Paving, Sewer Bond Issues Approved

By an overwhelming vote, both the street bond proposition and the sewer bond proposition were approved by the property tax-paying voters of the city in the election held here Tuesday.

The proposal to issue bonds for the improvement of the streets in the sum of $35.000 to be supplemented with WPA funds was authorized by a vote of 70 to 9.

The proposal for the issuance of sewer bonds in the sum of $15,000 with which to purchase the sewer system installed here a number of years ago by a private concern and now owned by the Southern Sewer Co. was authorized by a vote of 66 to 13.

This action of the voters means that the City is to take two progressive steps. About thirty blocks of street will be paved as soon as the bonds can be sold and all necessary steps taken to procure the promised federal funds. Of course all this may require several months, but at any rate more paved streets in Tahoka now seem to be almost a certainty.

Under the second proposition, the City will acquire the sewer system, reduce the rates, and probably extend the system at an early date.

Girls Released From Custody

Norma Kay Wood and Edna Forbes, 20 and 21 years old, who were arrested here last week and held for investigation, were released from the Tahoka jail Thursday morning after paying fines for vagrancy, for operating a motor vehicle without proper registration, and for driving without drivers' license.

A car of the same description they were driving had been reported stolen from St. Louis, and upon investigation, it was found to be the same car, and was bearing license plates stolen at Pryor, Oklahoma. The owner of the car did not want to press charges, however, provided the girls would agree to come back with the car, he being a friend of theirs.

The girls were released after paying their fines, with the agreement that they would return the car to its rightful owner.

Lubbock Delegation Did Not Intend To "Crash" Gate

Dick Shinkle of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce told The News Wednesday that organization was mailing the Tahoka Round-Up organization a check for $6.00 to pay admission for 12 Lubbck goodwillers who were alleged to have crashed the gate at the afternoon show Thursday.

Shinkle stated a local Round-Up committeeman had told the group they would be welcome at the show without pay, and were under the impression that the Tahoka man was speaking with authority.

Custom of the Round-Up Association is to issue no passes except to visiting newspapermen, performers, and employees. Even officers of the organization paid their own and their families ways into the rodeo grounds.

The misunderstanding of the Lubbock delegation is regretted by the citizens of Tahoka, and Mr. Shinkle explained that they were simply misinformed and that the policy of their good-will delegations is to pay their own way wherever they go.

Harry Woods of the Edith community, who has been sick so long, is now able to be up and has been visiting relatives at Ralls the past week or more.

Primitive Baptists Close Convention

Crowds are usually greatly overestimated, but doubtless at least five hundred visitors were here last week end attending the Primitive Baptist Association. Many were here from far distant points, including many of the leading preachers of the denomination.

The association was regarded as a highly successful one.

Health Unit In County Sought

Dr. John M. Hooper of Floydada who is connected with the State Department of Health, was here Monday interviewing physicians and the county judge with the view to establishing a health unit to be composed of Lynn, Terry, Yoakum, and Gaines counties, with a trained nurse stationed in at least three of these counties.

The expressed purpose is to bring about better control of communicable diseases and to afford nursing facilities to poor families who are unable to employ a nurse, as we understand it.

The proposal would require the county to pay about $1,500 a year for the service, the State to pay the remaining two-thirds of the salary or thereabouts. The matter will probably be laid before the commissioners court by the state health department at an early date.

Rural Schools Of County Opening

Miss Lenore M. Tunnell announced that all of the rural schools of the county will open Monday except Draw and Midway, which have opened already, and with the possible exception of New Moore. That school may remain closed until after the cotton picking season.

Homer Harrison, formerly teacher at the Roosevelt school in Lubbock county, was elected last week to serve as principal of Petty school the coming year.

Grant Scholarship To C. Littlepage

A dispatch from Texas Technological college to this paper this week announces that Cleveland Littlepage of Rotan will be the recipient of a $600 graduate fellowship awarded by Sears Roebuck for next year.

Mr. Littlepage is a native of Lynn county, having been born and reared and graduated from high school here, and of Texas Tech college. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Littlepage still reside near Midway. For the past two years he has been teacher of vocational agriculture in the Hobbs, Texas, schools, and has made an oustanding success in that position.

The $600 fellowship is the highest scholarship given in the group of 23 awarded by Sears-Roebuck this year. Twenty freshmen will receive $100 scholarships, one sophomore scholarship of $200 will be given and a junior scholarship of $100.

ATTENDS MEETING

Mrs. Fred B. Hegi, teacher of Home Making in the Tahoka High School, returned Wednesday night from Dallas, where she appeared on the program of the Texas association of Home Economics teachers.

She was accompanied to Dallas by Mrs. W. B. Slaton, who visited her daughter, Mrs. A. L. Davis, and by Miss Lucille Collier, who visited relatives there.

4-H Club Boys At Encampment

Twenty one Lynn county 4-H club boys attended the district 4-H club encampment at Silver Falls on Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday of last week. Donald Turner, county agent, and Hubert Tankersley, adult leader of the West Point club, accompanied the boys on the trip.

More than three hundred boys from nineteen South Plains Counties attended the camp and enjoyed a program of swimming, baseball, moving pictures, and talks from agricultural leaders. The boys all reported an enjoyable time and are making plans to attend the camp again next year.

Club boys to attend from Lynn county were as follows: Buddy Gene Bragg, Gerral Gillespie, Frank Gillespie, Leon Cullins, H. R. Tankersley, Jr., Blair Ramsey, Billy Ramsey, Robert Rusk, Vergil Turner, Murray Jennings, Dan Burkhalter, James Bennett, Charles Hammons, Vernon Clem, Harvin Smith, Harvey Bates, Buster Dulin, James Nieman, Edwin Lee Bullman, J. H. Bullman and A. J. Jester.

