RADIO-TELEPHONE EQUIPMENT CHECKED

Jim Pylant, radio-telephone engineer for Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., is shown above checking a two-way radio unit to be installed in a car here. Truman Black, manager, said the company will make 90 of the mobile units available to customers here about April 1. A new transmitting and receiving station has been installed 10 miles north of Snyder on the Clairemont Road. (Lee Watson photograph)

Gunmen Spring Prisoners Out Of Jail Today

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Two gunmen walked into Monroe County Penitentiary early today, held up two guards and swiftly engineered the escape of two prisoners. Police claimed the capture of the gunmen a few hours later.

The prisoners were still at large. They were believed to be still in Rochester.

The hoodlums used a ruse to enter the penitentiary, and after pulling out revolvers, tied up two guards and plastered their mouths with adhesive tape.

Police said the men in custody were George R. Bonner, 24, of Washington, Pa., and Paul Freeman, address not immediately available.

Sheriff Albert W. Skinner said one of the men—he wasn't sure which one—was captured in a hotel room. The other, he said, was captured by police as he raced out the rear door of a house.

The gunmen robbed one of the guards of his wallet and then stole his car to make a getaway. The car was found abandoned an hour and a half later.

The prisoners the gunmen took with them were identified as James Compton, 30, of Du Bois, Pa., and Cohocton, Ohio; and Anthony Mendolla, 45, of Rochester.

Compton was serving a one-year term on a bad check charge and Mendolla was serving a year for petit larceny.

The gunmen entered the penitentiary about 12:30 a.m. after telling Clyde Jefferds, 63, chief night guard, that they had cigarettes and a newspaper for Compton. They gagged Jefferds and tied his hands, then walked him down a corridor and into the turnkey's office.

One of the men took the jail keys, opened a cell block door and confronted James Marshall, another guard. Marshall quoted the gunman as saying, "Okay, I'll take over now."

Marshall was forced to release Compton and Mendolla from their cells and then was taken to the turnkey's office, where he also was bound and gagged.

The four fled in Jefferd's auto before the two guards could free themselves and sound the alarm.

Donkey Passed As Goat

MEXICO CITY (AP)—The federal sanitary department is clamping down on markets selling donkey meat under another name.

Over 3,000 pounds of burro were confiscated yesterday. Officials said it was billed as goat meat, very popular here.

Governor's Tax Plans Get Stiff Test Today

Gas Tax Proposal Finds Opponents

AUSTIN (AP)—A revised version of what Gov. Allan Shivers wants in the way of a tax program awaited public hearing before the House Revenue and Taxation Committee today (2:30 p.m.)

The revision was offered yesterday by Rep. Joe Kilgore, sponsor of Shivers' three-point tax plan.

Kilgore suggested an increase in the present production tax on natural gas in place of Shivers' proposed gathering tax.

He offered such an amendment to his bill after a 3¼-hour hearing developed considerable testimony that the gathering tax would be highly inequitable.

Later, Shivers told newsmen he was "not particularly concerned whether they (the Legislature) pass a gathering tax or it becomes a production tax."

He predicted his tax plan would win approval "in approximately that form" in which it was submitted.

Two tests—one direct, the other indirect— on his money raising program were in prospect today.

The first was expected to come when the taxation committee completed hearing on Kilgore's production tax amendment and on a bill by Rep. Robert Patten, Jasper, to place a production tax of one cent per 1,000 cubic feet on gas at the wellhead.

The second test was shaping up for tonight, when the tax committee will consider a bill by Rep. Jack Fisk, Wharton, to reduce all state levies 10 per cent.

Fisk is one of House Speaker Reuben Senterfitt's strongest lieutenants, and Senterfitt has challenged Shivers sharply on the question of increased spending. The Speaker told the House yesterday this is not the time for new taxes.

Shivers' gas gathering tax was raked over the coals yesterday by Lone Star Gas, the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Assn., and by companies which gather or process gas but do not engage in long-line transmission of gas.

Shivers had told the Legislature in his opening message of the special session his gathering tax plan seemed "the nearest we can get to the long lines."

Lester Clark, Breckenridge operator of a gasoline plant which strips liquid hydrocarbons from natural gas, challenged whether the tax would hit the long lines.

"You don't see the major companies up here opposing it—the big inch lines. They're not opposing because they know they're not going to pay it," said Clark.

His partner, Bruce Street, Graham, said the gathering tax as drawn would mean "we will be out of business as far as any profit goes."

John F. Lynch, Corpus Christi, president of La Gloria Corp., said his firm would be required to pay $350,000 a year for gathering gas that belongs to someone else. He said that would be aside from the tax he would pay on gas actually belonging to his own firm.

"It would be like taxing a cotton ginner $10 a bale for picking up cotton to gin that belongs to another man," he told the committee.

Paul Kayser, president of El Paso Natural Gas Co., listed himself as an opposition witness but told the committee:

"We are not opposing this gas gathering tax. x x x We want you to feel, and the public too, after this is over that we are paying out fair share and should not be singled out in the future when new taxes are needed."

Clark said Kayser was not opposing it because—as Kayser agreed—El Paso Natural Gas would pass such a tax on to the consumer. Clark said under terms of most of his own company's contracts to sell gas to the pipelines, he is unable to pass on the tax.

Kilgore told reporters he was "not necessarily" abandoning the idea of a gathering tax.

He said his amendment was offered because he was "convinced there are some people who are affected more adversely than others by the proposed gathering tax."

Kilgore's amendment would raise the present production tax from 5.72 per cent of market value, per 1,000 cubic feet, to 9.6 per cent. The rate applies at the wellhead.

He said that would raise the same 14 million dollars a year as the proposed gathering tax.

The other two phases of the governor's tax plan—to increase beer and franchise taxes—received light opposition in earlier public hearings. The whole plan is wrapped up in a single bill.

MORE CROSS PICKET LINES

AFL Says Dock Strike Is Beginning To Fold Today

NEW YORK (AP)—The AFL contended today that a rival union's 20-day dock strike that has cost an estimated 275 million dollars is "falling apart."

More men were reported going back to work.

And the possibility that the strike might spread today to other East Coast ports failed to materialize.

The AFL International Longshoremens Assn. (AFL-ILA) said 4,000 of its members crossed picket lines of the rival independent ILA and went to work, compared with 3,600 yesterday.

The old ILA, ousted from the AFL for harboring racketeers, struck in what has been known as a wildcat walkout in a jurisdictional dispute with the new AFL-ILA for control of the waterfront.

Capt. William V. Bradley, president of the old ILA, yesterday gave official endorsement to the strike. It was this that led to belief that ILA locals in other ports might strike in a show of ILA strength.

But there were no reports today of walkouts in these ports that have been getting increased business because of the New York tieup.

Tugboat men in New York, affiliated with the ILA, also continued on the job.

City officials said 27 of 56 ships berthed in New York City piers were being worked today, compared to 25 of 58 yesterday.

The walkout by members of the ILA — ousted from the AFL last fall for harboring racketeers — has been staged in defiance of a federal court injunction. Contempt of court proceedings are pending.

The ILA high command reportedly hopes to escape possible jail terms or fines for contempt for endorsing the walkout by contending that the strike is a "no contract, no work" action and not a defiance of the federal court injunction issued March 4, the day before the walkout started.

Bradley said he considered it was his "sacred duty" to lead the union in its fight for a contract with the New York Shipping Assn., which represents 170 shipping and stevedoring companies.

The wildcat ILA strikers have declared for weeks that they would stay off the job until their union was certified as bargaining agent for the harbor's 24,000 longshoremen.

Rain Falls In Parts Of Nation Today

By The Associated Press

Thunderstorms, snow, sleet, whipping winds and torrential rains hit broad areas of the nation today.

A day of wild weather followed a night in which at least seven tornadoes whirled in Texas and Oklahoma.

A tornado struck two miles south of Centerton, Ark., today and then dipped down again two miles north of the community.

Thunderstorms were scattered in an area from Texas and Louisiana to the Ohio Valley and other parts of the Midwest.

Downpours drenched many cities. Rains scaled up to 4.29 inches in Bradford, Ill., and 3.51 in Glenview, a suburb northwest of Chicago.

A 2.30 inch fall in Chicago flooded basements in hundreds of homes and 27 underpasses. The rain exceeded two inches in Grand Rapids, Mich., and South Bend, Ind.

Winds of gale force caused widespread damage in the St. Louis area early today.

The Texas, Arkansas and Oklahoma tornadoes resulted in property damage but no deaths were reported.

Storms threatened other sections.

The Weather Bureau at Indianapolis said there is a possibility of tornadoes in an area extending 30 miles on either side of a line between Evansville, Ind., and Cleveland, Ohio.

Two Failures In Nolan Are Being Plugged

Two wildcat failures have been reported in Nolan County.

Serrells Oil Co. and S. J. Sackett of Fort Worth drilled one of the failures, the No. 1 George D. Wash. The well was quit at total depth of 6,220 feet in barren Cambrian.

Drillsite was 600 feet from north and west lines of the northeast quarter of section 189-64-H&TC, three-quarters of a mile northeast of the Moore-Fry field.

In Northwest Nolan County, Cree Drilling Co., Inc., of Abilene No. 1 W. L. Witherspoon has been ordered plugged and abandoned at total depth of 7,501 feet in barren Ellenburger.

The No. 1 Witherspoon was five and one-half miles west and slightly north of Roscoe, and 467 feet from south and 1,961 feet from east lines of section 32-76-T&P.

This project has slight shows of gas and a considerable amount of salt water in the Ellenburger.

NEW PRODUCER

Seaboard Oil of Delaware and Continental Oil Co. have commercial production in prospect at the No. 1 R. H. Roberts, a Cambrian sand discovery in Southeast Nolan County.

The project flowed 11 barrels of oil per hour from the Cambrian on the last report. That test was taken from 6,174-189 feet. Gas surfaced in 12 minutes and oil came to the top in 32 minutes. The flow was through a one-half-inch top choke.

The project had previously cored from 6,140-189 feet. Recovery was four feet of shale containing shells; 30 feet of light gray, finely crystalline lime with vuggy porosity and bleeding oil, the bottom 11 feet of which had streaks of gilsonite; 15 feet of sand with fair to good porosity bleeding oil in the upper three feet. The entire core was described as being saturated.

Drillsite for the No. 1 Roberts is 330 feet from north and west lines of section 14-Z-T&P, nine miles northeast of Blackwell.

JONES WILDCAT

Southwest Jones County has drawn location for a Cambrian wildcat to be drilled by RHK Drilling Co. and the Ibex Co.

It will be the No. 1 J. R. Walling, 330 feet from north and east lines of the southeast quarter of section 19-19-T&P. This location is in the Noodle South field and four miles northeast of Trent.

SCURRY COUNTY

Sunray Oil Corp. has filed application to drill the No. 1 L. M. Irion in the Kelley-Snyder field eight miles northwest of Snyder. Location has been made 1,000 feet from north and 467 feet from east lines of section 256-97-H&TC on a 127-acre lease. Projected depth is 7,000 feet, with operations to begin immediately.

In Northwest Scurry County, Bright & Schiff No. 1 E. P. Ainsworth is at total depth of 107 feet and cleaning out. Bright & Schiff No. 1 Clawson is drilling in sand, clay and gravel below 150 feet.

Superior No. 1-509 Jordan is at

Car Radio Phones Are Available Here

Snyder's new mobile radio telephone service is expected to be ready for service about April 1, Truman Black, manager for Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., said today.

Similar service in operation in areas surrounding Snyder will give users here a wide range of coverage by mobile service.

"This is part of our program to improve and expand telephone service in Snyder," Black said.

Snyder service will be Channel 11 which is in the 152 to 162 frequence allotment for domestic public land radio service. This service has been installed in a number of West Texas towns and will mean that the user here can drive within range of these other cities and make calls just as he would in the Snyder area, Black explained.

The estimated coverage of the Snyder channel is 30 to 40 miles.

New equipment has been installed in the telephone building here and a switchboard position equipped for a mobile telephone operator. A transmitting tower has been erected ten miles north of Snyder on the Clairemont Road. Also a new mobile radio repair and installation shop has been opened at 1901 Avenue S. Snyder's channel will be beamed north by northeast.

