Now that spring pastures are good and prospects are good for early sudan grazing makes us think of milk production in this area. Back in the days when the cheese plant was in operation this time of year was looked forward to as the time when peak milk production rolled into the plant. It was the time of year when the plant expected to do a big business and when the farmers expected to reap a harvest of low cost milk.

Despite the fact that farmers have made plenty of money, up to now, on crops other than milk there are a number of them who would like to see the return to milk production as one of the main crops for money. It seemed good to them to hear the swish of the milk in the pail and the sizeable checks they received each 15 days. It sometimes looked small but it helped to keep plenty of food on the table, the car running and many other things that required money. These folks say the trend is again to milk production as a means of farm money.

LOCAL BOY TAKES PART IN NAVAL CRUISES

New Orleans, April 2.—Emmett W. Neel, seaman apprentice, U. S. N. son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Neel, Lorraine, is among regular crew members of Destroyer Squadron 16 who today helped hang up some sort of record for training cruises when they docked here to complete the squadron's thirty-first trip to the Caribbean in 17 months.

Five ships of the squadron, the 2,200-ton destroyers Haynsworth, Sperry, Ault, English and Waldron, arrived at the Naval Station here after a two-week training cruise which included battle maneuvers in the Gulf of Mexico and Caribbean, firing practice off Guantanamo Bay, Cuba and a two-day shore liberty at Tampa, Fla.

Aboard were approximately 600 Naval Reservists from 15 Midwestern and Southern states, on annual training tours of active duty. They brought the total of reservists who have made two-week cruises with the squadron just under 8,000.

Destroyer Squadron 16, famed as the Sea Horse Squadron of the Pacific war, is based here to conduct reserve training cruises.

FARM NEWS

The Secretary of Agriculture has assigned the responsibility of securing acreage of all crops planted in Mitchell County for the years 1941, 1945, 1946, 1947, 1948, and 2949 to the Mitchell County ACA Committee.

The reason for securing this information is to assign cotton and wheat acreage allotments to each eligible farm in the county for the 1950 crop.

It will be the responsibility of every land owner and operator to see that the acreage of all crops be made available to the County Committee.

Dates will be set in the near future for the "sign-up". Letters of instruction will be mailed to all known owners and operators prior to the "sign-up" dates.

Failure to furnish the information may result in loss of an allotment of cotton or wheat or both on the farm.

The committee urges all farm people to give some thought to the crops planted on their farms during the above years in order to be in position to give the desired information as accurately as possible when called on to do so.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Truman Ignores Program Setback, Insists Congress Is Cooperating; Approval Seen for Vets' Pension

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the writer and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

PRESIDENCY:

"Soy It Isn't So"

Was President Truman emulating the ostrich with the old "head in the sand" technique, or was he naive enough to believe what he was saying?

This seemed a fair question when Mr. Truman, despite multiple setbacks in congress for his legislative program, declared he and the congress were cooperating and that only "troublemakers" talked of bad feeling between them.

MR. TRUMAN had suffered three major setbacks in attempting to have his campaign pledges enacted into law. He had been blocked on rent controls, appointment of Mon C. Walgren as a key figure in the national defense set-up, and civil rights proposals.

But, the President shook off these reverses by ignoring them in a speech to the United States conference of mayors in Washington.

Instead, he told the mayors: "Of course I differ with the congress on some points and where these differences are important I shall continue to urge the course I think is right."

"BUT, BASICALLY, the congress and the President are working together and will continue to work together for the good of the whole country. We are going to agree on a lot more things than we disagree on."

Many observers took the view that the President's remarks indicated adoption of new strategy in dealing with congress—that an attitude of "soft words" might be held more advisable than angry denunciations of the lawmakers.

PENSIONS:

Who Pays?

It was beginning to appear that a veteran's pension bill in some form would be enacted by the 81st congress. Frodded by Rep. John Rankin (D., Miss.), of the house veterans' affairs committee, the measure under consideration would give veterans of World Wars I and II automatic pensions of $90 a month at age 65. Budget bureau experts contend this would cost the nation upwards of 125 billion dollars over the next 50 years.

WHO WOULD PAY the cost of the pensions? American taxpayers, of course, and among these would be all the veterans who might some day receive the bonus. As one young war veteran put it, "By the time I reached 65, I would have gone broke trying to pay taxes to grant me a pension."

That's the viewpoint of some veterans. There are many others who honestly feel they are entitled to a pension and would readily accept an "installment" tax payment period between their present age and age 65 in order to get the pension.

SOME OPPONENTS of the pension measure favored restricting pensions only to veterans of World War I, but it was obvious no such proposal as this would be enacted. There were too many World War II veterans who would oppose that simply on the principle of discrimination, no matter how they might feel basically about the pension proposal.

On the first test of the measure, it was almost lost, but swift parliamentary maneuvering saved it from being returned to committee where it might have died a natural death.

DRAFT:

Easing Off

Military draft eligibles could relax — Maj. Gen. John E. Dahlquist, army personnel chief, said no more men will be inducted into the army before July, 1950; and that's when the present peacetime draft act expires.

SO, IT SEEMED that the peacetime draft was virtually over, except for the possibility of enactment of a new act or extension by congress of the present law.

However, the national defense establishment hastened to state that General Dahlquist was giving only his opinion — that no draft policy has been laid down, and that no one knows what the future holds.

IT WAS REGARDED as significant that there have been no inductions under the present law since the end of January because voluntary enlistments have filled quotas, and army officials have said that budget reductions forced them to cut their proposed strength.

INSIDE 'SHORT' STORY

'Boss' Censored President's Swim Photos

Whatever else the incident of the censorship of pictures showing Harry S. Truman swimming in Florida may have done, it put him solid with most American people whose choice of pastime is to frequently influenced by the distasteful side at home.

For, at least, the secret of the censored photographs was out — and the gentleman who broke the

Explains Pact

Dean Acheson, secretary of state, explains north Atlantic pact at special press conference at the state department.

PACT:

Reds Burn

The Kremlin and its satellites were literally burned up over the north Atlantic treaty alliance.

To the Russians the pact was a "deceptive instrument of war aimed against" them.

THE CONTROLLED Russian press and radio joined in the clamor, branding the pact as the work of war-mongers trying to wreck the United Nations.

The general theme was that the alliance was the "main weapon of the aggressive policy of the ruling circles of the United States, Britain and France."

The Russian stew was understandable. By this diplomatic coup western powers had managed to abate somewhat the legend of Soviet invincibility among the smaller countries and at the same time to serve notice on the Russians that any further violence or aggression within the pact area would mean war.

THE TERMS of the pact do not actually say that; but they say something which is the same. That is that pact nations shall construe an attack upon any member as an attack upon them all, and even the dumbest Muscovite could understand what that meant.

The treaty, however, was not without its critics at home. John Foster Dulles, slated to be secretary of state had Dewey nabbed the presidency, was anything but enthusiastic about the alliance. In fact, Dulles' observations on the subject were such as to raise the ire of Dean Acheson, secretary of state, who charged that Dulles was put out because he, Dulles, couldn't get over Dewey's defeat and how he might have been secretary of state himself but for that.

