City Voters To Fill 2 Commission Places Tuesday

Cubans Free U.S. Ship

GUANTANAMO BAY, Cuba (AP)—U.S. naval authorities said today the American cable ship Western Union was intercepted by a Cuban gunboat and then freed after U.S. jet planes and a destroyer went to her assistance.

A naval spokesman said the cable ship was stopped in international waters Saturday, about five miles off the Cuban port of Baracoa on the northeastern part of the island.

The U.S. destroyer, the John W. Weeks, did not enter Cuban waters and the planes did not fly over them, the spokesman said.

The captain of the Western Union radioed Guantanamo she had been intercepted by an armed Cuban gunboat, the spokesman said.

Jet planes flew out and located the Western Union midway between the point of interception and Baracoa. There the cable ship halted. Four hours later, when the destroyer arrived at emergency speed the cable ship was released by the gunboat and steamed back on course toward Key West.

WHERE TO VOTE

TO VOTE FOR U.S. SENATOR—Vote in the polling precinct as it is numbered on your poll tax receipt. In the case of Big Spring voters, these include: 1.—North Side Fire Station; 2.—Washington Place School; 3.—18th and Main Fire Station; 4.—Central Fire Station; 8.—Cedar Crest School; 15.—Runnels Jr. High; 16.—Park Hill School.

TO VOTE FOR CITY COMMISSIONERS—Vote at any of these boxes: Central Fire Station, North Side Fire Station, 18th and Main Fire Station, Washington Place School. Those who cast ballots for U.S. Senator in Boxes 8, 15, and 16, will have to go to one of the above polling places to vote in the City Commission race.

POLLS open 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. in both elections.

Light Ballot Expected In Howard County

Howard County voters, in company with electors across Texas, go to the polls Tuesday to vote for a successor to Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson as U. S. Senator from Texas.

Election boxes and supplies were being turned over the the election judges in the 16 Howard County precincts Monday and Mrs. Pauline Petty, county clerk, said that all of the boxes would be ready for business.

Speculation is that a relatively light vote will be polled. There could be as many as 8,170 votes cast — provided every qualified elector in the county goes to the polls.

LONG LIST

The relatively few absentee votes cast, (there were 92) the large field of candidates and the general lack of interest supports the belief that no record turnout of votes can be expected.

Voters will have to select the man of their choice from a list of 71 names on the ballot. Actually there are not that many candidates still left in the running. Two or three have withdrawn from the race since the ballots were certified; one has been killed in a car accident.

In Howard County the ballots prepared for the election list the name and residence of each of the candidates. To the left of each name is a small square. The voter is instructed to place an X in the square beside the name of the candidate he prefers.

ANOTHER SYSTEM

However, since Texans are accustomed to using the stratchout system—marking out all of the names of candidates they do not favor and leaving only the name of their favorite,—it is anticipated this form of voting will also be employed in some cases on Tuesday.

The special canvassing board, assigned to check the absentee votes cast in the election, will go to work shortly after 8 a.m. George Elliott is presiding judge of this board.

VOTING PLACES

The other voting places and the presiding judges:

Precinct 1, North Side Fire Station, Big Spring, Rufus Davidson.

Precinct 2, Washington Place School, Big Spring, Mrs. Buel G. Fox.

Precinct 3, 18th and Main Street Fire Station, Big Spring, George Melear.

Precinct 4, Central Fire Station, Big Spring, S. P. Jones.

Precinct 5, Vincent, Willis Winters.

Precinct 6, Gay Hill, O. C. Crow.

Precinct 7, R-Bar, H. C. Reid.

Precinct 8, Cedar Crest School, Big Spring, L. R. Mundt.

Precinct 9, Coahoma, Mrs. A. D. Shive.

Precinct 10, Forsan, Mrs. John Kubecka.

Precinct 11, Center Point, E. L. Bynum.

Precinct 12, Prairie View, Edgar Phillips.

Precinct 13, Knott, J. D. McGregor.

Precinct 14, Vealmoor, Robert Merrick.

Precinct 15, Runnels Jr. High, Big Spring, Avery Deel.

Precinct 16, Park Hill School, Big Spring, M. R. Koger.

Hard Campaign Tires Candidates

Texas' U.S. Senate race, which tired campaigners and left veteran political observers uncertain about the outcome, neared an end Monday.

Although major candidates hoped to pick up support through last-minute appeals, there was a general feeling that most voters already had decided on their choices in Tuesday's special election.

Easter Sunday brought an almost complete lull in the campaign. Several of the major contenders didn't bother to make public any schedules for election eve.

One development was the withdrawal of still another of the 71 candidates whose names will appear on the ballot.

Reducing to 64 the number who still insisted they were in the running, Dr. Ted Bisland, 36, Dallas eye specialist, said Sunday night he was quitting the race. Bisland said he would back Republican John Tower, "whose platform most nearly represents one which I think will do the most good for the largest number of Texans."

Qualified observers predicted around 1½ million of slightly more than 2 million eligible voters would cast ballots Tuesday. The fact that numerous cities and towns are holding municipal elections at the same time was expected to bolster the total turnout.

ON VIDEO

While other candidates took time out to observe Easter, U. S. Rep. Jim Wright of Fort Worth stuck with his schedule of as many television appearances as possible before the election.

"We are not at a point where we can do away with manned aircraft," Wright said at San Antonio Sunday as he declared the B58 and B70 jet bomber programs should have been expanded instead of curtailed.

Answering questions telephoned by TV viewers, Wright declared "what we are going to do to win the Cold War" is the major question facing this country. "We have got to seize the psychological initiative," he said.

After flying home to Fort Worth to tape another speech for statewide telecasts Monday night, Wright headed south again for a day of campaigning around Houston.

PLANS ADDRESS

Sen. William A. Blakley, the Dallas financier now serving by interim appointment, was another scheduling a televised address for viewers throughout the state Monday night.

Aides said Blakley's appearance over a 26-station network would be in the form of a panel discussion of campaign issues. Those due to take part in the program with him were former Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd of Odessa, U. S. Rep. Joe Kilgore of Harlingen, former Harris County Democratic Chairman Presley Werlein Jr. of Houston, Abner McCall of Waco, executive vice president of Baylor University, and Donald Peters of Houston, a past state commander of the American Legion.

Tower's schedule called for him to spend Monday in the Fort Worth area shaking hands of prospective voters.

CLOSE TO HOME

Delbert Grandstaff, the West Columbia school teacher campaigning with the aid of his actress daughter Kathy Grant, Mrs. Bing Crosby, was winding up close to home. He planned to stump at Freeport, Lake Jackson and West Columbia.

Former State Rep. Maury Maverick Jr., started his final day of campaigning early. He was waiting at the gates of the Ford assembly plant in Dallas at 5:45 a.m. to shake hands with first-shift workers as they arrived. He predicted he would be in the runoff with Tower.

Atty. Gen. Will Wilson was another candidate who centered his final day of campaigning in Dallas. He had a TV appearance scheduled over a Dallas station Monday afternoon and another over a Forf Worth station Monday night. Wilson planned to remain overnight in Dallas, his hometown, cast his vote early Tuesday and then return to Austin.

State Sen. Henry B. Gonzalez campaigned among transit company workers and police department employees early Monday, then drove to Austin to attend a Senate session. He planned to return to San Antonio late Monday for two television appearances and a final rally.

6 Candidates Seek Posts In Big Spring

Big Spring voters will go to the polls Tuesday to choose two candidates to serve two years on the city commission. Paul Kasch and Tom South, who have served one term, are candidates for re-election. Boyce Hale, E. C. Smith, John Stanley, and Roy E. Watkins are other aspirants.

Four polling places have been provided for the convenience of voters this year, and voters may go to the box most convenient.

OVER AVERAGE

While no great amount of heat has been generated in the race, voters are expected to turn out in greater than average strength for the election Tuesday, and city officials feel that the addition of the new voting places will help increase the number voting.

Voting strength in the city is 7,024, the number of residents who have paid a poll tax or been issued an exemption certificate. In previous years, less than a thousand have voted in city commission contests.

The last contested city race was in 1959 when 931 voters turned out. Kasch and South led that six candidate ticket. Last year, the three incumbents had no opposition and 813 turned out to re-elect Mayor Lee Rogers, John Taylor and George Zachariah.

All the candidates have been in Big Spring for a number of years and are qualified voters.

Kasch, is in the general contracting business with the A. P. Kasch & Sons, Contractors. He has been a resident of Big Spring since 1924, and with the firm since completing his college work in 1948. He is a member of Associated General Contractors, Permian Basin area of the Texas Society of Professional Engineers, and of the National Society of PE. He lives at 505 Dallas.

South has been in Big Spring, following his tour of duty with the armed forces, since 1947, and operates the City Laundry and Dry Cleaners. His home is at 1703 Kentucky Way.

SCOUT WORK

Hale, has been a resident of Big Spring since 1952. He is material and payroll clerk for Phillips Petroleum Corp. in the Big Spring office. Hale is also active in Boy Scout work in Big Spring. His home is at 1703 Main.

Smith, a Big Spring developer and home builder, has lived in the city since 1954. He has been active in civic affairs, and has been instrumental in building some of the newer additions to the city. In addition to his interests in the building field he is also a farmer. He and his family live at 1701 Yale.

Stanley has been a resident of the city for 15 years and is associated with his father in the hardware business as Stanley Hardware Co. He has also been active in business and civic circles in the city and area. His home is at 106 Mt. Vernon.

Watkins is employed by Cosden Petroleum Corp. and is president of Local 826 of the International Union of Operating Engineers. He was labor coordinator in the crippled children's project last year in Big Spring. His home is at 606 Drake.

Odessan Held In Stock Theft

NEW YORK (AP)—A Texas physical culturist, accused by the FBI of planning to finance an expensive European tour and hunting safari in Africa with proceeds from stolen stock certificates, was in jail today.

The prisoner is Bill E. Scott, 32, of Odessa. He was arrested Saturday in a midtown hotel.

H. G. Foster of the FBI said Scott was about to depart for Europe and had cash totaling $39,279 besides airline tickets.

Scott was arrested on a warrant issued by the U.S. commissioner in El Paso. Scott is charged with transporting six certificates representing 2,700 shares of W. P. Fuller Co. stock in interstate commerce, from Odessa to the Wells Fargo Bank in California, with the intent of converting the proceeds of the shares to his own benefit.

Foster said the Fuller shares and 150 shares of Ford Motor Co. stock, in the name of Jane C. Wood, disappeared from a hotel room in Odessa. The stock eventually was sold for $67,400, Foster added.

Women Gaining Edge In U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—A decade ago the Census Bureau first reported that women outnumbered men in the United States.

Now, as results of the 1960 census roll in, the bureau says the women's margin is increasing. The reason is women live longer.

In 1950, the Census Bureau reported 100 women for every 99 men. Preliminary data from the 1960 canvass show 100 women for every 97 men—91 million females and 88.3 million males.

Little Lamb, It's Spring

Red China Holds Threat Of Intervention In Laos

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—Red China today held a threat over the West to turn Laos into another Korea if the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization sends troops into the strife-torn Indochina kingdom.

Peiping's Foreign Minister Chen Yi, winding up a visit to Indonesia, told newsmen that if SEATO sends troops into Laos, "then China will also send troops."

Marshal Chen Yi, who commanded the Chinese Communist 3rd Army before becoming foreign minister, alluded to SEATO's warning that it was prepared to take "appropriate action" to prevent an armed Communist takeover in Laos.

"Remember China was compelled to participate in the Korean War only after the U. S. forces went to our border beyond the Yalu River," Chen said.

The foreign minister said Peiping's solution to the fighting between pro-Western and pro-Communist forces in Laos is to "let the Laotian people settle their differences themselves and withdraw all foreign intervention. This would insure peace and neutrality in the country."

Chen Yi left before newsmen got a chance to question him about Moscow's latest proposals on Laos. But Peiping has declared a willingness to participate in the proposed 14-nation conference on the political future of Laos.

A communique on Chen Yi's talks with Indonesian President Sukarno contended that the United Nations efforts to solve world problems would be seriously weakened unless Peiping is admitted to membership in the international organization.

On Taos and the Congo, the two leaders declared: "All foreign intervention in all its forms and manifestations in these two countries should be discontinued."

Sukarno was depicted by Indonesian Foreign Minister Subandrio as a possible mediator in the bitter feud between Washington and Peiping. But Sukarno promised support for Red China's claim to Formosa in exchange for Chinese support of Indonesia's claim to Dutch New Guinea.

Subandrio said the Indonesian president during his visit to Washington later this month would be willing to discuss with President Kennedy "sources of friction" between the United States and Red China and to try to resolve them.

CHAIR THIEF MOVES FAST

This thief was pretty quick.

Sometime immediately following the Easter Sunrise Services in the City Park amphitheatre Sunday, a thief managed to make off with two of six chairs that had been provided for the ministers on stage. These chairs belong to the City of Big Spring and are part of the city auditorium equipment.

Actually, the chairs were rarely out of sight of the audience and ministers participating in the program, indicating the thief moved mighty fast. City authorities hope he will move just as fast in returning the chairs.

Mother Sends Son For Help, Then Climbs Into Well To Save Daughter

HAMILTON, N.Y. (AP) — The mother took off her coat, acting calmly but quickly. She sent her son David, 6, running for help. Then she climbed 24 feet down a well to save her daughter, Barbara, 4, from drowning.

Mrs. Arthur Linsley plucked Barbara from the water. Then she braced her back and feet against the rough walls of the dark, three-foot-diameter well and waited.

David did his part. He ran a half mile to the nearest house.

Firemen arrived in 15 to 20 minutes, Mrs. Linsley estimated.

"I was getting a little shaky," she related Sunday after firemen pulled her and Barbara to the surface with ropes.

Barbara had lost her balance and tumbled down the open shaft in an abandoned house.

The experience began with an Easter drive into the country from Hamilton, where Mrs. Linsley's husband is a professor of paleontology at Colgate University.

The children spotted the abandoned house and asked to explore it. In her fall, Barbara missed protruding stones that enabled Mrs. Linsley to get a foothold in her descent.

THE UNDENIABLE

A Non-Sectarian Church

By T. H. Tarbet, preacher, Church of Christ, West Highway 80, P.O. Box 1282.

When a group of Christians become a sect, or a part of a sect, they separate themselves from other Christians. That is what the word "sect" implies. Hence, we are interested in a non-sectarian church. What would such a church be like?

