Sunrise Easter Service Moved To First Methodist Church

MOIST GROUND AT BLUFFS IS DECIDED UNFIT

Beautiful Auditorium To House Gathering Early Sunday

PROGRAM REVISED

Colorful Pageant to Mark Wichita Observance Of Resurrection

By W. L. UNDERWOOD

Final revision of plans for the annual union Easter sunrise service sponsored by the Wichita Falls Ministerial alliance resulted Friday evening in the announcement that the service will be held at 5:45 a. m. Sunday in the auditorium of the First Methodist church.

Excessive moisture due to combined winter snow and spring rains recently compelled abandonment of the customary allocation of the sunrise service on the bluffs west of Indian Heights, according to Rev. Patrick Henry, chairman of the committee in charge. Although the impression was given earlier this week that the meeting had been called off, plans have been under way for holding it indoors, and were completed Friday afternoon, Rev. Mr. Henry said.

Beautiful Auditorium

Substituted for the inherent magic of a daybreak gathering on the open hills will be the no less beautiful atmosphere to be found in the auditorium of the First Methodist cathedral-like house of worship. So located and constructed as to catch the earliest rays of the rising sun, the building will present its numerous stained art windows an impressive setting for the resurrection observance. Losing the dome of open sky and the panorama of burgeoning nature, the service will gain by the necessary transfer the voices of the great organ housed in the church, and the inspiring spectacle of its many upward-reaching arches.

The call to worship will be sounded at 5:45 o'clock Sunday morning by Mrs. J. W. Akin Jr., organist, with a brief program on the chimes with which residents of the city have become familiar in recent years.

Program Revised

While the program for the sunrise service had to be completely reconstructed after the original plans for an outdoor pageant had to be abandoned, an effective and balanced order of service was announced Friday evening by Rev. Mr. Henry.

Dr. Gaines B. Hall, pastor of the First Southern Presbyterian church will be the speaker for the occasion, and will deliver a short ser-

Chicken Thief Paroled After Plea of Wife

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 3. (UP)—A man who stole 20 chickens so that his children could have a Christmas dinner was released from the state penitentiary today.

Gov. W. H. Murray granted William Peters, serving a three-year sentence on the chicken theft charge to which he pleaded guilty, a temporary parole until July 15 so that the convict could plant his crops.

Clemency was extended after the man's wife had hitch-hiked from McAlester to Oklahoma City to confer with the governor.

THE HOME OF 7 PRESIDENTS

THE State of Ohio is the birthplace of seven presidents of the United States. This state acquired the name of the "Buckeye" state because of the great number of buckeyes or horse-chestnuts found there. This nickname came into use during the presidential campaign of 1840, when William Henry Harrison was the successful candidate. A cabin made of buckeye logs was a prominent feature of the campaign, which is recorded as the "hard cider and log cabin" campaign. Political publicity plays an important role in these campaigns. Just as vital are legal notices published through the Classified Want Ad columns of the Daily Times-Record News. The Want Ads today are known and used as a public directory, being a necessity in the business world.

LEO BROTHERS GIVEN 14-YEAR TERM

Crowd Becomes Noisy on Hearing Guilty Verdict

Young Gunman Convicted For Murder of Jake Lingle in Subway; Attorneys Demand New Trial

CHICAGO, April 3. (US)—Leo V Brothers was declared guilty today of the murder of Alfred (Jake) Lingle, Chicago Tribune underworld reporter, amid scenes rarely duplicated in a Chicago courtroom.

His sentence was fixed by the jury which convicted him at 14 years imprisonment in the state penitentiary, the minimum sentence in Illinois upon conviction for murder.

A motion for a new trial immediately was made and Judge Joseph Sabath set April 14 for a hearing.

Crowd Turbulent

In spite of warnings by Judge Sabath against demonstrations of any kind whatever the verdict might be, the crowd broke all restraint. Announcement of the verdict was accompanied by boos, hisses, shouts and the sobbing of women.

When, after approximately 27 hours, the announcement came that the jury had reached a verdict, there was an immediate rush of the crowds in the corridors toward the courtroom doors.

Police guarding the entrance were powerless. They were swept aside, the men and women poured into the court and stampeded to-

'Vanities' Beauty To Retire From World in Convent

NEW YORK, April 3. (AP)—Dorothy Knapp, Atlantic City beauty contest winner and star of the Earl Carroll "Vanities" is to enter a convent in Mexico, it was revealed by close friends here today.

Miss Knapp arrived here from Hollywood yesterday and went into seclusion. She is to testify in a court case and shortly afterwards will go into the convent, it is said.

Miss Knapp's last appearance on Broadway was in "Fioretta." When she was removed from the leading role she sued Mrs. Anne W. Penfield, backer of the show, for $250,000 damages. For the past few months she has been playing minor roles in talking pictures.

U. S. Racketeering Toll Estimated in Billions

ALBANY, April 3. (INS)—Racketeering is costing people of the United States between $12,000,000,000 and $18,000,000,000 a year, the New York state crime commission declared in its annual report filed today with the legislature.

"During the past few years there has grown up, particularly in the larger cities, an illegal system of levying tribute from legitimate organizations and corporations and business, commonly known as racketeering" the report said. "How much this is costing the American public cannot be definitely figured, but estimates range all the way from $12,000,000,000 to $18,000,000,000 annually in the nation."

Negro Prisoner Shoots Georgia Sheriff to Death

FAIRBURN, Ga., April 3. (AP)—A negro prisoner seized a revolver from Sheriff T. W. Camp, shot him to death in the courthouse here today and fled with a posse close on his heels.

The fugitive later was reported surrounded in a swamp by a crowd of armed citizens and his capture was expected.

Hoover Invites Boy Hero In Blizzard Tragedy to White House

WASHINGTON, April 3. (AP)—Bryan Untiedt, the 15-year-old boy who was largely responsible for saving the lives of a number of school children in a blizzard at Towner, Colo., has been invited by President Hoover to be his guest at the White House.

President Hoover, upon returning from his trip to the Caribbean was impressed by the heroism of the boy after he had been left in charge of a school bus full of children by the driver, who sought help when the vehicle was stalled in the blizzard.

The president has communicated with the mother of Bryan, who has consented to his coming to Washington alone. Hospital authorities at Lamar, Colo., where the rescued children were taken, said today the boy would be able to travel within a week or 10 days.

Mr. Hoover was convinced by accounts of the boy's actions that he would have no trouble making the trip to the capital alone.

When the school bus from the Pleasant Hill school at Towner, Colo. stalled in the raging blizzard of March 26, the driver, Carl Miller, went for help. He left Bryan in charge after solemnly warning him of the danger to himself and the other children.

Miller never returned. He froze to death trying to find help.

Bryan made every effort to keep his companions amused and active. He started boxing matches and other forms of entertainment, but as night fell the penetrating cold pressed in. One of the first to freeze was Bryan's brother, Orlo.

When airplanes found the bus, five of the children had frozen to death and the others including Bryan were suffering terrible agony.

Bryan had done all he could. He had removed his own clothing and placed it on the others.

HUNDREDS PAY FINAL HONORS TO EDUCATOR

Glowing Tribute to Work Of Dr. Cantwell Given At Last Rites

SCORES PASS BIER

Body of Beloved Teacher Laid to Rest in Simple Service Friday

Hundreds of Wichita Falls' citizens, from all walks of life—capitalists, captains of industry, laborers, school children—paid their final respects Friday afternoon to Dr. J. W. Cantwell, superintendent of schools since 1923, and prominent figure in educational and civic activities during his years of residence here.

Services were held from the First Methodist church. Mourners filled to capacity the temple to pay tribute to the man whose personality has contributed, possibly more than any other, to the development of Wichita Falls' school system, and whose service and efforts for higher education have carried the Wichita Falls Junior college through its infancy to its present rank as a recognized and accredited institution.

Simple Services

Services were brief, with eloquent simplicity. Dr. C. W. Simpson, pastor of the Floral Heights Methodist church, of which Dr. Cantwell was a member of the board of stewards, conducted services. He was assisted by Rabbi S. J. Schwab of Temple Israel; Dr. C. A. Spragins, presiding elder of the Wichita Falls district of the Methodist church, South; Dr. S. S. McKenney, pastor of the First Methodist church; Dr. Nat F. Grafton, pastor of the Floral Heights Presbyterian church; and Dr. O. L. Powers, pastor of the First Baptist church.

Dr. McKenney delivered the eulogy. "His life," the pastor said of Dr. Cantwell, "is more eloquent than words. He was a citizen and friend whose influence is felt far and wide in this community. Every creed and craft has been touched by the influence of this man."

Dr. McKenney spoke of the educator's activity and interest displayed in the work and doings of the fraternal orders, service clubs, and religious organizations to which he belonged, of the many friends and admirers who respected him for the service he rendered in all his contacts. "We view him," Dr. McKenney said, "as a worth-

Markets Take Holiday To Mark Good Friday

NEW YORK, April 3. (AP)—The security markets and virtually all of the commodity exchanges were closed today in observance of Good Friday. Trading will be resumed tomorrow on the New York stock and curb exchanges and also in silk, hide and grain. Leading European markets will reopen Tuesday. There was some trading in European currencies today but none in the Latin American exchanges because those countries observed the holiday.

Catholic Pilgrims In Rome for Observance

ROME, April 3. (US)—Devout Catholic pilgrims from all over the world were among the throng that crowded into Rome's 365 churches today to attend the impressive ceremonies that begin with Good Friday's dawn, continuing until late at night.

Two Candidates On Opposition School Ticket Quit Race

J. O. Bradshaw and W. F. Sims Withdraw Names in Election Today; Re-election of Present Members Urged In Statements of School Patrons

Withdrawal of two of the candidates on the ticket announced in opposition to the present members of the Wichita Falls board of education was announced Friday afternoon, on the eve of the election here Saturday.

W. F. Sims and J. O. Bradshaw, who had been announced as candidates opposing the incumbents, notified The Record News Friday that they were withdrawing from the race. In a statement issued following his withdrawal, Mr. Bradshaw urged that Wichita Falls voters return to office the four members of the board who are seeking re-election in today's balloting. His statement follows:

"After due consideration of the past work and program of the Wichita Falls board of education, it seems to me that the voters of Wichita Falls could do no better service for our city than to continue in office the experienced and loyal members now serving.

"In view of this feeling, I can do nothing but withdraw my name as a candidate for the board in the election Saturday. I appreciate the support of my friends, and I ask that they give this same support to those who in the past have directed the upbuilding of our school system."

Two Remain in "Opposition"

Mr. Sims, in announcing his withdrawal, expressed appreciation for the friendship of those who had urged him to enter the race; but said that mature consideration had decided him against seeking the office at present.

Withdrawal of Mr. Bradshaw and Mr. Sims leaves only two candidates on the "opposition" ticket. There are Mrs. John M. Fox and R. J. Claypool.

The members of the school board who are running for re-election are C. H. Clark, president of the board,

Senate Leaves Sunday Shows Up to Cities

AUSTIN, April 3. (UP)—Two long contested laws for Texas were halfway through the legislature this evening.

With only eight dissenting votes, the senate passed a bill permitting city commissioners and councils to decide whether their cities shall have moving picture shows on Sundays after 1 p. m.

The house passed a bill limiting size of motor trucks and weight of their loads, after five hours of debate and a "call" which prevented

Oil Man Stays in Jail In Laredo Pending Action

LAREDO, Texas, April 3. (AP)—Charges of kidnaping and assault with intent to rob filed here against C. C. Julian, Oklahoma and California oil operator, were expected to be investigated tomorrow by the Webb county grand jury.

Court officers late today declined either to confirm or deny that such action would be taken but it was believed the grand jury of the 49th district court, adjourned two weeks ago, would be reconvened tomorrow morning to consider the cases against Julian and C. C. Boren, charged jointly with him.

A. B. Johnson, foreman of the grand jury, was out of the city today and could not be reached. Sheriff Joe Condren would neither affirm nor deny the report but said he would explain tomorrow why no examining trial was held today.

Plot Charged

Julian was charged jointly today with C. C. Boren in a complaint filed before Justice of the Peace Leopoldo Villegas. The charge alleges specifically that Julian, alias Herbert Murphy, and Boren unlawfully detained L. S. Bolling, San Antonio business man against his consent by assaulting him with firearms and threatening his life, with intent to hold Bolling for ransom and extort money from him.

Predicts 'Normal' Oil Price

Murray Says States Will Form League to Restore Industry

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 3. (AP)—Gov. W. H. Murray predicted today that the oil states advisory committee conference in Washington next week would result in unified action by 10 oil states which would return the price of crude oil to normal within 30 days.

Under the plan of operation outlined by Governor Murray, the oil states' "league" would control drilling, production, storage, the price of crude oil and refined products, and these matters in each state would be under the direct supervision of an umpire who would in turn be answerable to a "league council."

The states which Governor Murray said had signified to him their willingness to participate in such action with Oklahoma were California, Ohio, Kansas, Texas, New Mexico, Colorado, Wyoming, Arkansas and Louisiana.

The Oklahoma executive asserted that he has received word a uniform reduction of imports to the extent of 45 per cent would be made by all oil importing companies except one unnamed firm that can not break existing contracts.

He said "a league of oil states" would be formed which would be valid under the constitution unless or until congress passed a law declaring it invalid, and that operating under such a league, the oil states would enforce uniform proration of oil production.

HUNTER TO ATTEND STATES CONFERENCE

Tom F. Hunter, president of the North Texas Oil and Gas association will leave Saturday for Washington to attend a meeting of the oil states advisory committee.

The conference will open April 9, and was called by Secretary of Interior Wilbur, chairman of the national board of conservation. Mr. Hunter and Senator H. J. Allen, former governor of Kansas, while not members of the committee, were selected by Secretary Wilbur to attend the meeting.

Death Suspect Reaches Albany From Oklahoma

ALBANY, N. Y., April 3. (UP)—William Schemnitzer, Broughton, Pa., youth charged with the slaying of State Police Sergeant John E. Frey, arrived today from McAlester, Okla., in the custody of four state troopers.

MOODY STARTS PLANS FOR NEW FIGHT ON CURB

New Field's Production Set at 90,000 Barrels By Schedule

STRIPPERS FREED

Six-Barrel Minimum For Marginal Wells to Aid Wichita Area

AUSTIN, April 3. (AP)—The railroad commission today issued its long awaited oil proration order, and East Texas announced they would not accept the figure provided for their new field without a court battle.

The commission allowed East Texas 90,000 barrels starting April 10, with graduated increases to 130,000 June 15. The order expires July 1.

North Texas Undecided

The exact figure for the North and West Central Texas areas had not been decided, but R. D. Parker, supervisor of the oil and gas division of the commission, said the total would be around 690,000 barrels at the start, increasing to 740,000 by July 1. The old figure was 643,000 but East Texas had not been prorated.

A few minutes after the order was issued, Dan Moody, former governor and chief counsel for the East Texas anti-prorationists, started preparing a petition for a court injunction to restrain enforcement of the order. The injunction suit was expected to be filed here.

Moody said he talked with his clients, and they said the figures were unsatisfactory and told him to go ahead with the suit.

Estes in Statement

Carl Estes of Tyler, secretary of the East Texas Lease, Royalty and Producers association, said he communicated with some 30 members of that association after the order was issued. Estes gave out the following statement:

"We started fighting for a principle two days after Christmas. It's now Easter and so far as I am concerned, we'll be fighting for that same principle in the courthouse on July 4, at which time I hope we can celebrate Independence day in a manner befitting the occasion."

Under the order of the commission, the East Texas production would be increased as follows:

May 1, 95,000; May 15, 106,500; June 1, 118,000; June 15, 130,000.

Yates Yield Reduced

The production of the Yates pool in Pecos county was reduced from 89,500 barrels daily to 70,000 as the central proration committee recommended, but the Big Lake field in Reagan county, where gas waste had been alleged, was allowed to remain at 20,000 barrels notwithstanding the committee's recommendation for a reduction.

The commission stated that no proration would be made of wells of six barrels daily production or less in the West Central or North Texas districts. These districts are in the vicinity of Eastland and Wichita Falls, respectively. This action was taken in an attempt to forestall abandonment of the stripper wells, which were in serious shape as a result of the low price of crude oil.

Pat M. Neff, former governor and member of the commission, said he would not sign the order. Neff has had certain differences with the other two members of the commission.

The figures for the field other than East Texas were as follows:

Panhandle, 37,000; West Texas, 213,431; East Central Texas, 52,000 (to be increased 5,000 barrels at Van May 1 and June 1); Southwest, 63,000; Gulf Coast, 140,000.

That left about 95,000 barrels for the West Central and North Texas areas. Purchase nominations for those fields were 59,630 for North Texas and 23,447 for West Central, but the proration committee recommended readjustments to allow more production.

Lengthy Petition

Moody did not say when he would file his injunction petition. Estes said he would remain in Austin for the present. It was reported that the petition would contain more than 100 pages, detailing the arguments that proration was unconstitutional.

C. A. Wheeler, judge of one of the district courts here, had sustained the right of the railroad commission to prorate in the Danciger case. The case is pending on appeal.

The central proration committee recommended only 50,000 barrels at the start for East Texas, but it admitted later that additional development since that recommendation made a higher figure desirable.

C. V. Terrell, chairman of the railroad commission, said the commission would ask the legislature to make appropriations for paying umpires of the various fields. Under the present plan, the operators in the fields recommend the umpires and then pay them after they are appointed by the commission. Terrell said he did not believe it sound public policy for the operators to have a hand in the selection or paying of the persons who enforce the rules against them.

SOVIET TRAIN CRASH

LONDON, April 3. (INS)—Ten persons were killed and 54 injured in a train wreck at the Poletaeff station near Cheliabinsk in the ural district of Soviet Russia today, according to a Central News dispatch from Moscow.

WRECKED CITY IS EVACUATED

Women, Children and Injured Removed in Planes

MANAGUA, April 3. (UP)—Removal of American women, children and injured and evacuation of all natives from this earthquake-ruined city was rushed with all haste today because of rioting among natives and threats of bandit raids from the hills.

Hundreds of vultures hovered over the dwelling of death, and a stiff wind fanned the flames of innumerable fires.

Soldiers of the guardia nacional killed four natives who attempted to drink the polluted water from the lake of Asosossco crater, which the sanitary authorities condemned long ago.

The Universal Service correspondent witnessed rioting just outside the market center near the lake front this morning, when guards had to quell disorders in the rush for the food line.

Ten natives were shot early today for inciting riots, while another who drew a gun on a U. S. marine guard in the city was shot by another marine from behind.

At the food lines, homeless and injured natives are receiving rations composed of raw meat, coarse bread and a handful of rice, served by kitchens set up by the Nicaraguan government. The refugees housed at American camps received foods already cooked.

One hundred and eighty-one Americans were removed from the ruined city today by airplane, while friends, husbands and fathers remained in the devastated city to continue the gigantic work of searching for the dead, ministering to the wounded and caring for the homeless and hungry.

Dallas Man Freed In Slaying to Defend Home

DALLAS, April 3. (UP)—A grand jury refused to indict W. M. Douglas, 31, for the slaying of Prince Albert Hunt, radio violinist, in front of a dance hall March 21. Douglas claimed Hunt had broken up his home.

Small Boys Drown When Boat Capsizes

WILDWOOD, N. J., April 3. (AP)—Three small boys drowned in a channel between Beach creek and Grassy sound today when an old boat in which they were playing suddenly capsized. Another boy was saved by a man who rowed half a mile to rescue him.

The drowned boys were Lawrence Selouver, 9, his brother, Charles, 8, and Billy Long, 11.

Man Robs Housewife Here After Tying Her Fast To Kitchen Chair

Mrs. Robert Kirkwood, living about five miles west of this city on the Iowa Park highway, was robbed of $24 shortly before noon Friday by a lone hijacker who obtained entrance to the house by a ruse, brandishing a pistol, bound Mrs. Kirkwood tightly to a chair in the kitchen, and ransacked the house until the cached money was discovered in a dresser drawer, according to information given Sheriff Perry Browning Friday afternoon.

Arrest Expected

Investigation of the case was begun at once by Sheriff Browning, and it was stated that arrests are expected momentarily.

According to the narrative given by Mrs. Kirkwood, a young man approached the door of the Kirkwood home and asked for Mr. Overby, who also lives in the house. Being told that Mr. Overby was not there, the man was said to have drawn a paper from his pocket as thought to leave it for the county surveyor. Mrs. Kirkwood unhooked the screen, she said, to accept the paper whereupon the man walked in, drew a gun, and after driving her into the kitchen, bound her tightly to a chair.

Searches House

He then prosecuted a hasty search, according to Mrs. Kirkwood which resulted in his finding the currency in a drawer. It was estimated than an hour intervened between the alleged robbery and Mrs. Kirkwood's escape from the chair. She declared that she could identify the hijacker at sight, and gave officers a comprehensive description.

Mr. Kirkwood, it was said, has been working for sometime on an oil well rig in the Iowa Park community.

