Davis Mountains Get Season's First Snow

By The Associated Press

The first snow of the season fell in far West Texas Wednesday as heavy rains flooded creeks and closed schools in the southern part of the state.

Snow covered the ground at Fort Davis and some sleet was reported on mountain roads. Snow fell at Alpine and Marfa where the thermometer hovered at 32 degrees.

The early-season snow and the rains were the result of a low pressure system in northern Mexico. The rains Wednesday were spreading northward and eastward over the state and continued cloudy, cool and wet weather was predicted.

The heaviest rainfall reported was at Hobson, a small town 4 miles north of Karnes City, where 6 inches were received within 36 hours.

At Poth, about 30 miles south of San Antonio, where 5 inches fell, Supt. of Schools Jack Lane ordered all schools closed. He said roads are flooded and small creeks are out of their banks making it impossible for many students to get to schools.

Small craft warnings were issued for the Texas coast from Brownsville eastward to Florida as northeasterly winds of 20 to 30 miles an hour raked the area.

Rains were falling Wednesday at most points south of a line running from Houston through College Station, Waco, Abilene and Lubbock and westward to El Paso.

Early morning minimum temperature readings ran from 37 degrees at Van Horn to 54 at Galveston and Houston.

Van Horn also had the lowest maximum reading—47 degrees—Tuesday afternoon. The highest was 65 degrees, recorded at Mineral Wells and Brownsville.

Rainfall totals for the 24-hour period ending at 6 a.m. Wednesday included Laredo 1.31 inches, Austin 1.06, Victoria .95, Wink .93, Corpus Christi .92, Kingsville .89, Beeville .89, San Antonio .85, Cotulla and Junction .70, Houston .53, and lesser amounts at many points in South and West Texas.

Although rains continued in South Texas, the Rio Grande fell below flood stage Wednesday for the first time since Oct. 13. The river, which had flooded farmlands and sent thousands scurrying from their homes, continued to fall at points between Rio Grande City and the Gulf.

Prisoner Who Fled In Plane To Surrender

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A San Quentin prisoner who escaped from an honor camp in a stolen airplane two years ago will surrender today, the San Francisco Chronicle says.

Gerald E. Baucum, 29, has been working as "John Frank Kelly" in Butte, Mont., at mining and truck driving, the paper continued.

"I'm married now, and I want to live like a normal person," Baucum was quoted. "I owe it to my wife and to the kids we will have. I know that this is the way to do it."

Baucum and three other prisoners at Happy Camp in northern California escaped Aug. 31, 1956. They stole a private plane from an airstrip near Happy Camp, and Baucum flew it to Medford, Ore. The others were captured within a month.

Baucum made his way to Butte and married a girl there. They are expecting a child.

The fugitive said his wife was upset when she learned about his past but agreed "it was the right thing for me to come back and get the past cleaned up."

He had served 3½ years of a five-year-to-life sentence for a San Francisco grocery holdup when he escaped and could have been paroled within a few months.

The escape will add another sentence of one year to life.

"I'm going into this with my eyes open," Baucum said. . . "When I get out I will be a free man, and I can start a new life without being afraid to look at myself in the mirror."

When the escaper decided to give himself up, he went to his father, John Baucum, owner of a television and radio repair shop in John Day, Ore. Then the two consulted San Francisco attorney Harold W. Tobin about surrendering.

The Chronicle did not say how it contacted the fugitive but it did print a picture of him with his father and a San Francisco attorney.

Hopes Fading For Disarmament Pact

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. officials saw little hope today for any early agreement between the Soviet Union and the Western powers for a start on disarmament in the nuclear age.

They blame the darkening prospect on evidences that the Soviet Union is following a generally tougher line in its relations with the West.

Secretary of State Dulles says this may be due in some degree to a possible realization among Soviet leaders that despite remarkable scientific achievements the Soviet Union is still behind the United States in the nuclear weapons race in important respects.

Two negotiations are imminent. On Friday the United States, Britain and the Soviet Union will open diplomatic talks at Geneva on a possible ban on nuclear weapons testing, to be backed up by a worldwide international inspection system to prevent violations.

Ten days later panels of Communist state and Western experts will start discussions on the technical problems involved in preventing surprise attack — such things as ground and aerial inspection systems which would be capable of discovering concentrations of troops and weapons in advance of a massive assault.

President Eisenhower had proposed last summer that beginning with the opening of the Geneva nuclear test talks the world's atomic powers — the United States, Britain and the Soviet Union — should suspend tests for a year beginning Oct. 31. If progress on inspection installations was made during that year the suspension would be renewed.

In New York Monday night, a Soviet spokesman told the United Nations that his government would not agree to the one-year test suspension. The proposal was attacked again Tuesday, with the Soviet Union renewing a call for immediate, unconditional agreement to end testing.

The Soviet Union itself had announced a halt in testing last March, but resumed testing in September after the United States and Britain carried out planned test series in the summer.

Dulles told a news conference Tuesday that if the Soviets continue testing after Friday, the United States will make plans to resume experimental explosions although the Geneva negotiations will continue.

Soviet rejection of the suspension proposal, he said, "dims the chances of success" at the Geneva nuclear talks. Similarly, he declared that the Soviet attitude on this issue also casts doubt upon the success of the scheduled talks on ways of preventing surprise attack.

The loss of hope does not mean, Dulles said, that the United States as well as other Western countries will not keep on trying for agreement. He followed up this point in a speech in New York Tuesday night. He discussed there a U.S.-Canadian proposal for an arctic inspection system, which the Soviets turned down in the U.N. Security Council.

In this case, he said, the conclusion must be drawn that the Soviet Union "has aggressive dispositions in this area which it desires to conceal."

"But our peaceful preference is clear," he added. "Whenever the Soviet Union wants to know what our arctic dispositions, so that it cannot be taken by surprise, or act on what might be miscalculations, it can have that knowledge, provided only it is willing to reciprocate."

UPSETS HOLD NO FEAR FOR CONTEST WINNER

Mrs. Ronald Z. Bratton, 606 Twenty-ninth Street, has no fear of upsets on the football field. She simply sorts them out and then watches them come through.

Mrs. Bratton's uncanny perception earned her the $10 first prize in last week's Snyder Daily News football contest. She missed only five of 28 selections in the biggest "upset" weekend of the season, and three of the "misses" actually were ties. She tripped up on Texas A&M's victory over Baylor and California's triumph over Oregon. The ties were Army-Pitt, Snyder-Colorado City and Wisconsin-Ohio State.

Mrs. Bratton picked correctly such games as Rice over Texas, Purdue over Notre Dame and North Texas State over Tulsa.

There was a tie for second place, which means that the second prize will be carried over until next week, according to the contest rules. Deadlocked with six misses each were Mrs. Foy Parmer, Route 2, and Glenn Ward, 3200 Hill Ave.

Mrs. Parmer also called the turn on the Rice-Texas game and Purdue-Notre Dame games, but tripped on the North Texas-Tulsa game. Young Ward had Rice over Texas and California over Oregon, but miscalculated on Washington - Oregon State and Purdue-Nortre Dame.

Another contest begins today, and the list of games may be found in sponsors' advertisements in today's issue of The Snyder Daily News.

Girl Gang Reports Here Are Denied

Rumors have grown far out of proportion during the past few days that a "gang" of girls has been formed here, officials said today.

The latest version of the rumors involved a "gang" of 90 girls in Snyder, all with "switchblade" knives.

Law enforcement, juvenile, and school officials here say these rumors are incorrect.

There has been only one definite report of a girl with a knife here, according to Bill Zimmerman, county juvenile probation officer. Zimmerman said there was one report of a young girl showing a knife in a threat against a woman in a local restaurant. Apparently the knife was never opened, and it has never been learned who the girl was, Zimmerman said.

As for "gangs" Zimmerman said, he has checked out reports of such both in and out of schools here. While there are groups of boys and girls, as there always have been, there is no evidence of any organized gang here.

Bob Smith, junior high school assistant principal in charge of discipline, said the junior high is not having any disciplinary trouble out of the ordinary. The last time a girl was in his office for disciplinary reasons, he said, was about five weeks ago, and that was an individual case of playing "hooky."

Zimmerman said there does not appear to be any major increase in delinquency among girls here. Most of the juvenile cases he handles involve boys, he said.

Pope Issues Peace Plea

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John XXIII appealed to rulers of nations today to heed the world's cry for peace and to turn weapons of destruction into tools of progress.

"This is in fact the most important undertaking, mostly connected with the prosperity of all mankind," he said in his first papal broadcast.

"Put yourselves, therefore, to the task with confident courage, under the reflection of the light that comes from on high, and with divine assistance turn your gaze to the people who are entrusted to you and listen to their voice."

The new pontiff of the Roman Catholic Church broadcast his appeal from the Sistine Chapel where less than 20 hours earlier he was named successor to Pope Pius XII.

His call was in the tradition of Pius XII, who in his 19-year reign became known as the "Pope of Peace."

The 76-year-old Pope — until Tuesday Angelo Giuseppe Cardinal Roncalli, patriarch of Venice —spoke in Latin for 20 minutes in a firm, powerful voice.

He prayed to God for strength in his new task and asked the Virgin Mary for assistance. A few minutes before his broadcast he received the homage of 51 cardinals gathered in the chapel.

He devoted the first parts of his talk to the tasks of the church. He implored celestial grace for the clergy and faithful in countries where the Catholic religion has no freedom or enjoys it only in part, a reference to Communist lands.

Then he said:

Let us now be permitted to direct our appeal to the leaders of all nations in whose hands are placed the fate, the prosperity, the hopes of the individual peoples.

"Why should not discords and disagreements be finally composed equitably? Why should not the resources and the ingenuity of man and the riches of the peoples, used frequently to prepare arms—pernicious instruments of death and destruction — be used to increase the well-being of all classes of citizens, particularly of the needy?

House Burns At Dermott

A four-room house at Dermott was destroyed by fire shortly before midnight last night, D. A. Porter, fire chief, said.

The house was owned by the Santa Fe Railroad Co., and was occupied by the Joe Martinez family.

Porter said that the house was almost completely destroyed when fire trucks from Snyder arrived.

"We received the alarm call at about 11:45," he said, adding that Martinez said when calling in the alarm, "I've got to get out of here, its getting hot."

The alarm was called in from a telephone in the house.

TRICK OR TREAT NIGHT SET HERE FOR THURSDAY

Tomorrow night has been declared Trick-or-Treat night in Snyder, and Friday night has been declared "beat Sweetwater" night by Harold Bennett, mayor.

Bennett said that the conflict of dates, and the fact that the schools have scheduled their Halloween activities for tomorrow night prompted the action.

PROCLAMATION

Friday night, October 31, being an important date in the lives of the tiny tots of Snyder, and that night also being an important night for all of the citizens of Snyder, it is hereby proclaimed that Thursday night, October 30th, shall be trick or treat night for the tiny tots of Snyder and Friday night October 1, shall be the night for all citizens of Snyder to journey to Sweetwater to watch the Tigers defeat the Sweetwater Mustangs.

Therefore, all citizens should stock up with plenty of treats for the tiny tots for Thursday night, October 30, and the citizens of Snyder with plenty of enthusiasm for the Tigers for the night of October 31st. Let the word be "Beat Sweetwater."

Mayor of Snyder

Pasternak Won't Take Nobel Prize

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — Soviet Author Boris Pasternak today refused to accept the Nobel Prize for Literature. He referred to "the society I live in."

Pasternak sent a cable to Dr. Anders Oesterling, permanent secretary of the Royal Swedish Academy, which awards the literary Nobel prizes.

"Because of the meaning attributed to this award in the society I live in, I ought to say no thanks to the undeserved prize awarded me," Pasternak said. "Do not take my voluntary refusal with any ill will."

