here than in the markets East. All the roads from the West and the South run directly through the yards, thus affording the best accommodations possible for those coming from the great grazing grounds of Texas, Colorado, New Mexico and Kansas. The company have erected a Large, Modern, Brick Exchange Building,
including 51 offices for commission men, two banking offices, one of which is occupied by the Bank of Kansas City, the other by the Merchants National, with ample capital for the trade. Parties wishing to improve their stock will find blooded stock here at all times. There are two sales a year of the finest blooded stock in Kentucky, from the choicest and best herds in that state.
There is established at these yards the most extensive Horse and Mule market in the West. The business of the yards is done systematically, and with the utmost promptness, so that there is no delay, and no clashing. In short, these yards are in every sense of the word, and here cattlemen have found and will continue to find, that they get all their cattle and hogs are worth, with the least possible delay.
DRY, ROOMY AND CONVENIENT,

THE McCORMICK
Harvesting Machine Comp'y
—MANUFACTURES—
Reapers, Mowers, Harvesters, Twine and Wire Binders.

The McCormick Binder
Is an attachment to the McCormick Harvester, and can be put on either our five and a quarter or six and a quarter feet cut machine. One man and two horses are required to operate it, yet we furnish a three-horse evener with each Harvester, so that three horses abreast may be used, if desirable. The Harvester and Binder cuts and binds the grain, and has both wire and twine Binding Attachments.

The McCormick Iron Mower
Is a four feet, front-cut, jointed-bar machine, and weighs complete, ready for the field, 880 pounds. Its gearing is simple in construction, and at the same time powerful and very durable; it is encased in a cast-iron box, and is thus kept clean and free from all mud and dust. The doubletree is coupled by rods direct to the cutter-bar, thus bringing the team close to the draft, and obviating all side draft—thus the wheels of our Iron Mower cannot be raised from the ground in heavy, bad cutting. It is, in fine, the most complete, durable, light-running and effective Mower that has ever been put into a field of grass; and while is has all the advantages of a rear-cut machine, yet it secures the perfect safety of the driver.

The McCormick Dropper
Is a front cut machine, Reaper and Mower Combined, light draft and easily handled, and the only front cut machine that does not have any weight on the horses' necks.

The McCormick Self-Rake
Is an Iron Frame Machine, cuts five feet and six inches as a reaper, and four feet and three inches as a mower. Has a controllable rake and is a light draft machine.
☞Examine our goods before buying. All Machinery sold UNDER A GUARANTEE.☜

OUR CHICAGO LETTER.

[Regular Correspondence Texas Live Stock Journal.]

UNION STOCK YARDS, Chicago, Ill., April 10, 1882.

For cattle the demand continues strong, and there is a good healthy tone to the trade, though buyers grumble a little at having to pay the prices. Through grass Texan stock is quotable at $4.75@5.25, and something extra would realize more. To-day a 5-car lot of 863-lb Texans corn-fed in Southern Kansas sold at $5.55 to Armour & Co's. canning establishment.

The impression here is that Southwest cattle will begin to come fast and good pretty soon; but the writer, who has recently made a trip through Nebraska, Colorado and Wyoming for the Drovers Journal, attending the Wyoming Stock Growers annual meeting at Cheyenne, is of the opinion that while Northern range cattle will be as good or better in point of quality than last year, they will not come any earlier. Indeed, the present indications are that Wyoming shipments will be later than usual, as there has as yet not been sufficient moisture to start the new grass. The chances are that Southwest stock will be pretty well cleaned up before the other begins to come freely.

Sheep are about 40 cents higher than two weeks ago, and selling very well.

FROM HAMILTON COUNTY.

The Herd Law Again. The Lamb Crop. Condition of Cattle.

HAMILTON, April 9, 1882.

Editor Texas Live Stock Journal:

In a late issue of the JOURNAL I noticed a communication from Hamilton over the signature "Tom," in reply to a former article of mine on the present herd law. This writer defends the law, thinks the party who engineered it through the legislature knew what he was doing, tells sheepmen if they are not pleased with it to turn their sheep loose with the cattle, etc., etc.

I did not anticipate opposition in your columns because I thought logic and reason would be found all on one side. My opinion is still unchanged, your correspondent's letter to the contrary notwithstanding. My only object was to point out to those interested, who might be ignorant of its provisions, the evil effects of the law, if enforced, believing such a course might aid in effecting its repeal.

"To see oursels as ithers see us," etc.—to bring the matter more forcibly to Tom's comprehension — I propose to change places with him. We will suppose he is the owner of a small bunch of sheep and finds that to succeed in his business he must own a ranch. I have a tract of land admirably adapted to his purpose which I sell to him at a high figure. I then purchase a small strip of land adjoining that which I have sold, and also, purchase more cattle in number than he has of sheep. He cannot afford to fence his land for he is still owing part of the purchase money; my cattle therefore, bought with money and notes received from him, have a right to graze upon his ranch and drink at his spring, and while I have taken full value for the land, I am actually receiving more benefit from it than he, while I have forbidden him to graze his sheep upon my land, and thus also shut him out from the open prairie beyond. Now, I put the question to "Tom" in a spirit of candor and fairness, would he not think there was something a little wrong in the argument? And yet this herd law would justify me in this position in relation to him.

Was there ever a code of morals given to a people since the days of Moses till we come down to this creation of the 17th legislature that would not have been outraged by such a proceeding? To the honor of the cattlemen of Hamilton county, be it said, that at a meeting called to elect a delegate to the Austin convention that law was denounced as unjust, and a resolution recommending its repeal unanimously adopted; and I believe it has found its first avowed champion in the person of your correspondent. His proposition that sheepmen turn their sheep out like the cattle, is just as unreasonable as the unrighteous law which he defends, for he cannot be ignorant of the fact that a flock of sheep would not exist a week turned loose on the prairie.

With reference to what I was told by the senator, there is no mistake. The records do not show a vote for or against, and it was his opinion it could not be enforced. However that may be, it invites litigation and creates a conflict of interests and ought to be repealed, if we would preserve the principle of equal rights, the boast of every American.

We are having good success with lambs in this vicinity and the wool crop of the county will be much larger than ever before, owing both to increased numbers and the fine condition of the sheep. I have now 445 lambs and still they come.

There is an abundance of grass for all kinds of stock. The rugged outlines of the cattle are rapidly giving place to rounded forms and symmetry of proportion and they are putting on their summer coats.

Since my last, Mr. Belden, a gentleman from Iowa, has located and is now building a house just in view. He connects farming with stock raising.

SHEEP AND WOOL.

Our Wool-Growing Interest.

From all parts of the state comes the good news of fine prospects and light loss of lambs this spring. With such a mild winter as the one just passed, followed by an open dry spring, the lamb crop should be an extra one, both as to quantity and quality. Our sheep owners may well congratulate themselves on the prosperity of their interest. They have achieved wonders in the past, and their future is brighter than ever before. A few years ago Texas occupied a low position in the galaxy of wool-producing states; to-day, she is barely second to the best, and it is safe to say she will take rank ahead of all other states in the production of sheep and wool before another year rolls around.

The clip of the present spring will be the largest ever produced in the state, if not the largest produced by any one state in the Union; and while it will exceed in quantity any former clip, it will be of better quality than ever before. The rains in the late winter and early spring will make the clip cleaner than usual, while the condition of the sheep during the entire winter, guarantees an even, continuous growth of the wool fibre. With all these bright prospects ahead, our wool-growers can afford to renew their energy and spend a little of their incomes in preparing winter feed and shelter for their money-producing animals. The effect of bad treatment to a flock of sheep is sure to be felt in the purse of their owner; it comes home to him in a short, inferior clip of wool and a short crop of lambs.

We are receiving accessions to the wool-growing interest from all parts of the United States; whole flocks are being shipped or driven from California; Michigan and Pennsyvania are sending large numbers of their fine sheep to our western prairies, while New York, Vermont and other states are all lending a hand to swell the wool production of the far West. From these incoming flocks of fine sheep, our old sheep-owners can supply themselves with fine bucks and soon breed up their flocks to the highest standard. The day has passed when it paid a man to own common sheep; he must breed up or go to the wall. In the march of progress he will be left behind if he sticks to common stock.

While in the near future Texas will take the lead among the wool-growing states, as to numbers of sheep and pounds of wool, there is yet one great obstacle in the path of our onward march; that is, the low estimate put on our wool in other markets. This can be overcome only by breeding up our flocks, and exercising more care in handling, sorting and packing the wool. Our sheepmen have done well thus far, and we believe they will yet make Texas wools take their proper rank as to quality as well as quantity. Pay more attention to quality, and a few years of patience will demonstrate the truth of the old proverb, that "what is worth doing at all is worth doing well."

MISCELLANEOUS NOTES.

There are now between 60,000 and 65,000 sheep in Bosque county, not counting this season's lambs. Of this number, 10,000 to 12, 000 have been carried into Bosque county this year, most of them being of fine quality.

Mr. G. W. Wilcoxen brought to the city last Monday, a couple of large Cotswold sheep, thickly coated with fine wool seven inches long. If a man had as many as five hundred of such sheep, he would grow rich in a very few years.—Denton Monitor.

In 1867 the average weight of fleece was three and one-half pounds per head, while in 1878 it had risen to five and six-tenths pounds per head, so that where was more than 6,000,000 less sheep in the country in 1879 than in 1867, there was an increase of 64,000, 000 pounds in the wool product.

Advices from nearly every part of the United States represent sheep as coming out of the winter in unusually fine condition, and a large increase in the wool clip is predicted. This is especially the case in the far western states and territories where the business of sheep-raising has made wonderful progress during the past few years.

