Jim Thomas Indicted In Hunt Murder Case

Olton Grand Jury Returns Charge, Then Takes Recess

(Special To The Avalanche)

OLTON, April 10 — Jim Thomas, 49-year-old ex-convict, was indicted late this afternoon by a Lamb county grand jury for the Oct. 26 slaying of Dr. Roy Hunt of Littlefield, it was announced by District Attorney Harold M. LaFont.

The jury, which had assembled this morning after a recess of approximately four weeks, reportedly took no action in the slaying of Mrs. Hunt, who was found dead with Dr. Hunt in a bed at their Littlefield home.

The official said Thomas, who has been held in the Lubbock county jail since a few days after the crimes, was placed under $25,000 bond and would be arraigned within three or four days.

Grand Jury Recesses

LaFont said the next regular term of district court was set for August but that Thomas could be tried before that time.

The grand jury adjourned subject to recall. C. E. Bley of Olton is foreman.

Grand jurors today heard four witnesses, a trucker and two women from Amarillo and an Olton resident.

The present grand jury, which was assembled Feb. 7, then adjourned for several days, met again about a week later and began to investigate the Hunt case. They were dismissed after several days and were called back into session this morning.

Savage Slaying

Jim Thomas—alias James Clyde Thomas, alias Jim C. Thomas—thus accused in connection with one of the most savage slayings Texas officers ever worked on, Dr. Hunt, nearing 37, and his wife, 26, were bound side-by-side to their bed. Heavy cord, ropes and metal coat hangers were twisted and knotted about their necks, arms and legs. The slayer evidently tried to hush their outcries with gags.

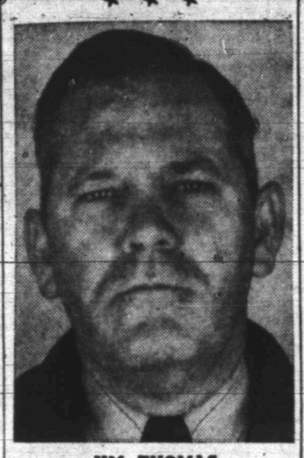

A bullet from a small pistol hit Dr. Hunt over the eyes; his jaw was bashed in bloodily. Mrs. Hunt was slugged over the head, dying of a major brain concussion. Apparently the doomed man and woman struggled in their bonds, for there was evidence of rope burns on their limbs.

The slayings occurred between 2 a. m. and 7:50 a. m. Tuesday, Oct. 26.

Not Believed Possible

When he first saw the bodies lying grotesquely still on the bloody rumpled bed a West Texas sheriff who has seen many hard things exclaimed: "Good God—it

Brown Assessed 99-Year Term

Convicted In Dual Brownfield Murder

LAMESA, April 10 (Special)—W. C. Brown, 29-year-old Brownfield man, this afternoon was assessed 99 years in the penitentiary for the hammer slayings Feb. 2 of two women at Brownfield.

Brown, ex-convict and former asylum inmate, had pleaded guilty. The jury, of which Jack Barrow was foreman, deliberated the case 15 minutes.

Venue Change Ordered

The women were Mrs. Cora Smith, 67, of Brownfield, and her stepdaughter, Mrs. Quinley Dunlap, about 40, of California.

Special Judge J. E. Garland opened the case for hearing this morning, after he had shifted venue from Brownfield to Lamesa on his own motion.

Brown waived the statutory two-day period in which he may ask for a new trial.

The state used three witnesses, the defense one.

The 12th juror was selected after 29 persons had been examined for qualifications.

The prosecution was in charge of District Attorney Rollin McCord and his ass[illegible] Karl Cayton, Dawson county attorney. Counsel for Brown were W. W. Campbell of Lubbock and Carl Rountree of Lamesa.

Slain In Back Yard

The women were killed in Mrs. Smith's back yard. Brown and his parents had been helping Mrs Smith and the younger woman pen some chickens, in connection with Mrs. Smith's plans to move to California. The ex-convict tottered them to death when his parents were out of sight briefly.

Other than Barrow the jury comprised Jim Hinson, Raymond Cope, Russell Martin, E. C. Mahoney, I. L. Honeycutt, James T Dunn, W. T. Ellis, Loo Randle, W. E. Cameron, J. R. Luenberger, and Jesse Carrel.

Many Marooned By Colorado Snowstorm

DENVER, April 10. (AP)—Central Colorado's second heavy spring snowstorm marooned 34 persons atop a Continental Divide pass today, indirectly killed a woman in Pueblo and a man near Trinidad, and tore down thousands of power and telephone lines in Pueblo and Greeley.

Thirty-one adults and three babies trapped last night near the summit of Berthoud Pass 60 miles west of Denver took shelter today in a long, wooden ski hut at the top of the 11,314-foot pass. By midday they had consumed most of the food—hamburgers, cheese sandwiches and coffee—available at the small inn on the top of the pass.

Soldiers training for Arctic rescue missions transported medical supplies and water to the group by snow vehicle from their camp at Echo lake this morning and planned to haul up food and blankets tonight.

Many Soldiers Hurt In Train Derailment

MONTGOMERY, Ala., April 10 (AP)—Twenty-two soldiers were brought to Maxwell Field hospital today for treatment of injuries received when at least six cars of a special Atlantic Coast Line passenger train derailed about 20 miles south of Montgomery.

An undetermined number of others were given first aid by Army doctors and nurses at the scene of the wreck. Army officials said only two of those brought here were seriously hurt and that it was believed they would recover.

Ten In Salvador Revolt Executed

SAN SALVADOR, El Salvador, April 10 (AP)—Ten Army officers who participated in an abortive revolt last week against the government of President Gen. Maximiliano Hernandez Martinez were executed in the police barracks here today.

Among them were Gen. Alfonso Marroquin, commander of the First Regiment, infantry, which revolted; Col. Tito Calvo, Commander of Acajutla port, and Maj. Faustino Sosa, second chief of military aviation.

The death sentences were decreed by the war council.

The revolt against the 13-year rule of Gen. Martinez broke out Sunday, April 2. An official announcement issued two days later said it was quickly quelled.

Not Backed By People

Martinez said in a manifesto the revolt was led by a "group of officers of the Army under the command of Col. Tito Calvo and a group of civilians headed by Dr. Arturo Romero," but that the coup failed "as the people did not back the purposes of the revolt tion."

(Today's announcement of the executions did not mention the fate of the civilian group).

Martinez took office in 1931, and was reappointed last Feb. 29 for another six-year term by the constitutional assembly.

Attack On Avila Camacho Foiled

Would-Be Assassin Holds Nazi Papers

MEXICO CITY, April 10. (AP)—President Manuel Avila Camacho was fired upon today by a uniformed officer of his palace staff, but the chief executive escaped with a bullet hole in his coat and himself captured the assailant.

Published reports identified the officer as Lt. Jose Antonio Lama Rojas, 30. It was officially announced that "several documents from Nazi sources were found on his person."

It was officially announced tonight that the assailant, Lt. Jose Antonio Lama Rojas, was shot and wounded by soldiers when he attempted to break from custody after his arrest.

Lama Rojas overpowered two guards and ran into the street, an undersecretary said, and was shot in the stomach.

Former President Ortiz Rubio was among many who called on the chief executive this afternoon to express regrets over the shooting and to congratulate him on having escaped injury.

Called Isolated Incident

Fidel Velasquez, president of the Mexican Workers confederation, said President Avila Camacho told him: "Continue your work serenely since the attempt was an isolated incident and not a division of the Mexican family."

The official bulletin on the attempt said:

"This morning an individual of military appearance approached President Avila Camacho when he descended from his automobile in the national palace. He saluted and then fired one shot which missed. The man in question was disarmed, arrested and sent to the military prison for investigation. Several documents from Nazi sources were found in his possession."

Authorities passed this account of the incident:

But what do you think I see? Two Krauts are right on the edge of my hole, swaying back and forth like they are drunk, which is a break for me because I fire my rifle practically from the hip and they both fall into my hole, dead."

Which would seem like enough trouble from drunks for one night, but that was just the beginning.

"I'm just pulling one of my socks on," continued Vernon, "when I hear two guys having it out just a few yards in back of me. It turns out to be my lieutenant and a Kraut officer, and it looks like neither of their guns are working because they are trying to split each other's hears open with their rifle butts. This

Reds Take Odessa, Launch New Attack To Reclaim Crimea

5,500 Said Slain In New Drive, While Other Troops Lash Forward In Rumania

By TOM YARBROUGH
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Tuesday, April 11—Gen. Rodion Y. Malinovsky's Third Ukraine Army reconquered the graveyard city of Odessa on the Black Sea yesterday and drove to within six miles of the Nazi escape hatch at Ovidiopol, while a fresh Red Army attacking in the Crimea crashed 12 miles through defenses protecting perhaps 100,000 isolated Axis troops, Moscow announced last night.

The new Crimean offensive by the re-emerging Fourth Army under Gen. Feodor I. Tolbukhin already has resulted in the killing of 5,500 Germans and the capture of 1,000 in two days, and put Soviet shock troops inside the top of the peninsula sealed off last fall.

In Rumania another Red Army was declared to have forced the Siret and Suceava rivers in a 65-mile penetration of that wavering nation's territory, capturing 180 towns and villages and smashing to within 15 miles of the Campulung oil fields in the north and to within 160 miles of the rich Ploesti wells in the south.

Bitter Defeat Avenged

The capture of his native city of Odessa by General Malinovsky avenged one of the bitterest Russian defeats of the war. It was a surprisingly sudden triumph which found the Germans fleeing along the coastal road 18 miles southwest to Ovidiopol, ferry terminus on the four-mile-wide Dniester estuary opposite lower Bessarabia.

The communique announced the capture of Alexandrogilf, six miles from Ovidiopol, as the Russians sought to annihilate the Axis remnants pinned against the coast.

Marshal Ivan S. Konev's Second Army invading Rumania has picked up 35 miles since Saturday, said the Moscow bulletin. Its upper wing was within 35 miles of Hungarian-held Transylvania with the capture of Solca, 19 miles northwest of Suceava, whose fall also was reported.

30 Towns Captured

Konev's lower group, which has half-encircled the Rumanian rail city of Iasi, overran 30 more localities, including Targu-Frumos, a station 27 miles west of Iasi and 16 miles from Pacsani, where the line meets the Cernauti-Bucharest trunk railway.

Moscow's bulletin did not mention Marshal Gregory K. Zhukov's First Army attacking along the Czechoslovak border northwest of Konev's forces, but Premier-Marshal Stalin sent a message to Eduard Benes, president of the provisional Czech government in London, saying "I am sure the common struggle of our peoples against our common enemy will lead soon to the restoration of freedom and independence of the Czecho-Slovak republic."

Stalin's message, broadcast by Moscow, was a reply to Benes' congratulations on the breakthrough to the frontier by the Red Army and a Czech brigade attached to it.

General Tolbukhin's Fourth Army emerged once more to lead the Soviet attack on the Crimea, the last major chunk of Russian territory still held by the Germans in lower Russia. The Germans and Rumanians had been

Army Holds Up Airline Service

WASHINGTON, April 10 (AP)—Federal airways officials, including representatives of the Army Air forces, are expected to confer here tomorrow with executives of Continental Airlines regarding the establishment of a commercial air route through San Angelo, Tex.

The Civil Aeronautics board sometime ago authorized Continental to fly between Hobbs, N. M., and San Antonio, Tex., via Midland, Odessa, Big Spring and San Angelo. But the War department objected to use of either of two airports at San Angelo on the grounds that the new service would interfere with the Army air training program carried on at the fields.

Terrell Drinkwater of Denver, executive vice president of Continental, said he hoped to meet tomorrow with representatives of the interdepartmental airways traffic control board, to discuss the San Angelo matter. AAF officials are represented on the interdepartmental board.

Textiles Put On 48-Hour Week

Production Decline Over Nation Cited

WASHINGTON, April 10 (AP)—The War Manpower commission tonight ordered a minimum 48-hour work week in the cotton textile industry, effective May 14.

Manufacturing of "narrow fabrics," such as shoe strings, ribbons and hat bands, is not affected by the order. It applies to all other cotton textile manufacturing—yarns and broad fabrics—including supporting activities such as office workers on the mill premises.

Manpower Chairman Paul V. McNutt announced he signed the order at the request of both labor and the industry.

Many Already Operating

Many mills are already on a 48-hour week, especialy in tight labor areas, and possibly three fourths of the industry now is on the longer week in its bottlenecked departments.

McNutt said, however, that a continuing decline in production makes it necessary to apply the order throughout the country.

Three other industries now are on a mandatory 48-hour week, steel, lumbering, and non-ferrous metal mining and milling.

McNutt said the order will not affect part time workers.

Needs Increasing

The manpower commission said surveys of the industry show a steady increase in the production requirements and a seven per cent decline of employment in 1943 from a peak of about 508,000 workers in the second quarter of 1942.

Total production in 1943 amounted to nearly 10,000,000,000 yards of fabrics. The requirements for 1944 are more than 11,000,700,000 yards.

