Fuehrer Declares Germany Can Meet Any Combined Army

Fiery Speech Is Made By Hitler In Beer Cellar

No Compromise Possible, States German Leader

(By The Associated Press)

MUNICH, Nov. 8—Adolf Hitler, in a stormy speech in the Munich Lowenbrau beer cellar tonight declared that Germany is "strong enough to meet any combination in the world."

Surrounded by Nazi party stalwarts in the Memorial eve observation of the party's unsuccessful Beer Hall Putsch of 1923, the German Fuehrer declared he was determined to carry the war to a decisive conclusion and rejected any compromise.

He said German production capacity was the highest in the world and the Reich soon would have the capacity of the rest of Europe added to its own.

Casualties Few.

"Just as I, as a National Socialist, rejected every compromise in the fight for Germany," he said, "just so today I reject now and here any compromise."

Just one year ago the Fuehrer narrowly escaped death from a time bomb planted in the beer hall, scene of the annual celebration.

Tonight he spoke behind closed doors to his old comrades of 17 years ago, in contrast to the open-house festivities heretofore.

Hitler declared that Germany's casualties in the present war to date were only a little more than half those of the Franco-Prussian war of 1870-71.

Attacks Condemned.

German casualties in the 1870-71 war are listed in the German encyclopaedia as 25,278 killed in battle and 14,904 dead from other causes, such as illness.

Hitler condemned what he called the nightly attacks by the British Royal Air force on the German civilian population and stressed the reprisals of the German air force and military power.

Informed sources said that the Fuehrer, in the historic Buerberbrau hall where he narrowly escaped death from a time bomb just a year ago, spoke of the "hard and heavy but beautiful years of struggle."

In an ironical tone, these sources said, he referred to measures against the Jews and told how German enemies were foiled, mentioning "the English campaign of illusions."

Nineteen Killed As Two Planes Collide

(By The Associated Press)

RIO JE JANEIRO, Nov. 8. — An airplane journey ended in death for 19 persons almost as it started today when a twin-engined transport of the Brazilian V. A. S. P. line, just taking off from Santos Dumont Airdrome, collided with another plane.

The liner plunged into Botafogo bay, carrying all its 18 occupants to their death, among them Hernandez Cata, Cuban minister to Brazil; Evendro Chagas, Brazilian scientist connected with the Rockfeller foundation and who was well-known in the United States; Alexander Grieg, Norwegian consul at Santos and Sao Paulo, and Sebastiao Leme Salles, nephew of Sebastiao Cardinal Leme, archbishop of Rio de Janeiro.

The lone occupant of the other plane, Colin Abbott, 43-year-old British world war flier, died in the wreckage of his plane which plunged into a building. His plane was owned by Shell-Mex Argentina.

The V. A. S. P. line was organized about three years ago with German planes and pilots but recently has used Brazilian fliers and modern transports bought in the United States.

Slayer Confesses He Cremated Child

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—A two-day search of Bronx buildings, basements, rooftops and sewers ended today when police said a building superintendent confessed that he had choked and cremated Genevieve Connolly, 10, parochial school honor student.

"Something snapped in my mind," was the explanation which Assistant District Attorney Sylvester Ryan said was given by the superintendent, Thomas Conroy, 38. He quoted Conroy later as saying the girl had threatened to tell her mother that he had kissed her in a hallway after she had done an errand for him.

Asked To Help.

Ryan said Conroy broke down and declared, "I want to get this off my consience," after he had talked with the girl's parents. Conroy and Connollys came from West Meath, Ireland; and the parents had appealed to him for help in their quest for their missing, blue-eyed, red-haired daughter for whom 150 detectives had searched since her disappearance Wednesday night.

Conroy has one son, six.

Police said that Conroy had given the girl two cents change for buying him a package of cigarettes. They said she spent the two cents for candy at a nearby store and then returned to the apartment house.

Ryan said Conroy told police:

"I called her into the hallway and she hesitated, so I pushed her in and she started to cry.

Thrown In Firebox.

"I grabbed her by the mouth and gagged her, and I half-carried her down the rear stairway to the boiler room. I threw her on the coal pile and choked her.

"She kicked her feet continuously. I heard a gurgling sound. I pressed her throat harder and harder 'til she stopped.

"Then I opened the furance door, and threw her in the firebox. And I took a coupie of shovels of coal and threw it on her. Then I went back into the apartment.

"Later I went back and looked into the furnace. Most of her body was burned but her back. Then I threw a couple more shoveis of coal on the fire, and I shut the door and went back into the apartment.

"At 10 o'clock, I went back into the furnace room and opened the door and left it partly open in order to give it a draft. Then I went back to bed."

Four-Hour Raid Staged By RAF On Nazi Points

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Nov. 8—A four-hour British bombing attack which left the vast Krupp armament works in Essen, Germany, enveloped in "one huge sheet of fire"—the longest and mightiest assault yet loosed upon that vital Nazi war foundry—was reported by the air ministry tonight.

It was a bombardment which began a little after 8 o'clock last night and went on intermittently through the night and into the early morning hours. When it was over returning pilots said that the red result of their work could be seen 60 miles away.

Big Force Takes Part.

It was in several senses an unprecedented raid, according to British accounts, for it was launched by an extraordinarily big force of medium and heavy bombers, dropping what the ministry called "some of the heaviest caliber bombs yet carried into Germany."

Explosives were loosed by the uncounted ton, fire bombs by the thousands and every section of the great works was declared hit—workshops, machine shops and even the plant's administration buildings.

Conditions Favorable.

All this, said the ministry, was done under favorable weather conditions."

The assaulting forces sprang in waves, it was added, and the second contingent of bombers to reach the factory area aimed for a chain of

Turkey Says Italian Failure Pleases Nazis

ANKARA, Turkey, Nov. 8—(AP)—The Turkish radio remarked tonight that "Italy's failure in Greece is not displeasing to Germany, and cited these "reasons."

1. "Germany doesn't like the Italian policy of conserving its own strength while Germany does all the fighting."

2. "Italy's strength hinders Germany in efforts to reach an agreement with France. If Italy were weakened and militarily embarrassed Germany could more easily force Italy to renounce part of her claims on France."

3. "Germany is flattered by the inference that only Germany can manage a blitzkrieg."

Burglaries And Thefts Reported

A wave of smalltime burglaries and thievery was extended Friday, police records showed.

A small amount of money was taken from Sunbeam laundry, at 1511 Avenue Q; Harris & Price grocery at 1511 Avenue Q was entered, but the loss was not great, since E. B. Harris reported he was three hours noticing entry to the place had been made, and an attempt was made, it was believed, to break into Pinson Drug store, at Sixteenth street and Avenue Q.

Small Bank Opened.

Mrs. W. E. Newton of 2206 Avenue V said $12 had been taken from two small banks in her residence; Mrs. E. G. Collins of 2001 Sixteenth street said her residence had been burglarized and a $1 bank note taken after considerable ransacking of the place; the 1712 Broadway place of Johnny's Coffee shop burglarized after a rear door's hinges had been removed and entry effected after an abortive attempt to break in through a skylight had failed.

At the coffee shop approximately $4 in "change" was taken from vending machines, possibly more.

Britain To Get Half Of U. S. War Output

England Is Given Right To Order More Airplanes

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8—A ruling that half the war supply output of American factories will go to Great Britain and Canada was announced by President Roosevelt today, while the priorities board gave the British permission to place a new order for 12,000 military planes in this country.

The president said his so-called "rule of thumb" policy of a 50-50 split with the British applied to heavy bombers and all other types of military equipment and increased the previously existing ratio about 5 per cent in favor of Great Britain.

The percentage might be less on some items which were in greater demand for the American defense program, he said, and larger on others.

To Increase Volume.

The application of the general policy, which the president said was adopted three or four weeks ago, was expected, however, to increase the volume of planes, tanks and other types of heavier equipment going to Great Britain.

The British were understood to have been receiving considerably less than 50 per cent of the American production of military planes and tanks.

The priorities board, in granting the British purchasing commission the right to buy the 12,000 additional planes, said the craft would be built "in existing plants and in other facilities now developing." The contracts have yet to be negotiated and no delivery dates were announced.

Announced By FDR.

President Roosevelt announced Britain's request for permission to place the new order in a speech at Boston on Oct. 30 and said he had asked the priorities board to give it "most sympathetic consideration."

The 12,000 planes, the president said, would bring to 26,000 the number of military aircraft on order in this country for the British. He said at the same time that large additional orders are being negotiated for artillery, machine guns, rifles and tanks with equipment and ammunition."

The priorities board said it was devising plans "to gear construction of the British planes to American production in such a way as to prevent interference with our own requirements."

The question of delivery priorities

Brownfield Woman Is Hurt In Wreck

Mrs. Ed Spear of Brownfield suffered minor lacerations over one eye at 10:30 o'clock Friday morning when two automobiles were in collision two miles southwest of Wolfforth, said the state highway patrol office in Lubbock.

Capt. W. W. Legge and C. E. Luce, United States deputy marshall, happened along and investigated the mishap, resulting after Captain Legge said, M. W. Dunlap 58, of route 1 Morton backed his automobile on the highway.

Mrs. Dunlap who was in her husband's car, Mrs. Jimmy K. Bell, 25, Mrs. Bell's 4-months-old son, and Mrs. Melvyn Spear, all of Brownfield, were not injured seriously although Mrs. Bell suffered a laceration of one knee. All except the Dunlaps were in the car of Mrs. Ed Spear.

The infant was in a basket between the two seats of the Spear automobile and apparently was not even jarred."

Bid For Police And Jail Building Taken

Bid of R. C. Ball of Lubbock to construct a new police and jail building was accepted at a special commission meeting at city hall Friday night, W. H. Rodgers, city manager announced. Amount of Ball's bid was $27,999.

Work is to start in about 10 days, it was said. The building will be of brick and tile construction, one story, 71 1-2 by 69 1-2 feet. It will be located at Ninth street and Avenue J.

Other bids received by the commission were: John T. Glover, $28,945; J. W. Sampson, $29,600; J. B. Maxey, $30,472; Robert E. Maxey, $31,576, and J. Cooksey Morgan, $32,468.

Present at the meeting were Rodgers, Mayor Carl E. Slaton, and Commissioners W. G. McMillan, Garland Newsom, and W. B. Price. Commissioner Hub Jones was out of town.

Six Wounded Greeks Lead To Capture Of Italian Soldiers

By J. WES GALLAGHER
Associated Press Staff Writer

SALONIKA, Greece, Nov. 8. — A young Greek army sergeant who spent 15 years of his boyhood in New York and Detroit told me today that a dawn attack by six wounded Greek soldiers paved the way for capture of 250 Italian troops in Albania.

The hand-grenade attack, he said, was the climax of a day-and-night battle in which 60 other Italians were killed.

Until the start of the war, Sergeant Constantine Kelepousis was a political science student but today he lay in a hospital with four machine-gun bullets in one arm and another bullet in his leg.

"Several days after the war started," he said, "my company launched an attack into Albania. In one day, we made 15 kilometers (more than nine miles) and captured many prisoners. Then we came to a small lake with the Italians entrenched on a nearby hill.

Five Are Killed.

"We fought all morning and that afternoon, the Italians jumped out of their trenches waving a white flag offering to surrender.

"My captain ordered me to take 10 men and take possession of the trenches.

"We advanced to within 100 yards of the Italians when suddenly they jumped back into the trenches and began firing on us with machine guns.

"Five of my men were killed outright. The rest were wounded. We huddled behind rocks all afternoon, tending our wounds as best we could, while the battle continued over our heads.

"The wounded men couldn't make their way back to their lines during the night, but at dawn a heavy fog reduced the visibility to a few feet.

All Surrender.

"Instead of retreating, we decided to attack. We could still crawl. And we had a large supply of hand grenades.

"We spaced ourselves over about 75 yards and, crawling forward, tossed our grenades into the Italian trench from short range. The whole thing seemed to go up in the air, amid a terrific explosion, and in a few seconds we heard screams and groans.

"The Italians—those still alive—jumped out of the trench shouting, 'Mother of God, don't throw any more!' They thought they were being attacked by a whole company instead of just six wounded men.

"By that time, our company had heard the shouting and came running across no man's land, taking 250 Italians prisoner. Sixty more were dead in the trenches."

Kelepoulis has a brother, William, living in Detroit.

American Vessel Is Reported Sunk

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—A dispatch from Melbourne, Australia, tonight quoted Australian Navy Minister William Hughes as announcing that an American freighter, the City of Rayville, had been sunk, presumably by a mine and that all but one of her crew of 38 had been rescued.

Another dispatch from Sydney a few minutes later quoted the navy minister as saying a British ship had been sunk in Australian waters by an explosion possibly caused by a mine and that "rumors regarding loss of any other vessel off the Australian coast are unfounded."

The second report said all but one of the British ship's crew of 56 had been saved, but did not give the name of the vessel.

Lending weight to the original report was the fact that the City of Rayville, a 3,862-ton vessel of Tampa, Fla., registry, was last reported to have agrived at Melbourne on Oct. 30 and sailed the same day for Adelaide, Australia.

Argentine Representatives Visit Lubbock In Study Of Production Of Cotton

SENOR JULIO A. LIOSA and Senor Norberto Reichart of the Argentine are in Lubbock visiting this so great country to learn of cotton production and all other associated methods.

Seno. Liosa is secretary general of the Argentine National Cotton board, Senor Reichart chief of the cotton seed section of the board.

They are being shown around by Harry P. Savage of the widely known firm of Esteve Brothers & Co., Inc. of New Orleans, Galveston and Dallas.