The sheep is the cosmopolite among domestic animals. With a habitat extending from Nova Zembla to New Zealand, and following the lines of latitude around the world, it accommodates itself to every surrounding; here sweltering in the heated atmosphere of the tropic pampas, and there shivering before the crisp blasts that fan the mountain's brow; whether in glebe or glen, in field or forest, feeding on grain or grass, it is found fitted to its surrounding conditions.

No better news could come from the sheep growing sections. It is set to one chorus, whether from south, west or north: the winter has been all that any flockmaster could ask: the rains have made the grazing better than usual and thoroughly washed the sheep's wool; the fine condition of the flocks has insured an extra length of wool; the lamb crop was saved without loss. The wool crop of Texas this spring will put the state a long step forward in its march to the front rank of wool-producers.

This ought to be a splendid season for the mutton trade. There must, in the nature of the case, be a strenuous effort to substitute other meats for beef, and at this time of the year no other meat can as well be substituted as mutton. In the winter pork can be used largely in lieu of beef, but in the spring the purchaser of fresh meat finds pork to be not just the thing he wants. Choice mutton is not only wholesome and palatable, but it is just now about the cheapest thing that can be eaten.—Pittsburgh Stockman.

Cattle Exchange.

The Fort Worth Cattle Exchange is still with the foremost in the way of having one of the handsomest bars and keeping the best brands of wines, liquors and cigars. The Exchange also has a billiard and pool table in first-class order, and those visiting this place will be well treated by the gentlemanly bar-keepers, John W. Conway and Buck Smith.

March 25

FROM TAYLOR.

Williamson County Wool-Growers' and Sheep-Breeders' Association

A meeting of this association was held at Taylor on the 8th instant, President Easley in the chair. There was a large attendance of members and considerable interest displayed in discussing the arrangements for the Public Shearing to be held at 10 a. m., on the 19th instant, at Mr. E. A. Robertson's, one mile west of Taylor. The lunch for that day came in for its share of notice, and it was decided to put this department in the care of Messrs. Love, Robertson and Paxton, requesting the ladies interested in the association to bring their baskets filled with all sorts of good things.

Messrs. Symes, Chamberlain and Booth with their alternates, Mendel, Bland and Keran, were appointed delegates to the State Wool-Growers' Association, to meet at San Antonio June 7, 1882, to represent the wool interests of Williamson county.

Mr. Symes, county inspector, as requested at a previous meeting, reported that he had examined a great many flocks in the county and that he only knew three to be infected with scab; and upon members knowing of diseased flocks being requested to name them, two more were mentioned in a doubtful manner.

The ten cents per hundred head of sheep, voted at a former meeting, being inadequate to purchase the necessary tobacco to be kept in stock for the cure of scab it was resolved to increase the assessment to twenty-five cents per hundred.

In order that members may meet to consult before marketing their clips, a meeting of the association will be held at Taylor on Saturday, May 13, 1882.

Sheepmen report a great number of ewes barren this spring from some cause and although they have saved all lambs that came, owing to the favorable weather during lambing season, the increase will not amount to more than 70 to 75 per cent. All look forward, however, to a heavy clip, as sheep have gone through the winter well and shearing around here will begin at once as the mesquite grass beard is already well up.

Last year many flockmasters had their wool considerably injured by beard, owing to the scarcity of good shearers in this neighborhood, and as there are now a great many more sheep, first-class shearers would be likely to find employment for sometime from now on. I. D. KERAN.

Atascosa County Sheepmen.

CAMPBELLTON, Mar. 27, 1882.

At a meeting of the Wool Growers Association held at Campbellton this date the following proceedings were had:

The meeting was called to order by the president, A. H. Lasater, and the minutes of the previous meeting read and adopted.

Reports of committees being next in order, the inspector, who was authorized at the last meeting to make a thorough canvass of the county, presented his report which was approved and ordered incorporated in the minutes of the meeting. The following is his report:

Inspected Jan. 30—For Monroe Armond 980 sheep. Scab, limited.

Feb. 4—For J. H. Jones 1,210 sheep. Scab, traveling.

March 16—For D. Brown 4,000 sheep. Sound.

March 17—For M. C. Yates 5,000 sheep. Sound.

March 18—For E. R. Thurber & Co. 6,480 sheep. Scab, limited.

March 18—For J. R. O'Nele 3,186 sheep. Scab, limited.

Mar. 21—For R. A. Goins 2,000 sheep. Scab, limited.

Mar. 21—For P. O'Neile 1,570 sheep. Sound.

Mar. 21—For Lucianno Brucino 74 sheep. Scab, limited.

Mar. 21—For Salvador Garza 30 sheep. Scab, limited.

Mar. 22—For T. V. Beze 3,500 sheep. Scab, limited.

Mar. 22—Robin 1,000 sheep. Sound

Mar. 22—Brown & Glen 800 sheep. Scab, limited.

Mar. 22—Tova & Co. 700 sheep. Sound.

Mar. 23—W. J. Bowen 600 sheep. Scab, limited.

Mar. 24—A. W. McClure 960 sheep. Sound.

Mar. 21—S. Peck 1,000 sheep. Sound.

Mar. 23—A. Huebner 1.000 sheep. Sound.

Mar. 23—O. Stout 1,700 sheep. Sound.

Mar. 23—Estel 500 sheep. Sound.

Mar. 24—Bundy & Proctor, 5,600. Sound.

Mar. 27—W. H. Stout 2,140 sheep. Sound.

Mar. 24—C. Smith 400 sheep. Sound.

Mar. 25—B. F. Rountree 1,100 sheep. Scab, limited.

Mar. 25—Dr. Hurt 600 sheep. Scab.

The inspector stated his fees would amply pay him without any compensation from the association.

The committee on scab-law next reported. Two bills had been drafted and presented for consideration. After much discussion, in which all manifested a deep interest, the following resolution was passed:

Be it Resolved—That it is the sense of this association, that the most stringent laws should be enacted, and the delegates appointed to the State Wool Growers Association are hereby instructed to favor the most stringent bill that may be presented to said body for consideration.

Judge Kent of Concho was introduced, and on motion of Mr. E. C. Lasater was made an honorary member of this association.

On motion of H. Bundy, it was resolved that the delegates to the state association be requested to urge some measure for legislative enactment, having for its object the extermination of coyotes, cats and other wild animals so destructive to young stock.

On motion it was resolved that Live Oak and McMullen counties be solicited to unite with our association and each county have an inspector appointed. A. H. Lasater was appointed to confer with wool growers of Live Oak county; W. H. Stout with those of McMullen county.

On motion it was resolved that the state association be requested to codify and publish in connection with their proceedings all unrepealed laws or parts of laws bearing upon the scab question.

On motion a tax was levied against each member of ½ cent per head on all sheep owned by him, for the purpose of defraying current expenses, to be collected by the secretary.

On motion each member was requested to pay in one dollar to be forwarded to the state association; the same being dues of this association.

A. H. Lasater	$1.50
A. W. McClure	1.00
E. C. Lasater	1.00
D. Brown	1.00
H. Bundy	1.00
W. Jacobs	1.00
J. H. Proctor	1.00
O. B. Stout	1.00
W. A. Stout	1.00
L. Jacobs	1.00

L. & W. Jacobs also paid initiation fees of $1.00 each.

On motion the secretary was instructed to forward a copy of these proceedings to the TEXAS LIVE STOCK JOURNAL, San Antonio Express, Texas Wool and Pleasanton Monitor, with request to publish.

The meeting then adjourned to meet again at Campbelton the last Monday in August. A. H. LASATER, President.
W. H. STOUT, Secretary.

Sheep Raising in Texas.

A correspondent of the Belvidere (N. J.) Appollo thus gives his observations of sheep raising in Texas: "The business of growing wool and raising sheep for market, upon the plains of Texas, has lately been attracting much attention, and to the young man with a few hundred dollars, willing to isolate himself from society for some years, and devote his whole time and attention to it, it is full of promise and fortune. A line drawn southwest from Red river, at the mouth of the Wichita, to the Rio Grande, at Eagle Pass, will cut off an extent of country several times larger that New Jersey. To the east of this line the country is generally quite well adapted to farming, whilst to the west, although much of the land is equally as fertile, yet, owing to the uncertainty in regard to the amount of rainfall, farming becomes a very precarious business, and is confined almost entirely to the alluvial bottom lands along the larger rivers; the whole country, however, is admirably adapted to the growing of all kinds of stock, being covered with a rich herbage of the different varieties of mesquite and gama grass. These grasses, even in the most favorable seasons, seldom attain a height of six inches, but are very nutritious, stock fattening upon them more rapidly than upon our more luxuriant northern grasses.

The great value of the country for stock raising, however, lies in the fact that during the months of August, September and October little, if any, rain falls, and as a consequence, the grass dries into hay upon the ground, the whole country becoming a natural hay rick, from which stock feed and remain fat all winter. Whilst this is true of the majority of years, now and then one will come in which much rain falling late in the season, followed by long continued freezing weather, the crop is killed and becomes as worthless as at the North in winter; indeed, almost every year there will come stormy days when sheep, at least, will be very much better if sheltered and fed in the corral than driven out to graze; to say nothing of the comfort of the owner. A wet norther in Texas is something a person who has ever been exposed to once will ever after pray most devoutly to be delivered from.

This makes it necessary to success in sheep raising, that feed be provided for them for these exceptional days and seasons; and this is most easily and cheaply done by cutting hay in June from the low grounds bordering the streams, or rather water courses—for in Texas running streams are the exception—or by growing millet, sorghum, etc.

