Deck's DIDACTICS

—By Deskins Wells

Not long ago the people of Collingsworth County went to the polls and voted for a 30 cent increase in the county tax rate in a co-operative effort to try to get the county out of the financial mess it is in and which has been growing worse with each passing year. The voters sanctioned the increase in the tax rate because they believed that the Commissioners Court had agreed with the Citizens Finance Committee that there would be no increase in valuations. This newspaper believed as did the people and so did the Finance Committee. The people voted for the tax rate increase in good faith believing that there would be no increase in tax valuations.

Monday and Tuesday of this week the people of Collingsworth County were startled to receive a post card from the Commissioners Court. It was a court legal summons asking them to be present at certain dates August 7, etc. and show cause as to why their valuations should not be raised to a considerable extent. This card at The Leader office and the house has been ringing. At the people would like to know is this an equalization of value or is it a general increase in valuations. They want to know how many pieces of property were raised and where they are at what kind.

The Leader intends to try to be fair to all parties concerned in this controversy. No full length story will be published until our editors and reporters have had time to get both the Commissioners side and the people's side of this controversy. In the meantime, I can tell you that a lot of people are walking and talking about the increase in the valuations.

Flea hoppers are rampant in irrigated cotton and heavy foliaged early dry land cotton. I would not care to try to fill the shoes of my friend Lefty Thomas even if I had the technical ability. Last week he held three inspection trips for flea hoppers in the county, and not too many of the pests were seen. But Lefty went over some of the same ground again this week and he has asked me to inform all irrigation farmers that they should get busy now. He says that it could make the difference between three-fourths and a bale and a half to the acre.

That three-fourths to a bale and a half an acre on irrigated land is what gets me down in the back. Out in California they know about insecticides and fertilizers. Outside of this knowledge and water they don't have anything except desert country. But they don't think they have made a crop unless they make three bales to the acre. Most of their land is in citrus, figs, peaches, tomatoes, celery, alfalfa for their giant dairy industry; but their production is so prolific that California ranks second to Texas in the production of cotton.

Last Spring Jones Singley ran an advertisement in The Wellington Leader, which is a very good advertising medium if you want to know my opinion. His advertisement said that the year of 1957 would be a profitable one for farmers who started a pig crop early in the year. The price for 200 pound hogs on the hoof was 23c a pound last Tuesday. You can make money on hogs at that price.

That brilliant and lovely looking girl, Roberta Posey, is going to South America to see the country and study the customs of the people. Louise has asked her to send back some travel stories to the paper. Roberta replied that she could not write travel stories like Mr. Wells. That is underestimating your own ability, Roberta. Don't try to style. Do what Louise said. Tell about what you saw — what you felt about the places, and the people. Simply write a letter to Louise. Our readers will love it and I thank you in advance.

An Open Letter from the County Agent on Farm Safety Week

Wellington, Texas
July 23, 1957

Dear Farm Family:

Our President and Governor have proclaimed July 21 to 27 as "Farm Safety Week". There is a reason.

Did you know we are allowing farming to become one of the most hazardous occupations in our nation today? There is something we can do about this—just our families, yours and mine.

We can check our tractors, the deadliest piece of equipment on the farm, and other equipment, and make them safer workmen.

We can check our electrical equipment and wiring and make them safer servants, and we can give the premises and farm a general cleanup and make it a safer and more pleasant place on which to live and work.

The 10-year-old son of a farm laborer was killed last week in what could be classed as a farm accident. What aspiration, hope and possibilities were tied up in this youth the world will never know.

Your county agent,
LEFTY THOMAS

Kansas Publishers Visit in County

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Allingham of Atchison, Kansas, were here Friday, July 19, to visit her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Fain of Lutie community. They were accompanied by her niece, Fain Pendergraft of Amarillo.

Allingham is publisher of the Atchison Globe, founded by the late Ed Howe. Mrs. Allingham writes a Sunday column and does photographic work for the paper. Both formerly were with the Amarillo Daily News and Globe.

In Wellington they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Deskins Wells and visited with other friends.

Mrs. Allingham, who grew up here, is the former Winney Fain.

Moore Leaves SCS to Teach

Wayland Moore, trainee in the Wellington office of Soil Conservation Service since May, has resigned to become vocational agricultural teacher at Roaring Springs, his home town.

He and his wife will leave July 31.

Moore came here immediately after being released from the Army, in which he served as a first lieutenant at Aberdeen Proving Grounds, Md.

A trainee to succeed Moore has not been named, Fred Squyres, work unit conservationist, said.

W. I. Jackson, Farm, Church Leader, Dies

W. I. Jackson, prominent retired farmer, died at 5:30 a. m. Sunday, at his home at 1101 Belton St. Mr. Jackson had been in failing health several years, and his condition had grown more serious in recent weeks.

