THE HIGHWAY USER'S TAX DOLLAR

- VITAL QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
- Q. How much did highway users pay the State in taxes for 1937?

A. $24,114,640.
 - Q. How much did they pay in 1938?

A. $27,312,794.
 - Q. How much was spent by the State Highway Department in building and maintaining roads in the years 1930 and 1937?

A. In 1930—$3,111,077; In 1937—$3,150,217.
 - Q. If the highway users paid over $20,000,000 more taxes in 1938 than in 1930 and about $20,000,000 more spent on roads, what's the answer?

A. Relief to counties and road districts.
 - Q. How were they relieved?

A. Under the 1937 Bond Assumption Act, Counties and Road Districts were relieved of some $12,000,000 principal debt which had been coming from annual $200,000 per year.
 - Q. How much of the highway user tax money is now going into construction and maintenance of a state system of roads?

A. Less than 4%.

- Q. How much is going to counties?

A. 10% for their road and bridge funds for which they give an average of 100 and 17% more in the Bond Assumption Fund or a total of 27% goes directly in relief of all water taxpayers on road improvements in the counties.
- Q. Where does the other 15% go?

A. 17% goes in the Available School Fund, thus relieving County of water taxpayers and 2% in the rest of salaries and administration.
- Q. 11% of the Highway User's Tax dollar that is really used to relieve the state system of water taxpayers, is that right?

A. Yes.
- Q. How much of all Travel in Texas is on County Road?

A. Less than 2%.
- Q. How many miles of road are there on the State System?

A. About 24,000 miles.
- Q. At the present rate, how long will it take to modernize and surface the state system and 2% of the state system?

A. About 14 years.
- Q. Does that estimate take into account obsolescence or need for reconstruction?

A. No.
- Q. Shouldn't more than 4% of the tax money paid by motorists go into the construction and maintenance of a modern system of roads?

A. Yes, if Texas is going to have a road system to meet its needs as a growing state.
- Q. How much of the county bond assumption plan pending in the Legislature proposed?

A. It proposes that the State assume $20,000,000 outstanding indebtedness on county road bonds which are not a part of the state highway system.
- Q. Has the State ever compensated the counties in the amount of approximately $20,000,000 on roads that were taken into the state highway system?

A. No, but the State is compensating the counties in the amount of approximately $20,000,000 on roads that were taken into the state highway system.
- Q. Where does the State get the money to provide this compensation?

A. From its 6¢ per gallon state gasoline tax.
- Q. Do the counties now contribute to state highways?

A. Only the night-horse.
- Q. Would the passage of the county bond assumption bill relieve the average of water taxpayers?

A. No. The average of water taxpayers also is the average gasoline taxpayer. Therefore, only the larger property owners would be a chance to benefit and then only if the counties vote on more bonds.
- Q. Who would benefit from state assumption of these debts from the counties?

A. The small bond municipalities and a few over-burdened counties.
- Q. What does the passage of this legislation establish a dangerous precedent?

A. Yes, it would be the opening wedge to saddle all local debt on the State.
- Q. If the State does not assume the counties' debts, could state road construction be speeded up?

A. Yes, because 10% of the state gasoline tax now produces more than enough to build some of the roads the counties are unable to build.
- Q. Would that benefit the counties as well as the State?

A. Yes, the State could build some of the roads the counties are unable to build more quickly and thus create employment as well as increased property values.

Teachers Organize

Miss Verma Harris Treasurer of Panhandle Organization for English Teachers

Plans for a permanent Northwest Texas English association were made at the Educational Conference which convened at Canyon on March 10-11. Miss Verma Harris, head of the English department of the Perryton high school, was elected treasurer of this association.

Other officers are Miss Ella Mae Hastings, head of the English department at LeFors, president; Mrs. Alice McDavid, Amarillo, vice-president; Miss Angie Boyles, Berger, secretary; Miss Ineva Hendrick, Claremont, member-at-large.

The purpose of this new organization is to help the English teachers of the Panhandle work out many of the problems which confront them in their regular classroom work. It is hoped that through the cooperation of teachers and good speakers that the English work may be made more unified and standard.

Since the conference, composed of twenty-six counties, is so large, it was deemed advisable to divide it into four divisions; namely, District A, District B, District C and District D. Each division is to have a separate executive committee.