1. To escape being a sect, a church must have a non-sectarian leader, or head. Only one person qualifies for this position. Only one person is acceptable to all Christians. That person is Christ, who has been made "head over all things to the church" (Eph. 1:22).

In becoming non-sectarian, then, the first thing is to renounce all men and conferences of men as spokesmen for the church, and to recognize that Christ has all authority (Mat. 28:18).

2. A non-sectarian book must guide the church. No creed book written by man could ever become acceptable to all believers. On the other hand, all agree that the Bible is non-sectarian. All can accept the Bible. The non-sectarian church must have no book above the Bible no book with the Bible; no book but the Bible.

More tomorrow, on the non-sectarian church. —Adv.

Wild Gunfight Leaves Man Dead

FORT WORTH (AP)—A wild gunfight outside a tavern on the edge of Fort Worth's business district left one man dead and another wounded Sunday.

Charles Allen, 27, of Fort Worth died of bullet wounds and Charles Crow, 24, was shot in a foot. Crow and David Smith, 29, who police said were both ex-convicts, were arrested.

Smith told newsmen that when he and Crow came out of the Buccaneer Tavern he saw Allen sitting in a car with a gun in each hand.

Smith said he and Allen had been feuding since Allen's cousin, Lawrence Brittain, 29, was shot to death May 28, 1959. Smith was charged in the slaying but the case has not come to trial.

Police estimated 20 to 25 shots were fired in the gun battle. Allen was hit in the eye and twice in the chest and 10 bullets struck his car. Four other cars on the tavern parking lot were damaged by gunfire.

Population To Hit 3-Billion Mark

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) —The world's population will pass the three-billion mark this year.

A U. N. survey, in making this prediction, says the rate of growth is 45 million to 55 million a year and the average life span is longer than ever. But with the cost of caring for the aged increasing, the "additional years that modern society can bestow are unhappy ones."

Daniel Fete To Continue During Tour

CLEVELAND, Tex. (AP)—Bill Daniel's Easter egg hunt will be held again next year, even though the East Texas rancher may be thousands of miles across the ocean.

Daniel, a brother of Texas Gov. Price Daniel, said after the third annual hunt on his plantation ranch Sunday he'll leave money and personnel to continue the four charity events he sponsors each year if the Senate approves his nomination to be governor of Guam.

"We had more kids here this year than we did last year, but we made no real check on the number," he said. "I think we had about 10,000 last year and somebody said there must have been about 12,000 this year."

About 40,000 eggs were hidden in a 40-acre patch of timber and clover. Members of the ranch staff and women from nearby churches spent about a week boiling the eggs, purchased by Daniel, in a huge metal pot and coloring them. It took nearly two days to hide all 40,000 eggs.

"I don't think it could have been any nicer," he said.

Daniel arranged for the youngsters to see boat races, take hay rides and ride on an old fire truck he keeps on the ranch.

"They got to ring that truck's bell as much as they wanted to," he said. "They did the things you and I wanted to do when we were kids but didn't get to do."

The children came from Texas and Louisiana.

Ten youngsters took live rabbits home because they found gold-painted goose eggs hidden on the ranch.

Daniel sponsors the egg hunt, A crippled children's party, a kids' Christmas party and a wagon train ride every year. Garland Shepherd, a Beaumont oil man, will take charge of the events while Daniel is in Guam.

Some of the youngsters came to the ranch barefooted and in ragged clothes.

"There was one blind boy—I didn't get his name—who found some eggs by himself," Daniel said. "That was the greatest thing you ever saw. It made us feel good all over."

Conditions Varied On Texas Farms

COLLEGE STATION (AP) — Farm conditions were varied over Texas last week. It was too wet in the north and east, but soil-settling and crust soaking rains were needed in the south and in the coastal areas, reported Director John Hutchison of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Snow and below freezing temperatures were reported in the upper Panhandle. Temperatures climbed to early summer readings in central and southern areas. Generally, Hutchison said, moisture remained good in all sections and pastures and ranges improved. Feeding dropped to the vanishing point. Small grains were looking much better but insects were increasing.

Reports from district farm agents showed:

Rain is needed for crops and pastures in far South Texas. Most cotton and grain sorghums are planted and growing nicely. Some damage from insects had been reported from the Valley. The onion and carrot harvests were on with a good market.

RAIN NEEDED

Moisture is needed to settle loose soil, aid planted crops and to mature flax and keep pastures and ranges coming in South Central Texas. Some damage to corn and sorghums was reported due to insects and birds. Onions, cucumbers, melons and tomatoes made progress and carrots are near the harvesting stage. Livestock are in good condition.

Farmers need a light rain before planting in the upper Gulf coastal area. Subsoil moisture is ample but the topsoil is hard where land was plowed wet. Corn planting is continuing but sorghum planting is slower. A limited amount of early cotton and rice acreage has been planted. Pastures are improving and feeding is limited. Field work has progressed rapidly.

Heavy rains Sunday stopped field work in East Texas. Dry weather is needed. About 10 per cent of the corn crop was planted; tomato plants were being set in the field; and pastures and livestock were in good condition.

ADEQUATE

While moisture is adequate in Central Texas, the weekend rains were good for crops. Oats provided good grazing. Most corn was planted and early plantings were up to good stands. Planting and plowing continued. Livestock conditions were normal. Some bloating from clover has been reported. Sheep and goat shearing is near completion.

Rain is needed in Central West Texas to keep ranges and small grains. Subsoil moisture was good. Livestock generally were in good condition.

In far West Texas, most fruit in the Big Bend and Midland areas was killed by a freeze March 19. High winds dried out moisture. Livestock conditions were good and ranges improved.

Turbulent weather hit the Northeast Texas area Sunday. Plowing went on for watermelons, gardens and other crops. Tomatoes were being set and sweet potatoes bedded. Some corn has been planted. Oats are furnishing good grazing.

Crops, pastures and livestock are excellent in North Central Texas. Pastures provided good grazing. Grains made fast growth. Some corn has been planted. Goat shearing is under way.

Moisture is adequate and grains made good growth in the Rolling Plains (Vernon). Green bug damage varies from light to heavy. Goat shearing starting in Stephens and Young counties.

Conditions are good on the South Plains (Lubbock). Grain growth was excellent. Some green bugs appeared. Livestock and range conditions were good.

Recent snows and rains improved moisture greatly in the Panhandle. Moisture was adequate and wheat was making good growth. Insects were heavy enough to warrant control measures in some areas. Livestock generally was in good condition.

Valley Highway To Honor Formby

McALLEN (AP) — Marshall Formby of Plainview, former State Highway Commission chairman, arrives here this week for a round of appearances to be climaxed with the dedication of the now-under-construction U.S. 83 Expressway which will be named for him.

County commissioners of both Hidalgo and Cameron Counties—through which the expressway will run—have adopted resolutions to call the super highway the "Marshall Formby Valley Expressway."

Completion dates for the new expressway have been estimated from five to 10 years in the future and cost estimates — including state and county shares — have ranged up to $24 million.

It will be a four-lane divided highway running from Mission in Hidalgo County to Brownsville in Cameron County.

The ribbon cutting ceremony and dedication is set for April 9 at a point midway between Mission and McAllen. Formby will deliver the principal address at the ceremonies. Herbert Petry of Carrizo Springs, chairman of the State Highway Commission, representing Gov. Price Daniel, will speak briefly.

Formby's schedule calls for him to arrive here April 4 and to address a joint meeting of the McAllen service clubs April 5. He will address the Brownsville Kiwanis Club April 6, the East Harlingen Kiwanis Club April 7 and the Port Isabel Rotary Club April 8. A reception will be held for him at McAllen the evening of April 8.

UT Releases New Book On Texas Gemstones

AUSTIN — Only one "well-authenticated" diamond has ever been found in Texas—in Foard County in 1911.

The largest gem-quality topaz crystal ever found in North America, a pale blue crystal which would yield a single gem of about 500 carats, came from Mason County.

Those and other facts about "Texas Gemstones" are found in a new, illustrated handbook published by the University of Texas Bureau of Economic Geology.

Elbert A. King, Jr., of Austin, University of Texas graduate geology student and former Bureau of Economic Geology student assistant, wrote the handbook.

The 42-page bulletin is second in a new series of popular publications by the Bureau of Economic Geology. First guidebook was "Texas Fossils, An Amateur Collector's Handbook."

"Texas Gemstones" contains individual summaries of properties of some 30 gemstones, as well as a section on cutting and polishing gemstones. Also included are about 30 photographs and drawings and a glossary of 95 geologic terms.

Copies of "Texas Gemstones" are available at 40 cents each from the Bureau of Economic Geology, University of Texas, Austin 12.

Upturn Is Seen In Residential Texas Building

AUSTIN (AP)—Some upturn in residential building may appear soon, the Bureau of Business Research said Saturday.

The University of Texas agency added that "There is no strong indication that any major improvement is under way.

"February data for the six largest metropolitan areas in Texas show a mixed trend for February in comparison with a year ago. Austin, Dallas, and Fort Worth showed declines in the number of one-family housing starts.

"El Paso, Houston and San Antonio registered gains but not enough to offset the larger declines in the other three cities. The total number of one-family housing starts in February 1961 was nine per cent below February 1960."

The bureau said year-to-year figures show all construction up an average of three per cent in February — residential down 12 per cent but non-residential up 14 per cent.

DEAR ABBY

Business And Pleasure

DEAR ABBY: I work with a man who says he's in love with me. I care for him, too, but I'm not as emotional about it as he is. My problem is that the moment we are alone on the job he tries to kiss me. And he expects me to tell him every few minutes that I love him, too. I don't care for that kind of stuff while I'm working, especially since we are not always alone and we never know when someone is going to walk in on us. How can I let him know I would rather be just "friends" during working hours? He is very sensitive and easily hurt.

CAREFUL

DEAR CAREFUL: Since you obviously have better judgment than the Romeo who is trying to make time on company time, it is up to you to call the tune. Tell him to control his flame during working hours or you both could be fired.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I know there is an "Alcoholics Anonymous" and a "Gamblers Anonymous," but is there a "Charge Accounts Anonymous" for people like me? I don't know why I do it, but I run up charge accounts and can't seem to help myself. It is the craziest thing. . .when I get into a store I go wild buying things I don't really need. If I don't get help with this problem soon, I am going to lose my husband.

OVER MY HEAD

DEAR OVER: Go on a CASH basis and budget your monthly spending. And tell yourelf, when the urge hits, that you're grown up now.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: Is it proper for a girl to offer a pencil and paper to a boy she meets at a dance? Many boys I have met at dances ask for my phone number and they never seem to have a pencil and paper. I always carry a pencil and note paper for this purpose. My girl friend said it was not proper as it looked like I was too anxious. I would like your opinion.

PREPARED

DEAR PREPARED: It's not what you do but the way that you do it. Don't whip out a pencil and paper at the drop of a hint. Give the boy a chance to come up with his own, and use yours only in cases of "emergency." And, by the way, young lady, be a little fussy or soon everyone in town will have your number.

* * *

CONFIDENTIAL TO "TIRED OF WORKING": It is no fun to live in the same house, eat at the same table, and sleep in the same bed with a man you don't love. Money isn't everything. Wait a while.

Recession Past Peak In Texas

AUSTIN (AP)—Texas' business recession may have passed its peak, the Bureau of Business Research said Saturday.

"Texas business for February a fairly definite indication that the decline that has been under way since the middle of last year may be coming to an end," wrote John Stockton, director of the University of Texas agency.

"It should be emphasized that there has been no substantial recovery shown in Texas business and some of the barometers registered declines in February. But when all of the factors are considered, the conclusion seems to hold that the turning point has been passed."

Stockton noted that year-to-year comparisons show increases in crude oil runs to stills, electric power consumption, farm prices, urban building permits, nonresidential building, and average weekly earnings.

Decreases appeared for the same period in freight carloadings, crude production, industrial electric power consumption, bank debits, newspaper advertising linage, residential building, and total industrial production.

"During these first few months of recovery there is always danger that some unforseen occurrence will bring the recovery to an end, Stockton said. "In view of the very strong supporting forces present in the Texas economy, however, it does not seem likely that such a situation would develop, but there is actually no insurance that it will not.

"Most predictions are looking for the third quarter of 1961 to show the first strong recovery, although it is expected that the second quarter will show some improvement over the first. At the present time it appears that the last quarter of 1960 or the first quarter of 1961 will be the low point of this recession."

Fairly Pleasant Weather Prevails In Most Of U.S.

By The Associated Press

It was chilly and wet across the broad areas in the Northeast today but fairly pleasant spring weather prevailed in most other sections.

Wet snow dampened parts of northern Missouri and western Iowa while snow flurries continued in northern lower Michigan and in the lower Great Lakes region. Rain splashed areas from central Kentucky into Tennessee and showers sprinkled western parts of Montana and along Washington's West Coast.

Temperatures dropped to the 20-30 degree range in much of the Northeast, with some of the cool air dipping into the Southeast. Scattered frost was indicated from the North Carolina-Virginia-Maryland area into northern Alabama and eastern Kentucky. Readings were in the 60s in southern Florida.

Forty-degree marks were general over much of the northwest Plains through the Rockies, rising to the 50s along the Pacific Coast. In the Southwest, readings were in the 50s and 60s. It was hot in the desert region Sunday, with a high of 99 in Thermal, Calif., and 86 in Yuma, Ariz. The 83 mark in Reno, Nev., was a record for the date.

Seven of the 10 traffic deaths in Pennsylvania over the weekend were caused by accidents on snow and rain-slickened highways. Up to two inches of snow fell in the Erie and Greensburg areas.

Flood dangers appeared easing in Iowa and Mississippi. The Cedar River, which joins the Iowa River at Columbus Junction, crested during the night without causing serious overflows. Thousands of acres of farmland along the swollen stream, which caused millions of dollars damage in northern Iowa last week, were flooded. The Red Cross said 3,660 families in an eight-county area were forced from their homes.

Residents of low-lying areas along the rain-swollen Boule and Leaf rivers in Mississippi began returning to their homes as the streams started to recede. Some rivers in south and central Alabama were at or near flood stage.

Defector Says Castro's A Red

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Jose Pardo Llada, defected public relations chief for the Cuban government, called Cuba's Premier Fidel Castro a self - styled Communist Sunday. Then Pardo flew to Spain, where he was granted asylum.

"I have never stated Fidel Castro is not a Communist, and it would be ridiculous for me to try and save Fidel's skin by blaming Raul Castro or "Che' Guevara for all his deeds," he said.

FBI Probes Major Theft

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP)—Police and the FBI today sought burglars who carried off an estimated $200,000 in gold, silver and gems as loot from a jewelry firm Sunday.

