Function Is Last Of Lovely Pre-Nuptial Affairs Given Bride-Elect; Ceremony To Be Read This Afternoon By Dr. Lewis As First Presbyterian Church

COMING as a delightful climax to one of the gayest series of parties of the spring season was a dinner given Monday evening at Hotel Lubbock by Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Moxley, naming as guests those who will form the wedding party in the marriage of their daughter, Miss Lucille Moxley. In a 4 o'clock ceremony this afternoon at the First Presbyterian church, Miss Moxley will become the bride of Winfield Watkins, with Dr. Jack M. Lewis, pastor, reading the vows.

Standing on an oval-shaped mirror in the center of the table was a Dresden vase for which four nymphs formed the base. A cupid centered the vase, which was filled with white roses.

Orange Blossoms Used Caught at intervals with white satin streamers extending from the centerpiece were clusters of orange blossoms, and between the streamers were tall, white tapers. The same scheme was employed in decorating the buffet.

Places were marked with dainty parchment cards to which were tied orange blossoms with white satin ribbon. The dinner was served in five courses.

Gifts To Attendants Long mitts of white lace, which will be worn in the wedding, were the bride's gifts to her attendants, and black ties which will also be worn in the wedding were presented to the attendants of the groom.

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Ross McWhorter, Rev. J. M. Lewis, Mrs. Richard L. Douglas, Misses Lucille Moxley, Kate Boyd, Anne Snyder, Ruth Snyder, Geraldine Smith and Blanche Bradley, Messrs. Winfield Watkins, John Keathley, Weldon Hankins, James Allen, Walker Watkins, and Frank Wright.

Sports Girl Should Have Pajamas for Several Occasions

SAN FRANCISCO. (AP).—The "Girl of the Golden West" is going to be a pajama girl this summer. If she's chic her wardrobe will include these costumes:

Sports pajamas. Lounging pajamas. Bridge party pajamas. Beach pajamas.

So decided more than a hundred cost designers who gathered here to analyze new modes for which western women have shown preference.

For recreational dress pajamas will be "more important than ever," they predicted, but with "an air of refined simplicity."

Sports wear will be not so extreme but more intricate. Lines will be much more subtle, and follow the contour of the body with more graceful effect, the designers believe.

Woolens rather than flannels will be the materials for mountaineering, airplanning, gliding and hiking.

Recreational clothes will be more "theatrical" with a nationalistic influence—Mexican, Japanese, Spanish and Turkish. Wide sailor trousers will be "very smart," for seaside wear.

Return to lacy femininity is acceptable to western women for formal attire, say cost designers but for sports clothes freedom of short lengths will be retained while pajamas find even greater popularity.

Cost designers predict great popularity for pajamas in the west this summer. Janice McKinney (right), Honolulu swimmer star, wears "collegiate" lounging suit and Vera Thomas novel beach pajamas.

Resolution Asking Approval And Support Of Federal Board To Receive Vote At Annual Convention

(Special To The Avalanche)
STAMFORD, May 5.—The Federal Farm Board and its program will be given the approval and support of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce if the voting members of the organization adopt a recommendation that will be presented to them at their annual convention in Abilene May 29, 30 and 31, by its committee for cooperation with agricultural agencies.

Text of the resolution which has been approved by the committee is: Resolved: That the West Texas Chamber of Commerce heartily approves the program of the Federal Farm Board for assisting the producers of agricultural commodities, livestock and other farm and ranch products, and that this organization actively assist in carrying out the Federal Farm Board program in West Texas.

Prepare Resolutions
All the committees of the West Texas Chamber are preparing resolutions for submission at the Abilene convention, which if adopted, will give notice that the West Texas sheepmen, cattlemen, cotton producers, mining men and in fact all workers of the soil and things under the soil, shall have the militant force of the WTCC behind them to the end that they receive a fair share of the wealth they create," declared D. A. Bandeen, general manager of the organization.

"West Texas is," Bandeen said, "the raw material capital of the world and the producers of the various commodities that come from the soil and from under the soil in West Texas should be given all assistance and support. They are entitled to retain a fair share of the return on their creations."
"In addition to the resolution of the Federal Farm Board, one will be presented to the WTCC membership at the annual convention that will call on the national government to protect the raw materials of West Texas by tariff, and still another will oppose either the federal or state governments levying any further taxes on the raw materials and natural resources of the West Texas territory."