The announcement said the 48-hour week is the first feature of a program for handling the current textile situation. Others will provide for special assistance in recruitment, training, and manpower utilization.

Want Production Hike

A War Production board official said in a statement he hoped the WMC action would increase the production of cotton textiles greatly needed in the war effort. T. M. Bancroft, assistant director of the WPB textiles, clothing and leather bureau, said the order was caused by a pressing need for increased production.

In determining "narrow fabrics" the order defines them as less than 12 inches wide. A manpower official said such articles as towels, handkerchiefs, diapers, and face cloths are considered broad fabrics.

Ponape And Oroluk Are Pounded Again

U. S. PACIFIC FLEET HEADQUARTERS, Pearl Harbor, April 10. (AP)—Ponape and Oroluk islands in the Caroline islands and four unidentified enemy positions in the Marshall islands were attacked Saturday as American fliers kept up their aerial siege of Japan's remaining Central Pacific holdings. Adm. Chester W. Nimitz announced the raids today.

The Ponape strike was carried out by Seventh Army Air force Mitchell medium bombers, escorted by Marine Corsair fighters. The airfield was their target.

Oroluk, midway between Truk and Ponape, was attacked for the second consecutive day when a Navy search plane dropped fire bombs on it.

Forty-eight tons of bombs were dropped in the Marshalls by Army Mitchells and Marine dive-bombers escorted by Corsairs and Navy Hellcat fighters. The bombs hit runways, starting fires.

Gasmata Abandoned, Japs Flee To Rabaul

Japs Are Beaten Back At Kohima

Penetration Of Defenses Nipped

(By The Associated Press)

NEW DELHI, April 10 — Hard fighting was in progress today for Kohima, Allied stronghold 35 miles from the Bengal-Assam railroad in eastern India, after defending British and Indian troops hurled back a strong Japanese attack that penetrated the town's outer ring of fortifications, Allied headquarters announced.

Fifty dead Japanese were counted on the battlefield and others were taken prisoner. A communique said the enemy penetration was "eliminated." Kohima, 60 miles north of the principal Allied base of Imphal, has been under assault since last Friday by an unestimated force of Japanese that invaded from the Burma border, 30 miles to the east.

Claim Town Occupied

(The Japanese claimed they occupied Kohima April 6, and the Berlin radio today quoted a Japanese government spokesman as saying that the capture of Imphal would be only a matter of days).

Dispatches said the motor highway between Kohima and Dimapur on the Bengal-Assam railway still was firmly in Allied possession and that supplies were pouring over it for the defenders of Kohima. The road south from Kohima to Imphal was cut by the Japanese over a week ago, however, and the Imphal garrison will be dependent upon air borne supplies and reinforcements in the impending full-scale battle for its possession.

From the east and from the south the invading Japanese closed steadily on Imphal, and it was disclosed that small enemy parties had been repulsed with casualties southwest of the big Allied air and supply base. This was the first indication that the Japanese were probing west of the road linking Imphal with Tiddim in Burma.

British and Indian troops, after several weeks of stubborn withdrawal to fixed defenses outside Imphal at the edge of the Manipur plain, now are said to be ready to meet the invaders with ample strength on the ground and overwhelming superiority in the air.

Allies Toughen Up On Neutrals

LONDON, April 10 (AP)—An Angelo-American invasion eve get-tough policy for dealing with neutral countries seemed to be shaping up today around the formula that nothing must be tolerated which might cost the lives of Allied fighting men.

With U. S. Secretary of State Cordell Hull expounding American impatience with the trading tactics of neutrals, Prime Minister Churchill conferred today with U. S. Ambassador John G. Winant and Under-secretary of State Edward R. Settinius, Jr.

Their talks were secret, but it is likely that stiff measures were considered to choke off a small but important flow of materials to the Axis.

To Shut Off Goods

With the isolation of Eire from refusing to close Axis consulates standing out as an object lesson, Allied determination and pressure are directed toward wolfram shipments to Germany from Portugal and Spain; chrome from Turkey and ballbearings and ore from Sweden.

The scope of enforcement action is obviously limited, but the pattern is furnished in the Allied ban on petroleum shipments to Spain and the cessation of lend-lease arms to Turkey.

40,000 Believed Trapped Others In "Full Retreat"

By C. YATES McDANIEL
Associated Press Staff Writer

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Southwest Pacific, Tuesday, April 11—By-passed Japanese troops have abandoned Gasmata, their air and supply base on the south-central New Britain coast, as well as Cape Hoskins on the north-central coast, and are in "full retreat" for a final stand at badly-bombed Rabaul at the northwest tip of the island, Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced today.

An estimated 40,000 Japanese were left virtually trapped on this northeastern half as American patrols operating toward Cape Hoskins and Gasmata encountered no resistance.

Many Dead Abandoned

Enemy forces in falling back on Rabaul left 232 prisoners and abandoned 4,679 dead since the Allies launched their New Britain campaign Dec. 15 last with a landing at Arawe, followed in 11 days by an assault on Cape Gloucester.

In addition, a MacArthur spokesman estimated another 5,000 of the New Britain Japanese force of about 50,000 have been lost through wounds, starvation and disease.

The Japanese positions have been bypassed by American holdings on western New Britain, in New Guinea, and on the Admiralty and St. Matthias islands in the Bismarck Sea. Their supply lines thus were severed.

No Resistance Met

Allied patrols have met no resistance at Gasmata or at Cape Hoskins, supply and refuelling base on the north coasts of New Britain, since mid-March as the Japanese fell back on badly-bombed Rabaul at the northeast tip.

In a continuation of bombing operations Allied bombers silenced 13 heavy guns at Hansa Bay, New Guinea, and heavily hit Wewak to the north as Catalinas attacked Japanese shipping at Woleai atoll in the Caroline islands.

A total of 131 tons of bombs were dropped on the Hansa Bay area, scoring not only on gun positions but also a fuel dump, starting a towering fire. One American bomber was lost.

Others In Full Retreat

General MacArthur in reporting the Gasmata operation said the Japanese are "in full retreat from central New Britain to the Gazelle peninsula (at the northwest tip) where he is preparing final positions with Rabaul as his citadel.

"Installations at Cape Hoskins and Gasmata have been abandoned. Since the inception of this campaign, which began with our landings at Arawe and Cape Gloucester, the enemy has lost 232 prisoners of war and abandoned 4,579 dead. His losses from wounds, starvation and disease would more than double this figure."

Marauders Set New High Mark

Invasion Area Gets Record Bomb Load

By W. W. HERCHER
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, April 10—Diversified American bomber and fighter formations up to 1,500 strong blasted targets along the French-Belgian coast and in the French interior today in operations which saw the U. S. Ninth Air force's Marauder medium bombers drop their greatest bomb load, more than 1,000 tons.

It was announced that approximately 600 fighter-escorted Marauders delivered a blow which was "the greatest the Ninth ever has thrown against the enemy in a single day, dropping more than 1,000 tons of bombs." Two bombers were lost, while escorting fighters destroyed five enemy planes.

Rail Yards Pounded

The principal target of the Marauders was the Namur railway yards, 35 miles southeast of Brussels. Returning pilots reported seeing strings of cars and sheds blasted and big fires started.

Heavy U. S. Flying Fortresses and Liberators also took part in the day's widespread raids, the third major operation by the Americans in as many days. The blows were coordinated closely with similar forays by British bombers last night.

Tonight this latest phase of the aerial battle of Europe was continuing. In the late English dusk two more strong bomber formations were seen sweeping across Dover Strait toward northern France.

American Liberators and Fortresses in today's daylight operations bombed those much-pounded "military objectives" in the Pas De Calais area; aircraft repair works at Evere and Vilvorde and the airfield at Melsbroek near Brussels; a plane factory at Bourges 115 miles south of Paris and an airfield at Orleans, 60 miles south of Paris.

Nazis Slash Out Anew At Cassino

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Naples, April 10 (AP)—Allied troops in Cassino have been subjected to violent shellings, shattering days of comparative quiet in that devastated town, headquarters announced today. Considerable German movement of infantry, tanks and artillery was noted in the Garigliano valley sector of the main front.

It disclosed officially that American troops are in the Allied line along the Garigliano river, a sector held earlier by British units of the Fifth Army.

Headquarters said New Zealand troops inflicted casualties on the Germans in attacks against two strongpoints at Sant' Angelo, three miles south of Cassino, partially destroying an enemy position.

Slackens On Beachhead

German artillery fire slackened somewhat on the beachhead below Rome where their patrols, out in force, were beaten off.

The German activity in the lower Garigliano sector, indicating a regrouping in that area, included considerable transport movement, and 21 tanks or self-propelled guns were seen about two and one half miles northeast of Minturno in the Ausente valley. Five of the tanks were believed knocked out by Allied artillery fire. An upper Rapido valley sector was shelled heavily by the enemy.

Gentile Finds Mowing Down Of Nazis Is Easy Pickings

By GLADWIN HILL
Associated Press Staff Writer

A U. S. FIGHTER BASE, England, April 10.—Capt. Don S. Gentile, the leading United States Air force ace in the European war theater, make the job of mowing down Nazi planes sound as easy as picking birds off a fence.

Asserting in an interview today that he believed the Germans—apparently short of experienced fighter pilots — are sending up novices with one veteran to lead them through combat, the 23-year-old Piqua, Ohio, airman added:

"The Germans always seem to fly in twos or fours, strung out in a line, and they keep right behind the leader no matter what happens—as if they are afraid to branch off."

The dark, handsome Mustang pilot who has destroyed 20 planes in the air, with claims of three more pending, in addition to seven destroyed on the ground, willingly acknowledges his debt to his wing man, Lt. Johnny Godfrey, 21, of Woonsocket, R. I., who has 16 kills himself.

Godfrey flies behind him, either to the right or left. Gentile keeps tab on him by asking every few seconds over the radio phone: "Are you still with me, Johnny? Are you still with me, Johnny?" Any German flier who understands English can hear them calmly plotting his doom.

"You break to the starboard," Gentile will call out, "and I'll hesitate and if he follows you around I'll follow him and we'll have him right between us."

They like to tackle the tail end man in a German fighter formation first—it is hard for him to play the German game of follow-the-leader and see what is coming up behind at the same time.

"If we get him, we tackle the next one and just keep moving up the line," Gentile said. "Sometimes you can pick off all of them right up to the leader before he knows about it."

DIFFERENT IDEAS — Most identical twins dress alike, even to wearing their hair the same way and their hats at the same tilt. That's why we found a picture of Lts. The one has a GI haircut of the most pronounced type, being almost shaved in fact; the other had his hair parted and and combed much the same way as he must have worn it in civilian life. Since we are curious about twins, we cannot help but wonder whether they discussed the hair cutting matter and one went ahead and the other refused to get under the clippers. And incidentally, why, oh why, do all the little boys in Lubbock and those not so young get their hair clipped?

AID TO DIET

THE present abundance of meat, eggs and potatoes will wane, according to a report from Washington, and you may eventually find yourself hard put to prepare low-cost meals that will provide stick-to-the-ribs quality for youngsters and still without a fattening quota for other members of the family.

The Department of Agriculture has on hand a German Army recipe book recenly translated. It is described as one of the most thorough studies of using soy bean in combination with many foods to add valuable protein nutriments. In these recipes, soy grits are added to beef broth made from bones. Soy flour goes in tomato and mushroom soups.

That's a good hint for a filling dish to encourage a family holdback on the meat course. Roast recipes have soy flour added to the gravy. Soy goes in stew, meat balls and vegetable sauces. It is even added to chocolate sauce, which covers the soup-to-nuts situation thoroughly.

THEY say Jose Iturbi, the Valencia-born pianistic virtuoso, knows a piano inside out. He not only is a master of the keyboard, but knows all about the instrument's insides. His rich and vivid style is acclaimed by all those who hear him. And Iturbi's slender young sister, Amparo Iturbi, also is a pianist of no small ability.

Miss Iturbi played before officers and enlisted men at both air bases at USO shows, Friday and Monday, playing both classic and modern selections and the men were wild in their applause.

In addition to compositions of the masters, she offered "Rhapsody in Blue" and "Tonight We Love" and finally with a shy smile and after her low "Thank you very much" she played a "boogie-woogie" piece.

WE heard a nice idea the other day. A number of neighbors of a dear, elderly woman, presented her with a large bag on her birthday. Inside the bag were numbers of gifts of every size and variety which she was told to open one day at a time. The purpose was to scatter sunshine over a period of time instead of for just one day.

The foundation of the British Museum dates from 1753.

Training Course Schedule Given

Miss Rosemary Head, executive secretary of Girl Scouts, has announced a schedule of training courses and study meetings for Girl Scout leaders to take place this month.

Due to the cut in gasoline rationing, a different plan for training is being used this year, according to Miss Head. Fewer meetings with more concentrated study will be used, but leaders who wish to complete the required 12 hours for PTA credit will be able to do so. All meetings are scheduled from 10 a. m. to 2 p. m. at the Girl Scout Little House and those taking the courses are asked to bring their lunch. A drink will be served.

