Shirts Are the Test of a Man's Temper

So easy to have some little thing go wrong, and then so easy to use strong language.

OURS are made so as to spread a Christian spirit throughout the land. They will not rub the man, rile the temper or rob the pocket book. The Negligee Shirts we are selling largely just now are the unusual, smart styles that cannot be duplicated later on. Better get in on them while you can. Newest Styles from 50c to $1.50.

FROM THE PHILLIPINES.

r Dublin Boy Reports Some vere Fighting by His Command on May First.

following letter written un- date of Jolo, P. I., May 8th, by Ernest H. Turner to his at Walnut Springs, we clip the Walnut Springs Hustler week.

ng Turner and his father d in Dublin for several years s numerous friends here.

THE LETTER.

have reached the Philippine ds at last and have been as- d to the 27th Infantry at Jolo. glad I am at this place as this e best place of all. I reached yesterday.

o'on the 1st of May I thought e judgement day had come. There was about one hun- nd ten men sent to Malabang, the Moros are fighting, and e first of May the 27th Infan- s ordered to take the Moros' Vibang and at 9:30 a. m. the commenced.' The artillery d had no effect at all so the was given to scale the walls, e walls were scaled. On the of the fort were 1500 Moros we had only 450 men. No er was given on either side e carnage was fearful. Of you have read the news of ttle long ago, but to us boys, it was over, the scene was le. The Moros died fighting last and we knew that it was the same with us, as the kill all their prisoners. Out 1500 which were in the fort were killed, eighty-five taken soners, and the next morning attempted to escape but all shot. Our regiment lost fifteen and about ninety wounded, -five of the men wounded will The Alamo had no messenger eat, neither did the Moros. President of the United has just sent us his message ngratulation and condolence the gand victory and for our The boys are cheering now o thought of the dead entered minds but in the night, when silent, you can hear them ing in their sleep of the dead ing. It is the grandest that has been won by our years. Pure grit, bayonet bolo and creeses, won the but I hope I won't have to un- such a strain again.

he 27th Regiment is from the made up in Georgia, Ala- Kentucky, Virginia, North ina and Texas and the mes- that are being sent to us are, 'Well done, our Southern he next day after the battle the on that I belonged to was ordered to Jolo, where trouble was expected but when we got here everything quieted down and I don't think there will be any trouble here.

"We ran on a reef when we were outside of Manila Bay and was on the reef three days. It took four tugs and one transport to pull us off. We then proceeded to Manila where we were quarantined; smallpox had broken out in the city and one of our boys bought some cigarettes from one of the peddlers that came out and four hours afterwards he was dead. We were sent to the quarantine station at Merivales and everything was fumigated, we remained there seven days and then proceeded to Zamboango, where we took the line. So you see I have had some pretty hard knocks so far, but I think they are over now.

"Give my regards to all my old friends." ERNEST H. TURNER, Co. L, 27th Infantry.

Murderous Attack at Hazel Dell.

Information reached us the first of the week of what is said to have been an attempt of murder committed upon the person of Mr. Stallcup, an aged gentleman living near Hazel Dell and which was committed by his son, Rev. H. F. Stallcup. We are informed that the trouble came up about the refusal of the senior Stallcup to let his son use a horse of his and the son, a man of over thirty years of age, attacked the old gentleman with a hoe and struck him on the head with the sharp edge of the instrument. In throwing up his hand to protect himself from the blow one finger was cut off in coming in contact with the hoe, which also cut a severe gash in his head, though it is not thought that it will result fatally. Another blow was dodged by the father and the handle of the hoe was broken by the force of the lick on the ground. The son has disappeared and it was said that he had left with a horse and saddle belonging to one of the neighbors.

Killed by a Fall.

Lon McMinn, living on the Griggs farm on Cowhouse creek in Hamilton county, was killed by a fall from his horse last Sunday morning. He and his neighbor were driving a yearling out of the field and their dog had caught the animal by the nose and was holding it. As McMinn rode up in a gallop the yearling suddenly threw itself in front of his horse and the horse fell causing him to strike the ground with such force as to produce concussion of the brain, from the effects of which he died Tuesday. He was a Mason and a Woodman.

Cities and Schools.

A six thousand dollar bond issue has been voted at Hillsboro to establish a municipal light plant.

Lamar county has one hundred and thirteen school districts and a scholastic population of 12,474.

The scholastic population of Tarrant county as finished on June 30th shows a total population in the county of 11,421. Of this number 1,221 are colored.

The citizens of Terrell have voted an issue of six thousand dollars in bonds for the purpose of extending and materially improving the municipal waterworks system there.

Shot With a Target Gun.

Saturday morning a twelve-year-old boy named Jim Moore, living with a relative, Mr. Dodd, on the the old Kirkland farm, near Gentry's Mill, in company with another young man, started on a journey to Bell county taking with them among other things a 22-calbre target gun. While at a point on Bear creek, a few miles from home, the gun was accidently discharged, the ball taking effect in the head of young Moore entering the flesh just above the right eye and ranging upward coming out of the forehead about two inches above the left eye. At last reports (Monday), the patient was doing nicely and the doctors think he will be coming around all right in a few days unless something unforeseen happens.—Hamilton Rustler.

PROPER FOOD

Better Than Ocean Breeze.

It makes a lot of difference in hot weather, the kind of food one eats.

You can keep the body cool if you breakfast on Grape-Nuts for in its predigested form it presents the least resistance to the digestive organs and contains as much nutriment as heavy body heating food such as meat, potatoes, etc.

Grape-Nuts is probably entitled to the claim to be the most perfectly adapted food for human needs now extant. The meat eater and the vegetarian are alike charmed with its crisp taste, the delicate flavor of the grape sugar and the nourishment to body and brain while the housewife is attracted by its being thoroughly cooked at the factory and obtained from the grocer ready for instant use with the addition of cream, making it a cool, delicious dish requiring no hot stove or cross cook on a hot morning.

When Grape-Nuts and Postum Food Coffee constitute the summer breakfast with the addition of a little fruit it is not necessary to seek the ocean breezes for comfort from external heat is unnoticed when internal coolness from proper food is felt. The recipe book in each package of Grape-Nuts gives dozens of delicious dishes.

Accidental Killing at Gorman.

Clem Smith, a young man of near Gorman, accidently shot himself with a revolver last Monday, from the result of which he died a few moments after the occurrence. The deceased was toying with the pistol, when it was discharged, the ball passing through the fleshy portion of his arm and entering his breast. He was a brother-in-law to Messrs. Marion and Tom Scaggs of near Dublin and a son of Capt. Dave Smith, a well known citizen of the Gorman country.

Attacked by a Vicious Dog.

As a result of an attack of a vicious bull dog, Mrs. Steger, the wife of a well known German farmer residing at Fiskville, about seven miles north of Austin, lies at the point of death and there is little hope entertained for her recovery. The dog attacked the woman last Thursday evening. Mrs. Steger is eighty-three years of age and at the time it occurred she had gone to visit her neighbor, Mrs. Charles Eoes. When she arrived at the Eoes residence no one was at home and the bloodthirsty animal made his murderous attack upon her. She was thrown to the ground by the beast and when discovered an hour later by some of the Eoes family the desperate dog was seated upon the old lady's body with a death hold upon her throat and he had to be killed before he released his grip. Mrs. Steger had twenty-five wounds on her legs and arms where the dog had bitten her and her face and throat were lacerated to such an extent that she was almost beyond recognition. She was taken to her home unconscious and medical aid immediately summoned. The aged lady has suffered considerably from loss of blood as well as from the effects of the wounds and her condition is considered very critical, although her physicians state there is some chance for her recovery. The dog belongs to the Eoes and it is said has always been considered vicious. When the unfortunate woman was found several dogs were around here but the big one was the only one that had hold of her.

Heavy Storm at Abilene.

A heavy rain, wind and hail storm passed over the town of Abilene last Sunday evening and did considerable damage. The house of John Chastain in the north portion of the city was blown to pieces, but all the family escaped with slight injuries, loss about $5000. The house of Sid Peyton was blown from its foundation and twisted in two. The seed house and smoke stack at the oil mill were blown down and many barns and out houses were destroyed. The hail did little damage and the rain was copious.

The Beautiful Beyond.

Beyond this beautiful and rippling stream, just over the edge of a grassy knoll, there blooms a rare and richly tinted flower. They tell us it is so rarely beautiful that it may have blushed to life at the touch of an angel's kiss, and caught its rosy flush from a burning star.

Beyond the pathless mountains that lift their blue peaks in the fading distance, they tell us there is a charming valley that drinks the diamond dew of morning and bathes in the liquid sunbeams, clad in verdure of the everlasting green and dotted all over with flowers of every hue and shade.

Beyond the blue waves of the pathless ocean, they tell us there is a clime from which the mellow sunlight of spring never departs; that it is laden with the songs of birds of note and plumage, and peace, ease and plenty rule the lives of the people that never heard of war or pestilence.

Beyond the curtain of darkness that hangs over the gloomy night there dwells the picture of morning—a picture of fresh new life—that seems to wake and move away the mists, and they tell us its foreground is hope and its background is pleasure.

Beyond the ashes and struggles, the fears and disappointments, the bitter trials and the wearing labors of time, we are taught is Eternity, whose higher possibilities give promise to calmer hours and sweeter rest.—Bob Taylor.

Electric Lines in Texas.

From Ft. Worth Register.

A railroad man yesterday predicted that within ten years nearly all if not all the larger cities in the state of Texas would be connected by a system of interturban electric car lines. The Northern Texas Traction company of this city, of which George T. Bishop of Cleveland, Ohio, is president, is one of the the first to build, its line running between Ft. Worth and Dallas. This company, it is said, contemplates constructing a belt line taking in several of the smaller towns southeast of this city and connecting with Dallas making a line nearly two hundred miles in length.

Another interurban line is projected by a company recently chartered under the laws of the state and which has already run two surveys between Waxahachie and Ennis, a distance of about fifteen miles. J. T. Voss of Ft. Worth, former president of the Polytechnic street car company of this city, is the right-of-way agent for this company and is now securing options on the right-of-way between Ennis and Waxahachie. Mr. Voss was here yesterday and said he had secured most of the route on one of the lines and that it was the intention of the company to commence construction by the first of next September. This company too contemplates a belt line, but for the present the route is not made public. At Ray's Spring about midway between Waxahachie and Ennis, there will be a resort on which the company expects to spend considerable money in making it one of the most attractive places in Central Texas. A similar resort is now being arranged for at Handley by the Northern Texas Traction company.

Saloon Under an Evil Spell.

A press telegram of June 8th contains the following:

"Sunday afternoon during a wind storm on the Colorado river the saloon of G. W. McKinney was blown to pieces. The saloon had been built under peculiar circumstances. When the Frisco commenced building its bridge across the Colorado river Mr. McKinney went down to put up a saloon. The people across the river objected on the account of the prohibition law and those on this side would give no ground for the saloon. So rather than to be outdone a large flatboat was built and on this the saloon was built. The wind made a complete wreck of it."

BAILEY WAS IRATE

The Lone Star Senator Accuses Beveridge of an Insult

AND GRIPS HIM BY THE THROAT

The Attacked Party Says He Did Not Make Any Offensive Remarks, but Texan Asserts He Did.

Washington, July 1.—Senator Bailey of Texas assaulted Senator Beveridge of Indiana Monday night just after the senate adjourned from executive session. The Texas senator was dragged away and separated from his opponent byb some of those about the senators. He was very angry and threatened severe harm to the Indiana senator.

The episode was the result of a heated controversy which the two senators had during the afternoon, when Senator Beveridge said that Senator Bailey had made "an unwarranted attack" on Solicitor Penfield of the state department. In executive session Senator Beveridge, like other senators who smoke, lighted a cigar and took a seat on the Republican side. He was still sitting when the senate adjourned. Senator Bailey crossed the aisle and walked through the seats until he was facing Senator Beveridge.

"Beveridge," he said, "I don't want to have any trouble with you, but I want you to withdraw those words which charge me with making an unwarranted attack upon Penfield."

"I did not intend to insult you," replied Senator Beveridge, "and there is nothing in my language that you could consider offensive."

"I don't allow any one to say that I libel a man, and that is what you do in making the charge. Now, if you won't withdraw the words when I ask you, I'm going to make you withdraw them."

Senator Bailey had been getting more and more angry and excited as he talked. He had been sitting down part of the time, leaning against the desk immediately in front of Senator Beveridge.

The latter, in his reply to Senator Bailey's last remark, still remaining in his chair, said: "I repeat that I did not intend to insult, and that I have nothing to retract."

As the words were uttered Senator Bailey threw himself upon Senator Beveridge, who is a man hardly up to the average in physique, and seized him by the throat with both hands. The rush was so sudden and fierce that the chair in which Mr. Beveridge was sitting was pushed back against a desk and the desk was toppled over. Before the assault could go any further, senators who had been sitting near had moved up between the desks. Senator Hansbrough of North Dakota seized Senator Bailey by one arm and Senator Spooner of Wisconsin seized the other. The Texas senator is a powerful man, and it was with great difficulty that the two senators were able to drag him away from Senator Beveridge, and when they succeeded a part of the Indiana senator's neckwear was ripped and torn away in the vigorous grasp of Senator Bailey. Senator Bacon of Georgia and Barney Layton, assistant doorkeeper, came quickly and assisted in pulling the Texas senator further away, Senator Bailey meanwhile struggling to get free, and lunging toward Senator Beveridge.