Oestering received a cable from Pasternak Saturday expressing his gratitude at the Nobel award.

That cable read: "Immensely thankful, touched, proud, astonished, abashed."

Today's cable indicated that in the meantime something had happened to Pasternak to change his mind. The author of the novel "Doctor Zhivago", which is critical of communism, has been under rigorous attack in the Soviet press.

Pasternak was named for the award last week. The Soviet press asserted the selection was an anti-Soviet political maneuver.

Pravda, the official Communist party paper, heaped abuse on Pasternak and "Doctor Zhivago." It said he should reject the $41,420 cash prize if there were "a spark of Soviet dignity left in him."

The Nobel Prize Committee presented the Russians with a dilemma. It awarded the Prize in Physics Tuesday to three top-ranking Soviet scientists — P. A. Cherenkov, I. M. Frank and Igor E. Tamm. The question was: would the Soviets let the scientists accept the physics award and at the same time keep Pasternak home?

The answer appeared in the Soviet press in Moscow today. The Russians were setting up a double standard on the Nobel prizes.

It said the physics award was fitting but at the same time it said it proved that the award for literature was dictated by "reactionary political aims."

Johnson Raps Oil Industry 'Pie-Slicing'

DALLAS (AP)—Senate Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson says the oil industry should stop trying to obtain pie-slicing solutions to its problems.

Independent oilmen and importers, he said, are seeking a position of favored status from the government so they can compete in world markets against national state monopolies of other lands.

"If either the independents or the importers were to prevail, the result would be to accept federal domination in exchange for federal favor, Johnson said in an unscheduled speech to the convention of the Independent Petroleum Assn. of America yesterday.

"This pie-cutting approach to the oil import problem will never cure or relieve anything," he continued. "To slice a pie it is necessary to hold the pie plate and if the government is going to do the slicing, government is going to do the holding also. Your need, your greatest single need, is to end this go-it-alone approach to your problems."

He advised the oilmen to seek a new approach to their problems on such fundamentals as national security, national policy and the nation's future.

At its session yesterday the convention adopted a resolution directing its officers to continue efforts to remove federal controls from natural gas wellhead prices. The resolution did not endorse any specific proposal nor refer to any of the recent controversial natural gas bills.

In another resolution the convention asked the federal government to broaden the imports curtailment program by including all petroleum products.

Bodies Of Last Mine Blast Victims Brought To Surface

By CHARLES R. LEWIS

SUMMERSVILLE, W. Va. (AP) —Rescuers brought out the last of 13 bodies from the blast-shattered workings of a southeastern West Virginia coal mine early today.

Four other men who miraculously escaped death after being trapped underground were hospitalized in Richwood.

Tuesday was the second straight day for tragedy to strike the coal fields.

Only the day before, 22 men were killed in an explosion at the Bishop, Va., mine of the Pocahontas Fuel Co. on the Virginia-West Virginia border.

Tuesday's blast centered a mile and a half deep in the Burton mine of the Oglebay-Norton Co., a Cleveland-based mining, marketing, ore and shipping concern between here and Richwood.

Fifty-four men were at work underground, but 37 were working on the surface-side of the explosion and scurried to safety without injury.

The Burton operation is a slope mine, bored into the side of Curtin Mountain. It is located in a barely accessible hollow on the banks of the small Gauley River in Nicholas County.

The first of four men rescued reached the surface on his own feet, leaning on the shoulders of his rescuers, some four hours after the blast. He was Artie Humphreys of Craigsville.

Three others, two of them horribly burned, were brought out on stretchers.

In critical condition were Paul Davis, Craigsville, and William Tucker, Persinger, less seriously burned was Okey Donaldson, Summersville.

Among the dead were mine Supt. O. C. Gates and Asst. Supt. Eddie Stephenson, both of Craigsville.

The other victims were:

Joe McVey, Owen Wyatt, Kyle Spencer, Henry Westfall and Ralph Adams, all of Craigsville; William Anderson and Harry Fletcher, both of Camden-on-Gauley; Pete Weese of Richwood; Henry Bryant of Summersville; Howard Chaffin of Fenwick, and Donald Davis of Lafrank.

State Mines Director Crawford L. Wilson said all the evidence indicated a gas ignition.

Hermleigh's Phones Ready

The Hermleigh area will begin use of dial telephones beginning at noon Friday.

Truman Black, manager here for Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., said about 150 telephones in the Hermleigh exchange area will be on the new dial system. That includes about 50 new telephones in the area, he said.

Southwestern Bell, which purchased the private Hermleigh exchange several months ago, has continued to operate it as a manuel system until it could get dial equipment installed.

Black said the first new directory for dial telephones in the Hermleigh area was mailed Monday.

School Fund Appeal Gets Good Response

LITTLE OCK, Ark. (AP) — About 9,000 letters soliciting funds for the Little Rock Private School Corp. have been sent from Gov. Orval E. Faubus' office. One of his aides said today the response is "very good."

The letters, bearing the signatures of Faubus and Dr. T. J. Raney, corporation president, solicit donations in order to "establish private schools in private facilities with private funds" in Little Rock.

The corporation does not issue regular reports on how much money it has received, but Raney said over $100,000 had been contributed through last week.

Wiggles Stir Purdue Girls

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP)—Some of the girls at Purdue University are complaining that all that wiggles is not gold.

The storm was stirred up by a hula dance by Adelaide Jeanne Darling, Purdue's new "Golden Girl," between halves of the televised Purdue-Notre Dame football game last Saturday.

"She not only walks and talks but wiggles excessively," wrote two other coeds in a letter to the Purdue Exponent, campus newspaper. "Our football team has gained fame this year by good performances. Must we accompany this glory by these halftime antics?"

The letter was signed by Julia Jackson of Chicago and Ellen Kenney of Middletown, Ohio.

Miss Darling, a freshman in home economics from Manteca, Calif., who won the "Golden Girl" competition among other baton twirlers, said:

"A hula is a hula. It seems to be what they want around here. After all, my business is to be a showman."

Small Blast Starts Busy Day Of Tests

ATOMIC TEST SITE, Nev. (AP) —What could be the busiest day in the 13 years of nuclear tests opened with an atomic bang in the wee hours today.

Detonation of a relatively small atomic weapon—first of five tests scheduled for today — lit up the dark, desert sky shortly before dawn.

The test, the oft-postponed Mazama, had power equal to not more than 1,000 tons of TNT.

Five tests, including a whopper underground blast, were scheduled in a speeded up program to beat the Friday test deadline.

If all go off, it will set a record for nuclear tests in a single day. Three in one day were the most fired previously.

Two of the shots were planned from balloons. Two were scheduled from towers, and the other —the big one—in a tunnel.

FOUR INJURED IN AUTO CHASE

Ex-Convict's Wife Shot To Death

BRENHAM, Tex. (AP)—A woman died in a hail of bullets at a liquor store near here last night. And shortly thereafter, four persons, including a sheriff and his deputy, were injured in a highway crash that climaxed a chase for her ex-convict husband.

The woman identified as Doris Mullins Leazer, 30, was killed by a rifle bullet as she and her husband fled from the liquor store about 7 miles west of here on Highway 290.

Just as her husband, Carl Douglas Leazer, 24, an ex-convict from Houston, was captured in Brenham, a deputy's car skidded broadside into an approaching automobile, injuring four persons, three seriously.

Injured were Sheriff Tieman Dippel and Deputy Sheriff Arnold Lesch and the occupants of the other car, Misses Adele Simpson and Lulu May Jackson of Burton.

The shooting occurred when O. H. Althause, owner of the liquor store, surprised the couple as they looted the store near his home. He fired half a dozen rifle shots as they fled in their car toward Brenham and then called the sheriff.

Dippel and Lesch attempted to stop the burglars' car on the highway. When it failed to halt they fired a shotgun blast at a rear tire.

Brenham police, notified by radio, took up the chase near the city limits and surrounded the burglars' car after it blew a rear tire.

As officers approached the car, they said the driver reached down and came up with a long screwdriver. They ordered him to drop it and he surrendered without resistance.

In the car they found the body of his wife, with a single 30-30 bullet in her back.

Minutes after the capture, the sheriff and his deputy, with Lesch at the wheel came over the top of a hill. To avoid striking the parked cars, Lesch said he slammed on his brakes but skidded on the wet pavement. The officers' car skidded broadside into the approaching automobile occupied by the two Negro women.

The deputy suffered a broken hip and a broken pelvis. The two women were also seriously injured. The sheriff suffered shock and possible internal injuries.

Officers said Leazer was convicted of armed robbery at Austin in 1954 and given a 5-year prison sentence. They said that as far as they knew his wife, who also used the name of Doris Geneva McVickers, had no record.

Officers said they found no weapons in the couple's car. A large quantity of liquor, identified as having been taken from Althause's store, was found in the back seat of the car.

Ike Winds Up Campaign Tour; Plans Friday Night Speech

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower, back from a three-state campaign tour, will close his drive for election of a Republican Congress with a nationwide television-radio address from Baltimore Friday night.

The President returned to the capital by plane early today after a day and half of tub-thumping for votes in West Virginia, Pennsylvania and New York.

The Baltimore address will climax what generally is regarded as the hardest hitting campaign of Eisenhower's political career.

However, he pitched his politicking on a less harsh note in New York Tuesday. He spoke at two rallies of party workers and urged election of Nelson A. Rockefeller as governor and Rep. Kenneth B. Keating to the U.S. Senate.

Rockefeller joined Keating in telling enthusiastic audiences of GOP workers that they as the ticket leaders were happy Eisenhower came to New York — and that his visit had helped them.

There had been talk that Rockefeller, a former foreign policy aide to Eisenhower, was something less than happy about having the President campaigning in the state.

Rockefeller a few days ago took what seemed to amount to a dim view of Eisenhower's new campaign technique — his attacks on the Democrats as left-wing radicals, as reckless spendthrifts, and as promoters of inflation-breeding schemes.

Shortly after the President's arrival in Manhattan, White House press secretary James C. Hagerty sought to scuttle talk of any discord.

Hagerty tagged as completely false reports that the GOP state organization — and Rockefeller specifically — had urged against Eisenhower's making any major political speech in New York. The press secretary said the Republican National Committee had decided that the President's top campaign address in the East should be in Pittsburgh, where he spoke Monday evening, in his home state of Pennsylvania.

There were 300 to 400 campaign workers on hand as planned at each of the two party rallies at which Eisenhower did speak in New York. He hit out at the Democrats again, but not nearly so sharply as he did in Pennsylvania and West Virginia—and in California and Chicago last week.

In New York he swatted at what he termed the dominant wing of the Democratic party. But he didn't say, as he had earlier, that the wing is made up of radicals and advocates of harebrained spending schemes. He put it this way:

"What we are fighting against is the dominant wing of the party, and it is that party which I believe does not, in its practice, in its teachings, hold to these straightforward, honest, sound and sane principles which have made America great."

At another point Eisenhower said the Republicans "believe in sane programs instead of hysterical programs."

The President concluded his New York visit by attending a National Football Foundation dinner, where he was honored for lifetime devotion to the game.

Canada To Contribute $150 Million

SEATTLE (AP)—Canada's contribution to the economic development of Colombo Plan countries in South and Southeast Asia will amount to 150 million dollars over the next three years, a Canadian official said today.

J. M. Teakles, leader of the Canadian delegation to the Colombo Plan officials' meeting now under way here, said the decision of his government will enable countries in the area "to plan ahead in the knowledge that Canadian aid is assured for that period."

In a statement, Teakles declared that Canadian assistance since 1950 when the Colombo Plan was organized totals 292 million dollars. This includes 61 million dollars in grants and loans for wheat and flour.