Capture and identification of the man will result in the filing of charges both of burglary of a private residence, and robbery with firearms, according to District Attorney Sam B. Spence.

Shortly before 1 o'clock Saturday morning a young man was taken into custody by Constable Fred Smith and was being held for questioning in connection with the robbery.

Court Dismisses Charges In Wilbarger

VERNON, Texas, April 3. (UP)—Rev. D. S. Lack, Wilbarger Holiness preacher and farmer, was freed of charges that he attempted to assault his 14-year-old daughter, by District Judge W. N. Stokes today.

The charge was dismissed after District Attorney John Myers told the judge that state witnesses had repudiated testimony given before the grand jury.

Capone Beats Vagrancy Case in Chicago Court

CHICAGO, April 3. (AP)—Al "Scarface" Capone, first by number and first by reputation among Chicago's 28 "public enemies" was freed in court today of charges that he was a vagrant.

The boss of Chicago's bootleg beer, whose name led the Chicago crime commission's list of gangsters most inimical to the city's welfare, defeated the vagrancy charge issued by Judge John H. Lyle in his short lived crusade against crime.

Indian Wife of Noted Scout Claimed by Death

AMARILLO, Texas, April 3. (AP)—Word reached Amarillo today of the death of Mary Chapman, 76, Indian wife of the late Amos Chapman, noted army scout who fought with Billy Dixon in the battle of Buffalo Wallow, the last encounter with Indians of any prominence in the Panhandle.

Mrs. Chapman died Monday at Seiling, Okla., a little town on the Canadian river, about 75 miles east of Canadian. Burial was in the Indian cemetery near Seiling, beside her late husband.

MURRAY'S TAX BILL PASSES

House Vote Puts Measure On Governor's Desk

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 3. (UP)—The legislature broke a deadlock today to forestall Gov. W. H. Murray's threat to take his tax program to the people.

Tonight the McDougal income tax bill, designed to raise $6,000,000 in revenue towards the state's $7,000,000 deficit, was on the governor's desk. The legislature was ready for adjournment next Thursday when the five-day period necessary to make the bill legal will have transpired.

A house committee, the second appointed in two days, this afternoon reported an agreement on the bill. The measure providing a five per cent tax on incomes over $100,000 annually with a two per cent tax on incomes up to $20,000; three per cent from $20,000 to $40,000 and four per cent on incomes from $40,000 to $100,000 was reported favorably.

The house and senate acted in quick succession. The measure passed the house by a vote of 71 to 8. The senate approved it by a vote of 31 to 6.

Apple Vendor Given 15 Years in Wife Slaying

AUSTIN, April 3. (UP)—Tom M. Carpenter, apple vendor, was found guilty of murdering his estranged wife today and sentenced to 15 years in prison. The woman had filed suit for divorce a few days before she was shot to death at her home last Dec. 11.

LEO BROTHERS GETS 14 YEARS

Young Gunman Convicted Of Lingle Death

ward the judge's bench and the front rows of seats.

It was not until extra police were called in that the crowd was quieted and a semblance of order was restored.

The defendant Brothers was brought into the courtroom by two bailiffs. The jurors filed in and took their seats.

Judge Sabath asked them if they had reached a verdict. As it was read, the demonstration broke loose.

Mother Hysterical

Judge Sabath called for order, but for minutes his demands went unheeded. Bailiffs and police moved about among the crowd and warned the unruly demonstrators. His mother, Mrs. Rose Jessen, of St. Louis, was sobbing hysterically.

Brothers evidently had won the sympathy of a large part of the crowd who had expected a verdict of acquittal on the remarkable case presented by the prosecution which omitted any attempt at establishing a motive for the crime.

After the hub-dub had subsided, Attorney Louis Piquett for Brothers, made his motion for a new trial. It was the usual formal motion, but it was indicated by the prisoner's attorneys that it would be waged vigorously with an expectation of success.

Pending the outcome of the fight for Brothers' freedom, it was regarded as unlikely that any of the $55,000 which had been offered for the capture of the Lingle slayer would be paid out, except perhaps the $25,000 which was offered by the Chicago Tribune, whose attorney, Charles F. Rathbun, headed the prosecution.

Four Possible Verdicts

The case was given to the jury at 2:25 p. m. yesterday by Judge Sabath. He instructed the jurors that they might bring in any one of four verdicts—death in the electric chair, a life sentence, a sentence of from 14 years to life, or an acquittal.

For many hours today the jury was believed hopelessly deadlocked. It was said, but with what foundation it was impossible to learn, that one member of the jury was holding out for conviction and a severe penalty, perhaps the electric chair, while the others, or most of the others, were arguing for acquittal.

This, however, was a mere rumor in the criminal court building, as the jury room was guarded more carefully than at any other trial in the memory of court attaches and it was impossible to get any reliable reports of their deliberations.

The verdict closes another phase of Chicago's most notable gangland murder. While it lacked some of the spectacular features of the St. Valentine day massacre of seven "Bugs" Moran gangsters, it made up for that by the fact that it was perpetrated in the heavily traveled Randolph street pedestrian tunnel, where many persons, as was Lingle, were going to attend the races at Washington park June 9.

Warren Rites Set When Efforts To Reach Son in Managua Fail

Funeral services for J. J. Warren Jr., 52, rig builder and construction contractor, will be held Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the Highland Heights Baptist church, with Rev. Roy D. Clarke, pastor, officiating.

Futile attempts were made by the family to communicate with a son, Claude Warren of the U. S. marines at Managua, Nicaragua. A cablegram was dispatched Thursday following the death of Mr. Warren, to the son, but a report from New Orleans advised cable connections with Managua were unavailable. It was believed that the earthquake, which spread disaster a few days ago in the Nicaraguan city, had severed cable connections.

Mr. Warren had been a resident of Wichita Falls for a number of years. His death occurred from a heart stroke last Thursday morning at the home of his son, Milton Warren, 3200 York street.

Surviving are the widow, three daughters, Mrs. Frank Coker and Miss Jessie Warren of Wichita Falls, and Mrs. E. A. Nevins of Dodge City, Kan.; eight sons, Julian Warren of Detroit, Mich., J. F. Warren of Henrietta, Claude Warren of Managua, Nicaragua, Harold Warren of Brookhaven, Miss., and Milton, Ed Joe, Billy and Osmond Warren of Wichita Falls; his father, J. J. Warren Sr., and five brothers, Winfield, Fred, Whit, Dan and Jim Warren, all of Brookhaven, Miss.

C-C MEMBERS VISIT PLANT

Baseball Heads Honored By Junior Order

About 70 persons participated Friday afternoon in the second tour of industries sponsored here by the Junior chamber of commerce. The trip was made to the plant of the Southwestern Bell Telephone company immediately following the semi-monthly luncheon at the Kemp hotel. The touring party was shown through the telephone building in groups of 15 by company technicians, who explained the various operations of the telephone system. Ralph Pond, chairman of the industrial committee, was in charge.

During the luncheon officials and players of the Spudder baseball club were introduced, as were J. Alvin Gardner, president of the Texas league, and Hap Morse, manager of the Dallas Steers. Other features of the program were group dances by the "Five Texas Rockets," now appearing at the Majestic theater; and vocal numbers by the negro quartet of Bishop college. The latter feature was furnished through the courtesy of A. E. Holland, principal of the Booker T. Washington school.

Cantwell Honored

The quartet's final number, "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot," was dedicated to Dr. J. W. Cantwell. The organization adopted a resolution of regret on the death of Dr. Cantwell.

Sam Spence, district attorney, in a brief address urged the necessity of supporting the Spudders in their flag race this year. "Stay with them," he said, "slap them on the back and encourage them, not alone when they are winning, but when they are losing. They don't need your support so much when they are winning, because a winning team will get support. It is support when they lose that is the test of loyalty of the fan."

Officers Installed

Guy Airey, secretary of the Wichita Falls Baseball club, introduced the guests, who were, in addition to Mr. Gardner and Mr. Morse, Milton Price, secretary of the Texas league; William E. Huff, president of the local club; P. S. Richardson, vice president; Carl Williams, manager of the Spudders, and members of the team.

T. J. Waggoner Jr., president; Temple Shell, first vice president; J. Will Gray, director, and H. B. Dudley, alternate director, all new officers, were formally inducted into office at the meeting, as a result of advancements made necessary by the resignation of Maurice Cheek, who recently resigned the presidency to go to Austin to become an assistant attorney general of the state of Texas.

Gov. Sterling to Chunk First Ball at Houston

HOUSTON, April 3. (AP)—Gov. Ross Sterling of Texas will chunk the first ball here the night of Friday, April 17, at Buffalo stadium where the Buffs open their 1931 home season. The governor's acceptance of the invitation was read Friday noon at the joint luncheon of the Houston Chamber of Commerce and the Baseball Boosters' club.

Dodged Sharks

Dodging sharks in a small rubber boat isn't such a pleasant experience, but Verne W. Harshman, above, naval pilot, appeared none the worse, when he arrived at Buenaventura, Colombo, on a steamer that picked him up, four days after his plane plunged into the sea during naval maneuvers off Panama. Just before the plane went down, he inflated the emergency boat.

SCHOOL HEADS NAMED TODAY

30 Trustees to be Picked In Wichita County

About 30 school trustees will be elected in the 21 rural districts of Wichita county Saturday, according to County Superintendent J. A. Hood.

At least one trustee is to be elected in each of the county's districts, he said, and in more than half the districts more than one candidate has filed for each place. Three managers have been named by the school board to conduct the election in each district. Polling places are the county school buildings, it was announced.

Actresses Get $35 a Night

Male actors of Budapest, Hungary, are disgruntled over the wage scale just announced by the Theater Managers' association of the city. The maximum pay for men is to be $27.50 a night, and that for women $35. Managers are reported to have figured that it costs a woman more than it does a man to be well dressed.

Truck Measure Favored By Legislature

members leaving. The house voted down an amendment to require the same limits for busses.

Pensions Voted

Another measure approved by the senate today allows county commissioners to issue pensions of $30 per month to indigents over 70 years old, in lieu of sending them to county homes. Eleven amendments to laws governing judicial procedure also were passed.

There was a vote of 17 to 12 in the senate for submission to voters of a constitutional amendment abolishing the state ad valorem tax, but the vote was not large enough for final passage. The measure remains on the calendar while its backers seek the four additional votes needed for passage.

The senate refused to approve a call for an election at which voters would decide if they want a convention to revise the entire state constitution. The constitution was adopted in 1876.

Loads Limited

The truck regulatory measure passed today was a companion bill to one already approved which places all trucks under strict railroad commission supervision. The maximum load permitted under the bill approved today is 7,000 pounds; the maximum length, 30 feet; the maximum height, 11 feet; maximum width, 96 inches. No truck and trailer combined may be more than 35 feet long.

The bill was approved by a vote of 93 to 27, while some members asserted it was inspired by railroads and compresses seeking to put cotton trucks off the roads.

Late today the senate passed a bill authorizing the appointment of a temporary commission to make a two-year survey of the needs of the state in caring for crippled children. The bill carries an appropriation of $15,000. Senator W. R. Poage of Waco attempted to amend the bill so the money would be appropriated for the existing state hospital for crippled children at Galveston. His amendment was ruled out of order.

The senate will meet tomorrow, making its second Saturday meeting during this session. The house has adjourned until Monday.

Wife of Crash Victim Without Funds for Rites

VICTORIA, Texas, April 3. (AP)—Bereft of her husband and son by an automobile accident near Fannin, Goliad county, yesterday, Mrs. Dently C. Whitmire, herself badly injured, tonight was without funds with which to bury her dead.

Whitmire, 42, and his son, Tom A. Whitmire, 20, of Houston, were killed when the Whitmire automobile collided with one occupied by Roger P. Doyle of San Antonio, Doyle's wife and Van Empel, famous Dutch artist.

A reindeer herd being driven from the Teller district of Alaska to Canada increased by 2,200 animals en route, with 350 miles yet to go.

highway patrolman who yesterday intervened in Bolling's behalf in a hotel lobby here, arrested Julian and Boren and allegedly wrested a sawed off revolver from Julian's hand.

Bolling told officers two men entered his hotel room and after demanding $50,000, packed his clothes and were attempting to check out at the hotel clerk's desk when Bolling kicked Patrolman Sealey on the ankle to apprise him that something was amiss.

Trial Delayed

An examining trial set for this morning was postponed until 2 p. m. but at that hour, again was delayed by Justice Villegas because District Attorney John A. Valle and M. J. Raymond, defense counsel retained by Julian, still were engaged in trial of a cattle theft case in district court. The Julian and Boren cases were expected to be set again for tomorrow morning.

Although Sheriff Joe Condren offered Julian liberty on $10,000 appearance bond, if he could give "gilt edge" sureties, the oil operator late today still was in the Webb county jail.

Wildcats still abound in North Carolina, and 429 bounties were paid for them in 1930.

Mangum Celebrates Easter in Song

Special to The Record News.

MANGUM, Okla., April 3.—Several musical organizations of this city are celebrating Easter in song. The high school girls' glee club sang an Easter cantata, "Eternal Life" (Holton), Friday morning during chapel hour, and that evening the choir of First Methodist church gave Stainer's "The Crucifixion."

On Easter Sunday "The Resurrection Song" (Nolte) will be sung by the choir of First Presbyterian church at a 5 o'clock vesper service.

Easter Sunday night the Senior Epworth league of First Methodist church will give "An Evening at Seth Parker's."

Other churches of the city also will observe the day with special music.

A candid talk about SUGAR

What kind of sugar do you buy regularly? Have you ever tried Imperial? These are some of the questions we would ask you if this were actually a talk. We can tell you about the sparkling quality of Imperial Sugar, though. And we can ask you to buy Imperial the next time. Try it in this recipe. We know you will become a regular user if you try it once. Will you?

Jam Cake

4 eggs	½ t. allspice
1½ c. sugar	½ t. cloves
¾ c. butter	1 t. soda
3 c. flour	¾ c. sour milk
½ t. cinnamon	1 c. blackberry jam

Beat eggs and add to the creamed butter and sugar. Sift flour with spices and add to the first mixture alternately with the sour milk and soda. Mix well, fold in jam and bake either in loaf or layers. Use caramel for filling.

IMPERIAL SUGAR

Used by more food manufacturers and by more housewives than any other brand in Texas.

TEXAS WOMAN WRITES NOVEL

Evelyn Miller Pierce Author of 'Hilltop'

DALLAS, April 3. (AP)—Evelyn Miller Pierce, daughter of Former Lieutenant Governor and Mrs. Barry Miller of Dallas, is the author of "Hilltop," a romantic story of Texas just published by Alfred H. King, Inc., of New York.

Mrs. Pierce comes of a pioneer Texas family. Her grandfather, William B. Miller, came to Dallas county in 1846. He received a land grant just north of the present city of Dallas and built there in 1855 the residence in which the Miller family still lives. Evelyn Miller Pierce was born and brought up in Dallas and received her preparatory education there. She was graduated from the Merrill school at Mamaroneck, New York, and later attended Columbia university. In 1925 she married Alfred W. Pierce, for many years political writer on the New York Sun. After her husband's death last year, Mrs. Pierce returned to Texas to make her home with her parents.

While "Hilltop" is a romance, the dramatic story of the life and adventures of Amy Lightfoot, frontier beauty, it is traced against the constantly changing background of a Texas town from the time the first railroad reached North Texas in 1872 until 1919. The characters are fictitious, but many true anecdotes and pioneer stories are woven into the body of the novel. The picture of the little town of Polk when the streets were hog-wallows of black mud and the only means of communication with the outside world was by stage coach or ox drawn wagon is contrasted with the spreading, soaring Southwestern city of Polk in 1919. This is the story of the evolution of a town, as well as the story of the progress of a beautiful woman.

Amy Lightfoot, the heroine of "Hilltop," is the daughter of Phil Lightfoot, Virginia gentleman invalided to Texas, and of Molly O'Shaunnesy, whose father was the bartender at the Long Horn saloon. Her struggle to make a place for herself in Polk, her romance with Dan Jamison, the boy who fought for her in her first day at school, her triumphs in the world beyond Polk and of her ultimate return, are a part of the dramatic story.

Youth Killed, Brother Injured in Collision

CASTLE ROCK, Colo., April 3. (AP)—Melvin Gigoux, 22, of Greeley, Colo., was instantly killed and his brother, Earl, 38, suffered a fractured skull and internal injuries today as their automobile crashed head on into a Colorado Motorways bus three miles north of Castle Rock on the Denver-Colorado Springs highway.

The Gigoux brothers were returning from Enid, Okla., where they had attended the funeral service of their father, Joseph Gigoux.

On the snow covered paving just north of Castle Rock the bus driver was forced to apply his brakes quickly as another car came to a stop in front of the bus. The bus skidded to the wrong side of the road and the driver, seeing Gigoux's car, northbound, coming toward him, tried to drive the bus into a ditch.

Electra Pastor Holds Revival in Jacksboro

Special to The Record News.

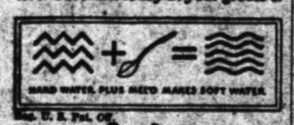

JACKSBORO, Texas, April 3.—Rev. W. W. Rivers of Electra is holding a revival meeting at the First Baptist church of Jacksboro. Despite the bad weather and other hinderances the attendance on a whole has been very good.

The meeting is being held in the new Baptist church, completed only a short time ago. The new building is very well suited to take care of the large crowds Rev. Rivers is drawing. The crowd Sunday night, March 30, was estimated at 750, almost the capacity of the church.

White? Not these clothes!

THERE was plenty of soap. The clothes were scrubbed thoroughly, and rinsed. But the water was hard. The soap mixed with the hard water, and formed a dirty ring around the basin—scum! The scum got into the fabric of the clothes. That's why the clothes weren't clean.

But they can be clean. How? By washing them in soft water. And how can hard water be made soft? By adding Melo. The water is now a wonderful cleaner, with or without soap; and the soap much more effective. Get a can today at your grocer's.

First Check for Wrigley Fund For 12-Cent Cotton Deposited by Wichitan

Perhaps the first check that was mailed to the Wrigley Cotton Fund in Texas was that from the F. D. Summers Cigar company of Wichita Falls. The check was mailed Friday night, the first day that sales of products of Wm. Wrigley Jr. factories were to be placed in the enormous fund of $12,000,000 that Mr. Wrigley will use to purchase cotton so long as it sells for less than 12 cents per pound. The cotton will be withheld from the markets.

Mr. Summers states that the Wichita State Bank and Trust company of Wichita Falls will be used to deposit monies received from the sales of chewing gum in the Wichita Falls distributing district which includes Knox, Wilbarger, Young, Foard, Wichita, Archer, Clay, Montague and Baylor counties.

William Wrigley Jr. will place every dollar of sales in cotton growing states into the Wrigley Cotton fund, and the dates are from April 1 to Dec. 1, 1931. All cotton will be purchased at less than 12 cents per pound. Mr. Wrigley is endeavoring to boost the price of cotton by taking this vast amount out of the channels of trade. In event cotton reaches 12 cents per pound he will cease to make purchases.

The effect of the Wrigley plan should be good upon the market, especially when it gets in full operation. Mr. Summers says all monies received from this territory will go to the First National bank in Dallas, which has been selected as one of the southern banks as a depository of the Wrigley Cotton fund.

Walter Cline Maps Business Program for W. T. C. C. Convention

Special to The Record News.

STAMFORD, Texas, April 3.—Details of the arrangements for the general business plan of the annual convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce in Lubbock, May 14, 15 and 16 are being rapidly worked out under direction of the convention work committee, headed by Walter D. Cline of Wichita Falls.

This group, which, in addition to Cline, will include Clifford B. Jones, Spur; A. P. Duggan, Littlefield; Chester Harrison, Brownwood; J. D. Hamlin, Farwell, and Wilbur G. Hawk, Amarillo, will organize and plan the work of the convention; schedule the events and speakers on the general convention program, and pass on all items needing attention in connection with the affair. General Manager D. A. Bandeen is working in close connection with the Cline committee.

The convention work committee is arranging the program to include at least six group conferences on subjects of vital interest to West Texas. Each of these sections will be under the direct supervision and direction of a special committee, working with the general arrangement group and the actions, recommendations and reports from those group conferences will be presented to the general sessions of the convention through the convention work committee.

Mr. Cline has advised W. T. C. C. headquarters here that he is much interested in the coming convention and says that he plans to give his duties as chairman of the important convention work committee, all time and thought necessary and he is expecting that each of the other members will do the same.

CITIES LIST RACE ENTRIES

Few Contests Develop Over Area

Special to The Record News.

BELLEVUE, Texas April 3.—The only contests in the city election to be held here Tuesday are in the races for aldermen, in which five men are competing for three posts. The candidates are: J. F. Wetzel, M. L. Simmons, Robert Cole, Kirk Hampton, and L. B. Moore.