The careful shepherd will also provide sheds to shelter his flock, for, whilst sheep will endure any amount of cold, and even snow storms, without inconvenience, yet, when, with the thermometer, standing only a few degrees above freezing, a rain-storm is driven across the open plains at the of forty miles an hour, sheep and herder must alike seek shelter at the ranch or in some friendly canyon. Whilst I know of no business that, with proper care, will bring a more certain reward, none will more certainly result in failure if neglected; hence the great variation in the result of ventures by different persons, some finding themselves at the end of the year with no more sheep than at the beginning, the losses equaling the increase.

I will give an account of two sheep ranches, one of which, perhaps, makes an exceptionally favorable showing, whilst the other should be equalled by any one with ordinary care and attention. In the fall of 1880 Messrs. Barber & Co., bought 1,000 head of ewes; the fall of 1881 finds them with 1,894 head of sheep and lambs, at an increase of 90 per cent., a few ewes having been killed by wolves before lambing. Their expenses during the year for herding, shearing, feed, etc., would amount to $650, whilst the income from sales of wool amounted to $920, leaving a balance of $270, as profit. To this should be added the value of the lambs—898 at $2.75—being $2,469, making a total profit of $2,739. The lambs being bred from fine Merino rams are really more valuable than the old sheep. As the flock cost $2,750, the profit for the year is nearly 100 per cent. The other case is that of a young man who went to Texas in the fall of 1879 from a Northern city, being about as illy fitted for life on a sheep ranch, by any previous experience, as could well be imagined. He went bravely to work, bought forty acres of land, and with the help of one man built himself a stone house, forty by seventeen feet, and sheds and corrals for his sheep. About the first of May, 1880, he bought 898 sheep (with 242 young lambs) for $2,245. There were but 600 ewes in the flock, which partly accounts for the small number of lambs. In August he bought seven rams for $140, which, with amount paid for land, etc., brought his total investment up to $2,635. The expenses of running the ranch during the year, including his personal expenses and cost of feed for sheep, was $900. In consequence of the small number of sheep the expense per head for running the ranch is unusually large; it would have cost little, if any more, to have cared for 1,500 head. His receipts from wool sold during the year were $1,044, thus leaving a cash balance in his favor.

His stock had greatly increased in value in spite of the loss of thirty-six old sheep, the lambs at a year old being well worth $3 per head, so that valuing his original flock at their cost per head, his stock in the spring of 1881 was worth $3,681, an increase of $696, which added to the excess of receipts over expenditures made his profit for the first year $840.

In March last, when he had had the flock but about ten months, he was offered $2,500 for a half interest, but refused. For this year he must depend partly on estimates, not knowing the exact amount of wool he will be able to shear next spring.

His expenses will certainly not exceed those of last year, as he raised a crop of sorghum for feed, whilst his receipts from wool sold will probably amount to $1,472, besides which he sold a car load (180 of his old wethers) for $450; had he been in market a week sooner he could have sold for half a dollar per head more than he did.

Supposing him to lose as many sheep as last year, although up to this time he has lost but four, his stock in spring of 1882 will consist of 646 old sheep, 17 rams, 262 two-year old sheep and 400 yearlings, having a total value of $3,741, showing an increase in value of stock of $660, which added to the excess of receipts over expenses makes a total profit for the year of $1,632. With anything like the same good fortune, his flock in the spring of 1883, three years after purchase, will be worth at least five thousand dollars, with excess of receipts over expenses for the year, of at least eight hundred dollars, and probably, one thousand.

Many persons owning land but unable to buy sheep of their own, are taking them of others on shares, agreeing to return to the owner of the sheep his original number, at the end of say five years, and in the meantime giving him half the gross profits, that is half the wool produced, together with half the increase. A profitable arrangement for both parties. TEXAS.

BEEF IS KING.

ST. LOUIS, April 10, 1882.

We Southern people once boasted that "cotton was king." Shakespeare, or the Bible, said that the lion was the "king of beasts." Both sayings have been proven fallacious. In San Antonio a Long-horn Texas steer whipped, first, one lion and then, in a fair fight, whipped a pair of them. Therefore, in Texas, a Long-horn steer is "king of the beasts." This Long-horn steer cuts a big figure in other countries besides Texas. We find here, in St. Louis, that his health and general welfare is much inquired after. These people are tired of their short allowance of Short-horn beef, and long for the time when the Long-horn will make his appearance and give them cheaper meat; eight cents per pound gross, for Short-horn beef, has made many warm admirers for our Texas King. Stock yards are overhauled and made more comfortable in anticipation of his early arrival. Railroads are all looking to him to furnish them something to do during the long summer months; while commission men are on the qui vive to see that they get a chance to cater to the welfare of his royal highness.

Speculations as to this year's markets are too varied to be relied on. There are too many ifs in the way of arriving at any definite conclusion. Our king may sell at big figures throughout the entire year, if—what? If there are not too many thrown on the market too early and in poor condition; if money matters don't become too tight. I have talked to nearly all of the beef solons here—men who have been identified with the markets for years—and I find the general impression among them all is, a fear of too heavy a run of inferior cattle in the early part of the season, causing a bad break in the market. As to a recovery after a break, there are too many ifs in the way of making a decent guess.

I find by figuring with parties who know the trade of the West, that Kansas, Colorado, Nebraska and all the other grazing states will be able to furnish about the same number of cattle for this year's markets that they furnished in 1881, while Texas is relied on to furnish 25 per cent. more than in 1881. But one fact in favor of good prices comes in here: Missouri, Illinois and other feeding states, will be fully 50 per cent. short of their usual supply. Many of their cattle were shipped last fall to the grazing states, and are counted in the expected supply for this year. Now comes another if—if the feeding states are assured of a good grain crop, the demand for feeders will be more than 25 per cent. greater than it ever was, which would give us a good late market—as most of the graded cattle from the Northwest would be needed to supply that demand, while the native stock would be kept at home and fed.

There are not as many cattle for the American markets for the year 1882 as there were for 1881, and the demand, arising from increased population, is fully 5 per cent. greater than it was last year; therefore, we ought to expect, under ordinary circumstances, to get better figures. These expectations can only be realized by keeping our cattle on the grass until they are thoroughly ripe. The demand for beef to-day is in excess of the supply, and a tempting bait is offered our shippers to hurry up their cattle. These big figures will have the effect of making too many men try to get a finger in the pie, and this will cause somebody to get hurt.

The mild winter just passed is going to give us fleshy cattle nearly a month earlier than usual. They will shed and look pretty; but the same cause has produced the same result in all the other grazing states; therefore, Texas will be no earlier in getting to market than other states, taking the difference in latitude into consideration.

To sum up the outlook for this year's beef market, the prospects for good figures for good cattle were never better. The man who ships inferior, half-fat stuff, had better have kept his money in the bank at home without interest. He would have been better off at the end of the year. RED.

ROUND-UP WORK.

The 10th Day of May, the Time Fixed by the Gainesville Convention to begin.

In the published proceedings of the Gainesville convention the time set to begin the round-up work was May 1st. This was an error. The committee agreed on May 1st; but the committee's report, changed the day of beginning to the tenth day of May next. Parties interested will please bear this in mind. The work of the round-up, as fixed by the Gainesville convention, will begin May 10th. tf

W. E. CAMPBELL of Caldwell, Kansas, writes to the Kansas City Commercial Indicator from Las Vegas, New Mexico, as follows:

Cattle have wintered well in New Mexico, and as grass is now starting no further losses are apprehended. There has been considerable loss in sheep, but they, too, are now improving.

THE Kansas City Commercial Indicator has entered upon its fifth volume, and celebrates its birthday by a permanent addition of four columns to the page—being now a 32-column paper. It may well congratulate itself on being second to no paper of its kind west of Chicago. The Indicator is one of our most valued exchanges, and we rejoice at its success.

THE Old Reliable (Frisco line) has an advertisement in this issue of the JOURNAL. Every cattle shipper from Texas, Kansas and the Indian Territory knows that this road has always been the stockmen's friend. Prompt and reliable, it has always complied with any promise made. Every Texan should patronize this road, where it is practicable, if for no other reason than that it is one of the few independent roads. The road is being extended west from Vinita as rapidly as possible and promises to be at the Verdigris river by the middle of June, and to the Arkansas river during the summer. When it penetrates Texas it will give us better shipping facilities than we have been accustomed to, and enable us to reach St. Louis with cattle in good condition. Its record is known to all regular shippers and any new shipper can learn from them how their stock has been handled. Give them one trial and if you continue in the business you will be a life time customer. The general offices of the road are in St. Louis, corner Fifth and Walnut, where, if you have any business, you will find a set of as courteous gentlemen as there are in the world.

THE immediate outlook for the consumer of beef is not regarded by the Pittsburgh Stockman as flattering. Speaking of the present prices that journal thinks if there is any change at all in the situation it will be in the direction of yet higher figures for choice cattle, saying that "in spite of the remarkable prices which cattle are commanding, liberal runs are not drawn out anywhere. Ordinarily such an advance as that recently made in beef stock would bring forward such liberal supplies as would cause a temporary reaction. But the supplies do not come either here or elsewhere—and the natural conclusion is that they are not available. The intermediate markets, whose local runs are already pretty well exhausted, are compelled to depend largely on the West, and the shortage in that part of the country is becoming more apparent every day. The runs at Chicago and St. Louis are much lighter that at the same time last year, notwithstanding the fact that drovers seem to be making strenuous efforts to keep up the runs. The effect of the shortage of corn in some of the heavy feeding districts of the West is now cropping out, with the certainty of a large fall-off in the number of cattle fed for the spring trade. A significant circumstance connected with the present advance is that there has been no special activity anywhere in the last few days, and that even in the face of dullness and with buyers fighting hard for a reduction, not a point for the purchasing interest has been gained."

