

Blackleg Killing Cattle In County

A number of cases of blackleg or malignant edema have been found in the county, especially the western portion, advises veterinarian Dr. J. D. Williams Jr.

"The diseases are closely associated and both cause death in calves from about 3 months to yearling age," Dr. Williams explained. "Blackleg causing spores are ingested by mouth and malignant edema spores can enter the body through a wound, but that's about the only difference between the two." "The clostridium organisms lie dormant in the soil for as many as 8-10 years and can cause a flare-up at any time, but they are especially virulent in moist soil, either around tanks or creeks or in wet years," he continued.

"Carcasses of any animal suspected of having the disease should be burned in order to keep more of the clostridium organisms from entering the soil," Dr. Williams warned. The disease is acute, causing death in 95% or more of animals contracting the disease.

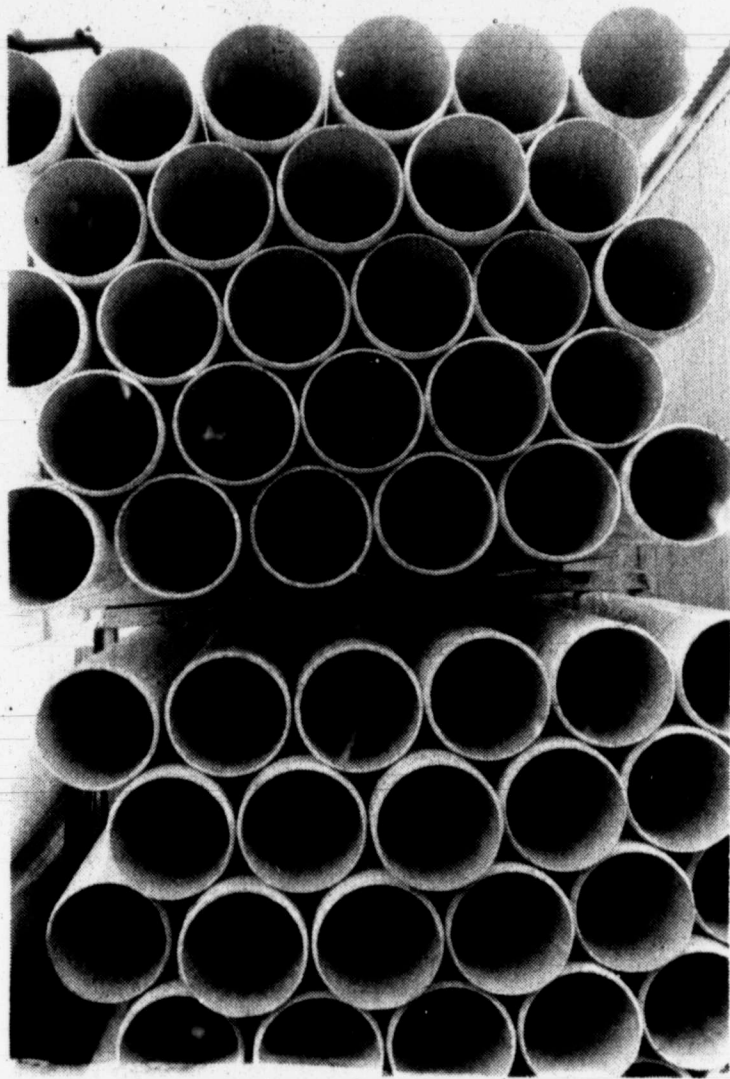

The Colorado City vet advised cattle raisers to vaccinate against the disease annually, noting that each year's calf crop should be vaccinated.

He pointed out that most cattle raisers do vaccinate against both blackleg and malignant edema with a combining form of vaccine readily available locally, but he advised it's always safe to vaccinate again if they think a calf might have been missed or if a calf was vaccinated at younger than 6 weeks.

"It won't hurt them to repeat the immunization if one might have been missed and it's safer to be sure," he said.

The immunization can be given at any time of the year because the disease can break out at any time of the year.