Work is now underway to furnish mobile telephone service in the Stamford area, providing greater coverage in the area surrounding Snyder. The Stamford channel will be beamed north by northwest.

Still another channel has been installed near Abilene. This tower is located atop Buffalo Gap Mountain which is south of Abilene. This is a non-direction beam, but due to its advantageous location, it will have better coverage than the ordinary channel.

To the southwest of Snyder, the Big Spring channel will give coverage and Lubbock will provide coverage on the northwest. In addition to Snyder other West Texas repair and installation shops will be located at Abilene, Midland, Big Spring, Stamford, Odessa, Lubbock and Wichita Falls.

Other principal cities which have this same type service and also have repair shops are Houston, Dallas, Beaumont, Galveston, Corpus Christi, Victoria, Bay City and the Rio Grande Valley area.

The telephone company has made application with the Federal Communications Commission for 90 mobile units in the Snyder area, Black said.

Persons interested in this new type telephone service may obtain full information by visiting the telephone company business office here, the manager said.

British Getting Excited About H-Bomb Blasts

LONDON (AP)—Britain broke out today in a rash of hydrogen bomb jitters.

Reports of the awesome and unexpected fury of America's hydrogen bomb test explosion in the Pacific March 1 prompted fresh demands in Parliament and the press for all-out diplomatic efforts to banish the threat of atomic war.

The Laborite London Daily Herald, in a rare front page editorial, demanded that the United States call off any more hydrogen bomb tests before it turns the Pacific into a "source of peril."

It called on the British government to take the initiative in seeking international consultation "on all the problems involved for mankind in posession of the bomb."

The influential, liberal Manchester Guardian also warned of the possible "most serious" consequences of further hydrogen bomb tests.

Newspapers used "scare" headlines over President Eisenhower's news conference statement yesterday that something must have happened at the March 1 explosion that surprised and astonished scientists.

In Parliament, Laborites have renewed their demand for some sort of fresh approach to Russia. A few Conservatives also have asked questions along these lines.

Lord Salisbury, Britain's atomic chief, told the House of Lords last night the "hideous reality" of the hydrogen bomb makes necessary a live-and-let-live understanding between Russia and the West. He warned that no one could win an atomic war.

Barber Files Suit On Texas Beard Growers

CLEBURNE, Tex. (AP)—A master barber has filed suit against the Brothers of the Brush, a group advocating fancy beards, charging the organization has literally ruined his shaving business.

C. R. Brown, barber of Burleson, 12 miles north of here, said, "I haven't shaved a customer in weeks."

The Brothers of the Brush are backing the Johnson County centennial celebration by going Western and hairy. For weeks the men in Johnson County have been raising beards.

Election Date In Hermleigh Is Moved Back

The date for the regular city election in Hermleigh has been changed to April 6, a Tuesday, instead of April 3, a Saturday, according to A. D. Higginbotham, mayor there.

Higginbotham said he made an error in setting the original election date. He explained that Texas election laws governing towns the size of Hermleigh require the city election be held on the first Tuesday in April.

Polls will open at 8 o'clock in the morning and will close at 7 o'clock that evening, Higginbotham said. Dave Hess will be election judge, and J. W. Crumley and Mrs. Ethel Adams will be clerks.

Higginbotham is not a candidate for re-election. Candidates for mayor are L. M. Reeves and J. F. Groves.

T. L. Kubala holds the only place on the Hermleigh council which does not expire this year. Running for the other three places in the council are C. V. Clift, A. L. Barfoot, Boyce L. Jones, Joe Roemisch, Jr., C. H. Mason, and M. J. Haynes. Clift is a candidate for re-election.

Krick Making Rain In Colorado For Nothing

DENVER (AP)—Slow progress of a cold wave out of the north has stalled "rain making" activities in drouth areas of southeast Colorado.

The Water Resources Development Corp., headed by Dr. Irving Krick, has set up silver iodide generators at several points in hopes the moisture-laden air mass can be encouraged to dampen the dust sector. Krick volunteered his services to the state.

The weather bureau said the drouth area could expect light scattered snow today, but forecasters were gradually postponing the time. Snow originally was forecast for last night.

The storm had moved into northern Colorado from Wyoming, where it nearly blanketed the state with a light rain or snow.

WEATHER

NORTH CENTRAL TEXAS: Generally fair and colder this afternoon and tonight. Lowest 28-32 tonight. Friday fair and mild.

WEST TEXAS: Generally fair and cooler this afternoon and tonight, lowest 25-30 Panhandle and upper South Plains and 30-34 elsewhere tonight. Friday fair and mild.

EAST and SOUTH CENTRAL TEXAS: Generally fair and cooler this afternoon tonight and Friday. Moderate to fresh northerly winds on the coast.

NATIONAL GUARDS' CASE PRESENTED AT AUSTIN

A group of 11 Snyder men returned here last night from Austin, where they testified yesterday before the state armory board of the National Guard concerning the need for guard armory here.

Attending the hearing before the board were Capt. Weldon Kincaid, commander of the local unit; Edgar Taylor, county judge, and Pat Moore, commissioner of precinct No. 3; Mayor Harry Holbrook, Jack Shelley, city manager, W. W. Park, city attorney, J. W. Phillips, city councilman; H. W. Cargile, president of the chamber of commerce; Claude McCormick, chamber vice-president; Bob Crowell, chamber manager, and John Sentell, Snyder attorney and commander of the first National Guard unit in Snyder.

Sentell was spokesman for the group. He first told of the growth of the community since the National Guard was organized here in 1924.

Shelley then testified of the growth of the city government and its departments. He showed the need for the city's use of the large building on Twenty-seventh Street now used for an armory. The building is owned jointly by the city and county.

Taylor then told the board that the county would furnish three and one-half to five acres of property in a suitable location for an armory. Kincaid showed the location of the property, which is just west of the county stock barn in Towle Memorial Park.

Crowell told of the growth of Snyder, telling the board that the city's growth is of a permanent nature. He referred the board to a letter written for the record of the hearing by Cargile, which presented statistics on the growth of the community, that the community has supported the unit, and that the unit needs additional training space so members of the organization can have adequate training. Included were figures showing the unit now has 94 enlisted men, six officers, and four battalion staff officers who are training here with the unit.

The hearing required about two hours. The five-man board, headed by Gen. Miller Ainsworth of Luling, told the Snyder delegation that the board would take the matter under study.

Kincaid said this morning that he believes the unit here will receive word within a few days on how the board rules.

In a letter written several days ago to the guard unit, the city requested the unit vacate the building as soon as possible because the city needs the space for its expanding city water, sewer, street, and garbage departments. The letter stated the city badly needs the building for shop space and storage of equipment. The city stated that practically all its equipment now must be parked outside and could be parked in the building.

The armory requested would be of masonry construction and would have a large drill area inside, Kincaid said, adding that the same area could be used for civic functions. It would be built and paid for by 75 per cent federal and 25 per cent state funds.

MOUNTED GUARDS

Policemen, mounted and on foot, ride herd on striking longshoremen outside a downtown pier in New York Wednesday. The strikers, members of the old International Longshoremen's Assn., tried to keep AFL longshoremen from working the Hudson River pier. Other policemen in background keep parading ILA pickets in line along the waterfront street.

Dust Storm Damage Yesterday Was High

By The Associated Press

Sections of West and North Texas counted storm damage Thursday running into thousands of dollars after a night of twisting winds and thunderstorms that left one person dead.

Hardest hit were communities in Denton, Collin and Fannin counties in North Texas and Albany in Shackelford County in West Texas.

There was only one death and few injuries despite the fury of the winds which uprooted buildings and homes in several towns.

At least eight tornadoes boiled from a line of thunderstorms that extended from south of Abilene across North Texas into Oklahoma and Arkansas.

The greatest damage in Texas was in Collin and Fannin counties.

McKinney and Honey Grove and a number of nearby communities reported many roofs either blown off or badly damaged.

The storms struck between 9 p.m. and 10 p.m.

Damage at McKinney was confined mostly to the business section. The steeple was blown off the First Methodist Church. The roof was lifted from the North Side Drug Store. Six or seven other buildings suffered badly damaged roofs. A number of plate glass windows were broken. Trees also suffered heavily.

The storm struck at 9:45 p.m., and most residents agreed it was a twister. More than an inch of rain fell, but Thursday morning red dust from West Texas was settling on the black land of Collin County.

The high school gym at Alla, 17 miles northwest of McKinney, was destroyed. The school building also was damaged.

At Frisco, 13 miles west of McKinney, a warehouse at Charley Smith's grain elevator was destroyed. A number of windows were broken.

The one death occurred in Denton County at Argyle. George D. Franklin, drive-in theater owner, was crushed to death when high winds toppled a wall on him.

A tornado that struck Honey Grove ripped through part of the Farmers and Merchants Cotton Compress, knocked out several plate windows and demolished two small homes and several barns.

Striking about 10:20 p.m., the twister knocked out power lines and service was not restored in Honey Grove until after midnight.

The twister, described as the hop-and-skip type, was accompanied by 1½ inches of rain.

Showdown On Staff Fight

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Kearney (R-NY) has renewed a demand for a showdown on what he termed an "intolerable" staff situation on the House Un-American Activities Committee.

Kearney told newsmen yesterday that Chairman Velde (R-Ill) had called a committee meeting for yesterday, but did not show up and sent a telegram postponing the session until April 1.

Velde was campaigning in Illinois and was not available last night, but an aide said the congressman may have a statement today.

Kearney, who joined with Rep. Walter (D-Pa) in criticizing committee staff operations last January, said the situation has not improved. Staff investigators, he said, have been "jockeying for advantage over one another, trying to get raises which are undeserved, and engaging in back-biting."

Legislators Decide Wednesday Little Early To Call It Week

Special to the Daily News

AUSTIN — The Texas House did its first "record voting" Tuesday, but the significance of the vote is disputed.

Record votes are made on the voting machine and are printed in the House Jornal.

The vote in question was on a "permissive" action which would have allowed the House to knock off work Wednesday, if it so voted, without consulting with the Senate.

On a voice vote, Speaker Reuben Senterfitt ruled that the "ayes" had it.

Rep. George Berry, a few minutes later, moved that the House reconsider and called for a record vote. By a narrow margin, the House voted to reconsider.

Then, by a strong 83-47 margin they voted against the measure they had approved a little earlier.

Berry said he considered the vote an indication that a strong majority of the House wants to go ahead and get some quick action on teacher pay—and money to foot the bill.

Others in the majority said they saw the vote as an indication those who favor Gov. Shivers' program are strong in the House. Some in the minority admitted the same.

But, it wasn't a clear-cut test vote, because there were other factors. One is the fact no bill is yet ready for House action. All are still in committee. Another factor is public opinion. Berry, and other House members, said they have received comments about the House's quitting work last Wednesday, although they could not consider bills until they come out of committee and committees have to post notice of hearings 48 hours in advance.

"But, people think we should be working," Berry told the House. Committee hearings are scheduled this week through Friday. "If you don't have anything else to do you could be studying all these tax bills we have before us—listening in on hearings," Berry said.

Voting with Berry and voting against allowing the Legislature to quit Wednesday were L. L. Armer of Sweetwater, A. J. Bishop of Winters, Hulon Brown of Midland, Omar Burkett of Eastland, W. R. Chambers of May, Carroll Cobb of Seminole, W. G. Kirklin of Odessa, Truett Latimer of Abilene and C. F. Sentell of Snyder.

Voting "yes" on allowing the lawmakers to go home Wednesday, if they want to when the time comes, were Joe Burkett of Kerrville, Mrs. Dorothy Gurley of Del Rio, John Kimbrough of Haskell, David Ratliff of Stamford, Richard Slack of Pecos and W. A. Stroman of San Angelo.

Vote of Obie Bristow of Big Spring wasn't recorded because his voting machine wasn't working, but he said he would have voted with Berry.

Bitter San Angeloan Goes To Chair For Murder Of His Wife

HUNTSVILLE (AP)—A convicted wife slayer, 43-year-old Charles D. Clark, went to his death in the state's electric chair smiling and affable today.