The first meeting will be held April 18 and is being planned for all persons having no previous training in leadership. On April 20 the meeting will be for all Brownie leaders and assistants, both those who have had previous training and those who have not. April 25 training will be offered for all leaders working with second class activities in the Intermediate Girl Scout program. April 27 the meeting will be for experienced leaders and those who are doing badge work in their troops. The final meeting will be held April 28 and it will be a general training meeting for all leaders, both Brownies and Intermediates. Anyone who is interested may attend any or all of these sessions whether they are Girl Scout leaders or not.

Mrs. George Langford of Texas Technological college has been instructing Girl Scout leaders in folk dancing each Friday morning from 10 to 11 o'clock at the Girl Scout Little House. These classes will continue for several weeks, the purpose being so that leaders can instruct girls in their troops. According to Miss Head, an appeal is being made for the loan of folk dance and square dance records to be used in these classes and anyone who has records they would like to loan for this purpose should get in touch with her.

Muriel Changes Her Mind, Decides Not To Marry Skelton

HOLLYWOOD, April 10 (AP) — Exercising a woman's prerogative of changing her mind, blonde Muriel Morris said today she had decided not to marry radio and film comedian Richard (Red) Skelton after all.

"It was just a case of me changing my mind," declared the actress. "But I must admit there is also someone el in my life."

She and Skelton obtained a marriage license last Friday, and indicated they intended to be wed within a few days.

At his studio Skelton was strictly on the uncommunicative side, but did admit that the engagement was off.

Miss Morris, known on the screen as Muriel Chase, denied reports that she had objected to continuance of Edna Skelton, Red's divorced wife, as his manager and gag writer.

Skelton is classified 1-A in the draft, and subject to induction.

Charlotte Greenwood To Replace Bob Hope In Summer Vacation

NEW YORK, April 10 (AP)—The seasonal change in program makeup in preparation for spring and summer broadcasting has been productive of more developments.

When Bob Hope goes off for his regular 13-week vacation June 6, his Tuesday night series on NBC will be turned over to Comedienne Charlotte Greenwood, who has done comparatively little broadcasting. She will be in a comedy script titled "Miss Charlotte."

The coming Sunday is to have ready a couple of new ones. The opera auditions of the BLU, having ended another season, will be replaced by World of Song, in which previous audition winners will be guests. MBS is starting a quiz from Miami Beach, Fla., in which teams of Army Air force veterans will be contestants. It will be 2 p. m.

Sport Broadcaster Ted Husing is to be m.c. in a new CBS Saturday afternoon program," Visiting Hour," which has as its prime purpose the interviewing of soldiers at Army General hospitals in various parts of the country. The first date is April 29.

A planned dramatic series, "Arthur Hopkins Presents," originally set to open on NBC Wednesday night, has been postponed one week.

Instead of the usual District Attorney broadcast on Wednesday night at 8:30 NBC is to carry a talk by James F. Byrnes, director of the Office of War Mobilization, on "Transition From War to Peace." He will be addressing the Academy of Political Science in New York.

Rains Have Added To East Texas Problems

Bartz predicted that the difficulties would be overcome and that East Texas "will maintain its contribution to the nation's wartime food demands."

Leaders Watch Primaries In Two Mid-West States Today

BY HOWARD FLIEGER
Associated Press Staff Writer

The nation gets another look today at the presidential vote-appeal of two Republicans in uniform—Gen. Douglas MacArthur and Lt. Com. Harold E. Stassen—but the outcome will have no binding influence on the party's choice of a nominee.

MacArthur is entered without his authorization in an Illinois presidential preference primary against Riley Bender, Chicago real estate man.

Stassen is in the Nebraska preference primary without opposition. Wendell L. Willkie's name is on the ballot but it lost its meaning when he gave up pursuit of the presidential nomination after last week's Wisconsin defeat.

Neither Vote Binding

In neither Illinois nor Nebraska will the result of the popular vote be binding upon national convention delegates from the two states. But backers of MacArthur and Stassen thumped for a big vote turnout, each hopeful the result would start a pre-convention boom rolling out of the mid-west for their choice. Stassen won four delegates in last week's Wisconsin voting, and MacArthur got three.

Advance indications were for a light vote, however, in both states. Illinois expected a turnout of about half the four billion registered voters. Nebraska expected a vote lighter than 1942's subnormal 219,356 ballots.

In the absence of any important Democratic presidential contests in the two states, politicians watched for the total vote to see if it would give any indication of comparative strength between Republican and Democratic sentiment. Republicans predicted they would get 60 per cent of the vote cast in Illinois.

Favorite Son Move

As for the actual election of delegates, Senator Butler (R--Neb) predicted in Washington that a Nebraska delegate slate backing Gov. Dwight Griswold as a favorite son will come in ahead of a Stassen group. Republicans will pick 15 delegates and the Democrats 12, with four-term enthusiasts apparently in command of the latter posts.

Of the 80 Republican delegate candidates entered in Illinois for the 50 places to be filled, six have expressed a preference for Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, three for Gov. John W. Bricker of Ohio, two for MacArthur and one each for Gov. Dwight H. Green, Henry J. Kaiser and Col. Robert R. McCormick, editor and publisher of the Chicago Tribune.

SLAVS SMASH ATTACKS

LONDON, April 10 (AP)—Yugoslav partisans have smashed renewed German thrusts toward the stronghold of Mrkonjicgrad, recently seized by the army of liberation in the Jajce sector of western Bosnia, a communique from the headquarters of Marshal Josip Broz (Tito) announced today.

Abilene Man Heads North Texas Typos

In the semi-annual session in Lubbock Sunday of the North Texas Typographical conference, M. M. Jones of Abilene, was elected president of the organization and Abilene was named the host city for the October meeting.

Approximately 50 delegates from a dozen North and Northwest Texas cities were in attendance.

L. J. Liggett of Dallas was elected vice president and Clyde Tittle of Wichita Falls was re-elected secretary-treasurer. Jones was vice president until his elevation to the presidency Sunday.

The conference opened at 9:30 o'clock Sunday morning in the Knights of Pythias lodge hall, in the basement at 1107 Avenue K. Joe S. Collins of Fort Worth, formerly of Lubbock, presided as president. Tom Carter of Lubbock was master of ceremonies. Welcome talks were given by C. W. Ratliff, managing editor of the Avalanche-Journal; and A. E. Jones, president of ITU local No. 888. Jones responded. J. B. Sparkman of Houston, ITU representative, and Collins were other speakers.

Approximately 60 persons attended a banquet at noon.

The afternoon was taken up in a business session, adjournment coming at 4 o'clock.

American families increased their aggregate holdings of life insurance by $8,700,000,000 during last year.

Tax Receipts To Reduce Deficit

WASHINGTON, April 10 (AP)—Indications today were that the anticipated net deficit in government funds for the fiscal year 1944 may be reduced by about $1,500,000,000, due to unprecedented tax receipts.

The net deficit predicted in the President's annual budget message was placed at $58,090,000,000, but Treasury spokesmen indicated that the figure may shrink to as low as $56,500,000,000, due principally to heavy receipts on April 15 tax declarations.

Receipts Running Ahead

Receipts are running far ahead of estimates, Treasury statements for the first nine months showed.

Net Treasury income for the fiscal year originally was estimated at $41,196,000,000. In the first nine months, however, the Treasury received $31,865,000,000, or $980,000,000 more than three quarters of the estimated total for the year.

The President's budget message estimated individual income tax payments would total $19,000,000,000 for the year. For the first three quarters a total of $14,500,000,000 has gone into Treasury coffers, leaving only another $4,500,000,000 to be paid in the next three months to round out the estimate.

A Treasury spokesman said the $19,000,000,000 figure would be surpassed, possibly by $1,000,000,000.

Inducted Official Can Retain His Office

AUSTIN, April 10. (AP)—A county attorney who is inducted into military service can keep his office, the attorney general's office today advised the county attorney of Kleberg county, who expects induction May 1.

The ruling also held that he would be entitled to his pay of $125 a month and that arrangements could be made, with approval of the county commissioners, to pay an assistant out of fees of office.

State School Superintendent L. A. Woods was advised that his ex-officio position of secretary of the state board of education does not authorize him to employ persons to keep a record of the vocational education division.

Control of the division has been in dispute between the superintendent and the board of education for some time.

Whisky Distribution Assured By Ruling

PEORIA, Ill., April 10 (AP)—Federal Judge J. Leroy Adair entered an order today assuring distribution of 237,000 barrels of American Distilling company whisky to stockholders of the company at cost price.

His order, mailed to the federal court clerk and opened today, enjoined any stockholder from interfering with administration of the unusual plan of Gilbert B. Geiger, trustee of the company, to distribute its huge stock of whisky, estimated as the fifth largest stock in the country and stored mostly in the firm's principal plant at Pekin, Ill.

The order also restrained anyone from bringing suit against validity of the trust indenture which provides the distribution plan.

Buy War Bonds Every Pay Day . . . Consult Your Eye Physician (Oculist) Once A Year

FATHER or SON
Which Needs Good Eyesight More?

The answer is simple. Both need it. In fact good eyesight is just about the most important thing in the world to both. Father is the breadwinner—he needs good eyesight day in and day out to stay on top of his job. Headaches and eyestrain mean inefficiency on the job—irritability at home.

Growing boys and girls need clear vision equally as much. Bad eyesight and eye habits mean failing marks at school—inability to get along with classmates—grief later on. The fortunate thing is that good eyesight is within the reach of all. A visit to your oculist will reveal the truth about your eyesight.

Consult your oculist (eye physician) for the examination of your eyes. His medical knowledge and skill in refraction assures you of the best that science can offer.

Mr. Walter Danz and Mr. Karl Haller will be in our office Thursday, April 27, for the purpose of making glass and plastic artificial eyes.

These men work by appointment only from 9 a. m. to 6 p. m. Phone for an appointment.

FDR's Health Trip Dispels Churchill Meeting Reports

BY JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, April 10—President Roosevelt has gone South for a much needed rest in the sunshine and White House announcement of the fact today apparently dispelled reports that the chief executive was planning a meeting with Prime Minister Churchill in the immediate future.

The burst of official publicity on the chief executive's trip, when virtually every move he has made in wartime has been guarded with utmost secrecy, occasioned more comment than did the trip itself.

Trip Was Expected

The journey has been expected. Vice Admiral Ross T. McIntire, Navy surgeon general and the President's physician, told a news conference last Tuesday that the President's condition is good considering that he has suffered during the winter from influenza, sinus infections, bronchitis and a head cold. McIntire said what Mr. Roosevelt needed is exactly what he has gone south to get—a rest in the sunshine.

The White House announcement of the trip was even explicit to the extent of saying Mr. Roosevelt will be away about two weeks, "unless some unexpected emergency arises which would compel him to return at an earlier date."

Speculation Continues

Those who habitually examine every Washington development for some hidden significance looked at today's announcement to determine its bearing on the Churchill - Roosevelt conference speculation. The trip apparently means that any conference with Churchill in the immediate future is out.

The chief executive was accompanied by Vice Admiral McIntire, Admiral William D. Leahy, his personal chief of staff; Rear Admiral Wilson Brown, naval aide, and Major General Edwin M. Watson, military aide and secretary.

Airline Service

the first test runs over the new route within a few days, said Drinkwater. He said that the board here might pass the question back to AAF headquarters at Fort Worth for a final decision after it has been reviewed here.

Army public relations officers said the AAF office in Texas had disapproved Continental's proposed San Angelo stop for two reasons: that it would interfere with the training of cadets, and that it would add considerable responsibility to the duties of the commanding officer of the field.

Drinkwater said construction of a radio station and depot for airline passengers had been started at Concho Field, but that work had been halted until a decision is reached as to whether his company can operate there.

Commanding Officer Among Crash Victims

SAVANNAH, Ga., April 10 (AP)—Colonel Lucius B. Banning, base commanding officer at Hunter Field, Ga., and six other airmen from the air base were killed Sunday when their medium bomber crashed nine miles northwest of Hartselle, Ala., the Hunter field public relations office announced today.

Col. Manning, former vice-president of American Airlines and a director of Consolidated Aircraft, recently was appointed commanding officer of the Third Air Force staging wing.

Others victims of the mishap were Capt. Arthur J. Graits of Seattle, Wash.; Capt. Howard L. Hardy, La Harpe, Kansas; Lt. Hugh L. Williams of McGehee, Ark.; Staff Sgt. John W. Haney, Buffalo, N. Y.; Pvt. John J. Bailey, Trenton, N. J. and Sgt. James R. Smith, St. Marie, Idaho.

The announcement said the cause of the accident was unknown; but it was understood the plane ran into electrical storms just prior to the accident.

News Briefs

West Texans listed as wounded in action in a War Department announcement Monday included Pfc Robert A. Gilbreath of Lockney, Pvt. J. J. McDonald of Stanford, Sgt. Melvin K. Roach of Lubbock, Pfc. Thomas C. Short of Crowell, Mediteranean area; and Sgt. Marion T. Burrus of Levelland, Southwest Pacific area.

