Arabs, Jews Ready To Resume Warfare

Armistice Runs Out At Midnight; Truce Extension Refused; U. S. Fleet On Move

(By The Associated Press)

CAIRO, July 8—The last hours of the Palestine truce found both Arabs and Jews prepared today to resume full-scale warfare.

The four-week armistice runs out at midnight (CST) tonight.

A Tel Aviv source said Israel has agreed to extend the truce. But an Arab League spokesman here declared last night there would be no extension.

The understanding at United Nations headquarters in Lake Success, N. Y., was that Count Folke Bernadotte, U. N. Palestine mediator, had told the secretary general he was ready to ask both sides to hold fire three more day until 100 or more truce observers and secretariat members could get out of the country.

Most of the United States Mediterranean fleet was moving into the eastern Mediterranean. Three cruisers, two destroyers, a carrier and an escort carrier were headed that way from Istanbul and Naples. But Secretary of Defense Forrestal told a Washington news conference yesterday the movements were according to schedule and had "no significance."

Both the Arabs and Jews were making war preparations. Israel this week lifted the top draft age from 35 to 41. Arab chiefs of staff ended meetings here last night and were due to return home today. "Give the Egyptian army victory after victory," was

Unemployment Grows As Red Grip Tightens

Food Rations Are Maintained; Coal Shipments Slashed

(By The Associated Press)

BERLIN, July 8. — The Russians economic strangulation of western Berlin today forced drastic new cuts in the use of electricity and gas.

Unemployment grew among the 2,000,000 Germans in the blockaded American, British and French sectors of the city. The Western Allies were working out emergency employment schemes to keep idle industrial workers off the streets. An unemployment assistance plan giving workers between 50 and 60 per cent of their normal wages was introduceed.

Maintain Food Rations

Col. Frank L. Howley, the American commandant, announced that the western powers had decided to maintain the present food rations but to cut coal.

"To meet the emergency, to save 2,000,000 Berliners from starvation as well as economic and social destruction, the United States, British and French military governments are engaged in the greatest air lift in peacetime history. Thousands of tons of food, fuel and medicine are being flown from the west to Berlin.

"It is, however, recognized that with the limited air fields available and the narrow air corridor allotted, the air lift cannot at present meet all of the requirements of the people of Berlin."

Weather Unfavorable

Unfavorable weather slowed the Allied airlift this morning. By 10 a. m. only 19 American transport planes had arrived at Tempelhof airfield.

American fliers heard complaints from two of their comrades of strange radio interference in the air corridor to Berlin.

There were unconfirmed reports that Soviet Marshal Vassily D. Sokolovsky had gone to Moscow for consultations, presumably regarding an answer to the Western Allies' protest over the Russian blockade.

Red Planes Sighted

A British transport pilot reported sighting five Russian Yak fighter planes in the British corridor. One of the Soviet fighters "peeled off and flew within a comparatively close vicinity" of the transport, a British headquarters announcement said. The British military government explained it attached "no importance or significance" to the report.

For the first time in the 20 days the Russian blockade has been in force, American airmen have succeeded in bringing in more than 1,000 tons of food and supplies to Berlin in a 24-hour period. The goal was reached yesterday by planes which had added coal to their cargoes.

Interference Reported

Lt. Patrick V. Rogers of Valdosta, Ga., and S/Sgt. Jack Smith of Atlanta, Ga., reported the radio

MacNaught found himself out $45 in cash, plus the butter.

HST Urged To Take Eastern Running Mate

(By The United Press)

PHILADELPHIA, July 8. — Some of President Truman's top political advisers, now sure of his nomination, urged today that an easterner be picked as the Democratic vice presidential candidate.

The names of Gov. William Preston Lane of Maryland and Robert F. Wagner, jr., of New York, son of the senator, were mentioned as possible choices in next week's Democratic natoinal convention.

Acceptable To South

Lane reportedly would be acceptable to southern Democrats who have split with the President on the civil rights issue. As chairman of the Conference of Southern Governors he presided over some of their anti-Truman meetings. But he always made it clear that he was not among the bolters.

Selection of Wagner, New York City housing administrator, was being urged for its appeal to the large German vote in the country plus the labor support which would accrue from his father's authorship of the Wagner labor law.

Importance Stressed

The Democratic leaders urging those names feel that it is more important to placate the south and bid for votes in the industrial east than try to match the geographical perfection of the east-west Dewey-Warren Republican ticket.

They also hope that the party platform, on which a preliminary committee headed by Sen. Francis J. Myers of Pennsylvania already has started work, will be framed with those thoughts in mind.

Some of them feel that it wasn't necessary to try to match the GOP selection of Gov. Earl Warren of California for the No. 2 spot. They think that Warren will cost the GOP some votes in Arizona, Colorado and New Mexico because of California's fights with those states over Colorado river water. And they expect the 80th Congress' cuts in reclamation funds also will react against the GOP in the west.

Truman Is Silent

President Truman hasn't said yet how he feels about it. Democratic National Chairman J. Howard McGrath said the vice presidential nomination hasn't even been discussed in the pre-convention White House political hud-

Eugene Miller Says Political Foe To Blame

Three Bullets Are Fired After Auto Stops At Home

(By The United Press)

WEATHERFORD, July 8—Legislative candidate Eugene Miller died today, eight hours after being shot by a man whom he identified only as a political enemy.

The assailant, who fired three pistol bullets into his body, was one of three strange men who stopped at Miller's farm home in an automobile, Parker county authorities said, piecing together statements made by Miller before he died.

Men Not Identified

None of the three men in the car was identified by name, they said.

A former state representative and state senator, 49-year-old Miller was in the midst of a new campaign for the office of state representative from Parker county.

He was shot last night at his farm home, 15 miles northwest of Weatherford, as he walked to the front gate to greet three men in an automobile.

Died Early Today

He died at 6 a. m. today in the Parker county hospital at Weatherford.

"I'm not the only one they'll get in Texas," Miller was quoted. "They'll get plenty more."

He told R. B. Blackwell, an ambulance driver, that he did not know the name of his assailants but he knew "their connections." He said they were some of a "left wing faction" which he had brought under attack in campaign speeches.

Hit Three Times

Miller was struck three times by bullets. One entered his chest near the heart. A second tore into his shoulder and the third struck him in the right leg.

He made his home with two sisters, who told authorities the shooting occurred about 9:30 p. m.

The sisters could advance no cause for the slaying. They said they did not get a good look at the men in the automobile.

Noted For Oratory

Miller, a large handsome man noted for his fine oratory, told hospital attendants that he had seen a car drive slowly by his

Trail Vanishes At Brownfield, Officers State

Richard W. McGee Sought In Death Of R. L. Allston

By R. C. HANKINS
Journal-Staff Writer

Whereabouts of Richard W. McGee, 24, sought on a charge that he murdered R. L. Allston, 42, here Wednesday afternoon, remained "completely obscured" this afternoon, officials engaged in a widening manhunt announced.

The trail apparently had vanished on the outskirts of Brownfield, when a man identified as McGee talked with watermelon peddlers late Wednesday on the Lamesa highway.

He Appeared Nervous

In sharp contrast with the deadly calm that had characterized the fugitive's alleged shooting of Mr. Allston through the kitchen door of the Allston apartment at 2020 Fifth and his calculated methods in allegedly abducting a Hilton hotel bellhop, Bill Garrett, 24, of 2615 Twenty-third, and forcing Garrett at pistol-point to drive him to Brownfield, the man identified as McGee appeared "nervous" when last reported seen.

Officials, taking careful precaution to provide for the safety of other members of the Allston family, did not rule out the possibility that McGee might return to Lubbock.

Mysterious Phone Call

They had the information that a mysterious telephone call was received in the night by relatives of Mrs. Allston. An "inquisitive" person was the caller, and he gave a "fictitious name" when his identity was asked, investigators were told.

The entire Allston family had been threatened by McGee, it was known.

He allegedly informed Miss Betty Jane Allston, 18, that he would kill her and all others of her family if she did not marry him.

Mr. and Mrs. Allston had sought to prevent the marriage after Mr. Allston had conducted an investigation into the background of his daughter's suitor. In a family conference attended by McGee, Miss Allston and her parents, Mr. Allston had told McGee that he preferred there be no marriage now, at least.

McGee showed his anger, offi-

CIO URGES "ROOSEVELT PLATFORM"

Race Issue Tossed Into Demo Debate

(By The Associated Press)

PHILADELPHIA, July 8.—The race issue that has split the Democratic party hit the party's platform writers like a thunderclap today.

More than a score of negro organizations demanded a plank embodying President Truman's civil rights program, including anti-lynch, anti-poll tax and fair employment (FEPC) legislation. One organization, the National Negro Council, asked the platform writers to endorse an immediate call of of the 80th Congress into special session to enact civil rights legislation.

Statement Submitted

Walter White, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, submitted a statement on behalf of 21 negro organizations, declaring:

"The day of reckoning has come when the Democratic party must decide whether it is going to permit bigots to dictate its philosophy and policy or whether the party can rise to the height of Americanism which alone can justify its continued existence."

Endorsement Urged

White's statement concluded:

"We, therefore, urge and insist that the platform of the 1948 Democratic convention endorse without equivocation the entire program of the President's committee on civil rights and especially those provisions to surpress lynching and mob violence, to ban the poll tax as a voting requirement, to afford equality of job opportunity and to abolish discrimination and segregation in the armed services, education and transportation.

"In addition, we urge that the platform pledge the full weight of the Democratic party to the amendment of the Senate rules to envoke cloture by a majority vote in order that filibusters which have disgraced America far too long, may be stopped in the United States Senate."

Would Reject Delegates

An organization identifying itself as the Civil Rights Congress demanded that the convention refuse to seat delegates "who are elected by poll-tax vote or who are members or supporters of the Ku Klux Klan."

This organization's formal statement said:

"There will be men at this very convention who have in the past, and will again, literally lead lynching parties to silence the

Young Child Is Killed By Black Bear

ST. IGNACE, Mich., July 8. (U.P.) — The three year-old daughter of a forest ranger was killed yesterday by a large black bear which snatched her from the steps of her home and carried her off into the woods while her mother watched helplessly.

A hastily organized posse of 50 farmers and forest rangers found the crushed body of the girl, Carol Ann Pomeranky, several hundred yards away in the dense undergrowth. The bear which weighed about 200 pounds was tracked down and killed.

Considered Harmless

Mrs. Arthur Pomeranky, mother of the victim, said she was working in the kitchen when she saw the bear come into the cabin yard. She thought little of it because the bears in the Marquette national forest are considered harmless.

Suddenly, she said, the bear lunged toward Carol Ann and seized the screaming child.

The horrified mother ran after the bear shaking the broom she had in her hands at the time of the incident, but the bear ignored her and fled into the woods carying the girl.

Mrs. Pomeranky telephoned her husband who was at a ranger station 15 miles away. He organized a searching party and the child's mangled body was found two hours later.

Houston Man Killed In Fall From Ladder

HOUSTON, July 8. (U.P.)—John Reid, 46-year-old Houston painter, was killed today when the ladder on which he was working slipped.

Reid fell 25 feet to a concrete driveway, and suffered a fractured skull and other injuries. He died several hours later in a hospital.

Burglars Get $144 In Cash

Burglary of the Coffee Bar, at 1947 Texas Ave., and theft of $144 in money from a cash register was reported to police this morning.

"No force" was used to get into the place, except to open a door, investigators said.

Police arrested for questioning a motorist after Mrs. C. C. Lindsey of 1504 Twenty-sixth had reported a prowler. She screamed for help and the prowler dashed into the alley. The suspect was released after questioning, and the investigation continued.

Several Thefts Probed

Law enforcement authorities in the city continued last night to investigate a number of thefts, and a suspect was being sought in connection with at least one of the cases.

Mrs. R. G. Wright of 2720 Ruby reported to the sheriff's office here that a ladies yellow gold wrist watch, valued at $45 when new, had been stolen from her sometime within the past few days. The watch, a 17-jewel Gruen, had an initialed band fastener bearing the initials B.M.W.

W. H. Jackson of Jackson Studio in Floydada reported theft of a lens valued at about $200. A boy who was reported to the sheriff's department as a suspect was said to have left the lens in a waste basket in a local book store, and it is was believed that it was thrown out with other trash in the basket.

Ross would not forecast the possibility of an agreement. He said "wait and see" what develops.

SHORTAGE OF STORAGE SPACE

Elevators Jammed By Wheat Harvest

(By The United Press)

CHICAGO, July 8—Grain elevators throughout the Plains states were crammed to the seams today with a bumper wheat crop, and farmers were forced to store some of the golden grain on the ground.

Throughout the big wheat producing states of Kansas and Nebraska a shortage of storage space was reported. Railroads reported that again this year there is a shortage of boxcars to move the grain.

The shortage of storage space has been made more acute this year because the harvest in Kansas was delayed by late rains. Normally the Kansas harvest comes well ahead of Nebraska's, making possible a more orderly movement of wheat from the farms.

But this year the big wheat combines began harvesting the grain simultaneously in most of the large wheat producing states. In Colorado, harvesting of the second biggest crop in the state's history had reached the peak.

Will Not Be Lost

Wheat farmers and elevator men believed enough storage space would be found, but they said some wheat would have to be left on the ground. If properly cared for, this overflow grain will not be lost, but will be "ground-stored." Normally, some wheat remains on the ground each year before it can be moved into storage or to market.

In Nebraska, the Burlington and Union Pacific railroads described the boxcar supply as "tight," "very tight," and "terrible." In Kansas crop experts said almost all elevators were filled to capacity, and that "considerable amounts" of grain were being stored on the ground.

Officials at Leoti, Kan., reported that 300 trucks laden with wheat were lined up waiting to transfer the grain to boxcars, but

New Oil Field Is Discovered

A new oil field has been discovered in southwest Scurry county, seven miles southwest of Snyder, it was reported here today.

The development is at Sun Oil company No. 1 Emil Schattell, which flowed a total of 149-10 barrels of 44.2 gravity oil in seven hours through a one-half inch bottom hole choke, one and a one-quarter inch top opening of tubing. This was at the rate of 504 barrels of oil per day.

No Water In Oil

There was no water in the oil. Gas-oil ratio was 320-1. The flow was natural from the Canyon lime of the Pennsylvanian.

The production is natural from open hole between 6,858 feet and the total depth at 6,801 feet. Tubing pressure at start of a seven-hour test was 500 pounds, and at close of the period was 625 pounds.

The new field opener is now shut in to pull tubing and packer and put well on regular production.

It is 1,980 feet from south and west lines of section 186, block 97, H & TC survey.

Showed Good Signs

This exploration topped saturated lime at 6,816 feet. The section from there to 6,859 feet showed good signs of oil and developed some free oil on drill-stem tests. Operator cemented string of 7-inch casing at 6,858 feet and cored ahead to 6,891 feet.

The project was originally slated to go to about 8,500 feet

Britain Quits Pact To Fix Wheat Prices

LONDON, July 8 (AP) — Great Britain has quit the International Wheat agreement, giving a death blow to the 36-nation pact intended to bring order into international wheat marketing.

The British announcement today said the action was taken because the United States Congress failed to ratify the agreement.

Under the proposed pact, world prices would have been fixed for exports of American, Canadian and Australian wheat.

Two Girls Are Crash Victims

HONDO, July 8 (AP)—A pickup truck-automobile collision near here yesterday killed two 13-year-old girls and injured six other persons.

Dead were Marjorie Cone and Helen Compton of Gonzales. They were among a group of persons who were returning in the truck to Gonzales from a 10-day stay at the Alto Frio Baptist encampment on the Frio river near Leakey, Tex.

All From Gonzales

The accident occurred on a narrow, black topped road.

All the injured were from Gonzales.

Seriously hurt were: Dorothy Beckman, Patricia Bird and Fanny Morris, a negro maid. Others injured included A. O. Bird, superintendent of schools at Gonzales and father of Patricia Bird; and Bird's son, Kenneth Bird, 17.

Marlene McGee, also of Gonzales, was not hurt.

J. W. Truitt of Sabinal, driver of the other car, also escaped injury.

Many Unfaithful In Britain, Judge Says

KINGSTON-ON-THE-THAMES, Surrey, England, July 8 (AP)—A judge said today there would be many dead husbands and wives in Britain if they had the right to shoot each other for infidelity.

A jury was trying Mrs. Doris Ellen Wiles, 27-year-old mother of four, on a charge of shooting her husband, Frederick, to death. She contended he was unfaithful.

"If all these spouses who have been unfaithful in this country in recent years could be shot by the spouse to whom they have given offense, there would be a very high mortality rate among the married," Justice Sir Malcolm Hilberry told the jury.

The jurors thought it over and then reported they could not agree on a verdict.

At Least 35 Sessions A Year Required

Reserve Members Must Attend Drills To Stay Draft-Exempt

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, July 8.—To remain draft exempt, organized reservists must not miss more than one out of 10 drill periods.

