Seventeen States Are Shaken By Tremblers

VAST AREA DISTURBED BY SHOCKS TODAY; DAMAGE SLIGHT

BY RONALD DIXON

(Copyright, 1935, by Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Nov. 1—The east's most serious earthquake in decades rolled across 17 states and three Canadian provinces early today, but the damage was trifling.

Thousands of persons fled from their homes, many of them in night clothes, as they feared a trembler such as wrought havoc at Helena, Mont.

Centered In Canada

The quake apparently centered in Canada, a short distance north of Lake Ontario. It caused the most excitement in populous upstate New York, where from Albany to Buffalo sturdy buildings were swayed.

Swinging mirrors and clattering dishes were reported from the Bay of Fundy to Lake Michigan, from Canada's capital to the District of Columbia.

Completed Triangle

The temblors—there were two major ones scant minutes apart—completed a triangle of earthquakes on the continent.

Two men were killed in Helena yesterday by shocks which rocked a 500-mile area in western United States and Canada. Far south in Honduras, quakes added to the horror of floods.

Seismologists expressed the belief that the widespread disturbances were merely coincidental.

FDR Asks For Aid

President Roosevelt from his home in Hyde Park, N. Y.—in the area affected—called on the Red Cross, the army and the PERA to speed relief to families left homeless in sub-zero weather at Helena.

Dr. L. C. Conant, director of the Cornell university seismological station, said the first shock reached Ithaca, N. Y., at 1:04:44 a. m., eastern standard time, and the main shock hit at 1:06, lasting for 30 seconds.

Worst Ever

"It was the worst earthquake we have ever had here," he said. "It was much worse than the one in 1925."

The populace agreed with him.

Families in many communities ran from home as their bedsprings swung uncannily and buildings creaked. They swamped police station and newspaper telephones with pleas for information and reassurance. They stood half-dressed on street corners to tell how pictures moved and cups clattered.

All Reported Well

In Brooklyn, N. Y., police hastened to check upon four houses reported ready to collapse. Subway trackwalkers double-quicked along

SNAPPY REMARK

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1 (AP) — The earthquake did not shake the White House, but it gave the man at the executive mansion's telephone switchboard a chance to make a snappy remark.

When reporters telephoned to say that a quake was felt over much of the country, he said:

"Business ought to be good in the churches next Sunday. A fright like that will send a lot of sinners to church."

Monday Is Set Aside As "Will Rogers Day" Over Texas By Gov. Allred

TEXANS URGED TO CONTRIBUTE TO MEMORIAL FUND; BANKS HERE TO TAKE SUBSCRIPTIONS

Monday has been set aside as a memorial day for Will Rogers, lovable cowboy humorist and philosopher, according to a proclamation by Governor James V. Allred.

Governor Allred, in his proclamation of "Will Rogers day," urged Texans to contribute to the Will Rogers Memorial Fund.

Lubbock's three banks, First National, Citizens National, and Lubbock National, will accept deposits for the memorial fund, it was said this morning by Chas. A. Guy, who has been appointed vice chairman of the campaign in Lubbock county.

The movement to immortalize Will Rogers is nation wide, November 4 is the birthday of the late comedian.

Governor Allred's proclamation follows:

Friday, August 16, 1935, Will Rogers died. Idol of America, beloved by all who knew him, his untimely passing brought a greater sense of individual loss and sorrow to every American citizen than any

Weather Cold, Rainy In Texas

MERCURY TUMBLES TO 32 AT AMARILLO; RAINS FALLING

(By The Associated Press)

Cold, rainy weather, with freezing temperatures in the north, invaded Texas today.

The mercury tumbled to 32 at Amarillo last night as a "norther" blowing off the Rockies moved into the state. Other Panhandle points likewise felt the first sting of approaching winter. Pampa's low was 33.

Rains Over State

Drizzling rains were general over the state, while in the eastern part, precipitation was heavier. Tyler reported 2.1 inches.

A sudden temperature drop of 29 degrees was reported at Paris, accompanied by a light rain. Sherman's temperature fell from 77 to 46 since 8 a. m.

42 Minimum Here

At San Angelo the temperature dropped sharply to 54. Lubbock's minimum was 42 and Abilene's 46—a drop of 36 degrees from a high of 82 yesterday.

Waco's minimum at 7 a. m. was 63 and the temperature continued to fall. Rainfall at Waco was .02 of an inch.

SLIGHT RISE IN TEMPERATURE HERE

Mist and threatening weather, combined with a slight rise in temperature from the minimum of the night, marked the weather in Lubbock at noon today.

Shortly before noon the mercury at the state experiment sub-station had risen from 42, minimum during the night, to 47, Superintendent Don L. Jones reported. Yesterday's maximum was 78, a fall of 36 degrees coming during the night.

Freezing Forecast

Weather forecast for today: West Texas, cloudy in southeast and south central portions, freezing in north portion tonight.

Railroad dispatchers said there had been no reports of moisture of any kind during the night.

Saturday, Nov. 2, is the average

BUT NO DICE

Negro's Pockets Yield Everything From Soup To Nuts

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 1 (AP)—A police "shakedown" of James Davis, a negro, disclosed his pockets contained:

Two buckles, two cans of tobacco, two Sunday school papers, a Bible, a thimble, fish line, lace, buttons, five packages of matches, a can of snuff, a dessert recipe book, a letter entitled "how to receive salvation," a box of paper clips, 20 assorted pills, three mirrors, an eraser, a lady's handkerchief, half a box of flea powder, half a dozen spoons, a box of safety pins, 10 razor blades, a few other gimcracks, and a razor—but no dice.

INJURED ARE RECOVERING

BUS AND CAR CRASH NEAR O'DONNELL LATE THURSDAY

LAMESA, Nov. 1. (Special)—Four persons seriously injured in a bus-automobile collision 2 miles south of O'Donnell about 9 o'clock last night were believed to be recovering today, their physicians reported. At least two other persons were less seriously hurt.

The injured were:

Edwin Forrest, 16, son of S. L. Forrest, Lamesa, fractured skull.

Dwight Morris, 17, son of J. L. Morris, Lamesa, head and face lacerations.

Naomi Macklin, 17, a niece of C. C. Coleman, Lamesa, fractured skull, a fractured nose, and lacerations.

LaNelle Bartlett, 17, a daughter of Wade H. Bartlett, Lamesa, severe scalp injuries

CONFERENCE IS HELD HERE TODAY

More than 50 pastors and laymen of the Lubbock Methodist district had arrived before noon for their last meeting of the conference year, conducted in Asbury Methodist church. Dr. W. M. Pearce, presiding elder, expected a total of 75 before end of the meeting this afternoon.

Luncheon was served at noon at the church by women of the church. Program for luncheon hour included a discussion by laymen on "The Kind of a Pastor I Desire Next Year" and one by pastors on "The Appointment That I Would Like to Have."

Wives of pastors of the district were guests of Mrs. Pearce, 1724 Broadway, for lunch.

Reports of status of the churches of the district are being given. The conference year will end when the annual conference is conducted Nov. 13 in Plainview.

Local Students Put Austin At Head Of List

Stephen F. Austin headed the list of 10 noted Texans chosen by Lubbock High school students Monday through Thursday. The students chose the Texans at the request of Texas State College for Women (CIA), which has asked Texas high schools to help select 10 members for its Hall of Fame.

Others Texans, in the order chosen, were: Sam Houston, David Crockett, James Bowie, Moses Austin, W. B. Travis, James Hogg, Robert LaSalle, Ben Milam and Mirabeau Lamar.

Thomas Lubbock, Charles Goodnight and General MacKenzie, although not included in the list of 10, will be given honorable mention when the list is sent to the college.

E. J. Lowery, instructor in American history, was in charge of voting.

District Group Of FFA Unit Planned

"Green-hand" members of eight Future Farmers of America chapters will organize a district group this evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Texas Technological college livestock pavilion.

Chapters, who will be accompanied by sponsors, will be from Shallowater, Frenship, Wilson, Anton, Roosevelt, Ropesville, New Deal and McAdoo.

O. T. Ryan, vocational agriculture supervisor of this area, and C. Luker, vocational agriculture teacher trainer, will be in charge of the meeting.

Joint Conference Is Planned In 1936

HENDERSON, Nov. 1 (AP)—The Texas conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, adopted a resolution at its opening session Thursday providing for a joint meeting of the conference in Texas in 1936.

The resolution provided that the site of the joint meeting would be selected by the joint board of commissioners.

VANDALISM OCCURS IN LUBBOCK LAST NIGHT IN HALLOWE'EN OBSERVANCE

Vandalism occurred in several sections of Lubbock last Hallowe'en, despite efforts to foster a safe and sane observance.

One downtown building was smeared with lubricating oil, several streets were barricaded with garbage containers and barrels, and at least one person was injured.

Man Knocked Down

T. M. Wells was knocked down and injured at Nineteenth street and Avenue Q last night when a pumpkin hurled from a truck containing boys and girls struck him in the stomach, police reported.

A silver-colored American Austin, a midget automobile, was reported stolen from near the boys' dormitory at Texas Technological college last night. Police today had not learned whether the car had been stolen or had been carted away by pranksters.

Thefts Reported

Thieves also found opportunity under cover of the din raised by legitimate celebrators. An icebox and two cases of carbonated beverages were stolen from 2300-block Nineteenth street. Cecil Maars of Denver, Colo., told police that some one

PEACE BEING CONSIDERED

ITALY IS SAID TO BE READY FOR PLAN

BUT TENSION STILL IS PREVAILING IN EAST AFRICAN DISPUTE

BY DALE HARRISON

Associated Press Staff Writer

Italy went to Geneva today talking peace.

"We are not running after peace," said a Mussolini spokesman at the League of Nations headquarters, "but we are not refusing to negotiate."

There had been heard earlier some talk that with the sabre of sanctions hanging over his head, Premier Mussolini was even ready to consider withdrawing from such border conquests as his armies have made in Ethiopia; but this was not borne out in the unofficial statement of his spokesman at Geneva who said:

Should Consider Needs

"Any peace terms, to be acceptable to us, must recognize first our security needs and second our expansionist requirements. That means . . . the actual territory so desperately needed for the expansion of our people."

A Jesuit publication in Rome, Civilta Cattolica, suggested an Italian mandate over Ethiopia would be a proper solution. There was nothing whatever to substantiate any belief that Civilta Cattolica was speaking for the head of the church.

To Fix Date

The League of Nations assembly met in committee to fix the date for application of the economic

FOURTEEN MEN ARE INDICTED

CHARGES OF FRAUD IN SALE OF ROYALTIES FILED TODAY

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1—Fourteen men were indicted by the District of Columbia grand jury today on mail fraud charges growing out of the sale of oil royalties and deeds, from two counties in Oklahoma and Texas.

Each was indicted on eighteen counts and they were named together in one count of conspiracy to use the mails to defraud. The government contended the men fleeced several score persons in six states of at least $500,000.

Are Listed

Those indicted were: Thomas J. Wightman, Reese Warde, D. M. Ryan, John Perry, J. Bolton, and Bruno Cohn, all of Washington; J. C. Verser, E. C. Clay, and Chauncey H. Black, all of Oklahoma City; A. C. Montell, jr., New York City; Louis Natelson, Boston; John Zimmerman, Brunnerville, Pa.; and H.

Rock Hurled Into Cab Hurts Trainman

HILLSBORO, Nov. 1 (AP) — Lee Young of Denison, Missouri-Kansas-Texas railroad fireman, was under treatment today for head injuries received last night when he was struck by a rock hurled into the cab of his locomotive as it passed through the Fort Worth yards.

It was believed a Hallowe'en prankster threw the rock.

The train, a crack freight, was halted and Young was given first-aid treatment by fellow workmen.

He attempted to continue his run but collapsed before the train reached here. Physicians had feared he had a fractured skull.

MAN IS EXECUTED

TUCKER PRISON FARM, Ark., Nov. 1 (AP)—Declaring that another man was guilty of the crime, 35-year-old Frank Dobbs died in the Arkansas electric chair early today for the murder of Miss Pannie Orr, 51-year-old spinster.

TEXAS WOMAN INJURED IN ONE CAR CRASH, IS CRUSHED TO DEATH BY ANOTHER ON SPOT

(By The Associated Press)

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 1 (AP)—Already injured in an automobile accident, Mrs. Jack Reed, 31, was crushed to death early today by the impact of a third car which crashed into her where the first accident had happened but a few minutes before.

The woman was a passenger in the automobile driven by her husband, Jack Reed, when it and a car driven by Moses Lee, a Civilian Conservation corps enrollee at Fort Sam Houston, collided.

After the wreck, Mrs. Reed got out of the car into the street preparatory to going to the hospital, according to police.

A passing automobile struck her and knocked her through the air for some thirty feet.

The driver of the automobile which struck Mrs. Reed was described by police as a Randolph Field soldier. He was booked for negligent homicide.

U.S. Shipments To Italy Are Continued In Spite Of President's Warning

STATE DEPARTMENT'S REPORTS REVEALS FLOW OF GOODS

(Copyright, 1935, by Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1 (AP)—The state department possesses reports that a heavy volume of American goods has been flowing to Italy this month, despite repeated administration efforts to "discourage" such trade.

This authoritative disclosure threw light upon the unusual actions of President Roosevelt and Secretary Hull in turning on their heaviest pressure against transactions of any nature whatever with the Italo-Ethiopian belligerents.

Volume Not Revealed

The exact volume of recent trade with Italy was not revealed. It was stated reliably, however, that a "large number" of American shipments had gone to that warring nation since the chief executive's Oct. 5 pronouncement of a trade-with-belligerents-at-your-own-risk policy.

It was learned further that officials consider the present data, although showing much activity, is not sufficient to establish definitely whether these consignments are above normal. Trade with Ethiopia was shown to have been small.

Uncover Breakdown

The commerce department uncovered a breakdown of September trade figures with Italy—the month

Shearer Extradition Granted By Allred

AUSTIN, Nov. 1. (AP)—Governor James V. Allred today granted the request of the governor of California for the extradition of William B. Shearer, 74, held in Fort Worth in connection with a $24,000 shortage in the California state treasury.

District Attorney Otis D. Babcock of Sacramento, Calif., and a deputy, Francis O'Shea, who presented the request, planned to leave immediately for Galveston and so return to Fort Worth in a day or two.

Freighter Rammed And Sunk In Lake

PORT HURON, Mich., Nov. 1 (AP)—The Norwegian freighter Viator was at the bottom of Lake Huron today, rammed and sunk, Capt. G. J. Steffensen of the Viator said, by the motorship Ormidale in a dense fog.

The crew of 18 was taken aboard the Ormidale, without loss of life.

FOR PRESIDENT

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Nov. 1. (AP)—Gerald L. K. Smith, (below) Share-The-Wealth disciple of the late Huey P. Long, has become a self-avowed Democratic candidate for president.

He announced last night he would enter the Democratic preferential primary early next year in Georgia—the stronghold of Governor Eugene Talmadge, who also is considered a possible Democratic starter.

"Who knows?" mused Smith with a shrug. "I may be the next president of the United States. Stranger things have happened."

Patrolman Says Speeders To Face State Prosecution

Motorists and truckers who speed on the state's highways will be prosecuted, W. E. Renfrow of the state highway patrol said here this morning.

Maximum speed permitted automobiles on the highways is 45 miles per hour. The maximum speed for trucks is 25 miles, Renfrow pointed out. He said speeders would be arrested and prosecuted.

The campaign against speed-demons is part of a state-wide drive to reduce automobile and truck fatalities.

ADMINISTRATION'S DRIVE TO BOOST PRICES IS STILL FAR SHORT OF GOAL

BY NATHAN ROBERTSON

Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1. (AP)—The administration's two-year-old drive to raise the price level was still far short today of the original goal—the 1926 level.

Two years ago President Roosevelt inaugurated his move to depreciate the dollar by purchasing gold through the Reconstruction Finance corporation. The labor department's wholesale commodity index was then 70.8 per cent of the 1926 level. It is now 80.3.

In August, 1933, before the president announced his monetary plans, the 1926 dollar would buy $1.44 cents worth of wholesale commodities. Today, despite the depreciation moves and talk of inflation, it will still buy $1.34 cents worth of goods.