Chatting with prison attendants as they strapped him into the death chair, the former San Angelo hotel operator said:

Gentlemen, I know this is just as painful to you as it is to me and I certainly want to thank you for all of your courtesies."

Clark entered the death chamber at 12:02 a.m., received the first shock at 12:05 a.m., and was pronounced dead at 12:08 a.m His body was to be shipped to Atlanta, Ga., where a brother arranged last rites.

WROTE TWO LETTERS

Clark wrote two letters as his final acts, after refusing a last meal. One letter went to the Texas Prison System's general manager, O. B. Ellis, and the other was sent to Don Reid, Huntsville newsman and Associated Press correspondent.

In his letter to Ellis, Clark asked that nobody except those required by law be allowed to witness his execution. He made an exception of Reid who was present at the execution. Clark also thanked Ellis for his treatment while in the death house here.

About an hour before the execution, the condemned man sent a written statement to Reid asking that the investigation of "what has been done to me" be continued by his friends and relatives. He told Reid he wanted his friends to "see to the prosecution of those" who had wronged him.

SAYS UNAFRAID

"My faith in God is firm and I have no fear," he wrote. "Efforts of my true and Christian friends have given me strength. May God bless them and give them courage to continue."

In a postscript, he told Reid: "If the San Angelo newspapers don't carry this, send my trial attorneys ten copies of your newspaper."

Reid said that all last night, the warden's office was besieged with telegrams and telephone calls from friends in West Texas of Clarks. They sent condolences and sympathy and messages of courage, the newspaperman said.

Interviewed in his death-row cell yesterday, Clark bitterly protested his innocence and called his trial a "farce from beginning to end."

APPEARED SHAKEN

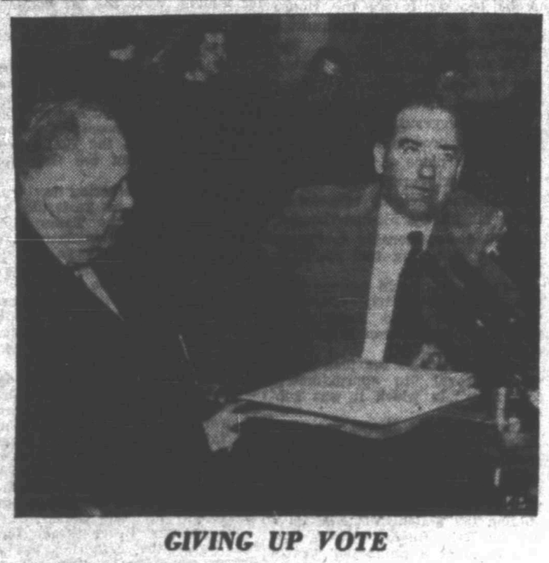
Reid said Clark appeared shaken and had said he was hopeful "something will happen to save me from an unjust verdict."

"I have no fear, I am not guilty," the doomed man declared. "If the newspapers will publish the true facts as set out in a private investigation made by my friends, the whole world will know that my trial was a farce from the beginning to the end."

However, Clark's case had been on appeal in various courts. On Nov. 30, 1953, the U.S. Supreme Court turned down his motion for a rehearing. In Austin, the State Board of Pardons and Paroles refused to interfere in the execution. The state body said it had considered the case and had no recommendation.

Clark charged time and again that his former attorneys did not properly represent him. He also criticized various Tom Green County officials and the San Angelo newspapers, Reid said.

Clark's attorneys contended at the trial that domestic difficulties had made him temporarily insane at the time of the killing, committed the day he and his wife were divorced.



GIVING UP VOTE

Sen. Joseph McCarthy (R-Wis), right, announces at a news conference in Washington with Sen. Karl Mundt (R-SD), left, that he is giving up any vote in connection with the Senate investigations subcommittee's airing of his row with Army officials. But McCarthy, who has turned over the chairmanship of the group for the duration of the inquiry to Mundt, said he retains the right to cross-examine witnesses. Reporters are seated in background.

New Glands In Place Of Those Wearing Out

By FRANK CAREY
Associated Press Science Reporter

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—If your hormone-producing glands wear out or are destroyed, can they be replaced?

A famous Yale University scientist says yes—they can be.

He already has replaced the glands of "nine or 10" people with the glands of babies who died in their mothers' wombs. And, so far as he can ascertain, these borrowed vital organs are healthy and functioning in the new hosts.

Dr. Harry S. N. Greene, professor of pathology, today reported this remarkable story to a group of science writers touring leading research centers at the invitation of the American Cancer Society.

The experimental transplants began more than two years ago; and these and the results of many years experience and many thousands of transplants between animals have persuaded the scientist that many grave human glandular deficiencies can be corrected by transplants.

"But we are not going into the transplant business," Greene emphasized. "This is basic research. Our job was to show that it can be done. We will leave it to others to apply our fundamental findings to their clinical problems."

He said he and his group would not accept patients for further transplant therapy.

Among the embryonic organs successfully transplanted to adult humans were:

1. A pituitary gland—the tiny organ at the base of the brain which controls almost all the hormone-producing organs of the body;

2. Thyroid glands — which controls nervous reactions;

3. Parathyroid glands — which govern the body's use of metals like calcium.

4. Adrenal glands — which enable humans to undergo such stresses as cold, hunger, fatigue, poisons, injury and various forms of shock.

Without any of these glands or the hormones they produce, one soon would die.

Fight Pledged For Chinese

TAIPEH, Formosa (AP)—President Chiang Kai-shek today pledged his remaining years to the task of recovering mainland China from the Reds and establishing a "free, democratic and independent China."

Chiang, in a speech closing the National Assembly, which re-elected him to another six-year term, said his government would welcome criticism intended to further the cause of democracy in China.

But he said this "privilege" did not apply to Communists, fellow travelers or to "people shouting from sanctuaries abroad."

The latter apparently was a reference to K. C. Wu, former governor of Formosa now in Evanston, Ill., and such persons as Li Tsung-jen, who was sacked by the Assembly March 10 from the vice presidency. Li has lived in New York for several years.

Little Interest Noted Among Absentee Voters In Coming City Race

No requests have been made for absentee ballots for the city election April 6, J. D. Scott, city secretary, said.

Scott said that deadline for absentee balloting in the election will be night of April 2.

There are two contests for council positions, and three men are unopposed for re-election.

Candidates for mayor are Joe. V. Robinson, Frank W. Bernson, and Malven K. Stevenson. Candidates for place No. 5 on the council are S. S. Steinberg, Frank D. Stephenson, and Walter Hales.

Unopposed for re-election are J. L. (Broadway) Browning for place No. 2; Dr. Robert H. Hargrove, for place No. 4; and J. W. Phillips, for place No. 6.

Odessa Man Injured

COLORADO CITY (AP)—U. N. Shank of Odessa, about 40, was critically injured here yesterday when his car collided with a freight train.

RS&P Tool Shed Is Broken Into In Night

A number of articles of clothing and two pairs of pliers were stolen from a Roscoe, Snyder & Pacific tool house by burglars who broke into the building sometime last night, Marvin Brister, police sergeant, said.

Brister said Prentis Smith, investigating policeman, said a lock had been broken from the door.

Included in articles missing were a sheepskin lined coat, a blanket lined coat, an army rain coat, and an army cotton coat, and the pliers.

The burglary occurred sometime between 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon and 7 o'clock this morning. The tool house is located about three blocks south of the RS&P depot near the rail tracks.

SENTERFITT PLAN SOUNDED GOOD TO C. F. SENTELL

While most West Texans in the Legislature expressed themselves against a deficit spending proposal made by House Speaker Reuben Senterfitt, Rep. C. F. Sentell of Snyder, said the proposal sounded good to him.

Senterfitt's plan is to vote no new taxes in this election year and hope that the surpluses on hand will handle the spending voted in the special session. If the money does't stretch until the Legislature meets next year, and it is not believed likely to do so, Senterfitt wants the state to pay the bill by deficit financing. Such a move requires a four-fifths vote to invoke an emergency clause and allow the state to go into debt.

Sentell was quoted as saying, "It sounded good, but I'll have to study it in the light of all the bills introduced."

Scouts Plan More Troops For County

Delegates from several civic clubs are to meet tonight in an effort to start a boy scout extention program here, Bob Eastus, scout executive for this area, announced, today.

The meeting will be at 7:30 in the district courtroom.

Malven Stevenson will head the program, Eastus said. It will work with the permanent scout extension committee headed by Roland Bell.

Discussion tonight will center on the proposed contacting of institutions here which are potential sponsors of cub scout packs, boy scout troops and explorer posts.

Eastus estimated that there are 1,500 youths in the county who could be scouts, but that under the present program on 400 boys are active in scouting.

Delegations tonight will include the Kiwanis club headed by Don Hire, the Lions Club headed by Bell, and the Rotary Club headed by Charles Duckworth.

One Group Of Arabs, Jews Live In Peace

BEERSHEBA, Israel (AP) — The harsh wasteland of Israel's Negev Desert is home to some 12,000 Bedouin Arabs whose way of life is little changed from their ancestor's centuries ago.

They live in black tents, open toward the east like those of the Old Testament patriarchs. They pasture their flocks of sheep and goats on the desert's scanty growths and travel from water hole to water hole on camels.

The Bedouins of the Negev, the triangle-shaped southern part of Israel's territory, are split up into 19 tribes. Each of the tribes has a sheikh who is leader, judge and registrar of births and deaths for his people.

Second to the sheikh are the Hajjis, those who have made the pilgrimage to the Moslem holy places. All the Bedouins are Moslems, although most pay little attention to ritual.

In the daily life of a Bedouin tribe, every member pitches in to do his share of the necessary work. The men cultivate the sparse fields or vegetable plots. The women do the cooking, the mending and spinning, and carry the wood and water. Children tend the flocks, taking them out to graze and bringing them back safe again at night.

Relations between the Israeli Bedouins and the Jewish settlers in the Negev are neighborly. Jewish agricultural experiments being carried out in the Negev may one day benefit the Arabs by making possible the growing of much greater quantities of food.

Jewish doctors and health clinics treat the Arab sick and give Bedouin mothers advice on their children. Although the doctors are now received with honor, one said on his first visit to a tribe the Arabs thought he was a tax collector in disguise.

Despite their acceptance of many phases of modern medicine, the Bedouin women invariably refuse to have their babies in hospitals. The women deliver the children themselves with doctors barred from the tent, unless the mother is in real danger.

COGDELL HOSPITAL

Admissions — Mrs. Nina Page, Clairemont Route, surgical; Margaret Tucker, 13-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Tucker, DeLuxe Trailer Courts, medical; H. A. Preston, 507 Twentieth Street, medical.

Dismissal — Christie Black, 3-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Black, Lamesa highway, surgical.

Answer For Everything

DENVER (AP)—Elmer J. Blakeley, 51, was sentenced to six months in county jail yesterday after a trial in which he admitted stealing two suits.

His explanation before pleading guilty:

He was taking the suits from a store so "I could examine them under natural light."

He ran from a woman store detective because she "resembled my estranged wife who had followed me here from Chicago."

Man Wanted In Bigamy Case Brought Here

A former Dallas and Slaton man wanted in Lubbock on a charge of bigamy is expected to be returned to Snyder today from San Antonio to face a county court charge of swindling by worthless check here.

He is Jimmie B. Cousins, charged here March 2 with having passed a worthless check to Charles E. Duckworth, merchant. The check was drawn on a Dallas bank which reported insufficient funds in Cousin's account to cover it when payment was sought.

Cousins was said by the sheriff's office at Dallas to have moved from there to Slaton, where he is reported to have married a woman who last week signed a complaint in Lubbock, alleging he was married to another woman at the time she married him. He was arrested in San Antonio Tuesday for officers here and at Lubbock.

Cousins is to be given to the custody of Lubbock officers after a disposition is made in the county case against him here. Homer Whisnand, sheriff, left here for San Antonio yesterday and is expected to return with Cousins today.

Cancer Control Through Diet Under Study

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The possibility of starving out cancer through the combined attack of dietary control and chemicals harmful to the growth was reported today before the American Chemical Society.