This is one of the qualifications Secretary of Defense Forrestal laid down at a news conference discussion of the new selective service act.

Another is that the reserve unit must have at least 35 scheduled drills a year, or the equivalent.

The draft act passed by Congress said that enlistment in reserve organizations with regular training schedules would make them exempt, but the law didn't specify exactly what those units should be. It left the definition up to the Secretary of Defense.

After consulting with experts of the Army, Navy and Air Force, Forrestal yesterday issued a memorandum to the services. In substance, it said this:

If a man was a member of an organized reserve unit by midnight of June 24.—the day the bill became law—and the

Eyebrows Tilted In Attempt To Hire Man For $10,000 Job

By RICHARD P. POWERS
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, July 8.—Administration eyebrows are tilted over a misfired attempt to fill the $10,000 a year post of Assistant Secretary of Agriculture.

Some 10 days ago President Truman appointed Elmer H. Wene, Vineland, N. J., poultry-man and state senator, to fill the vacancy caused by the elevation of Charles F. Brannan to the secretaryship.

Wene was scheduled to take the oath of office last week along with Albert J. Loveland, the new Undersecretary of Agriculture.

Ceremony Held Up One Day

That ceremony was held up one day—due to the absence of Wene—and Loveland then was sworn in alone. Press of business in New Jersey was given as the reason for Wene's non-appearance.

Over the weekend, Frank Hague and other New Jersey democratic leaders joined the parade seeking to give the party's Presidential nomination to Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower instead of to Mr. Truman.

Wene is the Democratic leader and a power in the New Jersey Senate which works closely with the Hague forces. Sources here say he has indicated he will not now accept the assistant secretaryship offered to him by Mr. Truman.

But the White House said today it has heard "no word" from Wene.

"It is assumed that if Mr. Wene does not want the post he will write a letter to the President saying so," a White House official told a reporter privately.

Platform Is Removed

A further indication that no new assistant secretary will be sworn in soon was seen in the removal of a special platform and surrounding chairs from the first floor of the Agriculture Department building.

Loveland received his oath of office on the platform. It was left there a week—and then workmen carted it away.

No official comment was available from the secretary's office.

Prior to Wene's appointment, Nathan Koenig, executive assistant to the secretary and a career officer, like Brannan, was one of those under consideration.

Department Of Commerce Gets Darnedest Assortment Of Questions From Taxpayers

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, July 8. — The mayor of a hamlet in Ohio wrote in to the Commerce Department and asked, please, how is a mayor supposed to act?

The man said he was just elected. So was the village council. And the town marshall. What, asked the mayor, are all these people supposed to do? The cop, for instance? If he isn't busy steering the town stew into the clink to sleep it off should he be dozing in the wicker in front of the commercial hotel? And should the city pay the cop for snoring time?

Darnedest Letters Received

That's the way it goes. The government gets the darnedest letters from the people who foot the bills. A lot of mail, including some from the White House, comes into the Commerce Department. Every note has to be answered. The cross-road mayor from Ohio finally got his instructions.

Some people even get a sample of personalized government. Such as the lady from Hillsboro, Ill., who wrote to President Truman and said she and her neighbors needed 800 feet of waterpipe so they could have water for wash day. The President got the Commerce Department people on the phone. The lady got the 700 feet of pipe.

No Limit To Service

There is no limit to the service your government can give you. Some gal, who probably already was wearing the new look, wired in and asked the government to rent her a formal evening gown for a small town kick-up. Somehow or other the government did it. She hasn't said thanks yet.

Neither has the character who wrote in from Arizona. He wanted a list of 40 hair styles. He didn't say why. But the Department of Commerce, which has to handle most of those things, referred the man to the master barber.

Old Timer Gets Laugh

Then there was the old timer from Mississippi who got a good laugh on the government.

This fellow wrote in this week to say that in 1912 he had read where you could drop a penny card to Washington and get a copy of the constitution mailed free.

"I hope I'm not too late," he said.

The Commerce people looked in their files. They called the government printing office, which was fresh out of even the five and dime copies. Ditto the Justice Department and the Office of Education. There's a copy around some place if the man from the south will hold still for a minute.

Just added to new-product lists, is a small electronic air purifier, designed to kill germs and odors in a room in a few minutes.

War Veteran, 23, Lines Five Members Of Family Up Against Wall, Threatens Them

QUINCY, Mass., July 8. (AP)—A 23-year-old man who police said lined five members of his family against a wall and threatened to shoot them was held today on a charge of assault with a dangerous weapon with intent to kill.

Frank P. Sorgenti was booked last night after two patrolmen reported they pounced on him while he had his parents, two sisters and a brother backed against the wall of their home at the point of a gun.

Patrolmen Edward Kusser and Arthur Duffy said they were summoned by neighbors who reported the young man "was threatening to kill his family."

The officers said the five were still pinned against the yard wall when they arrived. They reported they talked Sorgenti into dropping the gun and then grabbed him.

Members of the family said the young man marched them outdoors at gun-point after arguing with his father.

They said they believed the young man, a Marine corps paratrooper in World War II, became "temporarily deranged."

Transport Crashes In North Carolina

GREENVILLE, S. C., July 8 (AP)—Two pilots died last night in the flaming wreckage of a C-47 plane at the Greenville Air Force base.

The transport crashed and burned seconds after cutting loose two gliders it had been towing on a training mission. The gliders landed safely.

The victims were identified as First Lieut. Bernard M. Nickerson and Second Lieut. Clarence L. Ferrero, both assigned to the base here. Their home town addresses were not released.

Col. Paul H. Prentiss, base commander, said they were the only persons aboard the transport. The cause of the crash was not determined.

The first flag of the United Colonies was raised on Prospect Hill in Somerville, Mass., on Jan. 1, 1776.

Sewing To Be Taught Here

For the second summer Miss Gertrude Watson will offer a course in sewing and wardrobe improvement for women and girls of Lubbock as a part of the free summer school program of the Lubbock Public schools. The class, which begins on Monday, July 12, will continue for one month and will meet in the homemaking department at Senior High school.

Last summer 50 women and girls enrolled in the course which provided instruction in whatever sewing problems the students wanted.

"Finding becoming and suitable clothing at reasonable prices is a major problem these days," Miss Watson said, "and any women or girls of junior or senior high school age who would like to have assistance with personal or family wardrobe problems are invited to enroll in this course."

Instruction may be given in clothing selection and planning, clothing construction, re-styling of clothing, use of patterns, and use of machines. Women may use the laboratory equipment and get what instruction they wish free, and they will only furnish the material for the garments they wish to construct, Miss Watson said.

Enrollment for this class will be at 10 a.m. on Monday, July 12, in room 325 of the Senior High school. Attendance every day is not essential, since a woman or girl may attend class long enough to complete her individual problem.

MARY HAYWORTHS MAIL . . .

Readers Are Astonished To Find Columnist "Off The Beam" In Regard To Paycheck Row

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: You make such good sense ordinarily that I was astonished to find you miles off the beam in your reply of June 8, to the girl, 23, who registers "shock and horror" because her affluent parents made a scene, with father raving and mother weeping, when she banked her first paycheck instead of bringing it home to share with them.

You tell her (1) that there is valid cause for her answering outrage; (2) that they aren't interested in her earnings as such; (3) that their object is devious control of her life, which she cannot afford to permit, if she would develop normal adult personality health; and (4) conclude by advising her to break out of their clutches as best she can.

If she takes your advice and breaks away from family ties, she will learn that board and room elsewhere, in surroundings not nearly so pleasant, will cost considerably more than her parents ask, namely: one-third of her wages.

This girl speaks of herself as an ambitious, responsible person, but she doesn't know the ABC's of simple economics. She is imbued with the philosophy that her parents owe her a living because she "didn't ask to be born." She is a parasitic individual, selfish to the nth degree.—Signed C. R.

MAN TAKES ISSUE WITH COLUMN, TOO

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: Much impressed by your clear language, your fine discrimination, your keen analyses, I have been a great admirer of your writings; but I am compelled to disagree with your judgment expressed in your column of June 8.

To be sure, the parents' ranting was deplorably tactless and their severe censure of the girl unjustified; but even so, she seems to forget that she is an adult of 23, qualified to support herself, no longer entitled to feed on her parents' bounty without repayment.

Why should she continue to live at their expense, while selfishly banking all her earnings, thus showing no appreciation and no sense of obligation? It seems to me your counsel is unwise in that it tends to indorse her grasping philosophy.—Signed J. B.

BRIEF REBUTTAL SEEMS IN ORDER

DEAR CORRESPONDENTS: Your letters are typical of many received since June 8, protesting my views expressed on that date, hence some further remarks seem in order.

These dissenting opinions all insist that I should have counseled the girl in the fairness of making an equitable contribution to the family coffer, but in view of my limited space, I was obliged to deal directly with the essential conflict, in the hope of revealing to the whole family the real sore point implicit in the general hysteria.

The problem centers on the parents' unconscious drive to completely dominate (and keep infantile) their only child, who at 23 is unconsciously tensed to resist their purpose. She is fighting for the right to call her soul her own, though hardly aware of what she is fighting for or against.

PARENTS' STAND MORALLY UNSOUND

THE parents want strings on her wages to further their ends; and she counters by trying to 'hide out" her earnings from them, much as a prisoner conserves rations, in the hope of making a break for freedom eventually. Not that she's figured this out, but it's obvious in her attitude, and just as obvious to her parents as to me, hence their wild uproar about her maneuver.

Ergo, I would have been missing the point entirely, led astray (as most readers were) by the parents' red-herring strategy, had I lectured in terms of economics and filial duty, as if the parents' masked purpose were morally valid. Confronted with a simple question of whether a young adult wage-earner should pay board while living at home, I would say, "Yes, as an exercise in responsibility, co-operation and self-respect"—inasmuch as this arrangement generally prevails in middling-to-low income family groups. —M. H.

Wedding Theme Featured In Decorations At Gift Party

A miniature bridal couple standing before a altar centered the table at the gift party given Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. C. C. Coffee, 3419 Twenty-first, as a courtesy to Miss Beth Ray, who is to marry Bill Sikes. The wedding date, July 19, and the names of the affianced couple were lettered in gold beneath the altar. A "church in the wildwood" was placed on the buffet, surrounded by fern and corsages of daisies which were presented to the forty guests.

Mesdames Oscar Nesmith, O. C. Ellison and Porter Owen were assistant hostesses.

Mrs. Ellison sang "Always," accompanied by Mrs. Jim Johnson and Mrs. Owen read "Matrimonial Pathway," and upon finishing dispatched a "train of gifts to the honoree.

Members of the houseparty were Mrs. Bill Sikes, sr., of Slaton, mother of the prospective bridegroom; Mrs. Jack Ray, mother of the bride-elect and Mrs. O. M. Fowler of Snyder, an aunt.

A miscsellaneous shower was given in the home of Mrs. J. R. Hartsfield, 1723 Twenty-seventh, Wednesday night for Miss Ray. Miss Margaret Hartsfield assisted her mother in hospitalities.

Mrs. Fowler presided at the punch bowl. The serving table was centered with an arrangement of sweetpeas.

Three Top Senatorial Candidates Lay Claim To Victory In Campaign Speeches Over State

(By The United Press)

All three of Texas' U. S. Senatorial candidates laid claim to victory today.

George Peddy, who had been making only moderate claims, joined Lyndon B. Johnson and Coke R. Stevenson in the oratorical "victory circle."

Speaking at Fort Davis last night, Peddy said he had the upper hand in the campaign and his opponents—"professional office holders"—were on the way out, "whistling louder and louder as they pass the graveyard."

Johnson Enthusiastic

Peddy moved his campaign into Midland and Odessa today, and has scheduled an evening broadcast from Odessa.

Johnson, bubbling enthusiasm, still was confident he would win the nomination without a runoff. Speaking by radio at Corpus Christi this morning, he hurled a new issue at Stevenson.

Johnson said he was opposed to the Bulwinkle law, which relieved railroads from liability for fixing rates under anti-trust statutes, and would work to have the carriers returned to a liable status. The Bulwinkle law, Johnson said, would "make it legal for the roads to continue unfair freight rates which would penalize Texas agriculture and industry."

Stevenson Confident

He demanded that "my principal opponent"—believed to be a reference to Stevenson — say whether he would "work to bring the railroads back under anti-trust laws."

His helicoptering will take Johnson to Sinton, Refugio, Beeville, Kenedy, Yorktown, Cuero and Victoria today.

Stevenson kicked off his day of campaigning with a Midland radio address, reiterating confidence that he would be nominated without a run-off primary.

The former governor said he had traveled 47,000 miles and visited more than 200 counties. One of his chief impressions, he said, was that the people are "sick to death of politicians who try to get votes by making promises that cannot possibly be kept."

During the day, Stevenson will visit Odessa, Monahans, Wink, and Pecos before returning to Midland for the night.

Sledge Hitch-Hikes

One of the less active senatorial candidates, Terrel Sledge, Kyle farmer, moved his campaign literally onto the open road. His car broke down, and Sledge said he would thumb his way to Dallas for a Friday speaking engagement.

He said he was in the market for an economical means of transportation but, taking a dig at Johnson's windmill, added that he wanted no part of "those expensive, three miles to the gallon helicopters."

Gov. Beauford H. Jester took to the airwaves last night in the first statewide broadcast of his campaign for election to a second term. Former Gov. Dan Moody introduced and endorsed Jester, who recited that his administration had built up a surplus of approximately $65,000,000 and expanded state services in numerous fields without imposing new taxes.

Accomplishments Claimed

On the eve of his departure for the national Democratic convention, Jester told Texans that his administration had achieved the "largest program of expansion and betterment" in state history in the fields of:

". . . Highway and road building; assistance to the aged, the needy blind and dependent children; eleemosynary institutions; public schools; higher education; law enforcement; military affairs; public health and economic development."

He promised continued betterment in those and other fields if he is elected again to "the position of trust which I now hold."

Caso March, another candidate for the governorship, spoke by radio from San Antonio, laying emphasis on his tax program to save the "ordinary taxpayers" $100-million a year.

Evans To Corpus

He proposed increasing taxation on natural resources, including refining of gasoline, and called for repeal of the Texas property tax and all but one cent of the four-cent-per-gallon gasoline levy.

Roger Q. Evans, the third active candidate, left Austin for Corpus Christi, where he speaks tonight, after claiming that up to 70 per cent of the voters favor a change of governors. His Friday schedule will take him to Robstown, Kingsville and Raymondville.

Tests Will Be Made At Andrews Oil Well

Placid Oil Company, (H. L. Hunt), No. 1 E. C. Nix, Central-Southwest Andrews County exploration, 12½ miles southwest of the town of Andrews is bottomed at 7,445 feet in the lower Permian lime.

It has set a string of 5½ inch casing at 7,360 feet, and will make production tests on several zones which have shown some signs of oil and gas. The testing will be through perforations in the pipe

Informed observers say the project has its best chance of making an oil well, and a new discovery in the upper Fullerton lime zone at 6,975-7,062 feet.

A drillstem test was run on that zone for one and one half hours. Recovery was 90 feet of oil and gas cut drilling mud; 2,800 feet of mud cut oil and 100 feet of salt water.

Another drillstem test was taken at 7,384-7,432 feet. The tester was open three hours and 15 minutes. Recovery was 90 feet of lightly oil and gas cut mud, and 270 feet of heavily oil and gas cut mud.

The venture drilled on down to 7,445 feet and took a two and one half hour drillstem test with the packer at 7,432 feet. Recovery was 270 feet of oil and gas cut drilling mud. No water has been developed in the current formation.

This development is 1,980 feet from south and west lines of section 21, block A-47, psl survey.

Woman Lawyer Gets Husband Acquitted

CHICAGO, July 8 (INS)—Mrs. Mary Soddy, 24, drew up in her best Portia manner and submitted Patrolman Albert Fuchs to a rigid cross-examination on his charges that the attorney's husband, Thomas Soddy, 28, was drunk while driving on the night of June 28.

The officer stammered that he "smelled" liquor on Soddy's breath. Lawyer turned to Judge Oscar Caplan and declared:

"Judge, that's not sufficient evidence to establish Mr. Soddy was drunk."

The judge agreed, dismissed the case and heard Mr. Soddy exclaim about his attorney-wife:

"Boy, she's a peach. I'm going to buy her the best hat in town."

General Meyers Due For Quiz On Freight Rates During War

By ROGER D. GREENE
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, July 8.—Bennett E. Meyers, the retired two-star general sent to prison by one Congressional quiz session, is due for another.

This one deals with charges of a multi-million-dollar "gouge" of the government through World War II freight bills.

Chairman Bender (R-Ohio) of a House expenditures subcommittee investigating the freight rate matter told a reporter today he will subpoena Meyers from his Chillicothe, Ohio, jail cell before the summer is out.

