Ex-Student Of Tech Robbed

(Special To The Journal)

SWEETWATER, May 20—Sweetwater peace authorities continued without success a search for three or more hijackers who Tuesday night robbed a former student of Texas Technological college and attempted to rob a Sweetwater motorist.

A man who gave his name as Arvey Davis of Sulphur Springs claimed he had been victimized by three men three miles east of Sweetwater Tuesday night. He said he was a former student of Tech.

His story, officers said, was the men offered him a "lift" to Abilene and that they took $3 from him after threatening him with a wrench. He was reported to have detrained her and to have started to Abilene.

Brothers In Tech

Davis said he had two brothers in Texas Technological college and and that the assailants did not find money he had hidden in a sock.

Authorities were inclined to link the report with another involving another man. A rock had been thrown through a window of an automobile driven by another motorist. Preston Ragland told authorities he was driving to Sweetwater along the lake road and an attempt was made to stop his car by piling brush in the road.

Brothers Here Not Informed Of Sweetwater Robbery

A student named "Arvie" Davis of Sulphur Springs was enrolled at Texas Tech in the spring semester of last year, according to records in the office of the college registrar, W. P. Clement.

Two brothers, Babo and Earl Davis, both of Sulphur Springs, are students in the college. Neither had been informed of the Sweetwater hijacking, so far as friends knew.

Backers Urge Surrender In Court Fight

Original Bill No Longer Is Needed, They Claim; Chief Executive Remains Silent

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 20—President Roosevelt's closest senate advisors were urging him today to withdraw his court reorganization bill or restrict it to two additional justices.

They argued that the original bill no longer is needed, because the court is construing the constitution more broadly and because Justice Van Devanter's retirement is approaching.

No Indication Of Surrender

Mr. Roosevelt still gave no public indication that he would yield.

Many senators predicted he would stand firm until the supreme court decides the constitutionality of the social security law.

There were indications, however, of private negotiations for a compromise.

The president himself called Senator Nye (R-ND) to the White House yesterday for a conference, which Nye would not discuss afterwards.

Rumors Are Heard

Word was passed around in the senate that the president discussed with Nye a compromise on two, instead of six, new supreme court justices. Nye would neither confirm nor deny the report.

Senator Frazier (R-ND) also was understood to have received a White House invitation.

Court bill opponents said the administration was now working for the two justices compromise instead of the proposal supported in the

Desperado Is Back In Jail

(By The Associated Press)

FORT WORTH, May 20—Laval Stevens, 23, life term convict who escaped from the Gregg county jail with three other prisoners on May 14, was arrested while driving an automobile in the 3000-block of Mount Vernon street at 6 a. m. today by Radio Patrolmen Barbee and Hawkins.

Search for Stevens in this vicinity began a few hours prior to the arrest when county authorities were notified that a man who was drinking in a road house on the Bankhead highway had declared that he was "hot in East Texas."

Description Broadcast

Before officers could reach the roadhouse the escaped convict left, but the license numbers of the automobile he was driving were broadcast over police radio.

Stevens, who gave his address as Grapevine, denied that he was an escaped convict when he was taken to the city jail. He admitted his identity in a few minutes after officers convinced him that his criminal record was on file in the identification bureau.

Clipping In Pocket

In his pocket police found a newspaper clipping of the Longview jail break. Stevens was driving an automobile owned by a man registered in a downtown hotel.

The three who escaped jail with Stevens were Norwood McCall, convicted of burglary and later declared insane; Thomas Lewis, under sentences and indictments in three counties for forgeries, and Goldie Hariston, who was charged with the $2,000 robbery of a drug concern. McCall was captured in East Texas two days ago.

Classmates Gasp In Wonder As "Dead" Student Walks Into His Room As Usual

(By The Associated Press)

HOUSTON, May 20 — Pedro Zamora, 14, walked into his sixth grade classroom.

His classmates gasped.

"What's the excitement?" Pedro asked.

"You're dead," was the astounding answer.

"But I'm not," Pedro argued indignantly.

The other student pointed out of a window.

"The flag's at half mast for you," he told Pedro. "We were getting ready to send messages of sympathy to your parents. I don't know what we can do about it now."

"I do," Pedro replied heatedly. "I'm going to see the principal."

But it wasn't necessary. Principal T. L. Barnhouse and the teachers were trying to learn what had happened. They discovered that Pedro had been swimming with another boy, Pedro Garcia, and that Pedro Garcia had drowned, despite an attempt Pedro Zamora made to save him.

Confession Of Girl Offered To Jury

(By The Associated Press)

JERSEY CITY, N. J., May 20.—The first purported confession of Gladys MacKnight, 17, in which she was quoted as saying her red-haired sweetheart killed her mother with a hatchet when Mrs. Helen MacKnight caught them "kissing" in her home, was introduced at the murder trial of the young couple today.

G. MacKnight

This version of the slaying differed greatly from that described in later statements of both Gladys and Donald Wightman, 18, already in evidence, in which they were quoted as saying the girl hacked her mother to death while Donald held her arms.

In Kitchen Of Home

The new statement offered by the state at the insistence of counsel for the girl quoted her as saying she and Donald were in the kitchen of the MacKnight home.

"Donald put his arms around me and kissed me," this quoted the girl as saying.

"I yelled—not very loud. Donald and I were standing close together. My mother came in. My mother came at us with a knife in her hand.

Farm Program Facing Delay In Congress

Movement To Postpone Action On Plan Drafted By Farm Units Now Developing

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 20—A movement to postpone action until next year on the agricultural adjustment program drafted by farm organizations developed today among congressional leaders.

They pointed out that a delay would aid the economy campaign and would give farmers time to study the legislation, which combines authorization for production control, soil conservation, limited crop insurance and an "ever-normal" granary.

Cost To Be Heavy

The cost might be between $200,000,000 and $300,000,000 greater than the present soil conservation program, said American Farm Bureau officials.

Although a final decision lay with President Roosevelt, Secretary Wallace said yesterday he hoped a broad federal program along the lines of that bill would be enacted at this session.

"I think the farmers, generally speaking, have drawn up a very fine bill," he said.

Too Early For Decision

Wallace expressed belief it was too early to consider whether some features would be held constitutional. Several members of the senate agriculture committee contended the supreme court's invalidation of the old AAA stood in the way of

Bishop Hurls Sharp Barbs At Dictator

"Just A Paperhanger And A Poor One," Says Cardinal; Calls Goebbels Crooked

(By The Associated Press)

BERLIN, May 20—Energetic representations to the United States government by Dr. Hans H. Dieckhoff, the German ambassador to Washington, were disclosed today as nazi Germany's newest reaction to an anti-Hitler speech by George, Cardinal Mundelein of Chicago.

An official communique issued by the German news agency, D.N.B., said:

Insults Branded Silly

"The German embassy at Washington made energetic protests in the state department on account of the silly and tactless insults to the fuehrer and reichschancellor by Chicago Cardinal Mundelein."

(At Washington, it was stated the representations were made informally.)

An official spokesman, discussing the protest, said Dr. Dieckhoff's general instructions to stand for no "insults" to Adolf Hitler and his regime were explicit and that the Mundelein representations "followed automatically in the wake of his duties."

Just Beginning Career

Dr. Dieckhoff is just beginning his career as German ambassador at Washington. He recently succeeded Dr. Hans Luther, who carried to the state department the third reich's protests against anti-Hitler utterances by Mayor Fiorello LaGuardia of New York.

These were in turn followed by Berlin representations by the United States ambassador against nazi press attacks on American citizens and institutions.

Cardinal Mundelein, on Tuesday, said in a diocesan speech at Chicago that the German trials of priests and lay brothers on immorality charges constituted propaganda worse than the atrocity tales of the World war. He termed Propaganda Minister Paul Joseph Goebbels "crooked" and said of Hitler that he was "an Austrian paperhanger and a poor one at that."

Right To Speak Mind

The German press immediately burst into protest, asking if the holy see would permit such a speech. At aVtican City, prelates said the cardinal had a right to speak his own mind, and that the holy see would not interfere.

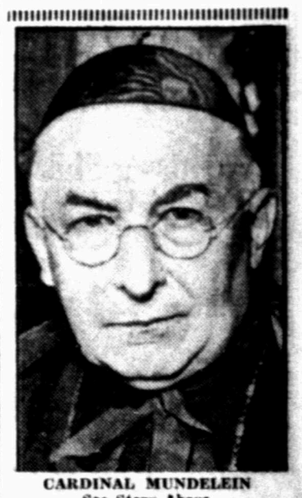

rPess protests, started by Goebbels' Der Angriff, were taken up by virtually all newspapers.

Last night, in a speeech before the institute of politics at the Uni-

Eighteen-Year-Old Mother Is Being Held After Strange Death Of Her Infant

JACKSON, Miss., May 20 (AP)—Frightened, but tearless, an 18-year-old mother jailed here today on a charge of killing her 3-months old baby, protested her innocence, and denied that she had beaten or choked her infant to death.

The woman was booked at the Hinds county jail as Mrs. Vivian Gregory, of the small Sylvarena community in Smith county. She was brought here today for safekeeping by Sheriff J. M. Martin of Raleigh.

Sheriff Martin ordered the woman held incommunicado pending further investigation.

Mrs. Gregory was arrested, the sheriff said, after two physicians were called to her home by neighbors who reported that the baby's death was "strange."

The physicians performed an autopsy, and informed the sheriff that they found bruises on the child's body and throat.

Definite Plans For Recreation Project In Lubbock Likely Will Be Outlined

Diplomas For Graduates At New Deal Are Given Out

Twenty graduates of New Deal Rural High school received diplomas at commencement exercises witnessed by a capacity crowd of more than 400 people Wednesday night.

Dr. Kenneth E. Oberholtzer, superintendent of the Lubbock public schools, was the principal speaker. After the processional by Miss Marjorie Scott and an invocation by Joseph R. Griggs, Lubbock county school superintendent, Smith Edwards, high school student, presented a piano solo. Philom Cox, member of the graduating class, read the class history. Honor students were introduced by M. W. McConnell, principal, after a senior quartet. Superintendent A. L. Faubion presented diplomas to twenty graduates. The benediction was by A. H. Reed.

JINX BRINGS THREAT

Failure to return to Egypt the sacred bone which has proved a hodoo in his home in Edinburgh, Scotland, has brought a threat of violence to Sir Alexander Seton from Cairo. "Unless you send back the relic steps will be taken to remove it forcibly from you," says the writer of a letter. The human bone continues to "act up." A glass suddenly jumped out of the hand of a guest and almost hit the ceiling. A vase crashed and a mark like a bloodstain spread across the floor.

