Young And Hatch Have Record Wheat Field

One of the prettiest sights in the Portales Valley is the Young and Hatch wheat field just above the feed pens.

This wheat was planted on well fertilized ground, with alfalfa last September. Those who claim to know wheat, say that this field will produce 60 bushels to the acre, however it will be cut for hay.

A visit to this wheat field on Wednesday, proved that the wheat was shoulder high, and as thick as possible on the ground. There is also a good stand of thrifty alfalfa, which will give sveral cuttings after the wheat is harvested.

Steinberger Test Below 2700 Feet

On Tuesday afternoon Harry Steinberger stated that the well which he is now drilling 8 miles south and 4 miles east of Portales had reached a depth of over 2700 feet, and that the geology of the well so far had been very encouraging.

This well is contracted to go to a depth of 4500 feet, unless oil or gas in paying quantities is found at a shallower depth.

This well is being drilled on the Amarada lease, and many close to the oil game have expressed their confidence in its becoming a producer.

The drilling crews are working night and day and Mr. Steinberger states that without bad luck, they will probably complete it in July.

Falling Scaffold Injures Workmen

On Wednesday just afternoon the scaffolding being used for the repair of the brick front of the Ross Building on Main street collapsed injuring Wm Kenyon and Robert Forbes, who were laying brick on this building.

The scaffold was heavily loaded with brick and mortar.

Kenyon and Forbes were considerably bruised, but suffered no serious injuries.

Lee Johnston had just passed under the scaffold before it fell.

This is the building, the front of which was wrecked during a wind storm several weeks ago, in which a traveling salesman was seriously injured.

Uncle Ben Pankey Dead At Santa Fe

Santa Fe, Jne 1.—"Uncle Ben" (B. F.) Pankey is dead.

The state land commissioner died at St. Vincent's hospital at midnight Friday after an illness of three weeks.

During the last two weeks he suffered from hemmorages, but physicians attending him were unable to trace their cause. His body will be taken to Topeka, Kansas, for burial.

Until the last week Mr. Pankey had been in good spirits and had occasionally visited his office.

At the last election he led the state ticket, winning over Ira Briscoe, his opponent by more than 16,000 votes. It was his boast that in his various campaigns he had never had a harsh word about an opponent.

Born In Illinois

Mr. Pankey was born in Harrisburg, Ills., Aug. 10, 1861. At the age of 20 he went to Topeka, Kansas, where he lived until 1909 when he moved to New Mexico and bot the San Christobal ranch in the southeastern part of Santa Fe-co.

At one time Mr. Pankey was the largest individual cattle and land owner in the state. He extended the boundaries of the San Christobal ranch, which originally embraced 81,000 acres, until he had 310,000 acres under his control.

Besides his New Mexico holdings he owned ranches in Texas, Colorado and Kansas. His 10,000 acre ranch in Kansas returned him an annual rental of more than $62,000.

He was a member of the constitutional convention of 1910, served as state senator from 1912 to 1916, was elected lieutenant governor in 1918 under O. A. Larrazolo and was elected land commissioner for his first term in 1926. He was reelected in 1928.

Mr. Pankey is survived by his wife and five children, Mrs. Ethel Condit of San Francisco, Mrs. Daisy Robinson of Sandsprings, Oklahoma, Mrs. Flora Miller of Abilene, Kansas, Mrs. Lla Workman of Miami, Arizona and Dana Pankey of Casa Grande, Ariz.

Funeral arrangements will be announced as soon as word is received from his children.

Mr. Pankey is the third land commissioner to die in office. Robert Ervien, the first elected commissioner, died in 1918. Justiano Baca died in 1925. Nels Field is the only elected commissioner who has survived his term of office.

Mr. Pankey was a Mason, a Shriner and belonged to the Baptist church. During the period of his wealth he founded the Santa Fe Baptist church and contributed heavily to the founding of the Montezuma Baptist college.

He has built up this business to such proportions in connection with his broom corn business until today it is one of the leading businesses of this nature in this part of the state.

Mrs. John Mauk Offered Nice Profit On Real Estate

Mrs. John Mauk owns one-third interest in two and one third acres in Oak Cliff, Dallas, Texas, and in 1902 received an offer of $475. for her holdings. She was not interested and did not answer the letter.

