Street seal coating begins

The Price Construction Company began seal coating about 77 blocks of paving on Tuesday.

"The first sealcoating was done on the South Side," said City Manager Rick Crowley. "Central Street was seal coated from Concho Street to the city sewer plant."

Tuesday afternoon, the sealcoating crew had moved to Elm Street and was working from Third to 10th Street.

The city has its own inspector, H. P. Lee, a former inspector for the highway department, who will watch the job from beginning to end.

About $50,000 is set up for this job. Crowley says that the money was set aside for this purpose in previous years.

"We have $25,000 set aside this year and we hope to use that for little odds and ends of paving and for paving for drainage purposes," he said.

August heat brings rise in crime rate

The hot, dry days of August brought on a massive increase in the number of people requesting police help, according to the monthly report supplied by the Police Department to the City Manager and

City Council. The number of calls to police increased by 11 percent, from 952 in July to 1,057 in August, according to Police Chief Ed Wheat. The number of traffic tickets issued more than

Wolves end 7-year drought; find green pasture in Slaton

Well the seven year drought is over. No longer can the Slaton Tigers boast over their supremacy of the Wolves. Colorado City turned the tables Friday night and ended a seven year losing streak to the Tigers in fine fashion as they defeated the Tigers 14-6 in the season opener for both clubs.

The Slaton stadium was full of football fans who were there to see if the heralded Tigers, ranked as high as 11th in some of the polls, could keep their mastery over the Pack as they came into the contest as two touchdown favorites. What they saw was an offensive and defensive show performed by the Wolves as they manhandled the Tigers all night long.

Heroes? All 26 of the men in red and black were heroes. From Raymond Bassinger, Fred Dakan and Franklin Marsh, along with the entire offensive line who blew open holes for "scatback" Larry Hamilton to dash through for 225 yards to tight end Don Randle who caught two passes for 58 yards and one touchdown.

Or how about quarterback-linebacker Doug Chitsey who passed for 137 yards and killed the only Slaton scoring threat in the second half with an interception. But you can't overlook the play of 135 pound free-safety Dennis Rivera who picked off three Slaton passes, and on the other side of the ball he hauled in three passes for 76 yards.

And how about that Wolf defense which includes such names as Freddie Pineda, Gary Marsh, Armando Rivera, Jay Piland and Michael Luera who held a highly explosive Slaton offense led by "All-Everything" running back Geryl Lacy in check all night.

The Slaton offense could muster only 172 yards total offense including zero passing. Last year, Lacy burned the Pack's defense for over 230 yards. This year he earned 98 tough yards on 21 carries.

In fact, the contest could have been more lopsided if the Pack had cashed in on their opportunities. The Wolves turned the ball over three times inside the Slaton 30 yard line, and had two drives stalled inside the Tiger 35 yard line. Not to mention the fact they had the ball inside the Slaton five when the game ended. The Wolf

Wiggins wins first in Jackpot football

Mrs. Mae Wiggins, a 67-year-old resident of Colorado City, is the first winner in the RECORD's Jackpot Football Contest.

The competition was stiff as Cecil Oursbourn and Mike Griffith, along with Mrs. Wiggins each picked 18 winners correct. But Mrs. Wiggins won because she got the closest on the tie breaker game, Colorado City and Slaton. Her prediction was Colorado City, 14, Slaton, 12.

Mrs. Wiggins who resides at 976 East 15th says she has been playing the football contests in the RECORD for a long time, and has won her share.

For winning, she picks up a cool $25. So see how well you so called football experts can pick the winners. Play the RECORD's Jackpot Football listed on one of the inside pages, and you may win a fast $25.

Wolves

defense was so dominant, that Slaton actually crossed the midfield stripe once the entire game, that coming late in the final quarter as the Tigers drove from their own 30 to the Wolves 37 before Chitsey's interception killed the drive.

