe Stankov is at No. 2, Jack Buckler at No. 3, where most of the running, passing and kicking is done, and Paul Johnson at No. 4, normally the quarterback post but numbered like the rest, in army's single wing back, Warner style formations. All saw service last year but only Brown was a regular.

Along with Maj. Sasse and Maj. Phil Fleming, graduate manager, Army lost eight of eleven regulars by graduation and received no newcomers to fill the gaps. Dick King, a grand end, Larry Lincoln and Jack Armstrong, tackles; Mill Summerville, All-America guard, and Roy Evans, center, moved into the regular Army, leaving only Captain Harry Jablonsky at one guard, Pete Kopsak, at one end and Brown in the backfield, of last year's starting eleven.

To add to Davidson's predicament, their departure coincides with Army's return to normal relations with Navy and a schedule that takes on Illinois in Cleveland and Yale at New Haven on October's last two Saturdays, Harvard at Cambridge November 11, Navy at Philadelphia November 25 and Notre Dame in New York December 2.

"We'll be mighty light in weight," said Davidson. "We'll average about 178 and conceded poundage to every major team we meet. A lot will depend upon how we escape injuries. All I can do is move last year's second stringers into starting positions this year and hope for the best."

BRVES LOSE ANOTHER TILT TO GIANT CLUB

SECOND GAME ENDS IN A TIE IN NINTH AT NIGHTFALL

HERBERT W. BARKER.

Associated Press Sports Writer. Emerging from their critical series at Boston with an eight game lead, the New York Giants returned to Coogan's Bluff today for a Labor day doubleheader with the Phillies before heading into the west for their last jaunt of the year across the Alleghenies.

The Giants left the Braves foundering in third place, with only one victory and a tie to show for their six-game encounter with the league leaders.

Old "Dolf" Luque, ancient relief pitcher, was the hero of the double-barreled Boston finale yesterday as the Giants took the first game in 14 innings, 4-3, and fought the Braves to a 4-all tie in the nightcap, halted in the ninth inning by the Massachusetts 6:30 o'clock Sunday law.

Relieving Bill Shores in the seventh, the Cuban veteran held the Tribe to six hits in the last eight frames and broke up the game with a single that drove home Travis Jackson with the winning run in the fourth. In the second game the Braves nicked Roy Parmelee for eight hits and three runs in six innings, smacked Glenn Spencer for the tying run in the last half of the eighth but Luque, summoned from the bull-pen with two out in that frame shut off that rally cold and had two men out in the ninth when the game was called.

Red Lucas stopped Pittsburgh's winning streak at eight in a row as the Cincinnati Reds earned an easy 9-3 decision. The Reds bunched six hits with a pass, a hit batsman, an error and a long fly for eight runs, runs off Ralph Birkofer and Walter Hoyt in the fifth and sixth innings. Dazzy Vance's old spell over the Chicago Cubs held good again and the St. Louis Cardinals won 3-1 to protect Boston's half-game hold on third place and pull the Cards to within half a game of the fourth place Cubs.

In the American league, Washington's lead over the idle New York Yankees was advanced to 8½ games as the Senators turned back the Boston Red Sox, 3-2, on Cliff Bolton's pinch single in the ninth. Behind Wes Ferrell, the Cleveland Indians trounced the Chicago White Sox, 14-3, collecting 17 hits. The St. Louis Browns won the first game of a double header from Detroit, 2-1, but the second ended in a 5-5 tie, darkness halting the struggle after nine innings.

Heald, Wheeler, McLean, Alapreed, and LeFors attended. An interesting program was rendered by the LeFors young people, after which a social hour and refreshments were served.

Those attending from McLean were Misses Phyllis Bridge, Geraldine Bowen, Ruth and Margaret Hess, Francis Noel, Jewel Shaw Lois Kirby; Messrs. Jack Crowe, Gordon Wilson, L. A. Tolliver, Bruce Graham, Alva Alexander.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray McCabe and children, Olan and Billie Jean, visited the lady's mother, Mrs. E. McDonald, in Groom Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Patching of Clarendon, and Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Craig were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Harris. They were accompanied here by Verne Harris who came home for school after having been on his grandfather's ranch all summer.

Granson Wise, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wright Wise, is home from Grant N. M., for a ten days visit. Granson is in the C. C. C. work.

MOVIES' DREAM FIGHT LEAVES FANS PUZZLED

CARNERA MISSES BUT BAER GOES DOWN ANYWAY

CULVER CITY, Calif., Sept. 4 (AP)—Fistiana's most sought after bout, bringing together Primo Carnera, world's champion and Max Baer, is all over.

