

KILL INDUSTRIALIST, ARMY GENERAL

Hunt For Terrorist Slayers

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — The Argentine government pressed large-scale manhunts today for the leftist terrorists who killed an Italian industrialist and an army general. President Alejandro Lanusse said the slayings would not change his decision to hold elections next March to return the country to civilian control.

Guerrillas of the leftist Peoples Revolutionary Movement (ERP), a Trotskyist organization bent on blocking the elections, were blamed for the killings that took place within three hours of each other Monday in cities 180 miles apart.

Gen. Juan Carlos Sanchez, 52, commander of Argentina's 2nd army, was slain by terrorists who sprayed submachinegun bullets into his car in Rosario, north of the capital. The volley also killed a woman bystander and severely wounded the general's driver.

HELPLESS HOSTAGE

The guerrillas who three weeks ago kidnaped Oberdan Sallustro, 56-year-old general manager of Fiat's Argentine subsidiary, fired two bullets into their helpless hostage as police closed in on their hideout outside of Buenos Aires, but three of the four terrorists escaped.

Argentine labor unions, political parties and business groups condemned both killings.

Lanusse met with union officials, political party leaders and directors of Buenos Aires newspapers, radio and television stations. He told them he was determined to hold elections in March saying, "I am sure that the definitive solutions to our problems will only be achieved when the people have the right to govern themselves."

Gen. Jorge Esteban Caceres Monie, head of the federal police, was named to succeed Sanchez as commander of the 10,000-man 2nd Army.

RANSOM DEMANDS
Sallustro was seized March 21

by seven ERP commandos as he left his luxurious home in a Buenos Aires suburb. Ransom demands—including $1 million dollars worth of school supplies for needy children and freedom for 50 jailed terrorists—were rejected by the government.

Monday the police raided a one-story house in Villa Lugano, six miles east of Buenos Aires, reportedly acting on a telephone tip. Three policemen in the first car got out and were met by gunfire. One officer fell, seriously wounded, and the other two returned the fire.

When police reinforcements arrived, three of the kidnapers fled through a rear door and escaped in a car.

Inside the four-room house the police found Sallustro's body on a bed, two bullet wounds in the head, and the Brazilian wife of an Argentine named Mario Raul Lachkov. He was being sought.

W. S. Pearson Is New Publisher Of Herald

W. S. (Dub) Pearson was named today as the publisher of the Big Spring Herald.

His appointment is effective immediately, said Charles Wahlheim, vice president of operations for the Harte-Hanks newspapers. Pearson has been serving as executive vice president and general manager of the Midland Reporter-Telegram and the Reporter Telegram Printing Company.

"My family and I are looking forward to establishing our home in Big Spring and to the opportunity to work with the Big Spring Daily Herald," said Pearson. "The Herald is a fine publication, serving a vital market and is staffed with outstanding personnel. So we're very excited about the prospects."

Pearson who is 36, succeeds Robert N. McDaniel, who is taking another assignment with the Harte-Hanks group.

PORTALES NATIVE
The new publisher is a native of Portales, N.M., where he completed his high schooling and attended Eastern New Mexico State University. He was associated with the Portales Daily News, serving as advertising manager for 2½ years before taking a position with the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal in advertising sales for nine years.

For a year he served as

territorial manager for Western Electric's appliance division, then joined the Reporter Telegram in 1966. In addition to his management duties, he served as a director of the Midland newspaper and publishing company and Allison Communications, Inc.

Pearson has been active in various affairs, including the Midland Rotary Club, current president of the Better Business Bureau, which he also served as a director for three years, a director and vice president of the Midland County United Fund, co-chairman of the Midland Area Sales Team, and publicity chairman for the Midland Chamber of Commerce. He has been a member of the Texas Press Association, West Texas Press Association and the Texas Daily Newspaper Association. In extra-professional activities, he is engaged in the YMCA Peanut Basketball program as a coach, the Y-Indian Guides, is a member of the pastor's cabinet of the First Baptist Church in Midland, and has been in the Jaycees and Lions.

FOUR CHILDREN
He and his wife, Johnnie, have four children: Patricia, 17, a junior in Lee High; Gregory, 14, and Steven, 12, in Goddard Junior High; and Bradley, 10, in the fourth grade at Emerson Elementary school.

"A newspaper has a personality which it derives from the area it serves, and we intend for The Herald to continue in this tradition," said Pearson. "Anything can be improved, but change for the sake of change only is superfluous. We will endeavor to make only those changes which are necessitated by growth and progress."

"Within the last three to four years Big Spring, Midland and Odessa have moved into the 'swinging cities category,'" as

Ex-Officer In Midland Draws Life

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — A former Midland policeman has been ordered to serve life in prison for the slaying of a two-year-old girl, whose disappearance touched off a massive search until her body was found hidden in his home.

Michael Lee Moody, 28, was assessed the sentence here Monday after he pleaded guilty to murder with malice in the suffocation slaying of Lori Margaret Gunn.

Committed to the Rusk State Hospital for the Criminally Insane since 1969, Moody entered his plea after a jury found him sane and capable of standing trial.

The jury deliberated 4½ minutes. The prosecution had introduced letters from Rusk's superintendent and a staff psychiatrist stating he is presently sane.

Little Lori's partially nude body was found wrapped in a sleeping bag inside Moody's bedroom closet in August, 1968.

Ironically, an 800-man search party was headquartered in Moody's home—next door to the victim's home.

Moody, a rookie on the Midland police force at the time and a Marine Corps Vietnam veteran, showed no emotion when State District Court Judge Peter Michael Curry sentenced him.

Costs Balloon For Fair Barn

By LINDA CROSS

Cost of the construction and remodeling of the Howard County Fair Barn at the Rodeo Bowl has now ballooned to $47,093.41 mark and more bills are to be received by the county.

Originally, county commissioners had earmarked $17,500 for the renovation project. The figure was based on a contract with Olen Puckett, architect, which was agreed upon when the project was first proposed some years ago. The project was shelved in favor of the relocation of the Howard County Library in the renovated former post office building on Scurry.

On March 20, the bills totaled $25,514, and commissioners amended the budget to take funds from the permanent improvement fund to cover cost of the construction of the barn, and to cover construction of a volunteer fire station in Silver Heels which cost $10,972 instead of the $5,000 budgeted for county fire station improvements.

Monday, commissioners approved the purchase of 400 chairs and 32 tables for use at the county barns. Total cost for the chairs was $1,500 and $672 was spent for the tables.

Labor costs reports have been turned in from the road and bridge department detailing what it cost the county to use road and bridge crew members to do the construction work on the barns.

Twenty-two men were employed in the work on the barns for a total of $10,407.41 in hourly salary costs. Road and bridge employees worked a total of 2,782.5 hours on the project.

A total of $30,000 was budgeted in permanent improvements funds for 1972. Not counting the $17,500 budgeted for the barns, and $5,000 budgeted for fire station improvements, commissioners have exhausted the permanent improvements fund and still have an overage cost of $58 to cover by finding the funds in some other category in the budget.

The funds were taken March 20 from permanent improvement without public notice of the necessary budget amendment, and Monday, commissioners approved the additional bills without checking the budget or amending it to cover the overage which would not be covered by the funds reallocated from permanent improvements.

GUilty — Annette Gilly, accused in the Yablonski family slayings, pleaded guilty today to three counts of murder and one count of conspiracy in exchange for a promise by the prosecution that it would not seek the death penalty. Mrs. Gilly, 31, of Cleveland, previously had pleaded innocent.

Congressman Accused Of Evading Taxes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Cornelius E. Gallagher, D-N.J., was charged with evading more than $100,000 in income taxes, perjury and conspiracy by a federal grand jury, the Justice Department announced today.

Gallagher, a seven-term congressman from Bayonne, N.J., was accused of evading taxes on more than $186,000 of personal income over a two-year period. He was also charged with assisting two indicted co-conspirators of evading taxes on an additional $326,000.

The seven-count indictment was returned by a federal grand jury Friday in U.S. District Court in Newark and was unsealed today.

During the years 1960 to 1967, the indictment charged, Gallagher hid his income by purchasing bonds under fictitious names, purchases which totaled more than $495,000 for himself and more than $326,000 for the co-conspirators from 1966 on.

Heavenly Orders

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Thomas Jefferson High School has apparently been blessed with heavenly intervention in a burglary case.

Someone broke into the gymnasium and took several items, including a record player and $10.40 in cash, school officials told police Monday.

But they reported finding the same items in a cardboard box in the school's east wing.

On top of the box, they said, was the $10.40 in an envelope, which bore this message:

"Sorry about this, but God made me bring it back."

It was signed, "X-Thief."

Drug Raid In Lubbock

LUBBOCK (AP) — Two Lubbock men were arrested by narcotics agents and 190 pounds of marijuana was seized in a raid during the night, customs officials said today.

They said the marijuana was only a small part of a 1,000 pounds shipment believed to have been shipping through Lubbock by a three-state narcotics ring.

Several Hundred Rangers, Kin Evacuated From Bo Duc

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnamese forces abandoned a second district town north of Saigon Monday, but the Saigon government claimed more than 500 enemy troops killed on the northern front below the demilitarized zone and an entire tank battalion destroyed there by U.S. B52 bombers.

Delayed field reports said that several hundred rangers and their families were evacuated by helicopter from the town of Bo Duc because of heavy enemy pressure and shelling attacks.

MAIN FUNCTION

Bo Duc is 80 miles north of Saigon and about 15 miles northeast of Loc Ninh, which the North Vietnamese captured last week. Bo Duc is deep in largely abandoned rubber plantation country, and its main military function was to monitor enemy infiltration across the Cambodia border five miles away.

Field reports said the pullout was orderly.

There were conflicting reports about North Vietnamese troop movements in the border region north of Saigon. An American general said the enemy forces that swept down Highway 13 had been badly battered and were on the run back to Cambodia. But other field reports said the North Vietnamese were moving reinforcements into South Vietnam.

SCORE WOUNDED
The Communists also intensified their shelling attack in the central highlands after a week's lull, hitting a series of government bases. In the worst attack, rockets slammed into South Vietnamese troops bunched together at the Kontum air field awaiting transportation; field reports said 23 of the troops were killed and more than a score wounded.

Nearly 60 more B52 strikes were flown today across South Vietnam and the big bombers dropped about 1,800 tons of explosives on North Vietnamese troop concentrations threatening the provincial capitals of Quang Tri and Hue in the northernmost provinces, Kontum City in the central highlands and An Loc north of Saigon.

The South Vietnamese command claimed that infantry, artillery and air strikes killed another 442 North Vietnamese troops in 10 battles along the approaches to Quang Tri and Hue, which are said to be key objectives of the Communists' 13-day-old offensive. One fight was within a half mile of Quang Tri, which is 19 miles below the DMZ and nine miles below the government's northernmost defense line. Hue is 35 miles southeast of Quang Tri.

Nixon Streaks Toward Lockup Of Nomination

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sens. Edmund S. Muskie and George McGovern continue neck and neck in the race for delegates to the Democratic National Convention, but President Nixon is streaking toward a pre-convention lockup of the Republican nomination.

The latest count in The Associated Press Delegate Poll shows Muskie with 99½ delegates votes lined up for the July 10 Democratic convention where 1,509 votes will be needed for a presidential nomination.

McGovern, surging after his primary victory in Wisconsin, is in second place with 95½. Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace is in third place solely on the strength of 75 delegates won in the Florida primary.

Nixon, meanwhile, has 128 delegate votes in line for the Aug. 21 Republican convention. No other Republican has won any delegates, although 22 delegates still remain in the undecided column.

Significantly, the largest single bloc of Democratic delegates is the 193 who remain uncommitted.

Acri Is Ailing But May Get To Nominate Choate

Eddie Acri, newly elected city commissioner, was admitted Monday night to the Veterans Administration Hospital.

According to hospital sources, Acri was hit with a series of chest pains Monday night, and was taken to the hospital for tests.

Hospital officials reported this morning, however, the commissioner is in good condition, and all tests run so far are showing positive results.

Acri's absence from the city commission regular session at 5:15 tonight might have had some bearing on the outcome of who will be appointed the new mayor of Big Spring.

However, Acri was able to secure a two-hour pass for tonight's meeting.

A new mayor and mayor pro tempore will be elected in the meeting, following the canvassing of election returns.

At present only one man has been mentioned for the position of mayor. Wade Choate will likely be nominated as mayor by Acri, and apparently the commissioner, recently re-elected, has the confidence of the entire commission.

With the exception of two items on the agenda, the commission meeting should be fairly routine.

Two Hospitalized Following Crash

COLORADO CITY — The collision of a pickup truck and a Mitchell County dump truck Monday resulted in the hospitalization of two men.

The collision took place at 4:50 p.m. Monday about three miles south of Colorado City. The two men hospitalized were Bill Laurens, 64, operator of a fishing camp on Champion Creek Lake, and Pete Ainsworth, 72, local rancher.

Laurens received broken ribs and lacerations, and Ainsworth had a broken leg and collarbone.

The pickup containing Laurens and Ainsworth was southbound on the paved Seven Wells road. The dump truck, driven by Leroy Miller, 56, of Westbrook, was traveling east.

The dump truck overturned following the collision, and Miller was thrown through a window. He was taken to Root Memorial Hospital, where he was examined and released.

Jenkins, deputy party leader; Harold Lever, financial expert; and George Thompson, defense authority. Shirley Williams, party spokesman on domestic affairs, has also threatened to quit.

Worst Crisis In 20 Years Hits British Labor Party

LONDON (AP) — Three top men quit the labor party's high command Monday night in protest against the twists and turns of Harold Wilson's Common Market policies. It was the worst crisis to hit the Labor party in 20 years.

The three were Roy Jenkins, the deputy party leader; Harold Lever, a financial expert; and George Thompson, Labor's authority on defense.

PUBLIC OPINION — Shirley Williams, the party's spokesman on domestic affairs, said she, too, would quit if the party did not adopt a "more constructive attitude to Britain's membership" in the Common Market.

While in power, Wilson firmly advocated membership. But after the Conservatives ousted Labor in the general election of 1970 and it became apparent from public opinion polls that a majority of the British public opposed joining the European Economic Community, Wilson changed his tune, saying he favored membership in principle but opposed the terms the Conservatives had negotiated.