Save the Calves.

There is a great waste and heavy loss in the reckless mode of killing calves so extensively practiced by many of our stockmen and their employes. The practice is a cruel, barbarous one, and, if it were not, calves are now too valuable for this extravagant practice to be continued. Every possible care and precaution should be taken to prevent calves being separated from their mothers during the round-up and branding season. Rough and reckless handling is inhuman and wasteful.

The use of calves for beef should be abandoned. They are the most expensive diet ranchmen can have. The killing of a calf often causes the loss of the cow. The practice sets an example for dishonest men, who make veal of their neighbors' calves—and just so long as the practice is indulged will bad men avail themselves of it to eat the calves of some other man. No one can afford to feed large outfits of men on his own calves when it requires one each day to supply them. It would be much cheaper to buy canned beef from the Chicago and St. Louis canning establishments for this purpose. In fact, time and money can both be saved by using not only canned beef, but canned vegetables, fruits, etc. At any rate, no food could be more expensive than young calves at their present value.

Abolish the practice. It is inhuman, wasteful and leads to dishonesty—for as long as it is kept up some men will be hard to convince that the meat of a neighbor's, or an estray, calf is not more toothsome than that of their own stock.

Needlessly Alarmed.

The Dallas Herald appears frightened at the idea that the old alcalde will endeavor to divide the state at the 100th meridian, placing all the stockmen on one side and all the farmers on the other, and preventing either to trespass upon the territory of the other under severe penalties. This addling of the excellent Herald is one of the results of Governor Robert's speech to the stockmen during their recent convention, but we are surprised that even the Herald should feel serious over the matter. It would be a very good thing for the politicians if the state could be divided up in that way, and no communication allowed between the farmer and stockman, for then candidates for state offices would be secure from many embarrassments they now labor under. For instance, they could harrangue the grangers from the text that civilization begins and ends with the plow, and afterwards go over the line and declare that a stockman was the corner-stone of society before whose greatness all other classes must bow, and that when the Bible calls the lion the king of beasts, the word lion is but a figure of speech, really meaning a long-horn steer.

But the scheme, as feared by the Herald, is so impracticable and absurd that nothing could exceed it in that line but the Herald's treating it as a serious matter.—San Antonio Express.

This is a sample of the fairness and intelligence with which the position of Gov. Roberts, as enunciated in his Austin speech, is treated by the average Texas newspaper. To believe some of these wise-acres, it might be supposed that the sensible old statesman had seriously proposed the erection of a Chinese wall along the 100th meridian, over which the beginners and enders of civilization could not climb to go west young man, and through which the long-horns could not be driven to graze on the ripening wheat fields and snowy cotton patches of the granger.

Texas has ever provided in its laws for the occupation and settlement of its public lands by farmers, but has never yet made legal provision for the permanent establishment of stock raisers within its borders. The produce of herds and flocks has brought millions of dollars into the state; but Texas through it laws has only tolerated ranchmen and flockmasters—treating them as though they were aliens, of no account in the grand aggregate of our state's wealth.

Gov. Roberts knows better than the "smart Alecks" of the press that it is not only impracticable to put all the stockmen on one side of a line drawn through the state and the farmers on the other—but that no one save a lunatic would propose such a thing; and no one of common honesty would accuse him of proposing such a thing. Gov. Roberts recognizes that certain portions of Texas are essentially adapted to pastoral pursuits; he realizes the vast benefit of the stock interests to Texas, and in his speech at Austin to stockmen he declared himself in favor of putting them on the same plane before the law with all other classes, in so far as the laws affected the disposal of the state's lands in sections where grazing was the only profitable pursuit. The law heretofore has not made it possible for stockmen to secure the requisite quantity of public lands save through a liberal use of one's sisters, his cousins and his aunts. The governor would change the law, so that west of a certain line (many degrees west of where it is really profitable to farm) stockmen should have an equal chance with others; but even Gov. Roberts would perpetuate the discrimination against stockmen east of that line.

West of this line all men would have an equal chance to obtain public lands in quantities desired and necessary to their business under the law as Gov. Roberts would amend it. The stockman could get as much as he needed and the farmer as much as was necessary to his purpose. But east of the line the operations of the law would exclude stockman, since only farmers could get the quantiy of land requisite for their pursuit. The governor would not shut farmers out of Western Texas—he would change the laws so that neither farmers nor stockmen should be shut out. He knows the value of the live stock interests to Texas, whereas some of our newspapers seem to think that when a man embarks in stock raising he thereby becomes a public enemy to be legrslated out of existence.

It is just possible, as intimated by Mr. Bentley in his San Angela address, that a continual denial of the rights of stockmen may result in giving an impulse and a voice to the latent desire for a division of the state, sure enough. No patriotic Texan wants to see the day come, and those most opposed to it are among those who deprecate any administration of public affairs that will strengthen the desire which mainly has its lodgment in those who are new to Texas and uninfluenced by past memories. Had'nt the politicians and the newspaper enemies of Gov. Roberts as well bring to bear on this subject the views of statesmen and cease treating it from a narrow-minded standpoint? Is the stock interest, as it flourishes on the range, worth anything to Texas? Does it contribute aught to the public coffers? Considering the vast area of public lands in sections where the rainfall is inadequate to agricultural pursuits, should the laws forever prevent stockmen from securing a permanent foot-hold in the state? These are the questions Texas statesmanship should answer.

Agents Wanted.

We want a good, live, active agent and correspondent in every town in the stock growing portion of the Southwest—one who will interest himself in getting subscribers, advertisements, etc., for the JOURNAL, for which we will allow a liberal commission. We desire these gentlemen also to furnish us weekly the stock notes and news from their respective sections, for which, to competent parties, we will pay a liberal salary. A good, live, active man can by this arrangement, and without interfering with his other business, make annually a snug little sum. Paries applying for the agency, who are unknown to the office, must accompany the application with suitable recommendations and references.

Our Subscription Price.

As previously announced, from and after January 11, 1882, the subscription price of the TEXAS LIVE STOCK JOURNAL will be as follows:

One year in advance,	$3.00
Six months "	$2.00
Three months "	$1.00
Single copies, each,	.10

Scarcely a day passed that the old story of owners having to take less money for their stock than their salesmen could have got is not retold. When a man has made a mistake by paying too much for stock in the country it is seldom he gains anything by making the second mistake of ordering the stock held until a certain price is reached. The time to sell is just as soon as stock can be prepared, after arrival, and if it is found that the stock has been held back a little too long to realize as much as a neighbor may have got, or the price paid in the country was too high, the owner had just as well pay his penalty the first day as to take nine chances out of ten of making it heavier, and adding to it a three or four days' feed bill.—Chicago Drovers Journal.

ST. LOUIS, April 10, 1882.

The National Stock Yards, East St. Louis, with their commission merchants and employes, their beef-canning company and fine hotel, make a city of themselves. The yards are laid out and built on a grand scale. I do not propose to give a detailed description of either the Stock Yards, the St. Louis Beef Canning Company, or that splendid hotel, the Allerton House; but will give only a brief outline of some of the prominent features of each. The yards are located at a convenient distance from the city, and were built with an eye to handling all classes of live stock in the most approved style. All of the railroads running to St. Louis are connected with the Yards, so that, in receiving or shipping, every facility is offered to dealers. The advertisement of the Yards in the JOURNAL gives all necessary information for those who have never been there.

Connected with the Yards is the St. Louis Beef Canning Company, who have a capacity to handle eight hundred head of cattle per day. This is a mammoth institution, and will add a very important feature to the live stock trade of St. Louis. They will have buyers in the Yards all the time, and expect this season to run their business to its utmost capacity. To give a detailed description of this large establishment, or to calculate the benefits to the stock trade of having them here as buyers, would be useless. To quote their words, "The company has packed during the past three seasons about 200,000 animals. It has a nominal capacity of 1000 beeves per day, but an actual, continuous working capacity of about 800. It has this season very largely increased its facilities, and is prepared to handle cattle more largely and expeditiously than ever before. Among the many improvements being made, is the construction of an artificial cold air and ice apparatus at a cost of $100,000. This machine will not be in working order until about the first of June, but the company have sufficient ice to commence operations earlier, if circumstances should so warrant." Your correspondent was shown through the establishment (which, by-the-way, is the largest in the world) by the courteous manager, Mr. Patterson, He tried to make notes of everything, but found too many points of interest to allow him to give them to your readers at this time. Every article used in the establishment is manufactured at home; their cans are all made of the best quality of tin, so that there is no danger of lead poisoning, Their cold cellars, cooling rooms; in fact, every department of their business is all on so grand a scale that one must see to comprehend the large amount of capital invested. Their goods are sold all over the world and the best evidence that they are appreciated is, that they have no stock on hand. Everything has been sold.

The Allerton House, connected with the Yards, has just changed hands and under the management of Mr. Culver, promises to be, as it now is, first-class in every respect, while the charges are very moderate. Every part of the hotel has been thoroughly refitted and cattlemen visiting St. Louis cannot do better than to stop there.

The Exchange building and offices of the Stock Yards and commission merchants, are all that could be needed for that purpose; commodious and near the center of business. All of the prominent commission merchants have their cards in the advertising columns of the JOURNAL and our readers are referred to them for information.

The management of the Stock Yards, under Mr. Knox, is all that could be asked for. Everything connected with the business is done in a systematic manner, by a set of gentlemen who are courteous and polite, thus making the stranger feel at home. Nothing has been left undone to make this the great center of the great Western cattle trade. The comfort of both man and beast has been the study of the managers and nothing that art could provide is lacking. RED.

Live Stock Market of St. Louis.

St. Louis National Stock Yards

EMBRACING 656 ACRES.