Slaton's only score of the game came following a Wolf fumble at their own 37, late in the first quarter. Behind the running of Lacy, the Tigers scored the third play of the second quarter. Quarterback David Henzler "snuck" in from the one-foot line. The only other time the Tigers crossed midfield was when they recovered a fumbled Wolf punt at the C-City 49. Two plays later, Rivera picked off his first pass of the night.

The Wolves started the game off in fine form as they forced Slaton to punt on their first possession. Starting from their own 30, the Wolves wasted little time in showing Slaton this was a different team from the one they held to 40 yards total offense last year. Kevin Norman rambled for 10 yards and a first down. Next, Hamilton scooted for 52 yards down to the Tiger eight. Norman tried two times up the middle for zero yards. On third down, Chitsey found Randle over the middle for the score. Chitsey's PAT was good, and it would be all the scoring the Wolves would need for the night.

Following Slaton's touchdown, it looked like C-City was going to strike fast again as the elusive Hamilton took the kick-off and returned it 52 yards to the Slaton 35. But a rash of penalties killed the drive.

Midway through the second quarter, the Pack launched their final scoring drive of the game covering 63 yards and using four minutes of the clock. It started off with a 28 yard pass to a wide open Rivera down to the Slaton 43. Penalties again moved the Wolves back. Facing a third and 19 from their own 49, Chitsey worked the Veer-option to perfection as he went down the left side of the line. Just before he was about to be hit, he pitched the ball to Hamilton who motored on in for a 51 yard scoring play. The PAT was good and this ended the scoring for the night, along with the seven year Slaton jinx.

Simple tips can help conserve water

Depletion of the water supply is a major problem facing Texas.

While manufacturing, energy production and agriculture are the biggest users of water, home consumption is also significant, says Dr. Marjorie Smith, a family resource management specialist with Texas A&M's Agricultural Extension Service.

Each person uses about 80 gallons of water a day at home.

About five percent of that water goes for drinking and cooking, 20 percent for laundry and dishes, 30 percent for bathing and 45 percent for toilets, says the specialist.

By changing our casual habits, says Smith, we can conserve water and also reduce energy costs for heating it.

According to the specialist, a few simple conservation measures can help save water at home:

-Take shorter showers. You can also purchase an inexpensive flow-limiter, restrictor, or controller for the shower head. A standard shower uses 5 to 10 gallons of water per minute, but a water-saving head will cut that amount in half.

-Use a water-saving aerator on each of the other faucets in your home to cut usage.

-Turn off the water while you shampoo or soap up. You can also buy a flow cut-off valve and install it on the shower head for that purpose.

-Don't fill the bathtub too full. Every inch of water in the tub is about 4½ gallons, so a half-filled tub uses about 25 gallons of water.

-When brushing your teeth, washing dishes and washing your hair or your hands, don't let the water run the entire time. Four to five gallons of water will run down the drain every minute.

-Reduce the amount of water required to flush the toilets in your home. Some people have placed bricks in their toilet tanks to save water. But bricks will sometimes crumble and damage the fixture or pipes. Instead, weight two one-quart plastic bottles with stones or fill them with water. Replace the caps on the bottles and lower them into the toilet tank, making sure they are clear of moving parts. Or you can purchase a toilet tank insert which cuts the amount of water used by one-third.

-Wash only full loads in the dishwasher or clothes washer.

-Letting the water run to get a cold drink sends a lot of good water down the drain. For cold drinking water, put a bottle of water in the refrigerator.

-Fix leaking faucets. The Texas Department of Water Resources estimates that a slow drip wastes as much as 170 gallons of water each day or 5,000 gallons per month.

New rule adopted by commission

The Railroad Commission has adopted on an emergency basis a new rule that will deregulate the transportation of certain agricultural commodities in Texas.

The rule exempts from RRC-approved rates the transportation of certain agricultural commodities for farmers, ranchers or cooperative organizations between points of production, processing or storage or to any point of first manufacture.