W. T. Gaines is seeking re-election as mayor and L. P. Hodges re-election as city marshal.

NO FIGHTS IN JACKSBORO

RED KIDNAPING CALLED STUNT

Grad Jury Files Report on Communist Affair

DALLAS, April 3. (UP)—Dallas county grand jurors today returned a report saying that after examining 35 witnesses the body believed that no physical violence was done to either C. J. Coder or Lewis Hurst, Communists, who claimed to have been kidnaped and whipped here March 5 following their release from city jail.

The alleged kidnaping was done by the Communists themselves for publicity purposes, said the report to Judge C. A. Pippen.

"In the course of our investigation we have carefully inspected the literature distributed by the Communists and the telegrams sent to their daily paper in New York and have found them to be filled with grave danger to our community," the report stated.

"The presence of agitators of this type and the presentation of their doctrines is destructive to the social and proper interest of this county."

Coder and Hurst were located in Kansas City where District Attorney Wm. McGraw went by airplane to question them. Though he offered to bring them back in an airplane, they refused to return.

During the course of the investigation a newspaper reporter was jailed for a day when he refused to tell the grand jury the source of a story.

Baptist Leader Praises Young Wichita Pastors

"The First Baptist church is fortunate in having a number of her young people go out into definite phases of religious work," according to the pastor, Dr. O. L. Powers. "Two of our outstanding young men, J. W. Marshall and Harrold Diggs, are pastoring Dundee Baptist church and North Side Baptist church, this city. Both are doing an outstanding work."

This Saturday night these two young preachers will hold a special service in the Dundee Baptist church, not only for the Baptists of that community, but for all people. Singers from the First Baptist church, and Miss Nena Louise Day, young people's worker from the Southwestern Theological seminary Fort Worth, will assist in the program. A large number of people from the local Baptist churches are expected to attend.

Chihuahua Good Will Caravan at El Paso

EL PASO, Texas, April 3. (AP)—As a good will gesture between Mexico and the United States, 51 Chihuahua City, Mexico, business men arrived here today, headed by Manuel Rivero Mier, president of the Chihuahua City Rotary club. The visitors were entertained by the El Paso Chamber of Commerce. American Consul Frank Styles, a member of the party, said he anticipated completion of the new highway between El Paso and Chihuahua City within a year and predicted that the opening of that new avenue for tourist travel would materially benefit business in both cities.

TWO CONVICTED IN MAIL FRAUD

Jury Freed Two After Vinita Trial

VINITA, Okla., April 3. (AP)—Two persons were convicted and three acquitted by a federal court jury here late today in the trial of eight defendants on conspiracy and mail fraud charges growing out of the sale of stock in the Anglo-American Royalties corporation, now defunct.

Those convicted were Ben F. Fields, Tulsa investment broker, and Duric C. McIntyre, Tulsa, who was the corporation's president. They will be sentenced tomorrow by Judge Franklin E. Kennamer.

Samuel A. Boorstin, Tulsa lawyer, and Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Belcher of Tulsa were acquitted. Boorstin was accused by the government of falsifying the Anglo-American minute book records and the Belchers were allegedly to have been stock salesmen for the concern.

The jury continued deliberations in the case of the remaining defendants, O. J. Fleming, Enid banker, W. H. Hills, Enid lawyer, and J. A. Patterson, accused as a stock salesman. Fleming and Hills were alleged to have influenced Enid investors in favor of the Anglo-American stock.

The Belchers admitted they had sold the Anglo-American stock but asserted they acted in good faith, believing the company sound.

Fields and McIntye were placed in the Craig county jail here to await their sentences.

The government charged nearly 100 Oklahomans were defrauded of $500,000 through investment in the royalties shares.

The jury was unable to agree on a decision in the cases of the other three defendants, O. J. Fleming, pioneer Enid banker, W. H. Hills, Enid lawyer, and J. A. Patterson, Oklahoma City stock salesman. On the last three of the counts in the indictment, the jury reported a not guilty verdict, while they reported unable to agree as to their guilt or innocence on the first count.

When questioned by Judge Kennamer, members of the jury said they would be unable to reach a verdict. They were discharged from further deliberations at 9 o'clock tonight.

Fight Site to Be Decided April 15

NEW YORK, April 3. (AP)—William F. Carey, president of the Madison Square corporation, announced tonight that final disposition of the proposed heavyweight match between Max Schmeling and Young Stribling would be made by Sheldon Clark, his Chicago associate, April 15.

At that time, Carey said, Clark will name a definite site for the battle. It was understood Cleveland stood the best chance of landing the bout, since Chicago virtually has been eliminated as a contender.

Although no formal announcement had been made, it is understood the Hearst milk fund, which decided early in the week to have nothing more to do with the affair, has aligned itself with Jimmy Johnston, Madison Square's new promotorial rival.

Working together, the milk fund committee and Johnston hope to promote a bout between Jack Sharkey and either Mickey Walker or Primo Carnera in July. Johnston has signed Sharkey to fight for him three times this summer at Ebbet's field.

The only thing in the way of such a match is the fact that both Walker and Carnera are under suspension by the New York Athletic commission, Walker for failure to defend his middleweight crown and Carnera for his recent fungo-hitting tour. It is understood the commission is willing to forgive and forget in Walker's case, however, providing Mickey will forsake his title before taking on Sharkey.

Oklahoma Oil Inquiry Due to Open Today

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 3. (AP)—Representative R. C. Blocker, McCurtain county, heads a committee of five house members charged with investigation tomorrow of claims Blocker made that "fraud and deception mark the administration of oil proration by the state corporation commission."

Blocker, a member of the house oil and gas committee, submitted one-man minority report in which he also charged a gigantic conspiracy of major oil companies to ruin the business of independent producers.

Allred Stays Out of Hidalgo County 'Local Political Squabble'

AUSTIN, April 3. (AP)—James V. Allred, attorney general, today notified Bryce Ferguson, county attorney of Hidalgo county that a grand jury had a right to bar the district attorney from its deliberations.

Allred said he had been informed the Hidalgo county grand jury, which is investigating political conditions there, had been closing the doors at times to both the district attorney and his assistant.

The attorney general denied the request of L. Broeter, district attorney, for an investigator. Allred said his investigators were busy with matters of state-wide importance such as alleged violation of the anti-trust laws, while the Hidalgo county matter seemed to be "a local political squabble." The attorney general's department had an investigator there several weeks ago.

The resignation of J. E. Leslie as district judge, received last night, had not been formally accepted, Governor Sterling being out of town until Monday.

Leslie held office notwithstanding a long, vain legal contest instituted by his opponents in 1928, Gordon Griffin of McAllen, independent. Griffin carried his losing fight through the supreme court.

Leslie was a member of the political faction headed by the late A. Y. Baker, former sheriff of Hidalgo county.

Aged Scientist Directs Light Speed Tests From Sickbed

By WALTER B. CLAUSEN

PASADENA, Calif., April 3. (AP)—A frail little man of indomitable will, in the sunset of his life, is directing from his sickbed here one of the most fascinating and exacting experiments in science.

He is clocking the fastest thing known, the velocity of light.

The searching black eyes of Dr. Albert A. Michelson snap with twinkles as he discusses from his bed with his research workers at least once a week the progress of what he calls his "last great experiment."

Meanwhile, two physicians are vigilantly striving to build up the weakened heart of the 79-year-old famous scientist.

Keeps Cheerful

"He must stay in bed a month at least, says Mrs. Michelson, "but he is cheerful, and is feeling better each day."

Michelson's colleagues say that if ever interplanetary communication is established with Mars it will be based upon Michelson's discovery of light waves.

He was past 70 years when, operating revolving mirrors on Mount Wilson and Mount San Antonio, near here, 22 miles apart, he measured the velocity of light at 299,860 kilometers a second. That is 186,213 miles a second. His previous experimental measures and the generally accepted figure has been 186,173 miles a second.

The Mount Wilson figure is near precision, but not precise enough to satisfy the physicist.

Builds Equipment

For precision, cooperating with the Carnegie institution of Washington, he built a mile-long vacuum tube at Irvine ranch, near Santa Ana, some 60 miles from here.

One measurement was not sufficient, and at least six methods of measurement, with mirrors revolving at various speeds, and a score or more tests with each, are necessary to satisfy him.

These have been going on for more than a month, and at least another month will be required before a checkup is made, giving any figures.

Realizing the tax upon his weakened body, he remained there a week. Then he went to bed and Dr. Francis G. Pease of the Mount Wilson staff, and Fred Pearson from the University of Chicago went on with the work.

The tremendous speed involved is shown when his last Mount Wilson measurement figured light traveling 11,172,783 miles a minute. The great importance of the experiment lies in the determination of physicists that light is the one constant in nature, the basic measure or yardstick for all astronomical and physics experiments.

Dunne Enters Into Chicago's Boiling Mayoralty Battle

CHICAGO, April 3. (UP)—Edward F. Dunne, who was mayor of Chicago in 1905 and later governor of Illinois, came out of retirement today to enter actively the heated mayorship campaign which will end next Tuesday when a million or more visitors decide the political future of "Big Bill" Thompson.

The entrance of Dunne, on the side of Thompson's Democratic opponent, Anton J. Cermak, made the list of politicians and former politicians taking part in the campaign complete.

So great has become the public interest in this race to decide who shall be mayor of Chicago during the 1933 world's fair that every man who ever controlled so much as a precinct has announced himself for one candidate or the other.

Dunne urged Cermak's election in a public statement, claiming Cermak's public record was better than Thompson's and blaming the mayor for "outrageous expenditures which have resulted in high taxes."

Both Thompson and Cermak made numerous speeches again today as their bands boomed through the loop and ward meetings were held in every section of the city.

LOTT, VAN RYN ARE DEFEATED

Cliff Sutter Upsets Vets At New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS, April 3. (AP)—George Lott and John Van Ryn, went down to a surprising defeat today at the hands of Clifford Sutter, New Orleans, and Ellsworth Vines, Pasadena, Calif., in the doubles finals of the New Orleans Country club invitation tennis tournament.

While 1,000 spectators sat astounded, the youngsters took the veterans, 6-3, 6-1, 4-6, 4-6, 6-3. Lott and Van Ryn fought with all their strategy to take the fifth set but could not cope with the terrific service and kill overheads of Vines and the steady support of Sutter.

Lott's play approached the superlative in the last three sets, after a slow start, but Van Ryn failed to hold up his side of the court.

The result was one of the major upsets of the season, as Lott and Van Ryn had been selected to carry the American doubles colors in the French championship this spring.

In the morning semifinals play, Lott and Van Ryn had been extended to beat John Barr and James Quick of Dallas, Texas, 6-1, 4-6, 7-5, 3-6, 6-3. Sutter and Vines eliminated Dan Murray and Maurice Bayon, New Orleans players, in the other semifinals in straight sets, 8-6, 6-3, 6-1.

Two Withdraw In School Race

Carter McGregor, Rhea Howard and J. T. Harrell.

Re-election of these members was strongly urged Friday in several statements by those active in support of the schools. Among these were long distance telephone endorsements given The Record News Friday night from Dallas by W. D. Cline and Ernest Fain. The two Wichitans called The Record News when they received word of the opposition ticket, and said they wished to call on their friends to vote in the election today for the present members of the board.

Members Endorsed

"I cannot too strongly urge upon the citizens of our city the importance of keeping these men on our school board," said Mr. Cline.

"Their services have been loyal, outstanding and without limitations. I feel it would be a serious mistake to make any change at this time, and I trust the people of Wichita Falls will again claim at the ballot box the services of Messrs. Clark, McGregor, Howard and Harrell."

A statement issued by Mrs. R. L. Underwood, president of the City Council P.-T. A., also urged the re-election of the four members.

"I urge all voters interested in the welfare of the Wichita Falls public schools to vote in the school board election Saturday," she said.

"I do not believe it is out of place to say that I believe the present members of the board are familiar with all the problems of our schools and are in a better position to solve the problems confronting us which are immediate and pressing than are others who would be new to their duties."

One voting box has been provided for the election Saturday, at the Reagan High school, and Roscoe Staton will be in charge. The box will be open from 8 a. m. to 7 p. m.

Victim of Gun Duel Buried in Iowa Park

Special to The Record News.

IOWA PARK, Texas, April 3.—Last rites for Pat Davis, Iowa Park plumber fatally injured in a gun duel near here last Sunday, were conducted at the First Methodist church here Friday afternoon. Burial was in the Iowa Park cemetery.

Davis died Wednesday from a chest wound received in a gunfight with Jess Furl, local truck farmer, at the old Cobb store last Sunday morning. Furl, shot in the elbow and abdomen, is under treatment at the Wichita Falls General hospital.

Frisco Trades Summa To Los Angeles Club

1,675 Persons Hear Mrs. Northcross In Her Final Cooking School Lecture

Popularity of Speaker With Wichitans Shown at Last Meeting; Merchants Are Thanked

By MRS. L. N. CASON
Record News Society Editor

The popularity of the cooking school sponsored by The Record News and Daily Times was fully attested Friday evening when Mrs. Frances Northcross, the popular lecturer, made her final address to 1,675 men and women. The male portion of the audience showed as alert interest as the women who were regular attendants through the four days' school always armed with notebooks and pencils.

Mrs. Northcross thanked the audience for the round of applause that greeted her entrance and spoke again of the gratitude she felt to The Record News and Times for permitting her to make friends of Wichita Falls citizens. Merchants who cooperated to make the cooking school a success were individually thanked.

Food for Fuel

Preluding her demonstration of recipes given on the program with a short talk on proper diet, Mrs. Northcross compared the food that goes into the human body with the coal that goes into a furnace. "Health," she stated, "must come before anything and we must budget our health as well as our wealth." Women, as professionals in the art of keeping a home and feeding a family, were told that 35 per cent of the income, when it is below $2,000, goes for food. Twenty per cent of that, Mrs. Northcross said, was lost and wasted by spoiling, though 10 per cent of the amount should be avoided. Proper refrigeration as a means of saving was stressed and elimination of the waste in the body that corresponds to clinkers in the coal by drinking 10 or 12 glasses of pure water each day was urged as economy in care of the family and the human machine.

Cookies, the recipe for which was given on the Thursday program, were demonstrated before the Friday program recipes were reached. When they were rolled and put in the refrigerator to be baked later, Mrs. Northcross showed the audience how to make a delicious pastry and the small individual crusts were filled with a cream cocoanut filling.

Angel Food Cakes

Meringues were made, the lecturer directing that a cook should never let the beater get out of the whites of egg while preparing it. "Let us talk about angel food cake," she suggested, then brought a ripple of laughter by adding, "whenever I see a woman asleep in the audience, I begin talking of angel food cake and she wakes." Directions for preparing a delicious angel food cake were given and meringues were placed on hot water in muffin rings and baked in a hot oven. "Always cook meringues top and bottom," Mrs. Northcross said. "If you put the meringue on custard, have the custard very hot." The meringues shown the audience were a perfect demonstration of her art.

As a filet of fish was prepared for broiling by the program recipe, Mrs. Northcross talked on the calories necessary for the normal person, and gave directions for dieting to reduce. "The number of calories necessary for an average woman," she stated, "is from 2,500 to 3,000 each day and if she wished to reduce, she should cut it down to 1,200 or 1,500. A man is supposed to have about 1,000 more than a woman, though I have always been of the opinion that men worked eight hours a day and women 12 or 15."

During the short recess pictures were made of the large audience present at the final school. A corsage was delivered to Mrs. Northcross from Bebb Floral company who furnished the center decoration for the table each day and whose pots of red geraniums made cheery spots on the stage. "This is a very small expression of our appreciation of the nice things you have done for us," Bebbs stated. "It weighs one ounce." Mrs. Northcross wore the dainty flowers through the evening.

The filet of fish was beautifully garnished when broiled; the sauce carefully tasted, was poured over it to complete the dish. "Much tasting makes little wasting," reiterated the lecturer. Cupcakes were demonstrated from the program recipe and the essentials in making good tea explained with a recipe given also for mock champagne.

A congratulatory telegram was received by Mrs. Northcross from Betty Crocker, cooking expert for Gold Medal flour, who had been notified of the enormous success of the school being conducted in Wichita Falls. At the close of the evening program, the cooperation of merchants and manufacturers cooperating with The Record News and Times was again acknowledged. They included Bailey-Moline company, Bebbs Floral company, the Coca-Cola Bottling company, Crystal Pure Water company, the E-Z stores, the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea company, the Hub, India Tea growers, Lehrack-Ferguson Dairy Products company, Lever Brothers company, the M. J. B. Coffee company, W. B. McClurkan and company, Mistletoe Creameries, Inc., Montgomery Ward, the Morton Salt company, Noble-Little Hardware company, North Texas Furniture company, the Perkins-Timberlake company, Proctor & Gamble, the Rumford company, Saul's Department store, Texas Electric Service company, Wichita Cleaning and Dye works, Wichita Mill and Elevator.

Jocelyn Lee Granted Divorce and Children

LOS ANGELES, April 3. (UP)—After five days of sensational testimony, Jocelyn Lee, screen actress, was granted a divorce from Luther Reed, prominent film director, in superior court late today. Each had asked the decree.

She won custody of their minor children, Celeste, 3, and Dana, 2. The Reeds were married at Tiajuana, Mexico, on June 15 of last year and separated in September. Miss Lee was awarded alimony of $100 a week to care for herself and the children.

8660-Foot Well Increases Flow

SAN ANGELO, Texas, April 3. (AP)—Gushing at a rate estimated at 300 barrels hourly, or 12,000 barrels daily, from a total depth of 8,667 feet, Group No. 1 Oil corporation's No. 3-B university Friday had become the largest of the world's nine deepest producing oil wells in the Big Lake pool of Reagan county 90 miles west of here.

The well was connected with storage when it was unloaded Thursday night but changing of connections necessitated its opening Friday and as a north wind swept gas toward the Santa Fe railroad tracks, slightly over a quarter of a mile south, traffic was stopped.

Work on the well was completed yesterday afternoon enough to allow trains, which had been held for several hours, to come through.

No. 2-B university gauged 4,452 barrels the first nine hours after it was unloaded, ending Friday morning. Under tremendous gas pressure, it continued to increase steadily. The largest of the nine deep wells previously was the same company's No. 4-B university, which a peak of 9,574 barrels on March 22. It is 8567 feet deep.

TWO KENTUCKY BANKERS HELD

Financial Leaders Billed In Crashes

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 3. (AP)—A state grand jury here today indicted Rogers Cantwell, Nashville, and James B. Brown, Louisville, once financial leaders in their respective states, and branded their deal for merger of the Bancokentucky company, Louisville, and Caldwell's Nashville Investment banking house a "colossal fraud" and a contributing cause in last fall's bank crashes.

The grand jury stated it was unfortunate the directors of Banco authorized the deal, "without knowing more about the condition of Caldwell & Co. instead of depending upon what their president said Caldwell said." It added, however, there was no evidence of criminality in the deal except on the part of Caldwell.

Caldwell, already under a series of indictments in his own state, was accused in today's action of placing a valuation of $9,000,000 on one-half of Caldwell & Co.'s assets when the company was "hopelessly insolvent."

Brown, who was president of Bancokentucky company, now is under federal and state indictments charging misapplication and embezzlement of more than $2,000,000. Today's action substituted for the state indictment already returned and added the charge of conspiracy to embezzle.

Charles F. Jones, former vice president of Bancokentucky company, and praviously indicted with Brown in federal and state courts, was a party to the Brown indictment today.

Hoover Flayed In Talk at Meeting Of Unemployed Here

Laboring men for every public office, "from president to assistant dog catcher," was the policy advocated by an unnamed visitor speaking before the Unemployed council at the courthouse Friday night. The meeting of the council was held in the 78th district courtroom; every available seat was filled; men stood in the aisles and the crowd overflowed to the stair landing outside the room. President Hoover was flayed in several talks.

The visiting speaker declared that he had spent time in jail for speaking his mind. "I have just returned from South America," he said, "where laborers receive a set scale of wages regardless of their age or physical condition; but in America when a man passes his 40th year he is deprived of his job and the right to earn his livelihood.

J. K. Isenberg, a minister, reiterated his denial that at the last meeting of the council he advocated to the membership to go in a body to stores and take what was needed. Sheriff Perry Browning attended the meeting of the council Tuesday night, reporting the next day to the commissioners court and requesting instructions as to the attitude his department should take in the event that members of the unemployed should carry out the suggestion alleged to have been made by Isenberg.

Isenberg, the secretary of the council, with fiery oratory, urged that the workingman's needs be carried to the state legislature and to congress with such force and conviction as to eliminate any possibility of the demands of the national organization be denied.

Also speaking Friday night were T. C. Green, chairman of the Unemployed council; O. B. Kelly and L. E. Satterfield.

India's Non-Resistance It Kills Fifty The Busy Vitamin It Prevents Colds

By EMILE GAUVREAU

In India they preach the gospel of non-resistance but it doesn't always work out. Fifty die and 200 are wounded in a riot over the hanging of three assassins. Gandhi, himself, escapes a beating when aides seize a youth who attempts to strike him with a flag. Gandhi is pursued by members of the New Youth of India league, who shout, "Down with Gandhi! He is our betrayer!"

