WEATHER BLAMED FOR 9 DEATHS

All Texas Still Held In Icy Grip

By The Associated Press

New snow began falling in Texas Wednesday as Texas continued to suffer in the coldest weather in a decade.

The weather received blame for at least nine deaths.

The new snow was reported at Midland and Lubbock in West Texas. Flurries fell earlier in the El Paso area.

The bitter weather stretched from the Panhandle to the Gulf of Mexico, where ice formed on the water and extended out 100 yards at Texas City.

Texarkana, on the northeast tip of the state, reported the heaviest snowfall of the current bad spell. The Weather Bureau said its instruments measured 7.5 inches.

The temperature dropped to zero at Texarkana and the same reading is expected Thursday. The reading was within 3 degrees of the record.

Many cities reported temperatures the lowest for this date since the 1800s.

While the snow fell at Midland, thermometers read 5 degrees. Zero is expected Thursday.

Lone Star Gas Co., serving 860,000 customers in 465 cities and towns in Texas and southern Oklahoma, set a record for deliveries. Customers used 1,858,300,000 cubic feet in the 24 hours ending at 7 a.m. Wednesday. Previous record was 1,643,200,000 cubic feet Jan. 28, last year.

A part of Texas City was without gas in temperatures that dropped to 12 degree —coldest since 1895. Shortly after dawn temperatures there warmed up to 20.

Damaging cold reached into the Lower Rio Grande Valley, where farm experts feared it killed some young vegetables in the fields.

At the other extreme of the state, Dalhart in the upper Panhandle reported mercury readings of 14 degrees below zero.

Lubbock and Amarillo reported 3 degrees above zero, while Galveston reported 20 degrees. Kilgore, in East Texas, had a low of 7 degrees. Public schools in Kilgore were closed.

Austin reported a record low for the date of 13 degrees, Fort Worth's 9 degrees was a record for Jan. 10, Dallas' 8 was the lowest since Feb. 1, 1951, when the temperature went to 7 degrees.

Other representative minimums early Wednesday were Alpine 6, Midland and Abilene 8, Wichita Falls 5, San Angelo and Brownwood 11, Laredo 22, San Antonio 19, Austin and Waco 14, Texarkana 1 degree, Beaumont 16, Houston 18, Victoria 19, Corpus Christi 20, Corsicana 10, Dickinson 14 and La Marque 13.

Snow depths Wednesday morning, the Weather Bureau said, was Dalhart 1 inch, Amarillo, Alpine and Dallas 2.

At Brownwood in Central Texas, a main gas supply broke Wednesday morning, lowering pressure in the lines and causing Brownwood school district to stop classes and send children home. The break was at Cross Plains, 11 miles from Brownwood.

An oil field worker, Bill Williamson, 35, of Alice was killed near Victoria Wednesday. A buildup of pressure blew off a well cap that had frozen in the 19-degree temperature.

Continued bitter temperatures were forecast for Thursday North Central Texas can expect 3 to 14 degrees, the weather bureau said, northeast zero to 14 above, northwest 2 below to 10 above, southwest 4 to 20, south central 10 to 25, southeast 10-20 and southwest 8-20.

Five deaths attributed to the storm occurred at Ft. Hood in Central Texas, where an Army tank and a truck loaded with soldiers collided in the paralyzing cold Tuesday. The crash injured 22 other men.

Other victims included Mrs. Ruth Sagebiel, 52, of Rt. 2, Temple, drowned as her car skidded off an icy bridge into four feet of water; D. R. Kittrell of Pauls Valley, Okla., killed in a three-truck pileup near Gainesville, and Mrs. W. A. Rosenburg, 84, fatally burned as her dress caught fire from an overheated stove in her home.

Grounded motorists and industrial plants idled or slowed because employes couldn't get to work over ice-glazed roads Tuesday hoped to start getting back to normal.

Ice coated with snow kept auto travel risky across a wide expanse of Texas. The State Highway Department appealed for drivers to stay home Tuesday in the sector lying north of a line linking Jasper in East Texas, Houston, San Antonio and Big Bend National Park in far West Texas.

Schools suspended classes in countless communities and some did not plan to recall pupils before Thursday.

Low pressure troubled natural gas users in several areas, causing curtailment of fuel supplies to some industrial customers so there would be enough to keep homes warm. Southern Union Gas Co. said in Austin, where the pressure dropped, that the storm created the heaviest demand for gas in the firm's history.

Still another night of extreme cold was in prospect throughout Texas. The Weather Bureau predicted lows early Thursday ranging down to zero in the northwest part of the state, 3 above in the northeast, 5 in the extreme southwest, 6 in the north central section and 15 in the south central and southeast areas.

Almost All Nation Hit By Bitter Cold

By The Associated Press

Intense cold covered most of the nation today, driving down temperatures to record lows in many cities.

Readings ranged down as far as 47 below zero in Drummond, Mont.

The mercury plunged to zero or below in at least 19 states.

Low marks that had stood for as long as 81 years were erased from the weather books.

The arctic air mass moved south and east, bringing shudders and suffering to added millions. Only Florida and sections of the Carolinas and Georgia and the West Coast escaped the big freeze.

Snow fell in the Middle and South Atlantic states and persisted in snowbound northern New York.

From the western mountains to the East the combination of snow and cold had a staggering impact on everyday life. Schools were closed by the thousands. Trains ran late. Scores of bus runs were canceled.

NEWS BRIEFS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg feels that the tight job situation will substantially improve in the months ahead.

But he told a news conference Tuesday that the heavy unemployment rolls undoubtedly have discouraged a lot of people—particularly women and older workers—from even trying to find work.

Employment declined by 882,000 in December to 66,467,000 and unemployment increased by 100,000 to 4,091,000, he said. However, he added the changes were in line with what was to be expected in the winter season.

Goldberg went on to predict that 1962 job gains will be over and above the normal springtime improvement.

The American economy, he said is again showing its capacity for growth.

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Foreign Ministry said today former Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov is still in Moscow and has not left to resume his post as Soviet representative on the International Atomic Energy Agency in Vienna.

"He was supposed to take the train last Saturday," said a spokesman. "He did not take it. We do not know why."

Asked if the 71-year-old revolutionary, denounced by Premier Khrushchev as a Stalinist, was ill, the spokesman replied: "We have no information."

Asked if Molotov would leave later, the spokesman said: "We know nothing of his intentions."

Molotov returned to Moscow from Vienna last November after Khrushchev led a bitter assault on him and other members of the so-called antiparty group at the 22nd Soviet Communist party congress in October.

Diplomats believed then that the old Bolshevik would be ousted from the party and from public life. They were astonished when the Soviet Foreign Ministry announced Monday he was returning to Vienna.

Volunteers' Budget Formed

A budget of $1,830 will be recommended to the Big Spring State Hospital Volunteers Council when it has its Jan. 25 quarterly meeting.

This figure was advanced by the executive committee at a session held Tuesday afternoon at the Chamber of Commerce conference room. The big item on the program is the annual Christmas party for patients. This was set up at $1,000. There were other items for continuing entertainment and activities for patients, both in the regular and the young people's wards.

D. M. McKinney, president, had abundant praise for Mrs. H. W. Smith, chairman, and all her colleagues, as well as for the various clubs and service organizations who conducted the Christmas party. It was, he thought, the best Christmas party so far.

At the meeting it was decided to have a suggestion box in the office of Mrs. Hila Weathers, coordinator of volunteer activity. Volunteers can submit ideas and suggestions for broadening and improving the program.

Meeting with the committee heads who comprise part of the executive committee were Mrs. Weathers, who was in on her first session since assuming her duties, and Dr. Preston Harrison, hospital superintendent.

17 Voters Brave Icy Weather In Coahoma Election

COAHOMA—Seventeen voters in the Howard County Water Control and Improvement District braved the icy weather on Tuesday to ballot for directors to serve their agency.

When the votes had been counted, it was shown that Earl Reid, president of the district, had been re-elected with 14 votes. Donald Duke, a write-in candidate, received two votes for Reid's post. T. O. Earnest was returned to the board as secretary with 14 votes in his favor. Both he and Reid are re-elected for two-year terms.

Owen Johnston received 16 votes, Carl Bates, 17 votes, and R. C. Cramer, 15 votes to be re-elected as directors for one year terms. C. C. Williams received one write - in vote for Cramer's post.

The district supplies water to Coahoma and Sand Springs.

HARDY MORGAN

IKE ROBB

Morgan Leaves 1st National; Robb To State National Board

Hardy Morgan, pioneer area rancher, retired Tuesday from the board of the First National Bank after more than a quarter of a century service.

The bank named two new officers, James M. Hatler to be assistant cashier, and James P. Taylor to be an assistant vice president. At State National Bank, Ike Robb was added to the directorate, and officers were re-elected. In the case of John Currie and Carlton Chapman, both were made full vice presidents.

These were the principal changes at the annual meetings of the city's two national banks Tuesday afternoon.

The Security State Bank has its meeting this afternoon and the Coahoma State Bank its annual stockholders meeting Thursday.

Hatler is a member of the First National Banks installment credit department, and Taylor was added to the staff last autumn in charge of the farm and ranch department. He formerly was county agent. Officers of the First National continue as H. H. Simmons, Odessa, chairman of the board; Lester W. Morton, president; R. V. Middleton, senior vice president; Reba Baker, Clyde Angel and R. J. (Dick) Ream, vice president; Jack I. Davis, vice president and cashier; Faye Stratton, Charles Dunnam and Betty Rains, assistant cashiers.

Robert Currie, president of the State National Bank, said that he was delighted that Robb had been added to the board of directors. He pointed out that both Robb's grandfather and father had been associated with the bank in the past.

Other than for the addition of Robb to the board no big changes were made in the organization of the State National. John Currie and Carlton Chapman, who have been assistant vice presidents of the bank, were made full vice presidents.

Directors of the bank are A. L. Cooper, Merle Stewart, Robert Currie, Temp Currie Jr., Bernard Fisher and Robb.

The bank, according to the report made by Currie to the stockholders, has enjoyed a good year in 1961 and anticipates a good year in 1962. The bank declared a 10 per cent dividend on outstanding stock last Dec. 27.

Officers of the bank were re-elected.

They are: Robert W. Currie, president; Edith Hatchett, vice president; Temp S. Currie Jr., vice president; Carlton J. Chapman, vice president; John Currie, vice president; C. M. Haven, cashier.

1st Water Pump Was Morgan's

The man who set the first water well pump in Big Spring and who remained to become one of the area's leading ranchers has retired as a member of the First National Bank board.

Hardy Morgan asked the board of the bank to relieve him of his duties Tuesday at the annual meeting, terminating nearly 27 years of service. His request was adopted, but with a resolution of regret at his leaving and of appreciation for his faithful assistance.

Mr. Morgan went on the board originally in 1935. Last Dec. 16 he observed his 91st birthday.

As a lad of 12 years of age, he came to West Texas in 1883 and soon was working for an outfit at Abilene. He was sent to Big Spring to help install a water pump in 1883, and within three or four years had established himself as a cowboy for the Barto ranching interests.

His brother-in-law, John Joiner, was wagon boss for the Slaughter outfit, and Mr. Morgan was one of the cowboys for the fabulous and legendary Long S ranch empire.

When the state legislature in 1901 passed an act providing for the homesteading of land, Mr. Morgan was among those who filed on part of the territory in the old Slaughter spread. This became the headquarters of his ranch south of Lamesa and where he still makes his home. Over the years he enlarged this ranch, later bought one south of Big Spring and more recently the Oldham ranch in northeast Howard County.

Another Gift To Cheer Fund

A gift that was delayed in the mail has come to boost the Christmas Cheer Fund. Grateful acknowledgment is made to Mrs. M. W. Pemberton, 8457 Grenoble, Sunland, Calif., for a check for $27.

The gift is being added to the Cheer Fund's account, and will be available to help provide food or medicine to needy children—and to help give them a merrier Christmas this next year.

Poll Tax Total Up

Sixty-four Howard County voters paid their poll taxes on Tuesday to bring the total receipts for this year to 1,494. Twenty-three older citizens showed up at the office of the tax assessor collector and obtained exemption certificates in the same period.

This brought the total certificates issued to 814.

Politicians are worriedly watching the poll tax sales reports. This is a major year, politically speaking, and it is vital that as many citizens as possible qualify themselves to vote.

Deadline for paying poll tax expires on Jan. 31.

County Has Record Cold, No Relief Yet

Big Spring and Howard County shivered through the coldest Jan. 9 on record and awakened to a gray, icy world Wednesday morning. The low reading at 8 a.m. was six degrees at the U.S. Experiment Station for the lowest reading as of this date in the 60 years records have been kept.

The high on Tuesday was a cold 21.

Coahoma, according to thermometers in service there, was even colder than Big Spring — a low of four degrees being reported. Webb AFB reported that eight degrees was its low.

There is no promise held out of any relief today, tonight or tomorrow. Indeed, if the weather forecast holds it will be colder tonight than last night.