Jenkins led nearly 90 other Laborites in revolt against Wilson on Oct. 28 when they voted with the government to approve membership in the Common Market in principle. That split was papered over, but the parting of the ways came after Wilson and his supporters in the party leadership decided to join the Conservative opponents of Market membership in demanding a referendum on the issue, an idea that suddenly became attractive to them after President George Pompidou announced one in France.

TURMOIL — Jenkins accused Wilson of opportunism, in effect siding with those who charged Wilson abandoned his previous support for Common Market membership because he thought the change might put the Laborites back into power.

The split hit the party as hard or harder than the turmoil in 1951 when Aneurin Bevan, the leader of the party's left-wing, quit in rebellion against fiscal policy. After that one, the Conservatives enjoyed 13 years of uninterrupted rule, and there was much speculation today Prime Minister Edward Heath might call an early election in an attempt to profit from the disarray in the ranks of the opposition.

The split is likely to boost the government's chances of getting its Common Market legislation through Parliament. Though Jenkins and his followers had recently been observing party discipline and voting against these bills, they may now feel free to vote according to their principles and support the government.

Highway Project Due In Dawson

LAMESA (Spl) — The Texas Highway Department has announced that a reconstruction project on FM Highway 179 from U.S. Highway 87 at Lamesa, north 14.45 miles, will begin next week.

Work will consist of reconstruction of grading, base, surfacing and lengthening cutbacks. The Kerr Construction Company, the contractor, has indicated that operations will be completed about Oct. 1.

Traffic will be routed through the construction work and adequate barricades and warning signals will be prominently displayed. Motorists, however, should be cautious.

Smith Fires At 'Poll Cats'

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Gov. Preston Smith says a poll taken by his supporters shows he would gain a Democratic primary run-off berth against Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes or Uvalde rancher Dolph Briscoe.

"All polls smell to me," Smith said when asked about a Fort Worth Star-Telegram poll showing him in fourth place in the campaign for governor.

But he also told an informal news conference Monday about a poll taken by his supporters in various counties during the March 10-20 period.

"It was more or less what you'd call a random poll," Smith said, with calls to 25-50 persons in each county.

Smith said the poll showed him with 32 per cent of the May 6 primary vote, Barnes and Briscoe with about 19 per cent each and Rep. Frances Farenthold 14 per cent. The rest were undecided, he said.

"We hope to win without a runoff," the governor added. On other matters, Smith said he had not given his staff instructions to prepare a no-new-taxes budget for the special legislative session in June.

"We haven't talked about that," he said, although he also remarked that he was "looking at all possibilities."

A reliable source said, however, that Smith has asked the staff to write a fiscal 1973 budget that would require no new taxes. The source added that Smith is currently leaning toward that approach.

The source added that Smith might decide to abandon that course of action because of its effect on large groups of Texans, including state employees and college students.

In 1971 Smith submitted a budget that was accompanied by a plan to avoid new taxes by issuing state bonds to pay current operating costs of state government.

Smith also said he was "uncommitted" on the subject of the Democratic presidential nomination although he believes former Vice President Hubert Humphrey is the leading candidate among Texas Democrats.

To Ask For 18 Per Cent Hike In School Taxes

HOUSTON (AP) — The Houston School Board voted Monday night to ask voters for an 18 per cent increase in school taxes.

No date for the election was set.

One proposal on the ballot would ask approval for $50 million in bonds and an increase of 25 cents for each $100 of assessed valuations to pay for them.

The second request asks for a five cent increase in the tax rate capital improvements.

Each penny increase in the tax rate would generate about $50,000 in revenue and the 30 cent hike would cost the owner of a home assessed at $20,000 an additional $31.80 a year in taxes, school officials said.

The council debated whether to bypass the ballot procedure by asking the Houston City Council to increase its assessment ratio from 33 to 60 per cent. Under a 1923 law, the school district uses the same evaluation as the city.

The assessment increase would provide the district with an additional $11.7 million annually compared with $15 million.

The Overriding Issue

There is at least one thing to be said about Mrs. Dita Beard, lobbyist for International Telephone and Telegraph, with reference to a memorandum prepared for her superiors: You can believe her, or you can disbelieve her.

The memorandum mentioned the offer of payment of $400,000 toward the expenses of the Republican National Convention in San Diego in August. The implication was made that the payment was in return for a favorable settlement of an antitrust case against ITT.

The memorandum was supplied by the columnist, Jack Anderson. At first Mrs. Beard was nowhere to be found when the Senate Judiciary Committee began discussing the memorandum. Later she was found in a hospital in Denver, Colo. From her bed, there, 18 days after the memorandum was made public, Mrs. Beard repudiated it, saying that she had written a memorandum, but that the Anderson version was spurious.

Why did it take Mrs. Beard 18 days to make up her mind to repudiate the memorandum? We may never know. But an answer is not essential to the question of whether or not Richard Kleindiest should become attorney general with the consent of the Senate.

There are other important witnesses that need to be heard. For instance the committee should question White House aide Peter Flanagan, the financial expert who was asked, or volunteered, to help arrange a settlement of the ITT antitrust case. Senators will also want to hear from Richard Ramsden, the private expert called in or suggested by Flanagan. The Ramsden report was supposedly influential in persuading the Department of Justice to settle the ITT antitrust case, rather than take it to the Supreme Court.

The Democratic majority in the Senate can be accused of using the Kleindienst hearing as a political sounding board in a presidential election year. It would be unnatural if Democrats didn't try to gain political ammunition from the hearing. But the larger, central issue in the case is the question of influence on the government. If, indeed, ITT has been sending memorandums to the CIA concerning certain foreign policy matters, then this transcends a mere hearing on an appointee. Perhaps the nomination should be disposed of and a more penetrating look taken at the issue of huge combines and their pressure on government.

For Safety's Sake

With the increasing popularity of cycling — either on powered units or those operated by foot pedals — there is urgent need for greater enforcement of the requirement for reflectors or tail lights.

There have been several reports reaching us of near misses by motorists who suddenly found bicycles and motor bikes in their headlights.

For safety's sake, every cycle should have its reflectors or lights in such condition and position as to readily warn motorists of the presence of the cycle. It will be far better to be safe than sorry.

The Texas Capitol

Around The Rim

Joe Bright

When there are school-age children in the family, vacations often include tours of historical sites which enable the children to relate what they see to their studies. If properly prepared for such a trip, children will enjoy learning about their heritage and traditions, and the experience can be both meaningful and informative.

IF YOU ARE among those who will be introducing your children to the state capital, why not tell them a few facts about the Capitol Building to whet their appetite?

The Capitol Building is located on land that was originally selected as the site for the Capitol of the Republic of Texas. The first contract for building was signed Jan. 1, 1882, the cornerstone was laid March 2, 1885, and occupancy began in September of 1888.

THE IMPOSING red granite structure covers three acres of ground with an approximate 18-acre floor space, or 192,374 square feet of available office space (exclusive of hallway, stairways, toilets, etc.). At the time of construction, it was said to be the seventh largest building in the world. At the time of its completion, the building had 392 rooms, 18 vaults, 924 windows and 404 doors.

The Capitol is of classic architectural design and is shaped as a Greek Cross.

FIFTEEN THOUSAND carloads of Texas granite were hauled more than 75 miles from Burnet County by ox cart, and later a specially-built railroad, for the exterior walls. Interior and dome walls are of Texas limestone. The cornerstone weighs roughly 16,000 pounds.

The woods used are varied. The wainscoting is oak, pine, cherry, cedar, walnut, ash and mahogany with an aggregate length of about seven miles. Door and window frames are oak and pine, with the exception of the cherry wood used in the governor's reception room.

THE ROOF utilizes 85,000 square feet of copper. The Capitol dome, which was patterned after the dome of the national Capitol, stands seven feet higher than the dome in Washington, D.C. The shell of the dome is lightweight steel, the pillars are of cast iron, and zinc was used for the ornamental material.

The Goddess of Liberty, positioned atop the dome, is also of zinc.

THE ORIGINAL flooring of the Capitol, of hand-blocked clay tile, glass and wood, has been replaced by terrazzo flooring composed of all Texas rock aggregate with the exception of Italian blue rock used in the U.S. Seal.

Including the steps, the Capitol is 585 feet, 10 inches in length, 290 feet, 10 inches wide and 300 feet, eight inches high.

Time Changeth

William F. Buckley Jr.

When Joe McCarthy died, in 1957, in obloquy, Dan Acheson who had been one of McCarthy's principal pincushions was asked to comment and did so, saying, "De mortuis nil nisi bonum." — let us say nothing but good of those who are dead. In fact Mr. Acheson did not follow his own precepts, i.e., he did not go on to saying anything good about Joe McCarthy, presumably because he believed that to do so would, in his case, be hypocritical.

DEAN ACHESON widely misunderstood apparent exercise in charity is nowadays being quite widely applied — towards the dead, the not-quite-dead, and the not-nearly dead, in an effusion of forgiveness which is something more nearly like forgetfulness.

When President Nixon decided not only to go to China, but to toast Mao Tse-tung and his long march, inevitably people began looking back in order to exonerate those who were punished, or disdained, for taking positions about Mao Tse-tung which were in conflict with those of the Richard Nixon of the Fifties, of the Sixties, and of the very early Seventies.

JOHN STEWART Service, for instance, is now being celebrated in a widely advertised series in "New Yorker" magazine, and just before Mr. Nixon went to China, Mr. Service wrote articles for the "New York Times" in which he recounted the virtues of the government of Mao Tse-tung. In 1951, Service was dropped from the State Department, having been found to be a security risk, by which it was meant not that he was disloyal to the United States, but that there was a reasonable doubt concerning his reliability.

In the haste to rehabilitate Mr. Service, it is not recalled that, while working for the State Department, he had written that "There may be a period of some confusion, but the eventual gains of the Kuomintang's collapse will more than make up for this." Nor that, in September of 1944, he was writing to his superiors that "The Communists have used their influence in a democratic way and to further democratic ends." Nor, later in the same month, that "politically, any orientation which the Chinese Communists may once have had towards the Soviet Union seems to be a thing of the past (even today, the Chinese worship Stalin as the equal of Marx)." The Communists are carrying out democratic policies which they expect the United States to approve and sympathetically support.

THAT PASSAGE is unique in that it embarrassed not only the United States State Department for its opacity, but the Foreign Office of the People's Republic of China, which officially disdains democracy. Anyway, Service is now a hero.

So is Owen Lattimore, never mind that he was judged, after months of hearings, to be a "conscious articulate instrument of the Soviet conspiracy." He showed up recently at a rally for the Berrigan Brothers. The co-speaker at this rally was Alger Hiss, convicted perjurer and Soviet agent, who likened the FBI's witness against the Berrigans to Whittaker Chambers, leaving it for the public to guess whether what they had in common was that they both spoke the truth.

ADAM CLAYTON Powell Jr., God rest his recently repatriated soul, is universally praised. He too was a fellow traveler over a period.

The obituary-writers are saying: John Jones didn't do anything wicked — he was framed. Or they are saying: That which John Jones did which was generally thought to be wicked at the time he did it, really wasn't wicked after all.

My Answer

Billy Graham

I heard you say that those who are in Christ will be caught up with the Lord. I worry about my children who are too young to accept and trust Christ. Please answer.

Christ has a special love for little children. He said, "Suffer the little children to come unto me and forbid them not, for of such is the kingdom of heaven."

Innocent children have not wilfully sinned, and therefore, are not "transgressors of the law" or sinners. True, they have the capacity to sin, and when of age, will inevitably sin. But, until they do sin, they do not come under the judgment of the law. The whole trend of Scripture teaches that the innocents who are too young to wilfully sin, and too young to accept Christ intelligently, are safe in the arms of a just and holy God.

You need never fear about God being unjust. His justice is from everlasting to everlasting. Those who are aware of their sin, who wilfully reject His mercy, naturally will not be in the company of the redeemed. If God were to save everyone, even those who reject His love and mercy, He would not be just and fair.

When Christ calls His own, everyone who has made Him Lord and Savior, will answer the call, along with those innocent ones who have never sinned. But, the fearful, the unbelieving . . . and liars, along with those who were immoral by choice will have to go to the judgment.

A Devotion For Today . . .

Let everyone give as his heart tells him, neither grudgingly nor under compulsion for God loves the man who gives cheerfully. — II Corinthians 9:7 (Phillips)

PRAYER: Our Father, we know that as we sow, so shall we reap. Help us in our endeavor to show goodwill to our fellowmen and to keep our minds ever on Thee. In Jesus' name we pray. Amen.

Little Man, Big Man

Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — There are two important people that all presidential candidates must deal with if they ever hope to get any votes.

THERE IS THE big man and the little man. The big man is the candidate's source of funds, and the little man is the candidate's source of discontent. Nobody, including Richard Nixon, can win in November unless he makes peace with both of them.

The president of a large corporation called in his public relations vice president the other day and said in a fury: "What the heck is going on here? We gave this guy $50,000 and he's attacking big business."

THERE'S NOTHING to worry about, Chief. He has to attack big business to placate the little guy who is fed up with high taxes, high prices and bureaucratic bungling. The little guy feels he has no control of his destiny.

"Well if our man feels that strongly about the little guy, why does he come to the big guy for political campaign contributions?"

"Because, Chief, he needs the money to buy television time to attack us."

"That's just dandy. But if he feels that way, why should we give him any contribution?"

"BECAUSE, CHIEF, we have a lot to gain by it."

"Why do we have a lot to gain, damn it?"

"Because if the big guy doesn't give to the presidential candidate, the candidate won't be indebted to us if he wins the election. If he isn't indebted to us, he might well carry out the promises he made to the little guy."

"It sounds pretty complicated to me. Look at this in the newspaper. Our candidate says the first thing he will do, if elected, is close all the tax loopholes and make the big guys pay what they really should."

"EXACTLY. If he didn't say anything about tax reform, he wouldn't have a Chinaman's chance of winning the election. We don't want to give $50,000 to a guy who is a sure loser."

"Then he says he's going to make sure the large corporations are penalized for polluting the air and the water."

"The little guy digs that, Chief. He likes to believe the big guy is destroying the country."

"Well, why don't you have our candidate tell the little guy if we didn't pollute, he wouldn't have a job?"

