

President Considering Oil Fees Compromise

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Ford promised today to announce whether he will move toward a compromise with the Democrats in Congress by postponing two more increases in the fee that he recently imposed on imported oil.

Rep. John O. Anderson, R-Ill., told reporters following a meeting between Ford and Republican congressional leaders that the President intended to make his announcement at 4 p.m. EDT.

Anderson, chairman of the House Republican conference, hinted strongly that Ford would defer the final two $1-a-barrel increases in the fee on imported oil — one that went into effect Saturday and one scheduled for April 1.

But Anderson added, "It's much too early to predict if there will be a compromise."

Ford has until Tuesday to veto a congressionally passed measure which would postpone for 90 days all three $1 increases in the oil import fee, the first of which went into effect Feb. 1.

The President previously announced that he would veto the measure. But there were indications from the White House during the weekend that he might instead agree voluntarily to delay the next two fee increases.

"I think the President got a very good input as to what course of action he would take on the Democratic energy program," Anderson said of the White House meeting. He added that the Democratic proposals "don't constitute a program."

"They were long on rhetoric and short on substance," he said. "The great vice of the Democratic position is that there isn't a unity of voices."

He said the energy program devised by the House Ways and Means Committee "is closest to the President's." But, he added, it would come about too slowly to please Ford.

Sen. William Roth Jr., R-Del., said Sunday, "The White House has informed me that my proposal to delay the imposition of additional oil tariffs is likely to be accepted."

Budget Director James Lynn said on ABC's "Issues and Answers" that when the leaders met with Ford on Friday, the President was asked to defer the $1 per barrel increase in oil import costs scheduled to take effect April 1 and to stop, retroactively, the $1 increase that took effect Saturday. The $1 fee levied in February would stand.

As Ford returned from a weekend in Camp David, Md., a White House spokesman, Larry Speakes, said "we're right where we were Friday afternoon." He apparently referred to the possibility that Ford's veto of a bill to postpone all the tariffs for 90 days would contain a proposal putting off the pending increases for two months to give Congress the chance to write some legislation.

"The President," said Lynn, "is prodding Congress into action and I think Congress realizes that action must be taken now."

Roth, one of the 10 senators who voted to keep the import fees, predicted "there may be a real compromise out of the impasse."

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said Saturday Congress will probably try to override the veto even if a compromise is offered. Mansfield said the vote — two-thirds is needed to pass a law over the veto — would be "very close."

Mansfield figured the House, with its 290 Democrats to 145 Republicans, could override a veto but he was "very doubtful" that the Senate, with six Democratic seats less than two-thirds, would override if there is a compromise.

The Montana Democrat said he expected there would be some agreement.

"The President is a man of the Congress," Mansfield said. "He understands things here. Hopefully, it will end with cooperation, not confrontation. None of us wants confrontation."

After the delay bill is worked out, Ford and Congress must face a $21.3 billion tax cut bill which passed the House last week.

The Senate Finance Committee planned hearings on it today. One problem with this measure is a 248-163 House vote which would override the veto.

STOCKHOLM TREATY
On Feb. 22, 1774, Sweden and Russia signed the Treaty of Stockholm providing for mutual assistance.

adding to the tax cut language which would end the oil depletion allowance, a $2.5 million tax break for oil and gas companies. The Senate may not accept the elimination, which may postpone the bill for some time. Ford has predicted a measure will not pass until June.

Nevertheless, compromise is in the air.

"I think there will be ample opportunity for compromise," Federal Energy Administrator Frank Zarb said Sunday on NBC's "Meet the Press."

Rebel Gunners Continue Shelling Of Phnom Penh

PHNOM PENH (UPI) — Rebel gunners shelled Phnom Penh for the 63rd consecutive day today, killing seven persons and damaging the Buddhist pagoda on top of the Phnom, the hill for which the city is named.

Deaths from starvation were reported on the rise among Phnom Penh's hungry civilians, but the Cambodian government was giving all of America's airlifted food to the military except for token amounts to the city's refugees.

Almost all markets and shops in Phnom Penh remained closed as they have been for a week for fear of food and rice riots triggered by current shortages and high prices of rice and consumer goods.

Phnom Penh Mayor Un Tramuch broadcast an appeal to parents and students to remain calm and stop the scattered sackings of mostly Chinese-owned shops and market stalls which have taken place during the past week.

The military situation worsened steadily and field officers reported heavy fighting around the Mekong River town of Neak Luong, 35 miles southeast of Phnom Penh. They said the situation there was critical.

The town once was the key to control of the Mekong River, but rebel forces now control almost the entire shoreline of the river and have prevented all convoys to Phnom Penh since Jan. 31.

Government warplanes were called in today for heavy bombing raids in an effort to stop pro-Communist forces from massing close to the town.

Military officers said four rockets hit Phnom Penh city and another seven slammed into the lifeline Pochentong airport today. Seven persons including two soldiers were killed and another two civilians were wounded, they said.

One Chinese-made rocket seriously damaged the Wat Phnom, the colorful pagoda atop the capital city's tiny hill close to the downtown area.

Rebel gunners have shelled the Phnom Penh area every day since the beginning of their current military offensive last New Year's Eve.

The shortage of supplies in the besieged capital has sent the price of food soaring. The cost of a 110-pound bag of rice on the black market has doubled to $30 in the past week alone.

"And the only way you can even buy black market rice is to know someone," a frustrated resident of the beleaguered city said today.

The senior government official said Lon Nol ordered the restriction of rice supplies last Thursday at the start of America's massive, Berlin-style airlift of food to Phnom Penh.

11% INCREASE

Sales Tax Check Shows Local Economic Growth

Statistical evidence that Pampa's economy is keeping pace with growth in the Texas Panhandle came today with receipt of the city's sales tax check for the last quarter of 1974. The check was for $143,969.66 for the October, November and December quarter, an increase of $16,265 over the previous quarter and up $18,717 over the same quarter of 1973.

The figures attest to a better than 11 percent increase over one year ago.

The one-cent city sales tax has been in effect since Jan. 1, 1970 and during the five-year period Pampa has received a total of $1,857,253 in sales tax funds.

Each of the four quarters in 1974 showed an increase. The figures are as follows:

First quarter, $107,389; second quarter, $121,502; third quarter, $127,709; and fourth quarter, $143,969.

The current check is the largest received by Pampa since the sales tax went into effect in 1970.

Sales tax payments mailed out to Texas Panhandle cities for the final quarter of 1974 totaled $2,874,271, according to Robert Bullock, state comptroller, Austin.

Amounts received by other Panhandle and South Plains cities and towns include the following:

Amarillo, $1,090,332; Lubbock, $1,262,067; Borger, $128,197; Canadian, $23,289; Dalhart, $36,166; Groom, $2,977; Clarendon, $9,471; McLean, $3,976; Perryton, $56,518; Wheeler, $6,045; White Deer, $1,557; Canyon, $25,206; Panhandle, $4,468; Dimmitt, $23,207; Higgins, $2,984 and Dumas, $60,429.