RENT CURBS:

Outlook Dim

Overriding administration recommendations, the senate voted to let town and city governments abolish rent controls in their areas — if the state governors approve.

THERE WERE MANY who would discern instantly the political implication inherent in such a move. In states where governors are permitted under law to succeed themselves — and even in states which do not permit this — governors are usually concerned with re-election or with naming their successors. Abolition of rent control power could be used as a potent weapon with which to beat recalcitrant voters into line.

As anyone familiar with legislative processes knows, organizations are always the most powerful and effective lobbyists. Landlords have a national organization which already has been vociferously vocal at Washington. There has been no organization of renters and tenants, not even at the state or county level. Those who are heard in law-making assemblies are those who are organized and who know how to obtain hearings. And these organizations usually manage to do rather well for themselves.

IN WHATEVER FORM the bill finally emerges from the senate, it must go to a conference committee in order to iron out differences between house and senate versions.

States righters would herald the local option features of the control bill with elation and landlords groups would find it easier to attempt legislative pressure in their own back yards.

MEMORY:

Ours Is Short

To many who had experienced the horrors of war and who had met German foemen in battle, American policy in Germany was almost maddening. Official approval of selection of a group of ex-Nazis to manage the Ruhr—Germany's greatest war-making potential—was bringing cries of protest from all over the nation.

The grasp of the ex-Hitlerites was reaching farther and farther into Germany's vital affairs and the optimism of the group that their desires would be fulfilled was significant.

Latest manifestation of the trend was a statement by Hans Thomsen, who was the Nazis' last charge d'affaires in Washington, that he and other veteran Hitler diplomats expected to resume their careers in the "new Germany."

There was no lack of cockiness in Thomsen's stand. Said he: "The new German government cannot get along without the old Wilhelmstrasse men—who know their business." He is now in the banking business in Hamburg.

The old pattern was becoming increasingly clear. Smart diplomats, seeking a rampart against communism, were using this same objective to re-create Germany as a European power—a buffer against the Reds.

SWALLOWS:

Unfailing Legend

The old, old legend was unfailing. Always the swallows had come back to Capistrano, and this time they came again.

THE LEGEND was fulfilled to the letter. Through the long, lazy centuries that the birds have always been coming back to San Juan Capistrano, their return has always been on the same day each year—St. Joseph's day.

And this year there was no deviation. On St. Joseph's day the birds came sweeping back at dawn to fly into their homes under the eaves of the historic old mission.

"They do not come in huge swarms as some reports have it," an old padre said. "Instead they arrive in small contingents, 50 to 75 at a time."

Father Hutchinson, pastor, said that the birds usually leave in July after their young can fly. They travel to nearby canyons to feed where insects are plentiful, he indicated.

BOGEY MAN:

Solons Defiant

Figuratively thumbing its collective nose at the "big man" the United States senate by a vote of 50 to 41 confirmed the appointment of Dr. James Boyd as director of the federal bureau of mines.

THE "BIG MAN" was John L. Lewis, leader of the United Mine Workers of America, and he wanted no part of Dr. Boyd in the federal mine regulation setup.

The senate action came while Lewis had the pressure on Lewis' miners were in the second week of a 14-day shutdown ordered by Lewis who termed the stoppage a "memorial" to miners killed and injured last year.

Chief speculation concerned the import of the senate action. Did it mean that government, finally, was ready to clamp down on the dictatorial Lewis and abolish his power as a continuing threat to American industry?

It could mean that, if Lewis' mine stoppage resulted in a reversal of labor sentiment among some members of congress and a really "get-tough" labor law were to be enacted.

What Next?

fought off requests to play Abraham Lincoln, saying he was a cliché to be typed as Lincoln and not refuse the role. In "The Prairie Years," with Engelbach directing, "Tactful but forceful direction" that's what they say they get from him.

Hollywood has lured two of "The Guiding Light" cast into its fold. Willard Waterman, "Ray Brandon," starts work as Bing Crosby's stuffy brother-in-law in "Riding High," and Betty Gerson, the female lead, will have a leading role in a picture at Republic that's named so far. This will be Miss Gerson's first film venture, so here's luck to her.

The new "March of Time" may give you a lot of ideas, if you don't know where to spend your next vacation. Or it may show you a place you've already enjoyed. The film shows a cross-section of American holidays — cruise ships, big and little hotels, camping trips, dude ranches. Americans spend some $1 billion dollars on vacations; here is how they do it.

Burglar Iiked

In Champaign, Ill., Carl Fletcher, 23, was so liked at finding nothing worth stealing after housebreaking that he called police and reported his own burglary.

Fletcher broke into a filling station, then telephoned the sheriff and police to "come get" him. He waited for them and unlocked the door to let them in. "I just got mad," he said, "at finding nothing worth taking."

WHAT THIS COUNTRY NEEDS MOST . . .

Boola Boola Boys Battle Bicarb Business

... ARE MORE COLLEGES FOR CHEFS

By H. I. PHILLIPS

COLLEGE FOR CHEFS

G. I. Schools in cooking, menu planning, restaurant operation and hotel management are being conducted in various parts of the country, with one more or less affiliated with Yale. For this we give a lusty cheer. If there is one field in which plenty of education is needed, is it in the operation of the average American restaurant and luncheon. The run-of-the-mill eating places of this country are presided over largely by chefs who are strictly grease-and-hot-flame boys.

Even the proper technique in frying an egg escapes them. Their idea of a good dinner is anything that has been in and out of a grease bath. And they can make coffee taste like essence of marzipan. They got into the business on a bet, learned to cook by taking an elementary course in arson and kept their jobs because the boss ate elsewhere.

A college for chefs, cooks and stewards is a crying need. America desperately needs it. The customers are tired of being guinea pigs for apprentice ham-and-bean boys whose motto is, "If you can eat it without catnap, it's our mistake."

There are G. I. students from 38 states in the school at New Haven. The boys study cooking under experts and nobody who thinks two minutes are enough for a four-minute egg makes the team. No student with a fixed idea that any sandwich is tasty if well upholstered with faded lettuce finishes his freshman year.

We understand special attention is paid to the matter of chicken pies and beef stews and that the dean flunks any student who insists all a chicken pie needs to be irresistible is a slight segment of wing, one quartered potato and a boiled onion whipped in glue.

As for menu planners, ah, there's a field! Take 150,000 middle-class restaurants in this country today, and 149,923 think the menu has been radically changed if the string beans are left out.

Dietitians? Yes and no. Personally, we think that the moment a person gets a sheepskin as a dietitian he or she thinks it is a license to skimp on all the essentials of lunch except eggplant and coleslaw.

The course in hotel management is needed, too. What a field! There are thousands of cities and towns in America where, except for one inn (if lucky), the hotels are run by sock peddlers hired to keep down expenses and operate wholly on the theory that the guest should bring his own plumbing kit, be able to fix a lock and make no complaint if he has to have the hotel physician immediately after ordering the day's special.

Three cheers and a tiger for that school up in the rarified atmosphere of Yale. And we hope Harvard and Princeton will see the light, too.