He had lived in the county since 1918, coming from Clay county. He and Mrs. Jackson lived on their farm east of town until two years ago, when they moved into town.

A leader in the Church of Christ, 1200 West Avenue, Mr. Jackson had been an elder for many years, and a member of the church since he was 19 years of age.

William Isaac Jackson was born December 7, 1870.

On August 11, 1904, he was married to Miss Mary Byrom at Alvord.

Funeral services were held at the Church of Christ, 1200 West Avenue, Monday at 3 p. m., with Minister Keith Beeman and Minister Paul Lusby, Amarillo, officiating. Burial was in North Wellington Cemetery under the direction of Kelso Funeral Home.

Pall bearers were Buddy Yarbrough, Charles Little, Roy Thompson, L. A. Gilmore, L. A. Davis, and Dick Little.

Mr. Jackson is survived by his wife; two sons Mineus Jackson of Crawford, Okla.; and John Jackson of Wellington. Other survivors are six grandchildren and three sisters: Mrs. Hettie Welborn, Fort Worth; Mrs. Roxie Mask, Weatherford; and Mrs. Maude Vaughn, Kansas, Oklahoma.

Felony Theft Charge Filed

A charge of felony theft was filed Friday, July 19, against John Brock of the Shinnery community, with Sheriff John Rainey signing the complaint.

The charge alleges that Brock took two tires, two wheels, a hub and spare wheel mount from a trailer belonging to Nation Wide Trailer Co., which overturned near here a short time ago.

This charge was the outgrowth of a visit to the Brock farm by Sheriff Rainey, Deputy Sheriff Kenneth Hodge, County Attorney Paul Spillman and two state liquor control board men, Mr. Goetz and Mr. Maas, in connection with an entirely different matter, two misdemeanor charges of sale of whiskey, Spillman said.

Brock allegedly sold whiskey to the two state liquor control board men.

Special Excursion Takes Fans to See McDaniels

The Lindy and Von McDaniel Baseball Excursion to St. Louis is open to baseball fans of the Wellington area, as their home country gets ready to honor these two St. Louis Cardinals top players in major league baseball, whose home is a mile and a half east of Dodson.

The excursion provides for three days and two nights in St. Louis. The train leaves Lawton, Okla., at 2:45 p. m. August 8 and will arrive in St. Louis the following morning at 7:45. It leaves St. Louis for home at 7 p. m. August 11 and reaches Lawton at 11:15 a. m. August 12.

The trip is being arranged by the Frisco Railroad. Baseball excursionists will be met at Union Station, St. Louis and taken by bus to the Jefferson Hotel.

Baseball is the purpose of the trip, and fans will get to see games Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Some sort of get together will be planned for these fans to see the McDaniel brothers.

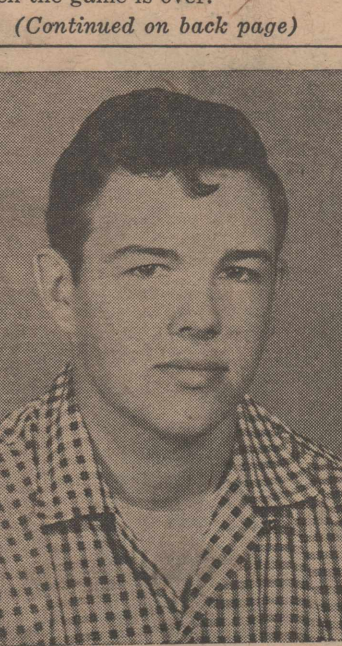

The round trip excursion fare from Lawton is $35.05 for adults. This includes all expenses except baseball tickets and the cost of food.

Children's fare is $22.10, round trip. Adolph Busch, owner of the Cardinals, is giving all children under 12 years of age free tickets to the ball game Friday and Saturday. They must pay to see the game Sunday. Their only additional expense will be for their meals.

Those wishing to go on the excursion must contact C. Mack Jones, General agent, passenger department, Frisco Railroad, 143 Park Avenue, Oklahoma City, giving this information:

Name of each person going and if under or over 12 years of age; the number of tickets for the baseball games on each of the three days; type of room desired at the hotel: single, 2 to a room, or 3 to 4 to a room.