Perryton is in District B, which is composed of Lipscomb, Hutchinson, Ochiltree, Carson, Gray, Wheeler, Roberts and Hemphill counties. The officers are: Eugene Mann, Pampa, chairman; Miss Odessa Howell, White Deer, vice chairman.

JUST HERE and THERE

AS IT IS—Now that we have with us the legal sale of whiskey and the illegal sale of high priced beer, from which only the law violating bootlegger reaps a revenue, it occurs to my simple mind that the voters of Ochiltree county could improve matters considerably by legalizing the sale of 3.2 beer. Legal beer could be sold at one-half the price and yield a revenue to city, county and state. It is a well known fact that much money is going to towns where the beverage is sold legally at a reasonable price, not only for beer, but for things to eat, wear, and use. Beer can, and should be sold and used with as much dignity as many other things by respecting morals, law and order.—D. H. BULLER

We are publishing the above communication from Mr. Buller in this column, not that we are for or against the legal sale of beer in Ochiltree county but for the fact that this is a very controversial question and as such deserves newspaper consideration with the privilege of both sides to offer their views.

Mr Buller was a licensed beer dealer in Perryton when sale of beer was legal and from what we can learn, he abided strictly to the letter of the law and conducted his store above reproach. In fact, we have never heard one word of criticism concerning the manner in which he sold beer. But there were others that did not observe the law and ran places where the sale of beer was only a front for illegal hard liquor sales, gambling, and other enterprises that are often the "stock in trade" of such joints.

Rev. Yarborough states that new Methodist Hymnals have been ordered for the meeting and it is an inspiration to hear the choir sing the great hymns of the church. During the first week of the meeting, services will be held only in the evenings, beginning at 7:45.

FIND MAMMAL BONES ON COUNTY RANCHES

A thigh bone and a rib from a mammal, apparently dating back to the prehistoric age was unearthed on the Meredith ranch by Lloyd Davis and crew conducting a mineral survey in Ochiltree county Friday, March 17. The thigh bone was three feet long, with a diameter of approximately 17 inches at the joint. Only a portion of a rib bone was found, but the size indicated that it was part of the huge body.

A skeleton of a turtle two and one-half feet in circumference was found by the survey crew on the Johnson-Hogland ranch on Palo Duro creek recently. The height of the turtle was estimated at one and one-half feet. The bones could not be moved because of their extreme age.

Weaver Brothers and Elviry Go To Town In Hilarious Hit At Ellis March 30-31

The Weaver Brothers and Elviry, stars of the Republic Picture "Down in Arkansas," coming to the Ellis Theatre, Thursday and Friday, March 30-31, have been on the stage as a team for 23 years. Their Arkansas Traveller act is famous from Canada to Mexico, all over the United States.

Back in 1915 they started on a small town circuit, playing through the middle west. Later they went on the Orpheum Circuit, and travelled the entire country. Leon, who plays the Arkansas Traveller, developed the act of playing an ordinary saw. He plays the entire melody of "Home Sweet Home" by striking the saw only four times.

In "Down in Arkansas" the famous trio is seen as hill-billies in the mountains of Arkansas. Their antics are causing audiences to say it is one of the most hilarious musicals to come out of Hollywood in many seasons.

An excellent supporting cast includes Pinky Tomlin, Ralph Byrd, June Storey, Berton Churchill, "Big Boy" Williams, Gertrude Green, Alan Bridge, Chester Cunnels, and many others.

"Down in Arkansas" is from a screen play by the McGowan Brothers, Dorrel and Stuart, and was directed by Nick Grinde.

Armand Schaefer was the Associate Producer.

Ready For Action

'Wife, Husband and Friend' Is Delirious Comedy Drama

Loretta Young and Warner Baxter romp through a blithesome, blissful, catch-as-catch-can romance in "Wife, Husband and Friend," the 20th Century-Fox comedy, which shows at the Ellis Theatre, Thursday and Friday, March 28-29.

The film, which marks the second appearance of Loretta and Warner as a co-starring team, is based on the novel by James M. Cain, Associate Producer Nunnally Johnson wrote the screen play.

The sparkling story casts Loretta as a gay, beautiful young wife and Baxter is her debonair and ardent husband.

All is bliss until Loretta's friend and music teacher, Cesar Romero, convinces her she can and should sing. She does, to hubby Warner's dismay. Then he finds a friend in need in a beautiful opera singer, played by Binnie Barnes. Because she convinces him that he can sing—and would if only to turn the tables on friend wife.