They ask in one breath for statistics on acreages and link in the next tell of the esteem of the Argentine for this country. President Roosevelt's 'good neighbor' policy has riveted so much attention on this government that the general election of this week caused widespread watch here, they tell one.

And they discuss their exports of cotton to Manchesters great spin-

Robbery Suspect Indicted Here

Efforts were being made Friday through the office of Burton S. Burks, district attorney, to have the federal government release Raymond McAdams, to one of the state courts in Lubbock for trial in connection with robbery near Lubbock in 1938 of Arnold H. Maas.

McAdams, held in connection with a series of postoffice burglaries, declared and signed statements this week in the federal jail at Fort Worth, admitting he had participated in the robbery and implicating another man who was absent.

Story Is Related.

Maas, manager of Montgomery Ward & Co. store here, had told authorities Jan. 27, 1938, he had been intercepted by two men as he was en route to his residence and forced to drive six miles west of Lubbock on the Levelland highway, where, he said, at point of a pistol, he was forced to surrender his keys, wallet and the combination to his company's safe.

He said one man was left to guard him when the other drove to town to open the safe. The first attempt to get into the safe, Maas said, failed and the burglar returned to threaten him with a gun. He said the men went so far as to threaten his wife. Another trip was successful, Maas related.

The man at liberty also is wanted, he and McAdams having been indicted in bills returned Friday by a 72nd district court grand jury.

Fascist Troops Driven Back By Defense Forces

Italian General Is Captured By Grecian Army

(By The Associated Press)

ATHENS, Nov. 8. — Greek troops occupied more hills surrounding the besieged Italian base at Koritza today, captured hundreds of additional prisoners, including the commanding general of Mussolini's Centaur division, and hurled the Fascists back generally along the mountainous battlefront, authoritative sources declared tonight.

The capture of the additional hills was said to have forged a strong new link in the iron ring being drawn around Koritza, which for almost a week has been pounded day and night by Greek artillery.

2,500 Prisoners.

The capture of the prisoners, on the central front, was declared to have raised the total to more than 2,500 since the 12-day-old Fascist invasion started.

The Greek high command announced that in all there were five officers among the prisoners taken during the day. In addition, it announced a number of guns and other war materials fell into Greek hands.

Italian air raids were "insignificant" during the day, the communique said, with only one village bombed. One Italian raider was reported knocked down.

Positions Better.

At the end of the first 12 days of this new war, neutral experts declared the Greek positions were as good or better than on the first day of the Fascist assault.

The Italians, according to available military information, had been thrown back both in the center sector and on the northeastern or right Greek wing in the territory of Albania—the country from which the invasion was sprung.

In the center, a large but undetermined number of Italians was reported trapped some days ago, and the action now appeared to be almost at their encirclement and possible annihilation or capture.

Action Is Heavy.

The Greek high command itself had announced that Italian attacks on the Greek left, in the theater near the Ionian sea, had been repulsed.

Thus the entire Greek line appeared to be not only holding firm but to be pressing back the Italians in a great rough arc.

The day's actions were heavy and artillery fire boomed intermittently through the high, rugged terrain of

Fatal Bombing Of Two Investigated

SCRANTON, Pa., Nov. 8. (AP) — Investigators checked tonight the possibility that a bomb which killed a son and daughter of Scranton's health director was intended for a coal company executive whose home was blasted seven years ago.

District Attorney Michael J. Eagan announced this theory as police officials from at least three cities joined the search for whoever planted a bomb in the family automobile of Dr. Earl H. Rebhorn. As the physician's son William, 19, and daughter Lois, 17, were about to enter the car last night, they were literally blasted to pieces.

Louis Sumer, superintendent of the Volpe Coal company, whose home was bombed in 1933, lives only a block from the Rebhorns in the fashionable Hill section.

It is possible," the district attorney said, that the person who planted the bomb may have stopped in the wrong block last night."

Meanwhile, reward offers rose quickly in the outraged community until they totalled $8,500.

Rooseveit Missed Guess On Electoral Votes He'd Get

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8—President Roosevelt told reporters today that he had underestimated his electoral vote by 109 when he made a pre-election guess. He figured he would get 340, and he actually received 449, as against 82 for Wendell Willkie.

He made the same forecast—340—in his final guess in the 1936 election and missed by 183, receiving 523 while Alfred M. Landon got 8.

The chief executive discussed many topics with more than 125 correspondents who crowded into his oval office for the first press conference since he was elected to a third term.

He said he had not given any thought to cabinet changes, expected to confer with party leaders next week on plans for Congress, would make two brief speeches Armistice day, and then take a three or four-day cruise to rest up from his recent busy schedule. Next Monday's speeches will be, in the morning, at Arlington National cemetery, and, in the afternoon, at dedication of the new naval medical center in nearby Bethesda, Md.

The president had made the 340 prediction around August 1, sealing it in an envelope, and he said he saw no reason to revise it before election day. He refused to identify the states he missed.

Plains Blanketed By Fog As Moisture Continues

CHILL winds blew through pea-soup fog Friday on the South Plains and from the Panhandle to the east.

Throughout this section and along the Santa Fe railroad from Amarillo to Presidio, the weather was described as being "good enough for ducks and cats."

Further rainfall or cloudiness was not reported from the forecast, with little change in temperature denoted.

Temperature at Lubbock was 48 degrees at midnight, reported main line station of West Texas Gas company.

Traces of rain fell in many sections of the state, according to Associated Press dispatches to the Morning Avalanche.

In the Panhandle and the South Plains wheat crops were helped by continued rain at Plainview, Floydada, Lockney, Dimmit, Tulia and Lubbock, to mention a few of the points affected.

Crop authorities throughout most of the cotton section of West Texas found the rainfall's benefit enough to compensate for losses to crops. Pasturage, especially, was aided by the almost continual drizzle that was punctuated by an occasional brisk shower.

The mercury climbed to 46 degrees at Amarillo, but began dropping after nightfall. Temperature was expected to hit a

ARE you superstitious about "three on a match?" You needn't be if the "Three on a Match" is that clever new trio of lipsticks cleverly made for blonde, brunette and redhead and which gives you three "lights" in your life. There's "watermelon," that is just the accent for your brown, green and gray costumes; "knockout," that goes with navy and all the new blue tones and "night club" that is created for black and all the wine tones.

We suppose this clever new gadget was named Three on a Match because the best things in life are three. There's breakfast, lunch and dinner; faith, hope and charity. Life, Liberty and the Pursuit of Happiness and blonde, brunette and redhead.

"I've got a friend I want you to meet."

"I've got a friend who won't be able to turn me down on a loan."

And so it goes. "I've got a friend." And the next line always means, "and I intend to use him for all he's worth."

Shades And Blends Should Be Used

By ALICIA HART
NEA Service Staff Writer

The average woman simply doesn't dramatize herself enough. She's terrified at the idea of using makeup to 'tint her face as an artist tints a drawing. In fact, she's scared to death to change the shape of her mouth even when she knows its natural shape is none too good.

That is the opinion of Robert de Long, famed in Hollywood as the originator of technicolor makeup for some of the first color films.

THE "NATURAL" SCHOOL

Getting and staying completely out of step with the school of thought which proclaims that true beauty lies in naturalness, Mr. de Long continues.

"I think altogether too many women waste a great deal of time gazing into the mirror in search of wrinkles, crows' feet and heaven knows what other defects. I feel strongly that this time could be better spent in experimenting with various shades of eyeshadow to dramatize the eyes, or learning to use a brush on the lips, or mastering the art of patting instead of rubbing foundation tint, rouge and eyeshadow on the skin."

Mr de Long goes on to say that in his opinion, almost every complexion needs to be tinted to create an illusion of greater warmth in skin tones. He recommends pinkish-beige powder for the swallow or yellowish-skinned woman.

What this expert would really like to see her do is apply foundation film, tint this with the merest suggestion of cream rouge and then apply powder. Being a reasonably practical soul, he does not really expect very many women to spend the hours that would be required to learn this rather complicated trick. So he'll settle for 'pinkish' powder and forget the all-over 'tinting with rouge.' But he won't settle for any rule about matching powder to natural skin tones.

USE EVERY MORNING

"I think the notion of buying powder to match the skin is ridiculous," Robert de Long goes on. "That is, unless you have a naturally pinkish, positively glowing complexion.

If your skin is grayish or yellowish by all means buy powder to conceal the fact. If it's too pink, which doesn't seem likely, then get grayish-beige powder to tone down the vivid color."

The authority thinks that the girl with light eyes should play around with dark eyeshadows until she has learned to blend two or three shades together to create an illusion of warmth of color on eyelids. If you have dark eyes, he says, experiment with light eyeshadows only.

Don't ever say that you are too old to wear eyeshadow or to try to change the shape of your mouth or to bother about changing the color of your skin from gray to pink," Mr de Long continues. "The older you are, the more interested you ought to be in dramatizing whatever good looks you have left. Make no mistake about it, regardless of your age, coloring, who you are or where you live, your appearance can be improved with cosmetics — the right shades of cosmetics, skillfully applied.

"I think it's a great mistake for a woman to allow herself forty minutes in the morning for bathing and dressing and then only ten for making up. It may be prejudiced. I probably am—but I think she ought to allow at least twenty minutes for making up every morning of her life."

Electoral College Method Of Electing U. S. President Is Target Of Criticism

Plan Is Assailed As A "Relic"

By DON YOUNG
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8. — The Electoral college today found itself alternately assailed as a "relic" and upheld as a wise precaution of the founding fathers.

It is the electoral college which will do the official electing of president Roosevelt by a 449-to-82 vote over Wendell L. Willkie. The actual election of a chief executive is not, strictly speaking, by direct vote of the people.

To Cast Votes As Unit

According to the constitution, subsequent laws, precedents and custom, presidential electors chosen by the people will cast their vote for a president as a unit in each state December 16, and their ballots will be counted by Congress here in January.

Presumably each elector will vote according to the majority as expressed in the popular vote which elected him—but he would be perfectly within his rights if he voted for another candidate. As a matter of fact one elector did bolt and vote for a defeated rival candidate after the presidential election of 1796.

To Introduce Amendment

Senator Lodge (R-Mass), criticizing the electoral college as a "relic of the past," announced he would introduce in Congress a constitutional amendment "to require presidential elections to be settled by the vote of the people."

He said that the college "serves no useful purpose" and made it possible for a candidate with a majority of the popular vote to be defeated.

Brings Immediate Dissent

His proposal brought an immediate dissent from William Tyler Page, capitol employe for 50 years and clerk of the House from 1919 to 1931.

"That," Page said, "would be like jumping out of the frying pan into the fire. It would give the preponderance of power to the most populous states.

"Suppose that, in the election just held, there was a close popular vote and the result depended on 2,000,000 votes. Now, the South would toss its preponderance of about 2,000,000 votes to, we'll say, Mr. Roosevelt, and that would offset the sum total of small majorities in states like New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio and so on.

"It's conceivable that a small state like Wyoming might decide an election. We'd have a case of the tail wagging the dog."

Films Of Miami Game Shown At Luncheon

Films of the recent Miami University-Texas Technological football game here were shown Friday at an American Business club luncheon in Hilton hotel with P. W. Cawthon, coach, explaining the action and giving high lights of the game.

Bob Crawford was chairman of the program. Films were taken by Mark Halsey and a projection machine from the Halsey store was used. One thousand feet of film were shown.

Chairman George Reinhardt of the entertainment committee announced a dinner-dance for ladies night on Thursday at the hotel. Dinner will be at 8 o'clock, President Bob Gee presided.

Russia is seeking more teachers.

Tech Considers Federal Courses

Texas Technological college is considering participation in the national engineering training program made possible by a recent $9,000,000 appropriation by Congress.

Officials of the college anxious to determine immediately to what extent and in what special fields courses are needed.

Those announcements were made Friday following the return of O. V. Adams, dean of engineering, from a conference in Austin. The conference was called by Dean W. R. Woolrich of the University of Texas, regional advisor for the program.

Purpose of the national program would be to provide industry with engineers needed, because of a shortage resulting from national defense.

Surveys Conducted

Industrial and engineering leaders have conducted surveys which show that a definite shortage of engineers now exists in certain lines in the New York and Pittsburgh areas and on the Pacific coast. It is estimated that this shortage will become more acute and reach its peak some time in 1942 if present plans for national defense go forward in accordance with expectations, Dean Adams announced.

Congress recently passed an act reading in part as follows: "For the cost of short engineering courses of college grade, provided by engineering schools or by universities of which the engineering school is a part, pursuant to plans submitted by them and approved by the commissioner, which plans shall be for courses designed to meet the shortage of engineers with specialized training in fields essential to the national defense, $9,000,000."

Need To Know More

The commissioner referred to is J. W. Studebaker, commissioner of the United States office of education, who is to administer the appropriation. Only colleges offering work leading to four or five year engineering degrees may offer such short courses.

Before going further with any plans which might lead to participation in the program, officials of Tech need to know extent and nature of need. These courses are under consideration: Machine Design, Tool Engineering, Materials Inspection and Testing, Production Engineering, Production Supervision, Naval Architecture, Marine Engineering, Aeronautical Engineering, Explosives, Engineering Drawing and Sanitary Engineering.

Different Requirements

Requirements for admission vary from high school graduation with two units of mathematics for the course in engineering drawing to graduation with an engineering degree for the courses in naval architecture, marine engineering and aeronautical engineering.

Time required for each short course will be in general from 500 to 600 hours total time in class, laboratory and outside preparation, covering a period of approximately 12 weeks. It would not be possible for a student to continue with a regular college course and at the same time take theintensive short course.

Persons interested in such short courses are expected to come largely from the following groups.