Burglars Enter Home, Take $130

The barefoot burglar made his most successful haul last Friday night when he entered the home of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Davis while they slept and removed two wallets belonging to Vernon and a purse belonging to Mrs. Davis, containing in all about $130 in cash and $15 in checks.

The wily one, barefoot as in previous burglaries, left his footprints behind him, and he was traced to Frank Hill's trash barrel where he discarded wallets and purse, and sat himself down in Frank's yard to put on his shoes. Sheriff Parker said that he wears a size ten shoe, but aside from his footprints no definite clues to his identity have yet been found.

New School Bus For New Home

J. H. Izard and Ed McManus of New Home left for Richmond, Indiana, last Wednesday to purchase a new school bus for the New Home public school district. They accompanied the board members of the New Deal school district, who will also purchase a bus for their school.

The new bus will have a capacity of 56 persons, will be 17 feet long and 76-inches wide. It is to be used on the Joe Stokes route, making 6 buses operating from New Home.

W. O. Henderson Has Operation

The condition of W. O. Henderson is reportd to be satisfctory after a major operation performed Sunday morning at a Lubbock sanitarium. He was suffering from stricture of the colon, and the operation is a very serious one.

His local physician, Dr. Sinclair, stated that unless unexpected complications arise, Mr. Henderson will recover nicely, but that in about three weeks or a month, a second operation will be necessary to remove the diseased area.

Lubbock Youths Are Fined Here

Four young men from Lubbock paid fines of $14 each in justice court here Friday night for tearing down decorations that had been put up in celebration of the Tahoka Round-Up.

The group of young men, aided by four young women, were caught stripping the bunting from the street used in advertising the celebration.

Third Annual Tahoka Round-Up Is Success From Every Standpoint

Tahoka's third annual Round-Up, held Thursday and Friday of last week was a decided success as celebration, as to quality of entertainment, and financially.

Thousands of people swarmed Tahoka the two days, and larger crowds than either or the two previous years attended the rodeo performances, declared to be the best ever seen in this immediate section.

Beutler Bros.' rodeo stock lived up to its reputation, and cowboy champions of the nations's biggest and best rodeos were participants in the contests.

Exceptionally good roping was done by seventeen entrants in that division. Roy Matthews, Fort Worth, said to be the best calf roper of all time, set the fastest time record of the local rodeo at 14.5 seconds, but Ralph Bennett, Plains, almost as famous, had a better total time for the four performances. Eleven calves were tied in less than 12 seconds each.

Crops Said To Be Deteriorating

Numerous farmers are complaining this week that the hot-dry weather of the past ten days has had a marked deteriorating effect on crops. Some of the finest-looking cotton a week ago is wilting and suffering terribly from the continued heat assaults day after day. Much of the most promising feed is also blasting and firing up without maturing, they say.

There are other farmers who complain that the cotton fleas are destroying all the fruitage as rapidly as it appears on the cotton plant, and so far no method has been devised to effectually fight the cotton flea.

In some fields leaf worms have appeared in great numbers and some farmers are poisoning.

On the whole, crop prospects in Lynn county are much less promising than they were a week ago.

Speech Teacher Has Located Here

Mr. and Mrs. Lanis Gross have moved to Tahoka from Big Lake and are occupying one of Mrs. E. S. Davis' houses.

Mrs. Gross, who formerly taught in the Jacksonville and O'Donnell public schools, will teach expression in the Tahoka schools this year with studios in the high school and grade school. She has a B. A. degree from Stephen F. Austin, Nacogdoches. Mr. Gross will commute between Tahoka and Lubbock, where he will be a student in Texas Tech.

Five Attended Legion Convention

Those making the trip were: Mr. and Mrs. Sam Holind, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Roddy, Mrs. H. M. Snowden, and Mrs. W. S. Taylor. Claude Conway was also a delegate but was unable to attend on account of business.

Heads Of Schools Will Organize

School superintendents and principals of Lynn county, meeting at the court house Saturday, laid plans for the formation of a Lynn county superintendents' and principals' association.

Officers will be elected and organization completed at a meeting September 14, when Mrs. Lenore M. Tunnell will entertain the group.

Tahoka Puts On New School Bus

A new school bus for service of the Tahoka Public Schols is expected to arrive within the next few days. The bus is of 50-60 capacity and is of the latest design.

The new bus will make bus service available to every child in the district living over two and one-half miles from school, as well as service to exactly 100 transfers from the rural schools.

Tahoka is now operating four buses, having bought one each year the past four years. In addition, Three Lakes brings its entire school body in to Tahoka in its own bus.

Lynn County Gets 30 NYA Jobs

J. C. Kellam, state administrator, has advised Mrs. Lenore M. Tunnell, county superintendent, that Lynn county's quota for NYA school aid jobs for the 1939 school year has been set at 29 for white schools and one for colored. This is based on one NYA worker for each 100 students.

At a meeting of school superintendents and principals of the county held here Saturday, the jobs were apportioned as follows:

Tahoka, seven white and one colored; O'Donnell 6, Wilson 4, New Home 4, Draw 3, New Lynn 2, Newmoore 1, Grassland 1, and T-Bar 1.

Other schools could not qualify or had no students who could qualify for NYA jobs. A child must be 16 years old and show a need.

Link Child Hurt, Fell From Gate

Little Jackie Link, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Link of Brownsville, was treated at Tahoka Clinic last Thursday for severe laceration of the scalp received when he fell off the gate at the home of his grandmother, Mrs. F. H. Hancock of north Tahoka, striking his head on the concrete walk.

A large gash in the scalp resulted, and five stitches were required to close it. He also suffered bruises on his face and head.

