ON THE MOVE AFTER 333 YEARS—The ancient Swedish warship Wasa, moored between two big pontoons, is towed stern first from spot in Stockholm harbor where she recently was raised to the surface. The craft, 165 feet long and 40 feet wide, was taken to a dock at the Swedish Navy shipyard. Escheat Bill Nixed Again

AUSTIN (AP)—The House refused by a 60-72 vote today to re-approve Gov. Price Daniel's pet plan to seize abandoned deposits and funds for benefit of the state treasury.

The measure failed to get House approval several weeks ago after a long, bitter fight in committee and on the floor.

Daniel has threatened to call a special session on the issue if it is not handled to his satisfaction by the regular session. On April 27 he reminded lawmakers that at least $10 million could be raised by the escheat bill even with all proposed amendments.

"I am not asking for another vote on the bill, I just want to call back the other vote and put it on the calendar where we can consider it another day," explained Rep. Charles Hughes of Sherman.

"After passage of the Hale-Alkin Bill (teachers' pay raise) Monday, a number of members have told me they have changed their mind about the escheat bill and want to take another look at it."

There was no other debate either for or against Hughes' motion.

After the motion failed the House once more turned to a calendar heavy with proposals on taxes, redistricting, jobless pay boosts and other major issues.

Gov. Price Daniel once more threatened a veto to underscore his opposition to a general sales tax. He urged his own plan of financing, but told the powerful Senate State Affairs Committee he would work day and night with lawmakers for a "fair and equitable" revenue measure to meet state money needs.

Daniel's plan mostly reassured previous suggestions for special sales taxes and other revisions of the existing law to yield $18.5 million a year. This included $3.5 million from "non-essential beverages" both alcoholic and non-alcoholic.

The House voted overwhelmingly for an $810 a year salary increase for public school teachers. It passed under all proposed changes in Rep. DeWitt Hale's bill (HB9) setting the minimum salary at $4,014 a year.

The House advanced to third reading a redistricting bill (HB349) seeking to adjust State representative districts to a pattern in line with the population shifts reflected in the 1960 census. The bill was tentatively approved over the protest of South Texas members who said it failed to match their population gains.

The work tempo both on the floor and in committees stepped up as the session moved one day closer to its automatic final May 29.

Legislative leaders continued to insist the 57th session can finish its essential work within the next three weeks if everybody works at it and shows a willingness to give.

Speaker James Turman put a bill (HB28) to increase unemployment benefits at the top of today's calendar. Next in order were the corporation income tax bill (HB960) to raise about $37 million a year, then a natural gas tax measure (HB481) estimated to be worth about $15 million a year.

Monday's action on the redistricting bill also left it in a preferential position on the House calendar. In the final analysis, this bill like most other major measures, will be finally worked by a joint house-senate committee.

Daniel, whose opposition to general sales taxes dates back 22 years when he fought Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel's transaction law, stood underhanded into the Senate State Affairs Committee session to battle the pending measure, HB727, the two per cent sales tax levy.

"If I let it become law without my signature, by Christ you would be asking me to call a special session to straighten the mess out."

Report No Instructions

By DONALD E. HUTH

VIETNAMESE, Laos (AP)—Rebels refused to deal with members of the International Control Commission for Laos at an initial meeting at Hin Heup today, a Laotian military authority said. This further confused the outlook for the 14-nation conference on Laos due to open in Geneva Friday.

"The other side (the rebels) said they could not recognize the ICC," said Lt. Col. Udon Sananikone, spokesman of the royal government's military delegation to the cease-fire talks. "They said they had no instructions."

Indian, Canadian and Polish military officers of the three-nation commission, which is seeking to certify the cease-fire proclaimed last Wednesday, declined comment on their return by helicopter from Hin Heup, the negotiating site 55 miles north of Vientiane. They said they would make their report to the commission's Indian chairman, Samar Sen.

The possibility that the Geneva conference might be postponed was raised by rebel objections to the arrival of the truce commission Monday. The United States, Britain and France have said they will not take part in the conference until the commission guarantees the armistice is in effect.

Sananikone said representatives of the Communist Pathet Lao and neutralist Prince Souvanna Phouma even refused a letter from the ICC group in Vientiane to its ICC counterpart in rebel-held Xieng Khouang.

The colonel said the government requested another meeting for Wednesday and expected an answer later.

The initial refusal to Pathet Lao neutralist group to deal with ICC was not seen as a crisis. But it did add further delay and confusion to the situation that continues to fluctuate under the touchy de facto cease-fire.

Although no major battles have been reported to indicate any all-out rebel offensive, there have been serious incidents.

The most serious is a Pathet Lao attack, with artillery, on Padong, key center for training and supply of fierce Mee Mountain tribesmen who are the best fighters the government has. Padong is a major guerrilla base located just 20 miles southwest of Xieng Khouang.

There have been other lesser incidents.

The commission had asked to sit in on ongoing peace talks between Premier Prince Boun Oum's regime and the pro-Communist rebels in an effort to speed up a formal armistice.

But these appeared virtually no prospect that a coalition government could be formed to represent Laos at the opening of the Geneva conference Friday.

Samar Sen, India, chairman of the truce commission, proposed meeting the rival factions at Hin Heup as soon as possible.

Premier Boun Oum's Western-backed government immediately agreed and sent a delegation north to the village on the Nam Lu River to await a response from the rebels.