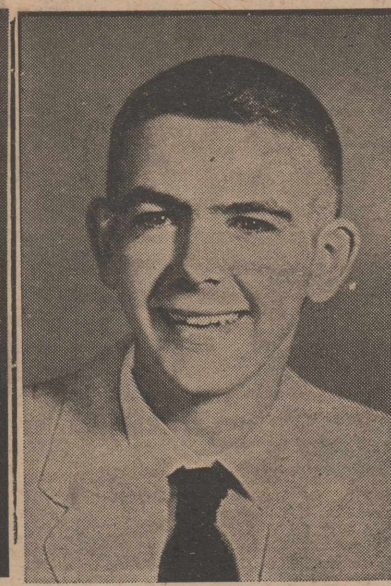

An elaborate program is planned while the group is in St. Louis. All mornings will be open. At 1 p. m. Friday, buses will take the fans on a 3½ hour tour of St. Louis including the downtown section, Jefferson Memorial, riverfront area, Old Cathedral, historical old St. Louis Courthouse, world famous Shaw Botanical Gardens, St. Louis arena, Forest Park Zoo, and through many fine residential areas and the Anheuser-Busch Brewery. At 6:45 buses will take the group to Busch Stadium for the ball game and return them when the game is over.

FFA Lone Star Degrees To Three City Members

Three Wellington Future Farmers were awarded Lone Star Farmer Degrees at the state FFA convention in Fort Worth Thursday night, July 18. This is the highest award they can receive in state work.

These went to A. C. Gray and Jerry Paul Cook, who were graduated this spring, and Mike Glenn, a junior. None of the three could attend, as they were on National Guard maneuvers at Fort Hood.

Gray, whose FFA projects in high school have netted him around $3,000, has had as projects feeding beef calves, hogs, and growing cotton, grain sorghums and sorghum alum. He now owns five beef cows and calves.

Glenn, who also feeds calves, farms with his grandfather, Tom Whitson of Lutie, growing cotton and grain sorghums. He has four beef cows. Glenn's program brought him around $1,100.

Cook fed out beef calves and each year had a wheat crop. His farm program has cleared him approximately $800.

Representing the Wellington chapter at the convention, held July 16 through 18, were Bobby Langford, chapter sentinel, and Robert Owens. They were accompanied by M. L. Burks, chapter advisor.

Convention sidelights were a trip through a packing plant, fun night, and chuck wagon supper.

Cotton Prospects Best in Recent Years Over County

Spotted showers over the county during the week end were what cotton farmers wanted to see, and in spite of 100-degree heat, crops are holding up far better than in previous drouth-stricken years.

Cotton over the county is looking uniformly good, and in only scattered instances is wilting reported.

None of it has been reported as burning.

Insect damage is beginning to appear in some sections, and numbers of farmers are spraying, especially those with irrigated cotton.

Around Wellington, observers describe the crop as "normal for the season—much better than this time last year".

Individual farmers report that a year ago their cotton was burning up. Now it's knee high, not burning and "pretty as you ever saw".

In this area, the feeling is that the late planting date will not cut the yield, however, County Agent Lefty Thomas points out that it's too early to start guessing how much cotton we'll make.

Around Dodson, cotton is holding up well and still growing. Those who are watching the crop closely say it doesn't need rain right now, but it will in two weeks. It is considered "better—much better" than a year ago.

This is one area where the late planting date is not considered as affecting the yield. Farmers over the southeast section of the county consider that they have good prospects for one of the best crops in years.

Around Samnorwood, cotton is showing a little need for rain, although it is not yet suffering any damage. Prospects for a crop are better than usual, although cotton is a little later than is normal for the area.

A little cotton is reported as wilting, but none is burning. The crop for the north part of the county is called uniformly good.

Cotton around Quail likewise is good, and greener than a year ago, although they are later.

Some farmers feel that because of this lateness, they may not make quite as much yield as they did from last year's crop.

The only dark spot for the county as a whole is insect damage, which is building up.

Greatest damage is to irrigated cotton and there is regarded to be enough spraying equipment in the county to take care of the needs.

County Agent Thomas said the build-up of flea-hoppers is increasing, with the county now as many as 50 hoppers per 100 terminals. An increase in boll worm eggs is seen.

A check at Dodson Wednesday morning showed that there appeared

City Tax Suit Trials Under Way

A series of 20 tax suits filed in Justice Court by the City of Wellington for the collection of delinquent property taxes are now in the process of being settled, Judge Raymond Horton, justice of the peace, said.

These suits were prepared by Paul Spillman, the city's legal counsel, upon an order of the city council earlier this year.

These suits involved amounts ranging from $3.87 to $69.10, and approximately half involved $11 or less. The total in all suits was $482.09.

Several of those against whom suits were filed have told off that they did not know the delinquent taxes were charged against them until recent collection attempts were started.

Some of the taxes go back to 1931 and 1933, and because of time, five pleas of limitation were filed when the suits came to trial.

Collections in four suits total $43.58, plus 8.65 costs, records in Judge Horton's office show.

Dismissed on plea of limitations were suits against Dr. Chas. B. Jones, Earl Hunter, Bess Owen and Leroy Jones. A plea of limitation was entered by Barney Jones for taxes claimed in 1938 and 1951, and he paid the city $14.57 plus $2.95 costs on two other years, records show.