(1) Men with engineering degrees not now employed in industry or those who consider their present employment unsatisfactory.

No Tuition Fee

(2) Persons with B. A. degrees who have majored in mathematics or physics, or in the case of the course in explosives, in chemistry, but who are not now employed in industry.

(3) Persons with three or more years of work in an engineering college now employed in engineering fields which are at present not particularly active.

According to present plans, no tuition fee is to be charged but the student will be required to take care of his own subsistence, housing and incidental expenses.

Persons interested in any particular course may, without obligating themselves, write or confer with Dean Adams for further information.

SURVEY IS ORDERED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8. (AP) — A survey of Fort Wingate, N. M., has been ordered by the War department as a preliminary to plans for construction of ordnance storage facilities, officials said today.

Carpenters Are Needed At Post

By The United Press

EL PASO, Nov. 8—A call went out to employment agencies of Texas, New Mexico and Arizona today for carpenters when it was revealed that construction of Fort Bliss defense projects was lagging because of a lack of carpenters.

Army officers reported that at least 2,000 carpenters would be needed on the projects, and that so far only 550 had been obtained. The Texas State Employment service said that carpenters were arriving in El Paso at a rate of about 50 a day.

To Need 4,500 Men

J. H. Bond, of Austin, assistant state director of the employment service, was conferring here with post officials and contractors on the labor shortage.

It was expected that at least 4,500 men—skilled and unskilled workmen—would be needed on the $6,290,000 Fort Bliss defense projects soon.

Maj.-Gen. Robert C. Richardson, jr., commander of the First Cavalry division and of Fort Bliss, revealed that the War department expected to have at least 25,000 men and 1,215 officers stationed at the post next year.

Ellis Plans To Send In Party Funds Today

L. C. Ellis, Lubbock County Democratic chairman, said Friday he was preparing to send in the final list of contributors to the county's quota in the Democratic campaign funds and would take any additional contributions anyone wanted to make today.

"We received more money than our quota but still would like to make as good a showing as possible," Ellis said.

"I want to thank every individual who made a contribution to the campaign and also the voters of Lubbock county for the wonderful vote they gave the president Tuesday in his third term race."

Window Displays Will Aid Red Cross Drive

Boy Scouts will finish distributing supplies today for window displays in connection with the annual Red Cross drive next Tuesday, Mrs. Carl Slaton, roll call secretary, said this morning.

Merchants, she said, have been "most generous" in making space available for such displays. Most of the exhibits, she added, will be put in place during the week-end.

She emphasized a request, however, that merchants not throw the supplies away after the drive is over. They can be used again next year, she explained. Someone will be sent to collect them at the end of the campaign, she added.

NAVAL RESERVE NURSES CALL

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8. (UP) — The Navy department today called eight naval reserve nurses to active duty and ordered them to report for service on Nov. 15. Among them was Margare Swinburn, Clarendon, Texas.

Westerners Slight Favorites Over Austin High Of El Paso There Tonight

Weather Likely To Cut Panther Aerial Attack

(Special To The Avalanche)

EL PASO, Nov. 8.—Lubbock's unbeaten Westerners and the Austin High Panthers, once-beaten and once-tied, match gridiron power and wits here tonight in a contest that may well serve to delineate the course of West Texas schoolboy football in weeks to come.

Although no rain fell here today and both teams went through final preparations on dry fields, the skies were heavily overcast and the weather bureau was quoted as forecasting rain before game time. A "murder" game no doubt will hinder the Austin Panthers in their aerial game, thus giving Lubbock's running offense the edge.

The Panthers are unbeaten in Conference 4-AA, only one game short of the district crown. Their only defeat this season was a 20-0 whaling by Amarillo, one of the two undefeated teams standing between Lubbock and the District One title.

Both Have Whipped Steers.

Each team numbers among its victims this season the Big Spring Steers, Lubbock whammed the Steers, 13 to 0, the Panthers beat them 13 to 7.

Injuries are bothering both the Panthers and the Westerners. Marvin McBrayer, Lubbock tackle, is out with a broken leg; End J. A. Blackwell has an infected foot and will ride the bench. For the Panthers, Hulen Stogner, 140-pound leading light of the backfield, won't be in at the start.

Lubbock Is Favored.

For the Lubbock team, it is the last scheduled road game and the last non-conference game of the season. Also, it could very possible be the last game they play as defending state champions. After this game, the Westerners play Amarillo on November 21 and Plainview on November 28, and their crown will definitely be on the block in each game and all games, if any, thereafter.

Austin has had two weeks rest since playing Roswell, N. M., to a 13-all tie October 28. The Panthers, with the lone exception of Stogner, are in fine fettle for Saturday's tilt. Because Austin has been beaten by Amarillo, which team is rated on a par with Lubbock until further notice, the Westerners are favorites to win by a touchdown or so.

Westerners Are Heavier.

The season records: Austin—26 Cathedral (El Paso) 0; 13 Big Spring 7; 12 Midland 7; 14 Ysleta 13; 9 Amarillo 20; 7 Bowie (El Paso) 0; 13 Roswell, N. M., 13.

Lubbock—13 Odessa 6; 14 North Side (Fort Worth) 0; 13 Big Spring 0; 13 Vernon 7; 40 Hobbs 0; 51 Borger 0; 29 Pampa 7.

Starting lineups and weights:

"Twelfth Man" To Be On Santone Field

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 8 (AP) — St. Mary's university's hard-riding, gus-shanken Rattlers, somewhat rested up from a three-week invasion of the East, put on a show for the home folks here tomorrow when they play the Oklahoma City university Goldbugs in a game featuring a new innovation, the 12th-man quarterback.

Coach Ossie Doenges of Oklahoma City, originator of the 12th man idea, and Coach Mose Simms of St. Mary's have agreed to allow the coach of each team to call signals in the huddle when his team is in possession of the ball. When his team switches to defense he must retire to the sidelines and the other coach, a 12th man of his team, will be permitted to take the field along with the regular 11 men.

Tahoka Prepares For Antelope Invasion

Special To The Avalanche

TAHOKA, Nov. 8—Tahoka's Bulldogs are grimly preparing for their tilt with the Post Antelopes here Armistice day. Coach Leo Jackson's eleven will be handicapped by their loss of Quarterback Jo Jo Lebman who is definitely out for the season, but Rusty Waldrep, ace pitcher for the Bulldogs, will start the game after recovering from a boil.

Post holds a slight edge over Tahoka as the comparative scores go, but due to the keen rivalry of these two squads each year, this is expected to be one of the best games of the year in District 5-A.

Extensive preparations are being made by the American Legion Rotary club, and Alumni Association for the Armistice day parade and the home-coming game in the afternoon.

Hogan Heading For Vardon Cup

NEW YORK, Nov. 8 (AP) — Ben Hogan, the Texas-born pro who plays out of White Plains, N. Y., has finished in the money in each of the 22 tournaments in which he has started this year to lead the nation's golf professionals in money-winning as well as in the point-scoring for the Vardon trophy.

Figures released today by the Professional Golfers association show Hogan with $9,655 in prize money, a lead of $1,028 over Jimmy Demaret of Houston, and 400 Vardon points, 27 more than Sam Snead of Shawnee-on-Delaware, Pa.

In the $10,000 Tam open next month, the final tournament of the calendar year and first of the winter season, Hogan must finish in the first five to clinch the Vardon trophy.

The little Texan also has the best scoring average of the year, 70.63 shots for 71 rounds. Snead is second with 71.18 for 58 rounds.

Heavy Field Might Stop Crain Today If Baylor Can't

AUSTIN, Nov. 8 (AP)—The University of Texas Longhorns, rocked by two Southwest conference defeats in a row, will try again to shake fleet Jack Crain loose against the potent Baylor defenses here tomorrow.

Shackled by fast charging lines lately, Crain may operate with the aid of R. L. Harkins, pass flinging expert, and Pete Layden, able triple-threater, at one time or another.

With all the earmarks of a "do or die" effort for both teams since Baylor has dropped three conference tilts, the clash may indicate which team had better sweep out the conference cellar.

Baylor's strong defense, featuring Center Robert Nelson, an All-American candidate, Jack Russell, Don Haley and Jack Anderson, was expected to dampen Texas' running game and force the Longhorns into the air.

Jimmy Witt, outstanding Bruin back since Jack Wilson was lost by injuries early in the season, was reported suffering from a shoulder sprain which may bench him. The Steers' chances were dimmed by loss of Mike Sweeney, regular left end who broke his ankle.

Roosevelt Six Downs McAdoo, 7 To 6

Roosevelt's high school six-man gridders smacked the McAdoo Eagles off the unbeaten list at Roosevelt Friday afternoon one extra point providing a slim 7 to 6 margin.

Coach Herman English's Roosevelt boys shoved over a touchdown early in the first period on a pass, Alvey Jack Ater to Boots Tidwell, good for 50 yards. The extra point came on a pass, Ater to Ben Stiles.

McAdoo came back to score on a strong ground game early in the third period, but missed the extra point.

Roosevelt schedule for the remainder of the season: November 15, McAdoo at McAdoo; November 19, Wilson at Roosevelt; November 29, Dickens at Dickens.

Aggies, Huskies And Gophers Are Nominated

By BILL BONE
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—Good things come in threes, they say, and so far as football is concerned it certainly is true tomorrow.

There will be a lot of other games played, but there are three which dominate the program—Minnesota-Michigan at Minneapolis, before an expected record sellout crowd of 63,900; Texas A. and M.-Southern Methodist, with 27,500 due to be on hand at Dallas, and Stanford-Washington at Palo Alto, where 75,000 will set in on a battle for the West's Rose Bowl nomination and Coast conference title.

One glance at the records shows why these are games of outstanding import. Minnesota and Michigan, which probably will settle the Western conference championship, are unbeaten and untied; Texas A. and M. has won 17 straight while S. M. U. has been tied once but is undefeated for the year. Stanford has the West Coast's only big-time clean slate, and Washington has won 'em all since its 19-14 defeat by Minnesota in its first game of the year.

Any one of these games can go either way without startling anybody, but here's the way we think they, and the other leading battles, will go (home teams first, probable attendance in parentheses):

MINNESOTA, MICHIGAN—Coach Bernie Bierman says this year's Gophers still haven't hit their peak. Last year Minnesota held Tommy Harmon to a set gain of 30 yards. Minnesota has what is probably the toughest line Michigan has faced, and some very fine backs of its own behind it. This vote goes to Minnesota.

Irish Get The Vote.

STANFORD-WASHINGTON—Huskies laid off a week to get ready for this one. Their defense appears to be stouter, Stanford has proved its ability to come from behind. Rain may hurt the Sanford hipper-dipper. Hey, Mr. Weatherman—Washington.

TEXAS A. AND M.-SOUTHERN METHODIST—The Aggies won on a break a year ago in sloppy going. The same set-up is predicted for this one. Looking for the Aggies to win, and then go on to beat the hoodoo that has hounded all Southwest conference defending champions.

NAVY-NOTRE DAME (63,000)—Picking the Irish.

ALABAMA-TULANE (24,000)—For second place in the Southeast.

Tech Talks Coaches Into Light Workout

For the third day in a row, Texas Tech coaches looked out at the rain and the mud and shook their heads against an outdoor workout for the Red Raiders, whom they're nursing along for the Centenary game Monday afternoon.

But a delegation of Red Raiders called on the coaches and asked that the squad be allowed to get out and "limber up" a little. The coaches couldn't deny "such a fine spirit" and for an hour the squad practiced on the freshman field, under constant watch and warning "not to go too hard, or you'll catch a cleat in the soft dirt and come up with a bunch of charley horses."

Tickets Going Fast.

The drill, consisting of punting, passing and running, was light.

Preceding the workout, the coaches and players viewed motion pictures of their Miami game last Friday night, got a few laughs and had some serious moments. The pictures, unusually clear for night pictures, probably will be shown at a Touchdown club meeting in the near future.

Tickets for the Tech-Centenary game moved fast yesterday, despite the weather, and indications are that a large crowd will be on hand Monday.

Jim—Not Tom—Is Leading Yard Maker; Wake Forest Star's Average Is Second

By The United Press

SEATTLE, Nov. 8.—A comparative unknown sophomore halfback—Jimmy Reynolds of Oklahoma A. & M.—today replaced Tom Harmon, Michigan's great backfield ace, as the nation's leading ground gainer.

According to the American Football Statistical bureau's figures, Reynolds' field day at the expense of Creighton last Saturday while Harmon was idle, gave him 852 yards from rushing and passing in seven games. Harmon has accounted for 833 yards in five contests.

Creighton's Johnny Knolla took third place with 832 yards in six games while Mal McCullough, Corneil back, went into fourth place with 805 yards in five games. Jack Jacobs of Oklahoma dropped from second to fifth with 749 yards.

Most impressive ball carrier of the group was Al Ghesquiere of Detroit University, who gained 617 yards on 87 attempts. Tony Gallovich of Wake Forest, in second place, gained 585 yards in 86 tries.

Harmon also slipped from first to third in rushing with 580 yards and was followed by Jim Lalanne of North Carolina, whose 86 attempts netted 497 yards and Bob Westfall, Michigan, who gained 491 yards.

Princeton's Dave Allerdice led the passers again with 51 completions. Paul Christman of Missouri completed 39 passes for the top ground-gaining total of 711 yards. McCullough turned in the best average, 31 completions in 44 attempts.

Owen Price of Texas Mines—one of the top ten in the ground gainers—took first place among the kickers with a 48.15 average on 26 punts. Best pass receiver was Jack Jennings of Oklahoma with 19 receptions.