An abandoned green sports shirt smelling of tear gas and some burglar tools were major clues.

Thieves broke into the H. R. Terryberry Co. and stole the valuables from eight safes. The firm is a manufacturer of school rings, pins and specialized jewelry.

Police said the burglars set off a tear-gas trap in a futile attempt to open three more safes. The sports shirt was found in a nearby alley.

The FBI entered the case because of illegal possession of gold by other than a dealer.

The loot, police said, included 300 pounds of gold and silver pressed into sheets of varied thicknesses, and unset diamonds and other stones.

Congress Makes Good Dent In JFK Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress has made a respectable dent in the pile of work President Kennedy said it should tackle with greatest speed because of the economic slump.

But beyond the high-priority bills, there is a lot more work spread out for the lawmakers. On some, the administration has not even made detailed recommendations. Other items have moved as far along as passage by one house or the other.

The administration and opposition forces in Congress have tested each other out and a rough schedule for handling the tougher bills has taken shape. From present indications, some measures Kennedy wanted handled this year will go over into 1962—and some of the "unfinished business of the American people," about which he talked as a candidate, may remain unfinished for a considerable time.

At the Easter recess, Congress has gone this far with the four measures Kennedy tagged with the highest priority:

1. A billion-dollar program of extended unemployment aid has been enacted. Benefits should begin flowing this month.

2. Senate and House have passed different versions of Kennedy's $394-million loan and grant bill to stimulate the economy of chronically depressed areas. Adjustment of the differences is expected, after some argument, soon after the House reconvenes April 10.

3. A bill to extend dependent children benefits to families of the unemployed has been passed by the House and promised prompt handling in the Senate.

4. The House Ways and Means Committee has approved legislation for most of the changes Kennedy asked in the Social Security law. Among them is optional retirement for men at 62, counted on to help some older men stranded by the dwindling of industries which employed them. The House probably will act this month.

Congress has finished work on three other measures from Kennedy's priority list:

Renewal of authority to reorganize the executive department. Kennedy is expected to use it first to create a new Cabinet-rank department of urban affairs, with Federal Housing Administrator Robert C. Weaver becoming the first Negro Cabinet member.

Ratification of U. S. affiliation with the Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development.

An emergency program for feed grains.

The House has passed a minimum wage increase bill, but in much more modest terms than Kennedy recommended. It was the first substantial setback his administration suffered at Congress' hands. His leaders in the Senate are trying to rebuild the measure closer to his recommendations. Senate committee action is expected by mid-month.

The Senate has passed bills to increase the number of federal judges and to create an office of international travel. The House should act soon.

300 Stagehands Go Out On Strike

NEW YORK (AP)—Three hundred stagehands employed by the Columbia Broadcasting System have walked out as a result of the network's dismissal of three TV lighting directors.

There was no immediate effect on regularly scheduled shows. Supervisory personnel took over the stagehands' duties, the network said.

Foreign Cotton Prices Rising

WASHINGTON (AP) — Cotton prices have been rising in foreign markets in recent months.

The Foreign Agricultural Service said today that prices of most growths rose 1 to 1.5 cents a pound during the first 7 months of the current marketing season. Actually, about half this increase occurred in the past 2 months.

The service said this price strength, reflected in domestic markets, shows a close balance of world production and demand at or near record levels.

Congressmen, senators, legislators, public officials and newspapers have been flooded with letters speaking ultra - conservative views.

Behind these displays is the controversial, semi - secret John Birck Society.

Birth himself had close ties to Texas before he was killed. He received his religious education at the Fundamentalist Baptist Bible Institute, founded by the late, colorful J. Frank Norris.

Norris was pastor of the First Baptist Church of Fort Worth. He broke with the Southern Baptist Convention; the largest group of Baptists in the South, over several issues and established his own seminary and mission program.

GRADUATE

Birch was one of the first two graduates of the seminary.

Birch was bayonetted to death by the Chinese Communists 10 days after V-J Day. He was a missionary, Army Captain and secret agent.

The 3-year-old society has had its greatest growth in Texas in the last year. It now claims hundreds of members in the Panhandle, West Texas and Dallas.

The society was organized in December, 1958, by John H. Welch, retired Massachusetts candy maker, for the avowed purpose of impeaching Earl Warren, chief justice of the United States, and to combat communism.

Welch claims the facts of Birch's death were long concealed by "Red sympathizers in the government," and says the society uses Birch's name as a symbol of members' anger about "things wrong with America."

Prominent in the society's council are doctors, industrialists, retired military men and writers. Names of members are made public if individual members choose.

NO REASON

Stuart Swenson, who identifies himself as coordinator of the society in Dallas, says every member must first agree that he can be "drummed out of the organization without being given a reason." A life membership costs $1,000. Dues are $2 per month for men and $1 for women.

Welch said Warren voted 36 out of 39 times in Supreme Court decisions in support of leftist views on matters involving communism and greater federal government control. That is the basis for the impeachment drive.

Earl Thornton, a rank-and-file member in Dallas, asserts, "One project is to tell the people about the communistic-inspired plot by those who claimed John Wayne's movie, 'The Alamo,' was a box office flop. It was the communist way of getting rid of a great, patriotic movie."

He listed other projects as a demand for the investigation of what he called "the communist influence at Vassar" women's college and a watch on churches because Welch had said "some preachers actually use their pulpits to preach outright communism."

The Amarillo controversy grew out of a charge by Brig. Gen. William Lee, retired commander of the Amarillo Air Force Base and Panhandle coordinator for the society, that the group has documented proof that Communists have infiltrated the National Council of Churches.

Eight Protestant ministers in Amarillo in an open letter refuted Lee's charges and asked him to turn over to the FBI and courts any information he had.

RECRUITING

One method used to recruit members is to show a 3½-hour film in which Welch explains the Communist menace.

C.G. Whitten, a lawyer who attended such a film showing at Abilene last summer, refused to join. He said:

"It would appear to me that the organization is one that uses totalitarian methods to accomplish its ends."

Some newspapers have published editorials criticizing the Birch Society for "fighting communism in Commnuist fashion."

A Los Angeles Times editorial March 12 said:

"If the John Birchers follow the program of their leader, they will bring our institutions into question exactly as the Communists try to do."

In a letter endorsing the newspaper's editorial, former Vice President Richard Nixon wrote:

"I can well understand how many well-intentioned people, who are justifiably concerned about the threat which subversive groups present to our institutions, tend to reach the conclusion that the only effective way to fight such an organization is to use the same evil methods they employ...

"But there can be no more dangerous fallacy."

Not A Whisper As Airliner Slides In

BOSTON (AP)—"There wasn't a whisper. Everyone was waiting to see what would happen."

That was one passenger's description of the tension aboard an Eastern Air Lines Electra Sunday night as the big turbo-prop plane — with a damaged tire on one of its nose wheels—slid down for a safe landing on a foam-slicked runway at Logan International Airport.

The plane carried 65 passengers and a crew of 5 on a flight that began at Atlanta, with stops at Raleigh-Durham, N.C., Richmond, Va., and La Guardia Field, New York.

Landing gear trouble plagued a Trans-Canada Air Lines plane at almost the same time at Montreal International Airport.

In that case, the four-engine Vickers Vanguard from Tampa belly-landed with 42 passengers and 7 crewmen after circling the field for nearly two hours in an unsuccessful effort to free a stuck left wheel.

There were no reports of injuries in either incident.

The Electra apparently stripped the tread from its left nose wheel on takeoff from La Guardia. Capt. Arthur A. Hinkley of Hampton, N.H., the pilot, radioed that he felt a tire had blown. Pieces of the tire were found on the runway.

That set in motion extraordinary disaster measures at Logan, including 30 fire trucks, ambulances and harbor rescue craft.

Tension mounted as the big plane circled Boston for 2 hours and 8 minutes to use up fuel. The plane finally rolled safely down the runway through 1,500 feet of foam.

Jane Stein, 18, of Scarsdale, N.Y., a pretty Boston University freshman, burst off the plane, threw her arms around the first man she saw, a reporter, and kissed him soundly. "This is how I feel," she explained.

Miss Stein said "Everyone sort of held their breath. There was a moment of complete silence as the plane came in to land after making a trial pass over the field.

"We could feel the wheels touch down and I could feel the tension increase. There wasn't a whisper. Everyone was waiting to see what would happen.

"When we felt the plane come down and roll to a stop, we broke into yells and cheers as we realized everything was all right."

Junketing Big Spring Youths Find Texas Look Is Passport

By JOE PICKLE

A western jacket, Levis, cowboy boots, big belt buckles and a wide smile—these are the elements of a passport to world hospitality.

Wade Simpson and Terry Stanley found it so. They have just returned from a seven-months junket that took them around the world at less than $100 a month for the two of them. They augmented their funds by odd jobs, stories and speaking engagements, and this stretched them further, thanks to the hospitality of people in almost every nation they touched.

Theirs was a trip for adventure, just to see if they could do it. There were no political overtones, although they did come close enough to throw stones at Communist countries. They reveled in the gaiety of island paradise, drank in the beauty of exotic places, haggled in market places, gagged at human stench, and observed weird customs. They slept in plush hotels and spent a night in the "world's best jail." Passage was booked on boats, but otherwise they used their thumbs to hitch rides for the most part.

The trip had been chartered to cover a year, but the Air Force Reserve set a deadline that induced Wade to hurry home prior to April 1. At that, there couldn't have been a more welcome sight than New York harbor, unless it was seeing their families and Big Spring again. Now they're talking about the possibility of another trip some day.

Terry, the son Mr. and Mrs. R. E. McKinney, and Wade, son of Mrs. Modesta Simpson, set out last September to do what a lot of young men dream of doing.

They paused long enough at San Francisco to work in the grape harvest and replenish their funds. When they disembarked at Honolulu, they found their western attire attracted friendships. They had no trouble getting jobs waiting tables, washing dishes, clerking in an import-export office, selling, and even pipe fitting. On one occasion, they tended bar for a General Electric convention which drew 5,000 from the States, and Texans in the party spotted the two and serenaded, touchingly, with "The Eyes of Texas."

They worked at the Biltmore and for two months were in the Mary Ann Sears aquacade at the Reef Hotel. MGM and 20th Century Fox sent crews to photograph it, and celebrities flocked there constantly.

During the two months they were on Oahu, they spent much time in the home of a friend in Kanaehe, over the Pali (hump). They took in numerous folk parties, including the Luau. This has a pig as the piece de resistance. The gay Hawaiians will have a luau on less pretext than West Texans have a barbecue.

Foods run from the conventional to an abaundance of fish, (sometimes raw), octopus, squid, pig and pineapple.

The climate is near ideal and during the rainy seasons as showers fall, the volcanic mountains are turned into a vast waterfall. Everywhere flowers abound. Once Wade and Terry helped decorate for a party at the Biltmore, using 5,000 orchids, then built a volcano display also of orchids.

Everyone seems bent on living up life. There are few ostentatious homes or fine cars. Even if a man makes a handsome salary, he and the family had rather invest it in gracious living and fun.

Terry and Wade joined in the fun, too. They went body surfing, surfboard riding, skin diving. They met Heine Aruda, who attended the Toots Mansfiled roping school here in 1956 with Wade, and got into his rodeo in Hawaii. Terry entered the calf roping and won third place.

Driving over the tortuous trails to the top of one mountain, they felt legendary currents strong enough to blow you back if you jumped off a cliff (which they didn't try). Several small cars have been overturned by the wind currents.

One wonderful surprise they experienced was when Wade's mother came to Hawaii and they met her with a beautiful lei. They went to Kanai, the garden island where "scenes from the film, "South Pacific," were shot. They found it more exquisite than the pictures and had the added thrill of a singing guide who sang the songs of the musical at each point where they were filmed.

"It made goose bumps come up on you," they recalled.

No wonder they were reluctant to move on, but they booked passage in December and went to Japan.

(The next story will highlight the global hitchhiker's adventures in Japan.)

For Next Trip

Terry Stanley (left) and Wade Simpson had one dollar left when they got back home from a round-the-world trip. They plan to use it as a starter when they make the trip next time. Here they tear it apart so each will have his share of the stake.

Woman Beaten By Juveniles

Bob Darland, county juvenile officer, and Ed Carpenter, county judge, heard two women and two men tell how a gang of juveniles had beaten an aged woman at her residence in the extreme northwest part of town.

According to the neighbors who came before the judge and the juvenile officer, the woman lives alone in a small house. The alleged attack occurred over a week ago, they said. The woman was beaten about the head and face, the witness related, and one of the men said "it looked like she had been hit with a baseball bat."

They told the court they had delayed reporting the matter to the authorities because they were trying to identify the assailants. The identity of one was given to Darland and a possible clue to another offered.

The neighbors said the woman is somewhat eccentric and that she has had trouble with the kids in her neighborhood before.

Darland is to investigate the matter.

Civil Docket Has 8 Cases

Eight civil matters are slated for disposition this week on the jury docket in district court which started at 1:30 p.m. Monday.

Judge Ralph Caton, 118th District Court, sounded the docket in the court at 10 a.m. Eight matters were announced ready. First case to be called for trial is a damage suit brought by M. G. Bissey against the Pioneer Natural Gas Co.

A jury panel reported to the court but Judge Caton was uncertain at noon whether he would have enough qualified jurors left on the panel to carry on court.

The other cases docketed for this week include:

A. G. Albert versus U. S. Fidelity & Guaranty Co., suit for compensation; Richard A. Cannon versus Johnston Oil Co., damages; H. A. Porter versus Texas & Pacific Railroad, damages; David Forrest et al versus William Lewis Brown Jr., damages; R. E. Dobbins versus Bob Bright et al, damages; Albert Abernathy versus Standard Insurance Co., compensation; and E. W. Graham, et ux versus D. C. Shortridge, damages.

AUSTIN (AP)—Texas senators returned today, faced for the first time this session with consideration of a House-passed tax bill. The full Senate met at 2 p.m.

SENATE

week campaigned in South Texas and Dallas, returned to Denison over the weekend. She said her "equal rights for women platform" would win her a spot in the runoff.

One closing feature of the campaign was a special television program Sunday night in Houston Station KPRC-TV presenting 31 candidates—the number accepting an invitation extended all those in the race. Each received free time for a short presentation of his platform. Some taped their speeches in advance and others arranged to be at the studio for the program.