The procedure was described as having a "promising possibility" by Dr. James B. Allison, who said studies now under way at the Rutgers University Bureau of Biological Research show that the life of a tumor-bearing animal may be prolonged through diet control.

This, he said in a paper prepared for the biological chemistry division of the society's annual convention, may make it possible to use chemotherapeutic agents—chemicals such as the triethylenimines—that are detrimental to cancer, to slow up, stop or even cause regression of the cancer.

Dr. Allison, professor of physiology and biochemistry at the university, said the administration of TEPA — triethylenimino phosphoramide — to laboratory rats reduces the utilization of food in both normal and cancerous animals.

The daily use of TEPA in rats with experimental cancer caused the tumors and all the other tissues to grow poorly, he said. But when the diet was properly supplemented with methionine, the effect of TEPA on the normal tissues was reduced and the tumor was still retarded. Methionine is one of the amino acids making up protein. "Thus diet can protect, at least in part, the tissues of the body from the depleting effects of the cancer, thereby slowing the growth of the tumor and preparing the way for a more prolonged and drastic type of chemotherapy," he said.

"The possibility of combining chemotherapy with dietary therapy is promising."

Company In Jail As Brothers Reunited

PUEBLO, Colo. (AP)—Gilbert Garbiso of Camp Carson, Colo., serving a 90-day jail term on a traffic charge, had company yesterday—considerably more than either he or the company bargained for.

Garbiso's father Joe and brother Bernie appeared at Sheriff John Krutka's office and asked for a pass to visit the soldier. The pass was issued and then Krutka began thumbing through his files.

When father and son arrived at the jail, Bernie was particularly welcomed. He readily admitted he was Arthur Bernabe Garbiso—AWOL from Offutt Air Force Base, Omaha, Neb. He joined his brother behind bars to await military authorities.

Southern Textile Industry Is Banking On More Population

By SAM DAWSON

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (AP)—Babies and old folk and scientific development — the textile industry here and in the North is counting on them.

But today the industry's major ills are still in evidence: more capacity than present demand calls for; keen competition (and anti-trust laws) that balk attempts to control this capacity and thus iron out its chronic ups and downs; and warehouses still holding some textile products that yet must be eased into cautious retail outlets.

A glow of hope that a seasonal rise is starting is reported here. Mill owners say the situation is better than at the first of the year and consumption should start up—meaning more orders, longer work weeks, more jobs.

Southeastern textile mills say they are producing at a better clip than the national rate—or, rather that cotton consumption here is off less than the national rate, which was down 6 per cent in the early months of the year.

Man-hours of labor in textile mills in the Carolinas, however, was off 12 per cent in January from a year ago, the Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond reports.

In the North, some mills are doing better now. The Yankees contend that by now most of their marginal mills have closed, and that the flight of others to the South has slowed (in cotton, if not in wool). They argue that the survivors in New England are in a strong position. The specialty mills in particular are doing all right.

The work week in the North, while down from its peak, isn't off as much as it was in the 1948-49 tumble.

The industry, as a whole, is very spotty. Some textile mills here are working six-day weeks and say they have the orders to support that rate. Some are working as few as three days.

Some textile products are selling well — diapers, for instance.

That's where the babies come in and rally the industry's confidence of better days ahead. The big baby crop of recent years mean not only diapers, but crib sheets, and clothing — and in time a larger adult population running through shirts and sheets and work clothes.

Folk are living longer these days too. They use more textiles, and they have pensions and social security to support their buying of textiles.

H. K. Hallett, head of the Kendall Mills here, and president of the American Cotton Manufacturers Institute, says the industry's search laboratories promise to improve both the cotton in the field and the end products in the mill. That makes him confident of the industry's future. Of its immediate future — he'd rather wait a little longer and see.

Bankers figure that the nation's 16 million spindles, working 80 hours a week, could turn out just about as much as present demand calls for. When they work more than that — on third shifts, say — surpluses often pile up and the industry gets indigestion again. Bankers think the recent output decline, starting last summer when inventories piled up, should be about over now.

Everyone seems to be keeping an eye on the telltale months of March and April that President Eisenhower thinks will show how business in general is going — and whether Americans will have the jobs and the money to buy all the textiles the mills think they ought to sell.

Hermleigh Is Host For Play Contest Friday

Students of six high schools will compete in a one act play contest to be held Friday night at 6 o'clock in the Hermleigh High School auditorium.

A trophy is to be presented to the winning group and the three best male actors and the three best female actors are each to receive a medal.

High schools to participate in the contest, in which the plays can be of any type but are not to exceed thirty minutes in presentation, are Blackwell, Fluvanna, Hermleigh, Divide, Loraine, and Highland.

On the judging committee are Mrs. Forrest Beavers, chairman; Miss Virigina Groves, mathmatics teacher at Snyder High School; and Miss Maydelle Burns, a teacher at North Elementary School in Snyder.

The plays will be judged on the basis of acting, 55 per cent; direction and stage mechanics, 35 per cent; and choice of play, 10 per cent.

Admission for adults is fifty cents, and for students, twenty-five cents, said Mr. Charles Chorn, school chairman of district 18 B.

Busy Hospital Worker Had Other Things To Do On His Own Time

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sheriff's officers said it wasn't exactly love for his work as an operating room attendant that brought James R. Newsom to Los Angeles County General Hospital an hour ahead of time each day.

Newsom, they explained, had an avocation, a rather profitable one. Bookmaking, to be exact. That's the charge they booked him on yesterday.

The officers said he readily admitted taking horse bets but maintained he didn't do it on county time. It was done, he insisted, in that free hour of his own before he officially reported for duty in the operating room.

An hour before his arrest, police vice squad officers had arrested his wife Troy. They said she was taking horse bets by telephone.

So Newsom is in the county jail and his wife in the city jail.

VFW Jumps In To Grab Credit In Deportation Of Crooner Dick Haymes

MANCHESTER, N.H. (AP)—Wayne E. Richards, national commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, said last night his organization had something to do with trying to get crooner Dick Haymes deported.

He told a banquet meeting that the VFW had asked U.S. Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell to deport Haymes, and added:

"I read in some of the papers that Dick and his wife, Rita Hayworth, are charging 'pressure' in government for their departure. They don't identify the influence. I'll gladly take part of the influence."

He said also: "I say if any man like Haymes makes a lot of dough in this country and is afraid, or refuses to serve his country in time of need, he can go back to Argentina and take Rita with him."

Neither Haymes nor his attorney could be reached for comment.

Things Will Mushroom If Given A Chance

LINCOLNTON, Ga. (AP) — One hound puppy and an abundance of initiative bought a small herd of Hereford cattle for a Lincolnton ninth-grader.

Robert Matthews got the puppy as a gift.

The puppy grew up and had more puppies—which Robert sold for $15.

Robert bought a pig with $10.

The pig grew up and had a litter.

Robert sold the pigs and bought two calves.

The calves grew up and Robert sold them.

He bought two Herefords.

They were already grown up and they gave him two more Herefords.

Robert plans to sell one of these, a choice steer, at the fat cattle show in Atlanta April 26.

Snyder Track Team Travels To Odessa For Meet Friday

A squad of 13 high school trackstersers will leave tomorrow morning for Odessa, where they will compete in the West Texas Relays.

Coaches Jack Dillon and Horrace Bostick will enter the cindermen in 10 events. This is the team's third meet of the season.

The squad has already been in the Canyon Reef Relays here and the Southwestern Recreation meet at Fort Worth. Added to the squad this week are several boys who were previously tied up with spring football training. Three of those are included on the squad traveling to Odessa.

Entered in the meet are Bernie Hagins and Gerald Crawford in the 100-yard dash, a team of Reagan White, Kieth Pitner, Bob Rogers, and Tommy Ivison in the sprint medley relay; a team made up of White, Ivison, Rogers, and Naxey Davis in the 440-yard relay; Jack Spikes, Crawford, Rogers, and Ivison in the 880-yard relay; Larry Bills, Fred Cross, and Jimmy Key in the mile run, a team of White, Ivison, Rogers, and Davis in the mile relay; Spikes in the discus throw and shot put, Billy Sellars in the pole vault, and Vernon Lily on the high jump.

The sprint medley relay team entered at Odessa took first in the Canyon meet with a time of 3:52.4. Last year, the sprint medley team, which included White, Crawford, Pitner, and Gary Harris, took second in that event with 3:42.6, running just behind Sweetwater. Both teams beat the record of the meet.

The mile relay squad was winner of first in the Canyon meet with a time of 3:42.5. Last year the mile relay team ran second in the Odessa meet with a time of 3:33.1, one second behind Amarillo. That squad was made up of Ivison, White, Jackie Grimmett, and Deanie Floyd. Last week, the team did not place at Fort Worth, but it had a time of 3:34.7 in the finals, its best time this season.

Crawford last year qualified in the Odessa meet but was eliminated in the semi-finals. Bills ran fifth in one heat of the mile run finals in the Canyon meet. None of the others have placed this season in events in which they are entered at Odessa. White, a 440-yard dash man, and Pitner, a half-miler, have each taken places in those events which they will run in relays at Odessa. White was first in the 440 in the Canyon meet with a time of 54.1. Last week at Fort Worth, he ran sixth but had a time of 52.3, his best of the season. Pitner took third in the 880 with a time of 2:01.1, which was his best time this year. His best time since he has been running was 1:59.7, which he ran last year when he came in fifth in the state track meet.

Stengel Finds Pleasure With His Righties

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—Manager Casey Stengel surveyed his New York Yankee pitching staff today and pronounced his right-handers "the best in the league."

That's quite a statement, particularly since the Cleveland Indians, perennial runners-up to the Yankees, have three top men who throw from the right side—Bob Lemon, Mike Garcia and Early Wynn.

But Old Casey sees it this way:

"I didn't think it was exceptional after Vic Raschi left. But with Tom Morgan and Johnny Sain back and Harry Byrd and Bob Grimm going good, I'm satisfied with my right-handers."

He didn't mention Allie Reynolds, Jim McDonald and Tom Gorman, his other righties, but he knows what they can do—and it's usually a lot of good. But he said:

"I haven't figured out the left-handers yet. I have to do more looking."

Only veterans Eddie Lopat and Bob Kuzava are certain to be retained among the southpaws. Bill Miller, Steve Kraly, Bob Wiesler and Art Schallock are the others in there pitching for jobs.

Little League Meeting Tonight In West Texas State Bank At 7:30

Officers, directors, managers, and other operating personnel of the Little League will hold their first meeting of this year at 7:30 o'clock tonight at the West Texas State Bank.

Speedy Moffett, president of the league, called the meeting for the beginning of work in this year's league operations.

The six-team league is entering its third year.

Skowron's Troubles

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP)—The case of Bill Skowron, the ex-Indiana football player who is trying for a job on the New York Yankees, is a strange one.

Young Bill has been having his troubles at first base and thinks he would benefit by another year at Kansas City.

But after he drove in six runs in the Yanks' 11-7 victory over the Boston Red Sox at Sarasota yesterday, Manager Casey Stengel was more convinced than ever that he has the power to make the grade.

The chances are Casey will carry Skowron as a pinch-hitter.

Wayland Fems Are Nearing AAU Finals

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (AP)—Defending champion Hanes Hosiery of Winston-Salem, N. C., and Wayland College of Plainview, Tex., apparently were headed today for a showdown in the finals of the Women's National AAU Basketball Tournament.

Each faced another hurdle. Wayland must get past Denver Viner Chevrolet in the first of tonight's semifinal games at 7:30 p.m. (CST) Hanes' path is blocked by the Kansas City Dons, who will take on the champions at 8:45.

But there seemed little doubt that each would come through, and if they do, tomorrow night's final game will be a "natural."

The Carolinians had a 102-game winning streak going until they bumped into Wayland in Des Arc, Ark., Feb. 26. Wayland won that game 45-38 and the following night, to prove it was no fluke, beat Hanes 54-49 in Searcy, Ark.

But if they meet in tomorrow night's finals, the Carolinians will have more at stake than pride. They're out to become the first team ever to win four consecutive tournament championships.