Matador Downs Floydada, 7-0

By JOE PIERCE
Avalanche Sports Writer

MATADOR, Nov. 8.—A slick bit of passing magic by Leroy Nelson plus a powerful job of line smashing by Mutt Berryman equalled a first-quarter touchdown for the Matador Matadors and a 7 to 0 victory margin over the Floydada Whirlwind in Matador Arena here tonight.

The triumph kept Matador riding high in District 4-A, still undefeated and untied and lacking only a victory over Paducah's Dragons to win the crown for the first time since 1935. Paducah and Matador will meet November 21 in Paducah.

Golightly Worries Matador.

The Matadors scored the first time they got the ball tonight. After kicking off, they held for three plays and took over on the Floydada 40 where Rushing's punt went overboard. Three cracks at the line by Berryman and Nelson made a first on the 27. There Floydada checked Matador's running game, but Nelson shot a perfect one to Billy Tunnell for a first on the nine. From there it was three cracks and over for Berryman. The extra point was running, Berryman carrying.

Captain R. E. Golightly of the Whirlwind kept Matador worried constantly with his passing. He connected only six times for 71 yards in 26 tries, but three of those missed passes were perfect touchdown shots to receivers in the clear who flubbed catches to spoil scoring chances. An alert Matador defensive that intercepted four of the Floydada aerials kept the Whirlwind from threatening seriously.

Matador led in first downs, 18 to 12, in yards gained, 302 to 216.

The lineups: Matador—Tunnell

Muleshoe Runs Over Melrose, 32 To 0

MULESHOE, Nov. 8 (Special)—Muleshoe's High school gridders swamped Melrose, N. M., here this afternoon, 32 to 0. Muleshoe scored twice in the first quarter and once each in the other three.

Each of the Muleshoe touchdowns was scored by a different man. The scorers were B. Cox, Garland Kennedy, Hubert Clark, Clifford Gordon and James Warren.

Oklahoma Ags Seek 3rd Conference Win

STILLWATER, Okla., Nov. 8. (AP)—Oklahoma Aggie football forces, locked in a two-way battle with Tulsa university for the Missouri Valley lead, clash with last-place Washburn college here tomorrow in quest of their third straight conference victory.

The contest is the second of a four-game stretch drive for the Cowboys, who could pull even with their state rivals by beating the Kansans and move into the lead by stopping St. Louis next week while Tulsa engages non-conference foes.

Lamesa Ties Midland In Mud, 6-6

(Special To The Avalanche)

LAMESA, Nov. 8.—Beneath heavy skies and in a light, cold rain The Lamesa Tornadoes and Midland Bulldogs battled to a 6-6 deadlock in their District 3-AA grid contest here this afternoon.

Scores On Pass.

Lamesa scored in the third period on a pass from Futrell to Co-Captain G. S. White, who ran 13 yards to cross the goal line.

It was only after a 15-yard penalty assessed the Tornadoes in the fading minutes of the game that the Midlanders scored.

Both teams' efforts to convert, Midland by a place kick and Lamesa by a pass, were fruitless.

White and Futrell were outstanding in the backfield and Oswalt in the line for Lamesa, with Williams and White shining for Midland. Lamesa made 8 first downs to 19 for Midland, gained 167 yards rushing to 102 for Midland. Even in the wet, Midland went in strong for passes and completed 12 for 66 yards, while Lamesa completed 2 for 22 yards.

New Deal Plays Cooper Today

With the championship of District 5-B in the balance, New Deal and Cooper will meet on the New Deal High school field at Monroe this afternoon. The game starts at 2 o'clock.

New Deal won the north half championship, Cooper captured the south half title. Winner of the game will play the District 6 titlist, either Seminole or Stanton, for the bi-district crown.

Each team has been beaten once. In a non-conference game early in the season, Cooper defeated New Deal 13 to 6. Cooper's only loss was a 13 to 0 game with Lubbock's Cowhands, a team that New Deal beat 12 to 6.

Scores Of The Teams.

The season records: Cooper — 37 Frenship 0; 13 New Deal 6; 13 Meadow 6; 0 Cowhands 13; 55 Slaton 13; 0 Ropes 0; 40 Frenship 6.

New Deal—6 Cooper 13; 19 Petersburg 0; 33 Frenship 0; 12 Cowhands 6; 20 Southland 12; 21 Hale Center 0.

Probable starters and weights:

New Deal: ends, Looney, 169, and Lewis, 156; tackles, Galbraith, 190, and Wardoup, 180; guards, Oldham, 145, and Lyda, 135; center, Beaty, 135; halfbacks, Dickey, 160, and Anderson, 140; quarterback, Edwards, 145; and fullback, A. Anderson, 160.

Cooper: ends, Womack, 164, and Alexander, 159; tackles, Gill, 150, and Coleman, 167; guards, Berry, 154, and McDaniell, 175; center, Berry, 154; halfback, G. Barret, 132, and Huckabee, 135; quarterback, D. Barrett, 166; and fullback, Qualls, 160.

"Peck" Hopeful Report Is True

CLEVELAND, Nov. 8 (AP)—Roger Peckinpaugh, a leading candidate for Cleveland manager in 1941, is a brave man.

He isn't scared of those big bad Indians.

"My understanding is the trouble was all between Oscar Vitt and the players," Peckinpaugh calmly commented today. "Vitt is gone now so I don't see why a new manager would have any difficulties."

Peckinpaugh was discussing a Cleveland news story quoting "two usually reliable sources" as saying Peck—fired as Cleveland manager in 1933 because the team was losing—had been chosen to pilot the 1941 club.

"I hope that's right," the former shortstop said. "I would be glad to have the job."

President Alva Bradley plans to announce the new manager next Tuesday. He reiterated today Peckinpaugh was "one of three leading candidates," and named Luke Sewell, Indian coach, as another.

"There's something in the wind that prevents my talking about that third man at this time," Bradley added.

Baer-Hunt Bout Is Delayed By Dempsey

In order that Jack Dempsey may be on hand as an "added attraction" and referee, the Buddy Baer-Babe Hunt heavyweight bout in Odessa, Texas, originally set for December 6, has been postponed one week, to Friday the Thirteenth, Promoter L. D. "Pup" Thomas of Lubbock announced yesterday.

Dempsey previously had agreed to referee the fight, but now suddenly remembered a previous engagement for December 6, and asked postponement of the Odessa bout in a communication received by Thomas.

Ancil Hoffman manager of the brothers Baer, also wrote Thomas, confirming that Buddy would arrive in Odessa a week or ten days before the fight to complete his training.

FISH GAME POSTPONED

WACO, Nov. 8 (AP)—For the second time in two weeks, rain today forced postponement of a football game here between Baylor and Texas Christian university freshman teams.

Officials rescheduled the game for Monday.

Second Term Issue Is Up At Dallas

By FRELIN B. McKNIGHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, Nov. 8.—Rain, loitering in cloud banks over Dallas for days, pattered occassionally tonight and may start dripping tomorrow on the unbeaten Texas Aggies and Southern Methodists in their heralded grid feud.

The forecast, a shock to two teams planning thunderous air raids, called for deep cloudiness and the possibility of intermittent showers.

To the 27,500 who bought out the stadium weeks ago in rather psychic anticipation of this collision of the Southwest's two outstanding powers, the prospect of rain meant nothing except that they would get wet. They will all be there. Not a ticket was available, except at fantastic prices.

Field Is Protected.

Huge tarpaulins covered the playing field and dry footing, regardless of the weather, was assured for the kickoff.

The Aggies, unbeaten in a magnificent string of 17 successive victories started with the first game of the 1939 season, had a threefold objective. First, to become the first team to win the Southwest conference taunting two years in succession; second, to finish out two seasons undefeated and third—be available when the Rose Bowl invitations are passed out.

Big John Kimbrough, the All-America fullback, his veteran backfield mates and the giant Cadet line that owns the best defensive record in the nation against ground plays, were all sound from stem to stern.

Southern Methodist, with the exception of End Roland Goss, who starred against the Aggies last year, and Bill Thomas, fleet halfback, both out for weeks from injuries received three weeks ago, announced ready.

Passers Warm Up.

Clear weather prevailing, a passing scrap between the Aggies' Marion Pugh, leading hurler of the Southwest, and the Methodists' Johnny Clements, great "money" passer who almost foiled the Cadets in last year's rainswept game, was anticipated.

Kickoff time is 2:30 o'clock.

Since the day a year ago when the Aggies wearily left their muddied field a 6-2 winner, both clubs have been building up to this contest.

Little doubt exists that the winner will go on and take down the Southwest conference flag.

Special Train Runs From Slaton Monday

SLATON, Nov. 8 (Special) — A special train will carry the Slaton football team, students and townspeople to Brownfield Monday for the important District 5-A contest, it was announced today.

The train will leave Slaton at noon Monday, and start the return trip immediately after the game, which starts at 2 o'clock.

Should Brownfield win the game, the Cubs will play Olton for the district championship, but Slaton is in a position to throw a monkey wrench into Brownfield's plans.

Centenary Team In Top Shape For Game Here

(Special To The Avalanche)

SHREVEPORT, La., Nov. 8.—The Centenary College Gentlemen will enter their annual battle with Texas Tech in Lubbock Armistice day with full strength, Coach Jake Hanna announced today. The Gents suffered only minor injuries in their game with Washington University in St. Louis last Saturday when they defeated the St. Louis team, 19 to 14.

Norris McCrary, big senior tackle, who did not even make the St. Louis trip due to illness, is back in practice and will be a starter against Texas Tech.

The Gents will leave here Saturday afternoon with 28 players, two coaches, team physician, trainer and arrive in Lubbock Sunday morning.

Only One Change.

Coach Hanna will start the same team against Texas Tech that started last Saturday with the exception of Norris McCrary who will be in at tackle instead of W. T. Jacks, sophomore.

The starting line-up will be as follows: Teel, left end; Hearne, left tackle; Crawford, left guard; Campbell, center; Allums, right guard; McCrary, right tackle; Murphy, right end; Barnes, quarterback; Hamby, left half; Johnson, right half, and May, fullback.

Campbell, starting center, sustained a broken hand in the game with Arizona two weeks ago, but is expected to be able to play center this week. He is also a guard and can be shifted to either position.

Coach Elmer Smith, chief scout for the Gents, has seen the Red Raiders of Texas Tech in action twice this season and is very much impressed with Coach Pete Cawthorn's offense.

Tech Holds Edge.

The game with Texas Tech will be the fifth intersectional game of the season for the Gents and the fourth straight road game. It will be the fourth meeting between the Gents and the Red Raiders and the best the Gents have been able to do in the past was a tie game in 1939 in a continuous downpour of rain. The game broke all records for kicking when both teams resorted to kicks on practically every other play.

Prior to last season's scoreless tie Texas Tech had won 12 to 6 in 1936 and 7 to 2 in 1937. A game scheduled between the two teams in 1938 was cancelled when Texas Tech received a bid for the Cotton Bowl game in Dallas after they had gone through the season undefeated.

Guess Rice Might As Well Concede

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Nov. 8. (AP)—Underdog Arkansas comes around to one of those "odd Saturdays" tomorrow and it means trouble for Rice institute in their Southwest conference clash.

Faithfully, since the season's start, Arkansas has won a football game every other Saturday. Tomorrow is "their day," for only last Saturday they went down as the Texas Aggies' 17th consecutive victim, 17-0.

Rice, loser only to Tulane, catches Arkansas on Homecoming day which is another bad omen. Arkansas has a quaint tradition of winning its homecoming day games, regardless of odds.

Peace Between Labor's Warring Factions May Be Immediate Result Of Election

Lewis Expected To Keep Pledge

By MARBEN GRAHAM
Associated Press Staff Writer

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 8.—A growing belief that peace between labor's warring factions may be an immediate result of the recent election was evident today in high circles here of both the CIO and A. F. of L.

It was based primarily upon the increasing conviction that CIO chieftain John L. Lewis will make good his pre-election promise to step aside in event President Roosevelt won a third term.

Leaders attending last night's regular meeting of the CIO steel city industrial union council and the AFL central labor union said they expected President Roosevelt to request a reconcening of peace negotiating committees of the rival organizations.

Saying such a program "undoubtedly is in the cards," Leo Abernathy, international president of the bill posted and distributors union added he thought such a call would come shortly after the close or possibly during the imminent conventions of the two groups.

The CIO meets November 18 in Atlantic City and the AFL at New Orleans on November 19.

Privately, leaders in both factions say they regard Lewis as the chief stumbling block to peace in the house of labor.

Throughout his career, they say, the heavy-browed Welshman has been an uncompromising, bulldog battler where the issue involved a principle so dear to his heart as that of the vertical or industrial union for mass production industries versus the AFL craft setup.

Peace parleys between the AFL and CIO broke down two years ago.

Old Fox Griffith Gives In To Mazdas

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 (AP) — Reluctantly keeping up with the times, Clark Griffith, president of the Washington Senators, gave in tonight to night baseball and announced that the Senators would play seven home games under the lights next season.

When night baseball was first proposed for the major leagues, Griffith, who has spent more than 50 years in the national pastime, was its most vigorous opponent.

He came forward with the novel suggestion that if the major leagues were going to embrace night ball, they embrace it wholeheartedly.

"I suggest," he said, "that we play all of the games, except Saturday and Sunday, at night during the months of June, July and August."

His associates in the American League, as well as the National, will someday come to this.

The pima tribe of Arizona, with 92.9 per cent, has the largest proportion of pure blood of any American Indians.

Petersburg Defeats Flomot, 20 To 6

PETERSBURG, Nov. 8. (Special) —The Petersburg gridiers defeated Flomot, 20 to 6, here this afternoon, although recognition for the most sensational play went to the losers.