Bullock said $64,228,027 was paid out to Texas cities for the last quarter of 1974 sales tax receipts period. The checks ranged in size from $13,413.103 for Houston down to $48.60 for the community of Fate.

The $64 million statewide for the final quarter of 1974 compares to $58.7 million for the same quarter in 1973.

FROM ISRAEL

Kissinger Hoping To Get Pullbacks

United Press International "It has been learned that Kissinger is of the opinion that it is very desirable that a separation of forces agreement should be achieved on the Golan Heights as well as Sinai," the Israeli newspaper Ha'aretz said in a dispatch from Washington.

But Israeli government sources said in Jerusalem the time is not yet ripe for agreement with Syria.

In Moscow, the Communist party newspaper Pravda Sunday renewed its attacks on Kissinger's step-by-step Middle East diplomacy, saying partial measures are no substitute for a peaceful settlement.

Pravda called again for the resumption of the Geneva peace conference, including the Palestinians, which it said is "the most suitable forum for settling the conflict."

Israeli troops today guarded a group of muddy hills in 12 miles north of Jerusalem in occupied Jordan to prevent new attempts by religious Jews to establish settlements in defiance of a government ban.

The Jews are trying to force the Israeli government to formally annex the territory to prevent its return to the Arabs under a possible peace agreement.

In their second attempt in five months to make their home on the hills, the Jews Sunday erected prefabricated homes and tar-paper shacks but 150 soldiers, slipping and sliding in ankle-deep mud, carried off about 50 demonstrators.

"We shall return," several demonstrators shouted, kicking

AT SHOW BARN

ToT Stock Show Underway Today

The Top O' Texas Stock Show got underway today with swine judging at 8 a.m. Future Farmers of America and 4-H Club members from a seven-county area of the Panhandle began moving stock in Saturday at the close of the Gray County Junior Livestock Show.

Registered Hereford cattle and junior Heifers will be judged Tuesday with a Junior Livestock Sale and Registered Hereford Sale set for Wednesday.

Activities planned in conjunction with the event include an exhibitor's dinner, courtesy of the Top O' Texas Rodeo Association, and presentation of awards and prize money, set for 6:30 p.m. today at the Show Barn Dining Room.

Tuesday's schedule calls for registration of FFA livestock judging teams at 8:30 a.m. The judging contest will get underway at 9:30 a.m.

Registered Hereford cattle and junior Heifers will be judged at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow. Judging contest dinner and presentations of awards will take place in the high school cafeteria at 5 p.m. Tuesday.

The Hereford Breeder's Banquet, conducted annually during the Top O' Texas Show, will feature Kenneth Wyatt, Tulsa artist. The event will be conducted in M.K. Brown Auditorium at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday.

The annual Junior Livestock Sale will follow a bidders' breakfast in the Show Barn dining room Wednesday at 9:30 a.m. Bidders will be served breakfast from 8 to 9 a.m.

Steers will go into the sale ring first, followed by swine with registered Herefords at 1 p.m.

Colonel Walter Britten, veteran auctioneer of the Top O' Texas Shows, will conduct both sales.

ROBERT R. SCHAUB files for commissioner

Schaub Files For City Post

There will be two contested races in Pampa's April 1 municipal election.

Voters will go to the polls in the city-wide balloting to make a choice for mayor and Ward 1 city commissioner.

It was learned today that Robert R. Schaub, 25, a distillation operator for Skelly Oil Co., filed in the last hour before the Friday deadline for city commissioner in Ward 1.

That post currently is held by Ray Thompson, Pampa businessman, who is seeking re-election to a second term.

The other contest will be between Mayor R.D. Wilkerson, also running for a second term, and H. Clovis Shipp, who also filed for mayor just before the Friday afternoon deadline.

Schaub, a life-long resident of Pampa, resides at 800 N. Wells. He is married and the father of two daughters, three and four years of age.

Schaub is a member of Highland Christian Church, the Pampa Jaycees and the board of directors of Skelly - Tex Credit Union. He is a 1966 graduate of Pampa High School and attended Texas Tech University.

The only other vacancy in the upcoming city election will be the Ward 3 seat for which incumbent commissioner Leo Braswell is unopposed for re-election to a fourth term.

Overnight Motel Guest 'Goes Berserk,' Kills 4

SMITH RIVER, Calif. (UPI) — An overnight motel guest "went berserk" Sunday night and killed four persons with a high-powered rifle. A suspect was arrested three hours later in Oregon.

Sheriff's deputies converged on the Ship Ashore motel in this northern California fishing village after receiving a frantic telephone call that a man was "shooting up the place." Shots were heard in the background.

Officers arrived at the oceanside motel in drizzling rain and found the motel manager, his wife, a maid and a guest shot to death. Two others were hospitalized in critical condition.

Robert Paul Sander, 21, Cincinnati, Ohio, was arrested three hours later on the Redwood Highway near Grants Pass in southeastern Oregon. He was booked on four counts of murder.

According to witnesses, the gunman first opened fire from a balcony overlooking the ocean, killing Barbara Harmon, 38, Fortuna, Calif. and critically wounding her husband, Percy.

The gunman then entered the motel office and fatally shot the manager, Gordon Knott, 42, and his wife, Shirley Gail, 30.

Liquor store owner Don Sanders, no relation to the suspect, said the slain maid, Ella Beam, 22, Brookings, Ore., "came out of the door after hearing the shots and he pumped her one."

"He probably just went berserk," said Sanders.

Also wounded and in stable condition at a Eureka, Calif., hospital was Denise DeGraff, 17, Smith River.

A young girl, Carla Brough, Brookings, was injured slightly by flying glass during the shooting.

David Jimenez, an off-duty policeman, and his wife, Becky, were in the restaurant when the shooting began.

"I kept hearing these sounds that sounded like shots, but I wasn't sure," he said. "Then there was a pause of maybe 30 seconds. About the third shot, I heard the windows vibrate. The next shot I heard hit the window and I felt glass hit my hand. Then I knew somebody was shooting."

Sanders, who owns the Last Chance liquor store, said he had been in the motel lobby only 10 minutes before the shooting began.

In Cincinnati, Sander's mother said her son quit his department store job Feb. 17 and told her he had bought a rifle.

He was convicted of robbery in 1969 and placed on probation for three years in 1970.

Freed Prisoners Go To Damascus

BERLIN (UPI) — A West German plane bearing five released guerrillas left for Damascus today in compliance with demands made by the kidnapers of the top vote getter in West Berlin's mayoral election.

A fully fueled Boeing 707 with the five released prisoners aboard left Frankfurt's Rhein-Main airport at 9:55 a.m. (3:55 a.m. EDT), about one hour after the deadline set by the kidnapers.

A last-minute demand by Lufthansa chief pilot Werner Utter that two four-man crews be on the company's plane caused the delay.

The released prisoners rejected the demand, insisting instead on a single crew of four German crewmen.

A volunteer hostage, Heinrich Albertz, a Protestant pastor and a former mayor of West Berlin, was also aboard.

The guerrillas holding Christian Democratic politician Peter Lorenz said they would give up their captive after the prisoners reach safety and Albertz returns to West Berlin.