Royal government negotiators and representatives of the Communist Pathet Lao and Prince Souvanna Phouma already have held three meetings at Hin Heup, 55 miles north of Vientiane, but have made no progress toward either a permanent armistice or political negotiations.

Sen, accompanied by the Polish and Canadian representatives on his commission, met for 75 minutes today with Boun Oum and Gen. Phoumi Nosavan, strongman of the Vietnamese regime. A spokesman said Sen told them the first task of his truce commission was to certify the cease-fire and then supervise it.

Souvanna Phouma, the Communist-supported head of the rump government in rebel territory, was quoted in a Communist broadcast as saying the commission should have delayed coming until the Laotians had settled some military and political affairs.

Civil Rights Delay Is Seen

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Kennedy administration appears ready to postpone action on major civil rights bills in exchange for a rules revision in this session making it easier to curb Senate filibusters.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said today efforts to revise the rule requiring approval of two-thirds of the Senate to limit Senate debate will precede action on an administration package of civil rights measures introduced Monday.

Mansfield made it clear that even before the rule change is brought up, he hopes to have most of President Kennedy's general legislative program out of the way.

"Otherwise," he said, "we might have a long, drawn-out struggle in the Senate that might endanger the unfinished aspects of the President's program."

Today, after the regular weekly breakfast session of Democratic congressional leaders with Kennedy, Mansfield repeated that he looks for action on civil rights only after Congress has completed the administration legislative program.

Mansfield said Kennedy already is using his executive authority to bring effect to halt racial discrimination.

"Great progress is being made in that field," Mansfield said.

The White House defender for Mansfield's remarks lent support to speculation that any major action on civil rights legislation will be delayed until next year.

Mansfield left little doubt that any real attempt to enact the six bills offered in the Senate and House by Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., and Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., will have to wait until 1962.

Angola Change Urged

By TOM OCHILTREE

OSLO, Norway (AP)—Some of Portugal's allies urged her today to revise her African colonial policy, one of the issues cranking up the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

NATO ministers, meeting in closed session, revealed their concern at the bloodshed in Angola, Portuguese territory that could become another Congo.

Portuguese Foreign Minister Franco Nogueira was told that his country could not expect to have the other NATO powers blindly support Portuguese actions in Africa in the United Nations.

Portugal has been particularly bitter at the United States for supporting U.N. resolutions urging reforms in Portuguese policy in Angola.

The advice which Nogueira received was carefully phrased.

Thus, however, was the underlying theme. Most of the members of the 15-nation alliance—including Britain and France—recognize that the old colonial days are gone. They believe the wise thing to do now is to come to terms with African nationalism so that emerging native peoples will stay with the Western world.

Norwegian Foreign Minister Halford Lange advised the Portuguese that it was unwise to ignore what Britain's Prime Minister

Cool Weather Covers State

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Temperatures were relatively cool for May in Texas Tuesday morning.

The thermometer registered near 40 in the Panhandle and South Plains, and into the upper 60s and lower 70s along the coast and in most of the Valley section.

Temperatures before dawn varied from 41 at Lubbock to 74 at Brownsville.

There were some scattered clouds in the Amarillo area but elsewhere skies were clear.

Forecasters called for continued fair weather and rising temperatures through Wednesday.

M.C. Harrison, chief meteorologist at the Dallas Weather Bureau, said, investigation of the storm that hit Plano early Monday showed that "damage" was from a strong straight wind and not a tornado. Damage was estimated at up to $100,000.

Ex-Deputy Is Acquitted

CLEBURNE (AP)—Former deputy sheriff G. R. Bufkin of Amarillo was acquitted today on a charge of trying to bribe a fellow officer.

After the last witness was heard, the defense moved successfully for an instructed verdict clearing Bufkin.

A jury including three women was completed Monday and testimony began. Bufkin, 38, is being tried here on a charge of offering a bribe after legislative investigators heard testimony about gambling protection payoffs in a 1960 hearing at Amarillo.

Tommy Petropoulos testified that Bufkin gave him $100 bill which he later returned.

Petropoulos, a former night captain in the sheriff's office at Amarillo, said Bufkin handed him a $100 bill on Dec. 15, 1958. Petropoulos heard testimony about gambling protection payoffs in a 1960 hearing at Amarillo.

The witness said he was told to call Davis at an unlisted phone number.

Petropoulos said he later gave the bill back to Bufkin and told him he couldn't accept it.

Petropoulos said, under cross-examination, that he was told by Sheriff Paul Gauthier to stay away from the steak house.

Tennesseean 1961 Mother Of Year

NEW YORK (AP)—A Tennessee mother of six who has been foster mother of hundreds of dependent or delinquent children was named American Mother of 1961 today.

Winner of the annual selection from state mothers across the nation is Louise Senior Giddings, Currier, 58, of Lookout Mountain, Tenn.

She was cited for rearing her own children—including home tutoring for many years of four who were unable to go to school because of ill health—and for her efforts in improving the housing and treatment of juvenile delinquents, neglected and dependent children, and mentally or emotionally disturbed children, regardless of race or creed.

Her current projects are a residential treatment center for disturbed children, and a home for

Liberals Shun Endorsement

Harris County Democrats, an organization of Liberal members of the party, has refused to endorse either of the candidates in the special U.S. Senate runoff election May 27.