An oddity of the disease, he said, is that it seems to affect calves that are gaining weight on lush pastures more readily than poor weight calves.

Stacked & Waiting

Part of the 5,600 feet of 6-inch pipe purchased by the city recently has already been laid, but part of it is stacked at the north water works and awaits installation. Total cost of the pipe, at $1.52 a foot, was less than what the city has previously paid for pipe. Low bidder was M. D. Williams Pump Co. of Colorado City.

Grand Jury Indictments

A Mitchell County Grand Jury met Monday and Tuesday in the courthouse, 32nd District Judge Weldon Kirk presiding, and returned a number of indictments for offenses ranging from subsequent offense Driving While Intoxicated to theft, forgery, possession of marijuana (felony offense of more than 4 ounces) and sexual abuse.

is still under $250,000 bond on a federal charge of smuggling. --Donald Macomber, indicted on two counts of theft by check and one count of auto theft. --David F. Vaughan, theft at Burrus Grocery.

Incumbent Files For City Council

Mrs. Tom (Jody) Neff Tuesday became the first candidate to officially file for election to the city council of Colorado City.

Four positions on the council are up for election this year. Deadline for filing is Feb. 28 with the election to be held Tuesday, April 1.

The only requirements for candidates is that they be 18-years-old, a registered voter and live within the city limits of Colorado City for at least six months.

The four positions are for two-year terms. Those positions are now held by Mrs. Neff, Mayor C. C. (Mike) Burt, Rick Perkin and Hank Bryant. Perkin has told the Record he intends to seek re-election while Bryant has said he will not be a candidate. Burt is as yet undecided.

In filing for re-election, Mrs. Neff gave the Record the following statement:

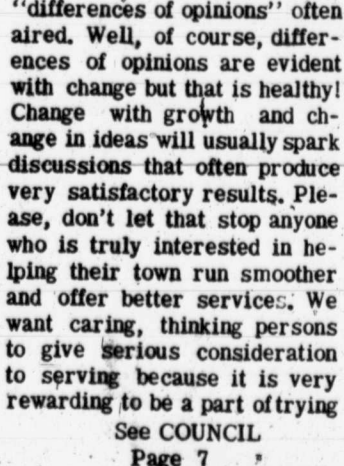

"I cannot believe two years have passed already and we C. Citizens have another election just around the corner for four positions on our City Council. I do plan to run again and would like you to know my thinking on this.

"Things are rolling now and many positive changes have come about the past few years. Being a part of some of these changes, I feel a responsibility, to you, to stick around a little longer to help in anyway possible. Your present city council is really clicking together and we are all very pleased with our new manager. Plus there are several major items in the mill that I'm interested in seeing completed.