100 Acres Enclosed; 60 Acres Under Sheds.

LOCATED AT EAST ST. LOUIS, ILL.

Directly Opposite the City of St. Louis.

Stock unloaded diricty to the pen from all railroads and steamboats running to St. Louis and East St. Louis from the South, West, North and East.

Commission Men, Eastern and Local Buyers, Banks, Railroad Offices, Postoffice and other advantages located at these Yards.

Pork Packing and Beef Canning Houses at the Yards

Constructed in the year 1872, improvements suggested by experience in other yards have been introduced, and it is believed these yards present advantages for the care of stock, whether in winter or summer, not offered by any other yards. The stock arriving is landed directly in the pens and placed immediately on the market. Buyers from New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Pittsburgh, Buffalo and New England cities; Cincinnati, Louisville, Nashville and other points; also from Liverpool and London, England, are permanently located at the Yards, and shippers can confidently anticipate an active and reliable market for all receipts, however large, and for all grades of stock. Every effort will be made to advance the confidence of shippers in St. Louis Live Stock Market, which has now through the agency of these Yards, become at least the equal of any live stock market in the West, and, by shippers concentrating the live stock trade in this market, it will become the largest wholesale market in the West for cattle, as it is now the equal of any for all live stock. The Pork Packing Houses located at these Yards have the capacity for killing 12,000 hogs per day.

The St. Louis Beef Canning Company, with a Capacity for the Slaughter of 1,000 head of cattle per day, has its packing house located at these Yards.

A first-class hotel for the convenience of its patrons is attached to the Yard. The Stock Yard Bank, under the management of Newman & Farr has its office with the general offices at the Yard.

Rare Chance.

Being obliged to put our range under fence to get the benefit of same, we find it necessary to reduce the size of our flock, and shall offer for sale, on or after April 15, 1882, this season's increase, or about 2,000 head in all. There will be 1,000 two year old half blood wethers that shear from 4 to 7 pounds; about 600 three year old ewes, ½ blood, with this spring lambs, ¾ blood; also, 600 to 800 Mexican ewes with this spring ½ blood lambs. The crop of lambs are by our very best "selected Merino bucks," from the celebrated flocks of Geo. Campbell & Son of Vermont. We have about 200 bucks we offer for sale at a very low price for the lot. They have been on our ranch one, two and three years, are in fine condition, free from disease, perfectly acclimated and are very valuable on that account to any one who can use the whole herd. We will sell any or the whole for cash or will exchange for cattle at market prices. We will make low prices for the herd of bucks, as we must change for new blood. Bucks' average clip this year, between 11 and 12 pounds. We can show as good results from our breeding with native Mexican ewes as any other party. Our ½ blood wethers and ewes will shear from 4 to 7 pounds, while the Mexican mother will shear about 2 pounds showing a large increase in weight of wool, and nearly 60 per cent. more in price per pound. Address us, THE PUTNAMS,
Lipan, Hood county, Texas.
Or, Loving, Garner & Harris, Fort Worth, for prices and further particulars. apri-tf

CALDWELL CORRESPONDENCE.

CALDWELL, KAS., April 10, 1882.

Considerable uneasiness was felt here last week, particularly by men holding stock in the extreme southwestern portion of the "Cherokee strip," by reports that the Cheyennes were on the warpath—the cause of the threatened outbreak being a reduction of one-half in their rations. The latest advices state that there is no trouble, all occasion for dissatisfaction having been removed by resuming former rations.

Jaquins & Brady have sold their ranch, cattle and horses to Billie Malalley on private terms, but we infer good figures. Mr. Brady will enter the employ of Mr. Malalley and remain on the ranch, and Mr. J. will go to Texas, purchase a herd and drive, if prices are not too high. We shall miss friend Jaquins' face on our streets, but hope he will return at an early day.

Garretson & Bergin left here last Saturday with an outfit for their ranch in Knox county, Texas. They are taking through a fine bunch of young Shorthorn bulls, to be used in improving the stock on their Texas ranches.

Jno. Blair is up from his Pond Creek ranch and reports stock improving rapidly.

Ben Franklin, a well-known Texas boy, now in the employ of the Kansas City Cattle Company, is spending a few days in Caldwell.

A. Gluck, a jeweler well-known to stockmen, and for the last five years located at Dodge City, has decided to open a store here.

W. Stacy, of Stacy Bros., ranch on the Cimanon, spent a few days here on business last week.

Gen. Pope passed through Caldwell Friday last en route for Fort Reno, I. T., to investigate Indian affairs.

Xenophan Buskirk, a old trailman, but at present holding a horse herd on Pond Creek, had the misfortune to lose a finger by handling a six-shooter in a careless manner. It dropped to the floor and the hammer striking it was discharged with the result as above. He had a narrow escape from instant death, as his face and side were burned with powder.

H. W. Timberlake, a brother of Sheriff Timberlake of Jesse James notoriety, is here for a few days.

Abe Manee, Garretson & Bergin's foreman, came in last week and after outfitting at Hardesty Bros. returned to camp. Abe seem to find more attractions here than purchasing supplies, and we imagine he realizes a sense of "loneliness" when he is away.

Stockmen visiting Caldwell this season will find the banking facilities better than ever before. We have now two good banking houses of a reliable kind—not of the Danford stripe.

EAST ST. LOUIS.

A Useful Paragraph, and not Distasteful, Texas Products Wanted.

NATIONAL STOCK YARDS, }
April 11, 1882. }

[Special Correspondence Texas Live Stock Journal.]

The receipts for the week now ended, small and altogether of native cattle from common to prime, which changed hands promptly at stiff prices. The above paragraph has been doing a good deal of service, and no doubt is getting rather monotonous to the JOURNAL readers; but the truth must be told, and I am the (very) young man to do it. In fact, I could be let off easily if I said there was no change in the market. There ain't either. Prime and fancy native steers brought from $7.20@$7.40; good $6.75@7.15; common to fair, $5.80@$6.65; cows and heifers, $4@5.75; bulls, $4.50@$5.75; Colorados, $5@$6.70; corn-fed Texans, $5.70@6; Indians and Southwest, $5@6. Grass Texans, but few come in and not of the best quality, still brought from $4.75@$5.20 per 100 lbs. They are wanted mighty badly. Chicago prices can be discounted.

Texas hogs scarce; fat ones would sell at $5.75@$5.50, according to quality.

Texas sheep steady and unchanged. Outside of this there is nothing new to note.

I see Brother Halliwell is trying to ridicule my statement concerning the honesty of our buyers and sellers, and incidently remarks that in his opinion Chicago dealers are not very honest. I believe you, Brother Halliwell, in spite of the fact that some of the boys down here are whispering in my ear that you write interesting romances. In answering this, suppose you saddle your Pegassus, mount him and soar up.

SALES AND TRANSFERS.

Yearlings are $11 per head in Llano county.

Cattle are high in Montana. A herd of 1,300 in Chesnut Valley recently sold for $39,000.

Young cattle, two and three years old—heifers—were offered in Hamilton lately at $12 and $15 per head.

The Brady Sentinel says Mr. H. D. Bradley has sold his stock of cattle for $3,500. Mr. Buck Richards is the purchaser.

Evans & Haas, Omaha cattle dealers, purchased 10,000 head of cattle of Balch & Bacon, Laramie City, Wyoming, for $200,000.

Mr. Wm. Childress has purchased from Messrs. Holloway, Fritz & McKenzie their interest in the O L stock of cattle, paying therefor $52,500. Mr. L. B. Harris is proprietor of the other one-half interest.

I have used Dr. Simmons Liver Regulator and always found it to do what is claimed for it. The last bottle and two packages did me no good and were worse than nothing. I see it is not put up by J. H. Zeilin & Co., and not genuine, and a waste of money to buy it. I would be glad to get the pure and genuine. Send me some from honest hands (with red Z and Zeilin & Co.'s signature on wrapper.) The fictitious stuff sold will injure some one badly.

Fine Wool.

Messrs. Goodrum & Merriam of Paint Rock have sent the JOURNAL a specimen of their wool clip for this season. It is a fine specimen and we invite interested parties to call and examine it. Messrs. Goodrum & Merriam will have from 40,000 to 50,000 pounds in Abilene at Hyck's warehouse for sale by the 25th of this month—and it estimated that Abilene will get 800,000 pounds from that section alone. Fort Worth buyers should be be on hand, either in person or by representative, to put an active finger into this rich pie. Our wool men should keep an eye on the western supply depots, prominent among which is Abilene.

NEVADA stockmen predict that this spring will be an excellent one for grass. The ground is well soaked with water. There is plenty of snow in the mountains.

THE publication of the stock laws of Texas, which we promised to begin this week, will be begun in our next issue. The copy was not accessible in time to begin on it this week.

OUR St. Louis and Chicago letters are of prime interest to buyers, shippers and sellers. As supplementary to our telegraphic market reports they are very valuable, and are written by gentlemen who know what they are writing about.

ONE THOUSAND DOLLARS invested in 50 cows and calves will net to their owner more money than would ten times the amount invested in farming, or trying to farm, in West Texas. Yet many of our newspaper brethren and all land owners out there advise immigrants to go west and buy a farm.

THE Northern New Mexico Stock Growers Association has been organized at Springer. President, J. E. Temple; vice-president, J. W. Dwyer; secretary, N. F. Cooke; treasurer, Francis Clutton. Executive committee: D. C. Pryor, chairman; Lon Horn, Russell Marcy, Elijah Johnson, Dan J. Young, W. R. Green, C. D. Woolworth, J. B. Dawson and G. B. Foster.