It was a wild, bloody battle, recorded on sound stage No. 27 of the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios before 800 persons including a handful of disappointed promoters. Most everyone else there drew a check at the box office for witnessing the struggle.

Baer, the hero, built himself up a stage lead through the first round of the battle, from 9 a. m. to well past the noon hour, and then spent the afternoon and considerable of the night losing his advantage. But motion-picture fights are that way.

Then came the climax. "Hit your left inner parallel," shouted the electrician.

"Remember, Max," yelled W. S. Van Dyke, director, "be sneering and cocky."

"Okay—I'll just be myself!" was the comeback. A wide grin spread across Carnera's face.

"Remember, you were standing, cheering wildly," Van Dyke megaphoned the extras.

The crowd complied. The cameras started turning and the fight was on again.

Carnera cornered Baer and in wild exchange swished a left in the general direction of the picture's her. A direct hit to the camera's eye, it missed by a foot.

But Baer went down to one knee. Jack Dempsey, the referee counted one. Max got up. Van Dyke shouted, "cut," and another episode in the great fight had been recorded.

panied by Lockett Back and Miss Sybil England of Carter were guests in the J. E. Glass home Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Clark are newly weds, having been married August 9. Mrs. Clark was formerly Miss Lorene Back and has visited here many times.

Visitors in Massey Home. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson N. Reedy of Wichita Falls and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bohannon and little daughter, Nita Nell, of Pensacola, Fla., are the guests of the ladies' parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Massey.

Among the McLean people who were in Amarillo Friday were Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Apple and children, Miss Bobbie, Hobdy, Vada, and Viola. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bohannon and little daughter Nita Nell, and Mrs. T. A. Massey.

Mr. and Mrs. Troy West and children, Miss Cleone, Dean, Wilma Sue, and Billie, left today to make their home in Borger where Mr. West goes to operate a barber shop. The Wests have lived in McLean for years and will be greatly missed by their many friends.

Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Morse from their ranch near Clayton, N. M., passed through McLean Thursday evening en route to Shamrock for a short visit with the lady's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Walker. They were accompanied by their little daughter, Minnie Catherine, who will remain with her grandparents and attend the Shamrock school this year. Mr. and Mrs. Morse will also visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Morse, and his sister, Mrs. John Haynes in McLean before returning home.

BAILEY

jaller, and escaped from the Dallas county prison where he had been held for the kidnaping of Charles F. Urschel, Oklahoma City oil man. Bailey, also named as the machine gunner in the slaying of four officers and Frank Nash at Kansas City, and Tresp left in the latter's car while no one else was in sight at the jail garage. They headed for the northeast part of the city and for a highway leading in the direction of the Wise county farm where Bailey was arrested August 12.

Bailey, ringleader of the break of 11 convicts from the Kansas state prison at Lansing on May 30, was waiting with a pistol when Charlie Young, a deputy jailer, went to his cell above the sixth floor of the jail building.

"I ought to kill you but you've been so nice to me that I won't," Bailey told Young. "Give me those keys in a hurry and keep quiet."

Taking Young's keys, the desperado walked down to the sixth floor, covered Ed Morrow who was on duty then and began questioning him about the jail elevator, the only means of access to the jail cells from the street. The elevator arrived, meanwhile, revealing the presence of Clem Neilson, chef, and a negro trusty.

Seen At Rheme. Bailey locked them in a solitary confinement cell, rode to the main floor in the elevator and met Tresp. He asked him where his car was and when he was informed that it was in the jail garage across the street, Bailey took Tresp over there and commanded him to start driving. The car was a 1929 model sedan painted green.

Plane Gave Sign. Federal and county officers considered the possibility that Bailey might have escaped in an airplane. It was learned that a plane flying low circled the jail building three or four times between 3 and 4 a. m. today. Investigators reasoned that that occurrence might have been the signal for Bailey to plan an immediate escape, certain that confederates were ready to pick him up.

Until four days ago the federal government had kept a tall, rugged officer sitting in front of Bailey's cell. Day and night he watched the movements of everyone who came near. On his lap rested a sub-machine gun. When no one was near the officer would read a magazine. When even a jailer approached, the man would casually drop his reading and finger the gun.

Little Jeanette Killingsworth underwent an appendix operation at Worley hospital last night. Mary Jaynes underwent an operation at Worley hospital yesterday.