This has a familiar European ring. Human nature seems to be the same the world over. For all their preachments of turning the other cheek, the Hindus are moved to resentment, motives of revenge and desire for combat. They have had their Buddha and now they have their Gandhi. Christians have their saviour and their St. Francis of Assisi. But both the whites and the browns still plan their gunboats, armored airplanes and submarines, poison gases and air bombs for the annihilation of our fellow man.

The mystery of common colds, which has baffled the scientific pundits since Diogenes left his tub and sneezed, is nearing a solution. Dr. E. V. McCollum of Johns Hopkins university thinks he finds the cause of the ailment in a deficiency of certain nutritive elements in diet products. He finds that foods rich in vitamin "A" tend to build up in the body a defense against colds. A diet poor in this vitamin makes one susceptible.

Vitamin "A" is found in butter, whole milk, yolk of eggs, spinach, water cress, lettuce, celery, turnip, radish and beet tops. A radish a day may keep the doctor away sooner than an apples, especially as apples are so busy these days keeping people employed. A bowlful of spinach each morning and a beet top each night may keep girls still "kissable." Turnips and celery shoulds always be on hand.

The decision of the legislature in Trinidad to introduce a divorce bill meets with the protests of 15,000 Anglicans and Hindus. To them the idea of divorce is still an irreligious one, the instrument of the devil, and must be opposed with all the fanaticism at their command. A similar bill offered in 1926 was so furiously attacked that it was hastily withdrawn.

Contrarly to belief, the yoke of slavery, physical, mental and moral, is borne willingly by many people, especially the backward races. Offer liberty to an African muleteer and he'll despise you and suspect you. Subservience to his chief means more to him than all the freedom in the world. So with adherence to tradition. Try to change the customs of the ignorant and they will trample you to death, as they have done times without number to the noblest leaders.

The Rev. Eliot White, dismissed New York clergyman, an advocate of companionate marriage, adopts the methods of labor unions by hanging a protest sign around his neck and picketing at the door of the synod house of the cathedral of St. John the Divine. He intends to continue picketing until Bishop Manning drives him away or invites him in.

The sign depending from the clergyman's neck reads: "Bishop, I Ask You for Justice." That is asking too much. Pope Hildebrand died an exile because, as he said, he "loved justice and hated iniquity." The chances of Rev. Mr. White ending in exile are very good.

One of the worst and wickedest cities in the world is Irkutsk, in Siberia. With a population of 120,000, as many as 500 murders are committed there every year. Arrests average only one in 50 murders and only one-half the arrests are followed by convictions.

Gentlemen Gangsters

THE rise of the gangster from criminality to respectability is not a new thing under the sun. In the old days robber chieftains often retired, in the fullness of time, to placidity under the shadow of a country mansion. In more recent days such men as Pancho Villa have given up the excitement of the chase to go back to rural simplicity and peace. And now, unless dispatches from Los Angeles are in error, Al Capone is feeling the same urge.

Capone, it seems, has his eye on a vast rancho in California. It is a huge tract of land that has been under cultivation since the early days of the Spanish occupation; a tract 35 miles long and approximately half as wide, running down to the Pacific and boasting of a fine old adobe ranch house bordered by abundant sycamore trees.

Capone would like to have this rancho for his own. Its broad acres are wide enough to form an attractive principality even for one accustomed to rulership in Chicago. Peace and quiet are to be had there, with rolling green fields and herds of contented cattle to soothe the eye.

Now California, probably, will see to it that the transfer does not take place. But the thought is attractive, nevertheless. There are things in this dull world worth giving much to see, and one of them is the ex-gang leader of Chicago ending his days as a country gentleman, entering prize cattle in the local stock shows and beaming with pride as his tomatoes and plums win fame at county fairs.

Life would be peaceful, but there would be diversions. On the hills of this ranch there is said to be buried treasure, hidden there by the Spanish padres years ago when brigands raided the place. Cannot one picture Senor Capone, pickaxe over his shoulder and pack mule trudging alongside, faring forth to delve for lost diamonds and plate? And is it hard to imagine him in chaps and sombrero, turning into a vaquero and riding his estate to see that all went well?

Really great brigands usually do manage to end their days in some such way as this. There seems to come a time when banditry, if only it is bold enough and successful enough, confers a sort of immunity on its author. The lawless men of other days who went to the country in the sere and yellow and laid their weapons aside to take up ploughs and spades usually managed to get away with it.

Retribution has a way of faltering and losing its voice in the presence of such men. Will we, do you suppose, yet see the underworld king of Chicago living out a life of peace on a somnolent country estate?

How to Live Cheaply

WITH the annual income tax struggle still fresh in memory to point to the flattened condition of the family pocketbook, two items in the day's news should win ready attention.

One is the announcement that two Boston college girls have found it possible to live comfortably on $6.25 a week. They have undertaken to find out by actual experience what is the minimum cost of healthy existence. The experiment is sponsored by the Women's Educational and Industrial Union of Boston and the girls, students at Simmons college, will receive scholastic credit for their effort. They spend the weekly $6.25 as follows: $3 for rent; $2.15 for food; 41 cents for gas and light; 20 cents for laundry, and 49 cents for incidentals. The girls believe their findings will be useful to the Massachusetts legislature in connection with the operation of the recently enacted old age pension law.

The other news item is the report that Elmer E. Wilson, Baltimorean, has been able to keep his 10 children well fed by spending between $8 and $9 a week for groceries. Wilson wants to know what all this talk about "hard times" is about. The Wilson children's ages range from 16 months to 15 years. Doctors report they are all robust and apparently flourishing on their present diet.

Harassed heads of households may be skeptical about these figures. Prices in particular localities may have had something to do with each case. Certainly neither allotment makes provision for luxuries. Nevertheless, here is evidence that, given proper conditions, it is actually possible to make that old tyrant, the Family Budget, budge.

The High Cost of Thinking

BRAIN workers ought not to take too much to heart the disconsolate news Dr. George W. Crile, renowned surgeon, gave the Southern Surgical congress at Atlanta the other day.

Discoursing on the results of some of his researches, the noted scientist declared that the thinkers, the leaders of modern civilization, are more susceptible to sickness and disease than are other classes. "Their high mental activity," he asserts, "may and often does wear out the entire physical mechanism."

A glance about us, however, should reassure rather than discourage the brain workers. Regardless of all that has been said about the killing pace of our nervous existence, we find among the most prominent "leaders of modern civilization" men who have lived beyond the biblical span and who are still hearty and active. We have only to consider Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes, John D. Rockefeller Sr., George F. Baker, all beyond 90, and youngsters like Elihu Root, 85, Thomas Edison, 83, and Cyrus Curtis, 80.

The ability of the mentally active to withstand sickness depends largely, we think, upon his mode of living rather than the intensity of his concentration. To live rightly as a youth is the safest assurance against bodily ills. Thereafter the important thing is to balance discretely play and work, relaxation and concentration.

Big Business Girl . . By One of Them

INSTILLMENT XXIV

"Hello, Claire. How are you?" Mac was puzzled for a moment. She had to think. "It's R. J.—not gone, but completely forgotten," he laughed deeply.

"Oh, of course not—of course I haven't forgotten you. How are you?" Mac tried to keep the surprise out of her voice. And then the buzzer rang. "Excuse me a moment, my bell is ringing." Mac put down the phone. She had not expected to be telephoning when Johnny arrived. She was very confused. R. J. calling her at this hour—Johnny's arrival. She crossed over to the door quickly. Johnny stood there. She drew him into the room.

"I've a phone call. I'm sorry. I'll be with you in a minute." She hurried back to the desk and sat down with her back to him. Johnny looked around quickly and raised his chin a quarter of an inch. He went instinctively to the radio to listen while Mac resumed her conversation.

"Hello. Sorry." Mac didn't say anything more. Let R. J. explain this call!

"It's such a hot night, I thought I might pick you up and drive you along the lake for an hour. May I? If you weren't in bed."

"No, I wasn't in bed," Mac protested, "But I can't go. I'm sorry. It was awfully nice of you to think of it." Johnny made signs at her back to go by all means.

"Perhaps some other night this week, then. Can you have dinner with me tomorrow?" he persisted.

"I'm going East tomorrow—on business," she added. "Perhaps when I come back—" she trailed the rest of the sentence. She didn't want to encourage him; she didn't want to be abrupt.

"Why, congratulations, Claire. Big business girl now, are you? I always thought you had the stuff—you know that. I'll call you when you get back. Goodby. Good luck."

She turned to Johnny, far from calm. When she had dropped on the divan and curled bare ankles under her, Johnny sat down again one the stiff little chair before the radio.

"Care if I listen to the rest of this?" he murmured. "This is marvelous. The orchestration is perfect."

Music was the only thing that mattered with Johnny—music and love. It was thrilling to Mac to see him so tense and serious about his work. Perhaps he had changed. She wanted to know how it had all happened. Perhaps Ruth had been able to do more than she had.

"Turn it off, won't you?" Mac requested. "I want to talk."

She rested her head against the back of the divan, looked down her warm, rounded cheeks through thick black lashes at him, hiding the thoughts that were in her eyes.

"What about Ruth?" she asked quickly.

"She was driving out to Sky Harbor to see the endurance flight. She and her gang were going up. You know she comes from Chicago."

"No, I didn't know," Mac answered. "Where did she go to school?"

"Well, she went a year to Western, but brother met her at Northern California. They've only been married a year—just as long as we were—" he added, looking down at his drink, "but I think it's going to last."

Johnny wasn't married again! Ruth was his sister-in-law, not the "Mrs. Goodman," she thought. Mac was so startled, she almost gave it away.

"But I thought—" she began, and then broke the sentence there.

"I'm staying with Ruth's family," Johnny explained. "Ralph couldn't come East this summer—couldn't afford it, so I chaperoned Ruth. I and all the rest of the gang. She had a lot of punishment to take on the way here, but she's a peach and knows how to handle 'em."

Mac did remember now—Ralph and Ruth. "Mrs. Goodman." Why was she relieved? Did she want to begin all over?

She took his glass and made him a second drink. "Want a big club sandwich with this? I'll order two. I could eat about this time of night."

The wide flare of Mac's pajama legs blew back as she moved to the phone. Her pink heels flapped against golden kid.

"I heard all the Songs for a Girl I love—I remembered a lot of things."

"I thought you'd forgotten a lot of things," he looked at her soberly. "That's just part of the nightly program. They eat it up."

Johnny wasn't being nice. His drinks were making him brood.

The sandwiches came. It was easier talking this way. More intimate, Mac told him about her work.

Johnny helped Mac put the tray and dishes in the kitchenet. A determination—a daring one—had been forming in her mind. She had often thought that a modern girl had every right to propose marriage to any man she wanted. She wasn't asking for anything—so long as she earned enough to support herself. She was really giving more than the man taking the responsibility of a home as well as a job. Mac wanted Johnny again. But she could see that his pride was hardening on him like a coating of cement. She didn't need to have any pride. And the grievance was his, of course.

Mac leaned forward to reach the ashtray, brushing her hand against Johnny's. They caught each other's hands in a flash, as though there was no passage of time as swift as their touching. The blood in Johnny's bronzed skin rose. He examined Mac's fingers thoughtfully, closed them into a fist, got up from the divan and went into the kitchenet. She heard him putting more ice into a glass, pouring himself another highball. Mac did not say a thing. When he came back, she looked at him openly.

"You know what I want, Johnny."

"No. I've never known." It was a very grown-up speech for such a little boy.

"I want you."

"No you don't. You never did." He wouldn't smile at her.

"I always did. I never wanted anything else. Do you mind if I ask you to marry me? I can do that now that I'm an independent woman."

A great eagerness came into his eyes, but he held back. "You don't need to remind me how independent you are, I know! First you don't want me; now you think you do. What's changed you?"

And then Mac told him all the things she had been thinking. How lonely it was to live without anyone who cared. How futile to experience falling in love with a series of men just to fill in the time and for the sake of "learning about love." How she really wanted a home of her own—something to build on. She wanted to keep her job always—at least until she grew tired of it.

"Who were you talking to when I came in? Who is calling you up at all hours of the night? Johnny asked suspiciously. Mac was glad that some one could be that jealous over her, foolish as it seemed.

"That was some one I haven't heard from in a long time—and won't again. He wanted to take me riding on a nice evening. That's all."

"What are you earning now?" he asked next, defensively. "What do you pay for this apartment?"

Mac told him.

"I'm beating that at the moment. But it will be over in the fall. And then what? Gigolo husband? No, sir! I've talked it all over with Ralph. We think these young husbands with successful business girls for wives are pretty sad. I don't want to marry again until I can support my wife. I don't want you to have to work."

"What else can happen, Johnny, with the economic situation as it is? You'll be past 30 before you can really afford a wife. Isn't it better for a girl to augment her husband's income with one that will get them things faster? I won't support you. I'll support myself. And I shall always be depending on you in the future to provide for me when I get sick and tired of a 9 to 5 office existence."

It was so odd to have to be arguing this way when she had thought last October that such marriages were all wrong. She had never seen Johnny so earnest, so stubborn.

"I don't mind putting out the milk bottles, Mac, but how do you suppose I'm going to feel when I'm introduced as 'Miss MacIntyre's husband'?"

"Oh, Johnny!" Mac laughed. "Wouldn't you like to live here, darling? Wouldn't it be nicer than living with Ruth's family, even though this is so small?"

He was still afraid of her—of what she could do to him. He wanted more time to think. There were plenty of places open for him when this contract expired—he needn't worry about money. And he'd never really had Mac. Their marriage had been so sketchy.

And Mac looked sad to him. It must be true. She was lonely and she needed him.

He got up once more from the divan—Mac was too close to him—and fussed with the radio. He got a New York station, Somebody's roof. "What is this thing called love? This funny thing called love?" It broke into his unusual mood. He began to sing the words and move his feet. He pulled Mac up and carried her lightly across the room in a series of quick dips. "Oh, who can solve its mystery? Why should it make a fool of me?" He looked gravely into her eyes. "I saw you there one wonderful day. You took my heart and threw it away. That's why I ask the Lord in heaven above, what is this thing called love?"

He held her firmly to him and once more sanw all the words a against her cheek.

Answers to Questions

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Any reader can get the answer to any question by writing to our Information Bureau in Washington, D. C. This offer applies strictly to information. The bureau can not give advice on legal, medical and financial matters. It does not attempt to settle domestic troubles, or undertake exhaustive research on any subject. Write your question plainly and briefly. Give full name and address and enclose two cents in coin or stamps for return postage. The reply is sent direct to the inquirer. Address the Record News Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, director, Washington, D. C.

Q.—Who is called the Henry Ford of England?—P. D. B.

A.—Sir William Morris, Bt., is known as the Henry Ford of England. His plants are located at Cowley, England. His plants now turn out about 60,000 cars a year, which is about three-eights of the total output. He specializes in light, low-powered cars, and it is said that his employes are paid above the average wages.

Q.—What city was the first settled in Ohio?—E. U.

A.—Marietta was the first settlement within the present limits of Ohio. It was founded in 1788 by Rufus Putnam and a colony from New England under the authority of the Ohio company. It was named in honor of Marie Antoinette.

Q.—Why is the Congregational church so called?—C. B. W.

A.—It derives its name from its fundamental principle in discipline, that each congregation is an independent body, having a right to elect or depose its pastors, settle all disputes regarding matters of faith, and exercise necessary discipline over its members without the interference of the other congregations.

Q.—Did Sir Walter Raleigh visit North America?—E. C.

A.—He did not. He sent expeditions to Virginia in 1584, 1585, 1586, 1587 and 1589, but Queen Elizabeth would not permit him to accompany the expeditions. Later, however, he did visit South America.

Q.—How many years did Ty Cobb play baseball?—N. B.

A.—He played 24 years, participated in 3,033 games, was at bat 11,429 times, made 2,244 runs and 4,191 hits.

Q.—Lately a radio speaker attributed the expression, "Hobson's choice," to Captain Hobson's feat in Santiago bay. Isn't the expression older than that?—A. N.

A.—Tobias Hobson, who died in 1630, was the first man in England to let out hackney horses. When a man came for a horse he was led to the stable where there was a great choice of animals, but he was obliged to take the horse which stood next to the stable door, so that every customer alike was well served according to his choice. Therefore, it became a proverb that when what ought to be one's selection was forced upon one to say, "I'll take Hobson's choice."

Q.—Where is the school established that is sometimes called the West Point of the Air?—V. V.

A.—The school which is being built at Randolph Field, San Antonio, Texas, is to be for the training of the flying cadets. At the present time, however, these cadets are trained at Brooks Field, Texas, and March Field, California.

Q.—What language is spoken in Yugoslavia?—J. V.

A.—The principal language is what is know nas Serbo-Croation. It is spoken by nearly nine million out of a total of twelve million people.

Q.—Do magpies chatter as much as that phrase indicates?—T. H.

A.—The biological survey says a magpie does not talk very much. This, however, depends on the individual bird and its training.

Q.—How is waxed paper made?—M. D.

A.—The term "waxed" as applied to paper means that the paper has been given a coating of paraffin wax. The coating is usually accomplished by passing a paper through a bath of molden wax and subsequently through squeeze rolls to remove the excess wax and smooth the coating.

Q.—In planning a budget, how much should be allowed for medical costs?—C. L.

A.—Five per cent is the amount usually allotted on a budget for medical and dental expenses. The amounts allotted for various things vary with the amount of income and the number of persons for which the budget provides.

Q.—Did the confederacy have a written constitution?—A. A.

A.—It had. It was adopted by the congress of the confederate states of South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana and Texas on March 11, 1861.

Q.—What is the origin of the term, bar sinister?—M. B. J.

A.—It is derived from a heraldry term, baton sinister, and signifies illegitimate birth.

Q.—Did Washington wear a wig?—V. E.

A.—He did not. He wore his own hair powdered and tied back.

EASTER SUGGESTIONS

After the Lenten season of rest the world seems anxious to put on its "party clothes" and entertain. It affects the young and old alike. The Easter color scheme of lavender, yellow or pale pink may be carried out in the menu and table decorations or chicks, ducklings, old mother hens, Easter bunnies, Easter eggs, etc., may be arranged effectively for such an occasion.

But the question is what shall we serve? The Easter repast found its origin in the old pagan feast to the goddess of spring and through the centuries it has been customary for hostesses to serve something unusually dainty and tempting. The heavy foods that are served during the winter months should be discarded. The dessert should be light, evanescent, almost ephermeral in quality. For this reason dishes composed in part of whipped cream, or the feathery, foamy white of eggs or something equally alluring are in order.

The salad too, must partake of the joyousness and lightsomeness of the season. French dressing or some of its many variations is more appropriate for Easter salads than the heavy mayonnaise or whipped cream dressing. The latter may be used however, at luncheons or suppers if only a few dishes are offered.

The following recipes meet the above requirements and may be used for many occasions during the spring months:

Emerald Salad

One package lime jell-o.
One cupful shredded carrots.
One small can grated pineapple.
One-third cupful chopped nuts.
Two cupfuls pineapple juice and water (boiling).
One and one-half tablespoonfuls vinegar.
One-half teaspoonful salt.

Dissolve the jell-o in the boiling water; add pineapple juice, vinegar and salt; cool, ad carrots, grated pineapple and nuts. Turn into molds; chill until firm and serve on crisp lettuce leaves with mayonnaise dressing. Serves nine or ten.

Emerald Salad No. 2

Emerald salad has for its foundation either crisp, cold leaves of lettuce or romaine; green peppers one to each head of lettuce or romaine, watercress, tiny green onions in desired proportions and a few sprigs of parsley. Wash the lettuce or romaine and separate into leaves. Wash and drain the watercress and shred it coarsely, cut the onion fine and the peppers into long, very thin, almost transparent strips. Break the parsley into tiny sprays. Arrange the salad in a bowl, in layers, the lettuce first, then the other greens, with the pepper strips decorating the whole. Garnish with the bits of parsley. Serve with French dressing to which a spicy green cucumber pickle chopped fine has been added.

Green Turtle Soup

One can green turtle.
One quart stock.
Six peppercorns.
Six cloves.
Blade of mace.
One sprig summer savory.
One sprig thyme.
One small onion, sliced.
Two tablespoonfuls flour.
Two tablespoonfuls salted sherry.
One lemon.
Egg balls.
Two tablespoonfuls butter.

Remove meat from can of green turtle and cut in dice. Add liquid to stock with seasonings. Brown butter with sliced onion, add flour and brown, then add stock and stir until it boils; strain; add sherry, if desired, lemon thinly sliced, turtle dice, and egg balls. Reheat and serve.

Egg Balls

(a) Yolks two hard-cooked eggs.
One-eighth teaspoonful salt.
Few grains cayenne.
One-half teaspoonful melted butter.

Rub yolks through sieve, add seasonings and moisten with raw egg yolk to make of consistency to handle. Shape in small balls, roll in flour and saute in butter. Serve in soup.