Canada also has sent 120 technical experts to Colombo Plan countries and accepted more than 1,000 trainees for them to learn Canadian industrial techniques and receive training in government administration.

Over and above these Colombo Plan allocations, he said, Canada has made contributions and loans in wheat and flour amounting to 10½ million dollars to Pakistan, 3 million to India and 3 million dollars to Ceylon. These contributions were designed to help meet serious food shortages.

He said an additional 35 million dollar credit has been made available for the purchase of wheat and flour to supplement regular Colombo Plan aid.

The bulk of cooperative development projects were channeled to India and Pakistan.

Tension On Quemoys Is Easing Off

By GENE KRAMER

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Chinese Communist artillery shelled Quemoy again today but there was a noticeable easing of tension over the offshore island crisis.

AP correspondent David Lancashire, on Quemoy, said the Communist artillery fired sporadically through the morning.

Wednesday was an odd-numbered day, meaning unlimited shelling under the Reds' strange announced new tactic. They said they would not fire on even-numbered days into Quemoy's landing areas and invited the Nationalists to ship in supplies then.

There were these signs of a slack in tension:

1. U.S. Navy destroyers of the Formosa Strait patrol have stopped movements inside the 12 miles of coastal waters claimed by Red China, it was learned. For the past two days, Peiping has issued none of its "serious warnings" that its 12-mile limit was being violated.

2. The chief Nationalist military spokesman, Rear Adm. Liu Hohtu, said the Communist shelling now was viewed as a nuisance bombardment to save face "because the Communists have known since the second week of their offensive (in September) that their chance to invade Quemoy was gone."

3. U.S. Secretary of State Dulles declared in Washington that Red China seems to be "trying to save themselves from a loss of face and a defeat in the effort which they initiated but had been unable to conclude successfully . . . It seems as though, at least for the moment, they do not want to raise up the level of their military effort . . ."

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market advanced vigorously in heavy early trading today.

Gains ranged from fractions to about 2 points generally.

Aircrafts joined the smaller motor issues as trading favorites. The rise affected most major sections.

The market was higher from the start. The ticker tape ran late under a series of sizable opening blocks.

The market was buoyed by a number of encouraging reports on earnings, including General Motors and U.S. Steel which, although reduced from 957, displayed an encouraging trend.

The Commerce Department reported business advancing faster than usual and construction contracts last month at a record high for September.

The market was taking off from yesterday's rise which snapped six straight declines for industrials.

Texas Income Taxes Climb Five Per Cent

DALLAS (AP) — Texans paid Uncle Sam $2,697,309,000 in taxes for fiscal 1958.

The Internal Revenue Service, in reporting this yesterday, said the total was up $129,570,000, or 5.04 per cent, over the previous 12 months.

Despite the continued gain in Texas collections, the rate of increase was smaller tha nt eh7pe S crease was smaller than the 7 per cent climb in fiscal 1957.

The 143 counties in the Dallas district yielded $1,259,739,000, up 6.38 per cent, and the Austin district, embracing the rest of the state, contributed $1,437,570,000, an increase of less than 1 per cent.

Rock 'N Roll Sets Off Riot In Germany

ESSEN, Germany (AP) — Bill Haley's rock 'n' roll music set off a third riot of West German teenagers Tuesday night.

This time 300 police were ready and broke up the riot before serious damage was done.

During an intermission in the program by Haley's American band, teen-agers wearing leather jackets and blue jeans began whistling for the star's reappearance. When he came out, they tried to storm the stage, for reasons best known to themselves.

The other riots occurred during recent Haley appearances in Hamburg and West Berlin.

American Business Club Formed Here

A Snyder chapter of the American Business Clubs was formed at a meeting held last night, and charter officers were elected.

President of the Snyder chapter is Billy Joe Brown, insurance agent. Banker Garland Rex Robinson is vice-president, and another banker, Herman Bond, is secretary-treasurer. Sergeant-at-arms is William Byers, insurance agent.

"ABC is a national civic organization with local chapters which emphasize community service and quality of membership, dedicated to the highest principles of Americanism, brotherhood and character," a member said. National project of the organization is work with cerebral palsy and the handicapped child. The organization is 36 years old.

Official chartering of the club will be held Saturday night at the Village Restaurant, when visitors from existing chapters throughout Texas and the national ABC president will be here. The chartering dinner will be at 8 p. m. Saturday for members and their wives.

Forming of the local ABC chapter is being sponsored by the Big Spring chapter, which has been active for a number of years.

C. E. Lloyd-Jones, national field secretary for ABC, has been in Snyder during the past two weeks organizing the new club. Membership in the new club is still open to those interested in belonging to a service club. They can obtain information from any of the members.

Those on the membership rolls now include, Brown, Robinson, Bond, Byers, Darrell F. Tramel, Leon Autry, Howard L. Jones, Carlos G. Mijares, Clyde L. Godwin, Preston Gowens, J. W. Pruett, James A. Sellers, Gene Thompson, Ronald J. Neighbors, Bill Morris, Wiley T. Brice, M. W. (Buster) Pilcher, and Emory Hall.

Mine Victims Are Buried

BISHOP, Va. (AP)—The heartrending task of burying victims of a mine accident began again today in this little southwestern Virginia coal town.

For the second time in 21 months, services are scheduled for miners whose lives were snuffed out in an explosion at the Bishop diggins of the Pocahontas Fuel Co.

Thirty-seven men died in a February 1957 blast here. Another explosion Monday morning claimed the lives of 22.

A possible cause of the latest explosion was given by a Pocahontas official who declined to be identified. He said a poorly placed blasting charge may have ignited gas inside the mine.

Trio Questioned In Dallas Rape Case

DALLAS (AP) — Police questioned three Negroes today about the rape of a pretty red-haired opera singer from Amarillo.

Officers said yesterday they hadn't obtained sufficient evidence to take North Texas State co-ed, 21, to view the suspects. They indicated more suspects may be picked up as the investigation continues.

The girl said she was seized at the State Fair Grounds while awaiting her boy friend Saturday night. She was one of 14 girls rehearsing for a chorus for the Dallas Civic Opera.

Rains Slow Crop Planting

WESLACO, Tex. (AP)—As a result of protracted rains, more than three-fourths of the normal winter vegetable acreage remains unplanted in the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

W. H. Friend, associate county farm agent, made the estimate yesterday.

He said rains kept the fields too muddy in September and October, when growers ordinarily plant most of the carrots, cabbage, onions and lettuce.

Although the market outlook is good, Friend said it is necessary to plant dry onions, carrots and cabbage by early November. This is to allow time for the crop to mature before hot weather and more rain, expected in late March and April.

Halloween Project To Be Held Saturday

Ghosts and goblins of Snyder are scheduling a trick - or - treat collection for overseas relief next Saturday night Nov. 1, under the sponsorship of the Snyder Ministerial Alliance and the Snyder Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Young people of the community plan to make Halloween of 1958 an occasion for sharing with hungry people overseas through CROP (Christian Rural Overseas Program). Replacing the usual trick-or-treat for candy, apples, doughnuts, etc., the young people will make house to house calls seeking contributions for the C-ROP campaign.

Proceeds will send government surplus food overseas through Church World Service to feed hungry people. Such surplus foods are supplied free of charge to approved voluntary relief agencies. Last year every $1.00 collected distributed over 300 lbs. of food to starving people in other countries. Young people of Texas collected $49,058.67 in the 1957 Halloween trick or treat campaign and hope to do much better this year.

Due to the football game Friday night the campaign will be held Saturday, which will enable everyone to have an opportunity to do their party in this worthy cause. Be sure when some one knocks on your door Saturday night you check for the official identification badge and a Gandy's milk carton that will be used for the donations. Any size donation will be appreciated, just give so others may live.

BUCKIN' THE LINE

By BUCK FRANCIS
News Sports Editor

AN EXAMPLE OF WHAT we've been referring to about Oklahoma's consistent weak schedules can be derived from what has taken place thus far this season.

Texas defeated Oklahoma, 15-14, yet the Longhorns today are rated about 15th in the nation in most polls whereas the Sooners are ranked seventh. The difference, here, to be sure, is the schedule of the two teams.

Whereas Oklahoma had a "pansy" schedule to finish out the season (with exception of the Colorado game) following her clash with Texas, the Longhorns faced a tough row of opponents.

If Texas could have finished out the Sooners' schedule, she would undoubtedly finish up as the No. 1 team in the nation because there's not a team remaining on the OU slate that could have handle the Longhorns unless it would be Colorado.

And, as long as a team is winning regardless of the caliber of opposition, it is going to be ranked high in the polls.

Because Oklahoma measured a couple of "toughies," Kansas and Kansas State, since her loss to Texas, she has been elevated from the second 10 to the No. 7 spot in the Top 10. (Kansas and Kansas State own 4 wins between them in 12 starts to date.)

Longhorns Not Having It So Easy

Texas, on the other hand, had all the Southwest Conference teams to face following the Oklahoma clash.

Rice, as you know, the 2nd team Texas has met since the OU game, drubbed the Longhorns, 34-7, thus dropping the Steers all the way out of the top 10.

The SWC will never have the "rated" No. 1 team in the nation. Even if one of the schools survive pre-conference play without losing a game, chances of continuing undefeated through the conference schedule are about a "million to one."

And you can't lose a game and get the No. 1 nod.

Abilene currently is building a new football stadium that will seat 15,100. But some of the rabid grid boosters believe the stadium should be larger so there's a campaign on now to add several hundred more seats.

Maybe the city does need a big stadium at the moment but once the city gets two high schools, a stadium of 10,000 will be sufficient.

It has been reported that a second high school in Abilene will open its doors the fall of 1960. When this happens the football stock in Abilene will drop and consequently the crowds will drop.

Lubbock Situation An Example

Take a look at the Lubbock situation. Before that city got two high schools, the Lubbock Westerners were the toast of high school football and it wasn't anything uncommon for the Westerners to draw upwards of 15,000 fans for a game.

Now, with two high schools, the grid stock has been divided and the caliber of football in Lubbock is far off from what it used to be. And this has caused a decline in grid attendance in the Hub City. Lubbock school officials nowadays are tickled to death if more than 5,000 fans show up for a schoolboy game there.

The same thing holds true for Amarillo and Odessa.

The colleges in Abilene certainly don't need a bigger stadium. Very rarely does a college game in Abilene draw more than 5,000. Even the McMurry-ACC game, a natural in Abilene, generally attracts only about 8,000.

Hardin-Simmons, possibly, might bring in a big-time foe if she had sufficient facilities to make a sizeable guarantee. The Cowboys have been scheduling several big-time opponents the past few years but the Pokes have had to play them away from home because of the bigger guarantee these schools offer.

Before the current surge of the Abilene Eagles, the city's present stadium, Fair Park Stadium, which seats 11,000, was plenty big.

The way it looks now is that Abilene will need a big stadium for one year, 1959, providing she opens a new high school for the 1960 school term.

It's true Abilene has needed a bigger stadium the past three or four years and now that they're finally building a big park, it seems they are "closing the gate after the horse got away."

Despite Three Deaths, Grid Sport Is Safe

AUSTIN (AP)—High school football deaths now are at an all-time high, but Interscholastic League Director Rhea Williams says the boys are safer under supervised play than in unguided activity.

Williams said yesterday two high school and one junior high student were killed so far this year while playing football. He had been asked for comment about a physician's article dealing with the sport.

"We've averaged one death every other year the past 40 years," Williams said. "There was one last year and none in 1955. But statistics show that the youngsters are safer under supervised play than they are in unguided activities, such as riding motor scooters."

Writing in the Texas State Journal of Medicine, Dr. Harry Ledbetter of Wichita Falls said closer cooperation is needed between parents, coaches, team and family physicians.

"It is a known fact that most sports injuries will heal with a minimum of attention, if given [illegible]. Football does not allow such time. Each week presents its game requiring an acceleration in the treatment of these players."