A police spokesman said the West German government decided to fly the five prisoners to Damascus, Syria, after the inmates failed to agree on a destination.

Police sources said the guerrillas, holding the 52-year-old Lorenz since Thursday, seem sure of their safety and apparently intend to remain in West Berlin.

The five guerrillas were gathered at a detention cell at the Frankfurt airport. Hours before the deadline, they agreed to leave the country but couldn't agree where to go.

The two men and three women conferred into the early hours over instant coffee and sausage sandwiches provided by the police.

One of the women, Gabrielle Kroecher-Tiedemann, first refused to go but changed her mind and was driven from her prison in Essen to Frankfurt.

A police spokesman said Verena Becker and Ingrid Siepmann, two women awaiting trial in West Berlin for murder and bank robbery respectively, had been anxious to be flown abroad.

But Rolf Pohle, who supplied the Baader-Meinhof guerrillas with guns, and Rolf Heissler, who robbed banks for them, had expressed reservations about making the trip. "They are having a lively discussion," a police spokesman said.

Utility Lobby Threatens Bill, Abel Claims

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — A proponent of strong utility regulation in Texas believes there are 75 lobbyists working in the legislature to make sure the regulation will be of benefit to the utilities.

Mike Abel, spokesman for a coalition of consumer organizations, he estimates have 300,000 members, said most utility company executives are assigned to the legislature creating a state regulatory commission.

"But the creation of a commission does not bother the monopolies if it is weak and allows them to continue to enjoy the highest profits of any utilities in the United States," he said.

Abel is urging all citizens concerned that Texas is the only state without a central utility regulation agency to attend a meeting of the Senate State Affairs Committee Wednesday at 2 p.m., where a public hearing on the issue will be conducted.

Although lobbyist records make it difficult to verify, Abel said 75 of the professionals are working on behalf of the utilities and some are making disparaging remarks about his coalition.

"One lobbyist told me the other day 'All you're trying to do is put the utility companies out of business,'" he said.

There are nearly a dozen bills in the legislature to create a state utility commission. Abel said many of them are extremely questionable from a consumers' point of view. His group supports a bill in the House co-sponsored by 10 representatives — the principal sponsors being Reps. Ed Watson, D-Deer Park, and Latham Boone, D-Navasota — and a Senate bill sponsored by Sens. Lloyd Doggett, D-Austin, and Ron Clower, D-Garland.

Fact Finding Delegation Returns From Indochina

SAIGON (UPI) — An eight-member U.S. congressional delegation flew home today, ending an Indochina fact finding mission climaxed by a heated encounter with Communist representatives.

Attempts by the group to get information on missing American servicemen touched off a dramatic debate with North Vietnamese and Viet Cong officials.

The delegation of one senator and seven representatives ended the trip Sunday night by calling on Secretary of State Henry Kissinger to step up peacemaking efforts in Indochina.

"I think the whole group feels there must be more effort on the part of our State Department and particularly Dr. Kissinger to work toward some solution," Rep. Paul McCloskey, R-Calif., told newsmen.

The group met for two hours Sunday morning with North Vietnamese and Viet Cong officers at Camp Davis. Communist true team headquarters at Tan Son Nhut air base.

One member of the group, Rep. William Chappell, D-Fla., accused the Communists of deliberately murdering two U.S. pilots in 1973. He said the Communists never intended to help recover the bodies of missing American servicemen.

Chappell told North Vietnamese Lt. Col. Nguyen Duc Bao the trip convinced him to vote for President Ford's request of $300 million in supplemental military aid to Saigon.

"I want to thank you, colonel, for having made up my mind for me," he told a North Vietnamese officer. "I intend to vote for the supplemental appropriation that has been requested."

Sen. Dewey Bartlett, R-Okla., gave the colonel a silver prisoner of war bracelet with the name of a pilot from his state. Bartlett asked for the return of the pilot's body and Bao promised to pass along the request.

During the legislators' stormy meeting with the Viet Cong, Rep. John Flynn, D-Ga., pointed his finger at Viet Cong Maj. Gen. Hoang Anh Tuan and asked, "Where are the 41 bodies of Americans killed in the war?"

Tuan said he had no obligation to answer the questions, stood up and abruptly signaled an end to the meeting.

The Communists have reported holding the bodies of 41 Americans but have refused to hand the remains over to U.S. authorities.

During the trip, the legislators met South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu in Saigon and Cambodian President Lan Nol in Phnom Penh.

Police Check 2 Burglaries

Police investigated a burglary of the Gulf Service, 200 W. Brown, Sunday.

Tom Kitchens, owner, called police shortly before 11 a.m. Officers said entry was gained through a broken window.

Inventory of the business indicated a small amount of pennies, mints, six lighters and a pen had been removed by the burglars.

Investigation of the burglary of a convenience store sometime Friday night or early Saturday was still under investigation today.

Reports said $745 was reported missing from the store by the owner early Saturday.

Brooks Gives Testimony

HOUSTON (UPI) — David Owen Brooks says he often witnessed the sexual torture and strangulation of teen-age boys but never killed one of the 27 youths.

"It didn't bother me to see it," Brooks said in his 1973 confession. "I saw it done many times."

"I just wouldn't do it myself. And I never did it myself."

The state indicted Brooks on four of the murders and the 20-year-old is on trial today for one of the deaths.

Brooks and a companion, Elmer Wayne Henley, 18, said they helped procure the youths for a friend, Dean Corll, 33. They blamed Corll for the three-year spree of sexual torture and murder and said they only helped him bury the bodies in a Houston boat shed, an East Texas forest and at a remote Gulf Coast beach.

Henley said Corll threatened him at a drug and sex party Aug. 8, 1973 and he killed the bachelor electrician. Henley called police and the two young men lead officers to the victims' lime soaked graves.

Henley was convicted of six of the murders and sentenced to 594 years in prison.

Brooks is accused of the death of Billy Lawrence in June, 1973. Horace James Lawrence testified he last saw his son June 4 and the youth said he was going fishing at Lake Sam Rayburn in East Texas with friends.

Texas A&M Working On Pest Control

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (UPI) — Texas A&M University says it has developed a method to cut multi-million-dollar losses by the cotton and grain industry from crop-destroying insects.

"The plan includes area-wide cultural control of planting dates, stalk destruction, control of boll weevils and use of field entomologists to check fields for infestations before control actions," said Dr. P.L. Adkisson, head of the A&M Entomology Department.

Adkisson said the cotton and grain industries take losses annually totaling $175 million because of insects. The industries contribute $3 billion annually to the state's economy.

He said the first phase of the five or six year program involved expansion of current pilot pest management programs in the Lower Rio Grande Valley, South and Central Texas, the Trans-Pecos region, High Plains and Gulf Coast.

He said cotton and grain producers involved will establish pest control districts to provide funding, and will establish regulatory measures for their areas.

Dr. John G. Thomas, Texas Agricultural Extension Service entomologist, said a number of factors led to the development of the statewide pest management plan. He said the cost-price squeeze faced by cotton producers was a consideration, coupled with the recognition of pest control as an expensive cost of production.