Two 18-year-old youths, one from Muleshoe and the other from Amarillo, here Monday to take pre-induction physical examinations, were arrested by highway patrolmen early last night near Abernathy less than an hour after an automobile parked at Broadway and Avenue G was missed. Police said Mrs. C. A. Thompson of Levelland reported theft of the car.

Mrs. J. B. Fox, of Lubbock route 2, received slight injuries about 7 o'clock Monday night when the car in which she was riding was in collision with an ice truck at Washington Avenue and Elm street. Raymond Land, deputy sheriff, who investigated the accident, said the Fox car, driven by Mr. Fox, was hit in the side by the truck, which he stated was driven by Billy Joe Hood, 17, of 2127 First street.

Kraut aint exactly dead sober, either, because he takes a big swing and stumbles over on his face and before he can get up I put five slugs in him.

"He wasn't sober, but he was dead, alright," concluded Pfc. Rockefeller.

Which was all right, but he didn't get any more sleep that night and he is very bitter because it seems almost impossible sometimes to get a good night's sleep at the front.

"Tough Stuff" Tickets

Beachhead chaplains are carrying a special "tough stuff" ticket these days which they issue to guys with complaints about which nothing can be done.

Some of the tickets have six and others have seven places. They are labeled "T S Cards" or "T S Tickets," the full meaning of the abbreviation being understood by all concerned.

One ticket says "this slip entitles the bearer to 15 minutes of crying time on a chaplain's shoulder for each question punched below."

The complaint section below consists of routine gripes, such as "chow is rotten . . . No mail from home . . . Girl married a 4F-er . . . Got busted for nothing . . . I'm being sent to a line company . . . The tactics are all wrong . . . I want to go home . . ."

Said one chaplain with a grin, "I just tired of not being able to do anything about such complaints, so I rigged up the cards. Now I just hand the guy a ticket, unch it solemnly and pretty soon he's getting tickled in spite of himself and forgets his gripe, for a while at least."

Flowers Followed By Death Message

NEW YORK, April 10 (AP)—Mrs. Michael F. Murphy answered her doorbell to accept an Easter bouquet from her son, 1st Lt. William Murphy, a fighter pilot decorated in North Africa and Italy and later assigned to California as an instructor.

Several minutes later, while she was arranging the flowers, the doorbell rang again. She was handed a telegram from the War department saying her 24-year-old son had been killed in a crash at Santa Rosa, Calif.

Thomas Indicted

isn't possible!"

But there was the evidence and Sheriff Sam Hutson of Lamb county, Ranger Capt. Maney Gault and many other officers started in pursuit of the killer.

They had little to go on. Thomas was well known to West Texas, as a stocky, strong, violent-tempered jailbird with a criminal record reaching back to 1917 and which included a long term in the Nebraska state prison. The officers also knew that someone had tried to put Dr. Hunt out of the way on May 21, 1942. The prominent physician and member of a pioneer family was shot twice on a lonely road on a May night, but he survived his wounds.

Newton Convicted

That shooting resulted in the trial of Dr. William R. Newton, equally prominent Cameron, Tex., physician, for assault with intent to murder. Dr. Newton was convicted and sentenced to seven years in prison, but his conviction was reversed and the case remanded for new trial on grounds of "improper evidence." Mrs. Newton was charged similarly but illness prevented her trial with her husband last summer.

Dr. Hunt testified at the trial that he and Dr. Newton were classmates at medical school in Galveston, and that both of them interned in Houston, where they met a nurse who later became Mrs. Newton.

On the morning of the Hunt slayings, as he first read newspaper accounts of it, Dr. Newton appeared stunned, exclaiming "My God!" when he read the gruesome details.

"I am terribly sorry it happened," he said. "I have never had any ill-feeling toward the man."

Thomas Arrested At Galveston

Jim Thomas was arrested in Galveston a day after the slayings. He had been in the island city on parole from the state penitentiary. He was returned to Lubbock. Sheriff Hutson and Capt. Gault met a stonewall when they questioned the suspect. He turned their questions with innocent answers and amused indifference. They asked if he wanted to make a statement and he said "yes."

For two hours he dictated a story of his recent activities, carefully establishing an alibi for the three days which ended in the slayings. The statement finished, Hutson suggested that Thomas sign it, as is customary. Thomas laughingly declined to do so, a trick which nullified the legal value of the document.

The officers dropped their quizzing of the convict, who had nonchalantly let them know he was ready for more questioning whenever they were. Hutson and Gault, working with other Rangers, sheriffs and with state police, moved south in pursuit of clues and evidence. They went to Waco, Temple, Houston, Galveston. Evidence was studied by other officers at Austin and Dallas.

Russian Advances

sealed off there last Nov. 1 when Tolbukhin's forces hurled them back from Melitopol on the mainland.

The bulletin announced simultaneous attacks on the Perekop isthmus at the northwestern corner of the peninsula and the Sivash bay on the northeast.

The Russians broke through heavily-fortified enemy defenses in the Perekop area and struck 12.4 miles southward through Armyansk and other villages to reach the Ishuny area at the base of the Perekop isthmus, said the bulletin, recorded by the Soviet monitor from a Moscow broadcast.

Near Open Plains

To the east the Russians forced the Sivash bay to reach its southern shore, thus also reaching the major enemy defenses guarding the open plains of the huge peninsula whose coast lies 110 miles southeast of captured Odessa.

Aside from inflicting 6,500 casualties on the Axis troops in two days, the Russians said Tolbukhin's men also destroyed 44 Nazi tanks and 21 aircraft, and captured 91 guns, 54 mortars, 337 machineguns and 2,686 rifles.

The Red flag was unfurled over Odessa, Russia's seventh largest city, only 25 hours after Russian troops had reached a point three miles from the former Soviet Black sea naval base.

Long Occupation Ends

Capture of the city, ruined in a siege of two months in 1941 when Soviet soldiers, sailors and workers battled hopelessly in the muck and debris in the first of the series of epic defenses of Russian cities, came after 905 days of iron-handed enemy occupation and was announced by Marshal Joseph Stalin in one of his triumphant orders of the day.

But the Germans already had acknowledged a precipitate flight from the city which seemed to signal a complete withdrawal of Adolf Hitler's legions from the last inch of southern Russia and the beginning of a crucial new Nazi stand in the Galati gap—the 50-mile Rumanian plain between the marshy Danube estuary and the Carpathians.

It is estimated that the 1944 soy bean crop in the United States will be about 242,500,000 bushels

STOCK TRADING LAGS

NEW YORK, April 10 (AP)—Slack buying centered on rails and, assorted industrials in today's stock market while many leaders were unable to attarct worthwhile support.

Timid demand apparently was based on actual and prospective earnings, cheering Russian war news and a further revival of domestic political hopes. There were handicaps, however, in a little tax liquidation to obtain April 15 tax requirements. Nervousness over the approach of the second front in Europe again served to stall investment funds. Some accounts were reinstated because of the belief the recent technical reaction may have run its course.

Trends turned somewhat shaky after a steady and rather active start. Sinclair Oil, with a pleasing income summary, came out in blocks of 1,000 to 10,000 shares, up a shade at 1944 peak. It later subsided and finished all even at 12⅛. Gains and losses of fractions were pretty well divided at the close.

The Associated Press 60-stock average was up .1 of a point at 52.3. Of 827 issues appearing, 291 were up, 298 down and 238 unchanged. Transfers of 565,570 shares compared with 757,680 in the preceding full session.

Ahead were Santa Fe, Atlantic Coast Line, Southern Pacific, U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Western Union "A," Philip Morris, Oliver Farm and American Can. Westinghouse slipped, along with Chrysler, Consolidated Edison, U. S. Rubber, General Electric, Anaconda and Dow Chemical.

NEW YORK, April 10 (AP)—The cotton market rallied today, closing with gains of from 35 to 55 cents a bale.

Camacho Attack

artillery lieutenant, waited in the "patio of honor" of the palace until the president arrived a little before 10 a. m. He saluted as the president's black, closed car entered the patio and stopped.

As the president left his car, the assailant advanced and saluted again. The president, thinking he wanted to speak to him, waited until the man was near. The man drew a .45 caliber automatic and fired one shot. The bullet pierced the president's coat and vest at the level of the chest, but did not touch him.

Seized By President

Before the man could fire again, the president seized him and disarmed him. The president then ordered the man brought to his office and himself took him by an arm. President Avila Camacho, his doctor who came to the palace with him, guards and the prisoner all rode the elevator together to the presidential offices.

The president questioned the man about the reasons for the attempt. Later the man was turned over to military authorities and the president continued with his list of appointments for the day.

The attempted assassination of Camachio, who led his country into war against the Axis, was the first of its kind in more than 12 years. Previously an almost exactly similar attempt was made against President Pascual Ortiz Rubio when he returned from taking his oath of office. As he left his car an assailant fired one shot which wounded him in the cheek.

Odds against four perfect hands being dealt at a bridge table are 158,000,000 to one.

Marauder Forays

Nazis threw their coastal fighter defenses into action. Escorting fighters shot down seven. Some 40 enemy planes were destroyed on the ground and those shot down by the bombers remained to be tabulated.

American losses for the day were four fighters and three bombers.

Many other targets besides those listed felt the sting of the American attack. Among them was the Hasselt railway yards due east of Brussels which were strafed by Mustang fighters. Marauder mediums and Thunderbolt fighter-bombers had hit them Saturday.

The heavy formations struck in clear weather and were home before noon. But long before that a force of about 200 Marauder mediums began a swift series of attacks against military objectives on the northern coast of France.

They bombed in 11 waves at 20 minute intervals and spent an average of only two minutes over enemy territory. Flak was intense but the bombers apparently exploded several ammunition dumps. Neither the Marauders nor their escort suffered loss.

Child At Play Sets Fire To Her Home

A frightened little girl inadvertently started a fire which resulted in considerable damage early Monday afternoon to the C. F. Young residence at 2519 Ruby street, firemen said.

Firemen stated that Mrs. Young had stepped out of the house when the Youngs' small daughter, curious, put a small stick to a stove flame. She became frightened when the stick caught fire and threw it in a waste basket.

Firemen said about half the roof was burned away and that serious damage was done to two rooms and their contents.

Mexican Shot When He Draws On Police

Manuel Pena, 45, Mexican, was in a critical condition in Lubbock General hospital early today of bullet wounds he received in a shooting affray with City Policemen Charley Street and Bill Brooks.

The officers, according to Chief of Police Don Reeder, said Pena drew a pistol out of his pocket and fired at them as they directed him into a patrol car for a trip to the police station. Pena was shot through the [illegible]en, the slug going entirely through his [illegible] and was hit again in the back, the bullet lodging near his [illegible]ine. The policemen reportedly were not hit.

Texas Swings Into Line In Delaying Older Men's Calls

(By The Associated Press)

Texas swung into line in the national draft picture Monday, complying with the Selective Service order to postpone induction of all men 26 years of age and over who are engaged in essential or war supporting industries until all those under that age have been processed.

A general comment among draft board members over the state was that the new order would result in failure to meet quotas.

Some boards, which had not yet received the new order, halted all inductions until they received the official order for study.

Some Are Volunteers

Tarrant county board members said those scheduled for induction tomorrow probably would go ahead because the men were volunteers or had quit their jobs but that the new rule would be invoked on all subsequent calls. At Fort Worth, draft board clerks believed the rule would postpone induction of older eligible men 30 to 60 days longer than formerly expected if normal percentages of those under 26 pass their pre-induction physicals.

Dallas boards were quickly reviewing individual cases of men over 26 who already had been called for induction or physicals.

In Austin Sunday, Gen. J. Watt Page, state selective service director, said effective Monday, no man over 26 within the scope of the new order would be inducted, even though they had been ordered up for induction.

Sent For Physicals

Bexar county draft boards sent 200 men, most of them over 26, to Dodd Field for their physicals today but members said their induction probably would be delayed. San Antonio draft officials commented that younger men now working at local Army installations in civilian jobs may have to be drafted to take the places of older men.

Hidalgo boards said their supply of men below 26 was virtually gone and that men needed in agriculture and related industries already were deferred. The Edinburg board reported its supply of all men was nearing exhaustion.

Laredo boards expected to meet quotas from men under 26 and those over that age not in essential work.

Little Effect At Wichita

Wichita Falls said the new rule would not affect matters there because men in essential work already were deferred and that increased induction of younger men was not imminent. McClennan county boards felt little change in present procedure would result from the new order.

At Marshall, draft boards said they were postponing indefinitely induction of men in war industries and farming and would halt induction of men already ordered to report for service this and next week.

The Plainview board said only a few men under 26 were in essential industry there. Big Spring was holding up inductions pending official receipt of the directive.

Gray county did not expect the directive to affect meeting of quotas. Corsicana predicted not many prospective inductees would be affected.

Harris county boards were sending notices to registrants deferred by the order who previously had been notified to report for induction or physical examination.

Most Corpus Christi boards declared the order would affect their meeting April quotas.

In announcing the new order Saturday, national selective service officials said the need of the Army and Navy for younger men outweighed the necessity of filling quotas.