However, agricultural commodity carriers will still be required to have a Commission permit and comply with the Commission's safety, vehicle registration, and insurance requirements. Such a permit will be valid for one year throughout the state.

The new rule also requires that an agricultural carrier keep records for each shipment showing the origin and destination, identity of the shipper and receiver, and shipment weights.

Each agricultural shipment must also be accompanied by a consignor bill of lading and an agricultural permit holder's waybill. The bill of lading must contain a certificate signed by the consignor (shipper).

To apply for an agricultural permit, a carrier must meet the Commission's cargo, liability, and workmen's compensation insurance requirements, file a report detailing the equipment the carrier plans to use, and file a $25 filing fee. For more than five vehicles, a carrier must file an additional $5 per vehicle.

Pack goes for second win

Last season when the Wolves traveled to Seminole to play the Indians, Seminole simply dominated the game cruising to a 35-0 victory in the pouring rain. Late in the contest with the game out of reach, the Indians "poured" it on the Pack using "razzle-dazzle" plays to rack up more points. In fact, at the game's end, the Indians were passing trying to push in another tally.

The last minute Seminole scoring attack has stuck in the minds of Wolf head coach Tom Ramsey, along with the rest of his staff and members of the Wolves, and they will be thinking about it when they face the Indians Friday night at Wolf Stadium in the Pack's home opener.

Last year, the Indians had a talented, experienced squad and the Wolf Pack was rebuilding. This year the shoe is on the other foot as Colorado City returns some quality players and Seminole coach Bill Burling is trying to piece together a squad in which the majority of the players played junior varsity ball last season.

Last week in their season opener, the Indians were soundly defeated 44-0 by a tough Andrews squad. A team ranked in the top 30 of the 4A polls. "We are a junior ball club, we have eight returning lettermen and six of them start both ways," said Burling. "We are proud of the kids. They have been giving us a good effort but we were outclassed against Andrews."

Seminole will be running a new offense (Multiple-T) and can throw out of it with versatile returning quarterback Herby Rios, 5-9, 140 and returning split end Pete Aglara along with wide receiver Joe Ray Sanchez. Against Andrews, Rios was 5 of 19 for 66 yards but suffered three interceptions. They committed nine turnovers the entire night.

But the Indians would rather keep the ball on the ground. Running back Sylvester Dale, 150 gained 66 yards and caught two passes. The offensive line will average about 170 pounds per man, but Burling said that consistency has been their problem.

Only one player on the team weighs over 200 pounds.

Burling brought a new offense with him from Odessa High, but kept the Indians' 5-2 defense. "We have to play good defense against Colorado City. We will just line up and try to play football," said Burling.

The Seminole mentor will be looking to linebackers Daniel Rose, 180 and Rick Coon, 165 to lead the charge. Both players had good games last week, said Burling. Seminole has two good players at the noseguard position in Wade Spradlin, 175 and Jason Conner, 145 who also doubles as fullback.

The Wolves are fresh off their first opening season victory in seven years, defeating a tough Slaton club 14-6, after which Ramsey said that this team is further along than last year. "Last year we only had two returning starters.

This year we have a few more but we have some experienced young kids now," stated Ramsey.

Ramsey was elated over the play of his speciality teams who kept Slaton pinned in their territory all night. "At times the offensive line looked good. We whipped them up front. When we got the lead, we wanted to run the ball and keep it away from Lacy."

The Wolves showed an offense that was more wide open and much more explosive than in the past. Quarterback Doug Chitsey was 6 of 17 for 137 yards and one touchdown. Running back Larry Hamilton picked up where he left off from last season with 225 yards on 23 carries. Three times he broke for runs 40 yards or more, and took a kickoff 52 yards for a near touchdown.

Defensively, the Wolves were awesome holding Slaton to under 200 yards total offense. The Tigers had zero yards passing as safety Dennis Rivera picked off three passes, linebacker Chitsey one and cornerback Gary Marsh recovered a fumble.