Pictures do not depend on the type of camera used, but upon the person behind the camera. Prize-winning pictures can be taken with a dollar camera and poor ones with a very expensive one.

Temporary recreational committee formed at a meeting here Wednesday probably will meet early next week to formulate definite plans to seek a WPA project to utilize possibilities of city parks for a pleasure program, announced J. I. Kilpatrick, attorney, chairman, this morning.

He and others made clear that Lubbock will not lose the opportunity offered for what they termed a blow at the juvenile crime problem.

One of those who voiced an insistant demand for those undertakings which offer worthwhile recreation to youth was E. L. Pitts, judge of 99th district and for six years preceding elevation to his present position judge of county court.

Pitts Gives Views

As county judge and in his present position, Judge Pitts has been brought in perhaps closer personal contact with juvenile law violators than any other individual in the county.

"In perhaps 90 per cent of cases," said Judge Pitts, "the juvenile offender is a victim of circumstances. A growing boy or girl must have outlet for normal energies. If they are left to find that outlet themselves, it may lead them into crime. In nearly every case that has come to my attention, I am firmly convinced that had the young violator had proper recreational facilities, he never would have turned to crime.

Can Be Guided Safely

"It, of course, goes without saying, that if boys and girls can be guided safely through their formative years, there will be fewer adult criminals. As a matter of fact, that would be the answer to our whole crime problem."

Mr. Kilpatrick, who was named chairman of the temporary organization seeking recreational development at a conference of WPA officials and a group of civic leaders Tuesday, gave assurance that an early meeting of his committee will be called. Just when that will be, he said, has not been determined, but he added that "we intend to make the most of whatever opportunity is offered."

Plan PWA Qualification

Task before that committee will be development of concrete plans to qualify for a WPA project under which the WPA would pay two-thirds of costs of developing recreational potentialities already offered by parks in the city.

H. Crump, assistant state director of the recreational division of the WPA, suggested that a man and woman supervisor of play be placed in each of the four parks, all directed by a superintendent who has at least two years experience in that type of work. The park supervisors would be taken from WPA rolls, of whom there are an ample number qualified, according to Miss Adeline Ziegenhals, in the WPA employment division. Those she considers prospects for such jobs, she said, have college training and are temperamentally and intellectually fitted for work of the kind. Under the plan outlined by Crump, they would be given a period of intensive training before actually assuming their duties.

Crump proposed that the personnel would organize, supervise the play of groups of all ages, and arrange such events as soft ball leagues and tennis tournaments and such artistic recreations as community and play ground bands.

The assistant state director, departing Wednesday for Sweetwater after several days here, expressed confidence that the movement now started will lead to definite establishment of the project and to the development of a permanent playground and recreational program in Lubbock.

Land holdings of Indians in 17 states have been increased by 2,100,000 acres in the last three years.

Activities Of Tech Matador Band Closed Last Night

Activities of Texas Technological college band were closed for the school year with a benefit concert for the Salvation Army at Senior High school auditorium Wednesday night.

About $60 was realized, said Capt. John G. Churchill of the Army. The money is to be used to purchase uniforms for the Life-saving Guards, girl's organization, and for equipment of the Army's 909 Avenue B recreational ground. The play center has basketball, volleyball and softball layouts, a running track and a club room.

The Bible has been translated in whole or in part, into 991 languages and dialects.

Joints, Stiff And Sore Until Gly-Cas

Rheumatism So Severe He Was Almost Helpless; Back, Limbs Ached Constantly; Then Gly-Cas Gives Mr. Wood New Outlook On Life

"Never before have I seen a medicine act in such a quick thorough manner, as this new Gly-Cas," said Mr. E. N. Wood, 826 Craig Ave., Corpus Christi, Tex. "Over a period of years I had been bothered with neuritis and rheumatism to some extent but which in later years had taken quite a hold on me. My joints became stiff and sore and I was constantly miserable with the awful pains in my back and limbs. I endured such pain and discomfort during this time that my entire system was gradually wearing out—and my resistance to the least ailment was becoming lower each day. My stomach became affected and added to my discomfort, frequent attacks of indigestion, gas and bloating were among the many disorders I was forced to endure. I was unable to find anything to help me in the least until Gly-Cas was brought to my attention. It proved to be the one medicine capable of reaching and correcting the cause of my years of suffering.

"I feel that Gly-Cas has put me well on the road to recovery and good health," he continued. "That awful rheumatism and neuritis have been so wonderfully relieved that I am once more able to work in my old manner. My stomach has been regulated, am no longer bothered with indigestion, gas or bloating and really feel like myself once more. It is truly remarkable that one medicine can do so much in such a short period of time after all else had failed completely to give the slightest relief—Yes, Gly-Cas merit is unequaled."

Gly-Cas is sold by Mark Halsey Drug, 1219 Broadway and by all leading drug stores in surrounding towns.—Adv.

Exercises Are Set Tonight

Diplomas to members of Senior High school graduating class will be presented at commencement exercises to be held in the auditorium tonight at 8 o'clock.

R. W. Matthews, principal, said that special recognition will be accorded 20 honor students of the class.

Students to be honored are: Lucne Anderson, Shirley Bass, Lillian Harlow Crain, Dale Findley, Herbert M. Gray, Jack Holley, Arliss Isom, Wendell Killin, Bob Lindsey, Mary Ethel Moore, Mavis Pendley, Bertha Proctor, Chalones Whitacre Roberts, Ena Jean Roberts, Billy Robertson, Betty Jo Savage, Johnnye Mae Thompson, Yvonne Walker, Angelene West, and Hazel Ann Wilson.

S. M. U. Man To Speak

Dr. C. Q. Smith, vice president of Southern Methodist university will deliver the graduation message to the students. J. W. Gamble, a member of the boys' debate teamf that won third in the state interscholastic league this year, is the student speaker. His subject will be "Life and Unfinished Business".

The class which will this evening complete its public school career is the only class that has spent a period of four years in the Senior High school building. The 263 students include those who finished their work at mid-term, those who are spring seniors, and those who will complete their work in July. According to these groups they are divided as follows: mid-term, 30; May, 191; summer, 42.

Principal Matthews, Dr. K. E. Oberholtzer, and Dr. J. T. Hutchinson will take part in the presentation of diplomas to the graduates. Special music will be furnished by the Senior High orchestra, directed by Miss Beulah Dunn, a marimba solo by Jack York, "Hungarian Dance No. 5," and a French horn quartet, composed of Norman Wiley, L. G. Wilson, Frank Clements and Lowrey Wallace, playing "Angus Die" by Buzet.

This year the class will not march out of the auditorium, but will remain until after the benediction so that friends and families may congratulate them.

A Zip And A Dip

One zip of a zipper, and Miss Florence Bryan can slip out of her week-end evening gown—ready for a dip on a Los Angeles beach.

India's deaths totaled 6,900,000 last year, of which 4,000,000 resulted from fevers, 300,000 from dysentery and 80,000 from plague. Snake-bite accounted for 25,000 and 13,000 committed suicide.

FLASHES OF LIFE

Alarming Situation

LINDENWOLD, N. J. — The Lindenwold fire engine is out of service, unless some one provides the fire company with $225.

That's the amount it will take to bail the Lindenwold fire engine out of an auto body company's shop. The company attached the engine, charging the borough failed to pay for painting it red.

Chicken Hearted

VEEDERSBURG, Ind. — Forrest Songer placed a dozen eggs in a nest and two of his hens sat on them, side by side. There hatched eight white chicks, a black one and a brown one.

Not long puzzled, the hens divided the brood evenly, each taking four white chicks, and one the black and the other the brown.

None Of Your Lip

HOLLYWOOD — Chester Morris' parrot was in an unhappy mood and the actor was doing his best to cheer it up.

"And don't give me any of your lip," said the actor as he started to leave.

Whereupon, Polly ripped a chunk out of the actor's lip with its beak.

For The Record

CHESTER, Pa. — Raymond Sutton, 34, was arraigned on a charge of robbery. A witness testified $360 was taken from an office. Sutton interrupted:

"I wish you guys would get things right," he said. "That was $387."

Magistrate M. A. Honan ordered him held without bail.

Just Hanging Around

PORTLAND — A middle-aged man, who spent three years searching cafes and restaurants for his stolen hat, finally found the headpiece hanging in a public market. He dashed to the police station to swear out a warrant but officers informed him nothing could be done because two years had elapsed since the crime had been committed. He admitted he paid but $2.65 for the hat when new.

Alibi

CHICAGO — Arraigned in traffic court on a charge of speeding, Barlene Trenary, 18, was a bit startled when Judge John Gutnech said:

"Are you one of the little devils who tears around my home on two wheels?"

"Oh, no, your honor," replied Miss Trenary, who lives in the judge's neighborhood, "I wouldn't tear around your home on two wheels. I know better."

She was ordered to bring her mother to the next hearing.

Blonde Spots

BUFFALO, N. Y. — Blonde drivers are potentially "much more dangerous" than brunettes, Dr. Irving Strauss, New York City authority on motorists' vision, told the state optometric association convention. "When the lights of an oncoming car hit a driver's eyes," he explained, "he drives blind for a certain number of feet. It takes from one fifth to one and one fifth seconds to recover natural night driving vision. Brunettes recover faster than blondes."

Scared From Death

BELLEVILLE, Ill. — Warren Frank Paule, 2, fell into a cistern and remained submerged for two minutes.

No water entered his lungs or stomach, and within a few minutes he returned to play, "sound as ever," physicians said.

They attributed his escape from death to the fact he was so frightened he had clenched his teeth and held his breath while under the water.

Nice Trying, Boys

EDISON, Wash.—Ed Wood's house caught fire.

The Edison volunteer fire department lost its hose nozzle and couldn't respond to the alarm. The Burlington department arrived but a truck ran over its hose and ruined it.

The Sedro Woolley fire truck broke down on the way. The fire department from Mount Vernon, 15 miles away, arrived fully equipped, but the house had burned to the ground.

...AN ANTONIO, May 20. Road Meeting Is Closed

MEMPHIS, May 20. (AP)—Scores of delegates to the "Broadway of America" convention started homeward last night after completing a two-day conference with the election of officers for 1938.

They came from towns and cities along the transcontinental highway known as the Broadway of America, U. S. highway 1, from New York City to San Diego, Calif.

Stanley Is President

H. W. Stanley of the Dallas Chamber of Commerce was re-elected president of the association for a third term. He was one of the pioneer delegates to the first convention held here 10 years ago.