For the man on the street, that means that he can today get 24 per cent more goods at wholesale for his money than he could in 1926. The same is substantially true of the retail purchasing power of the

HOUSE ARGUES SALARIES OF OFFICIALS

OMNIBUS TAX BILL IS PASSED BY HOUSE ON THURSDAY

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Nov. 1—The senate today passed finally a bill to license all drivers of automobiles and the house started debate on the senate's general officers salary bill after killing a proposed lobby investigation.

Sponsors of drivers licensing rushed the bill through passage, 23 to 5, without amendments. They considered its passage without change materially enhanced chances for enactment.

Cost 25 Cents

The bill, under which a three-year license would cost 25 cents and present drivers would be exempt from examination, was similar to a conference agreement drafted in the regular session.

A house committee had approved the bill, but house advocates indicated they would await arrival of the senate bill before seeking floor action.

Schedule Meeting

Conferees on the old age pension bill abandoned attempts to complete an agreement this week and scheduled the next meeting for Monday. They awaited detailed advices from the Federal Social Security board concerning suitability of proposed provisions of the state act.

PROTEST MADE TO HOPKINS

TERMINATION OF STATE RELIEF ON NOV. 15 DRAWS CRITICISM

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Nov. 1—The senate today protested to Harry L. Hopkins, Federal relief administration, the announced termination of direct federal aid in Texas Nov. 15.

Hopkins said in Washington yesterday that Texas was one of 20 states in which federal dole for direct relief would be ended at midmonth.

Charged 'Grossly Unfair'

Senator W. R. Poage of Waco charged the action was "grossly unfair" inasmuch as Texas had supplied $20,000,000 state funds, while other states still granted federal aid had not put up any.

The resolution urged continuation of aid in Texas until the various work agencies actually put men to work.

"These projects in paper stages are not helping the poor people on relief," Poage said.

He mentioned as a discrimination continuation of relief in Kansas.

"Don't you know Kansas is a doubtful state?" asked Lieut.-Gov. Walter Woodul.

Pioneer Ice Man Of Southwest Dies

TERRELL, Nov. 1 (AP)—William Harvey Dawley, 71, co-founder with his brothers of a chain of ice and refrigeration plants operating in Texas, Oklahoma and Arkansas, died here today of heart disease.

He moved to Texas in 1886 from Kentucky and had resided at Denison, Dallas, Paris, Kansas City, McAlester, Okla., and Terrell. He had been in the ice manufacturing business more than 50 years. He formerly served as president of the chamber of commerce here.

JEWS GOING HOME

JERUSALEM, Nov. 1 — (Palcor Agency)—Immigration into Palestine reached a new record in the history of the country with the immigration of 52,000 Jews during the first ten months of 1935. This is an increase of 10,000 Jewish immigrants over the total number for 1934.

SUIT IS TO BE FILED TODAY IN COURT

EIGHT RESIDENTS ARE PROTESTANTS ON RECENT VOTING

Suit to contest the Oct. 3 election, in which a $1,200,000 gas revenue bond issuance carried by a vote of 800 to 776, will be filed in 99th district court this afternoon, it was revealed today.

Bearing the names of eight Lubbock residents, notice of intent to contest the result of the election

The petition bringing the gas revenue bond election into court was filed at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon, U. Brown, deputy district clerk, reported.

had been served on Mayor Ross Edwards and Commissioners J. C. Royalty, A. J. Richardson and W. B. Price late Thursday.

Ten Counts In Petition

Ten counts for contesting the election were contained in the notice, to which signatures of O. L. Slaton, Oscar L. Nislar, J. B. Edwards, J. H. Bryan, E. K. Hufstedler, W. S. Posey, S. E. Cone, and B. T. Hambright were attached.

Attorneys George R. Bean and Robert H. Bean, who had drawn up the petition, said that the notice had been filed first with Mayor Edwards by Constable J. C. Roberts about 4:30 p. m. Thursday.

Agreement Unlikely

Petition which will be filed in district court this afternoon is returnable during the January 14 term of court, unless an agreement is reached between parties to the suit. Such an agreement is unlikely, it was said today by representatives of the plaintiffs.

Illegality Charged

In the ten counts on which contestants dispute the election, numerous persons are named as allegedly casting a vote for the bonds illegally because of the reasons named:

First—because such persons were not residents of the City, residing outside the city limits, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Dillard, Mr. and Mrs. Bryan B. Dillard, W. D. Benson, sr., and Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Benson, jr.

Second—because the following named persons were not qualified to vote as they had not "duly rendered" taxable property owned by them in the city to the assessor for the year 1935, but had rendered property long after the time for rendering property for taxation for the year 1935 had passed, and such renditions were made after the tax rolls for the City of Lubbock had been made up:

Mrs. J. E. Low, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Sloan, Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Summerville, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Davis, Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Malone, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Davis, Melvin Barton, Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Hutson, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Heald, R. L. Stovall, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Barbee, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Davis, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Goforth, H. T. Kimbro, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Davis, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Kirkland, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Ross, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Moreland and R. C. Stark.

Did Not Meet Ordinance

The petition read, "Votes of the foregoing persons were illegal because said persons did not comply with an ordinance of the City of Lubbock (Art. 9, ordinance 15) which provides in substance that every person owning property in the city on Jan. 1 each year, shall within two months after published notice, in the manner required by the ordinance of the City and general laws of the State of Texas, hand in to the assessor of the City a full and complete inventory of the property possessed by him within the city limits."

"On the other hand they made a rendition of property on or near the date of the election, and did not "duly render" same as required by law and city ordinance, and merely made the rendition in order to vote in said election, and not for the purpose of becoming a taxpayer as contemplated by the constitution and laws of Texas, and such conduct was and is a fraud upon the bona fide resident taxpayers of the City, who duly rendered their property, and whose property will be liable and compelled to stand for, guarantee, and perhaps have to pay the bonds

"Yellow Peril" Is Moving Southward On Mexican Coast

BROWNSVILLE, Nov. 1 (AP)—The "yellow peril," which moved in from the gulf in this section leaving millions of dead fish in its path has struck the coast of Mexico at Tampico and down to Vera Cruz, reports reaching here state.

The strange marine condition which strikes death to everything in its path in the ocean waters and leaves a heavy irritating gas along the shore is attracting much attention in Mexico.

The report said also that people driving along the beaches at Tampico and Vera Cruz suffered from gas odors and that fish were solid on the beach a sthey were on Padre Island a month ago, and on the coast of northern Mexico several weeks ago.

The oysterious yellow substance was first noticed near Corpus Christi early this summer. It has been steadily moving south, apparently with the action of the gulf currents in the fall and winter, leaving great masses of dead marine life where it strikes.

The water turns a yellowish colpr and a strong gas, identified by many as sulphur dioxide gas, is noticed along shore where the fish die.

MORE BIDS SET

FORT WORTH, Nov. 1 (AP)—Setting of bids openings for Nov. 15 on four more PWA projects made a total of seven openings for that day, believed to be a record for a single day's bid openings on PWA projects in Texas.

Additional openings set for Nov. 15 included: Temple school, $50,000.

MEETING CALLED

AUSTIN, Nov. 1. (AP)—F. E. Nichols, labor commissioner and director of the Texas State Employment service, has called the state advisory council's first meeting for Nov. 9 at Dallas.

I FEEL FINE

Mothers read this:

A CONSTIPATED child is so easily straightened out, it's a pity more mothers don't know the remedy.

A liquid laxative is the answer, mothers. The answer to all your worries over constipation. A liquid can be measured. The dose can be exactly suited to any age or need. Just reduce the dose each time, until the bowels are moving of their own accord and need no help.

This treatment will succeed with any child and with any adult.

Doctors use liquid laxatives. Hospitals use the liquid form. If it is best for their use, it is best for home use. And today, there are fully a million families that will have no other kind in the house.

The liquid laxative generally used is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It is a doctor's prescription, now so widely known that you can get it all ready for use at any drugstore.

Blondes Need Not Fear Dangerous Thirties Explains Veree Teasdale

BY ALICIA HART
NEA Service Staff Writer

"A blonde who wishes to remain golden and glamorous through the years has to give her skin and hair special attention," warns Verree Teasdale whose own appearance is proof that a blonde need not fade after thirty.

"She must use the right creams for skin lubrication, avoid overexposure to sunshine and get enough sleep," Miss Teasdale continued.

"On my own skin, I use a buttermilk mask twice a week. After thorough cleansing, I pat on the buttermilk, let it dry for twenty minutes and wash off first with warm, then with cold, water. Next I apply a rich tissue cream and pat it in with my fingertips. All blondes should remember to use nourishing cream at night after face and throat has been cleaned and again in the morning before makeup is applied. Dryness is a fair skin's greatest enemy."

Then Miss Teasdale went on to talk about the value of healthy circulation. She has a back and neck massage three times a week and thinks that blondes who can't have professional massage treatments ought to do daily exercises to take the place of them.

If you have light hair, remember, of course, the value of lemon rinses. When you have washed your hair twice and rinsed it several times, put the juice of two fresh lemons in a bowl of warm water and rinse with this mixture. Then rinse again with clear water. Brush every night, and be sure to wipe the brush after each stroke.

OIL INDUSTRY BRIGHTENS

RISING PRICES WITH RECORD CONSUMPTION BRINGS RESULT

BY JOHN JAMESON
Associated Press Staff Writer

TULSA, Okla., Nov. 1 (AP)—Rising prices, continued record consumption on gasoline and prospects of increased field activities put the oil industry in a much better humor during the week.

Advances in crude prices came in two areas, bright stock was up another half cent and the refinery market more than held its own far after the date it ordinarily softens in anticipation of the winter slump.

Pennsylvania Increases

Crude increases were in Pennsylvania, where all grades were up 15 cents, and in California. In the latter state two larger purchasing companies boosted prices on an average of 55 cents a barrel to a level five cents higher than was in effect previous to the last cut. This advance was in the face of another increase in production in California, which was blamed for the price cut. Standard Oil had not fallen in line on the boost.

The Pennsylvania hike was credited to the booming market for bright stock, the base for lubricating oil. Bright stock was up another half-cent, putting the mid-continent level to 17 cents a gallon and observers were of the opinion that the new increases in crude prices would hike the Pennsylvania bright stock price soon.

The continued strength of the refinery market was one of the most significant, if not the most important, phases of the improved situation.

Gasoline prices were strong and unchanged, with the jobber level for third grade at Chicago still at 4 3-4 cents a gallon.

In the mid-continent area refineries were estimated to be operating at 73 per cent of capacity, as compared with approximately 60 per cent at the same time last year, and even with the increased production there was no surplus.

Increased consumption, which it has been estimated will be approximately 9 per cent greater for October 1935 than for October 1934, gave the market its strength.

Inspector Didn't Know A Hen From A Rooster

NEW YORK, Nov. 1 (AP)—Although the park department has sent a portable barnyard through the city in an effort to educate New Yorkers in those matters, the health department was alleged today to have an inspector who can't tell a rooster from a hen.

Rowland Story declared he faced the prospect of losing his permit to keep hens because of complaints about the crowing of his roosters.

An inspector looked over his little flock recently, Story said, but admitted to his daughter that he did not know the difference between a rooster and a hen.

"I have not kept a rooster for five years," Story declared.

STATE BUDGETS GREAT AID

FINANCIAL STATUS OF STATES IMPROVED, SURVEY SHOWS

BY FRANKLIN D. STURDY
Associated Press Staff Writer

(Copyright, 1935, by Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Nov. 1 — Stricter limitation of bonding powers and adoption of "pay as you go" budgets apparently had aided many states to improve their financial standings today over depression year figures.

Results of a survey showed that diminution of ready revenue, taken for granted in the "boom era," spurred legislation in some states for more restricted spending.

Have Cut Expenses

With but few exceptions, the states reduced ordinary expenditures.

In others where balance sheets for 1934 and 35 compared unfavorably with 1929, last of the "easy money" tax years, the difference apparently was traceable to two major causes:

1. Sale of bond issues or extra appropriations for financing large Public Works projects.

2. Indebtedness incurred in raising money for relief purposes.

Kansas Is Example

An outstanding example of the fiscal reforms made necessary by the taxpayers' reduced ability to pay for state outlays was Kansas' "cash basis" law, passed in 1933, prohibiting either state or local governments from going "into the red."

Figures compiled by Kansas' budget director showed a curtailment in expenditures by state and local governments of from $133,612,000 in 1929 to $100,385,000 for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1935.

The state's general revenue fund closed the fiscal year 1929 with an unencumbered cash balance of $2,-160,000. The balance dropped to $376,000 in 1934, then rose to $1,-007,000 in 1935. Kansas' only bonded indebtedness is an issue of $25,-000,000 in soldier bonus bonds, voted in 1922.

Rises In Massachusetts

Massachusetts, where the state's net direct debt rose from $11,181,-794 in 1929 o $15,541,000 in 1934, represented the other side of the story.

The increase was due, officials said, to Public Works construction projects. Special debts of the state's local districts increased from $51,-046,000 in 1929 to $53,643,000 in 1934.

Comparative summaries of other state's finances:

Texas—consolidation of general revenue, school, and pension funds in 1929 showed favorable balance of approximately $3,000,000, 1934, deficit of $11,200,000, 1935, deficit, $6,-500,000.

BRING FISHING

BROWNSVILLE, Nov. 1. (AP)—While the big dredges Orleans and Texas were bringing the sea to Brownsville to give the city deep water commerce, they also were bringing salt water fishing to Brownsville.

The 17-mile channel is expected to furnish some of the best fishing along the coast this winter, and already is proving an attraction to fishermen here.

HIS EXCELLENCY--

Tom Berry has gradually abandoned his cowboy garb since leaving his 30,000 acre ranch in South Dakota's badlands to serve two terms as governor, but he hasn't acquired any "airs." He joined a golf club but drew the line at actually playing. Berry brought the Democrats into power with a 38,000 vote victory in 1932, was reelected by 50,000 in 1934. Sometimes compared to the late Will Rogers in appearance and wit, Berry uses wisecracks in campaigns and has dozens of cowboy stories to illustrate his points. One of the lines used in his first campaign for governor—"There's so much nepotism in Pierre they could have a father and son banquet every night." Berry is called more conservative than the Roosevelt administration he supports. He warned the 1935 state legislature against "easy cure-alls" and "hocus-pocus." He is 56, has two sons and two daughters, all married.

Crude Production Is Unchanged In U. S.

TULSA, Okla., Nov. 1 (AP)—Daily average crude oil production in the United States last week was 2,-825,296 barrels, virtually the same as for the previous week, the Oil and Gas Journal reports. The increase was estimated to be 246 barrels daily.

California was the only state to show an appreciable increase, production advancing to 658,000 barrels from 647,500.

Texas was off 9,772 barrels to 1,-055,176, due to a decline of 12,762 barrels in East Texas.

Production in Oklahoma was down 5,375 barrels to 499,875.

Eastern states, including Michigan, changed little, dropping 518 barrels to 159,262.

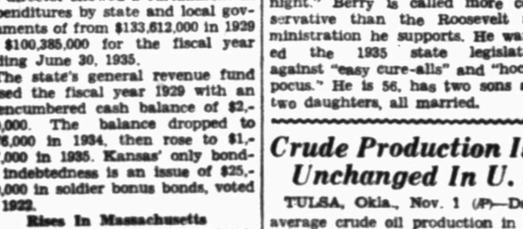

The Rocky Mountain area was up 1,698 to 114,968 barrels and Kansas advanced to 150,950, a gain of 1,-150 barrels.

CHEVROLET TO BE SHOWN

INTRODUCTION OF 1936 CAR IS TO BE MADE IN CITY TOMORROW

Introduction of the 1936 Chevrolet will be made at Kuykendall Chevrolet Co. Saturday and Sunday.

The new model carries one outstanding new feature, perfected hydraulic brakes, in addition to several advancements in styling, engineering and performance.

Changes Mostly Forward

Body changes are mostly in the front, where a higher and narrower radiator grille of distinctive design has been adopted in combination with new treatment of hood louvres, new style headlamps.

The new master de luxe and standard models are distinguished in the 1936 product only by wheelbase length, as the two lines have been made identical by Chevrolet Motor Co. as to major features of styling, engineering and performance.

Other Features Added

A full length water jacket, providing a cooler motor and at the same accelerating starting ease from a cold motor, are other engineering improvements in addition to the hydraulic brakes.