(b) One hard cooked egg.
One-eighth teaspoonful salt.
Few grains cayenne.
One teaspoonful heavy cream.
One-fourth teaspoonful finely chopped parsley.

Rub yolk through a sieve, add whites finely chopped, and the remaining ingredients. Add raw egg yolk to make mixture of right consistency to handle. Shape in small balls, and poach in water, stock or, soup.

Hearts Lettuce—Fruited Dressing

Wash compact heads of lettuce and dry in a cloth; cut each head in halves, discarding the coarser outer leaves. Crisp on ice until just before serving time, then arrange on salad plates and pour the following dressing over it:

Fruited French Dressing

Blend together six tablespoonfuls of oil and two of lemon juice or grapefruit juice, mixing until thick. Then add one tablespoonful finely chopped candied cherries, the same quantity of chopped candied pineapple, and a teaspoonful of chopped candied orange peel. Season highly with paprika and daintily with salt. Serve as soon as possible after making the dressing or beat it well just before serving.

Plum Sherbet

One large can Damson plums.
One cupful sugar.
One cupful water.
Two cupfuls grape juice.
Powdered sugar.
Candied violets.

Put plums in saucepan, add sugar, bring to boiling point and cook until tender. Drain and remove stones. To the syrup add water and grape juice. Chill and freeze. Sprinkle plums with powdered sugar, place in individual glasses alternating with frozen sherbet. Garnish with candied violets and whipped cream and serve with little cakes decorated with lavender flowers.

Little Cakes

Three egg whites.
Three egg yolks.
One-half cupful sugar.
Four tablespoonfuls melted butter.
One teaspoonful lemon extract.
One-half cupful flour.
One teaspoonful baking powder.
One-eighth teaspoonful salt.

Beat egg whites until stiff and dry, adding half the sugar. Beat yolks until very light, adding remaining sugar gradually, butter, melted but not hot, and flavoring. Fold in a portion of the egg white, then fold in the flour sifted with baking powder and salt. Fold in remaining egg whites. Bake in cake pan about seven inches square, greased and floured. When cold cut in four stripe each way, spread sides with frosting and sprinkle with finely chopped cocoanut, colored lavender with purple color paste diluted with water. Frost the top with plain frosting and garnish with tiny flowers of lavender frosting with green stems, using a pastry bag.

Easter Dresden Cream

Easter dresden cream is one of the most delicate and exquisite desserts that can be made. It is quite simple to make although it sounds elaborate. For a party of six persons use four eggs, four lady fingers, one-half cupful of sugar, one-quarter packet of gelatin (half an envelop), one-quarter cupful of blanched and shredded almonds, half a pint of whipping cream, a teaspoonful of vanilla, half a teaspoonful of almond extract and two ounces of candied violets.

Soak the gelatin in one-quarter cupful of cold water and break the lady fingers into small pieces, but do not crumble; beat the yolks of the eggs to a stiff foam with the sugar and add the flavorings, then stir in the lady fingers lightly. Dissolve the gelatin over hot water and beat the whites of the eggs to a stiff froth; whip the cream solid and add to it the liquified gelatin and the egg whites; beat for a moment, then stir in the egg-yolk-lady-finger mixture, stir lightly and gradually add the fruit, nuts and half the violets, crushed. When all is well mixed pour into a mold dipped in cold water and set away to chill for several hours. Turn out on a plate covered with a lace-paper doily and garnish with the rest of the violets. (This mixture may be molded in individual molds also.) If it is impossible to obtain candied violets, though most confectioners will furnish them if they are ordered a day in advance, substiute candied cherries in making the cream and decorate the dish with fresh violets and ferns or make the candied violets yourself.

Candied Violets

Remove the stalks from a pound of violets and rinse them in cold water, then spread them on a towel to dry. Cook a pound and a quarter of sugar to the soft-ball stage, remove from the fire and add the violets; press them down under the syrup, then return to fire and let boil up once, then transfer, at once, to a cold dish. The next day drain violet on a sieve. To the syrup add half a cup of sugar and cook again to the soft-ball stage; put in the flowers and set aside for 12 hours; drain again, heat to the boiling point and add the violets. Remove from the fire and stir the violets lightly, until the syrup begins to grain, then pour on two sheets of paper; shake and separate the flowers carefully with the hands, and, when dry, pick them from the granulated sugar. Rose petals and mint leaves may be candied in the same manner. Add a cup of water to the sugar when setting it over the fire to cook.

Asparagus Eggs With Hollandaise

There is no sauce which quite comes up to Hollandaise to accompany eggs served as a luncheon or supper dish. To make the sauce, place in a small saucepan which may be set in another pan of hot water, two unbeaten egg yolks, three tablespoonfuls of butter and one tablespoonful of mild vinegar or lemon juice. Stir until these are mixed; then place over the hot water and stir steadily until the butter melts and the mixture thickens. Do not let the water in the pan beneath begin to boil, and lift the saucepan from the water to prevent the overcooking of the eggs, while adding three more tablespoonfuls of butter. Steadily stir and as the butter melts add a final two tablespoonfuls of butter, one-fourth teaspoonful of salt and a shake of cayenne pepper. Beat until smooth and glossy. Keep warm but on no condition let it cook any more. Prepare quickly six rounds of toast and six poached eggs and have ready 20 or 24 hot asparagus tips either canned or freshly cooked. On each piece of toast place a poached egg; on each egg lay three or four asparagus tips; over all pour a spoonful of the sauce. Serve with plain lettuce salad at a simple meal.

Easter Salad

Six slices pineapple.
One cupful double cream.
One-fourth cupful mayonnaise.
Six canned apricots (halves).
One-fourth pound American cheese.

Place pineapple on crisp lettuce leaves; fill center with cheese, combined with enough mayonnaise to moisten; add the one-fourth cup of mayonnaise to the stiffly beaten cream and cover pineapple and cheese with the mixture. Drain apricots and place a half in the center of pineapple with the rounded side up. Sprinkle paprika over the apricot.

Peanut Muffins

Two cupfuls graham flour.
One teaspoonful sugar.
Four teaspoonfuls baking powder.
One and a fourth cupfuls milk.
Two tablespoonfuls melted fat.
One egg.
One-half cupful salted peanuts.
One-half teaspoonful salt.

Chop the peanuts; sift the dry ingredients and combine. Beat the egg and blend with the milk and shortening; combine the dry and liquid ingredients with not more than 20 swift strokes of a spoon. Fill greased muffin rings two-thirds full and bake in an oven of 400 degrees Fahrenheit for 20 minutes.

Heaven's Food

An elaborate cake is called heaven's food. For the first layer use:

Four egg whites.
Three egg yolks.
One-fourth teaspoonful cream of tartar.
One cupful sugar, granulated.
One-fourth teaspoonful salt.
One cupful pastry flour.

Beat the whites of the eggs with the salt and cream of tartar to a stiff fine froth; add the sugar and beat again. Then add the yolks of the eggs, which have been whipped light and thick, and finally fold in the flour. Bake in a round pan, which has been buttered well and floured. Bake about one hour at 340 degrees Fahrenheit. Turn out to cool. Then prepare the second layer as follows:

One and one-half squares of unsweetened chocolate.
Four tablespoonfuls water.
Two tablespoonfuls gelatin, granulated.
One cup thick cream.
One cupful sugar.
One and one-half cups thin cream or milk.
One-half teaspoonful vanilla.

Dissolve the chocolate in the water, over hot water; then add the sugar, cream and vanilla and cook over hot water three or four minutes. Add the gelatin which has been softened in two tablespoonfuls of cold water, and stir until dissolved. Then remove from the fire and cool, whipping frequently until cold and half congealed. Arrange a row of macaroons all around the edge of the cake, placing them close together; then fold a cupful of whipped cream—measured after whipping—into the gelatin mixture and spread thickly over the cake. Chill by setting in the refrigerator, then decorate the top of the cake with rosettes of whipped cream, using the remainder of the cream, slightly sweetened and delicately flavored with almond extract.

WAY OPEN FOR HIGHWAY WORK

Childress Grading to Get Underway

Special to The Record News

CHILDRESS, Texas, April 3.—With the right of way for highway four from its intersection with highway five to a point about one mile south secured, it is expected this section of the highway will be graded within a few weeks. The highway is graded to the south line of the county at this time.

On this section there is to be a large underpass built under the tracks of the Fort Worth & Denver railway tracks. Plans for this work have been completed and it is expected this work will be started within a short time. The work will cose about $50,000 dollars, outside of the grading.

Sumner D. Bacon, county highway engineer, reports paving on highway five, will be completed within 10 days provided weather conditions will permit the continuance of the work. But the paving has to remain in a seasoning process for 28 days before it is permitted to be used.

With the completion of this paving there will be a paved highway from this city to the north line of Hall county, about three miles north of Memphis.

Takes Sentence To Protect Her Husband

JOLIET, Ill., April 3. (INS)—Mrs. Hazel Willard, 22, appearing before the legislative committee investigation the state prisons, today revealed she took a maximum sentence on a charge of receiving property stolen from railroads at Herrin, Ill., rather than implicate her husband.

She told the legislators she stood adamant against the suggestions of Chairman W. C. Jones and Thomas H. Cannon of the parole board to give evidence against her husband in return for consideration she might receive from the board. She is serving from one to ten years in the women's prison.

At a previous hearing it was stated that the late Ward Thompson of Rockford, then a member of the board, had promised her clemency if she would give testimony against her husband.

TEACHERS TAKE TESTS

Three applicants for elementary teachers' certificates began writing examinations in the office of County School Superintendent J. A. Hood Friday morning, but one of the trio withdrew his application during the afternoon, it was said. None of the four other persons from whom applications have been received had reported Friday evening. Examinations may be started Saturday morning, however, Mr. Hood said, if the other applicants show up.

Poultry Program To Be Mapped In Chillicothe Meet

Special to The Record News.

CHILLICOTHE, Texas, April 3.—E. E. Jordan, president of the Chillicothe Valley Poultry association, has called a meeting for the directors Tuesday night, April 7, at 7:30, to be held at the chamber of commerce office of this city.

At that time it is hoped a program of work will be mapped out for the association. Much good can be done if all the directors and members will show an interest in the work of this poultry association, the chairman asserted. All directors are urgently requested to attend and get matters shaped so that work can be started at once. The following communities have directors in the association: Kings High, Medicine Mound, Elm Grove, Jackson Springs, Midway, Big Valley, Farmers Valley, Star Valley, Clark and Chillicothe.

The letter dropped to the porch floor. "Wonderful bravery," said Helen aimlessly . . . "No, I guess I haven't any bravery. I haven't anything"

Tommy and Helen took hands and went down by the short path which led to the space by the brook. She knelt by the basket, pretending to be housewifely with shaking, thrilled hands, but he took her around the waist and pulled her away.

"That'll keep. Darling, I have gorgeous news. Listen."

They sat down together against a big tree.

"I'm listening. Here, I can't listen and be kissed both."

"Alternate 'em . . . Paradise for two!" Tommy sang loudly.

"Helen, we're going to be married, can you believe it?"

Gaining Strength

It is a curious fact that those who have little or no physical work to do often complain of being more tired than those who are doing actual hard physical labor. It is difficult to mind a man who has been doing daily labor for years who is really exhausted because of the work he has done during the day.

Many of the patients who complain of being most tired actually have no physical work to do. These people are not really lazy, and in many cases they are not really sick. They are suffering from asthenia or a loss of strength. Asthenia has been called the most common disorder in America. It is undoubtedly the reason why we spend so many millions of dollars on alcoholic drinks, tonics, tea, coffee, candy and stimulants. It seems that these tired people are willing to use any means which promises to give them relief from feeling tired, even if the stimulation lasts only a few minutes. Such people may complain of weak nerves, flabby muscles, no ambition, no desire to stick to work, cold hands and feet, lack of endurance, irritation, and a feeling that life is treating them unfairly, low resistance especially to colds, constipation, sleep that does not rest, etc.

Of course, one with some serious disease such as tuberculosis or cancer will feel a general asthenia, but I am referring now to the average person in whom no serious disorder has developed, but who nevertheless feels tired all the time.

A tired person is poisoned by his own wastes. Fatigue which persists in spite of plenty of rest is nature's warning that the waste poisons of the body are not being thrown out fast enough. If you are always tired and need more than eight hours' sleep, then you may be sure that some of your daily habits of living are wrong, producing toxic poisons within the body.

The most common wrong habits of living which bring on fatigue are overeating, mental tension, not enough exercise and constipation. If you feel lazy you may have eaten too much rich food. Food taken in excess of the body's needs almost always acts as a poison. If your muscles are weak it is because you do not taken enough of the right kind of exercise to keep them in good condition. Poor mental habits, such as worry, fear or intolerance, always waste the nerve energy and bring on enervation. Poisonings from wastes in the colon always bring on a persistent tiredness both from the absorption from poisons and from pressure in the lower colon.

If you are always tired you should realize that you can overcome this by obeying this simple rule: Eat less, keep mentally calm, take more exercise and keep the bowels open.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Tobacco Field

Question—H. N. I. writes: "I have been a terrible tobacco fiend for about 45 years, and I am tired of using it, but it seems I can't give it up. Will you kindly advise me what to do and oblige?"

Answer—The easiest way to cure the tobacco habit is to take a fruit juice fast, using only small amounts of any kind of acid fruit juice. While fasting one does not enjoy the taste of tobacco, as it has a taste like dried grass. If you really desire to cure this habit the fruit fast combined with the use of your will power will in a few days bring about an easy cure.

Honey

Question—G. C. asks: "Is honey a wholesome food? If so, what will it best combine with and in what quantity should it be used?"

Answer—Honey is a wholesome sugar and may be used wherever any other sugar could be used in a good combination. The fact is, sugar does not combine very well with other foods. The best way to use honey is in sweetening lemonade.

Eczema

Question—D. D. writes: "I have had several violet-ray treatments for an infection of the eyelid. These treatments cleared the part where the infection started, but it is slowly spreading from the eyebrow now. The doctor described it as an infection with an eczema condition. Could you tell me of anything that would cure it besides these treatments, as they are very trying. The lid is scaley and very red, although some days it changes to a yellow."

Answer—The only way for you to get a real cure is to adopt the right kind of a diet, being particularly careful about food combinations. Send your name and address with the necessary postage and I will send you an article on the cure of eczema.

Seymour Serenaders Give Benefit Show

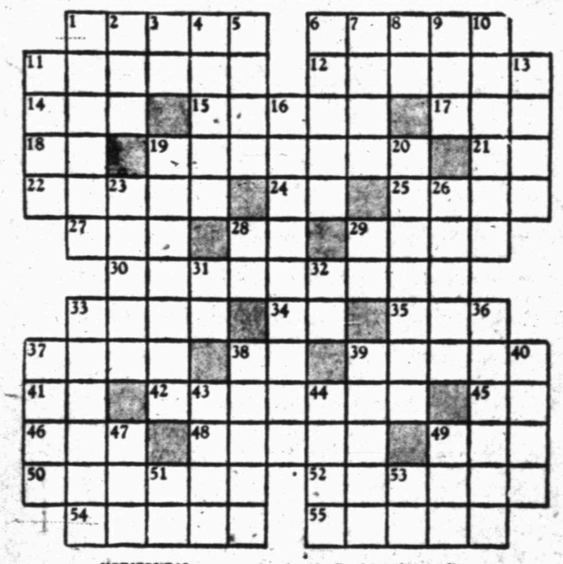

Special to The Record News.

SEYMOUR, Texas, April 3.—Seymour people were entertained Thursday night, April 2 at the city hall, by the Seymour Serenaders, 40 talented young musicians of this city under the direction of Mrs. E. D. Hageman.

The program opened at 7:30 o'clock to a good crowd. The kindergarten, grade school and high school orchestras all had parts in the program. The feature offering was the accordian quartet, composed of John M. Edwards, David Hageman, Neva Nell Hageman and Jack Tarver, whose ages average 6 years. These youngsters furnish excellent music in a group or in solo work. They have broadcast over the local radio station and have had invitations from other larger stations.

Mrs. Hageman was highly complimented on her excellent work with the various musical organizations of Seymour. The proceeds of this entertainment go to the local charity fund.

STEERS AND SPUDDERS BATTLE TEN INNINGS TO 3-ALL TIE

COLD WIND HALTS GAME

Contest Called on Account Of B. V. D.'s Says Ump

By FRED THOMPSON

"Called on account of B. V. D.'s."

Maybe that was not exactly what Umpire Neely Vaught said at the end of the bitterly cold tenth inning, but that's what League President Gardner said he made of it.

At any rate it was admitted that had everyone been equipped with red flannels the tie game between the Wichita Falls Spudders and the Dallas Steers might have been played off yesterday. But with that cold wind sweeping down upon a shivering crowd, the persons in authority decided to call it off after neither side had scored in the tenth. And so it ended, 3-all.

The Spudders received excellent pitching all the way, and so did the Steers, but neither side had the punch of Thursday. Two young Dallas hurlers, Lou Garland and Lefty Minogue, set the Spuds down with only five blows, and did the best pitching of the afternoon. Garland was weak in the first, letting the Spudders' three and only runs filter by him, but the southpaw Minogue was great, allowing only one hit, Ratliff's double in the seventh, and had Klinger, Steer right fielder, judged Ratliff's fly ball right Minogue would not have had the lone blow charged against him.

Steengrafe Starts

Old Maul 'Em Milton Steengrafe started for the Spuds, and had the new-fangled baseball breaking high, low and cross-wise during the four innings he pitched. Milt allowed only four blows during that time and was never in danger.

Doyle Taylor relieved him starting with the fifth and though his portside slants succeeded in whiffing a man in each of the three rounds he worked, they got to him in the sixth and seventh for the three tying runs. He was far from being bombarded, however, the Mavericks getting only four hits off him. One of the runs scored by the Steers was unearned.

Lester White finished, pitching the final three innings in great style and allowing only one hit, Todd's single in the tenth.

There were not as many fielding sensations as the Thursday game provided, but enough were there to give the freezing spectators a chance to yell a bit and get warm. One of the best was Kelly's catch of a high fly towards the last of the game. Herb made a sidelong run backwards and with the ball just about in reach he slipped down—but he caught the ball while prosprate on the ground and the ensuing yells from the loyal fans testified as to how good a catch it was. In the eighth Scharein duplicated Allday's feat of Thursday and speared a hot line drive while on the run. Dallas contributed its share of fielding thrills too, and Campbell's catch of Martin's high fly to center—after a long and hard run—dropped down the curtain on the tenth inning amidst applause.

Garland Tightens Up

At first it looked as if the Spuds were going to mop up on young Garland, the starting Steer pitcher. He walked the first two Spudders up, Garms and Allday. Kelly singled over second and the bases were loaded. The infield retired Badgro and Fuss. Scharein hit a high grounder, in front of the pitcher's box and beat it out, Garms scoring, Allday taking third, and Kelly second. Martin singled past third, scoring Allday and Kelly while Scharein took second. Bradbury walked to again load the sacks, but Steengrafe struck out to close the period. Garland thereafter held the Spuds scoreless for three innings.

The Steers pushed over their first run in the sixth, which opened with Taylor's pass to Klinger. Taylor struck out Holman, but Cotter singled to left, Klinger taking second. Todd hit to Taylor who threw to third for Klinger, but Garms was off the bag and this loaded the bases. Minogue flew out to Kelly and Klinger scored. Allday threw out Stewart for the third out.

In the next inning, the seventh, the Steers tied it up. With two out, Blakesley walked. Allday bobbled Klinger's grounder and Blakesley took second. Holman's double scored them both and then Cotter grounded out to Martin, unassisted.

The Spudders today meet the T. C. U. Horned Frogs at 3 p. m.

Mustangs Defeat Baylor Tracksters

DALLAS, April 3. (AP)—Surprising even their own Coach Stewart, the Southern Methodist thinly clads defeated the Baylor Bears in a dual track meet here today, 68-54. The Mustangs defaulted the mile relay to Baylor, but still won by 14 points. Strickland, Baylor, was high scorer with 15 points, but he got little help from his mates. Sprinters raced with a strong wind to their backs, and some good time was made.

Coombs to Coombs to Coombs—All Brothers on This Team

Up in the major leagues they think it's great to have a "brother battery" but here in Wichita Falls fans have long known of a whole baseball team composed of brothers. It is the Coombs Brothers nine, which toured the country two years ago, and which expects to again take to the road this year. The 1929 team is shown above, with its promoter, Dick Scoffield, who stands at the extreme left in civilian clothes. Reading left to right, the first player is Keith, 22, of Wichita Falls, who plays left field; the second Lon, of Salt Lake City, 26, who plays second base; the third is Herbert, 27, Wichita Falls, third baseman and pitcher; the next is Clarence, 34, of Frederick, Okla., catcher; the next two are Horace and Bryan, both of Wichita Falls, who play first base and right field, respectively; then comes Clyde, of Wheeler, Texas, center fielder; Ernest, of Wichita Falls, pitcher; and Archie, also of this city, who plays shortstop. At the extreme right is Major James, a first cousin to all the brothers, who sometimes dons uniforms for a utility role. The two lads in front are the other two Coombs brothers, who hope to some day don a baseball uniform themselves. The one at the left is Welner, 12, and the other is Lloyd, 9. The brothers change about in the lineup, and several are able to take the mound in case of emergency. The team expects to travel all over the Southwest this year, as soon as a promotor to book games is found.