Ramsey says his troops are primed and ready and in no way will they be taking the Indians lightly, because in all likelihood, the Wolves have some paying back to do.

Bulldogs lose season opener to Irion Co.

The Loraine Bulldogs found the going rough in their season opener at Johnson Stadium Friday night as they fell upon hard times in losing to the Irion County Eagles 33-6.

Turnovers and lack of offense proved to be the Bulldogs downfall as the home team fumbled four times, got four passes picked off while gaining less than 100 yards total offense. It looked like the Bulldogs might get the first score of the contest as they stopped the Eagles on their first possession. On their first punt attempt, Tony Morris roared through to block the Eagle punt, and Loraine was in business at the Irion County 22 yard line. A few plays later, the Bulldogs suffered their first fumble of the 1983 season, killing the possible scoring opportunity.

In the second quarter, following an Eagle score, and the score stood 6-0, Bulldogs running back Ruben Garcia brought the crowd to their feet with a 55 yard touchdown run on a sweep. But the apartment TD was called back because of clipping, and the half ended 6-0.

"We played 15 minutes of good football, but we got down after they scored their second touchdown," said Bulldog coach B. D. Trice. The Eagles second touchdown was scored by running back Junior Flores, who ended up as the game's leading rusher with 86 yards and three touchdowns.

The Bulldogs finally got on the score board late in the final quarter when James Griffin lofted a 40 yard scoring pass to Martin Leija to prevent a shutout.

Loraine to face Robert Lee

The Loraine Bulldogs will face an even sterner test this Friday when they travel to Robert Lee to do battle with the Robert Lee Steers at 7:30 p.m.

The Steers are somewhat in a rebuilding stage with the acquisition of new head coach Nelson Coulter, who comes to Robert Lee from Rankin High School. The Steers are fresh off of a 14-0 victory over Miles last week, while the Bulldogs suffered a 33-6 loss to Irion County.

Coach Coulter inherits 19 returning lettermen from a squad that finished with a 4-5-1 record last season. He has switched some players around to go with his new Wing-T offense and 27 defense. During the turn around, he moved Kirby Rasco, 6-0, 150, from wide receiver to quarterback and Eddie Hood, 5-6, 135 from quarterback to wide receiver. He also moved Gilbert Abalos, 200 from defensive end to middle linebacker.

In their contest versus Miles, the Steers used some big plays and some stingy defense to win the game. Halfback Greg Grim led the Steer offensive attack with a 60 yard touchdown run. Miles barely had over 100 yards total offense against the Steers. The Robert Lee offensive line is led by center Johnny Torrez, 5-9, 210 who was moved from tackle. Their line averages 180 pounds per man, according to Coulter.

"Offensively we didn't generate as much offense as I would like, but we played good defense," said Coulter concerning last week's game. "We will have to block well against Loraine. They have some quickness and we must know who to block and how to get to them in a hurry."

Defensively, the Steers will count on Abalos to hold things down in the middle and returning all district performer at defensive end Jimmy Skinner, 180. The Steers secondary will be led by Rasco at strong safety who was an all district performer last season. He led the district in interceptions last year with 12. Versus Miles, he had two thefts and barely missed a third, said Coulter.

Loraine will be trying to find some offense this week. Last week, the Bulldogs gained minus rushing yards and had eight turnovers. Ruben Garcia had a long touchdown run called back, and the only other way the Bulldogs moved the ball was in the shot-gun formation with running back James Griffin throwing the ball. Griffin flipped a 25 yard scoring pass to Martin Leija for the Bulldogs only score.

The Bulldogs line play left coach B. D. Trice less than pleased. "Our line play was bad. We did not block well and we need to show more block resistance on defense," commented Trice. Linebackers Buck Trice and Tony Morris were instrumental in the 'Dog defense. Trice gathered in 20 tackles, including eight solos while Morris was in on 11 tackles.

