China And Japan Said Preparing For Decisive Conflict

Furious Fighting Reported Along 300-Mile Front

Japanese Seek To Strangle China's "Lifeline" Railroad; Japs Continue Air Raids

(By The Associated Press)

SHANGHAI, Jan. 23. (Sunday)—Furious fighting surged today on China's "lifeline" front approximately 300 miles northwest of Shanghai as both Chinese and Japanese were reported preparing feverishly for a decisive battle.

Chinese claimed recapture of Mingkwang on the railway linking Nanking and Tientsin.

Japs Move On "Lifeline"

Japanese columns, moving from the south, pressed on Suchow, vital junction of the Tientsin railway with the "lifeline" Lunghai railway that cuts into China's interior.

EXPECTATION EMPHASIZED

TOKYO, Jan. 22. (AP)—Japan's expectation of a long-drawn war with China was emphasized in parliament today as Premier Prince Fumimaro Konoye voiced Japan's aim of a comprehensive economic union of China, Japan and Manchoukuo.

Additional vast sums of money and men will be needed to fight China, the premier and his ministers told parliament.

"If necessary, Japan will declare war against Chiang Kai-Shek's regime, but we will never deal with it," the prince declared.

were killed yesterday as naval fliers fanned out attacking infantry southeast, southwest and south of Shanghai.

Occupation Challenged

Guerilla bands were all that challenged complete Japanese occupation of the Shanghai area and Japanese predicted the Pootung cleanup would be finished in a few days.

Four hundred of the main guerilla force of 1,000 men were reported killed in a Japanese infantry attack.

Twenty tri-motored bombers lashed at the Chinese counter-offensive on the Hangchow front, about 125 miles to the southwest of Shanghai.

Railroad Is Bombarded

They bombarded the Hangchow-Nanchang railway and reported destruction of hangars and equipment on airfields at Chuhsien, in Chekiang province, and Yushan, in adjoining Kiangsi province.

The Lunghai railway, objective of Japanese drives from the north and south, was defended by an estimated 400,000 Chinese. The Japanese forces have been estimated at 60,000 men with 20,000 artillerymen and cavalrymen being moved up to reinforce the northern half of the vise-like offensive.

Chinese sources said both sides

Young Democrats To Sound Out Opinion

DALLAS, Jan. 22. (AP)—Jack Burroughs, past state president of the Young Democrats of Texas, said today the association will be asked at its convention this summer to approve organization of a people's lobby to sound out opinion on pending legislation and give the information to legislators.

A committee of the association already has approved the proposal, he said.

Burroughs said the local clubs of Young Democrats, now operating in 104 counties, would conduct debates on bills of outstanding public interest.

Members of the clubs then would vote on whether the legislation was desirable. The ballots would be given to the state organization, which would be guided in its fight for defeat or passage of the bills by the result of the canvass.

"We believe this plan will give the rank and file of voters a lobby at Austin," Burroughs said. "We do not plan to employ a paid lobbyist nor to send members to Austin, but will depend on letters and telegrams to exert influence on the legislators."

U. S. Tanker Is Held At Isle Of Majorca

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22. (AP)—A Spanish insurgent naval officer is in control of the American tanker Nantucket Chief, seized Jan. 18 by insurgent warships, T. Monroe Fisher, American vice-consul at Palma, informed the state department today.

The ship is at Palma, island of Majorca, together with 27 members of the crew who are American citizens, Fisher said in his cable.

The Nantucket Chief's manifest indicates the vessel has a cargo of gasoline and kerosene shipped from a Russian port destined for Barcelona, he added. The tanker was captured off Barcelona.

Secretary Hull's inforation is that the Nantucket Chief, although property of an American corporation in New York, was chartered to the Spanish loyalist government.

It is considered doubtful if much can be done through diplomatic channels with regard to the ship, but it is believed generally here that the American officers and sailors will be released shortly.

Dissension Between Officials Of Los Angeles Police Crops Out In Probe Of Bombing

Earl Kynette (above), Los Angeles police captain, was questioned in the investigation of the bombing of a private detective and charged with suspicion of wire tapping. James E. Davis, chief of police, visiting in Mexico City, defended the officer, who was released on a habeas corpus writ.

(By The Associated Press)

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 22.—Investigation of the attempted bomb assassination of a private detective today found dissension between two high police officers.

Acting Chief of Police George Allen said that Capt. Earle E. Kynette of the "trouble shooting" squad "might have been" investigating Chief of Detectives Joseph F. Taylor, who was active in causing Kynette's arrest on suspicion of tapping the telephone wire to the home of Harry Raymond, the bombed detective.

Allen said that just because Kynette's men "happened to be watching Raymond's home does not mean they had anything to do with the bombing."

"At the right time," countered Taylor, "we will present plenty of evidence to support the action we have taken."

Kynette and Detective Lieut. Dan M. Draper are at liberty under $2,000 bonds each pending further hearing Monday on the suspicion of wire tapping charges.

Third Man Held In Theft Case

Roy Cathey, about 27, of west of O'Donnell Saturday was charged in federal court here with theft at O'Donnell on or about Nov. 5 of a United States mail pouch containing a valuable registered shipment of currency and coin.

The arraignment of the man about 6 o'clock that night was the third since Wednesday here and at San Angelo in connection with disappearance of a mail pouch consigned by the Dallas Federal Reserve bank to the First National bank at O'Donnell.

Wavies Preliminary Hearing

Cathey pleaded not guilty, waived preliminary hearing, and bond of $7,500 was set by Mrs. Olive Fluke, United States commissioner. In lieu of bond, the defendant was transferred to the Potter county jail at Amarillo.

According to reports at O'Donnell, Cathey was arrested Thursday and held in a Lynn county jail until arraignment here.

All three defendants apprehended have waived hearings and no testimony has been introduced. Postal authorities and other federal investigators declined to comment upon details of the theft of the mail pouch, pending further developments.

Clipper Forced Back By Clogged Oil Line

SAN PEDRO, Calif., Jan. 22. (AP) The Pan-American Airways' trouble-beset China Clipper, dropped back into the placid waters off Cabrillo beach late today, after it made a false start for Alameda, Calif., home base from which it departed late yesterday bound for Honolulu.

Captain J. H. Tilton, commander, said he had flown as far north as Santa Monica before receiving a radio message from the home port ordering him back here for the night because of fog at Alameda.

The giant seaplane, with sixteen passengers and crew, made Los Angeles its unexpected port of call at dawn after a clogged fuel line from one of the wing tanks forced it to turn back from the Honolulu flight last night. The trouble arose more than 600 miles out over the Pacific.

Russia Refuses U. S. Request

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—The United States government received today a Soviet refusal of its request that an American embassy official be permitted to visit Mrs. Ruth Marie Rubens, an American citizen held in a Russian jail.

The Soviets said their internal authorities permitted the representatives of no foreign government to visit its nationals in prison during the course of investigations and could make no exception for the United States.

Held Since December

Mrs. Rubens has been in jail since the beginning of December, on suspicion of espionage, Moscow officials revealed recently.

Immediately on receiving the Soviets' admission on Monday that Mrs. Rubens, who had entered the country under the name of Ruth Norma Robinson, wife of Donald Louis Robinson, was in jail, Secretary Hull requested permission for an American embassy attache to talk with her.

The Soviet today said they had established definitely that Mrs. Rubens entered the country in possession of a passport in the name of Ruth Norma Robinson, and that her Soviet visa to the passport was valid.

Monday the Soviets had informed this government they had arrested

Dixie Filibuster Against Bill Is To Continue

Fight Against Anti-Lynching Carried On For Past Fourteen Days To Be Made Until End

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22. — Dixie senators agreed today to continue their speech-making against the anti-lynching bill next week.

Senator Connally (D-Tex.) said after a caucus of the Southern group opposition speeches would continue until it was demonstrated the measure could not pass. The filibuster against the bill has been underway 14 days.

May Ask Sidetracking

About the middle of next week, Chairman Glass (D-Va.), of the appropriations committee, may ask that the senate sidetrack the legislation in favor of the independent offices appropriations measure. Southerners expressed confidence they would have sufficient strength to carry such a motion.

"We are not delaying any legislation," Connally said in response to a question. "The selection of legislation which we are to act upon is a matter for the senate leadership.

Against Leadership

"The leadership has chosen this (anti-lynching) bill, and we are against it. If they want to pass an appropriations bill they can take it up and pass it. If they want to take up the administration's reorganization bill they can do it.

"But if the leadership wants to subordinate everything else to this bill then that is their responsibility."

Call For Night Sessions

Senator Barkley of Kentucky, the Democratic leader, has called for night sessions beginning Monday in an effort to end the filibuster. Proponents of the anti-lynching bill

Change In Land Laws Favored

(By The Associated Press)

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 22.—County Judges and commissioners of South Texas, concluding their semi-annual convention here today, called for a change in present state lands vacancy laws, and a continuance of the existing scale of federal aid to states for road construction.

The officials selected Brownsville as the site of their next meeting in July.

Favors "County Lobbyist"

The resolutions on land vacancy and road building policies headed an imposing sheaf of attitudes ranging from favoring the employment of a "county lobbyist" at Austin to a regulation on the ethics of county judgeship. All were presented by Judge Oscar R. Dancy of Cameron county, chairman of the resolutions committee, and all passed.

The changes sponsored in the land laws would give 10-year residents a preferential right to purchase or lease any vacancies discovered, place venue in the local county instead of Travis county, and burden of proof upon the applicant.

The amendment to the five-year-

U. S. Steel Plans Work Costing $80,000,000

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22 — The United States Steel corporation intends to spend $80,000,000 on plant modernization before September 1, B. F. Fairless, its president, wrote the senate unemployment committee today.

"It is hoped these expenditures can be made in regular course in completion of the projects," his letter said. "If such be done, about one-half, or $40,000,00 would be expended in the first quarter of 1938 and the other half would be expended in the second and third quarters of 1938.

More Expenditures Likely

"In addition, if business conditions warrant, there will be, undoubtedly, other expenditures in considerable amount during 1938."

Apparently replying to Robert H. Jackson, assistant attorney general, who has criticized failure of steel companies to reduce steel prices since the business slump began, Fairless wrote:

"It is clear that prices can not be reduced without a corresponding reduction in costs, of which wages is the most important part."

Oil Companies And Executives Are Convicted

Sixteen Firms And 30 Persons Found Guilty Of Violating Sherman Anti-Trust Laws

(By The Associated Press)

MADISON, Wis., Jan. 22. — The government marked up a victory today over 16 major oil companies and 30 of the nation's leading oil men in one of the largest cases ever brought under the Sherman anti-trust act.

A jury composed principally of middle-aged farmers and small town business men returned verdicts in federal district court convicting the defendants of conspiring to raise and fix gasoline prices in 10 Midwestern states during 1935 and 1936. The trial began last Oct. 4.

Rehearing Motions Later

Although the defense prepared immediately to file motions to set aside the verdict and for a new trial, Federal Judge Patrick T. Stone said he needed a rest and announced he would set a date later for hearing the motions. He delayed the question of sentencing until disposing of these motions, and continued the defendants' personal bonds.

The corporate defendants are liable to maximum fines of $5,000 each. The individual defendants face similar fines or up to a year in prison, or both.

Officials Decline Comment

Chief Defense Counsel William J. Donovan and the convicted officials declined to comment, but members of the defense staff have said the case would be carried to the supreme court if necessary.

Special Prosecutor Hammond Chaffetz said any word regarding ten individual defendants who were not brought to trial at this time must come from justice department officials in Washington.

Termed "Major Victory"

There, Attorney General Homer Cummings called today's decision "a major victory in the enforcement of the anti-trust laws."

Other officials described the case as "probably the most important anti-trust action since the 'sugar trust' and certainly the biggest oil company case since dissolution of the Standard Oil company in 1911." This was the first verdict in an anti-trust law case since the Roosevelt administration's trust-busting drive began.

Still pending against many of the same defendants who figured in this case is another indictment charging a conspiracy to restrict gaso-

No Stampede Made By Texas Voters

(By The Associated Press)

No one has been trampled in a stampede to poll tax windows over the state thus far this year, despite the fact Texans must ballot within a few months on their next governor and attorney general and fill hundreds of other key state and local offices.

Approximately a week before the Jan. 31 deadline on payments, a survey of 24 counties where voting strength is heavy turned up ten where fewer persons had paid their poll taxes than on the comparable date in 1936, last gubernatorial election year. In nine counties more had paid. In one the figure was classified as average. In four the comparative figure was not given.

Everything Is All Right Now For British Posterity; 'Nice Brother' Became Ruler

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Jan. 22.—Everything is all right now for British posterity, for the history of the abdication has been written for the kiddies.

Here is how H. E. Marshall undertakes to pass it on for the boys and girls:

"King Edward loved a lady, and wanted to marry her and have her always beside him as his wife. But a whole lot of people all over the empire didn't want her to be queen.

"'Very well,' said King Edward, 'you don't like my lady, but I do. I love her better than anyone else in the whole wide world.

"'I'd rather be with her than be the ruler of this great empire. So I'll go away and not be your king any more.

"'But you needn't be sad and sorry about it, because I have a very nice brother who will make a very good king.'

"We were very sad and sorry.

Phil Kennamer Plans To Become Modern "Man Without Country" If He Is Paroled

(By The Associated Press)

McALESTER, Okla., Jan. 22.—Phil Kennamer, whose slaying of John F. Gorrell, jr., was a national sensation in 1934, plans if freed to become a modern "man without a country" he said today.

The youthful son of a federal judge—he's now only 22—said a South American company had offered him a job and he wanted to take it and spend the rest of his life in voluntary exile.

"All I want to do is to get away from here," he said between his chores as a "sort of flunky" in the prison library, "and get this thing behind me and forget it."

Quieter and more earnest-appearing than when he was convicted of killing Gorrell and sent to prison for 25 years for manslaughter in February, 1935, Kennamer said he bore no malice.

He declined to comment on the

Pockets Of Texas Farmers Bulging With $61,188,000 More Than During 1936

Gains In Spite Of Low Prices

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Jan. 22. — Pockets of Texas farmers bulged with $61,188,000 more in 1937 than in the previous year in spite of generally lower market prices.

The state department of agriculture reported today the state's crops brought $460,983,000 last year compare with $399,805,000 the previous year.

Cotton And Wheat Lead

Cotton and wheat, which recorded a boom year, accounted for much of the gain, $47,559,000 and $22,763,000 respectively. Other crops showed a small aggregate net decline.

Spuds of the Irish and sweet variety soared to new heights with a value of $23,633,000, an increase of $3,724,000, while fruits and nuts had an aggregate value of $15,239,000, or $2,166,000 more than in the previous year.

Prices Hold Down Revenue

Had 1937 prices equaled those of 1936, farmers would have marked up $174,125,000 more, the department said. Comparative declines in prices of cotton and cotton seed, corn, oats, rice and the sorghum grains accounted for the aggregate "loss."

Average 1937 prices were: corn 66 cents, down 35; wheat $1.00, unchanged; oats 36 cents, down 4; cotton .082 cents, down .1363, and cotton seed $20.00 a ton, down $10.60. Cotton alone accounted for $120,000,000 of the loss.

More Acres Tilled

More acres were tilled, cotton in cultivation increasing 1,067,000 and wheat, 1,475,000. Yields per acre dropped only for rice and wild hay with cotton, corn, wheat, oats, barley, grain sorghums, tame hay, peanuts and potatoes in higher brackets than in 1936.

Cotton—production exceeded only by that of 1926. The per acre lint yield of 198 pounds the best in history. Unusually favorable weather conditions in all sections both during growing and harvesting.

Corn Production Up

Corn—production increased 3,123,000 bushels, due partly to more hog raising and a tendency to finish cattle on corn.

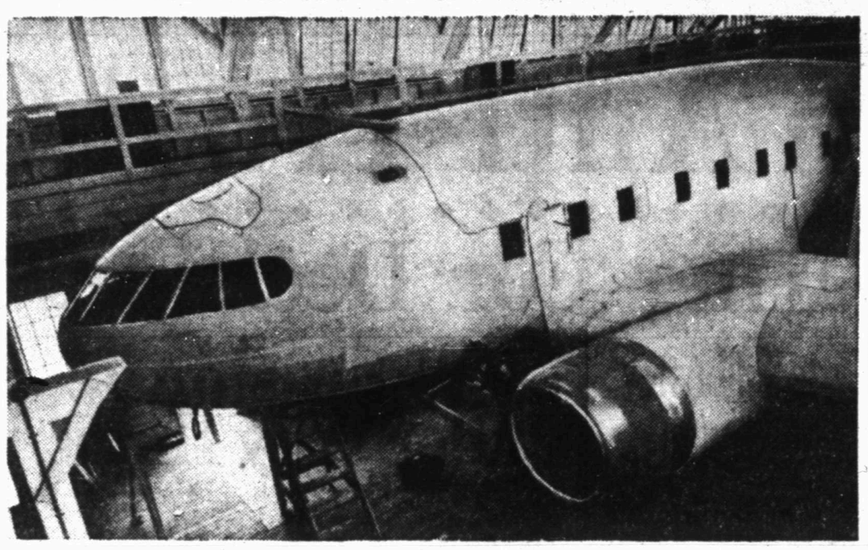

Wheat—production was 41,690,000 bushels, an increase of 22,763,000.

Oats—Per acre yield rose from 18.5 bushels to 24 and aggregate value jumped $2,171,000.

Grain sorghums — Acreage declined but a yield of 16 bushels per acre compared with 9.5 produced 52,336,000 bushels or 21,165,000 more than in 1936.

Rice—A total of 250,000 acres yielded 49 bushels each and a value of $8,942,000.

A Million-Dollar Plane and It's Just a Model

Building the beautifully rounded "mockup" plane shown in the top photo cost $1,000,000, but the plane will never fly. This four-motored, full-scale "dummy" was built by Boeing engineers for TWA. Now approved, it will be the model from which six "Superskyliners" will be built for delivery to TWA this summer, carrying 33 passengers by day and 16 at night, in berths as shown at left below. Nine chaise lounge chairs, spaced by observation windows in a separate lounging compartment, provide ultraluxury. the huge cabin, as shown right, below, is 11 feet in diameter and 7 1-2 feet high, 33 1-2 feet long—larger than in any land-type passenger plane in use in the United States, or under construction. Indirect lighting is featured. Faster coast-to-coast schedules will be possible with these ships.

Controversy Is Still In Sway

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Jan. 22.—Two developments quickened the controversy today over public land matters.