The action came in the midst of efforts to unite the divergent elements of the state Democratic Party behind interim Sen. William A. Blakley in his contest with John G. Tower, Wichita Falls Republican.

Blakley opened his run-off campaign with a big rally in Waco last Friday night attended by state party officials and state and local party leaders. Shortly before the rally opened two Liberal Democratic leaders in Waco, former state Sen. George Nokes and former

East Pakistan Is Hit By Cyclone

DACCAR, East Pakistan (AP)—A cyclone struck the East Pakistan coastal district early today and an official report here said "three big steamers were sunk and two ships were in danger" at Khulna.

The cyclone was the third major weather disaster reported in seven months on the East Pakistan coast of the Bay of Bengal.

Nearly 14,000 persons were killed or swept out to sea during a series of hurricanes last October. At least 180 persons perished in a tornado in March.

Quie Homecoming Scheduled For U. S. Astronaut Today

LANGLEY AIR FORCE BASE, Va. (AP)—America's first spaceman, astronaut Alan B. Shepard Jr., returns today with his family to the cottage at Virginia Beach where his wife awaited the outcome of his historic venture.

Perhaps trying to spare Shepard the commotion that has attended him since his brief journey into space last Friday, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) declined to say just when the astronaut and his family would leave here.

Adopted Children Respond Quickly

WESTON, VI. (AP)—"Why are we going to Troy today?" the child asked.

It was a tough question for Mrs. William H. Newhall of Weston to answer.

She thought a moment as she and her husband drove toward Troy, N. Y. She glanced at the four children—the two boys, one Korean, one Navajo, and the two girls, a Chippewa and a Negro. Then she replied: "Because some people seem to think we're an unusual family."

Mrs. Newhall related the fragment of dialogue the other day after a meeting of the board of directors of the Troy YMCA. The Newhalls were the guests of honor. Newhall had just been signed as a director of Camp Van Schoonhoven.

The Newhalls—she is a school teacher, he is a distributor of health foods and a farmer—plainly do not think their family is as unusual as other folk do.

"We took them all right up to the school," Newhall, a ruddy-faced, quick-smiling, lean man said of the children.

In the past five years the Newhalls have taken these children of different racial and cultural backgrounds into their home and adopted them.

"We have them made to order, so to speak," Newhall said of his put-student domestic United Nations.

The Newhall "mail order" family includes Kim, 12, the Korean boy; Virgil, 13, the Navajo; Mona Lisa, 8, the Chippewa; and Linda Ann, 5, the Negro.

Together the Newhalls operate a nearly self-sufficient 30-acre farm at Weston. In the summer, in winter—to save on tuition bills—they live in Springfield, VI., where Mrs. Newhall teaches and he's "dad."

France Not Liable For Tragic Blasts

HOUSTON (AP)—France is not liable for the United States' worst industrial disaster, the U.S. Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals has ruled 14 years after the series of explosions at Texas City, Tex., that killed 579 persons.

The New Orleans court, in an opinion received here Monday by mail, reversed a decision by Federal District Judge Ben C. Connally.

The U.S. government filed a $70 million damage suit against France and the French Lines because the first of the series of fires and explosions started on the French ship SS Grandcamp at Texas City, Tex., April 16, 1947.

Connally ruled in 1950 that the French were negligent in not taking proper fire precautions. In its ruling the U.S. Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals told him to rule that France and the French Lines were not liable for any claim from the disaster.

Connally is expected to enter a new order in the next few days. The U.S. Attorney General here has not said whether the case will be appealed to the U.S. Supreme Court.

Boll Weevil Is Described

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Alford P. Santangelo, D-N.Y., a city boy born and bred, knows more about a boll weevil than he knows about a boll weevil.

At a recent hearing of a House Appropriations subcommittee on Agriculture Department funds, released today, Santangelo addressed Dr. T. C. Byerly of the department.

"You have to pardon this question because I am from the city, but could you give me a picture or a visual description of the boll weevil?" he asked.

"Yes, sir," said Dr. Byerly. "A boll weevil is a rather small and insignificant little fellow with a long snout. It comes along when the bolls are open and it chews into the squares."

"What color is it?" asked Santangelo.

"It is a gray, small, insignificant little thing," Byerly replied. "I would be glad to insert in the record a picture of a boll weevil and the damage it does; if you like."

"I would like to see a picture of it," Santangelo said.

in the school system. But no matter where they are, the Newhalls—all six—sing, work, paint and dance together.

The story of the origin of this multiracial family begins with a tragedy: the death of a son of the Newhalls. It hit hard.

"You can't have a family if you don't have children," Newhall said.

"We went to recognized adoption agencies," his wife said. "But we were told we were too old to adopt a child, and they told us we didn't have enough money. So when we heard that you could adopt Korean war orphans, we jumped at the chance."

Mrs. Newhall is 46.

Several months and a few hundred miles of red tape later, Kim, a frightened, hunger-weakened boy of 9 stepped off an airplane and into the hearts of the Newhalls.

"He was just skin and bones," Newhall recalls. "He had no coordination at all."

Today Kim is a good musician, artist and a hard-working farmer.

Next came Virgil, now a strapping baseball player.

"One day we heard about Virgil," Mrs. Newhall said, "and the next Bill was flying out to Denver to adopt him."