The weatherman optimistically promised that the high today would touch 15 degrees but the reading at noon was hovering at eight degrees and the cutting north wind, which whipped light snow flurries, was offering no promise of pushing the temperature higher.

Little snow had fallen through noon today but the forecast for tonight said the snow accumulation by tomorrow should average two inches. There was some slight slipperiness indicated on paving around noon.

Generally the storm has posed no traffic problem other than making it difficult for many drivers to get their cars running early Wednesday. Filling stations had a grand rush in anti freeze sales on Tuesday and the rush was continuing today.

Practically no moisture had accrued from the current blizzard. The thin snow which has fallen has been extremely dry.

The U.S. Experiment Station listed the moisture rating as a "trace of snow."

Plumbers were buried with calls from householders who reported lines frozen in their homes.

"About all we can do now," said one of the plumbers, "is to offer our condolences. There are no electric pipe thawers in Big Spring and that's about all we could use in helping these folks as long as the blizzard holds.

"When the weather breaks and the ice melts we'll really have plenty to do."

He said that the calls for help were from all parts of town.

Meantime, at least two fire runs have had to be made where occupants resorted to blowtorches as a means of restoring water service.

The first occurred early Wednesday morning, according to the Big Spring fire department, when a bird nest caught fire in the General Welding Shop, 605 E. 2nd, as efforts were under way to free frozen water lines. No damage resulted.

The second was at 10:30 a.m. Wednesday when the residence of M. T. Johnson, 222 Madison, was set afire as efforts were made under the floor to thaw out a line with a blowtorch. The blaze was quickly extinguished and damage was light.

Fire department officials warned householders of the danger of such make-shift efforts to thaw lines.

Dates Announced For Annual Rodeo

Dates for the annual Big Spring Cowboy Reunion and Rodeo have been announced for May 30-31, June 1-2.

These are basically the same data as last year.

Elra and Jiggs Beutler of Elk City, Okla., again will be producers for the show.

They are in the process of contracting for the announcer and specialty acts at the national convention of the Rodeo Cowboys of America in Denver, Colo., this week.

The dates tie in with the general circuit for professional rodeo cowboys, thus helping assure a good field of contestants.

Last year's rodeo was one of the best attended in many years.

Concho Hereford Sale Thursday

The Concho Hereford Association will hold its 15th annual auction sale of registered bulls in San Angelo, Thursday, Jan. 11, according to Dawson Coleman, association president.

There will be 91 bulls offered in the sale, this including 11 pens of three bulls. The bulls are good ages, in good breeding condition and consigned by leading breeders of West Texas backers report, and they are of high quality and popular bloodlines.

Bill Reed, Sterling County rancher, will judge the bulls at 9 a.m. and Walter Britten, auctioneer, will start the sale at 1 p.m.

All interested persons are invited to attend the sale.

Banging Gavels Herald 2nd Session Of Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 87th Congress begins its new session today with President Kennedy plugging for early action on his domestic program and trying to soften foreign policy criticisms.

With only organizational matters to be disposed of, the Democratic-controlled national legislature will mark time until Thursday when Kennedy delivers in person his State of the Union Message.

In the House, Rep. John McCormack, D-Mass., takes over the speaker's gavel, replacing the late Sam Rayburn, D-Tex. Rep. Carl Albert, D-Okla., steps into McCormack's shoes as majority leader.

In the Senate, Republicans choose between Sens. Bourke B. Hickenlooper of Iowa and Leverett Saltonstall of Massachusetts to fill the chairmanship of their party policy committee vacated by the death of Sen. Styles Bridges of New Hampshire.

Kennedy's outline of world conditions and his domestic proposals probably will touch off explosive partisan reaction in an election-year session likely to be steeped in controversy.

Few expect the President to be more than minimally optimistic in his report on the prospects for easing international tensions in 1962.

He is likely to bear down in his message on a request for broad authority to revise American tariffs to spur trade. Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., chairman of the Senate Finance Committee which would handle any House-passed bill to accomplish this result, said he thinks the issue may be one of the most far-reaching in his 29 years in Congress.

Kennedy's No. 1 domestic objective is to win approval of a medical care program for the elderly, financed through Social Security taxes.

TOP ISSUE

Democratic National Chairman John Bailey has tabbed this as his party's principal issue in this year's elections in which 37 Senate and all House seats will be filled.

There remains doubt that Kennedy aides can muster the votes in the Ways and Means Committee to get this program to the House floor. Byrd has announced he will oppose it.

In a budget message scheduled for Jan. 18, Kennedy is expected to propose spending topping $92 billion in the fiscal year beginning July 1. Balancing of this would be dependent on increased revenues and congressional action to boost postal rates.

Because spending has now reached high levels, Kennedy has asked for action to increase the $298-billion debt limit. Byrd predicted the deficit for the current year may reach $10 billion instead of the administration's $6.9 billion estimate.

Republicans expect to make a key political issue of budget balancing. They hope their informal coalition with Southern Democratic conservatives will operate to defeat the Social Security medical plan.

Senate Minority Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said he has yet to confer with House Minority Leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana to decide whether there will be a Republican statement of principles designed to offset Kennedy's position on national issues.

Dirksen said he and Halleck will resume weekly news conferences at which they plan to air the Republican viewpoint.

In presession conferences with leaders of both parties, Kennedy has not mentioned his federal aid to education proposals which became ensnarled last year in controversy over help for parochial and private schools.

The administration has given clear indication that it will not seek legislation in the civil rights field. While this may placate Southerners, much will be heard about it from civil rights advocates.

In the foreign field, there is trouble ahead for Kennedy's expected request for authority to purchase $100 million in U.N. bonds. The United Nations has been under bipartisan fire for its actions in the Congo.

There will be the usual efforts to cut foreign aid despite last year's authorization for a long-range program.

House Mulls Loan Sharks

AUSTIN (AP)—House members turned to loan shark regulation and farm road repair funds today, as the Legislature started the second week of its third special session.

The representatives argued Tuesday, listened for home reports on the blizzard and finally passed Gov. Price Daniel's plan to bring banks under abandoned property laws (HB1)—his primary reason for calling the session. The vote was 86-56.

This gave each house a 1-0 record.

The Senate passed and sent to the House Monday its version (SB1) of plans to guarantee more funds for maintaining farm roads without curtailing new construction. The Senate bill awaits House committee action.

Speaker James Turman promised the House farm road bill (HB2) would be first on today's calendar. Right behind it was the House plan for regulating small loan operators (HB3).

The House vote on the escheat or abandoned property bill (HB1) came after two afternoons of amendments, most of them aimed at making the measure more acceptable to bankers. It gave the bill tentative approval Monday by a 79-61 vote.

Rep. Charles Hughes of Sherman, author of the bill, said it will preserve dormant bank accounts more than it will raise money for the state.

"However, it will result in some revenue," Hughes conceded.

In the midst of House arguments, State Treasurer Jesse James reported the state already has received reports of $2,141,806 available to it under a 1961 escheat law that did not include banks. The state must take legal action to obtain the money even after it is reported.

At the same time the Senate Banking Committee gave a cold shoulder to the Senate version of Daniel's escheat plans. The bill (SB2) went to a subcommittee along with a proposed substitute.

Buildup Called Great Success

FT. RILEY, Kan. (AP)—Secretary of the Army Elvis J. Stahr Jr. says the military buildup President Kennedy ordered last July has accomplished a degree of readiness unsurpassed in American peacetime history—"a bloodless effort to win a war that must never come."

Stahr reviewed the buildup Tuesday night at a dinner sponsored by the central Kansas chapter of the Association of the U.S. Army.

"Should we succeed in our effort to preserve freedom without war," he said, "it will be because the enemies of freedom can see that our intention to stand firm is backed by the military ability to do so."

3 Congressmen Take Oaths For First Time

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three new representatives and a senator take their oaths of office today after the Senate and House reconvene.

All three new House members are Democrats, though of varying position in the political spectrum. They are Joe D. Waggonner of Louisiana, Henry B. Gonzalez of Texas and Lucien N. Nedzi of Michigan.

The new senator is Maurice J. Murphy, R-N.H., who at 34 is the youngest in the Senate. He was appointed to fill the vacancy caused by the death of veteran Republican Styles Bridges of New Hampshire.

Murphy technically already is a senator, having signed the roll previously. He could not be sworn in until today.

Waggonner, 43, is a staunch segregationist and conservative. He was elected to fill the term of the late Rep. Overton Brooks, D-La., which runs until January 1963. Brooks was chairman of the House Science and Astronautics Committee. Waggonner hails from Plain Dealing, La.

Gonzalez, 45, of San Antonio, defeated conservative Republican John Goode Jr., who had campaign support from former President Dwight D. Eisenhower. The special election was to fill the seat vacated by Rep. Paul Kilday, D-Tex., who resigned to become a judge of the Military Court of Appeals.

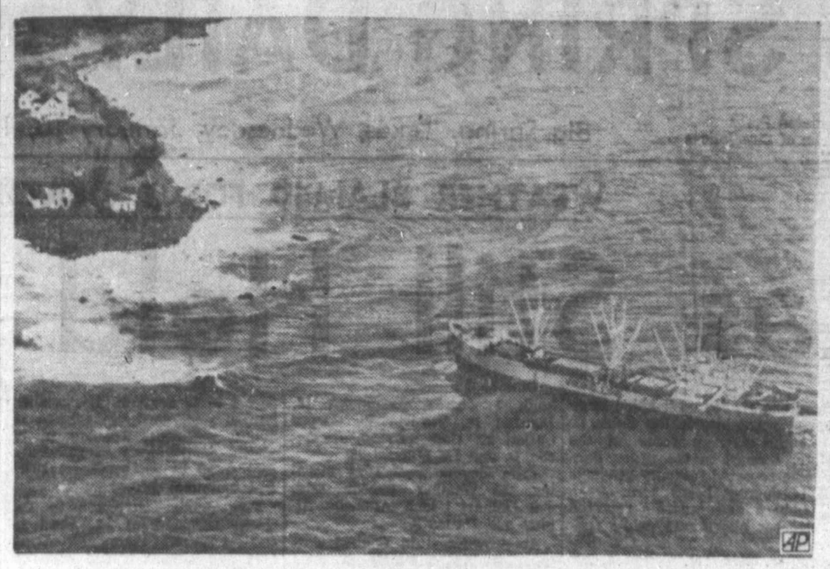

The third new House member is Lucien N. Nedzi, 36, of Hamtramck, Mich. He takes the place of Rep. Theodore M. Machrowicz of Detroit, who resigned to become a federal judge. Nedzi, a lawyer, defeated Republican Walter Czarnecki.

Five other vacancies exist in the House and must be filled by special elections.

These were caused by the deaths of Speaker Sam Rayburn, D-Tex.; Rep. Louis C. Rabaut, D-Mich., and Rep. John J. Riley, D-S.C. The other two seats were vacated by Rep. Frank Ikard, D-Tex., who resigned to become executive vice president of the American Petroleum Institute, and Rep. Lester Holtzman, D-N.Y., who resigned to take a New York judgeship.

With five vacancies, the party lineup in the House stands at 258 Democrats and 174 Republicans.

The Senate split is 64 Democrats and 36 Republicans.

Freighter Grounded

The Norwegian freighter Leif Viking lies hard aground on "Gangway Rock" about 200 yards south of the Watch Hill, R. I., lighthouse. The ship was bound from Maine to New York when she ran aground. A tug will attempt to pull her off at high tide.

No Gyrations For Geriatrics

CHICAGO (AP)—The gyrations of the Twist dance are not for the geriatric, the American Medical Association says.

"If you are past 40 and if your most strenuous exercise consists of walking from the parking to the office, think twice before you throw yourself into a vigorous session of the Twist on Saturday night," the AMA advised.

The medical group said the new fad ranks with the hula hoop as a possible cause of dislocated joints, slipped discs, muscle sprains and sacroiliac damage.

END OF LETTER

By T. H. Tarbet, preacher, Church of Christ, 3000 West Highway 80 P.O Box 1585.

"Sincerely, your brother in Christ who recognizes you as a Christian, accepts your church as a legitimate member of the Body of Christ, the Church, and who desires the same recognition from you." (We have now quoted everything in the denominational pastor's letter of protest, except the man's name.)

The sincerity of this man is not questioned; and if he has met the Bible conditions thereto, I recognize that he has become a Christian; but, I am sorry to say I cannot recognize his church as a member of the body of Christ. There is no Bible authority for so doing.

If I had a denomination, or if I were a member of one, it would not be a part of the body of Christ, either. The body of Christ is not divided against itself (Mat. 12:25). God is not the author of confusion (I Cor. 14:33). Hence, His church is not made up of many divided bodies.

As the protesting pastor admitted (see this column, Dec. 19), Christ established only one church.