Cuff Stuff

"Realtor" won a race at $43 in Miami the other day and Shudda Haddim is still knocking himself with reproachments. "Realtor! A name like that in Florida and I don't know it's a sure hunch!" he cried. "Every third guy I meet this winter down there is selling lots! I can't do any handicapping the night before this race on account of everybody on the porch is arguing over real estate."

"That night around midnight I got waked up by a phone call in the next room and some guy starts making an appointment to look over a sub-division. At breakfast my three-minute eggs are done a half hour on account of the chef is trying to sell the dishwasher a bungalow cheap. And on the way to the track the taxi driver stops to point out his acreage! Yet there is this skinner 'Realtor' on the program and I let him go."

On closing day at Hialeah the Seminole Indians were given their annual day in the infield. This annual observation of the White Man as pay sends them back to the Everglades thanking the Red Man's god that they have escaped civilization.

A Song from Sorrow

OUT of my sorrow I shall make a song
So beautiful that others' grief will cease.
If one but listen, silently and long,
I promise him my song shall bring him peace:
One clear high note of faith, one note of cheer,
And one of courage, flung against the sky,
But not one tremulous, low note of fear,
And not one muted, agonizing cry.

Oh, I shall make my song a thing of light.
The darkness only can put forth a star;
And out of sorrow—darker than the night—
A song shall lift that men will bear afar,
And listening, with faces eager—glad—
Will say, "Where is the sorrow that we had?"

HELEN AND ANDY weren't laughing. They were sitting in metal chairs which were placed at right angles to each other, instead of side by side on the glider, and the glow in their eyes was replaced by anger.

he'd brought home from war with him and shrugged his heavy shoulders. Andy had blond curls, too-tight to his well-shaped head and the merriest of hazel eyes. "You can say that again," he told Helen. "I act lazy, do I?" He thought: Well, that's that and I'll re-enlist and get as far from Hyville as possible.

When he got home the radio was playing live and he wound one leg over the chair beside it. His mother came into the room and said, "aren't you going to look for a job today, son?"

He was worried for an answer the announcer interrupted the program to tell about a soap contest. "Five hundred dollars for first prize," he said, "just tell in twenty-five words why you like Sudzy-Soap best!"

"I'm trying to think up an entry for the contest, Mom," said Andy directing his hazel eyes up and grinning like an imp. "Only I'll have to have the wrappers from three bars of the darned soap."

Andy Tyson tried not to understand that she inferred he had wasted too many afternoons. He made great work of wording his entry and addressed the envelope for mailing.

Habit turned his steps into the corner store where the fellows laughed and teased him about his entry. Half angry again he hurried out of the place and tossed the letter into the nearest mailbox.

Saturday night the whole family gathered for the radio program telling of the contest and the winners.

"But I didn't win," Andy said helplessly when the program was over. "they didn't mention my name and that Robert Amherst won the five hundred dollars."

The door bell interrupted Andy and when the messenger boy gave him a telegram he glanced at it and ripped it open. "HOW DID IT

Andy was half way out the door when Helen caught up with him, "where you going" she asked.

"I'll bust those guys in the nose," Andy cried, "of all the dirty, low-down tricks."

Helen laughed as she read the telegram. Tears rolled down her lovely cheeks and still she laughed. Andy couldn't help laughing with her.

"If they hadn't done it we'd still be angry with each other," she pointed out, "and you wouldn't have your job—and we wouldn't be planning on getting married."

Answer to Puzzle Number 28

Editorial Note

Home Reporter

AT THIS STAGE of the 81st congress, which on the surface has been embroiled in considerable confusion including a filibuster and an apparent split in the Democratic forces—south against north—there is still only a one-way street down which the objective reporter can travel in gathering the news.

For as a matter of fact, there is still only one positive program before the congress: the program which President Truman laid before its members in his state of the union message.

Try as one may to find one, the Republican minority in congress does not have a program, except the negative program of opposition and that does not completely hold water because many of the Republican members will go along with a majority of the Truman program.

The GOP policy committee holds periodical meetings to decide what position to take on a given bill, but even these meetings do not result in any agreement since men like Aiken of Vermont, Flinders of Vermont, Morse of Oregon, Thye of Minnesota, Ives of New York, Baldwin of Connecticut, Langer of North Dakota, Lodge of Massachusetts and others, do not see eye-to-eye with the leadership of the committee which is wrapped up in Senator Taft of Ohio. So no matter what the policy committee decides, these men are left pretty much to their own thinking on the problems before the senate.

Then there is a seeming disagreement between house and senate Republicans. The senate GOP campaign committee is going its own way, detouring around the Republican national committee on both matters of policy and operation. The senate committee has hired Victor Johnson, one-time strategist for former governor and presidential candidate Harold Stassen, as a public relations director. The house GOP campaign committee, headed by the wily ex-speaker Joe Martin of Massachusetts, is planning its own policy and operation and while giving lip service to Chairman Hugh Scott of the GOP national committee, is preparing to set up its own publicity staff and conduct its own operations. The senate committee, according to information it is starting off with $50,000 in the kitty, but the house committee is not so well off and will start from scratch to raise its own money to better its press relations and get its public relations story over to the people.

The progressive Republican leadership is hoping that ultimately they will come up with a unified program upon which they can go to the people, but that time has not yet come. With the party apparently so hopelessly divided, whether that time will ever come is a matter for conjecture. Simultaneously whether or not the split between northern and southern Democrats is so deep that it cannot be healed and will endanger the Truman program also is a matter for conjecture. If so, then this congress will eventually turn into a coalition congress of southern Democrats and northern Republicans and will operate ineffectually, much as the 79th congress operated.

Truman Will Fight
The best thinking here in Washington holds that President Truman regards the vote at the last election as a mandate of the people and is out to use every power he has to force through his liberal program, a program which has been labeled everything from "pink New Dealism" to "socialistic" and even "communist" depending upon the point of view of the opposition.

And this same source of thinking indicates that despite the Democratic split, the administration Democrats, with liberal Republican help, will push through most of the Truman "Fair Deal" program.

This reporter finds that the mail of many congressmen, even including some southern congressmen is unusually heavy. Some offices are swamped with mail, the big bulk of it from individuals and that almost 90 per cent of this mail is definitely favoring the program advanced by the President in his election campaign. The President and the president's cabinet are becoming more and more outspoken in demanding congressional Democrats to go along with the program.

President Not 'Kidding'
There is every indication that the President was not kidding when some weeks ago he indicated he might "get on a train" and make another trip to take his program to the people if his measures were not forthcoming from congress. He may make some radio talks, but he has found he is not as effective on the radio as he is face-to-face with the audiences out in the home towns of the country, talking to them in their own language.

WOMAN'S WORLD

Advantages Await Home Seamstresses

By Erita Haley

GLORIOUS FABRICS and new, enchanting styles await those of you who are handy with the needle and like to whip together your wardrobe on the sewing machine.

You'll like the feel of the new fabrics when you sew them, then again when you wear them. Patterns employ all the latest style tricks, and there's no reason why you can't come out with clothes that look as though they had been purchased from the smartest shops.