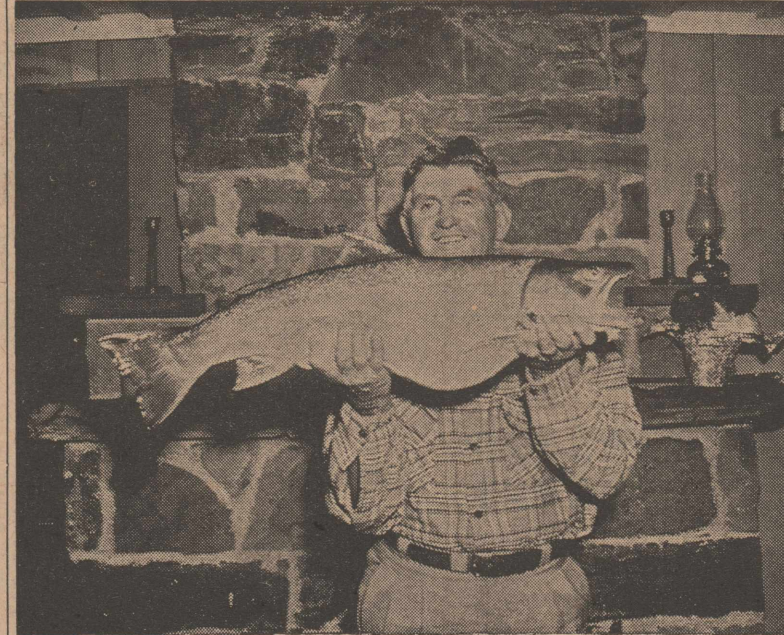

Other suits dismissed upon payment were against J. L. Branch, $10.51 plus $2.55 costs; Ted Brock, $10.81 plus $3.15 costs; Clyde Martin, $7.69.

A default judgment was rendered against Olan Alexander, now of Plainview, for $26.79.

Boyd Heads Greer County Pioneers

Albert Boyd, who owns and operates a ranch in the Needwood community in the east part of the county, was elected president of the Greer County Pioneers at the recent reunion.

He is a native of Mangum. His father, the late George Boyd, came to Greer county with a herd of cattle in 1877, establishing a ranch near Erick. Later he moved to Mangum.

Local Fishermen Get Big Ones in Idaho

Mr. and Mrs. Mish Dukeminier and Mr. and Mrs. Horace Small have returned from Talache Lodge, Sand Point, Idaho, where they fished in Pend Oreille Lake, about 50 miles south of the Canadian border.

Here Dukeminier caught the largest fish of any taken from the lake during the two-week period, and it also was believed to be a record for the summer.

The catch was a Dolly Varden trout, measuring 32½ inches long and weighing 16½ pounds.

Dukeminier and Small were fishing guests for the two weeks of Goldwyn Milner of Hereford, formerly of Dodson, who has a summer home only a short distance from Talache Lodge.

Pend Oreille Lake is rated by Life Magazine as one of America's top 10 fishing spots, and the prize fish of the nation has been caught cut of it for the last 9 years, under standards set up by Field and Stream magazine.

Ezra Taft Benson, Secretary of Agriculture, was a luncheon guest at the lodge one day that the Wellington party was there and Bing Crosby and Phil Harris were due to arrive the week end after they left.

Sheriff's Posse To Childress

Eight members of the Sheriff's Posse rode in the Childress Pioneer celebration parade last week. Taking part were Bruce Hite, Fleet Pruden, Jerry Hurst, Bobby Hays, Norman Potter, Bruce Potter, Polly O'Neil and Cameron Beam.

Part of the group stayed for the barbecue and rodeo contest that followed.

Judge Collects Honey and Bees

Versatile Judge Raymond Horton donned a bee veil and with his partner in the honey business, Bud Hollingsworth, took a 8-pound swarm of bees and more than 100 pounds of honey from the walls of the Richard Fourmentin farm home east of Wellington.

The two have several hives of bees already.

The swarm invaded the Fourmentin home this spring and prevented Mrs. Fourmentin from working around the house. For several weeks they had been trying to get someone to remove them.

Honey filled the areas between the steading neatly, as in a hive. It was necessary to take off some boards from the side of the house.

Those who ate the honey report it had a distinct peach flavor. The Fourmentin home is located only a short distance from the C. S. Bearden peach orchard.

★ REPORT

Dear Editor:

Some of my cigarette-burning neighbors have been changing their brands of weed here lately, since that magazine article came out with the dope on how each brand rates as a cancer breeder.

Seems that some people may question the authority and the reliability of the Bible, but everybody is true to the Readers Digest.