Other officers were Ed Fletcher, San Diego, first vice-president; Don Berger, El Paso, second vice-president; J. Ben Critz, Dallas, treasurer; and A. H. Gardner, Douglas, Ariz., N. G. Watts, Naples, Tex., and Howard Baughman, Nashville, Tenn., regional vice-presidents.

Directors at large: Fletcher, Gardner, Critz, Stanley, Berger, Watts, J. Hetzel of El Centro, N. M., R. A. Jones of Hot Springs, Ark., Neal Walling of McMinnville, Tenn., D. E. Beasley of Dixon, Tenn., F. O. Mackey of Douglas, Ariz., Col. Willard Holt of Lordsburg, N. M., and F. E. Fish of San Diego.

State directors included: New Mexico, C. F. Knight, Las Cruces and Roy Eddington, Rodeo; Arizona, Stanley J. Kett and Claude E. Herndon, both of near Tucson; California, August Mercier, Calexico, and B. A. Sweet, San Diego; Texas, W. A. McCartney, Texarkana, and James Green, Big Spring.

Resolutions condemned "speed traps" and officers who prey on unsuspecting motorists and "under the guise of local highway violations make unnecessary arrests, fattening their own individual purses with fines and costs."

Court Hearing Is Disrupted As Principals Disappear

CHICAGO, May 20. (AP)—In the superior court today a case involved Helen Betenas, 26, blonde, and her allegedly estranged husband, Michael Betenas, a chef. He sued for divorce. She pressed a cross-complaint asking separate maintenance.

Attorneys argued at some length. Suddenly her counsel, Victor Frohlich, pointed uncertainly toward an ante-room.

"Look", he cried. "Mr. and Mrs Betenas are missing."

The litigation was continued pending something or other.

More than 28 tons of feed were distributed at 500 emergency stations in Minnesota last winter for 5,000 pheasants and other game birds.

Sold Rail Empire

George A. Ball (above), Muncie, Ind., fruit jar king, is shown in this candid camera study as he stepped out of the railroad world as dramatically as he entered it. Ball had just quietly announced in New York he had sold the vast Van Sweringen rail empire to three men.

Shortage Of Instruments Does Not Stop This School Band

BROOKSVILLE, Fla., May 20 (AP)—Shortage of musical instruments didn't stop Mrs. E. M. Williams, instructor of music in the Brooksville school. She organized a 20-piece band just the same.

Citizens have approved of its concerts.

Hat boxes are drums, flutes were made of bamboo, horseshoes are cymbals, there are cigar box violins, and tin can and rolling pins are employed as other instruments.

Public Domestic Squabble Of Bilbos In Higher Court

POPLARVILLE, Miss., May 20 (AP) —The public domestic squabble between United States Senator Theo G. Bilbo and his ex-school teacher wife he married 34 years ago was switched today to the Mississippi supreme court.

Judge Ben Stevens, of Pearl River county chancery court, after hearing the Bilbos exchange verbal barbs with each other from the witness stand, ruled that his court had jurisdiction to try the case but consented to its transfer.

Bilbo sued for divorce, charging "habitual, cruel and inhuman" treatment. Mrs. Bilbo filed a cross-bill and answer in which she denied his allegations, sought temporary alimony of $2,500, lawyers fees of $1,000 and asked for a legal separation and maintenance. She accused her husband of "constant unfaithfulness."

Saving Of Twelve Hours In Freight Movement Seen

Twelve hours saving in freight moving between Lubbock and Fort Worth and Dallas will result from a new service to be inaugurated Saturday night routing shipments over the newly purchased Brownwood-Fort Worth cutoff, according to announcement here Wednesday of R. Shipments now are routed via Temple, he said.

Both carload and less than carload shipments, will reach Lubbock at 1:45 o'clock in the afternoon, after leaving Dallas at 6 p. m. Merchandise shipments will be delivered to stores in the afternoon. First car is to leave Dallas Saturday night.

Heretofore merchandise shipments were not delivered until the second morning.

REINDEER PROVE SPEED

They began a run of 1,750 miles across the tundra and its forests from Salegarda in the Yamalo-Neneto region to Omsk. They drew heavily-laden sledges carrying from 265 to 331 pounds. Four of them succeeded in pulling such a sledge 45 to 56 miles a day. The entire distance was covered in 43 days.

Texas Labor Is For Pardon Of Tom Mooney

(By The Associated Press)

TYLER, May 20—A special committee to pledge "moral support" to Tom Mooney in his fight for vindication in California was authorized today by delegates at the state federation of labor convention.

John Green of Lubbock spoke in behalf of the pledge.

"If there is a delegate here who does not believe in the innocence of Mooney, I want to see what he looks like," Green said.

Green Sends Telegram

William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, telegraphed the convention from Washington that "The loyalty and devotion which those in attendance at your convention are showing to the American Federation of Labor, its laws, principles and policies is deeply appreciated."

The convention Monday took the oath of allegiance to the A. F. of L. after officials had announced C. I. O. sympathizers would not be seated.

"We will resist every attempt made by subversive forces to impose upon the organized labor movement of America an imported philosophy designed to substitute dictatorship and autocracy in America for democratic rule," the telegram from Green said.

Deberry Given Choice Post

AUSTIN, May 20 (AP) — Former State Senator Tom Deberry of Bogata, champion of the "Splivens boys," drew one of the choice appointive plums in the state government today.

Governor James V. Allred named him a member of the board of control beginning January 1, 1938, at which time the term of John A. Wallace expires. The position has been paying $6,600 a year but the amount may be hiked by the departmental bill which has not been finally approved by the legislature.

Close Friend Of Allred

Deberry a close friend of the governor was a member of the legislature for many years, but retired from the senate last January. In his speeches, he was always standing up for the rights of ordinary folks, whom he sometimes called "the Splivens boys."

Other members of the board of control are Claude Teer, chairman, and H. C. Meyer. Teer, reappointed by Allred last year, will serve until Jan. 1, 1942. Meyer's term expires Jan. 1, 1940.

Governor Allred also announced appointment of Otto Studer of Pampa as chairman of the industrial accident board succeeding Earl Adams of Crockett.

Others Are Chosen

Appointments of Deberry and Studer were sent to the senate for confirmation along with the following:

Members of the Brazos river conservation district—James Baskin of Cameron for the unexpired term of L. E. Seeman, deceased; William Hallmark of Dublin, C. M. Caldwell of Abilene, John M. Lawrence of Bryan, George G. Chance of Bryan, J. A. Fox of Granger, Herbert Hilburn of Plainview and A. A. Morrison of Graham. All except Baskin were reappointments for six year terms.

District attorney of the 110th judicial district—John A. Hamilton of Matador, succeeding Alton B. Chapman, resigned.

Members of the state board of water engineers—John W. Pritchett of Austin, re-appointment.

Members of the state parks board—two year terms, Pat M. Neff of Waco and Gus F. Urbantke of Austin, reappointments, four - year terms, Tom L. Beauchamp of Tyler, reappointment and K. N. Clapp of Lubbock; six year terms, Wendell Mayes of Brownwood, reappointment, and C. V. Ash of Bastrop.

Member of the Pease river flood control district—Fay E. Eggleston of Vernon, succeeding T. Edgar Johnson, resigned.

Members of the state board of nurse examiners—Sister Mary Gertrude Giblin of Austin, for a full six-year term succeeding Mrs. Grace England of Houston, and Miss Buris Westbrook of Newton.

Nazi Protest

versity of Berlin, Prof. Friedrich Schoenemann, who just has returned from a trip to the United States, said public opinion in the United States now could be mobilized for war against Germany "within a few hours," in contrast with the "three years" it took before America entered the World war.

He blamed "skillful" British propaganda over a long period, "plus in recent years skillful communist and Jewish propadanda."

Texans Expected To Pay More Than $7,000,000 In Cigaret Taxes During Present Year

AUSTIN, May 20 (AP) — Texans may pay more than $7,000,000 in state cigaret taxes this year, based on collections for the first four months.

Sam Kimberlin, director of the cigaret tax division, said if the rate for the quarter held up the tax would equal $1.17 for each man, woman and child in the state.

A $6,209,919 impost in 1936 was a record but proceeds for the first four months were $300,000 more than for a like period last year. The tax is alloted one-third to the available school fund and two-thirds to old age assistance.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, May 20 (AP) — Cotton opened quiet but steady and initial trades showed gains of 6 to 8 points above the previous close.

Steadier foreign advices appeared to be the main inceptive behind the early demand. Liverpool cabled that Bombay straddle reversing and local buying more than offset hedging.

The trade bought and there was some scattered covering. July opened at 12.70, Oct. at 12.71, Dec. at 12.79, Jan. 12.83 and March 12.89.

The market receded a point or two after the start on a little profit taking, but toward the end of the first half hour prices were at or near the opening figures.

The market continued to advance slowly during the morning until active positions showed gains of 10 to 12 points compared with the previous close.

Higher prices attracted some realising, however, and near mid-session the market was quiet but steady 5 to 11 points net higher.

The advance in stocks appeared to be the main factor behind the late morning advance, as there was nothing in the news to stimulate prices.

The weather continued favorable and there were only scattered showers shown over the belt. Cloth markets continued quiet.

Near the middle hour July sold at 12.69, Oct 12.70, and Dec 12.84.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, May 20 (AP)—Cotton futures were steady at the opening, up 7 to 8 points on higher Liverpool cables, trade and foreign buying. July 12.84; Oct. 12.74; Dec. 12.74; Jan. 12.76; March 12.80; May 12.86.

Trading was fairly active on an accumulation of overnight buying orders but after these had been executed the market became quiet.

July liquidation and exchanging to later delleveries was again a feature.

Spot houses absorbed the near month offerings at a slightly narrower premium. There was other scattered liquidation, influenced by favorable weather conditions in the cotton belt, and easier grain markets.

Oct. eased from 12.74 to 12.71 and was 12.72 at the end of the first half hour with prices 4 to 7 points net higher. Forward positions were somewhat steadier on foreign buying.

Reports some fine spinning mills in New England were closing down for an indefinite period because of inability yto dispose of goods at present prices were regarded as unfavorable.

Liverpool reported quiet pre-holiday conditions. After closing today that market will not reopen until Monday. Local and Bombay buying supported the market there.

A mid-morning rally developed on Wall street buying and covering promoted by an advance in stocks. Foreign demand also continued until the markets abroad closed. In the absence of a follow-up to the buying side, however, prices tended to ease under scattered selling when other commodity markets displayed a heavy tone.