Governor James V. Allred disclosed he had hired a private investigator to assist a senate committee in studying land office leases. The inquiry begins Wednesday.

Action Deemed Inadvisable

Assistant Attorney General Scott Gaines told the governor the attorney general's department deemed it

ALLRED DENIES REPORT

AUSTIN, Jan. 22. (AP) — Governor James V. Allred hotly, denied today that the question of title to Padre island was before his department for consideration while he was attorney general.

inadvisable to file suit seeking to establish the state's claim to Padre island until it had proper evidence, reiterating a survey was essential.

The governor had urged an immediate suit, asserting a new survey of the 125-mile strip of sand off the Gulf coast between Corpus Christi and Brownsville was unnecessary.

With reference to land leases for which he says the state has not received full value, Governor Allred has sharply criticized Land Commissioner W. H. McDonald.

Believe State Has Title

On the subject of Padre island, however, the governor and the land commissioner stand together, both being of the opinion the state has a legitimate title to all or part of the island.

The governor announced he had employed A. R. Strout of Ennis, a former assistant attorney general, county judge and member of the legislature, to coordinate information being gathered at the land office by nine auditors and to help question witnesses at the legislative hearing.

Already At Work

"He has already gone to work," Governor Allred said. "Others will be employed if necessary to get the job done."

He said he did not intend to participate personally in the hearing although it probably would be "very hard to keep out."

McDonald has said he welcomed any investigation and, that he has protected the state's interests and followed the law governing land leases and sales at all times.

Involves Spanish Grant

The possibility Padre island may have valuable oil deposits has enhanced interest in the controversy concerning it. The title involves a grant from the Spanish government more than 100 years ago.

Acting in the absence of Attorney General William McCraw, Gaines informed the governor the attorney general's department, after a thorough investigation, considered a survey the proper basis for a suit.

"As the success or failure of this suit will be the responsibility of this department," he said, "we feel we should be the judge of the procedure to be followed in procuring the claims of the state."

Up In Allred's Regime

To newspapermen Gaines commented that when Allred was attorney general the question of title to Padre island came up but Allred did not bring suit to claim the island.

"Since the governor is so interested in having the suit filed at an early date," he suggested "he might arrange a deficiency appropriation to pay for the survey, or he might think of some other way to finance it."

Commissioner McDonald says he does not have the money for a survey.

Don't Talk Baby Talk, Even Though The Boy Friend Says You're Cute, Cuddlesome

SALT LAKE CITY, Jan. 22. —Even though the boy-friends say you're cute and cuddlesome and have a baby-face, young woman, resist temptation — DON'T talk baby talk.

It may get you a few dates to begin with but most men prefer to speak—and hear—grown-up words and phrases, said Miss Marion Redd, speech department instructor at the University of Utah.

"Baby talk may have attracted men in grandmother's day, but it doesn't work at all in 1938," she added.

"The men who enjoy such conversation tend to have infantile minds as do the childish speakers."

Speeach, said Miss Redd, is an index to the mind—and who wants to be called "baby-brain?" Parents, she added especially should avoid baby talk.

"It's lots of fun to 'does ooo love muvver?' the darling offspring," she agreed, "but the child's likely to grow up talking that way."

Miss Redd occasionally discovers in her college classes students who still use childish accents. The men do it unconsciously, she said, because their parent reared them that way, but some of the women do it deliberately to attract attention.

West Texas Chicken Hawk Has Come Upon Easy Days; Awaits Meal From Highway Perches

CLARENDON, Jan. 22. (AP)—The West Texas chicken hawk, once a fiercely predatory bird which did its own killing, has come upon easy days.

Highway traffic now does the job of knocking off rabbits and other small game for him.

H. D. Bugbee, artist and naturalist, says the hawk now perches patiently along highways and waits for a car to run down a meal for him.

But, Bugbee says, this sort of gold-bricking has its hazards for the hawk too. Occasionally a car kills one. Recently 26 dead chicken hawks were counted on a plains road in a 15-mile stretch.

Church Union In Britain Urged

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Jan. 22.—Leaders of the Church of England and Baptist, Methodist and other protestant churches advanced cautiously today a momentous plan for unity, but with each group to keep its individual forms of worship.

The rough-hewn scheme was presented as a basis for discussion of church accord, but there was in prospect controversy among the 32,000,000 persons affiliated with the church in England and Wales.

Have Followed Separate Ways

London newspapers generally hailed such a suggestion for unity as a great religious stride, even it it were to fail. The churches have followed separate ways for 300 years.

The plan was drawn by a joint conference of representatives of the Church of England, the state church with King George VI its titular head, and of the federal council of Evangelical free churches.

The council represents Methodists, Baptists, Presbyterians and others not conforming to the Anglican church.

Without Loss Of Traditions

The proposed united church would be one in which both Anglicans and nonconformists might "find themselves united without loss of what is specially valuable in their distinctive traditions."

Such a church would remain Episcopal (Anglican), with both free church and Anglican bishops. The archbishop of Canterbury would be exofficio president of its general assembly.

The united church would accept the sacrament of communion and baptism would be an essential condition for membership. Apart from this, however, members would continue their varied forms of worship.

Pioneer Railroader Celebrates Hundredth Birthday In Shops, Day Ahead Of Event

MILWAUKEE, Jan. 22. (AP)—Although he was one day short of his one-hundredth birthday, John M. Horan, known as "Soda Ash" Johnny, and approximately 100 of his friends and admirers celebrated the anniversary of his birth as well as his eighty-third year in the service of the Milwaukee road at a banquet at the railroad shops today.

Sunday, Jan. 23, is the date of John's century year, and he is sure he will reach it.

Although he was on the job before any of the present day Milwaukee road heads were born, "Johnny" thoroughly enjoyed the banquet with the "yougsters," included among whom was the current president, H. A. Scandrett.

The soubridquet "Soda Ash" was given to him when he originated the use of soda ash in the treatment of water in locomotive boilers. This dissolved the lime deposits in the tubular boilers and saved the railroads substantial sums of money.

His son, William, who is a locomotive engineer, is almost 70 years old, and has completed 50 years in the employ of the same road as his father. Neither plan to retire.

"Johnny," who worked all of last week, said he found his work too fascinating to retire.

Oil Tank Fire Brought Under Control Near Wink Saturday

WINK, Jan. 22. (AP)—Weary firefighters brought under control early today an oil tank fire which had raged unchecked since Thursday night when it was ignited by lightning.

A heavy rain aided in combatting the flames after the 800,000-barrel basin collapsed, permitting the oil to spread over an area of a half mile.

Protective walls were thrown up around other tanks containing 640,000 barrels of crude.

Fifteen thousand barrels of oil were salvaged from the burning tank, which was under lease to the Shell Petroleum company.

Boyd's figures filed with county commissioners, showed that 1937, up to Dec. 31, reflected 35.92 per cent collections of its taxes, and that the county never had failed to meet its obligations, has no funds overdrawn, and no other debts that amounts showed in the statement.

His statement showed completely indebtedness, taxable values as indicated by the last approved tax rolls, condition of the sinking funds, and the tax rate for 1937, 50 cents per $100 of valuation, including all road bonds; as well as sinking fund requirements for 1938, the amount to be paid by the state board, amount by county percentage of tax collections since 1929, inclusive, and population.

Brownfield delegations have accepted invitations to be present at the meeting of Allen Bros. post of the American Legion here Monday night and at the gathering of Sons of the Legion Wednesday night, according to information given Saturday by A. C. Jackson, commander here.

The invitations were extended and accepted at a meeting in Brownfield Friday night at which initial steps were taken there for the organization of a squadron of sons. Jackson, E. Kelley Nail, who took the lead in organizing the Lubbock squadron, and W. H. Waln were guests of the Brownfield post.

Veterans Are Invited

He added that every World war veteran, regardless whether a member of the post, is invited to attend.

New Trophy Won By Lubbock In Clean Up, Paint Up Campaign Displayed On Saturday

Shown above are trophies won by Lubbock in eight consecutive years for superior efforts in the state-wide spring clean up campaigns. The 37-inch silver and bakelite trophy awarded for 1937 is pictured fourth from the left. It was received Saturday by Chamber of Commerce officials and was placed on display with the other seven.

The 1937 clean up trophy was placed on display, along side seven others won since 1930, at the chamber of commerce Saturday, signifying Lubbock's eighth consecutive successful attempt in Texas competition.

Thirty-seven inches high, the trophy, of bakelite and silver, was received Saturday afternoon from the National Clean Up and Paint Up committee. A cylindrical silver column stands on an eight-inch bakelite base and is capped with a silver victory figure.

Eagles Decorate Base

The male victory figure holds a palm in its upraised right hand. Four silver eagles decorate corners of the base.

Inscribed on a plate on the front lateral of the base is the following: "First Prize, 1937. Lubbock, Awarded by the National Clean Up and Paint Up bureau."

Word was received here Monday of Lubbock's having been awarded first place for the state. Amarillo was announced as second place winner at the same time.

A. W. May Chairman

A. W. May was chairman of the chamber of commerce committee directing the clean up campaign May 14-22. Others on the committee were: O. A. Terry, T. R. Prideaux, Altus Sansom, Dr. K. E. Oberholtzer, Mrs. Clark Mullican, Mrs. Frank Winn, and Mrs. W. A. Jackson.

Otner committees, clubs, Boy Scouts, merchants, theaters, and individual citizens aided in the campaign.

Chamber of commerce officials said Lubbock would compete in the 1938 campaign.

Three Births Are Reported In Hospitals In City Saturday

Although hree births were reported Saturday in Lubbock, only one of the arrivals was to a Lubbock couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon M. Deering of Post are parents of a boy weighing six pounds, 13 1-2 ounces, who arrived at 11:35 o'clock Friday night at West Texas hospital. He has been named Gordon Morris, jr. Mrs. Deering is the former Miss Louise McIlhaney of Lubbock, a sister of Joe S. McIlhaney, 2006 Seventeenth street. She formerly resided in Lubbock. The father is a member of the faculty at Post High school.

Mr. and Mrs. John Mullins of Hobbs announced the birth of a girl weighing seven and one-half pounds at 2:13 a. m. Saturday at the home of N. N. Mullins, 1923 Eighth street, brother of the father. The infant is a granddaughter of Dr. and Mrs. G. C. Mullins, residing on route 3.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Oldham, 1607 Avenue Y, are parents of a girl weighing eight pounds, born at Lubbock sanitarium at 6:58 p. m. Friday.

Law Infractions Are Reported

Predictions for a busy week-end for law violators and law enfrocement officers was made by brisk activities Saturday.

Oscar Garner, 30, was charged in the justice court of Walter Davies with passage of a forged $16 chock to B. E. Needles on a Lubbock bank. W. K. Hicks swore to the complaint before Victor H. Lindsey, assistant district attorney.

Grady Harrist, deputy sheriff, arrested Garner late Saturday afternoon. Davies set the man's bond at $750 upon arraignment, and last reports were that it had not been posted.

Released On $1,000 Bond

L. A. Mitchell, about 45, who officers said lived near Shallowater, was released Saturday upon approval by attaches of the office of Sheriff Tom Abel of a $1,000 bond set by S. E. McMillan, justice of peace, upon the defendant's arraignment on a charge of driving when intoxicated.

The complaint had been filed by Max Westerman, jr., of the Texas Highway patrol.

It was indicated by officers that a negro man, about 40, arrested west of Lubbock by Jas. P. Posey, chief deputy sheriff, and Harrist, would be transferred to Red River county where he was wanted on a grand jury indictment. Officers here said he was wanted for wife desertion.

Car Found "Stripped"

A 1937 Ford coach stolen from Barney Boyd of 608 Avenue L was found by Sheriff Ed Hofacket of Hockley county and a deputy in a pasture near Levelland, it had been "stripped," Bill Mabray, police identifications officer, said.

Investigations by officers into what first was believed to be burglary of a wholesale meat company indicated that probably a "drunk" had thrown a bottle through the window.

More than $50 was taken from South Plains Cooperative association on east Broadway, according to Marion V. Vermillion, manager. Officers said they were unable to find where entrance had been forced.

Theft Is Reported

R. O. Gregory of ruote 2, Lubbock, reported theft from an automobile in the 1000-block Main street of an 18-inch square box containing a government instrument amounting to $447.76 on 13 cotton tickets. Clothing also was missed from the car.

A 26-year-old negro, arrested by officers after they were told he had threatened his wife, entered a plea of guilty of a disturbance charge in corporation court and was fined $15.

Elbert Stiner entered a plea of guilty of theft of a $5 leather jacket and a pair of trousers valued at $5 and was sentenced by Judge J. J. Dillard of county court to 10 days in jail and payment of court costs. According to the complaint, he took the property from William Jackson. The complaint was sworn to by Harrist before Hugh Anderson, assistant county attorney.

Charge Is Dismissed

A charge of carrying a pistol against Charles Mitchell, filed in county court, was dismissed by Judge Dillard because "defendant is a tourist and traveling."

A man who had not been arrested and who was charged with using an alias allegedly took a trailer, valued at $20, from Jewell Mullins of Idalou "by virtue of his contract of borrowing." Mullins swore to the charge before Anderson.

Theft of another trailer and a yearling in Hockley county was reported to the sheriff's department here by Sheriff Hofacket. The property assertedly was taken from a Smyer farm and apparently the trailer with the yearling presumably on it was drawn away by an automobile. It was indicated charges would be filed in Hockley county.

A 37-year-old negro was arrested late Saturday by Jess Hardy of the police department and Leonard (Cat) Means, negro officer, for investigation of theft.

Cut In Imports Urged By Byrd

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Jan. 22.—D. Harold Byrd of Dallas, president of the Independent Petroleum Association of Texas, has urged major oil companies to reduce their imports one-seventh in view of action forcing this state's operators on a six-day producing week until March 1.

"Your board," he wired Railroad Commissioner Ernest O. Thompson, "has rendered a fine, constructive service to the whole country but your action will be of little value other than punishing the already suffering Texas independents unless other states and the major companies either shutdown or cut off their part of the one-seventh of excess oil."

Th commission this week ordered a statewide Sunday oil shutdown, effective tomorrow and continuing through February 27.

"Importers point out the fact," Byrd said, "that their ships are on schedule but our wells and our creditors, which include supply houses and banks, also are on schedule. If importing companies desire to save this situation your leadership has given them that opportunity."

Commission employes throughout the state were busy on final preparations for the first of the Sunday closings. In instances where it is impractical for wells to be shut in, their daily flow will be cut one-seventh.

Thompson said he had received several telegrams of praise from oil men in this and other states and no protests regarding the Sunday shutdowns.

The commission promulgated an order requiring 200 feet of surface casing in the Plummer field, Bee county, and calling a hearing here February 3 on other special regulations for the pool.

One Of City's Greatest Tax-Paying Rushes Certain; Payments Continue Slow

Pay Now Plea Is Made Saturday

One of the greatest tax payment rushes in the history of Lubbock is certain, but every day of delay between now and the deadline at midnight Jan. 31 will make it worse on the individual taxpayer.

This, in substance, was the statements Saturday by County Assesor-Collector H. B. Bryan, Lubbock School Assesor-Collector A. C. Jackson, and City Assesor-Collector E. C. Young.

Slower Than Last Year

They were in agreement in their statements that payments to date have been somewhat slower than last year and in 1936 in spite of the fact that collections in each case last December were record breaking.

Poll tax payments Saturday totaled 3,573, which Bryan estimated to be 500 to 700 fewer than in 1936, when the all-time Lubbock county record total of 8,571 was established. The total last year was 4,237.

Branch Is Established

Rush at the county offices here, however, may be reduced somewhat by the fact that a temporary branch office has been established by Bryan in the southwest corner of Slaton city hall. Harvey Austin is in charge there.

City, school and county tax officials suggested that the rush during the remaining eight days may be minimized if the taxpayers appear early this week.

After Jan. 21, poll tax receipts to permit participation in 1938 elections cannot be issued, Bryan explained. On all other types of taxes, penalties will be added.

Two More Candidates Enter County Races

Two additional candidates, both for places on the county commissioners court, last week announced publicly their intentions to run for office.

Both are making their first political races in the county.

V. J. Farris, longtime resident of the county and a resident of Shallowater, threw his hat into the ring for commissioner of precinct 4. Three candidates, B. O. McWhorter, J. W. Sampson, and W. H. Meador had announced for that place earlier. McWhorter is the incumbent commissioner.

Farris has lived in Lubbock county 30 years and in Shallowater 14 years.

Grady L. Elder of Slaton announced his candidacy for commissioner of the second precinct and will run against Ben Mansker, also of Slaton and who is asking his second term of two years.

Elder has lived at Slaton 14 years.

Other candidates for several offices are expected to announce intentions of running soon, according to unofficial reports.

old present statute was deemed necessary to protect homeowners and homesteaders from land-grabbing "vacancy hunters." The convention also asked that the state land office discontinue approvals of vacancy applications pending such changes.

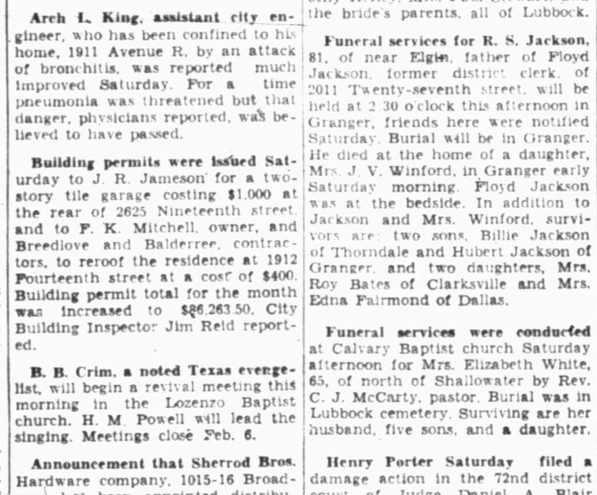

Acting in response to a talk by Robert Lee Bobbitt, chairman of the state highway commission, before the convention banquet last night in which he criticized the current congressional proposal to cut federal grants-in-aid to state road systems, the officials called for a continuance of the present aid. The judges and commissioners also requested the legislature to use a refunding surplus of $7,000,000 now in Austin to refinance county roads obligations whose interest rates were high.

Three Previously Acquitted

Among the men convicted today were three officials of a company previously acquitted—Tidewater Associated Oil company—and one man not connected with a major oil company, A. V. Bourque of Tulsa, Okla., secretary of the Western Petroleum Refiners association.