Meyers Sentenced Last Winter

Meyers was sentenced to from 20 months to five years in prison last winter after his conviction on charges of inducing a former business associate to lie to Senators inquiring into his handling of war contracts. The general became deputy purchasing officer for the army air forces after a tour of duty at Patterson field.

His name entered the current hearings in testimony by Thomas F. Proctor, a former Justice Department official now employed by the Postoffice Department.

Referring to the period just ahead of that covered by the Senate War Investigating committee in its hearings last summer, Proctor told the Bender group yesterday:

Proctor Makes Statement

"As long as General Benny Meyers was running the Air Forces Materiel Command at Patterson Field, the army transportation corps and the air forces traffic people in Washington were relegated to a position of secondary importance in traffic matters.

"This committee could very well direct itself to an investigation into the so-called service contracts which General Meyers negotiated with the oil companies on aviation gasoline during the war."

Proctor did not elaborate, but he told the committee:

"I can assure you the revelations would be most interesting and pertinent to the current inquiry."

Proctor Was Specialist

Proctor served as a civilian specialist in the army transportation corps from 1943 to 1944.

Bender, whose House group is investigating alleged overpayments by the government to the railroad companies during and since the war, told newsmen:

"There is no question there has been a gouge. The government has taken an awful licking."

He said Proctor's testimony "definitely points to General Meyers' part in this thing" and said he will summon the wartime general as soon as the crowded summer political calendar permits the committee to resume its activities.

Convention Will Slow Work

That will be some time after the Democratic convention in Philadelphia next week.

Proctor and James E. Kilday of the Justice Department both testified yesterday that many of the armed services officers who negotiated freight rates during the war had previously been employed by the railroads.

Some of them, they said, went back to the railroads at bigger salaries after the war ended.

Kilday said he has recommended a criminal investigation of some of the officers who worked out the freight rates. He termed it "a case of government personnel dealing with a thoroughly organized and cartelized industry."

Faricy Attacks Kilday

Later, William T. Faricy, president of the Association of American Railroads, issued a statement calling Kilday's testimony "irresponsible."

Saying the railroads are ready to defend their wartime rates in court, Faricy added: "In no instance was the government charged more than commercial shippers and in most instances it was charged less."

The Justice Department itself, Faricy said, approved the establishment of a four-member committee of railroad executives "to expedite the handling of rate proposals related to the movement of war traffic."

Neighbors Work Crop During Man's Illness

The "good neighbor" spirit continues to manifest itself over the South Plains area.

Wednesday, 30 neighbors of V. C. Simmons, who lives 3½ miles southeast of Wolfforth, gathered at his 300-acre farm with their tractors and in less than four hours cultivated his crop. The first tractor pulled into the field at 6:30 a. m. and by 10:30 a. m. the job was completed.

Simmons was unable to work his crop, having undergone an appendectomy at West Texas hospital a week ago.

The "Good Samaritans" were: Ramon Hayes, B. C. Rosch, Raymond Coleman, Bobby Joe Henderson, Clifford Robertson, Jim Bailey, Louis Henderson, W. W. Allen, B. W. Patterson, John Patterson, C. W. Myers, Bob McCasland, Wayne Ritchinson, T. E. Snider, jr., Jimez Guiterrez, A. P. Selman, V. B. Clark, W. L. Box, Bud Thompson, O. W. Smith, W. O. Roberts, J. L. Haynes, A. L. Smith, S. R. Jerden, Theo Lide, Jake Price, Gordon Richards, Dick McCollum, Mr. Whittle and Tom Smith.

School Construction Bids Will Be Opened

Bids for the addition of an east wing to Senior High school and a gymnasium to be built on Chapman Field will be opened tonight at a called meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Lubbock Independent School district, according to Wm. H. Evans, chairman of the board's building committee. The meeting is to be held at 7:30 p. m. in the school business office.

Plans all for the addition to Senior High school to be completed by September, 1949, but Superintendent R. W. Matthews and A. C. Jackson, school business manager, said they hope to have the gymnasium ready for use by October.

The addition to Senior High will include twelve classrooms, a cafeteria which will feed 600 students at a time, a physical education room for girls, an agriculture department and a band room. The gymnasium is to have a full basketball floor with 1,000 portable bleachers and accommodations for physical education classes. Plans are to use the gymnasium for football practice during bad weather.

Other members of the building committee which has been working on the school's building program are E. J. Parsons and Glenn Woody.

Take Off Ugly Fat With Grape Fruit Juice Recipe

It's simple. It's amazing, how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy — no trouble at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of Liquid Barcentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back. Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloat disappears — how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active.

Dukes Walk Ahead In League Race On 5-2 Win Over Hubs

Between . . . The Lines

— By JOE KELLY —

When you find a better game than was played at Rosenthal Field Tuesday night, we want to see it. Both the Hubbers and the Dukes provided the fans with all the thrills possible in a regulation game. It was the type of contest you would expect two top league teams to play, with everything in it that makes for the thrills connected with good, clean baseball. There was hitting, there was fielding and there was catching, plenty of it.

Of course the second-guessers had a field day Wednesday, replaying the game and telling what they would have done and how the Hubbers could have won. Hogwash! They played it Tuesday night and they played it the way Jackie Sullivan wanted it played. There's no point in going into how they might have played it, for the "ifs" connected with their way were just as big. For instance, people said that Sullivan should have sacrificed with Scarborough on second and no one out. That's fine, but Virgil Richardson and Don Moore, who followed Sullivan, weren't able to hit at all and neither got the ball out of the infield all night.

In fact, when you get right down to it, there were only two putouts by Duke outfielders in the game, one on Wilcox's fly and another on Scarborough's. In 10 innings, only once did the Hubbers get two hits in succession and they came after two were out. If you want to sum the game up in a few words, you can say it was a mediocre team of hitters facing the best pitching they have seen this year.

But the fielding of the Hubbers left little to desire. They sparkled afield, with some of the best defensive work seen all year and certainly the most in any single game here this year. Jackie Sullivan undoubtedly came up with the infield's outstanding play, going way over to make a beautiful stop of Len Pill's hit that was destined for rightfield. He also did a scintillating bit of business on Ron Bowen's short loft directly behind second base. The ball was where Scarborough couldn't get to it and it was a miracle that Sullivan did.

Frank McAlexander also dug deep into the dirt to scoop up Don Cantrell's sharp drive down third and make the long throw to first in time. He also came in for a bouncing bunt and made a nice throw on a hard play. Wilcox started two fast double plays and covered second on one of two steals. But Gene Hixson came up with the gem of the outer garden when he made that diving, backhanded, glove-on-the-ground catch of Les Mulcahy's line drive. He got—and deserved—a tremendous hand. Don Moore also did a beautiful job behind the plate, the most impressive performance of any catcher this year. He threw out two men on relays and Wednesday morning they inspected his shoes for spurs, he went so far in the air on one play to bring in a high throw.

And last night's game was nearly an exact duplicate of Tuesday's game. The Hubbers proved, beyond a shadow of a doubt, that they are one of the top fielding teams in th loop. They also emphasized the fact that they are a good field, no hit gang against good hurling. Don Cantrell set the pace Tuesday night and Frank Shone picked it up quickly last night. In fact, he turned in an even more impressive performance, looked at in retrospect. He allowed six scattered hits, only walked two, fanned 11 and never gave up more than one hit in any inning. Moreover, he was ahead of the batter constantly and in only two innings did a Hubber leading off reach first safely.

Both games have proven that you can't win games unless you hit and the sorry fact remains that the Hubbers, as good as they are, aren't able to put up a strong enough batting offense against a good pitcher. Right there is the secret to whether the Hubbers of 1948 can win the pennant. Off the hurling of Cantrell and Shone, it would appear that the Hubbers have fair pitching of their own, brilliant fielding, but weaker hitting power than is required of a first-place team. We hope they go out tonight in two game and make a liar out of us.

Today tickets for the July 22 Jaycee boxing card go on sale and we can't imagine anything but a rush to the ticket boothe in the Hotel Hilton. Imagine seeing Jack Dempsey, Howell Steen, J. D. Kirkpatrick and Bill Henderson all on one card, along with probably Manny Ortega and a few other topnotch fighters. Bert Kahn is working hard to line up the best possible card for the Jaycees and has guaranteed, without reservation, that every fighter will be in shape and that every bout will be a boxing slugfest from start to finish. With Bill Henderson winning his eighth fight last night and J. D. in line to win, we hope, Friday night, it should be a great show for Lubbock and the South Plains.

The Albuquerque Dukes gave a pretty good sample of why they are in first place by beating the Lubbock Hubbers 5-2 last night on pitching and hitting, with the honors about even.

Frank Shone shot the Dukes farther into the league lead with a two-run homer that won his own game and then hurled brilliant ball over the nine-inning route to win his tenth game of the year.

Amarillo Cathes Up

Amarillo went into a tie with the Hubbers for third place by licking Pampa in the second game of a doubleheader 6-3, after dropping the first game 4-3. The split enabled Pampa to gain a half game on both the Gold Sox and the Hubbers and sent them into a game and a half second-place lead.

Clovis opened a little more ground between themselves and Lamesa by taking the Loboes into camp 5-3, while Abilene's Blue Sox broke their losing spell with a 12-8 victory over the Borger Gassers. The Pioneer victory also brought them to within three games of the Gassers.

Lamesa was looking about today for a new hurler, after Bill Jones, the loop's leading hurler last year, failed to go the limit again. The Loboes might have wor the game, save for Jones and his ineffectiveness cost the losers another tight game.

Shone Stays Ahead

The Hubbers just couldn't fathom Frank Shone, who gave them little good to look at and stayed ahead of them throughout the game. Manager Jackie Sullivan smacked a home run in the fourth, the only lusty waflop the Hubbers got, while the other five hits off Shone were singles. And never did the Duke hurlers allow more than one hit in any inning.

It was downright discouraging to some 2,175 fans at Rosenthal Field, who were hoping for a victory over the invaders. Instead, the Hubbers lost their third straight to a band of players who hustled on the field and kept up a running chatter that spelled victory.

Bobby Layne pitched himself a good game, even though he lost. Layne gave up only six hits, but a double and single in the first were good for one run and a single and a homer gave the Dukes a lead they never relinquished. Layne also fanned six men and gave up six walks, none of which did any damage.

Mills Relieves Layne

The Hubbers sent their final tally across in the sixth when Gene Hixson walked, stole second and came in on Virgil Richardson's long hit to leftfield, which Dick Dawson dropped up against the wall for a two-base error. After that the Hubbers tried, but never were able to put on a sustained rally as Shone bore down.

Royce Mills relieved Layne at the start of the eighth and was charged with the final two runs scored by the visitors. Two walks, sandwiching outs, got him in trouble and Len Pill concluded the explosion with a double to right center.

Tonight the two nines meet in a doubleheader, with the first game beginning at 7:30 p. m. Manager Sullivan said that Lefty Fred Pollack would hurl the first tilt, with Bob Clodfelter going in the second game. They probably will be opposed by Ray Butler and Ray Machado, although Manager Herschel Martin may shoot newcomer Marvin Adams at the Hubbers.

Hubbers Give Grove Release

Dale John Grove, lefthanded hurler from Clovis, N. M., yesterday was given his outright release by the Lubbock Hubbers after being with the club since June 24.

Grove joined the club at Amarillo, after being released by the Clovis Pioneers, and saw action in only one game. He came on in relief of Bobby Layne at Borger June 27, and held the Gassers scoreless for two innings. He walked one, fanned one and hit one batter.

Third Year Of Ball

The New Mexico player is in his third year of ball. He was with Midland of the Longhorn League last season, during which he won nine and lost 12 games. He went to Henderson early in the 1948 season and won four, while losing two. From there he moved to Clovis, winning two and losing four. One of his victories was in his debut against the Hubbers.

His record for the year in the West Texas-New Mexico League is three victories and four defeats. He has appeared in ten games, pitched 32 innings, given up 39 runs garnered on 35 hits. He had an earned run average of 8.15.

Batting Average Down

Grove gave up 37 bases on balls, fanned 18 and committed three balks. His own batting average was down to .111, after sporting a better record with Henderson.

Cutting Grove loose leaves the Hubbers with five starting pitchers and one relief hurler, with slightly less than half the season remaining.

Deadline Is Sunday For City Open Meet

Sunday will be the final day for shooting qualifying rounds in the annual City Open golf tournament, sponsored by the Lubbock Optimist club at Meadowbrook Publinx course, meet officials warned Wednesday night.

Entries in the tourney are lagging, with only two days remaining until play gets underway, and officials emphasized that "anyone in the city of Lubbock is eligible to compete for more than $800 worth of prizes." Only requirement for entry is a five dollar fee.

First and second round matches in the tournament must be completed by July 18, officials said, then the third and fourth round matches must be reported by July 25.

Lubbock B Team Holding Pivot Position

Four District Tilts Are Set Today In Legion Competition

South Plains American Legion junior baseball nines are scheduled to clash in four crucial District 2 tilts today, with the right to compete in the district tournament—scheduled here next week—as the prize for the winners.

The Lubbock Region "B" nine, although not certified and not eligible for one of the four places in the district meet, may settle the issue for the other diamond squads of the North half in a clash with the Littlefield crew today.

If the Hub city nine defeats Littlefield on the Littlefield diamond this afternoon, Brownfield and Morton will hold a lead in the race for the two qualifying positions alloted to the North division of the district. If Littlefield upsets the Lubbock nine, the Littlefield boys will clinch at least a tie for one of the tourney spots.

Lubbock Legion officials said Wednesday night that, "We're going to Littlefield to play a ball game." H. J. McCabe, commander of Allen Bros. post of the Legion here and team manager, said that the Lubbock nine would play Littlefield even if the opposing team used negro hurler Billy Moody.

McCabe said that all the boys on the "B" nine had been requested to get the permission of their parents to play against the negro if necessary, and that he felt sure more than enough players would be available. A previous game with Littlefield was forfeited by Lubbock as a result of the opposition of parents of many of the Lubbock players to their sons competing against a "mixed" team.

In other district tilts Brownfield journeys to Plainview, Morton goes to Muleshoe and Slaton clashes with Tahoka.

Roster For Softball Tourney Is Boosted

Roster for the fourth annual regional American Softball association tournament, scheduled to open Monday night at Jumbo Webster park, has been boosted by the entry of eight Lubbock and South Plains nines, tourney officials reported Wednesday night.

Teams which have filed entry forms include Lubbock Barber college, Levine's, Golden Light Coffee, Cloverlake Dairy, Culligan's Soft Water service of Plainview, Happy's Bottling works of Tahoka, Baldridge Bakery and Bluebonnet Laundry.

Other entries from Amherst, Littlefield, Ralls, Abernathy, Post and Odessa are expected before the deadline Friday, officials said.

An entry fee of $20 per team will be charged by tourney officials.

The tournament will be conducted on a double elimination bracket, it was emphasized, and teams will be allowed to use an "open roster" system. Under the "open roster" setup, teams may use any player who has not played for any other team in an A. S. A. softball tournament this year.

Entries should be sent to Barney Stagner at 1011 Main, Lubbock.

Methodist Men Win Aaainst Kiwanis

No hit, no run hurling by Billy Presley gave the Methodist Men a 3-0 triumph over the Kiwanis in an American Legion Junior league clash at the Lubbock Boys club diamond Wednesday afternoon.

Presley pitched a near-perfect game, with only two men reaching first base — both on bases on balls. Presley struck out 15 batters in the seven-inning tussle.

In the Pee Wee loop the Yankees drubbed the White Sox, 5-3, George Dawson topped the winners with a triple and a double, with A. C. Tapp collecting three bingles for the Sox.

Time Limit Catches Two Longhorn Teams

(By The Associated Press)

The Longhorn league's time limit caught up with Ballinger and San Angelo last night and chopped off the tightest game this season. These two teams went 16 innings before calling it quits with the score tied, 5-all.

Odessa's Broncs climbed to within one and one-half games of the top by knocking off pace-setting Big Spring, 7-4 and in other games, Midland nudged Sweetwater, 5-3, and Vernon beat Del Rio, 9-3.

Three Teams Vie For League Second Slot

Three teams in the South Plains Softball League will supply all the interest in the loop from now until it finishes, since the Sunbeam Laundry nine already has clinched the title and will leave the other four teams to fight it out for a berth in the Shaughnessy playoffs.

Baldridge Bakery and Cloverlake Dairy virtually are deadlocked for second place, although the dairymen have played two less games. And Thomas Jewelers are currently in fourth place only half a game behind the Cloverlake nine.

Still Have Chance

In fifth place, with still a mathematical chance of getting into the playoffs, is the Golden Light coffee team, six games off the pace of the Thomas nine. A sustained winning streak might get the coffeemen into the playoffs.