If you don't consider yourself professional enough for a strict tailoring job, and still want a suit, why not choose one of the new soft bolero style suits? These are for girls as well as for their mothers, and look equally attractive.

Another new wrinkle in the fashion picture which has been used extensively with the bolero type suit is the print blouse that goes with the skirt. In some cases these are attached to the skirt, so that when you remove the bolero you have a dress.

If you prefer, make a basic dress in one of the new soft woolen materials, then top this with a bolero. Wear the dress with scatter pins or a necklace, and you'll be well dressed for club activities, shopping, business or calling.

Select a suitable pattern...

Swirling Skirts Suitable For Casual Wear
The full skirted dresses are used for casual or dress-up occasions among the younger crowd. These, too, are simple in line and style. Easy to make, these dresses take time only when you hem the full skirt.

If you're planning to be out-of-doors much, you'll undoubtedly want a casual dress with a bared neckline, topped with a quaint bolero. Even an inexperienced seamstress can make an attractive five cotton dress in this style because the lines are simple and cotton is so easy to sew.

After you've had success with a cotton, you may want to enlarge the wardrobe with a rayon or silk print in much the same style since this style will go anywhere.

Should you want to save on sewing, skip the bolero and make a scarf or a cape. Fringe, which is so smart for the new season, may be purchased by the yard and used to finish the edge of the scarf.

Fit Your Patterns Carefully
No matter how excellent your pattern, it will not do you justice unless you fit it to yourself. Very few of us coincide with pattern measurements and this means slight adjusting.

Those of you who have had experience altering clothes know it's much easier to take in a dress than to let out one. To enlist material for use in a dress that's too small. The same is true of patterns.

Budget-Wise Coat

This all-over quilted coat, made of economical Indian Head cotton, is easily created at home with the aid of a quilting attachment on the sewing machine. Steel-gray with a bright red lining is a good combination to use. The coat serves now for school and casual wear and later over light dresses on breezy summer days. Note the natural shoulder line and full back which are fashion-wise features.

Grandma's mattress is under the three-quarter bed, and under the bed are also my brushes and make-up, a box with spare blouses, Anya's school-books, and Grandma's black valise.

Live in the Kitchen
"Of course we all live in the kitchen. It is smelly and noisy in summer, and hot as only city kitchens get hot; in winter it is smelly and noisy and hardly warmer than the rest of the house. Only the halls are warmed."

"I will leave to you: imagination what chance a girl has of beauty, leisure, rest, hospitality in a life like mine," writes Rena. "Papa is an angel, he works steadily, he has the tired look of an old saint. Mother works hard. They would move us to some better place, but we pay $80 now, and can afford no more. Joe wants to be a doctor; the nearest he gets is being an orderly in a hospital."

"Now my problem isn't what frightens me," the letter ends, "but the terrible, overwhelming fact that so many thousands of lives all about me are as utterly hopeless as mine. Girls crowding into subways, punching time-clocks, snatching sandwiches and cokes at lunch, wearing cheap clothes to Coney on summer Sundays or waiting in line at cheap movies on winter nights. Why are we here, what are we doing all this for, how do we get out of it? I dream of a little country place, flowers, space, cleanliness—but what good are dreams?"

Parents Knew Poverty
"Mother and father are Austrians. They knew poverty and terror in the old world. They escaped—to this. Mother revels in her electric light, radio, telephone, gas stove, washing-machine. Dad never complains. But I look about me and sometimes I despair."

Rena, in answering you I am going to begin by warning you against a dangerous error into which you have fallen. The problems of the hundreds and thousands of fellow-workers that you see about you, caught as you think in this same industrial and social treadmill, are not yours.

Yours is one problem; that of Rena Janzen. Sweep all the others out of your mind, concentrate up on your own. Fix your thoughts upon that little country home with the flowers and open spaces about it, and it will begin to take shape and move toward you as steadily as tomorrow's dawn.

tion without fitting it carefully to the figure. It's a good idea to baste the dress and press it, then try on and check fit carefully before doing the permanent stitching.

Should the dress be too large to look attractive or too loose for comfort, make the tucks at the waist, under the arms or on the shoulders large enough to take up the excess.

When the dress is too snug, let out some of the tucks and see if you can't give yourself additional room by making the side seams slightly smaller.

Redingote Ensembles Are Popular
Redingote ensembles are the favorite fashion among more mature women or among those who must look well groomed, well dressed, crisp and business-like. With the new prints now available as well as with the luscious, solid-colored, lightweight woolsens, these fashions will be among the most popular ones made at home.

Smart women select not only one print for the woolen coat that buttons down the front, but two so they will have an easy change of costume.

KATHLEEN NORRIS

No Life Is Wholly Without Hope

By KATHLEEN NORRIS
THIS IS NOT a letter of complaint," writes Rena Janzen, 19 years old. "It is to ask you a question. Is there anything ahead in my life that will make today's difficulties and humiliations worth while?"

"We live on the fourth floor of a New York City apartment house far downtown," the letter goes on. "It is one of the thousands of high, crowded brick tenements that form more than half of this city."

The ones down our way are older, dirtier, more crowded. We have four rooms: parlor, kitchen, two bedrooms, bath. There are eight of us: my young brothers of 17, 13 and 7, a sister of 11, Grandma, Mother and Dad. Joe and Matt sleep in the parlor; Henry with Mother and Dad; Grandma, my sister and I have a room so small that there is no space for a chair.

Grandma's mattress is under the three-quarter bed, and under the bed are also my brushes and make-up, a box with spare blouses, Anya's school-books, and Grandma's black valise.

What teams are going to win the two pennants, anyway? With nothing better to do under a hot, steamy sun, we began interviewing ball-players—not the rookies—to get their angles. After all, they had played against these teams and ought to have some slant on the subject.

Be Smart!

As perennial as the robin is the redingote outfit! In this season of the button-down-the-front coat, you can choose a double duty coat that gives you the effect of a redingote dress, plus an ever so wide versatility in your wardrobe. You'll find some of these coats sold with their own matching print dresses, combinations such as the dress of darkish green print with a lighter green coat in the sketch. Or, you may assemble your own basic outfit, with an eye to the other teammates, present or future.

The College Influence

THE ADDITION of Red Rolfe, the distinguished Dartmouth alumna, to the list of big league managers, increases considerably the influence of the college mind on our national game.

The list of college-trained managers now includes Lou Boudreau of Illinois, Eddie Dyer of Rice, Red Rolfe of Dartmouth and Eddie Sawyer of Ithaca. This is only four out of the 16 but it's at least a lift from the old days when Jake Stahl of Illinois and the Red Sox were the only collegian in charge of a squad. Stahl's Red Sox beat the Giants in the 1912 World Series.

It isn't beyond reason to see Boudreau's Indians and Dyer's Cardinals hook up in another world series. This, however, is no even-money bet.

In the American league, the Indians still have the Red Sox, Yankees and Athletics to subdue. In the National league, the Cardinals still have the Dodgers, Braves, Pirates and Giants to lasso and handle.