Williams said no figures are available as to injuries suffered this year. He said no explanation was found for the deaths of the three youths.

"They wore proper equipment. They had proper medical examinations and we assumed they were properly coached," he said. "There's no explanation. It is one of those unfortunate things."

There were 10 deaths throughout the nation in high school football play in 1956 and the number increased to 14 last year, he said. This is an average of two deaths for every 100,000 participants, and compares to 40 deaths for 100,000 school children in the same age group charged to swimming, boating, diving, other sports and automobile accidents.

Pitt Guard Top Lineman

Associated Press Sports Writer

John Guzik, a 233-pound guard who last Saturday led a Pitt goal line stand against Army reminiscent of the stonewall defenses thrown up by the Panthers during Jock Sutherland's coaching regime, was named Lineman of the Week today by The Associated Press.

TOUGH ASSIGNMENT—These Tiger ends face a tough assignment Friday in the crucial 3-AAA game with the Sweetwater Mustangs. Defensively they will be confronted with stopping wide sweeps by a fleet set of Mustang backs while offensively they will have the big task of getting open for passes. From left to right, they are Barry Walker, Kenny Drake, Bo Brown and Stanley Woolever. Drake and Bill Dubose, not shown, are expected to start at the terminal posts Friday night. Tiger-Mustang Tickets Going Fast Here; Bonfire Tomorrow

Tiger football fans weren't letting the bad weather and the Sweetwater Mustangs scare them away this morning.

At 10 a.m. today, only one and a half hours after the tickets to Friday night's crucial game had gone on sale here, 550 tickets had been gobbled up.

Today's sale was limited only to season ticket holders but the sale will be thrown wide open tomorrow.

Despite the heavy sales this morning, school officials report that there are still plenty more tickets available and they assured that there would be some good seats left for tomorrow's purchasers.

The tickets are on sale at the Chamber of Commerce office. The sales were to have closed at 3 p. m. today and they'll be on sale tomorrow from 8:30 a.m. to 3 p. m. If there are any tickets left after tomorrow's sale, they'll be returned to Sweetwater to be placed on sale at the stadium ticket booth Friday night.

The District 3-AAA championship will be at stake Friday night when the Tigers and Mustangs battle at Sweetwater. Kickoff time for the all-important scrap will be 7:30 p.m.

Meanwhile, the Snyder High School student body is making big plans for boosting the Tigers for Friday's game. A bonfire and pep rally will be held on the eve of the game Thursday night and another pep rally will be held in Tiger Gymnasium Friday morning.

High School principal T. D. Wiman has issued an invitation to the general public to attend one or both of the rallies. Tomorrow's bonfire and rally will be held at 7 p.m. in Towle Park with Friday morning's rally will be held at 10:30.

The Tigers, despite the rain, worked outside about an hour and a half yesterday and another hour indoors. The Bengals will hold their final full-scale workout today before tapering off for the game.

Two Tigers were ailing yesterday, halfback Jimmy Allen and fullback Paul Stanley. Allen is still nursing a knee injury he suffered in the Midland game two weeks ago. The injury is failing to respond to treatment.

Stanley received an ankle injury in the Colorado City game last week. It was undetermined today whether either would be ready to play Friday night.

H-SU's Hart Leads Border

Pete Hart of Hardin-Simmons holds the longest lead in major Border Conference football statistics but he's none too secure.

The Cowboy fullback tops in ball-carrying with 447 yards on 97 rushes while Leon Burton of Arizona State is only 19 yards back although he has taken the ball 22 fewer times.

John Hangartner of Arizona State has completed 30 of 65 passes for 591 yards. Ralph Hunsaker of Arizona is just one yard behind with 45 connections in 94 throws for 590 yards.

Dave Hibbert of Arizona leads the pass-receivers with 30 catches for 339 yards while Bob Laraba of Texas Western tops in punting with a 40.4 yard average on 8 kicks.

Burton leads the scorers with 44 points, with Laraba second at 40.

Arizona State leads in all team statistics, averaging 348.1 yards on offense and allowing 265.6 on defense.

AMONG ACTIVE HURLERS

Ford Owns Top Winning Mark

By SHELDON SAKOWITZ
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Although Whitey Ford never has won 20 games in any of his seven seasons with the New York Yankees, his lifetime won and lost percentage is the highest among active major league pitchers.

The short southpaw, just turned 30, has won 105 and lost only 40 for a .724 percentage, figures compiled by The Associated Press disclosed today. The leaders are based on pitchers with 60 or more decisions.

Sal Maglie, now with the St. Louis Cardinals, is closest to Ford. The 41-year-old "Barber," who began his big league career in 1945, boasts a .659 percentage. He has won 118 and lost 61.

Ford has been hampered by shoulder and elbow trouble. Despite these ailments, the stylish lefty had a 14-7 record in 1958 while posting a league-leaging 2.01 earned run average. His lifetime ERA is .60, also lowest among active hurlers.

Maglie, who achieved success with the New York Giants after a jump to the Mexican League, also has been with the Cleveland Indians, Brooklyn Dodgers and Yankees. He was acquired by the Cards last June, winning two and losing six.

Milwaukee's Warren Spahn, whose 246 victories are the most registered by an active pitcher, continued to rewrite the record books. The slender left-hander, 37, became a 20-game winner for the ninth time, breaking the modern major league standard of eight by a southpaw.

Spahn, who joined the Boston Braves in 1946, had a 22-11 record this season. This gave him a lifetime mark of 246-157 for a .610 percentage.

Warren pitched 23 complete games in 1958, two of them shutouts. In 13 full seasons he has hurled 43 shutouts—most by a National League lefty.

Bob Grim of Kansas City is runner-up to Ford in American League lifetime pitching percentages with 52-27 for .658. Cleveland's Ray Narleski is third with .650 on 39 victories and 21 defeats.

In the National League, Don Newcombe of Cincinnati is second with 130-73 and a .640 percentage. Los Angeles' Carl Erskine ranks third with 122-75 and .619.

Jack Hanlon, Pennsylvania halfback, scored touchdowns in each of the last three Red and Blue games last fall. He started with a 54-yard scoring play against Yale.

Claassen Picks Buffs Over OU

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — After a week's stay on the rim of Upset Gulch in hopes of getting accustomed to the bumps and bruises a forecaster gets on Saturday afternoon: (Last week's record: 27 right, 24 wrong, .529).

Louisiana State over Mississippi: You would think some script writer arranged this one: two unbeaten Southeastern Conference powers tangling with a Sugar Bowl bid probably going to the winner. LSU the pick on Billy Cannon's speed.

Iowa over Michigan: The Hawkeyes have been chided for a year because they played it safe in the 1957 meeting and insured themselves a tie with the Wolverines. Randy Duncan's passing to break deadlock.

Army over Colgate: Without breaking into a sweat.

Auburn over Florida: That Auburn defense is too tough.

Colorado over Oklahoma: Annually Colorado gives Oklahoma fits but winds up in second place. This time the Buffaloes succeed.

Purdue over Illinois: The Illini got their upset last Saturday.

Oregon State over California: The home team should triumph in a struggle as close as their 21-19 fracas a year ago. The winner takes over the Coast Conference lead and the inside track to the Rose Bowl.

Notre Dame over Navy: The Middies' rebuilt line hasn't had time to jell.

Skipping over the others in a hurry:

FRIDAY NIGHT

New Mexico over Denver, Vanderbilt over Miami, Tulane over Texas Tech.

SATURDAY

EAST: Pittsburgh over Syracuse, Boston College over College of Pacific, Boston University over William & Mary, Lehigh over Bucknell, Buffalo over Temple, Cornell over Columbia, Rutgers over Delaware, Harvard over Penn, Holy Cross over Dayton, Penn State over Furman, Princeton over Brown, Dartmout over Yale.

MIDWEST: Wisconsin over Michigan State, Detroit over Marquette, Indiana over Minnesota, Iowa State over South Dakota, Kansas State over Kansas, Missouri over Nebraska, Air Force over Oklahoma State, Villanova over Wichita, Ohio State over Northwestern.

WRITERS' PICK—Pete Runnels, Boston Red Sox first baseman, made the American League comeback of the year in 1958 in the opinion of members of the Baseball Writers Association of America who participated in the annual Associated Press poll. He batted .322 compared with .230 in 1957. (AP Wirephoto)

Tyler JC Falls From Undefeated Ranks

By The Associated Press

Tyler fell to Texarkana 9-6 last week and it left Kilgore the only undefeated team in the Texas Eastern Junior College Conference football race.

Kilgore, which took its first loss of the season—a nonconference 21-0 licking from Arlington State of the Pioneer Conference—has a 2-0 record. Tyler and Texarkana are 1-1 each.

Thursday Tyler hosts Ranger of the Texas Conference and then goes to Corsicana Saturday to play Navarro, also of the Texas Conference.

ON GAMBLING CHARGE

Michigan Stars Are Suspended

By JERRY GREEN

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—The University of Michigan's football fullback and basketball captain have been suspended from their teams in connection with football gambling on campus.

Police issued warrants for the arrest Tuesday of fullback Tony Rio and basketball star Jack Lewis. Warrants also were issued against five nonathlete students.

All seven will be arraigned today on charges of engaging in an illegal occupation in connection with handling football spot cards. All were released without bond.

Rio and Lewis, both 21 and from Chicago, share an apartment near the university's campus.

"We are removing from their respective athletic squads both athletes involved in these charges until their cases are decided," said Michigan Athletic Director Fritz Crisler.

"The coaches know all about it," said Rio. "I told them what part I had in it—which was nothing."

"The coaches have faith in me and will wait to see what happens," he said. "I think the publicity will hurt my football. No matter what happens, people will think I'm wrong. They always take a negative attitude toward bad publicity."

Lewis was unavailable for comment.

Other students arrested were: Nick E. Mitea, 21, Ecorse, Mich.; Durwood J. Collins, 22, Houstin, Tex.; John A. Miller, 19, Utica, Mich.; Michael G. Dodgson, 21, Grand Rapids, Mich.; and Carl M. Riseman, 21, Detroit, associate sports editor of the campus newspaper, the Michigan Daily.

No comment was available from the five nonathletes.

The charges of the misdemeanor carry a maximum penalty of 90 days in jail and a fine of $100 on conviction.

Detective Lt. George Stauch estimated the weekly take from the pool cards ranged in the neighborhood of $10,000. Campus sources said, however, that the weekly take was considerably less.

Jr. Hi Plays Lamesa Here

Snyder's Junior High Blue Devils will be the only teams to play before the homefolk this weekend.

Both the Blue Devil 7th and 8th grade teams will host Lamesa at Tiger Stadium tomorrow. The 7th grade game will start the festivities at 6:30 p.m. with the 8th grade contest to follow immediately.

Two other Snyder teams play tomorrow. The Tiger "B" team goes to an Angelo for a 4 p.m. date with San Angelo tomorrow while the Tiger Freshman battles Lamesa there at 7:30 p.m.

The Tigers go to Sweetwater Friday for their showdown battle with the Sweetwater Mustangs, kickoff time 7:30.

Closing out the week's schedule will be the Lincoln Trojans' journey to Plainview Saturday night.

3 Days Left To Get Cotton Bowl Tickets

DALLAS (AP)—Only three days are left after today in the public sale of Cotton Bowl football tickets. There were 25,000 tickets for the public for the Jan. 1 game nd P. C. Cobb, ticket manager, said about 2,000 mail applications have been received.

The University of New Mexico baseball team won the Skyline Conference eastern division crown in 1958 with an 8-4 record.

Royal Favors Running Punt From E-Zone

AUSTIN, Tex., (AP) — Texas Coach Darrell Royal says if they really want to make football more exciting and high scoring they should make everybody run that ball out of the end zone.