Things get madder and madder from this point on, until the perfect marriage is almost on the altar of music. But all ends well in one of the funniest climaxes the screen has ever shown.

It was in answer to a barrage of fan mail received at the studio after the release of "Wife, Doctor and Nurse," that Darryl F. Zanuck, production head of 20th Century-Fox, decided to reunite Loretta and Warner in another film.

Gregory Ratoff was elected to handle the megaphone on the picture, for the famous director boasts the perfect sense of timing necessary to transporting the sparkling comedy to the screen.

The fine supporting cast is headed by Binnie Barnes, Cesar Romero, George Barbier, J. Edward Bromberg, Eugene Pallette and Helen Westley.

Ronald Reagan had one objection to becoming a star in the Warner Bros. picture series starting with "Secret Service of the Air," which is showing Saturday at the Ellis Theatre. Coaches Name All-America Basketball Team for 1939

BY IRVING DEN
BASKETBALL has just about made its bow for 1939 but before it fades completely we present the All-America team as picked by a poll of coaches throughout the country.

There was talent aplenty for each position, but choosing an all-star center was especially difficult, where three or four pivot men were exceptional to say the least.

The first five is an all-senior outfit, with plenty of experience and scoring punch.

Laddie Gale, six-foot, four-inch Oregon sharpshooter, was easily the class of the Pacific coast. He was the leading scorer in the Coast Conference. At the forward post is Irving Torloff, pacemaker for Long Island's classy underclassmen club.

To pick Dehner of Illinois goes to the center position. Dehner, six feet three, is regarded as the outstanding center in Illinois history. He wound up with 241 points for the season—a new Illinois individual record.

First team guards are Ernie Andres of Indiana, one of the highest-scoring guards in the Big Ten, and Wile Knutz, the dead shot from Loyola of Chicago who averaged 16 points a game. Both are an even six feet, are great floor men and ball handlers.

PRESSING closely on the first five were Ralph Vaughn of Southern California and Jimmy Hull, Ohio State, at forwards; Bob Callahan, Detroit University, center; and Jim Wilcoxson, Colorado, and Bernie Opper, Kentucky, at the guards.

Honorable mention:
Forwards—H. R. G. Dartmouth; Ne. DePaul; Risks, Notre Dame; McNatt, Oklahoma; Brinker, Army; Chuckovits, Toledo; Hassmiller, Fortham;

Pick Dehner . . . Illinois star who gained pivot position.

Watts, Utah; Creasy, Baylor; Walker, Wake Forest; Schunck, Bradley Tech.
Centers—Novak, Loyola of Chicago; McFadden, Clemson; Prather, Alabama; Ogilvie, California; Ahlquist, Utah; Anderson, Purdue; Jaworski, Rhode Island.
Guards—Garfinkle, St. Johns; Johannsen, Oregon; Vaughn, Baylor; Labalger, Missouri; Maki, Minnesota; Zeigenfus, Washington.

OPERETTA ON FRIDAY NIGHT

BOYS AND GIRLS GLEE CLUBS APPEAR IN MUSICAL COMEDY IN AUDITORIUM ON MARCH 24

The boys and girls Glee Clubs with O. A. Bush and Mrs. A. P. McCelvey in charge, are presenting an operetta entitled, "Crocodile Island." It contains very beautiful scenery, costumes, and lighting effects.

The setting is a very beautiful tropical island. Happiness on "Crocodile Island" would be complete if it were not for the disturbing presence of the guardian of the sacred crocodiles, who plots to throw the king and the chamberlain to the crocodiles. American tourists arrive and endeavor to save the ruler's life. Many difficulties arise, but you will see how it all comes out the night of the operetta.

Attention! King Harold Witt is monarch of Crocodile Island. Marvin Walker is a Nitwit, the royal chamberlain.

That evil Charles Linville is a wily old wizard who plots against the ruler's life.
Look, look! There go the King's "darling" daughters, Marjorie Yarborough and Virginia Hoshland.

Imagine Helen Doerrrie as a negro mama, the royal heirloom!
Just count the pills Dr. Henry LaMaster, a gem collector, swallows!

Neva Morris, a trained nurse, does her dead level best to guard his medicine case.
Billie Keim, an old maid, knows her own mind, as usual.

Her nephew, Bob Lawrence, and his friend, John Huston, seem to find an attraction on "Crocodile Island."

"Crocodile Island" is a musical comedy in two acts. It is good wholesome entertainment in the highest degree! On Friday night, March 24, this operetta will be given. There will be a small admission. Everyone who comes will enjoy it immensely.