Mr. and Mrs. Link are here spending their vacation with her mother and his father, Mr. John Link of north of town, and other relatives and friends throughout Lynn and Lubbock counties.

Jaik is now a customs inspector at Brownsville, having been promoted to that position and transferred there from El Paso about a year ago. They will remain here until about September 15.

W. P. A, In Need Of Cdildren's Toys

The W. P. A. Renovation project is again in need of donations of discarded articles, such as toys, furniture, shoes, hats, and clothing, especially coats and heavy garments, says Mrs. W. T. Clinton, who is in charge.

A special effort is being made, she says, to provide much needed clothing for school children.

Toys for Christmas renovating and making new will also be much appreciated.

Mrs. Clinton invites all interested persons to visit the project at any time.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Head of Harlingen, who recently visited here in company with Rev. and Mrs. Douglas Carver, were back here the first of the week, on their return trip from California, and visited her brother, J. L. Nevill, and sisters, Mmes. E. G. George, Rube Lewis, and Lon Holt.

New, Experienced Teachers Added To Faculty

School Heads Ask For Co-operation Of Patrons This School Year

(By Supt. W. T. Hanes)

The Tahoka school board, superintendent, and principals have everything in readiness for what is hoped will be one of the most successful school years that Tahoka has ever had.

Buses will make trial runs over their routes Friday. Junior and senior high school students should enroll Friday. Saturday, the first meeting of the faculty will be held, and Monday morning at 9 school opens with general assembly in the high school auditorium.

Several good teachers were lost during the summer by resignation. School officials spent a lot of time, thought and investigation before filling these vacancies. All vacancies are now filled. In each instance extreme care and precaution was taken and it is now believed that Tahoka has the strongest and best balanced faculty it has ever had.

All new teachers are equipped by training and experience to fill their particular assignments. Practically all of the old teachers have been away to school either by travel or by actual college work, which means that every single teacher should be just a little better teacher this year than ever before.

Football Work Is Starting Today

Coach Leo Jackson announces that the Tahoka Bulldogs will be issued equipment Friday morning at 8 o'clock, and that training will begin immediately. Practice periods will be held morning and afternoon Friday and Saturday, and each afternoon with the beginning of school Monday.

The first game will be at Lamesa Friday night, Sept. 8, in that city's new football stadium.

Coach Jackson says there will be equipment available for all boys who wish to come out for the team. Every boy who comes out and tries will be given opportunity to play some during the season.

At least 30 or 35 are expected to compose this year's squad, including six lettermen from the 1938 team and several new recruits from the rural school districts.

Two First Bales Received Here

S. P. Spruiell from south of Draw and J. H. Key of near Lakeview shared honors for the first bale of cotton ginned when both brought in their cotton within a few hours time Friday night.

S. P. Spruiell led by bringing in a bale weighing 431 pounds at about 8:30 p. m. Mr. Key arrived at 11:30 p. m., but had a heavier bale, his weighing 575 pounds. Therefore the purse was split, each receiving half.

A purse totaling $85.50 was made up among Tahoka business and professional men, making $42.75 and some merchandise which each one received.

The two bales were carried to different gins, Mr. Spruiell having his ginned at Tahoka Co-op. and Mr. Key ginning his with Carmack Gin.

100,000 Prescriptions

We, and our predecessor, Thomas Bros. Drug Co., have filled over 100,000 prescriptions (not including re-fills) since the establishment of this store in 1907—an average of nearly ten a day for 32 years.

That record can be equaled by few stores in this section of Texas. It reflects in some measure the confidence the people of Lynn county have in our prescription department. We are attempting to merit that confidence by careful and efficient prescription service.

During these 32 years, prescriptions have been filled on the order of many prominent Texas physicians . . . on the order of well-known Tahoka physicians, many of whom are known as among the best of their times in this section.

Tahoka doctors from early days to the present time, for whom we have filled these 100,000 prescriptions, are:

GROUP OF WOMEN VISIT SICK FRIEND

On Monday we happened to contact Mrs. Tom Smith of Redwine as she and Mesdames M. L. Henry, John Berry, E. W Holloway, and Mack Walters, all of Redwine and Draw, were returning from a visit with Mrs. Lit Moore, who now lives about five miles northwest of New Home and who has been sick for many months. Mrs. Moore herself had lived in the Redwine community many years ago and these were her former neighbors.

Mrs. Moore has been in extremely bad health since she was seriouly injured in an automobile accident more than a year ago, but Mrs. Smith reported that she is now improving.

Verna Jo Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul R. Johnson. had her tonsils and adenoids removed in a local clinic Monday. She is doing well.

PRESBYTERIAN PASTOR MARRIES AT SHERMAN

Reverand James L. McCord, who has been serving as pastor of the local Presbyterian church, was married to Miss Hazel Thompson at her home in Sherman, Texas, in a garden ceremony Tuesday night at eight-thirty.

They will leave there to go to Austin, where both will attend Texas University next term.

On Sunday night after the church services here, the members of the local church gave their pastor a shower in the home of Mrs. Joe Bovell. A large number attended and presented him with a great many nice wedding gifts.

The members of his church and the town as a whole hated to see him leave, but wish him happiness and success. A new pastor will be here soon to take his place.

Mrs. C. Wells gave a talk on How important milk is in the school lunch, Mrs. A. D. Schaffner in Sandwich combinations, Mrs. Rusk on Varying the lunch with bread, Miss Altha Wayne Jennings on How desserts should be packed, and Mrs. Tom Hale on Packing the lunch.

Refreshments were served to the members and three visitors, Mrs. W. A. Yates, Mrs. S. Mayfield, and Miss Ruth Hale.

The next meeting will be at Mrs. Ramsey's on September 6 at 2:30 o'clock.—Reporter.