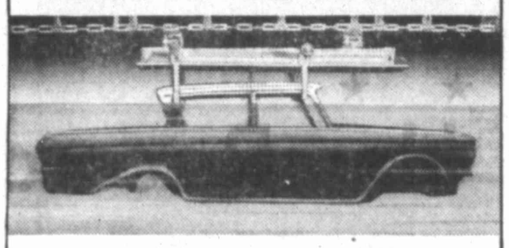

Continued tomorrow.

Mid-week service tonight, 7:30. Welcome. —Adv.

2 More Experts Testify Water Is Being Depleted

LUBBOCK (AP) — Two expert witnesses in a federal court test case say underground water of West Texas' Southern High Plains is being used faster than it can be replenished.

They appeared Tuesday as testimony continued in the case of a farm couple suing the government for a $300 tax refund.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Shurbet of Petersburg claim the money on the ground that they should receive an income tax deduction because underground water is a depletable resource.

There are about 20,000 irrigation farmers in the affected area. Authorities say millions of dollars would be involved if the Shurbets win a judgment. U.S. Dist. Judge Joseph B. Dooley is hearing the case.

W. F. Guyton, a hydrologist from Austin, testified that in his opinion water under the Southern High Plains is being exhausted. He said he agrees with various publications holding the water is being mined and there is no prospect for replenishing the supply in the near future.

W. L. Broadhurst, who started his testimony the day before, took the view that while the water is dwindling it is far from exhausted. He is chief hydrologist for the High Plains Water Conservation District.

Broadhurst estimated at least 210 million acre-feet remain of about 250 million acre-feet of water "in the Ogallala formation under the Southern High Plains before extensive irrigation began in the late 1930s."

An economist for the U.S. Department of Agriculture, Frank Hughes of Bryan, took the stand before court recessed late in the day and was expected to give further testimony today.

Sinatra Readies Yoke; To Wed Juliet Prowse

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Frank Sinatra, vowing he is ready to settle down, will marry Juliet Prowse, "one of the nicest girls I have ever known."

Miss Prowse, the leggy actress whose can-can kicks for a movie shocked Nikita Khrushchev, made the announcement. A beaming Sinatra confirmed it.

"A great girl. A wonderful girl. I'm very, very happy and very, very lucky," he confided to a newsman who found him finishing a round of golf at Hillcrest Country Club Tuesday.

"You really shook us up," the newsman remarked.

"I'm a little shook up myself," he quipped. "I'm 46 now. It's time I settled down."

Asked when he and the 25-year-old South African beauty will wed, Sinatra answered: "The wedding probably won't be for some time. Whenever she sets the day, that's okay for me. I'll let her call all the shots. That's the way it's done.

"I know she wants to have her parents come over from South Africa and I want to have them here, too. They're wonderful people. I met them when they visited her a year ago.

"After all, she's their only daughter. She's got a brother who's a doctor. I know he'll want to be here for the wedding, too. A wonderful guy."

The announcement caught gossips by surprise. Only weeks ago they had Juliet heading for the altar with young Eddie Goldstone, her agent, and Frank linked with Marilyn Monroe.

"Juliet has been my one romance," said Sinatra. "Our dates have been private, not public."

The proposal took place while the two dined tete-a-tete at Romanoff's Monday night. He put a diamond ring on her finger. Friends who saw the ring said "it was a beauty but not the usual Hollywood block buster."

It will be her first marriage, Sinatra's third. His previous wives were Nancy Barbato, his childhood sweetheart, and Ava Gardner.

Juliet once said when she married she would give up her career "and go into the business of having babies. That's what I want out of life."

Sinatra, however, said she is readying a new Las Vegas night club act to be written by his pals, songwriters Jimmy Van Heusen and Sammy Cahn.

Only Sinatra's three children, by his first wife, Nancy, were given prior knowledge of the announcement.

Nancy (Mrs. Tommy Sands), Frank Jr. and Tina got the word direct from their dad.

"They were all very happy. They all think Juliet is a wonderful girl. She and Nancy Jr. have been friends for a long time. They're crazy about each other."

Bing Crosby, confined to a hospital after kidney stone surgery, could have gotten the scoop too.

"But St. John's Hospital said the old groaner still wasn't accepting any calls," Sinatra said.

Spike Heel Tips Cause Trouble

NEW YORK (AP)—Women see red when the small metal tips on their spike heels drop off.

When the tips drop off the heels of Staten Island ferry riders, the Department of Marine and Aviation also sees red—on its balance sheets.

Commissioner Vincent A. G. O'Conner said Tuesday his department would be about $50 a week richer if the tips didn't drop off and into the moving stairways at the South Ferry terminal.

Last year, he said, lost heels cost the department $2,313.18 for emergency inspections of the terminal's two stairways.

Water District To Set Rates

Directors of the Colorado River Municipal Water District will convene in Big Spring Saturday morning with water rates the prime item of business.

Under the indenture, the district is required at the first of each year to establish a rate of charges to the member cities of Odessa, Big Spring and Snyder. Other rates, also fixed at that time, are more or less contingent upon the city rates.

E. V. Spence, general manager of CRMWD, said that the water rate committee would meet at 8:30 a.m. in the district's office, and the board meeting will follow at 10 a.m. at the Settles Hotel.

Another item of business schedule is the routine transfer of funds to the various accounts established by the trust indenture.

Quickie Divorce Cost Going Up

CIUDAD JUAREZ, Mexico (AP) The cost of getting a quickie divorce in this Mexican town is going up. The State of Chihuahua has announced a hike from $40 to $80 in the tax for filing divorce papers. Juarez lawyers charged that the higher tax would drive away a thriving divorce trade.

Motor Trend Magazine makes it official:

1962 car of the year!

From the very first we knew we had a winner. Happy owners, car enthusiasts raved about the 1962 Buick Special with the history-making Fireball V-6 engine. Now the editors of Motor Trend – one of the country's top car magazines – have made it official. After road-testing and evaluating all U.S. cars, they've named the V-6 Special "Car of the Year!" Here's how they put it...

"Motor Trend's CAR OF THE YEAR AWARD to the 1962 Buick for pure progress in design, originative engineering excellence, and the power concept for the future expressed in America's only V-6 automobile engine."

Why are the car experts so hot on this exclusive Buick engine? Only a V-6 can combine the extra vigor and smoothness of V-design with the gas savings of a straight six. This 135 H.P. V-6 weighs up to 140 pounds less than other sixes of comparable power. It sips regular gas ever so sparingly.

But why go on? Ask your Buick dealer to let you drive a V-6 Buick Special. There are five beautiful models, including a fabulous new convertible. Drop in soon and see how easy it is to make the "Car of the Year" your very own.

District Nurses Organize

Provisional District Organized By Nurses

Howard County Nurses Provisional District was set up Tuesday evening in an organizational meeting held at the Veterans' Administration Hospital.

The meeting culminated a period of preparation and petitioning in an effort to establish the district organization.

Because of inclement flying conditions Mrs. Lillian E. Taubert, assistant executive secretary of the Texas Graduate Nurses Association, San Antonio, could not be present. Replacing her in the chair was Bessie Love, chief nurse at the VA Hospital.

Temporary officers were elected with Miss Love to serve as president, and Mary Alice Anderson of Malone and Hogan Hospital, secretary-treasurer.

Esther Trantham of Malone and Hogan was named as chairman of the nominating committee, and Miss Anderson heads a committee to determine the location of meetings.

Some 25 nurses present voted to meet every second Tuesday of each month. A slate of permanent officers is to be presented at the next meeting.

Temperance Is Topic Of Program

A temperance program and business session were features of the meeting of circles of the Wesley Methodist WSCS Tuesday morning at the church under direction of Mrs. Darrell Wright.

"No Easy Answers" was the topic of the program which dealt with alcoholism and the evils of social drinking. Mrs. Wright directed the program and was assisted in a skit by Mrs. W. D. Lovelace, Mrs. Bill Alexander and Mrs. Bob Tawater.

Plans were discussed for a general meeting of the WSCS and the guild on the evening of Jan. 23 at 7:30 in the church sanctuary when Dr. Aristides Menendez of the VA Hospital staff is to be the guest speaker. There will be no morning meeting of the circles

A letter was read from Christine Boney who is now teaching in her native Malaya. She was sent through McMurry College in Abilene with the aid of the Wesley WSCS.

Following the business session the women gathered in the chapel and heard a devotion from Romans 2. They read the prayer of general confirmation in unison as the closing prayer.

Thirteen members were present and were served refreshments by the Lalla Baird Circle.

Laura Martensen Elected Junior Tri-Hi Prexy

Officers were elected by members of the Goliad Junior High Eighth Grade Junior Tri-Hi-Y when the meeting was held Monday in the Y building.

Sue Burns presided at the meeting when Laura Martensen was elected president; Cecilia Pachail, vice president; Jean Watson, secretary; Cheryl Kasch, parliamentarian; Patty Harolson, chaplain; Janet Jones, treasurer; Rita Saunders, historian.

During the business discussion members who did not bring cakes to the bake sale were asked to bring their $2; they were also reminded to bring $1 for World Service to the meeting on Friday at 4 p.m. at the Y.

New committees were appointed by the president and two leaders, Marilyn Bigham and Carolyn Sewell, were present.

Ousted Ex-Military Ruler Of S. Korea Faces Gallows

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — Chang Do-young, first titular head of the junta that toppled civil rule in South Korea, was convicted today of plotting against the military government he headed. As expected, the revolutionary tribunal set up by his former colleagues sentenced him to die on the gallows.

Chang, the army chief of staff at the time of the May coup and a hero of the Korean War, agreed only after the coup was an accomplished fact to head the ruling junta and take the country's premiership. Throughout his two months in office the real power was held by Gen. Chung Hee Park, the leader of the coup who replaced Chang as head of the junta.

Condemned to death with Chang on similar charges of counterrevolutionary activity was his former secretary, ex-Col. Lee Hoi Yung. The five-man tribunal also ordered life sentences for four defendants, including two former junta members; gave prison terms ranging from 5 to 15 years to nine persons and acquitted nine others.

Death verdicts automatically go to an appeals court. If upheld there, they must be reviewed by Gen. Park.

The revolutionary prosecutor called Chang "a sly, base opportunist" and accused him of playing both sides of the fence.

He said Chang sent military police to the Han River bridge May 16 to block coup forces from entering Seoul to oust the elected government of Premier John M. Chang. After he joined the junta, the prosecutor charged, Chang condoned efforts of his followers to take over the government by organizing a factional group based on "provincialism" and other personal connections.

The two former junta members given life sentences were Col. Park Chi-ok, commander of the paratroop unit that spearheaded the coup, and Col. Moon Jai-joon, army provost marshal after the coup.

Junta revolutionary courts have tried more than 200 persons so far, and today's sentences brought to 16 the number of persons condemned to death. Seven of these sentences have been carried out.

The military government announced the suicide of another leading official accused of conspiring against it. It said Wi Chung-yong, 47, director of the Justice Ministry's prosecution administration, slashed his throat Dec. 24 while under investigation as a suspected North Korean spy.

Mac, Adenauer Agreed On Berlin Probes

BONN, Germany (AP)— Prime Minister Harold Macmillan of Britain has won Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's support for Western probes in Moscow to determine whether negotiations with the Russians on Berlin have any chance of success.

Adenauer also agreed to ease the burden of maintaining British forces in West Germany by buying more British arms.

Adenauer said Monday he could not see that U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson's exploratory talks in Moscow were getting anywhere. A communique issued Tuesday after a full day of talks between the aged chancellor and Macmillan said that they "were agreed that the effort to find out whether a basis for negotiation with the Soviet Union exists should be pursued."

The two leaders also reaffirmed their determination to preserve the Western position in Berlin and to "defend the freedom and viability of West Berlin."

There was nothing in the communique about what would happen if the probes with Moscow fail or the Western position is more seriously menaced.

Macmillan had been reported bringing a U.S.-British proposal for maintaining the status quo in Berlin if the Russians refused to agree to new formal arrangements satisfactory to the West.

Macmillan appeared to have made a substantial gain in solving a problem that has long been a sore one between the two countries—the financial drain of maintaining the 51,000-man British Army of the Rhine.

The West German government refuses to contribute directly to British troop costs for fear of being accused of paying occupation costs. Adenauer agreed to the roundabout arms purchase solution in the interests of Western unity.

The exact scale of the arms purchases was not disclosed, but the communique promised it would be considerable. Informed sources said it would come to about 400 million marks—$100 million—a year, a substantial flow of marks that would offset about half the previous foreign exchange which Britain must pay out to support her troops in Germany.

Macmillan returned to London Tuesday night. British foreign Secretary Lord Home went on to West Berlin for a one-day ceremonial visit.

At the airport here, Macmillan told newsmen: "I am leaving Bonn really very satisfied."

Mexico Builds Tourist Bridges

MEXICO CITY (AP)—With an eye cocked toward the tourist angle, the government is stepping up its already fast pace of bridge-building on principal highways. Officials said 72 new bridges are under construction after a two-year period in which 96 bridges were completed.