South And West Gain Population

WASHINGTON, April 10 (AP)—Population shifts, including both civilians and fighting men and women, added more than 2,500,000 residents to the south and west portions of this country between July 1, 1940, and July 1, 1942, while the north central and northeastern states were losing 450,000.

The continental United States during the same period gained 2,101,225 persons to attain a total population of 133,770,500, an increase of 1.6 per cent for the two years.

Five Score Heavy Gains

The census bureau reported these facts today along with statistics showing that of 29 states which gained in population, five—Virginia, Florida, Arizona, Nevada and California—scored increases of more than 10 per cent. The District of Columbia jumped by 30.5 per cent for the largest proportionate increase, to a total of 865,230, while California had the largest numerical gain, by 775,361 to 7,182,148.

North Dakota suffered the largest loss on a percentage basis, 8.9 per cent, and five others—South Dakota, Nebraska, Oklahoma, Montana and Idaho—lost more than 5 per cent.

New York Hardest Hit

New York was hardest hit numerically, dropping 508,848 residents to a 12,970,294 total.

The bureau said its estimates were based partly on ration book registrations, partly on birth and death statistics since the April, 1940, census, with allowance for net immigration and for strength of the armed forces.

Members of the armed forces stationed outside the continental United States were excluded from the statistics.

The bureau's estimates of populations by areas and states as of July 1 in 1940 and 1942 included:

Arkansas	1,953,480	1,980,645
Louisiana	2,370,808	2,548,317
Oklahoma	2,333,208	2,212,759
Texas	6,423,577	6,702,931

Archaeological Find Is Reported In Mexico

MEXICO CITY, April 10 (AP)—Discovery in southerna Oaxaca state of a cave one-fourth mile long laden with archaeological treasures was reported today by Higinio Vazquez Santana, catholic priest who was a member of an expedition of 60 persons to the region.

Near the cave the ruins of a pyramid were discovered.

Inside the cave, situated near Acatlan de Perez, the expedition found idols, pottery, stone figures of dogs and pigs, a whistle, and other objects.

The discoveries are attributed to the Zapotec civilization of tropical Mexico.

Bolivia was once known as upper Peru.

Lambert Makes Bond In Bank Raid Case

Bill Lambert who, with Jimmy Leroy Pennick, has been held here on a federal charge in connection with the Jan. 5, 1942, robbery of the Sudan First National bank, was released from the county jail late Saturday upon posting $5,000 bond, according to Mrs. Olive Fluke, U. S. commissioner of the Lubbock division of the northern district of Texas.

The pair was released from upon completion of their terms and were immediately taken into custody by federal authorities and brought here.

Pennick had previously been released from the county jail after posting similar bond, she said.

GOOD NEWS FROM THE PRODUCTION FRONT

A REPORT TO THE NATION

on General Motors 1943 War Activities

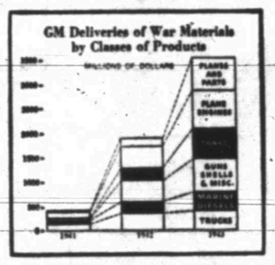

★ Physical volume of war materials produced was more than double that of 1942.
★ Total value of 1943 war production more than 3 billion, 500 million dollars.
★ Average total employment 448,848, an all-time high.
★ Total payrolls more than 1 billion, 300 million dollars—up 54%.
★ Materials and services purchased from others approximately 1 billion, 900 million dollars—up 88%.
★ Net income after taxes from manufacturing operations—3⅗ cents per dollar of sales.

PRODUCTION

GENERAL MOTORS 1943 deliveries of war material rose to a total value of more than 3½ billion dollars, or about 87% more than in 1942. The increase in physical volume was even greater, since unit prices were reduced during the year. Deliveries of service parts and other authorized civilian material amounted to $250,000,000, a decrease of about 30% from 1942.

At the time of Pearl Harbor, G.M. deliveries of war products were at a rate of two million dollars' worth a day. By the end of 1943 the daily rate was above twelve million dollars. The 2,300 separate items placed in production ranged from small and delicate parts to airplane engines, complete airplanes, tanks, and powerful Diesel engines for submarines and landing craft.

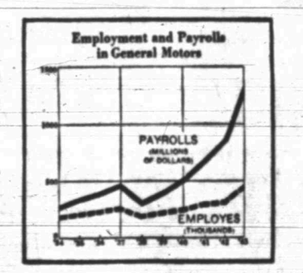

EMPLOYMENT

AVERAGE EMPLOYMENT in General Motors in 1943 was 448,848, an all-time high. The figure stood at 503,749 in December. In 1942, the yearly average was 314,144, and the December figure was 391,975. Thus the increase in yearly average was 43%. At the same time, payrolls rose 54%, and reached a total of about 1¾ billion dollars.

More than 200,000 new G.M. employes were trained for war work in 1943. Enrollment in courses for supervisors and executives totaled 21,500.

The percentage of working time lost because of accidents was less in 1943 than ever before.

PRICES AND PROFITS

TOTAL NET INCOME after taxes in 1943 from war output and other sources was $149,780,088, compared to $163,651,588 in 1942 and $201,652,508 in 1941. Net income after taxes from manufacturing in 1943 was only 3⅗ cents per dollar of total net sales.

93% of all war material delivered to the end of 1943 was manufactured under fixed-price contracts. General Motors early adopted the policy of reducing prices to the government as lower costs were achieved through greater experience. The government benefited many millions of dollars by these reductions in 1943. Taxes in 1943 totaled $308,068,000, of which federal taxes were $254,783,000; social security and unemployment insurance taxes, $39,263,000, and state and local taxes, $14,022,000. Common stock dividends were $2 per share in 1943. They were also $2 in 1942, $3.75 in 1941 and 1940, $3.50 in 1939.

The year 1943 was one of great effort and sound achievement in General Motors. The job is not yet done. All are determined to contribute to the utmost toward final victory. When this is accomplished, there will be the task of preparing for the requirements of peace. But until that time "Victory is Our Business!"

IN 1943 GENERAL MOTORS FACTORY EMPLOYES submitted 123,000 written suggestions for improving production or working conditions. 25,400 ideas were accepted. Cash value of war bond and stamp awards for same, $955,000.

NEARLY 86,000 G.M. MEN AND WOMEN HAVE ENTERED THE ARMED FORCES

By the end of 1943 more than 10,000 veterans had been given employment by G. M. Nearly half of them were employes who had been on military leave of absence; the remainder had never before worked for G. M.

Three Men Injured In Shooting Affray

WAXAHACHIE, April 10 (AP)—Three men—two of them deputy sheriffs—were in a local hospital today as a result of wounds suffered in a pitched battle in Ellis county yesterday.

The officers had gone to the farm of Albert Barlow, of Maypearl, to investigate Mitchell J. Carter of Arlington, who allegedly had beaten up his father and taken the latter's gun. Carter also was said to have taken an automobile off an Arlington street to make the trip to Maypearl.

Carter was shot in the hand and forehead. Deputy Sheriff Bill Gibson received a serious wound in the abdomen and both of Deputy Dave Fearis' arms were broken by shots.

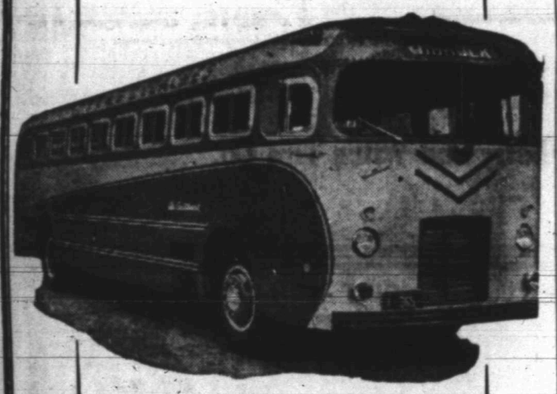

District Attorney C. C. Randle has said that charges of assault to murder and car theft will be filed against Carter.

U.S. Soldiers In England Said Behaving Splendidly

(Goebbels is always broadcasting to America warning the womenfolk that their men are being corrupted by British women, and at the same time he tries to convince Tommies overseas that their homefolk are hard beset by drunken American men. This is the story of a British girl, who formerly lived and worked in the United States, about the truth of the matter.)

By BARBARA WACE
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, April 10.—If American wives and mothers could have a quiet talk with the United States provost-marshal in Britain they might worry less about their sons and husbands over here. For Major General M. A. Reckord, who knows the worst, says that the Army is behaving splendidly.

"They said all the same things about immorality and drunkenness among American soldiers when we were in France in the last war—and they were no truer than they are today," he said. "Of course, it's a difficult problem when a great number of men are transplanted to the United Kingdom, which is about the same size as North Carolina. But I do feel that the training the men have had and which they are still receiving has produced real results, and that the behaviour of the men as a whole—of course with a few exceptions, as the Army here represents a cross-section of the entire United States — has been splendid. We have had very little trouble."

Drunkenness Almost Nil

General Reckord added: "Drunkenness is almost nil, except in a few places.'

Some soldiers on leave do sometimes take too much. They would anywhere else. But liquor in Britain is increasingly scarce, and in many rural districts you can buy only one glass an evening. Even the weak, war-time beer is hard to get, and "no more" notices appear in many British "pubs" long before closing time.

White-helmeted, white-spatted U. S. M. P.'s patrolling London are quick on the job, and GHI's who have celebrated too well are taken out of the way of prostitutes and gold diggers, who are found in London as in every big city where troops congregate.

Piccadilly was admittedly a scandal in the first months of the American "invasion." Young girls, out for a good time, mingled with professional streetwalkers and badgered the groups of American soldiers, up to see the sights. British authorities were scandalized, and juvenile courts were filled with fourteen and fifteen year olds.

"As far as conditions in Piccadilly are concerned, we have every evidence of a very great and material improvement," said General Reckord.

Deal With Publicans

Magistrates have been dealing severely with publicans who serve under age girls and boys.

Furloughs in London are based on accommodations in Red Cross clubs. Each Army district is allocated a certain number of vacancies in clubs, and theoretically at least only a corresponding number of men are allowed overnight leaves, plus any who can show evidence elsewhere. The Army says that on the whole, it works very well.

Venereal Disease Is Low

Almost every American soldier wants to come to London. But most of them don't have that much leave. Most of them are so busy that they're really living in the ETO (European Theater of Operations) and not in England.

Army people say that figures for venereal disease in the Army are much lower than was expected.

There can be no figures to refute the German allegation that British homes are being broken up by United States soldiers, but competent British authorities say no.

Hasty Marriages Discouraged

As for reports that British girls are trying to catch American husbands to escape the inevitable period of dislocation in Europe after the war, it has been said authoritatively that it is unlikely they will run to more than three or four per cent in the European theater. Every effort is made to discourage hasty marriages.

On the whole, the American soldier is a transient in the United Kingdom, with neither the time nor desire for lasting attachments.

Drys Win Voting In Gaines 979 To 769

SEMINOLE, April 10, (Special)—County Judge A. J. Roach said tonight the complete unofficial vote in Saturday's Gaines county election was 979 to 769 to terminate legal sale of beer and wines.

The county commissioners court will meet Thursday to canvass returns, according to law, and Gaines county's dry status will become operative 30 days from the date of the court's order declaring election results. Judge Roach said.

Gaines country had been a sectional "oasis" several years, having legalized sale of beer and wines in 1940.

Fourteen of the 15 voting boxes of Gaines county conducted the election, Judge Roach said. It was apparent Saturday night, when returns had been received from 12 boxes and stood 901 to 746 in favor of a dry status, that results from unreported boxes could not change the picture.

PIGGLY WIGGLY "A GOOD PLACE TO TRADE"

If Pitching Is The Ticket, Count Sens In The Series

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLLEGE PARK, Md., April 10 (AP)—If you figure all-around pitching strength is enough to tell the story in this third wartime baseball year, you can order your World series tickets right now from the Washington Senators. But if you insist on an air-tight infield with power at the plate, you'd better look elsewhere.

Washington has the best "paper" pitching staff in the American league, a weak-hitting infield with a big gap at third base, good first line catching and a good outfield.

Have Fancy Heavers

When the lights go on again at Griffith stadium, the four deep knuckle ball staff will start showing the rest of the loop their own baseball version of "Mairzy Doats." Dutch Leonard, Roger Wolff, Mickey Meafner and Johnny Niggeling figure to make a 43-night home stand pretty much of a nightmare for the opposition with their dipsy-doodle stuff under the arcs.

Add Early Wynn, Milo Candini and durable Alex Carrasquel and you have the makings of a tough pitching staff in any year.

Manager Ossie Bluege also has Lefty Wilfrid Lefebvre, a 12-game winner at Minneapolis, and Santiago Ullrich, a Venezuelan who starred in the Cuban winter league.

Third Is Vulnerable

Third base is the weak spot in the infield which has the veteran Joe Kuhel back from Chicago at first base, George Myatt at second and Johnny Sullivan at short. Cuban Luis Suarez and Hillis Layne have been splitting the hot corner work. Suarez proved to be a fancy fielder but there is doubt about his hitting. Layne probably will get the "milk leg" that caused his discharge from the Army.