Hanes got into the semifinals by bumping the Davenport (Iowa) Brammerettes 50-40. Wayland did it by ousting Nashville (Tenn.) Business College 38-21.

In the other quarterfinal games yesterday, the Kansas City Dons defeated the St. Joseph Goetz girls 43-35, and Viner Chevrolet nipped the Virginia Beach Snow Whites 37-35.

Senators Swapping

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP)—Searching around for more infield strength, the Washington Senators reportedly are negotiating with Boston for Ted Lepcio, a second baseman-shortstop.

The Sox are said to be considering an offer of three Nat players in return for Lepcio. Among the Senators mentioned as trading possibilities are Outfielder Keight Thomas and Infielder Mel Hoderlein.

Brawl Ends In Norkus' Favor

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Danny Nardico, the Tampa brawler who depends on raw courage to overcome his lack of boxing ability, retreated back to the light heavyweight ranks today after taking a second savage beating from Charley Norkus of Jersey City.

Norkus, the unranked 24-year-old heavyweight, had a 17-pound advantage as he hammered out a unanimous 10-round decision last night in the Miami Beach Auditorium. He weighed 197¼ to Nardico's 180¼.

They were rematched for a national television audience as a result of their bloody eight-knockdown battle in the same ring Jan. 20. Norkus flattened Nardico six times and hit the deck twice himself before the fight was stopped.

Neither man went down for a count last night, but it was the same kind of brawl they had staged before, and it was enough to convince a brutally beaten Nardico he doesn't belong in the heavyweight ranks.

"He's just too tough," Danny declared through puffed lips in his dressing room. "I had to give too much weight."

Nardico, always on the attack, got through Norkus' fumbling defense with dozens of smashing lefts and rights. By the eighth round, his white trunks were red with blood flowing from Norkus' nose.

But for every blow he landed, he took two and in the ninth and 10th, as Norkus chopped home one vicious punch after another, the crowd wondered why the wobbling Nardico didn't fall.

Two Golf Greats In Quarterfinal Match

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. (AP)—Tom Robbins, defending champion and medalist in the American Seniors Golf Assn. Tournament, meets Bib Wingate, former National Public Links champion, in the featured match at today's quarterfinal round.

Robbins was one under par for 12 holes and that's as far as the Larchmont, N.Y., golfer had to go to beat Judge Lloyd Beatty of Glen Ridge, N.J., 7 and 6, yesterday.

Wingate, whose home is Fayetteville, N.C., beat Bill Diddle of Indianapolis 2 and 1.

More Than 800 In East Texas Relays

COMMERCE (AP)—More than 800 schoolboy trackmen from 57 schools have entered the fourth annual East Texas State High School Relays to be held here Saturday.

Ten records were set at the 1953 meet as Sunset of Dallas won the team title in Class AA and Garland took the Class A trophy. Both schools will defend their titles.

2,000 At Laredo School Council Meet

LAREDO (AP)—More than 2,000 high school student council members come here today from 213 Texas schools for a 3-day convention.

The theme of the convention is—"Student Council—The Practice Ground for Responsible Citizenship."

Aggie Rodeo Is Drawing 20 Schools

COLLEGE STATION (AP)—More than 20 colleges and universities will send teams here April 1, 2, 3 for the Spring Interscholastic Rodeo sponsored by Texas A&M.

Professional rodeo stock will be furnished by Duke Gibbs of the Triangle Bell Ranch at Belton for bareback bronc and saddle bronc riding, calf tie-down and ribbon roping, bull dogging, bull-riding and other events.

Bobby Rankin of Wills Point, president of the Aggie Rodeo Club, said there will be blue ribbon attractions including barrel races for girls and a cutting horse contest approved by the National Cutting Horse Assn.

The cutting horse contest, for which entries close March 30, is open to anyone who belongs to the national association, Rankin said.

There will be one show each of the three nights and a matinee Saturday afternoon.

Schools that have said they will compete include Texas Tech, Sul Ross, Baylor, Idaho, Texas A&I, Schreiner Institute, Southwestern State Teachers College, McNeese State College of Lake Charles, La., Arlington State College, Kilgore Junior College, University of Texas, Colorado A&M, New Mexico A&M, Hardin-Simmons, Arizona, Oklahoma A&M, Sam Houston State College, University of Houston, Tarleton State College and about 70 student competitors from Texas A&M.

Lincoln School To Track Meet

A large group of students of the Abraham Lincoln School will leave Saturday for Brady, where they will participate in state interscholastic league track events.

Daniel Johnson, principal of the school and coach of the boys' team said that squad is defending state Class C champion of Negro schools. Coach of the girls' team is Mrs. R. B. Stapleton. There were seven schools in Class C competition last year, he said.

Entries the two coaches are taking to the meet:

50-yard dash — boys, Terry McClain and Robert Cobbs; girls, Gladys McClain and Ruby Raye Spells.

100-yard dash — boys, Hubert Gift and Lloyd Hood.

220-yard relay — boys' team, Glen Dale Cook, Robert Cobbs, Jerry Collins, Hubert Gift; girls' team, Karen Sue Gift, Gladys McClain, Ruby Raye Spells, Nannie B. Massey.

440-yard relay — boys' team, Lloyd Hood, Hubert Gift, Terry McClain, Glen Dale Cook; girls' team, Ruby Raye Spells, Gladys McClain, Maxine Cobbs, Vonnie Cobbs.

880-yard relay — boys' team, Hubert Gift, Lloyd Hood, Terry McClain, Robert Cobbs; girls' team, Ruby Raye Spells, Gladys McClain, Maxine Cobbs, Vonnie Cobbs.

Baseball throw — Gladys McClain.

Discus throw — Terry McClain, Gladys McClain.

Duke Markell, rookie pitcher for the Phillies, was born in Paris, France. Last season he pitched a no-hit game for Syracuse in the International League.

Kid Gavilan Begins Training In Chicago

CHICAGO (AP)—Kid Gavilan, confident welterweight champion and new father, arrives in Chicago today for intense on-the-scene training for his April 2 shot at Carl (Bobo) Olson's middleweight crown.

After formally signing for the Chicago Stadium about a week ago, Gavilan returned to his Summit, N.J. camp. Yesterday he received the good news: His wife gave birth to a 7-pound, 8-ounce daughter in Havana.

"We name her Victoria in honor of my victory over Olson," said the Cuban Kid, who also has another daughter and a son.

Gavilan, still confident of defeating Olson, possibly by a knockout, and sneering at the current 9-5 odds against him, will train at the Midwest Gym, where he sharpened up for his slaughters of Chuck Davey and Johnny Bratton.

Junis Washington of Oakland, Calif., ex-sparring partner of Olson, is among six in Gavilan's entourage. He has worked more than 100 rounds with the middleweight champion in the past.

"Gavilan's speech and quick hands will give him a big advantage over Olson," says Washington. "He's much faster and sharper. Back East he has been working on in-fighting most of the time."

Gavilan says he has boxed 64 rounds so far and weighs close to 153, the poundage he wants to carry against Olson.

"That my natural weight," he said. "I'm strong at it and just as fast. I don't think Olson be so strong trying to make 160.

"I know how I fight this Olson after the first round. If necessary I flurry for full three minutes each round if pace that fast. Even if I flurry just one minute I can hurt that Olson more than he can hurt me in two."

Olson, who has been training in Chicago's Rainbo Arena for a week, has booked a total of 72 rounds in preparation.

"I hear Gavilan wants to fight Rocky Marciano after he beats me," said Olson, in a rare critical form. "Who's he kidding? Look at his last four fights. Livio Minelli chased him all over the ring. He had a rough time with that garbage collector (Johnny Cunningham). Bratton quit on him. Carmen Basilio knocked him down and should have won."

Use Of Maglie May Make Giants Threat

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Sal Maglie 'the old barger" looks to be ready and if he is, the New York Giants could become real threats in the National League. Maglie went six innings against the Baltimore Orioles yesterday, and ran his runless skein to 13 innings before the American Leaguers tapped him for three runs in the sixth. The Orioles finally won, 4-3.

"I don't hurt and if I keep on this way I'll be ready to open against Brooklyn," Sal said. "I'll go seven innings the next time out. I don't want to rush things."

Four-Leaf Clover Is Not What Should Be

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP)—Philadelphia Phillies' pitcher Murry Dickson has given up on four-leaf clovers as good luck charms.

Dickson, acquired from the Pittsburgh Pirates in an off-season trade, carried a four-leaf clover to the mound yesterday and was the losing pitcher in a 7-1 game with the Washington Senators.

Pro Golfers Are Moving Up Atlantic Coast

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Professional golfers moved on to tournaments in Wilmington and Greensboro, N.C., today while officials of the Seminole Golf Club put a new record on their books.

Lew Worsham, chunky pro from Oakmont, Pa., clipped two strokes off the old mark in winning the annual Pro-Amateur Tournament yesterday with 68-68-136. The old record was held by several players at 138.

It was Worsham's first tournament victory since his spectacular wedge shot gave him the $25,000 first prize in the Tam O'Shanter at Chicago last August. He collected $1,800 for his Seminole victory.

Jim Ferrier of San Francisco was second with 140 and picked up $1,000. Earl Stewart Jr. of Dallas carded 141 to win $700 and Cary Middlecoff of Grossingers, N.Y., had 142, the same score turned in by Bo Winninger of Oklahoma City. Each collected $475.

Ted Kroll of New Hartford, N.Y., teamed with R. A. Reese, Morgantown, W.Va., steel executive, to win the pro-amateur division with a best ball of 123. Kroll won $1,000 for his team triumph.

Ben Hogan of Palm Springs, showed the effects of his long layoff and had 70-73-143 to tie with five others for sixth place, worth $315 each.

Betting Ruins Play Chance

NEW YORK (AP) — "He broke faith with us."

Thus Maurice Podoloff, president of the National Basketball Assn., all but squashed any chance Jack Molinas, suspended Fort Wayne star, had of being reinstated to his club.

The Pistons dropped Molinas when it was found that he had placed bets on the team to win. Yesterday, a Bronx County grand jury reported that no evidence of any crime had been found.

Molinas, overjoyed, immediately said he would like to get back into action.

"We are not concerned with whether Molinas committed a crime," Podoloff snapped. "To us, his betting means that he broke faith with us. It was a flagrant violation of a written contract."

He added that he could not personally outlaw Molinas because such authority rests with the Board of Governors of the NBA. However, he indicated he doubted if Molinas would be permitted to play again.

Podoloff said the league was out to maintain its record of avoiding scandal and anything that would reflect unfavorably on it.

"I was silly," said Molinas. "I'll never bet again."

He said he never bet against the Pistons.

Basketballers From Lincoln School Beat In Sweetwater Games

Two teams from the Abraham Lincoln School were edged in basketball games this week by Sweetwater teams.

The Snyder players are in elementary and junior high grades, and their opponents were high schoolers. The boys lost their game 55-49, while the girls lost 21-17.

Both Snyder teams are Class C state champio... titles they gained this year when they had no opposition in the state Negro basketball tourney.

Members of the boys' team were Lloyd Hood, Terry McClain, Donnie Joe Talton, Robert Cobbs, Johnnie Ross, Hubert Gift, and Tommy Davis.

On the girls' team were Ruby Raye Spells, Rosi Davis, Gladys McClain, Jessie Faye McClain, Karen Sue Gift, Vonnie Cobbs, Maxine Cobbs, and Annette Harrison.

Hal Newhouser On Trial With Tribe

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The date was July 22, 1953 — less than a year ago—and Hal Newhouser who once had drawn $65,000 for pitching for the Detroit Tigers, was talking:

"This is the end. I'm finished as an active player. My arm just can't stand the strain any more."

The handsome fireballer had just been told that at the age of 32, he was all through. He couldn't even hold a job with the last-place Tigers. After almost 15 years with them, he had his unconditional release and memories.

But he couldn't stay out of the game, and today he's back trying to win a spot with the Cleveland Indians. He's on trial, of course, but what Manager Al Lopez has seen has been encouraging.

Newhouser got credit for his first victory of the spring training season yesterday when the Indians battered the Chicago Cubs 12-2. Despite the heavy bombing, the slim left-hander bore down all the way through his three-inning stint and didn't allow the Cubs a run.