"YOU DON'T BRING that up during a presidential election campaign. Once our man is in, then he can say it."

"Chief, I know it's not much fun to see a candidate you gave $50,000 to take you over the coals, but this is politics. The little guy still has the votes. Now I spoke to our candidate the other day, and he says next week he's going to attack the conglomerates and propose they be broken up."

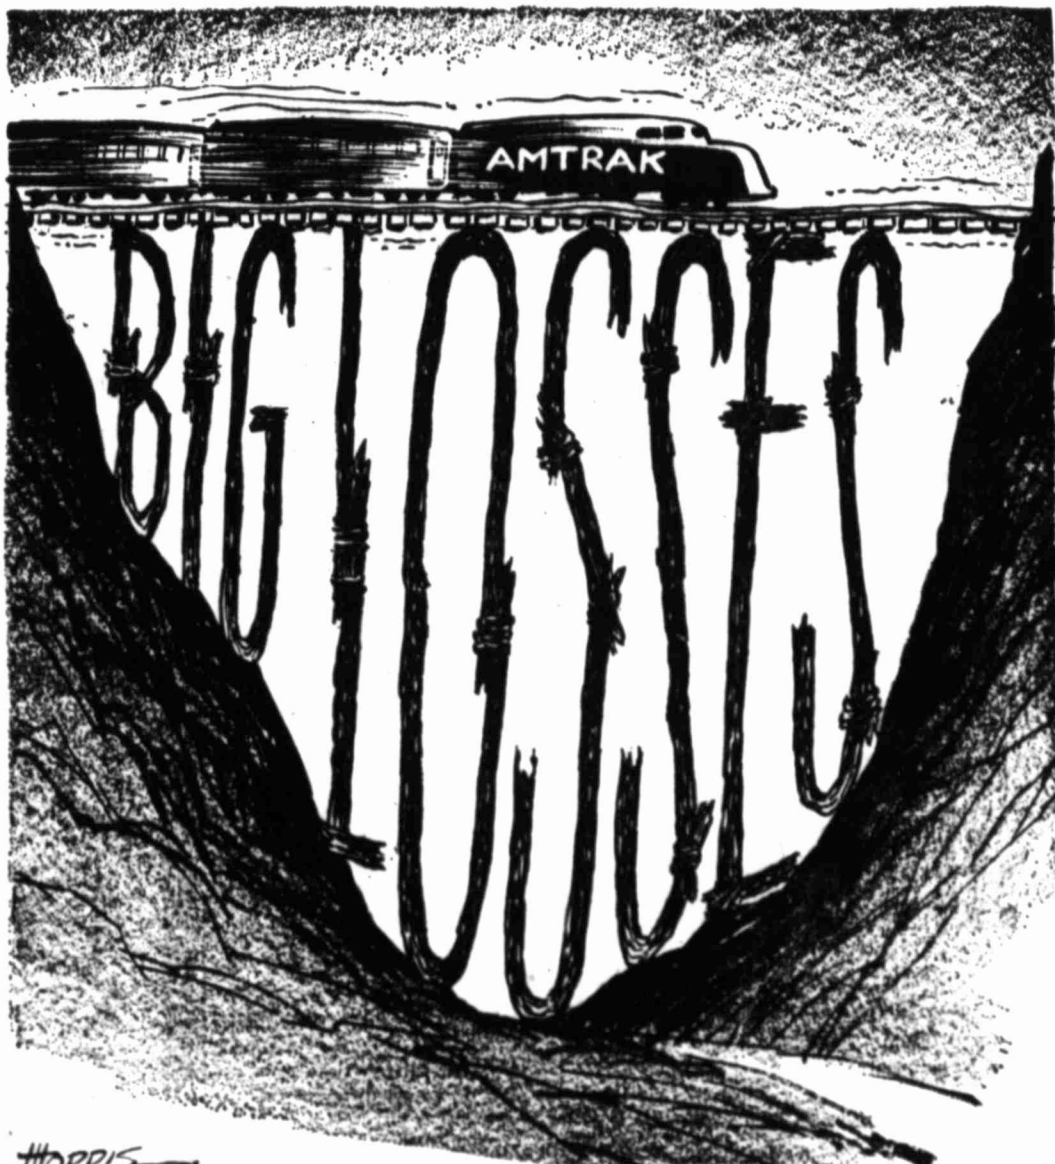

"But we're a conglomerate!"

"That's why he told me. He says he could use $25,000 more to make sure the attack gets the widest distribution."

"I'm not going to give $25,000 to someone who wants to break up my company."

"WE HAVE TO, Chief. The surveys show that the little guy fears conglomerates almost as much as busing. If our candidate's attack on conglomerates works, he could pick up 100 delegates. I think we ought to give him the $25,000 to protect our $50,000."

ROADBED DOESN'T HOLD TOO MUCH PROMISE!

The Shadow Knows

John Cuniff

NEW YORK (AP) — The sunniest of financial forecasters is always aware of his shadow. He forecasts a boom but fears a bust. He tells clients to buy stock but is tempted to sell himself.

There are two basic reasons for this: First, his awareness of how little he knows about the subject, and second, his awareness of how much he knows about his personal limitations.

And so, with the consensus heavily in favor of a continued expansion, some forecasters are keeping a close check on the darker side of things, just in case that shadow grows longer.

There are those, for example, who counter the popular forecast of a continued expansion with the dour observation that no, the economy is going to do little more than plod along.

Look, they say, consumers right now are holding billions of dollars away from retailers. They're saving at an 8 per cent rate. They won't spend. And if they won't, how are you going to have expansion?

There's something to the argument. You seldom have much of an economy if the people who make up the economy are just sitting on their wallets. But are they? Or does it appear that way only?

Think about it: One of the reasons why people are withholding their money from retailers is because they are spending it through taxes. Private spending might be restrictive, to be sure, but public spending is expensive.

Never before, in fact, has the government spent so lavishly.

Money is pulsing through the economy. Even if it isn't being spent by consumers directly, but instead through government, the action is occurring.

But that's the point, say those who feel the shadow's ominous presence. With the Nixon administration running deficits of expansion is bound to burn itself out in inflation.

Well, you can't deny that there's a point to consider. The trend is for the public sector, government, to meet the demands of society. And with those demands always rising, can any administration avoid deficits?

But that brings us back to the consumer. If the consumer were spending more heavily, the problem of inflation might be all the greater. As it is, consumer restraint actually is damping inflation. That shadow, rather than being an ominous omen may only be stern conscience.

But no matter how you argue, there are still shadows trailing us. Unemployment, the pessimists say, just isn't going to come down. Look, they argue, it rose last month from 5.7 per cent to 5.9 per cent.

Complex Matter

David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — President Nixon is tackling one of the most complex questions the government has ever faced — how to supply federal funds to non-public schools. Recently a national commission reported that such schools need help and that various plans could be used to provide relief.

NOT ALL OF the non-public schools are operated by religious groups, but in the past this has been the principal reason why constitutional objections have been raised and federal aid has been withheld. In fact, coincident with the President's preliminary announcement on Thursday, a three-judge federal court in Pennsylvania declared unconstitutional a state law which sought to reimburse parents for sums spent to pay tuition for their children who attended non-public schools.

The President is well aware of the constitutional difficulties and said in his speech in Philadelphia in which he outlined his plan that he expects to take time to develop his program fully and might not have it ready until next year at the earliest. He declared:

"I FEEL THE only responsible way to proceed is to take the extra time required to guarantee that the legislative recommendations which we finally submit will be equitable, workable, and constitutional. Too much is at stake for us to act in haste."

The commission on school finance, which reported to the President, noted that a large number of non-public schools were closing, and among its recommendations the panel included tax credits, tax deductions for tuition, and tuition reimbursements. Also, where constitutionally permissible, benefits such as school breakfasts and lunches, transportation and loans of publicly owned textbooks and library resources were to be included.

THE BIG problem, however, is the constitutional prohibition against the establishment of religion. If the federal government allocated to the states a certain amount of money for education and if it were used as a tax credit for the parents of students both in public and non-public schools, there would be no objection. If all schools were treated alike, there would be no discrimination.

THE CITIZEN PAYS taxes and his money is used for public schools, though his children may not be attending them. Yet the taxpayer is assessed just the same for the expenses of public schools. If some method of reimbursement were established for taxpayers whose children did not attend public schools so that refunds could be used for educational purposes without designating particular schools, it is doubtful whether there would be any constitutional grounds for prohibiting the system. Tax credits could be in another form, whereby parents whose children attend private schools would be given a credit. All methods of this kind are being examined to see just what way indirect aid may be furnished to non-public schools — by the parents of the children rather than by the government itself.

Hal Boyle

By WILLIAM L. CHAZE (Substituting for Hal Boyle)

JONESBORO, Ga. (AP) — It came at night, the ragged little carnival, setting up its assortment of pastebord and cloth sideshow fronts, patched tents and ancient rides in a weeded vacant lot next door to a shopping center.

The dirt in front of the ticket booth was sprayed a bilious green to give the semblance of turf.

By dawn, the job done, two dozen battered-looking souls who worked the carnival snoozed in trailers, beneath trucks or in a few small tents, awaiting the day's business.

It would be a two-day stand, part of the carnival's endless and dusty passage through small Southern towns ignored by the bigger shows with their slick chrome, plastic booths, modern lights and vulcanized weiners. The bigger carnivals played the large county fairs, leaving the rest for the other-forlornly criss-crossing the land.

The little carnival in the empty lot had made no effort to present a veneer of civility. Up front were a creaking merry-go-round and a couple of other rides suitable for the kids. Toward the back were a girly show, a peep show, a freak show.

The freak show barker was a baldish, wizened little man named Billy who stood on tiptoes in his sweaty khakis and made his pitch with the aid of a loudspeaker.

"What we got in here," said Billy, in what he must have imagined was the tone affected by carnival barkers, "is this unbelievable collection—a baby with one head and two bodies, sights you'll want to tell your friends about . . . I tell you what, mom and dad, you pay and the kid for free."

Billy found few takers, for the 30 or 40 persons wandering about the carnival seemed to have come not to see the shows or play the games of chance, but to ogle the people who worked the carnival. They were the show.

Next door, seated on a plastic folding chair in front of a faded maroon curtain, the palm reader was glumly telling one of the girly show ladies that the crowd was lousy, that she had only read six palms that day.

"Bunch of Hicks," she said sourly, adjusting her turban.

Hal Boyle is ill.

Just Ask Him

Dear Abby

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: When my husband and I were married 28 years ago, he gave me the smallest diamond I had ever seen. I was glad to get any sized diamond at the time, but as the years passed, my husband became more prosperous and I kept hoping he would replace it with a larger one. He never did.

On my 25th wedding anniversary I gave him a fine piece of jewelry which I saved for out of my household allowance. He gave me 25 roses!

Soon after, I lost the diamond out of my little ring. My husband promised to buy me another one, but he didn't. If we passed a jewelry store, I'd stop to look in the window, but my husband would walk away.

Last Christmas my husband put a tiny box under the tree. When I opened it I found my old ring with the tiny diamond replaced! I tried to put it on my finger, but I had gained some weight and it wouldn't fit. I put it back in the box and it hasn't been out since.

What do I do? Go to work and earn enough money to buy myself a nice diamond ring? Make my little ring larger and wear it?

My husband could well afford to buy me a bigger diamond and I feel so shabby and insecure in the presence of my friends who have such lovely jewelry.

DEAR FIFTY: Face it. Your husband is not likely to buy you a bigger diamond unless you ask him to. If it's that important to you and he can afford it, ask him. Besides, diamonds are not only a girl's best friend, they're also a good investment!

DEAR ABBY: My wife has presented me with a problem and I want your opinion before I make a decision on the matter.

We have two children (both girls) and I want a son. My wife has said that two children are all she wants, then she went ahead and had one of those intra-uterine devices installed without my knowledge. I am thinking of leaving her. ANGRY DEAR ABBY: Your wife did inform you of her decision NOT to have any more children. Her method of preventing further pregnancies seems to me a personal matter.

DEAR ABBY: My husband is a policeman, and he's one of the best. Although he is required to work eight hours a day, he averages 10 to 12 hours per day.

My problem? My husband has no time to relax. When he is home someone is always coming to our door to talk to him about "the law." And when he's not talking to someone who has come to see him, he is on the telephone with someone else who calls to talk to him about a matter having to do with his job. He never gets any rest.

The police department will not allow us to have a private telephone number. The only way we can get any rest or privacy is to leave the house.

Abby, will you please tell readers that if they want to talk to a policeman to please go down to the station and talk to someone who is on duty? A policeman earns his time off, and he sure needs it.

POLICEMAN'S WIFE DEAR WIFE: Consider it done.

Emphysema

Your Good Health

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: What is the difference between asthma and emphysema? The symptoms seem similar. But what are the causes and cure?

For years my sleep has been disturbed by excessive mucus, making me wheeze and cough up phlegm. These attacks also occur after strenuous exertion.

I have assumed all these years it was asthma and have been taking an advertised remedy that helps, but only temporarily.

I get an annual chest X-ray with the free mobile unit. I drink moderately but have never smoked. Could it be emphysema? — F.C.M.

It might. It might not. Some of the symptoms are similar; others aren't.

With either, shortness of breath is a basic problem. But here's the difference: asthma is a spasm of the bronchial tubes. The airway becomes too constricted for air to pass easily into and out of the lungs.

With emphysema, the airways may — and I said MAY — be open enough, but the lungs themselves have lost their elasticity. The countless tiny air sacs, which give the lungs a spongy quality, have begun to break down. The lungs can't squeeze out as much "used" air, hence can't draw in as much fresh air. Further, there isn't as much spongy surface for the bloodstream to absorb oxygen.

Patients with severe asthma can ultimately develop emphysema because of the protracted strain on the lungs. While smoking is always bad for the emphysema patient, it isn't the only thing that can cause it.

So while asthma and emphysema may be related, they are two distinctly different conditions. For one, asthma is usually related to allergy, and tends to occur in isolated attacks that come and go. Emphysema is a continuous thing — even though the degree of shortness of breath can vary.

One other thing: is your basic trouble bronchitis — some sort of chronic infection of the bronchial tubes? Bronchitis is a frequent precursor and companion of emphysema.