October, after selling up to 12.77, reacted to its early low of 12.71. At midday it was 12.72 when prices were generally 3 to 8 points net higher.

The first successful power flight of the Wright brothers in 1903 lasted almost a full minute.

production control and price guarantees.

The objective of the groups supporting the bill is a return of the "good old days" of American agriculture—the pre-war years of 1909-14.

In those years, the sponsors explain, farm commodities had a fair buying power.

Diplomatic Position Changes Announced

WASHINGTON, May 20 (AP) — President Roosevelt announced two important state department personnel changes today, sending to the senate the nominations of Sumner Welles, of Maryland, to be undersecretary of state and R. Walton Moore, of Virginia, to be department counselor.

Welles and Moore now are serving as assistant secretaries of state.

The president also nominated John Cudahy of Wisconsin, as minister to the Irish Free State; Alvin Mansfield Owsley, of Texas, as minister to Denmark, and Edwin L. Neville of Ohio, as minister to Siam.

Liedown Strike In San Antonio Hospital Is Ended; Principal To Get Transportation

SAN ANTONIO, May 20 (AP)—The 10-day-old liedown strike at the county hospital has ended.

The liedowner, A. P. Chauncey, 30, was removed from the hospital, without his consent, by police late yesterday and he was placed in the care of the Associated Charities which expects to send the man to the home of a sister in Palestine.

Chauncey was admitted to the hospital on May 10 after being hurt in a traffic accident. After being treated, he refused to leave the hospital because one of his crutches was broken in the accident. Hospital attendants secured another pair for him but he still refused to go, insisting that he be treated for arthritis.

Army Of 2,400 "Spore Fighters" Starts Work To Save Timber

SPOKANE, Wash., May 20 (AP)—An army of 2,400 "spore fighters" has started to the woods in the battle to save the nation's greatest remaining stands of white pine timber from a slow death with blister rust.

Enrolled under the WPA, the rust fighters will concentrate their counter-attack on "the cancer of the pine forests" in North Idaho's extensive timber lands.

H. E. Swanson, pathologist for the U. S. bureau of entomology and plant quarantine here, said his forest crews still have a four-year fight ahead to conquer the dread malady's spread. He said 1,621,000 acres of pine land had been worked over in a 12-year campaign, and 1,100,000 acres remain to be covered.

Nazi Press Hits Back At Church Leader' Talk

(By The Associated Press)

BERLIN, May 20—Inspired Nazi newspapers tonight attacked George Cardinal Mundelein of Chicago for having 'villified Der Fuehrer in a way impossible to describe."

(The cardinal in a speech yesterday attacked German Nazi opposition to the Catholic church as "malicious," called propaganda Minister Paul Joseph Goebels "crooked," and referred to Adolf Hitler as 'an Austrian paper hanger.")

Vatican Is Questioned

One newspaper asked the Vatican whether 'this outburst of one of its most eminent servants is to be passed over silently and with impunity?"

Semi-official comment, carried by Deutsches Nachrichtenburo (official German news agency), declared further:

"The German nation as a whole is justified in demanding satisfaction for these disgusting insults."

Vatican Says Cardinal Had Right To Speak Own Mind

VATICAN CITY, May 20 (AP) — Vatican churchmen said tonight that George Cardinal Mundelein of Chicago had every right to speak his mind in his address Tuesday in which he referred to Adolf Hitler as "an Austrian paperhanger."

They said the Vatican would not concern itself with the cardinal's speech.

Cardinal Mundelein's speech criticized Hitler's attitude toward the church and termed recent trials of German monks and lay brothers on immorality charges worse than World war "atrocity tales."

Court Bill

judiciary committee with the approval of Senator Robinson, Democratic leader, for appointment of one justice a year as long as any incumbents were over 75.

Sentiment For Withdrawal

There was strong sentiment in the senate for withdrawal of the bill entirely and substitution of a constitutional amendment to require retirements of judges at 70 or 75 years of age.

Opponents were just beginning today to write the committee's adverse report on the bill, and it appeared likely that the supreme court would rule on the social security act before debate could begin in the senate.

That might make it possible to work out a solution to the controversy before the issue reaches the floor.

Because development on the bill all were backstage, senate discussion centered today on the possibility of Senator Robinson being appointed to succeed Justice Van Devanter.

Managing Editor Points Out Cheapness Of Newspapers In The Family Budget

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., May 20 (AP)—Roy A. Roberts managing editor of the Kansas City Star, told the southern newspaper publishers association here that the daily newspaper continues to be "the cheapest thing that goes into the family budget."

Urging the importance of newspaper with personality and individuality, Roberts said that "by and large, American newspapers deliver a better product, going to more expense and effort to bring to the customers—the readers—the news of the world coupled with entertainment and informative features, than any other industry I know of, and we offer it at a cheaper price, too.

"I wonder if readers really realize what they get for their money," he said.

Senate Extends Soil Payments

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 20 — The senate passed and sent to the White House today a bill to extend until 1942 power of the secretary of agriculture to make soil conservation payments direct to producers.

The measure was approved without a record vote, after the senate had rejected an amendment by Minority Leader McNary (R-Ore) to limit the extension to two years.

Wagner Act Language Can Not Be Basis For AAA

WASHINGTON, May 20 — The The senate agriculture committee told farm leaders today they could not use the language of the Supreme court decision upholding the Wagner labor act as a basis for reviving the old Triple-A.

Chairman Smith (D-SC), joined Senators Norris (Ind-Neb), Pope (D-Ida) anr Schwellenbach (D-Wash) in contending that the court's invalidation of AAA stood in the way of enacting an "Agricultural Adjustment act of 1937" to control production and guarantee prices.

The proposed new act has been drafted and laid before the committee by farm leaders. Its sponsors argued that if congress had the right to regulate production of garments in interstate commerce it could exercise the same control over agricultural production.

Water Survey Fund Included In Bill

WASHINGTON, May 20 (AP) — Representative George Mahon of Colorado, Tex., said a $20,000 item for underground water surveys in Texas is included in a provision of the interior department bill approved today by the house.

The sum, to be matched by state funds, is $2,250 more than allowed for the work under the current fiscal year's program and $7,260 more than allowed in 1936 fiscal year.

The provision approved by the house calls for expenditure of $600,000 on water surveys in the United States. Mahon said Director W. C. Mendenhall of the geological survey assured him most of the $20,000, although set aside for Texas as a whole, would be spent in the western part of the state.

Loudspeakers Are Installed In Pope's Audience Chamber

CASTEL GANDOLFO, May 20 (AP) —Pope Pius has ordered loudspeakers placed in the public audience chambers of his villa to magnify his failing voice. Due to a heart condition, prelates said, the pontiff's voice has been failing after only a few minutes and only pilgrams close by can hear him.

SZEGED, Hungary, May 20 (AP)—Mayor Andor Palffyi has received separate, challenges to fight 100 duels.

The challenge en masse came from members of the Arrow and Cross society, a Nazi organization, who felt themselves individually offended when the mayor refused to rename streets in honor of anti-semitic leaders.

Texas Congressman Proposes New Pay Plan For Officials

WASHINGTON, May 20 (AP) — Representative Albert Thomas of Houston, Tex., introduced today a bill to place all United States commissioners, including 33 in Texas, on a salary basis with a minimum pay of $500 annually and a maximum of $5,000.

The measure was prompted, he said, by a conviction that the fee system, under which the officers are now paid, is "outdated."

The army plans to buy 2,622 horses and mules in the coming fiscal year. They are expected to cost $513,000.

One of the infants, a girl, born Mr. and Mrs. William Mullins, died shortly after birth but the other three, two boys and a girl, appear to be winning their fight for life in an incubator here.

Dr. H. K. Riddle, Coweta physician, who arrived at the two-room farm home shortly after the multiple births, said the infants were born a month prematurely.

Dr. W. R. Joblin, physician from the nearby town of Porter, brought the three surviving infants to a hospital here. They were being ministered oxygen.

"We are doing all that can be done for them," Doctor Joblin said, "but none of them weighs more than a couple of pounds."

Tribute To Pioneers Being Paid Today

LAMESA, May 20. (Special)—Lamesa paid tribute to its pioneers today as hundreds of its old timers gathered for the annual old settlers' reunion scheduled for this afternoon. "Old settlers" are those who have resided in the county 20 years or longer.

The program was to begin at 1:30 p. m. with a barbecue picnic. A sing-song featuring the old time songs follows the picnic and then old timers will thrill again to an old-fashioned square dance. Other program numbers are speeches by pioneer settlers, election of officers and a general visitation. President Dixie Kilgore will preside over the meeting.

The annual affair last year attracted visitors from 14 states, including many early county officials and pioneers of this section.

H. H. Barron and W. V. P. Baker, both of Lamesa, are vice-president and secretary, respectively, of the association.

Grange Instruction School Is Staged

An all-embracing program of work was studied Wednesday night when representatives of five associated chapters met in a school of instruction for officers of the Lubbock county Grange at the Roosevelt Rural High school.

The session was called by Earl Davis of Acuff, county master, said Harold Gaulrapp, state organizer. Delegates attended from Southwest Ward, Shallowater, Texas Technological college, Posey and Roosevelt.

Bob Crump of Shallowater was elected to represent the Grange at a Soil Conservation meeting at Amarillo today. Others from this section to attend will be Gaulrapp, Dean A. H. Leidigh of Texas Tech, R. L. Burdette of the public school's department of vocational agriculture, and a representative of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce.

The meeting voted to re-canvass this territory for families interested in rural electrification. It also voted to enter a degree team in a state contest with a preliminary county contest in the week of July 15. A district meeting will be held at Tech in the first week of August, Gaulrapp said. Mrs. U. A. Randolph will be in charge of that work.

Each Grange will elect a sweetheart to attend the state Grange meeting at Dallas August 26-28. Lubbock county masters will meet again soon to complete plans for the program of work.

MOTHERS WIN STRIKE

After 14 days of unofficial vacation for their 800 children mothers of Bedford, England, have won their strike against the local school board. The pupils have gone back to their studies pending an investigation by the Board of Education. The strike was a protest against the committee's refusal to admit junior pupils to the new Silver Jubilee School, and also against a new reorganization plan which would compel pupils to go one mile through busy traffic centers four times a day.

Arabs Cheer Blondes In American Films

JERUSALEM, Palestine, May 20. (AP)—Movie patrons in Palestine, where 60 languages are spoken, hear or read a number of them at each performance. The feature picture, which may be in English, French, German and occasionally Russian, usually is preceded by a news reel in Hebrew and another in French.