Without further effort, however, he walked away when Senator Bacon urged him to be quiet and led him toward the Democratic side. Senator Bacon engaged Senator Bailey in conversation for some time, advising him to cool down. Senator Spooner also went across the aisle and discussed the matter with the Texas senator, urging him to apologize and, if possible, fix it up at once, but Senator Bailey refused all such proffers, declaring that Senator Beveridge had insulted him in the senate and that he had taken the only recourse, as the Indiana senator had refused to withdraw his remarks.

No Bribery Found.

Washington: Representative Richardson of Tennessee and his Democratic associates on the special committee which investigated the charges of bribery, etc., in connection with the Danish West Indian purchase, have decided not to make a minority report of the committee will be unanimous that there was no bribery.

The committee will pass on the report and give it out later.

Ecuador's Vice President.

New York: Congress met in special session for the purpose of electing a vice president of the republic, says a Guayaquil, Ecuador, dispatch. The majority of votes were obtained by Senor Reina Andrade, a cousin of the late President Barrios, who was assassinated in 1898

STUFFED A FIGURE.

How a Life Insurance Swindle Was Worked in Mexico.

City of Mexico: A man has been arrested as a principal in the fraud against the Equitable Assurance Society of New York, which has a branch in this country. He had been insured for a considerable sun and was reported dead, the proper death certificate issued and a dummy buried in his stead, which was dug up. He was arrested in the interior and is alleged to have made a full confession, implicating four other persons, nearly all Spaniards.

The prisoner said that after his assumed death he went to the state of Michoacan and found employment under an assumed name on a hacienda. He gave excellent satisfaction to his employers and thought all the trouble was over until he saw in the papers reports of the exhumation of his supposed corpse, which turned out to be a stuffed figure.

Trim as a Summer Girl.

New York: Trim as a summer girl in her daintiest bathing suit, the Mayflower lies in the Brooklyn navy yard, the official yacht of the United States and ocean home of President Roosevelt. In her new function, after undergoing alterations that cost $50,000, she is ready for sea as one of the most luxuriously appointed vessels afloat. She was commissioned Saturday.

All the officers at the navy yard are proud of the Mayflower.

Electric Lines Sold.

Huntington, W. Va.: The Camden Interstate Railway company sold to a Pennsylvania syndicate all its electric lines in this city, Central City, Cerdo and Kenova, W. Va., Catlettsburg and Ashland, Ky., and Ironton, O.

The deal also embraces the electric light plants in Ironton, Ashland and Huntington, and the consideration is about $2,000,000.

It is rumored this syndicate has in view the purchase of electric railways in other Ohio valley cities.

Counterfeiters' Den.

Chicago: In a long abandoned counterfeter's den at West Van Buren and Halstead streets $15,000 in bogus coin and currency and a complete counterfeiter's outfit, including plates for making $1000 bills, have been found in a secret vault. The discovery was made by a workman engaged in tearing out the interior of the building and caused a sensation. A detail of police was called to prevent a mob of hundreds from looting the chamber of its spurious wealth.

Large Fees.

New York: For the fiscal year ending Monday New Jersey's state treasury will show a balance of $2,698,202, which means nearly $500,000 increase over the amount of last year. The large amounts received within the last month in taxes, the trusts chartered in 1900 and 1901 make up this balance. The taxes on the big corporations foot up considerably more than $2,000,000 annually.

Secretary of the Queen.

Colorado Springs, Col.: Francis M. English, killed in the Colorado Midland wreck, at Cascade, was private secretary to Queen Lilioukalani of Hawaii and was the author of the famous proclamation to the American people, issued just before she was dethroned.

Mr. English was a graduate of Oxford and had practiced law in both England and in Colorado.

Miss Langtry Wedded.

London: Ian Z. Malcolm, M. P., and formerly assistant private secretary to Lord Salisbury, was married to Miss Jeannie Langtry, daughter of Mrs. Langtry, the actress, at St. Margaret's church, Westminster.

The attendance, which was very large, included the Duke of Argyll, several Indian rajahs, Lord Hugh Cecil, son of the Marquis of Salisbury, John Morley, George Wyndham, William Redmond and P. A. McHugh.

King Edward sent the bride a present with a note in his handwriting. The Prince of Wales also sent a gift.

Southern Pacific Improvements.

San Antonio: Manager Van Vleck of the Atlantic system of the Southern Pacific was in consultation with Mayor Hicks and a council committee on the demand of the city that the railroad, as a condition precedent to being granted rights to lay additional tracks in the city, shall build a subway under its tracks at Walnut street, a new overhead bridge at Olive street and erect gates at Pine street and New Braunfels avenue.

Moody's New Order.

Washington: The secretary of the navy has ordered that high-salaried clerks with poor efficiency records must change places with others getting less money.

SABBATH SESSION

Sunday Was a Regular Legislative Day in the House.

CUMMINGS AND OTEY EULOGIZED

Congressmen Testified to the Ability and High Character of the Departed New Yorker and Virginian.

Washington, June 30.—The house of representatives held a session Sunday to pay tribute to the memories of the late Representatives Cummings of New York and Peter J. Otey of Virginia.

By special direction of Secretary Moody the Marine band was in attendance in the lobby and rendered an appropriate musical programme. The widows and families of the deceased occupied the speaker's pew in the gallery, and delegations from Typographical union No. 6 of New York, the Letter Carriers' association and the New York Pilots' association came here to honor Mr. Cummings' memory. The public galleries were well filled. The eulogies were exceedingly impressive, and particularly that delivered by Mr. Cannon of Illinois, who paid a tribute from the heart to the lofty and manly, honest character of Mr. Cummings.

Although services have been held in the house on Sunday on previous occasions, notably the death of Henry Winter Davis, this was the first time in ninety years that Sunday was made a legislative day and the house met on the Sabbath with a speaker, clerks and all the other paraphernalia which accompany the actual transaction of legislative business.

Frequently in times past there has been a session on Sunday, especially at the close of a short session, but such sessions always have been a continuation of the legislative days of Saturday and the journal on Monday showed no session on the Sabbath. In this case, however, the journal of Sunday will be that of a regular legislative day. In order to find a precedent for the session, the house managers went back to 1811, when the house held a session on March 2, because of the pressure of public business two days before the final adjournment, March 4.

Mr. Cannon, in his eulogy of Mr. Cmumings, concluded his remarks as follows:

"But what of the other side of the river? Revelation and faith tell us that we need not go there alone to enjoy the universal desire that is to be found in each human unit from the beginning of the race to the present time of the life beyond this life. The universal protest against extinction is the strongest kind of evidence that our respective individualities are not to be wiped out, and all hope and believe that somewhere in the great beyond, under universal law, we will each one continue to achieve the place in the infinite existence that we are entitled to occupy.

"I trust when I shall cross the dark river that I may arrive at that place in space or condition where I shall meet such men as Amos J. Cummings and those with whom I have served that have crossed the river—Samuel J. Randall, William D. Kelley, Benjamin Butterworth, S. S. Cox and many others I could name, and in such condition I shall be glad and content."

Those who paid tribute to the memory of Mr. Cummings were:

Messrs. McClelland of New York and Foss of Illinois, Cannon of Illinois, Sulzer of New York, McCall of Massachusetts, Myer of Louisiana, Clark of Missouri, Dayton of West Virginia, Goldfoyle of New York, Lester of New York and Hooker of Mississippi.

Eulogies were pronounced on the late Representative Otey of Virginia by Messrs. Jenkins of Wisconsin, Flood of Virginia, Lanham of Texas, Hay of Virginia, Morris of Minnesota, Swanson of Virginia, De Armond of Missouri, Rhea of Virginia, McCall of Massachusetts, Rixey of Virginia, Graff of Illinois, W. W. Kitchen of North Carolina and Land of Virginia.

Then at 3:25 p. m., as a further mark of respect to the memory of the two deceased members, the house adjourned until 11 o'clock Monday morning.

Noted Turfman Dead.

Louisville, Ky.: Capt. Sam Bryant, one of the best known turfmen in the country, died of dropsy at his home in this city after a long illness. He was the owner of Uncle Bob, winner of the American derby in 1890; Proctor Knott, the winner of the Futurity and Great Hrial stakes at Sheepshead Bay in 1888, and other horses of note.

Jessie Morrison Convicted.

Eldorado, Kan.: Jessie Morrison, on trial here for the third time for the murder of Mrs. Olin Castle, at her home in this city in June, 1900, was found guilty of murder in the second degree. The jury was out twelve hours. The case may be appealed again.

OF IMPORTANCE

sion that Means Much to Western Texas.

SHARKS ARE HIT HARD

Supreme Court of Texas Has Handed Down an Opinion Which Will be Read With Much Interest.

Austin, Tex., June 23.—The supreme court Friday afternoon handed down a very important decision when it reversed and rendered the case of W. Logan vs. J. W. Curry and R. F. Reid from Nolan county. It was held that a sale of school land can not be attacked by a third party, either on the ground of failure of actual settlement or collusion with others in said sale; that if irregularities did occur they were subject to be questioned only by a proceeding on the part of the state. This decision will result in much good in that it will quiet land titles and put a stop to the practice of "sharpsters" delving into the records and looking for technical defects to be taken into court to deprive men of their homes and disturb conditions in the school land section of the state.

Logan purchased a section of school land from one Reid and afterward applied to purchase it in his own name, but the application was refused because of the sale of Reid. Finally he made proof of occupancy of three years' residence, counting the time Reid failed to reside on, and Curry sought to purchase it. Logan purchased an additional section which Arnold sought to purchase, charging that Logan acted in collusion with others. The trial court decided against Logan awarding the land to Curry and Arnold, holding that Logan acting in collusion and that Reid was not an actual settler.

The court of civil appellate court affirmed the decision.

The supreme court granted a writ of error and after reviewing the case reversed the lower decision and rendered it in favor of Logan.

The opinion was written by Chief Justice Gaines who in discussing the validity of the land commissioner's certificate that proof of occupancy had been made by three years' residence, said: "If the certificate be refused, the title of the purchaser would be open to attack by any one who may settle upon and make application to purchase the land, but if issued it would be conclusive except possibly against the language of the statute. Since, in our opinion the construction would be fraught with strife and would conduce to endless litigation, we think it ought to be avoided. When the meaning of a written law is involved in a reasonable doubt that construction should be given which best comports with a sound public policy."

MISSIONARY MURDERED.

Massacre of Americans and British Subjects Destroyed by a Mob.

London: The Viceroy of the province of Hunan has notified the government that the American and British mission buildings at Tien Ku Chao have been destroyed by a mob and that a missionary has been murdered. His name and nationality were not reported.

An imperial edict orders the extermination of the rioters. Several of the leaders of the outbreak are reported to have been beheaded. Apparently this is an anti-indemnity rising, like those which have ocurred elsewhere in China.

Two Conventions.

Little Rock: Two separate Republican conventions were held as the result of factional differences. One nominated Chas. D. Hill of Hot Springs for governor and protested against what it terms by name "the unfair practices and methods of the so-called Republican state central committee" and the "arrogant dictation of boss rule, otherwise known as Claytonism." H. H. Powers heads the other ticket.

Peerage Declined.

London: Previous to making up the list of coronation honors, King Edward sent a letter to Sir William Vernon Harcourt, Liberal member of parliament, offering him a peerage. Mr. Gladstone in his reply expressed appreciation of this offer, but added that after thirty-four years in the house of commons he was reluctant to give the sphere of his political activity that he therefore declined the honor.

A heavy rain of rain in Texas caused a damage to cotton of from nine to six-teen per cent.

DROUTH BROKEN.

Too Late to Save Corn, but Beneficial to Cotton.

Dallas: After one of the most severe drouths known in latter years, Texas was visited Friday by a slow, steady rain which soaked the parching earth and revived the drooping spirits of the tillers of the soil.

Reports received show that there was precipitation in twenty-nine counties in the northern and central sections of the state. From the Red river to the gulf coast, throughout the great cotton-growing portion of this commonwealth, there was a steady downpour. Portions of the Chickasaw and Choctaw Nations, in the Indian Territory, and western Arkansas were also visited. In west Texas however, the drouth continues.

Dispatches show that, generally speaking the rain came too late to benefit the corn crop, although in some localities in east Texas it is believed that a considerable yield is now assured. Cotton stood in need of moisture and the opinion is expressed that it has derived almost incalculable benefit. The ground was placed in good condition for forage crops and a large acreage will be planted.

Northern and central Texas counties which reported rain Friday are: Hill, Tarrant, Bowie, Smith, Ellis, Bosque, Coryell, Bell, Lamar, Freestone, Limestone, Rockwall, Titus, Parker, Washington, Grayson, Collin, Navarro, McLennan, Robertson, Dallas, Van Zandt, Harrison, Denton, Hunt, Kaufman, Panola Gregg and Rusk.

HOOD'S BRIGADE.

Seventy-Five of the Survivors Meet in Annual Session.

Bryan, Tex.: Survivors of Hood's brigade met here Friday. Seventy-five were present. President Brietz called the meeting to order with a few remarks.

J. W. Stephens of Hillsboro called the attention of the brigade to a history of the brigade written by himself.

The business meeting was formally opened with prayer by Rev. A. E. Copeland of Rockdale.

Miss Daffan, state sponsor, and Misses Barry and Brantley, brigade sponsors, were conducted to the stage and introduced by President Brietz. Comrades Derden, Barry and Drennan were appointed a memorial committee to report appropriate resolutions on the death of members since the last meeting.

A resolution was introduced by Comrade Polley abolishing the office of brigade sponsor and providing that every daughter of a member of the brigade shall be recognized as a sponsor and invited to a seat on the platform at all meetings of the association. Adopted.

The secretary called the roll of those present and read telegrams and messages from absent ones.