First Baseman Eddie Butka, husky rookie from Springfield, Mass., has shown promise at bat.

To handle the knuckle ball throwers, Griff brought Rick Ferrell back from the St. Louis Browns. Rick figures to do most of the catching although Mige Guerra, stocky Havana native with minor league experience, has impressed as the No. 2 man.

LITWHILER CALLED

ST. LOUIS, April 10 (AP)—Outfielder Danny Litwhiler of the St. Louis Cardinals has been ordered to Jefferson barracks for an Army physical examination April 18, the day the Cardinals open their major league schedule here with Pittsburgh.

One Horse Hogs Spotlight After Grooms Strike

NEW YORK, April 10 (AP)—The first race at Jamacia became a one-horse, non-betting event today when the grooms refused to lead the horses into the paddock until the owners met their demands for payment of $5 to take the thoroughbreds to the saddling arena and $15 in event the horse won.

With the grooms refusing to take the horses to and from the paddocks, Trainer Jimmy Ritchie himself led C. F. Kohler's star of Padula to the area. After it was announced that all money wagered on the race would be refunded. Star of Padula went to the post and merely jogged through the six furlongs.

In the past only the grooms of the winner has received payment and that was $10.

The walk-over was the first in the United States since Whirlaway's opposition failed to show up in the 1942 Pimlico special.

Ray Robinson Stated Patient In Hospital

NEW YORK, April 10 (AP)—Major Robert Wilson, public relations officer for Halloran hospital, said today that Sgt. Walker Smith, known in boxing circles as Ray (Sugar) Robinson, was a patient at the hospital.

Army regulations, the officer added, did not permit him to say when the New York welterweight was admitted to the hospital nor the nature of his illness.

Tigers Are Brought Up To Full Strength

EVANSVILLE, Ind., April 10 (AP)—The Detroit Tigers reached full strength today with the arrival of Michael (Pinky) Higgins, who joined the squad in a 60-minute workout cut short by rain.

A scheduled exhibition game at George Field, Ill., was cancelled because of wet grounds and the workout substituted. The Tigers break camp tomorrow.

WAYNE RIDEOUT ACCEPTED

TYLER, April 10 (U.P.)—Wayne Rideout, assistant coach at Tyler High school, has passed a pre-induction physical examination and has been assigned to the Navy. Wayne and his brother, Blaine, former trackmen at North Texas State, accounted for two world track records. Blaine is in the Navy somewhere in the Pacific.

Majors Engage In 'Warm-Ups"

ATLANTIC CITY, April 10 (AP)—In a bleak contest that resembled an Easter Monday egg rolling contest more than it did a baseball game involving two major league teams, the New York Yankees today downed the New York Giants, 5 to 4. Each team got seven hits.

BAINBRIDGE, Mo., April 10 (AP)—Sparked by Stan Spence's four hits, the Washington Senators defeated the Bainbridge Naval Training station 7-4 in an exhibition game today. The Senators raked three sailor pitchers for 15 hits.

WILMINGTON, Del., April 10 (AP)—Southpaw Ken Raffensberger pitched a three-hit game to guide the Phillies to a 3-1 victory over the Boston Braves today.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., April 10 (AP)—Boston's American league Red Sox proved too much for Newark's International leaguers today and shut out the Bears 4 to 0 in an exhibition baseball game.

INDIANAPOLIS, April 10 (AP)—Max Butcher whitewashed the Cleveland Indians, 6 to 0, today in an abbreviated exhibition game which was ended by rain just as the Pittsburgh Pirates completed their half of the seventh inning.

Brooklyn Retains Pete Cawthon As Top Ringmaster

BROOKLYN, April 10 (AP)—Capt. Dan Topping of the U. S. Marine corps, today named Tom Gallery, Los Angeles sports promoter, vice-president and general manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers in the National football league.

Pete Cawthon, last year's coach and one-time Texas Tech coach at Lubbock has been retained for the 1944 season and has 46 players already under contract.

Topping is owner of the Brooklyn club.

Cubs' Wilson Picks Lead-Off Sluggers

FRENCH LICK, Ind., April 10 (AP)—Manager Jimmy Wilson of the Chicago Cubs said today he had definitely picked Don Johnson as leadoff hitter and second baseman.

Phil Cavarretta, first baseman, will bat second, with Outfielder Bill Nicholson, who last year belted 128 runs across the plate, hitting third.

The skeleton of the dome of the capitol at Washington is made of iron.

Rambling Along The Sports Trail

Close Exhibitions Point To Razor-Sharp Loop Contests

By WHITNEY MARTIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, April 10 (AP)—Sgt. Joe Smith, Somewhere, U. S. Army,

Dear Joe: They are still talking about you in the papers. At least, they're mentioning a second front all the time and the last time I saw you you really had one. That's how I knew you were in Italy, as they kept talking about the soft stomach we were attacking.

"Ill try to give you a few highlights on what's been going on in sports back here, and particularly that the baseball schedule is scheduled to open on schedule. I really can't tell you much about the teams, and I don't think anybody else can, even the managers.

Some think the St. Louis Cardinals will be a shoo-in in the National and that the Yanks will do well to finish in the first division in the American. Brooklyn has been hit pretty hard and Lippy Leo Durocher even had decided to play second base himself before he broke his thumb. He is bringing in Dixie Walker from the outfield to play third. They have three guys coaching Dixie, I suppose one telling him how to field, another how to throw, and the other explaining what the first two are trying to tell him.

The exhibition games on the whole have been pretty close, and that looks like good competition this year, regardless of the class. If they draft the 4-Fs for labor as they are talking of doing the races won't be close. They'll be closed, as there wouldn't be enough guys left to start a penny ante game.

I don't know whether I told you or not, but Utah is the unofficial basketball champion, and the rules have been changed to clip a few inches off the top of these flagpole guys who could flag a ball as it was dropped into a basket. They also will permit unlimited substitutions, which would be a break for you, as if anyone ever needed unlimited substitutions it was you.

They had a fight at the Garden the other night and Beau Jack was given the decision over Juan Zurita, the new NBA lightweight champion. The Beau has to hunt up a new home for awhile as the circus has moved into the Garden. He's practically lived there this winter, fighting main events. He's due for the Army before long, though, I understand, so it will be a home on the range. The rifle range, that is. Pretty good, huh?

Well, Joe, there isn't much more news. Keep plugging, and round up a couple of those Nazis for me. I'm doing my bit. I scowled at a dachshund the other day. Maybe I'll be able to tell you a little more about the baseball situation. It's a piece-work job. Connie Mack thinks his Athletics have a chance at the pennant, which just goes to show you how things are.

As ever, your pal—Whitney.

Watch For Fire Power In This Year's Derby

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 10 (AP)—There is always a lot of talk about how many entries actually will start in the Kentucky Derby, but none is more certain than Fire Power, if owner Neville Dunn has his way.

Dunn has promised that his brown colt from the blue grass will make the race, if only to please the officers and men of the 14th troop carrier squadron now stationed in Italy.

The outfit has been interested in the thoroughbred ever since its commanding officer, Major Lewis S. Frederick, Jr., of Shelbyville, Ky., sold it on the idea long before its departure for overseas. Frederick and Dunn are friends.

Enthusiasm for the agile son of Flint Shot-Little America became so great that members of the squadron voted to collect a pot to bet on their major's choice.

They raised so much money they decided to buy war bonds and when the buying was over they found themselves the owners of bonds valued at $8,650 and first place winner of a contest among bond-buying Army units overseas.

The major was so pleased with the confidence shown in the colt that he changed the name of his big transport from "Sure Thing" to "Fire Power." "There's no difference, anyhow" the major opines.

The boys rounded up some more money the next payday and Frederick hopes to be able to obtain leave around Derby time to fly here and place the bets personally.

Dunn says "Fire Power will go to the post if he has one good leg to stand on."

Al Smith Pulls Back Upstairs

CLEVELAND, April 10. (AP)—Al Smith was waived out of the National league five years ago but today he is the Cleveland Indians' mound ace and Manager Lou Boudreau's choice to hurl the season opener against the White Sox at Chicago April 18.

At 35 a man isn't supposed to be much of a pitcher but consider Smitty's accomplishments last year: He notched 17 victories and was beaten only seven times. Three of the triumphs were shutouts, two were two-hitters and two others were four-hitters. The aging left-hander made the American league's all-star team without the vote of his own manager and at the close of the season the Cleveland chapter of Baseball Writers association designated him the club's most valuable player.

Likes Tough Clubs

The veteran has been one of the Tribe's pitching mainstays from the day he was picked off the scrap heap at Buffalo and has demonstrated one quality which is shared by comparatively few pitchers—he's a fellow who beats the good ball clubs.

"Old Porky," as his teammates call him, turned away the Yankees three times in five starts last season. He had a perfect percentage over Chicago, Detroit, Philadelphia and Washington, and broke even in two tries against Boston. St. Louis was his jinx club. The Brownies bested Al each of the four times he appeared against them.

Smitty has lost much of his speed but has learned how to make the batter hit the ball he wants him to hit. The batters may get a base on balls but they won't get the ball they're hoping for.

The Bobo Shows Up, Just Like He Said

FREDERICK, Md., April 10 (AP)—Louis (Bobo) Newsom arrived in the Philadelphia Athletics' training camp today—the exact day he promised Connie Mack he would report.

Bobo went directly to the ball park for a talk with Mack. He did not put on a uniform, and did not sign a contract, but he said he would like to pitch in tomorrow's exhibition game against the Toronto Maple Leafs.

New Skull Fracture Treatment Is Tried

BY FRANK CAREY
Associated Press Science Writer

WASHINGTON, April 10 — Army neuro-surgeons at Walter Reed hospital have taken a tip from the glazier and developed a new technique for fixing skull fractures caused by battle wounds or violent accidents.

They are replacing extensive areas of shattered skull bone with tantalum metal plates that are "inlaid" on chiselled-out edges of uninjured bone and fastened with tiny triangular metal wedges—just as a new pane of glass is inserted in a window frame.

Tantalum, the blue-gray metal which has many properties of mild steel and apparently causes no ill reactions in the human body, has been used before to repair skull fractures. But the older technique was to lay the plate on top of the unbroken bone and sew it onto the skull remnants with metal thread.

The surgeons at Walter Reed said the older method sometimes resulted in the formation of an unsightly hump, due to the fact that the metal was raised above the normal contour of the skull. And they said plates that were sewed onto the top of the bone sometimes slipped, necessitating further surgery.

In the new method, the plate rests on ledges chiselled out of solid bone, so that the top of the metal is flush with the skull. Moreover, the surgeons said, the use of the tiny metallic wedges (also of tantalum) which are hammered into the bone at an angle through the plate, makes for greater firmness than heretofore.

20 TEAMS IN MEET

SAN ANTONIO, April 10 (AP)—Twenty teams already have entered the Alamo Heights invitation high school track and field meet scheduled Friday. The field includes the 1943 state champion, Austin, and Thomas Jefferson and Brackenridge, the two San Antonio teams expected to battle it out this year for the title. The strong Goose Creek team also is entered.

The island of Madagascar is nearly as large as the State of Texas.

Allies Sdid Agreed On Plans For Poles

LONDON, April 10 (AP) — The Sunday Times said yesterday Russia, Great Britain and the United States are agreed on the basic principles for dealing with the Polish peoples as soon as the Red army crosses the Curzon line and enters what Russia considers Poland proper.

Marshal Stalin will issue a manifesto to the Polish people as soon as the crossing is effected, the paper said, and in the future the basic principles contained therein will be "followed in manifestos issued by Russian-British-American forces advancing in pursuit of the Germans into enemy-occupied territory."

Invasion Barges Are Built Of Concrete

LONDON, April 10 (AP)—Invasion barges of concrete are now being built on a mass production basis along the English coast in a program designed to conserve steel.

The 128-ton craft, which are 84 feet long and 22 wide, are poured right at the water's edge and are launched by crane as soon as dry. The record building time thus far is 74 hours.

OUR PLEDGE

WE pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America, and to the Republic for which it stands: One Nation, indivisible, with Liberty and Justice for all.

The Supreme Court Quorum

PROBABILITIES appear properly remote that favorable action might be taken on Attorney General Bibble's proposal that five members be allowed to serve as a quorum of the Supreme court instead of six, as at present.

The first and biggest objection to the proposal is that it would tend to weaken the power of the court just a little more. It would increase, just a little, the possibility that all the members of a quorum on any given occasion might owe their high appointments to some one President, and thus may feel—consciously or unconsciously—under a certain sense of obligation to the man and the administration responsible for their high office. No avoidable chance of any kind ever should be taken of weakening in the slightest degree anything that pertains to the highest court in the land.

Another objection is that the proposal comes from Mr. Biddle. As an ex-parlor pink whose name is a synonym for class rule, and as one who sought, under the guise of a National Security act, to deprive the American people of much of their constitutionally guaranteed freedom of speech and of press, anything that Mr. Biddle advocates immediately falls under suspicion as to motive. The assumption is justified, by his record, that he may have some undisclosed motive in urging the approval of a smaller Supreme court quorum.