One of the lesser known candidates, Dallas manufacturers' representative Paul Eix, said he expected the so-called "big six" to cut into one another's vote enough to put him in a runoff with Tower for the Senate seat. Back home Sunday night, Eix said he and his twin brother Jack had visited 300 Texas cities and towns on a 13,000-mile tour to present his middle of the road views.

Visitor Robbed At Knife-Point

A hitchhiker, using a knife, robbed the man who gave him a lift in Big Spring Sunday about 6:30 p.m.

Delmar Hartin, Garland, who was visiting in Big Spring, told police that he gave a man a lift from 4th and Runnels to South U.S. 87. When they were in the south part of town, the man pulled a knife and directed Hartman to drive out on a side road.

The man took Hartin's billfold, containing about $20, and his wrist watch. Following the robbery, he had Hartin drive him back to town where he got out of the car near the Ritz theatre. Hartin gave police a description of the robber but no suspect had been apprehended Monday morning.

Hartin is employed as bookkeeper for the Garland Public Schools.

Dance Classes Begin Wednesday

A children and adult dance course begins Wednesday at the YMCA, according to Joe Leach, acting general secretary.

The course will include personality improvement, physical fitness, ballet, ballroom and tap dancing and will be taught by a former professional dancing teacher, Mrs. Ora Burson.

Classes for boys and girls ages 4-6 will be every Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 9:30 to 10:30 a.m. An adult women's class will be each Tuesday and Thursday from 9:30 to 11 a.m. The course will last about seven weeks.

Registration begins Tuesday and continues until April 7. There is a $5 charge for Y members and a $10 charge for others. The children's class is limited to 30, but there is no limit on the number of adults who may register.

Leotards or shorts and gym sneakers are the only special clothing needed until the tap dance phase comes up. Then, shoes with taps will be required.

Special Meeting Set Tuesday

The city commission will hold a special meeting at 6 p.m. Tuesday in the police building, to review the bids on the water and sewer extensions. Apparent low bidder was the Clyde Yarbrough Construction Co. of Odessa.

Other special matters coming before the commission will be right of way recommendations of a committee and a request to release some securities.

Yarbrough's bid on both the water and sewer projects was $551,-862.15. The commissioners asked for a week's time to study the bids in detail before awarding the contract. If no question is raised, the contract will probably be awarded Tuesday.

Work on the projects, included in the first phase of the $4.3 million Master Plan expansion program, will start in about three weeks after the contract is let and the contractor has 210 calendar days to complete the work.

The commission will hear reports from its right of way committee on three, and possibly four, right of way problems in different areas on the city, including Birdwell Lane at East 4th.

A proposal from the VFW that the city sell them three acres of land in the Silver Heels area was held over from the regular meeting for committee study and will be presented at the special meeting.

City Secretary C. R. McClenny will also present a request for release of securities where bonds have been paid off.

To Be Freed

LONDON (AP)—Robert E. McCann, an American citizen jailed for 15 years by the Communist Chinese on charges of espionage, is being freed and will leave China Wednesday, Peiping radio announced today.

Before Flight To Africa

Vice President Lyndon Johnson, left, talks with G. Mennen Williams, assistant secretary of state for African affairs, at Andrews Air Force Base near Washington, D.C. This was just before Johnson departed by jet plane for Dakar on Africa's Atlantic coast to represent the United States at the Senegal independence celebration. Senegal is a former French colony.

Late Comers Line Up For Car Tags

Automobile tag business Monday was just about as brisk as it was on Saturday.

This time, the applicants were motorists who had failed to buy tags during the regularly scheduled period. Applicants who showed up Monday had either to make an affidavit they had not driven their cars since midnight Saturday, or pay a 20 per cent penalty. Bulk of the applicants were solemnly asserting under oath that their cars had not been in motion since deadline on Saturday midnight.

A few others, however, defied the rules and were on the streets and highways on Sunday with their cars still displaying 1960 plates.

Half a dozen of these found this can be even more costly than paying the 20 per cent additional tag fee. The fines so far have generally been $1 plus costs. This jumps the bill up above $20.

And, of course, the tags for the car still must be purchased at the price plus 20 per cent penalty.

One 28-year old Big Spring woman, arrested by highway patrol officer for displaying an expired license plate and fined $1 and costs, didn't have the money to pay the bill. She is in the Howard County Jail.

City police have been handing out warnings to drivers who seemed to be in violation of the tag.

The city officers reported several cars sighted on the streets displaying only one 1961 plate. This, of course, is also unlawful—two plates, one front and rear, must be shown.

Officers said the owners alleged that thieves had stolen one of the plates.

Meantime, deputies at the tag office continued busy accepting the affidavits of belated tag buyers and issuing plates.

Writer Points To Big Happenings In Big Spring

"Big things are happening in Big Spring," E. D. Alexander wrote in a feature article appearing in the Sunday issue of the Fort Worth Star Telegram.

Alexander was here last week gathering materials for the article summarizing the city's basis for anticipated growth.

"There is an air of expectancy among the citizens because programs in the making are expected to trigger a new growth pattern for the next 20 years," Alexander's account continued.

Other highlights of the article include:

"Versatility has marked the development of industry in Big Spring for many years. . . As mother of industry in Howard County, Cosden (Petroleum Corporation) has done some more switching in recent years to petrochemicals, and men who know say that Big Spring's future growth lies with petrochemicals.

"The newest industry assured for the city is the Sid Richardson Carbon Company ($4,000,000) plant which will go into production this year with a payroll of 40 to 50 persons. Cosden envisions further expansion in petrochemicals. The First National Bank. . . is going to build new banking quarters at a cost of $750,000. . . and the bank will build up with a skyscraper tower section for offices in the future."

Other passages deal with Webb AFB and its important role; with the T&P and its activities; the city's $4,300,000 expansion program; plans of the Colorado River Municipal Water District for a new, big lake on the Colorado River; many new buildings; and civic leader reaction.

Theft, Vandalism Are Reported

Big Spring police received reports of theft and vandalism over the week end, but did not pick up any suspects.

Dr. M. W. Talbot Jr., who is having a new home built at 1508 Dayton Road, told police that tools had been left in the garage over night. He said some one went in the place and took the tools, valued at $42.50.

Mrs. Norman Shaw, 100 E. 17, reported, at 9:27 p.m. Sunday, that the air had been let out of the tires of several cars parked at the Trinity Baptist Church, and on the Furr parking lot.

DID THEY LEAVE IT?

The subject must have been hanged or guillotined.

Patrolmen Doyle Williamson and Frank Glasscock of the Big Spring Police department were called Sunday morning around 1 o'clock to investigate a man lying on the grass in a yard.

Report: "Just a dummy without a head."

Mormon Branch

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (AP) —The Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, at its world conference here, reported a 23 per cent increase in membership since 1950—to a total of 175,000. The denomination represents Mormons who broke away from the larger Latter - Day Saints church in 1860, and remained in the Midwest, while the larger body shifted its headquarters to Salt Lake City, Utah.

OIL REPORT

Garza Project Set To Potential

A Garza County wildcat, Threeway Drilling Co. No. 1 Connell Estate, is waiting on potential. The operator tested both the Ellenburger and the Clear Fork and found them barren. No gauges have been reported since the Glorieta tests.

Great Western No. 1 Shoemaker, a three-quarter mile northeast outpost to the one-well Stanton (Spraberry-Wolfcamp) field in Martin County, has perforated the Wolfcamp and is preparing to fracture. It has bottomed at 8,663 feet.

In Glasscock County, Stillwagon No. 1 Currie cored the Wichita-Albany and recovered 50 feet of dolomite with shale partings. The explorer is projected to 6,000 feet for tests of the Spraberry.

Crockett

Cosden No. 2 Miller is drilling below 8,116 feet in lime and shale. The venture is 990 feet from the north and 660 feet from the west lines of section 2-0, TCRR survey.

Dawson

Forest No. 1 Hatch is making hole in lime and shale below 10,812 feet. The prospector is C SW SE, section 4-2, D. L. Cunningham survey.

Texas National No. 1 Barron is digging below 6,725 feet in lime and shale. Drillsite is 467 feet from the south and west lines of section 76-M, EL&RR survey.

Garza

Threeway Drilling Co. No. 1 Connell Estate is waiting on potential after perforating the Glorieta at three intervals between 2,525-39 feet. The intervals were fraced with 30,000 gallons of water and 60,000 pounds of sand and on last reports the operator was pumping load water. Previous tests of the Clear Fork and the Ellenburger were negative. Location is C NE SW SW, section 130-5, H&GN survey.

Glasscock

Shell No. 1 Chriesman has been plugged back to 11,228 feet after drilling to 11,285 feet. Swab was recovered from 1,450 feet after it was lost in swabbing perforations between 10,979-11,058 feet in an unidentified zone. The operator is preparing to acidize the interval. The site is C SE SE, section 12-36-5s, T&P survey.

Stillwagon No. 1 Currie is coring below 5,646 feet. Cores recovered from the Wichita Albany, between 5,596-5s,646 feet, were 50 feet of dolomite with shale partings. The explorer is C SE NW, section 24-34-3s, T&P survey.

Martin

Great Western No. 1 Shoemaker ran logs and perforated the Wolfcamp, between 8,380-90 feet, after bottoming at 8,663 feet and the operator is preparing to fracture the Wolfcamp with an unreported amount. Earlier, 80 feet of lime and shale cores from between 8,533-613 feet had slight shows. The site is C NE SW, section 40-37-1n, T&P survey.

Credit Course Enrolls 78

Seventy-eight persons had registered by noon today for the Retail Credit Course being offered in Big Spring April 3-5 and more were expected.

"I am pleasingly surprised by the record number of persons interested in the course," Mrs. Ruth Apple, Credit Bureau manager, commented.

Sessions will be held at 7 p.m. in the public conference room of the Texas Electric Service Co. offices.

Tonight's session will be taken up by introductory courses in "opening accounts profitably and reducing credit risks."

Instructor will be Lowry M. Carpenter, retail credit specialist at The University of Texas. Visual aids and forms for those attending will be used to aid instruction.

Persons attending all three sessions will receive a certificate of completion, according to Mrs. Apple.

Subjects to be covered are interviewing, investigating and accepting or rejecting credit, increasing credit volume, controlling accounts effectively and others.

Registration fee for the course is $4. There are no other costs.

Castro Sinks A Putt

Wearing the uniform he makes do for all his activities, Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro cans a short putt on the 6th green of the Villareal Golf Club in Havana, Cuba. The Cuban chieftain fired "over 150" according to caddies on the 6,692-yard, par 70 course. Blistered right thumb and all, Castro was undaunted as he tried the capitalistic sport with his economic expert Ernesto (Che) Guevara and Agrarian Reform Institute Chief Antonio Nunez Jimenez, in background.

Nixon Planning 'Modest Home'

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) —Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon today made plans for "a modest, one-story home" on a three-quarter acre lot he has purchased in an exclusive subdivision of Beverly Hills.

The price was not disclosed. Lot prices in the area range between $42,000 and $75,000. Sale of the lot was disclosed Saturday by a sales agent.

Nixon has engaged an architect and the house is expected to be ready by early fall. Mrs. Nixon and their two daughters are still in Washington, D. C., where the girls are in school.

Senegal Notes Independence Day

DAKAR, Senegal (AP) — Government leaders from East and West trooped to the gleaming presidential palace of Senegal today to open the former French colony's celebration of one year of independence.

U. S. Vice President Lyndon B Johnson, Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Jacob Malik and French Cultural Affairs Minister Andre Malraux drove through cheering street crowds to the palace of Leopold Senghor, the poet and politician who is president of Senegal.

Kennedy Figures In Reported Plot To Assassinate Family

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — President Kennedy figured over the Easter weekend in a reported assassination-kidnap plot against his family.

The President and his smartly dressed wife attended Easter Sunday church services under a doubled security guard because of deep concern about the Kennedy family's safety.

The President has had no comment on reported plots by pro-Castro Cubans to kidnaps his daughter Caroline, 3, or assassinate the entire Kennedy family — father, mother, Caroline and John Jr., four months.

Secret Service agents have had the Cuban suspects — three men and a woman—under around the clock surveillance.

While the President has been keeping mum publicly about all this, he and his wife obviously were aware of the extra precautions the Secret Service took to safeguard them.

A crowd estimated at up to 1,000 had assembled in the vicinity of St. Edward's Catholic Church long before the President and the First Lady arrived — almost 10 minutes late — for 10 a.m. Easter Sunday Mass.

The first precaution the Secret Service took disappointed the crowd. The usual route from the Kennedy estate was changed and the President and his wife slipped in through a side door of the church almost unnoticed.

Well in advance of the Kennedys' arrival, Secret Service men augmented by local, county and state police had filtered into the roped-back crowd to keep a close watch for any potential trouble-makers.

Secret Service chief U. E. Baughman said the security force he directed at the church was about double the usual size.

The sun was bright and warm as the President and Mrs. Kennedy entered the jammed church, its altars banked with Easter lillies, for the High Mass celebrated by the Rev. Lawrence Haber.

The First Lady wore a pale blue two-piece shantung dress—a straight skirt with a collarless overblouse with seven buttons down the back—and a matching pillbox hat.

Her beige shoes matched elbow-length gloves. Accessories included a choker necklace of large pearls and a beige purse. She carried a prayerbook.

The President wore a dark blue pin-striped suit. He was without a hat and he carried a small red missal.

During the Mass the President went to the altar rail and received communion. His wife did not. It was the first time Kennedy had received communion at Sunday Mass since becoming president.

On their arrival the Kennedys were ushered swiftly to a pew just inside the side door. They usually sit on the opposite side, near the back.

Ordinarily one or two Secret Service agents sit immediately behind the President during Mass. Sunday about eight agents stood in the aisle area near the presidential pew. One small girl tried to make her way to Kennedy's side for an autograph, but an agent politely shooed her off.

At one point an usher who didn't know Baughman requested the Secret Service chief to move back a bit. With a smile, Baughman complied.

At the end of the service the side aisle was cleared and the Kennedys left by the front door. Both smiled and the President waved to the applauding crowd as they walked to their car.

Back at the Kennedy residence, the President had a quick breakfast and then went for a swim in the ocean. So did his wife and Caroline.

Marilyn, Joe Return To N.Y.

NEW YORK (AP) — If screen star Marilyn Monroe and former baseball great Joe DiMaggio have any intentions of remarrying each other, they're still keeping it a secret.

The couple flew in from Tampa, Fla., Sunday, shunned newsmen's questions and then disappeared among the city's millions. Phone calls to their apartments were fruitless.

A Devotional For Today

Jesus made as though he would have gone further. But they constrained him, saying, Abide with us: for it is toward evening. (Luke 24:28, 29.)