Translations in two languages are carried on a running strip at the side of the screen, and frequently there is a translation into a third language carried on the film. American talkies seem to be the most popular. Translations in Hebrew and German are projected in the Jewish theaters.

Arabs like American westerns. Bedouins ride in for miles to attend an American "horse opery" in which they cheer the blonde heroine and hiss the varmint trying to steal her father's cattle.

BACK SO SORE HE FELT LIKE CRYING ALOUD!

Sluggish Kidneys Made Him Rise at Night; Stomach Swelled Twice Normal Size From Gas and Bloat; But Now Van-Tage Relieved Him and He Feels Fine!

MR. ANDREW KIRK

Mr. Andrew Kirk, of 1806 Fourth Ave., Dallas, Texas, is the latest Widely-Known Texas Resident to come out with his statement publicly endorsing the "Amazing New Medicine," known as VAN-TAGE, which is now being introduced to the local public at Mark Halsey Drug. Mr. Kirk was a Great Victim of sluggish kidneys and gassy stomach. Read how he got relief by taking Van-Tage. His statement follows:

Could Hardly Bend His Back Without Flinching

"Every time I ate a meal I would suffer with gas and bloating and my stomach would swell up until it felt twice its normal size. My sluggish kidneys would break my sleep 3 or 4 times in the night, and I had an awful burning, irritated sensation so bad it was all I could do to keep from crying out with pain. I was so sore across the small of my back that I could hardly bend over without flinching from the awful agony. A friend of mine told me about Van-Tage, so I decided to try it. From the very first I could feel this medicine working and now it has cleared out so much gas and bloat that my stomach is down to its natural size again. It flushed my kidneys and now I can sleep soundly without being disturbed, and the pains in my back have been so greatly relieved that I can bend over and touch my toes and never feel a bit of pain. I consider it a privilege to tell others how Van-Tage helped me."

Over 30 Ingredients In This Great Compound

VAN-TAGE contains over 30 Ingredients (including 21 Great Herbs) which help cleanse bowels, bring forth gas from stomach and invigorate kidneys action. eople declare it has made them feel like different men and women. Another thing—due to large sales, the price of Van-Tage is reasonable. Get it—TODAY—at Mark Halsey Drug, 1219 Broadway. (Adv.)

King Carl And His Brains Triumph Over Dizzy Dean's Right Arm

BOY SCOUT VIC WEBER did his good turn for wrestling in this community last night. At the same time he did a good turn for Vic Weber.

The folks who go to wrestling matches, who include many of the "better people" of our town, saw enough of Jerry Markus 15 minutes after the gong sounded to start his very first fight here. They had to suffer through several others, though, before Promoter Allen let him go. Then, for some unaccountable reason, Allen let the despised Brooklyn Indian back in the ring.

His opening gesture, after his return, was to twist Vic Weber's arm in illegal fashion so that the member was rendered useless for a few minutes, thereby holding up the fireworks on last week's semi-final. When they finally got their robes off and started wrestling, it was one foul after another, only Weber, who had done by half the least fouling, was declared the loser on a foul.

Weber's blood boiled like the lard in Grandmother's outdoor kettle at hog-killing time, and he didn't rest until the promoter had booked him for a return match with Markus. It happened last night, and the result is recorded in another column of this page.

In beating Markus, Weber not only accomplished the expected end, but he [illegible] himself for previous week's [illegible]. He whipped the Brooklyn boy in straight falls and whipped him thoroughly.

Markus [illegible]

tion, he has shown nothing here but a face that needed a shave and muscles that needed lessons in direction. This, of course, does not detract from Weber's victory, which, though not unexpected, conclusively proved that Markus, while strong and tough, is no wrestler and no fighter.

SHORT, SHORT STORIES AND SOME LOOSE ENDS

Pete Cawthon, director of Texas Tech athletics and former promoter of the world's largest coaching school, has been invited to appear as instructor on a coaching school at Paris, Texas, this summer. . . . His Tech duties probably will prevent Cawthon from accepting. . . . Sports writers in general and several in particular, including this pretender, did not lament Carl Hubbell's victory over Dizzy Dean yesterday in St. Louis. . . . The only regret being that Outfielder Riddle did not do a better job of his fisticuffs with The Diz. . . . Al Baggett is having a good job done in regard to getting out publicity on his West Texas State coaching school scheduled June 6-12 at Canyon. . . .

Comes a program and an invitation from promoters of the 17th annual tournament of West Texas Golf Association, to be held at Brownwood Country club May 27-30. . . We should like very much to attend, only someone has pilfered our set of sticks. . . . Among the Amerada Oilers of Hobbs who appear here Sunday against the Hubbers are two former Hubber players, R. D. Prather at third base and Lefty Barrett at first. . . . Carl Weaver, one of the outstanding hurlers of this section for several seasons, is booked to pitch for Hobbs Sunday. . . .

[illegible] true and [illegible] current issue of GOLFING. . . . Several players [illegible] following the last set of questions. . . . [illegible] Dr. R. L. McAllister, Country Club player, was leading [illegible] the next set is desired [illegible] hear from you. . . .

A person worthy of most honorable mention is Prof. Jimmy Allen of Texas Tech, for his promotion of tennis at the college. . . . He has helped tennis in town, as well, in case he wishes to know. . . . His Tech team walked away with Border conference honors, and next spring's Red Raider netters are due to do even better. . . . J. W. Jackson, faculty sponsor and director of the golf team, also comes in for a big hand. . . . Despite the loss of two top notchers through illness, the Tech golf team turned in a very, very good collegiate season. . . .

Charlie Akey, pro-manager at Country Club was scanning the financial report of the Professional Golfers association of which he is a member. . . . "I wonder what they're gonna do with all that dough," he mused. . . . Charley, who designs clubs, as well as balls, which bear his name, was cheated out of the P. G. A. qualifying tournament recently because of an "unplayable" finger. . . .

From Ed Brietz, pillar: Jockeys are the most superstitious. . . . At Belmont Park last week Mrs. E. D. Jacobs bought a new set of colors [illegible] Jimmy Stout. . . . He flatly refused to put them on. . . . Said no jock had ever donned new colors and won for Mrs. Jacobs. . . . He got away with it, then went out and scored a triple for the day. . . .

Weber Victor Over Markus

[illegible] wrestling [illegible] Jerry Markus [illegible] Brooklyn [illegible] battle at the Auditorium last night.

Weber won in straight falls and [illegible] New Yorker [illegible] from Brooklyn [illegible] defeat, and [illegible]

[illegible] minutes to win the [illegible] for the second and [illegible] no third fall because Markus had been handed the [illegible]

Jerry Won't Rassle, So . . .

[illegible] Markus [illegible] Weber [illegible] Brooklyn Indian a chance [illegible] Jerry [illegible] Jerry [illegible] until Jerry was no more. He flattened out on the floor [illegible] a matter of form for Weber to [illegible] his outstretched form [illegible]

[illegible] the second fall started [illegible] Markus [illegible] continued the [illegible] for [illegible] a dozen minutes, but Markus [illegible] demonstrated to the local crowd—and there was plenty of it at the Auditorium last night—that he could do nothing but make faces, choke and look mean. He can not wrestle, he has not the fortitude necessary in a fighter. He tried to claim foul soon after the first fall started and several times afterward.

Vic Loses No Time

Giving up to all appearances against Weber, Markus elected to exchange blows with Referee Clements, who was not nearly so kind to the Yiddish blood as he was a week earlier. Markus' alibi no doubt, is that he wasted too much strength in a fruitless fight against Clements. When he did turn to face Weber again who was a determined, teeth-grinding, vengeful adversary, it was to meet series of short but effective uppercuts that sent Jerry sprawling four times. Then he was picked up in a body and crotch hold, slammed hard to the mat and pinned there.

Weber didn't fool around. He didn't strive for showmanship. He didn't try to make a spectacle out of it. He was an angry man, seeking vindication and revenge for a rough deal he got a week earlier. He paid Markus back with interest. He whipped him fairly to death in the first fall with rabbit punches and slams.

The rest of the card was highly entertaining. Promoter Sled Allen put on one of the best supporting cards in the history of Auditorium wrestling.

Hagen Pleased Fans

Jack Hagen, the bronzed figure from Shreveport, just recently returned from an eleven-weeks stand in Cuba, and tanned to a pecan shade, showed vast improvement over last year's demonstration in fighting the clever Ace Freeman to a 30-minute draw. It was an interesting battle.

For 25 minutes Freeman and Hagen wrestled like gentlemen, swapping and breaking holds with expert devices and keeping the large crowd thoroughly entertained.

As is his wont Freeman now and then reached out for a scalp or a blow. Each time he was repaid as Hagen, who explained to the reporter that he had "made up my mind to 'pay 'em back' for every unclean thing they do," flipped a rugged elbow or landed a rabbit punch where it did the most good. They really fought during the last five minutes. Freeman antagonized Hagen with a legitimate, though slightly ungentlemanly, elbow punch to jaw when Hagen applied one of his favorite holds, the hammerlock. Freeman knows how to break that hold. After two or three of these elbow blows to the kisser, Hagen retaliated with series of hard elbow punches. They set to with vim and vigor, and were going fast at the bell.

Joe Kopecky's announced "rest" last night as a preliminary fighter, after four consecutive main event victories here, proved anything but a rest. Ambitious Jack Terry of Oregon evidently never heard of Kopecky. At least, he was not afraid of the Veteran Texan, and he waded in, carried the fight, and lasted out the Central Texan for a fast, enthusiastic 20-minute draw. Kopecky was fooled if he thought he could scare Terry with his reputation and his dangerous look and approach. Terry treated him as an equal, and they had a merry tussle.

RETAINS HIS TITLE

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 20. (AP)—Hugh Nichols retained his National Wrestling association light heavyweight world's wrestling championship here last night throwing Bobby Chick in two straight falls. Nichols weighed 174 and Chick 173 pounds.

Major League Flowers That Bloomed In The Spring Still Receive Bouquets

By ALAN GOULD

NEW YORK, May 20 (AP)—What looked in April like mediocre class of major league freshmen, with few notable exceptions, now has developed group of eight-column headliners in May. . . . Current Rookie sensations could take any field without apologies if assembled as follows: Pitchers Spud Chandler of Yankees, Russ Bauers of Pirates, Bob Feller of Indians, and Cliff Melton of Giants; catchers, Mickey Owen of Cardinals and Earl Brucker of A's; infielders, Jack McCarthy of Giants, Bobby Doerr of Red Sox, Lee Handley of Pirates, Jim Outlaw of Reds; outfielders, Tom Henrich of Yankees, John Dickshot of Pirates, Morris Arnovich of Phillies, and Gil Brack of Dodgers. . . .