Mr. and Mrs. G. H. McNabb, who reside on Deen Nowlin's farm east of town, are the proud parents of a 7¾ pound boy born Wednesday, August 23 at their home.

REVIVAL AT DRAW

Sunday night the Methodist revival at Draw closed after a most successful week. Rev. G. E. Turrentine did the preaching and was gratified by seeing 28 make a stand for membership, baptism, reclamation or reconsecration.

Baptism by pouring was given on Thursday and Sunday nights. Immersion of three candidates was made in the pool on the Pennington farm Sunday afternoon. The great majority of the converts came into full connection with the Draw church.

Rev. Berwin Caswell conducted the singing and young peoples work most successfully. Rev. S. H. Crockett, the pastor, was confined to his bed by illness several days during the progress of the revival.

The people met in prayer groups that reached a total of well over a hundred many evenings, and the testimonies showed the spiritual fervor and burden for souls of the members.

This is one of the finest communities in this section of the state, and the good will and neighborliness manifested make it a delightful place in which to live. In speaking to the school the closest of attention was given showing the splendid training and morale that has been inculcated into the student body by Superintendent Green and his excellent corps of teachers. The co-operation in attendance, singing and support of the revival given by the teachers of the Draw school was most gratifying. Summing the meeting up we would say that both evangelist and people were greatly revived in faith and a will to work more earnestly for the Lord from this time on. God's power is still manifested where people meet the conditions of prayer and faith and obedience and even greater revivals may be seen in the near future.

METHODIST CHURCH

After being absent a week in a revival at Draw the pastor is anxious to see the congregation gather in numbers the first Sunday of the school year. All teachers and pupils are also invited to make your home with us and find your places in the Sunday School. Young Peoples' Work, and the Missionary Society and prayer meeting. New members are coming to be received into our fellowship and you should be there to welcome them.

With the pastor absent the S. S. attendance increased last Sunday Perhaps he had better go away again.—Geo. E. Turrentine.

Hosea and Larry Hagood, sons of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Hagood of T-Bar community, underwent tonsillectomy at the Tahoka Clinic last Wednesday. They are reported doing nicely.

ATTEND FAMILY REUNION

Several Lynn county families attended the Marcy family, third annual reunion held last Sunday in Mackenzie Park in Lubbock. A Basket lunch was served, followed with watermelon in the afternoon and supper about 7 p. m. The Marcy family have lived in Lubbock, Terry and Lynn counties for many years.

Attending from Tahoka were: Messrs. and Mesdames W. T. Turner and R. L. Cane of Tahoka, G. W. Turner and family, W. W. Turner and son of Wilson.

Mrs. S. R. Cade of Pecos arrived last week for a visit with her son A. M. Cade and family.

Headache, Bad Breath Tell of More to Come

Just as Paul Revere's famous ride warned of the Redcoats' coming, so Nature's messengers — headaches, biliousness, bad breath—often warn of faulty elimination.

Neglecting these signs may cause a host of constipation's discomforts: sour stomach, belching; no appetite or energy; mental dullness.

It's so easy to wake up your lazy insides. Just take spicy, all vegetable BLACK-DRAUGHT. Its unusual help comes from its principal ingredient—an intestinal tonic-laxative which imparts tone to lazy bowel muscles.

FREE SPEECH AND THE SAN ANTONIO RIOT

The riot and attendant bloodshed that occurred in San Antonio last Friday night when a handfull of communists undertook to hold a meeting in the city auditorium was a most regrettable affair..

A wise and discreet mayor could have prevented the occasion that provoked the riot, but under the guise of his devotion to the right of free assemblage and free speech in this country, Mayor Maury Maverick defiantly refused to listen to the protests and the pleadings of many prominent citizens and organizations and announced that the permit to hold the meeting would not be cancelled and that those attending would be protected by the city police.

When time for the meeting came, the city auditorium was surrounded by thousands of people of many types and classes, some of whom were determined to prevent or break up the meeting. Maverick had thrown 200 city policemen around and at the entrances of the building, however, who used tear gas and streams of water from the fire hose to prevent the mob from entering the building. But by use of sticks and stones and other missiles but no firearms, the mob overpowered the police and broke up the meeting A number of people were wounded but none fatally.

Of course the mob was wrong. Mob violence possibly is never justified under any circumstances, certainly not to prevent a mere public speaking. We have no words of condonation for the mob.

Neither can we approve the course of the radical mayor.

He claims that to have refused the use of the city auditorium to the Communists would have been a violation of the rights of free speech and that he would have been in contempt of the supreme court of the United States if he had so refused.

Such a claim is mere clap-trap. The fact that the communists asked for a permit and the mayor granted a permit shows that the City had control of its own building and could grant or refuse to grant its use to any person or any group of persons within the discretion of the proper authorities.

Would the mayor claim that the school board would be violating the right of free speech if it should refuse to permit the use of a high school auditorium for a Communist meeting, a Republican meeting, or a Democratic meeting?

Would Mr. Maverick feel that he were violating the right of free speech in prohibiting a political meeting on the public streets of the city?

The right of assemblage and free speech do not carry with them the right to assemble just in any public place that any group may choose to assemble and deliver their harangues, whether the group be Communists, Democrats. or what-not.

The intense prejudice against Communists arises from the fact, as Mayor Maverick well knows, that they favor the overthrow of our form of government, and the general belief that they would not hesitate, at any opporune time, to use force and violence to accomplish their ends.

Mr. Maverick well knew that their attempt to hold a meeting in the San Antonio Municipal Auditorium was calculated to provoke a riot. Knowing that, in the interest of peace and tranquility in his city, he should have refused in the first place to grant the permit for the meeting, and after it was granted he should have revoked it, as he had the right to do and as he was importuned to do. That he took the course he did lends color to the belief that he himself has a leaning toward communism.