OUR market reports which are always fresh, correct and reliable, will be found to be of interest and vital importance to all interested in the sale or shipment of stock. Now, at the beginning of the most important shipping season that Texas cattlemen have ever experienced, these telegraphic market reports will doubtless prove of great value and should be carefully read and studied by all.

CAMPBELL & DORSEY offer a reward of $500 for the capture of James Morgan, dead or alive. Morgan murdered H. T. Stephens in cold blood in the Territory not long since. He is about 32 years old, sandy complexion, large blue eyes, brown hair, about 4 inches long, full beard, 1½ inches long, 5 feet 8 inches high, weight 160 pounds; wore blue shirt, overalls, heavy top boots and white slouch hat, and can speak Mexican.

GO WEST, young man; but if your means are limited don't squander them in efforts to make the soil do what nature has not provided it for doing. Buy you a few head of stock—horses, cattle, sheep, goats or hogs. A very small sum of money will secure a moderate beginning in either branch, and a moderate beginning properly managed will make you independent in a few years. Then you can afford to experiment in farming; but until your independence is established do not extend your farming operations further than you can attend to, at odd times when you have nothing else to do.

IN Craighead and Chicot counties, Ark., buffalo gnats are destroying large numbers of cattle and horses. The planters in all the section of the country embraced in the overflowed districts complain of the ravages of these pests. The gnats are now as large as an ordinary horse-fly. It is said that they have never before been so numerous or destructive. In many localities farming is carried on by moonlight, as the insects do not trouble stock to any extent after nightfall. Many planters begin work just at twilight and continue plowing, and others work throughout the night.

IF government bonds bearing only 3 to 4 per cent. interest are worth a premium as an investment, what should Texas cows be valued at that will annually bring a calf, nine years out of ten, worth $12 to $15 when only one year old—and reared to that age at nominal cost? If the small interest bearing bonds be the basis, $50 a head would nearer approximate the real value of Texas cows than do present prices. Yet there are some who insist that cattle are too high. What will these men think when buyers begin to pay, eagerly, $20 per head for mixed stock cattle. This will be done in less than six months from this date.

The Through Trail.

Jno. D. Miles, Indian agent, writes to Mr. W. M. Hubbell, Caldwell, Kansas, April 1, as follows:

CHEYENNE & ARAPAHOE AGENCY,
DARLINGTON, I. T., April 1, 1882.

Dear Friend: All cattle herds will be required to follow the old Chisholm trail east of this agency, or on the trail west of Cantonment. The trail passing between this agency and Cantonment in the vicinity of the Red Hills, over which a few herds passed last season, was not authorized by the Indian office and cannot be used this season except it first be authorized by the commissioner of Indian affairs.

You will please give this notice to cattlemen.
Very respectfully, JNO. D. MILES, Indian Agent.

Volume 2, Number 52.

With this issue the second volume of the JOURNAL is completed. For two years we have devoted all the industry, ability and means at our command to giving the stockmen of Texas and the Southwest a paper that would afford them such news and information as their particular wants demanded. While we have no disposition to underrate our industry, we must confess to a limited share of ability and money; but what we have and all that we have been able to command from other sources have been freely contributed to the cause and to the establishment of a paper worthy of and truly representative of that cause.

We have honestly and at all times endeavored to give value received to the stockmen and other patrons for the liberal support given us. How far we have succeeded in this effort must be judged by others. We do not claim to be infallible. It would have been impossible to discuss the many and widely different subjects we have been called on to treat, without falling into some mistakes; but, be this as it may, we are cheered by the reflection that our motives and intentions have never been alloyed with error. Our one idea has been the advancement of the live stock interests of Texas and the grazing regions of the great Southwest. The manner of our performance may have been faulty—but the intent was loyalty without flaw. Our sole ambition has been to make a newspaper of positive benefit to live stock interests and realize for us a livelihood based on faithful service.

We shall begin the third volume of the JOURNAL with all the advantages conferred by two years' experience and with far greater facilities than we have ever possessed; for the lack of which in the past the JOURNAL has made haste slowly. We can safely promise our patrons a better paper and more rapid improvement in the future. We here express our thanks for past support, and ask that the errors and mistakes which have marked the execution of a well-meant purpose may be forgotten. We are better prepared in every way for an effort to increase the usefulness and value of the JOURNAL and ask a continuance of the support and influence of stockmen as a prerequisite to the success of that effort.

Getting to Market

No little interest is manifested in regard to the shipment of cattle this year—the question being, which is to be the principal shipping point; or, if beef is to be driven, where will the bulk of it go? So far no efforts have been made to unify action and secure special rates from Texas or other roads, as has been the case in the past. It would seem as if the majority of shippers prefer to leave the matter open and each individual to consult his own inclination and interest in the matter. The JOURNAL is an advocate of co-operation among stockmen in all things, and we doubt the probability of favorable rates under the plan that will be pursued. But since stockmen elect to "go it alone," we can only speculate as to the results.

With each individual left to choose his shipping point, we believe the shipments will be mainly divided between Gainesville, Abilene and Colorado, with a fair percentage in favor of the last named point. The beef from the Panhandle and the Red and Pease rivers country will mostly be driven to Dodge City, Caldwell and Hunnewell, Kan.

Some of our most prominent shippers of last year feel that they were badly treated by the railroad companies; their stock were carelessly handled, delayed and otherwise neglected while in transit. For these and similar reasons many of them are endeavoring to turn the trade to other roads. In matters of this kind every shipper should act with caution and strictly with an eye to his own interests—carefully guarding against being misled by those who may have imaginary or real grievances, or who may have axes to grind. Neglect of duty or inattention and indifference should no more be tolerated in a railroad company than in any one else—especially since cattlemen have a broad trail and growing grass northward; but neither should Texas cattlemen be unmindful of the difficulties under which Texas roads labored last year. The amount of railroad construction in this state in the last twelve months, (which will provide Texas shippers with transportation for all time to come) is some cause, if not an admitted excuse, for mistakes and delays. These difficulties are not now in the way of promptness and strict attention to public wants, and it is just possible that the short-comings of last year ended with the strain on the capacity that caused them.

At any rate, since it is to be a game of solitaire, would it not be best for each man to play it out on that line and consult his own interest. The result will be to convince all of the necessity of united action, and can be no worse on the individual than to go into a partial combination. Our own position is, that when home roads will give as good time and as good rates as others, it is to the interest of Texas shippers to patronize them, for by so doing the money which is expended at shipping points is kept in Texas to build up Texas, instead of being carried elsewhere to benefit other states and people. We are utterly opposed to Texas cattlemen being bled for the benefit of Texas—but all things being equal, we do believe that Texas money should, as far as possible, be expended in Texas.

IMPORTANT NOTICE.

To Members of the Pan Handle Stock Association.

Stockmen who are members of the Pan Handle Association will please send their brands at once to the secretary of the association at Mobeetie, that such brands may appear in an important advertisement.

If [illegible] J. P. EVANS, Pres't.

Cash in Advance.

After this issue, as has been previously announced, all subscriptions to the JOURNAL must be accompanied by the cash. We have not adopted the cash system because we doubt any man's willingness or ability to pay—but simply to avoid the keeping of a large number of small accounts, to look after which required the time of an able-bodied man. When the circulation of the JOURNAL was small, this was an inconsiderable matter—but now, when our subscribers are numbered by the thousand, the expense of keeping up with these multitudinous petty accounts consumes the little profit there is on them.

We beg our patrons to believe that necessity alone impels us to this course, and to be prompt in their renewals, as after this issue we shall drop all names from our list who are not paid up. The time consumed in looking up 5,000 or 6,000 delinquent subscribers can be much more profitably expended in work to make the columns of the JOURNAL valuable to its readers.

SAN ANTONIO.

A fine lot of 126 Merino sheep arrived over the International road from Vermont.

Barton Peck from Goliad is prospecting for a herd of cattle to ranch in North Texas.

"Cube" Holliday came in from Goliad. He shipped four carloads of horses to Fort Worth.

J. A. Dewess of La Salle county is in the city. He reports grass fine and stock in good condition.

R. H. Head of Lockhart made a flying visit to the city. Mr. Head is busy receiving cattle for the drive.

Mr. Barkley, representing Montgomery & Co. of Fort Worth, is here for the purpose of buying horses to take to their ranch.

W. R. Park, inspector of Wilson county, is in town and says grass and cattle are booming and stockmen wearing cheerful faces.

A. D. Grier of Wilson county was lately in the city. Mr. G. has been offered $22.50 for 100 head extra fat cows, but declined the offer.

Mr. Millar, of Millar Bros., of Bell Forch, Wyoming, started up the trail with 900 horses for his ranch in Wyoming. He advertises his road brand.

In conversation with some of the farmers of this section we learn the wheat is being damaged by the rust; some predict that whole crops will be ruined by the rust.

The City Music Store of this city is one of the best houses of the kind in Southwest Texas. The large and increasing business of this house is conclusive of this fact.

Mark Withers is in the city. He has 5,000 ones twos and threes started on the trail; they are said to be an extra herd of cattle. The Prairie Cattle Company gets them.

Atascosa county takes the prize for high price yearlings; $23.24 was paid here last week by a butcher for a bunch of yearlings; they were high graded Durhams and fat. They were daisies.

Joe Cotulla has been in the city. He will move to his ranch in La Salle county in a short time. Mr. Cotulla has a fine ranch well improved 22 miles from the city which he offers at a bargain.

Guy Borden of Fort Bend county, a cattle trader, is here buying cattle for the Galveston and New Orlean market. Mr. B. is handling good cattle and paying good prices; he makes the market lively.

H. N. Dimick of Uvalde spent a few days in the city. He has gone to Fort Davis to negotiate a trade with the Sunset road for a large body of land for a sheep ranch in that section. Mr. D. is one of our largest sheepmen.