DEAR ABBY

Legal And Moral Views

DEAR MISS VAN BUREN: Sixty years ago, when I was a young man I read in the newspaper that a husband had charged his wife with "stealing" because she picked his pockets. The judge said she was not guilty because she had a right to pick his pockets. When a judge hands down a verdict on some case which has never been settled in court, his verdict establishes a precedent and becomes "Law."

Abby, you said in your column that a wife has no business picking her husband's pockets. I am sure if you had known of this law you wouldn't have given that answer. Respectfully,

G. G.

DEAR G. G.: I am not qualified to give legal advice. But it is possible for one to be LEGALLY right and MORALLY wrong. I still say it is morally wrong for a woman to pick her husband's pockets.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: My husband drives a truck for a living and is gone for a week at a time. I got pretty lonesome and started thinking about accepting a date with a certain man who told me he didn't love his wife and had had a secret yearning for me for years. I made the date with him and was all set to go. Then I read the letter in your column signed HIGH AND DRY. That changed my mind. Abby, I will never get that lonesome again. Thanks for opening my eyes before it was too late. I wouldn't risk losing my husband and children for anything.

JUST IN TIME

* * *

DEAR ABBY: My fiance and I are about to announce officially our engagement by having a picture put in the newspaper. I have seen pictures of a girl and her fiance together on occasions like this, and I want very much to do the same. My fiance is giving me trouble. He says it is corny and stupid, and I should go ahead and give the society editor my own picture and leave him out of it. I had my heart set on a nice picture of both of us but want to know if I am wrong or does he have a point?

GETTING MARRIED

DEAR GETTING: A picture of "the couple" is entirely proper if it is the paper's policy to accept it. Some do and some don't. After you've learned this, don't disregard your fiance's feelings, or more could develop than a picture.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: It's not always the woman who get deceived. I fell for a pretty little red-haired doll who told me she wasn't married. Please print this for all the men who get blamed for being the rats.

Scientists Turn To Man To Solve Space Problems

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Man can't compete with those fantastically efficient computers in working problems or remembering details, but his brain still is rated the most efficient computer in our space craft.

An aviation expert, Dr. Robert Walker, said Tuesday he believes the Mercury astonaut program would be further along if the pilots had been given a larger role in preliminary research.

Walker, with the Boeing Co. in Seattle, told more than 400 doctors and scientists that the human brain remains superior to the computers because of its ability to reason and react to unexpected situations.

In one of a series of aerospace medicine lectures at Brooks Air Force Base, Walker said: "It would not be wise to wait until a system is developed to fully operational status in an unmanned condition before we attempt to add man to the system."

Humans "are not very accurate or dependable in respect to detailed memory or precision of memory," he said, and "very few men have any high capability in detailed mental computation."

Man is able, however, to "store a fantastic amount of data, perform broad localized and distant scanning, sense information . . . with high precision, recognize relations between disordered, indistinct data, recognize the consequence or unpredicted deviations in performance by comparison with memory stored data and evaluate the interrelation of data from the performance of multiple subsystems," he reported.

Walker said there have been many malfunctions in the X15 rocket plane flights "which have not resulted in loss of experience or data."

"It has been estimated that if the pilot had not been on board to serve as a back-up to the system, a significant percentage of the flights would have resulted in loss of the vehicle," he said.

"One flight of a manned vehicle might advance the research program by a significant period of time and save many unmanned flights. There is already some evidence of such a saving from the success of the two manned Mercury flights.

"It now seems probable that the Mercury program could have assigned many more functions to the pilot. If the design had permitted more active research participation by the pilot, there is a strong chance the system would be further advanced."

If the space pioneer fails to return from his voyage, scientists on the ground ought to know exactly what happened to him and his space vehicle, another speaker said.

Capt. James Roman said data radioed back to earth also would enable experts to provide helpful instructions immediately if a space vehicle runs into trouble.

Roman, chief of the biodynamics branch of the department of space medicine at Brooks, said arguments in favor of telemetering data to the spacecraft's home base "would be overwhelming."

"In the past, many types of high performance vehicles including research vehicles have been lost without a clear knowledge as to the cause of the catastrophe," he said.

Date Set For Hearing On Pollution

The Texas Railroad Commission has fixed Feb. 8 at 9 a.m. as the time for a hearing on the application of the Colorado River Municipal Water District to get a halt to pit disposal of oilfield brines.

In addition, the district is seeking action for plugging of what it contends are two improperly plugged oil test holes in the area.

The district last week asked a show cause hearing covering the Sharon Ridge and North Coleman Ranch fields in southwest Scurry County and northwest Mitchell County in an effort to stop the pollution of the upper Colorado River watershed. The district, after nearly two years of study, contends that the salt water in the river is the result mainly of disposing of oilfield brines in open pits.

Until it demonstrates an ability to control the pollution of the watershed, the district cannot proceed with plans for a second lake on the Colorado River.

The specific wells which the district says are improperly plugged are Ordovician Oil Co. No. 1 Tom Sterling in the southeast quarter of section 127-97, H&TC, and T. G. Shaw Oil Corp. No. 1 First National Bank, in the northwest quarter of section 12-97, H&TC, both in Scurry County.

The hearing is set for the railroad commission offices in Austin.

Bracero First Choice Banned

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Field workers who help harvest cotton in the Mexican states of Sonora and Tamaulipas will no longer get first choice at going to the United States as braceros.

The practice led to extremely low wages to the workers in the two states and brought on abuses in hiring, the Ministry of Government said.

The ministry said it had notified the governors of Sonora and Tamaulipas to take the necessary steps to insure an adequate labor supply. It suggested higher wages.

About 400,000 Mexicans go to the United States yearly to help harvest crops.

First Escheat Report Is Made

AUSTIN (AP) — State Treasurer Jesse James reported Tuesday that $2,141,806 in escheatable property was collected by his newly created escheat division from 378 companies.

The collections were made under the escheat bill passed at the first called session of the last Legislature, which excluded banks.

The largest amounts were paid by Gulf Oil Corp., $272,977; Houston Power & Light Co., $158,339; Texas Power & Light Co., $101,894, and the state treasury, $103,665.

James said the money held by the treasury had been in dormant accounts more than seven years, and thus escheated to the state.

A Devotional for Today

"Whatever you ask in my name, I will do it, that the Father may be glorified in the Son." (John 14:13. RSV.)

PRAYER: Dear Father God, forgive us for our faltering faith, for our fear of attempting the impossible with Thee, allowing doors to remain closed when they might be wide open. We pray in the name of Jesus, whose power can open doors. Amen.

Issue With Far-Reaching Consequence

An issue of far-reaching consequence has been under court test at Lubbock when a land owner has sought to qualify for a depletion allowance on water consumed for irrigation. By some estimates, there are some 60,000 irrigation wells on the South and Upper plains area. While the amount involved per well may not be sizeable, it would be a figure of consequence both to producers and to the government.

Testimony has been given to the effect that the water from whence the vast plains area irrigated agriculture has derived support is largely from storage and not only is depletable but is being depleted rapidly. Some witnesses testified that at least half the reserve has now been exhausted. Consider that intensified irrigation is hardly over 20 years old and it is possible to project a sharp decline in the extensiveness of this operation. It would be safe to surmise, because wells are now more numerous and recovery methods are far more efficient, that the next 20 years will see this type of agriculture drastically altered.

Thus the implications of this are more far-reaching than that of whether a depletion allowance shall be allowed for tax purposes, important though it may be. This does not mean that the water will be totally exhausted, for this will not be the case. It does mean that as a general thing the returns frequently may not justify the expense, and in the end the reserves may be sufficient only for domestic and municipal supplies, or for supplemental use.

It also means that the problem of pollution, not yet felt but silently and inexorably creeping on in many plains areas with oilfield brines, will be intensified as the volume of reserve diminishes. This is something else that should be considered, for it could easily be that when the water is needed most it will be least desirable. Those who look to the future may well include this in their studies along with those which might break through to a greater degree of success in recharge during wet years.

People With Pride And Energy

Two unconnected yet very related items in this week's news have to do with our band program.

The first is that the senior high school band placed the most among 35 area bands on the so-called regional band. This, to young musicians, is comparable to being named on an all-regional football team. Moreover, four of the eight judged proficient enough to play in the all-state band, when the Texas music educators have their annual meeting, came from the Big Spring band. Another five still have a chance to make the all-state level. In all, 29 were named to the regional band. Hence, the quality of the band program speaks for itself.

The other item referred to the Band Boosters Club, which authorized payment of another $1,000 on the band uniforms for the Runnels Junior High. Many of the more affluent school districts plank down large appropriations for uniforms and instruments, but here we are definitely limited. But this did not limit the pride of parents and other friends of the band, for they assumed the responsibility of seeing that the band is as brightly uniformed as any other. Now the debt has been reduced to about $1,600, but back of that herculean effort is the story of a bunch of people and of youngsters who have worked like beavers.

It's worth it however, for this sense of pride and effort seems to have been inculcated into the young musicians. They are giving a good account of themselves and reflecting credit on our community.

BUT SHE'S ALL WE'VE GOT

Materialism, Not Emancipation

WASHINGTON — The United Nations—aided by the money and influence of the government of the United States—is abandoning the principles of international morality and making a mess of the Congo.

Protection of private property — the heart of the whole problem—has been sidetracked by the U.N. and, of course, by the United States, too. The result is that the owners of the private property are engaged in a desperate struggle to save their possessions from thievery and confiscation. The whole controversy could be settled quickly in Washington, London, Brussels and Moscow if morality were accepted as a basis.

WHAT DOES the word "Congo" mean to the average citizen in this country? Does he know the issues involved? Does he know that the Congo is a vast territory bigger than all of this country east of the Mississippi, bigger than Mexico, and more than four times the size of France? Does he know it is populated by 13,000,000 people composed of 200 tribes, speaking 38 different languages, and that no one tribe has a controlling position?

Does the average American know that the $100,000,000 appropriation which is being urged on Congress by the President for the policing of the Congo's tribes, is just a small fraction of the hundreds of millions of dollars invested in the Congo by Belgian and British companies and by citizens of those countries? They now are threatened with tremendous losses. Their attempts to get help from the British and Belgian governments are denounced.

WHAT IS MORE natural, for instance, than to find the Katanga government hiring a public-relations expert to get its story across in America, even as the Department of State publicly seems to discredit such efforts? Who are today the true "mercenaries" — the mining companies which support the Congo with their tax money, or the Communists who buy up tribal leaders and encourage them to intensify the disorder? Yet there's a strange silence by the State Department about exposing the Communist intrigue and financial skulduggery which is keeping the Congo boiling with trouble.

In fact, the West for the last 10 years has fallen into the trap of "anti-colonialism" propaganda and now faces in Asia and Africa, as well as in eastern Europe, a new imperialism under totalitarian regimes that are worse than colonial rule ever was. The U.N. has a half-hundred new member countries which are semi-civilized and incapable of self-government.

THE KATANGA PROVINCE, which seceded from the central government, is the biggest in the area. It produces some 10 per cent of the world's copper and 65 per cent of its cobalt. A huge mining company, mostly Belgian-owned — called "Union Miniere"—has been fighting for its life. It is anti-Communist. It felt that Lumumba was pro-Communist. Tshombe has been a champion of the Belgian company's interests. The mining company is important to any central government because it has been contributing 40 per cent of the Congo's entire revenue and 60 per cent of its foreign exchange.

So the controversy involves a struggle for control of a big foreign-owned property. Gizenga, in the eastern province of the Congo, is Moscow's man. Tshombe is looked upon as Belgium's best bet.

It is in this kind of controversy, unfortunately, that the United Nations has become entangled. The claim of U.N. spokesmen is that the preservation of law and order is all that's sought in the Congo. Actually, the U.N. has tried, with military force, to remould the central government itself.

BELGIUM GRANTED independence to the Congo in the mistaken belief that foreign properties would be safeguarded and that some form of self-government would work.

It is not too late to rectify the error. An international trusteeship—under British authority perhaps—is the only answer to the Congo mess. The 200 tribes are not ready for self-government. They can't even talk to each other in the same language. A minority of Africans in the country are educated and clamor for independence, though the vast majority are illiterate tribesmen.

The central government, of course, promises to permit a resumption of mining production in Katanga, but the threat of nationalization or confiscation is real.

SO BASICALLY it is a matter of materialism and not emancipation from "colonialism" that constitutes the main trouble of the Congo. The sooner the United States exerts its influence for the protection of private property and investments in the Congo—and in Cuba, too—the clearer will become the American citizen's concept of what the United Nations can do to restore order and give underprivileged peoples a chance for a better life.

Gunslinger's Solitaire

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — Western hero aspirants can play "High Noon" by themselves now.

A local firm (Taylor Engineering Co.) has produced a life-size gunslinger who challenges all comers. On command from the mechanical man, the player draws and fires his cork-shooter at the mean-looking robot.