The injury jinx that has been haunting the major league clubs all through training struck the Indians when second-string catcher Mickey Grasso broke his left ankle sliding into a base. He will be out about three months. He is Jim Hegan's No. 1 understudy.

Meanwhile, the Baltimore Orioles, the Cactus League leaders, won their 11th game against five defeats by turning back the New York Giants 4-3 at Phoenix. They jumped on Sal Maglie for three runs in the sixth after he had run up a scoreless skein of 13 innings.

The Detroit Tigers and the Philadelphia Phillies, who have been having the same trouble — no hitting — came to different fates. The Tigers broke a five-game losing streak with a 5-4 victory over the Milwaukee Braves achieved in a two-out single in the bottom of the ninth by rookie Harry Bright.

The Phillies, who have scored just six runs in their last five games, dropped a 7-1 decision to the Washington Senators. Johnny Schmitz and Chuck Stobbs combined to harass the Phillies.

The Pittsburgh Pirates, who have been consigned to the National League cellar, have been hitting home runs all over the lot. They bashed five more in a 10-4 victory over the Philadelphia A's. Winning pitcher Max Surkont was impressive, yielding only one hit in his three innings.

Young Bill Skowron drove in six runs for the New York Yankees to lead the world champions to an 11-7 victory over the Boston Red Sox. Skowron is a first baseman and the Yanks already have three, but he might stick as a pinch hitter.

The St. Louis Cardinals scored four runs in the ninth inning to turn back the Brooklyn Dodgers 5-2. Stu Miller went five innings for the Cards, allowing the Brooks only one hit, a home run by Gil Hodges.

Bob Keegan and Mike Fornieles held the Cincinnati Redlegs to eight hits in tossing the Chicago White Sox to a 6-4 victory.

Mrs. Norman D. Morrison, recently an army wife, holds Norman Dean, Jr., who was born in the same hospital where his mother worked as a clerk-typist. The Morrison's are making Snyder their home.

SOCIETY SCRIBBLINGS

By VIVIAN KILPATRICK

Making her home in Snyder is Mrs. NORMAN MORRISON, 2064 Thirty-second Street, who came here with her husband when he became city accountant here.

Their home was previously in Manhattan, Kan., a few miles from Fort Riley where Mr. Morrison was stationed as a sergeant in the army finance department.

He had just received his degree from Texas Technological College in Lubbock when he entered the Army.

Mrs. Morrison did not attend college herself, but she worked for a Lubbock insurance agency to help him finish, she said. At Fort Riley she worked at the base hospital as a civil service clerk-typist.

Her time is now occupied in caring for their four-month-old son, NORMAN DEAN, JR., who is the first grandchild of both their parents.

Mrs. Morrison said they plan to buy a home and she is looking forward to planting a vegetable garden and landscaping the yard. She expects difficulty in this due to the dryness here.

In the sports field, her husband is more active than she, she said. He likes to swim, fish, and play golf and baseball. At Fort Riley he was on an army baseball team, and would like to help in the Little League teams here, she said.

Mrs. Morrison expressed a desire to learn to play golf, so she could accompany her husband when he plays, and not become a golf widow.

The Morrisons have been married for four and a half years and attended high school together in Borger, which she gave as their home town.

They both are already fond of Snyder, and are finding it to be a friendly town, said Mrs. Morrison.

As soon as the baby is started on his immunization shots, Mrs. Morrison said they plan to attend church at the First Christian Church here.

On their exit from Mexico a formidable inspector gave them the choice of carrying the "illegal" basket of fruit back into Mexico, or watching while he destroyed it. They stood helplessly by while he pitched the grapefruit, one by one, into a blazing furnance.

Mrs. S. S. STEINBERG, 3111 Fortieth Street, called to say that she and her husband are happy to be back in Snyder though they were gone only twelve days on a business and pleasure trip.

In Chicago, they had tickets for the Don McNeil show which they saw televised from the Terrace Room at the Morrison Hotel. There was snow in Chicago and a little rain in St. Louis; elsewhere they visited, it was dry, said Mrs. Steinberg. Their trip included Milwaukee.

In Waukegan, they called on Mr. and Mrs. Jack Leland, former Snyder residents. Mr. Leland is supervising the construction of 1,300 housing units there. Mrs. Steinberg said that he and his wife can hardly wait until the job is completed so they can return to Snyder. One reason for this, continued Mrs. Steinberg, is the unemployment situation there, with many carpenters daily asking Mr. Leland for work which he cannot supply.

The Steinbergs visited her mother, Mrs. T. Z. Casort, in Blytheville, Ark., where businesses are being closed and people are leaving the town to seek employment, reported Mrs. Steinberg.

Helps For Homemakers

Diet conscious women will be pleased with a hostess who serves this not too rich and not too calorie high Tropical Cheese Salad. Cottage cheese is a high quality protein which combines well with fruit for flavor and color contrast.

Toasted rye bread and crisp carrot and celery sticks can be served with this salad. They are low in calories and high in taste appeal.

TROPICAL CHEESE SALAD

1 package strawberry gelatin
1 cup boiling water
1 cup cold water
1 package lemon gelatin
2 cups liquid, drained from fruits plus water
1 number 2 can pineapple chunks
1 number 2 can peach halves
2 cups cottage cheese, no liquid

Dissolve strawberry gelatin in boiling water. Then, add cold water. Pour half the mixture into a quart mold or bread pan. Refrigerate. (Keep remaining gelatin at room temperature.)

Take one-half cup of fruit-water mixture and bring to the boiling point. Stir into lemon gelatin. Add remaining juice and cool.

Stir in one and one-half cups of the cottage cheese and all but eight or twelve pineapple chunks. Pour over firm strawberry layer. Chill quickly until set.

When set, cover with rest of strawberry gelatin and chill at least four hours before serving time. Unmold on cold salad plate. Arrange salad greens around edge.

Place a piece of pineapple in each peach half. Top with remaining cheese and place around salad. Serves eight.

Layer salads can be "quick chilled" in your freezer if you watch closely to see that no ice crystals form. This salad requires no salad dressing, but, if desired, a sweet thin French dressing made with honey will suffice.

Cream a small package of cream cheese with a couple of anchovy fillets and some minced parsley. Spread on small crackers and serve with tomato juice for a first course.

Morningside H-D Club Changes Name, Meets With Mrs. Taylor

The Snyder Home Demonstration Club, formerly called the Morningside Home Demonstration Club, met Tuesday with Mrs. A. B. Taylor, 3207 Fortieth Street.

Miss Ruby Butts, County home demonstration agent, gave a report on "Convenient Outside Work Areas." Six members were present.

The club is to meet with Mrs. James Graham, 3201 Fortieth Street, on March 30, for instruction in leathercraft.

New members to the club are welcome, said Mrs. J. A. Bourgoyne, and can contact Mrs. Fred Walton at 3-6896 for information about the club.

INTERNATIONAL DESIGNERS PATTERN

Alan Graham, American by birth, has chalked up to his credit a number of designs which have set him high in the rating of Paris couturiers. One reason his designs are watched with such interest is seen in today's design. The gores of the skirt are cut on the straight of the fabric, eliminating any chance of sit-out or sag. The neckline is severely tailored, throwing the spotlight on the beautiful skirt. The dickey and cuffs are buttoned on, and without them the dress is an extremely pretty dressier garment. Very easy to sew, the dress is a natural for cotton, garbardine, silk or linen. Mr. Graham likes linen or pique for the trim. Size 12 requires four and one-quarter yards of 35-inch material for the dress and seven-eighths yards of 35-inch material for contrast. To order the pattern, No. S-212, address International Designer's Patterns, P.O. Box 535, Dept. 6X-13, G.P.O., New York 1, N.Y., sending $1 for each pattern. Be sure to state your size, selected from this guide:

Women Can Usually Meet Any Financial Situation

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

A common characteristic of today's women is that they never have enough money.

No matter how much their husbands earn, it never seems to be quite enough. Mary needs her teeth fixed. Johnny wants a new bicycle. The kitchen needs remodeling. Henry's going to college, and goodness knows where the tuition is going to come from.

Some wives react to financial emergencies by nagging their husbands.

Some meet the problem with new economies—serving macaroni instead of steak and making over last year's hat.

But there are thousands who have found a more practical way out of their difficulties. They pitch in and earn the needed extra amount.

These women make up the majority of an army of about a million direct salespeople who sell from three to seven billion dollars' worth of goods annually in this country on a door-to-door basis.

I'm not speaking now of the one out of every three married women in the country who have regular jobs. I mean the women who have to stay at home to take care of children, run their homes and do all their own housework, who nevertheless manage to add to the family income whenever necessary.

The men who run the firms which depend on direct selling say U.S. housewives are the world's best sellers—especially when they have a definite goal.

When Mrs. Jones is trying to get the money for a new washing machine, she's the equal of the most high-powered salesman employed by the biggest corporation in the country.

Leaders of the direct selling industry say this method of sales is increasing steadily.

Any woman who has a circle of friends in her own community is a potential success story in the direct selling field, say these men. Many firms advertise in local newspapers and in women's service magazines for sales representatives. A woman interested in a part-time or full-time selling job can contact any of these, and receive a kit of instructions. After she has been accepted as a sales representative, she will receive either samples or photographs of the merchandise, and then she's on her own.

Housewives doing direct selling in their spare time can earn from $10 to $60 a week, say executives of the industry. And there are instances of some who have earned from $10,000 to $25,000 a year—this, of course, on a full-time basis.

The women sell everything from cosmetics to dresses, from housewares to stockings. Almost always they work among their own friends.

And when they've earned that new refrigerator or that college education, they usually take a vacation until the next emergency comes along.

Beef, Chicken Are Best Buys

By The Associated Press

You'll find beef and chickens among the best buys in your foodstores this weekend, reports from over the country show.

Actually, meat prices generally will be the same as a week ago or a little higher. But food men agree that items such as prime ribs, chuck roast, chopped beef and stewing, frying and roasting chickens will still give you the best value for your money.

Sirloin steak will be a bit more costly—up two to as much as six cents a pound in a number of places.

Egg prices are much the same as a week ago.

There was another general round of coffee price boosts this week.

Spinach entered the list of outstanding vegetable buys as supplies increased. Also in the list: potatoes, onions, cabbage, kale and collards. Produce men rate endives, escarole, sweet potatoes, eggplant, celery and peppers as "good buys."

Grapefruit remains the best buy in fruit.

'Made In Japan' Signs Showing Up On Indian Curio Stands In Arizona

WINDOW ROCK, Ariz. (AP)—If the Indians got mad when the white man took their land, they're boiling now.

The Japanese are blamed this time——for making "genuine" Navajo handiwork and selling it at one fifth the Indians' price. And right here on the reservation, no less.

The activity was brought to light by Ned Hatathli, manager of the Navajo Arts and Crafts Guild, in a formal protest to Washington.

Hatathli said the local tourist market is being flooded by beaded Indian belts, Kachina dolls and bows and arrows, all made in Japan.

"It may only be a matter of time before Navajo rugs made in Japan are sold here," said Hatathli.

Two Whales And Shark Fight In Shore Water

LAGUNA BEACH, Calif. (AP)—There was a life and death battle in the surf off Aliso Beach, near here, yesterday, between two 30-foot whales and a 15-foot shark, but the outcome finally was shrouded by the deep water of the Pacific.

Two lifeguards who watched the marine giants flail the surf for several minutes said the whales chased the shark onto the sand and there was a deadly exchange that left a section of the strand blood red. Then the battlers plunged into deep water again and disappeared.

NEWS FROM HERMLEIGH

By MRS. W. C. FARGASON

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Mobley spent Sunday with Mr. Mobley's sister in San Angelo.

Mrs. Myra Gardner, a resident here for many years before moving to Clovis, N. M., in the 1920s, is visiting friends here this week.

Mrs. J. O. Noorwood and Mrs. T. J. Thea of Greenville arrived Tuesday to visit their son and grandson, J. C. Norwood.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Brock of Lubbock visited here early this week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Roemisch and son, Jerry Joe of Odessa, visited friends and relatives here Monday and Tuesday.