You've "assumed" all these years that your trouble is asthma. Don't you think it's time to find out for certain? I surely do. You may have a combination of troubles, requiring something in addition to the temporary relief from the remedy you've been using.

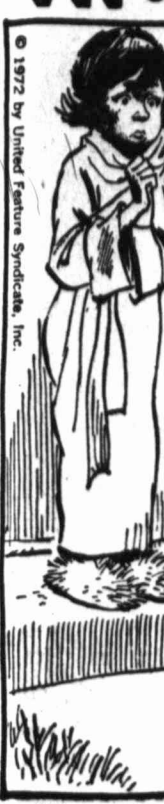

The X-rays are fine, but they are intended primarily for detecting tuberculosis or cancer, and may or may not disclose emphysema. I suggest that you get a large-size chest X-ray and possibly some lung function tests, because if emphysema is developing, you must stop it from getting worse, and must do so now, because the damage, once done, can't be undone.

You will benefit, I am sure, by sending 20 cents and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope for my booklet, "How to Control Emphysema." The problem is very much on the increase, and the only way to protect yourself is to start doing so before a case becomes too severe.

What are ulcers? How should they be treated? What can you do to help rid yourself of ulcers and stay rid of them? For answers, read Dr. Thosteson's helpful booklet, "How to Heal Peptic Ulcers and Keep Them Healed." For your copy write to him in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed (use zip code), stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Quake Toll Might Top 5,000 Mark

TEHRAN (AP) — The death toll in the earthquake in Southern Iran headed for the 5,000 mark today, the Paris News Agency of Iran reported.

It said that 963 people were killed in the town of Qeer and that some 4,000 others lost their lives in 44 other villages leveled by the quake.

The Geophysics Institute at Shiraz University reported more than 1,000 tremors had hit the quake region since the first devastating shock Monday.

"But there is nothing left to be ruined," a spokesman said.

It will be a number of days before the final toll is known, relief officials said.

Newsmen in Shiraz said the relief work looked like a "full-scale war operation." Helicopters and planes were flying all day dropping food, blankets and medical supplies to stricken areas.

Doctors and medical units were being flown in. Public appeal for blood donors was issued.

The quake hit about 560 miles south of Tehran in an impoverished area of about 20,000 inhabitants. The area is in an earthquake belt and most of the homes are made of mud bricks.

SHOCKING INFO ABOUT QUEEN

LONDON (AP) — Queen Elizabeth II may be the object of some shocking news during her state visit to France next month, according to the Sunday Times.

The newspaper said it took a survey of the gossip that has appeared about her over the years in the French press. Among the results of the survey:

She has abdicated 63 times and has been on the point of breaking up with husband Prince Philip 73 times. She has been pregnant 32 times, suffered 149 accidents, had nine miscarriages and gone on the pill 11 times.

The top score in French headlines went to her relationship with brother-in-law Lord Snowdon: She's reported to have ejected him from court 151 times.

Mauls Vanish

BALTIMORE (AP) — City police complain they are down to their last five mauls—the heavy hammers officers use to break down doors.

Seventeen were lost in the past two years.

"It is embarrassing to have to admit the loss of several hundred dollars worth of mauls," said Col. Maurice D. duBois, chief of the Criminal Investigation Division.

Things are so bad, duBois said, his men had to borrow mauls for a number of recent gambling raids.

Heroin Addicts Not Criminals?

HOUSTON (AP) — The head of one of Houston's largest drug abuse clinics said Monday a different heroin addict is emerging, that of the middle class.

Dr. Harold Rockaway, medical director of the St. Joseph Hospital Reposed Clinic, called for a reduction in the penalties against marijuana use and asked that Texas laws stop regarding drug abusers as criminals.

THEY ARE SICK
Rockaway testified before the Texas Senate's Interim Drug Study Committee at a public hearing.

Mrs. James Tinsley, president of the Houston School board, also said she favors reducing the marijuana penalty from a felony to a misdemeanor.

"Heroin addicts are not criminals, they are people who are sick," Rockaway said. He suggested the legislature pump money into more methadone maintenance programs. Proponents of methadone say it allows addicts to lead normal lives.

Rockaway said Houston has four drug abuse centers but needs five or six more to reach all the city's addicts.

TRUTH ABOUT POT

He blamed the increase in youthful heroin addicts in part to hypocrisy on the marijuana issue, saying adults had not told the truth about pot. He said pot really is just a mild intoxicant.

A spirited bidding contest landed North and South in a six spade contract which failed only because South did not take precautions in the play to guard against the unbalanced distribution which the auction had indicated were present—after the opponents competed all the way up to six hearts holding a distinct minority of the high cards.

West's bid of six hearts was an obvious sacrifice and North's decision to pass was a two way call. Normally, when both players have bid strongly and the opponents persist to a higher level, the pass is a strength showing call and indicates a willingness to go on, but leaves the final decision to partner.

In the present case, North's values were primarily distributional and he wasn't sure whose hand it was.

While South could have doubled himself, he decided to forgo a smaller profit in favor of trying for six spades which appeared to be a reasonable shot.

West opened the six of hearts and East put up the king—which was topped by South's ace. Success or failure on the hand appeared to hinge on the location of the king of spades and, holding 10 cards in the suit, the odds favored taking a finesse.

Before testing the lie in trumps, South decided to lead his singleton diamond first. The ten was played from dummy and East was in with the ace. The deuce of clubs was returned, declarer put up the ace and continued with a small club—ruffing with North's nine. To his surprise, East overruffed with the king and altho declarer had no problem in drawing the remaining trumps and discarding his losing clubs on the established diamonds, this contract had been set down by one trick.

Had West somehow put his hand on a small diamond as the opening lead, enabling his partner to get the ace of diamonds out of the way immediately, a shift to either a club or a heart would have assured South's defeat, for the latter has no way of reaching dummy to take the spade finesse. However, such a course of events might have appeared to declarer as either the result of black magic or a well-calculated peek.

With the normal heart lead, South can ward off any evil spirits by simply cashing the ace of clubs first before leading the singleton diamond. Now, when East is in with the ace of diamonds, he is unable to exit without placing his opponent in the dummy. A diamond return provides direct access, as does a heart—for South can sluff a club while he ruffs in the North hand. A spade return by East gives declarer a free finesse in the suit and after the king responds favorably and trumps are drawn, in three rounds, a club ruff puts North back in to run the diamonds for whatever discards are still required.

Observe, that if East did have a second club to lead, that exit would also provide South with access to dummy. Cashing the ace of clubs at trick two could lose only if East were void in the suit which was much less of a likelihood than his holding a singleton.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) You want to be more prosperous, but in your efforts make sure you do so ethically. Obtain advice from clever persons in business. Enthusiasm is the keynote. Relax tonight.

A HEALTHY BODY

By Halvard T. Hansen, D.C.

The Chiropractor's job is to locate the cause of illness, then apply the adjustment to the nerve center. The nerves, as Chiropractic science points out, are the focal point for most of the ills of the human body. As an example, the patient complains of stomach disorder, the Chiropractor knows immediately where the nerves are pressed upon to produce that particular condition. He locates that part of the spine and finds out how that pressure is produced.

Many times I have found trouble in the spine and have asked if there is such and such trouble or disturbance, and almost invariably the patient will say, "Yes, I have had so and so. How did you know?" I knew because the spine was out of the normal in that area. When the Chiropractor replaces the vertebrae in their natural position, the trouble no longer exists.

Let us note that a nerve does not need to be cut to lose part of its ability to carry life force. If it is squeezed at any point along its course, the life force will be disrupted in that proportion. This can happen along the course of a muscle or at the joint of shoulder or knee for example. All these pressures produce sickness, disease or disability.

The Chiropractor's work is done with his hands and the small bones are adjusted back into their proper position for the purpose of relieving the pressure on the nerves. This corrects the real cause of the disease and it is for this reason that the Chiropractor's patients get well and stay well. One or more of your nerves might be suffering abnormal pressure so it might be well to investigate. Hansen Chiropractic Clinic, 1004 Eleventh Place, Phone 263-3324. adv.

ASTRONAUT CONVINCED

Intelligent Life Exists Elsewhere In Universe

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) —Somewhere else in the endless realm of the universe, there's bound to be intelligent life, says astronaut James A. Lovell.

Lovell, who has ventured into space four times, says he doesn't think it will be found in our solar system. But he points out there are countless other stars like our sun that may have planets similar to earth.

"I'm sure we're not the only planet that has intelligent life as we know it," he said here Monday.

As for Mars, the mostly lifeless planet for harboring life, Lovell said he feels man may find water vapor and only some "rudimentary plant life." He quickly added: "But right now, we're not sure."

Turning to the religious arguments sometimes brought up against the space program, Lovell said he sees no conflict between religion and space exploration.

"God is not up there alone," he said. "He's down here with us, too. Whether we go to the moon or Mars or some other galaxy, we're still under his purview."

The veteran astronaut, who saw the moon slip out of his grasp when the Apollo 13 mission aborted, said he would love to take another space flight.

"I've had four flights—some rewarding, some disappointing. But it wouldn't be fair to those that have not yet made a flight," he told a news conference. "It would not be fair for me to try to fly again."

Lovell said he envisions the day when women will serve as astronauts. He said the Space Agency "honestly does not discriminate" against race, creed or sex in selecting its spacemen. But the women who have applied so far have not met the qualifications, he said.

"I'm sure women will be in space when we get into fields where women are most adaptable and have the most expertise," he added.

Lovell was here to discuss the values of the space program before about 2,000 high school pupils at a technical conference sponsored by the American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics, the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, and the Society of Automotive Engineers.

Seventh Gangland-Style Execution In Brooklyn

NEW YORK (AP) — Police found the bullet-punctured body of a man in the trunk of an abandoned auto late Monday night after receiving an anonymous tip to check a Brooklyn parking lot "if you're interested in the Joe Gallo case."

It was the seventh gangland-style execution in the city in the past two weeks and appeared to add to the growing evidence of underworld turmoil although police say they have not yet found evidence to link any of the killings.

The victim, who was not immediately identified, had been shot in the back of the head and three or four times in the body. Police said he could have been dead as long as a week.

Detectives went to the parking lot after a mystery male caller telephoned Brooklyn homicide headquarters. He gave his brief message, the address of the lot and hung up before detectives could question him.

Asked if the latest slaying was connected with last Friday's killing of Brooklyn mobster Joseph "Crazy Joe" Gallo, Asst. Dist. Atty. Edward Rappaport, replied, "Who's to say?"

Gallo went to his grave Monday after two more men were found slain in gangland fashion. They were Gennaro Ciprio, 31, a racket-connected restaurateur gunned down outside his Brooklyn business, and Frank Ferrario, 41, a New Jersey laundryman whose 340-pound body was found in a lower Manhattan parking lot.

Deputy Police Commissioner Robert Daley expressed "cautious optimism" during the day that police would solve Gallo's murder but declined to view the recent string of killings as a mob war.

"Perhaps we're getting a rash of Mafia killings, like you get a rash of hijackings or bombings," said Daley, "but there's no indication yet that these guys are related to the Gallo killing."

Luncheon For Future Bride

Miss Ann Garrett, future bride of Gary Turner, was the honoree at a luncheon and rice bag party held Saturday in the home of Mrs. G. R. Robinson, 2619 Crestline, who was one of the hostesses. Other hostesses were Mrs. R. W. Thompson, Mrs. Arch Carson, Mrs. R. Earl

Price and Mrs. Marvin Miller. For the pre-nuptial event, Miss Garrett was attired in a dress of purple print jersey. She greeted guests with her mother, Mrs. Horace Garrett; her fiancé's mother, Mrs. C. D. Turner; and her sister, Miss Sue Garrett.

Ceremony Performed In Home

Miss Donna Clark Fleming and Stephen D. Clark were married March 31 in the home of the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Davis, 418 Hillside. The Rev. Eldon Cook, pastor of Westbrook Baptist Church and uncle of the bridegroom, performed the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Don Fleming of Sterling City, and Clark is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Clark of Sagerton.

Mrs. Ted Wheeler of Canyon served her sister as matron of honor, and best man was Dave Lammers.