TIPS ON MANNERS

Correct table manners are really so simple and so often important as a guide to the character of the individual that every man and woman owes it to himself to acquire them.

After seating yourself at the table, unfold your napkin and place it across your knees. Do not shake it out as though you were trying to flag a train, or tuck it under your collar, tie it around your neck, or anchor it under your belt. After the meal, place your napkin in loosely gathered folds beside your plate.

Food is placed in the mouth with the fork. Eat all the food on the large plate with the fork—never with a knife or spoon. Remember use a fork as a fork and not as a pitchfork or shovel.

The knife is used to cut food and to butter your bread, not to eat with. You would expect this of a sword-swallower,—but not of a dinner guest.

Spoons are used for soup, fruit cocktails, coffee and some desserts. A good rule to remember is never to eat with a spoon those foods which can be eaten with a fork.

You may think you are more comfortable if you eat with your elbows out at your sides like a duck under full sail. If you do you are nothing but a menace. The place for elbows is hugging your ribs. And don't lean on one elbow and eat with the other hand. You're supposed to do your sleeping in bed.

And last but not least take a lesson from the cow—four stomachs to fill, yet she never hurries. So above all things take your time while eating.

INTERNATIONAL Sunday School Lesson

The Meaning of Christ's Sufferings

The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for March 26. Text: I Peter 1:17-23; 2:20-25

THROUGH the suffering and death of his Master, Peter came to see more deeply into God's purposes and into the meaning of life, and in his messages of comfort and inspiration to the disciples the theme of suffering occupies an important place.

Here he is interpreting for the early disciples the meaning of Christ's sufferings and death. He points out that the redemption of these Christians has not come easily, but it has been bought with a price, and above all with the precious blood of the crucified Christ.

But this crucified Christ has risen again. He is a living Lord, and He has the power to purify the souls of those who believe in Him and who seek the way of life in obedience to the truth and in unfeigned love of the brethren.

Here again he returns to the theme in the last lesson, suggesting that if man suffers it is better that he should suffer for well-doing than for evil-doing. What glory is there in a man's enduring a suffering patiently if he has sinned and brought that suffering upon himself? But where a man is called, following the example of Jesus Himself, to witness to God's grace through suffering, that is a very different thing.

PERHAPS as we study this lesson today we ought to safeguard ourselves against the idea that God inflicts needless suffering upon anyone. In fact we ought to beware of assuming too readily that God is the author of pain and suffering. We live in a scientific age, and we understand the causes of pain and suffering as these were not understood in Peter's day.

Yet we must recognize that there is a mystery of pain and suffering that science has by no means solved. It is undoubtedly true that the innocent suffer with the guilty and for the guilty, and in their lives the sins of their parents.

We cannot get away from these strange facts and mysteries of life, and as long as this mystery and fact of suffering is present with us, there will be great need of such teachings as Peter has given in these recent lessons and as the whole New Testament gives us. There is a helpful discipline and a true blessedness for those who can meet their sufferings in the spirit of faith and trust, praying for courage and for peace and patience.

THE thoughtless person or the person of materialistic mind may scoff at these things, but the fact is that a great beauty of living has attached to lives that have been lived in the midst of pain and hardships. From such lives there has often come such inspiration and encouragement to others that one might well believe that there are those who are called of God to minister in that way.

In any case, there is strength of mind and soul, as well as great peace and comfort, when we can meet whatever life brings to us day after day with the courage and faith of the Christian.

A Hat That Hides

Frankly, fellows, this picture is designed to make you look at the hat instead of the model. Since top-pieces like these are tops for spring, you might as well get used to the idea. The wide brim hides milady's face—except from the front. Of white woven straw, the hat features a pyramid crown, cupped at the peak. It is banded with rope strands of multi-colored felt, which tie at the back and dangle from the knot.

Advertise and Keep Alive!

Do you load it at the muzzle
When you want a shot or two?
Do you wind it with a watch key
How'd you like to hop a horse car
Like your father used to do?
Like you did long years ago?
Don't an auto beat an ox cart?
Well, I rather reckon so.

Do you argue that a sun glass
Beats a gold watch all to smash?
Do you use the same old system
Keepin' books and countin' cash?
Do you trim a goose quill neatly?
When you want the ink to flow?
Don't you think there's been improvement
In the last decade or so?