Tonight's crucial games brings together Baldridge and Thomas in the headline affair, with Cloverlake meeting Sunbeam. Golden Light, while idle, has a chance to gain in the race if the jewelrymen are defeated.

Henderson Has Decision Win

NEW YORK, July 8 (AP) — A strong rally gave Bill Henderson, the transplanted Texas lightweight now fighting out of Cliffside Park, N. J., a decision over George LaFlagio of New York in a six round bout at Jamaica arena last night. It was Henderson's eighth victory in as many professional starts.

Henderson weighed 131, LaFalgio, 128¼

The Lubbock, Tex., battler, a stablemate of Light Heavyweight Champion Gus Lesnevich, had rough going in the first two rounds as LaFalgio pressed the attack and landed effectively.

But in the third Henderson started picking up and smashed hard overhead rights to his foe's head. LaFalgio showed signs of weakening in the later rounds under this assault.

Henderson had a slight edge in the third and fourth rounds and took a decided margin in the last two.

He had LaFalgio on the ropes in the final round and left no room for doubt about his triumph.

It was a slugging match all the way, with neither fighter giving quarter and the crowd showed its appreciation with clapping and loud cheers.

LaFalgio's left hook gave him the advantage in the first two rounds but this weapon lost its sting when Henderson hit his full stride.

Texan Advances In Western Net Open

INDIANAPOLIS, July 8 (AP) — One of two Texas tennis stars advanced today in the Western net tournament here. In the second round of the women's singles, Margaret Varner, El Paso, defeated Violette Kastle, Berwyn, Ill., 7-5, 6-0.

Rosemary Buck, Dallas, in a third round match, lost to Marta Barnett, Miami. The score was 6-2, 7-5.

Other scores included:

Men's singles — fourth round: Richard (Pancho) Gonzales, Los Angeles, defeated Tom Molloy, New Orleans, 6-2, 1-6, 6-3.

200 REQUESTS ALREADY RECEIVED

Jaycee Fight Card Ducats Go On Sale

Sale of tickets for the Lubbock Junior Chamber of Commerce fight card, which will be held at Rosenthal Field July 22, go on sale in the lobby of the Hotel Hilton this noon and already over 200 requests for ringside tickets have been received.

Despite the large number of requests for ducats to the 44-round fight card, there are plenty of tickets for everyone wishing to see the fine array of boxing planned. A special sales boothe has been set up in the hotel lobby and a clerk will be on duty from 12:30 until 4:30 p. m. daily to accept orders.

Only reserved seat tickets will be sold at the boothe initially, with general admission tickets being placed on sale later.

Baseball box seat holders will have until Monday noon in which to reserve their present box seats for the fight card. Interested persons must call the Jaycee office at 6861, or Preston Baumgardner at 4363. Individual tickets for the box seats will sell at $4.20 each, including tax.

Bert Kahn, who is promoting the fights for the Jaycees, has not been able to reach Dick Griffin, El Paso promoter, who is on the West Coast. Griffin will return to El Paso today and Kahn will attempt to sign some of his fighters for the Lubbock card.

Among the more prominently mentioned fighters is Manny Ortega, rated the top featherweight in Texas and a leading contender for the world title. Ortega recently staged a fight in El Paso over the ten-round route that attracted nation-wide attention for the spectator suspense and sheer fighting ability.

Of course the leading figures on the fight card will be J. D. Kirkpatrick of Petersburg and Bill Henderson of Levelland, the two South Plains fighters who turned professional in March. Both boys have turned in outstanding professional performances in their initial fights and have graduated from four-round cards to six-rounders.

Kirkpatrick has drawn rave notices from promoters, who have been attracted by his physique and his punching ability. He is a light heavyweight and is being groomed for a steady advance up the fistic ladder.

Henderson, for two years state Golden Gloves featherweight champion, also has turned in spectacular fights in his class and is highly thought of by his backers. He fought his second six-round fight last night, while Kirkpatrick makes his final New York appearance, until the Lubbock fights, Friday night. Both boys will return to Lubbock on Sunday.

Another feature of the Lubbock Jaycee fight card will be the appearance of Jack Dempsey, the famed Manassa Mauler, as referee. Arrangements have been completed for his visit to Lubbock and Kahn is hopeful that he will arrive July 21.

Dodgers Threaten To Catch Up In League Race By Month's End

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The unpredictable Brooklyn Dodgers were riding high today on the wings of a six-game winning streak—and threatening to catch the leaders before the month is out.

The latest Brooklyn victory march not only enhanced the Dodgers' chances to retain their National league championship, but may have halted, for the time being at least, rumors that Leo Durocher is on the way out as manager.

In Best Position

It is no secret that Durocher must make a good showing this year or quit.

Meanwhile, the Dodgers find themselves in the best position they've been all season. Last night's 4-3 victory in 11 innings over the Boston Braves at Ebbets field left them in fifth place, only a game behind the first division New York Giants. They trail the pace- setting Braves by six and a half games, but are only four games behind in the important losing column.

The Cleveland Indians maintained their slim 10-percentage point bulge on the Philadelphia Athletics in the American league race by trouncing the Chicago White Sox, 10-2. The A's also won their game, edging out the Yankees at New York, 4-3. Bob Feller hurled his ninth victory for the Tribe, pitching shutout ball after the first inning. The cellar-dwelling White Sox rapped Feller for two runs on three hits in the first inning.

Senators Cake Up

Hank Majeski, a Yankee castoff, was the big gun for the A's. The hard-hitting third baseman, walloped a home run and triple to drive in three runs against his former mates. Tommy Byrne was the victim.

Trailing 2-6, the Washington Senators suddenly came to life with a five-run rally in the top of the ninth to nip the Red Sox at Boston, 7-6. Manager Joe McCarthy who started with Boo Ferriss, used five pitchers in a frantic attempt to halt the Nats.

Hal Newhouser became the first Detroit pitcher to twirl a shutout this season when he blanked the St. Louis Browns, 6-0, for his 12th victory. He has lost six.

Pittsburgh moved past St. Louis into second place in the National league by defeating the Cardinals, 2-1. The Pirates scored the tie-breaking run in the top of the ninth when Wally Westlake followed Ralph Kiner's double with a run-producing single. The Pirates, who boast a half length lead over the Cards, now trail the Braves by 2 1-2 games.

Larry Jansen limited the Philadelphia Phillies to two hits in pitching the New York Giants to a 7-0 triumph. He had a no-hitter until Richie Ashburn scratched an infield hit in the seventh. Johnny Mize collected four hits off Curt Simmons.

Hoping off to a 5-0 lead in the first inning, the Reds went on to gain an easy 10-3 victory over the Cubs in Chicago. It was the only game played in the majors in daylight.

Dallas Climbs In Texas Play In Close Win

By WILBURN MARTIN
Associated Press Staff Writer

The Texas league All-Star roster doesn't list Johnny Logan, but to Dallas fans that's a bad oversight.

Johnny caught hold of the first pitch Vic Johnson threw him in the seventh inning last night and sent it out of the park. That tied the score and enabled Dallas to use an eighth inning tally for a 2-1 decision over Oklahoma City. The victory put the Rebels within one-half game of first division.

All of the other games last night were decided by one-run scores. Fort Worth squeezed by Tulsa, 2-1; Houston nicked San Antonio, 4-3, and Beaumont took an eleven inning, 10-9, decision from Shreveport.

Ed Garcia, who took over Oklahoma City picthing chores in the eighth, walked Red Borom with the bases loaded to send Johnny Creel home with the winning run. Oklahoma City's tally came in the fourth.

Gerry Burmeister's three-run homer in the sixth inning gave Houston the nod over San Antonio. It broke a 1-all tie and gave Southpaw Pete Mazar his eleventn victory against two setbacks. San Antonio rallied for two runs in the eighth on two hits, a hit batsman and a fielder's choice.

Wayne Tucker's single in the bottom of the eleventh brought Jerry Crosby home with the second and winning tally for Beaumont. Shreveport had managed one run its half of the eleventh.

Carl Erskine won his 12th game of the year as he scattered eight Tulsa hits. Fort Worth scored the winning run off Eldred Byerly in the sixth inning when Dee Fondy doubled after two were out and raced all the way around as Elbie Flint erred on Walter Fiala's grounder.

The same teams meet again tonight at the same sites.

Lone Star's Second Division Climbing

(By The Associated Press)

The second division of the Lone Star league handed the top bracket a licking all the way around last night, with Henderson going 12 innings to down league-leading Kilgore, 10-9.

In other games, Marshall nosed out Longview, 6-5; Lufkin pounced on Bryan, 16-7, and Gladewater edged Tyler, 10-9.

Kilgore fashioned seven runs in the first three innings, then Henderson put together four runs in the third as Johnny Stone hit his 12th homer with two on. Doubles by Dave Bellamy and Mel Hicks gave Henderson the winning run.

A three-run rally in the eighth and one in the ninth won for Marshall. George Stassi's two-run homer in the ninth gave Gladewater the decision.

Lufkin's Foresters used 20 hits for a one-sided victory.

Weidner Takes Win Over Sammy Kohen

Billy Weidner, tough Boston grunt-and-groan specialist, provided one of the major surprises of the season Wednesday night at Sled Allen's arena by besting New York's Sammy Kohen in two straight falls in the feature bout.

Weidner copped the first fall in 22 minutes, when Kohen was disqualified for a breach of ring regulations, then the Boston strong boy stunned the mat fans by pinning Kohen with a full nelson in just one minute of the second fall.

Jack Carter, veteran New Zealander, won the two of three fails semifinal from Gil Knutson, while Amarillo's Dory Dutton and Tennessee's Billy Hickson battled to a draw in the 20-minute preliminary.

Big State League Standings Change

(By The Associated Press)

The Big State league had a couple of changes in the standings today, but not at the top or bottom.

Wichita Falls was in third place by one percentage point and Paris had replaced Greenville in fifth.

Wichita Falls walloped Greenville, 19-8, in a wild fray at Greenville, Paris beat Austin, 10-2, Texarkana downed Waco, 8-4, and Gainesville jumped on Sherman-Denison, 5-2, last night.

Sherman-Denison holds a three game lead over second place Austin and Texarkana is buried in the cellar.

Greenville ran out of starting pitchers and used a first baseman outfielder and a couple of catchers on the mound. These men also did some switching around after leaving the hill.

The Spudders collected 22 hits and a total of 34 bases off first baseman Conk Meriwether, outfielder Al Duarte, catcher Dutch Funderburk and Catcher-Manager Buddy Hanckne. Al McCarty drove in nine of the Spudders runs with two home runs, two singles and a double.

Texarkana took a two-run lead in the first and was never seriously threatened by Waco.

Paris picked up two runs in the third, added four more in the fourth and won going away from Austin.

Gainesville swept its series with Sherman-Denison by scoring twice in the first and adding three more in the third. Jake Suytar's homer and two singles gave the twins two runs in the ninth.

Canada, Mexico In Davis Cup Battle

MONTREAL, July 8 (AP)—Mexico met Canada today in the first matches of the North American zone of Davis Cup tennis competition.

Henri Rochon, Canada's No. 1 player, was matched against Francisco Guerro of Mexico in the opening singles match. Brendan Macken of Canada took on Armando Vega in the day's other engagement.

Olympic Track Team Selection Nearing

EVANSTON, Ill., July 8. (AP)—Selection of the American Olympic track team counted on to win ten firsts at London starts tomorrow at 6 p. m. (EST) in Northwestern university's Dyche stadium and concludes Saturday afternoon.

There was increasing confidence on all hands. With one notable exception, the 200 athletes have come this far without serious injuries. Even Gil Dodds, best of the distance men who has a strained achilles tendon in his left leg, is rounding back into shape.

Next Monday the track squad of about 65 men will assemble in New York for "processing" before the S. S. America sails on Wednesday with most of the American team. The exact number in track depends on how many spares are carried to round out the sprint and 1,600 meter relay teams.

The time between selection of the team and sailing is so limited that a tailor must be taken on the ship to fit the snappy blue and white parade uniforms.

The 1948 American Olympic team looks for eight of its 10 firsts in the field events, and two in the hurdles.

But there is a possibility one American may achieve a sprint victory which would make up for any losses over the longer flat races. He is Mel Patton of Southern California, slender and delicate. Whether his legs can stand the long series of Olympic trial heats is a big question.

After running the 100 yard dash in :09.3, one-tenth of a second under the world record, he had leg trouble. But he won convincingly in the National Collegiates and then bowed out of the National A. A. U. championships.

Probation Officer Outlines Activities Of Local Boys At Kiwanis Club Meeting

Boys activities highlighted the luncheon of the Kiwanis club today at Hotel Lubbock, with a brief review of organized boys efforts and results of these efforts outlined by John Wilson, city probation officer and director of the Lubbock Boys club, along with introduction of four winners in the Soap Box derby held here Monday.

Wilson listed eight organized efforts on behalf of boys, explaining that this is not all of them but that time and circumstances restricted him. Those he named were:

Organizations Given

4-H clubs, primarily for rural youth, with 326 members who reach the high spot of their year at the annual rally here July 14; Boy Scouts, with a total of 800 members in the county, including one negro troop that is very active; Future Farmers of America, which this year has 72 boys active and 42 others registered as new members next year; city recreation department and its supervised program under direction of 31 workers during the summer; Lubbock Boys club, which has enrolled 1,556 members since organization in 1944 and an active membership in the past year of 901 nuder 14 rained leaders in the summer and seven during the winter; Junior Optimist club, with 58 members and average attendance of 54; the American Legion baseball program with over 400 boys participating on 12 teams; and the Soap Box derby.

Results Are Cited

Wilson cited as a result of these and similar activities a sharp drop in juvenile misdeeds. He said that in 1943 juvenile court here handled 1,136 cases, filed charges in 57 cases, and sent 24 to reform schools. In 1947 240 cases were handled, only ten cases were filed, and four sent to reform school.

This part of the program was in charge of E. Esten Day. Soap Box derby winners were introduced by C. A. White. In order of winning the first four places these were Joe Lon Teal, Willie Neiman, Bruce McCarty, and Mickey Hamm.

Rev. Hubert H. Bratcher, pastor of St. John's Methodist church, was introduced as a new member. Club President L. E. (Jack) Davis was in the chair, with invocation by John C. Reynolds.

Future Farmers

of the FFA program, such as chapter conducting, farm demonstration, and FFA quiz.

Ryan explained that there are three advancement stages beyond the beginning student, who is called a Greenhand. These are chapter farmer degree, which is conferred by local groups; Lone Star farmer, conferred by the state organization; and American Farmer, a national designation.

Ryan said yesterday that 239 reservations for the banquet had been made. Of these, about 100 are FFA members, 100 or more are parents of FFA members, and the others are adult leaders, several from out of the city who are on the program.

Leroy Thornburg of White Deer, area 1 president, is to be toastmaster at the banquet, and following invocation by Alton Brzzel of the Lubbock chapter and the opening ceremony by area officers, the Sandstorm Cowboys of the Olton chapter are to furnish music.

Ray L. Chappelle, FFA teacher trainer, and member of the college faculty, is to introduce guests, and L. M. Hargrave, assistant teacher trainer, also of the college faculty, is to introduce American Farmer candidates and national office nominee.

This is to be followed by announcement of area awards by Ryan, and a talk on "My Supervised Practice Program," by Clyde Green of the Cooper FFA chapter.

Presentation of a series of other awards is to follow. These include Sears awards by C. T. Johnson, of Dallas, director of Sears-Roebuck Foundation; Santa Fe awards, by H. M. Bainer, Santa Fe agriculture agent and R. W. Ater, Santa Fe public relations department; and state FFA awards by George Hurt, assistant state supervisor, of Austin.

Honorary members will then be formally received in a ceremony by area officers, and Harold Brannan of the Dimmitt chapter is to deliver the winning speech of area 1.

Installation of new area officers will be conducted by Clois Dean Wiseman of the Sudan chapter, state FFA president, and the closing ceremony by area officers will conclude the session.

Wheat Harvest

house was available. W. O. Stark of the state employment service said there was no relief from the boxcar shortage in sight.

He said an estimatd 1,000,000 bushels of Kansas wheat already were ground-stored and more was piling up rapidly. Kansas crop experts said the last government estimate of the state's crop—160,000,000 bushels—would be greatly exceeded. They put the minimum yield at about 178,000,000 bushels.

In Nebraska, J. Leroy Welsn, president of a big grain firm, reported that all the state's elevators were brim full. He said the yield was five to 10 bushels per acre higher than last year, and predicted that the Nebraska crop would total between 75,000,000 and 80,000,000 bushels.

Officials of the Burlington and Union Pacific said the railroads had more boxcars this year than ever before, but the supply still is short in view of the huge crop.

Stock Market

RAILS IN DEMAND

NEW YORK, July 8 (AP)—Moderate demand for railroad issues put a little backbone in the stock market today.

At the final bell gains of fractions to around a point were in a majority. Declines were numerous but small.