At any rate it is apparent that the Maverick type of politician has no place in public life in Texas.

When this paper reaches the readers, war may already have broken out in Europe. But at the present writing we doubt seriously if there is to be a war just now. Although Hitler has amassed his soldiers in countless numbers along the Polish border, the fact that he has not yet invaded that country and is still palavering with the heads of the governments of great Britain and France indicates to us that he is again playing just a great game of bluff. He expects to get Danzig and the Corridor by threats and duress. By holding a dagger at the heart of Poland and a flaming sword over the heads of the other nations of Europe he hopes to accomplish his purpose. That done, he will rest on his oars for awnile and then begin another campaign for the return to Germany of the remaining portion of Poland which she lost at the close of the World War. His recent treaty with Stalin of Russia indicates the foul purpose of those two tyrants sooner or later to dismember Poland, each taking a big slice. If war does come this week, it will be simply because Hitler's bluff fails to work and he will be compelled to fight to save his own hide.

THE BLESSING OF CUSSEDNESS

How is the maize crop? Will there be plenty of forage feeds to run the county this year? We sincerely believe so and possibly a little to spare. A rain this week would cinch it. The cotton is coming along in many areas and there'll be some cotton to gin.

That is sometling to worry about as contrasted with the German farmer, merchant, banker, prince, who wonders if he will get a "card" sufficient for a scant meat supply or if his bread will be just black or will have straw mixed in it. Notwithstanding he lives in one of the most fertile areas in the known world. ,

The farmer in Floyd County who kills a bull calf and can sit in broad daylight and think it is his own business would be "bootlegging" in Germany and sent to prison if caught up with. Watch to preserve your right to go ahead and attend to your own business. You belong to yourself now, you think, and possibly you do, sons of the Alamo and all that. But the sons of Goths who sacked Rome for the pure cussedness of it are now eating what a Charlie Chaplin mustached Austrian tells them to eat, and when.—Floyd County Hesperian.

LONGER RELIEF ROLLS

A farmer at Plainview, Texas, has invented a mechanical cotton picker which will pick two acres per day; do the job cleaner and better than hand pickers. One man can operate the picker. The cotton is picked by strong drafts of air and this wind-roll machine has but seven working parts. The inventor estimates the machine will pick a bale of cotton at a cost of $3 per bale.—Big Spring Weekly News.

A lot of successful cotton picking machines have been invented heretofore, but for some reason we never seen any of them in the cotton fields. Wonder what's the matter. If this Plainview fellow has a machine that will really do the job and it displaces human cotton pickers as quickly as the tractor has displaced the horse, we wonder how many additional men and women will be added to the relief rolls about 1942 or somewhere along there.

Flowers to the living. We read a number of "colyums" in our exchanges each week, which we enjoy. But there is none that is more interesting—to us—than that column, As a Farm Woman Thinks, by Nellie Witt Spikes in the Floydada Hesperian. She doesn't rely on slang to make her column readable either. She has something really worthwhile to say each week and she says it in a most engaging manner. There are others, of course, but in our opinion she is tops.

It still looks like a lot of good crops in Lynn county this year. Some sections have suffered from drouth and the yield in these localities will be light. But in other sections the farmers are wallowing in clover.

TOM GARRARD CALLS WILDLIFE MEETING

To the Members of the Lynn County Game Management Association:

There is a fair crop of quails in Lynn county this year. In my travels over the county I have seen a few coveys of bob-white quail. Our association has done considerable toward preserving our game birds this year. One or two more years of strict conservation and supervision will be a great help to our wild game in this country.

The cotton pickers who come into the county are the most destructive agency we have. It occurs to me that it is nigh time we were getting together and making preparations to take care of the nice start of birds we have, and if necessary, put some active game wardens in the field in this territory.

Therefore, for the purpose of discussing the situation and deciding what steps are to be taken, I hereby call a meeting of the Lynn County Game Management Association to meet in the County Court room at Tahoka Saturday, September 2nd, and invite all who are interested in the wild life to be present whether you are a member of the association or not. This is one organization that it doesn't cost anything to be a member of.

Yours very truly,
TOM GARRARD, Chairman.

Miss Ethel Calahan returned Monday from a three weeks vacation, during which time she visited relatives in Arkansas, went to the World's Fair in New York, came back by Niagara Falls, and explored the Mammoth Cave in Kentucky. Miss Calahan says that the mammoth Cave will not compare in beauty and grandeur with our Carlsbad Cavern. though it was not electrically lighted and they could see it only by the light of lanterns.

Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Stewart went down to Roscoe Tuesday. Grover returned to Tahoka Thursday but Mrs. Stewart remained to accompany her mother to Wichita Falls for a visit.

A BRAVE WOMAN

One night not long since, and while alone at the ranch on the Divide. Mrs. John L. Copeland heard a commotion out in the yard among the dogs and cats.

With a lantern, she went out to investigate. There she spied a huge rattlesnake. She first planned to shoot the snake, but she couldn't hold the gun in one hand and the lantern in the other, so she took a hoe and chopped the snake's head off. It was a big fellow. It had fourteen rattles.

Mrs. Copeland didn't scream or faint at the sight of the deadly monster as some of her city bred sisters might have done. It didn't occur to her to do tdat, but like most all women of the range, she pounced upon her hideous enemy and destroyed it. It took nerve to do this, but this lady had the nerve.

These dwellers of the range must be brave if they succeed and make their homes safe.—Sterling City News-Record.