Roya, a bitter opponent of the new rule that allows two points after a touchdown if the conversion is made by run or pass, would put in a rule that calls for either running the kick out of the end zone or putting the ball on the 5-yard line.

Under present rules it is an automatic touchback and the defensive team gets the ball on its 20.

"I see no reason for giving a team 20 yards for nothing," said Royal: "The team that is receiving the ball does nothing to get the pressure off. Teams and spectators are being robbed."

Royal has opposed the new conversion rule since it went into effect this year. He says "It puts too much pressure on the players and coaches."

He diagrams his new proposal like this: Team A moves the ball from its 30 to its opponent's 40 and can't move further. "Nobody is much interested when you've got the ball in your own end of the field, but they are when you're within your opponent's 40.

"Team A punts into the end zone and Team B decides not to run it out. They get it on the 20 and Team A which moved the ball has been penalized. Now Team B can kick on first down, sending that ball back to their opponent's 40 and what have you got? They get full value for their punt. The other team didn't. It's unfair."

Four Syracuse University athletes played in the National Football League in 1957. They were Jim Brown with Cleveland, Jim Ridlon with San Francisco, Jim Ringo with Green Bay and Carl Karilivacz with Detroit.

Cal In Rose Bowl Driver's Seat

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — The sweet smell of roses wafts throughout the University of California campus. But the Bear football team wants no part of the aroma.

Talk about the Rose Bowl and you get a stock reply: "We're taking them one at a time."

Maybe they are, but the Bears are in the driver's seat with a 3-0 Pacific Coast Conference record. They're favored to whip Oregon State (3-1) at Corvallis Saturday.

The PCC choice is far from decided. Stanford, sometimes up and sometimes down, is 2-1. Washington State is 3-2, and Southern California is 2-2.

Come Saturday night, after WSC plays UCLA, Southern Cal tangles with Stanford, and Oregon meets Washington (0-3), a new favorite could arise.

California hasn't been to the Rose Bowl since 1951. Their record was 1-9 last year.

The Bears have jelled in 1958. They lost to College of the Pacific and Michigan State, then won four straight.

The difference is Joe Kapp, a master of the split T, and a hard-charging, hard-hitting line.

Kapp, 6-foot-2 quarterback, was named Associated Press Back of the Week Tuesday for his role in Saturday's 23-6 upset of Oregon.

He bucked a yard for one score, engineered two scoring drives, raced 92 yards for another touchdown and intercepted two passes.

Kapp says the difference between 1957 and 1958 is a 'year's experience under Coach Pete Elliott. He'll tell you his teammates rate the glory.

Business Faring Better This Fall

WASHINGTON (AP) — Although some phases of the recession still linger, the Commerce Department says business has fared better than usual this autumn.

In its monthly survey of the business situation, the department said Tuesday that various economic indicators show the business recovery now is rather broad.

There were a few dark spots, however. The report gave this summary:

"The recovery in employment has been rather limited; investment in industrial and commercial facilities, although leveling off, is not yet advancing, and auto production still has not given the stimulus which will come with large scale output of 1959 cars."

But except for autos, the department said industrial production has shown a marked comeback.

The better-than-seasonal pickup, the report said, has been reflected in rising personal income which climbed by 1½ billion dollars last month to a record rate of 357½ billions a year. Most of the increase was credited to bigger wage and salary payments.

Meanwhile, the Internal Revenue Service reported that despite the recession federal tax collections during the fiscal year that ended June 30 fell only 200 million dollars below the previous year.

That figure is somewhat misleading, however, because the major impact of the recession on corporation taxes falls during the current fiscal year. The service said the tax total for fiscal 1958 reflected increased Social Security tax rates which went into effect in January 1957.

Altogether, the federal tax take for fiscal 1958 came to $79,978,000,000, second only to the record $80,172,000,000 of fiscal 1957.

Of the major revenue sources, tax collections on corporate income and profits declined about one billion dollars to a total of $20,533,000,000.

The Treasury predicts revenue from this source will drop even further in the current fiscal year, to $16,700,000,000, because of the recession.

The nation's largest source of federal revenue, individual income and employment taxes, came to $247,213,000,000 — up 603 million over fiscal 1957. However, all the increase was accounted for by Social Security taxes.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED—Nicky Hilton, 31, son of hotel tycoon Conrad Hilton, and Patricia (Trish) McClintock, 18, daughter of Tulsa oil millionaire Frank G. McClintock, have eyes only for each other after announcing their engagement in New York. Nicky was actress Elizabeth Taylor's first husband. Miss McClintock is a student at Finch College, New York. The engagement was announced by Miss McClintock's mother, Mrs. Horace Schmidlapp. (AP Wirephoto)

Another Sergeant Draws Conviction

FT. JACKSON, S.C. (AP) — A battle-hardened Army sergeant has been convicted of requiring one private to shout obscenities and of conducting a mock hanging to discipline another recruit.

Sgt. C. Charles L. Moman, 28, of Empire, Ala., Tuesday became the second Ft. Jackson sergeant convicted of maltreating recruits. He pleaded innocent of all charges.

M.Sgt. George L. Sovie, 30, of Ogdensburg, N.Y., was convicted last week of maltreatment charges.

Both the Moman and Sovie sentences from court-martial panels of officers and enlisted men, were considered relatively light.

Moman was reduced one rank to sergeant and fined $300. Sovie was reduced to sergeant first class and fined $450.

Both were top cadremen in the same training company, whose commander, Lt. Gerald M. Wheatley, 24, of Bridgeton, N.J., will be tried later this week. He is accused of neglect of duty and conduct unbecoming an officer.

Moman, a Korean veteran with 11 years of Army service, was convicted of these four of seven counts:

1. Requiring Pvt. Custis T. Hathorne of Hattiesburg, Miss., to make lewd remarks in a loud remarks in a loud voice on frequent occasions.

2. Threatening to hang Pvt. Jimmy Cope of Mountain Creek, Ala., in a move to discipline him for falling asleep on a rifle firing range.

3. Kicking a can of greasy solution into the face of Pvt. William L. Henry of Gainesville, Fla., while Henry was down in a mess hall grease trap.

4. Forcing other trainees to dip Pvt. James J. Moore of Parkersburg, Va., head first into the grease trap.

Candidates Report On Expenses

By The Associated Press

Austin (AP) — More general election campaign expense reports were expected today at the secretary of state's office.

Here's what some candidates have reported:

Governor—Price Daniel, Democratic nominee and incumbent, $19,998 gifts and $25,353 expenses in addition to his previous report of $35,711 gifts, $31,253 expenses and $12,494 debts. Edwin Mayer, Republican nominee, $2,219 gifts, $995 expenses and $1,131 debts.

U. S. senator—Ralph Yarborough, Democratic nominee and incumbent, 206 gifts, $515 expenses and $682 debts. Yarborough's statement included a "note" which said he received $32,000 in contributions since the July primary and applied them to previous debts but still owed $16,000 from the first primary. He did not list contributors nor his expenditures for the $32,000. His August report showed $104,079 gifts, $2,400 loans, $122,246 expenditures and $42,013 debts. Bard Logan, Constitutional party nominee, reported $550 gifts and $564 expenses.

State Comptroller—Robert Calvert, Democratic nominee and incumbent, reported only $875 expenses for his filing fee. Glenn Florance, Constitution Party nominee, reported only expenses $270.

Lt. Governor—Ben Ramsey, Democratic nominee and incumbent, gifts $66,383, expenses $47,670, debts $17,939, compared to his previous report of $65,483 gifts, $44,668 expenses and $21,266 debts. Philip Eubank, Constitution Party nominee, reported no expenses or contributions.

Eyes Are On Small Autos

DETROIT (AP)—The nation's auto makers should learn early in 1959 how much demand there is for smaller, lower priced cars.

Studebaker-Packard's introduction of its Lark not only brings the prospect of a larger volume of smaller cars into the U.S. market, but it also lays the ground work for a stiff competitive fight with American Motors.

And if S-P, like American Motors, lifts itself into profitable operations with the smaller unit, General Motors, Ford and Chrysler will push production of their own smaller vehicles.

GM, Ford and Chrysler have insisted their small car work has been strictly experimental but they could put the cars into production on short notice.

The cheapest Lark model in the four-door sedan styling has a factory list tag of $1,821.

Oilman Named In Suit For Nike Site

DALLAS (AP)—The government sued yesterday Oilman H. L. Hunt and Mrs. Tommie McCall of Cleburne for control of 92.68 acres of Kaufman County land needed for a Nike anti-aircraft installation.

The Nike base will be part of the protection for the Dallas-Fort Worth area.

The civil suit, asked by Secretary of the Army Brucker, was filed in federal court here. Hunt, a Dallas oilman, owns six tracts of the Kaufman County land. The other five tracts are owned by Mrs. McCall.

Prosecution Says Earlier Try Made To Slay Deputy

GEORGETOWN, Tex. (AP) — Rachael Gonzalez, on trial for murder in the fatal shooting of Deputy Sheriff R. R. Solis, tried without success to kill him on a previous occasion, the prosecution charged yesterday.

The state developed this testimony and other incidents prior to the shooting of Solis at Brownsville Jan. 15, 1957, in a signed statement Miss Gonzalez, 22, made after Solis was killed.

The trial was moved here. The jurors had been asked earlier if they would be influenced by the fact that "the defendant was pregnant with the victim's child at the time of the shooting."

In the statement read by Asst. Dist. Atty. A. G. Betancourt of Cameron County, Miss Gonzalez said she had written to Solis in November, 1956, telling him he was the father of the child and that since he would not marry her she was going to kill him.

She said she went to his home on Dec. 23 and tried to shoot him but the gun failed to work.

The night Solis was killed, she said, she placed the gun under her sweater and went to a movie. After the movie she went to the Solis home about 10:30 p.m. and when he opened the door in response to her knock she fired twice.

Earlier Mrs. Solis said she and her husband were preparing to retire when someone knocked at the door. Solis answered and soon three shots rang out, one hitting her arm, Mrs. Solis said. Later she said she found Solis' body with his service revolver in his hand.

Selancio Flores, a policeman, said he arrested Miss Gonzalez 100 feet from the shooting. As he approached, he said, the girl kept saying "Stand back, I'll shoot."

Flores testified he finally persuaded the girl to throw down the weapon.

Robert Frazier, an FBI ballistics expert, testified the gun taken from Miss Gonzalez had fired the bullet that killed Solis.

Miss Amelia Weaver, 25, the first witness called by the defense, repudiated a statement she is alleged to have given Dist. Atty. F. T. Graham of Cameron County after Solis' death.

In the statement read at the trial Miss Weaver was quoted as saying she was a close friend of Miss Gonzalez and had discussed Miss Gonzalez' pregnancy with the defendant. She also was quoted as saying Solis gave the defendant money to see a doctor in Mexico.

Miss Weaver testified she had not made the statement. She denied that she had discussed the matter with Miss Gonzalez and knew that the latter was pregnant.

The defendant's mother, Mrs. Jose Gonzalez, testified through an interpreter that her daughter was in a disturbed frame of mind preceding the fatal shooting of Solis.

Minister Freed By Grand Jury

SEVIERVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — The Rev. George Washington Rollins, who failed in his attempt to marry an 11-year-old girl, has been freed by the Sevier County grand jury.

The grand jury refused to indict him Tuesday on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of Frieda Ogle.

A judge previously had dismissed a kidnaping charge against the Missionary Baptist preacher when Frieda testified she went to Georgia willingly to be married to the divorced father of five children. Rollins was arrested during the three-day waiting period required before marriage.

Lynn Bari Seeks Custody Of Son

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actress Lynn Bari says phone conversations between her and her 10-year-old son John were monitored by Judy Garland, who told her:

"We are running things. You are all through, kid."