The four college-trained managers must also overpower such non-college entries as Joe McCarthy, Casey Stengel, Burt Shotton, Leo Durocher, Billy Southworth, Billy Meyer and Connie Mack—a rather formidable troop.

What teams are going to win the two pennants, anyway? With nothing better to do under a hot, steamy sun, we began interviewing ball-players—not the rookies—to get their angles. After all, they had played against these teams and ought to have some slant on the subject.

Their opinions were quite interesting. From American league camps, we found that about 65 per cent gave Cleveland the edge through stronger balance in pitching, hitting, outfield, infield and catching.

There's no doubt that Boudreau's Indians are the best-balanced outfit in either league.

They have what should be the best pitching staff, a fine outfield, a strong infield and competent catching.

The other 35 per cent went 25 for the Red Sox and 10 for the Yankees. I rate the Yankees much higher than this. They have the best outfield in the league, if Joe DiMaggio is O.K. They have the weakest infield of the three contenders, but powerful pitching possibilities. The Red Sox are only uncertain in the box, where pennants are won and lost.

Anyway, most of the American leaguers thought the Indians would win again. They thought so rather violently. They are probably right, as Boudreau is a smart, keen, hustling manager who is going to stand for no loafing. Joe McCarthy must get better pitching and Casey Stengel must get better infield play, improved pitching and improved catching. Could happen.

The National League Vote

The National league vote was even more interesting. We only had the Cardinals, Reds, Phillies and Braves to talk to. The Giants and Pirates are too far away. So are the Dodgers in their madhouse at Vero Beach. All the Cardinals we talked to picked the Cardinals to win by some strange quirk.

The Phillies and the Reds were split among the Braves, Cardinals and Dodgers, with the Braves slightly in the lead because of Sain, Spahn, Dark and Pete Reiser's potential gifts. Also a fellow by the name of Billy Southworth, at least one of the great managers of all time.

The National league vote found the Braves in front with the Dodgers and Cardinals almost equal. The Cardinals were rated a better team than the Dodgers, with too much age against too much youth.

In a series of five games, the Cardinals would probably win four. But 154 games was a different story. Here is a 1940-1941 squad facing a 1947-1948 squad—yesterday's, with stronger legs and stronger arms.

There is no such creaking and clashing of worn-out bones among the Dodgers that you hear from the Cardinal camp.

The Redbird team must be rebuilt quickly. It is almost through—although still powerful and dangerous. They are a much better ball team than the Dodgers or Giants. But I'm not sure they can go the long route as well as the Dodgers can travel the pennant road.

Oddly enough, few of the National leaguers I talked to gave the Pirates or the Giants a chance. They liked the Pirates over the Giants. In a short series, they liked the Braves over the Cardinals on account of Sain and Spahn.

DDT Increases Yield Of Clover Seed

William Meinholz of Dane county, Wisconsin, increased his yield of Ladino seed by one-third when he dusted it with 40 pounds of 5 per cent DDT per acre. Meinholz reports dusting gave better results than spraying (one pound DDT in 100 gallons of water per acre), while Henry Perry, Jefferson county, reported an increased seed yield of 76 per cent in red clover with the use of the spray.

Watch Your Kidneys!

Help Them Cleanse the Blood of Harmful Body Waste
Your kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. But kidneys sometimes lag in their work—do not act as Nature intended—fail to remove impurities that, if retained, may poison the system and upset the whole body machinery.
Symptoms may be nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—a feeling of nervous anxiety and loss of pep and strength.
Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination.
There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is wiser than neglect. Use Doan's Pills. Doan's have been winning new friends for more than forty years. They have a nation-wide reputation. Are recommended by grateful people the country over. Ask your neighbor!

GIRLS AUXILIARY

The Junior Girls Auxiliary met at the Baptist Church with 18 members present. There was a very interesting program about the immigrant people of our country. A playlet was given by an improvised campfire. The scene was a group of girls visiting in a farm home with the hostess telling of the work of the Girls Auxiliary in her rural church. Those in the play were Charlene Claxton, Jerry Nell Vinyard, Barbara Small and Ann Adams. Then a poster of a large apple tree was presented to the group. Cut-out apples were placed on the tree as the following girls gave facts of the spiritual problems of the immigrants: Joan Blankenship, Geraldene Blankenship, Patsy McGee, Lavon Claxton, and Margaret Horton. The meeting was closed with sentence prayers.

ATTEND S. S. MEETING

Twenty-five went from the local Baptist Church to the Association Sunday School Meeting which met with the Union Baptist Church near Snyder Sunday afternoon. The juniors presented a playlet on Home Missions at the meeting. Those in the play were Larue Sheppard, John, Esperita Prescott, Maxie Sheppard, Wilma Jean Clifton, Sally Boyd, and Dale Haralson. The theme of the meeting was Daily Vacation Bible Schools and Missions. Discussion of the subject was brought by Rev. A. W. Smith of Roscoe, Rev. R. W. Campbell of Looney, and the pastor of the First Baptist Church in Sweetwater.

Buying U. S. Savings Bonds is the best way I know to stop worrying about money. And if you persist in worrying, after starting to pile up money the sure, automatic way, the only worry you'll have is how best to spend it when you start cashing in after ten years.

Your government offers two great plans, both of them automatic and both profitable. They are the Payroll Savings Plan where you work, or, if self-employed, the Bond-a-Month Plan at your bank. If you can sign up for a $37.50 bond each month they'll grow to $4,998 in 10 years.

Lorraine, Texas
March 30, 1949

Dear Sir:
Wish to say that on my order for 200 Best grade Anstra x White Pullets, hatched Feb. 10th, I received 204. They are 7 weeks old today and have lost only 6. Only 1 cockerel in the 198 left! Believe they will average 1 1/2 lbs, as they have grown very fast, are uniform in size, nicely feathered and well developed in every way. In the many times I have ordered chicks from Colonial, have always received high quality birds and these are the best yet.

Sincerely,
D. E. Hester

Dear Sir:
We got 200 White Leghorn baby chicks March 21st. These chicks are doing fine and are so pretty. We lost one. Seems they crowded one night and mashed it. We have been talking about how large they are and all seem to be of the same size. They are growing so fast and we are really proud of them. Well, we just don't have any trouble so far with the baby chicks we have gotten from Colonial Hatcheries.

Thank you,
Mrs. A. G. Haygood

Sophomores Brag of Class

It looks like we may be singing "I'm Dreaming of a White Easter" if the weather doesn't warm up a little.

Two Sophomore boys won ribbons at Colorado City Saturday. Lowell Richardson won second place in high jumping. Billy Joe Martin won first place in the junior doubles in tennis. His partner was Doyce Nix, an 8th grader. Next Saturday these boys will go to Lubbock.

Betty Jane Horton went to a B. T. U. meeting at Abilene Thursday and Friday of last week.

Three Sophomore girls went to Colorado City Saturday to play on the volleyball team. The team didn't do as well as the track and tennis players did.

Next week is test week. After that there will be six weeks until we are Juniors (maybe). We will be really dignified, too.

Introducing a Senior

James Stewart the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stewart was born on August 8, 1932 at Loraine.

James started to school at Loraine in the first grade, now he is a Senior.