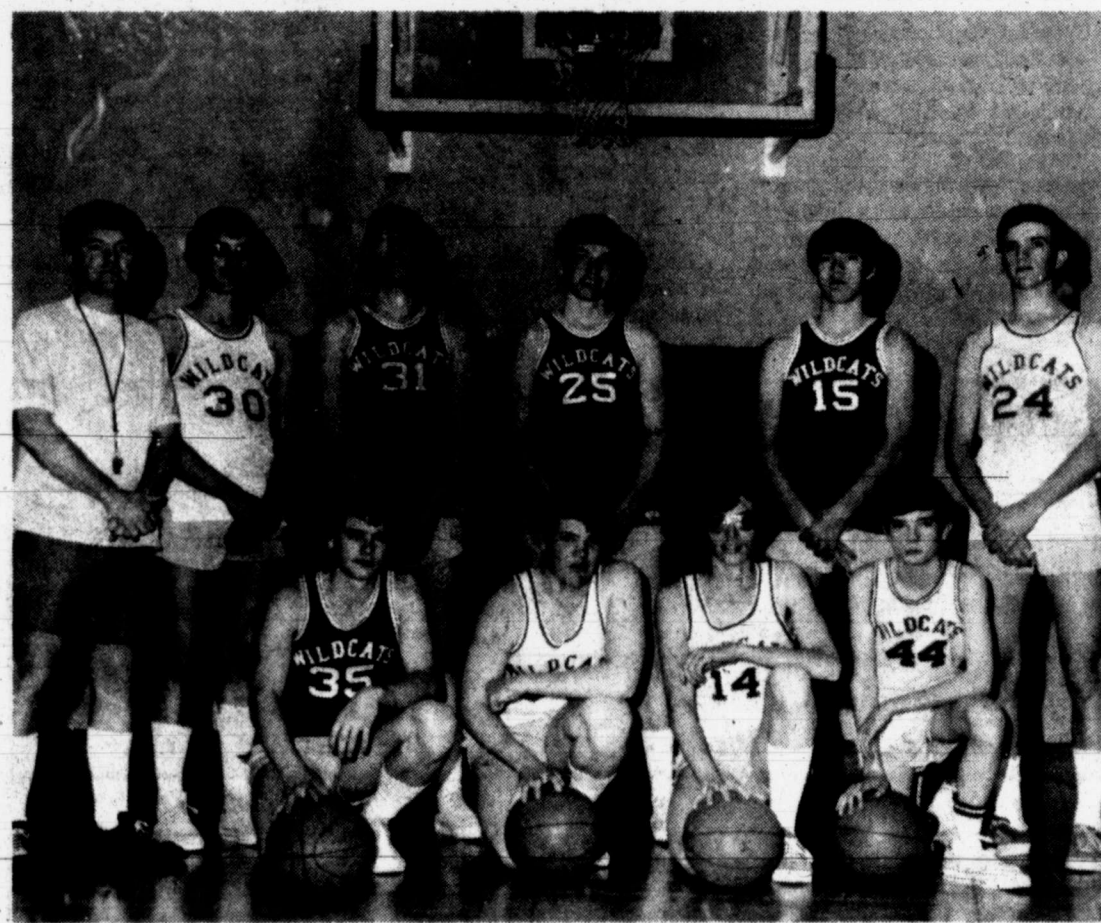

"I would like to appeal to you to think about something. I don't know who is planning to run just yet but I do hope we will see some interested, open minded, thinking persons who will consider serving on your council. Several people have mentioned to me that they wouldn't be on the council because of the 'differences of opinions' often aired. Well, of course, differences of opinions are evident with change but that is healthy! Change with growth and change in ideas will usually spark discussions that often produce very satisfactory results. Please, don't let that stop anyone who is truly interested in helping their town run smoother and offer better services. We want caring, thinking persons to give serious consideration to serving because it is very rewarding to be a part of trying

Westbrook-Roby Game Set For Here

The special game between Westbrook Wildcats and the Roby Lions has been set for Thursday, Feb. 27 and will be played in Colorado City.

The district contest ended with Westbrook and Roby tied.

Game time is set at 8 p.m.

In a Wednesday noon meeting between Westbrook and Roby coaches, Roby opted for playing in Sweetwater, Westbrook wanted to play in Colorado City, and a flip of the coin won the site choice for Westbrook.

Wildcat coach Dale Byrd said a "tails" pick won the flip for Westbrook.

Winner of the Roby-Westbrook match will meet McAdoo for Bi-District, probably March 4, Byrd said.

Sadler Hired At Merkel

J. A. Sadler Jr., former city manager of Colorado City, has been named to a similar position with the city of Merkel. Merkel Mayor David Allen said Sadler was hired in a called meeting of the council and he will have the title of city coordinator.

Sadler, who will assume his new duties Monday, will have authority over all Merkel city departments for purchasing and administration, reporting directly to the mayor and city council.

In September, Sadler served notice to the city of Colorado City that he was resigning effective Jan. 2, 1975. He had worked for the city of Colorado City for 19 years, including some eight years as city manager.

Boy Scouts Set Court Of Honor

Colorado City Boy Scouts will hold a Court of Honor Monday evening in the Fellowship Hall of First United Methodist Church.