Mona Lisa comes from a large Canadian Indian family. Two of her older sisters visited the Newhalls before Mona's arrival.

"I asked the mother if we could keep Mona," Mrs. Newhall said. "And she said yes."

Linda Ann found her home through the Vermont Welfare Service.

All the children were quick to respond to the affection the Newhalls provided. She's "mom" and he's "dad."

Other fires were started in the industrial area. Huge petroleum storage tanks exploded. The Grandcamp disintegrated. Houses were leveled. Two other ships exploded.

A 15-foot tidal wave inundated a large area. Two small planes were knocked from the air. Windows were broken in Baytown, 23 miles away.

When the final count was made after the two days of explosions, at least 579 were dead, nearly 3,500 injured.

France filed a petition seeking maritime exoneration in 1954 and listed about 4,000 claims totaling more than $1 billion.

A suit was filed against the U.S. Government, and a district court ruled the government liable. The New Orleans court and the U.S. Supreme Court reversed that decision.

The U.S. filed suit against France and the French Lines in May, 1957.

The U.S. government passed the Texas City Relief Act and settled $70 million in claims for $16.5 million. The act provided for up to $25,000 for uninsured individuals. Insurance companies paid other claims.

The court's 4-1 opinion said "it would be ironic indeed" if the U.S. imposed liability on France after saying U.S. Government workers were not responsible for knowing the fertilizer might explode.

"Two red herrings have been carefully and sedulously drawn by the appellants across the trail of true facts," Judge Joseph C. Hutcheson said in his dissenting opinion.

He said the court was invading the province of the district judge when it decided if the explosion was possible or probable.

Houston Golf Stock Soars

By ROSS MC HAGEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—The University of Houston is unchallenged as the leading golfing school in the nation, but this wasn't always the case. And much of the credit for the Cougars' phenomenal success belongs to Coach Dave Williams.

Houston has won an unprecedented five straight National Collegiate Athletic Association team titles and has produced the individual NCAA winner the past four years.

The Cougars began their ascent from golf's limbo in the spring of 1951 on a Houston golf course where Athletic Director Harry Fouke and Williams were engaged in a friendly match.

"Would you like to become our golf coach," asked Fouke, knowing that Williams was avidly interested in sports although then employed by the university as an engineering instructor.

"Why not," said Williams. "Why, I'll give you a championship team in no time."

At that time the statement sounded like the joke it was intended to be. Houston had won only one of its 14 matches in 1951 and prospects weren't any better for the following year.

But under the guiding hand of engineer Williams, the Cougars finished 11th in the NCAA tournament in 1952, eighth in 1953, fifth in 1954 and fourth in 1955. Then came 1956 and Houston romped home with the championship trophy and appeared to have taken out a patent on it.

The Cougars were flying high in 1960, rolling up 21 straight tournament victories in competition with 287 teams. Then they ran afoul of an old jinx, the Southern Intercollegiate, played here every year.

For the second straight year, Richard Crawford failed to make it into the finals of the SIC although he had won the NCAA individual title. And his teammates couldn't do much better so the Cougars went back to Texas with a defeat.

The disappointed Cougars started another victory string, winning six straight tournaments. And they smashed the Athens hex by capturing the team title with a record-breaking score last week.

The Cougars compiled a score of 568, two strokes better than the old record set by North Texas State in 1951.

Ron Weber, the No. 5 man on the Houston team, won the SIC crown, his first big tournament victory, with a 280. Teammate and national collegiate champion Richard Crawford was third with 282 and the No. 1 man on the Cougars team, Homero Blancas, tied for fourth with Frank Beard of Florida at 283.

Williams offers this description of his victory formula: "We inspire in our boys loyalty and a desire to win. If a boy has the desire, we can teach him to play championship golf. But he's got to have that determination. The greatest thing about Houston is its team spirit. It's tremendous."

Yanks, Angels Don 'Trading Britches'

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The New York Yankees, who open a two-game series here tonight, have been bolstered in two departments by a trade with the Los Angeles Angels. It was a deal in which the Angels gambled on Ryne Duren and "Youth."

The Bronx bombers, hard up for late-inning relief pitching and right-handed pinch hitting, got Truman Cleveland, a slugger, and Rob Cerv. In return they gave the Angels Duren, a hard-throwing but often erratic relief pitcher; pitcher Johnny James; outfielder Leroy Thomas; and an unnamed outfielder.

"We wanted Cleveland," said Yankee Manager Ralph Houk, "to be a finisher on our relief staff. (Luis) Arroyo has been doing all of the late-inning work and we needed someone to help him."

Cleveland, a 28-year-old right-hander, has pitched superbly in relief for the Angels, appearing in 12 games and permitting an average of less than two earned runs. He has a 2-1 record.

Duren, 31, one of the hardest throwing pitchers in the majors, was the Yankees' ace reliever in 1958 and 1959, when he posted ERA's of 2.01 and 1.87. He's been ineffective this year, but, said Angels Gen. Mgr. Fred Haney in Los Angeles.

"I think Duren will be a better pitcher for us over the long haul than Cleveland. I didn't want to peddle Cleveland and tried two or three other guys in there, but I couldn't make a deal that way. I'll be panned on this deal, but I don't give a damn who wins the pennant this year if we can't."

The youngsters in the deal are Thomas, 25, James, 28, and may be the unnamed outfielder.