The government alleged the defendants rigged the prices through a program of purchasing surplus gasoline from independent refiners, on whose selling quotations the majors, by contracts, based their prices to their jobber customers. Wisconsin, Michigan, Minnesota, North and South Dakota, Iowa, Illinois, Indiana, Missouri and Kansas were the states involved.

Deliberated Eight Hours

The jurors deliberated about eight hours.

The oil men watched with upturned faces from their seats directly across the jury box that is, all but Charles Arnott, silver haired Socony-Vacuum official who the government charged was "master mind" of the conspiracy. With a quizzical smile he maintained the composure he had shown on the witness stand.

Judge Stone polled the jury, and each member affirmed its findings. Then he dismissed the jurors with a smile.

There were a few tears after the verdicts, too, as wives of some of the defendants rushed to their husbands' sides, but mostly silence.

The corporations convicted were: Socony-Vacuum Oil Co., Wadhams Oil Co. (Socony-Vacuum subsidiary); Standard Oil Co. of Indiana; Pure Oil Co.; Sinclair Refining Co.; Barnsdall Refining Co.; Shell Petroleum Corp; Skelly Oil Co.; Continental Oil Co.; Mid-Continent Petroleum Co.; Cities Service Co.; Empire Oil and Refining Co. (Cities Service subsidiary); Phillips Petroleum Co.; Globe Oil and Refining Co. of Kansas; Globe Oil and Refining Co. of Illinois; Globe Oil and Refining Co. of Oklahoma.

The individuals were:

Edward G. Seubert, Chicago, president, Standard Oil Co. of Indiana.

Alan Jackson, Chicago, vice president in charge of sales, Standard Oil Co. of Indiana.

Jacob France, Baltimore, president, Mid-Continent Petroleum Corp.

I. A. O'Shaughnessy, Minneapolis, president, Globe Oil and Refining companies.

Third Man Charged

resident of near O'Donnell, charged with theft of a United States mail pouch and rifling of registered mail contained therein, Thursday waived preliminary hearing after pleading not guilty on arraignment.

Transferred To Fort Worth

He was transferred to Fort Worth in lieu of bond of $7,500.

First defendant arraigned was Carl E. Williams of Brownwood, charged by complaint filed at Abilene with the U. S. commissioner with receiving and concealing stolen government property. According to the complaint, the property was currency and silver addressed to the O'Donnell bank.

Complaint against Cathey was filed with Mrs. Fluke by A. O. Curry, postal inspector. W. L. Morris, another inspector, swore to the charge against Petty. P. M. Juvenal, another postal inspector, acting of advice of two other inspectors, filed the complaint against Williams.

Disappeared In November

A mail pouch containing more than $28,000 in coin and currency and which was scheduled to arrive at O'Donnell for payment of cotton pickers disappeared early in November.

It was not known how much, if any, of the money contained in the pouch had ben recovered. However, missing bills, according to rumors, have been found.

John V. Keesee, about 23, of Ropesville, charged with forgery of endorsement of a United States treasury check and negotiating it, Saturday posted bond of $750.

that steel price increases had "far outrun the cost of production."

Another witness, Thomas C. Holden, vice president of F. W. Dodge corporation, which gathers statistics on the building industry, told the committee that to regard the present recession as a new depression was absurd. He called it a "temporary check."

Gain Is Reported

Tower reported to the committee as light gain in steel operations since the new year began, and indications of "a moderate measure of further improvement during the early months of the year."

He agreed with Chairman Bynes (D-SC) that prices were raised some 21 per cent and wages 31 per cent, and when the chairman asked whether a five per cent rise in prices would not have covered the pay rise, he expressed the emphatic opinion that it would not.

"The increases in prices were not sufficient in the first two quarters of 1937 to provide for the increase in labor costs," Fairless said in his letter. "In addition to this direct labor costs for wages paid to the employes of the subsidiary companies, there were increasing and additional costs to the companies for the materials which they buy and the services for which they pay to other than employes."

Lubbock Persons Are Injured

Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. McElroy of 2113 Fifteenth street and John T. McElroy of Little hotel were inured in an automobile accident just north of the Plainview city limits on the Amarillo highway about 9 o'clock Saturday night.

McElroy of the Lubbock Travel bureau and manager of the Little hotel, suffered a back injury. All three suffered shock.

They were admitted to a sanitarium at Plainview, but reports late Saturday night were that none of them was in critical condition.

Eckener Plans First Trip Early In May

BERLIN, Jan. 22. (AP)—Dr. Hugo Eckener, master Zeppelin maker, expressed determination today to complete Germany's newest giant Zeppelin by April and start its maiden voyage to the United States late the next month.

Recuperating in Berlin from a minor operation, the noted aircraft designer told the plans for a successor in trans-Atlantic air service to the ill-fated Hindenburg which burned May 6, 1937, at Lakehurst, N. J.

Dr. Eckener said Germany had stored in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, containers to hold 70,000 cubic meters (2,590,000 cubic feet), of gas which he intended to use for bringing helium from the United States to Freidrichshafen.

(The new airship, dimensionally identical with the Hindenburg, is 804 feet long and has a helium capacity of 7,000,000 cubic feet.

(Because helium has less lifting capacity than hydrogen, the new ship, to be known as the LZ-130, will be able to carry only 40 passengers, compared with the Hindenburg's 70.)

It took some time, he explained to comply with American regulations for transfer of the containers to Houston, Texas, where they will be sent inland to Amarillo, Tex., the source of helium.

"Emphatic Representations" Made To Japan By U. S.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22. (AP)—The United States has made "emphatic representations" to Japan, charging Japanese soldiers entered American property in Nanking 15 times in three days and took away 10 Chinese women refugees as well as property.

The state department said Japanese officials subsequently had offered "explanations and assurances that adequate steps were now being taken to prevent similar occurrences in the future."

The American protest was based on dispatches from Consul John M. Allison, at Nanking, who reported he had repeatedly called the attention of the Japanese embassy to such matters but that they continued to be of daily occurrence.

Allison reported that in the "most recently and most flagrant" instance Japanese soldiers with two trucks entered a compound belonging to the United Christian mission and took away a piano and other property.

Stockmen Seek To Aid Industry

(By The Associated Press)

AMARILLO, Jan. 22.—The nation's livestock growers are pooling efforts to stabilize the demand and price for meat through an intensive newspaper, magazine and radio advertising campaign.

Jay Taylor, Amarillo cowman who is chairman of a committee appointed to develop the advertising campaign, said today livestock growers hope to raise at least $300,000 for a year's campaign. This sum may be increased to a million dollars, he said, if first results point to possible success of such a program.

Plan Double Assessment

Stockmen propose to double the 25-cent per car assessment on cattle shipped to market to raise advertising funds. Major livestock organizations, including the American National and the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association, inc., have voted to raise the assessment and adopt the proposed advertising campaign.

Packers and retail markets will participate in the raising of funds and in the advertising campaign and the Corn Belt feeders will be asked to cooperate.

To Create Stable Demand

Taylor said the purpose of the campaign was not to skyrocket the price of meat but to create if possible a stable demand and price and to eliminate sharp fluctuations in demand and price.

A "feeler" campaign, handled through the National Livestock and Meat board in Chicago, will start within a few days and the major program will follow. Newspaper space and spot radio broadcasting will be used in the "feeler" promotion.

In adopting plans for the national campaign, the stock raisers pointed out that various cooperatives are spending around $5,000,000 annually in advertising food, some of it a substitute for meat.

The meat board has been advertising various meats several years through specialized campaigns and cooking schools.

I am an advertising man

For over thirty years I have been writing advertisements for national advertisers—shoes, soap, cereals, automobiles, radios, tobacco, blankets, tooth-powder.

To me it is the most fascinating work in the world—learning about the merits of merchandise and then telling people about them—bringing greater comfort, and enjoyment, into people's lives—introducing people to new pleasures, helping them to get the most for their money.

Besides being fascinating, it is satisfying. My intimate experience with advertisers has shown me that, except for rare exceptions, the manufacturers and merchants of this nation lean over backwards to be sincere and honest.

The law of advertising is simple once one understands its working—the more people know about the merit of a product, the more people buy it. The greater the volume of sales, the less the cost to manufacture. Savings in making mean either lower prices to the consumer or greater value put back into the merchandise.

As an advertising man I can sincerely affirm that it pays to read the advertisements in the newspapers—for news of new things, for news of bargains and savings.

There are thousands of other men—and women—devoting their lives to advertising writing, who will tell you the same thing. They know!

Texas Wells In State-Wide Shutdown

Campaign On To Aid Industry

(By The Associated Press)
AUSTIN, Jan. 22.—A large part of Texas' 79,000 oil wells will be silent tomorrow as the nation's banner producing state leads a determined drive to work off excessive gasoline stocks.

The Railroad commission ordered a statewide shutdown for the next six Sundays on grounds the amount of oil and oil products on hand was approximately 50,000,000 barrels in excess of needs.

Many To Continue Operation

Many wells will continue operating tomorrow either because their gas is needed to keep people warm or supply carbon black plants or their physical characteristics are such they cannot be shut in entirely without being killed or materially damaged. These wells, however, must reduce their output one-seventh over the next six weeks.

Texas oil men generally expressed hope other major oil states would make similar cuts in their production allowances and imports would be curtailed. Texas otherwise will be penalized, they maintained, because it has not been producing more than its share of the nation's oil.

Van Field To Close

V. E. Cottingham, chief engineer for the commission, said none of the wells in the Van field would be closed. Daily allowables there have been reduced one-seventh. The commission's district offices, he said, probably have granted exceptions to other areas.

Cottingham said oil field workers probably would lose little if any pay, with most of them getting a paid holiday.

"Co-operation of the operators throughout the state in arranging for the shutdowns or lower production is remarkable," he asserted.

It will be the first time since discovery of oil in Texas that producers throughout the state have been put on a six-day week basis. The Giant East Texas field, however, has been silenced several times. Sunday shutdowns were in effect there in late November and early December.

The commission announced it would receive evidence at Midland February 7 on whether the properties of Perren and Whitaker should be separated from proration purposes from the rest of the Pecos valley field, Pecos county.

Honor Roll Has 125 Students

One hundred and twelve students made grades high enough to place them on the honor roll at Senior High school during the past 18 weeks. This number is an increase of 25 over the number making honor roll grades at the close of the first nine weeks of school, according to the records of Miss Grace Padley, sponsor of the National Honor society.

Farmers Expecting To Participate In 1938 Farm Program Advised To Sign Work Sheets

Farmers who expect to participate in the 1938 program for agriculture and who would get a subsidy for their 1937 cotton, must sign a work sheet, said Walter Johnson, assistant county agent in charge of the agricultural conservation program, yesterday.

"Every farmer needs a base production in order to get the 1937 subsidy," he said. "Farmers who want the subsidy must agree to cooperate with the 1938 program. They must have a work sheet signed showing their base.

"All farmers who did not sign a 1937 work sheet and who grow cotton or other commercial general crops, must sign a work sheet. We are asking all farmers who did not do so, to co-operate with us, whether they intend to go into the program this year or not.

"We have received instructions from Washington and College Station about this. The cotton base production figures on these work sheets will be used as a basis for making payments under the 1937 cotton price adjustment program."

Picard Grabs Lead In Pasadena Open With 136 Score

By ROBERT MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer

PASADENA, Calif., Jan. 22.—Handsome Henry Picard, the Hershey, Pa., pro, fired the lowest round of the tournament today to grab the lead in the $3,000 Pasadena Open at the half-way point with a total score of 136.

Picard, with a 70 yesterday, scrambled for a par 36 on the first nine today, but burned the Brookside course with a 30 on the trip back for a 66—five shots under par.

Hines And Seavall Near

One stroke back were Jimmy Hines, of Garden City, New York, and Eric Seavall of nearby Glendale.

Harry Cooper, the old master, stripped four strokes off par and added a 67 to his first round 72 for 139 to remain in the top flight.

With virtually all the low shooters in, Picard's lead seemed safe.

Jimmy Thomson of Shawnee on the Delaware who had a 69 yesterday, fell back with a 73 for 142 today, and Paul Runyan, White Plains, N. Y., whose first round 68 put him in to a three-way tie for first place, needed 72 for 140 to finish this afternoon.

Fighting Irishman Dreams Of Another Comeback And Chance At World Title

By ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Jan. 22.—Jim Braddock, doubling for old man comeback himself, looked forward today to a 1938 campaign that may lead to another shot at the heavyweight championship in September, instead of making any further inquiries about the road to the old fighters home.

The popular New Jersey Irishman has achieved the seeming impossible so often during his amazing ring career that it's no longer safe to under-estimate him or his prospects. He's registered so many underdog conquests now, the latest his thrilling 10-round victory last night over British Tommy Farr in Madison Square Garden, it seems his only worry is the chance of going into the ring some night a betting favorite.

Promoter Mike Jacobs of the 20th Century Sporting club offered Braddock his choice of a return bout with Farr or a match with Max Baer, from whom Jersey Jim won the world heavyweight crown in 1935, on April 1. Originally Jacobs planned to pit the Braddock-Farr winner against Baer on March 11 but Braddock wants a longer breathing spell before swinging back into action.

Braddock told the promoter he wanted to "talk it over with the missus" before giving a definite answer. Jim is determined to keep going, notwithstanding Mrs. Braddock's desire to have him leave the ring. He was ready to quit, if decisively beaten by Farr, but now has taken on fresh ambition.

Not Old Enough

"I'm not old enough to quit, the way I feel now," said Jim.

A return Braddock-Farr match would be a natural, after last night's proceedings. Only a sensational rally in the last two rounds saved Braddock from a licking. Even so the verdict was so close the three officials divided. A penalty round cost Farr the fight, as it turned out.

Braddock said he was willing to fight either Farr or Baer at 12 rounds in his next fight. He expects to give Jacobs his decision Monday, at which time Farr also is slated to confer with the promoter.

Dumbfounded At Loss

Farr, dumbfounded at his loss to a veteran he had figured to wear down and punish cruelly inside the 10 rounds, mumbled about going to the mines in his native Wales. He was more crestfallen than when the champion Louis, chopped his face to ribbons at Yankee stadium a few months ago.

He questioned the verdict bitterly, as did those who had backed him at odds as high as 3 to 1. It was breathlessly close.

Going into the ninth round, practically every score card at the ringside had Tommy in front. He had belted Braddock's middle into a mass of angry red and purple welts and even Jim's most ardent supporters had resigned their man to a bad hiding in the last two rounds.

Then Jim tore loose. Suddenly his tired legs came to life. He began swinging with both hands and beating Farr all over the ring as the crowd went wild. That was what they had waited for. Putting every ounce he had left into the effort, Jim managed to slug Tommy soundly right through the ninth and the tenth. Farr didn't appear to feel the blows much, but Braddock's attack was so furious and so unexpected that the Welshman appeared to be in a fog.

Braddock admitted later in his dressing room that he had shot the works in those two rounds in a desperate effort to win. Just before the last bell he jerked his head up during a clinch to see how much time was left by the big clock on the wall. He couldn't have gone much further, and Farr just was recovering from the onslaught and starting to take the play again. It was a close thing, but it was enough.

Slaton Oilers Face Two Teams On Home Floor Tuesday Night

SLATON, Jan. 22 (Special)—Another dubleheader is on tap for Joe Bob Stephens' strong Slaton Oilers here Tuesday night.

The Lynn Invaders and Graham Chapel furnish competition for the 1937 Southwestern A. A. U. champions. The former outfit is composed of players from the fast Cosden team, although little is known of strength of the Graham Chapel quintet.

Dixie Howell May Join Border Loop

TEMPE, Ariz., Jan. 22. (AP)—Dixie Howell, former Alabama football star, conferred with President Grady Gammage and athletic officials of Arizona State Teachers college here regarding his possible selection as gridiron coach at the Border conference school.

Howell, a member of the Washington Redskins professional team last season, said he "would like to take a crack" at the Tempe post.

Dr. Gammage said "nothing definite" had been offered Howell and that a decision on the new coach would not be announced "for a few days and possibly a few weeks."

Lavik resigned as coach, after a disastrous 1937 season, to become athletic director. During the fall campaign Tempe suffered eight losses and played one tie.

Gabby Is Happy

Chicago, Jan. 22. (AP)—Charles Leo (Gabby) Hartnett was beaming today. In his possession were duplicates of two contracts he signed yesterday with the Chicago Cubs, one as a player, the other as a coach. Gabby said his 1938 salary will be the best of his career with the team.

Baseball Plans To Be Outlined Next Sunday

Definite shaping of plans are expected to be made for the West Texas-New Mexico league, of which Lubbock will likely be a member this summer, in a meeting called by President Milton E. Price at 1:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon in Hilton hotel.

Price has notified all members and prospective members to send representatives. Adoption of a suitable player rule and necessary changes in the league constitution and rules in order to strengthen status of the circuit will be in order for the confab.

Schedule plans will be discussed and consideration given for opening and closing dates and pairings for opening day games.

The league operated with four teams last year, but at least six and possibly eight are slated to take the field for the 1938 opening. Clovis, besides Lubbock, is planning to ask admittance and prospects are bright for a successful entry of both teams. Lubbock's situation is almost assured through connections with the Chicago White Sox and Dallas Steer farm system.

Roswell, N. M., Big Spring, Wink and Midland have franchises under the present setup. Wink and Roswell completed the 1937 season, with Monahans and Hobbs, N. M. Big Spring took over the Monahans franchise and Midland the Hobbs holdings during the winter. Midland started the past season, but dropped out before completing the schedule.

Sunday's meeting will probably establish a definite plan under which the loop will work this summer.

Cactus League Will Discuss 1938 Outlook At El Paso

EL PASO, Jan. 22.—Representatives of the Arizona-Texas Cactus baseball league meet here tomorrow to draw up a 1938 schedule and look over the field for new members for the four-club circuit.

Early proposals for consolidating the Arizona-Texas league with the faltering West Texas-New Mexico circuit appeared superfluous today with a revival of activity on the West Texas front.

Cactus league officials had considered possibilities in taking over the remaining franchises of the West Texas loop to add to the circuit now composed of Albuquerque, El Paso, Tucson and Bisbee.

Interest has been manifested in addition of one or two Arizona points, preferably Phoenix and Globe. Lack of enthusiasm on the part of local interests did not indicate immediate action.

All discussions of any sort of an amalgamation with the West Texas New Mexico league, representatives said, would have to be held in abeyance pending a meeting a week from tomorrow at Lubbock.