Supper will be served at 6:30 and the awards program begins about 7 p.m.

All Boy Scouts who have earned honors and awards during the past year will be honored during the evening's program.

Two practice games have been arranged for the Westbrook Wildcats to keep them in top playing condition for their match game with Roby to determine the district's Bi-District representative.

The two practice games are:

--A game with Talpa Centennial at 7:30 p.m. Friday in Roscoe.

--A game with Putnam at 8 p.m. Monday in the Hardin-Simmons Rose Field House in Abilene.

Westbrook Board Awards Contracts

A contract in the amount of $399,940 was approved by Westbrook school board and sent to Rose Construction Co. of Abilene for their signature, Westbrook Supt. L. M. Dawson said. The construction project will include the new auditorium, completely as called for in preliminary plans, but will exclude about $30,000 for added office space, about $25,000 for tennis courts and about $4,200 for a new ceiling in the gym, he said.

Following Rose's signing of the contract and payment of performance and payment bonds and insurance, the contract will be forwarded to the Westbrook school board president Jerry Webb for his signature.

A work order will be issued, Dawson pointed out, and the construction should begin within 10 days after that.

Total time for completion of the construction and renovation project is specified at 280 days.

Dawson also said that an architect's fee of about $30,000 will have to be paid to Sweetwater architect Don Hampton for his work on the project.

The $400,000 bond issue, which was approved by Westbrook school district voters last July, is presently drawing interest of nine and one-fourth per cent at Citizens National Bank in Abilene, Dawson noted, and even though the $399,940 was over the amount the board wanted to pay for the project, the interest will help pay the architect's fee.

When bids were opened, Rose's bid of $442,228 was low bid and the board and architect worked out a plan with the construction company representatives to place priorities on part of the project, perhaps completing them at a later date. Dawson said he still would like to see tennis courts constructed for the school system and community enjoyment, but costs have increased considerably for their construction since the plans were first initiated.

The school will still get a major renovation, including carpeting throughout, a new heating and air conditioning system and the new auditorium. Also during a recent meeting of the school board, three incumbents filed for re-election: Jerry C. Putnam, appointed to the unexpired term left vacant by the resignation of Rex T. McKenney; Floyd Ritchey and T. A. Whitesides.

The regular meeting of the Westbrook School Board is the second Monday of each month, 8 p.m. at Westbrook High School.

Check Writer Nabbed Fast

An alleged worthless check writer was nabbed last week by law officers because of the watchful eye of Mrs. Virginia Fuller, and not her husband as was reported earlier. A checker at Fuller Foods noticed that a man who had given the store a worthless check was putting things in a trailer and getting ready to leave town, told Mrs. Fuller and together, they managed to work out a plan. The checker would watch the man and Mrs. Fuller would contact law officers and swear out a warrant for his arrest.

All of this happened during the noon hour and the man who was leaving town was arrested about 1:30 on Interstate 20 by Highway patrolman Marvin Keenan.

Three people have filed for the school board election, Saturday, April 5, for Colorado ISD. The two incumbents, Tom Rees and S. L. (Mac) Morris, have filed, as well as Billy A. Moore, who filed Tuesday morning.

Rees has been a member of the school board for about seven years, elected to two terms following his appointment to fill out the vacancy created by Benny Franks' transfer to Dallas. Franks was superintendent of Sun Oil Co. at the time of his transfer and promotion.

Morris has served on the board for one full term, winning election three years ago. Moore was formerly a member of the White Oak ISD board of trustees when transferred to Colorado City with Sun Oil Co. He and his family moved here nine years ago in 1966 and he is production foreman for Sun's Nena Lucia unit, located just across the county line in Nolan County, southeast of Colorado City.

Rees is an attorney in Colorado City. Morris is a partner in Costin Implement Co., the Ford tractor agency here. Rees and his wife, Margaret, live at 644 Chestnut with their family of two boys and a girl: 9-year old Tom Jr., 7-year old Melanie Diane, and Beau Reagan, 4 years old.