Miss Mary Hill, assistant librarian at Sul Ross College, Alpine, and Mrs. Sam Monroe and son Hill of Stephenville were visitors in the home of the editor Tuesday and Wednesday, going from here to Canyon, White Deer, and Pampa to visit other relatives. Miss Hill and Mrs. Monroe are sisters of the editor.

W. L. Banks, a member of the Texas National Guard, returned recently from Camp Hulon near Palacios, where he spent three weeks in camp with 9,000 other members of the National Guard. He brought back and presented to the News a sample loaf of the bread that is fed to the soldiers in camp.

Mrs. R. E. Graves and daughter, Mrs. Sol Lockett. both of Brownwood, and son, Herman Trigg, who is a teacher in the Pampa schools, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Wells and family over the week end. They were returning from a trip out to the Carlsbad Cavern.

Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Caveness returned last week from a two weeks vacation spent at their camp on the Colorado River near San Saba. except for one day when they visited relatives at McGregor. They had plenty of fish and squirrel while away, we understand.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Meadow and Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Thompson were recent visitors here in the home of their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Bovell. Mr. Meadow is a rural mail carrier and was inspecting a route west of here with a view to making an exchange. He likes the plains.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Braswell and little son of Brown county were here recently visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Richey. They were returning home from a trip to the Northwest, preceeding which Mr. Braswell, who is a teacher, had been attending the Tech.

W. L. Rowe and family of the Midway community visited relatives in Arkansas last week. W. L. says he bragged mightily about his crop to those Arkansawyers and when he got back home it looked like a Kansas drouth had struck it.

Miss Daphne Mears, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Mears of New Home is convalescing following an appendicitis operation in a Lubbock hospital last week.

Miss Marjorie Wells accompanied a party of Lubbock people to the Carlsbad Cavern last week end.

ODDS AND ENDS

By Eee Eye the Elder

On two occasions last week while the Primitive or "Old" Baptist association was in session here, we attended.

In going to their place of meeting, we passed first by the house of worship of the Church of Christ, thence on by the Church of the Assembly of God, where at night revival services were being held, whereby we were reminded that in another part of town was the Church of the Nazarene, where revival services likewise were being conducted.

We rembered also that in the town are Methodist, Baptist, and Presbyterian churches, as well as three church organizations among the colored population, Methodist, Baptist, and Church of Christ, with two church buildings.

That makes ten church organizations in Tahoka with nine houses of worship.

We remembered also that in addition to these there are at least fifteen other churches in the county, among which the Catholic and the Lutherans are represented.

There are nine distinct religious denominations represented with church organizations in Lynn county, Methodist, Baptist, Primitive Baptist, Presbyterian, Church of Christ, Church of the Nazarene, Church of God, Lutheran, and Catholic.

In Texas and in the United States there are numerous other church denomintions, including such important bodies as the Christian Church and the Congregationalists.

At first blush, this looks like a scattering of forces and a waste of money and effort, and many deplore the fact that we have so many different denominations. Probably the country and the churches would be better off and Christianity more effective if we had greater unity and fewer sects. Some believe that it would be better in every respect if all Christian denominations could be merged into one. They cite the fact that before going to the Father Christ prayed that his followers might be one. Most Christians think, therefore, that a union of all the denominations is desirable.

We are not going to take issue with this view of the matter. But if there were only one church in Tahoka, we are wondering if as many people would attend this one church and hear the gospel preached next Sunday as will attend all the churches. Probably we could get along better religiously with fewer churches than we have, but would we get along better with just one church? Think it over.

Personally, we are persuaded that when Christ prayed that his followers might be one he had in mind spiritual unity rather than mere physical or corporeal unity. While we believe that Christ set up an organization, or at least inspired and caused to be set up, an organization for the preaching and spreading of the gospel and the evangelization of the world, we suspect that he was more concerned about his followers being one in love, in devotion, in fellowship, in purpose, in all the Christian virtues, than in mere corporeal unity, important as that may be.

There can be and often is corporeal unity without spiritual unity Many times we have known persons in the same church organization to be at enmity and strife with one another. On the other hand, there are countless thousands of persons belonging to different church organizations who abide in Christian love and fellowship, who have the warmest affections one for another, and who have a common purpose to spread and penpetuate the gospel of Christ. We think this is the kind of union that pleases him most. Continual criticism of Christians of other denominations, sheep of other folds, we think pleases him not at all.

As we sat in that congregation of Primitive Baptists, listening to the singing of those great old Christian hymns, noted the intense interest and sincerity of many of the worshipers, heard the Elders in their sermons praise and thank God for his mercy and goodness, we felt the glow of Christian love and fellowship for them.

But as they expounded their doctrines of Predestination and Election, holding that it was absolutely fixed and determined back before the foundation of the world, just who should believe the gospel and be saved and who should reject it and be forever lost; that just a little handful of people in each age and generation had been foreordained to go to Heaven and the millions and millions of others had been foreordained to go to Hell, and that all the preaching and all the warning and all the pleading that could be done would not change the situation an iota nor save a single soul of the non-elect, we wondered, for instance, how a Methodist or a Disciple could ever reach an agreement with that sort of thing.

As we have heard others preach that no person can be saved without obeying Christ is baptism, immersion in water, we have wondered how Methodists and Presbyterians and Lutherans and others could ever come to agree with that sort of doctrine and practice.

As we have heard Methodist ministers insist that valid Bible baptism may be administered by sprinkling or pouring, and have seen them thus administer the ordinance to adults and to infants, we have wondered how Baptists or Elders of the Church of Christ could ever so compromise their respective beliefs as to accept that sort of thing.

We have wondered if all other church communions could ever be brought to accept the Baptist view that baptism is only a symbol and absolutely loses its character and force when performed in any other way except by immersion in water; that only regenerated, baptized believers are eligible for church membership; their doctrine of the absolute security of the saints and the impossibility of their "falling from grace" and being finally lost.