Jimmy Layfield and children of San Angelo, former residents of Hermleigh, visited Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Wilcox Sunday.

Mrs. G. O. Lindsey and son, Garland, have moved back to Hermleigh after living in Snyder for several months.

There Is A Difference

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Ollie Biles was arrested for making telephone threats to a sheriff's deputy, but he was promptly released when he gave his reason.

FLAKED FISH ENTREE FOR LENTEN MENUS
. . . fish-shaped casserole is container

CURRIED ROCK LOBSTER TAILS
. . . luxury for meatless meals

Varied Seafood Menus Should Include New Sardine Recipes

During lent, many of the forgotten seafoods come into their own. One of these foods is sardines.

SARDINE RICE PUFF

1 1-3 cups pre-cooked rice
1½ cups water
½ teaspoon salt
1 box (12 ounces) frozen green peas
3 tablespoons butter
2 cans (4 ounces each) sardines
2 tomatoes, sliced
1 egg white
¼ cup mayonnaise

Combine rice, water, and salt in saucepan. Mix just until all rice is moistened. Bring quickly to a boil over high heat, uncovered, fluffing rice gently once or twice with a fork. Cover and remove from heat. Let stand 10 minutes.

Meanwhile, cook peas as directed on package. Combine rice, peas, and butter, mix, and sardines, and blend. Turn into 1½ quart greased baking dish. Arrange tomato slices over top; sprinkle with salt and pepper; brush with melted butter. Place under broiler 8 to 10 minutes, or until tomatoes are lightly browned.

Meanwhile, beat egg white until it will stand in soft peaks. Fold in mayonnaise, blending thoroughly. Spread on top of tomatoes and return to broiler for 2 minutes, or until topping is golden brown. Makes 6 servings.

Transplanted New Englanders are always eager for their codfish.

CODFISH CASSEROLE

1 pound frozen salt codfish
½ cup diced onion
4 tablespoons butter
5 tablespoons flour
¼ teaspoon pepper
3 cups milk
2½ cops diced, cooked potatoes
1 cup cooked, drained peas
1 tablespoons lemon juice
3 tablespoons minced parsley
½ recipe for backing powder biscuits

Shred codfish with a fork or cut up with scissors. Freshen according to directions given. Cover with cold water and simmer for 15 minutes, or until tender; drain. Cook onion in butter until tender. Add flour and pepper; blend. Gradually add milk and cook until mixture boils and thickens, stirring constantly. Fold in potatoes, peas, lemon juice, parsley and fish. Pour into buttered 1½ quart casserole. Top with a circle of biscuits. Bake in a hot oven, 450 degrees F., for about 15 minutes, until biscuits are brown. Serves 6.

Another lenten casserole is made with flaked fish.

FLAKED FISH CASSEROLE

2 egg yolks
2 cups milk
2 tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca
1½ teaspoons salt
dash of pepper
½ cup finely cut celery
1½ teaspoons minced onion
2 cups flaked cooked fish
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
2 egg whites, stiffly beaten
½ cup bread crumbs, buttered

Mix egg yolks with a small amount of the milk in saucepan. Add remaining milk, quick-cooking tapioca, salt, pepper, celery and onion and mix well. Place over medium heat and cook until mixture comes to a boil, stirring constantly. Remove from heat. Add fish and parsley. Add very gradually to beaten egg whites, folding in thoroughly. Turn into greased 2-quart baking dish. Cover with crumbs. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 50 minutes, or until browned. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Just plain boiled shrimp is a seafood favorite with many people

BOILED SHRIMP

1 quart water
1 stalk celery
1-3 cup sliced onion
6 to 8 black peppers
1 bay leaf
1 teaspoon salt
2 pounds shrimp
3 thin lemon slices

Combine water, celery, onion and seasonings in a saucepan. Bring to a boil, lower heat apd allow to simmer while shrimp are being prepared. Shell and clean shrimp. Add with lemon to the liquid. Boil 15 to 20 minutes or until shrimp have become pink and are tender. If possible let the shrimp cool in the cooking water. Drain. Makes about 6 servings.

The British have their own lenten custom, Fish 'n Chips.

FRENCH FRIED FISH

Cut cleaned fish into strips three inches by one inch. If using fresh fish, dip in an egg wash prepared by combining one beaten egg and ½ cup of milk; drain well. Roll in dry ready-mix for pancakes. Shake off excess coating. Fry in deep hot fat about 2 minutes.

Another foreign-influenced seafood delicacy is sardine pizzas.

SARDINE PIZZAS

2 cans drained sardines
1 8-oz. can tomatoes, drained
4 English muffins, split and toasted
8 slices American cheese
lemon wedges

Spread the tomatoes on the toasted muffins. Top each with a slice of cheese and one or two sardines. Broil until cheese melts. Serve the muffins hot, with lemon wedges. Makes 8 servings.

Oysters and scallops can be combined into a casserole called Seafood Louisiana.

SEAFOOD LOUISIANA

½ cups chopped onion
1 clove garlic, minced
¼ cup chopped green pepper
¼ cup butter or margarine
2 tablespoons flour
1 No. 2½ can tomatoes
1½ teaspoons salt
dash of pepper
dash of cayenne
½ teaspoon chili powder
½ teaspoon sugar
2 tablespoons grated Parmesan cheese
1 pint scallops
1 pint oysters, drained
3 cups hot cooked rice (1 cup raw)

Saute onion, garlic and green pepper in butter or margarine 5 minutes or until delicately browned. Stir in flour. Add tomatoes, salt, pepper, cayenne, chili powder, sugar and cheese. Add scallops and oysters. Spread the hot rice in a casserole and pour oyster and scallop sauce on top. Heat at 325 degrees F. about 15 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

An usual casserole combination is Tuna Aloha which combines tuna and pineapple.

TUNA ALOHA

2 cups cooked rice
1 No. ½ can tuna
⅛ teaspoon pepper
1 tablespoon parsley, chopped
1 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon onion juice
¾ cup grated cheddar cheese
2-3 cup thick white sauce
10 slices pineapple
1-3 cup dry bread crumbs or crushed cornflakes
2 tablespoons brown sugar, moistened

Combine cooked rice with tuna, hopped parsley, salt, pepper, onion juice, ½ cup of the cheddar cheese and white sauce. Place pineapple slices on shallow baking dish and brush with brown sugar mixture. Spoon tuna-rice mixture onto pineapple slices, shaping each mound. Sprinkle with dry bread crumbs or crushed cornflakes. Top each with large pinch grated cheese, using remaining ¼ cup cheese. Bake 20 minutes in shallow baking dish. Oven should be heated to 350 degrees.

Spanish stuffed peppers are a quickly prepared seafood dish.

SPANISH STUFFED PEPPERS

4 green peppers, top removed, seeded
1 pound raw shrimp
1 can Spanish rice

Cook peppers and shrimp in boiling salted water 5 minutes. Meanwhile heat Spanish rice in a saucepan. Clean shrimp and reserve enough for garnishing. Chop the rest and add to rice. Spoon into the peppers. Top each stuffed pepper with a whole shrimp. To keep hot for serving, place stuffed pepper in a saucepan with a tight fitting lid and pour ¼ cup water into the pan. Cover and keep hot over low heat, adding more water if necessary. Serves four.

Halibut creole is a festive lenten menu suggestion.

HALIBUT CREOLE

1 pound halibut steaks or fillets
1 cup sauterne or other white wine
1 cup boiling water
1 slice onion
several peppercorns
1 bay leaf
salt
1 medium onion, chopped
1 green pepper, chopped
½ cup chopped celery
1 clove garlic, chopped
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 tablespoons flour
1 can condensed tomato soup
½ cup sherry
pinch each, thyme, marjoram, pepper
2 hard cooked eggs, sliced
2 tablespoons chopped parsley

Combine sauterne, water, onion slice, peppercorns, bay leaf, and salt in a large skillet; bring to a boil. Lay halibut in the hot liquid. Cover and cook gently for 5 to 10 minutes or just until fish is tender. Remove fish from liquid and separate into flakes. Strain and remove ½ cup cooking liquid. Saute onion, green pepper, celery and garlic in butter for 5 minutes. Blend in flour; add soup, the reserve fish liquid and sherry. Cook, stirring constantly, until mixture boils and thickens. Season with thyme, marjoram, salt and pepper. Stir in flaked halibut, eggs, and parsley; heat gently but thoroughly before serving. Accompany with rice.

Cod, haddock, sea bass, or other fish may be substituted for halibut.

The Italians started the scampi craze which came to America by way of Paris.

SCAMPI

2 pounds, unshucked shrimp
¼ pound butter or margarine
1 Clove garlic, minced fine
salt and pepper to taste

Remove shells from shrimp, except portion which covered tail. Cut down center of back and remove sand vein. Melt butter and add garlic. Simmer 3 minutes. Place shrimp on individual flameproof platters, or large broiling pan. Pour garlic butter over them. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Place in preheated broiler three inches from heat and broil 5 to 7 minutes or until browned and tender. Makes 4 to 5 servings.

Dying Doctor Gives Advice

SEATTLE (AP) — A Seattle doctor, dying with cancer, thinks other persons in his situation could well spend their final days in productive living rather than in inactive dread.

Aware for six months that he is hopelessly ill of cancer, Dr. Merrill Shaw, 50, vice president of the American Academy of General Practice, says he has had time for a "prepared exit."

Meanwhile, he said in an interview published yesterday, he has been able to do the things he always has wanted to do but never before had the time.

The period after a patient learns of his condition, he said, can be highly productive.

"The cancer victim who is head of a family, for instance, has the time to be an adviser to his survivors." He has a college-age son and daughter.

The fear of cancer is a friend of cancer, he warned, because it "shuts far too many people off from going to a doctor for early diagnosis lest he find they have cancer."

HERITAGE DAYS NO. 22

Fannin's Defeat Depresses Texans

Chilling news reached Sam Houston's Texan camp on March 25, 1836, but the commander-in-chief moved quickly to surppress word of Fannin's defeat and surrender at Coleta by arresting the messenger as a "publisher of false news and a spy." It was Peter Kerr who moved quickly to suppress word of Fannin's capitulation and of Col. Ward's defeat near Dimmitt's Landing.

The news prompted Houston's decision to continue his retreat, to await a more favorable occasion to meet the Mexicans. Hoping he could continue to keep the Mexican army divided, he also saw in the retreat an escape from a premature meeting of Santa Anna's forces.

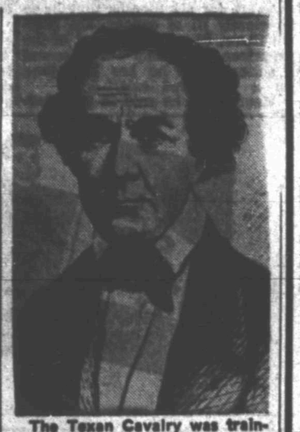
While Urrea and his 1,500 to 2,000 Mexicans were ordered to scout the Victoria-to-Galveston area, Santa Anna ordered Sesma to change his course. In an effort to keep forces closer together, Sesma was ordered to head for San Felipe, after crossing the Colorado at Bastrop.

Death was ordered for every Texan soldier captured, and Santa Anna decreed to his generals that colonists who had not taken up arms should be forced to leave the country.

"That under his most strict responsibility," the Mexican generals were informed, "he should fulfill the orders of the government, shooting all the prisoners." Like orders, he commanded, were to be carried out "with respect to all found with arms in their hands."

Capt. B. J. White had been ordered to Dimmitt's Landing or Coxe's Point, to secure supplies, being commanded "to use and command all the means of the country in securing supplies."

To the committee at Matagorda,



The Texan Cavalry was trained for the Battle of San Jacinto by Mirabeau B. Lamar, above. He commanded the mounted Texans at the decisive battle and later was to serve the republic as secretary of war, vice president, and president. Lamar best is known as the father of Texas education.

Houston pleaded for reinforcements. "All the troops that can be raised I wish placed at my disposal, as on the Colorado I make my stand, and it is deemed necessary to concentrate all the effective force at this point for the present."