Bill Keefe of New Orleans, who must have a system, called turn on Henrich, long before Commissioner Landis turned the young outfielder loose to highest bidder . . . Bill insisted Henrich "couldn't miss," if given big league chance . . . Now Joe DiMaggio is just another Yankee outfielder while metropolitan scribes lavish praise on Henrich as "picture player." . . .

Par For Course

For figure Filberts, as well as comparative purposes, we present current batting marks of dozen big leaguers who have fattest lifetime hitting records (with life-time figures bracketed): Paul Waner, 379 (.348); Al Simmons .213 (.345); Lou Gehrig .279 (.344); Chuck Klein .282 (.341); Jimmie Foxx .210 (.339); Joe Medwick .453 (.333); Heinie Manush .253 (.331); Kiki Cuyler .338 (.326); Charley Gehringer .313 (.325); Earl Averill .301 (.325); Hank Greenberg .313 (.325), and Mel Ott .181 (.318). . . . Waner, Medwick and Cuyler are only ones beating par for course. . . .

Dutch Baumgarten And Bill Dubose To Nacogdoches

NACOGDOCHES, May 20 (AP)—Superintendent R. E. Price announced today Maurice Arnim (Dutch) Baumgarten and William T. Dubose had been elected as new coaches of the Nacogdoches High school Dragons for 1937-38.

Baumgarten, coach at Midland, succeeds Stanford McKewen, named assistant principal of one of Nacogdoches' grammar schools and DuBose, coach at Hondo, succeeds Charlie Gribble, assigned as a high school mathematics teacher.

Both new coaches are graduates of the University of Texas.

Glenn Morris "Can't Go On Living On Silver Cups," So He's Definitely Pro

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., May 20 (AP) Glenn Morris of Colorado, world's decathlon champion, made it official today he turned professional.

Morris turned his back on amateur sports to go through with a contract to play "Tarzan" for the movies.

Dan Ferris, secretary of the National Amateur Athletic union, earlier had notified Morris that his new contract would bar him from the amateur ranks.

"Much as I respect the A. A. U., I can't go on living on watches and silver cups," said Morris.

Shippers Keep Lead By Win Over Dallas

(By The Associated Press)

Orville Armbrust of the Galveston Buccaneers, who may have been reading Emerson on self-reliance, could prove today that a pitcher need not be a timid soul when it comes to batting.

Just to make certain he could win his game against Oklahoma City's climbing Indians, Armbrust copper-riveted his seven-hit mound performance by slamming out a long single worth two runs in the second inning. Those tallies proved the margin of victory, Galveston taking the game 3 to 1.

Poor Support For Buxton

Ralph Buxton, Indian hurler, pitched just as well but poor support at bat and afield kept him behind.

The loss widened the gap between the Oklahomans and Beaumont, which was maintaining its league lead in whipping Dallas 6 to 4. The Dallas game proved the Shippers owe much of their pace-setting proclivities to their pluck, their ability to ignore a little thing like a four-run lead in the second. Poffenberger was nicked for that amount by the Steers. From then on Beaumont plugged away, scoring in the second, fourth, seventh and ninth innings to win.

Fort Worth Wins

San Antonio and Fort Worth went 11 innings to break a three-all score. Greenberg, Panther third-baseman, stepped to the plate with two out in the eleventh and poked out a run-scoring single to put Fort Worth ahead 4 to 3.

Another close one went to Tulsa, 3 and 2, over Houston.

After more than a month of play, the league clubs from top to bottom were finding themselves in the warmest race in a long time. Between Beaumont at the top and Dallas at the bottom only six and a half games intervened. The difference between both ends of the first division was three and a half.

The 1937 champions have a lot of work ahead.

Let's Take Another Look At Leagues

BY PAUL MICKELSON

NEW YORK, May 20. (AP)—Taking another good look from the grandstand as the big league ball clubs complete their first month of chasing:

AMERICAN LEAGUE

New York—Still the heavy favorite in fact and fancy despite a hitting slump and some bad fielding. Outfielder Tom Henrich and Pitcher Spurgeon Chandler have combined to give the Yanks all they need.

Detroit—Hank Greenberg and Mickey Cochrane have more than made good in their comeback but the pitching is off. The Tiger should come again—and strong.

Should Cause Trouble

Chicago—They look like champs one day, cave men the next. Should cause trouble all the way but hardly a pennant winning ball club.

Boston—As suspected, pitching not good enough. Injuries threaten to halt them.

Cleveland—Apparently, you can forget Bob Feller except for a few flashes. A good, steady team.

Washington—Off to a bad start but don't under-rate the Harris men.

St. Louis—Will perform some giant killing acts now and then but that's about all.

Philadelphia—The surprise club of all baseball. Generally rated to finish last, the A's are tops today. It doesn't seem reasonable to expect them to stay but they might fool everyone.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Pittsburgh—In 1914 the Pirates won 15 of their first 17 but they dropped 27 of their next 41 and finished seventh. This time, however, the Pirates should make a great run for it.

New York—Fine pitching, but inability to hit southpaws makes the road look hard for the Giants.

Chicago—Bound to prove tough. Despite wholesale injuries they have stuck right around .500.

Frisch Is Worried

St. Louis—Off to a great start though Frank Frisch is worried. Need at least one more reliable pitcher and an infielder.

Brooklyn—Flatbush is all excited but it'll take a miracle to bring that pennant to Brooklyn.

Cincinnati—After an awful start, the Reds have won 7 of their last 11 and may yet cause a big commotion.

Boston—Good pitching. Nothing else.

Philadelphia—Jimmie Wilson has popped up with a couple of fine looking youngsters but even they can't help him out of the depths.

And where was Carl when the[illegible] went out? Why down in the G[illegible] dugout, as cool as a keg of [illegible].

By his own explanation, H[illegible] is paid to win ball games. [illegible] since fist-throwing, in his o[illegible] doesn't come under the he[illegible] winning pitching, he kept bo[illegible] seat and his head when the G[illegible] poured out of their dugout [illegible] it.

After it was all over, he [illegible] resumed his task of mowin[illegible] Cardinals down and wound u[illegible] his sixth straight victory o[illegible] season. It was his 22nd in [illegible] over a two-season stretch, the [illegible]est streak in baseball history.

Maybe It's Unfair

It may be unfair to compar[illegible]gy with Hubbell on the basis o[illegible] terday's warfare, since Dea[illegible] given a tough break when [illegible] was called against him in a [illegible] spot in the sixth, leading t[illegible] Giants' winning three run rall[illegible] the fact remains that Hubbe[illegible] demonstrated that when the [illegible] on he has few equals.

Twice during that game, he [illegible]ed his stuff in the clutch. [illegible] Ducky Medwick banged his [illegible] Hubbell immediately follow[illegible] fanning dangerous Johnny [illegible] and immediately afterward t[illegible] Lippy Leo Durocher off first. [illegible] Jim Brown singled to ope[illegible] ninth, Hubbell didn't bat an [illegible]lash, but wound up the aff[illegible] fanning Medwick and Mize, [illegible] the tougher hitters in the lea[illegible].

Compared to the Hubbell[illegible] "battle of the century," the [illegible] the big league program didn't [illegible] a chance at the headlines [illegible] there were other doings. Night [illegible] ball made its seasonal debut i[illegible]

Ask The Master Psychologist DR. LA ROSE, Ps. D.

How to obtain Love, Happiness Success. Being loved and admired for yourself alone, capturing the hearts and friendship of all about you, can bring you more happiness than all the jewels and fine clothes you could wear . . . than all the wealth you could spend in a lifetime. Without friendship and love, life would not be worth living, for admiration and affection are the breath and heart beat of all human happiness. Within you is a power that controls your destiny. It is in every woman and man, but few discover it. Those who do are blessed with the key to Life's Happiness. With all my heart I urge you to bring forth this innate charm that is yours. Develop it, and you will attract to yourself those things that make life worth while. Men are helpless in the hands of women who have learned how to use their hidden powers of attraction. You have these powers. You can discover and develop them and swiftly make yourself irresistible to men . . . even in competition with women far more attractive-looking. You can win and hold the love of the one you want. So if in doubt, ask the man who knows.

That Girl on Broadway says the peach who breaks her engagement and refuses to return the ring is of the cling-stone variety.

A wrathy lady stepped from the chiropodist's office onto the sidewalk, carrying a brown paper bag.

"Humph," she snorted. "Calls himself a chiropodist and can't even stuff a parrot!"

DOUBTLESS you've heard the old story of King Canute. He was the fellow in the third grade reader who, having been sold by a stooge on the idea that he was all-powerful, angled down to the seashore and commanded the tide to roll back.

In the same position as old Canute are members of the striking movie craftsmen seeking to boycott theaters starring actors who do not see eye-to-eye with them in their demands.

What salt is to bread and meat, amusement is to life and simply because a few actors and a few craftsmen do not see any one problem — or a dozen of them, for that matter—in the same way is not going to keep any but the most fanatical from attending theaters when and if they please.

The Plainsman has no knowledge concerning the movie industry troubles and cares as little about them as anyone.

He does remember, however, the difficulty old King Canute ran into and can't see much hope for the boycotters.

* * *

ACCORDING to John Gould, who does a daily stint in the Wichita Falls Times a dictionary of American college slang is being compiled by a German scholar who has been touring the country in quest of material. Among the choicer specimens included are:

Fever-frau: A goodlooking female student.

Bone-crusher: A student's automobile; same as tintype.

Muddy-plow: A not-so-goodlooking female student; same as Popeye Pansy.

Gold Mine: A goodlooking male student.

Cement-mixer: A dance.

Honey-cooler: A kiss.

Probably the dictionary sagely says Mr. Gould will not have much lasting value. College slang differs from year to year and between colleges.

Fact of the matter is, The Plainsman showed the German's list to several Tech eds and co-eds and none of them were familiar with any of the slang expressions listed.

The Gee-Gosh Dept.: "Men aren't interested in women when they rig themselves out in funny hats. Just look at any woman you meet on the street and see if you can keep a straight face."—Mrs. Helen Washburn, noted authoress.

* * *

That Man on Avenue Q says man's a wonderful creature. He can fly across oceans and manipulate radio and television but he hasn't learned yet to keep his mouth shut at the right time.

* * *

The zealous young social worker stopped a business man on the street.