Tell us, are you advertising
In the same old foolish way
That your granddad did before you
And persist "It doesn't pay?"
Think the whole world knows your address?
"Cause it hasn't changed in years?"
Wouldn't the paths of such logic
Drive a billygoat to tears?

Just a card is all you care for?
Hidden, lonesome and unread,
Like the sign upon the tombstone
Telling folks that you are dead.
Wake up and take a tonic,
Bunch your hits and make a drive!

PLANS HOME WINDBREAK

MR. AND MRS. G. M. COOPER EXPECT TO PLANT WINDBREAK TO PROTECT ORCHARD SOON

"I expect the trees I am planting to serve as a windbreak for my orchard and the trees and plants I have about the house," stated Mrs. G. M. Cooper of the Missouri Avenue H. D. club. The three rows of trees will be planted on the north side of the farmstead about 200 feet from the house. The planting will be about 300 feet long and there will be a row each of honey locust, chinese elm and desert willow. Mr. and Mrs. Cooper, who live four miles southwest of Perryton have a beautiful country home which was landscaped about twelve years ago. The drive is bordered with chinese elms. Evergreens are planted close about the foundation of the yellow brick house. An English ivy vine covers the fireplace chimney. The entire back yard is enclosed with trees and shrubs and makes a beautiful setting for the lily pool.

An interesting thing about the Cooper yard is the native plants which have been used. There is a row of sumac which has thrived. There are two distinct varieties of cedar which have been transplanted from the breaks. In the lily pool is a type of tall grass resembling the pampas grass which was secured from the Canadian river. Mrs. Cooper has a wide variety of roses and other flowers.

In spite of the grasshoppers and the drouth Mrs. Cooper has found much pleasure in her yard. "We never take a trip unless we bring back some native plant or a rock for our pool," Mrs. Cooper stated.

Each of the Hustlers expects to start 25 baby chicks. The poultry demonstrator, Ardath Wiebe, will hatch and care for enough baby chicks to provide 10 pullets for each member of the family.

Those present for the meeting were: Wanda Bushman, Lois Burger, Eleanor Jennrich, Grace Lee Lawson, Margie Taylor, Pauline Taylor, Mary Jean Epp and Ardath Wiebe. Mrs. W. M. Jennrich volunteered to be a sponsor for the club which is planning to meet regularly throughout the summer.

H. Calliham on March 16.

"Cuttings from plants afflicted with leaf disease always prove disappointing. The best stages of growth for plants used varies with the type of plant desired. Some types root easily at any stage of growth while others can be replanted at certain stages," further remarked Mrs. Martin.

Refreshments were served to guests, Mrs. George Jackson, Jackie Jackson, Mrs. E. D. Knedier and Jackie Calliham. Members, Mesdames Lawrence Ellsey, Bill McLanahan, S. J. Handy, Bill Tandy, Hazel Martin and the hostess.

By the next meeting each girl is to have her apron and dish towel made.

Those present were Marie Deck, Vivian Williams, Beryl Dodson, Mary Francis Crow, Theodan Deck, Lavern Crow, Marie Carlson, Mrs. Jack Dodson and Mrs. Martin.

Hudson "Double-Safe" Hydraulics Patented

Two distinct but co-related braking systems, hydraulics plus mechanical reserve, both controlled by the same foot pedal, is an exclusive feature of Hudson's "Double-Safe" hydraulic brakes for which patent has just been granted by the government Patent Office at Washington, D. C. Photo above is grouped to show the sequential action of the two systems whereby, in the event of failure of the hydraulic system through accident or service neglect, the mechanical reserve system comes automatically into play and applies the rear wheel brakes without requiring any thought or attention of the driver beyond the continued pressure of the same foot brake pedal. Thus it is not necessary for the driver to depend upon the parking or hand brake which constitutes a third braking application in Hudson cars. "Double-Safe" hydraulic brakes have been used in Hudson cars since 1936.

Back Yard Berry Boom Aids Florida 'Farming'

ORANGES, lemons, grapefruit—these members of the citrus family generally spring to mind with the name, Florida. But strawberries have given other fruits a close race during the last winter. In the palm-tree state, strawberries have become big—in size, in profits.

A group of Miami residents are responsible for the berry boom. These city-dwellers are the type who never could completely surrender their love for the good earth—so they went back to farming on a minor basis. Back-yard "farmers," you might call them.