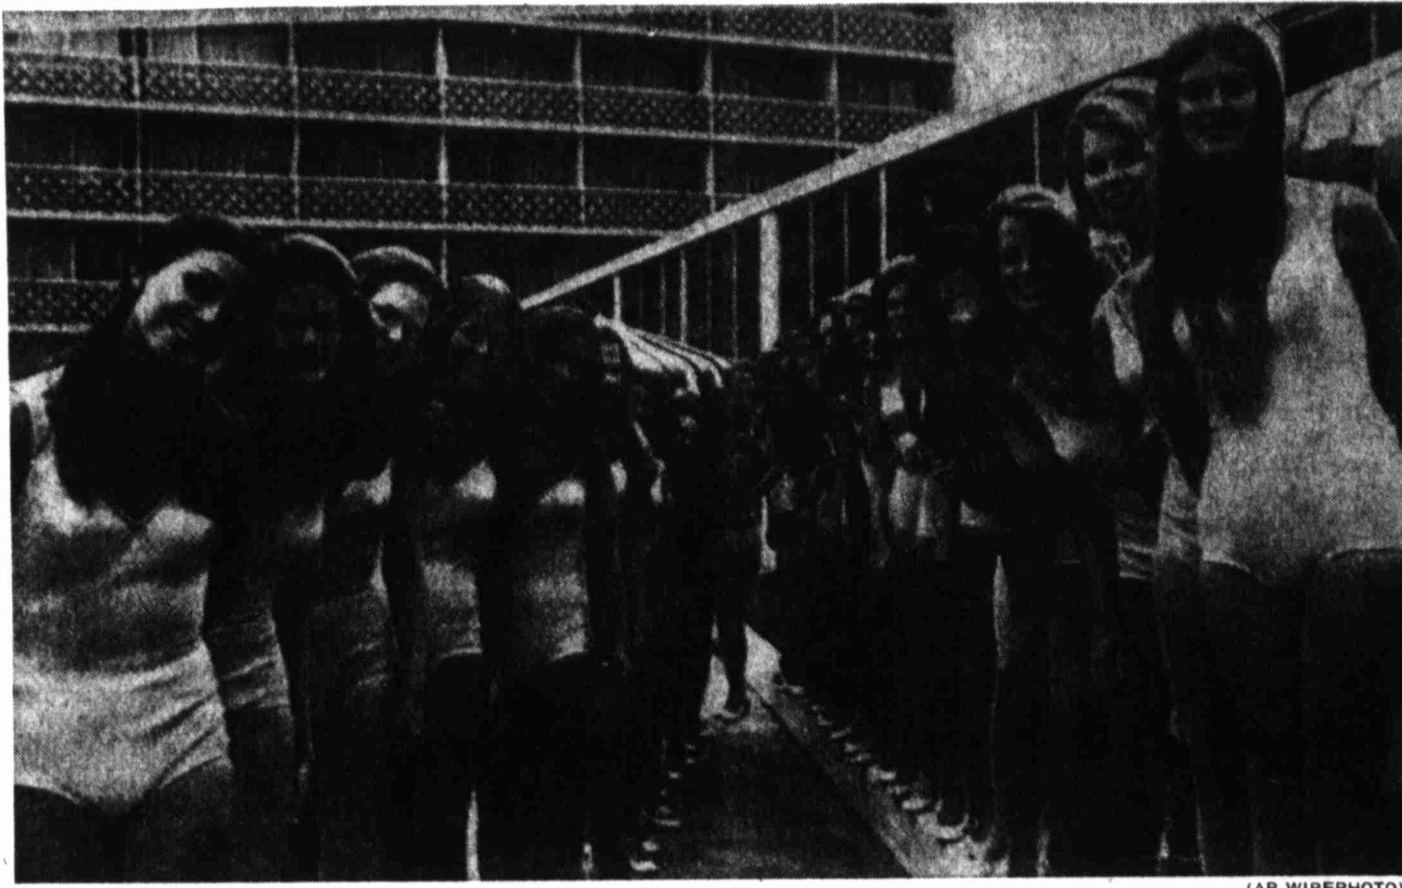

The couple is residing at 709 Edwards. Mrs. Clark is a teacher at Goliad Junior High School, having graduated from Sands High School and Angelo State College. Clark spent four years in the Air Force following graduation from high school, and is now attending Howard County Junior College. He is employed by Montgomery Ward and Company.

A reception was held for the couple in the Davis' home. Serving refreshments were Miss Carolyn Cook, Miss Sharon Cook and Mrs. Brent Hammit of Artesia.

Out-of-town guests, other than the couple's parents, were Lee Fleming of Sterling City, the bride's brother; Mrs. John Clark and Mr. and Mrs. Yater Benton, all of Sagerton, grandparents of the bridegroom; Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Maxwell and Phil Maxwell, all of Midland; Mr. and Mrs. Travis Davis and Mike Davis, Lamesa; and Mr. and Mrs. Dalton Wright, Ackerly.

Uni-Set Look

A New England professor of social psychology says that the uni-sex look of the late 1960s "was a natural counter-part to the plastic and fiberglass look in art and architecture so prevalent at the time."

LOVELY LINEUP — Contestants in the Miss Texas Universe Pageant arrived in San Antonio Monday for a busy week before the finals Saturday night before statewide television. Thirty-nine girls are to compete. The winner will compete in the Miss USA Pageant in May in Puerto Rico. The San Antonio event is one of the first attractions of the city's traditional festival, Fiesta Week.

Preferential Tea Honors Rushees

Rushees of Beta Omicron Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, were honored at a preferential tea Sunday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Sidney Smith, 2616 Ann. The refreshment table was covered with a white cloth, and crystal appointments were used. Yellow and black, BSP colors, were used in decorations in observance of the sorority's 40th anniversary.

Rushees present were Mrs. Sidney Gautreaux, Mrs. Tom Wall and Miss Pam Dyer. A pledge ritual is scheduled at 7:30 p.m., Thursday in the Pioneer Gas Flame Room.

DKG Chapter Meets Saturday

The Beta Kappa Chapter, Delta Kappa Gamma will meet at 2 p.m., Saturday in the Dora Roberts Student Union Building, Howard County Junior College, rather than in the rehabilitation center as reported earlier.

ENGAGED — Mr. and Mrs. Leo P. Connally, Kermit, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Susan Kathleen Scarbro, to John Mastin Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Johnson of Sand Springs. The wedding will be held June 3 in Kermit in the home of the bride-elect's parents.

Activities Announced During LGA Luncheon

Mrs. Morris Rhodes, president of the Ladies Golf Association, Big Spring Country Club, presided for the business session which followed Friday's luncheon at the club.

Hostesses for the luncheon were Mrs. Pete Cook, chairman; Mrs. Raymond Tollett, Mrs. J. Gordon Bristow and Mrs. Jerry Jenkins. Approximately 40 members and guests attended. They were seated at a U-shaped table covered with yellow cloths, and the head table was accented with a centerpiece of yellow carnations, daisies and poppies interspersed with greenery.

Mrs. Jim Raoul and Mrs. Merle Stewart were welcomed as guests, and Mrs. A. W. Rees was introduced as a new member. The special prize was won by Mrs. Alton Underwood, and the centerpiece went to Mrs. Bristow.

Mrs. Monroe Gafford, golf chairman, announced that women golfers from the Webb LGA and the Comanche Trail LGA have been invited to participate in a tournament with the country club women golfers May 6. The club's ringer tournament has been completed, and the winner will be announced at the next luncheon. Members were reminded that C. G. Griffin, club pro, began free golf lessons at 9 a.m. today.

for LGA members, and the lessons will continue each Tuesday for the next month. Mrs. Garner McAdams gave the house committee report on plans to provide drapes to eliminate glare in one of the card rooms. She gave estimated costs for the drapes and installation and received authorization to continue with the project.

Business of the last meeting of the country club board was reported by Mrs. Rhodes, who serves as representative from the LGA. She said some definite "answers" about suggested club improvements and refurbishing were promised for the next board meeting. Harold Davis is to investigate the possibility of constructing tennis courts at the club. Mrs. Rhodes read a list of new club members, suggesting that the wives be welcomed and encouraged to join the LGA.

Home Gardeners Encouraged To Grow Family's Vegetables

"You can grow vegetables to fill your family's needs for 20 to 30 weeks on less than one-quarter acre," said Mrs. Jan Huff for Organic Soil-Makers, Monday evening at the U.S. Experiment Station.

Mrs. Huff read excerpts from the "Organic Home Gardeners Notebook," written by Sheila and Allen Swenson. The book described their experiences with organic gardening and offered hints on care of a garden.

Soil craves attention, and the Swensons said soil condition is very important to soil fertility. Four basic ways to improve topsoil are through the use of mulches, composts, green manures and animal manures. Most ingredients for feeding soil are readily available at no cost, such as leaves and vegetables. "When you garden organically, you recycle materials to the soil," said Mrs. Huff, "and you are rewarded with tasty nutritious vegetables for the body or fragrant flowers for the soul."

Members brought insects which will be identified to determine whether they are harmful or beneficial. Dr. Paul Koshi won 10 pounds of marble dust for bringing the most insects.

Students Perform For Piano Guild

Four piano students of Mrs. Marck Schafer of Garden City auditioned today for the National Guild of Piano Teachers at Howard County Junior College music building. Those performing were Sheryl Nevel, Danetta Schafer, Crystal Overton and Carol McPherson.

Knits In Future

Men's fashion forecasters predict that within the next five years a third of all dress shirts and half of all tailored slacks, sportcoats and suits will be made from knit fabrics.

BOB BUTLER TELLS HYPERIONS:

'Trash, Litter Make Big Problems Here'

The "clean-up, fix-up, paint-up" drive which will be held locally in several weeks was discussed by Bob Butler when he was guest speaker last week for a meeting of the 1953 Hyperion Club in the home of Mrs. Clarence Peters, 802 Highland Drive. Mrs. Daryl Hohertz was cohostess.

Butler, who is a member of the Pride People committee of the Chamber of Commerce, related the drive today's increased interest in ecology. He noted that the committee is basically concerned with education in this regard, and it attempts to motivate community residents to action.

In making people aware of the need to clean up their environment, the committee draws attention to eyesores such as weeds on vacant lots, abandoned buildings that are ugly and sometimes, unsafe or junked cars which are left on streets or private property, thus giving a run-down look to a neighborhood.

"Air and water pollution are not big problems in our area," said Butler. "But trash and litter, blowing over the city, is something we need to work on very much." During the official clean-up drive, persons who want trash hauled away from their home will be encouraged to call the Chamber of Commerce to get this service from the city.

New club officers were announced and will assume duties for the 1972-73 season at a salad luncheon May 3 in the home of Mrs. John Gary, outgoing president.

'Quotable Quotes'

By The Associated Press

Some quotable quotes from women during the week:

"Some people will always see Mama in me and others will accept or reject me as an individual and that's that, so be it." —Actress Liza Minnelli, daughter of Vincente Minnelli and the late Judy Garland.

"The doctor bugged me, my children bugged me and the route manager bugged me. So I just gave it up. Just retired, that's all, after 27 years of delivering the Peoria Journal-Star." —Mary Bandy, at the age of 74, quitting her paper route.

"My children have only one parent and a lot of things have happened in their lives." —Jacqueline Kennedy Onassis, testifying in a trial of rival lawsuits involving a photographer.

BEFORE AND AFTER — The picture above shows how one home appeared before the application of new siding, and below how it was after the siding and new trim was applied. In this case, the siding happened to be a relatively new material, solid vinyl siding. However, there are numerous kinds of modern siding.

Work Miracles For Your Home

When thinking about improving your home, consider the exterior first. Too many times home exteriors are wrongfully overlooked for the more dramatic interior work.

It must be remembered that it is more than likely that unsightly interiors resulted from inadequate care given to the outside of the home.

Interior water damage can be prevented with care being given to the exterior. Consultation with a reliable home improvement contractor can lead to preserving the interior as well as the exterior of the home.

One of the new revelations in home exterior sidewall cover is solid vinyl siding. This siding is impervious to damaging weather conditions and the ravages of time.

Solid vinyl siding cannot rot.

blister, peel or decay like wood; and never, never needs paint. The color of this new plastic siding material goes all the way through it. The siding comes in an array of colors most compatible to exterior decor: white, gray, green and yellow.

In addition to virtually eliminating maintenance and the need for outside painting, solid vinyl siding will not support or spread flame. It cannot conduct electricity and, thus, does not need to be grounded. Furthermore, it will not interfere with radio or television reception.

However, there are many other new sidings as well as the time-tested varieties which work miracles for your house.

In addition to sidings, there are also companion building products of solid vinyl which give the exterior of the home over-all protection from damage. Solid vinyl sidings and accessories have been approved for insured construction loans by the Federal Housing Administration (FHA).

Rob Dallas Ad Salesman

DALLAS (AP) — A classified advertising salesman for the Dallas Times Herald was robbed, then forced into the trunk of his automobile Monday by two assailants.

The bruised and bleeding salesman, Charles G. Hudson Jr., was freed after a high-speed auto chase in which the two bandits attempted to elude police, with Hudson's car.

The chase ended with the capture of one of the two, a 17-year-old youth. The other escaped.

Hudson said his ordeal began when two assailants jerked open his car doors in downtown Dallas when he stopped for a red light.

He told police the two held knives to his throat and forced him to drive to a dark area where they stripped him of his personal items, then locked him in the trunk of his car.

Last Planning Meet Is Today

LAMESA (SPL) — With some 26 varied businesses already indicating that they will participate in the "Spring Fling Days" promotion, a final planning meeting was called for 3 p.m. Tuesday in the Retail Trade Committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

According to Fred Barrington, chairman heading up the three day promotion set for April 27-29, the 26 businesses represent the largest number ever to participate in any community promotion in Lamesa.

Barrington emphasized that other businesses are expected to participate in the gigantic event, but that these businesses need to contact the Chamber of Commerce office by Wednesday.

Many of the businesses are giving away various gifts in conjunction with the promotion, Saturday, when gifts will be distributed.

Tickets for kiddie rides to be held in conjunction with the event will be given away during the week of the Spring Fling.

One side of the square will be roped off from traffic Thursday and Friday during the event with all four sides being roped off that Saturday. An antique car exhibit, new car and implement exhibits and other demonstrations and exhibits will occupy the square area that day. There will be street dancing for the teenagers.

Many House Repairs Keyed To Maintenance Equipment

A basic tool kit for emergency home repair jobs and do-it-yourself maintenance projects can help reduce scheduled waits for busy professionals — plus the cost of their service.

What tools should go into the kit? First, select a claw hammer with a 16-ounce head and a metal composition handle or a wooden handle with non-slip features. The 16-ounce hammer is a good, all-around tool for most jobs — from setting fences to repairing a roof to hanging pictures.

A 14-inch jack plane for trimming and smoothing edges of dimension lumber, doors and trim is a wise buy. The long "bed" or bottom of the plane permits shaving without rocking and dip-cutting materials.

Other basic tools should include a twist drill set, up to 1/4-inch, for boring holes in both metal and wood; a 1/4-inch hand drill to operate the twist drill set; screwdrivers with 4- and 8-inch blades and 1/4 through 3/8-inch tips for removing and driving screws in small appliances, hinges and lock sets, and a medium-size No. 2 Phillips' screwdriver. The Phillips' screwdriver can be used for small appliances, electrical systems, and on autos. For cutting, an 8 pt. saw is best. It can be used for both ripping and cross-cutting fiber and wood materials. It provides fairly smooth sawn edges, eliminating planing and sanding labor.

Also handy for cutting purposes are a utility (razor) knife for wood, paper and fiber materials; a single-cut 8-inch shoe rasp file for smoothing wood and fiber materials; and a combination oilstone for sharpening planes and other cutting edges.

In basic tools, an adjustable locking plier-wrench is a good buy since the tool can be used for both loosening and tightening stubborn bolts and screws. An Allen wrench set is necessary for driving socket setscrews in small appliances and autos.

For general use — from plumbing repairs to tightening and loosening bolts on bikes and washing machines — 6- and 10-inch adjustable wrenches are a must. To turn pipe and couplings on large plumbing lines, a 10-inch pipe wrench does the best job.

For holding purposes, two or more C- or spring-type clamps go into a basic tool kit. Also needed are a combination square with a 12-inch blade for measuring and marking accurately, and a spout can of light oil for motor maintenance.