But, strictly from the practical point of view, why shouldn't six of the nine members of the court—at least six—always be available to complete a quorum? They have full-time jobs paying generous salaries and of such high honor as to be the envy of most citizens in the nation. And, contrary to many pretenses, there is nothing in fact that will persuade any person who works for a living that members of the Supreme court are over-worked. It is their business, their duty, to be available when quorums are needed.

If the time comes when six can't be available regularly to complete quorums because of age, failing health or for any other reason, the need for new and more vigorous members on the court will become evident.

The Other View Of The War

THE egg situation these days might suggest a few beneficial thoughts to those among us who are inclined, on occasions, to think or speak disparagingly of the habits and motives of our allies in the British isles.

The indications are that the egg surplus in the United States at the moment has become pretty serious. Americans are being urged to eat more eggs. Significant of the apparent seriousness of the problem was the suggestion from Secretary of Commerce Jesse Jones the other day that it would help greatly if every person in the nation would eat just one egg more per week.

Contrast this with the situation in the British Isles, where the shell egg ration for civilians is one egg per person per month. This is the ration when eggs are available, and usually they aren't. Nor is there good prospect of early relief from this famine. Shell eggs simply are too fragile and too bulky to occupy shipping space needed for other things.

The clear implication of this situation is that the people in the British Isles still are much closer to the realities of war than are those in the United States. It is a contrast which properly might discourage some of our "griping" as the realization is brought somewhat closer that the inconveniences Americans experience at home are as nothing compared with those endured by the British. And from that thought we can progress naturally to contemplation of the facts that the British enjoy luxury in comparison with Russia, the Russians are far better situated than the masses of China, and those of Free China wouldn't trade places with the people of most of the occupied countries.

None of this may remove the widespread American suspicion that it is the nature of the British to look out strictly for No. 1 when they have the opportunity. They probably will trade us out of our eye teeth if we don't watch them.

Even so, most Americans still in the U. S. are entirely satisfied, and are grateful, that their lot in the war thus far is so incomparably more fortunate than that of the British. Possibly this realization might cause some of us to treat with more understanding those traits of the British which we look upon as faults.

"Hot swing music is dying," declares a composer. All we gotta say is that if it is, it's dying a terribly hard death.

Yes, the national debt represents money we Americans owe to one another, but, even so, can we afford to lend ourselves more than we're able to repay? (P.S.—Who cares?)

The modern young person doesn't seem to think the party was a success if he can remember anything about it next morning.

BLIND UMPIRE

Part of a game umpired by a blind man was played between the Kelso Timber Wolves and the Army Base Nine from Portland, Oregon.

In the ninth inning, a dispute over the regular umpire's decision caused him to leave the game and the manager of the Kelso Timber Wolves saw Harold Baxter of Kelso, Washington, a totally blind man in the stand, and asked him to finish umpiring the game. The blind umpire stood behind the catcher with his "Seeing Eye" dog and was equipped with mask and protector and called the strikes and balls.

Americans Of Japanese Extraction Find They Can Get Along

Evacuated Nisei Defeating Prejudices

By S. BURTON HEATH
NEA Staff Correspondent

KALAMAZOO, Mich., April 10. —The last time I saw Hugh Kiino he sat on a plank bench in a mess hall at the Jerome, Ark., relocation center and talked about the plight of our 70,000 Nisei, while his wife, Ruth, threw a farewell party for the little friends of their 2-year-old son Carl.

HEATH

The Kiinos were leaving Jerome that afternoon to try their luck in a Caucasian world containing an undue number of thoughtless persons inclined to feel that "a Jap's a Jap, and I don't care whether he's an American citizen or not."

This morning I visited Hugh and Ruth and Carl again, in their home here. Hugh was asleep after a night's work, but Ruth insisted on awakening him.

I had come here to get an answer to a question I posed last year, after visiting Jerome: "What will happen to Kiino?". This report should be preceded by the reminder that Hugh is a Nisei who failed to be employed by the FBI only because he never troubled to learn the Japanese tongue.

SIX NISEI IN CREW

HUGH now is foreman of the cake mixing department in a good sized bakery. He has six Japanese-Americans working under him on the night shift. Five are members of his family—his niece and Ruth's father, brother, sister and brother-in-law. Ruth's brother has enlisted and is waiting to be called into service. The brother-in-law has been classified 1-A, and expects to be called any day for pre-induction physical examination.

Hugh majored in political science in college and Ruth in bacteriology. They had no experience as domestic servants. That is why they did not stay long in their first position in Jackson, though their employer wanted them to stay.

Neither did Hugh know anything about baking. But he caught on fast.

Before I saw Hugh here, I talked with two officials of the bakery.

"He's 100 per cent in every way," they told me. "And good worker. He's doing a job for which usually we use somebody with five or six years of experience."

TALK HURT BUSINESS

HUGH'S employers had quite a bit of trouble awhile ago about their Japanese-American help. They had discharged two inefficient workers, who went around telling that the bakery was replacing Americans with Japanese. A number of retail dealers stopped buying the bakery's products.

"Hugh was very broadminded about it," the manager told me. "He said if things got worse they would slip out quietly. He didn't want to jeopardise our business. He said he did have faith enough in the sportsmanship of the American people to believe that, if they knew the facts, they would give the Japanese-Americans fair and just treatment."

The bakery stood by its guns. The local ministerial and teachers' associations, and many of the better people, backed the bakery and Hugh's group. Gradually the whispering campaign died down. Its one unfortunate result was that Julia Dekuzaku, Ruth's sister, who had been on the day shift, had to be let go. "The other girls all bawled when we had to let Julia go," the manager told me. She now has been re-hired on the night shift.

There still is at least some anti-Japanese-American feeling here. I heard it expressed by two taxi-cab drivers, one who took me to the bakery and one who took me to Hugh's house. But it is directed against a class—against persons of Japanese extraction — and not against these individuals.

Everybody assured me that folks went out of their way to be nice to Hugh and Ruth and Carl. "We have been accepted in every place and under every situation," Ruth summarized it.

Ruth attends the First Methodist church. "Everybody is cordial and friendly," she said. "They go out of their way to invite me to functions and group meetings, and come in their cars to get me. One lady invited me to help the Red Cross, and I go once a week and help make surgical dressings. I go to meetings of the Nautilus club, a social organization for young married people, once a month. Everybody is fine."

WILL HAVE HEARING

THERE is one fly in the ointment, Hugh is a member of the Bakery and Confectionery Workers International Union of America, A. F. of L. Most of his fellow workers have applied. But their cards have not come through. The Central Trades council is interesting itself in the matter, and presumably the bakery local is waiting for instructions.

Even this may prove to be for the best. It has led such persons as the YMCA's industrial secretary, the pastor of Hugh's church, a young lawyer who is counsel for the Red Cross, and others like them to take an interest in the situation. Hugh is to appear before the council. The result may be a more intelligent acceptance of the right of these American citizens to earn an honest living than would have come if the question never had been raised.

Youth Troubles Stem From Broken Homes

Broken homes probably are the greatest cause of juvenile delinquency, said John W. Wilson, city-county juvenile officer at the luncheon of the Lubbock Junior Chamber of Commerce Monday noon in the Hilton hotel. In 190 cases handled during the past two years, 177 of the juveniles were from homes where parents were divorced or separated.

The greatest increase in juvenile delinquency is among girls, he said, even though there are more cases concerning boys than girls.

Other causes, he said, were: Lack of parental control, poor school attendance, crowded conditions of our schools, and lack of wholesome recreational program. In speaking of the latter, Wilson praised the city officials on their recent announcement of the huge recreational program planned for the children of Lubbock.

He reviewed several case histories of juvenile delinquents.

Sloan Fortenberry, program chairman, introduced the speaker, and Ray Blackwell, president, presided.

Nazi authorities caught a German citizen who had been making wisecracks about Hitler and removed his head. To us this seems rather a drastic method of mirth control.

Looking At Life - - - - - - By Erich Brandeis

A NAVY man and his wife inserted this advertisement in a Norfolk, Va., newspaper.

"Moderately refined Navy couple would like to live with congenial people. We drink too much occasionally, smoke too much all of the time, read few good books and can talk or listen."

They received 75 answers and, within two days, had found the home they were looking for.

I am not telling you this story either in justification or condemnation of too much drinking and smoking.

But I am glad to see that these two found a home so quickly, because it proves that all people are not hypocrites and that they are willing to take us as we are and not as we ought to be.

Human beings are still far, far away from perfection. If they weren't, there wouldn't be wars or murders or divorces or gossips or slanderers.

But most of us go through life "putting on the dog"—wearing a halo of righteousness, trying to convince the world that we are the epitome of goodness and virtue, when, actually, all of us, way down in our hearts, have many of the vices and shortcomings that we so loudly condemn.

I don't like "holier than thou" people. I don't want to be friends with folks who think that, as long as they go to church on Sunday, the weekdays can take care of themselves.

SOME time ago a New York department store ran a series of advertisements in which they frankly told about the defects of their merchandise.

"If you like cotton, you'll like this dress, but it isn't wool. But what do you expect at the price?"

Those advertisements sold more goods than any they had ever run before. They created confidence; they made the buyers feel that they weren't being fooled.

It's the same way with people. Sham is usually transparent. Pretense and what, in plain English, is called "fourflushing" wear off as quickly as the "gold" on Christmas jewelry.

Those two people in Norfolk could have praised themselves to the sky.

They would probably have found a home.

But would they have had nearly as much fun?

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

REPUBLICAN master-minders here believe that they have evolved a simple and convincing answer to the anticipated fourth-term contention that Franklin Roosevelt is "more indispensable" now than he was in 1940, when he smashed George Washington's tradition. They think they can beat down the argument that his re-election is essential to the battlefield success of American arms.

The President's opponent, according to the latest recipe, will pledge himself to show the same devotion to victory that Mr. Roosevelt has exhibited. He will emphasize that no individual has a monopoly on patriotism and will insist that the identity of the man in the White House is relatively unimportant in the current or future stream of history.

He will point out that the presidential managers of all our wars have been civilians. He will try to sell the idea that the Stars and Stripes has flown triumphantly, in spite of the manner in which at times domestic affairs have been handled. He will suggest that the outcome of this conflict will be decided by the performance of 12 million American youngsters, industry and labor, the Army General Staff and the Navy General Board.

The GOP nominee will also promise that he will not tamper with the present Army-Navy establishment, unless future developments necessitate changes. He will pledge himself to a policy of noninterference with Gen. George Marshall, Admiral Earnest King, Air Forces Gen. Henry Arnold and Admiral William Leahy, personal chief of staff to the President. In short, he will run on a "war as usual" platform.

DISAPPEAR: American commanders in the Pacific and Indian theaters are fighting the Japs in the dark. They find it almost impossible to obtain dependable data on the foe's strength, movements and future operations. This lack too frequently forces them to rely on a passive strategy.

Basic difficulty is their inability to capture prisoners for questioning. In view of reports of Tokyo's brutalities practiced on Allied unfortunates, the Americans, Aussies, Chinese and British are playing the game for keeps. They have also become wary of Nips' professions of surrender, which prove too often to be fatal to the trusting victors. Only rarely do they "bring 'em back alive."

In fact, there have been numerous instances in which Intelligence officers' insistence on the return of front-line enemy soldiers has been disregarded. The raiding parties perform the first part of their assignment easily enough; they grab a dozen or so Japs in the jungles. But the wanted men have an uncanny habit of "disappearing" while en route to headquarters by plane or ship or on a foot.

DOLLY: Republican Congressional ladies in the Capital have just emerged from a third-term controversy in which the central and disturbing figure was Mrs. Edward Everett (Dolly) Gann. They hope rather wistfully that Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt and her distinguished husband will take note of the way they solved their family problem.

Mrs. Gann, who demonstrated her social and political pugnacity when she squabbled with Alice Roosevelt Longworth for dinner-table pre-eminence some years ago, was first elected as president of the League of Republican Women of the District of Columbia in 1939. She filled out the unexpired term of Princess Cantacuzene, the former Julia Grant, granddaughter of President Grant. The sister of the late Vice President Curtis was subsequently chosen for two full terms.

The provision against a third election read rather ambiguously. It says that a president shall be eligible for a second term, but is quiet about a third. Dolly, realizing that she would occupy a prominent place if her party wins the White House next year, quietly campaigned for another helping.

She refused to listen to suggestions that her demand would tend to weaken the GOP's campaign against a fourth term for FDR. In desperation, her opponents appealed to Miss Marion Martin, who heads the Women's division of the Republican National committee.

The gal from Maine reinforced the arguments of the anti-Gann clique, but with more logic than emotion. And, when the votes were counted, the post fell to Mrs. William Culbertson, wife of the former diplomat. But they gave Dolly a bang-up farewell luncheon.

WINNING THE WAR
By Albert Leman

MEN previously passed over by Selective service are puzzled by the sudden stepping up of the draft program.