Rees said, "I want to complete the school construction program we've got started. I'd like to see it through to the finish."

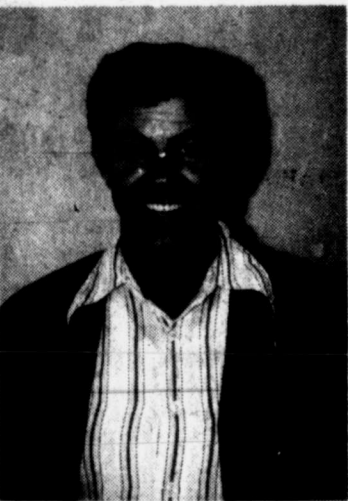

Morris also said he wanted to finish the building project that he helped start.

"The past three years have been a learning process and with the experience I've gained, I feel that I am better qualified now."

"I also want to see the building program completed, get moved into the new high school and things settled in there."

"I've been in the middle of this building program since its commencement and my interest in the school system has increased in accordance with it."

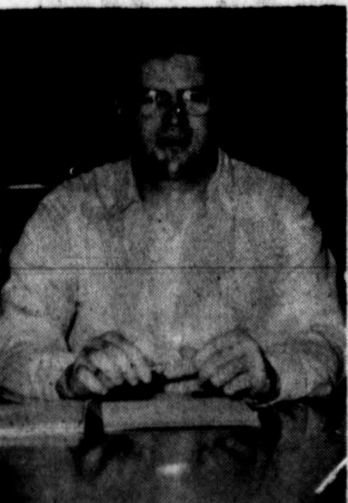

"I think we have a fine system, one of the best staffs in the world and we're in good financial shape and my interest,

Three File For Board Two Places Open In School Election

Moore was formerly a member of the White Oak ISD board of trustees when transferred to Colorado City with Sun Oil Co. He and his family moved here nine years ago in 1966 and he is production foreman for Sun's Nena Lucia unit, located just across the county line in Nolan County, southeast of Colorado City.

Rees is an attorney in Colorado City. Morris is a partner in Costin Implement Co., the Ford tractor agency here.

Rees and his wife, Margaret, live at 644 Chestnut with their family of two boys and a girl: 9-year old Tom Jr., 7-year old Melanie Diane, and Beau Reagan, 4 years old.

Rees said, "I want to complete the school construction program we've got started. I'd like to see it through to the finish."

Morris also said he wanted to finish the building project that he helped start.

"The past three years have been a learning process and with the experience I've gained, I feel that I am better qualified now."

"I also want to see the building program completed, get moved into the new high school and things settled in there."

"I've been in the middle of this building program since its commencement and my interest in the school system has increased in accordance with it."

"I think we have a fine system, one of the best staffs in the world and we're in good financial shape and my interest, both as a taxpayer and parent (it looks like I'll have a student in the school system for the next 10 years) makes the system and its success close to my heart," Morris concluded.

Morris and his wife, Joy, live at 1406 Elm with CHS Junior Steven and Kelley second grader Sheri. An older daughter, Cynthia Grant, is married and lives in Abilene where she is a junior at Hardin-Simmons. Her husband is a senior nursing student at Hendrick Memorial Hospital. She is also employed at the MHMR Center in Abilene.

Moore's family also includes a junior boy, Kyle, and Kim, a fourth grader at Hutchinson Elementary. Their address is 107 E. 22nd Street. His wife, Ella Mae, is Plan A secretary at Kelley Elementary.

In filing for election to the school board, Moore said that he wants to be of service to the community.

"It's not because the two men haven't done a good job, but rather that I want to help improve the system and work closely with the school board and administration to help our youth," Moore said.

Riding Club To Sponsor Playday

The Western Texas Riding Club will sponsor a playday Sunday. Registration will begin at 1 p.m. with the events starting at 2 p.m.