The shooter's time is measured to the one-hundredth of a second by a timing device. The object—obviously—is to gun down the indestructible gunslinger.

He'll groan if he's hit—or his recorded voice chides the live gunman if he misses.

It Will Be A Conservative Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — What kind of Congress opens today?

It will be noisy and more political than usual. This is an election year for all House members and one-third of the Senate.

It will be stubborn. Already some of the key figures have come out against some of President Kennedy's ideas for 1962.

It will be rather complacent and slow-moving about home problems. With the country prosperous, Congress won't feel pressured by urgency.

Biggest rumpus: Most likely in foreign affairs— on foreign aid, help for the United Nations, and various trouble spots.

Numbers can be deceptive. Democrats outnumber the Republicans 258 to 174 in the House and 64 to 36 in the Senate.

ANY TIME enough Democratic conservatives, particularly Southern Democrats, team up with enough conservative Republicans they can block their own administration's programs. And they do.

It will be a conservative year. While there are liberals and reactionaries in both parties, the dominant force in both is conservative.

The members are as varied as America. Some are millionaires, some anything but.

Each member brings to Washington out of his own personal social, cultural and economic background his own set of prejudices, desires, attitudes and inclinations—in addition to trying to reflect the interests of the people who gave him his job and can take it away.

BRAINS DON'T always count. Committee chairmen, holding vital positions of power over legislation, are not chosen for brilliance, imagination, flexibility or sensitivity but for seniority.

A member assigned to a committee in time will become chairman—if he can stay around long enough by getting re-elected often enough—by moving up through the deaths or retirements of those ahead of him.

The will of the majority doesn't always prevail. In the Senate on any given issue a minority through a filibuster can keep the majority from voting.

In a very real sense, however, this is not blocking the majority will. Any time enough Senators want to join forces to kill a filibuster, they can do so. They seldom do.

EACH SENATOR knows that tomorrow he may be in a filibustering minority on something. Therefore, each is reluctant to throttle a minority.

Some of the speeches are predictable before they begin. There will be speeches against: leftwingers, rightwingers, communism, Democrats (by Republicans), Republicans (by Democrats), creeping socialism, government interference, government controls, too much spending, too much foreign aid, too little foreign aid, cutting tariffs, medical care for the aged, federal aid to education, and Fidel Castro.

Outstanding figure: No one in either House this year is in the same league — as a dominant force or rallying point — with some of the big names of the recent past.

Tips For Survival

NEW YORK (AP)—If there is anything the average man feels he needs most in the first few days of a new year, it is probably a survival kit.

"I made it again," he says on Jan. 1 with a profound sense of gratitude—not unmixed with surprise. But this is almost immediately followed by a feeling of bleak despair as he looks at the weeks and months ahead.

"How will I ever make it through 1962?" he asks.

Well, it can be done. Millions will make it—one way or another. By the use of a little care and forethought, you almost certainly can too.

Here are a few survival tips that may prove helpful:

The problem that ages most people long before their time is the killing ordeal of having to face going back to work on Monday. Ask your boss if, instead of having Saturdays and Sundays off, you can have Sundays and Mondays off. Tuesdays are always easier to endure than Mondays.

Are you perpetually annoyed by the number of women who endlessly pursue you? Simple. Quit putting on four dabs of hair cream daily. Use only one dab every other day. Even better, use pork fat.

Are you fearful that the government's proposed crackdown on expense accounts will cramp your style of living? Well, be consoled. There are others it may be harder for. Take John F. Kennedy. It is true he gets up to $40,000, nontaxable, for travel and entertainment. But there's an additional $50,000 expense allowance he has to justify to the tax people—and him with a new baby in the house to feed, too.

If it worries you to borrow money, but you feel you have to in order to make it through the year, borrow from a friend. No one ever got ulcers worrying about paying back a true friend. Remember, your health comes first.

Get more exercise. If you run around your bar stool three times after each sip of a dry martini, you'll have the chest of a champion in no time. Don't bother to explain this practice to your favorite bartender; he expects odd behavior from his martini customers.

Do you come home from noisy cocktail parties hoarse, frustrated and worn out from trying to talk and listen at the same time? Save this drain on your nervous energy. Go to the next cocktail party with a megaphone and earmuffs. You'll get your points over, and keep your own mind from being cluttered up with the other fellow's prejudices.

Learn to relax more efficiently. Get one hour more of sleep in bed at night, and two hours less in the office swivel chair each day, and you'll cure not only your own tension about the boss — you'll ease the boss' tension about you.

Follow those tips, tried and true, and you'll easily weather '62. Fit and happy, hale and hearty—you'll be the life of next new year's party.

To Your Good Health

Mononucleosis Generally Hits Young Adults

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

"Dear Dr. Molner: I underwent surgery for removal of a large fibroid tumor. Just as I was beginning to feel strong again, I contracted mononucleosis and haven't been able to get back on my feet.

"I've heard that it takes eight months to a year to cure it. Is this so? My blood test showed my hemoglobin is only 83 per cent. Would this be the reason for my show recovery? I get liver injections and vitamins. Are these sufficient?—Mrs. T. H."

I hesitate to discuss a cure for mononucleosis, because there is not anything we can really do.

Rest and nourishing food during the feverish stage of the disease are very important, along with moderate precautions to prevent complications —antiobitics, mainly, to avoid the risk of infections setting in while the patient is still weak and tired. And that's about all.

It's true that full recovery may take several months, and where some other illness or drain on the system — like an operation — has also been involved, then it takes a bit longer.

I cannot, however, agree that it "takes eight months to a year," because in most cases the patient will be right back to normal a good deal sooner. In some, it will take that long.

The disease, in general, attacks young adults, which, of course, is a term that allows a good deal of leeway — high school or boarding school students, college students, and young married people. Occasionally it attacks some who are older, but not as a rule.

Mrs. T. H. didn't give her age. From her letter, handwriting and wording and so on, I'd guess her to be in her 20's or 30's. That leaves her in the "young adult" bracket. On the other hand, fibroid tumors tend generally (but not always, of course) to require attention in the 30's or 40's or so. Maybe she's one of those individuals who gets "early diseases" late, and "late problems" early.

Well, getting over mononucleosis demands patience. The hemoglobin count that Mrs. T. H. mentions isn't too low under the circumstances. The liver injections are helpful and the vitamins a reasonable precaution. But what she needs is some patience. Some time . . . and adequate diet . . . and gentle exercise. She'll recover fully, but she'll have to let Nature take whatever time happens to be required in her case.

"Dear Dr. Molner: I have been told that cheaper brands of aspirin are just as effective as the 'trade name' brands. If this is not true, will you explain the difference? Is there a difference in artificial sweetness?—R. K."

Aspirin is aspirin, and that's the whole story. As to artificial sweetness, none is added except that in some instances candy-coated aspirin is made for children. I do not approve of this. Children can, if need be, take an aspirin or half an aspirin, with a drink of water. But small babies, not realizing the difference, have been known to mistake aspirin for "candy" and eat dangerous, sometimes fatal amounts, when nobody was watching. I don't think the candy coating is worth such a risk. Do you?

NOTE TO W.G.: I doubt if meat, and a nip of beer or brandy, will have any substantial effect on your gout. Diet, it is now believed, is of relatively less importance than used to be believed.

Around The Rim

We Need To Survey This Monkey Business

One of the characteristics of our age is the survey. No matter what the problem, the incident, the condition, there is a common denominator—they all call for a special study.

If a brand of snuff isn't moving as it should, then experts are summoned to find out, post haste, how come. If the Russians rocket a dog into space ahead of our schedule, a commission is established to dig out the reasons. If it appears that trade patterns may be disrupted, a survey is bound to be in the offing. If a community wants to tackle a problem, it starts with a survey. You name it, and the odds are 10-1 that a survey is needed.

WHICH LEADS me to a situation that cries out desperately for a special study—a study in depth, if you please.

How come monkeys are ahead of us? Now, now, I know what you are about to say. Some will argue that at least man's physical makeup may have issued from the primates. If we descended (or ascended) from the ape, how can he be ahead of us? Those who see no possible connection, argue with equal earnestness that the monkey, being a dumb brute, couldn't be ahead of man in achievements.

WELL, there's the case of Ham. Who made out sub-orbital flight to test the fringes of space? In our case, we must admit that Ham got there ahead of Alan Sheppard. Even the Russians probably filled the sky with hot dogs before letting man go.

Not convinced? What about Enos? This chimp made it around the world twice in 1961, the same year the Russians reported up a couple of Soviets who had no better judgment than to land back in Russia. Our candidate from among our citizens isn't due to orbit the earth until sometime this month.

OBVIOUSLY, the monkeys have been ahead of us twice in a row. Thus, I propose a survey. Perhaps they have gained this position of superiority because of their hairy state. We are tonsorially correct, but maybe this hair cutting has weakened us like Sampson. Or could it be that a civilization that demands clothes has cut us off from the secret rays that make for superlative achievement?

Could it be that our sedentary life has softened us while monkeys are notoriously addicted to climbing? Could it be that we don't hang by one arm from the chandelier often enough? Again, what about the possibility that bananas may be at the heart of it all? Are we woefully deficient in bananas at the breakfast table when Ham and Enos are eating them like crazy?

IS IT possible that in our search for technical excellence we are cluttering up the mind and throwing up mental road blocks? Could it be that there is danger because we can read and Ham and Enos can't?

Or could it be that Ham and Enos can't run fast enough?

It Must Have Been Two Other People

Ah, here I go again! Doubtless by this time, almost 16 years after the alleged fact, my spirit should be broken and I ought to give up denying one of the prime newspaper legends of my time—that I interviewed the late Humphrey Bogart on the half-shell. Probably I should be grateful for small favors and thankful that the myth has Bogey and not me on the shell.

THE LEGEND will never die now, for Walter Winchell, in good faith, has just printed it. After all, Bogey not only circulated the story but died convinced that I was the woman reporter who not only barged into his suite in New York's Hotel Gotham but, not content with forcible entry, flung open the bathroom door where the actor, in his birthday suit, was shaving.

The identity of the fortunate or unfortunate female writer, who thus surprised Bogey in the altogether remains shrouded in mystery. And as the two witnesses for the prosecution whom he names are dead, the defense hasn't a ghost of a chance.

LESS THAN A year before he died I had a letter from Bogey, citing chapter and verse, to prove the story. And, indeed, I am convinced of everything he says except that the nonchalant heroine was I.

"Think, dear girl," Bogey wrote, "think back to the beginning of February, 1945. I had taken a suite at the Gotham Hotel. Down the hall were George Hawkins and Louis Bromfield, in another suite.

"IT WAS EIGHT o'clock in the morning and Lauren Bacall (Ed's note: Miss Bacall and Mr. Bogart were not yet married) was due to arrive from California for publicity purposes. She was to occupy a suite with her mother on the floor above.

"Louis, George and I had been out on the town the night before and it was now eight o'clock in the morning and I was the proud possessor of a monumental hangover.

"I HAD ORDERED some breakfast and left the living-room door open for the waiter. I was in the bathroom shaving when I heard a voice say, 'Has Miss Bacall arrived yet?' I turned and you stood there. You did catch me in the altogether and no other member of the Fourth Estate can make that statement. So rest on your laurels. Regards, Bogey."

Laurels? I will gladly transfer them to the woman reporter who will step forward and identify herself as the authentic interviewer of Bogey, clad only in lather. Heaven is my witness that it wasn't I!

NOW THE STORY, as Bogey loved to tell it, is circulating again. And Walter certainly quotes correctly what were always Bogey's concluding lines: "It was all very businesslike. And I'll say this for her, so far as I could observe, her eyes never left my face. That's what I call a sample of good reporting."

All my life I have been a mousey, circumspect woman who, under the above circumstances, would have started screaming for the house detective while doing a four-minute mile for the elevators.

It is probably my fate to go down in journalistic history for an event to which I vigorously plead "not quilty" and "not present."

Robert Kennedy Vs. Crime

WASHINGTON — If Attorney General Robert Kennedy is anything like the rest of us, he will find excuses for postponing things he doesn't really want to do.

Bob Kennedy would be less than human if he didn't dread the idea of putting the Federal Government onto faithful Democrats, who, in 1960, made possible his brother's election to the presidency and his own elevation to the office of Attorney General.

THE WORDS that reporters most frequently hear at the Justice Department are, "Our record will speak for itself." This means "No comment" to queries, such as this reporter made there, concerning the cracking down on Democratic swindlers with "Honorable" in front of their names.

The second most frequent statement seems to be to the effect, "We can't crack down without an airtight Federal case." The concern for the civil liberties of known law - breakers and hoodlums strikes one reporter as a wishful excuse for sparing the rod. I'll be very happy if the Attorney General proves me wrong. When the "record speaks for itself" by arrests, indictments or exposures, I intend to speak well of the record.