Miss Bari opened a court fight Tuesday to regain custody of John from her ex-husband Sid Luft and his present wife, Miss Garland. Miss Bari described her son as "upset and emotionally disturbed because of the conflicts and altercations between the defendant and his present wife."

Former Slave Is Dead At Age 107

ELIZABETHTON, Tenn. (AP)—Aunt Jo Taylor, who was born as a slave owned by Tennessee's famed Taylor family in 1851, died Tuesday at the age of 107.

Aunt Jo, who had been in ill health in recent years, often recalled what she called "Free Day," when the slaves were freed in 1865 by the Emancipation Proclamation. She was 14 at the time.

She was owned by Nathaniel Green Taylor, father of Alf and Bob Taylor, who opposed each other for governor in 1886, and who both later served as governor and U.S. senator.

Woman Talks Robber Down To $2 Take

PATERSON, N.J. (AP)—"You'll remember this all your life," said Mrs. Marie Munzer to an intruder who tried to hold her up. He approached her with a knife.

"I know it," said the man, "but I'm desperate for money."

Mrs. Munzer, operator of a liquor store, then lectured the bandit on why crime doesn't pay.

The intruder interrupted her and told her he'd settle for $2.

"Well, allright," said Mrs. Munzer. "But never do it again."

Then he left.

Community Rights

A new proposal for a county home-rule amendment is being prepared for legislative action, and it is being watched closely by many areas in the state, particularly those with larger cities.

Such an amendment has long been under study by those familiar with the functions of local governments, chiefly because there is a sharp contrast in many areas when city governments are compared to county governments. Under the present system in Texas, cities of more than 5,000 population can operate under home-rule charters, but counties cannot.

The proposal now being drafted would give counties the privilege of operating under home-rule charters. They would operate in a manner similar to cities, except for some modification to include responsibility for some state functions specifically delegated to their administration.

The first such amendment was proposed as early as 25 years ago, but the amendment was so cumbersome that it proved impractical. Now, however, there apparently is a serious effort to produce a workable home-rule system for counties.

At present, the proposal reportedly entails relatively high population requirements, aimed particularly at solving situations which have developed in metropolitan areas.

Nevertheless, if such a proposal is adopted and is found workable, it undoubtedly will be expanded in the future to bring home-rule privileges to most counties in the state.

Home-rule has an appeal which should be recognized by everyone who is interested in local control of local affairs. Community rights are no less important than states rights.

Dulles Unworried Over Aswan Dam

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles says the Soviet promise to help build Egypt's high Aswan dam is nothing to get terribly excited about.

That's putting the best possible face on a bad situation, for it's hard to see how the United States can get anything but damage from this deal.

True, it's possible the Russians will run into trouble with volatile Egyptian President Nasser, that the dam won't get built, and that Russian-Egyptian relations will turn sour.

More likely the dam will get built and Russian influence in Egypt will increase.

Nasser, who promised the Egyptians a better life and got sidetracked with his outside adventures, needs the dam to make good on his promises.

Soviet Premier Khrushchev announced last week the Soviet Union would not only lend Nasser 100 million dollars for the dam but participate in building it.

So, the American problem with the dam has made a full turn of the wheel. It's been a turn full of shock and surprises.

The result of all of it is to make Nasser more dependent on the Soviet Union than ever. It's one further step the Soviet Union takes into the Middle East.

The story revolves around two things which got jumbled together after Nasser and his friends threw out King Farouk in 1952 and started out to make a new Egypt.

He asked this country for arms and for money to build the dam. The dam was to provide electric power and irrigation which meant more food for Egyptians.

He wanted the arms, he said, for defense against Israel.

The United States balked at giving arms. Nasser made it known he'd get the arms, even if he had to get them from the Communists. So he got them from Czechoslovakia.

By this time he was obviously seeking American help by creating fear here the Communists would help if we didn't.

Meanwhile, the United States, after a lot of delay, perhaps some of it needless, arranged to give Nasser a loan to build the dam.

But the United States didn't come through with its offer to help on the dam until it saw Nasser wasn't bluffing about getting arms from the Communists.

In July 1956, the Senate Appropriations Committee told the Eisenhower administration not to use any of the foreign aid money voted that year to help Egypt build the dam.

Finally, fed up with Nasser and under pressure from friends abroad not to make the loan to Nasser, the Eisenhower administration withdrew its offer.

The overheated Nasser, in a fury of retaliation, seized the Suez Canal. Not long afterwards Britain, France and Israel invaded Egypt.

They were called off by the intervention of the United States and the Soviet Union. From then until now the idea of the dam was left dangling.

In these past two years Nasser has been busy spreading his influence in the Middle East and creating hatred for the United States.

Despite his victories outside Egypt, it's questionable he could have retained the Egyptians' devotion indefinitely unless he began to make good on his promises of better things at home.

Some optimists no doubt would like to think Nasser may become so involved in his internal improvements that he'll quiet down on his outside adventures.

Probably the opposite will happen, for with visible evidence of big improvements at home the Egyptians are likely to back him more strongly than ever in the trouble he causes abroad — particularly for the United States.

Building Industry Health Improving

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—The health of the building industry—one of the economy's best aids during the recession—seems to be improving today with the autumn tang of the recovery.

Contracts for future construction awarded in September were 26 per cent higher in dollar volume than in the like 1957 month, F. W. Dodge Corp. reports today. And Dun & Bradstreet, using another measuring stick, says that building permits in 217 cities last month were the highest for any September on record.

Federal agencies, using still another, report that housing starts last month were at an annual rate of 1,200,000, leading the F. W. Dodge construction specialists to predict that the total for the year will be about 1,160,000, or 10 per cent above a year ago.

Two clouds mar the prospect. One is the fear that the already tightening home mortgage market may discourage future home builders. The other is that industrial building still trails last year and hopes for an early reversal of this trend are dim at best.

For the first nine months of the year, F. W. Dodge reports contracts for nonresidential building were 3 per cent behind 1957. But heavy engineering was up 21 per cent. The impressive gains in the latter field were made by public works and the utilities.

Manufacturing construction was off both because the recession cut demand for goods and because many companies had built more in the postwar period than they now have demand to keep in full use.

The National Industrial Conference Board in a study of the ratio of fixed capital — structures and equipment—to product demand reports that at the start of the year 11 manufacturing groups had excess capacity.

It lists: motor vehicles and equipment; electrical machinery; fabricated metal products; chemicals and allied products; tobacco products; rubber products; lumber and its products; printing and publishing; stone, clay and glass products; primary metals; and machinery other than electrical.

When the recovery has gone far enough to take up this slack, industry again will be building and expanding, giving the economy the big boost that helped to spark the last boom.

Predictions as to when this will occur range from the second half of next year to the early 1960s.

Public building and home building, meanwhile, are more than taking up the slack for the construction industry.

Total contract awards so far this year total 27 billion dollars, a gain of 7 per cent over the first nine months of 1957.

September contributed 3¼ billions to the total and was the fifth month in a row in which the dollar volume of contracts topped three billion dollars. Contracts last month for publicly owned construction were 29 per cent higher than September 1957. Manufacturing building contracts, however, were down 17 per cent.

Bad building weather during the winter months may slow the pace considerably. But the advent of fall hasn't slowed up building plans the way it usually does.

Home builders already are beginning to fret about the tightening of credit and the higher interest charges. Total mortgage debt has been growing faster this year than last but builders say that phase of their business is fast coming to an end.

Britons Give All For Soccer Game

By HAL R. COOPER

LONDON (AP)—It is the day of the season's biggest international soccer game, between England and the Soviet Union.

The typical British fan, who digs ditches for the Borough Council, has no ticket. If he is going to go, he will have to get one from a scalper at Wembley Stadium. The fan has assured himself he can afford neither a ticket nor the loss of a day's work. He will not go.

But shortly after noon he crams himself into a subway train along with hundreds of his peers, Wembly bound.

Along the parade way leading from the subway station to the stadium a religious organiation has posted several signs. They read, in order: "Sin Is a Reproach to Any People," "All Have Sinned," "The Coming of the Lord Draweth Nigh" and "Prepare To Meet Thy God."

By the time he gets to the stadium the fan is in starting condition for a disaster.

He approaches a ticket scalper who demands 10 shillings—$1.40—for a three-shilling sixpence—50 cents—ticket to standing room in Section D, far behind one of the goals.

The fan ripostes with an offer of seven shillings sixpence—$1.05—which is refused with hauteur. The fan forks over 10 shillings and wends his way to Section D.

By game time the concrete terraces of Section D are so crammed with people the fan would be unable to fall down if he fainted. He is screened from the playing field by a phalanx of men seven feet tall.

From time to time there is a roar from the crowd. The fan assumes something is happening but is unable to confirm it visually. At halftime a kindly policeman informs everybody England is leading 1 to 0.

The fan badly needs a drink. He is afraid to go down to the bar for fear he would be unable to wedge himself back into Section D. The queue would be too long for him to get waited on anyway. Besides, all the money he has left is his car fare home.

As the game proceeds the cold creeps up from the cement through the fan's shoes all the way to his knees. He feels awful. He would leave early and avoid the crowd, but he knows he will never make it through the massed bodies.

After an eon the final whistle blows. The fan is extruded through the exit like toothpaste from a tube. He waits on the chilly subway platform nearly an hour before he can push into a train.

Tottering with fatigue he reaches home and turns on the radio. He learns that England has won, 5 to 0.

Helen Joyce Is Crowned Jr. High Halloween Queen

Helen Joyce, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Joyce, was crowned Halloween Queen at Snyder Junior High School last night as a climax to the school's variety show.

The queen represented Mrs. Marvin Hanback's homeroom. Her escort last night was Pete Greene.

Second place went to Susan Gracey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Gracey, escorted by Denver Way, from Mrs. Holloway's room, and third place to Karen Robinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Robinson, escorted by Wayne Key, from Mrs. Carter's homeroom.

In the variety show sponsored by the Junior High School Parent-Teacher's Association, a wide variety of numbers were put on by teachers and P-TA members.

In a contest to see who sold the most advance tickets to the show Dillard Teal's room won first prize of $5, Hugh Lowry's room won second prize of $3, and Mrs. Martha Zeck's room won third place and the $2 prize.

Master of ceremonies was Robert L. Smith, assistant principal of the school.

He first introduced a square dance team dancing the Texas Star. It was composed of Bill Aylor, caller, Ed and Evelyn Schultz, J. D. and Bobbie Allen, Jim Strother and Martha Zeck, Ed Phy and Viva Mayfield.

A pantomine "Singing the Blues" followed by Bob Kessler.

Ralph Laswell, principal, sang solors of "Old Man River," and "Summertime."

A barbershop quartet composed of Harold Bennett, Wayland Holt, Paul Keaton, and Silas Devenport, sang "I Want A Girl," and "Won't You Please Come Home."

The variety show was directed by Colleen Soles, with music by Nan Lee. Lights were operated by Dillard Teal, and Hugh Lowry, with Gwen Holloway as prompter, and Bill Grimes and Ned Underwood as the backstage crew.

Boy, 10, Admits Shooting Woman

By WILLIAM P. JOHNSTON

ENGLEWOOD, Colo. (AP) — A 10-year-old boy verbally admitted to police today he shot a 32-year-old housewife when she refused to drop her purse.

Bill Maraggos, chief investigator for the Arapahoe County sheriff's office, identified the boy as Kerry Dale Casey, son of Charles Wade Casey. Maraggos said the boy admitted the shooting after he was brought to the county jail.

Mrs. Shirley Orlofsky was shot in front of her home in this Denver suburb Tuesday evening. She was in fair condition with a small-caliber bullet wound in the left shoulder.