Bilberry scored first for Petersburg, crashing through center for six yards and a touchdown to climax a 60-yard drive, and Sell plunged for extra point.

On the following kick-off, Bynum of Flomot took a lateral and raced 80 yards for touchdown. Try for point was missed.

Bilberry scored again in the second quarter from the one- yard line to give Petersburg a safe lead, following a 34-yard drive, and Boyd made the extra point. In the third, McCall scored the final touchdown to complete a 40-yard drive. Petersburg made 20 first downs to 6 for Flomot.

Titan Shock Troops Start Against TCU

DETROIT, Nov. 8. (AP) — On the eve of the University of Detroit's football battle against the invading Horned Frogs of Texas Christian university, coaches of both teams tonight opined that the game would be a toss-up in more ways than one.

"Much will depend," drawled Coach Meyer of TCU, "on which team gets its passes working first."

Coach Gus Dorais of the Titans was inclined to agree that aerial tosses would play a major part in the game's outcome. The Texas squad, led by Kyle Gillespie, is rated as one of the best passing teams in the country, and Detroit also has depended to a large degree on an air attack.

Dorais said he planned to start his second team and hold back his regulars until the second quarter. Meyer planned to "shoot the works" from the beginning.

ROME, Nov. 8. (AP) — Premier Mussolini shook up the directorate of the Fascist party today, replacing seven of its 14 members in what Fascist commentators called a "significant reform."

Vacancies In Air Corps Announced

Do you want to get in the air service in Puerto Rico?

The district army recruiting office Friday afternoon was advised to accept recruits to fill 25 vacancies there. By Nov. 15, there will probably be 75 more vacancies at the same place.

This is the first time, according to Major Walter Wessen, new recruiting officer, that this district has had vacancies in the island service.

Nine men were accepted for service Friday, making the total for November 33 men. All were for Port Sam Houston. Three men were sent to the quartermaster corps, Wallace O. Goforth, Wellington; J. D. McClendon, Loco and Grover D. Barron, Amarillo; four went to the infantry, Virgil J. Boyd, Wellington, Julian L. Reed, jr., and Cecil L. Sims, Clarendon and Julius L. Thomas, jr., LeFors; William E. Wood of Wellington and Sam R. Hill of Childress went to the medical corps.

There are 86 vacancies in the infantry, nine in the engineers and eight in the medical department at the same place.

and saw two men or boys on a ladder climbing to the top of the drug store. The ladder was found as she had described it, but only the laundry and the grocery store had been entered, it was believed by police.

Other Thefts Reported

T. R. Bumpass, reporting for the laundry, said no laundry had been taken. Entry was through a skylight.

The fact that the skylight at the coffee shop also had been tampered with caused officials to read into the series of burglaries the same suspects.

Graham Paint & Paper Co. lost a $20 roller from a car parked at 2008 Thirtieth street; Mrs. Virgil Bullock reported theft of a 50-foot garden hose from 309 Avenue G; Elmer Ray, service station operator of Sixteenth street and Avenue M, said a tire had been stolen from his station, and Don Lewis on 806 Avenue R reported theft of a part of a green quilt and of an overcoat from his automobile.

Problems Discussed By Scout Leaders

Informal discussion was held at a meeting of Boy Scout leaders Friday night in the Aztec room at Hilton hotel.

George Langford, district commissioner, presided at the meeting. Leaders made plans for a toy pickup campaign to be conducted Nov. 16, discussed court of honor and cub leaders training course, and planned troop budgets. A discussion of the Boy Scout national emergency program was led by Sam A. Henry, council field commissioner.

Present at the meet were Jack O. Stone, scout executive, Langford, Henry, Leonard Ernest, W. A. Hood, John Wilson, W. B. Kelly, J. B. Valentine, F. P. Smith, Dr. Milton Adams, Earl McAteer, Robert Porter, Bert Collard, jr., Ralph Brock, Royal Furgeson, Paul B. Williams, Oscar Iles, James Doss, Charles Sedberry, Charles Day, H. F. Gilley, J. C. Grimes, Ernest Robertson, Ted Vernon and Frank Runkles.

Switzerland Spends Night Of Alarms

BERN, Switzerland, Nov. 8, (AP)—Switzerland had an uneasy night of air alarms tonight and at the same time Italy—once full of compliments for this little federation—loosed a violent press and radio campaign against the Swiss.

Twice before midnight the air sirens sounded over Bern and other cities in western Switzerland. The first alarm came before the nation's lights went out at 10 p. m. under the army's new blackout orders.

But in Italy, where only a day ago the press complimented the Swiss for this blackout order, certain newspapers and radio broadcasts were turned in sudden fury against the Swiss, who were described as "a people of hotel boys, cashbox keepers and chocolate makers."

Man Is Sentenced For Encouraging Murder

TULSA, Okla., Nov. 8. (AP)—A letter to a Texas woman urging that she feed her husband daily doses of rat poison resulted today in a three-year federal prison sentence for John Lovett, 58, Locust Grove farmer.

Lovett, who pleaded guilty to a charge of violating postal laws, told Federal Judge Royce H. Savage he had hoped the Texas woman would accept his advice and marry him when her husband had succumbed.

Officers said the woman's husband opened the letter and turned it over to postal authorities.

JAP AIRMEN ACTIVE

NEW YORK, Nov. 8. (AP)—The Japanese wireless reported tonight that Japanese air squadrons had bombed the "Hongkong road" yesterday from Chungking to the coast, destroying several bridges and attacking several Chinese junks carrying war materials.

CHINA PROTESTS

CHUNGKING, China, Nov. 9, (Saturday) (AP) — The Central Chinese government protested vigorously to France today over the transfer of two Chinese courts in the French concession at Shanghai to the control of the Japanese-sponsored Nanking government.

RAF ATTACKS

CAIRO, Egypt, Nov. 8 (AP) — The RAF reported today it had carried out a five-ton bomb assault on Valona, Albania port opposite the "heel" of the Italian boot, in the second heavy raid there in as many days.

and money was taken from the store, Maas said.

Authorities had no idea as to whereabouts of the other man allegedly involved, they said.

The grand jury returned a total of 14 bills naming 17 persons. John Dalrymple was jury foreman. Four persons named had not been arrested, but the remaining either were under bond or in jail, it was reported.

Ft. Worth Conference

Burks was informed by Grady Harrist that McAdams was being held by federal authorities, the deputy sheriff having been given the "tip" through officials of another county who also informed Maas. Maas accompanied Burks and Harrist to Fort Worth for the conference with McAdams and others interested in the case.

Other Indictments

Other indictments returned by the grand jury included:

Charles Alexander, a negro, burglary, held in jail.

Ralph Grundy, drunk driving, bond.

Magnus Walker, a negro, theft of 15 chickens from J. B. Potts, free on bond.

Bill Pierce, rape, free on bond.

John Henry Moore, negro, theft of over $50 for stealing a bale of cotton and a trailer, held in jail.

Alvin Dillard and Doyle James, burglary; Dillard is free on bond and James is in jail; a third man had not been arrested.

Woodrow McArthur, of Dickens, theft of cattle, free on bond.

A. G. Graves, negro, two charges of forgery, held in jail.

Otis Richardson, forgery and passing, held in jail.

Jimmie B. Thompson, drunk driving, free on bond; also indicted as J. B. Thompson on a charge of fraudulent disposition of mortgaged property.

Criminal Cases Are Set For Hearing

Twenty criminal settings were posted Friday for hearing the week of Nov. 18 in 72nd district court, said District Attorney Burton S. Burks.

They were, with defendants and indictment charges:

Haskell Ford, assault with intent to murder.

Ford, perjury.

R. J. Jeffers, accessory to intent to murder.

Alton Massey, child desertion.

Willard Branch, forgery and passing.

Eva Barton, theft by bailee.

Booker T. Haley, assault with intent to murder.

John Henry Moore, theft over $50.

Charles Alexander, burglary.

Ralph Grundy, drunk driving.

Doyle James, burglary.

Alvin Dillard, burglary.

Magnus Walker, theft of chickens.

Bill Pierce, rape.

Otis Richardson, forgery and passing.

E. L. Hanson, engaging in the business of a dealer in securities without a certificate or license.

Woodrow McArthur, theft of cattle.

A. G. Graves, forgery and passing. (Two cases).

Raymond H. McAdams, robbery.

Specific dates for trial of the various cases will be set the morning of Nov. 18, court officials said.

Raids Are Staged

fires which already had been left blazing by the pilots who had gone before.

The plant section was straddled by falling bombs from end to end, the ministry reported, "and within a few moments the whole of the factory area had become a mass of raging flames engulfing the long lines of buildings and lighting up the sky with a glow which could be seen from 60 miles away."

Nazi Raiders Busy

Nazi raiders intensively attacking a wide area of London overnight scored a direct hit on an air raid precautions center killing several persons but the assault slackened after midnight with long intervals of quiet.

Incomplete reports to the air ministry said 20 German planes were destroyed during the day, 15 of them by one hard-hitting RAF squadron. In addition, six more German planes were said "probably" to have been destroyed and two damaged.

Mist shrouded the Dover Straits as the raiders roared across to drop many flares followed by explosives.

The only fatality reported from a Midland city under attack occurred when an anti-aircraft shell crashed through the window of one home.

Legion Chow Line To Be Armistice Feature

A chow line during the noon hour Monday will be an event of the Armistice day celebration at Allen Bros. post home of the American Legion, 910 Texas Avenue, Alex McDonald, who is in charge of arrangements, has announced.

The program, he said, will include music during the meal by Hop Halsey's Drug Store Cowboys and a floor show.

The menu will consist of barbecued baby beef, potato chips, red beans, pickles, onions, apple pie and coffee.

The charge will be 35 cents, with any profit going into the Legion post's relief fund. Preparations will be made to serve about 250 people, McDonald said.

The invitation to attend includes the general public, and especially members of the Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars, their wives, all former service men and auxiliary members.

Armistice Program Given At Roosevelt

Several members of Allen Bros. Post No. 210 of the American Legion took part in an Armistice day program Friday morning in the auditorium of Roosevelt High school.

Roosevelt grade school sponsored the program. J. A. Raley was master of ceremonies. The program was opened with advancement of colors by Kelly Nail, Dr. H. H. Bidwell, H. D. Stanley, and Louis Murfee.

Senior class members gave demonstrations on proper flag etiquette. The assembly gave the pledge to the flag, following which George S. Berry spoke on "Americanism." Murfee then spoke briefly in behalf of the American Legion.

A trio composed of Elmer Rush, Raley and W. E. Lavender sang, "A Long, Long Trail" and "The Eyes of Texas."

Several war veterans of the Roosevelt community were present: Bub Parks, Ed Saunders, Casey Day, Lewis Travis, Joe Alspaugh, Pat Patterson, Ernest Henley, and Otto Hester.

Britain To Get War Supplies

is under study, the board said, and they will be fixed as production progresses.

A new type of heavy, long-range bomber now in production was included by the president in his 50-50 sharing plan but he gave no indication that any of the earlier models of this plane, already in use by the army, would be released to the British.

British sources have indicated they were more interested in receiving the advanced type as it was produced than in obtaining some of the earlier models from the army.

At the present rate of production, it was believed 80 or more of the new bombers would be out of the factory by December, and on the basis of the president's rule, Britain presumably will receive about half of them.

The British already have orders with a San Diego plant for similar long range bombers.

On Capitol Hill also came a new move to aid Britain.

Senator King (D-Utah) introduced a bill to modify the Johnson act so that Great Britain might purchase American farm products on credit. The Johnson act prohibits loans or credits to a nation in default on its war debts.

King previously had introduced a measure to permit British purchase of war supplies on credit.

President Roosevelt said that United States and Mexican army officials had been discussing mutual defense problems. Secretary of State Hull, when asked later if these might produce a joint United States-Mexican defense arrangement similar to that with Canada, said that all the Latin American countries were being consulted on general hemisphere defense.

Rainfall On Plains

low of 40 degrees.

Electra reported drizzling rain and a sharp sag in temperature.

The minimum at Galveston on the gulf was 56 degrees.

The southwest ranching country continued to receive moisture, with the two-day total reaching 1.43 inch at San Angelo, where the maximum temperature was 52 degrees.

In the Rio Grande valley three-tenths inch of rain fell at Harlingen, where the temperature climbed to 75 degrees.

Mist clung tightly to Lubbock most of Friday, where the 24-hour precipitation stood at .85 inch at the experiment sub-station and .96 inch at the airport.

The downpour blanketed the entire South Plains, although the quantity of moisture varied widely —from as little as a quarter-inch in Muleshoe, Sudan, Plains, Kress, Floydada and Bledsoe to approximately two inches in the vicinity of Brownfield and Seagraves.

Farm authorities said that the moisture will tend to discolor cotton somewhat and will delay until early next week the resumption of picking. About half the crop still remains in the field.

Off-setting that damage, however, is the benefit the moisture will bring to the more-than-million acres of land planted or to be planted in wheat. Furthermore, they said, those localities reporting as much as nearly an inch of rain have received a valuable "seasoning" against moisture needs of the next month or so.

Precipitation in various other localities as reported to the Santa Fe railroad here this morning follows: Canyon and Happy, one-sixteenth of an inch; Amherst, Littlefield, Olton, Plainview, Hale Center, Lockney, Idalou, Lorenzo, Ralls, Crosbyton and Lehman, half-inch; Whiteface, three-quarters; Shallowater, Abernathy, Levelland, Ropesville and Meadow, one inch.