Safety Aundra Rose had 10 tackles and freshman tackle Ricky Bailey had 11 tackles. Robert Lee is a balanced team. They are 20 points better than Irion County. They may be toughest or second toughest team we will play," stated Trice. "Hopefully, we will go down there and learn how to play," concluded Trice.

So the Bulldogs will be out for their second go-round against a tougher team, a team that is at least four touchdowns favorites. Trice feels that the main points is that his team does some blocking, control the ball on first down, and keep the defense off the field so long. If they can do that, then the game figures to be closer than it is on paper.

The Banvel® 10G herbicide advantage: Spot treating kills bindweed between crops.

Knock out weed patches after harvest for more production from the next crop.

After crop harvest this fall is the best time for a Between Crops spot treatment on problem weed infestations with Banvel® 10G herbicide. Before the first winter freeze, total kill is possible. Spot treat with up to 40 lbs. of Banvel 10G herbicide per acre. Weed roots absorb Banvel 10G. Then it translocates throughout the entire plant, for a complete weed kill—leaf-tip to root-tip.

Knock out the toughest broadleaves between crops... field bindweed... lakeweed... Texas blueweed... silverleaf nightshade... and a host of other problem weeds.

Banvel 10G works into your fallow/rotation program. It kills weeds but won't kill your cropping plans for next season. Rotate back to corn, sorghum or wheat.

Ask your ag chem dealer for Banvel 10G and kill weeds with a spot treatment between crops.

Holman presides over Baptist Women meeting

Loraine Baptist Women met in the church annex at 2:30 p.m. Monday for their monthly program and business meeting.

Mrs. T. L. Holman presided and gave the opening prayer.

Clara Butler read minutes and Stella Harris gave the treasurer's report.

The program for the Week of Prayer for State Missions will be observed next week, September 11-18. WMU Women will meet at the church at 2:30 p.m. Monday and Tuesday and in an all day meeting Thursday with a covered dish luncheon at noon to discuss these needs for our state. Theme of the week's program will be "In Times Like These, Hope." This concerns the entire church and all women of the church are urged to attend these meetings and hear of the needs in the state and our part in helping ease these needs.

Mrs. Charlie Harris

read the prayer calendar and Lynne Compton gave the prayer for missionaries whose birthdays were on this day.

Mrs. Holman brought the introduction to the program entitled "Medical Missions Doing the Gospel in the Middle East." Others discussed this subject. It was found that direct personal evangelism is not always possible in the Middle Eastern areas where Islam reigns supreme and traditional barriers to Christianity loom large. Christian compassion and love must be expressed in tangible ways. The challenge of medical missions in the Middle East is to meet physical needs in the name of Christ, demonstrating love rather than simply telling about it. Work in Jordan, Israel, Yemen, the Gaza Strip, etc. was discussed, and found that lack of funds hampers work there in these days of inflation. The group will meet at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday, September 21st with Mrs. Charlie Harris for their current mission program and Bible Study.

Loraine Fire Department hold annual coffee stop

The Loraine Fire Department held their annual Labor Day coffee stop at the highway rest stop east of Loraine. They set up Friday afternoon and stayed on duty until Midnight Monday.

They estimate they served coffee, punch and cookies to approximately 1,000 travelers during the time they were open. They had the travelers register and found they were from almost every state and one from Africa.

Some were very enthusiastic, one woman traveling alone was wondering if she could find a place open to get something to eat, one was a woman truck driver, one had her cat and shared the refreshments with it, others had their dogs along, all were interesting and the entire weekend was enjoyed. Though it was work, it is rewarding as they were doing a service for others as they travel this way.

There are 24 members of the fire department and they worked in three hour shifts. Chief Hall and Donald and Clay Graham stayed all night.

Loraine is really proud of the fire department, and the good work they do for the town and community.

Is your heating/cooling system gobbling up too much money?

If electric bills are taking too big a bite out of your budget, consider equipment with a higher energy-efficiency rating. The higher the rating, the less electricity it takes to heat and cool your home. And using less electricity will help hold down your bill.