In addition to similar body styles, the standard, in comparison with de luxe models, have motors identical in design and in horsepower and torque. Maximum horsepower has been increased to 79, a raise of 5 h. p.

The front door in all new models has been hinged at the forward body post.

DAVIS HONORED BY FFA CHAPTER

LORENZO, Nov. 1 (Special)—A. B. Davis, manager of the Board of City Development and the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, has been elected an honorary member of the Lorenzo chapter of Future Farmers of America.

His membership card has been issued and an invitation has been extended to him to visit and address the chapter at its next regular meeting. It was pointed out, by Mell Cherry, president of the organization, that it was through Mr. Davis' interest and service that vocational education booths were added to the Panhandle-South Plains fair in 1934 and the amount of premium money doubled in 1935. Also through Mr. Davis' effort and help the Future Farmers are planning extensive exhibits at the Lubbock Quality Meat show in the spring. In nominating Mr. Davis, Cherry said:

One Of Best Friends

"We believe that he is one of our best friends who not only listens to and approves most of our plans but one who actually does something to help us along in our work and we want to recognize such service. This is the highest honor that our organization can bestow on an individual and is not considered lightly by the organization as shown by the fact that we only have one other honorary member and he is R. J. Terrell of Lorenzo, who has two sons enrolled in the department. He has attended a number of our meetings and has never failed to furnish a car when we had to have transportation for officers of the chapter, judging teams, delegates etc., and donated the beef for the Future Farmer banquet last year."

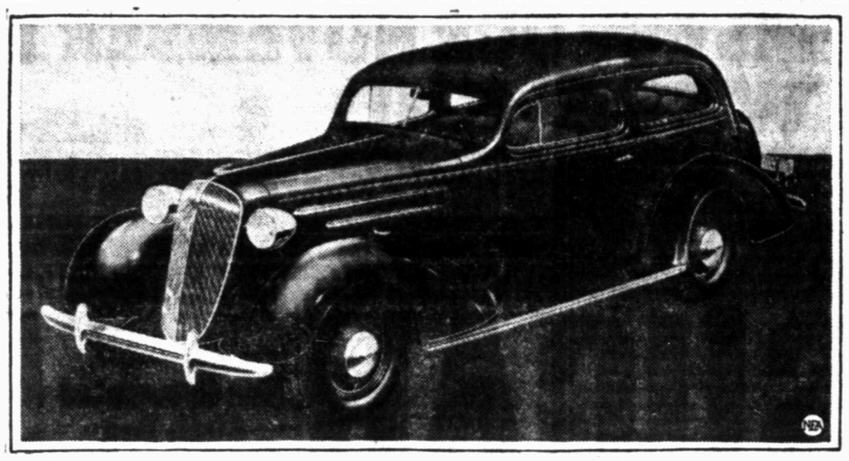

Change Is Made In Farms Department

John K. Wherry, superintendent of Texas Tech farms, has resigned, effective today. R. C. Middleton has been appointed acting superintendent and Lee Rogers, acting dairy cattle herdsman.

Wherry, superintendent of farms for several years, will take a position with the Atlas insurance company at a considerable increase in salary, President Bradford Knapp said. He will be in charge of South Plains work, with headquarters in Lubbock.

Middleton is former dairy herdsman and Rogers a former farms employe.

Kuykendall To Present 1936 Chevrolet Model Saturday

Here's the master de luxe town sedan of the 1936 Chevrolet, models of which will be shown for the first time on the South Plains by the Kuykendall Chevrolet Company tomorrow and Sunday.

MARSE CARTER STARTED OUT HAVING WOMEN SIGN FIRST AND THERE'S YOUR CUSTOM

By The Associated Press

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 1—It's that everlastin' chivalry of the southern gentleman, suh, which gives the names of women to oil wells.

If you've wondered why so many of these wild wells that spout oil and gas bear feminine names, here is one good explanation.

One of the first men to go into the Oklahoma countryside signing up leases on land which was potential oil territory was Charlie Carter, a southern gentleman of the old school, deferent to the ladies, polite in every way.

Asked Wife To Sign First

He found most of the land was in joint deeds, made out in the names of both the husband and the wife. So when Marse Carter pulled out his fountain pen and asked husband and wife to sign on the dotted line, he was always very punctilious about having the lady sign first.

When a producing company goes into a field, it always names the first well in the new location for the first signer of the lease on the land. Thus the feminine names to so many of the discovery wells which run wild in new territory where there is no equipment to shut them.

Carter's custom of having the ladies sign first—incidentally he is still in the industry and now connected with a royalty company—has been followed by other oil men until now it is almost universal practice to have the lady of the family sign the lease first.

Students Invited To Plan Colors

Invitations to plan color schemes for the 33 cottages of the Ropesville Rural community has provided 24 Texas Tech students in a class in interior decoration immediate practical use for their classroom education.

Invitations were given by Mrs. Laura Neale Love, an assistant director of Texas Rural Communities, Inc., and C. T. Watson, field representative.

Study of colors in relation to environment, and harmonizing of the exterior and interior colors will begin in class today, said Miss Martye Poindexter, who will direct the selection. The class and Miss Poindexter, associate professor and acting head of the applied arts department; Miss Margaret Weeks, dean of the home economics division; and Miss Mabel D. Erwin, head of clothing and textiles, visited the community Wednesday.

The students recommended two warm grays and two yellow shades which will be used in painting eight houses. Attempt will be made to give each cottage individuality, although all are built on the same floor plan, said Miss Poindexter.

Colors of interior walls will be decided after floors are stained, the shades of the floors, walls and ceiling blending.

ADDIS ABABA TOURS LISTED

Excursions to the "new Italian Territories in Africa" are being advertised by all leading Italian travel agencies. Visit the former kingdom of the Negus!"

AAA Majority High In Texas Election

COLLEGE STATION, Nov. 1 (AP)—E. M. Regenbrecht, Texas administrative officer for the corn-hog section of the AAA, has announced that a complete preliminary tabulation of Saturday's farmer referendum on continuation of crop control measures showed 84.9 of all Texas voters in favor of the program.

The total vote from the 222 counties in which the election was conducted was 39,790.

The number of contract signers voting was 20,358, or 55.1 per cent of those who signed curtailment contracts. They voted 18,801 yes and 1,557 no, or 92 per cent for continuation.

Non-signers voting numbered 19,432, of whom 14,572 or 75 per cent voted yes and 4,860 no.

Marianne Pech, aged 102, was killed recently at Niedergruno Station, Germany, by a train which she did not hear.

"New Gly-Cas At Mark Halsey Drug Is Greatest Ever"

Hundreds Of Lubbock Residents Laud Gly-Cas As Being Without An Equal; Mrs. J. M. Taylor Freed Of Nervousness, Kidney Disorder and Dizziness When All Else Had Failed

Possibly never before has any medicine received such widespread and sincere praise as is now being accorded this new herbal remedy, Gly-Cas. All over Lubbock and this entire section, hundreds now know from their actual experience that Gly-Cas is no more like ordinary medicines than day is like night. Everyday surprising statements are being received by the Gly-Cas Man at the Mark Hasey Drug Co., 1219 Broadway, where he is meeting crowds of local people and introducing and explaining the action of this new remedy on each individual case.

MRS. J. M. TAYLOR

Read what Mrs. J. M. Taylor, route 5, Lubbock, respected local lady who has lived here for the past 16 years, said of the Gly-Cas' action in her case:

"Gly-Cas gives results," said Mrs. Taylor, "for sometime my stomach had been a constant cause for distress, indigestion after most every meal and I always had to watch my diet. I was badly constipated, took pills and laxatives continually and became terribly nervous. The least noise would upset me and it was almost impossible for me to sleep, then what little sleep I did get was disturbed with night risings. My kidneys were getting me up many times during the night, rest and sleep was broken and my entire system was gradually wearing out. I did not know where to turn next for relief when I began to hear so much praise for Gly-Cas on every side and finally put it to a REAL TEST on my own case—Gly-Cas has merit."

"It is almost unbelieveable how quickly my health was restored by this single medicine Gly-Cas," continued Mrs. Taylor, "why I can eat foods I didn't dare touch before and am never bothered with indigestion afterwards, dizzy spells that nearly had the best of me at times have disappeared. My bowels are regular, nerves quieted and I can now go to bed and sleep fine the entire night through without laying awake for hours. My kidneys are fine, sleep and rest is no longer broken, my former pep and energy has been returned and I feel so well I cannot help telling others of this remarkable remedy. Gly-Cas is one medicine that can be depended upon to give results."

The Gly-Cas Man is daily meeting crowds of local people at the Mark Halsey Drug Co., 1219 Broadway, where he is introducing and explaining the action of this new medical discovery.

DALLAS, Nov. 1 (AP)—The 69th semi-annual reunion of the Scottish Rite Masonic bodies in the Dallas jurisdiction will be held at Scottish Rite cathedral here Nov. 4-7, inclusive. The fall ceremonial of Hella Shrine temple will occur Nov. 8.

Cities and towns in the jurisdiction besides Dallas are: Athens, Corsicana, Denison, Denton, Ennis, Ferris, Gainesville, Gladewater, Grand Saline, Grapevine, Greenville, Henderson, Jacksonville, Kilgore, Kemp, Lancaster, Longview, Marshall, McKinney, Mt. Pleasant, Overton, Paris, Palmer and Pittsburg.

Members of the visiting bodies will greet the new representative for Texas, Walter Calvin Temple, 33rd, of Dallas, who was appointed at the recent meeting of the supreme council at Washington to the post long filled by Sam P. Cochran of Dallas.

MINNEAPOLIS SELECTED AS OPENING BATTLEGROUND AGAINST LABOR REDS

(By The Associated Press)

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 1—This city—scene in the last two years of a series of industrial disturbances that brought four deaths—has been chosen as opening battleground in an American Federation of Labor drive to "purge" labor organizations of "radical communistic groups."

Announcing immediate start of the campaign on instructions from federation President William Green, Meyer Lewis, his representative, declared:

"We hope to throw the spotlight of public opinion on the city and to aim the big guns of the American Federation of Labor to settle once and for all Minneapolis' labor troubles."

Two men were killed a year ago in rioting which grew out of truck drivers strikes. Two more, both bystanders, were killed last summer in a strike of Ornamental Iron Workers. Several weeks ago the Strutwear Knitting plant closed after labor difficulties plant officials charged were communist inspired.

Additional Chairmen In Campaign Named

FORT WORTH, Nov. 1 (AP)—Appointment of ten additional vice chairmen for the Will Rogers Memorial association was announced here today by Amon G. Carter, state chairman.

ADVANCE SEEN IN BUSINESS

BANK'S REPORT TELLS OF INCREASES OVER TEXAS DISTRICT

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, Nov. 1.—A general advance along the united front of business, industry and agriculture is reflected in the monthly business review of the Federal Reserve bank of Dallas.

"A further expansion in retail buying in larger cities and a continuance of generally favorable conditions in the agricultural and livestock industries were significant features of the business and industrial situation in this district during the past month," is the review's summation of the outlook.

Sales Increase

The September sales of department stores increased 41 per cent as compared with August, the review continues, and were seven per cent larger than in the same month last year. The bank's adjusted index of department store sales rose to 91.7 per cent of the 1923-25 average during September, which was 3.4 points higher than in August and the highest reported in more than four years.

In the wholesale trade, there was a considerable lack of uniformity in merchandise distribution. September business was affected adversely by the slow movement of the cotton crop and, in some lines, by the heavy early season purchases. While comparisons with a year ago were unfavorable in some lines it should be recalled, the review explains, that business was unusually heavy at that time. Wholesale collections reflected a seasonal increase over those of the previous month.

Favored By Weather

In the realm of agriculture and stock raising, the review says that all growing crops, except cotton, generally were favored by weather conditions during the last month.

Heavy rains throughout the district were beneficial to late maturing crops, which was reflected in the increased production forecast by the department of agriculture in its Oct. 1 report. "The good surface and subsoil season obtaining has enabled farmers to proceed with fall plowing and seeding operations.

Delayed Harvesting

On the other hand, the cotton crop showed further deterioration, due largely to insect damage, and the wet weather delayed picking and ginning."

The condition of ranges and livestock reflected a marked gain during the past month, the review reports. Prospects for winter pasturage are good in practically all sections and livestock are in better flesh than usual for this season. Commercial reports indicate that range trading has been very active and that wool and mohair has been moving in volume at increased prices.

Loans Lower

The commercial loans of member banks in selected cities reflected a seasonal increase between Sept. 11 and Oct. 9, but on the latter date they were moderately lower than a year ago. Investments of these banks on Oct. 9 were substantially larger than on either comparative date. Federal Reserve bank loans to member banks showed a steady decline during the 31-day period ending Oct. 15.

Building activity reflected a recession from the large August volume. The valuation of building permits issued at principal cities during September, although 47 per cent lower than in August, was 106 per cent larger than in September last year.

To reduce stocks of coal on hand the mining administration of Kailin, China, has suspended work in all mines one day a week.

A Coup Dooms Greek Republic

Royalist were put into power in Greece by a coup that opened the way for return to the throne of former King George. General George Kondylis (left) seized the reins of government. President Alexander Zamis (right) was reported preparing to resign. (Associated Press Photos.)

CITY ENJOINED IN FUNDS TRANSFER

ABILENE, Nov. 1. (AP)—An order making permanent an injunction against the City of Eastland to prevent transfer of approximately $23,000 from interest and sinking funds to the water revenue account of the city was entered here Wednesday in federal court by Judge James C. Wilson.

The original application was filed in the Amarillo division by J. V. Abrahams and others as representatives of a group of bondholders. The city contended that transfer of the funds last September was in repayment of money previously borrowed for the interest and sinking funds from the water revenue account.

SPENDING TO BE ISSUE

NEXT YEAR'S BUDGET MOST IMPORTANT TO PRESIDENT

BY NATHAN ROBERTSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1 (AP)—President Roosevelt's decision on how much to spend for relief next year may be a talking point in the 1936 campaign.

That decision is the most important now facing him in preparing next year's budget. Administration officials have already indicated that expenditures for normal government activities will be about the same as this year's.

Points To Decline

In his recent budget summary, the president said "the prevailing rate of recovery points to the speedy decline of federal expenditures for emergency activities." He said he was seeking to decrease "the spread between income and outgo."

The reply of the American Liberty League, one of the severest critics of the administration's fiscal policies, was that "beyond a general tone of optimism, nothing in the president's comments justifies confidence that the submission of the new budget next January will mark a return to sound fiscal policies."

Notes New Demands

Noting probable new demands for continued heavy spending, the league added, "it is, therefore, apparent that unless underlying policies are sharply changed, there will be a strong tendency to spend as much in (the fiscal year) 1937 as in 1936."

Doubt that emergency expenditures would decrease next year also was expressed by Representative Bolton of Ohio, chariman of the Republican congressional campaign committee.

"I hope they do," Bolton said, "but I understand the administration is planning for new large emergency expenditures in the next budget."

Administration spokesmen say that the curtailment of emergency expenditures depends upon absorption of the unemployed by private industry. They agree that some of the relief spending will have to continue for years, but contend the treasury can stand that in view of expected increases in revenue.

GOVERNMENT CONFRONTS PROBLEM IN ITS LOW-COST HOUSING ACTIVITIES

BY NATHAN ROBERTSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1 (AP)—The inexorable laws of mathematics have raised an important question which the government must answer in its role of builder of homes for the poor.

The problem is this:

Will the slum-clearance, low-cost housing program of the Public Works administration provide homes mainly for the "upper crust" of the slum population, or will it also put a new roof over the heads of people in the "lower depths."

Will Not Pay For Itself

Officials said, in response to questions, that if the poorest of the poor in the blighted tenement districts are to get new homes under the program, then the new housing program will not pay for itself. Government subsidies will be necessary.

They expressed hope, however, that higher income families from the slum districts could pay rentals that would liquidate the government's investment.

Will Average $3,700

About 25,000 family units will be provided in 47 low-cost housing projects under the program. Housing officials have estimated, on the basis of their experience so far, that the cost will average $3,700 a family unit.

Officials would not estimate how much rental would have to be charged to liquidate this cost, and take care of operating expenses, but said they were aiming at rentals of from $4.50 to $7.50 a month, per room, depending upon the section of the country in which the project was located.