Southwestern University at Georgetown, Tenn., was established in 1840 by the Methodists and is the oldest college in Texas.

Attorney Plans To Seek More Evidence In Death

HOUSTON (UPI) — An assistant district attorney prosecuting suspects in the 1972 slaying of a plastic surgeon says he has insufficient proof to charge two more persons he believes were involved, but will continue to seek the necessary evidence.

"Cases like these are slow and sometimes things have to come out one at a time," assistant district attorney Robert Bennett said.

The comments were made after a jury returned a guilty verdict against the second of two persons charged in the death of Dr. John Hill. Now awaiting sentencing is Lila Paulus, accused of acting as a go-between in the contract murder.

The first person found guilty in the case was Marcia McKittrick, who testified in Mrs. Paulus' trial that oilman Ash Robinson asked Mrs. Paulus to arrange for the murder and make a $5,000 payment to a man identified as Bobby Wayne Vandiver.

In final arguments, Bennett said Robinson and Mrs. Paulus "played God" in Hill's case. Hill was accused of murdering Robinson's daughter but was awaiting retrial on the charges when he was killed.

"Ash said, I guess to himself, 'I will not leave it to the law to decide John Hill's fate.' But he (Robinson) and Lila Paulus together played some supreme being. They decided, 'John Hill, ye shall die.'" Bennett told the jury.

The prosecutor said a witness in the Paulus case, Dianne Settegast, 34, of Dallas, was also under investigation in the Hill murder. The woman was a close friend of Joan Robinson Hill and testified last week as a defense witness for Paulus.

Pampa Tops All-3-4A Picks

Pampa added five honors to its already achieved honor of representing District 3-AAAA in the past season playoffs. An three Harvesters were named to the Amarillo Globe-News all-district team, another was chosen Sophomore of the Year and Robert McPherson was named Coach of the Year.

Howie Lewis made the first team after averaging 16.8 points for the season and 12 rebounds. Lewis, a 6-6 senior, was a unanimous choice by district coaches and sports writers and was also chosen unanimously as Player of the Year.

Billy Wilson, 6-2 senior, was another unanimous first-team pick. Wilson led Pampa in scoring this season with a 17.6 average.

Robert Young, 6-0 senior, was also named to the first team.

Young managed a 14.5 average during the season. No Harvesters were named to the second team. Other first team picks were Joe Kerr (18.2) and Tom Hood (11.6), both of Borger.

Second teamers were Sylvester Moore of Palo Duro (18.4), Byron Carter of Tascosa (18.3), Rex Harris of Caprock (14.9), Lewis Moore of Tascosa (11.2) and Rick Fiel of Caprock (10.6).

The two Moores were the only juniors named to either the first or second teams.

McPherson was pleased with getting three of his Harvesters on the first team.

"I was very pleased. I guess I'm a little prejudiced but I think they're the three best players. I feel like Nick (Slaymaker) should have made the second team."

Slaymaker, a 6-4 senior, wound up the regular season with a 10-point average.

District 3-AAAA coaches voted on their all-district team today. That team will be released when Pampa's season is over.

The Harvesters meet Lubbock Monterey at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the West Texas State University Fieldhouse in Canyon. Winner of that bi-district game will advance to the regional playoffs Saturday in Abilene.

"They'll be tough. I think the boards will be the difference in the ball game Monterey is very tough on the boards," McPherson said.

Monterey has improved a whole lot. They're playing together better." Pampa downed Monterey, 85-51, in Pampa this season and crushed the Plainsmen, 81-55, in Lubbock.

Monterey is led by a trio of big men — 6-6 Dick Clardy, 6-3 Jackson Pace and 6-6 Scott Gardner.

Pace is the best overall player on the team. All are capable of scoring in double figures.

Guards are Jody Overbeck and Ricky Keith.

"The thing we've got to guard against is a mental letdown after winning this thing."

Pampa whipped Tascosa, 92-76, Friday in Amarillo for the District 3-AAAA championship. Monterey won both the first and second half in 4-AAAA to win the championship without a playoff.

"If our kids want it more than they do, we'll win it. Let's hope our kids go out there with the same enthusiasm and the same amount of desire that they've had," McPherson said.

Lewis, Wilson, Slaymaker, Young and 6-0 Junior Richard Lane will start for Pampa.

Murphy Wins Gleason Over Pearce, Nicklaus

LAUDERHILL, Fla. (UPI) — As the threesome of Jack Nicklaus, Arnold Palmer and Bob Murphy strode to the fifth hole Sunday, Nicklaus was 15

under par for the tournament and Murphy only nine.

"I felt like I was six strokes behind Jack Nicklaus and that is no place to be on a Sunday afternoon," said Murphy.

But the pudgy, beer-drinking Irishman birdied the fifth hole, then mounted a charge that won him the $52,000 first prize in the Jackie Gleason Invitational Golf classic—his first win in nearly five years.

Murphy shot a 68 for a total of 273, one shot ahead of Pearce, who had .71 over the par-72 course, and two ahead of Nicklaus, who skied to a 73.

Arnold Palmer, who had gone into the round three shots down to Nicklaus, carded a 74 and was six strokes behind Murphy. Miller Barber shot 68 and was fourth at 276. Lee Trevino shot a 66 and was tied with Hale Irwin (70) for fifth at 277.

Murphy had plenty of help from Nicklaus, who admitted giving away at least four strokes.

The tide really began to turn on the 12th hole, where Nicklaus "felt like I had the tournament in my pocket" after birdying the 9th, 10th and 11th holes.

"I had a chance to shut the door," he said after finishing third, two shots behind Murphy and a stroke behind Eddie Pearce. "I didn't shut the door."

Instead Nicklaus drew a seven-iron on the tee of the 189-yard par-three hole and belted it over the gallery and the cart path out of bounds for a double bogey five.

Nicklaus said, "I saw the marshal wave his hand like that, and my confidence went like that."

The Golden Bear, who has not won since the Tournament Players Championship last Labor Day, parred the next hole but he three-putted both the 14th and 15th for bogeys.

"When he three-putted on the 14th, I felt like it was my tournament to win," Murphy said later.

But the Brooklyn-born eight-year pro still had to put away Pearce, who stayed in it until the 18th and then hit his second shot to the lip of the cup for a birdie to tie Murphy.

The tie lasted only seconds, as Murphy laid a spectacular eight iron within two inches of the 17th pin for a birdie three. He then needed only a par on 18, which he got in routine fashion.

It was the first win for Murphy since the 1970 Greater Hartford Open, and he said it was a long time coming.

"In that time I probably finished second 15 times," he said. "I was beginning to wonder if I would ever win again."

Murphy was dressed in green and credited Irish luck for his eight iron on the 17th.

NBA ROUNDUP

Bullets Crush Lakers, 117-104

By United Press International
The Washington Bullets are making do just fine, thank you, without their All Star center Wes Unseld.