They found that lots—filled with rich, black, fertile soil—could be purchased for from $150 to $200 an acre on the outskirts of the city. They discovered that Florida's winter inhabitants are, for the most part, mighty fond of strawberries. They tested the earth and found it adaptable to strawberry crops. They knew the climate would take care of itself.

Result: a hobby has become a money-making business. The "farmers" cultivate their crops and sell their wares from little substations, alongside the fields. Because of the large number of tourists and passersby, the stands make as psychological a marketplace as a grocery store.

Plants are placed in the ground about the first of October so that they will bloom by the time vacationists have started for the southland. Picking begins about the first of December and continues for from four to six months.

Strawberries for Christmas dinner in Florida? That's commonplace.

Approximately 3000 strawberry plants can be grown to the acre of land. Many of the farms have an inexpensive irrigation system, center unit of which is a pump to feed the water through the area.

The average acre, devoted to strawberries, will bring a gross profit of about $375 the first year. That's rather good, when you consider that the idea was a hobby stunt to start with.

In the Miami market, berries are bringing 25 cents a quart. Some of the more luscious varieties are shipped to northern states. These sell for 50 cents a quart.

The world's largest berry-growing center is also in the south—in the Ponchatoula region of Louisiana. Here recent struggles have developed over the control of the strawberry market.

Perhaps the back-yard "farmers" of Florida have sparked a movement which will bring their state to the fore in the berry business. At least, Florida seems to be developing as a Louisiana rival.

SHOULD FILE FCIC CLAIMS

FARMER SHOULD NOTIFY HIS COUNTY AAA COMMITTEE IMMEDIATELY IN CASE OF WHEAT DAMAGE

COLLEGE STATION—Any Texas wheat grower whose crop is insured for 1939 by the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation should notify his county AAA committee immediately of any damage to winter wheat acreage, so that adjustments may be made as soon as possible.

That is the advice of George Slaughter, chairman of the State Agricultural Conservation Committee, which holds its sessions at Texas A. and M. College.

Slaughter has received notice from E. R. Duke of Amarillo, state crop insurance supervisor, that a farmer who believes his insured wheat crop has been damaged enough to justify an indemnity claim should advise the county committee on a form provided for that purpose, FCIC-7, "Notice of Damage During Growing Season."

If a policy holder believes his entire crop is damaged beyond recovery and wants to use his land for some other purpose, he should fill out Form FCIC-8, "Notice Before Harvest, Removal, Transfer, or Other Use of Wheat Crop." Both of these forms have been furnished to the 3,700-odd Texas farmers holding wheat insurance policies, Duke said. According to recent adjustment procedure, crop losses classified as "total crop losses" or "substantial crop losses" suffered by insured growers can be adjusted before harvest.

Duke explained that in case of total losses, it will be possible for the farmer to submit a proof of loss statement for the entire insured amount. Where a loss makes it impractical further to care for the crop, proof of loss will be based on an appraisal which takes into account the amount of production that might be expected from the damaged crop. In both cases, after the adjustment of the loss, the grower may put the land to another use. Where losses are not severe enough to warrant putting the land to another use, final adjustment will be made at the time the crop is threshed and the actual yield is determined.

Grazing Hazards

Too Early Grazing Dangerous to Tender Young Grass States Eiter of Local SCS

Spring is almost here. Pastures and range land will soon become green and farmers and ranchers may be eager to allow their livestock to graze upon the tender, young grass. Therein lies a grave danger, for the early grazing of grasses often results in serious damage and presents an erosion hazard, according to Clifford Eiter, Assistant Soil Conservationist, of the Soil Conservation Camp Staff at Perryton.

When grasses begin to grow in the spring, food supplies stored in the roots during the previous year are used, Mr. Eiter points out. The roots are weakened until the plant has made enough leaf growth to provide its own food and to build up the roots again.

Early grazing may cause the grasses to be weakened by not permitting them to build up a store of food in their roots. When grasses go into the hot summer months in a weakened condition, they frequently are killed.

"It's the pasture that can be depended upon every year that is an asset to the farm," Mr. Eiter declares. "Farms with such pastures make for the cheapest production of livestock and livestock products."

Deferred grazing or protection of the grasses in early spring months is cited as a precaution that greatly aids in erosion control. Where there is a good grass cover, farmers and ranchers are finding that there is little or no soil movement from either wind or water erosion. Where grasses are protected from early spring grazing and are not over grazed later in the season, the soil is likely to be well protected, he states.