Air Reserve Officer Is Killed In Crash

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 8. (AP)—Second Lieut. Jack S. Robbins, air reserve, was killed instantly this afternoon when his plane crashed three miles south of Duncan field where he was on duty with the third transport squadron.

Lieut. Robbins, whose home was at Helena, Ark., was flying a BT-2 basic training plane. The cause of the crash had not been determined.

He had been on active duty since March 24.

Lieut. Robbins was survived by his father, A. O. Robbins of Helena.

Office Transfer Is Delayed

Delay in the arrival of a heating unit is holding up moving of the state extension service office from the federal building to 1320 Avenue Q, in a larger location which the county commissioner's court has leased as headquarters for all extension service and Agricultural Adjustment administration work, C. C. Jobson, county farm agent, said Friday.

Jobson and his force, and Miss Clara Pratt, home demonstration agent, were packing their supplies Friday for removal to the new location. C. T. Wasson, AAA administrator, and his force also were packing.

Both the federal building office and the office in the courthouse will be moved.

Offices will be closed Monday, a holiday, and Jobson said he hoped to be able to get settled in the Avenue Q building.

L. H. McElroy, new assistant county farm agent, is expected to begin his work within the next week, Jobson added. His successor in the Lamb county post has not been filled, K. J. Edwards, district agent leader, said, but would be shortly. He succeeds Monroe U. May, promoted to agent at Dimmitt.

Argentines Here

ning mills in England, use of 50 per cent of their own crops and of the only deterrent to closer relationship with the United States.

The deterrent is thus explained:

"We live in a country very similar to that of this section. Naturally, what we produce is produced also in this country in enormous quantities. So that what we have to offer by way of exports is held in quality by the United States and, despite our need of machinery, machine tools and automobiles, we have to sell on the market before we can buy on the market. Regrettable, no?"

All Must Serve

Compulsory military and naval service is nothing new to the Argentine. "We have to spend a year in the army, or two in the navy," said the visitors, both of whom are young—and, incidentally handsome.

How do the Argentines feel about the alignment of powers in the European conflict? Do they let their sympathies ride with England against the pack?

"It must be considered this way," said one. "In your great country you are akin by blood to England—and you wish England to, how you say it in English? come out on top. We are Latin and naturally, we could not easily feel ill disposed toward Spain."

No Merchant Marine

The Argentine has no merchant marine and practically no navy—but raw supplies, foodstuffs, naval stores and other contributions are being poured in a steady stream into England, through commerce of English ships, the visitors said. "We must trade, no?"

Senors Liosa and Reichart will visit several others sections and, when their time comes to leave, take with them voluminous pages of notes and tabulations, they said.

the defense line. The Italians had brought up heavy mechanized forces. Greek guns were concentrated to protect the coastal route to Joannina, a city of strategic situation.

Neutral observers said they could find no evidence of any break in Greek communications or supply and reported that troop and civilian morale was high—due in part, perhaps, to British aid.

"The situation," said a government spokesman, "is thoroughly satisfactory."

Greeks Harassed

Italian air activity is continuing to harass the Greeks, the ministry of home security reporting during the day that Italian fliers had bombed villages, towns, rural districts and shepherds' settlements in the interior.

It was asserted, however, that there had been but slight damage and few casualties.

The precise nature and extent of British aid to this country was not discussed here, but reports received from Cairo said the British middle east command was giving valuable, although cautious, help.

Reserve officers of the classes of 1914 and 1915 in infantry, artillery, cavalry, motor transport and veterinarian corps were called up effective Sunday.

Neville Chamberlain Is "Gravely Ill"

LONDON, Nov. 8. (AP)—Neville Chamberlain, the apostle of peace and Premier who led Britain through the Munich crisis of September 1938, and finally surrendered the post of prime minister only when the German blitzkrieg began in the low countries last May 10, lay gravely ill tonight.

Mrs. Chamberlain announced his illness in a message to the press. Chamberlain himself is at his country home, Highfield, in Hampshire. The king's physician, Lord Horder, lives nearby and is constantly on call.

Chamberlain underwent an operation for an intestinal obstruction July 29, and was discharged from a nursing home only last Aug. 12.

Arthur M. Mackenzie, railway express agent, was released from Lubbock sanitarium Friday afternoon. He was taken to the sanitarium from the express office Thursday night in a Rix ambulance. An attending physician said he was suffering from a digestive disturbance and exhaustion.

Marvin McBrayer, Westerner tackle, was released from West Texas hospital Friday afternoon. He suffered compound fracture of the left leg in the Pampa-Lubbock football game Saturday.

Police said Friday that O. T. Lindsey, patrolman, had been called to Pampa where a younger brother had been reported killed in an oil field mishap. There were no details to be obtained Friday night from Pampa.

AMBASSADOR IS CITED

LONDON, Nov. 8. (AP) — King George today conferred a knighthood of the order of the Thistle, one of Britain's most distinguished orders, on the Marquess of Lothian, British ambassador to the United States.

Lord Lothian is now in England on a brief furlough.

Probably the only dictator who is familiar with the Bible is Josef Stalin.

Stabbing Case Suspect Hunted

LITTLEFIELD, Nov. 8. (Special) —Sheriff Sam Hutson said tonight law enforcement officers are "on the trail" of a man who Thursday night stabbed Jim Hutto, 52, of one and one-half miles east of Lubbock.

Hutto's condition was considered slightly improved tonight at Payne-Shotwell hospital.

Although name of the man who stabbed Hutto is not definitely known, Sheriff Hutson said it was found he had spent Thursday night in a cafe at Whitharral after leaving Littlefield in a truck which Hutto, a former Sudan automobile dealer, had come here to repossess.

The assailant, the official was told, had been sent to Littlefield by a former Littlefield man to obtain the truck from storage. Hutto also appeared in Littlefield, however, and the meeting near the garage ensued.

Mrs. Hutto said she understood her husband had been talking to the man there to obtain the truck and had turned his back to return to his car when he was stabbed three times. His left lung was punctured. He was "resting fairly well" but still serious in condition this morning, it was said at the hospital.

Mrs. Hutto and son, D. L., and a daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Wilson of Lamesa, were at the bedside.

Officials are seeking a man about 30 years old, with light complexion and hair, 5 feet 10 inches tall and slender. He was described as wearing a leather jacket, khaki trousers and light hat when he appeared at the garage.

Hutto was stabbed a few minutes before 7 o'clock.

man surface warships, according to today's Nazi claims.

This success in the air and sea counter-blockade of Britain apparently came three days ago, but the heightening tempo of the campaign was reflected in the report of an informed source that today Stuka dive bombers blasted 31,800 tons of shipping to the bottom out of strongly protected convoys and damaged 23,000 tons.

Bombers Get Six

Stuka bombers, the terror which Germany unleashed against opposing lines in her sweep through the low countries and France, are ranging around the British Isles and more than 300 miles to sea in the effort to choke off Britain's supplies.

Six ships were reported to have gone under today under the Stuka's bombsights, two of them "somewhere west of Ireland." Yesterday, according to the high command, two British ships were sunk by aerial bombardment and a 10,000-ton British cruiser was among several ships reported damaged by bombs.

Such blows against the shipping of a nation which must import and export in order to live and fight represent the direct threats to the convoy system which saved Britain's World war commerce and upon which she relies in the present conflict.

Various bits of unofficial information indicated that the convoy was attacked Tuesday about 1,000 miles out of Newfoundland, on the main line of supply from Canada and the United States.

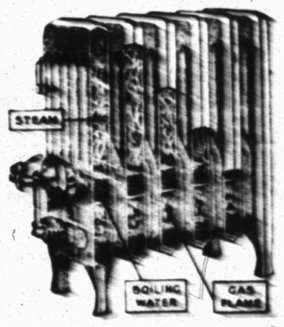

The German radio gave circulation to reports from New York that the British ships, Rangitiki, 16,698 tons, and Cornish City, 4,952 tons, sent SOS messages Nov. 5 that they were being shelled by a pocket battleship of the Graf Spee class — either the Deutschland or Admiral Scheer.

Kennedy Prepared To Return To London

BOSTON, Nov. 8. (AP)—Joseph P. Kennedy described himself as still on the job as ambassador to Great Britain as ready to "be in London within 48 hours" if an emergency arises that requires me there."

He made the statement last night in reply to newsmen's queries as to whether he intended to resign his post. Recently returned from London, Kennedy said he expected to remain in the United States until after Christmas.

The Cotton Problem Mounts

EXAMINATION of world cotton production figures as reported by the U. S. Department of Agriculture makes quite apparent the chief reason why the cotton problem of the United States is so acute.

Furthermore, those figures do nothing to encourage the hope that the foreign markets which once absorbed the greater portion of this nation's cotton crop ever will be better than they are now. On the contrary, they indicate that the world will become decreasingly dependent upon the United States cotton with the passage of time.

Department of Agriculture figures estimate the Russian crop this year at approximately 4,300,000 bales, an increase of about 250,000 bales since last year. Russia's production is all the more significant when considered that its cotton crop until a few years ago was negligible, and that its acreage for increase is almost unlimited. True, the land taken as a whole is not as well adapted to cotton production as that in this country, but production costs are far less.

India's cotton crop is almost static at around 4,000,000 bales, but there are possibilities of increases there. China is producing around 2,200,000 bales per year, and that production is climbing steadily. South America is turning out more than 3,000,000 bales, and the potentialities there have hardly been touched. And all those nations, like Russia, produce cotton far cheaper than the United States.

Quite obviously, the United States no longer can look to the outside world to buy the greater quantities of its cotton. The world can get too much cotton at cheaper prices elsewhere. This nation must depend increasingly on domestic consumption. The long range view of things will not permit dependence being placed in any other market.

Health In The U. S. Army

THE high command of the United States army could not make a worse mistake than to fail to provide every possible safeguard for the health of the young men to be called into service under the Selective Service act. Happily, the assurance is being given that the safeguards will be provided.

Perhaps the cause for the worst criticism growing out of conscription in the first World war was the inadequacy of the preparations for receiving and training those who were drafted into service. Most of those mistakes were due to inexperience. Another cause was the attempt to move too swiftly.

The result was that thousands of young men were without proper shelter, did not have sufficient bed covering and were without proper sanitation facilities. Thousands of them died in the influenza epidemics which thus were invited, and the very proper consequence was a scandal which was thoroughly aired in Congress to the detriment of the military task we were attempting to do.

There is no reason to believe that mistakes of 1917-18 will be repeated. There is every reason to accept at face value the assurances that the health of the young men in service probably will be protected even better than if they were at home. We are proceeding more slowly in the erection of camps, and the sites are being chosen with greater care. Full advantage apparently is being taken of the experience of 23 years ago. Instead of attempting to train something more than 5,000,000 in less than 18 months, the number under the selective service system in the same period of time will not be, at the most, more than one-third that figure.

Thus, there seems every indication that young men, and their loved ones, may have full confidence that the physical well-being of the draftees will be well protected.

As a whole, there is reason to expect that the men, taken as an overwhelming whole, will emerge from the experience in the best physical condition of their lives as result of a year of scientifically regulated living.

The Road To Shani Lun

By RITA MOHLER HANSON

YESTERDAY: Lynn Britton has just been "rescued" from the mounted band of Temu Darin by her dissolute half-brother Dick. Temu has been conducting Lynn across the Mongolian plain to a marriage with the Prince of Shani Lun, and partly because she distrusts Dick, and partly because she loves Temu, Lynn is half inclined to believe that she would be better off in Temu's hands—Prince or no Prince.

CHAPTER 30

Sherdock Again

Dick sat down on a box beside the head of Lynn's pallet. "As I wrote you I managed to slip into Deiun and interview the Prince last year. I'd been running arms across the desert then as now, but I went to him seeking commercial concessions—had some idea of becoming respectable, I suppose.

He paused and looked at her. "But I couldn't interest the Prince in anything—except you." He laughed mirthlessly and bent forward, hanging his hands between his knees. "And was he crazy for you, Lynn, and extremely honorable about it, he thought. We drew up a marriage settlement contract in regal style, the European way, as if I, as head of the family, had the right to dispose of your hand.

"I explained that I needed a little cash. I always seem to be needing a little cash, and he gave me my share of the settlement in advance. I had told him that occasionally the great families of America arrange the marriages of the daughters as the French do."

Lynn lay back and laced her trembling fingers behind her head while he stood and looked at her for a minute. But, kid, I never intended to let him marry you—or if he did marry you to keep you."

Her lips barely moved. "How kind!"

He began his pacing again. "The first plan was for Sherdock and me to bring you to Watch Tower Wells where the Prince would meet you by airplane. Sachto would ambush the camp that night, and with the Prince dead we'd have things our own way. But Temu spoiled that by appearing in Pai Shu."

Lynn forced herself to relax the tension of her laced fingers. "What were your plans in regard to Temu?"

Dick dropped down on a pile of sheepskins. "We'd expected Temu to pilot the Prince to Watch Tower Wells where we could get rid of them both at the same time."

She flinched; he observed it. "You needn't mind; they're nothing but vermin. You," he added, "ruined our revised plans by escaping and drawing Temu after you. However, Sachto's men are assembling a band of fighters to meet him with cannon ball and grenade the minute he gets inside the walls of the garrison of the border city of Dorchi."

Lynn fought for composure before she asked, "Isn't the Prince aware of any of this?"

Dick shrugged and lit a cigaret. "I don't know. He and Sherdock seem to have some means of communication like — well like mental telepathy. They have certain powers developed that we Westerners don't know anything about, but when their time comes they die like the rest of us. Perhaps by now the Prince knows we have captured the old boy though it won't do him any good."

"Why? Is the Prince already your prisoner?"