RANGERS TO HAVE PART IN CENTRAL CENTENNIAL SHOW

DALLAS, Nov. 1 (AP)—The management committee of the Texas Centennial Central exposition has approved a plan as presented by Ranger Captain Tom Hickman for a Ranger headquarters and exhibit house at the exposition here next year.

"The Texas Centennial concurs with the hundredth anniversary of the Texas Rangers," Hickman said, "so we propose to take a large part in the exposition."

He proposed a log ranch house be built containing a dormitory and Ranger historical exhibit, the building to remain the permanent North Texas headquarters of the Rangers after the exposition closes. He also told Centennial officials that exposition policemen can be commissioned and dressed as Texas Rangers.

Hickman commands the Rangers headquarters troop at Austin.

Johnson Speaks At Canyon On Saturday

CANYON, Nov. 1. (AP)—Gen. Hugh S. Johnson, former chief of the National Recovery administration, will discuss the NRA here Nov. 2 at the twenty-sixth annual homecoming celebration of West Texas State Teachers college.

General Johnson's address at 10:30 a. m. will precede a barbeque, with John Snider, Panhandle "barbecue king" in charge. Barbecued beef, buns, beans, pickles, onions and coffee will be served.

Battle Expected In Clovis Tilt Today

SOONER AGGIES DUE IN CITY LATE TODAY

SQUAD OF 42 COWBOYS ARE PRIMED FOR TECH BATTLE

Fresh memories of Hallowe'en will be revived Saturday night when the black and orange suited Oklahoma Aggies take the field against the Matadors on their home field.

The squad of 42 Cowboys is due to arrive in Lubbock late this afternoon or possibly early tonight in a big motor bus. And the visitors are primed to battle dearly for Oklahoma A. & M.

Tech scouts who have watched the Aggies this season say they make a picturesque and colorful sight in their black and orange suits, black headgear and ebony shoes. They also say that when one of those speedy backs gets loose, he look like a black streak of lightning against a green sky as he scoots for distant points down the field.

They've Got Speed

Line Coach Dutchy Smith has scouted them, and Head Scout Berl Huffman has looked 'em over, and both the Tech coaches came away shaking their heads and wondering if they could prepare a defense to stop the wild ravaging runs of a couple of speed merchants named Gallagher and Wright.

Messrs. Gallagher and Wright—they're not on the starting lineup, but you'll see them come in, wearing Nos. 23 and 47 respectively, when the Aggie offense gets set to go places.

Coach Albert A. Exendine, crafty Delaware Indian who learned the game while winning all-American honors under Pop Warner thirty years ago, naturally favors the Warner system, the double and single wingback style, but in order to build up plays whereby Wright and Gallagher could use their speed, he has turned toward the tricky Notre Dame system.

So it'll be Notre Dame vs. Notre Dame, at least part of the time, tomorrow night.

More Stars

Gallagher and Wright aren't the only stars in the Aggie lineup. The starting backfield has Ben McCammon at quarterback, Ray Bradley and Wilson Dupy at halfbacks and Herman Prichard at fullback, and this is the power backfield, behind a line that is rapidly improving as the season advances.

Stars in the line are Dormer Browning, right guard; L. P. Asbury, all-Missouri Valley end, and Max Loving, center. They may be no better, however, than the rest of the line, which places Joe Byrnes at left end, Jack Sharpe at left tackle, Mark Hodgson at right guard.

With some of their players more badly battred up than was at first thought, Coaches Cawthon and Smith are more than a little worried about tomorrow night's encounter, the first with the Missouri Valley conference team from Stillwater. After Wednesday's hard scrimmage, Tech gridders filed into hospitals and doctors' offices like injured Injuns yesterday, and most of them, the regulars, watched the workout from the sidelines.

Cawthon said, however, that all hands probably would be ready Saturday night, the last night game of the season.

Another Negro By Name Of Lewis Is After Ring Title

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 1 (AP)—John Henry Lewis, the first negro light heavyweight champion since the reign of Battling Siki, turned ambitious eyes today toward the goal of goals of another negro—the world heavyweight title.

The Arizona ebony storm, who gained the light heavyweight crown last night with a smashing victory over Bob Olin, served notice to the fight world that he would be a contender for the title sought by his friend, Joe Louis, Detroit's Brown Bomber.

Louis, who refereed one of the preliminaries, watched from the ringside as John Henry, fighting the most brilliant battle of his career, battered the champion, a slight betting favorite, through 15 frenzied rounds before 8,000 hysterical fans.

Lewis, who turned professional in 1931 but who has been boxing exhibition bouts since he was four years old, won the fight early with a terrific right to the jaw in the fourth round that apparently left Olin slightly dazed for the rest of the encounter.

In the twelfth round Olin, a human punching bag, hung limp and helpless on the ropes from a two-fisted attack to the head but weathered a terrible beating to finish the fight on both feet still trying gamely to connect with a winning punch.

RETAINS TITLE

OCALA, Fla., Uov. 1 (AP)—Bill Sledge, 210-pound former Rice Institute football star, retained his all southeastern championship wrestling belt here last night by defeating Jim Parker, 215, of St. Louis

WESTERNER RESERVES TO BE GIVEN PLAY IN CONTEST

Instead of a scoring spree this afternoon as Lubbock High school's Westerners play their final home game, against the Clovis Wildcats, a tough battle is anticipated.

Reason is that the reserves will be on Matador field at 3 o'clock when the kick-off is scheduled, and they'll still be there at the end of the fourth quarter. Coach Weldon Chapman announced Thursday that his Westerners regulars will be withheld, giving their understudies full charge of the game.

STILL A GOOD LINEUP

In spite of the this and that about today's game, Coach Chapman will put a lineup on the field against Clovis capable of producing real football. All of them have been seen in regular Westerner games, although they haven't played in all the games. Murray Venable, Joe Jones and Harold Ingley might be called regulars. They're playing at right halfback, quarterback and left halfback respectively, with Gordon Kerr at fullback.

In the line, Wayne Sullivan starts at center—he's understudy to Rafe Nabors—and Bob Ritchie plays at left guard. Wilburn Piercey lines up at right guard, with Raymond Blue, left tackle, Sterling Short at right tackle, Ralph Letsinger at left end, Orvalee Oden at right end.

There is a double-barrelled reason for this, and it isn't because Lubbock High does not respect Clovis football, or that Lubbock expects a "set up" this afternoon.

But at the moment, the game of November 11 at Butler Field Amarillo is more in the minds of the high school athletes and coaches and supervisors than anything else. The Westerners, in none too good condition, do not wish to take any chances with Old Man Injury before the Amarillo game. So the No. 1 boys are resting today, recovering from bruises and scratches sustained in the Pampa battle.

The Amarillo Sandies are going the Westerners one better, or one worse — they aren't playing this week at all, although they have been scheduled all season to play the West Texas State Teachers college freshmen team today. The game was cancelled this week, ostensibly so the Sandies could rest for the Lubbock game.

SLATON JUNIORS DEFEAT COWBOYS

SLATON, Nov. 1 (Special)—Sensational long runs for touchdowns in the first and third quarters turned the tables on Lubbock Junior high's Cowboys Thursday afternoon as Slaton Junior high school's Kittens won 13 to 0.

In a previous meeting, on the Lubbock field, Lubbock had won, 13 to 6.

Clinton Bullard, Slaton halfback, crashed through right tackle, fought his way through the Lubbock secondary and scooted 80 yards for the first touchdown. Quarterback Kirkpatrick plunged the line for extra point.

Near the close of the third period, Lubbock was held for downs on the Slaton 10-yard line. Bullard lateralled to Maxey, left end, who in turn lateralled to Kirkpatrick who was off and away, 90 yards to a touchdown. Effort at conversion failed.

The starting lineups:

Lubbock—Ernest Winters and Wayne Johnston, ends; Joe Pytell and M. V. Hutto, tackles; Jerry Nash and Leroy Stewart, guards; Lloyd Sanders, center; Dutchy Cawthon, quarterback; Harold Parsons and O. B. Southard, halfbacks and Howard Alford, fullback. Bill Sessums substituted for Stewart and Hugh Harbert for Southard.

Slaton—Maxey and Waldrop, ends; Tucker and Stotts, tackles; Shelby and Clark, guards; Willmesmir, center; Kirkpatrick, quarter; Bullard and Traweek, halfbacks, and Dickson, fullback.

Beaumont Player Injured Last Night

BEAUMONT, Nov. 1 (AP)—Hallowe'en observance by three youths in the south end residential district last night resulted in the wounding of Joe Broussard, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Broussard, with a charge of bird shot. The youth's legs from ankles to hip were peppered with the shot.

Young Broussard, first string quarterback on a local high school team, will be unable to play any further this season because of the injuries. The shot was fired by a man said to be a distant relative of the boy. No charges will be filed.

Texas State Bridge Tournament Opens

HOUSTON, Nov. 1 (AP)—The third annual tournament of the Texas State Bridge league will open Friday afternoon at the River Oaks Country club here with preliminaries in the men's pair and women's pair events scheduled.

More than 100 Houston players had registered and large delegations were expected from San Antonio, Austin, Fort Worth, Dallas, Brownsville, Galveston, Port Arthur, Beaumont, Wharton and other Texas cities.

THIS WEEK'S PIGSKIN PANORAMA

OHIO STATE, U. C. L. A., DARTMOUTH, L. S. U., PENN, ARMY, NORTHWESTERN, S. M. U., T.C. U., NORTH CAROLINA TO WIN

BY HERBERT W. BARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—Spinning the coin on this week's football schedule:

Ohio State-Notre Dame: The football "natural" of the year, a collision between two undefeated and untied arrays, a genuine toss-up despite the prevailing odds in Ohio State's favor. We'll take Ohio State on the theory that the Buckeyes have the greater scoring strength, the more deceptive attack and that they lose little by comparison with the Ramblers on defense.

U. C. L. A.-California: The far western equivalent of the big fuss at Columbus, a battle of undefeated teams. California's six opponents have scored only one touchdown against the Golden Bears so far but it looks as though U. C. L. A., paced by the sensational Chuck Chesire, can break through enough to win. U. C. L. A., by a whisker.

Dartmouth To Win!

Yale-Dartmouth: Earl Blaik's Indians from New Hampshire have the guns to win but they've got to beat the Yale bowl jinx as well as a strong Eli aggregation. Playing the law of averages, Dartmouth to beat Yale for the first time in history.

Louisiana State-Auburn: Those Plainsmen are plenty tough but L. S. U. gets the nod.

Not Since 1928

Fordham-Pitt: No eastern team has beaten Pittsburgh since 1928 and doubt is hereby expressed that Fordham can turn the trick.

Michigan-Penn: Michigan outfucked Columbia a week ago and will take a lot of beating. A ballot for Penn just the same.

Princeton-Navy: That Princeton powerhouse started rolling last Saturday and looks too strong for Navy.

Army-Mississippi State: Ralph Sasse has brought north the team that walloped Alabama but the vote here goes to Army.

Can Practice Offense

Harvard-Brown: After spending three weeks on defense against Holy Cross, Army and Dartmouth, Harvard ought to get a little practice on offense in this one.

Temple-Michigan State: Reserving the right of appeal, Temple, shadily.

Villanova-Detroit: Villanova to reverse last week's result.

In The Face Of A Storm

Minnesota-Purdue: Minnesota, in the face of storm signals.

Northwestern-Illinois: Northwestern, on the basis of the Wildcats' fine showing against Minnesota.

Iowa-Indiana: All together, Iowa.

Tulane-Colgate: Colgate seems the stronger but the Red Raiders won't like the heat at New Orleans. A hesitating ballot for the north.

The Mustangs To Win

Southern Methodist-Texas: The Mustangs of S. M. U.

Baylor-Texas Christian: Christian seems the better of these two unbeaten outfits.

West Virginia-Washington and Lee: West Virginia.

Alabama-Kentucky: Can't see anybody beating Alabama the rest of the season.

Florida-Georgia: Georgia, easily.

Vandy Gets The Call

Georgia Tech-Vanderbilt: Close but Vanderbilt gets the call.

Duke-Tennessee: It's risky picking Duke these days but here goes again.

North Carolina State-North Carolina: Possibly the south's closest game. A shade for North Carolina.

Virginia-Maryland: Maryland.

Virginia Poly-South Carolina: South Carolina hasn't shown a thing. V. P. I.

Nebraska Over Missouri

Missouri-Nebraska: Nebraska to ruin Missouri's undefeated record.

Marquette-Iowa State: Marquette, handily.

Oklahoma-Kansas: Oklahoma.

Tulsa-Kansas State: Tulsa.

Arkansas-Texas A. & M.: Arkansas.

Stanford-Santa Clara: It hardly seems in the cards for Santa Clara to lose three major games in a row but Stanford is the choice.

Rice Has Few Worries

Washington-Montana: Washington.

George Washington-Rice: Rice should have few worries here.

Cornell-Columbia: Columbia.

New York University-Bucknell: N. Y. U.

Syracuse-Penn State: A slender edge, perhaps, for Syracuse.

Carnegie-Duquesne: Duquesne.

Rutgers-LaFayette: It doesn't seem as though LaFayette is going to beat anyone.

Colorado university-Colorado college: Close one. The university.

Montana State-Wyoming: Wyoming.

SPORTOGRAPHER by COLLIER PARRIS

"THEY'VE HAD you in Southern California for a couple of years, so how about coming up our way for a change? We'd be glad to have you; we'd try to show you a good time, but we'd also try to beat thunder out of you on the football field."

This was what the folks from California told us yesterday when the special train bearing the St. Mary's team and 125 fans from San Francisco to New York stopped here so the boys could work out.

News travels, particularly toward the west, especially if it's football news. They're a sports minded people out there. Texas Tech and its football needed no introduction to the upper California folks, although Tech has never been closer than 300 miles to Prisco. Tech's games with Arizona and Loyola are familiar to football fans further north.

"We want to meet Pete Cawthon," chorused the six sports writers from San Francisco and Oakland who are making the transcontinental trip with Slip Madigan and his entourage, as soon as they left the train yesterday morning. "We've heard a lot about that fellow, his team and his coaching schools. Give us a glimpse."

The scribes, Owen Merrick of the Daily News, Prescott Sullivan of the Chronicle, Harry Borba of the Examiner, Al Santoro of the Enquirer and Pat Frayne of the Call-Bulletin, all of San Francisco, and Ralph Bell of the Oakland Tribune, were telling us that Texas Tech would be a good drawing card in Prisco. Informed by Coach Cawthon that negotiations were under way for a Tech-University of San Francisco game, the scribes appeared pleased, said U. S. F. had a good ball club, and drew lots of fans.

It was a mighty nice crowd of visitors, that California delegation. Not a smartaleck in the bunch, all of them surprised to find a large committee of greeters, including the Tech band, at the station, with courtesy cars, etc., all of them pleased with the Lubbock salutations and hospitality, the football field, the weather (which was exceptionally nice) and the visit in general.

"We'll tell everybody about this," shouted Coach Madigan from the train platform is the big choo-choo pulled out. Madigan was referring to the general hospitality offered by the citizens and the college, "and you can look for us again if we ever make another trip like this."

Out at the field, a hundred or so Lubbock fans looked on in something of awe when Madigan trotted out his 34 behemoths—three and a half tons of beef on the hoof. Lubbock isn't accustomed to seeing such big boys; they weren't fat, but nearly all of them weighed in on the Tech training scales at a bare 200 pounds each. There were tackles weighing 234 and 231, a center tickling the indicator at a mere 232. In fact, Madigan said his line would average, and the scales bore him out, around 210 poupnds, the backfield about 190.

There, my friends, is an answer to the question: "What's wrong with Texas Tech when it meets big time company?" You gotta have material, lots of it and tons of it, to play in the big leagues, Give Pete and Dutchy a 1,400 pound line and 760 pounds of backs, and they can play Fordham and St. Mary's and Southern California and Yale and Harvard and the rest, too.

BUT WE'VE STILL got a ball club out at Texas Tech, and they're playing a game tomorrow night. If Lubbock and South Plains fans are the sports we think they are, they'll see that ball game. Never think for a minute that it will be a set-up

LAMB ELEVENS TO DO BATTLE TONIGHT

OLTON, LITTLEFIELD TEAMS TOP CLASS B CONTESTS

A three-way tie for the lead in the northern division of District 5 may be broken tonight when Olton tangles with Littlefield for the feature game of conflicts scheduled this afternoon and tonight on the Districts 4 and 5 front.