PRAYER: Our Father, we thank Thee for the gift of Thy Son, by whom all men are privileged to come to Thee. Help us to claim the salvation He purchased for all on Calvary with His blood, His very life. We thank Thee for grace that comes through faith in His atonement. In the name of Jesus, who taught us to pray, "Our Father who art in heaven . . . Amen."

(From The 'Upper Room')

Some Simple Fiscal Facts

The facts of fiscal life are like a see-saw. When income equals expenditure, there is a balance. Put more on the expense end than on the income end, and you have an imbalance on the minus side—or a deficit.

Hence it is manifestly unreal to expect to apply two billion dollars additional to defense purposes, plus more appropriations for domestic functions, and hope that there be anything like a balance. The only way this could be achieved is by more taxes to be applied on the other end of the see-saw. This is hardly likely, let alone advisable.

It may well be that another federal budget deficit is unavoidable this year in view of revenues reduced by the recession far more sharply than anticipated. But that does not automatically mean that the new budget beginning July 1 must be unbalanced before it starts.

Other than insisting on maximum value for every penny spent and more astute long-range planning to avoid costly abandonments, few will quarrel with the efficacy of adequate defense funds. This means survival, and whatever it takes we must be prepared to supply.

In the face of this, then, there needs to be utmost caution about increasing other authorized expenditures. Indeed, the hopeful approach would be to trim requirements to compensate for greater defense needs. It is not altogether a question of balancing the see-saw, but also of not piling so much on both ends of the see-saw that it will break.

Know With Whom You Deal

You may have noticed the warning that springtime brings out the itinerants who offer you fast bargains in home services and repair. After they are gone, you may discover the hand is quicker than the eye.

Officers have a sound bit of advice to avoid being taken in. It is simply to know the person or firm with whom you are dealing. If you don't, ask for time to do some checking or obtain concrete identification such as car tag or drivers license numbers, a description of the person.

People who make an honest living by performing these services the year around will not be offended by your questions. In fact, reputable operators are as anxious as you are to root out the fast-buck boys.

Even with established operators, it is well to have a clear understanding about what is to be done, a written estimate and a guarantee of satisfaction or workman-like performance. That old phrase, "Oh, it won't cost much," can create a lot of misunderstanding and ill will. Uttered by an unscrupulous operator, it means you are about to be had.

In any event, if you feel that a charge is way out of line, delay paying until you can check with others, with the unions, or even authorities.

RED REASONABLENESS

Around The Rim

About Humor—And Silence

Utterable utterances:

SYDNEY J. HARRIS, columnist: "Men become comedians, I have long believed, as a form of resentment against society. Humor is a socially acceptable way of discharging anger and getting well paid for it. And most comedians, in truth, are not likeable personalities off the stage. Like actors generally, some light is switched off inside when they end the performance."

* * *

THOMAS CARLYLE in "Sartor Resartus": "Silence is the element in which great things fashion themselves. All the considerable men I have known forbore to babble of what they were creating. As the Swiss inscription says, 'Sprechen ist silbern, schweigen ist golden' —or as I might rather express it, speech is of time, silence is of eternity."

* * *

MANCHESTER GUARDIAN: "For the last eight years the western world has suffered under government by bromide. That period is now over. At last the alliance has a leader courageous enough to treat his fellow citizens and his allies as adults able to face unpleasant truths without flinching. Candor is the most effective weapon in Mr. Kennedy's arsenal. With its help he may succeed in breaking down the complacent indifference to the Eisenhower years and awaken the American people and the world to the crisis through which we live."

* * *

SOMERSET MAUGHAM, in "The Summing up": "I wonder how anyone can have the face to condemn others when he reflects upon his own thoughts. A great part of our lives is occupied in reverie, and the more imaginative we are, the more vivid this will be. How many of us could face having our reveries automatically registered and set before us? We should be overcome with shame. We should cry that we could not really be as mean, as wicked, as petty, as selfish, as obscene, as snobbish, as vain, at sentimental, as that. Men forget the horrible thoughts that wander through their own minds, and are indignant when they discover them in others."

* * *

LA ROCHEFOUCAULD: "We cannot sufficiently praise prudence, yet the greatest prudence cannot with certainty predict the least event, since it aces on man — that most uncertain of all things mortal."

* * *

From the pen of the Indian author, RABINDRANATH TAGORE: "Parasites have to pay for their ready nutrition by losing the capacity of assimilating food in its natural form. In the history of men the same sin of a capacity allowed to deaden has brought about degeneracy. Man is parasitical not only when he lives on others, but also when he tethers himself inescapably to exterior circumstances, to things as they are and always have been, and drifts, helpless, in the stream. This total surrender to the outward has no sanction from within. When, as a result, man ceases to move of his own volition and is borne by sheer habit, he becomes a kind of parasite. For he loses the capacity to carry out his assigned task of turning the seemingly impossible into the possible, the way of progress which is his true human destiny."

Getting Into Trouble With Our Allies

WASHINGTON—Not so long ago much was heard about the so-called decline in America's "prestige" abroad. The Kennedy administration has been in office now a little more than two months, and it is doubtful whether any polls are being taken to measure America's "prestige" in at least two countries—Portugal and Holland—both of which are members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

FOR THE anti-American demonstrations around the U. S. embassy in Lisbon in the last few days—with crowds estimated at 50,000—have emphasized the bitter feeling that has arisen in Portugal over the fateful vote that Adlai Stevenson, with the approval of President Kennedy, cast recently in the United Nations. By that vote, this country took a position at the side of Soviet Russia in calling for an inquiry into the internal affairs of Portugal—the handling of problems arising inside Angola, which is a Portuguese overseas province in Africa. Great Britain and France abstained from voting.

THEN THERE comes a Reuters news service dispatch from The Hague, quoting a Dutch newspaper's report that "competent circles" there are holding Under Secretary of State Chester Bowles responsible for America's refusal to attend the installation of the first representative council in the Dutch Colony of New Guinea. This was to mark a step toward self-government but evidently displeases Indonesia, which has demanded that it be permitted to annex Dutch New Guinea outright, though the island is 2,000 miles away from the capital of Indonesia.

The newspaper "DeVolkskrant" said that the United States informed the Dutch government on March 21 that it would send a representative to the ceremony, but four days later suddenly withdrew its acceptance in a "remarkable change of face." The dispatch from the Hague says:

NEWSPAPERS and political circles here have blamed Indonesian pressure on the United States for the change of mind. . .

"The liberal morning newspaper 'Algemeen Dagblad' said that it appeared the United States was 'unwilling to tread on the toes of an immature, stupid, unbalanced and dictatorial regime like that of (Indonesian president) Sukarno and is at the same time willing. . . to treat an ally crudely, discourteously and offensively.'

So far as world policies are concerned, it is true that Sukarno has been playing the Communist game, and hence a preference in Washington for the Indonesian government above Holland, an old ally, is certainly cause for concern.

THERE CAN BE no disputing the delicate position the United States is in today as it tries to show that it is against "colonialism." This, however, means taking risks with the older countries whose friendship for the United States has by no means been wavering or "neutralist."

The State Department, of course, is being defended as trying to win friends in Africa and Asia, especially among the "neutralist" powers. The Washington "Post," for instance, said editorially the other day:

"IT IS NEITHER easy nor pleasant to differ from an ally; and Portugal has been a friend of the United States and a loyal member of NATO. But an alliance undertaken in mutual defense does not and cannot bind each member to sanction all actions of another member or to agree automatically on policies outside the treaty area."

But, unfortunately, other peoples are not always likely to sympathize with such a viewpoint. Instead, they develop feelings of antagonism and unfriendliness. Thus America's intervention in the Suez dispute in 1956 on the side of Nasser of Egypt, and against Great Britain, France and Israel, may have saved all three countries from guerrilla warfare of costly proportions but the public-opinion polls in Britain, for instance, during the Eisenhower administration undoubtedly registered a drop of several points because of that action of the United States.

ALSO, THERE'S no telling why President De Gaulle today is so uncooperative with American policies and has been giving the cold shoulder to some of the Kennedy proposals, especially in relation to Laos. But this is being speculated on abroad as one of the unfortunate results of Mr. Kennedy's letter about Algeria, written during the campaign, which was interpreted abroad as anti-French.

There was a time when major governments confined their diplomacy to external affairs and when these governments did not interfere in the internal affairs of other countries unless a threat to international peace was involved. What's happening in Angola or in New Guinea is hardly a threat to the peace of the United States, and that's why it seems difficult to understand why President Kennedy is permitting his subordinate officials to mess up relations with allied governments, thus considerably reducing the prestige of the United States among peoples hitherto friendly to this country.

Inherited Policy Has Fixed Pattern

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy's only real surprise for the Russians would be to try something new in American foreign policy. The one he inherited has followed a fixed pattern for years.

At this moment in Laos, the Russians, like poking him with a stick, are testing the obvious and spectacular part of his presidential leadership—how he reacts to crises they create.

FAR LESS noticeable day by day will be the long-range test of his leadership in giving the rest of the world the will to resist communism when there is no crisis or military action at all.

Kennedy has shown dissatisfaction with this country's two main foreign policy weapons against communism—defense and foreign aid—and he has proposed changes.

But they are changes and not new concepts.

In defense he wants more hidden-missile production, such as on the Polaris submarine. He wants better preparedness to fight limited wars. He wants foreign aid made long term so the recipients can plan ahead instead of year-by-year as now.

AMERICAN foreign policy in dealing with Russia was put together in spurts. With the pieces welded together it has remained basically unchanged.

Kennedy's two predecessors, Presidents Truman and Eisenhower, walked this road along which he, too, perhaps can travel indefinitely. There is no assurance it is permanently good enough.

This American foreign policy since World War II has gone through two main phases:

1. The Truman decision to give economic help to countries wishing to avoid the kind of internal collapse which invites communism.

FIRST, IT was help for Greece and Turkey, then for Western Europe, and finally for around the globe.

2. The Truman decision to discourage Communist attack, first in the form of a military alliance with Western Europe. Eisenhower broadened this with other alliances elsewhere.

But this was simply an extension of the Truman policy, not a new one. Eisenhower, however, stood firmly against tests of his leadership on the Lebanon, Formosa and Berlin crises.

But the Russians are stronger now than in Truman's day and they are stronger than they were just a few years ago with Eisenhower.

Therefore being more confident, the problems they create for Kennedy may be far bigger and more hair raising than they dared try with Truman or Eisenhower.

All About Losing Hair

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Don't let worry scalp you. It has been found that extreme mental or physical stress may cause a fallout—at least temporarily—of from 100 to 1,000 hairs a day.

But cheer up. If you have an average of 100,000 or more hairs on your head, you have to lose at least 25,000 before even your closest enemies will notice the loss enough to start prematurely greeting you with, "Hi, baldy!"

How much air do you use? Awake and relaxed, you breathe a pint of air 15 times a minute. Asleep, you ordinarily breathe only 12 times a minute. But if you are having a bad dream the rate doubles to 24 breaths a minute.

It seems to be a woman's world among rats as well as people. Experiments showed girl rats not only can outrun boy rats, they also live longer.

Things do get hot in the national capital. We are informed the Pentagon seeks to maintain a temperature of 78 degrees. This seems a bit high in view of some scientific evidence that man's thinking ability tends to diminish above a temperature of 70 degrees.

Our quotable notables: "As soon as you feel too old to do a thing, do it."—Margaret Deland.

The prejudice against lady drivers predates the automobile. In 205 B.C. Rome passed a law banning women from driving chariots on the grounds they caused too many traffic accidents.

Before communism, Russian Orthodox Catholics were among the world's strictest observers of Lent. Butter, eggs, milk and cheese were completely forbidden as well as meat. Many devout Russian peasants subsisted during the entire Lenten season on nothing but potatoes, bread and water.

Lip service: Don't ask me why, but mustaches are more popular now than they have been in the last 20 years. Thanks to the beatniks, of course, so are beards.

Something new to chew on: Every year some 750,000 Americans are fitted out with artificial teeth.

It isn't necessarily true that if you spare the rod you'll spoil your child. Studies at Cornell University showed that the children of parents who relied heavily on physical punishment to maintain discipline tended to have more feelings of inferiority, less sense of humor, and were less socially adjusted and more easily frustrated than other children.

Do you think of Africa as a pagan continent? About 20 per cent of its population of 224 million is Christian. An even larger percentage is Moslem.

A sobering thought: The United States, one of the richest of nations, still lists suicide as a major cause of preventable death. Every hour a number of people in this country try to take their lives—or make a half-hearted attempt to—and each year some 18,000 or more succeed.

Scientists estimate that in our galaxy alone there may be anywhere from 10 to a 100 thousand planets capable of sustaining some form of life. The big problems: How to find those planets, how to communicate with the forms of life on them—if they do exist.

Greek Food Is Good, But The Wine!

DELPHI, Greece—If I were a great poet, I would sit me in my study and write a splendid ode to the donkey, the patient beast of burden throughout so much of the world. Oh, he may be fractious occasionally. But in Greece, Spain, Portugal and many lands, he is the motor power that moves economic mountains and carries produce and people to and from market.

IN THE PAST 48 hours, my husband and I have seen him in numbers plodding along the roadside under such great loads of brittle grape prunings that we had to look twice to see him.

These prunings from the extensive vineyards of Greece, we are told, are being carried to cottages all over the country to roast the Easter lamb. Much better than the charcoal we Americans buy at the corner grocer's for the outdoor barbecue pit, we are informed.

BUT LET NO one think that food on a flaming sword (or flaming food on a sword) is the invention of Chicago's Pump Room. The Greeks were doing it at least eight or nine centuries B.C. The long, thin bronze skewers, like slender swords, to prove it are in the museum in the Agora, at the foot of the Acropolis, in Athens. Cheek by jowl with the skewers are braziers, equally as old, that are as modern as anything an American backyard pyromaniac buys nowadays to incinerate steaks.

On the way to Delphi, we lunched at Livadia on shish kebab. What else? This is the town speciality. Little bite-size pieces of lamb are skewered on slender bamboo shafts, cooked in minutes over a brazier and served piping hot to the tourist. Yummy!

IT WAS HERE that the waiter asked if we would have a carafe of the local resinated wine, for which the vicinity is famous. In our innocence we said "yes". The first sip proved to us that not since prohibition had anything so lethal passed our lips, and maybe not even then.

My hair gave a reminiscent curl at the roots, but my stomach, weakened by legal potions through the years, rolled over and played dead.