MEANWHILE, THE criminal control over the local affairs of this free country is one that shouts aloud for succor. A Justice Department higher-up in the best possible position to know tells me:

"Nationwide crime is appalling. Criminal rule over our businesses, labor unions and local governments is the very antithesis of democracy. What good are free elections when the men we elect are owned by the crooks?"

LAST YEAR, the Attorney General asked Congress for eight laws which would strengthen Federal law enforcement, especially in striking at interstate gambling which provides the main revenue for organized crime. Five of the eight proposals were made law. Kennedy is justifiably pleased with his record of putting some big gamblers out of business. Now he is back, asking for additional laws, which Congress will surely give him.

NOBODY SHOULD underestimate the difficulty of Kennedy's job of making arrests and getting convictions. In recent cases, Government witnesses have been murdered, have suddenly lost their memories, have been discovered with their hands wired behind their backs and starving to death, have jumped $50,000 bail bonds. Big criminal operators have shrugged off fines and lenient prison sentences because they make so many millions they don't mind a light penalty. Newspapers will feature a crime of passion on Page One, but will bury a gangland murder or disappearance so that the public is hardly aware of the shameful occupation status under which we live —not just in New York and Chicago, but in New Kensington, Penn., and Newport, Ky., the hick towns as well as the metropolises.

LOCAL GOVERNMENT everywhere has lost the ability to imprison or execute its criminals — and the Federal government, crying "There ought to be a law!", has excuses, excuses, excuses.

But there is plenty of power in the Executive establishment to do whatever it wants to do — and occasionally does do to businessmen, small town Southerners and to whole industries. Attorney General Kennedy could stop off at 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue any morning and get a piece of paper which would put some crime-conquered community under martial law. A few drumhead courts martial, not excluding the firing squad for red-handed murderers, rapists and extortionists, would not so much damage civil liberties as help to restore them to the law-abiding majority. Even if Robert Kennedy used his Federal office, as he used his position on the McClellan committee, to expose the thieves and hoodlums, it would be helpful.

THE ATTORNEY GENERAL tells the story of going to the Pearly Gates, of being handed a piece of chalk by St. Peter and told to climb a ladder and make a mark for every election promise unfulfilled. As the Attorney General tells it, he met the President coming down the ladder and asked him where he was going.

"Going down to get a new box of chalk," was the reply.

Well, it isn't that bad. The President and the Attorney General have done better than most campaign promisers, much better. But when the iron gates start clanging behind Democratic big shots who are in cahoots with the crooks, Bob Kennedy can throw away his chalk.

Abilene Cooper Is Winner Over Herd

ABILENE — Abilene Cooper upset the Big Spring Steers, 53-49, here Tuesday night in a basketball game that was determined in an overtime period.

The regular game ended at 49-49 but the Longhorns were unable to scratch in the extra period. A field goal by Mike Frush and free tosses by Smith and Cockrell turned the trick for the Cougars.

Eddie Nelson missed a free shot at the buzzer that would have meant victory for Big Spring.

Paul Lack led the Cougars in scoring with 23 points while Roy McCharen had 13. Nelson tossed in 14 and Dick Ebling 12 for Big Spring.

The Steers, who led by a margin of 13-5 at one point, hit 38 per cent of their shots in the game. They took only 22 shots from the field the final half.

The defeat was the second in three conference starts for Big Spring. Cooper is now 2-1. Overall, the Longhorns are 13-4.

Cooper also won the B game, 49-39.

Jeff Brown paced the Dogies with ten points while Eric Nichols followed with nine. Nichols sprained his ankle severely right after the second half started, at which time the Dogies were very much in contention.

The Steers play again Friday night, at which time they visit Odessa for a contest with Permian.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With TOMMY HART

Sports dialogue:

CASEY STENGEL, manager of the New York Mets:

"I might have won the pennant when I was at Worchester in the Eastern League, but we didn't have a team bus. All we had were two cars and it isn't like a bus, where I could tell those fellas all I know about baseball and maybe get sarcastic when we lost. With two cars, all those fresh kids would climb into the one I wasn't riding in and maybe there'd be a dozen in that car and just me and a couple of fellas who didn't listen, anyway, in the other car. Right near the end of the season I got a bus and we finished third, but them two cars ruined us."

An OFFICIAL of the American Quarter Horse Association:

"The quarter horse's center of weight is lower than that of the thoroughbred. It is this fact that gives him his sensational early burst of speed. Powerful muscles in his rump, quarters, thigh and hind leg above the knee provide his propelling power. This explains why he can outrun other horses on short distances and also his inability to sustain the run. It also explains his name."

* * * *

RED AUERBACH, coach of the Boston Celtics:

"Frank Ramsey of our team, who played his college basketball at Kentucky, is a pro's pro and has been from the day he joined our team in 1954. Most college All-Americans are rank rookies when they turn pro, but we didn't have to teach Ramsey much. He knew most of the moves instinctively. He's got perfect disposition for this business. He isn't fazed by playoffs, clutch situations or anything else. All he wants to do is win. Fourteen or 15 minutes before a game, Ramsey sits in a corner of a locker room without saying a word. By the time the game starts, he has worked himself into the proper mental state. From then on he's ready for anything I want him to do—start, sit on the bench, play in a corner up front or go into the back court. Ramsey ranks next to Bob Cousy for being easy to handle."

ERMAL ALLEN, assistant football coach at the University of Kentucky, after Blanton Collier was dismissed as head man:

"I'm not applying for the job. I have been here since 1946 as a coach, and served as a player four years before that, so folks know I'm around. I feel like I know what's wrong at Kentucky. I think all our troubles stem from lack of leadership. We need a revival of state pride in our university and its football team. It is up to the new men to get out into the state, canvass the high schools, meet the principals and coaches, and get them behind the university. I am going out on a recruiting trip, just as planned. We can't quit this important function, even though the situation does make the job tougher. I applied for the top job when Paul Bryant left, and didn't get it. This time I will not apply but I feel more followers of the school are with me this time."

* * * *

BUZZY BAVASI, vice president of the Los Angeles Dodgers:

"This will be our most interesting spring camp in years. With six men lost in the National League expansion draft and Charlie Neal traded, following that second place finish, most jobs on the squad are up for grabs. We're set only at shortstop, catching and four starting pitchers."

* * * *

BILL PARKER, California golf pro:

"An amateur golfer can learn a lot faster when he knows what to look for, when watching a top-notch pro perform. Watch players who have your same size and build, if possible. Lads who are getting a little heavier around the middle, such as myself, can never copy Sam Snead's fluid swing. We'd probably strain a bunch of muscles trying."

Goose Tatum In Fine Form In Cage Exhibition Here

Nine men played it straight for Goose Tatum, the self-styled clown prince of basketball, and the veteran Negro comic kept a standing room only crowd of 1,800 in high humor at the high school gymnasium here Tuesday night but many in the throng left the fieldhouse complaining about the absence of promised half-time entertainment.

The Harlem Stars, as Tatum bills his touring athletes, had trumpeted it about that the renowned Ink Spots would sing at half time but the vocalists didn't show, either because they were weathered out or due to the fact that they were booked elsewhere.

Tatum didn't try to explain their absense although the spectators began to set up a chant for them. Instead, the Goose came out to help the onlookers pass the time with some patented tricks, one of them calls for him to enlist the aid of a small boy and have him shoot at a goal until he makes it.

Tatum and his Stars came from behind to defeat the New York Rens, 99-87, and the Goose himself scored in almost every conceivable way—from dunking the ball to hooking from quarter court.

The veteran actor from Arkansas, whose troupe arrived late and consequently kept the crowd waiting nearly 30 minutes, remains one of the world's most remarkable athletes.

Tatum himself was easy to distinguish. He wore a golden suit while his team mates donned the customary blue.

Those who might have ventured to the gym in hopes of seeing straight basketball were, no doubt, disappointed. The Rens boasted a talented crew but it was obvious the night belonged to Tatum.

He and his team played its usual baseball game, in which he was the batter and base runner. He pitched at and hit a side basket that had been pulled ceilingward. He rolled the ball between the legs of an opponent. He handed the ball to an opponent just as the foe was storming out of bounds and he fractured the crowd by hurling mock insults at the officials.

Tatum's boy, Reece Jr., has a long way to go before he equals the great Marques Haynes as a dribbler and floor man but he showed promise in brief bursts with the ball.

Tatum could have had the throng in his hip pocket had he delivered the Ink Spots as promised but some fans departed the premises muttering that, in their opinion at least, the Golden Goose had laid an egg as a result.—T.H.

Forsan Buffs Defeat Cats

WATER VALLEY—Forsan made a successful debut in District 93-B competition by beating Water Valley, 59-52, here Tuesday night.

In girls' play, Water Valley won, however, 39-31.

The victory left the Forsan boys with a 7-8 won-lost record.

H. K. Elrod had 18 points and Kenneth Soles 16 for Forsan in the boys' game. Marion Wood tossed in 31 for Water Valley.

DIEGO GARCIA

3561st Is Cup Winner At Webb

The 3561st Student Squadron gave the Webb units an object lesson when they captured the Base Commander's Trophy for 1961.

The lesson was on "How to Win It."

Without finishing first in any major sport competition all year, the 3561st maintained all-round supremacy by participating, by finishing "in the money," and by non-forfeiture of games.

The winning of the trophy was accomplished through the amassing of 1707 points to beat out the 3560th Air Base Group which scored a total of 1620 points; ending in third place was the 3560th M&S Group, with 1310. The 3561st Pilot Training Squadron was fourth with 1200 points.

Touch-football was the most rewarding for the winners as they collected 250 points for the base runner-up championship: 75 for participation and a 30 point bonus for games won in the playoffs.

In swimming competition, the students chalked up nine individual first place victories, three second-place and a number of third and fourth place spots, for a total of 352 points.

Softball gave them 255 points: 150 for third place; 75 for participation, and 30 points for bonus tallies.

Other points came as a result of participation, non-forfeiture, and second and third place wins—track, 210; tennis, 170; and handball, 155.

It was not until the Small Games were run off a few days ago that the Commander's Trophy race was definitely decided; and it was badminton that gave the students the clincher.

Sgt. Diego Garcia won the badminton title for 75 trophy points; then Mr. Jimmy Ray Smith added 60 points for second place; the two then combined to run off with the doubles and the 75 extra points needed to cinch the title.

Closer than in two years, the battle for the Commander's Trophy saw all units come through with excellent point gains. The fifth place 331st FIS ended up with 797; Pilot Training Group, 380; USAF Hospital Group, 275; Civil Engineering Group, 195; 3560th Pilot Training Squadron, 160; and Air Force Communications Service Detachment, 150.

It should be explained that basketball and volleyball were not considered in point distribution. The two major sports events were run off in the usual manner, but because of the consolidation of two major units earlier in the year, these had to be disregarded.

It would not have changed the outcome say officials since the volley ball championship went to the winners, and the fourth-running 3561st Pilot Training Squadron took the basketball crown.

Lt. Col. John W. Hillen commands the squadron, and the athletic director is Mr Jimmy Ray Smith of Big Spring.

331st, M&S Register Wins

The 331st Fighter Interceptor Squadron team, Civil Engineering and M&S chalked up wins in the Webb AFB inter-mural basketball tournament here Tuesday night.

Led by Vince Bonner and Frank Knappe, the 331st decisioned the Air Base Group by a score of 41-22. Bonner tallied 14 points and Knappe 13. Willie Toney led the Air Base Group with 12.

Civil Engineering flogged the Hospital team, 30-30, as Bill Price waxed warm. Price pumped in 19 points. Hal Manning had 13 for the losers.

M&S raced past the 3560th Pilot Training Squadron, 54-37. Jerry Swatling accounted for 13 points and Stan Keene 14 for M&S while Linwood Arthur had 10 for the losers.

Tonight's schedule sends the 3560th Pilot Training Group against the 3560th Pilot Training Squadron at 6:15 p.m., the 3560th Air Base Group tangles with Civil Engineering at 7:30 p.m., and M&S collides with the 3560th Student Squadron at 8:45 p.m.

Clarendon Game Is Called Off

Last night's basketball game between HCJC and Clarendon College, which was to have been played in Clarendon, was called off due to atrocious weather conditions.

The Jayhawk coaches called ahead and consequently the team did not start the trip. The game will be made up Feb. 17.

HCJC plays twice this weekend, meeting Lubbock Christian in Lubbock Friday. The Hawks will remain over in Lubbock and meet Texas Tech's frosh on Saturday night in a game preliminary to the Tech-Baylor contest.

AUSTIN (AP) — James Saxton was named the Texas Longhorns' most valuable football player at the Ex-Students Association grid dinner Tuesday night.

Arizona Probationary Period May Lengthen

By DON WEISS
By The Associated Press

CHICAGO (AP)—Arizona's probationary period may be extended and toughened today at the 56th NCAA convention.

NCAA Executive Director Walter Byers would confirm only that a representative of the school would appear before the powerful NCAA Council during a morning session.