Winner of the great auto sales stakes will likely be the company which first gets an article in the Digest showing that people which drive its cars develop fewer hind-quarter bunions.

Seems from what I read that U. S. Taxpayers have somehow become obligated to chip in $110,000 per year for upkeep on Harry Truman's memorial temple.

My bi-partisan neighbor says this will be a good investment if it helps to remind us citizens of our past mistakes.

But he says it may get to be very costly if we have to take on the maintenance of a monument like this for every politician who is afraid posterity will overlook him.

I read in the papers that Russia and England run lotteries to bait people into buying their government bonds. Sort of like our stores give trading stamps.

My virtuous neighbor says it is wicked for a government to encourage gambling among the folks it is guiding and guarding.

Our government, of course, don't do this. We buy U. S. savings bonds as an investment and nobody gets any jackpot. Except Saudi Arabia, Poland, India, Yugoslavia, France, England, et al.

I see where it is reported that Internal Revenue agents are double-checking the tax returns of all citizens who claim they give ten per cent of their income to the church.

Seems there is doubt in the minds of the tax bloodhounds. They don't hardly believe that titling is actually practiced by as many people as take credit for same.

My preaching neighbor won't comment on this matter. On account of he says "tithe" is sort of a dirty word which his congregation does not like to hear him using.

Newspaper reports say that some so-called congressional economists claim Russia is getting ahead of the U. S. in the development of atomic horsepower for industry.

Seems like we are all the time having to jump up and spend more money in order to keep the Russians from getting ahead of us on something.

But since the last governmental

Teen Age Canteen News

By Mickey Breedlove

On Friday night, July 19, the teen age boys and girls gathered for another night of playing games and dancing at the canteen.

The boys and girls enjoyed once again listening and dancing to the music of King Bowen on the piano, Peck White on the drums, Odie Killingsworth on the electric guitar, and Rudy Burquist on the sax. All the rest of the band have been out and played for us before except Mr. White. He is good on the drums and is well known around the country for his playing.

The boys and girls have come to the canteen from several towns around, but there is still room for a lot more to come out and have fun like the rest of us.

Sixty-nine were again present this week.

Any parents wishing to serve as hosts for the month of August should phone or contact Mrs. James Richardson, Phone 99.

Hosts Friday night were Mr. and Mrs. George Henry, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. King, Mr. and Mrs. John Rainey and Mr. and Mrs. Toots Breedlove.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Langley came late last week to visit with their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Gray and children. They were en route to their home at Craig Bergval, starting pitcher for Wellington, gave up 8 hits in 4 innings; Jackie Daves gave up 3 in 1 inning. The bottom of the sixth was not played.

Wellington got 7 hits off three Memphis pitchers.
Hitting stars for Wellington were Jerry Williams and Bergval, with 2 each.

Another reason why Ford Trucks Cost Less

Under the broad hood of that boldly modern '57 Ford there's something you won't find in any other pickup. It's a six-cylinder engine with modern Short Stroke design.

Because of Short Stroke design, Ford engines—both Six and V-8—have less internal friction. This means less wear, less repair. Coupled with new 8.3 to 1 compression ratio—it also means more miles from every gallon of gas.

Ford trucks cost less in every way! First cost is low; many, many models are priced below every other make. Ford resale value is traditionally high. And independent insurance experts have certified for the 12th straight year that Ford trucks last longer. Act now—save now and for years to come!

Disposable Diapers Make Baby Good Traveler

BY EDNA MILES

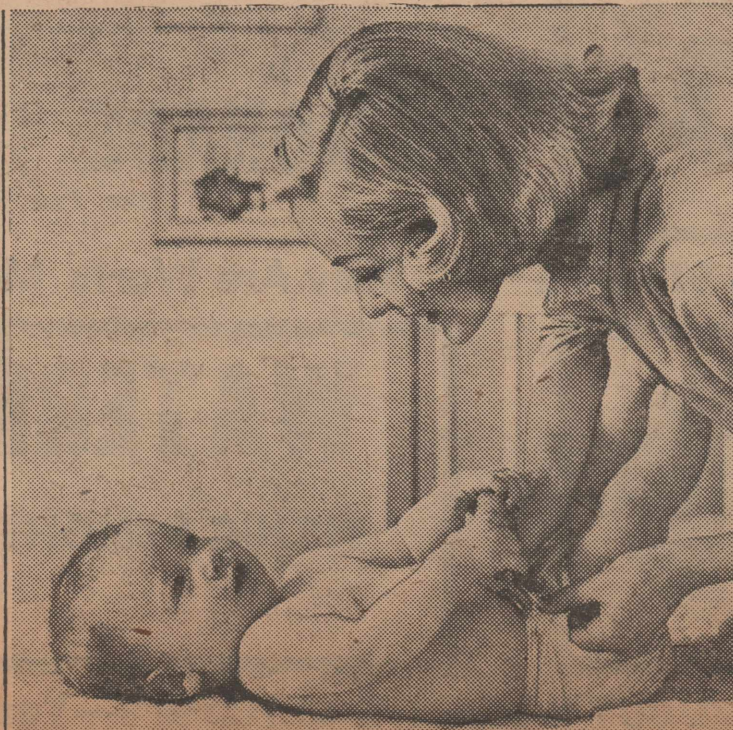

IN these times of easy travel, baby goes along with the whole family rather than staying behind with grandma.