On Monday of this week, she received an offer of $44,500.00 for this piece of land. During the past 27 years she has paid in taxes from $1.00 to $4.00 per year.

As real estate values have increased in Oak Cliff, they are increasing all over the west. Portales realty owners will in future years realize a handsome profit on their investments.

Dallas now claims a population of 300,000, and the Chamber of Commerce budget for this year is far advertising along, $260,000.

Opportunities are as great in Portales as in Dallas, and yet the Chamber of Commerce has difficulty in raising a budget of $3600.00 to $4,000. Could a program of advertising be carried out during the next five years costing the citizenship $10,000 annually, Portales would make a city of 10,000 people.

Portales real estate values are low today, but they are steadily increasing and property of a desirable location will more than double in value within the next three years.

Edith Wheeler had her tonsils removed Wednesday morning.

Pickwick Driver States That He Did Not Hit Truck

The driver of the Pickwick stage which was reported as running into the trailer of Hobbs behind a auto last week, stated that he did not hit the trailer, but for a mile or more ran behind the trailer at a speed of 15 miles per hour, and that the hog trailer was in the middle of the road. In attempting to pass, he had to take the ditch with the off wheels, and as he passed two feet from the hog trailer, the driver of the car evidently became excited, and the stage passengers, report that his car swung out in the ditch turning over with the trailer on top.

The News publishes this statement in justice to the driver of the Pickwick, as it endeavors to treat all with fairness.

As to the facts in the case, the News knows nothing about it and reported the accident as given.

Last week's issue of the Portales Valley News was edited by the Class in Journalism of the Portales High School, under the direction of the class instructor, P. M. Ball[illegible]. The class was responsible for the entire contents of the paper, except a few news stories on the front page. The issue contained a considerable quantity of live local news items of general interest. All of the work was very creditable to the class. It portrayed the natural ability of the students, together with the advantages brought about by having a qualified instructor in journalism as a member of the school faculty.—M[illegible].

PAPER TOWELS

A salesman was in the office yesterday trying to sell us paper towels. Paper towels are now offered as the modern towel. We recall when we were learning the rudiments of the printing business some 30 years ago, paper towels were in common use. When one washed his hands as it is necessary to do many time a day in the printing business, he took a paper from the exchange pile and proceded to dry his hands. As we recall it they worked pretty good when one got used to it. The idea in using paper towels those days was economy. It saved the first cost o fthe towels and the frequent laundry bills. Modern printers don't know much about the rigid economy necessary in the earlier days of the printing business in this section. The prevailing type of soap was the well known odoriferous, Grandpa's Wonder.—Claude News.

In the early days of the editors newspaper experience, the office towel, which was used month after month, ntil one day, a visitor to the office left the door open and the wind blew the towel down, breaking it into pieces like glass. The paper towel has now taken the place of the official towel and when an old time printer blows in, he feels at a loss caused by the absence of his old friend.

MORE FATALITIES FROM AUTO IN 1928 THAN FROM WORLD WAR

There were 96,000 accidental deaths in the United States last year. When one thinks that the armies lost in action and deaths from wounds during the world war fewer men than were killed accidentally in one year in this country two. See what a terrible loss there is through accidents. We lost by death in the world war, according to the official figures of the government, 50,510 men. The not mortally wounded numbered 182,674.

The automobile is the worst destroyer of human life in this country, other than disease, for out of the total of 96,000 accidental deaths, 27,500 came through the automobile. We hear much of the hazards of fling but only 368 did in the entire year of 1928 through flying accidents.

The railroads have pretty nearly made travel by rail one of the safest things that one can do. Today it is safer than traveling any other way and safer than walking the streets. In 1927 only 102 passengers on railroads were killed and that year more than 840 million passengers were caried on the American railroads. We might also note that there are now fewer miles of railroads operated in the United States than in 1913.

OLD DOBBIN NOW STAGING A COMEBACK

Has the automobile reached its climax?

This thought is brought out by the fact that high society is again turning to the horse as the fashionable means of conveyance. In the cities the society ladies are going in for horseback riding, and this fad has now reached Amarillo, and the Amarillo Riding Club has been organized.

The horse in ages past was deemed the true friend of man, and the thoroughbred was ever a thing of beauty and admired wherever it appeared upon the streets of the city or upon the nations highways.