He is a pretty active member of the school, he was football manager two years, in the F. F. A. four years, historian this year for the F. F. A. chapter. He is also the Speech Class president. Last year he was the vice-president.

Some of James' favorites are: day, Friday; dish, fried chicken and ice cream; subject, Speech; color, red; actress, Jane Russell; actor, Wallace Berry; movie.

Wake of the Red Witch.
James' ambition is to be a farmer.

Freshman Tell of Happenings
It's the day after the night before, and a few people look rather blue.

The General Math class have just started studying about discount and commission. After it was explained to us this morning I am sure we will do better with it. How could we not, with such a bright group of fish?

The Homemaking girls are looking forward to the Mother and Daughter banquet, especially Peggy and Shirley because they want lots of ice cream.

We sure wish the Loraine girls had won in the volleyball tournament. We are sure they will win next week end at Roby.

Seniors Choose Annual Play
The Senior class has chosen "Grandad Steps Out" by Felicia Metcalfe a farce-comedy in three acts which will be produced by special arrangement with the Arth Craft Play Co. in the high school auditorium April 22 at 8 p. m.

This amusing comedy has cast of eight women and five men. The following seniors have been chosen for the performance: Laverne Clifton, Don Mathis, Lila Linder, Joyce Saling, Willard Pratt, Mary Helen Noel, Lora Nell Jean, Ina Miles, Jack Carroll, Ralston Bruce, Nelda Jo Yarbrough, Bonnie Rankin, and James Wilson. Mary Draper is poster chairman.

Make your plans now to attend the annual Senior Class play Friday evening April 22.

Junior and Senior Party

The Seniors honored the Juniors with a skating party and picnic at Sweetwater March 29.

Those who attended were: The Juniors and their sponsors, Miss Opal Wilson, and Mr. L. D. Crowford. The Seniors with one of their sponsors, Mrs. W. Hines. Others were Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Parish and their children.

The group left the school grounds after 4 and when they arrived at the Sweetwater Park they skated until time to eat Sandwiches, pops, potato chips and cookies were served. The group skated again.

A wonderful time was had by everyone.

Mrs. J. E. Gunnells and daughter Joanna spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. James Gunnells and baby in San Angelo.

MIRROR of your MIND

Gambling Is Self Destruction

By Lawrence Gould

Do people who gamble always hope to win?

Answer: The average person who takes an occasional "flier" may only be trying to forget life's harsh rule that you do not get something for nothing. But psychiatrists say the "neurotic gambler"—the chap who will play the horses or shoot dice with his employer's money even though he knows there's better than an even chance that he will be disgraced and ruined—is unconsciously the victim of a secret urge to self-destruction. It is this that will not let him quit when he's ahead but makes him go on till he's "cleaned out."

set her house on fire, for instance) and be jolted back to a more normal frame of mind. Like "insanity," depression often represents a wish to punish yourself for some real or imagined offense, and almost any kind of shock may serve this purpose for the moment.

Did war tragedies warp children's mind?

Answer: Yes, reports a Swiss psychiatrist who treated child refugees in Warsaw, Poland. Children who had been driven from their homes and in many cases seen their parents sent to the gas chamber became smart in some ways, but developed the belief that nothing is important but self-preservation and that only fools try to be kind or honest. This "false image of reality" (which for so long was true as far as their experience went) is hard to erase and makes it difficult to teach them to adapt themselves to normal living.

Can you give yourself "shock treatments"?

Answer: Literally, no. As I have said before, such treatments must be given by a physician. But a correspondent notes the interesting fact that now and then, when she is deeply depressed, she will unconsciously get herself into trouble or danger (she once "accidentally"

KEEPING HEALTHY Treating Ailments of Old Age

By Dr. James W. Barton

THERE are so many elderly men and women today that many large houses, once so hard to sell, now are being bought by registered nurses or practical nurses and established as "rest homes" for elderly people and invalids. Some of these larger rest homes not only have a graduate nurse living on the premises, but also a physician calls once a day.

antelope one a vigorous old age. In order to learn the exact physical, mental and emotional condition of the elderly, a thorough or complete examination is given, divided into three parts:

This specialty, geriatrics, is the natural result of the lengthening of the life span. As we grow older, we may not develop any special disease or diseases, but there is naturally a gradual loss of strength, and so symptoms and also diseases often come with age.

At the second visit, as the physician has studied the whole situation—blood pressure, strength of heart, urine, blood—he now prescribes a program of living—and any medicine that may give energy or slow up aging processes.

We have been thinking of this new specialty mostly in terms of treating diseases of old age. Dr. C. Ward Crampton, however, states that geriatrics is concerned less with treating the ills of those already old than with preventing, postponing and easing the aging processes and guar-

At the third visit, two or three weeks later, the results of the health program are checked and a full health program for six months or a year given.

HEALTH NOTES

Twenty-five out of every hundred people who have blood in their urine have been found to have cancer somewhere in the kidney, bladder or other part of the urinary tract. Do not think that when such bleeding stops, the progress of the underlying cause also stops, for we know now that once cancer starts, it progresses till death occurs unless treatment is begun immediately.

In New Jersey at the present time there are now in progress five different studies on vision in various industries. By these studies much valuable material is being collected for the purpose of improving our present knowledge of vision of industrial workers. This will mean more and better production and at the same time conserving the vision of the industrial worker.

Household Hints

Keep electric mixers, toasters, automatic juicers, etc., in a handy ready-to-use place. Don't hide them on the bottom shelf.

Rinse tea towels after each dishwashing "detail"; then they won't pile up and present such a large item on wash day.

When washing chenille or jandewick bedspreads, hang spread over line right side in so that the tufts rub against one another in drying—fluffing themselves as they dry.

When one pound of brick butter is cut and wrapped in four lengthwise parts, each part equals one-half cup; one inch of each part equals two tablespoons.

Lace frills can be dry cleaned at home with corn starch. Place lace on a clean, dry turkish towel and dust with a liberal amount of dry corn starch. Work corn starch gently through lace several times, then shake lace to remove starch; lace will be clean and fresh looking.

A perforated cap on a cork which will fit into any soft drink bottle makes an ideal device for sprinkling clothes.

A very thin starch (one tablespoon to each quart of water) will bring back that "new, pretty look" to your favorite rayon blouse.

New Test to Keep Farmers on Toes

A new test for detecting weevil infestation in grain has been developed by J. C. Frankenfeld, USDA entomologist at Manhattan, Kansas, who discovered that small red dots appeared where weevils had laid eggs in the kernels if grain samples were soaked in a dye containing acid fushin; the dots do not appear on grain which is free from infestation. Using this new method, all grain brought for milling purposes can be tested for weevil infestation on-the-spot, and docked in price accordingly—likewise, the wise farmer will make sure his grain is safe.

Ice Cream, Cake Make Acceptable Desserts For Nearly Every Meal

THERE'S NOTHING FANCY about ice cream and cake, but they make a wonderful dessert for any occasion, plain or fancy. Then, too, there are few who can resist turning down a heaping bowl of creamy ice cream and a slice of feather-like cake, so you have no worry about pleasing family or guests.