But much as baby may enjoy the sensation of traveling, and many babies are intrepid travelers, it's only fair that mother should have some fun, too.

First problem to be solved is that matter of diapers. The disposable ones, of course, are the best answer. For the first time, this summer, pastel disposable diapers are available so that baby can look well on his travels and mother can relax as she shows him off.

These pink and blue disposables have a plastic film back for insurance against dampness and a super-absorbent cottoned lining that's medicated against diaper rash.

On a warm day, mother can deck him out in his pastel diapers only and relax while baby looks both stylish and comfortable.

Disposable diapers can contribute greatly to a young mother's freedom on that family vacation trip. They come in pastel shades.

Jacquelyn Hogan and Billy Ray Alexander Marry Friday in Ceremony at Merkel

First Methodist Church in Merkel was the setting for the wedding Friday, July 19, of Miss Jacquelyn Hogan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Finis T. Hogan Jr., Merkel, to Billy Ray Alexander, the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Alexander of Wellington.

The Rev. Mason Shirley, Merkel, performed the double ring ceremony at eight o'clock in the evening.

Lighted white cathedral tapers were on the altar before which the vows were spoken. On either side of the altar were palms of comodore and baskets of white gladioli. Swedish steel candelabra holding lighted white tapers completed the arrangement.

Mrs. Robert Malone, Merkel, organist, played the traditional wedding music and accompanied Mrs. Virgil Wade of Abilene as she sang "Always".

Mr. Hogan gave his daughter in marriage.

The bride's dress was of white embossed cotton satin, made along princess lines, with a deep neckline and cap sleeves. A coronet style headpiece held her elbow-length veil, and she wore mits of white net. An arrangement of white sweetheart roses topped the white lace-covered Bible the bride carried.

Miss O'lyssia Bowden of Hart was maid of honor. She wore a dress of blue cotton satin styled like that of the bride. She wore blue net mits and carried a fan of matching blue net. Miss Suzy Bird, cousin of the bride, of Merkel, was bridesmaid. Her dress of pale blue cotton satin was also styled along princess lines and her mits and fan were of matching net.

John Alexander, Wellington, Nancy.

brother of the groom, was best man, while the ushers were Gene Hargrove and Ronny Cade, cousin of the bride, Merkel, and Troy Clark, Wellington.

Candles were lighted by Nancy and Joyce Alexander, sisters of the groom, while Sandy Hogan, sister of the bride, was flower girl.

For the wedding, the mothers of both the bride and groom wore beige dresses with matching accessories.

The reception was held in the church parlor. The serving table was covered with a blue cloth, edged with white net ruffles. Blue daisies surrounded the three-tiered wedding cake. Mrs. R. O. Leveridge of Abilene served the cake and Miss Connie Cade, Merkel, poured. Miss Carolyn Jones, Sweetwater, was at the register. Others in the house party were Miss Joy Darden of Lubbock, Miss Nancy Campbell, Mrs. Tom Hogan, Mrs. Nolan Palmer, and Mrs. Morris Smith, all of Merkel.

As the couple left on a short wedding trip, the bride wore a sheath of embroidered brown linen, with a white picture hat and other accessories of white. Her corsage was white roses.

Mrs. Alexander is a graduate of Merkel high school and a junior at McMurry College, Abilene, where she is a member of TIP social club.

The bridegroom, who was graduated from Samnorwood high school, received his degree from McMurry College this spring. His social club was IHA. The couple will be at home in Wellington this summer, and after September will make their home at Lorenzo, where he will be a member of the coaching staff of the high school.

AN IMPORTANT INVESTIGATION

Senator John L. McClellan, chairman of the United States Senate's "Select" Committee conducting the investigation into racket activities among officials of certain labor unions, feels that the committee and staff will be engaged at least a full year in hard and tedious work. "It is a job which none of us sought," he said as he sat for an interview in his office on Capitol Hill. "But it is a job which all of us feel must be carried on with dedication and whatever sacrifices are necessary."