Dan Winston, colored, cook of Company F, Fifth Texas, was brought forward and introduced, a gray-haired old negro and member of the brigade. At this juncture Comrade Stevens took occasion to pay a tribute to the old-time southern negro.

Dr. J. D. West, pastor of the Presbyterian church and chaplain of Camp J. B. Robinson of Bryan was introduced and welcomed the veterans an other visitors in behalf of the camp. An eloquent welcome address on behalf of the citizens of Bryan was delivered by Hon. A. J. Buchanan.

Response in behalf of the brigade was made by Capt. W. E. Barry of Navasota.

Hon. Charles F. Greenwood of Hillsboro, brigade orator of the day, was the last speaker and delivered a glowing tribute to the heroes of the south, especially the veterans of Hood's brigade.

Something Terrific.

Houston: The rain here on Friday was something terrific. Such a heavy rain has not fallen here for several years. A good deal of damage was done in some localities by the excessive rain. The wind did considerable damage to churches and other buildings of a similar character. News was received here from all directions along railroad lines that rain had fallen in ample quantities.

Crops Destroyed by Fire.

Greenville, Tex.: Several crops were destroyed by fire in the Campbell community. Sparks alleged to have come from a passing engine started a fire in the field of Mr. Pine or Mr. Craig, and two crops of wheat were destroyed in the shock. Some corn belonging to Mr. Craig is said to have been destroyed in the fire. One of the crops burned belonged to Mr. Champion. On another farm sparks from a steam thrasher set fire to some straw and grass, causing the destruction of the wheat crop of Mr. Run Mitchell, with the exception of about thirty bushels.

HOME INVESTIGATION.

One Veteran Complained He Did Not Have Enough Gravy.

Austin: After a whole day devoted to taking testimony at the Confederate home the veterans' investigating committee has not concluded its labors.

A resume of the evidence shows that it was favorable to the home officers, not one inmate testifying that he was badly treated or that he had been denied food or clothing.

At the dinner hour Judge Beckham arose from his seat in the immense dining hall and stated to the nearly 300 seated veterans that the committee extended a cordial invitation to the inmates to appear before it and explain their complaints. Only fourteen availed themselves of this opportunity and the complaints made were petty in every instance. Several were inclined to condemn the cooking at times, but outside of that here was nothing of importance to complain of. As to the one hospital case, Maher, who died, it was shown that he had left the hospital against the surgeon's orders, kept his wounded leg concealed, insisted that he was getting along splendid and absolutely refused to return to the hospital, having been taken there by force after his serious condition was known. All of the men unhesitatingly testified that Superintendent King was kind at all times. The old soldier who said his only complaint was that he did not receive sufficient gravy created some amusement. He prayed the honorable committee to see that he be served with an abundance of gravy for breakfast as well as at the other meals.

CHIEFS AND MARSHALS.

They Assemble in Annual Session at City of Fort Worth.

Fort Worth: The chiefs of police and city marshals of Texas held their eighth annual session in this city. The attendance was about fifty, and the peace officers were from all portions of the state.

Chief Niland of Corpus Christi read a paper on "Industrial Education."

Chief John Dollins of Waco read a paper on, "Is Politics Beneficial or Detrimental to a Police Force?" in which he took the position that the police department suffered from politics being injected into it. He thought the association should do everything within its power to eliminate politics from the police departments of the state.

Ex-Chief Blackburn of Houston read a paper entitled "Migratory Criminals."

Talks on the "Good of the Order" were made by Messrs. Hale of Sulphur Springs, Winfrey of Dallas, Mcconnico of Kerens, Niland of Corpus Christi and Blackburn of Houston.

A paper was read from G. E. Cornwell of Dallas on "The Junk Dealer and the Pawnbroker as a Kindergarten for Crime."

TERRIFIC TORNADO.

North Central Portion of Indiana Sustains Much Damage.

Indianapolis: The entire north central portion of Indiana was visited Wednesday by one of the most disastrous tornadoes that ever swept over the state.

The storm-swept section covers several hundred square miles, from Hancock county northwest through the northern portion of Marion county, Hamilton and Boone counties and doing much damage in Tippecanoe and adjacent counties. Madison county also felt its fury.

Thousands of buildings were razed, ten of thousands of trees were uprooted and now blockade highways, railroads and traction lines. Crops were utterly ruined, causing a loss estimated at nearly $2,000,000, and fifty persons were more or less injured.

Only two deaths have been reported with authority.

Many Immigrants.

Denison: Katy passenger train No. 5 came in a double-header on account of heavy traffic. The train was twenty minutes late. Attached to the flyer were ten coaches, exclusive of baggage and express cars, all heavily loaded wtih passengers, including two coaches with immigrants from Missouri, Ohio and Pennsylvania for points in southern Texas and California. The run from South McAlester to Atoka, forty-eight miles, was made in forty-five minutes.

Hot at El Paso.

El Paso: A hot wave of unusual severity has spread itself over this section of the southwest. At 3 p. m. Wednesday the weather bureau thermometer registered 105 degrees in the shade. The highest temperature since 1893 was 103 degrees. There has been no fatalities nor are there likely to be, for sunstrokes are unknown here.

Ruhlin defeated Sharkey at London in eleven rounds.

DOCUMENT IS BRIEF.

Investigating Committee Sends its Report to Gen. Van Zandt.

Austin: The veterans' investigating committee completed its work and the members left for their respective hofes. All day Thursday was spent in taking testimony, the morning being given over to hearing inmates who sustained the management and were satisfied with their conditions at the home. Quartermaster Corwin explained the system in his department and answered questions concerning the management in that particular line.

The afternoon was devoted to hearing Superintendent King's statement and hospital needs as enumerated by Dr. Gilbert, the home surgeon.

The committee went into executive session and formulated a report giving its findings. The document is quite brief, but covers the points of the case as brought out by the testimony. The report is addressed to Gen. K. M. Van Zandt, and members of the committee decline absolutely to make public any part of it, stating that it will have to be given out by Gen. Van Zandt and may be held until the state reunion, which meets soon in Dallas.

It is learned that the report disagrees with that of the legislative committee in regard to the two hospital cases of Maher and Hedgroth. The management will be exonorated of any blame in either case, completely dismissing that of Hedgroth. The report condemns the lack of system at the home, stating there is a great want of system. It recommends that a system be established whereby there will be a strict and perfect accounting of men, disbursements, purchases, wants and receipts.

The report also recommends that Dr. Gilbert, hospital surgeon, be allowed all he asked for and directs attention to the inadequate help about the home.

CULMORE PRESIDENT.

Houston Man Chosen Head Officer of Real Estate Association.

Greenville, Tex.: Several papers were read and discussed on the subject of industrial development of Texas by the Real Estate and Industrial association.

Resolutions were adopted favoring a system of technical and industrial education in Texas, the gathering of statistical information in regard to the material resources of Texas and memoralizing the legislature to provide for same, thanking the Fifth regiment band for furnishing music and thanking the mayor and citizens for favors extended.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing term: Charles Culmore of Houston, president; E. W. Shelburne, Denton, first vice-president; S. W. Bogy, Corsicana, second vice-president; W. M. Massey, Floydada, third vice-president; A. N. Evans, Fort Worth, secretary.

One executive committeeman for each congressional district was selected.

Fatal Snake Bite.

Rhome, Tex.: While seining for fish on the river two miles west of place J. Yoakum was bitten on the arm by a highland moccasin and died the next day. Snakes are more numerous this year than for many years. There has been a number killed crawling through the streets, and out in the country they infest the houses. They are hunting water, as all surface water has dried up.

Resisted and Was Killed.

Marshall, Tex.: James Hickman, while resisting arrest was shot and instantly killed by Officer Sanders. Hickman was a negro,late from Lamar county. Requisition papers reached the sheriff Wednesday. Deputies Burnett and Sanders endeavored to serve the papers. Hickman resisted with a Winchester, which Burnett caught by the muzzle. The negro endeavored to kill Burnett. Sanders fired five shots, three taking effect.

Defendant Dismissed.

Sherman: In case of the state of Texas vs. D. C. Petty, charged with the murder of Justice of the Peace Harris at Pottsboro, defendant was dismissed by the state, the reason assigned being the insufficiency of the evidence.

RATHER REALISTIC.

Dreamed of Fire, Jumped and Broke One of His Limbs.

Denison: O. A. Horn, a Katy machinist, formerly working in the Denison shops, had a remarkable experience. Mr. Horn had one of his legs fractured some time ago and was stopping at the home of a friend in the country near town. He dreamed that the house in which he was sleeping was on fire and jumped from a window of the second story, breaking ris leg again at the old fracture and seriously wrenching his other leg. His injuries are serious.

SUPPLIES FOR STATE.

The Distribution Schedules Will Soon be Ready.

Austin: State Purchasing Agent Dodge will within the next few days have ready for distribution schedules of supplies to be furnished the various eleemosynary institutions during the year, beginning Sept. 1. The schedule will be in the form of a small book and include everything used at the institutions, from pins to farm wagons and electrical and laundry machinery; also all drugs, groceries, fuel, dry goods, etc. The total amount scheduled will aggregate $600,000. Bids will be submitted on a basis of three, six and twelve months' supply, and the purchasing agent will make awards based on the condition of the market.

The act of the present congress in imposing a tax of 10c per pound on colored oleomargarine, or butterine, has brought up a serious question. The institutions using butterine consume not less than 100,000 pounds annually, which is now being supplied by one of the large packinghouses at the contract price of 14½c per pound. This price, with the tax of 10c added, would make a total of 24½ per pound, which is prohibitory. It is entirely too high, unless the institutions would agree to use the uncolored article, which is 1c per pound less than the present price of colored butterine and the tax on which was reduced from 2c per pound to ¼c per pound.

Mr. Dodge authorizes the statement that as a result of the above changes he will be in the market to purchase 100,000 pounds of creamery butter during the year commencing Sept. 1 and would like to hear from Texas creameries.

The unsettled condition of the feed crop and the prices will affect the contract when the time comes.

SUITOR SLEW HER.

He Then Proceeded to End His Own Existence.

Houston: Shortly before 12 o'clock Monday night three pistol shots were heard in a rooming house at No. 608 1-2 Main street. People rushed to the scene and found Miss Antonio Louise Petri dead and J. Welsh King gasping for life with a pistol in his hand. The woman had been shot, the ball entering beneath the left ear and passing out on the right side of the head. He had two bullet holes where balls entered and two where they made their exit. The entrances were on the right side of the head.

They had been to the theatre and she was attired in a pink dress with white ribbons. Her aunt, Mrs. Augusta Althoff, who was there, says it was a love affair. The young lady was keeping boarders in the upper story of the house and Welsh King, a drummer, had been visiting her for a day or so.

CLOSED A DEAL.

J. F. Keith Lumber Company Purchases Much Land.

Beaumont, Tex: J. F. Keith, president of the J. F. Keith Lumber company of this city, confirms the announcement that he has closed a deal for 25,000 acres of land in Nacogdoch county which is heavily covered with long leaf yellow pine. Mr. Keith also announces that he will build a large, modern equipped, double-band saw mill near this city at a point on Pine Island bayou, where the Santa Fe and Texas and New Orleans railroad crosses the bayou. The site has been purchased and work on the mill will begin as soon as possible. The timber land deal will be finally closed up as soon as an estimate has been made of the timber and the titles are found to be clear. The land purchase and the announcement of the new sawmill creates some stir in lumber circles in east Texas.

School Census of Lamar.

Paris: J. R. Roach, county school superintendent, has completed his scholastic census, which shows the total number within the school age in Lamar county, not including the independent districts of Paris, West Paris and Roxton, to be 9110. There are 113 school districts in the county and the entire scholastic population, including the city, is 12,474, of whom 9,447 are white.

Used Scissors.

El Paso: Jose Velasquez stabbed his wife and then committed suicide by stabbing himself fourteen times. The tragedy occurred in a Juarez, Mexico, boarding house. The weapon used was a pair of scissors. Mrs. Velasquez is in a Juarez hospital. She and her husband had come from Chihuahua only a few days ago.

The United States cruiser Philadelphia has left Panama.

A slight earthquake shock was felt in Ecuador Monday.

FARM AND FLOCK.

Tomatoes are abundant.

Goseberry season is over.

Japanese plums are scarce.

Peaches are in good supply.

Native plums find ready sale.

The drouth has injured watermelons some around Wallis.

Fannin county farmers cut wheat and oats by moonlight.

A. S. Gage, the cattleman, has a telephone line from Alpine to his ranch.

Furneaux Bros. shipped from Denison to Kansas City eight cars of cattle.

Wheat in many localities has panned out much better than was thought.

There is some complaint in Wise county of web worms and grasshoppers damaging cotton.

Hogg Bros. of Hamilton county sold to W. B. Floyd, a Missouri cattleman, 100 5-year-old steers.

The Chicago Live Stock World predicts that fewer cattle will be marketed this year than in 1901.

Despite the drouth it is claimed more corn will be produced in Wise county this year than last.

Constable Hamilton of Alvarado says Kansas corn planted in that section of Johnson county is doing fairly well.

A number of cattle have been quarantined in the southern portion of Grant county, New Mexico on account of ticks.

F. N. Page sold to James Cox 153 dehorned steers at $30 and a few cutbacks at $23. They were shipped to Pierre, S. D.

Farmers and stockmen in Mississippi and Alabama intend feeding their cattle on cassava. It is said to fatten the animals fast.

The United States government may establish a horse ranch in the Philippines and raise animals for service there in the army.

Salt water going up Louisiana bayous has prevented irrigation of rice and in consequence the cereal is being drouth damaged.

W. J. McIntyre, the well known southwest Texas stockman, shipped to New York city a carload of steers to be used in roping contests.