Included in the events will be barrel racing, poles, flag, and an optional event. A new grouping this year will be the Pee-Wees, which is designed for beginning riders. Their entry fee is 50¢. The other age groups include 9 and under, 10 thru 12, 13 thru 15, and 16 and over. Entry fee is $1 per event with ribbons given to the first six places and prizes for the high point winner in each division. Following the playday event, there will be an open $5 jackpot barrel race. Contestants are urged to join the Western Riding Club to be eligible for the Sterling Silver Nelson Belt Buckles given to the yearly winners.

A rodeo will be held the first weekend in May (May 1,2,3) produced by the Western Texas Junior Rodeo Association. The club is hoping Mitchell County Bi-Centennial activities can be held in conjunction with the three-day rodeo. Last year's Colorado City rodeo had one of the largest participations on the circuit.

The club plans to have a young people's dance after Saturday night's performance. If the county commissioners deans this possible, the chances are good that they will have the Western Texas Junior Rodeo Finals here during August. This will attract an upwards of 250 out-of-town families to Colorado City for the rodeo weekend. The Western Texas Barrel Racers Association have added Colorado City to their calendar. On April 12-13, they will hold a points race as well as juniors, boys, girls and men's events. This should bring in about 100 out-of-town girls.

Local Residents Taking WTC Beginning Welding Course

"There's never any place to stop learning," says Addie V. Payne of Colorado City.

After studying Anthropology, Spanish, Music Theory, Arts and Crafts, Music Literature and Jewelry Making at Western Texas College since the college opened in 1971, she has enrolled for a different kind of course this spring. She's taking Beginning Welding, and she plans to put her new skill to use in metal sculpting when she has learned how to join metals properly and which metals she can best use to achieve the look she wants.

Marie Jackson, also from Colorado City and a long-time friend of Mrs. Payne, took welding last spring. She had studied such varied courses as Farm and Ranch Records and voice at WTC earlier. She and Mrs. Payne are looking forward to working together on metal sculpting projects that neither can handle alone because of the size and weight of the materials.

People who know Addie V. and Marie probably weren't surprised to know that they had taken up welding. Both are avid hobbyists and active in a long list of community activities.

Addie V. came to Colorado City as a bride 37 years ago. She had studied at Southern Methodist University and took extension courses offered in Colorado City by Abilene colleges as they became available. She is organist for the First United Methodist Church, teaches private piano, organ and guitar lessons, and has been Kiwanis Club Sweetheart since the club was organized 27 years ago. Her husband, James is a retired Sun Oil Co. employee and now operates a small stock farm. Their daughter, Mrs. N. S. Anderton, is a geologist for Exxon in Houston.

Marie has lived in Colorado City most of her life. Her husband, Bill, is an employee of Texas Electric Service Co. and also operates a farm. Their youngest son, Jack, lives at home. An older son, Larry, is in the Air Force and their daughter, Susan, attends McMurry College and works in Abilene.

Marie has already found a practical use of her welding skills. The Jacksons own a 230 amp Montgomery Ward welder and two Harris acetylene cutting units, and she makes repairs on their farm equipment. Once she did a rush welding job for a neighbor and picked up a bit of cash she's saving for some very special occasion, but she's not planning to enter the commercial welding field on a regular basis. Even if she wanted to, she doesn't have time between her roles of homemaker, bookkeeper, grandmother and civic worker. She had foregone college classes this year because of the press of other responsibilities, but she hopes to enroll for classes again when time permits. Her mother, Mrs. Alma Grant, who launched a new hobby after taking Jewelry Making at WTC, hopes to enroll for other courses at the same time.

Sam Walker, WTC welding instructor, says he has enjoyed working with Mrs. Jackson and Mrs. Payne and would welcome other women who want to learn welding. There is a demand for welders, he points out, and there are jobs at which women welders excel.