Not only are those in deferred occupations and certain 4-F classes being conscripted, but Maj. Gen. Hershey now announces that the 26- to 37-year groups will be tapped to bring up the Army's strength to more than 11 million by July 1.

The need to put every eligible male in uniform is greater than ever before, owing to a change in the war situation. Here are the reasons as revealed by a high Army-Navy source:

The mobilizing of millions of soldiers in England marks our entry into the mass movement phase of the conflict. We require more infantry, artillery, engineers, supply forces and other ground troops than was estimated—especially for replacements.

DANGER: Sheer weight of numbers will be counted on to break through Hitler's western walls.

Despite scare stories about a solid barrier of steel and concrete along the European coasts, United States military leaders are firmly convinced that landings can be made almost anywhere from Norway to the Spanish frontier.

Newspaper readers may see big headlines heralding great victories as soon as General Eisenhower's men cross the Channel. But they should hold their breaths until later news is cabled.

The Anglo-American staff—and the Germans—learned in Italy the possibility of throwing landing parties against shore defenses almost at will, provided that the men had the protection of naval guns which hurl giant shells fifteen miles inland. Beyond this belt the advancing doughboys must depend upon their own armor and some air support.

The Nazis have put this knowledge to use in the West. It is back of the danger zone that they have constructed their real fortification system and laid out the terrain for their counterattacks. To breach this bastion and to keep on going will take huge armies.

MONSTERS: When the war began in 1939, nearly all strategists in enemy and Allied countries were under the spell of the blitz.

The plane and tank had completely revolutionized combat—or so it was thought. But now, with the development of defensive arms and tactics, these two instruments are no longer supreme and we are back to the slugging maneuvers of 1917-18.

This reversal came about as follows: We multiplied our antiaircraft units and equipment and our fighter planes. Ground troops learned to take over. And the flying machine—though it will always be extremely important in special operations—was given an ancillary role.

The tank also has lost its stellar position. Our ordnance experts invented the Bazooka rocket gun and the British brought out the light PIAT projector, powered by a 200-pound pressure spring. The use of land mines became universal.

In addition, Montgomery sent into action the self-propelled Bishop gun—a 25 pounder mounted on a tank chassis and we threw into North Africa and Italy several new types of tank destroyers that blew up every Mark IV within range.

The Russian and Germans built similar weapons —and the once-dreaded tank no longer is the terror of the battlefield. In fact, today the infantry has to protect the iron monsters.

Here And There In Texas

Soldier Is Killed, But His Pledge Is Paid Red Cross

FORT WORTH, April 10 (U.P.)— Senior students at Arlington Heights High School, who publish the bi-weekly Jacket Journal, had a lesson in proof reading recently.

When the paper was distributed, a front-page headline had to be changed by each student.

The headline read: "Hated Dutch Underground Leader Speaks to Student Body."

Principal N. E. Buster pointed out that the heading should have read: "Noted," not "Hated."

Pays His Debt

HOUSTON, April 10 (U.P.)— A letter which was crossing the Pacific when the Houston boy who wrote it was killed by a Jap sniper on New Britain added $25 to the Harris County Red Cross drive.

Lieut. C. Bill Ehman, nationally-known horseman and son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl B. Ehman, mailed the letter February 14, asking his father to take from his Army pay savings the money and donate it to the Red Cross. February 24 Lieutenant Ehman was killed while leading a patrol.

His father brought the check and the letter in to the Red Cross.

HOUSTON, April 10 (U.P.) — Horses may be beautiful animals to some people, but to a man arrested here for book-making, the nags are just one big headache.

The man told police he had been betting on the horses and losing consistently. Figuring since the book makers had been getting fat on him, he might as well go into the business himself, he "booked" a $44 bet, had to pay off $100.

After posting a $100 bond in Corporate court on a charge of gaming, the man said:

"I don't ever want to see a horse again, even on a merry-go-round.

Beer His Reward

Here's one way to get a case of beer:

Pfc. Troy Bolerjack, Perryton, Texas, was on a two-day patrol scouting for Japanese installations and information in general when he and his comrades encountered six Japanese on Bougainville.

Bolerjack killed one of them. The rest of the patrol got three more. The remaining two Japanese were wounded, but escaped.

Near the end of the day, Bolerjack spied a naked Jap soldier in the Torokina river. A signal to the sergeant, and other men were sent to head off the bather as he emerged from the stream.

"The little fellow just grinned and laughed when we surprised him from back of bushes," the Texan related.

Bolerjack's bag for a day at Bougainville: One dead Jap; one prisoner of war; one case of beer, gratefully given him by his commanding officer.

HOUSTON, April 10 (U.P.)—Because he met a "real nice fellow" 30 minutes after he had completed a 10-day work stretch, Joe Van, 39-year-old "accountant," was fined in corporation court again on another drunk charge.

Van was sent to the city prison farm by Judge Harry Dippel to work out $30 in accumulated fines.

"I was walking down the road from the farm figuring I would go back to my accounting work when a real nice fellow in a nice new car picked me up. Judge, he took a liking to me, Van said.

Van took a liking to his host's "fine old bonded whiskey" and that afternoon was back in the hoosegow.

Judge Dippel fined him $3.

HOUSTON, April 10 (U.P.)—Albert Odom, 15-year-old high school boy, has turned down an offer of $2,000 for the Army jeep he won at the War Bond Cavalcade last month.

The offer came from a West Texas rancher, and Odom replied: "My jeep is not for sale at present, but thanks."

After driving the jeep a few days, Albert admitted, "I guess I'll sell it to get money for my education at Texas A. & M."

He won the jeep by guessing within two pennies of the number in a glass jar.

Guest "Gets Told"

HOUSTON, April 10 (U.P.)—To explain the cause of an accident to police with an inch of his tongue cut off was the problem that beset John Edward Rush.

His car hit the rear of a bus and when police arrived, Rush was holding his severed tongue in his hand. The piece of tongue was stitched on at St. Joseph's Infirmary and Rush was released, still unable to talk, police said.

Safe Foils Thieves

FORT WORTH, April 10 (U.P.)—Burglars here will vouch for the difference between rolling an 1,800 pound safe and a snow ball down a hill.

When the safe, which had been taken from a filling station, hit a boulevard stop-sign, a roller broke off and the thieves fled, leaving the safe unopened.

J. B. Barnes, proprietor of the station, said the safe contained about $10 and 1,000 gallons of ration coupons.

The sea is our richest source of animal proteins, vitamins and minerals which livestock must have to be healthy, productive and fast-growing.

STANTONS' PULLET BUILDER

Brings these vital elements straight from the sea and puts them to work in your poultry yard. Stanton's Pullet Builder makes full use of all local grains and by-products, but in addition, it contains ManAmar and B-G Plus, those famous protein, mineral and vitamin rich "products from the sea" which are making extra profits for poultrymen from coast to coast.

B-G PLUS

Is a patented vacuum concentrated extract from fish. This new and potent product, resulting from ten years of ceaseless research and experiment, supplies extra trace minerals and vitamins in Stanton's Pullet Builder.

MANAMAR

In Stanton's Pullet Builder supplies the hard-to-get feeding essentials—fish proteins, food minerals and vitamins, including the important Vitamin B "Complex."

ManAmar and B-G Plus have been developed and are produced in the laboratories of Philip R. Park, famed livestock nutrition authority. These laboratories have approved the formula for Stanton's Pullet Builder. Let the records of users tell the rest of the story. Get all the facts today.

COTTON SEED
D. & P. L. No. 14
TEXAS STATE CERTIFIED
This is the new, early, high yielding strain now grown exclusively by Delta-pine originators of D. and P. L. Made inch-staple and high gin turnouts on the Plains. Kemgas delinted, Ceresaned seed, germination 96% $12 per 100 lbs.

CHAMPION SNAPPER 140
Grown by R. E. Karper from breeding block seed furnished by Chillicothe Experiment Station where the 140 strain originated. This is an early maturing, lightweight bur cotton bred by Texas Experiment Stations for the South Plains where cotton is snapped. Its light burs enable gins to make better grades from snaps and give higher turnouts. Made ⅛ to 31-32 staple. KEMGAS DELINTED, CERESANED SEED, $10.50 per 100 lbs.

OLD TIME HALF & HALF
Grown in Wilbanger county by Arnold Seed Farms. This is the old-time high linting, early, short staple cotton. In Lubbock county in 1943 1500 lbs. of snap made 500-pound bale. Planted in May it made lots of cotton of 13-16 and ⅞ inch staple. Planted the middle of June it was gathered before other cotton planted at same time. We sold several cars on the Plains and have found only satisfied customers. KEMGAS DELINTED, CERESANED SEED, $11 per 100 lbs.

Send your order with deposit of $2 per 100 lbs. and we will hold seed for May delivery. Other varieties of Kemgas delinted, Ceresaned seed can be supplied by Kemgas delinting plants in Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico. For further information address—

Odessa Called Beginning Of End For Nazis And Balkans

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Associated Press War Analyst

With Nazi surrender of the great Russian Black Sea port of Odessa, Hitler's campaign to seize the vast Ukrainian breadbasket for German use came to a disastrous end.

What it cost in casualties and battle equipment will not be fully known until Moscow figures both for Odessa and for Crimea mopping-up operations come in. But in a strategic sense, however, the price of that utter Nazi miscalculation of Russian resources and fighting elan is clear for anybody to read.

SIMPSON

Odessa is the beginning of the end for Nazi Germany in the East and probably in the Balkans. Its recapture by Soviet armies sets the pattern for the beginning of the battle of the Balkans with the flight of the last Nazi forces from southwestern Russia except for such remnants as are still trapped in the Crimea.

Area Largely Cleared

There remain no German or Axis troops other than the dead and prisoners on Russian soil proper south of the Pripet marches except those awaiting their fate in the Crimea. North of the Pripet to Pskov on the Russian-Estonian border the Germans still have an uneasy clutch on a mere shaving of Soviet territory in comparison to what they held a year ago. Retreat from that into western Poland, surrendering virtually all the Baltic states as well, is inevitable.

There is no clear indication yet as to where along the east front Russian strategy calls for the major spring attack to coincide with Anglo-American invasion assaults from the west. It seems quite clear, however, that with Odessa in Russian hands again the opening Balkan battle in the south could move speedily toward a conclusion despite formidable natural obstacles still to be Russian-crossed before the Danube valley in Rumania can be penetrated.

The German retreat from Odessa into the Danube delta of Rumania cannot halt east of the lower reaches of the river below Galati. The multiple mouths of the Danube provide a powerful defensive front there against direct Russian attack from the east, however.

Operating from their recaptured Odessa close-up base, the Russians well may be in a position later to leap-frog by sea around the lower Danube barriers. Such operations by the Third Ukrainian Army might coincide with the drive southwestward by the Second Ukrainians down the Prut and Siret valleys toward Galati.

There is increasing evidence that the Galati gap between the great bend of the Danube at that point and the Carpathian Transylvanian Alps elbow to the northwest is the focus of the Russian drive across the Prut near Iasi into old Rumania. One prong of that thrust has now been Russian-driven due west of Iasi to Pescani in the upper end of the Siret valley.

Difficult Terrain

That column has set its grip on the main road and rail system from the north leading from captured Cernauti to Ploesti and Bucharest in the Danube valley. There is difficult terrain southward but pressure there could fatally outflank the German defense front for the Galati gap from the north.

That seems the Russian purpose. Coupled with the inevitable Russian threat of sea-borne leap-frogging drives along the Black Sea coast to turn the lower Danube flank as well, it menaces the hastily improvised German defense for Bucharest, all important Ploesti with its oil installations, and the Danube valley key to the Balkans with a deadly Russian pincer squeeze before it even gets set.

The first practical diving bell was invented by Dr. Edmund Halley of England in 1717.

Gorin Program Is Set Tonight

Singers have the reputation of being a superstitious lot and many legends have grown up around the pre-performance rituals some of them observe. One noted opera diva always came onto the stage, for good luck, a little piece of the curtain from the opera house where she made her debut. Another takes frames pictures of every member of her family to her dressing room and kisses each of them before every performance.

But Igor Gorin—famed baritone singer who will appear at the Lubbock High school tonight at 8 o'clock under auspices of the Texas Technological college artist course—has a song as a good luck token, and since it is one that never fails to thrill his listeners, the popular young baritone finds it no inconvenience at all to include it on every program he sings, either as one of the scheduled numbers or as an encore. A folk song of the Ukraine, where Gorin was born, it is called "Viut Vitre," Russian for "Stormy Breezes," and he will sing it tonight for his concert here.

Earned Him Scholarship

It was "Viut Vitre" that Igor Gorin sang when he first made application for admittance to the Vienna Conservatory of Music and his rendition of the song earned him a scholarship at that noted school. Not long after his arrival in America, he sang "Viut Vitre" for the sponsors of radio's popular "Hollywood Hotel" program, who immediately signed him as featured soloist.

Tonight, Gorin will also sing many popular American ballads. Tickets will remain on sale today at B. E. Adair Music Co. for $1.50 a seat, $1.25 for students. Season tickets holders may use their season tickets.