Unseld, out of action at least 10 days with a broken finger, was expected to be sorely missed by the Bullets, who are hoping to finish the season with a better record than Boston in order to gain a home court advantage should they meet the Celtics in the National Basketball Association Eastern playoff finals.

Sunday the Bullets took a big step in that direction when they whipped the Los Angeles Lakers, 117-104, behind a combined 38 points from Nick Weatherpoon and Len Robinson—Unseld's principal lineup replacements—while the Celtics were losing, 104-97, to Seattle.

Thus, at day's end, the Bullets stood atop the Central Division with a 48-17 won-lost mark, while the Celtics were 44-19 in leading the Atlantic Division.

In addition to 22 points from Weatherpoon and 16 from Robinson, the Bullets also got an all-time team record 21 assists from guard Kevin Porter to register their 21st straight home victory. Phil Chenier was high man for the Bullets with 27 and Mike Riordan had 24.

In other NBA games Sunday, Philadelphia beat New York, 91-87. Houston downed Phoenix, 110-104, and Portland clobbered Golden State, 122-86.

Sonics 104, Celtics 97:

Boston, playing a "home game" at Hartford, Conn., trailed throughout most of the early portion of the game before grabbing a short-lived 78-77 third-quarter lead. Then after the game was tied six times in the final period, Spencer Haywood and Fred Brown, combined to shoot Seattle back into the lead with an 8-2 burst over the last three minutes.

Haywood, who played with a sore eye, had a gamehigh 30 points while Dave Cowens led Boston with 24.

76ers 91, Knicks 87:

Longtime New York nemesis Fred Carter hit a pair of shots in the last 2:15 to help Philadelphia widen a late 87-85 lead and move to within a half game of the third-place Knicks in the Atlantic Division. Carter led the Sixers with 24 points and Billy Cunningham had 23. For the Knicks, moving closer to their first regular season extinction since 1967, Phil Jackson was high man with 14.

Volleyball Match Reset

The Pampa - Amarillo High girls' volleyball game, set for Tuesday night here, has been rescheduled for tonight in Harvester Fieldhouse.

The Pampa and Sandie JV match is set for a 6:30 p.m. start, while the varsity match will begin 20 minutes after the conclusion of JV play.

The Harvesters are 1-2 in the first half of district play.

Either Raiders, Aggies To Win Title This Week

UPI Sports Writer
Gerald Myers scouted Baylor last Saturday night and Shelby Metcalf had a pretty good look at the Texas Longhorns on television so the coaches most involved in the deadlocked Southwest Conference basketball campaign should be prepared for this week's action.

And it will be this week's action that will decide whether Texas Tech or Texas A&M or Arkansas or any two of that group or maybe all three will be league champions.

If the most likely of those possibilities occur—that being a co-championship involving Tech and A&M—those two clubs will tangle in a one-game playoff a week from Tuesday in either Dallas or Fort Worth for the right to represent the conference in the first round of the NCAA tournament.

The conference representative will play its first round game March 15 on Texas Tech's home court in Lubbock.

Tech and A&M stayed tied for the lead with 10-2 records last Saturday—Tech destroying Texas' six-game winning streak in Lubbock by a 78-51 count and the Aggies easily whipping TCU, 91-81. Before the Aggies met TCU, Metcalf watched Tech and Texas play on television. A&M must entertain the Longhorns Saturday night on the last evening of the conference season.

And after Tech whipped up on TCU, Myers jumped on a plane and flew to Houston to watch the Baylor Bears down Rice, 85-67. Myers likely had a good seat at Rice since only 429 people bothered to drop by for the game.

Metcalf said the realization they had to whip TCU to stay in a tie for the top spot did not put any added pressure on the Aggies Saturday night.

"We expected Tech to win," Metcalf said. "What we need to do is get some momentum ourselves."

Tech has the momentum of nine straight victories going into the final week and the Aggies are having to recover from a loss to the Red Raiders in College Station last Tuesday.

Jackson Same As 'Fish In '73

MESA, Ariz. (UPI) — For all the animation he shows, and for all the talking he does, Reggie Jackson still keeps some things locked up inside.

He doesn't tell people everything. One thing he doesn't tell them is how, through a technicality, he became a free agent not that long ago, the same as Catfish Hunter.

Nor does he dwell upon how he, too, could've bargained for at least a couple of million and finally been free of Charlie Finley's influence.

In actual fact, Reggie Jackson was every bit as much a free agent two years ago, in the spring of 1973, as Catfish Hunter was two months ago.

He knew it, Charlie Finley knew it, and Marvin Miller knew it.

The fact that Jackson still is the property of the Oakland A's today says something about his general character. Something good. It also does something to the rather widely held theory that a ballplayer will give it to a clubowner, and give it to him good, any chance he gets.

If you recall the tug-of-war between Charlie Finley and Reggie Jackson during the spring of '73, they were doing the same thing they do every spring, arguing over Jackson's contract. They went at it so hard and so long, Jackson never signed until opening day.

At one point in the negotiations, the A's slugger called time. He told Finley that even after he agreed to the financial terms, he wished that some provision be made in his contract for deferred compensation.

Charlie Finley said fine, he'd do it. Reggie Jackson let it go at that, knowing that even after he and Finley got together on the money, another clause would have to be written into the contract specifying the manner in which it would be paid.

Now here's where it gets a little technical.

Baseball rules specify if a player has not signed his contract by March 10, the club must send him registered written notification informing him it is exercising the right of the reserve clause in his contract, in effect reserving him for the following season.

If the club fails to send the player such notice by March 10, and he still hasn't signed his contract, he automatically becomes a free agent.

Reggie Jackson never received that written notice.

He believed he was a free agent.

He checked with Marvin Miller, head of the Players Association who knows all about contracts, and Miller informed him he was correct, he was a free agent.

Why then didn't Jackson demand his free agency? He didn't because he felt responsible for the fact that Finley was taking his word that he wanted his contract changed before he signed it. He felt that was why Finley didn't bother sending him notification.

"I just didn't think it was the right thing to do," says Reggie Jackson now. "I told him I was going to do something else, and that was what he went on. I realized I was a free agent when he didn't send me the written notice, but I don't play life like that."

Jackson signed for $75,000 that spring. A couple of weeks ago he lost his arbitration case but still will draw $140,000 this year. Some of the things Finley said about him at the arbitration proceedings last year and this year have left deep scars.

"You can't imagine how he talked about me at arbitration the last two years," says Oakland's slugging rightfielder. "I'm not even a good ballplayer to Finley, let alone a star. I'm a nothing human being and a nothing ballplayer."

The white amur fish, commonly called the grass carp, can grow to 100 pounds, eats its own weight in vegetation daily.

St. Vincent's City Champion

Sam Edwards fired in 20 points to pace St. Vincent's to a 42-32 win over Baker and the sixth-grade city basketball championship Saturday night in Harvester Fieldhouse.

The champions trailed 10-6 at the end of the first quarter but went ahead 24-16 at halftime. St. Vincent, 14-0 for the season, held a 32-28 lead going into the final period.

Baker, 8-7 for the season, was led by Arthur Lee Williams with 14 points.