After you purchase the basics, consider buying additional equipment in "project" form. This might include a home painting kit, home plumbing kit and concrete patching kit. This way, you buy tools for specific jobs that can be added to the tool kit you already have.

DO IT YOURSELF — Here is an example of how many couples are making home improvements on their own. Wall paneling comes in such a variety of materials, finishes and colors, that revolutionizing the appearance of a room is practical for individuals with ordinary talent. Even with professional help, this is one of the bigger improvement bargains.

No Rainfall Is Forecast

By The Associated Press

Balmy, summer-like weather engulfed Texas today as a steady flow of warm, southerly winds continued to move across the state.

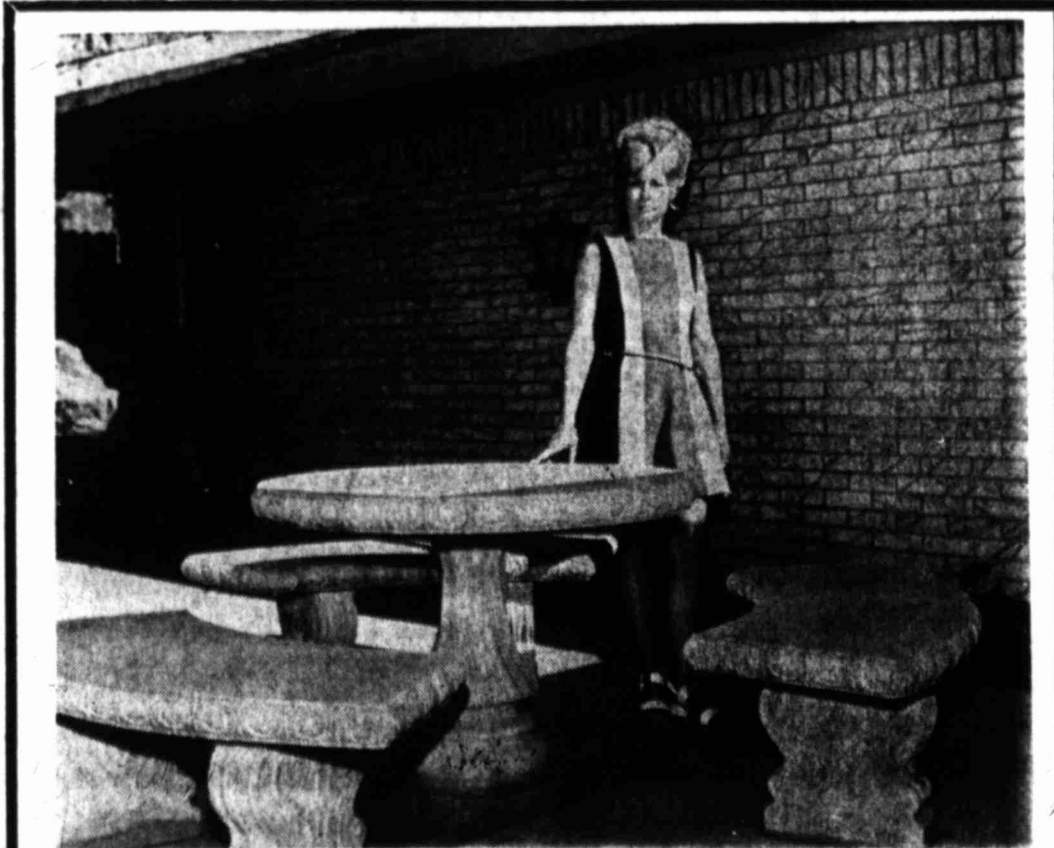

The National Weather Service said no change in the weather is forecast for the remainder of the week, with cloudy and warm conditions expected through Friday.

Eastern and southern sections of the state this morning were blanketed with low clouds while early morning temperatures ranged in the 60s and 70s. Temperatures today were expected to climb into the 80s and 90s.

Where Saving Is Easy!

MAMA'S HELPER — Among the handiest of appliances which contribute to modern homemaking is that of the clothes dryer. There are all kinds, including one such as above which is compact and requires no ventilating. It takes up about the same space as a kitchen chair.

Giant Features In Compact Size

A new compact automatic electric clothes dryer is a highly portable appliance you can use anywhere there is a standard three-pronged grounded electrical outlet.

Weighing only 60 pounds and requiring no venting, it takes up less space than a kitchen chair and can be used — or stored — in a closet, bathroom, basement, alcove, under a counter, in a kitchen corner — or even mounted on the wall.

Offering the regular tumble drying features of a full-size electric dryer — including a permanent press cycle — but with a smaller five-pound capacity best suited to the personal needs of an individual or a young married couple, the compact dryer is perfect for the small home or efficiency apartment, a summer cottage, a college dorm room, or a mobile home.

The dryer offers a normal drying cycle, a fluff cycle and a permanent press cycle, with the permanent press cycle featuring a cool-down at the end of cycle for protection against setting wrinkles, and the fluff cycle tumbling clothes without heat to remove wrinkles and restore nap to sweaters and deep-piled garments.

There's an easy-to-see-and-clean up-front lint trap, a separate start switch, and a six-foot long power cord for any standard three-prong grounded 115-volt outlet.

Lions' District Conclave Nears

LAMESA (SPL) — After over a year's planning and preparation, Lamesa Lions Clubs are set to host the gigantic District 27-2 convention this weekend. Planners estimate 800-900 Lions and ladies will be on hand for the two-day event.

Theme of this year's gala affair is "Those Were The Days, My Friends," according to J. D. McAmis, co-chairman. Earlier co-chairman J. D. Dyer pointed out that Lamesa has a tradition of providing only the finest in programming and entertainment.

One of the highlights of the event will take place on the Friday when the Lions review and select a District Queen from among 44 candidates representing individual clubs from throughout the vast 27-2 District. Although participating in the pageant entitled "Yankee Doodle Sweethearts," Lamesa Queens will not be eligible for the District Crown, serving instead as hostesses for the contest. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Baldwin and Mr. and Mrs. Charles King are co-chairman of the event, being assisted by Mr. and Mrs. John Hegi. The queen's contest will get underway at 9 p.m. in the Lamesa High School Student Center with the coronation set for the Governor's Banquet the next evening.

A golf tournament is being held all day Friday under the planning of chairman Jerry Bell.

Saturday will rock into action beginning at 7:30 a.m. with a "Breakfast with Bottles." That event is also slated for the Student Center and will be followed by a Ladies Continental Breakfast at 9:30 a.m. in the Lamesa Evening Lions Hut. For the men, District Governor Bob Levo's "Power Packed Business session" will take up the morning, beginning at 9:30 and concluding at 11:45 at the First Presbyterian Church Fellowship Hall.

"Moon Shots of the Sixties" sponsored by the South Plains Lions Club of Lubbock will soar at 12:30 until 2 p.m. back at the Student Center, to be followed by another business session which will include voting for new officers and the officers schools.

From 3 until 5 p.m. a "Concert In the Park, Gay Nineties Style" will provide

St. Lawrence CYO Sponsors Dance

The St. Lawrence CYO will sponsor a dance Saturday at 9 p.m. at the St. Lawrence Hall.

The Drifters musical group will play for the dance, which is open to the public at $1.50. St. Lawrence is located 10 miles south and five miles west of Garden City.

Commission, Standard Convene Again Today

Sheriff A. N. Standard is the only elected county official who did not meet with Howard County Commissioners Monday afternoon when they met with officials and county department heads to discuss employees' salaries.

Commissioners scheduled a 3:15 p.m. meeting for today with Sheriff Standard. Monday, Sheriff Standard was out of his office each time the commissioners summoned him to meet with them.

Until the conferences with county officials and department heads are completed, commissioners have shelved all salary "adjustments" they made last week. According to action Monday, all salaries go back to the level at which they were set on March 6.

Promotional raises for Deputy Sheriffs Bernice Nail and Rachel Shaffer are the salary raises currently in question. On April 3, Sheriff Standard was given commissioners approval to raise the two women to the positions of first and second office deputies and raise their salaries to the levels set for those positions.

Mrs. Nail, as first deputy was to be raised from $4,404 to $4,992; and Mrs. Shaffer was to be raised from an annual salary of $4,104 to $4,404 in her new position as second deputy.

District Clerk M. Fern Cox requested that his two deputy clerks, Mrs. Glenda Brasel and Mrs. Jeanette Nichols, be raised from their current salaries of $4,104 per year to the wages of first and second deputies. Cox said that on March 6, commissioners signed an order designating the women as first and second deputies, and that the positions were designated for his office as far back as 1957, but his current employees have never been paid on that basis.

Mrs. Brasel, who has been employed in the district clerk's office for four years, would draw $4,992 per year as first deputy; and Mrs. Nichols, who has worked in the office for two years, would draw $4,404 as second deputy.

Commissioners have voiced no decision on Cox's request.

An item of contention has been the extra monthly allowance the two women draw for taking care of the law library on behalf of the Howard County Bar Association. The association pays the two women out of a fund comprised of $5 fees attached to all civil cases.

Mrs. Brasel receives $33 per month and Mrs. Nichols $11 per month for their services in shelving all books left out in the library by the lawyers, cataloguing and shelving new law books and placing monthly supplements to the Vernon's Black Statutes in the library.

"If that's to figure in their raise, just get rid of the law library duties," said Cox. He said that the duties take up an increasing amount of the two women's time, and that he would rather they get a raise in their annual pay than receive pay for their law library duties.

The bar association budgets $50 per month for a law librarian, and someone else to perform the duties would have to be found should the commissioners decide that the two women could not be given a raise in pay and accept the monthly fees from the bar association.

DPS Training School Nears

The Texas Department of Public Safety is seeking applicants to fill the ranks of its uniform services. A training school for cadet patrolmen will begin June 27, according to Maj. E. K. Browning Jr., regional commander of the Texas Department of Public Safety for this area.

Applicants must be males between the ages of 20 and 35; a height of not less than 68 inches nor more than 76 inches; a weight of not less than two pounds nor more than three and one-half pounds per inch of height; visual acuity no less than 20-40 correctable to 20-20; have at least 15 college hours; in excellent physical condition; good moral character; and a citizen of the United States.

The Texas Department of Public Safety is an Equal Opportunity Employer. Interested young men are urged to contact any Texas Department of Public Safety office or patrolman for an application.

If all is in order, the written test will be administered which will qualify or disqualify the applicant for further consideration. Successful applicants will be given an agility test, a character investigation and a physical examination. Those accepted for employment will be notified prior to the beginning date of the next training school, which lasts for 17 weeks and carries a $560 per month training salary. Those who graduate will start at $696 per month.

Johnson Seeking Return To Texas

CHARLOTTEVILLE, Va. — Former President Lyndon B. Johnson, recovering from a heart attack he suffered last Friday, continues to pressure his doctors to let him return to Texas.

Dr. Richard S. Crampton, head of the University of Virginia Hospital cardiac care unit, issued two brief statements Monday saying Johnson was improving and was in good spirits.

The former president was stricken while visiting the home of his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Robb.

Although Johnson said he was anxious to be transferred to a hospital in Texas, Dr. John Willis Hurst, the heart specialist on the case, indicated it would be some time before the former president could be moved.

Hurst left Sunday for his home in Atlanta but indicated Johnson would not be moved until he returns to examine him.

Johnson slept late Monday, then spent the day visiting with his wife, Lady Bird, and daughter, Linda Robb, in his hospital room.

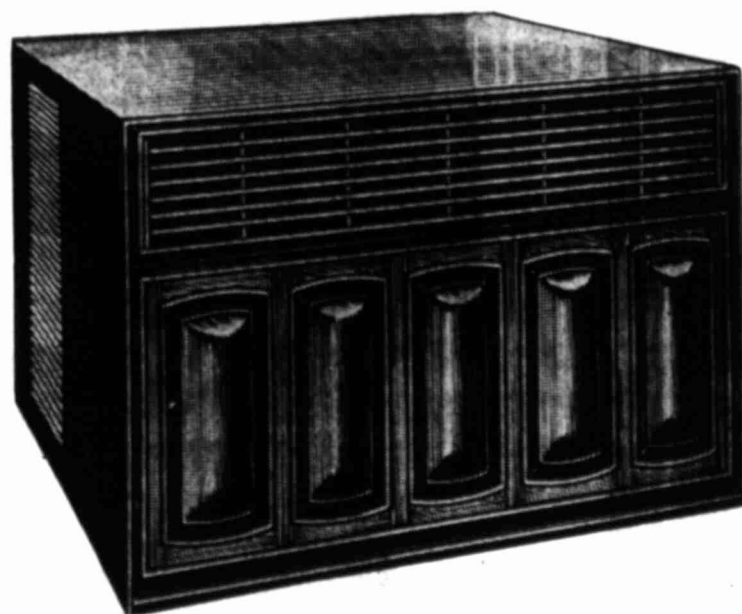

THAT TIME AGAIN?

THANKS TO AIR CHILLERS

Muggiest Days Whipped

Many things have contributed to the added comfort of living in the high semi-arid climates of this area, but none more than air conditioning. The ultimate in air conditioning, of course, is to have the house air conditioned at all times. Another is that specific temperatures may be maintained, regardless of what the outside temperature may be.

Hand in hand with this is the employment of insulation materials which have enabled architects to plan houses that no longer require high ceilings and elongated windows. Another contributing factor is the availability of better sealing materials, together with much efficient weather stripping, etc.

However, these are simply aids to increase the efficiency and economy of air conditioning. It is the air conditioner that does the work.

In this section, the majority of homes still employ the evaporative type of air coolers. On most days they do an acceptable job and at a minimum of operating costs. One thing to remember is to consult your dealer concerning a proper size, for to obtain one which does not move a sufficient volume of air is to cut down on your comfort. To get the oversized is to pay for more than you need, both in initial cost and in power.