The two clubs playing tonight and Levelland make up the trio on top of their conference standings, each team having won two games, losing none and not having been tied. Levelland remains idle tonight, as do Crosbyton and Ralls, other members of the division, who are tied for the cellar position.

It's A Toss-Up

The game at Littlefield tonight is easily the most important of the weekend, and so far as can be learned, and by comparison of the season's results, the outcome is a toss-up.

In the southern half, two conference games are scheduled, but the lead is not expected to change.

Lamesa entertains Tahoka in a conference game, and Post plays at Slaton tonight. Lamesa, in a clear lead with one victory, is a decided favorite to gallop over Tahoka, the latter now residing in third place with one victory and one defeat. Slaton rules a slight favorite over Post. The Slaton Tigers are in second place with one victory and one tie.

All the southern division teams are active, Brownfield entertaining the Lubbock Cowhands in a non-conference game. The Cubs are favored to beat the Lubbock delegation. Brownfield's offense, featuring the triple-threat Burnett, has lost to Lamesa, but the team figures to take its share of victories this season.

Action In District 4

Over in District 4, Floydada, the leader, ties into Quitaque. The game is to be played at Floydada, where last Friday the Whirlwinds defeated the Paducah Dragons, 33 to 12, in what was described as "the most colorful game of the season," attended by 2,000 fans, largest crowd to see a game in Floydada this year.

Lockney plays Paducah, at Paducah, today.

The Matador Matadors step into Class A competition by taking on the Electra team at Electra. Matador, boasting a strong team and figuring to make trouble in the district 4 race, is bumping into too much trouble today with the Wichita county club.

Spur plays Silverton under the lights at the Jones Memorial stadium, and is favored to win the conference contest.

S. M. U.-TEXAS, T. C. U.-BAYLOR GAMES HOLD INTEREST OF SOUTHWEST GRID FANS SATURDAY; EXPECT BIG CROWDS

(By The Associated Press)

Interest in tomorrow's three Southwest conference football games focused today on the Southern Methodist-Texas and the Baylor-Texas Christian battles in which the loop's three undefeated teams meet.

The undefeated S. M. U. Mustangs, well drilled in running and passing attacks as well as in defense tactics, made final preparation for their homecoming tussle as the Texas Longhorns, 35 strong, prepared to entrain for Dallas. The Longhorns stressed offensive plays all week, indicating that they believe a good offense is the best defense. Advance tickets indicated a sell-out crowd of between 25,000 and 30,000 for the battle.

Wide Open Game Seen

Rehearsed in their entire list of plays, the Texas Christian Horned Frogs prepared to move to Waco for a promised aerial battle with the Baylor Bears. Both teams are undefeated. The Bears and Frogs stressed passing attacks in practice this week, and a wide-open game was predicted for Baylor's homecoming crowd.

The Arkansas Razorbacks and the Texas Aggies prepared to move to Little Rock for their annual clash. Each team has lost two games. The Aggies, victims of passing attacks in nearly all of their games this season, had a polished up aerial defense ready for the Porkers, who have given no little attention to practice in overhead play.

The Rice Owls were on their first trip to the east for their game at Washington, D. C., with George Washington university.

Texans Asked To Eat Texas Citrus

BROWNSVILLE, Nov. 1. (AP)—Five million Texans are to be asked to eat Texas grapefruit during Texas citrus week, set for Dec. 7 to 14, officials of the central labor union in the lower Rio Grande valley state. This organization is taking the lead in the move and arrangements have been made to send approximately 2,900 letters to officials of various clubs and organizations in the state asking the members to help in observance of Texas citrus week.

COMBINED GROUND AND AIR ATTACK NETS 20-0 VICTORY

(By The Associated Press)

ABILENE, Nov. 1 — The Howard Payne Yellow Jackets of Brownwood combined air and ground attacks to score a 20 to 0 victory over the Abilene Christian Wildcats in a Texas conference game here last night.

Sunderman made a short pass to Wedeman, who ran 21 yards for a touchdown on the first play in the second period. Rogers drove over from the one-yard stripe for the second counter in the same period. Harlow converted. Wedeman scored in the last quarter after the Jackets covered a Wildcat rumble on the Abilene Christian one-yard line. Harlow kicked the point.

The Wildcats failed to get the ball past the Jacket 40-yard line.

for Tech; the Oklahoma Aggies are going to be plenty tough. Tech catches 'em on the rebound, after a loss to Tulsa last week, and throughout the season the Aggies have been improving steadily.

Get a ticket today, or buy one at the gate tomorrow night, and give the Matadors a big hand. They lost their last game, and maybe some local support, but if you could have seen that game, and the big fellows they battered their heads against, you'd appreciate the Red Raiders more than if you'd heard they won. St. Mary's has very little, if any, edge on Loyola. The Lions are the most experienced club, lacking some of the backfield weight, but they earned every yard they made over Tech last Friday night. They deserve your continued support tomorrow.

Tech's trying a new experiment this week with its Saturday night game. The feeling is that since so many towns in the vicinity have installed lights for Friday night games, more out of town trade will see Tech on Saturday nights. Local business men may be handicapped, unless they close up shop early, but Tech wants a reaction to Saturday night games.

STICKING OUT THE NECK again on football forecasts. This corner's choices are printed in capital letters:

MAN MASTIFF TO MEET NAZI NEUSEL IN GARDEN TONIGHT; WINNER MAY BE GIVEN CHANCE TO BATTLE JOE LOUIS

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Nov. 1—Primo Carnera, the man mastiff, hoists himself into the Madison Square Garden ring tonight to battle Walter Neusel, the blond German who has yet to be defeated in this country.

Carnera was a 6 to 5 favorite, but there was little betting interest in the fight despite the fact 15,000 persons were expected to pay $35,000 to attend.

For Carnera it is a last stand; one more experiment to determine whether he should continue as a fighter or retire to Italy and live on his profits.

For Neusel it is an opportunity to obtain a match with Joe Louis and gain the money, and probably the pain, that such a bout would bring. Neusel has been promised a bout with the Brown Bomber if he whips Carnera.

Alp Meets Neusel

After disposing of Paulino Uzcudun at Madison Square Garden, Dec. 13, Joe Louis will remain out of competition until March, when he is expected to tackle the winner of the meeting between Primo Carnera, above, and Walter Neusel, blond German chemist, below. Carnera and Neusel collide at the garden tonight.

Air-conditioning is making rapid progress in Argentina.

TAHOKA, Nov. 1 (Special)—Property owners here approved, 146 to 80, issuance of $40,000 in bonds for construction of a new school building for the Tahoka Independent School district.

S. B. Haynes, Lubbock, is architect.

Architects' plans specify a one-story, brick building which will include 12 classrooms, offices and a combination auditorium and gymnasium. Contract for construction must be let before Dec. 1, and work will be started soon afterward.

PWA grant of $32,728 for the building has been approved, making total cost $72,728.

An old grade school building will be wrecked and part of its materials used in construction of the new one.

OLD TIMERS IN ANNUAL EVENT

TRIBUTE IS PAID TO 14 OCTOGENARIANS AT HALE CENTER

(By Staff Correspondent)

HALE CENTER, Nov. 1—Tribute to 14 of its octogenarians was paid by Hale Center at a banquet in the First Methodist Episcopal church at noon yesterday. It was the sixth annual gathering of its kind.

As far as its sponsors have been able to learn, there is no other like occasion anywhere in the state or the Southwest and doubtful if in the entire nation.

Martin Is Speaker

Judge A. B. Martin, Amarillo, former Plainview and Lubbock attorney and now a member of the court of civil appeals of the seventh judicial district, was the principal speaker.

Dr. Smith J. Underwood, local physician, originator of the idea, presided at the banquet and also at the program which followed in the church auditorium. Rev. R. R. Gilbreath, pastor of the church, gave the invocation and also led a song at the opening of the program.

R. W. (Uncle Bob) Lemond, a pioneer of Hale and Lubbock counties, after the banquet was served, arose and expressed to the ladies of the church and to Dr. Underwood, his own thanks and those of his associates in the octogenarian club, for the affair. He expressed his personal affection for Dr. Underwood and those who have assisted him for many years.

Those In Attendance

Present were the following, all but one from Hale Center or vicinity: J. R. Ritchey, 90; T. J. Tilson, 88, Plainview; Captain Z. M. Wilson, 87; Mrs. L. G. Yates, 87; S. A. Bird, 86; R. W. Lemond, 85; Mrs Nancy Taylor, 85; J. F. Sorgesser, 84; D. Wardlow, 83; H. N. Ritchey, 81; M. M. Mullican, 81; J. D. McMennamy, 80; J. N. Caudle, 80; Mrs. A. A. Cowen, 80.

In addition several of the wives and other ladies, rapidly nearing the four score year mark included Mrs. H. N. Ritchey, Mrs. S. A. Bird, Mrs. J. D. McMennamy, Mrs. Lena Lemond and Mrs. Ella McWhorter. A number of men in their 70's also were present.

Judge Martin, who first came to Tulia in 1906 and who has lived in Hale county for more than a quarter of a century, contrasted in his talk the conditions existing when the older ones of his audience were young and those prevailing today. "There never has been a time in the history of this nation when those old fashioned ideas of honesty, uprightness and hard work, that so-called rugged individualism, needed to be stressed as much as at this time," he declared. "We've departed from these ancient landmarks in these days."

methods of bringing up children now and a half century ago, Judge Martin commented, "they're raised on orange juice and football and government help." He asked, "Do you think they can do the things you people have done?"

Lessons of self-reliance, independent thinking and common honesty were stressed 60, 70 and 80 years ago. No one lived off the government, or thought the government owed him a living; those who deviated from the paths of righteousness were looked down upon.

"After all," he added, "there always has been something the matter with the country, and there always will be, until we get all this selfishness bred out of us."

Experiences Recalled

Colonel Tilson spoke briefly, recalling his boyhood experiences and Civil war days. He emphasized the need of a return to old time principles. Reverend Gilbreath, host pastor, paid his respect and love to the honor guests of the occasion.

Captain Wilson also related some of his experiences as a boy and man, saying an injury to his father forced him to become a breadwinner for the family when he was only 13 years old.

Several other old timers also spoke. A number of buisness men were present for the meal and some remained to listen to the talks.

Max Coleman, writer-attorney, came up form Lubbock to mingle with the speakers. He met "Uncle Bob" Lemond, for whom he used to punch cattle as a boy.

House Of David?

No, this husky gridder isn't a member of a House of David eleven. He's Jim Lander, quarterback on Kansas State's Big Six championship eleven, who just decided to quit shaving last July. His ambition is to grow a beard that will turn Man Mountain Dean green with envy.

ROYALL NOT TO BE CANDIDATE

PALESTINE MAN SAYS HE WILL NOT RUN FOR COMMISSION

(By The Associated Press)

LONGVIEW, Nov. 1 — Tucker Royall, retiring chairman of the state tender board in the East Texas oil field, who was mentioned in Dallas political circles as a possible candidate for the railroad commission, has stated flatly that he would not be a candidate.

"I have no political aspirations and prefer private to public life," he said.

Others Considered

The Dallas Times Herald said it had learned Col. Carl Estes, Longview newspaper publisher, was seriously considering a race against Col. Ernest O. Thompson for a commission place next year. The story said the same East Texas interests which would favor Royall would give their backing to Estes against Thompson.

Royall, after presiding over his last session of the tender board before retiring to his Palestine banking interests, said he had received many letters and telegrams from all parts of the state urging him to enter the race.

He expressed pleasure over the appointment of H. V. Hamilton of Palestine to succeed him. He described Hamilton as a man of unquestioned integrity and marked ability. Hamilton, a retired newspaper publisher, served four years as mayor of Palestine and for a number of years was president of the Palestine Chamber of Commerce.

Royall said he also approved the appointment of W. J. Christian as a member of the tender board.

"With Walter P. Moore of Overton, Gus S. Blankenship of Jacksonville, W. L. Cain, jr., of Tyler, Hamilton and Christian as members of the committee, the membership is all that could be desired," the retiring chairman said.

"Motor Muster" Is Called In Germany

BERLIN, Nov. 1 (AP)—Germany has announced a reichwide "motor muster", creating the possibility her soldiers may some day go to the front in a duplicate of the French World war "taxicab army."

Motorists and commercial drivers were advised to watch for the date of a general inspection of all motor vehicles, designed to catalogue their suitability for army use.

Scene Of Clash

This map shows the location, near Khabarovsk, of the frontier clash between Japanese and Soviet Russian patrols, the incident bringing an official protest from the Russian government and stirring fears of fresh outbreaks. The clash, in which several border patrolmen were reported killed, occurred on the Amur river. Course of the meandering stream changes frequently, causing recurrent disputes and conflicts.

In Egypt, filling stations dispense water from pumps resembling American gasoline pumps and cater to customers who bring their own containers.

ABC TO INSTALL OFFICERS TONIGHT

At its quarterly ladies' night program this evening, American Business club will feature installation of officers chosen last week. The program and banquet will begin promptly at 7 o'clock.

Showing of between 500 and 600 feet of film, taken by W. G. (Bill) McMillan, local traveler and big game hunter, on his recent trip to Alaska is planned. Mr. McMillan will explain the film as it is run.

"The program will begin promptly at 7 o'clock," Clarence (Dutch) Wiginton, outgoing president, said. "We have to give up the ballroom at 9 o'clock, and the program is too long to give in less than an hour and three quarters. Members not on time will be fined, as is our custom."

Wyatt L. Hester is the new president; Bert Pinson, first vice president; Brooke F. Stephens, second vice president; Rufus Mills, secretary-treasurer and John A. Clark, sergeant-at-arms.

Board of governors: Wiginton, Glen Chase, Ted Alkire, Jimmy Whiteside, Garland Newsom, Oscar St. Clair, Truman Melnecke and Rex Blackburn.

"MOTHER" WINS PRIZE

For having brought up 73 children a widow of 66 has just won a prize of $200 in Le Touquet, France. The 73 were little wards of the nation abandoned by their parents. "I was married at 17," she said, "but I had no children, so I applied to the authorities."

WELL, well. Look what we have here. Still another school publication. It's the Central school Mirror, published every month by the students of that ward, and it has a little note with it.

The note reads:

"Dear Editor: This is our first issue of our magazine of Central ward and since you are a good judge we would like for you to inspect our product.

"With a great deal of pride we present you this sample copy.

"Darlene Newton and George Bean, Editors".

It's mighty, mighty fine—like the other school publications, some of which The Plainsman has here-to-fore written about.

Seeing the name "George Bean, Fourth Grade Editor" on the masthead, makes The Plainsman wonder if George isn't taking after his Aunt Blanche, now Mrs. Ed Wilson, who for so many years presided over the women's pages of The Avalanche and Journal, and of another aunt, Miss Sallye Bean, who also was a member of The Journal staff for a year or so.

Maybe there's something to heredity after all.

SOMEBODY, usually a Yankee who doesn't know what he's talking about, is forever criticizing the South for its treatment of the negro.

Those of us who live South know full well that the negro's best friends are below the Mason-Dixon line, that he gets along better there than anywhere else.

Proof of the pudding comes in a letter written by a white friend of a black man—'Bish' Childs—who died Tuesday night.

'Bish' was a very popular negro, sharing with witty, shrewd Leonard 'Catface' Means the popularity championship of the barber shop shine boys.

When 'Bish' was buried the other day a lot of white folks joined with his colored friends in a last farewell and The Plainsman has heard a dozen men—if he's heard one—remark regretfully concerning the death of the shine boy at the Hilton hotel barber shop.

TO get back to the letter written by the white man, who signs himself merely "Old Timer", here it is. It mirrors, we think, the attitude of the white South toward a good negro.

"Bish is dead! Yes—Bish died Tuesday night after a short illness. We never thought much about 'old Bish as he was affectionately called, while he was living. Just kinder got used to his smiling countenance, his optimistic outlook on life, and the genial, courteous greeting extended to everyone. Another shining example of the plodding individual—on the job early and late, always manifesting an interest in his town, contributing to his church, his home life and the community's welfare—and trying to make a good citizen.

"Bish has left us now—departed for that land from whose bourn no traveler has ever returned.