New Home Continues Victory March After Schedule Split

New Home boys basketball team continued its victory march in opening games of the second half in the South Plains league Friday night by defeating Wilson, 18 to 15. New Home copped top honors for the first leg.

Other results were Meadow 20, Cooper 19; Ropesville 19, New Deal 15; Shallowater 34; Frenship 27. Both the Southland boys and girls teams forfeited to Roosevelt when they failed to appear on the latter's court for games.

Girls results were: Meadow swamped Cooper, 40-22; Ropesville beat New Deal, 29-21; Frenship defeated Shallowater, 28 to 26; and New Home lost to Wilson, 25-24.

Card Tuesday night sends Cooper to Ropes, Shallowater to Meadow, New Deal to Wilson, Roosevelt to Frenship, and New Home to Southland.

GRANT ELIMINATED

TAMPA, Fla., Jan. 22. (AP)—Bryant M. Grant, of Atlanta, Davis cup team member, was eliminated by Wayne Sabin of Los Angeles late today in the semi-final round of the fourteenth annual Dixie tennis tournament singles, 4-6, 6-4, 1-6, 6-3, 7-5.

THE GOLDEN GLOVES house will now come to order, and nominations for the District Tournament will be heard.

The District tournament, in case you hadn't heard, is scheduled for the Auditorium here the nights of Feb. 7 and 8, or two weeks past tomorrow and Tuesday nights.

Box fighters who have not already done so are urged to send in their entries pronto. For your convenience, there's an entry blank printed in this section today, or you may write a letter or card, giving the information asked in the printed form, to the Golden Gloves editor of this paper.

A BIG ruch for ringside tickets is expected when the pasteboards go on sale tomorrow at three downtown agencies. Fans wishing to assure themselves good seats for the district event are invited to drop by Sam Rosenthal's Hub Clothiers, the Hilton Hotel lobby desk, or Hotel Lubbock drug. Better buy 'em two at a time, since the next fights will be on successive nights.

Prizes for City and District champions have arrived, and are on display at Sherrod Bros. show window. Winners in the city tournament get expensive boxing trunks, rich maroon and white satin. District champs also will get trunks, and, in addition, the regular district trophy, gold belt buckles with appropriate figures and engraving.

Boxers of the Lockney neighborhood are invited to register for the "fight night" program to be held at Mr. Gearheart's theatre there on Thursday night. The winners are to come to the District tournament here. But even the fighters who do not win at Lockney are eligible to compete in the District tournament. This department urges cooperation with Gearheart and his fight night program.

We'll Know About Baseball Sunday

FUTURE of baseball in Lubbock hinges, to a certain degree, on next Sunday's meeting of West Texas-New Mexico moguls and managers here.

The meeting is to convene at Hotel Hilton here, at 1:30 o'clock January 30, according to announcements mailed all present and prospective members of the league, by Milton Price, secretary of the Texas League, president of the West Texas-New Mexico league.

"It is hoped," wrote Price, "that the league will take on definite shape at this session for the 1938 season in order that preliminary preparations may receive early attention. All schedule matters will be considered, such as opening and closing dates, number of games, pairings, etc.

"The adoption of a suitable player rule will be in order as will any other changes in the present constitution and rules in order to strengthen the laws governing the league and the championship campaign . . .

"Any other matters pertaining to the league, its general welfare, and to the good of the game, will be in order."

IT is hoped that the good people of Clovis will be represented, and that the New Mexico city will come into the league. One reason the meeting is being held in Lubbock is the proximity of Clovis, which is being sought as, and which has made indication of becoming, a member of the league. Other members, at present, are Wink, Midland, Big Spring and Roswell, with the possibility that four others will come in.

Lubbock's presence in the league is assured, provided an even number of teams makes up the membership. In other words, if as many as five other teams are ready when 'the meetin' is called here next Sunday, Lubbock will make it a six-club, ready-to-go affair.

Bob Tarleton, the big shot of the Dallas club of the Texas League and general manager of the White Sox farm system, probably will be here to represent Lubbock. The Sox, through Dallas, will operate the Lubbock entry.

Juicy Owen Moves To Sherman

FROM Sherman comes word that Truett L. Owen has been elected to the post of assistant coach at Sherman High school, succeeding J. B. Head, who becomes head coach.

That's none other than old "Juicy" of Texas Tech tackle fame. Juicy has been coaching at Electra High for the last three seasons, working with George Blair and Marion "Stud" Harris, the latter another Tech grid luminary.

When Verde Dickey, former head coach at Sherman, was appointed coach at Adamson High, Dallas, where your old friend Virgil Ballard holds forth as head coach, J. B. Head was moved up to the top position, and Owen brought from Electra as assistant.

It's "back home" for old Juicy, who was graduated from Sherman High in 1931. He came here and put in four years of college work, starring at line play, and going to Electra as assistant. He came back to take away one of Lubbock's favorite young persons, Miss Virginia Bacon. They went to University of Michigan last summer.

Folks hereabouts take pride in seeing Owen move along. He has what it takes, evidently, and everybody's proud.

Lowly St. Louis Brownies Sharpen Their Claws For 1938; New Power Seen

(By The Associated Press)

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 22.—Officials of the St. Louis Browns were convinced today they had done the best job of winter rebuilding of any team in either league.

Beginning with the appointment of Gabby Street as manager, the "front office" has made changes to such an extent the team, as it stands now, has new or newish faces at first and second base, shortstop, left field and on the mound.

Get Big Jim Weaver

Acquisition of Big Jim Weaver from Pittsburgh was the latest of a series of deals intended to bolster a pitching staff that faltered dismally through the last campaign.

In addition to Weaver, the Browns have acquired Buck Newsom from the Boston Red Sox, Vito Tamulis from the Yankees' Newark farm, and Ed Linke from Washington to team up with their 1937 standbys of Oral Hildebrand and Jack Knott.

Les Tietje, Russ Van Atta, Jim Walkup and Julio Bonetti also are on the roster for 1938, with expectations they will come through, at least in relief roles.

Have Promising Staff

In fact, Street says the Browns now have a more promising pitching staff than the one he took over with the Cardinals in 1930 and led to a National league pennant.

The infield has been strengthened with Johnny McQuinn, drafted from Newark, replacing the weak-hitting Harry Davis at first base, and with the veterans, Red Kress and Oscar Melillo, available for duty at short and second.

The shifting-about cost the Browns Outfielder Joe Vosmik. Colonel Buster Mills, formerly of the Red Sox, who hits around .300 and may improve, will take over his left field post.

A 364-foot redwood, in Humboldt county, Calif., is the tallest known tree in the world.

Clever Battlers Join Ranks For Golden Gloves

Addition of full teams from Wilson, Ralls and Lockney heightens interest in the district Golden Gloves boxing tournament Feb. 7 and 8, with several interesting scraps likely to develop.

A tournament will be held in a Lorenzo theater Thursday night to determine representatives for the events here. Wilson and Ralls have signified intentions of bringing teams.

One of the highlights of the district matches no doubt will be the squabble in lightweight class, which may evolve into a triangular affair. Jack Lovin, 1937 district champion and winner in the City events last week, probably will be favored, with Pete Nachlinger, Texas Tech battler, and James Stotts of Slaton furnishing most competition.

Stotts Liked Here

Stotts drew favorable comment for his losing fight in the semi-final bout of the City meet.

Another interesting match will be the Babe Ritchie-Bob Bryant heavyweight go. Ritchie, 220-pound Lubbock High fighter, knocked Bryant out in the first round of their City tournament bout. Bryant is a Texas Tech football player.

John Buck, now fighting in the 175-pound class, won the state A. A. U. title in 1937 as a middleweight and is entered for the District matches. He attended Texas Tech last year and plans to re-enter for the next semester.

Entries Are Listed

Interest shown in the City events indicate that fans will trek to the auditorium in large numbers, with the cream of boxers from this section of the state and from New Mexico entered here.

Entries include:

Rudy Russell, 112, Texas Tech.
Tommy Coates, 118, Tech.

Wily Clingman And Moran To Tangle

Despite his inability to wrestle the Japanese method with jackets up to the Nippon standard, Sailor Moran is still considered good enough at the American game to hold his own with his playmates.

So Wednesday night he will be back on the main event at the Auditorium for the third successive week. Instead of Prof. Tetsura Higami, Moran's conquerer of last week, as the second man, there will be wily Otis Clingman.

Benny Wilson of Fort Worth and Otto Ludwig, the would-be bad boy from Hamburg, tangle in the semi-final go.

Another foreigner takes the deck in the opning event pitted against Tex Hager of Portland, Oregon. Dairam Bey is the Terrible Turk of high regard in the cauliflower clan and is the boy Hager will take on.

Dates For Annual League Meet In Floyd County Announced

FLOYDADA, Jan. 22. (Special)—Dates of the annual Floyd County Interscholastic league meet has been set for April 1-2 at Lockney by the league directors. Decision was unanimous. Choral singing and Class A declamation will be held March 31.

Baugh's Passing To Be Hampered In Today's Tilt

By FELIX R. McKNIGHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, Jan. 22. — Weather handicaps, an item Washington Redskins and Chicago's Bears, top professional teams, encountered in their recent game for the title, appeared likely for their barnstorming game here tomorrow.

Icy turf and snow caused the salaried boys to don rubber-soled slippers for their titular game at Chicago a few weeks ago. Torrential rain—more than four inches of it in 36 hours—had the boys fitting mud cleats into their shoes for the Cotton Bowl date.

Baugh Snubs Elements

The Bears, buried by Sammy Baugh's passes, 28-21, in the championship game, couldn't convince themselves they had much of an edge, even with Baugh slinging a wet ball, for he snubbed the elements in their last meeting and hurled the soggy leather for three scores.

The weatherman did commit himself and say he believed the rain would break during the night. A field cover has kept the cloud burst off the playing field.

Apparently weary of football after the smashing Cotton bowl clash, max New Year's day, fans were apathetic towards a clash that pitted two of the world's best pro teams in their own backyard and less than 5,000 had bought tickets tonight.

Ace Backs Are Out

With Gene Ronzani and Bronko Nagurski, two of Chicago's ace backs, out of the lineup with hurts, a combination of Keith Molesworth, Beattie Feathers, Jack Manders and Sam Francis, was due to start.

In the Washington backfield was Riley Smith, Baugh, Ernie Pinckert and Cliff Battles, the latter expected to shoulder most of the total burden in the event rain and mud slows down passing Sammy.

Steady rain prevented both teams from taking a last-day workout. Under no circumstances, said promoters, would the scheduled game be postponed.

Probable lineups:

Chicago	Pos.	Washington
Plasman	LE	Mulle
Stydahar	LT	Edwards
Fortman	LG	Olsen
Mausch	C	G. Smith
Musso	RG	Young
Thompson	RT	Barrett
Karr	RE	Malone
Molesworth	QB	R. Smith
Feathers	LH	Baugh
Manders	RH	Pinckert
Francis	FB	Battles

Held to seven points in the first half against Brownfield juniors last week, the Cowboys counted 30 times in the last porfion.

Red Proved Fireside Training Was Good Enough For 20 Baseball Games But Moguls Stick To Spring Practice

By DILLON GRAHAM
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Jan. 22. — Charles (Red) Ruffing demonstrated last spring that one way to win 20 games was to hug the fireside and play pinochle as snow swished against northern windows.

But his case apparently didn't impress major league magnates with the futility of southern conditioning jaunts.

There are rumors that spring training again will be held.

Ruffing couldn't agree on salary terms with the Yankees last winter. So while other Yanks absorbed southern sunshine Ruffing pouted in Illinois. Except for occasional light gym work he shunned training.

Finally he capitulated in mid-May, joined the New Yorkers, and touched off victory after victory. The only sunburn he had came from fireside flashes, but his pitching arm still had the same old zip.

Paul Waner was another who boycotted training camp. He signed with the Pirates just before the season began and had his usual good year at bat.

Their cases at least made baseball cognizant that perhaps training trips were stretched too long.

Clark Griffith of Washington, who has been going south since the training fad first spread, says it really was necessary in the old days when many ball players spent their winters in saloons.

Nowadays, he says, baseball has a more intelligent personnel, of men who realize success depends on physical condition. Athletes keep in semi-training all winter and need only a fraction of the spring labors once required.

Holdouts are confronted with the danger of pulling a leg or arm muscle in rushing their condition to catch up with team mates who've brought themselves along more slowly.

Take the case of Paul Dean. The Cardinal held out in 1936 and wouldn't sign until Dizzy did. In early season he wrenched a muscle in his shoulder. That helped force him out of the big league.

Here's where clubs will train, beginning in late February:

American league — New York at St. Petersburg, Fla.; Detroit at Lakeland, Fla.; Cleveland at New Orleans; Boston at Sarasota, Fla.; Washington at Orlando, Fla.; Philadelphia at Lake Charles, La.; St. Louis at San Antonio, Tex., and Chicago at Pasadena, Calif.

National league—New York at Baton Rouge, La.; Chicago at Catalina Island, Calif.; Pittsburgh at San Bernardino, Calif.; Brooklyn at Clearwater, Fla.; Cincinnati at Tampa, Fla.; St. Louis at St. Petersburg, Fla.; Boston at Bradentown, Fla.; Philadelphia at Biloxi, Miss.

Aged Baseball Czar To Be Given Award By Writers

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Jan. 22.—Kenesaw Mountain Landis, 70-year-old commissioner of organized baseball, will be this year's recipient of the award made annually by the New York chapter of the Baseball Writers' association to the individual contributing substantially to the sport's advancement over a period of time.

The award, in the form of a plaque, will be at the chapter's fifteenth annual banquet, Jan. 30, at the Hotel Commodore. The commissioner has been a frequent guest of honor in the past.

Writer Was Honored

Only once before in the ten-year history of this award has it gone to any individual not directly associated with the playing field. The late William B. Hanna, New York baseball writer, was honored in 1930.

Landis became commissioner in 1920, by joint action of major league club owners, after dissolution of the old national commission. He has wielded undisputed jurisdiction over organized baseball ever since.

Benevolent Dictator

Baseball men generally regard Landis as a "benevolent dictator." He has been as prompt to protect player interests as he has been impartial in ruling on disputes involving club owners.

A "red hot" fan, Landis is famous for his photographic poses in battered felt hat, his cryptic replies to questions, and his interest in golf, his chief hobby aside from baseball.

The former federal judge's services to baseball have covered a wide range of conciliatory and disciplinary action.

Rabbits Beat Abernathy To Win Ralls Cage Tourney

RALLS, Jan. 22. (Special)—The Jackrabbits romped off with honors in the Ralls invitation basketball tournament after two days of play, beating Abernathy, 37-27 tonight in the finals.

Thompson of Abernathy scored the bulk of his team's points with 20 markers. Red Brown of Ralls accounted for 12, while Beans Reed and Anstead netted 10 each.

Idalou defeated Draw in consolation finals, 45 to 27. Reddle of Idalou was high point man with 18 counters.

Team and individual trophies were awarded to first and second teams in the championship flight and to consolation winners. Milford Dendy of Ralls was voted the sportsmanship trophy.

More than 600 fans were on hand to witness the finals.

Plainview Wins Second Game Of Series From Borger

PLAINVIEW, Jan. 22. (Special)—Plainview High school bagged its second win in successive nights over Borger each time by a two-point margin. Tonight's score was 26 to 24 in favor of the locals.

Plainview won last night, 27-25. Lovvorn was the mainstay of the attack tonight, dropping in two free throws late in the game to clinch the victory. The count was knotted five times during the first half. Borger led at halftime, 18 to 13.

Miller and Hutson for Plainview and Barron and Kendrick for Borger were other outstanding men.

Plainview meet Lubbock here Wednesday night.

Vernon Captures Tournament By Defeating Matador Five

MATADOR, Jan. 22. (Special)—Vernon High school defeated Matador to capture championship of the 8th annual Lions club tournament here tonight. Vernon prevailed, 34 to 24.

Flomot copped third place honors. Patton Springs won over Lockney, 23-20, in the consolation finals. A tournament all-star team was selected, consisting of Bellew and S. Nelson Elected By 'Ole Miss'

(By The Associated Press)

STATE COLLEGE, Miss., Jan. 22. Emerson (Spike) Nelson, line coach at Louisiana State university for six years, today was named head football coach at Mississippi State college.

C. R. (Dude) Noble, veteran member of the coaching staff here, was appointed athletic director.

Sasse Resigned Post

Nelson, a former University of Iowa tackle, succeeds Col. Ralph Sasse as head football coach. Col. Sasse before the close of the 1937 season and his assistants took over direction of the team.

Noble's appointment as athletic director followed by one day the announcement that Col. Paul Parker had been relieved of his duties Jan. 14.

The Nelson appointment marked the second time within recent weeks that a Southeastern conference member named a head coach from the staff of Bernie Moore, gridiron mentor at Louisiana State university.

Georgia Chose Hunt

The University of Georgia chose Joel Hunt, former backfield coach at L. S. U., for its head football coach.

Nelson was favored for the post with the Maroons in recent campus discussion. Henry Frnka, assistant coach at Vanderbilt, also an applicant, announced last night he had withdrawn from the contest.

Lubbock Extends Harvesters In 32-31 Setback

PAMPA, Jan. 22. (Special)—The Westerners presented a more formidable offensive game here tonight but ended the two-game series trailing Pampa H. S. school by one point, 32 to 31.

With but seconds to go Robert "Cotton" Allen, one of the spearheads of Lubbock's attack, broke away to count a field goal, but it lacked the single point of knotting the count. Allen and Henry Ford, lanky pivot man for the Westerners, were fast in the breaks and their deadeye shooting kept their team in the running all the way.

Ford dropped in six goals from the field to pace scoring with 13 points, he having tossed in a free throw for good measure. Heiskell, Harvester forward bagged 11 markers for second honors, followed by Allen with 10.

Cox was the leading floor man for the winners, in addition to adding nine points in the scoring column. Harold Parsons, little Lubbock guard, was ejected from the game in the second half on personal fouls.

"The Rajah" Gave 22 Years Of His Life To Baseball And Now He's Wondering If The Old Game Still Remembers

By EARL HILLIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO, Jan. 22.—The forgotten man of baseball, Rogers Hornsby, hopes the game remembers . . .

Perhaps the greatest right-handed hitter of all-time, "The Rajah" has a bewildered look in his eyes as he looks ahead to the start of another spring training season—wondering if the sport to which he gave 22 years holds anything more for him.