"Would you, sir," she asked, "give 10 cents to help the Old Ladies Home?"

"What!" he ejaculated. "Are they out again?"

AS if a country editor didn't have enough to worry about, two far-away citizens recently have written to The Plainsman concerning deep problems of their own.

From Indianapolis, for instance, comes a letter addressed to the "editur" of the "Jurnel", from one George W. Madison, a gentleman of color who apparently knows little of Texas and Texans. He would fain enlist the aid of your humble servant in spreading the gospel that "Mr. Rusevelt" is "the Moses raised up to lead the colored folks out of bondage". George insists that the negroes of the South ought to "orgenize with John L. Lous and have sitdoun strikes in the cotton fields". Says he:

"Mr. Rusevelt he got the muney and the say and we got the votes and the C. I. U. to put over the elections."

In fact, George wrote quite a lengthy epistle—so lengthy, in fact, that it would be too long to get into this column even if we wanted to print it all, which we don't.

Another recent correspondent—and he writes a mechanically starchy hand in purple ink—is Mr. C. C. Bagnall, of Wellington, New Zealand.

Mr. Bagnall, a subject of the British crown, of course, is deeply worried over the king situation.

It seems that George VI doesn't belong to the right family at all. Instead of the Hanover-Windsor-Guelph families, of which he is an offspring, the reigning house in England should be the Royal House of Stuart and Plantagenet. And since there was a slip-up last week, and George went in to hit for Edward, Mr. Bagnall is fretted no end. Something, he says, should be done about the situation, but just how The Plainsman can help, Mr. Bagnall, from 'way Down Under, neglected to say.

IT has often been said that in the newspaper business "one meets so many interesting people"—and that doubtless is correct.

But after mulling through George Madison's baze of misspelled words and Bro. Bagnall's stern script which is so straight up-and-down that it is about as easy to read as handwritten Chaucer, we would add that one also has interesting, if somewhat useless, correspondents!

Many a man who is puzzled over who is boss at his house will be much happier if he doesn't find out.

* * *

SCATTERINGS: District Clerk Floyd Jackson looks like Oklahoma's Senator Josh Lee in the face and his adoption of the "country boy role" when speaking in public is more than vaguely reminiscent to the Sooner spellbinder . . . One of The Plainsman's favorites among Lubbock's fine ladies is Mrs. F. R. Friend, whose smile and never-failing good humor is contagious . . . If Kennedy Clapp makes half as good a state park commissioner as he has in the same job for Lubbock he'll be a jimdandy. . . And he'll do better than that, because he is actually interested in parks and playgrounds . . . Lubbock will get a taste of Shrine didoes and fun next Tuesday when Khiva Temple, of Amarillo, plus all the nobles on the South Plains send a class across the burning sands here . . . Frank Preston Johnson, the former Redpath-Horner orator who was speaking here recently for the Ft. Worth Frontier Fiesta, really did used to be a newspaper reporter . . . He has done hitches in Des Moines, Sioux City, Pittsburgh and Atlanta . . . If everyone who has threatened to visit the Kenneth Oberholtzers in Long Beach carries out the threat, they'll have to get a house as big as a Carnegie library to take care of the traffic . . . Add chips-off-the-old-block: Dr. Ben Hutchinson.

Trailer Adventure

BY NARD JONES
Copyright, 1937, NEA Service, Inc.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

MARTHA BRITTAIN and BETTY HAYNES begin a trip up the west coast to demonstrate the new Airspeed trailer. They pick up GERRY NEAL, handsome young hitch-hiker. Neal tells them he is to meet a friend, JACK SPEDDON, at the Long Beach auto camp. But at Long Beach, Neal disappears from the trailer and Speddon drives away with Betty, failing to return.

Frantic, Martha calls the police. Then she gets a wire, hours later, signed "Betty" and advising that Betty will meet her at a San Francisco hotel. Feverishly Martha starts out, trying to trace Betty en route. Returning to her trailer the second day, she is startled to see Neal. Her first impulse is to reach for her gun but Neal stops this, tells her "this whole thing may be bigger" than she imagines. How far can she trust him, she wonders.

Finally she agrees to accompany Neal to San Francisco the next morning. He returns to the Del Monte to rest. She is troubled. Does she like Neal because she needs help, or . . . She goes to sleep with the question unanswered.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER VIII

Next morning Martha rolled the big streamlined trailer and the little coupe into the wide driveway of Del Monte. Preoccupied as she was, she slowed down in admiration for the quiet beauty of the vast green acres. Up ahead was the big hotel, one of its wings as modern as tomorrow, the other quaintly suggestive of an earlier day in Del Monte. Off toward the right she saw the beautifully tiled Roman pool and bath house, where already the owners of bright swim suits were enjoying a pre-breakfast dip.

As she reached the wide parking space she had sudden misgivings about the trailer. The vehicles parked so neatly were, with some few exceptions, of expensive make—and all were groomed like thoroughbreds. Up the broad steps was a doorman in brilliant blue, but if he harbored astonishment at the Airspeed Trailer within the borders of Del Monte he gave no sign of it. Heartened by his impassiveness, Martha parked coupe and trailer as unobtrusively as possible. When she reached the veranda the resplendent door man touch his cap, smiled pleasantly, and said, "Good morning!" Heartened Martha replied in kind and proceeded into the lobby of the hotel. "I wonder," she was thinking, "if Gerry Neal will really—" But before she could even form the doubt in her mind she saw him hurrying toward her.

"Good morning, Miss Brittain! How about breakfast?"

"I'm really starved," Martha confessed.

"Then right this way!"

They walked through a long beautifully furnished lounge. Through one glass wall Martha looked out on a perfect picture. Neal echoed her thought. "Isn't it a glorious day?" he asked.

The head waiter bowed as they reached the dining room. "Good morning, Mr. Neal." Was there a special deference in his bow, Martha wondered, or was this just ordinary Del Monte courtesy? "I've your favorite table," the waiter went on, and led the way.

As they seated themselves, Martha smiled. "San Diego hitch-hiker has favorite table at Del Monte!"

Neal laughed. "But isn't it really a very nice table? Look out there."

Martha obeyed. Below them was a sunken garden, filled with the beauty of California flowers, and beyond stretched a grove such as might have invited Dionysius. "It's beautiful," Martha said. "It — it makes one want to stay forever. I'd heard a great deal about the Monterey country, but I never believed it could be like this. And how I slept last night!"

"You're looking much more like yourself, too," Neal said.

"How would you know how I should look normally?"

"Don't think I didn't notice you in that San Diego hallway — and on the road when you were happily starting out with your trailer."

Martha turned to the window. "Happily . . ." she repeated. She faced him again with a wry smile. "It didn't last very long."

"But let's not think about that today."

"We'll have to." She glanced at her wrist. "We ought to start as soon as we can."

"Let me order," Neal said, "and then I want to talk to you about that." He motioned to one of Del Monte's perfect waitresses, a little lady well along in years but marvelously efficient and motherly. "We want a good, solid, old-fashioned breakfast," Neal told her.

"Yes, Mr. Neal. Grapefruit, say? Then brown waffles and bacon and honey."

He glanced questioningly at Martha. "That sounds wonderful," she agreed. But when the waitress had gone she added, "You mentioned you wanted to talk to me about starting for San Francisco. If you mean to suggest any delay, I won't hear of it."

"Now . . ." Neal protested. "You promised last night you'd trust me absolutely."

"Promised?"

"Perhaps not in words. But I believe you implied that you might take my advice." He leaned closer. "Look here, Martha Brittain — you've been worried sick for too many hours. And you must believe me when I tell you there's nothing lost if we spend the day down here."

Martha's eyes widened. "Spend the day? Why—"

"Let me finish, please. It'll do you good. We can go for a swim, perhaps a ride. We can take the Seventeen Mile Drive and have lunch on Cypress Point. You owe yourself a let-up. Keep on at the rate you've been going and you'll be heading straight for a nervous breakdown."

"I'm not thinking of myself right now," Martha told him. "I'm thinking of Betty."

"Suppose I told you she hasn't yet reached the Palace, and that therefore we might as well stay here a day and go on north in the morning."

"I wouldn't believe you," she said. Then: "What—what makes you so sure of it?"

Again that maddening, enigmatic smile of Gerry Neal's. "I've said that there're certain things I can't tell you now. But reason it out for yourself. Didn't your friend's wire advise you to follow your itinerary as before?"

"Y-yes."

"Suppose you had taken that advice, and followed the program as Sloss gave it to you. Where would you be now?"

"Why, I'd have reached Salinas last night and be spending the day there, showing the trailer."

Neal spread his hands. "You see?"

* * *

"But just the same, I don't—" The waitress interrupted, and when she had set down the huge yellow grapefruit halves in their bowls of fine ice Neal pursued his logic. "Let us assume that Betty may be in some danger — I say may be. If we do assume that, then it becomes more important to follow her advice. She may have good reason for giving it."

"Providing she really wrote the telegram," Martha answered. "And if you know this awful Speddon perhaps you can tell me what her danger might be."

"As a matetr of fact," Gerry Neal smiled, "I don't think she's in danger. I'm merely accepting your viewpoint for the sake of argument. And the purpose of my argument is to get you to spend the day with me in Del Monte. What do you say?"

Martha searched Neal's eyes—eyes that apparently held no secrets, carried nothing but friendliness. And when he smiled she kept wanting to answer that smile. "I—I don't know. Let me finish breakfast and I'll decide."

"Good!" Neal plunged his spoon into the grapefruit. "I know that after breakfast you'll agree with me. And just to reassure you, I'll do even more." From his pocket he took a pencil and a small notebook, scrawled hurriedly, and handed the result to Martha. It was in the form of a wire to the room clerk of the Palace Hotel in San Francisco. She read, "Please advise by immediate collect wire if either J. R. Speddon or Miss Betty Haynes registered there."

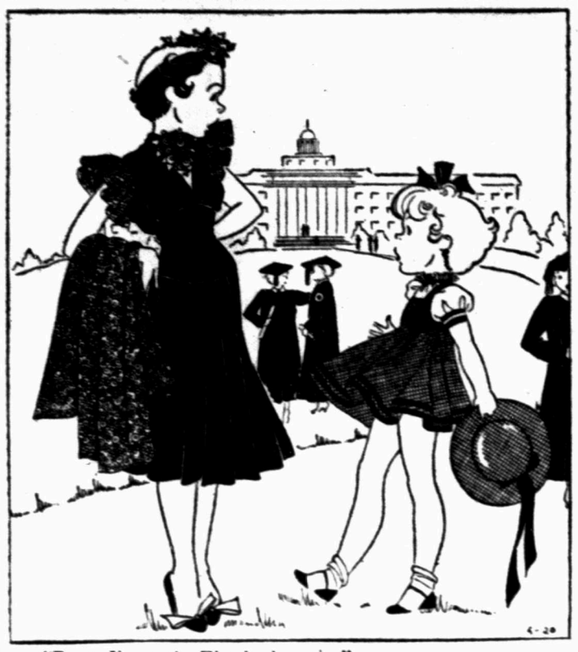

Silently Martha handed the note back while Neal signaled the head waiter. "I'd like to have this sent at once, please."