"We've got him where we can put our hands on him."

"Then is Temu the only one you have to fear now? Would he be powerful enough to keep the Duke of Sachto from seizing power?"

The Wise Man

"Maybe — if he were inside the country instead of out. In the morning you'll meet the Duke along with Chin Pak, one of Temu's men who has deserted to us. . . . Now your tent should be ready." He stood up and she rose and followed him out.

The next morning Lynn met the Duke of Sachto, a thin, young Mongol, with a weak chin and sad, childlike eyes that were going blind. He bowed in reverence to the Goddess Tara. She soon observed that he was superstitiously afraid of the captive priest, Sherdock Fuyeh, who sat on a rug inside his open tent with a Chinese guard nearby.

Lynn went to the monk and sat down at his side. The bindings on his ankles and wrists, she saw, were not severe.

"Are you angry at me—us, Sherdock?" she asked.

He turned and looked at her, a twinkle threatening to sparkle in his wise, old eyes. "Things work themselves out," he said.

"I'll do my best to see that no physical harm comes to you," she promised and asked with a smile, "Aren't you a little bit sorry now that you made me a goddess?"

He looked away towards the purple horizon. "You were born a goddess, my dear, I had nothing to do with it."

"Then if we should lose our cause, you will not unmake me?" she teased gently.

"You personally will not lose, my dear. And you will not harm my people, your people. Destiny is with you."

"Perhaps with me," she agreed, "but not with your Prince. From what I see and hear, white men don't stand up very well under the circumstances of life here in Asia."

"Certain white men," Sherdock admitted.

"Dick tells me that your Prince is a weak man sunk in vice and crime."

He studied her face shrewdly. "But you have refrained from telling him that the Prince is a man of your own race. Why?"

"What would be gained? It is your secret and Temu's and the Prince's." She shook her head wonderingly. "I don't understand. Your country possesses strong, native men, yet, you struggle and fight to keep a man like this missionary's son on the throne." She resolved to sound him out. "Sherdock, I might be interested in seeing a man like Temu Darin as ruler of Shani Lun."

He smiled slightly. "I see you're a strong-headed girl, but then we need strong heads in this world. They become wise through use and reflection. Some day you will comprehend that a higher power makes the plan and you and I and Temu Darin follow the design."

"You're a fatalist," she said and left him. The men were breaking camp.

A camel-puller brought her the same animal she had ridden from Pailchao to Watch Towel Wells.

Presently Lynn noticed with a little feeling of compunction that Temu's beloved black bactrian had also been taken in the raid on the camp at Watch Towel Wells. Though at the low ebb of his vitality, due to the moulting season, the animal was acting ugly, grinding his teeth and rolling his eyes and refusing to obey the young Burial trying to subdue and mount him.

Desert Tragedy

Suddenly the beast lashed out; the man went down, his face crushed and chest caved in. Companions rushed to save him, but too late. Already flesh and blood mingled with the mud of the desert.

The animal, as if sensing that he had completed his task, broke wildly through the men and fled across the desert. The men stood strangely silent.

Dick was cursing wildly but the Mongols accepted the tragedy apathetically. "We did wrong to steal him from Temu Darin," they said. "The devil spirit of a man resides in his personal camel and if that master be a strong man, no enemy, unless he be stronger, can mount the beast."

Lynn rode that day with a sense of deep depression. They were skirting a high mountain range that separated them from the border region of Shani Lun. It was a particularly desolate strip of country as if, at some time in the past, cruel and inhuman deeds had been committed along this ancient, pilgrim road and the spirit of murder and madness still lingered to haunt the men who passed.

Sherdock rode a little detached from the rest near the head of the column. The Duke of Sachto rode dejectedly at the rear. Between them the men were particularly quarrelsome. Once Dick was compelled to take his whip to a pair on horseback who were flashing knives at each other. Lynn urged her animal forward to the side of Chin Pak who rode a tall, rangy mule.

"So you deserted Temu Darin?" she said. His eyes shifted, then he spoke.

"Yes, Missie."

"He trusted you."

Chin Pak dropped his head. "I loyal to the Tara."

She eyed him sharply. "You mean that, Chin Pak? You're loyal to me?"

"Yes, Missie."

She lowered her voice. "Loyal to me above my brother?"

"Yes, Missie. He say I come with him I serve the Tara."

Lynn's pulses quickened; evidently she had found a friend. She was beginning to see into the psychology of these people, and she did have power among them if only she could use it wisely.

At sunset they came into a different type of country and made camp at the base of a steep, red mountain where a spring gushed out and watered a grove of false phoenix trees. The men sat outed and sang at their work like children on a holiday, a complete reversal of the feeling of the day.

Then Sherdock made his announcement. "My time has come. I shall die tonight," he said.

Lynn's first impulse was to laugh. As if a man could die by simply making up his mind to do so. But the sudden look of apprehension that came into Dick's eyes when he received the message sobered her.

"Such a thing is impossible!" she cried.

"Oh, no it isn't. Not among primitive people. If Sherdock chooses to die, he can surely do it."

"I wouldn't call Sherdock primitive. He's more highly civilized than any man I know."

"He possesses the personal powers of aboriginal people. But, if he thinks he can force me into a compromise, he's badly fooled. I still have you to represent the gods and if he compels us to, we'll carry his body to Deiun in state and collect tribute all along the way. I have this thing cinched. I'm going through with it; nothing can stop me. Go tell him what I said."

The National Whirligig

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

NELSON ROCKEFELLER, our unofficial ambassador to the South Americas, is getting off to a slow start in his attempt to cultivate closer commercial ties with the nations to the south of us. His difficulties reveal how hard it is to sever the bond which has linked us to Europe for so long, and to reorient our interests overnight.

The National Defense Advisory commission (as reported here previously) has been dickering with a powerful British firm for the purchase of a sizable lot of South African diamonds. They are needed to tool up U. S. industry rather than to adorn milady's neck. The army has also been in the market for a large amount of leather for shoes. Mr. Rockefeller recently leaped into this picture, and urged that both commodities be bought in South America—the diamonds in Brazil and the leather in the Argentine.

But he got a negative headshake for answer. The arrangements for the sale had been made long ago and, so we was informed, it might make for bad feeling with old-established European customers if we reneged on them at the last minute. It is quite probable that nobody is at fault for a situation like this. But it is one of those things which hurts in any attempt to implement the "Good Neighbor" policy with something more effective than words.

TOKEN: The peoples living in the Caribbean area—those on the islands and in nearby mainland countries—still hold their fingers crossed with respect to Uncle Sam and Herr Hitler. According to confidential diplomatic advices, Washington should lose no time in moving into this territory aggressively.

The folks in that vital defense sector recently released from European sovereignty desire Uncle Sam's protection. They do not want to become wards of the Nazis or any of their satellites. They have, for the moment at least, scant sympathy for his way of life or government. But they would like the United States to show more interest in their welfare and future. They do not want to be regarded as pawns or people who live on the wrong side of the tracks.

They welcomed the idea of American acquisition of British bases—Bermuda, the Bahamas, St. Lucia, Antigua, etc.—which joined our fortunes with theirs. But our slowness in taking over and fortifying these points has tended to dismay them. So it is generally believed that the dispatch of destroyers, subs, planes and patrol boats to that area is chiefly designed to let them know that we realize their importance in the western hemispheric scheme of things.

SLIPPING: The plight of the British people will get more desperate before it gets better. A recently returned diplomat—now that the Presidential campaign is over—is telling friends that England must have "outside aid" (presumably American) by spring or she will have to make peace on the best terms she can get from her enemies.

The British people have plenty of courage, according to this experienced observer, but they cannot stand forever the day-by-day sacrifices and suffering they must endure from air raids. He fears that morale, especially among the laboring classes, may crack. So far there has been hardly any attempt to guard against the diseases and inroads on health which life under such unreal and unnatural conditions provokes. Therefore, he figures that there may come a mental and physical breakdown before long—by April, perhaps.

The outcome of the Hitler-Mussolini move through the Balkans, he believes, may determine how long the Britons can—or will—hold out. If the Axis powers, in addition to their daily onslaught against Britain, can acquire almost all European territory from Norway to Greece, it will obviously have an injurious, perhaps a disastrous, effect on British morale.

GROWTH: President Roosevelt may have shown and voiced some bitterness—some resentment—in his campaign speeches. Under the extremely unusual circumstances of his third-term try that was only natural.

But the men most closely associated with FDR during the campaign confide that he never lost his head or snapped at them, as "bosses" sometimes do when important things go wrong. He talked and counseled with them quietly and philosophically, even when he discussed some of the most violent attacks against himself and his administration. He even joked over jibes which made his aides' faces red. His usual comment was: "You must expect that sort of stuff when you enter politics—and stay in as long as I have!"

Mr. Roosevelt, at least in his closest friends' eyes—and this is an acid test—emerges as a bigger man now than when he first came across their horizon back in 1913.

PROOF: A fairly high-up New Deal officeholder feathered his official nest inside and outside in the last moments of the campaign.

He arranged with a friend to bet $1 against $50 that the President would carry all 48 states. With another pal he fixed up a bet at the same ratio that Wendell Willkie would sweep the nation unanimously. He stood to lose only two bucks. But he was able to tell both men (after Election Day) how much he thought of them, and to explain that he backed his love in cash—though he did not and never will say by how much!

NEW YORK
By Richard Waldo

WITH the elections out of the way, bankers expect to see attention drawn to a trouble-breeding situation. President Roosevelt's orders freezing the property of foreign nationals is leading to an amazing number of legalistic schemes to avoid freezing. The very people for whose "protection" the order was designed are the complainants.

Currently Swiss interests in this country are in the process of devising means to protect themselves against the contingency of their funds being frozen in the event of an invasion of Switzerland. There is still a great deal of nervousness about this possibility. Since most of the foreign capital of resident aliens or that under the control of Americans is invested in American stocks and bonds, freezing poses severe problems. Until license or release is obtained, the proprietor of the funds cannot buy or sell his or her holdings. In many instances the payment of current bills at hotels, stores, etc. becomes a matter of serious concern, although bank accounts may run into high figures. The injustices which thus befall residents as well as retail businesses are being criticized most severely.

The increase of red tape at the banks which handle such accounts is astounding. New divisions have had to be created which do nothing but operate frozen accounts and prepare reports and applications to the Federal Reserve bank. The matter of blocked money, unfortunately, also injects itself into customers' relationships. Clients frequently blame their bank for what they think is needless interference with their personal liberty. Sometimes they simply ignore the whole matter and get out on a buying spree, running up bills considerably beyond the amount that the Federal Reserve permits being drawn monthly. Creditors get angry at the customer for not paying their bills. They denounce the bank for not telling them voluntarily that the account is blocked. In due course, irritation is directed at the Federal Reserve and the decree, which last may hamper the dictators but certainly does not protect American businessman against abuses.

CONDITIONS: The Falangists are taking over the Spanish government. This has been made clean since employes of various Franco ministries received questionnaires regarding their background and experience. The printed form states that those who are not members may join the party before expiration of a time limit.

For the easy-going Spaniard, who is not particularly cooperative by nature, this is a distinct novelty. Simultaneously with the establishment of a one-party system a la Hitler and Mussolini, Franco is now reorganizing the country along totalitarian lines economically. Ravages of the civil war resulted in a higher cost of living, and efforts are now being made to adjust wages, prices, production so that whatever is available may be spread more equitably. Curbing of previously rather widespread bootlegging of rationed goods is reported to be successful, but conditions in various parts of the nation appear to differ radically. Judged by statistics and correspondence, the outward appearance of business is back to normal.

"And we've walked all day without seeing a thing!"

Here And There In Texas

By ROY NEUMAN
Associated Press Staff Writer

ONE of the nation's authorities on the conservation of wild animals, birds and marine life, Will Tucker, executive secretary of the Texas Game, Fish and Oyster commission, also is a novelist.

The International Association of Game, Fish and Conservation commissioners meeting recently at Toronto, Canada, voted Tucker "the man who has achieved the most in wildlife conservation the past two years."

Returning from the convention, Tucker found a publishing house had accepted his first novel, "Not All Ashes," a story which, based on his experiences as an officer in the famed "Rainbow Division" of the World war, also contains first-hand information on game and fish in Texas as it existed a generation ago.

Came From Alabama

The director of the Texas game department was born 50 years ago in Abbeville, Ala., came to Texas in his mother's arms, and was reared in Brenham, Washington county.

Printer's ink, he says, sort of runs in his veins. His father, George Tucker, quit a good job and established his own newspaper so that he could get off and go bear hunting in Matagorda county when he "took a notion to." The elder Tucker founded the Brenham Evening Press.

Will's brother, Jinx, is widely known as sports editor of the Waco News-Tribune and Times Herald.

Attending public school and Blinn college at Brenham, Will Tucker admits the "never got enough education to hurt me." After the war, he studied at the Sorbonne in Paris.

HIS newspaper work included publishing the Brenham Messenger which, he says, "went broke," working as a reporter for the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, editing the Taylor, Texas, Press, and founding the Longview Daily News.

Tucker entered the first officers' training camp at Leon Springs in May, 1917, and by October was in France. He emerged from the war as a captain in the 42nd division.

While with the army of occupation in Germany, the future game expert assisted in writing history of his regiment.

Before becoming Texas' game, fish and oyster commissioner in January, 1927, Tucker was state executive committeeman of the Democratic party and president of the Texas division of the Izaak Walton League.

HOLDS MANY HONORS

He has been president of the International Association of Game, Fish and Conservation commissioners, vice president of the American Fisheries society, president of the southwestern association of Game and Fish commissioners, members of the advisory board on the Migratory Bird Treaty act and regional director of the National Wildlife federation.