"While just a negro—the memory of Bish will linger in the exemplary life he lived and should be an inspiration to the members of his race. Of humble parentage, never blessed with riches—he pursued his menial job as porter and shine boy at one of the local barber shops. He made the most of life and did the job well allotted him. The shop was closed during his funeral—the workmen he so splendidly served, attended his funeral.

"A goodly number of white people attended the last rites—business men, professional men and women paid homage to his memory—called upon to say a few words in behalf of the deceased—half choking, overcome with grief, in faltering words, and tears not amiss—they paid tribute to one of Lubbock's best known and best loved negroes—Bish Childs".

A good tribute, we'd say.

STANLEY Baldwin, prime minister of Great Britain, hopes the United States will soon join the League of Nations.

There's nothing strange about that.

Great Britain, an eye on her colonies and the threat of Italy in Africa, is holding the wobbling league together by main strength and awkwardness.

With U. S. in the league the job would be considerably simpler.

Mr. Baldwin wants to use Uncle Sam as a cat's paw, just as he was used in 1917, to settle a European quarrel and for which he has never been paid in money spent and for which he can never be paid in lives lost and otherwise wrecked.

This country has as much business in the League of Nations as Abie Lefkowitz has in the Nazi party.

WHILE The Plainsman has no respect for Italy's program in Ethiopia, we suspect Great Britain of something less than altruism in her activities to put a stop to the African rookus.

Be it remembered that England, in the past, has never hesitated to grab colonial possessions, stepping on whatever necks she needed to step on in doing it.

Somehow or another, we have a terrible time convincing ourselves that in her present campaign for peace England has nothing in mind save the shedding of blood.

It just doesn't match up with history.

'Round And 'Round She Goes!

Fair, Fleet Of Foot, Is Find Of Filmland; Slight, Young Eleanor Whitney Taps Sprightly Into Hollywood To Stay

BY DAN THOMAS
Journal Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 1. — Eleanor Whitney is only 18 years old, exactly 5 feet tall and tips the scales at 98 pounds. But how she can dance!

In fact, this brown-haired youngster, who used to be billed as "Cleveland's own" whenever she appeared in the Ohio city is being hailed as Hollywood's newest dancing sensation.

So far Eleanor has appeared in only one picture, "Millions in the Air." But that picture netted her a long-term contract and definitely established her as a serious contender for the tap dancing crown now worn by Eleanor Powell.

And strangely enough, these two Eleanors have enjoyed closely paralleled careers. Both are proteges of Bill Robinson, the master of all tap dancers. Both had considerable vaudeville and night club experience. And both slipped quietly into Hollywood to make unpretentious screen starts—only Miss Powell arrived about eight months ahead of Miss Whitney.

The former made her bow in "George White's Scandals of 1935," doing a single dance number, but for some reason Fox executives let her slip away from them. So M-G-M signed her and boosted her to stardom in "Broadway Melody of 1936."

Signed Quick!

Miss Whitney had only a little more than a dance number to do in her first picture. But Paramount execs took no chance of losing their "find," so they signed her to a long termer immediately.

I first met Eleanor in one of the studio rehearsal halls. Clad in light brown spotted pajamas, she was beating out taps that sounded like the rattle of a machine gun.

"Hello," she exclaimed, "I'm getting a new car. It won't be delivered until Saturday, but I've made the down payment on it. Gee, I'm excited. It's the first car I've ever owned. And I'm buying it all by myself.

"Will you wait while I try out two more steps. Then I'll be through for the afternoon."

Puts Personality Into It

Her pianist struck up another tune and she was off again. Rat tat tat tat tat tat—faster, much faster than you can read the words. She does more than just dance, too. She sells her hoofing.

Possessing personality-plus, anyway, she throws every ounce of it into her work. While her number 2 1-2 shoes beat out a perfect rhythm, your attention is constantly attracted to her big brown eyes and the various expressions that cross her face as she executes the difficult steps.

In Hollywood, Eleanor lives with her mother and her 14-year-old sister, Ruth, in a very modest apartment. She started dancing when she was only 6 years old. For several years she did only ballet and toe dancing.

Then the Charleston came in. She entered a contest held in a Cleveland theater and won it hands down. That started her on a career of tap dancing that carried her to New York and eventually to Hollywood and the movies.

Wants To Be An Actress

"I want to do one great big musical production in which I can dance and sing several numbers," she confided. "I know a lot of routines I didn't use in my first picture because I wanted to be able to top it with my second.

"So in my next film I want to do everything I know. Then I want to do at least two straight dramatic roles before I dance again. I'm studying acting right now, so I'll be able to play a role if I get it."

Almost unconsciously she went into a series of impersonations of Mae West, Joan Crawford, Carole Lombard and Norma Shearer just to prove that she knows something about acting. Whether she does or not isn't for me to say. But I can and do say she's a good mimic.

Right now Eleanor is the petted "baby" of the Paramount lot. Everyone feels that she should be sheltered from the hardness and cruelty that crops up in Hollywood as it can in no other place.

Why, even her hairdresser used to opologize to her. During the filming of "Millions in the Air," Carole Lombard's hairdresser was assigned to her. And every once in a while the hairdresser would forget she wasn't talking to Carole,

A BIG BITE TO CHEW

Some members of the New Deal's high command are announcing from one corner of their mouths that "the depression is over" and from the other corner that a big sum must be dug up again next year for carrying on of work relief.

Faced with the logical question "if depression is over why more relief money?", they have a glib answer.

"The money is needed", they say, "so that a new order of life may be established and there will never be depression again".

That is all very well, but to The Journal's way of thinking it's a pretty big bite to chew, especially since, while all signs point to improved conditions, there is still a question whether or not the nation will continue its upward climb or will stand stationary for a time.

Our advice to the professors is let's not worry so much about future depressions, but be sure we're going to continue whipping the one we've had.

"Do one thing at a time—but do it well" would be a good slogan for the administration to adopt.

Dutchers' News And Views OF WASHINGTON

Dutcher

(Copyright, 1935, NEA Service, Inc.)

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1—Diplomats are betting 3 to 1 that there'll be no European war this fall. The odds have lengthened a bit.

But you couldn't find anyone in Washington who would risk a nickel on a wager that there will be no general continental outbreak within the next three years. A big war is commonly regarded as inevitable.

That's why, in a capital buzzing with war talk, one hears almost as much discussion of the conflict that it is likely to come after the current Italo-Ethiopian war is settled as of the actual conflict in Africa and the related diplomatic moves in Europe.

Even among some of the best-informed diplomats, as they relax and sound off over their highballs, such discussion is likely to be irresponsible and full of guess.

But there are many who get the willies as they contemplate the possibility that the next World war will find Germany, Italy, Japan, and one or two smaller allies lined up against England, France, Russia, and others.

See Menace in Japan

European menaces may fade or give place to new ones. Elimination of Hitler or Mussolini might change the picture of a great deal. But both British and American diplomats will continue to watch the Far East intently, believing that Japan will continue to penetrate into Asia and eventually clash with England.

It would take a lot of British navy to handle the Pacific, the Mediterranean, and the North Sea simultaneously.

Inside opinion here is that it would be extremely difficult for this nation to stay out of a war in which England faced Japan and enough other enemies to threaten destruction of the British Empire.

Rumors of American commitments for co-operation with the British fleet in case of a Pacific war shouldn't be discounted too heavily. While few believe any administration has had the brass to make any such promises, preservation of the British Empire is a sort of keystone in our foreign policy. And there are many in high places here who insist on believing that Japan eventually means to take over Australia and later the Philippines.

At any rate, when asked "Can we keep out of war?" most insiders start peering west rather than east.

U. S. Might Hold Bag

Some of the brain trusters have it figured out that the next European war is likely to make a King Midas and a sucker out of Uncle Sam, assuming he is lucky enough not to be dragged in.

Europe will have to buy supplies and she will have to pay in gold. If the war lasted long enough, we might accumulate nearly all the gold in the world. And then what would prevent the other chief nations from just deciding that gold wasn't any good, anyway, and abandon it as a medium of exchange while this country held the bag?

Anyway, that's a theory, and it's being used in arguments for a drastic neutrality act which would bar nearly all sales to belligerent nations.

Why Britain "Got Tough"

Washington has received varying confidential reports as to just what stiffened the British attitude toward Italy, beginning in August.

One story whose source probably is as good as any others says that Benito Mussolini deliberately began hinting to England that his Ethiopian venture was only a prelude to efforts to establish an Italian sphere of influence throughout the Mediterranean.

The threat to Egypt, Malta, and Cyprus was obvious, though tacit. According to this yarn, Mussolini at one time felt able to challenge British naval strength in the Mediterranean.

Faces Unrest At Home

The Italian dictator's attitude toward England has become less belligerent lately. According to certain grapevine reports out of Italy, one reason for that probably is a degree of unrest among the Italian people, news of which has been carefully suppressed.

Although a large part of Italy is fanatically excited and in favor of the war, there have been demonstrations by farmers and workers, usually against high taxes and against low living standards, attributed to heavy war expenses.

At Parma, Spezia, and other railroad stations, women are reported to have thrown themselves in front of trains and delayed departure of troops.

These reports, if true, are significant. Every nation in Europe, as it prepares for war, is weighing the possibilities of domestic revolt—both in enemy nations and at home.

The GOLDEN FEATHER

BEGIN HERE TODAY

JEAN DUNN, pretty, 21-year-old secretary, and BOBBY WALLACE, young automobile salesman, spend an evening at The Golden Feather night club.

ART LANNING, the proprietor, introduces them to Sandy Harkins, who explains he is in Dover on business. Sandy and Jean dance. When he asks her if he can telephone her she evades.

Later Sandy has a mysterious conversation with two men who mention Jean's employer, DONALD MONTAGUE, and hint they "may be able to do some business."

LARRY GLENN, federal agent, talks with Bobby and Jean. After they leave MIKE HAGAN, detective on the local police force, joins Larry, who shows him several photographs of a pretty girl and asks, "Ever see her before?"

Larry explains he is on the trail of WINGY LEWIS, bank robber, and hopes to locate him through this girl, EVELYN BRADY.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER VI

Donald Montague signed the last of the sheaf of letters that lay on his desk, shoved the little pile aside, and said, "There—that's done." He looked up at Jean and said, "Well, if you'll get these off, Miss Dunn, you might as well call it a day."

Jean picked up the letters and started for the outer office and her own desk. Glancing at her wrist watch as she did so, she exclaimed, "But Mr. Montague—it's only half-past eleven."

"What of it?" he asked with an air of paternal amusement. "It's Saturday, isn't it? I've a luncheon engagement and I'm not coming back this afternoon. You can use the extra hour, can't you?"

"Oh—of course—and thanks," she said, slightly confused. She withdrew, prepared the letters for mailing, and five minutes later was on her way out.

Reaching the street, she hesitated, uncertain. She had planned to do some odds and ends of shopping, to lunch quickly at some handy coffee shop, and then to house-wifely afternoon cleaning her tiny apartment and putting her wardrobe in order. But the day was bright and clear, the sky was a rich, spotless blue, and the wind that swung down the crowded street seemed to smell of open fields and woods, far beyond the city.

Born and reared in a small town, she knew moments when the great city was almost unbearably oppressive and confining; and she suddenly realized that this afternoon she must manage somehow to get out into the open country, away from the crowds and the noises and the bustle and confusion of Dover.

"I'd like to take a long hike across the fields," she mused. "Let's see — who could I get to go with me?"

She thought of Bobby; but she knew he would be working all day, and she also knew that an afternoon in the country would revive his romantic instincts and cause him to speak pleadingly of marriage and a little apartment. Today she didn't want to be proposed to, . . . Hastily she mentally scanned her list of girl friends. One or another of them, surely, could be induced to join the expedition.

"I'll hurry home and change, and then start telephoning," she thought. She walked to the corner and caught her street car.

When she had reached her apartment, bathed and changed her frock for a rough tweed skirt, woolen stockings, low-heeled shoes and a sweater, she discovered that she was ravenously hungry. "The telephoning can wait," she told herself, and she went to the little kitchenette to prepare a lunch. Just as she was plugging in the percolator, the telephone rang.

She scampered into the other room and answered it.

"Miss Dunn?" said a man's voice. "Well, now isn't that luck for you? I didn't think I'd be able to raise you on a nice afternoon like this?"

A laugh came over the wire. "You wouldn't break my heart and tell me you've forgotten me already?" said the voice, teasingly. "I'm the long, lanky guy that managed to get a dance with you at the Golden Feather the other night. Remember? My name's Harkins—Sandy Harkins."

"Oh," said Jean. "Oh, yes. Mr. Harkins."

"I suppose you're just all loaded down with engagements this afternoon?" he drawled.

"Why, yes, I am — I mean I'd planned to—"

"Well, listen here, good-looking. I'll bet down where you come from you like to go horseback riding on your afternoon off, don't you?"

"Horseback riding? Why, yes. But—"

"I thought so," said Sandy. "You looked like a girl that knew how to ride. Listen, how'd it be if I came around and took you out to a riding academy and we got a couple of nags and went for a little ride—huh, how about it?"

To ride a horse again — something she had not done since she left Maplehurst. She suddenly discovered that that was what she wanted to do this afternoon more than anything else; and before she knew that she had made up her mind she heard herself saying, "Oh, I'd love to."

"Kayo, baby," said the breezy whose vocabulary is replete if nothing else. Then she'd stop right in the middle of a sentence and say, "I'm sorry, Eleanor, I shouldn't talk like that in front of you."

When a girl can win Hollywood that completely, she's a cinch to take the fans into camp.

Mr. Harkins. "I'll be at your front gate in half an hour."

He hung up, and Jean sat for a moment gaping at the telephone. She had thought about him several times since meeting him in the night club, and while his free-and-easy personality and infectious laugh had made a strong impression on her she had definitely decided that if he carried out his threat to call her up she would refuse to see him. After all, as Larry had pointed out, she knew nothing about him; and then, besides, Bobby and she were practically engaged, and it wasn't quite right for her to go out with other men. . . .

"But I do want to go riding," she said aloud. And she hurried to her clothes closet to get out the riding costume which she had not worn for months.

In precisely half an hour her bell rang. Sandy met her in the little lobby on the first floor and they were in his roadster — it was a flashy yellow thing which looked only a little shorter and less powerful than one of the navy's newest destroyers—almost before she knew it. As the car swung away from the curb he looked at her briefly and commented, "you look good in that outfit, sister."

She flushed with pleasure. She did look nice—her own mirror had frankly told her so. And it was a wonderful day to be riding, and the wind made her cheeks glow and her eyes sparkle, and Sandy was undeniably a handsome sort of person. . . . she laughed and unconsciously settled down a little nearer to him.

Half an hour's drive got them out of the city. They followed a graveled country road for a few miles, and at last came to a huge, white-washed barn, so big that it completely overshadowed the little cottage in front of it. Along the side of the barn there was a big sign. "The West Park Riding Academy."

Sandy drove in, and a few minutes later a groom had brought their horses and they were riding side by side down a leafy lane which led them, at last, to the top of a rounded hill, from which they could look down a long, grass-grown slope toward a little stream and a clump of woods.

Sandy had been watching her with a knowing eye, and he evidently had satisfied himself that she as quite at home in the saddle.

"Come on," he cried. "Race you to the woods!"

And they went off down the slope, the horses' hoofs drumming on the springy turf, while the wind whipped the ends of the scarf Jean had bound about her hair, and she laughed aloud from sheer happiness and excitement. They came nearer and nearer to the little stream; at this point it was no more than a brook, but six feet wide, with firm banks. Jean boldly spurred directly toward it and took her horse across it in one graceful

THE PLAINSMAN GETS SOME MAIL

JUDGE BOOSTS SALVATION ARMY

Dear Plainsman: I note from the local press that the many friends of our own Salvation Army are laying plans to join hands and raise funds for a continuation of this important work, and we sincerely hope every local organization and every individual in Lubbock will quickly respond to support this worthy institution liberally.

The untiring work of the Salvation Army, both spiritually and in social service work, has won for the organization the utmost respect and support of all good citizens. My own experience and observation lead me to say that the workers composing this institution do not only join hands with other social service and relief organizations in work of common interest, but they also reach out and render material assistance to a class of people that no other organization touches; they likewise carry the Gospel message to many who never darken the door of any church or any other place of religious worship. No case has fallen too low into the mire and into the depths of sin for them to attempt to reach and lend aid, and no individual gets too far from home, his friends and associates, if any he has, but what he can find friends and comfortable quarters in the home of our Salvation Army (ofttimes it is the homeless and friendless in our community that perform criminal acts because of his abnormal frame of mind as a result of his pitiful condition when not relieved).