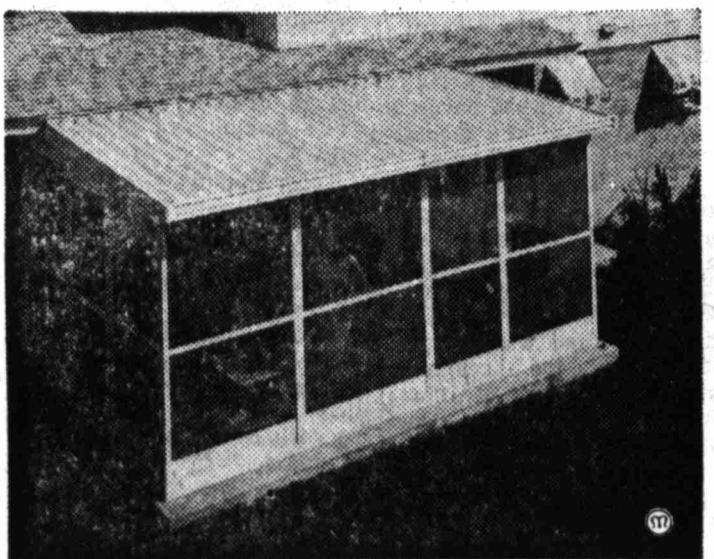

Efficiency of the cooler depends also upon having ample space to exhaust the air, and at locations which will promote comfort in all parts of the house. Coolness, among other things, depends upon the flow of air. The ultimate in air conditioning, of course, is to have the house air conditioned at all times. Another is that specific temperatures may be maintained, regardless of what the outside temperature may be.

For one thing, the house may remain closed, cutting down on the intrusion of outside air, dust and noise without giving up freshness (the air is circulated so that ample new air is introduced at all times). Another is that specific temperatures may be maintained, regardless of what the outside temperature may be.

In addition to this, the muggiest days make no difference. When there is humidity in the air, evaporative conditioners do little good except to stir the air, but not so with refrigerated air. Most refrigerated units now include air humidity controls, too.

Finally, the convenience of refrigerated air, whether electric or gas, is a major consideration. In the Spring, push a button and you are on refrigerated air. In the Autumn, push a button, and you are on central heating — no fuss and feathers, or climbing on the roof to scrape paint, repair broken pipes, or what have you.

COMPACT CONDITIONERS — The days when air conditioners required massive water cooling towers and big units for compressors is gone. Today's mechanical air conditioning is compact and highly efficient, and best of all operates with a minimum of sound and maintenance.

Right Contractor Pick Is Important

Enrollment Drops 31 In Schools

Sharp declines in three elementary schools contributed to a decline of 31 in school enrollment last week in Big Spring. Cedar Crest lost eight, Marcy seven and Kentwood six. Bucking the trend was College Heights with an increase of five, making the net loss 26 and leaving the total at 3,354 in elementary schools.

Secondary enrollment of 1,913 was down seven, all of it in senior high. Special education gained two to reach 261, making a total of 6,876, which is 27 less than the comparable date a year ago.

Anyone contemplating a significant outlay of funds for remodeling purposes is understandably concerned about the selection of the right contractor as well.

How do you insure that he is not only capable, but reliable, as well?

Naturally, you will respect the recommendations of your friends who have had similar work done. But in the event that you are unfamiliar with any contractor there are other reliable sources for professional contractors.

For example, the home improvement loan officer at your bank or savings and loan association can help. Also, a local building materials dealer is an excellent source.

Perhaps the most reliable sources are local chapters in your city of the various builders' associations. These organizations' recommendations can protect you from the unreliable contractor. This is preventative medicine and just good sense.

Once the remodeling project is under way or completed should you be dissatisfied, with ample cause, with the work of a contractor, arbitration or litigation could extend for months and even years.

Never was the old adage "Look before you leap" truer than in its reference to the remodeling of your home. But if you chose a reliable builder you will enjoy your project for years to come.

Duplicates In Welfare Pointed Out

WASHINGTON (AP) — A study by Congress says programs for the aged, disabled and needy overlap and affect each other in ways that produce inequities, discourage job-seeking and sometimes frustrate their purposes.

The staff study prepared for the House-Senate Economic Committee said many get payments or services for at least two programs simultaneously, and a few from as many as four.

The study, published Monday, said that simply adding up the numbers of beneficiaries of each program indicates 119 million persons — more than half the U.S. population — are benefiting from one or another.

The actual number of individual beneficiaries is probably no more than 60 million because of the overlaps, said the study report, written by James Storey.

The study covers income transfer systems usually considered being in the welfare category and such other systems as Social Security that are related to earnings and contributions.

Storey estimated welfare rolls probably represent 25 million to 30 million different individuals even though the gross number of individual payments is about 64 million.

About the same number of persons get Social Security old-age or disability pensions, and Storey estimated a fourth of these also get some other cash payment—for example, welfare.

Storey said some recipients willing to work to improve their condition are penalized because eligibility for one benefit often is linked to another or to a specified income.

"As a person's income rises," he wrote, "a higher price will have to be paid for the same food-stamp allotment, rent for the public-housing unit will increase and the aid-for-dependent-children grant will be reduced."

Will Ask Uncle Sam To Buy Clothing For Needy Pupils

HOUSTON (AP) — The Houston School Board has voted to ask the federal government for $325,000 to buy clothing for needy children in 35 Houston schools.

Some 27,000 pupils attend the schools, all located in poverty areas. The funds, if approved, would be spent next year.

The board voted Monday night 6-1 to start the program, overruling the recommendations of Dr. George Garver, superintendent of the Houston district, the nation's sixth-largest.

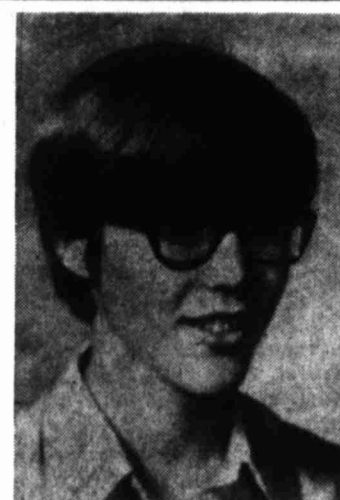

Voting against the measure was school board president,

Mrs. James Tinsley. She said "the school should not be all things to all people."

Dr. Leonard Robbins, another board member, said, "the humanity of a large school district is not always evident to the public."

Dr. Herman Barnett, another board member, said he does not believe the program is unwise or too costly, pointing out the $4.7 million the district currently receives in federal poverty funds is about the cost of one-half of an airplane being lost every day in Vietnam.

"I've seen too many children who did not go to school or to school functions because they did not have the proper clothing," Barnett said.

Susie Smith Earns Trip To Nation's Capital

STANTON — Ken Kubik of Midland Lee High School and Susan Smith of Big Spring High School are the winners of the Caprock Electric Cooperative youth-in-government project.

Ken, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. K. C. Kubik of Midland, and Susan, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Smith, were picked by judges following the finals in the oratorical contest held in the Caprock auditorium here last night.

They will join with other Texas winners in leaving in chartered buses from Waxahachie June 10 for Washington, D.C. where they will spend a week in meetings, visiting with leading figures in government, their congressmen, and seeing historical sights. They will be back June 19.

Selected as first alternates were Allen Mitchell, of Midland; Robert Lee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wade Mitchell, Midland; and Kayla Gaskins, Sands High School, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Mac Gaskins, Knox.

Judges for the finals, in which 11 young men and women participated, were Lois Greathouse, home service director for the Lyntegar Electric Cooperative, Tahoka; Roddy Peoples, agricultural editor for a San Angelo radio station; and Stan Pulley, Odessa public service official.

All expenses of the two winners will be borne by Caprock, said Chuck Elmore, who coordinated the preliminaries and finals of the contest.

MIRACLES DO Happen.

When the land is covered with ice and snow, an Eskimo hunter travels from one hunting ground to another. Eskimos measure time by igloos — one igloo representing one night. These igloos take about two hours to build. Starting with a circle, (10 blocks) and building from within, one block is placed at a time in rings on top, until the final block is on top. The hunter's wife usually chinks up the cracks inside with powdered snow. The last job is to make a wind tunnel to shield the doorway. The inside is lit by a soapstone lamp which burns seal oil.

Hise To Attend Austin Meeting

Fifteen states will send more than 1,000 Spanish-English teachers and other dual language specialists to Austin Friday and Saturday for the National Conference on Bilingual Education.

Representing Big Spring will be Lynn C. Hise, assistant superintendent for instruction in the school district.

Sponsored by the Texas Education Agency in cooperation with the U.S. Office of Education and Education Service Center Region XIII in Austin, the conference will be held at the Lyndon B. Johnson Library, Thompson Conference Center, and the Sheraton-Crest Inn.

U.S. Senator Lloyd Bentsen of Houston will headline the two-day session at the 7:30 p.m. banquet to be held at the Sheraton-Crest Hotel on Friday.

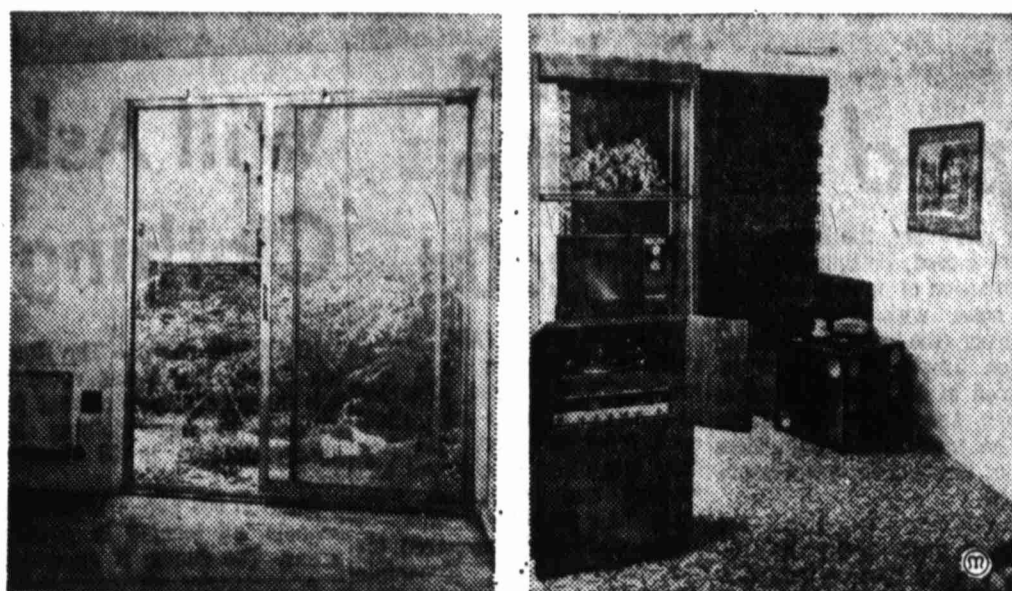

president in charge of community improvement division, said that work on improvement and beautification of the observation park on U.S. 80 at the north end of the Webb AFB runways is progressing. She anticipated that the work can be completed by the end of April or in early May and will include some landscaping, sidewalks, picnic tables, etc.

R. H. Weaver, president, reported on efforts being made to beef up the U.S. Experiment Farm here into a regional research center on the problem of wind erosion and its contribution to the pollution of the region. Efforts to obtain inclusion of the county under the all-risk crop insurance program also were outlined.

Reports were heard concerning the first of the continuing series of Retail Trades Days were heard, along with a screening committee to check on solicitations, particularly by out-of-town promoters.

Directors were urged to participate in the joint service club meeting April 18 (Tuesday) honoring the Howard County Junior College basketball team. This will be at the Settles Hotel.

Directors also gave their blessing to a panel to investigate the feasibility of some type of zoo. They also adopted operating policies and talked about a new and larger sign for the chamber building.

FLOOR COVERING — The use of any of a number of striking and unusually serviceable floor coverings has made home improvement within the reach of most homeowners. Even women are trying their hands at it with striking results. Here is how new floor covering, with an added piece of furniture for decorative effect, spruced up a typical room.

Home Floor Tips Issued

First, make sure that subfloor is clean and free of dust and dirt.

Best to make a small diagram of the floor, measure carefully and order flooring oversize. Remove all moldings. Line up the flooring evenly along the straightest edge of the room. Then align the covering, if possible, then trim edges, apply the adhesive material and roll to complete. A little paint, some minor carpentry and a lot of imagination were used to turn this kitchen area into the attractive room shown.

'Handywomen' Tackle Jobs

There are 70 million American women over the age of 18, according to the Census Bureau. Many of these are married, but millions are not. Most of the singles live with other girls, or alone.

Women, who never before had to hang curtains, wield a hammer, use a Phillips' screw driver or face a balky kitchen faucet, are now faced with chores of the handyman of the house.

But this experience is not just limited to the single women of the nation. Many married ladies are discovering that it's fun and offers a creative outlet to tackle a home improvement project.

It might be said that the hand that rocked the cradle is now rapidly learning, not only how to select the right tool for the job at hand, but undertaking "re-do-it," do-it-yourself projects with great enthusiasm.

Kristin Elliott, floor stylist, has helped many an amateur "handywoman" tackle a flooring project.

She advises, "While selecting the color scheme of the room would seem to be the first item on the list, I usually advise the ladies to consider the floor first. It can literally be considered still another wall for decorating purposes."

"My recent 'Do it Yourself, Ladies' project began when a career gal came to me after trying unsuccessfully to cram carpenters, designers and home handy helpers into her now stretched budget.

"We began with the floors in living room and kitchen which were hardwood and severely neglected," Kristin explained.

Says He Deliberately Misled ITT Lobbyist

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., today asked for a Justice Department explanation of why the Senate Judiciary Committee, looking into Richard G. Kleindienst's nomination to be attorney general, was not informed of a federal investigation of a doctor who submitted testimony to the committee.

Kennedy said Henry Peterson, assistant attorney general in charge of the Justice Department's Criminal Division, should explain why the probe of Dr. L. M. Radetsky for alleged Medicare fraud was not made known to the committee. Radetsky was one of Dita D. Beard's cardiologists in Denver when the International Telephone & Telegraph Corp. lobbyist was being treated for a heart problem.

FAILURE TO TELL

Peterson is scheduled to testify at today's hearings into the Kleindienst nomination.

Following an investigation in 1971, the Social Security Administration referred a probe of Radetsky to the U.S. attorney in Denver, who in turn passed the information on to the Justice Department in Washington, Kennedy said.