His Future Is Dim

His baseball future is dim. Deposed as manager of the St. Louis Browns and behind him a career with the Chicago Cubs, St. Louis Cardinals, Boston Braves and New York Giants, Hornsby finds himself a forgotten figure of a pastime of which he once was a so brilliant and spectacular part.

Stretched out on his hotel suite davenport, Hornsby drew a hand across the still sharp, penetrating eyes which once made him a feared batsman in both major leagues.

"I tell my boy, Bill, that baseball's the greatest business in the world," he said, "but sometimes I wonder. They tell me I know baseball and players, and all of a sudden I find myself out of a job and all they tell me is 'you bet on the horses.' I remember the day the Browns fired me last summer. Three horses won that day and I was on 'em. So was Buck Newsom, the Boston Red Sox pitcher. He won as much as I did and this winter the Browns traded for him. I guess it's who bets what."

"The Forgotten Man"

When "The Rajah" went from the Cardinals to the Giants in 1926, he reminisced, it was not a question of the ponies, but of contract. He says he never has found out why they shipped him to Boston.

He came from the Braves to the Cubs in 1930 of his own volition, persuading the Braves to send him here, only to be ousted in August, 1932.

Said It Was The Horses

"They said it was the horses," said Hornsby. "Horses — horses again. They said I was supposed to have had a fight with Kiki Cuyler over religion. I was supposed to have one with Bill Veeck. They said I was too tough. That's all funny to me. And as for the Cubs winning the flag in 1932 because I'd left . . . bunk. After all, the Pittsburgh Pirates dropped 13 straight games. That's why and how the Cubs won, not because of a new manager.

"And they called me tough. They say I couldn't understand why others didn't do with ease the things I did. Silly stuff. I never asked that of any team. But I did ask them to stay in shape and play to win. If you're not going to play to win, don't play anything."

Hornsby swung his feet to the floor, reached for his coat and hat.

"I don't know what I'll do. Maybe there's still a place in the game for me. I don't know any other business and I don't want to. Baseball is the best. But it's like everything else. Some players are for you and others against you. I'm a tough guy, a gambler on horses and a slave driver—and I wish I knew why.

"I only wanted to win."

Ask The Master Psychologist
Dr. La. Rose, Ps. D.

How to obtain Love, Happiness, Success, being loved and admired for yourself alone, capturing the hearts and friendship of all about you, can bring you more happiness than all the jewels and fine clothes you could wear than all the wealth you could spend in a lifetime. Without friendship and love, life would not be worth living, for admiration and affection are the breath and heart beat of all human happiness. Within you is a power that controls your destiny. It is in every woman and man, but few discover it. Those who do are blessed with the key to life's Happiness. With all my heart I urge you to bring forth this innate charm that is yours. Develop it, and you will attract to yourself those things that make life worth while. You are helpless in the hands of women who have learned how to use their hidden powers of attraction. You have these powers. You can discover and develop them and swiftly make yourself irresistible to men . . . even in competition with women far more attractive-looking. You can win and hold the love of the one you want. So if in doubt, ask the man who knows.

NET LOSSES SUFFERED

NEW YORK, Jan. 22. (AP)—Financial markets finished a quiet but rather unsatisfactory week with virtually all categories suffering net losses.

In the concluding 2-hour session gold mines and rails managed to make a recovery gesture, but many issues were down fractions to a point or so.

Transfers totaled 405,290 shares, the smallest volume since Dec. 11. The week's turnover was the lowest since late last September. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was off .3 of a point at 45.9 but the net decline for the week amounted to 2 full points.

The ability of the list to absorb so-called "bad news" with equanimity tended to impress analysts.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Jan. 22. (AP)—Intensified drouth over large areas of domestic crop territory, the Southwest in particular, gave a cent a bushel lift to Chicago wheat prices today.

The moisture received by United States dry areas this week was generally deemed insufficient for wheat plant needs. Besides, the weekly official forecast pointed to probability of only light moisture next week.

Evidence that the peak of the season's crop movement in Australia had been passed was likewise an aid toward higher prices here for wheat. A decrease of 1,-000,000 bushels in the Australian wheat visible supply total, the first notable falling-off since the harvest movement began, receiving considerable attention, together with a rise of ocean freight rates from Australia.

At the close, Chicago wheat futures were at about the day's top level, ⅛ to 1 cent above yesterday's finish. May 91⅛@91⅜, July 90⅛@90¼, corn unchanged to ¼ lower, May 60⅝@60¾, July 61½, oats ⅛ up, rye unchanged to ⅝ advance, and provisions unchanged to 10 cents off.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 22. (AP) — Cotton traded moderately lower today under liquidation by tired longs and hedge selling from the interior. The market closed at net declines of 4 to 5 points.

Private cables said the Bombay stock market closed because of unsettled conditions, which brought out considerable selling by brokers with foreign connections.

At the lowest prices showed net losses of nearly 50 cents a bale.

Other disturbing factors were lower Egyptian and Liverpool futures.

In the final hour, shorts covered for over the week-end and the trade continued buying in small volume. Approximately half of the early loss was recovered.

March contracts closed at 8.58, May at 8.65, July at 8.68@8.69, Oct. at 8.78 and Dec. at 8.81. Spots were barely steady and middling lost 5 points, closing at 8.68.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Jan. 22. (AP)—Easiness at Bombay caused cotton to decline today. Early losses were not recovered and May, which sold off from 8.51@8.47, closed at 8.50. Final prices were 5 to 10 points net lower.

The market opened 6 to 12 points lower under foreign selling. When Bombay cotton prices later displayed partial rallies, selling pressure here let up, but the market displayed little rallying power. Cotton goods sales for the week were estimated at about 25 per cent of the current rate of production.

New Pastor Of First Christian Church To Begin Duties Today; Kuykendall Heads Board

Rev. H. G. Gantz, new pastor of First Christian church here, is pictured at the top, and George P. Kuykendall, new chairman of the board, below.

Rev. H. G. Gantz will begin his active ministry as pastor of the First Christian church here at 11 o'clock this morning with a sermon on the theme, "Charge to the Ministry."

He will preach again tonight on "Living Love." Night services will begin at 7:30 o'clock.

Gantz's assumption of the pastorate of the church will be virtually without formality except for his presentation to the congregation by George P. Kuykendall, new chairman of the church board, at the morning service.

Kuykendall Named Friday

Kuykendall was elected at the annual meeting of members of the board Friday night, succeeding J. O. Jones to that post. Other officers of the board were re-elected. They are J. E. Hartley, vice chairman; W. H. N. Gregg, secretary; and L. O. Armstrong, treasurer. The dinner at which elections were held was served by circle No. 3, with Mrs. Homer L. Pharr as chairman.

Gantz is a native of the Plains region. He was born in the Oklahoma Panhandle seven miles across the boundary from Texas and was reared at Pampa. He has had seven years of training for his life work, first at Phillips university at Enid, Okla., and later at Yale university Divinity school obtaining A. B., Master's and seven-year Bachelor of Divinity degrees.

Formerly At Fort Worth

He was pastor of the Chestnut Avenue Christian church at Fort Worth three years, adding 400 members to the rolls, clearing the church of $4,000 indebtedness and taking a leading part in the movement which resulted in the erection of a parsonage.

He succeeds Rev. W. R. Vivrett as pastor here. Vivrett resigned recently to begin a three and one-half year course at Yale Divinity school.

Appointment Of Recorder For City Will Be Considered

Further consideration of the appointment of a city recorder to replace Lewis Kittrell, who repeatedly has asked that he be returned to active duty as police traffic sergeant, loomed Saturday as the most important matter of business likely to receive the attention of the city commission at its semi-monthly meeting at the city hall Thursday afternoon.

Several applications for the place have been received and others are probable before the commission meets, reports to officials indicated Saturday.

Among other business which may be discussed are included the proposal to submit a civil service amendment to the city charter to an election in April; the printing for general distribution to motorists of Lubbock's new traffic ordinance; minor amendments to that ordinance; and decisive steps to force the opening of Texas avenue.

Right-of-way has been secured from all except one property owner to open the avenue from its present dead-end at Twenty-sixth street to a junction with Avenue H south of Thirtieth street.

West Texas Chicken Hawk Is Now Living On Easy Street

CLARENDON, Jan. 22. (AP)—The West Texas chicken hawk, once a fiercely predatory bird which did its own killing, has come upon easy days.

Highway traffic now does the job of knocking off rabbits and other small game for him. H. D. Bugbee, artist and naturalist, says the hawk now perches patiently along highways and waits for a car to run down a meal for him.

But Bugbee says, this sort of gold-bricking has its hazards for the hawk too. Occasionally a car kills one. Recently 26 dead chicken hawks w... counted on a plains road in a 15-mile stretch.

Memorial To Noted Detective

Above is an architect's drawing of the proposed $40,000 gymnasium, which Cotton Center, Texas, hopes to erect and dedicate as a memorial to J. Frank Norfleet, noted West Texas detective. Funds are being solicited now by a memorial association, chartered by the State of Texas, for the school annex. J. C. White, Cotton Center, is treasurer of the association. He reports numerous contributions have been received to date for the building. Many of them have been anonymous.

Inset picture is of Norfleet, who, in 1917, set out to round up a gang of swindlers who fleeced him of $45,000. He was successful in his chase, rounding up all seven men and placing them behind bars. Since then, he has been employed by numerous other victims of swindlers—and has been successful in bringing to justice more than 100 operators of con games, rackets and other swindle schemes.

The memorial building will be erected on a site just a few yards from the original Norfleet ranch.

YARD MANAGERS CHANGE

Schedules For Census Taking Will Be Mailed To Lubbock

Notice that schedules to be used by the federal bureau of the census for the collecting of data from manufacturers for the 1937 census will be mailed to Lubbock and vicinity Jan. 25 was received at the chamber of commerce Saturday from W. L. Austin, director of the federal bureau.

The director asked and the local chamber pledged its cooperation in collecting the data which is used by chambers of commerce, manufacturers, trade associations, economists, educators and others as a constant reference.

Chamber officials expressed the opinion that a complete record of such industries in Lubbock and on the South Plains will be of value to the entire area.

Salvation Army Report Offered

Annual report showing that 1,346 transients applied for and received relief from the Salvation Army here from Jan. 3 to Dec. 26, 1937, was made Saturday by Capt. John G. Churchill, in charge of local work.

The figures were cited by welfare officials as evidencing the fact that transient relief has become increasingly a charity problem as federal relief activities have been curtailed.

Expenditures Are Shown

Churchill's report shows further that expenditures for the Army's operation here totaled $8,695.94 as compared with an income of $8,615.27. A balance on hand of $271.53 at the beginning of the year was reduced to $190.86 at the end, according to the report.

The transient relief report lists 1,880 meals as having been served and 1,374 lodgings having been given. Under local relief are listed 2,357 garments and shoes have been given, as well as 102 grocery orders, 15 fuel orders, 69 Christmas baskets and 425 Christmas bags and toys. Seventy-five separate families received relief. Jobs were secured for 48 persons. An aggregate of 824 indoor and outdoor meetings were held attended by an estimated aggregate of 39,076 persons.

Allred Differs With John Garner Over Division Of State

AUSTIN, Jan. 22. (AP)—Governor James V. Allred and Vice President John N. Garner, who have agreed on many matters, were at odds today on the proposition of splitting Texas in to five states.

"I'm like most Texans—I put sentiment above practical considerations," Allred said in opposition to any partition.

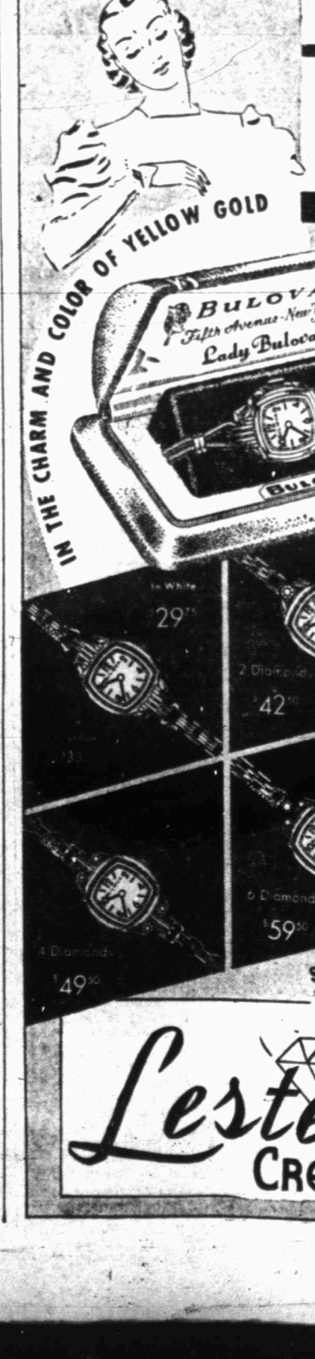

Garner long has contended Texans should seriously consider division of their vast area into several commonwealths.

A movement has been started in the lower Rio Grande valley to make a state out of Texas' four southernmost counties, Cameron, Hidalgo, Willacy and Starr.

The Woman's Angle

by Margaret Turner

WHEN Mrs. Lillie Peak Jones returned to Fort Worth with the Frank Kents several years ago, after a residence here she carried a love for the great spaces out here that is expressed in a little poem, "On The Plains." Mrs. Jones, mother of Mrs. Kent, writes for her own amusement and the pleasure of her friends.

"Where the wind-blown sky is over all
And the ground is strewn with sand,
Where the miles of far, far distance
Gives a feeling rich and grand—

Where the nights are steeped in moonlight
And the sun shines all day thru.
Where the air is full of freshness
And the morning full of dew—

These plains of sublime greatness
Why are they so vast?
What in by-gone ages
Has been their mighty task?"

SCATTERINGS

NOMINATION for a pretty sight: Mrs. Ann Grady and her dainty baby, blue-eyed, golden-lashed Hal Ann. . . Wouldn't you like to see J. B. Priestly's new play, "Time and the Conways," which takes a middle-class British family back and forth through time to show what effect the past can often have upon the future. . . . Suggestion for a major need at concerts: Programs of rustle-proof fabric. . . . No date has been set for the next Civic Music association concert, but the schedule calls for the appearance of Florence George, soprano, sometime in February. . . . "Grist for the fashion mill" is supplied by the new spring shades of wheat, rye and maize. . . . If you can find a golden yellow sweetpea and produce a handful of seeds to prove your discovery a trip around the world may be made on your royalties.

DON Ameche and Bing Crosby will be co-starred in Crosby's next picture, "Harmony for Three." It is a story of a trio of brothers forced to turn minstrels to finance their race track guesses . . . A Tech girl, receiving word from a correspondent in England that she was mailing her a "powder sifter," was surprised last week to open a package that revealed a simple vanity case. . . . Move Rice Institute to the top of Pike's Peak—that is the latest solution proposed to the gubernatorial gambling problem—and let Rice engineering students take charge of transfer operations.

TALISMAN blonde is the latest successor to the platinum blonde. The hair is a rich yellow with a tinge of pink, somewhat like the shade of Talisman roses. . . . Viewing the Sunday afternoon radio program the statement is tardy: "Walt Disney is one man who radio censors won't bother because he won't sell Mickey Mouse over the air," appearing in a February magazine. . . We believe many young people who are turning prematurely gray will not attempt a dye. . . . Nomination for the best slam in recent months: When an older Lubbock woman tapped a young woman on the shoulder at church and said, "If I've said it once I've said it a thousand times, that's the ugliest coat I've ever seen and looks worse on you than anything you've ever worn."

THEY'RE GOOD LOSERS

FREDRIC March, his wife, Florence Eldridge, and play director, John Cromwell, closed their Broadway show, "Yr. Obedient Husband," after playing it eight times to meager and indifferent audiences, reports a New York columnist. They are not the first screen stars to ingloriously fold their tents after failure behind the footlights. But credit them with the quality of graceful losers. After reading the reviews of New York critics bidding audiences beware the ides of March, so to speak, they prepared to return to Hollywood.

To announce this decision they sent out no death notices. Instead, they reprinted a cartoon from a popular magazine showing a trapeze artist barely missing his colleague in mid-air and politely remarking to the man going down, "Alez, Oop! Sorry old fellow." And paid for its insertion in the newspapers. Incidentally they lost $70,000 in their unlucky investment.

The town will be singing and whistling new songs this week. Nine new numbers are in "Rosalie," comprising: "Rosalie," sung by Nelson Eddy; "In the Still of the Night," sung by Eddy; "Who Knows," sung by Eddy; "To Love or Not to Love," sung by Nelson Eddy and the Cadets; "It's All Over But the Shouting," sung by Eddy and the Cadets; "Spring Love Is In the Air," sung by Ilona Massey; "I've a Strange New Rhythm in My Heart," sung by Eleanor Powell; "Why Should I Care," sung by Frank Morgan, and "Close," an instrumental number.

CONFUSING MENU TERMS

CONTRARY to public opinion "au gratin" does not mean "with cheese." Neither does "glace" mean candied, but rather ice, glazed or frozen. That "au gratin" business got started because so many scalloped or dishes "gratinee" are made with cheese, the grated part was originally crumbs. And here are more for you with which to annoy the bridge club next Tuesday: Grille, from which we get grilled means

Color is a lilting and dominant strain. Fifth Avenue windows are massed with it until they resemble flower gardens bursting into bloom. Blue, old rose, pink, violet, blue-violet and yellow—many with a dusty cast—as well as beige and string are among the most evident hues. January frocks, scarfs and

Use Mirrors To Brighten Dark Corners

A Reflection Of Good Taste

Mirrors brighten a dark corner in this modern living room. They are set in panels in a door which is opposite windows, so that they reflect the light. The room, decidedly modern in its color scheme, has walls of three different colors—cold blue, warm yellow and dead white. Against the blue wall are two ivory-yellow chairs, flanking a chest of drawers. A striped blue and ivory sofa lends a striking note to the yellow wall. The rug is maroon.

Spring Colors

chapeaux all reflect them.

Midseason suits—forerunners of spring—also sound a note of color in such hues as grayed turquoise, dusty pink geranium and sulphur yellow. Nearly all appear in tweed weaves woven with neutral threads to soften their color effects, but capable of making a bright midseason splash under a fur coat and stepping out alone in the spring. Some of the new suits have contrasting skirts and jackets.

Colored suede corselet belts and callots are ready to give a smart spring spike to sober black winter dresses.

Bolero frocks are all over town. They are made of wool or crepe—black, beige or gray—sometimes finished with a faja (swathed girdle) of bright printed crepe.