In recent years the mad rush for speed has developed the motor car, and the horse has been placed in the background.

Now that society has deemed that it is the correct thing for the social leaders to be seen mounted the horse is coming back into general use.

It is true that the horse will never take the place of the automobile for long distance trips, but for recreation it will soon be as popular as in the days before the automobile was dreamed of.

No motor equipment has ever inspired the public as did the old fire horses rushing to the conflagation. No red blooded man or woman has ever witnessed a race of thoroughbreds without being carried out of their seats throwing their hats into the air and rooting for their favorite.

Horse back riding is one of the greatest sports for the promotion of health, and with society adopting this fad and with the increase in dude ranches, old dobbin will soon win his place in the hearts of the public.

PURE SEED ASSURED TO STATE FARMERS

The New Mexico Crop Improvement Association has been accepted as a member of the International Crop Improvement Assocaition, making the 24th state and Canadian provincial seed association to b accepted for membership in the International, says G. R. Quesenberry of the New Mexico Agricultural College.

The International standards for seed certification, as adjusted to meet New Mexico conditions, will be used in future for certifying New Mexico crops. Thus, seed which meets New Mexico requirements will be accepted as certified in other states having certifying bodies. The New Mexico Crop Improvement Association is only authorized certifying organization in the State.

During 1929 only seed from standard field crops of known adaptability and high germination will be certified. There has been great need for this type of work in New Mexico for many never been fully appreciated until recently, when inferior seed from adjacent states began to be dumped into New Mexico, due to the stringent laws of these states which prevented the sale of this inferior seed at home.

In the future all certified seed will carry a seal and tag showing the variety, strain, germination, name of growers and locality in which the seed was grown. This should prove of real service to all farmers who are interested in knowing the quality and origin of their seed, and there will be no opportunity for misrepersentation.

Society Annex

(By The Boss.)

The other day Ezra Watts introduced the editor of the News as the official liar of Portales. He plead guilty, as he would have been convicted anyway, as he has never said anything but complimentary to Ezra.

Fishing season is on, and the editor has the fever, and leaves the middle of this week for Hot Springs and the Elephant Butte Dam, where he expects to catch a whale. Bob Yoacham is making the trip with him, so every catch will be vouched for.

Many flags were displayed on Memorial day morning flying at full mast.

Nothing is so good but that it could have been better except a nice brown fish hot from the frying pan.

The editor was presented with a nice lot of roasted peanuts last Thursday by O. S. Strickland. The boss was busy and the force came near eating them up before he got a taste.

This was sprung on the writer at Lovington recently. How to make an [illegible] We bit and were told to tell him a joke in his youth.

So many of our customers are going fishing that it is hard to find them in time to get ad copy for the paper. Some weeks it looks like the whole town has gone fishing.

Politicans are beginning to elect a governor and a United States Senator. Senator Bratton will go back to the Senate, and as to who will be Governor, there are many names that have not yet been mentioned that would make excellent executives.

Sam Seay played a dirty trick on the Chamber of Commerce by resigning. Wonder if he wants to be Governor?

Lindy is married and for the past week kept the press guessing where he was at. He is as elusive as the Irishman's flea.

Some of the ladies at Roebuck are interested in having some club work in their community. By the ladies present at the meeting last Monday it was decided to meet with the girls. The girls and agent will give a demonstration on salads and salad dressings at the next meeting for the women.

An all day meeting of the Portales Springs group met at the home of Mrs. Robinson of Portales. A busy day was spent working and the agent heard rumors of baked chicken and saw an ice cream freezer being vigorously operated. A trip to Elida made it impossible to check up to see what was done with it.

At Perry the fartherest away center (in th panhandle of the county) it was decided that the women would meet the same day the girl's club did and would carry on a miscellaneous program until Fall. The program follows:

July—Canning demonstration.

August—Frozen desserts. Girls Club achievement day.

September—Poultry.

October—Millinery.

November—Sewing machine. Care and use.

They will meet the third Friday of each month at the school house. Mrs. R. L. Follis is chairman, Mrs. Bertha Watson, vice-chairman, Mrs. Leta Black, secy.