With funds made available through federal conservation efforts, Tucker set up in Texas what has been termed one of the finest, most comprehensive plans of wildlife research and rehabilitation in the nation. It was mainly because of that plan, widely imitated in other states, that Tucker received the international honor from the commissioners' association.

MEDIUM - SIZED, an inveterate pipe smoker, the Texas commission secretary is a dyed-in-the-wool sportsman. As a boy, he hunted and fished in the famed "big thicket" of East Texas. All his life he has been interested in protecting game so that hunters of future generations might have something to hunt.

Currently, he is worrying over the fast-disappearing Texas prairie chicken and the decreasing numbers of white-winged doves. The mountain sheep of West Texas, at least the few which are left, are being subjected to intensive observation under his direction.

In 1930, the six-man game commission was created and it elected and continued him in office ever since.

Book Partly Biographical

"Not All Ashes," the story of a young officer who bumps into an unusual situation while serving with the "Rainbow Division" in France, starts out in Texas and is, Tucker admits, partially biographical.

Of interest to naturalists and sportsmen, the introduction paints a vivid but accurate picture of the lush east Texas woodlands 30 years ago. Game, now all but vanished, abounded. Fish, and big ones, were plentiful.

Bird hunting was an art which also supplied farmers with needed food.

The main portion of the novel traces movements of Tucker's regiment in France with historical fidelity because of a faithfully preserved diary. His descriptions of engagements and men's reactions under fire are gripping.

THE author, who in his tens wrote a book of poetry, already has compiled a large portion of a manuscript for another volume which he describes as hunting tales of Texas.

His intention in this book, he says, is to preserve as many true stories of game in Texas as possible. In his work he has heard hundreds of "dog-gone good yarns" and he thinks they not only will make excellent reading but furnish a picture of Texas as a sportsman's paradise in the past.

He has yearnings, too, to write the story of the "big thicket" of East Texas which, even today, affords protection and a habitat for game species in Southeast Texas.

Use Of Wild Tobacco As Background Plant Suggested At Tech

Use of wild tobacco as a quick-growing background plant for landscaping on the South Plains is being suggested by the plant industry department at Texas Technological College.

The whitish-blue plant with large clusters of yellow, trumpet-like flowers grows as tall and makes as good vegetative growth as do castor beans, according to Prof. O. B. Howell, horticulturist. A specimen of the annual, grown in a privately owned Lubbock hothouse, was recently identified by Dr. R. A. Studhalter, head professor of botany.

Native to Argentina, Paraguay, and Bolivia, the plant was probably shipped into San Diego where it became naturalized. It now ranges through California and Texas to the Rio Grande Valley, Howell said.

TRADERS CASH PROFITS

NEW YORK, Nov. 8 (AP)—Bounding stock market leaders of yesterday backed down in today's session as traders cashed profits in preparation for the week-end which will be lengthened further by Monday's Armistice day closing.

The inflation spur, touched off by the treasury move to hike the national debt limit, seemed less of a motivating factor, brokers said, and, in view of Thursday's sharpest bulge since the war boom of September a year ago, most speculative contingents inclined to go home with at least a portion of their winnings.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was off .5 of a point at 46.1 after the runup of the day before of 2 points, the best advance since Sept. 5 last year. Dealings slowed on the retreat and transfers totalled 1,750,930 shares against 2,083,060 yesterday.

Business news generally was good but U. S. Steel, disclosing October shipments were the second best in the company's history, ended off 1⅛ at 73⅝, after edging to a year's new top in the forenoon. General Motors also dropped a point despite announcement October sales for this concern hit a record for the month.

Curtiss-Wright voted an initial 50-cent dividend on the common and these shares inched forward. Wright Aeronautical, a 10-share trading unit and Curtiss-Wright subsidiary, was up 5 on a small turnover. Chrysler was down 2⅝, although production for the automotive industry as a whole this week was placed at the best level since 1937.

Others losing included Bethlehem Steel, Crucible, Youngstown Sheet, Douglas Aircraft, General Electric, Dow Chemical, U. S. Gypsum, Great Northern, Texas Corp., Anaconda, Sears Roebuck, Western Union and North American.

U. S. government securities continued to rise and corporate bonds pointed upward after early hesitancy. Commodities were steady to higher.

Aluminum of America fell 3⅛ in the curb and lesser setbacks were suffered by American Gas, American Cyanamid B, Electric Bond and Share, Gulf Oil, Humble Oil and Phoenix securities. On the upside were Bell Aircraft, Creole Petroleum, N. J. Zinc and Colts Patent Fire Arms. Volume here aggregated 271,000 shares versus 265,000 in the previous session.

Grain . .

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Nov. 8 (AP)—Cautious profit taking quelled a vigorous buying spirit in the grain pits today but prices of principal cereals continued to forge ahead to new highs for the past six months in some cases.

A setback in securities, scheduling of a speech by Hitler, uncertainty about inflationary trends and revival of peace rumors were developments popularizing extreme caution. Despite this, there was enough buying fuel to lift prices a cent or more in some pits, with enlarged public participation improving the liquidity of the market and bolstering trading volume.

Wheat closed ⅛ to 1⅛ higher than yesterday, December 87¾-87⅝, May 87¼-86⅞; corn unchanged to ½ up, December 62¾-62½, May 63¼-63⅜; oats ⅛ to 1⅛ higher; soybeans 1 to 1⅛ up; rye ½ to ⅜ lower and lard unchanged to 3 lower.

Maximum wheat gains of 1 to 1½ cents carried December up to 88⅛, highest since the mid-May market collapse. May and July wheat, December and May oats, July rye and all soybean contracts hit new highs for the season. Later, profit taking caused wheat to slump as much as ¾ cent below the previous close at one stage but July contracts were stronger due partly to their sharp discount under nearby deliveries.

Mesquite Eradication Experiments Made

Experimental work on mesquite eradication is being continued by Dr. E. L. Reed, professor of botany at Texas Technological college.

A progress report made by Dr. Reed points out germination of mesquite seeds is accomplished in three days, by decay of the pod, which takes two or more years, by passing, uninjured, through the alimentary canal of some ruminant, and by rodents eating the sweet pulp part of the pod, leaving the seed free.

For purposes of experimentation, Dr. Reed has selected seven stations, as follows: 60 acres just west of Monroe, area two miles north of Anton, seven miles northwest of Lubbock on Clovis highway, Texas Tech pasture, on northwest corner of Tech's farm land; 18 miles southwest of Lubbock on farm of C. L. Riger, pasture of Matador Land and Cattle company, four miles west of Dobbs City, and a pasture south of Ackerly, with a water course running throught it.

Recruiting Officer Arrives In Lubbock

Major Walter Jessen, of San Antonio, a retired army officer who recently was recalled to active service, has arrived here and Friday began his duties as district recruiting officer, succeeding Capt. Everett W. Bright, who remains here as assistant.

The new officer served in the army from 1908 to 1935 when he retired. He had been with the 23rd infantry for some years, he said, but his last active duty was as an instructor with the West Virginia National guard. He was born in Virginia.

Increased work in recruiting due to an enlarged military program was indicated as the reason for sending a second officer here. Lieut. Homer B. Johnson, a reserve medical officer, is medical officer here. Capt. Bright is also a reserve officer from New Mexico.

As soon as the state extension service moves from its present location in the federal building, the recruiting office is to be moved into that location, Major Jessen said, he understood.

Basil Metabolism Tests Are Given At College

Tests measuring amount of oxygen consumed in the human body are being given 50 freshman home economics students at Texas Technological college, as part of a study to determine effect of altitude on basic metabolism.

The students, normally healthy as indicated by their medical records, were chosen from enrollees living in altitudes of 2,600 to 2,800 feet above sea level.

Correct metabolism will be checked with weight, height, age, pulse and normal body temperature. The test and additional research on effect of season on metabolism are included in a study which is to be ready for publication next fall.

The work is supervised by Miss Jimmie McCrery, head professor of foods and nutrition.

Port Arthur Man Heads League

(By The Associated Press)

FORT WORTH, Nov. 8—The League of Texas Municipalities today elected City Manager Bill N. Taylor of Port Arthur as its president for the next year and created the new post of executive advisor for the retiring president, City Attorney R. E. Rouer of Fort Worth.

In a series of resolutions adopted at the closing session of its three-day convention here, the league formulated a broad legislative program designed chiefly to relieve the strained financial condition of most Texas cities.

Rogers Named Vice President

Vice presidents chosen include Ross D. Rogers, mayor of Amarillo. R. E. Adams, of Austin, formerly executive secretary of the league, henceforth will be called executive director.

One of the principal resolutions adopted dealt with control of "night spots," growing up outside the corporate limits of cities. The league asked the legislature to provide for effective control of these places by prescribing a 1:00 a. m. closing time for dance halls selling beer and prohibiting the sale of beer in such establishments after midnight.

Other Resolutions Adopted

The latter object would be accomplished by withdrawing the power of county judges to issue "supplemental licenses" for the sale of beer and vesting that authority exclusively in the liquor control board.

Other resolutions adopted by the league included:

Urging the legislature to pass a law assuring the right of cities to make a summary sale of real estate to satisfy delinquent taxes.

Opposing the imposition of a federal tax on municipal securities.

Refund On Licenses Advocated

Advocating a refund to cities of part of the state gasoline tax and automobile license fees.

Asking the state highway department to assume the cost of construction and maintenance of designated state highways within the corporate limits of cities.

Urging legislation to require that ad valorem taxes on automobiles must be paid before a license can be issued.

City Attorneys Elect

The Texas City Attorneys association, a branch of the league, elevated City Attorney Harry Ratliff of Colorado to the presidency and added E. Overshiner, Abilene city attorney, to the list of vice presidents.

Ed B. Levine, jr., Texarkana city attorney, becomes active past president and H. A. Carr, attorney for the planning and zoning commissioner of Corpus Christi, succeeds City Attorney Earl Earp of Monahans as reporter.

The association declined to act on a suggestion from Corporation Court Judge Joe M. Hill of Dallas to seek legislation enlarging the jurisdiction of city courts, preferring to give further study to the question.

By a vote of 39 to 35, Temple was chosen as the 1941 convention city.

Studying dates in American colleges, researchers recently discovered a co-ed frequently spends more money dressing for a date than her boy friend spends taking her out.

Cotton Crop Of 12,847,000 Bales Is Forecast

Biggest Yield Since 1937

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8. (AP) — A United States cotton crop of 12,847,00 bales was forecast today by the agricultural department, based upon indications of November 1. This was an increase of 106,000 bales over a similar forecast made a month ago.

A crop of this size would be the largest since the 1937 record one of 18,946,000 bales and would compare with last year's production of 11,817,000.

Much Of It Stored

The department reported that up to Thursday 1,444,441 bales of this year's crop had been stored by growers under government price-bolstering loans totaling $69,860,641. This is in addition to 8,700,00 bales of surplus cotton from previous crops either owned by the government or stored under government loans to growers.

The indicated yield for the country as a whole was estimated at 252.1 pounds per acre—the second largest of record and 14.2 pounds greater than last year.

Cotton of this year's crop ginned prior to November 1 was reported at 9,083,626 bales compared with 10,079,112 bales at the same date last year. The department said ginning was especially late this year in states adjoining the Mississippi river and in Alabama and Oklahoma.

In the Carolinas, weather during October was said to have continued unusually favorable for maturing the late bolls, and that the prospective production in these two states increasd 105,000 bales during the month. Favorable weather also caused an increase of 115,000 bales in Missouri, Arkansas and Oklahoma.

In Georgia, Alabama and Mississippi, however, dry weather was said to have prevented late bolls from reaching full size, causing an indicated reduction of 150,00 bales in these states.

Possibilities Of Aviation Cited

Lubbock's possibilities as an "aviation city" should be about the best in the country if industrial figures are an accurate index, chamber of commerce officials said Friday.

Their opinion was based on comparisons with five other cities in the nation having established airline service with populations almost exactly the same as Lubbock.

Hearings Start Thursday

The comparisons are included in a supplement to the brief already submitted to the federal Civil Aeronautics board in support of the applications of several airlines to establish service through Lubbock. Hearings on the applications are scheduled to begin in Washington next Thursday.

Cities used in the comparison in the supplement are Aberdeen, S. D., Billings, Mont., Reno, Nev., Sarasota, Fla., and Walla Walla, Wash. Populations of those cities as shown by the 1940 census range within 1,000 of that of Lubbock.

Second In Total Sales

They show that among the cities, Lubbock is first in number of families, the number of persons gainfully employed, number of residence telephones and number of 'phones per 100 families. It is shown to be third in postal receipts, exceeded by Billings and Reno.

In regard to comparative business volumes, the supplement lists the following facts based on figures obtained from the federal board itself:

Lubbock is sixth in number of retail stores among the six cities, but is second in total sales and third in sales per capita.

It is first by wide margins in number of wholesale establishments and their business volume. Lubbock's volume is placed at $25,500,000 per year compared with $19,080,000 for Billings, the second place city, and $3,000,000 for Sarasota, the sixth place city.

It is first by even wider margins in number of manufacturing plants, the value of their products and total wages. The number of plants in Lubbock is 131, compared with 44 in Billings, the second place city, and their payroll is $2,970,000 per year, compared with $1,030,000 in Reno, the second place city.

Although Lubbock will be represented at the hearing, officials at the chamber of commerce expressed uncertainty as to who will go. Harry B. Lewis, aviation manager of the chamber, already is in Washington, and C. E. Maedgen, chairman of the chamber's aviation committee, plans tentatively to attend.