"WHAT IS the secret ingredient of this unusual wine?" asked my spouse, when his tonsils and voice returned.

Well, began the local historian, in the sweet long ago, when wine was kept in goatskins, the skins occasionally sprang a leak. Resin was used to plug the holes. Its powerful flavor, over the years, impregnated the wine. People in the region developed a taste for it, and now resin is added to the wine to satisfy the local demand.

TRAVELING in Greece is much like traveling in the Holy Land: scarcely a place name but conjures up some historic scene or figure. Just driving through the small town of Thebes on the way here was immeasurably exciting to me, although little remains of interest to the visitor.

Its old museum, destroyed by the Germans in World War II, is being rebuilt and soon its treasures, buried during the war, will be dug up and restored to light.

THIS IS A FINE time to be driving through Greece. The air is warm, the sky sunny, daisies carpet the fields and wild almond trees, with a capacity to cling to a rocky precipice equal to the olice, form pink bouquets in the most unlikely places.

Everyone is working in the fields except the school children. Most of the labor on farms is by hand. Men with big, square hoes turn the black earth of the vineyards. Women plant potatoes. Only the gypsies, of whom we have seen a half-dozen bands, straggle indolently along the highways.

Too Much Appetite For Office

WASHINGTON — President Kennedy's Frontiersmen have been called young, intellectual, energetic—but there should be one more item of description. They are office-hungry.

They want so much to get confirmed in their positions that they put on odd, uncharacteristic and almost obsequious performances before Senate committees.

ED MURROW, as proud as a peacock of his reputation for independence, knuckled down and asked that one of his own television films be suppressed. John Kenneth Galbraith, a colossus of physical stature and intellect, collapsed like a glass-jawed boxer as Sen. Wiley roared at him, "Sit down!" when the witness inadvertently left the chair before Wiley had finished the questioning.

The time may have been when private citizens actually were reluctant to make the sacrifice of leaving their comfortable obscurity and entering government service. A folklore persists to that effect—but President Kennedy, the least "drafted" of our Presidents, won the world's finest elective office in a blitz of publicity. He may have laid forever the myth that modesty precedes the call to political duty—and must have passed the example of I-want-it along to his followers.

BUT THE MAN most determined to hang onto his post seems to be Stanley S. Surrey, a Harvard Law School professor, named by the President to be Assistant Secretary of Treasury. The professor, in two sessions before the Senate Finance Committee, took to dodging, doubling and going to earth like a shrewd, life-loving fox in front of hounds. His trouble was that Surrey, like a lot of us who write, had occasionally been sassy at the expense of Congress. But now those oh-so-clever words, those ever-so-caustic criticisms were flung into his teeth and he was commanded—"Eat 'em!"

CHAIRMAN BYRD: "You say this, which you might explain: '. . . a victory for the seeker of the special provision.' What do you mean by that?"

Surrey: "Well, I think what I meant by that was this, and I may be completely wrong, wrong in the analysis of the situation . . . I may be wrong . . . Now if I am wrong . . . it is simply a misunderstanding."

Chairman: "In other words, selfish interests are controlling the congressmen . . .?"

Surrey: "No, no, I did not mean that at all, sir."

Chairman: "It indicates, however, that you do not have a very high opinion of the Congress."

SURREY: "SIR—that is—I think, an implication which is wrong . . . I am sorry that you reach it from that writing . . ."

It is not an elevating spectacle to see a man of learning run away from his written opinions. No public office should mean that much to anybody. Surrey fled from Byrd, but was then cudgeled by Anderson of New Mexico, Kerr of Oklahoma, Williams of Delaware, and Bennett of Utah, finally taking refuge in self-mortification:

Surrey: ". . . a person who changes his role from a private citizen to that of a government official has an obligation to consider all problems from a fresh context . . . the amount of information I have gotten in the last month on tax matters exceeds the amount I got in two or three years as a professor."

CHAIRMAN: "I thought you had been heralded all around the country for a long time as being a great tax expert . . ."

Enough's enough, so let us draw the curtain of charity, but not before drawing the moral: All politicians, even professors, love the pomp and authority of public office—love it better, in many cases, than their dignity.

To Your Good Health

Don't Worry About Size Of Heart

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M. D.

"Dear Dr. Molner: My son 19, recently took a routine chest X-ray and the doctor at the clinic says he has an unusually small heart for a boy his age. Our own doctor said not to worry about it; he has examined my son dozens of times and there is nothing wrong. He is a very tall, thin boy, long-chested, which our doctor said could account for it—H. R. J."

Tall, long-chested people are apt to have hearts that appear small on X-rays. Contrariwise, exceptionally broad-chested people may appear to have slightly enlarged hearts. In such variations, I would place great confidence in the observations made over a period of years—as is the case with your regular physician—and not be unduly alarmed over the fact that your son doesn't happen to be "average." You want him to be healthy, not average. You want his heart to behave, and so long as it behaves well, don't worry because it happens to appear smaller—or broader—on an X-ray plate.

"Dear Dr. Molner: A 14-year-old boy I know has a cyst on the side of his neck. It itches at times, increases in size, and has been drained occasionally by squeezing. Is this advisable? What is the earliest time a cyst can be removed? Is it an operation that requires a specialist?—R. H."

A cyst such as this appears to be—a sebaceous cyst—is not ordinarily a serious matter. Your regular doctor can tell you if by chance it requires a specialist's care.

Squeezing is a pointless as well as perhaps a harmful action, since a cyst tends to keep filling up again as long as the lining remains; hence removal is the only probable cure. Barring unusual circumstances, it can be removed any time. (A branchial cyst may also occur in the side of the neck. These are due to faulty development at that point.)

* * *

"Dear Dr. Molner: Is it possible for a woman who has never had diabetes to have it only during pregnancy, then lose it afterwards?—R. H."

Yes, this is possible, but it does not change the fact that in other circumstances, once you have diabetes you never "cure" it; you only control it.

This "temporary diabetes" in pregnancy is most often found in women who are much overweight; have a family history of diabetes; have had large babies (over 9 pounds at birth), or have had difficulty such as miscarriages or stillborn babies. It may be that none of these applies to this case. It is, however, possible for the classic signs of diabetes to appear (sugar in the urine, high blood sugar) and then disappear after pregnancy. A word of warning: It is quite common for these women to become diabetics later in life.

* * *

"Dear Dr. Molner: I have had canker sores for years. What causes them? I have been told they come from nervous stomach, from acid stomach, etc. I eat plenty of fruits and vegetables—Mrs. R. C."

Canker sores can be stubborn and hard to cure. Among things that can cause them are allergy, irritation from a jagged tooth, sensitivity to toothpaste of some particular type, or mouth wash, or chronic gum infection.

Are you bothered with ringing in the ears? If so, write to Dr. Molner in care of The Big Spring Herald for his booklet, "Ear Noises—Their Causes and Cures," enclosing with your request 10 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

ROUND TOWN

With LUCILLE PICKLE

There's always something for an unsuccessful gardener to look forward to. . .her successful friends' pretty yard. For several years we have tried to bring up some tulips and for several years all we have produced is some that give the appearance of pancakes that have pushed the panic button. Other people all over the city have pretty, perky specimens with proud, straight stems and colorful blossoms. . .ours appear to be so tired from the long push up through the ground they just lie down and if a timid flower comes forth it's too embarrassed to remain. But we do enjoy the neighbor's efforts. The MORT DENTONS have some beautiful beds of the bulbs as do the RANDALL POLKS who are their next door neighbors. And many other yards about the city put forth some gorgeous flowers for the Easter season.

Recipe for a million jobs

The New Zealand Problem

"On these assumptions, the population at the end of 1978 will be 3½ millions. Let us then address ourselves to the question of how an economic force can best be deployed to give us an increased living standard."

Dr W B Sutch, Secretary of Industries and Commerce, in an address to the Technical Education Association of New Zealand.

If the doctor's figures are accurate . . . and there is no reason to doubt them . . . about a million more New Zealanders in the next eighteen years are going to need houses, clothing, food, transport, schools, television sets, hospitals, universities and jobs . . . above all, jobs!

The best way to create more jobs is to make more, grow more and to persuade people to consume what you make or grow.

Advertising does all that and more. It is an essential part of our economy and it is highly probable that our mass production industries cannot exist without it.

You may not like some aspects of advertising but we have to face one simple fact. So far man's ingenuity has not been able to devise a better way of bringing together . . . for their mutual benefit . . . the producer of goods and the potential consumer.

This advertisement appeared originally in New Zealand. The Big Spring Herald is presenting it as one of a continuing series of advertisements explaining the role of advertising throughout the free world. Reprinted by special permission of the New Zealand Association of Advertising Agencies.

Advertising Keeps the Wheels Turning

Vets Are Favored To Cop Master's

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Unless history is wrong, an inexperienced golfer hasn't much chance of winning the Masters Tournament. The only player who ever succeeded on his first attempt was Horton Smith, when he won the first Masters in 1934.

The massive and often deceptive 6,980-yard Augusta National course takes too much knowing for anyone to master it the first time out. Besides sheer power and sharp hitting, it calls for expertly placed drives, keen judgment on approaches and excellent putting.

But outside of defender Arnold Palmer, it's hard to see any of the past winners as likely contenders when the 25th Masters starts Thursday — and they're the men who should know the course best.

Palmer, of course, is the obvious favorite. He has won twice in the past three years. At 31, he's at the peak of his playing career. He has the big game suited to this big course and the kind of temperament that makes him do his best when he needs a birdie or two to win.

Going back a dozen years, only seven other winners are listed—Art Wall Jr., Doug Ford, Jack Burke, Cary Middlecoff, Sam Snead, Ben Hogan and Jimmy Demaret.

Wall suffered a painful rib injury taking a swipe at the ball during the recent Miami Beach Open and will have to miss his second Masters since he won in 1959. A knee injury kept him from defending last year.

Ford, usually the busiest golfer on the pro tour, has played less than usual this year and has had one of his worst winter records.

Burke, a busy business man, has played in only six of 13 winter tournaments and hasn't finished better than sixth, Middlecoff, who planned to return as a full time tourist this year, has played in eight, missing the 36-hole cut three times and placing no higher than 21st.

Although Hogan and Snead play in very few tournaments, both are reported to be hitting the ball very well from tee to green and they're always dangerous here. But they're both going on 49, an age when putting begins to falter, and Ben has been having trouble with those 8-footers for a couple of years. Demaret is admittedly past 50.

That seems to have three possibilities. Can Palmer win a third Masters? Will some brash newcomer finally break through? Or will it be somebody like Ken Venturi, Gary Player, Bill Casper, Peter Thomson, Dow Finsterwal, or Jay Hebert, who has served his apprenticeship learning about Augusta National and now is ready to prove his knowledge and skill?

Barber Wins Azalea Playoff Over Harper

WILMINGTON, N. C. (AP) — Jerry Barber and Chandler Harper, a pair of pappy guy golfers bound for the Masters Tournament opening Thursday at Augusta, Ga., mastered the youngsters here Sunday.

They survived a gruelling 36-hole final day in a tie for first place in the 54-hole $1,000 Azalea tourney and then played a sudden-death extra hole. Barber won with a par four. They had tied at 213, three under par.

The victory was worth $1,206 to the 137-pound, 5-7 veteran from Los Angeles, who will be 45 this month. Harper, who is 47, pocketed $1,006.

Barber, a great favorite here, notched his first major pro victory eight years ago in the Azalea Open, also on Easter Sunday.

Harper, who won the 1950 PGA crown and quit the touring life after his 1955 victory in the Fort Worth Colonial, gave him a great run for it. He led by three with eight holes to go.

But his only missed greens on the last round, the 12th and 13th, resulted in bogeys and he had to par the last hole to get the tie. His birdie bid from 60 feet missed by inches.

On the extra hole Barber unfurled a great drive, got on in two, 35 feet from the pin and made his par, the last putt from 4½ feet. Harper missed the green to the left with his second, chipped up eight feet short and missed his putt.

George Knudson, Canadian pro from Toronto, closed with 68-70 for a 215 total. He tied with Dow Finsterwald, first day leader from Jupiter, Fla., and Tom Nieporte, defending champion from Bronxville, N.Y., each won $806.

Jim Ferree of Crystal River, Fla., was sixth at 217 for $656. Tied for seventh at 218, worth $581, were Bob Nichols of Midland, Tex., and Tom Jacobs of Bermuda Dunes, Calif.

Russell's Sharp Play Paces Celts

BOSTON (AP) — Defense and Bill Russell are the reasons the Boston Celtics have the jump on St. Louis in the National Basketball Association playoff finals.

"Russell was the key—his defense and rebounding," Coach Red Auerbach of the defending world champions said after Sunday's 129-95 triumph over the Hawks.

The best-of-seven series resumes here Wednesday night.

"Russell kept continual pressure on them defensively," Auerbach continued.

"Bob Cousy also turned in a fine defensive job. Our timing was off because we had been idle for a week. So our defense had to be extra sharp to make up for it. That was the whole story."

The 6-10 Russell grabbed 31 rebounds, blocked seven goal-bound shots and on two other occasions had goaltending called on him when he had diverted "sure" shots. He also had 15 points and assisted on four other goals.

"He was just fabulous," Auerbach added.

"This is still going to be a dogfight," chimed in Frank Ramsey who was a Kentucky teammate of St. Louis' Cliff Hagan, the game's high scorer with 33 points.

"St. Louis reached its mental peak Saturday in winning the seventh game of the Western series with Los Angeles," Ramsey said.

"This bad beating is not indicative of what will happen when the Hawks get a good rest.

"Wednesday is the important game. If St. Louis wins we're in trouble. If we win we have a good chance to win one of those televised weekend games in St. Louis and wrap it up in five."

St. Louis coach Paul Seymour, not very optimistic at the Hawks' chances without injured pivotman Clyde Lovellette, heard today he might have the big guy for Saturday's third contest.

Lovellette, who suffered a back injury during the Los Angeles series, has "an outside chance" of playing in St. Louis according to Dr. Stan London.

Stewart Steps Up Training

BEAUMONT, Tex. (AP) — Ian Stewart, the tireless runner from Henley - On - Thames, England, is stepping up his work by three miles per day. He already was doing 14.

Stewart is preparing for the first real competition of the track season, something he has definitely been needing.

Stewart hasn't come close to being defeated in either the mile or two-mile as he spearheads the Lamar Tech track team that will be showing its wares in the Texas Relays this week.

Only once this year has he faced a difficult challenger. That was Fred Norris, also an Englishman. The two met in the Shreveport Relays and Stewart easily won the two-mile in 9:22.4 on a wet track.