Meetings at Elida will be discontinued during the summer. The work to be taken up in the Fall. Their days will be given to Pleasant Valley, Southeast of Elida and Hi-way Girls' club.

Does it seem possible that 300,000 boys and girls are expected to attend the Third National 4-H Club camp on June 22nd, 1929. Do you want to attend? If so listen in on your radio from 8 to 9, Mountain time, on Saturday June 22nd and hear the entire program.

The Dora Sewing Club met at the home of Luna Mae Preston Wednesday, May 15. The leader was unable to meet with us so the older club members helped the new members in their work. We finished hemming our towels and several of the girls patched a garment with a hemmed stitch. There were eleven girls and one visitor present.

The D. S. C. (Dora) met with Florence Chandler Wednesday May 29th. Mrs. Smith local leader and Miss Wetzel were present. Averill Richards was elected as secretary to take the place of Luna Mae Preston who is going away to school. The girls learned to make the stocking darn and started their sewing and shoe bags. It was voted to meet every Wednesday instead of twice a month. The meetings will be as follows:

June 5. Home of Averill Richards.

June 12. Home of Ruby Mae Franks.

June 17. Home of Elzada Smith.

July 3, 4. Home of Sarah Louise Creighton.

Eleven members and six visitors were present.

The Perry 4-H Club held the first meeting on Monday May 20th and the second on Friday May 31. Bernadine Dryden was chosen as president. Lela Holley, vice-pres. Alpha Hill, secy., and Mrs. Lillian McWilliams will be our leader. We have all learned the hemming, machine and over casting stitches and will finish our towels and bags or book covers, by the next time Miss Wetzel comes. The girls meet with the leader next Friday.

The first meeting o fthe Roebuck Cooking Club met at the home of the leader Mrs. Harding on Monday the 27th. Two meetings a month will be held. At the next meeting with the agent on June 17 the girls will give a salad demonstration for the mothers, under the agent's direction.

Word has just been received from Mrs. Stroud, leader of the Club at Richland that six new members were added to the roll of canning and sewing clubs at the meeting held at Mrs. Partin's Wednesday, May 29th. Splendid!

Remember girls it is not how many members the club has, but how many finish the project.

HONORS AGAIN EXTENDED TO PORTALES GIRL

Miss Delora Meiner, daughter of our townspeople Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Meiner who will graduate Monday June 17th from the Home Economics Department of the University of Minnesota at Minneapolis has the third time been honored with the Caleb Daerr scholarship.

Miss Meiner has had many honors conferred upon her during her four years at the University, having been awarded the Caleb Daerr scholarship in both her sophomore and junior years, having been a member of the honorary Home Economics Organization for the ten outstanding senior girls, a member of the honorary organization for senior women in education, a vice-president of the association.

Agricultural students council. Vice-president of the All Students Council, president of the "Punchinello Players" Agriculture Dramatics Society, and awarded the Caleb Daerr scholarship in her senior year, this last having been awarded her at Recognition Assembly when the Dean of the University read the following tribute to Miss Meiners College activities.

To Dolores Meiner:

"About four years ago a girl came from a far off state to take home economics. Her freshman year was far from scholastic success unless we consider that he found in her almot disastrous experiences a real sense of values and a new determination to make the most of the remaining college course. She is now completing that course in a highly creditable manner. Throughout her college course she has contributed in an outstanding manner to the activities of the student body to which she belonged. She has occupied many responsible positions and has served faithfully and efficiently. She was largely responsible for the survival of Punchinello in its darkest period. She has been steadfactly loyal when recognition normally given was denied to her. To the students Council and to the honor system she has given most effective service. She occupies today the highest student office open to girls of this college. She has made real sacrifices to do these things and always she has done them cheerfully. And she has earned almost her entire way through college. She has been one outstanding student citizen,

The faculty committee regrets that a more fiting award is not available to express our appreciation of your real achievement."

E. M. Freeman, Dean.

Miss Meiner has accepted a position as Home Economics Instructor in the High School at Lanesboro, Minn. She plans to arrive in Portales about June 20th for a two months visit with her family and friends before entering upon her duties at Lanesboro.

Mr. and Mrs. Meiner are to be congratulated upon having such a daughter as Miss Meiner and our little city is proud to have her call Portales home.