Thomas, who bats left handed and throws right, hit .26 for Richmond of the International League last season. In two times at bat for the Yankees this season he had one hit.

James, a right-hander, posted a 4.40 ERA with New York last year, winning five games and losing one. He also won three and lost two for Richmond.

Arroyo, a 28-year-old right-hander, has pitched superbly in relief for the Angels, appearing in 12 games and permitting an average of less than two earned runs. He has a 2-1 record.

Duren, 31, one of the hardest throwing pitchers in the majors, was the Yankees' ace reliever in 1958 and 1959, when he posted ERA's of 2.01 and 1.87. He's been ineffective this year, but, said Angels Gen. Mgr. Fred Haney in Los Angeles.

Von Roeder, Denson Post First Wins

A softball double bill served to touch off City Softball League action here last night on the Winston Park diamond, as two top heavy wins were registered by the Von Roeder Seed Farm and Denson Service mines.

Von Roeder clouted Greenhill Baptist in the evening's opener, 18-2, behind Pottys Neep, who struck out 8. Bill Hallmark was charged with the loss.

In the other contest of the night, Denson rallied behind the one-hit wizardry of Lonnie Crosby to ring up a 12-1 victory over Devers Mobile, as Crosby sent 14 men down on strikes over a five-inning span on the mound.

Devers' one run was of the unearned variety.

Howard Jones, with a single, double and home run in four trips, paced the Denson player parade, while James Cantwell was the losing hurler.

In the only scheduled game of tonight, Harlin Orlers will clash with R. E. Smith.

Rannefeld Signs Pact At H-SU

HERMLEIGH (Special)—Donnie Rannefeld, star Hermleigh Cardinal lackie, has accepted a full four-year grid scholarship from Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene.

Rannefeld, a six foot, 240-pounder, lettered the past four years as a Card lineman, and reached his peak of success the past year when he was named to both the all-district offensive and defensive units and the all-area designation as selected annually by the Abilene Reporter-News.

The season prior to that he was placed on the all-district second unit during a season which saw the Cards posting a 5-5 won-lost record.

He is the third member of the undefeated regional champion Cardinals of Coach Ted Averitt to be awarded a grid pact during recent weeks, the other being halfback Joe Paly, who is destined for Abilene Christian College, and quarterback Wallace Wall, who will ply his wares for McMurry College.

Rannefeld, 18, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Troy Rannefeld of Hermleigh.

NEW YORK (AP)—The new National League team that will play in New York in 1962 still hasn't got a ball player but it finally has a name—the Mets.

Mrs. Charles Shipman Payson, principal stockholder in the club, christened the new team Monday after sifting through 644 names and 8,613 suggestions.

One fellow suggested "Apple Throwers," and another the "Buffalo Chasers." There were "Astro-nauts," "Hatchlings," "Continents," and everything from "Able" to "Zorro."

As the newspapers had been calling the team the Mets for many weeks, the official christening actually merely followed the trend.

The club announced a contest with a $1,000 prize for the best team emblem.

Detroit center fielder Bill Burton played 415 minor league games before making the grade with the Milwaukee Braves in 1963.

Tigers, Tors In Crucial Clash Today

The Snyder Tigers are to open a crucial best of three games series against Lamesa today, with the District 3-AAA baseball title "up for grabs" to the winner.

Site of the contest, a 4 o'clock affair, is Lamesa's Lobo Park. The second game will be unrec'd in Snyder Thursday and the third, if needed—in Snyder Saturday.

Following Snyder's Saturday victory over Sweetwater and Lamesa's loss to Colorado City, the race was thrown into a final two-way tie, Snyder and Lamesa deadlocking with identical 4-2 marks.

Yesterday's Tiger workout was sparked by the return to practice of senior second sacker Bubba Fleming, who was sidelined the latter part of March with a broken left hand. The cast has been removed from the hand and was encased in a sponge rubber protector so as to prevent further injury, and Fleming was taking his regular turn at the keystone sack.

He won't start today's game, however, as the hand is still in the final mending stages.

Charlie Gladson, who throws from the right side, is Coach Speedy Moffett's mound choice for today's important firing. He has a 2-4 record for the season, and is 1-0 district-wise.

Dyer's strapping average has been gained on the strength of 50 safe knocks in 114 at bats. Moffett leads the team in runs batted in with 22, while Greenfield, Weldon Dares and Dyer are tied for the doubles leadership with 8 each; Ware leads in triples with 3; and Wyle has clouted the most home runs, 3.

Ware is temporarily sidelined with a back ailment and is not expected to see action.

The probable Tornado lineup will read Sherrill Kidd, left field; David Harris, second base; Harvey Everheart, catcher; James Woods, first base; Ken Crouch, shortstop; Robert Hollmann, third base; Melvin Keithley, pitcher; Aubrey Cox, center field; and Larry Rossen, right field.

Keithley, a righthander, is the ace of the Tornado mound crew. He has split a pair of previous decisions in earlier action against the Tigers.

The San Francisco Giants pitching staff turned in 16 shutouts during the 1960 season.