Maraggos said the boy, roused out of a sound sleep, first denied the shooting but later orally admitted it after a .22-caliber revolver, believed used by the boy, and several other guns were found in the basement of the Casey home.

Maraggos quoted the boy as saying "I didn't mean to hurt her." He said he was "doing it like they do on the TV."

No charges were filed.

Mrs. Orlofsky said the boy approached her from across the street when she left a bus. "Drop your purse or I'll shoot you," he ordered. "I'm not kidding. I just shot a guy and dropped him."

"I laughed at him at first," Mrs. Orlofsky said.

Mrs. Orlovsky said she jokingly asked the boy where the shooting took place. He jerked his thumb vaguely over his shoulder.

When the blond boy again ordered her to drop the purse, Mrs. Orlofsky said, she turned and walked toward her home. After once pulling the trigger on an apparent misfire, she said, the youngster fired.

The bullet struck her just under the shoulder blade. She staggered into the house and collapsed.

Mrs. Orlofsky is the mother of three children. Her husband is a salesman for a Denver radio station.

Maraggos said police went to the Casey home to check out an anonymous phone tip.

"He showed no remorse," said Maraggos. "He acts more like a 17-year-old."

Guilty Party Is Easy To Locate

ORANGE, Tex. (AP)—Bill Butler, president of the Orange School Board, told Dr. Frank Hubert, superintendent of schools, that someone had broken a window in an elementary school.

A golf ball did it.

"I know the man who did it, and if you will send me a bill, I'll see that he pays for it," Butler said.

It wasn't hard to find the guilty one, Butler said as he personally paid the bill. He didn't say whether it was a slice or a hook.

U. N. Panel Delays Its Arms Debate

By TOM HOGE

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —The U.N. Political Committee today held up its arms debate while the lesser powers made an 11th-hour attempt to work out a compromise satisfactory to both the Soviet Union and the United States. They were given little chance of success.

Indian Delegate Arthur Lall asked the committee to hold off meeting until this afternoon while efforts were made to work out a resolution that could get unanimous support and furnish a bright note for the start of the Geneva Big Three talks on a nuclear weapon test ban.

Lall's request came in the wake of a Nepalese proposal that Committee Chairman Rafael Urquia of El Salvador appoint a working party representing all views and the major geographical regions of the world to try to work out some compromise.

Many diplomats at the U.N. felt Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian Zorin had doomed any compromise when he told the committee again Tuesday night that the Kremlin was sticking to its demand the Assembly call for an immediate, permanent prohibition of nuclear weapon tests.

Zorin charged that the United States and Britain, in proposing to limit the test suspension initially to a one-year period, wanted to win time for "additional propaganda and the preparation of new tests."

'Bama Vote Law Upheld

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—A federal judge today upheld the controversial legislative act which all but eliminated Negro voting in Tuskegee, Ala.

U.S. Dist. Judge Frank M. Johnson Jr. threw out a complaint filed by a group of Tuskegee Negroes challenging the constitutionality of the 1957 law which rearranged city boundaries of Tuskegee.

The legislative act virtually halted Negro voting in Tuskegee by excluding all predominantly Negro residential areas from the city limits.

As a result, only 10 registered Negro voters were left inside the city in contrast to the 420 who voted there before the act was passed. The 600 white voters in the city were left undisturbed.

The Negroes who challenged the law claimed it deprived them of their rights guaranteed by the federal constitution.

Johnson said that regardless of the motive of the Legislature in enacting the law, "this court has no authority to declare such act invalid after measuring it by any yardstick made known by the Constitution of the United States.

"This court has no control over, no supervision over, and no power to change any boundaries of municipal corporations fixed by a duly convened and elected legislative body. . ."

Brigitte Bardot Warns Biographers

PARIS (AP) — Movie sexpot Brigitte Bardot warned today that she would take legal action against anyone trying to publish an unauthorized biography of her.

The 23-year-old French star said in a statement to Paris newspapers that at least 10 people are now pestering her to write the story of her life and loves.

Yarborough Urges Big Vote Tuesday

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Sen. Ralph Yarborough (D-Tex) urged yesterday a large Democratic turnout for the general election next week.

He plugged for the Texas constitutional amendment to raise the salaries of legislators and for the one to add $6 a month per person for medical and hospital care for the aged and disabled.

Mrs. Yarborough was honored by the Bexar County women's division of the National Democratic Party as "Democratic Woman of the Year."

Yarborough was to speak today at the Garland Chamber of Commerce, then leave for Illinois. He will speak there on behalf of Democratic candidates.

The senator, who has traveled widely in eight states this fall, said Democratic "chances look good in all of them."

"The desperation drive by President Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon may have slowed down the Democratic landslide, but it couldn't stop it," he predicted.

"The spiral of inflation," Yarborough said, "is contributing to the Republican loss."

Too many people use friendship as a drawing account, but forget to make a deposit.

Full Report Disclosed On Bachelor's Philanthropies

WACO (AP)—Millionaire bachelor-novelist Madison Cooper Jr.'s once-secret philanthropies and wealth become an open book today with first full report to the public by the Cooper Foundation.

Total assets top $3,100,000.

Income is being used for any charitable, educational or benevolent purpose which, in the opinion of its trustees, will make Waco a better or more desirable place in which to live.

The foundation reports today it has given $139,373 from income during fiscal year 957-58 to a wide range of Waco improvement projects.

Estimates on 1958-59 grants run higher.

Among the top gifts for the fiscal year ended are:

Waco Civic Theatre: $63,000.

Eight public park tennis courts: $36,700.

Seats for Roxy Grove Music Hall at Baylor University: $7,000.

Mobile sprayer-duster equipment for the City-County Health Department: $3,800.

Civil Defense emergency truck and radio: $3,800.

A City Hall survey of administrative systems leading to far-reaching changes and reforms: $15,000.

A final grant, following earlier ones totaling $21,000, to rebuild scenic Riverside (now Crawford) Drive along the Brazos River: $5,000.

Cooper created his foundation with $50,500, half invested in war bonds, in September 1943, only 13 years before his death.

The trust indenture describes the perpetual foundation as "wholly for the purposes of benevolent public usefulness."

It is a memorial to the donor's mother and father, the late Madison Cooper and Martha Cooper.

Chief source of family wealth was the Cooper Co., a wholesale grocery business founded by the father, who was born in North Carolina in 1855, came to Waco in 1874 and began selling produce in 1879. He died in 1940.

The original fund had grown to $300,000, and the estate of Cooper the son has added another $2,800,000 to it.

Total income grants by the foundation since its inception are $209,000.

Cooper's personal passion for secrecy about his affairs and good deeds during his lifetime followed an example set by his mother before him.

Cooper Jr. died of a heart attack Sept. 28, 1956, after taking his regular thrice-weekly run around the cinder track at Municipal Stadium at Waco.

His death came four years after he had startled his fellow-townsmen and his family by writing the gigantic, Texas-sized best selling novel, "Sironia, Texas."

No New Polio Cases Listed In Detroit

DETROIT (AP)—Detroit passed the first day in three months without a report of a new polio case Tuesday.

One new case was reported in sections of Wayne County on Detroit's outskirts. This brought the outcounty total for 1958 to 194 with one death, compared with 74 cases and one death at this time last year.

Test Your Skill.. Win CASH PRIZES

IT'S FUN! IT'S EASY! ANYONE CAN WIN! ENTER TODAY!

HERE ARE THE RULES OF THE CONTEST

In each advertisement on this page you will find the contestants in a prominent football game being played in the country this week-end. Get an entry blank from one of the merchants who are helping sponsor this contest and whose message is on this page. Fill in your selection of the WINNING TEAM only . . . opposite the name of the firm on the entry blank. Then send your complete blank to FOOTBALL CONTEST EDITOR, THE SNYDER DAILY NEWS. Entries must be in the hands of the editor by 12 o'clock noon, Friday. Games ending in a tie score must be specified as a tie or else it will be considered a miss.

If there is a tie for first place the winners will divide the cash money of $12.50 and no second prize will be given. If there is a first place winner and a tie for second place, the second prize winners will divide the money for that place. If more than two persons tie for second place, no second prize money will be awarded and the cash will be added to next week's 1st prize. Tie for perfect score will split $25.00. There will be fun for the entire family. Only one entry blank will be permitted from any one person. More than one will disqualify all of the person's entries. Scores listed on the entry blank will have no bearing on the choice of the winner. Sign your entry blanks and list your address and phone number — and watch for the story on next Wednesday's front page for the winners. Hurry now, and get your entry blank from one of the merchants on this page. The contest blank must be in your own handwriting. Employes of The Snyder Daily News and their families, not eligible to enter.

Junior Editors Quiz on LEGENDS

QUESTION: Have children ever been raised by animals?

* * *

ANSWER: From time to time you hear stories of a child being raised in the forest by a family of wolves or lions. Although science does not recognize a single case of anything like this ever actually happening, the idea has been a favorite throughout literature. One of the earliest and most famous stories of this kind concerns Romulus and Remus, the twin sons of the god Mars who founded the city of Rome after being abandoned, then found and raised by a huge mother wolf. In more modern times, there is Rudyard Kipling's delightful story of Mowgli, a little boy lost in India who grew up with a family of wolves.

* * *

FOR YOU TO DO: Here are the infant twins Romulus and Remus being watched over by the friendly wolf. Color this picture with your crayons and save it in your scrap book. Read the story of Mowgli in Kipling's "Jungle Book," which your librarian will be glad to help you find.

Diablo Dam Has State's Final Okay

AUSTIN (AP) — Diablo Dam, talked about for 14 years, moved closer to construction stages yesterday as Gov. Daniel stamped the state's final approval on the International Boundary and Water Commission project.

"This is a particularly urgent project due to the devastating floods which have occurred on this river, one of the worst of which is causing great losses and suffering on both sides of the Rio Grande at this time," Daniel said.

"I hope prompt action can be had on this important project."

Diablo is to be constructed at the confluence of the Devils River and Rio Grande about 12 miles north of Del Rio. Its estimated cost is 70 million dollars with Mexico and the United States putting up money.

Congress must take the next action for construction funds after the IBWC forwards its report through channels.

The governor's office said if Diablo had been a reality during the recent Rio Grande flooding, it would have prevented the estimated seven million dollars worth of damage caused to the U.S. side below Falcon Dam.

Diablo also would have saved $31,900,000 worth of water which has flowed unused down the international stream.

The project will be the largest on the Rio Grande with six million acre feet of space. Two million will be reserved for flood control and the other for usable water.

Banks Facing Legal Action

AUSTIN (AP)—Legal action probably will be taken against national banks now operating facilities illegally at 18 different Texas military installations, a Banking Department attorney said yesterday.

Banking Commissioner J. M. Falker was unavailable for comment on Atty. Gen. Will Wilson's report that it was still his opinion the banks were operating the facilities illegally.

Falkner had asked for a review of the April opinion after several banks questioned it. The facilities are being operated illegally because Texas law prohibits banks to have branch offices, the opinion said.

Installations are located at Big Spring, San Antonio, Amarillo, Denison, El Paso, Fort Worth, Mineral Wells, Temple, Waco, Austin, Killeen, Victoria, Wichita Falls, Abilene, Corpus Christi, Kingsville, and Houston.

Pope John XXIII Is Jovial Man, Defends Public Morals

By STAN CARTER

VATICAN CITY (AP) — "The quiet after the tempest."

Thus priests of the archdiocese of Venice described Angelo Giuseppe Cardinal Roncalli when he became patriarch of the canal city at the head of the Adriatic.

The portly new pontiff of the Roman Catholic Church — henceforth to be known as Pope John XXIII—is a jovial man, a student of history, and a vigorous defender of public morals. At 76 he begins his reign later in life than any pope in 228 years. But his associates say he has a quick mind, a quick smile, good health and a determined character.