St. Vincent's made the finals by drawing a bye in the first round and whipping Travis 37-22 Thursday at Pampa Junior High. Edwards scored 24 in that win.

Baker, in the first round, walked by Wilson, 42-25, as Andy Richardson chipped in 14 points. R. Brewer was high for Wilson with 15.

In the second round, Baker surprised Austin, 48-39, as Williams scored 20 points. Steve McDougal managed 26 points for the losers.

In other first round games, Travis beat Mann, 27-17, and Austin edged Lamar, 22-20.

In consolation, Austin eliminated Lamar, 35-29, and Travis beat Wilson, 39-35, in overtime.

In the consolation finals, it took one overtime for Austin to slip past Travis, 37-36, for the championship. Joey Coufal and McDougal scored 16 and 15, respectively, to pace the winners.

High for Travis were Gary Cudney and Clay Coffee with 13 apiece.

Mann forfeited its games in the consolation round.

Team records besides St. Vincent's and Baker are Austin, 9-6; Travis, 8-8; Mann, 5-8; Wilson, 4-10, and Lamar, 2-12.

In the fifth grade finals, Travis whipped Lamar, 42-24, for the championship. Joey Skinner scored 12 for the champions.

Travis, after drawing a bye in the first round, belted Wilson, 34-11, while Lamar, also after drawing a bye, clubbed Austin, 24-21.

In first round games, Wilson crushed Baker, 26-4, and Austin slipped by Mann, 18-11. In consolation games, Austin downed Baker, 38-12, and Wilson walloped Mann, 34-13.

In the consolation championship game, Wilson, behind Kidwell with 13 points, defeated Austin, 22-15.

Fifth-grade final records are Travis, 12-0; Lamar, 7-5; Austin, 9-5; Wilson, 8-6; Mann, 2-10, and Baker, 0-12.

Double-Ring Service Unites Teresa George-Michael Nance

Miss Teresa Diane George became the bride of Michael John Nance at 7 p.m. Saturday, Jan. 25, in the First United Methodist Church of Pampa.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Flint R. George, now residing in Artesia, N.M. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. John Nance of Lovington, N.M.

THE CEREMONY

The double-ring ceremony was officiated by Albert Maggard, minister of the First Pentecostal Church in Pampa. Organist, Tracy Cary provided traditional wedding selections and accompanied John C. Duggan as he sang "The Wedding Song" and "Thanks Be To God."

The church was decorated with one large basket arrangement of gladioli and mums, flanked by two, 15-branched candelabra entwined with greenery and accented with white sweetheart roses and blue satin bows.

THE BRIDE

The bride, given in marriage by her father with the "her mother and I" avowal, wore a formal gown of candlelight organza, designed with a fitted empire bodice. Her sheer yoke was enhanced by Venice lace edging that traced a pattern around the yoke and a high Victorian neckline. Her long sleeves were of Bishop styling enhanced by a caplet lace overlay. They fell to deep lace cuffs over her wrists. The A-line floor length skirt fell to a lace band with a double flounce organza ruffle, which swept to back fullness and cascaded to a full chapel length train.

She wore a matching camelot cap covered in Venice lace. The bridal illusion veiling fell to chapel length over the train of the gown. The veiling was entirely edged in Venice lace. She carried a cascade of white and blue carnations and white roses with white ribbon.

She followed the tradition of something old by having birthdate pennies. Her gown was something new and she borrowed a silver necklace from a friend. She wore the traditional blue garter.

ATTENDANTS

Freddie Dougherty of Pampa served as matron of honor. She wore a floor length blue knit dress styled with an A-line skirt with long sleeves with wide fitted cuffs. Her white nosegay of gladioli featured white lace backing and white ribbon streamers.

Ricky George, brother of the bride, served as ringbearer.

MR. AND MRS. MICHAEL NANCE
...nee Miss Teresa Diane George

Best man was Terry Dougherty of Pampa. Denver Dyer and Kevin George, brother of the bride, seated guests.

MOTHERS

The bride's mother wore a floor length dress of yellow, orange and white chiffon and a corsage of carnations.

The bridegroom's mother wore a floor length dress of turquoise crepe knit and a corsage of carnations.

RECEPTION

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the parlor of the church. The bridal table was covered with a white satin cloth with a centerpiece of camellias, spider mums and roses. The centerpiece was flanked by two, five-branched candelabra.

Two love birds on a filigree heart base was chosen to top the three-tiered wedding cake. Ivory icing was used for the border and garlands, leaving the tiny sweet peas and blue roses to be made in her shade of blue.

Susan Smith served cake and Cheryl Wilson served punch. Darlis Matthews registered guests.

Following a weekend wedding trip, the couple resides at 1040 S. Faulkner, Pampa. For traveling, the bride wore a tweed apricot knit dress with an apricot scarf around her neck. Her flowers were lifted from the bridal bouquet.

AFFILIATIONS

The bride, a 1974 PHS graduate, is employed at Panhandle Insurance Agency. The bridegroom, a 1973 graduate from Lovington, is employed at Dale's Automotive Service.

PRE-NUPTIAL EVENTS

A bridal shower was held recently in the honor of the bride at the home of Mrs. Jo Rochelle, co-hosted by Freddie Dougherty, Cheryl Wilson, and Susan Smith.

HD COUNCIL
The Gray County Home Demonstration Council met recently in the Court House Annex with Mrs. W.K. Dougal, chairman, presiding.

Eight clubs answered roll call and Mrs. Bob Muncy gave the treasurer report and distributed literature for the upcoming Stock Show.

Mrs. Jim Hollingwood, health and safety chairman, announced there would be a heart program at the Flame Room and Mrs. Glenn Knight told that the council will entertain Senior Citizens April 10 at 1:30 p.m. at Lovett Library.

Mrs. E.A. Revard, cultural arts chairman, asked each member to make a block for a quilt to be shown at an art exhibit to be held Oct. 2 in the M.K. Brown Memorial Auditorium. Each club will sponsor a booth to show what they have made during the year.

Mrs. Hollingwood announced that a $300 scholarship would be given to a 4-H girl or boy who is a senior in high school this year with an outstanding record book and grades.

Raynette Miller, new Assistant County Extension Agent, was introduced by Elaine Houston, Extension Agent. She also introduced Mrs. E.H. Brainard who gave a report from Adult 4-H Council leaders and read a resolution.

Potter County has asked club women in Gray County to exhibit items made from double knit scraps, and denim skirts on March 12 at 9 a.m. at Holiday Inn West in Amarillo.

The following delegates were named to attend District ITHDA meeting in Spearman, April 10: Mmes. Vinson Shaw, Cora Lee Robertson, and Roy Smith. Alternate delegates were Mmes. Lettie Smith and Loyd Harvey, Jr.

All club members are to furnish pies at the Stock Show the day their club works.

Carroll-Maxwell Vows Solemnized

SKELLYTOWN — Miss Debbie Carroll of Skellytown and DeWayen Maxwell of White Deer were united in marriage Feb. 8 at 6:30 p.m. in the First Assembly of God Church in White Deer with the pastor, the Rev. Mearl Martin officiating.