Late news that a settlement might be near in the long wage dispute between three railroad brotherhoods and the major railroads was accompanied by increased interest in rail stocks but did not produce and significant price changes.

Among the gainers were U. S. Steel, Missouri-Kansas-Texas preferred, Southern Pacific, Nickel Plate, Atlantic Refining, Zenith Radio, Grumman Aircraft, Anaconda Copper, General Electric, J. C. Penney and American Tobacco.

Lower were General Motors, Chrysler, Montgomery Ward, National Distillers and Standard Oil (NJ).

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, July 8 (AP)—Cotton futures registered moderate gains today, influenced partly by a lower than expected estimate on 1948 cotton plantings by the Dept. of Agriculture.

The government forecast of plantings at 23,653,000 acres compared with trade figures of around 24,000,000 and actual plantings last year of 21,500,000.

Short covering following the report extended gains of $1.75 a bale, but the market later lost a good part of the advance on scattered local and New Orleans selling. Sentiment among traders was that although the acreage report was lower than expected a large crop can still be realized in view of the excellent weather to date in the cotton belt and indications of better than average yields.

Nearby July was under moderate liquidating pressure, following the issuance of 11 July transferable notices.

Cotton futures sagged into new low ground for the day on late liquidation. Failure of the market to respond to the lower than expected acreage report, increased pressure of nearby July, and the quiet export situation contributed to the easiness.

Futures closed 15 to 85 cents a bale lower than the previous close.

McGrath said the White House politicos were agreed on one thing—that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower no longer is a threat to Mr. Truman's nomination.

He said they felt that Ike's "I could not accept" statement was "definite and final and the last word that needs to be said by him."

cials were told, and threatened he would marry Miss Allston despite her family's wishes.

Mr. Allston then said: "Then I won't be at the wedding."

Miss Allston returned McGee's ring and went to bed under care of a physician.

Girl Shaken Violently

Then McGee, Wednesday morning, borrowed $20 from a girl he knew, went to the Allston apartment, virtually forced his way into Miss Allston's bedroom, demanded to know whether she would marry him, shook her violently when she did not answer, then threatened Mrs. Allston when the mother ordered him out of the apartment.

"I'll be back—soon," he was quoted as saying.

After he left, Miss Allston told her mother that McGee had threatened all members of her family.

It was briefly before 12 o'clock noon when McGee left the Allston apartment. He showed up 30 minutes later at a pawnbroker's and bought a .38 caliber pistol, then returned to the Allston apartment.

One Shot Heard

He knocked at a back door. When Mr. Allston, who had gone there for lunch, denied him admittance and slammed the kitchen door one shot was heard. Mr. Allston fell, shot almost completely through the neck.

Efforts of a hospital to save him by surgery and transfusions failed, and he was dead by midafternoon.

Funeral services for Allston, a former resident of Amarillo, Pampa, and Vernon, will be held at 2:30 o'clock Friday afternoon at the First Christian church here with Rev. Travis A. White, pastor, named to officiate. Interment will be in Lubbock Memorial cemetery. Pallbearers have not been named.

Two "Big Breaks"

Two "big breaks" aided the suspect in getting out of the gathering dragnet of official surveillance.

Police received a 12:49 p. m. call saying there had been a "shooting" at Colonial apartments, a giant apartment house rencently completed.

When police sought further information as to who had been shot and where, the caller hung up.

Police had to take valuable time to find which apartment was referred to and didn't know for several minutes whether an assault or an accident had been involved.

Drove For 30 Miles

Then the suspect so completely frightened Garrett that the bellhop, letting the gunman out of his car in Brownfield, drove approximately 30 miles from Brownfield to Wolfforth before telephoning officials about the incident.

The call came to Lubbock police, at a time when a man identified as McGee calmly walked into a Brownfield bank and cashed a $10 check on his mother's account in Borger, then went to a hotel and made a telephone call.

He was believed to have been the caller who asked the bus station there for information on bus schedules to Amarillo "without going through Lubbock."

Struck Out Afoot

By the time Brownfield authorities could be informed by Lubbock officers of Garrett's story McGee apparently had "struck out afoot."

But officials, knowing of his methods in abducting Garrett, feared that McGee would use his gun to enforce other rides.

Two fears linked with that possibility, that some motorist might be hurt, and that McGee might slip completely through their fingers.

Municipal and state police also kept close watch for stolen cars on the South Plains, but no such report had been made today.

Treated In Hospital

McGee's record disclosed treatment for "depression psychosis" in a Waco veterans hospital in 1947, and a conviction of misdemeanor theft Feb. 21 of that year in Lubbock county.

He moved to an address in 2100 block Sixth two weeks ago and told the woman who rented him the room that he was a "ministerial student," she told newsmen.

He and Miss Allston had met when he was a student of North Texas State Teachers college.

Garrett Tells Story

Garrett told officials that McGee—the identification was from a snapshot showed him by Capt. Pat Davidson of police detectives—walked up to his place and, after offering him an insurance job, asked Garrett to drive him to the home of one of Garrett's friends. He said he would offer the job there.

But, once in the car, he pointed his pistol at Garrett and forced the bellhop to drive him to Brownfield. They stopped en route and bought gasoline. McGee, mentioning that he had shot a man who had declined to let him marry his daughter, warned that he would use his gun if he had to.

Garrett said McGee told him that the man he had shot was only wounded and that he, McGee, would get only a light sentence.

"Will Look You Up"

He threatened that if Garrett "told" of the abduction ride and of the fugitive's whereabouts, "I will look you up" after the brief sentence.

Two charges were filed. District Attorney Lloyd Croslin, upon oath of Chief Dep. Sheriff George Eubank, filed the first, charging assault with intent to murder, soon after learning of the assault.

That charge, filed in the justice court of D. W. Robertson, was quickly dismissed after Mr. Allston's death, and a murder with malice complaint substituted.

Caution Is Advised

"Use extreme caution in arresting this suspect," official radio broadcasts warned. "He is believed armed and is considered extremely dangerous."

If it was McGee who was seen on the Lamesa road, he may have doubled back toward Austin, officials theorized. They cited an Austin sister's request for police protection after she had been informed of the shooting. The state highway patrol was authority for that information.

Pampa authorities too were alerted. McGee's mother, Mrs. H. H. Stull, lives there.

Was Choir Director

Pampa also was the residence of the Allstons for a brief time. Mr. Allston was choir director of the Pampa First Christian church before leaving there in 1939. A brother, Ollie Allston, is associated with an automobile agency there.

Mr. Allston was manager of South Plains Associated Grocers. He left Lubbock in 1926, was associated with Waples-Platter company in Amarillo several years, then became manager of a wholesale grocery house in Vernon. He and his family returned here about the first of the year.

Description of the accused slayer: 5 feet 8 inches, 175 pounds, blond hair, blue summer suit, thick-lens heavy-rim glasses, crew haircut. McGee had not had a haircut in approximately two weeks when last reported seen.

Mr. Allston also is survived by his mother, of Amarillo; another daughter, Sue, 14; and six other brothers and sisters.

home and stop near a neighbor's house. It returned to his place shortly thereafter and one of the three men in the automobile called to him.

He said he walked out of his yard and toward the car when one of the men got out and started in his direction. He said the man asked:

"Are you Eugene Miller?"

"I sure am," Miller said he replied.

Miller said he thought the man was going to shake hands with him Miller extended his hand, he said, only to see the man pull a pistol and start shooting. The assailant then ran back to the car where his two companions awaited, and they sped off.

Miller said he wasn't sure of the make of the car, but "it looked like a new Chevrolet." It was a dark sedan, he said.

Sheriff's officers said that they were without clues, other than the description of the car.

Miller served as state representative for two years about 25 years ago. Several years later, he served two terms as state senator from the district which includes Parker, Jack, Wise, Palo Pinto, Denton, and Montague counties.

He ran for state senator two years ago, but finished third in the race.

Was Well Known

He called Weatherford home, but spent much of his time in Austin, where he was well known among the state's lawmakers.

Miller was single. He was reared by three sisters, who adopted him from a New York orphanage as a baby. He attended school in Weatherford and was graduated from Southern Methodist university and the University of Texas law school.

If his absence from drill exceeds 10 per cent, he will become eligible for the draft once inductions get underway around late September.

Men who were members of federally recognized National Guard units, either ground or air organizations, by midnight of June 24, will be exempt.

Forrestal asked the secretaries of Army, Navy and Air to furnish him with a list of the reserve components which qualify under the definition he set up. As a general proposition, Forrestal said the units include, in addition to the National Guard and Army and Air Force reserve, organized reserve units of the Navy, including the associated volunteers with a regular drill status, electronic warfare companies, and the platoon leaders class of the U. growing movement for liberation of the negro in America.

"Men will come to this convention whose hands will be dripping with the blood of negro Americans, the blood of men, women and children whose only crime was to believe that the constitution of the United States means what it says."

Copies Given Press

The negro and civil rights organizations distributed copies of their statements to the press prior to their appearance before the platform committee.

Southern members indicated they will submit these witnesses to vigorous cross examination.

Walter White's statement reminded the Democratic party that negroes hold the balance of voting power in many congressional districts and in some northern states.

Even as the civil rights backers clamored for attention, the CIO, too, was demanding support in the party platform.

The labor organization came forward with a hard-pounding demand for a "Roosevelt platform". CIO Secretary James B. Carey, a little man with a mop of curly hair, urged in his deep voice that the Democratic pledge:

1. Federal laws against lynching, poll taxes, discrimination in employment, and racial separation in the armed services.

2. Repeal of the Taft-Hartley labor law.

3. Public housing; price controls; health insurance; greater social security; higher minimum wages; federal aid to education; an excessive profits tax, and other measures.

Harrison To Be Questioned In Connection With Star's Death

HOLLYWOOD, July 8. (AP) — British Actor Rex Harrison faced coroner's questioning today in connection with the suicide of screen star Carole Landis.

Harrison apparently was the last person to see the blond actress alive at her Riviera home Sunday and was the first to discover her body slumped on her bathroom floor the following afternoon.

Searching For Will

"Our intent in calling Mr. Harrison," explained Coroner Ben Brown, "is to leave nothing undone to clear up completely any unexplained points in Miss Landis' death."

The star's brother, Lawrence Ridste of San Bernardino, Calif., indicated the family does not expect to question Harrison.

Meantime, search continues for a second will. The only one found so far was filed in 1944. Jerry Giesler, Miss Landis' attorney in her recent divorce suit against her fourth husband, W. Horace Schmidlapp, said the will named the actress' former business manager, Bo C. Ross, as executor and one of his aides, Charles E. Trezona, jr., as co-executor.

The attorney said the star's mother, Mrs. Clara Landis, has not been adamant about who the executor should be, but would prefer a member of the family. Giesler said both men are willing to comply with family wishes in the matter.

The film star's property settlement with Schmidlapp was final except for her signature, Geisler said, adding that Miss Landis had agreed to it orally and had promised to sign it last Tuesday. But death intervened.

Giesler took little stock in reports that financial distress contributed to the star's suicide. Money from the sale of her house, he said, would have paid all her bills and left a considerable sum besides.

Changed Mind?

"She was very honorable about paying her bills," he added. "She had written personally to her creditors, assuring them that they would be paid as soon as the sale of the house cleared escrow."

Giesler said he believes the actress took the overdose of sleeping pills impulsively as a result of a "sudden, great shock," and then changed her mind—but too late.

The actress was the victim of a lethal dose of barbiturates, coroner's Chemist R. J. Abernathy reported. He said his examination disclosed the presence of five milligrams of seconal. Abernathy said blood tests showed a .12 per cent of ethyl alcohol, adding that .15 per cent generally means intoxication.

Coroner Brown said he hopes more light will be shed on the case in his scheduled interview with Actor Harrison late this afternoon.

UN To Get Out If Truce Fails

By MAX HARRELSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

LAKE SUCCESS, July 8—The United Natoins made preparations today for quick withdrawal of U. N. personnel from Palestine if the Jewish-Arab truce blows up.

Informed quarters said Count Folke Bernadotte, U. N. mediator, already had completed plans to evacuate the 100 or more truce observers and secretariat members in the event his efforts to extend the armistice fail.

Bernadotte received the Israeli reply yesterday to his appeal for a truce extension, and was expected to get the Arab answer this morning.

Jews May Accept Proposal

The Jews were reported to have accepted the proposed extension in principle. Informed quarters, on the other hand, said the Arabs had decided to refuse the extension.

Bernadotte was understood to have informed U. N. Secretary-General Trygve Lie that, if the truce plans fell through, he was ready to ask both Jews and Arabs to hold up the fighting three days to permit the evacuation of the U. N. employees.

The truce will expire at 1 a. m. (EST) Friday unless it is extended.

The security council sent an appeal to the disputing parties late yesterday to agree to an extension for whatever period asked by Bernadotte the appeal was voted 8 to 0, with Russia, the Soviet Ukraine and Syria abstaining.

Stormy Sessions Held

The action came after two stormy sessions. At the morning meeting, Jamal Husseini, representative of the Arab higher committee, walked out of the discussions in protest against actions of Dmitri Z. Manuilsky of the Ukraine, this month's council president. Manuilsky had referred to Aubrey S. Eban as a representative of the state of Israel and not as a representative of the Jewish agency.

In the afternoon, Russia and the Ukraine charged Bernadotte was acting as a front for the British in the Middle East. They claimed Bernadotte's peace proposals were dictated by the British foreign office. British delegate Sir Alexander Cadogan denied this.

MEASLES PLAGUE UTAH

SALT LAKE CITY. (UP)—Utah had six times as many measles cases the first five months of this year as for the entire year of 1947. The month of May, alone, accounted for 647 measles cases. The entire year of 1947 had only 518 measles cases.

Polio Severity Getting Worse

RALEIGH, N. C., July 8. (AP)—Infantile paralysis edged relentlessly today toward its record severity of 1944 in North Carolina.

Four of the state's 100 counties were regarded as epidemic areas as the number of cases for this year reached 408 yesterday, the worst on record for this time of year.

Thirty-seven cases were reported yesterday but this high figure was attributed to a three-day backlog of reports caused by health departments closing over the fourth of July week-end.

No Quarantines Imposed

No quartines have been imposed on swimming pools and theaters, as was the case back in 1944, when a record of 878 cases were reported. Parents have been cautioned, however, to keep children away from crowds.

The greatest severity of outbreaks has been noted in the populous central portion of the state.

Dr. C. P. Stevick of the State Board of Health reports that North Carolina's coastal and mountain areas are "within normal limits as far as the incidence of cases is concerned."

Meanwhile, communities and hospitals in affected areas have set about precautions and arrangements to combat a spread of the disease and to handle the existing problem of care for patients.

41 Put In Isolation Ward

At Greensboro, seat of Guilford county, one of the hardest hit, 41 victims were reported in an isolation ward and 51 were at a convalescent center.

Duke hospital in Durham reported an isolation ward in operation with special doctors, nurses and physical therapists on constant call for polio cases.

H. C. Mickey, Duke hospital administrator, reported yesterday that the Red Cross is seeking additional nurses from other sections of the country to help out in the emergency.

Littlefield Okays Issuance Of Bonds

LITTLEFIELD, July 8. (Spl)—At a special election held here yesterday, voters of this city approved the issuance of bonds totaling $450,000 to be used in financing the expansion and improvement of the present water and sewage systems.

A total of 193 votes were cast, and of this number, 167 approved the proposal while 19 opposed it. Seven mutilated ballots were not counted.

The bonds will give the city $220,000 after refunding the present indebtedness of $180,000. This sum will be used in a long-range program which will supply the city's water needs for many years to come, city commissioners have reported.

Immediate utilization of the measure will include the construction of a 16-inch water main from the water wells into town; from a six to 16-inch loop for distribution; two new wells; new water extensions and sewer lines, and a new reservoir.

The sun shines hottest on ice-covered mountain peaks.

Rites Held For Wife Of Judge At Dallas

DALLAS, July 8 (AP)—Funeral services were held at 10 a. m. today for Mrs. Constance Key Davidson, wife of Federal Judge T. Whitfield Davidson, who died at her Dallas home yesterday after an extended illness.

Rites were at the Church of the Incarnation with Rev. Gresham Marmion officiating. Burial is to be in Marshall.

Born in Marshall, Mrs. Davidson was a descendant of Francis Scott Key, author of the Star Spangled Banner.

She and Judge Davidson were married in New Orleans in 1936.

Flags flew at half mast over the federal building in Dallas today and offices attached to the United States courts remained closed during the morning.

That Jingle-Jangle Is Only His Spurs

Gene Autry's Wealth Not So Great As Is Indicated

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, July 8—Joltin' Gene Autry, a bit red-faced by reports of his wealth, reckons as how that jingle-jangle you hear is his spurs, not his coin.