"I was born of poor parents," he told his new flock on his arrival in Venice in 1953. "Providence took me from my native hamlet and led me to travel the roads of the world, from east to west, putting me in contact with most serious social and political problems . . . (but) don't look at your patriarch as a politician or diplomat —look at him as the servant of God."

He often invited his priests to dine at his table. He walked the city's twisted streets and rode the gondolas through its canals, winning the reputation of a tireless worker.

But his tolerance and good humor did not extend to certain facets of life in the pleasure-loving city.

He closed Venice's churches to tourists in shorts, saying, "Italy is not on the Equator, and even there, by the way, lions wear their coats and crocodiles are lined with their most precious hides."

He told the 1957 Venice Film Festival the movie industry must not limit itself to "presenting the decadence of modern customs . . . Moviegoers want to see more beautiful things."

He opposed the moving of the gambling casino from the seaside Lido to the center of the city, calling gambling a "grave disorder in itself, deplorable and to be condemned wherever it may be practised, even if in secret."

Few of the new Pope's political views are on the public record. He has spoken against extreme left-wing socialism and like Pius XII can be expected to work unceasingly for peace. His motto as a cardinal was "Obedience and peace." But little or nothing is known about his views on the cold war, the space age, atomic bombs, modern science and other such subjects on which his predecessor in the Vatican often spoke.

NEW POPE—Angelo G. Cardinal Roncalli, patriarch of Venice, was named new pope of the Roman Catholic Church to succeed the late Pope Pius XII. (AP Wirephoto)

The new Pope was born Nov. 25, 1881, in the Bergamo province village of Sotto il Monte, at the foot of the north Italian Alps 30 miles northeast of Milan. He was one of 10 children of Giovanni (John) Battista Roncalli, a poor farmer, and Maria Anna Mazzola.

Young Angelo's early talent for studies pleased his parents but posed a problem for them. Farm boys seldom had a chance to continue school after the age of 10. But in the Roncalli family, the other brothers worked harder so Angelo could go to the elementary school eight miles away at Celana.

He walked two hours each way in the heat of summer and through winter snow for the courses taught by the school's priests. At the age of 11 he entered the diocese seminary at Bergamo, and 11 years later, on Aug. 10, 1904, he was ordained a priest in Rome's Church of Santa Maria in Monte. He celebrated his first Mass in St. Peter's Basilica over what the church regards as the tomb of the first pontiff.

The bishop of his native Bergamo, Msgr. Radini-Tedeschi, took young Father Roncalli into his household as his personal secretary. In that post he acquired an early knowledge of the church's administrative structure.

He also taught ecclesiastical history at the Bergamo seminary and pursued an interest in literature and the history of northern Italy.

On trips to Milan with his bishop, the young priest would spend his spare time in research in the archives of the Milan Curia and the Biblioteca Ambrosiana, the Milan Catholic library presided over by Msgr. Achille Ratti, later to become Pope Pius XI. Father Roncalli's research on his five-volume "Apostolic Visits of St. Borromeo to Bergamo," about the 16th century saint's travels in north Italy, was begun during those Milan visits.

He entered the Italian army in World War I as a sergeant in the medical corps and later became a chaplain. When the war ended, he returned to Bergamo as a lecturer on theology and church history at the seminary.

Pope Benedict XV summoned Father Roncalli to Rome in 1921 and gave him the job of reorganizing the administrative machinery of the Congregation for the Propagation of the Faith, which directs the worldwide missionary activities of the church. Pius XI succeeded to the papal throne a year later and sent Roncalli to many foreign missionary centers during the next four years.

In 1952 he was made a bishop and was transferred to the Vatican's diplomatic service. He served in the Balkans until 1944, becoming fluent in Turkish, Greek and Bulgarian and acquiring an acquaintance with Russian.

On New Year's Day of 1945 he presented his credentials as papal nuncio to France — the Vatican's ambassador.

Msgr. Roncalli held the post in France for eight years, winning wide popularity among the French. In 1953 Pius XII made him a cardinal and sent him to Venice as patriarch.

An old friend, Archbishop Giovanni Battista Montini of Milan, says of the new Pope:

"He really is a very affable person. He owes much of his success in diplomacy to his good heart.

"Pope John has a very cultivated mind. He loves his studies, especially of history, and is a skilled conversationalist and a mine of anecdotes. He appreciates the fine arts very much.

"Really, I suppose you could best call him a humanist."

Entertainers Avert Panic On Airplane

BURBANK, Calif. (AP)—Entertainers staved off panic among 90 persons on a limping airliner with songs, dances and jokes.

One of the U.S. Overseas Airlines DC6B's four engines started spurting oil about 300 miles off the California coast en route from Hawaii Tuesday. The pilot feathered the propeller, called for a Coast Guard escort plane and landed safely here 2 hours and 22 minutes later.

"We were hired to entertain the passengers on the flight back from Hawaii," said Hawaiian dancer Beck Bodnar, one of 15 entertainers aboard. "When the engine went out, we really whooped it up."

Tina Cannon, Austin, Tex., a Hollywood starlet, said: "We were a little scared at first, but they pulled the curtains and the entertainers took over. Before long we had forgotten where we were."

Policeman Survives Wild Ride

SEATTLE (AP)—Down Seattle streets a car weaved through traffic lights at breakneck speed. A side, his right arm trapped in a window.

Patrolman Harold Countryman, 24, survived the ordeal with only minor injuries.

A lonely hearts club operator, Mrs. Gracie Shippey, 48, was arrested after a 13-block chase on charges of drunk and reckless driving.

Countryman had stopped Mrs. Shippey for a minor traffic violation. As he reached his arm inside for her driver's license, she punched the button operating the electric lift on the car window and raced away.

Countryman fired three shots at the left front tire. But as the car picked up speed he decided to "ride it out." Countryman's patrol car partner finally forced Mrs. Shippey to the curb.

She said at police headquarters that she didn't know Countryman was a policeman, even though he was in uniform.

Leaders Opposing French Proposal

By JOHN SCALI

WASHINGTON (AP)—Administration leaders are reported strongly opposed to a French proposal that the Big Three countries vastly increase consultation among themselves before deciding on important foreign policy moves.

Many diplomatic authorities regard the plan put forth by French Premier Charles de Gaulle as a disguised effort to establish an American-British-French "directorate" or "triumvirate" to boss Western strategy in the cold war.

Other members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization have opposed such a move.

De Gaulle put forward his ideas in recent letters to President Eisenhower and Britain's Prime Minister Macmillan. The French Foreign Office acknowledged the letters had been sent, but denied reports De Gaulle was seeking to reorganize the North Atlantic Pact. Contents of the letters have not been officially disclosed.

The State Department declined to comment on the diplomatic furor De Gaulle's proposals have kicked up since news of them began to appear in Western European newspapers.

Responsible informants, noting opposition building up in West Germany, Italy, Britain and other countries, said the United States also takes a dim view of any such scheme.

De Gaulle's suggestions are viewed skeptically by some officials as a move to increase France's voice in world affairs in line with his ambition to bolster French prestige under his leadership.

As such they collide head on with Secretary of State Dulles' call for "interdependence" among all Western countries. The Dulles plan envisages increased cooperation and consultation among all countries as equals.

Claim Against Parr Settled

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP) — The federal claim against the bankrupt estate of George Parr was tentatively settled yesterday by an out-of-court agreement.

Terms of the settlement were not announced. Homer Miller, attorney for the Justice Department, said the proposed compromise must be approved by officials of both the Justice Department and the Internal Revenue Service.

Both sides started conferring on a possible settlement shortly after the government rested its case in a hearing at mid-morning.

The government is claiming $1,300,000 in back taxes against the bankrupt South Texas politico. It says money received from Duval County was taxable. The estate trustee, George Clower, contends the money was a loan and not taxable.

Zeppo Marx Plans To Wed Young Model

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Zeppo Marx, 57, youngest of show business' Marx brothers, is engaged to marry blonde model Diane Davies, 22.

They haven't set a date for the marriage, he said. They met about six months ago in Las Vegas, Nev., where the bride-to-be attended high school.

His first wife Marion divorced him in 1954.

Virus With Yen For Military Service Creates A Mystery

By FRANK CAREY
Associated Press Science Writer

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A virus that apparently has a yen for military service has created a major mystery for the medicoes.

It's one of the so-called "adenoviruses" — a crew of germs that can cause cold-like illnesses, sometimes pretty severe ones.

The viruses first were discovered several years ago. Since then 23 separate types have been found in humans, including some that cause conjunctivitis, an eye infection.

One of them — called "type 4" — is a real oddball, the American Public Health Assn. was told Tuesday by Dr. Harold S. Ginsberg of Western Reserve University Medical School.

The severe, cold-like infections that it produces are confined almost exclusively "to militarily clothed adults" — and mainly to recruits — Ginsberg related.

The reason for this, he said, "remains a major epidemiological mystery."

Type 4 has somewhat of a rival in Type 7 as a military pest, but the latter is not so exclusively a camp follower.

Ginsberg said that while each of the 23 adenoviruses are known or believed to affect civilians at times, only two of them — Types 3 and 8 — are of epidemic significance among civilians. And these are largely limited to children.

But he said the viruses constitute a real tough problem for military forces both in this country and in other parts of the world, with Types 4 and 7 being the chief culprits.

He said a large majority of recruits become infected within eight weeks after induction.

But there's a chance that Type 4, despite all its peskiness, may eventually get some kind of a good conduct medal — for indirect service to science.

At least, Ginsberg said that if researchers can find out why the wily critter virtually scorns civilians in favor of the armed forces, this may shed light upon the general problem of how virus diseases of all types originate, spread and do their insidious work.

Red Troops From Korea Get Welcome

TOKYO (AP) — Peiping welcomed Red Chinese troops back from North Korea today with cheers, gongs and firecrackers.

More than 200,000 persons hailed the soldiers of Gen. Yang Yung in a day-long celebration, radio Peiping announced. The Communists say all Chinese troops in North Korea, once estimated at 250,000 or more, have now been withdrawn. The third and last stage of the withdrawal was reported completed Sunday.

Peiping radio broadcast this description of the homecoming:

Premier Chou En-lai greeted Yang and the trainload of troops, saying: "I warmly welcome you heroes, who have returned in triumph."

Chou and the general drove at the head of a procession through the city. The streets were bedecked with banners and posters, many with anti-American slogans.

Later a separate rally was held for the soldiers. Mayor Peng Chen, a member of the China's Politburo, told 10,000 listeners: "U. S. imperialism can be defeated."

The U.N. Command in South Korea has rejected a Red demand for withdrawal of U.S. troops, who would have to be based much farther away than the Chinese if they pulled out.

Crude Bomb Hurled Into Fire Station

WALNUT CREEK, Calif. (AP) —A crude bomb made with a lead pipe — tossed through an open window of the Walnut Creek fire station — exploded with damaging effect Tuesday night but all eight occupants of the building escaped injury. Police expressed belief it was the work of juveniles.

Dream Comes True For Detectives

MONTEREY PARK, Calif. (AP) —Detective Richard Brammer believes in following up every lead.

He told his partner, Joe Durban that he had dreamed of arresting Albert Rodela, whom they had been hunting a month on a forgery warrant.

In the dream, Brammer said, the arrest was made at the home of Rodela's sister.

So the detectives went to the sister's home.

Ten minutes later Rodela drove up, and Brammer's dream came true.

Detergents Increase Hand Irritations

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Skin irritations on women's hands have increased tremendously since detergents have been manufactured as substitutes for common soap a Mayo Foundation dermatologist says.

The specialist, Dr. Louis A. Brunsting Sr., told the Oklahoma City Clinical Society that detergents may destroy layers of skin leaving no defense against skin trouble.