How about being the only woman in a course like welding? Neither Addie V. nor Marie felt they had experienced any unusual treatment. "I'm here to learn," Mrs. Payne said, "and I get so involved in what I'm learning that there isn't any time to think about a difference in ages or interests outside the classroom. There is never any place to stop learning when you get involved in learning and I can think of a half dozen other courses I want when I can work them in!"

Welders

Sam Walker, left, welding instructor at Western Texas College in Snyder, talks with Addie V. Payne, center, a welding student this semester, and Marie Jackson, a former welding student. Both Mrs. Payne and Mrs. Jackson are residents of Colorado City and are among the students who commute for classes on the WTC campus.

Class Simulates TV News Broadcast

Students in David Hargrove's sixth grade class at Wallace School took a long look at the news media this week, even taking turns at news writing themselves.

The project involved the whole class as students took turns as newsmen and newswomen. They simulated a televised newscast, after first poring over newspaper accounts and listening to radio news reports and television news stories. Four students took the news coverage each day, Tuesday through Friday, and covered these areas: National, State, Weather and Sports.

After gathering their materials, the students then had to summarize their findings and make their reports. The hardest part of the project, the kids said, was their turn before the "camera" when they sat at the front of the class and made their reports.

The following list of students took the indicated interest areas:

--Tuesday, Sidney Stewart, National; Julie Davilla, State; Terry Lewis, Weather; Yancey Spivey, Sports.

--Wednesday, Mike Englert, National; Shauna Rogers, State; Horatio Williams, Weather; Tim Womack, Sports.

--Thursday, Kay McDonald, National; Melinda Fuller, State; Jimmy Espinoza, Weather; Rosa Ausbie, Sports.

--Friday, Joe Bisnette, National; Martha Garza, State; Jerry Pharris, Weather; Yancey Spivey, Sports.

Jeff Bertl Injured In Accident

Jeff Bertl, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bertl, Jr. of Gainsville formerly of Colorado City, was injured while working at Western Sales and Testing in Amarillo.

Jeff Bertl and Bill Ellis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ather Ellis, were testing helium tubes when a high pressure hose blew off and hit Bertl in the ear.

In the midst of panic, Ellis administered first aid. He received his first aid course in his boy scout training. Bertl was taken to the Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo.

Plastic surgery was done and he is reported doing well.

Bertl is a student at West Texas University and a 1973 graduate of Colorado High School.

This year the Jr. High Library has a good chance of being one of the busiest places in Junior High. Some of the staff members are Chuck Claxton, Linda Luncford and Andrew Szabo. The Library has received 249 new books. The students have checked out 8,058 books so far this school year.

When students in the 7th grade English class come to the library, they are not allowed to check out over 3 books. When students in the 8th grade English class come to the library they are not allowed to check out over 3 books either. Students that like to read over 3 books a week are allowed to come to the library on another day and check out more books. Three days during the week are used for teachers and students to do reference work.

The library has a good selection of magazines. We subscribe to about 30 good magazines. There are many reference books in the library; such as a set of illustrated animal kingdom, a set of Land and People Encyclopedia and the Sports Champions. Some students come to the library to look at magazines and read newspapers. Our librarian is Mrs. Mamie Lou New.

(We made $200 which is a big help).

As a second project we pledged money. Pledges started at $3.50 and went up to $5.00. Each one pledged the amount he felt he could make in two weeks doing odd jobs; such as baby-sitting, washing dishes, mowing lawns, washing cars, etc. From this project we made $207.00.

work getting ready for the Sweetwater contest at UIL. For a while it looked like we were going to play "Spartans of Tomorrow," "Danse Pavane" and "British Isle Medley" in the Sweetwater Contest. Now we're looking at "La Nuit," which is a beautiful number.

None of us have been to a Sweetwater contest before, but I'm sure we'll enjoy it. The twirlers will probably all have some routines ready for the contest. Most of our solos and ensembles have decided to play their UIL numbers in Sweetwater. We have all decided to "do our thing" and do it well in Sweetwater.