The bride is the granddaughter of Mrs. Susan Faye Carroll of Skellytown. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. J.B. Hogue of White Deer and Billy W. Maxwell of Okmulgee, Okla.

The bride dressed in a blue linen floor length dress, was given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Archie Curtis of Amarillo. Her attendant was the bridegroom's sister, Miss Renee Maxwell.

The bridegroom's best man was Frank Houston.

The ceremony was performed before an arrangement of pink roses and carnations and candelabrum entwined with greenery. The bride's grandmother wore a blue and white dress and the bridegroom's mother wore a rose colored floor-length dress.

A reception was held in the Fellowship Hall of the church immediately following the ceremony. The serving table was covered with a white cloth and centered with an arrangement of pink carnations. The white wedding cake and punch were served by Mrs. Bill Easter and Miss Renee Maxwell.

The couple is making their home at Fort Sill, Okla. where the bridegroom is serving in the U.S. Army.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Archie Curtis of Amarillo, Miss Susan Carroll, Tormie Carroll and Miss Ann Adams of Skellytown.

Heritage Of American Music Told To CS PEO Sisterhood

Chapter CS, PEO Sisterhood met recently in the home of Mrs. Charles Walsh, 1114 Christine. A program on the Heritage of American Music was presented by Mrs. Bruce Riehart. Members sang songs typical of the various periods of American history and were accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Tom Wilkerson.

In songs the people sang the first century and a half of American history, we learn something of the grim spirit of religious rebellion, which dominated the minds of the early colonists, the speaker told. The severity of their early songs reflected, too, the barren, hard-working life which the people had to lead. The first book of music used by the Pilgrims in this country was the Ainsworth Psalter brought with them from Holland. Only one of the Psalms set to music in this book is well known today — "The Old Hundred," originally a gay, lively French tune is sung and loved today as the "Doxology."

In England, Isaac Watts was writing in a more liberal musical form that was considered extremely daring. In America they became enormously popular and many are still sung today: "O God, Our Help in Ages Past," and "When I Survey Thy Wondrous Cross" are perhaps best known. Mrs. Riehart stated.

By the time of the Revolution the colonies already were a financial success. America was already a melting pot amalgamating many strains. Vast numbers of men and women from other countries came in waves of immigration — economic, political and religious refugees all searching for the new freedom of the colonies. They brought with them their own folklore, literature and songs, creating the beginning of a great heritage which helped shape the whole of American history.

The songs of the period from 1776 are the songs of a new nation. In one form or another they are all songs of rebellion, for the American colonists were a rebellious breed. They fought a great revolution because they would not tolerate the English rule, and after the Revolution they continued to fight with each other. Their religion underwent drastic reformation, and finally, in a great surge of independent spirit, they spread out and began to people the whole west continent.

Nothing shows the fiery spirit of the colonists as well as the songs they sang. "Yankee Doodle" was a gay tune that played an important part in the American Revolution. It was first sung by the British in derision of the Americans. But the colonists liked the tune and took it from the enemy. The Band of the Continental Army played it when Cornwallis surrendered to Washington at Yorktown, Oct. 19, 1781.

At this time the "shape note" song books appeared. These represented the first printed music and were designed by rural music teachers to simplify the reading of music. The books were vastly popular, particularly in back-woods communities and some of them are still used in the rural South today.

The years from the Civil War to the 1880's were years of conflict and expansion, and brought forth an odd mixture of songs. Stephen Foster, one of the foremost of American song composers, wrote "The Old Folks at Home" and helps create, in minstrel song, one of our first, purely American forms of music. During the war not all songs were clearly earmarked for the North or the South. "Dixie," written by Dan Emmett, a Northerner, was taken as the South's own song, and "Battle Hymn of the Republic" was used as a Southern camp-meeting tune — became the song of the Northern Army, the speaker continued.

Mrs. Billy Stovall concluded the program, accompanied by Mrs. Tom Wilkerson as she sang "Climb Every Mountain." Members present were Mmes. Walton Bailey, D.V. Burton, L.P. Clarke, J.G. Crinklaw, W.R. Harden, P.W. Harvey, C.E. Kneale, Owen Gafferty, Robert LaFon, Bruce Riehart, R.J. Sailor, Jr., Myron Spencer, Neal Stovall, William Vaughn, Jack White, R.R. Williams, Jr., T.J. Wright, C.W. Walsh, Ray Duncan, and guest, Mrs. Wilkerson.

Dietitians To Hit Fad Diets During National Nutrition Week

The American Dietetic Association has announced plans for its third annual National Nutrition Week. "Food Fads Fool" will be the theme; the dates of observance, March 2 through March 8.

Dietitians are seriously concerned about the wide popularity of food fads and fad diets, said Miss Mary Ellen Dambold, Public Relations Chairman, Panhandle Dietetic Association. "Some fads are simply a waste of money, but many can endanger health if followed for more than a short time."

A position paper on food and nutrition misinformation has been published by the association stating its official position, and the reason for that position, on the fads and fallacies now popular. Food Facts Talk Back, a booklet written for the general public, also refutes current fallacies and gives a guide for nutritious meal patterns.

The ADA says that unusual food practices are not necessarily bad, but warns that those fads lacking necessary nutrients or focusing on extremes are potentially harmful. Among the nutrients often missing are carbohydrates, calcium, iron, trace minerals and vitamin A. Some fad diets are also lacking in protein.

Particularly singled out by the organization, which represents 26,000 dietitians, are low-carbohydrate diets, the zen macrobiotic diet, starvation of fasting with less than 800 or 900 calories a day, and diets focusing on just a few foods — such as cottage cheese and grapefruit, meat and water, fruits only, grains and sprouts. The zen macrobiotic diet is not to be confused with vegetarian diets which can be nutritionally adequate.

Miss Dambold added, "In this era of inflation, food fads are also foolish because of their high cost." Expensive, organically-grown foods have no more nutrients than their "non-organic" counterparts. Self-prescribed large-dose vitamin and many "health food" store products waste money, say the dietitians, because people can get all the nutrients they normally need by eating a balanced diet of a wide variety of foods from the supermarket.

National Nutrition Week is jointly sponsored by the ADA and its state and local affiliates. Other groups interested in good nutrition — such as The National Restaurant Association, state extension and public health agencies, and local nutrition councils — are cooperating with the dietitians on particular Nutrition Week projects.

The visual theme, a caricature of an old-time medicine man hawking "Dr. Fad's Elixir," is used on posters, flyers, and tray cover placements. Also in use are buttons, bumper stickers and restaurant table tents.

Mrs. Consuelo Northrup Bailey of Vermont in 1954 became the first woman in the nation to be elected lieutenant governor of a state.

A ding-a-ling orders Gas air conditioning now.

A telephone call to Pioneer Natural Gas brings an air conditioning specialist to your home for a free survey and cost estimate at no obligation to you. He'll answer all your questions, and tell you what it will take to install GAS air conditioning in your home. It's the first easy step toward having your dependable GAS air conditioning installed before the first hot, windy days are here.