TWO AMATEUR LOOPS ASSURED

City League Organizes; Five Teams in Commercial

By MACK TURNER

In an amateur baseball meeting at the office of C. C. Bunnenberg, city park commissioner, Friday night, two six-club leagues were assured Wichita Falls for the 1931 season.

Organization of the City league was definitely completed and the commercial league heads announced they had five entries and expected to enlist the sixth team by next Tuesday.

The six teams entered in the City league, the fastest of the two organizations, are Bailey-Moline Hardware company, Sullivan Grocery, Modern Woodmen, Pi Delta Koppa, I. O. Boosters and Star Transfer.

Bill Ward was re-elected president of the City league, August F. Starbeck was elected vice president and Dr. Fred Gross was elected secretary-treasurer. All protests will be taken before Al Parker, Bill Huff and Jim Galloway, who will act as a board of arbitration.

Another meeting of the City league will be held Monday night at the office of C. C. Bunnenberg at which time a schedule of 20 games will be drawn up. The league will play under the same rules and by-laws of the past with but one exception. This lone addition to the new rules is to keep the last year Panhandle team from walking away with the race. No more than three players of a list of 18 men will be allowed to play on one team in the City league. The list included such veteran stars of the past years as Coyal Francis, Lefty Cox, Pee Wee Hinds, Tank Horton, Riley Rawls, Raymond Windham, Lefty Robertson, Speck Roberts, Smoke Luphor, Bill Roper, Janeway, McLarry, Red Winniger and others of Panhandle fame. A player limit of 16 men was adopted.

The city league is the only one of the two leagues which elected to enter the state play-off this year. Each club is to bring up a list of their players for the Monday night meeting when they will be passed on.

The Commercial league had only five entries at the close of the meeting, but a sixth team is expected by Tuesday. The five teams to enter the loop were Dixon Sign company, Presbyterian church, the Bankers, Texas Electric Service company and the Pups. The Texas company had formerly announced intention to join, but withdrew from the league. This league will not enter the state play-off.

A schedule of 30 games will be drawn up, 15 to each half, with the season to start about April 15. The games this year will start at 5:30 and be seven-inning contests. A meeting to adopt the schedule and by-laws of the league will be held Tuesday night at the office of C. C. Bunnenberg.

Officers and officials of the Commercial league were elected for the coming year. Jim Galloway was elected president, Paul Whatley was elected secretary; Coyal Francis was appointed as umpire. Mack "Ichabod" Turner was appointed score keeper.

Dixon Sign company was represented at the meeting by L. B. Dixon. Larry Robertson represented the First Presbyterians, L. R. Thurman represented the Bankers, Paul Whatley represented the Texas Electric Service company team and C. W. Keyes the Pups.

The Dixon Sign company team will be closely watched this year. The team has no member above 17 years of age. An effort will be made to get the American Legion to back this team in the state and national junior championship competition.

A very bright outlook is in store for both leagues right now and much is expected from them. The meeting was sponsored by the Junior chamber of commerce with R. L. Mathis, chairman of the baseball committee, in charge.

Steers Open Series With Saints Today

DALLAS, April 3. (AP)—The Dallas Steers tomorrow will open an exhibition series against the St. Paul Saints of the American association. Ralph Erickson, left-hander, was expected to be the Steers' starting pitcher. Lefty Liefeld, Saint manager, did not announce his starting chunker.

Baseball Nine Made Up of Brothers, Most of Them Wichitans, Plans Tour

The Coombs Brothers' baseball nine—widely known in the Southwest two years ago when it toured several states, is to reorganize this year and expects to again take to the long road that leads to baseball fame.

The team won recognition in its former tours by the brand of baseball they played but the team's best drawing card is that it is made up of nine brothers—nine children of a family of 15, there being two other brothers and four sisters. Most of the family reside in Wichita Falls.

Herbert Coombs, one of the brothers who plays third base in the family team and who also occasionally takes a turn on the mound, is now herding the brothers together, and expects to have them all in training within the next week or so. The team is late getting started because some of the brothers were late in deciding to reorganize.

With plans afoot to not only tour Texas and Oklahoma, but Kansas and several other middle-western states, the main holdback at present, according to Herbert, is that the team lacks an up-and-coming promoter, a person skilled in the work of taking care of the team's business affairs and booking games all over the country. The team is on the lookout for such a promoter and applicants may address letters to Herbert Coombs in care of Box 113, Route one, Wichita Falls.

The tour of the team in 1929 took the brothers as far as Tennessee, home state of their father, T. L. Coombs. Baseball runs in the Coombs family, for before Mr. Coombs, senior, left his home in Tullahoma, Tenn., in 1899 he was recognized as the champion "one-eyed cat" ball player of his school. Mr. Coombs came to Oklahoma after leaving Tennessee, settled down on a farm, married and began raising a family. It grew until there was 15 children. All are living.

Three of the daughters reside here, Monette, 24, and Novela, 16, residing at 1815 Tenth street, while Patience, 14, resides with her mother and father on the Iowa Park road. A married daughter, Myrtle Bess Scott, lives in Calara, Okla.

SERVICES FOR ROCKNE TODAY

Many Prominent Figures Gather for Rites

SOUTH BEND, Ind., April 3. (US)—The body of Knute Rockne was brought today from the unpretentious chapel where it had reposed back to the attractive brick and stucco Rockne home.

Tomorrow the great football strategist will sleep beneath the old Council Oak in Highland cemetery. It was here, according to history, that La Salle smoked the pipe of peace with the Indians.

Men, women and children passed the bier of Rockne today by the hundreds, but the casket remained closed.

Funeral services tomorrow will be without pomp or especial ceremony, but the whole nation will be able to hear the solemn words that are spoken and the heartfelt tributes to a great leader and a great man.

The services will be held at 3 p. m., central standard time in the Sacred Heart church at Notre Dame where Rockne and his family worshipped.

Rites to Be Broadcast

In two separate broadcasts, the rites will be heard. The Columbia network has completed arrangements to transmit the impressive ceremonies. The Chicago station, WGN, in an independent broadcast, also will carry the services.

Among the mourners here today were many nationally famous men. Mayor James J. Walker of New York, on his way home from the Pacific coast, came here to tell Mrs. Rockne personally of his sorrow at the death of her husband.

Representatives of the Norwegian consulate in Chicago came to tell Mrs. Rockne that Knute was to have been knighted by King Haakon VII of Norway for his unparalleled achievements and for his example of clean sportsmanship. The honor probably will be bestowed posthumously.

Those who stood by the casket of Rockne today as a guard of honor were Marchmont Schwartz, Frank Carideo, Larry Mullins, Ed Kosky, Al Culver, Joe Lauerman, Roy Bailie, Al Howard, Carl Cronin, Charles Palt, Alex Wilson, Brant Little, Gene Howery, Ralph Johnson, Bill Jones, Ed England and Art Bradley.

The active pallbearers tomorrow will be members of the famous 1930 football team which won the acknowledged national championship and the acclaim of many as the best team that Rockne ever developed, although Rockne himself never made this comparison.

Guard of Honor

Members of the 1914 football team, of which Rockne was a member, will form a guard of honor.

The Rev. Michael Mulcaire, vice president of Notre Dame and chairman of the board of athletic control, will be in charge of tomorrow's services. The Rev. Charles O'Donnell, president of the university, will pronounce the eulogy.

Thousands are expected at the services, but only 1,500 will be admitted to the church.

TOAD NETTERS WIN

DALLAS, April 3. (AP)—Taking three singles and one doubles match, the Texas Christian university tennis team of Fort Worth defeated the Southern Methodist Mustangs today, 4-2, in their dual meet.

King Beats Howell In Tennis Match

Rufus King continued his march toward the championship in the boys' elimination tennis tournament Friday when he defeated Neville Howell at the country club. King's first two foes had forfeited to him so this sent him into the semi-finals. This match was played in a high wind, and fancy playing was impossible.

Howell defeated Albert Cohen in a previous match Friday morning by the score of 6-2 and 9-7, but he made a mistake in playing Rufus the same day. Howell has the makings of a good tennis player but the match with Cohen had tired him out and Rufus proved too much for him.

King and Biedenharn are already in the semifinals waiting for further development in the other brackets. In the lower bracket it looks as though H. R. Hanks holds the upper hand while J. G. Dixon looks best in the other unfinished bracket. Many of the matches will be played today and Coach Henderson hopes to have the tourney played all the way up to the semifinals in all four brackets.

Cards Play Hischool

BRADENTON, Fla., April 3. (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals ended six weeks of spring training here today with a game with the Bradenton High school team for the benefit of the school athletic funds. As near as anyone could figure, the score was 14 to 3, the high school lads being on the small end. The Cardinals will not leave here until tomorrow night, but Manager Gabby Street has decreed a holiday tomorrow.

VAN WIE AND ORCUTT MEET

Finals in North-South Golf Tourney Today

By DILLON GRAHAM

PINEHURST, N. C., April 3. (AP)—Virginia Van Wie, of Chicago, for two years runnerup in the national women's championship, tomorrow will make her fifth attempt to win the North and South women's golf tournament, with the long-driving Maureen Orcutt, of Englewood, N. J., as her opponent.

These two today blasted their way through semifinal matches to gain entrance to the championship round. Miss Van Wie broke down a spirited bid from young Jane Brooks, Nyack, N. Y., to win on the back nine, 3 and 2, while Miss Orcutt also closed her match on the 16 green, defeating Mrs. O. S. Hill, of Kansas City, 4 and 2.

Five times in past few years Miss Van Wie has approached the championship only to lose. For three years running, 1927-1929, inclusive, she reached the finals, bowing once to Mrs. Hill and twice to Lenna Collett, the national champion. Last year she went out in the semifinals.

It took Miss Van Wie more than a half round to gain her putting touch and start winning in her match. Miss Brooks turned the ninth one up as Virginia roughed her tee shot on the ninth.

Both Mrs. Hill and Miss Orcutt started poorly, but Miss Orcutt gained the lead on the third by laying Mrs. Hill a stymie. She went two up on the fifth with a birdie three after halving the fourth. Another birdie on the fourth. Another birdie on the sixth put her three up and she made the turn with that advantage.

WOMAN CLUB OWNER WARNED

Tulsa Franchise Forfeited Until Park is Financed

TULSA, Okla., April 3. (AP)—The Tulsa Western league baseball franchise which was purchased last winter by Mrs. Lucille R. Thomas from the St. Louis Browns, was declared temporarily forfeited to the league by the league club owners tonight after a six-hour session.

The league officials decided Mrs. Thomas had not made a satisfactory showing that she was unable to build a baseball park in Tulsa.

It was agreed, however, to give Mrs. Thomas until Monday noon to complete her plans for financing the ball park. Today's emergency session was adjourned until that hour, and President Dale Gear of Topeka, Lee Keyser, Des Moines owner, and John Holland, Oklahoma City owner, were empowered to represent and act finally for the league. If on Monday Mrs. Thomas appears with the park financed she will get back the franchise.

If not, the league will assume charge of the Tulsa situation.

While the matter of the ball park is held in abeyance until Monday it was decided definitely by the club owners that Tulsa will be in the Western league this year.

"You may say," said President Gear, after the meeting was adjourned "that Tulsa positively will be in the league this season. We don't want to see Mrs. Thomas suffer, but in the event she is not able on Monday to go ahead with the construction of a baseball park the league will see that one is built. Tulsa fans may take that as official and final. Your city will be back in the league and we hope it is for good."

The Tulsa franchise was moved to Topeka, Kan., last year because of lack of a park here.

Atlanta Beats Yanks

ATLANTA, Ga., April 3. (AP)—The Yankees' big guns were silent today as the Atlanta club of the Southern association won its second game of the spring season from the American league organization, 8 to 4.

Score:			R.	H.	E.
New York	000	210	100	4	5	3

Baylors Beat Bucs

GALVESTON, April 3. (AP)—Del Pratt's Galveston Buccaneers lost the rubber contest with the Montreal Royals by a score of 7 to 9 at Brenham today.

The Royals tallied six times in the second stanza when Buc fielders erred frequently and Red Becker was driven from the mound.

Senators Tie

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., April 3. (AP)—"General" Al Crowder, first string Washington pitcher, hurled airtight ball today for six innings as the Senators tangled with Birmingham, but weakened in the final three and wound up with a 5 to 5 tie game in his glove.

The game was called after the ninth because of darkness.

Score—			R.	H.	E.
Washington	100	101	020	5	8	1
Birmingham	000	000	131	5	6	3

Crowder and Spencer, Bolton; Campbell and K. Taylor, Cooper.

Buffs Win

HOUSTON, April 3. (AP)—Two wild throws to first base in the seventh inning proved costly to the Northwestern university ball club here today and the Houston Buffs downed the Wildcats, 5-4. It was the final game of the tour for Coach Paul Stewart's team through Texas, the club winning one and losing six during the past week.

Score—			R.	H.	E.
Northwestern	003	000	010	4	8	4
Houston	002	000	30x	5	7	1

Kruft and Crezivsky; Klinger, Heise and Sheflott, Lackey.

Chisox Beat Travelers

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., April 3. (AP)—Red Faber and Tommy Thomas, two of the mysteries of the Chicago White Sox pitching staff, performed well enough today to give the Sox a 6-2 victory over the Little Rock Travelers.

Score—			R.	H.	E.
Chicago	112	200	000	6	17	0
Little Rock	001	000	010	2	11	0

Fort Worth Cats

FORT WORTH, April 3. (AP)—The Fort Worth Panthers embarked tonight on their first travels of the year when Manager Phelan and 17 players left for Brenham, where Saturday they meet the Montreal Royals in the first of a two-game series. After the games at Brenham Saturday and Sunday, the Cats halt at College Station Monday for an engagement with the Texas Aggies.

Fort Worth returns home Tuesday morning to begin their final training drive for the start of the season.

Browns Rained Out

KANSAS CITY, April 3. (AP)—The first game of a series of five between the St. Louis Browns and the Kansas City Blues of the American association was called off this afternoon because of wet grounds and cold weather.

Braves Whip Dodgers

MACON, Ga., April 3. (AP)—Red Worthington's home run in the 11th inning broke up a pitchers' duel and gave the Boston Braves a 5 to 3 victory over the Brooklyn Dodgers today.

Score:			R.	H.	E.
Boston	300	000	000	02	5	9	1
Brooklyn	102	000	000	00	3	10	0

McAfee, Cunningham, Brandt and Spohrer, Cronin; Luque, Thurston and Lopez.

Phils Trim A's

PHILADELPHIA, April 3. (AP)—Although outhit, the Phillies trimmed the world champion Athletics, 7 to 5, at Shibe park today as the two teams met in the first of a five-game series for the championship of Philadelphia.

Score:			R.	H.	E.
Philadelphia N	022	000	012	7	9	0
Philadelphia A	000	110	012	5	15	0

H. Elliott and Davis; Walberg, McDonald, Krause and Cochrane.

San Antonio Indians

SAN ANTONIO, April 3. (AP)—With small town teams setting a pace for the San Antonio Indians, as the Humble-Magnolia Oilers proved in Luling Thursday when they defeated the Tribe, 3 to 1, Manager Claude Robertson stepped on the gas as he put the Warriors through their drill in Texas League park Friday in preparation for the oncoming flag race.

For three hours he had the boys training their eyes and timing their swing on every kind of shoot and curve that his pitchers could put across as he made mental notes of his observation on progress in batting as well as pitching.

On Monday the Indians go to D'Hanis for a game with the Pirates of that city and on April 11 and 12 they will go to Del Rio for a couple of games with the Cowboys, leaving them two days to prepare for the opening Texas league game in Galveston on April 15.

EASTER RITES MOVED INSIDE

Program Revised For Services Sunday

mon treating of Christ's resurrection, and the modern significance of that event.

Union Program

The complete program was given as follows:

Chimes, call to worship, Mrs. J. W. Akin Jr.

"Hark, Ten Thousand Harps and Voices," congregational hymn led by W. L. Underwood.

Morning prayer, Rev. Claude E. DeWitt.

Scripture reading, Roy J. Daniel.

"Resurrection," (Grace Noll Crowell), Ella Merle Mathis Bristol, dramatic reader.

Sermon, "The Risen Christ," Dr. Gaines B. Hall.

"Christ Arose," hymn, Mrs. Stanley M. Raub, soprano.

Benediction, Rev. C. W. Thomas

Presiding minister, Rev. Patrick Henry.

Miscellaneous numbers written designedly for inclusion in worship services of the Easter season comprise the program for a sacred concert which will be evening service at the First Presbyterian church Sunday. Arranged by Mrs. A. H. Mahaffey, organist and musical director, the concert will introduce not only choral numbers with a large ensemble but other vocal selections with quartet and sextet combinations.

Instrumental Music

Instrumental music also has been given a conspicuous place on the program, violins combining with organ in two selections. Dr. George P. Horst, pastor, will preside. The concert has been arranged as follows:

Choir voluntary, "Lyra Davidica" (1708).
Invocation, the pastor.
"Adoration," (Borowski) Sam Wallace Jones, violin; Mrs. Mahaffey, organ.
"In the End of the Sabbath," (Speaks) Mrs. C. H. Evans, Jack McWilliams, and choir.
"There Is a Green Hill Far Away," (Gounod), Mrs. C. N. Cameron.
"Lift Up Your Heads," (Adams) Messrs. Underwood, McWilliams, Williams, and Bond.
"Christ the Lord Is Risen Today," (Bodine), Mrs. Robert Park, A. H. Mahaffey, and choir.
Scripture lesson and prayer, the pastor. Choral Amen. (Stainer).
"Feuillet d'Album," (Scriabine), Mrs. Alfred Miller, Miss Mathilde Donnell, William L. Donnell, violinists.
"God So Loved the World," from "Christ Triumphant," (Hine), chorale, Mesdames J. Will Gray, Kenneth Bebb, L. A. Spears, C. H. Evans, M. M. Garrett, and Miss Katherine Sullivan.
"The Glorious Morn," (Marsh), Mrs. W. M. Priddy.
Offertoire, "Pilgrim's Song of Hope," (Batiste), Mrs. Mahaffey.
"O Death, Where Is Thy Sting," (John Stainer), Mrs. Cameron, Ted Williams, Willard Underwood and choir.
Benediction, the pastor.
Organ meditation. Postlude.

The complete score of Sir John Stainer's "Crucifixion" will be sung by the choir of the First Methodist church at 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon, the oratorio being given under the direction of Mrs. Pearl Calhoun Davis, and presenting Walter Robbins, dramatic tenor, and Grover C. Bullington, basso, in solo roles. Mrs. J. W. Akin Jr. will be at the organ.

Brief Narration

An effectively abbreviated narration of the events of Passion Week comprise the text of the "Crucifixion." Both the male voices used in solo assignments are charged with carrying on the theme in brief but dramatic declarations. The background of majesty and beauty with which the oratorio abounds is given more to the exquisite choral passages, such as the exalting treatment of John III, 16, "God So Loved the World." Mr. Robbins and Mr. Bullington also will be heard in one duet movement, "So Thou Liftest Thy Divine Petition," following Jesus' sentence of intercession for those who crucified Him.

The oratorio will be given as follows:

Tenor solo, "And They Came to a Place Named Gethsemane."
Bass solo, tenor solo and chorus, "The Agony."
Organ, "Processional to Calvary."
Chorus, "Fling Wide the Gates."
Bass recitative, "And When They Were Come."
Chorus, "Cross of Jesus, Cross of Sorrow."
Bass recitative, "He Made Himself of No Reputation."
Tenor solo, "The Majesty of the Divine Humiliation."
Bass solo, "And as Moses Lifted Up the Serpent."
Chorus, "God So Loved the World."
Tenor and bass recitative, "Jesus Said, 'Father Forgive Them.'"
Duet, "So Thou Liftest Thy Divine Petition."
Bass recitative, "And One of the Malefactors."
Chorus, "The Adoration of the Crucified."
Tenor and bass recitative and male chorus, "When Jesus Therefore Saw His Mother."
Bass solo, "Is It Nothing to You?"
Chorus, "The Appeal of the Crucified."
Tenor solo and male chorus, "After This Jesus Knowing That All Things Were Accomplished."
Chorus, "For the Love of Jesus."

Another of the major, although shorter, oratorios will be sung at the First Christian church Sunday night at 8 o'clock, when a 30-voice chorus and five soloists will present A. R. Gaul's "The Holy City" under the direction of Mrs. Wayne J. Holmes, with Mrs. R. E. Strange at the organ.