Our local Salvation Army is badly in need of a home of its own in which to carry on its splendid work; its problems are the problems of every citizen in Lubbock; it is our business to see that this organization is adequately supported by every person in our fair city, since it has no means of support other than the voluntary contributions received by it. There are limitations fixed by law to support given relief objects through government agencies supported by public or tax funds, but there are no limits to the work done by the Salvation Army. May every Lubbock citizen be as generous as circumstances will permit when called on by the close friends of the Salvation Army to support it in this campaign.

Sincerely,
E. L. Pitts, County Judge,
Lubbock County.

BRIGHT SPOTS

Dog's Discovery

NEW MARKET, Va.—"Rip" a hunting dog, chased a rabbit into a hole and was found three days later in a large cave containing several rooms filled with pools and glittering stalactites. Hunter B. Chapman, president of the Shenandoah caverns, announced the new cave unusually beautiful.

He's No Vegetarian

TROY, O.—Charles Smith says groundhogs, being strict vegetarians, taste like rabbits. Maybe that is why he claims to be Ohio's champion woodchuck hunter. Since the beginning of 1933 he has killed 370.

The largest if not the tastiest, says Smith, weighed 37 pounds.

Cop-Adoodle-Do

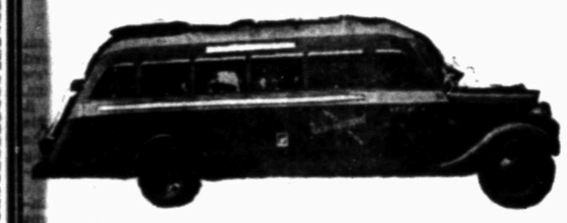

HARTFORD, Conn.—A device which emits a noise resembling the outcry of a distressed rooster has been attached to 25 fire boxes in this city to forestall any attempt by Hallowe'en celebrants to turn in false alarms.

Countess E. de Beaumont of Paris is wearing a startling costume described as "an angel's dress with wings," while on her head is a halo.

39—Legal Notices

IN THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT IN AND FOR THE WESTERN DISTRICT OF TEXAS, WACO DIVISION
J. M. Hubbert vs. Temple Trust Company, No. 236, in equity.
Notice is hereby given that the undersigned, as receiver for Temple Trust company, has filed his application with the clerk of the United States District Court in and for the Western District of Texas, Waco Division, for an order authorizing him to sell and convey to Baxter Honey and wife, Ida Honey, all of Lot Six (6), Block Twenty-Two (22) Overton's Addition to the town of Lubbock, Lubbock County, Texas, together with all improvements thereon situated for a total consideration of Three Thousand Two Hundred Fifty-Three and 33-100 ($3,253.33) Dollars, none of which is to be paid in cash, but all to be evidenced by a note in said sum to be executed by said purchasers, payable to the order of the undersigned and to be secured by a vendor's lien on the land and premises above described, and which note it is contemplated will be sold and transferred to Home Owners Loan Corporation, and the lien securing the payment thereof assigned to said corporation and the undersigned will thereby receive the full proceeds in cash.
Said application will be heard by the Honorable Charles A. Boynton, Judge of said court, after this notice shall have been published for a period of ten days, and any person interested in said Receivership Estate may contest this application.
Witness my hand at Temple, Texas, this the 18th day of October, A. D. 1935.
M. C. GLENN,
As Receiver for Temple Trust Company.

DAILY MARKETS

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT
NEW YORK, Nov. 1. (AP)—Cotton futures opened barely steady, 1 lower to 2 higher with southern selling and trade and foreign buying. Dec. 11.05; Jan. 10.90; March 10.89; May 10.87; July 10.86; Oct. 10.71.
There was a fair trade on the call with orders again well divided. Southern hedging and some local selling and absorbed by trade and commission house demand. The early weather map failed to show the freezing temperature predicted for the northwest but the same predictions were reiterated in this morning's forecast. The market at the end of the first hour was about 1 to 2 points net higher with December selling around 11.06 and May 10.88.
The market eased somewhat in the late forenoon under increased hedging and scattered liquidation. Offerings were not large and were taken by the trade on reactions of a few points with December holding around 11.02 and May at 10.88 at mid-day.

MARKET CLOSED
NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 1. (AP)—Cotton closed; holiday.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT
CHICAGO, Nov. 1. (AP)—Firmness characterized grain values early today. Denials that the Canadian government intended to force wheat on the market were given particular notice.
Opening 1-4 to 1-2 higher, December 98 1-2 to 5-8, wheat then held near to this range. Corn started unchanged to 3-8 up, December 58 7-8 to 59, and for the time being altered little.

CHICAGO CASH GRAIN
CHICAGO, Nov. 1 (AP)—Cash wheat: No. 3 red tough 99 1-2; No. 2 hard 1.16; corn No. 3 mixed 62; No. 2 yellow 64; oats No. 3 white 27-30 1-2; sample grade 21 3-4 to 25 1-4.
Wheat closed easy, 5-8 lower to 1-4 higher compared with yesterday's finish, Dec. 97 7-8 to 98; corn 1-4 to 3-4 down, Dec. 58 1-8 to 58 1-4; oats 1-8 to 1-4 off, and provisions 7 to 20 cents up.

LYNN CRASH

victims were in Loveless and Price sanitarium here.
Jack Robbins, driver of the bus, and a Miss Gilbert of Dublin were treated for minor injuries at O'Donnell last night and released.
Miss Macklin was driving an Oldsmobile automobile southward when it collided with the northbound bus. The automobile, owned by Mr. Forrest, was demolished, it was reported here.
Deputy Sheriff John Johnson of O'Donnell began an investigation of the mishap.

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT
NEW YORK, Nov. 1 (AP)—The stock market pushed ahead with renewed vigor today, many of the favorites reaching new high territory for the past five years.
While there were a few soft spots in evidence, gains of fractions to 2 or more points were scattered over a broad front. European war clouds were again ignored as speculative and investment appetites were whetted by optimistic economic developments.
Trading was quiet in the first hour, but volume picked up considerably in the second. The motors, alcohols, farm implements, coppers, oils and specialties led the climb. The rails were fairly firm, as were most of the steels and utilities.
Shares of Case got up 3 points and others, up 1 to 2 or so, included General Motors, Chrysler, U. S. Smelting, Western Union and Westinghouse. Among losers of about 2 points were Paramount Pictures First Preferred and Allied Chemical.

VANDALISM HERE

had stolen a black suit case containing clothing.
Thousands of gallons of water were wasted when "spooks" opened a fire hydrant at Thirty-second street and Avenue W early last night. Water from the open hydrant had flowed about three-quarters of a mile when firemen plugged the stream at 7:56 o'cock.
Most dangerous prank of the mischief-makers was the turning in of a false fire alarm early in the evening. The call was traced to a telephone in an oil station in 1900-block Avenue H, Fire Chief W. E. Twitty said. The attendant concluded the call had been made by boys who had asked permission to use the telephone to "call home."
"False alarms are expensive and dangerous," the fire chief said. With heavy traffic on the streets and scores of pedestrians crossing streets, the probability of smashups and personal injury is accentuated, he explained. "We know a few seconds after an alarm has been turned in just where it came from, as well as the number of the telephone station where the call was placed," the chief said.
The vast majority of Lubbock's young and old, however, observed the traditional evening of spooks and ghosts without rowdyism.
Parades, pageants, and parties lured many youngsters from destructive mischief. For public entertainment there were dances at the Auditorium and at Johnston's ranch.
Downtown streets streamed with color and with all the fantastic figures of demonology. Death masks jostled witches, and ghouls stalked with devils.
Honking of street-clogged automobiles, multi-pitched racket-makers, and shrieks contributed to the Hallowe'en cacophony.

HUNTSVILLE, Nov. 1. (AP)—Dave Nelson of Orange, new head of Texas' vast prison system, today took office, succeeding Lee Simmons, veteran official who resigned in September.

DAIRY SESSION TO BE SATURDAY

South Plains county agents, vocational agricultural teachers, farmers and others interested in the dairy industry have been invited to attend a meeting beginning at 10 a. m. Saturday, at which H. A. Mathiesen, western representative of the Holstein-Friesian Association of America, Madison, Wis., will speak. The meeting will be in the Texas Tech livestock pavilion.
Mathiesen will be available for personal and group conferences in the afternoon, K. M. Renner, head of the dairy manufacturing department, and Dr. F. G. Harbaugh, who is in charge of dairy cattle at the college, are making arrangements for the meeting.

WILL ROGERS

man who has ever commanded the attention or affection of the people.
Tribute By Pastor
In the words of Rev. J. Whitcomb Brougher, sr., who officiated at the Will Rogers memorial services in Glendale, Cal.:
"There are many hills, but only here and there a great towering Mount Shasta;
"There are many streams, but only here and there a great Mississippi;
"There are many trees, but only here and there a great Sequoia gigantea;
"There are many echoes, but only now and then an original voice;
"There are many musicians, but only now and then a Mendelssohn or a Mozart;
"There are many politicians, but only now and then a great statesman;
"There are many people, but only now and then an outstanding individual."

The nation still is stunned and sorrowful. It is impossible to realize that Will Rogers is really gone from us.
Will Rogers needs no monument. He built his own monument, he wrote his own epitaph in the hearts and affections of people from every walk of life. He was the greatest apostle of sunshine, of joyous humor, of fellowship, the world has ever known. He still lives because his work lives. "To live in mankind is far, far more than to live in a name."
To Perpetuate Memory
To perpetuate his memory, to attest fittingly a nation's love for the ideals Will Rogers represents, a nationwide movement is under way. It is headed by outstanding citizens everywhere who have agreed to give unselfishly of their time and means, in order that a proper foundation for service to humankind may be permanently established. Every man, woman and child, from the highest to the lowest walks of life, will be given an opportunity to participate.
As but a small part of the program, on Monday, November 4, every bank in the nation will open special "Will Rogers memorial" accounts. Every man, woman or child who ever has chuckled at the homely philosophy of Will Rogers, whose life has been made happier, who has been inspired by the cleanliness of his example, who has hungrily searched for his daily news contribution, who has seen him on the screen, who has pressed forward in surging crowds for a personal glimpse of him, will be given an opportunity to make a deposit, quietly, without publicity of any kind, from a single dime to the limit of their means.
Will Rogers Day
I think Will Rogers, if he knew that all who loved him are determined to establish a permanent foundation to his memory, would prefer contributions of 25 cents from 15,000,000 people to a few larger sized donations.
Now, therefore, I, James V. Allred, governor of the state of Texas, do hereby set aside and dedicate Monday, November 4, as Will Rogers day.
I urge all Texans on this day to reflect upon the fine, clean manhood of Will Rogers, the life of service he lived, the good he did. I suggest that all of our schools and civic clubs conduct suitable programs and exercises in memory of our great philosopher-humorist.
I especially urge that all of us contribute of our bit to the Will Rogers memorial fund.
Witness my hand under the great seal of the state of Texas, this the 28th day of October, A. D. 1935.
James V. Allred,
Governor of Texas.

TEXAS WEATHER

date of first killing frost. Whether the expected freeze in the North Panhandle Friday night would come down and cover a portion of the South Plains was problematical.
Farmers Busy
Farmers this week have been busy gathering feed crops. Many farmers worked last Sunday in order to get their crops cut, fearing killing frost this week.
This week-end should see between 85 and 90 per cent of the grain cut; a large portion threshed and the usual amount headed.
Many farmers have ricked up hundreds of bundles of feed. In numerous sections feed has turned out better than had been at first expected.

FRAUD CHARGES

A. Nichols, Pettus, Texas.
The men, dealing in oil land in Pottawatomie county, Okla., and Bee county, Texas, were alleged to have operated from a central office here and other headquarters in New York City and Oklahoma City. They were accused, among other things, of selling royalties that did not exist and misrepresenting the value and production of certain leases.

BUILDING GAINS DURING OCTOBER

Thirty-nine building permits for an aggregate of $57,333.30 in construction were filed during October, bringing amounts for the month higher than for a corresponding period since May, 1934, it was indicated from figures compiled at the office of City building inspector.
October totals brought the amount for the first four months of the last half of the current year above the corresponding period of a year ago. Totals for the four months in 1934 were $79,342; this year, $98,-181.61.
Building activity last month accounted for approximately one-third the total for the year, $182,-668.30.

ELECTION CONTEST

authorized by said election."
Third—because the persons whose names follow had not rendered property to the City of Lubbock for the year 1935 for taxation, such persons having rendered property to the County tax assessor, renditions as such being insufficient to entitle them to vote in the election.
Mr. and Mrs. Bryan B. Dillard, Homer Roper, Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Z. W. Shelley, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Nugent, and Cecil Lofland.
Didn't Pay Poll Taxes
Fourth—because the following persons had not paid their poll tax for 1934 before Feb. 1, 1935, and had not, if entitled to exemptions, obtained the necessary exemptions entitling them to vote from the county tax collector: Mrs. J. E. Low, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Davis, Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Malone, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Heald, R. L. Stovall, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Barbee, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Davis, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Goforth, H. T. Kimbro, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Davis, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Moreland, Mrs. Cora Murry, Mr. and Mrs. John G. Green, Almo Sedberry, Mr. and Mrs. James W. Curry, Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Mast.
Fifth—because the following persons were not qualified electors owning taxable property in the City of Lubbock who had rendered the same for taxation, in that the said named persons rendered no property whatever for taxation to the City for 1935: Charles Sedberry, Selma Sedberry and J. C. Wilson.
Strickel Vote Cited
Sixth—that the vote of W. T. Strickel should not have been computed for the reason that said Strickel has heretofore been convicted of a felony in the State of Texas and has not had his full citizenship and right to suffrage restored to him, nor has he been pardoned.
Seventh—that the votes of Ross McWhorter and wife, Irma McWhorter, were illegal and void for the reason that they had not been bona fide residents of the city for the six months next preceding the holding of the election on Oct. 3.
More Than 24 Illegal
Eighth—that more than 24 of the foregoing votes were illegal and void and should not have been counted in determining the results of said election, and had they not been counted the question of the issuance of said bonds would have been defeated and the City of Lubbock would not have been authorized to issue said bonds.
Ninth—before said election was had but after it had been called, some of the proponents of the bond issue represented to and lead many to believe that if said bonds were authorized by vote and issued by the City of Lubbock, no funds of the City other than the revenues from the gas distribution system and gas pipe line constructed from the proceeds of said bonds, could legally ever be used in the payment of the principal and or interest of said bonds.
Misleading And False
"Such representations were misleading and false, because revenues of the City of Lubbock from other sources than the gas distribution system and gas pipe line can lawfully be used in paying said bonds if issued. By reason of such misrepresentations and misleading statements, many voters were caused to cast their votes for said bonds, who would otherwise have voted against same, and the majority of the votes cast would have been against instead of for the issuance of such bonds, had such misleading and false representations not been made.
Tenth—that proponents of the bond issued automobiles to convey voters to the polls to vote in favor of the issuance of such bonds, upon the day of the election, in violation of Article 3025 of the Revised Civil Statutes of Texas. If the voters so conveyed had not voted in favor of the issuance of the bonds, there would not have been a majority of the votes cast at such election in favor of the issuance of the bonds.
The election was void, the contestants assert, for the reasons set forth above.
Plans Advanced
Meanwhile, the City commission has gone ahead with plans for building a pipe line and laying a distribution system in the city. At a recent council meeting, it was brought out that plans and specifications were approximately 75 per cent complete. That group had resolved at its last regular meeting to spend a maximum of $1,200 for completion of specific plans and specifications.
Outcome of the bond election had resulted in the withdrawal of George E. Benson on Oct. 4, day after the voting. He said in his letter of resignation that his action was necessary for harmony within the City commission, since he had opposed the issuance. Lubbock electors will be called next Thursday to select his successor.
Attorney E. L. Klett, representing the city, said Friday morning that he had not been informed of the election contest suit. Mayor Edwards declared he did not know if the commission would meet immediately to decide on a course of action.