At the Chicago stockyards last week E. O. Farmer of Aledo, Tex., sold eight steers averaging 1314 pounds at $7.65 per 100 pounds.

Crop conditions were never better in Moore county than now. Tanks and lakes are also full of water and farmers and stockmen full of joy.

A sheep shearing plant has been put in operation at Hugo, Col. It is estimated that 40,000 sheep will be sheared at the sheds there this season.

A Gomez, two miles south of Mineral Wells, who has forty acres in corn, says he will raise thirty bushels to the acre even if not another drop of rain falls.

Peter Classen of Davenport has sold on the San Antonio market a carload of grass-fed cattle. Their average was 1140 pounds and they sold at $3.75 per 100.

The Capitol syndicate has sold 81,000 acres of land to F. C. Wright of Denver at $2 per acre. Mr. Wright owns 12,000 acres in the Panhandle exclusive of this purchase.

F. M. Clark, living near Roy, six miles east of Waxahachie, has five acres of cotton in one of his fields which he expects will be open in a few weeks. Dry weather is the cause of this.

Recent fine rains in Red River county cause the farmers to believe that an excellent corn crop is assured in that county. The stalk is represented as looking fresh and green all over that section.

Mr. Power, a farmer living near Savoy, Fannin county, has sold this season about 2000 gallons of blackberries on his farm, besides sending several wagonloads to Whitewright to be sold there.

Farmers in that section of Johnson county surrounding Venus who planted Kansas corn say they feel certain of realizing twenty to twenty-five bushels to the acre, but so far as native corn is concerned it is virtually a failure.

Clifton Chisholm of Roswell, N. M., sold at Kansas City seventy head of hogs at $7 per 100 pounds. They only last five pounds each on the journey, averaging 168 pounds. Mr. Chisholm fed each of his porkers 312 pounds of Kaffir corn.

Farmers in the country contiguous to Bryan are paying 50 cents per 100 for boll weevil. A great deal of money has been spent in this way, but it is believed that by pursuing this course the cotton will be enabled to thrive.

Farmers in Pottawatomie county, Oklahoma, believe they will have an enormous yield of corn this season. Other crops are also in splendid condition. The potato crop is especially good averaging 150 bushels to the acre. The farmers feel jubilant.

DUBLIN, TEXAS, FRIDAY, JULY 4, 1902

Political Notes.

The democratic state convention will be held at Galveston July 14th.

Thirty-six states will hold elections this fall for various state officers and of these twenty-eight are to elect governors.

The democratic congressional convention for this district has been called to convene at Weatherford at 2 o'clock p. m. July 7th.

The democratic senatorial convention for this district has been called to meet in the town of Comanche at 11 o'clock a. m. Friday, July 11th.

Parker county populists met in convention at Weatherford last Saturday and deferred the matter of putting out a ticket for county offices until August 23rd.

Chairman Milton Park of the peoples party state executive committee has issued a call for a state convention to meet at Fort Worth on August 12th, for the purpose of placing a complete state ticket in the field and adopting a platform. The bases of representation has been designated as one vote in the convention for every two hundred reform votes cast at the last election.

Prohibition Matters.

The sixth precinct, in McClellan county including the town of Moody, went for prohibition last Saturday by eighty-three majority.

There will probably be a prohibition campaign in Ellis county in September or October. The committee recently met and deferred the matter until that time for action.

An entirely new point in local option elections has been raised in a contest decided upon in Taylor county. At a recent election there the vote was favorable to local option but the poll list showed that less than half the voters in the county cast their ballots. It is contended that a majority of the people must vote in order to make the election legal.

The disgraceful action of Senator Joseph W. Bailey of Texas in attacking Senator Beveridge of Indiana in the senate chamber at Washington a few days ago is another unfortunate affair in which Mr. Bailey has figured as principal that places a blot upon the escutcheon of the grand old state of Texas. Bailey has gained and maintained practically every bit of political prestige he has ever had by just such bull dozing tactics as this criminal and unwarranted attack upon a fellow senator, whose offense was merely an eloquent defense of the action of a government official, to which Mr. Bailey chose brute force as his logic against it. This is not the first attack of this kind during the political career of a man whose state has suffered because it honored him. A few years back when Bailey was in a heated canvass for congress in the Gainesville district he attempted the same bull dozing method against Browder, his opponent for the position, and on the stand threatening to cut his opponents throat, in this manner committing a criminal offense for which he was not handled because of the disgrace such a course would bring upon his party. A few years ago he came to a re-union of the Erath & Comanche Ex-Confederate association at Dublin to deliver a speech and in doing so began a tirade of abuse that was absolutely shameful and in a burst of egotistical eloquence declared that he was "the only unregenerated rebel in congress." It is needless to say that this was as much out of place at a meeting held for the purpose of harmonizing the veterans of the civil war as his threat was to cut the throat of this political antagonist or his effort to choke his collegue in the senate into submission to his dictatorial demands or his absolute triumph in intimidating the legislative investigating committee into white-washing himself in the recent investigating of his acts regarding the re-admission of the Waters-Pierce Oil Co. to do business in Texas. His record has always been one of hot headed knavery, reflecting discredit upon the state which he misrepresents.

Work of Library Association.

The Dublin Library Association for over a month has had its room upstairs in the Latham building, open from two to three hours each day. This has been done by some thirty ladies, acting as voluntary librarians once a month We are glad to note an increase in enthusiasm, but there seems to be a lack of knowledge in regard to who is permitted to take out books. Any person paying five dollars becomes a member and he or any member of his family is entitled to take out any book and keep same ten days. Anyone not wishing to become a member can obtain a six week's ticket for fifty cents, which gives them the use of the books for that length of time. The library is open from five to seven o'clock each evening and anyone, whether a member or not, is welcome to come to the room, providing no books are carried out. We have one daily paper, the Waco Times-Herald, and during the month several periodicals will be added to our list. The library association has its regular meeting every Tuesday night and all members are requested to attend. We have on hand now about 250 books. Since the book social J. S. Daley and lady have presented the association with the "Life of Robert E. Lee," and E. G. St. Clair with Hall Caines' "Eternal City. The following ladies have charge of the library next week: Monday Mrs. George Keller, Tuesday Mrs. H. A. Smith, Wednesday Mrs. J. S. Daley, Thursday Mrs. Will McCampbell, Friday Mrs. T. L. Higginbotham, Saturday Mrs. J. L. Hall.

A social will be given at the rooms of the association next Tuesday night.—A Member.

The Perfect Liver Medicine.

Mrs. M. A. Jolley, Noble, O. T., writes: "I have used Herbine for a number of years and can cheerfully recommend it as the most perfect liver medicine and the greatest blood purifier. It is a medicine of positive merit and fully accomplishes all that is claimed for it." Malaria cannot find a lodgment in the system while the liver is in perfect order, for one of its functions is to prevent the absorption of fever producing poisons. Herbine is a most efficient liver regulator. 50c at Overton Drug Co.

P. S. Gates, several years ago a resident of this city, but who has for the past five years been residing in West Texas and New Mexico, spent several days here this week shaking hands with old friends.

The pension department of the Controllers office at Austin began on the first of the month making out the pension rolls for the quarter ending that day. There are now 6,250 pensioners on the rolls and the apportionment is $8.15 per capita.

Oil is now being used on some of the principal streets of Dallas in lieu of water, because of the scarcety of the latter. As a dust-layer it is reported a success but its use is said to render the streets almost impassable without soiling ones clothes.

The Boss Worm Medicine.

H. P. Kumpe, druggist at Leighton, Ala., writes, "One of my customers had a child which was sick and threw up all food, could not retain nothing on its stomach. He bought a bottle of White's Cream Vermifuge and it brought up 119 worms from the child. It's the boss worm medicine in the world." White's Cream Vermifuge is also the children's tonic. It improves their digestion and assimulation of food, strengthens their nervous system and restores them to the health, vigor and elasticity of spirits natural to childhood. 25c at Overton Drug Co.

J. T. Tannehill of near Dublin has purchased an interest in the drug business formerly operated by T. W. Shugart and the firm name has been changed to Shugart & Tannehill. Mr. Tannehill will remove to Dublin next week to reside.

The interturban car line between Ft. Worth and Dallas began running on regular schedule Wednesday and is making the run between the two points in one hour and thirty minutes, which time is expected to be greatly reduced in a short time. A car leaves each end of the route every two hours and it is expected later to make a schedule every hour. The price for one way is 75 cents or a round trip for $1.25.

The rains of last Saturday afternoon and Saturday night, though not heavy, will be of great benefit to growing crops and especially the second crop of hay and newly planted sorghum, millet, etc. Sunday night the elements presented a threatening appearance of storm and many Dublin people moved to their storm houses. The rain was general throughout this section though we understand it was irregular in quantity and very light in some localities.

Summer complaint is usually prevalent among children this season. A well developed case in the writer's family was cured last week by the timely use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera & Diarrhoea Remedy—one of the best patent medicines manufactured and which is always kept on hand at the home of ye scribe. This is not intended as a free puff for the company, who do not advertise with us, but to benefit other sufferers who may not be within easy access of a physician. No family should be without a bottle of this medicine in the house, especially in the summer time.—Lansing, Iowa, Journal. For sale by Overton Drug Co.

Cures Sciatic.

Rev. W. L. Riley, E. L. D., Cuba, New York, writes: "After fifteen days of excruciating pain from sciatic rheumatism, under various treatments, I was induced to try Ballard's Snow Liniment, the first application giving my first relief and the second entire relief. I can give it unqualified recommendation. 25c, 50c and $1 at Overton Drug Company.

Attorney C. C. Goodner, who recently removed from Hico to this place, has accepted a position as assistant county attorney and removed to Stephenville. He is now exercising the functions of that position in the absence of the county attorney and it is understood they will continue together in the practice of law.

Do you want a sound liver, vigorous digestion, strong healthy kidneys, regularity in the bowels? Take Prickly Ash Bitters. It has the medical properties that will produce this result.

WEEKLY FASHION HINTS.

Jacket of Black Taffeta.

A NOVEL BASQUE.

This charming little jacket is of black taffeta tucked in clusters and perforated in a small, net design showing the white satin lining. It is fashioned with a novel basque or skirt which appears only at the side and back and the large collar is of embroidered batiste over a still larger collar of embroidered taffeta. The sleeves are very wide and flaring at the wrist and have double turned-back cuffs of taffeta and batiste. A belt of folded taffeta completes the jacket which is a pretty model for summer wear. All the tucks are stitched with Corticelli sewing silk.

A novel feature for blouse jackets as well as for eton skirt jackets and dressy garments in general is the jabot vest effect. It has been stated that some of the foremost Paris houses will accentuate the drooping shoulder effect both in waists and in outdoor garments. Quite a feature in jackets is the long coat collar of taffeta which are variously enhanced with large collars and revers of lace or of ribbon-run embroidered linen.

BRIGHT'S DISEASE

The largest sum ever paid on a prescription changed hands in San Francisco, August 30th, 1901. The transfer involved in coin and bullion $112,500.00 and was paid by a syndicate of business men for a specific for Bright's Disease and Diabetes, and to incurable diseases.

They commenced the scientific investigation of the specific Nov. 1st, 1900. They interviewed scores of those who had and tried it out on its merits. After watching over three dozen cases under treatment and watching them die, they also got physicians to name a number of incurable cases, and administered the remedy with the physicians for witnesses. On Aug. 25, eighty-seven per cent of the test cases were either well or rapidly improving favorably.

There being but thirteen per cent failures, the parties were satisfied and closed the transaction. The full proceedings of the investigating committee and the clinical reports of the test cases were published and can be had mailed free on application. Address JOHN J. FULTON CO., 420 Market St., San Francisco, Cal.

H. M. Watson of Gustine was here Monday on business for his firm there and took back with him a large amount of sorghum seed, which he says will be used by the farmers about Gustine in an effort to over-come the shortage of feed stuffs by raising a late crop. He also took with him a quantity of rope and said there has been a great demand for heavy rope there this spring on account of the lack of binder twine in all the markets of this territory. The rope has been utilized in place of the binder twine by separating the strands. Mr. Watson spent several days last week at Stephenville in the interest of getting up the proof of his innocence in connection with the shortage of the tax collector, for whom he served as chief clerk for a time. He also employed counsel to look after his interests and says that he will be able to show beyond a doubt that he had no hand in the shortage.

Capt. M. B. Davis of Waco has written the Progress editor that he expects to make an attempt to get the Daughters of the Confederacy and the Southern Memorial Association to visit Dublin on one or more days of the re-union. These organizations are contemplating a trip over the Central road from Waco to Stamford during the month of August and it is the purpose of Capt. Davis, who is himself a confederate veteran, to have the organizations name their dates for a time which will make it convenient to make the proposed visit to Dublin. It is to be hoped that these organizations will favor the Erath&Comanche Ex-Confederate association and the people of Dublin by making the proposed visit and it may certainly be expected that Dublin shall properly entertain and interest them.

General Passenger Agent W. F. McMillan of the Texas Central road took occasion, while here last Saturday, to remark to a Progress reporter that he expected in point of rates and services made by his road to do even better by the Ex-Confederate re-union this year than last. It is also believed that a very low rate will be secured on the Frisco, probably providing forty cents for the round trip from Stephenville and seventy-five from Bluff Dale and Granbury and seventy-five and one dollar from Comanche and Brownwood, together with a special service from Granbury each morning to return in the evening.

Since the first of the present year Texas has led every other state in the union in the matter of railroad mileage built within her borders. A resume of the mileage built in each state during that time places that of Texas at slightly over two hundred and thirty-six miles, Oklahoma and Indian Territory two hundred and eleven miles each and New Mexico slightly over one hundred and ninety miles. In Kentucky two and a quarter miles was built and less than five miles in each of the states of Connecticutt, Maryland, South Dakota and Vermont. New York shows slightly over thirty miles.