Experimental results show that grasses not grazed closely in early spring usually yield more livestock food than do those closely grazed, and that protection is afforded against soil losses by erosion.

The world's tallest tree, a 364-foot California Redwood from Humboldt county, will be shown in the Redwood Empire Building at the 1939 World's Fair of the West.

New Study Course

Teachers Exchange Experiences In The Summer Conference At The University

Austin, Texas—Putting new life into school teaching is the goal toward which several hundred Texas school men and women will work this summer. In a six-weeks conference at The University of Texas, June 6 to July 15, they will exchange experiences on innovations in education.

Carrying a step further the curriculum conference held at the University for the past several summers, this session will draw on the most progressive public school teachers of the State for actual results of what they have accomplished. Dr. J. G. Umstad, one of the professors in charge of the course, said.

Course of study for the conference will hinge around vitalized demonstrations, panel discussions, radio and electrical transcriptions, visual aids, lectures, and curriculum research.

be a mighty fine thing to see that ancient front curtain in the school auditorium replaced with a modern curtain. We think the Senior Class of '39 could not make a more needed present to the school than to start a fund for the purchase of a new curtain. Why not use the money that they usually expend for a gift to the school as a starter for a school curtain fund. Better still, we believe that they could sponsor the raising of sufficient money to pay the entire cost of a new curtain. How about it, Seniors?

Plans for the Ochiltree County 40th Anniversary Celebration are moving forward satisfactorily. At a meeting of the Planning and Finance committee of the Chamber of Commerce on Tuesday evening, it was definitely decided that incorporation be formed to take over the celebration this year and in years to come.

It is hoped that persons from every part of the county will take stock in the corporation and that the celebration cease to be a Perryton celebration and become a county-wide affair which is as it should be.

The matter of improving the county-owned fair grounds was discussed and tentative plans for such a development will be presented to the Commissioners' Court. With the providing of light, water, more seating facilities, and the building of exhibit buildings, the fair grounds could be made suitable for fat stock, poultry, Home Demonstration Club shows, and many other worthwhile enterprises.

It is just about settled that the main feature of the Golden Jubilee celebration will be a two-day professional rodeo. Other features will be the entertainment of the Old Timers and probably a gigantic parade.

Sheriff Tolley issues a warning that 1939 car tags must be purchased this month and placed on cars before April 1. Cars cannot be operated on the highways after the above date unless they carry the new plates.

Looks like the Cone case is still a matter of interest. Latest reports are that scientists in the Texas Department of Public Safety Crime laboratory have decided that the bones found on Wolf Creek on Feb. 17 by WFA workers are the bones of a boy, age 8 to 12 years, and that they have been in the ground about the length of time that the Cone boys have been missing.

The finding of these bones near the spot where the Tennessee brothers confessed they buried the two boys after murdering the father, J. M. Cone in 1925 lends credence to the Tennessee's confession. This confession has been scouted for by local officials. Local interest in the case is greater now than at any previous time and the majority of our citizens are very emphatic in demands that nothing be left unturned to get at the true facts of this seven year mystery.

Did J. M. Cone kill his two boys and then commit suicide? That is the question that many people would like to see answered. If Gene Cone and his two boys were murdered, then nothing should be left unturned to bring every individual connected with the crime to the bar of justice. If Gene Cone killed himself and his boys, then let a thorough investigation bring this out, thus ending once and for all time, the rumors that have been circulating for the past seven years.

CONTOUR LAND FOR GRAZING

INCREASES CARRYING CAPACITY OF 130-ACRE PASTURE ON A HILL FARM NEAR HEREFORD, TEXAS

HEREFORD, Texas—Contour furrows have greatly increased the carrying capacity of a 130-acre pasture on the O. G. Hill farm six miles west of Hereford, Texas, within the last three years, the land owner reports. Hill is a breeder of the Anxley strain of purebred Herefords, and, incidentally is the man who presented the late Will Rogers with "Big Jim," a 3,320-pound steer.

This particular pasture had been used as a large corral for cattle brought in from the ranch during the feeding period of winter and early spring. The large number of cattle placed on the pasture during the drought period from 1932 to 1933 resulted in the buffalo and grama grasses being severely depleted.

The spring of 1936 found the pasture almost devoid of native grasses, and Hill decided that the use of soil and moisture conservation practices might save the grazing land from being completely lost for use by his live-stock.