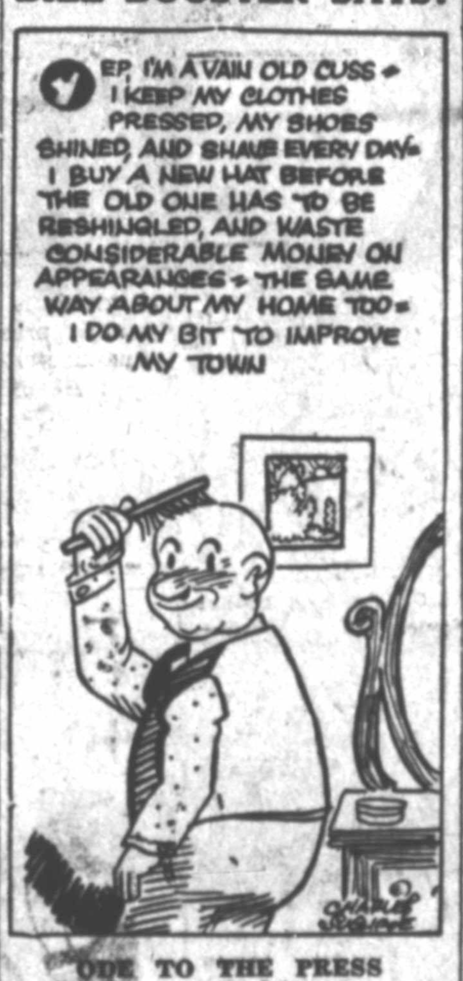
Few Readers Who Do Not Enjoy Pictures

There is a Chinese proverb, the purport of which is: "One picture is worth a thousand words," says Rear Admiral Snow in the Antiquarian Magazine. A reason for this saying, centuries old, may lie in the fact that the written language of the Chinese people, though truly pictorial, can only be mastered by prodigious exercise of the memory. However out of perspective are their drawings and pictures, it is much easier to gain an idea of a situation from one of their pictures than it is to commit to memory the Chinese ideographs used to describe the episode.

The oriental people are not, however, alone in their estimation of the value of illustrations as a means of quickly conveying information. Any occidental who has observed at all carefully the action of children upon picking up a new book, or running through a favorite old one, must have remarked their inclination, first and last, is to look through the pages and, from the pictures scanned with concentrated attention, fix in their minds the persons, places and incidents about which they are going to read.

We are often told that "grownups" are very much like children wearing a mask. In looking at pictures or old prints we older people do gain useful information and experience much pleasure; we are like children.

BILL BOOSTER SAYS:



YEP, I'M A VAIN OLD CUSS – I KEEP MY CLOTHES PRESSED, MY SHOES SHINED, AND SHAVE EVERY DAY – I BUY A NEW HAT BEFORE THE OLD ONE HAS TO BE RESHINGLED, AND WASTE CONSIDERABLE MONEY ON APPEARANCES – THE SAME WAY ABOUT MY HOME TOO – I DO MY BIT TO IMPROVE MY TOWN

ODE TO THE PRESS

Long slumbered the world in the darkness of Error,
And Ignorance brooded o'er Earth like a pall;
To the Mitre and Crown men
Though galling the bondage and bitter the thrall;
When a voice like the Earthquake's revealed the dishonor—
A flash like the lightening unleashed every eye,
And o'er hill-top and glen floated Liberty's banner,
While round it men gathered to conquer or die.
'Twas the voice of the Press—on the startled ear breaking
In giant-born prowess, like Pallas of old;
'Twas the flash of Intelligence, gloriosly waking
A glow on the cheek of the noble and bold; [redacted]
And Tyranny's minons, oerawed and affrighted,
Sought a lasting retreat with the cloister and cowl;
And the spells which bound nations in ages benighted
Were cast to the haunts of the bat and the owl.
Then hail to the Press! Chosen guardian of Freedom!
Strong Sword-Arm of Justice! bright Sunbeams of Truth!
We pledge to her cause (and she she has but to need them.
The strength of our Manhood, the fire of our Youth,
Should Despot e'er dare to impede her free soaring,
Or Bigot to fetter her flight with his chain,
We swear that the earth shall close o'er or deploring
Or view her in gladness and freedom again.
But no! To the day-dawn of Knowledge and glory
A far brighter noontide refulgence succeeds;
And our Art shall embalm, through the ages, in story,
Her champion who triumphs—her martyr who bleeds;
And proudly our sons shall recall their devotion,
While millions shall listen, to honor and bless
Till there bursts a response from the heart's strong emotion
And the earth echoes deep with "Long Life to the Press."