They had barely finished their breakfast when the answer was delivered to the table. Neal handed the unopened envelope to Martha. Somehow she knew its contents even before she opened the wire. It said, "No J. R. Speddon or Betty Haynes registered."

THE BIG STORY BEHIND A SMALL ONE

There was a little item in yesterday's Journal which possibly was missed by many a hurried reader.

It didn't boast a big headline. It was on an inside page. It wasn't, in itself, a big news story.

Yet behind it there must be one of the most interesting situations imaginable to the friends and patrons of Texas Tech.

The little item had to do with the appointment of Miss Mina Marie Wolf, of Stamford, to a research position at Columbia university, New York. A graduate of Tech's division of home economics, Miss Wolf will receive her master's degree—first home economics master's to be conferred at Tech—next week. She will spend a year at Columbia and while she is there will work toward the degree of doctor of philosophy. Already, as can easily be seen, this young woman is well on her way to becoming an outstanding citizen—one who is equipped to aid and to serve her fellows.

The thing that intrigues The Journal is the idea of Miss Wolf's story being typical of that of many a young man or young woman who has gone from out the doors of Texas Tech to make a place in the wide world. Few students, of course, have attained the scholastic proficiency of Miss Wolf. Yet scores—perhaps hundreds, have already, in the less than a dozen years of the college's existence, made high marks in business or professional fields.

It costs a lot of money to build and run an institution like Texas Tech but the investment pays big dividends in human attainments.

Miss Wolf's success, while not a sensational thing from the standpoint of the general public, proves that.

Hollywood Chit-Chat

BY PAUL HARRISON
Journal Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, May 20—During one of those sidewalk conferences in front of the Brown Derby the other afternoon a group of moviemen got to playing a silly game. An agent offered to bet $5 that he could toss a folded dollar bill on the sidewalk and that none of the pedestrians passing along Vine street would notice it in 10 minutes.

An assistant producer covered the bet. The agent folded the bill very compactly so that scarcely anything but its white border was visible. It lay on the sidewalk for about eight minutes and to the excitement of the onlookers, actually was kicked by a couple of passersby.

Pretty soon a neatly dressed elderly lady came along, spotted the bill, stooped and retrieved it.

The agent paid the bet and begged for a chance to get his money back on another one. Said he never had known anything like that to happen in all the times he'd tried it.

Scarcely had he folded and tossed another bill than he spied, to his horror, the same elderly lady retracing her route of a few minutes before.

She picked up the dollar, turned a nervous glance on the watching men as though wondering whether they were dangerous as well as crazy, and briskly went on her way, shaking her head pityingly and making little clucking noises.

Two-Way Loser

Speaking of goofy games, there is nothing like the one played by Hollywood stunt men when several are working for a picture. It's intended to prove that they're tough.

Five or six gather in a close circle, heads together, eyes down, as in a football huddle, and one of them blindly tosses a half brick into the air.

The brick comes down on somebody's noggin, and the doubly-unfortunate stunt man has to pay the check when the gang goes to lunch.

"Raising" Old Ned

The producer of a series of cheap, quickie westerns has been having trouble lately with his cowboy star. The fellow will work hard for a couple of days and then, right in the middle of production, will go on a terrible binge. Takes him two days to get straightened around again, and such a delay is ruinous in the quickie business.

So the producer has filmed a special sequence in which the hero gets shot and dies. The film is being held in reserve. Next time the actor gets out of control the shooting-and-dying footage will be inserted. The following scene will introduce a new hero saying: "Well, they got poor old Ned, but I'm his brother and I will avenge his death!"

Tango In Traffic

In the cluster of cars halted at a traffic light on Wilshire boulevard the other day was the longest, flashiest Rolls in town. It's an open job with red leather upholstery and belongs to Borrah Minnevitch. He was sitting at the wheel and playing a harmonica. Beside him sat a pretty girl.

He got out. She got out. And right there in Wilshire boulevard they danced a pretty snappy tango, Minnevitch managing his harmonica with one hand. Traffic piled up behind them and honked. The light turned green, finally red again.

The tune and dance ended with a flourish and a patter of applause from motorists near enough to see what was going on.

Apparently refreshed, and paying no attention to anybody, the two got into the big car and resumed their drive.

Brushing Up Her Part

Jeanette MacDonald had a turn at ribbing on the "Firefly" set. Previously—as when two actors staged a fearful fight over who was going to hold her chair and bashed each other with breakaway wine bottles—the jokes have been instigated by Director Robert Leonard.

This time he was coaching her for an impressive scene. "It's a grand entrance," he said, "and you come sweeping into the room. . . ."

Miss MacDonald, spectacularly gowned, went out, and the door was closed. The camera began to grind, extras to move about. On cue, the star entered. She swept in, all right—briskly wielding a broom.

Might Swing Five Votes

Most senators, at least, believe that Roosevelt's court program would pass with no essential change if the court were to decide against the government in the social security cases. Belief is common on Capitol Hill that a decision one way or the other might swing four or five votes if not more. The significance of such a swing is indicated by the fact that administration leaders now privately claim assurance of 49 of the 96 Senate votes for the Roosevelt plan, while leaders of the opposition claim to be assured of 52 votes against it.

Supreme Court Decision On Social Security Cases To Point Way For Future Nationalism

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 20 — It is hard to think of anything more immediately important than the Supreme court's forthcoming opinions in the social security cases.

1. An old-age benefit system covering 26,000,000 persons, and an unemployment insurance system covering most of those persons are at stake.

2. It is very likely that the decision will determine the success or failure of the President's Supreme court plan in congress. At least it will have a highly important bearing on the question of whether the anticipated "compromise" on this measure will be an actual compromise or merely a face-saving arrangement to give Roosevelt what he wants.

3. The constitution, if the social security taxes are declared valid by a majority of the nine justices, will have become a constitution markedly different from the one the country had had under previous interpretations.

Thus it seems that the supreme court is more spectacularly on the spot than ever before. Also that Justice Owen Josephus Roberts especially is on the same spot, both because of his peculiar status as the court's "odd man," and because of the majority opinions which he himself read when the AAA and railway retirement act were invalidated.

It's Up To Roberts

Various issues are involved taxing power and the gener fare clause of the constitu due process clause and the whether or not the function viding for assistance in old or isn't a function reserved states.

Thus there are various raised on which the court knock out all or parts of t cial security program as it to old age benefits and une ment insurance.

Few bets are being made outcome. Most lawyers ha to recover from the surpri received when the court 5 to 4 vote, upheld the N Labor Relations act. Bu consensus is that Justice Brandeis, Stone and Cardo smile upon the social program that McReynolds erland, Butler and Van D will turn thumbs down—a Roberts will cast the d much turmoil of mind.

Dutcher

Justice Roberts in the AAA case held processing taxes illegal on the ground that they were an instrument in a coercive scheme for regulating local affairs.

In the Railroad Retirement act case, which required employe-employer contributions to a pension fund, Roberts held that the act fell outside congressional power to regulate interstate commerce.

"There is no warrant for taking the property of one and transferring it to another without compensation," he said. He described the act as "an attempt for social ends to impose by sheer fiat non-contractual incidents upon the relation of employer and employe not as a rule of regulation of commerce and transportation between the states, but as a means of assuring a particular class of employes against old age dependence."

AAA taxes were levied expressly for the purpose of paying benefits to farmers, however, and old age social security taxes are not similarly earmarked. The government has argued that the taxes were separate from the old age benefit features and that the system was not dependent on this tax but could be financed by other revenue means.

Little Brown Bear Is Brought To Earth To Its Sorrow; Is Choked To Death

LIVINGSTON, Tex., May 20 (AP)—A little brown bear that sat in the crotch of a tall pine tree here and declined any kind of coaxing to come down finally was forcibly brought to earth to his sorrow.

Luke Matthews climbed the tree and lassoed the bruin but the animal choked to death before reaching the ground.

The bear came out of the timber lands when disturbed by tree cutting operations and took his place in the tree directly in front of the funeral home here.

He immediately became the center of attraction.

Ray Arnold, oil field worker, expressed belief the cub was the same that recently went into the back door of a kitchen while the woman of the house was out front ringing the dinner bell and ate all the food on the table.

The body of the bear, which weighed about 100 pounds, is being held for federal authorities from Silsbee.

PARK STAGES MARVELS

Among the attractions being installed in the Central Park of Culture and Rest at Moscow, Russia, is a "boulevard of marvels," operated by photo-electric cells. As the visitor approaches them, doors open and fountains begin to spout. If he asks to hear a waltz an unseen band will play it. If he tries to take a flower out of a vase an alarm will ring. A watch vanishes as he attempts to pick it up from a table. Many other "wonders" are being devised.

When pins were invented in the 14th century, they were so expensive that it was customary to give a person a sum of money to be used as "pin money"; hence the term.

Change Of Name For Art Museum Voted

Change of name of the Texas Technological College Art Museum was voted Wednesday night at a meeting in the engineering building auditorium. Texas Technological College Art Institute is the new name.

John F. Helm, jr. of the Kansas State college and noted painter and print maker of the Middle West was the main speaker on the subject "The Growth of Art Interest in America."

Preceding the talk Mrs. O. D. Harris presided for a business meeting and F. A. Kleinschmidt, director of the institute, reported on activities in the organization during the past year and outlined a tentative program for next year. This will include lecture appearances of Ruth Reeves, textile designer; Ananda Coomaraswamy, philosopher and art critic; Walter Cook, chairman of the graduate department of fine arts at New York university, and Lewis Mumford, art critic on the staff of The New Yorker.

A membership of 500 has been set for next season. At present there are 324 members.

Mr. Helm suggested the growth of art interest in America is due to development of American art schools; use of murals and sculptures in federal buildings and schools and the organization of art institutes and museums. Pointing out that regional and sectional art precedes national art, he stressed the need of the American public becoming interested in the work of contemporary artists.