WAR SITUATION

sanctions which it already has voted to bring down upon Italy. There were reports that the date would be Nov. 15.
Both the Italians at home and the Italians bearing arms in Africa have advised Mussolini that they are ready, if necessary, to "tighten their belt" if sanctions cut off supplies of foodstuffs and materials needed.
Embassy Guarded
There is an unconcealed and menacing hostility in Italy toward England. It has been necessary to place additional guards about the British embassy. Americans are finding it to their advantage to identify themselves, for many of them are mistaken for Englishmen.
Although the war is two thousand miles away in Africa, the guns loaded with the most gunpowder were mounted today at Geneva, city of world conciliation. Present were representatives of the 52 nations who hope by united economic and armament boycott to punish Italy for her "aggression" against another league member—Ethiopia.
Depend On Decision
Among all the diplomats there, however, it was recognized that the future of Europe and of Ethiopia depended most largely upon the decisions of three—Britain's foreign secretary, Sir Samuel Hoare, France's premier, Pierre Laval, and Italy's league delegate, the tireless Baron Pompeo Aloisi.
The return of the baron from Rome today was accepted as a sign that Mussolini still hoped to accomplish his purposes in Africa without suffering the threatened punishment of the league.
Trio Meet Today
Premier Laval, Sir Samuel and Baron Aloisi met this morning. Sir Samuel's first act on arriving at Geneva was to seek an interview with Mussolini's envoy, and a date was made for the meeting early this evening.
It was understood from Italian sources that Italy has sent her delegate back to Geneva with no new suggestion for a settlement, but was merely determined to maintain her league connection until such time as it might no longer be feasible.
Fleet Location Menace
The maintenance in the Mediterranean of England's grand fleet despite Italian objections afford a definite cause for alarm among the nations at Geneva which are committed to united action against Italy but which, in the final analysis, must look to England and France to swing the big stick, if the time to swing it should come.
Sensational reports of military activity such as marked the early weeks of the undeclared war are not heard as frequently now. There was one today, however, that the Italians had captured Makale which is their next objective after Aduwa and Adigrat, which they captured early in the campaign. The Makale report was obviously erroneous to observers who are acquainted with the difficulties of the terrain intervening between Adigrat and Makale.
Italy's King Victor Emanuel, who has been letting Il Duce do most of the talking to date, came out openly and publicly today in support of the campaign against Ethiopia. He said Italy had no intention of disturbing world peace, and added that Italy "asks nothing more than to be permitted to enjoy the fulness of her life . . ."

LEGISLATURE

til Monday, but its state affairs committee scheduled a meeting. Pending in committee were liquor control bills and the house omnibus measure.
The senate received from the house an omnibus tax bill estimated to raise up to $18,000,000 annually for old age pension payments.
Representatives summarily cut off debate and consideration of 50 amendments after six days of debate and passed, 128 to 6, a bill increasing levies on public utilities, numerous industries and natural resources.
Rival Plans Rushed
Rival liquor control plans were rushed to the house floor by prompt reports from the liquor traffic committee on three bills, all proposing a private license system. Committeemen believed debate would start Monday.
Speeded Passage
Rep. W. E. Jones of Jourdanton speeded house passage of the omnibus tax bill by withdrawing an amendment proposing a one and one-half per cent sales tax, with necessities exempted. Sales tax advocates in the senate, however, planned to renew the fight for that levy.
All levies in the bill would be in addition to existing taxes. Increases included: one-half of one per cent on gross receipts of utilities; one per cent on telegraph companies, hotels, oil and gas pipe lines and intrastate radio business; one and one-half per cent on horse race wagers; one-half cent per barrel on oil production; one-eighth cent per 1,000 cubic feet on gas production, with exemptions; 10 per cent on amusement admissions in excess of 51 cents; 15 cents a ton on sulphur; five per cent on cigars; 25 cents a pound on yeast and malt; a graduated tax on coin operated and marble vending machines; one-fourth of one cent a barrel on cement, and graduated tax on loans of automobile, mechanical refrigerator and radio financing companies.
Whisky would be taxed 80 cents a gallon and wines from 10 cents to 50 cents, graduated on alcoholic contents.

CURRICULUM MEET TO BE TOMORROW

Change in time of several speeches which will be given at a meeting of curriculum workers of this section Saturday 10:30-12 a. m. and 2-4 p. m. in Lubbock High school and omitting of the speech by H. M. Cook of Canyon were announced this morning by Dr. A. W. Evans, district curriculum advisor.
Cook will be unable to be here. W. A. Stigler, state director of curriculum revision, will speak at 2 p. m. rather than just before noon since he will not arrive for the morning session. W. C. Blankenship of Big Spring and R. W. Matthews of Lubbock will speak in the morning rather than the afternoon session.
Dr. Ellsworth Collings, author of several books, curriculum authority who is dean of the school of education at the University of Oklahoma, will be principal speaker. He will give the last speech on the afternoon program. His subjects will be "The Activity Movement in Curriculum Development."
Other speakers will be Dr. Bradford Knapp, Texas Technological college president; F. O. Boles, Littlefield; C. M. Rogers, Amarillo; and the three sponsors of the meeting: Doctor Evans; G. D. Holbrook, deputy state superintendent; nad K. E. Oberholtzer, superintendent of Lubbock public schools.

TED BURNETT DIES HERE EARLY TODAY

Ted Burnett, 25, who formerly lived southwest of Brownfield before moving to Lubbock recently, died in a local sanitarium at 5:45 o'clock Friday morning from a condition resulting from a ruptured appendix.
Funeral services will be held at 4 p. m. Saturday at Rix Funeral home with Rev. Jeff D. Welch, pastor of Central Baptist church, officiating. Burial will be in Memorial Park cemetery.
Survivors are his wife, whom he had married six months ago; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Burnett; and four brothers and one sister, all of Lubbock.

dollar, though not exactly.
Before the president started out on the monetary program, however, the 1926 dollar would buy almost a dollar and a half's worth of wholesale commodities.
There have been no recent administration statements to indicate whether the campaign to raise the price level will continue. When Secretary Morgenthau recently returned from Europe, however, he told newspapermen America was "ready to do its part" in stabilizing world currencies when other nations were "disposed to do theirs."

EARTH TREMBLER

their sections, and tunnel officials hurried underneath the rivers, then reported all was well.
Frank O'Donnell of the dominion meteorological bureau in Toronto, Ont., described the quake as the worst ever felt there.
Dr. Conant and the Rev. Joseph J. Lynch, head of the physics department at Fordham university, agreed that the St. Lawrence fault was a likely offender.
Triangulation of distance readings from seismographs in Buffalo, N. Y.; Weston, Mass., and New York indicated the center was not far from the source of the St. Lawrence river.
States Affected
The states which reported feeling the temblors were:
Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, Ohio, West Virginia, Indiana, Michigan, Illinois and Wisconsin.
The Distrct of Columbia and the provinces of New Brunswick, Ontario and Quebec also were affected.
Telephone service was broken in Central Ottawa and Hamilton, Ont., and between Rome and other cities in New York.
An occasional cracked wall, a few bricks toppled from chimneys and some broken china apparently completed the damage.
But easterners have never become accustomed to earthquakes, and nerves suffered more than inanimate objects.
A man in Plainfield, N. J., said he felt a "gentle upsurging" of his house several times, "like the lifting of a ship on a swelling sea."
To northern New Jerseyites the movement was instantly associated with arsenals and explosives factories in the area.
"Where's the explosion?" was the question asked by hundreds.

Five Charged In Assault Complaints

Five Lubbock men were charged with aggravated assault upon a female in complaints filed with Justice of the Peace J. T. Trigg late Thursday.
Daniel A. Blair, district attorney, who drew the complaints, said the men were charged with assaulting juvenile girls.
The defendants were J. I. Christian, about 57, a carpenter; Joe Scharenberg, about 60, operator of a grocery; Joe Lynch, about 69, operator of a hat works; John Turner, about 41, a laborer, and Jack Tillory, about 38, who has been engaged in an automobile wrecking business here.
Three defendants had been arrested, said Deputy Sheriff Parum Posey. Warrants were issued by Justice of the Peace Trigg for the two other men.

leap. Then she reined in, and came to a halt at the edge of the woods.

Sandy was beside her, looking at her admiringly.

"Say," he said, "you can ride, all right."

She was breathless, laughing, with little wisps of hair escaping from under the scarf.

"I used to ride almost every day, down home," she said.

"Good girl," said Sandy. "You did that jump like a champion."

Their eyes met in comradely appraisal; then, with one accord, they turned their horses heads and followed a shaded lane through the tree.

It was cool under the trees, and the horses' hoofs made no sound on the black spongy earth. Sandy rose with effortless ease, his long body relaxed loosely in the saddle. . . . "You must have ridden a lot yourself," said Jean. He nodded.

"I was brought up on a horse," he said. "Not here. Out west."

"Cowboy?"

"My folks owned a ranch," He offered her a pack of cigarets. She shook her head, he lighted one, and went on:

"How about yourself? Where do you come from, anyhow?"

"Maplehurst. It's a little town about a hundred miles south of here."

"Did you live on a farm?" he asked casually.

"Oh, no. My daddy's a banker. But I always had a horse, and the town's so small you can get outside of it in five minutes."

They rode on farther in silence. Presently Jean asked him, "What do you do, anyway?"

He looked at her coolly, for a moment, and then grinned.

"Oh," he said. "I just sort of travel around, from here to there and back."

"Lucky," said Jean. "It must be nice, not to—not to be tied down,"

"It is," said Sandy.

They came out of the woods into an unpaved country road. It led them in a gently undulating course past the woodland, along the edge of a prosperous-looking farm and around a bend to an ancient wooden bridge over a small river. They let the horses have their heads, and the animals turned off along a little path and went down to the water's edge to drink. Sandy looked upstream.

"Look," he said. "The ground comes shelving down to the water, like, for a couple of miles up there. We can ride up that way and come out right near the stables. Okay?"

She nodded, and they started up the river, the horses stepping slowly along the flat stretch of sand and gravel. Jean threw her head back and looked up. Trees fringed the river, framing a strip of clear blue sky. Their leaves rustled gently in the wind. "I'm glad I came," Jean thought.

They talked lazily as they rode. Sandy seemed a strange combination of frankness and reticence. He spoke of life on the western plains, of going hunting in the Osage hills, of nights under the stars in far-off camps; but he seemed to be reluctant to say much about the present, or about his reasons for leaving that open western country.

"You must want to get back there," said Jean. He looked at her soberly, and when he grinned, at last, there was something wistful in his eyes. "Yeah, I guess maybe I do," he said. "Reckon I will, too, some day."

They left the river and came out in a broad pasture lot. Beyond the level expanse of grass they could see the roof of the riding academy barn rising above a clump of trees.

"Another race?" said Sandy abruptly. Jean answered by leaning forward and spurring her mount forward. Again they went drumming across the springy earth, and again a wild sense of physical exhilaration and mental well-being took possession of the girl, so that she found herself laughing aloud, for no especial reason, when she finally reined in her horse at the far end of the meadow.

Sandy came up beside her and pulled his horse to a halt. Then suddenly he leaned over, slipped his arm about her shoulders, and kissed her on the mouth.

VAST NETWORK OF SUPER-HIGHWAYS IS ONE OF GERMANY'S DEFENSE PLANS

(By The Associated Press)

BERLIN, Nov. 1.—A scheme for a vast network of super-highways in Germany, which foreign experts see as of great military significance, was a step nearer realization today.

Officials announced work would begin soon on a 19-mile stretch in two Berlin suburbs, forming part of a big circle of the proposed superhighway around Berlin. It will be important in serving southern traffic.

Learned Lesson In War

One foreign observer said:

"One lesson that Germany learned in the World war is the need for perfect communication facilities."

"The reich is achieving this now by electrifying and otherwise improving railroads, building ships, constructing a fine system of canals, and—most of all—laying out excellently planned roads.

To Extend To Borders

"Her army is motorized, and requires hard, wide, through routes. The highways now built or planned extend to the borders, between the larger cities and through the areas producing war materials and foods.

"The only parallel I can see in the marvelous highways the ancient Romans made for their legions."

It is, however, as a means of work creation and of achieveing Reichsfuehrer Hitler's ideal of motorizing Germany that the costly highway project—of which less than one-twentieth, or 250 miles, now is ready—was presented to the German taxpayers.

TO VOTE ON BONDS

PAMPA, Nov. 1. (AP)—School district voters will decide here Nov. 9 on the issuance of $50,000 in bonds necessary to obtain a PWA grant of $40,909 for construction of new school buildings.

Four-room additions to two schools and an auditorium capable of seating 1,800 persons have been proposed by the board of education.

Some persons regard the king cobra as the most dangerous of all wild creatures now inhabiting the earth. It lives in the Indo-Malayan area and its main food is other snakes.

Sheriff Believes Stealing About Out

BRADY, Nov. 1. (AP)—Sheriff Love Kimbrough of McCulloch county, who also is president of the Sheriff's Association of Texas, believes that cattle stealing is about pinched out.

Kimbrough and six other Texas peace officers recently were selected as a committee to study existing stock laws and draft devisions they think necessary to check theft of stock in West and Southwest Texas.

Few cases of cattle stealing have been reported in the Brady area. This is attributed to the vigilance of ranchmen having large herds. They have used fire brands and ear markings, the oldest identification marks known to the cattle industry, and have constructed stout fences with locked gates. The latter are believed to have been one of the principal checks to rustling.

The largest man-made hole in the world is a copper mine at Bingham Canyon, Utah, which is nearly a square mile in area. More than 232,000,000 cubic yards of material has been taken from the mine.

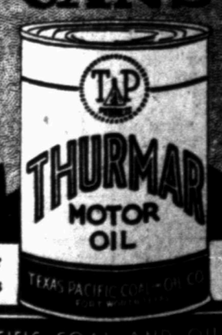

Woman's Weak, Nervous Condition Helped By Cardui

In thousands of cases where Cardui has been taken to help women overcome monthly discomfort, it has been reported to have been of valuable assistance.

"Before I began using Cardui, I was so weak that when I closed my eyes I felt like I was going to fall," writes Mrs. J. W. Harris, of Pelzer, S. C. "I was very nervous and had a pain in my side. At times, I would have to go to bed. This made me more nervous as I had six children and there is always work on a farm. My mother had taken Cardui and told me to try it. I took six bottles after which I was up and able to do all my work, washing and ironing. I have nothing but praise for Cardui."

Of course, if Cardui does not benfit YOU, consult a physician.—Adv.

Man Thought To Be Draft Dodger Was Soldier

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 1 (AP)—A typographical error of 18 years standing was corrected in orders released at Fort Sam Houston removing from the list of alleged draft dodgers the name of Hubbert Gray, a registrant of the local draft board for Austin.

"Whereas the final report of the draft officials showed this man to be in a status of draft desertion, a further investigation of the records in his case discloses that he served honorably in the army of the United States from December 9, 1917, to July 30, 1919, under the name of Hubert (or Herbert) Gray," the order stated.

Tear Gas Favored By Hoover Instead Of Bullets Defense

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1. (AP)—J. Edgar Hoover, director of the bureau of investigation, recommends tear gas instead of bullets for self defense.

"A tear gas gun is just as effective in protecting a person against attack, and it's much safer for the average motorist or private citizen," he said. "A dose of tear gas will incapacitate the criminal. Fire arms require a certain amount of technical skill in operation, whereas a gas gun can be used effectively with a little practice."

Hoover said, however, he had no authority to grant permission to individuals to carry gas guns.

PROFIT SHOWN

PONCA CITY, Okla., Nov. 1. (AP)—A statement of the Continental Oil company issued today showed net profit of $2,435,106 for the third quarter of 1935, equivalent to 52 cents per share on the 4,682,669 shares, exclusive of shares held in the treasury.

Into Fur Industry

The fur business seems to run in the Astor blood. The fortune of John Jacob Astor was founded on fur trading; now his great-great-grandson, William Astor Chandler is starting a mink farm on his estate at Dark Harbour, Me. There's a mink in the cage he's holding.

Shipments Of Fruit From Valley Begin

WESLACO, Nov. 1. (AP)—The 1935-35 citrus fruit season in the lower Rio Grande valley is open. First carlot shipment went from McAllen, with Harlingen, Mercedes and San Benito following in rapid succession.

Shipments were fairly light during October but will increase steadily in November.

The valley's crop this year is estimated at 6,000 to 8,000 carloads.