CREAM PRODUCERS

The demand for Judigold Butter is increasing every day.

Support the few local industries you now have and they will furnish you with the best market you can ever hope to get. Their success will also encourage more industries coming to your community.

Any Agricultural community needs factories to manufacture what it produces. Freight and transportation rates are and will be too high to ship and reship what you produce and still leave a fair return for the producer.

We need more cream. We want your undivided support. We are equipped to give you much better service than you are used to getting.

Of course we always pay the top market price for cream and eggs.

Medical Sermonettes

By W. E. LEONARD, M. D.

(©, 1927, by Western Newspaper Union.)

"An apple a day keeps the doctor away." This proverb comes down through the generations and has a valuable lesson for everyone. So much has been written on diet of late years that most people have learned the value of fruit to supplement all foods. Apples alone have been shown to be insufficient for nourishment, but the malic acid they contain is a distinct aid to digestion at any time. They should be eaten skin and all, even to the end that "there ain't going to be no core," for thus do they increase the "roughage" in the intestinal canal and add necessary bulk to the stools. Pears, peaches, plums and all the citrus fruits do the same but are somewhat more watery. As evidence of the need of fruit, it is astonishing how much ripe fruit fresh from the orchard, one can eat, without regard to meal times and with no bad effects. If juicy well-cooked vegetables are also added to the heartier articles of the regular meals, together with salads, an ideal balancing of food and excellent health result. So-called "green things" on the table are as essential to humans as grass to cattle.

Speaking of baths, the other day the missus ordered us to take a bath before supper, after coming out of the bath tub, she was notified that all were ready to eat, when she pulled a hot one, by replying "we are not going to have supper tonight.' What do you think of that, and it was not Saturday night either.