"It's not as big as it sounds," Gene drawled, referring to accounts of his far-flung empire of holdings. He explained that his earnings go right back into his many enterprises, leaving him not too well off in the cash department. One thing about the publicity on his finances, he added, "I've certainly heard from a lot of my relatives."

Autry is the exception among Hollywood's star-capitalists; he has no business manager. Piloting his own plane all over the U. S. (He has clocked over 5,000 hours in the air), he keeps a weather eye on his businesses. And it's getting him down.

May Rid Of Some Holdings

"I think I'll start getting rid of some of them," he sighed. "No sense in working yourself to death. Besides, after taxes are taken out, there's not enough left to merit all that work."

The Tioga, Tex., tustler is currently humming and strumming his way through "Wings Westward," a story of a fight against an insect blight in Idaho. In it, the villain is a tree-munching moth and Gene rides an airplane instead of Champion, his famed nag. Which shows you how far the film western has come since the William S. Hart days.

"Our main problem in westerns is finding new plots," Gene told me. "So many regular westerns are made every year that it is hard to find new stories. Not only that, but the big-name stars are making more westerns, too. Everybody's getting into the act."

Gene Is Restrained

He added that dramatic stars have a wider range of material to choose from. Gene is restrained by a different set of morals.

"If I did what Gregory Peck did in 'Duel In The Sun', I'd be run out of the business," he observed.

In more than 60 films, Gene has had only one screen kiss — by Ann Rutherford in an early picture. He feels, however, that such romance restrictions are lessening. "Kids nowadays are more used to seeing a little romance; I think there should be a love story in a film," he said. "At least a little," he added cautiously.

Gene illustrated the stringent morality he faces. He had a scene in which he threatened the heavy, saying "Why, you—." The Johnston office said no. Autry could deliver no such broken lines. It could not be presumed that any villain, no matter how dastardly, could induce Gene to utter profanity.

Star notes . . . Rita Hayworth is expected to sail home Sept. 2 on the Queen Elizabeth . . . Robert Paige takes off July 12 on a flying tour of 20 cities to find a 4-H girl for "The Green Promise." That's the picture backed by Glenn McCarthy, the Texas moneybags . . .

Gene Kelly has been notified that his alma mater, Penn State, will celebrate a Gene Kelly day during the fall homecoming . . . Progress note: Walter Pidgeon is having a telephone installed in his car for his Pacific coast motor tour.

Reburial Rites Set For Army Officer

Reburial services for Lt. Col. George P. Coleman, recruiting officer here in 1940, who was killed in Manila in February, 1945, are to be held at 4 o'clock Friday afternoon at Lovington, N. M., friends here were advised yesterday.

The body arrived from overseas some time ago, and had been at the Fort Worth distribution center of the Army Graves Registration service. It is to arrive at Carlsbad Friday morning.

Col. Coleman's mother, who lives at Lovington, is among survivors.

Rat Control Committee Is Getting Mail All About Better Traps To Catch Rodents

By VERN HAUGLAND
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, July 8 — The National Committee on rat control is getting some bulky mail these days—bigger and supposedly better rat traps.

Also letters about rat traps, such as one from Thomas William Mann of 19 Rector street, New York City, about an "electronic" trap made in Rochester, N. Y.

"This trap is supposedly based entirely on rat psychology," said Mann.

"The inventors are reputed to have spent several years in warehouses and basements studying the habits of rats.

Rat Is Electrocuted

"As the rat enters the trap he passes directly in the center of an electric eye. The trap doors snap shut, a light goes on and a shrill buzzer begins working. Apparently the rat's one thought is of escape. The only exit available leads to a ramp at the top of which the rat trips a delicate microswitch.

"An electrode drops over him and electrocutes him. The electrocution chamber opens, dropping out the dead rat, the doors resume their normal position, the light goes out and the trap is ready for its next victim."

William Colenberg, 753 Fox street, Bronx, N. Y., sent in a plastic model of his "mouse and rat trap," a complicated device involving a trip platform in front of a bait box. The weight of an animal on the platform, said Colenberg, would release an elevator arrangement and lower the trapped rat into a cage.

Kansan Gets In Act

R. J. Courter, Jewell, Kas., sent along his "exterminator for rats, moles, mice—guaranteed to kill."

Simplest of those received, it consisted of a metal tubular runway in which ordinary razor blades had been inserted, upright.

"As the rat mounts over the blade, he stretches his under side, splitting himself open on the blade," said Courter.

"The blades may easily be changed when they become dull."

Spokesmen for the Rat Control committee said they are always happy to be informed of new rodent-catching techniques but it's pretty hard to beat common poisons and the old-fashioned, inexpensive spring trap.

Hirohito's Train Fare Is Problem

TOKYO, July 8 (AP)—Japan's Communist newspapers today demanded to know whether Emperor Hirohito would have to pay the new 25 percent increase in railroad passenger rates.

Transportation Minister Seiichi Okada told them quickly that he would not—that the emperor would ride free, as he has always done.

FIRST TRANSFUSION FROM BANK—J. N. Pruett of Abbott Lodge, shown above in a bed at West Texas hospital, was the first person to receive a transfusion of blood from the Lubbock County Blood bank, which opened Thursday at Red Cross headquarters. Dr. Lee E. Hale, physician, finds the patient's pulse strengthened. Pruett lost considerable blood in an automobile accident the night of June 24 five miles north of Lubbock on Plainview highway. He suffered a dislocated left hip, comminuted fracture of the right leg, pelvis injury and lacerations and contusions. The transfusion, given the following day, helped get him out of a state of shock, and the second transfusion, given later from the blood bank supply, further improved his condition.—(Staff Photo.)

SUPPLY BEING REPLENISHED

Lubbock County Blood Bank Busy; 10 Pints Already Used

Of 19 pints of blood taken the first two days of operation of the Lubbock County Blood Bank, only nine were left Wednesday afternoon.

Ten pints had been used in transfusions in Lubbock hospitals.

The bank was replenishing its supply Wednesday afternoon. It will be open regularly from 5 to 7 p. m. Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

Blood donors Wednesday afternoon were Alton Taylor, Walter Clayton, Dee Oden, Louie F. Moore, N. L. Goolsby, T. C. Blaze, Preston Johnston, Wilbur Hunt, Raymond Burford, and a Mr. Parrish.

Donors Are Listed

In addition, three "replacements" were scheduled. "Replacements" are friends or relatives of persons who have received transfusions of blood from the bank who report to replenish the supply.

Those who gave blood Friday were Homer Hensley, Leroy Waggoner, G. W. Parkhill, Rex Webster, Pete Tompkins, Bob Payne, James Atcheson, and Bruce Kattman. The bank had opened last Thursday.

Blood bank technicians will visit Sears Roebuck & Co. today to type blood of employes willing to give blood to the bank. They will visit First National bank Tuesday, that appointment having been rescheduled a week later, and Lubbock National bank Thursday of next week. The First National bank appointment was changed, because the former appointment on Tuesday of this week followed a business holiday.

Mrs. Alcorn To Be Buried At Levelland

LEVELLAND, July 8. (Special)—Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. today at the Fifth Street Baptist church here for Mrs. Isabell Alcorn, 61, who died suddenly about 6 a. m. Wednesday at the home of a daughter here, Mrs. Lonnie Williams.

Rev. J. H. Halford, pastor, is named to officiate, and burial will be in Levelland cemetery under direction of Plains Funeral home.

Survivors, in addition to Mrs. Williams, include one other daughter, Mrs. Lynn Massingale, also of Levelland, four stepchildren of California, and six grandchildren.

Expansion For Fair Program Is Announced

Plans for substantial expansions of all departments of the Panhandle-South Plains fair next fall were disclosed by officials of the fair association Wednesday afternoon. Fair dates are Sept. 27 through Oct. 2.

Some of the announcements were:

Cash prizes posted in the cattle and swine departments will be increased by about 25 per cent.

Top prizes in the livestock departments will be raised from $12.50 to $15, and in the swine department from $7.50 to $10. These awards, both in aggregate amount and as to top individual prizes, are above the average for state fairs and compare favorably with the biggest shows, officials said.

Total Prizes Doubled

Officials promised serious consideration of a request to provide a registered Hereford division in the livestock department at the next fair, with prospects indicating favorable action.

The total of cash awards in the women's departments will be approximately doubled. This does not mean, officials emphasized, that all individual prizes as offered last year will be doubled. But the aggregate will be increased about two-fold, with a complete readjustment of award schedules.

Prize lists in the agricultural department also will be overhauled, with the idea of eliminating competition in crops no longer grown extensively on the South Plains and of providing awards for those which have gained increasing favor within recent years.

Hereford Division Talked

The favorable prospects for a Hereford division at the approaching fair resulted from a meeting of livestock and agricultural department officials and exhibitors in the Hilton Hotel Wednesday afternoon. The approximately 50 men who attended had been invited to be present to offer any criticisms or suggestions they wished which might be for the betterment of the fair.

County Judge Tom Garrard, of Tahoka explained that a South Plains Hereford association has been organized recently and already has enrolled a substantial membership. He said that a department would encourage Hereford breeders on the South Plains and predicted that enough animals of that breed in the Lubbock area would be exhibited to make a good showing even this year.

His opinion was that at least eight or 10 members of the asso-

Farmer Is Drowned Trying To Save Dog

NORTHAMPTON, Mass., July 8 (AP)—A farmer who couldn't swim a stroke lost his life yesterday trying to rescue his dog from the swiftly flowing Connecticut river.

Michael Kabelek, 55, plunged into the river when the dog got caught in a strong current while retrieving a stick the farmer had thrown into the water.

Kabelek sank as his wife, Margaret, 50, looked on helpless. The dog finally reached shore. Police and firemen recovered the farmer's body.

Plains Victims Aboard Vessel

Eight South Plains servicemen are among the 234 Texas war dead being returned to the United States from Italy aboard the U. S. Army transport Carroll Victory, the department of the Army has announced.

The ship, which is carrying a total of 4,842 remains of Americans who lost their lives in World War II, is returning war dead originally interred in temporary military cemeteries at Nettuno and other points in Italy.

Next of kin will be notified in advance of the arrival of the vessel, and again after arrival of remains at the regional distribution centers of the American Graves Registration service.

Men Are Listed

South Plains servicemen aboard the Carroll Victory, with next of kin as listed by the Army, are as follows:

S/Sgt Carl W Boone, Army, next of kin Dee Boone, 1918 Ave. P, Lubbock.

Pfc. Woodrow W Harris, Army, Beulah L Baugh, 144 W. Garza, Slaton.

Painting Is Prescribed As Cure For The Middle-Age Blues

Artistic Talent Should Be Fostered In The Home, Mrs. R. D. Erwin Of Lubbock Believes

EDITOR'S NOTE—Mrs. R. D. Erwin of 1714 Ave. X, who has met with phenomenal success since taking up the study of art shortly over a year ago, has gone to Gloucester, Mass., to study at the Romane School of Art. She will return to Lubbock in late August.

BY SANKY TRIMBLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

SANTA FE, N. M., July 8 — Art should be removed from the formally-trained studio-bound world it now occupies, and put into production in the home.

So says Mrs. R. D. Erwin of Lubbock, Texas, who believes painting is something that might well be done between washing dishes and vacuuming the living room.

What is more, according to Mrs. Erwin, working with paints and brushes is a form of recreation and rleaxation toward which more American housewives need to turn.

Work Exhibited

Twenty-seven years ago, Mrs Erwin — who paints as Dorothy Sanford Erwin — took a short course in advertising design in New York. Until a year ago, that was her first and last contact with the world of art.

She became interested again on a visit for her health to New Mexico, home of a rapidly-growing art movement. Just one year later, her work was featured in a recent one-woman show at the Art Museum of New Mexico.

Enthusiastic, energetic Mrs. Erwin describes herself as "lost in my work."

Forgets Her Pains

"It's been simply wonderful," she says in a Texas drawl. "I've forgotten all my aches and pains, I've been taken completely out of myself. I no longer have time to have my feelings hurt or to be sorry for myself."

Her effort she describes as "quite an experience." She attempted to paint a scene near one of New Mexico's Indian pueblos. She says.

"All the little Indian children gathered around to watch. I was scared of them until I learned their names were Herman and Clarence and such. They were very nice. They all told me my picture was good. I knew better. It was a mess."

As her confidence grew, however, Mrs. Erwin's field grew Nineteen landscapes in various

CONTESTANTS ATTEND PICNIC

Derby Victors Are Presented Awards At Ceremony In Park

Finis was written to the first annual Avalanche-Journal-Chevrolet Soap Box Derby Wednesday night at the Party House at Mackenzie State park when prizes were awarded to the various winners at a hotdog picnic.

Approximately 300 contestants in the race, officials and members of the Lubbock Exchange club, who sponsored the Derby jointly with the newspaper and the automobile company, attended the affair.

Roy Finley, Derby director, was master of ceremonies. Wayne Henly, advertising manager of the Avalanche-Journal, presented the plaque for first prize to Joe Teal, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Teal, 1919 Thirty-first.

Roger Kuykendall, sales manager of Kuykendall Chevrolet company, awarded a $100 bond and other prizes to Second place winner Willie A. Nieman, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Nieman of the New Home community in Lynn county.

Finley awarded a Firestone bicycle to Bruce McCarty, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. C. McCarty, 2812 Twenty-first, third place winner. Jim Boydston, local Pioneer Airlines station manager,

First Caucus Now Awaited

By DAVE CHEAVENS
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, July 8. — A jittery Texas delegation to the Democratic national convention converged on North Texas points today en route to the Democratic national convention at Philadelphia.

Uninstructed as to presidential and vice-presidential nominees, most delegates and alternates were waiting for the breaks and for their first caucus, before making up their minds on what to do there.

To Have 50 Votes

The delegation includes two delegates and two alternates from each of the 21 congressional districts, plus 48 delegates and alternates at large, all named by the May 25 convention at Brownwood. The 132 member delegation has 50 votes.

It has not met once, and the first general get-together is scheduled for Sunday at Philadelphia. A conclusive caucus en route is not possible, since one group of delegates headed by Gov. Beauford is riding a Missouri-Kansas-Texas special train of six sleeping cars, another group led by retiring national committeeman Myron G. Blalock of Marshall goes in two sleepers attached to a regular Missouri Pacific train.

Several key members of the delegation are already in Philadelphia, including former Governor Dan Moody who is helping with a preliminary platform draft.

Against Truman Plans

While the Texans are unInstructed on nominees, there has never been any doubt as to how they felt about re-nomination of President Truman. His federal civil rights program aroused the ire of the Texas party which followed Gov. Jester's recommendation to leave the delegation unbound and in position to do some bargaining at Philadelphia.

Jester, chairman of the delegation, and other leaders are still favorable to Eisenhower in the face of the general's latest statement on the nomination.

The delegation includes several right-wing Democrats who lean toward the southern revolt movement and who might bolt if Truman is re-nominated.

If they did, they would violate instructions of the Brownwood convention which bound the delegates and the presidential electors to support the Democratic nominee, no matter who he is.

The Katy special leaves Dallas at 9:35 p. m. Cars from Fort Worth and West Texas will be added at Denison. This train reaches Philadelphia at 4:50 p. m. Saturday. The Missouri Pacific group leaves Dallas at 4:50 p. m. and arrives at Philadelphia Saturday at 6:30 a. m.

Strike Closes Paris Offices

PARIS, July 8. (AP)—The main office of the Finance Ministry and its banks and tax collecting offices were closed today by a strike of some 60,000 workers for reclassification into higher wage brackets.

The strike dealt a new blow to the crisis-plagued government of Premier Robert Schuman. Its life was threatened by a sudden Socialist uprising against the cabinet in national assembly debate.

Financial employes of the Anti-Communist Workers Force union, which broke away from the Communist-led General Confederation of Labor last winter, called the strike. Some members of the CGT also were on strike.

Other Offices Affected

Also affected were workers in customs and tobacco offices. Tobacco is a government monopoly. Passengers at Orly and Le Bourget airports were arriving without having their baggage examined.

The Finance Ministry issued a statement reproaching the workers for going out before a meeting scheduled for tonight at which a settlement was to be sought.

The Socialists deserted the government majority to vote with the Communists in national assembly debate on the military budget for the first time since the Communists were ousted from the cabinet more than a year ago.

The alarmed Government got an adjournment of the assembly and an emergency meeting of the cabinet was called. After four hours of mapping strategy, Schuman authorized Pierre Heirl Teitgen, Minister of Armed Forces, to demand a confidence vote "whenever he thinks necessary."

Democrats Hope To Cool Convention Hall For National Conclave Starting Monday

PHILADELPHIA, July 8. (AP)—The Democrats hope to cool off convention hall for their national convention. But they don't expect a great deal of success.

Delegates, newsmen and spectators sweltered during the recent Republican conclave beneath the hot glare of the Klieg lights installed in the hall's roof for the benefit of television cameras. Oppressive heat and humidity added to the discomfort.