Rufe Moore of Tilden, McMullen county, lately delivered to M. Half & Bro. 1,000 head of ones and twos—part of them at $10 and $12.50 per head and part at $11 and $13.50. They were extra cattle. McMullen produces no other kind.

The firm of Foster, Clark & Culver, live stock commission merchants here, have dissolved partnership; Mr. Foster continuing in the livery business. Clark and Culver have purchased and will drive a large herd of horses to Dodge City.

Moses McLane (colored) sold on this market 104 head of twos, threes and four year old beef cattle. They were pronounced to be the best lot of beef cattle brought to this market this season. McMullen county is turning out some very fine cattle.

E. P. Crum of the firm of E. P. Crum & Bro. has arrived from a trip to the Rio Grande. Mr. C. has 3,000 Mexican sheep on the road to this place. Mr. C. reports the grass as very fine, but says it has been very dry in that section of country between the Rio Grando and Nueces.

T. H. Zanderson has returned from his ranch near Del Rio on Devils river. Mr. Z. is putting up a large wind mill on his ranch by which he can draw water from the river and run it into tanks. He says when he left he had 105 per cent. of lambs. Mr. Z. thinks he can count safely on 90 per cent.

Forty-eight cars of horses were shipped over the I. & G. N. railway to the North during the month of March. The shipping season is just beginning and Mr. Hennessay, the stock agent, informs us that the future is bright. He also says that the rates have been reduced $15 on the car from here to St. Louis, the price now being $105.

Col. J. F. Ellison was in the city this week to purchase saddle ponies. Martin Culver presented him with a dwarf stallion. This stallion is said to be as much of a curiosity as the "little bull." He is five years old and about three feet high. We fear the colonel intends going out of the cattle business and into the show business.

Jim and Henry Martin from McMullin county were in the city this week. They have just delivered their yearlings at $11 per head. Henry credits the STOCK JOURNAL with being the means of getting this fancy price. The Messrs. Martins raise splendid cattle, and McMullen is said to be the best cow county in Southwest Texas.

Last Wednesday, a week ago, Mr. R. J. Lotterdale, a rising young stockman of Atascosa county led to the altar the accomplished and beautiful Miss Nannie O'Brien of Pleasanton. We extend our hearty congratulations to our young friend and his handsome bride. May no clouds ever obscure the sky of their domestic life, nor storms assail them in their journey over the matrimonial sea, and may they count their yearlings by the

FROM VICTORIA.

Cattle for the Trail. No Stock Cattle for Sale, Etc.

VICTORIA, April 8, 1882.

Everything quiet except the old cows who have been robbed of their yearlings.

Our Kansas drovers have about got off with all the young steers in this county.

John Wofford is here now receiving cattle of Reeves, Powers and Murphy. He will get 1,000 head from them.

John Green delivered 900 head of yearlings and twos to W. B. Grimes. They crossed the Gaudalupe river yesterday, and were decidedly the best cattle that have been sold in Southwest Texas. The yearlings were all graded stock.

John Welder crossed his last herd at Victoria last Monday—had 3,000 head of steer yearlings.

McCutchen & Keeran have got off their third herd, making the round number of 10,000 head on the trail.

Very few three-year-olds are being driven from this section, as the price offered for that class of cattle is not enough—$15 is the best offer.

The Italians on the N. Y., T. & M. R. R. struck for better wages, and quite a number of them struck for San Antonio; consequently the road is making but little headway.

No stock cattle for sale on living terms. SCROGGINS.

Shipping or Driving.

ST. LOUIS, April 11, 1882.

An article in some of the Texas papers signed by a number of prominent cattlemen, principally from Gainesville, pledging themselves not to ship over the Missouri Pacific railroad and calling on other stockmen to join them, has created some stir among railroad men here. They find that Texas stockmen have ideas of the pooling business as well as themselves. What the pool among stockmen will amount to is the question for them to solve. That a large part of the shipping cattle in Northwest Texas will be driven to railroad points North this season is and has been known to me for several months. Stockmen have found that the long run on Texas railroads damages their stock more than driving. This is reason enough for railroad men; to stockmen there are many other reasons—one of which is, they wish to get out of the reach of the great roadroad monopoly which is ruining Texas and meet railroad officials who will condescend to talk to a longhorn. It is not my province to say whether the move will result in any material good or not; but it will have the effect of stimulating the independent lines of railroads and render competition in rates more likely. Here in St. Louis the fear is expressed that the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe railroad, which controls both the Hunnewell and Caldwell roads, may pool rates in consequence of the Gould pressure and prevent any cut. I am assured by parties here, who are in a position to know, that the Gould interest expects such a pool, and are still under the impression that the signers of the pledge are only playing a big game of bluff. I have not been able to see the general manager of the Missouri Pacific, but a gentleman of high repute with whom he had just been talking, when I called, gave me the points desired. RED.

Messrs. Scheuber & Hochstadter wholesale dealers in wines, liquors, cigars, etc., take pleasure in announcing to their friends and customers that they are now supplied with an entire new stock, and will guarantee low prices and entire satisfaction. The Place to Go.

The JOURNAL takes pleasure in recommending Howord Tully, Jeweler, to the stockmen and to its readers generally. Mr. Tully's stock of jewelry, watches, clocks, etc., is complete and he is a liberal business man who believes in giving patrons their money's worth. He has employed an accomplished engraver, and is prepared to do all work in this line. Repairing of any kind done on short notice. In his new and ample quarters on Houston street, below the Cattle Exchange, Mr. Tully will be glad to see his friends and show them the "boss" stock of jewelry.

OUR WEEKLY ROUND-UP.

The Erath County Stock Association meets the first Saturday in each month.

Several thousand head of cattle will soon be on the drive from Erath county.

Shanghai Pearce is on the trail for Kansas with a goodly number of cattle.

Mr. Pink Choate will soon be along with 3,900 head of cattle on the way to Dodge City.

The Wichita (Kas.) Times says beef will go up to fifteen cents per pound and stay there.

Our brand columns continue to lengthen. The importance of making brands known should be realized by every owner of cattle.

Mr. E. Depee, Motley county, writes us: "Cattle are getting fat; cow-punchers are preparing for work; private round-ups begin 11th inst."

The herd of horses belonging to Mr. Thomas, en route from Hays county to Abilene, stampeded on Elm creek, McCulloch county, and were badly scattered.

W. M. Choate, Karnes county, arrived in the city Sunday. He brings 300 mares and 100 saddle horses which he desires to sell here. Should he not find a sale, he will drive to Dodge City.

Mr. Whiffen of Whiffen, Calkins & Wood, Illinois, got up his outfit of horses and hands here this week and started to Kaufman county to receive 1,500 cattle, recently purchased there.

Montgomery & Co. of this city have sent to San Antonio to purchase their horses, preparatory to receiving 2500 head of stock cattle, May 1st, purchased from Harris & Stinson Bros., in Jack County.

Hall's Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer is no new preparation for the public to experiment with; its success is unparalleled for restoring gray hair to its natural color, promoting its growth, and producing new hair on bald heads.

A correspondent of the Brady Sentinel, writing from Waldrip, McCulloch county, says the crossing of the Colorado river will be at Hays' store, the other crossings being closed by farms and pastures, which is the best crossing on the river.

A pasture eight miles square, enclosing Howard lake, is soon to be fenced on the San Miguel. Also another about twenty miles square, enclosing the Atascosa prairie from the Laparita to the Buckhorn, in Frio county. Stockmen can afford to build pasture fences when the business pays one hundred per cent. and upward.

Mr. J. N. Bibb, Sun City, Kansas, writes, "Received the JOURNAL yesterday. Must say it is the finest stock paper I ever had in my hands. Cattle have commenced to mend. Grass growing finely the past few days. Good luck to the JOURNAL. May it live forever, and the editor count his dollars by the thousands."

PERSONAL.

T. L. Culbreth left for the west this week to purchase beef to ship to the St. Louis and Chicago markets.

Mr. Montague, partner of the Messrs. Witherspoon of Gainesville, has been in the city and gladdened the JOURNAL sanctum.

W. C. Turner from Okmulgee, I. T., is here buying horses. He receives 3000 cattle from Frank Houston near Terrell to-day

Mr. Jno. Phillips from near Graham paid the JOURNAL a visit this week. He wants to buy 1000 head of improved sheep.

J. G. Witherspoon of Gainesville, who lately sold out his cattle interests on the Colorado has been in the city. He wants to buy back.

D. H. Haines, the champion horse man, left for San Antonio to ship another lot of horses here. He sold most of those he brought here recently.

J. N. Clark of Kansas City, one of the firm who recently purchased the J. W. Carter herd on the Pecos, spent the past few days in our city.

L. L Crutchfield, a prominent and old citizen of Jack county, and for many years a personal friend of the JOURNAL editor, paid us a friendly visit yesterday.

Wm. M. King, sheriff of Jack county, dropped in on us yesterday. Call again, friend K., we are always glad to see you—as long as you bring no papers to serve on us.

Tom Richards of the firm of Richards & Saera has been in the city looking to buy 800 two-year-old steer cattle. He has now 2000 head en route from Hill and Ellis counties to ranch.

H. O. R. Tucker from Troy, N. Y., and W. T. Havard from Kansas are receiving cattle at Paris and in Palo Pinto county to go to Kansas. The former gentleman has amassed a fortune in the newspaper business which he is now squandering in the cattle trade.

Capt. J. D. Reed has just returned from Southern Texas. For lack of time we have been unable to interview him or obtain any stock news from the southern part of the state. Judging from the captain's appearance, however, we should judge the range down south to be good.