High-efficiency equipment costs more, but when the equipment qualifies, Texas Electric will give you a bonus check to help pay the difference. So if you're planning to install a room unit, or replace central air conditioning or a year-round heat pump, ask your dealer about equipment that qualifies for a bonus check from Texas Electric.

And put money back in your pocket.

Jones County horse show to be Sept. 10

The Jones County open horse show will start Saturday, September 10 at 9 a.m. There will be all halter classes followed by performance events. Rosettes through sixth place will be given, with silver trays awarded to the high point horse in each age division. For more information, call Mrs. Dickie Cooper, 773-3168.

Starting at 6 p.m., Saturday there will be a jackpot bull buckout with a $30 entry fee for the adults. Mitch Terrell will provide the stock for the buckout.

The buckout will continue after the playnight activities. The playnight will begin at 7 p.m., with a $2 entry fee for the youth activities.

There will be barrels, poles, and flags for age divisions of five and under, 6-8, 9-12, 13-15 and 16-19. Trophies will be awarded to the top four places in each event, with high point belt buckles to overall winners in each age group.

The 20 and over age divisions will be jackpotted in barrels, poles and flags. Calves will be available for jackpot calf ropers. The entry fee will be determined that night according to the number of ropers.

A special event of the playnight will be a free boot race for kids age five and under. Trophies will be given to the top six winners. The boot race will be just before the playnight activities start at 7. For more information call Teresa Kiker at 823-2939.

"Cole" crops should be planted during September

It's anything but cold in Texas during September, but that's the time to plant and transplant

"cole" crops.

"Cole" refers to any of various plants belonging to the Cruciferae or mustard family, including such cool-season crops as brussels sprouts, cabbage, cauliflower, collards, chard, kale, kohlrabi, mustard, broccoli, turnips and watercress.

Cole crops have a common ancestry of wild cabbage originating in the Mediterranean and Asia Minor area, and this close kinship enables wide usage of plant parts, says Dr. Sam Cotner, horticulturist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

For instance, brussels sprout plants are grown by most gardeners for miniature heads (sprouts) which develop in the axils of leaves. However, some consider brussels sprout leaves to be milder and sweeter than those of collards, which are especially grown for their leaves. Most gardeners are familiar with the fact that turnips can be grown for greens (leaves) or for roots. In other words, when growing a member of the Cruciferae family, the saying

"what you see is what you get (to eat)" truly applies!

This group of cole crops enjoys cool seasons and is somewhat cold tolerant, says Cotner. Cabbage, for instance, can withstand cold down to 20 degrees or even 15 degrees F. Broccoli, collards, kale, kohlrabi or mustard can also withstand fairly low temperatures while cauliflower and chard are more sensitive to cold.

The conditioning of plants as influenced by weather conditions prior to exposure to cold temperatures determines plant survival, Cotner points out. Plant maturity also has much to do with the amount of cold which cole crops can survive. When broccoli plants have produced buds, even a light frost may cause considerable damage since clusters freeze, turn brown and ultimately rot.

Cole crops grow best at a monthly mean temperature of 60 to 70 degrees F. This occurs when temperatures are 80 degrees F. or less during the day and 60 degrees F. or less at night.

Of all the cole crops mentioned, broccoli is probably the best tasting, most nutritious and most economical of the entire group, says Cotner. It's surprising that such an excellent vegetable, known for more than 2,000 years in Europe and perhaps 200 years in America, has become popular only in the past 50 years.

Broccoli furnishes good eating while being high in vitamin C and supplying a substantial amount of vitamin A. It is the only crop which can be blanched and frozen and still retain its superb taste and quality. It actually is better after the freezing process which softens the stem tissue.

Fall is the best time to plant cole crops since they thrive in cold temperatures. Planting now can assure some fresh cole crops for Thanksgiving dinner.