The 575,000 kilowatt Unit #1 at the new lignite coal-fired Monticello generating station is now in operation. Right behind it and still under construction is Unit #2, which will have the same capacity.

Introducing Monticello: The newest in a whole new generation of power plants.

The first 575,000 kilowatt generating unit at the new Monticello power plant near Mount Pleasant, Texas, is now in service.

Monticello is the second lignite plant Texas Electric has built in cooperation with two other electric companies. The first, Big Brown, is near Fairfield and has been in operation for three years now.

These lignite plants are an important part of Texas Electric's system. We're building them because new supplies of natural gas and oil, our traditional fuels, are hard to get and extremely expensive.

In 1975, about 20% of our total generation will be fueled by lignite coal. By 1980, we'll add two other units at Monticello and four at a new site near Martin Lake. Lignite will then account for almost one-half of our total generation. Power plants that use lignite fuel are much more costly. But lignite itself is less expensive than other fuels. Its use will help us keep the price of electricity from increasing as much as it would if we tried to depend on expensive new supplies of natural gas and oil.

At Texas Electric we're continuing the orderly development of our power system so that you'll continue having the electricity you need.

New lignite plants like Monticello are helping do the job.

According to the annual report released by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department for Sept. 1, 1973 through August 31, 1974, net funds from Lake Colorado City State Park amounted to $48,975.80.

Last year's annual report listed net funds of $31,908.83, with $23,437.25 from entrance fees, $8,318 from use of overnight facilities and $153.58 from concessions.

Largest amount was from entrance fees—$36,075.50. Fees charged for use of overnight facilities gained $13,702 and concessions—brought in $198.30.

Biggest money-maker in the state park system was Garner State Park, netting $181,969.07.

This was the second year of a statewide deer and turkey harvest survey which involved random mailings to resident license holders in the state. The data accumulated will help wildlife officials set future game seasons and bag limits with the knowledge of what was killed, where and in what quantities.

During the 1973-74 seasons, hunters harvested the following:

- 366,033 white-tailed deer.
- 10,260 mule deer.

Choir Boosters

Begin Drive

For Members

Choir Boosters will begin a membership drive with a goal of adding 100 members to the booster club during a 7 p.m. meeting today in the Choir Room at Colorado High School.

Dues for the Choir Boosters Club are only $2.50 per year per family, says Eddie Swinney, president of the club and encourages everyone interested in helping choirs in the school system to attend the meeting and join the club. March will be membership month.

Choir Boosters will also discuss plans for sponsoring one fund drive during the year to fund a concert trip for the choir.

ECHO New

Program

At CHS

Fifteen-year old students at Colorado High School are taking part in a pilot project which involves only eight schools in the state.

The project, Project ECHO, is funded through the Texas Education Agency and provides a resource teacher to work with local students and teachers.

Mrs. Ralphone Cannon is the resource teacher. She lives in Snyder, is hired through the Sweetwater co-operative and teaches in Colorado City—a unique situation, Mrs. Cannon will be working with Project ECHO for the two-year period provided for in the grant.

Fifteen-year olds are currently taking tests in English, Math and Science in order to identify those students who will benefit from extra materials Mrs. Cannon can provide.

Visual and auditory examinations have already been given students in order to identify the possibility of deficiencies in those areas. Written testing will follow as well as a complete physical examination to discover students who might have neurological problems impairing their learning ability.

The next match will be at Coahoma next Tuesday. Coahoma won several individual honors in district last year, Burnam pointed out, and the Coahoma match should give an indication of the outcome of the district this year.

First tournament for the tennis Wolves will be in Snyder, Feb. 28.

Returning lettermen are: --Seniors, Cheryl Sayger and Sharon Prince.

--Juniors, Tony Love, Dennis Ledbetter, Jackie Palmer, Leslie Greenlee and Alan Marcom.

--Sophomores, Craig Carter, Chop Love, Terry Culbertson, Hobie Bolin, Randy Schafer, Mark Miles, Brenda Barker, Ivy Johnson and Donna Wyroddick.