Some of the new midseason dresses, designed to brighten weary winter wardrobes, are fashioned of plain or printed crepe with draped bodices and pleated skirts.

Hats Have Color, Too

Printed crepes stress colored grounds with white designs such as coiled braid, curlecue or lace patterns. (The New York premiere of "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" is expected to influence the design of new prints patterned with the picture's characters.)

Flat-crowned sailors and pillboxes are bursting forth in increased numbers daily. Many of them are dark, trimmed with a light or bright color.

Something else new in chapeaux is a turban of striped silk or jersey in hyacinth blue, ice blue or old rose which the wearer twists around her head herself.

More accessory gadgets have appeared, presaging a strong vogue for them this spring. Gold chains, earrings, gold bracelets with enameled ends, chatelaine watches and unpolished wood vanity cases with gold initials are among novel tricks to smarten costumes.

Two chiffon handkerchiefs of contrasting color are linked together to serve as close-fitting scarfs.

Contest Winner

R. J. BUMPASS, JR.

R. J. Bumpass, jr., above, fourteen-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph J. Bumpass of Lubbock, won first place in a baby contest in his group conducted by a local studio. Children between six months and six years of age were eligible to compete. The pictures were sent to Oklahoma City to be judged. The baby was one year old the day the above picture was taken.

and Mrs. M. L. Marks of Dallas, state president, will discuss "The Will to Peace Through Home, Church and School" at a luncheon courtesy of the host city.

Those who plan to attend the conference are asked to notify Mrs. Dingus.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Ball, jr., of Butte, Mont., have come to Lubbock for the spring semester of Texas Technological college. Mr. Ball will study mining engineering. Mrs. Ball is the former Miss Grace Rankin of this city. The couple is at home temporarily at 1507 Avenue N.

from Lou to Louella...

DEAR LOUELLA: I'm feeling right frisky, thank you, since I have nearly all my enemies placated. I think I'll concentrate on generalizations for awhile leaving my matrimonial predictions to materialize at leisure.

My friend didn't write this week. I hope there is nothing wrong there.

Mrs. K. Carter, jr., who I said recently was retiring from the work-a-day world, is back on the job after a short, short vacation. She doesn't know now when, if at all, she will quit.

More Of This, Later

I know of several people who are planning interesting trips for the summer months. I'll begin telling you about them soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hardwick, in Oklahoma City the other night, danced to the music of Wayne King's orchestra. They returned with the famed leader's autograph.

Mrs. Roberta Doughtie and son, Ralph, left Saturday for a two-week tour of Mexico. They will visit Mexico City, of course.

THE other day, after Mrs. T. E. Hendrick had described Quebec on a study club program, I asked if she had visited much in Canada. She said "Yes, we drive over frequently from our summer home in New Hampshire". Intensely interested I asked more questions which she answered graciously, trusting me not to broadcast her answers far and wide. She is a native of Florida and her husband is of Boston.

Willena Nelson, president of the young people's organization in the First Methodist church, finished requirements for B. A. degree from Tech this week and Monday she will begin teaching public school music in the Toyah schools. She will take examinations by mail and be graduated with the June class. I have some predictions for Willena—for a few years hence—but, as indicated in the first paragraph, I have nothing to say at present.

Wrong Again

I went out to see that basement Friday night and thought for 30 minutes or more I was in a swanky mountain lodge. I promised not to say any more about it though, so I'll have to take back my promise of a description. I will say, however, that I was wrong about the game tables.

Eugenia Smith of Plainview, bride-elect of Lefty Sollis, visited here Saturday. That date has been announced as February 6.

Friday, it was my pleasure to meet Rev. H. G. Gantz, successor to Rev. W. R. Vivrett as pastor of the First Christian church. Those who have seen his wife say she is petite (less than 100 lb.) and very charming. I hope to meet her today.

I'M sure you are familiar with "A Little Bit of Heaven", "The Awakening" and other pictures of a beautiful, cuddly baby that appears in sanitariums, nurseries, children's bedrooms, etc. Gussie Pease Guttmann is the artist. Well, the other day I saw that baby's double in the form of seven-month-old Toni Cornelia Bannister, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Bannister. She was asleep and dressed in blue. Her skin is fair and dimpled and her hair is dark and a little bit curly. Her mother says her eyes are blue.

I Can't Resist

This isn't a prediction, but I can't resist telling you that Catherine Jameson and Kenneth Leftwich frequently are seen together.

Yours, Lou.

Methodists of Northwest Texas conference, beginning Monday, will observe by districts a preparatory service that will mark the 200th anniversary of John Wesley's Aldersgate heart warming, to be held in May of this year. Lubbock's program is to be the following Monday.

Rev. Dr. L. N. Lipscomb, First church and conference missionary secretary, announced a series of district institutes for this week and next, in each of the nine districts. Major emphasis of the series, aside from the usual purposes of missions, etc., will be on Wesley's Aldersgate experiences. Laymen especially are invited to attend the all-day programs. The pastors will have completed their series of retreats.

Besides the scheduled talks by out of the district speakers, a local program is being arranged for each meeting. Special emphasis is to be made on the part and place in the commemoration of all phases of church work, and all church activity, such as Sunday school, women's missionary society, young people's work.

Presiding elders are to preside in their respective districts. Following is the schedule:

A Northwest Texas conference rally has been planned for mid-February at Amarillo. Date will be definitely announced later.

District Missionary Will Be Selected

District missionary for district No. 9, Texas Baptist convention, is to be named in a committee meeting at Wayland college, Plainview, Feb. 7, Rev. C. E. Hereford, chairman of the district board, announced yesterday. Several meetings have been held by the group, but matter of the selection has been postponed.

First Open Meeting In New Community House Is Slated

First open meeting in the new community house, located in the Panhandle-South Plains fair grounds near the main entrance, will be held this afternoon starting at 3:30 o'clock.

Residents of the northeastern and southeastern parts of the city are particularly invited. A varied program, including a talk by George W. Dupree, and some musical numbers, has been arranged.

The community house has been fitted up by a committee of the Federated Church Women's organization, that group having sponsored the work. It is hoped that the program will be the first of a long series of numbers to be given by the group.

A piano has been secured for the house and music will be a big feature in the work.

Congregational Meeting Set For Church Is Abandoned

An announced congregational meeting scheduled for this morning at the First Presbyterian church, to consider an annuity plan, will not be held, S. C. Wilson, clerk of the session, said.

Scout Leaders From 40 Towns Will Be On Hand For Annual Banquet In City

Reservations have been received from 40 towns in South Plains Boy Scout council outside of Lubbock for the annual banquet to be held at Lubbock hotel at 7 o'clock Tuesday night, according to information given Saturday by Dr. F. B. Malone of Lubbock, council president.

Earl M. McClure, council executive, reported that attendance quotas for the banquet exceed 400 and that unless weather should turn unfavorable, that number may attend. He added that the previous record for any annual dinner since the council was organized is virtually certain to be broken. The record is 270, set last year.

Paxton Will Speak

Malone also announced Saturday that the principal speaker of the occasion will be Charles Paxton of Sweetwater, president of Buffalo Trails council.

The annual banquet will be the climaxing event of the busiest program for any one day through the entire year.

Several committee meetings will be held early in the afternoon preliminary to the assembly at 4 p. m. of the executive board for its annual meeting. The budget for 1938 will be the principal topic.

Group Sessions Set

From 5 to 6:30 p. m., three group sessions will be held. All will be at Lubbock hotel. They are: scoutmasters, assistants, and district, neighborhood, field and council commissioners, in the Blue room, with Sam A Henry, sr., of Lubbock, presiding; council, district and troop committeemen in room 210, with V. L. Doughtie of Lubbock presiding; and cub leaders, cubmasters, assistants, denmothers, den chiefs and cub committeemen in the Pine room with Dr. C. C. Schmidt, council cub commissioner, presiding.

Scout exhibits will be on display adjacent to the banquet hall and opportunity to examine them will be given from 6:30 until 7 p. m.

Program For Banquet

Program for the banquet will be: toastmaster, Dr. J. M. Gordon, dean of arts and sciences at Texas Technological college; invocation, Rev. John Thorns, Silverton; music by accordion band directed by Mrs. Leonard Cole; award of attendance banner, Sam A. Henry, sr.; presentation of 1938 council officers, Jack M. Randal, Lubbock; presentation of veteran awards, J. D. Dyer, Lamesa; presentation of denmother certificates, Dr. Malone; presentation of beaver award, K. N. Clapp; playlet, "How Much Is A Boy Worth?" by troop 7, Robert Cooper, scoutmaster, with Joseph R. Griggs, county school superintendent, as director; and Paxton's address.

The attendance banner will be awarded to the town outside of Lubbock most largely represented at the banquet. The determining factors will be the number by which the quota is exceeded, the miles traveled and the number of towns and scouts in the community.

The Beaver award is made annually to the adult leader selected by a secret committee as having done most outstanding work in scouting in the year. Sam A. Henry, sr., won it last year.

Previous Winners

Previous winners of the attendance banner have been Idalou in 1935 and Lorenzo in 1936 and 1937.

Towns from which banquet reservations have been received were announced as being Anton, Afton, Amherst, Brownfield, Bula, Circle Back, Crosbyton, Dimmitt, Floydada, Gomez, Haylake, Hale Center, Hart Camp, Kress, Littlefield, Lorenzo, Lamesa, Lockney, Levelland, Matador, Morton, Muleshoe, Mt. Blanco, McAdoo, O'Donnell, Olton, Pep, Post, Plainview, Plains, Quitaque, Ralls, Ropesville, Slaton, Silverton, Spur Seagraves, Sudan, Tahoka, Tulia, and Whiteface.

The invitation to attend, Dr. Malone explained, includes "scout leaders, parents and every interested adult." Scouts themselves will not be present.

Dates For Hospital Convention In Houston Have Been Set

The question of convention dates for the Texas State Hospital association became more bewildering than ever Friday, but apparently it was definitely settled at last.

The dates, according to word received by C. E. Hunt, superintendent of Lubbock sanitarium and president of the state association, apparently will be April 8 and 9. Houston, the convention city, was selected at the convention here last spring.

But the final selection of dates was not made without complications. Hunt called a special meeting of officers and trustees of the association at Galveston several weeks ago and April 15 and 16 were set as convention dates. Then the Houston arrangements committee, headed by Robert Jolly, administrator of Memorial hospital, discovered the days were in conflict with another convention. So the Houston committee asked Hunt's permission to set new dates.

Permission was granted and the Houston committee met Wednesday. Friday morning Hunt received a letter advising him that the original dates of April 15 to 16 had been set. Shortly after noon came a telegram from Houston saying that a change had been made, and that April 8 and 9 would be the days.

Foundation Of New Parsonage Is Laid

(Special To Avalanche-Journal)

DIMMITT, Jan. 22—Foundation for a new parsonage for the First Baptist church of Dimmitt was started following a ceremony here last week with Mrs. R. A. Turner, a charter member of the church, spreading the first shovel full of concrete into the forms.

The parsonage will have six rooms and will be modern. Rev. J. W. Ware is pastor. Hicks and son, Hereford contractors, are doing the work.

"How Firm a Foundation," was sung at the opening of the ceremony, by the group at the location. Robert Gollehon led in prayer and the pastor spoke briefly on "Foundations."

While placing the first shovel of concrete into the forms Mrs. Turner recalled that her husband, now passed on, had broken the sod for the first church building in Dimmitt. They had come there a short time before with their son, K. E. Turner, a small boy. The son took the shovel from his mother's hands and placed several more batches into the forms.

C. W. Boothe, Gollehon, Turner and Ozro Stephens are the building committee. The present church edifice was erected in 1928. It is a 3-story brick structure.

Japan's Cotton Buying Slumps

BY EDWARD PAGNAC
Associated Press Cotton Reporter

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 22 — The war in the fart east is not the only development that keeps the eyes of the cotton south focused on Japan.

For two successive years the island empire has been the greatest consumer of the south's chief crop. With the outbreak of hostilities in China, however, the money that normally went into cotton purchases was diverted to other channels.

Two Courses Open

Talk in cotton circles indicates the Nippon supply has been depleted to such an extent that there are but two courses open to the government.

The first, and the one which the south hopes will be adopted, is increased imports from America. The second is the shutting down of the huge textile mills.

Commentators believe that the first course will be the one that Japan will follow because of the intense competition between that country and other textile producing nations for the world's markets.

Deprived Of Markets

Should Japan choose the second, they believe, more and more goods consuming nations will turn to other countries for their needs, thus depriving Japan of markets which have taken years to build.

Great Britain, one of Japan's chief competitors, has steadily increased imports of American cotton since the beginning of the current season August 1. To date shipments to Great Britain amount to 1,210,515 bales against only 746,100 bales last season.

Other European nations also have increased cotton takings from the United States. France during the current season imported 605,474 bales against 529,174 bales; Germany 647,789 against 448,059; Italy 345,021 against 196,685.

Japan to date has taken only 178,690 bales, a decrease of 718,243 bales for the same time in 1937.

Shipping circles say that reports from the west coast indicate that more and more ship space is being reserved for far eastern shipment of cotton during January. February and March and exports for the current month are expected to reach 100,000 bales.

Cotton producers, merchants and all other factors engaged in the cotton industry are hopeful that Japan will begin increasing its takings and thereby aid in disposing of an all-time record crop estimated in excess of 18,000,000 bales.

"Demi tasse" does mean half a cup all right, but the French from whom we took it never use the word for after dinner black coffee; they say "cafe noir." "A la Normandy" does not mean it came from Normandy but calls to mind the old song about apple blossom time because such a dish should contain apples (but also may contain shrimps!)

The modernists are still further bent on charming confusion. "Scallops" are not little fish when they are made with bananas, but delicious little morsels of bananas, crumbed and fried.

Real Life And Reel Life In Hollywood Often Blended; Film Cop Has It Easy

BY PAUL HARRISON
NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 22—Realism and make-believe are curiously blended, and opposed, on the movie sets.

An example is Spencer Charters, who plays the austere judge in the new comedy, "Joy of Loving," starring Irene Dunne and Douglas Fairbanks, jr.

The "judge" was very late to the studio the other morning. He shamefacedly explained that he had been pinched for speeding.

In a different, happier situation is Robert Emmet O'Connor, veteran character actor who many times has played the role of captain and inspector of police and detectives.

Indeed, he is so firmly typed as a police official in the public's mind that many Los Angeles cops, when they see him, salute smartly.

O'Connor is chuckling now because, on the way to work at Republic, in "The Great Hollywood Murder Mystery," a traffic officer flagged him down, then apologized profusely and hoped nothing would be said about the incident at headquarters. The actor assured him nothing would.

Tribulations Of An Actress

GETTING back to "The Joy of Loving": Miss Dunne has the part of a stage star who's mobbed by admirers at the theater's side door and whose ermine coat is torn to pieces.

To facilitate the tearing, wardrobe seamstresses took a coat to pieces, skin by skin, then basted it together again with weak thread. But in spite of that, the skins were ripped to shreds.

The sequences at the stage door lasted most of the day, with 150 extras pretending to be admirers and autograph hunters. When the job was done, at least 50 of the extras pulled out their own autograph books and crowded around the exhausted Miss Dunne for signatures.

All Worn Out

IN "Love on a Budget," Russell Gleason is supposed to be a hero who fights his way through the wreckage of an explosion to rescue Dixie Dunbar. He did a fine job of it in the rehearsals, then came the take.

Gleason was so tired and struggled so realistically for the camera that when he reached Miss Dunbar's side he couldn't lift her.

Ugly Mugs Are Assets

MAKEUP men don't deal exclusively in beauty. At Warners, where "Robin Hood" is nearing completion, a big crew has been busy painting cuts, bruises and bloodstains on scores of fighting extras and principals.

Lately, too, they've been painting dandy shiners on the faces of Wayne Morris and Priscilla Lane, leads of "Everybody Was Very Nice."

An ugly mug or some physical affliction often is an asset in the flicker business. When a prize fighter gets beaten past recognition he's generally sure of a fair living in the movies.

An example is Jimmy Dunne, who's exhibiting his battered profile in "Bluebeard's Eighth Wife." Ted Oliver, whose face is terribly scarred, is in demand to provide atmospheric shudders. There are many others.

Fewer Freaks

JOHN GEORGE, the hunchback, still works occasionally, but not as steadily as in the days of Rex Ingram, who never made a picture without him. Not since the picture, "Freaks," has there been much demand for side-show folk, although dwarfs and midgets still receive calls.

Joe Angelino, who sells newspapers on Hollywood boulevard in his spare time, is the dwarf you've seen many times on the screen. And Hollywood's favorite midget is Little Billy, popular member of the Maskers' Club.

One-legged men frequently are called for atmospheric work, and Cecil DeMille's "Buccaneer" used two of them—John Wallace and Earl Bunn. They were obtained through the local organization of disabled war veterans and worked through most of the picture at the tidy sum of $75 a week.

June Weather Often Found In January

CANYON, Jan. 22.—June weather in January can be expected to produce some unusual results.

For instance, Betty Co-ed at West Texas State college can rummage through her clothes closet and attire herself blithely in most any garment she finds. It being not quite Indian summer, certainly not winter, but almost spring, and the possibility of a sudden norther always present, who shall say that a fur coat is necessary—or not unnecessary?

A typical crowd on a recent evening assembled in fur coats, furless coats, fur-trimmed coats, or no coats at all; hats with and without veils; scarfs tied gypsy fashion; oxfords, sandals—toeless and otherwise—; anklets, sheer hose, suits, satins, silks, woolens; mid-winter ensembles, new spring tweeds; bags or no bags; gloves or no gloves; stripes, dots, plaids, checks and one male outfit which astonishingly combined checked suit, striped shirt, dotted tie, and plaid sox.

Jack Frost, on another night, inspired an array of winter ensembles, but on the evening described it was balmy at dusk and 30 degrees colder when the last gun fired and the Buffaloes' victory sent the student horde jubilantly home through a chill wind which produced the usual shudders, giggles, and dashes to warm dormitories.

Fish have sensations of discomfort, but their pain nerves are not developed to as great a degree as in higher forms of life. For this reason, they suffer very slightly when hooked or speared.

Hailstones are a combination of snow and ice.

Tough Customers Mean Nothing To Judge Jim Williams; He Means Business When He Opens Court Session In Seagraves

(Special To Avalanche-Journal)

SEAGRAVES, Jan. 22. — Judge Roy Bean of Langtry, famed in early West Texas history as a dispenser of justice in a unique fashion, has a modern rival here in the person of James J. Williams, better known as Jim, corporation judge of Seagraves. The "judge," as he is known, holds court almost daily in the Seagraves Motor Co., where Mayor Cliff Armstrong maintains his office.