A GAS air conditioning system is ruggedly built to cool quietly and efficiently. There are fewer moving parts, and no compressor to break down or wear out. Heat from the steady blue flame circulates a refrigerant through the system to cool the air. It's this simple principle that gives GAS air conditioning its long life with no loss of cooling capacity and easy maintenance.

Install GAS air conditioning now. You'll avoid the rush, and be enjoying the quiet, cooling comfort of GAS air conditioning while everyone else is waiting. Give us a ring... a-ling.

FROM DREAM VACATION

Young Cancer Patient Comes Home To Die

BELLEVILLE, Ill. (UPI) — Hawaii was a "dream vacation" for Heidi Biggs, but she told her mother it was time to go back to Illinois. She wanted to die at home.

Fourteen-year-old Heidi, a cancer patient, died Sunday in an ambulance on the last leg of her journey home.

Her mother, Lucille Biggs, said Heidi knew that "time was running out fast for her."

Heidi turned to her in their hotel room in Honolulu last week. "She asked me to please take her back to Belleville soon," her mother said. "She wanted to die at home."

The earliest flight they could get was a nonstop trip Sunday morning.

Heidi, unconscious, was removed from the plane on a stretcher and taken to a waiting ambulance at the St. Louis Airport.

The ambulance headed for her home, since Mrs. Biggs wanted to keep her daughter out of the hospital for her remaining days. Doctors had told her there was nothing more they could do.

As the ambulance neared the outskirts of Belleville, an attendant noticed Heidi had stopped breathing. She was taken to Memorial Hospital here, where she was pronounced dead of a respiratory arrest. Her mother and stepfather were at her bedside.

"I think she knew I kept my promise to bring her home," said Mrs. Biggs, her voice breaking.

People around the world had contributed money to send Heidi on her trip to Hawaii. But she spent the last seven days of the two-week vacation in a hotel room because her condition suddenly worsened. Her weight was down to 50 pounds, she was under heavy sedation and barely conscious in recent days.

Heidi had spent the first week of the vacation on the sand and beneath the palms of Hawaii. She went horseback riding, shopping, sightseeing and walking along Waikiki Beach.

"She was on top of the world," said Mrs. Biggs, who has three other children.

On her departure Feb. 15 from the St. Louis airport she laughed and smiled at well wishers who saw her off. She said she had dreamed of visiting Hawaii because "I saw a movie about it. I want to see what it's like."

Russell Penny, a Sudbury, Ont., businessman, heard of Heidi and visited her in Belleville. He donated the first $100 for Heidi's dream trip, and later donations poured in from round the world. When the fund reached $2,400, Heidi and her mother made the trip. Penny and Heidi's stepfather, Randy Hillman, joined them later.

"We gave her her wish," Penny said. "It was her last request and we honored her last request."

Local Knights Planning Polish Sausage 'Feast'

The members of Frank Keim Council No. 2787, Knights of Columbus, will hold their 21st annual Polish Sausage Feast on Sunday, March 9, in the Hall at Ward and Buckler Streets in Pampa, from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. and from 4:30 - 6:30 p.m.

Jerry Braddock, Grand Knight of the Council, says the Knights are preparing a ton of sausage made from a closely guarded secret recipe handed down by a pioneer family of this area. The usual side dishes of beans, apricots, salads, bread, beverages and desserts will be served.

Willie Rapstine is general chairman of the event, with Hub Horner assisting with the overall planning.

The entire active membership of the Council has been assigned to specific duties and committees and are working diligently to complete the necessary preparations.

Braddock said.

Your Horoscope

By Jeanne Dixon

TUESDAY, MARCH 11
Your birthday today: Winds up a long cycle, puts you in the clear to begin new enterprises next year. Spend this year reducing your daily living to essentials, ending bad habits, jettisoning material clutter. Relationships continue to deepen or dwindle if you neglect them. Today's natives "march to a different drummer," have values beyond those commonly understood and accepted.

Aries [March 21-April 19]: You can achieve some permanent gain by making good use of your ready cash. Look up an old friend; renew a partnership. Romantic and sentimental interests lighten the evening.

Taurus [April 20-May 20]: Speak up, declare yourself in on whatever is happening. Gather friendly cooperation around you for local projects. See that you are equally well represented at a distance.

Gemini [May 21-June 20]: The novel and nifty gadgets of present times are cute but don't work nearly as well as conventional methods. Be sure that you understand the reasons behind the traditions.

Cancer [June 21-July 22]: Accept any gift gracefully if you're positive there are no strings or subtle obligations attached. Once you've done your usual chores, reward yourself with a lively evening.

Leo [July 23-Aug. 22]: Start early since there's much to get right, both in schedules and arrangements. Sensible financial revisions are feasible. Travel is favored for business and pleasure.

Virgo [Aug. 23-Sept. 22]: You've heard enough of what's going on; now find out what you can do. Accept suggestions, work out a coherent plan in which all concerned have a role, then full speed ahead!

Libra [Sept. 23-Oct. 22]: Move promptly to finalize agreements. Youngsters attract attention to their side of current issues. Welcome the end of a long-standing annoyance in later hours.

Scorpio [Oct. 23-Nov. 21]: Be alert, grab any opportunity to try new methods or a short cut. Teamwork thrives, particularly if you're sharing credit and compensation as well as responsibility.

Sagittarius [Nov. 22-Dec. 21]: You can put over almost any idea this morning. Be certain that it's something you're able to follow up later with profit. Travel if you can; get a change of viewpoint.

Capricorn [Dec. 22-Jan. 19]: Persistence still pays off. Noisy, flashy deals aren't the only source of reward. Confidential work done quietly also produces both immediate and long-term benefits.

Aquarius [Jan. 20-Feb. 18]: It helps to visit people in the same field to get their slant on mutual concerns. Be yourself, accept both praise and criticism casually, then proceed with work at hand.

Pisces [Feb. 19-March 20]: You only have a brief period to make up your mind. Check with those who will have to be involved in coming activity. Settle for some expedient now; fill in the details later.

Because you need money today and tomorrow...

Money today where you can get it quickly for the things that are important now is why you need a savings account.
5.25% Yields 5.39% Annually

Money tomorrow for things that will be important then is why you need the higher earnings of a certificate account.
5.75% to 7.75% Annually
Substantial penalty charged for early withdrawal.

...you need two accounts at Security Federal.

When something good comes along, or something goes wrong, a PASSBOOK account is your best friend. Presto -- the money is here, waiting for you. While it waits, it earns, which is more than you can say for a checking account.

A CERTIFICATE account brings bigger goals nearer, faster through greater earnings.

You will always need money TODAY and TOMORROW. That's why you need two insured accounts here for the money you can't afford to risk.

All Security Federal accounts -- savings as well as certificates -- earn interest from date of deposit to date of withdrawal, compounded daily, paid or credited quarterly. Accounts insured safe by an agency of the U. S. Government.

Security Federal -- the oldest and largest association in the High Plains, has three offices; two in Amarillo and one in Pampa.