That the sacrifices will be heavy already was apparent. Although it was a legislative off-day on Capitol Hill, Senator McClellan had spent six and a half hours in Committee work, including 2 hours with officials of the FBI — before most people had had their lunch. His afternoon was full, and a group of West Coast people were scheduled for a 5 p. m. appointment with the chairman and Robert F. Kennedy, Committee chief counsel. After that there would be conferences with Kennedy and other staff people to set up plans for the public hearings on the next day.

MASS OF WORK

Senator McClellan said: "I would like for you to tell your readers, Dr. Benson, that for the time being we cannot get around to investigating all the reports flowing into our office. However, as we complete the building of our Committee staff we will try to properly handle every tip, every report, every appeal that is being made upon us at the moment." He gestured toward a high stack of telegrams on his desk. On the desk of his administrative assistant in an adjoining office was a stack of telegrams and several foot-high stacks of letters. Several thousand communications regarding the rackets investigation have been received by Chairman McClellan. Each day's mail brings hundreds. Many of them are from labor union members registering vague or generalized complaints about the operation of their union. Some of the letters make specific and detailed charges. They are coming from states all over the country.

NASTY FACTS UNEARTHED

The formation of the "Select" Senate Committee and the direction of its present investigations grow out of another investigation. Senator McClellan's Committee on Government Operations was prying into some questionable practices in the Government's procurement of clothing. The trail led to New York. McClellan investigators found that Johnny Dio, prominent in some labor union activities, was enmeshed in some of the procurement dealings.

The deeper McClellan's Committee dug, the nastier were the facts and their implications. Later, on the West Coast, other shocking facts were uncovered. The Senate Labor Committee was brought into the picture. The two committees agreed on a full-fledged investigation and set up the "Select" Committee. Senator McClellan, who had demonstrated an uncommon ability to handle investigations and hearings and who had achieved an enviable reputation for fairness, was his colleagues' choice for chairman.

THE CITIZENS STAKE

"Every American citizen has a stake in the work of this committee," Senator McClellan soberly said to me. "Some of the evidence we have suggests an unwholesome and dangerous situation in some areas. The very future of our freedom system could be jeopardized."

As I left the Senator's private office, Chief Counsel Kennedy and

"HEY, WATCH IT, BUDDY"—A steer in a Canadian feeding yard gives forth a rumbling bellow, unwilling to accept his fate with resignation. These fine, beefy specimens of livestock, dehorned to prevent injuries, await delivery to farmers and breeders who fatten them for market.

a group of Oregon people entered. On the desk of the receptionist in the outer office a new batch of telegrams had been opened. I scanned the one on top. It had come from a West Coast city heretofore not mentioned in the McClellan Committee hearings. The sender's name and address was signed. The telegram said: "GET OUT HERE AND INVESTIGATE DIRTY WORK IN LOCAL (NAME AND NUMBER GIVEN). ONE MAN BEATEN. I'M NEXT. FBI KNOWS."

The McClellan Committee seems determined to "get out there" on all such summonses, and to bring to the attention of the nation (and local authorities) any racketeering conditions jeopardizing our freedom system. For that we should all be grateful.

Mrs. Ted Wheeler of Lillie community visited for a week recently with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Wheeler in Denver. Meeting here there were her mother, Mrs. Betty Halton and her sister, Mrs. Jack Harrell, of Riverton, Wyoming.

Questions Answered

Greenbelt Authority Gives Dam Information

Here are the questions that are most often asked about the proposed Greenbelt Municipal and Industrial Water Authority dam on Salt Fork River, and the answer to those questions. The Wellington Leader prints these in order that readers may be fully informed on the project.

Q. What was the origin of the Greenbelt Municipal and Industrial Water Authority program? A. For many years interested area residents felt Salt Fork and Whitefish Creek could produce a large amount of water if a dam were built. They obtained early water rights and got them extended from time to time.

2. Q. How was the Greenbelt Municipal and Industrial Water Authority created? A. Committees from interested towns hired McCall, Parkhurst & Crowe, bond attorneys of Dallas, to handle the legal procedure for origination and final completion of the project. They prepared a legislative act creating a conservation district under Article XVI, Section 50 of the state constitution. This bill became a law and is identified as HB No. 88 of the 53rd Legislature of Texas First Called Session.

3. Q. For what purpose was the Greenbelt Authority created? A. There is no authority as such. The present "board" has only the status of a committee interested in seeing the dam built. It was organized to conserve the water belonging to this area, now flowing completely away, storing that water, and providing a permanent, dependable and adequate supply of good water to the towns who vote to accept membership in the authority.

4. Q. What was the next step? A. Towns of Wellington, Hedley, Clarendon, Memphis, Childress, Paducah and Quanah joined together to explore the actual amount of water available from the Salt Fork - Whitefish Creek Drainage area. They hired a hydrologist to make a preliminary report of the amount of water, possible dam site, and help in obtaining water rights from the State Board of Water Engineers.