SNEAD GRINS AS HE HANDLES WINNINGS—A grinning Sammy Sneed holds up some of the silver dollars he won as first prize of $10,000 for low score in the 9th Annual Tournament of Champions at Las Vegas, Nevada. Sneed carded a low score of 273 for the four day tournament, beating out his nearest rival, Tommy Bolt, by seven strokes. (AP Wirephoto)

Keeping The 'Bite' On

DENISON, TEX. (AP)—There'll be no "just call me toothless" quips among Denison High School football players next fall if Denison dentists have their way.

The dental association has volunteered to work with the Denison Quarterback Club in providing individually tailored mouth guards for all senior high school gridlers.

The dentists will take impressions of each football player's mouth and provide personal molds to be used in making rubber mouth guards.

Scenes Of Old Lawlessness Are Preserved For Tourists

By INEZ ROBB

TOMBSTONE, Ariz. —Admittedly, there isn't as much drama in the sound of a hammer as in the bark of a shot, or in the sound of a mason as in that of a dancer, but Tombstone is a place where the scenes of old lawlessness are lovingly preserved for tourists. That includes the Cosmopolitan Hotel where the "Buckskin" Frank Leslie in 1880 killed Mike Killen and promptly married his widow, in whose arms the luckless Killen had found love.

One has to read almost to the end of "Tombstone Map and Guide" before he finds mention of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, "the oldest Protestant church in Arizona." I wonder how many tourists, after visiting the O. K. Corral, scene of one of the West's most famous massacres—that between the Earp brothers and a group of opponents—and gazing at Queen's Bowling Alley where Killer John W. Behrman-The Deuce murdered W. F. Schneider, ever find their way to this beautiful little church?

Or how many visitors, if they do seek out St. Paul's, realize that in Tombstone's bloodiest days, devoted and law-abiding citizens were building this church? It was begun in 1881 by a young minister whose first and only parish was St. Paul's. He was a Boston Brahmin, a graduate of Cheltenham College, Cambridge University, England.

No more unlikely vicar for a parish in violent Tombstone could have existed than the late Rev. Edmund Peabody who, after St. Paul's was completed in 1882, returned East to found and become the world-famous headmaster of the Groton School for boys. I wonder when I return to New York that his granddaughter, Mrs. Marietta Peabody Tree, U. S. member on the U. N. Human Rights Commission, can tell me how her grandfather, plunged from the stately calm of Cambridge University into the turmoil of Tombstone, reacted.

Was this vigorous man ever, I wonder, called upon to bring spiritual strength in the final moments to some luckless man shot down because another disliked the color of his shirt or his judgment of a cock fight? Did he perform the last rites for hunter and the hunted alike who lie in Boothill Graveyard?

One thing is certain: The Rev. Peabody left behind him in Tombstone a permanent and a lovely monument in a small church still bearing eloquent testimony that in the toughest mining camp of its day, there was decency and grace abounding.

How well I remember hearing my great-grandmother, my grandmothers and their contemporaries, all pioneer women in California and Idaho, say that when wives accompanied their husbands West, they no sooner struck a permanent camp than the women organized two institutions.

On the first day they founded a school for their children and on the second they organized the church. That program was part and parcel of the winning of the West. As I sat in St. Paul's I remembered my Grandma Callaway who, scarcely out of her teens, helped found the Christian Church in Caldwell, Idaho.

When I go back to Caldwell to visit, and see the church's magnificent new plant, I always wish that my grandmother could see what has grown out of the little white frame church she supported for so many years.

Even as the Rev. Peabody was building St. Paul's, an Irish immigrant named Nellie Cashman, fondly called "The Angel" of the camp, was collecting funds and starting a Catholic church.

Nellie ran a boarding house for miners but, according to Tombstone history, "her principal business was to feed the hungry and shelter the homeless, and her chief diversion was to relieve those in distress and to care for the sick and afflicted."

It seems to me that either Nellie's life or that of the Rev. Peabody in Tombstone would make a wonderful and vigorous Western. At least, it would be different. Copyright, 1961, by United Feature Syndicate, Inc.

New Proposal On Tideland Due

POINT CLEAR, Ala. (AP)—A proposal for a legal fight over coastal lands formed naturally by accretion was to be presented today to southern attorneys general.

Atty. Gen. Jack Gremillion of Louisiana said the government is claiming such lands in Florida and Louisiana despite congressional action in 1953 which confirmed if the several states titles to islands and shorelands created by tidal buildup.

One Actor Still Lives Grand Life

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Few actors since the late John Barrymore have been able to live up to the grand manner of the stage.

Cyril Ritchard is one.

This idea of just being a Tom Dick or Harry is all wrong," said the Australian-born star, now appearing on Broadway.

"The people in the theater should be a face apart. When they appear in public, which should be seldom, they should look as glamorous as they do on stage."

Ritchard made his most memorable hit in this country several years back in the role of Capt. Hook in "Peter Pan" in which he costarred with Mary Martin. But over a 44-year career on three continents he has won renown as a play and opera director as well as for his genius in musical comedy.

At 62, the tall actor looks 45. That can be at least partly be attributed to his theory that life should be lived in the grand manner.

"I live in a small world of my own," he said, putting down his second luncheon martini and reaching for his sea food.

His "small world" includes his valet, Eddy Parr, an ex-British army cook, and two other servants in his city apartment. It also includes two more servants at his country place.

Describing his country place, Ritchard said:

"It's just a small lake—5½ acres—with a small lake and a small waterfall.

"Everything is lit up at night—even the trees—because, after all, I am theatrical."