Situation Is Studied

William Neale Roche, manager of the Democratic meeting which opens here next Monday, has been studying the situation with his assistants and they have been attempting to devise ways of making life more bearable for those at the Democratic convention.

To help, they are installing forty huge fans on the convention floor and adding more on the galleries.

Also, the Democrats plan to leave open the side entrance doors to the hall. The Republicans kept them closed.

Police will be stationed at each of the open entrances to guard against gatecrashers.

Attempt Proves Unsuccessful

The Democrats attempted—without success—to find a way to use the air-over-ice cooling arrangement which the convention hall builders planned as a cooling device.

At the roof of the hall are air ducts which Brown said are supposed to waft cool air downward as air is passed over huge chunks of ice. The only difficulty, he added, is that nobody made any arrangement to get the ice to the roof. The only access is by narrow ladder.

New Navy Net Needs Quick Explanation

American Is Cleared By Hungarian Court

BUDAPEST, July 8 (AP) — The Hungarian supreme court in a ruling on an appeal yesterday cleared Elizabeth Pallos, an American citizen, of charges that she plotted against the government.

Miss Pallos, who was secretary to the Associated Press correspondent here, already had completed a jail sentence and was reported to have left the country a month ago.

MR. JONES

"DEALT A MESS OF MISERY" BUT FINDS RELIEF IN RETONGA

After Suffering Years From Gas Pains, Muscular Aches And Sleeplessness, Mississippian Finally Discovers Famous Herbal Medicine

"For years I was dealt a mess of misery by nervous indigestion, but that was before I discovered Retonga," declares Mr. John L. Jones of 909 Grand Avenue, Meridian, Miss. Most of his life Mr. Jones has been engaged in growing cotton, corn and other crops but has recently turned to raising flowers, an occupation he thoroughly enjoys.

"Food in my stomach was torture," continues Mr. Jones. "It didn't seem to digest properly and felt hard and heavy in my stomach. After-meal gas pains were agonizing and so sharp that they nearly doubled me up. Gas seemed to press up against my chest so that it was a battle to breathe, and I was made constantly miserable by muscular aches and pains through my legs, shoulders, and arms. I was hounded by constipation, too, and had to take purgatives several times a week. I hardly knew what a good night's sleep was, and I felt so jittery and fagged out most of the time that it was a real effort to keep going.

"When I was at my wits' end to know what to do, I learned about Retonga—and, brother, what grand and glorious relief it gave me. Mealtime is a pleasure again and I eat heartily with no worries about excess gas and pains. I sleep like a log and have lots of pep and vigor once more. My constipation has been relieved, too, and thank goodness, those miserable aches in my muscles have quit nagging me. As far as I'm concerned there's nothing like Retonga."

The active ingredients of Retonga are purely herbal, combined with Vitamin B-1. Retonga is intended to relieve distress due to insufficient flow of digestive juices in the stomach, loss of appetite, borderline Vitamin B-1 deficiency, and constipation. If the first bottle fails to bring you relief, your money will be cheerfully refunded. You can get Retonga at all good drug stores, including Walgreen Drug Store.

Russians Can Suppress Freedom But Not People's Urge For It

By DeWITT MacKENZIE
Associated Press Staff Writer

The totalitarian Communist regime in Moscow finally is encountering in an impressive way the age-old truth that you can suppress freedom by force but you can't suppress the desire for freedom.

The desire for liberty which currently is manifesting itself among the Russian satellite states of eastern Europe is merely history repeating itself in a new setting, just as it has done time and again through the centuries.

Czechs Demonstrate

There is no country in which the love of freedom runs more strongly than in Czechoslovakia. And there could be no more striking demonstration of this than was given quietly but daringly during the parade of 80,000 people through the ancient city of Prague in connection with the Sokol congress.

The marchers cheered for former President Benes, who was their leader before Bolshevism took over, but they had no salute for his Communist successor, Klement Gottwald. Many tiny American flags appeared among the paraders, and drew applause.

The Sokol long has stood as a symbol of independence in eastern Europe. It is a cultural and physical training organization with units in numerous countries. Periodically there are Congress meets, such as just held in Prague, at which as many as 12,000 gymnasts appear on a field at one time and give amazing demonstrations of athletic prowess in absolute unison.

No Surprise

Having attended a Sokol in Prague myself, I venture to say that few could come away from one of these exhibitions without a feeling of having communed with the spirit of liberty. That is the spirit which now is showing itself not only in Czechoslovakia but in Finland, Yugoslavia and other shackled states.

Probably this development is no surprise to the Red regime. How could it be in view of the fact that the Russians themselves revolted time and again against the serfdom imposed by a totalitarian Czarist rule? Still, it remains a curious trait of human nature that the Communists should be applying these self-same totalitarian methods to their own regime. Maybe they have figured that they could refine the system so that it would work.

Can't Control Thoughts

And in truth, up until recently it has looked on the face of it as though the various police regimes were fairly fool-proof. They were established by strong-arm methods. Active opposition was eliminated by liquidations, by imprisonments and by condemnation to slave camps. The terrors of the secret police have taken care of the rest.

However, none of these methods could suppress the desire for freedom. You can't control a man's thoughts, even though for a time you may prevent him from expressing them. And finally, as we are seeing demonstrated, freedom of action will reassert itself—purges or no purges. Folk who have once been free will not indefinitely submit to a police rule which denies them all the items of man's bill of rights, including freedom of worship. One of Communism's greatest weaknesses is its anti-religious tenet, which in itself is enough to turn away Christians, Jews, Mohammedans and all other believers in god. Those believers, by the way, include the vast majority of humanity.

How will Moscow meet this disaffection? It's difficult to see how the Bolshevists can do otherwise than continue their policy of force. Certainly sweet reasoning won't turn the trick at this stage. There are rumors of Russian troop movements in eastern Europe, but Moscow has given no indication of its plans.

"Loser Leave Town" Challenge Accepted By Crump Adversary

By LEO SOROKA
United Pres Staff Writer

MEMPHIS, Tenn., July 8.—Memphis political Boss E. H. Crump's challenge to a "loser leave town" probe of his political charges, made to Editor Edward J. Meeman, was taken over and accepted today by the man they were aimed at, senatorial candidate Estes Kefauver.

The Crump-opposed candidate, now a member of the house of representatives, suggested, however, that he and Crump-endorsed Judge John A. Mitchell be the ones to face an impartial investigating board.

Proposal Made

Crump yesterday challenged Meeman, editor of the Memphis Press-Scimitar, to discover his frequent charges that Kefauver had Communist connections. If he is proved wrong, the political leader said he will leave town. If right, he would expect Meeman to leave, "never to return."

Kefauver wired Meeman that he accepted the challenge himself, and the editor said he was "the man best able to disprove the false charges Crump has made." Kefauver suggested that the opposing candidates appear at a public hearing, rather than two men who are not engaged directly in politics.

Answer Given

"I am willing to submit my record to a committee such as Crump suggests," Kefauver informed the editor, "whatever the result. I do not want E. H. Crump to have to take his family and move from Memphis nor do I want you to leave. It is a dictatorship indeed that cannot tolerate two men of different opinions. That's Joe Stalin's way; it's not my way."

"There," said Meeman, "is the answer to Crump."

The charges against Kefauver, made in newspaper advertisements, were followed up by a radio address in which the challenge was laid down, in Crump's name, by Memphis Mayor James J. Pleasants.

Two Couples' "Dream Cruise" To South Sea Island Ends Up In Federal Court

LOS ANGELES, July 8. (INS)—The "dream cruise" of two couples ended high and dry in federal court today.

The two couples, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Harmon and newlyweds Ross and Mary Parr, asserted in their court action that they paid $1400 each to Dwight E. Atwater and his wife, Dora, for "working" passage to Tahiti in the Atwaters' 50-foot schooner, Aloha.

As part of the bargain, the Harmons and the Parrs worked three weeks getting the boat in shape for the long voyage to the south seas.

It seems that Harmon served with the armed forces in the south seas during the war and the spell of Tahiti got in his blood. He and his wife talked it over and they decided to "become beachcombers" on the romantic isle.

The Parrs had planned a honeymoon cruise to Australia.

The three couples cast off for Tahiti last June 9. Twenty-four hours later the schooner was "leaking like a sieve." They returned to Long Beach harbor, made a few repairs and set off again.

Right off they ran into a squall that split the vessel's seams and the schooner almost sank in the heavy seas.

The Harmons, who are from Las Vegas, and the Parrs of Kalamazoo, Mich., are asking $10,200 damages.

Institute's Airman To Be Hanged Again

WASHINGTON, July 8 (AP) — Danny Deever will hang again at the Smithsonian institution, if somebody can find his missing hands and torso.

Danny is a pilot with some sort of endurance record—he was airborne for years until World War II grounded him.

Dressed in an army uniform, model 1919, Deever sat at the controls of the first American military plane, his straw hand cultching the ancient controls, his wooden face peering into the wide blue yonder outside the institution's windows.

After Pearl Harbor, some fear was felt that the plane might be lost in a bombing of Washington—and perhaps racked up as an enemy "probable." So the boxkitish contraption was stored in Luray Caverns, Va. Danny was stored in a number of places.

His head turned up last week, peering out of a dark corner of the institution. His military uniform was discovered on display in a section devoted to military uniforms.

Officials said he will get a new body and new hands if the old ones can't be found.

The name? From Kipling:

"Ho! the young recruits are shakin', an' they'll want their beer today, after hangin' Danny Deever in the mornin'."

Wheat Harvest For State Nears Close

Clear weather of the past few days continued yesterday, and the wheat harvest in most of the Texas Panhandle was practically finished. It would be completed by Saturday night with possible exception of a few localized spots, according to the farm labor bulletin of the Texas Employment commission, which this year is handling routing of farm labor.

Equipment and workers were moving north into Kansas and Colorado, the bulletin said, but reports from those states said plenty of trucks and harvest hands are available, and that the demand for combines was easing up sharply. Colorado, in fact, reported a considerable number of combines standing by waiting for jobs.

Needed In Kansas

The TEC suggested that additional workers and equipment should not move into Colorado until definite word has been secured of a need there.

The bulletin said some additional combines could be used in Kansas, and that these should enter the state on highways 283, 281, and 183. It was anticipated that by end of this week a sufficient number of combines would have entered the state to take care of the harvest.

Most of the wheat has been cut in the western part of the state, and a few combines are already moving out of that area into Nebraska. It was expected that operations will have reached the peak in Kansas by end of the week.

In Texas, Oldham county with 35 per cent completion reported, was the most delayed, but it was expected that clear weather would bring completion there by July 12.

Reports Are Made

Harvest in Carson, Armstrong, Randall, Dallam and Sherman counties was 55 to 70 per cent complete and in full swing. Most of the wheat is now being cut by local equipment and local workers.

Deaf Smith, Parmer, Ochiltree, Hutchinson, Moore, and Hartley counties reported completion ranging from 75 to 85 per cent, and most of the remaining uncut acres were expected to be finished by Thursday night, although a few fields of late wheat may be several days later.

In Gray, Roberts, Hemphill, Wheeler, and Hansford counties harvest was more than 90 per cent finished, and remaining late fields were to be cut by local equipment.

Several temporary offices of the employment commission in the wheat belt have been discontinued. The office at Spearman was closed Monday night, and temporary offices at Perryton, Dumas and Hereford were to have been closed last night or today, the bulletin set out. Another temporary office at Stratford is to be closed Saturday night.

Eisenhower Repeats Contents Of Letter

NEW YORK, July 8 (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower said it again last night—to a crowd of approximately 5,000 that gathered outside his residence.

In response to the crowd's chants of "We Want Ike," the general stepped out on the balcony waved, and said smiling:

"I have no speech to make. All I have to say I said in a letter the other night."

In the letter, released Monday night, Eisenhower disavowed any political ambitions, and said he "could not accept nomination for any public office."

The demonstratieon outside his residence at Columbia university, of which he is president, began as a torchlight automobile parade organized by the Americans for Democratic Action which has supported the Draft-Eisenhower movement.

SHIPMENTS HALTED

BUCHAREST, July 8 (U.P.)—One of Romania's biggest oil companies suspended shipments to Yugoslavia last week, and Danube boat service to Belgrade has been stopped "for technical reasons," company officials disclosed today.

Revolt Is Crushed In Southeast Peru

LIMA, Peru, July 8 (AP)—The government said last night it had crushed the revolt of an army garrison in southeast Peru, and announced today it had ordered the leaders punished under military law.

Last night's communique said the rebellion of the Juliaca garrison, on since Sunday, ended when garrison personnel "refused any longer to recognize the authority of the revolutionary command," whose aims were not clear.

Today's announcement said punishment under military law had been ordered against Lt. Col. Alfonso Llosa and others who apparently worked with him in inciting the outbreak. The colonel was ordered punished for the crime of rebellion.

The PLAINSMAN Says:

What Girl on Broadway says one of the hardest things to overcome is being born poor!

As we understand it, Messrs. Dewey and Warren feel that what this country needs is another ex-President!

THE Daily Oklahoman, of Oklahoma City, took a very practical method of attempting to be of service, to prospective college students of Oklahoma and their parents when, the other day, it presented the results of a survey of the nation's business and professional needs.

Pointing out that "just going to college" doesn't mean an open sesame to success, the Oklahoman advised prospective collegians to choose a specialty, or to train themselves for some particular field of work, instead of taking instructional potluck and expecting to cash in on the result.

The newspaper also made a suggestion which, in recent years, has been all but missing from the academic scene: i. e., that young people planning to go to college will be wise to apply themselves, since more and more business concerns are opening their doors only to graduates with high academic records.

According to the Oklahoman's survey, the most "wide open" fields for the immediate future are those of medicine, dentistry, nursing and teaching.

The shortage of people in those divisions of our economy is so great that practically anybody able to secure a degree and/or license can look forward to almost certain success—even to "a life of Riley" in later years.

* * *

THE Oklahoman summarizes the survey in relatively few words which we believe will be interesting to all the prospective college students in this area, as well as to their parents.

Reads the summary of future openings in the major fields:

"Engineering: This has been a bonanza field. But 30,000 engineers are being graduated in 1948, more than 35,000 are expected in 1949 and 45,000 in 1950. About 20,000 veterans are studying engineering now but only 4,000 to 7,000 engineers die each year. The big wartime shortage is beginning to be made up.

"Architects: Another bonanza this year. However, an estimated 10,000 are now studying architectural engineering, compared to 24,000 now practicing.

"Chemistry: Stadia in plants and laboratories are filling up rapidly. Those with bachelors' degrees will find it increasingly harder to catch on although those with advanced degrees will remain in short supply for years.

"Lawyers: Newly-graduated lawyers are beginning to find it difficult, in some areas at least, to get positions in law offices and law schools now have an enrollment of 50,000. Those studying law are advised to prepare themselves for work in related fields, such as labor relations, taxation, etc.

"Journalism: These graduates as well as those in radio and advertising now outnumber jobs available.

"Business administration: They prove to be the surprisingly heavy demand but the future, with some 311,000 veterans taking such courses, is tied in tightly with the general condition of business. Those with specialist training in marketing, sales and accounting are in special demand.

"Pharmacy: In strong demand this year but with 14,000 enrolled in schools last year, leading professional men are fearful of the future, urging schools to limit classes now so as to avoid an oversupply by 1950.

"Physicians: The most promising outlook of all. About 6,000 medical students get degrees this year. About 4,000 doctors die each year. That annual net gain, officials say, of 2,000 doctors should be doubled if medical care in the future is to expand with population.

"Dentists: This also is promising. Some 2,000 got degrees this year to replace 1,900 who died or retired during the period. Officials say we need at least 2,000 additional new dentists each year.

"Nurses: In short supply. About 317,000 registered nurses available and demand 386,000. The minimum demand by 1960 is calculated at 554,000.

"Teachers: From 80,000 to 100,000 jobs open up every year as older teachers die or retire. New teachers are not being trained fast enough to fill the gap. Shortage of college-rank teachers is severe in many fields."

Of course, no young person should permit himself to be "scared off" of any field on the basis of the mathematical chances he has of future success in that field. The Oklahoman's survey merely indicates the "average" situation.

As long as our form of government lasts, there will be "room" in any and all fields of business and the professions for those "who have the stuff."

Considering the large number of screwballs running around loose these days, we can only conclude that the boobyhatches have greatly stiffened their entrance requirements!

That Man on Avenue Q says the less some people have on their minds, the more they seem to want to talk it off.

* * *

It's a crime to catch fish in some lakes—and a miracle in others!

Sudden Thought: It's a wise woman who knows, instinctively, that no kitchen can be as attractive as those shown in the three-color magazine advertisements!

WHEN directors of Texas Tech meet in Fort Worth Saturday to discuss the approaching presidential vacancy, the chances are 3-to-1 that they will not, on that day, select a successor to Dr. W. M. Whyburn who is to leave his post on August 31.