Piles Were "Killing Him By Inches"

Kansas Whose Nervous System Was Shattered by Rectal Trouble Is Restored to Health

Mr. F. E. Keith of La Cygne, Kansas, who experienced untold suffering for years, urges everyone who is afflicted with Piles or any other rectal trouble to write Dr. McCleary, E 507 Elms Blvd., Excelsior Springs, Mo., for his free book, "Piles Treated Without Surgery." This is what Mr. Keith says about the success of the McCleary treatment:

"I had suffered terribly for more than eighteen years. It made me a nervous wreck. I did not realize that Piles were killing me by inches until I became so weak that it seemed as if there was nothing to be done to help me. I was urged to take the McCleary treatment and it was a blessing that I did so. In a month I was cured and I rapidly regained my health. Let anyone write me if they want to know how grateful I am to Dr. McCleary. With a little help I run a large farm and it takes work. I could not begin to do it if I suffered the way I did before I took the McCleary treatment."

Over 20,000 men and women from all parts of the United States and Canada have been treated by Dr. McCleary. With the Free Book they will also include their reference list of former patients.

LOOKS SLIDES

With Dazzling Effects Well, well, here comes Max Sigfried Adolf Otto Schmeling, with his slugs, cuckoo clocks and all! He hasn't confided as yet what he means by making the ducks and cuckoo clocks. Maybe he will give us to Sharkey as sparring partners. And the cuckoo clocks? Maybe he ought to give these to the members of the New York Athletic Commission. The cuckoo wouldn't be much in such company.

A Clock For Corbett?

Maybe Max ought to give one of these clocks to Jim Corbett, the well known former heavyweight champion and the world's worst guesser. Jim guesses that the Hurflumberger will be world champion by 1931. Corbett, you know, has guessed wrong on every fight since that one he had himself down in New Orleans years ago with John L. Sullivan, and he wasn't so very sure who was going to win that one.

Speaking of foreign entanglements, Corbett himself was called upon twice to do the "patrician" thing by keeping the world's heavyweight championship in America. The first occasion was the challenge of Peter Jackson, who had won the championship of the British Empire and who was one of the best of the up-and-coming heavyweights. Corbett fought 61 rounds even with Jackson.

Then there was the affair of Charlie Mitchell, whom Corbett knocked out in four rounds. Neither of these bouts brought over any cuckoo clocks, but his accented punches that made many of their opponents think cuckoos were base.

More Evidence Corbett says, however, that we must wait for more evidence on Schmeling, to be obtained in the Sharkey fight, before passing judgment on his candidacy. Paulino was no problem for Max, according to Jim, who adds also that if Schmeling had been a little more ring-wise he would have known how to knock out Uzy.

Corbett says the German knows little about fencing, nothing at all about counter-fencing. Schmeling's right is much the better hand but Jim would not say that he is a one-handed fighter.

"If he will learn from others," says Corbett, "his possibilities are unlimited. He has a tremendous toe—acquire before he can be raised a real fighter."

INCREASE ROW CROP Farmers Around Sudan Will Plant 25 Per Cent More

(By Staff Correspondent) SUDAN, May 5.—Farmers around Sudan are planning a 25 per cent increase in row crop acreage, according to J. E. Dryden, secretary of the chamber of commerce.

Most of the acreage was in good shape before the rains of a week ago and additional rains have made things much better. More than two inches of rain fell in 19 days.

The community raises considerable feed crops and is a good shipping point for sorghums, maize and kafir.

Large shipments of cattle also are made from Sudan. The ranches in the vicinity are well known and they ship cattle to distant points.

Last week some herders started near Baleyboro, about 10 miles from town.

Monday should be a large number of farmers in the fields sowing crops.

Caveat emptor

A few years ago "Let the buyer beware" was not so far from being the motto of American business. If a man set out to buy a razor he might get a very excellent one—and, again, he might not. There were some very fine products. And some very poor. And there was no way of choosing the good from the bad, except by test.

Today that condition hardly exists. In every line of merchandise there are trade-marked, standardized products. Products that are unvarying in quality and performance—that can be depended upon year in and year out. When you buy them you know what they are, what they'll do, and what they cost—they're advertised products!

To take full advantage of this—to protect yourself—to save money—watch the advertisements! When you need anything turn to the advertising columns of this paper. Read about the things listed there. When you find the article you need, buy it—not haphazardly, but by name!

The advertisements protect your interests—read them