"I have beavers and bird baths, and a deer comes in now and again for afternoon tea."

"All this helps keep me sane."

Ritchard keeps in shape by swimming and playing badminton but says his real hobby "is living—enjoying a sound life apart from the theater, although I'm not sure just what is sound."

But I enjoy getting up in the morning. I like the days. I don't like parties after 1 a.m. They are boring.

"What else bores me? Well, self-appointed critics, smugness, successful businessmen unless they're humble—people who are satisfied, and people who are hypertense and lack control of themselves."

But the young never bore me. They can be helped, and I like to help."

Daily Crude Flow Drops

TULSA (AP)—Daily average domestic oil production dropped 111,500 to 7,151,000 barrels during the week ended May 6, the Oil and Gas Journal said today.

The decline was attributed to a lower May allowable in Texas, on an 8-day producing schedule as compared to nine days in April. Texas was down 133,550 to 2,801,229 barrels.

Oklahoma topped the states with increases, adding 14,150 to 956,700 barrels. New Mexico increased 4,200 to 315,600.

The Journal estimated 1961 production at 916,302,900 barrels compared with 807,259,200 a year ago. Louisiana was down 4,150 barrels to 1,138,250; and Arkansas, 75 to 82,750.

2 Americans Are Executed In Bahamas

NASSAU, Bahamas (AP)—Two Americans died on the gallows of Nassau Prison today for the murder of a Florida charter boat captain. They were Alvin Table Jr. and Billy Wayne Sees, and were the first Americans ever executed in the Bahamas.

Table, 25, mounted the scaffold at 7:40, and an hour later, his partner in crime, Sees, 23, was put to death.

Table and Sees were convicted of slaying Capt. Angus Boatwright, 55, of Islamorada, Fla., on April 24, 1960, at Elbow Key in the Bahamas.

Testimony at the trial showed that Table and Sees stole a 42-foot cabin cruiser in Key West and headed to sea with Table's bride of a month, Barbara, 18, of San Antonio, Tex.

They ran out of gas and the boat drifted onto rocks and broke up. The trio took refuge in an abandoned lighthouse where they remained three days.

Boatwright and his mate, Kent Hokanson, 29, also of Islamorada, happened along in the 36-foot charter boat, Muriel III, with four passengers aboard.

Sees signaled the boat then later swam out and boarded it. Testimony showed he pulled a revolver and ordered Boatwright and the others into the stern.

When Boatwright grabbed a rifle, Sees shot and fatally wounded him. Before he was shot, Boatwright had radioed the Coast Guard at Miami, Fla., that he had found two men and a girl on Elbow Key.

Table and Sees forced the mate and passengers ashore and sped away. Table's wife refused to go with them.

An hour later a Coast Guard amphibian plane picked up the abandoned party and a Cuban gunboat overhauled Table and Sees the following day when the Muriel III ran aground on an island in Cuban territorial waters.

After their conviction, Table, of Torrance, Calif., and Sees, of Elbow, Ark., appealed to the Privy Council in London but lost.

Parking Lot Caves In

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP)—A huge underground auto parking area project collapsed with a roar Monday night, creating a vast chasm filled with twisted scaffolding on fashionable Wilshire Boulevard.

No injuries were reported at the site of the four-floor excavation, scheduled to be completed next year.

Police said the cave-in apparently was caused by a ruptured water main beneath the half-block long site.

The parking area was being built beneath the multimillion-dollar California Bank building, now under construction.

Water from a broken main was gushing into a hole nearly 90 feet deep, filled with scaffolding, broken concrete and timbers.

Police closed all but two lanes of Wilshire Boulevard after the street sank about 1 1/2 feet, near the pit.

From then on, it's strictly brass bands, gaiety—and pretty girls.

More than 100,000 persons are expected to take part in the first night's revelry.

The affair continues through Saturday night with parades, shows and dances.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—She didn't lose weight. The hypnotist didn't hypnotize her.

So testified Celia Baca, 25, who received a $100 judgment Monday in Superior Court against professional hypnotist Isadore Cantor.

Mrs. Baca said she paid Cantor $100 on the representation that he would reduce her weight by hypnosis. But her weight rose from 150 to 176 pounds, she said.

"She went to Mr. Cantor to lose weight and all she lost was her $100," Judge Walter C. Allen said. "She gets that back."

Animals Of Zoo Puzzled By Strike

NEW YORK (AP) — The monkeys are morose. There's nobody to shake faces at.
 The elephants trumpet loudly for peanuts. But no one hears.
 The Bronx Zoo is a sad and lonely place. The critters can't understand why they haven't had any visitors in more than a month. Why the chow is so monotonous.
 There is plenty of good, plain food served by a skeleton staff of keepers that a union left on strike when a strike closed the zoo and the aquarium at Coney Island.
 But it's nothing like the peanuts, popcorn and other choice admits that children used to toss to the chimps, elephants, hippopotamuses, ostriches, squirrels and their cage mates.
 Their chattering, howling and squawking for attention these unhappy spring days is all in minor key.
 One keeper took his charges' plight so much to heart that he asked the curators and their aides to "please walk through the monkey house on your way to lunch." He said the monkeys were pining to "see a human face."
 The squirrels — usually surfeited with peanuts from visitors — have taken to outright thievery. Zoo controller Herbert Schiemann said one of them ran up his arm outside the cafeteria and stole a biscuit out of his fingers.
 A squad of mendicant squirrels, a couple of domestic cats, a flock of pigeons and a screaming peacock follow a woman zoo executive who scatters crackers on her walk from the cafeteria back to her office.
 Two wild Australian dogs have been released from the kangaroo house and allowed to run after their keepers. The giant tortoises are free to lumber around in the reptile house — safe from children and adults.
 Jimmy, a big chimpanzee and the best comedian in the great apes house, dances in joy whenever a keeper appears.
 The strike at the zoo and aquarium was called by a union seeking recognition as bargaining agent. Both institutions are run for the city by the New York Zoological Society.