"If the track had been dry the winning time would have been right around nine minutes flat," observed Norris.

"I feel that I am not anywhere near my peak," says Stewart. "I am capable of running well under nine minutes in the two-mile and can do lots better than the 4:13.6 mile that I've posted, but I am going to have to find some competition before I can do it."

The 22-year-old distance ace, trained under Percy Cerutty in Australia, still follows the tedious routine laid down by the 65-year-old track wizard whose most famous pupil was Herb Elliott.

His training routine in Australia consisted of running for hours over the soft, sandy beaches and charging up and down the sand dunes.

"It was hard but when you could look by your side and see Cerutty there with you, there was no doubt in your mind that it could be done and that it was all for the best," says Stewart.

Ian will go searching for tougher competition this summer when he journeys back to England for the first time in five years.

Large Field To Take Part In Women's Tourney

DALLAS (AP)—Thirty professionals and nine amateurs have entered Texas' first open golf tournament of the year—the Dallas Civitan Women's Open, scheduled April 12-16 at Glen Lakes Country Club.

The proettes are headed by Mickey Wright and Louise Suggs, who between them have won every women's tournament so far this year. Betsy Rawls, Patty Berg, Marlene Hagge, Betty Jameson and Ruth Jessen are others of the pro field who will compete here.

Heading the amateurs will be Joanne Gunderson, two-time winner of the women's national amateur championship, and Polly Riley of Fort Worth, five-time member of the U. S. Curtis Cup Team.

Mark Shattered By Youngster

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — The nation's short-distance swimming hopes were pinned today on the capable shoulders of Steve Clark, an 18-year-old high school senior from Los Altos, Calif.

Clark staked a solid claim to being the world's fastest swimmer by winning the 100 yards freestyle in an incredible 46.8 seconds Saturday night in the Amateur Athletic Union's (AAU) indoor championship at Yale.

During the three-day meet, national records tumbled in 13 of the 14 swimming events. American marks were eclipsed in all seven finals Saturday night.

The team title went to Southern Cal with 74 points. The New Haven S. C. was second with 44½ and the New Trier S.C. third with 21.

State Records Beaten In Meet

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Houston and Dumas contestants hung up two more new state records Sunday in the Texas Women's Bowling Association Tournament.

One was a Class A all-events mark of 1,863 posted by Sue Kingham of Houston, who teamed with Lou Lane to take over the Class A double lead with 1,203. She eclipsed a 1960 record of 1,839 rolled by Robbye Frey of Dallas.

In Class E doubles, Lorene Kirkland and Pat Southall of Dumas came up with 1,045 to better the 1955 mark of 1,026 held by Muriel Everitt and Beverly Lindsey of Houston.

St. Mary's Cops Own Tournament

SAN ANGELO (AP)—St. Mary's University of San Antonio beat Texas Lutheran 9-7 in a battle of home runs and won its own baseball tournament Sunday.

Third place went to the University of Illinois, which downed St. Mary's College of Minnesota 12-7.

Ken Collins' home run with the bases loaded in the eighth was the winning blow for the St. Mary's Rattlers in the title game. Two-run homers were belted by Juno Druehart of Texas Lutheran and Bill Seberal of St. Mary's.

Texas-TCU Tilt Looms As Crucial

By The Associated Press

The top spot in Southwest Conference baseball goes on the line Tuesday when Texas, winner of 10 straight games, two of them counting in the championship race, faces Texas Christian at Fort Worth.

Texas Christian has a poor 2-7 season record but managed to win the only conference game it has played.

Texas plays Rice at Houston and Texas Christian meets Texas A&M at College Station in Saturday's features. Should Texas beat TCU, the game with Rice would be very important. Should TCU beat Texas, the game with Texas A&M would be the same.

Texas took over the lead last week by blasting Baylor 26-7 and nosing out Southern Methodist 7-6. Rice gave Texas and TCU a boost by upsetting Texas A&M 12-4. It knocked the Aggies out of the unbeaten ranks in conference play.

Texas ran its winning streak to 10 as it whipped Ft. Hood 5-2 in a non-conference struggle.

Texas Christian beat Rice 5-0 to damage seriously the latter's championship chances and Texas A&M walloped Southern Methodist 11-8 to push the Methodists into the cellar.

The week's schedule is heavy although conference play takes up only part of it. Arkansas, which has a baseball team but never competes for the championship, makes a trip to meet Texas Christian at Fort Worth Monday. Southern Methodist at Dallas Tuesday and Wednesday and Baylor at Waco Thurday.

Texas A&M plays Houston at Houston Wednesday while Rice takes on Sam Houston State at Huntsville.

John Pipes, the local golf archivist who makes a study of such things, reminds that the Masters Golf Tournament (which he attended a couple of years ago), is an invitational meet sponsored by a private organization.

These following qualifications, he states, are the principal means of determining the player invitational list, though such eligibility does not necessarily mean that the tournament committee will issue an invitation:

1. Masters Champions.
2. U. S. Open Champions.
3. U. S. Amateur Champions. (Should they still be amateurs.)
4. British Open Champions.
5. British Amateur Champions.
6. PGA Champions.
7. Current Ryder Cup Team. (1959)
8. Current Walker Cup Team. (1959)
9. First 24 Players in Last Year's Masters.
10. First 16 Players in Last Year's U. S. Open.
11. Quarterfinalists (last 8) in Last Year's U. S. Amateur.
12. First 8 Players in Last Year's PGA Championship.
13. One player (either amateur or professional) not on Invitation List, selected by Ballot by Masters Champions.
14. One Amateur not on Invitation List selected by Ballot of U.S. Amateur Champions. (Bob Cochran was choice).
15. One Professional not on Invitati on List selected by Ballot of U. S. Open Champions. (Gene Littler was choice).
16. The two professionals not on Invitation list who establish best showing on the Current PGA Winter Circuit. Points are awarded on the basis of finishes in tournaments up to two weeks before the Masters. 25 points are given for a first place finish, on down to one point for 25th place in each tournament. Points gained are totaled, and the two players with the largest number of points get the final two U. S. Invitations to the Masters. (Bill Collins, 94.5 points; Mason Rudolph 91.5, were named).

The procedure for invitation is mentioned here because it has been reported that ex-Big Spring Billy Maxwell will not take part in the Augusta show.

Maxwell won the Palm Springs Tournament in January and picked up a first place on one of the Caribbean tournaments but apparently does not qualify in any of the aforementioned categories.

If not, he should be issued a special invitation, Billy has not missed a Masters since he won the National Amateur back in 1952.

In a recent magazine article, Satchel Paige tells one of baseball's best stories.

When he and Ned Garver were team mates on the old St. Louis Browns, Ned asked Paige his most exciting moment in the game.

Paige harked back to a close contest in which he relieved in the ninth inning. He took an inventory of the situation and found the bases loaded with none out.

The intent Garver, dead serious about baseball, asked what happened.

"I had an extra ball in my pocket," recalled Paige. "I wound up with both of them, throwing to first and third and picking a man off at each place. Meanwhile, my motion was so good the batter fanned. Three out, side retired."

Finally aware that Paige was pulling his leg, Garver walked away and wouldn't speak to Satchel for several weeks.

Burdette May Be Used In Relief Role

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

BRANDENTON, Fla. (AP — Painfully aware that his Milwaukee Braves must have a top flight relief pitcher for an all-out battle for the National League pennant, Manager Charlie Dressen has just about decided to send Lew Burdette, his right-handed starting ace, to the bullpen.

The Braves did something about relief help last Friday, obtaining two question mark hurlers, Moe Drabowsky and Seth Morehead, from the Chicago Cubs for surplus infielders Andre Rogers and farmhand Daryl Robertson.

But he still could fall back on Burdette for relief work.

Their pitching staff, once their greatest asset, may have been weakened by winter trades to plug holes at second base and shortstop. Starter Joey Jay and Juan Pizarro went to Cincinnati and the White Sox, respectively, and relief pitcher Terry Fox went to Detroit. Ironically, Fox has won the No. 1 relief job with the Tigers.

The Braves unquestionably strengthened themselves at second and short with the acquisition of Frank Bolling from Detroit and Roy McMillan from Cincinnati but they left themselves without an established center fielder when they gave up Bill Burton to the Tigers.

Lee Maye apparently has beaten out the late-reporting Wes Covington for the left field berth. Milwaukee has the best right fielder in baseball in Henry Aaron.

The Braves are overloaded with infielders. With Joe Adcock at first, Bolling at second, McMillan at short and Eddie Mathews at third. It may be the best infield in the league.

Del Crandall, baseball's No. 1 catcher, will handle virtually all the work behind the plate although Charley Lau will be around if needed.

Angelo Lad Wins Houston Net Meet

HOUSTON (AP)—Cliff Richey of San Angelo upset Lamar Roemer of Houston 6-4, 5-7, 6-3 Sunday to win the singles title in the boys' division of the River Oaks Tennis Tournament.

Richey and Roemer teamed to win the doubles.

Junior division play starts later this week and matches in the 27th annual River Oaks men's singles, with some of the world's best amateurs entered, will begin April 10.

ACC's Speedsters Due To Dominate Relay Races

AUSTIN (AP) — Abilene Christian's famed relay teams appear ready to do some record-breaking while dominating the sprint, 880 and mile relays on the Texas Relays.

Already the Wildcats have bettered two of the records with 3:08.9 in the mile and 40.1 in the 440.

The 3:08.9 is a new national collegiate record. It was set at the San Angelo Relays last week. The Texas Relays record for the mile is 3:10.3, held by Texas.

The Texas Relays record in the 440 is 40.2, which Abilene Christian holds itself.

The Wildcats also have done 1:25.2 in the 880-yard relay this season and that indicates they'll probably win this event at the Texas Relays and possibly dip to the 1:22.7 record held by Texas.

Abilene Christian's relay teams had been slowed until last week by various mishaps, including Olympian Earl Young. But all were in top shape Saturday. Dennis Richardson, Pat McKennon, Young and Bud Clanton won the mile relay while Calvin Cooley, Richardson, McKennon and Young formed the 440-yard relay team. This combination also probably will run the 880.

Abilene Christian likewise will offer strong competition in the distance medley and two-mile relays. Frank Taylor, Elvis Istre, Denis Moore and John Lawler will run in the medley. Emmett Essin or Joe Robbins, James Blackwood, Istre and Lawler will do the two-mile.

Spahn's Performance Puts 300-Mark Within His Grasp

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

The end of the rainbow is just 12 steps from Milwaukee mound marvel Warren Spahn who can latch on to the pot of gold this season by becoming the first left-handed pitcher in National League history to win 300 games.

That's one of the few honors left for the tireless, ageless Spahn, a 20-game winner 11 times, the top active southpaw with 288 victories, and at 39 still the ace of the Braves' pitching staff.

Spahn has shown no signs of slowing down this spring while preparing for his 17th season in the big time. He has won four exhibitions without a loss — the latest a nine-inning, five-hit effort that stopped the Kansas City A's, 9-2, Sunday.

TOP JOB

Backed by Hank Aaron's three consecutive homers, Spahn faced only 30 men, striking out three and walking none as he tuned up for Milwaukee's opening day pitching assignment.

Outstanding pitching jobs also were turned in by New York's Whitey Ford and Pittsburgh's Joe Gibbon. Ford shut out Cincinnati, 1-0, on a six-hitter while Gibbon hurled four innings of perfect ball in the Pirates' 4-1 win over St. Louis.

In other games, the Los Angeles Dodgers whipped Minnesota, 7-3, Baltimore belted the Chicago White Sox, 11-5, San Francisco beat Cleveland, 6-1, Philadelphia defeated Detroit, 7-4, the Chicago Cubs edged Boston, 5-3, and the Los Angeles Angels downed San Diego of the Pacific Coast League, 7-6.

Aaron had a 4-for-5 day for the Braves, including his solo homer in the second, a two-run clout in the third and a three-run clout in the fifth. The A's scored against Spahn on Hank Bauer's run-producing double in the seventh and Joe Pignatano's homer an inning later.

FORD HOT

Moose Skowron's homer was all Ford needed and all he received as he became the first Yankee pitcher to go the distance, limiting the Reds to six singles. Skowron's blow was the first of three hits off Jay Hook, who worked the first seven innings for Cincinnati.

Gibbon, Jim Umbricht and Fred Green checked the Cardinals on five hits while the Pirates pounded route-going Bob Miller for 12 safeties — three by Dick Groat.

Umbricht gave up the St. Louis run on Julian Javier's single and a double by Walt Moryn.

Although laced for 13 hits, Dodger lefty Sandy Koufax went the distance against the Twins and held them scoreless until Lenny Green hit a three-run homer in the ninth. Triples by Charlie Neal and Bob Aspromonte paced Los Angeles' 11-hit offensive.

SLUGGER

Earl Robinson's two homers, the second a grand slam that capped a nine-run uprising in the eighth inning, carried the Orioles to their win over the White Sox. Round trippers by Giants' rookies Bob Farley and Tom Haller along with six innings of scoreless pitching by Sam Jones beat the Indians.

Dick Ellsworth struck out eight in four innings of two-hit hurling while Ed Bouchee smacked a two-run homer for the Cubs against the Red Sox. Five hits by Tony Taylor and four by Pancho Herrera paced the Phils' attack after Art Mahaffey was knocked out of the box when a liner by the Tigers' Bill Bruton nicked his elbow.

Julio Becquer stroked three hits and batted in four runs, including the clincher in the eighth, as the Angels came from behind to whip San Diego.

New Cage Rules Seemingly Make No Difference

CLEVELAND (AP — A three-game experiment with a pair of new basketball rules—designed to minimize the big man's advantage—seems to have had little startling effect on the game.

The Cleveland Pipers whipped the College All-Stars in all three exhibitions over the weekend—in Buffalo Saturday night, in Akron Sunday afternoon and here Sunday night.

The games were played under rules proposed by the new American Basketball League, a pro circuit in which Cleveland will participate next season. Three points were recorded for field goal of 25 feet or beyond and the foul lanes around the basket were widened from 12 feet to 18 feet at the baseline.

But only 14 three-pointers were scored, nine of them by the collegians. The wider foul lane seemed to bother the big men to some extent, but it was the tall ones who did most of the scoring.

Fast Times, Long Odds Feature Holiday Races

EL PASO — Fast times and long odds featured the gala holiday racing card at Sunland Park on Sunday.

A booming crowd of 4,295 turned out to contribute to a hefty handle of $226,592.