In other words, it is much more of a possibility than a probability that the board will make the presidential appointment on July 16. However, there is a better chance now that the action will come on Saturday than there was a month, or more, ago.

In recent days and weeks, Tech directors have "culled the list" of applicants. Some of them have been doing some traveling, looking for and over "prospects." As a result, the field has been narrowed down and the day of decision has moved closer to being.

We have been poking around on the subject, here and there, and from what we glean "the race is wide open" at the moment.

From what we hear from sources close to the fire, there has been little "jelling" in the minds of directors as yet. They will go into Fort Worth Saturday morning without set opinions.

This means that the applicant doing the best selling job on the ground likely will get the final nod—either on Saturday, or later this Summer.

* * *

GUESSING always is a hazardous occupation and anybody's opinion regarding the final selection of the Whyburn successor is, at this time, nothing more than a guess.

But if you're interested in one man's guess, here it is:

The field will narrow in Fort Worth Saturday to Dr. Dossie M. Wiggins, president of the Texas College of Mines and Metallurgy, at El Paso; Dr. Richard M. Hawkins, president of Sul Ross State Teachers college, at Alpine; Dr. E. N. Jones, president of Texas College of Arts and Industry, at Kingsville; Dr. Jim Dan Hill, president of Wisconsin State Teachers college, Superior, Wis.; and Dean W. R. Woolrich, of the University of Texas School of Engineering, at Austin. Any of these men might, come out as Tech's new president, with the odds slightly favoring Doctor Wiggins.

Of course, it is possible that a "dark horse" might emerge. Such a "dark horse" could be Dr. George Hawkins, mechanical engineering professor and acting dean of the Graduate school at Purdue, Lafayette, Ind.; or Dr. N. A. Christensen, dean of engineering at Colorado A. and M., Fort Collins, Colo. But unless the roof falls in, the nod will not go to any man outside the college field, which means the hopefuls in public school work are 'way on the outside.

Best bets would be: 3-to-5 on Dossie Wiggins; 2-to-5 on Richard Hawkins; 1-to-4 on Jim Dan Hill, E. N. Jones and W. R. Woolrich.

BY DREW PEARSON: BOSS OF TEAMSTERS' UNION MADE NO PROMISES TO PRESIDENT

Tobin Evades AFL Cronies After Chat With Truman

WASHINGTON.—There was great excitement aboard the President's yacht on a recent trip down the Potomac when Paul Porter, former OPA boss, turned up among the guests.

Anxiously, a White House aide asked Truman:

PEARSON

"Who invited him, Mr. President? Paul Porter is a spy for the Eisenhower people. He's a vice chairman of the Americans for Democratic Action, which is all-out for the nomination of Eisenhower."

"Oh, don't worry about Paul," replied Truman impishly. "He's all right. In fact, it's the other way around. He's a spy for me in the Eisenhower camp."

Dan Tobin Wooed

Gruff, likable Dan Tobin, boss of the AFL Teamsters union, always calls on AFL colleagues during visits to Washington. In New Deal years this was frequent, for Dan was a great friend and close adviser of FDR's.

Last week Tobin's AFL cronies were particularly anxious to see him, and get the lowdown on his conference with President Truman. They knew Dan had been suddenly "summoned" to the White House and they wanted to know whether Truman had been successful in bringing the rebellious teamster back into the Democratic fold.

However, Dan blew in and out of Washington as if he were traveling incognito. He saw no one except Truman.

Reason was that the bigshot labor leader was more than somewhat confused after the president, who desperately needs Tobin's support in his nomination and election drive, turned the ultra-violet charm ray on him during a private "audience."

Reason behind Tobin's White House summons of course was his press statement that AFL President Bill Green wasn't speaking for the Teamsters union when Green declared labor couldn't support the Republican Dewey-Warren ticket. Also the White House grapevine reported that Tobin was sore at Truman for not consulting with him, as did FDR.

In the background also was the close kinship between Dave Beck, Tobin's top lieutenant on the west coast, and Dewey's running mate, Earl Warren of California. The AFL Teamsters have always been in the Democratic column, but this year it looks like the west coast branch, at least, will go Republican, due to the Warren influence.

MEANWHILE, here is a report on the Truman-Tobin talk which may interest Dan's AFL colleagues.

Truman didn't discuss political fine points, except to say that he hoped the Teamsters union would continue to exert its influence for "candidates friendly to labor," as it did during New Deal years.

"I realize I have been remiss in not calling on you and other responsible labor leaders for advice more often," Truman half-way apologized, "but I think you realize I haven't had the time or opportunity to do this, due to the overwhelming obligation of other things, chiefly international affairs.

"It's going to be different from now on, Dan," he continued, "and I want you to know that you are always welcome at the White House as long as I am here. Your advice has always been welcomed in the past and I am sure that we will continue to operate on the old standard after November."

Tobin didn't commit himself. But he did agree with Truman on one thing—that the last Congress should be blasted for blocking public housing and other liberal measures. Other than that, the Teamsters' boss made no promises.

Merry-Go-Round

New G.O.P. chairman, Congressman Hugh D. Scott of Pennsylvania, sounded just a bit like Nazi propagandist Joseph Goebbels back during the war years. Declared Scott at a Lincoln day dinner February 12, 1943: "It is time for the Republicans to take over. We are the best stock. We are the best people" . . . Governor Dewey will spend most of his time between now and labor day in Pawling, N. Y., preparing for his campaign. Republican leaders from all over the country will gather at Pawling to confer with him . . Indiana delegates are still a bit irked because their favorite son, House majority leader Charlie Halleck, missed out on the vice-presidential nomination Halleck assured them at a secret caucus that he had Dewey's promise for the job if he could deliver Indiana's votes. Dewey men say otherwise . . . A strong move is under way to name statesmanlike Senator Joe O'Mahoney of Wyoming as Truman's running mate in Philadelphia. O'Mahoney could do more to offset Governor Warren's popularity in the West than Governor Mon Wallgren of Washington, though the old Al Smith story lurks in the background . . . If fighting in the Holy Land is resumed, the Arab armies are in for a big surprise. The new state of Israel now has a trained air force, tanks and armored cars.

Under The Dome

MADDEST man in the Republican party today is a Congressman Charles Halleck of Indiana. Halleck considered himself a leading candidate for Vice President on the Republican ticket—until Governor Dewey passed him by. What Halleck is so mad about is the way Dewey out-smarted him. Halleck admits that Dewey never promised him the vice president's job but some of Dewey's hangers-on did. Halleck thought he was a grown-up politician until now . . . Governor Dewey will begin his first nation-wide tour of the presidential campaign on September 12. He will rest (as much as possible) in New York state until then. . . . The "boys in the backroom" charting President Truman's renomination drive in Philadelphia will be Democratic Chairman J. Howard McGrath, Federal Security Administrator Oscar Ewing and Undersecretary of Interior Oscar Chapman.

Movie Studio Is Interested In The Voice Of Rookie Cop

BROADWAY Chop-Chop — Isn't the "mysterious" woman who handed out all those dollar bills to derelicts at the Municipal Lodging House Mrs. Wm. Fox, wife of the founder of that studio? She's oof'ly rich and occupies several palatial floors in the Marguery at 270 Park . . . Gov. Dewey put that brown "gook" on his face during one televised interview. When he made his acceptance speech at the Convention he had no time for it, which is why he looked like he needed a shave. Everybody does—without the makeup—even women . . . Gen. Eisenhower flatly stated (at Herbert Bayard Swope's house the other night) he positively wouldn't accept the Democratic nomination even "if it is unanimous" . . He told the N. Y. Times: "I stand pat." He can afford to stand pat since all the polls show he has the approval of the majority of the people . . . We will continue urging the people to bombard him with "Please!" telegrams until he personally tells us to shut up.

BY RUTH MILLETT: TO THE LADIES

The Feminine Viewpoint

"IF only wives took as much trouble looking after the fellowship of their marriage as they devote to cleaning and polishing around the house, and if husbands were as careful about the smooth running of their home life as they are about their cars, many divorce lawyers would soon be looking for other jobs."

MILLETT

So says Dr. David R. Mace, general secretary of England's National Marriage Guidance Counsel, in an article, "Beware the Mediocre Marriage," in the June issue of Woman's Home Companion.

Dr. Mace gives on yardstick by which women can measure their own marriages.

ONE YARDSTICK

BUT in my opinion any woman has a mediocre marriage if—

She and her husband no longer enjoy discussing ideas.

Either she or her husband counts an evening dull that isn't spent in the company of others.

They make no conscious effort to keep their days from following a set pattern.

The two of them have no absorbing project at the moment.

The wife has stopped trying to please her husband.

The husband and wife no longer bother to be courteous to each other in little ways.

Wife looks on the job of homemaking as drudgery.

They live in the future, thinking that when they have more money and less worries "everything will be different."

MARLON BRANDO, whose superb performance in "A Streetcar Named Desire" has made him the most talked about young actor on Broadway, is rapidly acquiring a reputation, too. He sublet an apartment from an actress while she was on the road, and vacated willingly enough when she returned.

But she couldn't persuade him to remove his personal belongings. "For weeks after he left," she reports, "he just dropped in casually at all hours of the day and night to change wardrobe."

Brando came to one big party, and sat in a corner for the entire evening saying scarcely a word. As he left, he handed the hostess a note. It read, "This is my birthday."

BRIGHT SPOT IN THE NEWS

The recent announcement that the British government has eased rationing regulations on expected tourist visitors provided a rare right spot in the international news. It was encouraging because it implies the expectation of visitors, chiefly American, to the Isles this Summer in sufficient numbers to warrant special rationing concessions.

It is to be hoped the expectation will be realized. Such visitors will represent spot cash business urgently needed in the British Isles. It will afford an opportunity for a better understanding by more Americans of British problems through personal observation.

Most significant of all, if a considerable tourist travel is permitted, it will be fairly convincing as evidence that the governments of the countries affected are pretty sure that dangers of war are not imminent. Nations fearing immediate hostilities don't allow tourists.

Let's hope prospects will permit tourist travel in record breaking volume during the Summer.

General Marshall Definitely Will Not Attend Convention

WASHINGTON — There is one member of President Truman's administration who will not, but definitely not, attend any of the sessions of the Democratic convention in Philadelphia next week. This is Secretary of State George C. Marshall.

CHILDS

Secretary Marshall has kept just as far away from politics as he possibly could. When he became Secretary of State, he said unequivocally that he would under no circumstances consider any elective office. From that point on he has done everything he could to discourage any suggestion of politics in connection with his name.

He has chosen to ignore foolish rumors that he would consider the vice-presidential nomination on a ticket with President Truman. Such rumors have never had the slightest foundation in fact.

In part, this attitude was conditioned by his desire to keep the bipartisan foreign policy out of political pulling and hauling. Bu it has deeper origins than that. Following a soldier's career, deeply imbued with the code of a soldier, Marshall firmly believes that politics and the military belong in separate compartments.

Again contrary to widely spread rumor, Marshall has never spoken to his protege and friend, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, about the Presidency except in the most casual way. His attitude, however, would naturally have influenced the younger man. Eisenhower's letter of last January, declining to accept the nomination for President if it were tendered him, expresses certain of Marshall's convictions, although, it is hardly necessary to add, he had nothing to do with the drafting of it.

No Veteran's Bloc

Three years after the end of the greatest war in the nation's history, with 12,000,000 veterans, and there is as yet no sign of a powerful veterans' bloc. That is a remarkable political phenomenon, particularly in view of the record of the past. After the Civil war, for many years veterans dominated the conventions of the two parties and a succession of military men occupied the White House beginning with General Grant, whose administration ended in scandal and tragedy.

At the Republican convention it was hard to find any organized veterans' bloc. They were prominent in the group of younger men supporting Harold Stassen. But his followers also included many non-veterans.

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, chosen for the No. 1 position on the ticket, has no war record. He elected to continue serving as governor of New York even though he was of military age. While the war was still at its height, Dewey in 1944, at the age of 42 campaigned for the Presidency. At that time it was freely predicted that he would be ineligible for another try after the end of the war precisely because he would have no service record.

Gov. Earl Warren served in World war I in 1917 and '18 He became a first lieutenant of infantry during the war and served until 1936 as a captain in the Officers Reserve corps.

THE war hero, who might presumably have drawn support if the mood of the country had been different, was Gen. Douglas MacArthur. But the fact is that the so-called MacArthur boom was the most pathetic fizzle of the entire GOP convention.

The general did nothing to prevent his name from being presented, and even lent encouragement to the move. The responsibility, however, is not so much his, since he has not been in this country for 12 years and knows nothing of contemporary politics. Those who pressed the MacArthur "drive" did him a deep disservice.

Acording to reports from Japan, they weakened his position in the Orient where face is so important and, therefore, they also undermined the prestige of the United States. The grand finale of the trumped-up MacArthur boom will add nothing to the general's page in history.

The whole demonstration, coming at the end of a long night of oratory and sweaty parades, had a feeble and contrived look. On the first ballot MacArthur got the eight delegates pledged to him in the Wisconsin primary, where he ran against Harold Stassen; two in Iowa and one in Kentucky. On the second ballot the total was cut from 11 to seven, made up of mediums were featured in her show.

The wife of a Lubbock wholesale fruit and vegetable dealer, Mrs. Erwin finds it hard to get away from her painting. After a long day of painting, she often finds herself sprawled on the floor or crouched behind a chair late into the night putting the finishing touches on a picture.

Friends Follow Lead

She became so wrapped up in one piece of work recently she dashed off to a formal banquet with her hair in curlers.

Several of her friends are taking up art, inspired by what she has done and what art has done for her.

"I advise it strongly," says Mrs. Erwin. "Women at my age seem to be breaking down and getting old and nervous. Painting is a constructive, creative pastime we need."

There is, of course, the fact of Eisenhower's widespread popularity. It is a tribute to the man and the warmth of his personality as well as to the soldier-hero. He would be a formidable candidate if he were willing to yield to the urgings of those who feel that at this point he is the only hope of the Democratic party.

Fair Program

ciation would show varying numbers of animals, and that other breeders from more distant points would swell the total substantially.

Those present at the meeting, including Jason Gordon, livestock superintendent, who presided, and George Bond, assistant manager of the fair association, expressed themselves as definitely favorable to the idea if time permits arrangements for such a department.

Other Classes Discussed

The final decision in the matter, however, will rest with the board of directors of the fair association, to whom a definite recommendation will be submitted in the near future.

At the 1947 fair, the only cattle breeds in competition were dual purpose Milking Shorthorns and Jersey and Holstein dairy cattle. Herefords were shown at fairs several years before the war, but the department was discontinued for lack of competition.

Other possibilities mentioned at the meeting were a division for shetland ponies and a separate department for veterans' vocational agriculture, to replace Lubbock county community exhibits. The prospects for a shetland pony division at the approaching fair did not appear bright this year. A veterans' vocational agriculture class appeared more likely.

An overall indication which resulted from the meeting was that the swine barn, which was almost empty at the last fair, will be filled, and that the problem in the livestock barn which is 50 per cent larger than last year, will be to take care of all the entries.

Plans also were discussed, without definite action being taken, to make barracks buildings on the grounds available to junior exhibitors as sleeping quarters during the fair. This probably will be done.

Assurances also were given that a more convenient method of enabling exhibitors to get in and out of the grounds will be worked out than the one used last year.

awarded McCarty a round-trip airline ticket to Amarillo.

Warlick Carr, president of the Exchange club, presented a Goodrich bicycle to Mickey Ham, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. Burl Ham, 2312 Twentieth, fourth place winner.

Jimmy Powers, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Powers, 2809 Twenty-fourth, was presented a radio from KFYO as fifth place winner.

Hard Luck Award Given

To William M. Craig, jr., 12, son of Dr. and Mrs. W. M. Craig, sr., 2321 Eighteenth went a prize of a complete catcher's outfit given by D. D. Humphries for the boy having the hardest luck in the race.

Billy Frank Eger, 12, of 412 Ave. L, won the Shell Oil company's prize of an X-Acto Tool chest, for the best designed and constructed car.

Donald R. Cowart, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Cowart, 2623 Twenty-sixth, won a craftsman's vice for having the best upholstered car in the race.

In addition to the above prizes, the grand prize winners also won other smaller prizes.

Winners of 61 heat prizes were awarded to 56 other boys.

Special guests at the party included Walter G. Alderson, of the Kuykendall Chevrolet company, and Parker F. Prouty, president of the Avalanche-Journal Publishing company, who secured the contract for Lubbock's first Derby.

BURLINGTON, Vt., July 8 (AP) Elders may be seen but not caught fishing at a Potash Brook stream.

The stream—stocked with 600 speckled trout—is reserved for children only.

The first day saw about 85 youngsters whipping the waters yesterday, many arriving at dawn.