Speculation was lively that Arizona's one-year term, imposed a year ago for football recruiting violations, may not be terminated as scheduled.

Athletic Director Dick Clausen of Arizona said he had been invited to appear before the council but insisted he had no idea of what would be discussed.

"As far as I know it is a routine appearance," Clausen said.

Bill Orwig, Indiana's athletic director, also will appear at the closed session. Indiana was placed on NCAA probation for four years on April 27, 1960, also for football recruiting violations.

The Big Ten, which had taken similar action, restored the Hoosiers to good standing last spring and Indiana has appealed to the NCAA for a review of its penalty.

When Arizona was placed on probation a year ago, the NCAA limited it to one year without additional sanctions because, Byers said, "of the corrective program undertaken by the university and its promise to take disciplinary action against the parties involved."

One assistant coach who was involved in the censured recruiting, Ron Marciniak, was subsequently rehired when his contract was due to expire. Another coach cited in the probationary report, Van Howe, resigned.

Both North Carolina and Loyola of New Orleans were restored to good graces Tuesday after a year in the doghouse for basketball violations.

The American Football Coaches Association Rules Committee is expected to make its recommendation today concerning the relatively high number of fatal injuries among sandlot, high school, semipro and college players last season.

Jack Curtice of Stanford, president of the AFCA and acting chairman of the Rules Committee, said the 24 members are inclined to feel—after studying reports dating back to 1931—that injuries run in cycles. He said, nevertheless, that thorough consideration was being given to possible changes in equipment, blamed in some quarters for many of the 37 football deaths last season.

The football coaches made six recommendations for changes they hope will be adopted by the NCAA Rules Committee which meets in Miami Beach, Fla., starting next Monday.

New Speaker System Will Be Installed At Stadium

A new speaker system to be located on the scoreboard at Memorial Stadium was approved by trustees of the Big Spring Independent School District at a meeting Tuesday night.

The special speakers for the public address system are intended to eliminate problem areas where sound is distorted because of inadequate volume or multiple broadcasting. A temporary arrangement with speakers on the scoreboard was used for the final game of the 1961 season and it was well received, according to Pat Murphy, assistant superintendent-business.

It will be installed by Sound Photo, Lubbock, at a cost of about $800. The speakers will be put up in August so they will be ready for use when the football season begins.

Memorial Stadium will begin next year's season with another new touch. Coca-Cola Company was granted permission to install a new tick-off-type time clock to replace the old clock. It will be similar to the one in the Abilene Stadium and costs about $350. There will be no cost to the school district.

Harold Talbot moved that the Coca-Cola Company proposal be accepted and that the board express its appreciation for the improvement. His motion passed unanimously.

Foss Given Vote Of Confidence

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—The American Football League today voted complete confidence in its commissioner, straight-talking Joe Foss, in the form of a brand new five-year contract with an undisclosed raise in salary.

The ballot was unanimous. This meant that Foss's severest critic, Harry Wismer, president of the New York Titans, approved the ex-Marine fighter pilot ace to run the young league through 1967.

Only a few weeks ago, Wismer was publicly crying for Foss's scalp in protest of a move by the commissioner that nullified a secret draft of college players ahead of schedule by member clubs.

Wismer was on hand as the after-midnight announcement was made by the league's new president, Wayne Valley of the Oakland Raiders.

Wismer also had demanded that the league headquarters be moved from Dallas to New York.

This was defeated, in effect, when the owners voted not to revise the constitution to add Chicago as a possible headquarters to the list of eligible league cities. Nothing more came of this issue.

Foss two days ago said flatly he would "play out his option" and retire as commissioner if the headquarters was moved to New York. His old contract would have expired after 1962.

Wismer said his disagreement with Foss had been exaggerated by "some of the New York press, possibly inspired by the New York Giants" of the rival National Football League.

Wismer said he was upset by the Foss decision against the secret draft which was first announced without his knowledge. He also said he had originally opposed Foss as commissioner "in favor of a football man," but he insisted he had no quarrel in general with the Foss administration.

Sterling Winner Over Mustangs

STERLING CITY—Sterling City turned back Sands of Ackerly, 50-44, in a District 93-B basketball game here Tuesday night.

Sands led at the end of the first quarter, 10-6, but the Eagles had tied it by half time, 20-20. The War Birds went ahead to stay in the third.

Jerry Payne led Sterling City in scoring with 20 points, followed by Leroy Churchill, who had 13.

Dan Shortes pumped in 13 for Sands while Eugene Coleman had 11 and Larry Hall 10.

Sands won the girls' game, 37-18. In that one, Zelda Bodine tallied 19 points for the winners.

Sands also won the boys' B game, 36-19.

San Angelo Wins Third In A Row

SAN ANGELO—San Angelo kept its District 2-AAAA basketball record unsullied by defeating Abilene, 55-46, here Tuesday night.

The win was the third in a row for the Bobcats in league play and their 11th straight overall. For the season, they are 13-4. Abilene is 1-2 in district and 12-8 overall.

Charles Spieker led San Angelo with 15 points while Virgil Pate had 16 for Abilene.

Cincy Opposes Bradley Quint In Headliner

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Four members of college basketball's elite are involved tonight in games that in the past have developed into feudin,' fussin' and a bit of fightin.'

Foremost is the Missouri Valley Conference clash between Cincinnati (11-1), ranked No. 2 in the current Associated Press poll, and the Bradley Braves (8-2), at Peoria, Ill., a meeting that has always produced dogged battles.

In the Big Eight, fifth-ranked Kansas State (10-2), is host to Kansas (5-6). Duquesne (9-1) rated eighth, entertains tough Dayton (9-2). Bowling Green (10-1), rival Toledo (7-4) at its court.

A Southeastern Conference contest that promised to be a wingding was postponed Tuesday night when seventh-ranked Mississippi State, one of the nation's two major unbeaten teams, was turned back by icy roads on its trek to play Alabama.

West Virginia's Mountaineers are back to their old tricks, firmly atop the Southern Conference with a 7-0 mark after beating Virginia Tech 85-81 Tuesday night behind Rod Thorn's 30 points.

Southern Methodist, behind Jan Loudermilk's 26 points, took over complete control of the Southwest Conference by whipping Arkansas on the latter's court 77-70. Rice, which had been tied with the Mustangs, lost its first league game, 85-66, at Texas Tech.

Jim McCormick's two-pointer sent West Virginia, 10-3 over-all, ahead for good in the second half after the Mountaineers trailed by 42-38 at intermission on its home court. In another Southern Conference game in Washington, George Washington ended Richmond's three-game winning streak 65-52.

SMU's victory tossed Rice into a second place tie at 2-1 with Texas A&M, 54-52 winner at Baylor, and Texas Tech. Texas' contest at Texas Christian was postponed because of bad weather.

Marquette upset Loyola of Chicago 63-60 in Milwaukee as Len Jeffries contributed four clutch points in the closing minutes.

Butler won its fifth in a row, and handed Notre Dame its sixth straight loss 83-67 at South Bend, Ind. Jeff Blue and Jerry Williams each tallied 26 points to pace Butler. Armand Reo had 24 for the Irish, now 3-8.

DePaul, with its five starters in double figures, easily defeated Christian Brothers College of Memphis, Tenn., 78-56, in Chicago. Jack Thobe's 24 points paced Xavier of Ohio to a tight 67-65 home court victory over Canisius.

On the Pacific Coast, Washington State won over Idaho 65-60.

McChristian Is L Stock Champ

Howard McChristian was another Big Spring entry whose car won a first place award in the Hobbs, N. M., drag races last weekend.

McChristian's vehicle earned a trophy for finishing first in the L stock class.

Rozelle Due To Sign A Rich New Video Pact

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Commissioner Pete Rozelle of the National Football League is expected to sign a new $9.3-million television contract today, giving the Columbia Broadcasting System exclusive rights to all regular season games for the next two years.

The new contract, calling for $4.65 million per year, would bring each of the 14 clubs about $320,000 after deduction of certain fees.

The contract was made possible by congressional action in late summer after a similar deal had been nullified last July by a federal judge who found it in violation of the antitrust laws. The new law permits such contracts by pro football, baseball, basketball and hockey leagues.

The NFL expected to end its three-day meetings today if a preseason exhibition schedule can be completed.

Rozelle relayed requests of the NFL Players' Association to the owners at Tuesday's meeting. He was authorized to meet with the players for further discussions.

"I want to clarify certain points where there are legal and tax complications," said Rozelle. "The player benefit plan is tax exempt. Several points were raised pertaining to the plan that must be approved by the Internal Revenue Service."

The players association called upon the league to ask George Halas, owner of the Chicago Bears, and George Marshall, owner of the Washington Redskins, to work in cooperation with it in so far as membership by their respective players was concerned.

None of the Bears belong to the association and only a few of the Washington players.

The players also asked that pension and health benefits apply only to association members in good standing. The league went along with the players' request to synchronize the official time with the clock on the field. A new radio-controlled device, that can be attached to an official's back or waist, will be given an experimental trial next season. It was designed by Clint Murchison Jr., president of the Dallas Cowboys.

For the first time in four years, the NFL approved a playing rule change making it illegal to grab any player by his face mask. It carried a 15-yard penalty.

Water Line Still An Issue

That suspended water line that carries water between Moss Creek Lake and the Big Spring filter plant, was up for discussion again by the city commission Tuesday and the matter is still not resolved.

A portion of the 14 inch line, near Birdwell Lane and Marcy Drive, crosses property owned by Lloyd Curley and lies exposed with parts of it suspended in the air.

Recently the Colorado River Municipal Water District made arrangements to sell water for oil field repressuring out of Moss Creek Lake and plans to keep the lake level stabilized with water from Lake J. B. Thomas, using the water line in question to move the water from Big Spring to the lake. As a result, CRMWD directors asked the city to put the line back into the ground and provided $2,500 as a part of the cost for relaying it.

There has been considerable discussion between city officials and Curley concerning who should pay for burying the line.

Tuesday, Jack Shaffer told the commission that Curley is willing to uncover the buried portion of the line, "sweat" the joints of pipe loose, dig a new ditch for the pipe line in the city's alley north of the present site, then cover the pipe when it has been relaid.

The city's share would include taking out the pipe, putting it into the new ditch, buying some additional pipe necessary for the longer route, plus engineering costs and fittings.

Ernest Lillard, city engineer, estimated the city's cost at $7,700 and Curley's cost at $2,763, under this arrangement.

Curley has indicated an interest in putting the line in the alley right of way in order not to interfere with a proposed shopping center on the property, which has been approved by the city. Shaffer said Tuesday that if the line is not moved, it might be necessary to build houses in the area, rather than a shopping center, due to the difficulty of designing a center around the water line easement.

The commissioners agreed that it would be worth something to the city to have the water line in a right of way, and set this value at $1,500. They proposed, in the form of a motion, to offer this amount, plus the CRMWD share of $2,500, toward moving the water line.

They added that residences could be constructed on the site without a change in zoning, however, City Manager A. K. Steinheimer said he felt the planning and zoning commission would make the change if requested.

Burglars Enter Goliad School

Goliad Junior High School was the target of burglars Monday night, but the losses were light.

Someone entered the building by going through a boys' rest room in the southeast wing of the building. He then ransacked the principal's, assistant principal's and counselor's desks before breaking into the kitchen.

The kitchen was entered by cutting a screen and breaking a window. About $15 was taken from a cash drawer which had been pried open and an unknown amount of change was missing from a drink machine. An attempt to open another machine was unsuccessful.

CASE FOR SOLOMON, BUT WHO'S GONNA BE SLICED?

County Judge Ed Carpenter may have to make like Solomon.

Tuesday morning, he reports, a man, around 45 years of age, and with the odor of alcohol somewhat in evidence about him, came to see the judge.

He informed the court that his mother, a woman of 79, was a chronic alcoholic. Worse than that, he alleged she rented rooms in her house to "winos" and as a result, everyone stayed all stewed up all of the time. He wanted the county judge to order the old woman into the Big Spring State Hospital.

He departed with the forms which are required and which must be filled out by some qualified physician asserting the person named is mentally ill.

Later in the day, the telephone rang in Judge Carpenter's office.

The caller was the mother of the man who had been in earlier.

Her story was that her son is a chronic alcoholic. His condition, so she said, is so serious she feels he should be committed to the Big Spring State Hospital. Would the judge see about doing this for her?

The judge told the woman he would "look into the matter," and when he sees the son again, he will tell him the same thing.

In other words, the court has the case under advisement.

Trustees Accept Teacher Resignations, Employ Six

Resignations were accepted from 10 persons and six others were approved for hiring at a meeting of trustees of the Big Spring Independent School District Tuesday.

Leaving the system are Eleanor Oliver, sixth grade, Bauer Elementary; Averil Bradford, second grade, Marcy; Catherine M. Bolding, clerk, College Heights; Georgia Bernd, physical education, Runnels Junior High; Kay Koonce, science, Goliad Junior High; Patricia Paye, English, Goliad; Shirley McDaniel, typing, Goliad; Mirth Westburg, homemaking, High School; Margaret Lloyd, fifth grade, Marcy; A. H. Self, fifth grade, Kate Morrison, recently deceased.