From the first race, it was apparent that it was a bad day for the favorites. No less than five of the 10 events paid over $14 to win, and in the fifth race Boxtail Lilly paid $35 for a $2 ticket. This, however, faded before the big upset in the tenth when Wise Bear surprised the wiseacres to pay $47.80. The daily double paid $199.95 and the final quinella $247.

Times generally were fast, and in the third race Easter Rose, living up to the day, came within a tenth of a second of the world's record in capturing the quarter-horse spring 17.9.

TESCO Meets Its Demand

No supplier of products or services has to keep just a jump ahead of demand like a supplier of electricity. For instance Texas Electric Service Co. has to have demand service ready for the peak and the company has always maintained something above the top demand.

New homes, new businesses, and new appliances, demand more electricity each day. New homes and older homes now see more appliances being used. Few of these appliances are found which do not demand electric current.

As the season for air conditioning nears the peak, demand for electricity grows, and TESCO is always striving, through better plants, better transmission lines, and sub-stations, to meet this demand.

Housewives are asking for more electrical outlets in their homes to take care of more table and floor lamps, more floor cleaners, more radios, televisions, record players, electric razors for the men of the house, and kitchen utensils which relieve the stove from heavy duty. For every new gadget there is a demand for from 1 to 50 watts more electric energy on the lines.

Texas Electric Service Co. maintains at all times, well-trained and competent men to see that electricity is going where it is needed.

No-Roach Rids Dogs Of Ticks

The new and easy way to rid dogs of ticks and fleas is with Johnston's No-Roach. Simply brush this colorless, odorless coating where dogs lie—in their kennels, near their pads and where they rest.

The odorless coating will rid the area of insects in about five nights. This is the time these pests are most active. The dog will be tick-and-flea free.

You can also dab No-Roach on the dog's fur. This will not harm the dog.

Malathion is used in all cattle ranches as a dip through which cattle are driven to rid them of ticks. This is the active ingredient in No-Roach.

Do not brush a cat's fur with this product, since a cat licks its fur. For cats—just brush the area where they sleep.

Johnston's No-Roach is available in eight ounce and pint sizes at your favorite drug store or supermarket.

Returns To Grave

Oscar A. Kernohan, 33, an AWOL soldier from Ft. Knox, Ky., who led officers to the grave of his wife and stepson in desolate country 40 miles south of Pecos, lights up a cigarette before returning to Pecos. Kernohan told officers a bizarre story of choking his wife to death in San Antonio, killing her son at her shallow grave and slaying a hitchhiker for his money. District Attorney R. B. McGowan said Kernohan signed a statement admitting all three slayings. Kernohan was captured in a New Mexico motel at Truth or Consequences.

Different Views Voiced On Birch

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Different views were voiced today on the death of John Birch, for whom the right-wing John Birch Society was named.

Birch, then an Army captain, was killed Aug. 25, 1945 while on an OSS intelligence mission in central China.

In Billings, Mont., a radio-TV executive, Joseph Sample, who served in the same OSS outfit as Birch, said in an interview: "There was no real object lesson in Birch's death and certainly no glory."

In Los Angeles, stockbroker William P. Weiss Jr.—onetime OSS officer who made up the mission on which Birch was killed—said: "Certainly John was just as much a hero as any other American soldier who died for his country."

In Pasadena, a Los Angeles suburb, manufacturer Gustav J. Krause—another wartime comrade of Birch—said: "He brought about his own death. He didn't die the hero he was supposed to have died."

The John Birch Society, under fire from some national magazines, and newspapers and some congressmen, has been accused of using Fascist tactics in its self-appointed task of fighting communism.

Birch, a missionary's son who spoke fluent Chinese, was shot by the leader of a group of Communist Chinese.

Sample, president of KOOK and KOOK-TV in Billings, said Birch's patrol ran into "a force of Chinese Reds. The Chinese were understandably disturbed by what seemed to them an unwarranted intrusion of their area and demanded an explanation.

"Capt. Birch chose to bluff his way out of a difficult situation. Harsh words led to insults and insults to arrogance."

Weiss, who lives in suburban Alhambra, said: "He (Birch) was risking his life over and above the normal hazards required of our services during the war on a volunteer basis. Unfortunately, he wasn't as skilled as he should have been. But he certainly is just as much a hero, as he died for his country in trying conditions."

Said Krause: "The Chinese Communists would fire at the drop of a hat. Because of Birch's background and his long life in China he threw his weight around. He was the type of fellow who was not a military man but was recruited because of his language ability.

"There were many men who gave their lives — thousands of Americans — who were much greater heroes. But Birch operated on the fact that he knew the Chinese language and had lived in China."

Hunter Takes Coahoma Office

Bill Hunter, designated by the Howard County Commissioners Court last week as the justice of peace for Coahoma, was officially sworn into office Monday morning. Ed Carpenter, county judge, administered the oath.

Hunter then went into a conference with Walter Grice, local justice of the peace, and was evidently brushing up on procedure.

He will begin work immediately at Coahoma.

His salary is to be $60 a month.

Hunter succeeds Mrs. T. H. McCann, who died early in the year. No justice of peace was selected after her death until the citizens of Coahoma petitioned the court recently to make an appointment.

41 Texans Die Over Weekend

By The Associated Press

Easter week-end violence took 41 lives in Texas, including 20 killed in traffic accidents.

The Associated Press tabulated the toll for the period between 6 p.m. Friday and midnight Sunday.

Charles Terry III, who would have been 2 May 23, died at Roscoe, near Sweetwater, Sunday when he was run over by a dump truck driven by his father. Deputy Sheriff J. M. Brascher said the father failed to see the boy playing behind the truck.

Jose Matilde, 31, of San Angelo died Sunday of knife wounds inflicted during a party in a San Angelo park the night before. Police charged Henry Gonzales, 21, of San Angelo with murder.

5 Children Burn, Including Figure In Mistreatment

SAGINAW, Mich. (AP) — Five of Delores Johnson's seven children — including one for whose mistreatment she served a probation term — died in an Easter fire at their home.

Mrs. Johnson, 30, escaped with two by smashing a window. Neighbors held her back when she tried to rush into the blazing house for the others.

The fire swept the old, frame home. Four of the children who lost their lives were trapped at the top of a stairway leading to their bedrooms. The fifth was found downstairs.

One of those who died was Debra, 4.

When Debra was a baby, Mrs. Johnson had punished her for playing with matches. She held the child's hands over an open gas flame. Mrs. Johnson was convicted of cruelty and placed on probation.

Others who perished were Donna Jean, 9; Allen Dale, 6; Andrew Darrell, 4, and Jeffrey James, 3 months.

Mrs. Johnson escaped with Diane Mary, 2, and Darlene, 11.

Where Are They?

The name of the movie is "Where the Boys Are," and that's apparently where these girls are looking, judging from the expressions. They are Dolores Hart, Paula Prentiss, and Connie Francis, and their movie returns to the Jet Wednesday.

ON THE SHELF

RETURN OF THE TIGER. By Brian Connell. Doubleday. $4.50; THE HEROES. By Ronald McKie. Harcourt Brace. $4.75.

Three dark canoes manned by black - faced commandos in black silk tights drifted down on brightly illuminated ships in Singapore harbor.

While roustabouts labored on the ships and a crew member even gazed quizzically at one of the canoes, the commandos fixed bombs to the ships by magnetic boldests and paddled away in the darkness.

Hours later a series of blasts sent seven ships totaling nearly 40,000 tons to the bottom and created a tremendous uproar in the captured port that the Japanese had supposed secure from all hazards.

This raid and a second one—among the greater commando feats of the war — have now achieved their share of immortality, even though 16 years late.

Not one but two books about them are being published within three weeks, one by Brian Connell, an English newspaper man, and another by an Australian journalist, Ronald McKie.

Heroes these commmandos surely were, by any standard, including the Japanese.

The leader of both raids was Ivan Lyon, a dour British officer with a tiger tattooed on his chest, who had been spurred to revenge by the captivity of his wife and child.

In the first expedition he led a party of 13, mostly Australians, aboard a beat-up Japanese fishing boat through more than a thousand miles of enemy held water to within 30 miles of Singapore. There the canoes dropped off to make the final dash. Meantime the fishing boat circled away to Borneo to await the rendezvous.

A year later, Lyon struck again. This time he had a party of 22, a big submarine instead of a worn out fishing boat, baby submersibles called "sleeping beauties" instead of canoes for the actual attack. Everything was bigger, better and more efficient—except luck. As luck had it, an officious patrol boat challenged the junk that Lyon had pirated to carry him within sight of Singapore. The patrol boat was sunk for its pains, but that doomed the expedition.

Taking to canoes, the commandos were hounded from island to island. Most, including Lyon, were killed. Ten were captured and beheaded as spies. The Japanese, nevertheless, treated them with respect bordering on awe.

Not until war's end was their fate known, and until now only cursory accounts of the two raids have been printed.

There are curious parallels and contrasts between the two books. Both authors relate tremendous labors in tracking down the facts; neither indicates he knew about the other. "The Heroes" not only is more detailed but supplies a lot of imaginary conversation. "Return of the Tiger" concentrates its story line, it would seem properly, on Major Lyon.

There are discrepancies — for instance, McKie says the raiders carried suicide pills; Connell does not mention it — but both accounts provide rewarding fare for the adventure fan.

"The Heroes" was first published abroad last year but neither American publisher knew at first what the other was up to.

Kennedy Plans French Visit

PARIS (AP) — President Kennedy will pay a three-day visit to France about May 31 to confer with French President Charles de Gaulle, it was reliably reported today.

The President will be accompanied by his wife, Jacqueline.

The U.S. Embassy in Paris and the French Foreign Ministry refused all comment on the report. But diplomatic sources said confirmation could be expected later today.

French official circles have been discussing the possibility of Kennedy's visit since a Washington rumor to that effect was published last week by the Paris newspaper France-Soir.

While refusing to give any details of the visit, officials today confirmed that a decision had now been made.

The visit was being greeted as a considerable diplomatic victory for President De Gaulle and a sign of Kennedy's respect for France's World War II hero.

Official sources pointed out that by the reported date of the Paris visit, Kennedy will have talked to British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

Stamps In The News

By SYD KRONISH
AP Newsfeatures

Suriname, now an independent nation but formerly known as Dutch Guiana, has issued a new set of stamps with unusual designs. Although the five stamps in this series show local buildings of historic significance, the architecture reflects typical colonial style found in the United States.

One stamp, a 25 cent value, depicts the Neve Shalom synagogue of Paramaribo which recently celebrated its 125th anniversary. This is reported to be the first synagogue ever pictured on a postage stamp.

The 10 cent shows the Ministry of Finance building which is built on the same style as Philadelphia's Independence Hall. Other values illustrate the Masonry Building, Legislative Council and Building 1790.

Nationalist China on Formosa has issued a new stamp honoring its "mail order service" which was inaugurated in 1957. The design features a lobster as its central theme. In the lower left corner is a pigeon carrying a parcel. The Chinese on Formosa are proud of the lobsters found in plentiful quantities along their coast.

Togo's United Nations commemorative issue of six stamps features the new Togolese flag together with the U. N. emblem. The six values are 30 centimes, 50 centimes, 1 franc, 10 francs, 25 francs and 50 francs. Also, soon to be issued by Togo are three more sets. The Crowned Crane issue of four stamps will show the beautiful Crowned Cranes for which Togo is famous. Another new forthcoming issue will mark the first anniversary of Togo's independence. The third set, scheduled for later in the year, will honor the Boy Scout movement and will feature the British and American founders of the Boy Scouts.

Norway has issued four new stamps to honor the 100th anniversary of the Norwegian Sports Federation. The 20-ore yellow-brown depicts a javelin thrower. The 25-ore green shows a skater. The 45-ore red illustrates a ski jumper. The 90-ore purple pictures a sailing boat.

B'Way, Pay TV In Pioneer Link

By WILLIAM GLOVER
Associated Press Drama Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — A current stage hit show, live and uncut, went on the air Sunday night in a pioneer teamup of Broadway and pay television.

"We're all acutely aware of this being a history-making occasion," chirped star Carol Channing of "Show Girl" in a curtain speech. "Anyway, we all lived through it."

Expressing satisfaction with the display was Barney Balaban, head of Paramount Pictures which owns and operates the Telemeter installation for 5,800 subscribers at Etobicoke, Ont., a suburb of Toronto.

"I was a little nervous at first," he said during the performance, "but it's building great."

The two-hour revue, given before an audience at the Eugene O'Neill Theater, was taped simultaneously with the spot transmission. Balaban said it would be rebroadcast over the same circuit nightly for a week.

What home spectators got for $1.50 was the same show visitors to the O'Neill pay $7.50 top to see. No restrictions were evident in stage action to fit the particular requirements of cameras and sound equipment.

At times, particularly on overhead shots some untidiness was noticeable upon a monitor screen. Occasionally a closeup angle would miss a bit of footwork or gesture visible to the theater audience.

There were, however, no alterations in dialogue, songs or material. To keep the atmosphere intact, cameras moved about the aisles before the performance and at the intermission, catching informal crowd glimpses. The guest turnout included a hefty cross-section of theatrical figures, come to see this newest kind of show business.

Sandy Rendezvous

Harry Andrews has a sour look, but Anthony Quale and Sylvia Syms seem to be admiring the hero, portrayed by the guy on the right with a stubbled chin, John Mills. It is a scene from "Desert Attack," showing Thursday at the State.

Clear Skies For Texas

By The Associated Press

Clear skies and mild temperatures lingered Monday despite the arrival of a weak cold front in Texas.

By daybreak the leading edge of the cool air mass lay along a line extending eastward from Sherman to San Angelo. It was continuing to move slowly southward.

Temperatures early Monday varied from 45 degrees at Dalhart and El Paso to 61 at Galveston. There was no rain.

Ideal weather prevailed for Sunday's Easter parade although it was on the chilly side for sunrise church services. By afternoon the top readings ranged from 67 at Galveston to 86 at Presidio.

Forecasts promised clear to partly cloudy skies in all sections through Tuesday with a few scattered showers likely in Northwest Texas. It was expected to be a little cooler in northern areas and mild to a little warmer in south.

Tradition, Color In Mexican Easter

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Traditional color and enthusiasm marked Mexico City's observance of Easter Sunday.

In defiance of police, papier mache dolls with firecrackers inside burned at several spots about the city.

Parks and amusement places drew throngs.

Red Lashed

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Communist leader Vicente Lombardo Toledano, chief of the people's socialist party, was called a "slanderer, divisionist and provocator" by the Mexican Communist party Sunday.