"Judge Bean was the law 'west of the Pecos' but I am the law 'west of Sulphur Draw'," said Williams this week after passing sentence on several persons brought before him for law violations. "These so-called tough oil field followers cannot come into this town and get away with that rough stuff. Not while I am judge here."

An Old-Timer

Williams has resided in Gaines county since about 1900. He came here from over the line in Lea county, New Mexico, before the county was organized, and went to work on the Youngblood ranch. He had worked on the 84 ranch in Lea county.

After several years Williams filed on some land in the Youngblood pasture that was open to homestead. He later operated a ranch of his own and then became interested in a bank at Seminole. His ranch was between Seagraves and Seminole. For some time he was cashier of the Seminole bank.

Ten years ago he came to Seagraves and entered the real estate business, later adding the buying of corn to his work. He buys a large portion of the corn crop in north- eastern Gaines and southwestern Terry and southeastern Yoakum counties and is known over the state among grain men.

Gives Stiff Sentences

A few years ago he was named corporation judge here. A cowboy in his younger days, Williams was never one to run over any one, or to permit himself to be imposed upon. He found that he could be just a bit "tougher" than some of the mod- ern youths who followed the oil business. He is famed for passing out stiff sentences on those who come into his court with a "rep" and who try to get by.

Oil company officials and others who have been in the oil game for years have remarked frequently about the lack of serious trouble in Seagraves.

Explanation Offered On New Statutes

AUSTIN, Jan. 22. (Special)—Interpretations of new statues governing exemptions and voting in the Texas elections by persons who become of age prior to an election, were given in an opinion by James N. Neff, assistant attorney general.

In an opinion to B. Frank Kaufman, chairman of the Tarrant County Democratic Executive Committee, Neff suggested the following rules for the guidance of those commonly referred to as unders in qualifying to vote:

Persons residing in a city of 10,000 population or more who become 21 years old subsequent to Jan. 1, 1937, and prior to the date of the election in order to be qualified to vote must obtain before Feb. 1 an exemption from the payment of poll tax. Those becoming 21 after Jan. 1, 1938, and prior to the election must anticipate their birthday in ob- taining the exemption certificate.

Persons living in a city of less than 10,000 population who become 21 subsequent to Jan. 1, 1937, and prior to Feb. 1, 1938, must secure prior to Feb. 1 a poll tax exemp- tion certificate, but those who reach 21 subsequent to Jan. 31 of this year and prior to the date of the election are not required to secure such a certificate.

Production of the Canadian rub- ber industry had a gross value of $55,949,000 in 1935.

In 1936, Canadian mills were the source of 70 per cent of the North American output of newsprint.

Enrollment For Schools Hiked

Enrollment increases were felt all over the Lubbock public school sys- tem this week as school authori- ties registered 5883 students for the second semester, according to figures in the office of Superintendent W. B. Irvin. This is an increase of 224 students over the enrollment last month and an increase of 235 over February 2, 1937.

A total enrollment will probably reach 6000 before the spring term is over, Mr. Irvin said.

One change will be made because of the additional enrollment. All students in the high fourth grade east of Avenue M and south of Sixteenth street will report to George M. Hunt school Monday morning. There is already one di- vision in Hunt school, and a second division is to be added due to ad- ditional enrollment at Central Ward school, Mr. Irvin said. However, no changes are to be made in children in the high fourth who ride the buses, so they will report to the school they have been attending, according to the superintendent.

By schools the enrollment is as follows: Senior High, 1150. Junior High, 1579; George M. Hunt, 558; K. Carter, 571; Central Ward, 546; Dupre, 391; Sanders, 305; South- west ward, 23; Northeast ward, 23; Dunbar, 349; Guadalupe, 188.

America Not Excited

AMERICANS are not likely to become overly excited, regardless of the fate of the mysterious "Mr. and Mrs. Robinson" or "Rubens" or whoever they may be, who disappeared while traveling in Russia by the authority of a United States passport.

The latest reassurance from the Russian government is that the woman still is being held in custody while the Soviet government continues an investigation of her case. Less information is supplied as to what may have happened to the man. A strong possibility is that his fate already has been that of nearly all others strongly suspected of spying within Russia. That fate — characteristically Russian — is a bullet into the back of the victim's head. The bullet mushrooms so that the face is blown away.

The Avalanche-Journal agrees that our government should throw every safeguard about our citizens traveling abroad on legitimate business. It agrees that if there is a possibility the traveler is not a spy, the American should be given the benefit of the doubt. It therefore has been proper that the United States government should make an investigation concerning Mrs. Robinson, or Rubens, or whoever she may be.

But in this particular case, many factors seem to justify whatever course that Russia may have followed or may follow. This we must admit even though we may have no admiration for the Soviet system of government. For one thing, Robinson was an alien who had gained illegal entrance into this country. Another is that their passport was obtained by misrepresentation, an offense for which they could be sent to the penitentiary should they be so fortunate as to escape Russia. A third, in that the name under which they traveled was an alias which, almost unbelievably, they took from the tombstone on a child's grave in New York. A fourth is that they, in all probability, were in the employ of a nation or of a party which the Russian government considers an active or potential enemy.

We of America are likely to have difficulty in understanding the psychology of the European toward a spy. There, whether war or peace prevails, the usual penalty for a spy is death. In the United States, death may be the punishment only in time of war. In each case, the penalty doubtless is commensurate with the crime.

However, many in America are inclined to condemn the European severity of punishment. But suppose we had witnessed bombardments of our cities like those to which almost every European city of size has been subjected. Suppose we in Lubbock knew that an outbreak of war likely would mean that its bloody horror would be brought to our door. If we were in that position, we too likely would experience the European feeling that the only good spy is a dead one.

Thus if it should develop in the case of the Robinsons that they were spies, we as a nation or as a people can have little to say, regardless of the punishment. It will be simply an instance of a couple having played a dangerous game, and lost.

Congratulations Extended

The Avalanche-Journal takes pleasure in joining with the congregation and with citizens of Lubbock generally in welcoming Rev. H. G. Gantz to the pastorate of the First Christian church here.

He impresses one as being the ideal minister for his new field. He is a young man in a young and growing city. He was reared on the Plains so that an understanding of its people and problems is native with him. He has had thorough training for his life work. And, despite his comparative youth, already has made a remarkable record as a successful pastor both in the spiritual and material sense.

The Avalanche-Journal believes the church, the ministry and the community acquired definite assets when he and Mrs. Gantz decided to accept the pulpit here.

There is only one reason for political or military censorship. "Men love darkness rather than light because their deeds are evil."

The camera is more accurate than the eye. You never notice a great man's pants bagging like that.

"I owe my logevity," said 98-year-old Eben Schwatsbas of Flatiron, Ark., "to the fact that I have never had any fun in any form."

If you dress shabbily, your wife apologizes for you; if you look swell, she tells everybody that she picked the suit.

The One-Minute Sermon

So shall it be at the end of the world: the angels shall come forth, and sever the wicked from among the just.

And shall cast them into the furnace of fire; there shall be wailing and gnashing of teeth.—St. Matthew 13, 49 and 50.

Browsing Through The New Books..

Stuart Chase Delves Into Semantics In His New Book, "The Tyranny Of Words"; New York Reporter Gathers His 'Interviews' Into Interesting Book; Robert Benchley Pokes More Fun In His Latest

"THE TYRANNY OF WORDS," by Stuart Chase; (Macmillan, New York).

PROBABLY the pedants will lash Stuart Chase around the ankles with their sharp little quirts of tongues. Mr. Chase has just discovered the "science" of semantics, and is writing a popular account of same using himself for the whipping boy he needs.

Semantics is (if we are capable of reducing it to a sentence) the study of methods of communication with a view to bettering the contact of mind with mind.

Chase's points are made simply: we talk with each other, but most of what we say and write is meaningless. This is because we are using meaningless symbols for most of our general terms. We must learn to substitute for these high-sounding but vague terms actual concrete meanings taken from demonstrable experience. Only when we have found these concrete terms (they are called "referents" by Mr. Chase and others) can we communicate efficiently with each other.

No Two Agreed

For example, we are accustomed to chatter about "fascism." Mr. Chase spent some time learning what meaning the term had for more than 100 persons—no two of the lot agreed. Therefore "fascism" means more than a hundred different things at least, probably more. Therefore when brave men shout "Down with fascism," or "Up with fascism" they actually mean nothing at all, or at best 100-odd somethings. No two of the cheering group are cheering the same thing!

This is a rough illustration which does no justice to Mr. Chase's "The Tyranny of Words." But if you read the book you at least will come out with understanding of what good journalists are trying to do without high-sounding rules. Mr. Chase and his ilk are really sailing toward good newspaper English, in a most impressive ship.

Some Of Our Best Writing

"MY EARS ARE BENT," by Joseph Mitchell; (Sheridan House).

A CHAP named Joseph Mitchell, who works for the New York World-Telegram, just has proved that some (by no means all) of the best writing in America is being done in our newspapers.

Not, if you please, by the high-powered columnists, and the columnists who used to be high-powered and still sell expensively. By the reporters and socalled "feature writers," one of the last being Mr. Mitchell.

Collects Him Stories

Somebody has persuaded Mr. Mitchell to gather up a flock of the stories he has written in the last few years, edit them gently, and confine them within boards. The usual result of such a course is to make a book of tiny pieces, each like the other and all adding up to a great big bore. Many of the pieces assembled from the formula magazines make that kind of books.

But Mr. Mitchell has an advantage. He is not writing those cute little stories—paradox-tangle-resolution. He is doing "interviews" with every sort of person New York contains, and that's quite a lot. Now he has divided his book (called "My Ears Are Bent") into general headings, under which he runs in his yarns. There is a chapter on the lower reaches of the stage, for example, in which he treats of Sally Rand, the strippers, burlesque girls and those gentle maidens who turn educational world's fairs into peep shows. This is a darn good chapter, by the way—wise, tolerant, cheerful and gentle withal.

Chapter On Revivalists

There is another good chapter on Manhattan revivalists which of course mentions Father Divine. Mazie Gordon, the angel of Park Row, makes a grand story, and there are some asides on former Mayor John P. O'Brien which will interest that gentleman, wherever he is, quite a lot. Mr. Mitchell is (on paper at least) the typical newsman. His reactions are typical and so is his cynicism. We have no doubt but that if you dig down into his chest cavity, you'll find beating there the great warm heart we hear about. But read his book first.

Stuart Chase has gotten out of the world of economics into the world of words. He has written a book called "The Tyranny of Words" which proves, among other things, that nearly all conversation and nearly all books mean nothing, because words don't mean to you what they mean to me, and vice versa. This is both valuable and shocking; for example, he asked more than 100 people what fascism meant and no two agreed.

Newest Burst Of Madness

"AFTER 1903 WHAT?" by Robert Benchley; (Harper, N. Y.).

IF the New Year looms lugubriously, what with wars, threat of wars and the current "recession," you can still count on one escape. Robert Benchley points the way out in his newest burst of madness, "After 1903 What?"

Mr. Benchley has been watching history pass his door now for a long time and he has decided at last—well, he has decided just to let it keep on passing. The result is this entertaining new volume.

Has Astounding Range

Really a collection of two and three-page brain-throbs, graphically charted by Gluyas Williams, the book has an astounding range. Mr. Benchley opens with a plea for a return to the days when women were barred from poker. He closes with an essay (of all things) on "My Face."

And between these he has managed to sandwich a world of other observations. "How to Go Insane," "The Party Spirit," "The Secret of True Beauty" and "When Is a Driver Intoxicated?"

Suggests Driving Cure

One good way to aid in the reduction of automobile accidents, Mr. Benchley suggests, would be the prohibition of liquor sales to intoxicated drivers. You can be pretty sure, too, he points out, that when a driver is alone and stark naked, he's drunk. Similarly, if a car chugs up to a filling station with no driver at all.

You can see, of course, that Mr. Benchley does very little to clarify the day's issues. But there's the punch. You lay down this book at last, thoroughly ranked. The writing is superb humor. And, after all, anyone who can help you laugh off this cockeyed world has certainly got something!

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

CORDELL Hull is setting an example in self-restraint which is the wonder of a somewhat cynical Capital. The secretary of state never permits his personal emotions to color his official attitude.

The mild, peaceful Tennesseean is deeply irritated at Japan's treaty-breaking policies—the brutal invasion of China—the deliberate flouting of western powers—but he conceals his feelings behind a poker face. He recently let his feminine office staff know in an indirect way that he disapproved of any boycott on Nipponese silk lest it promote reprisal. He is the soul of courtesy to three ambassadors—the German, Italian, Japanese—whose employes thumb their honorable noses at him.

Veteran state departmenters—Republican as well as Democratic—already rank him with our two greatest diplomatic chieftains of modern times—John Hay and Charles Evans Hughes. Were Mr. Hull ten years younger, he would be nominated by acclamation by the Democrats in 1940, and despite his age, he will be a powerful factor at that assemblage.

CIRCULATOR: The appointment of Stanley Reed to the Supreme court gives it a 5-to-4 majority in favor of dining out. The new justice has three hobbies—good food, sparkling conversation, soft music.

His favorite dish is hog jowls with hot pot likker and corn bread, and like the late Huey P. Long, he "dunks". His constant complaint is that Washington hostesses refuse to serve such a plebeian—or democratic—dish when they entertain. When working at home or at his office, he says his mind functions best to opera, and a radio behind his desk furnishes inspiration for dry briefs and opinions. He is a judge set to music.

The other socialites on the court are Messrs. Hughes, Roberts, Black and Stone. They don't subscribe to the old theory that a Supreme court justice should live the life of a hermit—be seen but not heard. And the more they circulate, the more tolerant, the more liberal, they seem to become.

DISLIKE?: Several prominent Southerners nurse the secret suspicion that President Roosevelt aims to divorce ther traditionally Democratic states from the Democratic—or New Deal—party. They suspect him of angling for a political combination between northeastern and western commonwealths.

Not in many years has the South suffered so many rebuffs at the hands of a Democratic president and congress. Mr. Roosevelt's closest pal on Capitol Hill—Senator Wagner—is the sponsor of the anti-lynching bill. Under both House and Senate farm bills southern planters cannot grow goods competing with northern dairy interests without violating the law and forfeiting all benefit payments. The wage hour-act as framed by presidential experts would deprive the South of its advantages over sister states to the North. It all adds up to a bitter pill for this wing of the party.

As a climax there was the president's boast that he voted for T. R., who once characterized Southern people as "coarse" and "cruel" and described Jefferson Davis as a "shabby doctrinaire". "It looks as if Mr. Roosevelt doesn't like us," concluded one of the South's most distinguished spokesman on Capitol Hill.

AGGRESSION: The White House has not failed to note signs that industrialists are pathetically eager—anxious—to make peace with government. Nobody was more surprised—or pleased—than the president himself. He had not calculated on such a reaction.

First evidence of a desire to let bygones be bygones and strike a truce appeared when the so-called "economic royalists" interpreted the President's message to Congress as a friendly gesture. It may surprise the people who read "conciliation" into his remarks, but F. D. R.'s ultimatum provoked lusty celebration among his more radical brain trusters. In that speech, and also in his Jackson Day oration, they foresaw adoption of the anti-business, anti-bigness policy subsequently proclaimed in the attack on holding companies.

Mr. Roosevelt as a man and as president, is impulsive, impetuous, he still operates on a 24-hour basis. In the last few days he has been more aggressive, self-assertive and sure of himself than at any time since early 1933. He will make the most of his apparent triumph over his ancient enemies, he will bear down all the harder.

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

A STRANGER assortment of personalities would be hard to find than last week's group of White House callers composed of Thomas W. Lamont of J. P. Morgan & Co., Owen D. Young of General Electric, labor leaders John L. Lewis and Philip Murray and ex-brain trusters Adolph Berle and Charles W. Taussig.

The last-named was the moving spirit behind the gathering. He pulled the conferees together for several preliminary sessions in New York and then arranged the White House audience. He is also the only one of the six who could be described as still genuinely friendly to Mr. Roosevelt. Lewis and Murray are definitely off the White House "preferred list". Berle is now a LaGuardia man rather than a Roosevelt man. The private views of Young and Lamont are well known in financial circles—and presumably in Washington also.

But Taussig, who inherited American Molasses and kept it a successful concern, still has hopes that effectipe cooperation between government, business and labor can be worked out. The group will continue to meet from time to time, even though most of its members are extremely doubtful that anything worthwhile can result from their deliberations.

LAMONT: Thomas W. Lamont officially ranks next to J. Pierpont Morgan himself in the Morgan firm. He has been a partner for 27 years. But he is now 67 and nowhere near as active in the direction of the firm's affairs as he used to be. George Whitney—brother of the former Stock Exchange president—is wheel-horse of the outfit now.

Mr. Lamont's outstanding value to the Morgan house is in the field of public relations. He is a suave, gracious ambassador who can get along with almost anyone. He is perhaps more frequently called upon to refuse information than to give it out, but he does both with equal tact and courtesy.

The Guaranty Trust is known as a "Morgan bank" and Mr. Lamont is one of its directors. He makes a point of not trying to impose his views on his associates. At least three times in the past year he has been overruled by his fellow directors on questions of policy—one of them extremely important. Nonetheless he remains a really potent force in the financial world.

FAR: Philippine High Commissioner Paul V. McNutt is slated to return to the United States for a visit in the near future. He aims to mend some neglected political fences and take a few preliminary soundings for 1940.

Mr. McNutt's hat is very much in the presidential ring, but he may run into more undercover opposition than he expects. He is by no means universally popular in political circles. Among others, such influential Democratic figures as Jack Garner and Jim Farley are reported to be none too fond of him.

The story is told in New York that these two were not at all pleased about his Philippine appointment. Farley, trying to find the silver lining, is said to have remarked: "Well, anyhow, Manila is pretty far away." Growled Garner: "Yes, but not far enough."

"Minority Domination Imperils Democracy"

So Says Former Ambassador To Germany

BY DR. WILLIAM E. DODD
Former Ambassador To Germany
(Written for The Associated Press And The Avalanche-Journal.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22. — It would be an evasion of the truth to say that I return from Europe with high hopes for the future of democratic government in the great nations of the world.

War preparations are going on everywhere; we are reaping the harvest of post-war mistakes, and the increasing concentration of wealth and power in the hands of minorities.