Hon. W. J. Bryan of Abilene, member elect of the 85th legislature, who made his race on the land lease question as the champion of the rights of the homeseeker, has the following to say of the Home Seeker's Annual and Map of Texas: "It is semi-official, accurate and worth hundreds of dollars to all seeking homes on Texas school lands, for with these the services of lawyers and locators can be dispensed with. I heartily recommend it to all as timely and reliable." The book and map can be had by sending $1.50 to the Progress for same and they will be sent by mail prepaid at once.

Ft. Worth abolished whipping in the public schools last year and since that time the pupils have run things to suit themselves, scores of them have been expelled and two or three principals have resigned because they could not govern a school with credit without the use a hickory. The new school board has changed things and the several principals have been instructed to whip every boy that needs it. It has been conclusively shown that the average American boy must have plenty of good trouncings to make a man of him.—Transcript.

Last Chance to Purchase Texas School Lands for Homes!

The supreme court of Texas now holds that the rights of "actual settlers" to purchase School Lands under the state constitution shall be respected. This means that you can now secure pasture and agricultural lands in quantities of 80 to 2560 acres, the former at $1.00 per acre, the latter at $1.50 per acre, one-fortieth cash, balance on forty years time, interest at only three per cent per annum, provided you shall first post yourself as to where and how to find the lands and how to secure them and shall not let the grass grow under your feet. If you do not act promptly or if you do not so post yourself, you will not be able to secure even 80 acres, but by doing both you can secure 2,560 acres.

The Texas Homeseekers Annual for 1902 and Texas Homeseekers new, large and up-to-date Wall Map of Texas (both just issued) have been published especially in the interest of Texas homeseekers and contain precisely the information you need as to the School Lands in the counties of Borden, Coke, Dawson, Garza, Glasscock, Howard, Irion, Kent, Kimble, Lynn, Martin, Mason, Menardville, Mitchell, Schleicher, Scurry, Sterling and Tom Green, including between 2,000,000 and 3,000,000 acres of land, many of them really worth $10.00 to $20.00 per acre, all of them worth many times what they will cost you.

With this book and map any man of average intelligence can know just when and where to be on the very days these lands will come on the market, and to identify and secure them without having to pay $50.00 per section to local attorneys and land agents. Watch our local columns and see what well-known friends of Texas Homeseekers have to say about these publications. If you wish to secure a home on Texas School Lands in any county mentioned above you should act at once. Call or send to Progress, pay $1.50 for Book and Map and they will go to you postpaid to your home postoffice.

OFFICE AT ICE FACTORY, DUBLIN, TEX.

Interesting Letter From Philippine.

The following extracts from a letter to Mrs. Maggie A. Dunn of near Dublin from her son in the Philippines was written under date of May 7th:

"The extremely hot weather here seems to agree with me, though it is almost hot enough to roast peanuts in the sun. We landed on this island (Malaga) some time ago, and as formerly stated, have established a military prison and now have seven hundred under guard, among them Gen. Lukeban, who is a Moro and one of their ablest men and who was leader of the insurrection down in Samar. He refuses to take the oath of allegiance to the United States and if he continues to persist we will likely have to go in the field against the Moros and we dread them. Most of the Filipinos will shoot and run but the Moros don't do that, they fight to the last man and stand their ground as good as any Texan ever did. We have had a thousand prisoners and only one hundred men to guard them, the number has been reduced by shipping to other points. A few days ago two of our prisoners attacked one of the guards with bolos and tried to cut his head off but the guard was quick enough to shoot and kill one of them and shoot the other in the leg. They are terribly treacherous and we are compelled to keep our eyes "peeled" every minute.

"The reason I have not been writing more regularly is from the fact that for a good portion of the time the officials would not let mail go from here to Manila on account of the probability of scattering the cholera, it is all about us and we are probably in more danger from the disease than from the Filipinos. If it once gets in our camp it is almost certain to kill the whole regiment.

"I have made an arrangement to send you $25 every two months from my pay and when we make an allottment we are required to keep it up all the time, so you may look for it regularly.

"The rainy season has set in here and I do not know how long it will continue, but it is more comfortable during the season.

"Please send me a Progress so that I may be more able to keep up with the doings about home and give my regards to inquiring friends and ask them to write me.

Your Prodigal son,
Corporal WM. A. DUNN,
Co. H, 28th Inf., Manila, P. I.

PILGRIMAGE OF WU SIN AND AH FAH

By JAMES GARDNER SLATER

(Copyright, 1902, by Daily Story Pub. Co.)

In the quarters at San Francisco reserved for the homes of Celestial residents lived Wu Sin and Ah Fah. To America they had but shortly come.

Sin and Fah had been washers of soiled linen ever since they were landed.

Of the ways of Anglo-Saxon society Tsin Hi and Hop Suey, who were the dictators of the Chinese section, impressed it upon the mind of their uninitiated countrymen that they should be objects—not for the cultivation of their mimetic faculties, but deserving only of their contempt and scorn. All the Chinese desired of the American was his money. He could keep his God.

Of money, they had never seen so much in their lives as they themselves had deposited with the Chinese banker, the result of their labors. Even when their brains were uninfluenced by opium they dreamed of once more crossing the Pacific to remain forever, having servants of their own, riding about in rattan chairs, owning tons of opium and maintaining as many wives as their lustful hearts desired. So it was that they heard rumors that they were liable to be impressed into Imperial service long before they were ready to return voluntarily to China, their hearts became sore.

One morning the Southern Pacific train bound for New Orleans had two second-class passengers that never before had ridden behind a steam locomotive.

At New Orleans when they disembarked from the dusty cars and started up town—where, they did not know, the first thing that struck their sight was a seething mob of men. They had guns and carried sticks and clubs. The men cursed hoarsely and the boys made hideous sounds with their lips. Negroes were flying about, begging for mercy. A gun would be fired and the crowd would cheer and move forward. The eyes of the runaways looked longingly and vainly for one of their kind. Wu Sin and Ah Fah did not know a mob was after the slayer of some policeman. They didn't know anything, but that they were in a place that was dangerous. Perhaps there was another war going on and they would have to serve in a strange army.

The men ran towards the river. Box cars were on sidings and in one of these they crawled. They went far into a corner and sat down, shivering, frightened almost unto death. They dared not talk; they breathed as softly as their fluttering hearts would permit. Presently they felt the moving of the car wheels and then they felt easier.

After awhile they looked out and beheld a gloomy forest. When the locomotive bellowed its way through the towering pines, each vibration would send terror to the souls of these refugees. When morning came the brakeman discovered them and ruthlessly threw them to the ground. Chinese tramps! Why he had never heard of such a thing. By rights he should have killed them, he said to himself, but the train was in a hurry and he had no time to waste. On a hill not far away the Chinamen saw a town. They approached it timidly enough. Wagons were lined up around the public square and men and women were going about as if they had nothing more on their minds than the ordinary pursuits of happiness. The Chinamen could see no evidences of a strife.

At one of the stores they got something to eat. They still had gold coin, but in no place would it procure them a bed in which to rest their weary bodies. So they slept under a covered wagon that stood near the depot; and dogs came and smelt of them, looked at them and went away growling. Never before had they seen men so yellow or with such funny looking hair. Wu and Ah talked matters over the next morning and decided upon things. Ellisville was good enough for them—for the present at least. They opened negotiations for the rent of a little pine shanty, bought a stove and some irons and began making preparations for doing business. At the Ferrill store where they bought the few groceries necessary for their existence they induced one of the clerks to let them do his laundry work. Thus it came about that a new establishment was added to the town; and it came to pass moreover that they soon became members of the flourishing Sunday school and were there held up as an object lesson as to why more money should be donated toward the foreign mission board.

Love making among the dusky maids of Mississippi is not a difficult procedure. And thus it came about also that in a month's time they had observed the common law marriage and had taken unto themselves two young women whose faces were black enough to spot the midnight. Then the Endeavorers and the foreign boards excluded them from their societies while the negroes threw brickbats at the two sisters who had taken up with trash so worthless as Chinamen. But Wu and Ah went along about their way. They bought fancy clothes for their wives and gave them spending money every evening. For the women the world was rosy enough even if they were being preached against by others of their class less fortunate. Meantime the laundrymen had added a few more customers to their list—men, young men, clerks about the town who wore no waistcoats when their linen was pot-boiled and starched.

In a month's time the Chinamen were doing a business the like of which they had never dreamed would fall to their lot. The colored aunties were forced to do the drudgery, that is to cleanse the quilts, tablecloths and do the rougher work belonging to the wash-pot. They attempted to discover the secret the Chinamen possessed of making the shirt front shine as the scoured bottom of a tin pan, but they couldn't.

Finally a Yankee who was in the South for his health heard that Ellisville needed a steam laundry. So he set about to establish one. Then he moved his family from Connecticut, and appealed to the citizens for their patronage because of his being an American, and a local taxpayer. Besides, he said, if the town treated him right, he would be the means of bringing other settlers to the county, too. Instantly the Chinamen commenced losing trade. Some few stuck by them, but when McIntosh, Ferrill and Champenois sent their bundles to the steam laundry, the Chinamen got frightened. They cut the Yankee's prices. These were met and lowered. Then began a terrific warfare with the result that both concerns were doing washing for nothing. Soon the town loafers were changing collars every morning.

If the Chinamen were despondent, they concealed such emotions. When the church bells were ringing for prayer meeting of evenings and the organs of the various places of worship were attuned to the harmony of village voices the puffs of the little engine of the steam laundry and the perspiring faces of the heathens went evenly along. Finally it became a matter of notice that the Chinamen were no longer patronizing the grocery stores except for starch and soap.

The situation was becoming decidedly interesting. Presently the dusky spouses of the Mongolians seized hoe handles and left for the "bottoms" between the cover of night. When they were missed it began to look as if the ship of the Chinamen was about to go under sure enough. But not so. They worked; they bought more soap; they smiled in their childish and blandish way and kept on washing. Now they had ceased trading at the stores altogether. From what source could they be securing food?

A freckled faced boy of ten solved that problem. One day he went to the Yankee and told things; told of the thousands of rats that made their homes in the big barn adjoining the home of his hated rivals. Whereupon the Yankee hit upon a scheme with the result that the Weekly Eagle contained this notice, set in pica type:

WANTED!

One thousand cats. It makes no difference whether they are thoroughbreds or scrubs; fat or lean, white or yellow. For which the sum of twenty-five cents will be paid on delivery at the

STEAM LAUNDRY.

P. S. Hurry Them Up.

In three days' time wagon loads of cats began coming in and more boys being thrashed hourly for stealing their mothers' most precious pets than before in Ellisville's history. One night the first battalion of these soldiers of this remarkable Yankee were put on the battlefield—housed in that immense barn and told to fight. The next night these were removed and a fresher and hungrier lot were turned inside and so on until there was not even a mouse in that town that dared to poke its sniffling nose above the mellow earth.

A week elapsed and one morning passers-by observed that all was stillness inside the Chinamen's shanty. The constable came along and broke down the door. Inside the two washermen were clasped in each other's arms cold in death—a plain case of double suicide.

But they had escaped service in the Imperial army at Pekin.

GROWTH OF THE BRASS BAND.

First One Was Organized in 1835 by Adolphe Sax.

As antiquities go nowadays the brass band is a very ancient institution. That is to say, its inventor died in 1894 at the age of 80. There were horns before Adolphe Sax, to be sure, but not such horns as we have now, for they could not play every tune in every key. They could not even play a scale in any key. The very first band entirely of brass was organized in 1835, and I doubt if any of the instruments then used could be played upon by modern musicians without special practice. It is only 119 years back to 1783, when a full regimental band in the British army consisted of two oboes, two clarinets, two horns and two bassoons. It must have sounded even funnier than Tennyson's famous combination of "flute, violin, and bassoon."

How long a way we have come since 1783, says a writer in Ainslee's, may be learned from this ensemble of a first-class modern band, which I give on the authority of Thomas F. Shannon, bandmaster of the 23d regiment, New York national guard, probably the best regimental bandmaster in the United States. Note that the modern band of forty-two pieces has half as many oboes and bassoons as the ancient band of eight pieces, seven times as many clarinets and nine times as many horns, to say nothing of the saxaphones, which are part clarinet and part horn.

HAD JOKE ON HOTEL CLERK.

New Trick Played on Functionary of New York House.

"With all his faults," began Mr. Fairchild, "the hotel man is a first-class fellow, who will go a long way to keep his guests from being seen by doubtful guests. I recall an instance which happened to me in New York not long ago. I had registered in the morning and leaving my key at the hotel, came back again in the evening. Finding the night clerk on, but not on to me, I asked him, giving him my name, if I was in. Not knowing the number of my room, I decided this was the way to find out.

"He looked at me rather suspiciously. Evidently the result of his inspection was not reassuring; for, after making a bluff at feeling in my box, he replied quite stiffly:

"'No, sir, Mr. Fairchild is not in.' I sat down on the lounge, and said calmly:

"'Well, when he comes in please tell him that he is here looking for himself.'

"The porter carried the clerk upstairs."—New York Tribune.

Lucky Days.