Loss of Fannin and his troops cast gloom in the camp, despite Houston's outward disbelief of the news.

Rubiroso Fills In Marriage Details

NEW YORK (AP)—Porfirio Rubirosa says his 77-day marriage to heiress Barbara Hutton amounted to "a very boring life."

The suave, 45-year-old Dominican diplomat held a news conference yesterday, said rich women are "too difficult," and added:

"If she had led a normal life, I would have been very happy. But she wanted to stay home all the time. She liked to stay in the house all day and I like outdoor sports.

"I am very active and I like to go out at night. She wanted to stay home and read books. This is a very boring life."

After two months of wedded life, Rubirosa said, they both realized hat his fourth marriage and his wife's fifth was on the rocks.

The polo-playing Rubirosa cleared up the following odds and ends surrounding the much-publicized marriage:

Alimony: "I never wanted any. I signed papers before and after the marriage. It is settled."

Gifts: "All she gave me was a photograph of herself and this I have returned to her."

Reports he had a roving eye during their honeymoon in Florida: "I never went out with any ladies in Palm Beach."

Marry a poor girl next time?

"Never again will I marry a woman of wealth. Perhaps it is better that I marry a poor girl. This is what I will do."

What does it take to marry a rich woman?

"It takes nothing special to get them. They are like everybody else."

Marriage in general

"Don't marry too young. A man should be 35 before marrying. I was 23 when I began. It was too early."

Tuna Company Shuns Radiated Jap Fish

SAN PEDRO, Calif. (AP)—The Van Camp Sea Food Co. says it will buy no more Japanese tuna until assured that it is radiation-free.

The company also announced yesterday that it has canceled an order for 200 tons of the fish from Japanese waters. Government officials are checking all shipments of tuna to American ports, and so far none of the tuna received is believed to have been near the area of the recent nuclear test explosions, said Gilbert Van Camp Sr.

Dust Storms Taking Paint Off Car Plates

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP)—Motor Vehicle Commissioner Tony Luna says his office has received license plates from New Mexico motorists who complain that storms have sandblasted the plates, taking the paint off.

The results are shiny, metal sheets, the numerals almost unreadable.

Luna says replacements are free.

Russians Say Americans In Spy Business

LONDON (AP) — The Soviet newspaper Trud claimed today military intelligence reports on Russian installations had been found in a railway compartment occupied by American personnel attached to the U. S. Embassy in Moscow.

The paper, official organ of the Soviet trade unions, was quoted by the Moscow radio in a broadcast heard here as saying documents which "constitute an intelligence report on the main towns and stations between Moscow and Khabarovsk" had been found by a conductor on the Trans-Siberian Express.

Trud identified the occupants of the compartment as Lt. Col. Folkland, Maj. Manhoff, Maj. McCunnie and Sgt. Roland and said they were from the military and air attaches' offices of the American Embassy.

(The broadcast gave no further identification of the Americans named. In Washington, the State Department said early today records of U. S. personnel in Moscow available at that hour listed only Maj. Martin J. Manhoff of the four in the Trud report.)

The broadcast said Trud printed photostatic copies of the purported documents and commented that "special attention was paid to airfields, radio stations, industrial plants and the like."

"If the above-mentioned persons would like to get back their documents, which evidently were forgotten in the rush, they can do so by calling the porter's office," the paper said.

WATERFRONT FUEDS

This was one scene Tuesday at Pier 14 on New York's waterfront, close to the foot of Manhattan Island, where there were clashes, near-clashes and some arrests. Police stood ready for trouble among milling longshoremen. Here one fellow gestures with his fist as he makes his sentiments known. An independent union has been picketing the docks.

REPLACEMENTS WERE NEEDED

New Name Added On Russia's List Of Inner Ruling Circle

NEW YORK (AP)—There is clear evidence the "collective" leadership of the Soviet Union—the Communist high command—has recently opened its exclusive circle to new membership.

This has been done without any public announcement.

At least one new man has been added to the list of top-level men the Soviet press calls "the leaders of the Communist party and the Soviet government."

Of particular interest is the fact that he is one of the leading figures in the machine of Nikita Khrushchev, the secretary general of the Communist party's Central Committee, whose star has been rising continually.

The man added to the inner circle is Alexei I. Kirichenko, a Ukrainian and the boss of that rich agricultural Soviet republic. His formal title is "first secretary of the Central Committee of the Communist party of the Ukraine."

Kirichenko was the No. 2 man in Kiev, the Ukraine's capital, until L. G. Melnikov was fired last June. Then Kirichenko took over Melnikov's job.

For just a month now Kirichenko has been uniformly listed among the leaders of the U.S.S.R. whose names are published in heavy black-faced type when they appear in public. As late as the beginning of February he was not on the list.

This means specifically that he has been selected secretly to the most powerful organ of the Soviet Union, the party's Presidium (formerly known as the Politburo). It is not yet known whether he has been named a full member of the Presidium or just a candidate member, without a vote.

But it looks very much as if he may have been made a full member and also that the head of the Soviet trade unions, N. M. Shvernik, and the boss of the Kazakhstan Communist party, P. K. Ponomarenko, may have been promoted from candidate members to full members.

These changes would bring the Presidium up to 12 members, the same number that made up Stalin's Politburo.

The general set-up of the present Presidium was organized in March 1953 after Stalin's death. Ten full members and four candidate members made it up.

The full members were G. M. Malenkov, V. M. Molotov, L. P. Beria, Khrushchev, K. E. Voroshilov, L. M. Kaganovich, N. A. Bulganin, A. I. Mikoyan, M. Z. Saburov and M. G. Pervukhin. The candidates were Shvernik, Ponomarenko, Melnikov and M. Bagirov.

Three of these men came to grief.

Beria was shot as a traitor. Melnikov was fired and later made ambassador to Romania. Bagirov was purged in the Beria aftermath.

The leadership listings in the press also include three other names, at the very end each time. They are the three secretaries of the Central Committee—M. Suslov, P. Pospelov and N. Shatalin. They bring what looks like the top group of Soviet leaders up to a total of 15.

More Burns By A-Blast Told Of By Service

PEARL HARBOR (AP)—The hydrogen explosion March 1 at Bikini Atoll—described by one congressional observer as so tremendous that it was out of control—showered radioactive ash on a U. S. Navy tanker carrying 92 crewmen.

The Navy in a cautiously worded announcement last night disclosed the incident but said "no apparent injury to crewmen exists."

The 14th Naval District here said the 4,200-ton tanker Patapsco had received "a slight and not a dangerous contamination of radioactive fallout."

It did not say how far the vessel, one of the fleet supporting the test task force, was from the scene of the explosion.

Twenty-three Japanese Fishermen were burned seriously in a shower of nuclear ashes from the same blast. They said they were 80 miles away and outside the official hazard zone.

In addition, 28 American technicians and 264 Marshall Islands natives more than 100 miles from the flashpoint were exposed to milder radiation.

Rep. Chet Holifield (D-Calif) said Monday the explosion "was so far beyond what was predicted that you might say it was out of control." He said it had blasted "a tremendous hole in the ocean floor."

The Navy said the Patapsco was laid up at Pearl Harbor "for checking and complete decontamination."

"It has been established that no apparent possibility of injury to crewmen exists," the Navy said.

"All members of the crew were removed from the ship and given thorough medical examinations as an extra safety measure. This examination gave no evidence of any harmful effects from the slight exposure."

One source said the blood count of some crewmen was low for a time but had been corrected.

Lt. James W. Downing of Newark, Mo., commanded the tanker. It carried six officers and 86 men.

Police Clerk Is Late

DENVER (AP)—Herbert H. Edyards, a clerk in the police auto theft bureau, phoned his supervisor last night to say he'd be late for work on the midnight shift.

The reason: somebody stole his car.

103 Applications To Drill Are Filed During Tenth Week

Drilling activity remained steady in West Texas during the 10th week of 1954. A total of 103 applications to drill, including 22 wildcats, were filed in Railroad Commission Districts 7-C and 8.

The number compares to 109 applications, including 24 wildcats, the preceding week.

Totals for the year now stand at 759 field tests and 198 wildcats for a grand total of 956 tests for oil and a weekly average of 95.6.

Eleven counties in District 7-C shared 31 applications, including 10 wildcats.

District 7-C wildcats were: Tom Green, three; Schleicher, two; Concho, McCulloch, Runnels, Sutton, and Upton, one each.

District 7-C field tests were: Coke and Tom Green, three each; Upton, four, Concho, Crockett, Reagan, and Runnels, two each; Kimble, Schleicher, and Sutton, one each.

District 8 wildcats were: Garza, three; Howard and Scurry, two each; Pecos, Mitchell, Hale, Glasscock, and Gaines, one each.

District 8 field tests were: Andrews, 10; Crane, Ector, Scurry, and Yoakum, five each; Borden, Howard, Kent, and Midland, three each; Glasscock, Hockley, Lamb, Mason, Pecos, and Ward, two each; Dawson, and Gaines, one each.

Girl Given No Chance To Live Has Recovered

BREMERTON, Wash. (AP)—Ginger Gray's first words on coming out of a world of darkness, silence and stillness were:

"What did I get for Christmas?"

To Mrs. Ernest Gray, the 11-year-old girl's mother, hearing those words is what she got for Christmas — even though belatedly. And now, Ginger is moving about, talking and seeing in a world she very nearly left last Dec. 25.

The plucky little girl was injured in an autimobile accident that morning — so badly doctors gave her only a few hours to live. Somehow she held on but she never moved for two months.

Then she emerged slowly from the coma that had gripped her; but she was sightless and could not talk or move. Her mother, on constant attendance, detected little changes, saw that her eyes appeared to see and that she was trying to talk.

"One day," Mrs. Gray recalled yesterday, "I told her to close her eyes if she were trying to talk to me She did, and I knew she knew me."

Then one day she asked the unforgettable words about Christmas and improvement became more noticeable every day.

Last week the mother recalled, the doctor said "Ginger can go home tomorrow." The mother who had fought so long to control her emotions no longer could.

"I just fell across her bed and cried and cried." Mrs. Gray said, and "Ginger said, 'Don't cry, Mama—I'm well—now.' "

She almost is, too. She goes for little walks now, learning to use her legs again. And talking is coming back gradually, but surely.

BOLD DEER

Jay Thompson, left, displays the .22 calibre pistol he used to kill this 150-pound buck deer in the lobby of a motel near Weldon, N.C. The deer jumped through the front door into the lobby full of guests. Thompson, aroused from a sleep, brought the deer down with two shots. Carl Thompson, Jr., of Roanoke Rapids, N.C., holds the deer's head.

Government Is Trying To Get Rid Of Cotton

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department has announced that it is resuming the sale of government-owned cotton obtained under its price support program.

Sales were discontinued last November in order to avoid interference with producers' sale of last year's cotton crop.

The department currently owns about 235,000 bales, mostly shorter staples in the lower grades from the 1951 crop. However, more than eight million bales from the 1952 and 1953 crops are stored under price support loans to farmers. This cotton is not available for sale by the department, the announcement said yesterday.

The government-owned cotton will be sold at prices not less than the higher of (1) the market price Commodity Credit Corporation or (2) 105 per cent of the current support price for cotton plus reasonable carrying charges.

Cotton prices have been increasing lately, reflecting the fact the most of the nation's current supply is tied up under price support loans.

The government cotton will be sold by the department's Commodity Stabilization Service through the office at New Orleans.

Hollywood Girls Take Action Against Hubbies Who Want Freedom

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Movie actresses Shelley Winters and Christiané Martel have asked lawyer Jerry Giesler to help them out of their respective domestic difficulties.

Miss Winters, who is making a movie in Rome with her estranged husband, actor Vittorio Gassman, cabled Geisler that Gassman has threatened to divorce her in Mexico before she can get a California decree.

Miss Martel, "Miss Universe" last year, was sued for annulment Monday in Stockton, Calif., by Ronnie Marengo, son of a wealthy family there, who said she deserted him to resume her screen career in Hollywood.

Miss Martel asked Giesler yesterday to file a cross-complaint, asking a divorce and that the case be transferred to Los Angeles. She has 30 days in which to reply to her husband's suit.