Soloists for the oratorio are Mrs. W. L. Parker and Mrs. Ruby Trout, sopranos; Miss Harriett Bradley, contralto; R. E. Shepherd, tenor, and McGregor Brown, baritone.

Effective Setting

Many who have no acquaintance with the uplifting oratorio as a whole will recognize at once the peculiarly effective setting given by Gaul to the theme, "Eye Hath Not Seen," first introduced by the contralto voice early in the work. The same melody and text, adapted to the soprano, recurs as a benedictory conclusion after the resounding, exultant finale has been sung by the entire ensemble.

Special musical observance of the resurrection theme will be included in the services of the Episcopal Church of the Good Shepherd, with worship announced for both 7 and 11 a. m. on Sunday. The musical service for Easter morning by Read will be used extensively. Stainer's "They Have Taken Away My Lord" will be used at both hours.

An Easter carol service will be included in the church school program, to be given at 4:30 p.m. instead of 9:30 a. m., as on other Sundays. The choir of the church is under the direction of F. P. McDougal, with Mrs. Carrie E. Wilcox at the organ.

Commemoration of Christ's resurrection will be featured by the choir of the Sacred Heart church at high mass to be held Sunday morning at 10 o'clock. The choir is directed by A. H. Mahaffey, with Mrs. F. B. Parsons at the organ. The musical service chosen for the hours is the "Second Mass" in F by Paolo Giorza. Solo and choral interpretations will be given in the following order:

The Kyrie, choir.
Gloria, A. H. Mahaffey, tenor; Miss Katherine Sullivan, contralto; A. N. (Nick) Oechsner, bass, and choir.
Credo, Miss Lillian M. Hyenck, soprano; Mrs. George Kelly, contralto; Mr. Oechsner, bass, and choir.
Choral offertory, "Terra Tremuit" (The Earth Trembles) by J. Wiegand.
Sanctus, the choir.
Benedictus, Mr. Mahaffey and choir.
Agnus Dei, Mr. Mahaffey, M. Oechsner and choir.
Benediction, "O Salutaris Hostia" (Grant-Schaefer), Miss Lillian Buchanan, Mr. Mahaffey.
"Tantum Ergo" (So Great a Sacrament), choir.

Grace Methodist

Treatment of the Easter theme by the choir of the Grace Methodist Episcopal church Sunday night at 7:45 o'clock will combine special musical numbers with dramatized presentation of other portions.

Solos announced for the evening worship include one excerpt from Handel's "Messiah," Miss Ruth Wilcox, contralto, being announced to sing the aria, "He Was Despised and Rejected." Another solo, to be sung by Mrs. T. G. Fletcher, will be "I Know That My Redeemer Liveth," based upon the Handel theme for that text in the "Messiah." Choral numbers for the evening include the poignant "Into the Woods My Master Went," by Sidney Lanier. The complete program will be as follows:

Hymn, "Joy to the World" (Isaac Watts).
Illustrations of "The Nativity."
Hymn, "Alas and Did My Savior Bleed? (Isaac Watts).
Illustrations of "The Resurrection."
"Beneath the Cross of Jesus," Mrs. B. L. Bryans.
Twenty-third Psalm (in unison).
The Lord's Prayer (in unison).
Scripture, Gethsemane, by Mrs. C. E. DeWitt.
"Into the Woods My Master Went" (Lanier) choir.
Scripture, Calvary, Mrs. C. E. DeWitt.
Solo, "He Was Despised," from "The Messiah," Miss Ruth Wilcox, contralto.
Dramatic presentation, "The Resurrection of Peter," scene one, "The Fallen Peter."
"I Know That My Redeemer Liveth," Mrs. T. G. Fletcher, soprano.
Scene two, "The Risen Peter."
"Jesus Calls Us O'er the Tumult," (C. F. Alexander), choir.
Prayer.
"When I Survey the Wondrous Cross," choir.

At the First Baptist church, the choir and soloists will present Marie M. Hine's Scriptural cantata, "Christ Triumphant," giving a portion of the work at the morning hour, and the remaining movements in the evening service.

Events of Passion week to and including the crucifixion will be described in portions of the cantata to be sung Sunday morning. Soloists will include Miss Ruby Faye Myrick, Mrs. W. E. Young, Mrs. F. L. Randel, Orville Medford, J. L. Jackson Jr., W. E. Young, and Mrs. F. R. Collard, organist.

Evening Service

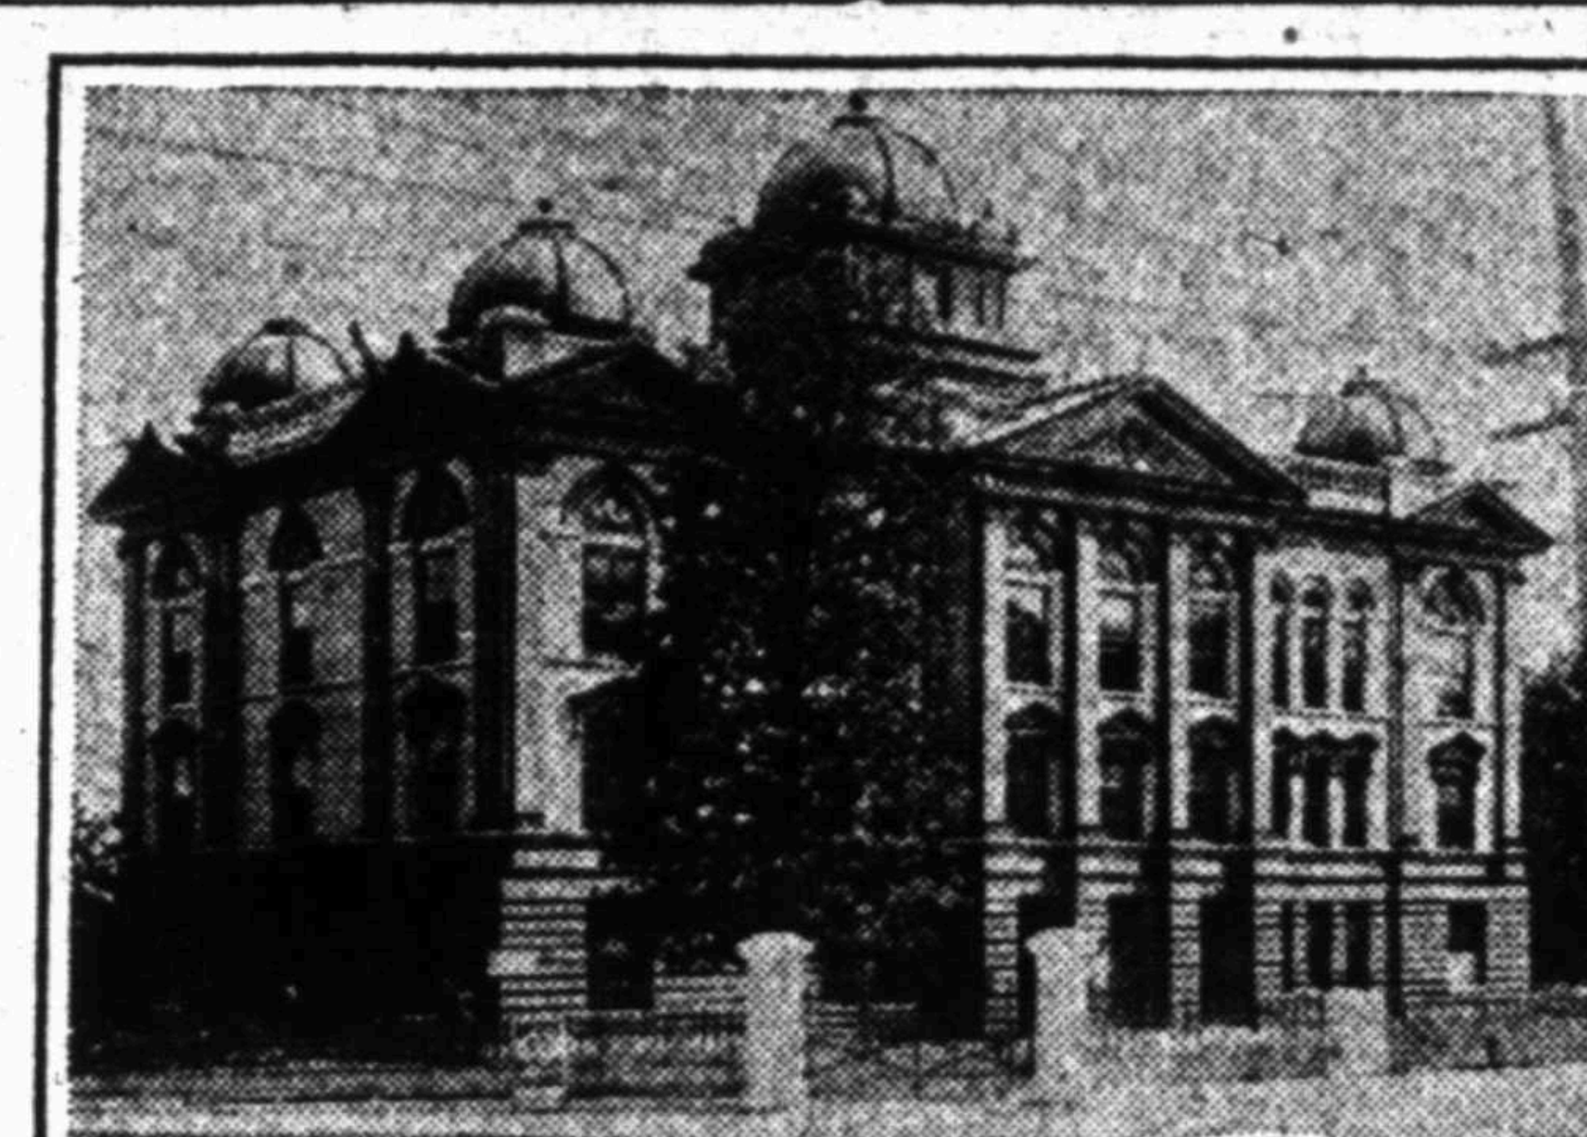

In the evening service, the burial and resurrection will furnish the theme of the cantata. Soloists will include those of the morning, and also Miss Hortense Goen, Miss Nell Gibbs, Mrs. Hazel Reeves, Miss Will Pinson and Damon P. Dean. The cantata will be given under the direction of William E. Young, with Mrs. Collard at the organ. The morning service is announced for 10:55 o'clock, that in the evening for 7:45 o'clock.

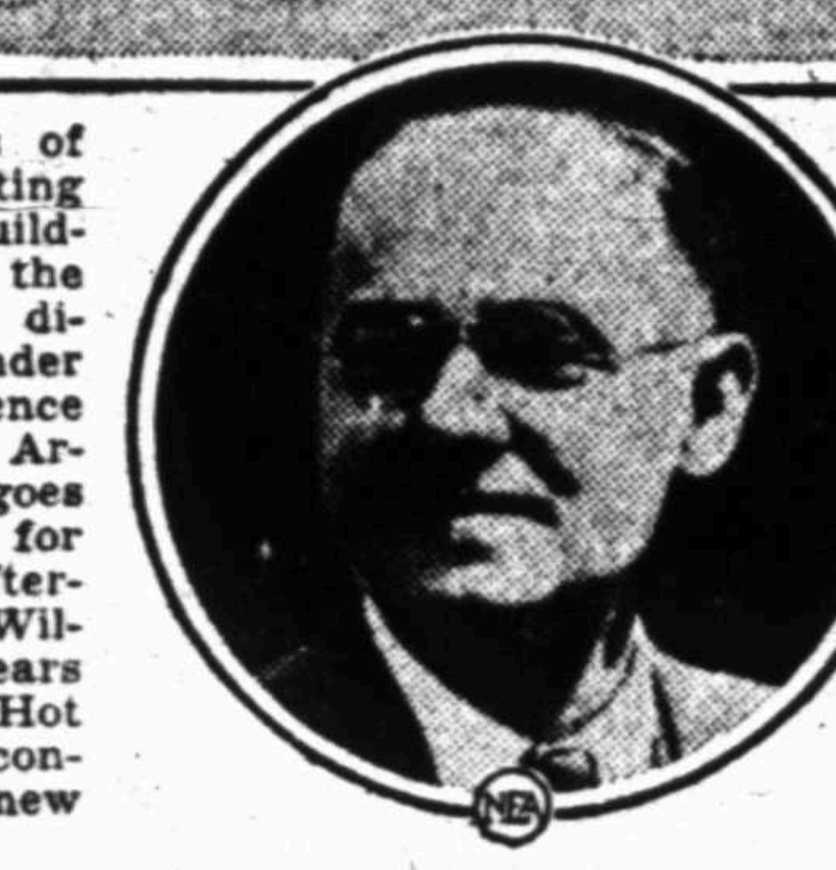

Under the combined direction of Mrs. J. A. James and Mrs. George Thorburn, a pageant by Bayard, "The Dawning," will be presented at the Floral Heights Methodist church Sunday night at 7:30 o'clock. The piece is designed to portray the dawn of the first Easter Sunday, with a group of women en route to the tomb. The development of the pageant anticipates the resurrection. Lighting effects and elaborate costuming have been devised for embellishment of the dramatized narrative.

Those participating are as follows: The Centurion, Ray Bland; Junius, a Roman soldier, Loyd Bland; John, Henry Barton; Peter, Milton Johnson; The Lame Man, Durwood Park; A Traveler, J. E. Park; Thomas, Frederick Sermann; Nicodemus, S. E. Anthony; Mary Magdalene, Mrs. P. B. Cox; The Other Mary, Mary Lou Johnson; Salome, Mrs. H. G. Holcomb; Johana, Mrs. Fred Sehmann; Rhoda, daughter of the lame man, Mrs. Paul Hines; Joseph of Arimathea, Darby Anderson.

Others in the cast: Disciples, Tommy Beaty, Vernon Bullard, George Truitt, John James, George Thorburn, Woodrow Williamson, Leroy Farabee, E. Van Deventer; women of Jerusalem, Mrs. Murrell Hooper, Elizabeth Wright, Martha Johnson, Helen Simpson, Cora Lee Roberts, Thelma Adams; children of Jerusalem, Warren Simpson, Joe Leach, John Bradley, Fletcher Walker, Gay Land, Margaret Clement, Helen McCormick, Lucille Waggoner, Arlene Murph, Patricia Pond and Barbara Richardson.

Arkansas Ready for Divorces

Already many new residents of Hot Springs, Ark., are casting longing eyes at the above building. It's the courthouse where the nation's newest crop of speedy divorces will be harvested under Arkansas' new 60-day residence law. Those who have lived in Arkansas 60 days when the law goes into effect June 12 may apply for divorce and get it 30 days afterward. At right is Chancellor William R. Duffie, who in six years has already granted 2,000 Hot Springs divorces, and who will continue to grant them under the new law.

CITY BOWS AT TEACHER'S BIER

Last Services Said Friday For Dr. Cantwell

while citizen of a great and growing community, to which he generously contributed of his life."

The participation of ministers of various denominations in the services, the representation of teachers, organizations and clubs attending, Dr. McKenney said, were aptly fitting and appropriate of paying tribute to one whose service to mankind was general, and irrespective of class or station. "For," he said, "he was more than a citizen of one of the nation's greatest communities. He was also a great citizen of the United States." Dr. Cantwell, it was explained, held an honor attained by only one man in over 5,000, that of being listed in "Who's Who in America."

"We think of him especially in his own chosen field of education," it was said, "with a mind trained to train other minds, and this field was wherein he gave most of his efforts."

Many Honors

Mention was made of the degrees attained by Dr. Cantwell, and the LL. D., the greatest honorary degree Baylor confers, "bestowed on Dr. Cantwell because of the sweep of influence and wide service he rendered."

Problems of the teachers under Dr. Cantwell's supervision, Dr. McKenney said, were his problems; their tasks, his tasks. "On a number of occasions I have addressed the student bodies of the schools here," Dr. McKenney said, "and invariably I have found Dr. Cantwell as an interested and inspiring listener. In spite of his host of duties and the many requirements made upon his time, he always had time for participation in school functions.

"It might be appropriate to carve upon the stone to mark his resting place 'Little Children Loved Him.'"

His activities in his church, as a member of the Floral Heights Methodist church and as a teacher of a Bible class; his service in his clubs and fraternities were told. "He adopted as his own the motto of that great organization, the Rotary, 'Service,'" Dr. McKenney declared. "He belonged to the community. He lived for others. He would have possibly lived longer had he given less of his time for others.

"He can not be lost to the Rotary club, the Masonic lodges, the Methodist church, the public schools, or to the citizens of Wichita Falls. His influence will endure."

Rabbi S. J. Schwab of Temple Israel, opened the services with the reading of the 90th Psalm. Dr. Spragins subsequently read an appropriate extract from Scripture, and Dr. Grafton delivered the invocatory prayer. Dr. O. L. Powers made the benediction, "a prayer of thanksgiving for the life that has been given to us for so long."

Scores of Floral Tributes

Floral offerings in profusion adorned the chancel of the church. Intwined in one huge wreath was the emblem of Rotary International.

The musical program of the service for Dr. Cantwell was in charge of Mrs. George Thorburn, music director of the Floral Heights Methodist church, and Mrs. Pearl Calhoun Davis, musical director of the First Methodist church. Mrs. J. W. Akin played the organ accompaniments.

Arrangements were in charge of the Merkle Undertaking company. Burial was in Riverside cemetery. Pallbearers consisted of the school board, composed of C. H. Clark, W. L. Robertson, Carter McGregor, Rhea Howard, J. T. Harrell and Luther Hoffman; and Herbert Voelcker, president of the Rotary club, and W. B. Hamilton, long and intimate friend of the family.

During the morning from 10 o'clock to 1 p. m. the body lay in state at the church. Representing all walks of life, mourners filed past the bier for the last view of one of the most loved and respected citizens of Wichita Falls.

Dr. Cantwell succumbed early Thursday morning at a hospital here to a brief illness of pneumonia. He was stricken with a light attack of influenza Sunday. Removed to a hospital Monday, it was believed that his condition was not serious. Tuesday, however, pneumonia developed and the educator steadily lost strength. Despite the tenacity with which he clung to life during the hours, at 2 o'clock Thursday morning he succumbed to his illness. He was 63 years of age.

Flags at Half Mast

Many were the expressions of condolence received by members of the family from every section of the Southwest. In respect to his memory, schools were closed Friday and students of the city composed a great part of the throng that attended funeral services. With the news of his death Thursday flags were lowered to half staff at all public buildings.

Dr. Cantwell was an outstanding educator of the Southwest. A native Texan, he early prepared himself for the career which he followed throughout his life. He received his B. A. and Master's degrees from Baylor university, which in 1917 conferred upon him its highest honorary degree, the LL. D. Between the years of his studies at Baylor he attended Yale university, where he received a B. A. degree in 1894.

His career in his profession started as a country school teacher. Later he became principal of the Southwestern Academy at Magnolia, Ark.; and subsequently served Texarkana, Ark., Corsicana and Fort Worth, Texas, as superintendent of schools. Still later he was president of Oklahoma A. & M. college, where he remained for six years until 1921, when he became superintendent of the Texas State Juvenile Training school at Gatesville.

In 1923 he came to Wichita Falls to accept the position here as superintendent of schools and president of the Wichita Falls Junior college. In this capacity he had since served. He is credited with being the major factor and influence in the remarkable growth and development of the college here since its opening in 1924. The college was his pride, and his tireless efforts were ever directed toward its betterment. Although he was urged for the presidency of Texas Technological college when it opened at Lubbock a few years ago, he expressed his desire to remain with the growing school system in Wichita Falls. At the time of his acceptance of the superintendency of schools here, he was mentioned for the presidency of Texas state university.

Surviving Dr. Cantwell are his widow; two daughters, Mrs. W. B. McDaniel of Weatherford, Texas, and Mrs. J. D. Hill of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, and three sons, J. W. Cantwell Jr., of Dallas; Robert W. Cantwell of Tulsa, one of the outstanding aviators of the country, and Conan W. Cantwell, attorney of Wichita Falls; and four grandchildren.

P.-T. A. in Electra To Meet April 6

Special to The Record News.

ELECTRA, Texas, April 3.—The Thompson Ward Parent-Teacher association has moved its monthly program up to Monday evening, April 6, instead of Thursday, the 9th, due to the charity show which will be held in Electra April 8-9 and also due to the convention which meets in Wichita Falls April 8-10.

Humane education will be the subject stressed at the program which will begin at 7:30. The meeting will be opened with a song after which Rev. C. C. Klingman of the Christian church will offer the invocation. A sing-song will precede the business session.

The president, Mrs. B. R. Hutchins, will be in charge of the business session. New officers will be elected at this time.

Five mothers and five fathers will participate in a round table discussion centering around "Humane Education." E. R. Brown, president of the chamber of commerce and editor of the Electra News, will discuss "Loyalty." Other entertainment features will include a violin selection by Mrs. T. B. Williams, reading by Roy Hutchins; and selections by the Thompson Ward Harmonica band.