The belief in the special luck, bad or good, attaching to certain days of the week is as old as the hills. Some great men have believed that particular days of the month are specially propitious to them. Napoleon's day was March 20; Cromwell's was September 3; the great emperor Charles V. was his star in the ascendant on February 24; and so with others. But the belief in specially lucky days of the week has been much more general than that in certain days of the month. The mighty and the humble, the civilized and the barbarous, have alike shared in this belief. Louis XIII. of France set store by Friday, and when he lay dying on a Thursday vainly longed for a few more hours of life, which might have brought him to his lucky Friday. Pope Sixtus V. had a special regard for Wednesday. Other great men have liked or feared this or that day. Many humbler people share the same feeling, and probably every day of the week has its votaries. Even Friday, which is much more associated in the popular mind with ill-luck than with good fortune, is a lucky day to some good folk.

Viceroy Needlessly Alarmed.

The ignorance which foreigners have to combat in their efforts to open up trade with China is well illustrated by an incident which occurred not long ago. Sir James Mackay is the English high commissioner to negotiate trade treaties in China. He wrote to one of the viceroys, earnestly pleading that the trade barriers in that province be removed. He received a reply from the viceroy saying that he could not think of removing these barriers for the reason that if he did the water would all run out of his province. The viceroy's idea of the barriers was that they were physical dams along the water courses over which the trade was carried.

"Cattle Queen of Texas."

Mrs. Henrietta King is known in the United States as the Cattle Queen of Texas, by virtue of the fact that she is proprietor of the greatest cattle ranch in the world. It is variously estimated at from a million to a million and a quarter acres in extent. Twice a year Mrs. King makes an inspection of her vast property, and the long procession of carriages and wagons and the retinue of outriders, cowboys, cooks and guides cause her tour to be a sort of Royal progress.

No man on earth can love his neighbor as himself if he has a garden and the aforesaid neighbor keeps chickens.

WOMAN'S FAVORITE IMPLEMENT

Her Proficiency With a Hairpin Is Something to Wonder At.

Dullards will tell you that women aren't so inventive as men, don't take out so many patents. They don't have to. With the hairpin all that is doable can be done.

With a hairpin a woman can pick a lock, pull a cork, peel an apple, draw out a nail, beat an egg, see if a joint of meat is done, do up a baby, sharpen a pencil, dig out a sliver, fasten a door, hang up a plate or a picture, open a can, take up a carpet, repair a baby carriage, clean a lamp chimney, put up a curtain, rake a grate fire, cut a pie, make a fork, a fishhook, an awl, a gimlet or a chisel, a papercutter, a clothespin, regulate a range, tinker a sewing machine, stop a leak in the roof, turn over a flapjack, caulk a hole in a pair of trousers, stir batter, whip cream, reduce the pressure in the gas meter, keep bills and receipts on file, spread butter, cut patterns, tighten windows, clean a watch, untie a knot, varnish floors, do practical plumbing, reduce the asthma of tobacco pipes, pry shirt studs into buttonholes too small for them, fix a horse's harness, restore damaged mechanical toys, wrestle with refractory beer stoppers, improvise suspenders, shovel bonbons, inspect gas burners, saw cake, jab tramps, produce artificial buttons, hooks and eyes, sew, knit and darn, button gloves and shoes, put up awnings, doctor an automobile. In short, she can do what she wants to; she needs no other instrument.—New York Sun.

A SOLOMON ON THE BENCH.

Novel Reasons a Philadelphia Judge Has for Extending Clemency.

Magistrate Cuningham of the central police court of Philadelphia is sometimes a little eccentric in the punishment of those hauled before him for misdemeanors. The other day Bill Jones, who had been found upon the public highway minus the faculty of navigation, was arraigned before him.

"Married or single?" asked the magistrate.

"Single, sir," replied the shaking culprit.

"You ought to get married. If you had a wife and family to occupy your attention you would have no desire to drink," said the magistrate. "I'll discharge you, but I hope you'll give to matrimony more thought than you have to liquor."

John Smith, who had also been arrested for being intoxicated, was next called.

"Married or single, John?" queried the magistrate.

"Married, your honor," was the prisoner's reply.

"Then you have no business getting drunk. Drinking should be done by single men who have no family to require their attention and cash. You ought to have remained single, then the damage you are doing would fall upon you alone. Go home and think it over."

Judge Showed Them a Trick.

A New York city magistrate recently had before him the case of a pair of confidence men accused of robbing a farmer on a visit to the metropolis, says the Philadelphia Times. The magistrate asked them as to their side of the story.

"Well, judge," explained one, "we simply offered to bet him that we could take a deck of cards, shuffle them so he could see us and make two jacks come out together. He lost. That was all, judge."

"What's your name?" the magistrate asked the spokesman.

"Jack O'Brien, judge."

"And yours?" turning to the other prisoner.

"Jack Devine, your honor."

"O'Brien," said the magistrate, "I give you four years; Devine, I give you three years. And now, gentlemen, I'll just bet you $500 that you two Jacks do not come out together."

His Aid to Conversation.

Thomas F. Ryan, the capitalist, when engaged in any engrossing conversation, has a habit of tearing sheets of paper into small pieces. A few days ago a reporter noticed Mr. Ryan slowly covering the floor with scraps of paper from a pad on his desk, while he talked on financial affairs. Secretly the reporter removed the pad, and, when Mr. Ryan had dropped the last scrap out of his hand, there was a sudden break in the thread of his conversation. His hand had begun to search for the pad, much to the detriment of his wits. He halted continually in making his statement, and was not able to finish the interview to his satisfaction until the reporter slipped the paper back to its usual place. It was immediately pounced upon by Mr. Ryan's wandering fingers, says the New York Times, and the halting conversation went on uninterruptedly to a successful ending.

Then He Knew all About It.

No matter how widely some people travel, they remain provincial, and hold the village they live in as the starting point of all knowledge. A private soldier once introduced himself to Lincoln as the brother of the man who gave the Fourth of July oration in Topeka. An Andover clergyman is said to have fixed the town he hailed from with equal precision.

He was present at a gathering of noted scholars and professors in Berlin. A distinguished German philologist, just introduced to him, asked him what part of America he came from.

"Andover," said the clergyman, with proud confidence.

"Eh? Where is Andover?"

"Next to Tewksbury," replied the American.—Youth's Companion.

MARRIAGE IN JAPAN

Love and Romance Have Little to Do With the Making of the Nuptial Contract

Japan has some marriage customs that are at variance with our Western ideas on the question. In the first place, love doesn't enter into the contract at all.

The primary purpose in a Japanese girl's marriage is to get her placed where she will be well connected and cared for. No mother in all Japan would for a moment be so foolish as to think of giving her daughter in marriage to a young man who had no home ready for her reception. He must have the necessary means to care for his wife and he must be able to show a creditable family tree. Without these essentials he might love the girl to desperation and she might regard him with equal ardor, but he would never get her.

The Japanese maiden in any event does not choose her own husband. It would no more occur to her to do such an audacious thing than to have chosen the name given her at birth. An interested friend of the family, known as a "go-between," attends to this matter.

When a girl reaches a marriage age this "go-between" casts about for a husband for her. When he has a young man who meets all of the requirements of the family and both he arranges for a meeting with the girl and her mother.

Another way is to arrange for a meeting at the house of a friend. Of course, the matchmaker will prearrange that it is quite by accident, although all of the party understand perfectly that it is by design.

The girl is very shy and hides her face behind her fan as she bows many times. Then she retires, blushing and nervous, behind her mother. The young man at this meeting looks her over and decides whether to ask to wed her. If he agrees, the negotiations are carried to a finish. He pays for the trousseau and the bride's father provides the entire furnishings for the house which the newly married pair will occupy.

It's a clear waste of time to go looking for insults.

Finds Valuable Bible

Volume Will Establish Claims of Heirs to Estate of Many Millions

Unearthed among rubbish in the loft of an old barn in Huron county, Ohio, where it had been hidden from view for many years, an ancient Bible bids fair to establish the claims of many heirs to an estate of many millions.

According to the statement of M. J. Dunham of Middletown, N. Y., who has just returned from a two months' trip through the west and northwest, in an effort to locate the descendants of Absolam Case, the vast estate of the late Leonard Case of Cleveland, Ohio, will eventually enrich hundreds of his descendants, owing to the discovery of the old Bible.

Leonard Case, Sr., died in Cleveland in 1864, leaving one heir to his millions, a son, Leonard Case, Jr. The latter, a bachelor, died in 1880, leaving no will, but property in the heart of Cleveland valued at $8,000,000 to be divided among the 190 descendants of his father's brothers and sisters, covering five generations.

Two years ago Mr. Dunham, who is a descendant of Absolam Case and a half brother of Leonard Case, quietly began the work of tracing and locating the heirs. The estate consists chiefly of real estate in the business center of Cleveland, taking the First National bank, the gas plant, the offices and yards of the Cleveland & Pittsburg railroad, the Case School of Applied Science and narrowly skips the residence of John D. Rockefeller. It includes fifteen or twenty of the largest manufacturing establishments in the city.

Ever since the death of Leonard Case, Jr., the estate has been the theme of legal investigation, but no satisfactory results could be secured because of the fact that the old family Bible, containing certain records, could not be found. As it contained the names of all the Cases its discovery was decidedly essential to the location of the heirs.

In the old barn loft Sarah Case, a lading, in Huron county, Ohio, it was luckily discovered, and according to Mr. Dunham, it is the key to the establishment of the heirs' claims.

Mystery of Pompeii

Max Nordau Unable to Understand What Became of the Inhabitants

Max Nordeau raises a question concerning Pompeii which is of double interest now in view of the disasters of St. Martinique and St. Vincent. He writes as follows to the Neue Freie Presse (Vienna): "One thing has always been a puzzle to me. Here was a flourishing city of about 30,000 inhabitants, most of whom evidently were well-to-do. A few hundreds, at most, lost their lives in the destruction of the city; the rest escaped. The eruption of Vesuvius continued only a few days, after which the district returned to its usual placid condition. In many places the deposit of ashes and lava was only a yard thick, and it was not more than three yards thick at any point yet excavated.

"How did it happen that these thirty thousand homeless persons showed no desire to return to their beautiful houses, so well built that they are standing to this day, which could have been restored in the time with very little labor? Why did they not make the slightest attempt to regain their valuable property in land and buildings, furniture, bronze, marble, gold, silver and jewels? Did the men of that time possess so little love of home that they could leave it without a backward glance at the first unpleasantness? Were the Pompeiians so rich that the loss of their perfectly appointed city appeared trivial to them, so that they preferred settling elsewhere to rebuilding their city? Or did superstition prevent the attempt? This inhabitants' renunciation of their patrimony as a whole cityful is to me an inscrutable enigma which forces itself the more strongly upon my attention now that I walk along the finely paved streets between houses which need only new roofs to make them again habitable."

FISH FORM ACQUAINTANCES.

Peculiarities of Social Life in the Tanks of an Aquarium.

It is a more or less familiar fact that fish of a kind flock together. Fishes know their own kind and seek their company, says the New York Sun.

Put a number of each of two or three kinds of fishes in an aquarium tank and the fishes of each kind will recognize one another perfectly; and the fishes of the several kinds bunch together and travel around together. Apparently fishes may also know one another individually.

It not infrequently happens that among fishes of the same kind in a tank one will harry and drive about the rest, or perhaps select one fish as the object of its attacks, or it might be that in the case of two fishes of the same kind in one tank one would bully and persistently harry the other, as though besides having a nagging nature it had against the other fish a personal animosity.

In such a case as that last described, it is sometimes necessary to take the harried fish out of the tank to save its life. If another fish of the same kind is then put in the tank in the place of the one taken out, the scrapper and nagger lets it alone. He may not ignore it altogether, but he doesn't harry it as he did the other.

But take the second fish out after awhile and put back the first one and the scrappy fish goes to hustling it right away; to all appearances the fighter recognizes the other, individually. It may seem strange, but such is the fact, as observed at the New York aquarium.

PRAYER FOR KING

Over Great Britain and Also in Her Possessions

SANCTITY ASKED TO SPARE HIM

St. Paul's Cathedral the Scene of a Solemn Service of Supplication in Which the Litany Was Recited.

London, June 27.—In most of the churches throughout the land the services which were to commemorate the coronation of King Edward took place in the form of intercessionary service.

At the hour when the king should have been crowned a great and distinguished gathering, almost identical with that which would have sat in Westminster abbey, gathered in St. Paul's cathedral. The approaches to the cathedral were lined by silent crowds through which drove peers and peeresses, colonial premiers, foreign ambassadors and members of the house of commons, all in somber attire.

In the chancel were J. H. Choate, the United States ambassador, and Mrs. Choate; Henry White, secretary of the embassy, and Mrs. White; J. R. Carnegie, second secretary of the embassy, and Mrs. Carter; Whitelaw Reid, special ambassador of the United States to the coronation, and Mrs. Reid; Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Morgan, Jr., and the leading members of the nobility. In the nave were a thousand Westminster abbey ticket holders, mainly women, were seated.

Shortly before noon the big western doors swung open and the Duke of Norfolk, leaning heavily on the arm of a equerry, walked to the chancel. As 12 o'clock struck there arose from the far end of the nave the clear voice of the opening sentences of the litany, chanted by four of the cathedral clergy. Their tones were in such a way that they seemed to emanate from one powerful voice. The choir sang the responses.

After each supplication the procession, headed by the cross at its head, advanced a few steps and then stood until the response was completed. Through the kneeling congregation the choir advanced to the chancel steps. A score of the clergy followed, and behind them the bishops.

Then came the Most Rev. William Alexander MacGlan, the archbishop of Armagh, the Most Rev. Frederick Temple, archbishop of Canterbury, and the lord mayor, Sir J. C. Dimsdale, the latter in full state, bringing up the rear.

As a fervent evident feeling the choir sang three psalms of intercession, after which the Rt. Rev. Cosmo Gordon Lang, bishop of Stepney, read the lesson, Isaiah xxxviii, I.