Farmers prices raise 4.6% in Aug.

Prices farmers get for raw products climbed 4.6 percent in August, the sharpest single-month increase in more than three years, the Agriculture Department said Wednesday.

Drought which has plagued Mitchell County and many parts of the Southwest and the government's payment-in-kind program have curtailed harvest prospects sharply this year, helping to drive up market prices of key commodities.

Under the PIK program, the government repays farmers for idling land with surplus crops.

The increase followed two months of price declines in the department's price index. Historically the indicator has been erratic at times depending on weather, economic trends, and the crop situation in general.

Officials said the increase from July was due mainly to the higher prices for soybeans, corn, hogs, wheat and lettuce. Lower prices were reported for cattle, calves, tomatoes and peaches, which partly offset the gains for other items.

Locally, the prices of fat cattle, which is cattle that come out of the feed lots have dropped from about 70 cents per pound last year to approximately 60-61 cents per pound this year, according to Mitchell County ASCS Director don Stewart. The price of feeder cattle, which is cattle fed off the grass dropped from 60-90 cents per pound last year to 40-70 cents per pound this year, stated Stewart.

Last season, calves sold for 40-70 cents and their prices will probably be down this season "unless something drastic happens," stated Stewart. Because of the lack of rain, the weight of the livestock is also down. But the price of hogs has risen in the last three months from 41 cents per pound to 52 cents per pound.

Prices farmers met to pay expenses, meanwhile rose six-tenths of a percent in August. Higher feed costs were mainly to blame, with those off setting price declines for feeder cattle and calves.

According to USDA records, the price index gain from July to August was the sharpest since it rose 6.3 percent from June to July in 1980.

Although the cotton crop has not been harvested yet, due to the drought, production is expected to be down 50-60 percent, stated Soil and Water Conservation Director Van Mills.

Mitchell County Agent Bob Benson stated that he feels that farmers in the county will be fortunate to yield 20,000 bales as compared to 27,000 bales last year. This compares to 83,000 bales produced in 1979.

Benson also stated that because of the recent dry hot weather, acreage was down to 45,000 acres. This compares to 80,000 acres in 1979. Over the past six years, an average of 40,000 bales of cotton have been produced in Mitchell County, said Benson.

As far as the footcrops, USDA department economists in Washington said a number of times that the reduced crop situation will not result in commodity shortages or in significantly higher food prices for consumers.

Food prices this year are expected to rise two to four percent, the smallest annual increase since 1967.

Large doses of Vitamin B-6 can harm your body

Taking large doses of vitamin B-6 can increase your body's need for the vitamin or even poison your nervous system, says nutritionist Marilyn Haggard.

The USDA's recommended daily intake for vitamin B-6 is 2 to 4 milligrams, but some people are taking 50 to 500 milligram "megadoses" of the vitamin, explains Haggard, a specialist with the Texas A&M University System's Agricultural Extension Service.

"Nutritionists have known for some time that vitamin B-6 is toxic at 200 milligrams per day," Haggard says, "and a study published in the New England Journal of Medicine shows that it can poison the nervous system, causing numbness and loss of coordination in arms and legs."

Other research has shown that when patients are withdrawn from very high doses of vitamin B-6, they require greater than average amounts of the vitamin just to maintain a normal level. In short, large doses of B-6 just increase the body's demand for it, says the specialist.

People often take large doses of vitamin B-6 as a cure for hormonal imbalances. But according to Haggard, there is no evidence showing the vitamin is effective in treating this type of problem.

There's little danger that anyone eating a normal diet would become deficient in vitamin B-6, since it is found in liver, meat, whole grain cereals, and many vegetables.

Some elderly people, pregnant women or women taking oral contraceptives occasionally experience a shortage of vitamin B-6. But a physician should diagnose and treat the problem with appropriate doses of the vitamin, says Haggard.

As with all other vitamins, people should not prescribe vitamin B-6 for themselves, cautions the specialist.