The Barwise P.-T. A. has been extended an invitation to attend the meeting and some of their members may take part on the program.

TRADE REVIVAL EVIDENCE SEEN

Progress Shown in Weekly Business Reviews

NEW YORK, April 3. (AP)—The weekly trade reviews report that progress is being made toward business recovery although many confusing elements are still apparent.

Dun's review tomorrow will say:

"Despite the numerous unsatisfactory aspects that still appear, there is concrete evidence of a lessening of unsettlement in various quarters, although complete stability is yet to be attained. Strengthening of the financial and commercial structure, even if not plainly revealed in surface movements, has a deep significance and the forces of rehabilitation should become more prominent and effective with the passing of time.

"The developments of the current week so far as they have indicated any new turn in the situation, have been largely negative. Some emphasis has been placed upon the slight recession in steel output but it has come only after an uninterrupted rise since the beginning of this year and a let down now is seasonal."

Bradstreet's tomorrow will say: "A rather notable ebb and flow movement in trade and industry this week renders hard and fast generalization difficult. Weather conditions, although helpful to agricultural interests, have not been favorable to Easter trade, which has felt the retarding influence of stormy weather but this line still shows up the best, by far, of the important trade divisions.

"Wholesale and jobbing trade reports have pointed to a sag in takings of cotton goods after the most active month in years; the easter shoe movement from manufacturers has sagged off and improved soil and crop conditions have had bearish influence upon prices of cereals, which in February saw the smallest foreign takings in years."

Weekly bank clearings of leading cities aggregated $9,941,335,000 a decrease of 24 per cent from a year ago. The total outside of New York was $2,780,249,000, a decrease of 26.6 per cent.

Costly Upkeep

WASHINGTON.—It costs $200 a year per mile to keep up the airways of the United States adequately, according to Secretary of Commerce Robert P. Lamont. The department is contemplating the expenditure of $10,000,000 a year for this purpose. The present expense for lighted airways runs about $210,000 for each 1,000 miles.

Mysterious Man Gives Money Lavishly In Drouth Area

NATCHEZ, Miss., April 3. (INS)—Believed to be headed northward for the Mississippi delta, a mysterious dispenser of cash who registered here for a brief stay under the name of Enos B. Jones, of Jersey City, N. J., had departed today, leaving drouth stricken farmers agape.

Obtaining the aid of a welfare worker, the "Santa Claus" toured Adams county and whenever he found people in need he gave them cash—gold cash.

The first recipients of the money reported to authorities that a crazy man was roaming the county, and declared that the money he was distributing could not be genuine.

However, the farmers today had gained full confidence in the money given them so bountifully and at such an opportune time, and are hoping that the dispenser of cash will make another round.

HUTCHINSON POOL

GREGG COUNTY TESTS ON SAND

Two Wells Expected To Complete Today

Special to The Record News.

LONGVIEW, Texas, April 3.—Crews on two Gregg county tests today were preparing to complete the wells for producers. The tests are the Sultan Oil company's No. 1 J. F. Stuckey and the Selby Oil and Gas company's No. 1 P. J. Snavely.

Completion of these two tests are expected Saturday. If both are producers, as seems reasonaly certain, they will be Gregg county's 16th and 17th producing wells.

The crew on the Stuckey test today are finishing work on storage facilities. Three 15,000-barrel tanks have been erected. The separator has been set up and connected with the tanks the Christmas tree is yet to be assembled and connected to the casing.

The Stuckey test will mean a mile and a half northwestern extension to the Lathrop pool, the nearest producer now being the Shell Petroleum corporation's No. 1 Davis, itself located about 500 yards northwest of the Lathrop discovery well. The Snavely test is to be completed Saturday afternoon in the presence of company officials from Oklahoma. This location is six miles west of production in Gregg county and will mean the greatest extension yet made to the Lathrop pool.

Two additional tests in the Gregg county field today were on the sand and waiting for casing to set before drilling in for production tests. The tests on the sand were the Roese & Pendlton, Inc., East Texas Refining company's F. R. Foster No. 2 B. Rodden and the Arkansas Fuel Oil company's No. 1 P. D. Harrison.

The Roeser & Pendleton test is located about 200 yards southwest of the No. 1 location of the company, which is now a producer. Sand was topped at 3561 and one foot of sand was cored. Cap rock was hit at 3560 feet. Casing was set and cemented to 3558 feet. Total depth of the hole is 3562 feet.

Officials of the well are expecting a better well than the first completion, which flowed with an estimate of 12,000 to 15,000 barrels.

Lions Give Egg Hunt To Frederick Children

Special to The Record News.

FREDERICK, Okla., April 3.—Children who desire to take part in the Lions club Easter egg hunt Saturday afternoon are to meet at playground park by 2 o'clock, stated A. G. Davidson, Thursday, chairman of this committee. The courthouse lawn was first selected but this place can not be used because the entire ground has been spaded, pulverized and harrowed. Grass seed is to be planted.

C. C. Moore is in charge of the transportation and is to see that the children are taken to the places where the hunt is to take place. The small children will be taken to the A. H. Krause farm, in the northeast part of the city. The other two groups will be taken to the landing field, southwest of Frederick.

Joe Shaw was appointed chairman of the committee to hide the eggs. He will get a group of Hi-Y boys to assist him.

Bebb's flowers for Easter!—Adv.

The word

"Service"

may be overworked

but the convenient Telephone Service which is connected with the use of Daily Times and Record News Classified Ads has been going on for years. In fact, our Telephone Service is really just another term for "convenience."

It's the easiest thing in the world to dial "Classified" 4391, get in touch with Miss "AD-TAKER," let her assist with your copy, and order the Classified Ad that will reach ALL your prospects quickly.

The bill for your Classified Ad will be presented LATER—and we are sure that you will find the charges exceptionally reasonable for the results you have obtained.

Instructions Given For Dress Contest

Special to The Record News.

IOWA PARK, Texas, April 3.—Preparatory to the county dress contest, which will be held at the W. F. George High school building Saturday, April 18, Miss Ethel Louise Webb, county home demonstration agent, gave an interesting lesson on tailored finishes to members of the Pleasant Valley club Wednesday afternoon. Special emphasis was placed on suitable material for making little girl's dresses, such as will be entered in the contest, and attention was called to the fact that only dresses from ages 2 to 8, inclusive, were eligible for entry, and that no garments for boys would be shown, as at previous contests.

Mrs. C. C. Burrows, president, requested members from all clubs in the county to bring basket lunches for a picnic spread at noon. Chairman of committees for preparation are as follows: Refreshment, Miss Lorene Williams; nursery, Mrs. Walter Scott; dress arrangement, Mrs. L. E. Brooks.

Miss Webb explained in detail the plan for offering members of all federated club women of the county the privilege of entering the following products for sale at the Farmer's market at Bailey-Moline's in Wichita Falls, beginning Saturday, April 4: Dressed poultry, jellies, preserves, candies, cakes, salad dressing, fresh vegetables, home canned meats, fruits and vegetables, fresh eggs, Easter dyed eggs.

It was stated that this first entry would carry no charge, but that continuous monthly membership fees would be the sum of 50c for six months, and that the products entered would be in charge of a committee appointed from club members.

Those attending were Mesdames J. F. and Cleone Davis, Walter Scott, G. C. Hathaway, W. C. Williams, C. C. Burrows, A. D. Butcher, L. E. Brooks, J. N. George, Boon Smith, J. R. Morgan, Dallas Ralston, C. E. Russell, J. Lindsey, John Cunningham, C. C. Fields, Ernest Hatchel, A. Landcaster, Joe Dunson, Joe Leake, J. R. Ramsey, Misses Mable Noland, Lorene Williams, Methel Brooks and Hortense Burnett.

107 Cases Pending On Two Court Dockets

Dockets of the 89th and 30th district courts for the new terms opening next Monday morning contain a total of 107 cases, only 15 of which are divorce actions, according to information obtained Friday.

Before Judge P. A. Martin in the 89th district court, 11 divorce cases and 70 other civil suits have been docketed, while four divorce suits and 22 other civil actions have been filed for trial before Judge Allan D. Montgomery in the 30th district court. Judge Montgomery's court has but a one-month term here.

AROUND THE RADIO CLOCK

(Time Is Central Standard Throughout)

NEW YORK, April 3. (AP)—Two broadcasts in honor of Knute Rockne, Notre Dame coach, are to be made by WABC and stations Saturday.

First will be an hour's transmission of the funeral services from the Notre Dame chapel, South Bend, Ind., at 3 p. m. The coast to coast network will be used.

During Ted Husing's sport slants starting at 5 o'clock, a special tribute will be paid to Rockne. Speakers will include Frank Carideo, quarterback of last year's Notre Dame football team; Harry Stuhldreher, coach at Villa Nova and one of the original four horsemen, and Eddie Casey, coach at Harvard.

Canada's reception to its new governor-general and his wife is to be carried by two chains in the United States in addition to Canadian stations.

The program will come from Halifax and will include a description of the arrival of Lord and Lady Bessborough from England, starting at 11:45 a. m. Both the WJZ chain and the WABC network will have microphones on the scene.

Charles Sherman Jones, aviator, can play the piano. He is going to demonstrate this fact in the keys of happiness piano series via WEAF and stations at 12:30 a. m. Saturday.

Two other features of the day will be a description of the army day parade up Fifth avenue on WJZ and stations at 3:45 p. m. and a play by play report of part of the first game of the Round Robin to determine the season's championship of the Indoor Polo association via WJZ and network at 10 p. m.

Secretary of Labor William N. Doak will explain President Hoover's pocket veto of the Wagner unemployment bill in a talk in the national radio forum, WABC and group at 10:30 p. m.

Otherwise your dials may be set for:

4:00—Piano and violin recital by Ralph Leopold and Alfred H. Wertheim, WABC and others.

7:00—Three Navajo Indians in Gilbert E. Gale's highroad of adventure, WEAF and stations.

8:00—Gene Austin, Crooner, opening a bi-weekly series, WEAF and stations; second program on WJZ and hookup next Tuesday night at 11:45.

10:00—Folk songs by the Cumberland Ridge Runners, five youths from Kentucky, WABC and network.

Seven Boys Held For Robbery of House

Seven boys charged with having entered a residence on Washington street about a week ago and having carried away a number of household articles were turned over to County Juvenile Officer James A. McDonald Friday afternoon by city police officers.

Discovery of the alleged theft was made Thursday, it was said, when the householder returned after several days' absence from this city. Dishes, a small cash register, an electric fan, and various other household property were included in the list of missing articles, it was reported.

Iowa Park Man Wins Own Case in Court Here

Conducting his own defense on a charge of theft of $30 from the barbershop at Iowa Park in which he had been employed, a man won a verdict of acquittal in a court trial before Judge Irvin J. Vogel, in the county court at law Friday morning.

A Mexican youth was fined $25 and costs by Judge Vogel following a plea of guilty to a charge of operating a pool hall here.

SON OF NOCONA BUILDER DIES

Dave Jordan Jr. Loses Fight for Life

Special to The Record News.

NOCONA, Texas, April 3.—Dave Jordan Jr., 31, son of the late D. C. Jordan and Mrs. Annie Jordan of Nocona, died at his home Thursday evening following an operation at a Dallas sanitarium and a long illness.

Funeral services were held Friday. Interment was in the Nocona cemetery.

The elder Jordan was of the firm Jordan & Broadus, which in early days of Montague county owned extensive ranch lands and was considered among the strongest cattle firms in this section. The present site of Nocona was once a part of the Jordan & Broadus pasture lands. This firm had much to do in routing M.-K.-T. railway through this part of the county.

Survivors are his mother, two sisters, Mrs. Nell Dodson, Decatur, Texas; Mrs. Kit Horn, Abilene, Texas and a brother Tink Jordan, Nocona.

SECOND SPICER TRIAL ORDERED

Grand Jury to Act on Perjury Charge

GRAHAM, Texas, April 3.—The second trial of Erwin Spicer, sentenced to six years' imprisonment in connection with the burglary of the Jean State bank, is set for May 18, District Attorney Sam B. Spence announced Friday. Spicer won a new trial last week upon the presentation of affidavits concerning defense witnesses absent from the first trial early in March. The defendant's motion for continuance at the original trial was overruled.

The 30th district grand jury, to convene May 4, will consider perjury charges filed against Spicer after the new trial was granted last week, Mr. Spence said. The district attorney explained that the charges were filed after an investigation of the testimony which Spicer swore would be given by the absent witnesses. Affivadits offered by Spicer said the witnesses would be used in an attempt to establish an alibi. Mr. Spence brought the perjury charge after he interviewed the witnesses in Abilene.

MAJESTIC: "Skippy" with Jackie Cooper, Mitzi Green, Jackie Searl and Robert Coogan. Short subjects and sound news.

STRAND: Norma Shearer, Neil Hamilton and Robert Montgomery in "Strangers May Kiss." Cartoon comedy, Easter feature and sound news.

GEM: Jack Perrin in "Wild West Whoopee." No. 7 of "Fingerprints." Fable comedy and "Stolen Goods."

"Strangers May Kiss" is exactly what might be expected by the author, producer and star of "The Divorcee," except that it is much better than the usual "repeater," this being one rare case when the second picture is better than the first.

It has the usual sordid (but interesting story of a girl who adopts the single—and lower—standard of morality when she is jilted. When the man who jilted her returns and finds her not the same sweet child he left, there are complications—and how!

It would be a good stunt for the Strand to refuse to admit children. In the first place, it is certainly not a children's picture and the banning would get the good will of parents. In the second place, adults would pack the house in hope of seeing something exciting—and they wouldn't be disappointed. In the third place, all the children will be over at the Majestic seeing "Skippy" anyhow.

The censors were not blind, but they were probably just a little deaf. Between Robert Montgomery, Norma Shearer and Marjorie Rambeau, all of them experts at epigrammatic remarks, there is enough of that certain kind of humor to make a newspaper reporter blush at a special screening to which no one else was admitted. There was never another gag like Miss Rambeau's about the laundry coming back and Niagara Falls that got by a censor board.

There is, in addition, a punch at the last that one would never expect—one that brings sudden sincere tears to cool down the blushes.

GOOD FRIDAY SERVICES HELD

300 Attend Protestant Rites at Theater

About 300 persons attended the pre-Easter union services conducted at the Majestic theater Friday from 12:15 to 1:15 p. m., by members of the ministerial alliance, Rev. Patrick Henry, pastor of the Highland Heights Christian church, delivering the Good Friday sermon.

"Jesus Christ can be honored today only in one way," the speaker said at the conclusion of his address. "That is by living as Jesus would live were He in our respective places. He challenges us to live so that our lives grow by giving. His outstanding characteristic, and the one which is uppermost in our minds today, is sacrificial unselfishness. You cannot think of the cross save in terms of sacrificial kindness, generosity, mercy, justice and brotherhood."

Service Is Standard

Forefathers of our civilization in its various phases are revered by present generations not so much because of their skill and the extent of their wisdom, but because of their sacrificing service to their own generations, the speaker said. Tolstoi is revered by the Russians because to them he is the ideal of unselfish service to his people, and Gandhi is enthroned in the hearts of India's millions because his life exists only for the good of his countrymen, Rev. Mr. Henry declared.

"If you had been there at Jerusalem, waiting along the sorrowful way, and could have borne the heavy cross for Jesus, you would have leaped gladly to the opportunity," he continued. "It is far more fitting that you take the cross of service which He has left to be borne by those who profess His name. He is infinitely more concerned that we become message bearers by word, conduct, and thought."

As the sermon concluded, the auditorium suddenly darkened, the receding curtains revealed in the center-stage an illuminated cross, and Misses Elta Rose and Evelyn Franklin, accompanied by Mrs. Patrick Henry, sang offstage in subdued voices "The Old Rugged Cross." The benediction by Rev. Ben Bell of the Wilson Memorial Methodist church closed the service.

Hall Presides

Dr. Gaines B. Hall, pastor of the First Southern Presbyterian church presided the Good Friday service. The complete New Testament account of the events of Passion week was read by Rev. Claud De Witt, pastor of the Grace Methodist church. The invocational prayer was spoken by Dr. George P. Horst, pastor of the First Presbyterian church.

The service opened with the singing of hymns by the audience under the direction of Willard L. Underwood, with Mrs. J. W. Akin Jr., at the organ. Immediately preceding Mr. Henry's sermon, Walter Robbins, dramatic tenor, sang the aria, "King All Glorious," from Sir John Stainer's "Crucifixion." Mrs. Akin played the accompaniment.

Rev. Mr. Henry announced that the annual union Easter Sunrise service will be held Sunday morning at 6 o'clock in the auditorium of the First Methodist church. Transfer from the natural bowl near the Seymour road was made necessary by the inclement weather, surface moisture, and prevalent illness, it was said. Dr. Gaines B. Hall will deliver the Easter morning sermon.

Proposal to Pay $1,000,000 in Three Years for Gas Plant Scored by Writer

W. M. Moore, Who Opposed Water Bonds, Tells Why Wichita Falls Should Keep McCutchen, Harvey and Spoonts

To the Tax Payers of Wichita Falls: I would suggest that we must forget personalities as to the men in the race for aldermen but we must think of our own interests and act accordingly in the election on the 7th of this month.

In the first bond election I opposed the $1,000,000 bond issue for the simple fact that I did not think it necessary to bond the city at this time for that amount, and I have been informed by other parties, such as J. H. Patton and John Young, former councilmen—and Mr. Young fought side by side with me against the bond issue and has already given to the voters a most excellent letter in which he showed that the tax valuation had been reduced 15 per cent in 1930—that the city was in debt for almost one-half million dollars when the present administration took charge, and at this time they have to the credit of Wichita Falls $146,000 in the bank. I thought that was a pretty good record, hence I voted against the bond as giving an endorsement to the present city council for their ability to do things with the plant that we already have. They have done so well, having given us the best water we have ever had since I have been living in the town for 12 years, and have made considerable extensions to the city that I felt they were well qualified and gave them a vote of confidence.

Since this election some of the parties associated with me in fighting the bonds, have written an open letter to Mr. Marlow asking that they get together with a compromise and order an election of $450,000; all of this has happened since the last bond election but now this party is advocating a $1,000,000 loan which will be a lien on the taxpayers' property of this city, payable in three years' time. I immediately told this party that after voting against a bond issue which proposed to give us 40 years in which to pay for it, I certainly would not be willing to enter into any shell game proposition wherein the taxpayers' property of this city would be liable for $1,000,000 payable in three years.

I have no interest in this election; except to reduce taxes. I neither care for office or leadership, but I wish to ask the voters to join me in protecting the interests of the taxpayers of this town. It is the duty of the council now in control to devise ways and means of reducing the cost of our city government, which will minimize the tax burden all up and down the line. With the type of men now in control of the machinery of our city, such a policy is not only desirable but is practical. Let's guard against a chance that we may tax ourselves out of the picture of prosperity and progress. Let's build rather than destroy. Let's inject into the tax policy of Wichita Falls not only a system of equity and fairness, but let's remember that it is what Wichita Falls makes that makes Wichita Falls. Let's make 1931 a Wichita Falls year.

I appeal to all my friends to vote for the re-election of McCutchen, Harvey and Spoonts at the election next Tuesday.

Wichita Falls Answers The Challenge

The spirit of the City That Faith Built is manifest in the closing days of this municipal campaign. We sincerely feel that the future growth, progress and prosperity of our city hangs in the balance and depends upon the result of the city election next Tuesday.

Our people have always been united on all matters pertaining to the general welfare. This spirit has enabled us to grow from a village to one of Texas' leading cities.

When we were placed in charge of the people's fight to keep our City Hall out of politics, to keep true, trusted and tried business men in charge of city affairs so that graft and corruption would not enter there, and in order that we might have an economical administration of the city's business to the end that the people would receive One Hundred Cents on every Dollar expended for the cost of city government, we issued an appeal to the people to enroll and enlist and give us your votes and influence in order that clean government might be perpetuated. For your confidence and support in telephone calls, by letter and by personal calls to headquarters, your speeches and your personal work, we return to you our sincere thanks.

We are convinced that our people are not yet ready to turn their city government over to disgruntled politicians with special interests to serve. They are not ready for a return of boss rule, the spoils system and dark lantern proceedings. Every day numerous voters assure us that they have quit the opposition on account of its numerous and vain promises, impossible of performance, and they are joining us in the closing days of this fight.

We sincerely thank all of you who are assisting in this winning campaign. Our appeal is to your intelligence and to your patriotism. The opposition's appeal is to your prejudice and passions. We have had enough strife and dissension; in these days of world-wide financial depression, let us all unite to bring to our city new factories, new industries, new payrolls.

Let us all see and talk to our acquaintances, friends and relatives and vote early and solidly for C. E. McCUTCHEN, R. O. HARVEY and J. M. SPOONTS.

ELECTION TUESDAY, APRIL 7

A vote for McCutchen, Harvey and Spoonts means a continued business administration for Wichita Falls.