Col. A. T. Babbitt, general manager of the Standard Cattle Company, Cheyenne, Wyoming, called on us Wednesday on his return from a brief visit to his ranch in Mitchell county. The colonel expresses himself as well pleased with his Texas purchases. The brands of his company will be found elsewhere in this issue.

J. H. Campbell, of Campbell, Lancaster & Co., one of the leading live stock commission firms of East St. Louis, favored us with a pleasant visit yesterday. Mr. C. is visiting different points in Texas in the interest of his firm. Knowing them to be thoroughly reliable and competent, we cordially recommend them to the stockmen of the Southwest.

Messrs. J. P. Hodgson and Jno. R. Jefferson have left for Austin, where the special session of the state legislature has just commenced its session. Mr. Hodgson is one of the most prominent of our sheepmen, and was appointed by the respective wool growers' associations of Tom Green and Concho counties to properly present their claims to the eminent legislators. Capt. Jno. R. Jefferson is a representative Texas stockman, and he goes to Austin representing the Colorado and Concho Stock Association. Two better men for the purpose could not have been selected. Messrs. Hodgson and Jefferson are sterling, practical and sensible stockmen, they know what is expected of them, and they will not fail to fight their part in the great battle against land sharks and monopolists which will soon be fought at Austin. They represent over $4,000,000 worth of cattle and sheep, and they are thoroughly imbued with the idea that the immense stock interests of West Texas must be recognized in the deliberations of the state's lawmakers.—Tom Green Times.

Fine Sheep.

A correspondent of the Dallas Herald, writing from Grapevine, this county, says; "I would consider it almost unpardonable if I should neglect to speak of the large herd of thoroughbred Merino sheep owned by Messrs. McCausland & Exall, two and one-half miles north of Grapevine. These gentlemen deserve great credit for the expense and pains of introducing thoroughbred sheep into our state. They have 400 head of these fine sheep on their farm. The sheep are all registered, and they can trace the importation back to 1802. The clips from these sheep run from eleven to eighteen pounds. One clip taken off this morning while I was present tipped the beam at twenty-three pounds."

HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN HAIR RENEWER is a scientific combination of some of the most powerful restorative agents in the vegetable kingdom. It restores gray hair to its original color. It makes the scalp white and clean. It cures dandruff and humors, and falling-out of the hair. It furnishes the nutritive principle by which the hair is nourished and supported. It makes the hair moist, soft and glossy, and is unsurpassed as a hair dressing. It is the most economical preparation ever offered to the public, as its effects remain a long time, making only an occasional application necessary. It is recommended and used by eminent medical men, and officially endorsed by the State Assayer of Massachusetts. The popularity of Hall's Hair Renewer has increased with the test of many years, both in this country and in foreign lands, and it is now known and used in all the civilized countries of the world.

UVALDE COUNTY.

Sheep. Prices. Etc. Etc.

UVALDE, April 8, 1882.

The county is entirely devoted to stock interest; farming has been a successful enterprise; some of the sheep stockmen have attempteed to farm enough to supply their own wants but without success.

Uvalde is strictly a stock country. Cattle and sheep do well here. A man can at many herd both cattle and sheep on the same range. There is an erroneous idea existing in the minds of a great many stockmen that sheep and cattle will not do well on the same range, but I have been informed by some of the most practical and successful stockmen in the country that sheep really benefit the range, if not too many, and are herded properly.

The sheep interest in this county has been very successful, and Uvalde county compares favorably with any county in the state in the success of her sheep and wool interests; most of the sheepmen have improved their flocks with Merino bucks, and to-day Uvalde county can boast of as fine flocks of sheep as any county in the state. The sheepmen in this section report their flocks in a thriving and healthy condition; no flocks are afflicted with scab or lombriz. The wool crop will be heavier this year than usual. The winter has been very favorable, and the rapid improvement each year by adding imported bucks improves the quantity and quality of the wool. The shearing season will begin in a few days. From the best information I can get there will be about 85 to 90 per cent. of lambs this season.

The cowmen of this county have delivered their cattle for the Kansas drive, Lytle & McDaniel being the principal purchasers—paying $10 for yearlings, $13 for twos, and $15 for threes. Some few sold at higher figures, but only where the cattle were improved and above the average quality. Beef cattle are very scarce and not enough to supply the local demand. Fat cattle bring more here than at San Antonio, the heavy force employed in building the western extension of the Sunset road, requiring a great many to supply them, which has created a market from here to the Pecos for all the fat cattle at very high figures. As an instance, Mr. Wm. Davis of this county informs me that he sold his two year olds to the railroad butchers for $18 per head.

UVALDE

Is the county seat, situated on the Sunset road; it has about 800 inhabitants. Some flourishing business houses here. Only a few years ago the war-whoop of the Indian was familiar to the ear of the pioneer stockman. The cattle thief, the drunken cowboy, the outlaw and fugitive from justice held their fearful orgies there; but what a change has taken place! Churches and school houses are to be seen on every hand, and everything wears an air of peace and prosperity, and a man is is as safe here in his person and property as he would be in the older states. With such representative men as Gen. Baylor, John S. Arnold, Ross Kennedy, Judge Hyler, Wm. Lewis, John Weymiller, C. Pingenot, H. N. Dimmick, J. A. Robinson and a host of others I might mention as guardians of the law, the criminal record will grow less each year.

The stockmen of this county, as a general thing, are wealthy and growing wealthier each year, they select the very best men to fill the various county offices, the best men of the county are selected as jurors, and let me assure you that if a man is arraigned before the court for theft of cattle, horses, sheep, or anything else, if the circumstances point to his guilt—the lawyers may exhaust all of their skill and legal lore and it avails nothing, he is convicted on general principles and sent to the penitentiary.

PARSON.

PANHANDLE HAPPENINGS.

MOBEETIE, April 5, 1882.

District court convened at this place on the 3d instant, with Judge Frank Willis presiding. The court is proceeding slowly, but pleasantly. The grand jury is busily engaged ferreting out crimes of wanton offenders. Hank Cresswell is foreman, which of itself is evidence to all who know him that no guilty man will go unindicted if evidence can be found sufficient to base a bill upon. The great cattle cases of McAnulty against Lee-Scott Company et. al., has been set for the fourth week of the court. Only one indictment has been presented up to this time. It is against James Fox, now in jail, and charges him with theft of a horse.

Dock Day, from Austin, was in town from Sunday night until this morning, when he left for his ranch on Wolf creek. Dock, as everybody knows, is one of nature's noblemen and is reputed to be the largest (single owner) cattleman in the Panhandle. He represents 18,000 cattle which, at a fair valuation, would estimate $375,000.

Jack Snyder, of Word & Snyder's ranch, is in town. His firm also represent a large stock of cattle.

John F. Evans, president of the Panhandle Stock Association, was in town several days this week. He appeared to enjoy himself immensely while here. He came for the purpose of holding a meeting of the association, but did not on account of the absence of most of the members. Hank Cresswell is vice-president of the same association and will convene it sometime during the court when, in his judgment, the greatest number of members are together. I will send you the proceedings when it has met and transacted the business properly coming before it. This association represents more cattle, perhaps, than any other association in the state according to number of members.

Mr. Hudson, partner with A. H. (Gus) Johnson, from Adobe Walls, came in several days ago. He is a very pleasant gentleman and fully up with the progress and success of the cattle business.

Nick Eaton, the "old reliable," came in yesterday from his ranch, and reports everything "lovely" out there.

Alfred Rowe, one of Donley county's prominent and wealthy cattlemen, arrived from the "old country" a few days ago and is now enjoying the hospitalities of our town.

Judge G. A. Brown, county judge of Donley county, is in attendance upon our district court.

W. M. D. Lee left a few days ago for Leavenworth. He will return about the fifteenth.

Grass is coming very rapidly. The weather clerk let us have a good shower of rain last night which made everything put on a verdant appearance.

The round-ups have commenced in the Panhandle in earnest. Gathering up the scattered cattle is all the go. Stockmen say they will be able to make the market with their cattle sooner this year than any former year. When they return then is where lively times will return, too.

AN SABA COUNTY.

g Country. The Inspection Law. Stray Cattle.

E STOCK JOURNAL comes to week, and I can hardly lay until I have read it through. glad to note your course on the bility of West Texas. You be at no loss to get any amount roof of what you say about its be- too drouthy to farm in. There are umbers of men who have been farming here for ten or fifteen years and are poor to-day—when, if they had invested $200 or $300 in cattle, sheep or horses and given the stock the same attention they have paid to their farms, they would be independent. I tried farming here three or four years and finally gave up my farm to pay my debts. If I had held on to that farm until now I never would have seen the back of my neck again. A great many of our farmers have been compelled to sell Jas. Dofflemyer, for Smith & Elliott, their one and two year old steers to pay the tax on their farms. I have seen enough for my quarter, and have turned the Yankee plow handles loose and taken the long-horn by the tail, and I intend to freeze to this ticket to the end.

Down here we approve the action of the Llano stockmen in regard to the inspection law, and our county will go solid with them against its repeal. The inspection law is good if the officers will do their duty. I would like to see anybody get away with any cattle that our little man inspects. He is too familiar with brands to be mistaken and too honest to be bribed. Continue to insist on honestly handling stock. The losses would be few if the good men would not eat them and the bad men would not deface the marks and brands.

When our county stock association gets down to business, I will furnish them with a list of stray stock some of which belong as far north as Beaver creek, Indian Territory.

There are three cows on my range whose ownership I would like to know, as I wish to buy them. They are branded as follows:

E2 marked upper half crop right and swallowfork left.

ZT marked swallowfork each ear.

7TH marked crop each ear.