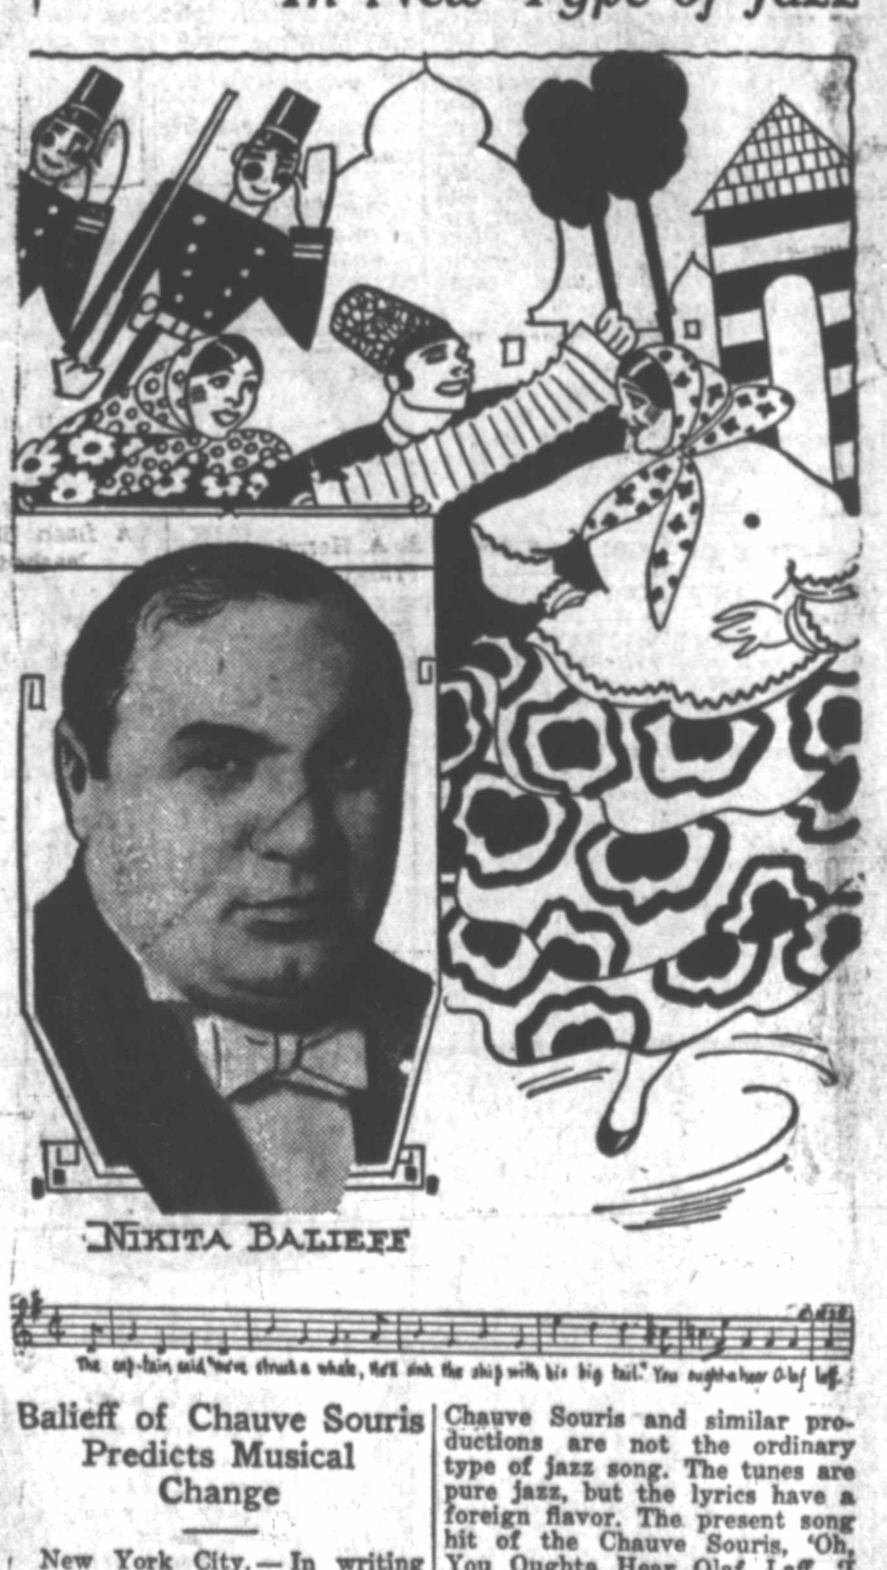
Foreign Flavored Lyric Results In New Type of Jazz



NIKITA BALIEFF
The cap-tain said 'we've struck a whale, He'll sink the ship with his big tail.' You ought-a hear O-laf laff.

Balieff of Chauve Souris Predicts Musical Change

New York City.—In writing modern American music for such foreign productions as the Chauve Souris are our musicians developing a new type of music?

"No matter what part of the world we play in, we find it wise, oh very wise, to have an American song as the song hit of the show," declares Nikita Balieff of the Chauve Souris. "It would seem that whether people understand music or not, they can always understand American jazz. It is the easiest to memorize, and has the catchiest tune.

"But the hit songs American composers have supplied for the Chauve Souris and similar productions are not the ordinary type of jazz song. The tunes are pure jazz, but the lyrics have a foreign flavor. The present song hit of the Chauve Souris, 'Oh, You Oughta Hear Olaf Laff, 'I Miss My Swiss' and 'Oh Katharina,' are examples of the blending of jazz tunes and lyrics suitable for foreign interpretation.

"That a distinctly new type of modern music will eventually result from this marriage of American rhythm with foreign lyrics is predicted by music critics."

Morris Gest who brought the Chauve Souris to this country and has contributed so much to the American stage is perhaps on the way to contribute as much to American music for this new type of music has been developed under his guidance

The entrance of Lorenzo E. Anderson and company of St. Louis and J. G. White and company of New York Bankers into Eastern New Mexico should be a very decided asset to the financial family engaged in the development of this rich territory and their representatives, Messers. Kauffman and Adkins are very favorably impressed with conditions as they are at this time.

The transfer sale does not, in any way affect the management or policies of Joyce-Pruit company which is one of the oldest firms in the eastern New Mexico but will perhaps perpetuate its good name and guarantee the continuance of its aid in the development of this section.