5. Q. What comes next? A. The confirmation election, in which each member city votes as to whether they do or do not want to become a member of the authority. They say if they want to come in or get out.

6. Q. Can a city withdraw from the Authority after the confirmation election? A. Yes, under amended legislation passed by the last session of the legislature, sponsored by Senator Andy Rogers and Representative Grainger McIlhenny.

7. Q. Who can vote in the confirmation or other elections? A. Any qualified voter who has paid a poll tax.

8. Q. What cities now have definite membership in the Authority? A. None. Under authorizing legislation, Childress, Clarendon, Hedley, Memphis, Wellington, Paducah and Quanah may vote themselves in.

9. Q. Are these the only towns in which the confirmation election will be held? A. Yes. Other cities may purchase water from the Authority or by legal process hereafter become members.

10. Q. Who calls the confirmation election? A. State Board of Water Engineers, after it is pet-

Graham "Million Dollar Manager"

Recognition has come to Lloyd Graham, manager of Farmers Co-op Gin, Olton, since it was revealed at the recent stockholders meeting that he has earned in 4 years for the gin $1,085,064.72.

He is called among gin men and patrons "The Million Dollar Manager".

The double battery gin last season ginned 20,647 bales, and in four years has ginned 75,765.

Dividends paid out at the stockholders meeting, which was in the form of a barbeque, were $228,804.50. Eleven hundred patrons attended.

Graham is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Graham, and his wife is the former Pauline Elliott, daughter of Mrs. J. F. Elliott. Graham got his early gin experience with the Farmers Co-op in Wellington.

itioned to do so by the 7 towns.

11. Q. What are the boundaries of the proposed authority? A. All the property within the corporate limits of each town which votes to become a member.

12. Q. If we approve the confirmation election and go into the authority, can the authority levy a tax without a vote of the tax-payors? A. No tax can be levied without a vote of the majority of the property - owning taxpayers within the authority. At this stage of development it is not known if it will even be necessary to levy a tax. When the final engineering data is in, showing the extent of the project and the market for the water that will be available, it may be found that revenue from the sale of water will take care of all financing.

13. Q. How are the board of directors to be named? A. The governing body of each city will appoint one property-owning taxpayer who does not hold any other public office as a member of the Board of Directors.

14. Q. Were the water rights secured from the State Board of Engineers? A. Yes. Under the condition that the program would show definite progress of development before May 12, 1958.

15. Q. What is the quality of the water to be obtained? A. No reliable information is available because of the very low rate of flow during the drought years. Regular water tests are now being made and will continue to be made. No further steps will be taken, after the creation of the Authority, until complete and reliable information on water quality is obtained.

HERE IS THE NEW PURINA HOG PROGRAM

1. Start litter on new, improved Purina Baby Pig Chow. Then creep feed Purina Pig Startena until 3 weeks after weaning.

2. Put pigs on growing ration of 4 parts grain and 1 part Purina Hog Chow until pigs are about 3 months old.

3. For last 6 weeks, feed 9 parts grain to 1 part New Purina Hog Chow. Feed either free choice or mixed, in correct proportions.

Now...market hogs in 4 $\frac{2}{3}$ months

New Purina feeding program weans pigs at six weeks... grows pigs to 190 lbs. in 4 $\frac{2}{3}$ months... cuts feed costs 4%... 1 lb. of pork for every 3.26 lbs. of feed, from weaning to market... conditions sows faster for next farrowing.

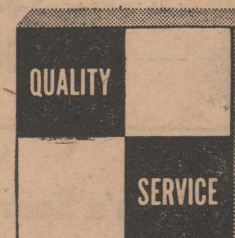

Every year more proof piles up that hogs should be fed according to age and weight requirements. Young pigs use feed differently than do older hogs. They need more protein... more vitamins... more of the expensive parts of the ration. But, as pigs grow, they become more efficient users of carbohydrates—the less costly part of rations. The proportion of cheaper carbohydrates can be rapidly increased.

Tests at the Purina Research Farm showed that this new program cut feed costs an average of 4% below any previous Purina Program... produced each pound of pork on only 3.26 lbs. of feed from weaning to market. It also gave sows the chance to recover faster from farrowing and nursing. Sows were ready to breed again in less time than when pigs were weaned at 9 weeks.

Improved Purina Hog Chows Make Program Click

Purina Baby Pig Chow and Pig Startena, the famous Fast-Start Twins, have been further improved to take advantage of the newest research findings. Purina Hog Chow has been improved to the point where you may now use 33% more grain during the last six weeks than on previous Purina Hog Programs. Be sure to feed right... follow the recommended steps closely. The fast gains, early weaning, and increased efficiency of this new Purina Hog Program can be yours when you feed these high-quality Chows in the way research has proved they should be fed for top results.