The Rev. Arthur F. W. Wingham, rector of London, from the altar steps read the prayers.

After the anthem and the singing of the hymn, "Thine Arm, O Lord, in Days of Old, Was Strong to Heal and Save," Psalm 51 concluded the short service. Thereupon the bishop of London, assisted by the archbishops and others, rose from the altar, impressively pronounced the benediction.

After a few moments complete silence was observed and all heads were bowed in prayer, after which the almost blind archbishop of Canterbury was carefully led down the steps, the procession reformed and the congregation filed out in to the sunlight.

Simultaneously a similar service was conducted at St. Margaret's church, Westminster. It was largely attended by cabinet ministers, peers and members of the house of commons, and concluded with singing "God Save the King."

Troops in India, Australia and Africa, everywhere where Britons congregated, were announcing the holding of impressive supplicatory services were held.

Only one inch of rain fell at Galveston on Thursday.

THOUGHT HIM JOKING.

The Editor Was in Earnest, However, and They Were Married.

Connersville, Ind.: The marriage of Miss Lillian McGowen of Morganfield, Ky., and Edward McKinley, editor of the News-Banner, of Murfreesboro, Tenn., occurred in this city. The couple had not met for several years, happened to meet on a railroad train. McKinley proposed to her and was accepted, and the young people came to this city and were married at St. George hotel. The news of the wedding was telephoned by the bride to her parents at Morganfield, Ky. They at first refused to believe it. When McKinley first proposed to Miss Gowen, she thought it was a joke, but when he pressed his suit she accepted.

BAILEY PROTESTED.

Texas Senator Does Not Favor Paying Debts of Expositions.

Washington: During the comparatively brief time the senate was in session Thursday the conference report on the isthmian canal bill was agreed to and the general deficiency bill, the last of the big supply measures, was passed. A slight protest was made against the appropriations of $500,000 for the Buffalo exposition and $160,000 for the Charleston, S. C., exposition, but finally they were included in the bill. The measure also carries $45,000 for the payment of the expenses of the last illness and death of President McKinley, that amount including the pay of the physicians.

When the appropriation of $500,000 for the Buffalo and Pan-American exposition and $160,000 for the Charleston exposition were reported Mr. Bailey of Texas protested. He insisted that if congress should meet the present demands it would be called upon to meet a still greater deficit in the St. Louis exposition. He thought it was a gross misapplication of public money.

Senators Hale, Spooner and Teller sympathized with Mr. Teller's views, but thought that the calamity which had befallen the people in Buffalo in the assassination of President McKinley had much to do with the deficiency and should be taken into consideration.

Mr. Hale believed the example of these cities would be a means of stopping the mad rush of cities for expositions. He hoped that not again in a generation would the government extend financial aid to exposition enterprises.

With the understanding that the present appropriations were not to be considered as a precedent, Mr. Bailey withdrew his objection and the amendments were agreed to.

An amendment was agreed to authorizing the secretary of the treasury to pay the unpaid expenses incurred on account of the last illness and death of President McKinley, including compensations of physicians $45,000, provided that only such expense shall be paid as are just and reasonable, no government employe to be paid any sum for personal or professional services. The bill was passed.

RECORDS RECEIVED.

President Expected to Make Recommendations on Waller Case.

Washington: Records of the court-martial proceedings in the case of Major L. W. T. Waller of the marine corps, who was acquitted of the charge of illegally killing Filipino prisoners, was received at war department. It will be considered by Secretary Root in connection with the review of testimony and findings of the court-martial in the case of Brig. Gen. J. H. Smith.

Waller case was closed with the approval of the action of the court-martial which acquitted him, but the Smith case is still subject to the action of the president. It is generally understood the court found that the charges against Smith were not sustained.

The impression prevails that the president will improve the opportunity to express his ideas on the subject of the conduct of military affairs in the Philippines.

Bryan Would Not Have Attended the Tilden Club Banquet.

Lincoln, Neb.: W. J. BRYAN DECLINED

He Refused the Democratic and Populist Nominations

FOR NEBRASKA GOVERNORSHIP

Thompson, a Democrat, Was Finally Chosen to Head the Ticket, and Populists Select Other Nominees.

Grand Island, Neb., June 26.—Fusion was accomplished by the Democratic and Populist state conventions Wednesday when both bodies unanimously nominated W. T. Thompson of Grand Island, a Democrat, for governor.

The nomination came after a long and hard-fought battle. Each of the conventions had selected a nominee for governor during Tuesday night, the Populists naming M. F. Harrington of Holt county and the Democrats selecting T. J. Smith of Omaha. Both conventions began to ballot on these names and entered into the deadlock which lasted until 5 o'clock Wednesday morning. At that hour W. J. Bryan was nominated by the Populists and the Democratic convention notified.

Mr. Smyth appeared before the Democratic convention and announced that fusion with himself as a nominee seemed impossible and offering to withdraw. At the same time Mr. Harrington announced his withdrawal.

Mr. Bryan thanked the convention for the honor, but said he could not accept the nomination for reasons already known to the public. He made a plea for harmony, and for fusion.

After discussing a mode of procedure, another ballot was ordered. Five out of six counties called cast their vote for Harrington, the Populist choice, when that gentleman appeared to say that he had positively withdrawn and asked the convention to nominate W. H. Thompson.

The suggestion was acted on with unanimouse consent, and Thompson was borne to the platform on the shoulders of a number of other delegates. The Democratic convention took a recess for breakfast. This action was made known to the Populist convention, which took its seventh ballot, Thompson leading with 284 votes. The convention then took recess until 9 o'clock.

When the convention reconvened the first ballot taken by the Populists resulted in the nomination of Gen. P. M. Barry. The Democratic convention was notified of this action and the two bodies were again in deadlock balloting on Thompson and Barry.

The nomination of Thompson by the Populists came on the tenth ballot, when he received two-thirds of the votes cast. The nomination was made unanimous. Thompson has already been nominated by the Democrats, and the action of the Populist convention completed the nomination.

The conference got to work on the rest of the ticket. The Populists were given first choice of the remainder of the candidates.

CONFESSED HIS CRIME.

Body was Hanged to a Tree and Then Riddled With Bullets.

Laurel, Miss.: Wiley Campbell, a mulatto who attempted an assault on Miss Alice Barefield near Cocoa, Ala., was captured, taken to the scene of his crime and fully identified by the young lady, whose throat he had badly gashed with a knife, and also by her mother, who was knocked down and dangerously injured.

The nego voluntarily confessed his crime, stating that it was his intention to kill both the young lady and her mother had he not been frightened off by a dog. Immediately after the confession the negro was hanged to a tree and his body riddled with bullets. The crowd of 600 men then quietly dispersed.

Engagements Cancelled.

London: Joseph H. Choate, the United States ambassador, has withdrawn the invitations to the dinner to have been given June 29, and Whitelaw Reid, the United States special ambassador, has canceled his engagements.

Mr. Reid has determined to close up the special embassy as quickly as compatible with decorum. He will go to continent for a short stay and may possibly visit Scotland.

Russia Gets Manchuria.

London: In a dispatch from Pekin the correspondent there of the Daily Mail says he hears upon the highest authority in the recent mining and railway concessions with Russia a clause exists under with China virtually renounces all claims to sovereignty in Manchuria.

DEFICIENCY BILL.

The Measures Carries over Eight Million of Dollars.

Washington: Senate committee on appropriations concluded consideration of the general deficiency appropriation bill, the last of the appropriation bills to be passed on. The amendments recommended by the senate increase the aggregate appropriations made by the bill $3,463,526, making a grand total of $8,408,910 carried by the bill. Only a few unimportant provisions inserted by the house were eliminated.

Among the largest items of increase are $1,000,000 to reimburse Hawaii for destruction of property for the suppression of the bubonic plague in 1899 and 1900; $500,000 for the reimbursement of John C. Milburn of Buffalo, N. Y., for payments made to labor on account of the Buffalo Pan-American exposition and $499,416 for payment of Indian depredation claims judgments.

CIRCLE SQUARER DEAD.

Edwin J. Goodwin, its Advocate, Passes Away in Indiana.

Mount Vernon, Ind.: Dr. Edwin J. Goodwin, of Springfield, Posey county, died at his residence, aged 77 years. The doctor was probably one of the most interesting and unique characters in Indiana, and during the World's fair at Chicago attracted considerable attention among mathematicians through the Goodwin principle of squaring a circle. He personally placed his principle before the leading educators of Europe and America, but it was not generally accepted, and this disappointment hastened his death. The savings of a lifetime were spent in a vain effort to have his theory adopted.

HORRIBLE HONEYMOON.

Two Weeks of Marital Misery Ends with Murder and Suicide.

New York: David S. Burnside, 24 years old, residing in Brooklyn, shot and killed his wife, Lillian, aged 22 years, in a concert saloon on the Bowery at Coney Island, and then fired a bullet into his own head, with fatal effect.

The couple had been married two weeks, but failed to agree, and on Saturday last after a quarrel the young wife left her home and went to Coney Island. Burnside succeeded in locating her there, and pleaded with her to return home. She refused and the shooting followed.

Cotton Burns.

Anniston, Ala.: Eleven hundred bales of cotton were either burned or ruined by smoke and water Wednesday afternoon in a large warehouse on the Southern railway. The building was partially saved, though it is thought the loss to the cotton will be total.

Sanders, Swann & Co. and the Woodstock Cotton mill were the principal losers. A warehouse belonging to A. L. Tyler was damaged $200.

Honored by Harvard.

Cambridge, Mass.: Commencement at Harvard university was of unusual interest because of the presence of President Roosevelt, class of 1880, who received honorary degree of LL.D. There were other notable guests who also received the degree, including Rev. Edward Everett Hale, D.D., of Boston, and many graduates who have brought honor to their university. Hon. John D. Long, president of Alumni association, presided at banquet.

Another Suit.

Tyler, Tex.: J. P. Patterson, through his attorneys, has filed suit against the Tyler Southwestern and St. Louis Southwestern railroads for a breach of contract, and alleging damages in the sum of $114,175.

This suit grows out of the alleged abandonment of the Tyler Southwestern railroad of its general offices, freight and passenger depots, roundhouses, machine shops, etc. The suit was filed in the district court here Tuesday.

Carries Sixty Millions.

Washington: The agreement on the sundry civil appropriation bill which was concurred in by the house strikes out $574,350 of the senate amendments which remained in dispute after the last conference.

A favorable agreement was reached appropriating $2,000,000 for the construction of buildings for an enlargement of military posts at Hawaii.

The bill as finally agreed to carries $60,125,359.

Registry of Stock.

Austin, Tex.: The Texas and Louisiana Railway company has filed application with the railroad commission for the issuance of an order directing the secretary of state to register certain certificates of stock.

OPERATE ON KING

Condition of the British Sovereign Rendered it Necessary.

CORONATION WAS POSTPONED

His Majesty Said Before the Physicians Had Decided Upon This Course that He Was Ready to be Crowned.

London, June 25.—With dramatic suddenness the king was stricken down upon the eve of his coronation. In spite of the intensity of this tragic interuption, the lower element of London were "mafficking" through the wall decked streets and a portion of society in coronation gowns and jewels had gathered at what is called a gala coronation dinner at one of the fashionable hotels.

The king's doctors believe that his majesty would have been dead except for the operation. His condition became so alarming Monday night that at one time it was feared death might ensue before the surgeon's knife could afford him relief. Intense swelling of the extremities, accompanied by alarming symptoms of mortification constituted the emergency which demanded an imediate operation. To the last the king tried to avoid this, and was willing to be carried to the abbey for the coronation ceremony in order that it should occur as arranged. The influence of Queen Alexandra was enlisted, however, and at an early hour Tuesday morning the royal patient was prepared for the operation which, even in the skilful hands of England's best surgeons, was fraught with grave dangers.

The sudden announcement of the postponement of the coronation, just on the eve of the ceremony, caused the utmost consternation everywhere. The news spread like wildfire. The tens of thousands of occupants of the streets stood still under the sudden shock and gazed at one another in silent dread of what might come next.

CABLES CONDOLENCE.

President Roosevelt Extends Sympathy of the United States.

Washington: A cablegram from Ambassador Choate at London to the state department received Tuesday morning said that the coronation has been postponed indefinitely on acount of the indisposition of the king. The message was taken to the president by Acting Secretary of State Hill, and the former laid it before the cabinet.

The members of the cabinet exchanged expressions of deep regret over the unfortunate turn of affairs, and the president, just before leaving for the railroad station, sent the following message to King Edward:

"His Majesty, Edward VII., London: I ask your majesty to accept my sincere assurances of sympathy and wishes for spedy convalescence.

"THEODORE ROOSEVELT."

NATURE OF DISEASE.

Dr. Edson of New York Describes Symptoms of Ailment.

New York: Dr. Cyrus Edson explained King Edward's illness and the operation as follows:

"Perityphilitis is inflammation, including the formation of an abscess of the tissues around the vermiform appendix, nad hence perityphilitis is hard to distinguish at once from appendicitis. Usually an operation is necessary to ascertain whether the appendix or the surrounding tissue is diseased.

"In the king's case there is probably an abscess at the head of the large intestine where the appendix begins, and the operation Tuesday was an immediate necessity because the abscess had to be gotten at and emptied of its contents and pus.

"Under ordinary circumstances the king ought to recover in three or four weeks, but after recovery it would perhaps be four weeks more before he would be able to perform his part in the coronation ceremony.

"The king's trouble is in his right side, low down."

Coeducation Opposed.

Chicago: Separate instruction of the sexes in the first two years of college work was again recommended by the faculty of the junior college of the University of Chicago, despite the disapproving vote of the university congregation in its meeting of a week ago.