And so on, ad infinitem.

To us, it seems clear that a perfect union of all denominations can be effected only by all the members everywhere coming to a perfect agreement on all points of doctrine, all vital teachings of the Scriptures. That doubtless will never come to pass on earth, till the Millennium; for just as men differ on politics, morals, and everything else under the sun, just so will they continue to differ on religion.

The only way a nominal union can be effected is for each denomination to go into the movement in a spirit of compromise, on a give-and-take basis, agreeing to yield this point if others will yield that, and so on around.

However. if unity of organization is all-important, we know of two ways in which we can get it if we are willing to pay the price.

First, since we seem utterly unable to interpret the Scriptures alike and denominations are multiplying instead of decreasing in number we all might agree to burn our Bibles and to permit some Pope or set of priests to interpret the Scriptures for us. That's the way it was done back in the Dark Ages and that's the way the Pope and the Priests insist it should be done now, as we understand.

Second, we could junk our theory of religious liberty and Separation of Church and State and turn the whole matter over to the Government. We could have an established state church supported by taxation, as has been the case in most of the nations of the Old World. We could then have the Government to cut off the heads, shoot at sunrise, or burn at the stake, any person who insisted on the right of worshiping God according to the dictates of his own conscience. That would keep the denominations reduced to one.

As for us, we thank God that we have an open Bible in this country and that every man has the privilege of interpreting the Scriptures for himself, even though it may mean a multiplicity of denominations.

We thank God that in this country we yet have freedom of conscience, and that a person may become an adherent of any church he chooses, or of no church at all if he so chooses, without interference from any government, principality, potentate, or power whatsoever.

We thank God that in this country religion is purely personal and voluntary matter, that no person can be compelled by taxation or otherwise to support any church, and that under our Constitution there can be no union of Church and State.

We may have something to say next week about religious bigotry and intolerance.

Stack Silo Suggested For Bundled Feeds

By C. H. McDONALD
Superintendent Texas Blackland Experiment Station Temple, Texas
(In Farm & Ranch)

The stacking of green bundle feed in outdoor stacks and allowing it to ferment to make ensilage has been tried out by the Blackland Experiment Station at Temple, Texas, and has been found to be a successful and cheap way to make ensilage.

The feed is cut and hauled in the green bundles direct from the field and is stacked close to a supply of water. The bundles are laid close and carefully by hand, after which, the binds are cut and the feed is pressed down to exclude all air pockets. Between the loads, water is pumped onto the feed in the process of stacking for the purpose of giving weight so that the green feed will settle rapidly. Water also serves to start early fermentation in green and succulent feed. Only a barrel or two of water is required for each ton of green feed; however, if the feed is dry and fired, due to drouth conditions, more water is required to start fermentation and to give proper settling. In stacking the feed, the bundles are placed with the butts out and in consecutive layers. The walls must be kept even and straight, and the top must be level at all times during the process of construction.

The stack should be not less than 20 feet wide and 8 feet high and as long as necessary to accommodate the crop harvested. These dimensions are given for the completed stack; however, after several months of settling, the stack will probably be no more than 6 feet high. In order to reduce the loss from spoilage, it has been found desirable to place a layer of dirt from 6 to 10 inches thick over the entire top of the stack. With a height of only 8 feet, the dirt is easily shovelled onto the stack from a wagon. A layer of straw placed on the stack and wet down with water before the dirt is placed will prevent the sifting of dirt down through the feed. After settling, the dirt does not give any trouble when removed during the process of feeding.

The stack silo has its place on the farm where trench or above-ground silos are not available or practical. They can be used where soil conditions will not permit the construction on account of seepy, stony, and rock soils, or loose sands, which has a tendancy to cave in. Another advantage is that ensilage can be removed from a stack silo much more conveniently than from the trench or above-ground silos. All that is necessary to remove ensilage from the stack is a good sharp ax or a hay knife. The ensilage is cut off in layers or blocks so that only a portion of the surface is fed daily. A 6-inch layer fed from the surface of the stack daily will prevent spoilage.

Very little additional labor is needed for the construction of this kind of silo except that involved in supplying the water. The stack silo is a cheap way of storing succulent feeds for consumption on the farm in winter months and through drouth periods. Such a silo requires no additional cost for materials, and the only implements needed for this method of storing feed are a row binder, a shovel, and an ax or hay knife, together with a good supply of water to put on the feed during the stacking process. After the stack silo is fed up, the land which it occupied can be used for other purposes and the location of the stack silo does not become unsightly.

The quality of feed is equal to that in the trench or above-ground silos, and feed stacked in this manner is readily eaten by all classes of livestock. The Station has fed this kind of ensilage to mules, dairy cows, hogs, beef cattle, and sheep with equal success. The color of the ensilage from the stack silo is considerably darker than that from the trench or above-ground silo, and it varies from a dark brown tobacco color to almost black. The palatability of the black ensilage seems to be as good as that of the brown ensilage, and all of it is readily eaten by all classes of livestock.

The spoiage in the stack silo consists of praltically 18 inches on the butts of the outer layer of bundles. This spoilage is on each side of the silo and across each end. In one case where no dirt was used in covering the finished silo, there was a spoiled layer of 8 to 10 inches on the top; however, where an 8 to 10 inch layer of dirt was placed on top of the stack, there was practically no lossof ensilage under the dirt.

Tahoka Gins Ready For 1939 Cotton

Ginning season is here again, and at least two bales of cotton have already been ginned, with ginners expecting the rush to be on soon. All of the local gins are in good condition and ready to handle the crop.