In cooperation with the Soil Conservation Service project at Hereford, he contour furrowed a portion of the pasture with an ordinary two-row lister, the pairs of furrows being spaced three and a half feet apart and at 14-foot intervals. On other parts of the pasture the pairs of furrows were placed at 40-ft. intervals. These furrows caught and held much of the water from seasonal rains and caused a remarkable improvement in the grass on and immediately above the furrows. Hill was so well pleased with the results that he constructed additional furrows with a one-row lister in the spring of 1937. Since that time very little water has run off the pasture except during very heavy rains of high intensity.

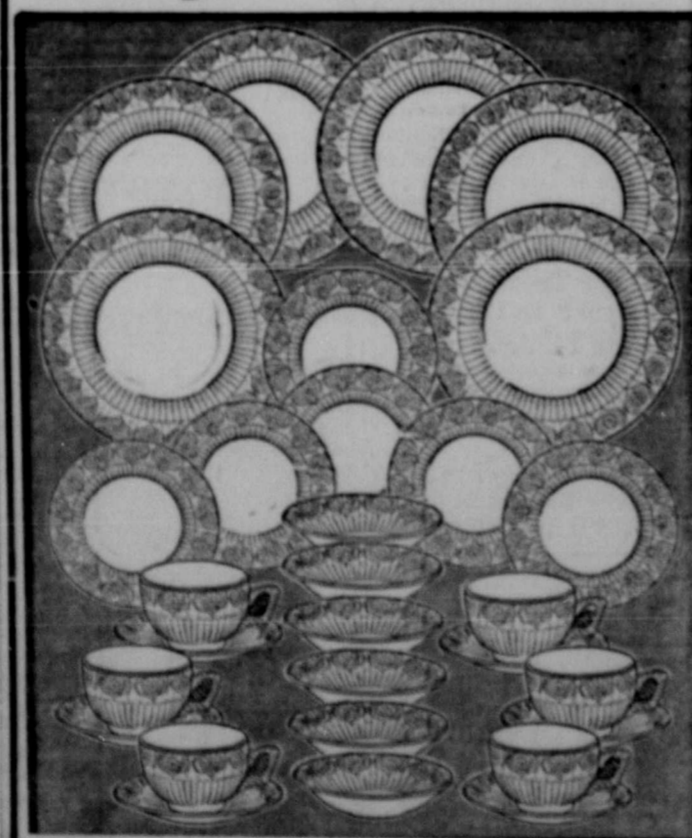

Last fall, measured plots on the double-furrowed, single-furrowed and the untreated areas above the furrows were clipped. The grass then was dried, weighed and calculations were made on an acreage basis, this work being done by R. W. McCall, agronomist for the Hereford project. These tests showed a production of 1,901 pounds of dry grass to the acre on the double-furrowed portions of the pasture. The yield on the single-furrowed area was 1,289 pounds to the acre. Since the area included in each group was approximately the same, the average acre production of the pasture was estimated at 1,225 pounds.

The untreated portion of the pasture above the furrows and upon which water was not retained compares favorably with the average range land in Deaf Smith County on which the Agricultural Adjustment range payments is 17 acres to the animal unit. It is pointed out, the weight of forage from this type of land on Hill's pasture was 485 pounds to the acre, while the treated portions brought the average up to 1,225 pounds, or two and a half times as great. Hill has worked out a range management plan whereby the carrying capacity of his grassland is never exceeded, and declares he now is getting twice as much grass as he ever did in the past.

County Agent E. W. Thomas and L. R. Cocher left Monday for College Station on business. They are expected back Thursday.

Mrs. M. R. Coffey, who recently underwent an operation at the Shattuck hospital, is showing improvement and doing as well as could be expected.

Certainly they cannot be opened to the public until after our archaeologists and other technicians have had an opportunity to make extensive studies in the various underground chambers.

"Developments such as lighting and the building of trails also will be necessary before the caves can be made accessible to the public. The Guadalupe mountains are honey-combed with caves and it is quite likely that additional important ones will be discovered in the extended park boundaries."

The President's proclamation by adding 39,448 acres to the park, increases its area to 49,448 acres. The new park boundary is within two and one-half miles of the New Mexico-Texas state line. The proposed Texas State Park in McKittrick Canyon would come within about three miles of the southern tip of the extended Carlsbad Caverns National Park.

The new Carlsbad area, west and south of the former park boundary, includes 36,928 acres of unentered public lands and 2,560 acres of patented homestead entries and state school sections.