New employes will be Patricia Godbey, sixth grade, Bauer; Wilma Jane Dotson, physical education, Runnels; Doris Hulbregtse, typing, Goliad; Mac Robinson, English, Goliad; Dorothy Cardwell, homemaking, High School; and Jacqueline Wright, fifth grade, Marcy.

Negotiations are under way for a car for the driver education program, Sam M. Anderson, superintendent, reported. The contract on one car expired and it was turned back to Acme Rental to prevent excessive costs.

Trustees were presented a sample disaster protection and civil defense plan for study, but no action was taken. Anderson pointed out that the school has been criticized for having no definite civil defense program.

Precautions and drills have been established for tornadoes, but not to cope with possible atomic warfare. Policies will be studied and a meeting with W. D. Berry, civil defense director for Howard County, will be scheduled later to develop an adequate program.

Roden Oil and Cosden No. 1 Reed is flowing gas at an unreported rate from Fusselman perforations between 9,060-70 feet. Flow is through a 20-64 inch choke with no gauges reported. Location is 2,040 feet from the north and 650 feet from the west lines of section 9-30, W&NW survey.

Nest Starts Fire

An overheated bird nest in the wall of a sheet-iron building resulted in a call for firemen at 8:10 a.m. There was no damage, however, and the fire was quickly extinguished. The blaze was started at the General Welding Supply, 605 E. 2nd, while a water pipe was being thawed out.

Theme Program

Den 6, Pack 14 carried out the theme of "knights of yore" in its program Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Bluford Turner, den mother, at 606 E. 15th.

The boys worked on their shields and axes. They had the pledge to the flag, an advancement check by Mrs. David Humphrey, and the closing prayer by Jerry Cryer, den chief.

City To Lease Land For Oil

Taxpayers of the City of Big Spring might conceivably get some help in paying the bills, if plans for oil exploration are completed.

Tuesday, the city commission decided to lease its 333 acres at Moss Creek Lake for oil prospects. The city treasury will realize some $3,330 out of the agreement whether oil is found in the area or not. Tommy Hutto, who handled the deal told the commission that the lease would call for $10 per acre the first year and $1 per acre for each year of the remaining years of the five-year lease.

The city owns all of the royalty under the lake in Section 15, block 31, township 1-south, T&P survey. However, it has no royalty rights under the lake property above the shore line. As a result, the commissioners decided to enter into a pooling agreement with other royalty holders of the property, which will give the city a share of any royalty paid on production found in the lake section.

If an oil field is found, and indications are the spurt of activity is a byproduct of the No. 1 Wade activity two years ago, the taxpayer might get an assist in paying the cost of city government operation. A well on the Wade ranch found good shows in some seven formations, and one test made a small producer.

In other business, Byron and Willard Neel asked the commission to close an alley, that is "L" shaped and lies in the block bounded by First and Second, Nolan and Johnson streets. City Manager A. K. Steinheimer explained that the city's main outfall sewer line is located in this alley. The commission refused to close the alley due to the need for access to the line for maintenance purposes.

A policy for establishing the need of traffic signal lights at various intersections, as recommended by the traffic commission, was approved. The city commission also endorsed the traffic commission's decision to install a four-way stop system at Seventeenth and Douglas.

Two annexation ordinances were given first readings that will bring Parkway Road and Willard Ave. inside the city limits. Both are paved boundary streets in the Muir Heights, Suburban Heights area.

Final readings were given to two zoning changes ordinances, one changing the southwest quarter of block 17, Bauer Addition from general residence to a commercial zone; the other changing the east half of block 74, original township, from a duplex to a retail zone.

An easement was granted from Willard Neel to extend a water line across his property in exchange for four water taps he wants to make on the line. This line is on property in the Lockhart Addition area.

The commission completed plans to purchase the site for the elevated storage tank on the North Side. Agreements with Novis Womack and West Texas Compress were approved Tuesday for portions of the property. In all, the city will have about 1½ acres at the site on Northwest Twelfth (future 1S 20 right of way) at a total cost of $4,250.

No action was taken, but the commission discussed the refunding agreements it has with developers on water and sewer taps. Developers pay the city to make these taps, the home buyer pays the city for the taps, and then the city refunds all but a small portion to the developer.

Steinheimer said he would like to get the city out of the situation of keeping books on such transactions. He suggested that the home buyer pay his tap fee directly to the developer. The problem is to be discussed at a later meeting.

Linda Fields Hospitalized

Linda Fields, 502 Young, is in the Howard County Hospital Foundation and Clinic for observation following an accident which occurred in the 1300 block of Goliad about 8:15 a.m. today.

Miss Fields, a student, was taken to the hospital by River Ambulance. She is apparently not injured.

Driver of the other vehicle involved in the collision was LaVerne Williams, 1005 Gregg. Damage to the Williams vehicle was estimated at $100 and damage to the Fields' car was set at $175.

Two driverless automobiles were in collision Tuesday morning in the 300 block of Runnels. One car belonged to Pioneer Builders, Big Spring, and the other to Ray S. Doty, 3200 Auburn. Both were parked just prior to the accident. Damage to the Pioneer car was estimated at $10 and $60 for the other car.

The most expensive collision occurred about 5:30 p.m. at the intersection of Fifth and Owens. A combined total of about $485 of damage was done to the cars.

Billy Lex Harkrider, 809 E. 14th, and Linda Nell Cunningham, 1902 Donley, were listed as drivers. The Cunningham vehicle received $400 damage. 6

Two other minor accidents occurred Tuesday afternoon and night. At Seventeenth and Gregg, Don Alicine Hood, Midland, and Kirk Trammell Faulkner, 431 Westover Road, were in collision. On FM 700, just east of Goliad, Richard William Molinaro, 1705 Alabama, and Charles Glenn Gray, 1305 Mulberry, were involved in a minor fender scraping.

Former Standard Executive Dies

BYRAM, Conn. (AP) — Walter Clark Teagle, 83, former president and board chairman of the Standard Oil Co. (N. J.), died Tuesday at his home after a long illness.

Teagle retired in 1942 after 39 years service with the oil company.

Geologist Seeks State Office

AUSTIN (AP)—Thomas Walker, Houston petroleum geologist, said Tuesday he will seek the Democratic nomination for railroad commissioner. He described himself as an independent conservative.

Club's History Told At Meeting

The history of the Big Spring Evening Lions Club was reviewed by Bob Tawater, president, at a regular meeting held Monday.

Tawater pointed out that the Club was organized by D. M. Ellis and Roy Minear, both now living in Midland, and the club was chartered April 18, 1956 with 32 members. Ted Groebl was the organization's first president.

Since its formation, the club has undertaken many projects to raise money for such worthy causes as purchase of glasses for persons who cannot afford them and donating to help support the Crippled Children's Camp at Kerrville.

Low Bidder

FORT WORTH (AP)—Apparent low bidder on construction of a communications building at Sheppard Air Force Base was the C. F. Miller Construction Co. of Iowa Park.

The U.S. Engineers said the firm's bid was $125,315.89. The government estimate was $135,400.83.

GOOD CREDIT

The majority of people use Credit in its various forms, but only those who realize the importance of meeting their obligations, as agreed, continue to enjoy these advantages.

The credit you command rests largely on one thing—not the position you hold, not the property you own, not your bank account, but—the way you pay your bills.

To maintain a good credit record pay all charge accounts promptly each month and installment accounts when due.

This Was A WALE Of A Blow

WASHINGTON (AP) — The slightly high-pitched voice of WALE, "your neighborly station," has signed off without so much as one bong.

It was turned off, gently but firmly, by a grim-faced investigator of the Federal Communications Commission who read the riot act to its two operators—Bruce Wahl, 13, and David Lester, 14.

Its station was Wahl's bedroom; its commentators, engineers, announcers and disc jockeys were Wahl and Lester. Its range was neighborly—covering nine other houses.

The boys pieced the equipment together from old parts and went on the air a month ago from Wahl's home in nearby Falls Church, Va.

Every afternoon after school, WALE offered the neighbors a program of weather information, news culled from newspapers, and music—"everything from rock 'n' roll to the semi-classics."

Any listeners? Wahl and Lester had no rating but Wahl said he knew that at least one family listened—"but they moved away after the first broadcast. Of course, they had been planning to move for six months."

It was fun. Until the other day.

WALE had been on the air for about 45 minutes when Bruce spotted a man in an automobile aiming a device with an aerial at the bedroom window.

Then the man came to the door.

"Are you running a radio station?" he asked.

Proudly the boys acknowledged they were.

The smiles faded when the man flashed a card identifying him as an investigator from the FCC. He said he wanted to check their equipment.

After checking the equipment—which operated on about a tenth of a watt — he sat down with the boys and Bruce's mother and read a passage from a book. It was a copy of the Communications Act and it told how people operating unlicensed stations could be fined $10,000 or sent to jail for two years. Maybe both.

"Boy," said Bruce, "did we begin shaking like leaves."

So now WALE is off the air. The FCC is willing to forget the whole thing but officials explained there would be chaos on the airwaves if anybody could operate a station, even a neighborly one.

VAN CLIBURN

Classical Disks Hit Million Mark

By HUGH A. MULLIGAN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Classical music finally has its first million selling album.

A gold record, the industry's traditional memento of the million mark, has been awarded to Van Cliburn, the Texas-born pianist, for his brilliant performance of Tschaikovsky's First Piano Concerto on an RCA Victor album.

Cliburn recorded the concerto shortly after returning from Moscow in the spring of 1958, where he became the first American ever to win the Tschaikovsky piano competition. The attending publicity got the Victor album off to a phenomenal start. It sold 500,000 copies in the first year, then settled down to become such a steady counter item that the millionth sale was racked up less than two years later.

The only other classical album that even came close to winning a gold record was Toscanini's two-disc recording of "Beethoven's Ninth Symphony," a classic among classics that reached the 600,000 mark.

Outside of Elvis Presley, who has had enough million selling albums to build a golden fallout shelter, the field was previously restricted to Mitch Miller's sing-along albums and show tune albums like "My Fair Lady," "The Sound of Music," "South Pacific" and Mario Lanza's version of "The Student Prince."

Van Cliburn's feat, which in music circles is equivalent to Roger Maris' assault on Babe Ruth's home run record, augers well for the whole recording industry. While it hardly sounds the death knell for rock 'n' roll, which simply refuses to die despite all dire predictions, it at least shows what a new and dynamic artist can do to make the classics more popular.

Granted that the Russians gave him a tremendous assist, as did Tschaikovsky, still Van Cliburn himself deserves most of the credit. In subsequent recordings and in numerous concert appearances, he has proved himself a personable, versatile, immensely hard-working performer who never let his press clippings interfere with his burning desire for perfection.

Van Cliburn may or may not be in a class with Artur Rubenstein and Rudolph Serkin as a pianist, but there is no doubt that he is in a class by himself as an album seller. And the important point, as far as the music industry is concerned, is that a classical pianist can find himself in a class with Elvis Presley, Chubby Checker and Lawrence Welk on the sales charts.

Who knows, maybe one of these days the Budapest String Quartet will have to fight its way through a throng of hysterical teen-agers while Frankie Avalon goes home alone in the dark.

Study Called

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara named a 13-member committee today to study and advise on special training and indoctrination of military personnel, including their education on communism.

Honey Voice Helps Fliers Miss Disaster

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Lt. Col. Henry Deutschendorf and his crew were bringing their eight-jet B58 bomber down at Carswell Air Force Base in Texas.

The weather was bad, radar guided his approach. Suddenly a woman's low, husky voice whispered a warning in his ear.

He looked, and sure enough, two engines had flamed out.

His crew had heard the warnings, too, in time to trim the ship properly for the landing.

The voice came from a little black box in the giant bomber's instrument panel. The eight-pound box, a miniature tape recorder, was hooked up with the panel's system of warning lights. When the engines flamed out, the box began playing a recording.

The voice belongs to Gina Drazin, a pert and pretty secretary in the plant where the black box was made—Nortronics Division of Northrop Corp.

Gina's voice was chosen primarily because it is low and husky.

"I've had no voice training," says Gina. "I can't carry a tune in a basket—my voice is pitched too low. But I guess that's why it was chosen—high-pitched voices fade out on aircraft intercoms."

If low pitch was needed, why wasn't a man's voice used?

That's easy. A woman's voice gets more attention in a bomber cockpit.

The voice warning, called Vips—for Voice Interruption Priority System—is being installed in all B58 bombers because pilot attention can be diverted from the panel lights by a number of emergencies. He may overlook visual signals but tests show pilot response to Gina's dulcet tones is immediate.

It's too bad the recoring conveys only Gina's soft voice. Her other attributes—34-26-36, blue eyes, brown hair and a quick smile—are equally attention grabbing.