The Carmack Gin, located just east of the railroad on the Post highway, is operated by C. O. Carmack. He has installed new cleaning and sorting machinery, and has already ginned a bale of cotton—one of the two tying for first bale honors.

All of his machinery is modern and he has storage capacity of about 150 or 200 bales.

W. O. Henderson will be connected with the gin this season.

Tahoka Co-op gin since last season has acquired another gin plant, the former West Texas No. 1, across the street, and this farmer-owned gin organization will operate two plants this season. New ribs and saws have been installed in both gins, and the plants have been completely overhauled and reconditioned.

Wiley Curry is manager. C. T. Tankersley is president. H. O. Hargett secretary, and the directors are Irvin Stewart, G. A. Edwards, and A. C. Aycox.

Farmers Co-operative Ass'n. No. 1 announces they have completed repairing their two plants and are ready to render an efficient ginning service to the customers. All cleaning, extracting, and ginning machinery have had new saws installed or sharpened and proper adjustments made to do the best work possible. The old adage, "the race is not always to the swift" applies to the ginning of cotton, the manager says, and this Association will not countenance the rushing of cotton through the gin stands when the yards get crowdel.

The Association is managed by Claude Donaldson, and the directors are B. J. Emanuel, president; G. L. Cobb, vice president; E. J. Cooper, secretary; Terry Noble, D. L. Short, G. W. Hickerson, and R. L. Littlepage.

Ginners suggest that farmers use care in gathering their cotton, not allowing the pickers in the field on wet mornings or before the bolls are dry and matured. Cotton is now being handled more on its quality and improperly gathered cotton may gin out a grade lower than it should, which will lower the price.

James Minor, now a senior and for three years football star in Howard Payne College, Brownwood, spent last weekend here visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Minor, and other relatives.

Garner Organization Claims 461 Delegates on First Ballot

DALLAS, Texas.—John Nance Garner, vice-president of the United States, will go into the next Democratic national convention with over 461 votes pledged to him, according to E. B. Germany, chairman of the State Democratic Executive committee and co-chairman of the Texas Garner-for-President committee.

"We are convinced, from the deluge of pledges we have received at the Dallas headquarters, that there is a genuine popular demand for the nomination of Mr. Garner on the Democratic ticket. This comes, not from one section or group of states, but from the entire nation. From Oregon and Vermont, and from Georgia to the Southwest, we are getting the most enthusiastic protestations of friendship and admiration for our stalwart Texas statesman.

"Mr. Garner's way of thinking has captured the public imagination of the middle ground of America's straight-thinking citizenry. If the politicians do not listen to the voice of the people in 1940, I predict that the Democratic party as an organization won't be worth shooting. I have heard many comments that the politicians are going to pick the next candidates for both the Democratic and Republican parties. My advice to them in both parties is to listen to what the people are thinking. If they don't heed the deep longings of the mass of America's citizenry, they will be politically dead after the next election. I repeat: If the Democratic politicians attempt to thwart the will of the people in the next convention, the party of Jefferson and Jackson won't be worth the effort to put it out of its misery."

In outlining the strength that he claims for the Texan, Mr. Germany pointed out that out of 1,100 votes in the Democratic convention, the south and border states will furnish Mr. Garner with 286, the chief block of which is represented by the 46 votes from Texas. The southwest and western states, without counting California, and taking but two of the farm states, Nebraska and Wisconsin, will yield Mr. Garner a total of 461 votes.

"Now I am not including in this forecast of 461 the 210 additional votes indicated from the states of New York, Pennsylvania and California," declared Mr. Germany. The Gallup poll in the last three weeks has printed definite forecasts of public opinion from these three states, which together have 19 percent of the total convention strength. These polls show, assuming that the President will not be a candidate which is the only way that Democrats believing in the continuance of its traditional party policies can think, that Mr. Garner is the choice of over 50% of the Democrats in New York and California and of over 60% of the Democrats of Pennsylvania.

Out of these three states, two will give Mr. Garner a clear majority of the convention, the Texas leader pointed out.

"There is no question in my mind," declared Mr. Germany, "that the people of the United States have very definite convictions on the coming presidential campaign. The principles involved weigh deeply on citizens everywhere. They embrace Mr. Garner because he stands for a principle that finds welcome reaction in every human being who worries and sometimes wonders on the future of his country.

"Mr. Garner's nomination by the Democrats of this country is inevitable. It is ordained in the hearts of the American people, and I view his nomination and subsequent election as certain, with the present trend of events."

seconds. Chas. Broadnax, Pampa, bulldogging his in 7.8 seconds; Claude Fletcher. of Anadarko, 9 flat; Buck Jones, Wichita Falls, 9.8. There were many other good times made.

Wild cow milking furnished lots of fun, Amy Gamble of Wilson, Okla., bringing home the "leche" in 18.2 seconds.

Among the bronc riding winners were Bruce Ross, Sayre, Okla.; Cullen Mintor, Casper, Wyoming; Morris Cooper, Midland; Geo. Yardley Roswell; Texas Kid Jr., Waxahachie, and others.

The only cowboy to receive an ambulance ride was "Lucky" Mills, Sweetwater, who was thrown and butted by a Brahma steer, but his injuries were not bad.

Chief Baldwin Parker and his Comanche Indians attracted quite a bit of attention, Parker making talks down town and at the rodeo perfrmances and his Indian comrades dancing and singing Indian songs.

The parade was especially good. Among the outstanding floats were the Orange Crush float, and the Nevill Bros. covered wagon.

State officials invited to the occasion were unable to attend, but Senator G. H. Nelson, Representative Alvin Allison, and others spoke.

R. W. Fenton, Jr., in charge of the rodeo finances, has not finished balancing his books, but all indications are that several hundred dollars will be left in the treasury for next year's show.