Asks Probe Of Weekly

DALLAS (AP) — Rep. Clark Fisher of San Angelo has asked the Defense Department to investigate the newspaper Overseas Weekly "if it is in order to do so."
 The Dallas News said today in a dispatch from Washington that Fisher had made public a letter he wrote Defense Secretary Robert McNamara in connection with the case of Maj. Gen. Edwin Walker, a Texan who was relieved of command of the 24th Division in Germany.
 Walker is a native of Center Point in Kerr County in Fisher's district. Walker was relieved of his command after the Overseas Weekly published stories asserting the general was requiring troops to commit suicide.
 Fisher, a high ranking member of the House Armed Services Committee and a long-time friend of Walker, wrote to McNamara: "From the reports I have read and the explanations and corrections that have been supplied by Gen. Walker, I cannot believe that he has violated accepted rules of decorum and restraint in his expression."
 It was all in fun, of course, and Richburg got a reprieve Monday from former Chancery Judge James H. Pilkington.
 The mock trial sprang from a remark Richburg made a month ago when he was trying a prisoner who stole a car and drove it to Hope.
 "I've been to Hope," Richburg said. "Being there is punishment enough for you." He released the prisoner's bond so he could go free.
 Angry protests erupted here at the time but tempers have since cooled and two civic clubs invited Richburg to speak here.

Sentenced In Mock Trial

HOPE, Ark. (AP) — Justice of the Peace W. E. Richburg of Dallas, Tex., was sentenced to hang for "besmirching the good name of Hope."
 It was all in fun, of course, and Richburg got a reprieve Monday from former Chancery Judge James H. Pilkington.

Religion, Freedom Are Vital, State Legion Chief Declares

"This is a religious nation as well as a free nation, and the purpose of the American Legion is to foster and perpetuate the principles of religion and freedom," State Legion Commander Pete Turner of Midland, declared here last night.

Turner spoke to local Legionnaires and their guests on the subject, "Ingratitude Impoverishes Society."

He said the dust of millions who have given their lives for the cause of freedom lies in the bosom of the earth, and the story of America's heritage did not begin in 1776, but started 6,000 years ago during the reign of Hammurabi, who gave the first code of laws. He reminded that Solomon gave the first constitution, a contract between people who desired freedom against the cause of tyranny. He cited the Magna Carta of 1215 as another milestone in man's struggle, and then the strength of American people in the Revolutionary days.

"We need to rededicate ourselves to these principles and carry this story to the youth of America through our youth programs, oratorical contests, Boys State, junior baseball and school awards, all of which are on the increase this year," Turner declared.

He said the American Legion has a total membership of over 3 million out of 21 million eligible veterans. If the Legion could double its membership, it would have a tremendous impact on the leaders of the world, he declared.

"They would know that there is a revival of religion and patriotic influence in America," he explained.

Turner concluded by challenging every member of the local American Legion post to bring in a new member so that Commander Jack Contella could report Layne Kyrke Post 181 over its quota at the state convention in Lubbock on May 21.

Five youths who will represent the local post at the Legion-Sponsored Boys State this year were introduced at the meeting. They are Bill Weaver, Steve Free, Bob Smith, Eddie Phyl and Johnny Mitchell.

Lady Bandit Strikes Again

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (AP)—A soft-spoken lady bandit has struck again.

Monday night she took $60 off Paul Gibson, who was watching television with his wife.

Sunday night she took $65 from William Frain, visitation minister of the First Baptist Church. It represented the evening's collection.

Gibson told police the woman, about 28, came to a side door of his house.

"She said she was out of gas," Gibson said. "Then she calmly said, 'Pardon me sir, this is a holdup.'"

Gibson said he handed over his wallet.

Sunday night 100 persons were attending a reception in the basement when the woman came into the church office and took the money bag containing the $65.

In both cases she was described as calm and polite but displaying a pistol to enforce her demands.

Plans Wide Open Flight In X15

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—Research pilot Joe Walker plans to fly the X15 rocket plane with throttle wide open in the next few days in an attempt to reach 3,400 miles an hour—almost a mile a second.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said Monday the purpose of the flight will be to obtain data on aerodynamic stability and control and heating

Cuban Aid Promised By Czechoslovakia

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—Valdemar Tolstuchek, Czechoslovakian ambassador to Cuba, told a television audience in Havana Monday night that his country will support the Cuban revolution.

"economically and, if need be, by direct military assistance to the end."

Cuba has been receiving Czech-made arms, including rifles and tanks.

The program was seen in this city, 90 miles from Havana.

The Great Barrier Reef is composed of a structure of coral covering 30,000 square miles, twice the size of Ohio. Most of the reef lies underwater.