For youngsters who have difficulty getting their daily quota of milk and other dairy foods, ice cream is the perfect answer. The same is true, too, of adults who can not drink their pint of milk.

Ice cream is a highly nutritious dairy food that furnishes energy as well as minerals such as calcium and phosphorus. It also gives significant amounts of vitamins A and B2 and quality protein, all of which are needed for proper growth, strong muscles, bones and teeth.

You don't need to do anything special to make a festive dessert out of ice cream. Simply pile it in a glass bowl for easy serving.

A large serving bowl of ice cream surrounded with luscious fruits and nuts topped with swirls of chocolate frosting and pecan halves make a gala dessert for a festive occasion. Pass this with assorted sauces or jams and jellies for sundae.

and to get the full benefit of its luscious appearance. Around the bowl you may have bought or homemade cupcakes or several bowls of assorted jellies, jams or sauces for make-your-own sundaes.

HERE ARE SOME delicious cupcakes which you may want to serve:

- Fudge Cupcakes (Makes 12 cakes)
- 2 squares unsweetened chocolate
 - 1/2 cup sugar
 - 2 tablespoons milk
 - 1 teaspoon vanilla
 - 1/2 cup butter
 - 1/2 cup sugar
 - 1 egg
 - 1 1/2 cups sifted cake flour
 - 1 1/2 teaspoon baking powder
 - 1/2 teaspoon baking soda
 - 1/2 teaspoon salt
- Melt chocolate over hot water. add one-fourth cup sugar and two tablespoons milk; stir until very smooth. Add vanilla and remove from heat.

Work butter and sugar to a soft cream, add egg and beat hard until blended. Stir in milk, then the flour mixed and sifted with the other dry ingredients. When mixed, stir in chocolate mixture and pour into buttered cupcake pans. Bake in a moderate (375°) oven for about 25 minutes. Cool and cover tops with:

- Apple-Raisin Sauce (For Ice Cream)
- 2 cups sweetened, strained apple sauce
 - 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
 - 1/2 cup seedless raisins
 - 1 tablespoon orange marmalade
- Mix apple sauce with all other ingredients and heat slowly to the boiling point. Simmer 10 minutes over a slow fire or until raisins are plump. Cool before serving.
- Coffee Cream Sauce (For Ice Cream)
- 1 cup light brown sugar
 - 1 tablespoon instant powdered coffee

LYNN SAYS:

Make the Most Of Your Meats

When you roast beef or lamb, cut small slits in the fat of the meat and insert in these small slits slivers of garlic. This adds a lot of flavor to the meat that many like. Remove garlic before serving.

Honey mixed with orange juice and grated orange rind may be poured over the scored fat of ham. Sautéed mushrooms may be added to beef gravy to provide interesting flavor.

LYNN CHAMBER'S MENU

- Baked Fish Fillets, Tomato Sauce
- Buttered Asparagus
- Baked Potatoes
- Cole Slaw-Pineapple Salad
- *Fudge Cupcakes with Ice Cream
- Beverage
- *Recipe Given

- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon cornstarch
- 2 tablespoons butter
- 1/2 cup coffee cream
- Mix sugar with cornstarch, coffee and salt. Add butter and cream and stir over a slow fire until boiling. Boil for one minute, remove from fire and cool slightly. Add one teaspoon vanilla. Serve cold.

Another delicious way to serve ice cream and cake is to arrange two slices of spice cake for a serving. Place a portion of ice cream in the center and top with fruit sauce, an apple-raisin sauce, as given below, or crushed pineapple, pineapple and ginger or mince-meat sauce.

- Chocolate Frosting
- 2 squares unsweetened chocolate, melted
 - 2 tablespoons hot milk
 - 1 1/2 cups sifted confectioners' sugar (about)
 - 1 teaspoon vanilla
 - pecan nut meats

Melt chocolate over hot water, add hot milk, sugar and vanilla to make a thick frosting. Beat vigorously to make it creamy and more sugar, if necessary, to make frosting spread easily, without running.

Coffee flavor goes beautifully with vanilla ice cream. If you like a sauce, here's just the one:

HERE ARE SOME excellent uses for leftover cake that are served with ice cream. A bit of dressing makes them glamorous desserts.

- Quick Alaska (Serves 6)
- 6 leftover cup cakes
 - 3 egg whites
 - 6 tablespoons granulated sugar
 - 1 teaspoon lemon juice
 - 1 quart vanilla ice cream
- Cut the centers from the cakes, leaving a wide center to hold the ice cream. Save the cake centers for another dessert. Beat the egg whites until stiff enough to hold peaks. Fold in sugar, one table-

Leftover cake is easily glamorized if served in this way: place two thin slices of the cake on a plate, center with ice cream and top with a spicy fruit sauce like apple-raisin, given in this column.

spoon at a time, then lemon juice. Just before serving, place the cakes on a bread board, fill centers with ice cream and cover the ice cream and all the outside of the cake with a thick layer of meringue. Bake in a moderate (375°) oven for five minutes and serve immediately.

- Ice Cream Trifle
- 3 cups crumbled spice, pound or sponge cake
 - 1 cup orange juice
 - 1 cup chilled pineapple juice
 - Ice cream
 - 1/2 cup chopped nuts
- Place cake crumbs in a large serving bowl and pour mixed fruit juices over them. Let stand for at least one-half hour. Fill bowl with small scoops of ice cream, then sprinkle with chopped nuts.

Leftover beef, like lamb may be curried and served on hot, fluffy rice.

If hamburgers tend to look skimpy, place a thick slice of cheese on them before broiling.

Add drained horseradish to medium white sauce if you want to a boiled out of the meat.

Minceed scallions and parsley may bring out delicious beef flavor in be added to melted butter to bring out the full flavor of chicken, steaks or chops, which have been broiled.

SCRIPTURE: Mark 10. DEVOTIONAL READING: Mark 9:33-37.

Range of Religion

Lesson for April 10, 1949

ONCE THERE WAS a farmer who owned a large farm. Its wide acreage was divided into pastures and fields and a garden and orchards and chicken-yards and so on. But whenever any one would ask the farmer about some particular part of the farm, he would answer, "That's not my business—that's only the orchard, it isn't the Dr. Foreman farm;" or "That's not the farm, that's a flock of sheep," or a rye field or whatever it might be. Of course such a farmer never lived, or if he did, he should have his head examined.

What Does Religion Cover?

YET THAT FARMER is not a bit more idiotic than a Christian who, when asked about this or that activity or aspect of life, answers, "That's not religion. I have no interest in it." Religion isn't a little fenced-off pasture for lambs, a tiny garden plot behind thick hedges.

Religion covers the whole farm, every bit of life from end to end. Jesus knew this very well. He never once refused to discuss anything on the ground that it was not religious.

He cast light on everything that touched him. He called his followers the "light of the world." Not flash-lights, shining in one narrow beam! Not flashlights, but lamps, set on a lampstand and "giving light to all who are in the house."