The logical outcome of the dilemma is another world war. I cannot bring myself to an outright prediction of such a calamity, but if it should come, hardly any nation could escape, and civilization itself would be in peril.

Hits Minority Domination

As it is in other nations, progress in the United States is hampered by minority domination of strategic activity. If this continues, not only are we threatened by ultimate war, but, before that comes, we may have lost the ideal political and social life for which our ancestors have contended since the first half of the 17th century.

And what do we mean by "minority domination?"

For nearly a hundred years, the industrial complex of western civilization has been growing more and more difficult, even dangerous.

The great corporations, monopolies and trusts in the United States have been centering their operations in large cities. Unheeded have been Washington's and Jefferson's warnings that such concentrations would produce proletariats of vast numbers—proletariats to menace democracy. So, at the end of the World war, two-thirds of the American people resided in cities.

Thousands Of Millionaires

THE effect of urban growth was to make thousands millionaires and raise the workers' cost of living to four or five times the level of village and country life.

The minority of business chiefs insisted on protective tariffs, and got them, even though the voters never between 1865 and 1920, supported the principle of the protective tariff. City life and business supremacy was making it hard, indeed, for government to apply democracy.

Couple these increasing tensions of modern economic life with the unique banking concentrations that caused the issue of close to a hundred billion dollars worth of "watered securities" before 1920, and you have the economic germs that finally brought down upon us the plague of 1930 that we now call the "depression."

As everyone knows, the United States has not breasted the industrial storm alone. Since conditions developed in other countries under varying guises.

But in the main it was the same picture. At the end of the war, in England and Germany, three-fourths of the people lived in large cities and five to seven million city workers had nothing to do.

A Wrecked Program

NEVER in history has there been such a dilemma as in 1920, two years after the World war had closed. The United States had a president whose one objective in 1913 had been to save democracy. He told me once, "This will be impossible unless we can have economic democracy."

How right he was! But inevitably the objective of saving democracy drew us into the World w... which, in turn, produced the pea... of 1918. Its three main poi... were:

Fears An Encircled Russia

HITLER withdrew from the league and subsequently renewed the ancient claim of German emperors to rule the Danube and Polish peoples.

Once out of the league, the Fuehrer increased his re-armament activity. In 1936, when the Italians were encouraged to take all of Ethiopia by the French and British, Hitler and Mussolini became allies, attacking democracies everywhere. The next step was the Italian-German-Japanese pact against communism, under which China is to be conquered and American-English interests in the Far East are to be absorbed.

If the Japanese succeed, Russia will be surrounded and compelled to unite with the European fascists or start another great war. So, it begins to be clear how every great reform move of the early post-war years has been defeated. Mankind is in grave danger, but democratic governments seem not to know what to do.

Lower Rio Grande Valley's Citrus Shipments To Go Under Volume Proration On Jan. 30 Through April 30; Bases Determine Totals

(By The Associated Press)

WESLACO, Jan. 22—Volume proration of lower Rio Grande valley citrus shipments will become effective Jan. 30 and continue until April 16.

Members of the growers' industry committee this week recommended to Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace this system of controlling citrus movements.

Shipments during the Jan. 30-April 16 period will be determined by dividing the estimated remainder of the 1937-38 crop by the number of weeks available for shipping.

Prorated Among Shippers

The weekly shipments will be prorated among qualifying shippers. No shipper may move more than his allotment under proration schedules for each shipper, to be determined by the committee on one of two bases: average amount of fruit shipped during the past three seasons, or amount of fruit controlled this season by the shipper under bona fide contracts.

Proration of shipments did not develop without difficulty. Inability of the shippers committee to report a majority of five vote on any matter automatically submits it to the growers committee. The latter vote for proration unanimously.

Last Estimate Basis

Basis for determining the amount of fruit remaining in the valley will be the last government crop estimate of 8,900 boxes of grapefruit. From this total will be subtracted the number of boxes estimated by the committee to be destined for intra-state shipment and the number of boxes expected to be used by the valley's 60-odd juice plants. Total tonnage under contract to "current control shippers," those who handle fruit specifically contracted to them, will also be deducted. The remainder will be divided between remaining shippers, based on their past shipping performances.

Goldie Wins Hearts Of Girls But Matron Turns Her Thumbs Down On Cat As A Boarder

CANYON, Jan. 22. — A large, soft cat with gold-colored fur and no home won the hearts of Cousins hall girls at West Texas State college last week — but not that of the matron.

One co-ed, with some timely assistance, bathed the cat in a community tub and came out triumphant but considerably scratched. Then the cat, which meantime had been named Goldie, was fed and tucked away for the night at the foot of a bed.

The matron next day received the news of the stow-away by "grapevine" telegraph and, after calling the girls together, reminded them of the rule that only human species of the animal family may stay at the hall.

Goldie is, reluctantly, still an alley cat.

Feb. 10 Is Tentative Date Set For Tech's Feeders' Day Event

Tentative date of Feb. 10 for a feeders' day program for the division of agriculture of Texas Technological college, has been announced, W. L. Stangel, head of the department of animal husbandry, said.

The date will mark a 90-day feeding period for 120 head of lambs. The animals will be weighed and data assembled on the results. Feeders and breeders of sheep will be invited, Stangel said.

Several well known sheep men have been invited to attend and talk on feeding problems.

Rheumatic Pains Had "Wrecked" His Health; Nothing Was Able To Help Him Until He Began Gly-Cas

I tried many kinds of medicines—but still no relief. Friends told me of Gly-Cas and its remarkable effects—and I put it to a real test on my case."

"Gly-Cas is truly a medicine that is different," said Mr. Carter. "I am again able to eat and relish all kinds of foods, gases are removed, bowels regulated and my kidneys are acting normally again. Vast Potentialities Of Lubbock County Land Steadily Increased By Terracing

BY R. C. HANKINS
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

VAST potentialities found in Lubbock county land—which last year produced more cotton than any other county in the state—steadily is being increased through gathering favor of terracing and contouring.

No less than 580 acres has been contoured and 2,320 acres terraced since the beginning of the year, and it is believed a conservative estimate of 14,000 for terracing and 15,000 acres for contouring will represent acreage so improved over the whole of 1938.

Irrigation, too, is coming in for much interest. Three hundred twenty acres figure to date this year in irrigation lines run and well sites established.

It is believed, said the office of C. C. Jobson, county agricultural agent, whose assistant, Homer E. Thompson, gave all figures, that acreage to be affected for irrigation lines and well sites in 1938 will approximate 3,500.

Work in the three departments this year has been done by the agricultural agent's department in only eight of the 29 farming communities of the county—at Slaton, Union, Becton, Estacado, Carlisle, New Deal, Center, and County Line, mostly at Slaton.

Increases Value Of Land

Thompson said the commonly accepted estimate is that terraced land makes the soil worth approximately $5 more an acre, and that crop production per acre should approximate the same figure. For contouring, the land probably is worth 75 cents more an acre and crops boosted approximately $2.

Irrigation, almost essential year in and year out for feedstuffs on the South Plains, some held, seldom is necessary for cotton, agricultural authorities point out. Last year, for instance, one farming authority attempted several experiments in irrigation of cotton. One patch he watered only once, in January. It turned out best, but barely superior in yield to a "dry land" farming acreage. Cotton watered twice was second to worst, that watered three times worst, said Thompson.

For 1937, terraces were run on 52 farms, covering a total of 7,476 acres. Heavy road machinery was used, in cooperation with the county commissioners court. Increase in valuation of acreage was $37,350.

Contour lines were run on 51 farms, of 22,633 acres, or an increased valuation of $56,382.

Sites of 49 wells were located, by which 6,856 acres were irrigated, or can be should that be necessary.

Frances Lay Named FFA 'Sweetheart'

(Special To The Avalanche-Journal)

LORENZO, Jan. 22.—Frances Lay, Lorenzo High school senior, was elected "sweetheart" of the Future Farmers of America chapter over three other class candidates by 18 votes more than half of the total cast. She received 1,718 votes to 1,700 for three others: Mary Lou Stobough, junior, 395 votes; Christine Kemp, sophomore, 356 votes and Gladys Marricle, freshman, 947 votes.

Paul Ben Scoggins was manager for the successful candidate. The contest netted the chapter $34.18, at the rate of one cent a vote. Classes conducted contests to select their candidate for sweetheart.

The successful candidate will be presented with a F. F. A. jacket, ensignia, arm band, cap and tie. She will accompany the chapter on trips and will attend public meetings.

He will judge at the Sweetwater show in early March and also at San Antonio about the same time.

Low Bidders On Work Tabulated

Low bidders for construction of a rural electrification project in Lubbock county and meters were announced Friday night by Harry N. Roberts, engineer for the Rural Electrification cooperative. The bids were opened at the courthouse.

Seven bids for construction were submitted and low was Mattison-Wallack company of Oklahoma City, Okla., with $66,273.50. Five identical bids of $3,121.75 for meters were submitted.

No Official Action Taken

No official action was taken, Roberts said, by the board. The bids, as a matter of formality, must be sent for checking by Rural Electrification officials at Washington, D. C. After approval, contracts will be signed and actual construction is expected to begin in about three weeks.

Roberts, affiliated with Hawley, Freese, and Nichols company at Fort Worth, said the bids were slightly lower than had been expected.

The project includes stretching of electric lines over the entire county. Possibly more than 110 miles will be built, it was indicated.

Standards for Light Conditioning in homes, schools, offices, factories, stores, even streets and highways have been developed—it isn't something for the future..... it's here now

Light Conditioning

Many a 25-watt bulb is masquerading as a reading bulb! And eyes pay the penalty.. Small size bulbs may be excellent for decoration or for night lights . . . but where eyes are working the 100 watt size is none too large for safe seeing. Always keep spare sight-saving bulbs in the house. Then you'll never have to fall back on the eyestrain sizes.

Begin light conditioning by throwing out burned out, dim, and blackened bulbs. Replace them with new bulbs of correct size for comfortable seeing. Always keep a supply of sight-saving lamps, 75, 100, and 150 watts. Improvements within the last twelve month alone in bulbs have included the new high efficiency filement that gives more light than ever before.

TARZAN THE MAGNIFICENT No. 7 By Edgar Rice Burroughs

Wood was amazed and dismayed when he found himself heading up the river instead of down, as he had intended to go. He exerted the full power of his will to turn his steps in the opposite direction; but he was drawn forward by some irresistible magnetism.

He glanced back and saw that his companions too, were in the grip of that overwhelming force. When Wood tried to analyze it, he recalled the warning of the friendly natives: "That power will pull you on into the land of mystery. You cannot escape!"

Was that warning so embedded in their minds that they believed it and were governed by it? Was that, after all, some phenomenon of mental suggestion? Or was there really some supernatural power that controlled them? Whatever it was, it was wholly effective.

In silence the four travelers trudged on for hours. Then, suddenly, they detected a rustle in the underbrush, and in a flash they were encircled by a band of warriors. To their astonishment, these warriors were women—white women, fierce and menacing!

Mining Operations Are Now Under Way Near Two Cities Of South Plain

Brownfield And O'Donnell Are Sites For Mineral Activities

BY J. SAM LEWIS
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

Mining operations are under way for the first time at two places on the South Plains and preparations are well along to produce sodium sulphate at O'Donnell and Brownfield in commercial quantities. Construction work at both points is making rapid progress and hopes are expressed that within a few months the plants will be producing the mineral.

Perhaps "recovery" instead of "mining" should be used, as the raw material is first recovered from the ground and then processed into a form that can be used commercially. Different methods are to be used at the plants; at Brownfield a standard process is to be used, while at O'Donnell a foreign process is to be used, for the first time in the United States.

Buildings Are Similar

Plant buildings at both locations are somewhat similar in size and construction. Chief difference is in the size of the two spray ponds.

West of O'Donnell is an office building, with a chemical laboratory now in operation, where the products of operations are tested. There is also a machine shop and a warehouse or store room.

Already operations have brought a considerable amount of business to South Plains firms and workers, not only in Lubbock but in the nearby towns. Lubbock and Brownfield jobbers and contractors are furnishing supplies for both the company and contractors. Lubbock carpenters, as well as from the other towns are at work, while other laborers come from the towns and out of town workers are living in the closest town, Tahoka also is the home of a number of workers.

Buildings Being Erected

A manufacturing building is being erected at both points, to house expensive machinery for processing the raw product. Both are of steel construction, with galvanized iron siding; the only wood being the flooring. The O'Donnell structure is 50 x 80 feet, five stories high, with an annex for a boiler room. Seven huge storage tanks, 10 feet in diameter, will be used to hold the finished product until it is ready to ship.

The spray pond is 100x300 feet, four feet deep and with four compartments. A 25-foot roadway separates the two twin sections. Chemical resistant cement was used for the tanks and the paint is designed to give hardness to the cement.

Overhead sprays will carry the hot brine from wells out over the ponds, to be shot in mist form onto the tanks. There, over night, it will crystallize. In this form the product is sent through the process in the manufacturing building, to be refined and all impurities removed.

Brine Shot Into Wells

Hot brine is shot into the wells over the section of land on which the producing wells are located. The brine is concentrated in a central well for a group and from there is piped into the spray line. There are several dozen wells on the section, No. 6, block H, lying in Lynn and Dawson counties.

The Arizona Chemical Co. is owner of the plants. It has secured a new type of process for the O'Donnell properties and has ordered special equipment. The plant is 10 miles west of O'Donnell.

E. L. Sturgis is plant manager there, with William Hardin as chemist. Sturgis came to O'Donnell early last summer.

The O'Donnell project, and also the Brownfield, was developed by W. L. Spaulding, a chemical research engineer long in the employ of the American Cyanamid Co., parent concern. He spent the better part of a year in research and exploration work.

Smokestack Is Finished

At Brownfield the manufacturing building will be 50 x 110 feet, 68 feet tall, with five floors. A smokestack 175 feet tall has been finished. The spray pond will be 80 x 175 feet. Other buildings are the same in character as the other plant.

A new type boiler, 400 h. p. capacity, of the marine type, was built by the Erie City Machine Co., especially for the plant. It is said to be the latest thing in boilers.

The Brownfield plant is in a 47-section pasture of the Brownfield estate, with Ray Brownfield as manager. It is about six miles south of state highway 84 and a caliche road was built from the highway to the plant.

The Swnson process is to be used there, in recovering the sulphate. It is a type that is being used by the five or six other similar plants in processing the raw materials.

Gas Lines Are Laid

Panhandle Construction Co., of Lubbock is doing the construction work at both points, maintaining a large force of workers at each place. The concern built gas lines connecting the plants with lines of West Texas Gas company. High lines from the two towns are owned by the company.

Latest known equipment for processing has been ordered. Some has already been received. Every known safety device has been installed to protect workers. The electrical equipment is said to be the latest in the state.

The company will carry life insurance on all employes who have been in its employ a stated length of time.

Definite decision on the erection of homes for employes has not been made, the company having tentatively planned this, but holding up its decision for the present.

Brush Supervises Work

Construction work is being supervised for the company by John C. Brush, who has been here for several months. He will turn the properties over to the operating department when the plans are actually operating.

Product of the plants is used in the manufacture of kraft paper. It is indicated the entire output of both plants has been contracted for. It is to be shipped into Louisiana and Florida for kraft paper plants.

Sulphate process in the manufacture of kraft paper and other pulp woods, has been developed largely since 1931. Now, for example, nearly every sack of cement used at both plants came in kraft paper. Before 1331 cloth bags were largely used. Practically the entire output of sodium sulphate is snapped up by kraft paper concerns as soon as it is heard of.

No indication is given by company officials as to the probable cost of the two properties. It is apparent that several hundred thousand dollars will be spent at each place. Equipment cost is believed to be larger than the building costs.

May Double Capacity

Both plants are so constructed that by erection of an additional building the capacity may be doubled, when and if such is desired.

When completed, operating employes will largely come from O'Donnell and Brownfield, except in the more technical work, where trained men from the company will be assigned there. For the present at least, workers will live in the two towns.

Substantial payrolls are assured for years for both the towns. Officials decline to comment on the probable resources available for the recovery, but it is indicated that the known supply is enough to assure production for probably a score of years. Permanent type of construction indicates a large enough reserve to insure long time operations.

The refined product will be trucked from the plants into warehouses located on Panhandle and Santa Fe lines, where loading into cars will be done. It is indicated there will be daily, or at least, regular car load shipments.

Favorable freight rates have been asked of the railroad to the areas where the products will be shipped. Already a considerable tonnage of material has been handled into both towns.

Production is looked to be under way within the near future. No date is indicated as to when machinery will "roll."

Whether the operations on the plains are the first of many that will develop mineral resources of this area, is unknown. The company has been for years constantly seeking new minerals and new sources of supply for its raw materials to insure steady, long time production. Development work is constantly expanding and should minerals that the concern is interested in, are located in large amounts in this area, it is believed they will be developed if investigation substantiates expectations.

At the present time only sodium sulphate is to be processed. There has been no comment on whether other chemicals and minerals in the two locations will be processed, or not.

A series of 87 areonautical charts covering the United States has been completed by the coast and geodetic survey for use by airplane pilots.

The books have been placed in the various rooms of the building so that the children may have them for easy reading.

One set of books was purchased to test sight reading in each grade.

System Of Handling Bicycle Traffic Has Been Worked Out By School Officials

Young bicyclists may have their traffic problems like automobile drivers, but a system employed by Lubbock Junior High school officials and children eliminates virtually all problems connected with handling 250 to 300 bicycles.

A surprisingly orderly departure from the grounds each afternoon of bicycle riders gives proof of thoroughness in which the system is worked out. Each fellow knows where to find his "wheel", and there is little chance for getting the wrong one.

Racks Are Constructed

Specially built racks have been constructed on the grounds, and each owner is assigned a rack. Boys' racks are on the west side of the building and girls' on the east.

There are not enough racks, however, to care for all bicycles at the present time, Principal Carroll Thompson said. Slightly more than 200 are available.

Departure from the school by way of Fourteenth street is prohibited by officials. Enforcement is carried out by the student patrol, personnel of which is appointed each semester by the faculty on the merit system.

Students are not allowed to ride on the campus during the lunch hour. They must park their bicycles on entering the grounds.

Only occasionally is a cycle stolen, Thompson said. Fewer cases have been reported this year than usual, and seldom is there a failure to recover those stolen, he said. Few bicycles are locked.

Fortenberry Buys Interest In Bus Company; Name Change