"As of March 27, 1972," Kennedy said, "it is the intention of the U.S. attorney's office to review the case in detail during April, and, if prosecution were warranted, to present the case to the federal grand jury scheduled for the first week of May."

Kennedy asked that Peterson be ready at today's session to explain the Justice Department's failure to tell the committee of its investigations.

THAT FIGURE

In testimony Monday, the head of ITT's Washington office said he deliberately misled Mrs. Beard when he told her the White House asked him about the firm's commitment to the Republican National Convention.

W. R. Merriam, Mrs. Beard's boss, told the Senate Judiciary Committee Monday, however, that he never mentioned a $600,000 figure nor did he ask her to write him a memo on ITT's commitment to the convention.

The committee's inquiry into the controversy surrounding acting Atty. Gen. Richard G. Kleindienst, ITT and the GOP convention in San Diego is in its seventh week.

The probe was sparked by a memorandum published by columnist Jack Anderson, who said it was written by Mrs. Beard and that it linked ITT's commitment of financial backing for the convention with out-of-court settlement of three antitrust suits against the firm.

HEART TROUBLE

In testimony from her hospital bed in Denver two weeks ago, Mrs. Beard quoted Merriam as saying an unidentified White House official had called him to find out what ITT's commitment to the convention would be.

Mrs. Beard, who has been undergoing treatment for heart trouble, said the figure $600,000 was mentioned in the discussion with Merriam. She said the money was supposed to go to President Nixon's re-election campaign.

Before the Senate panel, Merriam said he had intentionally lied to Mrs. Beard when he said the White House had telephoned him. The reason for the lie, he said, is that she did not get along with Jack Gleason.

Merriam explained he did not want to tell Mrs. Beard he had had her accounts of GOP convention plans checked by Gleason, a former White House aide and now an ITT consultant.

Merriam said that after Mrs. Beard returned from an ITT stockholders meeting in San Diego last May, she mentioned there had been discussions about an ITT commitment to bring the GOP convention to San Diego.

NOTHING DEFINITE

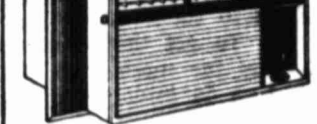

He said he asked Gleason to check with someone familiar with the convention plans to determine whether San Diego was to be the site and whether commitments of dollars or services were sought.

Merriam said Gleason reported back shortly that there was nothing definite about the convention site.

Forsan Freshmen Netters Win District 9-B Crown

Fish Overcome Barrier To Win First Net Award

The Forsan Fish freshmen tennis team overcame a serious handicap last weekend to capture the District 9-B crown for the first time in the history of the school.

The Forsan netters competed in the tournament without any entries in the boys' singles division. Coach David Redwine was elated with the victory. He said, "We lost points because we didn't have any singles representatives in that division, which was some handicap, but I was really proud of the team when it overcame the obstacle to win the tournament."

The Forsan team won the Junior Division title by placing first and second in girls' junior doubles and second in boys' junior doubles.

Ginger Dittmore and Janet Ellis combined efforts to win the doubles title, but they had to dump their teammates, Danita Earnest and Kathy O'Dell, in the finals to grab the honor.

Dittmore and Ellis defeated K. Blair and D. Scott of Bronte in the first round, 6-1, 6-0; they dumped D. Hibb and R. Clark of Blackwell, 6-1, 6-0; then they defeated Earnest and O'Dell in the finals, 6-3, 6-2.

Earnest and O'Dell advanced with wins over J. Sheffield and T. Loring of Paint Rock, 6-0, 6-2, and over L. Cookse and M. Booth of Christoval, 6-0, 6-0.

Wesley Thixton combined with Joe Moreno to advance to junior division finals in the boys' division with a win over Bronte's team, 6-1, 6-0, before losing to the winners J. Raughton and E. Alexander of Bronte, 6-1, 6-1.

Karen Woodley reached the semi-finals of the girls' singles with two wins.

Coach Redwine said, "I expected Dittmore and Ellis to win, but I was really pleased when the team won the title. The junior team gained a lot of experience from playing Coach Novice Kniffen's team."

Coach Redwine added, "There is a big interest in tennis at Forsan. We have two courts now, but maybe we'll have some new ones by next year." Forsan, a school with only 102 pupils, produced a tennis squad composed of 31 players in the district tournament.

James Dittmore placed second in the senior boys' single by posting three wins: defeating David Counts of Water Valley, 6-0, 6-1; defeating Ban Green of Eden, 6-2, 6-3; and dumping James Bailey of Mertzon, 6-4, 8-6.

Don Stevens, who coached the Forsan Elementary tennis team, and "I was pleasantly surprised with the team. They had worked hard and the conditioning seemed to pay off as the day was very hot."

Eddie Decker and Gary Moore won first place in the boys' doubles event in the elementary division. They advanced with victories over Garden City, Miles, Paint Rock and Christoval.

Kary Richardson reached the semifinals of the boys' singles in the elementary division.

Dwight Davis Is Cavalier First-Round Draft Choice

HOUSTON (AP) — University of Houston star Dwight Davis, the Cleveland Cavalier's No. 1 draft choice, isn't in any particular hurry to get his contract signed.

"I've been poor 22 years, I don't guess a few more months will make any difference," he said. "It's up to my agent now."

Davis said Monday after learning of his selection in the National Basketball Association draft.

"I'll just try to get the best buck and the best benefits I can," he said. "It's up to my agent now."

SWOOSH! — Frozen in anticipation for a rebound that didn't materialize Monday because basket was successful are, clockwise from foreground, New York Nets' Billy Paultz and Ollie Taylor, and the Kentucky Colonels' Artis Gilmore. The Nets posted a 101-96 victory, completing a 4-2 series triumph in their ABA Eastern Division semifinal round.

Chippers Win Practice Game

The Morton Chippers won a practice softball game yesterday in the Comanche Trail Park as they tagged Joe Hicks Motor Company, 8-5.

The Chippers poured it on in the third inning when they utilized five hits to push seven men around the plate for scores. Joe Hicks rallied in the fifth inning to score four runs off two hits, but the rally fizzled in the sixth inning.

Cotton Mize the winning pitcher, held the losers to six hits.

The Morton Chippers will play a double-header with Webb AFB's softball team at Webb's field at 7:00 p.m. Saturday.

Foreman Has Longer String

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Top-ranking heavyweight George Foreman ran his unbeaten streak to 35 in a row as he scored a second-round knockout over Ted Gullick in a scheduled 10-rounder Monday night at the Forum.

Foreman, 218, a 1968 Olympic fighter who turned pro in 1969, connected with body shots in the second frame. Gullick could not take the pressure, went to his knees and was counted out.

In the first round, Foreman seemed to be content to pace himself, throwing an occasional jab. But in the second, the Hayward, Calif. heavyweight wore his lighter opponent down with tremendous body punches. Gullick weighed in at 200.

The Cleveland, Ohio fighter is 21-10-1.

Foreman, who is looking for a shot at world champion Joe Frazier, is 35-0 with 32 knockouts.

Allison Winner In Tennessee

BRISTOL, Tenn. (AP) — Bobby Allison of Hueytown, Ala., says he was "running almost as strong at the finish as when I started," and he had 29 drivers well behind him in the 12th annual Southeastern 500 NASCAR Grand National stock car race to prove it.

Roberson Named Coach At Anson

ANSON — Jack Roberson, formerly of Valley Mills, has been named head coach and athletic director at Anson High School.

The 36-year-old mentor is a graduate of Valley Mills High School, Navarro Junior College and Howard Payne College.

He coached in Irving for six years before moving back to Valley Mills. His team lost to Crowley in the playoffs last fall.

IN PENSION DISPUTE

New Money Offer

NEW YORK (AP) — Baseball's player representatives were to meet today to discuss a new money offer in the pension dispute that has caused the sport's first general strike and delayed the opening of the season almost a week.

Meanwhile, a split developed in the ranks of the once-adamant owners over the issue of back pay to players for days lost to the strike, which the head of the striking Major League Baseball Players Association called "a terrible, terrible roadblock" to a settlement.

GARDEN CITY — The girls' track team poses for a group picture in the Permian Belle Relays held last weekend. Garden City finished in a tie for third place in the meet. The Bearcats tied with San Angelo Lake View.

ATTEMPT TO BLOCK ELECTION

Chile Will Accuse U. S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ignoring U.S. denials of wrongdoing, Chile will formally accuse the United States of attempting to block the election of President Salvador Allende, Chile's undersecretary for foreign affairs, Anibal Palma, said in an interview Monday.

Palma, head of the Chilean delegation to an OAS general assembly meeting which opens today, said he will outline his charges in a speech before the assembly Friday.

The documents, released last month by columnist Jack Anderson, indicate that ITT made repeated efforts to persuade the U.S. government to head off Allende's installation as president in November 1970.

One document alleges that ITT was prepared to assist in sums up to seven figures to prevent Allende's election and thereby salvage the firm's multimillion-dollar business interests in Chile.

The documents indicate there was support from some State Department and Central Intelligence Agency officials for a stop-Allende campaign. Other officials named in the documents are depicted as being flatly opposed to any such campaign.

State Department officials, while acknowledging privately that ITT sought U.S. support to prevent Allende's election, have said publicly that the United States made no attempt to influence Chile's electoral process.

In the interview, Palma evaluated the documents:

"Even if we give the documents the most benevolent interpretation, in the sense that the United States did not support the purposes of ITT, there is nothing in the memoranda which indicates there was a single warning to the company that its activities constituted an intervention in the internal affairs of Chile," he said.

This, he said, would constitute a violation of Article 18 of the OAS charter, which says: "No state or group of states has the right to intervene, directly or indirectly, for any reason whatever, in the internal or external affairs of any state."

Newspaper Strike In Chattanooga

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — Violence and vandalism directed against non-striking employees of The Chattanooga News-Free Press continued with increasing intensity Monday, the newspaper reported.

A shower of metal balls fell into the parking lot in the pre-dawn hours, denting metal, cracking windows and narrowly missing employees arriving for work, according to a story in News-Free Press Monday editions.

In a full-page advertisement in the same editions, the newspaper offered a $1,700 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of any persons responsible for "repeated acts of vandalism and violence." The newspaper is posting $1,000 of the reward money, with the balance put up by businessmen and citizens, the ad said.

Union officials deny any involvement with the incidents.

Y Art Workshop Starts April 17

The YMCA will sponsor an art workshop starting April 17 at the YMCA and continuing through May 10.

The eight-lesson course will be held each Monday and Wednesday, 4:30-5:30 p.m. for three weeks.

The co-ed classes are for youngsters age 8-12 years of age. Instruction will include sketching, drawing, shading, forms, paintings with tempera and water-colors.

The instructor will be Mrs. Gary Oxley. The fee is $6 for members and $10 for non-members. The fee does not include the cost of materials.

Dr. Hardin New SMU President

DALLAS (AP) — Southern Methodist University's sixth president, Dr. Paul Hardin III, takes over here July 1, replacing Dr. Willis Tate.

Hardin, currently president of Wofford College at Spartanburg, S.C., was elected president of SMU Monday by the school's board of trustees, ending a four month nationwide search for a new chief executive.

Tate has been president since last November, and chancellor for the past 18 years. Tate will continue in his role as chancellor.

"I met with the presidential search committee for every meeting," said Bishop Kenneth Pope, board of trustees chairman, "and I must say I could not be happier over our choice, both for SMU and for the church."

William P. Clements Jr., chairman of the search committee and chairman of SMU's

Board of Governors, said: "We've got our first choice after a long, thorough search. I am extremely pleased."

"Words are inadequate to express my joy in finding someone so ably qualified to lead SMU. Paul Hardin, III, is a first-class educator, an able administrator, and a fine churchman. It will be a privilege to work with him in the interest of Southern Methodist University," Tate said.

The search committee's nine trustees and their 14 advisers screened 172 names proposed by members of the SMU community, its alumni, and the general public. The entire committee met with Dr. Hardin in late March and then unanimously recommended his election.

The search committee also was advised by three students, two alumni, two deans, and two of SMU's vice presidents. Hardin earned his baccalaureate degree in English and election to Phi Beta Kappa at Duke University.

Two years later, in 1954, he received his doctor of jurisprudence degree from Duke's School of Law, where he was graduated first in his class.

From 1954 to 1956, Hardin served with the Army Counter Intelligence Corps. He was engaged in private law practice in 1954 and, from 1956 to 1958, was associated with the firm of Bradley, Arant, Rose and White of Birmingham, Ala.

Ask Forgiveness

Jean Adams' TEEN FORUM

SHE SAID NO: (Q.) Before I met the girl I am having trouble with now, I had a quite intimate series of dates with another girl. I wanted the same kind of thing with this girl, but she didn't. We had many arguments about sex. The last fight was a big one and it broke us up. Since then I have changed a lot. I know it was all my fault. I have a very strong feeling for her still and I would like to get back with her even if it takes a long time. But my friends tell me I am nuts to wait. What do you think? — Wisner in Washington State.

(A.) If you mean you are willing to wait for her on her own terms, I say good. Write a warm letter asking her forgiveness. Then after a couple of weeks call and ask her for a date. If she is undecided, promise her you won't argue with her about anything. If she says yes, keep your promise.

PALEFACE: (Q.) My friends all call me "Paleface" because I have the whitest skin. What can I do to make it darker? — Milky in Maryland.

(A.) Pale beauty has been celebrated by poets and singers through the ages. Do not be ashamed of it or apologize for it.

When you want or need a darker glow you can use a bronzer stick — either alone or under make-up. Be sure to blend it in carefully at your neck so that the white skin won't show.

Foster Recovers From His Injury

TOKYO (AP) — Heavyweight boxer Mac Foster of Fresno, Calif., spent three days in a hospital because of injuries he received in a fight with Muhammad Ali here April 1 but he now is fully recovered, Japanese promoters of the bout reported today.

Foster was not available for comment and a receptionist at his hotel said he had been out since morning.

Officials of Prime Organization said Foster, who lost a unanimous 15-round decision to Ali, was hospitalized Friday because of internal nose and eye bleeding.

Officials said Foster, 29, was hospitalized after he suffered no head injuries, and he planned of feeling physically unwell was discharged from the hospital during a sightseeing tour of Tokyo Monday. Foster expects to return to western Japan after the fight.