Lynch Remanded Again.

London: At Bow Street police court after the taking of brief and unimportant evidence of Col. Arthur Lynch, member of parliament-elect for Galway and formerly of the Boer army, who is charged with high treason, was again remanded until July 1.

BALL ON PHILIPPINES.

The Texas Congressman Makes a Notable Speech in the House.

Washington: Two notable speeches marked the closing of the general debate on the Philippine government bill. These were made by Mr. Landis of Indiana (Republican) and Mr. Williams of Mississippi (Democrat). The other speakers were: Messrs. Ball of Texas, Jones of Virginia, Shafroth of Colorado and Crumpacker of Indiana. The latter closed the general debate for the bill with a strong speech.

Mr. Ball of Texas, the first speaker on the Philippine civil government bill, made a general onslaught upon the Republican policy. Taking Pecksniff as his text, he charged the president and administration with hypocrisy.

"If the president would dissolve the firm of Havemeyer, Root, Wood, Thurber & Co., and strike a blow at the sugar trust by agreeing to accept the house uban reciprocity bill," he said, "the bill would pass the senate by the aid of a solid Democratic vote in twenty-four hours."

The responsibility for the failure to do our duty in Cuba, he insisted, rested on the president. Turning to the question of trusts, he also charged the administration with hypocrisy upon that subject.

"What is your remedy for trusts?" asked Mr. Littlefield of Maine.

"To place all trust-made products on the free list," responded Mr. Ball. "To deny trusts the power of interstate transportation and the use of the mails and to inaugurate an administration which will resort to penal statutes and not to injunctions in the prosecution of trusts." (Democratic applause.)

In charging the Democrats with assailing the army in the Philippines, Mr. Ball charged that the Republicans were hypocritical.

"Like hyenas," said he, "you go down into the grave to slander the armies of the south and of the north to make the Americans believe the soldiers of both armies were guilty of the sort of atrocities that occurred in the Philippines. I denounce your statements as calumnies and slanders upon both armies. (Democratic applause.)

Mr. Landis of Indiana, who followed Mr. Ball made an earnest speech in support of the policy of retaining the Philippine islands.

For Forest Reserve.

Washington: The senate Tuesday passed bills creating a national forest reserve in the southern Appalachian mountains and ratifying the agreement between the Choctaw and Chickasaw Indians of the Indian Territory and the United States.

The first bill provides for the purchase of 4,000,000 acres in the south Appalachian system at a cost not to exceed $10,000,000. The secretary of agriculture is to designate the lands to be purchased.

Will Not Build.

Vinita, I. T.: The Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railroad company has abandoned its Wybark extension for the present and the contractors are shipping their mules back to Louisiana.

The trouble is that the farmers who have crops in will not sell their cotton or allow the cotton and corn to be plowed up. The Katy did not proceed under the new law which allowed the Ozark and Cherokee Central to secure a right of way in short order.

Fell From Horse.

New York: Mrs. William Seward Webb, daughter of the late William H. Vanderbilt, has been severely injured by a fall from her horse, says a Burlington, Vt., dispatch.

The animal shied while Mrs. Webb was riding near Shelburne Farms with a party of friends. The rider was thrown to the ground and was unconscious several hours. After an examination, doctors from Burlington announced that the injuries were not serious.

Killed by Electric Shock.

New York: Mrs. J. D. Anderson has met death at Croton, N. Y., in a peculiar manner. She was walking through her husband's store, carrying a pan of cherries when she stopped and raised her hand to turn on an electric lamp, and to steady herself, is supposed to have rested the pan against an iron railing about the counter.

The light current was accidentally grounded and she received a shock of 1800 volts, causing instant death.

King Albert Buried.

Dresden, Saxony: The funeral of King Albert of Saxony, who died June 19, which took place here Tuesday afternoon, was most impressive. The Catholic Court church, where the funeral service was held, was draped in black. The coffin of the king was covered with a red satin pall, and around it a vigil has been kept by Saxon officers and dignitaries of the Saxon court since it was conveyed to the church last Saturday.

OVER THE COUNTRY.

CARLTON.

Regular Correspondence.

July 2nd.—We have had the heaviest rain that we have had for years here Saturday evening and another good rain Sunday night, insuring us plenty of moisture for a month.

J. B. Mason left here Thursday for Stephenville to attend the normal.

People generally speaking are in good spirits here notwithstanding the failure of corn.

The infant baby of Prof. J. B. Jones and wife was buried here last Thursday. The parents have our sincere sympathy.

Cotton is apt to make a fine yield yet. The prospects for vegetables are good and we are very likely to have plenty in a very short time.

Rev. Huckabee, a Holiness preacher, commenced a meeting here last Thursday and his services are being attended by large crowds. There are quite a number of camps.

Nearly everybody is planting sorghum and a little Kansas corn here. Those in this community who planted this variety of corn at first and planted it early will make enough corn to do them.

The Masons had installation of officers here last Tuesday evening and invited their wives and children and treated them to ice cream and lemonade after the business was over. It is reported to have been a very enjoyable affair.

Need More Help.

Often the over-taxed organs of digestion cry out for help by dyspepsia's pains, nausea, dizziness, headaches, liver complaints, bowel disorders. Such troubles call for prompt use of Dr. King's New Life Pills. They are gentle, thorough and guaranteed to cure. 25c at Overton Drug Co.

LOWELL.

Regular Correspondence.

July 1st.—After an absence of some six months, we ask to again join the Progress corps of correspondents. We left Collin county last Wednesday; left it dry and hot.

M. Bailey and lady will start for Oklahoma Monday.

We received a light shower of rain Sunday night.

Arthur Wilkes came in this week from Wright, Texas.

Walter Thompson was over from Desdemona Sunday.

G. M. Crenshaw and Willie Chisum were here Sunday.

J. O. Hilliard and the Misses Kings visited Triangle Sunday.

Bud Britton and lady of Topaz were visiting near here Sunday.

J. T. Christian is a candidate for justice of the peace in precinct No. 8.

The Baptist denomination have erected a nice church since we were here.

T. J. Fair and "Uncle" John Hurt are contemplating selling out and removing farther west.

J. J. Wilkes came in from Fisher county recently and reports things in good condition there.

This scribe attended Children's Day at Victor last Sunday. They had a splended program which the little folks rendered with credit.

We regret to note the death of Miss Fannie Watson, who moved from Lowell to the Plaines some time ago.

Alvin Daniels of Desdemonia, an enterprising merchant of that place, was hauling goods from Dublin Friday.

Robert Griffin has sold his shop here and has purchased a half interest in the business of J. M. Fair at Desdemona. John Vandiver is the Lowell blacksmith now.

We find our friend and fellow townsman J. W. Monday has recently been married to Miss Clara Green. Pretty dry weather to get married but we wish them a pleasant journey over the matrimonial sea.

The Same Old Story.

J. A. Kelly relates an experience similar to that which has happened in almost every neighborhood in the United States and has been told and re-told by thousands of others. He says: "Last summer I had an attack of dysentary and purchased a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera & Diarrhoea Remedy, which I used according to directions and with entirely satisfactory results. The trouble was controlled much quicker than former attacks when I used other remedies." J. A. Kelly is a well known citizen of Henderson, N. C. For sale by Overton Drug Co.

PROCTOR.

From the Exponent,

June 30th.—We had a fine rain Saturday evening and another Sunday night, which have given us a fine season and the farmers are all in excellent spirits. The rain, no doubt, will be a great benefit to the corn crop in maturing the late corn and preventing the old corn from shrinking. Cotton is doing fine. It will insure a fruit crop and will benefit potatoes and peas.

Miss Julia Luker has returned home from school.

Miss Cora Carter's school at Carlton is out and she is again at home.

Miss Hattie Knox of Gustine has been teaching music in our town for some time.

J. G. Luker has bought the Crider homestead and become a citizen of our town. We give him and his family a hearty welcome.

Misses Hattie Jernigan and Gussie Miller of May are visiting Miss Cora Carter at the Methodist parsonage. The young gentlemen of the city are getting up a social party in their honor.

The Woodmen are going to have a picnic and public speaking on the 10th of July and the public generally is invited to bring a well filled basket and join them in the festivities and enjoyments of the occasion.

Prof. Plummer, who was employed as superintendent of the Proctor school for the ensuing scholastic year has sent his resignation to the trustees and has secured a position in one of the schools at Ft. Worth. Our people regret to lose him. He is a clever young man and gave general satisfaction among the patrons last year. I do not know whether our trustees have any one in view to fill his place or not.

DE LEON.

From The Free Press.

June 27th.—Henry Dossett made a trip to Dublin Saturday.

Jno. R. Richmond passed through here Saturday from Dublin for a two weeks trip to Stamford.

Miss Allie Ashford of Dublin visited her friend Miss Nora Higginbotham the first of the week.

Misses Louise and Nine Higginbotham have returned to their home at Dublin after a visit with Miss Nora Higginbotham here.

Richard Love and Miss Annie Drake were quietly married last Tuesday evening at the residence of the bride's sister, Mrs. L. L. Thomas.

Dr. A. C. Martin and wife of Lingleville, accompanied by Mrs. E. E. Dabney of this place, have left for Mineral Wells in the interest of the doctor's health.

R. T. Holmes and lady came in the first of the week from Dublin, bringing with them the body of their three-year-old child, which was buried in the De Leon cemetery, Rev. L. B. Owen preforming the funeral service.

Miss Eugenia Boone returned Saturday to her home in Dublin. She has been teaching music here for the past nine months and we are informed will attend a music conservatory at Dallas and return to her classes here this fall.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address

STEPHENVILLE.

From the Empire.

June 26th.—The roof and tower of the jail building have received a a long needed fresh coat of paint and the appearance is considerably improved.

Mrs. Frank Mahan and children of Walnut Springs are visiting the family of her father, E. W. Wingo of the Corinth community.

County Attorney Dick Oxford has returned from a stay at the hospital at Ft. Worth, where he submitted to an operation of a very painful and serious nature. Two pieces of bone had to be removed from his nose, which were blocking his breathing and otherwise painful and mischievous. The operation was a successful one. His little boy was suffering from a like trouble and had to undergo a similar operation.

Don't Fail to Try This.

Whenever an honest trial is given to Electric Bitters for any trouble it is recommended for a permanent cure will surely be effected. It never fails to tone the stomach, regulate the kidneys and bowels, stimulate the liver, invigorate the nerves and purify the blood. It's a wonderful tonic for run-down systems. Electric Bitters positively cures kidney and liver troubles, stomach disorders, nervousness, sleeplessness, rheumatism, neuralgia and expells malaria. Satisfaction guaranteed by Overton Drug Co. Only fifty cents.

HARBIN.

Regular Correspondence.

June 30th—Dr. Goodner, in his advise to the young has well said, "He that tooteth not his own horn, the same shall not be tooted." And how true this has been in the history of our little city. Not one complimentary word has been published about her since the "days of plenty," when your scribe blew forth the notes of praise. Now that the famine has partially been broken and the city has authorized the correspondent to begin operation again, we do not intend to cease until we have convinced politicians that Harbin is the center of the wind. Yet we do not wish to detract honor from other "windy" places, and we wish to state further that we are glad Carlton has voted out whisky for her breath was so hot here the past two weeks that the corn and vegetables have "bowed their heads" beneath the sturdy stroke. Perhaps now Carlton will cool off and her hot winds will turn in another direction.

Our new section foreman came in this morning with his bride. We extend congratulations.

A. J. Robertson of our community, will teach a singing normal at Alexander. The first lesson will be given tonight.

Prof. Eddie Morton, who will teach at Clarkson next term, left here this morning for Stephenville to attend the normal.

Lottie Clingan, a druggist of Arlington, who has been visiting his father for some time and who has been very sick, returned to his business this morning.

Only a few farmers will make enough corn to supply their own needs; others will make stalks and all will harvest a good supply of "blues."

Since our last correspondence Dr. Goodner has sold his farm near here. Jacob Bishop has also sold his property here to J. R. Raney. Mr. Raney has sold his dwelling to W. P. Bishop and Mr. Bishop sold his dwelling to Mr. Raney, after which we had a general moving.

WILSON.

Regular Correspondence.

July 1st.—Farmers are rejoicing over the rains of Saturday and Sunday nights.

Dr. J. C. Wasson made a business trip to Dublin Monday.

Rev. Lee Gilbreath and T. E. Wright of Dublin spent Sunday in our little burg.

Miss May Smoot of Live Oak and her friend Miss Graham of Comanche were visitors at Wilson Sunday.

Everybody is invited to attend the picnic here on the 10th, especially the farmers, as our Grange is a farmer's institution.

Several of our farmers are planting corn this week. Some are planting the Northern and some the Mexican June corn.

Aleck Nash, one of our most respected citizens, died Monday of cancer of the face. His remains were interred at the Honey Creek cemetery.

The attendance at the all-day singing at this place was not as large as was expected on account of a misunderstanding with some as to whether it was to have been held.

Quite a storm visited Wilson last Saturday. The drug store building of Tom White was blown from its foundation and quite a lot of his drug stock broken, the total loss of which is estimated at from $200 to $300. Our Union church was loosed from its foundation, as also the residence of John Evans and several out building were blown down.

Repulsive Features.

Blackheads, pimples, greasy face and muddy complexions, which are so common among women, especially girls at a certain age, destroying beauty, disfiguring and making repulsive features which would otherwise appear attractive and refined indicate that the liver is out of order. An occasional dose of Herbine will cleanse the bowels, regulate the liver and so establish a clear, healthy complexion. 50c at Overton Drug Co.

The Best Liniment for Strains.

F. H. Wells, the merchant at Deer Park, Long Island, N.