The Light Of God

A GOOD cross-section of Jesus' methods and ideas can be seen in Mark 10, into which one chapter Mark packs his whole account of a number of weeks which Jesus spent in the region called Perea. Observe the variety of situations which confronted Jesus. First there was a question about divorce. When they brought that question up to Jesus, he did not dodge it. He did not call it a personal matter in which he, as a teacher of religion, had no interest. He did not say it was strictly a matter for the civil courts. You may read what he did say in Mark 10. You will note that first of all he brings God into his answer.

Religion And Little Children

THIS CHAPTER includes the famous story of the little children who were brought to Jesus—evidently quite small children, for Jesus lifted them into his arms. We do not hear Jesus saying, "Children are too small for me to take any interest in them. Wait till they are older. What good can religion do these tiny tots?" On the contrary, Jesus not only blessed them, but held them up as models for older people.

Is your church following Jesus here? Is your church interested in the little children as much as it is in the "paying" members?

Or are the little ones shoved off into some damp corner of the church basement? In your state or province, do the Christian people take an interest in the children? Do children in your section get as good attention as pure-bred cattle do?

As Wide As Life

THEN THERE WAS a question about eternal life. Of course Jesus answered that one. It was obviously a religious question. (Except that he gave it what some people, even today would consider a not very religious answer!) Jesus went on to talk about money and the effect it has on a man's prospect of eternal life. Jesus would be the very last person to imagine that a man's bank account has nothing to do with religion. Some people to this day don't like to hear a preacher mention money in his sermons. Well, such people might have been offended by Jesus, for he often preached about money and property.

Then there was the question of ambition, the audacious request that James and John made of him. He had some strong remarks to make about that.

And finally at Jericho, not long before Palm Sunday, there was the blind beggar Bartimaeus. Jesus did not say to him, "Health is no affair of mine. I cure souls, not bodies."

Plenty of Room For a Subdivision

Conceivably, a man could build a house and have his bedroom in New Mexico, his bathroom in Arizona, his kitchen in Colorado, and his living room in Utah.

The only drawback to such a plan is the fact that this would be site—the common meeting point of Utah, Colorado, Arizona, and New Mexico—is quite inaccessible to the ordinary traveler since it is deep in Indian territory, miles from human inhabitants, and used for winter grazing land.

Surveyed by a surveyor named E. N. Darling in 1868, the four-state boundary is at the intersection of the 37th parallel of north latitude and the 109th meridian of west longitude.

FIRST AID to the AILING HOUSE

by Roger C. Whitman

Question: My new plastic tablecloth has made the ends of the breakfast table sticky. How can this be removed from a varnished birch finish and not ruin the finish?

Answer: Try wiping the sticky places very lightly with benzine, being careful not to press hard on the finish. Be careful of fire, and close the door leading to the kitchen. If the table is in the kitchen, do not work there. If the benzine dulls the finish, apply a thin coat of paste wax, let it dry and then polish with a soft cloth.

Question: Can anything be done to stop the radio interference caused by our oil furnace? Some say to ground the furnace. Our furnace is on the main floor as we have no basement.

Answer: Radio interference from oil burners, motors and other electrical equipment can be eliminated, but this calls for the service of an expert electrician or radio serviceman. The manufacturer of your oil burner might be able to take care of the nuisance.

Questions and Answers

Q. I interrupted my training under the GI Bill and now would like to resume training at once. May I go back to my classes anytime?

A. Before you resume your interrupted training, you should get a supplemental certificate of eligibility from VA.

Q. Are patients in Veterans Administration hospitals permitted unlimited participation in competitive sports?

A. Patients may participate only with the permission of the doctor in each case. An average of 43,000 veterans per month have been participating in various sports at hospitals and homes.

Q. I wish to take on-the-job training. Where should I apply?

A. Apply at your nearest VA office. Take along a certified or photostatic copy of your discharge papers. If you are married or have one or more dependents and want subsistence allowances, take along your marriage certificate and other documents that will establish your dependency claim.

Q. I have completed my on-the-job training course and have some entitlement left. I would like to take another course. May I enroll at another school?

A. You may use any remaining entitlement either for on-the-job training or for educational training with VA's prior approval.

Weekly Swing of SOUTHWEST FARM MARKETS

PRODUCTION AND MARKETING ADMINISTRATION, U. S. D. A.

Most southwest farm products brought steady to strong prices for the week despite lower trend on hogs, cattle and some feeds, the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Production and Marketing Administration reports.

Most grains advanced during the week, although barley sold lower. Southwest egg and poultry markets showed little change for the week. Liberal supplies of eggs found fair to good demand in the southwest. Hens remained scarce at Dallas, while all poultry were in light supply at New Orleans. Demand was good for poultry in Dallas, but trading ruled slow at New Orleans.

Cotton sold 75 cents to $1 a bale higher for the week.

Sheep and lambs sold fully steady to spots higher for the week at southwest and midwest terminals. Receipts increased at southwest yards, but declined in the midwest. Fort Worth turned good wooled slaughter ewes at $15. Southwest wools found better interest this week, but trade continued dull.

Steady to weaker trends prevailed at southwest and midwest cattle markets for the week despite lighter offerings. Most classes of cattle and calves shared in the week's downturn. Odd head of good cows returned 18.50 to 19.50 at Fort Worth.

Hogs and sows suffered losses of $1 to $1.50 at southwest and midwest markets as offerings increased over the previous week. Some butcher hogs fell as much as $1.75 in the midwest. Good and choice sows weight butcher hogs cleared Monday at $19.50 to $20 at Fort Worth. Sows ranged from $14.50 to $16.50 in the southwest.

Mrs. Loyd Brame and Mrs. Jim Johnson are in San Angelo today attending the Texas Home Demonstration district meeting.

Mrs. Minnie Fairhairn, Mrs. G. B. Tartt, and Mrs. W. E. Stribling and Billy visited friends in Big Spring Saturday.

Mrs. C. A. Land and daughter Mrs. Joe Mills, spent Monday in the J. H. Homán home in Big Spring.

Mrs. D. R. Smith left Saturday for Cisco, where she will spend some time at the Brown Sanitarium for treatment.

Visiting in the W. H. Narrell home Sunday and with Grandmother Narrell, who is in the Johnson Hospital, were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wheeler and children of Sweetwater, Mrs. Jess Bollinger and Ann of Abilene, and Mrs. Virginia Kidd of Coahoma.

Miss Ouida Adams spent from Thursday until Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Adams. Miss Adams has been nursing at the children's hospital in Denver, Colorado, but is now at the West-Tex. Hospital in Lubbock.

Mrs. W. J. Coon returned Saturday after spending several days with her daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Dorn and daughters, at Colorado City.

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Cooley and baby of Big Spring spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Miles, and with Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Rogers. Louise Cooley returned last week after spending last week with her grandparents.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hall of Ackerley spent the week end in the Walter Wiggins home.

Willie Mae Rankin of HSU visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Rankin, over the week end.

Emmett W. Neel, who is in the Navy, is now in Cuba. His parents received two letters from him last week stating he is doing fine.

Mrs. Mose Maples of Coleman spent Saturday night and Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Richey.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Donnell and Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Richard, Jr. and baby visited relatives in Pecos Sunday.
